RESCUED FROM WATERS

Of The Wicomico. Mr. Fred. A. Grier Performs Act Of Heroism.

Salisbury has another young hero who is entitled to a Carnegie medal for saving the life of a drowning man in the person of Mr. A. Grier Jr., who at the risk of losing his life in the Wicomico River, Saturday afternoon jumped in and rescued a man he had never seen before, after he had disappeared from the surface for the third time.

Mr. Grier was working in his machine shop when he heard the cry of "Man overboard" coming from the opposite side of the river. Rushing down to the side of the wharf he saw a man struggling in the water. Without hesitation he plunged in and remained under the water until he had fished the almost lifeless form of the man fast going to the bottom. He brought the man to the surface and held on to him until a plank was pushed off from the shore and both were drawn ashore. The unfortunate man was Arlie Smullen, of Fritland, an employee of Benjamin and Graham Co., who in some manner fell from the wharf of the B. C. and A. Railway.

When pulled ashore young Smullen was almost lifeless, but by the heroic efforts of F. A. Grier and several others he was resuscitated. Young Smullen was profuse in his thanks to his rescuer. After reviving sufficiently to go home, Chief of Police Disharoon sent him to Fritland.

VOTE IS STILL 65 TO 64

Favor Of Gorman. Official Returns Thus Far Received Indicate No Change.

The Supervisors of Elections in each of the twenty three counties of the State and in Baltimore City Thursday began their official canvass of the primary election returns. It will take several days to complete this work in Baltimore City, but it is completed in most of the counties.

Nothing developed in the count to indicate any change in the result and the vote for the gubernatorial nomination still stands at 65 to 64 in favor of Senator Gorman.

It is not known whether any attempt will be made by Senator Lee to contest the election. He is saying nothing at this time, and will not say anything until the official count is in. It is not thought however, that he is seriously contemplating a contest or that he has any desire to make any trouble for his party. He is simply waiting for the official count, and is making no change in the result, it is believed that he will be among the first to offer his congratulations to Mr. Gorman. He was at his office in the Union Trust Building, at Baltimore, Thursday and seemed in an exceedingly cheerful frame of mind. Certainly he is not crying over spilled milk, and he seems neither cast down nor depressed at the way things have gone.

The official count in Harford County has been delayed by the sealing up of the returns and the sheets of the two precincts of Havre de Grace in the ballot boxes, and the politicians of the county were considerably exercised over the possibility of the vote of the precincts being thrown out. The supervisors adjourned until Saturday, by which time it is hoped to have an order from Judge Burke directing the opening of the boxes. A similar case occurred in Somerset County, the returns for Deale Island district having been sealed up.

Norman Richardson Dead.

Mr. Norman Richardson, aged 34 years, passed away Monday evening about six o'clock at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sewell H. Richardson, after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. The young man was stricken with this dread malady not quite two years ago and spent several months at the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium in the hope of being benefited, but the disease had made such progress that nothing could be done for him. He returned home several months ago.

Deceased was quite a popular young man, and leaves a large circle of young friends who mourn his early demise. He is survived by his father and mother, three brothers, William, of Baltimore, Harvey and Vaughn, and one sister, Miss Lola Richardson, all of this city. Funeral services were conducted at his home Wednesday afternoon, the interment being in Parsons Cemetery.

MARCELLUS DENNIS'

Death At The Old Homestead Near Whiton. A High Type Of Citizen.

The death of Mr. Marcellus Dennis, at the home of his son near Powellsville, removed a well known and highly respected resident of Wicomico County. He was seventy three years of age, having been born in 1838. He was the son of the late Littleton Q. Dennis and Betsy Oatis Dennis, the former being an aristocratic gentleman of the old school and the latter a member of the well known Oatis family of Virginia. Most of his life had been spent near Whiton and he died at the old homestead where his father died about thirty years ago. Mr. Dennis had been a member of the Methodist Protestant Church more than forty years, laboring faithfully for what he conceived its best interests.

He had been a life long Democrat, and he had served the people of Wicomico County as Judge of the Orphans Court and in various other capacities. Mr. Dennis was a staunch citizen of the best type and acted fearlessly for the right as he saw it. His wife was Laura Powell Dennis, who died about two years ago. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. John Webb, Mrs. William Clayville, Mrs. Henry W. Jones, and Messrs. Napoleon, Norman, Edgar, Austin, John and Lawrence Dennis. He is survived also by two brothers: Mr. John Dennis, of near St. Martins, and Mr. Washington E. Dennis, of Berlin. Miss Amanda Elizabeth Dennis, of Berlin, is sister of the deceased.

Statement By Mr. White.

Mr. S. King White, one of the candidates for County Treasurer made the following statement in regard to the result of Tuesday's primaries:

"All I ever asked in this campaign was for the people to soberly weigh the importance of an office which handles each year over $100,000 of the public's money, and after giving it due consideration to vote for the man most capable of properly administering its affairs. By their votes on Tuesday they have decided upon Mr. Cannon as the proper man to nominate. It would not be becoming in me to criticize their judgement or challenge their decision. They were the judges and I bow to their verdict."

"I had many loyal friends in every section of the county and to these I desire to express my sincere thanks for their confidence and support."

"To Mr. Cannon, I extend my congratulations and the hope that if elected, his administration will be successful in every way."

—At Bethesda Methodist Protestant Church Rev. Dr. Reigart will preach on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. D. P. Sandell will preach in the evening at 8 o'clock. Sabbath School 9:30 a. m. Christian Endeavor service 7:15 p. m. Mid week service Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

TUESDAY'S PRIMARY

Battle. Hot Fight Everywhere. Trading Was General.

Tuesday's Primary fight or fight will go down in the history of politics in this county as one of the hottest propositions ever seen at the polls here. The younger generation has long been thrilled by the stories, told them by their elders, of the great fight of '91, they now have a chance to get even for Tuesday's fight marks another red letter day in the politics of this County.

Almost from the beginning the primary campaign was one of bluff and misrepresentation, intrigue and manipulation, coercion and intimidation. All of these reached their climax around the polls on Tuesday and had then a fitting end in deceit and double dealing. When uncovered at the polls many found foes in trusted friends. In every district in the county, the war of ballots was carried, and in each of these the hauling and pulling, sifting and being sifted went merrily on. The envelope system of voting with the open marking of the ballots on the outside gave the workers the chance to play the game and see that the voter who could be persuaded or coerced or intimidated to vote the way desired did not trick them at the last moment. The fight was one of many sides and many phases and resulted in many surprises to all parties concerned—especially to the uninitiated.

The biggest surprise sprung on some of the leaders and that might have cost Gorman the State was the fight on the State ticket which started early in the day. It was generally supposed that Senator Gorman would have a walkover in this county and consternation reigned when the leaders found the Lee fight so strong on their hands in the city districts. Added to this was the fact that the same fight was being waged in every district of the county. Rush orders were sent out in every direction by the Gorman supporters telling their lieutenants to get busy and fight it off. Most of these had their hands already full with other fights, and these suffered at once by the attention that the State ticket demanded. The fight in the city districts on this question was close but, the outlying districts had not been so well organized by the Lee forces, these giving the county to Gorman by an unexpected small but safe majority of 480.

The fight for State's Attorney between Geo. W. Bell and A. M. Jackson was probably the most hotly contested one of the day. The same lines were drawn in this fight were drawn in the legislative fight between Taylor and Shookley. Jackson and Shookley were both out in the hands of their supposed friends especially, was Bell true in Parsons District. Mr. Bell won for State's Attorney by a narrow margin, while Taylor was victorious in the legislative end by a larger lead.

The fight over the County Treasurer was another fight in which there was general interest and considerable feeling. This fight further complicated the general situation as those leading the fight were tied up with other propositions. Mr. Cannon, the successful candidate, backers were however for him over and above all else, and in the generally trading were able to make deals with others whose greater interest was in one of the other fights. Cannon, Bell and Taylor were run in some districts by the workers, while in others, Cannon, Jackson and Shookley were used.

The County Commissioners ticket received less attention at the hands of the workers than the rest of the ticket, there being but little fight made in any section against either White or Ward, while to a certain extent the third man was allowed to drift of itself.

In the judicial fight Judge Toedvin made a remarkable run in this county showing him to be as successful as he was claimed by his friends almost the unanimous choice of his fellow Democrats in this county. Regret is general that he was slaughtered in the other counties of the Judicial District. In this county he received 2816 out of a total of 2711 votes cast giving him a majority of 105.

The successful candidates in the primaries follow:

Governor—Arthur Poe Gorman.

Comptroller—Emerson C. Harrington.

State Senator—Jesse D. Price.

House of Delegates—John F. Phillips, Joseph Frazier, John E. Taylor.

County Treasurer—Daniel B. Cannon.

County Commissioners—William E. Ward, Thos. W. H. White, Jr., Manlius K. Morris.

Surveyor—Peter S. Shookley.

County Commissioner Ward received the most flattering vote all over the county and he should feel proud that his record as Commissioner appealed so to the people at large.

—Mr. Fred Williams, of Atlanta, Ga., is spending several days with relatives and friends in this city.

A STRONG CANDIDATE.

Senator Gorman Realizes The Responsibility Of A Governor. Earnest And Resourceful.

Sen. Gorman, following his nomination, talks soberly of the future and plainly as to the measures he will advocate. In doing this he shows a self-reliance which is convincing of his purpose and a zeal which indicates his earnestness.

In the beginning he recognizes that the blame for failure will rest largely on him.

He says:

"Battle Will Not Lag."

"A vigorous fight for Democratic supremacy will be waged. It will be an educational campaign along progressive and constructive lines. My public experience has taught me many things about internal State affairs and my investigations convince me that sufficient revenue can be raised to bring down the direct tax rate to a point which will secure relief to the great mass of tax payers. I am convinced that all improvements can go forward systematically, without a single move backward and still have a direct tax rate at or about sixteen cents on the $100. I have in mind some ways which will make this possible, but it might not be the best policy to tell them in advance of the formation of the State platform."

A Factor In Platform Building.

"In the preparation of this document, I propose to be a factor. On each plank I will pass judgement and will leave my suggestion for future State welfare to the combined wisdom of the party in the convention."

"This platform will unequivocally state our position, and on it I will go before the voters. There will be no retrogressive plank, or reactionary policy. It will be as clean-cut and plain as experience and counsel can make it."

To Ask Business Interests.

"The business interest of the city and State will be consulted on many of the policies which I think can be safely made to become revenue producers. In seeking this aid I have in mind the purpose of doing no one injury. I want the advice of those engaged in advancing the material welfare of the State as to the best methods of having my views adopted. I want no interruption to progress, neither do I want special interests protected. It is not a difficult problem when properly approached."

"I am familiar with the State's finances. I made of them a close study as chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. At the same time I had opportunity then to realize that there are sources of revenue which had not been wholly availed of. All this I will make plain to the business men I will consult, and will then be ready to go before the convention with my suggestions."

Direct Tax For Public Schools.

"The whole of the direct tax should go to the support of the public schools. This is one policy firmly fixed in my mind. A capable and efficient school system is one of the best assets of the State, and I am heartily in favor of its improvement. I want it said that Maryland has the best public school system in the country. With a direct tax of sixteen cents always available we can have better paid teachers, hence more capable ones. The results to the pupils are obvious."

No Backward Step There.

"Good roads is another matter on which there should be no backward step. When elected it will be my aim to see there is none. But I am convinced that the road building can be carried on more economically. I want the people of the several sections of the State to have more say as to the needs of their localities and a greater voice as to the material used in road construction."

"I believe much can be saved, without sacrifice to efficiency, by using material near at hand for the purpose and not hauling long distances and at great cost the stone and other constituents used in road making."

Favors Utilities Bill.

"I favor the Public Utilities Bill. My policy in regard to corporations is an open book. I recognize them as necessary, but I have always and will continue to oppose them when they seek to encroach on the rights of the masses. We cannot do big things without big corporations of brain and capital. But we can curb them when too aggressive and when they seek to control and not to follow the public will. A corporation as a public servant is capable of upholding the community; a corporation as an antagonist is inconceivable in Democratic government."

"The Seven Devils of Salisbury" is the topic of Mr. Hewitt's sermon on Sunday evening at the Division Street Baptist Church. A large choir and an orchestra of several pieces will assist in the service. Regular services at 11 A. M.; Sunday School at 9:45; Young People's Meeting at 7:15 P. M.

FLIRTING DOES NOT REST

Mind, She Says. Woman Physician Declares It Is Productive Of Worry And Wrinkles.

"Flirting does not rest the mind; on the contrary, it causes agitation and wrinkles, and aside from its moral aspect, should not be practiced under any circumstances."

This is Dr. Maudie Glasgow's, of New York, reply to Miss Annie Newell, the Boston school teacher, who recently said that a little harmless flirting with the right sort of people would do much to rest the tired mind.

"I can't imagine what that school teacher must have meant by 'flirting,'" Dr. Glasgow continued. "I cannot condone the act, and do not see how any self-respecting woman with the full knowledge of the definition of the word could, either. Does she mean to say that pretending to care for some one you do not like at all, merely for the pleasure of being admired, is honorable? Mock love, that is what flirting means, and it cannot possibly have any advantages."

"Now if she had said coquetting, that inherent charm in every woman, she would have been right. Every woman is a natural coquette, and why shouldn't she be? I believe a woman should never lose her interest in men; she should always be at her best when near them—especially her husband."

"As for the 'live-wire' part of the advice of Miss Newell, I think that is very good. It is the woman who has been a 'live-wire' all her life that holds the man she marries, besides attracting the right man in the beginning."

"Woman is instinctively modest, natural, honorable and upright. Trying to make herself the thing men want her to be has caused her to flirt, to be coquette and dress and conduct herself after the fashion she knows will attract him. Man thinks he is the pursuer as well as the pursued; as a matter of fact, he is neither where a woman is concerned."

"Women marry because it is expected of them, and often accept inferior men because they haven't the patience to wait for the right one. If a woman had the choosing of her husband and mate, and followed her natural instinct, she would not be content with any but the best to be the father of her children."

"Women ought to rely for their dresses, bonnets and husband on their natural instinct; they would never go amiss. As it is, they rely on fashion for their gowns and hearsay for their husbands; that is why they often marry flirts and become flirts themselves, if they are not careful."

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for Circulars, free.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Plenty of Them in Salisbury And Good Reason For It.

Wouldn't any woman be happy. After years of backache suffering, Days of misery, nights of unrest, The distress of urinary troubles, She finds relief and cure?

No reason why any Salisbury reader Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. L. Wells, 410 Martin Street, Salisbury, Md., says: "I have had no cause to worry about the condition of my kidneys since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble more than two years ago. I think more highly of this remedy now than I ever did and I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of it. I was in poor health for six months, being weak and run down. Rheumatic pains in my shoulders bothered me and my head ached nearly all the time. I also had dizzy spells. Before I had finished the contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I obtained at White and Leonard's Drug Store, I felt better and it did not take them long to give me entire relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Now you want to know how and why this saving is especially made for you only at KING'S.

We are by far the largest shippers of horses, mares and mules in our own State of Maryland, which must make us the largest buyers, necessarily at lowest wholesale prices—which means a profit cut off, which YOU SAVE.

We own all of the buildings and ground we occupy; therefore we don't have any high rents to pay—which is another expense cut off, which YOU SAVE.

We are close to you, and expensive transportation is another item—again YOU SAVE.

This is only one branch of this immense establishment, and we don't have to depend entirely on it for we have in connection the largest combined Haring and Livery Department, Carriage Department, Wagon and Harness Manufacturing Department in the world. So there is a SAVING the small dealer cannot afford.

We appreciate your patronage and always have on hand in Baltimore—so close to your home—about 600 HORSES AND MULES. $50 to $100—$100 to $150 up and commencing at 10.00 A. M. The Delightful Sense Of Security

YOU would not hide your money in an old stocking or in an old tin box, because the eternal question of security, the constant anxiety lest it be found and stolen, and that uncomfortable and disagreeable suspicion of your fellow-men would make life unbearable. But very often the average business man is too careless in selecting a safe depository for his working capital; too often he is satisfied to hand his money to the bank teller and trust that it is safely guarded against fire and burglars.

THE PENINSULA TRUST COMPANY has recognized this demand for the highest kind of protection, and keenly feels its obligation to its depositors to guard absolutely against liability of such loss. Its eight-ton Mosler-Corlies steel safe is the latest model of a type that has defied the ingenuity of the most clever cracksmen—it has never been burglarized, and fire makes absolutely no impression upon it. We take pleasure in showing this financial fortress to visitors; it is the only one on the Eastern Shore.

FOR WIVES.
Never allow hirelings to tend your husband in what concerns his bodily welfare.
See that his clothes are ready each day and bedding the season of the year.

Assume the qualities of a barometer that you may foresee the electric disturbances which visit every marriage.
When your husband is in a bad temper don't develop similar symptoms, but when he is merry imitate him unfailingly.
Don't fondle him before meal-time. Kisses to a hungry man are as soap bubbles to a parched throat.

Use your tongue only in agreement. Disapproval is best expressed with the eyes.
If your husband has the gout don't insist on walking.
If you wish to convince him that you are a better actress than Bernhardt and a sprightlier dancer than Pavlova show him that you are a better cook than Escoffier.

A wife's duties are, among others, to smooth over domestic tiffs—a man never admits he is in the wrong—to attend to the household finances and to have an eye for the week after next.
Finally, never lose sight of the fact, in making all these sacrifices, that, if man supports the family, woman is his superior in far more ways than he is hers.—Georgette Le Blanc.

CONSTANT SORROW.

To Sorrow
I bade good morrow
And thought to leave her far away behind,
But cheerily, cheerily,
She loves me dearly;
She is so constant to me and so kind,
I would deceive her
And so leave her.
But, ah, she is so constant and so kind!
—Kents.

BITS OF WISDOM.

Drawing is speaking to the eye; talking is painting to the ear.—Joubert.

For we that live to please must please to live.—Johnson.

That is the bitterest of all—to wear the yoke of your own wrongdoing.—George Elliot.

No inheritance can supply the want of a virtuous education.—Thomas Wilson.

It is by presence of mind in untold emergencies that the native metal of a man is tested.—Lowell.

When men are pure laws are useless; when men are corrupt laws are broken.—Disraeli.

PUBLICITY.

Publicity for the legitimate corporation spells prosperity, in my opinion. By publicity I mean that business corporations should not conceal the records of their transactions, but should make them public and should at all times deal fairly and frankly with their stockholders and the public in general. In the last few years the American public has lost many millions of dollars through swindling operations in imaginary enterprises, bucket shops and get-rich-quick schemes generally, prompted by alluring advertisements and circulars. If the investors had had opportunity to know the real financial condition of these companies and their business methods their savings would not have been lost. Instead their money would have been put into legitimate business corporations.—Attorney General Wickham.

SENTENCE SERMONS.

The noblest question in the world is, "What good may I do in it?"—Benjamin Franklin.

No definition of religion satisfies us except that which declares that it is the completion of the life of man.—Phillips Brooks.

If you find yourself beginning to love any pleasure better than your prayers, any book better than the Bible, any house better than the house of God, any table better than the Lord's table, any person better than Christ, or any indulgence better than the hope of heaven, take alarm.—Thomas Guthrie.

The thing we long for that we are
For one transcendent moment.
—Lowell.

We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths; in feelings, not in figures on a dial.
—Baileys.

A Dreadful Sight.

to H. J. Barnum, of Freeville, N. Y., was the fever-sore that had plagued his life for years in spite of many remedies had tried. At last he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve and wrote: "It has entirely healed with scarcely a scar left." Heals Burns, Boils, Erysipelas, Ulcers, Swelling, Corns and Piles like magic. Only 25c at All Druggists.

THOUGHTS ON WOMEN.
She was good as she was fair.
None—none on earth above her.
As pure in thought as angels are.
To know her was to love her.
—Rogers.

Four things greater than all things are—Women and horses and power and war.
—Kipling.

You must treat the public as you treat women—you must tell them nothing but what you know they would like to hear.—Goethe.

Women have been growing so much of late that they are finding men capable of being mates of both heart and brain.—Ellen Terry.

CAFFEINE IN SODA.

Caffeine, which is being used so generally by unscrupulous soft drink dispensers, should be driven from the market by law. Its effects, especially on young people, compare with the effect of cocaine and morphine. I could not venture an opinion on the yearly number of little children whose lives are ruined by the use of caffeine and other "dopes" which are hidden in soda water glasses. The number is frightful. The same is true of grownup folks. Of course their systems are calculated to withstand the ravages of these insidious "dopes" better than children.—Dr. H. W. Wiley.

THE MIST.

I fall—I fold
The hill, the world,
In closely clinging, cool embraces.
I bathe the lifted flower faces,
I spread the lawn with fairy lace,
And show all nature filmy and stole.

I foam—I float,
A writhing boat
Among the mere side's long, lush grasses.
In torn and fringed fluttering masses
I glide down the birchen passes—
A gray old Lear in tattered coat.

I wind—I breathe
A lattice-breath
Between its bars—presage the morning—
Stir beauty with a fine, faint warning—
Leave pearls, her mignonette adorning—
Then steal down vines to the bed beneath.

I creep—I crawl
By lichen wall,
And through a mournful iron grating.
To where the dead lie stillly waiting;
As one that is blind, each graven statue
I trace for the name where my tears shall fall.
—Anne Cleveland Cheney.

MODERN LAWYERS.

The technical training of the modern American lawyer, his professional prepossessions and his business involvements impose limitations upon him and subject him to temptations which seriously stand in the way of his rendering ideal service to society. Modern business in particular, with its huge and complicated processes, has tended to subordinate him, to make him a servant instead of a free adviser and a master of justice. He seldom thinks of himself as the advocate of society. He moves in the atmosphere of private rather than public service. Moreover, he is absorbed now more than ever before into the great industrial organism. He becomes more and more a mere expert in the legal side of a certain class of great industrial or financial undertakings.—Governor Woodrow Wilson.

WHERE NONE GROW OLD.

Your words the other day, "I'm growing old."
Sounded in ears which faint would heed them not.
And yet what earnest thoughts they tender wishes you may reach that spot
Where none grow old.

Near and still nearer to that borderland
We draw with longing for the promised rest.
Oh, clasp us closely, Great Unfailing Hand,
And guide our faltering feet, that with the blest
We ne'er grow old.
—Lucia Willis Fleming.

Not A Word of Scandal

THE PRIMARY WARNING.

This paper together we believe with the majority of the people of this State was surprised at the closeness of the vote on the gubernatorial candidate in Tuesday's primaries. It is well for us to stop and consider its causes and what significance it has to our party. Mr. Gorman was backed by the organization of Baltimore City and in most of the counties he had their support and with their whole strength behind looked like easy winning yet his majority in the State Convention will be but one vote. We do not believe this is the result of any feeling against the organization for the people on the Eastern Shore are usually very loyal to the organization, yet he carried a big portion of the counties here. Not believing the result caused by a feeling of hostility to the organization and knowing that no personal feeling entered into the question one is forced to look at the issues drawn or attempted to be drawn between the two men. Although, we think unjustly so. Mr. Gorman was considered by many to be reactionary in politics while Lee was proclaimed a progressive, and in this we believe will be found the true reason for Lee's unusual and unexpected strength in the State. This paper was in hearty sympathy with Mr. Gorman's candidacy because we believed and still believe he will make an able and efficient Governor if elected as he surely will be, yet there was no feeling of hostility towards Mr. Lee and if he had been the choice we could have supported him as cheerfully as we will support Mr. Gorman. The selection of Mr. Gorman was largely a personal one. We make this statement to show that we are not actuated by any other motives than that of the welfare of the party when we say that our party should properly read the reason for the large vote cast for Mr. Lee in this State. The people want progress and economy in the administration of the affairs of the State. We believe Mr. Gorman will give them both. Our party should make its position clear and then live up to the spirit as well as the letter of all promises made. Any party or man who does not stand for progress, economy and efficiency is bound to go backward. If we want to succeed we must stand for the right and nominate clean, honest, capable men. Any success gained under any other banner than that of the right will prove but temporary. The people will soon come to their right senses and temporary victory will be turned into a crushing defeat.

DEFEAT OF DIRECT PRIMARIES.

While this paper has always stood for direct primaries, we have never been in favor of the system used in this county. The marking of the ballots outside of the booths is a big mistake that it makes it a matter of grave doubt whether or not the plan is any improvement over the convention system of making nominations. Threats, coercion, and intimidation influenced many a vote in this county on Tuesday and these methods are only possible where a man can see how the voter marks his ticket. The only way to protect ourselves in the exercise of our freedom in voting is to give us a secret ballot. This is as essential in a primary contest as it is in a general election if we desire to ascertain the real sentiment of the people. A man has or should have the right to vote for whom he pleases guided or controlled by no other power or influence than the dictates of his own conscience and he ought to be protected in this right by giving him the opportunity to vote with no eye scanning his ballot ready to hold him to account if he dares do aught against the will of the watcher.

The direct plan of nominations has been defeated and if the present policy of marking tickets on the outside was to be continued, it is probably as well so. Although the vote was by a small majority against the adoption of the Lee Primary Law, yet there can be but little doubt but what with a few simple and effective that would allow of secret voting the plan would carry here with a big majority. If we have read the signs of the times carefully and properly stand all sentiments of the rank and file of the democrats in this county, 'tis not the idea or principle of the Direct plan of making our nominations which has been defeated, but the imperfection of the plan used here and the unnecessary red tape and foolishness about the law that caused the defeat here. Whether or not our party leaders want it, whether or not those who hope some day to serve the people in some official capacity want it, we do not believe the voters after having had a taste of voting for the men directly in the primaries will ever again be satisfied with a ticket make out under the convention plan.

COUNTY SCHOOL TRUSTEES

tees Named For The Various Schools In The Districts.

Reports received from the various school districts indicate an increased enrollment over last year. Especially will this be the case in Salisbury, where the schools were overcrowded last year. Preparations are being made by the Board to open at least four additional rooms in Salisbury schools, and it is feared this will not give enough room to accommodate all the pupils. To do this the Board will probably have to rent one or two additional rooms outside the school buildings. The Board had planned to erect a new four-room school building in this city, this summer but the finances at the Board's disposal would not admit of it. So other arrangements will have to be made. Several of the county schools will not open on the 11th because the patrons have requested that the opening be deferred for a few days because the children are needed to help in farm work. This request will be complied with by the Board where the attendance at the opening will not meet the legal requirements.

Letter From Mr. Bell.

Editors of Salisbury Advertiser: Gentlemen:—Unable to see all of the friends who, by their loyal support, secured me the nomination for State's Attorney, I take this method of thanking them, and do so sincerely thank them for their help.

I wish also to say to all those Democrats who supported my opponent, that I think none the less of any of them for so doing—it was their right. While many of us did not secure the nomination of our favorite for all of the offices to be filled, yet each of us obtained the nomination of some of our favorites for some of the offices, and this being so, every Democrat should get behind the ticket and work for victory this year and victory in 1912.

GEO. W. BELL.

—Mr. Lloyd W. Eanis and Miss Adeline Emmert surprised their many friends and relatives, Wednesday evening August 16, when they were quietly married by Rev. W. T. M. Beale at the Mause.

"How are you, Anne? I want to know how much sugar you use in that new recipe for cherries."

LOWENTHAL'S
Phone No. 270. THE UP-TO-DATE MERCHANT OF SALISBURY. We Take Eggs.

We feel that an explanation is due for the lateness of this announcement. It is four weeks overdue, and it is pretty generally known that we have already delivered about 5000 of the 1912 models. Here are the facts: Some weeks ago we advised our dealers that we were going to put out the largest automobile advertisement ever printed—a "double-truck" in 200 newspapers. We naturally expected an enthusiastic response in the next mail. Instead came hundreds of telegrams in this vein: "For Heaven's sake, don't you fellows at the factory ever consider the poor dealer and his troubles? You know we can't get enough 20's or 30's to supply our trade; there are three customers waiting for every car that comes from the factory. Why aggravate the present situation by publishing another ad at this time?" So we have violated all rules, and proceeded to deliver the 1912 models without first announcing them. And now we publish only one page instead of two—just enough to advise you of the fact and yet keep our dealers in good humor.

WE WILL BUILD 50,000 CARS IN 1912

20,000 E-M-F- "30"s and 30,000 Flanders "20"s

E-M-F "30" Fore-Door Touring Car, $1100

Flanders "20" Fore-Door Touring Car, $800

RECENTLY OUR MR. FLANDERS WROTE a personal letter to all Studebaker-E-M-F "20" models could be improved. The 2500 replies could be epitomized in the following, which we quote from one letter: "Only defect in either model is lack of cars to supply the demand. There are three customers waiting for each car that comes from the factory. Please don't try to make them any better—just make more."

NEVERTHELESS, "THE WORLD DO MOVE," said Galileo with his last grasp—and that is our only excuse for announcing any changes. Note we do not say improvements in either of our models for 1912.

JUST AT THE TIME when other makers are tearing the air with declamations of their new and radically different models—condemning their product of the past by just so much as they proclaim the superiority of their forth coming effort, we can say, "Our 1912 model is just as good as that we sold in 1911—or 1910, 1909 or 1908."

CAN YOU APPRECIATE with what pride we make that statement—can you enjoy with us the exultation which comes from knowing that in the future we can only give every buyer as great value for his dollar—as much satisfaction and pleasure in his purchase as in the past—we will have achieved the highest ambition of an honest business house.

TAKE FOR EXAMPLE our E-M-F "20" model. Never was there such a record of service and of satisfaction as the car has given its 80,000 owners. So flawless has been that record, we have today 30,000 salesmen—all working for love.

DO YOU KNOW THAT STUDEBAKER-E-M-F "30" is the oldest car in the world in its present form—this is its fourth year—and the few changes that have been made from time to time were in external appearances only—we have kept up with the styles in body design.

NO OTHER POWER PLANT has ever been able to equal this in performance—"Old Bullies," the ninth car we built holds several world's records for speed—84 miles an hour on Atlanta Speedway, and she and the others of that first famous litter hold all world's records for endurance. Everyone of them are in service today and many of the first five hundred have over 100,000 miles of rough roads to their credit.

TAKE OUR NO. 2, for example: It is in New Mexico. Owner writes: "Friends who have purchased your later models on my recommendation tell me their cars are great; but after four years of driving over Western trails I tell you I don't believe you ever built another car quite as good as my No. 2."

ISN'T IT SPLENDID to get letters like that? Car No. 1? Why that car—our first—was used for two years at the factory as a demonstrator and was then put in the hardest kind of service as a "pick up wagon" at the factory doing heavy truck work. Can't kill her—looks as if she was good for twenty years or more of the same kind of work.

WHEN OUR DEALERS COME TO THE FACTORY it is a favorite stunt to take a ride in Old No. 1—on top of a load of castings, perhaps. And each time they marvel at the durability of the old car—knowing though they do the quality of all E-M-F "30" cars.

THAT IS WHY WE HESITATE to claim any real improvement in our 1912 model E-M-F "30" over any previous model—persons who know will doubt our ability to improve on perfection—or what they consider the nearest approach to perfection that has ever been attained in a motor car.

BUT WE HAVE MADE A FEW minor changes that may rightfully be called improvements. Here are some you will agree are better: Longer wheel base—now 115 inches—permitting of lengthened body, giving more room in front as well as rear seat. Body is also several inches wider, making ample room for three 200-pounders in rear seat; drop frame instead of former straight frame, gives lower center of gravity and lower, more rakish, appearance to car. Springs are longer also—both front and rear—always the easiest riding car, it is still more velvety in motion.

A FEW MECHANICAL CHANGES—not necessarily improvements, though of course our engineers think they are—are improved steering gear—better facilities for oiling and adjusting. At the same time we have emulated the $5000 cars by placing spark wheel and throttle levers on top of steering wheel; large steering wheel of Cremonese Walnut, gives classy appearance and makes "thumb and finger control" possible.

NO CHANGE IN MOTOR—you will be pleased to hear that. Fact is we would not dare make the slightest change in that wonderful motor for fear we could never again get quite as powerful a one.

NEITHER HAS THERE BEEN any change in transmission, control, axle or chassis detail, save only those mentioned—the drop frame and longer springs.

E-M-F "30" IS MORE BEAUTIFUL, though, than ever before. Truth to tell, we have always thought there was room for improvement in the outer appearance of this car. But you must remember that in order to give our customers the highest degree of mechanical excellence, in past years we had to design the body severely plain. And we are proud of that policy—other makers adopted the opposite policy, made cars that misled buyers by their looks—and are now either in the junk heap or on the way there—expected soon.

BUT NOW IT IS DIFFERENT—we have our mammoth plants, and they are paid for. We have a more perfect organization. Practically unlimited capital enables us to buy better—and prices of all materials are lower.

SO NOW WE CAN ADD appearance to efficiency—luxurious appointments to mechanical perfection—and sell you that much better car in 1912 for the same price you paid in 1911—and for $150 less than we had to charge in 1908-9 and 10.

WE HAVE PROMISED from the first to improve wherever and whenever possible and to "divide with the buyer the savings we effect by our superior facilities." This 1912 announcement is the fulfillment of that promise.

FOR THE PRICE HAS NOT BEEN INCREASED—the big, luxurious, fore-door model will remain at $1100 F. O. B. factory. Let those try who may, none can equal this value. They never have been able to and it is no part of our plan that they ever shall.

THE BODY IS A BEAUTY—of the most improved "straight line" type—perfectly straight from front to rear. All levers inside; door latches concealed; large ventilators in dash so it is just as cool in front as in rear. Also we provide so doors can stand ajar, so speed of car sucks out warm air permitting cool air to replace it constantly. Actual thermometer tests show our front compartment to be cooler than rear. Only objection to fore door design eliminated.

IN A WORD the Studebaker-E-M-F "30" will continue to be in 1912, as it has always been, the best car in the world at less than $2500—the first choice in its class of all well informed buyers. Others thrive on our leavings—they live because we cannot supply the full demand, even making, as we do, one hundred of these cars every day.

MADE IN FOUR MODELS for 1912: Fore-door Five Passenger Touring Car, $1100; Fore-door Detachable Demi-Tonnesau, $1100; Fore-door Roadster, $1100; and Coupe, $1450. Full detailed specifications in the catalog.

THE STORY OF FLANDERS "20" is even more simply told. There is no change in this sterling model—not the slightest, either in mechanical detail or in appearance. We could see no chance for improvement.

SHE HAS COME INTO HER OWN—never was more signal victory than this car has achieved. Never did any automobile enjoy a greater over-demand than Flanders "20" does now, and with an output of 100 a day of that.

YOU WILL REMEMBER that, like all new models, Flanders "20" did not come up to Designer Heaslet's hopes the first season—1909-10. There were several minor defects.

WE SAID SO FRANKLY in our ad, announcing the improved 1911 three speed model. Competitors criticised us severely—said it was bad business to "tell all we knew to the public." Well, perhaps—only it didn't work out that way—much to their chagrin.

WE USE STRONG STATEMENTS in our ads—we have the goods and ordinary terms cannot do justice to them. So do other dealers in superlatives—when they are proclaiming hoped-for virtues. Past errors they are singularly silent about, however.

WE HAD TO ADMIT that the two-speed idea was wrong for a touring car. Its only advantage was cheapness of manufacture, and, while we had the customer's interest at heart when we designed the two-speed Flanders "20," we found we were mistaken and that the customer—experienced buyers, anyway—would gladly pay a little more to have the added efficiency and superior control of a three-speed selective sliding gear transmission.

WHILE WE WERE ABOUT it we designed the handsome four-door touring body that ever was seen on a moderate priced car.

AND WHAT A RECORD she has made—it is simply splendid. Discredited by her past dealers and individual buyers alike were, superlatives. Competitors "knocked" for fair and tried to convince buyers that the three-speed model was really no great improvement over the former two-speed. We sometimes think this very knocking was our greatest advertisement, for, of course, the public knew that the man whose name this car bore, would stand back of the product—it had been his pride from the first.

SO THEY DETERMINED TO TRY the new car out. And they certainly did figure out some grueling tests—speed, hill climbing, mud plugging, sand fighting—every imaginable stunt that could break down a car to prove her ability. And Flanders "20" always came up smiling. The astonishment of her opponents was something to see. From that time she has forged steadily ahead, sweeping from her path every would-be rival till today she is acknowledged leader. Dealers tell us there would be no other light touring car sold if they could get enough three-speed Flanders "20"s to fill the demand.

IN LARGE CITIES buyers are so well informed they simply won't accept substitutes—they will order six months ahead and wait for Flanders "20" rather than take an assembled or a "tin car" as a substitute. But in smaller towns, where there are fewer cars and folks don't have as good a chance to compare performance and durability, dealers are still able to persuade buyers the imitations are "just as good." That is where the "tin cars" thrive.

WE HAD IN MIND in designing this car, the great class of well-to-do business men who want a family touring car of high efficiency, seating five and capable of taking them anywhere—people who want a car of sterling quality and yet feel they cannot afford a car as large as E-M-F "30."

NOW WE COULD HAVE DONE as we did with E-M-F "30" five years ago—designed with an eye single to mechanical excellence and without regard to appearance. But that day has passed. The opinions of other makers to the contrary notwithstanding, we believe the farmer and the man in the village has just as artistic a sense—is just as well informed on up-to-date design as the city man. And we determined to make a handsome car as well as a good one.

NOW THAT COSTS MORE, OF COURSE—there is actually over $250 more factory cost in Flanders "20" than in any its competitors—yet there is not nearly that difference in the selling price.

NOW COMPARE THEM. Ask your local dealer to drive his Flanders "20" demonstrator up beside one of the several makes of "tin cars" so you can see the wonderful difference.

COMPARE POINT FOR POINT—the French-type bonnet of the Flanders with the simple, cheap-looking—and cheap—motor cover on the front of the other. The full-fenders of the Flanders with the scrawny, tiny-looking mud-guards of cars that presume to compete with it. Even the equipment—lamps, top, windshield, are superior in looks and in quality.

APPEARANCE IS IMPORTANT. However matter-of-fact a man may claim to be, his wife and daughters crave the artistic and beautiful. And Flanders "20" is their choice because there they find it to be as great a degree as in the highest priced car on the market.

YOUR MECHANICAL SENSE will also be appeased—we are talking to you, Mr. Practical Man—if you will investigate chassis details and power plant. You will find a four-cylinder motor of most approved French type and a transmission something like that in E-M-F "20"—same excellent axle design, too, and you will find, if you know steel, that the materials that go into this car are not surpassed in quality by that used in any automobile at any price—bar none.

FLANDERS "20" HAS NO RIVAL, when you consider all points. No other car on the market gives the buyer so much mechanical excellence and so much to be proud of in appearance as the Flanders "20" at $800.

HERE'S AN EXCERPT from a letter written to one of our dealers by a certain Detroit manufacturer: "Why not take on ten or fifteen of our cars? You know you cannot get Flanders "20"s enough to supply your trade. Your customers get impatient waiting and you may lose some sales. We have cars in stock and can ship at once. Besides our discounts to dealers are larger."

BUT THAT DEALER DIDN'T FALL—you never heard of a dealer giving up the Studebaker-E-M-F line. Never heard of a dealer handling any other if he could get this one. Dealers want cars that sell themselves—that are backed by a guarantee for a full year, and that really, say something.

EVERY STUDEBAKER DEALER IS JEALOUS of the proud position he occupies—he is honored and respected above all rivals in his own community because he sells the best cars and keeps his word—the cars make good. And the manufacturer backs him up. He will not sacrifice that proud position for a few chance sales, nor for a bigger rake-off will he sell to his townsmen cars that he knows are unsalable elsewhere.

OUR ONLY PROBLEM IS DELIVERY. We are not going to make any rash promises. We cannot promise to deliver every car that is ordered. All we can do is to repeat that we are making one hundred per day now. That we are doubling our factory facilities as fast as bricks can be laid and machinery installed. That we will be making two hundred a day within "fussy" days and will work full force all winter in hopes of keeping up with the demand—but that is the limit of our ability for the present.

FOUR MODELS OF THIS CAR FOR 1912. Fore-door, 5-Passenger Touring Car—slightly smaller than E-M-F "30," not quite so speedy—45 miles per hour—but just as efficient; 4-Passenger Suburban—ideal car for rural residents; 2-Passenger Coupe, and 2-Passenger Runabout. Full detailed specifications in catalog.

LITTLE THINGS.

Little drops of water, little grains of sand,
Make the mighty ocean and the wondrous land.
Thus the little minutes, humble though they be,
Make the mighty ages of eternity.
Little deeds of kindness, little words of love,
Make our earth an Eden like the heaven above.
—Frances S. Osgood.

RECALL POSSIBLE.

The newspaper, unlike the public official, is constantly subject to the recall. Any man can send out to his newspaper an order to cancel a certain newspaper and substitute another.
This makes newspaper men realize that they are subject to public opinion. It would be an excellent thing for the country if the body of citizens could do with their mayors and governors and presidents—and also their judges, big and little—what every citizen can do to the editor of his newspaper—get rid of him when he is palpably bad.—Arthur Brisbane.

School Board Proceedings.

The School Board was in session Friday and transacted the following business:

Miss Blanche Tainter, who was recently re-appointed assistant in the Delmar High School, tendered her resignation on account of the illness of her mother, which will keep the daughter at home this winter. The vacancy was filled by the appointment of Miss Myra Bill, who was a former assistant in this school. The resignation of Miss Tainter is much regretted by the patrons of this school.

Mr. James M. Bennett, first assistant of the Sharptown High School tendered his resignation to the Board on Friday. Mr. Bennett served one year in the Sharptown school and did good work.

Miss Riley, of Parsonsburg, recently appointed to a vacancy in the Maryland Institute, declined the appointment. This vacancy the Board is anxious to fill from this county, and applications should be made at once.

The Board received notice from State Superintendent Stephens of the completion of the Colored Normal and Industrial School, located near Howie, Md. This school will be ready to receive students on September 26th. Tuition is free to one person from each county, who has completed at least the studies of the sixth year grade. A charge of $9.50 per month will be made for board, etc., but the person appointed will be permitted to work at the rate of six cents per hour to cover one-third of the cost of board, etc. Under this arrangement the total cost of the student will be about $7.00 per year. The main purpose of this school is to train teachers along right lines for colored schools.

The Board has appointed an additional teacher in the Wicomico High School so as to include a course in German, which has been requested by parents for several years. Hereafter students entering the tenth grade have the privilege of continuing Latin through the tenth and eleventh grades or taking in place of Latin a two-years' course in German. This will be of special benefit to students graduating from the High School who desire to enter institutions of higher education. The Board has secured a very competent German teacher to handle this work.

Airship Hits A Fence.

At the Talbot county fair Friday afternoon, Aviator C. S. Tinner, in his Curtiss aeroplane, after making three of four futile attempts to fly, met with a serious accident. When he had risen to a height of about twelve feet his engine failed to work and the machine fell to the ground on the race track. Nearly in front of the grandstand he seemed to have lost his nerve, and his machine dashed into the fence, tearing the machine to pieces. He escaped without being seriously injured.

The Salisbury Fair was the first one on the Peninsula this year to attract aeroplane flights as one of the chief attractions. There was no fake about it, and each day three to five successful flights were made by aviator Dickson.

The Eastern Fair then concluded to try aeroplane flights, in order to come up with Salisbury, but the scheme was a dismal failure.

PROCLAMATION Publication of Proposed Constitutional Amendments.

Whereas, At the January Session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and ten, three Acts were passed, one proposing an Amendment to Article 1 of the Constitution, by adding thereto a Section to be known as Section 8; one proposing an Amendment to Section 2 of Article 3 of said Constitution, and one proposing an Amendment to Section 4 of Article 3 of said Constitution, said Acts being respectively Chapters 288, 308 and 318 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1910, and which are in the words following, to wit:

CHAPTER 288

An Act to propose an Amendment to Article 1 of the Constitution of this State by adding thereto a new Section, to be known as Section 8, to follow Section 7, of said Article.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all members of each of the two houses concurring), that the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an Amendment to Article 1 of the Constitution of this State, which said section, if adopted by the qualified voters of this State, shall stand as an additional section to said Article 1, to be known as Section 8, to follow Section 7, of said Article.

Section 2. All State and municipal elections shall be conducted by the system commonly known as the Australian Ballot System, and it shall be the duty of the General Assembly of Maryland, to provide a form of ballot, uniform throughout this State, for use at all State elections in this State, and provide that on said ballot after the name of each candidate whom any person may have been nominated as the candidate of any political party or organization, there shall be printed the legal name of said party or organization; equal representation of the minority party among the judges and clerks of election registers or other officers performing similar functions shall not be abolished by the General Assembly unless by a vote of four-fifths of all the members of each house.

The right to be registered as a qualified voter and the right to vote at any State or municipal election in this State shall be limited to the following persons: First: Every male white citizen not disqualified by the Second or Third Sections of this Article, possessing the qualifications as to age and residence mentioned in Section 1 of this Article.

Second: Every other male citizen not disqualified by the Second or Third Sections of this Article possessing the qualifications as to age and residence mentioned in Section 1 of this Article, who at the time of his application for registration is the bona fide owner of real or personal property, or both, in an amount of not less than five hundred dollars, as assessed therefor on the tax books of the City of Baltimore or of one of the Counties of this State, has been such owner and so assessed for two years next preceding his application for registration, shall have paid and shall produce receipts for the taxes on said property for said two years, and shall at the time of his application make affidavit before the officers of registration that he is the bona fide owner of the property so assessed to him and that he has been such owner for two years next preceding his application.

If any person other than those herein mentioned shall be or become legally entitled to be registered as voters at State Elections in this State, such persons shall be null and void and the General Assembly shall possess the same powers as if this section had never been adopted, and the laws of this State, including the local laws applicable to certain counties thereof, relating to the form of ballot to be used at elections, in force on the first day of July in the year nineteen hundred and ten, shall revive or continue in force until altered by the General Assembly notwithstanding any Acts to the contrary which may have been passed while the terms of this section shall have been in force or while the General Assembly shall have believed or assumed the provisions of this section to be valid.

Section 2. And be it further enacted, by the authority aforesaid, that the aforesaid section hereby proposed as an Amendment to the Constitution shall be at the next General Election held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at said General Election the vote on the said proposed Amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot shall be printed the words, "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment" as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due return shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed Amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution.

Approved April 11, 1910.

A. P. GORMAN, Jr., President of the Senate.
ADAM PEEPLES, Speaker of the House of Delegates.

CHAPTER 308

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, three-fifths of all the members of each of the two houses concurring, that the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an Amendment to Section 2 of Article 3, title "Legislative Department," of the Constitution of this State, which said section, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, said section shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 2 of Article 3 of the Constitution of Maryland.

Section 2. The City of Baltimore shall be divided into four Legislative Districts as near as may be of equal population and of contiguous territory, and each of said Legislative Districts of Baltimore City, as they may from time to time be laid out, in accordance with the provisions hereof, and each county of the State shall be entitled, to one Senator who shall be elected by the qualified voters of said Legislative Districts of the State, respectively, and Baltimore City shall be entitled to two additional Senators, who shall be elected at large, by the qualified voters of the said City, and all of said Senators shall serve for four years from the date of their election, subject to the classification of Senators hereinafter provided for.

Section 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the said foregoing section hereby proposed as an Amendment to the Constitution, shall at the next election for members of the General Assembly of this State, to be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November, nineteen hundred and eleven (1911), be submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State; and at said election the vote on the said proposed Amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot shall be written or printed the words, "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as the voter shall elect, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed Amendment, as directed by the said Article 14 of the said Constitution.

Approved April 7, 1910.

IN YOUTH.
When all the world is young,
And all the trees are green,
And every goose a swan, lad,
And every lane a queen,
Then hey for boot and horse, lad,
And round the world away;
Young blood must have its course, lad,
And every dog his day.
—Kingalee.

WORSHIP.
Worship is the dedication of self to the Lord. It is the soul's expression of combined love, gratitude and dependence, directed toward God under the clear guidance of faith. To be genuine it must proceed from within and be spontaneous and free. It must find expression in outward life of service and daily keeping of the commandments.

External worship in churches and elsewhere is of value as a vehicle of expression, an outward form for the manifestation of the inner substance of worship. It fixes the mind upon the significance of the heart's adoration. But external forms of worship without the internal acknowledgement of the Lord and loving determination to do his will can accomplish nothing for the spiritual strength of man. The more conscious and selfish a man is the more external his worship becomes, the more perfunctory and the more devoid of deep religious impulse. But the increasing purity of heart and spirituality of thought make one's worship more and more internal and genuine. He still enters into and enjoys the forms of external worship because he sees and loves in them the spiritual truths and realities they represent.—Rev. Paul Sperry.

Do You Get Up

With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.
Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root builds almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made which will send readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney, liver, or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this paper and send your address to
Dr. Kilmer & Co.,
Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

HAPPY MARRIAGE.

It seems to me that the idea underlying every happy marriage is just that each member of the partnership performs every possible service for the other. Of course the husband who only earns money for his wife and forces her to seek other people for her enjoyment of it is treating her most unfairly.
If it is a wife's duty to "lay out" shirts and socks for the lord of the manor, the latter should certainly take the time and trouble to pay a compliment to his wife's new frock. It is exasperating when a man never notices the difference between last year's wrapper and this season's newest in walking suits.—Mrs. Wilson Woodrow.

BUSINESS METHODS.

Suppose that a company of men engaged in business and possessing much capital, power and influence should by their conduct, unjust or oppressive, secure universal disapproval, disgust and antagonism on the part of the public. In a brief space of time these men would be driven out of business.

Suppose a producer of any commodity for sale should in any way within his power ill-treat all his customers. How long would it be before the producer would be in bankruptcy?

Suppose an employer of labor manifestly treated his employees unfairly and poorly. In time, as a result of the action of those interested, aided by public sentiment, a remedy would be found, and this after great interruption of business and loss of money.

Again, let us assume that during a given year the demand for a product equals less than one-half the capacity to produce, and yet each producer is greedy and anxious to sell more than his fair proportion and acts accordingly, and this attitude is maintained until it is destructive, results which we all know are almost certain to be realized.—Judge E. H. Gary.

SWIMMING.

I believe that every woman should be taught to swim. I think every child should learn before it reaches the age of fifteen.
But I consider swimming the best possible exercise for women.
It stimulates the circulation, keeps one in the open air and is remarkably even in the muscular development it gives.

I always sleep eight hours a night, and if I have to miss an hour one night, I make it up the next. I have never worn corsets or tight clothing of any sort.
As long ago as last March I cut out dancing, because that is not a beneficial exercise for the swimmer. In fact, the only exercise that does help much is walking, and I try to do a good deal of that, particularly in the winter, when I can't swim so much.—Adeline Trapp, Champion Swimmer.

HORRORS OF WAR.

Europe today is an arsenal.
Five million soldiers in times of peace mean 10,000,000 strong men removed from useful work for the welfare of mankind and a loss to the world of at least $10,000,000 a day even if we do not count a man's labor worth more than a dollar a day. The implements of war bring many nations to the verge of bankruptcy. Let a new weapon of destruction be introduced by one nation and all the others have to follow suit, and the old weapons are thrown away as useless, to be sold for old iron. Generals of armies and admirals of navies, one and all promoters of wholesale murder, breaking continuously the sixth commandment, are the most honored, admired and flattered men living.
In Europe the squares of large cities are filled with their monuments. Wars demoralize our boys, makes them ferocious, cruel and utterly regardless of human life. Years after a war man slaughter, mutilation, rape and robbery are on the increase.—Rabbi Emanuel Schelder.

MAN'S DUTY.

Let each man think himself an act of God.
His mind a thought, his life a breath of God;
And let each try, by great thought and good deeds,
To show the most of heaven he hath in him.

—Philip James Bailey.

Prayers of love like raindrops fall.
Tears of pity are cooling dew.
And dear to the heart of our Lord are all Who suffer like him in the good they do.

—Whittier.

THE CONSTITUTION.

Our constitution is antiquated, obsolete, and really a hindrance to any reasonable growth in our public life, and therefore it should be changed. Our present constitution was framed at a time when this nation was born and when the country had about three million inhabitants. At that time the people were in the main hunters and farmers in arms, with a small merchant class in New York, Philadelphia and Boston and cotton planters in the south. There were no railroads, no telegraphs and no telephones. Since that time tremendous changes have taken place. And yet with all these wonderful changes which the framers of the constitution could not have foreseen we are still living under a constitution made for our ancestors.—Victor Berger.

CHANGE IN FIRM

T. L. Ruark & Co. Succeeds B. L. Gills & Son.

The old established firm of B. L. Gills & Son was taken over by T. L. Ruark & Co., September 1st, and in the future the business will be conducted under the new firm name. Mr. A. A. Gills, head of the firm of B. L. Gills & Son, sold his interest to the new concern and has retired from business.

The firm B. L. Gills & Son was established by the late B. L. Gills in 1866. From that time on the firm has been one of the best known grocery firms in the State. Several years ago the firm went out of the retail business and confined its operations to the wholesale grocery business exclusively. Mr. A. A. Gills, after the death of his father pushed the business until it reached its present large proportions.

In 1887 Mr. T. L. Ruark entered the business of B. L. Gills & Son as an employee and later on was taken into partnership with Mr. A. A. Gills and made a member of the firm. Mr. Ruark is considered one of the most progressive business men in Salisbury.

The corporation of T. L. Ruark & Co. is composed of the following gentlemen: T. L. Ruark, president; R. L. Leathersbury, vice-president; Marjorie Uiman, 2nd. vice-president; M. W. Boudie, treasurer; W. T. Smith, secretary. The capital stock of the company is $50,000. The books of the old firm will be collected and the bills assumed by the new concern. The business will be continued at the old stand on Dock street.

—Thos. W. H. White, Jr., who was one of the successful candidates for County Commissioner, desires us to express his appreciation of those who gave him their support in the recent primaries.

VIRGINIA CONFERENCE

Meets Here—First Time On Shore—Committee On Entertainment.

For the first time in its history the Virginia Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will meet on the Eastern Shore this year. The custom of meeting on the Western Shore had been so long followed, that it became to be regarded as an unwritten law to meet there. However, this year a change was made and the offered hospitality of Salisbury was accepted. This conference is composed of about four hundred and twenty members. Three hundred ministers and one hundred and twenty laymen, and represents a church membership of more than 100,000 souls. It is divided into fifteen distinct and separate church districts. The meeting of the conference will be presided over by Bishop J. O. Kilgo.

Salisbury should appreciate the honor of having this conference meet here, and welcome our Southern guest with true Eastern Shore hospitality. The members of the conference are to be entertained in the homes of our citizens, irrespective of church denominations. They are the guests of the city.

We are informed that the pastor and members of Trinity M. E. Church, South, will appreciate offers of assistance in entertaining these visitors. Those desiring to help should notify Rev. J. Franklin Carey at once.

Bishop A. W. Wilson to Visit Salisbury.

Bishop A. W. Wilson, Senior Bishop of the M. E. Church, South, will attend the fall Rally at Trinity Methodist Church, South, this city, on the third Sunday in September, the 17th. He will preach at 11 A. M., and deliver an address at the Laymen's Rally at night. The Sunday School Rally will be held at nine thirty.

Whiskey Cases Heard.

Charles Fowler, charged with the illicit sale of intoxicating liquors was given a hearing before Justice T. Rodney Jones this week. He was found guilty. Through his attorney, Mr. Geo. W. Lilly, an appeal to the Circuit Court was taken.

The case of Geo. Wilson, charged with the same offense, was postponed owing to the absence of one of the witnesses.

John West Long is under arrest charged with violating the liquor law. He will probably be tried the latter part of the week.

—Mr. Lawrence Edgecombe, of New York, was the guest of Mrs. R. D. Grier this week.

GEN. DUPONT HERE

Praises Our Road—Meets Prominent Men.

Friday last General DuPont and his party of engineers and experts in company with Major Crosby, Chief of the Maryland Highways arrived in Salisbury and took a careful survey of the State roads being built in this county. They first took a spin on Tony Tank road and were much pleased with it and later on went to Mardeia Springs and Sharptown over the new State highway.

The party with general DuPont was composed of himself and the following gentlemen: Governor Simon Pennewell of Delaware; Mr. Thos. Aiken, of Scotland; Mr. W. W. Crosby, Chief Engineer Maryland Roads Commission; F. M. Williams, Chief Engineer for General DuPont; S. H. Henry, Business Manager for DuPont; H. E. Reed, Assistant Chief Engineer for DuPont; Dr. R. R. Ghybort, Wilmington; Mr. Frank duPont, Mr. G. Catlin and J. P. Winchester, of Wilmington.

The party arrived in Salisbury from Berlin and after making a tour of the roads in the county returned by way of Delmar. There has been a great deal of discussion in Delaware as to which route the road will be built but it is said to be pretty well settled now that General duPont will choose the Delmar route as he is so much pleased with the good roads in Wicomico county from Salisbury to Vienna, which gives a direct route to Dorchester county that he has about made his plans to come this way.

Many of our citizens called on the General and his party at the Peninsula Hotel and impressed upon him the great interest our people have in his great work. Mr. W. B. Miller, Mr. Wm. M. Cooper, Mr. W. P. Jackson, and Engineer Clark went over the roads with the party.

Melson, sister of the bride, wore light blue silk dress and carried a basket. Mr. Lacey L. Hardesty, of Seaford, Del., a cousin of the groom, was best man. Mrs. Bernard Uiman, a cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The house was attractively decorated with lighted candles, wild flowers and potted plants. The happy couple left on the one thirty five express for Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore. After October the 1st, they will make their home at Berlin, Md., where Mr. Hardesty has accepted a position with the firm of J. G. Harrison and Sons, Nurserymen.

MR. GORMAN NOMINATED

Sen. Lee Makes Motion—Much Enthusiasm Shown.

Harmony and enthusiasm reigned at the Democratic Convention held in Baltimore on Thursday. On motion of Senator Lee, Mr. Gorman was unanimously nominated for Governor. E. C. Harrington, fur comptroller and Edgar A. Poe for Attorney General. The cry for all was onward to victory in November. Some of the main principles of the platform follow:

Ample support of public schools. Economy in legislative expenses. Corrupt Practice Act to be strengthened. Public utility commission approved. Popular election United States Senator pledged.

Good Roads improvement to continue.

The principle of direct voting as embodied in the present State wide Direct Primary Election law, enacted by the last Democratic Legislature, must be preserved and rigidly enforced, and the Democratic party of this State is hereby pledged so to do. Experience has shown that certain specific amendments should be made to the primary and general election laws in order that they may accomplish the purposes for which they were designed. We pledge the Democratic party to the enactment of specific measures providing for—

A new registration in the counties by May 15th; in order that the party affiliation clause may be effective.

To provide that no change in party affiliation shall be effective unless made six months prior to the primary election.

That in the counties no ballots shall be handed to a voter within one hundred feet of the polls, except the unmarked ballot now authorized by law. To provide that only the buyer of a vote at primary election shall be punished and that one half of the fine imposed on the briber shall go to the voter.

We promise to enact a law providing for a recount of the votes at every primary and general election as a matter of right upon petition of any defeated candidate or upon the petition of five per cent. of the registered voters of any county or legislative district. We pledge the enactment of a law of the annual State wide primary on some day not earlier than the 8th nor later than the 15th of September, except in Presidential years, when the primaries shall be held on the last Tuesday in May.

Mr. Alfred Melvin.

Mr. Alfred Melvin, a highly respected citizen of Salisbury, died on August the 28th last. He had been confined to the house for nearly two years. Mr. Melvin was a soldier during the Civil War, having been a private in Smith's Independent Company Calvary, which was organized at Snow Hill, Maryland, October the 15th, 1862, and discharged June the 30th, 1865. In March of 1866, he married Miss Mary Jones, who, with one daughter, Mrs. Annie Perry, wife of Roland E. Perry, survives him.

A Republican in politics, he often voted for Democratic friends of whom he had many. About one year ago, through the efforts of Hon. J. Harry Covington, a bill was passed by Congress giving him an increased pension, which enabled him to live more comfortably to the end. His remains were interred in Parsons Cemetery.

DIAMOND STATE

Telephone—New Branches Added—Other Improvements.

On July 22nd a private branch exchange contract was closed with the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad Company at Cape Charles, Va. It provides for two trunks and twenty nine stations. This makes the fifth private branch exchange in the Salisbury District, and all obtained since January 1st, 1911.

Connected with the Salisbury Exchange are 23 Plan "A" rural companies with 227 stations, and eight Plan "C" companies with 63 stations. There is not a single road leading from Salisbury that does not have one or more rural lines.

The foundation for the Salisbury new exchange building on Church Street is completed. N. M. MacLeod, of the Engineering Department, has charge of the work.

The Belle Haven, Virginia, Exchange office is being moved from a small dilapidated building to more commodious quarters in the J. L. Kellam Building on Main Street.

The Plans Department has commenced the work of stringing about 8,000 feet of additional aerial cable in Salisbury. A number of orders are being held pending the completion of this work. A new position has just been installed to take care of the additional business.

A Salisbury liveryman recently hired out a team to a traveling man. The team was returned in the evening and before they were got into the stable both horses dropped dead. The liveryman used the telephone the next morning to trace the territory covered and found the team had been driven seventy seven miles.

The following letter has been received at the Westminster, Md., office from the Secretary of the local Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association:

"It is with pleasure that I write you in reference to your new building recently erected in this city. It is centrally located, in close touch with the large business houses, a credit to the Company and an ornament to the city.

"The new service is a much needed improvement and we feel will measure up to the requirements of our growing town.

Grap Shooters Arrested.

A big haul was made by Deputy Sheriff Smith this week at one of the livery stables in town, when a large party was captured, charged with gambling.

The warrant charges that these parties on September the 3rd, 1911, the same day in the said year being the Lord's Day commonly called Sunday, at Wicomico County aforesaid, did unlawfully play for money and other things at dice and the game commonly called crap, and with cards at the game commonly called poker, contrary to the form of the acts of the Assembly, etc. Some of these have pleaded guilty, paid the fine of three dollars and costs imposed upon them by Justice Bones. Warrants were issued for the following: Amest Messick, Samuel Conway, Wesley Reed, Emory Brown, Chas. Dashell, Thomas Goslee, William Leonard, Lemuel Jones, Price Pollitt, Elijah Stevens.

Arrested On Charge Of Forgery.

The Baltimore authorities notified Sheriff Kelley this week that they had apprehended Herbert Lewis, who was wanted by the authorities here on the charge of forging the name of Geo. H. Higgins to a $50 check. Sheriff Kelley left at once for Baltimore and brought Lewis back with him. It is understood that Lewis denies the allegation and claims that he is innocent of any wrong doing. The warrant was issued on the complaint of Farnell T. White, cashier of the Eastern Shore Trust Co., of Sharptown, the check being drawn upon that institution. It is alleged that the check was drawn up and passed by Herbert Lewis together with Walter Fooks. The check was on its face signed by Geo. H. Higgins payable to the order of W. H. Mills. It is alleged that Lewis passed the check on the firm of Higgins and Schuler, of this city, under the name of W. H. Mills. Lewis claims that the check was given by Capt. Geo. H. Higgins in Baltimore, the same day he cashed there.

—Col. Dupont, who is the promoter and builder of the boulevard through Delaware, was in Salisbury last Saturday. Accompanying Col. Dupont was a party of friends from Delaware, including Governor Pennell, a number of road engineers and others. They came from Snow Hill in automobiles to inspect the State road work being done in Maryland.

A SAIL IN SIGHT

BUT IT IS ONLY A ROCK IN THE MID-PACIFIC.

A Peculiar Freak of Nature That Foils Every Traveler When It Is First Sighted.

To persons on the Pacific ocean the sighting of another vessel is of great interest than the same occurrence on the Atlantic, for ships are not so common on the endless waters of the Pacific. There is one place, however, where the lookout will always announce a ship.

He knows better, but he must have his joke, and it never fails. He gives the familiar call and the passengers crowd forward and strain their eyes. Away off they dimly see a ship.

Every minute its outline comes more clearly into view. Why, it is bearing straight down on us, and the faithful Pacific trade wind is bellying its sail, they cry.

It happens that they are approaching the little group of the Wallis Islands, but the land can scarcely be discerned, even when the ship is only six or seven miles away. Every bell glass on board is brought to bear on the vessel, and a strange thing about it suddenly becomes a subject of animated discussion.

It doesn't seem to be moving, and yet that glistering white sail is puffed out by the wind. Why, it can actually be seen to swell under the effort of the gentle trades. Questions are fired at the captain and the lookout, but they are silent.

By unanimous vote it is adjudged to be a rather small craft. As the distance lessens its bow seems to be rather blunt. It certainly is not moving, and yet the wind fills that sail.

The awakening is sudden. The illusion is dispelled in a moment at the proper distance. It is seen to be nothing more or less than a huge block of madrepore coral which has resisted the assaults of the sea and towers into the air.

When seen near at hand the traveler only remarks its strange position, alone in the waste of waters. Its base has been worn away by the waves on all sides so that it is rounded, but above the rock spreads out wide and at a distance bears a striking resemblance to a bark whose sail is filled by a stern breeze. The slender growth of trees at the top has the exact appearance, when seen from afar, of a mast. Nothing more is needed to complete the illusion. The resemblance to a vessel never fails to deceive everybody who sees the rock for the first time.

It was named Sail Rock by the earliest seafarers. The nautical instructions supplied to Pacific mariners make note of the resemblance to a ship. They also speak of the rock as serving a good purpose, for it is in front of the narrow opening in the reef through which vessels must pass, and so points out the place.

Another fact that serves to keep up the illusion to the last moment is, as all the passengers are told, that the opening in the reef is rather difficult to enter and a pilot comes out to take the vessel in. While the passengers are gazing and speculating some bright person of course suggests that this is the pilot boat coming out, and everybody adopts the idea as explaining the true mission of the strange craft. They are not aware that, among those sleepy islands, nobody is on the lookout for ships, which call only at intervals, and the pilot usually has to be summoned by the boom of the ship's cannon.

But the lookout has his joke, and life is enlivened for days by the memory of the excitement over a bit of Pacific coral.

The Tallest Tree.

The highest tree in the world, so far as has been ascertained, is an Australian gum tree of the species Eucalyptus regnans, which stands in the Cape Otway range. It is no less than 415 feet high. Gum-trees grow very fast. There is one in Florida which shot up 40 feet in four years, and another in Guatemala which grew 130 feet in 12 years. This corresponds to a rise of ten feet in a year, or nearly one foot per month.

Curious Bible Class.

Probably the most curious Bible class in the west of England is that of deaf-mutes which meets near Chalford, Gloucestershire. All the members are deprived of their senses of hearing and speech and have to communicate and "talk" to each other by means of the deaf-mute alphabet.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Plenty of Them in Salisbury And Good Reason For It.

Women's lives are happy. After years of backache suffering. Days of misery, nights of unrest. The distress of urinary troubles. She finds relief and cure! No reason why any Salisbury reader should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. L. Wells, 410 Martin Street, Salisbury, Md., says: "I have had no cause to worry about the condition of my kidneys since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble more than two years ago. I think more highly of this remedy now than I ever did and I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of it. I was in poor health for six months, being weak and run down. Rheumatic pains in my shoulders bothered me and my head ached nearly all the time. I also had dizzy spells. Before I had finished the contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I obtained at White and Leonard's Drug Store, I felt better and it did not take them long to give me entire relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

The Delightful Sense of Security

YOU would not hide your money in an old stocking or in an old tin box, because the eternal precaution of secrecy, the constant anxiety lest it be found and stolen, and that uncomfortable and disagreeable suspicion of your fellow-men would make life unbearable. But very often the average business man is too careless in selecting a safe depository for his working capital; too often he is satisfied to hand his money to the bank teller and trust that it is safely guarded against fire and burglars.

THE PENINSULA TRUST COMPANY has recognized this demand for the highest kind of protection, and keenly feels its obligation to its depositors to guard absolutely against liability of such loss. Its eight-ton Mosler-Corlies steel safe is the latest model of a type that has defied the ingenuity of the most clever cracksmen—it has never been burglarized, and fire makes absolutely no impression upon it. We take pleasure in showing this financial fortress to visitors; it is the only one on the Eastern Shore.

Moving Pictures of the Heart.
By the use of X-rays and the cinematograph, an apparatus for repeatedly photographing moving objects at very brief intervals, scientists have succeeded in photographing the movements of internal organs like the heart and lungs. These moving pictures when reproduced on a screen are of great assistance to medical men.

Hydraulic Sticking.
Hydraulic sticking is being employed at Seattle, Wash., for the removal of a large hill in the residential section of the city. The material consists principally of blue clay, which is exceedingly tenacious and hard to move, but is easily handled by a six-inch giant nozzle at 120-pound pressure hydraulic. The supply of water is taken from Puget Sound, some 2,500 feet distant.

Steel Telephone Wire.
A gang of expert thieves stripped telephone poles of wire for a distance of three blocks in Chicago, recently, and secured in all about 600 pounds of copper.

SCIENCE OF TEA-MAKING.

Ninety Per Cent. of Americans Do Not Know How to Brew Beverage.

That 90 per cent. of Americans do not know how to brew tea is the assertion made by L. Belling, who contributes an article on the subject to The Tea and Coffee Trade Journal. This is the more remarkable, if true, in that so few elements enter into success in this regard. We have only, it appears, to use good tea, see that our water is boiling, and not allow it to stand too long on the leaves. It would seem to be this last particular in which the American tea-brewer most often fails. Says Mr. Belling:

"A nauseating decoction is produced by housewife and servant-maid alike steeping the tea-leaves in boiling water."

teapot stand on the hot stove and adding hot water for a second, third, and often a fourth drawing. Tea, as a beverage, must possess extraordinary virtues and attraction for the human system, or it could not have survived such mistreatment and still retain so large a measure of popularity. . . .

"The correct preparation of tea becomes a simple matter when a few facts are kept in mind. The principal thing to see to is that the liquid tea is strained off from the leaves or grounds in from three to seven minutes, according to the kind of tea used and the strength desired. Unless this is done you can not expect to make good tea."

There are numerous devices to insure the separation of the tea from the leaves at the proper time. That shown in Fig. 1, where the leaves are placed in the perforated tank, is pronounced simple and good, but if the tank is not lifted out in time its purpose is defeated. In the form shown in Fig. 2 the leaves are placed in the upper section, and the pot is tilted back while the tea draws. In order to pour off the tea, the pot must be brought into the upright position, which automatically separates the leaves and the liquid. Where no special device is at hand the writer recommends the use of two pots, one for making the tea, and the other to hold it when poured off. In concluding, the author recapitulates his rules as follows:

Fig. 2.—An English Invention.

"1. Strain the tea from the tea-leaves in from three to seven minutes.
"2. Use fresh water that is really boiling.
"3. Let your teapots be of china or earthenware and warm them.
"4. Use one teaspoonful of tea or less, according to kind."

Novel Tunnel Device.
A novel feature in tunnel design devised by Mr. Charles M. Jacobs, the chief engineer to the Pennsylvania tunnels under the Hudson river, is found in the screw piles, which will be placed at intervals of 15 feet throughout the length of the tunnels.

While the all forming the bed of the river is sufficiently tenacious to hold the tunnels in perfect alignment during construction, it was not considered firm enough to do so when the tunnels are in use. To forestall this possible danger screw piles will be sunk to a solid foundation, and upon them the tunnel proper will rest. The piles will be 27 inches outside diameter, and the shell will be one and one-quarter inches thick. The sections will be seven feet in length, and will be bolted together through internal flanges. The lowest section will be cast with one turn of a screw four feet eight inches in diameter.

Wood as Strong as Iron.
Recent official tests of the many valuable hardwoods native to western Australia have made known the extraordinary properties of yate, believed to be the strongest of all known woods. Its average tensile strength is 24,000 pounds to the square inch, equaling that of good cast iron. But many specimens are much stronger, says Youth's Companion, and one was tested up to 17½ tons to the square inch, which is equal to the tensile strength of wrought iron. The sawn timber of yate is probably the strongest in the world. The tree grows to a maximum height of 100 feet, and has sometimes a diameter of two and one-half or even three feet.

Pollishing Paste.
Melt together two parts of paraffine and six parts of lubricating oil; then mingle with eight parts of infusorial earth one part of oleic acid and a few drops of oil of mirbane are to be added.

A Dreadful Sight.

to H. J. Barnum, of Freeville, N. Y., was the fever-sore that had plagued his life for years in spite of many remedies had tried. At last he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve he wrote: 'It has entirely healed with scarcely a scar left.' Heals Burns, Boils, Scalds, Cuts, Bruises, Swelling, Cancers and Wounds like magic. Only 25c at All Druggists.

AUTOMATIC TIME SWITCH.

Can Be Used to Open or Close the Circuit.

This device can be used to either open or close the circuit at any desired time. An alarm clock is firmly fastened to a wooden bracket and provided with a small wood or metal drum, A, to which is fastened a cord, B. The other end of the cord is tied to the switch handle so that when the alarm goes off the switch is either opened or closed, depending on whether the cord is passed over pulley C or pulley D.

When the cord is passed over pulley C, as shown in Fig. 1, the circuit will be closed when the alarm goes off, but if it is passed over D the circuit will be opened. Pulley D is fastened to a piece of spring steel, E, which in operation is bent, as shown by the dotted lines, thus, explains Popular Mechanics, causing the switch to snap open quickly and prevent forming an arc.

IMPROVING ELECTRIC LIGHT.

Cheap But Good Reflector for Incandescent Lamp.

A very good reflector for electric light bulbs, lantern globes, lamp chimneys, etc., is made as follows: With pen and ink lay out a circle on the bulb or chimney the size of the reflecting surface desired. Then give this section of the bulb two coats of aluminum lacquer or aluminum enamel. Do the coating while the lamp is lighted, so as to get the coating on evenly. To draw a circle on glass with a pen compass, paste a small piece of cardboard on the glass and push the center point of the compass into the cardboard.

NEW TELEPHONE SYSTEM.

Instrument Which Receives and Delivers Messages at Long Range.

The latest time-saving addition to business systems is a little instrument which enables the head of a business or department to converse with one or all of his subordinate officers in an ordinary tone of voice, in any part of his office, and without holding the apparatus to his ear or mouth. Their replies will come to him in like fashion, so that the whole conversation will be just the same as if all parties were talking together in one room. If the manager wishes to communicate with one person only, he can easily make it impossible for anyone else to overhear, and if he wishes to keep the replies secret from someone in his own office, there is a receiver which he can use in the ordinary way.

Poulsen Wireless Progressing.
Vladimir Poulsen, the Danish inventor, expects soon to establish wireless communication across the Atlantic from Denmark to America. He has erected a station a few miles from Copenhagen and an American station will be completed in a few weeks. His system is based on "singling" electric waves which, he says, have inexhaustible power, where the spark system loses energy over long distances. Mr. Poulsen first perfected his system for a distance of 40 miles, increasing it to 180, 380 and 760 miles; now he declares that he can operate over greater distances than the Atlantic's breadth.

Wireless Station on Airship.
The possibilities and practical utility of wireless telegraphy in aerial navigation will be thoroughly investigated aboard Count Zeppelin's airship this summer. A wireless station has been installed on the craft, in which, instead of extending upward as in other stations, the receiver extends downward, consisting of a bronze wire 300 feet long. Power from the airship's two 80-hp. motors works the transmitter, which is capable of sending messages 150 miles.

Nitrogen Gas.
The use of nitrogen gas has been tried in France for inflating tires.

Not A Word of Scandal.

marred the call of a neighbor on Mrs. W. P. Spaggs, of Manville, Wyo., who said: "My husband, Dr. King's New Life Pills had cured her of obstinate kidney trouble and made her feel like a new woman." Easy but sure remedy for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 25c at All Druggists.

HOW I WAS

CURED OF SCROFULA

"I was in a very bad condition with scrofulous swellings round my neck. It started with a bunch on the side of my neck and it kept growing until the whole side of my face was swollen."

"I had tried everything in the shape of medicines for five years. I had gone under an operation in one of the hospitals in Boston and had them cut out. I had thirty little tubular glands taken from back of my ear down my shoulder. After the cuts healed over they started to come again and worse than before."

"After suffering so much I thought I would try Pinkham's Blood Purifier and before I had taken two bottles there was a great change in the swellings. I continued its use and to-day I am a well woman. Every word of this is true."

"I cannot speak too highly in praise of Pinkham's Blood Purifier."—Mrs. W. H. HAYNES, 38 Adams Avenue, Everett, Mass.

The tendency to Scrofula seems to be hereditary and it is hard to overcome. It may lie dormant for years, and then break out anew from time to time.

The only known remedy for Scrofula is to keep the blood pure and rich by the use of a good blood purifier. It may require long treatment, but Mrs. Haynes found that Pinkham's Blood Purifier cured her of this dreadful disease, after all other means had failed.

Pinkham's Blood Purifier is equally as good for all diseases emanating from impure, impoverished blood, and is the best Spring medicine known. People will find the Blood Purifier just as reliable a remedy as the women of the world have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Unequalled—satisfying and dependable.

Another and the third national victory for FLANDERS "20" within a month. This time a clean sweep in America's hill climbing classic. The THREE speed FLANDERS "20" won event in her class Saturday at Worcester, Mass. climbing Dead Horse Hill in 1 minute 18.85 seconds, breaking all previous records for her class by 46 seconds, and defeating second car in her class by 37 seconds. She also beat records made by the following high powered and higher priced cars in other classes. Valie Buick Cole, Hudson, Firestone, Oakland, Cameron, Krit and Empire.

FLANDERS "20" was the lowest priced car in the contest. Dead Horse Hill is one mile long with a rise of over 400 feet to the mile. Newspaper accounts say course was slow because of bad surface and one very bad spot near finish line.

FLANDERS time better than time made in 1909 by any car less than three times her price. And faster than time made last year by any car but one of three times her size and price. She averaged a little over 46 miles an hour up to the eight per cent grade. Strictly stock chassis. Event run under A.A.A. rules and supervision. FLANDERS "20" was sensation of the sixty and seventy horse power cars barely beating her phenomenal performance.

Sending you photograph of WITT in victorious FLANDERS on the hill.

She has now only to win the three hundred mile Savanna Road Race to prove her invincibility in speed as she proved her reliability in the Little Glidden; her staying powers in Minneapolis, to Helena Montana reliability run, and her hill climbing qualities on Dead Horse Hill. Watch the little wonder at Savanna.

TO SAVE DEMOCRACY.

Democracy is the form of political government which best promotes freedom and social justice; hence the importance of considering the inroads which other authorities and powers have made since 1776 on our democratic liberties and of studying the means of resisting these inroads. We shall best praise the men of 1776 by trying to emulate under our new conditions their foresight, wisdom and courage.—Charles W. Elliot.

DICTIONARIES.

Dictionaries are like watches—the worst is better than none, and the best cannot be expected to go quite true.—Samuel Johnson.

LITTLE THINGS.

Little drops of water, little grains of sand,
Make the mighty ocean and the wondrous land.
Thus the little minutes, humble though they be,
Make the mighty ages of eternity.
Little deeds of kindness, little words of love,
Make our earth an Eden like the heaven above.
—Frances A. Cogges.

A LAKE OF FIRE.

But the Fire is Only Phosphorescent Water—It's in the Bahamas.

The Lake of Waterloo is a phosphorescent sheet of water a thousand feet long, near Nassau in the Bahamas. At night it is like a sheet of living fire if any wind is stirring to rattle its surface.

If the night be calm, says the Rosary Magazine, the water lies dark and still until some object sets it in motion. Little colored boys are ready to swim out into the lake, where they seem to be clothed in garments of flame, leaving a long trail of molten splendor behind them.

The cars when moving are as when dipped in fire, and if one holds up a handful of the water and lets it fall it looks like beads of gold, and the fish that dart here and there, startled by the visitors, leave flashes of mystic, glowing splendor behind them.

The clumsy turtles that move about look like balls of fire, and when it rains the lake is like a mass of phosphorescent water. This marvelous display of phosphorescence has never been accounted for, as the lake is of artificial formation, having been made for the breeding of turtles by a Nassau resident. The bed of the lake is cut out of solid limestone and it is filled from the sea, in which there is little of the phosphorescent quality.

DIOGENES' CASK.

The hub or cask that Diogenes lived in was a jar of the kind used for wine, as engravings on ancient monuments show. A has relief at the Villa Albani suggests, moreover, that the jar was a cracked one, unsuited for any other use than as a movable groto for the Greek philosopher to dwell in.

Fishhawk Gave Up Prey.

Alec Canova brought a three-pound trout to the Record office this morning and gave a very interesting description of the manner in which it was caught.

His son, Frank, observed a big fish hawk swoop down on the fish near Bar Creek, about a mile and a half north of town, and noted that the fish was of very respectable size. He watched the big bird until it hovered almost overhead but within close range, and he picked up a stone and with splendid accuracy hurled the missile at the hawk, striking it.

The bird dropped the trout and Frank ran forward and took charge of it. The head was torn open, but the body was uninjured except for the punctures made by the talons of the hawk.—St. Augustine Record.

His Good Fortune Fatal.

It is possible to live long in melancholy and to die swiftly from joy. So it has proved with a Paris carpenter named Fermet. He had worked for years in a chronic state of melancholy, aggravated by want of money, and all the circumstances seemed to point to a long continuance of this condition of things, when suddenly, and quite outside the poor fellow's expectations, there came to him the news the other morning that he was the possessor by bequest of the to him large sum of $2,000.

Fermet almost went frantic with delight. His nerves stood the recurrence of thrills all day, but in the evening he got among the Long-champs cafes and was relating his luck for about the twentieth time when he fell dead.

KINDLING FIRE.

The kindling of fire by the friction of dry sticks is a common practice among savages to-day. The Fiji Islanders do this; so also do the South Sea Islanders, the North American Indians, and the Peruvians.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for Circulars, free.

HOT WEATHER DRINKS.

Fruit Juices in Cold Water That Are Refreshing When the Mercury is High.

There is nothing like a refreshing ice cold beverage to keep the family spirits at the normal level when the temperature registers ninety odd in the shade. When carbonated water, ice cream and similar hot weather refreshments are within reach a constant variety of these drinks may be supplied. There is no need of serving lemonade continually. There are plenty of other drinks which are more economical and which can be prepared at a moment's notice—more quickly, in fact, than lemonade.

Fruit juice simply thinned with carbonated water makes a delicious drink, and chilled coffee or chocolate with a big spoonful of ice cream floating on top is sure to be appreciated.

The juice from a can of preserves may be thinned and used as a drink, with ice cream added to it, or better yet, it may be turned into an ice cream soda by adding carbonated water.

There are times when neither carbonated water nor ice cream is at hand and one must serve beverages without these attractions. It takes skill to prepare drinks quickly from fruit juices under these conditions, but still it can be done. A little currant jelly thinned with ice water is a good "minute" beverage with a tang.

In jelly making time some housekeepers are wise enough to lay aside some of the currant juice for use in such a beverage. They bottle the juice just before it is ready to "jell."

The strained juice of rhubarb thoroughly chilled makes another "minute" beverage with an attractive tang. The juice of grapefruit, if it can be obtained, makes still another drink of the same kind. One housewife serves it with a few cherries, either the preserved or the very ripe fresh fruit.

After preserving cherries, berries, pineapples and other summer fruits there is usually an abundance of superfluous juice on hand. This can be bottled separately for use in beverages. Thinned with water and poured into glasses over crushed ice it will be very refreshing and a change from the ever present lemonade. The pineapple juice left over from preserving makes nice drinks, and Gouffe recommends a drink from cherry juice.

The secret of making these beverages successfully lies in having an abundance of crushed ice in the glasses and everything as cold as possible, for fruit juices are likely to be cloying unless thoroughly chilled. Many persons think they don't like unfermented grape juice because it is usually served without ice. If one has scruples against the use of ice in a beverage the water used in thinning the fruit juice should be as cold as possible—in fact, almost freezing.

When time will allow, drinks prepared from fruit juice may be half frozen in the ice cream freezer, in which case they should be thinned considerably with water.

New Breakfast Cap.

A pretty new shape for the girl who likes to make herself dainty caps is oblong in line. It is made from a strip of all over embroidery or lace-dotted muslin is pretty and cheaper—cut wider in the middle than at each end. It is finished with lace insertion about an inch wide, and to this is overcast a ruffle of lace to match.

The ruffle is wider in front, tapering slightly toward ends. The cap when finished falls low on hair back of ears and is held there with a stuffy bow.

A BECOMING HAT.

There is little to choose in the matter of hat shapes as the season advances. All types are worn and seem equally pretty if a nice discrimination is shown in suiting the hat to the face above which it is to be worn. The outline of the style shown above is charmingly graceful and becoming, the little revers into which the brim rolls at the back producing a softened outline. The hat is olive green hemp, and around the crown is folded a ribbon of olive satin, terminating near the back in several outstanding loops beyond a large cluster of moss rose buds.

BIDDENDON CAKES.

They Are Given to the Poor on Easter
Morning.

Long years ago, nearly a thousand,
if the chroniclers speak the truth,
there lived in Biddendon, England,
twin sisters with charitable hearts,
who left in their wills a sum of money to be used for buying bread to give to the poor on Easter morning. For several hundred years plain loaves were distributed. At last, the exact date cannot be given, some one devised the Biddendon cake, which was made after the design of the illustration given.

In this the sisters were joined somewhat after the fashion of the Siamese twins.
By this time they had earned a name about the head, and would have been canonized had they been Romanists.
The date 1100 and their age, 54 years, were stamped on the cakes, which were distributed from the church steeple by the rector. Of late years this strange proceeding drew so many curiosity seekers that the present rector gave up the practice.

Memory Bells.
Memory bells are toys given by the Japanese youths to their sweethearts.
They are constructed of slips of glass so delicately joined that the least rebriation sets them ringing. The delicate tinkling serves to remind the owner of the giver; hence the pretty, fanciful name.

POWER OF ELECTRICITY.

Railways of the World to Be Operated By This Irresistible Force.

Electricity now completely dominates the urban railway systems of America and Europe, and is invading with irresistible force that of suburban and interurban railroads to such an extent that it would be difficult to enumerate them even in the United States.

The systems which reach out from Boston, with connections which extend 40, 50 and even 100 miles, are only a sample of the wonderful development of the last 15 years, while the projects for future means of transportation in New England are so comprehensive as to exclude the use of steam by all the companies which operate transportation lines for passengers and freight within a radii of 50 miles at least from all large centers of population.

A single line, from Indianapolis to Cincinnati, a distance of 130 miles, already enjoys a large traffic in both freight and passengers, and the New York Central railroad company proposes to at once install electricity in place of steam to a distance of 40 miles in all its vast system radiating from New York city.

In Europe one of the longest electric lines is from Liverpool to Southampton, although many projects of even more gigantic proportions are under way throughout England.

Most of these lines are in regions where there are not sufficient waterfalls from which to generate power. But where there are waterfalls—the surest, easiest and most economical source of energy in the world—there is no reason why the electric engine may not supersede steam entirely while it seems positive that a great region which has no railroads would, if lines were to be built, adopt the electric system, even though there were no water power, and having that, would not hesitate in the choice.

The Italian government, in conjunction with the railroads, has been carrying on successful experiments and extending the use of electricity for nearly ten years, and now a line is being fitted up from Rome to Civita Castellana.

The governments of Norway and Sweden are already occupied with the application of electricity to the larger lines; France is equipping roads with it as fast as possible, and being outdone by Germany; Switzerland is adopting it as rapidly as possible; Spain has awakened to the importance of electric railways, and is about to build one nearly 100 miles long; Mexico has just equipped one of over 100 miles, and the United States in many which are still larger. Even in Colombia, where there are practically no railroads, the most prominent engineers, in consultation with Free Reyes, are contemplating the utilization of the vast torrents now plunging to waste from the precipitous mountains, to operate new railroads which they declare will be "the wonder of the world."

Wrenn's make of Buggy is a guarantee that you get your money's worth. Why pay $20 more for an imitation when you can buy a Wrenn from $55 up?

We have over 2,000 Wrenn Buggies in use over six years that did not cost the users over $65 when new. I can save anyone needing a Buggy, Surrey or Runabout, $20. Come look them over.

Wagons, I have them—not the common ones, but the cheap ones. Cost $10 more, last twice as long.

Testimonial from H. Fillmore Lankford, Attorney-at-Law: "I have a Wrenn Surrey which has been in use twenty years, and it is a good one today. I had the tires cut after using nineteen years."

"Mr. Bounds came in last week and said: 'Mr. Taylor, I want a Runabout. I bought a Wrenn Buggy from you ten years ago, and I am still using it.' He bought another Wrenn. Best by test, cheapest on earth for the money."

PROCLAMATION

Publication of Proposed Constitutional Amendments.

Whereas, At the January Session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year of our Lord, MDCCLXXXIX, and Two, three Acts were passed, one proposing an Amendment to Article 3 of the Constitution, by adding thereto a Section to be known as Section 3; one proposing an Amendment to Section 2 of Article 3 of said Constitution, and one proposing an Amendment to Section 4 of Article 3 of said Constitution, said Acts being respectively Chapters 228, 203 and 218 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1910, and which are in the words following, to wit:

CHAPTER 228.

An Act to propose an Amendment to Article 1 of the Constitution of this State by adding thereto a new Section, to be known as Section 3, to follow Section 2 and to provide for the submission of said Amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, three-fifths of all members of each of the two houses concurring, that the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an Amendment to Article 1 of the Constitution of this State, which said section, if adopted by the qualified voters of this State, shall stand as an additional section to said Article 1, to be known as Section 3, to follow Section 2, of said Article.

Section 2. All State and municipal elections shall be conducted by the system commonly known as the Australian Ballot System, and it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to provide by law for a form of ballot, uniform throughout the State, for use at all State elections in this State, and provide that on said ballot after the name of each candidate thereon who may have been duly nominated as the candidate of any political party or organization, there shall be printed the legal name of said party or organization; equal representation of the minority party among the judges and clerks of election registers or other officers performing similar functions shall not be abolished by the General Assembly unless by a vote of four-fifths of all the members of each house.

The right to be registered as a qualified voter and the right to vote at any State or municipal election in this State shall be limited to the following persons: First: Every male white citizen not disqualified by the Second or Third Sections of this Article, possessing the qualifications as to age and residence mentioned in Section 1 of this Article, who at the time of his application for registration is the bona fide owner of real or personal property, or both, in an amount of not less than five hundred dollars, as assessed thereon in the tax books of the City of Baltimore or of one of the Counties of this State, has been such owner and so assessed for two years next preceding his application for registration, shall have paid and shall produce receipts for the taxes on said property for said two years, and at the time of his application make affidavit before the officers of registration that he is the bona fide owner of the property so assessed to him and that he has been such owner for two years next preceding his application.

If any person other than those herein mentioned shall be or become legally entitled to be registered as voters at State Elections in this State, then this section shall be null and void and the General Assembly shall present the same for reconsideration, and if this section had never been adopted, and the laws of this State, including the local laws applicable to certain counties thereof, relating to the form of ballot to be used at elections, in force on the first day of July in the year nineteen hundred and ten, shall revive or continue in force until altered by the General Assembly notwithstanding any Acts to the contrary which may have been passed while the terms of this section shall have been in force or while the General Assembly shall have believed or assumed the provisions of this section to be valid.

Section 2. And be it further enacted, by the authority aforesaid, that the foregoing section hereby proposed as an Amendment to the Constitution shall be at the next General Election held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at said General Election the vote on the said proposed Amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot shall be printed the words, "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due return shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed Amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution.

Now, Therefore, I Austin L. Crothers, Governor of the State of Maryland, in pursuance of the provisions of Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that a copy of each of the Acts proposing said Amendments be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State, where so many may be published, in any county where not more than one newspaper may be published, then in that newspaper of the City of Baltimore, one of which shall be in the German language, once a week for at least three months preceding the election of 1911, at which said election said proposed amendments shall be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Maryland, Done at the City of Annapolis, this first day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

AUSTIN L. CROTHERS,

Governor of Maryland.

By the Governor, N. WILBLOW WILLIAMS,

Secretary of State.

FOR HUSBANDS.

Never allow any one to be more important to your wife's comfort and amusement than you yourself.

Notice her clothes at least once or twice a season. Instead of only noticing the bills.

Though you cannot foresee your wife's moods and perhaps cannot always sympathize with them, try to understand and be silent.

When she is cross be consolingly but not provokingly cheerful.

Don't call her "my dear" when there are guests at dinner and "yuh" all the rest of the time.

Disagree with her opinions if you like, but don't make fun of them.

If your wife has a heart to the exclusion of a brain don't expect her to think with the former.

If you wish to convince her that you are a good husband show her that you still continue to be a good lover.

A husband's duties include willingness to go halfway in any reconciliation—a self-respecting woman cannot abase herself utterly—consideration for the fact that his wife is a weaker physical organism and recognition of her possible mental equality or even supremacy.

Remember that you are not your wife's servant nor she yours, but that you're both on the equal plane of perfect, harmonious friendship.—Mrs. Wilson Woodrow.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

While we have not had time to thoroughly study the platform adopted in Baltimore a cursory glance will show that it is one of the most progressive and best ones ever adopted in Maryland. With it the party ought to win easily. We will take it up more thoroughly next week. This paper has not placed the State and County Democratic ticket at the head of its columns this week. Both will be placed there later and both receive the hearty support of this paper.

DIRECT PRIMARIES.

Our party leaders should not allow themselves to accept without question the proposition that the defeat of the Lee Primary Law in the recent primary election should be construed as a repudiation of the principle of making our nominations by the direct vote of the people. Everyone is fully aware that for one cause or another the party leaders were practically a unit in their opposition to the adoption of the law. Also that they were joined in this opposition by a majority of the candidates as well as those who in the near future hope to hold office, yet with the combined weight of the organization, candidates and candidates to be, the law was lost by a majority less than 200.

Many of the leaders, together with a large number of others voted against the adoption because they did not like many of the provisions of the proposed Law, and not because they were opposed to the principle of direct primaries. A simple and effective law would have received the enthusiastic support of these.

An analysis of the vote in the various districts will show that those districts usually regarded as "wet pockets" districts cast practically their entire vote against the measure, showing that the power that be, were opposed to the measure. The districts giving majorities against the proposed law for their majorities follow:

Quantico 74, Tyeckin 33, Nanticoke 71, Willards 64, Sharptown 50, Nutters 52, Barren Creek 48, Trappe 2.

The other districts all went in favor of the bill.

Even taking the vote on its face, admitting the argument that the people of their own free will and accord voted as they felt on this measure, then the majority against it is so small that the democratic party cannot well afford to regard it settled. The democrats in favor, some 1100 strong, form a minority so respectable that it would be poor policy to ignore their wishes. A change of mind in 100 voters would reverse the verdict. It must not be overlooked that the voters of this county have had, in the past two primaries, a chance to make their nominations direct, and having had a taste will hardly be satisfied with any other method. Our leaders should remember that direct nominations are in keeping with the progressive spirit of the day, advocated by the ablest men of state and nation regardless of party and that a return to the old form and customs will be looked upon by many as a distinct step backward. Those in charge of the party's destiny must assume the responsibility, and if the old discredited convention plan of making nominations is returned to, be prepared to meet the storm of protest which will greet the first ticket so nominated unless we have sided up the temper of the voters in this county wrong.

The proper course to pursue, and we believe the wisest policy, is to suggest a primary law for this county as simple as it can be made and yet be effective. The two main essentials of this law should be secrecy in voting and proper provisions for party affiliation. The same safeguards and protection which are now thrown around our general elections should be thrown around our primaries.

But little heed need be given to the cry that this method of nominating our ticket will, if persisted in, split the party. If the party is split it will be the fault of the leaders fighting for personal prestige and not the fault of direct nominations. The same might be said of the old method of nominating. For instance, when the leaders failed to agree this year would a convention controlled by them have been peaceful and harmonious. No one ever wants to see another primary in this county conducted and run as was this one, filled as it was with misrepresentation, intemperance and double dealing—but who is to blame, the system or those who made the conditions in order to carry through their own plans? If any feeling has been engendered let the blame, if blame there be, be laid at the proper doors.

IMPROVED CONCRETE WALL.

Construction Which Will Prevent Penetration of Dampness.

As concrete absorbs moisture as readily as brick, it is obvious that dampness will penetrate a solid concrete wall and appear as beads or sweat on the plastering. For this reason concrete building blocks are formed with air spaces. But this does not entirely remedy the defect, because certain sections of the block which divide the air spaces form a solid mass extending from the outer to the inner side of the block, permitting the moisture to percolate unobstructed to the inner surface. To overcome this, as well as other difficulties generally encountered, Mr. John G. von Hofe, has invented a new type of hollow building block and a new form of wall construction, which the Scientific American illustrates in the accompanying engraving—a veneer of hollow blocks bonded to an air-spaced monolith mass. The block is narrow, being adapted to be used as an ornamental veneer for a continuous concrete wall.

An Improved Wall Construction.

A recess is molded in the end of each block with a semicircular opening in the rear wall, and when two blocks are placed end to end, the adjacent recesses form a chamber, to which access is provided at the rear through a circular port formed by the two adjacent openings. This chamber being larger than the port serves as an undercut cavity or T-shaped lock. In constructing the wall the veneer blocks are set up in courses which break joints in the usual manner, and the concrete is poured in between them and a temporary backing. The material flows into the undercut cavities, securely bonding the blocks to the concrete wall. Each block is formed with air spaces, which registers with similar spaces in the courses above and below, so that continuous vertical air passages are formed throughout the wall. The concrete wall is also poured to form air passages back of each joint in the veneer, so that moisture seeping through the joint will be arrested by the air space. The invention can be applied to face brick, terra cotta, or cement blocks, and the face of the blocks can be molded to represent cut or rough stone, or any other desired pattern. The system may be employed on the tallest reinforced concrete structure, eliminating the expense of forming front panels for the face of the wall, while plain or ornamental designs can be molded at a cost only a trifle over that of the concrete displaced by the blocks.

Another and the third national victory for FLANDERS "20" within a month. This time a clean sweep in America's hill climbing classic. The THREE speed FLANDERS "20" won event in her class Saturday at Worcester, Mass. climbing Dead Horse Hill in 1 minute 18.85 seconds, breaking all previous records for her class by 46 seconds, and defeating second car in her class by 37 seconds. She also beat records made by the following high powered and higher priced cars in other classes. Velie Buick Cole, Hudson, Firestone, Oakland, Cameron, Krit and Empire.

FLANDERS "20" was the lowest priced car in the contest. Dead Horse Hill is one mile long with a rise of over 400 feet to the mile. Newspaper accounts say course was slow because of bad surface and one very bad spot near finish line.

FLANDERS time better than time made in 1909 by any car less than three times her price. And faster than time made last year by any car but one of three times her size and price. She averaged a little over 46 miles an hour up to the eight per cent grade. Strictly stock chassis. Event run under A.A.A. rules and supervision. FLANDERS "20" was sensation of the sixty and seventy horse power cars barely beating her phenomenal performance.

Sending you photograph of WITT in victorious FLANDERS on the hill.

She has now only to win the three hundred mile Savanna Road Race to prove her invincibility in speed as she proved her reliability in the Little Glidden; her staying powers in Minneapolis, to Helena Montana reliability run, and her hill climbing qualities on Dead Horse Hill. Watch the little wonder at Savanna.

The County Commissioners of Wicomico County hereby give notice that the report of George E. Jackson, Minor P. If the County Commissioners' meeting is postponed from this date, the report will be taken up at the next meeting of the Board. Objection to the ratification must be made before noon on above date.

NOTICE TO Taxpayers

Notice is hereby given that all taxes due and in arrears must be settled without further delay. The 1910 taxes will be adjudged in arrears after Nov. 1st. All taxes due on years previous to 1910 are in arrears and must be settled at once.

THOMAS PERRY,
Treasurer.TO SAVE DEMOCRACY.

Democracy is the form of political government which best promotes freedom and social justice; hence the importance of considering the inroads which other authorities and powers have made since 1776 on our democratic liberties and of studying the means of resisting these inroads. We shall best praise the men of 1776 by trying to emulate under our new conditions their foresight, wisdom and courage.—Charles W. Elliot.

DICTIONARIES.

Dictionaries are like watches—the worst is better than none, and the best cannot be expected to go quite true.—Samuel Johnson.

LITTLE THINGS.

Little drops of water, little grains of sand,
Make the mighty ocean and the wondrous land.
Thus the little minutes, humble though they be,
Make the mighty ages of eternity.
Little deeds of kindness, little words of love,
Make our earth an Eden like the heaven above.
—Frances, B. Oggood.

A LAKE OF FIRE.

But the Fire is Only Phosphorescent Water—it's in the Bahamas.

The Lake of Waterloo is a phosphorescent sheet of water a thousand feet long, near Nassau in the Bahamas. At night it is like a sheet of living fire if any wind is stirring to ruffle its surface.

If the night be calm, says the Rotary Magazine, the water lies dark and still until some object sets it in motion. Little colored boys are ready to swim out into the lake, where they seem to be clothed in garments of flame, leaving a long trail of molten splendor behind them.

The cars when rowing are as when dipped in fire, and if one holds up a handful of the water and lets it fall it looks like beads of gold, and the fish that dart here and there, startled by the visitors, leave flashes of myotic, glowing splendor behind them.

The clumsy turtles that move about look like balls of fire, and when it rains the lake is like a mass of jewels. This marvelous display of phosphorescence has never been accounted for, as the lake is of artificial formation, having been made for the breeding of turtles by a Nassau resident. The bed of the lake is cut out of solid limestone and it is filled from the sea, in which there is little of the phosphorescent quality.

DIOGENES' CASK.

The hub or cask that Diogenes lived in was a jar of the kind used for wine, as engravings on ancient monuments show. A bas relief at the Villa Albani suggests, moreover, that the jar was a cracked one, unsuited for any other use than as a movable abode for the Greek philosopher to dwell in.

Fleshhawk Gave Up Prey.

Alec Canova brought a three-pound trout to the Record office this morning and gave a very interesting description of the manner in which it was caught.

His son, Frank, observed a big fish hawk swoop down on the fish near Bar Creek, about a mile and a half north of town, and noted that the fish was of very respectable size. He watched the big bird until it hovered almost overhead but within close range, and he picked up a stone and with splendid accuracy hurled the missile at the hawk, striking it.

The bird dropped the trout and Frank ran forward and took charge of it. The head was torn open, but the body was uninjured except for the puncture made by the talons of the hawk.—St. Augustine Record.

His Good Fortune Fatal.

It is possible to live long in melancholy and to die swiftly from Joy. So it has proved with a Paris carpenter named Fernet. He had worked for years in a chronic state of melancholy, aggravated by want of money, and all the circumstances seemed to point to a long continuance of this condition of things, when suddenly, and quite outside the poor fellow's expectations, there came to him the news the other morning that he was the possessor by bequest of the to him large sum of £2,000.

Fernet almost went frantic with delight. His nerves stood the recurrence of thrills all day, but in the evening he got among the Long-champs cafes and was relating his luck for about the twentieth time when he fell dead.

KINDLING FIRE.

The kindling of fire by the friction of dry sticks is a common practice among savages to-day. The Fiji Islanders do this; so also do the South Sea Islanders, the North American Indians, and the Peruvians.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever: nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for Circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

HOT WEATHER DRINKS.

Fruit Juices in Cold Water That Are Refreshing When the Mercury is High.

There is nothing like a refreshing ice cold beverage to keep the family spirits at the normal level when the temperature registers ninety odd in the shade. When carbonated water, ice cream and similar hot weather refreshments are within reach a constant variety of these drinks may be supplied. There is no need of serving lemonade continually. There are plenty of other drinks which are more economical and which can be prepared at a moment's notice—more quickly, in fact, than lemonade.

Fruit juice simply thinned with carbonated water makes a delicious drink, and chilled coffee or chocolate with a big spoonful of ice cream floating on top is sure to be appreciated.

The juice from a can of preserves may be thinned and used as a drink, with ice cream added to it, or, better yet, it may be turned into an ice cream soda by adding carbonated water.

There are times when neither carbonated water nor ice cream is at hand and one must serve beverages without these attractions. It takes skill to prepare drinks quickly from fruit juices under these conditions, but still it can be done. A little current jelly thinned with ice water is a good "minute" beverage with a tang. In jelly making time some housekeepers are wise enough to lay aside some of the current juice for use in such a beverage. They bottle the juice just before it is ready to "jell."

The strained juice of rhubarb thoroughly chilled makes another "minute" beverage with an attractive tang. The juice of grapefruit, if it can be obtained, makes still another drink of the same kind. One housewife serves it with a few cherries, either the preserved or the very ripe fresh fruit.

After preserving cherries, berries, pineapples and other summer fruits there is usually an abundance of superfluous juice on hand. This can be bottled separately for use in beverages. Thinned with water and poured into glasses over crushed ice it will be very refreshing and a change from the ever present lemonade. The pineapple juice left over from preserving makes nice drinks, and Gonfle recommends a drink from cherry juice.

The secret of making these beverages successfully lies in having an abundance of crushed ice in the glasses and everything as cold as possible, for fruit juices are likely to be cloying unless thoroughly chilled. Many persons think they don't like underfermented grape juice because it is usually served without ice. If one has scruples against the use of ice in a beverage the water used in thinning the fruit juice should be as cold as possible—in fact, almost freezing.

When time will allow, drinks prepared from fruit juice may be half frozen in the ice cream freezer, in which case they should be thinned considerably with water.

New Breakfast Cap.

A pretty new shape for the girl who likes to make herself dainty caps is oblong in line. It is made from a strip of all over embroidery or lace-dotted muslin, is pretty and cheap—cut wider in the middle than at each end. It is finished with lace insertion about an inch wide, and to this is overcast a ruffle of lace to match.

The ruffle is wider in front, tapering slightly toward ends. The cap when finished falls low on hair back of ears and is held there with a fluffy bow.

Eyebrow Embroidery.

Eyebrow embroidered material may well be called the popular one of the summer season. It is used alone and also in combination with cloth, heavy basket weave linens, voiles and marquisettes. It is made up with straight tub frocks and into plain shirt waists, with high neck, long sleeves and front plait, finished with a full ruffle.

A BECOMING HAT.

There is little to choose in the matter of hat shapes as the season advances. All types are worn and seem equally pretty if a nice discrimination is shown in suiting the hat to the face above which it is to be worn. The outline of the style shown above is charmingly graceful and becoming, the little revers into which the brim rolls at the back producing a softened outline. The hat is olive green tann, and around the crown is folded a ribbon of olive satin, terminating near the back in several outstanding loops beyond a large cluster of moss rose buds.

BIDDENDON CAKES.

They Are Given to the Poor on Easter
Morning.

Long years ago, nearly a thousand,
if the chroniclers speak the truth,
there lived in Biddendon, England,
twin sisters with charitable hearts,
who left in their wills a sum of money
to be used for buying bread to give to the poor on Easter morning. For several hundred years plain loaves were distributed. At last, the exact date cannot be given, some one devised the cake.

Biddendon cake, which was made after the design of the illustration given in this the sisters were joined, somewhat after the fashion of the Biddendon twins. By this time they had earned rays about the head, and would have been canonized had they been Romanists. The date 1100 and their age, 34 years, were stamped on the cakes, which were distributed from the church steeple by the rector. Of late years this strange proceeding drew so many curiosity seekers that the present rector gave up the practice.

Memory. Relate.

Memory balls are toys given by the Japanese, usually to their sweethearts. They are constructed of slips of glass, and delicately poised that the least vibration sets them swinging. The delicate tinkling serves to remind the owner of the giver; hence the pretty, fanciful name.

Testimonial from H. Fillmore Linkford, Attorney-at-Law: "I have a Wrenn Buggy which has been in use twenty years, and it is a good one today. I had the tires out after using nineteen years."

Wrenn's make of Buggy is a guarantee that you get your money's worth. Why pay $20 more for an imitation when you can buy a Wrenn from $65 up?

Wagons, I have them—not the common ones, but the cheap ones. Cost $10 more, last twice as long.

"Mr. Bounds came in last week and said: 'Mr. Taylor, I want a Runabout. I bought a Wrenn Buggy from you ten years ago, and I am still using it.' He bought another Wrenn. Best by test, cheapest on earth for the money."

Whereas, At the January Session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Ten, three Acts were passed, one proposing an Amendment to Article 1 of the Constitution, by adding thereto a Section to be known as Section 9; one proposing an Amendment to Section 2 of Article 3 of said Constitution, and one proposing an Amendment to Section 4 of Article 3 of said Constitution, said Acts being respectively Chapters 22, 23 and 24 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1910, and which are in the words following, to wit:

CHAPTER 22.
An Act to propose an Amendment to Article 1 of the Constitution of this State by adding thereto a new Section, to be known as Section 9, to follow Section 7 and to provide for the submission of said Amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all members of each of the two Houses concurring), that the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an Amendment to Article 1 of the Constitution of this State, which said section, if adopted by the qualified voters of this State, shall read as an additional section to be known as Section 9, to follow Section 7, of said Article.

Section 2. If any person other than those herein mentioned shall be or become legally entitled to be registered as voters at State elections in this State, then this section shall be null and void and the General Assembly shall possess the same powers as if this section had never been adopted, and the laws of this State, including the local laws applicable to certain counties thereof, relating to the form of ballot to be used at elections, in force on the first day of July in the year nineteen hundred and ten, shall revive or continue in force until altered by the General Assembly notwithstanding any Act to the contrary which may have been passed while the terms of this section shall have been in force or while the General Assembly shall have believed or assumed the provisions of this section to be valid.

Section 2. And be it further enacted, by the authority aforesaid, that the foregoing section hereby proposed as an Amendment to the Constitution shall be at the next General Election of this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at said General Election the vote on the said proposed Amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot shall be written or printed the words, "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment" as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed Amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution.

FOR HUSBANDS.

Never allow any one to be more important to your wife's comfort and amusement than you yourself.

Notice her clothes at least once or twice a season. Instead of only noticing the bills. Though you cannot foresee your wife's moods and perhaps cannot always sympathize with them, try to understand and be silent.

When she is cross be consolingly but not provokingly cheerful.

Don't call her "my dear" when there are guests at dinner and "yuh" all the rest of the time. Disagree with her opinions if you like, but don't make fun of them.

If your wife has a heart to the exclusion of a brain don't expect her to think with the former.

If you wish to convince her that you are a good husband show her that you still continue to be a good lover.

A husband's duties include willingness to go halfway in any reconciliation—a self respecting woman cannot abase herself utterly—consideration for the fact that his wife is a weaker physical organism and recognition of her possible mental equality or even supremacy.

Remember that you are not your wife's servant nor she yours, but that you're both on the equal plane of perfect, harmonious friendship.—Mrs. Wilson Woodrow.

'POETIC PHILOSOPHY.

For time will tell these soon the truth.

There are no birds in last year's nest.

—Longfellow.

But optics sharp it needs, I ween.

To see what is not to be seen.

—John Trumbull.

Men in earnest have no time to waste

In patching up leaves for the naked truth.

—Lowell.

Poets lose half the praise they should have got

Could it be known what they discreetly blot.

—Waller.

THE TRUMPETER.

I blew, I blew, the trumpet loudly sounding;

I blew, I blew, the heart within me bounding.

The world was fresh and fair, yet dark with wrong.

And men stood forth to conquer at the song.

I blew, I blew, I blew.

The field is won; the minstrels loud are crying.

And all the world is peace, and I am dying.

Yet this forgotten life was not in vain.

Enough if I alone recall the strain.

I blew, I blew, I blew.

—T. W. Higginson.

PREVENTION OF WAR.

The war of 1812 might certainly have been avoided by arbitration. The questions there presented have all been settled by the judgment of mankind in favor of our side of the controversy.

The war with Mexico, though there is some dispute over this, was one of the questions capable of solution by an impartial tribunal. Whether the civil war could have been avoided is a very difficult question to answer.

When slavery has become involved in the social fiber of a country it is possible that only an erosion by a war knife can remove the cancer.

Nor shall I attempt to answer a similar question as to the Spanish war. It is one of those instances or internal dissension, like the civil war, and yet I believe that the submission of the issues to a tribunal might have affected Spain's treatment of Cuba in such a way that we could have avoided a resort to arms.—President Taft.

THE CITY CHURCH.

Its doors stand open to the busy street.

Within are silence and soft solitude.

Without, the tread of countless passing feet.

A careless people, old with unbelief.

Incredulous of creeds and simple faith.

Pass by impatiently, and only Grief

Stands hesitant before the open door.

Old, world old Grief, too tired for new creeds.

Seeking the simple faith it knew before.

—Anne Buncker.

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. GIANT CUTTLE-FISH.

Two Remarkable Models Added to a British Museum.

Two remarkable models of giant cuttle-fish have just been placed in the shell-fish gallery of the Natural History Museum at South Kensington, England. One of these is of an octopus from the west coast of North America, which measures no less than 20 feet across the great arms that make these creatures so terrible to divers, and even to bathers.

The other is of a huge "squid" from Newfoundland, which from the tip of its longest tentacles to the tip of its tail, measures just 40 feet! The longest tentacles, just returned to, are represented by a pair of terrible grasping organs just 30 feet long. During rest they are withdrawn into the body until they project no further than the remainder of the tentacles; when pursuing prey, however, this creature, so soon as he has come within striking distance of his victim, shoots out the long arms like a pair of piston-rods; and these being armed with their tips with a cluster of powerful suckers, escape it impossible for anything upon which they may have fastened. When the writhing victim is once grasped it is drawn and pushed nearer and nearer to the great and horrid beak, which, shaped like that of a parrot, tears the living body in pieces with merciless fury.

At times even the cuttle-fish, however, may meet his match. If possible, conflict is avoided; a way of escape being found by the ingenious and effective device of ejecting clouds of ink in the face of the pursuer, the ejector, under cover of the cloud, making good his retreat by darting backwards, as the result of a stream of water ejected from a special tube, known as the "siphon." This ink furnishes the pigment, beloved of painters, known as "sepia;" and even its fossil state still retains its power. It must not be supposed by the way, that such giants are peculiarly American products. Specimens quite as large have been obtained in British waters!

A Spider's Wonderful Eyes.

The Attus family of spiders, abounding in Java, have, in addition to numerous smaller eyes, a pair of large ones, which writers have called "gig-lamp" eyes. A specimen of the spider, captured recently near Buitenzorg, exhibited a remarkable power of changing the color of its "gig-lamps," says Youth's Companion. When it was captured the eyes were dark brown, like the body. But suddenly they changed to bright grass-green. Soon afterward they turned back again from green to brown, and this change of color was repeated several times in succession apparently at the will of the creature. Whether it was an effort of the spider to inspire terror in its enemy or an effect of its own terror is uncertain. Another singular fact is that the color of either one or both eyes could thus be changed.

Peculiarity of Crazy People.

Crazy people never act together, declares the superintendent of a large asylum for the insane, quoted in the Medical Times (New York, April). "If one inmate attacks an attendant, as sometimes happens, the others would look upon it as an affair of theirs and simply watch it out. The moment we discover two or more inmates working together we would know they were on the road to recovery." It is on this account that there are so few concerted mutinies in insane asylums; so that the number of attendants does not have to be large.

Gas in Mines.

Gas in mines in hard rock often shows a marked increase when the barometer is low.

and Nanaimo railway over the Niagara canyon in Vancouver Island, B. C., is 585 feet long, and the rails are 195 feet above the water. The trestle, which contains about three-quarters of a million feet of timber, says Railway and Locomotive Engineering, was built when timber was cheaper and steel bridges not so much in use. The wooden bridge and the wooden trestle are purely American products, although invented by Leonardo da Vinci in the sixteenth century.

NOTIFICATION NEXT

Tuesday—Party Workers Will Bend Every Effort To Secure A Full Supplemental Registration.

The Democratic State Central Committee will meet next Wednesday at the Putnam House, Baltimore, and outline plans for the general campaign and take up the question of registration.

Next Tuesday the State candidates of the party will be formally notified of their nominations at Fairview, Howard County, the home of Senator Arthur P. Gorman, and it is expected that many of the County Democrats who will attend the notification will remain in Baltimore to attend the committee meeting.

While the party workers will begin the campaign immediately after the notification, they also will devote much attention to the supplementary registration, which is vastly important. Strenuous efforts will be made to have every Democratic voter who is not registered enrolled on the books, so that he can participate in the election in November. Special attention will also be paid to the transfer of voters.

In the counties the registrars will sit on October the 3rd and 10th and for revision on October the 17th.

Voters who are already enrolled and have not changed their residences since the last election are not required to register.

It, from six months prior to election day, a voter has moved from one legislative district to another, he is required to transfer from his old voting place to that of his new residence. If he has moved from one district to another and has not lived at his new home for six months prior to election day, a transfer is not required, as he is allowed to vote at his old voting place.

Throughout the State Democrats will keep a close watch on voters who have changed their residences, and efforts will be made to have them transfer and properly register.

How They'll Be Notified.

The final arrangements for the notification of the candidates are being made. The notification committee, which will consist of two members from each county and legislative district of Baltimore, will be announced by General Joseph B. Seth, who was chairman of the convention. Those in charge of the notification expect an unusually large crowd. Already hundreds of automobile parties have been arranged, while many others will go to Laurel by train and then be taken to Senator Gorman's home in automobiles.

The notification meeting will be held on the lawn in front of the Senator's home. Senator Jesse D. Price of Wicomico County, will notify him of his nomination, while Mr. Poe will be notified by former Judge Glen Worthington, of the Court of Appeals, and Mr. Harrington by W. Mason Sheehan, of Talbot County.

EAST SIDE GETS ROAD

Work On DuPont Road Begins—Land Values Jump.

Sept. 9, 1911.

Dear Sir—I regret very much so far as you gentlemen and few others are concerned that I have strongly recommended and the Commissioners have accepted the route on the other side of the State. Personally I had hoped to see my way clear to strongly urge the route through Seaford because I make frequent trips through Delaware to my home on the Eastern Shore of Maryland and the route through Seaford would have saved sixteen miles of very unpleasant and rough road. The people on the Eastern route, however, showed their desire for the road to an extent that they gave between 80 and 90 per cent in right of ways while the people on the Western route did not offer more than 50 per cent in right of ways and wanted exorbitant prices for the other 50 per cent. Of course this fact alone did not locate the road because right of way at $100 an acre would not cost as much as the asphalt for an acre, but the spirit is what influenced me most.

I want to take this occasion, however, to thank you personally for your kindness and for the hard work you and others did towards locating the road on the Western side of the State and if you will kindly express my feeling to your associates for the work they did in this matter, I shall appreciate it very much.

With assurances of kindest personal regards, believe me,

Very truly yours,

COLEMAN DU PONT.

A dispatch from Georgetown about the work and land values follows:

Work On DuPont Road Begun.

Men, teams and supplies of all kinds began to arrive in Georgetown Monday and Tuesday marked the real beginning in Delaware of the State Boulevard which General T. Coleman DuPont will build at an expense of two and a half million of dollars. It will run from the northern boundary of the State to the Maryland line. The new road is to be thirty feet wide while to feet additional is to be used along the road by General DuPont for his own private purposes, the removed one being either an electric railroad or a part of the Washburn with its terminal at Lewes where it would connect with the Seaboard it has been fighting so long to secure.

The work on the big road begins in Georgetown and will run south through Millsboro to Selbyville, that part of the road being the first that will be completed. Engineers on the road stated today that the road will be built on a high grade, and that the direct superintendency of B. J. Warren, of Boston, who is the inventor of the road material and arrived in Georgetown yesterday to take personal charge of the work.

This will be the first county road to be constructed of the material and when finished it is expected to be as smooth as a city pavement. Monsieur Sterns of France, and Mr. Atkins, of Scotland, are consulting engineers took up their offices in the DuPont headquarters at Georgetown today and the road is expected to be pushed speedily with six contractors at the work.

Land Values Jump.

Land values jumped to the sky along the route of the old DuPont Boulevard. In Millsboro the prices jumped the highest many of the farms selling for three and four times the prices their owners had paid. Millsboro and Georgetown and Georgetown and Georgetown. One Elias Ellis owned fifty acres of land with scrub oak bushes on it that three weeks ago he bought for $260. Yesterday he sold it for $2400. Another farm of fifty six acres, considered poor land, was sold by Able Ableman for $1000, for which he had only paid $200. The scene was almost that of a Western boom town, and those who would sell had no trouble in getting buyers. In many cases the farms change hands two or three times, each buyer making a bonus, one colored man, who has paid $600 for his farm refused a cash offer of $400. Land on the DuPont route will be sold for high figures, but many of the farms are coming into town and the stores of Georgetown are beginning to be crowded with buyers.

One place will certainly feel the increase of business and that will be the Record of Deeds office in Georgetown, where arrangements have been made to secure help to handle the big increase of business that is coming in. From the boulevard alone, hundreds of deeds will be brought in to be recorded as every man who has given a right of way will now give a deed for the 300 feet to General DuPont and each deed will have to be recorded. In all there will be 968 acres of land in Sussex County now being sold over to DuPont for the road, and for each farm there will have to be a deed drawn and recorded.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Postponed—No Nominations Made—Adjourns To Sept. 26th.

The delegates to the Republican County Convention met in Salisbury on Tuesday in the Green and Brewington Auditorium on Main Street. Little was done at this Convention but to discuss the advisability of putting a full County ticket in the field this fall, and the men who should be nominated in that case. While no definite conclusion was reached the impression seems to be that a ticket will be nominated at the adjourned meeting to be held on September the 26th. A number of possible candidates for the various offices were discussed and a determination manifested to get the best possible men to make the fight.

Dr. S. A. Graham, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants Bank, was spoken of as a candidate for County Treasurer and doubtless will receive the nomination if he will consent to serve. Other men for the rest of the County Ticket were discussed in a general way.

Mr. E. D. Grier was elected chairman of the meeting and Mr. E. Dale Adkins, secretary. After a roll call of the delegates the convention settled down to the consideration of nominating a county ticket. There were several suggestions made looking towards the nomination of a ticket but it was finally decided to adjourn the convention until Tuesday, September the 26th, at which time the convention will be assembled in Salisbury to nominate the county ticket.

An Army of Clowns Will Be Here.

The Downie and Wheeler's World's Best Shows Combined present along with their comedy department this year, numerous prominent jesters, commonly called "Clowns." Frank Belmont and Al. E. Wheeler, Jr., are the principal jesters and associated with them are thirty Kings of the Clowning World. Along with these funny chaps, others also assist with comical antics. When intermingling with citizens on the streets none of them would be suspected of wearing the loose robes of a fool, but when they are in the ring with their make-up on, they laugh and the crowd laughs with them. A jolly lot, who will certainly help to unload, at least temporarily, the cares from the minds of thousands of people.

Clowning is an art of itself, the best clowns are born, not made. The fun department of the Downie and Wheeler's Combined Shows is fully up to the standard of its other department; in fact, many people will testify to the statement that the clowns with this show are worth the price of admission, their work is appreciated, as the present strenuous life of most people causes them to relish a little pure nonsense now and then. Everything in all departments of the Downie and Wheeler Circus this year is positively new, refreshing and up-to-date. Artists, performers, producers of novelties from everywhere on the face of the globe, forming the most wonderful diversified, and pleasing show the world has ever seen. The big show will exhibit in Salisbury, Md., on September the 26th.

BUSINESS FIRM CHANGE

Mr. Thoroughgood Withdraws—New Capital Interested.

Mr. James V. Thoroughgood has sold his interest in the Thoroughgood Company, the well-known Main Street clothiers, and has retired from the firm. The interest of Mr. Thoroughgood was purchased by Mr. J. Raymond Fields.

Mr. Fields has since the purchase of Mr. Thoroughgood's stock interested some new capital in the business and Mr. Paul Watson and Mr. Harry Ruark have become stockholders in the business. The business is run as a stock company and the persons now interested are Mr. J. Raymond Fields, Mr. Edgar Laws, Mr. Paul E. Watson and Mr. Harry Ruark.

The Company will further enlarge the business and are preparing to show one of the largest stocks of clothing and furnishings for the fall and winter trade ever seen in this city. The members are all young hustling business men and will make the business go all right. The active members will be Messrs. Fields and Laws. The business was originally established by Mr. Lucy Thoroughgood and is one of the best known clothing houses on the Peninsula. Mr. Thoroughgood was a liberal user of printers ink and believed in advertising extensively and he made a great success of the business which has been followed up by the present company.

Death of George Patrick.

One of the saddest deaths which has occurred in this community recently was that of Mr. George A. Patrick, a most popular and well known young business man, early Saturday morning at the Peninsula General Hospital, after a severe illness of typhoid fever covering eight weeks. He was a son of Mr. Albion H. Patrick and the late Rosa Byrd Patrick and was born on the old Patrick farm on the Wicomico River, where he resided until about eight years ago when he came to Salisbury and entered the employ of his uncle, Mr. G. W. Byrd. Later he accepted a position with Mr. A. L. Hardester as clerk in his clothing and shoe store on Main Street, which position he held for three or four years.

At the time that Mr. Hardester decided to leave Salisbury, George and his brother, Howard, purchased the stock and a few months ago they purchased the two story brick building in which they did business. Their prospects were bright for a successful business career, and there is general sorrow at the early demise of the Senior partner of the firm.

George Patrick was born August the 10th, 1882, and was 29 years of age. He was a clever, congenial and much liked young man, numbering his friends by the score. He had been a devoted member of the M. E. Church since a small boy. George was a young man whom Jesus loved. He was a favorite in the family, in the store, in the church, because of his amiable, thoughtful and self-sacrificing disposition. As an usher, a Sunday School scholar, a member of the Epworth League and Brotherhood of Abury M. E. Church, he made himself conspicuously useful. The pastor had no more willing helper. He will be sadly missed. But our loss is his gain. It only remains for us to cherish his memory, to imitate his spirit and prepare to follow him. He was a patient sufferer with never a murmur or complaint; stricken down in the bloom of youth, but Death loves a shining mark and they whom God loves, die young.

He is survived by his father, Mr. A. H. Patrick, his mother having died more than twenty five years ago; one brother, Mr. Howard B. Patrick, and one sister, Mrs. Dallas Hearn.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at three thirty at the Abury M. E. Church, conducted by Rev. T. E. Martin, assisted by Rev. O. L. Martin. Interment was made in Parsons Cemetery.

The pall bearers were members of the Brotherhood of the Abury M. E. Church to which the deceased belonged, and were, Messrs. Carl Goales, Paul Phillips, Franklin Woodcock, Harry Harmon, John Downing and Everett Williams.

A beautiful tribute was paid in the large number of floral designs sent by his many relatives and friends.

MOURNING STYLES.

A Problem For Those Wearing Them In Midsummer.

Comfort and Conventionality May Be Combined by Observing Strict Simplicity—White Without Trimmings as a Mourning Color.

One of the most difficult things to design in the mourning costume for midsummer, which must conform to the conventional ideas about the custom and yet should be sensibly cool and comfortable. Simplicity cannot be urged too strongly. The observance of the rules of mourning can be offset by too much of the idea. Crapes can be applied in too great quantities, veils can be too elaborate. Jewelry should never be used for decoration, and black, especially when lustrous, is not mourning. Dull, undecorated fabrics are permissible if mourning is to be observed. A conservative style, a comfortable fit and a lack of display are the guiding stars for the refined and well-dressed woman.

Crepe de chine, dull finished foulard or sheer linen and lawn can be used in summer. The dull black china silk is very cool, and black lawn is another suggestion for shirt waists. More and more are we regarding the all white frock with the black hat as a proper summer outfit for mourners. It is technically just as much an absence of color and surely it is cooler for the wearer.

A young girl may wear a suit of white linen, lawn or batiste. The only trimming is hemstitching, which is used on the circular yoke that trims the back and part of the front. Over this at the front is a square tab, hemstitched. The kimono bodice has fine hand run tucks over the shoulders and halfway down the sleeves. Turned back cuffs, hemstitched, finish these. On the skirt there is a band of three, hemstitched, applied about ten or twelve inches above the edge of the skirt.

The hat of dull straw is rolled up in turban style and trimmed with a bow of tasteful fabric.

More typical of mourning is a dress of dull finished chambray, trimmed with bands of crapes. There is the fichu line on the bodice, one side trimmed with bands of crapes, the other with a line of black buttons that head a gathered ruffle of mousseline. A chemise and subcuffs are of mousseline de soie also. Five bands of crapes, graduated in width, trim the circular skirt that is attached to the bodice slightly above the normal waist line by a cord. The turban is of crapes, draped over a close fitting turban, and a white ruche is used to edge the brim. A white turned over collar of linen is worn with this costume. The hatpin must be dull jet, of course.

Lawn is the material that can be made up on the next suggestion. Stone gray is the color, trimmed with a tucked net yoke of black, black stitching and a dull black girdle. The pointed yoke is outlined by black straps that cross in front and are held down by gray buttons. A wide band is stitched on the bottom of the skirt. Above it is a narrower one with the ends pointed and laid over a straight piece. The sleeves are bell shaped and trimmed with black straps at the edges.

A dress of full taffeta has a yoke and undersleeves of black chiffon, and the bodice is cut kimono, with an oversheet of silk. This is trimmed in dull notecase, and the two tabs are buttoned down over a silk girdle. The skirt shows the high line and is straight. A broad band trims the lower edge and incidentally allows piecing if you have short lengths.

On the hat is the plain chiffon veil that covers the shape. A black taffeta bow trims the hat of silk. Shoes should be of dull leather and undecorated. Gloves of suede or dull kid are the accepted things. And if these models be kept in mind the mourning styles will without doubt be right.

Moving Pictures of the Heart. By the use of X-ray and the stereograph, an apparatus for repeatedly photographing moving objects at very brief intervals, scientists have succeeded in photographing movements of internal organs like the heart and lungs. These moving pictures when reproduced on a screen are of great assistance to medical men.

Pig That Selected Church Site.

Most Lancashire cyclists are familiar with Winwick, a village between Leigh and Warrington, surrounded by good roads, and no doubt many of these wheelers have been struck with the curious edifice of a pig carved in the tower of Winwick church.

It is said that when the church was being built a pig moved the foundation stone three times and at last allowed the stone to remain on the spot where the church now stands. An edifice was therefore placed in the church tower. The words "Winwick" uttered with a nasal twang, resemble the grunt of a pig, and this is also said to give the village its name—Tit-Bits.

ARRANGEMENT OF CHINA

Old Fashioned Corner Cupboard Good Repository and Offers Best Opportunity for Artistic Display.

By far the most beautiful and satisfactory repository for china is the old corner cupboard or buffet, which is found in all well built houses belonging to the latter half of the eighteenth century. These cupboards were sometimes open, but more often had glass doors, frequently of great beauty.

Here was every requisite for the ideal display of china. They combined perfect safety with an effective background and a dignified frame or setting for these delicate treasures.

The arrangement massed their colors in a decorative panel, at the same time that it placed them low enough for leisurely enjoyment and accurate observation. Happily for us, this good old fashion is being revived in our modern houses and will soon become deservedly popular.

Cupboards built into the wall space upon each side of the chimney afford occasion for a display of china which is architecturally delightful. Some times a built in sideboard is used, or a less formal arrangement of shelves in a chimney recess or inglenook. Again we find a carved wall cabinet, or a combination of plate shelves with a corner seat—all of which are modifications of what we may well call the panel arrangement.

As to the border arrangement, the best instance of this is the plate rack at the top of a rather high wainscoting. It is an ideal location for patterned highly decorated in beautiful and delicate designs. Their position is low enough to be within range of close observation and of leisurely enjoyment, yet high enough to make them quite safe from danger of accident. A similar arrangement higher up in the room, even over the doors and windows, is allowable for plates which border is a simple band of some solid color or for larger pieces which are slightly imperfect.

Besides these permanent arrangements for china, there are infinite possibilities in the line for temporary provisions. The china cabinet, which originated in the days of Sheraton, is familiar to us all. Many good ones are to be bought, and they make possible the artistic massing of china.

Another well known piece of furniture is the dresser, whose vogue waned almost to the vanishing point, but it is being revived by craftsmen of the present day. It is now being developed in forms so simple and so charming that they bid fair to become most desirable aids in the artistic arrangement of well selected china in any dining room.

Another revival of an old time adjunct is shown by the interest taken in the wall plate racks which have been so long in use among the Tyrolean peasantry. From these crude and simple suggestions have been evolved designs of infinite variety, and many of them rich in decorative carving.

All such wall fixtures as racks, shelves or cabinets form delightfully decorative spots of color above the sideboard or the serving table. There is infinite scope for originality along these lines, and when they are well constructed much beauty of arrangement can be obtained at a comparatively slight expense.

The craftsman needs only a proper sense of proportion, a logical sense of fitness and practical knowledge of his craft. To these he can add an unlimited variety in decorative finish. Certainly nothing adds more to the charm and attractiveness of a dining room than quaint and pretty china arranged in artistic fashion.

Combining Foods.

The art of combining food is the art of doing well what should not be done at all, but there are comparatively few of those who are convinced of the soundness of the arguments in favor of the monodiet who will be so willing to put it into practice as the gentleman who has eaten only whole wheat bread and nuts for dinner and prunes for supper for two years, even though convinced that it means greatly increased efficiency and invulnerable health. We have to recognize the influence of habit and of heredity, and the claims of conventionality, which sometimes compel us to do what our judgment forbids. There are some foods which alone would not support life, and some are better in proper combination, than alone. Milk, for instance, is made more digestible by mixture with malted cereal, and oil hastens the passage of fruit from the stomach and inhibits the secretion of gastric fluid, which is not needed for sugar fruits, which digest in the intestines.

Embroidery Hoops.

Here is a wrinkle which is not generally known and will be useful to the woman who hates to embroider on hoops.

Baste your material very firmly on stiff brown paper in such a manner that there is no danger of slipping. You may bend and crush your work to your heart's desire without danger of disturbing the design.

If the paper catches in the stitch it need not cause you any uneasiness, as it can easily be torn away after the work is completed.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

Small Magnifying Glass Will Often Come in Handy For the Woman With Weak Eyes.

The use of a small magnifying glass is sometimes recommended as a help to weak eyes, but the woman whose sight is normal and who is fond of lacemaking and other delicate needlework will also find help in one of these little articles. When it comes to taking out those knots that will tie themselves, the small magnifying glass will rarely let themselves be loosened without a great amount of pulling and picking that generally end in fraying and parting the strands a magnifying glass is invaluable.

It need not be an expensive addition to the workbasket, as one of the twenty-five cent folding "lens microscope" sold to dealers for the purpose of counting the number of threads to the quarter inch of fabric and thereby grading its fineness will serve excellently, the more so as the flat base makes it possible to set it down over the knot on a level surface at the proper focus, leaving both hands free to work at the difficulty.

Another use for the same little blessing is as an aid to the amateur surgeon in the removal of splinters or thorns from unfortunate fingers, much reducing the necessity for painful and uncertain prodding as well as the chances of leaving part of the intruder broken off in the flesh to irritate it and perhaps to cause serious inflammation. In one case where only soreness betrayed the existence of anything wrong investigation with the microscope and a sterilized needle brought to light, well imbedded in the palm, a tiny curl of tin from a salmon can opened a few minutes before. Yet the aged eye was unable to discover anything to account for the inflammation.

Finally one ingenious little friend with a wide correspondence gets expert service out of her glass when it comes to making out words in its absence almost hopeless to decipher—in the letters of certain dear friends.

THE USEFUL BLUE SERGE.

A Little One Piece Gown of This Fabric Should Be Included in Every Woman's Wardrobe.

If possible, every woman should include in her wardrobe a little one-piece gown of this blue serge. It serves purposes for which blue linen and blue serge are not available. It is not marred by the rain, and it is not easily soiled.

A one piece blue serge gown may sound plain and anything but individual, but its possibilities are unlimited. Silk collars, folds and bands may adorn it, and the skirt may be made with a knee deep hem. The skirts are slightly raised on the bodice, thus giving an empire effect and the bodice is loose and easy.

The trimming of the bodice is a matter of individual taste. Some prefer the deep rolling collar of black satin over which a small collar of Venetian lace can be turned, as the lace is not so becoming next to the neck. Others have a deep collar coming almost to the waist line, made of all over lace, dotted net or sheer eyelet embroidery piped with a narrow fold of black satin.

Some may use a touch of color on the blue serge gown, but this should be judiciously applied. A panel lined with a vivid green or glaring coral is not altogether smart, while a cravat of green, king's blue or light red silk cannot fail to be good looking. The farseeing woman will see to it also that her blue serge hat is brightened with a bit of chosen color and will have also a tailored parasol to carry with this serviceable blue outfit.

The Hem of a Skirt.

A skirt may be finished in much the same manner as a man's trousers if the binding braid be stitched in the bottom in the usual way. Put in a strip of mending tissue the width of the braid when turning it up to waste and press with a hot iron. The braid should be fastened at each seam, and the effect will be by far neater than that obtained by the old method.

Return of the Stud.

Studs with matching sleeve links are in vogue again for the tailored skirt waist. They are to be had in imitation coral, lapis lazuli and jade set in gold and platinum. A cut glass stud and sleeve button meets the needs of those who do not care for a stone of pronounced color.

Health and Beauty

To whiten the skin apply lemon juice to it daily. To make the skin smooth apply coconut oil occasionally. Do not use too much soap on the skin if it is dry.

Ill health, especially nervousness, will cause excessive perspiration. In this case a physician's advice is necessary, for in ordinary cases a daily bath and fresh clothing are prescribed. Bathe with cold water and common yellow soap.

To increase the flesh the first requisite is health. Avoid food that will not digest easily and be careful to masticate thoroughly what you eat. Give up pickles and other strong acids. Before each meal take a tablespoonful of olive oil. If the taste is unpleasant take the oil between layers of grape juice.

HOW I WAS CURED OF SCROFULA

"I was in a very bad condition with scrofulous swellings round my neck. It started with a bunch on the side of my neck and it kept growing until the whole side of my face was swollen.

"I had tried everything in the shape of medicines for five years. I had gone under an operation in one of the hospitals in Boston and had them cut out. I had thirty little tubular glands taken from back of my ear down my shoulder. After the cuts healed over they started to come again and worse than before.

"After suffering so much I thought I would try Pinkham's Blood Purifier and before I had taken two bottles there was a great change in the swellings. I continued its use and to-day I am a well woman Every word of this is true.

"I cannot speak too highly in praise of Pinkham's Blood Purifier."—Mrs. W. H. HAYNES, 38 Adams Avenue, Everett, Mass.

The tendency to Scrofula seems to be hereditary and it is hard to overcome. It may lie dormant for years, and then break out anew from time to time.

The only known remedy for Scrofula is to keep the blood pure and rich by the use of a good blood purifier. It may require long treatment, but Mrs. Haynes found that Pinkham's Blood Purifier cured her of this dreadful disease, after all other means had failed.

Pinkham's Blood Purifier is equally as good for all diseases emanating from impure, impoverished blood, and is the best Spring medicine known. People will find the Blood Purifier just as reliable a remedy as the women of the world have found

THE BATTLE OPENS.

The nerve racking suspense is ended, the agony is over. Hon. Philip Lee Goldsborough now knows that he is the choice of his party for Governor. He was so informed on Thursday. The Democrats will not be able to keep their secret much longer. Mr. Goldsborough will not be kept on the anxious bench after Tuesday, of the coming week, for the Democrats have secretly planned to quietly step down to his home in Laurel and surprise him with the announcement that his fellow Democrats have selected him as their standard bearer in the fight of this fall. 'Twas cruel indeed to keep these gentlemen together with their respective colleagues so long in ignorance of the good fortune fate had in store for them, but perhaps it has had the effect of sobering their judgment and increasing their sense of appreciation. Anyway they can now breathe freely, and with the question of their nominations disposed of, gird on their armor for the coming battle royal—and a battle royal it will be unless all signs, omens and portents fail.

In the character of the men nominated and the spirit of the platform adopted both parties have shown a knowledge of the fact that independent thinking and independent voting have taken the place of hide-bound party feelings and blind party voting. Party zeal, party loyalty and party fealty can no longer be depended upon to win the fight, real men must be nominated and live issues presented. Each of these intelligent thinking voters has reached the conclusion, that the character of the men nominated is by far the more important. Bitter experience has taught them that promises and pledges are but empty words when their fulfillment is entrusted to incompetent, inexperienced, inefficient men. The party which desires to succeed today must, first of all, give this fact due consideration and see that its standard bearers are men of capacity, men of experience, men of attainments. The argument that a man is a Democrat or a Republican and for this reason alone should receive the vote of every individual member of his respective party, (although he may not measure up from the standpoint of ability, experience or accomplishments, to that of his opponent,) is no longer effective with an educated, thinking electorate.

Other qualifications than that of belonging to a party must be presented if success is desired. And the party which fails to meet this requirement proves itself unfit to govern County, State or Nation.

The men nominated by both parties for the State offices this year measure up well towards the high standard demanded for this important office. The campaign will be fought out more on the issues raised by the respective platforms of the two parties, and the confidence that can with safety be reposed in the parties making the pledge.

The Democrats go before the people this year, confident that their solemn pledges and promises will be accepted by the people in good faith, for they have an enviable record behind them of party promises fulfilled—while the Republicans will be handicapped by the record made when last they were entrusted with the reins of government in this State.

Practically every note given by the Democratic party in this State at the last State Convention was promptly met at maturity. None were allowed to go to protest. As a man who meets his obligations promptly at maturity is entitled to credit and always gets it, so is a party that meets its promises and pledged intentions to the confidence of the people who it serves.

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm, if you are troubled with Nasal Catarrh, hay fever or cold in the head. It is purifying and soothing to the sensitive membrane that lines the air passages. It is made to overcome the disease, not to fool the patient by a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine nor mercury in it. It is not talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. MAINE GOES WET?

Takes Recent To Decide—Figures Change Often.

Every day since the election in Maine on the question of making a change in the present constitution so as to allow the legislature to pass laws permitting the sale of liquor in those communities desiring it, the reports have changed shifting to first one side and then the other. The last figures given the state to the vote by a majority of 124 in a total vote of over 130,000. These figures are not official and may change again overnight. Which side has not yet been decided until after the official count is made. Great interest was taken all over the country in the election and the official count will be eagerly watched for.

WANTED.

Small Shirt Factory in nearby town needs a young lady to give out work, examine, and inspect new operators on attached collar shirts. Strictly confidential. Salary upon request. Apply at once at the office.

Button Hole.
To sew buttons on to garments so that they will last a long time thread the needle with strong linen thread, double it and twist it by keeping the knot between the teeth and turning the needle round between your fingers, then draw the thread through a piece of beeswax or a candle. This is the tailor's method. The button will hold on as long as the fabric holds together. In sewing on buttons place a pin between the buttons and the material and then sew on in the usual way, afterward pulling out the pin. The button is then not drawn tight to the fabric, so that in fastening it it goes through the buttonhole without dragging at the fabric.

Why Men Go to Church.

The results of a personal canvass of fifty men on "Why Men Go to Church" was embodied in a sermon recently at the South Broadway Congregational church of Denver by the pastor, the Rev. A. H. Wettkamp. He said: "First, men go because of what the church means to them personally. The great mass of men believe in God and a life hereafter. The church as specially dedicated to the service of the Almighty is the place where men may best learn of these great truths. The best of books cannot take the place of the living voice of him who has carefully studied the 'greatest book' in the world and then brings the results to the people."

A Groomsman's Package.
An extraordinary story comes from Tomsk, Siberia. A peasant from the country appeared in the police station carrying a bundle which he carefully deposited on the table before the chief.

"I am a poor man," he said, "and when I come to Tomsk I beg for my food. To-night I went to a tavern and when I left the church I began to beg. Two men whom I did not know approached, and asked if I would not have some meat as alms. I was most grateful and accepted this bundle. In the dark I thought it was a sheep's head. When I got home to the place where I lodge I gave it to my landlady to cook for us. It makes splendid soup, sheep's head does. When she undid the bundle she started back with a shriek. And now I'll show you what she saw."

The beggar went forward to the table, undid the handschieff round the bundle and a man's head, cut off close to the shoulders, appeared. It was the head of a policeman who had been missing some time and who was supposed to have been murdered by the native Kirghis.

Crocheted Cuff Links.
Cuff links for wash waists may be made from two crocheted buttons sewed together like the parts of a dumbbell link with a strong thread loop of the right length, which is then buttonholed over and over. These links will wash, are pretty and are not easily lost, besides being economical.

The time to educate your children is when they are young, and you cannot afford to neglect your child's musical education. It is just as essential as school education and will be of great benefit to the child when it is grown up.

Why not come in and have a talk with us? Or, better still, let us send a piano to your home and talk the matter over there.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result; and unless this inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for Circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

FARM NOTES

An acre of good sorghum should produce three to five tons of fair hay.

Onions, cabbage and tomatoes are good crops for the owner of an acre tract.

Next to the mowing machine in importance in alfalfa harvest is the side delivery rake.

Once a week all manure should be cleaned away from the barns and all refuse disposed of.

Care for the young animals so their growth will not be stunted. Keep them growing all the time.

After the hay is off the meadow we can see its thin spaces better. Get busy with the manure spreader.

The succulent grasses are rich in muscle and bone forming materials and are loosening and cooling to the system.

As soon as the crop appears above ground it needs cultivation, both to kill the weeds and to admit the air to the roots of the plants.

Grass, clover, corn fodder and cow-peas when fed in green state are relished by farm animals much more than after they are cured.

It has been shown that cowpeas mature in about eighty days. This proves that the seed can be sown after an early crop has been removed, and a heavy growth will result by the time the farmer is ready to fall plow.

Poor fences are always letting the stock leak through into the corn crop, and very often the loss doesn't stop at the amount of corn destroyed. Sometimes a valuable animal secures an overdose of corn and adds to the damaging results of the raid by dying.

Green Food From Lawn.

A small lawn may be used to advantage in supplying the poultry with green food during the summer by cutting just enough each day to meet their daily wants. Feed them all they will eat, but do not cut more than they will consume, for then you are wasting valuable feeding matter.

If you have a lawn mower cut a strip or two in the morning and feed to your poultry and another strip later in the day. This may not make the lawn look any too well, but it will be serving the poultry with all the green food they need during the entire summer.

Chamois Trimmings.

An odd but beautiful evening gown is of chamois colored tulle, with embroidered worked on real chamois leather in Japanese style with flow silk. The design are chrysanthemums in lovely shades of yellow, gray and drab and here and there a dragon worked in silver thread.

RANGE DEMONSTRATION

SEE BROILER
IN OPERATION

We Invite You To Our Range Demonstration

We will have Cole's Hot Blast Range in operation and want you to see the many handy, convenient features which are embodied only in this new improved family cooking apparatus.

Come and bring your friends. We want you to see—

The wonderful Hot Blast Combustion which saves fuel.

—See how the gases in the fuel are saved which are wasted in other ranges.

—See the clean, bright fire resulting from Cole's Hot Blast Combustion when using common soft coal making it equal to hard coal for cleanliness.

—See how evenly the top of range is heated by flame from the burning gases, making it possible to cook on the two back lids.

—See how uniformly the oven is heated—how easily regulated—making it unequalled for baking and roasting—

And Remember—Cole's Hot Blast Combustion is the fuel saving feature which has caused the Cole's Original Hot Blast Heating Stove to be sold at the rate of 60,000 stoves per year. This is one of the many special new features we want to show you in this wonderful range.

Come and see the Cole's Odorless and Smokeless Broiler Attachment built into the range not equaled by Charcoal Broilers which sell for $20.00 or more.

A child can broil any kind of meat or game equal to the work done by high priced hotel chefs.

Date of Demonstration FROM THE 2d TO THE 7th OF OCTOBER

There are 14 special features embodied in this range which will interest you.

Come in and allow us to show them to you.

RAHAB KING OF THE DESERT

POULTRY NOTES

The March pullets are the ones that will begin to lay in November if they have been given proper care.

Never feed moist scraps that were made of rotten meat. Good, pure feed is the only thing that ever ought to be fed to a fowl of any kind.

The poultry raiser who is too lazy to keep his poultry house absolutely free from vermin does not deserve success, nor will he have it.

Tosses on the March.

Ranchers in the vicinity of the George Bixby ranch say that the myriads of locusts which have covered the fields and roads in that section for weeks past have begun to migrate overland toward the ocean and can be seen by hundreds hopping across country southwesterly.

The ponds and sloughs in which they had their birth have dried up. The ranchers say that seven years ago there was a like migration of frogs and toads from the ranches to the sea, but the amphibians are more numerous this time.—Los Angeles Times.

Keeping Up Stamina of Flock.

A good way to keep up the blood and stamina of the flock is to secure good male birds each year. Breeders who keep good stock will dispose of males much cheaper now than they will later in the year or next spring. The male will give better service if he is purchased early and kept with the females some months before breeding time.

Here is a good anti-itch formula that, however, is not permanent in its effects:

Beef tallow, eight ounces; yellow wax, one ounce; castor oil, one ounce; benzoic acid, five grains; oil of lemon, one-half gram; oil of cassia, eight drops.

Mix the suet and wax over a slow heat, add the castor oil and acid, allow to cool and then add the other oils. Apply to the hair as any other pomade.

To avoid prickly heat keep your system in good condition. Carefully avoid any sort of heating food, such as things seasoned with red pepper or mustard, rich sauces, etc. For immediate relief take a warm bath and dust off the skin afterward, with a good talcum powder and try the following solution:

Lime-water, four ounces; levigated calamine, one-half ounce.

Shake up the mixture and apply it to the skin.

Here Worshipers.

In his sermon of "The Ancient and Modern Gideons" the Rev. Dr. Blodgett of the Hyde Park Methodist church of Cincinnati, O., recently discussed hero worship. The sermon follows in part:

"We are all hero worshipers. Our special hero may be a warrior, a statesman, a philanthropist or an unselfish self-denying Christ man. The latter always calls out our highest admiration, and deservedly. About the hardest lesson for a man to learn is self-poise, self-control and self-denial."

Giving Small Ones a Chance.
Two or three feeding coops or pens should be provided for the chickens and other poultry at this time. Each of these coops should be provided with different sized openings for the admission of the different sized young.

The young will soon learn to run to their own coops at feeding time and thus will not be trampled on by the older chicks and grown fowls. Many chicks are made lame and not a few killed when all the flock is fed together.

Apply Manure Judiciously.
Keep up with your work in saving and applying the manure from your animals. The amount and kind of feed that will be available for them next year will depend largely upon the manure applied to the farm.

Grow Food on the Farm.
A good way to avoid the credit system is to grow the living at home. It is usually possible to grow the most expensive, yet the most necessary, articles of food on the farm.

Milk Giving and Good Treatment.
Milk giving is a habit that responds to encouragement or neglect. It is a function which may develop or diminish by the treatment accorded the cow.

For Far Head Grubs.
As a preventive of head grubs it is advisable to smear the sheep's nose with tar during the months of July and August. This is best accomplished by boring holes in a log, filling the holes with salt and smearing the nose of the sheep.

Prevent Drunkenness.
If your barn and feed yards have a proper system of drainage, there will be little danger of drunkenness among your pigs. If you have not worked out such a system, do so now.

If any person other than those herein mentioned shall be or become legally entitled to be registered as voters at State elections in this State, then this section shall be null and void, and the General Assembly shall possess the same powers as if this section had never been adopted, and the laws of this State, including the local laws applicable to certain counties thereof, relating to the form of ballot to be used at elections, in force on the first day of July in the year nineteen hundred and ten, shall revive or continue in force until altered by the General Assembly notwithstanding any Act to the contrary which may have been passed within the terms of this section that have been in force or while the General Assembly shall have believed or assumed the provisions of this section to be valid.

VOGUE OF TUNICS.

Beauty of Garment Attained at Moderate Cost.

Embroidered Transparent Tunics Have Wonderful Charm and Appeal to Those Who Must Economize in Their Outlay For Dresses.

When the modistic history relating to this particular period comes to be written the attractive character and adaptable virtues of the embroidered transparent tunic will assuredly evoke enthusiastic remarks.

In the midst of much that is impossible these stand forth as possessions of exceptional charm and as making an especial appeal to those who have, so to say, to maneuver their dresses so that the maximum of variety and effect may be secured at a minimum of cost. With one or two silk and satin slips it is possible to ring a vast amount of change with a relay of tunics.

For day wear there are some quite inexpensive models of voile cotton embrodered in contrast and old silver tinsel completed by girdles of silver mixed with the opposition shade. Notable value, too, is forthcoming in the black chiffon tunic. This is wrought with an embroidery of silks, in an Egyptian design, blue mingled with cerise, heliotrope or khaki, through which an aluminium thread winds its devious glittering way. The smart envelope shaped amoniere bag is of black velvet, worked heavily in old gold and silver.

Another model exhibited at a fashionable shop reveals a delightful scheme, executed in pale gray net, handsomely embroidered in opaque gray beads and bugles, the embroidery thickening appreciably at the hem and being lavishly introduced in the little bolero bodice, which is fashioned with the prevailing all in one sleeve. And this figure carries a great oblong amoniere, massed with an embroidery in old silver and dull shades of reds, perfectly exquisite colorings.

The evening tunics open up a further vista of delight. There is one singularly fascinating arrangement of black wrought with a design of colored beads, a similar model being obtainable in white net with dull gold or iridescent beads. The corage, arranged, as now decreed, with odd sides, is very chic. Supremely dainty is an empire model of net, enhanced by a broderie of dull tubular and pea beads of larger size. The most beautiful colorings are introduced on white or black net, and the tunic can be had in all black or gray, also white with silver or gold.

Paper Hanging. Soon the time of paper hanging will be upon us. How many sins are committed in the name of beauty at this time it would be hard to compute.

If you are having a couple of bedrooms which open into each other, peeped, why not try the effect of having one finished in pale soft greens and the other in one of the delicate bedroom grays?

When your rooms are opened you will be surprised to observe what a very large and roomy effect this gives without being too cold a color scheme for the coming winter. A touch of pink in the rooms will make it yet more cozy.

To Pull Bastings. Few persons know that an ordinary orangewood stick, such as is used for the nails, is the best instrument for removing bastings. A scissors when used is very apt to cut or tear the garment. Procure the stick at any drug store.

A Filler For Linoleum. One woman who had been much troubled by the breaking of expensive linoleum tried sawdust well sprinkled over the rough floor before laying on a filler and was delighted with the result.

FINER LINGERIE.

Now Worn Because of Changes in Fashion of Dress.

An Unusual Number of Corset Covers With V Shaped Finish Developed by Liking For Low Neckwear. Skirts For Summer.

The modish woman of today wears fewer underclothes than the woman of yesterday, and those she does wear are less aggressively self assertive, but to make up for this they are finer, daintier, slimmer than ever, and if one is in extravagant mood one can spend an impressive sum upon a very few of these soft clinging combinations and slips and chemises and petticoats. The combination in one form or another is the favored undergarment, and the woman who has worn it finds it hard to go back to separate corset covers and drawers or underskirts, with their multiplicity of waistbands always shrinking out of place in the laundering and their troublesome fastenings.

Not that corset covers, separate drawers and separate underskirts are not worn. They are, and many women favor them, insisting that the women who need to consider laundering economies will find the separate garments better since often one needs changing when another does not. But the fact remains that the combination is in high favor and that it does away with awkward fullness at the waist line and is far more trim and neat than are the separate pieces as a rule.

Along with the combination skirts and corset covers, chemises have come slipping back into favor, but they are modified chemises, making concession to the law against obtrusive fullness of undergarments. They are not tight fitting, but they are shaped somewhat to the curves of the body and do not fall from the top in full folds as they once did. The material is so soft and sheer that what little fullness there is to be dispensed of about the waist is not noticeable under a frock.

The vogue of the fichu and surplice neck line has brought out an unusual number of corset covers and combinations with V shaped décolletage finish, and some of these are very pretty, though not so generally becoming as is the low, round or square finish. With the frocks extremely sheer in yoke and sleeve, the upper part of the bodice being cut all in one of chiffon, net or other semitransparent material, a very low cut corset cover is in order, and one finds many provided which end at the bust line and beneath the arms, being held up by narrow straps of lace, embroidery or ribbon passing over the shoulders. These have, of course, been used before for extreme décolletage, but now are called for by many afternoon frocks as well as evening frocks.

Full length princess slips are an absolute necessity in the summer wardrobe in this season of unlined sheer one piece frocks, and one may buy them in anything from cheap lawn to chiffon. One of fine lawn is a practical thing if well cut and made, and it may be made extremely dainty by fat trimming and careful finish. It launders well and is less likely to turn yellow than the wash silk slip, which is the alternative for a tub slip, though for a colored slip the latter is usually preferred where a comparatively inexpensive slip is needed.

Some chic French models in the supple satin or other silk have for trimming in place of the usual insect lace or self color embroidery fringes in the color of the silk, a deep source of knotted fringe weighing down the skirt and falling in the approved straight and narrow lines while allowing for a soft fronting with merchant. The bodice part of the slip may be lace trimmed or may, as in the model of the sketch, have bands of the silk net such as heads the fringe.

Many bright hued silk petticoats are shown, and for use with linen frocks are delightful little tub skirts of white dotted or striped in color and with em-broidered edge of the color on the scant source.

LACE HATS.

Four Suggestions For Making These Popular and Attractive Pieces of Millinery.

Here are four hats made of lace, from which you can choose one. The vogue of the net or lace cap is not on the wane by any means. It offers excellent opportunity for using lace and for making a shape at home.

There's the high crown with the narrow brim formed of soft all over Valenciennes. It is puffed over pale blue or pink silk and has a ring of silk roses encircling the crown. It is reminiscent of the bell or cloche shapes of the winter and is particularly becoming to youthful faces.

Another lace hat is the large black shape of chantilly lace on a wire frame. The rim at the temples is pleated and falls over a soft chiffon lining. The crown is made of rows of plaited narrow lace arranged around a central white silk flower. Under the brim is a single plaiting of white lace, which softens the line at the face. At one side is a large, white silk flower in a circle of plaited net.

The third lace hat is of white point d'esprit over a flowered mull covered frame. The roses of the lining are outlined in coarse pink silk, and a scalloped border of pink falls over the frame. A cabochon of pink roses is placed at the side.

Last in the group is the straw brim that is tipped by a full crown of shirred net. The straw is faced with shirred net gathered over colored silk in pale shades. Dresden ribbon is excellent for this purpose. To match the colored lining a silk rose made of pointed petals around a lace center is caught on the left side of the crown. Tiny silk buds form a wreath around the brim.

Different, yet similar in their fluffy effects, are these new models. Try to make one for the afternoon.

The Open Placket.

All of us know the discomfort of a placket which gapes open. To obviate this annoyance have the placket made rather short. To avoid tears that are liable to result if the skirt is removed in the ordinary way turn the skirt until the placket comes at the hip, when the skirt will be found to slip off with perfect ease.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY

For September Court—Large Number Of Witnesses Examined.

The Grand Jury adjourned Saturday afternoon after being in session one week. A larger number of witnesses than usual appeared before the Grand Jury giving testimony in various infractions of the law. More than 80 true bills were found, covering a multitude of offenses.

The Jury in a body inspected the Courthouse and County Jail and made the following report: "We as a committee of the whole, visited the jail on Saturday, the 16th, and beg to make the following report as to its condition: We found the premises in good condition and very clean. The Deputy Sheriff, Mr. Roy E. Smith, was very courteous to our body and gave us all the information in his power. We found three white prisoners and 16 colored, all males. We would suggest the advisability of erecting a separate building for the sheriff's living quarters as conducive to the best interest and welfare of both inmates and the sheriff. The only suggestion we would offer is that the heating plant, which is now located in the cellar of the jail, be transferred to the basement of the Courthouse and a separate plant for heating be installed in the basement of each of the buildings.

Alms House Report.

S. P. Wilson, J. A. Wright, E. L. E. L. Parker, G. W. Brown and L. J. Walter committee appointed to visit the Alms House, made the following report: "We are pleased to report we found the premises extremely clean and sanitary, and in good condition so far as the house itself would warrant. We found the dwelling in a dilapidated condition and recommended the erection of an entirely new building. We received kind and hospitable treatment at the hands of the keeper, Mr. Job Darby, and in our opinion his duplicate for the place would be very hard to find. His wife was very pleasant and affable, and we have no doubt she is as largely responsible for his success as is the keeper. We found on the premises the following stock: One horse, one pair of mules, nine hogs, six cows, four calves, all in a good thrifty condition. In regard to the crops we found 8½ acres in corn, which is very fine considering the weather conditions; also six acres of excellent pea hay. We found a total of 5 inmates, 2 of whom are white and three colored. These are well cared for and spoke in flattering terms of the keeper, Mr. Darby."

ANNUAL FIELD DAY

Of The Anti-Saloon League Takes Place Tomorrow in Salisbury.

Next Sunday will be the Annual Field Day of the Anti-Saloon League in the several churches of Salisbury. Among the speakers to address the congregations of the various churches in the interest of the League are Mr. William H. Anderson, State Superintendent, who will speak in Ashbury M. E. Church in the morning and at Grace M. E. Church in the afternoon; Rev. Andrew B. Wood, Assistant Superintendent, who will speak at the Wicomico Presbyterian Church in the morning and at the Fruitland M. E. Church in the evening; Mr. J. Bibb Mills, attorney for the Maryland League, who will speak at the Methodist Protestant Church in the morning and at Allen Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the evening; Rev. Cyrus P. Keen, Superintendent of the Eastern Shore Counties, who will speak in the Baptist Church in the morning and at Hebron Methodist Episcopal Church in the evening.

The Anti-Saloon League, which is the agency of the various denominations that are fighting the liquor traffic, will propose that the next Legislature pass the local option bill, and the League is much encouraged by the outlook at this time. The speakers above mentioned will report to the churches on next Sunday the present status of the Anti-Saloon League movement in Maryland.

In Memoriam.

Mr. Wm. Edward Hammond, of Salisbury, died Friday, September 8th, after a lingering illness of several weeks. Funeral services were conducted at his late home by Rev. Dr. Graham. Interment was in Parsons Cemetery. He is survived by a widow and several children. They are Mrs. Alex. Malone, of Nutters, Mrs. Sidney Jones, of Whiton, Mrs. Clarence Beauchamp, of Delmar, Mrs. Mayhew Reddick, of Camden, Mrs. John E. Hammond, of Virginia, Mrs. Charles E. Smith, Miss Ethel, Robert, Arthur and Nutter Hammond, all of this city.

Loved in life, in death remembered, O dearest, sweetest father, Since you have passed away It seems not one week ago, But only yesterday.

When we speak your loving name, Our eyes with tears are wet; O father, how we loved you, And Love cannot forget.

The Lord took you from us, It was His holy will, And left in our hearts a vacancy Which never can be filled.

But in our saddest moments One happy thought holds away, We will meet again, dear father, And be happy some sweet day.

Gone but not forgotten.
—By his wife and children.

MAKES PROGRESSIVE SPEECH AT FAIRVIEW

Mr. Gorman Notified—Many Democrats Of Many Faiths There, Speech By Sen. Price.

As Cambridge last week was the Mecca of the Republican clan, so was Laurel, the home of Senator Gorman, the place upon which all Democrats turned their eyes this week. The notification of Senator Gorman of his nomination for Governor was made a big affair by the Democrats who were anxious to show that the late primary contest left no sore despite its warmth. In the crowd gathered on Tuesday at "Fairfield" could be found Democrats of all shades of opinion, progressive and otherwise, men who stood for Lee as well as those who fought for the nominee; all united and prepared to go into the coming campaign with but a single thought—the election of the Democratic Ticket this Fall.

The formal notification address was made by Senator Jesse D. Price, of this city, a warm, personal and political friend of Senator Gorman.

Following the meeting at the home of Senator Gorman the Democratic leaders gathered at the Eutaw Place in Baltimore to attend the first meeting of the New State Central Committee. While reading the reports from the various counties, Senator Lee arose and caused a great outburst of enthusiasm by promising Montgomery would roll up a majority of 800 for the ticket.

Wicomico County.

"Wicomico County is forty four years old, and never has given a Republican majority," said Senator Price, "and it will continue to give strong Democratic support."

A tentative program for the different meetings in various parts of the State was discussed. Among the dates allotted was Wicomico on October the 28th.

The open, manly and aggressive speech of Senator Gorman in accepting the nomination has been well received throughout the State. Below we give some extracts from the speech of Senator Price:

From Sen. Price's Speech.

"We stand upon the record of our achievement in the past and confidently expect a renewal of the confidence of the people in the approaching contest. We claim it because we deserve it."

The old historic Democratic party has been the party of the people during the past and is the party which the masses have ever turned in order that a government by and for the people might be secured.

The Republican party was founded on sectionalism and fostered by special interests, who in return have been permitted to plunder, almost at will. This condition was made possible under the guise of protection to American manufacturers and to the American workman and that party was able for a long time to mislead the American people.

Recently the people are beginning to realize that they are paying tribute to Republican campaign contributors and are turning again to the Democratic party for relief.

The record for our party in the session of Congress just closed, more than justifies the expectations of the people and they are only waiting for 1912 to complete the victory by the election of a good, strong, progressive Democrat as President.

Democracy is in the air and the people are coming into their own and today I would call to arm every follower of Jefferson in Maryland and with the banner of Democracy in our hands march to certain victory in November.

The Democratic party has been in power in Maryland for forty four years with the exception of four years from 1896 to 1900, and with that exception in our memory, when they were on trial and their good behavior, who of us would return to it?

Do you remember the wanton extravagance and utter disregard of the people's will as practiced by the legislatures of 1896-8?

Do you recall that legislation was bought and sold as from an auction block?

Do you remember that private corporations were chartered and sold for private gain?

Do you recall that our election laws were tampered with and emblem voting established?

Do you remember the attempt to put our public schools into politics?

Do you recall the negro rowdian prevalent all over the State as a result of Republican administration in the State and Baltimore City?

I am sure that when the people of Maryland stop and consider these things and remember that practically the same people are now in control of the Republican party in the State they will refuse to place such a party back in power.

We are told that the battle cry of their campaign will be "bolshevism," but just what headway they expect to make with such an issue I am unable to see.

Their candidate for Governor is a product of machine politics and the fact is their ticket is absolutely and entirely machine made and dictated by a hand full of bosses, or more properly speaking one boss, while our candidates were nominated by the voters, after appealing to them direct and after the fullest discussion of men and measures, and must be accepted as the choice of our party and for that reason should receive the united and undivided support of all Democrats.

This was made possible by the enactment of a primary law by the last Democratic legislature, the imperfections of which will be corrected by the next legislature—which will also be Democratic—and which will guarantee to our people the freest and fullest expression of their will in the choice of their candidates and is in my judgement a long step in the direction of a more perfect Democratic government.

We are pledged to improvements in the Corrupt Practices Act by further limiting the expenses of candidates making it easier for men of limited means to aspire to office.

We are likewise pledged to a more liberal support of our public schools and to its teachers; to greater protection of our people from automobiles; to a more rigid economy in legislative and administrative expenses and a proper employers liability law, so that justice may be done our working men and their families.

As an evidence of our good faith we point to our record of accomplishment in the past and to the fact that we have uniformly kept faith with our people.

In our platform of 1907 we promised to enact a primary law placing the power to nominate candidates in the hands of the people. We fulfilled that promise.

We promised to construct a modern system of highways in the State. We are building these roads.

We promised to enact a Public Utilities Commission law, regulating the transactions of corporations with our people. We have kept faith.

We promised to pass an enabling act, giving increased representation to Baltimore City in the legislature. It is now before the people for approval or rejection.

In view of these accomplishments and efforts may we not justly claim the continued confidence of these people?

The party having such a record and with such aims and ambitions have selected you, Senator Gorman, as its standard bearer for Governor in the present contest and by the authority and will of the sovereign Democrats of this state, we convey to you their desire that you lead them to victory.

You have been selected by a majority of your fellow Democrats, over 90,000 of whom participated in the election of their candidates. Indeed I may say that by the gracious magnanimity of that splendid Democrat who was your opponent in the recent primaries, you are the unanimous choice of our party for the office of Governor.

They have selected you because they recognize your ability and integrity—your devotion to the public interests and your loyalty to your party. They know that no consideration other than the good of the state and her people will have weight with you and that no motives will find lodgment in your heart other than conscientious discharge of your duty to the whole people as you understand it.

Many have supported you on account of the illustrious name you bear, many thousands more have supported you however, because of your own inherent qualities of mind and heart. The hopes of the young Democracy of the State are centered in you and they have faith in your ability to carry this contest to a successful termination and re-establish on a firm foundation Democratic rule in this State.

Knowing your love for your native State and her people and your zeal

Many New Features in The Downie & Wheeler Circus

Of all the multitudinous shows that have taken to the road this happy summertime, none are meeting with such cordial, enthusiastic receptions, from small towns to cosmopolitan cities, as the New Downie & Wheeler's World's Best Shows, true to its name, is of a magnitude easily seen, comprehended and admitted. Introducing the stars of the world's arenas in amazing and incredulous feats of athletic and aerial achievements. The very air is filled with flying forms, flashing like meteors in starlit heavens, swinging and swooping, soaring and sailing, keeping the lofty canvas dome alive with activity, and looking down upon a myriad of masters of acrobatic art. Here, there and everywhere—singly and in groups, until the vast arena upon the ground and in the air present a bewildering scene. A mighty moving panorama of the glories of the earth. A dazzling world of bewildering sights, big, beautiful and brilliant.

Hard Affliction In Wango Family.

The hand of affliction has rested heavily upon the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wimbrow, of Wango. Two months ago, their son, Harry, was laid very low with typhoid fever and on August the eighteenth, after much suffering, he went to his long home at the age of nineteen. The funeral services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Geo. E. Sterling, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Warren, of Selbyville, at Wango. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

In the meantime, three more of the children were taken with the fever and soon afterwards the father, and at this writing he is in a very critical condition.

On September the 17th, Mary, their youngest child, died at the age of ten years.

"Death lies on her, like an untimely frost, Upon the sweetest flower of all the field."
She was buried beside her brother, on Monday, September the 18th, by her pastor.

We are glad to report the improvement of the two remaining children that are ill.

It is a very great personal pleasure to bear the commission from the Democratic State Convention, formally notifying you that you have been nominated by the party for the office of Governor, the expression of the hope and belief that your nomination will be ratified in a general election in November. You will make one of the best Governors Maryland has ever had.

FRATRICIDE AT WALSTON

Switch—Edward Ennis Killed By Brother. Dispute Over Corn Division.

While John E. Ennis and his two sons were in the field at their home near Walston Switch a dispute arose between the two brothers, Edward and Theodore in regard to the division of some corn. As the dispute waxed warm Edward drew his knife and rushed at Theodore. The father threw himself between his two sons, attempting to separate and quiet them. According to the account given out Edward persisted in his attempt to reach Theodore rushing around his father in an attempt to cut his brother. Theodore then, according to the reports picked up a hoe and struck his brother over the head with the handle. It was from the effects of this blow that Edward died. After the blow was struck the wounded man was carried home and a physician hurriedly summoned. After an examination the attending Doctor told the family not to be uneasy as the wound was not likely to have any bad results. Acting upon this the father and brother returned to work in the afternoon. The wounded man died between four and five in the afternoon.

When the news of the occurrence and its fatal result reached town State's Attorney Bailey took steps to investigate the matter. A coroner's jury was summoned and a warrant issued for Theodore Ennis' arrest. Ennis had disappeared when the sheriff reached the home Thursday evening.

In Memoriam.

In sad, but loving remembrance of my dear friend, Mr. George Patrick, who died, Sept. 9, 1911.

"He has fulfilled his mission, and now awaits beyond the River, the loved ones of earth. May heaven's richest blessing rest upon his bereaved ones; may we also live so that when our work on earth is done, we may meet him in that Celestial City."

We fondly call his name in vain.
A friend we loved so dear;
He cannot come to us again,
But we can go to him.

Then let us dry our fallen tears,
And bid our sorrows cease;
We'll meet again in coming years,
Where all is joy and peace.

Canning House Burned.

An explosion of gasoline in the packing house of J. Cleveland White and Co., at Pottsville, about six o'clock Monday evening destroyed the canning house and most of the machinery, the season's pack of tomatoes in the warehouse adjoining, and threw fifty employees out of work.

The explosion of the gasoline was so sudden and the fire spread so rapidly that it was impossible to save anything. In lighting the fire, the foreman, Mr. W. T. Middleton, was fatally burned on his arm and head.

The loss, which is several hundred dollars, is covered by insurance. The fire, coming so late in the season, it will be impossible to rebuild and operate again this season.

BOSSSES AND LEADERS.

Already the cry has gone up from both Republicans and Democrats that the respective nominees of the opposing party is a "Boss" made candidate. It would perhaps be as well for all concerned if both sides would admit the charge, or at least state that nothing was done by either candidate to alienate the support of the party leaders. Cliques of selfish men have unquestionably abused party machinery in order to advance their own selfish interest. 'Tis this that has raised the cry of "Bossism" in this country and this improper use of their power has made the voters hesitate about supporting any man who has the OK of party organization. They fear some ulterior motive is back of this support and some advantage will be gained by those who make the profession of politics a means of livelihood. It is impossible to eliminate the influence of our party organization, nor is such a thing advisable if practical.

Instead of keeping their hands off our nomination, it is the duty of those who are possessed of influence and power to get behind men of the right sort and help nominate them. The voters should learn to discriminate between the right and wrong sort of leadership. The man who cares nothing at all about the capacity, experience or attainment of the man he advocates for office is dangerous and should not be followed. Public good is not a serious thing to him, party considerations are always secondary to private gain. He who gives his support to a weak man, is not only an enemy to public welfare, but an even worse enemy if such be possible to the party with which he claims to affiliate, for every time a party puts up a weak man that party is weakened. The man may be elected by forcing every man down the line on the ground of party loyalty, but the bad effects on the party itself will be lasting.

A party can not do worse than put up men whose record must be defended. When a leader or leaders throw their influence to men of this character the public is right in suspecting their motives, and right in refusing to follow such leadership either in the primaries or later in the election. On the other hand the men who endorse good men and do all in their power to see that the candidates put up by their parties reach the high standard of qualifications needed in our public servants, should be followed. This is not selfish "Bossism" but real leadership.

There is no good reason why a good and able man should be ashamed of the support of the leaders in his party nor why he should be expected to refuse to give to his party organization the credit for the assistance they gave him in the primaries. Nor if he is of the right material is there just cause for any fear on the part of the general public that he will prove a ready tool for the use of those who gave to him their assistance and support.

It is right for the backers of a man to be known. It is proper that their motives in giving him their support be investigated, if these motives do not tend to the public good then his election should not take place, unless he is a man in whom the people can trust to serve them instead of those who made his nomination possible.

"The abuse of power that has aroused the public against 'Boss' made candidates."

When the great pendulum of public opinion once commences to swing, it is very apt to swing too far, such seems the case in regard to the suspicious casts upon men who are backed by our party leaders. Mr. Gorman's frank speech of acceptance meets this and other issues frankly and squarely. We quote from this address:

"I may not make the best Governor or the wisest Governor that Maryland ever had. I know that I will not. No man can question my Democracy. No man can say or will ever be able to say that I broke my word or my promise or that I failed to keep faith or that I wore any man's collar, or that I ever failed to say where I stood, or failed to do what I said I would do."

"I speak frankly of my political aspirations. Let me also say a frank word about organization. I believe in organizations. No party can thrive and carry its platform into effect without it. An organization to last must be representative. It must represent all interests in the party. What is needed is a little clear thinking on this subject.

"We must not confuse the machinery of organization with the organization itself. The men who do the very necessary work of party machinery must not think that they are the party, neither must they all be damned because some of them are selfish or disloyal or unworthy."

"It is all rank nonsense to talk of any man or group of men controlling any organization in this State under the existing laws and in the present state of public opinion. So-called machines can maintain themselves only where there is a large vote that can be delivered in block, like the negro vote, or where there is a large corporate or personal corruption fund and a large purchasable vote, or where there is rich patronage at the disposal of a machine."

The Eastern Shore Sunday School Convention.

The Semi-State Sunday School Convention at Easton, September 27th and 28th promises to be most successful. Specialists of the most modern and fruitful Sunday School methods will be there. Mrs. J. Woodbridge Barnes, of New York, chairman of the New General Lesson Committee, Rev. C. A. Oliver, D. D., State Superintendent of Teacher Training of Pennsylvania Sunday School Association, as well as a strong staff of State workers who are doing up-to-date work in their local school and can speak out of the fullness of their hearts from personal experience.

Wednesday evening, September 27th at seven o'clock a large parade of men representing the Organized Bible Classes of the Eastern Shore, will be in line. Those to be represented are the classes of Easton, Cambridge, Salisbury, East New Market, Secretary, and others.

All the Bible Classes of the shore are invited to join this great demonstration and lend to its enthusiasm and influence—more than one hundred delegates are already registered at the Easton headquarters.

Every delegate and speaker is requested to be on hand at the opening session at ten o'clock on Wednesday morning, September 27th.

The Pink Lady At Baltimore's Academy.

Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger will present "The Pink Lady" at the Academy of Music, Baltimore, on Saturday night, September 28th, where it will continue throughout the following week, with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees. It is scarcely necessary to say that this will be one of the most important theatrical events of the year in Baltimore, for "The Pink Lady," which has been crowding the New Amsterdam Theatre in New York for the past eight months, is already known to theatre-goers as perhaps the best musical comedy in a decade. It will be presented here with a notable cast and a complete production. It will be recalled that "The Pink Lady" has for the author of its book and lyrics, C. M. S. McLellan, who wrote "The Belle of New York," and "Leah Klechma," while the rarely beautiful score has been composed by Ivan Caryll, musical director of the Gaiety Theatre, London and the composer of "The Spring Obloken," "The Torsador," "The Duchess of Dantsig" and "The Runaway Girl."

Maryland Hunter Shoots His Guide.

While hunting with R. J. Simpson, of Cumberland, in the vicinity of Pratt, Ralph, aged thirteen years, son of H. O. Robinson, was accidentally shot by Mr. Simpson. He was struck by eighteen or twenty shot in the face and one in the arm. The boy's eyes are injured, but it is not thought the sight will be impaired. The boy was acting as a guide for Mr. Simpson, who was not familiar with the country, and when they had separated the accidental shot was fired.

CLOUDLAND OUTINGS

New Cost Only $50—Zeppelin Airship
Schwabens Makes Trips Every Day
From Baden-Baden.

Londoners can now include a short cruise through cloudland as a part of their summer vacation on the Continent by booking their passage in advance with the Hamburg—American Line in Cookspur Street. According to a circular issued by the Steamship Company, as agents for the German Airship Transportation Company at Düsseldorf, the new Zeppelin airship Schwaben was placed in commission last month, and has since been giving a regular passenger service daily, leaving Baden-Baden every morning and afternoon for a cruise over the surrounding country lasting from two to three hours.

Although the fare for the round trip is $50 per passenger, these aerial cruises have already become so popular, especially with British and American tourists, that bookings have to be made several days in advance. To facilitate matters and avoid annoying delays to their patrons the Company arranged with the Hamburg—American Line to open a booking office in London.

The Schwaben is the latest Zeppelin creation, and the successor of the ill-fated Deutschland, which was wrecked in a storm last September while making similar cruises from Friedrichshafen. The Schwaben, however, has many new safety devices and improvements, which insure greater security and stability, even in rough weather. The new airship is 485 feet long, with a diameter of 48 feet, and a gas volume in round figures of 671,000 cubic feet, contained in eighteen separate reservoirs. In her two operating cars, one forward and the other aft, are three motors of 135 horsepower each, capable of driving the vessel at an average speed of thirty five miles an hour. A crew of nine men is required to operate the ship in addition to the stewards in the passenger car, which is rigidly suspended amidships. The operators are all experienced officers, steammen and engine fitters selected from the Imperial German Navy and mercantile marine.

The passenger cabin, which has accommodations for twenty four persons, is handsomely fitted and decorated. All the metal work of the interior is covered with mahogany, while the ceiling, panels and other inlaying are all finished in the same expensive wood. The beams across the ceiling and the metal pillars which form the main support of the car are richly inlaid with mother-of-pearl, the whole design giving an appearance of elegance and luxury. The floor, which is composed of five layers of wood securely glued together, is thickly carpeted, while light wickerwork furniture supplies comfortable seats and tables, where the aerial voyager can enjoy a leisurely meal of cold provisions or sip his chosen beverages while gazing upon the drifting panoramas of forest and hill and stream through large aliding windows of plate glass. In addition to these short daily trips the Company is prepared to charter the airship for parties desiring to make longer cruises on reduced terms. These special cruises can also be booked at the London office as well as individual passages.

"Most people seem to think that it requires unusual courage to undertake a voyage in an airship, but that is because they have never tried it," said an experienced aerial traveler. "They liken the venture to the hazardous feat of a roofer who works on the eaves of a church steeple, but the impression is erroneous. The man who has once sat in the cabin of a Zeppelin airship has no such fantastic ideas. He knows that all he needs is a certain amount of resolution to overcome the first groundless fear and the dread of giddiness in high altitudes. All that is really demanded of him is an open heart and an open eye. Anxiety and apprehension float away like the drifting clouds beneath him. The ascent is so easy and so tranquil that if the passenger were to close his eyes he would be literally unconscious that the earth was moving."

"There is no sensation of dizziness either, and the explanation is simple. In looking down from the top of a high building or cliff the vision is focused by the wall line upon one spot below and acts as a sort of hypnotic attraction to produce giddiness and the desire to fall. In looking down from the car window on an airship, however, the whole expanse of earth below is visible, with no single object to focus the sight. Indeed, everything looks so different and unreal that one forgets to be dizzy. The horizon expands swiftly, while meadows and forests, mountains and towns loom dimly out of the distance, and the higher the airship rises, the more vast, stable and upholding does the panorama appear."

—Harry Henry, colored, was arrested by Chief of Police Diharoot, Sunday, on the charge of threatening to kill his wife while under the influence of liquor. It seems that jealousy is at the bottom of the trouble. Henry was lodged in jail pending a hearing of his case.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever: nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for Circulars, free.

GORDY CULVER.

CARE OF BOAR IN SUMMER.

Superior Feeds, With Addition of Grain, Will Keep Him in Good Condition.

The feed of the boar when not in service may be of a succulent nature, mainly pasture and cut green forage during the summer months. A boar cannot be sustained on this alone, however, and some grain should be allowed to keep him in condition. This should be nitrogenous in character, consisting of mill feeds, such as shorts, middlings and bran, some oil-meal and the leguminous grains, with a little corn.

As the breeding season approaches the feed should be increased so that the boar will be in good condition. While not in service ample exercise should always be insisted upon. Exercise is productive of well developed muscles and general thrift. With these two conditions activity and soundness of reproductive organs will usually follow.

During the breeding season it is possible for the boar to get a same amount of exercise, and accordingly care must be taken that his energies are not wasted by unnecessary service. Careful feeding will do much to counteract this disadvantage. It must always be remembered that the strains on a boar during service are severe, especially if fifty or sixty sows are served.

This requires ample feed, with as much exercise as possible, and, with care in this respect, and with about to breed results. A fully matured boar should not serve more than two sows daily, probably one in the morning and one in the afternoon, and he can serve fifty or sixty a season without difficulty.

Steel Telephone Wire.

A gang of expert thieves stripped telephone poles of wire for a distance of three blocks in Chicago, recently, and secured in all about 600 pounds of copper.

Empty Spools.

Do not throw away your spools when they become empty. Keep them until you go away, and slip them over the nails which you will probably be expected to hang your clothes on, so as to keep the latter from tearing.

Not A Word of Scandal

MAKING HAT SHAPES.

Knowledge Which Will Often Help Women Out of Difficulty.

Desired Models, Often Not on Hand in Stores Can Be Made by the Handy Woman With Little Trouble.

If you have tried to purchase a certain style shape for your summer hat you have been met with two or three difficulties—first, the exact size and shape are hard to obtain in models; second, the price of the becoming frame that you choose seems to be fated to be above the regular stock hat, or, third, the special model is "just one" and may not be renewed in the order. The only decision that a practical woman can make, then, is to buy milliner's wire in either black or white and with coarse thread and a large milliner's needle his her to the sewing room and make her own frame.

It is quite easy. No exact measurements can be given in a general lesson like this. The easy way for all is to cut first out of wrapping paper the size and shape that is decided upon. Cut out the crown and place on the head. Make all modifications in the brim in the paper pattern. Next cut out a large circular piece for the crown, plait in the paper and pin to the brim. Try the paper hat on and alter while on your head. Use the handglass to view your hat from all sides.

Having secured the exact size, you must take your wire and make the first circle to go around the outer edge of the crown. Tie the ends together with coarse cotton. From this make the mill of the circle by crossing wire and allowing the ends to be long enough to form the height of the crown. Attach the crossed lines at the center and bend them at the outer edge to form the side of the crown. When the desired height is attained surround the side wires with a circle of wire and bend the ends up around the lower circle. Cut off all surplus wire.

The brim is made separately. Its inner circle is smaller than the lower edge of the crown, for the crown will be placed over the brim and should have an inch or so to spare. Attach side wires to the central circle by bending down the ends with tweezers, if you are fortunate enough to have them. About two inches from the crown attach a wire around the radiating lines, sewing them to the circular wire at the intersections. Repeat this about two or three inches below, and so on until you have your brim as broad as your paper pattern, which should be referred to constantly as a guide. If the back of the brim is slightly narrower than the sides or front regulate the "spokes" and make the parallel wires nearer together as they approach the back.

You are now ready with a crown and a brim the required shape and size. The next step is to cover the wire with net or coarse scrim in either black or white. Stretch it over the crown and with long stitches attach it to the frame. The brim should be covered by using a bias piece and sewing it at the back. On this lightweight foundation the wire brim can be applied with much ease and speed.

Take the crown and after gathering the straw braid around itself for one or two rows attach it to the center. From this sew the braid around and around, using small back stitches. Do not grow careless, for if the spaces between the stitches be too large the braid will gap and proclaim that the shape was made by an amateur. Do not stretch the braid, but hold easily, so that the weave will be in its natural closeness and not show the foundation through forced openings.

The outer edge of the brim must be bound with a piece of braid so as to make a firm edge for the rest.

Apply the braid on the undersurface first, in this way preventing the last stitches from showing. Begin at the inside of the brim and work in circles toward the outer edge. Lap the braid considerably. It will require a few more rows and will prevent ugly gaps between the lines of braid.

With strong thread sew the crown upon the brim, and you are ready for your trimming.

The millinery way is an easy one if you listen to the words of experience. With a knowledge of the principles of construction you can solve all problems in making summer hats.

BREEDING RACK.

Large and Heavy, but Can Be Accommodated by Reason of Adjustable Stanchion.

The accompanying illustration shows a very convenient breeding rack, not only for heifers, but for mature cows when the bull is large and heavy. It must be strong and well braced to stand the strain. Cleats placed above the surface of planks at the side are important. The frame must be long and narrow and the adjustable stan-chion so placed that the occupant can be held well back. The height of the platform is fifty-one inches in front and is constructed on an incline which makes the rear twenty-four inches high. The stanchion is supported by 2 by 4 inch pieces attached to each side and resting upon the horizontal 2 by 4 of the frame. With a series of holes in the latter and a hole in each of the pieces attached to the stanchion it may be set and held at any desired length by using bolts dropped loosely in the holes.

Breeding Rack.

Loose dirt or clods at the rear of the rack that can be filled in or dug out quickly will be found convenient in overcoming the difficulty arising from tall or small cows.

Crow Should Be Warning Sign.

As soon as the young rooster begins to crow you should sell him to the market catalogue as the old rooster variety. Rooster flocks should be constantly culled, and those which do not meet the standard should be promptly disposed of. Constant weeding out gradually improves the standard.

Danger in Crowding Chickens.
Too many chicks in one yard, coop or brooder is disastrous. Older chicks will trample on and crowd out younger ones, and the ones last hatched stand small show for food, growth or even life. It is best to separate broods widely all over the orchard.

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney, liver, bladder or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N.Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N.Y., on every bottle.

OAKLAND.

Misses May and Edna Reddish have resumed their duties at the High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Farlow and Miss Maude Tighman spent Sunday with relatives in Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dennis and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelley, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reddish last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chatham and Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Carey, of Salisbury, drove through their old neighborhood last Sunday paying calls to many of their old friends.

Protracted meetings services which have been conducted by the Rev. Mr. Jocelyn, of Powellville Circuit, for the past two weeks at Johnsons Grove, will continue over next Sunday night. Christian workers come out. Your help is much needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reddish attended the funeral of their cousin, Miss Mary Wimbrow at Wango last Monday.

Mrs. Laura Brown, wife of Mr. Fred Brown, died at her home on Wednesday, of last week, of typhoid fever. Her age is not known, but she was quite young and leaves a young companion and two small children. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Layfield, both of whom survive. She also leaves several brothers and sisters. She had been living a Christian life for several years, and had a pleasant greeting for all whom she met. To know her well was to love her better. The funeral took place in Union M. P. Church, on Friday morning at eleven o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. E. Norris. The remains were interred in the adjoining cemetery.

Mabel Garrison Siemomn To Be Prima Donna.

Mrs. Mabel Garrison Siemomn, a member of the Peabody Conservatory Concert Company, and also a graduate of the school, has been engaged by Mr. Henry W. Savage, as Prima Donna of one of his Opera productions. Her husband, George Siemomn, teacher of Harmony at the Peabody, and also a graduate, will be Concert Master of the Orchestra. Mrs. Siemomn was heard here last season at the Peabody Recitals, given by the Peabody Concert Company, and her beautiful Lyric voice made a deep impression upon many who attended the Concerts. She will continue with the Company until the beginning of the Opera Tour, December 1st. Mrs. Siemomn has gained quite an enviable position on the Concert Stage, and her operatic career gives promise of being even more successful.

ROBBINS' CIRCUS

Everybody Pleased With The Fine Show Presented.

Easton Pa., Daily Argus, June 7, 1911.—Despite the inclemency of the weather immense crowds turned out Tuesday to greet the veteran showman, Frank A. Robbins, on his thirty first annual tour and the consensus of opinion was that the Robbins show was the best small circus ever here.

Although the rain fell on the immense canvas everyone sat first convulsed with laughter at the funny clowns, then breathless as one thrill after another followed in quick succession, until the finish. Then the enthusiastic audience awakened to the fact that they had been carefully housed from the storm and individually expressed gratification at the commodious and comfortable water proof tent. Many of the acts presented were never excelled if equaled by any show ever given here and the name Frank A. Robbins' All Feature Shows, means exactly what it says; "All Feature," as all acts were indeed features.

Although the performance was not over until 10.15 p. m. the show moved out of town at 12.10 a. m. as quietly as it came in the morning, demonstrating that discipline and system are other features of the show.

Another feature is the way "Doo" Parkhurst the boss canvas man handles his men. He has been 35 years in the business and erected the tents in 40 minutes.

Jack Cousins, equestrian director, is another veteran who understands his business.

The head man of the show from the veteran Robbins to the humblest employee, all act as gentlemen and nothing is good enough for the comfort and welfare of their patrons.

GRACEFUL COATS.

Summer Wraps Unusually Pretty This Season.

Garments Marked by Grace of Line and Beauty of Material Have Decorative Collars—Popularity of the Useful Reversible Coat.

Summer cloaks and wraps of all kinds are more than usually good this year, and they rule the gamut from the severest and most conventional of tailored dust coats to the most fantastic of little mantles and short coats. The graceful long coats deserve a chapter of their own.

There are many summer models which by the addition of lining might make useful winter evening or carriage cloaks. This is true of a majority of the satin long coats, which depend upon beauty of material and grace of line rather than upon extreme originality or intricate ornamentation for their charm.

Anything more practical and more attractive than the long black satin coats of the last year it would be hard to imagine. More elegant and costly things there are, of course, but for the ordinary woman who must practice economy, yet needs to be well dressed, a coat of this type is a satisfactory possession, and at the moment good satin models are being offered at tempting prices. Some of the smartest are fashioned of double faced satin, usually black faced with bright color, though two tone color effects are to be seen too.

The huge collar in such a coat is usually of the color, the satin being turned back to form big, soft, draped revers of the under color and perhaps deep cuffs as well. There is a liking, too, for turning back the corners of the coat bottom in one way or another and so showing another dash of the color.

The reversible coat, which was an unusual thing at the beginning of the season, is often seen now both in satin and in wool and has its practical value. The woolen models are invariably of two faced cloth, such materials being supplied in great variety and beauty by the foreign manufacturers. A lovely coat of soft wool was in a deep red, dish violet shade approaching the cyclamen, faced with a lighter pinkish violet, and another even more attractive which was worn on the same club veranda was of a lovely smoky gray faced with white. Plain color backed with check of the same color and white is liked for the big coats, whether reversible or not.

The reversible coat of satin is made both in the double faced satin and in satin of one color lined with satin of contrasting color, the latter being, of course, considerably the warmer of the two and less satisfactory for hot weather purposes.

The big sailor collar with wide revers opening low in front and with deep, square back is still used, and the deep pointed back finished by a huge tassel and draped in some hoodlike fashion is rather more approved than the square or rounded collar back.

In place of black satin other dark shades are often used by the French makers for the serviceable long coats, night blue, taupe, bronze green, raisin, etc., and there are similar colors even in the vivid hues which have their charm when worn over light summer frocks, though they are too spectacular to appeal to the average woman save possibly for evening wear.

Semitransparent long coats of colored marquisette or chiffon embroidered in self color or bordered by self color satin or velvet are good looking when worn over white or harmonizing color, and one of the novelties of the season is the lingerie long coat.

Cretone coats, usually in cretone of small antique or oriental design, and coats of self color gauze figured in similar color and design are gray and pretty for certain wear.

Long coats of taffeta, changeable or one tone, of what the French call "velvet" or old fashioned design, with shirred cords, ruffles, puffs, etc., for trimming, have won summer popularity.

Both Defendant and Plaintiff Were Afraid to Waken Him Because of Possible Effect.

There is a law office on Wall street which is most luxuriously fitted up, even to velvet divans, sofa cushions and other things calculated to produce a rich and restful effect. The occupant of this office is an elderly man, and because of his long practice and high standing as a lawyer he is frequently appointed referee in those cases which, because of the overcrowded court calendar, are tried out of court.

He had one case before him one afternoon which was very dry, uninteresting and technical, and in which the opposing lawyers made long and windy arguments. At the beginning of the argument the referee, knowing that it was apt to be a lengthy one, stretched himself out in a semi-reclining position on the velvet couch and nodded his head occasionally when arguments seemed to be especially addressed to him.

When the attorney for the plaintiff had finished, the attorney for the defendant arose and began to speak. His argument was of such a bitter and caustic character that his opponent was quickly on his feet answering back. Finally they got themselves into such a tangle that nothing but a decision of the referee could straighten them out.

"Your honor," began the attorney for the plaintiff, "I ask for an adjournment, on the ground that—"

"Grr-r-r-r-r," gurgled through the referee's mouth and nose, while the astonished attorney sat down and discreetly coughed.

The attorney for the defendant smiled. "His honor is resting himself; he is an old man," he said.

"Er-hem!" coughed the plaintiff's attorney again, but the unmistakable sounds of snoring gurgled, rumbled and exploded from the velvet couch, while the eyelids of the referee rested peacefully on his tired eyes.

"Grr-r-r-r-r," Gurgled Through the Referee's Mouth and Nose.

"You wake him up," suggested the plaintiff's attorney to the defendant's attorney.

"Not much. I don't know how he is when he wakes up. If he is cross and realizes that it was I who awakened him he may decide against me. You wake him up."

But the attorney for the plaintiff also declined the task, as the same damage obviously would threaten him.

There was nothing for them to do but wait for the referee to wake up. And they waited. An hour passed. Everybody grew more and more restless, remembered other engagements and stole out to the telephone to break them.

The referee's partner had gone for the day. No one else dared waken him, the stenographer informed the attorneys. A peace and quiet like that of a country churchyard settled down upon that section of Wall street on that particular day. No one was moving a safe, no newsboy wandered up and down the street shouting "Wextra!" All the working men on the building being erected next door seemed to have quit. No sound, in fact, disturbed the general and unwonted calm until the attorney for the plaintiff, looking at his watch and then glancing at the clock to verify his watch, exclaimed:

"Good heavens! Five o'clock."

There was a cessation of the gurgling sounds from the couch and the referee sat up. His face was flushed and he looked about the room in some confusion. Then his gaze encountered the clock. Instantly he exclaimed:

"Come, come, gentlemen," he said. "I told you we couldn't go on after 4:30 to-day. It is now five. This case is adjourned until a week from to-day, same time and place."

Hydraulic Bulking.

Hydraulic bulking is being employed at Seattle, Wash., for the removal of a large hill in the residential section of the city. The material consists principally of blue clay, which is exceedingly tenacious and hard to move, but is easily handled by a six inch giant nozzle at 110-pound pressure hydraulic. The supply of water is taken from Puget Sound, some 2,500 feet distant.

SEVERE ELECTRICAL

Storm Over The County—County Commissioner Taylor Has Fire Loss.

Monday night one of the worst electrical storms of the season passed over Wicomico County. Much damage was done by the extreme heavy rains and over in the neighborhood of Melson's they had a cloud burst, more than two inches of rain falling in half an hour. The barn and stables of Mr. S. E. Brittingham near Melson's were struck by lightning and two horses were killed, but the barn was not destroyed.

Lightning is thought to have struck the barn on the farm of Mr. Orlando Taylor, in Quantico District, as Mr. Taylor was awakened about one A. M. Tuesday morning by seeing his barn in flames. He immediately summoned help and with the assistance of his hired men and neighbors who came to his rescue he was able to get his ten horses and two mules from the burning barn and to save his wagons and carts. His harness, however, together with all feed, was consumed in the blaze which burned the barn to the ground.

The most desperate fighting was necessary to save the stables, horses not far from the barn in which there was stored more than 4,000 cases of canned goods. Mr. Taylor said he never saw a fiercer fire and came very near losing some valuable stock. One fine colt was overlooked in the stables and when the building was nearly ready to fall the men rushed in and found the animal down in the stall. By hard work the colt was dragged from the burning building and revived, and is not seriously injured.

CITY COUNCIL

Proceedings—Work Disposed Of By The Council Last Monday Evening.

The Clerk was authorized to pay Mrs. Collier $25 to pay for services of horse, cart and man for ten days in cleaning up the city.

W. A. Crew's bid of twelve cents per square foot for laying cement sidewalks on Newton Street in front of the Fooks and Williams property was accepted there being no other bid.

The Clerk was instructed to notify James L. Powell and Mary P. Collins to lay cement sidewalks in front of their properties on West Chestnut Street.

Surveyor Shockley was instructed to establish a paving grade on both sides of Fitzwater Street, said sidewalks to be five feet on both sides of the street.

Bids were received from L. W. Ganby Co., and Lewis Morgan for installing a new Model heater in the City Hall. L. W. Ganby Co., being the lowest bidder, the contract was awarded them for the sum of $110.00.

Culver-Hearn.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hearn, at Hebron, Md., Wednesday evening, September 27th, when their daughter, Lola, was given in marriage to Mr. Earl Culver. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white satin and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The groom wore the conventional black.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride. Refreshments of all kinds were served. They were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents. The guests departed at a late hour wishing the happy couple much happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Culver will reside at Hebron.

A Smokeless and Odorless Broler for Home Use

One of the greatest improvements made in the years in the family range is the device furnished with Cole's Hot Blast Range for broiling meats, game, fish and ham slices. This device consists of a broiling box which is set before an upright grill in the front of the range which forms the front of the fire box. The odor and smoke from broiling is carried through the range and up the chimney. With this modern method of broiling the juices in the meat are saved so that none of the flavor is lost. No grease can drop on the coals and the smoke and gases from the fire cannot come in contact with the meat and taint it.

This is a patented device which can be used only on Cole's Hot Blast Range. All up-to-date housekeepers will be interested in seeing it. Range in operation each day at our store from October 24 to 27th. Call and bring your friends.

TENNIS ON THE PENINsula—Salisbury Matched With Dover Thursday Evening—Easton And Dover Expected Here Next Week.

An interesting Tennis tourney was played on the Dover courts at the Delaware capital Thursday when Salisbury met the Dover racket wielders in the second of this season's series. There were six events played with the following results:

Ladies Doubles—Mrs. J. M. Toulson and Mrs. Bernard Ulman, for Salisbury, won from Miss Watson and Miss Smith, of Dover, 6-2, 6-3.

Ladies Doubles—Mrs. Toulson and Mrs. Ulman for Salisbury tied with Miss Jackson and Miss Watson, of Dover, 3-6, 6-2, and one game all on third set, when play was called, owing to darkness.

Mixed Doubles—Miss Elizabeth Collier and Mr. J. K. White for Salisbury won from Miss Mabel Jackson and Mr. John LeFevre, 6-2, 6-1, 6-0.

Men's Doubles—Mr. R. K. Truitt and Dr. A. B. Burris for Salisbury won from Messrs. Hardestie and Smith of Dover, 6-0, 6-1, 6-3.

Men's Doubles—Messrs. R. K. Truitt and J. R. White for Salisbury won from Messrs. H. S. Hardestie and John LeFevre, 6-2, 6-0, 6-4.

Men's Singles—Dr. A. B. Burris for Salisbury won from Mr. Smith of Dover, 6-4, 7-5.

One of the best months of the year—October—remains to tennis lovers for playing, and two bouts are looked for next week, Easton being expected on Monday and Dover on Thursday. Each club should furnish a good account of itself.

In the last match with Easton, the Tablet Countians won a majority of the events, and Salisbury is hoping to reconquer her former laurels if possible although it is known that they will have to play in their best form to do it.

For next year preparations are under way to form a tennis circuit in Maryland and Delaware, including the towns of Salisbury, Cambridge, Easton, Dover, Smyrna and Georgetown. This would furnish some fine sport and a number of enjoyable tournaments, there probably being also during the season a two or three day meet of all the towns together.

GORMAN DISTRICT CLUBS

Much Interest in Work—County To Get Busy.

Attention is called to the call issued by the State Central Committee for the organization of Gorman Clubs in every District of the county. If the Democrats expect to win this Fall, they must get busy and see that the vote gets interested in the State campaign. Too much should not be taken for granted; there is but one way to get the vote out and that is to go after it.

The way to organize is for several Democrats to get together and start the movement and enroll the names of every Democrat in the district who will lend his aid in the work. The movement should be started at once if effective work is to be accomplished. Such a club could be of great assistance in the registration as well as at the election.

The Democratic State Central Committee headquarters in Salisbury will lend every assistance possible to the formation of these clubs and will give any assistance desired and furnish data wanted.

Some Will Ride And Some Will Walk.

With 251 members present at the Jackson Baraca Class in Trinity M. E. Church, South, on last Sunday morning the contest which has been going on since last April came to a close. There are on the roll of the Jackson Baraca Class 515 members, divided into two companies, O and J. It was agreed in April that a contest should take place ending the fourth Sunday in September to see which company would have the largest attendance during this period, the losing company to escort on foot the winning company, which would ride, to the Ulman Opera House, where an entertainment will be held early in November. Company O, being the loser, will carry out the contract, and expect to have as much fun out of it as the fellows who ride.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY

Ticket—Convention Makes Nominations. Full Ticket in Field.

The republicans had a field day in Salisbury last Tuesday, when their Convention reconvened to make out the county ticket. Prominent republicans from all sections were present and assisted in selecting the men to represent their party in the coming election. Rumors of dissatisfaction in the democratic ranks put new life in them and unusual care was taken in the personnel of the men nominated. The convention was presided over by Mr. Walter B. Miller, who made a brief address reviewing the local and state situation. Mr. E. Dale Adkins acted as Secretary. The ticket nominated is as follows:

State Senate—William H. Knowles, Sharptown District.

Members of the Legislature—J. P. Wilson, Delmar; Charles C. Booth, Parsons; Elijah L. Parker, Willard.

County Treasurer—Dr. Samuel A. Graham, Camden.

State's Attorney—Grant Goslee, Delmar.

Sheriff—W. R. Conway Quantico.

County Commissioners—R. H. Chatham, Trappe; Norval H. Cooper, Tyaskin; Ernest Brittingham, Pittsville.

Judges Orphans' Court—Josephus Hayman, Nutters; John W. Smith, Camden; Samuel M. White, Nanticoke.

Surveyor—Thomas W. English, Barren Creek.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Proceedings At Their Session Last Tuesday.

The County Commissioners were in session Tuesday and transacted the following business:

A delegation of citizens from Rock-awalking was before the Board with a request to make the private road leading from the Crooked Oak, on the Quantico Stone road, to the new road, a public road twenty-four feet wide. They agreed to give the property necessary for widening the road. The Board agreed to make the improvements asked for.

The report of G. E. Jackson, B. S. Morris and S. P. Parsons on a tax ditch in Dennis District was taken up for final ratification. Objections being filed by W. L. Laws, action was deferred until October 4th.

Report of examiners on road from Leonard's Mill to the Delaware Line was finally ratified.

Mr. Cooper reported that he had arranged to keep the Sharptown Ferry in operation while the bridge is being built, by securing another landing place.

Messrs. Ward and Cooper were authorized to rent the election house in Parsons District at $52 per year.

G. W. Adkins, G. W. Moore and E. W. Parsons were appointed commissioners on tax ditch in Nanticoke District to extend through the lands of Theo. Jenkins, Jones and Oliver, G. M. Catlin and others.

Robbins' All Feature Show Proved A Treat.

If ever a show proved itself an all feature show the Frank A. Robbins circus did that here and its reputation as bringing "the best circus that comes to town," to this section is even better yet. This circus has been seen on other occasions here, but each time it adds new friends.

We heard many people say that they had visited the larger circuses but after visiting this had concluded that the Robbins production was the best for the money they had yet seen. They have a number of attractions that are presented at great cost by the management of this circus. One of them certainly is the need balance, who costs more than four of the best acrobats—and all of the latter are artists—who walks on his head down a flight of stairs. The equestrian performances of this circus are the best yet seen here and the trained stallions are but an evidence of what instruction can bring in horseflesh.

The crowd who saw the circus on Thursday night filled nearly every seat and that it was delighted with the production was evidenced by the remarks heard after the performance. No complaint was heard concerning the show, for it was regarded as furnishing the scarcer feats and uniquely skillful as well as artistic show features so much looked for by the modern circus lover.

It is a pleasure to meet the publicity man of the circus. He is James E. Gordon—and once met, he has proved his ability in his line. He knows the circus' needs and his keen appreciation and gentleness can not help but make him friends along the itinerary of the circus. The public hears the true story of the circus through him in a way that educates. We repeat it; we are glad we met him.—Stroudsburg, Pa., Daily Times, May 26, 1911.

—Miss Maggie Keating, of Philadelphia, was the guest of Mrs. F. P. Adkins this week.

TO CLEAR THE WICOMICO

River Below Bridge So As To Obtain Best Results.

The Government has given out the contract to dredge the harbor below the bridge to the Maryland Dredging Company and active work will commence within the next few weeks. A most important question connected with this improvement is the disposal of the dirt dredged from the river and we are glad to note that the Business Men's Association has taken hold of this question and is making some headway towards getting this dirt spread over the low places along the river instead of having it dumped into the river as has been done heretofore.

In the past several years when the harbor has been dredged this dirt has been loaded on scows and carried down the river where it has been dumped in the stream and as a consequence it has been discovered that there are many lumps in the stream below the harbor where there was formerly plenty of water. The Business Men's Association has taken up this matter with the Maryland Dredging Company with a view of getting that Company to handle the present proposition in a more sane way. It has started to work with the Maryland Dredging Company to get this dirt deposited on the different wharf properties below the bridge so as to fill in the bogs and low places on both sides of the river. The property owners have agreed to give the Government the use of their properties on which to deposit this dirt and it is estimated that enough dirt will be removed from the harbor to fill in and make solid land of the strip between Fitzwater Street and the river and make it all high land. On the other side there is ample room for a great amount of this dirt which would fill in the low places and in the rear of the properties on Camden Avenue and make a much more beautiful condition. We understand that property owners on the North side of the river have agreed to construct bulkheads in front of their properties at any point where they do not already exist and are willing to cooperate with the Dredging Company in any manner possible to get the advantage of having this dirt to fill up the low places.

We feel sure that Mr. Frank Forst, president of the Maryland Dredging Company, will act in conjunction with our merchants and business men to have the work done in conformity with their views as it will probably not cost the dredging company any extra money as it would save the cost of maintaining the dump scows and tug boats. We hope the Business Men's Association will be successful in this work, which is the kind of work to show the advantage of having such an organization here. The president of the Association, Mr. John D. Williams, is very much interested in the project and is working hard to get the new arrangement. He should be supported by every interested in the city and especially the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railroad Company, who are vitally interested in keeping a free harbor in Salisbury.

OVER THE NANTICOKE

By Sharptown Bridge Brings Counties Closer Together.

The Roanoke Bridge Company started work on the bridge across the Nanticoke at Sharptown on Monday. Senator Jesse D. Price, William M. Cooper, president of the County Commissioners, and Isaac L. Price, this city, were present. There are nearly six hundred pilings to drive and the contractors estimate twenty or more days. They began at the pivot in the center of the draw. The bridge is to be built of steel and concrete. The length is 650 feet with 150 foot draw, 75 feet on either side of the pivot. The driveway will be eighteen feet wide. Arrangement has been made by which the ferry boats will land above the line of the bridge so as not to interrupt traffic during the construction of the bridge. The beginning of the work sent a feeling of gladness over the town and hundreds saw the work in progress some time during the day. The bridge will mean a great deal to Sharptown and adjacent territory and the traveling public in general.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever: nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for Circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Comfort For Hogs Means Profit. Success in pork production is largely affected by the attention given to the health and comfort of the hog. A warm, comfortable place. Preferably this will be a cot well supplied with straw and having a door which swings both ways, always closing when the sow passes in or out.

This cot may be located at some distance from the feeding place, so that she will get the necessary exercise in running to and fro. Her food should consist of bulky foods, which will keep her in good condition without fattening.

As farrowing time approaches the bulk of feed should be cut down, less water should be given and more protein and oily feeds should be fed, so as to keep the sow in a laxative condition. She should be disturbed as little as possible. If she is allowed to get nervous or excited the effect may be seen on the litter in an excited temperament, which lessens the rapidity of their growth.

To Cut Silk.

When cutting sheer, paddy goods or thin silks, which are apt to pull out of place, lay the material between two thin sheets of paper and cut out the paper and all.

CARE OF PREGNANT SOWS.

Tendency to Overfeed Animals Too
Prevent—Feeds That Are Nourishing to Sow and Litter.

Very many of those farmers who keep pure bred stock for sale fall into the error of keeping the brood sows too fat. This is largely due to a pardonable ambition of the breeder to have his herd always in show shape for the admiration of visitors.

A sow that is fed liberally on fat forming food, as corn, while pregnant, lays on a great deal of fat and becomes very heavy and awkward.

Not only does it cause her pigs to come weak, puny things, unable to get out of the sow's way and frequently having not enough strength to suckle, but the sow is more likely to be feverish and restless and too inert to get off a pig if she lies on it.

And this does not mean either that a sow should necessarily go hungry to keep her from getting fat. But the kind of feed given should be that which will cause her to fatten rather than fatten, a feed that will nourish the embryonic pig and cause it to be born with lots of vitality.

It is best to furnish pregnant sows a bulky feed that will satisfy their appetites without causing too much fat or heat in the body. In summer, where the brood sows have the run of a good clover pasture, no other feed is necessary all the pigs are fattened, although it will be no disadvantage to feed them night and morning a couple of ears of corn.

In winter whole bran is excellent, with a few roots and a little clover hay, and an ear of corn twice a day will balance it up still better.

Following is the result of a series of experiments conducted for the purpose of determining the effects on the offspring in the feeding of the brood sows on scant and full balanced and unbalanced rations:

The feeding of a ration, although balanced, yet insufficient in quantity to prevent the sow losing flesh for a time before and at breeding time, seemed to cause her to fail to come in heat, while the feeding of a ration deficient in bulk or in essential nutrient seemed to cause the sow to be especially difficult to get with pig and when she did get with pig to conceive only small litters.

On the other hand, the sows that for some time previous to breeding, up to and after farrowing, were continuously fed upon a well balanced, bulky ration, consisting of succulent feed and of meat in some form in addition to the regular grain ration, accompanied by an ample supply of water and plenty of exercise, farrowed large, uniform litters, every member of which was big, strong and healthy.

Four old sows and three sows with first litters with such treatment produced seventy-eight big, strong, well developed pigs. Nos. 1, 2 and 3, with their first litters, produced nine, eleven and twelve pigs respectively. Nos. 4, 5, 6 and 7 were old sows and produced twelve, twelve, eleven and eleven respectively.

It was interesting to note that sows Nos. 4 and 5, that farrowed twelve pigs each with this special care, had under less favorable conditions, farrowed not to exceed nine pigs in any one litter, and in one or two instances had farrowed only five.

This series of experiments demonstrates that the number of pigs in the litter and the quality of pigs are very much influenced by the care given the sow not only before and at breeding time, but even the number and quality of living pigs at farrowing may be very much influenced by the care and feed given during the period of pregnancy.

Ration For Young Porskers.
The hog grower of the future in pork production as a business proposition and not using hogs merely as scavengers in the field must take cognizance of the fact that the young pigs up to the age of six months need a growing and not a fattening ration and that their feeding must be tempered with judgment.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

It is conducive to health to feed hogs where they can have the range of the pasture field.

Newly broken colts should not be worked too hard in spring. They are apt to overstrain themselves and be injured for life.

Pigs should not be too fat for the first six months. Development of bone and muscle should be the first consideration.

It very seldom pays to store wool any great length of time after shearing. Fully as often as you get more you will have to take less than the price at shearing time.

After they have lost their wool cold storms or even cold winds will almost surely chill the sheep. It is a good plan to get them in and house them during such storms.

If your wool is hairy don't expect to get the full price for it. Might as well lay out the hairy bunches first as last. And, say, lay out the sheep that grow that hair. They are poor property.

It is the farmer who keeps sheep for a number of years that finds them most profitable. Some years they will return a much better profit than others, and it is hard to sell and buy at just the right time.

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scaling pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

DEATH BLOW OF CROOKED POLITICS.

There is not a man of proper decency in the State of Maryland, who will uphold the crookedness that has been brought to light by the Grand Jury of Baltimore City in its investigation of the recent primaries. Regardless of its effect on party or individual this investigation should be continued until it has been conclusively proven that all the dirty work has been unearthed and every man responsible has been punished therefor.

Not only is this course the right and just one to pursue, but from a party standpoint, it is the only policy that gives a chance for success. The people of Baltimore City and of the State at large, must be thoroughly convinced that the Democratic party is earnest and sincere in its desire to get at the bottom of this crooked work, before they will be willing to trust the affairs of the State in their hands for another four years. While not believing that the Legislature should ever be convened in order to further the interests of any political party, yet the corruption of our voters, the pollution of our elections, are matters that concern all citizens and if the work of recounting the ballots will be expedited by this means it may be well to have an extra session for this purpose. It must be borne in mind, however, that it will be useless to attempt to cloud the issue by the pretense of passing other needed legislation, just as well frankly call the legislature to examine into the frauds committed in the last primary. We believe that if it be found necessary to issue this call in order to get at the facts, that the sentiment of this State would be overwhelming in favor of an extra session.

Whatever the immediate results of the exposures in Baltimore City may be, there is a source of much gratification in the fact that this will probably put an end to crooked politics of this character at least.

It will be well if the Counties of the State take the lesson to heart as well, and politicians of both parties awake to the fact that the days of corruption, lying, intimidation, trickery and manipulation are over.

If the Democratic party is to stay in power leaders of this type must be relegated to the quietness of private life, and that quickly less they carry with them in their recalcitrance the party which is unfortunate enough to have them as members.

A good, frank, open, courageous stand on the Baltimore City situation is what is needed, and if this course is taken the exposure may prove a blessing in disguise.

Remember Citizens is to be complacent.

ed on his open and manly stand on this question. From the first he has been found in the front ranks demanding a thorough and honest investigation which would spare no one, but lay bare the facts and place the blame upon the shoulders of the guilty parties. The citizens of the State who believe in decency and good government, regardless of party affiliations, appreciate and commend this stand. Fair play and the square deal demands that the innocent should not be confounded with the guilty and that those who are guiltless must not be made to suffer for the faults, mistakes and crimes of others. Mr. Gorman is a man full of red blood, who believes in standing up for his rights and in fighting for what he wants. His address of acceptance is remarkable for its outspoken frankness on public questions and its note of insistence when he demands that his nomination be cleared of any doubt. His course throughout the whole trying situation has been such as to win the respect and confidence of his fellow citizens. He has made it clear that he will not be a party to crooked work himself, nor the beneficiary of the crooked work of others. Gorman is a young man, whose ambition reaches farther and higher than the gubernatorial chair, if he so desired or was so inclined he could not afford to go back on his pledges made. To do this would mar forever his ambitions of the future. He can be depended upon to keep his record clean and true—and give to this State one of the best and cleanest administrations it ever had.

WILLARDS.

Business Opportunity.

WANTED—One of the largest and most widely known shoe manufacturers in the United States, giving employment to between four and five thousand people, and who have spent several million dollars giving publicity to their products, which are today known in every city and town in the United States, want a man or woman with average business ability to operate a store in towns of ten thousand and up, including Salisbury.

The line of goods is a commercial staple and a necessity. A store of this kind backed by our advertising campaign, which is conceded by experts to be the greatest in the world, is bound to be a success and a money-maker from the start. Thorough investigation invited and no investment asked until thoroughly satisfied in regard to prospects of success. It will require a capital of from $5,000 to $6,000.

FATHER AND SON FAINT

Before Court—$2500 Bail For Ennis—Hearing On Monday—The Testimony

Theodore Ennis, who was arrested charged with killing his brother, Edward Ennis, with the blade of a hoe during a quarrel over the division of some corn, was carried before Judge Treadin on Monday under a writ for Habeas Corpus got out by his attorney, L. Atwood Bennett, and held under $2500 bail for the action of the Grand Jury.

During the hearing while his father was testifying, young Ennis dropped in a faint. As soon as his father perceived his condition, he also fainted, overcome by the strain. The testimony as to the causes leading up to the tragedy were very conflicting. The accused, his father and other witnesses giving conflicting testimony. From the best evidence obtainable it seems that the father and his son, Theodore, had some words concerning the share of corn from this year's crop due each and Eddie Ennis became involved in the dispute which soon grew to be very hot. Eddie, it is said, drew a knife from his pocket and lunged at his brother, Theodore. The latter seized a hoe and dealt Eddie a blow over the head, the sharp blade penetrating the skull causing Eddie's death about five hours later.

John Ennis, the father, stated that Theodore struck the deadly blow only in the defense of his life, after Eddie had attacked him with a knife. The authorities have discovered another eye-witness to the affair in the person of ten year old Willie Bryan, the little brother of Theodore Ennis' wife. The boy has given the State's Attorney information conflicting with the evidence of the father, John Ennis. He stated that at one time all three men were in a heap on the ground.

The never ending interest in the circus was again demonstrated here Tuesday when Downie & Wheeler Shows demonstrated their attractions in a very efficient manner.

Some of the features were remarkable illustrations of the high degree to which skill and training can attain. The bicycle stunts, trapeze act, and acrobatics, pony, monkey, elephant, goat and dog parties were all good and thoroughly entertained the large tent of people, who attended both afternoon and evening performances. Downie & Wheeler's first introduction here has paved the way favorably for their future appearances if Salisbury is on next year's circuit.

Do the right thing if you have Nasal Catarrh. Get Ely's Cream Balm at once. Don't touch the catarrh powder and snuffs for they contain cocaine. Ely's Cream Balm releases the secretions that inflame the nasal passages and the throat, whereas medicines made with mercury merely dry up the secretions and leave you no better than you were. In a word, Ely's Cream Balm is a real remedy, not a delusion. All druggists, 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Brothers, 65 Warren Street, New York.

NOTICE To The Democrats of Wicomico Co.

Believing that the best interests of the people of the State and County can be served by the election of the Democratic State and County tickets, we call upon the Democrats of every District in Wicomico County to get together at once and

Organize A Democratic District Club

This is very important and should be done at once. It is especially important to get the young men of the party interested in its success and we know of no better way to accomplish this than to interest the rank and file of the party in a Club movement. This committee will assist in any manner towards this end and we call upon the leading Democrats in each District of the County to take up this work at once. Report all organizations with a list of the members and officers to this Committee so that we may have proper knowledge of the Organizations and where they exist.

Any information will be furnished by addressing the Secretary, Mr. M. V. Brewington, Salisbury. We appeal to Democrats in the County to join in this movement and do so at once so the Clubs can be formed and help in the work of the campaign. JAMES T. TRUITT, Chairman E. JAMES MESSICK,
M. V. BREWINGTON, Secretary, Democratic State Central Committee for Wicomico County.

The Telephone Alarm

A SUBURBAN NEWSPAPER SAYS:

"Within 48 hours after the completion of a Rural Bell Telephone line a fire broke out near a cranberry bog, threatening great damage. Neighbors were summoned from miles around by Bell Telephone and strenuous work saved the bog and several farm houses."
