Duncan Presents 'Blinded in Batesburg: Learning of a Hometown Atrocity'

Andy Duncan, a faculty member in the FSU Department of English, will present "Blinded in Batesburg: Learning of a Hometown Atrocity" at 7 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 13, in the Lane Atkinson Room (232), as part of the campus Faculty Lecture Series. The event is free and open to the public.

On Feb. 13, 1946, an African-American World War II veteran named Isaac Woodard, Jr., was pulled off a Greyhound bus in Batesburg, S.C., only hours after his honorable discharge, and was beaten by the local police chief, Lynwood Shull. As a result of his injuries, Woodard was blinded for life. The incident became a national scandal and landmark federal civil rights case.

Duncan, a Batesburg native, was never told of this incident by his family, even though Shull was a family friend, as was the local doctor who first examined Woodard after the beating. It was not until Duncan was nearly 40 that he read about the incident in the Library of America Anthology Reporting Civil Rights. Duncan realized that his sleepy, obscure hometown had been, for a time, nationally infamous, denounced on the radio by Orson Welles, in songs by Woody Guthrie and in the Oval Office by Harry Truman. The incident so angered Truman that it influenced his eventual presidential decision to end racial segregation in the U.S. military.

In this lecture series, which will be held on the 66th anniversary of the beating as well as in honor of Black History Month, Duncan will discuss the facts of the Woodard case; its ramifications in politics, law and popular cultures; its effects on his family, his upbringing and his career; and how it continues to influence what he does in the classroom today. An audience discussion will follow.

Duncan, an assistant professor, teaches writing classes at FSU, including journalism, fiction and advanced composition. He has been a journalist for 30 years — since his freshman year of college — both writing and editing, in feature news, for newspapers and magazines, in print and online. He has been a published fiction writer for 15 years, earning two World Fantasy Awards and a Theodore Sturgeon Memorial Award.

For info, contact Duncan at arduncan@frostburg.edu or x4241.

♩ Music

Rachel Brown to Perform Feb. 7

The University Programming Council at FSU will present musician Rachel Brown on Tuesday, Feb. 7, from 7 to 9 p.m. in Lane Manicur Hall. The event is free and open to the public, but tickets are required through the Lane Center Box Office.

Brown is a 23-year-old singer-songwriter whose music fuses pop, Caribbean, Hawaiian, country, hip-hop and world sounds into a captivating groove. When accompanied by her band of talented African musicians, Brown's Bermudan and Ethiopian heritage shines.

Brown's honest lyrics and melodic sound are unique and fresh, unusual for a new and upcoming artist. Brown has opened for Mary J. Blige and Robin Thicke at Bermuda's National Stadium, as well as John Legend and Quincy Jones at the Bermuda Music Festival.

For info, contact the Lane Information Desk at x4411. To acquire tickets, stop by the box office on the second floor of the Lane Center.

LIVE! at StarScape Presents René Marie

The FSU Cultural Events Series presents jazz vocalist René Marie on Saturday, Feb. 11, as part of its new club series, LIVE! at StarScape. The 8 p.m. performance at Windsor Hall, Town Centre, in Cumberland, Md., features music from Marie's 2011 release, "Black Lace Freudian Slip," and includes pianist Kevin Bales, bassist Kevin Hamilton and drummer Quentin Baxter.

Marie's musical style integrates elements of jazz, soul, blues and gospel. Her performances include powerful interpretations of old standards as well as stirring original compositions. Although she did not embark on a professional career until the age of 42, her performances reveal the resilience and energy of a survivor; she often explains that the strength she found in music helped her to leave an abusive marriage.

Since 1996, she has received critical acclaim from major U.S. publications, including the Los Angeles Times, the Washington Post and the Chicago Tribune. In 2009, the National Public Radio program "All Songs Considered" offered that "Marie is one of the rare artists today who invites comparison with Civil Rights-era singers Nina Simone and Abbey Lincoln." She has appeared as the headliner at major festivals, such as the Kennedy Center's prestigious Women in Jazz Festival, the Edinburgh Jazz Festival in Scotland and the Shanghai Jazz Festival in China. She has also received several prestigious awards, including Best International Jazz Vocal CD by the Académie Du Jazz, the oldest and most independent awards organization in France.

As part of the CES Arts for Enrichment program, Marie will present an educational session before the performance. The free interactive session, in which Marie will discuss her career in the music industry, takes place at 4:30 p.m. in Windsor Hall.

Tickets are $20 for adults and $14 for youth under 17. Corporate and group discount rates are also available.

For info, contact the CES box office at x3137 or visit CES' webpage at ces.frostburg.edu.

Neiman to Present Senior Recital

FSU's Department of Music will present a senior recital by Garrett Neiman on trumpet, accompanied by pianist Dr. Bomi Lim Tunstall, on Sunday, Feb. 12, at 3 p.m. in PAC Pealer Recital Hall. The recital is free and open to the public.

Neiman will perform the melodic and fluid "Aria con Variazioni" ("Air With Variations") by George Frideric Handel; "Sonata" by Kent Kennan, a standard in the trumpet repertoire; "Badinage" by Eugene Bozza, which features light, moving melodic lines and a haunting, lyrical section; and "Prayer of St. Gregory" by Alan Hovhavness, a beautifully simple and meditative piece. The recital will close with Giovanni Gabrieli's "Canzona per Sonare" for brass quartet. Joining Neiman on this piece will be Heather Buchanan on trombone, Evan Shutz on trumpet and Phillip Klickman on French horn.

For info, call the FSU Music Department at x4109.

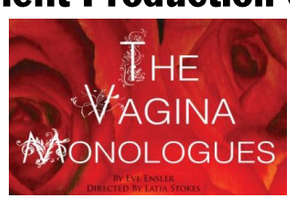
Presentations

AL Spring Seminar Series

Dr. Chris Duffy, Pennsylvania State University, will present "The Age of Water: Time and Memory in Hydroecological Systems" Thursday, Feb. 16, at 3:30 p.m. in AL Room 109. For info, go to www.umces.edu/al/seminar/schedule.

Theatre

V-Day@FSU to Present Benefit Production of



Eve Ensler's award-winning play, "The Vagina Monologues," will be performed at FSU in PAC Pealer Recital Hall on Feb. 16 and 17 at 7:30 p.m.

Doors open at 6:30 p.m. for the Information Festival, which features the Clothesline Project, campus and community groups who provide assistance, and V-Day merchandise. The Clothesline Project was designed to "air out society's dirty laundry." Both women and men are invited to create their own T-shirts to be put on display as a visual representation of real stories of violence against women. Alongside the Clothesline Project is the scarf sale, otherwise known as the Scarf Project.

If you would like to make a T-shirt and drop it off, visit www.clothesline project.org to see what various colors symbolize. Premade T-shirts can be dropped off at Dunkle 137 or sent to Frostburg State University, c/o Dr. Amy Branam, Dunkle Hall 115, 101 Braddock Rd., Frostburg, MD 21532. For info, contact Branam at x4293 or abranam@frostburg.edu.

Tickets are $12 for the general public and $6 for students and may be purchased by phoning x7462 Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 to 4 p.m. For the 11th year in a row, V-Day@FSU will donate the proceeds from ticket and merchandise sales. The Dove Center, Family Crisis Resource Center and this year's V-Day Spotlight, Women and Girls of Haiti, will benefit.

Hailed by The New York Times as "funny" and "poignant," "The Vagina Monologues," first performed off-Broadway by Ensler, dives into the mystery, humor, pain, power, wisdom, outrage and excitement buried in women's experiences.

V-Day is a global activist movement formed by Ensler in 1998 to end violence against women and girls, and is a catalyst that promotes creative events to increase awareness, raise money and revitalize the spirit of existing anti-violence organizations. This movement strives to empower women to find their collective voices and demand an end to the violence that affects one in three women in the U.S. and around the world.

The V-Day movement is growing at a rapid pace in 140 countries throughout the world. In 2010, V-Day was named one of the top-rated organizations on GreatNonprofits. In 11 years, the V-Day movement has raised over $85 million.

To learn more about V-Day@FSU, contact Branam at x4293 or Dr. Jennifer Flinn at x4491, or email the organization at fsuvday@gmail.com. To learn more about V-Day and its campaigns, visit www.vday.org. For info regarding performances, contact Latia Stokes at lmstokes0@frostburg.edu.

University Theatre Takes on Comedic Steve Martin Play

Imagine overhearing Pablo Picasso and Albert Einstein debate the art of physics and the physics of art. That's exactly what happens at the Lapin Agile (Nimble Rabbit) when, in Paris, 1904, these two young geniuses engage in a playful conversation on the eve of their greatest accomplishments – Picasso's shift from his blue to cubist period and Einstein's publishing of his special theory of relativity. "Picasso at the Lapin Agile" is a witty romp that also gives audiences much to chew on about the significance of art and science in the 20th century, as well as the thrill of being on the verge of something significant.

Performances by FSU's Department of Theatre and Dance will take place March 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10 at 7:30 p.m., with a matinee performance March 3 at 2 p.m. in PAC's F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre.

Before the performances, a series of mini-symposiums by FSU faculty members will engage the audience on the art of physics and the physics of art. Lectures will begin at 7:15 p.m.

For info, call the Theatre and Dance box office at x7462 (Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 to 4 p.m.). Tickets are $6 for students and $12 for the general public. Season Subscriber reservations open Feb. 6 and individual ticket reservations open Feb. 13.

To follow the season, "Like" Theatre and Dance at FSU on Facebook.

Third Annual One-Act Playwriting Competition

The FSU Center for Creative Writing announces its third annual One-Act Playwriting Competition to showcase new works.

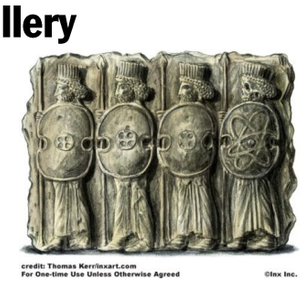
Writers are encouraged to submit their one-act plays (with a running time of 40 minutes or less) to the center by April 2. Entries will be judged on plot, character development, dialogue and overall quality.

The first prize winner will receive $750 and production of his or her play at the Frostburg One-Act Playwriting Festival to be held on the FSU campus in September. Second and third prize winners will receive $250 and $100, respectively, and staged readings of their works.

For submission guidelines, visit the Center for Creative Writing's Web site at www.frostburg.edu/cwcenter.

Visual Arts

INX Social Satire Exhibit at Roper Gallery



The INX Graphic Social Satire exhibit, a collection of editorial cartoon art, will be at the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery through Sunday, Feb. 26.

The INX group was formed by New York Times editorial illustrators during the time of President Reagan. The name "INX" was coined by a play on the essential medium employed by these pen and brush artists. They all shared a desire to produce and distribute uncensored political images to news marketplaces, essentially keeping editorial control in the hands of the creators.

Since 1980, the INX group has produced compelling visual commentary on the big events that have spanned the millennial divide. The INX group generated a body of work composed of over 6,500 editorial images, which became a powerful graphic chronicle of the last two decades. The group became self-syndicated once more in 2002, this time employing the Internet by allowing subscribers to download the work directly from their website: inxart.com.

From broad caricature to somber surrealism, these drawings represent diverse aesthetics and techniques. More than 50 contributors are involved, and they represent a range of backgrounds, national origins and, most importantly, opinions. By doing all of this, INX has left a picture history of pointed views meant to amuse, incite and inspire.

The Roper Gallery in the Fine Arts building is open Sundays through Wednesdays from 1 to 4 p.m. The exhibit is free and open to the public.

For info, contact the Visual Arts Department at x4797.

FSU Represented at Social Media Summit

FSU's Dr. Seán Henry, Becca Ramspott and Brianne Reason represented FSU at the Social Media Strategy Summit on Jan. 27 at University of Maryland, Baltimore County. Organized as an "unconference," the event brought together university communications staff across Maryland, Washington, D.C. and Northern Virginia to share experiences, resources and ideas on developing social media strategies at the institutional level. Ramspott, a member of the Summit's organizing committee, and Henry led Summit sessions and Reason shared ideas and live-tweeted the event with select quotes and resources. The Social Media Strategy Summit was designed as an expanded follow-up to FSU's Social Media ReBoot Camp, organized by FSU's Social Media Group and held this past summer in Frostburg. To learn more about the Summit, visit http://bit.ly/y1zJNZ and check out the #UMBCsocial hashtag on Twitter.

Foundation News

Foundation Grants

The FSU Foundation is once again seeking funding proposals from faculty, staff and/or students. This process is streamlined to include the FSU Foundation Opportunity Grants funded through the Annual Fund as well as all other Donor-Specified Foundation Funds on the same application.

The applications will be reviewed by the Donor-Specified Foundation Funds and then the FSUF Budget Committee to determine funding for fiscal year 2013.

FSUF Foundation Opportunity Grants

Unrestricted gift revenues are made available to fund the following priorities:

- Enhance experiential and applied learning opportunities for students inside and outside the classroom
- Improve learning technology, tools and equipment so students learn in a modern environment
- Improve student persistence to graduation
- Provide for the educational and cultural enrichment of the University and the community
- Improve student health and wellness
- Enhance the University's practices and reputation regarding environmental protection and sustainability

Decisions on funding will be made at the June Board Meeting, at which point the campus community will be notified of the awards made. The Foundation, Alumni Association and the Faculty/Staff Special Gifts Committee are working to grow the annual fund so there will be more funds to disperse in this competitive process each year.

Al and Dale Boxley Faculty Award/Student Research Award

The purpose of this fund is to support faculty or student awards. The faculty awards are to be used to cover travel and registration fees for a disciplinary conference at which the faculty member will give a formal paper that will result in a publication in a referred journal or the conference proceedings. The faculty member will give a presentation, poster session or other appropriate activity resulting in formal recognition. The student awards are to be used for travel and registration fees for a disciplinary conference at which the student will present his or her work with the faculty member, for a student research stipend or for equipment and/or supplies for a specific undergraduate or graduate research project connected to the research program of a faculty member.

Jonathan Gibralter Presidential Leadership Fund for Alcohol Awareness and Education

The purpose of this fund is to support educational programs, social programs and/or community service-related programs geared toward alcohol awareness and the importance of responsible behaviors and decision making. Applicants should provide information on how the program's success will be measured and estimate the numbers of participants the program is intended to involve. Consideration will be provided to those programs whose intent is to foster a broader awareness of alcohol-related issues beyond the immediate campus community. Programs that include the community of Frostburg or relationships between the University and community, for example, can be given consideration.

Catherine R. Gira Campus-to-Community Awards

The purpose of the fund is to support students or student projects that demonstrate an entrepreneurial spirit, critical thinking skills and a determination to be successful. The activities will benefit students and further enhance FSU's role as a leader in the promotion of real-life experiences that complement traditional classroom instruction. Ultimately, these experiences will help to nurture students who are prepared for the workplace in an increasingly competitive, global economy.

Stephen M. Spahr Student Activism Award

The purpose of the fund is to provide financial assistance to student organizations, classes or informal groups of students needing funds to travel to programs or centers of governmental activity to experience, first hand, the workings of the democratic process.

Those interested should complete the FSU Foundation Opportunity Grant Request Form, which includes a line item budget. Contact Alicia White, director of Finance and Administration, FSU Foundation, at awhite@frostburg.edu for the form and the Gira Fund Award – Information Guidelines. Applications must be limited to two pages. Return proposals via email to White by close of business on Friday, March 16.

Take Note

Library Offers Reference Service

The Lewis J. Ort Library announces it has joined with Maryland AskUsNow! to offer students, faculty and staff a 24/7 chat reference service beginning Feb. 6.

Maryland AskUsNow! is a live online interactive service that uses the expertise of librarians to provide answers to questions and research guidance.

Librarians from the Ort Library chat only during certain hours, so you may be helped by a non-FSU librarian. Even if you are chatting with someone from outside FSU, that person still has access to information about the library and can help you use the library catalog or the library databases. Providing a valid email address will also allow a librarian from the Ort Library to follow up on your question.

For info, contact Theresa Mastrodonato, liaison for the Maryland AskUsNow! Program, at x4425 or tmmastrodonato@frostburg.edu.

Try the service out by clicking on the Maryland AskUsNow! link on the library's home page.

Consortium Job & Internship Fair

The 28th annual Cumberland Valley Consortium Job and Internship Fair will be held Feb. 8 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. (snow date is Feb. 10) at the Holiday Inn Conference Center in Frederick, Md. Admission is free for students and alums of member colleges. (FSU is a member.) Professional attire and resumes are required.

For info, go to www.cumberlandvalleyconsortium.com/students.

If interested in attending but you need transportation, contact the Center for Advising and Career Services at x4403.

Facebook Timeline – Will It Affect Privacy?

Facebook is switching users over to Timeline, which will create various changes to Facebook personal profiles.

If you're worried about privacy and what might suddenly become public, check out the eFrostburg Community Facebook page at www.facebook.com/efrostburgcomm for articles on social media and privacy, as well as social media issues that relate to higher education. Over the past couple of weeks, the site has shared helpful how-to guides on what to change in your Privacy settings as you begin using Timeline. There are also resources for Twitter, Google+ and the challenges and problems social media poses.

Join the conversation and take advantage of timely information to help use social media effectively by "Liking" the eFrostburg Community Facebook page at http://on.fb.me/naaKMF.

These resources are brought to you by FSU's Social Media Group, a campuswide task force of faculty and staff spearheading the University's social media initiatives. For info, go to efrostburgcomm@frostburg.edu.

Graduating in May?

Where Would You Like to Study Abroad?

The Center for International Education offers various ways for FSU students to see the world. In some cases, students can pay FSU tuition, room and board and study for a semester or a year in Ireland, England, Spain, France, China, Italy, Australia, Peru, Botswana or in many other countries. FSU also offers summer study abroad programs. Financial aid, student loans and scholarships are available.

For info on the following, visit the Fuller House (across the street from Braddock House), call x4714 or email Victoria Gearhart at vmgearhart@frostburg.edu. Also, check out the CIE website at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/stdyabrd.htm.

Beijing/Shanghai/Hangzhou/Xi'an, China – Summer 2012

FSU students can experience Chinese culture, history and economic development via a two-week trip to visit four major Chinese cities while earning FSU credits. The faculty-led trip is a component of IDIS 350 China in the 21st Century/MGMT 490 Special Topics in Business Administration – Management, which will be offered in the first six-week session of summer 2012. Students can enroll in either course for three credits, or in both for six credits. The application deadline is Feb. 10.

Changsha, China – Fall 2012

Through the China Exchange Program, FSU students can spend a semester at Hunan Normal University (www.hunnu.edu.cn/english) in Changsha, Hunan Province, P.R. China. Students pay FSU tuition and fees (based on residency status) through their student e-bill account and room and board costs to Hunan Normal University. Living costs are generally less expensive than at FSU and courses are taught in English.

Limerick, Ireland – Fall 2012

Students can study for a semester in Ireland at Mary Immaculate College and pay FSU tuition. Financial aid can be used to help cover the costs of room and board. Credits will transfer back to FSU. Check out the website for Mary Immaculate College at www.mic.ul.ie.

Summer Positions Available

The Office of Student and Educational Services is looking for students (Preview guides) to mentor and guide students during Preview FSU, the Summer Orientation Program. Interested students can pick up an application from the Office of Student and Educational Services (Hitchins 116) or the Lane University Center Information Desk after Feb. 13. For consideration, all applications must be returned by March 9. Preview guides are expected to commit both days and evenings to the position from June 12 to July 1. Students will be compensated $950, including room and board. Given the time constraints of the position, students will not be able to take summer session classes or hold other employment.
