WILLIAMS—LAWS.

Pretty Easter Wedding in Which a Popular Young Salisbury and Attractive Wicomico Girl were the Contracting Parties.

Wednesday morning Apr. 2nd the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Laws of Wango, Md., was the scene of one of the most attractive social events of the season, the occasion being the marriage of their only daughter, Mary Edith, to Mr. Elmer C. Williams of Salisbury. Relatives and friends of both parties from this and other States were present.

Promptly at 10.30 o'clock the contracting parties entered the parlor and were met by Elder Poulson of the O. S. Baptist Church who in a very impressive manner performed the ceremony. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Minnie Lee Taylor of Dover, Del. The bride wore a magnificent gown of pink and salmon pineapple cloth, (made from silk and pineapple fiber) over pink tulle, which was sent to her from the Philippine Islands by her brother, Captain Albert Laws of the 24th Infantry. She carried La France roses. The groom wore the conventional black.

Immediately after congratulations a wedding breakfast was served. The color scheme throughout the house was pink. In the dining room the table was beautifully ornamented with pink carnations, ribbon and smilax. After the wedding breakfast the bridal party were driven to Salisbury where amid showers of rice and good wishes they took the 2 o'clock express for a bridal trip.

The bride is well known in Salisbury where she has a large circle of relatives and friends. The groom is a prominent young business man, having for several years been associated with the firm of B. L. Gillis & Son.

About one hundred guests were present among whom were Miss Elizabeth Wilson, Forest Hill, Harford Co., Md.; Miss Minnie Lee Taylor, Dover, Del.; Miss Katie Purnell, Miss Annie Purnell, Miss Davis, Mrs. Mary J. Purnell, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Purnell, Mr. Stephen L. Purnell of Snow Hill; Miss Estelle Truitt and Capt. Geo. Truitt, Box Iron, Md.; Mr. Quillin, Berlin, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. James Laws, Mrs. Mae Laws, Mrs. Dr. Freeny, Dr. Lawrence Freeny, Mr. Clarence Laws, Pittsville, Md.; Elder Poulson of Virginia, Misses Lizzie and Pauline Collier, Edna Owens, Hannah Ulman, Sadie Ulman, Helen Ulman, Edna Gillis, Miriam Powell, Bessie Williams, Mrs. Ida G. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Gillis, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. R. Frank Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. T. Laws, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dorman, Mr. Simon Ulman, Mr. E. C. Fulton, Mr. John M. Laws, Mr. Edgar Laws, Mr. D. B. Cannon, Mr. Walter Williams, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Waller, Hebron, Md.

Miss Wright's Marriage.

A very pretty marriage was solemnized last Wednesday evening at eight o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson W. Wright, near Mardela, when their second daughter, Miss Minnie Wright, was united in marriage to Mr. Clarence Twilley of Sharptown. Rev. Mr. Mather pastor of the M. P. Church at Sharptown was the officiating clergyman.

The bride and groom entered the parlor together, unattended, and stood in front of a bank of evergreen during the ceremony. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Myrtle Gordy of Quantico. The bride wore a becoming gown of white silk mull and carried a bouquet of white hyacinths. After the congratulations of friends a reception was held. Only about thirty of the near relatives and friends of the bride and groom were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Twilley drove to Sharptown, where they will make their future home.

The Colored Institute.

The colored teachers of Wicomico county held their annual Institute Tuesday and Wednesday, April 1st. and 2d., in the colored Grammar School building of this city.

Examiner, Mr. H. Crawford Bounds, and the teachers of the Salisbury High school assisted in the exercises each day, making the Institute more interesting and instructive. The teachers showed much interest and enthusiasm throughout the session.

There were present some of the most prominent colored educators from the adjoining counties and Delaware, including Rev. W. C. Jason, President Delaware State College, who took a prominent part on the program.

THE M. P. CONFERENCE.

President Melvin Retires and Dr. Frank Little is Elected to fill the Vacancy.

The Maryland Annual Conference, Methodist Protestant Church, convened in Grace Church, Centreville, Md., Tuesday, April 2nd., with President Melvin in the chair.

The President made his report, showing that the past year had been full of progress and good work, which was very gratifying to the Conference. The Conference Committees were then named.

The balloting for a president of the conference resulted in the election of Rev. Dr. F. T. Little, of Starr Church, Baltimore. On the first ballot he received 129 votes out of 183 cast.

Dr. Melvin, the retiring president, in a short address congratulated Dr. Little on being elected to the highest office in the conference and presented to him the gavel, the emblem of his office, and the conference satchel, containing the church papers.

In accepting the office Dr. Little said: "I thank you very much and congratulate you, Dr. Melvin, upon retiring. (Prolonged laughter) I owe my election to the law more than to the grace of the brethren. "I pledge myself to administer the affairs of the church in accordance with its constitution and laws. I have no understandings and no agreements with anyone. My hands, heart and brain are free."

EASTER FESTIVITIES.

Salisbury Society People Entertain During the Week.

On Wednesday of this week a delightful tea was given by Mrs. S. A. Graham at her home on Division street, from four to six o'clock, in honor of Mrs. Jno. N. Parker of Baltimore and Mrs. George Gatling of Norfolk, Va. Receiving with Mrs. Graham in the drawing-room were Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Gatling and Mrs. L. W. Gunby.

Those assisting Mrs. Graham in entertaining her guests were Mrs. W. B. Miller, Mrs. E. Stanley Toadyin and Mrs. R. P. Graham.

The house was darkened from without and artificially lighted. The dining-room decorations were of purple, with a touch of yellow.

A bowl of large purple pansies decorated the centre of the table, while from the lighted chandelier were suspended strips of purple ribbon and maiden hair fern, these being alternately arranged and confined at the four corners, with bunches of Daffodils.

Candelabra with purple shades were used on the table and about the room. Mrs. L. D. Collier presided at the coffee table and Misses Lizzie Waites, Alice Gunby, Lizzie Collier, Katie Todd, Irma Graham, Pauline Collier and Dora Toadyin assisted in serving the guests.

The home of the Misses Gordy on Walnut street, was the scene of a very pretty Tea on Thursday afternoon—given in honor of Mrs. W. S. Gordy, Jr. The hostesses with Mrs. W. S. Gordy, Jr., Mrs. John H. White and Mrs. Gordy received the guests as they entered the parlor; Mrs. H. L. Browington, Mrs. Harper and Mrs. W. L. Brewington assisted in entertaining, while Miss White, Miss Ada Browington, Miss Amy Browington, Miss Miriam Powell, Miss Lillian Dorman, Miss Bessie Ellegood and Miss Alice Gunby did the honors in the dining room.

Mrs. H. Lee Powell presided at the coffee urn.

The house was lighted by candles—red in the parlor, pink in the sitting-room, and violet in the dining room. The table was decorated with a broad band of violet ribbon and a large bowl of violets. The mantel was draped with violets and banded with foliage plants, intermingled with asparagus fern. Palms and azaleas were also used in the parlor with good effect.

The final meeting of the Shakespeare class, which was organized in January under the direction of Miss Crisfield of Princess Anne, was held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Graham on Monday night and proved a most enjoyable occasion. The feature of the evening's entertainment was a reading from Macbeth, by Dr. Robinson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Princess Anne.

Dr. Robinson is quite an orator and his reading was a literary treat to those who had the pleasure of hearing him.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Powell of Philadelphia have returned home after visiting his parents and many other friends of Powellville.

DEATH OF AN INVENTOR.

Survived by His Wife who was a Wicomico Lady.

WAS FRIEND OF EDGAR ALLEN POE.

Our Pittsville correspondent sends the information that the remains of Oscar D. McClellan, the aged inventor, and friend of Edgar Allen Poe, were taken to Pittsville from Philadelphia and interred in the Pittsville cemetery Tuesday, April 1st.

The remains were accompanied by the widow who was Miss Naomi Parsons, of Pittsville.

The funeral services were held immediately after the body arrived via the B. C. & A. railroad at 12.06 o'clock, by Rev. D. F. McFaul, in the M. E. Church, and the remains were deposited in the M. P. Church cemetery of Pittsville.

Mr. McClellan had a most remarkable career. He was a printer by trade, and an inventor. He made money and spent it freely. Edgar Allen Poe, the Maryland Poet and story writer, and McClellan were kindred spirits, and for a long time, bosom friends.

Though 89 years old when he died McClellan had just made two inventions. One was a drinking cup which purified water by an electric current. The other invention caused coal to give up its electric power without fire. It was claimed that a very pretty light was the result. McClellan was very familiar with the Bible, and when a young printer set it into type.

The Philadelphia North American, in speaking of McClellan's death, said:

"Few persons now remember McClellan, but a generation or two ago he was famous for his career of adventure, the making and spending of fortunes, and as the intimate friend and companion of the brilliant, ill fated Edgar Allen Poe."

In his latter days McClellan was fond of telling reminiscences of his friendship with the poet and story writer. In his youth he was frequently the comrade of Poe in merry makings and he recalls vividly the fantastic wit and humor of the poet and the beautiful and dramatic manner in which he recited "The Raven."

Fifty years ago, the night before Poe left Philadelphia, where he had been editing a magazine, McClellan found him lying on the floor of a printing house on Third street, sleeping off the effects of wine and wrapped in an American flag. That night was a wild one, and when the poet boarded the old stage for his trip South the next morning he was accompanied by a party of his friends, among whom was McClellan.

McClellan, when a boy, ran away from a printing office and shipped for New Orleans as a stowaway. He had several adventures on the Mississippi, then drifted to Utah. He next served in the army in the Black Hawk war and under Generals Scott and Zachary Taylor in Mexico. He returned to Philadelphia years ago and had lived here ever since. He was an inventor of note and made three fortunes, which were spent with the same ease that he acquired them. He finally invented a shoe machine, for which he received $80,000 and lived comfortably on that until his death on Sunday last."

—Coming to Ulman Grand Opera House next Thursday night Apr. 10th., is something of unusual interest and merit in the latest State-named play called "Pennsylvania". It is the joint authorship of Daniel L. Hart, whose "Parish Priest" has provided Daniel Sully with his most artistic success, and C. E. Callahan, who has enjoyed fame as a dramatist of prominence since his twenty year ago production of "Fogg's Ferry" down to "Coon Hollow" and "Pennsylvania". Brilliant dialogue, original comedy, thrilling dramatic situations and sensational scenic climaxes abound.

An important fact has been developed in the alfalfa regions of Kansas and Nebraska, and that is that the cheapest produced pork in the world can be made out of just alfalfa and nothing else, and if this were not enough the claim is still further made that such pork is the best flavored produced anywhere. We know of two or three nice old ladies whose falling years incline them to use an old cob pipe for comfort. We have never got reconciled to this, for somehow what seems all right in the case of the old man seems all wrong in the case of the old lady. These should stick to the teapot.

The shellbark hickory and the white oak are very fastidious as to the soil whereon they grow. These trees like the same sort of soil, a stiff clay, and one never need be looking for a sand pit anywhere near where they may be found. White oak and shellbark hickory lands are nearly always good wheat soils.

We are in no sense a prophet, but we will venture the prediction that there will be the usual number of bugs, beetles, borers and insect pests of high and low degree to wage war on all vegetable and animal life on the farm this coming season. Between the weeds and the bugs it is often nip and tuck for the farmer to see where he comes in.

The selling price of hay will largely determine the value of the corn fodder. The logic of the situation suggests that less hay be raised on the average farm, the meadow acreage planted to corn, the forage crop thus secured and a good crop of corn besides. In other words, the utilization of the corn fodder may be made to add new acres to every farm.

We know of a certain farm in the west which is well fenced with wire strung on posts set a rod apart. There is nothing peculiar about this, but the owner has painted all the posts a barn red and given them a white cap, and so every one who goes by the farm wants to know whose farm that is, and they can then turn toward the gate end of the big barn, and there is the name of the farm and the owner in big white letters. In doing this he has made his place a landmark.

RICH AND DOESN'T KNOW IT.
The richest man in America has to chop wood so that he may get up appetite to eat a bowl of crackers and skim milk. That's enjoying life, is it not? You call yourself poor; but, compared with this Croesus, when you sit down to your three square meals a day and return thanks not only for the food, but for the good health and appetite, which is one of the compensations of hard work and hard knocks, you are one of the richest men on earth.

THIS MAN IS RIGHT.
One of the most successful hog raisers of the state of Iowa says that it is all a mistake to assume, as is generally done, that the most profitable hog to produce is the six-month-old 225 pound pig. He for years has let his pigs grow naturally until they were a year or more old, living on clover and ranging, making big, strong frames before they were put up to fatten for the market, claiming that the forcing process for early marketing is a provoking cause for disease. We believe he is everlasting right in his conclusions.

SOME DROUGHT LESSONS.
Some lessons have been well learned as the result of the far-reaching drought of last year. One was that the constant tillage of growing crops whenever possible is just as good as if not better than irrigation during a drought; another, that some sort of summer forage crop for use for the dairy cows and the calves and hogs is almost invaluable; another, that such a dry time may be used to great advantage in getting rid of sorrel, quack grass and other pests by constant worrying them with a plow or cultivator while it lasts; another, that the fields deeply plowed or semisubsoiled the year before can stand the effects of such drought much better than shallow soils.

CEMETERIES AND EVERGREENS.
While the small evergreen seems to many an appropriate tree to plant upon a cemetery lot, it does not take many years for the little tree to become a large one, when its roots will take possession of the whole lot, heave the monuments out of plumb and so obscure the place with their dense funeral shade that one had as soon be buried in the Great Dismal swamp. Don't bury the sleepers in gloom. Let the sunshine, which perchance they may have had little enough of while living, play over their resting place. Make the sacred acre bright with grass and flowers, and if the trees must be planted let them always be of the deciduous types and not evergreens.

UNREST.
While not migratory in the sense that Abraham and Lot were when they dwelt in Canaan, the American people are still the most restless and unsettled of all civilized peoples. The business directory of any town will undergo almost a complete change every ten years. Nearly every farmer will sell his farm and home if he can get his price. The desire to change, to see and live in new countries, make new neighbors and friends, amounts almost to a craze. Our people do not seem to understand the blessings of contentment, no matter how well they may be fixed, and so they sell and plow off to Tennessee or Texas, California or Canada, only too often returning later on with very little cash and a very large chunk of experience. Now, the truth is that when any man has a fairly good farm, be it large or small, is making a good living and saving a little, has a lot of good friends and neighbors and bringing his family up right, he is well enough fixed and has about all he is fairly entitled to in this world, and his efforts to get more and more are likely to bring him more trouble than pleasure. The average man can fill only just about so much space in the old world anyhow.

"What is the best feed for pigs after being weaned?" Ground oats and corn in equal parts, to which add a little bran and middlings, says National Stockman.

"Do you feed the oats with the hulls?" Some claimed they took the oats as it came from the machine and had it ground as fine as possible. Others asserted taking the oats as it is usually ground has a tendency to produce irritation of the throat, producing a hacking cough. Sift the ground oats, and the malady in the pigs disappears. Give no sour milk to pigs. Milk directly from the cows is good feed. "Can we afford to feed sweet milk at 1 cent per pound?" A limited amount can be profitably fed.

"What is the best ingredient to mix with separator milk?" Bran and middlings. Even at the present high prices for these two articles it does pay to feed them.

"Does it pay to buy buttermilk at 1 cent per gallon?" It does if you can get a genuine article and live convenient to the creamery. Genuine buttermilk is preferable to skim milk.

"Does it pay during winter to warm and cook feeds?" If we have a warm place to keep the pigs, it does. Rye in combination with oats and bran makes a rich hog feed. To the rye add one-fifth oats by weight and grind. To this product add one-half bran by weight.

Hogs For Quick Returns.
It has always been my experience that there is a decided advantage with hogs over all other stock kept on the farm—the quick returns if good management is given, writes Mrs. M. A. Sparkman of Chester county, Pa., to American Agriculturist. As with all stock, it is essential that a good breed be had. By having well bred animals a quick growth and early maturity can be obtained. If a sow farrows in early spring, say April, late enough not to endanger losses from cold, in nine months the pigs, with good treatment, can be ready for market. By this time another lot of pigs can be growing. Thus we can sell two lots of pigs in a year from the same sow. This gives a quick return and at this year's prices a good one on the money invested. No other stock will answer as well. The value of the hog to the farmer cannot be questioned.

A Handy Hoghouse.
The following plan was originally given in the Ohio Farmer in answer to a request for a plan of a hoghouse with

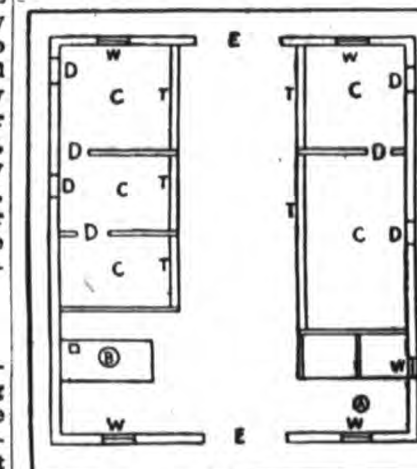

FIG. 1—FLOOR PLAN OF HOGHOUSE.
Two good sized pens, a driveway that may be utilized for another pen in case of need and storage room for corn above the pens.

Fig. 1 is the floor plan. B is a brick arch with kettle set in for cooking feed and heating water at killing time. A is a cistern, which is supplied with water from the eaves of the building; E, driveway; C C C, pens; T T T, troughs. D D shows the doors and W W the windows. The two compartments next to the cistern are bins for meal and middlings. The dimensions of the building are 34 feet wide by 40 feet in length. However, the length may be varied, according to the number of hogs one may wish to keep.

can be stored. Make the posts out of 2 by 6 Joists doubled, putting in two center bents only. Use 2 by 4 nailing girls. Plates are formed of a 2 by 6 and a 2 by 8 joist put together. Rafters, 2 by 4; sill, 8 by 8 timbers.

Breeding Sows.
For next year's litters select sows of good milking qualities. Much depends on the mother, and an abundance of milk is what pigs require. Give the sow no feed for twenty-four hours after farrowing, but after possible trouble from farrow get has been avoided she should be fed liberally.

Exposition Motto.
Nail over the entrance to the International Live Stock exposition this motto for all who bring animals to read and heed: "The biggest possible piece of meat in the smallest possible package." If that is not your ideal, take some of your best animals to the show and see how the judges will turn you down! You saw enough at the show to keep you thinking for a year. You heard enough. If you had ears, to keep you thinking for another year.—Joseph E. Wing in Breeder's Gazette.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE

For Coughs and Colds in Children.

"I have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Chas. M. Cramer, Esq., a well known watch maker of Colombo, Ceylon. "It has been two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all chest colds. It is especially effective for children and seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are as well pleased as myself over the results." For sale by R. K. Truitt.

Michael Carey, one of the oldest Baltimore and Ohio engineers running into Cumberland, was attacked by asthma Monday. He fell from the running board and sustained probably fatal injuries.

Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets superior to pills?" Our answer is: They are easier and more pleasant to take, more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable as they can always be depended upon. Then they cleanse and invigorate the stomach and leave the bowels in a natural condition, while pills are more harsh in effect and their use is often followed by constipation. For sale by R. K. Truitt & Son.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys: if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Letter to W. A. Ennis.

Dear Sir: Some think we take a good deal of risk in inviting complaints of Devoe lead and since we authorize our agent to sell it under this guarantee: "If you have any fault to find with this paint, either now in putting it on, or hereafter in the wear, tell your dealer about it."

"We authorize him to do what is right at our expense."

The following story tells how little the risk is:

J. H. Asher & Co., hardware dealers, Rhinebeck, N. Y., have sold Devoe from '76 to now, and have had just one complaint in all this time.

Three sides of a house were perfect; the fourth was as bad as the three were good.

Explanation—It rained the night before, the fourth side was painted; and the painters didn't wait for the wood to dry.

What is done in such a case? What ever the dealer, who sold the paint, considers it fair to do. We leave it to him. He may not do "exactly what we should do if we were there; but we are not there. The best we can do is to leave it to him.

Yours truly,
F. W. Devoe & Co.

The profit of a gold mine depends, not on the amount of rock crushed under the stamps but upon the amount of gold which is extracted from the rock. In a similar way the value of the food which is eaten does not depend on the quantity which is taken into the stomach but upon the amount of nourishment extracted from it by the organs of nutrition and digestion. When these organs are diseased they fail to extract the nourishment in sufficient quantities to supply the needs of the several organs of the body, and these organs cannot work without nourishment. The result is heart trouble, "trouble," and many another ailment. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acting on every organ of the digestive and nutritive system, restores it to health and vigor. It cures diseases remote from the stomach through the stomach in which they originated. "Golden Medical Discovery contains neither alcohol nor narcotics."

HE FEARED HE HAD LOST
When Wu Ting Fang, the famous Chinese Minister to Washington, irritable and somewhat forgetful from a severe cold, missed one day from the front of his cap the immense diamond he always wore there, he was dreadfully frightened. A friend pointed out that the statesman had inadvertently dropped his turban wrong side before, and that the diamond was safe in the rear. Had Wu Ting Fang been wearing a Benson's Porous Plaster on his chest or back to cure his cold, he never would have doubted its location. He would have felt it doing its work—warming and making flexible the torpid muscles, extracting the pain and soreness, promoting the free circulation of the blood, stimulating the skin and lungs to proper action, and so dissolving and banishing the malady. Thus we perceive, beloved friends, that while a pretty thing to look upon, was of no practical use. But Benson's Plasters are supremely useful. They relieve and cure, rheumatism, neuralgia, colds on the chest, lame back, etc., so quickly and completely as to make you wonder how it can be. Better now, well to-morrow, that's the way they work. Waterworks For Denton.

THE BIG DIAMOND ON HIS HAT

Mr. Charles S. York, a Baltimore engineer, has made a survey of the streets of Denton, Caroline county, and prepared specifications for water works soon to be erected there. A committee of citizens has been appointed to select a site for a tank or stand pipe. It is proposed to complete the plant before the close of the coming summer. On account of the fact of the town having no water supply for extinguishing fires insurance rates are very high, many of the business houses and contents being without insurance.

THREE CHICAGO DOCTORS

Failed to Do for Miss Mabelle L. LaMonte What Was Accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was in an awful state for nearly three years with a complication of female troubles which three physicians called by different names, but the pains were all the same. I dreaded the time of my monthly periods for it meant a couple of days in bed in awful agony. I finally made up my mind that the good doctors were guessing; and hearing from different friends such good reports of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I tried that. I bless the day I did, for it was the dawning of a new life for me. I used five bottles before I was cured, but when they were taken I was a well woman once more. Your Compound is certainly wonderful. Several of my friends have used it since, and nothing but the best do I ever hear from its use."—Yours, MABELLE L. Kaffir corn has no value where other corn will grow and do well.

The egg of the great auk is worth $250, and it is not a fresh egg either.

Old Aristotle knew that clover was a fertilizer for the farm, and he has been dead a long, long time.

The making of profitable baby beef is only possible with high grade animals of the strictly beef breeds.

The short crops of the past year have been lengthened out by a moderate winter and a reduced consumption.

Pork and beans is a well balanced ration. So are oatmeal and cream, roast pork and apple sauce, boiled beef and potatoes.

There never were so many men engaged in farming who want to find out better ways of doing their work than at the present time.

A wild goose was recently shot in Washington which had imbedded in its breast the head of an arrow made of ivory, evidently the work of some native hunter in the far north country.

Even if your schoolma'am does get $7 for teaching your school five days in a week she does not have as much money left after all her bills are paid as the girl in your kitchen who works for $2.50 per week.

If a young couple commence picking up and saving every old thing in the house and out of it which they think may come into play some day, they will need a fire to help them clean house inside of ten years.

A farm for which the owner has refused $140 per acre is made to pay 10 per cent annually on this valuation by stocking it with cows and selling the milk at a condensing factory near by. The owner receives one-half of the proceeds of the farm.

The railroads of this country are planning to spend no less than $340,000,000 the coming season in new lines, better equipment and improved tracks. This alone is going to make business for a vast number of people who will all be consumers of farm products.

Three of the most extensive and most successful cattle feeders in the west have in institute talks this winter proved almost beyond controversy that in the making of beef there is a saving of not less than 20 per cent in the corn fed when it is ground with the cob.

We feel sorry for the man on the farm who has raised four nice boys and cannot keep even one of them with him to take up the farm work as the father grows too old to carry it on. The smartest boy on the farm is the one who early resolves to stay by his dad.

A railway company conveyed back to the state of Minnesota lately certain lands upon which were iron deposits of the value of millions of dollars. This conveyance was made because the company had to make it and not because it wanted to. The land goes to the credit of the state school fund.

A swarm of sparrows, a flock of pigeons, a wandering dog, an old black crow or a predatory wolf visiting an infected bogyard can transmit the cholera with as much certainty as could a diseased hog running at large, and these agencies are pretty hard to quarantine against.

A man will eat fried cat, thinking it rabbit meat, and never kick, and the people will eat oleomargarine when it is sold to them for butter and not kick, but when they know what they are eating then it gags them, and they let both tomato and oleomargarine alone, and this is the whole of this oleo business.

It is always bad for a man to settle down discouraged and feeling that there is no use for him to try to get ahead in the world. The world's greatest victories have been won on the heels of its worst defeats. "I will" can overcome almost any misfortune. The world loves grit in a man and has no time for a whiner.

An important fact has been developed in the alfalfa regions of Kansas and Nebraska, and that is that the cheapest produced pork in the world can be made out of just alfalfa and nothing else, and if this were not enough the claim is still further made that such pork is the best flavored produced anywhere. Now, if these claims are true the hog raiser in the corn belt is going to have a run for his money.

We know of two or three nice old ladies whose falling years incline them to use an old cob pipe for comfort. We have never got reconciled to this, for somehow what seems all right in the case of the old man seems all wrong in the case of the old lady. These should stick to the teapot.

The shellbark hickory and the white oak are very fastidious as to the soil whereon they grow. These trees like the same sort of soil, a stiff clay, and one never need be looking for a sand pit anywhere near where they may be found. White oak and shellbark hickory lands are nearly always good wheat soils.

We are in no sense a prophet, but we will venture the prediction that there will be the usual number of bugs, beetles, borers and insect pests of high and low degree to wage war on all vegetable and animal life on the farm this coming season. Between the weeds and the bugs it is often nip and tuck for the farmer to see where he comes in.

The selling price of hay will largely determine the value of the corn fodder. The logic of the situation suggests that less hay be raised on the average farm, the meadow acreage planted to corn, the forage crop thus secured and a good crop of corn besides. In other words, the utilization of the corn fodder may be made to add new acres to every farm.

We know of a certain farm in the west which is well fenced with wire strung on posts set a rod apart. There is nothing peculiar about this, but the owner has painted all the posts a barn red and given them a white cap, and so every one who goes by the farm wants to know whose farm that is, and they can then turn toward the gable end of the big barn, and there is the name of the farm and the owner in big white letters. In doing this he has made his place a landmark.

RICH AND DOESN'T KNOW IT.
The richest man in America has to chop wood so that he may get up appetite to eat a bowl of crackers and skim milk. That's the enjoying life, is it not? You call yourself poor; but, compared with this Croesus, when you sit down to your three square meals a day and return thanks not only for the food, but for the good health and appetite, which is one of the compensations of hard work and hard knocks, you are one of the richest men on earth.

THIS MAN IS RIGHT.
One of the most successful hog raisers of the state of Iowa says that it is all a mistake to assume, as is generally done, that the most profitable hog to produce is the six-month-old 225 pound pig. He for years has let his pigs grow naturally until they were a year or more old, living on clover and ranging, making big, strong frames before they were put up to fatten for the market, claiming that the forcing process for early marketing is a provoking cause for disease. We believe he is everlasting right in his conclusions.

SOME DROUGHT LESSONS.
Some lessons have been well learned as the result of the far-reaching drought of last year. One was that the constant tillage of growing crops wherever possible is just as good as if not better than irrigation during a drought; another, that some sort of summer forage crop for use for the dairy cows and the calves and hogs is almost invaluable; another, that such a dry time may be used to great advantage in getting rid of sorrel, quack grass and other pests by constant worrying them with a plow or cultivator while it lasts; another, that the fields deeply plowed or semisubsoiled the year before can stand the effects of such drought much better than shallow soils.

CEMETERIES AND EVERGREENS.
While the small evergreen seems to many an appropriate tree to plant upon a cemetery lot, it does not take many years for the little tree to become a large one, when its roots will take possession of the whole lot, heave the monuments out of plumb and so obscure the place with their dense funeral shade that one had as soon be buried in the Great Dismal swamp. Don't bury the sleepers in gloom. Let the sunshine, which perchance they may have had little enough of while living, play over their resting place. Make the sacred acre bright with grass and flowers, and if the trees must be planted let them always be of the deciduous types and not evergreens.

UNREST.
While not migratory in the sense that Abraham and Lot were when they dwelt in Canaan, the American people are still the most restless and unsettled of all civilized peoples. The business directory of any town will undergo almost a complete change every ten years. Nearly every farmer will sell his farm and home if he can get his price. The desire to change, to see and live in new countries, make new neighbors and friends, amounts almost to a craze. Our people do not seem to understand the blessings of contentment, no matter how well they may be fixed, and so they sell and pike off to Tennessee or Texas, California or Canada, only too often returning later on with very little cash and a very large chunk of experience. Now, the truth is that when any man has a fairly good farm, be it large or small, is making a good living and saving a little, has a lot of good friends and neighbors and bringing his family up right, he is well entitled to in this world, and his efforts to get more and more are likely to bring him more trouble than pleasure. The average man can fill only just about so much space in the old world anyhow.

"What is the best feed for pigs after being weaned?" Ground oats and corn in equal parts, to which add a little bran and middlings, says National Stockman.

"Do you feed the oats with the hulls?" Some claimed they took the oats as it came from the machine and had it ground as fine as possible. Others asserted taking the oats as it is usually ground has a tendency to produce irritation of the throat, producing a hacking cough. Sift the ground oats, and the malady in the pigs disappears. Give no sour milk to pigs. Milk directly from the cows is good feed. "Can we afford to feed sweet milk at 1 cent per pound?" A limited amount can be profitably fed.

"What is the best ingredient to mix with separator milk?" Bran and middlings. Even at the present high prices for these two articles it does pay to feed them.

"Does it pay to buy buttermilk at 1 cent per gallon?" It does if you can get a genuine article and live convenient to the creamery. Genuine buttermilk is preferable to skim milk.

"Does it pay during winter to warm and cook feeds?" If we have a warm place to keep the pigs, it does. Rye in combination with oats and bran makes a rich hog feed. To the rye add one-fifth oats by weight and grind. To this product add one-half bran by weight.

Hogs For Quick Returns.
It has always been my experience that there is a decided advantage with hogs over all other stock kept on the farm—the quick returns if good management is given, writes Mrs. M. A. Sparkman of Chester county, Pa., to American Agriculturist. As with all stock, it is essential that a good breed be had. By having well bred animals a quick growth and early maturity can be obtained. If a sow farrows in early spring, say April, late enough not to endanger losses from cold, in nine months the pigs, with good treatment, can be ready for market. By this time another lot of pigs can be growing. Thus we can sell two lots of pigs in a year from the same sow. This gives a quick return and at this year's prices a good one on the money invested. No other stock will answer as well. The value of the hog to the farmer cannot be questioned.

A Handy Hoghouse.
The following plan was originally given in the Ohio Farmer in answer to a request for a plan of a hoghouse with

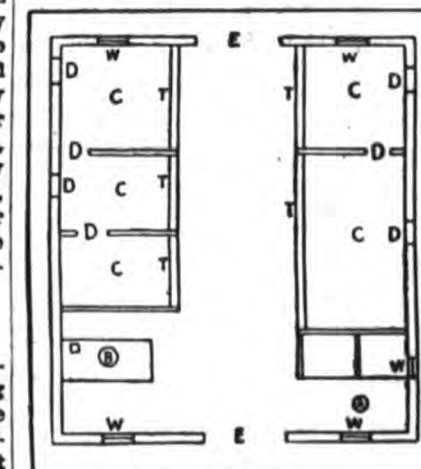

FIG. 1—FLOOR PLAN OF HOGHOUSE.
Two good sized pens, a driveway that may be utilized for another pen in case of need and storage room for corn above the pens.

Fig. 1 is the floor plan. B is a brick arch with kettle set in for cooking feed and heating water at killing time. A is a cistern, which is supplied with water from the eaves of the building; E, driveway; C C C, pens; T T T, troughs. D D shows the doors and W W the windows. The two compartments next to the cistern are bins for meal and middlings. The dimensions of the building are 34 feet wide by 40 feet in length. However, the length may be varied, according to the number of hogs one may wish to keep.

Fig. 2 shows a section of the middle bents. C C C shows spaces where corn can be stored. Make the posts out of 3 by 6 joists doubled, putting in two center bents only. Use 2 by 4 nailing girts. Plates are formed of a 2 by 6 and a 2 by 8 joist put together. Rafters, 2 by 4; sill, 8 by 8 timbers.

Breeding Sows.
For next year's litters select sows of good milking qualities. Much depends on the mother, and an abundance of milk is what pigs require. Give the sow no feed for twenty-four hours after farrowing, but after possible trouble from farrow has been avoided she should be fed liberally.

Exposition Motto.
Nail over the entrance to the International Live Stock exposition this motto for all who bring animals to read and heed: "The biggest possible piece of meat in the smallest possible package." If that is not your ideal, take some of your best animals to the show and see how the judges will turn you down! You saw enough at the show to keep you thinking for a year. You heard enough, if you had ears, to keep you thinking for another year.—Joseph E. Wing in Breeder's Gazette.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE

For Coughs and Colds in Children.

"I have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Chas. M. Cramer, Esq., a well known watch maker of Colombo, Ceylon. "It has been two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all chest colds. It is especially effective for children and seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are as well pleased as myself over the results." For sale by R. K. Truitt.

Michael Carey, one of the oldest Baltimore and Ohio engineers running into Cumberland, was attacked by asthma Monday. He fell from the running board and sustained probably fatal injuries.

Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets superior to pills?" Our answer is: They are easier and more pleasant to take, more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable as they can always be depended upon. Then they cleanse and invigorate the stomach and leave the bowels in a natural condition, while pills are more harsh in effect and their use is often followed by constipation. For sale by R. K. Truitt & Son.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

It now seems an assured fact that Governor Smith will be compelled to call an extra session of the Legislature to correct an oversight in the House of Delegates in adjourning Monday night without passing the bill providing for the levying of the State tax and fixing the various items for which the State tax is levied.

As matters now stand there is no authority for collecting the State tax of 1 1/2 cents on the $100 of property for the years 1902 and 1903.

The Act of 1900 repeals section 23 of Article 81 of the code and reenacts it with amendments, fixing the items for the years 1900 and 1901, but for no other years.

The bill fixing the amount of the items and providing for the tax was introduced by Senator Jones, of Montgomery county, and passed the Senate on March 17. It then went to the House, where it was given its first and second readings, and was ordered engrossed. It was put on the third reading file on March 25, and there it stayed. It was among four of Senator Jones' bills that failed of passage, the majority of the House having apparently a dislike for measures bearing the name of the gentleman from Montgomery county.

An extra session of the Legislature at this time is very unfortunate, but as it is a necessity let it be called together to pass this one tax bill and no others. This can easily be done in three days.

As to the responsibility of those in charge for allowing such an important bill to die on the files there are several divergent views taken by those interested. The error lies at the door of either Senator Jones, who introduced the bill, Chairman John G. Rogers of the Ways and Means Committee in the House or Isaac Lobe Straus who had joined his forces with the Republicans and was the leader of the House. The better opinion seems to be that Mr. Straus is responsible as he had previously objected to one of Senator Jones' local bills and Speaker Mitchell in the great rush of the last few days placed Senator Jones' bills at the bottom of the file in order to avoid discussion and allow important local bills to be passed. As an order, introduced by Mr. A. Lincoln Dryden of Somerset, had previously passed the House that no one should examine the files, the oversight was easily made. We feel safe in saying that had the Democratic managers had control of the House no such blunder would have occurred.

TWO IMPORTANT LOCAL LAWS.

Senator Brewington's law changing the method of collecting taxes in Wicomico county, and Delegate White's road law are two radical and progressive measures which, in operation, will work great benefits to the tax payers of Wicomico county and the public generally.

Some of the cardinal provisions of each measure have been published in the local press, but their full force and operation will be better understood after they have been substituted for the old laws.

The old system of collecting taxes has been fruitful of very serious evils, not the least of which has been the tendency of collectors to grow careless in the collection and turning over of the public funds. Often the collector and his bondsmen have been financially wrecked, as an indirect result of our present cumbersome and expensive system.

There is every reason to believe that Senator Brewington's new law will correct the existing evils and facilitate the collection of taxes as well as save, directly and indirectly, many hundred dollars to the tax payers.

Under our present road law large sums of money have been annually expendent for which the people have received no proper and adequate return. The fault was nobody's in particular, but an inevitable result of a time honored system, or lack of system.

Mr. White's law, while hardly as radical as progressive citizens might have desired, is, nevertheless, a long stride in the right direction and must certainly prove a material aid to those public spirited citizens who are endeavoring to permanently improve the public roads of the county.

Under this law the tax payers have the roads, in a measure, in their own hands. If the property owners of any district desire special improvements to any particular road or section of road they may go before the County Commissioners with their proposition, and after pledging themselves to bear one-half of the cost of such contemplated improvement, the commissioners are empowered to pay the other half out of the general road fund, if on examination they deem the improvement of sufficient public interest.

There are other practical features of the law which differ from anything contained in the old law and which are designed to correct the defects in the existing law and to help in the permanent betterment of Wicomico's county roads.

The manufacturers of the country are now importing more than a million dollars' worth of materials for their workshops every day in the year, and are exporting more than a million dollars' worth of their finished product each day. The imports of manufacturers' materials in the 8 months ending with February 1902 were, according to a statement just issued by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics, $270,202, 774, and the exports of finished manufactures during the same period were $287,907, 430. Thus in 243 days of the fiscal year the manufacturers have imported 270 million dollars' worth of material and exported 287 million dollars' worth of their finished product, thus averaging more than $1,000,000 of both imports and exports for every day of the fiscal year up to the beginning of the present month. The importation of manufacturers' materials has been greater in the eight months just ended than in the corresponding period of any preceding year.

For Easton (Md.) Postoffice.

The postoffice Department has entered into negotiations with the Easton (Md.) National Bank for the leasing of premises for postoffice purposes in the new building to be erected by the bank on Washington street, between Railroad avenue and Dover street, at Easton, Md. The lease is for 10 years and includes equipment, safe and other accessories.

Talbot Land Sales.

The trustees of the Chamberlaine estate sold Bonfield, the Colonial place, near Oxford, to A. Aubrey Cox, of Oxford, for $7,400. It contains 100 acres of arable land. Gulon Miller bought Wickersham, 32 acres, for $1,250. H. H. Langdale bought the lot in Easton and the one in Hammonds town for $225 and $250, respectively. The lot in Oxford was withdrawn.

Somerset County Appointment.

The Somerset County Commissioners have appointed Robert F. Maddox (Dem.) Clerk and Treasurer, to succeed Charles W. Long (Rep.), whose term expires on July 1, 1902. The present board consists of two Democrats—Messrs. James H. Cullin and Wesley Beauchamp—and one Republican—Mr. George A. Somers.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

SECOND WEEK OF COURT.

Jones Case Consumes Seven Days of Court's Time.

GRAVE CHARGE AGAINST AN EX-TAX COLLECTOR.

The case of B. S. Jones vs. the N. Y. P. & N. Railroad, which was called at 4:40 o'clock Thursday afternoon of last week is still occupying the attention of the Court as the ADVERTISER goes to press today.

As stated in last issue, this is the most important case before this session. Jones claims damages to land by the alleged overflow of water let down by the railroad by the opening of a ditch. A great number of witnesses have been examined on both sides, some of whom are supposed to possess expert knowledge on the matters at issue.

The case has been ably conducted on both sides, Messrs. Melvin & Handy representing Jones, and Messrs. Miles & Stanford and Ellegood for the railroad. Mr. H. James Messick, of Nanticoke, heads the twelve jurors who sit in the case. The arguments will be finished today (Friday) and the case will then be in the hands of the jury for a decision. What that will be can not, of course, be foreseen.

The grand jury finished its labors last Saturday and was that day discharged. The committee appointed to visit the jail recommended that the walls be whitewashed or coated and that a door at the entrance to the cellar be repaired. The Alms House committee found fifteen inmates at that institution—six white and nine colored. All seemed to be well pleased with their treatment and everything is reported to be in first class order, in fact the committee strongly endorses Mr. Seabreeze, the keeper, declaring him to be the "right man in the right place."

A number of indictments were found by Grand Jury, the most grave of all was the charge of embezzlement against Francis J. Kennerly of Riverton, collector of taxes for Baron Creek district for 1896 and 1897. Mr. Kennerly gave a personal bond for the year 1896, but after that time the County Commissioners adopted the policy of requiring a corporate bond, and the Fidelity and Deposit Company, of Baltimore, Mr. Jay Williams, Agent, wrote all collectors' bonds for this county for 1897 and succeeding years.

The indictment was at the instance of the Fidelity company and on the bond of 1897. The amount involved in the suit is something over $1100.00. It is understood that Mr. Kennerly's shortage for the previous year is much greater, but as yet his bondsmen, who are his neighbors and friends, have taken no formal action against him. Mr. Kennerly was brought to Salisbury this (Friday) morning and is at present in the custody of the Sheriff.

—Mr. H. Lee Powell spent Saturday and Sunday with his family.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Miller entertained Rev. R. A. Robinson and Miss Robinson on Monday last.

—Miss Virgie Hayman of Somerset, who has been spending the winter in Baltimore, is visiting Miss Edna Disharoon.

—Mr. George J. Meyers of Baltimore and Miss Mary Elliott of this city were married Monday, March 31st by Rev. Geo. W. Wilcox.

—Miss Louise Crisfield of Princess Anne was the guest on Monday and Tuesday, of Miss Letitia Houston, Camden Ave.

—Mr. Mimos Trader, of Washington College, who spent the Easter holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Trader of this city, has returned to college.

—Mrs. Belle H. Jones entertained about fifty of her lady friends at a Domino Party on Tuesday night. The guests progressed from table to table until eleven o'clock, when refreshments were served after which they departed having spent a delightful evening.

—Mrs. W. F. Veasey received a telegram on Wednesday of last week announcing the death of her brother Mr. Frank Dryden of Philadelphia. The remains were interred in Princess Anne on Saturday after services in the Presbyterian Church.

—The close of the third act of "Pennsylvania," the new comedy drama by Daniel L. Hart and C. E. Callahan, which comes to Ulman Grand Opera House next Thursday evening Apr. 10th where the villain leaves the hero to perish is very intense, dramatically, and presents a wonderful scenic effect.

—The (Tyaskin Grammar School will give an entertainment in Mechanics Hall, (better known as Hall's Hall) Saturday, April 12, consisting of plays, tableaux, music, etc. The proceeds of which will be for the benefit of a school library. Doors open 7:30 p. m.; exercises beginning at 8 p. m.; Admission 15 cents.

—There will be Evangelistic Services held in the Division Street Baptist Church, beginning Saturday evening, April 5th, and to continue nightly for two weeks. The Evangelist Rev. E. C. Romine preacher and gospel singer of Philadelphia, will conduct the services throughout. New hymns will be introduced and taught the congregation from his own books. A special invitation extended to all.

YET.

This is April fool month and Thoroughgood wants to give you a few pointers. DON'T, when you walk down town, kick the dilapidated plug hat that lies on the sidewalk—there may be a brick under it. When you turn the corner and see a nice, fat pocketbook just at the edge of the walk, don't try to pick it up—there may be a small boy and a string attached to it—you'd better step on it. If you are allowed to swallow your own coffee use loaf sugar—the granulated may be salt. When you crawl into bed see that the sheets reach to the foot of the bed—somebody may have turned them back half way. When you try to put your hand in your pocket, or you try to put on your shirt, don't be surprised at anything—your pockets or your shirt may have been sewed up while you slept, for this is April fool month, and all the fools are not dead yet. Take things good naturedly (unless somebody's looking). Well, don't you know it sometimes jars you when you think of the foolish things you do. For instance, you get trusted—that's foolish. The man that trusts you will sell you the same things for less money if you pay him cash. You're not careful what you buy when you buy on credit. You don't care until the pay day comes. If your clothes won't sell you cheaper for cash than he will on time, he's "working" you, he can make more the other way. If he won't, I will. Start to buy your Clothing and Hats from Lacy Thoroughgood—you'll have to pay cash, but you'll make money by it and Thoroughgood will guarantee that you won't get April Fooled on a single thing. You can't, for Thoroughgood's Clothing and Hats are all good.

A LUCULLIAN REPAST.

Whistler's Supper of Cold Lamb Feet
A New York Artist.

Alden Weir, the New York artist, relates an amusing story of how he became acquainted with the eccentric J. A. MacNeill Whistler. Weir was one day copying one of the old masters in the National gallery. In London, when he became conscious of a man passing to and fro once or twice behind him. The man paused and, looking over the painter's shoulder, murmured, "Not bad."

But Weir was engrossed in his work and gave no heed to the passing comment. After looking around a bit more the stranger stopped again and repeated, "Not bad; not bad at all!"

Mr. Weir turned slightly, bowed acknowledgment and resumed his painting. The stranger, whom he had not turned far enough around to look at, stood still and presently spoke once more. "I'm Whistler; I'm Whistler," he said.

Weir turned full around then, and there stood the arch maker of enemies ready to make a friend. Mr. Weir found a way of making himself known without saying "I'm Weir," and Whistler was delighted. He was all affability and insisted that the New Yorker dine with him at his club. The day was by that time spent, and painting time had passed, but Weir had planned to leave London at 10 p. m. and had packed his luggage preparatory to doing so before going to the gallery, expecting to dine quickly and take his train alone.

Whistler was insistent, however, and Weir went to his hotel, unpacked and clad himself for dinner. Whistler agreeing to call for him at 7 o'clock. The hour came, but no Whistler, and another hour went by and still no Whistler and no word from him. Weir never gets angry, it is said, but he changed his clothes again and his mind about his eccentric compatriot at the same time and prepared for his journey and a late snack in lieu of a dinner. At that moment Whistler was announced. He was all elegance and apologies. The genial Weir forgave much and started with his host for the club, concluding that the 10 o'clock train would not carry him away that night after all.

At the door of the club Whistler halted abruptly, remarking that he was no more a member of that club and so could not take his guest there. "But we'll go to my house," he said reassuringly, "and make up with a supper of cold lamb."

The dignified Weir had become limp by this time and very faint. He went along. As they passed in at Whistler's door Whistler asked the astute butler if he had a bit of cold lamb, and the butler said he thought so. Whistler asked his guest to remain for a few moments in a small reception room, promising to return for him directly. The minutes lengthened, hunger strengthened, and the host shamefully kept away. Men and women in evening dress arrived and passed up stairs from time to time. Weir was left alone. He began to suspect Whistler of many things. At last the apologetic host reappeared and led Mr. Weir into a company of his friends whom he had invited to a Lucullian repast, and the New York guest has been known to refer to the evening since, notwithstanding the exigencies of the moment, as a particularly jolly one.—Argonaut.

The Country's Pie Center.

The pie center of the country is Brockton, Mass. It claims all kinds of records, and from the figures of its industry it deserves recognition. For pie-making and pie eating, for big pies and little pies, for thin pies and thick pies, for light pies and heavy pies, it is willing to enter the arena against any city in the Union, barring none.

Three factories alone turn out 305,000 pies every year, but this is only a small portion of the city's pie industry. The 10,000 inhabitants consume about 3,000 pies daily, or over 1,000,000 each year. If laid in a straight line, edge to edge, they would make a pie bicycle path from Boston to Chicago. At 10 cents each, and they are worth more than that, Brockton consumes $2.50 worth of pie per citizen each year.

The champion pie-maker of the town is a boarding house keeper, Mrs. Viola V. King. Her record last year was 5,005 pies, or about thirteen pies a day for every day in the year. The holder of second place in the pie-making industry is another boarding house keeper, Mrs. Margaret Caskin, proprietress of the Empire House, who has 2,840 pies to her credit.—Philadelphia North American.

Crusade Against Profanity.

A very strong and commendable crusade is being made at this time against profanity. In many cities and towns of the state there have been organizations effected to do away with this careless and sinful habit. The evil is widespread and has not been confined to one class of persons, and it is high time that pure speech be the rule among all classes and that God's name be honored and hallowed, that it be held as sacred and more so than that of mother or father, for God not only demands it, but he is entitled to our most heartfelt gratitude and reverence. Slang is too prevalent in conversation and in song. Even the pulpit is not altogether free from its use. Other agencies help to spread phrases and words not of the choicest and best character.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Queen Alexandra's Lucky Shot.

Many years ago Queen Alexandra visited Bisleigh and was invited to try her fortune at the targets at a distance of 600 yards. The rifle was placed in position for her, and with her first shot she hit the bullseye. This rifle is now one of her most treasured possessions and is preserved in a glass case in one of her private rooms at Sandringham.—London Standard.

YOUTH AND OLD AGE.

Life is Not Measured by Years, but by Strength and Vigor.

What Makes the Young and the Young Younger? Dr. Greene's Nervura the Great Restorative.

How often we say of one past the meridian of life, even of those in its twilight glow, "How young he looks!" And, on the other hand, how many who ought to be in their prime bear evidences in looks and feelings of old age!

It ought never to be, where healthful conditions have prevailed. Strength and vigor in youth and mature years depend on the care and attention our natural qualifications receive. In the mad rush of business, in the fierce struggle of the mart and exchange, in the labor of the shop and factory, in the strain and worry, we lose all sight and thought of the necessary conditions, and imperil our years without excuse or justification. There is no sight so beautiful as vigorous maturity, and fresh and hearty age; nor one so sad as a prematurely decayed youth. If Springtime verdure, summer bloom, and autumn ripeness are the fitting types of the year, so are the freshness of youth and the strength, vigor, and maturity of age the fitting incidents of a proper life.

Nothing makes these possible so surely as a sound body, strong nerves, and rich blood to make the body healthy; nothing is so certain a help as Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Thousands who have taken it can testify to its potent influence as a source of perpetual youth and strength. It is the true regenerator of the body, making strong nerves, rich red blood, and restoring the snap, energy, and vigor of renewed youth to the nerve-weakened, exhausted, and run-down system. It makes the old and middle-aged feel young and vigorous; it gives strength, energy, and power to those who work. Try it and get back your strength, energy, and youthful vigor. Remember that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is a physician's prescription, indorsed and recommended by the ablest doctors everywhere. Its discoverer, Dr. Greene, of 101 Fifth Avenue, New York City, is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and can be consulted without charge, personally or by letter.

Delmar was again thrown into a state of excitement at 6 o'clock Thursday morning by the alarm of fire. Mr. Irving Culver chief and members of the newly organized fire company rushed to the scene and found the jewelry store of Mr. A. C. Brown on fire in the second story. SPRING DISPLAYS.

The Millinery Openings This Week Attract Numbers of People.

DISPLAYS OF SPRING WEARING APPAREL.

After much work and planning the preparations were completed and every thing seemed in readiness Thursday morning at the Millinery stores for their annual Spring Opening, an event interesting to the ladies and always enjoyed by them. "Spring Openings" are always fraught with so much gaiety, profusions of bloom and foliage, dainty colorings in trimmings, that in fact everything takes on the air of bright and joyous spring time.

The styles in head wear this season are various, of course some predominate. As a rule the rather flat effect takes the lead and many of the stylish pattern hats shown are shaped after this fashion.

The openings this year, as usual, attracted a great deal of attention and the stores were crowded each day with visitors, not only by our town people, but ladies from the country and adjoining towns.

R. E. POWELL & Co.

There was a double attraction at Messrs. R. E. Powell & Co's. Besides their handsome displays of millinery and other goods, musical concerts furnished by Packard's Regimental Orchestra of Baltimore was much enjoyed by those who visited their opening. The orchestra consisted of three pieces, harp, violin, and cornet, and the music dispensed was very sweet.

In the millinery department palms and blooming plants were used to good effect in decorating, and these with draperies and hangings of pink and blue ribbon, chiffon and other trimmings rendered this department very attractive.

A number of pretty and stylish hats were shown. It is always difficult to single out the prettiest, among so many, and attempt to give a description of them. A very attractive red hat, had a flat crown of foliage, rolling brim made entirely of red geraniums, shaded with pink, trimmed with bow of red ribbon falling in loops at the back.

Another stylish pattern was made of pink hair braid, draped with dainty lace and pink satin ribbon forming loops at the back. Pink roses, both above and under the brim completed the trimmings.

A handsome design was a large violet hat with flaring side brims of violet tulle and white satin lace braid, entire crown formed of beautiful silk and velvet violets and bows of violet liberty satin ribbon, bows and ends falling gracefully over the hair with a large bunch of violets and foliage across back.

LOWENTHAL.

At Lowenthal's the decorations were very neat and attractive being mostly in white, with an occasional touch of color. The millinery window first catches the eye but is only a sample of what is shown inside. Palms and plants add their grace and beauty to the profusion of color in flowers and other trimmings. The hats, of which they have a large selection, are very stylish and were much admired. A number of black and white models, which is a very popular combination this season, were shown.

An all lace hat trimmed about the crown with a frill of white ribbon, and the entire under brim lined with pink crushed roses makes a very pleasing effect.

A large handsome hat of light green satin panama straw was much admired. This was trimmed with large bow of green taffeta ribbon and bunches of small white flowers with long stems.

Another was a black and white straw trimmed with large flower pompons in black and white. A rich bow of ribbon velvet with ends hanging gracefully at the back completes the trimming of this neat and pretty hat.

MRS. G. W. TAYLOR.

Mrs. G. W. Taylor's millinery parlor was handsomely decorated for the opening occasion. Draperies in the green and white effect were very tastefully arranged about the mirrors, the same being used for window decorations, while cut flowers, plants and palms beautified the scene.

The hats were much admired, the patterns shown being in a variety of shapes and styles. A tree of baby bonnets in the rear of the store attracted attention.

Among the hats shown was one of very odd shape, brim rolling on either side, of chrysanthemum straw, trimmed in currants and foliage, with large bow of ribbon on top with ends hanging from the back.

Another hat that caught the fancy of spectators had a black rose petal crown, under brim of tucked chiffon with yellow roses at side. A large spray of rich foliage encircles the flaring brim. Another pretty one was a large flat hat with foliage crown brim draped around with black lace falling over a row of pink roses on under side of brim and loops of lace at back. A bunch of velvet ribbon caught with a buckle completes the under brim trimming.

Messrs. Birkhead & Shookley have also an elaborate display of spring and summer goods at their store. One of the windows is handsomely arrayed in dress goods and trimmings, while the store has been made unusually attractive in honor of the Spring Opening.

A charming social event of the season was a tea given by Mrs. W. B. Tilghman Tuesday afternoon from five to seven o'clock at her home on Camden Avenue, in honor of her debutante daughter, Miss M. Louise Tilghman. The house was decorated in green and white.

Those who assisted Mrs. Tilghman and Miss Tilghman in receiving were Miss Tilghman and Miss Trice of Norfolk, Va. Mrs. Tilghman was handsomely gowned in a black silk net over taffeta, while the debutante was simply but prettily gowned in a white silk mull. Miss Tilghman of Norfolk wore cream lace over satin, while Miss Trice was attired in blue silk with real lace trimmings.

Mrs. E. S. Toadvin charmingly entertained the guests throughout the house. The young ladies who assisted in the dining room, Misses Virginia and Nancy Gordy, Misses Alice Gunby, Bessie Ellegood, Mary C. Smith and Nellie White, were dressed in white with green ribbons. A selection of piano solos was rendered by Miss Grace Ellegood and Miss Edna Gillis.

The receiving party enjoyed an elegant supper consisting of chicken croquettes with green peas, salad, ices and coffee.

Later in the evening a number of Salisbury's society men called to meet Miss Tilghman's guests.

On Monday evening Miss Nellie White entertained a few of her friends in honor of Miss Trice, of Norfolk. Musical comedies was the program arranged for the evening, and was much enjoyed by those present.

A "Mother Goose" party was given on Wednesday of this week by Miss Alice Gunby, at her home on Camden Ave. to about twenty of her friends, in honor of Miss Louise Trice and Miss Hattie Tilghman, of Norfolk, Va., who have been the guests of Miss Minnie Tilghman.

Coultbourns—Hayman.

An attractive church wedding occurred at the M. E. Church, South Thursday morning at 7 o'clock, the contracting parties being Mr. James H. Coultbourn and Miss Daisy L. Hayman.

The church was tastefully decorated with potted plants, ferns, and lilies. Precisely at 7 o'clock the bridal party preceded by the ushers, Messrs. R. Dood, Geo. White, L. P. Coultbourn and J. Walter Huntington, moved up the main aisle of the church to the strains of music rendered by Miss Emma Powell. They were met at the altar by Rev. Dr. Newton, pastor of the church, who in a simple ceremony joined them together as man and wife.

The bride was attired in a blue travelling dress, trimmed in white maddison, with hat and gloves to match and carried a large bouquet of bride's roses. The groom with the ushers wore the conventional black coats with light trousers and wore boutonnières of white roses.

Immediately after the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Coultbourn left on the 7.30 north-bound train for a stay of several days in northern cities. After their return they will board for awhile but expect to occupy their house on Poplar Hill Avenue in June.

DAMAGES $500.

Jury Finds Verdict For Jones In Suit Against The N. Y. P. & N.

Judge Holland sat alone last Saturday morning when the Jury in the damage suit of B. S. Jones vs. the N. Y. P. & N. railroad, declared its verdict to the Court. Jones was awarded $500 damages. When the case was tried first last year a jury awarded the plaintiff $1500 damages, which goes to show that in this case a new trial proved detrimental to the man with the grievance.

The case lasted eight days and was the means of prolonging the March term much beyond the time otherwise necessary to transact the business of the Court. The Court expenses attaching to the trial are borne by Worcester county, where the damages are alleged to have been suffered.

Judge Holland dismissed the petit jury Monday until Thursday when they were to have reported, but the difficulties of Ex Tax Collector Kennerly having been in the meantime settled in a manner satisfactory to the County Commissioners, Clerk of the Court Truitt was instructed by the Court to notify the jurors by mail of their final discharge.

The Somerset Court will convene next Monday. Judge, Holland will leave Salisbury that day to be in attendance during the session.

A Star Attraction.

"The Gladiator," which Mr. Robert Downing will produce here on Thursday, April 17th, at Uman's Opera House was written for Signor Tomasso Salvini and originally produced by him in Italy, when he first came to America it was his piece de resistance, and several actors tried to play the part, but failed, Mr. Robert Downing secured the rights to it, and realizing that it would be a physical as well as mental strain, he went into training, and fully prepared himself before attempting it. The success he made with it was heralded all over the world, he has been presenting it every season for the past fourteen years, with marvelous success, and today, although the play is over thirty years old, it is like an old friend, those who have seen it before, see it again and again, and it is very gratifying to Mr. Downing when his admirers write him and speak with pleasure of the number of times they have seen it. In speaking of the play, Mr. Downing says: "I guess I will have to play it as long as I remain on the stage, the public demand it, the managers want it, and the box office receipts satisfy me that the public and managers know what they want. Tickets on sale at Box Office. Prices 25, 35, 50 and 75 cts."

Fish Hatching Operations.

The perch hatching stations of the Maryland fish commission on the Eastern Shore are now in full operation, and millions of white and yellow perch are being hatched. Fish Commissioner C. L. Vincent, of Snow Hill, has just returned from an inspection of the Tuckahoe hatching station, in Caroline county, and reports that 130,000,000 perch eggs have already been obtained at this station and over 75,000,000 young perch have been hatched out and are now being placed in the various rivers of the Eastern Shore by direction of the commissioner. Deputy Thomas Hughlett has visited Centerville, Cambridge and other points and planted perch this week. Mr. Vincent has instructed the men at all four of the hatcheries on the Eastern Shore to leave nothing undone that will count for good in the propagation of shad and perch. Deputy Fish Commissioner Wm. F. Caloway will again this season have charge of the Salisbury hatchery. Everything here is in readiness for hatching.

Traction Co. for Lower Delaware.

The Delaware Electric Traction Co. the Addicks concern, which is to construct and operate electric railways in seven towns of lower Delaware and then connect the towns with Woodland Beach by trolley and with Philadelphia from the bayside resort by water was incorporated at Dover early Monday evening. Herbert H. Ward, attorney, and Dr. Thomas Moore, who is to be secretary of the company, filed the charter. The capital stock is $1,000,000, and the company's survey calls for 32 miles of electrical railway. A check for $17,500 had to be deposited with the State Treasurer as a guarantee for faithful performance and compliance before the State granted a charter. The incorporators are James Frank Alee, Thomas C. Moore, Caleb R. Layton, Luther S. Conwell, Sylvester John Abbott and George W. Marshall.

MARYLAND FOR GOOD ROADS.

Wicomico Among the Progressive Counties of the State.

Better direction and more intelligent labor on the public highways are subjects now occupying public consideration in every county of Maryland. With the passage of the frost of the winter comes from every region of the State a loud complaint of the unfitness of the roads. This complaint, although repeated in Maryland for many springs, will not be repeated forever. The farmer and the villager are coming very where to feel that something is lacking to the scheme which supplies them with ditches of mud or ridges of sand to lighten their loads and lengthen their journeys. This feeling of lack must finally lead in every case to a rich search for its remedy. This search has begun in some cases already. Baltimore county has an enlightened road law and its highways are under the care of one man who knows how they ought to be treated and is responsible for all mistakes he may make. He is making use of such aid as the Highway Division of the Maryland Geological Survey can give him. Only a few weeks ago the best interests of Cecil county assembled in Elkton to talk about roads. They are now agitating for the best methods that the best advice can suggest to them. They too have called on the Highway Division. The Commissioners of Howard county have had the cooperation of the Maryland Geological Survey in two important pieces of work. In Harford county the Woolsey road is coming to completion under the Highway Division's specifications. Prince George's new law puts the improvement of the roads leading from the District of Columbia, and to be maintained by the liquor license fees, under the direction of the Survey. New road legislation has also been under consideration in Wicomico and elsewhere.

Technical skill in road crafts, individual authority and responsibility, breadth of plan and thoroughness of purpose, are the chief lacks in the Maryland highway system, as it is seen by Mr. A. N. Johnson, the Highway engineer of the Maryland Geological Survey. Mr. Johnson came to Maryland from the Massachusetts Highway Commission. Massachusetts is noted for the most perfect system of highways in the United States, and for the most improved methods of maintaining her superiority. The Maryland engineer is familiar, therefore, with the traditions and practices of road administration held and followed where roads are best. His duties in connection with the State Geological Survey the past two years have sent him all over Maryland and before the commissioners of nearly all its counties.

"Close study of the roads and road methods in all the counties of the State," says Mr. Johnson, "has satisfied me that most of the road funds, as applied at present, are wasted. But it also convinces me that there is a practical remedy for the scant improvement in the roads of the State, for which more than a half million of dollars is paid annually. That the present system prevailing in most of the counties does not improve the roads from year to year no one doubts.

"The important point to establish is a remedy within the means of the county treasuries. After much study of all the conditions affecting both the administration and methods used under the present systems there no longer remains any doubt concerning the cause of the failure of these methods. It is the dissipation of funds each year over too much road.

"Such a method can never result in any improvement from year to year. It may be true that the road tax of a single county is not sufficient to improve in a substantial manner all the county's roads. Yet the tax in all the counties is enough to improve properly parts of all the roads. At present each of the 100 or 300 supervisors in a county is allotted, say, $20 a mile. What does he do with it in most instances? Find the worst place in his piece of road and improve it in a thorough manner even if 100 yards consumes all his appropriation? On the contrary he usually spreads his money over the whole extent of that piece of road with the object of making as much of a show as possible. All that is now accomplished with half a million dollars each year is a little useless scratching of the road beds. If the supervisors will concentrate their efforts to improve only a small part of the road under their charge, so that next year will bear evidence to the work done this year, then we shall see real improvement in the roads.

"In order to reach the best results there must be a general system outlined and intelligent direction can be secured only by the employment of a skilled road engineer, or road builder, for each county, or perhaps of one for two adjoining counties, who would have general charge of all the improvements. In other words, put the road expenditures on a business basis. How much would be accomplished by a number of workmen on a large building, each one left here or there according to his own ideas? The structure that would result would be a fitting monument to the present road-system.

"In addition to pointing out defects and giving general advice, usually admitted 'all well enough,' but sometimes termed 'not practical,' the Highway Division of the Maryland Geological Survey is ready to give practical aid with practical suggestion which will result in a real and substantial improvement to the roads without additional tax levies. The services of the Division are at the disposal of the county officials without charge. When necessary, surveys and plans are made and, if any considerable amount of work is to be done on a piece of road, a supervision of the construction will be undertaken. The State offers to the counties skilled aid in the improvement of their roads and it only remains for the county officials to avail themselves of this opportunity that this advantage may be secured to the people, to whom it belongs.

Letter to Wm. H. Jackson,
Dear Sir: You own several houses. Your reason for painting Dovec lead and zinc should be several times as strong as the man who owns but one.

Lead and oil was good enough paint till the merits of zinc were found out. It was profitable to paint lead and oil—it was then—but not now.

The addition of zinc to lead makes Dovec lead and zinc last twice as long and costs no more; costs less—a trifle less, not much. Lead and oil is mixed by hand; Dovec lead and zinc by machinery. Might as well make one's shirts by hand as mix paints. Say it costs $100 a house to paint lead and oil; and it lasts three years.

Say it costs the same for Dovec; which lasts six years—it will last ten years, in favorable conditions, unless you want to repaint to change the color.

The costs; lead and oil about $30 a year; Dovec $15—probably less.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVORE & Co.

MRS. HULDA JAKEMAN
Wife of President Jakeman of Elders of the Mormon Church, Salt Lake City, Utah, Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound For Women's Periodic Pains.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Before I knew of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I dreaded the approach of the time for my menstrual period, as it would mean a couple of days in bed with intense pain and suffering. I was under the physicians' care for over a year without any relief, when my attention was called to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by several of our Mormon women who had been cured through its use. I began its systematic use and improved gradually in health, and after the use of six bottles my health was completely restored, and for over two years I have had neither ache or pain. You have a truly wonderful remedy for women. Very sincerely yours, Mrs. HULDA JAKEMAN, Salt Lake City, Utah."

GOVERNOR CALLS EXTRA SESSION.

Whereas the General Assembly adjourned on the 31st day of March ultimo without enacting any law fixing the rate of State taxation for the years 1902 and 1903 and providing for the levy of the State taxes for these years:

And whereas in the absence of such a law taxes necessary for the support of the State Government for said years cannot be levied and collected:

Now, therefore, I, John Walter Smith, Governor of Maryland, by virtue of the authority conferred and duty imposed upon me by the Constitution, do hereby call a SPECIAL SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY to consider and act upon such measures; said session to begin at noon on Wednesday, the sixteenth day of April, in the year nineteen hundred and two, in the city of Annapolis.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Maryland, done at the city of Annapolis, this ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and two, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-sixth.

JOHN WALTER SMITH,
Governor.

By the Governor:
WILFRED BATEMAN,
Secretary of State.

Annapolis, Md.,

APRIL 9, 1902.

To the People of Maryland:
The failure of the General Assembly at its recent session to provide a law for the levy and collection of State taxes for the years 1902 and 1903 renders a special session absolutely unavoidable.

Without such legislation State taxes for these years cannot lawfully be levied and collected, for the plain reason that there is now no statute at all providing for such State taxation.

I have therefore issued an executive proclamation calling a SPECIAL SESSION to meet on Wednesday, April 16 instant, at noon, for the passage of this indispensable legislation.

No other subject need be considered, and I sincerely trust that no disposition will be exhibited at this special session called to meet an extraordinary emergency, to introduce any other measure whatsoever.

Under the circumstances I feel I may properly declare my executive approval ought not to be expected to be given to any other bill.

JOHN WALTER SMITH,
Governor.

—Cecil Rhodes left by his will an endowment fund of $10,000,000 to Oxford University with the provision that two scholarships for three years time and worth $1500 shall be offered in each English speaking colony and in each State and Territory of the United States.

The qualification necessary to obtain these scholarships do not depend entirely upon scholarship, but the general qualities of the man count for a great deal. Rhodes believed that the Anglo-Saxon race should govern the world, being by nature best fitted for the work, and if England and America would stand together they could dictate to all other nations. To accomplish this result he formed the plan of bringing together in one University some of the young men best fitted for leadership, the selection to be made from all English speaking nations of the Earth.

These men would have the advantage not only of the most liberal education obtainable but of contact with other men from every clime to which the Anglo-Saxon has penetrated. If such schooling would not make them broad minded and alive to the possibilities awaiting the union of the English speaking races, it would be very difficult to discover an influence which would have that effect.

—The sincerity of the Republicans, when they in common with the Democrats of the House paid tributes of respect and confidence to Speaker Noble L. Mitchell in the closing hours of the session of the Legislature just closed, will be put to a severe test during the coming week when the Legislature re-assembles. In their praise they stated that no fairer man ever presided over a House and if they had to choose a man themselves they would select Noble L. Mitchell.

It is now stated that they contemplate electing a new Speaker at the extra-session and that their choice will fall upon Isaac Lobe Straus.

—Baltimore city, with her increased representation in the State Legislature, has already served notice upon the Eastern Shore counties of the State, that one of the important matters of the next session will be to abolish the Oyster navy. The Baltimore Sun clearly outlines the program when it says in referring to the Oyster Navy: "It's no use, and the only use it has ever been put to, is to protect the tongs against dredgers. Why should the State be taxed to protect tongs against dredgers? What interest have the people of Frederick county in tongs and dredgers. There has been a prodigious clamor about free fisheries. Let the oyster navy be abolished and then there will be free fishery for both tongs and dredger." The "oyster counties," says the Sun, "are a burden upon the State treasury, largely upon Baltimore city and county, to the extent of $154,808.45."

—It is an open secret in Washington that Speaker Henderson and the Republican bosses of the House are opposed to the Omnibus bill providing for the admission to Statehood of Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma, because of their belief that all would send Democratic Senators to Washington. Friends of the bill however claim that they have promises of enough Republican votes to put it through the House if they can get it voted upon. They have asked Speaker Henderson to allow the Committee on Rules to report a rule for the consideration of the bill and he has promised to let them know in a few days. If he refuses, they will endeavor to get the bill up by a direct vote of the House.

—The defeat of Senator J. K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, for re election at the Arkansas primaries, it is thought will result in the placing of Senator Arthur P. Gorman, of Maryland, in charge of the Democratic National Committee upon the retirement of Senator Jones on March the third next. It is generally conceded that Senator Gorman will have an absolutely free field and will assume his old position as leader of his party.

—The county Commissioners were in session last Tuesday. They will meet again next Tuesday. At a recent meeting of the Board of Commissioners an order was passed to the effect that all supplies to Alms House, Jail, Court House for roads, ferries, etc., must be on the order of at least one member of the Board of Commissioners or the clerk of the commissioners. Otherwise the claim may not be honored by the Board. The Orphans Court was in session last Tuesday. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, April 22d.

—The Baltimore Sun of Monday gives an account of the Musical Comedy, "The Burgomaster" being played there this week at Ford's Opera House. Among the cast we notice the name of Miss Edith Yerrington, formerly Miss Edith Woodcock who visited Salisbury several years ago. Miss Woodcock shortly after her departure from Salisbury married Mr. John Miller of New York and has been on the stage about five years. She is one of the leading soloists in "The Burgomaster" and has received much favorable criticism. Among those from Salisbury who attended the performance in Baltimore this week were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gordy Jr. and Mrs. S. P. Woodcock.

—In another column of this paper will be found the Annual statement of the Union Central Life Insurance Company of Cincinnati. This is one of the leading and best managed companies in the country today and their thirty-fifth statement shows a handsome increase in surplus and gross assets. Mr. Chas. C. Hazell, their popular General Agent for the Eastern Shore, will be in Salisbury for several days and those interested in Life Insurance will do well to consult him before insuring.

—Messrs. Wm. J. Downing, M. E. Hastings, Wm. B. Tilghman and W. Jeff. Staton, who own a tract of about twenty millions feet of timber in Brunswick county, Va., will begin at once to cut and market it. They will operate two or three mills on the tract. Mr. Hastings of the firm, who is a young but experienced mill man, left Caroline county last week, where he has been lumbering with Mr. Downing, for the new field of work. He will remain on the spot and supervise the operations.

—Mr. U. W. Dickerson, who has been for several years managing the business of the Gloucester Lumber Co. in Virginia has completed the contract, and returned with his family to the Eastern Shore. At present he and his wife are visiting relatives in Worcester county. It is probable that Mr. Dickerson will install himself and family in Salisbury, though his plans for the future are not finally settled.

—A concert will be given in the Opera House at Delmar next Wednesday evening, April 16, under the auspices of the Ladies League, for the purpose of procuring funds for the purchase of a piano for the Opera House. The Delmar people will be assisted by musicians from Wilmington, Seaford, and Salisbury, and it is expected to be the best concert ever rendered in Delmar. A special train will leave Delmar immediately after the concert to convey passengers to Salisbury.

Oil for the Children.

Give them oil—cod-liver oil. It's curious to see the result.

Give it to the peevish, fretful child, and he laughs. Give it to the pale, anemic child and his face becomes rosy and full of health. Take a flat chested child, or a child that has stopped growing, give him the oil, and he will grow big and strong like the rest.

This is not a new scheme. It has been done for years. Of course you must use the right oil. Scott's Emulsion is the one.

Scott's Emulsion neither looks nor tastes like oil because we are so careful in making it pleasant to take.

THE PICTURE shown in this cut represents the manner in which our new spring shoes have been coming in for the past two weeks. In January and February we cleaned out all our odds and ends and everything that was undesirable. We have now replaced them with

FRESH, NEW AND NOBBY, SPRING AND SUMMER

Footwear.

We claim to be the leading shoe dealers of the Eastern Shore. We are the largest distributors of Shoes south of Wilmington. Every season we have our new goods in before others begin to get any, giving our customers the advantage of early and best selections. We do not aim for the large city stores to get all the choice selections and compel us to take their leavings. We must be right in the front rank and sit at the first table. Our customers must and shall have the best of everything offered in footwear.

Our spring goods are now here and open for inspection. We would like to have you call and see them. We do not expect you to buy unless you are perfectly suited. If we can't sell you we will make the fellow who does, treat you mighty well.

Yours for Shoes.

These are glorious days at the new kind of tailoring store. Spring is coming in and the great stream of Spring trade is setting Thoroughgood's way at flood height. Thoroughgood is probably making more clothes to order for the careful dressers of this community than any other two tailoring stores in Salisbury put together. For $15 Thoroughgood will make you a suit to order, but the Suits are not $15 Suits, though $15 is the price, they are $20 and $25 Suits made to your order for $15. Now for $18 Thoroughgood will dress you like a millionaire. These Suits would cost at some Tailors from $28 to $35, just according to how rich you are. Remember Thoroughgood makes $28 and $35 Suits to order for $18. Thoroughgood is making fine worsteds woven by T. T. Clay & Son, Rastrick, West of England, for $23, $24 and up to $35 and even as high as $50, but other tailors in Salisbury would charge you much more. Leave your measure at Lacy Thoroughgood's tailoring department for your new Spring Suit and you'll be dressed like a millionaire for $15 or $18. Anyway, if you want anything extra, Thoroughgood's styles are New York styles but the prices are Thoroughgood prices which are lower than any other tailor will name. Come in and have a fit.

The race is not forever lost by him who fastest runs Nor the battle by those people That stoop with the longest gun.

My friends, the tossing sea of Gallies seemed most to offend Christ by the amount of noise it made, for he said to it, "Be still!" Heaven has been crowding kings and queens unto God for many centuries, yet heaven never stopped a moment for any such occurrence, but it stopped thirty minutes for the coronation of silence. "There

Talmage
Sermon

Washington, April 6.—In the following discourse, prepared by Dr. Talmage before his illness, a vivid glimpse of the splendors and glories of heavenly life is presented; text, Revelation viii, 1. "There was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour."

The busiest place in the universe is heaven. It is the center from which all good influences start; it is the goal at which all good results arrive. The Bible represents it as active with wheels and wings and orchestras and processions mounted or charioted. But my text describes a space when the wheels ceased to roll and the trumpets to sound and the voices to chant. The riders on the white horses reined in their charges. The doxologies were hushed and processions halted. The band of angels was upon all the splendors. "Stop, heaven!" cried an omnipotent voice, and it stopped. For thirty minutes everything celestial stood still. "There was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour."

From all we can learn it is the only time heaven ever stopped. It does not stop as other cities for the night, for there is no night there. It does not stop for a plague, for the inhabitants never say, "I am sick." It does not stop for bankruptcies, for its inhabitants never fail. It does not stop for impassable streets, for there are no fallen snows or sweeping freshets. What, then, stopped it for thirty minutes? Grotius and Professor Stuart think it was at the time of the destruction of Jerusalem. Mr. Lord thinks it was in the year 311, between the close of the Diocletian persecution and the beginning of the wars by which Constantine gained the throne. But that was all a guess, though a learned and brilliant guess. I do not know when it was, and I do not care when it was, but of the fact that such an intermission of sound took place I am certain. "There was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour."

And, first of all, we learn that God and all heaven then honored silence. The longest and widest dominion that ever existed is that over which stillness was queen. For an eternity there had not been a sound. World making was a later day occupation. For unimaginable ages it was a mute universe. God was the only being, and as there was no one to speak to there was no utterance. But that silence has all been broken up into words, and it has become a noisy universe. Worlds in upheaval, worlds in conflagration, worlds in revolution.

The Power of Silence.
If geologists are right—and I believe they are—there has not been a moment of silence since this world began its travels, and the crashing and the splitting and the uproar and the hubbub are ever in progress. But when among the supernals a voice cried, "Hush!" and for half an hour heaven was still, silence was honored. The full power of silence many of us have yet to learn. We are told that when Christ was arraigned "he answered not a word." That silence was louder than any thunder that ever shook the world. Oftentimes when we are assailed and misrepresented the mightiest thing to say is to say nothing and the mightiest thing to do is to do nothing. Those people who are always rushing into print to get themselves set right accomplish nothing but their own charade. Silence! Do right and leave the results with God. Among the grandest lessons the world has ever learned are the lessons of patience taught by those who endured uncomplainingly personal or domestic or political injustice. Stronger than any bitter or sarcastic or revengeful answer is the patient silence.

The famous Dr. Morrison of Chelsea achieved as much by his silent patience as by his pen and tongue. He had asthma that for twenty five years brought him out of his couch at 2 o'clock each morning. His four sons and daughters dead, the remaining child by sunstroke made insane, the afflicted man once said, "At this moment there is not an inch of my body that is not filled with agony." Yet he was cheerful, triumphant, silent. "Those who were in his presence said they felt as though they were in the gates of heaven. Oh, the power of patient silence! Aschylus, the immortal poet, was condemned to death for writing something that offended the people. All the pleas in his behalf were of no avail until his brother uncovered the arm of the prisoner and showed that his hand had been shot off at Salamis. That silent plea liberated him. The loudest thing on earth is silence if it be of the right kind and at the right time. There was a quiet old hymn spelled in the old style and once sung in the churches:

"Forever and Ever."
Again, my text suggests a way of studying heaven so that we can better understand it. The word "eternity" that we can handle so much is an immeasurable world. Knowing that we could not understand that word, the Bible uses it only once. We say "forever and ever." But how long is "forever and ever?" I am glad that my text puts under our eye heaven for thirty minutes. As when you see a great picture, you put a sheet of paper into a scroll and look through it or join your forefinger to your thumb and look was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour."

Heaven an Eventful Place.

Learn also from my text that heaven must be an eventful and active place from the fact that it could afford only thirty minutes of recess. There have been events on earth and in heaven that seemed to demand a whole day or whole week or whole year for celestial consideration. If Grotius was right and this silence occurred at the time of the destruction of Jerusalem, that scene was so awful and so prolonged that the inhabitants of heaven could not have done justice to it in many weeks. After fearful besiegement of the two fortresses of Jerusalem, Antiochia and Hipples, had been going on for a long while, a Roman soldier, mounted on the shoulder of another soldier, hurried into the window of the temple a firebrand, and the temple was all aflame, and after covering many sacrifices to the holiness of God the building itself became a sacrifice to the rage of man. The hunger of the people in that city during the siege was so great that as some outlaws were passing a doorway and inhaled the odors of food they burst open the door, threatening the mother of the household with death unless she gave them some food, and she took them aside and showed them that it was her own child she was cooking for the ghastly repast. Six hundred priests were destroyed on Mount Zion because the temple being gone, there was nothing for them to do. Six thousand people in one cloister were consumed. There were 1,100,000 dead according to Josephus. Grotius thinks that this was the cause of silence in heaven for half an hour. If Mr. Lord was right, and this silence was during the Diocletian persecutions, by which 844,000 Christians suffered death from sword and fire and banishment and exposure, why did not heaven listen throughout at least one of those awful years? No! Thirty minutes! The fact is that the celestial programme is so crowded with spectacle that it can afford only one recess in all eternity, and that for a short space. While there are great choruses in which all heaven can join, each soul there has a story of divine mercy peculiar to itself, and it must be a solo. How can heaven get through with all its recitatives, with all its cantatas, with all its grand marches, with all its victories? Eternity is too short to utter all the praise.

In my text heaven spared thirty minutes, but it will never again spare one minute. In worship in earthly churches where there are many to take part we have to counsel brevity, but how will heaven get on rapidly enough to let one hundred and forty-four thousand get through each with his own story and then one hundred and forty-four million and then one hundred and forty-four billion and then one hundred and forty-four trillion? Not only are all the triumphs of the past to be commemorated, but all the triumphs to come. Not only what we now know of God, but what we will know of him after everlasting study of the deific. If my text had said there was silence in heaven for thirty days, I would not have been startled at the announcement, but it indicates thirty minutes. Why, there will be so many friends to hunt up, so many of the greatly good and useful that we will want to see, so many of the inscrutable things of earth we will need explained, so many exciting earthly experiences we will want to talk over, and all the other spirits and all the ages will want the same, that there will be no more opportunity for cessation. How busy we will be kept in having pointed out to us the heroes and heroines that the world never fully appreciated—the yellow fever and cholera doctors who died, not dying from their posts; the female nurses who faced pestilence in the lazaretto; the railroad engineers who stayed at their places in order to save the train, though they themselves perished. Hubert Goffin, the master miner, who, landing from the bucket at the bottom of the mine just as he heard the waters rush in and when one jerk of the rope would have lifted him into safety, put in the bucket a blind miner who wanted to go to his sick child and jerked the rope for him to be pulled up, crying, "Tell them the water has burst in and we are probably lost, but we will seek refuge at the other end of the right gallery," and then giving the command to the other miners till they digged themselves so near out that the people from the outside could come to their rescue. The multitudes of men and women who got no crown on earth we will want to see when they get their crown in heaven. I tell you heaven will have no more half hours to spare.

Resides that, heaven is full of children. They are in the vast majority. No child on earth who amounts to anything can be kept quiet half an hour, and how are you going to keep five hundred million of them quiet half an hour? You know heaven is much more of a place than it was when that recess of thirty minutes occurred. Its population has quadrupled, sextupled, centupled. Heaven has more on hand, more of rapture, more of knowledge, more of intercommunication, more of worship. The most thrilling place we have ever been in is stupid compared with that, and if we now have no time to spare, we will then have no eternity to spare. Silence in heaven only half an hour!

"Forever and Ever."

Again, my text suggests a way of studying heaven so that we can better understand it. The word "eternity" that we can handle so much is an immeasurable world. Knowing that we could not understand that word, the Bible uses it only once. We say "forever and ever." But how long is "forever and ever?" I am glad that my text puts under our eye heaven for thirty minutes. As when you see a great picture, you put a sheet of paper into a scroll and look through it or join your forefinger to your thumb and look through the circle between, and the picture becomes more intense, so this masterpiece of heaven by St. John is more impressive when we take only thirty minutes of it at a time. Now, we have something that we can come nearer to grasping, and it is a quiet heaven. When we discourse about the multitudes of heaven, it must be almost a nervous shock to those who have all their lives been crowded by many people and who want a quiet heaven. For the last thirty-five years I have been much of the time in crowds and under public scrutiny and amid excitements, and I have sometimes thought for a few weeks after I reach heaven I would like to go down in some quiet part of the realm, with a few friends, and for a little while try comparative solitude. Then there are those whose bearing is so delicate that they get no satisfaction when you describe the crash of the eternal orchestra, and they feel like saying, as a good woman in Hudson, N. Y., said after hearing me speak of the mighty chorus of heaven, "That must be a great heaven, but what will become of my poor head?" Yes, this half hour of my text is a still experience. "There was silence in heaven for half an hour."

A Glimpse of the King's Palace.

You will find the inhabitants all at home. Enter the King's palace and take only a glimpse, for we have only thirty minutes for all heaven. "Is that Jesus?" "Yes." Just under the hair along his forehead is the mark of a wound made by a bunch of twisted brambles, and his foot on the throne has on the round of his instep another mark of a wound made by a spike, and a scar on the palm of the right hand and a scar on the palm of the left hand. But what a countenance! What a smile! What a grandeur! What a loveliness! What an overwhelming look of kindness and grace! Why, he looks as if he had redeemed a world! But come on, for our time is short. Do you see that row of palaces? That is the Apostolic row. Do you see that long row of architectural glories? That is Martyr row. Do you see that immense structure? That is the biggest house in heaven; that is "the house of many mansions." Do you

A VALUABLE MEDICINE

For Coughs and Colds in Children.

"I have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Chas. M. Cramer, Esq., a well known watch maker of Colombo, Caylon. "It has been some two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all chest colds. It is especially effective for children and seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are as well pleased as myself over the results." For sale by R. K. Truitt.

Lettie Hoffman, working in a shirt factory at Smithsburg, Washington county, accidentally ran a needle through her finger. She grew very sick and while walking on a back porch to get air, fell 12 feet to the ground, sustaining bad injuries.

The Four D's.

Charles Spurgeon once said that there were three great enemies to man—"Dirt, debt and the devil." He might have added one more and included dyspepsia. The evil results of this disease could hardly be exaggerated. It's effects are felt in mind and body, and are as far reaching as the effects of the curse that was laid on the Jackdaw of Rheims which was cursed in "eating and drinking and sleeping, in standing and sitting and lying." The good effects of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are most marked in aggravated and chronic cases of dyspepsia. It enables the stomach glands to secrete the necessary quantity of digestive fluids, and this at once removes that craving or gnawing sensation so common to certain forms of indigestion. It tones and regulates the stomach, invigorates the torpid liver and gives the blood making glands keep assimilative power. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures ninety eight per cent. of those who use it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are superior to all other laxative medicines when the bowels are obstructed.

The Somerset Coal Company has ordered a new 10 ton electric locomotive to take the place of a motor that has been in use in the Elk Lick mine. A move is also on foot to provide an ambulance for use at the mines.

High Pressure Days.

Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and hand to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements of society, more numerous. The first effect of the pressure is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases in complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is not what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves, and keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge, we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high-pressure days.

For all kinds of sores, burns, bruises, or other wounds DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a sure cure. Skin diseases yield to it at once. Never fails in cases of piles. Cooling and healing. None genuine but DeWitt's. Beware of counterfeits. "I suffered for many years from a sore caused by a gun shot wound in my left leg," says A. S. Fuller, English, Ind. "It would not heal and gave me much trouble. I used all kinds of remedies to no purpose until I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes completely cured me."

The School Commissioners of Cecil county accepted the resignation of Miss E. M. Van Dusen as assistant of the Cecil County High School and appointed as her successor Miss Covington Mackall May, a daughter of William H. May, of Elkton.

Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets superior to pills?" Our answer is: They are easier and more pleasant to take, more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable as they can always be depended upon. Then they cleanse and invigorate the stomach and leave the bowels in a natural condition, while pills are more harsh in effect and their use is often followed by constipation. For sale by R. K. Truitt & Son.

The Great Dismal Swamp

Of Virginia is a breeding ground of Malaria germs. So is low wet or marshy ground everywhere. These germs cause weakness, chills and fever, aches in the bones and muscles, and may induce dangerous maladies. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malarial troubles. They will surely prevent typhoid. "We tried many remedies for Malaria and Stomach and Liver troubles," writes John Charleston, of Byesville, O., "But never found anything as good as Electric Bitters." Try them. Only 50c. All druggists guarantee satisfaction.

Miss Nellie Hess, of Pen Mar, while walking along a steep embankment of a stone quarry, stumbled and, turning a complete somersault, fell to the bottom, breaking her leg in two places.

Saved Many A Time.

Don't neglect coughs and colds even if it is spring. Such cases often result seriously at this season just because people are careless. A dose of One Minute Cough Cure will remove all danger. A resolutely safe. Act at once. Cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, and other throat and lung troubles. "I have used One Minute Cough Cure several years," says Postmaster C. O. Dawson, Barr, Ill. "It is the very best cough medicine on the market. It has saved me many a severe spell of sickness and I warmly recommend it." The children's favorite.

Fred Linke, a trackman, had his left leg broken by being struck by a piece of brake rigging that flew from a fast east bound freight train at Kensington.

Got His Full Price.

Charles T. Copeland, instructor in English at Harvard, is known to every Harvard man of the last few student generations and to a good many audiences around Boston. His chief specialty is reading the works of Kipling and the eighteenth century authors aloud and commenting on them in his own peculiar fashion. One of his chief eccentricities is an enormous sponge, which always hangs outside from his window in Stoughton. But this story deals neither with Kipling nor the sponge. It is of Mr. Copeland's first adventure with a woman's club.

Some time ago he published an essay on Robert Louis Stevenson, which was widely read. As a result the president of the Woman's club in Somerville, the next city to Cambridge, wrote him a letter inviting him to lecture to the club on Stevenson. He sent no reply. The president wrote again. He replied to the second letter. It was not his custom, he said, to lecture before women's clubs, but if the Somerville organization would pay him his full price, $25, he would come.

The president was equal to the occasion. She replied very sweetly, setting the date for the lecture. "We shall be very happy to pay you your full price, $25," she wrote. "We have always been in the habit of paying our lecturers $50."

Mr. Copeland arrived an hour late.—New York Tribune.

An Ancient Coronation Relic.

Probably the only existing relic of the old regalia which will be used at the coronation of Edward VII. is the alighting spoon. It is of pure gold, with four pearls in the broadest part of the handle; the bowl is finely chased and of very curious antique workmanship. Into this spoon the consecrated oil is poured from the ampulla, which is in the form of an eagle with extended wings upon a pedestal of pure gold finely chased. The head screws off at the middle of the neck for the convenience of putting in the oil, which is poured out through the beak. This golden vessel is capable of containing six ounces of oil. Its height is nine inches, its breadth from the points of the wings seven inches and the weight about nine ounces.—London Chronicle.

Trash Sent to Indiana.

A worker in the Indian mission field "rises in her wrath" to remonstrate in The Indian's Friend against the trash that some people regard as suitable contributions for the Indians. She writes:

"I have just fired some hats and bonnets which should have been burned at the stake before entering the missionary field. They could never have headed off anybody aught and would have been stumbling blocks to many. If the apostle Paul had sent them, he never would have recommended such 'covers' for the heads of women in his congregation. The ashes of these will make turnips grow, but may their roses never bloom above the sod, though seedly enough to plant an acre!"

PEACH POINTS.

By R. Morrill, the Famous Grower. What a Peach Man Must Know.

Following is only a small part of some terse talk on peach culture given by R. Morrill, the famous fruit grower, before the Illinois society:

The man who can make success of peach growing must love the business. He must understand a few essentials in selecting a location; he must know that elevation means everything to a peach orchard under trying conditions; he must understand the effect of temperatures on plant life and on peach buds particularly; he must know that cold air runs down hill as readily as water; he must know that the buds of the peach do not die as quickly in moving air as they do in still air, as, for instance, they may not kill on the top of a plateau and on the side of a hill, but kill at the lower level; he must know that there must be a proper balance maintained between root and top in the care of his trees.

I spoke about the proper balance between root and top. The balance must be preserved by a careful culture of the soil, without mutilation of the root, at the proper time. The proper time is when growth commences. Begin your culture and hurry it forward, and keep at it. Then cease at a time which you must determine from your own conditions. On my soil, which is not nitrogenous soil, if a tree is bearing a heavy load, I will carry on that cultivation as long as I can get around that tree, until the branches begin to hang down. If it were a highly nitrogenous soil, I would stop a bit earlier, but stopping anywhere in the middle of summer would be to put a check on the tree.

I would trim severely any peach tree; I would trim it for symmetry and to throw the balance of power with the root; I would trim it because I get better fruit; I would trim it because it is a method of thinning the peaches; I would trim the fruit of a good crop because the formation of seed is a draft on the tree and devitalizes it. It cannot mature a large crop of pits, but it can mature a large crop of peaches. If it is compelled to mature a large crop of pits, it is in a state of semi-exhaustion, and next year perhaps you will hear of the June drop. A tree carefully cultivated, fertilized, thinned and trimmed never suffers from June drop, and it will add from five to eight degrees to the ability of the tree to stand cold weather, and that frequently makes the difference between an immense profit, after a hard, trying winter, and nothing.

Ornamental Japanese Cherry.

Current literature relating to Japan never fails to make mention of the esthetic regard with which the flowering cherry is honored in that country.

American Gardening reproduces a photograph showing a flowering branch of one of these cherries sent from Tokyo by a Japanese correspondent, who says the cherry is regarded as the queen of all the flowers, the rose and other similarly exalted flowers of the European and American not being accorded any notice. Naturally there are very many forms of the cherry. The one shown, known as "fugen," is very extensively planted. It has double flowers of a bright red color.

THE CHERRY OF JAPAN.

Top Working Apples.

Twenty years ago I had about fifty Haas trees on their own roots beginning to bear, and I also had five trees of Haas top worked that began to bear about the same time. In 1896 every single one of those Haas trees on its own roots was dead and gone, but the top worked trees are still there and bearing fruit. A famous tree that was given me fifteen years ago is still bearing. It was top worked. There is abundant evidence to show that we can increase the life of trees by top working.—A. T. Phillips.

Horticultural Notes.

Dracena Lord Wolseley, graceful in outline and the drooping habit of its narrow foliage, is somewhat replacing the older form of this flower.

Scions for grafting may be cut any time after the leaves fall till the sap begins to start in spring.

Fruit tree seeds, such as apple, pear, plum and cherry, should be got into the ground as early as possible in the spring.

Calliope is a splendid, hardy plant for rich, strong effects. Sow seed the last of March in the open ground.

Sow chrysanthemum seed in a mild hotbed or in the house in March for early flowering plants.

WHO WILL IT BE?

The Coming Congressional Nominations is the First District a Subject of Much Interest.

The Baltimore American, in its last Sunday edition, in a political article upon the possibilities in the different Congressional districts of this State, had the following on the First district: "The Democratic woods, and especially those on the Eastern Shore, are not as full of congressional candidates as in years gone by. This is in strange contrast with the former abundance of aspirants. Across the Bay each county generally had a candidate and a nominating convention was generally deadlocked for two or three days. The nomination is now chasing the man instead of the men chasing the nomination. The race is still on, the quest being confined largely to a man who can stand the drain on his purse which an Eastern Shore congressional campaign means, and especially when Mr. W. H. Jackson is the Republican candidate. He can stand the expense and does not hesitate to spend the cash. It is because of the great expense involved that Eastern Shoremen hesitate to enter the fray. The best equipped man financially to undertake the Democratic job of defeating Mr. W. H. Jackson is his brother former Governor E. E. Jackson. He was willing to cross purses with him two years ago, but the nomination went to Senator John P. Moore, of Worcester. Perhaps His Excellency will be willing again this year. Senator Applebath, of Dorchester, was also a candidate two years ago, but his term in the Senate had just expired. Since then he has been re-elected for a term of four years and he may wish to serve the two years remaining. Mr. Joshua W. Miles, of Somerset, has stated repeatedly that he has no congressional aspirations. Talbot, Caroline and Kent united at the judicial convention at Denton last fall in promising to support Mr. P. B. Hopper for Congress after he had been defeated for the judicial nomination. Those promises have, however, been scattered to the four winds of heaven and have probably escaped from the memory of the men who so freely made them. Cecil county has been added to the district since the last election, but that county does not promise to furnish any congressional material. The two leading Democrats of the county, Messrs. Wirt and Crothers, are at odds, and it would be a difficult task to bring them together in support of a third man."

Weak?

Mrs. J. W. Fiala, Hadlyme, Ct.

THE SHORTEST SESSION.

Maryland Legislature Met, Passed Tax Bill and Adjourned.

The general Assembly of Maryland met in extraordinary session at noon Wednesday, performed the work for which it was called together and adjourned sine die at 80 minutes after 2 o'clock in the afternoon. This is certainly the shortest session of the Maryland Legislature of which anyone now living has any recollection. Two bills only were enacted. These are the bill levying the State tax at 17 cents on the $100 for 1902 and 1903, and a bill appropriating $10,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to pay the expenses of the extra session. Both bills were subsequently approved by the Governor and are now laws.

The bill levying the state tax has the following items:

For the public schools.....	10 1/2 cents.
For school books.....	1 1/2 cents.
For consolidation loan.....	2 1/2 cents.
For penitentiary loan.....	1 cent.
For insane asylum loan.....	1 cent.
For State building loan.....	1 cent.
For loan of 1903.....	1 cent.
Total.....	17 cents.

When the Senate met no changes were made in the officers and clerks. Not so in the House.

No effort was made to change the Speaker or the chief clerk, Dr. Benjamin L. Smith; Journal Clerk Frederic Samson or Reading Clerk Walter R. Townsend.

Delegate Isaac Lobe Straus, of Baltimore city, offered an order retaining the old officers, but substituting Eben Watts for sergeant-at arms in place of I. T. Jas. Brown; William Hamilton and Harry Hamill for doorkeepers and James Lusby for keeper of the cloak room. The dropping of Mr. Brown as sergeant-at arms raised a protest from the Democrats.

Mr. Giles, of Somerset, said Mr. Brown had served the House faithfully and he should be retained. He added: "I do not see why Sergeant-at Arms Brown should have been singled out from all the rest of the officers."

Mr. Campbell, of Baltimore city, said: "I can answer that question. They have singled him out because he refused to break down the door of the Democratic caucus." [Applause by the Democrats.]

The vote resulted in passing the order making Eben Watts, of Anne Arundel, the sergeant-at arms.

Mr. Painter, of Baltimore county, offered a substitute to strike out the name of Joseph H. Gale as chief engrossing clerk and insert the name of C. U. Lannan. This caused another flutter, but Mr. Painter insisted that the change should be made. The substitution of Mr. Lannan's name for that of Mr. Gale was carried.

DELMAR'S CONCERT.

A Number of Salisbury People Attend, Going and Returning by Special Train.

The musical concert given under the auspices of the Ladies League of Delmar last Wednesday evening in the Opera House of that town was an unqualified success, the people of Delmar being of the unanimous opinion that it was one of the best entertainments ever given in the town.

About forty ladies and gentlemen of Salisbury attended the concert, going and returning on a special train, among whom were Mrs. J. D. Williams; Miss Nancy Gordy, Mrs. W. S. Gordy, Mrs. Gardiner Spring, Prof. W. T. Daabhiell, Dr. Gardiner Spring, Mr. Vaughn S. Gordy, Mr. Fred P. Adkins, Miss Edna Sheppard and Mrs. M. A. Humphreys, who took part in the program. The first eight mentioned composed a double quartette, rendering two beautiful vocal selections. Miss Sheppard was accompanist.

A piano solo by Miss Martha Burnite of Wilmington received much applause, also the vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Ross. Several instrumental selections by Prof. Chas. VanLeer of Seaford were especially fine and much enjoyed. The program contained in all sixteen numbers several of which were rendered by some of Delmar's most talented musicians.

At the close of the exercises a handsome piano was presented to the Masonic Lodge, for the Opera House, by Mr. R. D. Orlin, in behalf of the Ladies League. Mr. H. D. Renninger made the speech of acceptance.

Notice.

Died in Philadelphia, on March 3, 1902, Woodland H. Robertson Mills, youngest son of Seth D. and Ella Z. Mills aged four months and three weeks. Interred at Northwood Cemetery.

A MURDER MYSTERY.

The Brutal Killing of Mrs. Collins of Sussex County, Last Saturday.

SCENE VISITED BY THE ADVERTISER'S CORRESPONDENT.

On Saturday morning last Mrs. Alda Collins, wife of Elmer Collins was murdered in a most horrible manner at her home, near Portville, Sussex County, Delaware. The residence is on the north side of the public road leading from Jacob Collins' saw mill to Portville and Bethel and about five miles from Laurel. The murder was a most brutal one and made doubly so by her condition. The circumstances as told by the husband are as follows:

"At or about 7 o'clock on Saturday morning, April 12th, Mr. Collins says that he took his two girls, Hazel and Catharine, aged two and four respectively, last birth days, and went about one half mile from his house across a branch toward Laurel to a farm he had recently bought, to sow tomato seed. He says his wife told him she would be out to assist him as soon as she attended to her chickens, as she was accustomed to do out door work on the farm and assisted him whenever he could. As he left the house he called to her and told her to bring the money, as they had about $30 in the house. He says that as she did not follow him he returned to the house to look for her and after calling and searching he finally discovered her lying in the horse stable, feet out, in a pool of blood, and after he had endeavored to kiss her back to life, left her and ran with his two children to the nearest house, that of Geo. Henry, across the road a few hundred yards away, and told Mr. Henry some one had murdered Alda, (his wife). Mr. Henry, and other neighbors were soon at Mr. Collins' home and saw the sad scene. It was soon discovered that Mrs. Collins had received several blows on the head and her throat was cut, the windpipe severed. A rod of iron about an inch in diameter and about two feet long was found near her dead body, having blood and hair on it. This was in the carriage house and in the door of the stable which let into the carriage house lay the dead woman's feet, her body inside the stable.

In a few hours the whole community was aroused and a search instituted for the perpetrator, and while a fresh track was perceptible in the field and which was followed to the woods was soon lost sight of and there being no suspicious every body considered it a great mystery.

News soon reached Laurel of the awful crime, and State Detective Francis was telegraphed for and at ten o'clock Saturday night he and the coroner arrived on the scene. On Sunday a thorough examination of Collins, his oldest girl and the neighbors who first saw the dead body was made and a jury was empanelled who rendered the following verdict: Mrs. Alda Collins came to her death from injuries inflicted at the hands of an unknown person."

"During Sunday it was estimated that two thousand people visited the place. Every place on the premises was closely scrutinized by the curious and many took souvenirs from the fences, stables and elsewhere. The remains were viewed by all who wished and there were only a few moments during the day, but what some one was taking a look at the murdered woman. The two children were not to be seen by visitors, whose privileges were limited only to one room, that in which the remains lay in state.

On Monday afternoon the funeral services were held at Mt. Pleasant M. E. Church, about two miles from the homestead. The services were conducted by Rev. T. J. Cochran, the pastor of the church assisted by Rev. H. C. Turner of Laurel and D. H. Mills of Bethel. It was the largest and saddest funeral ever held in that community. The number of people present was variously estimated from 1500 to 3000. The curious, the interested, the sympathetic and bereaved were there, but all were moved to tears. After the funeral the remains were interred in the churchyard.

The meagre evidence that appeared at first seemed to vanish and official action then turned toward the husband, and after the burial he was arrested on suspicion, but the absence of motive and the broken links of small evidences make this suspicion, it seems, hardly worthy of consideration and his attorney expects to get him released under habeas corpus. When Collins left the house on Saturday morning with his two children for the field, he called to his wife and told her to bring the money with her which was about $30. This was not found either in the house or on her person. The case is shrouded in mysteries and is likely to remain so.

Elmer Collins is the son of Jacob Collins, and the murdered woman the daughter of James Collins, both residents of Sussex county and stand high in the community. Mr. and Mrs. Collins have lived happily together so far as known. They had the confidence and respect of the whole community.

CAROLINE IN THE ROAD MOVEMENT.

Wicomico Might Work Down Similar Lines to Advantage.

The Caroline Grand Jury has made a recommendation for the construction north and south through the county of an improved public highway, to begin at Maryland, and run by way of Henderson, Goldsboro, Greensboro, Denton and other towns to Preston, by whatever route the County Commissioners deem most practicable, and that it be made "solid by the use of such material as, in the judgment of the County Commissioners, may be most economical and best for such a road, and that the special attention of the Commissioners be given said public highway."

This project, if carried into execution, would mark the beginning of a practical system of good roads for Caroline county. Lateral roads, from one to eight miles in length, would connect the entire county in every section with the central highway, and the effect of such an object lesson as an improved central highway would be to speedily make all roads leading to it like models of construction and repair. The good-roads sentiment in the county is very strong, as has been shown by the abandonment of the supervisor system for road work by the Commissioners and the substitution in its place of the contract system. It is said that the plan of the proposed highway would be referred to the highways division of the State Geological Survey, and the scheme is in line with the idea insisted upon by the division, that it is better to make one mile of good road than to waste money in "repairing" several miles.

The Salisbury Schools.

On account of the addition of another grade to the course of study by the State Board of Education, making in all ten instead of nine grades in our High School courses throughout the State there will be no graduating class at the Salisbury High School this spring, hence the closing exercises lack, to a great extent, the attractiveness of former years, as all interest usually centers about the graduating class.

The ninth grade purposes to hold a banquet at the close of school, which will not be a public function but only the intimate friends of the class will attend.

Closing exercises will be held by all the grades and usual "last day" treat will be given in the lower grades.

It is proposed to hold a public reception in the Manual Training Department toward the close of school to allow the patrons and friends of the school to see the excellent work done during this, the first year of that department of our city schools. H.

Betts—Mitchell.

Miss Ella Lee Mitchell, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Mitchell, and Mr. James Walter Betts were married at seven o'clock Wednesday morning in Trinity M. E. Church South, of this city.

The bride and groom were unattended and were met at the altar by Rev. Dr. Jenkins who performed the ceremony in a very impressive manner. The chancel was very prettily decorated with plants and flowers. The bride was becomingly attired in a caecor traveling suit, hat and gloves to correspond, and carried Brides roses. Miss Emma Powell played the wedding march.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Betts left on the early train for Philadelphia, where they will reside. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Betts, of near here, but has been living in Philadelphia for the past year, where he has a good position. The bride is a graduate of the Blackstone Female Institute, Blackstone, Va.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN SMITH.

An Estimable Citizen of Allen Victim of Disease.

Capt. T. W. Smith of Allen died at his home in that village on Sunday morning last of typhoid pneumonia. He had been ill little more than two weeks and from the first attack of the disease had been in a very critical condition yet at one time of its stage his recovery was hoped for.

Capt. Smith was fifty nine years of age and during his earlier life was a bry captain, trading in the Chesapeake and its tributaries. His later life had been devoted almost exclusively to trucking in which he was very successful.

He was one of the most popular citizens in the village of Allen, being held in high esteem by the community at large, because of his strict integrity, his high moral opinions, which he carried out in his own life, and his kindness and courtesy to the people about him. The village with his family feel that it has sustained in his demise a severe blow.

He was a member of Jr. O. U. A. M. and Sr. O. U. A. M., and by these lodges he was buried.

The interment took place in the cemetery adjoining the church in Allen on Monday afternoon after funeral services had been conducted within by Rev. Mr. White.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Samuel Williams, Jno. Whayland, Orlando Jones, Charles Bozman, C. Calloway, and Scott Taylor, all of whom were his brethren in the lodges. Undertaker Johnson of Salisbury had in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Capt. Smith is survived by a widow, who is a daughter of the late Thornton Phoebeus, this county, and six daughters, four of whom are married and are Mrs. N. Hastings, Mrs. W. Bozman and Mrs. E. Wheatley of Oriole, Somerset Co., Mrs. Jno. Disharoon of Salisbury and the Misses Kate and Myra Smith of Allen. H.

NIGHT-WATCHMAN ELLIS DEAD.

Stricken With Apoplexy Last Friday Evening.

Night watchman Thomas Ellis died early last Saturday morning of apoplexy, aged nearly 80 years. Friday afternoon Mr. Ellis was found in an unconscious condition in the lot back of his home in California. He never regained consciousness and died early the following morning. His funeral and interment took place Monday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Reigart officiating. The remains were interred in Parsons cemetery.

Surviving Mr. Ellis are his widow and two sons and one daughter. Mr. John T. Ellis, the marble cutter of this town is a son. Mr. Ernest Ellis of Wilmington is the other. The daughter is Mrs. Joseph Doward, formerly of Salisbury, but now of Jersey City. Mrs. A. Lord, of Clayton, Del., is a sister. Mr. and Mrs. Lord were present at the funeral.

Mr. Ellis had been night watchman here for many years and naturally had many peculiar experiences. His most notable case was the encounter with young Moore several years ago who resisted arrest. The officers of the law were determined, and in the melee which followed young Moore was shot and fatally wounded.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

New Millinery: New Gowns: Individual Examples: Answers.

Whitesmall flowers, manifestly better suited as floral coverings to low hats, are greatly in ascendancy, yet exceptions' examples in millinery show encircling adornment of medium sized roses, while occasionally, a few very large poppies are seen in completion. Very large, flat bows of satin or velvet ribbon placed in the centre or toward the back of hats, with ends hanging down in the latter cases, are prominent among new features. Ends pendant at the back are longer when in lace or other light fabric. A distinctively new feature in millinery, is also that of large imitation pearl or jet beads in strands or huge cabochons. The latter are often placed singly and a favorite method of combining the two, is in festoons of beads caught by cabochons of the same and sometimes where the brim turns abruptly back, the adornment in question may reach entirely around. Flowers, however, are the leading millinery finish and have never before been used in such lavishness.

NEW GOWNS
are wanting in novelty as to outline, that need for innovation is expended on garniture. Never before has trimming been so recklessly employed and the shops therefore exhibit immense stocks in every variety. New cottons delicate in texture and with silky finish, become yet more attractive when completed by lace and a lovely example has two rows of insertion laid on in finish to a flounce below. The fabric remains as a support. This in contradiction to many styles that show the fabric cut away, either for an exhibition of lace, or what is akin, open work embroidery. Very fine lawns are finished by open work patterns in embroidery, these being in dress patterns and, of course, to be worn over a skirt worthy to be shown through. Gowns in

ELEGANT SIMPLICITY
are therefore more than ever attractive and one in pale gray Etamine exhibited in Lord & Taylor's window, the Mecca for Broadway promenaders, caused many to pause in admiration of a garment so aesthetic. An example, likewise in Etamine, made for a leader of fashion, is in delicate tan finished with three silk bands set with small silver buttons on the skirt that is completed by an S. H. & M. bias velvet lining to correspond. The waist jacket opens over a white satin vest under lace and the fronts are closely set with small silver buttons.

"Julia". Quill feathers placed singly or in pairs, are quite fashionable and give an appearance of dash that is often very pleasing. Usually the hat is severe when they are used, but again they may appear among flowers and other garniture of especially delicate character.

"Young Mother." The Capsheaf Safety Pin is so far superior to any other, that there can be no comparison. It cannot catch in the material; is the only safety pin that lies flat and by reason of an extra long guard, cannot come loose. Try it once and you will have no other.

"Mr. N. W." Neck bows have reached the utmost limit of extravagance as to variety in material, fluffiness and length. Curious pictures sometimes, therefore result, as when the bow reaches almost or quite up to the fair one's eyes, while the wide brimmed hat extends down to meet it.

"Good Friend." For steamer wear, long, loose fitting garments are made from Scotch Tweeds in gray and tan plaids, Black Tibets and Vicunas, lined with wool and with satin shoulder and sleeve linings. A satin lined hood buttoned to the collar, may be a welcome protection in stormy weather. Driving coats are in blue or drab box-cloth; coaching coats have wind puffs in the sleeves. Business suits are in worsteds in various checks or plaids, chevrons in stripes, checks or light or dark mixtures, black or blue. Oxford are from very dark to very light gray or blue gray and serge come in every width of waist.

Letter to Dr. Geo. W. Todd.

Dear Sir: You understand chemistry; how'd you like to earn $100?

Devoe lead and zinc—that's the name of our paint that lasts twice as long as lead and oil—is made of white-lead, white zinc, its color, turpentine dyes, and linseed oil.

If any chemist finds anything else in this paint, we'll pay his bill and $100 besides.

It's nobody's business what we put in our paint, of course; but we want it known. For lead and zinc and linseed oil are the stuff to paint with; and lead alone is not.

We want it known that one word describes the best paint in the world and that word is Devoe.

Are you going to paint?

Yours truly,

SON OF DR. TALMAGE.

Like His Father, He Is an Eloquent Pulpit Orator.

Dr. Frank De Witt Talmage, the only surviving son of the famous tabernacle pastor, is now in his thirty-fourth year. He was born in Philadelphia in November, 1867, and received his early education at the Polytechnic Institute in New York.

For a time he was a student at the Sing Sing Military academy. In 1886 he entered the New York university, and graduated from there in the spring of 1890, being named as the orator of his class, an honor which his father received in the same university in 1853.

On leaving college Frank De Witt Talmage at once decided to study for the ministry and entered the Union Theological seminary. He has had the benefit of experience on the lecture platform, being associated in a course in the distinguished African explorer, Mr. Henry M. Stanley, and his late father were included. He has spoken in many of the leading cities throughout the country with marked success. At Nazareth, Pa., he addressed the farmers on the race track before the grand stand and held the attention of an audience of thousands, making one of the finest oratorical efforts ever heard in that region. Among the many cities in which he has lectured are New York, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Newark and Baltimore. He has held pastoral charges in Philadelphia and Pittsburg and is at present pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian church, Chicago.

Dr. Frank De Witt Talmage possesses many of the characteristics that distinguished his late father. In strong and eloquent address, in vivid and picturesque language and in voice and manner the resemblance is very striking.

Having been his father's companion on many tours abroad as well as at home, he has made the personal acquaintance of a very large number of the leading public men of both Europe and America.

Tour to the Yellowstone Park.

The reduced rates authorized by the transcontinental railroads on account of the Annual Convention of the National Educational Association, to be held in Minneapolis, July 7 to 11, 1902, have enabled the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to offer to those contemplating attendance at the Convention an opportunity, under the direction of its popular Personally Conducted Tourist System, not only of visiting the beautiful city in which the Convention is to be held, and participating in the deliberations of the Convention, but also of visiting the Yellowstone National Park, at a cost impossible under ordinary conditions of travel.

The Yellowstone Park is never more attractive than during the month of July, and the tourists under the care of the Pennsylvania Railroad will be afforded the fullest opportunity of visiting all its unique attractions, including the Mammoth Hot Springs, the Geysers, the beautiful Lake, and the Grand Canon of the Yellowstone.

The tour will leave New York and Philadelphia, Saturday, July 5th, and return Sunday, July 20th. Round trip tickets, covering all necessary expenses for the entire trip, including one berth in Pullman sleeping car, will be sold at rate of $750 from all points on the Pennsylvania Railroad east of Pittsburg. When two persons occupy one berth, the rate will be $142 for each person. Rates from Pittsburg will be $5 less than above.

Tourists will use a special train over the entire trip, with the exception of the six days devoted to the tour of the Park, when stages and the fine hotels maintained in the Park will be utilized. This special train will consist of a Pullman dining car, sleeping car, and an observation car, all of the highest grade, and the passengers will find them as fully as comfortable and convenient as the best hotels. During the three days at the Convention at Minneapolis, July 7 to 9, inclusive, this palatial train will be at the command of the tourists, obviating the necessity of securing accommodations at hotels.

The beauties of the Yellowstone National Park, most aptly termed Nature's Wonderland, must be seen to be appreciated. From the top of the stages in which the tour of the Park is made, there is spread out before the traveler a constantly changing panorama of wonders—snow-crowned mountains; tumbling and tossing rivers; Yellowstone Lake, like a great blue sea nestled amongst the beetling crags, at an altitude above that of the summit of Mt. Washington; the curious natural springs, where chemical deposits glisten in the sun's rays with all the colors of the rainbow; and the Geysers, ever presenting a scene of varied charm and awe-inspiring wonder.

The accommodations on this tour will necessarily be limited, and intending tourists should apply early in order to secure reservations of space. A detailed itinerary is in course of preparation, and all inquiries regarding accommodations should be addressed to Geo. W. Boyd, Asst. General Passenger Agent, Pennsylvania Railroad, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, Pa.

Reduced Rates to Charleston, via Pennsylvania Railroad, account Maryland Day.

On account of Maryland Day at the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian Exposition, Charleston, S. C., on April 23, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Charleston on Apr 20 and 21, good to return within eleven days, date of sale included, at rate of $11.20 from Baltimore and at proportionately low rates from other stations on its lines in the State of Maryland. For specific rates consult ticket agents.

I began its systematic use and improved gradually in health, and after the use of six bottles my health was completely restored, and for over two years I have had neither ache or pain. You have a truly wonderful remedy for women. Very sincerely yours, MRS. HULDA JAKEMAN, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Just as surely as Mrs. Jakeman was cured just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman suffering from any form of female ills.

The Union Central Leads All Life Insurance Co's in Dividend Earnings.

Dividends in Life Insurance regulate the cost of the insurance. The company that pays the largest dividends furnishes the cheapest insurance. The company that combines the lowest death rate, the lowest expense rate, and the highest interest rate, pays the largest dividends. The Union Central excels all companies in these points. Nearly 80 per cent of the assets of the Union Central are invested in first mortgage securities, which, during 1901, earned 6.05 per cent. The average interest rate for 20 years is 6.65 per cent. The one particular advantage of mortgage loans as an asset of an insurance company is their non-fluctuating quality—a Wall street broker is not needed to value them.

An ANNUAL DIVIDEND policy is the only contract which gives you the full benefits. You know every year just how your investment stands, and your profits are placed to your credit or given to you in cash.

For further argument in favor of the Union Central we refer you to the two letters which are herewith reproduced. One by Mr. B. H. Kroger, a banker and financier of Cincinnati, O., the other by Gen. J. S. Carr, banker and financier of Durham, N. C. Gen. Carr carries over a million dollars on his life.

Messrs. Williamson & Watts, Cincinnati, Feb. 13th., 1902.
Baltimore & Eutaw Streets, Baltimore, Md.
Gentlemen:—In answer to your favor of the 11th. inst. I would say, that I carry $50,000 worth of insurance in the Union Central Life Insurance Company, and I enclose you one of their statements which they sent me this morning.
I think that this is one of the best managed institutions in the United States and as strong as any of them.
I feel no hesitancy in recommending you to take out a policy in this company, as the character of men connected with it are the highest class of citizens that we have, and can be absolutely depended upon in every particular.

Very truly yours,

B. H. KROGER.

EUROPE'S HIGHWAYS

PERFECT SYSTEM BY WHICH THEY ARE BUILT AND MAINTAINED.

Some of the Splendid Roads in France, Belgium and Italy—$16,000,000 Spent by Latter Country on Her Highways in Five Years.

It will interest you to know about the roads of France. In that country there is no such diversity between the material progress of the farmer and that of the merchant, between the country and the town, as is found in this country, says Isaac B. Potter in The Gospel of Good Roads. The farmers prosper and have always prospered. Every dollar spent by the French government to bring itself more closely in touch with its rural population has been well invested.

Of course these roads of France are not built by farmers who "work out" their highway taxes after the manner followed in this country, nor are they repaired by the use of plows, hoes or scrapers, like those which are brought into use at the annual farmers' picnic which takes place when you go out to "work the road" in your township. On the contrary, they are built and kept up under a system which is perhaps the most perfect in the world. There is an official in chief who takes charge of all the main roads of the republic and requires from his subordinates complete reports at frequent intervals. In this manner information is always at hand showing the condition of the roads in all parts of the country. Of course the work is divided into different sections, which in turn are in charge of subordinate engineers or superintendents. Broken stone is fur-

In Belgium also the principal roads are built and maintained by the general government, and in 1880 in the nine provinces of Belgium over 79 per cent of the highroads were of this class, the entire length of high class roads being 4,173 English miles out of a total of 5,286 of roads of all classes. The best roads of Belgium are in the provinces of Namur, Liege and Luxembourg, and permanent employees are kept on the roads under the direction of the chief engineer of the province for the purpose of insuring the observance of the regulations and looking after the constant repair of the highways.

In Baden the main roads are under the supervision of the state authorities and are cared for with a studious regard for the requirements of the farmer and inland travel. Under the law relating to roads in Baden the duty of maintaining the road falls as follows: One-quarter each upon the town and county in which the road is situated, the remaining one-half upon the state treasury.

In Italy the minister of public works is at the head of the department of public works. The construction of these roads is in most cases undertaken by contracts, the work being carried on under direction of government engineers. The government road laborers are called "cantonniers" and are selected with great care, special reference being had to character and honesty. They must be of robust constitution and must be able to read and write. Each one of these cantonniers is provided with a full set of tools and implements specified by law. His hours of work are from sunrise to sunset, and each day he is obliged to go over the entire track of road placed in his charge. He must be constantly upon the line of his work in all kinds of weather and in case of necessity is bound to work on public holidays. His chief duties are the leveling and repair of the highways, the removal of snow, mud, dust, etc. He must assist travelers in distress and vehicles disabled by accident or by weather, and for any neglect of duty he may be fined, suspended or dismissed, according to the degree of the offense.

The fines accumulated during the year are divided among the deserving cantonniers or given to one of the mutual benefit associations of which they are members. Cantonniers who serve with credit and distinction for three or more years are promoted and given an increase of monthly wages. In the five years from 1873 to 1878 Italy spent about $16,000,000 on her roads, although before that appropriation was made many excellent highways existed in all parts of the kingdom. In 1881 Italy constructed about 120 miles of new road and had then about 11,040 miles in course of construction.

In the Netherlands, as in the countries already mentioned, the principal roads are maintained at the expense of the state.

IN A ROSE GARDEN.

How to Make and Plant a Fine Rose Bed—Advice For the Amateur.

To make a good rose bed the soil should be trenched at least twenty-four to thirty inches deep. The best method for doing this is to remove the top soil to the depth of fifteen or sixteen inches, then break up the subsoil fifteen inches deeper, thoroughly incorporating at least one-third as much good strong manure as soil through the whole. When this is done, return the top soil, adding one-fourth as much manure as soil, thoroughly mixing it in the operation. When complete, this will leave the bed six or eight inches higher than it originally was, but in the course of a few weeks, if done in the very early spring, or in the fall preferably, it will have settled down very considerably by the time the bushes are ready to plant.

When practicable, it is much better to prepare a bed as above during the fall and allow it to lie all winter. This settles it down quite solid by spring. Then all that will be necessary will be to stir the surface over to make it fine enough to cover the roots well at planting time. Another advantage gained by preparing the bed in the fall is that the winter rains and thawing snow will have largely decomposed the manure and impregnated the ammonia from it all through the soil, leaving it in the best possible condition for the roots to commence feeding on it as soon as planted. Thus we have got the preparation all in shape.

The next thing to consider is the class of roses to plant. If extra large, handsome roses are the desideratum, the hybrid remontant class is the best. Of these the most desirable for the amateur are Paul Neyron, bright rose; General Jacqueminot, deep crimson; Anna de Diesbach, bright rose pink; Clio, bluish; Mrs. John Laing, clear pink; Mme. Gabriel Luizet, silvery pink; Alfred Colomb, bright clear red; Marchioness of Londonderry, white; Mrs. Sherman Crawford, flesh pink; Baron Bonstetten, deep maroon; Margaret Dickson, white, flesh center; Victor Verdier, deep cerise. These twelve are all extra good varieties. Several of them will also bloom in the fall as well as in June.—J. M. May Before New Jersey Horticultural Society.

Black Knot of Plum and Cherry.
The treatment generally recommended is to cut off the knots and burn them, which is a good thing to do if it is done before the winter spores have been distributed. If not, then some additional treatment will be necessary. It is recommended, therefore, that all knobs be cut off and burned, and, in addition to this, spray the trees with a strong solution of bordeaux mixture during the first warm days of spring. About the time that buds start spray again with the ordinary strength bordeaux mixture. This ought to destroy all of the winter spores. Then, in case the branches may have been already infected the previous year, they should be sprayed again during the latter part of May and the 1st of June. The young knots may be destroyed by painting them with chloronaphtholeum or with pure kerosene oil.—J. Troop, Indiana.

Early Native Spring Flower.
One of the most beautiful early native spring flowers of North America is the pasque, or Easter flower, Pulsatilla hirsutissima, perhaps more familiarly known as Anemone nuttalliana. It is a native of the prairies of Illinois and the northwest territory, extending from British Columbia into Nebraska and Texas, inhabiting dry soils. An interesting character of the plant is when the fruiting stage is reached. The silky achenes are developed into long feathery styles recalling very much those of the Virgin's Bower clematis, and indeed the plant itself was at one time recognized as a clematis. The flowers are purple with a bluish tinge and seated in a feathery cup. The plant is devoid of petals, the showy portion consisting of petaloid sepals. The hairy stalk rises three to six inches above the ground, and the richness of the color of the flower is one that is much appreciated at this early season of the year, says American Gardening in illustrating this spring blossom.

THE PASQUE OR EASTER FLOWER.

A Common Error About Trees.
It is a rather common idea among people not very familiar with plants that the trunks or stems of all plants elongate and that the branches starting from the main stem of a tree five feet from the ground, say, will a year or two later be six or seven above the ground. Meghan's states that this is not so. The first year, while the main stem or axis is growing, a small young branch may be carried with the growth, but usually only in the shape of a bud even then. After that the position of the branch is fixed.

Executive Committee for the Democratic Voters of Salisbury

AN INDEFINITE THREAT.

The Easton Ledger, commenting on democratic congressional politics, says:

"Cecil county is this year in the first congressional district, and this will give the counties north of the Choptank control of the nominating convention. We propose to use that power."

The representation is 18 to 16 in our favor and we want the benefit of it. The last candidate north of the Choptank for a term was Charles H. Gibson of Talbot, in 1888. John B. Brown of Queen Anne's was a candidate for an unexpired term.

Since 1888 the candidates for a whole term have been: 1890, Henry Page of Somerset; 1892, Robert F. Brattan of Somerset; 1894, Joshua W. Miles of Somerset; 1896, Joshua W. Miles of Somerset; 1898, John Walter Smith of Worcester; 1900, John P. Moore of Worcester. Besides, in 1894, W. Laird Henry of Dorchester was elected for an unexpired term. Thus for twelve years, or six full terms, the Democratic congressional candidate came from South of the Choptank.

Now come north of the dividing river. Cecil, having just come into the district, is not in form to have a congressional candidate. Besides, there are fatal faults in the Democratic ranks there. Nor could Cecil afford to enter into a combination with the counties south of the Choptank. That would be ruinous politics for Cecil. It would never be forgiven. Kent, the smallest county in the district, has become as certainly Republican as Charles. It cannot elect a Democratic State Senator. And Kent has the chief judge of the circuit which comprises the counties north of the Choptank.

Queen Anne's is the banner Democratic county of the five of the northern tier, and on general principles Queen Anne's is entitled to—all it can get. Our neighbor now has an associate judge and the State Fire Marshal, not as much as it deserves. Caroline has, for these many years, been making candidates, legislative, judicial and other, from the other counties and has had precious little for itself. Under the State administration this neighbor has the Chief of the Bureau of Statistics, an important office, but it does not measure Caroline deserts.

In this review of the situation we have modestly and purposely left out Talbot. We have no right, certainly no authority, and no wish to say that Talbot will not have a congressional candidate. It is a fact, however, that the other counties north of the Choptank river, in the old congressional district, have helped Talbot so often in the past, in many conventions, the Democracy of the county will be amply justified in returning some of it in the approaching congressional convention.

We don't know what, exactly, Brother Haddaway means by his indefinite threat conveyed in the sentence "We propose to use that power."

In this issue of the ADVERTISER is a letter from Mr. Thos. F. J. Rider, which seems to us to contain much truth. We would respectfully refer all democrats who wish party success next fall to this letter. Brother Haddaway is too sincere a party man to use his influence to the procuring of the congressional nomination for any particular section of the district regardless of whether or not that particular section has a man capable of winning in the election. That is not practical, but sentimental, politics.

At the close of the extra session of the legislature last Wednesday, a few senators, delegates and officers of both houses made a claim upon the State for the $25.00 usually allowed members and officers for stationery etc., at each regular session of the General Assembly. With characteristic good sense and discretion Comptroller Hering declined to endorse the requisitions and appealed to Attorney General Rayner for a legal opinion bearing upon the case.

The Attorney General replied sustaining the Comptroller, and the State is saved from this attempted grab. It must be said, to the credit of the State, that only a few of the members and officers made this ridiculous demand, and we are glad to say that the Wicomico representatives were with the majority in the maintenance of economy and the upholding of decency.

Indeed Senator Brewington and Mr. White voted to allow members no pay for the extra session, but in this they were largely outvoted and each member and officer was allowed one day's pay and mileage.

In this issue of the ADVERTISER appears a lengthy account of the life and work of the late Rev. Dr. Talmage.

For many years his sermons have appeared weekly in this journal, much to the pleasure of a large number of its readers. In fact the Editors have been frequently thanked for providing the sermons weekly.

Dr. Talmage was a unique character possessing great eloquence, and a theatrical mannerism which many good people thought inappropriate for the pulpit, but which charmed many others, and thousands loved to both hear and read his religious orations.

Arbor Day was appropriately observed in our schools on April 11. Exercises within doors were held and much shrubbery was planted in the yards. The graduating class of Salisbury High School planted a tree which they named LeFevre, in honor of Prof. Chas. H. LeFevre, principal of Cambridge High School, who was principal last year at Salisbury. Prof. LeFevre received a letter from the president of the class inviting him to be present on the occasion, but he was obliged to decline the pleasure. The action of the class is a graceful and well deserved compliment to their former instructor.

Mr. Walter B. Miller and other gentlemen have spent considerable time and money this week on the repair and improvement of the race track at the grounds of the Salisbury Country Club. Mr. Miller thinks that an excellent speedway may be made of the old track if the proper care is now taken in the choice of material and the method of applying. The golf enthusiasts were out to the grounds several days this week and enjoyed the sport. Work to the course is not yet completed, but the players are impatient.

Mr. Grant Sexton, who last week bought "Fairfield," the handsome country place of Col. Warner, near Salisbury, has moved his family to the farm and taken charge of it and the dairy attached. Mr. Sexton is a young man who has had a thorough training in agriculture and dairying in Pennsylvania, and will introduce Pennsylvania methods here. Col. Warner and family have made no plans for the future. It is understood that they may remain here. They have made many friends in Salisbury who would regret their departure from the community.

James E. Price of Caroline county, who sued the B. C. & A. Railroad for $20,000 for negligence, etc., was awarded $100.00 by a Caroline petit jury. Mr. Robt. P. Graham of Salisbury and Mr. Wm. H. Adkins of Easton, represented the Railroad. Mr. Albert Constable of Elkton appeared for the plaintiff.

EX-GOV. JACKSON FOR CONGRESS

His Nomination Urged by Mr. T. F. J. Rider.

Editors of the Advertiser:
I ask permission to supplement the speculations of the Baltimore American, in a recent issue as to the nominee of the Democratic Congressional Convention under the caption, "Who will it be?" with a brief of my opinion of the political situation that will confront the Democratic party in the nomination of a candidate for Congress in this District.

It is very true, as the American alleges, that the "barrel" will be again a factor in the coming campaign, and without the "barrel" (a fact to be deplored), the nomination of a poor man (it matters not what his ability may be) would be impolitic, because the Republican party in this District, has at its command barrels of the "sinews of war," that will insure the election of the Republican nominee, unless a Democrat is nominated who not only has the confidence of his party, but the financial ability to cope with his adversary.

This District ought to be represented in Congress by a Democrat; because a majority of the electors are not in accord, or sympathy with the principles of the Republican party and the election of a Republican has always been the result of Democratic disapproval of unwise Democratic nominations, and the lavish expenditure of money by the Republicans.

Our present Congressman, Hon. W. H. Jackson, owes his election to the potency of the "barrel," and to Democratic disapproval of the Democratic nomination; and if renominated Mr. Jackson will succeed himself, unless matched by one who is able and willing to fight him with his own weapon. Congressman Jackson is not only a liberal man with his money in politics, but he is also liberal with it in many other ways that have made him hosts of friends in Wicomico; yet with all his resources, he would have been defeated at the last Congressional election if Ex Governor Jackson had been the Democratic nominee, which his Delegate from Wicomico and the popular voice insisted upon, but it was otherwise ordered and the present Republican Congressman is the result of that mistake. The same fate awaits the Democratic party this fall unless greater wisdom and foresight are exercised in making the nomination.

If Ex Governor Jackson will accept the nomination, I believe that that same earnest support of him of the people will manifest itself in and before the next Convention as it did at the last. I cannot say whether he will accept the nomination or not, but I am sure of one thing and that is, he will not buy his nomination, nor will he make a "button hole campaign fight" for it, if he accepts it at all, it must be the spontaneous offering of his party.

There are two ways open to a Congressman to make himself conspicuous for his usefulness—one upon the floor, as a debater, the other in the Committee room. In the latter, Congressman

Jackson has shown his ability and influence, and as a Committee man, the Ex-Governor will out rival him. He is held in high esteem in this County and District and in other sections of the State; his record as an official and citizen being the best.

If the Ex-Governor is nominated, I do not believe his brother, the Congressman, will accept the Republican nomination, and in looking over the field from Cecil to Worcester, I do not know the Democrat who as the nominee for Congress, would be more certain of election than Hon. E. E. Jackson. April 17th., 1902. T. F. J. RIDER.

The New Castle Presbytery held its 64th stated meeting, this week in Eastlake Presbyterian Church, Wilmington. The Rev. R. A. Robinson of the Presbytery of Norfolk was received into the Presbytery of New Castle. A call from Manokin Church, Princess Anne, was presented for the services of Mr. Robinson. He accepted the call and the following arrangements were made for his installation, Friday evening, April 25th, at 7:45 o'clock; the Rev. Dr. Reigart of Salisbury to preach the sermon, the Rev. Lewis Wainwright of Lewes to deliver the charge to the people, and the Rev. J. F. Matheson of Pocomoke City, the charge to the pastor. Rev. Dr. Reigart of Wicomico Presbytery Church attended the Presbytery.

Bird-Shot For Tiger.

No use to hunt tigers with bird-shot. It doesn't hurt the tiger any and it's awfully risky for you.

Consumption is a tiger among diseases. It is stealthy—but once started it rapidly eats up the flesh and destroys the life. No use to go hunting it with ordinary food and medicine. That's only bird-shot. It still advances. Good heavy charges of Scott's Emulsion will stop the advance. The disease feels that.

Scott's Emulsion makes the body strong to resist. It soothes and toughens the lungs and sustains the strength until the disease wears itself out.

THE PICTURE shown in this cut represents the manner in which our new spring shoes have been coming in for the past two weeks. In January and February we cleaned out all our odds and ends and everything that was undesirable. We have now replaced them with

Footwear.

We claim to be the leading shoe dealers of the Eastern Shore. We are the largest distributors of Shoes south of Wilmington. Every season we have our new goods in before others begin to get any, giving our customers the advantage of early and best selections. We do not aim for the large city stores to get all the choice selections and compel us to take their leavings. We must be right in the front rank and sit at the first table. Our customers must and shall have the best of everything offered in footwear.

Our spring goods are now here and open for inspection. We would like to have you call and see them. We do not expect you to buy unless you are perfectly suited. If we can't sell you we will make the fellow who does, treat you mighty well.

Yours for Shoes.

See the difference between an up-to-date store and where you've been trading. See the difference in the goods—see the difference in the class of trade—see the difference in the crowds—see the difference in the prices—see the quick, active, snappy way that people buy goods here. There's a reason for it—no matter how much or how little money you've got, Thoroughgood's got the class of Clothing or Hats you want. Thoroughgood's got the stock. Thoroughgood's got the nerve to give the prices that get business. If you've got a friend in the Clothing business or you own your clothing, stick to him if he gives you good clothing, but don't insult your back for the sake of your friend, get your money's worth, that's what Lacy Thoroughgood expects you to do. If you don't that's your fault, not Lacy Thoroughgood's. Thoroughgood's motto is—"Not as cheap, but cheaper; not as good, but better." My aim is to give you better goods for less money than any clothing house in Salisbury. My business is clothing men and boys from head to foot. I carry the largest stock in Salisbury, and buy for cash and sell for cash, and can do better by you than anybody else. Filthy lucre is not altogether what I'm after, I want an immense Clothing trade. All I figure on is enough to buy plenty of ready-made Clothing and hats for my customers, and a glass of milk and a piece of custard pie occasionally for myself. Thoroughgood's goods are ahead of any others in Salisbury in all respects—That's all there is to it. There's always something doing at Thoroughgood's.

"It is the little rift within the lute which ever widening, makes the music mute." It is just a little rift in the health of a woman often, which gradually takes the spring from her step, the light from her eyes, the rose from her cheek and the music from her voice. Perhaps the bug-bear which has frightened the woman from the timely help needed at the beginning has been the dreaded question, the obnoxious examination, the local treatments, of the home physician. There is no need for these. Nor is there need for continued suffering. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be relied on by every woman, suffering from what are called "female troubles," to renew the health and cure the disease. Women are astonished at the results of the use of this medicine. "It not only cures weak women 'robust and rosy checked,' but it gives them back the vigor and vitality of youth."

SELECTING BREEDING STOCK

It is Safer to Use Rams and Ewes That are Acclimated.

Not more than 20 to 30 per cent of the flock of sheep are really fit to retain for breeders, and yet if they are selected with care each year they will prove satisfactory in every way, especially if good rams are obtained to keep up the strain. Selecting breeding ewes straight from the farm or range and mating them to rams that have seen some life in the same place will produce better all around results than by importing either ewes or rams from some other state.

When we go away to select breeding animals, we always run the risk of not finding animals well adapted to the farm or range. While such rams or ewes may do well enough in their native state, they may be unequal to the task of readily adapting themselves to their new home. We must go afield to get new blood—we cannot risk too close inbreeding—but at the same time the most serviceable animals for breeding purposes are those which have become adapted to the soil, climate and environments of the farm where they are to live, writes C. S. Stuart in The American Cultivator. A good many ranchmen in the west have found that range reared rams give them better service simply because they have become acclimated and accustomed to find a living off the pastures furnished them. They have become good rustlers and are not dependent upon such careful feeding methods that they grow thin and sickly if not daily attended by experts. The fact is, we need more rams accustomed to the ordinary wild conditions of the range and yet of such good breeding points that they can mark their progeny.

It is not well to relax present methods of careful breeding and selection, but we do need to adopt some system which will make the animals at home where sheep breeding and rearing are carried on successfully on a large scale. The average sheep farmer cannot devote his time to breeding pure blooded, fancy rams to register, nor can he afford to pay the price of these animals every year to keep up the standard of the herd, but he should be able to select from his flock every year good, serviceable rams and ewes which, accustomed to the pastures, will at the same time perpetuate fine blooded qualities into their descendants. This is what every sheepman should aim at, and it can be accomplished with study and effort. Just as the successful fruit grower must have his own nursery, so must the sheep raiser have his breeding yard, where careful methods of selection and feeding will produce results which will prevent any degeneration in the flock.

Kansas City's Record.

Kansas City enjoyed another record breaking year in 1901 in all her special live stock lines save that of horses. She received 2,000,105 cattle, 126,410 calves, 3,714,404 hogs, 980,078 sheep, 96,657 horses and mules and a total of 124,958 cars. These footings together form a total of 6,919,714 head of animals, valued at $130,377,684, which is over $4,000,000 more than her highest previous total—to wit, that for 1900. Her cattle were valued at $37 per head, calves $9, hogs $11.50, sheep $3.75 and horses $91.25 in 1901 against $41 for cattle, $12 for calves, $10.50 for swine, $4.50 for sheep and $78.25 for horses in 1900. In 1898 cattle in Kansas City were worth $44 each and horses $41.50 and in the year before that $42 and $41.50, respectively.

The Angoras are more prolific, more hardy and can be kept with less cost than sheep. They are essentially browsers, cleaning the farm or ranch of all brush and weeds and depositing the same on the highest and poorest spots, as those are the places where they camp at night. They are not grazers unless forced to it, and hence are not in the way of other stock, which do not take the brush and weeds on the high land. Some think the Angoras are hard to fence in, but that is a mistake. They are as easily restrained as sheep.

I feel sure, says W. T. McIntire in Kansas Farmer, in saying that it will not be regretted by the farmers of Kansas if they turn their attention to the Angora goats, especially those farmers having brushy, hilly and weedy land. In two years' time the Angoras will kill out the thickest underbrush, thereby greatly enhancing the value of the land. Angora meat, called Angora venison, is now in great demand at prices remunerative to those who may have a surplus, which are not suitable for breeding. The breeding demand will continue for many years and will not be overdone for a generation to come.

Production of Mohair.

According to statistics gathered by the department of agriculture, the total amount of mohair produced in the United States annually is upward of a million pounds and is just about equal to the quantity imported. Furthermore, the mohair industry is looking up and seems to offer a field for profitable investment.

A great many people who are familiar with the word mohair and even with the article itself would be puzzled to find an answer if they were asked to tell just what mohair is. "The word 'mohair'," explains the agriculture department's bulletin, "is the technical name for the fiber of the Angora goat, which is used in the manufacture of fabrics."

CHINCOTEAGUE

Some few weeks since we dropped you a few lines about the growth and prosperity of this place, but want of time and space in your columns precluded a further notice. Now there were several industries left which our people would be glad to have stated and in no boasting manner. Recently a stock mercantile corporation has been formed here with a capital of from twenty to fifty thousand dollars, with D. J. Wheaton as President and Treasurer, and John W. Warren of your own county as Manager and Secretary. Of course you all know John W. Warren, from your own county, raised near Wango and an intimate friend of Wm. L. Laws, one of the best men that ever lived in any county, and a wife better than he is. Often in times past has the writer, recognizing the pure democracy of Wm. L. Laws, visited his house in political contests and felt just as much at home at his table, seated next to his wife who placed him next to her and her coffee pot, which she knew so well how to prepare, and felt just as much at home with her as his own mother. May God ever bless Mrs. Laws, for no kinder woman ever lived, and the writer hopes yet at some future time to meet her, at her own home, and when he does he will never leave without one of her old fashioned square meals. But John Warren, manager of the corporation above given is recognized as one of the best business men here or elsewhere. Posted in business matters, one of the best buyers on this whole Eastern Shore, and so recognized by all salesmen; he is very popular with them. Of John Warren might be said, but it would take too much space. Suffice it therefore to say that, above all things else he stands without reproach in our community as a man honest, upright and square in all his dealings. To tell the truth no better man lives. Now with this large corporation, managed by Warren and so successful in business, may be mentioned the fact that there is not one in it but what is a Marylander. The directors of the above corporation are D. J. Wheaton, J. W. Wheaton, R. L. Marshall, Wm. T. Bowden and John L. Anderson, all substantial business men. Bob Marshall as he is popularly known is a native of Wicomico, and for years past has been the successful manager of the oyster interests of D. J. Wheaton & Bro. The clerks in the store are Joseph Baker, G. W. Twilley, and E. B. Gillis. Of the three Baker a native of Wicomico is married, Twilley is certainly courting, and will get an angelic woman should he succeed in his courtship, while Gillis known to many of your people as a grandson of Dr. John P. R. Gillis, so well known to the people of Salisbury, is a young, but handsome and courting young man. Our advice to him is to confine himself to the courtship of one woman, and abolish all Mormon ideas.

Now about the oyster interests. Most people concur in saying that over one hundred thousand barrels are shipped from here every year. This includes of course those shipped by the R. R. Co. as well as those by vessel and shucked here. The largest and most up-to-date shucking house here is that of Capt. Chas. E. Babbitt, Jr. With sky lights and a large house up to the trade in every particular Capt. Charlie deserves special notice for his enterprise in this regard. No squarer or fairer man can be found in business anywhere, and if there is one man in this industry more respected for his honesty and good judgment than he he is not known to our people.

Today some things came to our notice which must be referred to briefly. The drug store of Jones Drug Company sold out to the Chincoteague Drug Co. Incorporated, who intend at once to erect a glass front drug store on Main street near the bank with a glass front of twenty-eight by fifty feet. L. L. Dirickson the owner of the Boatman's bank of Chincoteague, is at the head of this corporation. Since his presidency of this bank it has succeeded wonderfully, while his cashier Mr. Charles E. Matthews and assistant Mr. Wittbank have added fresh laurels to their well established reputation for their honesty and capacity. Not less successful in this, their reputation for courting, the fair sex watch them carefully, for rumor has it that one of them is a courting man and will court two or three at the same time.

QUANTICO.

The tennis club of town will hold an entertainment in K. of P. Hall on Saturday evening, May 3, which will consist of vocal and instrumental music, tableaux, charades and recitations. The proceeds will be applied to the purchase of a tennis outfit for the summer. Admission 10 and 15 cents.

Our farmers, following the course of many others in the county, have planted largely in the Irish potato line.

Should the potatoes sell as well as they have for the three past years our community will feel the benefit of this crop.

Arbor Day was appropriately observed in our schools on Friday, April 11. A part of the day was set apart for yard improvement and tree planting, another for indoor exercises. The observance of this day cannot be too strenuously urged, as year after year, the forests of our State are falling before the axe and saw and the idea of forest preservation and tree replenishment should be inculcated in the minds of our rising generation—the children in the public schools.

The men intending to settle a stove and lath factory on the "Taylor farm" have changed the location to the farm owned by Mr. Ernest Mills one mile from town.

The shirt factory is in operation this week and the work is proving very satisfactory to the owners, T. F. Disharoon & Son.

Miss Maudie Collier who has been making an extended visit to relatives in Laurel returned to her home in town Tuesday.

DELMAR.

James Anderson, a farmer residing between Delmar and Laurel was assaulted by Wm. Wait, colored, last Monday evening about dusk, while the former was at work in his field. Wait appeared riding a bicycle.

It is alleged he went up to where Anderson was at work and struck him a terrible blow with a stout club, which he broke over his head. C. L. Holloway, a neighbor, was working just beyond a hedge. Seeing the blow, he ran toward the scene, but not before he had been discovered by Wait, who mounted his wheel and rode quickly away. Holloway gave the alarm and took Anderson, who was unconscious, to the house.

A posse was quickly organized. Wait was found about an hour later hiding in a berry shanty. He resisted arrest until overpowered by numbers. The negro was carried back to the Anderson home-stead, where four men kept guard over him in the kitchen until 4 o'clock next morning, when a messenger was sent to Delmar to bring a constable. At 5 o'clock Constable Smiley Beach arrived and took the prisoner to Delmar, where he was given a hearing before Magistrate Tyre, who committed him to Georgetown jail for assault with intent to kill.

Wait was employed by Mr. Anderson until two years ago, when he left and went to Princess Anne, Md. He returned shortly after with a new bicycle, which he claimed to have bought, but which he is alleged to have stolen. Anderson became suspicious and communicated with the Maryland authorities, who arrested Wait, and he received a long sentence, which he had just completed. He threatened to kill Anderson as soon as he was liberated, and it is believed he would have satisfied his desire but for the proximity of Mr. Holloway.

Rev. A. W. Mather left this week for Franklin City, his new field of labor. As a pastor he was popular here and leaves many warm friends.

Arbor day was observed by the teachers here. Readings, recitations and other literary features characterized the morning session and in the afternoon a few trees were set out and after this was done the teachers took the entire school out into the woods for a stroll and to impress the day and its purposes as well as to give some slight practical lessons in botanical observations.

Job R. Elsey has been employed as engineer on the steamer Eastern Shore of the B. C. & A. Ry. Co.

Joseph T. Illey who has been at work in a Wilmington ship-yard has been sent with a few other men to put up a boat on Lake George. The different parts were made in Wilmington at the ship-yard and then shipped to the lake and put together. Mr. Twilley's wife arrived here a few days ago and will remain until her husband returns to Wilmington which will likely be some time in May.

Rev. Dr. Lucas of Cambridge preached in Twilley's Hall on Thursday night. His discourse gave evidence of Bible knowledge as well as rhetorical ability. He held his audience with great attention.

Our former pastor Rev. A. W. Mather will leave this week for his new field of labor, and we trust he will be crowned with success.

Our citizens are very much aroused on account of the Collins murder case which happened last Saturday morning. Many of our people visited the scene on Sunday and viewed the remains of the victim. This is something new for this community and is causing much talk. It seems to be the item of greatest interest in everybody's conversation. The funeral was held Monday at Mt. Pleasant Church amid a great gathering of people. It is said there were two thousand persons at the funeral.

SALISBURY HIGH SCHOOL.

Progress During The Past Year A Gratifying Success—Manual Training A Feature of The Work.

The public schools of Salisbury with those of the county will close on Wednesday, May 7th. To the view of the careful observer concerning their work, conduct and management during the scholastic year, so near to the close, there is much that is highly commendable and the results achieved by them are very gratifying not only to parents whose children are being educated at this educational center of the county, but to friends of public instruction throughout the town and surrounding county. The enrollment, which is about seven hundred, exceeds that of any previous year, being an increase of fifty. This large number of pupils is handled by thirteen teachers, who are doing work in thirteen separate and distinct departments.

In the four highest grades the department system prevails with good effect and is managed by Prin. Holloway as instructor in Science, History and Literature, Vice Prin. White instructor in Mathematics, with Asst. Huntington instructor in German, Latin and Civics. The schools have been properly graded which is now a necessity for the progress of school work. The work by the teachers has been done in a thorough and conscientious manner, in accordance with the course of study outlined by Prof. M. Bates Stephens, Superintendent of Public Instruction of Maryland, thus making the studies taught similar to those in corresponding grades throughout the State. On account of this course of study, which demands that ten grades instead of nine be completed by High Schools, the would be graduating class was much demoralized at the beginning of the year at the thought of failure to graduate this spring but it gradually overed the effect of this disappointment and has been doing a whole good work. There is no doubt of the wisdom of ten instead of nine grades and this class at graduation in 1903 will be better able to cope with graduates of other High Schools for having pursued, what probably seemed to it a year of useless study.

The spirit of industry and energy seems to have characterized the pupils en masse during the year as the majority have worked with a zeal that was pleasing to note and the result of the close application to their studies will doubtless be revealed on next week when they take their final examinations, preparatory to advancement to another grade. The spirit of interdependence, teacher upon pupil, and pupil upon teacher that should be in every school has been manifest in a very marked degree throughout the year, and the kindest feeling and best emotions one for another seemed to flow from student to instructor, which bred good conduct and had in it the germs of perfect discipline. The McKinley Memorial Fund raised during the year under the direction of Principal Holloway, since by his teaching in history he successfully aroused the patriotism and enthusiasm of his classes, was entirely voluntary and proved to be the largest fund collected for that purpose by any high school in the State. The faculty meetings which were hitherto not frequent among the teachers of the school were inaugurated as a necessity and have been held regularly every two weeks throughout the year, their good results have been shown in the feeling of unity that exists between the thirteen teachers one for another, and the bond of sympathy that was thus made in the meetings served as an encourager and strengthener in the teacher's work.

The department of Manual Training which was a new departure in Salisbury from the regular line of school duties although not a new one in the State was instituted as a part of our public instruction this year for the first time and has fulfilled the most sanguine expectation of its advocates and exponents. On account of the strictly pedagogical principles upon which the principal of that department, Prof. Seipp, has conducted his work and the interesting and fascinating manner in which he guided and instructed his classes Manual Training has been a success since the first week of school. The exhibits, which were made by the pupils and which will be displayed to those wishing to visit that department will speak for themselves of the excellence of that department and will insure to the minds of all the necessity of its continuance.

During the year the various classes have been given lessons in paper folding and cutting, the use of card board in form study and geometrical constructions, in the preparation of various articles for illustration in the school and in drawing, modelling and coloring. The elements of drafting, wood carving and joining have been taught together with sloyd in which the pupil was taught to use the knife, hammer, saw and plane with accuracy in the construction of various simple articles.

Said Garfield: "Upon the education of our youth depends the destiny of our country" and so long as our children are thus guided, thus instructed and thus lead as we believe they have been this year Salisbury High School will continue to turn out young ladies and gentlemen worthy the name and fit and proper citizens of this Republic.

Two Pleasant Social Affairs.

Mrs. Irving Powell entertained a number of her friends at a domino party Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Samuel Sterling of Jersey City. Among those who enjoyed the always enjoyable game were, Mrs. W. B. Tugman, Mrs. L. W. Gunby, Mrs. M. A. Humphreys, Mrs. E. A. Toadvine, Mrs. Belle Jones, Mrs. W. S. Gordy, Mrs. H. L. Brewington, Mrs. S. Samuel Sterling, Mrs. S. A. Graham, Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mrs. J. D. Williams, Mrs. W. S. Gordy Jr., Mrs. L. D. Collier, Mrs. D. W. Perdue, Mrs. Eugene Humphreys, Mrs. T. E. Adkins, Misses Virginia and Nancy Gordy, Miss Mary Rider, Miss Miriam Powell, Miss Alice Gunby, Miss Lizzie Powell, and Miss Mame Parsons.

A very attractive Tea was given Thursday afternoon from four to six o'clock by Mrs. S. Q. Johnson. Mrs. Samuel Sterling's card was enclosed in the invitation. Those assisting Mrs. Johnson to receive were Mrs. Samuel Sterling and Mrs. M. A. Humphreys. In the library Mrs. H. L. Brewington, Miss Emma Powell, Miss Maria Elie, Miss and Miss Virginia Gordy entertained the guests while Miss Marian Veasey, Miss Grace Ellegood, Miss Nancy Gordy and Miss Leila Birchhead assisted in the dining room. Mrs. Thomas H. Mitchell presided at the coffee table.

In the drawing room and library Easter lillies formed the decorations. The dining room was in pink, carnations being used on the table with shaded lights. A supper was served the receiving party later in the evening.

In Memoriam.

One of the saddest deaths that has ever occurred in the village of Allen was that of Robert Malone the thirteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Malone. While spiking a piece of ground on Thursday of last week his horse took fright at the barking of a dog, he in trying to subdue the animal was thrown down and the spike passed over one leg cutting to the bone a place several inches in length just above the knee. His wound was promptly dressed by Dr. J. I. T. Long and he seemed to be doing well until Monday afternoon when lockjaw set in and he succumbed to its dreadful clutches on Wednesday morning at 4.15.

The lad was an exceptionally bright one and was popular with teacher and classmates at school and loved by the older people throughout the village. His death has cast another gloom over the community, which has not yet survived from the death of Capt. Smith the week previous, and his life, industrious and energetic as it was, will be sadly missed in the village. The heartfelt sympathy of the village folk goes out to his parents, brothers and sisters in this sad time of bereavement and distress to them. Yet it is sure that the God of Abraham is even now their consolation since they are Godly and righteous living persons and have long since been trusting in Him who only can help in times of dire calamity. His remains were interred Thursday afternoon in the cemetery at Allen after funeral service had been conducted by Rev. Mr. White.

M. P. Church Matters.

Rev. S. J. Smith proposes to preach in the M. P. Church on Sunday upon the following themes, 11 a. m. "The Relation of the Weak and the Strong" and at 7.30 p. m. upon "Acknowledged before the Angels".

Miss Edna Adkins will lead the Christian Endeavor meeting on Sunday evening, subject "Samuel's Call". Full attendance requested.

A call for a congregational meeting to consider the question of improvement of the Church was issued by the pastor last Sunday morning. The date will be announced later.

PACKERS FORM A TRUST.

Delaware, Maryland and New Jersey Firms Combine. Capital Stock $5,000,000. About 130 Packing Houses Members of the Trust.

The American Packing Association, incorporated, with a capital stock of $5,000,000, chartered under the laws of Delaware, was organized in Wilmington Friday, at a meeting held at the Clayton House, and the following officers were elected: President, W. P. Huston of Philadelphia; Vice-President, W. L. Stevens, of Cedarville, N. J.; Treasurer, R. K. Neff of Philadelphia; Secretary, C. M. Dashiell of Princess Anne, Md.; board of directors, the above officers and Alfred Bilderback of Salem, N. J., T. L. Day of Ridgely, Md., James Wallace of Cambridge, Md., and H. C. Cannon of Bridgeville.

The company has taken over about all of the fruit and vegetable packing establishments in Delaware, Maryland and New Jersey, 190 in all, the aggregate value of which is $500,000. There may be two or three plants not yet in the company. The concerns were operated independently heretofore, but hereafter they are to be under the control and general management of the American Co., which will, as a result of this transaction, have a monopoly of the canning and packing of fruits and vegetables in the East. One of the members of the corporation said this morning that every concern of the kind in the three States, so far as can learn, has been absorbed by the company, and as Delaware, Maryland and New Jersey comprise the fruit and vegetables canning and packing centre of the East, the company is in control of the situation. For that matter, it will virtually control the entire market of the country and proposes to branch out for foreign business. Its object is, of course, to curtail expenses and control the supply and prices. It will also be in a better position to control the fruit and vegetable market, as in the past the farmers have made different arrangements with different concerns.

While the charter places the capital stock at $500,000, permission to increase to the $5,000,000 point. At the present the company intends to engage only in the manufacture and sale of fruits and vegetables, but its charter gives it the right to handle meat, poultry and, in fact, anything that can be canned and it might branch out in that direction later.

The main office will be in Philadelphia and the selling agents there will be Comly & Flanagan of No 18 Delaware avenue. It will be represented in Wilmington by its attorney, Herbert H. Ward.

The company having organized and got down to a working basis, it is in a position to make plans for the coming season, so far as plans can be made at this time. As yet, however, no definite arrangements have been made with the producers, although negotiations have been opened in some sections of the three States. Nothing can be told yet as to what it will be necessary to pay for the raw material, neither can anything be told about the prices of canned goods of this year's pack, both being problematical.

The company will probably purchase all the other canning factories in this part of the United States that are considered desirable.

RED MEN IN SESSION.

A Pleasant Meeting in Elkton—Salisburyans Honored.

The sixty-seventh session of the Great Sun Council of the Improved Order of Red Men of Maryland met in Elkton on Wednesday of this week and held a two days session. The meeting was one of the largest and most enjoyable held in recent years, the good people of Elkton outdoing themselves in entertaining their visitors. In the general election held during the session, two of Salisbury's popular young Red Men were highly honored. Mr. B. Frank Kennerly was elected Great Prophet and was chosen without opposition one of the two great representatives for the State of Maryland to attend the National Convention which meets in Norfolk in September next. Mr. Kennerly was also presented with a Past Great Sachem Sash and a Past Great Sachem Jewel by the Modoc Tribe of Salisbury as an evidence of the esteem in which he is held by them. Mr. C. M. Brewington of Salisbury and Mr. Geo. T. Fowler of Baltimore made the presentation addresses.

Mr. M. E. Tindle of the Modoc Tribe was elected Great Guard of the wigwam. The meeting adjourned Thursday evening to meet next year in Cumberland. Those who attended the Convention from Salisbury were, Messrs. Geo. W. Collins, S. H. Dawson, E. E. Twilley, M. H. Pope, E. L. White, S. J. Holloway, T. B. Lankford, C. M. Brewington, M. E. Tindle and B. F. Kennerly.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Six Young Lady Graduates Are Awarded Diplomas by The Delmar Public School.

The commencement exercises of the Delmar, Del. Public School were held in the Masonic Opera House on Tuesday evening. A very large audience greeted those who were to participate in the program.

Seated on the stage which was tastefully draped in yellow and black and beautifully decorated with potted plants were the graduating class consisting of Miss Susanna Laura Francis, Miss Ethel Olive Hayman, Miss Anna Catherine Stephens, Miss Minnie Ellen Smith, Miss Susie May Hastings and Miss Margaret Florence Hastings, Mr. Willard F. Deputy, Principal of the School, County Superintendent Leon A. Davis, Hon. John G. Gray of Wilmington, Rev. Z. H. Webster, Rev. L. A. Bennett, Elder A. B. Francis, Mr. S. K. Slemmons and Mr. W. L. Sirman. The exercises were introduced by an overture by the Delmar Cornet Band, and followed by an invocation by Elder A. B. Francis.

An essay on the "Policy of Minding One's Own Business" was delivered by Miss Margaret F. Hastings.

A recitation "The Raven" by Edgar A. Poe, was given by Miss Susanna Francis.

This was followed by a duet rendered by Miss Ethel Hayman and Susie Hastings, with piano accompaniment. "Unwritten Heroism," an essay read by Miss Minnie E. Smith showed marked ability in the author.

"Daniel Periton Ride," a recitation dramatically rendered by Miss Ethel Hayman elicited deserved applause.

A quartette with piano accompaniment was sung by Claude Phillips, Loran German, Herbert Sipple and Harry German.

"Evil Effects of Tobacco," an essay by Miss Anna Stephens, contained valuable lessons, which the boys of the school will do well to heed.

"History," by Miss Susie Hastings, was an interesting essay well delivered and contained humorous allusions to members of the class. At the close of this Miss Hastings presented to Mr. Deputy, as a gift and testimonial from the class, a nice umbrella in an appropriate presentation speech. Though taken by surprise, Mr. Deputy was equal to the occasion and made a neat speech of acceptance.

Hon. Jno. G. Gray delivered the address to the class to which he paid a glowing tribute and elicited hearty applause. Diplomas were presented by Supt. L. A. Davis to the young ladies of the class in appropriate and pleasing remarks. The intervals were enlivened with music by the Band. The exercises were closed with the benediction pronounced by Rev. L. A. Bennett.

Much praise is due to the Principal, Mr. Deputy, for his efforts and success in elevating the school to its present standard.

Church Wedding.

A large company of people gathered at Trinity M. E. Church, South, Wednesday evening to witness the marriage ceremony of Miss Ida I. Tindle to Mr. Garland B. Brittingham, both of this city, which took place at eight o'clock, the pastor, Dr. Newton, officiating. The church was decorated for the occasion and the ceremony was a very pretty one. Miss Stella Disharoon played the wedding march.

The ushers, Messrs. Ernest McBrierty, Charles Ralph, Herman Collins, and Charles Livingston, led the bridal procession, followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Ethel White and Miss Minnie Wimbrow, who wore dresses of white mull, with pink ribbons, and carried large bouquets of pink carnations. Miss Annie Tindle, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of pink mull, and also carried pink carnations. The bride and groom entered together; the bride attired in a pretty gown of white french lawn trimmed with lace and pearls, and carrying a beautiful bouquet of Bride roses and lily-of-the-valley. The groom and ushers wore suits of black, pearl gloves, and white rosettes as boutonniere.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levin I. Tindle, No. 311 Elizabeth Street, there being quite a number of the friends of the young couple present.

MOTHERHOOD

The greatest ambition of American men and women is to have homes blessed with children. The woman afflicted with female disease is constantly menaced with becoming a childless wife. No medicine can restore dead organs, but Wine of Cardui does regulate derangements that prevent conception; does prevent miscarriage; does restore weak functions and shattered nerves and does bring babies to homes barren and desolate for years. Wine of Cardui gives women the health and strength to bear healthy children. You can get a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your dealer.

WINE OF CARDUI

143 Market Street, Memphis, Tenn., April 14, 1901. In February, 1901, I took one bottle of Wine of Cardui and one package of Givens' Black-Draught. I had never married fifteen years and had never given birth to a child until I took Wine of Cardui. Now I am mother of a fine baby girl which was born March 21, 1901. The baby weighs fourteen pounds and I feel as well as any person could feel. Now my home is happy and I never will be without Wine of Cardui in my house again.

MARYLAND AND SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Celebration at the Charleston Exposition a Great Success.

Tuesday of this week was Maryland Day at the South Carolina and West Indian Exposition, now being held at Charleston S. C. and if we are to believe the reports that come from that beautiful city it was one of the greatest celebrations of the Exposition. A large delegation of Marylanders was on hand to do honor to the occasion, one party headed by Governor Smith and his staff and a delegation of bankers and business men of Baltimore City captained by President Lawrence B. Kemp of the Maryland Bankers' association. The Charlestonians seemed especially pleased with the visit of the distinguished Marylanders and everything possible was done to make their stay thoroughly enjoyable. The keys of the city were turned over and the man with the Maryland badge had access everywhere.

During the ceremonies in the Auditorium at the fair grounds Governor Smith delivered the speech of the day and was frequently applauded by the large audience present. Among other things the Governor said:

"We must treat Cuba with fairness and justice. Whether the rapacity and greed that seek to deprive her of the natural advantages her situation, both political and territorial, should give her, shall have their way, or whether, on the other hand, justice shall be done not only to her, but to our own people, must be left to the patriotism and honesty of Congress.

"The difficulty about the Isthmian canal enterprise seems to be with Congress. The trouble seems to be in getting the great trans-continental railroad companies to give their consent that the canal shall be built at all. They have been playing Nicaragua against Panama, and Panama against Nicaragua, until the people are becoming very tired and disgusted with their selfish opposition.

"The Centennial Exposition commemorated the birth of American freedom. The Columbian Exposition commemorated the discovery of our country and was a remarkable exhibition of the genius and enterprise of the American people, especially of the great West. This Exposition, I believe, will go down in history no less renowned as the distinguishing event which commemorates the birth of a new commercial and industrial era for the South."

The Charleston Post in speaking of the celebration and Maryland Day has this to say:

"Maryland has sent a fine delegation to Charleston to celebrate the State's day at the Exposition. Governor Smith, the head of the visiting party, is a gentleman of distinction aside from the high office he now holds, which would make him welcome at any time to any community and especially to a Southern city, and as Governor of the State of Maryland he finds all doors and all hearts open to him. And the delegation accompanying the Governor is composed of the best of Maryland's sturdy citizenry as he is representative of her highest traditions. They are all, too, including pre-eminent Governor Smith, practical and successful business men, appreciative of energy and prompt to applaud worthy commercial accomplishment. They must, necessarily, therefore, take particular delight in the great Exposition Charleston has produced and be attracted to a community which can accomplish such an undertaking. There has been a close connection between the business men of Charleston and those of Maryland's metropolis for the past few years, something of the kind which prevailed a generation or more ago, and there is every reason why this should be made even closer and more binding. That the visit of the Marylanders to the Exposition will result in making it so is to be expected quite as surely as it is to be desired."

Letter to Thos. H. Mitchell.

Dear Sir: When you build a house you want a good paint next the wood. It goes a long way in taking care of the wood. The paint that has the best chance to be useful is the first coat; first two coats; first three coats. The first takes care of the wood; the second takes care of the first; the third takes care of the two. All three become one; and that one is to last forever. "Forever" means as long as the house lasts. The way to make the first painting last, as long as the house, is to follow it up with repainting often enough.

How often? Depends on the paint. Repaint while the paint is still waterproof. All the wear is outside; there is no wear on the under paint. This is how the first painting lasts forever; by keeping it covered; keeping it sound. And this is the cheapest way to take care of a house. But how often to paint depends on your paint. If you paint lead and oil, paint again in three years or less; if Devco lead and zinc, paint again in three years or more.

That "less" and "more" are about as one to two. Devco lead and zinc takes care of a house at half cost, because it lasts twice as long as lead and oil.

Yours truly,

F. W. Devco & Co.

SHARPTOWN'S READING ROOM.

Current Literature in Demand.

The young men of Sharptown have recently developed into a school of readers. Never in the history of the town has there been such an interest in reading. And so great has become the interest in reading matter that it is carried as a special line. M. H. Bennett & Bro., carry a line of more than fifty different books, periodicals and newspapers with a constantly increasing trade. During the early evening hours the news store purchasing literature for the evening hours. A room has been rented and neatly and tastefully furnished and will accommodate quite a large number. The room is made accessible to all members during the day and early part of the night. When a member is unoccupied or not able to pursue his daily avocation he has a quiet resting place to which he can repair and spend the hours pleasantly. They have certain restrictions governing their conduct and if they are properly guarded it can but prove profitable.

There are no stated meeting hours. A member pays an admission fee of ten cents a week and is then given free access to all the books, periodicals and the comfort and conveniences of the room. Many innocent games are indulged in for amusements only, as no gambling is said to be allowed. An outfit will soon be purchased for physical exercise. The object seems to be for improvement as well as enjoyment. The conduct so far as known is good, no noise or disturbances are allowed at any time, and far as can be observed from outside appearances the best feeling exists among the members and all are looking to advancement.

Epworth League Rally At Sharptown.

On Tuesday night of this week the Sharptown Epworth League Chapter had a rally and will now start out with renewed zeal. The speaker of the evening was Rev. H. C. Turner of Laurel, Del., who has recently been made the president of Salisbury District, which includes all the chapters in the District. His lecture was interesting. He gave his ideas of the kind of Christians needed at present and pointed out some of the duties of the Epworthians. He claimed that the purpose and mission of the League was to train and prepare young people for active Christian work, to make them active and courageous. He closed his remarks by personal reminiscences of his boyhood days. He said the only place he recognized, owing to the many changes and improvements that had been made during the intervening years, was the store building of the late Thos. J. Twilley, which still remains intact, and he wondered where Irving was with whom he had had so many games and fights, when he was a boy and came here with his father from Nanticoke, the place of his birth. Well! Irving, like the Reverend is now a "grown up boy!" as some one has said men are "only grown up boys," and he is holding the same honor and distinction in the moral and mental sphere as the Reverend is in the spiritual and ecclesiastical sphere. Both are reflecting honor upon their native country. He was accompanied by Rev. F. J. Cockran of Laurel who made a short address.

The Epworth League is an important auxiliary to the church here and has done much to interest the young people in religious subjects. It was organized in May 1894. It now has a membership of about eighty members. Regular meetings are held every Sunday evening one hour before preaching. The meetings are led by some member of the chapter and several members take part in the service, reading, speaking, singing and praying. The names of the leaders are published on the top cards with the weekly topics. This greatly aids the work of leading. Every member has a card and the selections are made and printed at the beginning of January and July covering a period of six months.

Neglect Means Danger.

Don't neglect biliousness and constipation. Your health will suffer permanently if you do. DeWitt's Little Early Risers cure such cases. M. B. Smith, Butternut, Mich., says, "DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the most satisfactory pills I ever took. Never gripe or cause nausea."

The salary of Rev. A. S. Mowbray, pastor of Tome Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, Port Deposit, is increased from $1,200 to $1,400 per year.

Wields a Sharp Ax.

Millions marvel at the multitude of maladies cut off by Dr. King's New Life Pills, the most distressing too. Stomach, Liver and Bowel troubles, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, Biliousness, Fever, Malaria, all fall before these wonder workers. 25c at all drug stores.

The Washington County Commissioners have ordered the Tax Collector to bring suit against all who have not paid the mortgage tax. The county revenues from this source amount to $10,000 annually.

A Salisbury Woman Asks

"have you a floor paint that will last two weeks?" Yes we have Devco's; it has a beautiful gloss and will wear two years if properly applied. L. W. Gunby.

MARRIED BUT HAVE NOT MET.

Wedding By Long-Distance 'Phone In Kentucky.

Cincinnati, O.—A Dayton (Ky.) widow and a Hopkinsville man will meet today for the first time after having been married over the long distance telephone charges were $28.

The contracting parties were Mrs. Gertrude Gallagher, a young widow of Dayton, and Theodore Cohen, a merchant of Hopkinsville, Ky. The bride accompanied by her father, a sister and many guests, entered a drug store and requested the use of the telephone. The party took seats around the telephone booth and Rev. R. D. Harding took the receiver from the hook and asked for Hopkinsville, Ky. The bridegroom answered.

The minister propounded the usual questions to the groom, who evidently gave satisfactory answers. The bride was then ushered into the booth and answered the usual questions propounded by the minister at the other end of the line. The ceremony occupied 15 minutes. The courtship had been carried on by correspondence.

MISS BONNIE DELANO

A Chicago Society Lady, in a Letter to Mrs. Pinkham says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Of all the grateful daughters to whom you have given health and life, none are more glad than I.

"My home and my life was happy until I became upon me three years ago. I first noticed it by being irregular and having very painful and scanty menstruation; gradually my general health failed; I could not enjoy my meals; I became languid and nervous, with gripping pains frequently in the groin.

I advised with our family physician who prescribed without any improvement. One day he said, "Try Lydia Pinkham's Remedies." I did, thank God; the next month I was better, and it gradually built me up until in four months I was cured. This is nearly a year ago and I have not had a pain or ache since."—BONNIE DELANO, 3248 Indiana Ave., Chicago, Ill.—$5000 for it if above testimonial is not genuine.

Trustworthy proof is abundant that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saves thousands of young women from dangers resulting from organic irregularity, suppression or retention of the menses, ovarian or womb troubles. Refuse substitutes.

The Union Central Leads All Life Insurance Co's in Dividend Earnings.

Dividends in Life Insurance regulate the cost of the insurance. The company that pays the largest dividends furnishes the cheapest insurance. The company that combines the lowest death rate, the lowest expense rate, and the highest interest rate, pays the largest dividends. The Union Central excels all companies in these points. Nearly 80 per cent of the assets of the Union Central are invested in first mortgage securities, which, during 1901, earned 6.05 per cent. The average interest rate for 20 years is 6.65 per cent. The one particular advantage of mortgage loans as an asset of an insurance company is their non-fluctuating quality—a Wall street broker is not needed to value them.

An ANNUAL DIVIDEND policy is the only contract which gives you the full benefits. You know every year just how your investment stands, and your profits are placed to your credit or given to you in cash.

For further argument in favor of the Union Central we refer you to the two letters which are herewith reproduced. One by Mr. B. H. Kroger, a banker and financier of Cincinnati, O., the other by Gen. J. S. Carr, banker and financier of Durham, N. C. Gen. Carr carries over a million dollars on his life.

Messrs. Williamson & Watts, Cincinnati, Feb. 13th, 1902.
 Baltimore & Eutaw Streets, Baltimore, Md.
 Gentlemen:—In answer to your favor of the 11th. inst. I would say, that I carry $50,000 worth of insurance in the Union Central Life Insurance Company, and I enclose you one of their statements which they sent me this morning.
 I think that this is one of the best managed institutions in the United States and as strong as any of them.
 I feel no hesitancy in recommending you to take out a policy in this company, as the character of men connected with it are the highest class of citizens that we have, and can be absolutely depended upon in every particular.

Very truly yours, B. H. KROGER.

 Dear Sir:—It gives us pleasure to state that the policies which we are carrying in your company, we believe to be among the best we have on our life, and we are carrying the rise of One Million Dollars. We now have in your Company $145,000.00 insurance, and it gives us great pleasure to testify to the fair treatment which we have received at the hands of your company, ever since we have been one of its insured.
 Yours truly, JULIAN S. CARR.

OUR NATIVE PLUMS.

Becoming More Popular Every Year.
 Growing and Marketing.

Native plums are looking up, in the estimation of the horticulturists. Commending them in Rural New Yorker, F. Cranefield of Wisconsin tells how an Iowa man, who has produced many of the best varieties of native plums now on the market, grows them:

As the seedling plum trees are planted six feet apart each way for economy of space and after the second year cultivation is impracticable, the orchards have been heavily mulched. So far this has proved highly satisfactory in all respects. Marsh hay has been largely used for mulching as well as other coarse material free from weed seed. This method has also been employed in the older orchards. It is necessary to renew the mulch once a year in order to keep down weeds and grass.

A space of about 20 by 100 feet was heavily mulched (about four inches) last spring with cinders. This seems to serve the purpose as well as hay in conserving moisture and preventing the growth of weeds and grass. It is probable that a mulch of some sort will prove the best plan for the home plum orchard. The native plum seems to thrive better under this method of culture than other orchard fruits.

Severe thinning is practiced, beginning when danger from curculio is past. The plums at this stage are usually one-fourth to one-third grown and are thinned so that the remaining fruits are about one inch apart. This is somewhat expensive, especially with large trees, but will always prove profitable. Large plums are wanted, and only large plums will sell for a good price. The cut illustrates the benefits derived from thinning.

Mr. Cranefield says the increasing demand for native plums in his local market is gratifying. The fruit was marketed in one-fifth bushel baskets and sold readily for $1.75 per bushel wholesale, and it is quite certain that the best fruits would have brought $2 per bushel if that price had been asked. This was considerable more than peaches brought. The plums were picked from the trees while still firm and sorted before being sent to market. This is a paying operation and if carefully done need not injure the fruit. It is surprising how much the appearance of the baskets may be improved by the rejection of a small percentage of inferior fruit. The culls always sell readily for jelly fruit.

Among varieties Wyant, Forest Garden and Quaker still hold their own for size and quality. Hawkeye and Stoddard are large and attractive, but coarse and sour. Surprise, North Star and Brittlewood are all excellent. Beatty, Smith, Etta, Silas Wilson, Keith and Lottie are some of the newer varieties.

Of the various species of the native plum the Americana group is best adapted to the northwestern states.

Air and Rest For House Plants.

As regards airing the plants, it is perhaps sufficient to say that what in this respect is healthful for human lungs will suit the plants. But do not forget that the plants cannot take a walk on a pleasant day; hence fresh air should frequently be admitted to them from the window. In nature all trees and plants have their seasons of growth and of rest, a principle that must be observed in house plant culture. When therefore any plant, after a period of growth and bloom, shows signs of lessening growth, water also should be somewhat withheld. In a state of rest from growth most kinds can get along with lessened light also, and this we may take advantage of by putting such kinds as fuchsias, oleanders, hydrangeas and scarlet geraniums in a light cellar while growth is suspended. Almost without exception it is best as the end of the resting season approaches, say in late winter, to shake the old soil from the roots and repot the plants in fresh earth.

The Umbrella Plant.

As a window plant for amateurs the umbrella plant, Cyperus alternifolius, offers several advantages. It is nearly as ornamental as a palm, though of much more simple culture and rapid growth. It is comparatively free from insects and will thrive in a sunless window. An abundance of root moisture and the foliage kept free from dust are the prime requisites. The roots should never be allowed to become dry. A very satisfactory method of growing is to pot in rich, alluvial soil and inclose the porous clay pot in a jardiniere of water. Thus the necessary moisture is always at hand, says a correspondent of Meehan's Monthly.

A CLEVER PLAN.

How Ray Township Got Its Good Gravel Roads.

Probably Ray township, in Macomb county, Mich., has the best gravel roads of any township in that state, says H. S. Earle in Good Roads Magazine. This is the result of the efforts of Gil R. Lovejoy, who is such a strong advocate of good roads that he wouldn't be contented until the highways were what they should be.

Mr. Lovejoy prevailed upon the board to buy a gravel pit; then he urged every farmer to haul a load of gravel home every time he passed the pit and put it on the road in front of his own farm.

Once begun, the farmers saw what an improvement gravel is over the annual scraped gravel, worn-out earth. The board then purchased two more pits in different parts of the township and, at the suggestion of Mr. Lovejoy, offered $1 a day to farmers with teams to haul gravel in the winter and place it on one side of the road one winter and on the other side the next.

The first winter the farmers turned out strong, and the town had to pay for 2,700 days' work, which was a big starter.

Each year for several years the township has made an appropriation of from $1,000 to $1,800, and today practically all of the roads of the township are graveled.

This is a cheap but a sure way to get better highways, not, of course, equal to those scientifically built by the use of road machines, but a big improvement over scraping the dust and mud from the ditches into the roadway every year.

BITUMINOUS MACADAM.

It Promises to Make the Best Pavement Ever Invented.

During the past year a new kind of road improvement has been inaugurated which promises to turn out the best and cheapest permanent roadway either for highway or pavement for cities ever yet invented. It has been used in Canada for several years, and with large success at Hamilton, where it is known as "tar macadam." Here it is called "bituminous macadam" and has been improved and given a very durable form.

During the past season well on to 100,000 square yards have been laid in different New England cities and in some cities of the middle states and middle west. Just recently a contract was awarded an Ohio pavement company for laying three miles of this bituminous pavement on the state road in Cuyahoga county, leading out of Cleveland, at an expense of $90,000.

Wherever it has been laid, either in this country or in Canada, it is said to have given unvarying satisfaction. The manner in which it has been laid in the New England cities has given it a permanent form which is likely to make it one of the strong competitors of the asphalt trust, for it is as smooth as asphalt, more elastic, less noisy and promises to be more durable and more easily kept in repair, although costing about half the price per cubic yard of sheet asphalt. In New Bedford, Lowell, Somerville, Cambridge, Holyoke and other places where it has been laid it has given the utmost satisfaction.

State Commissioner Needed.

What is needed by our people in the matter of public roads are education and agitation, with a view to securing the appointment by the next legislature of a commissioner of public roads, says the Goldsboro (N. C.) Argus. Such a man must be a competent man. He must not only know a good road when he sees it, but he must be able to build a good road. He must also be a man who can talk to the people, who can tell county commissioners how to place bonds—an educator, in fact. He must visit every county in the state at least twice a year. In order to secure a competent man he must be paid a living salary—say $2,500 a year, or about $28 a county. And such a man will be well worth to any county many times that sum each and every year.

What Good Roads Will Bring.

We need good schools in our country districts, but we cannot have them without good roads; we need better church privileges in the country, but we cannot have them without good roads; we need better social advantages in the country, but we cannot have them without good roads; we need more accessible markets for country produce, but we cannot have them without good roads.—General Roy Stone.

Connecticut's Highway Commission.

Connecticut has a highway commission which co-operates with the towns and counties in the construction of fine roads. This commission has spent annually over $400,000 since 1895 in the building and maintaining of new roads. The funds for constructing the public roads are furnished by the state, county and town, the first supplying one-half now, although formerly it was responsible for only a third.

Good Roads and Free Delivery.

According to a western paper, land in its section, along one of the newly established rural free postal delivery routes, has increased from $2 to $5 per acre. This is another argument in favor of extending rural free delivery, and it is indirectly an argument in favor of good roads.—Saratoga (N. Y.) Saratogian.

Not a Matter of Sentiment.

Road improvement is no longer a matter of sentiment, but is a question of ways and means, and scarcely a taxpayer in country or city grumbles at fair appropriations for this purpose.

CONDITION OF OUR FOREIGN COMMERCE.

A reduction of 59 millions in exports and an increase of 79 millions in imports do not seem to discourage the Chief of the Bureau of Statistics with reference to the condition of the foreign commerce of the United States.

"I do not see that there is the slightest cause for anxiety," said Mr. Austin. "It is true that the value of our exports in the nine months ending with March is 59 millions less than in the corresponding months of last year. Yet the causes of the reduction in the export figures are so clearly due to abnormal and temporary conditions that the falling off does not indicate a decrease in the popularity of American products abroad or a reduction in the demand for them. On the contrary, I think we may consider ourselves very fortunate that our export figures held up as well as they did."

"The chief reduction in our exports," continued Mr. Austin, "can be traced to the destruction of our corn crop by the drouth of last year. Corn has become so important a factor in our export trade, both in its natural state and in the condensed form of beef and pork, that a loss of one-fourth or one-third of the enormous crop means a great reduction in the surplus. In the last four years the exportation of corn has averaged about 200,000,000 bushels per annum. In the present fiscal year it will not amount to one-fifth of that quantity. In the nine months ending with March, 1902, the exportation of corn amounted to only 24 million bushels in the corresponding months of last year. These are the preliminary figures, but they do not differ much from the completed figures which we shall have a fortnight hence. The value of the corn and corn meal exported in the past nine months was but 15 million dollars, against 69 millions in the corresponding months of the preceding year."

"But that is not all the effect of the loss of the corn crop. The shortage of corn at home has compelled many farmers to use a larger share of oats in the feed of their live stock, and as a result the value of the exportation of oats and oat meal in the 8 months just ended was but 41-2 millions, against 91-2 millions in the same months of last year. In these two items of corn and oats, in which the reduction is wholly due to the drouth of last year, the exportations have fallen 57 million dollars, while the total reduction in the value of all exports is but 59 millions."

"Another item which shows a material reduction in value of exports is cotton, yet this is wholly due to a fall in price abroad and not to a reduction in the quantity exported. On the contrary, exports have increased materially in quantity, although the value has fallen."

The total exportation of cotton in the 9 months ending with March was 3,074,568,421 pounds, against 2,740,568,107 pounds in the same months of last year. This is an increase of 334 million pounds; yet, owing to the reduction in price, the value is actually 13 million dollars less than in the same months of last year, the figures for the 9 months just ended being 251 million dollars, against 264 millions in the same months of last year."

—The prospect of the Democrats carrying the next House of Representatives is exceedingly bright and grows brighter every day. The Democrats all over the country are rapidly getting together while the dissensions in the Republican ranks are sure to cause the party to suffer severely at the coming election.

Mr. Richardson, the Democratic leader in the House of Representatives, recently said: "The Democratic party is now as solid and as aggressive as it ever has been. We are going to carry the next House by a handsome majority. That victory, which is anticipated here on every hand, will simply pave the way for a Democratic victory in the ensuing presidential campaign. No; I repeat, there is no division among the Democrats. Party men needn't be crying 'harmony'. We already have that among us, and we are at present in splendid shape."

How She Served the Cream.

A suburban woman, entertaining rather hastily at luncheon the other day and having only vanilla ice cream at her command, cleverly adapted the potted plant service of city caterers with the resources within her reach. There was no greenhouse in the town, but there was a cemetery, and from the gardener in charge a dozen unused tiny earthen pots were procured. These were carefully washed and dried and fitted with a lining of oiled paper. Into each then the vanilla cream was packed, and chocolate was grated thickly over the top to simulate earth and a little sprig of maidenhair fern thrust in the center. They were served on plates, with fern leaves laid loosely around the base, and were received with great admiration by the guests.—New York Post.

Strenuous Vamberg.

Professor Vamberg, who has just celebrated his seventieth birthday, is a German Jew, Vamberg being the Magyarized form of Bamberger. He has a voice like a trumpet and a limp in one of his legs, the relic of a wound which he received during the Hungarian revolution. After that he tramped to Constantinople and lived for a long time among the poorer classes of the city, where he acquired a thorough knowledge of the language and character of the Turk. Then, in the disguise of a dervish and with the daring of a Burton, he visited Persia, Kibira, Bokhara and Samarkand, his astonishing doings being all set down in his "Life Adventures." On his return he was appointed professor of oriental languages at Budapest.

Memorial Church Windows.

G. R. Sims, the English playwright and novelist, has entered a protest against depicting the features of Dr. Johnson in a memorial window representing "Christ and the Doctors" to be placed in a London church. He says: "If once we begin introducing modern celebrities into sacred history, where are we going to stop? We shall have a pro-Boer philanthropist presenting his particular church with a stained glass window in which Judas Iscariot will be represented with the features (and the eyeglass) of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain."

How Sklenkiewicz Writes.

It is said that no editor engaged in publishing a serial story by Sklenkiewicz ever received the whole manuscript of a novel from him at once. Of his long historical romances he never wrote more at a time than the paper published in one day. He is given to sending in installments of two pages each. Novel writing stirs up all his nerves, and while it is in progress he goes restlessly wandering from country to country.

Slowly Developed.

"From the creation of the world to the beginning of the seventeenth century," says a French writer on the history of table customs and manners, "man ate with his fingers." And to think that the sentiment of neatness, which was the principal cause of the invention of the implements and dishes used in serving food and in eating, should have been so slow of development!

BOUGS GETS HIS LIBERTY.

Notorious Bank Defaulter Set Free From Penitentiary on Friday.

William N. Boggs, who was sentenced on May 10th, 1899, to five years' imprisonment in the New Jersey State Penitentiary, at Trenton, for misappropriating the funds of the First National Bank of Dover, of which he was teller, will be released today, Friday, President Roosevelt having commuted the sentence.

Boggs disappeared from Dover, May 29th, 1897, and announcement that he was a defaulter was printed June 4th. The bank directors met July 14th, and reported that the defalcation amounted to $107,000. Boggs surrendered to the United States authorities in Wilmington February 19th, 1898, and was indicted two months later. He was arraigned and pleaded guilty April 21st, but, in order that he might testify against others charged with being implicated in the defalcation, was not sentenced until May 10th, 1899.

Boggs will go to Philadelphia, where it is said, he will be given a clerical position.

"Nufangl"

(ADJUSTABLE) TROUSERS

HAVE YOU TWO LEGS? HAVE YOU TWO EYES? IF YOU'RE NOT BLIND

I want you to look at the above cut which advertises a new kind of pants for men. A pair of pants is the one garment of a man's outward attire that is worn a greater part of the day than any other, and its fit and appearance are therefore to be considered the most important. These pants are called "THE NUFANGL TROUSERS." These pants are adjustable at the waist by an opening at each side of the garments and these openings are controlled by a snap clasp with two studs, the normal measurement being at the one or outer stud. From this the garment can be taken in over an inch on each side, or left entirely open to give that additional room, making a total difference from minimum to maximum measurements of nearly five inches. As the waist is made smaller, the front and back of pants are telescoped together, an equal amount of cloth being taken from both sides, and the surplus entirely disappears underneath. The inconvenient buckle strap is entirely done away with, giving a graceful appearance to the back of the pants. These trousers can be worn with suspenders or belt, or without the assistance of either. There is only one firm in the United States that manufacture these pants. They have a patent, and though on sale for less than a year, have met with a reception so complimentary, and a verdict of success so distinct and unanimous, that in some sections pants of the old kind are things of the past. They are made in Chicago and Lacy Thoroughgood has the exclusive sale of these pants for Salisbury. Call and see them.

Abandoned Churches.
The Brooklyn Eagle says that within a radius of ten blocks of The Eagle office there are twelve abandoned churches. In some instances the buildings are still standing, but are given over to other purposes. In one case what was a "sacred edifice" is an auction store. In another a bicycle rink. In another a stable. In another a tenement house, and so on. In half a dozen cases the buildings are standing idle, dilapidated, forlorn, neglected, with signs of "For Sale" upon them. The population in the same area is greater than it has been at any time in the history of the city.

THE LOVING CUP.

An Interesting Legend That Tells How It Originated.

Once upon a time, centuries before us, there lived a great and powerful king who was extremely fond of hunting. He was one day in a forest pursuing a stag, but it was so fleet and clever that it eluded him and his band of followers and led them entirely out of their way. After wandering about in a hopeless fashion they finally came upon a little hut, and the king himself dismounted and rapped smartly upon the door.

A young girl answered his knock and soon showed the men the right path. The king was about to go, when he saw a well near the house, and at the sight of the clear water immediately felt thirsty, and, going back, asked the girl for a drink. Without hesitation she went into the house and came out with an earthen jug filled with the well water. But instead of offering his royal majesty the drink, as most people would do, she held that herself and handed him the cup the wrong way.

The king said nothing, thanked

is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are exactly akin to the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach churn is "sour" it scours all which is put into it? The evil of a foul stomach is not the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of the blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every taint or corrupting ele-

Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets superior to pills?" Our answer is: They are easier and more pleasant to take, more reliable as they in effect and more reliable as they can always be depended upon. Then they cleanse and invigorate the stomach and leave the bowels in a natural condition, while pills are more harsh in effect and their use is often followed by constipation. For sale by R. K. Truitt & Son.The contract has been let for the giving the patient strength by build-

WEST.

On Thursday of last week, April 17th our pastor, Rev. Frank S. Cain and wife, returned to us for the third year, and we are sure they will not soon forget the reception given them. As soon as they came in sight, they were welcomed with an old time serenade after which they were invited to the dining room, where they found the table loaded with the delicacies of the season to which sixty three persons did ample justice. After supper was over the evening was spent in social conversation interspersed with music and speeches. About 10 p. m. we wended our ways home feeling truly thankful to have Mr. and Mrs. Cain with us for another year. To prove our thankfulness we left a good supper in the larder for their use in the future.

Collins Released.

The Sumner County Court last Friday under habeas corpus proceedings released Elmer Collins, who had been lodged in the Georgetown jail, suspected of murdering his wife Saturday 18th inst., bail being fixed at $500. Jacob, father, and James E. Collins, father-in-law of Collins, were the bondsmen. The Court thought there were grounds to doubt the accusation.

Collins made no statement in the habeas corpus proceedings. Several neighbors, related the facts previously reported, of finding the body, hatchet and iron bar. Mrs. Collins' throat was probably cut with a knife. Collins told the detective he never owned a penknife, but two witnesses said they had seen Collins with a penknife, one as late as February. These points were about the only ones not before brought out.

Wednesday Governor Hanna offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension of Mrs. Collins' murderer.

BOOM IN CAMDEN REAL ESTATE.

Large Body of Land Divided into Building Lots.

With this issue our town subscribers will receive as a supplement, a Plat of the above property, which includes the land lying between Camden Avenue, and Jackson Avenue, and between Tilghman Street and the city limits. The elevation and location of this property are such as to make it especially desirable for residences and homes; when it is remembered that the temperature during the "Dog Days" of summer seems by reason of the breeze there generally prevailing, several degrees below that of the business part to town. In laying out the subdivision the owners have adopted the modern idea of giving large lots and wide street proper, including a strip on each side of fifteen feet in width, of which ten feet is to be devoted to lawn and shade trees, leaving five feet inside the lawn for side walk; thus making the street really sixty feet in width, instead of the thirty foot streets generally in use. The lots are 50 feet wide, and from 113 to 185 feet deep and on many of them are fruit trees (including apple, pear, peach and cherry trees), and grape vines.

The prices we understand will range from $175 to $400 a lot according to location, which, considering the advantages they offer would seem to be extremely reasonable, while the special terms of payment named, are such that there is no need of a purchaser ever forfeiting his lot even though he should die before getting it paid for. The hedge on the south and east sides of the subdivision are being grubbed out as they come in the way of the street, and boulevards and streets are to be opened up at once, preparatory to the planting of Norway and Sugar Maples along the boulevards. They will be set twenty feet apart in the middle of the ten feet strip above mentioned, and it takes some six hundred trees, which have already been contracted for. When the subdivision is in the shape contemplated it will be one of the most attractive residential portions of our city.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West.

Coming Thursday May 8th. The big Wild West Show is going to visit us with its hundreds of men and horses. The exhibition will be a thrilling one, calculated to stir the blood of even frontier men, and will consist of reproductions of daring deeds of the far west together with novelties of a high order. Indians, Cossacks, Arabs, Cowboys, Japanese, Mexicans, Gauchos, Daring Lady Equestrians in heroic pastimes, on foot and in the saddle. Champion rifle and pistol shots, adepts with the bow and arrow, the spear and bolus, and as a special feature those strange people, the Bushmen from Australia. A word about them may not be amiss: The Australian Boomerang Throwers and Black Trackers are the lowest order of the human family—a people that have no fixed abode or marriage ceremony, do not bury their dead or till the soil, wear little or no clothing, just one step above the animal kingdom, but possessed of a secret power of controlling the missile of primitive man, known as the "Come Back" Boomerang, universally regarded as the most peculiar and weird weapon in existence for the wonderful skill exhibited in its invention and construction, the origin of its shape and diversity of distribution, its remarkable power of returning to the thrower when it has achieved its course, after performing extraordinary evolutions and its survival to the present day.

The startling street parade takes place at 10 a. m.

New Road Completed.

The Queen Anne's Railroad Company has completed its road from Queens-town to Love Point, and trains are now running over the extension on schedule time. It is claimed by the company that by this extension the time of transit between Baltimore and Rehoboth and Cape May can be reduced by one hour, as at Love Point connection is made with the steamer for Baltimore instead of at Queenstown as heretofore. Local travel, mail facilities, and the trucking industry in that section will also be greatly benefited as well as the crabbing and oyster industries, by this additional mileage.

On Kent Island an excursion resort is to be laid out, the railroad company controlling a large tract of land at this point. Contractors are now making up their estimates on the work to be done.
