WASHINGTON

The country faces a general strike of all railroad workers unless the railroad labor board takes immediate action on wage demands, according to information forwarded to President Wilson by leaders of the railroad employees.

Preliminary steps for his campaign having been taken, Senator Harding, the Republican presidential candidate, turned his attention to his speech of acceptance, which is expected to sound the campaign keynote for the party.

Van S. Merle-Smith, of Oyster Bay, New York, was appointed third assistant secretary of state, succeeding Brookbridge Long.

Secretary Daniels and Secretary Payne, will go to Alaska to study conditions there relating to their respective departments.

Census bureau announced the population of Philadelphia was 1,223,138, an increase of 274,150. Philadelphia is now the third largest city of the United States.

Secretary of War Baker announced that illiterates, non-English speaking citizens and aliens who declare their intention to become American citizens, will be admitted into the United States army.

President Wilson sent a telegram to Governor A. H. Roberts of Tennessee, urging him to call a special session of the state legislature to consider the proposed suffrage amendment to the Federal Constitution.

Philadelphia maintains its position as the third largest city in the country with a population of 1,223,138 in 1920, according to announcements made at the Census Bureau. In 1910 Philadelphia's census was 948,988.

SPORTING

The excellent work of the Yankees in the west would be the cause of more comfort were it not for the cramp created in town. First Duty Lewis dislocated a knee, then George Mogridge sprained an ankle, then Bob Hawkey wrenched his back. The Yankees need, all these men and especially the pitchers.

Under the new baseball ruling, if an umpire sees a ball land foul it must be called foul regardless of whether it passed over the boundary fence fair. The change applies to both major leagues.

Yankees defeated Resolute of Newport in another of the series of tests to determine the defender of the American flag. The winner won by forty-six seconds, unofficially correct time. The series now stands: Resolute, 7; Vantile, 4; Vantile led throughout and crossed the line 2 minutes and 17 seconds ahead of the Resolute.

William C. Tilden, of Philadelphia, defeated J. C. Parke, British tennis star, at Wimbledon, England. The score was 6-3, 6-4, 6-1.

Otto Kamm, National League pitcher, has been shipped to Chicago by the Kansas City team of the American League.

After Hagen and Jim Barnes, the concluding half of the qualifying round for the British open golf championship at Bursill, England.

In the first round of the British tennis championship doubles the American pair, William M. Johnson and William T. Tilden defeated M. J. Dyball and P. Harrison, British. Tilden defeated S. F. Williams, of Surrey, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1 in the singles.

Princeton easily won the Intercollegiate Golf Association team championship over the links of the Nassau County Club, Glen Cove, N. Y., with an aggregate total of 1,230 strokes, for four men at seventy-two holes. Yale was second with 1,308, while Dartmouth, with 1,328, led Harvard by a single stroke. The other colleges returned totals as follows: Williams, 1,378; Cornell, 1,417; Pennsylvania, 1,419, and Columbia, 1,421.

Frederick Gimbel, vice president; Joseph Dowell, general manager, and Charles D. Slawter, buyer, in the men's clothing department of Gimbel Bros., New York, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge William I. Grubb on charge of profiteering.

The Dairyman's League Co-operative Association will operate thirteen new milk plants as soon as the $4,000,000 for their equipment can be raised.

The Railroad Labor Board at Chicago has been urged by President Wilson to expedite its wage decision. The President's message resulted from the general unrest among railroad workers over the wage question, and the walkout of yardmen and other employees at Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities.

Senator Warren G. Harding is spending considerable time at his office in an effort to answer an accumulation of mail and telegrams. Each day the letter man delivers from 3,000 to 4,000 letters and the telegraph messengers from 800 to 900 telegrams.

Charging that the Industrial Workers of the World organization advocates acts of violence of the Kansas anti-syndicalism law, an injunction suit was filed in the District Court at Eldorado, asking that the I. W. W. be permanently enjoined from maintaining an organization in Kansas. A temporary writ was granted.

Republicans meeting at Sedalia, Mo., launched in full blast, the move to "clean house."

Although they have worked on a score of apparently good cases, police in New York admitted the mystery surrounding the death of Joseph Bowne Elwell, murdered while expert, was as shrouded as it was the morning the crime was discovered.

Grasping an "enraged" cow by the horns in an effort to save her husband from death, at Council Bluffs, Iowa, Mrs. Andrew Tilden, aged seventy-nine, was herself attacked and suffered injuries that resulted in her death.

Cold storage stocks of meat and lard in the United States on June 1, 1,225,702,800 pounds, were sufficient to supply the nation for twenty-five days, according to an estimate issued in Chicago by the Institute of American Packers.

The Montana Nonpartisan convention adjourned at Great Falls, after deciding to support the ticket selected in the Democratic primaries for state and county offices. A suggestion for a third party was voted down.

Four oil companies, ten brokerage houses and about fifty individuals have been indicted by the Federal Grand Jury in New York, on a charge of using the mails to defraud investors out of millions of dollars.

The New York Morning Telegraph will sell for 10 cents. The Sunday edition will remain at the same price.

Bar College conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Governor Coolidge, Republican nominee.

The National Women's party will call a convention of women voters to decide whether the party will center its activities in the campaign against the Republican, or endorse a third party movement, and to send speakers and workers to fight both the Republicans and Democrats.

FIFTY MEN INDICTED AS OIL SWINDLERS

Misuse of Mails Charged to Four Companies and Ten Brokerage Houses.

New York. — The federal grand jury returned indictments charging four oil companies, ten brokerage concerns and more than fifty individuals of using the mails to defraud investors in oil stocks.

The four oil companies are the Ranger Oil Company, the W. P. Williams Oil Company, the Great Western Petroleum Corporation and the Crown Oil Company. The brokerage firms indicted are Curtis, Packer & Co., United Securities Company, H. Kent Holmes & Co., H. Morgan Pollock & Co., Thompson, James & Co., Stickney, Rawlinson & Co., George A. Lamb & Co., E. M. Fuller & Co. and Greenbaum, Bigelow & Greenbaum.

Nearly all officers of the oil companies and brokerage concerns and stock salesmen also were indicted.

Complaints against the companies first were filed with the Post Office Department a year ago. An investigation by Inspector Howard B. Mayhew developed that the alleged fraudulent practices had extended all over the United States.

The complaints were referred to the Department of Justice. While attempts were being made to round up the indicted men, complaints came in against two other oil concerns.

Jerome Simmons, assistant United States attorney general, said he had a list of about 60 oil companies against which complaints have been filed with the Department of Justice. These indictments, he said, were only the beginning of extensive prosecutions of sellers of worthless stocks and the work would continue until all of the crooked companies were driven out of business.

Only one of the indicted men was brought to court. This was Lewis G. Van Riper, who controls the United Securities Company, Federal Judge Graham said last week.

Mr. Simmons said it had been reported to him that one of the indicted men had made more than half a million dollars during the last six months and carried $20,000 pocket money. Big dividends were promised to investors.

It is charged, and part of the money obtained through the sale of the stock was used in paying monthly dividends. Alluring descriptions of the value of the stock were made, and all were worthless.

The most exploited company, indicted in the Ranger Oil Company, which is charged with $1,000,000. Its officers are Charles L. Fulton, president; A. J. King, secretary, vice president, and John A. Cleveland, secretary and treasurer.

Jack in Garden.
Jack-in-the-pulpit, by nature a bog lover, is by no means as fastidious as the most of its clan, and a moist, slightly shaded spot in one corner of the yard will amply supply its demands, says the American Forestry association of Washington. This plant is a near relative of the cultivated calla, with purple and white or green and white striped blossoms—usually called flowers. The real flowers, though, are deep in the center of this showy dress, at the base of the central spadix, and may be either fertile or sterile.

Kingstehen an Ancient City.
Kingstehen is one of the four largest towns of China. Technically it is not a city. It is a town, because it has no wall. In reality it is a busy industrial city, with a population of 300,000. Two-thirds of the people are directly engaged in the manufacture and sale of porcelain and pottery. Historically it dates back to the Han dynasty, 200 A. D. It is during this period that we find the first records of the production of porcelain in China. Though earthenware vessels were probably produced some centuries earlier.

Chance Not to Be Misled.

Worcester County Club Work for 1919.

After considerable delay the boys'
club records for 1919 have been completed and results compiled.
While in numbers of enrollment the club work for the past year has not made much of an increase, the results gotten from the work have shown marked improvement. The net profit gotten has more than trebled that of 1918.

Accurate records show that the total net profit made by the boys was $4,072.24. These figures include the results gotten from the corn, potato, the fat and the pure bred pig club work.

The most marked results have been gotten by the pure bred pig club boys. Many of them have made a very substantial profit over and above all costs, and in addition to this profit they have added to the live stock industry of this county nearly 200 pure bred registered Durocs and Berkshires to be used as breeding stock. Quite a number of registered pigs have also been sold outside of the county into other states.

The boys enrolled in the corn club project did very excellent work. All members completed records. Several of the yields gotten by potato club members were remarkable, the largest one being 464 bushels of potatoes to the acre.
Boys winning prizes and honorable mention are as follows:

CORN CLUB PROJECT

First prize, scholarship to Maryland State College and a trip to Bal-or trip to State College, Lester Bunting, Pocomoke.

Honorable mention and money
prize, Brooks Bundick, William Carter, Milton Pruitt, Milton Tarr, Walter Bromley, Robert Ward,
Clarence Ardis.

It is expected that most of these boys will continue their club work
in 1920 and it is hoped that many new members may be added to the clubs.

The Pocomoke City National Bank and the Citizens National Bank of Pocomoke City, and the Deposit and Savings Bank of Snow Hill are continuing their support to the work and are willing to finance pure bred club members and invite boys in all sections of the county to join this movement for better live stock.

The model colony hog house donated by the Pocomoke City National Bank was awarded to Fred L.
Bull, Pocomoke, and the self-feeder donated by the Peninsula Produce Exchange, was awarded to Frank Chessier, Pocomoke.

Suffered Intense Pain.

"A few years ago when visiting relatives in Michigan, something I had encountered on an attack of cholera morbus," writes Mrs. Celeste McVicker, Macon, Mo. "I suffered intense pain and had to go to bed. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and one dose relieved the pain wonderfully. I only took two or three doses, but they did the work."

Mass-Meeting.

There will be a mass meeting in the Globe Theatre, Wednesday evening, July 7th, at 8 o'clock. This will be a stereopticon lecture on a world survey and conservation of religious forces. The speaker will be Dr. Alexander Mitchell, of Baltimore. All are invited to attend.

County Woman's Club.

The Woman's Club of Worcester County will meet Thursday afternoon at 2.30 at the home of Mrs.
Thomas P. Wharton, in Stockton.
The Field Secretary of the Red Cross will address the meeting. A full attendance is desired.

L. A. Covington, Cor. Secretary.

Peculiar Disease.

Arithmomaniac—the medical name
for another disease—is full of interest. In this the patient has the inresistible impulse to count a certain number of times before doing anything. One case recorded is of a girl who had to tap on the edge of the bed nine times before getting into it;
a hundred times before brushing her teeth; to knock three times on a window by the side of the door, and a similar number of times as the door
itself before she would unlock it.

Planets Without Moons.

The only planets that have no
moons are those nearest the sun, namely Mercury and Venus. Counting our own moon, the system of planets possesses no fewer than 27 moons.

Ivory Dust Jelly.

Ivory dust, properly boiled and prepared, makes a fine and pure jelly
which is frequently prescribed for the stomach.

Tobacco Seeds Almost Dust.

The seeds of the tobacco plant are so minute that a thimbleful will furnish enough plants for an acre of ground.

Tree Stump Oil Valuable.

An oil obtained from stumps of red oak trees has been found to be valuable for recovering silver from pulverized ore by the flotation process.

White Island.

Albion—White Island—the ancient name of Britain—was probably given to it by the Greeks, on account of the white cliffs on the southeast coast.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward
for any case of Catarrh that cannot be

Annual Convention of Tri-County W. C. T. U.

The 8th annual convention of the Tri-County Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held in Stevenson M. E. Church, Berlin, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week,
June 29th and 30th. Three general officers, six local presidents and 38 delegates, an unusually large number, were in attendance, besides the State president and quite a number of visitors. The weather was oppressively hot and fans were much in evidence, but all seemed to enjoy the program. The Tri-County president, Mrs. H. M. Walter, of Delmar, presided, and beside her on the platform on Tuesday was Mrs. Mary R. Haslop, the faithful and efficient state president for 25 years. Mrs. Haslop conducted the devotional exercises, reading and explaining the Scripture lesson and offering an earnest prayer for grace and guidance.

Cordial addresses of welcome were given by the pastor of the church, Rev. John J. Bunting, and the local president, Mrs. M. E. Grise, and responded to by one of the visiting delegates.

The secretary reported 543 members, 86 new members during the year. Routine work filled the most of the afternoon session, at which good delegations were present from Salisbury, Delmar, Hebron, Fruitland, Crisfield and Stockton besides
the local Union, some of them,
however, coming by automobile and returning in the evening.

Tuesday evening, the Rev. J. J.
Bunting conducted the devotional
services, and Miss Minnie Thawley, of Crisfield, sang very sweetly the solo, "Rock of Ages." The principal speaker was J. Bibb Mills, of Baltimore, the attorney for the State Anti-Saloon League. He paid a tribute to the W. C. T. U. as one of the pioneers in the temperance movement, deserving much of the credit for the great victories
won. He warned especially against relaxing our efforts, as the liquor
men were using every effort to get the law modified, in the hope of finally restoring the entire liquor traffic.

Mrs. Haslop gave a brief talk on the work of the W. C. T. U. and urged every man and woman to unite with the organization and help with the important welfare work yet to be done.

Wednesday morning, among the things of special interest was the "Gleanings from the National Convention," by Mrs. J. S. Taylor, who was a delegate.

Particular emphasis was given by several impromptu speakers to the growing evil of cigarettes, containing not only the deadly poison, nicotine, but the poison "dope" in the wrapper besides. Mrs. Ellis, a school teacher of Delmar, stated that a little boy of that town who was taught by his father to smoke
cigarettes, had his brain so dulled
that he was three years in the first grade of the school, two years in the second, and three years in the third, without getting through;
and that a young man of 17 died insane from their use, as violent he had to be strapped to his bed.

It was strongly recommended that as we have a State law forbidding the sale of tobacco to children under 15 without the written consent of parent or guardian, that the W. C.
T. U. endeavor to have this law enforced.

The Tri-County decided to invite the State Convention to meet at Ocean City this fall.

The same officers were elected
as before:

President, Mrs. H. M. Waller, Delmar
Vice-Presidents, Mrs. William E.
Hastings, Sharptown; Mrs. J. F. Somers, Crisfield; Mrs. J. B. Hudson, Stockton.

Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. J. W.
Thawley, Crisfield.
Recording Secretary, Mrs. J. S. Taylor, Salisbury.

Treasurer, Miss S. A. Taylor, Stockton
The Convention closed with the noontide prayer service.

RESOLUTIONS.

We humbly and devoutly thank our Heavenly Father for His guiding power and help during the past year, and come to our eighth annual Tri-County Convention rejoicing
in the victories won and progress made in His name and Kingdom.

Resolved, 1. Realizing the vital importance of true American naturalization of the strangers within our gates we urge the teaching of citizenship to the men, women and children immigrating to our shores.

2. We endorse the League of Nations.

3. We approve the department of Citizenship, believing that it will make for a more intelligent use of the ballot, that must
and will be in the hands of women.

4. The Tri-County Convention
rejoices in the enactment of the Volstead Act, and condemns the motives of those who clamor for its repeal or modification through amendments, and we do here pledge our support to that measure by our voice, influence and organization.

5. Regretting that the use of profane language is on the increase,
we will endeavor to make sentiment
against this vile habit, and to secure the enforcement of the law against profanity in public places.

6. We will discourage the use of narcotics, especially tobacco and cigarettes, and try to get mothers,
school teachers and Sunday School teachers to do all in their power to instruct the children in regard to their poisonous effects.

Also, we advocate the full enforcement of the present law against the sale of tobacco in any form to minors.

7. That as Americans in China are amenable to the Federal White Slave Act and the Narcotic Drug Act, we recommend that Congress also make them amenable to the Federal Prohibition Amendment.

8. That we express our profound gratitude to our White Ribbon sisters of Berlin, Md.; we thank the pastor and the official board of Stevenson Methodist Episcopal Church,
the musicians, and friends who have opened their church, homes
and hearts for the entertainment
and success of this Convention.
We pray God's blessing on them
all, and may His hand and wisdom guide the W. C. T. U.

Three Fatal Mistakes

By REV. B. B. SUTCLIFFE
Extension Department, Moody Bible
Institute, Chicago.

TEXT.—He hath said in his heart: I shall not be moved. . . . God hath forgotten. . . . Thou wilt not require it.—Ps. 138: 1, 11, 12.

This psalm tells us something of the inner heart-thoughts which control the minds of the unsaved. They may not be publicly expressed, but they reveal the state of the heart. There are three of these hidden heart-thoughts revealed, disclosing three fatal mistakes made by the unsaved in their rejection of the Gospel.

Self-Sufficiency.
In verse 6 we read, "He hath said in his heart, I shall not be moved; for I shall never be in adversity." He sees adversity all around and he sees his friends come to distress, but he says in his heart, "I shall never come to me. He forgets or denies what the Word of God so frequently reminds us of, that 'all flesh is as grass.' He sees his friends go to the grave, but for him that shall never be. In the midst of a scene wherein change and decay hold sway he says, 'I shall not be moved.' Blind to all the instruction of history, to all the teaching of what he sees around him, and to all that the Word of God would tell him, he says, 'I shall not be moved for come into adversity.' Shutting his eyes to what is seen, closing his ears to what is heard, he is persuaded in his fatuous conceit and presumption that he shall never come into adversity, he goes into the future with no preparation for what may lie in his path. Akin to the arrogance of Satan is the vanity which leads a man to make such a fatal mistake.

Can Sin With Impunity.
In verse 11 we read: "He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten. . . . He will never see it." He will not believe, even though God tells him, that there can be no hiding of sin. However deep the grave where the sinner lies buried, however secret may be the retreat where the sin is concealed, however thick the veil hung before the secluded place where the sin has been hid, the sinner is to know what God declares, "He who sows sin will find it out." (Num. 32: 23.) He may say in his heart, "God hath forgotten," but God replies, "I know your manifold transgressions and your sin." (Amos 5: 12.) "Talk no more so exceedingly proudly, nor arrogantly say, 'I will not see the Lord.' For the Lord is a God of knowledge." (1 Sam. 2: 3.) But the sinner persists in the fatal mistake of saying in his heart, "God hath forgotten; he will never see it." Because the sin lies hidden in the deep recesses of his heart the sinner feels secure and imagines, with the impudence that belongs to Satan, that he can sin with impunity; forgetting or denying that the heart of man is more plainly read by God than the clearest writing is distinguishable to the eyes of man.

There is No Judgment.
In verse 13 we read, "He hath said in his heart, Thou wilt not require it." He will not allow himself to believe that "it is appointed unto man once to die, and after this the judgment." (Heb. 9: 27.) He goes through life thinking he will never come into adversity, imagining that he can sin with impunity, and crowning his disrespect of God by declaring, "Thou wilt not require it." He sees man taking and giving judgment every day. He sees daily desperate attempts to avoid the Nemesis of the law of man proving abortive. Example after example of the certainty of retribution for breaking the law of man is before him. In spite of all, the persistent delusion of his heart is that retribution for breaking the law of God may be avoided. God declares he "will in no wise clear the guilty," and testifies to all that men are to be judged, first, for their words. "Every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment" (Matt. 12: 36); second, for their thoughts and hidden motives—"God shall judge the secrets of men" (Rom. 2: 16); third, for their deeds—"And the dead were judged . . . according to their works" (Rev. 20: 12). But the sinner rises to the climax of wickedness when, in the light of these plain declarations of God, he says, "There is no coming judgment."

Oh! that sinners might turn from these fatal mistakes; that they might turn to the Lord with confession, believing it true that "if we confess our sins he is faithful and just to forgive us," and accepting the Lord Jesus Christ as a personal Savior, come to the blessedness of the assurance that "there is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus."

The Lie.
There is no vice that doth so cover a man with shame, as to be discovered in a lie; for, as Montaigne saith: "A liar would be brave toward God, while he is a coward toward men; for a lie faces God, and shrinks from man."—Bacon.

The Cheery Doctor.
"I am happy to tell you, Mr. Bump," said the eminent Ecceupian to the victim of the reckless motorist, "that you will not have to dodge automobiles for a month or six weeks, to come."—Kansas City Star.

Extremes Not Suddenly Reached.
There is no man suddenly either excellently good or extremely wicked, but grows so, either as he holds himself up to virtue, or lets himself slide to viciousness.—Sir Philip Sidney.

LESSON FOR JULY 4

DAVID IN CAMP AND COURT.

LESSON TEXT.—1 Sam. 17: 1-14, 34-48.
GOLDEN TEXT.—David behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and the Lord was with him.—1 Sam. 3: 34.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL.—1 Sam. 18: 1-17; Exodus 15: 2-7.
PRIMARY TOPIC.—David and the Giant.
JUNIOR TOPIC.—The Shepherd Boy Conquers a Giant.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC.—Fighting the Good Fight.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC.—Overthrowing Modern Goliath.

1. David in Camp (1 Samuel, 17). While the armies stood eyeing each other for battle the Philistines, having a warrior among them of great strength, sought to decide the war by combat between two selected champions. The nation whose champion was slain was to be subject to the other.

1. The champions (vv. 4-7). (1) Goliath of the Philistines (vv. 4-11). Note his characteristics: (a) He was a giant (v. 4). Saul made no attempt to meet this giant. Even Jonathan, who had distinguished himself at Michmash (1 Sam. 14), seems to have lacked in courage. (b) He was filled with conceit. His size, his panoply of war and his strength caused him to believe that no evil could befall him. (c) He was boastful. Likely his reputation reminded them of a former experience when Samson, Israel's giant, wrought such great mischief among them. (d) He was defiant. He openly defied the army of Israel—the people of the Most High. (e) He was scornful. He treated the Israelites with the utmost contempt.

(2) David the Israelite (vv. 12-31). In the providence of God, David was sent to the camp at a time to hear the boasting of this proud and contemptible Philistine. His three eldest brothers were in the army and his father sent him with some provisions for them as well as for the captain. While talking with his brothers Goliath made his appearance. The sight of Israel's cowardice and lack of zeal for God prompted David to offer his services. He was not a blind enthusiast who disregarded the use of means, but was careful to use means, and most particular as to what they should be. He put aside the untired armor of Saul, knowing that God's will for him was to use by faith that which he had thought insignificant.

2. The battle (vv. 38-48). When Goliath beheld David coming up against him he cursed him by his gods Dagon, Baal and Ashtaroth, saying that it was not merely a battle between David and Goliath, but between the true God and false gods. David hastened to meet Goliath. As soon as he saw the giant he said to the Lord, "Thou art with me, O Lord." (1 Sam. 17: 45.) In the name of the Lord of Hosts that all the earth might know that there was a God in Israel.

3. The victory (vv. 49-58). Goliath was killed and the Philistine army routed. This victory is a prophecy of a greater one when the devil, the defiant enemy of God, shall be broken and his army put to flight.

4. David in Court (18: 1-16). 1. Saul jealous of David (vv. 1-9). David went into battle with Goliath out of zeal for God and true religion, not for personal glory; but it turned out as always, that because he made God first, God honored him. "Him that honoreth me, I will honor." Upon David's return from the pursuit of the Philistines he was met by a triumphal chorus of women from all the cities of Israel, shouting praises unto him for his victory over their enemies. This was too much for Saul. This was but the occasion which fanned into a flame the passion which lingered in Saul's bosom.

2. Saul tries to kill David (vv. 10, 11). This is an example of the awful tragedy which may result if we harbor envy and jealousy. Saul had prepared a place in his heart for this evil spirit to dwell. When one gives himself up to the indulgence of his baser passions the devil finds a place in his heart to dwell.

3. David's wise conduct (vv. 12-16). Because Saul recognized that God had departed from him and that David must increase while he decreased, he tried to get rid of David. He sent him from him and made him captain over his army. His envy even secured a role of cunning and he offered his daughter to David as a reward for bravery in battle. Not that he cared for David, but that the Philistines might kill him instead of doing it with his own hands (v. 17). In spite of all this, David acts discreetly. He wins the favor of the people and is loved by the Lord. Despite Saul's intrigues David went from success to success.

Christ With the Disciples.
For forty days Christ was with the disciples talking with them of the things pertaining to the Kingdom of God. If we cannot believe that the apostles deceived others, it seems (if possible) still more unlikely that they were the victims of deception.—Bishop Westcott.

Master of Circumstances.
It is the man or woman of faith, and hence of courage, who is the master of circumstances, and who makes his or her power felt in the world.

Functions of the Heart.
The human heart is like a millstone in a mill; when you put wheat under it, it turns, and grinds, and bruises the wheat into flour; if you put no wheat in, it still grinds on; but then it is itself it grinds and slowly wears away.—Luther.

Always on the Defensive.
A herd of buffalo never moves in a straight line. It always takes a zigzag course for defense.

TRUST.

"I will trust, and not be afraid."—Isaiah 12: 2.

"Make a little fence of trust
Around today;
Fill the space with loving works,
And therein stay."
Look not through the entering oars
Upon tomorrow;
God will help you bear what comes,
Of joy or sorrow."

"Thy Word Is A Lamp Unto My Feet."

A ragged errand boy was carefully printing with chalk on a gate this Bible text. So interested was he with his work that he did not notice a kind-looking old gentleman who, after talking slowly past twice, returned and stood beside him.

"M—y," said the boy, repeating the letters aloud as he formed them with care. "F—e—e—t, feet."

"Well done, my boy, well done!" said the old gentleman. "Where did you learn that?"

"At the Mission Sunday-School, sir," replied the boy, half frightened, and thinking the old gentleman was going to deliver him up to the police for writing on the gate.

"Don't run away; I'm not going to hurt you. What is your name?"

"Nicholas."

"So you learned that text at the Sunday-School? Do you know what it means?"

"No, sir," said Nicholas.

"What is a lamp?"

"A lamp? why, it's a lamp, a thing that gives light?"

"And what is the 'word' that the text speaks of?"

"The Bible, sir."

"That's right." Now, how can the Bible be a lamp and give light?"

"I don't know, 'less you set it alight," said Nicholas.

"There is a better way than that, my lad. Suppose you were going down some lonely lane on a dark night with a lighted lantern in your hand and a box of matches in your pocket—what would you do?"

"Why, light the lantern, sir," replied Nicholas, evidently surprised that any one should ask such a foolish question.

"What would you light it for?"

"To show me the right way, sir."

"Now, suppose you were walking behind me some day, and saw me drop a shilling; what would you do?"

"Pick it up, and give it to you again, sir."

"Wouldn't you want to keep it for yourself?"

Nicholas hesitated; but he saw a smile on the old gentleman's face, and with an answering one on his own, he said, "I shouldn't want to, sir, but I shouldn't do it."

"Why not?"

"Because it would be stealing."

"How do you know?"

"It would be taking what wasn't my own, and the Bible says we are not to steal."

"Ah!" said the old gentleman, "so it's the Bible that makes you honest, is it?"

"Yes, sir."

"If you had not heard of the Bible you would steal, I suppose?"

"Lots of the boys do," said Nicholas, hanging his head.

"And the Bible shows you the safe and right path of honesty?"

"Like the lamp!" said Nicholas, seeing now what all these questions meant. "Is that what the text means?"

"Yes; there is always light in the Bible to show us where to go. Now, my boy, do you think it is worth while to take this good old lamp and let it light you right through life?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you think you will be safer with it?"

"Y—e—s, sir."

"Why?"

"Because if I'm honest I sha'n't stand no chance of going to prison."

"And what else?"

Nicholas thought for a few minutes. "If I mind the Bible I shall go to Heaven," he said at last.

"Yes, that's the best reason for taking the lamp. It will light you right into Heaven. Good-bye, my lad. Here's a shilling for you, and mind you don't keep the Bible light covered up by not reading it."

"Yes, sir," said Nicholas, grasping the shilling, and touching his ragged cap; "I'll mind."

MAKE it easier to get around and you make healthier and happier communities. No one any longer questions the worth of the automobile—or begrudges any legitimate expense connected with it.

But millions of car owners are rebelling at the idea that running an automobile has got to mean waste.

Every now and then you hear a neighbor complain that "he doesn't seem to have much luck with tires."

Send him to us.

The minute a man begins to question the service his tires are giving him, he's ready to listen to reason.

Our business is built on the principle that the only way to get better tire service is to get better tires to start with.

That's why we have taken the representation for U. S. Tires.

U. S. Tires have a reputation for quality.

Built up through years of creating better tires. Such as the straight side automobile tire, the pneumatic truck tire.

It is not by chance that U. S. Tires are made by the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

We are proud to represent U. S. Tires in this community.

United States Tires

the Sunday in swearing and fighting, the Bible was like a lantern. To many poor boys like Nicholas, to show them the right way to speak and act and walk, to keep them from going wrong, and to show them how to go to Heaven. Since then, Sunday Schools have multiplied, until many millions of children and almost as many grown people now go to Sunday School, and get the Bible as a lantern to show them how to go right in this world and how to get to Heaven at last.

If we have God's words in our memories, and can repeat them to help others, our hearts also will be like lanterns, to show people the right way. That is what Jesus means when He says, "Ye are the light of the world"; "Let your light shine."

In England they call matches "lights," and so the match-sellers cry, "Have a light, sir?" When a little boy said that to an old minister, he replied, smiling, "Don't you know that I am one of the lights of the world?" The mischievous little fellow, not understanding the Bible words, answered, "Well, then I wish you was hung up in our alley, for it's an awfully dark one."

There are alleys and streets "awfully dark" with darkness and swearing, sin and sorrow; and we can help to lighten them up with temperance and religion and joy by kind words of our own and Bible words from our memories, and by acts of kindness and love.

Jesus bids us shine with a clear, pure light.

Like a little candle shining in the night. In the world in darkness—we must shine. You in your small corner, I in mine. —The Beautiful Tree of Life.

That Knife-Like Pain

Is Only One of Nature's Warnings of Weak or Disordered Kidneys.

Have you a lame back, aching pains and night? Do you feel sharp darts after stooping? Are the kidneys sore? Is their action irregular? Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the medicine recommended by so many Berlin people. Read this case:

Mrs. J. T. Adkins, West St., Berlin, says: "I was troubled by backache so severely, that when I got up in the morning, it was a hardship for me to dress, and especially to stoop over. When I tried to straighten up, it seemed as if I were being stabbed with a knife. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Farlow's Drug Store and since taking several boxes, I have had no kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills certainly are a fine medicine for kidney trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Adkins had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

FARM MOTIVITY

Outline of Method Recommended by Poultry Specialists of Department of Agriculture.

The following method of ridding hen houses of mites and lice, when the weather conditions are such as to permit of the birds being kept outside the house for five or six hours, is recommended by poultry specialists in the United States department of agriculture.

Close all the doors and windows and see that there are no cracks or any other openings to admit air. Set an iron vessel on gravel or sand near the center of the house. Place in the vessel a handful of shavings or straw saturated with kerosene and on these sprinkle sulphur at the rate of about one pound to every 90 or 100 square feet of floor space. Instead of using the shavings and kerosene, the sulphur may be saturated with wood alcohol.

When everything else is in readiness, light the material and hastily leave the house. In case any anxiety is felt about fire, a glance through a window will show whether everything is all right. There is very little danger of fire when proper precautions have been taken to have plenty of soil beneath the vessel. After three or four hours, throw all the doors and the windows wide open to drive out the sulphur fumes thoroughly. Then let the fowls in one by one. As each enters, catch it and dust it well with insect powder, which will destroy the lice on the birds. Tobacco dust is also good to use instead of insect powder.

The birds and house have now been freed from vermin for the present, but the eggs of the insects have not been destroyed, and in a week another swarm will be hatched out. Therefore it will be necessary to repeat the operation once or twice before the pests are exterminated. After this care should be used to see that no strange fowl is admitted to the house or yard without having been thoroughly rid of lice, for one lousy hen will contaminate all the rest.

GIVE GROWING CHICKS MILK

Where Supply Can Be Obtained It Should Be Kept Before Them in Open Dish or Pan.

Nothing is better for growing chicks than a liberal supply of sour milk. If it can be obtained it always should be kept before them in an open dish or pan where they can eat and drink it freely. When sour milk is fed, the amount of beef scrap in the dry mash may be reduced one-half.

Plenty of fresh, clean water is absolutely necessary for all growing chicks. In hot weather it should be given twice daily and put into fountains or dishes and placed in the shade so as to keep as cool as possible. Clean the water dish thoroughly each day before filling.

SURPLUS FOWLS PROFITABLE

Males and Females That Have Outgrown Their Usefulness Provide Additional Income.

Most farmers find the profit in the commercial part of the poultry business in market eggs, but the surplus males and the females that have outgrown their usefulness provide an additional income which is worth while.

GEESSE MAKE GOOD FORAGERS

Fowls Pick Up Large Portion of Their Ration If Allowed Free Range on Farm.

All geese are good foragers and even when young will pick up a large part of their ration if allowed free range on the farm. They eat grass and fresh vegetable growths of all kinds, as well as bugs and worms.

Cloves. Ninety per cent of the world's supply of cloves comes from the Zanzibar archipelago, but it is alleged that a large proportion is lost through inefficient means employed in picking the crop.

The advance in the monthly average price of hogs per 100 pounds received by producers, which began with February, 1919, comparison being made with the same month in the preceding year, continued without a break to August, 1919, and the advance was from $7.07 to $10.30. Since August, 1919, the fall from month to month was continuous to $12.06 in December, followed by a rise to $13.36 in January, 1920, or $2.33 below the January price in 1919, according to the reports of the bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture.

The average price of sheep per 100 pounds received by producers throughout the whole year had an upward movement from 1918 to 1919, from $4.54 to $10.54, the principal increase being in 1917. The average for 1919, $9.58, is a drop of $1.36 from that for 1918, or 12 per cent.

From 1916 to 1918, the average price of beef cattle per pound to producers invariably advanced from year to year in each month and the advance continued from 1918 to 1919 until May, after which month the average price in 1919 fell below that of 1918 in each month, and the average price for January, 1920, was $8.09, or 66 below that for January, 1919. In the upward movement, the highest monthly average price reached was $10.64 in May, 1919.

FEED VALUE OF BUTTERMILK

Slightly Lower in Protein and Carbohydrates Than Skim Milk—Excellent for Pigs.

For all practical purpose buttermilk has about the same feeding value for hogs as skim milk, although it is slightly lower in protein, carbohydrates, and fat than skim milk. Being high in digestible protein and rich in mineral matter, especially calcium and phosphorus, buttermilk is admirably suited for growing pigs, brood sows and breeding boars. It is an excellent supplement to corn, because it furnishes those feed constituents that corn is deficient in.

ACCURATE RECORDS OF EWES

As Lambing Time Approaches Animals Should Be Separated and Given Extra Attention.

Some fairly accurate record should be kept when the ewes are bred in order that when lambing time approaches the ewes may be separated from the main flock and given extra feed and care. If ticks, lice or scab appear in the flock, the sheep should be dipped even though the weather is a little severe. This is extra work, but the flock will be more healthy and thrifty. A warm place should be provided for the sheep until they dry off.

FIND MILLET HAY INJURIOUS

Fed Liberally to Horses It Causes Increased Action of Kidneys and Other Ailments.

The North Dakota Experiment Station several years ago found that millet hay fed liberally to horses for a long period of time was injurious to the extent that it caused increased action of the kidneys, a swelling of the joints, and a certain amount of lameness. Millet hay seems to be all right for cattle and can perhaps be used safely as a small part of the roughage for horses. It would not be advisable, however, to feed it liberally to horses for a considerable period of time.

WHY Collegiate Gowns Differ in Color and Design

Just before the commencement exercises of one of our universities two graduates were standing apart from the crowd of gowned men who were assembled ready to march. The men in gowns were of all grades of distinction from young bachelors of art to doctors of philosophy.

"What is the significance of all those stripes and colors, anyway?" asked one.

"Really, I don't know," was the reply, "and I have seen them every year for nine years."

If college men do not know what the various gowns and hoods stand for the person who is not college bred is likely to know less, and the increase in number of students in our universities make things academic of wider and wider importance.

University gowns are different in different institutions, but all over the country and indeed all over the English-speaking world certain distinctions hold. Most of these fundamental distinctions may be pointed out as follows:

The ordinary bachelor's gown, the first that the college youth owns, is of unadorned black with pointed sleeves and is usually of serge or some other simple black stuff. The master's gown is like it in that it is plain black, but the sleeves are different, being made with long pendulous shaped not unlike fish tails and hanging from the elbow nearly to the bottom of the gown. It may be made of silk, as also may be the bachelor's gown. It may be worn by a man of long academic standing who has happened to receive no higher degree; but the ordinary youth would not display himself in silk.

Most doctors' gowns, especially in England and Scotland, have hoods which give them distinction and mark the difference of color one kind of doctorate from another.

Some years ago a commission was formed to establish a regular system in American universities. Their effort was somewhat successful, and this in general is the result of their attempt to codify the different gowns. The department of faculty of learning is shown by a trimming of color round the hood, arts and letters are represented by white, theology by scarlet, law by purple, philosophy by blue, science by gold-yellow, fine arts by brown, music by pink, and medicine by green. In some institutions these colors are displayed in bars across the sleeves. This is true at Harvard, where few of the gowns have hoods.—New York Sun and Herald.

PLEA FOR THE HOME GARDEN

Food prices are high, but food grown in home gardens costs comparatively little more than those prices began to ascend. The additional reason for home gardening in 1920 is put forward by specialists of the United States department of agriculture. They quote a letter from a New York business man. He wrote:

"Food costs today are practically double those of 1914, but the cost to plant and care for a home garden has not increased to any considerable extent. The clerk, salesman or professional man who grows his own vegetables and small fruits reduces the family food bill. More important still, he increases the total food supply of the country. He enters the producing class. To a very appreciable extent the home gardener can solve the high cost of living."

How can the man who never gardened learn to garden? One good way is to write to the United States department of agriculture, Washington, or to his state college of agriculture for a bulletin that describes every step in making a back yard or vacant lot help feed his family.

How Wind Spreads Seeds.

If all the seeds carried about by the wind were to find favorable surroundings and grow to maturity, in a surprisingly short time the earth would be overwhelmed with certain forms of plant life. It has been estimated, for instance, that a single frond of a certain fern turns loose to the wind four thousand million spores. Each spore floats with the slightest breeze, and will produce a whole plant if conditions are favorable. These are enough to cover 2,500,000 acres of land. Every one of us realize the productivity of the common mushroom. A thousand acres could be covered by the spores of one single fungus.

Why Birds Should Be Protected.

Human life on this planet is one unending war with the insect world. In this war the birds are our allies. Without their help the insects would win in a very few campaigns. Wherever bird life is diminished a swarm of insect pests arises at once, which all man's sprays and powders can barely hold in check. Cut the birds off altogether and it is virtually certain that all our protective devices would not save our crops.

When we kill an insect-eating bird—and that includes nine-tenths of all those we know—we are guilty of base folly and baser ingratitude.

It has been computed that during the past three years the number of farm horses which have been displaced by tractor foots up at $740,000.

OMELETTE.

"To make an omelette you must first break eggs."—French Proverb.

Anyone can break an egg, but the difficult thing has been to get the egg. At this season, if ever, eggs are plentiful; hence now is the time we may again indulge in an omelette occasionally.

Omelette makers differ as to methods. One says milk makes them tough, water makes them stringy and the French say positively no liquid at all; hence take everybody's advice and use that which seems best. "A perfect omelette is a matter of experience and a deft hand," says Myrtle Reed.

A small omelette is easier to handle and have well cooked and shapely than a large one; hence it is better to go through the process twice or more than to fail with too many eggs in the omelette.

Plain Puffy Omelette.—Break six eggs, separating the yolks and whites. Beat the yolks until thick, add a tablespoonful of cold water for each yolk, season with salt and white pepper. Beat the whites until stiff then turn into them the beaten yolks. Mix lightly and pour into a smooth omelette pan that has been well heated and greased bottom and sides with a tablespoonful of butter. Lift the sides of the omelette while cooking with a spatula. This low, the center cook at the same time. When well done on the bottom set into the oven to finish cooking on top, then fold by scoring each side and carefully place on a hot platter.

The above recipe may be prepared by beating the eggs together and adding a tablespoonful of milk for each egg, seasoning to taste. This omelette is richer in food value because of the milk, but such an omelette is never as good to look at.

Omelettes may be served with various vegetables such as chopped chives and parsley stirred into the eggs just before putting in the pan.

R. J. Showell Resigns His Official Position Because Of Ill Health.

The Vestry of St. Paul's-by-the-Sea received at its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, June 22nd, the following resignation of Mr. Robert J. Showell, as Vestryman and Treasurer of the Church:

To the Rector and Vestry of St. Paul's-by-the-Sea, Gentlemen:

Owing to the state of my health and other conditions over which I have no control, I hereby tender my resignation as Senior Warden and Treasurer of St. Paul's-by-the-Sea, to take effect at your earliest convenience.

For over twenty-five years I have given my best efforts for the success of this Church. I have always had faith that it would be one of the greatest churches in the Diocese of Eastern, for Christian propaganda, and have desired most heartily to see it an independent parish, and it is with profound regret that I am obliged to give up responsibility in the work of my best love, so that greater efficiency may have free course, and the goal of our desire, an independent parish, may the sooner be reached.

But please remember that I shall always consider it a blessed privilege to serve this church to the best of my ability, so with love and humility I remain,

Yours faithfully,

Robert J. Showell.

Mr. Showell's resignation was received with the greatest regret; and it was only accepted by the Vestry because of the grievous ill health of Mr. Showell, who is suffering from a nervous breakdown. Mr. Showell has served the congregation of St. Paul's for over twenty-five years, and has helped largely in its progress from a struggling mission station. He, together with his splendid and efficient wife, has served during that period in every capacity, and both Sunday School and Church will always bear the impress of their influence and labor.

It is, therefore, with the deepest regret and sorrow that we bow to the demands of his broken health, and accept a resignation that ends a career so long and so successful a service.

Edmund Burk, Rector.

Mr. John Scott was elected to the Vestry to take the place made vacant by Mr. Showell's resignation. Captain William I. Purnell was made Senior Warden, and Captain Charles Parker was made the Treasurer of the Parish at the same meeting.

Second Annual Institute.

The Eastern District Educational Conference will hold its second annual Institute at Ocean City, Md., from July 25th to 28th inclusive. Sessions will be held in the State School Building. Classes will be conducted in Sunday-School and Young People's work by Rev. K. A. Handy, of Baltimore, and others. Rev. H. Lloyd Parkinson, of Salisbury, is President of the Conference. It is hoped that all Baptists will avail themselves of this opportunity.

We accept vegetables, eggs, butter, fruit, etc., the same as cash, in exchange for Advance subscriptions.

All subscribers who are not paid up will please take notice of their date and rebuke at once.

OCEAN CITY.

A beautiful marriage was solemnized last Saturday at noon in St. Paul's-by-the-Sea, when Robert Hartman, now of Wye, and Cornelia Stuyvesant Brandreth, recently of Ocean City, were united. Rev. Edmund Burk, P. D. D., the rector of the church officiated. The keynote was simple, and a democratic, community spirit characterized the day.

The exquisite bride was of white, with enveloping orange blossom wreath and short bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Brandreth, wore lavender georgette and carried white and sweet peas. Miss Brandreth's Sunday School class acted as flower girls, all in white, with pink roses, and the symbolic Greek fillet on their heads. They preceded the bride on entering and leaving the church. William Purnell, Jr., sang the marriage hymn most beautifully, and Mrs. F. Townsend played the wedding march. Mrs. Brandreth gave the bride away. A delightful wedding breakfast followed at Colonial Cottage, the home of the bride, to which many friends from a distance, and all the friends of the home community were invited.

The church and home were lavishly decorated with fine roses, and the weather was ideal. Many beautiful presents were received, and the best wishes of the community follow the happy pair to their far western home. Miss Brandreth came to us about a year ago, and entered so fully and so graciously into the life of the church, Sunday School, choir and community that her loss will be greatly felt. She is a lady of spiritual and cultural and social beauty of character, and her influence will remain in the hearts of the many who felt its impress.

Mr. Hartman is a Civil Engineer of wide and important experience, and a forceful and earnest man who impressed favorably all who met him here. Mrs. Brandreth entertained a large number of house guests, relatives and friends from a distance.

The ushers, who also assisted as hosts at the wedding reception, were Messrs. Frank Scull, of New York; Kellogg Myers, of New York; Edward Wright, of Philadelphia, and Frank W. Truitt, of Snow Hill. Guy Brandreth, brother of the bride, was best man.

Attractive invitations have been received by the people here to the formal opening of the Pimhimmon Hotel next Saturday evening in the Casino. We hope this season will prove as great as last year's.

Rev. Wilbur Smith received recently a gratifying and unique testimony to his work here, and personal worth, in a formal resolution passed by the New Castle Presbytery, expressed in letters from each member of the Committee. In September, he will take up a special theological course at Princeton. His work here has been valuable along all lines, and he has won the regard and approval of the community.

The many friends of Mrs. Wilbur Smith will be pleased to hear that she has passed safely and satisfactorily through the operation for which she went to the Lancaster Hospital, and will soon be able to return home. Her sister, Miss Agnes Marshall, is caring for Thomas W. in her absence.

The B. C. & A. has set on its summer schedule this week, which puts us more in touch with the outside world.

Two baptisms of infants at St. Paul's-by-the-Sea last Sunday—the infant son of Capt. H. G. Richardson, and the infant daughter of Daniel H. Gordon, who will now be known as Mattie Elizabeth. The boy was named Robert E.

Visitors are arriving by every train, and every point now has taken on a look of prosperity.

The meeting of the State Teachers' Association was held here this week, and we had the privilege and pleasure of seeing and hearing most of our educators. The addresses and experience meetings were fine and helpful. A reception at the Pimhimmon Casino was greatly enjoyed. Some fine music added to the attractiveness of the meetings.

Mrs. Archer-Burton, once a citizen of our town and Berlin, has just issued a book of bright, charming poems, done by the Roy Crofters.

What To Do When Bileous.

Eat no meats and lightly of other food. Take three of Chamberlain's Tablets to cleanse out your stomach and tone up your liver. Do this, and in a day or two you should be feeling fine.

To Exchange.

I have a 40-acre tract of new land, only two miles to county seat of Bunnell, Flagler County, Florida, to exchange for a farm near Berlin, Md. Good reason for trading. This 40-acre tract is clear and free of all claims. Best offer will be accepted. It is in a grand county and a good location. Also 4 building lots in Dupont, Florida, to go with this 40-acre tract.

Worcester County Club Work for 1919.

After considerable delay the boys' club records for 1919 have been completed and results compiled. While in numbers of enrollment the club work for the past year has not made much of an increase, the results gotten from the work have shown marked improvement. The net profit gotten has more than trebled that of 1918.

Accurate records show that the total net profit made by the boys was $4,022.24. The figures show that the boys have made a profit of $1,000.00 over and above the cost of the work.

The most marked results have been gotten by the pure bred pig club boys. Many of them have made a very substantial profit over and above all costs, and in addition to this profit they have added to the live stock industry of this county nearly 200 pure bred registered Durocs and Berkshires to be used as breeding stock. Quite a number of registered pigs have also been sold outside of the county into other states.

The boys enrolled in the corn club project did very excellent work. All members completed records. Several of the yields gotten by potato club members were remarkable, the largest one being 464 bushels of potatoes to the acre. Boys winning prizes and honorable mention are as follows:

CORN CLUB PROJECT

First prize, scholarship to Maryland State College and a trip to Baltimore, Washington and Mt. Vernon on August 2nd to 6th, Albert Dickerson, Snow Hill.

Second prize, either money prize or trip to State College, Paul Stagg, Snow Hill.

POTATO CLUB PROJECT

First prize, scholarship to Maryland State College and a trip to Baltimore, Washington and Mt. Vernon on Aug. 2nd to 6th, John Adkins, Girdlestone.

Second prize, either money prize or trip to State College, Walter Hancock, Stockton.

Honorable mention and money prize, Clarence Stagg, Harry Clipp, William Harris, Walter Bromley, Norman Chesser, Francis Leake, Montgomery Stagg, Joseph Coe, Howard Rayne, Charlie Bishop, Taylor Cropper and Clarence Meison.

FAT PIG CLUB PROJECT

First prize, scholarship to Maryland State College and a trip to Baltimore, Washington and Mt. Vernon on August 2nd to 6th, Reese Cropper, Berlin.

Second prize, either money prize or trip to State College, Edwin Hancock, Stockton.

Honorable mention and money prize, Frank Chesser, Joseph Coe, Algie Brittingham, Arthur Adkins, William Layfield, Louis Burke, Braddus Byrd, Grover Brittingham, Charles Ames, Albert Dickerson and Norman Chesser.

PURE BRED PIG CLUB PROJECT
First prize, scholarship to Maryland State College and a trip to Baltimore, Washington and Mt. Vernon on August 2nd to 6th, Fred L. Bull, Pocomoke.

Second prize, either money prize or trip to State College, Lester Bunting, Pocomoke.

Honorable mention and money prize, Brooks Bundick, William Carter, Milton Pruitt, Milton Tarr, Walter Bromley, Robert Ward, Clarence Ardis.

It is expected that most of these boys will continue their club work in 1920 and it is hoped that many new members may be added to the clubs.

The Pocomoke City National Bank and the Citizens National Bank of Pocomoke City, and the Deposit and Savings Bank of Snow Hill are continuing their support to the work and are willing to finance pure bred club members and invite boys in all sections of the county to join this movement for better live stock.

The model colony hog house donated by the Pocomoke City National Bank was awarded to Fred L. Bull, Pocomoke, and the self-feeder donated by the Peninsula Produce Exchange was awarded to Frank Chesser, Pocomoke.

Suffered Intense Pain.

"A few years ago when visiting relatives in Michigan, something I had eaten brought on an attack of cholera morbus," writes Mrs. Celesta McVicker, Macon, Mo. "I suffered intense pain and had to go to bed. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and one dose relieved the pain wonderfully. I only took two or three doses, but they did the work."

Mass-Meeting.

There will be a mass meeting in the Globe Theatre, Wednesday evening, July 7th, at 8 o'clock. This will be a stereoscopic picture on a screen and conservation of resources. The speaker will be Dr. Alexander Mitchell, of Baltimore. All are invited to attend.

County Woman's Club.

The Woman's Club of Worcester County will meet Thursday afternoon at 2.30 at the home of Mrs. Thomas P. Wharton, in Stockton. The Field Secretary of the Red Cross will address the meeting. A full attendance is desired.

L. A. Covington, Cor. Secretary.

Peculiar Disease.

Arithmomania—the medical name for another disease—is full of interest. In this the patient has the irresistible impulse to count a certain number of times before doing anything. One case recorded is of a girl who had to tap on the edge of the bed nine times before getting into it; a hundred times before brushing her teeth; to knock three times on a window by the side of the door, and a similar number of times on the door itself before she would unlock it.

Planets Without Moons.

The only planets that have no moons are those nearest the sun, namely Mercury and Venus. Counting our own moon, the system of planets possesses no fewer than 27 moons.

Ivory Dust Jelly.

Ivory dust, properly boiled and prepared, makes a fine and pure jelly which is frequently prescribed for the sick.

Tobacco Seeds Almost Dust.

The seeds of the tobacco plant are so minute that a thumb-nail will furnish enough plants for an acre of ground.

Tree Stump Oil Valuable.

An oil obtained from stumps of red pine trees has been found to be valuable for recovering silver from pulverized ore by the flotation process.

White Island.

Ablon—White Island—the ancient name of Britain—was probably given to it by the Celts, on account of the white cliffs on the southeast coast.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Hall's Catarrh Medicine has been taken by catarrh sufferers for the past thirty-five years, and has become known as the most reliable remedy for Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces, expelling the poison from the blood and healing the diseased portions.

After you have taken Hall's Catarrh Medicine for a short time you will see a great improvement in your general health. Start taking Hall's Catarrh Medicine at once and get rid of catarrh. Send for literature free.

Annual Convention of Tri-County W. C. T. U.

The 8th annual convention of the Tri-County Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held in Stevenson M. E. Church, Berlin, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, June 29th and 30th. Three general officers, six local presidents and 38 delegates, an unusually large number, were in attendance, besides the State president and quite a number of visitors. The weather was oppressively hot and fans were much in evidence, but all seemed to enjoy the program. The Tri-County president, Mrs. H. M. Waller, of Delmar, presided, and beside her on the platform on Tuesday was Mrs. Mary R. Haslop, the faithful and efficient state president for 25 years. Mrs. Haslop conducted the devotional exercises, reading and explaining the Scripture lesson and offering an earnest prayer for grace and guidance.

Cordial addresses of welcome were given by the pastor of the church, Rev. John J. Bunting, and the local president, Mrs. M. E. Grise, and responded to by one of the visiting delegates.

The secretary reported 543 members, 86 new members during the year. Routine work filled the most of the afternoon session, at which good delegations were present from Salisbury, Delmar, Hebron, Fruitland, Crisfield and Stockton besides the local Union, some of them, however, coming by automobile and returning in the evening.

Tuesday evening, the Rev. J. J. Bunting conducted the devotional services, and Miss Minnie Hawley, of Crisfield, sang very sweetly the solo, "Rock of Ages." The principal speaker was J. Bibb Mills, of Baltimore, the attorney for the State Anti-Saloon League. He paid a tribute to the W. C. T. U. as one of the pioneers in the temperance movement, deserving much of the credit for the great victories won. He warned especially against relaxing our efforts, as the liquor men were using every effort to get the law modified, in the hope of finally restoring the entire liquor traffic.

Mrs. Haslop gave a brief talk on the work of the W. C. T. U. and urged every man and woman to unite with the organization and help with the important welfare work yet to be done. Wednesday morning, among the things of special interest was the "Gleanings from the National Convention," by Mrs. J. S. Taylor, who was a delegate. Particular emphasis was given by several impromptu speakers to the growing evil of cigarettes, containing not only the deadly poison, nicotine, but the poison "dope" in the wrapper besides. Mrs. Ellis, a school teacher of Delmar, stated that a little boy of that town who was taught by his father to smoke cigarettes, had his brain so dulled that he was three years in the first grade of the school, two years in the second, and three years in the third, without getting through; and that a young man of 17 died insane from their use, so violent he had to be strapped to his bed.

It was strongly recommended that as we have a State law forbidding the sale of tobacco to children under 15 without the written consent of parent or guardian, that the W. C. T. U. endeavor to have this law enforced. The Tri-County decided to invite the State Convention to meet at Ocean City this fall. The same officers were elected as before: President, Mrs. H. M. Waller, Delmar; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. William E. Hastings, Sharpstown; Mrs. J. F. Somers, Crisfield; Mrs. J. B. Hudson, Stockton. Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. J. W. Thawley, Crisfield. Recording Secretary, Mrs. J. S. Taylor, Salisbury. Treasurer, Miss S. A. Taylor, Stockton. The Convention closed with the noonday prayer service.

RESOLUTIONS.

We humbly and devoutly thank our Heavenly Father for His guiding power and help during the past year, and come to our eighth annual Tri-County Convention rejoicing in the victories won and progress made in His name and Kingdom. Resolved, I. Realizing the vital importance of true American naturalization of the strangers within our gates we urge the teaching of citizenship to the men, women and children immigrating to our shores. 2. We endorse the League of Nations.

3. To approve the department of Christian Citizenship, believing that it will make for a more intelligent use of the ballot, that race and women's in the hands of women.

4. The Tri-County Convention rejoiced in the enactment of the Volstead Act, and condemns the motive of those who clamor for its repeal, modification through amendments, and we do here pledge our support to that measure by our voice, influence and organization.

5. Urging that the use of profane language is on the increase, we endeavor to make sentiment against this vile habit, and to secure an enforcement of the law against profanity in public places.

6. We will discourage the use of narcotics, especially tobacco and cigars, and try to get mothers, school teachers and Sunday School teachers to do all in their power to instruct the children in regard to their poisonous effects.

Also we advocate the full enforcement of the present law against the sale of tobacco in any form to minors.

7. As Americans in China are amenable to the Federal White Slave Act and the Narcotic Drug Act, we commend that Congress also make them amenable to the Federal Prohibition Amendment.

8. That we express our profound gratitude to our White Ribbon sisters of Berlin, Md.; we thank the pastor of the official board of Stevenson Methodist Episcopal Church, the musicians, and friends who have opened their church, homes and hearts for the entertainment and success of this Convention. We pray God's blessing on them all, and may His hand and wisdom guide the W. C. T. U.

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy

This remedy is certain to be needed in many homes before the summer is over. Buy it now and be prepared. It is recognized as a most reliable remedy for cholera, colic, and may be obtained at any drug store.

Mrs. Linda Harrod Endorses Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and tried everything I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I got immediate relief from that dreadful heaviness and pain in the stomach after eating. Since taking two bottles I can eat anything I want without distress," writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Three Fatal Mistakes

By REV. B. B. SUTCLIFFE
Extension Department, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

TEXT.—He hath said in his heart: I shall not be moved. . . . Thou wilt not require it.—Ps. 124, 11, 12.

This psalm tells us something of the inner heart-thoughts which control the minds of the un-saved. They may not be publicly expressed, but they reveal the state of the heart. There are three of these hidden heart-thoughts revealed, disclosing three fatal mistakes made by the un-saved in their rejection of the Gospel.

Self-Sufficiency. In verse 6 we read, "He hath said in his heart, I shall not be moved; for I shall never be in adversity." He sees adversity all around and he sees his friends come to distress, but he says in his heart, "I shall never come to me. He forgives or denies what the Word of God so frequently reminds us of, that 'all flesh is as grass.' He sees his friends go to the grave, but for him that shall never be. In the midst of a scene wherein change and decay hold sway he says, 'I shall not be moved.' Blind to all the instruction of history, to all the teaching of what he sees around him, and to all that the Word of God would tell him, he says, 'I shall not be moved nor come into adversity.' Shutting his eyes to what is seen, closing his ears to what is heard, persuaded in his foolish conceit and presumption that he shall never come into adversity, he goes into the future with no preparation for what may lie in his path. Akin to the arrogance of Satan is the vanity which leads a man to make such a fatal mistake.

Can Sin With Impunity. In verse 11 we read: "He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten. . . . He will never see it." He will not believe, even though God tells him that there can be no hiding of sin. However deep the grave where the sin lies buried, however secret may be the retreat where the sin is concealed, however thick the veil hung before the secluded place where the sin has been hid, the sinner is to know what God declares, "Be sure your sin will find you out" (Num. 32:23). The sinner may say in his heart, "God hath forgotten," but God replies, "I know your transgressions and your sins." (Ps. 124:12). "Talk no more so exceedingly proudly. . . . For the Lord is a God of knowledge." (1 Sam. 2:3). But the sinner persists in the fatal mistake of saying in his heart, "God hath forgotten; he will never see it." Because the sin lies hidden in the deep recesses of his heart the sinner feels secure and imagines, with the impudence that belongs to Satan, that he can sin with impunity; forgetting or denying that the heart of man is more plainly read by God than the clearest writing is distinguishable to the eyes of man.

There is No Judgment. In verse 13 we read, "He hath said in his heart, Thou wilt not require it." He will not allow himself to believe that "it is appointed unto man once to die, and after this judgment" (Heb. 9:27). He goes through life thinking he will never come into adversity, that he can sin with impunity, and crowning his disastrous life by declaring, "Thou wilt not require it." He sees man taking and giving judgment every day. He sees daily desperate attempts to avoid the Nemesis of the law of man proving abortive. Example after example of the certainty of retribution for breaking the law of man is before him. In spite of all, the persistent delusion of his heart is that retribution for breaking the law of God may be avoided. God declares he "will in no wise clear the guilty," and testifies to all that men are to be judged, first, for their words—"Every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment" (Matt. 12:36); second, for their thoughts and hidden motives—"God shall judge the secrets of men" (Rom. 2:16); third, for their deeds—"And the dead were judged . . . according to their works" (Rev. 20:12). But the sinner rises to the climax of wickedness when, in the light of these plain declarations of God, he says, "There is no coming judgment."

Oh! that sinners might turn from these fatal mistakes; that they might turn to the Lord with confession, believing it true that "If we confess our sins he is faithful and just to forgive us" and, accepting the Lord Jesus Christ as a personal Savior, come to the blessedness of the assurance that "there is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus."

The Lie. There is no vice that doth so cover a man with shame, as to be discovered in a lie; for, as Montaigne saith: "A liar would be brave toward God, while he is a coward toward man; for a lie faces God, and shrinks from man."—Bacon.

The Cheery Doctor. "I am happy to tell you, Mr. Bump," said the eminent Esculapian to the victim of the reckless motorist, "that you will not have to dodge automobiles for a month or six weeks to come."—Kansas City Star.

Extremes Not Suddenly Reached. There is no man suddenly either excellently good or extremely wicked, but grows so, either as he holds himself up to virtue or lets himself slide to viciousness.—Sir Philip Sidney.

LESSON FOR JULY 4

DAVID IN CAMP AND COURT.

LESSON TEXT.—1 Sam. 17:1-36.
GOLDEN TEXT.—David behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and the Lord was with him.—1 Sam. 18:14.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL.—1 Sam. 18:1-13; Ephes. 6:12.

PRIMARY TOPIC.—David and the Giant.
JUNIOR TOPIC.—The Shepherd Boy Conquers a Giant.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC.—Fighting the Good Fight.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC.—Overthrowing Modern Goliaths.

1. David in Camp (1 Sam. 17:1-36). While the armies stood eyeing each other for battle the Philistines, having a warrior among them of great strength, sought to decide the war by a combat between two selected champions. The nation whose champion was slain was to be subject to the other.

1. The champion (vv. 4-37). (1) Goliath of the Philistines (vv. 4-31). Note his characteristics: (a) He was a giant (v. 4). Saul made no attempt to meet this giant. Even Jonathan, who had distinguished himself at Michmash (1 Sam. 14), seems to have lacked in courage. (b) He was filled with conceit. His size, his pomp of war and his strength caused him to believe that no evil could befall him. (c) He was boastful. Likely his reputation reminded them of a former experience when Samson, Israel's giant, wrought such great mischief among them. (d) He was defiant. He openly defied the army of Israel—the people of the Most High. (e) He was scornful. He treated the Israelites with the utmost contempt.

(2) David the Israelite (vv. 12-37). In the providence of God, David was sent to the camp at a time to hear the boasting of this proud and contemptible Philistine. His three eldest brothers were in the army and his father sent him with some provisions for them as well as for the captain. While talking with his brothers Goliath made his appearance. The sight of Israel's cowardice and lack of zeal for God prompted David to offer his services. He was not a blind enthusiast who disregarded the use of means, but was careful to use means, and most particularly as to what they should be. He put aside the mailed armor of Saul, knowing that God's will for him was to use by faith that which he had thought insignificant.

2. The battle (vv. 34-49). When Goliath beheld David coming up against him he cursed him by his gods, Beel and Ashtaroth, saying that it was not meet a nation between David and Goliath. In the end the true God and false gods, David hastened to meet Goliath. A stone from his sling smote Goliath and he fell to the earth upon his face. David went forth in the name of the Lord of Hosts that all the earth might know that there was a God in Israel.

3. The victory (vv. 49-58). Goliath was killed and the Philistine army routed. This victory is a prophecy of a greater one when the evil, the defiant enemy of God, shall be broken and his army put to flight.

4. David in Court (18:1-30). 1. Saul jealous.—David (vv. 1-9). David went into battle with Goliath out of love for God and true religion, not of personal glory; but it turned out as always, that because he made God first, God honored him. "Him that honoreth me, I will honor." Upon David's return from the pursuit of the Philistines he was met by a triumphal chorus of women from all the cities of Israel, shouting praises unto him for his victory over their enemies. This was too much for Saul. This was but the occasion which fanned into a flame the passion which lingered in Saul's bosom.

2. Saul tries to kill David (vv. 10, 11). This is an example of the awful tragedy which may result if we harbor envy and jealousy. Saul had prepared a place in his heart for this evil spirit to dwell. When one gives himself up to the indulgence of his baser passions the devil finds a place in his heart to dwell.

3. David's wise conduct (vv. 12-16). Because Saul recognized that God had departed from him and that David must increase while he must decrease, he tried to get rid of David. He sent him from him and made him captain over his army. His envy even assumed a role of cunning and he offered his daughter to David as a reward for bravery in battle. Not that he cared for David, but that the Philistines might kill him instead of doing it with his own hands (v. 17). In spite of all this, David acts discreetly. He wins the favor of the people and is loved by the Lord. Despite Saul's intrigues David went from success to success.

Christ With the Disciples. For forty days Christ was with the disciples talking with them of the things pertaining to the Kingdom of God. If we cannot believe that the Apostles deceived others, it seems (if possible) still more unlikely that they were the victims of deception.—Bishop Westcott.

Master of Circumstances. It is the man or woman of faith, and hence of courage, who is the master of circumstances, and who makes his or her power felt in the world.

Functions of the Heart. The human heart is like a millstone in a mill; when you put wheat under it, it turns, and grinds, and bruises the wheat into flour; if you put no wheat in, it still grinds on; but then it is itself it grinds and slowly wears away.—Luther.

Always on the Defensive. A herd of buffalo never moves to a straight line. It always takes a zig-zag course for defense.

TRUST.

"I will trust, and not be afraid."—Isaiah 12:2.

"Make a little fence of trust Around today; Fill the space with loving works, And then, in stay; Look not through the sheltering bars Upon tomorrow; God will help you bear what comes, Of joy or sorrow."

"Thy Word Is A Lamp Unto My Feet."

A ragged errand boy was carefully printing with chalk on a gate his Bible text, so interested was he with his work, that he did not notice a kind-looking old gentleman who, after walking slowly past twice, returned and stood beside him.

"I—," said the boy, repeating the letters stood as he formed them with care. "E—e—t, feet."

"Well done, my boy, well done!" said the old gentleman. "Where did you learn that?"

"At the Mission Sunday-School," replied the boy, half frightened, and thinking the old gentleman was going to deliver him up to the police for writing on the gate.

"Nicholas."

"So you learned that text at the Sunday-School? Do you know what it means?"

"No, sir," said Nicholas.

"What is a lamp?"

"A lamp? why, it's a lamp, a thing that gives light?"

"And what is the 'word' that the text speaks of?"

"The Bible, sir."

"That's right." Now, how can the Bible be a lamp and give light?"

"I don't know, 'less you set it afire," said Nicholas.

"That is a better way than that, my lad. Suppose you were going down some lonely lane on a dark night with an unlighted lantern in your hand and a box of matches in your pocket; what would you do?"

"Why, light the lantern, sir."

Replied Nicholas, evidently surprised that any one should ask such a foolish question.

"What would you light it for?"

"To show me the road, sir."

"Now, suppose you were walking behind me some day and saw me drop a shilling; what would you do?"

"Pick it up, and give it to you again, sir."

"Wouldn't you want to keep it for yourself?"

Nicholas hesitated; but he saw a smile on the old gentleman's face, and with an answering one on his own, he said, "I should want to, sir, but I shouldn't do it."

"Because it would be stealing."

"How do you know?"

"It would be taking what wasn't my own, and the Bible says we are not to steal."

"Ah!" said the old gentleman, "so it's the Bible that makes you honest, is it?"

"Yes, sir."

"If you had not heard of the Bible you would steal, I suppose?"

"Lots of the boys do," said Nicholas, hanging his head.

"And the Bible shows you the safe and right path of honesty?"

"Like the lamp?" said Nicholas, seeing now what all these questions meant. "Is that what the text means?"

"Yes; there is always light in the Bible to show us where to go. Now, my boy, do you think it is worth while to take this good old lamp and let it light you right through life?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you think you will be safer with it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Why?"

"Because if I'm honest I shan't stand no chance of going to prison."

"And what else?"

Nicholas thought for a few minutes. "If I mind the Bible I shall go to Heaven," he said at last.

"Yes, that's the best reason for taking the lamp. It will light you right into Heaven. Good-bye, my lad. Here's a shilling for you, and mind you don't keep the Bible light covered up by not reading it."

"Yes, sir," said Nicholas, grasping the shilling, and touching his ragged cap; "I'll mind."

When Robert Raikes started Sunday School more than a hundred years ago in a place where the boys and girls, before that, used to spend the Sunday in swearing and fighting, the Bible was like a lantern to many poor boys like Nicholas, to show them the right way to speak and act and walk, to keep them from going wrong, and to show them how to go to Heaven. Since then, Sunday Schools have multiplied, until many millions of children and almost as many grown people now go to Sunday School, and get the Bible as a lantern to show them how to go right in this world and how to get to Heaven at last.

If we have God's words in our memories, and can repeat them to help others, our hearts also will be like lanterns, to show people the right way. That is what Jesus means when He says, "Be the light of the world." "Let your light shine."

In England they call matches "lights," and so the match-sellers cry, "Have a light, sir." When a little boy said that to a blind minister, he replied, smiling, "Don't you know that I am one of the lights of the world?" The nice, nervous little fellow, not understanding the Bible words, answered, "Well, then I wish you was hung up in our alley, for it's an awfully dark one."

There are alleys and streets "awfully dark" with drunkenness and swearing, sin and sorrow; and we can help to lighten them up with temperance and religion and joy by kind words of our own and Bible words from our memories, and by acts of kindness and love.

"Jesus bids us shine with a clean, pure light."

"I will trust, and not be afraid."—Isaiah 12:2.

"Make a little fence of trust Around today; Fill the space with loving works, And then, in stay; Look not through the sheltering bars Upon tomorrow; God will help you bear what comes, Of joy or sorrow."

MAKE it easier to get around and you make healthier and happier communities. No one any longer questions the worth of the automobile—or begrudges any legitimate expense connected with it.

But millions of car owners are rebelling at the idea that running an automobile has got to mean waste.

Every now and then you hear a neighbor complain that "he doesn't seem to have much luck with tires."

Send him to us.

The minute a man begins to question the service his tires are giving him, he's ready to listen to reason.

Our business is built on the principle that the only way to get better tire service is to get better tires to start with.

That's why we have taken the representation for U. S. Tires.

U. S. Tires have a reputation for quality.

Built up through years of creating better tires. Such as the straight side automobile tire, the pneumatic truck tire.

It is not by chance that U. S. Tires are made by the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

We are proud to represent U. S. Tires in this community.

RIDDING HOUSES OF VERMIN

Outline of Method Recommended by Poultry Specialists of Department of Agriculture.

The following method of ridding hen houses of mites and lice, when the weather conditions are such as to permit of the birds being kept outside the house for five or six hours, is recommended by poultry specialists in the United States department of agriculture.

Close all the doors and windows and see that there are no cracks or any other openings to admit air. Set an iron vessel on gravel or sand near the center of the house. Place in the vessel a handful of shavings or straw saturated with kerosene and on these sprinkle sulphur at the rate of about one pound to every 50 or 100 square feet of floor space.

When everything else is in readiness, light the material and hastily leave the house. In case any anxiety is felt about fire, a glance through a window will show whether everything is all right. There is very little danger of fire when proper precautions have been taken to have plenty of soil beneath the vessel. After three or four hours, unroll all the doors and the windows wide open to drive out the sulphur fumes thoroughly. Then let the fowls in one by one. As each enters, catch it and dust it well with insect powder, which will destroy the lice on the birds. Tobacco dust is also good to use instead of insect powder.

The birds and house have now been freed from vermin for the present, but the eggs of the insects have not been destroyed, and in a week another swarm will be hatched out. Therefore it will be necessary to repeat the operation once or twice before the pests are exterminated. After this care should be used to see that no strange fowl is admitted to the house or yard without having been thoroughly rid of lice, for one loose hen will contaminate all the rest.

GIVE GROWING CHICKS MILK

Nothing is better for growing chicks than a liberal supply of sour milk. If it can be obtained it always should be kept before them in an open dish or pan where they can eat and drink it freely. Where sour milk is fed, the amount of beef scrap in the dry mash may be reduced one-half.

Plenty of fresh, clean water is absolutely necessary for all growing chicks. In hot weather it should be given twice daily and put into fountains or dishes and placed in the shade so as to keep as cool as possible. Clean the water dish thoroughly each day before filling.

SURPLUS FOWLS PROFITABLE

Most farmers find the profit in the commercial part of the poultry business in market eggs, but the surplus males and the females that have outgrown their usefulness provide an additional income which is worth while.

GEESSE MAKE GOOD FORAGERS

All geese are good foragers and even when young will pick up a large part of their ration if allowed free range on the farm. They eat grass and fresh vegetable growth of all kinds, as well as bugs and worms.

Cloves. Ninety per cent of the world's supply of cloves comes from the Zanzibar archipelago, but it is alleged that a large proportion is lost through inefficient means employed in picking the crop.

The Bulge That Counts. One observation is that folks for give a man's trousers for bagging at the knees if they bulge at the pockets. —Dallas News.

DECLINE IN PRICES OF MEAT

Bureau of Crop Estimates Notes Drop in Amount Paid for Pork, Beef, and Mutton.

The advance in the monthly average price of hogs per 100 pounds received by producers, which began with February, 1916, comparison being made with the same month in the preceding year, continued without a break to August, 1919, and the advance was from $7.97 to $19.30. Since August, 1919, the fall from month to month was continuous to $12.90 in December, followed by a rise to $13.30 in January, 1920, or $2.33 below the January price in 1916, according to the reports of the bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture.

The average price of sheep per 100 pounds received by producers throughout the whole year had an upward movement from 1918 to 1919, from $4.54 to $10.24, the principal increase being in 1917. The average for 1919, $9.58, is a drop of $1.30 from that for 1918, or 12 per cent.

From 1915 to 1918, the average price of beef cattle per pound to producers invariably advanced from year to year in each month and the advances continued from 1918 to 1919 with May, after which month the average price in 1919 fell below that of 1918 in each month, and the average price for January, 1920, was $8.90, or 66 below that for January, 1919. In the upward movement, the highest monthly average price reached was $10.84 in May, 1919.

Veal calves gained in average price in every month of every year since 1915, the comparison being with the same month of the preceding year.

and the price being per 100 pounds to producers. The yearly average price rose from $7.03 in 1915 to $12.74 in 1919.

FEED VALUE OF BUTTERMILK

Slightly Lower in Protein and Carbohydrates Than Skim Milk—Excellent for Pigs.

For all practical purpose buttermilk has about the same feeding value for pigs as skim milk, although it is slightly lower in protein, carbohydrates and fat than skim milk. Being high in digestible protein and rich in mineral matter, especially calcium and phosphorus, buttermilk is admirably suited for growing pigs, brood sows and breeding boars. It is an excellent supplement to corn because it furnishes those feed constituents that corn is deficient in.

ACCURATE RECORDS OF EWES

As Lambing Time Approaches Animals Should Be Separated and Given Extra Attention.

Some fairly accurate record should be kept when the ewes are bred in order that when lambing time approaches the ewes may be separated in the main flock and given extra feed and care. If ticks, lice or scab appear in the flock, the sheep should be dipped when the weather is a little severe. This is extra work, but the flock will be more healthy and thriving. A warm place should be provided for the sheep until they dry off.

FIND MILLET HAY INJURIOUS

Fed Liberally to Horses It Causes Increased Action of Kidneys and Other Aliments.

The North Dakota Experiment Station several years ago found that millet hay fed liberally to horses for a long period of time was injurious to the extent that it caused increased action of the kidneys, a swelling of the joints and a certain amount of lameness. Millet hay seems to be all right for cattle and can perhaps be used safely as a small part of the roughage for horses. It would not be advisable, however, to feed it liberally to horses for a considerable period of time.

Wheel. Somebody said, "A camel can smell water seven miles away," and somebody else said, "And you can smell a camel farther than that!"—Boys' Life.

Perfumes the Air. Violet-scented newsgrow grows in the lakes of the Malay Peninsula, in the Caspian sea, and the pleasant odor therefrom scents the air for miles around.

WHY

Colligate Gowns Differ in Color and Design

Just before the commencement exercises of one of our universities two graduates were standing apart from the crowd of gowned men who were assembled ready to march. The men in gowns were of all grades of distinction from young bachelors of art to doctors of philosophy.

"What is the significance of all those stripes and colors, anyway?" asked one.

A college man do not know what the various gowns and hoods stand for the person who is not college bred is likely to know less, and the increase in number of students in our universities make things academic of wider and wider importance.

University gowns are different in different institutions, but all over the country and indeed all over the English-speaking world certain distinctions hold. Most of these fundamental distinctions may be pointed out as follows:

The ordinary bachelor's gown, the first that the college youth owns, is of unadorned black with pointed sleeves and is usually of serge or some other simple black stuff. The master's gown is like it in that it is plain black, but the sleeves are different, being made with long pendants shaped not unlike fish-tails and hanging from the elbow nearly to the bottom of the gown. It may be made of silk, as also may be the bachelor's gown. It may be worn by a man of long academic standing who has happened to receive no higher degree; but the ordinary youth would not display himself in silk.

Most doctor's gowns, especially in England and Scotland, have hoods which give them distinction and mark in the difference of color one kind of doctorate from another.

Some years ago a commission was formed to establish a regular system in American universities. Their effort was somewhat successful, and this in general is the result of their attempt to codify the different hoods.

The department of faculty of learning is shown by a trimming of color round the hood, arms and letters are represented by white, theology by scarlet, law by purple, philosophy by blue, science by gold-yellow, fine arts by brown, music by pink, and medicine by green. In some institutions these colors are displayed in bars across the sleeve. This is true at Harvard, where few of the gowns have hoods—New York Sun and Herald.

PLEA FOR THE HOME GARDEN

Food prices are high, but food grown in a home garden costs comparatively little. The additional reason for home gardening in 1920 is put forward by specialists of the United States department of agriculture. They quote a letter from a New York business man. He wrote:

"Food costs today are practically double those of 1914, but the cost to plant and care for a home garden has not increased to any considerable extent. The clerk, salesman or professional man who grows his own vegetables and small fruits reduces the family food bill. More important still, he increases the total food supply of the country. He enters the producing class. To a very appreciable extent the home gardener can solve the high cost of living."

How can the man who never gardened learn to garden? One good way is to write to the United States department of agriculture, Washington, or to his state college of agriculture for a bulletin that describes every step in making a back yard or vacant lot help feed his family.

How Wind Spreads Seeds.

If all the seeds carried about by the wind were to find favorable surroundings and grow to maturity, in a surprisingly short time the earth would be overwhelmed with a mass of plants of all kinds. It has been estimated, for instance, that a single seed of a certain fern turns loose to the wind four thousand million spores. Each spore floats with the slightest breeze, and will produce a whole plant if conditions are favorable. These are enough to cover 2,000,000 acres of land. Few of us realize the productivity of the common mushroom. A thousand acres could be covered by the spores of one single fungus.

Why Birds Should Be Protected.

Human life on this planet is one unending war with the insect world. In this war the birds are our allies. Without their help the insects would win in a very few campaigns. Wherever bird life is diminished a swarm of insect pests arises at once, which all man's sprays and poisons can barely hold in check. Cut the birds off altogether and it is virtually certain that all our protective devices would not save our crops.

When we kill an insect-eating bird—and that includes blue-jays of all those we know—we are guilty of base folly and baser ingratitude.

How Auto Is Displacing Horse.

It has been computed that during the past three years the number of farm horses which have been displaced by tractors (count up at 3,740,000).

Charity.

How many things might be tolerated in sin and left to conscience, had we but charity, and were it not the chief stronghold of our hypocrisy to be ever judging one another.—John Milton.

OMELETTE.

"To make an omelette you must first break eggs," French Proverb.

Anyone can break an egg, but the difficulty there has been to get the egg at this season, if ever, eggs are plentiful. Hence now is the time to make again indulgence in an omelette occasionally.

Omelette makers differ in methods. One says milk makes them tough, water makes them stringy and the French say positively no liquid at all; hence take everybody's advice and use that which seems best. "A perfect omelette is a matter of experience and a deft hand," says Myrtle Reid.

A small omelette is easier to handle and have well cooked and shaped than a large one; hence it is better to go through the process twice or more than to fail with too many eggs in the omelette.

Plain Puffy Omelette.—Break six eggs, separate the yolks and whites. Beat the yolks until thick, add a tablespoon of cold water for each yolk, season with salt and white pepper. Beat the whites until stiff then turn into the beaten yolks. Mix lightly and pour into a smooth omelette pan that has been well heated and greased bottom and sides with a tablespoon of butter. Lift the sides of the omelette while cooking with a spatula. This sets the center cook at the same time. When well done on the bottom set into the oven to finish cooking on top, then fold by scoring each side and carefully place on a hot platter.

The above recipe may be prepared by beating the eggs together and adding a tablespoonful of milk for each egg, seasoning to taste. This omelette is richer in taste because of the milk, but such an omelette is never as good to look at.

Omelettes may be served with various vegetables such as chopped onions and parsley stirred into the eggs just before putting in the pan.

R. J. Showell Resigns His Official Position Because Of Ill Health.

The Vestry of St. Paul's-by-the-Sea received at its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, June 22nd, the following resignation of Mr. Robert J. Showell, as Vestryman and Treasurer of the Church:

To the Rector and Vestry of St. Paul's-by-the-Sea, Gentlemen:

Owing to the state of my health and other conditions over which I have no control, I hereby tender my resignation as Senior Warden and Treasurer of St. Paul's-by-the-Sea, to take effect at your earliest convenience.

For over twenty-five years I have given my best efforts for the success of this Church. I have always had faith that it would be one of the greatest churches in the Diocese of Eastern, for Christian propaganda, and have desired most heartily to see it an independent parish, and it is with profound regret that I am obliged to give up responsibility in the work of my best love, so that greater efficiency may have free course, and the goal of our desire, an independent parish, may the sooner be reached.

But please remember that I shall always consider it a blessed privilege to serve this church to the best of my ability, so with love and humility I remain,

Yours faithfully,

Robert J. Showell.

Mr. Showell's resignation was received with the greatest regret; and it was only accepted by the Vestry because of the grievous ill health of Mr. Showell, who is suffering from a nervous breakdown. Mr. Showell has served the congregation of St. Paul's for over twenty-five years, and has helped largely in its progress from a struggling mission station. He, together with his splendid and efficient wife, has served during that period in every capacity, and both Sunday School and Church will always bear the impress of their influence and labor.

It is, therefore, with the deepest regret and sorrow that we bow to the demands of his broken health, and accept a resignation that was officially so long and so successful a service.

Edmund Burk, Rector.

Mr. John Suott was elected to the Vestry to take the place made vacant by Mr. Showell's resignation.

Captain William I. Purnell was made Senior Warden, and Captain Charles Parker was made the Treasurer of the Parish at the same meeting.

Second Annual Institute.

The Eastern District Educational Conference will hold its second annual Institute at Ocean City, Md., from July 25th to 28th inclusive. Sessions will be held in the State School Building. Classes will be conducted in Sunday-School and Young People's work by Rev. K. A. Handy, of Baltimore, and others. Rev. H. Lloyd Parkinson, of Salisbury, is President of the Conference. It is hoped that all Baptists will avail themselves of this opportunity.

OCEAN CITY.

A beautiful marriage was solemnized last Saturday at high noon in St. Paul's-by-the-Sea, when Robert Hartman, now of Wyoming, and Cornelia Stuyvesant Brandreth, recently of Ocean City, were united.

Rev. Edmund Burk, Ph. D., D. D., the rector of the church, presided. The keynote was simplicity and a democratic, community spirit characterized the day.

The exquisite bridal dress was of white, with enveloping veil, orange blossom wreath and shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. The maid of honor, Mrs. Margaret Brandreth, wore a tender georgette and carried orange and sweet peas. Miss Brandreth's Sunday School class acted as flower girls, all in white, with pink roses, and the symbolic Greek knot on their heads. They preceded the bride on entering and leaving the church. William Purnell, Jr., sang the marriage hymn most beautifully, and Mrs. F. Townsend played the wedding march. Mrs. Brandreth gave the bride away. A delightful wedding breakfast followed at Colonial Cottage, the home of the bride, to which many friends from a distance, and all the friends of the home community were invited.

The church and home were lavishly decorated with June roses, and the weather was ideal. Many beautiful presents were received, and the best wishes of the community follow the happy pair to their far western home. Miss Brandreth came to us about a year ago, and entered so fully and efficiently into the life of the church. Sunday School, choir and community that her loss will be greatly felt. She is a lady of spiritual and cultural and social beauty of character, and her influence will remain in the hearts of the many who felt its impress.

Mr. Hartman is a Civil Engineer of wide and important experience, and a forceful and earnest man who impressed favorably all who met him here. Mrs. Brandreth entertained a large number of house guests, relatives and friends from a distance.

The ushers, who also acted as hosts at the wedding reception, were Messrs. Frank Scull, of New York; Kellogg Myers, of New York; Edward Wright, of Philadelphia, and Frank W. Truitt, of Snow Hill. Guy Brandreth, brother of the bride, was best man.

Attractive invitations have been received by the people here to the formal opening of the Phipps Hotel next Saturday evening in the Casino. We hope this season will prove as great as last year.

Rev. Wilbur Smith received recently a gratifying and unique testimony to his work here, and personal worth, in a formal resolution passed by the New Castle Synod, expressed in letters from each member of the Committee. In September, he will take up a special theological course at Princeton. His work here has been valuable along all lines, and he has on the regard and approval of the community.

The many friends of Mrs. Wilbur Smith will be pleased to hear that she has passed safely and satisfactorily through the operation for which she went to the Lancaster Hospital, and will soon be able to return home. Her sister, Mrs. Agnes Marshall, is caring for her in her absence.

The B. C. & A. has put on its summer schedule this week which puts us more in touch with the outside world.

Two baptisms of infants at St. Paul's-by-the-Sea last Sunday—the infant son of Capt. Henry Richardson, and the infant daughter of Daniel E. Gordon, who is now known as Matilda Marshall.

The boy was named Henry.

Visitors are arriving by every train, and every point now has taken on a look of prosperity.

The meeting of the State Teachers' Association was held here this week, and we had the privilege and pleasure of seeing and hearing most of our educators. The addresses and experience meetings were fine and helpful. A reception at the Phipps Casino was greatly enjoyed. Some fine music added to the attractiveness of the meetings.

Mrs. Archer-Burton, once a citizen of our town and Berlin, has just issued a book of bright, charming poems, done by the Roy Crofters.

Return Home.

The splendid motive which prompted the state Bankers to
make this liberal appropriation will
be appreciated by farmer boys and girls all over the state. It will not only be an educational trip, but a
pleasure trip long to be remembered,
by over 200 boys and girls.

The first prize winning boys and
girls in club work in Worcester Co.
will be given this trip absolutely
free. The second prize winners
will be given the trip free with the provision that they pay their expenses while at the University.

Arrangements have been made to have an automobile party go from Worcester County. Automobiles
will leave the County early Monday morning, August 2, going either by way of Elkton or by the state ferry from Calhoun to Annapolis; arriving at University
in time for the evening session of the short-course.

This party of the following boys
and girls will be under the direction
of the County Agent.

Reese Cropper, Berlin; Albert
Dickerson, Paul Stagg, Snow Hill;
John Adkins, Girdlestone; Walter
and Edwin Hancock, Stockton; Fred Bull, Lester Bunting, Poo-
cooke, and Grace Coe, Berlin; Francis Adkins, Girdlestone Club; Louise Townsend, second prize Girdlestone;
Blanche Reid, Remson Club, winners in canning, poultry and gardening clubs.

Communication.

Taylorville, Md., June, 1920.

Dear Sir:—I have been requested by several of my neighbors to make a public statement
through your valuable paper, about
the letter that was handed to us in the repair work done on the road
leading from Gray's Corner to the Old Brick Church, situated on the atom road leading from Showell, Md.
I will give it in three acts.

First Act: On Monday, June 1st, a high-powered passenger automobile was seen coming down the road.
As it approached a hole in the road
it came to a stop. Two gentlemen
alighted, each armed with a shovel.
After surveying the hole they proceeded to the side of the road, dug
up some dirt, and piled it in a heap
in the center of the hole. They did not take the trouble to level it, but left it in a heap. They then cut a small trench from the hole to the side of the road. Then they mounted their car and proceeded down the road, doing the same kind of work
at every hole they came to. End
of First Act, the band plays, "May
the Lord help the taxpayer."

Second Act: Late in the afternoon the farmers begin to appear in numbers on the road, hauling strawberries to the point of shipment.
They are compelled to mount these
hills with one side of the wagon,
while the other jolts over the trenches made for a drain.

Now here is the result: When
they arrive at place of sale, their
berries will bring from one to two dollars less a crate than the berries
of the man who has had a good road
to haul over. The shaking up they not have given them a dull look, as they lose in value. End of Second Act.

From County Commissioners: Owing to the demands made by the road repair
men that they be served with cool
drinks in summer and hot lunches
in cold weather, we will be compelled to establish a bus line to supply their demands. To meet the extra expense we will be compelled to raise the taxes. The curtain
drops—so does the taxpayer.

We would suggest that a flying
machine be supplied with a dirt
container hanging from it; while
the pilot circled about over the hole
the man beneath could drop the dirt down into the hole. That would at least save us from the
trenches.
For the last five years there had
been nothing done to give us a road
fit to drive over. Since the stone
road was built to Showell, the County Commissioners have done
everything they could to compel all
travelers to go to Ocean City by way of Berlin. They claimed it would bring business to them. It was the fact, and it could be proven, we might be willing to make the supreme sacrifice we have been making for several years. Why
was the tractor used to repair the
stretch of road leading from Friendship Station, all the way around to connect with the Ocean City road?
Well, a blind man could answer
that. We are not jealous of our neighbors for getting that, but we would like to have some of the principle of Equal Rights to All extended to include us. We know that we are looked upon as an ignorant
bunch over here, yet we are intelligent enough to be able to distinguish a lemon from a rose when either one or the other is handed to us—A User of the Road.

SIDELIGHTS OF CONVENTION.

Auditorium, San Francisco.—
Among the male delegates are sprinkled those who are fast asleep.
One man snored in the Pennsylvania
pew, indicating a clear conscience
and no fear of a change of heart.
There isn't a woman in the convention who will admit the slightest drowsiness.

Mrs. Frank Dumas, of Oklahoma, sits on the platform. No one knows
why. "She has no right there," said
the sergeant-at-arms, "but she smiled
at me so sweetly, and every day she has such a pretty hat on."

Every time Cox loses a vote the McAdoo faction inside upon yelling:
"Good night! Good night! Good night!"
The women in the audience each said, "With it, Lord Star," and they stay.

"It's very much," said Mrs. Frank Graham of Chicago, "like a man giving his wife money. She comes and coaxes and then gets a little, but not enough to do her any good."

"Most of them lose their heads around here," said Senator James Hamilton, Wis., at the close of the day's session, smilingly looking under the seats and through the press section. "I've lost my hat" and he tatted the arm of a lovely lady from Kentucky, who said after he passed:
"He's a dear, but, you know, nobody with whiskers could be elected to anything these days. I wonder why he does not take them off."

"He can't, they grow on him," said
another woman. "It would be like painting the lily taking Jim Ham's whiskers away. He'd die. He's lived with them so long," said a delegate from Illinois, and the Kentucky lady hurled away in the crowd.
It was quite a while before J. Ham found his beard.

Mrs. Lula May Berry, delegate from Trenton, Mo., to the Democratic Convention, Monday cast the one and only vote thus far tendered General Perishing.
"This being a Fourth of July holiday," Mrs. Berry explained, "I thought it was fitting that this little tribute be paid to the man who led our forces to victory in France."

NO LITTLE RED SCHOOL.

Charleston, W. Va.—Red or yellow school houses are banned in West Virginia. The State Department of Education has issued orders that red must not be used any more. Satisfactory colors are as follows: White trimmed in buff or cream, white trimmed in green, lead or gray trimmed in white.

KILLED SIRE AND STEPFATHER.

Girl, 16, Exonerated in First Case, Sentenced in Second.
St. Louis.—Ursula Broderick, 16 years old, exonerated of killing her father in 1919, was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary for the killing of her stepfather, Joseph Woodcock,
in April, 1919. She died, notes of appeal and was released on $10,000 bail.
She has maintained she shot Woodcock
in defense of her honor.

Revelation of Character.

It is in the revelation of security:
It is in the expansion of prosperity;
It is in the hour of the clamor of the heart, and of its softening into festivity and pleasure, that the real character of men is discerned.—Burke.

Winged Expresses.

Blue rock pigeons fly from 25 to 30 miles an hour. Pigeons at their best cover about 33 miles an hour, and partridges from 20 to 24 miles an hour. Carrier pigeons have been found to do as much at 60 miles an hour.

brought $502,000.

Wanted—Eggs, in exchange for subscriptions to the ADVANCE.

If your subscription is not paid
up to date, please call and settle the bill as soon as possible, as we need the money. Or we can use trade of almost any kind the same as cash. Almost every other newspaper has raised its subscription
price in these days of the High Cost of Everything. The ADVANCE is still only $1, except to subscribers 300 miles or more away, and it should be paid promptly.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY

This remedy is certain to be needed
in many homes before the summer is over. Buy it now and be prepared. It is recognized as a most reliable remedy
for bowel complaints, and may be obtained at any drug store.

CITIZENS OF BERLIN.

BEGINNING
Wednesday, July 14th, at 1 P. M.,

For the convenience of those who have Electric Irons and Vacuum Cleaners, the power will be on for this purpose
this service will continue Wednesday.

Clean = Up = Day.

The second Tuesday of each month is THE DAY. Make preparations to gather up all your tin cans and rubbish of all kinds that you cannot burn, put it in receptacles of some kind, place them on the curb in front of your residence and same will be gathered up and carted away.
We are your servants and will strive in every way to serve you and the best interests of our city, but we must have your co-operation, and if you are a loyal citizen we feel we will get this co-operation without any further solicitation on our part—so BE A BOOSTER and not a kicker, and let's have the cleanest, the prettiest and the best town on the shore.

SPECIAL TO MERCHANTS—Do not forget you have a duty to perform as well as the residents. You should keep the front and rear of your stores as neat as you do the inside. DO NOT dump your trash on the streets and let it be blown about. Be loyal enough to burn your paper in a wire receptacle to prevent the ashes from blowing on your neighbor's lot. Don't block the pavement unnecessarily. Let's apply the GOLDEN RULE—"Do unto your neighbor as you would have him do unto you."

Mayor & Council of Berlin.

LESSON FOR JULY 11

JONATHAN BEFRIENDS DAVID.

LESSON TEXT—1 Sam. 20.
GOLDEN TEXT—A friend loveth at all times; and a brother is born for adversity.—Prov. 17:17.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—1 Sam. 18:14, 17-20; 19:1-24.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Story of Two Friends.
JUNIOR TOPIC—David and His Friend.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Friendships That Are Worth While.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Friendship: What It Is and What It Does.

The friendship between Jonathan and David is peculiar in that it occurred between two men of rival worldly interests. Jonathan was the crown prince, the heir to the throne. David was the heir according to divine choice and arrangement. Jonathan knew this and magnanimously yielded his natural personal rights to the one whom he knew that God had chosen.

Following the interview of Saul and David after the victory over Goliath, Jonathan's soul was knit with that of David. He loved him as his own soul. While there was mutual love, yet this pleasing trait stands out more in Jonathan than in David, because it meant great loss to him—the loss of the throne, but immense gain to David—the acquisition of the throne to which he had no natural right. The genuine friendship was shown:

I. By Giving to David His Court Robe and Equipment (18:4).

These belonged to Jonathan as the crown prince. Following the love-covenant between them (18:3) Jonathan stripped himself of these and gave them to David. This act was virtual abdication in favor of David. "Love seeketh not her own" (1 Cor. 13:5).

II. By Defending David Against the Frenzy of Saul (1 Sam. 19:1-6).

According to oriental custom, the women met David and his soldiers as they were returning from their victory over the Philistines, and with singing and dancing they ascribed more praise to David than to Saul. This stirred up the murderous envy of Saul and moved him to three attempts to kill David. In his third attempt Jonathan defended David before his father and evoked from him the oath that David should not be slain (19:3). Thus he exposed himself to the anger of his infuriated father, for David's sake. When one is willing to lay down his life for another he proves that his friendship is real. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends" (John 15:13).

Murderous Intent (1 Sam. 20:30-40). The beginning of a new year was celebrated by sacrifices and feasting, at which all the members of the family were expected to be present (v. 5). David's excuse for absence was to go home to attend the yearly sacrifice of the entire family. This annual feast was more important than the monthly feast.

Matters were now so serious that they renewed the covenant between themselves. In its renewal the terms were projected beyond the life of Jonathan (vv. 14, 15). Saul's anger was now so fierce that for Jonathan to be found in company with David was a dangerous thing, so he cleverly plans to give David a sign by which he could know Saul's purpose. We prove our friendship by warning those who are exposed to danger. David's heart responded to Jonathan's love by pledging himself to deal faithfully with Jonathan and his seed forever. Later history proves that this was faithfully carried out (II Sam. 9:7, 8).

Some Observations on Friendship:

1. Friendships should be made while the parties are young—while the hearts are capable of being knit together.

2. Real friends are few; therefore be careful in the formation of the ties of friendship. Friends should be selected. We should love everybody, but we can have but few friends.

3. There should be some variations in the temperaments in those who would be friends. Friendships should be formed for the purpose of mutually helping each other. Both parties, however, must possess real merit.

4. Both parties must be God-fearing. David and Jonathan both recognized their obligation to the Lord and that his help was essential to the welfare of both. Without a deep religious life there can be no friendship. There are times when one party must absolutely renounce his interests in behalf of the other. Genuine love is the basis of all friendship.

Good Impulse.

Few good impulses live long unless they are put to work.

The Glory of Life.

To do the things that can't be done is the glory of life.

Greatest Losses.

The greatest losses are the losses we never observe.

Being Rich or Poor.

We are as rich or as poor as our minds make us.

Character.

Character is a growth from the soil of purpose.

Where He Shows.

Chester was slow to wit, but he appreciated the aptness of speech in one of his playmates, evidently, for when asked why he was anxious to be in Jack's company so much he replied, "Oh, everything he says has a kick in it."

Let's Do It Hers.

In Finland, lawyers, before they can secure government employment, must serve as policemen for the purpose of gaining practical experience.

Why Not Now?

By REV. W. W. KETCHUM

Director of the Evening Classes,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

TEXT—Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.—II Cor. 6:2.

You expect to become a Christian some day, well then, why not now? Do you delay because you feel that there is time enough? Do not be deceived by this suggestion of Satan, who would have all people put off their decision to become Christians until it is too late.

When I was a boy in grammar school, we used to have a principal who every day or so would enter the schoolroom, and slowly passing through it, say in measured tones, "Procrastination is the thief of time." Then quietly, without another word, he would pass out. His purpose was to impress upon his boys and girls that they should put off till tomorrow, or from day to day, that which should be done at once. It seems to me that in our text God is in effect saying the same thing, when he tells us, "Now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation."

"No Promise of Tomorrow."

One time while being driven in the country to minister at the funeral of a man who had died very suddenly, I was surprised at the wisdom shown by the wayward young man who was conveying me. There was a lull in the conversation. Then suddenly he broke forth with this startling fact: "You know, we have no promise of a tomorrow." What truth there is in that statement! "No promise of a tomorrow," and yet, how heedless we are of the fact that so suddenly we may be called to account for that which is of such moment to us, actually gambling with time and with our souls as the stake. No promise of a tomorrow is what God is saying in the words of our text.

Again, are you putting off your decision to become a Christian, because you feel that you want first to have a good time?

What a specious argument that is, and how Satan does use it, especially to deceive young people. He would try to make them believe that they may go on to all the good things which become Christians; but that is not so. There is no such thing as a free lunch. To become a Christian, to be sure, there are things that are bad and harmful that must be given up, and these the Devil encourages to make them look good to people. He succeeds surprisingly well, for folks are easily fooled by the enemy of human souls and often they do not awaken to the fact that they have been deceived until it is too late.

What we need to do is to estimate the real value of things. Who that is wise would buy glass jewels for diamonds, or accept fool's gold for the genuine? If we scrape beneath the tinsel with which Satan covers things that are bad, to make them look good, and if we carefully weigh everything he offers us in the balances of eternity, we shall discover their worthlessness; everything he offers, though it give pleasure for a season, "at last," as Solomon said of the vine-leaf, "it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."

Christ on the other hand offers all that is good and worthwhile in this life and the life to come. The really good times are for the Christian, and if any one on earth can enjoy himself, it is the person whose life has been enlarged by the coming into it of Christ. He it is who not only gives life, but gives it abundantly. This is true in this life, because Christ enlarges a person's capacity for enjoyment.

We frankly admit that there are restrictions and limitations for the Christian; but he who says that there are restrictions and limitations of real life is false. The things that must be cut off are those that make for death. The surgeon's knife cuts out a cancer, but a cancer makes for death; and so do those things that the person who would be a Christian, must cut out of his life. The very cutting out for the real pleasure of life. It is not a mean thing to choose the pleasures of sin for a season, and then, when the candle of life has almost burned itself out, fling ourselves upon God's mercy? To such who so choose, expecting to become Christians when they are about to die, that they may thereby escape hell and gain heaven, God holds out no promise of salvation. That people are saved at the last moment of life, as was the thief on the cross, we know; but who dare say that those who choose to refuse the salvation God offers now shall ever have another proffer of mercy?

There is a time, we know not when; a place, we know not where; that seals the destiny of man. For glory or despair.

"Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation."

Radio Telephoning.

The first experiment in long distance radio telephoning was made in 1914, the attempt being after many efforts in successful transmission of speech from Washington to Paris and San Francisco.

Alarm Wrist Watch.

With an alarm wrist watch is supplied an electric battery to awaken a sleeper at a designated time by sending a current through and warming a strip of metal on his arm.

WHY

It Is Dangerous to Carry Matches Into Garage

The West Virginia miner who blew himself and family to pieces and tore out one end of his home when he carelessly threw some damp powder into his fireplace to see if it was any good was not much more of a fool than the man who groves around his garage with matches. One feels just as familiar with the matches as the other did with the powder, but fire and explosives are a bad combination under any circumstances. You may think you know how to handle both without danger, but as soon as you talk carelessness with them the results are almost sure to be fatal.

The material has no more right to carry lighted matches in his garage than he would in a powder mill. The destructive potentialities of both are about the same, and under the right conditions the open flame is as dangerous in one place as the other. If your garage is not wired for electric lights, the first investment you should make is to put them in. They are very important in keeping the garage warm in winter, because the latter will merely do the car harm, whereas lack of electric lights will cause you to use matches and that is pretty sure to mean bodily harm to yourself and the rest of the family; perhaps not today or tomorrow, perhaps the very next time you do it.

At no time is the danger greater than in winter when the garage is kept snugly closed and the dangerous vapors of gasoline and kerosene have no chance to escape harmlessly into the great outdoors.

But, if you are contemplating suicide, this will no doubt prove valuable. "Auto Motor Life Magazine," which aims to be helpful in every way possible.

ARE TYRANTS OF THE WILD

Why the Destruction of Fur-Bearing Animals Is Less Cruel Than It Appears

While the fashions for furs is as imperious as it is now there will be scant reason for saying or writing anything to encourage their wearers. Inclination will be so strong that it will override every consideration except inability to buy them. The exceptions will only put the rule to the test without weakening it.

But many persons with kind hearts and much sympathy for the lower animals may find comfort, none the less, in knowing the greater part of the fur most sought and most valued comes from creatures that are themselves extremely destructive and deadly to other forms of animal life. The fur-traders, as a rule, are fierce slayers of weaker or less courageous and formidable beasts and birds.

How New Photos Are Made.

A snapshot is a photograph taken by a camera that has a lens that is permanently open and a shutter that opens and closes in a fraction of a second. The machine takes your picture develops it, prints it and delivers it in the space of four minutes. This is how it does it. You sit before the machine and drop in your coin. A bell rings and the machine begins to operate. "Now, then, turn your head,

please, to the right; look at the little cross above the mirror, and smile." A second warning bell rings, and a new notice appears: "Keep still, please." It says, and you obey. The click of the shutter and the extinguishing of the light inform you that the exposure has been made, but, lest there should be any mistake, a third notice appears,

with the following message: "Thank you, the sitting is over, and you can rise from your seat. In four minutes

your portrait will be delivered at the bottom of the apparatus." The picture arrives punctually to the second, and if it is not like you that is your fault.

The invention is a French one.

Why Tin House Is Probable.

The sound-proof telephone booth is a rarity, but it has been discovered

that any booth can be made absolutely

sound proof if it is lined with tin.

The new idea is applicable in other places where it is desirable to exclude

needless sounds, says the Golden Age.

One or two layers of tin or aluminum

in partitions or between floors are equally effective in shutting out the noise of the neighbor's daughter's piano or the music of the ragtime phonograph in the flat above. Finally quarrels can be conducted without risk of the neighbors' listening, the dog can bark to his heart's content

and the head of the house can indulge

in a man's prerogative of relieving

himself with unseemly vocal sounds.

The tin-lined house would be fire proof or fire resisting. If the tin manufacturers can be waked up to the new field for sale of their products and the architects roused to the desirability of getting inexpensive

sound-proof effects, the era of the tin

house may become a reality.

How to Clean Varnished Paper.

Many kitchens and bathrooms are papered in varnished paper. When soiled this paper can be cleaned and made to look like new if this method

is followed: To half a bucketful of water add two tablespoonfuls ammonia. Wash the walls down with this. Then take half a bucketful of clear water and add half a tablespoonful of turpentine. Wash the walls a second time with this, and

afterward wipe them as dry as possible. You will find that the paper

has a brilliant polish and looks like new.

Lines to Be Remembered.

No man ever stated his griefs as lightly as the night. For it is only the dark that has wrought and suffered; the infinite lies stretched in shining repose.—Emerson.

Sincerity and Intelligence.

it must lead to sincerity.—Chinese

EMBARGO PUT ON COAL TO EUROPE

Order of I. C. C. Affects All Ports
From Charleston to Canadian Limit

NEW PRIORITY RULINGS.

New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore to Be Included—1400 Cars of Fuel in Yards Said to Be Proficient.

New York—A virtual embargo upon the shipment of coal to Europe or any other part of the globe from North Atlantic ports of the United States went into effect in order that New England's threatened industries and utilities might receive priority in the matter of fuel shipments. The order, which was determined upon by the Interstate Commerce Commission at a meeting in Washington on June 19, was made public at the office of J. W. Howe, commissioner, at the Tidewater Coal Exchange.

Similar priorities, it is understood, will be in effect for New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, where transportation companies and other public utilities are feeling the pinch most keenly. Lack of cars rather than lack of coal is at the bottom of the shortage.

Under a right interpretation of the order, no ship in a port from Charleston north to the Canadian border could obtain even bunker coal to take her to Halifax or some other nearby port in the United States, but it is unlikely that the order will be carried out so strictly. Commissioner Howe, as the representative of the Interstate Commerce Commission here and in Philadelphia and Baltimore, is entrusted with the issuance of permits for shipments to ports and is directed to issue such permit "only upon a showing that the destination of the water movement of such coal is a United States coastwise point, or, if otherwise, that the preference and priority hereby directed (to New England) will not be impeded thereby, and in any event that the shipper or consignee will be able to unload such coal at the port of transshipment without delay to the rail equipment." Other commissioners in Newport News, Norfolk and Charleston have similar orders.

While it was being decided to prevent the use of many badly needed cars for transportation of coal destined for Europe, a big get-together meeting was held here between representatives of railroads, the chamber of commerce, and other public utilities and the Public Service Commission. The result was an agreement by the railroads to do everything possible to get coal to the city, and by the public utilities to stand together and not to hoard coal in their own plants.

The embargo upon coal shipments to Europe will have a marked effect upon shipping, for not only are many large-owned vessels bunkering here for return trips, but great numbers of American and foreign vessels are carrying nothing but coal to European ports. It is said that 80 per cent of the ships allocated by the United States Shipping Board to steamship companies are under contract to carry coal cargoes. The production of coal in England is reported to be about one-third the normal, and in consequence not only that country but much of Europe looks to the United States for coal. Coal production here is estimated at 60 per cent of normal, but stringency of freight cars has made the shortage much more marked.

By its order the commission makes no mention of the coal shortage, but bases its action upon a "shortage" of equipment and congestion of traffic, aggravated by unfavorable labor conditions which continue to exist upon the lines of common carriers.

Another reason for the coal shortage here was uncovered by Alfred M. Barrett, acting Public Service Commissioner, who said he had received reports that more than 1,400 cars of coal were tied up in New Jersey and Staten Island, and that some of this fuel was probably being held for a higher market. He stated it was extremely difficult to establish a clean cut case of coal profiteering which would warrant summary action, but added that investigation would be continued.

MADE RECORD HE WAS AFTER

Remarkable Performance of Engineer on Hannibal and St. Joseph Line Many Years Ago.

The first fast mail on a railway west of the Mississippi was run over the Hannibal and St. Joseph line, a northern Missouri railroad between Hannibal on the Mississippi and St. Joseph on the Missouri. This road was completed more than 60 years ago, and in April a fast mail run was made. The mails were then carried overland from St. Joseph to Sacramento, and in order to get a government contract it was necessary to establish a new record for speed. The locomotive was a crude affair, burning wood, the rails were light, and the track was not ballasted. Add Clark was the engineer, and his instructions were to make a record that would stand for 50 years. Moreover, he came near doing it—in fact, he did it, so far as that particular railway was concerned. The distance from Hannibal to St. Joseph is 206 miles, and the fast mail covered the route in a few seconds over four hours, or at the rate of 50 miles an hour for the run. This included two stops for fuel, but these were brief, for small armies of men were waiting, each with an armful of wood.

In Common Things.

A man must love himself near at hand and in common things, and be content with a steady and moderate return, if he would know the blessedness of a cheerful heart and the sweetness of a walk over the round earth.—John Burroughs.

Horrible Fate of Old Father Hubbard.

Old Father Hubbard went to the cupboard to get him a bottle of beer. But when he got there the cupboard was bare. Alas! Prohibition was there.

He went to the shop for a bottle of gin. But when he got there he couldn't get in.

He ordered some whiskey—for use scientific!

They sent him wood spirits; the smell was terrific!

He went to a Vet to prescribe for a calf; Some brandy would do—say a pint and a half.

He found on return the Vet played him false; The bottle contained only water and salts.

He went to the doctor for sum for a boil, But Doc. prescribed sulphur and sweet castor oil.

He went to a druggist without a prescription. So he couldn't get liquor of any description.

He bought a blind pig as his only resort; But when it was raided he landed in court.

He went to the farm out at Guelph for a rest, He thought, when released, prohibition was best.

He's glad to be freed from King Alcohol's power, So now he goes thirsty, or drinks lemon sour.

—Exchange.

Patty's Faith.

"The young lions do lack and suffer hunger; but they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing."—Psa. 34:10.

Down at the foot of the long, high mountains, in a little bit of a home, lived the Widow Dunn with her three children. But it was a home, however small; it was to them quite a beautiful place. But now there had been such a long winter it seemed dreary enough.

A day came in early March that had a breath of south wind at last, and the three watched the long icicles hanging from the eaves, and saw the water drip with great joy.

Then Mrs. Dunn told Patty she might put on her boots and shawl and go down to Mr. Brown's for some quilt work. Patty was a girl of ten, and the run of her little was pure fun to her, and so was the play of an hour that she had leave to stay; then she put on her things again.

"Here is your spearmint, Patty," said good Mrs. Brown; "and here, put these fine doughnuts in your pocket. I've just fried them, and Bessie and Fred will like them," for the good neighbor knew how very poor they were at the widow's.

"Better hurry up, Patty; there's a storm coming," said Mr. Brown, meeting her at the door; and if Patty had only heeded, all would have been well, but the barn was by the road, and there Patty stopped a long time to watch the "cutest" little calf playing with its mother, so that when she was really off, the air was full of scudding snow and the wind roared over the mountains like a hundred lions, poor Patty thought. But, thoroughly frightened, she only thought of home, and ran on and on over the hills, quite blinded by the snow and falling often, until a gust, more fearful than any before, carried her far out of her way and threw her against a fence. It was growing dark, too, and every minute the wind roared louder. She staggered a little farther, then she was carried on again until she struck against something softer than a stone wall, and she knew nothing more for a long time.

When at last she roused up, the noise did not seem so loud; but when she put out one hand it struck into the soft snow, but the other felt something warm and soft. For a long time Patty was too frightened to think. At last it came to her that her poor little self and a sheep were buried together in the snow, and she put her head on her woolly friend and cried enough tears to have quite melted a small snow bank and sent her to sleep.

When she awoke she was stiff and hungry, though not cold; but she did not cry. Instead, she thought of a verse her mother often said: "They that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing."

"We will trust him, won't we, sheepie?" she said, and turning, her hand hit the pocket and the doughnuts. "He does care for us, sheepie, He does!" she exclaimed, as she bit the precious gift.

But oh, how many times poor Patty had to say over her verse in

GOVERNMENT DESIGNS PEACH SIZER

Peach Sizing Machine—Fruit Can Be Carried Along by Conveyors Which Are Adjusted to Carry the Largest Fruit to the End, Whence It Drops into the Apron in the Foreground.

This year a part of the peach crop may be better graded at less expense than heretofore by use of a new sizer developed by government workers. Two machines were built last year and tested under commercial conditions at Leesburg, Va., and Mayfield, Ga. Information gained through these tests was used in perfecting the present machine, drawings of which are now available to all growers or manufacturers interested, according to an announcement by the bureau of markets.

The machine has several unique features and advantages over existing types of sizers which make it possible to handle fruit with less bruising, while its construction permits 10 to 15 packers to work at one time, thus making possible a run of two to three car loads of peaches a day from each machine, the amount depending on the average quality of the fruit. The overall dimensions of the machine are 2x15 feet. It requires an electric motor of less than one horsepower capacity, or a small gas engine, to operate it, and it can be run at half capacity if desired. Under commercial conditions it should be sold at a price not to exceed $150, according to estimates of the designers.

How It Works.

The peaches from the orchard are delivered on an inclined roller conveyor, on each side of which sorters stand and pick out culms and damaged fruit. The rotation of the peaches on this conveyor, which is obtained without building, enables the sorters to see the entire surface of the fruit without touching it. From this roller conveyor the peaches are carried to a series of rollers which are adjusted to a simple turn of a handle. The rollers are adjusted to grade the fruit by its size. It is intended to grade the peaches into sizes of 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

GIVE HOME GARDENS
BEST OF ATTENTION

Don't Put Away Rake and Hoe
Too Early in Season.

Surface of Soil Should Be Lightly Stirred and Kept Mellow—Finally Sifted Manure Scattered Over Seeds Is Excellent.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Here is a message for the tillers of the thousands of home gardens already planted in cities and the smaller towns, and other thousands in process of being planted. Let every gardener remember that his work of food production is only begun. Many amateurs make the mistake of putting away the rake and hoe as soon as they have the seeds in the ground. The surface of the ground should be lightly stirred with a rake and kept mellow before the seeds come up. Often a week or so of extremely dry weather comes after garden planting. This is liable to cause many of the smaller seeds to fail to germinate, or, if they germinate, they may not have enough moisture to keep them alive.

There are two or three ways of preventing loss. One is to use the sprinkling can and keep the surface lightly watered until the seeds are up. Another is to lay a board directly over the row of seeds until they appear and are not too ready to come through the ground. It does not do, however, to leave the boards over the row too long, as the little seedlings on coming up against the boards will be bent out of shape and weakened. Still another method is to scatter a little fine, sifted manure. Here, also, care must be taken that the covering is not too heavy, or the seedlings will be injured when they come through the ground.

A steel rake is one of the best tools for cultivating the garden, because it loosens the top inch or two of the soil. Before the plants are up, break the surface over so gently over the rows with the rake. After the plants appear, use the rake frequently along each side of the row to keep the soil loose and mellow.

AVOID OVERCROWDING CHICKS

One of Leading Causes of Range Losses During Summer Months—
Fresh Air Is Needed.

During the hot summer months the greater part of the trouble experienced on poultry plants is found on the ranges where the growing stock is kept. According to the poultry department of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station one of the leading causes of range losses during the summer is the overcrowding of the birds. There should be a sufficient number of colony houses to accommodate the birds. The colony houses are used by the young birds at night, and if they are forced to crowd together, serious results will occur. Chicks need a large amount of fresh air in order to keep growing constantly. If crowded at night they are forced to breathe the same air time after time, a condition which results in stunted growth and invites disease. Colony houses with from 50 to 75 birds in each provide much better conditions than in cases where hundreds of birds are kept in a single house. If several unoccupied, stunted birds are found on the ranges, look first to the colony houses at night. They are probably overcrowded.

ELIMINATION OF ANT HILLS

Effective Plan Is to Punch Holes in Mounds and Apply Carbon Bisulphide on Cotton.

Ant hills may be eliminated by punching holes in them and placing cotton, which has been wet with carbon bisulphide, in them. The fumes of this material penetrate the hills and kill the ants. Keep the material away from an open flame as it is very explosive.

INFERTILE EGGS KEEP BEST

Under Normal Conditions They May Be Stored for Period of Four to Five Weeks.

Infertile eggs will keep under normal conditions at a temperature of 50 to 55 degrees for a period of four or five weeks, while on the other hand fertile eggs often become unfit for table use in only a few days.

Protect the Song Birds.

Song birds may be protected from cats by winding four or five strands of barbed wire around the tree trunks. Cats have a great dislike for barbed wire and will not cross it. The wire will not harm the trees and can be removed when the birds leave.

ARMORED CARS IN DUELS.

Reign of Terror More Serious As Military Remains Inactive—Fighting in Progress in Country Districts—Many Injured.

London.—One hundred persons were killed or wounded in the fighting in Londonderry, Ireland, according to semi-official information, and terrible fighting is still in progress.

A strong army of Sinn Feiners is making steady headway on the center of the town.

This latest news has sent grave alarm through government circles. Premier Lloyd George conferred with Sir Nevill Macready and others, not only on the Londonderry situation, but on the general paralysis that is creeping over the rest of Ireland as the result of the continued refusal of the railwaymen to transport troops, police or supplies for the army of occupation.

The government announced in the House of Commons that 1,500 soldiers and 150 police are now in Londonderry and that "we are prepared to send more."

500 Create Reign of Terror.

Londonderry.—The outside world has little idea of the reign of terror Londonderry has been experiencing without respite for a week. The casualty figures from day to day are alarming enough, but they picture only the shadow of the grim reality. The truth is, none of the 40,000 inhabitants has been safe since the rioting began.

The city is virtually controlled by extremists of the Unionists and Nationalists, who probably number under 500. They fire volleys down the streets without warning and apparently without reason, and the citizens are thus put in a state of continuous panic, rallying forth only when the procurement of food becomes absolutely necessary. Many shopkeepers have suspended business and have taken refuge on the top floors of their business premises for safety.

Men who are compelled to be in their offices sleep there rather than risk stepping into the streets. The post office force has been reduced to a mere handful and the postmaster is being petitioned by many of the workers for relief from duty until the trouble subsides.

The military so far has confined its efforts to keeping the two sides apart, and not to restoring order. The military is not yet ready to take the city, however, comes when he is held up by either the Sinn Feiners or the Unionists. With hands in the air, staring into the muzzle of a revolver, he is thoroughly searched. Some have come out of this examination rather badly.

Each morning the engagement of the night before is resumed. Heavy barricades have been thrown up and groups of armed men go from one place to another, either on the offensive or defensive. How many persons have been killed is not known now. After the first day or two it became impossible to figure on the victims, as the dead are removed, and many of the injured are treated by their comrades and carried away.

In addition to the erection of barricades, trenches have been dug in some of the streets within the battle zone. A special train carrying two companies of soldiers arrived at the Great Northern Railway station. The county inspector announced that a detachment of soldiers was leaving Belfast for Londonderry.

As many persons are as finding it possible to do so are leaving Londonderry.

Scenes Set for Visitors.

In the little Barbary coast town of Biskra the Moorish coffee houses with Arab customers and Turkish atmosphere seem like set scenes in a stage production, while the far-famed dancing girls obviously exhibit their skill for the pleasure of the foreigners alone. Without the foreign visitor Biskra would be an ordinary oasis town on the edge of the desert.

Since Robert Hichens' "Garden of Allah" was written with Biskra as the background, many people have come to visit the scene of the story. Others come on doctor's orders, for the climate is said to be beneficial to rheumatism and other diseases. Others come merely to see the sights, which are widely advertised.

Dance to Attract Mate.

On some of the islands of the Pacific, in tropical South America, is found the beautiful bird known as the jacana. It is famous for its so-called love dances, which appear to be executed by the male to excite the admiration of the female birds. When the mating season approaches the jacana will sing out its favorite lady and try to win her admiration with all its bewitching maneuvers. In the dance the wings are spread and worked in such a manner that the beautiful colored feathers produce a brilliant effect.

Romans and the Dog-Star.

To Eippocrates and Pliny we owe the pleasing affirmation that July 3 is the day when dogs begin to go mad, the sea boils, wine turns sour, the bile increases and becomes obnoxious and all animals show symptoms of lassitude. Human beings are peculiarly susceptible today to "phrenias," hysteria and fever.

TWENTIETH CENTURY HASH.

Have six medium-sized potatoes baked. With a spoon carefully remove the insides, leaving the rest of the skin unbroken. Season the potato with one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of cream, salt, pepper to taste, stirring lightly with a fork; do not mash the potato. Add one cupful of any kind of chopped beef that has been moistened with gravy, stock and Worcestershire sauce. Fill the skins with this mixture, letting it rise a little above the top. Put a piece of butter on each and heat in the oven. Grated cheese may be used instead of the meat.

Surprise Biscuits.—Make a biscuit dough as soft as can be handled, put it lightly, roll into a thin sheet, and cut with a biscuit cutter. Have ready one cupful of well-seasoned meat that has been moistened with gravy, stock or milk. Form into sandwiches by spreading the meat lightly on half of the biscuits and cover with the other half, pressing them together at the edges. Bake twenty minutes in a hot oven. This recipe will make nine sandwiches. Pour over a brown gravy and serve hot.

Minced Beef With Potato Border.—To two cupfuls of well seasoned mashed potato add the yolks of two eggs. Beat until light and creamy. Form this mixture into a border on a chop plate or flat baking dish. Score the top. Season two cupfuls of any kind of cold chopped beef with a teaspoonful of onion juice, one teaspoonful of minced parsley and salt and pepper to taste. Add enough stock to moisten well, place the meat inside the border and brown lightly in a hot oven.

Roast Beef, Mexican Sauce.—Roast slices of cold roast beef, cut very thin, in the following: Cook one onion finely chopped in two tablespoonfuls of butter five minutes. Add one red pepper, one green pepper and one clove of garlic, each finely chopped; add two tomatoes or the same bulk canned. Cook fifteen minutes, add one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, celery salt and sugar to taste.

Both will be greatly appreciated.

Patriotic sermons were preached Sunday in honor of the Fourth of July, and many homes and automobiles were decorated with the national colors. There were many visitors in town, and others who went out of town for the occasion. Berlin was practically deserted on Monday, nearly every business place being closed, and our people joining the crowds at Ocean City, or enjoying the holiday elsewhere. Both days the weather was ideal.

I only took two or three doses, but they did the work."

Turner—Mumford.

A wedding of much interest occurred last Saturday afternoon, July 3rd, at Wilmington, when two of our well known young people, Floyd B. Turner and Maude Virginia Mumford, playmates and friends from childhood, were joined in holy matrimony by their former much-loved pastor, Rev. W. Ernest Greenfield. The wedding occurred at the parsonage of Brandywine M. E. Church, at 5.30 p. m., and was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Taylor and Norman, Jr., cousins of the groom.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Baker Mumford, of Bay Street. Mr. Turner is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Turner, also of Bay Street. He was graduated from Buckingham High School, and later took a business course, graduating from Golden College last November next to the highest in a class of 100, and the only one to win two diplomas within twelve months. He now holds a promising position as bookkeeper for the duPont Motors Co., Inc. His firm has given him a two-weeks' vacation, which the young people are spending here with their parents, and with relatives at Ocean City.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner will be at home after their return at 1925 Jefferson Street, Wilmington, where they have taken apartments. The most cordial good wishes of a host of friends follow them in their new life.

Snyder—Robinson.

A quiet, pretty wedding took place at Mrs. Amy Louise Capp's residence, 349 W. Duval Street, Germantown, Philadelphia, Thursday evening, May 20th, 1920, when George R. Snyder and Miss Lillian Fairchild Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Annie Mott Robinson, of Brooklyn, were united in marriage by Magistrate Robert Carson. They were attended by Miss Ada Louise Pyle, of New York, and Miss Anna Pyle, of N. E. Boulevard, Philadelphia. Mrs. Capp played the wedding march. After the wedding a large number of guests were entertained at a banquet.

The bride is a Doctor of Chiropractic. She is a graduate of the Girls' High School of Brooklyn and the New York College of Chiropractic, New York City, having an extensive practice in Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Snyder has known her for many years, also her family, who are direct descendants of the well-known Mott family of Quakers on the maternal side, and the Windsor Robinson family of London on the paternal side.

Pruitt—Birch.

Married, at the home of the bride, on June 20th, Rev. E. P. Thomas officiating, Miss Esther Birch and George Pruitt. A number of friends gathered for the happy occasion, and a splendid supper was enjoyed by all. Their future home will be Synepuxent, where both are very popular citizens. Mr. Pruitt is a son of William Pruitt.

MOVES TO CRUSH IRISH REVOLT

Polley of Wholesale Arrests and Imprisonment Without Trial
to Be Extended.

SOLDIERS HELP ORANGEMEN

Carson Prepared for War if Government Fails—Declares He Will "Organize for Defense" Unless London Shows It Can Handle Situation.

London.—Premier Lloyd George had a further conference with Chief Secretary Greenwood, when extremely drastic measures in Ireland to check the Sinn Féin progress were decided upon. Already wholesale arrests without warrant and imprisonment without trial are being resumed, and it is believed that this policy is to have a wide extension, every Sinn Féin of importance being marked down for capture.

Viceroy French's appeal to Sinn Féin to prevent their demands was devised as a preliminary to these new measures of repression as they knew the government was not yet ready to take the Sinn Féin's demands before the House of Commons.

The prediction of the coming trouble in Belfast, which will reach a climax on July 12, is being fully borne out. Orangemen, as now, always begin these disturbances by smashing
and looting saloons in the Orange district run by Catholics. Until long after the penal times Catholics were not allowed to have any shops in Belfast except public houses, and they still own a large proportion of them. As in Derry, when Sinn Féin reply to Orange attacks, the military and police will fire upon the Sinn Féin.

Sir Edward Carson himself is getting anxious about the spread of the disturbances to Belfast, because he knows that Sinn Féin are, and they are not, to be taken into a Sinn Féin
country as well as in a Sinn Féin country. He is not, however, anxious to affect the Sinn Féin's position in Ireland, but he is anxious to prevent the disturbances from spreading to Belfast.

Robert Lynd, the Daily News
special correspondent in Ireland, says that the government has obviously decided to blockade Ireland by closing down
the railways at Dublin and other places and is preparing for food stoppage in case of a complete stoppage of the railways, and food committees are being organized. In a letter to the Ulster Unionist Council, Sir Edward Carson says if the government cannot carry out the essential duties
of a government, he will not hesitate
on his own responsibility to "organize the people for defense."

A Dublin dispatch to the Daily News says to trace of the place of detention of Brigadier General Lucas has been discovered by the military authorities, but it is stated that the authorities in Cork have received an anonymous intimation that the general is "in safe confinement" and that he will receive the care and respect
due his rank while he is a "prisoner of war."

Newbridge, County Kildare, is the great military center serving Dublin,
the Aldershot of Ireland. For the first time it was thought to dispatch soldiers thence by a train passing from Kilkeny to Dublin. The driver refused to carry them and the soldiers reman-
ed on the train, blocking up the line.

PRICE OF COLLARS CUT.

Reduction Announced by Two Large Manufacturers.
Troy, N. Y.—The price of collars will be reduced to 25 cents each, according to announcement made here by Chase
Peabody & Co. and George P. Ide &
Co., two of the biggest manufacturing plants in the world. The change in price is effective immediately. The collars are now selling for 30 cents
each.

COOLIDGE TO TAKE VACATION.

Cleans Up Work on Return From Washington.
Boston.—Gov. Calvin Coolidge, the Republican candidate for vice president, returned from Washington,
where he had been in conference with Senator Harding and party leaders.
He went to the state house and remained for about an hour attending to mail. He then left for Vermont for a vacation to continue until the notification ceremonies at Northampton on July 27.

SAY IT MAKES REAL BEER.

Federal Dry Officials Open War on Breweries in Wisconsin.
Milwaukee.—With the institution of a suit in equity against the Klink-ert Brewing Company of Racine to close the brewery as a nuisance, the first shot was fired in the Federal war against state brewers for the alleged manufacture of real beer. Federal Judge Gelger issued a temporary injunction restraining the brewery from operation pending a hearing on July 10.

Warning foreign interests not to interfere with the development of the American merchant marine, Chairman Nelson, of the ping Board, declared in Washington that the Board was determined to build up an American merchant marine as contemplated by the Jones Shipping Act, despite threats and propaganda by such interests to defeat

the law.

Edo's rice plant, near Philadelphia, which established a record
during the war in turning out more than a million rice, was closed.
Sales of surplus war materials were placed under the direction of officers
in six "control depots," which have been established at Atlanta, Boston,
New York, Chicago, San Antonio and San Francisco.

Federal prohibition agents in New England seized more than 25,000 gallons of liquor, valued at approximately $1,000,000, in raids conducted since January 1.
The seizure of building material transported by railroads in Hudson county,
N. J., since January 1, was settled.
The men were given a week's increase in wages to work nine hours a day.
Because of lack of business the large mill of the National Spring Silk Company, at New Bedford, Mass., was closed for two weeks.

George Duncan won the British open golf championship at Deal, with a total of 203. Herd was second, with 205 and Jim Barnes, American, was fourth, with 208.

Griffith and Wills, Americans, defended their countryman, Johnston and Giddens, in the British lawn tennis championship tournament at Wimbledon, England. The score was 4-2, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

Walter Johnson, of Washington, pitched the first no-hit no-run game of his big league career of 14 years, defeating Boston 1 to 0.

Frank Moran has been in New York
trying to get on a fight with Fred Pulton, but Harry Wills has beaten him

Joe Beckett.

Since the introduction of open boxing at Atlanta, Ga., the sport is fourishing to a remarkable degree. Many young men attend the glove contests in the Southern city.

Since boxing out of the Southern city, Joe Beckett has regained some of his popularity in England, and he has changed his name to Beckett, and this country.

COX NOMINATED ON 44TH BALLOT

Ohio Governor Wins Fight for the Presidency

FIGHT NARROW TO TWO

Delegates Voted 44-38 For John and Fanny
Of Balloting in Ohio

Auditorium, San Francisco, Cal., James M. Cox, Gov. of Ohio, was nominated for President by the Democratic National Convention on the forty-fourth ballot.

The victory for Cox came at 1:40 o'clock A. M. since 9:30 o'clock Monday morning with the exception of three or four ballots and not taken at all. Cox was nominated by a vote of 44-38.
The thirty-eighth ballot, when McAdoo was holding, had opened NOMINATED BY 44-38 FOR PRESIDENT

and Treasury officials are for their own personal ends and in defiance of Mr. McAdoo's expressed wishes, improperly using his name to create a deadlock in this convention.

Charging that several delegations were packed with Government employees, holding out for the nomination of Mr. McAdoo, Moore's telegram charged that "the action of the payroll brigade is creating a national scandal to the ruin of the Democratic Party."

"They know there is no chance to nominate him," the telegram continued, "but hope to bring about a situation where they can deal off the delegates to some candidate where their jobs will be protected."
Judge Moore expressed the opinion that Mr. McAdoo would not be a party to such a deal and urged that in his own and his party's interest he wire the convention forbidding the use of his name.

Like Country Fair.
While the caucusing was going on the floor of the convention hall took on the aspect of a country fair ground
with a lot of 'dickensian' going on.
Here and there was a speaker on a chair making a stump speech for his favorite candidate with an admiring crowd about him. One speaker would try to draw the other fellow forward
after the manner of a ballyhoop man on a wildcat. Some of the delegates called for order and a start of the balloting.

Some of the McAdoo leaders admitted that Cox might get a majority,
but argued that would not help him,
as they would not weaken and would insist on his getting the necessary
two-thirds by his own efforts and without their help.

At 10:13 o'clock Chairman Robinson decided the convention ought to go back to work. It went into the thirty-ninth ballot with a new enthusiasm. It was like a fresh start forward hour after a long and year-
ing delay at the roadside.

The shifts and changes of the ballot were important. Alabama, first crack out of the box, broke 16 to Davis, taking all of Palmer's and one of McAdoo's for it. Arizona threw her four for Cox back to McAdoo.

Arkansas divided her two for Palmer equally between Cox and Mc-Adoo.

Georgia's 33 went solid for Mc-Adoo, as forecast, and the McAdoo demonstrators got a great noise out of it.

Illinois gave her Palmer two to McAdoo one. Ohio gave her Cox
44-38.

For a while the convention was in a deadlock. Cox appeared in a saccharine and Cox got 23 there.
That was enough to put the Cox parade in motion and it started off with a deafening roar.

The band and organ opened up in the drumming air concerning "Ohio."
The red-coated Cox band marched out in single file spreading itself across the width of the first balcony and let out a crashing din. One of the Cox leaders blared in a full-blooded
gamecock on a standard and paraded
the unhappy bird about the hall.

It was far past the august cockeels' bedtime and he didn't know what the fuss was about anyway,
so he balanced himself first on one foot and then on the other on the lurching standard and used his tail
feathers and wings to keep his position.

While the demonstration for Cox
over the Massachusetts gain was proceeding, Pennsylvania completed its caucus. The agreement was to continue to vote for Palmer on the thirty-ninth ballot, but on the fortieth to split as follows:

A block of Palmer adherents, believing a deadlock between McAdoo and Cox could not be avoided, decided to keep Palmer's name on the ballot
in the hope that the nomination later
might come to him.

Palmer's friends made the point that he had not withdrawn, but had only released his delegates from pledges.

After an 11-minute demonstration
the crowd quieted down and the call of States proceeded where it had been left off.

DETAIL OF THE VOTE ON FORTY-FOURTH BALLOT.

RICH WITH CHARM OF AGE
Old Deerfield, in Massachusetts, One of the Most Interesting of New England Towns.

Descendants of the first families will tell you in all earnestness that the newest house in Old Deerfield is at least one hundred and twenty-five years old. As a matter of fact, this is not a true statement, but it cannot be called "a lie" on the part of the informant, who is a Puritanical New England.

The difference is all in the point of view. For him or for her, the half dozen homes and the one hotel that have been built in the last decade do not exist. He does not see them, but looks right through and sees the landscape as it was before the blot appeared.

Old Deerfield is little changed since the Indians trailed through Massachusetts on their way from Albany to Boston. Relics of many a battle between the white man and his red-skinned foe are to be seen in the little Pocomtucket museum, Deerfield's only public building. Various boulders along Main street and on the Albany road commemorate the many battles fought to push the new frontier westward in these early pioneer days.

For a while the town of Deerfield was almost a ghost town. It was almost a native California.

Return Home.

The splendid motive which
prompted the state Bankers to
make this liberal appropriation will
be appreciated by farmer boys and
girls all over the state. It will not only be an educational trip, but a
pleasure trip long to be remembered,
by over 200 boys and girls.

The first prize winning boys and
girls in club work in Worcester Co.
will be given this trip absolutely
free. The second prize winners
will be given the trip free with the
provision that they pay their expenses
while at the University.

Arrangements have been made to
have an automobile party go from Worcester County. Automobiles
will leave the County early Monday
morning, August 2, going either
by way of Elkton or by the
state ferry from Claiborne to Annapolis; arriving at University
in time for the evening session of
the short-course.

This party of the following boys
and girls will be under the direction
of the County Agent.

Reese Cropper, Berlin; Albert
Dickerson, Paul Stagg, Snow Hill;
John Adkins, Gloucester; Walter
and Edwin Hancock, Stockton;
Fred Bull, Lister Bunting, Pocomoke,
and Grace Coe, Berlin; Francis Adkins, Girdletree Club; Louise
Townsend, second prize Girdletree;
Blanche Reid, Remson Club, winners in canning, poultry and gardening clubs.

Communication.

Taylorville, Md., June, 1920.
Editor Berlin Advance,

Dear Sir:—I have been requested by several of my neighbors
to make a public statement
through your valuable paper, about
the lemon that was handed to us in
the repair work done on the road
leading from Gray's Corner to the Old Brick Church, situated on the stone road leading from Showell, Md.
I will give it in three acts.

First Act: On Monday, June 21st,
a high-powered passenger automobile
was seen coming down the road.
As it approached a hole in the road
it came to a stop. Two gentlemen
alighted, each armed with a shovel.
After surveying the hole they proceeded to the side of the road, dug
up some dirt, and piled it in a heap
in the center of the hole. They did not take the trouble to level it, but
left it in a heap. They then cut a
small trench from the hole to the side of the road. Then they mounted their car and proceeded down the
road, doing the same kind of work
at every hole they came to. End
of First Act, the band plays, "May
the Lord help the taxpayer."

Second Act: Late in the afternoon
the farmers begin to appear in
numbers on the road, hauling straw-
berries to the point of shipment.
They are compelled to mount these
hills with one side of the wagon,
while the other jolts over the trench-
es made for a drain.

Now here is the result: When
they arrive at place of sale, their
berries will bring from one to two
dollars less a crate than the berries
of the man who has had a good road
to haul over. The shaking up they got has given them a dull look, so that they lose in value. End of Second Act, the band plays, "There is hope."

Third Act: Notice from County Commissioners: Owing to the demands made by the road repair men
that they be served with cool
drinks in summer and hot lunches
in cold weather, we will be compelled to establish a bus line to supply their demands. To meet the extra expense we will be compelled
to raise the taxes. The curtain
drops—so does the taxpayer.

We would suggest that a flying
machine be supplied with a dirt
container hanging from it; while
the pilot circled about over the hole
the man beneath could drop the
dirt down into the hole. That
would at least save us from the
trenches.

For the last five years there had
been nothing done to give us a road
fit to drive over. Since the stone
road was built to Showell, the County Commissioners have done
everything they could to compel all
travelers to go to Ocean City by
way of Berlin. They claimed it would bring business to them. If such was the fact, and it could be proven, we might be willing to make
the supreme sacrifices we have been making for several years. Why
was the tractor used to repair the
stretch of road leading from Friend-
ship Station, all the way around to connect with the Ocean City road?
Well, a blind man could answer
that. We are not jealous of our neighbors for getting that, but we would like to have some of the principle of Equal Rights to All extended
to include us. We know that we
are looked upon as an ignorant
bunch over here, yet we are intelligent enough to be able to distinguish
a lemon from a rose when either
one or the other is handed to us—
A User of the Road.

SIDE LIGHTS OF CONVENTION.

Auditorium, San Francisco.—Among the male delegates are sprinkled those who are fast asleep. One man snored in the Pennsylvania pavilion, indicating a clear conscience and no fear of a change of heart. There isn't a woman in the convention who will admit the slightest drowsiness.

Mrs. Frank Dues, of Oklahoma, sits on the platform. No one knows why. "She has no right there," said the sergeant-at-arms, "but she smiled at me so sweetly, and every day she has such a pretty hat on."

Every time Cox loses a vote the McAdoo faction insists upon yelling, "Good night." Texas maneuvering brings women to their feet at each announcement calling, "Oh, you Texas!" "Stay with it, Lone Star," and they stay.

"It's very much," said Mrs. Frank Graham of Chicago, "like a man giving his wife money. She coaxes and coaxes and then gets a little, but not enough to do her any good."

"Most of them lose their heads around here," said Senator James Hamilton Lewis, at the close of the day's session, smilingly looking under the seats and through the press section. "I've lost my hat" and he pointed the arm of a lovely lady from Kentucky, who said after he passed: "He's a dear, but you know, nobody with whiskers could be elected to anything these days. I wonder why he does not take them off."

"He can't, they grow on him," said another woman. "It would be like painting the Hly taking Jim Ham's whiskers away. He'd die. He's lived with them so long," said a delegate from Illinois, and the Kentucky lady hurried away in the crowd.

It was quite a while before J. Ham found his fedora.

Mrs. Lula May Berry, delegate from Tennessee, to the Democratic Convention, Monday cast the one and only vote thus far tendered General Pershing.

"This being a Fourth of July holiday," Mrs. Berry explained, "I thought it was fitting that this little tribute be paid to the man who led our forces to victory in France."

NO LITTLE RED SCHOOL.

Charleston, W. Va.—Red or yellow school houses are banned in West Virginia. The State Department of Education has issued orders that red must not be used any more. Satisfactory colors are as follows: White trimmed in buff or cream, white trimmed in lead or dark gray, white trimmed in green, lead or gray trimmed in white.

KILLED SIRE AND STEPFATHER.

Girl, 16, Exonerated in First Case, Sentenced in Second.
St. Louis.—Urania Broderick, 16 years old, exonerated of killing her father in 1915, was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary for the killing of her stepfather, Joseph Woodcock, in April, 1919. She filed notice of appeal and was released on $10,000 bail. She has maintained she shot Woodcock in defense of her honor.

Revelation of Character.

It is in the relaxation of security; it is in the expansion of prosperity; it is in the hour of the dilation of the heart, and of its softening into festivity and pleasure, that the real character of men is discerned.—Burke.

make this liberal appropriation will
be appreciated by farmer boys and
girls all over the state. It will not only be an educational trip, but a
pleasure trip long to be remembered,
by over 200 boys and girls.

The first prize winning boys and
girls in club work in Worcester Co.
will be given this trip absolutely
free. The second prize winners
will be given the trip free with the
provision that they pay their expenses
while at the University.

Arrangements have been made to
have an automobile party go from Worcester County. Automobiles
will leave the County early Monday
morning, August 2, going either
by way of Elkton or by the
state ferry from Claiborne to Annapolis; arriving at University
in time for the evening session of
the short-course.

This party of the following boys
and girls will be under the direction
of the County Agent.

LESSON FOR JULY 11

JONATHAN BEFRIENDS DAVID.

LESSON TEXT—1 Sam. 20.
GOLDEN TEXT—A friend loveth at all times; and a brother is born for adversity.—Prov. 17:17.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—1 Sam. 18:14, 19:30, 21:1-6.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Story of Two Friends.
JUNIOR TOPIC—David and His Friend.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Friendships That Are Worth While.

The friendship between Jonathan and David is peculiar in that it occurred between two men of rival worldly interests. Jonathan was the crown prince, the heir to the throne. David was the heir according to divine choice and arrangement. Jonathan knew this and magnanimously waived his natural personal rights to the one whom he knew that God had chosen.

Following the interview of Saul and David after the victory over Goliath, Jonathan's soul was knit with that of David. He loved him as his own son. While there was mutual love, yet this pleasing trait stands out more in Jonathan than in David, because it meant great loss to him—the loss of his throne, but immense gain to David—the acquisition of the throne to which he had no natural right. The genuine friendship was shown:

I. By Giving to David His Court Robe and Equipment (18:4).

These belonged to Jonathan as the crown prince. Following the love-covenant between them (18:3) Jonathan stripped himself of these and gave them to David. This act was vital in the life of David. "Love seeketh not her own" (1 Cor. 13:5).

II. By Defending David Against the Wrath of Saul (1 Sam. 19:1-6).

According to oriental custom, the women met David and his soldiers as they were returning from their victory over the Philistines, and with singing and dancing they ascribed more praise to David than to Saul. This act stirred up the envious envy of Saul and moved him to a third attempt to kill David. In his third attempt Jonathan defended David before his father and evoked from him the oath that David should not be slain (19:6). Thus he exposed himself to the anger of his infuriated father, for David's sake. When one is willing to lay down his life for another he proves that his friendship is real. "Greater love hath no man than this that a man lay down his life for his friends" (John 15:13).

III. By Revealing to David Saul's Murders (1 Sam. 20:30-40).

The best friend of a man is one who is willing to reveal to him the things which he is doing. Jonathan was expected to be present (19:5). David's excuse for absence was to go home to attend the yearly sacrifice of the entire family. This annual feast was more important than the monthly feast.

Matters were now so serious that they renewed the covenant between themselves. In its renewal the terms were projected beyond the life of Jonathan (19:14, 15). Saul's anger was now so fierce that for Jonathan to be found in company with David was a dangerous thing, so he cleverly plans to give David a sign by which he could know Saul's purpose. We prove our friendship by warning those who are exposed to danger. David's heart responded to Jonathan's love by pledging himself to deal faithfully with Jonathan and his seed forever. Later history proves that this was faithfully carried out (2 Sam. 9:7, 8).

Some Observations on Friendship:

1. Friendships should be made absolutely between parties who are young—while the hearts are capable of being knit together.

2. Real friends are few; therefore be careful in the formation of the ties of friendship. Friends should be selected. We should love everybody, but we can have but few friends.

3. There should be some variations in the temperaments in those who would be friends. Friendships should be formed for the purpose of mutually helping each other. Both parties, however, must possess real merit.

4. Both parties must be God-fearing. David and Jonathan both recognized their obligation to the Lord and that his help was essential to the welfare of both. Without a deep religious life there can be no friendship. There are times when one party must absolutely renounce his interests in behalf of the other. Genuine love is the basis of all friendship.

Good Impulses.

Few good impulses live long unless they are put to work.

The Glory of Life.

To do the things that can't be done is the glory of life.

Greatest Losses.

The greatest losses are the losses we never observe.

Being Rich or Poor.

We are as rich or as poor as our minds make us.

Character.

Character is a growth from the soil of purpose.

Where He Shows.

Chester was slow in wit, but he appreciated the aptness of speech in one of his playmates, evidently, for when asked why he was anxious to be in "Jack's company" so much he replied, "Oh, everything he says has a kick in it."

Let's Do It Here.

In Finland, lawyers, before they can secure government employment, must serve as policemen for the purpose of gaining practical experience.

Why Not Now?

By REV. W. W. KETCHUM
Director of the Evening Classes,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

TEXT—Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation. II Cor. 6:2.

You expect to become a Christian some day, well then, why not now?

Do you delay because you feel that there is time enough? Do not be deceived by this suggestion of Satan, who would have all people put off their decision to become Christians until it is too late.

When I was a boy in grammar school, we used to have a principal who every day or so would enter the schoolroom, and slowly passing through it, say in measured tones, "Procrastination—this—this—of—time." Then quietly, without another word, he would pass out. His purpose was to impress upon his boys and girls that they should not put off till tomorrow, or from day to day, that which should be done at once. It seems to me that in our text God is effecting the same thing, when he tells us, "Now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation."

"No Promise of Tomorrow." One time while being driven in the country to minister at the funeral of a man who had died very suddenly, I was surprised at the wisdom shown by the wayward young man who was conveying me. There was a lull in the conversation. Then suddenly he broke forth with this startling fact: "You know, we have no promise of a tomorrow." What truth there is in that statement—"No promise of a tomorrow." And yet, how heedless we are of the fact it so succinctly sets forth. We go on neglecting to do that which is of such moment to us, actually gambling with time and with our souls as the stake. No promise of a tomorrow is what God is saying in the words of our text.

What a specious argument that is, and how Satan does use it, especially to deceive young people. He would try to make them believe that they say good-by to all the good times when they become Christians; but that is not so, for there is nothing "good" that must be given up, and these are things that are bad and harmful that must be given up, and these the Devil camouflages to make them look good to people. He succeeds surprisingly well, for folks are easily fooled by the enemy of human souls and often they do not awaken to the fact that they have been deceived until it is too late.

What we need to do is to estimate the real value of things. Who that is wise would buy glass jewels for diamonds, or accept fools' gold for the genuine? If we scrape beneath the tinsel with which Satan covers things that are bad, to make them look good, and if we carefully weigh everything he offers us in the balance of eternity, we shall discover their worthlessness; everything he offers, though it give pleasure for a season, "at last," as Solomon said of the wine cup, "it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."

Christ on the other hand offers all that is good and worthwhile in this life and the life to come. The really good times for the Christian, and if any one on earth can enjoy himself, it is the person whose life has been enlarged by the coming into it of Christ. He "it is who not only gives life, but gives it abundantly. This is true in this life, because Christ enlarges a person's capacity for enjoyment.

We frankly admit that there are restrictions and limitations for the Christian; but he who says that there are restrictions and limitations of real life is false. The things that must be cut off are those that make for death. The surgeon's knife cuts out a cancer, but a cancer makes for death; and so do those things that the person who would be a Christian, must cut out of his life. The very cutting out of these things sets a person free for the real pleasure of life.

It is not a mean thing to choose the pleasures of sin for a season, and then, when the candle of life has almost burned itself out, fling ourselves upon God's mercy? To such who so choose, expecting to become Christians when they are about to die, that they may thereby escape hell and gain heaven, God holds out no promise of salvation. That people are saved at the last moment of life, as was the thief on the cross, we know, but who dare say that the one who chooses to refuse the salvation God offers now shall ever have another proffer of mercy?

There is a time, we know not when; a place, we know not where, that seals the destiny of man. For glory or despair.

"Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation."

Radio Telephoning.

The first experiment in long distance radio telephoning was made in 1914, the attempt resulting after many efforts in successful transmission of speech from Washington to Paris and San Francisco.

Alarm Wrist Watch.

With an alarm wrist watch is supplied an electric battery to awaken a sleeper at a designated time by sending a current through and warming a strip of metal on his arm.

WHY It Is Dangerous to Carry Matches Into Garage

The West Virginia miner who blew himself and family to pieces and tore out one end of his home when he carelessly threw some damp powder into his fireplace to see if it was any good was not much more of a fool than the man who gropes around his garage with matches. One feels just as familiar with the matches as the other did with the powder, but fire and explosives are a bad combination under any circumstances. You may think you know how to handle both without danger, but as soon as you mix carelessness with them the results are almost sure to be fatal.

The motorist has no more right to carry lighted matches in his garage than he would in a powder mill. The destructive potentialities of both are about the same, and under the right conditions the open flame is as dangerous in one place as the other. If your garage is not wired for electric lights, the first investment you should make is to put them in. They are more important than keeping the garage warm in winter, because the latter will merely do the car harm, whereas lack of electric lights will cause you to use matches and that is pretty sure to mean bodily harm to yourself and the rest of the family; perhaps not today or tomorrow, perhaps the very next time you do it.

At no time is the danger greater than in winter when the garage is kept snugly closed and the dangerous vapors of gasoline and kerosene have no chance to escape harmlessly into the great outdoors. But, if you are contemplating suicide, this will no doubt prove valuable, hints Motor Life Magazine, which aims to be helpful in every way possible.

ARE TYRANTS OF THE WILD

Why the Destruction of Fur-Bearing Animals Is Less Cruel Than It Appears.

While the fashions for furs is as imperious as it is now there will be scant reason for saying or writing anything to encourage their wearers. Inclination will be so strong that it will override every consideration except inability to buy them. The exceptions will only put the rule to the test without weakening it. But many persons with kind hearts and much sympathy for the lower animals may find comfort, none the less, in knowing the greater part of the furs most sought and most valued come from creatures that are themselves extremely destructive and deadly to other forms of animal life. The fur-bearers, as a rule, are fierce slayers of weaker or less courageous and formidable beasts and birds.

How New Photos Are Made.

A snapshot is a photograph taken by a spot machine and before long these machines are to give place to the new "picture" machine. The machine takes your picture, develops it, prints it and delivers it all in the space of four minutes. This is how it does it. You sit before the machine and drop in your coin. A bell rings and the machine displays this notice: "Now then, turn your head, please, to the right; look at the little cross above the mirror, and smile." Then a lamp lights up the machine. A second warning bell rings, and a new notice appears: "Keep still, please." It says, and you obey. The click of the shutter and the extraordinary brightness of the light inform you that the exposure has been made, but lest there should be any mistake, a third notice appears, with the following message: "Thank you, the sitting is over, and you can rise from your seat. In four minutes your portrait will be delivered at the bottom of the apparatus." The picture arrives punctually to the second, and if it is not like you it is your fault. The invention is a French one.

Why Tin House Is Probable.

The sound-proof telephone booth is a rarity, but it has been discovered that any booth can be made absolutely sound proof if it is lined with tin. The tin idea is applicable in other places where it is desirable to have soundproof effects, says the Golden Age. One or two layers of tin or aluminum in partitions or between floors are equally effective in shutting out the noise of the neighbor's daughter's piano or the music of the ragtime phonograph in the flat above. Family quarrels can be conducted without risk of the neighbors' hearing, the dog can bark to his heart's content and the head of the house can indulge in a man's prerogative of relieving himself with unseemly vocal sounds. The tin-lined house would be fire proof or fire resisting. If the tin manufacturers can be waked up to the new field for sale of their products and the architects roused to the desirability of getting inexpensive sound-proof effects, the era of the tin house may become a reality.

How to Clean Varnished Paper.

Many hitches and bathrooms are papered in varnished paper. When soiled this paper can be cleaned and made to look like new if this method is followed: To half a bucketful of water add two tablespoonfuls ammonia. Wash the walls down with this. Then take half a bucketful of clear water and add half a tablespoonful of turpentine. Wash the walls a second time with this, afterward wipe them dry as possible. You will find that the paper has a brilliant polish and looks like new.

Lines to Be Remembered.

No man ever stated his griefs as fully as the English poet. It is only the minute that has wrought and suffered; the infinite lies stretched in smiling repose.—Emerson.

EMBARGO PUT ON COAL TO EUROPE

Order of I. C. C. Cuts Off Ports From Charleston to Canadian.

NEW PRIORITIES RULINGS.

New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore to Be Included in 400 Cars of Fuel in Vardaid to Be Profits.

New York.—A coal embargo upon the shipment of coal from North Atlantic ports of the United States went into effect in order to New England's threatened industries and utilities might receive priority in the matter of fuel shipments. The order, which was determined upon by the Interstate Commerce Commission at a meeting in Washington on Monday, was made public at the office of W. W. Howe, commissioner, at the Tiverton Coal Exchange.

Similar priorities, it is understood, will be in effect for New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, where transportation companies and other public utilities are feeling the pinch most keenly. Lack of coal has threatened the order of a ship in a port in Charleston north to the Canadian border could take her to Halifax or some other port in the United States, it is unlikely that the order will be carried out so strictly. Commissioners Howe, as the representative of the Interstate Commerce Commission here and in Philadelphia and Baltimore is entrusted with the issuance of permits for shipments to plants and is expected to issue such permits "only upon showing that the destination of the coal is to the coastwise point, or, otherwise, that the preference and priority hereby directed to New England will not be impeded thereby, and any event that the shipper or consignee will be able to unload such coal at the port of transshipment without delay to the rail equipment." Other commissioners in Newport News, Norfolk and Charleston have similar orders.

While it was being decided to prevent the use of many badly needed cars for transportation of coal destined for Europe, a big get-together meeting was held here between representatives of railroads, B. & O., P. & M., and other public utilities and the Public Service Commission. The result was an agreement by the railroads to do everything possible to get coal to the city, and by the public utilities to stand together and lend power to the coal embargo.

The coal embargo will have a marked effect upon shipping, for not only are many large owned vessels bunkering here for return trips, but great numbers of American and foreign vessels are carrying nothing but coal to European ports. It is said that 30 per cent of the ships allocated by the United States Shipping Board to steamship companies are under contract to carry coal cargoes. The production of coal in England is reported to be about one-third the normal, and in consequence not only that country but much of Europe looks to the United States for coal. Coal production here is estimated at 60 per cent of normal, but stringency of freight cars has made the shortage much more marked.

In its order the commission makes no mention of the coal shortage, but bases its action upon a "shortage" of equipment and congestion of traffic, aggravated by unfavorable local conditions which continue to exist upon the lines of common carriers.

Another reason for the coal shortage here was uncovered by Alfred M. Barrett, acting Public Service Commissioner, who said he had received reports that more than 1,400 cars of coal were tied up in New Jersey and Staten Island, and that some of this coal was probably being held for a higher market. He stated it was extremely difficult to establish a clean cut case of coal profiteering which would warrant summary action, but added that investigation would be continued.

MADE RECORD HE WAS AFTER

Remarkable Performance of Engineer on Hannibal and St. Joseph Line Many Years Ago.

The first fast mail on a railway west of the Mississippi was run over the Hannibal and St. Joseph line, a northern Missouri railroad between Hannibal on the Mississippi and St. Joseph on the Missouri. This road was completed more than 60 years ago, and in April a test fast mail run was made. The train was carried overland from St. Joseph to Sacramento, and, in order to get a government contract it was necessary to establish a new record for speed. The locomotive was a crude affair, burning wood, the rails were light, and the track was not ballasted. Add Clark was the engineer, and his instructions were to make a record that would stand for 50 years. Moreover, he came near doing it—in fact, he did do it, so far as that particular railway was concerned. The distance from Hannibal to St. Joseph is 206 miles, and the fast mail covered the route in a few seconds over four hours, or at the rate of 50 miles an hour for the run. This included two stops for fuel, but these were brief, for small armies of men were waiting, each with an armed wood.

In Common Things.

A man must invest himself near at hand and in common things, and be content with a steady and moderate return, if he would know the blessedness of a cheerful heart and the sweetness of a walk over this round earth.—John Burroughs.

Horrible Fate of Old Father Hubbard.

Old Father Hubbard went to the cupboard To get him a bottle of beer. But when he got there the cupboard was bare. Alas! Prohibition was there.

He went to the shop for a bottle of gin. But when he got there he couldn't get in.

He ordered some whiskey—for use scientific! They sent him wood spirits; the smell was terrific!

He went to a Vet to prescribe for a calf. Some brandy would do—say a pint and a half.

He found on return the Vet played him false; The bottle contained only water and salts.

He went to the doctor for rum for a boil. But Doc. prescribed sulphur and sweet castor oil.

He went to a druggist without a prescription. So he couldn't get liquor of any description.

He sought a blind pig as his only resort. But when it was raided he landed in court.

He went to the farm out at Guelph for a rest. He thought, when released, prohibition was best.

He's glad to be freed from King Alcohol's power. So now he goes thirsty, or drinks lemon sour.

Patty's Faith.

"The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger; but they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing."—Psa. 34:10.

Down at the foot of the long, high mountains, in a little bit of a home, lived the Widow Dunn with her three children. But it was a home, however small; it was to them quite a beautiful place. But now there had been such a long winter it seemed dreary enough.

A day came in early March that had a breath of south wind at last, and the three watched the long icicles hanging from the eaves, and saw the water drip with great joy. Then Mrs. Dunn told Patty she might put on her hood and shawl and go down to Mrs. Brown's for some sport, as Freddie did not want to go.

Patty was a girl of ten, and the run of half a mile was pure fun to her, and so was the play of an hour that she had leave to stay; then she put on her things again.

"Here is your spearpoint, Patty," said good Mrs. Brown; "and here, put these fine doughnuts in your pocket. I've just fried them, and Bessie and Fred will like them;" for the good neighbor knew how very poor they were at the widow's.

"Better hurry up, Patty; there's a storm coming," said Mr. Brown, meeting her at the door; and if Patty had only heeded, all would have been well, but the barn was by the road, and there Patty stopped a long time to watch the "cutest" little calf playing with its mother, so that when she was really off, the air was full of scudding snow and the wind roared over the mountains like a hundred lions, poor Patty thought. But, thoroughly frightened, she only thought of home, and ran on and on over the hills, quite blinded by the snow and falling often, until a gust, more fearful than any before, carried her far out of her way and threw her against a fence. It was growing dark, too, and every minute the wind roared louder. She staggered a little farther, then she was carried on again until she struck against something softer than a stone wall, and she knew nothing more for a long time.

When at last she roused up, the noise did not seem so loud; but when she put out one hand it struck into the soft snow, but the other felt something warm and soft. For a long time Patty was too frightened to think. At last it came to her that her poor little self and a sheep were buried together in the snow, and she put her head on her woolly friend and cried enough tears to have quite melted a small snow bank and sent her to sleep.

When she awoke she was stiff and hungry, though not cold; but she did not cry. Instead, she thought of a verse her mother often said: "They that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing." "We will trust him, won't we, sheepie?" she said, and turning, her hand hit the pocket and the doughnuts. "He does care for us, sheepie, He does!" she exclaimed, as she bit the precious gift.

GOVERNMENT DESIGNS PEACH SIZER

Peach Sizing Machine—Fruit Can Be Carried Along by Conveyors Which Are Adjusted to Carry the Largest Fruit to the End, Whence It Drops Into the Apron in the Foreground.

This year a part of the peach crop may be better graded at less expense than heretofore by use of a new sizer developed by government workers. Two machines were built last year and tested under commercial conditions at Leesburg, Va., and Mayfield, Ga. Information gained through these tests was used in perfecting the present machine, drawings of which are now available to all growers or manufacturers interested, according to announcement by the bureau of markets.

The machine has several unique features and advantages over existing types of sizers which make it possible to handle fruit with less bruising, while its construction permits 10 to 15 packers to work at one time, thus making possible a run of two to three car loads of peaches a day from each machine, the amount depending on the average quality of the fruit. The overall dimensions of the machine are 24x15 feet. It requires an electric motor of less than one horsepower capacity, or a small gas engine, to operate it, and it can be run at half capacity if desired. Under commercial conditions it should be sold at a price not to exceed $450, according to estimates of the designers.

How It Works.

The peaches from the orchard are delivered on an inclined roller conveyor, on each side of which sorters stand and pick out culls and damaged fruit. The rotation of the peaches on this conveyor, which is obtained without bruising, enables the sorters to see the entire surface of the fruit without touching it. From this roller conveyor the peaches are delivered to two sets of ropes running over pulleys. A simple lever arrangement permits the adjustment of the spaces between these ropes to accommodate any size of fruit it is desired to grade. Although the ropes diverge from each other under ordinary operating conditions, they may be set nearly parallel to facilitate the distribution into the bins of fruit which runs almost uniform in size. This control is made possible by a perfected hat rack movement which is one of the unique features of this machine.

As the peaches come off the roller conveyor they roll down a slight incline to the ropes on which they travel until dropped through into canvas bins. It is impossible to congest the machine because the peaches are fed one at a time to the moving ropes. Some objections to former rope sizers have been overcome through the use of a special coupling device, an idler which serves to keep the proper tension on the ropes and the mechanism which quickly widens or reduces the space between the ropes. The machine, which was devised particularly for six-basket carrier packing, can be used equally well for bushel packs with a slight modification of the bins.

Possibilities for Other Fruits. In announcing the perfected machine, which is the work of the grades and standards project and the technological laboratory of the bureau of markets, it is stated that the machine has possibilities for grading other fruits such as apples, pears and oranges, while it may be possible to modify it to handle sweet potatoes.

An application for a public patent on this sizer is pending in the patent office, but the department can give no assurance that a patent will be allowed on the machine or that some of the elements covered by the application are not already protected by existing patents. The bureau has applied for patents on parts of the machine in order to make them available to all and is ready to furnish a set of working drawings to growers or manufacturers for $2, which is intended to cover merely the cost of labor and materials.

GIVE HOME GARDENS BEST OF ATTENTION

Don't Put Away Rake and Hoe Too Early in Season.

Surface of Soil Should Be Lightly Stirred and Kept Mellow—Finely Sifted Manure Scattered Over Seeds Is Excellent.

Here is a message for the tillers of the thousands of home gardens already planted in cities and the smaller towns, and other thousands in process of being planted. Let every gardener remember that his work of food production is only begun. Many amateurs make the mistake of putting away the rake and hoe as soon as they have the seeds in the ground. The surface of the ground should be lightly stirred with a rake and kept mellow before the seeds come up. Often a week or so of extremely dry weather comes after garden planting. This is liable to cause many of the smaller seeds to fail to germinate, or if they germinate, they may not have enough moisture to keep them alive.

There are two or three ways of preventing loss. One is to use the sprinkling can and keep the surface lightly watered until the seeds are up. Another is to lay a board directly over the row of seeds until they sprout and are just about ready to come through the ground. It does not do, however, to leave the boards over the row too long, as the little seedlings on coming up against the boards will be bent out of shape and weakened. Still another method is to scatter a little fine, sifted manure. Here, also, care must be taken that the covering is not too heavy, or the seedlings will be injured when they come through the ground.

A steel rake is one of the best tools for cultivating the garden, because it loosens the top inch or two of the soil. Before the plants are up, break the surface over so gently over the rows, with the rake. After the plants appear, use the rake frequently along each side of the row to keep the soil loose and mellow.

AVOID OVERCROWDING CHICKS

One of Leading Causes of Range Losses During Summer Months—Fresh Air Is Needed.

During the hot summer months the greater part of the trouble experienced by poultry raisers is found on the ranges where the growing stock is kept. According to the poultry department of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station one of the leading causes of range losses during the summer is the overcrowding of the birds. There should be a sufficient number of colony houses to accommodate the birds. The colony houses are used by the young birds at night, and if they are forced to crowd together, serious results will occur. Chicks need a large amount of fresh air in order to keep growing constantly. If crowded at night they are forced to breathe the same air time after time, a condition which results in stunted growth and livelike disease. Colony houses with from 50 to 75 birds in each provide much better conditions than in cases where hundreds of birds are kept in a single house. If several enclaved, stunted birds are found on the ranges, look first to the colony houses at night. They are probably overcrowded.

ELIMINATION OF ANT HILLS

Effective Plan Is to Punch Holes in Mounds and Apply Carbon Bisulphide on Cotton.

Ant hills may be eliminated by punching holes in them and placing cotton, which has been wet with carbon bisulphide, in them. The fumes of this material penetrate the hills and kill the ants. Keep the material away from an open flame as it is very explosive.

INFERTILE EGGS KEEP BEST

Under Normal Conditions They May Be Stored for Period of Four to Five Weeks.

Infertile eggs will keep under normal conditions at a temperature of 60 to 80 degrees for a period of four or five weeks, while on the other hand fertile eggs often become unfit for table use in only a few days.

Protect the Song Birds.

Song birds may be protected from cats by winding four or five strands of barbed wire around the tree trunks. Cats have a great dislike for barbed wire and will not cross it. The wire will not harm the trees and can be removed when the birds leave.

Be All Right There.

LONDONDERRY IN GRIP OF TERROR

Opposing Irish Factions Entrench and Sweep City With Machine-Gun Bullets.

ARMORED CARS IN DUELS.

Reign of Terror More Serious As Military Remains Inactive—Fighting in Progress in Country Districts—Many Injured.

London.—One hundred persons were killed or wounded in the fighting in Londonderry, Ireland, according to semi-official information, and terrific fighting is still in progress.

A strong army of Sinn Féiners is making steady headway on the center of the town.

This latest news has sent grave alarm through government circles. Premier Lloyd George conferred with Sir Nevill Macready and others, not only on the Londonderry situation, but on the general prospects that are "reaping over the rest of Ireland as the result of the continued refusal of the railwaymen to transport troops, police or supplies for the army of occupation.

500 Create Reign of Terror.

Londonderry.—The outside world has little idea of the reign of terror Londonderry has been experiencing without respite for a week. The casualty figures from day to day are alarming enough, but they picture only the shadow of the grim reality. The truth is, none of the 40,000 inhabitants has been safe since the rioting began. The city is virtually controlled by extremists of the Unionists and Nationalists, who probably number under 500. They are volleys down the streets without warning and apparently without reason, and the citizens are thus put in a state of continuous panic, waiting for only when the procurement of food becomes absolutely necessary. Many shopkeepers have suspended business and have taken refuge on the top floors of their business premises for safety.

Men who are compelled to be in their offices sleep there rather than risk stepping into the streets. The post office force has been reduced to a mere handful and the postmaster is being petitioned by many of the workers for relief from duty until the trouble subsides.

The military so far has confined its efforts to keeping the two sides apart, but without great success. Everybody is armed. The streets are littered with ammunition. The real test for visitors, however, comes when he is held up by either the Sinn Féiners or the Unionists. With hands in the air, starting into the muzzle of a revolver, he is thoroughly searched. Some have come out of this examination rather badly.

Each morning the engagement of the night before is resumed. Heavy barricades have been thrown up and groups of armed men go from one place to another, either on the offensive or defensive. How many persons have been killed is not known now. After the first day or two it became impossible to figure on the victims, as the dead are removed, and many of the injured are treated by their comrades and carried away.

In addition to the erection of barricades, trenches have been dug in some of the streets within the battle zone. A special train carrying two companies of soldiers arrived at the Great Northern Railway station. The county inspector announced that a detachment of soldiers was leaving Belfast for Londonderry.

As many persons as are finding it possible to do so are leaving Londonderry.

Scenes Set for Visitors.

In the little Barry coast town of Biskra the Moorish coffee houses with Arab customers and Turkish atmosphere seem like set scenes in a stage production, while the far-famed dancing girls obviously exhibit their skill for the pleasure of the foreigners alone. Without the foreign visitor Biskra would be an ordinary oasis town on the edge of the desert.

Since Robert Hichens' "Garden of Allah" was written with Biskra as the background, many people have come to visit the scene of the story. Others come on doctor's orders, for the climate is said to be beneficial to rheumatism and other diseases. Others come merely to see the sights, which are widely advertised.

Dance to Attract Mate.

On some of the islands of the Pacific, in tropical South America, is found the beautiful bird known as the Jacana. It is famous for its so-called love dances, which appear to be executed by the male to excite the admiration of the female bird. When the mating season approaches the Jacana will single out its favorite lady and try to win her admiration with all its bewitching maneuvers. In the dance the wings are spread and worked in such a manner that the beautiful colored feathers produce a brilliant effect.

Romans and the Dog-Star.

To Hippocrates and Pliny we owe the pleasing affirmation that July 3 is the day when dogs begin to grow mad. The sun, being in the sign of Cancer, increases and becomes obnoxious and all animals show symptoms of insanity. Human beings are peculiarly susceptible today to "phrenitis," hysteria and fever.

To obviate these and other discomforts the Romans appeased the wrath of Caniculus, the Dog-Star, by sacrificing a brown dog to him as soon as he appeared.

TWENTIETH CENTURY H.B.H.

Have six medium-sized potatoes baked. With a spoon carefully remove the potato, leaving the rest of the skin unbroken. Season the potato with one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of cream, salt, pepper, and a dash of Worcestershire sauce. Fill the skins with this mixture, let sit a little above the top. Put a piece of butter on each and heat in the oven. Grated cheese may be used instead of the meat.

Surprise Biscuits.—Make a biscuit dough as soft as can be handled, put it lightly, roll into a thin sheet, and cut with a biscuit cutter. Have ready one cupful of well-seasoned meat that has been moistened with gravy, stock or milk. Form into sandwiches by spreading the meat lightly on half of the biscuits and cover with the other half, pressing them together at the edges. Bake twenty minutes in a hot oven. This recipe will make nine sandwiches. Pour over a brown gravy and serve hot.

Mixed Beef With Potato Border.—To two cupfuls of well seasoned mashed potato add the yolks of two eggs. Beat until light and creamy. Form this mixture into a border on a chop plate or flat baking dish. Score the top. Season two cupfuls of any kind of cold chopped beef with a teaspoonful of onion juice, one teaspoonful of minced parsley and salt and pepper to taste. Add enough stock to moisten well, place the meat inside the border and brown lightly in a hot oven.

Roast Beef, American Sauce.—Roast slices of corn roast beef, cut very thin, in the following way: Cook one onion finely chopped in two tablespoonfuls of butter five minutes. Add one red pepper, one green pepper and one clove of garlic, each finely chopped; add two tomatoes or the same bulk canned. Cook fifteen minutes, add one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, celery salt and salt to taste.

Both will be greatly appreciated.

Patriotic sermons were preached Sunday in honor of the Fourth of July, and many homes and automobiles were decorated with the national colors. There were many visitors in town, and others who went out of town for the occasion. Berlin was practically deserted on Monday, nearly every business place being closed, and our people joining the crowds at Ocean City, or enjoying the holiday elsewhere. Both days the weather was ideal.

I only took two or three doses, but they did the work."

Turner—Mumford.

A wedding of much interest occurred last Saturday afternoon, July 3rd, at Wilmington, when two of our well known young people, Floyd Bowen Turner and Maude Virginia Mumford, playmates and friends from childhood, were joined in holy matrimony by their former much-loved pastor, Rev. W. Ernest Greenfield. The wedding occurred at the parsonage of Brandywine M. E. Church, at 5.30 p. m., and was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Taylor and Norman, Jr., counsel of the groom.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Baker Mumford, of Bay Street. Mr. Turner is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Turner, also of Bay Street. He was graduated from Buckingham High School, and later took a business course, graduating from Goldey College last November next to the highest in a class of 100, and the only one to win two diplomas within twelve months. He now holds a promising position as bookkeeper for the duPont Motors Co. His firm has given him a two-weeks' vacation, which the young people are spending here with their parents, and with relatives at Ocean City.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner will be at home after their return at 1909 Jefferson Street, Wilmington, where they have taken apartments. The most cordial good wishes of a host of friends follow them in their new life.

Snyder—Robinson.

A quiet, pretty wedding took place at Mrs. Amy Louise Capp's residence, 349 W. Duval Street, Germantown, Philadelphia, Thursday evening, May 20th, 1920, when George R. Snyder and Miss Lillian Fairchild Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Annie Mott Robinson, of Brooklyn, were united in marriage by Magistrate Robert Carson. They were attended by Miss Ada Louise Tally, of New York, and Henry N. Yenger, of N. E. Boulevard, Philadelphia. Mrs. Capp played the wedding march. After the wedding the guests were entertained with music and a banquet.

The bride is a Doctor of Chiropractic. She is a graduate of the Girls' High School of Brooklyn, and the New York College of Chiropractic, New York City, having an extensive practice in Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Snyder has known her for many years, also her family, who are direct descendants of the well-known Mott family of Quakers on the maternal side, and the Windsor Robinson family of London on the paternal side.

Pruitt—Birch.

Married, at the home of the bride, on June 20th, Rev. E. P. Thomas officiating, Miss Esther Birch and George Pruitt. A number of friends gathered for the happy occasion, and a splendid supper was enjoyed by all. Their future home will be Synepuxent, where both are very popular citizens. Mr. Pruitt is a son of William Pruitt.

be endorsed by the Government,
representatives of the National Garment Retailers' Association were told by Howard Figg, assistant to the Attorney-General in charge of the campaign to reduce prices.
The retailers presented for Mr.
Figg's inspection three living models dressed in knee-length gowns designed as the extreme in women's wear next fall. Mr. Figg declined to indicate what he considered a proper length for skirts, but declared that skirts should at least come below the waist.

WASHINGTON

The post office department has issued a call for proposals for the operation of airplane mail routes under contract to supplement the transcontinental air mail service between New York and San Francisco, which will be operated by the department.

With a view to the prompt collection of the capital stock tax and for the convenience of the taxpayer as well as the government, the Bureau of Internal Revenue suggests that corporations submit checks with the returns for the amount of tax due. This method is appealing to corporations, as it lessens liability to penalty.

A land army of 100,000 farm hands
recruited and organized by the department of agriculture is moving northward across the western wheat belt harvesting the nation's grain crops in better time than in many years, according to reports received by the department.

Hearings in deportation proceedings against J. Edgar Hoover, U. S. Marshal, Soviet agent in the United States,
were postponed at the request of former Senator Hardwick.

A legal fight to block enforcement of equal suffrage, even though Vermont
or Tennessee should ratify it and complete the thirty-six necessary states
for ratification, was begun in the district Supreme Court of Washington, D. C.

President Wilson announced he will remain in Washington all summer.
General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, returned to America on the transport ship, which was detained at sea by a German submarine.

NATION'S BUSINESS

Opinion among exporters on the lifting
of the trade restriction on Russia
was general that no immediate benefit will accrue from the action of the United States. While Russia is regarded as a large trade field, the manner in which the Soviet government has served up the resources and activities of its industries will preclude any possibility of a free trade movement.

Permission to electrify tools and equipment to prevent thefts from the tool boxes of its plant was asked by a large industrial firm of Philadelphia,
of the State Industrial Board, Harrisburg, Pa.

The "hemping coal famine" is a
"bugaboo" built up by constant government agitation on the coal situation, and present high prices are due,
in large measure, to the consistent manner in which government officials and agencies have scared the country with predictions of a shortage. This is the view held by George H. Cuth-ler, managing director of the American Wholesale Coal Association, who asserts there is no shortage of coal
and no excuse for the current prices.

Admiral Benson authorized the committee of advertising men recently appointed in New York to advise with the board regarding the general dissemination of ships and materials the board has to sell to begin at once a survey of the country's markets for the information of the board. The survey will be started at once, and will require about four months.

GENERAL

Harding's advisers do not fear any loss of votes through the proposed third party ticket planned by the Committee of Forty-eight.
The prohibition issue is fast coming to the forefront in the preliminary plans for the campaign of Governor James Cox, Democratic presidential nominee.

The sugar supply is increasing, but there is little prospect of a decline in prices for a long period, Dr. C. O.
Townsend, sugar expert of the agricultural department, said. The United States at the best grows only about 25 per cent of its need, he stated.
President Wilson accepted an invitation of the League of Nations to call a meeting of the assembly early in November.

Cooperation of the New Jersey
State Federation of Women's Clubs with the State Bureau of Markets was announced. Propaganda to limit retailers' profits to 5 per cent has begun.
John D. Rockefeller reached his eighty-first birthday.

Six men entered the factory of the Watson Manufacturing Co., Wallingford, Conn., overpowered the night
watchman and took away silver in bar
form valued at $10,000.

Gypsy moths, the pests that destroy trees and which have cost Massachusetts $100,000,000 in 1919, have been discovered destroying the foliage of trees in Brooklyn.

Independent operation of carriers and "broken down" within 30 days of the return of the roads to their owners.
It was asserted by William B. Culver of the Federal Trade Commission at the opening session of the annual convention in Atlantic City of the National Association of Window Glass Manufacturers.

To make divorce impossible through a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States, is the object of the Society for the Upholding of Marriage, the organization of which is announced by Rev. Dr. Walter Gwynne at Summit.

Representatives of the miners, appearing before the Arbitration Commission at Scranton, Pa., threatened to withdraw and appeal to President Wilson unless the operators accused of accepting figures presented by Jett Lauck, statistician for the workers.

Robert B. James, Albert Inman and Harry Martin, of New York, who pleaded guilty to an indictment charging them with conspiracy and profiteering in the sale of ninety tons of sugar, were fined $10,000 by U. S. Associate Judge Cooper, at Birmingham.

Governor Sprague received word at Harrisburg from Republican leaders in Vermont that the legislature of that state would be called in extra session
the first week in August to act on ratification of the federal suffrage amendment.

SPORTING

In all of the confusion that surrounds George Carpentier and his manager, there is one fact that stands out. It is the fact that Carpentier has been seen in the city of New York.

The University of Maine baseball team, chosen Albert E. Johnson of New Britain, Conn., captain for next year. His plays second base on the state champions.

Samuel D. Middle of Glen Elder,
Pa., and Joseph E. Davis of New York were chosen members of the Tokyo Club at a meeting of this body held at Asquith, London, England.

Man of War, a colt owned by many other great players of the game, still leads the list of horses
with a record of 10 wins in 11 starts.

Walter Hagen, American professional golfer, defeated Ladislav Blahosky, in the play-off of the field. The field score was 238 for each player. Hagen turned in a score of 150 to 154 for the Freshman.

American rifle and equestrian teams
for the Olympic games arrived at Antwerp on an army transport. They preceded to Coblenz for practice work.

Dr. Lowenfeld-Russ has definitely resigned his position as state secretary of the food administration because of the action of the government in abolishing control of grain distribution. He said Austria "is unwilling to help itself and can no longer appeal to America for aid."

Great troops have taken the city of Brusa, in Asia Minor, defeating Turkish Nationalists, who had been holding the city. It was officially announced.
Bolshevik forces are moving forward on a 500 mile front and have advanced more than 200 miles since the capture of Kiev from the Poles.

Refugees arriving at Constantinople
stated that the following is the situation in the play-off of the field. The field score was 238 for each player.
Hagen turned in a score of 150 to

Wheat 28 Million Bushels Over Former Estimate.

Washington, July 9.—The 1920
wheat crop will total 809,000,000 bushels, the Department of Agriculture estimated today, basing its forecast on conditions prevailing July 1st.

The estimate, based on conditions
on June 1st was for a crop of 781-000,000 bushels, showing that during June wheat prospects increased 28,000,000 bushels.

The estimate of spring wheat on July 1st was 201,000,000 bushels,
as compared with 277,000,000 bushels on June 1st.

Winter wheat production was estimated at 608,000,000 bushels on July 1st, as compared with 504-
000,000 bushels on June 1st.

The condition of all wheat on July 1st was 82.5 per cent, as compared with 86.6 per cent the same month last year.

The total wheat crop for 1919 as estimated last December was 941-000,000.

The wheat acreage was reported as 55,652,000 acres, or 78.3 per cent of the 1919 crop. Of this,
19,487,000 were planted in spring
wheat, and 36,165,000 in winter
wheat.

DAVID SPARES SAUL'S LIFE.

LESSON TEXT—1 Sam. 26.
GOLDEN TEXT—Love your enemies, do
good to them that hate you.—Luke 6:27.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—1 Sam. 24.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Man Who Was Kind to His Enemy.
JUNIOR TOPIC—"Paying Back."
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
Overcoming Evil with Good.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
Treatment of Wrongdoers.

I. Saul in Pursuit of David (vv. 1-3).
Ever since David took his departure from Jonathan (ch. 20), when that crowning act of friendship was shown, Saul had been hunting him as a wild animal. He now pursues him with 8,000 chosen men. David flees from place to place, hiding as an outlaw. Sometimes he is in the enemies'
country doing disreputable things.
This is the period of his schooling
which fitted him to be the eminent king that he was. It was a bitter period in his life, but God sent him to this school and adapted the instruction to his needs. David never could have been the broad man that he was, had he not been prepared in this crucible of bitter experience. His wading deeply into trouble adapted
him to write psalms suited to all men
in all ages, and under all conditions.
His life swung through the arc of human experience, touching the highest point of fame and dipping to the depths of sorrow and shame. Then, personally, he learned many lessons,
among which may be mentioned:

1. His own weakness. It was necessary that he be humbled under the sense of his infirmities. Unless a man has learned this lesson, sudden elevation to power will utterly ruin him.
2. His dependence upon God. David's many miraculous escapes
caused him to realize that the Lord
had redeemed him out of his adversity. His hiding places in the rocks gave him much of his imagery for the psalms.

3. He learned the country and people over which he was to rule. By knowing the grievous afflictions which Saul had heaped upon the people he could sympathize and remove them.
4. He learned the magnanimity of self-control. This a man must know before he can be a true king. He that ruleth his spirit is better than he that taketh a city (Prov. 16:32).

II. Saul in David's Hands (vv. 4-20).
1. David sends out spies (v. 4).
This he did to find out as to whether
Saul was coming in very dead.

2. David at Saul's camp (vv. 5-11).
He took with him Abner and went to a night to where Saul was sleeping.
Saul was allowed to kill himself. As the Lord's anointed, Saul takes David's spear and crown of water (vv. 12-13). Once before at Elgedi (ch. 24) David spared Saul's life. Now again he was at his mercy. This he did that he might show tangible evidence to the king

that he had no evil intent.

4. David taunts Abner, the king's bodyguard (vv. 14-16). He calls to Abner and taunts him for his listlessness—his failure to watch over the Lord's anointed, the evidence of which is the crime and the spear in his hands.

5. David reasons with Saul (vv. 17-20). When Saul recognized David's voice, David began to reason with him, showing that he had nothing but good intentions toward the king. He asked that he would show what wrong
he had done or what evil intent was in his heart. David is very humble and begs Saul to relent, for surely if he had any wicked purpose he would not have saved his life twice when the Lord had placed Saul wholly at his mercy. David had peculiar regard for the Lord's anointed. He recognized the fact that the Lord had delivered Saul into his hands not to kill, but to save.

III. Saul's Confession (vv. 21-25).
1. He confessed that he had sinned.
The sad feature about his confession is that it lacked conviction, for he went right on striving. This is the great trouble with people. They are willing to confess that they are sinners, but still they go on sinning.

2. He confessed that he had played the fool and erred exceedingly. "We see about us daily many using such expressions, but still they go on repeating their sins. David shows his magnanimity of spirit, however, in delivering the crime and the spear to Saul's servant. He knew that Saul's confession was not genuine, so he was afraid to go near. He knew the cuming of that old fox. He still appeals to Saul's kindness to him, and they part never to meet again.

Consider Faults of Others.
No one thing does human life more need than a kind consideration of the faults of others. Every one sins;
every one needs forbearance. Our own imperfections should teach us to be merciful.

Meditation.
Meditation is the life of the soul;
action is the soul of meditation; honor
is the reward of action; so meditate that thou mayest do; so do, that thou mayest purchase honor, for which purchase give God the glory.—Quarles.

Motors Displace Mules.
The first cavalry, stationed at Nogales, Ariz., has abandoned mules in favor of motor equipment, but the change is not so revolutionary as it sounds, because you can swear just as fluently at a bulky carburetor as you can at a stubborn quadruped. And it does just as much good.—The Home Sector.

Mark Twain's Big Threats.
When Mark Twain wrote "Huckleberry Finn" he praised this introduction: "Persons attempting to find a moral in this narrative will surely be brought to it by the time they have reached the end of the book. The moral is that it will be finished."
The moral is that it will be finished.
The moral is that it will be finished.

A Strong Consolation

By REV. GEORGE GUILLE
Extension Department, Moody Bible
Institute, Chicago.

TEXT—That we might have a strong consolation who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us.—
Heb. 6:18.

The situation here is to the manslayer in Israel, fleeing for security to the city of refuge. When Israel reached the land, six cities of refuge were separated from all others as havens
for any who might unwittingly slay a fellowman. The manslayer was to flee to the nearest
of these and there
he was to remain,
safe from the
avenger of blood,
during the life of the high priest.

When the high priest died, and so there came a change
in the priesthood, he could leave the city of refuge and return to his home.
How these cities of refuge preached
to Israel of her need of a divine refuge for a terrible transgression! For she is the manslayer who has unwittingly slain
her fellowman, the Lord Jesus Christ,
as his prayer at the cross revealed:
"Father forgive them, for they know not what they do." And the avenger of blood is the Man of Sin, that dire enemy of the last days, and for whose coming the world is making such rapid preparation.

But the true believers in the Lord Jesus to the manslayer, and upon the likeness bases our strong consolation. And in Hebrews 6:18 it is written of the Great High Priest of our consolation: "For Christ is not entered into holy places made with hands,
which are the figures of the true, but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us."

The Christian's Refuge.
Behold your security, child of God!
Shut up in the city of refuge and your life there depending upon the High Priest who said, "Because I live ye shall live also," and of whom it is written in Rom. 5:10, "For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled
to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life."

But when will our Great High Priest die? And Romans 8:34 answers: "Knowing that Christ, being raised from the dead, doth so now, he hath no more death, neither doth he any more submit himself unto death." He has left the grave forever, and he is seated at the right hand of the Father, and he lives in the presence of God for us in the power of that endless life. And Hebrews 7:25 says: "And truly were many priests, because they were mortal, but this one, who continued forever, hath no death."
He descended to his sons,
Moses and Aaron. These, in turn,

dry soap today.

And she knows too that Kirkman's died and the priesthood descended to their sons, and so on through a long line of priests. "But this Man, who next verse tells us—this Man who now appears for us in heaven—"because he continued ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood. Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them."

Each of these cities is mentioned by name, in the twentieth chapter of Joshua, and every name speaks to us of our good portion now in Christ, in whom we are secure.

The first was Kedesh in Naphtali:
the "sanctuary of the struggle." This is what our Lord has provided for all his own by that awful struggle to which our sins had put him, so that now we struggle no more but rest in his finished work on our behalf.

The second was Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim. Shechem means
"shoulder," and Ephraim is "fruitfulness." In this haven of refuge that Christ has provided it is in bowing
the shoulder to receive the yoke of submission to him that the fruitfulness
for which he looks from us is realized.

The third was Hebron in the hill country of Judah. And here are two familiar names: Hebron is "communion" and Judah is "praise." A goodly city this, and it is ours! Shut up here with Christ, it is to enjoy unbroken communion with him and thus to have the overflow heart pour itself
out in that "sacrifice of praise" with which our God is well pleased.

The fourth city was Bezer in the wilderness. And what is the wilderness? Just what this world has become to the heart that has come under the power of these divine realities and that knows its place in Christ. But Bezer means "riches" and tells us of our possessions now in Christ that we are to enjoy in the wilderness world.

The fifth is Ramoth in Gilead. And Ramoth means "the heights." Yes, the heights are ours also, for "he hath made us sit together in the heavens," and by a thousand voices
he is calling us to have our hearts in that place in which he sees us.

And last we come to Golan, "Joy,"
"exultation," a fitting name, indeed, with which to end the record, for knowing our strong consolation and all these blessed things that belong to us in the cities of refuge our exultation is complete.

Obsolete Word.

What has become of that good old word "earn"? Folks are "getting,"
are "paid" and are "making" so much a day. But nothing is said about anybody "earning" anything.—Los Angeles Times.

Suffered Intense Pain.

"A few years ago when visiting relatives in Michigan, something I had eaten brought on an attack of cholera morbus," writes Mrs. Celesta McVicker, Macon, Mo. "I suffered intense pain and had to go to bed. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and one dose relieved the pain wonderfully. I only took two or three doses, but they did the work."

Mrs. Maria Gray.

Mrs. Maria Gray, after a long and useful life, reached the end Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Isaac T. Bassett, of Ironsire, in her 91st year, having passed the milestone last January. Many kindly deeds endeared her to friends and neighbors before the infirmities of age rendered her incapable of performing life's duties.

Her husband, William Gray, died 34 years ago, leaving her with five daughters, who survive: Mrs. Bassett, of Ironsire; Mrs. Mary Pennwell, and Mrs. Laura Warwick, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Addie Jester, of Chincoteague, and Mrs. William Griffin, of Philadelphia.

Funeral services were held at the home, Wednesday afternoon, by the Rev. W. A. Hearn, of Newark.

W. C. T. U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held an interesting meeting Wednesday evening, transacting the business which had accumulated during the month. The press superintendent reported sending to three county papers an account of the our recent Tri-County Convention, which was published. The money required for the entertainment of the Convention was reported as nearly raised.

The Tri-County having decided to invite the State Convention to meet at Ocean City this fall and money being needed for that purpose, also, it was decided to raise our share by introducing a non-alcoholic flavoring extract, which is expected to arrive in a few days. Every member is expected to buy for her own household needs, also show it to her neighbors and take their orders, as no one member has the time to canvass the town.

Another important matter settled was the re-opening of the L. T. L., which has been without a leader since the death of the last superintendent, Mrs. Burbage. Mrs. J. E. Brazier was elected superintendent for the coming year, and hopes to begin work with the opening of the schools in the fall.

INDEPENDENT REFORM.

The Tri-County
Tractor Demonstration
At Queen Anne, Md.

Tuesday, August 3, 1920.

The Tri-County Tractor Demonstration which is to be held at Queen Anne, on the farm of Judge Clark, August 3rd, is expected to be the largest affair of the kind ever held in the state. Farmers are taking great interest in the plans, as the field to be plowed is stiff soil covered with heavy old clover sod. They are expecting to see a real test, as only the best tractors and plows will do good work under such conditions. Rivalry is keen among the tractor dealers and manufacturers who are entering, and each will do his best to outclass his competitors.

In addition to all styles and sizes of tractors, quite a variety of farm machinery will be shown. The location is ideal, as the field is readily accessible from any point on the peninsula. Quite a few families are expecting to make an all-day picnic of the demonstration, thus combining business with pleasure. The County Agents of the counties of Caroline, Talbot and Queen Anne are acting as a board of managers.

Extension Service University of Maryland and U. S. Department of Agriculture Co-operating.

The farm boys who are doing agricultural club work under the direction of the University of Maryland Extension Service are holding a contest this year as a result of the interest which the fair officials have shown in this feature of the Extension Service program and the generous prizes which are being offered for youthful competitors.

Out of a total of $7,000 appropriated for the various exhibits nearly a third of the prizes will go to boy club members.

The best awards will be offered in the dairy cattle judging contest where it will be possible for one boy to win the equivalent of nearly $200 without any expense on his part.

Chief interest, perhaps, will be aroused in the team judging contest in which three boys from each county in the state will take part. Four breeds of dairy cattle, Jerseys, Holsteins, Guernseys and Ayrshires will be presented in the judging rings as types on which the young judges may exercise their skill. The first prize will be $100, and four others, from $75 to $15 to the next best teams. The rules will be the same as those used at the National Dairy Show, and the only requirements for contestants will be that they are between the ages of 12 and 18 years, are sons of bona fide farmers and members of agricultural clubs. Five individual prizes ranging from $25 to $5 are offered, and a sweepstakes of the choice of a bull calf. The three contestants making the best showing will be given a free trip to the National Dairy Show at Chicago.

The boys who attend the Club Week at the University of Maryland, August 2 to 6, will have an opportunity for special training in judging dairy cattle.

WHALEYVILLE.

Miss Lottie Hall is visiting friends in Philadelphia, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mitchell spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Rayne, of Mt. Pleasant.

Mr. Ernest Parsons, who is working in Wilmington, spent the week-end here with his wife.

Mrs. Murrell and Mrs. Laura Wimbrow have been spending some time in Salisbury, and the former has returned.

Mrs. Linda Harrod Endorses Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and tried everything I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary. Last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I took a few and found that they were just what I needed. I have not had any trouble since, and I can eat anything I want without distress." writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Airplane at Berlin.

Berlin enjoyed its first intimate association with an airplane when a small Curtiss plane of the K. L. C. Co., of Norfolk, landed last Friday morning on the farm of J. H. Keham, near the town limits, and announced flights of ten minutes at $10 each. It was visited by hundreds of interested men, women and children from near and far, many walking and others driving.

About fifteen of the more adventurous improved the opportunity to take a sail in the blue above Mother Earth, some from as far away as Dagsboro. Among the number were Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Law, Powell Eham, Rudolph Brown, "Bill" Ayres and Carlton Powell. Some of the trips went over Synexent Bay. Most of them sailed over and around the town, sometimes so low that the lettering, "American Legion" was plainly visible.

The plane came here from Snow Hill, and left Wednesday morning for Lewistown and Atlantic City.

Colds Affect the Kidneys

Many Berlin people have found this to be true.

Are you troubled in bad weather? Does every cold settle on your kidneys? Does your back ache and become weak?

Are urinary passages irregular and distasteful? These symptoms are cause to suspect kidney weakness.

Weak kidneys need quick help. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared to weakened kidneys. Berlin people recommend them.

Horace F. Harmonson, prop. Atlantic Hotel, Berlin, says: "Being on my feet all day at a time and the effect of colds have been responsible for the backache and other kidney troubles I have had. At such times I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, and they have never failed to give me relief."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply say it's a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Harmonson had. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The president of Millford, (Del.) Council, Capt. William Murphey, and two Councilmen resigned, Tuesday, because the remaining members insisted on discharging Chief of Police Baker for enforcing speed laws.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. E. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1926, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JULY 25

DAVID SUCCEEDS SAUL AS KING.

LESSON TEXT—II Sam. 2:1-5. 5:1-5.
GOLDEN TEXT—Trust in the Lord with all thy heart, and lean not upon thine
own understanding.—Prov. 3:5.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—I Sam. 31:
1-12; II Sam. 1:27; 4:1-12.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Shepherd Boy
Becomes a King.
JUNIOR TOPIC—How David Became a
King.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
—The Secret of David's Success.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
—True Success and How to Win It.

The death of Saul lay open to David the path to the throne. This would have rejoiced the heart of many, but David was sad. Instead of reward being given to the slayer of Saul, quick vengeance was executed upon him.

I. David Made King Over Judah (2:1-4).

He knew full well that the Lord by the hand of Samuel had anointed him to be the successor of Saul. He had learned the essential lesson which the School of Providence was designed to teach, namely, that the position now open to him was no easy one to fill. His exile and sufferings gave him self-control. He had the good sense to know that promotion to the throne did not bring "harder duties and more piled perplexities." He threw himself upon God and asked for guidance. He rendered instant obedience to the Lord's answer. If we are to enjoy God's fellowship and blessing we must render quick obedience. He made a right beginning, therefore God prospered him. When he reached Hebron the men of Judah came and anointed him king over them. Thus a part of the nation recognized him as king and ratified the work which Samuel did many years before. When David went up he took with him all who had been with him in exile and suffering. They are now sharers with him in the kingdom. When David's great son, Christ, shall enter upon his glorious reign, those who have been faithful to him in his rejection shall reign with him. "If we suffer we shall also reign with him." (II Tim. 2:12); "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my father in his throne." (Rev. 3:21).

II. David's Behavior Toward the Men of Jabesh-Gilead (2:4-7).

The men of Jabesh owed much to Saul (I Sam. 31). They showed this recognition of duty by making a daring dash to rescue his body from the ignominious exposure at Bethshean. David's act of honoring him to a hush was a remembrance of Saul for their love for the unfortunate king. This love for the unfortunate king survived all the injuries which he suffered at his hands. He forgave and forgot them all. This was an act of political shrewdness as well as a generous one. In fact the only policy which proves effective is that which proceeds from a generous heart. He deftly follows this generous commendation with the attitude for the men of Jabesh to transfer their loyalty to himself, since he is now their legal king. Since Saul is now dead, he urges them to be valiant for him. In view of the civil war which was to follow he knew it would require valiant men to stand by God's king. This appeal to be valiant is needed now, for we are all called upon to take sides between God's appointed king, Jesus Christ, and Satan, the pretender to the throne. May Christ's appeal result in making us faithful and valiant for him.

III. The Dual Kingdom—War Between the House of Saul and the House of David (2:8-4:12).

This period of civil war lasted seven and a half years. Most of the tribes of Israel clung to Ishbosheth, Saul's son, whom Abner had proclaimed king at Mahanaim. Feuds continued between the rival generals. David's power increased while that of Ishbosheth's waned.

IV. David Crowned King Over United Israel (5:1-5).

Though the struggle for supremacy lasted long and was a bitter one, Abner's death and Ishbosheth's assassination put an end to David's opposition. David's behavior during this time gradually won for him the confidence of the tribes so that they all came to him at Hebron and anointed him as their king. They accepted his divine right to rule (v. 3). The reasons for anointing him their king were:

1. He is their brother (v. 1). This is true of Christ our King. Through the incarnation he has become one with us.
2. He was their true leader in war, even in Saul's time (v. 2).
3. He was the Lord's choice (v. 2).

Procrastination.
Procrastination is helping the devil in retarding righteousness in the world. Remember that legend of how he summoned his imperial staff and offered a reward to the member who would suggest the best way to destroy a human soul. One said, "Convince him there is no God. Another said, 'Prove there is no immortality and no truth in the Bible. But still another suggested, 'Convince him that there is no hurry about his carrying out his good resolutions. And the devil gave that one the prize.—Bishop Talbot.

Constantinople.
Within its girdling walls Constantinople rises, like Rome on its seven low hills, crowned by the splendors of mosques, where gleaming cupolas and minarets, silhouetted against the blue sky, look down on the waters of the Bosphorus. A strange, incongruous huddle of palatial buildings and tumble-down hovels, of stately avenues, and silt-littered lanes, flanked by melodious bazars, through which the human tide streams and surges.

The Great Mystery

By REV. L. W. GOSNELL
Assistant Dean, Moody Bible
Institute, Chicago.

TEXT—That the Gentiles should be fellow heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the gospel.—Eph. 3:6.

In the verses preceding the text Paul has been speaking of a mystery, hidden in former ages, but now revealed to God's apostles and prophets. In the New Testament a mystery is a secret, not known until revealed by God. There are various such mysteries, as those of the kingdom of heaven, the mystery of Israel's blindness, etc. But Paul is now dealing with a matter which he designates "the mystery," as if all others were subordinate to it. The text tells us just what it is.

Our Inheritance.

First, the Gentiles are now "fellow heirs" with the Jews. In the Old Testament it was shown that the Gentiles would some day be blessed through Israel as the channel, the Gentiles taking a subordinate place; now it appears that in this dispensation the Gentiles are to be blessed side by side with the Jews, as fellow heirs. Moreover, the inheritance is different from that especially promised to Israel, who looked for bursting barns as the reward of righteousness and expected to inherit the earth. Now, we are blessed with all spiritual blessings in the heavenly places (Eph. 1:3), and our inheritance is incorruptible, undefiled and fadeeth not away (I Peter 1:4). Indeed, it is made clear we are to be joint-heirs with Jesus Christ (Rom. 8:17). Our thoughts stagger as we hear the words of our Lord: "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne" (Rev. 3:21). The Jews expected to be blessed under Messiah's sway, but what heart ever conceived such a privilege as is involved in being fellow heirs!

The Mystical Body.

Next, Jews and Gentiles are to be "fellow members of the body" (Eph. 3:6). No Old Testament saint ever dreamed of such a thing as is here set forth. Christ is now risen, the glorified Head of the Church. Believers are members of his mystical body. As joined to the Head, they draw life from him, as do the branches of a tree. Another as fellow members of the body in a union such as the world has never dreamed of. This has been brought about by the Spirit given at Pentecost: "For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink of one Spirit" (I Cor. 12:13). Just as we manifest ourselves through our bodies, so Christ will, even in the ages to come, manifest himself through the church, which is his body.

Finally, Jews and Gentiles are now "fellow-partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel" (Eph. 3:6). The Jews expected to be blessed under the Messiah; here it is made clear we are now blessed "in Christ," in vital union with him. Moreover, the promise in the gospel is different from such promises made to Abraham as that he should possess the gate of his enemies. What the final fulfillment of the promise in the gospel shall mean, who can imagine?

No wonder Paul was elated, yet humbled, that the apostleship of this mystery was committed to him, "less than the least of all saints," and that he talks about "the unsearchable riches of Christ." No wonder he wishes "to make all men see what is the fellowship (Eph. 3:6), dispensation) of the mystery." And, finally, he tells us that the purpose of making known God's wondrous dealing with men in the church in this dispensation is "that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be made known by the church the manifold wisdom of God" (v. 10).

Such a gospel is worth suffering for and the apostle concludes: "Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory" (v. 13).

Do we appreciate with him "the mystery?" Do we know "the unsearchable riches of Christ?" Well may we lay to heart a story thus related by Bishop Moule: "May it be with us somewhat as it was, a hundred years ago and more, with Dr. William Conway, vicar of Helmsley, in Yorkshire. The earnest, conscientious, but as yet spiritually unilluminated, he told among his parishioners with vast diligence, but always inwardly disappointed. One day, reading his Bible, he lit upon these words, 'The unsearchable riches of Christ.' They struck him with a profound surprise and a strange misgiving: could Christ, who had seemed to him hitherto a figure in his history, so august yet so intelligible, so familiar, be the Christ of these words? And he did not rest until he had found him indeed in the glory of his salvation, and had felt life transfigured in his light."

Gas for Balloons.
Hydrogen is the gas most commonly used for balloons. It requires about 1,250 cubic feet to lift a balloon weighing 100 pounds. Coal gas is sometimes used, as it is cheaper, but is not entirely satisfactory because of its great heaviness.

Looks That Way.
To a person five feet tall standing on the beach at seaside, the horizon is about two and three-quarters miles away.

FARM ANIMALS

POINTERS FOR BEEF GROWERS

One Method of Bringing Down Prices of Meat Is Improvement in Type of Animals.

General improvement in the type and quality of beef animals the country over is one of the means urged by the United States Department of Agriculture for bringing down the high cost of meat to the consumer and, at the same time, increasing the profit of the producer. Some of the most es-

The Demand for Purebred Stock is Steadily Increasing.

sentia items in growing beef on the farm, specialists of the department say, are:

Plenty of pasture and feed. The right kind of cows—those that will produce good calves regularly.

A good, pure-bred registered bull, one that will sire good calves persistently.

A large calf crop. This means that all cows shall drop calves, and that the calves shall be properly cared for at birth.

Proper care of the breeding herd and the calves.

Selection of good heifer calves to replace old or inferior cows.

Prevention of disease among the breeding herd and the younger stock.

Shelter sufficient to protect the cattle from both severe cold and extremely hot weather.

A practical knowledge of fattening cattle for market.

Marketing to advantage.

There is a farmers' bulletin, No. 1078, on growing beef on the farm that may be had free on application to the Division of Publication, United States Department of Agriculture.

THE BEEF BREEDING

Practically unprofitable, according to the Department's tests at its Ohio Station.

Hogging down rye is an unprofitable practice, according to tests made in park production at the Ohio experiment station. The tests show that it is generally more profitable to harvest the grain and sell it as a cash crop or to feed the grain to hogs after thrashing rather than to allow the hogs to harvest the grain themselves.

Specialists point out that the daily increase per pig when hogging down rye is generally less than half a pound and that the amount of grain required to produce 100 pounds of gain is much higher than where the grain is fed directly to the hogs. As a rule, about 100 pounds of rye, hogged down, were required to produce 100 pounds of gain, whereas hogs fed on corn with tankage and clover pasture required but 331 pounds of concentrates to produce the same amount of gain.

The unprofitableness of hogging down rye is attributed to the fact that hogs are either unable to secure rye in sufficient quantities or are inclined to eat only slightly more than is required for maintenance.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Hogging down corn pays.

Mud wallows are unsanitary and breed disease.

There is a tendency to feed too much roughage to horses.

Oats, especially for little pigs, should be ground and hulls sifted out.

The early lamb gets a larger supply of milk from the ewe than the late lamb does.

Water should be kept in the lots all the time. Never force hogs to drink from a stagnant pool.

Judge a sow by the size and vitality of her litter, as well as by her conformity to the breed type.

Young pigs cannot learn to eat too soon. They should be encouraged to eat when as young as three weeks of age.

A variety of crops are available for hog pasture, including the alfalfa, red clover, rape, Canada field peas mixed with oats and barley. Winter or hairy vetch is a valuable crop.

What I Owe to My Parents.

"Owe good mother is worth a hundred schoolmasters." The truth of this time-honored proverb is borne out by the tributes which successful men pay to the influence of their mothers.

Literal Truth.

On a crowded transport going to France, the men had to sleep where they could and room. One of them, lying on the deck, said to his buddy: "Talk about your hardships! This is the hardest ship I was ever on."

The KITCHEN CABINET

Having a purpose in life is essential to right living. Unless a man is now living to a purpose he has either not yet begun to live, or he has got through living; in either case he is out of place in the world.—Anonymous.

DAINTY DISHES FROM LEFT-OVER.

A small portion of meat with an equal portion of some good vegetable which can be combined with it with an appropriate sauce, will make a most satisfying dish of food that would be otherwise wasted.

Creamed Chicken With Asparagus.

Tips—Cut the cooked meat in half-inch pieces, discarding all hard portions. Season with salt, pepper, a teaspoonful of lemon juice to one cupful of the meat. Add one-half cupful of chicken stock, made from the bones, wing tips and waste portions of skin, and simmer gently for ten minutes; then add half a cupful of cooked asparagus tips to each cupful of chicken, and let it heat. Make a half-cupful of white sauce, using two tablespoonfuls each of fat and flour to a cupful of milk; when the sauce is cooked, stir in one beaten egg thinned with a teaspoonful of cold water, and remove from the heat at once. Add this to the hot chicken and serve immediately. Garnish the platter with triangles of well-browned toast.

Chicken and Celery Scallop.—Cook one cupful of the coarser stalks of celery in boiling salted water until tender. Save the water to make the sauce. The celery should be cut into small pieces. To one cupful of celery water add two tablespoonfuls each of flour and butter which have been cooked together; season with salt, pepper, add a half-cupful of this cream or milk, and when thickened and well cooked add the cooked celery. Put a few buttered crumles into the baking dish, arrange the sliced cold chicken and sauce in alternate layers. Cover with well buttered crumles and brown in a hot oven.

Sensless Birds.—Cut into small bits any cold roast veal or cooked chicken, season well to taste, and roll the meat in slices of bread, planning together with a toothpick. Bake these in a hot oven about fifteen minutes, basting and turning the birds. Serve hot on a garnished platter. This is a very good luncheon dish.

HARMLESS TO STOCK—DEADLY TO VERMIN

Rawleigh's Dip & Disinfectant is nearly five times stronger than carbolic acid in germicidal strength, yet when diluted according to directions is harmless, non-poisonous and effective. Removes many disagreeable odors, repels flies and helps prevent many contagious diseases. Also widely used in the treatment of ordinary mange, scab, itch and many forms of infectious sores. Try Rawleigh's D. & D. You'll find it highly effective for every purpose where a Dip or Disinfectant is required. Try it on my pay-after-you-are-satisfied plan.

OCEAN CITY.

Last Sunday was a day of excitement. About 2 o'clock a. m. a special train bringing "The Tall Cedars of Lebanon," reached town.

They brought a big brass band, and proceeded to march all over the city playing at full blast, which waked up the entire community. The members wore a peculiar little green cap, showing emblems of the Order, and the next day wherever it appeared, the general public, like the people of the famous "Donnybrook Fair," wanted to hit it. The initiation of "Saplings" also took place, which is said to be a very strenuous ceremony.

10 persons were rescued during the day from the boisterous ocean waves. Dale Showell brought out two—The Coast Guard were kept busy all day, and finally launched the lifeboat, and kept it out, until the bathing was over. A singular thing about these rescues is that after the men ask their lives to save others, and then use time and effort in resuscitating them, the rescued ones seldom return to express appreciation or return thanks for the brave and unselfish act of the rescuer. One man went in response to the call for help, fully dressed, and thus met with material loss, but the man saved never returned.

After dinner the awful wall of the fire siren struck terror into all hearts. The fire was due to an explosion of gasoline from a cigarette in the Atlantic Hotel garage, which was full of handsome cars. Our splendid fire-fighters responded so promptly that they saved the day. These brave boys never hesitate a second, when danger calls, to risk life and limb, and best clothes, in the unselfish work of their choice. And again we wonder at the apparent want of understanding and appreciation of what the fire call means: to the fire company, a volunteer company who serve without pay, and even buy their own equipment themselves.

Charles McGregor visited town lately, and reports a good business outlook in Greensboro, N. C.

Co. I, of Salisbury, visited Ocean City, and were welcomed by the citizens. A grand body of young manhood, accompanied by a band which discoursed sweet music from the Mt. Vernon porch, both afternoon and evening. They enjoyed a typical Eastern Shore supper at the Mt. Vernon Hotel, to which they were summoned by the bugle call for mess, as on the battlefields of France. It is a glorious thing to have served one's country and the world in such a cause, and to be heroes for all time.

Mrs. John B. Jones was operated on at the Salisbury Hospital this week and is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Wilbur Smith was operated on at her home, by Dr. Bryce Goldborough, of Cambridge, this week, and is improving rapidly.

Clinton Coffin had a setback, but is now pulling around. He has been confined to his bed since the first of April.

The fishing season for visitors is unusually fine, many being caught from the surf bank. The fish pounds are also doing well now, after much hard luck of various kinds.

Captain John B. Jones is again out on the Board walk, after many months of confinement to the house.

Educational Conference.

The Eastern District Baptist Educational Conference will meet at Ocean City from Sunday, July 25th to 28th, inclusive, beginning at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when the Rev. H. L. Parkinson, of Salisbury, president of the conference, will preach.

Sessions will be held in the State Schoolhouse and in the new Methodist Church. Among the speakers expected are Dr. C. H. Pinchbeck, of Baltimore; Dr. William H. Parker, of Cincinnati; Mrs. V. H. Parker, of Boston; Revs. C. T. Hewitt, W. H. Bayless, J. C. Alderman, L. B. Taylor, B. G. Parker, James MacLeod and K. A. Handy.

"A few years ago when visiting relatives in Michigan, something I had eaten brought on an attack of cholera morbus," writes Mrs. Celesta McGivicker, Madison, Mo. "I suffered intense pain and had to go to bed. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and one dose relieved the pain wonderfully. I only took two or three doses, but they did the work."

WASHINGTON

Appointment of a committee to visit
Havana, Cuba, in an effort to straight-
en out the port congestion prevailing
there and which has been acute for several months was announced by Secretary of Commerce Alexander.

Regardless of any action that may be taken by Great Britain or other
allied nations with respect to resumption
of trade with Soviet Russia, the United States has no intention of going
further than its recent action.

Commissioner of Immigration Cam-melt admitted that within a few weeks
another "Soviet Ark" will sail for a Russian port with nearly 600 Russian
aliens who have been held at Ellis Island under sentence of deportation.

Major John T. Acton of Hoboken,
who served at the Port of Embarkation and was in charge of complaints
who accompanied troops on transports
overseas, has been named by Secretary Baker as chief chaplain of the United States army.

A finding that the Toledo Terminal
Railroad company is entitled to compensation for the use of its property
by the government during federal control at the rate of $252,990 a year
was made by a board of referees appointed by the International Commerce Commission to pass on the petition of the company.

A conference called by the Federal Horticultural Board to discuss federal
control of cotton planting in the pink
boll worm infested areas of Texas and Louisiana was attended by cotton growers representing half a dozen
states.

NATION'S BUSINESS

The bottom of low prices in the wool
market is believed to have been touched in Boston.

After a three days' conference in
New York city the committee of bituminous coal operators agreed at the office of the New Haven railroad upon a plan to submit to the Interstate Commission to end the coal
shortage crisis, due to lack of cars.

This plan was proposed to the railroad
executives by the operators.

In a statement issued at Scranton,
the United Mine Workers of America
charge that the anthracite coal companies made millions in "hidden profits" each year.

A reduction in the price of bituminous coal was confidently predicted by
members of the subcommittee of railroad men and coal operators, who are
meeting at the office of Pennsylvania
railroad, in New York city.

With one-half of the railroad guaranty period over, the government is
"out" approximately $225,000,000. The government will lose $450,000,000 in
the six months' guaranty period.

President Wilson may revive the
fuel administration.

An agreement was reached between
wholesalers and retailers in the sale of bread in Pittsburgh. The bread will be sold by the ounce, instead of by
the loaf.

Reports have come to the Interstate Commerce Commission of widespread
bribery by business concerns to have
freight cars placed on sidings to be loaded or unloaded while other freight waits. The evil is said to rival the old rebate system. Certain employees
in switchyards are believed to be making big take-offs.

GENERAL

A strike of 4,500 workmen on the
new army general hospital halted construction in Chicago.

The Board of Estimate approved a plan for a great concrete walk at Coney Island at a cost of about $2,000-000. It will be eighty feet wide and a mile and a half long.

Members of the American Communist Labor party urged "organization of the working class to capture
the state's power and establish a dictatorship of the proletariat," according to testimony read to the jury
in the trial of nineteen members of the party in Chicago.

The Single Tax party adopted the
following platform in Chicago: "Full
rental value of land shall be collected
by the government instead of taxes
and all buildings and other improvements on land, all industry, thrift and
enterprise, all wages, salaries and incomes and every product of labor be exempt from tax."

Eleven thousand barrels of whiskey,
valued at $4,000,000, was sold by a Kentucky distillery to a Chicago
wholesale drug firm, which will dispose of the liquor to drug stores for medical purposes.

The Kansas City Federal Reserve
Bank is the only one that has tried
a progressive discount rate.

A life saving jacket bearing a strand
of faded blond hair was picked up in the Delaware river. The name of the ship, Eastlands, still remains clear
and distinct though the jacket was apparently adrift for five years.

Miss Julia L. Stinson of New York
city was appointed by Secretary Baker
as superintendent of the Army Nursing Corps with the relative rank of major.

It is announced that New York state

democrats will adopt a picnic as well
as possible when they meet in convention at Saratoga.

Members of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks employed on the Big Four
voted to strike because posting of vacancies under the seniority rule of the national agreement was eliminated in
the author's department, Grand President E. H. Fitzgerald announced.

Mortimer L. Schiff, New York banker, was appointed chairman of the American delegation of Boy Scouts of America officials which will attend the
first international conference of scout executions in London on July 26-30.

Three women and five men were arrested in Cleveland, breaking up a
well-organized whiskey running campaign. The women were delivering the whiskey to the men in suitcases, which
they carried from Pittsburgh.

SPORTING

William M. Johnston, California, defeated U. C. Parks of the British team, 6-4, 6-4, 2-6, 3-6, 6-2, in the first set
for the Davis Cup. William T. Tilden
of Philadelphia defeated A. R. F. King-
scote, 4-5, 6-1, 6-5, 6-1.

Sir Thomas Lipton's victory with his Shamrock IV. caused more interest
throughout the British empire than the conference at the Spa.

Entry lists for the athletic events in
the Olympic games at Antwerp, Belgium, which were issued by the Executive Committee, show only 18 countries
will participate. Acceptances, however, were received from several others,
including France, Norway, Australia, New Zealand and Japan, but
their lists have not arrived.

The Philadelphia American League
Club paid $7,500 in cash and a player
for Outfielder Frank Walker, it was announced at Rocky Mount, N. C. This is said to be the largest sum ever paid
for a Virginia League player. Walker
was rated as a star outfielder in the Virginia circuit and hit for better than
.400 during the first half of the present season.

"Babe" Ruth, star batter of the New York American League Club, knocked
out his twenty-ninth home run in the game against St. Louis in New York,
equaling the major league record he
made last year.

The New York Yanks now have entered into competition with the Athletics, Senators, St. Louis Cards, the Chicago Cubs and Cleveland for the purchase of Frank C. Brower, the leading first baseman, who is the
"Babe" Ruth of the International League. He has had 22 homers to date, and his average is .419 for 74
games.

Twice within an hour Miss Ethelda Bleichrodt of the New York Women's Swimming Association bettered the world's record for swimming 500 yards
in final Olympic water trials for women in the lagoon of the Manhattan Beach baths, New York city.

The Tri-County Tractor Demonstration At Queen Anne, Md.

Tuesday, August 3, 1920.

The Tri-County Tractor Demonstration which is to be held at Queen Anne, on the farm of Judge Clark, August 3rd, is expected to be the largest affair of the kind ever held in the state. Farmers are taking great interest in the plans, as the field to be plowed is stiff soil covered with heavy old clover sod. They are expecting to see a real test, as only the best tractors and plows will do good work under such conditions. Rivalry is keen among the tractor dealers and manufacturers who are entering, and each will do his best to outclass his competitors.

In addition to all styles and sizes of tractors, quite a variety of farm machinery will be shown. The location is ideal, as the field is readily accessible from any point on the peninsula. Quite a few families are expecting to make an all-day picnic of the demonstration, thus combining business with pleasure. The County Agents of the counties of Caroline, Talbot and Queen Anne are acting as a board of managers.

Extension Service University of Maryland and U. S. Department of Agriculture Co-operating.

The farm boys who are doing agricultural club work under the direction of the University of Maryland Extension Service will be in the spotlight at the Tractor Demonstration this year as a result of the marked interest which the fair officials have shown in this feature of the Extension Service program and the generous prizes which are being offered for youthful competitors.

Out of a total of $7,000 appropriated for the various exhibits nearly a third of the prizes will go to boy club members.

The best awards will be offered in the dairy cattle judging contest where it will be possible for one boy to win the equivalent of nearly $200 without any expense on his part.

Chief interest, perhaps, will be aroused in the team judging contest in which three boys from each county in the state will take part.

Four breeds of dairy cattle, Jerseys, Holsteins, Guernseys and Ayrshires will be presented in the judging rings as types on which the young judges may exercise their skill. The first prize will be $100, and four others, from $75 to $15 to the next best teams. The rules will be the same as those used at the National Dairy Show, and the only requirements for contestants will be that they are between the ages of 12 and 18 years, are sons of bona fide farmers and members of agricultural clubs. Five individual prizes ranging from $25 to $5 are offered, and a sweepstakes of the choice of a bull calf. The three contestants making the best showing will be given a free trip to the National Dairy Show at Chicago.

The boys who attend the Club Week at the University of Maryland, August 2 to 6, will have an opportunity for special training in judging dairy cattle.

Mrs. Linda Harrod Endorses Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and tried everything I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I got immediate relief from that day on, and have since taken them regularly. Since taking two bottles I eat anything I want without distress," writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Airplane at Berlin.

Berlin enjoyed its first intimate association with an airplane when a small Curtis plane of the K. L. C. Co., of Norfolk, landed last Friday morning on the farm of J. H. Faham, near the town limits, and announced flights of ten minutes at $10 each. It was visited by hundreds of interested men, women and children from near and far, many walking and others driving.

About fifteen of the more adventurous improved the opportunity to take a sail in the blue above Mother Earth, some from as far away as Dagsboro. Among the number were Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Law, Powell Esham, Rudolph Brown, "Bill" Ayres and Carlton Powell. Some of the trips went over Synepuxent Bay. Most of them sailed over and around the town, sometimes so low that the lettering, "American Legion" was plainly visible. The plane came here from Snow Hill, and left Wednesday morning for Lewistown and Atlantic City.

Colds Affect the Kidneys

Many People Have Found This to Be True.

Are you bothered in bad weather? Does every cold settle on your kidneys? Does your back ache and become weak? Are urinal passages irregular and distressing? These are signs and symptoms of kidney weakness.

Weak kidneys need quick help. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weakened kidneys. Berlin people commend them.

Russell F. Harmonson, prop. Atlantic Hotel, Berlin, says: "Being on my feet most of a time and the effect of colds have been responsible for the backache and other kidney troubles I have had. At such times, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, and they have never failed to give good results."

Price 50c. a all dealers. Don't simply ask for kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Harmonson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

The president of Milford, (Del.) Council, Capt. William Murphy, and two Councilmen resigned, Tuesday, because the remaining members insisted on discharging Chief of Police Baker for enforcing speed laws.

LESSON FOR JULY 25

DAVID SUCCEEDS SAUL AS KING.

LESSON TEXT—II Sam. 1:1-4; 5:1-5.
GOLDEN TEXT—Trust in the Lord with
all thy heart, and lean not upon thine own understanding.—Prov. 3:5.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—I Sam. 21:
1-5; II Sam. 1:27; 5:1-5.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Shepherd Boy
Becomes a King.
JUNIOR TOPIC—How David Became a
King.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
The Secret of David's Success.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
True Success and How to Win It.

The death of Saul lay open to David the path to the throne. This would have rejoiced the heart of many, but David was sad. Instead of reward being given to the slayer of Saul, quick vengeance was executed upon him.

David Made King Over Judah
(2:1-4).

He knew full well that the Lord by the hand of Samuel had anointed him to be the successor of Saul. He had learned the essential lesson which the School of Providence was designed to teach, namely, that the position now
open to him was no easy one to fill.
His exile and sufferings gave him self-control. He had the good sense to know that promotion to the throne did but bring "harder duties and multiplied perplexities." He threw himself upon God and asked for guidance. He rendered instant obedience to the Lord's answer. If we are to enjoy God's fellowship and blessing we must render quick obedience. He made a right beginning, therefore God prospered him. When he reached Hebron, the men of Judah came and anointed him king over them. Thus a part of the nation recognized him as king and ratified the work which Samuel did many years before. When David went up he took with him all who had been with him in exile and suffering. They are now sharing with him in the kingdom. When David's great son, Christ, shall enter upon his glorious reign,
those who have been faithful to him
in his rejection shall reign with him.
"If we suffer we shall also reign with him." (II Tim. 2:12); "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me
in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my father in his throne." (Rev. 3:21).

II. David's Behavior Toward the Men of Jabesh-Gilead (2:4-7).

The men of Jabesh-Gilead much to Saul (I Sam. 31), and they showed faithful recognition by making a daring dash to rescue his body from the ignominious exposure of the field.

for their affection of his body.

Saul's exhibition of his envy. His love for the unfortunate king survived all the injuries which he suffered at his hands. He forgave and forgot them all. This was an act of political shrewdness as well as a generous one. In fact the only policy which proves effective is that which proceeds from a generous heart. He definitely follows this generous commendation with a solicitude for the men of Jabesh to transfer their loyalty to himself, since he is now their legal king. Since Saul is now dead, he urges them to be valiant for him. In view of the civil war which was to follow he knew it would require valiant men to stand by God's king. This appeal to be valiant is needed now, for
we are all called upon to take sides
between God's appointed king, Jesus Christ, and Satan, the pretender to throne. May Christ's appeal result in making us faithful and valiant for him.

III. The Dual Kingdom—Between the House of Saul and the House of David (2:8-12).

This period of civil war lasted seven and a half years. Most of the tribes of Israel clung to Ishbosheth, Saul's son, whom Abner had proclaimed king
at Mahanaim. Feuds continued between the rival generals. David's power increased while that of Ishbo-sheth's waned.

IV. David Crowned King Over
United Israel (5:1-5).

Though the struggle for supremacy
lasted long and was a bitter one, Abner's death and Ishbosheth's assassination put an end to David's opposition.
David's behavior during this time gradually won for him the confidence of the tribes so that they all came to him
at Hebron and anointed him as their king. They accepted his divine right to rule (v. 3). The reasons for anointing him their king were:

1. He is their brother (v. 1). This is true of Christ our King. Through the incarnation he has become one with us.
2. He was their true leader in war,
even in Saul's time (v. 2).
3. He was the Lord's choice (v. 2).

Procrastination is helping the devil
in retarding righteousness in the world. Remember that legend of how he summoned his imperial staff and offered a reward to the member who would suggest the best way to destroy a human soul. One said, Convince him there is no God. Another said, Prove there is no immortality and no truth in the Bible. But still another suggested, Convince him that there is no hurry about his carrying out his good resolutions. And the devil gave that one the prize.—Bishop Taubert.

Constantinople.

Within its girdling walls Constantinople rises, like Rome on its seven low hills, crowned by the splendors of mosques, whose gleaming cupolas
and minarets, silhouetted against the blue sky, look down on the waters of the Bosphorus. A strange, incongruous jumble of palatial buildings and tumble-down hovels, of stately avenues, and fifth-littered lanes, flanked by malodorous bazars, through which the human tide streams and surges.

The Great Mystery

By REV. L. W. GOSNELL
Assistant Dean, Moody Bible
Institute, Chicago.

TEXT—That the Gentiles should be fellow heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the gospel.—Eph. 3:6.

In the verses preceding the text,
Paul has been speaking of a mystery,
hidden in former ages, but now revealed to God's apostles and prophets. In the New Testament a mystery is a secret, not known
until revealed by God. There are various such mysteries, as those of the kingdom of heaven, the mystery of Israel's
blindness, etc.
But Paul is now dealing with a matter which he
designates "the mystery," as if all others were subordinate to it. The text tells us just what it is.

Our inheritance.

First, the Gentiles are now "fellow heirs" with the Jews. In the Old Testament it was shown that the Gentiles would some day be blessed through Israel as the channel, the Gentiles taking a subordinate place;
now it appears that in this dispensation the Gentiles are to be blessed side
by side with the Jews, as fellow heirs.
Moreover, the inheritance is different from that especially promised to Israel, who looked for a glorious and expected to inherit the earth. Now, we are blessed with all spiritual blessings
in the heavenly places (Eph. 1:3), and our inheritance is incorruptible, un-defiled and fading, not away (I Peter 1:4). Indeed, it is made clear we are to be joint-heirs with Jesus Christ
(Rom. 8:17). Our thoughts stagger as we hear the words of our Lord:
"To him that overcometh will I grant
to sit with me in my throne" (Rev.
3:21). The Jews expected to be blessed under Messiah's sway, but what heart ever conceived such a privilege as is involved in being fellow heirs!

The Mystical Body.

Next, Jews and Gentiles are to be
"fellow members of the body" (I V.).
No Old Testament saint ever dreamed of such a thing as is here set forth. Christ is the risen, the glorified Head of the Church. Believers are members of his mystical body. As joined to the Head, they draw life
from him as do the branches of a tree
from the trunk.

Another as fellow members of the body

in a union such as the world has never dreamed of. This has been brought about by the Spirit given at Pentecost. "For by one Spirit we are all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink of one Spirit" (I Cor. 12:13).
Just as we manifest ourselves through our bodies, so Christ will, ever in the ages to come, manifest himself through
the church, which is his body.

Finally, Jews and Gentiles are now
"fellow-partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel." The Jews expected to be blessed under the Messiah; here it is made clear
we are now blessed "in Christ," in vital union with him. Moreover, the promise in the gospel is different from such promises made to Abraham as
that he should possess the gate of his enemies. What the final fulfillment of the promise in the gospel shall mean,
who can imagine?

No wonder Paul was elated, yet humbled, that the apostleship of this mystery was committed to him, "less than the least of all saints," and that he talks about "the unsearchable riches of Christ." No wonder he wishes
"to make all men see what is the fellowship (I V., dispensation) of the mystery." And, finally, he tells us that the purpose of making known God's wondrous dealing with men in the church in this dispensation is "that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be made known by the church the manifold wisdom of God" (v. 10).

Such a gospel is worth suffering for and the apostle concludes: "Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory" (v. 13).

Do we appreciate with him "the mystery"? Do we know "the unsearchable riches of Christ"? Well may we try to hear a story thus related by Bishop Moule: "May it be with us
somewhat as it was, a hundred years ago and more, with Dr. William Conyers, vicar of Helmsley, in Yorkshire.
Farmer, conscientious, but as yet spiritually unilluminated, he toiled among his parishioners with vast diligence, but always inwardly disappointed. One day, reading his Bible, he lit upon these words, 'The unsearchable riches of Christ.' They struck him with a profound surprise and a strange misgiving; could Christ, who had seemed to him hitherto a figure in his theology so august yet so intelligible, so familiar, be the Christ of these words?
And he did not rest until he had found him indeed in the glory of his salvation, and had felt life transformed in his light."

Gas for Balloons.

Hydrogen is the gas most commonly used for balloons. It requires about 1,250 cubic feet to lift a balloon weighing 100 pounds. Coal gas is sometimes used, as it is cheaper, but is not entirely satisfactory because of its great heaviness.

Looks That Way.

To a person, five feet tall standing on the beach at seaside, the horizon is about two and three-quarters miles away.

FARM ANIMALS

POINTERS FOR BEEF GROWERS

C. Method of Bringing Down Prices of Meat Is Improvement in Type of Animals.

General improvement in the type and quality of beef animals the country
over is one of the means urged by the United States Department of Agriculture for bringing down the high cost of meat to the consumer and,
at the same time, increasing the profit of the producer. Some of the most essential items in growing beef on the farm, specialists of the department

say, are:

Plenty of pasture and feed.

The right kind of cows—those that will produce good calves regularly.

A good, pure bred registered bull—
one that will sire good calves persistently.

A large calf crop. This means that all cows shall drop calves, and that the calves shall be properly cared for
at birth.

Proper care of the breeding herd
and the calves.

Selection of good heifer calves to replace old or inferior cows.

Prevention of disease among the breeding herd and the younger stock.

Shelter sufficient to protect the cattle from both severe cold and extremely hot weather.

A practical knowledge of fattening
cattle for market.

Marketing to advantage.

There is a farmers' bulletin, No. 1073,
on growing beef on the farm that may be had free on application to the District of Agriculture, United States Department of Agriculture.

Practice Is Unprofitable, According to Pork Production Tests at the Ohio Station.

Hogging down rye is an unprofitable practice, according to tests made in pork production at the Ohio experiment station. The tests show that it is generally more profitable to harvest
the grain and sell it as a cash crop or to feed the grain to hogs after thrashing rather than to allow the hogs to harvest the grain themselves.

Specialists point out that the daily
increase per pig when hogging down
rye is generally less than half a pound
and that the amount of grain required
to produce 100 pounds of gain is much higher than where the grain is fed directly to the hogs. As a rule, about 611 pounds of rye, hogged down, were required to produce 100 pounds of gain, whereas hogs fed on corn with clover and clover pasture required
but 331 pounds of concentrates to produce the same amount of gain.

The unprofitableness of hogging down rye is attributed to the fact that hogs are either unable to secure rye
in sufficient quantities or are inclined to eat only slightly more than is required for maintenance.

A small portion of the meat with an equal portion of the good vegetables which combines with it,
with an appropriate sauce will make a most satisfying dish of food that would be otherwise
wasted.

Greased Chicken With Asparagus
Tips.—Cut the chicken meat in half length pieces, discarding all hard portions. Season with salt, pepper, a teaspoonful of lemon juice to one cupful of rice meat. Add a half cupful of chicken stock, taken from the bones,
wing tips and wash portions of skin,
and simmer gently for ten minutes;
then add half a cupful of cooked
asparagus tips to each cupful of chicken, and let it heat. Make a half-cupful of white sauce using two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour to a cupful of milk; when the sauce is cooked, stir in the beaten egg thickened
with a teaspoonful of cold water, and remove from the heat at once. Add this to the hot chicken and serve immediately. Garnish the platter with triangles of well-browned toast.

Chicken and Corn Salad.—Cook
one cupful of the tender stalks of celery in boiling salt water until tender. Save the water to make the sauce. The celery should be cut into small pieces. To each cupful of celery water add two tablespoonfuls each of flour and butter which have been cooked together; season with salt, pepper, add a half-cupful of this cream or milk, and when blended and well cooked add the cold celery. Put a few buttered croutons into the baking dish, arrange the cold chicken and sauce in alternate layers. Cover with well buttered crumbs and brown
in a hot oven.

Spiced Birds.—Cut into small bits
any cold roast or cooked chicken,
season well to taste, and roll the meat
in slices of bacon, binding together with a toothpick. Bake these in a hot oven about fifteen minutes, basting and turning the birds. Serve hot on a garnished platter. This is a very good luncheon dish.

stables, pens, and poultry houses, Rawleigh's Dip & Disinfectant is unequalled. Users say it is the best on the market.

HARMLESS TO STOCK—DEADLY TO VERMIN
Rawleigh's Dip & Disinfectant is nearly five times stronger than carbolic acid in germicidal strength, yet when diluted
according to directions is harmless, non-poisonous and effective.
Removes many disagreeable odors, repels flies and helps prevent many contagious diseases. Also widely used in the treatment of ordinary mange, scab, itch and many forms of infectious sores. Try Rawleigh's D. & D. You'll find it highly effective for every purpose where a Dip or Disinfectant is required. Try it on my pay-after-you-are-satisfied plan.

EFFICIENT—ECONOMICAL—UNEQUALLED
I can supply you with any quantity from one-half gallon to as many barrels as you need.

OCEAN CITY.

Last Sunday was a day of excitement. About 2 o'clock a. m. a special train bringing "The Tall Cedars of Lebanon," reached town. They brought a big brass band, and proceeded to march all over the city playing at full blast, which waked up the entire community. The members wore a peculiar little green cap, showing emblems of the Order, and the next day wherever it appeared, the general public, like the people of the famous "Donnybrook Fair," wanted to hit it. The initiation of "Saplings" also took place, which is said to be a very strenuous ceremony.

10 persons were rescued during the day from the boisterous ocean waves. Dale Showell brought out two—The Coast Guard were kept busy all day, and finally launched the lifeboat, and kept it out, until the backing was over. A singular thing about these rescues is that after the men risk their lives to save others, and then use time and effort in resuscitating them, the rescued ones seldom return to express appreciation or return thanks for the brave and unselfish act of the rescuer. One man went in response to the call for help, fully dressed, and thus met with material loss, but the man saved never returned.

After dinner the awful wait of the fire men struck terror into all hearts. The fire was due to an explosion of gasoline from a cigarette in the Atlantic Hotel garage, which was full of handsome cars. Our splendid fire-fighters responded so promptly that they saved the day. These brave boys never hesitate a second, when danger calls, to risk life and limb, and best of clove, in the unselfish work of their choice. And again we wonder at the apparent want of understanding and appreciation of what the fire call means to the fire company, a volunteer company who serve without pay, and even buy their own equipment themselves.

Charles McGregor visited town lately, and reports a good business outlook in Greensboro, N. C.

Co. I, of Salisbury, visited Ocean City last Sunday and were welcomed with enthusiasm by the citizens. The band which accompanied them, led by the thought of the day's sacrifice. This fine, grand body of young manhood, accompanied by a band which discoursed sweet music from the Mt. Vernon porch, both afternoon and evening. They enjoyed a typical Eastern Shore supper at the Mt. Vernon Hotel, to which they were summoned by the bugle call for mess, as on the battle fields of France. It is a glorious thing to have served one's country and the world in such a cause, and to be heroes for all time.

Mrs. John B. Jones was operated on at the Salisbury Hospital this week and is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Wilbur Smith was operated on at her home, by Dr. Bryce Goldsborough, of Cambridge, this week, and is improving rapidly.

Clinton Coffin had a set-back, but is now pulling around. He has been confined to his bed since the first of April.

The fishing season for visitors is unusually fine, many being caught from the surf bank. The fish pounds are also doing well now, after much hard luck of various kinds.

Captain John B. Jones is again out on the Board walk, after many months of confinement to the house.

Educational Conference.

The Eastern District Baptist Educational Conference will meet at Ocean City from Sunday, July 25th to 28th, inclusive, beginning at 9 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when the Rev. H. L. Parkinson, of Salisbury, president of the conference, will preach.

Sessions will be held in the State Schoolhouse and in the new Methodist Church. Among the speakers expected are Dr. C. H. Pinchbeck, of Baltimore; Dr. William H. Parker, of Cincinnati; Mrs. V. H. Parker, of Boston; Rev. C. T. Hewitt, W. H. Baylor, J. C. Alderman, L. B. Taylor, B. G. Parker, James MacLeod and K. A. Handy.

Suffered Intense Pain.

"A few years ago when visiting relatives in Michigan, something I had eaten brought on an attack of cholera morbus," writes Mrs. Celesta McVicker, Mason, Mo. "I suffered intense pain and had to go to bed. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and one dose relieved the pain wonderfully. I only took two or three doses, but they did the work."

WASHINGTON

Appointment of a committee to visit
Havana, Cuba, in an effort to straight-
en out the port congestion prevailing
there and which has been acute for several months was announced by Secretary of Commerce Alexander.

Regardless of any action that may
be taken by Great Britain or other
allied nations with respect to resumption
of trade with Soviet Russia, the United States has no intention of going
further than its recent action.

Commissioner of Immigration Committal admitted that within a few weeks
another "Soviet Ark" will sail for a Russian port with nearly 600 Russian
aliens who have been held at Ellis Island under sentence of deportation.

Major John T. Axton of Hoboken,
who served at the Port of Embarka-
tion and was in charge of chaplains
who accompanied troops on transports
overseas, has been named by Secretary Baker as chief chaplain of the United States Army.

A finding that the Toledo Terminal
Railroad company is entitled to compensation for the use of its property
by the government during federal control at the rate of $252,900 a year
was made by a board of referees appointed by the International Commerce Commission to pass on the petition of the company.

A conference called by the Federal Horticultural Board to discuss federal
control of cotton planting in the pink
boll worm infested areas of Texas and Louisiana was attended by cotton
growers representing half a dozen
states.

NATION'S BUSINESS

The bottom of low prices in the wool
market is believed to have been touched in Boston.

After a three days' conference in
New York city the committee of bitu-
minous coal operators agreed at the offices of the New Haven railroad upon a plan to submit the Interstate Commerce Commission to end the coal
shortage crisis, due to lack of cars.
This plan was proposed to the railroad
executives by the operators.

In a statement issued at Scranton,
the United Mine Workers of America
charge that the anthracite coal companies made millions in "hidden prof-
its" each year.

A reduction in the price of bituminous coal was confidently predicted by
members of the subcommittee of railroad men and coal operators, who are
meeting at the office of Pennsylvania
railroad, in New York city.

With one-half of the railroad guar-
anty period over, the government is
"out" approximately $225,000,000. The government will lose $450,000,000 in
the six months' guaranty period.

President Wilson may revive the
fuel administration.

An agreement was reached between
wholesalers and retailers in the sale of
bread in Pittsburgh. The bread will be sold by the ounce, instead of by
the loaf.

Reports have come to the Interstate Commerce Commission of widespread
bribery by business concerns to have
freight cars placed on sidings to be loaded or unloaded without their freight
waits. The evil is said to rival the
old rebate system. Certain employees
in switchyards are believed to be making big take-offs.

GENERAL

A strike of 4,500 workmen on the
new army general hospital halted construction in Chicago.

The Board of Estimate approved a
plan for a great concrete walk at
Coney Island at a cost of about $2,000,
000. It will be eighty feet wide and a mile and a half long.

Members of the American Communist Labor party urged "organization of the working class to capture
the state's power and establish a dic-
tatorship of the proletariat," according to testimony read to the jury
in the trial of nineteen members of
the party in Chicago.

The Single Tax party adopted the
following platform in Chicago: "Full
rental value of land shall be collected
by the government instead of taxes
and all buildings and other improvements on land, all industry, thrift and
enterprise, all wages, salaries and in-
comes and every product of labor be
exempt from tax."

Eleven thousand barrels of whiskey,
valued at $400,000, was sold by a Kentucky distillery to a Chicago
wholesale drug firm, which will dispose of the liquor to drug stores for
medical purposes.

The Kansas City Federal Reserve
Bank is the only one that has tried
a progressive discount rate.

A life saving jacket bearing a strand
of faded blond hair was picked up in the Delaware river. The name of the ship, Lusitania, still remains clear
and distinct though the jacket was apparently adrift for five years.

Miss Julia L. Stinson of New York
city was appointed by Secretary Baker
as superintendent of the Army Nursing Corps with the relative rank of
major.

It is announced that New York state

democrats will adopt a plank as well
as possible when they meet in convention at Saratoga.

Members of the Brotherhood of Rail-
way Clerks employed on the Big Four voted to strike because posting of re-tardances under the seniority rule of the national agreement was eliminated in
the author's department, Grand President E. H. Fitzgerald announced.

Mortimer L. Schiff, New York banker, was appointed chairman of the American delegation of Boy Scouts of America officials which will attend the
first international conference of scout
executives in London on July 25-30.

Three women and five men were arrested in Cleveland, breaking up a
well-organized whiskey running campaign. The women were delivering the
whiskey to the men in suitcases, which
they carried from Pittsburgh.

SPORTING

William M. Johnston, California, defeated U. C. Parke of the British team, 6-4, 6-3, 2-6, 8-6, 6-2, in the first set
for the Davis Cup. William T. Tilden
of Philadelphia defeated A. R. F. King-
scote, 4-5, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1.

Sir Thomas Lipton's victory with his Shamrock IV. caused more interest

conference at the Spa.

Entry lists for the athletic events in
the Olympic games at Antwerp, Belgium, which were issued by the Executive Committee, show only 16 countries
will participate. Acceptances, however, were received from several others,
including France, Norway, Australia, New Zealand and Japan, but
their lists have not arrived.

The Philadelphia American League
Club paid $7,500 in cash and a player
for outfielder Frank Walker. It was announced at Rocky Mount, N. C. This
is said to be the largest sum ever paid
for a Virginia League player. Walker
was rated as a star outfielder in the Virginia circuit and hit for better than 400 during the first half of the present season.

"Babe" Ruth, star batter of the New York American League Club, knocked
out his twenty-ninth home run in the
game against St. Louis in New York,
equaling the major league record he
made last year.

The New York Yanks now have entered into competition with the Athletics, Senators, St. Louis Cards, the Chicago Cubs and Cleveland for the purchase of Frank C. Brower, the Reading first baseman, who is the
"Babe" Ruth of the International League. He has had 22 homers to date, and his average is .419 for 74
games.

Twice within an hour Miss Ethelda
Bleibrey of the New York Women's

Six months of national prohibition by constitutional amendment has convinced enforcement officers that it is impossible to make the states dry unless they are backed by public sentiment.

The five German surface warships allocated to the United States sailed from Brest July 13 and are due to arrive at New York August 3, it was announced at the navy department.

The war department has announced that President Wilson appointed seven major generals and 22 brigadier generals under the new army organization bill.

CHEMISTS know which soaps
are best for washing.

Their tests show that most soaps
are "loaded" with expensive
fillers which have no washing value.

These same tests show there is nothing but honest washing quality in every cake of

DO YOU KNOW

That this is not a sure thing, can't lose proposition, but an intelligent speculative investment?

NOW!

The average man is not afraid of losing two hundred and fifty dollars and if it can be shown that he is getting an honest run for his money will invest. I stand ready to prove to you that I have a proposition where in a two hundred and fifty dollar investment has possibilities of making you two hundred and fifty thousand dollars—yes, you may lose the two hundred and fifty dollars, but don't you think you owe it to yourself as a good business proposition to spend two cents to get full particulars and then decide?

All Should Tell.
Ideal social progress requires the productive activity of every human being capable of adding to the general total.
This is Utopia. It ought not to be so much of a dream, but it will be what it is so long as human nature remains what it is. Men differ so much. Some acquire laziness, and some are born lazy. But the results are the same. You even have aristocratic loafers who pull all sorts of hereditary stuff in making believe attempts at superiority. They would have you subsidize them, and guarantee their future against want and work. It's all both. They have no claim upon humanity other than a right to an opportunity to make good in the world. Instead of an easy time they need the proof of necessity. The lazy few, be they poor or rich, are the dross of society.—Exchange.

WASHINGTON

A statement issued by Comptroller of the Currency Williams states that Wyoming has the largest number of deposit accounts in proportion to population, with 504 bank depositors per 1,000 of population.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor received and tabulated reports concerning the volume of employment in June, 1920, from representative establishments in thirteen manufacturing industries and in coal mining. Comparing figures of June, 1920, with those of identical establishments for June, 1919,
it appears that in ten industries there were increases in the number of persons employed.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement criticizes the railway wage award. He declares the railroad men are "unhappy and they have a right to be."

Compensation for increased costs to meet the wage advance given railroad employees were presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission by Alfred B. Thomas, general counsel for the Association of Railway Executives.
General figures give the Tulsa, Okla., population as 72,075, an increase of 400 per cent.

An 12 per cent. increase in freight rates will be paid by the 21st of the month to the 21st of the month.
The Labor Department announced
an increase of 2.5 per cent. in retail prices for the month ending July 25.

Objections to a proposed increase in express rates has been raised by the
made in a brief filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission by the State Railroad and Utilities Commissions of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Eight thousand applications have been received for the purchase of farms in Oklahoma under the home loan act.

The volume of freight carried on the Erie railroad the first four months of private operation, ending June, this year, increased 14 per cent; the total movement representing 9,715,892,780
tons of freight hauled one mile, 444, 461,372 more than the same period in 1919.

U. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the National Coal Association, warned soft coal operators that their failure to meet urgent fuel needs in this country means continuous government control.

It was announced by the United Textile Workers of America that no injunction will be asked to reopen the plants of the American Woolen Company. An investigation of the causes of the shutdown will be carried out.

There will be no railroad strike.
This assurance, though given unofficially, aptly represents the reaction at the headquarters in Washington of the American Federation of Labor to the $200,000,000 wage increase awarded announced by Labor Board at Chicago.
While the increases are not entirely satisfactory, it was stated, they constitute a "good start" toward the desired total.

GENERAL

Announcement was made in Cleveland of a gift of $500,000 by J. H.
Wade to the Cleveland Museum of Art
to buy works of art.

Six battleships of the Atlantic fleet
—the Michigan, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Kansas, Minnesota and South Carolina—arrived at Seattle from Honolulu. Aboard the ships were 1,500 midshipmen from Annapolis.
At a hearing being conducted by a sub-committee of the House Japanese birth rates exceed white births in number in the agricultural sections of Los Angeles, Dr. J. L. Pomroy, county health officer, declared.

A cargo of 8,000 tons of refined sugar was brought to this country on the British steamer Balzac from Montevidio, consigned to American importers.

Evelyn Bergdoll, brother of Grover
C., who was missing for three years and is charged with draft evasion, interrupted the court martial at Governors Island, New York, of Lieut. Col.
Hunt, charged with neglect of duty in the matter of the escape of Grover C.
Bergdoll, when he surrendered.

speaking tour in the central and eastern states.

MIGHT BE "PUSSY'S" COUSIN Though Civet Cat Makes Its Home in the Open, and is Larger Than House Cat.

Ever meet a basset hound?
No, not a basset hound; that is something different. A basset hound is a cat.

But the animal is better known as the "civet cat"—though why so called nobody knows, inasmuch as it is not a civet and not a cat.

It is a strange little creature, related to the raccoon, with a very long furry tail ringed in black and white.
Sometimes it is called a "ring-tailed cat" and sometimes a "cat squirrel"—
the latter designation bestowed on account of its squirrel-like habit of climbing trees and nesting in hollow branches.

Like a cat, it catches rats, mice and small birds. It is about 16 inches long, not counting the tail, which measures another 16 inches. In color it is brownish gray. It is a night prowler, like a cat, and often makes its home in outbuildings and deserted ranch houses.

The civet cat ranges from Mexico
and Texas to California and as far north as southern Oregon. Occasionally it is kept in captivity, making an attractive and interesting pet.

INDEPENDENT REFORM.

State Officers Arrest
Auto Law Violators.

State Automobile Commissioner
Baughman and a force of motorcycle policemen reached Berlin last Friday in their search of the state
for violators of the automobile code.
Numerous arrests were made, mostly
at the Crossroads and along the Ocean City-Salisbury road, and fines imposed. One man, who refused to pay his fine, was sent to the county jail. It is to be hoped that the public will profit in a decrease of accidents caused by speeders,
insufficient lights, lights not properly
dimmed, and intoxicated drivers.
By the way, we are informed on reliable authority that it is nothing unusual to see a motor policeman
exceeding the speed limit, even when not in pursuit of violators,
which provision is made in the law. Speeding is as dangerous a practice for the policeman as for the private citizen, and the officer sets an even worse example. The people have a right to look to the lawmakers and law-enforcers for a model for their own conduct.

America's Cup Still Ours.

The series of races between Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV and the American yacht Resolute for the possession of the America's cup ended on Tuesday with the Resolute the winner of three out of five races.

The coveted prize, which is operated by the boats of any nation, was won by the American victor, the Resolute, during the race.

Willards Camp.

Willards camp-meeting, which is one of the largest on the eastern side of the county, will begin on Friday, August 14th, and continue over two Sundays.

This camp is easily accessible by State road and railroad, and always draws a large crowd. As a crowning feature, the pastor in charge
was fortunate enough to procure the service of the now-famous evangelist, better known as the "prize-fighting Joe Lynch," who now ranks as an evangelist in the style of Billy Sunday. Professor Nicholson, of Philadelphia, the well-known favorite, will aid in conducting the song service. The combination of Lynch and Nicholson will prove a great attraction. Hall and Mack have arranged to attend and will add interest to the services with their harmonious melody and pleasant style of entertainment. A number of noted preachers are expected.
This camp bids fair to be one of the leading camps on the lower peninsula. There is ample parking ground for automobiles and a splendid boarding tent, where all the "cats" will be found to meet the needs of the occasion.

The dollar you owe for your subscription is a small matter to you,

Fruit growers from all parts of the state and from the nearby sections of Virginia, Pennsylvania and Delaware will be present at the midsummer meeting of the Maryland
State Horticultural Society at New Windsor, Thursday, July 29th,
when they will be the guests of the Carroll County orchardists.

This will be the first summer
meeting of the Society for two years,
and Secretary S. B. Shaw has taken special pains to arrange a program that will attract the fruit growers
despite the busy season of the year and the probable hot weather. The problems of marketing, which are eliciting the attention of producers, consumers and economists everywhere will be discussed by the speakers who have been secured to address the meeting.

It is to be hoped that the fruit growers of the state the very best advice and experience on the subject, Secretary Shaw has gone out of Maryland for his leading speaker, who will be C. C.
E. Bassett, of New York, a man who has been in close touch for years with marketing methods and practices all over the country. Mr.
Bassett is expected to give his hearers some valuable points on the best methods of putting fruit on the market, and his connection with the North American Fruit Exchange will enable him to give practical advice on the subject. Dr. F. B.
Bomberger, Assistant Director of the University of Maryland Extension Service, also will speak on the marketing problem, confining his remarks chiefly to the progress
which has been made in Maryland
in this connection.

Robert B. Evans, a sixteen-year-old member of one of the agricultural boys' clubs of Harford County, has been invited to address the Society on the subject of fruit growing
as a possibility for boy club members. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Blue Ridge College, and will be presided over by A. P. Snader, President of the Society.

The morning will be spent in an auto tour of orchard property in the vicinity of New Windsor, and particular inspection of the Orchard, which is one of the most productive and best-paying orchards
in the State. The property consists of 195 acres, and belongs to a company headed by Mr. Snader.
The efficient manner in which the orchard has been managed will prove of interest to the horticulturists. Lunch will be served at 12:30 o'clock on the Blue Ridge College campus.

Let's Go.

It is said that among the American soldiers in the world war, when orders came to go over the top, that the trenches reverberated with the response, "Let's Go."

The American voter is face to face
with a most important civic duty.
For a half century war has been waged with varying fortunes against the American liquor traffic, until these efforts were crowned, January 16, 1920, with the incorporation of Prohibition in the Federal Constitution. Beaten in frontal attacks, the liquor interests are now resorting to guerrilla methods of warfare. They are planning by guileful methods
to elect a wet Congress, thus to secure the evaporation of the Volstead enforcement code. This they can and will accomplish, should the dry forces fail through indifference or over-confidence.

Every citizen should regard himself as a duly appointed committee
of one to rally all his friends and acquaintances to a supreme effort to elect a dry Congress.

Let no consideration, partisan or otherwise, command your vote for a wet or a non-committal candidate for Congress.

The crisis has come.

The achievements of the past are imperilled.

Let there be no hesitancy in entering this fight with Verdun resolution, the wets "shall not pass."

Let's go.—The American Issue.

BROUGHT BACK PYGMY HIPPO

Hunter Spent Weary Months in Jungles to Prove That the Species Really Existed.

It seems incredible, but there exist
hippopotami that do not exceed 30 inches in height. For a long while nobody believed that there were any pygmy hippos in Liberia. The natives insisted that the Hippopotamus Liberianus lived deep in the forests; but that was another reason why explorers
and hunters shook their heads in incredulity. The hippopotamus lives along the rivers, they said, and this talk about pygmies of this species in the forests is nonsense.

Nevertheless a pygmy hippo was caught as far back as 1873, and brought from Africa to the zoological garden in Dublin. It might have convinced the world, only it arrived in a poor condition, and perished before it could be exhibited. After that, people took to doubting it again, and considered the one recorded specimen as a freak. But Carl Hagenbach, the famous animal man, made up his mind,
at last, that the pygmy hippo could
be, and should be, introduced to man.
He sent an intrepid hunter, Schom-burgk, after it, and Schomburgk, after spending a year and a half in the jungle, reappeared with three pygmy
beasts, two of which were at once brought to the New York zoo and placed on exhibition.—New York Herald.

MAKE BUSINESS CALL BRIEF

Well to Remember That Executives, as a Rule, Have Little Time to Waste.

Month-talk or brain-talk — which kind do you chiefly use during a business call or conference? "I can't see half as many calls as I could see or say
I should like to see during the day because my callers, once they get in to see me, waste my time with incon-sequential talk," said a busy executive recently. "Consequently, my secretary is under instructions to admit only such persons as she thinks I must see."

If you make a business call know beforehand what you are going to present and how. Don't waste time in nonessentials and trivialities. Fix the objective of your talk before you call. It may be a yes-or-no decision;
it may be a promise merely to consider your proposition; it may be the fixing of a specific date when you can go into the matter in detail. Whatever your objective is, work toward it as rapidly
as you can, and when you have reached it pick up your hat and say
"Good-by." This is one of the surest ways of making a favorable impression.—Face Student.

Always the Boss.
I was visiting my brother, who is a country minister, and one day he asked me to be a witness at the wedding of a couple who had just come from the hotel.

The bridegroom was a young man,
and the bride a young woman, both fairly well known to me. The bridegroom was a young man, and the bride
a young woman, both fairly well known to me.

"Turning to me, she said in a stage whisper, 'Ain't he cute? I married him because he is so much smaller than me, and he's six years younger, too, so I can manage him. I've always been boss, and I always mean to be.'
Strange to say, upon inquiring about this couple some five years later, I found that they were an exceedingly happy and prosperous pair.—Chicago Tribune.

"Farm" That Raises Jewels.

The island of the Holy Ghost, Lower California, has the only farm in the world which sows and reaps a crop of jewels. Through artificial propagation and care pearls are actually raised there in the San Gabriel Cove. In their natural condition the pearl beds are scattered and the oysters are prey to many submarine foes, but on this farm
they are protected by a substantial masonry dike which walls off a portion of the bay, reaching above high-water mark. Openings admit the free passage of the sea water, but are guarded by heavy sentries. The bottom of this segregated area was cleared of all growth and paved with rock brought from the mainland and laid by divers. Here the pearl oysters are cultivated just as edible oysters are.

Soldiers Feel Wounds They Inflict.
Mr. Arthur Macdonald of Washington, honorary president of the International congress of criminal anthropology, tells in the Medical Record
some of the oddities noticed in nervous soldiers. For instance:

One "who bayonets another in the face may develop a hysterical tic in his own face; one bayonetting assessins in the abdomen may have abdominal contractures in himself. Hysterical blindness may follow from seeing horrible sights; hysterical deafness when the cries of the wounded are unbearable."

And he adds that in some of these cases the only relief is a real wound.

Pilotless Airplane Flies Far.
For two years experiments have been making in France with a pilot-
less airplane which seems to be a success. The apparatus is guided from land by telemechanic means. At a trial before Colonel Dbs, director of aviation, it traveled over a prescribed course of 180 kilometers and landed at a designated airfield.

"Grand Old Man"

The term "Grand Old Man" was applied to Mr. Gladstone in 1882, and is accredited to John Bright, who used
it in a speech that year in Northampton, England. In America the phrase was appropriated and changed by members of the Republican party, who affectionately called it the "Grand Old Party." This at once became a newspaper slogan and in the headlines was shortened to "G. O. P."

The census figures announced on Monday in Washington give Sussex County, Delaware, 5,665 less acres
of farm lands than the census of ten years ago, the figure for 1910 being 469,178, and for the year, 413,513.
There has also been a decrease of 104 farms. The value of the farm lands and buildings has increased,
however, from $16,456 to $21, 272,107. There seems no way to account for the shrinkage unless the land was washed away by the tides.
If it should continue, the whole county would be laid out in about a century.

LIVE STOCK

LESS FARM ANIMALS IN 1919
Interesting to Note That Mules and Milch Cows Show Slight Increase in Numbers.

A slight increase in the number of milch cows and mules and a moderate decrease in the number of other cattle (calves, steers, bulls, and cows not for milch), horses, sheep, and swine are the outstanding features of a survey of live stock on farms and ranges of the United States on January 1, as compared with a year ago, made by the bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture.

Milch cows have increased about 272,000 head, or 1.2 per cent; mules increased 41,000 head or 1.8 per cent; "other" cattle (as designated above) decreased 400,000 head, or 1.3 per cent; horses decreased 873,000 head, or 1.7 per cent; sheep decreased 254,000 head, or 0.5 per cent; and swine decreased 1,075,000 head, or 2.2 per cent.

The estimated number of animals on farms and ranges January 1 are 21,309,000 horses, 4,905,000 mules, 23,747,000 milch cows, 44,885,000 other cattle, 48,815,000 sheep, and 72,900,000 hogs. The total of all animals is 215,790,000, which is 2,898,000 head, or 1.2 per cent, less than a year ago.

The total value of all farm animals on January 1 was about $8,561,000,000, which is a shrinkage of $294,000,000, or 3 per cent, compared with a year ago. It is an interesting observation that mules and milch cows which increased in numbers also increased in value per head; whereas other classes of animals decreased in value per head, as well as in numbers.

RULES FOR LIVE STOCK MEN

Satisfied Purchaser Is Best Advertisement and Breeder Should Live Up to Guarantee.

Here are ten good rules for live stock breeders, vouchered for by the animal husbandry men at the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca:

1. Be honest.
2. Choose a breed, and stick to it.
3. Breed with the correct type in mind.
4. Study pedigree for inherited characteristics, relative merit and value.
5. Keep your herd or flock free from disease.
6. Develop the young animals and maintain the breeding animals through wise feeding and management.
7. Invest better live stock in your community.
8. Advertise judiciously.
9. Exhibit at the county, state and other live stock shows.
10. Remember that a satisfied purchaser is your best advertisement. So be prompt in registering and transferring animals, and make good all guarantees.

BUSINESS OF FEEDING STOCK

Frequent Shifts and Changes Require One Should Be Alive to Keep Up With Procession.

The business of feeding livestock is a shifting, changing sort of thing which requires that one should be alive if he is going to keep up with the procession. If you wish to make the most profit you must use economy in production and in feeding. If you do this, and profit to the greatest extent from the experience of your neighbors and from the experiment stations, your chances of success are good.

CARING FOR PREGNANT SOWS

Animal Should Not Be Fed So Heavily That She Is Too Fat to Take Sufficient Exercise.

Pregnant sows should not be fed so heavily that they become too fat or refuse to take sufficient exercise. The amount fed is as important as the kind of food supplied. A mature sow should gain as much during the breeding and gestation periods as she normally loses during the farrowing and suckling periods. On the average this will be from 65 to 85 pounds.

How We Got Dollars.

It is about a hundred years since the dollar came into being as a commercial proposition. It has been suggested that the neckline of teeth or claws, or string of beads, with which our early ancestors adorned themselves, was the forerunner of the modern dollar.

Big Profit in Toys.

Toys as a whole have yielded larger profits than any other class of inventions.

HOW CHINA MEN

LOOK ON US
TOOLS OF THE REST OF THE

WORLD.—A Chinese is variously observed as an object of curiosity or an object of universal sympathy, because his skin is yellow and he hails from the dark and mystical East, and he is just "nothingness" to others who claim to be neutral. But, among newcomers, the Chinese is an equal; the Chinese is as good as an American, the American as good as the Chinese, and, strange to say, this attitude is quite often honest, writes "J. S. L." in the Far Eastern Republic. Yet, still, there are some who think they understand or know the Chinese and they feel that in him is an antique, grand, and noble culture, with much learning of rare and delicate beauty, very fine, and almost sacred.

These are all most interesting; they are delightful. Do not misunderstand us. We are close observers. We see how you act, hear how you talk, understand how you think, and search your motives. "Terrible!" you say! Well—it is, if you don't act just right; it isn't, if you do. Why? Because you do not yet understand us when you should. However simple a Chinese may appear to you—and who might not, when placed in an environment and civilization equally as good, perhaps, but wholly different from his own—do not imagine that he does not observe and think, for he does, and he has been doing this for thousands of years. Even though uneducated—and when educated even more so—he must analyze things, and in a way all his own, although probably not scientifically like the westerner's, but yet using a philosophy that counts and means things. It really makes for understanding—on the part of the Chinese, at least.

MILLS INSTITUTE WASH DAY

How Employers in New York Solved Problem Which Has Long Bothered Efficiency Experts.

The weekly washday problem has been solved by managers of mills in and near New York, and no longer do these mills operate with only half of the female employees on Monday.

In solving the problem the managers have added a side line which threatens to become an important and profitable factor in mill life.

The mill laundry is here, and the housewife who works in the mill no longer "lays off" on Monday to do the family wash, but instead slips a ticket into the laundry box as she comes to work. Then she forgets all about it and on Tuesday the mill laundry washes her clothes for her.

Managers for years have been at a loss to determine just how to overcome this Monday shortage of female help. According to a New York mill man, who introduced the mill laundry in his plant, he got the idea from his term of service in the army. —New York Evening Times.

How Popular Terms Are Born.

It appears that the expression, "black coats," for the great army of salaried workers may now take a place in the dictionary. This is something of an innovation, for distinctions in terms of dress have more often been applied to manual workers in one form or another. Thus, in France, Germany and elsewhere the blouse has long been the special badge of the "workers" as opposed to the "writers." In the same way a century ago the sack was the special mark of the agricultural laborer in this country, and it might be said that the apron was the badge of the "servant woman." Such, at least, Beau Nash declared it on the famous occasion when the duchess of Queensberry dared Nash's prohibition by wearing one in the assembly rooms of Bath. Boots, too, have had their part in social distinctions. The "hobnail" was long part and parcel of the laborer, while in the eighteenth century "top boots" generally carried with them the idea of the country squire—the old story.—Manchester Guardian.

How Turkeys Regard Birds.

The Turk defies the bird world. In life he will not kill a bird unless in self-defense, and only then when his wives are in danger. In death he provides for the needs of the bird. Among the amiable qualities of his contradictory nature, at once cruel and kind, the Turk has a wonderfully loving feeling for birds, and it is a charming Turkish custom to have hollows carved at the tops of costly tombstones, from which the birds of the waterless country may drink safe water.

How Cats Save Property.

There are many business concerns, chief among which are the dairy products companies, that make provision for the maintenance of from six to twenty cats as a protective organization. These cats are considered as necessary a part of the operating expenses as the employment of a night watchman, and it is said that they save hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of food yearly from destruction by rats and mice. The best possible rat catcher is a wary, semi-hungry cat.

Wesley's Physical Toughness.

Spring diet and constant exercise in the keen morning air helped to endow Wesley with that amazing physical toughness which enabled him, when eighty-five years old, to walk six miles to a preaching appointment and declare that the only sign of old age he felt was that "he could not walk nor run quite so fast as he once did." —W. H. Frickett in "Wesley and His Country."

PEKIN TROOPS ROUTED; PANIC IN THE CAPITAL

Over 5,000 Chinese Militariasts
Flee Back to City and Looting
by Soldiers Begins.

Peking.—The latest reports received here indicate that the forces of General Tuan Chi-Jui, head of the Pekin militarists of Anfuists, met with a serious reverse to the south and that approximately 5,000 of his troops retired toward the capital and camped outside the west wall, refusing to continue their operations. It is stated that the men had been for three days without food. The gates of the city were closed and heavy guards prevented the entry of the troops while plans were being made to feed them.

It is reported that the troops in the suburb of Nanyuan are out of hand and looting. The ex-imperial family has appealed to the foreign legations for protection, fearing that they will be victims of propaganda, alleging that General Wu Pei-Fu, leader of the revolutionaries, is on a movement for the restoration of the monarchy.

There is much apprehension in the capital in view of the continued arrival of defeated troops and an alleged plan to wreak vengeance on the city. On the Tientsin line the troops of Tuan Chi-Jui have been driven back toward Changchuan.

A brigade of frontier troops has been surrounded and captured by the forces of General Wu Pei-Fu, according to a report received here from Peking. The report adds that two regiments have deserted to the colors of Wu Pei-Fu.

It is reported that ten trainloads of the Manchurian troops of General Chang Tso-Lin have arrived at Peking, north of Tientsin. (Although Chang Tso-Lin recently served notice on the Chinese government that he purposed to head an expedition to occupy Peking, because General Tuan Chi-Jui had incited brigands in Manchuria, he has been admitted so far in the struggle of the last few weeks between the Anfuists and Reformists. He is generally believed, however, to sympathize with the Reformists.)

WORLD NEWS IN CONDENSED FORM

Census returns show El Paso, Texas, increased 13.4 per cent to 83,626.

In their first meeting since the San Francisco convention, Governor Cox of Ohio and President Wilson agreed that the treaty of Versailles should be ratified and the United States should become a member of the League of Nations.

A summons to labor to organize for a fight to "elect its friends and defeat its enemies" in the forthcoming election, has been sent out by Samuel Gompers, president, and Frank Morrison, secretary, of the American Federation of Labor.

VERA CRUZ.—General Pablo Gonzalez, revolutionary leader in the state of Coahuila, who has been captured by federal troops, was taken to Mexico City for court martial.

COLUMBUS, O.—Governor Cox was visited by 64 delegates of the National Women's party, who called on him to obtain his aid in behalf of suffrage. The women were led by Miss Alice Paul of New Jersey.

WILKESBARRE, PA.—Seven thousand workers of the Pennsylvania Coal Company and Hillside Coal and Iron Company went on strike against the contractor system.

Madagascar Gold.

A curiosity preserved at the Philadelphia mint is a small equivalent of gold from Madagascar, which is of an extraordinary brightness. It was mined, smelted and put up for shipment by natives, who, for a receptacle, took a piece of bamboo six inches long and two inches in diameter, polishing the outside to glasslike smoothness. Then they put a wooden cork in one end, poured in the melted gold and corked up the other end.

NEW COAL STRIKE AT MANY MINES

Illinois Operators Appeal to the President as Day Labor Men Desert Shafts.

STATE OUTPUT CUT LOW.

Head of the State Union Declares He is Powerless to Stop Walkout. Shortage in Northwest Made More Serious.

Chicago.—Nearly half the coal mines in Illinois are closed down as a result of unauthorized strikes which have rendered at least 25,000 miners idle. Coal production has been appealed to by the operators in the hope that they may find some means of relieving the situation.

The strikers are day labor employees who have staged sporadic strikes for two or three weeks. They are asking wage increases of $1.50 to $2.50 a day. President Frank Farrington of the Mine Workers' Union expressed fear that all the mines in Illinois would be closed down. He said union officials had been powerless to prevent the walkouts.

A committee of operators, composed of Dr. F. C. Honnold, E. C. Searies, Herman C. Perry, F. S. Phibler and H. C. Adams made their plea to President Wilson through Secretary Tumulty. The members visited Secretary Tumulty because they were not sure with whom the miners' wage question should be discussed.

The operators have been following the government contract with the mine workers, the contract being made by the Bituminous Wage Commission to run until 1922. According to reports, the operators are not disinclined to grant a high wage, but feel the government should initiate any action.

Reports reaching Belleville, Ill., state that about twenty shafts are affected in Franklin County, including the large Middle Fork Mine at Benton. Four are idle at Collinsville. One at Prairieville and one at Edwardsville. Some mines in other sections of the southern half of the state are reported to be working with barely enough men to keep the shafts operating.

Washington.—The coal shortage, especially in the northwest, has been rendered more serious as a result of conditions in Illinois, where more than one-half of the bituminous coal mines are idle, with the result that the normal daily output of from 350,000 to 500,000 tons has been reduced to 100,000 tons or less. So critical is the situation in the Illinois bituminous fields that the heads of the three principal coal operators' associations in that state placed the whole matter before the President for such action as he may see fit to take.

In a memorandum which they made public with the text of the letter to President Wilson, the Illinois operators say that if any substantial part of the normal output is not now mined that "the recent program laid down for the coaling of the northwest cannot be met." The operators describe the situation which has developed as a result of labor troubles in Illinois as one of "extreme gravity," and in their letter to the President point out the danger of the strikes spreading into all the states of the central competitive field, which would threaten the bituminous fuel supply of the entire nation as well as Canada. The central competitive field takes in the states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Included in the letter to the President were copies of a number of circulars and a letter purporting to be from Illinois state and local officers of the United Mine Workers of America, one of the letters being signed by the officials of four Illinois locals and addressed to the head officials of the union in Illinois. This letter is in the form of an ultimatum and gives to the officers of District 12 of the U. M. W. of A. and "any one else concerned" until August 1, next, to meet the terms of the men. Unless their demands are met they state they "will have resort to other means to bring about the accomplishing of their purposes." The ultimatum is without date.

CROWN PRINCE AT DOORN.

CARRIERS SEEK 20 P. C. INCREASE IN FARES

Additional Eight Per Cent Freight Rate Also Sought to Meet Wage Awards.

Washington.—A 20 per cent increase in all passenger fares on the railroads of the United States and an increase in freight rates of approximately 8 per cent in addition to the 28 per cent already asked was recommended to the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Association of Railway Executives.

In detail the additional increases proposed by the railroad men provide for:

An increase of six-tenths of a cent a mile in passenger fares, making the fare 3.6 cents a mile; a 20 per cent increase in excursion, convention and other fares for special occasions; an increase of 20 per cent on all communication tickets; a 20 per cent increase in extra fares on limited trains and club cars; an increase of 20 per cent in excess baggage rates, and an increase of 50 per cent or one-half charge, for Pullman or sleeping cars.

An increase on all rates on milk by approximately 36 per cent. An additional increase on freight and switching revenues above the gross 38 per cent already provided to make up the full difference in providing an aggregate increase of $23,000,000 a year.

It will be recalled that the I. C. C. has heard and taken under advisement proposals of the railroad executives for an average increase in freight rates of 28 per cent regarded as necessary to bring the return provided in the transportation act before the wage award was handed down.

Railway officials estimate that the total increases now proposed from all sources in each of the three railroad territories would meet the increases in wages in these territories.

FORMER KAISER'S SON KILLS HIMSELF

Prince Joachim Tries Suicide in Home and Dies in Hospital—Worries War Money.

Berlin.—Prince Joachim of Hohenzollern, youngest son of former Emperor William, committed suicide in Potsdam. Joachim is believed to have been in financial straits. He recently was divorced.

Prince Joachim shot himself in his residence, the Villa Legantz, Potsdam. He was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he died a few hours later. He recently had been suffering from great mental distress.

The only member of the former imperial family in Potsdam is Elton Frederick, the former emperor's second son.

Prince Joachim, as to the motive for his suicide, declined to make any statement, referring the inquiry to the same time to the official announcement that Joachim was dying from "a stroke."

The whereabouts of Prince Adalbert, Prince Augustus William and Prince Oscar are unknown. The former Crown Princess is reported to be staying on Hagen Island.

Prince Adalbert, who probably was the last of the imperial family, was reported to be in the city of Berlin.

Prince Joachim was married to Princess Marie Augustine, daughter of Prince Edward of Anhalt and a niece of Duke Frederick III of Anhalt. The following winter he was the father of a baby boy, the German emperor's tenth grandchild. Last spring it was reported in Berlin that Prince Joachim intended to seek a divorce.

GERMANS SIGN COAL PROTOCOL

Pehrenbach and Simons, After Consultation, Promise 6,000,000 Tons by November 1.

FRENCH IN GREAT VICTORY.

20,000 Tons Monthly to Be Delivered, Despite All Objections—Referred Committee That Will Meet in Geneva.

Spa, Belgium.—The Spa conference ended by the German plenipotentiaries signing a protocol demanding for 200,000 tons monthly, but not until the menace of the protocol, that the allies would occupy additional German territory in an event she defeated in carrying out the terms, had been made a supplementary clause to the agreement and an integral part of it.

The question of reparations was referred to a commission which will meet in this in a few weeks. The commission will be composed of two representatives from each of the allied powers and two from Germany. As finally agreed upon, the reparations payments will be divided as follows: France, 62 per cent; Great Britain, 22 per cent; Italy, 10 per cent; Belgium, 8 per cent; and Japan and Portugal, each three-fourths of 1 per cent. The remaining 10 per cent will be divided among Serbia, Rumania and Poland.

Besides a 5 per cent Belgium is to receive, it will retain the priority right to 2,500,000,000 marks, from which will be paid sums loaned to Belgium by the allies.

The final session of the conference lasted until after 9 o'clock at night. For a time it looked as if it would be broken off by the refusal of the German envoys to sign the coal protocol unless their reservations regarding occupation of the Ruhr Basin by the Allies were accepted by the Powers. The German representatives withdrew and sent for all their ministers and leading business men, with whom they went into conference. Finally they sent word to the Allied Premiers that they would sign the coal agreement, but found it difficult to do so without a clear reservation.

right to 2,500,000,000 marks, from which will be paid sums loaned to Belgium by the allies.

The final session of the conference lasted until after 9 o'clock at night. For a time it looked as if it would be broken off by the refusal of the German envoys to sign the coal protocol unless their reservations regarding occupation of the Ruhr Basin by the Allies were accepted by the Powers. The German representatives withdrew and sent for all their ministers and leading business men, with whom they went into conference. Finally they sent word to the Allied Premiers that they would sign the coal agreement, but found it difficult to do so without a clear reservation.

Premier Millerand said that the Allies were following a twofold policy. It was one of conciliation and readiness to assist Germany to achieve economic recovery, he said, and also, on the other hand, they proposed taking every guarantee that the treaty would be enforced.

After Sir Simon, German Foreign Minister, complained that Germany, despite her evidences of good will, had been confronted with the threat of occupation at each step.

But the most significant utterance made in the conference during the session was that of Premier Lloyd George, who declared that there was no danger of the occupation of the Ruhr region by the Allies unless there were forces at work in Germany which wanted such occupation and which tried to hinder the fulfillment of the coal agreement. If the Ruhr is occupied by the Allies, he declared, the fault would rest entirely with the Germans themselves.

Dr. Simons' only comment was that he did not know what parties were referred to by Mr. Lloyd George. This unexpected charge by the British Premier was the parting shot of the conference.

Instead of accepting the financial concessions of the Allies with satisfaction, the German experts greeted the allied proposal with marked distrust and made a last effort to defeat the allied program. They argued that since Germany must immediately increase her monthly coal deliveries by 300,000 tons this must be subtracted from the supply belonging to the German public utility corporations, railroads and industries. They declared that this would mean throwing 2,000,000 tons out of work; would cut down the railroad service, with only one express train daily between Berlin and Cologne; would further reduce the gas and the electric supply and make living in Germany as wretched as it was during the worst period of last year.

48-ers to Continue State Organization in States—Both Sides Called "Intelligent"—Committee Ends Wrangle Over Separate Ticket.

Chicago.—The new political movement promoted by the Committee of Forty-eight came to a tragic end. The last session of the convention which intended to place in the field a strong radical presidential ticket was the adoption of a resolution which declared that the gathering ended its labors "not having fully accomplished the purpose for which it was called."

The Forty-eight stayed in session after the Farmer-Labor party had completed its work by nominating this ticket:

For President—Parley P. Christensen of Salt Lake.

For Vice-President—Max S. Hayes of Cleveland.

Mr. Christensen is a Salt Lake City lawyer, and was once secretary of the Utah Republican State Committee. His running mate, Max S. Hayes, is a Cleveland labor leader.

With some of the earnest men and women who had chased the new political rainbow demanding the incorporation of the Christensen-Hayes ticket, others denouncing the leaders of the Forty-eight; some accusing Senator La Follette of duplicity; others defending him, and not a few actually weeping, the enterprise was brought to an abrupt and dramatic end.

The scenes that characterized the embalming—it was not actually interred—of the Forty-eight movement were not dissimilar to those that attended the breaking up of the Progressive party movement in 1916 following its desertion by the late Theodore Roosevelt. Realizing that they had been duped by the combination of intriguing politicians in the radical labor party and their former allies, the Forty-eight felt and expressed only bitterness over the woful blasting of their hopes.

These men and women, utterly lacking experience in political manipulation, made an attempt to reorganize the Forty-eight convention which J. A. H. Hopkins, the chairman of that body, had declared it adjourned amid the most turbulent conditions. The new venture failed to enlist enough support to make it worth while, although they did cheer a message from Christensen, the Farmer-Labor candidate for president, urging their support of him. The lights in the Cameo room, where the swan song of the Forty-eight movement was sung in a minor and almost fearful key, were put out while the valiant band of survivors was acclaiming its adherence to the ticket forced upon them by the experts in the radical labor and farmers organization, in whose hands they had proved to be mere babies.

Another group of Forty-eighters that refused to accept the inevitable conclusion of their leaders that failure had marked the efforts of the Forty-eighters to create a genuine party of protest against the two great parties, attempted to rally sufficient support to place a presidential nomination on La Follette. It was quite uncertain to determine just how far this project advanced or to predict what will come of it.

La Follette had announced his disinclination to accept an independent nomination, though his supporters continued throughout the proceedings to intimate in vague terms that he might finally be induced to do so.

The committee on procedure appointed by the Committee of Forty-eight, reported recommending that the body continue to function as a national political party, with a complete set of national and state officers. At signs lead to the better the nation will see five tickets in the field this year, with five sets of candidates in the race for the White House goal, including the Socialist party with Eugene V. Debs, federal convict, as the nominee.

Advice About Hog Cholera.

From the County Agent.

The public is advised that hog cholera has made its appearance in the County during the past ten days, in the vicinity of St. Martin's. While the outbreak is not a serious one, hog growers are advised to use every precaution to prevent further outbreak in other sections.

Let each man, woman and child feel that a certain responsibility rests on them to keep under control this dreaded disease. It is impossible for a few men to do this, unless they have the earnest support of the public. If each person remembers that care is the best protection, and that with no germs there will be no cholera, a great deal has been accomplished.

Possibly one of the greatest mediums for distributing hog cholera is the dog, so keep your dogs tied and keep other people's dogs away from your hog pens.

Always keep in mind if there is cholera in your neighborhood, to stay away from other people's hogs, and keep other people's hogs away from yours. Do not move your hogs from your own premises under any condition.

Should animals die, promptly bury or burn them, and should any of your neighbors' animals die, impress upon them the importance of doing likewise.

Do not allow them to lie exposed. Germs can be carried, by buzzards for many miles. Any one refusing to do away with dead animals in the proper way is certainly violating the law of Maryland, and their attention should be called to the regulation covering Disposal and Care of Domestic Animals, which was made effective on April 1st, 1920, and says in part:

"As the practice of allowing dead animals to remain unburied is a great menace to the health of live stock in the community, and a frequent cause of the spread of disease, it is hereby required that horses, mules, asses, cattle, swine or other domestic animals, having died from any cause, be buried or disposed of at least three feet, or sent to some establishment where dead animals are to be disposed of."

If a hog is sick, lose no time in calling in a competent person, a veterinarian, if possible, to examine it. Should a trace of hog cholera be found, lose no time in vaccinating.

Serum can be secured by applying to the County Agent's office. It will be ordered immediately to be shipped to you by parcel post, at cost, direct from the State Live Stock Sanitary Board.

If hog growers care to do the work themselves, syringes can also be ordered at the same office. Should they not care to do this work, men have been provided in the various sections of the county, who are supplied with syringes for administering serum, and willing to vaccinate your hogs for you.

If you know of sick hogs, or any violations of these rules, notify the County Agent, who will in turn notify the proper state authorities. If further information is desired, it can be secured by applying to the County Agent's office.

Please look at the date on the last of your paper and see if your subscription is overdue. If it is, bring or send us the money today, before you forget it. We have kept the price of the Advance at the same low rate when every other newspaper we know of has gone up with the increased cost of materials for producing it, and you should appreciate our sacrifices enough to give us the small amount required. If eggs, butter, potatoes, wood, or almost any other produce is more convenient, it will be accepted the same as cash, but we must insist that you pay what is due, in some way, at once.
