McCULLOUGH FOR COMPTROLLER.

Nominated By Republicans in Baltimore. On Wednesday—The Amendment Scored By Eloquent Speakers.

The Republican State Convention re-assembled Wednesday evening in Germania Maennerchor Hall, Baltimore, and unanimously nominated former State Senator Henry Mitchell McCullough, of Cecil county, for State Comptroller. It was an enthusiastic gathering of Republicans from all over the city and State and resembled a mass meeting more than a formal political convention. Secretary Bonaparte presided and delivered one of his characteristic speeches against the Democratic Bosses and the Poe Amendment. Mr. George E. Gaither, President of the Second Branch of the Baltimore City Council, also delivered a strong speech. It, too, was directed against the Poe Amendment and the efforts of the Democratic machine to hoodwink the people, irrespective of party, as to their motives in the results of the present campaign.

Mr. McCullough was placed in nomination by Joshua Clayton, the eloquent and popular young attorney from Cecil who has recently come to the front so rapidly in State politics. Mr. Clayton's speech was greeted with cheers that shook the rafters. The nomination was seconded by former Senator Lewis Putzel of Baltimore and P. L. Goldsborough, of Dorchester county.

SKETCH OF THE CANDIDATE.

Mr. McCullough, the candidate for comptroller, was born September 24, 1858, at Elkton, Cecil county. His father, Jas. T. McCullough, was a prominent member of the Cecil bar, and represented his county in the Senate in 1855. His mother was a daughter of Col. George E. Mitchell, who served with distinction in the United States Army in the War of 1812, and who was a member of Congress for three terms. Mr. McCullough acquired his education at the Elkton Academy and at Princeton. He read law under father, and was admitted to the bar in June, 1881. In 1900 he was elected one of the presidential electors at large by the Republican party. In 1901 he was elected to the State Senate, defeating Senator Austin Crothers, who was a candidate for re-election.

During the last session of the General Assembly he was the Republican floor leader in the Senate.

Why Not Horses?

Salisbury, Md., Oct. 5th.

Editor Courier:

I notice in this week's Wicomico News, that the Mayor and City Council have published a notice to owners of Automobiles calling their attention to the fact that it is against the law to run automobiles over 6 miles per hour in the city, and at the same time they give notice to owners of automobiles that said law will be enforced on and after October 7th. If I have been correctly informed there is also a law regulating the speed for driving through our city and the maximum speed under said law or ordinance is 6 miles per hour.

If this is correct then I think it is only fair to all concerned that a similar notice be published to owners of horses.

FAIR PLAY.

Musical At St. Peter's Rectory.

A musicale will be held at the Rectory by the ladies of St. Peter's Guild on the evening of October 12th from eight to eleven. Cake and ices served. Admission twenty-five cents. The following program will be rendered.

"Forever and a Day," Carl Sobeski—Mrs. Edward Fulton.

"Evening Nocturne," Edward M. Read—Master Karl L. Howard.

Recitation, "A Legend of Brezeng"—Miss Mabel Fitch.

"September," Loudon G. Charlton—Miss Nellie Leatherbury.

"Cast Thy Bread On the Waters," George B. Nevins—Rev. David Howard.

"Picnic in the Woods," A. Sartori—Miss Annie Cannon, Master Karl L. Howard.

Reopening Of Rockawalkin M. E. Church.

Rockawalkin M. E. Church, which has been undergoing repairs and improvements for several weeks past, will be reopened next Sunday, Oct. 8th, with appropriate service morning and evening. The pulpit recess has been removed and a choir room built in its place with six stained glass windows; the pulpit platform has been moved forward; the pews rearranged; the ceiling altered; walls papered; new carpets and the edifice painted on outside.

At the services Sunday morning Rev. G. O. Williams of Berlin will preach and at the evening services Rev. C. A. Hill, D. D., of Salisbury will preach. Special music by choir at both services. The public cordially invited to attend the services. Reopening services on Sunday will be followed by revival services during the week.

SALISBURY WATER COMPANY.

Now Has New Owners—The Plant To Be Greatly Improved And Extended. Its Officers.

The stock of the Salisbury Water Company consisting of 430 shares, owned by the following gentlemen, namely, Hon. Wm. H. Jackson, ex-Governor E. E. Jackson, Mrs. Francis Jackson, Dr. L. S. Bell, John B. Parsons, W. S. Bell, S. Ulman & Bro., Charles Marsh and Dr. L. D. Collier, was formally transferred to its new owners, a syndicate headed by Louis Dalmas, Esq. of Philadelphia, the first of this week. At a meeting of stockholders Wednesday evening in Salisbury, the old board of directors resigned and the following were elected: M. V. Brewington, President; A. J. Benjamin, Vice President; Louis Dalmas, Secretary and Treasurer; Ralph B. Rhodes, Manager, and Samuel A. Graham.

The new owners took charge of the property October 1st. At the directors meeting following the stockholders meeting above mentioned, after the election of officers as noted, it was decided and so ordered, to begin at once an extension of the Division street main to the new school building. Other extensions contemplated and the rebuilding of the mains and plant will be taken up later. The improvements, however, will be made as fast and as quickly as possible.

From now on the Water Co. and the Electric Light Co's. office and management, though they are kept separate and distinct as organizations, will be combined. The office in the News building will be retained. Shortly a rate card for water rents will be issued. The rates will not be raised, but every user will be placed on an equal footing and basis.

A new contract with the city and a new franchise by the Council was entered into between the former owners of the company and the city officials on September 1st. Under this new contract, the city secures several additional and valuable rights. The term of this contract is 30 years. Under its provisions the city pays for fire plugs, $30 per year instead of $25. It also receives the right to flush the mains and stand pipe. Extensions are provided for on Camden Avenue, in the manufacturing section around E. S. Adkins & Co's mills, and in several other sections.

The most valuable clause of the contract is that requiring the Water Company to make extensions practically as directed by the Council, thus placing the company largely under the control of the Council. This clause is to the effect that any extension of the mains must be made whenever the Council so directs, provided the Council pays for fire plug or plugs and guarantees one customer for every 800 additional main that is laid.

It is expected that the service rendered by the Water Company will be greatly improved in the near future and that the city will be greatly benefited thereby.

As soon as the necessary work to the water mains and other improvements are completed on the streets affected, the Main street and Division street paving plans will be carried through by the Council. It is anticipated that in the early spring they will be enabled to begin work paving these streets and be all ready so that when the work once begun, it can be rushed forward to completion in a short time.

Court Proceedings.

The Grand Jury was discharged on Friday and the Court took a recess to Tuesday morning. Nineteen bills of indictment were found.

Tuesday, No. 1 Criminal Presentments, State vs. Mary Jones, colored, was taken up. Pleading guilty to larceny of jewelry from Mrs. Wm. B. Tilghman and sentenced to penitentiary for one year. Bailey for State, Bennett for prisoner.

Wednesday, No. 2—Criminal Presentments, State vs. Charles Milbourn, prisoner pleading guilty and sentenced to penitentiary for 3 years. Douglas for prisoner.

No. 3—Criminal Presentments, State vs. Geo. Kelley. Plead guilty to larceny and sentenced for 3 years. The prisoner is a young man that strayed from the west. Was charged with breaking into the residence of Joseph Fraser and larceny of different household articles. Geo. W. Bell for prisoner.

In the morning on conclusion of the above cases the only remaining case for trial on the docket being taken up was commenced. It is the trial of issues from the Orphan's Court for Worcester county and removed here for trial. Edward T. Jones of Pocomoke City, died in April 1904 and his will leaving his property to his wife and cutting off his son and grand-daughter by a prior marriage was contested by the son and grand-daughter, alleging want of mental capacity to make a will and undue influence. Property involved is about $5,000. Case submitted to the jury on Friday afternoon and being argued at time of going to press.

CEMENT GRAVE VAULTS.

Patent Sarcophagus Manufactured in Salisbury Are A Success.

The cement grave vaults, which were patented by Mr. W. A. Crew, of Salisbury, and which are being manufactured by W. A. Crew Concrete Co., R. Lee Waller manager, are rapidly taking the place of brick vaults in this vicinity where they have become known and the company, with its present facilities, is hardly able to supply the demand. The vaults meet the instant approval of every undertaker who sees them and, without any special effort having been made to introduce them, the company finds difficulty in filling its orders. They contemplate greatly enlarging their plant in the near future and making an effort to sell the vaults in all parts of the country.

For durability these vaults are practically indestructible. The nature of the material is peculiarly adapted to underground work, as dampness only seems to harden it and give it full strength. The convenience of the patent vault seems to appeal to everyone who has examined it. They can be set together complete in a half hour, and when cemented together are practically airtight, and are proof against dampness. For cheapness, they are much more economical than brick vaults, as there is no pine box used, the vault itself being white and clean. The company is now manufacturing these vaults at the yards in Salisbury. After the installation of additional machinery, sales depots will be established in a number of sections of the country. The patents cover the United States and Canada, and the possibilities for a large business are very great.

Colonia—Stengle.

Miss Bertha Clarke Stengle, daughter of Rev. Adam Stengle, Presiding Elder of Salisbury District, Wilmington M. E. Conference, was married on Wednesday afternoon in Ashbury M. E. Church, this city, to Rev. James Wesley Colonia, pastor of Antioch M. E. Church, Princess Anne. The ceremony was performed by her father, assisted by Revs. C. A. Hill and S. M. Morgan, in the presence of a large audience. Miss Clara Walton played the wedding music and, as the bridal party proceeded to the altar, the wedding chorus from Lohengrin was sung by a quartette composed of Mrs. E. C. Fulton, Miss Maria Louise Kilgore, Mr. C. Edgar Laws and Mr. Raymond K. Truitt.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Florence Spies, of Baltimore, as maid of honor. The groom's best man was Mr. John Holland, of Milford, Del. The ushers were Mr. E. C. Fulton and Mr. G. F. Sharpley, of Salisbury, Dr. Harry L. Smith, of Princess Anne, and Mr. Charles Colonia, of Baltimore, brother of the groom. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. George Stengle, of Georgetown, Del.

The bride wore a gown of white French batiste over white tulle, with trimmings of Herre lace. She wore a long veil, and carried a white satin ritual. The maid of honor was gowned in white batiste with German valencienne lace and corn colored girdle, and carried a shower bouquet of Golden Gate roses. She wore a large Gainsborough hat. The decorations at the church were golden rod and a wedding ball of that flower was suspended from an arch over the chancel. The chancel was banked with ferns and palms.

A wedding breakfast followed the church service, at the home of the bride's parents. Yellow and white was the color scheme used throughout the house, roses and ferns with yellow tapers being used in the design. The bride and groom left on the two o'clock express for an extended trip North. They were the recipients of many handsome presents.

The out of town guests included: Still Point, Md.—Mr. Joseph E. Clarke, Sanford, Del.—Mr. Asbury Brown and wife, Thos. T. Willis, Georgetown, Del.—Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Jones and daughter, Miss Kate Hayes, Miss Mary C. White, Mr. G. E. Stengle, wife and daughter.

Baltimore, Md.—Mr. Milton E. Wells, Mr. Chas. Colonia, Miss Mary M. Spies, Miss Florence E. Spies, E. Hoffman, Pocomoke City.—Rev. L. E. Poole, Mr. W. Thornton, wife and daughter.

Tasley, Va.—Mr. W. Colonia, wife and daughter, Stockton, Md.—Miss Hattie Colonia, Marion, Md.—Rev. J. H. Gardner, Pocomoke, Md.—Miss H. Collins, Mr. C. Brown, Mr. C. T. Fisher, Dr. C. Fisher, Dr. H. L. Smith, Milford, Del.—Mr. Jno. H. Holland, Hurlock, Md.—Mr. Wm. Colonia, Delmar, Del.—Mr. H. Thonin too.

Silver Service To Cruiser Maryland.

The contract for making the testimonial to be presented to the cruiser Maryland by the people of the State was awarded to the Samuel Kirk & Son Company Monday by the Maryland Cruiser Fund Commission.

The gift will be a silver service, composed of 48 pieces, and will cost $5,000. The presentation will probably take place next spring.

An important departure from the ordinary silver service is the depiction of historical events. On 31 of the pieces events relating to counties are shown, and on the 12 punch cups the first 12 Colonial Governors are represented. To carry out the designs Col. William H. Love, secretary of the Board of Trade, was selected by the commission to advise the Kirk Company.

The decorations on the Gravy and Sauce boats will illustrate events in Wilcomio and Somerset counties. The service will be one of the handsomest in the navy. Contributions toward it were solicited in Salisbury during the summer.

Ladies See the First Game

The management of the Eastern Shore Football Team extend a cordial invitation to the ladies of Salisbury to witness the first game of the season, on Friday, October 13th, with the Wilmington Conference Academy, of Dover, Del., at the South Salisbury Athletic Grounds. ## TIME SAVED BY TELEPHONE.

Means A Great Saving Of Time To The Progressive Farmer.

Perhaps the most serious problem which confronts the American farmer today is the saving of time, the crowding of more than ever into a given period. It is with a view of solving this problem that every up-to-date farmer is continually buying the latest improved farm implements and labor saving devices for tilling the soil.

As a means of saving time, we ask you, if you are a farmer, if you could employ any quicker or cheaper method than to install a telephone in your farm house? Have you ever stopped to consider how much time you could save by the use of the telephone? Do you know that you could transact your business with your shipping agent, your bank, your lawyer, and keep in touch with the latest market quotations on farm products generally if you had a telephone in your house? Figure it out for yourself. Ordinarily a trip to your shipping point would take you at least a half a day. If the market was poor when you got there and you did not make the shipment you would lose a half day's time. A telephone would have done the job in a few seconds, and saved you an unnecessary trip.

The hurry call for the doctor or veterinary, the purchase and repair of farm implements, the employment of help, the social chats with your neighbor and the protection to your wife and family while you are away from home should be sufficient reason to impress every farmer with the need of a telephone. The telephone in the farm house offers the most perfect combination of life, fire, accident and health insurance, and a telephone in your farm house is a better protection against danger from lightning than the best lightning rod manufactured.

The reduced rates of the Diamond State Telephone Company bring this service easily within your reach and if you will write the Contract Department Salisbury, Md., our representative will call and quote a rate to suit your conditions. No matter where you live, we are prepared to bring this service to you at a nominal cost.

Letter to S. Lowenthal.

Dear Sir: The easiest business in this world is dry-goods; the reason is: your customers want your stuff as much as you want to sell it; they come in; you show it and sell it. That's the whole business, except your buying the goods. Devote comes next. It save money and people like money. They like somebody else's more than their own; they like to make it more than to save it; they like to keep it perhaps as well as to make it.

Buildings run-down fast, without paint, poor paint is the same. Devote is the means of stopping that leak; a big one. All we've got to do, to sell Devote, is to show that a man saves money by using it.

E. D. Jewell, Corry, Pa., painted his house 5 years ago with a mixed paint; 14 gallons. Last spring he painted Devote; 10 gallons. Saved $15 to $20.

Yours truly,

F. W. Devor & Co.

SAND AND CLAY ROADS.

Maryland Geological Survey Oppose Them. Engineer Crosby Gives Reasons.

The recent action of the Queen Anne's County authorities in rescinding their resolution made last spring, to take up their share of the state aid road fund for the building of macadam roads, and to substitute for macadam a compromise upon sand-clay roads, has raised the question whether there can be any such compromise in the quality and construction of the state roads from the stipulations laid down in the state aid road law itself, and it would seem a good thing to have the matter definitely settled at once for all future time. The residents of the counties generally consider that Queen Anne's County is making a mistake in neglecting to secure the nucleus for a fine road-system and Mr. Walter W. Crosby, the highway engineer of the state, in an interview not only asserts that sand-clay roads cannot be built under the state law, but that macadam roads economically as well as physically are more desirable than those of sand and clay.

"It is a mistake" says Mr. Crosby, "to think for a moment that these so-called cheap roads can in any way be compared to macadam, even from the standpoint of expense, as has been proven by experience with stone roads; and the residents of Queen Anne's County are mistaken even about initial cost of these sand-clay or gravel roads. They put the cost of this form of road at $500 per mile, but this is not a fair comparison with the $5,000 per mile for macadam, because this does not include grading, pipes or bridges. When we speak of macadam costing $5,000 per mile, this includes grading, pipes and bridges, and the actual cost of a sand-clay or gravel road, over all, is really $2,500. You see, then, that this first expense has been misrepresented at the very start. Now, after getting your road built, what takes place?

The sand-clay road has to be repaired every spring, for it will not stand the strain of the winter weather, and in winter and spring it is very unsatisfactory, whereas, the properly made macadam road and mark well what I say, will last for twenty years without any more improving or rebuilding than cleaning out the ditches. That may seem impossible to those who do not know real macadam roads, but I make a positive assertion that roads upon which the travel is no heavier than on our Eastern Shore should last from five to twenty years without having a shovelful of material thrown upon them. Of course, this has no reference to washouts, because the latter may injure any road at any time, but as far as wear and tear from travel is concerned, a macadam road should last fully as long as I have said.

As a proof of what I say, I may point to a piece of turnpike road which was built under my direction at Towson, five years ago, running from Rider's stable easterly and southerly. The traffic over this piece of road is very heavy—much heavier probably than over any road on the Eastern Shore, and yet this road has not been touched in the five years, and is as good today as when built, and as good as any asphalt street in Baltimore. A macadam road is always good if properly built.

Permanent stone roads cost money to build, but once built no 'cheap' road is as inexpensive to keep in order. Building macadam roads often requires expensive grading, as on one of the proposed Queen Anne's County roads it was intended to cut down a certain bad hill so that the freight on vehicles could be increased and the cost of hauling be just two-thirds of what it is at present. But in spite of the initial expense of building macadam roads, they are really cheaper, even at the start, and the Queen Anne's County people have certainly computed badly in their comparative calculations upon the building of roads. I have learned from an official of that county that it costs $500 a year to keep in repair the three miles of road running out of Chestertown to Centerville, outside of the expense of bridges and grading.

Now, the County proposed this year to appropriate $11,000 for their share of the State roads, and experience has shown that such roads would have been about $50 per year for the next ten years. The County could borrow this money for a less sum of interest than it has spent each year in repairing this three miles of road, to say nothing of the interest upon this repair sum, so that under the plan which we proposed the county could save enough to pay the interest on the money borrowed, gradually pay back the principal, and enjoy good roads meanwhile. What can the county boast of now, for all its financial economy, and sand-clay roads would not prove to be what the county really needs.

Sand-clay or gravel roads cannot be built under the state law. The idea of the State in appropriating this money is to encourage the counties to build permanent roads, and not cheap ones, which will prove no more satisfactory than the present imperfect system."

Road Engineer Uhler will make the survey and the State Board will prepare the specifications at once.

An English lord was traveling through this country with a small party of friends. At a farmhouse the owner invited the party in to supper. The good housewife, while preparing the table, discovering that she was entertaining nobility, was overcome with surprise and elation. All seated at the table, scarcely a moment's peace did she grant her distinguished guest in her endeavor to serve and please him. It was "My Lord, will you have some of this?" and "My Lord, do try that," "Take a piece of this, my lord," until the meal was nearly finished. The little four-year-old son of the family, heretofore unnoticed, during a moment of supreme quiet saw his lordship trying to reach the pickle-dish, which was just out of his reach, and turning to his mother, said: "Say, ma, God wants a pickle."

Washington County's corn crop is now being harvested. It is a tremendous one, the largest in the history of the county. While the acreage is about the same, the crop it is estimated, will be at least one third greater than any previous crop. The quality of the corn is fine. The season was unusually favorable, and the farmer, stimulated by the scientific lectures delivered before corn planting time by agricultural experts who passed through this section on the famous "Corn Special," took great care to plant the best seed and to follow the approved methods suggested by the lecturers. The corn crop throughout Western Maryland and in the northern counties of Virginia and West Virginia is large.

Unless swallow stories be like angler's yarns, a bird belonging to an Antwerp gentleman has just established a record. A flight of homing pigeons had been arranged from Comptegue to Antwerp. The swallow, caught by the gentleman from a nest under his own roof and duly marked, was sent to Comptegue and given his freedom with the pigeons at 7:15 o'clock in the morning. At 8:23 that same morning the swallow returned to its nest at Antwerp. It had covered the distance between the towns of just under 148 miles in one hour and eight minutes, having, therefore, traveled at the extraordinary speed of two miles and some three hundred yards per minute. The first pigeon to reach its cage, also at Antwerp, arrived there only at 11:30.—London Telegraph.

Daniel Leatherbury vs. Mary Robbins Leatherbury.

No. 1582 Chancery, in the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is that the said Daniel Leatherbury may procure a divorce a vinculo matrimonii from the said Mary Robbins Leatherbury, and obtain the guardianship and custody of the four minor children of said marriage, Charles, Mary Allen, Annie and Daniel Leatherbury.

The bill states that the said parties were married on the 21st day of November 1877, and that they lived together until the 15th day of August 1902; that though the conduct of the complainant towards the respondent has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the respondent without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted complainant, and declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that said separation and abandonment has continued uninterrupted for at least three years, is deliberate expectation of reconciliation; that there have been born to said parties, the following children now living, William Henry, George, Charles, Mary Allen, Annie and Daniel Leatherbury, the last four of whom are infants under the age of twenty-one years.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 4th day of October, in the year nineteen hundred and five, by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, in Equity, ORDERED, that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Wicomico County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 6th day of November, nineteen hundred and five, give notice to the absent respondent of the object and substance of this bill, warning her to appear in person or by solicitor, in this Court on or before the 30th day of November next, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

A Constitutional Convention Can Settle
Disfranchisement Legislation in 1907

The importance of the fact that a substitute for the Poe Amendment may be secured with comparative ease through a Constitutional Convention in 1907, has not been emphasized to the extent that it deserves in the argument for and against the Poe law. It seems to have been largely overlooked. The further fact that such an objectionable act as the Poe Amendment could hardly pass a Constitutional Convention has not been sufficiently impressed upon the voters. An assembly composed of lawyers and other experts in law and statesmanship, such as a Constitutional Convention would likely be, would never have passed such a measure as the one now presented to the people by the General Assembly of 1904. It was passed by partisanship and by a jamming process, engineered by the powers that control the Democratic party for selfish ends. It would never be passed by a patriotic body, seeking the advantage of the common people.

In view of a possible misunderstanding of the machinery whereby an amendment to the Constitution may be secured, we give below the two methods:

Under the Constitution itself, every 20 years, after 1887, the General Assembly is required, to provide by law for a vote at the next, succeeding election, on the question of whether or not a Constitutional Convention shall be held. If a majority of the voters so decide, then the succeeding Assembly provides means for the election of delegates and the assembling of the Convention. Any amendment adopted by such Convention, must be referred to the people at the next general election for ratification or rejection.

Should an amendment to the Constitution be desired by the General Assembly, such amendment must be adopted by a three-fifths vote of the Assembly and then be referred to the people for ratification or rejection. This is the method whereby the Poe Amendment was passed and is now before the voters for their consideration.

It is extremely difficult for any party to secure a three-fifths membership of any General Assembly. Therefore it was presumed by the drafters of the Constitution that amendments to that document would be made at a Convention every 20 years. A majority of the voters is easier to secure, pro or con, than a three-fifths vote in the Senate and House. The Democrats, by accident, secured such a vote in the General Assembly of 1904. They would never have dared to present to the delegates of the other body provided for by the Constitution to review such measures, a law like the Poe law. They seized the opportunity of accident. It is the duty of the people to defeat their scheme and leave whatever plan they wish to adopt to the Convention which may be called, for that especial purpose, in 1907.

The Pith Of The Matter.

"The Democratic managers, with ample time to prepare a very different measure, and with full warning from such men as Governor Warfield and Attorney General Bryan, have deliberately placed before the voters of Maryland for their approval a Constitutional provision which would put the right of suffrage in this State absolutely at the mercy of any political machine in control of the government. This proposition, moreover, is made to them (the voters) by the very people whose outrageous abuse of opportunities of the same kind though different in detail, led to their being cast out of power by an indignant popular uprising. In this situation there is but one duty that confronts every patriotic citizen and every independent newspaper. That duty is to bend every energy to the prevention of a change in the organic law of the State which would tend to the degradation of its entire political existence."—Baltimore News.

Bertillon's "Speaking Portraits."

M. Bertillon, who created the anthropometric method of identifying criminals, superintended some fresh methods at the Palais de Justice recently, says the Washington Post's special correspondent at Paris. The innovation is known as the "speaking portrait." One hundred and two members of the detective and other services were present. To each one was given a verbal "portrait"—that is to say, a description of one of his colleagues present—and he was asked to find in the assembly the one to whom the portrait applied. The experiments were highly satisfactory. Nearly all the detectives found their man. M. Bertillon was warmly congratulated by Signor Nicastro, professor of criminology at the University of Naples, who witnessed the tests, which took place in public.

Benevolence on a Yacht.

The Rev. J. Antie, a Canadian missionary, is a smart yacht skipper. Dr. Hutton, formerly of the Garfield Memorial hospital in Washington, known engineering. Together they are conducting a benevolent quest in the logging and fishing camps about Vancouver, says the New York World. Mr. Antie had a craft built at a cost of $4,000 to serve as a floating church and hospital. Her cabin holds a congregation of sixty. She has two hospital beds, medicines and operating tools. If these are not sufficient the Columbia can carry ill or injured men to a base hospital at Rock Bay. The skipper is the preacher; the doctor is the engineer. One deckhand and a cook complete the crew.

Apples Kept For a Year in Icehouse.

Alonso Wolfe, a well to do farmer in Lake township, Luzerne county, Pa., has for years been trying to study out how to keep apples for a year or more, says the Wilkes-Barre Record. Last September he put two bushels of his selected Northern Spy apples in his icehouse and kept them at a certain temperature. The other day he carted them to Wilkes-Barre, where they had not a spot or blemish on them and were as hard as a rock. They were simply perfect and the only year old apples to be had in this valley.

Capt. Ebenezer L. Disharoon.

Capt. Ebenezer L. Disharoon, who died almost instantly after being paralyzed late Tuesday afternoon while working at his trade as a carpenter in Salisbury, was a son of Ebenezer Disharoon, who died about 15 years ago. Capt. Disharoon was born and raised on a farm in Trappe district in this county about 68 years ago, having passed his 68th birthday last May. The Disharoon family is one of the oldest settled families in this section of Maryland, and there are many persons of the same name in this section of the State, the old family homes being in Trappe district. The deceased was unmarried. There survives him his sisters, Mrs. Martha W. Barclay, Ursula E. Ennis and Theodosia Smith, wife of Capt. W. W. Smith, at Shad Point. Another sister, Mrs. Jane Whayland, is dead and also his brother, Calvin Disharoon, of Rock Creek, Somerset county. In early life Capt. Disharoon was a sailor and had many adventures and narrow escapes. Later he became a shipwright and worked at the different marine railways in Maryland and Virginia. He was of a genial and lively disposition and kind and obliging, that made him a favorite with friends and acquaintances. Although one of the old guard Republicans of the county, he preferred being a private in the ranks to posing as one of the captains.

Funeral at Fruitland on Thursday afternoon and buried with Masonic honors by the side of his father.

Last Niagara Falls Excursion for the Season
Via Pennsylvania Railroad.

The last popular Pennsylvania Railroad ten-day excursion to Niagara Falls from Philadelphia and adjacent territory will be run on October 13 via the beautiful Delaware Valley Route. On this date a special train will leave Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, at 8.07 a. m., and arriving at Niagara Falls at 8.00 p. m.

Excursion tickets, good for return passage on any regular train, exclusive of limited express trains, within ten days, will be sold at $10.00 from Philadelphia and all points on the Delaware Division, and at proportionate rates from other points, including Wilmington and principal intermediate stations. A stop-over will be allowed at Buffalo within the limit of ticket returning.

The special train of Pullman parlor cars and day coaches will be run through to Niagara Falls. An extra charge will be made for parlor-car seats.

An experienced tourist agent and chaperon will accompany the excursion. For descriptive pamphlet, time of connecting trains, and further information apply to nearest ticket agent, or address Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

WHAT a world of confidence what a feeling of safety is inspired with the knowledge that your car must go faster, or stand still, as you indicate, by the slightest touch of a finger on the pressure of a foot. It makes the timid person feel secure, and bars accidents from the paths of the more ambitious who want to travel at a merry clip. This is why the Rambler stands so high in the estimation of the large majority of the purchasing public. Most people want a car that will run any time they want it to, near home or far away—without repairs or unnecessary loss of time—and they get it in the Rambler.

Do Your Eyes
Or Head Ache?

The trouble is almost always caused by defective eyesight. Always consult an eye specialist when your eyes tire and you cannot continue for any length of time to regard small objects—when eyes smart or water, when the eyelids get inflamed often, or when you have pain in the eyeball, or bit, temples, or forehead. I correct all optical defects. Write for "The Eye, And Its Care." Mailed free on request.

Town Topics.

—Republicans get registered next Tuesday. It is your last chance this year.

—Baltimore has 117,082 white, and 22,180 colored voters, according to this year's police census, just completed.

—The Ladies Aid Society of Hebron M. E. Church will hold an oyster supper on the Camp ground on October 21st.

—The ladies of Oak Grove M. P. Church will hold an ice cream and pie festival at Jester's next Thursday evening.

—Capt. R. B. White bought in Baltimore this week the Schooner "Annie Bell." She will be commanded by Capt. Covey.

—There will be a meeting of the Board of Managers for the Home for the Aged at the City Hall, Tuesday, Oct. 10th., at 4 o'clock.

—C. W. Stuart's Golden Sheaf Seed Wheat for sale. A wheat that produces more bushels per acre by actual test than any other. H. D. Spence. 10-8 —Revival services are announced to begin in South Salisbury Southern Methodist Church next Sunday evening, conducted by the pastor, Rev. T. N. Potts, D. D.

—The Southern Convocation of the Diocese of Easton was held at Berlin on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. It was attended by Rev. David Howard and Rev. A. J. Vanderbogart.

—The ladies of Waltersville M. P. Church will hold an oyster supper in Odd Fellows Hall next Wednesday evening. If rain, the next clear night. Adult tickets, 35 cts; children, 20 cts.

—Sparks Circus exhibited in Salisbury last Monday at the old fair grounds. There was a large attendance. Sparks has visited Salisbury on several occasions and is popular with all classes of the people.

—Gordy, Graham and Humphreys will give a lot on their Boulevard property in Camden to a desirable person who will build a $900 house on same. Apply to either of the above named gentlemen for particulars.

—At 11 o'clock morning worship will be conducted by the pastor at the Division Street Baptist Church, subject of sermon "Jacob's Vision at Bethel." At 7:30 in the evening the subject will be "A Short Bed and Narrow Covering."

—The Salisbury Tennis Club expects representatives from the club at Princess Anne on Monday, October 9th, to play match games at both singles and doubles. Play will begin at 10 o'clock a. m. and will be on "Mill Grove" courts.

—Agents are going through the upper part of Delaware buying up walnut trees for which big prices are offered. The wood is dressed, and sent to foreign countries. As high as $50 has been paid for a single tree.

—Rev. S. J. Smith, of the M. P. Church, married the following couples at the Parsonage this week: Monday, October 2nd, Joseph Niblett and Georgie Hastings; Thursday, October 5th, Harry M. Jones and May Catlin.

—The Board of Election Supervisors for Wicomico county at their meeting Saturday elected Mr. F. Leonard Wales, of the law firm of Ellegood, Freeny & Wales, counsel to the Board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. Thomas F. J. Rider.

—The Eastern Shore College football team is practicing daily for their contest next Friday with the Conference Academy eleven. Though several pounds lighter than the Dover boys, the Salisbury players expect to give a good account of themselves and fight every inch of the way through the game.

—Mr. A. J. Benjamin, Superintendent of the B. C. & A. Ry. Co., was in Philadelphia Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mr. S. M. Prevost, President of the company, who died last Saturday. Mr. Prevost was also Third Vice-President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

—Miss Ethel Ross, only daughter of Col. James Ross and granddaughter of the late Governor Ross, was married to D. Samuel Somers Graham, of Pittsburg, in the Seaford Episcopal Church on Wednesday. The bride's brother gave her away and the bridegroom's sister was maid of honor. Among the guests were Governor Lea and family.

—By notice in this paper, the City Council gives notice that on and after October 7th, the law limiting the speed of automobiles in the streets of Salisbury to 6 miles per hour will be rigidly enforced. A number of complaints have been made that this speed is exceeded and the police have been given orders to see that the law is obeyed.

—The commissioners of Elkton have refused the Maryland Telephone Company the privilege to build a line through that town. The commissioners claim that the number of telephone and electric light poles at present is considered too large. The commissioners have on several occasions refused to allow other companies to plant poles and string wires through the streets.

—On Friday Deputy Sheriff Waller took the following persons to the Maryland Penitentiary: Marietta Jones colored, convicted of stealing jewelry, etc., at the residence of Mr. W. B. Tighman; Charles Milbourn, colored, convicted of stealing a suit of clothes from Randolph Gordy, and Charles Kelly, who robbed the home of Joseph Frazier, Delmar.

—The City Council Monday night declared the levy for 1905, fixing the tax rate at 45 cents on the hundred dollars, same as last year. This rate is divided as follows: For general purposes, 35 cents; for redemption of engine house bonds, 5 cents; redemption of fire engine bonds, 5 cents. The taxable basis is $3,842,147.00, of which $889,150.00 is property assessed to the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway Company. The total basis is in the neighborhood of $800,000 more than last year, the recent reassessment adding this amount to the books. This will add about $3,600 to the revenues of the city.

—Machinery for the new ice manufacturing company recently formed by John H. Tamlinson and Elmer C. Williams was bought this week from the Remington Machine Co., Wilmington, Del. Work will be begun at once on the building. The machinery purchased has a capacity of 27 tons per day and for 20 tons of extra refrigeration. The company will be incorporated in a few days. Hon. William H. Jackson will be President, Mr. W. P. Jackson Vice-President, Mr. Williams Secretary and Treasurer and Mr. Tamlinson General Manager. One or two other gentlemen in town will likely be interested in the company and will be named as directors.

—Frank A. Robbins Circus, which shows in Salisbury next Saturday, October 14th, has struck a streak of bad luck in Western Maryland. The circus has about 25 cars, some of which are very large. Last week several cages were scraped off a car by a projecting platform and some of the animals escaped. Monday of this week, one of the cars, containing horses and elephants, jumped the track near Baltimore on the Maryland and Pennsylvania R. R. The trumpeting of the elephants and the stamping of the horses, who did not know what to make of the unusual proceedings, attracted many of the residents of Woodberry and Hampden to the scene, and the slopes above the tracks were lined with onlookers. The small boy had the time of his life. The circus was on its way to Belair.

—Wednesday of this week the Grand Jury at Georgetown, Del., found bills of indictment against Sheriff Elijah C. Lynch for allowing prisoners to escape from the county jail on several occasions during his present term of office. The grand jury also found bills of indictment against Sheriff Lynch for allowing prisoners to run at large about the town of Georgetown since he has been in office. During the term of Sheriff Lynch many have escaped jail, or taken leave while doing odd jobs around the jail premises. It is a fact, however, that the Sussex county jail is in a deplorable condition and it is almost impossible to keep the convicts if they see proper to leave. These abuses have been going on so openly and notoriously for so many years that Chief Justice Lore, in his charge to the grand jury at the opening of court on Monday, admonished the members to take such action as they deemed best in the matter. Hence the indictment.

If You Break or Lose Your Glasses Come See Me

Besides filling my own prescriptions, I make a specialty of filling those of Oculists also. If your glasses are broken, I have the instruments to determine exactly what they are with the original prescription, and can give you the exact duplicate. Those of you who are accustomed to wearing glasses can more readily appreciate the following advantages of dealing with the home optician: In getting new lenses, of three days to a week to have them; no risk to run through breakage, nor loss through the mail; accurate adjustment of frames. (Those wearing specially-ground lenses know how unpleasant a slightly bent frame is, and what a bad effect it has on the eyes—even causing a severe headache—and can appreciate the advantage of always being able to drop in and have the frames readjusted when bent or broken.) Whenever you feel uneasy in your glasses, do not hesitate to call and see me. All Mail Orders receive prompt attention.

Comes Quickly, But It Comes To Stay. Now a Salisbury Citizen Got Rik of It.

Comes early, stays late. No stranger can be more unwelcome. Makes life a misery all day long. Keeps you awake at night. Irritates you; spoils your temper. Do you know this unwelcome guest? Ever have it come and stay with you? Know what it is? Eczema. If you ever had any itchiness of the skin.

You know how hard it is to shake it off.

You would like to know how to do it? Let a Salisbury man tell you.

Read this statement that follows:

H. T. Parsons, tailor, residing at 103 Water St., says: "I had eczema or some skin trouble on my left leg which annoyed me off and on for the past three or four years. It would come on from no apparent cause and just as mysteriously disappear again about a week or two later, or sometimes a month or two. In warm weather or if I over-heated myself I was worse and I can only describe the itching as intense. Reading a paper one night I happened to see an advertisement about Doan's Ointment which influenced me to go to White & Leonard's drug store for a box. A few applications stopped the itching for I used nothing else and it disappeared. What is of much more importance to me, at the present time there is not a symptom of a recurrence."

An All New Great Feature Show.

Royal Spectacles, Rare Acts And Startling Sensations.

The big circus—which means everybody's day in Salisbury, this year falls on Saturday October 14, when the Frank A. Robbins Co. pitch their city of tents in Salisbury and in pagan and performance almost overwhelm us with their grand and glorious railroad aggregation of wild beasts eminent equestrians, acrobats, jugglers, aerialists, hilarious hosts of clowns, daring charioteers, dashing jockeys and performing animals, in almost incomprehensible profusion. The press of Greater New York has already unanimously acclaimed the exhibition a really great one and its manager Mr. Frank A. Robbins an ardent caterer par excellence, who knows just what will please the public, just where to get it, just how to present it, and last, but not least, just how to gain and retain general good will and respect. Space is inadequate to enumerate the hundreds of rare wild beasts, arctic, hippodromic and specially sensational features, which fill great special trains, stupendous waterproof tents, two rings, an elevated stage and acres of aerial space to overflowing. Here are just three marvelous exclusive features, of themselves more than enough to make a Roman Holiday. A Millennium-like monster animal performance, introducing in one arena at one and the same time, educated elephants, camels, zebras, water buffalo, llamas, dogs, goats, horses, ponies, dromedaries, monkeys, mules, donkeys, sacred cattle, bears, and other wild and domestic beasts. "The Tribunal of Nations," a magnificent equestrian tableau par pageant, introducing the living counterparts of ancient heroes and famous modern warrior and rulers, correctly armed and costumed; and Alpha and Omega, the rival cycle experts, seemingly dashing straight to death down a precipitous incline and across a dreadful gap of fifty feet. It is a feat the mere thought of which is enough to make one tremble. A holiday parade of elephants, wild beasts in open dens, hundreds of magnificent steeds and ponies, Mardi Gras fun and frolic, and other attractions serve as the morning introduction to the above mastodon menu.

Very Low Rates to California, Arizona, Mexico, New Mexico and Other Western Points

Gordon T. Atkinson, Comptroller.

Wanted.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual constiveness, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact, any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a 25 cent bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists.

Mrs. Rosie Fisher and daughter, Miss Ruby, spent last week in Baltimore.

Mrs. Chas. Hochhaus, of Baltimore, spent last week with Mrs. Hester Hopkins.

Mrs. Charlie Parks and children, of Nanticoke, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Windsor.

A number of persons from here attended the service at Trinity Sunday night.

Mr. Richard Dickerson left last week for Philadelphia, where he expects to spend the winter.

A number of young people of this place went on a fishing trip Wednesday and Thursday of last week on the barge Norma. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. James E. Culver, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fisher and little daughter, Inez; Misses Emma Larmore, Mabel Langrall, Mattie Culver; Messrs. Jones Dashiell and Ray Fisher. All report an enjoyable trip.

Mr. Ernest Larmore left for Baltimore Sunday evening.

Miss Alice Larmore is spending the week in Baltimore.

Quantico.

Daniel Collier left for Philadelphia Wednesday, where he intends taking a position.

An ice cream festival was given in the K. of P. Hall for the benefit of the M. E. Church Saturday evening last, which was largely attended and enjoyed by everybody.

Brestly Gohagan, son of Rev. Mr. Gohagan, pastor of the M. E. Church of this place, who has been quite sick for several days, is slowly improving.

Mr. Clyde Crawford left for Georgia Tuesday, where he will be engaged in the lumber business with his brother.

Mr. Wm. S. Phillips, of Salisbury, was in town Thursday.

Mrs. Dick, of Spring Hill, and some friends passed through town Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Williams and children, of near Salisbury, spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. T. R. Jones.

Mrs. L. T. Ackworth, who has been on the sick list for three weeks, is slowly improving.

Pittsville.

Services at Grace M. P. Church Sunday as follows: Sunday School, 9:00 a. m.; Preaching, 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Misses Ella Parker and Annie Riggins spent a part of last week in Salisbury as the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Sallie E. Ward.

Mr. Isaac Truitt and wife spent Sunday with their son, Mr. Dora Truitt.

The farmers of this vicinity are blessed with fine crops this year.

Misses Virgie and Vesta Moore spent this week with Mr. John Middleton.

Miss Grace Davis spent Sunday last with Misses Elva and Mattie Campbell.

Mr. Ritchie Freaney and family spent Sunday with Mr. Dora Truitt.

The members and friends of the M. E. Church will hold a Harvest Home service Sunday, October 8th, at 2:30 p. m.

The farmers and factory men seem very busy at present.

Few of our people attended the show at Salisbury Monday.

We are glad to report that Miss Elva Farlow, who has been very ill with diphtheria, is improving.

Several of our people attended the horse race at Berlin Thursday.

The O. S. Baptists held their yearly meeting at Powellville, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, which were largely attended. These meetings are largely attended every year by almost all classes of people for all kinds of purposes; some for the purpose of getting a square meal, which they very seldom fail to get, as that is the Baptist belief to feed the hungry. The politicians never fail to put in appearance, as it is a very good place to get the sentiment of the county.

Mr. Wallace Wimbrow, of Wango, visited his cousin, Mr. Charlie Riggins, Sunday last.

Fruitland.

Services Sunday next as follows: Sabbath School, 10 a. m.; Epworth League, 7:30 p. m.; Preaching, 8 p. m.

Ebenezer Disbaroon, who died in Salisbury, was brought here on Thursday last and buried in the M. E. Cemetery. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. W. White.

A postoffice inspector visited our town a few days ago and examined the records of the office here.

Mr. S. E. Hayman has purchased the store house property owned by Capt. William Bennett. Consideration $750.

It is wonderful to behold with what agility a certain employee can handle a broom or dusting brush when the boss is around, but in his absence, the tongue is the member of the body that is made to perform, we suppose, at least one-half of the labor.

Messrs. Norman Ford and Brother are disposing of their stock of goods at cost.

We need more dwelling houses in our village. There are not enough that can be rented to supply the demand.

Mrs. Taylor, mother of Mr. J. S. Taylor, station agent here, is now visiting her son.

A Ladies Aid Society has been formed in connection with the M. E. Church at this place and Mrs. Jno. W. Dashiell is President.

Rally Day Services will be held at the M. E. Church on the 3d Sunday in this month.

An ovater Supper will be held on Oct. 12th in Fruitland for the benefit of the M. E. Church.

Protracted services are now in progress at Zion M. E. Church.

Rev. W. W. White will preach on Sunday (to-morrow) as follows, Siloam 10 a. m.; St. Luke's 3 p. m.; Zion 7:30 p. m.

Parsonsbury.

Services Sunday as follows at M. E. Church: Sunday School, 9:30 a. m.; Preaching, 10:30 a. m.

We are sorry to report that Miss Nora White is on the sick list.

Mr. C. G. Parsons is spending some time with his sister, Mrs. Geo. P. Yoke, in Wilmington.

Mr. A. K. Parsons and family have returned home from a visit to his father, Mr. E. H. Parsons, at Parkley, Va.

We have a happy couple who recently took new home and we wish them a long life and lots of pleasure.

FALL FASHIONS IN HATS.

Were Fully Displayed at Millinery Openings in Salisbury This Week.

At each of the three leading millinery stores in Salisbury, R. E. Powell & Co., Lowenthal's and Mrs. G. W. Taylor's, from 50 to 75 trimmed hats were shown at the fall openings this week and they were of every fashionable shape, color and design. A large number of these were sold and a greater number of orders were taken. The display was one of the most elaborate and extensive ever made in Salisbury and large crowds of ladies attended on all three days.

No particular shape of hat has had any especial vogue this fall and both small and large hats are being ordered, made mostly of velvets and furs. Possibly a larger number of small hats will be worn for strictly fall wear, but it is expected that the large shapes will be most popular later on in the winter. The colors most used are purple and gray, though green and dark blue are also favorite colors with many. Contrary to the styles of last year, comparatively few chenille braids are being bought. Feathers, wings and flowers are being used more largely for trimming than other material, and more velvet and large shell buckles are popular.

All of the dry-goods stores also showed new materials this week in dress goods, including the newest cloths and silks in all the latest shades, and ladies seeking their fall and winter array held full sway in the shopping centres.

At Powell's, among the many pretty hats shown were the three following:

A large white hat, made of chenille and moire velvet, trimmed with white ribbon and a plume. A small purple turban, two breasts forming the outer brim, with large shell buckle joining the breasts in front. The third was a very handsome hat made of gray velvet and fur, small size, turban shape, side trimmings of wings and buckle. This hat was exhibited in the show window.

Among Mrs. Taylor's hats were the following:

A shaded gray hat with wings to match, turned high in back and backed with roses and velvet foliage. A beautiful "Plum" hat draped in soft beaver felt with small roses, shading from light to dark, having the extreme high front and narrow back. An Olive "Polo" turban in the Olive shades, made entirely of feathers, with high side trimmings of wings and velvet, with cut-steel buckles, formed an effective trimming. A large "Flat" French felt in a dark rich shade of wine turned high in back with a plume to match and large velvet bow across side back.

Lowenthal's array of Hats and Bonnets was a brilliant display. Every color imaginable was shown in Hats, this being what is called in millinery, "A colored season." Plum and Olive, Greens in various hues predominate, whilst Greys, Albes, Blues and Blacks, follow. Among the most notable hat was a plum colored chenille velvet banked with Plum shaded Dalies and Foliage, and a long white plume gracefully sweeping over the side. Another was a hat entirely made of shaded feathers, shading from the Alice Blue to the Navy, finished with a large blue velvet bow and steel ornaments. A child's light blue silk Poke attracted much attention. It was an elaborate affair, made of small ruffles of the silk with blue chiffon facing and blue Tulle ribbon bows.

Birckhead & Shockley Co., while they had no millinery to display made a great showing on dress goods, silks and fancy goods. Fashion found some favorable fabrics, some of the most stunning weaves of shadow checks in green and blue, green and black, green and red, and etc. Plain cloths, blue myrtle and black were most favored. The west window was very beautifully decorated with shoes of the finest type including the famous Walk-Over for men, the Mary Stewart and American Girl for ladies.

C. E. SOCIETY AT MARDELA.

Institute This Week For Three Days Attended By Sixty Delegates.

An Institute of Christian Endeavor Societies of Eastern Shore Counties was held Wednesday evening and all day Thursday and Friday of this week at Marдела, the sessions being held in the Methodist Protestant church. The Institute was held under the auspices of the Maryland Christian Endeavor Union.

A most interesting programme was rendered all three days. The address of welcome was delivered by Rev. E. P. Perry, pastor of the church, Thursday morning, and all the sessions were addressed by a number of prominent ministers and others.

The delegates were delightfully entertained for dinner and supper at long tables in the Grange Hall. For the night, except those from Salisbury, who returned by the night train, the delegates were entertained by the very hospitable residents of the town. Provision had been made to entertain 150 delegates, but only about 60 attended. All the counties on the Eastern Shore were represented except Cecil.

The convention represented 46 Senior and 33 Junior Societies, of which 16 are in Wicomico county. Prominent singers from the choirs in Salisbury were present and delighted the large audiences with some fine selections. They were led by Prof. Dashiell. Miss Edna Adkins presided at the organ. Among the prominent speakers present were Mr. Frederick Ohmschall, of Baltimore, President of the Maryland Christian Endeavor Union; Rev. C. B. Ward, of Baltimore, ex-Field Secretary; Mr. Alfred S. Day, of Baltimore, Secretary of State Union; Mr. W. N. Robinson, of Baltimore, Sup't. of Correspondence Department of the State Union.

Rev. F. B. Adkins, of the Protestant Episcopal church and Rev. B. J. Parker, of the Baptist Church, delivered very pleasing addresses at the opening of the afternoon session on Thursday.

LECTURE ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED.

Hopes To Interest The People of Salisbury Sufficiently to Have Noted Speakers Here.

In response to an invitation from Prof. M. T. Skinner a meeting of the young people of Salisbury was held Tuesday evening in the Graham building to organize a lecture association for the coming fall and winter. The meeting was well attended and a great deal of interest was manifested.

The meeting was presided over by Prof. Skinner who was elected chairman of the association. Prof. J. W. Huntington was elected secretary and Mrs. Truett was elected treasurer.

Addresses were made by Prof. Skinner, Prof. Huntington, Mr. A. M. Jackson and Miss Marion Veasey.

It was decided to call the association "Salisbury Entertainment Association" and a membership of about 30 was enrolled. Ways and means were discussed for making the lectures a success and it is probable that the course of lectures in Salisbury will be of a character never before enjoyed in this city.

Several well-known lecturers were discussed and although nothing definite was done it is probable that among others, Dr. Hillis of Brooklyn, Dr. Russell Conwell, of Philadelphia, and the celebrated humorist, Elly Perkins, together with Prof. Denmore in his famous lecture, "A Trip to the Moon", will be given in Salisbury.

It is the purpose of the management to place a course of lectures in Salisbury that, while instructing, will not be of a scientific nature and that will be highly enjoyable.

A committee consisting of Mr. A. M. Jackson, Miss Blanch Moore, Mrs. M. P. Truett, Prof. Huntington and Mr. Dallas Hearn was elected to investigate the probable patronage, arouse interest among the general public and report at the next meeting which is to be held next Tuesday evening at 8 in the Graham building.

FRAUD IN BALTIMORE.

Democratic Primary Election Returns Falsified—Same Old Crowd Running Things.

The Democratic press and State managers have been making large and vehement promises recently of "honest" elections if the people will only vote the Poe Amendment into being. The Republicans and Independent Democrats have been pointing out the rottenness of the past, under Gorman and his allies, and are in opposition to granting the extreme power conveyed by the Amendment—placing a man's voting privilege absolutely at the mercy of this corrupt organization.

The argument against the Poe law has been largely based on past performances of the Democratic party in committing frauds and the conclusion drawn by unprejudiced persons is that all the Democratic ring wants is the opportunity and they will be equally as unscrupulous in the future. Even under the present law, there is no hesitation on their part to stoop to any methods when, in their peculiar way of looking at things, it is "necessary."

Facts were brought out in Baltimore this week that largely uphold the Republican and Independent Democratic view, notwithstanding the Democrats are supposed to be on their good behavior, with the hope of influencing votes for the Amendment. It has developed that in the Democratic primary election, held in September, when frantic efforts were being made to nominate the organization candidates, the indications being against them, the election officials could not refrain from dishonesty in their desperation even though they had been told to "be good."

The frauds were unearthed in the Sixth precinct of the Nineteenth ward and States Attorney Owens, who, fortunately, is opposed to the Poe law, will present the matter before the Grand Jury for a rigid investigation of election methods all over the city.

In the particular case that has been brought to light, the returns of the vote for Messrs. Lintbicum and Straus, candidates for the nomination for the State Senate, were falsified. Mr. Straus was the organization candidate. An attempt was made to credit him with about 87 more votes in the precinct than he received, and to reduce Mr. Lintbicum's vote by this amount. One of the judges discovered the fraud, refused to sign the returns until he counted them himself, and reported the matter to the Supervisors of Elections.

In view of such facts as these, can the people trust the Democratic party to give them fair elections if they are voted into the absolute power contained in the provisions of the Poe Amendment? No! A thousand times no!

HAMAN TO RENEW FIGHT.

Oyster Bill Will Be Introduced in Old Form—Oystermen Must Be On Guard To Protect Their Interests.

Mr. B. Howard Haman of the law firm of Gans & Haman, and author of the Haman oyster bill, is home from his summer vacation, spent in Nova Scotia. Mr. Haman is the owner of an island in Nova Scotia, about 40 miles southwest of Halifax and seven miles from the ocean. On this domain he has a fine house, and he spent his time in reading and boating.

"What do you think of the outlook for oyster-planting legislation at the coming session of the Legislature?" Mr. Haman was asked by a Baltimore Sun reporter the first of this week.

"I haven't been home long enough to be familiar with the situation, but I learn that there is a strong sentiment among the business people of the State for remedial legislation."

"Will the Haman bill be offered again in the same form?"

"Yes. It has been endorsed by so many organizations that there is no reason to make any changes. The amount of rental to be paid the State and the definition as to what constitutes natural beds are of course subjects open to discussion. The bill may be introduced under any name or in any form, the requisite principles being the fixed tenure of the lands under the water and the payment of rentals."

"Do you think that the sentiment for the passage of an oyster bill is any stronger now than it was two years ago?"

"Decidedly. I can tell that by the number of letters that I have received. Letters have reached me from Legislative candidates and many others asking for copies of my bill and for literature on the subject. These requests are much more numerous than they were two years ago. It shows that interest in the subject is growing."

"In what direction do you think the sentiment for oyster legislation is growing most rapidly?"

"Among the land owners, the business men and the leading and most influential men and thinkers of the oystermen themselves on the Eastern Shore."

"Have you formulated any plans for your oyster-planting bill campaign prior to the meeting of the Legislature?"

"No. I shall probably carry on the same kind of a campaign that I did the last time. I shall circulate literature and do all I can to spread information on the subject. Much is to be done in this direction, as the literature that was sent out two years ago attacking the record of Mr. Williams, the Republican candidate for Governor, on the oyster question, contained much misinformation, and this should be corrected."

"It has been said that at the last session of the Legislature I was unwilling to accept a compromise when assured that a compromise bill would pass by the votes of the tide-water counties. The fundamental principles of the bill must be, as I said, fixed tenure of the barren bottoms, and rental paid to the State, to be expended on the public highways."

Death of Mrs. William M. Ruark.

Mrs. William M. Ruark, one of the oldest citizens of Salisbury, died at her home on Camden avenue last Friday, her death following a light stroke of paralysis on Monday. Mrs. Ruark rallied from the stroke on Tuesday and hopes were entertained of her recovery, but she passed peacefully away Friday night. It was her second stroke of paralysis, she having suffered a first one several years ago.

Mrs. Ruark was born on March 15th, 1824, and was therefore past 81 years of age. Her husband died a little more than a year ago. She leaves three sons, three daughters and fourteen grand-children. Her children are: Mr. William H. Ruark, of West Point, Va.; Mr. M. Wallace Ruark, of Georgetown, S. C.; Mr. Lafayette Ruark, of Westover, Md.; Mrs. M. A. Cooper, Mrs. Thomas A. Smith and Mrs. Edgar W. Smith, all of Salisbury.

Mrs. Ruark had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for about 65 years and was probably one of the oldest members of that church, in point of membership on the Peninsula. Her funeral service was conducted at her late home Sunday afternoon by Rev. C. A. Hill, pastor of Asbury M. E. church, and her remains were interred in Parsons cemetery.

Cup for Salisbury Gun Club.

The Dupont Powder Co., of Wilmington, Del., has donated a handsome silver loving cup, gold lined, to the Salisbury Gun Club to be offered as a trophy to be shot for under the rules of the Club. The cup is on exhibition at Harper & Taylor's jewelry store. It is valued at $15.00.

The Gun Club has not, as yet, decided the rules that will be observed when the cup is shot for. This will be done shortly and a series of events arranged at which the cup will be offered. It is generally understood that the shooter who becomes the owner of the trophy however, must win it three times in succession. It is likely that the cup events will be high gun at 100 targets.

COURT ADJOURNED SATURDAY LAST.

Verdict in The Worcester Will Case Rendered For Plaintiffs Friday Night.

Court adjourned on Saturday, after the conclusion of the Worcester county will case, in which a verdict for the plaintiffs was rendered Friday night about 10 o'clock.

This case occupied the Court from Tuesday until Friday, a large number of witnesses having been summoned. The history of the case is as follows:

Edward T. Jones, a well-known resident of Worcester county, died in February, 1904, leaving what was purported to be his last will and testament, in which he devised to his wife Clara J. Jones (second wife) the following property: A farm in Worcester county, in the eighth district, which he inherited from his brothers, Samuel Q. and George Jones; house and lot on Market Street, Pocomoke City, and house and lot on Maple Street, Pocomoke City; also all money in bank, furniture etc. The will also directed that after debts had been paid the residue of the estate was to be divided equally between his lawful heirs.

On the 10th of May the will offered for probate in the Orphans' Court for Worcester county, and on the same day Archelus E. Jones, son, by his attorneys, Farnell & Johnson and Robley D. Jones, filed a caveat against admission of the purported will to probate, alleging that at the time of the execution of the will Edward T. Jones did not possess a sound and disposing mind, and that the will was secured by fraud and undue influence.

In the instruction given to the jury by the court Friday afternoon, the count alleging undue influence was stricken out and the jury was told not to consider it, as there was no evidence to sustain the charge. The jury, therefore, brought in a verdict setting aside the will on the ground of insanity. As the property involved is worth about $5,000.00, it is probable appeal will be taken by counsel for the caveator to the Court of Appeals.

Attorneys Towbin & Bell assisted attorneys Robley D. Jones and Farnell & Johnson for the contestants at the trial. J. Shiles Crockett and L. P. Ewell of Pocomoke and Ellegood, Friesen & Wallis appeared for the caveator, [the widow.]

SALISBURY VS. PRINCESS ANNE.

Tennis Tournament Played in Both Towns This Week—Salisbury Won.

A tennis tournament was played this week between the Salisbury and Princess Anne clubs, games being played in Salisbury on Monday and at Princess Anne on Thursday. A party of about 20 accompanied the players from Princess Anne to Salisbury and a number of Salisburyans, outside of the players, went to Princess Anne on Thursday. These included Misses Mary Collier, Laura Wallis, Jean Leonard and Mr. John M. Laws. They, and the players, were very hospitably entertained by the Princess Anne club.

The scores of the games follow:

Monday at Doubles:

R. White and Truitt vs. Watson and Fisher, 6-3, 6-0.

R. White and Truitt vs. Beauchamp and Tull, 6-3, 6-0.

R. White and Mrs. Fulton vs. Mr. Watson and Miss Sudler, 6-2, 6-4.

William Phillips and Miss Lizzie Collier vs. Mr. Tull and Mrs. Robertson, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

Mr. Truitt and Mrs. Fulton vs. Mr. Watson and Miss Sudler, 6-3, 6-0, 6-0.

Mrs. Fulton and Miss Lizzie Collier vs. Mrs. Robertson and Miss Robertson, 6-2, 10-8.

Singles: Mr. Phillips vs. Dr. Fisher, 6-0, 6-2.

Mr. Phillips vs. Mr. Watson, 6-1, 6-3.

Thursday's play at doubles:

Messrs. Truitt and Phillips vs. Messrs. Watson and Fisher, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

Mr. Truitt and Miss Lizzie Collier vs. Mr. Watson and Miss Sudler, 6-4, 6-3.

R. White and W. Sheppard vs. Messrs. Watson and Fisher, 6-1, 6-4.

R. White and W. Sheppard vs. Messrs. Tull and Beauchamp, 6-0, 6-1, 6-3.

Misses Collier and Gladys Moore vs. Mrs. Robertson and Miss Robinson, 6-3, 4-6 and 6-4.

Singles:

Mr. Truitt vs. Dr. Fisher, 6-0, 6-1.

Mr. Phillips vs. Mr. Watson, 6-0, 7-5.

Rockawalkin M. E. Church Reopened Sunday Last.

The M. E. Church at Rockawalkin, after being in the hands of carpenters and painters for two months, was reopened last Sunday. The improvements as noted in last week's issue of this paper, consist of ceiling transformed, wall papered, pews repainted and rearranged, pulpit recessed away and replaced by a choir room, new pulpit set, new carpet for whole church and painting the outside of building.

The cost of improvements is $300, of which more than $200 had been secured previous to the day of reopening, leaving over $100 to be raised during that day, but the people gave with such liberality that the needed amount was obtained at the morning service. Also several friends of Salisbury, Hon. W. H. Jackson, Messrs. Jay Williams, Wm. Day, M. A. Humphreys and others were present and extended a helping hand. At 10:30 a. m. Rev. G. C. Williams, pastor of Berlin M. E. Church, preached and at 7:30 p. m. Rev. C. A. Hill D. D. pastor of Salisbury M. E. Church preached. Both these ministers of the gospel delivered thoughtful, earnest, forceful sermons that will doubtless accomplish much good.

The Rockawalkin choir rendered several beautiful anthems. Rev. Mr. Williams sang at both services and the services of the day closed with the members dedicating themselves anew to God and his service. Revival services are in progress this week. Preaching tomorrow, Sunday, at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. by the pastor.

A GOOD BUSINESS INVESTMENT.

Our Progressive Farmers And Business Men So Regard The Telephone.

About two months ago when these little telephone talks first made their appearance in the columns of this paper, the applications for the service were so numerous that it was necessary to call an extra force of men to Salisbury to string wires to accommodate new subscribers. In evidence of the fact that the applications are still coming in, and of the rapid growth of the Salisbury Exchange, another extra force of men is now at work putting up new cables in order to take care of applicants in Salisbury and vicinity.

To get right down to plain facts and figures, forty-four new subscribers have been added to the Salisbury Exchange in the last sixty days. What is the value of these figures? They show that 44 farmers and business men have been convinced of the value of telephone service. They show that men have realized that a telephone is not an expense, but a good sound business investment, for it is hardly probable that 44 business men would lay out annual rental of a telephone unless they were absolutely sure that they would get value received.

If you are without a telephone in your place of business or your residence, send your name and address to the Contract Department, Diamond State Telephone Company, Salisbury, Md., and the Company's representative will call and acquaint you with the value of the service, and quote a rate to suit your conditions.

The October Sunset.

The October Sunset is entirely interesting. The cover design is by Maynard Dixon—a Navajo Indian "making medicine" for himself. Wrapped in his blanket he calmly views the landscape and meditates upon life's problems. The frontispiece is a reproduction of one of Herbert Ponting's famous photographs of Fujiyama. The leading article, "When West met East" by Edwin Emerson, Jr., is a jolly record of the doings of the Western War correspondents at the front in the Russian-Japanese war. Mr. Emerson had the good luck to serve with both armies in the field, and had opportunities for meeting most of the correspondents. William B. Gross describes Kunzite, the new precious gem which is found in San Diego county, California. Marie Coe's article, "A New Polar Explorer," expresses the belief that the north pole will be discovered by a "muster"; that a gold stampede will eventually be started toward north latitude ninety degrees, and that "musters" will rush in where arctic explorers have feared to tread. It is a most interesting record of life in the frigid zone. It is beautifully illustrated. Marv E. Stickney tells some old stories of mines and miners in a new and entertaining way. Other features of this number are fiction stories by Bailey Millard and Juliet Wilbur Tompkins; an essay by Galett Burgess; and poems by Edwin L. Sabin, Edward Robeson Taylor, and Allan Dunn.

Only one remedy in the world that will at once stop itching of the skin in any part of the body. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Baptist Association To Meet here.

Extensive preparations are being made by the Old School Baptists of Salisbury to entertain the Association, which meets here next week. Several hundred visitors are expected, among them several prominent Elders of this denomination. The multitudes will be fed daily on long tables spread in the churchyard, if the weather is favorable; if unfavorable the tables will be spread in the ante-room of the church. These Associations are always looked forward to with much pleasure by the Baptists of Salisbury, and the visitors are royally entertained.

New Methodist Hymnal.

The new Methodist hymn book, over which there has been so much discussion for the last five years, went into general use in the Methodist Episcopal Churches throughout the United States last Sunday. It contains more than eight hundred old and new hymns. Most of them were written by John Wesley, with Isaac Watts next and a considerable number by Fanny Crosby, the blind authoress. A new departure has been made by selecting hymns written by authors who were never known as religious writers. Among them are Sir Walter Scott, John Hay and Richard Watson Gilder. Rudyard Kipling's "Recessional" also appears in the book. The last Methodist hymn books were compiled in 1878. For some years there has been much discussion over the words "Washed in the Blood of the Lamb" and other similar phrases. The setting of hymns to popular tunes was also objected to, but the negroes of the South, who are mostly Methodist, insisted on having the old Southern tunes that were before the war. In 1900, Leslie M. Shaw, then Governor of Iowa, was one of the original three who signed a petition for a new hymnal, and in March 1902 a committee of eleven delegates was appointed. The committee had to consider three points: what old hymns should be stricken out, new ones to be selected and old ones to be revised. Two musical editors were added to the committee to assist in the argument over the tunes.

Letter to James Price.

Salisbury, Md.
Dear Sir: Two years ago the estate of the late Congressman Scott, of Erie, Pa. painted 24 Rolling-Mill houses: one coat Devos at a saving of 11 per cent for paint (lead-and-oil was after the job).

That's how the tale reads. We infer what really happened. The buyer, as usual, went by the cost of paint; got bids. Lead and oil bid low and guessed the quantity low; the saving was only 11 per cent.

Nobody seems to have thought of this: the painting costs two or three times as much as the paint. How did we save on the painting? Don't know. The tale ends with this: We often refer inquirers to those houses, for wear of Devos.

That's a good-enough story; but nobody knows what it is. Our only difficulty is want of paint-intelligence.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEXON & Co.
P. S.—L. W. Gunby Co sell our paint.

IT'S A STAYER.

Comes Quickly, But It Comes To Stay. Now a Salisbury Citizen Got Rid of It.

Comes early, stays late. No stranger can be more unwelcome. Makes life a misery all day long. Keeps you awake at night. Irritates you; spoils your temper. Do you know this unwelcome guest? Ever have it come and stay with you? Know what it is? Eczema. If you ever had any itching of the skin.

You know how hard it is to shake it off. You would like to know how to do it? Let a Salisbury man tell you.

Read this statement that follows: H. T. Parsons, tailor, residing at 103 Water St., says: "I had eczema or some skin trouble on my left leg which annoyed me off and on for the past three or four years. It would come on from no apparent cause and just as mysteriously disappear again about a week or two later, or sometimes a month or two. In warm weather or if I over-heated myself I was worse and I can only describe the itching as intense. Reading a paper one night I happened to see an advertisement about Doan's Ointment which influenced me to go to White & Leonard's drug store for a box. A few applications stopped the itching for I used nothing else and it disappeared. What is of much more importance to me, at the present time there is not a symptom of a recurrence."

For sale by all dealers, Price 50 cents. Foster-Milbourn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Very Low Rates to California, Arizona, Mexico, New Mexico and Other Western Points

VIA SOUTHERN RAILWAY

Any one desiring to make a trip to California, Arizona, Mexico, New Mexico, or other western points, either for business or pleasure, can do so now at small cost.

Commencing September 14th, and daily until October 30th, 1905, special one-way Mixed Class Colonist Tickets will be sold via the Southern Railway at rate of $49.75 from Philadelphia to Los Angeles, Cal., and San Francisco, Cal., and to other western points; proportionate low rates from other points.

The Southern Railway operates through Personally Conducted Pullman Tourist Sleeping Cars from Washington to Los Angeles and San Francisco, Cal., without change. Tourist Cars leave Washington 7:30 P. M., on Mondays and Fridays of each week. The berth rate through to the Pacific Coast is only $8.50, two people being allowed to occupy one berth if desired. There are other new, convenient and economical features connected with these Tourist Sleepers, which may be ascertained from Chas. L. Hopkins, District Passenger Agent, Southern Railway, 328 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Caution!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists.

Civil Service Examinations.

The following examinations for positions in the Civil Service are announced for the dates named. For further information apply to J. William Siemens, Secretary, at the postoffice: Railway Mail Clerk—November 8, 1905.

"It was almost a miracle. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me of a terrible breaking out all over the body. I am very grateful." Miss Julia Filbridge, West Cornwall, Conn.

—Hosiery, underwear and gloves just the right weight for the crisp fall weather at Kennerly & Mitchell's.

A boon to travelers. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Cures dysentery, diarrhoea, seasickness, nausea. Pleasant to take. Acts promptly.

Order of Publication.

No. 1582 Chancery, in the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is that the said Daniel Leatherbury may procure a divorce, a virtual matrimonial from the said Mary Robbins Leatherbury, and obtain the guardianship and custody of the four minor children of said marriage, Charles, Mary Allen, Annie and Daniel Leatherbury.

The bill states that the said parties were married on the 21st day of November 1877, and that they lived together until the 15th day of August 1902: that though the conduct of the complainant towards the respondent has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the respondent without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted complainant, and declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that said separation and abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for at least three years, is deliberate and final and beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that there have been born to said parties, the following children now living, William Henry, George, Charles, Mary Allen, Annie and Daniel Leatherbury, the last four of whom are infants under the age of twenty-one years.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 4th day of October, in the year nineteen hundred and five, by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, in Equity, ORDERED, that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Wicomico County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 6th day of November, nineteen hundred and five, give notice to the absent respondent of the object and substance of this bill, warning her to appear in person or by solicitor, in this Court on or before the 30th day of November next, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

INGENUITY OF THE MOONSHINERS.

Burton Holmes Tells of Their New Race in Tennessee to Evade the United States Revenue Officials. Novel Experience of a Camping Party Near Jellico.

"Whisky pillows" are the latest device of moonshiners to dodge the United States internal revenue authorities, says the Chicago Post. Many stories have been told of the ingenious tricks resorted to in the sale of illicit whisky, but the "pillow" is the latest and most novel.

Burton Holmes, the lecturer, who has been in the mountains of Tennessee recently, tells of discovering the pillows thus:

"I had joined a camping party near the small town of Jellico, which is on the state line between Tennessee and Kentucky," he said. "Some one suggested a trip up the mountains to get pine needles or balsam pillows from the mountaineers, who sell them to the tourists that reach this wild region of the Blue Ridge. It was after several hours' hard climbing that a full half mile off the trail we saw our first cabin. We all went over, and after several whoops and calls our efforts were rewarded by a woman coming to the door.

"We asked if she had any pine pillows for sale, and instead of answering she slowly and with great care looked us over. I could see that her inspection more or less satisfied her, but she said she 'didn't know,' she would 'have to see,' and, turning, she went back into the house.

"Almost immediately we could hear a hurried conversation that was being carried on in low tones, and in a surprisingly short time a man appeared and asked what kind of pillows we were looking for, 'men's or women's'.

"Not a little surprised at the question, I replied that we would like a few of both. My answer evidently puzzled him, for his eyes narrowed into a peculiar squint, and he told us he did not have any women's 'made up,' but that we could have loose balsam for these at the rate of 50 cents a pillow. He said he had men's pillows all ready, but they would be $1.50 each.

"Finally we were fitted out with enough balsam to make pillows for the women, and each man in the party had under his arm a rude sacklike pillow that felt as if it contained a brick. We had all been wondering what made the pillows so heavy until curiosity finally overcame one of the men, and with the help of a penknife he started an investigation.

"The mystery was soon solved, for when he withdrew his hand a full quart of moonshine whisky came with it. Needless to say, none of us that had purchased 'men's pillows' could use them to sleep on until slight alterations had been made."

DOBBIN OBEYS BUGLE CALL.

When It Sounds "Charge" Old Army Horse Works Butcher Cart.

He was a big white horse, with small ears that had a habit of turning back and a big square head that swung low to the breast strap, which drew a low of mutton for Louis Feinberg of Brooklyn down Front street the other evening to the Hamilton ferry, says the New York Herald. The load was heavy, and he had forgotten the brand "G. U. S. C. H. C." on the hip, where army horses carry their medals of honor.

"Go on, blow it," said a civilian admirer of a young bugler who stepped at that time off the Governors island ferryboat Hancock on leave of absence and with his bugle under his arm.

The young bugler put the brass to his lips, and the cracking notes of "walk" rang over South ferry. The white horse pricked up his ears.

"Trot!" cried the bugle.

"Whoa! What's the matter with you?" ejaculated Mr. Feinberg.

"Gallop!" said the bugle.

"Whoa! Whoa! Back!" said Mr. Feinberg, sawing on the reins. The big muscles of the white horse stood up like carved marble. He knew what was coming. So did everybody else in the neighborhood, for drawing the mutton wagon as if it were a featherweight he plunged straight ahead, with both ears up and nostrils open wide.

"Charge!" cracked the bugle.

There was a flash of white from Front street, there was a scurrying of sidewalk merchants on the sidewalk in front of South ferry, there were laments as stand after stand went over, and a big white horse, every bit of harness gone, but with eyes flashing and head up, struck the closed gates of the Hamilton ferry a resounding blow.

The mutton wagon, with the assistance of about fifteen men, was removed from the entrance to the "L" stairs, where it stood on end.

Feinberg, with the aid of several citizens, succeeded in getting a halter on the neck of the white horse, and he led him across the ferry. The wagon stayed in Manhattan overnight.

CHINA'S REAWAKENING.

Coming Nation of the East, Predicts Rev. Dr. T. Richard.

SOON TO OUTSTRIP JAPAN, HE SAYS

Determined to Develop Along Same Lines as Mikado's Kingdom, Says an Old Resident of China—Feels Yoke of European Tyranny Keadly and Will Shake It Off—Dances of Future Bloodshed.

"China is bound to be the coming nation of the east. It will soon be ahead of Japan." This is the prophecy of a man who has spent thirty-six years in China and hopes to end his days there. It is that of the Rev. Dr. T. Richard, with whom I had an interesting conversation recently in London, writes a member of the London Daily News staff.

"China will be greater than Japan within half a century," the doctor declared, still in prophetic vein. The past history of China, considered with the remarkable movements now maturing there, bears me out. China has held together a larger number of people than you find in any other nation in the world. It has done that for over 2,000 years. That means great powers of organization. Now that China is adopting new methods you will find it will still be able to hold together in face of all the world."

"By use of arms?"

"Well, China is determined to develop along the same lines as Japan. The Chinese are prepared to modify their laws and customs. They are going to learn everything they can from western civilization. In thirty years' time, having learned all that Europeans can teach them, they will get rid of their teachers, as Japan has. Then you will see them rise ahead of Japan and become as powerful a nation as any in Europe."

"Is Japan nursing them?"

"To some extent she is. The Japanese have for ten years been organizing an Asiatic league. This league is not only identified with China, but with all the nations of Asia. Statesmen from Siam, India and Persia, as well as from China, are influenced by the league and visit Japan solely in connection with its objects."

"Which are?"

"To resist the west with its own weapons, but with an army far superior in numbers. The people of Asia are sick of the white peril. The arrogance of Europeans has become unbearable to them. China feels this more keenly than the other Asiatic nations. The Boxer rising was but an expression of that feeling. That rebellion taught the Chinese they could do nothing against European armies without European methods. They will not rise against the Europeans again until they have learned what the Japanese have learned. And then as a great power they will outclass the Japanese. The people in England—may, in Europe—have no idea of the extent to which China is storing its arsenals and training its men."

"And what does it all mean?"

"It means many things. First, China does not intend to lie at the mercy of Japan. It is a mistake to suppose that Japan is going to do what she likes with China. It also means that China is determined to shake off the yoke of European tyranny, which she feels keenly."

"Then you see a future of bloodshed?"

"What I feel is that unless the nations of Christendom begin at once to act justly toward China the day may come when China may inflict a terrible revenge upon the white races for their tyranny to the Chinese in their times of weakness. The Chinese are as much infected with the fear of the white peril as Europeans are with the fear of the yellow peril. Unless the two continents change their attitude I do not see how fearful bloodshed is to be avoided."

"Can they change?"

"I am sure that so far as China is concerned its development can go on without war. That, however, depends wholly on the attitude of Europeans. Let them be peaceful, and the Chinese will be peaceful. Let them make war, and the Chinese will make war. The reawakening of China has not only brought a war party to the front, it has brought a peace party to the front. It depends on the attitude of western nations as to which party becomes supreme in China. One of the main objects of my present visit to England is to plead for more peaceful methods in our and other nations' dealings with China."

"Falling nations?"

"China will soon have a standing army that will threaten the peace of the whole world. It is not too late for western nations to prevent that, and in preventing it they would learn the lesson of universal peace themselves."

A Mathematical Incongruity.

How is this, from an expert accountant:

10 - 10 = 0
100 - 100 = 0

By axiom 1 things equal to the same thing are equal to each other; hence 10-10 equals 100-100.

Divide each side of the equation by 10-10, and the result is 1 equals 10. Figures will lie, even women's.—New York Press.

Twice within a week Warden J. C. Boggs, of Kent county, Delaware, jail has been waylaid by prisoners and threatened with death. The second and most daring assault occurred Wednesday when the warden was unlocking the doors and allowing certain prisoners the freedom of the corridor for the day. He unlocked the door leading into the sheriff's house when three tramps held for trespassing on the Delaware Railroad, knocked him down and very roughly handled him.

Patrick Murphy, while passing down Tremont street, Boston, was hit on the head by a brick which fell from a building in process of construction. One of the first things he did after being taken home and put to bed was to send for a lawyer. A few days later he received word to call, as his lawyer had settled the case. He called and received five crisp, new $100 bills. "How much did you get?" he asked. "Two thousand, dollars," answered the lawyer. "Two thousand, and you give me $500?" Say, who got hit by that brick, you or me!"

A valuable and interesting new peach was discovered by J. H. Ledy, in Franklin county Pa., bearing in a row of Mountain Rose peach trees in 1896. The tree has all the characteristics of the Mountain Rose, but the fruit is larger, of a deeper red and ripens from 8 to 10 days later than the Mountain Rose. Mr. Ledy says that the fruit is at least a third larger than Mountain Rose grown in his orchard. It is a rather shy bearer, and that perhaps accounts for the larger size of the fruit. As the fruit reaches maturity it colors up beautifully, and it is a decided acquisition to the long list of peaches. This new peach has been called Ledy's Red.

Logical Conclusion of The Poe Amendment If Applied To The United States.

The principle of the Poe Amendment, if carried to its logical conclusion and applied throughout the United States, would put an end to the American institution of free government by the people, build up an oligarchy of politicians and cause a disruption of the Republic. This is a strong statement, but it is a fact. The plan to give any man or set of men the power to say whether or not other men shall vote, no matter upon what grounds such power is granted, destroys at once every man's matural right of citizenship. If the right to vote can be given or taken away, at any man's whim or caprice, it places every citizen at the mercy of an irresponsible dictator, who, because of his irresponsibility, is worse than any Emperor or Czar that ever existed.
We had better a thousand times have a king, with a constitutional form of government, than be ruled by a ring of politicians without possible escape except by a revolution, which would be the case under the Poe law.

Suppose, for illustration, the idea should be adopted by the Republican party throughout the Union. The Republicans control practically all the States outside of the South. If a similar measure to the Poe Amendment were passed, the Republican party would be in power forever.

If the principle of the Poe law is good for Maryland (as the Democrats argue), why should it not be wise for the Republicans to kill off opposition to their tariff ideas, their sound money principles and other theories of government?
They have equally as much excuse and reason as have the Democrats for their desire to control Maryland.

In the South, the white people found it necessary to take control of their State government, by legal or illegal methods. They have now, by disfranchising measures, legalized their control. The result of these conditions in the South has been that only about one-fifth of the voting population go to the polls. There is only one party—the Democratic—and, except for a few States, where factional fights occur occasionally, the Democratic organization is undisturbed. But the South is dead, politically, and fossilized.

There is not the same reason in Maryland for disfranchisement as there was in the South. The conditions are very different. It is the white voters that have put control by the Democratic machine in jeopardy. Is Maryland to be placed in the same political category as the Southern States, in order to gratify Gorman and his lieutenants? This is what they ask and what the voters must decide on November 7th.

Oyster Legislation at the Next General Assembly.

Elsewhere in this paper is printed an interview with Mr. B. Howard Haman, author of the Haman Oyster Bill, taken from the Baltimore Sun, which every person interested in the oyster business in this county would do well to read.
It is fair warning of what will be attempted at the next Legislature by those who wish the bill to become a law.

Outside of the statement in the Wicomico News that Senator Brewington would "take care of the oyster interests of Wicomico," the people of this county know absolutely nothing about the attitude of the Democratic nominees for the House of Delegates upon this question. And just what does Senator Brewington mean by saying he will "take care of the oystermen?"

Suppose we take this to mean that the Senator will oppose the Haman Bill; can he speak for the Delegates? Are they subject to his orders and dictation?

It would be mighty easy for Senator Brewington and the members of the House to vote for a compromise bill, embodying practically all the features of the objectionable Haman law, and report when they came home "that a compromise was the best they could do."

We advise our oystermen to demand from the Democratic nominees and Senator Brewington an unqualified statement of where they stand. The Republicans are fairly and squarely opposed to the proposed oyster legislation in any phase or form. They are committed by their county platform. The Democrats are not. What will they do, if elected, when this law comes up for their vote?

Banks—Colgan.

At Fallston, Md., on Thursday, October 12th, there was witnessed among the historic hills of Harford county one of the prettiest weddings of the season.
Miss Bertha E. Colgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. J. Colgan, of Harford county, was married to Capt. Charles Carroll Banks, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Granville E. Banks, of Wicomico county. They were led to the altar at 10 a.
m. by Edward Colgan, a brother of the bride, and W. W. Banks, a brother of the groom. The bride wore a white organdie trimmed with pretty lace and ribbons, and wore gloves to match, and carried a pretty bunch of crysanthe-mums. The bridal party left at 1 p. m. for Salisbury, where they will reside for the present.

It was a quiet home wedding and only relatives were invited. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Colgan and daughter Grace, cousins of the bride, of New York City; Mrs. Beaumont Ford, the bride's aunt, of Timonium, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. John Colgan and daughter,
Marv; Mrs. J. Norris Oliphant and son,
Ernest, of Baltimore; Miss Mollie Rahall, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Colgan, parents of the bride, Misses Jessie, Irene Marie, Emilie and Vivian, sisters of the bride; Messrs. John, Stanley, Edward,
Louis and Walter, brothers of the bride, Fallston, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Granville Banks, parents of the groom, Salisbury; Miss Daisy M. Elliott, Hebron. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B.
Hank, of Saint John's Church, Long Green, Md.

A "SUPERMARINE" BOAT.

Novel High Speed Craft Devised by French Engineer.

A novel form of high speed boat has recently been devised by a French engineer, M. de Lambert, which involves a radical departure from all previous designs of hull, says Harper's Weekly.
It is termed a "skating" or "superma-rine" boat, for it is constructed to glide along the surface of the water rather than experience resistance by being immersed and passing through.
This is accomplished by means of five inclined planes, which are fixed on the bottom of the hull and which when the boat is at rest are a few inches in the water. When the engine is started the hull is raised, so that the boat runs with less resistance on the inclined planes, which then rest on a mixture of air and water.

With a twelve horsepower petroleum motor it is reported that a speed of from twenty-six to twenty-eight knots an hour can be made, a rate not always attained by motor boats with eighty horsepower engines. The new boat is also capable of being handled with considerable facility and stopped readily.

The attainment of high speed by motor boats which run on the surface of the water rather than through it has attracted some attention lately, and an English high speed boat was built where this idea was considered in designing the hull, but the use of the inclined plane to diminish the resistance as successfully carried out is quite novel and will be tried further.

"SIMPLE LIFE" AT WEDDING.

Pair to Adopt Plan In Future and Abandon Cooked Diet.

Annie Louise Ambrose and Edgar Wallace Conable were married recently at Los Angeles according to the doctrines of the "simple life," says a Los Angeles dispatch. No unnecessary word was spoken by the Rev. D. I.
Jenkins, who performed the ceremony.
The word "obey" was omitted.

Because it is a custom to take a honeymoon trip, the bride and bridegroom walked from church to their new home and began life at once with a menu that abolishes meats and all cooked foods, their principal articles of diet being nuts, fruits and vegetables.
At the wedding supper which followed the ceremony no cooked foods were served. The party sat under trees and ate nuts and fruit.

A garden and orchard on their farm will furnish food, and so far as possible no articles of raiment not made by the wife will be worn by either.
Simple methods will rule their home in everything, and this includes the dispensing with shoes.

The Tent Cure In Kansas.

A stranger in Paola, Kan.; is impressed by the great number of tents in all parts of the town and is naturally curious until he is told that there is a fad there for sleeping outdoors, says a Paola dispatch. It started early last summer and has grown steadily, as each one who has tried it tells of the benefits he has received from sleeping outdoors. "Since I began to sleep in a tent," said a follower of the fad, "I feel much better. Before I began to sleep outdoors I never felt refreshed when I got up in the morning. Now I feel bright and am able to do my work much better."

Tan Shoes For Winter Wear.

"A new winter tan shoe is to be worn this fall," said a traveling salesman recently to a Kansas City reporter at the Coates House, in Kansas City, Mo., "and men who like foot comfort will appreciate it. In the past the real objection to wearing tan shoes in the winter has been their staining and discoloration by slush and rain. A new method of tanning has been discovered that avoids those objections, and makers controlling the process are busy lasting the shoes."

New Way to Fight Mosquitoes.

A Memphis (Mo.) man has discovered a new way to get rid of mosquitoes, says the Kansas City Star. He says to rub alum on your face and hands.
When the mosquito takes a bite it puckers its buzzer so it can't sting.
It sits down in a damp place, tries to dig the pucker loose, catches its death of cold and dies of pneumonia.

A Greater Scoundrel.

A famous master of Trinity college, Cambridge, had been a friend in earlier days of one Jimmy Gordon, a solicitor.
But Jimmy went to the bad, was struck off the rolls and lived from what he could get from old acquaintances. One day he met the master and asked for a shilling.
"Gordon," thundered the master, "if you could show me a greater scoundrel than yourself I would give you half a crown." And he stalked stiffly away to his rooms. In half an hour's time the butler announced that Mr. Pompous, the esquire beadle, wished to see the master. Now, the master had a special detestation of the beadle, who, when admitted and curtly asked what he wanted, replied:

"Mr. Gordon informed me that you desired to see me."

Said the master, "Gordon has made an ass of you!"
In ten minutes more the butler came again, grinning, and said:
"Mr. Jimmy Gordon has called and says you owe him half a crown, sir."

What a world of confidence what a feeling of safety is inspired with the knowledge that your car must go faster, or stand still, as you indicate, by the slightest touch of a finger or the pres-the paths of the more ambitious who want to travel at a merry clip. This is why the Rambler stands so high in the estimation of the large majority of the purchasing public. Most people want a car that will run any time they want it, pairs or unnecessary loss of time—and they get it in the Rambler.

Town Topics.

—Mr. Alfred Fooks moved into his new house on Walnut street on Wednesday.

—Monday was the Hebrews' "Day of Atonement," and their places of business were closed until 6 p. m.

—Mrs. George R. Hitch is quite ill with typhoid fever at the Peninsula General Hospital. She was slightly improved at last report.

—Mrs. G. W. Taylor gives Saturday as special bargain days, for cash purchases. All goods sold that day will be sold below the regular price.

—Judge Holland laid his yacht up on Monday for the winter. The Judge expects to lengthen and otherwise improve the vessel before next summer.

—Mrs. G. W. Taylor has a few hats and baby caps left over, that were valued at 50c. to $1.00, will sell as long as they last for 25c. a piece. Read ad on another page.

—The musicale at St. Peter's rectory Thursday evening, given by the Guild was largely attended and a great success in every particular. Quite a sum was realized.

—Mr. J. Ernest Shockley, of the Birchhead-Sockley Co., left Monday for Philadelphia and New York to purchase winter goods. He expects to be away several days.

—Mr. W. A. Crew is laying a cement sidewalk and coping around the Peninsula General Hospital lot. The length of the walk will be 600 feet, 300 feet on Locust street and 300 feet on S. Division street.

—Mr. Alfred M. Smith, of near Mt. Herman, has on exhibition at The Courier office a pumpkin weighing 66 lbs. Mr. Smith says that he used no special method to raise this pumpkin and that he has plenty more nearly as large.

—Mrs. L. S. Bell expects to leave early next week for treatment at a sanitarium in Connecticut. Mrs. Lawrence Edgecombe will return to her home in New Jersey. Dr. Bell will spend several months at his farm near town, and the Bell home on Main street will be closed temporarily.

—The Diamond State Telephone Co. has a large force of men at work in Salisbury stringing 3,000 feet more cable, so as to accommodate additional telephones. These cables are being put up from the office on Division Street out Camden Street as far as Maryland Avenue, and out Division and East Church Streets to the depot.

—Judge Charles F. Holland gave a course dinner at 7 o'clock last Friday evening at the Peninsula Hotel, in honor of Col. and Mrs. Charles B. Houston, of Millsboro, Del. There were present, in addition to the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Lacour, of New Orleans; Misses Letitia and Mary Houston and Mr. Samuel R. Douglass, of Salisbury.

—Rev. and Mrs. James W. Colona returned to Salisbury from their wedding trip on Wednesday and were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Adam Stengle. A reception was tendered the newly married couple at Princess Anne Thursday evening. They were accompanied to Princess Anne by Rev. and Mrs. Stengle, who were present at the reception.

—Invitations were sent out this week by Mr. George Martin Uphur, of Baltimore, for the marriage of his daughter, Miss Priscilla, to Mr. Harry Franklin Covington, of Princeton College. The ceremony takes place Wednesday the 25th of October at the Church of the Transfiguration, Blue Ridge Summit, Pa. Both of the young people are natives of Snow Hill and are well known in Salisbury.

—The Christian Endeavor Society of Wicomico Presbyterian Church will give an entertainment at the residence of Mr. R. D. Grier next Thursday evening for the benefit of the Society. The entertainment will consist of a play, entitled "Not a Man in the House," and a musical program. Admission 15 cts. Home made candy will also be sold. Everybody cordially invited to be present.

—Indications point to a lively contest for the appointment of State Insurance Commissioner, which was recently made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Frank I. Duncan, who was appointed associate judge of the Third Judicial circuit. This position, with a salary of $2,500 a year, is considered to be a very nutritious political plum, and on all occasions when the appointment is to be made there are a number of applicants. So far the most prominently spoken of for the position are Mr. Joseph M. Street, of Harford county and Mr. Chas. H. Vandeford, of Carroll county. Senator M. V. Brewington, of Wicomico, was mentioned in connection with the office when Mr. Duncan was appointed.

—Rev. R. P. Perry will preach in Wicomico Presbyterian Church Sunday morning next, Oct. 15th.

—The Townsend-Gassoway Drug Co., of Sharptown, filed incorporation papers with the Clerk of the Court last Saturday, October 7th. The capital stock is $2,000 and the incorporators are Francis J. Townsend, William M. Gassoway, Martha L. Gassoway, Sidney J. Mitchell and Uriah T. Gravenor, Jr.

—The schooner "North Carolina," owned by Messrs. Perry and Dickerson, of Salisbury, is reported sunk in Washington, D. C., at the lumber piers. The schooner's load is still aboard and considerable difficulty will likely be experienced in raising her. It is presumed that she struck a pile.

Personal.

—Mrs. W. W. Leonard was in Baltimore several days the first of this week.

—Mr. Arthur White, of Norfolk, Va., was the guest of Mr. Harry Dennis this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Dean W. Perdue and daughter Virginia spent this week in New York City.

—Mr. Charles Bourne was in town part of this week, the guest of Mayor Charles E. Harper.

—Mr. W. B. Tilghman, Jr., left Friday for several weeks trip to Florida and other parts of the South.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. L. D. Stanford, of Princess Anne, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gordy, Jr., Sunday last.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Phillips, of the Peninsula Hotel, spent a few days of this week with friends in Philadelphia and Chester.

—Miss Eva G. Trice, of Seaford, Del., who has been visiting Miss Norah M. Whiteley for the past month returned home last Tuesday.

—Miss Irma Graham and Mr. Walter B. Miller are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harwood, of Richmond, Va., to attend the horse show in that city.

—Mr. Herman Murrell, who is for the present employed by Mr. A. H. Sisk, at Preston, Md., spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Stephen Murrell, in Salisbury.

—Dr. Marshall Price, of Baltimore, asst. to Dr. John S. Fulton, Secretary of the State Board of Health, was the guest this week of Senator and Mrs. M. V. Brewington.

—Mrs. Everett E. Jackson and baby son left Tuesday for Atlantic City, N. J., for a two week's stay. Mr. Jackson, accompanied by Mr. John H. Tomlinson, left Thursday in his automobile for the same place. Mr. Tomlinson returned from Philadelphia.

—Mr. Levin C. Graham, of Philadelphia, was the guest of his mother, Mrs. Louisa Graham, on Sunday. Mr. Graham has recently severed his connection with the United Gas Improvement Co., of Philadelphia, and left Monday for Winona, Minnesota, where he will take charge as Superintendent of a large gas plant.

The County Commissioners.

The County Commissioners were in session Tuesday and Wednesday of this week and transacted considerable business. On Tuesday insolvencies were allowed A. S. Venables, late tax collector, to the amount of $266.93. Permission was granted C. W. Fields to build the section of road from the west side of Tony Tank Creek from the creek to the point where the road has already been built, at his own expense.

On Wednesday the petitioners and objectors to the New Hope Tax Ditch were before the Board, as per agreement of October 6th. Several witnesses were sworn and examined. The Commissioners held the matter over until their next meeting, which will be on Tuesday, October 24th.

The clerk of the Commissioners was instructed to write in regard to placing a metal ceiling in the Court House.

The Board will visit the Almshouse on Friday, October 20th.

Talking Ducks.

Benjamin Davis, who has a farm about three miles from Delmar, is the owner of three Muscovy ducks which appear to converse with each other. They are pure white, with bright red bills, and are very pretty.

A visitor to Mr. Davis' farm recently noticed the ducks, facing each other, making a peculiar noise and shaking their heads. One would make a gurgling sound and the other two would nod their heads, while one of the others would "have something to say" next and the other two would nod assent or disapproval.

Mr. Davis says the ducks always get together when he has company and go through the same manoeuvres. "I presume they are talking about the visitors," he said, "but I cannot tell you what they are saying."—Wilmington Evening.

It Isn't Possible

To Make Better Clothes Than Lacy Thoroughgood's

It's only a question of proving it to you. If you have never worn clothes sold by Lacy Thoroughgood it surely isn't because they are not good enough, or because you can get better ones. It's because you don't know them. A great many of the best dressed men—you'd be surprised to know how many—wear Lacy Thoroughgood's clothes. About the only difference between a custom tailored suit or overcoat is the price. You'll appreciate that difference just as much as the custom tailor regrets it. In material, in workmanship, in style, they are both the same—provided the custom tailor is of the high-class kind. So far as it is concerned Thoroughgood's clothes have this advantage—You can try them on—See for yourself. With the custom tailor, nine times out of ten you take his word for it. If you have been thinking of a New Suit or a New Overcoat or a Rain Coat there's no place in Salisbury that shows so many beautiful clothes as Lacy Thoroughgood. Come and take a look, you don't have to buy unless you choose to do so, but you can't help buying if you need good clothing.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Pattern For a Dress For Little Miss Muffet or Tommy Tucker by Martha Dean—No. 4671

Never was there a style more becoming or practical for the little ones than the matty Russian suits, or, as we have come to know them, Buster Brown dresses. As they can be worn with petticoats or bloomers, the same design will serve for the manikin as well as the little maiden. Many a sensible mother whose aim is the proper development of her children ignores Mrs. Grundy and dresses the young daughter in one of these frocks with bloomers and gives her the same freedom to struggle with the elements as her brothers. The most inexperienced can, with the aid of an accurate pattern, fashion this useful garment without trouble. The plaits are applied, and there is little more to do than to close the seams. Made up in serge linen, with shield, cuffs, belt and the little touches of trimming of stitched white linen, this dress will be serviceable and easily laundered. For cold weather wear serge or cheviot in blue, brown or red, with revers, collar and cuffs of a contrasting color, would prove very satisfactory. Sizes, from 2 to 6 years.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING

Send 10 cents to this office, give number of this pattern, No. 4671, and state size desired. It will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

Pattern For a Charming Bolero Designed by Martha Dean—No. 6317

The fashion for embroidery is at its zenith, and the creations which are possible in these dainty bits of finery are attractive in the extreme. The newest departure in this line is for the embroidered coats, of which the bolero is by far the most fetching. The white linen coats are especially smart and will be worn with all manner of dressy frocks. The design shown is intended for eyelet embroidery, with frillings of lace adorning it. This bolero, which is so modish and becoming, appears here with unusual grace. The fronts are rounded, with three frills of lace following the lines at even distances. A broad rounded collar extends across the back and over the shoulders in front. The sleeves are fanciful affairs, slit up a short distance in the center and disclosing the soft full puff of the undersleeve. Frillings of lace also adorn these edges and add to the attractiveness. Taffeta, linen, tulle or velvet might serve as material and prove most pleasing. It is a style becoming to almost any one and not at all difficult to fashion. Sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING

Send 10 cents to this office, give number of this pattern, No. 6317, and state size desired. It will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

Pattern For a Pretty One Piece Frock Designed by Martha Dean—No. 4677

The frocks for the little folks do not tend so much to elaboration and adornment as in times past, but to the fineness of fabric and exquisite evolutions. Here is a simple frock for every day which is in one piece and easily constructed. Tiny tucks occupy the space between the three box plaits, front and back, all of which are stitched to waist depth. These furnish a becoming fullness for the skirt and serve as the only adornment. A belt of the material or leather may be worn with this dress if desired. The pretty bishop sleeve is used, with a narrow cuff finishing at the wrist. For an everyday frock gingham, madras or chambray, as well as serge or challis, might serve as material. If made in a thin material, a narrow lace edging on the neck and sleeve to correspond with the insertion on the skirt would add to its attractiveness. Sizes, 2 to 9 years.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING

Send 10 cents to this office, give number of this pattern, No. 4677, and state size desired. It will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

Pattern For a Genteel Shirt Waist Designed by Martha Dean—No. 6331

Every season of the year makes its demands upon the shirt waist, and the coming months will be no exception to the rule. The new models are increasingly attractive, and their freedom from over-elaboration is a great factor in this result. The smartest designs have simplicity as a foundation and rely upon the mode of trimming or cut for their charm and modishness. Here is a shirt waist having only the three narrow tucks at the sides, front and back, to cause labor for the amateur dressmaker. The chic is given by the fanciful trimming piece, which may be omitted if desired. This extends over the back to form a small square yoke. Pretty buttons brighten up the front and add to the general attractiveness. Any of the new waistings may be used, silk, broadcloth or henrietta. The pattern is extremely simple and readily adapted to home construction. Sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Parker, of Salisbury, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Willard Smith and family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Riggin Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wilkins and daughter Marie, spent Sunday with Mr. John Middleton.

Some of our early risers have seen some frost, but no discernable damage has yet been done. The weather is as fine as could be asked for.

Mrs. Anne Smith spent a part of this week in Salisbury with her daughter, Mrs. Ella Sheppard.

Mr. Aigie Wimbrow, of Wango, spent Sunday with Mr. R. S. Wimbrow.

Miss Maude Farlow gave a party Saturday evening in honor of her guests, Misses Florence and Rosa Truitt.

Few of our people attended the picnic at Smith's school house last Saturday night.

We are glad to report that Miss Georgia Hearn, who has been very ill with typhoid fever, is out again.

Miss Ella Davis, who has been spending the summer at Ocean City returned home this week.

Tyaskin.

Miss Ora Taylor is spending the week with relatives at Clara.

Misses Mattie Culver and Marie Taylor spent Saturday and Sunday with Misses Nellie and Bessie Neice of Nanticoke.

Elbert, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Porter, died Saturday last at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Porter.

Miss Clara Insley, of Baltimore, is spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Insley.

After a long and lingering illness which was borne with much patience, Mr. Ebenezer Larmore departed this life on Sunday Oct. 8. He was buried by the K. of P. of which order he was a member. Interment was in Taskin M. E. cemetery. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Ward, of the M. P. church assisted by Rev. G. R. Neice of the M. E. church. The deceased is survived by a wife and five children.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Culver were in Baltimore this week.

Mrs. Rebecca Larmore is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. L. Brewington, of Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Culver were in Salisbury Thursday.

Miss Alice Larmore returned home Thursday.

Delmar.

From a Wilmington Journal we clip the following: Miss Carolyn T. Dunn a well known trained nurse who died on Thursday of typhoid fever was buried from the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Dunn No 2101 Church street on Saturday noon. The funeral was largely attended, among those present being a number of graduates and classmates of the deceased at the University of Pennsylvania Training school for nurses and a number of physicians from this city and Philadelphia. The parlor was practically filled with floral offerings: services were in charge of Pastor W. L. Pettingill, of North Baptist Church who spoke feelingly of the deceased. A solo was sung by Miss Moore and there were also selections by a quartette composed of Mrs. Owens, Miss Clark, Miss Moore and Mrs. Corkran.

Interment was made in the Riverview cemetery, the services at the grave being also conducted by Pastor Pettingill. The pallbearers were Dr. J. W. Bostian, Dr. George W. K. Forest, Wyron Henderer, H. C. Tazewell, Merrill Tilghman and H. T. Price. Miss Dunn had just returned from the lower part of Pennsylvania where she had nursed her brother through a severe attack of typhoid when she was herself stricken and died after an illness of about three weeks. Though a resident of this city Miss Dunn principally followed her calling in Philadelphia and was regarded as one of the most successful trained nurses in that large city. "Carrie" as she was formerly known to our people, was born and reared at this place. The family went from here to Wilmington seventeen years ago where they have since resided. She has many relatives and friends who with her parents mourn her early demise. Quite a number of our people attended the funeral service.

Revival meetings have begun in the M. E. Church.

Members of the M. P. Church are giving an oyster supper this week in the new building being erected for store and dwelling by Dr. Truitt.

Mr. T. A. Veasey has begun the erection of a large building in the rear of the Freney Block.

Champane.

There are two peculiarities about champagne drinking which are capable of explanation. The one is the rapidity with which the wine exhilarates notwithstanding the small proportion of alcohol it contains. This is due to the carbonic acid gas evolved, which is inhaled while drinking, for it is the property of this gas to expedite the action of anything with which it is associated. It is estimated that one glass of champagne is equal in effect to two glasses of still wine of the same strength and is more rapid in action. The other peculiarity is the sort of lethargy or deadness which follows after excessive champagne drinking. This is analogous to the stupor produced by carbonic acid gas, but it is assisted and intensified by the excess of sugar deranging the stomach. The undigested sugar turns into acid, and thus it is that too much champagne is apt to produce dyspepsia.

Not Just What She Meant.

The former head of a large private school in Cleveland was a gentleman of dignified bearing, refined and correct always in manner and speech. By birth and early rearing he was a Vermonter and doubtless of straight Puritan extraction. One day in his boyhood his mother called him in from the yard where he was playing with some other boys to say to him, in a tone suggestive of mingled sadness and severity:

"Noble, my son, I never thought to hear you use a swear word."
"Why, mother," said the boy, "I didn't use any swear word. I only said 'the devil.' Nobody thinks that's swearing."
"I don't care," cried the mother quickly. "It's making light of sacred things."—Cleveland Leader.

COMMUNICATION FROM DR. TODD.

Former County Treasurer Criticizes Treasurer Price and Wicomico News—Says Law Has Not Been Complied With.

Salisbury Md., Oct. 17 1905.

Meats Editors:—

I noticed in your last issue that I was returned by Hon. Gordon T. Atkinson, Comptroller, as delinquent for State Taxes for 1903 to the amount of $575.58, and in justice to myself I feel called upon to say that if there is any delinquency of any kind it is due to no fault of mine.

The law compelled me to surrender all papers to my successor in office, Mr. Jesse D. Price, the present County Treasurer. At the time I surrendered the office and all papers to him the taxes for 1903 were not actually due, and payment could not be enforced by me. Since vacating the office of county Treasurer I have had no control over the books of the County or authority to collect the taxes due. The taxes should have been collected before this, and if the County Treasurer had complied with the requirements of the law all the taxes for 1903 would have been collected and I would not have been returned as a delinquent.

Respectfully yours,

H. Laird Todd.

P. S. The above communication is identical with the communication left by me with one of the editors of the Wicomico News. The distinct understanding was that the entire communication was to be published, or none of it was to be published. It is manifestly unfair to me to have a communication over my own signature, and for which I am personally responsible, garbled by the editors of the Wicomico News.

Respectfully yours,

H. Laird Todd.

THE BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

Held in Salisbury This Week Was Largely Attended—Ten Ordained Ministers Were Present.

The Salisbury Old School, or Primitive Baptist Association closed its 19th annual session in this city, yesterday, Friday. This Association is composed of eleven churches located chiefly in Wicomico and Worcester counties, with two located in Sussex county, Delaware, and one in Accomac county, Va.

The attendance from the various churches has been large, with also a goodly attendance of visitors from other Associations in this and other States including ten ordained ministers viz: Elders H. C. Ker and John McConnell of New York; F. A. Chick, New Jersey; S. H. Durand Pa.; Rowe, Maryland; E. V. White and T. M. Poulson, Va.; W. W. Meredith, B. E. Cabbage, and A. B. Francis, Delaware.

Elder Silas H. Durand, the pastor of the church in Salisbury, acted as moderator. John H. Truitt, of Snow Hill, clerk, and Geo. W. Adkins, of this county, asst. clerk.

The services have been solemn and the large audiences orderly. Visitors all join in praising the hearty hospitality, and kindness of the citizens of Salisbury.

Elder E. V. White is the noted Col. E. V. White commander of the 8th, White's, Battalion Virginia Cavalry, Gen. R. E. Lee's scouts in the Civil War, 1861-65.

Elder H. C. Ker is a native of the village of Quantic, this county, but for the past seven years has resided in Middletown Orange county New York, and is pastor of the Middletown and New Vernon churches.

"It was almost a miracle. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me of a terrible breaking out all over the body. I am very grateful." Miss Julia Filbridge, West Cornwell, Conn.

SCALDED TO DEATH.

Shocking Accident Near White Haven Tuesday Evening Whereby Mrs. Samuel Brattan Lost Her Life.

One of the most shocking accidents that ever occurred in this county, caused the death last Tuesday evening at the canning factory owned by J. Massey Roberts & Son, near White Haven, of Mrs. Myrtle Brattan, wife of Mr. Samuel Brattan. Mrs. Brattan was helping a boy to wind out of a kettle of boiling water with a windlass some tomatoes, when she stumbled and fell backward into the kettle. In trying to get out her whole body, except her head, went into the boiling water. Her flesh was literally cooked and her agony was horrible. The accident occurred about 8 o'clock and Mrs. Brattan lived until 11.30 the same night when death mercifully ended her sufferings. She was conscious to the last and bade her little son and husband farewell just before she died. The doctor could do nothing for her except to relieve her pain with anaesthetics.

Mrs. Brattan was about 33 years of age and was a daughter of the late George A. Robertson. She lived near Capitola. Her funeral took place Thursday morning and was largely attended by mourning friends.

HENRY B. PURNELL A SUICIDE.

Prominent Ocean City Business Man Shoots Himself Thursday Night—Business Troubles The Cause.

Henry B. Purnell, ex-postmaster and prominent business man of Ocean City, shot himself through the head Thursday night and died instantly. The particulars of the sad occurrence have not reached Salisbury, but the cause is stated to be business troubles. Mr. Purnell kept one of the largest stores at Ocean City, located on the board walk near the depot. It is understood that he had gotten behind in his payments and the fact so preyed on his mind that he became unsettled, as his creditors were pushing him for settlement.

Mr. Purnell was about 35 years of age and was unmarried. He was raised in Worcester county, near Berlin, where his family are well known. He was formerly in business at Berlin but has had a store at Ocean City for a number of years. He was an estimable young man and very well thought of by all who knew him. His death is a great shock to his family and many friends, both in Worcester and Wicomico counties. Mr. Purnell was a member of Salisbury Lodge of Elks, which will make suitable tribute to his memory. A number of the members will attend his funeral and the lodge may possibly take charge of the ceremonies.

ENTERTAINMENT ASSOCIATION.

Expects To Secure Lecturers And Invites The Co-Operation of the General Public.

The Salisbury Entertainment Association was organized for the purpose of arranging and presenting a higher class of entertainment to the people of the city. Other cities have their Lyceums, Oratorios, Lectures and Chautauqua Circles. Why should we not make use of the same means for the general education of the public as other cities?

We cannot believe that the majority of the population of our city and their highest idea of public entertainment is the vaudeville or minstrel show.

A movement of this kind should receive the unqualified endorsement and active support of every citizen of worth. We cannot engage talent or enter into contracts with the best men of America until we know approximately how many season tickets we can get pledged.

People say to us "Well who are you going to engage?" We cannot tell who we will have until we know who we can afford to engage. The people of the city should have confidence in the ability of whomever should be chosen to decide upon and secure talent.

A preliminary entertainment under the management of Mrs. M. F. Trussell, Mr. A. M. Jackson, Prof. J. Walter Huntington and others, will soon be held for the purpose of presenting this matter to the people of the city.

The following talent is under discussion at present.

Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, the successor of Dr. Lyman Abbott and Henry Ward Beecher.

Rev. Thomas Dixon, author of "Leopard Spots."

The famous humorist "Ell Perkins."

The celebrated J. P. Denmore in his world wide lecture entitled "A Trip to the Moon."

Dr. Robert Aylesworth pastor of Simpson church, Jersey City.

Dr. Russell Conwell of Philadelphia.

Hon. W. W. Ferris, Democratic nominee for Governor of Michigan.

This is a matter of vital importance to the people of the city and surrounding county and all progressive and literary people should be active in their support.

RAYNOR IS AGAINST POE LAW.

He Denounces The Suffrage Amendment In Scathing Terms And Throws Down The Gauntlet To Gorman.

In an open letter to the Democrats of Maryland, which appeared in the Baltimore Sun and the Baltimore News on Wednesday, United States Senator Raynor comes out squarely against the Poe disfranchisement amendment to the constitution and denounces it in scathing terms as an American and un-American. He throws down the gauntlet to Senator Gorman, whom he scores in the bitterest language as the author of the attempt to perpetuate autocratic government in Maryland by wholesale disfranchisement of qualified voters.

To the Democratic ringsters the letter has proved a body blow. Coming at the very moment when the Democratic State Central Committee was about to put into effect plans in Baltimore, for throttling still further the voices of the thousands of Democrats who are opposed to the amendment, it cast a gloom over the ringsters that nothing could dispel.

Among independent Democrats and the thousands of regular Democrats who will oppose the vote against the amendment Senator Raynor's letter was hailed with the greatest enthusiasm. These Democrats who are opposing the machine bosses have believed all along that the amendment was beaten but they feel that their belief is now a certainty. Senator Raynor's stinging declaration against the amendment and the attempt of Gorman and his lieutenants to perpetuate their autocratic rule will have the effect they believe of strengthening every lukewarm adversary of the amendment and of converting hundreds of other Democrats who have been heretofore classed as amendment men.

In Baltimore city Democratic organization men are thoroughly dismayed. Despite the overwhelming sentiment against the amendment, they had believed, under the spell of Gorman's influence, that there was still a possibility if not of carrying the city for the amendment, at least of holding the majority against it down to a small figure. Even this latter possibility they admit has gone glimmering. Senator Raynor's letter, they privately admit, will increase by thousands the vote in the city against the amendment.

In fact, where Democrats gathered on Wednesday out-and-out organization men were heard to say that they would not bother at all with the amendment from now on, but would devote their attention to trying to save some of the candidates.

With the Raynor influence added to the ever-increasing army of independent Democrats who are opposing the amendment, the Democratic bosses know that their case is hopeless. That they realized the importance of this view of Senator Raynor's declaration as shown during the past few days about Democratic headquarters and at the Rennett. No county Democrat would discuss the letter, but all privately admitted the seriousness of the situation it had created.

With tremendous fire and force Senator Raynor denounces the measure and arraigns the party managers for what he declares to be a scheme that was conceived in fraud and which it is proposed to execute in iniquity. Solemnly protesting against the amendment as wholly bad and defying the organization leaders to cast him out of the party because of his refusal to support it he scathingly dissects the amendment and with vehemence declares: "The man does not live who can seal my lips on this issue."

Without directly mentioning the name of Senator Gorman, he makes an unmistakable attack upon him as the real force back of the amendment and vigorously asserts that its purpose is to perpetuate the waning fortunes of a political dynasty.

Extracts from Senator Raynor's argument will be found in The Courier's editorial columns.

Salisbury Vs. Seaford.

The lineup of Seaford and Salisbury football teams, which played in Salisbury yesterday, Friday, was as follows:

E. S. C. positions.	S. H. S. positions.
C. Hill left tackle	Houston
Smith left guard	Wright
Holloway center	Graham
Phillips right guard	Gilbert
Hastings right tackle	Williams
Sims right end	Hatfield
Richardson quarter back	McDaniel
Schuler right half back	Willey
G. Hill fullback	Covey

After the hard game with the Wilmington Conference Academy last week the boys had a chance to see every defect of team work and individual play and although the boys have been working hard the followers of the team are very doubtful of the outcome of the game, and realize that it must be by solid team work and that they must win by hard playing. It is reported the Seaford eleven is in fine shape and the team is very confident of winning.

The score was 12 to 5 in favor of Seaford.

REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING.

Prominent Speakers To Make Addresses in Salisbury Next Wednesday—Special Trains Will Be Run to Accommodate the Crowds.

A Republican mass meeting will be held in Ulman's Opera House, Salisbury, next Wednesday afternoon, at which some of the most prominent speakers in the State will make addresses. The meeting will begin promptly at 2 o'clock, and everybody is cordially invited to attend. There will be seats reserved for the ladies and their escorts and they are especially invited to be present.

Among the speakers on the occasion will be Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte, Secretary of the United States Navy; Congressman Sydney E. Mudd, and Hon. Henry M. Callough, the Republican nominee for State Comptroller. Local speakers will also address the crowd and arrangements will be made for an overflow meeting, in case there should not be accommodations for all who wish to get into the building. Prof. Kennerly's band will render selections during the intervals between the speeches.

A special train will be run over the B. O. & A. R., between Vienna and Berlin, to accommodate all from these sections who wish to attend. All lovers of liberty and free elections should come to the meeting and hear the Poe Amendment discussed.

"WHAT ARE THE WILD WAVES SAYING?"

"Uncle Josh" Sees Football.

(Communicated.)
When Uncle Josh was first seen Friday he was returning from the Athletic grounds surrounded by an admiring escort of "the oys." As the old man stroked his beard rapidly and his eyes sparkled, it was easy to see that he was laboring under some intense emotion and that the safety valve of his nature could not remain down long. His chance came, however, in a few minutes when one of the boys inquired: "what did you think of the game Uncle Josh?" And the pent up energy was fairly cooing out of his antiquated coat, leaking out of his cowhide boots and permeating the atmosphere around his slouch hat, of the vintage of '76, as he replied: "Well I swan! I never seed the like of that there football game since I been born, and me getting well on to a hundred. When Liza, that's my daughter, says to me the other day: 'Pa, there's goin' to be a foot-ball game in Salisbury Friday, I just loved that I'd see that game if it cost me a hundred dollars, for I been hearin' so much about foot-ball in the papers lately that I was just curious to see what one was like."

"So when Friday come I hitched up the old mare to the dearborn and started for Salisbury. Well sir! When I got to town, the first thing I seed was a lot of young fellers on the main st., gathered in a circle, and talk about a woman's rights meetin' amongst the heathens! Well sir, it wasn't no more near the fuss them fellers kicked up than apple cider's to old rye. The only thing I could make out was 'rah and ah' as I opined that they were referin' to my personal 'pearance. I naturally resented it, but one of the fellers he says 'come on Uncle and see thy game.' 'So the first thing I knowed I was to the grounds and the game had commenced. Well sir, dog-gone my cats if a feller lookin' like an ingun didn't kick something lookin' like a cross 'tween a pumpkin and a gourd, clean down the field and then they all run after it and one feller he grabs hold of the man what had the ball and another man he yelled 'down' and they put the ball on the ground and all squatted down about it."

"Till then I never knowed what 'roctin' of a foot ball game was. But the way them fellers tore up the sod was a terror." "Just then another feller grabs the ball and runs down the field and put 'the ball on the ground between two posts what looked like a gallows and then—well, I thought I knowed what hollerin' was. I been going to elections ever since I was a kid and once I went to a horse race, but I never heard the way those people hollered. And I hope I never may again."

"So after awhile when another feller done the same thing I ups and throws my hat in the air almost busts my lungs hollerin'. But one of the fellers, he catches hold of me and he says 'don't you know no better! That wasn't our side.' 'So I shets up tight as an oyster and nary a yell does I let out the rest of the game."

"Yes sir! But when I was a boy, when a feller wanted to fight another he never had no such actions as them boys. He jus' up and had it right or shet up."

"What I suppose times has changed."

And with a final stroke of his beard, the philosopher from Gum Tree Swamp passed on to other fields of appreciative listeners.

Sergeant Shockley Promoted.

The Police Commissioners of Baltimore, on Monday, appointed Round Sergeant J. J. Shockley, formerly of Salisbury, a Lieutenant, to succeed Lieutenant William B. Rowe, who will retire November 2d. Lieutenant Shockley has an excellent record, and is known as one of the most efficient officers of the Department. He was born on March 31, 1880, in Worcester county, and was appointed to the force on June 2, 1898, and was promoted to the round sergeantcy on August 16, 1901.

A Southern Statesman On The Negro Problem.

The following extracts from an address delivered by Judge E. H. Callaway, of Augusta, Ga., at Thompson, Ga., on July 4th, will be read with unusual interest. It is a hopeful sign that amid the narrow and prejudiced point of view with which this question is often discussed—an instance of which is the merciless and unreasonable tirade by Mr. Dixon in a recent number of the Saturday Evening Post—a Southern man of real statesmanship arises to speak for the better element of the Southern people. This Judge Callaway did on Independence-day in a most remarkable address. Among other things the learned Judge said:

"It is by no means true that all the Negroes are failures as farmers. Many of them own their own farms and stock make good crops, improve their places, display great thrift and industry, pay their debts promptly and make good citizens. Many of them make good tenants—the best we can get. There are many good Negro farm hands working the farm lands all over the South who are industrious, faithful, and easy to control."

"We are too apt to allow our impatience with one trifling Negro to cause us to make condemnatory speeches and remarks of the whole race, when, deep down in our hearts, we feel no such animosity. But it requires no courage to abuse the Negro, and we often do ourselves a great injustice by remaining silent and failing to challenge the flippant and wholesale abuse and denunciation which we sometimes hear from the lips of demagogues hurled at the whole Negro race. It is not because we endorse the unworthy sentiments, nor for lack of courage that we Southern people hold our tongues at such times, but rather that we rely upon the conservatism of our people not to be influenced by such people."

"I sometimes wonder what the better element of the Negroes must think of us and our sense of justice and right when we allow these speeches to go unchallenged, but with rare and only individual exceptions the occurrences provoke no visible resentment and our relations remain as before. I suppose they understand us, just as we understand them, for deep down in our hearts there is a kindly feeling between the Southern white man and the Southern Negro."

"It requires no high order of political courage or statesmanship to convert the much discussed Negro problem into a political issue, and call upon the white people of the State to disfranchise him, specially as the issue will be settled in an election where the Negro has little voice. It is not a proposition to disfranchise ignorance or crime, or the purchasable vote, but only the negro. It will be well for Georgians to carefully inquire into the purpose and wisdom of this agitation."

"No, the race problem with us is not a political one, nor one of social status but a tremendous labor problem, grave and seriously affecting and influencing the great movement for the industrial and agricultural development of our State. And its wise solution, so as to produce the best results for our State, is of vastly more importance than that aspiring statesmen should be elected to office to gratify their personal ambition. The agitation at this time is unfortunate. Whatever may be the final result, it will be construed by the Negro as a declaration of unfriendliness to his race. It will carry with it a stamp of unworthiness, and is hardly calculated to stimulate the Negro's esteem for the white man, or increase his confidence in his sense of fairness."

"If the Negro is to contribute his part to the industrial development of our State (and if he stays here, he must), he will necessarily have to get great help, instruction, and encouragement from the superior race. He must be taught how to farm intelligently, whether he works for wages, as a cropper, or a tenant, so that his labor may bring to him a competent living, and to his employer peace and profit. While he has many infirmities, he is easily controlled, quick to give his confidence in response to fair and just treatment, and is unusually responsive to kind and generous treatment. In fine, he is a human being, and has learned many of the infirmities of civilized human nature from his long association and business dealings with white people."

Fifth Anniversary Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Nock celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary last Tuesday evening at their home on Maryland Ave. The house was beautifully decorated with palms and cut flowers. The reception room was festooned in red and potted plants were used. In the dining room, where refreshments were served, was a table spread with every fruit of the season. In the centre of the table was a mound built of flowers and luscious fruit that reached to the ceiling. In the early part of the evening a very interesting guessing contest was indulged in, Mr. C. C. Banks winning the prize. Miss Elizabeth Abbott carried off the booby prize. Mr. and Mrs. Nock received many useful as well as beautiful presents.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hearn, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. White, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Murrell, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Birman, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Banks, Mrs. L. B. Gillis, Misses Elizabeth, Cora and Lillie Abbott, Misses Lettie and Nellie Leatherbury, Mrs. Ella Leonard, Miss Cora Turner, Miss Alice Kenly, Mr. James Mitchell, Sewell Fields, John Abbott and J. Walter Brewington.

Debt Paying at John Wesley Church.

Debt paying day at John Wesley M. E. church, colored, of this city was held Sunday. The pastor, Rev. J. H. Blake, has entered upon his duties and succeeded in gaining the confidence of his people and this was the greatest financial collection ever taken directly from the members of the congregation.

All of the floating debts against the church will be paid off and the church will enjoy the result of paying off these debts themselves, thus showing self help. Rev. E. E. Rodgers and Rev. I. H. White have delivered sermons to the congregation during the rally. The collection was in cash $348.09. The church is preparing to celebrate its 66th anniversary, on November 12th & 19th.

Active operations began Monday, the 9th instant, in the construction of the pier at Ocean City, giving employment to a great number of workmen. The beach in the neighborhood of the locality where the pier is being constructed is strewn with stout timbers, including hickory piles for the structure. The builders claim that hickory trees cut at the season of the year when the bark will remain is more durable than iron or steel in salt water. The building of the pier will be continued throughout the winter.

Caution!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think, how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists.

ELMER H. WALTON, Solicitor.

Order of Publication.

No. 1582 Chancery, in the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is that the said Daniel Leatherbury may procure a divorce a vinculo matrimonii from the said Mary Robbins Leatherbury, and obtain the guardianship and custody of the four minor children of said marriage, Charles, Mary Allen, Annie and Daniel Leatherbury.

The bill states that the said parties were married on the 21st day of November 1877, and that they lived together until the 15th day of August 1902; that though the conduct of the complainant towards the respondent has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the respondent without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted complainant, and declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that said separation and abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for at least three years, is deliberate and final and beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that there have been born to said parties, the following children, now living, William Henry, George, Charles, Mary Allen, Annie and Daniel Leatherbury, the last four of whom are infants under the age of twenty-one years.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 4th day of October, in the year nineteen hundred and five, by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, in Equity, ORDERED, that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Wicomico County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 6th day of November, nineteen hundred and five, give notice to the absent respondent of the object and substance of this bill, warning her to appear in person or by solicitor, in this Court on or before the 30th day of November next, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

CHAS. F. HOLLAND.

Charles Swift, said to be an oyster tongs hailing from Cambridge fell asleep in a shipping office in Baltimore Wednesday night and dreamed that his mother had died in the west, leaving him a legacy of $3,000. At the same time he dreamed that two brothers had robbed him of $1200 of the money. The dream was so vivid that he was convinced of its reality and set the police to look for the brothers.

John M. Simpers, condemned to be hanged for the murder of Albert Conable, Sr., was taken from the penitentiary in Baltimore to Elkton on Wednesday of this week to be executed on Friday, October 20. No petitions for executive clemency or commutation of sentence to life imprisonment have been circulated at Elkton and it is therefore presumed that the Governor will not interfere in the matter.

There was a meeting at the local chapel called by the minister to discuss the question of the repair of the building, which had been allowed to get into a bad state. Great hopes were entertained of the generosity of Brother Wagtopp, a local pork butcher, but some disappointment was felt when he only promised ten dollars. During the prayer which followed the proceedings a piece of plaster became detached from the ceiling and fell onto Wagtopp's head with a soft thud. More frightened than hurt that worthy jumped up and exclaimed, "Jerusalem! I'll give twenty five. The pastor, however, only paused in the devotion to add earnestly to the prayer, "Hit him again, Lord; hit him again."

PROTECTORS FOR COUNTRY HOMES.

Makes Them Safe As Town Houses And Puts Them In Touch With The World.

The approach of winter suggests various methods for making the country home more cheerful and convenient. Standing, by right of superiority, at the head of all devices that the brain of man has conceived to make life more livable is the telephone. A telephone in the home, be it ever so isolated, is conducive to the joy, pleasure and happiness of the mother, wife, sister and daughter, and is at the same time the greatest emergency helper for the father, husband, brother and son.

There are emergencies that come to every household that cannot be anticipated, but in almost all cases the telephone saves time, money and worry.

As a lady remarked the other day referring to the telephone, "there is my little helper. It calls the grocer, doctor and my acquaintances. But more and better than all it is my protector. I am often left alone but feel safe because I know that should I be disturbed a ring and a call will summon assistance. And the knowledge that one has a telephone in the house deters any vicious persons. It is more protection than an arsenal of revolvers. Every time I look at it I feel a sense of security, which of itself more than repays the cost."

These statements will apply to every home that has a telephone and the householder who fails to install a telephone is guilty of criminal negligence in failing to provide protection to his home. Every farm house on the Eastern Shore should have a telephone and the security that it gives the home folk is paid ten thousand times over for the small cost.

Letter to Salisbury Doctors.
Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sirs: For your house, no matter what's the matter with it—it isn't a human you know—a prescription: Devote lead-and-zinc. Apply with a brush, from one to three coats—get a painter to do it.

Seven state chemists know all about Devote; have analyzed it; report it pure; will analyze it occasionally. They buy it in the open market whenever they like.

You know what the color and dryer are for; do you know what the lead-and-zinc and oil are for? Not being a painter, you may not choose to know; but we'll tell you.

Lead-and-zinc and oil combine to form a rubbery waterproof coat to keep out dampness. That's the whole business.

The oil would do it alone; lead-and-oil would do it, without the zinc; zinc and oil without the lead; but the three together are best, because they wear best.

We say to you, "get a painter," as we'd say to him "get a doctor"—every man to his trade. Can't all be painters and doctors; don't want to.

You will be more successful in a prosperous looking house; and he in good health. Take good care of one another.

Yours truly,

The J. L. Tempest Co.

"The J. L. Tempest Dramatic Company opened a week's engagement in the Williamstown Opera House and presented one of their best plays, The Vagabond's Wife, to a big house. The play abounds in comedy and the scenery was beautiful. It was a four-act play and judging from the applause given each performer the play was highly appreciated. Miss Jennie Tempest, the leading lady in the title role, handled her part very cleverly and the audience was with her from the start. She portrayed the character of 'Leonie Uro' true to nature.

"The remainder of the Company is also strong and the specialties presented were unusually pleasing, dancing and singing being among the most enjoyable. It is one of the best Companies we have had in the city."

They will appear in Salisbury Monday Tuesday & Wednesday Oct 23, 24, & 25. Prices 15, 35, 35. Seats now on sale at Box office.

If you ever had any itchiness of the skin. You know how hard it is to shake it off.

You would like to know how to do it? Let a Salisbury man tell you. Read this statement that follows:

H. T. Parsons, tailor, residing at 103 Water St., says: "I had eczema or some skin trouble on my left leg which annoyed me off and on for the past three or four years. It would come on from no apparent cause and just as mysteriously disappear again about a week or two later, or sometimes a month or two. In warm weather or if I over-heated myself I was worse and I can only describe the itching as intense. Reading a paper one night I happened to see an advertisement about Doan's Ointment which influenced me to go to White & Leonard's drug store for a box. A few applications stopped the itching for I used nothing else and it disappeared. What is of much more importance to me, at the present time there is not a symptom of a recurrence."

For sale by all dealers, Price 50 cents. Foster-Milbourn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

A boon to travelers. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Cures dysentery, diarrhoea, seasickness, nausea. Pleasant to take. Acts promptly.

A druggist in Northwest Baltimore thinks he has discovered among his customers one of the most penurious men in the city. The druggist sells 100 quinine pills for 25 cents, and the man in question was among those who invested. Some time after he had left the store the customer returned and informed the druggist that there were only 96 pills in the bottle he had bought. The druggist handed out the four pills, but he is doubtful if they repaid the customer for the time and trouble he took to count the pills and walk several squares to the store and back.—Baltimore Sun.

Senator Isador Rayner's Argument Against The Poe Amendment.

We cannot do better, in offering argument against the Poe disfranchisement measure, than to reprint the denouncement of the law uttered by Senator Isador Rayner last Wednesday.

Senator Rayner's letter, in part, is as follows:

"I am utterly opposed to this amendment, with the strongest convictions of my life against the principles that it embodies, and I believe that its adoption would bind the chains of political slavery around this State, would sound the death knell of our political hopes and aspirations in Maryland, and would be as great a calamity as could possibly be inflicted upon our people. This is my deliberate judgment, for which no one else is in the slightest degree responsible. This is the prompting of my heart, the dictate of my conscience and the result of as patient an investigation as I have ever devoted to any matter that has fallen under my consideration.

THE REASONS THAT INFLUENCE ME.

Now let me give the reasons that have brought me to this conclusion. I want to give them plainly and briefly, so that they shall not only be understood by everyone in the community, but that the amendment itself and what it purports to do may be readily comprehended by the humblest citizen in our midst. I am aware of the fact that it has been explained over and over again and that its minutest details have been analyzed and brought to the attention of the electors of the State, but what I intend to do, if I can, is to reveal the cardinal iniquity that underlies and permeates its structure and that drives me with irresistible force to oppose it with all the highest purpose that ever actuated me in any undertaking of my life.

ITS OBNOXIOUS PROVISION.

Now what does this amendment do? It disfranchises every person and all their lineal male descendants forever who were not entitled to vote under the laws of this State or some other State on the first day of January, 1869, or prior thereto unless they are able to read any section of the Constitution of the State and give a reasonable explanation of the same; and, if unable to read, then to understand and give explanation thereof; the section so to be read, or to be explained, to be submitted to them by the officers of registration. IT DISFRANCHISES OVER THIRTY THOUSAND VOTERS IN THE CITY OF BALTIMORE IN THE DISCRETION OF THE REGISTRARS.

Is there any government upon the face of the civilized earth where the love of liberty prevails and where free institutions exist that sanctions such an exercise of despotic power? Just look at it for a moment and you will hardly be able to realize that anyone would have the hardihood to place before the popular suffrages of this State a proposition so utterly at war with our traditions and with every prerogative of our people since the earliest days of our history. This amendment, if we should be afflicted with the calamity of its adoption, would absolutely disfranchise in the city of Baltimore alone over 30,000 white voters, who, by their thrift, industry and enterprise, have contributed upon almost every avenue of commerce and of business to build up this great city and make it the metropolis that it is today. Under the Constitution of the State they have been entitled to vote at every election, and now, by one fell swoop, through no fault of their own, bearing the burdens of government, they are not to be allowed to participate in its privileges and are to be deprived of the rights of citizenship unless they are capable of explaining the Constitution to the satisfaction of the officers of registration. In Baltimore city, according to the last registration, there are about 18,000 negro voters, so that the person who ordered this amendment framed in order to disfranchise 18,000 negroes was perfectly willing to disfranchise at the same time over 30,000 white voters in Baltimore and their descendants for all the generations yet to come.

WHY WAS THIS DONE, AND WHO DID IT?

What is the answer to this. And why was this done, and who did it? The answer to it is one that unfortunately lays bare and exposes the fraudulent character of the scheme in all of its naked deformity. This answer is that the amendment was only intended to disfranchise the negro and that the registration officers will so frame their questions that the white vote will pass and the negro vote alone shall be excluded. What a subterfuge and falsehood this is! We know that, notwithstanding the promise that has been made in the platform, whenever a Legislature convenes sufficient in number to pass an act over a Governor's veto, or whenever we have a Governor that will not exercise the veto power, and there is a Constitutional majority in the Legislature, an enactment will be passed that will give the dominant party a majority of the registration board in each registration office. Does anyone mean to tell me that, when you have a partisan board of registers and confer upon them the power to put a Constitutional question to a German or Irish American citizen, or his descendant, of independent political proclivities that he cannot answer. This power will not be exercised in an overwhelming number of instances? Do the sponsors for this amendment mean to tell the people that its object and its purpose was to register and bring to the polls the men who are opposed to them? And then look for a moment at the infamy of this transaction that ought to bring the burning blush of shame to every honest party man in Maryland, that registers of voters, overwhelmingly illiterate as a rule, who have never read line of the Constitution and could not comprehend it if they did, have the right to take away the suffrages of thirty thousand citizens because they cannot answer questions that the registers themselves can neither understand nor answer.

IT PLACES THE DESTINIES OF THIS STATE IN THE HANDS OF AN AUTOCRACY.

This amendment, placing the election machinery in the hands of a political cabal, means death—political death—to every rising man in Maryland. It mows down the genius of her children. It blights and blasts our hopes, it closes forever the gates of a laudable ambition, it decimates the ranks of honor, it makes a man who desires to enter the public service a mendicant at the doors of political managers, it takes the heart and every vital function from the life of the party, it tramples upon the people and it corrupts and contaminates the elective franchise—the most sacred and valuable prerogative of American citizenship. It places in the hands of our political rulers the right to enfranchise whoever will bow his body or bend his neck to their authority and to disfranchise those who question and challenge their right to dominate our destinies. It will, if it is adopted, perpetuate them in power and convert the free institutions of this State, not into an oligarchy—because an oligarchy they have never been—but into an autocracy—that does not know what public opinion is and does not care; that never comes in contact with the people; that would pay not the slightest attention or regard to their wishes or petitions, and that would wield the same unlimited power and domination within the party councils as has ever been wielded by the most absolute despotism that trampled upon the liberties of the human race.

This amendment sets at naught the doctrines that we proclaimed amid the thunders of the Revolution and gives the lie to Banker Hill, Valley Forge and Saratoga. It does not provide in a single line or a word for educational test, and its sponsors and its defenders now boast that it never was intended to accomplish such a purpose. It has no definite standard by which it can be determined whether a man is literate or illiterate, but it absolutely places within the despotic power of one body of men, namely the registration officials of this State, the right to disfranchise at their unlimited discretion any white man—make no mistake, now; not negro, but any white man—who comes within the interdicted class as a punishment for the crime of not being born on American soil. And then, worse than all, with a spirit of insatiable revenge, it visits the sins of the forefathers upon their future generations to the remotest degree.

Legislative Nominees On The Oyster Question.

The Wicomico News challenges Mr. Samuel A. Langrall in their current issue to make a statement as to his views on the oyster question. We cannot answer for Mr. Langrall, but he will doubtless make such reply as seems to him to be fitting and necessary. We presume he stands on the platform adopted by the Republican Convention. This document fully and clearly sets forth the opposition of the Republican party in Wicomico county to the proposed Haman Bill and all similar legislation.

The Democratic platform has no pledges whatever on the oyster question. We have challenged Senator Brewington and the Democratic nominees for the legislature on two separate occasions to commit themselves, because we have, we think, very good reason to believe that they will favor the Haman law or some law embodying its principal features. Senator Brewington has dodged the question. The legislative nominees are silent on the matter. They stand convicted of the accusation we make until they come out in the open against the law.

The time has passed in Wicomico for candidates to say they "will do what is right." The right thing is what the people want. If the Democratic nominees are elected and the oyster interests sold out, the voters will have no person to blame but themselves.

Town Topics.

—Cold weather is coming. Wild geese are going South, so lookout for frost.

—Large line winter underwear just received and prices the lowest at Whiteley's.

—The Democrats will hold their mass meetings in Salisbury on Saturday October 28th.

—Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Truitt spent several days in the city last week purchasing holiday goods.

—Mr. Samuel Rea has been elected President of the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway to succeed the late S. M. Prevost.

—At the Division St. Baptist Church on Sunday the morning subject will be "My Debt to my Neighbor," in the evening at 7.30, "A Run-a-way Preacher."

—Do not fail to attend the Republican mass-meeting in Salisbury next Wednesday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. There will be no meeting in the evening.

—One of New York's leading merchant tailors will be at Lacy Thoroughgood's store next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 24, 25 and 26th. Wait for him.

—The B. C. & A. Ry. will run special trains to the Republican mass meeting next Wednesday and at the Democratic mass meeting next Saturday. For time and rates see posters.

—Mr. Benjamin J. D. Phillips, of Hebron has resigned his position in the Internal Revenue office, Baltimore, and returned to Hebron. Mr. Phillips' successor was appointed from the Civil Service list.

—The Eastern Shore College football team was defeated last Friday in its game here with the Wilmington Conference Academy team, of Dover, Del., by a score of 36 to 0. The game was well attended.

—The marriage of Miss Esther McKensie Judkins, formerly a resident of Salisbury, daughter of Rev. William Elliott Judkins, will take place in Norfolk, Va., on Wednesday, November 1st, to Rev. Samuel Roger Tyler.

—Todd's circus, a small aggregation travelling-in wagons, is giving exhibitions in Wicomico this week. It showed at White Haven on Tuesday and was visited by a large number of people in that neighborhood.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Young, of Pocomoke, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss May Morris Young, to Mr. Milton Leisy Veasy, also of Pocomoke. The wedding will take place late in November.

—Robbin's shows attracted a very large crowd to Salisbury last Saturday—the largest for a year or more. The tents were crowded at both performances. The exhibition was a very good one and everybody who saw the circus was highly pleased.

—Miss Mattie Slemons, daughter of Capt. Wm. Slemons, is sick in one of the Norfolk hospitals of typhoid fever. Miss Slemons went to Norfolk to make a trip with her father on the steamer he commands, but was taken ill and had to abandon the trip.

—A wild cat which escaped from a circus was killed on the outskirts of Crisfield this week by a crowd of men after putting up a game and fierce fight for life and liberty. The animal had been robbing chicken roosts for some days.

—A son of Rev. S. J. Smith was stricken with typhoid fever this week and is at the Peninsula General Hospital. Rev. Mr. Smith's daughter is also very ill. The afflicted family have the sympathy of the community and their many friends hope for the speedy recovery of the sufferers.

—The Democrats kicked up a great fuss in Cambridge last week and preferred charges against a Republican Registrar. The Election Supervisors refused to remove him. They reserved decision whether or not to continue him as judge at the election next month.

—Mr. John H. Farlow has on exhibition at his store near the N. Y. P. & N. R. R. depot a sweet potato that weighs 6 pounds and 6 ounces. It was grown by Mr. George R. W. Farlow, on East Church street, and it is claimed to be the champion heavy weight potato of the county.

—An "Old Hoss" sale of unclaimed Adams Express packages will be held today, Saturday, at Snow Hill. Mr. George H. Riell, of Salisbury, is the auctioneer. Very little of value is disposed of at these sales. There is usually a lot of fun, however, generally at the expense of the "other fellow."

—Mrs. C. T. Leviness, Jr., left Monday to open her home in Baltimore. She will be visited next week by her mother, Mrs. L. W. Dorman, who will take Mrs. Leviness' two baby sons to join their parents. Mrs. Dorman will remain in Baltimore several weeks.

—Mr. Elmer H. Walton is making extensive improvements to the Walton home on Park street. A new back building is being erected, a bath room built and several changes made in the interior of the house. Messrs. John W. Windsor and R. McKenney Price are the contractors.

—A new shirt factory is being built at Hebron by Dr. Conway. This makes three shirt factories in operation in this village. There is great demand for the garments made in these factories and constant employment for all the hands that can be secured. The large factory in Salisbury is rushed with orders.

—The improved order of Heptasoph's insurance policy for $3,000 held by the late Thomas F. J. Rider, which was involved by delayed payments during Mr. Rider's illness, has been compromised by the Order for $2,000, which sum was paid this week to Miss Mary Rider, Mr. Rider's daughter.

—The large gasoline tug recently bought by Mr. A. L. Wooten at Hampton, Va., is at F. A. Grier & Son's shops to have her engines overhauled. She is the largest gasoline boat on the river and will make about 12 miles per hour. She was used during the Spanish war as a dispatch boat in Cuban waters.

—The School Commissioners are having a brick wall built from Division street along the edge of the lake up to the new High School building. The lake shore will be walled up and a sidewalk laid. Mr. Lee Johnson has the contract. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $650.00. It will be a great improvement to the school.

—Providence permitting the pastor, Rev. S. J. Smith, will preach in the M. P. Church next Sunday at the usual hours upon the following themes: morning, "To Every Man His Work," evening, "Summoning Up in the Case of Daniel." The pastor will also lead the Young Peoples' meeting at 6.45 p. m., subject, "Sacred Songs that Have Helped." Sunday School 9.30 a. m.

—Mrs. Matilda Jackson, widow of the late John H. ("Stonewall") Jackson, died Monday at her home in Fruitland, aged about 78 years. Mrs. Jackson had been a resident of Fruitland since the beginning of the Civil War, and was a well-known figure in that place. The remains were buried at Allen Tuesday afternoon.

—Mrs. Nettie Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Disbaron of this city, died Monday in Philadelphia after an operation for appendicitis. Her remains were brought to Salisbury Tuesday, and funeral services were held in Trinity M. E. Church South Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. T. N. Potts, D. D. Interment was at Allen.

—An operation was performed on Monday at the Peninsula General Hospital by Dr. Hearn, of Philadelphia, assisted by local physicians, upon Mr. Lafayette P. Humphreys. Mr. Humphreys withstood the operation very well and is resting comfortably at the time of this writing. It was found that Mr. Humphreys' illness is caused largely by tuberculosis affection. His improvement is hoped for.

—Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Barnes, have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lena Alice Barnes, to Mr. Thomas Norman Tull, the ceremony to take place Tuesday, October 31st, in Antioch M. E. Church, Princess Anne. Mr. Tull is a resident of New York. Miss Barnes is a sister of Mrs. Upshur Polk, of Salisbury. She has frequently visited Salisbury and is well-known to the young society here.

—Mr. John S. Farlow received notice on Tuesday that his application for a patent on an air-brake coupling had been filed at the Patent office and he is therefore protected in his rights to the device. The coupling is automatic and exceedingly ingenious. It seems to meet the objections to the hand coupling now used and, according to Mr. Farlow, it works perfectly. He states that he has refused $5,000 for the rights and expects to sell it for a much larger sum, retaining an interest in the manufacture.

—A Cadillac automobile, driven by a representative of the National Biscuit Co., was in town Wednesday and Thursday. On its way in on Wednesday, a horse driven by Mr. Walter Williams was badly frightened by the machine and ran away, breaking the harness and smashing the buggy. Mr. Williams had gotten out to go to the horse's head and was therefore not injured. The driver was arrested on Thursday in Salisbury and fined $50 and costs, the total amounting to $53.00. Mr. Williams was paid $20.00 damages in addition to the above amount.

The Double Breasted Sack Suit Is The Thing.

Lacy Thoroughgood has the Swellest Double Breasted Sack Suits you ever saw. When you see a young fellow swinging along the streets on a crisp bright day without an Overcoat but looking as warm as toast, you'll admit that the Double-Breasted Sack he's wearing was invented for just such a chap—and he for it. Double-Breasted Sack is the warmest undercoat that can be worn, because of the double thickness across the chest. It broadens drooping shoulders, makes a small man look chesty, and shows off an athletic shape as no other coat will. The Double-Breasted Sack is one of the swellest things on the streets, but they must be made and cut right or they are worse than nothing. Lacy Thoroughgood has hundreds of Double-Breasted Suits that are cut and made right. We have them in Black, Blues, Greys, and almost every kind of mixture—quiet and breezy. Prices $10, $12.50, $15, and $18.

Pattern For Lady's Square Yoke Corset Cover by Martha Dean—No. 6337

The woman who fashions her own lingerie will appreciate a model so attractive and so practical as the design shown. The square yoke over the shoulders is made of one piece of embroidery, finished at the neck and arm edges with ribbon-run beading and lace. The body portion consists of a full gathered piece attached to the beading at the waist and overlapped at the top by the edge of the yoke embroidery. Whether much of little be spent in the development of this corset cover, it will be charming and easily made. The best of taste prefers fine material and little elaboration to overadornment and showy effects. White ribbon is to be preferred to any color in running beading for underwear, and the washable kinds save much time in removing and putting in again. Sizes, 22 to 42 inches bust.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING.
Send 10 cents to this office, give number of this pattern, No. 6337, and state size desired. It will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

Pattern For a Pretty Little Gown Designed by Martha Dean—No. 4684

What a revolution has taken place in the fashions for the little ones! Now everything in the mode world makes for simplicity and comfort. Formerly child nature, with its activities, was not considered, and fashion's vagaries in the past have cost children many an hour of discomfort; but this is the period of emancipation, and Dame Fashion has been compelled to progress with the times. Now all is comfort, freedom, daintiness and smiles. Among the most becoming and simple of modes is the Russian dress. This one is made with three box plaits in front and back and closes under the center front plait. Almost any of the washable materials not too thin can be used in developing this design. A very attractive gown was made of white cotton voile, with collar and cuffs of many colored embroidery in cross stitch design, the upper edge of the hem being held in place by a similar design. Another of dark blue linen, with collar and cuffs of ecru embroidery, was dainty, yet would stand good wear between washings. The heavier materials, such as serge and challis, are always suitable to such designs. Sizes, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 12 years.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING
Send 10 cents to this office, give number of this pattern, No. 4684, and state size desired. It will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

Patterns For a Modish Coat Suit Designed by Martha Dean—Nos. 6508 and 6509

The charm of wearing good looking clothes is increased twofold when one feels that her frock is not only of good style, but individual—that she will not meet its duplicate anywhere. "Store" gowns are not always poorly made, nor are they sure to be of inferior material, but they are apt to be a part of a vast family of similar if not identical styles. The suit portrayed is of especial worth because its design is novel. The coat fastens in double breasted style over the chest, the part below being cut away to reveal a full tucked vest. A narrow stitched belt girdles the jacket and passes through the fronts to finish the vest with a point. Narrow plaits in front and back give lines to the figure. The skirt is the very modish circular model, having narrow lengthwise tucks at the top and a circular flange, attached at the stitching of the faced lower edge. The design is one that lends itself readily to home construction and that the woman of ready fingers need not fear to undertake. Any seasonable suiting may be used, linen, rajah, taffeta or broadcloth being much favored. No. 6508 in six sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure; No. 6509 in sizes 20 to 30 inches waist measure.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING
Send 20 cents to this office, give numbers of these patterns, Nos. 6508 and 6509, and state sizes desired. They will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Or either of the patterns will be sent for 10 cents. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

Pattern For a Pretty Eton Suit For a Girl by Martha Dean—No. 4681

What a pleasure it is to fashion frocks for the young girl, and especially so when the garment is of attractive design! The simple grace of youth seems made for dainty apparel, and every young girl should have frocks which are at least becoming. One of the prettiest of the new Eton suits is shown here as a suggestion for the mother who makes her daughter's clothes. It consists of Eton coat and skirt. The coat has the broad youthful sailor collar and its edges finished with braid or a cut design of material in the same or a contrasting color. The sleeve is the neat leg o' mutton, stitched near the wrist edge. The skirt fits smoothly about the top, closes in an inverted box plait in back and flares gracefully at the bottom. The Eton is especially suitable to a girl, as it is easily put on and off and defines the waist line. Any of the new fabrics may be used, serge, chevot, voile, homespun or panama cloth, as well as linen or rajah. It is very simple to make, and the most inexperienced dressmaker need not hesitate to undertake it. Eight sizes, 6 to 14 years.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING
Send 10 cents to this office, give number of this pattern, No. 4681, and state size desired. It will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

AMENDMENTS ON THE BALLOT.

Attorney General Bryan Says Full Text Must Be Printed On The Ticket—Governor Warfield So Instructs Supervisors.

The Supervisors of elections in Wicomico county, along with the other Supervisors throughout the State, have received a letter of instruction from Governor Warfield, through his Secretary of State, Col. Oswald Tilghman, detailing the manner in which the ballot should be printed this year. According to these instructions, the full text of the two proposed amendments to the Constitution must be printed on the ticket. One of these is the Poe law limiting the franchise; the other is the law aiding good roads.

This latter amendment has been declared unnecessary by the Court of Appeals. Therefore both amendments should be voted against.

Accompanying Governor Warfield's instructions to the Supervisors was an opinion in printed form, from Attorney General Bryan, which the Governor instructs shall be adhered to, declaring that the full text of the amendments must go on the ballot. The supervisors in Wicomico will follow the instructions and therefore the ticket will be comparatively an easy one to vote.

We are informed by the Supervisors that the text of the amendments, with their necessary space in which the marks are to be made by the voters, will follow the ticket proper, in parallel columns. This arrangement greatly simplifies the arrangement of the ticket and no voter should have any trouble in marking it correctly.

The Democrats are very disgruntled over the instructions issued by Governor Warfield and realize that it will operate very materially against their hope of winning out on the Disfranchisement measure. It means a much less complicated ballot, as the long columns of print will distinguish the amendments from the balance of the ticket. It will be comparatively an easy matter, now, to instruct the illiterate's just how and where to make his marks. It is a body blow to the Democratic schemers.

The Democratic managers had relied upon a jumble of the names of candidates and of the two amendments to bring such confusion on election day that thousands of ballots, especially in the counties, would be inaccurately marked and thrown out. In the so-called Wilson counties, in which names of candidates without party designations will be used, the jumble was expected to result in such wholesale rejection of ballots that the majority conceded in Baltimore against the Poe amendment would be overcome.

In fact, in drafting the Wilson law provision was made for placing the two lines "For constitutional amendment," though they must appear together, between two sets of names of candidates for different offices. As there are two amendments to be voted upon, there would thus appear two sets of lines devoted to the amendment. In order to distinguish between the disfranchising and the good roads amendment the former was called "Constitutional Amendment," and the latter "The Constitutional Amendment."

The instructions issued by Governor Warfield cannot be violated, according to an eminent authority, without violating the law. If the Supervisors should refuse to publish the texts of the amendment on the official ballot, the election might be declared to be void. Certainly if the law is violated the Governor would be deterred from proclaiming either of the amendments, or both, if the returns should show their approval.

Attorney General Bryan's opinion, on the point above referred to, was as follows:

"These two amendments shall be placed on the ballots in such order as the supervisors, in their discretion, may determine."

"The ballot as to each amendment, should contain the words 'Constitutional Amendment,' and then the chapter of the bill passed in 1904 containing the amendment, and underneath the texts of the amendment. Underneath the text of each amendment, in separate parallel columns, should be printed: 'For Constitutional Amendment' and 'Against Constitutional Amendment,' with a space opposite each parallel column, in which the voter, by a cross mark, can clearly indicate whether he wishes to vote for or against the proposed amendment."

SEC. BONAPARTE'S SPEECH.

In His Salisbury Address He Makes The Intention Of The Poe Amendment Perfectly Plain.

Secretary of the Navy Charles J. Bonaparte disappointed a few people in Salisbury—mostly Democrats—on Wednesday, because he did not make a spread-eagle speech, tearing his hair and gesticulating in the approved demagogic style. But Mr. Bonaparte is not that kind of a speaker. He talks in a conversational tone and any gestures he makes are but slight and are used to emphasize any particular point he wishes to impress upon his hearers. He talks very deliberately, even slowly, and enunciates every word and syllable with clearness. His attitudes are peculiar, noticeably so to Baltimore audiences, where he has frequently been heard.

It is not the way Mr. Bonaparte says a thing, it is what he says. He is, as a prominent Marylander recently remarked, "a word-cartoonist." He draws, in words, pictures that would put McKee Barclay, the celebrated cartoonist of the Baltimore News, to shame.

While not at his best in Salisbury perhaps, Mr. Bonaparte greatly impressed his audience. At times, one could have heard a pin drop in the hall while he was speaking. He spoke for about 45 minutes and it seemed as though he had been talking about 10 when he took his seat.

The meeting was held in Ulman's Opera House Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was attended by an audience of representative people that comfortably filled the room. The crowd was very quiet and orderly and were evidently there to hear the issues discussed, and not to applaud hysterical outbursts of so-called "oratory." In addition to Mr. Bonaparte, Mr. Henry M. McCulloch, Republican Candidate for State Comptroller, and Mr. Walter B. Miller made addresses. The presiding officer was Mr. E. S. Adkins and on the stage were a number of prominent Republicans, including Hon. William H. Jackson. While in town the speakers were the guest of Congressman Jackson.

They left at 8:30 o'clock on a special train for Oriskany, escorted by Hon. A. Lincoln Dryden and Senator L. E. F. Dennis. Mr. Bonaparte said in part: "The Poe amendment means in a very few words that the board of registration shall let any man vote if it wishes him to vote and keep any man from voting if it does not wish him to vote. [Applause.] That is the long and short of it, the thick and thin of it. I know that according to what it says, a man who votes now and who has himself voted 35 years ago or whose father or grandfather was then a voter, ought to be allowed to vote, whether he can or not pass a civil-service examination by telling what catch passages in the Constitution mean with those learned professors in constitutional law whom the Democratic ring will make officers of registration, to mark him. But these same officers must decide as judges whether his father or his grandfather did in fact vote in 1869; and if he be a man whose vote, if he gets one, will belong to himself and not belong to the ring, they will decide against his grandfather's right to vote just as readily as they would against his own."

"The Poe amendment means in a very few words that the board of registration shall let any man vote if it wishes him to vote and keep any man from voting if it does not wish him to vote. [Applause.] That is the long and short of it, the thick and thin of it. I know that according to what it says, a man who votes now and who has himself voted 35 years ago or whose father or grandfather was then a voter, ought to be allowed to vote, whether he can or not pass a civil-service examination by telling what catch passages in the Constitution mean with those learned professors in constitutional law whom the Democratic ring will make officers of registration, to mark him. But these same officers must decide as judges whether his father or his grandfather did in fact vote in 1869; and if he be a man whose vote, if he gets one, will belong to himself and not belong to the ring, they will decide against his grandfather's right to vote just as readily as they would against his own."

SOUTHERN NEGROES IN MARYLAND. "The truth of what I say is illustrated by a singular circumstance which is noted in the Republican platform, but has attracted but little attention. Democratic orators are foaming at the mouth just now while they roar out the horrors which will happen to us if we do not keep away hordes of Southern negroes who are coming in crowds to Maryland, because they can't vote in the States where they live and can vote here."

"Of course, all of this talk is false and perfectly well known to be false by the men who utter it, but it is a noteworthy fact that if anybody in his sober senses, Democrat or Republican, white or black, native or foreign born, could believe for one moment that the Poe amendment would be administered honestly and impartially the amendment itself won't produce precisely the result which causes these men these convulsions."

"On January 1, 1890, the colored men of at least seven Southern States—North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Arkansas and Louisiana—were entitled to vote, and voted in fact, although those in Maryland did not. The Poe amendment in truth gives on its face negroes not born in Maryland, or the great majority of them, a privileged position with respect not only to our own colored citizens, but to foreignborn white men, and it is only because as every one knows, that fraud, perjury and injustice will be permanent and essential features of its enforcement this fact has awakened so little interest. Substantially then the officers of registration will do as they please in allowing one man to vote and shutting out his neighbor from the ballot box."

CIRCUMVENTING THE XV AMENDMENT.

"Republicans, Prohibitionists or Independent Democrats, Mugwumps or even the man who bucks at the primaries, in fact, all who refuse to be owned, will be affected."

OPPOSED TO HAMAN BILL.

Mr. S. A. Langrall Makes Positive Statement Of His Position On The Proposed Oyster Legislation.

Messrs. Editors:—In reply to the challenge of Senator Marion Brewington published in his paper—the Wicomico News, two weeks ago, as to my position on the oyster question, I wish you to say through your columns, that I stand absolutely and without equivocation upon the platform adopted by the Republican County Convention, at the time I was nominated.

I am absolutely and unequivocally opposed to the Haman Bill or any bill embodying its provisions. If elected I will vote against any such measure that comes before the House of Delegates. It is true that I am largely interested in oyster planting and in dredging and selling oysters. At the same time, I endeavor to pay all my men the highest market price for their labor and treat them with liberality. I am in the business the same as others are and in the same manner that any man may engage in it if they see fit to enter into it. I ENJOY NO SPECIAL PRIVILEGES AND SEEK NONE.

My position is well-known to the people of this district, where I reside and do business. Fearing that perhaps others in the county by whom I am not so well known might be misled by the implied charge of the Wicomico News, I make this statement. Otherwise it would not be necessary for me to take any notice of same. Hoping that you can find room in your paper this week for this letter, I remain,

Yours Respectfully,
S. A. Langrall.

Ex-Gov. Whyte Against The Poe Amendment.

Former Governor William Pickney Whyte on Wednesday came out flatly against the Poe suffrage Amendment.

Mr. Whyte stated that the time for his appearance on the hustings, has long passed, on account of his advanced age. He said further:

"In private conversation I have had no hesitancy in stating my objection to the Poe amendment to the Constitution, which is now before the people, and my determination to vote against its adoption but I have persistently refused to make public addresses on the subject, although pressed by personal friends in interviews and by letter to do so."

"The organic law of a state is supposed to be made by the people themselves, and not by legislative assembly and especially in regard to that part of the Constitution relating to the elective franchise the language used in its framework must clearly declare the sense in which the people understood it. It should not be capable of a double meaning. The vote of the citizen upon this amendment should be guided by his own conscience and not by the dictates of anyone. My conduct shall be based upon this view of duty. I am in favor of the election of the Democratic candidates, and they shall receive my personal support."

The advocates of the amendment say it will please the registers to allow all white men to vote and allow no black men. Are they telling the truth?

Let us remember that every officer of registration who will administer the Poe amendment, if it be adopted, and every member of the Legislature who voted for its adoption was, or will be bound by oath to obey and uphold the Constitution of the United States. A pamphlet which I hold in my hand issued by the Democratic organization, says the only way to disfranchise the negro is by circumventing the Fifteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution. It proceeds to point out that the Poe Amendment is a suitable means to circumvent the Constitution, which those who devised the amendment and those who will exercise the exorbitant powers it confers are like bound by oath to faithfully obey and support. Now, I do not ask you whether this be right: I have said very plainly what I think on that question heretofore, and I may possibly have occasion to say what I think on it hereafter. Just now, however, the right or wrong of the thing need not trouble us; but I do ask whether any sane or sensible white man will trust a matter so vital to his liberty, and trust again forever, and with no remedy if his trust be abused, to the bare word of those who think systematic and premeditated perjury justifiable and even laudable means to attain the end in view? They tell us their oaths are mere tinted air, and yet in the same breath ask us to hold their empty promises sacred. Do they deem the people of Maryland a community of congenial idiots even if there were no questions or broken oaths? Fellow citizens would you confide in the honesty of a man who told you that he had stolen and proposed to steal from black men, but would scrupulously respect your goods? Not unless you were fools, and whatever may be thought by the amendment apologists, I do not believe the white men of Maryland are fools."

THE MILES-RAYNOR EMBROGLIO

The Liberty Of Marylanders Is Being Fought Over And Dragged Into The Mire By Democrats.

It is not a very pretty picture that is presented to the people of Maryland by the Raynor - Miles - Gorman - Poe embroglio. They are fighting over the liberty of Marylanders moreover, which makes the spectacle all the more degrading.

Everybody in the State, very likely, has read Senator Raynor's arraignment last week of the Gorman machine, of which Poe and Miles are a part; and the savage attack upon Mr. Raynor's integrity that was made by Mr. Miles the first of this week is probably as familiar. Mr. Raynor retorts by calling Mr. Miles in polite language, a liar. Mr. Poe denies the allegations made by Mr. Raynor and defies him to defend them.

This washing of dirty linen by these leading lights that shine in Democracy's watch tower will illuminate to the voters generally, many things that the Democratic organization usually keep in the shadow, away from the gaze of ordinary men from whom they gain their strength and power. It is to be hoped that one result will be to extinguish their luminescence at least for some time to come.

In a few words, the charge Mr. Miles made against Mr. Raynor was that, during the Senatorial contest at the last Legislature, Mr. Raynor offered to support the Poe amendment if certain people would vote for him; Raynor, for United States Senator; and that now Mr. Raynor had turned against the amendment because it was not accepted. Of course Mr. Raynor won anyway, and Mr. Miles thought he should "be a Democrat" and help out the ring in its plans.

Mr. Raynor says he did not, say so, and that he has never, at any time or place, uttered one word in favor of the measure.

The burden of proof seems to be on Mr. Miles. Very probably he will produce corroborative evidence. But in any event it looks like a "falling out of thieves, in which 'honest men will get their due.'"

SHELLS FOR COUNTY ROADS.

The County Commissioners Authorize Their Purchase For Repairs And New Roads.

The County Commissioners on Tuesday authorized Mr. Levin W. Dorman to purchase shells for the county roads, to pay 4½ cents per bushel for any that are to be used for repairs on existing roads, and 8 cents per bushel for those that are to be used on "new" roads. Under this arrangement any additional roads that are shelled, the work will be done partly by the property owners and partly by the county. The property owners must pay all cost of the shells over 8 cents and put them on the road, doing, in addition, all grading.

It is Mr. Dorman's expectation to buy, under this agreement, at least 50,000 bushels of shells. The Spring Hill road will be shelled as far as Mr. Elijah Adkins' farm and all existing shell roads will be repaired. It is probable, also, that other roads will be shelled, as if the property owners will do their half of the work, the opportunity will be offered them.

The Commissioners transacted considerable business on Tuesday. Mr. Disharoon was present, the first time for several months. Among other things, they further considered the matter of placing a metal ceiling in the Court House. A representative of the Wheeling Corrugating Co., of Philadelphia, was before them in reference to it but, final action was postponed until a later meeting.

A NERVOY WOMAN.

Prompt Action Recovers Stolen Property—Phone Saves Homes.

On Sunday evening Mrs. Horace Hood, 303 Lenox St., New York, returned to her apartments and knew by external appearances that the house had been robbed. She rushed to the telephone, phoned her husband, who phoned Police Headquarters, which phoned the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street police station. Detective Sergeants Riley, Kear and Callan were there and hurried to Mrs. Hood's apartments. She had been robbed of $500 worth of silverware, cut glass and clothing. The officer caught Mulcaire and recovered Mrs. Hood's property.

Zealia, Mo., Oct. 12th.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lawrence five miles South of this place left home to visit this city. When one mile from home they were informed by a neighbor that an out building on their property was on fire. He had been notified over the telephone by a servant who had been left in charge of the premises.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence at once returned to their home and succeeded in extinguishing flames before the communication with the house. This is the third instance in Prentice County within a short time, in which the use of the telephone has averted serious catastrophes and the farmers of this and adjoining counties are having hundreds of phones installed in their homes.

What's in McClure's.

The November McClure's begins new volume with the opening chapters of two great new series and a big Kipling story, which promise the magazine's continuance as torch-bearer in public affairs and the leader of excellence in present day literature. In this number Carl Schurz begins his "Reminiscences, the life story of a patriot-soldier-statesman-author, a fighting idealist who never compromised with his conscience.

Ray Stannard Baker, with "The Railroad Rate," opens his series of articles on the greatest national perplexity, the outcome of more than a year's digging into the most difficult subject American voters have ever had to master.

Last of the "articles" in November is the second half of Charles F. Lummis's breezy story "Pioneer Transportation in America," the epic of the heroic age of travel which waited till now for a writer. Kipling's most remarkable story is "With the Night Mail" in which he projects his wonderful imagination into the twenty-first century and takes a thrilling air-ship flight from London to Quebec. He has invented a new world of mechanics and found strange highways in the sky, which are pictured in color by Reuter Dahl. In passing he glimpses a transformed earth so vividly real that it is hard to wake up to the fact that Utopia does not exist.

Another story in this number that stands strongly out is the "Last Love Feast," a tale of the French Commune which focuses in a terrible, brief, dramatic moment every human passion. It is splendidly illustrated by Castaigne.

Fittingly following this piece of fiction is "The Lottery of Death," a true story of the Civil War's most appalling episode.

In sharp contrast to all this stress of emotion is "An Eye for an Eye," a dainty little tale of hot blood and young hearts told in sweet patois of the Louisiana Cajan. There are besides stories by Samuel Hopkins Adams, Mrs. Wilson Woodrow, Jean Webster and others.

Order of Publication.

Daniel Leatherbury vs. Mary Robbins Leatherbury.
No. 1582 Chancery, in the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is that the said Daniel Leatherbury may procure a divorce, a vinculo matrimonii from the said Mary Robbins Leatherbury, and obtain the guardianship and custody of the four minor children of said marriage, Charles, Mary Allen, Annie and Daniel Leatherbury.
The bill states that the said parties were married on the 21st day of November 1877, and that they lived together until the 15th day of August 1902; that though the conduct of the complainant towards the respondent has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the respondent without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted complainant, and declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that said separation and abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for at least three years, is deliberate and final and beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that there have been born to said parties, the following children now living, William Henry, George, Charles, Mary Allen, Annie and Daniel Leatherbury, the last four of whom are infants under the age of twenty-one years.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 4th day of October, in the year nineteen hundred and five, by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, in Equity, ORDERED, that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Wicomico County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 6th day of November, nineteen hundred and five, give notice to the absent respondent of the object and substance of this bill, warning her to appear in person or by solicitor, in this Court on or before the 30th day of November next, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

If you should die before the lot is paid for it will be deeded at once to your wife, husband, mother, father or child without further payment. A few more on these easy terms and the opportunity will be closed.

A five room house 1/2 mile from town with one acre, $600; with 15 acres, $1100.

A four room house adjoining above, one acre $500, house nearly new.

A house and large lot in Camden, $500.

A 14 acre truck lot in high state of cultivation, adjoining town, for $2500. Will soon be worth double this amount for building purposes.

One 8 acre lot, Camden St., extended, $1500. A very desirable location for a nice suburban home.

A nice little farm of 50 acres 1 1/2 miles from Salisbury at $30.00 per acre. No buildings. Will sell all or as little as 10 acres, same price.

Another farm adjoining above, 25 acres at $40.00 per acre, no buildings.

One farm near Princess Anne. 70 acres in high state of cultivation, about 80 acres valuable meadow, no dwelling. $4000. This is a bargain.

Another farm near Princess Anne. Adjoining above, about 280 acres, about 100 in cultivation, balance in thrifty young timber, would cut about 2000 cords wood now, no buildings, price only $6000.

Any person interested in any of above and can pay 25 to 50 per cent. down can arrange easy terms for balance, for further information call on or write.

Horner, rendered a verdict of accidental death.

The oyster situation at Rock Hall is becoming a serious matter. Rock Hall, Kent County, is dependent almost entirely upon this industry, and anything that touches upon its life is carefully watched. That the industry is waning is not denied by the most enthusiastic watermen. In 1902 at that time 750 oyster licenses were issued; in 1903 there were 687; in 1904 there were 570, and now in 1905 up to this time there have been 524, thus showing a gradual decrease in men engaged in tonging.

A carload of hay on its way to Virginia was discovered to be on fire as the train passed by Princess Anne Tuesday evening last. The hay was loaded in a cattle car, and the car was the second one from the engine, and it is supposed that a spark from the locomotive set fire to the hay.

A story is told of a colored preacher who was holding a meeting in a large tobacco barn in a rural district in Kentucky. An empty tobacco hoghead was pressed into the service as an elevation upon which to stand while delivering his discourse. Warming up with his subject, he soon became excited. Throwing his arms into the air above his head, and elevating one foot, he exclaimed: "De righteous shall rise and be dicked shall fall." At the word "fall" he brought his foot down vehemently upon the head of the hoghead, and like a flash it gave way, and he dropped out of sight, being short of statute. Amid the peremptory uproar he reached up and grasped the chime of the barrel and drew himself into view, shouting, "Bress God, dey shall rise again."

The "Worthington" Amendment.

We print herewith, the so-called Worthington Amendment, about which so much has been said in connection with the Poe measure, now presented to the people.

Every such male citizen of the United States having the above prescribed qualifications of age and residence shall be entitled to be registered so as to become a qualified voter if he be—

First—A person who, on or before the first day of January, 1868, was entitled to vote under the laws of this State or of any other State of the United States wherein he then resided, at a State election held therein; or,

Second—Any male lineal descendant of such last-mentioned person; or,

Third—Any foreign-born citizen of the United States who has been naturalized between the first day of January, 1868, and the date of adoption of this section of this article; or,

Fourth—Any male lineal descendant of such last-mentioned person; or,

Fifth—Any person who is the bona fide possessor of assessable property to the amount of $400, upon which property he has been legally and bona fide assessed upon the tax books of any county or city of this State for two years preceding the time at which he applies for registration, and who has paid taxes thereon for the said two years preceding the time at which he applies for registration.

No person not thus qualified by coming under some one of the above descriptions shall be entitled to be registered as a qualified voter, nor be entitled to vote.

The provisions of this amendment are worthy of careful comparison with the law the people are asked to adopt. If it had been passed by the Legislature, none of the objections raised against the Poe law would have held good. It (the Worthington Amendment), was approved by Governor Warfield, Attorney General Bryan and all the long list of honest Democrats who are now in active opposition to their party.

The Gorman Democrats are not sincere in their reiterated statements that their desire is "to disfranchise negroes and preserve to every white man his suffrage."

If they were, they would have adopted the Worthington law. Their hope was and is, to intrench themselves in power by control of the registration books.

The Worthington law bases a man's right to vote on an established fact, and does not place him at the mercy of Judges of election. It preserved to independents their right to their ballot. This is where the shoe pinched the Gormanites.

As Secretary Bonaparte so aptly said on Wednesday: "When a man tells me he is a pickpocket, but only steals from negroes, I am careful, nevertheless, to keep my own pockets tightly closed against his fingers."

Support For The Haman Bill.

Elsewhere we print a letter from Mr. S. A. Langrall stating his position on the Haman Oyster Bill or a similar measure. It speaks for itself and requires no comment from us. Mr. Langrall is, as we supposed, unqualifiedly opposed to any law that infringes on the rights of the oysterman, notwithstanding the fact that he is engaged in oyster-planting.

It strikes us as a little peculiar and as being decidedly suspicious, that Senator Brewington and the Democratic nominees for the Legislature persistently dodge the issue of the Haman Bill. It is not what you have done in the past, Senator Brewington, that the people want to know. It is what you will do in the future.

It is reported upon the very best of authority, that the Baltimore Sun, lawyer Haman and the interests he represents, and Senator Gorman, have entered into a "deal" whereby the Sun and Haman support the Poe Amendment (or do nothing against it), if Gorman delivers so many votes in the Senate and House in favor of the Haman law.

How about Wicomico's vote in the event that the above is a fact? The oystermen have, as yet, no assurance that it is not included in the understanding.

The Democratic platform should have taken a stand on the oyster question and, failing this, the candidates should make their intentions plain. "Those who are not for you are agin' you." The oystermen should bear this in mind, when casting their votes two weeks hence.

Death Of Mr. L. P. Humphreys.

The funeral service of Mr. Lafayette P. Humphreys, who died Tuesday afternoon at the Peninsula General Hospital, took place Thursday afternoon from the residence of his brother, Dr. Eugene W. Humphreys. Rev. David Howard conducted the service and the pallbearers were Mr. Levin W. Dorman, Mr. E. Stanley Toadvin, Mr. W. S. Gordy, Sr., Mr. Thomas H. Williams, Mr. Gustavus W. White and Mr. Oscar Freney. The interment was in Parsons Cemetery. There was a large attendance of Mr. Humphreys' many friends, to pay their last respects to his memory, and the floral tributes were very beautiful and numerous.

Mr. Humphreys was 61 years of age and was a son of the late Gen. Humphrey Humphreys. He graduated from Princeton College in 1860 and several years later was assistant principal of the Salisbury Academy under the late E. G. Polk. He was also school Examiner of Wicomico county for four years and in April, 1876, was appointed deputy under S. P. Toadvin, Clerk of the Circuit Court for Wicomico County. This position he held until January 1, 1881. For the last eight or ten years Mr. Humphreys had been one of the bookkeepers in the Salisbury National Bank, a position he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Humphreys was twice married. His first wife was Miss Lizzie Wallis, sister of the late Ebenezer Wallis, who died in January, 1872. In July, 1873, he married Miss Annie Hooper, who died in September, 1902. From this last union one son survives, Mr. L. Gordon Hooper. He is also survived by two brothers—Dr. Eugene W. Humphreys of Salisbury, and Randolph Humphreys, of Portsmouth, Va.

READY FOR HALLOWEEN?

October 31 is Witches' Night, When The Brave Are Given A Peep Into The Future.

Next Tuesday evening, October 31st, is Halloween, the night when witches and goblins walk and when the brave are given a look into the future. Invitations to a number of parties in celebration of the anniversary have been sent out in Salisbury, and at the new High School an entertainment will be given by the teachers. At these, all the time hallowed tests by which the future is read will be made, and many clever ways to amuse the guests devised.

For the person who is looking for ideas in the way of entertainment here are some of the ancient customs which are part of Halloween frolics nowadays:

If a girl wants to see the face of her future husband she must take at midnight a lighted candle and a mirror and walk upstairs backward, counting the strands of her hair as she goes. At the top of the stair she must peer into a mirror, and over her left shoulder will appear the face of her fate. If a favored young man is clever, with a little ingenuity, he may realize fate by a reflection in the mirror.

Apples and all fruits of harvest time have a conspicuous part on Halloween celebrations, due probably to the season of the year during which the day falls. "Naming apples" is another old custom. An apple is selected and named for the best-loved ones, the seeds are saved and counted and the state of the loved ones feelings are discovered after the following formula:

One I love, two I love,
Three I love, I say,
Four I love with all my heart,
And five I cast away.

Six she loves, seven he loves,
Eight both love;
Nine he comes ten he carries.

Eleven engaged, and twelve he marries. Bobbing for apples is a universal custom among young people, and it is well to make this a means of divining the future by arranging two tubs, one for the lads and one for the lasses, and filling them with floating apples into which names of the members of the opposite sex have been inserted on little slips of paper. The name contained in the apple secured by a participant in the sport will be that of the future wife or husband.

And the custom of burning nuts which have previously been "named" is as old and universal as that of bobbing for apples. If the nuts burn steadily side by side, it is a good omen that the love of their namesakes will run smoothly, but if one cracks and flies away, strife and discord will be sure to arise.

The initial of the possible "he" or "she" may be ascertained by paring an apple carefully whirling the peel around three times over the head and throwing it over the shoulder while repeating:

By this magic paring I wish to discover.
The first letter of the name of my true lover.

Another pretty custom is that of ships of fate, which are made of the hollow shell of an English walnut into which a small candle is fastened by melting the end of the wax taper. It takes three such boats to determine a fate. One is plainly marked with the owner's name; the other two contain folded slips of paper, with the name of an admirer inscribed on each. The candles are lit, and the three boats are then placed side by side in a tub of water. It is a pretty sight to watch these tiny barks, especially if several fleets are launched at the same time, for the interest deepens if one boat veers off and attaches itself to another barge. The admirer whose candle burns longest is supposed to be the lucky swain, while if the maiden's candle burns out first she will never marry. If the boat lack life a small breeze is created by gentle fanning.

Covington—Upshur.

The marriage of Miss Priscilla Upshur and Mr. Henry F. Covington took place Wednesday of this week at Blue Ridge Summit, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Edmund Hardcastle.

The bride's only attendant was her little sister, Miss Emily Franklin Upshur. Mr. George B. Covington, of New York, brother of the groom was best man. The ushers were Mr. E. King Wilson, of Snow Hill; Dr. John M. Bishop, of Baltimore; Mr. William Kelly Prentice and Mr. Howard Crosby Butler, of Princeton, N. J.

A large number of persons were present at the wedding from Baltimore, Princeton, New York and Snow Hill. A wedding breakfast was served at Idle Hour, Colonel Upshur's summer home at Blue Ridge, for relatives and intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Covington will be at home at their residence in Princeton after December 1.

Dulaney &amp; Sons Win Tomato Suit.

The suit of Dulaney & Sons vs. H. Koch & Co., of Newark, N. J., was heard by Judge Adams, in Newark, Thursday, and a verdict was rendered in full, including interest and costs, for Dulaney & Sons. The facts in the case was as follows: Dulaney & Sons sold part of their pack of tomatoes in 1903 to the defendant firm and on a declining market they rejected the tomatoes. Dulaney & Sons compromised at 25 cents per doz. off and Koch & Co. gave notes for the bills, 2 cars. Afterwards, when the notes came due, they, the notes, were let go to protest, defendants claiming further reduction. Dulaney & Sons sued on the notes with above result.

HAT a world of confidence what a feeling of safety is inspired with the knowledge that your car must go faster, or stand still, as you indicate, by the slightest touch of a finger or the pressure of a foot. It makes the timid person feel secure, and bars accidents from the path of the more ambitious who want to travel at a merry clip. This is why the Rambler stands so high in the estimation of the large majority of the purchasing public. Most people want a car that will run any time they want it to, near home or far away—without repairs or unnecessary loss of time—and they get it in the Rambler.

Town Topics.

—Mr. E. N. Todd is moving into his new house on Park street this week.

—Mr. E. S. Todd is having a cement sidewalk laid. Mr. W. A. Crew is doing the work.

—The ladies of Asbury M. E. Church contemplate holding a bazaar about December 1st.

—Rev. Dr. S. W. Reigart is expected to return home next week. It is not expected that he will be able to preach, however, for some time.

—FELLOW GHOSTS:—You are summoned to haunt the New High School on Tuesday evening, October 31, 1905, at four o'clock before midnight.

—Rev. Frank E. Williams, of Lewes, Delaware, will preach in Wicomico Presbyterian Church on Sunday, October 29th, both morning and evening.

—The total number of registered voters in this county, after the recent registration, according to the books, is 6,112. Of these 4,836 are white and 1,276 colored.

—Mr. Charles Q. Havman, of Rockaway, sent THE COURIER this week 8 sweet potatoes which filled a peach basket. They are on exhibition in THE COURIER's window.

—Miss Irma Graham entertained a few lady friends at bridge whist Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. George Davis, of Philadelphia, who is the guest of Mrs. Stanley Toadvin.

—Hon. and Mrs. L. S. Melson, of Bishopville, Md., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Downing Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Mr. Melson is an uncle of Mrs. Downing.

—The witches have received message from the choice spirits of darkness, that on Tuesday evening, October 31, 1905, the bell on the New High School will ring out—"I ain't afraid of no hanta."

—Rev. S. J. Smith expects to preach in the M. P. Church next Sunday as follows: 11 a. m., "A Night on the Mediterranean;" 7:30 p. m., "The Supreme Order from the King." Revival services at night.

—The B. C. & A. Ry. has under construction a new bridge over Owens branch, opposite the Catholic burying ground, near Byrd's switch. Heavy white oak piling and other material of the very best is being used.

—An accident to the boiler at the electric light plant caused bad lights part of this week. Temporary repairs have been made and in a short time, after work now being done is completed, greatly improved service will be given.

—Clerk of the Court Ernest A. Toadvin is having plans made for his home that is to be built in the lot he recently purchased at the corner of Park and William streets. A handsome building costing in the neighborhood of $5,000 will be erected.

—The J. L. Tempest Co., has been producing a variety of plays at Ulman's Opera House this week with great success. Wednesday evening "East Lynne" was presented and, as usual, this popular old drama brought tears to the eyes of more than half the audience, men as well as women.

—Street Commissioner Kennerly placed 4,000 bushels of shells on the streets of Salisbury this week. They were brought here by the schooner "Mary Vickers." Mr. Kennerly has also greatly improved the side walk on West Church street, building a brick curb and wall and laying new pavement.

—Mr. John T. Green's bay horse "Joe Russell" raced against Dr. Murrell's bay mare "Nancy Hanks" two out of three half mile heats on the shell road on Wednesday morning last. "Nancy Hanks" took both straight heats, time 1:20. Mr. Chas. E. Duffy drove "Joe Russell" and Mr. Geo. R. Collier drove "Nancy Hanks." Mr. W. M. Day was starter.

—Special Rural Free Delivery Route Examiner W. A. Barber laid out a new route from White Haven this week by Jones' church through by Blavie and return to White Haven. He also extended the present route from White Haven via Tyaskin. Mr. Barber will recommend both these changes to the Department, to go into effect at an early date.

—Announcement has been made of the marriage on Wednesday evening, November 8th, in St. Andrews' church, Princess Anne, of Miss Nancy Sudler, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Sudler to Mr. William C. Brown, of Philadelphia, son of Mr. I. T. J. Brown, of Princess Anne. Miss Sudler is a grand-daughter of Rt. Rev. Wm. Murray Stone, the third Episcopal Bishop of Maryland.

—Mrs. Mary C. Wilson spent part of this week in Baltimore.

—Mr. Harvey Whiteley was in Philadelphia this week on a business trip.

—Misses Lucy and Bettie Humphreys of Baltimore, were at home part of this week.

—Mr. George Davis, of Philadelphia, was the guest last Sunday of Senator and Mrs. E. Stanley Toadvin.

—The ladies of Asbury M. E. Church are arranging to have a bazaar and supper about the first week of December.

—Republican Mass Meetings will be held at Elliott's store, Athol, Wednesday, November 1st, at 7 p. m., and at White Haven, Saturday, November 4th, also at 7 p. m. All are invited.

—Mr. Henry W. Burris, of Pocomoke, the well-known horseman, has invented a time indicator, to display the time made at horse races. It was used with great success at the Gentlemen's Driving Park, Baltimore, this week.

—On Wednesday, November 1, Culhane, Chase & Weston's Minstrels will appear at Ulman's Opera House for one night only. This company is composed of some of the best minstrel talent on the road, and has a large band and orchestra. Seats are on sale at box office 25, 25, 50 cents.

—Rev. Thos. N. Potts, D. D., pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, South, will attend the Interchurch Conference on Federation, which will meet in Carnegie Hall, New York, Nov. 15. Dr. Potts will be one of the representatives of the Southern Methodist Church from the Virginia Conference.

—The Board of Supervisors of Elections for Dorchester county decided at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon to place the names of the candidates named in the nomination articles of the "Reputation" party upon the official ballot, Thomas E. Keenan, the Republican member of the Board, dissenting.

—The contract to lengthen Judge Holland's gasoline yacht has been awarded to Capt. William W. Smith, of Shad Point, and the work is under way. The yacht has been sawed in the centre and will be lengthened 13 feet. Capt. Smith was the builder of this boat, which is considered one of the best gasoline yachts on the Wicomico River.

—Mrs. E. E. Jackson, Mrs. W. W. Leonard, Mrs. Everett Jackson and Miss May Potts returned to Salisbury from Atlantic City on Thursday. Messrs. ## If Lacy Thoroughgood's Up-Town Store and Down-Town Store Were Together Up Town or Down Town, You'd See About As Big a Store As There Is In Salisbury.

If Lacy Thoroughgood had all his down-town store up town with his up-town store, or if he had all his up-town store down with his down-town store, you'd see twice as much as you'd see if you see what he's got either up town or down. If you can't figure it out that way come to Thoroughgood and see him work it. Lacy Thoroughgood's up-town is the only exclusive Hat and Gent's Furnishing Goods Store on this Peninsula—I mean from Wilmington, Del., to Norfolk, Va. This up-town store carries the largest and best line of Hats in Salisbury. It handles the Jno. B. Stetson Hat, of Philadelphia; Young Bros., of New York; and a dozen other makes that are good. This store is run by Jas. Thoroughgood, Claud Dayton and Edgar Laws. There's no such a line of Shirts, Collars, Cuffs, Suspenders, Hosiery, Neck wear and Underwear anywhere. Lacy Thoroughgood's down town store is a clothing store in every sense of the word. The real reason why this store is growing so fast is that it sells only reliable clothing and guarantees every piece to be as represented, or money refunded. If he didn't buy in enormous quantities for cash he couldn't buy cheap, and if he didn't sell in enormous quantities he couldn't sell cheap. Remember, Thoroughgood has twenty thousand dollars worth of Clothing and Hats (all brand new) and is fully determined to sell the bulk of these goods before January 1906.

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, at the January Session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and four, two bills were passed, one proposing an amendment to Section 1 of Article 1 of the Constitution of the State, and the other proposing an amendment to Section 2 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State, which said bills are in the words following, to wit:

CHAPTER 35.

AN ACT to amend Section 1 of Article 1 of the Constitution of the State and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), that the following section be, and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 1 of the Constitution of the State, and if adopted by the qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in place and stead of Section 1 of Article 1 of the Constitution of the State.

SECTION 2. All elections by the people shall be by ballot. Every male citizen of the United States, whether native born or naturalized, who is at least twenty-one years of age, who has resided in this State for one year and in the Legislative district of Baltimore city or in the county in which he may vote for six months next preceding the election, and who moreover is duly registered as a qualified voter, as provided in this Article, shall be entitled to vote at any election held in this State, and if he shall be so divided as to form portions of different electoral districts for the election of Representatives in Congress, Senators, Delegates to the General Assembly, or for any other purpose, he shall be entitled to vote in the electoral district from which he removed until he shall have secured a residence in the part of the county or city to which he has removed. Every such male citizen of the United States, who is at least twenty-one years of age, and who moreover is duly registered as a qualified voter, as provided in this Article, shall be entitled to vote at any election held in this State, and if he shall be so divided as to form portions of different electoral districts for the election of Representatives in Congress, Senators, Delegates to the General Assembly, or for any other purpose, he shall be entitled to vote in the electoral district from which he removed until he shall have secured a residence in the part of the county or city to which he has removed. Every such male citizen of the United States, who is at least twenty-one years of age, and who moreover is duly registered as a qualified voter, as provided in this Article, shall be entitled to vote at any election held in this State, and if he shall be so divided as to form portions of different electoral districts for the election of Representatives in Congress, Senators, Delegates to the General Assembly, or for any other purpose, he shall be entitled to vote in the electoral district from which he removed until he shall have secured a residence in the part of the county or city to which he has removed.

SECTION 3. A person who on the first day of January, 1906, or prior thereto, was entitled to vote under the provisions of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and who is at least twenty-one (21) years of age or over in the year 1906.

SECTION 4. No person not thus qualified by coming under some one of the above descriptions shall be entitled to be registered as a qualified voter, nor be entitled to vote.

SECTION 5. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State shall be at the next general election for members of the General Assembly, to be held in this State submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in the manner provided in the said Article XIV of the Constitution, and as said election the vote on said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be written thereon the words "For the Constitutional Amendment," or "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as the voter shall elect, and he shall immediately after said election give returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote on said proposed amendment, as directed by the said Article XIV of the Constitution.

This is to certify that this engrossed document proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the original of which was passed by the Senate on March 10, 1905.

SPENCER C. JONES,
President of the Senate.

ROBERT MOSS,
Secretary of the Senate.

This is to certify that this engrossed document proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the original of which was passed by the House of Delegates on March 10, 1905.

GEORGE Y. EVERHART,
Speaker of the House of Delegates.

BENJAMIN L. SMITH,
Chief Clerk.

CHAPTER 36.

AN ACT to amend Section 2 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), that the following section be, and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State, and if adopted by the qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in place and stead of Section 2 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State.

SECTION 2. There are seven main features of heart disease, viz: (1) Weakness or Debility; (2) Rheumatism or Neuralgia; (3) Valvular Disorder; (4) Dilation; (5) Enlargement; (6) Fatty Degeneration; (7) Dropsy.

Documentary evidence will prove thousands of so-called "incurables" have been absolutely cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Patients often have no idea their disease is heart trouble, but ascribe it to Indigestion, Liver Complaint, etc. Here are some of the symptoms: Shortness of breath after exercise. Smothering Spells. Pain in Chest, left Shoulder and arm. Discomfort in Lying on one side. Fainting Spells. Nervous Cough. Swelling of Feet and Ankles. Paleness of Face and Lips. Palpitation. Nightmare. Irregular Pulse.

"I have great faith in Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. I have seen it cure many cases where opportunity presents. I can now go up and down stairs with ease, where three weeks ago I could hardly walk one block." One year later, "I am still in good health; the heart cure did so much for me that I find it a far greater medicine than you claimed to be."—S. D. YOUNG, D. D., 697 North Pine St., Natchez, Miss.

The Limekiln Club's Lecture

President Brother Gardner's Talk on Wealth Is Loudly Applauded.

(Copyright, 1905, by R. B. McClure.)

"My friends," said the president of the Limekiln club when the regular routine of business had been disposed of, "I am a strange coon in de entry-room who arrive in town dis mawin'. He gibe his cognomen as Junius Juniper Johnson of Jackson, Mississippi. Dat seems like a good many J's for one man to carry around wid him, and I'm not gwine to guarantee Junius. He may be all right and he may strike abery one of you for half a dollar when de meetin' breaks up. He claims to be a lecturer and he has asked permission to address you fur a few minits.

"Dat permission has been giben him and I wants de hall kept quiet while he speaks. If I ketch Shindig Watkins frowin' taters around or if Elder Penstock so fur furgits himself as to stamp on de floor wid dem big hoofs of his I shall take de necessary steps to make der hearts achie fur a week to come. Givemdem Jones will now pursued to de entry-room and lug in de orator. He had better be searched first to see dat he hain't got a bomb concealed in his hind pocket."

When Mr. Johnson was brought in he walked straight to the platform, made a sideways bow and began:

"Dar may be some among you dis evenin' who don't know what wealth is, and I will darfo' explain dat wealth is money—cash—dough. When you've got wealth you kin go into a place and order ice cream and frosted cake and not fear de boot when it comes to settin' de bill. [Murmurs of "Yum! Yum!"] Eberybody in dis world wid few exceptions am strivin' fur wealth. Dey am thinkin' of dollars when dey riz up in de mawin', and dey am thinkin' of dough when dey lay down at night. Ebery day dat passes men and women am sellin' der souls fur money, and dey can't get 'nuff of it. [Sighs and groans.]

"I am one of de few exceptions. When I was a young buck of twenty and wanted to take my gal out ridin' ebery Sunday I longed fur wealth. I'd have robbed a bank or swindled my ole fadder to git it. If I could have met a hog drover on de highway and hit him on de head wid a stone in a stockin' I should surely have been guilty of murder. I got to hankerin' so hard arter wealth dat I stole a cow and run her off and sold her fur seven dollars. I blew in all dat sugar on my gal, but de result was what might have been anticipated. She gin me de shake when my wealth was gone, and 'long come a constable and says:

"'Look here, bigger, am you Junius Juniper Johnson?"

"'I am."

"'Den come along wid me and take your dose."

"'Dat dose was two years in state prison."

"There was an outburst of enthusiasm when it was ascertained that the orator had done time in the jug, and, bowing his appreciation of it, he continued:

"Yes, my friends, I was sent to prison and served my time. I could have conceeded de fact from you, but I am like Christopher Columbus—I can't tell a lie. And, besides dat, it was gwine to prison dat made a man of me and helped me to see things in der true light. I believe it would act de same in your case. I believe dat de very best thing dat could happen to dis Limekiln club would be to have about half its members sent to state prison for five years."

Brother Gardner at once rose up to demand an apology of the orator, but before he could say a word the whole hall broke into wild applause, and it was fully ten minutes before the speaker could continue:

"I hadn't been in de jug over a week when I begun to reflect. I had been pore and had taken comfort. Den I had amassed wealth and encountered nuffin but trouble. As a pore man I didn't want to marry; as a rich young man my gal had gone back on me and de lay had taken me by de neck. Ebery night I lay in my cell and thought and fagged, and timeby I got hold of de right end of de string. When I believe dat de very best thing dat could happen to dis Limekiln club would be to have about half its members sent to state prison for five years."

Brother Gardner at once rose up to demand an apology of the orator, but before he could say a word the whole hall broke into wild applause, and it was fully ten minutes before the speaker could continue:

"I hadn't been in de jug over a week when I begun to reflect. I had been pore and had taken comfort. Den I had amassed wealth and encountered nuffin but trouble. As a pore man I didn't want to marry; as a rich young man my gal had gone back on me and de lay had taken me by de neck. Ebery night I lay in my cell and thought and fagged, and timeby I got hold of de right end of de string. When I come out of prison I turned lecturer, and dat's de reason I am heah tonight. I am heah to prove to you dat wealth am a curse and poverty a blessin'.

"I see befo' me in imagnashun a rich man. He smokes ten-cent cigats; he rents a box at de postoffice; he kin go down to Coney Island and shoot de shutes any time he wants to. If de grocer comes round and says de bill is $2.40, it am paid on de spot, and he am told dat if he sends up any mo' wilted peas he will lose de rich man's custom. De rich man don't have to worry about coal and taxes. He don't have to watch fur bargains 'sides to git a suit of clothes. He kin buy ten pairs of shoe strings to once, and he needn't worry about de street car conductor beatin' him out of a nickel. He owns hosses, and he keeps servants, and he am de big man when Fourth of July comes round. [Applause, during which Samuel Shin broke a pane of glass with his elbow and was led out of de hall between Antimony Tyler and Kurnel Cable.]

"You applaud now, my friends, but wait a minit. You have sawn only one side of de picture. From de minit a man gets rich de book agents are arter him. Eberybody who has eber bowed to him wants to borrow $10. The grocer beats him, de butcher swindles him, and de policeman on dat beat stands in wid his cook and is furnished wid all de lemon pie he kin devour. De rich man am game for all. He has got to go to church ebery Sunday, no matter how good de fishin' am, and when he's dar he's got to sot way up in front whar eberybody kin see de wrinkles in de back of his coat. How often do you s'pose de rich man has a biled dinner? Not once a 'yar. He dasset have. It hain't catosh in his class. Did you eber see a rich man sittin' on de top rail of a fence eatin' a raw turnip? Nebber in you life. He's got to sit down on a stuffed chair at home and eat oranges. Has a rich man got a hogpen in his back yard whar he kin go out and scratch de back of a hog wid a stick and hear de critter chuckle wid pleasure? Kin de rich man sot around de grocery in de evenin' in his shirt sleeves or dare drink his 'lasses out of a jug? Do you eber hear of his goin' fishin' or skatin' or off arter huckleberries? Not on your life! [Tremendous applause.]

"All de rich man kin do am to be rich and have heaps of trouble. He's got to eat what he don't like, dress as he don't want to, and hang around de Waldorf-Astoria when he'd a heap rather be out on de commons playin' ball wid de boys. His wife is arter him all de time fur mo' diamonds, his boys am 'runnin' round and marrisin' chorus gals, and his darters am cryin' to go to Europe and buy out Switzerland. [Groans of sympathy.]

"I has knowed as many as seven rich men in my time and I has had private talks wid dem all. When dey found dat I was Junius Juniper Johnson de Jackson de just talked to me in confidence. Ebery one of dese heben men told me dat he'd gib his ole butts to be a pore and happy man agin. Dey couldn't eber gib dere money away and be pore like de rest of us. Dey wives wouldn't let 'em do it. Dey had to keep right on bein' rich and havin' trouble day in and day out and it will not s'prise you to hear dat dey all died befo' der time. [Sensation.]

"My dear friends, don't sigh to be rich. Don't plan and scheme fur wealth. Don't envy de millionaire. Dar's hosses and carriages in bein' rich, but what's de use of hosses and carriages when you kin ride on a street kyar? I hab summed it up and fagged it out, and I'm tellin' you dat de man who am libbin' in a cottage and wearin' one shirt all de week through am happier dan any millionaire dat kin be named. I did not come heah to make any distended remarks, but simply to sow a few seeds by de wayside. Remain pore and happy. Remain pore and respectable. When you take from a man de privilege of sittin' on his donsteps in his shirt sleeves, wid an old hen cacklin' on one side of him and a pig gruntin' on de odder, de dawg lyin' in de sun and de chicken rollin' on de grass, you have taken away a happiness dat money can't replace. Thankin' you fur your kind desderation, I will now make my bow and say good night." [Terrific applause, which continued until the lights were turned out and the doors locked.]

OUTSIDE THE WARD

By A. M. DAVIES OGDEN

Copyright, 1905, by A. M. Davies Ogdan

Nurse Humphreys was hardly what would be termed popular. Tall, handsome, in a dark, cold type of beauty, she was much admired, and the doctors all respected her clear, keen intelligence and executive ability. But the patients regarded her with evident awe. No one urged her to come and sit for a moment by his bedside.

Nurse Humphreys herself regarded the patients as so many human machines to be tended and cared for. It was her work to superintend the doing of this. What more could be required of her? And then one day a tender, helpless little morsel of a child was carried into the ward, and Miss Humphreys experienced a strange sensation. The blue eyes looked appealingly into hers; the thin little arms were extended. "Molly lonesome," murmured a baby voice. And Miss Humphreys, rather shamefacedly, bent and kissed the tiny face.

From that day a new life began for the nurse. All the pent up tenderness of years, all the starved affection of the woman's heart, sternly repressed for so long, were unstintingly lavished upon the child. It was a bad case. Miss Humphreys flung herself with tireless energy into the battle with death. Molly could not die; she must not die. And love won. The fatal crisis was passed; the little life began to tighten its hold on existence. Miss Humphreys rejoiced until one day came a sudden, most unwelcome thought. Molly was out of danger; Molly was growing well; Molly would soon leave the hospital and go home. Miss Humphreys started and tried to banish the thought. But it would not go. It pursued her, obsessed her, became a nightmare.

Outside the big ward was a small room where Miss Humphreys sometimes sat. Late one afternoon she was there, still haunted by the thought of Molly's departure. It seemed terribly near. How could she let Molly go back to that aunt—that narrow faced, hard eyed woman—from whom the child palpably shrank upon the occasions of her rare visits? Was she unkind to the little thing? Miss Humphreys wondered.

A sudden sense of discouragement possessed the nurse. Molly was nearly convalescent, yet to the doctor Miss Humphreys had dilated at length upon unfavorable symptoms, inherent weaknesses, and this morning, this very morning, she had deliberately altered the temperature line on the patient's chart. That was unpardonable. She had fancied that the doctor had looked at her rather oddly as he returned the chart. Did he suspect anything? Must she let her go—this child with Tom's name and with Tom's own blue eyes? Where had Molly found them? The aunt, a dry, uncommunicative person, only said that the child's mother was dead. Molly babbled of a daddy almost always from home. The idea had once flashed across Miss Humphreys' mind that Tom himself might be this daddy, but she had dismissed the suggestion as too improbable. There were doubtless thousands of Brennans.

It brought the man to her mind, however. Tom! Where could he be? He had loved her once. Why had she let him go? Miss Humphreys looked about the plain little room, thought of the ward beyond. She had sent Tom away, had left her home, come to New York and entered the training school, worked, denied herself, suffered, inspired, sustained by no ignoble ambition.

Well, she had succeeded. She had achieved her goal. Was she not head nurse in this busy hospital ward? Again her eyes traveled around the dreary little room. Was this then what her ambition meant, a solitary woman growing old alone? Miss Humphreys, tired and depressed, knew that she was morbid; sought to shake it off, but the feeling was too strong for her. The reaction from the years of effort had set in, and all at once a wave of heartiness seemed to submerge her in its depths, forcing the unaccustomed tears to her dark eyes. Miss Humphreys uttered a little sob. Was what she had won worth the sacrifices demanded? Did life hold no more than this?

The sound of voices outside the door roused her. The doctor was speaking.

"So I thought it best to send for you yourself and explain matters," he was saying. "She is one of our best nurses and has worked night and day to save your child. Indeed, that the child lived at all is largely due to her untiring vigilance. But there is no reason now why Molly should not leave the hospital. It sometimes happens, however, that a nurse takes a fancy to a patient and tries to keep him overtime. Therefore I preferred that you yourself should come and remove Molly. I would not wish to hurt Miss Humphreys' feelings," he added kindly, for he was a humane man and could sympathize with the dullness of the nurse's life. "We all think so much of Miss Humphreys."

"Miss Humphreys," repeated the man. And at the voice the woman started and clasped her hands over her heart. "Miss Humphreys, you say? Could—could I see her?"

The doctor considered a moment. "I hardly think that she is on duty now," he said slowly. "Oh," with a sudden recollection, "she often sits in that little room. Possibly she may be there now."

As Brennan entered she sprang up, facing him, and for a moment they both stared in silence, the woman struggling to control her uncertain breathing.

The man started forward. "Margaret!" he cried. Miss Humphreys nodded.

"Yes, it is I," she answered, trying to speak in a commonplace manner. "I belong to this hospital." But he did not seem to hear her.

"Margaret, oh, Margaret!" he repeated below his breath. She was far more lovely than he had ever seen her, with that new, softened expression, the tears still clinging to her long black lashes. She lifted her head.

"So you have come to take Molly away," she said simply. The man started. He had quite forgotten the child. "Why—she cannot stay here—the doctor says that she is well," he stammered confusedly. "He said—"

"Yes, I know," responded Miss Humphreys. "She is quite well." She was staring straight ahead, her dark eyes filled with a blank, unseeing look. He would go away again. Molly would go away. What was there left for her? The doctor knew what she had done. She might have to leave the hospital. But she did not care about that. Brennan took a step forward.

"Margaret," he cried; "oh, Margaret, why did you send me from you?" There was a whole lifetime of pain and yearning in the man's voice and Miss Humphreys' heart gave a sudden throb. He had not entirely forgotten her then. The image of that other woman had not entirely obliterated her own.

"I—I don't know," she faltered, feeling like a silly schoolgirl. Her usual calm self-possession was gone. The doctors would not have recognized their cool, capable nurse.

"You—don't—know?" echoed Brennan. A sudden well known gleam sprang to the blue eyes. "You—don't—know," he repeated. "Then—might there be a chance for me after all?" he asked squarely. Miss Humphreys, sobbing, had sunk into a chair. The man bent over and with soft fingers reverently touched the shining hair.

"I—I loved my wife," he said loyally. "She was a dear, sweet soul. But you were my first love and I could never quite forget. You have saved Molly for me," he added unsteadily, "but she needs you still—we both need you. Won't you come and make us happy, sweetheart?" a sudden intensity deepening the strong voice. "Won't you, dear?"

And Miss Humphreys whispered "Yes."

Safe.
"But," said the lawyer, "your case seems hopeless. I don't see what I can do for you. You admit that you beat your wife."

"Yes," replied the defendant, "but my wife's testimony will discount that. She'd never admit that she was beaten."

No Views.

Why the Horse Acted So.
"I wonder what's the matter with that horse," said a man to his wife while he was in the act of unbiting the animal. The horse was rearing and plunging and displaying signs of terror whenever his master came near him. A passerby came to his aid, and while quieting the animal explained to the owner. "I noticed," said he, "that you just came out of the zoo over there. A slight scent of the wild animals has clung to your clothing, and, although your horse has probably never seen anything wilder than a cow, his instinct tells him that where that scent is there is danger. It will wear off soon and you will have no more trouble."—Philadelphia Record.

Unfortunate.
How often our most innocent speeches "gang aley," leaving us with no resource but that of making the best of a bad matter!

A certain Scotch minister is won, to relate how, having been out all day visiting, he called on an old dame well known for her kindness and hospitality.

After some conversation she began getting out her best china and whatever delicacies were at hand to honor her unexpected guest. As he sat watching the preparations his eye suddenly fell on four or five cats devouring some cold porridge under the table.

"Dear me, Miss Black," he observed, "what a number of cats! Do they all belong to you?"

"Na, na, sir," was the innocent reply, "but mony a time I say that at the hungry brutes in the parish come tae me, seeking a meal o' meat."

Then the good woman bethought her and in her embarrassment nearly dropped a teacup.

Constitutional Amendment.

CHAPTER 96

OF THE ACTS OF 1904.

AN ACT to amend Section 1 of Article 1 of the Constitution of this State to provide for the submission of said amendment to qualified voters of this State for the adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 1 of the Constitution of this State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in place and stead of Section 1 of said Article 1.

SECTION 1. All elections by the people shall be by ballot. Every male citizen of the United States, whether native born or naturalized, of the age of 21 years or upwards, who has resided in this State for one year and in the Legislative district of Baltimore city or in the county in which he may offer to vote for six months next preceding the election, and who moreover is duly registered as a qualified voter, as provided in this Article, shall be entitled to vote in the ward or election district in which he resides at all elections hereafter to be held in this State; and in case any county or city shall be so divided as to form portions of different electoral districts for the election of Representatives in Congress, Senators, Delegates or other officers, then, to entitle a person to vote for such officers, he must have been a resident of that part of the county or city which shall form a part of the electoral district in which he offers to vote for six months next preceding the election, but a person who shall have acquired a residence in such county or city, entitling him to vote at any such election, shall be entitled to vote in the election district from which he removed until he shall have acquired a residence in the part of the county or city to which he has removed. Every such male citizen of the United States having the above prescribed qualifications of age and residence shall be entitled to be registered so as to become a qualified voter if he be—

First—A person able to read any section of the Constitution of this State submitted to him by the officers of registration and to give a reasonable explanation of the same; or if unable to read such section in able to understand, and give a reasonable explanation thereof when read to him by the registration officers, or

Second—A person who on the first day of January, 1869, or prior thereto, was entitled to vote under the laws of this State or of any other State of the United States wherein he then resided; or Third—Any male lineal descendant of such last-mentioned person who may be twenty-one (21) years of age or over in the year 1906.

No person not thus qualified by coming under some one of the above descriptions shall be entitled to be registered as a qualified voter, nor be entitled to vote.

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be at the next general election for members of the General Assembly to be held in this State submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the direction contained in Article XIV of the Constitution, and at said election the vote on said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be written or printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment," or "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as the voters shall elect; and immediately after said election due return shall be made to the Governor of the vote on said proposed amendment as directed by the said XIVth Article of the Constitution.

CHAPTER 97

OF THE ACTS OF 1904.

AN ACT to amend Section 34 of Article 3 of the Constitution of this State.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 34 of Article 3 of said Constitution.

SECTION 34. No debt shall be hereafter contracted by the General Assembly unless such debt shall be authorized by a law providing for the collection of an annual tax or taxes sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to discharge the principal thereof within fifteen years from the time of contracting the same, and the taxes laid for this purpose shall not be repealed or applied to any other object until the said debt and interest thereon shall be fully discharged. The credit of the State shall not in any manner be given or loaned to, or in aid of any individual, association or corporation; nor shall the General Assembly have the power in any mode to involve the State in the construction of works of internal improvement, nor in granting any aid thereto which shall involve the faith or credit of the State, nor make any appropriation therefor, except in aid of the construction of works of internal improvement in the counties of St. Mary's, Charles and Calvert, which had no direct advantage from such works as have been heretofore aided by the State; and provided that such aid, advances or appropriations shall not exceed in the aggregate the sum of five hundred thousand dollars, and they shall not use or appropriate the proceeds of the Internal Improvement Companies or of the State tax now levied or which may hereafter be levied to pay off the public debt to any other purpose until the interest and debt are fully paid, or the sinking fund shall be equal to the amount of the outstanding debt; but the General Assembly may, without laying a tax, borrow an amount never to exceed fifty thousand dollars to meet temporary deficiencies in the treasury, and may contract debts to any amount that may be necessary for the defense of the State.

But nothing in this section or in this Constitution contained shall deprive the General Assembly of the power to appropriate amongst and to appropriate to the city of Baltimore and the several counties of the State out of any funds in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, a sum of money not exceeding four hundred thousand dollars each year, to be expended only in the construction and maintenance of public roads and highways under and in accordance with such regulations as the General Assembly may from time to time prescribe.

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution shall be at the next general election held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State and at the said general election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment," and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election due return shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by the said fourteenth article to the Constitution.

There Are No Clothing Values Equal To Those You Get Of Lacy Thoroughgood

Important News

For All Men — READ IT — It Will Pay You.

Better clothes can't be had anywhere. Lacy Thoroughgood's clothes are for men who want the best, cheapest. No matter what you may hear or read about other people's clothing, the fact remains that for nearly twenty years no one has been able to honestly question my supremacy in this line of merchandise. My store does the largest retail clothing business in Salisbury, a fact which proves that Lacy Thoroughgood's clothes please Salisbury men better than any others. And my clothes are not only the best, but they are also the cheapest. This great sale of Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, for men, youths, boys, and children surpasses any and every sale of apparel ever attempted in this little city. The stock which I offer to the public exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars in value and completely fills two stores in Salisbury.

The Strength of These Two Stores

lies in their new and meritorious merchandise, and the strict adherence to a policy of giving perfect satisfaction or money back at any time. People find more good grades of clothing than can be seen in any other store. More styles in each grade, more value in each piece of merchandise and more satisfaction for each dollar they invest here. It is on this basis of trading that Lacy Thoroughgood asks your patronage, and he could invite it at no time more advantageous to you than right now. Thoroughgood has hundreds and hundreds of Men's Suits, hundreds and hundreds of Boy's Suits, five hundred Overcoats for Men and Boys, two beautiful Stores full of Hats and Gents Furnishings. Don't fail to take advantage of this Sale, it's worth your while to come here and see for yourself.
