THE CAMPAIGN OPENED.

Ex-Congressman L. Irving Handy Enthusiases the Democrats of Wicomico.

The Democrats of the county formally opened the campaign with a big rally at Ulman's Opera House Tuesday evening. The day was rainy and disagreeable and those in charge of the meeting feared a small attendance, but when eight o'clock arrived the house was packed with an audience eager to hear the issues of Imperialism and Trusts discussed for the first time in Wicomico. The stage - as very prettily decorated with cut flowers, palms, and potted plants. Portraits of the Democratic nominees were on the stage draped with the American flag. Messrs. Geo. H. Riall and Harry Fooks had charge of the stage decorations. The Salisbury cornet band enlivened the meeting with patriotic music. In the audience were a large number of ladies. On the stage were seated a number of the prominent Democrats of the county. Among them were:

Judge Charles F. Holland, Dr. F. M. Slemons, Dr. Louis W. Morris, Dr. E. W. Humphreys, Dr. Geo. W. Todd, James E. Ellegood, Fred L. Smith, John H. Waller, Charles R. Disharoon, Samuel E. Gordy, B. Frank Kennerly, Harry S. Todd, Peter S. Shockey, Charles E. Williams, Thos. F. J. Rider, Wm. J. Bounds, Levin B. Weatherly, Geo. W. Messick, Wm. A. Trader, James H. Coulbourn, James E. Betts, G. W. White, G. W. D. Waller, W. D. G. Groves, Joseph L. Bailey, Elijah J. Adkins, Geo. W. Bell, W. Jeff Staton, F. Leonard Wallis, H. H. Hitch, Jesse D. Price, James T. Truitt, Albert W. Robinson, John D. Williams and J. Cleveland White.

Mr. Geo. W. Bell in a short speech called the meeting to order and nominated Hon. James E. Ellegood as chairman. Mr. Ellegood spoke for a few minutes in a very forcible way upon the greed and corruption of the Republican party. He then introduced the speaker of the evening, ex-Congressman Levin Irving Handy of Delaware. Owing to frequent speech making since the campaign opened, Mr. Handy's voice bothered him some but he entertained his audience for over an hour with an eloquent speech on the Trusts and the Military policy of the Administration. He paid a high tribute to the honesty and integrity of Mr. Bryan, whom he said was his personal friend.

Mr. Handy gave a great part of his speech to the question of Trusts. He showed how these great combinations of capital were gradually absorbing the wealth of the country, how they fixed the price of the labor they employed and how they regulated the price of their entire output.

His speech was frequently applauded and will undoubtedly arouse the Democrats throughout the county.

While in Salisbury Mr. Handy was the guest of Dr. Geo. W. Todd, at his residence on Division Street.

A KNITTING FACTORY.

Dr. Samuel A. Graham At The Head Of Such An Enterprise.

A knitting factory, which will afford pleasant and profitable employment for thirty or more girls will start up on Main Street about the middle of November.

Dr. Samuel A. Graham, Cashier of the Farmers & Merchants Bank, is at the head of the enterprise. The factory will be located in the building adjoining the Farmers & Planters office on the South side of Main Street, and will begin operations by turning out one hundred dozen stockings per day.

The factory will be run by steam and the house will be heated with steam. Dr. Graham is expecting the machinery at any time, and on its arrival it will be put in position and operations at once begun. An experienced man will be employed to superintend the work. Dr. Graham's intention is to increase the capacity of the plant as the demand grows for the output.

Salisbury Still Winning.

The players of the Salisbury Base Ball team—which has disbanded for the season—played a game with the Athletics, the strong club in Chester, Pa., on Tuesday. The game was played on the latter's grounds and won by Salisbury by a score of 6 to 3. Radcliff led the team in batting. Fertsch pitched for Salisbury and did good work. The Philadelphia Times speaks of his playing as follows: "By good head work Fertsch saved run getting in the ninth when the Athletics had the bases full and no one out."

The game was very exciting and a tie at the end of the fifth inning. The score follows:

BRYAN WILL BE HERE.

Eastern Shore Democrats Will Have a Chance to Hear Mr. Bryan in Salisbury on October 24th.

SALISBURY ADVERTISER,

Salisbury, Md.

Gentlemen.—Mr. Bryan will speak in Salisbury Wednesday, October 24th, at 9 A. M.

Very truly yours,

MURRAY VANDIVER, Chairman.

As will be seen by the above letter, William Jennings Bryan, the Democratic nominee for President of the United States will speak here on the twenty-fourth of this month. The committee will meet to-night (Friday) to make arrangements for this monster meeting. The Democrats of this county and our neighboring counties will have an opportunity to at last see and hear their Standard Bearer. Mr. Bryan will be in Salisbury for an hour and a half. It is thought some ten or fifteen thousand people will be here on the morning of the twenty-fourth. Mr. Bryan speaks in Baltimore on the night of the 23rd. After his speech there he will be conveyed by special steamer to Easton where he will arrive at 7 A. M. on the 24th. After a half hour's speech at that place he will be brought on a chartered train to Salisbury and arrive here at nine o'clock.

Special trains will be run on both the New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk railroad and the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic railroad. Salisbury is the junction of these two roads and is accessible to people as far south as Cape Charles and as far north as Dover.

Great crowds are expected from Delaware, the Eastern Shore of Virginia and every county on the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

The ADVERTISER will announce the full arrangements for the meeting in its next issue.

COURT NEWS.

September Term Closes. The Grand Jury Adjourned Saturday After a Session of One Week.

When the ADVERTISER went to press last Friday evening the slander case of Kosa V. Selby vs. Ellen P. Johnson, removed from Worcester County, was before the Court. About nine o'clock in the evening the case was handed over to the jury, and after an hour's deliberations the jury brought a verdict of one dollar for the plaintiff. Saturday motions for a new trial were filed by the Counsel for both sides. Collins & Jones, of Snow Hill, and Ellegood and Ratliff, of Salisbury, were attorneys for the plaintiff; Handy, Kerbin and Wilson, of Snow Hill, and Toadvin and Bell, of Salisbury, for the defendant. The other slander suit, moved from Worcester county, which was expected to follow, has been removed to Somerset county.

The Grand Jury adjourned Saturday, having found fourteen true bills for various offenses. In its report to the Court, the jury recommended placing a new cement floor in the basement of the jail and having some repairs made to the lavatory in the Court House. The erection of a residence for the jailer was also recommended as the jail is too small to furnish room for the jailer's family and inmates.

The committee appointed to visit the County Alms House reported that everything was found in good condition and the inmates well provided for. That the farm had been well cultivated and there was a good crop. The committee was Messrs. Caleb R. Dashiell, J. W. Holloway, and J. L. Nelson.

When Court convened Monday morning Judge Holland was alone on the bench. The case of State vs. William Maddox indicted for assaulting and robbing W. J. English, was called and occupied almost the whole day Monday. The verdict of the jury was, not guilty. At the close of the above case, Toadvin & Bell of the counsel for W. W. Lar more in his suit against the B. & A. Railway Co. offered a motion for the removal of the case from Wicomico county to Worcester county for trial. Counsel for defendants wanted the case taken to Somerset county. The Court will most likely order the case removed to Talbot.

Tuesday morning the case of State vs. John H. Smith, indicted for forgery, was tried. Not guilty was the verdict of the jury. The afternoon session was taken up in closing the dockets, after which Court adjourned.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures all wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty cents a bottle.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT CONTRACT.

Reduction in Cost and Increased Service by New Arrangement.

The new street and public Electric Contract, briefly mentioned in the last issue of the ADVERTISER, calls for two hundred and forty sixteen candle power lights or equivalent, burning all and every night, excepting the small circuit where the arcs are located, and being turned on at midnight. Sixteen lights of sixteen candle power for the City Hall, and seven enclosed five Ampere arc lights of twelve hundred candle power burning every night until 12 o'clock for the sum of two hundred dollars per month continuously for five years from January 1st, 1901. Each additional sixteen candle power light is to be eight and one half dollars per annum and extra arcs are to be furnished for fifteen cents per night for each lamp. The saving by this arrangement over the old contract which would have expired June 1, 1902, is nine hundred and twelve dollars and seventy-five cents ($912.75) per year; or in other words the sixty new Incandescent and two arc lights are practically secured without any increase of former payments. This is a very appreciable reduction in the price of street lighting, being exactly one half per light compared to prevailing figures when the Messrs. Johnson came to our city, and these gentlemen state that the present prices are equivalent to gas at fifty cents per thousand feet. They also believe, after investigating, that the private lighting rates are much more moderate than in other towns and cities. The service is certainly very good.

It requires ten miles of pole line and nearly fifty thousand pounds of bare copper wire to supply current for illumination. The plant is equipped with the most modern machinery and instruments, and its splendid water power, second only to the Brandywine, is supplemented with a modern 100 horse steam power for emergencies.

A Voice From the Philippines.

Mr. Lambert W. Adkins, of this city, has received letters recently from his son George L. Adkins a private in Co. G. 42d U. S. V., now stationed at Manila. Mr. Adkins writes that the troops in the islands are not at present very active, as the "rebels" are now quiet. For having the best kept uniform and gun, he had recently been chosen orderly by the ranking officer, a position much sought after by the men.

Mr. Adkins sent his father a copy of the "Manila Times," dated August 9th. The paper is an eight page daily, owned by a syndicate. Its news and editorial columns deal with the Philippine problem and the commercial interests of the islands. The advertising columns show that the merchants and the public believe in the value of advertising.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The Teachers Ask for Help on a Variety of Puzzling Educational Problems.

OTHER MATTERS OF INTEREST TO THE SCHOOLS.

Taking the ADVERTISER and Professor LeFevre seriously, the teachers of the county have seized the opportunity to ask some questions which bear upon their work, and the answering of which will give them a new insight to their duties. The questions will be answered in these columns from week to week, in the order in which they come, by Prof. LeFevre.

The answers will be in the form of essays, of a scientific character, which will prove beneficial and interesting reading, not only to the teachers of the county but to the parents and more advanced pupils, as well as the educated public at large. Below follows a number of questions received at the office since our announcement last week.

QUESTION 1.

Messrs. Editors.—If the teachers will only take advantage of your most excellent offer I believe great good will result to us. As a starter I would like to ask Prof. LeFevre to show why it is especially important that the teacher understand the elements of psychology.

QUESTION 2.

Editors ADVERTISER.—I note what you say in your last issue about starting a teacher's column and I believe it can be made a good thing for us teachers. As Prof. LeFevre proposes to confine himself largely to the philosophy of teaching I will ask him to explain to me what faculty or faculties of the mind need to be educated in order to develop self-control.

QUESTION 3.

Editor Teacher's Column.—What is the best way to revive the attention of a languid or disorderly class?

QUESTION 4.

Editor Teacher's Column.—We frequently hear it said that reading is less effectively taught than other subjects. Will you please mention some defects in our teaching this subject that give rise to such statements?

QUESTION 5.

Mr. Editor.—I feel that to teach pupils how to study aright is one of the highest functions of the public school. Will you briefly outline a plan for accomplishing this result?

QUESTION 6.

Prof. LeFevre.—What course would you advise for a teacher who does not love her profession but who is willing to follow suggestions intended to form a greater attachment for her work of teaching?

Despondent.

The increased basis of taxation enables the State Comptroller, for the first time at this quarterly distribution to apportion to each county of the State a larger sum for public school purposes than usual.

Under the law the Comptroller is directed "to equalize as far as possible the sums to be apportioned so as to apportion and distribute the same amount as far as may be practicable" on January 1, March 15, June 15 and October 1 in each year. Heretofore the sum of $100,000 has been apportioned at each of the distributions in October, January and March, leaving the remainder of the public school tax to be distributed on June 15. The Comptroller, in view of the large amounts accruing to this fund under the increased basis of taxation and under the authority above mentioned, has apportioned $125,000 to the white schools in the October distribution and will apportion the same amount in January and March next.

The October distribution is payable the 15th of the month. By the new apportionment the white schools of Wicomico county will receive this quarter the sum of $2,669.91; and the colored schools the sum of $998.77, which shows an appreciable increase over former October apportionments.

In another column appears a complete and correct list of the teachers of the county, the school they are teaching and their school address. When the two new schools are organized, the names of the teachers and their addresses will be given in this column.

The Great Rhoda Royal Shows, which are billed for this town Friday Oct 12th., are certainly entitled to patronage. Every town or city in which this gigantic amusement enterprise has been seen this season, its spacious tents have been filled by the best of the amusement loving public. The features are certainly calculated to please, and this fact coupled with the carefully considered reputation of the show in general, has established for it a record that cannot fail to recommend it to all.

Manager I. V. Streibig says: "The Great Rhoda Royal Shows intend to win for itself a reputation solely on its merits. We make no promises we do not fulfill; advertise nothing we do not show; and give a clean, pure show, at which the least offense can be taken. We want the public to tell us of any shortcomings and we make them our critics. Our employees must be courteous and always study the interests of the people and our own."

DEMAND RECOGNITION.

Striking Miners Declare They Will Not Accept Companies' Offer.

MORE TROOPS ORDERED HOME.

The Work of Relief Now Being Considered by the Leaders—To Establish Supply Depots Where the Needy Will Be Provided For.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 4.—Although most of the big companies have offered mine workers 10 per cent net increase in wages, not a move has yet been made by any of the strikers towards a resumption of work. The way the men have thus far stood together without showing any weakness in any part of the ranks is considered remarkable by many persons in this region. That a break will come sooner or later, however, is believed by many to be certain. It is pointed out that as the strikers' funds grow smaller their hope will become fainter, and they will then readily accept the 10 per cent offered by the companies. But against this argument is that of the labor leaders, who stoutly maintain, as they did before the increase was offered, that the men will stand fast like so many rocks against what they term an unsatisfactory concession on the part of the operators.

The question of relief is now receiving serious consideration by the United Mine Workers' officials. Contrary to the general impression, the striking mine workers will not be given cash in the way of relief, but will be provided by the union with provisions and clothing for every member of each family needing assistance. It is believed the plan to be adopted will provide for the establishment of supply depots in each mining town, in charge of the local union officials, where the work will be resumed at an early day. The United Mine Workers will pay for the supplies. The non-union men on strike will be just as well taken care of as if they belonged to the miners' organization.

A conference was held last night by the officials of the United Mine Workers, which lasted for an hour and a half. At its conclusion President Mitchell said the meeting was held for the purpose of canvassing the entire situation. It was found, he said, that only about 5,000 of the mine workers out of 142,000 were still on strike, and it is asserted all will soon quit.

SKILLED MINERS GETTING SCARCER

Many of the Best Workmen Have Gone to Wales.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 3.—Neither the operators or the striking miners expect any change in the Wyoming valley until the union miners take official action on the 10 per cent increase in wages offered by the big coal companies. The talk about the individual operators objecting to the offer made to the men by the companies is not taken seriously by the trade here.

The question of manning the mines should work be resumed at an early day is now becoming a serious question. Before the strike was begun experienced miners were scarce, and for the want of competent men many "breasts" in the mines which the operators worked had to remain idle. Since the strike began hundreds of the best miners have left the country for Wales. The places of these men cannot be filled at once.

Councilman D. W. Jones, of this city, who has just returned from Wales, says since the great coal strike in that country has been settled miners are very scarce. The old hands left for other parts, many going to the war in South Africa and others to Australia. There is a scarcity of labor. American miners are in demand, and relatives of Welsh-American miners are writing daily for them to come back to the old country. It does not require a second invitation for many. With the promise of good wages and steady work they are leaving on every ship.

Charles Mardus, a striker at the Clear Springs Brook colliery, at West Pittston, who was shot last Friday night, died yesterday at the hospital at that place. Mardus and a companion were seen by two watchmen at the colliery as they were trying to break into the company's office. As the watchman approached the men ran. Watchman Thomas Williams shouted to them to stop, but they continued to run, and Williams fired. The ball struck Mardus in the back.

The parade and mass meeting at Wilkesbarre on Tuesday was the greatest labor demonstration ever held in northwestern Pennsylvania, there being fully 15,000 men and boys in line, and at the mass meeting fully 20,000 listened to a speech by President Mitchell in which he declared that the strike could not be settled except by the decision of a convention of miners.

Wilkesbarre's mayor congratulated the mine workers' officials on the remarkable order shown throughout the demonstration.

THE DEMAND FOR RECOGNITION.

It May Prolong the Big Strike For Many Weeks to Come.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 4.—None of the insurgent operators have come over to the side of the three companies offering the 10 per cent increase, and of all that are standing out the Delaware and Hudson is the only one that says it may come into the agreement.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western expects that the offer will have the effect of bringing around enough men to start a few of its collieries. The Cayuga, in North Scranton, was counted upon as the one most likely to have a goodly response to its offer. Last night Local Union No. 808, of the United Mine Workers, which embraces the Cayuga workers, met in St. Mary's Hall and adopted a resolution declaring the members would pay no heed to the 10 per cent offer, and that no further action would be taken until advices were received from President Mitchell.

The sentiment here is strongly in favor of demanding the recognition of the union as a condition precedent to any negotiations for settlement. Should this sentiment prevail the strike will be of long duration, it is expected, as the operators positively assert that under no condition will the union be recognized.

MORE TROOPS LEAVING FOR HOME

Another Notice From the Reading Company Ignored by the Strikers.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 4.—The only important development in the strike situation in this district yesterday was the posting of notices by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company at all of its collieries and in conspicuous places in the towns and mining "patches," announcing a net increase of 10 per cent in wages and a willingness to hear the grievances of its employees.

The local and district organizers were on the alert, and in less than five minutes after the company's proposal had been placarded a warning to the mine workers was circulated. The impression here is that none of the strikers will attempt to return to work until so ordered by President Mitchell.

There are no indications of trouble in the Panther Creek valley. Gen. Gobin says he will be ready if troops are needed. The Eighth regiment left for home today, and the Twelfth left on Monday. There now remains but a battery of artillery and a company of mounted troops.

A MONSTER'S MONSTROUS DEATH.

Burned to Death at the Stake For Attempted Criminal Assault.

Wetumpka, Ala., Oct. 3.—Winfield Townsend, alias Floyd, a negro, was burned at the stake in the little town of Eclectic, 15 miles from this place, a half hour after midnight yesterday morning. The crime with which he was charged was an attempted assault upon Mrs. Lonnie Harrington. Mr. Harrington was engaged at a cotton gin in Eclectic and lives one mile out of town. The negro went to the house Monday afternoon and told Mrs. Harrington that her husband had sent him to get 20 cents from her. She told him she had no change. Then the negro left, but returned in about ten minutes. The woman's screams were heard by Bob Nichols, another negro, who ran to the house in time to see Floyd escape. As soon as Mrs. Harrington was brought back to consciousness Nichols gave the alarm.

Work was generally suspended, and everybody joined in the man hunt. Finally the negro was tracked by bloodhounds to a tree on the outskirts of the town. He was brought down from the tree, taken to the scene of his crime, fully identified, and a vote was taken on the mode of death, the decision being that he should die by fire. Fastened by chains to a stake and pine knots piled about him, his victim's husband set fire to the pile and his body was reduced to ashes. His shrieks could be heard for half a mile. Before the burning he confessed his crime and others of a like nature.

New York's Congressional Nominees

New York, Oct. 4.—Nominations for congress were made by Democrats last night in all the districts in New York county. The nominees are: Seventh district, Nicholas Muller (renominate); Eighth, T. J. Creamer, now an assistant corporation counsel; Ninth, Henry M. Goldfogle, to succeed Congressman T. J. Bradley; Tenth, Amos J. Cummings (renominate); Eleventh, William Sulzer (renominate); Twelfth, George B. McClellan (renominate); Thirteenth, O. H. P. Belmont, to succeed Jeff M. Levy; Fourteenth, John Sprunt Hill, to succeed William Astor Chanler; Fifteenth, Jacob Ruppert, Jr., (renominate).

Georgia's Democratic Majority.

Atlanta, Oct. 4.—Reports received from all parts of the state indicate that the Democratic majority in yesterday's general election for state officers, members of the assembly and local county officers will be about 50,000. The Democratic state officers elected are: Governor, Allen D. Candler; secretary of state, Phil Cook; attorney general, J. M. Terrell; comptroller general, W. A. Wright; treasurer, R. E. Park; commissioner of education, G. R. Glenn; commissioner of agriculture, O. B. Stevens.

To Reconstruct the Steamer Main.

New York, Oct. 4.—Gustav Schwab, of the North German Lloyd steamship line, yesterday confirmed the telegraphic report from Newport News to the effect that the steamer Hip Main, recently damaged in the Hoboken fire, would be rebuilt at Newport News at an expense of $600,000. The Saale has not yet been sold, but is for sale, and the Bremen will be taken to Philadelphia, where she will be repaired.

Peru's New Cabinet.

Lima, Peru, Oct. 4.—Senhor Domingo Almenara has succeeded in forming a new cabinet, which is constituted as follows: Premier and minister of finance, Senhor Domingo Almenara; foreign affairs, Senhor Felipe Ohno; commerce, Senhor Ernest Zapata; justice, Senhor Rafael Villanueva; war and marine, Col. Pedro Portillo; public works, Senhor Augustin Torar.

Found Dead in His Mansion.

New York, Oct. 4.—Millionaire James O. West was found dead yesterday in a second story back room of a vacant Fifth avenue mansion that he himself owned. An autopsy on Mr. West's body showed the presence of 11 gall stones, and the physicians report that death was caused by a rupture of the heart superinduced by the extreme agony caused by these stones. He was 69 years old.

Hunter Killed by Falling Tree.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 4.—Frank Pope, a hunter, was instantly killed at Harvey's lake by a big tree falling upon and crushing him. Pope started out coon hunting Tuesday night. After tramping the woods for some time he treed a coon and proceeded to cut down the tree, so the dogs could get at him. The tree in falling struck and crushed Pope, and he died soon afterward.

The Yellow Fever in Havana.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Private letters received from Havana indicate that much apprehension exists among the Americans there regarding the yellow fever, as the condition grows worse instead of improving. Civilian employees in Cuba seem to be subject to the disease and in several government offices many have been stricken. There is yet no fear of the fever spreading among the troops.

SOME OPINIONS OF MR. ROOSEVELT.

On page 295, of the Sept., 1898 "Review of Reviews," Theodore Roosevelt made the following statement:

"The men who object to what they style 'Government by injunction' are, as regards to essential principles of government, in hearty sympathy with their remote ancestors who lived in caves, fought one another with stone headed axes, and ate the mammoth and woolly rhinoceros. They are interesting as representing a geological survival, but they are dangerous whenever there is the least chance of their making the principles of this age-buried past living factors in our present life. They are not in sympathy with men of good minds and sound character."

In the Century Magazine for February 1898 an article appeared from the pen of Col. Roosevelt, entitled "Ranch Life in the Far West." On page 502 appears the following:

"When drunk on the villainous whiskey of the frontier towns, they (the cowboys and rough riders), cut mad an tics, riding their horses into the saloons, firing their pistols right and left, from boisterous light-heartedness rather than from any viciousness, and indulging too often in deadly shooting affrays, brought on either by accidental contact of the moment or on account of some long-standing grudge, or perhaps because of bad blood between the ranches or localities."

But they are much better fellows and pleasanter companions than the small farmers or agricultural laborers; nor are the mechanics of a great city to be mentioned in the same breath with them."

In 1898 G. P. Putnam's sons issued from their press a book by Mr. Roosevelt entitled "American Ideals, and other Essays." In this book Mr. Roosevelt takes occasion to discuss at length several American problems, social and political. In his essay on "The Manly Virtues and Practical Politics," written in 1897 he says:

"At best the inhabitants of a colony are in a cramped and unnatural state. At worst, the establishment of a colony prevents any healthy popular growth. At present the only hope for a colony that wishes to attain full moral and mental growth, is to become an independent state. A colony is in a false position. But if the colony is in a region where the colonizing has to do its work by means of other inferior races, its condition is much worse. From the standpoint of the race, little or nothing has been gained by the English conquest of Jamaica. Jamaica has been merely turned into a negro island, with a future much like that of San Domingo, British Guiana, however well administered, is nothing but a colony where a few hundred or a few thousand white men hold the superior positions, while the bulk of the population is composed of Indians, Negroes and Asiatics."

In his speech at Saginaw, Michigan on Sept. 7, Col. Roosevelt said:

"The issue of the campaign is contained in that placard: Let well enough alone."

"Old man well enough is old man good enough, and it is the best to let him alone."

On the third day of last April, President David Star Jordan, of Leland Stanford University, said in an interview; when asked which view of the issue of imperialism, McKinley's or Bryan's, was gaining most among the people:

"Let me quote you Roosevelt on that. He said to me last week:

"Jordan, I wish to God we were off the Philippines and had them off our hands, and many other Republicans are thinking the same."

"I am free to quote Roosevelt, because I consider him in many respects one of the greatest men in the Republican party"

How do you like McKinley?" was asked President Jordan.

"Let me quote you Roosevelt again," was his reply. He said to me:

"McKinley has about as much backbone as a toy chocolate man that you can see on the confectioner's stand. He is a terrible disappointment."

WHAT OF CUBA?

Does the Administration and the Republican party propose to give Cuba her freedom? The oft repeated statements of a determination to keep the pledge made by Congress at the beginning of the war have grown fainter and fainter, and the campaign orators are having very little to say on the subject. On the other hand we see signs that point to the fact that this government is preparing to hold Cuba.

Vast sums of money are being expended there, and especially in Havana, from which this government can expect to receive no benefit if we are to vacate the island.

Moreover, the Cubans are given no place in the army nor in the civil administration which would surely be done if we did not expect to dispute the claim for independence which will surely soon be made.

It is not the question whether our government is better than one set up by the Cubans. It is a question of keeping our promise. Can we break it? We are aware of the fact that they wish to be free from our guardianship. History teaches us that we are but following in the footsteps of England to hold Cuba now. England promised to evacuate Egypt after a period of ten years. Egypt is today a province of the Empire and English capitalists fear not to continue to send money into the valley of the Nile. At a political meeting in Chicago Senator Beveridge expressed the feeling of the Republicans when he said:

"If the opposition," he said, "declare that we ought to set up a separate government over the Philippines because we are setting up a separate government over Cuba, I answer that such an error in Cuba does not justify the same error in the Philippines. I say that for the good of the United States a separate government over Cuba, uncontrolled by the American republic, never should have been permitted."

And yet the claim is made that we are not drifting towards the Empire. Another four years of McKinley will see this country entered upon a career of conquest from which it will be impossible to withdraw.

"THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IS THE PARTY OF THE WHOLE PEOPLE."

The Democratic party is the party of the people—the whole people, without regard to wealth or position, and if Mr. Bryan is elected, as I believe he will be, and a Congress in accord with his views is chosen, such laws will be enacted and administered as will benefit the whole people and oppress none, while the rights of the poor will be protected. There will be no discrimination against the rich; and legitimate corporations, without whose aid we cannot develop our great resources, will be fostered, and their just rights protected. It is only the unjust, the monopolists, the oppressors of the poor, who need fear the success of the Democratic party.—Extract from Congressman Sparkman's speech at Crawfordville, Fla.

At a recent meeting of the City Council the levy was struck for the year 1900, and the tax rate was fixed at 80 cents on the hundred dollars. This is a reduction of five cents on the hundred dollars from the rate of 1899, and is the first time in several years that the rate has been lower than 85 cents. The reduction has been made possible by placing on the tax books all property of whatever description that should pay taxes, and by the annexation of the suburbs. It will be very gratifying to the citizens of the town to know that the Council is doing its best to run the City affairs on an economical basis.

Cable Across The Chesapeake.

Mr. Harry A. Richardson, president of the Diamond State Telephone Company, announces that his company has decided to lay a cable across the Chesapeake bay from Love Point, on the eastern shore, to a point directly opposite in Anne Arundel county, on the western shore. The distance is about 44 miles. The cable is being made. It will contain five double wires, coated with lead and other material. The work of laying will begin in the spring. From the Anne Arundel shore a line will be constructed connecting with the city of Baltimore.

The Diamond State Company controls all the local telephone companies and connects with all the Eastern Shore lines. The cable will give quicker and cheaper communication between Baltimore city and the Eastern Shore and Delaware.

The democrats of Dennis' district organized a Bryan and Stevenson club at Powellville on Tuesday evening. Owing to the very bad weather some persons who anticipate becoming members of the club were prevented from so doing at that time. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday night when the membership is expected to be greatly increased. Mr. Marcellus Dennis was elected President, Mr. Lee Laws was made Secretary and Messrs. John E. Edwards and Jno. L. Powell were chosen as Vice-Presidents.

At their board meeting last Tuesday the School Commissioners awarded the contract for the building of two new school houses to Mr. Wm. J. Egan of Salisbury. The one to be built on the road between Fruitland and Burnt Mills is to cost $380.00 and the one on the Spring Hill road at the corner of the Dorman farm is to cost $284.00. The Board has sold the old school house and lot in California to Stansbury Short.

—Miss Emily R. Cox who has been the guest of her aunt Mrs. Caroline Morris near Fruitland for several weeks returned to her home in Camden, N. J. last week. She also visited friends and relatives in Somerset county, Pocomoke City and Princess Anne before returning.

Escape Of A Salisbury Native.

The Baltimore Sun of a recent date says: "Mr. John A. Caldwell, of 936 McCulloh street, returned from Galveston, Texas, yesterday with Mrs. Albert S. Drewry, the sister of Mrs. Caldwell. Mr. and Mrs. Drewry had lived in Galveston for 25 years, Mr. Drewry being connected with the Gulf City Cotton Press. They lost all they had in the flood and have decided to return to Maryland to live, Mrs. Drewry being a native of Salisbury, Wicomico county, where she has numerous relatives and friends. Mr. Drewry is detained in Galveston in order to assist in rebuilding the Gulf City Cotton Press.

Mrs. Drewry had a narrow escape. She was with her husband in their home on Thirty-second street, the house being five feet above the ground. The water rose in the house nearly three feet. Everything in it but the pictures on the walls was ruined. Both Mr. and Mrs. Drewry expected the house to be swept away or to be crushed under falling buildings, but it escaped both disasters. Their colored cook was drowned at their back gate. Mr. Caldwell says that when he left Galveston there were being found daily from 50 to 100 bodies. All were much decomposed and were drawn from the debris with large wooden rakes. They were buried where found. A small stake marked the grave and a piece of the clothing, if any was left on the body, was tied to the stake for purposes of identification."

Mrs. Caldwell and her daughters occasionally visit Salisbury where they have friends. Mrs. Drewry's visits during the last twenty-five years here have been very infrequent.

"Religion is Italy."

Rev. Dr. J. H. Eager, pastor of the Seventh Baptist Church, Baltimore, Md., will deliver a lecture on the above topic at Branch Hill Baptist Church Oct. 10th, at 7.30 p. m. The lecture will be without charge but a collection will be taken.

Dr. Eager was a missionary in Italy several years and his lecture will be instructive and entertaining. All cordially invited. T. W. T. Noland, Pastor.

desires to inform an anxious public that he had written one of the best advertisements he ever wrote for this week's paper. It was full of wit and humor and would sell patent medicines to a man who was never sick in his life. Lacy had it all ready for use, had it wrapped in white tissue paper and had a few moth balls scattered around between the lines, when last Saturday night Thoroughgood straggled into Ulman's Opera House to see Murray and Mack. Well, every joke Thoroughgood had used, every argument he had produced, was used by Murray and Mack's troupe, and now Lacy Thoroughgood is compelled to announce that without joking he

Miss Myrtle Phillips, who has been visiting relatives in Laurel and Delmar returned to her home Saturday.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Tainter, who left their country residence the first of September for an extended trip north, are now traveling through the New England States. They expect to return to Baltimore and spend the winter there with their daughters Misses Blanche and Marie who are students at the State Normal School. This is the Misses Tainter's graduating year at that institution.

Miss Mabel Bailey, a member of the Senior class of the Salisbury High School, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents near town. Although Miss Bailey had attended only the Grammar School of this place she entered unconditionally the High School, which was a source of gratification to her many friends in Quantico and a proof of her marked ability as a student.

Messrs. Albert Robertson and James Gordy have formed a partnership for the carrying on of a general wheelwright and blacksmith business in Quantico. They have rented the shop known as the "Jim Freney" shop for their business. Both are skilled mechanics and will in all probability have a good trade with the public.

Mrs. Janie Gordy is ill at her home in Quantico.

SHARPTOWN.

A. Jackson Howard is erecting a very fine residence for himself on Main Street, between the residence of J. T. Bailey and W. H. Williams. A. W. Robinson is erecting a large back building and making many changes and improvements around his premises. Joseph W. Phillips has made some changes in his residence on Main street by putting in new windows and enlarging the front room and he has also made some changes in his store room adjoining residence. Arnold Elzey is making some improvements to his residence on Main Street.

The busy band of improvement is still active in our town. A spirit of progress is upon the people and every one seems to strive for something better and higher. There is a short recess in the basket factory which will last only a few weeks. Every other industry is pushing ahead.

Some of our merchants are taking invoice of stock which shows a large increase over a year ago.

Albert W. Griffith has opened an oyster saloon on Ferry street where he keeps oysters and serves in all styles at all hours.

J. P. Cooper and B. H. Phillips took an outing last week, visiting Baltimore, Washington, Georgetown and other places. They came home much encouraged for their winter business.

The Wm. H. Whiting towed a scow, with a large building on it from Maryland to Crisfield a few days ago. The voyage was quickly made and without the slightest mishap.

The registers were very busy on Tuesday and added quite a lot of names.

Rev. E. H. Miller of the M. E. Church is arranging for special service on Sunday next and will conduct revival during next week.

B. P. Gravenor and wife made a trip to Baltimore last week and Mrs. Gravenor's millinery store now looks gay and stylish.

Wesley Moore left Thursday for Baltimore to bring his wife home. She has been at Johns Hopkins Hospital for treatment and is very much improved now.

Mr. Seven C. Bradley, of this place is visiting his brother, Mr. Washington Bradley in Virginia.

FRUITLAND.

Mrs. Merrill Hastings and two sons Clyde and Edgar, of Smithville Caroline Co., are spending a few days with relatives at this place.

Messrs. L. T. Price, D. H. Bette and C. S. Gosslee all of this place are now working in a lumber yard at Parkley, Va.

Mr. John H. Dulany spent a part of this week in Baltimore, Philadelphia and other cities, purchasing a full line of new fall goods for the firm of I. H. A. Dulany & Sons, of which he is a member.

Capt. H. E. Parks and family of Holland's Island spent a few days of last week as guests of Mrs. M. J. Crouch.

Miss Addie Cathell of Westover who has been visiting friends at this place returned to her home on Saturday last.

Miss Bella Pollitt of Baltimore is now the guest of her aunt Mrs. Mary J. Ryall.

Miss Ella Messick left on Wednesday for Capitol.

Mr. Geo. E. Price who has been on the sick list for some time is now on the road to speedy recovery.

Miss Stella Crouch returned on Wednesday of last week from a visit to her sister on Holland's Island.

A special service known as "Old Folks Day" is being prepared for Sunday next Oct. 7th, at St. John's M. E. Church. Invitations have been sent to a great many old persons and should any have been missed, we trust that no one will think it was intentional and hope that all who can do so will come and enjoy a day with the old folks.

Miss Ida Hayman who has been sick with continued fever for the past four weeks, is now slowly improving to the delight of her friends.

Mr. S. E. Hayman left on Wednesday for Philadelphia, to purchase his fall goods.

The "Democratic mass meeting" held in Salisbury was attended by Messrs. George C. Larmore and Dashiell Hopkins of this place.

Capt. W. P. Dickerson and family moved to Baltimore this week, where the Capt. will resume his work in the oyster business this winter.

Miss Beatrice Robertson, one of the teachers of this place, spent Saturday and Sunday with her aunt in Jester-ville.

Fox hunting is one of the favorite sports of this community. Messrs. Irving Jones and Wm. Brady, in company with several others, enjoyed a delightful chase on Wednesday of this week.

The oyster-house at Bivalve, owned by Messrs. Geo. D. Inaley and Son, is running on full force. Mr. John W. Inaley, foreman, reports that the oystermen are making large catches and are pulling them well.

The "Tyaskin packing house" has about finished canning tomatoes. It has been working from sixty to seventy hands and has canned, during the season, over seven thousand cases. Mr. Irving Jones, one of the largest tomato growers of this section, has picked about five thousand baskets.

MARDELA SPRINGS

Messrs. W. H. Beach and Thomas R. Bounds have leased the hotel livery stable, and will in the future conduct the livery business of this town. This is a good point for such a business, as many traveling men stop off from the train here, and drive from here to River-ton, Sharptown, Columbia and Ralph's in that direction and Athol, Quantico, and Langralls the other way. We wish them success.

Mr. Charles Bennett, son of Mr. S. W. Bennett of this place, is a student at Goldie's business college, Wilmington.

Mrs. Walter has rented the dwelling of Mr. John T. Wilson, on Main street, recently occupied by Mrs. Ann Maria Bennett, and will in the future reside there.

Our School Examiner, Mr. H. Crawford Bounds has purchased of Mr. George R. Collier, of Salisbury, a handsome and able roadster and we hope to see his pleasant countenance in his old haunts more often in the future.

The Messrs. Lowe of Spring Hill, spent last Sunday with Miss Lily Bacon.

Mr. R. M. Cooper and Miss Jennie Robertson visited Somerset friends last Saturday.

DELMAR

Miss Annie Sirmann gave a lawn party at her home on State St., Tuesday evening, Oct. 2. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the guests were forced to stay indoors, it being too wet on the lawn. Social games and dancing were the principal features of the evening which was very pleasantly spent. Music was excellently rendered by the "Delmar Cornet Band." Miss Mitchell of Salisbury, entertained the guests by reciting two very beautiful pieces. At 10.30 the dining room doors were thrown open and the company was invited to partake of a beautiful repast. The dining room and table were beautifully decorated with choice cut flowers and ices and cake were served in abundance. Those present were Hon. W. L. Sirmann, Messrs. W. B. Sirmann, Col. Vincent, S. M. Ellis, H. B. James and Irving Culver; Mesdames W. B. Sirmann, Collins Vincent, S. M. Ellis, H. B. James, W. C. Truitt and R. Ship-pard; Secretary, John Brittingham; Treasurer, John W. Evans; Librarians, Walter Sheppard and Ryland Taylor; Organist, Maude Pope. Sunday School is held at 9.30 a. m.

The Christian Endeavor Officers in the Methodist Protestant Church are the following: President, J. Ryland Taylor; Vice President, Miss Minnie Wimbrow; Secretary, Minos Trader; Cor. Secretary, Miss Bertha Sheppard; Treasurer and Choister, Wayne Wroten; Organist, Miss Minnie Wimbrow.

Western Maryland College.

Possibly it may be interesting to the many friends of the college to learn that we are still moving forward. Wicomico has lost two students, Miss White and Mr. Elderidge. We have gained one, Mr. Levin I. Inaley who is a member of the Sophomore class. In number of students we compare favorably with the other years. While the number of boys is not as large as last year the number of girls far exceeds that of last year. There have been many changes in the Faculty. Noticeable among these is the change in the music department. There are three teachers in this department, one devoted her time principally to instruction on pipe organ. Another feature worthy of comment is the improvement of the dining room under the direction of Prof. Holton. The food is more palatable and is served in better shape.

ANOTHER TOWN RISING FROM ITS ASHES.

Onancock, Virginia, Rebuilding in Brick and Making Great Improvements.

Some Stores that Will Rival Those of Far Larger Towns.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

Less than a year ago Onancock was visited by a disastrous fire which swept away the principal stores of the town, thirteen buildings in the main business block being entirely destroyed.

Though deeply deplored at the time, the conflagration, like similar ones in our sister towns on the Eastern Shore, has proven a blessing in disguise; for Onancock's business block has risen Phoenix like from the ashes which marked its smoldering ruins the first of last December. Both Market St. and North St. have been widened and straightened, and the frame structures of ten months ago are replaced by creditable brick buildings, fitted out with all modern appliances for comfort and attractiveness.

Going out Market St. from the hotel are the new stores of Mr. Wm. H. Parker and C. S. Slocomb & Bro. Next comes the immense department store of Ames, Shield & Co. with its plate glass front of forty nine feet. On the corner of Market and North Sts. and opening on both streets is the large drug store of Mr. W. T. Wise. Adjacent to this, on North St. is a wing of Ames, Shields & Co.'s building, on the other side of which are the two stores owned by Capt. J. P. L. Hopkins, one of which is rented for a grocery store, the other for a jewelry store.

The rooms of Ames, Shield & Co. are said to be among the largest and handsomest on the Eastern Shore of Maryland or Virginia. The length from Market street is one hundred and eight feet, while the North street wing, with its front of forty-seven feet, is ninety-eight feet long. The interior of the building is supported by nine white pillars, which, with the walls and ceiling of white cement, do much toward making it the imposing interior it is. The office is of walnut while the staircase is also of hard-wood elaborately carved. From the landing of this staircase one has a view of the entire store, and from this standpoint, more than any other, realizes the size of the structure. The building is lighted by gas, will be heated by hot water, has an elevator, appliances for the cash system, telephone, etc. The line of goods is large and varied, in every department the taste of the buyers being apparent. The shoe department is especially well equipped.

At the formal opening on October 2d, the store was thronged all day by town and county people, and remarks of admiration and appreciation were heard on every side. The enjoyment of the occasion was enhanced by a series of concerts, consisting of piano solos and music by the Onancock orchestra; the musicians being stationed on the second floor.

It is felt that the past year has been an eventful one in Onancock, and the marked improvements in so short a time are a source of gratification to the people of the town, and it may even be said, to the entire people of Accomack county.

Watson's Special Cigar

It is an old saying that if you tell a man a thing times enough he will believe it. We have told the smokers of America so many times and so forcibly that they ought to try the Watson's Special Cigar that they are taking the advice in vast and constantly increasing numbers. After they have tried it, the cigar does the rest. They find that it is as we claim—the best cigar that can be made and sold for the money. It holds its trade and constantly increases in popularity.

It's a Funny Story But it's a True One...

Four years ago we started in the clothing business in a little store on Dock street believing the people of Salisbury and vicinity had been paying extortionate prices for their wearing apparel. In a few months we found that our then present store room was too small to accommodate our fast growing trade so we decided to move to larger quarters on Main street near the pivot bridge. After doing business there for 2 years our trade had increased with such rapidity that we moved to our present location and we have to day by far the largest retail clothing store on the Peninsula, and we dare say that our yearly output of clothing for men, boys and children is more than any two clothing men in Salisbury combined.

Now we owe our increase of business to the fact that we do business on strictly business principles, the chip that has always been on our shoulder is to give the people better values for their money than they can get elsewhere and our efforts have been crowned with success. It is true that we sell our goods for a very small profit, but it matters not we are going to keep right on just like we have always been doing giving the people better value for their money than they can get any where else. If you are not acquainted with us stop in our store and see us. Learn our way of doing business. We are sure you will like it.

THE FALL OPENINGS.

Beautiful Display of Hats and Millinery.
Crowds of Spectators Admire The Artistic Designs.

The millinery stores of Salisbury are again arrayed in all the glory of "Opening Days," Thursday and Friday of this week having been selected for that most notable event of the millinery world.

Fair lady, you must now put aside your pretty summer fancies and don the richer and more imposing effects which always characterize the autumn fashions. The styles of this season apparently differ quite decidedly from those of former seasons, in that the crowns are not so high and the trimmings of some of the smartest hats are arranged to produce a very flat effect.

Messrs. R. E. Powell & Co as heretofore, have not failed in their endeavor to please their friends. The window decorations are very attractive. In the millinery window is a large arch with a mirror at the back, draped with white gold spangled net gracefully looped with ribbons and ornaments. Three or four of their prettiest trimmed hats and a palm give a pleasing finish. The scene on the second floor, where the millinery establishment is located, is no less attractive. Palms and plants, birds and plumes draperies, and trimmed hats meet the vision on all sides.

A very pretty hat of the popular black and white style, has a tam o' shanter crown of sherry velvet, double brim interlined with white satin. A large black plume falls gracefully at one side while at the front and side is arranged sherry chignon, finished at the back with a large steel oblong buckle.

A much admired turban is constructed with a chenille gimp trim, gilt embroidered crown, green and white trimmings of velvet and crinkled crepe, a long plume at side finished with jet ornament. A pretty little toque for evening wear, had a crown of lace, fur trim, a white feather pompadour at front, cerise velvet trimming, and gilt ornament. There were many others as pretty as the above described.

Mrs. Cannon's fall opening was one of the most attractive of the season. The store was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. Banked at the rear was a quantity of fine fern which gave a very pretty background. The window decorations were also catching, a very large begonia surrounded by millinery trim made one of the windows an object of interest.

Among the most stylish hats was a black picture hat of black velours, just gracefully flaring from off the face and slightly drooping at the back.

Another very stylish hat was one of Easter velvet with a brim of mix fur and faced with soft white material with a crown of white silk embroidery the shade of the velvet, a handsome ostrich pompadour shaded from green to cerise with two lovely gilt ornaments composed the sole outside trimmings.

There was also a number of other very pretty hats in her collection.

Lastly, but by no means least in points of splendor and richness, is the display at Lowenthal's. Before entering the store the eye is attracted by the front window which is most gorgeous in its decorations, composed almost entirely of bright red. The interior is also made very pretty with plants, palms, golden rods, foliage and other decorations, mostly in red and white. A large and handsome collection of hats, toques, turbans and bonnets is shown.

A turban was of velvet in one of the newest shades with a rose crown and trimmed with lace and steel ornament.

Death of Mrs. Hitch.

Mrs. Nancy Hitch, wife of Mr. Robert Hitch, died at her home in California last Sunday evening. Mrs. Hitch had been sick for some time and about two weeks ago Mrs. Morris and Dick performed an operation for strangulated hernia from which she did not recover. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at St. Peter's Church conducted by Rev. A. J. Vanderborght and Rev. Mr. Lennox of the Missionary Baptist Church, after which interment was made in Parsons cemetery.

Mrs. Hitch was sixty-eight years of age and was the daughter of the late Mr. Hiram Hearns of Spring Hill. Besides her husband seven children are surviving, viz: Mrs. Chas. H. Ward of Asbury Park, N. J., Mrs. Lambert W. Adkins and Mrs. Jennie Ellis of Salisbury, Messrs. Herbert H. Hitch, Geo. R. Hitch, Ernest B. Hitch and Clarence Hitch. The family has the sympathy of Mrs. Hitch's many friends who deeply regret her death.

A Wicomico Rider.

On the annual run of the Century Cycling Club of Maryland from Baltimore to Fredrick, which took place on October 7th, Mr. Edgar Freeny, formerly of Spring Hill, being a son of Mrs. Emily Freeny, won the entire admiration of the many starters, and his friends by his wonderful riding, Mr. Freeny made the Century one and one half hours ahead of time, after riding 15 miles in the most hilly part of the state with only one pedal, and afterward riding 31 miles on a flat tire. Mr. Freeny used different wheels on the 100 mile run, and only stopped 35 minutes on the last 50 miles. He also won the medal for which he was riding, and was warmly congratulated by his friends upon his arrival in Baltimore.

GREAT INTEREST IN BRYAN'S COMING.

The Clubs Throughout the County will Attend in a Body—One Hundred and Fifty Prominent Citizens to Meet the Democratic Standard Bearer.

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR AN IMMENSE COURSE OF PEOPLE.

The Democracy of Wicomico county is awake. No longer is there apathy within its ranks. The coming of Hon. Wm. Jennings Bryan to Salisbury, where he will speak for an hour and a half, has done the work. From the oldest Democrat to the young man who is about to cast his first ballot, there is a desire to make Wednesday, October 24th the greatest day in the history of our city. More people will be in Salisbury to see and hear Mr. Bryan than were ever within its borders before. Large crowds have been here on many occasions but the number to hear Mr. Bryan will be a record breaker. The committee on transportation is using its best endeavors to provide a sufficient number of trains to accommodate the throngs from all directions that have indicated their desire to be present on that occasion.

The welcome that will be extended to the Democratic nominee will be a welcome from the Eastern Shore of Maryland, Delaware and Virginia and will be the greatest political meeting ever held in this section of the State. It is hard to estimate the number of people that will be here. It is only a question of getting them here and getting them home. Trains will be run in different sections on the New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk and the Delaware Railroads. The Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway will have every car on its line in use on that day. The steamer "Tivoli" will leave Baltimore at an early hour so that it can reach Salisbury by 8.30 A. M., in ample time for the celebration.

A special escort, consisting of about eight of the prominent business men in town, will go over to Easton Tuesday night and meet our distinguished visitor early Wednesday morning. They will acquaint him of the program of the day and come with him on his special car from Easton to Salisbury. On his arrival here they will be met by the Reception Committee of one hundred and fifty. A procession will then be formed to march down Division street to Main, up Main to St. Peter's and from there to Fireman's Park, where he will address the assembled multitude. It is desired that every Democratic Club in the county shall take part in the procession from the depot to the Park. All visiting clubs will be requested to bring with them, wherever it is possible, their own band.

Governor John Walter Smith, Hon. John P. Moore, Hon. Edwin H. Brown, Hon. Murray Vandiver, Hon. Isidor Rayner, Hon. Isaac Lobe Straus, Hon. Howard Bryant, Hon. L. Victor Baughman and other prominent Democrats will accompany Mr. Bryan from Baltimore to Salisbury and speak in this city in the afternoon and night.

The Democratic Campaign Committee have held several meetings to arrange for the reception of the Democratic leader within our midst. The following committees have been appointed:

Publication and Transportation—M. V. Brewington, J. Cleveland White, Wm. Upshur Polk. Arrangements and Program for the Day—John H. Waller, Ernest A. Toadvine, H. L. Brewington. Finance—Jesse D. Price, Charles E. Harper, William E. Sheppard, James L. Powell, Charles R. Disharoon, Herbert H. Hitch.

The finance committee is expected to collect sufficient funds to defray the expenses of "Bryan Day" in Salisbury. The Salisbury district club and the Parsons district club will meet next Monday evening to appoint ten members from each club to take charge of decorating the grounds. The Democratic clubs throughout the county are requested to send a list of twenty names from each club to the Secretary that they may be enrolled and act as Vice Presidents of the meeting. The following gentlemen compose the Reception Committee:

Judge C. F. Holland, Ex-Gov. E. E. Jackson, Hon. Wm. Levi Laws, H. Wesley Anderson, Charles R. Disharoon, Samuel E. Gordy, Allison A. Gillis, Irving S. Powell, L. Ernest Williams, John D. THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Professor LeFevre Answers the Questions Asked in Last Week's Column.

THE READING CIRCLE TO BE REVIVED.

Every teacher in the county should read the answers Professor LeFevre has made to last week's questions in the Teachers' column.

In order that the reader may have clearly in mind the nature of the questions we have republished them.

QUESTION 1.

Messrs. Editors.—If the teachers will only take advantage of your most excellent offer I believe great good will result to us. As a starter I would like to ask Prof. LeFevre to show why it is especially important that the teacher understand the elements of psychology.

Jacket Duster.

Jacket Duster.—Psychology is closely related to the Art of Teaching. Especially is this science of use to the teacher in the knowledge which it gives him in dealing with that mind. The mind of the pupil is the instrument on which the teacher is required to play—a curious instrument of many and strange keys and stops—capable of being touched to wonderful harmony, and to fearful discord—and to handle the instrument well is no ordinary acquirement. What shall we say of the man who knows nothing of the instrument, but only the music to be performed, nothing of the mind to be taught, but only the knowledge to be communicated? To know the mind that is to be taught, how to stimulate, how to control, how to encourage, how to restrain, how to guide and direct its every movement and impulse—is not this the very first and chief thing to be known?

QUESTION 2.

Editors ADVERTISER.—I note what you say in your last issue about starting a teacher's column and I believe it can be made a good thing for our teachers. As Prof. LeFevre proposes to confine himself largely to the philosophy of teaching I will ask him to explain to me what faculty or faculties of the mind need to be educated in order to develop self control.

X.—The will is the faculty to be developed. It is the executive power of the mind. Whatever we do intelligently and intentionally, whether it implies an exercise of the intellect, or of the feelings, or of both, it is an act of the will. All voluntary movements of the body, and movements of the mind are the immediate results of the activity of the will. Without the faculty of will, man's actions would be the result of mere sensational impulse, and he would be worse off than the brute, that have an unerring instinct to guide them. To this wretched condition man virtually approximates when, by any means, the will becomes so far enfeebled, or brought under the dominion of appetite and passion, as to lose the actual control of the mental and physical powers.

QUESTION 3.

Editor Teacher's Column.—What is the best way to revive the attention of a languid or disorderly class?

Question 3.—In some way put new life into the mode of conducting the OLD FOLKS DAY.

Our Fruitland Correspondent Gives an Interesting account of a Unique Church Service.

"Old Folks Day" at the St. John's M. E. Church on Sunday last, Oct. 7th, was largely attended by both old and young.

This being something entirely new every one seemed anxious to know what the form of service would be, consequently before the hour for service the seats were most all filled with an expectant audience.

A fifteen minute song service opened the exercises. "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," led by Mr. I. H. A. Dulany, "On Jordan's Stormy Banks I stand" by Mr. A. B. Crouch, "How Tedious and Tasteless the Hours" by Mr. Littleton Smith of Sharps Point. All of these are between seventy and eighty years old.

Mrs. D. F. Messick led the hymn before and Mrs. Sally Ruark the hymn after the very brief but interesting sermon by the Pastor, Rev. W. O. Bennett. Messrs. Geo. W. Cathell and I. H. A. Dulany lifted the collection with hats (the old way.) Rev. Hooper McGrath was chosen to lead a class meeting after the sermon. He said that he was seventy years old and more than fifty of the seventy had been spent in God's service.

Mrs. Mary E. Smith, a paralytic who has been for three years unable to walk until a short while ago said "tho afflicted and unable even to dress myself I asked the good Lord to help me get out to Church for this service, and He did help me." Though seventy years old she is still very bright.

Mrs. Sarah Smith said she was not so young as she used to be but she was still trusting in the Lord. Others between sixty five and eighty years of age who testified in the class meeting were viz, Mr. Littleton Smith of Sharps Point and wife Mrs. Charlotte Smith, Mr. B. I. Dixon, Rev. C. M. Chaplain, Mrs. Amanda Pollitt, Mrs. Caroline Pollitt, Mr. Richard Jenkins, Mrs. Caroline Fields, Mrs. Charlotte Carey, Mrs. Sallie Ruark, Mrs. Mahala Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. A. Dulany, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Cathell, Mrs. Jas. Dykes, Mr. Wm. Grey and Mr. C. C. Washburn. Most of these had been members of the Methodist Church for fifty years or more.

A class of Probationers numbering twenty or more were received in full membership by the pastor. Services closed at one thirty.

At three o'clock another service was held, which included a select reading, entitled "The Pilgrim Entered In" by Miss Glorice Hearn and recitations "We are Growing Older every Year" by Miss Florence Carey and "The Methodist Hotel" by Miss Stella Crouch. Mrs. W. O. Bennett with organ accompaniment by Mrs. E. H. B. Taylor, sang very effectively "The Model Church" bringing tears to the eyes of many.

These beautiful services, long to be remembered by all who were present, closed with the song "We'll Never say Good bye," with benediction by Rev. Hooper McGrath, followed by a hearty hand shake, each one rejoicing that they had been privileged to attend such a service with veterans of the cross who will probably never all meet together again until the final day of Judgment.

More than one hundred and fifty in vitations had been issued to persons over fifty years of age.

ROYAL

The absolutely pure BAKING POWDER

ROYAL—the most celebrated of all the baking powders in the world—celebrated for its great leavening strength and purity. It makes your cakes, biscuit, bread, etc., healthful; it assures you against alum and all forms of adulteration that go with the cheap brands.

Alum baking powders are low priced, as alum costs but two cents a pound; but alum is a corrosive poison and it renders the baking powder dangerous to use in food.

EASTERN SHORE EXHIBIT.

Proposed for the Great Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, N. Y.

Inasmuch as it is contemplated by the Eastern Shore Board of Development to have a diversified exhibit of the wonderful resources of the Maryland Peninsula at the Pan-American Exposition next year at Buffalo, N. Y., a few facts relating to this great event might be of interest to our readers.

The Exposition grounds are within the city limits of Buffalo, and embrace 350 acres, one mile long and half a mile wide including 133 acres of beautiful park land and lakelets.

Upwards of $8,000,000 will be expended in buildings, the beautifying of grounds, advertising, etc. There will be over twenty large buildings and architectural works. The Manufacturers building will be 500 by 350 feet, as will also be the Machinery and Transportation building.

Fifteen acres have been set aside for State and foreign buildings. New York State is now erecting a magnificent permanent historical building of white marble, to cost nearly $800,000.

The Stadium for sports covers ten acres, and will seat 25,000 people. Here will be held the greatest athletic carnival ever conceived. The Midway will cover twenty acres, and the attractions are being carefully selected and will surpass those seen at the Columbian Exposition at Chicago.

The electrical display will be the greatest ever seen in this or any other country. The building in which will be displayed electrical appliances only is to be 500 by 150 feet. There will be 100,000 electric lamps distributed in and about the Court of Fountains, and a steel tower for electric display and observation 348 feet high. Electric boats and gondolas will ply upon the Grand Canal, and the power of Niagara Falls, electrically applied, is to run all the machinery of the Exposition.

Extensive horticultural, fruit, and floral displays are contemplated, and the Agricultural building, a beautiful structure, is to be 500 by 150 feet. The live stock exhibit is to cover ten acres, and will embrace all classes.

Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippines and all the South American Republics will have comprehensive exhibits, that from Mexico to be particularly full and attractive, a building for this display now being erected by the Mexican government.

The Federal Government building, which is fast reaching completion, will be a fine structure, having therein displays by all departments. Congress appropriated $500,000 for the Government's exhibit and building.

The grand music gardens for entertaining vast assemblages will be a feature. The largest chime of bells in America will be hung in a special Campanile.

With an accommodation for 250,000 people will be the great Esplanade, and the Grand Court will be 3,000 feet long, with transverse court of 1,700 feet.

The exposition will open on May 1st, and continue until November 1st.

Colonel Oswald Tilghman, president of the Eastern Shore of Maryland Board of Development, will announce in a few days the committee which is to have in charge the matter of an exhibit at Buffalo. This committee will be composed of one representative citizen from each of the counties composing the Maryland Peninsula and as soon as it is organized active work will commence and frequent meetings held at all the county seats for the purpose of discussing the subject and devising ways and means for a creditable display at the Exposition.

The headquarters of the Board of Development have been established at Easton, where President Tilghman or Secretary W. S. McKean can be found any day. Both of these officers are energetically at work in the interests of the Board, and for some days past have visited many near by towns, returning very much encouraged to believe that the Board of Development is going to prove a power for the good of all interests and sections alike. It is to be hoped that the citizens of Wicomico county generally will give the organization that hearty support it so richly deserves, and that many of our people will enroll as members.

Exposure to a sudden climatic change produces cold in the head and catarrh is apt to follow. Provided with Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh. Price 50 cents at Druggists or Ely Brothers, 50 Warren Street, New York, will mail it. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation, cleanses and cures. Cream Balm quickly cures the cold.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

recitation. Your old method is at fault. Surely there is some way to arrest and to detain the thoughts of your pupils. The best way to gain attention is to clothe your work in a fashion that will appeal to child life and awaken interest. Attention etymologically means bending to or stretching toward—an act that implies an attracting power. Any object not interesting in itself may become interesting through becoming associated with an object in which an interest already exists. Begin with the line of your pupil's native interests, and offer him objects that have some immediate connection with these.

QUESTION 1.

Editor Teacher's Column.—We frequently hear it said that reading is less effectively taught than other subjects. Will you please mention some defects in our teaching this subject that give rise to such statements?

Teacher.

Teacher.—We frequently find reading less effectively taught than other subjects, because, during the first three or four years in school it is difficult for children to get at the thought in their reading lessons, and in the higher grades, it is usually a difficult matter to lead pupils to study a reading lesson in the careful manner with which they study a lesson in arithmetic or geography. As the leading idea throughout the whole course in reading should be the thought side, the most successful teacher of the art is he who can best inspire a love for literature. Our ideal should be, that the child should have a personal interest in what is read, a personal hunger for it, and a personal power of satisfying this appetite. It should be the aim of teachers to secure the very best kind of supplementary reading matter suited to the wants and needs of young children. Instead of repeated reviews of old lessons, children should have new books that will awaken fresh interest. As soon as they begin to read a story because of its interest, their rapid progress is assured, and if suitable books are placed in their hands they will read a great deal out of school. The important secondary consideration in teaching reading, the mechanical mental side of the art, is less frequently neglected, and we find the attention of pupils being directed to correct pronunciation, to emphasis, and to inflection. President Eliot, of Harvard, says: "That schooling which results in this taste for good reading has achieved a main end of elementary education, and that schooling which does not result in implanting this permanent taste has failed."

QUESTION 2.

Mr. Editor.—I feel that to teach pupils how to study aright is one of the highest functions of the public school. Will you briefly outline a plan for accomplishing this result?

A. B. C.

A. B. C.—Application is a habit. Pupils must learn how to apply their minds or thought to a subject for the purpose of acquiring knowledge, and the difficulty of the attainment is hardly less than its importance. It can be made only by earnest effort, resolute purpose, diligent culture, and training. There must be strength of will to take command of the mental faculties, and make them subservient to its purpose. There must be determination to succeed. A regular time and a suitable place for studying are great aids. It is impossible to do thorough work unless the lesson is read with fixed and careful attention, every word observed, every sentiment weighed. While the attention is divided and the mind distracted, nothing can be clearly and definitely apprehended; the rays are not brought to a focus, and the mental eye, instead of a clear and well defined image, perceives nothing but a shadowy and confused outline. The mind while in this state acts to little purpose. It is shorn of its strength. The power of commanding the attention and concentrating the mental energy upon a given subject requires education, and it is not easily acquired nor always possessed.

QUESTION 3.

Prof. LeFevre.—What course would you advise for a teacher who does not love her profession but who is willing to follow suggestions intended to form a greater attachment for her work of teaching?

Despondent.

Despondent.—Cultivate a love for your work at once or else stop teaching. Despondency is usually a form of disease, the result of some physical derangement, and it sometimes deepens into a fixed and permanent disorder of the mind, and constitutes one of the most pitiable and hopeless forms of insanity.

TEACHERS TO BE TRAINED.

Mr. M. Bates Stephens, State Superintendent of the Public Education, is giving special attention to the reorganization of the Maryland State Teachers' Reading Circle, an incorporated educational organization. Mr. Stephens feels there is a need for such a course of professional reading and study as the circle was designed to give, and believes there is a general desire among teachers to avail themselves of its benefits.

A three years' course is contemplated, and when it is satisfactorily completed authority is given the State Board of Education to grant a professional certificate. The Superintendent has recommended "Educational Foundations" for this year's reading, and when the State Teachers' Association meets next summer he expects to see a board of managers appointed who will organize the reading and take in charge the interests of the organization. In a circular letter just sent to the County Examiners he urges them to encourage the reading circle plan and acquaint their teachers with its provisions and purposes.

Speaking of the necessity of such an organization, Mr. Stephens said: "The reading circle course for teachers is no experiment, as in several States it is an integral part of the school system. Where properly organized and conducted in these States I am advised that no other agency has contributed so much to the efficiency of teachers and the State's educational progress generally. It stimulates professional study among teachers, broadens their culture and adds to their general knowledge. Probably more than on half of the newly appointed teachers in the counties of Maryland enter upon their work without special training for it. Their equipment to teach may be limited to their ability to answer questions in an examination. In time there will come a realization of sentiment against the practice of allowing persons untrained and lacking professional skill to assume the delicate and important work of educating our youth.

"The advantages of a State reading circle course are definite matter and a definite time for its consideration. It furnishes a definite outline of work for teachers' associations and institutes; it tends to solidify the educational forces of the State by offering a line of study and investigation common to all, and it will suggest the importance of reading professional books. It will be a part of the plan to have established in every county a teachers' library, where such books can be procured without cost to the teachers."

Mr. Stephens is agitating the subject of school libraries and has already received encouraging reports from some of the counties.

To consider the matter of revision of the grades so long in use in this State the State Board of Education, Prof. M. B. Stephens, has appointed the following committee to act with the examiner as chairman: Messrs J. Walter Hufington, Jno. W. Humphreys, Wm. J. Holloway and Virgil Ward, and Misses Grace W. Allen, L. Cora Gillis, Mabel Waller, Beatrice Robertson and Annie M. Brittingham. This committee is asked to meet and make its report on or before December 1st.

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and Home of Swamp-Root dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Women Wonder Why

They are doomed to so much suffering. But are they doomed? Is not the suffering the result of conditions which under skillful treatment might be entirely cured? Thousands of women who had been great sufferers, have learned that suffering was unnecessary after using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It heals diseases of the delicate womanly organs and banishes the headache, backache and other aches which are the consequence of these diseases.

"Favorite Prescription" is absolutely a temperance medicine in the strictest meaning of the term. It contains no alcohol and is free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

"I wrote you for advice February 4th, 1896," writes Mrs. Louis Halstead, of Claremont, New York. "I was suffering with pain from the back of my head down to my heels. Had hemorrhage for weeks at a time, and was unable to sit up for ten minutes at a time. You answered my letter, advised me to use your valuable medicine, viz., Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' also gave advice about injections, baths and diet. To my surprise, in four months from the time I began treatment I was a well woman and have not had the backache since, and now I put in sixteen hours a day at hard work."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Few Words

Pain-Killer

A prominent Montreal clergyman, the Rev. James H. Dixon, Rector St. James and St. John's, Canon of Christ Church Cathedral, writes:—"Permit me to send you a few lines to strongly recommend 'PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER. I have used it with satisfaction for thirty-five years. It is a preparation which deserves full public confidence."

A sure cure for Sore Throat, Croup, Whooping Cough, Chills, Cramps, &c.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c. There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you eat. It artificially digests the food and aids nature in strengthening and reconstructing the exhausted digestive organs. It is the latest discovery of a great and tonic. No other preparation can approach it in efficiency. It instantly relieves and permanently cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Flatulence, Sour Stomach, Nausea, Sick Headache, Gastralgia, Cramps and all other results of imperfect digestion. Price 50c. and $1. Large size contains 2 1/2 times as much. Book all about dyspepsia mailed free. Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

Nasal Catarrh

In all its stages there should be cleanliness. Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It removes catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large size, 50 cents at drug stores or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 54 Warren Street, New York.

A PARODY

Even the most delightful parody ever composed or written is not more pleasant than the tone of one of the pianos.

MORE BLOOD IN STRIKE.

Another Deadly Conflict in the Anthracite Mine Region.

ONE KILLED, TWELVE WOUNDED.

The Dead Man a Special Policeman Who Had Joined a Posse to Protect the Onondaga Colliery From Violence. Hungry Strikers Robbing Nightly.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 11.—A special police officer was instantly killed, another was wounded in the head, a striker was probably fatally shot and ten non-union men were more or less seriously wounded at the Onondaga colliery of Cox Brothers in a clash between the officers and 600 strikers yesterday. The dead man is Ralph Mills, aged 50 years, of Beaver Meadow, one of the officers conveyed in a special train from that place to Onondaga. He was shot through the back.

Wounded: George Kellner, aged 38 years, of Beaver Meadow, also a special officer, received shot wounds in the head, but will recover; Joseph Lesko, aged 38 years, of Shepton, a striker, shot in the groin and will probably die. Ten non-union men were stoned, but only two of them were seriously injured. They are John Van Blargin and James Tosh, of Shepton. The former sustained scalp wounds and the latter had four ribs broken.

The Onondaga colliery having been in operation since the inauguration of the strike, the union men at Onondaga and Shepton, where many of the employees of the Onondaga and Derringer collieries of Cox Bros. & Co. live, decided early yesterday morning to close down the mine. They gathered in groups on the streets as early as 3 o'clock. As the non-union men went to work they were asked by the strikers to remain at home. Some turned back, others did not. Those who went to the colliery were stoned. Van Blargin, one of the non-union employees, attempted to pull a revolver, but the weapon was taken from him and in the beating he received he had several ribs broken. This occurred just before starting time at the mine.

A crowd of men and women attached General Superintendent Kudlick with stones and the crowd marched toward No. 2 colliery a force of policemen attempted to stop them. Then the firing commenced, with the above results. After the shooting the strikers dispersed.

Notices were posted last night by Cox Bros. & Co., at their Onondaga, Derringer, Gowen and Beaver Meadow collieries that there would be a suspension of work until the strike is settled. Not one colliery is now in full operation in the Hazleton district.

NO FURTHER CONCESSIONS.

Prominent Operators Declare They Have Reached Their Limit.

Seranton, Pa., Oct. 10.—Interviews with prominent operators here elicited a uniform declaration that no further concessions or modification of the present offer will be made and that the miners must take it or leave it just as it stands.

They say it is plain and complete, and contains all they can or will concede. The 10 per cent increase means that every man in the anthracite mines is to have $1.10 for the work for which he formerly received $1, the operators say. The powder item is simply a matter of bookkeeping. Instead of giving the miners 10 per cent increase said he will have his credit side increased say 3 per cent and from his debit side will be subtracted 7 per cent or whatever percentage of expense the difference in the cost of his powder amounts to. The purpose is simply to put an end to the howling about powder being sold at exorbitant prices. Powder is the basis of the wage scale, it is explained, and to decrease its cost is to increase the wages. In this region a decrease of $1.25 in a keg of powder means a 7 per cent decrease in the miners' expense. The other 3 per cent will be made up by increasing the allowance per car for cutting and loading. Where a miner gets $1 a car he will under the new scale get $1.10 a car. His net earnings will be the same whether he gets the increase flat or by figuring in the decrease on powder.

Hunger Threatens the Strikers.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 11.—And now hunger is beginning to manifest itself in the families of many of the strikers, and another week of idleness is going to bring distress to the homes of many. Farmers who live close to the mining villages claim that they are being robbed of their property every night. Barns and cellars are broken into, and potatoes, meats and corn carried away. On Monday night a cow was slaughtered in a field near Buttown. The carcass was cut up and carried away in pieces. Last week another farmer nearly lost a cow and two sheep in the same way. Some of the farmers are now protecting their properties with shotguns.

The Seranton Demonstration.

Seranton, Pa., Oct. 11.—Thousands of striking mine workers marched in review through the crowded streets of this city yesterday, and showed their loyalty to the cause for which they have been battling for the past three weeks. Not only did the strikers manifest loyalty to their principles, but showed what confidence they had in their leader, John Mitchell, who came here to participate in the parade and to address the men in mass meeting. Mr. Mitchell, who rode at the head of the procession with Mayor Moir, was enthusiastically cheered. When in his speech he declared the offer of the operators was not enough the sentiment was loudly cheered.

The English Election.

London, Oct. 11.—The Liberals have been doing far better in the counties in the parliamentary general election than they did in the boroughs. Yesterday they gained two more seats. The Ministerialists and the opposition have now gained 27 seats each. Apart from Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's reduced majority in Strathgordon there is little of special interest in yesterday's returns. The Ministerialists now hold 357 seats and the opposition 205.

THE BOXERS' ALLIES.

Triads Repeatedly Defeat the Chinese Imperial Troops.

ENGLAND AGREES WITH GERMANY

An Unreserved and Unconditional Acceptance of the German Proposition—Belief in Berlin That the French Proposal Will Be Saved.

London, Oct. 11.—A special dispatch from Shanghai, dated Oct. 9, says: The "Triads" have met and repeatedly defeated the imperial troops near Kowloon. They are daily gaining fresh adherents. Heavy Russian reinforcements are moving northward from Port Arthur, with the object of relieving pressure upon Mukden. Every place of importance in Manchuria, from Kiakta to the Primorsk boundary and from the Amur to the Great Wall, is now in Russian hands.

A Tien Tsin dispatch of Oct. 9 says: A military order has been issued to the German troops to occupy the railroad from Yang-Tsun to Pekin. The rest of the road will be occupied by the Russians, and the harbor of Ching-Wan-Tao has been allotted to the British.

A detachment of 800 French troops, with six guns, start this morning to relieve the Catholic priests who are held prisoners at Ching-Hsien, 60 miles south.

A detachment of 300 French troops started in the direction of Pao-Ting-Fu Saturday to co-operate with 400 troops reported to have left Pekin. It is understood that Field Marshal Count von Waldersee refused to acknowledge Li Hung Chang's visit Friday. The field marshal goes to Pekin in a few days.

The Morning Post publishes the following dispatch, dated Oct. 2, from Ho-Si-wo, on the Pei Ho: "Gen. Chaffee refused to convey any baggage, although three baggage wagons had been obtained. The American soldiers are glad to go to Manila. The accommodating and polite attitude of the British and Japanese toward Gen. Chaffee is very noticeable. An American today expressed to me a new view of the American withdrawal. 'I favor the withdrawal of our troops,' he said. 'They fought well to reach Pekin, but since that time they have done as little as possible, even for Americans. The presence, being aggressive, only hampers other countries. A thousand men under Gen. Wilson can do more than five thousand under Gen. Chaffee.'"

ENGLAND AGREES WITH GERMANY.

Belief in Berlin That the French Note Will Be Saved.

Berlin, Oct. 11.—Great Britain's answer to Germany's second note was received yesterday. It is an unreserved and unconditional acceptance of the German position. A high official of the foreign office made the following statement on the subject: "Great Britain is following the example of the United States. At the same time she has directed her representative in Pekin to proceed in accordance with Germany's second note. Her answer makes no mention of the German note of September, but there was no necessity for any reference, because the September note merely laid down certain general principles, while the second note developed them into practical suggestions."

So far as the French note is concerned, the impression gained in official circles is that it will be shelved indefinitely, since it is not regarded here as touching live questions. Official opinion seems to be that it will not disturb the harmony of the powers, since it will soon be forgotten.

LAVISH USE OF STOLEN WEALTH.

Schrieber Bought $75,000 Worth of Jewelry For His Mistress.

New York, Oct. 11.—The police believe that William Schrieber, who embezzled over $100,000 from the Elizabethport Banking company, of Elizabethport, N. J., is in hiding in this city. Former Judge Gilhooly, counsel for the institution, has had several men watching the flat of Mrs. Anna Hart, in West Forty-eighth street, on whom Schrieber had lavished the bank's money. The watchmen were tired out Judge Gilhooly said, and he asked the services of the two detectives to relieve them. Detectives were assigned to the case.

Mrs. Hart is said to have diamonds worth $20,000, $12,000 in cash and $5,000 worth of personal property, the remnants of Schrieber's peculations, that the bank officers want to get hold of. They will bring civil proceedings. She admits that Schrieber lived with her under the name of William Hart, but claims she has seen nothing of him since Aug. 18.

Acting for the bank, Mr. Gilhooly yesterday obtained a writ of attachment on a house and two lots owned by Schrieber, where the defaulting bank clerk resided with his people. It is also said that Schrieber jointly owned with his brother a house in Bayonne.

It is believed at the Elizabethport bank that Schrieber is in Paris. Mrs. Hart, who is a remarkably handsome woman of 33, has had quite a remarkable career in this city and has always had wealthy men among her admirers. Schrieber became acquainted with her at one of the race tracks. It is said by a friend of Schrieber that he had spent $75,000 on Mrs. Hart in jewels. He sent her to Paris, purchased fashionable equipages for her use, and a wardrobe that filled 40 trunks. Her hats and bonnets were of the latest Parisian creation.

Schrieber was never known to do anything wrong in Elizabeth and he never consorted with the fast set. His relations with women appear to have been just the opposite of those he is said to have formed in New York. He certainly was the ideal of the poor hard working young bank clerk.

Admiral Sampson's Feeble Health.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Admiral Sampson was in the city today, and his feeble appearance caused some concern to his friends. His health has been failing for more than a year, and while not appreciably worse, the last month or so shows no signs of improvement.

WHAT THE TRUSTS DO.

Housekeepers should make a study of the following table, which has been compiled from data and given out with a view of demonstrating the "beneficent" results of the domination of trade by trusts:

American Steel and Wire, $90,000,000 capital—Barbed wire increased from $1.85 to $4 per hundred weight.

Stove, $75,000,000 capital—Cast-iron stove increased 20 per cent.

Galvanized Iron, $2,000,000 capital—Water pipes increased 12 per cent.

Iron Pipe, $74,000 capital—2 inch pipe increased 50 per cent.

Brick, $10,000,000 capital—Plain brick increased from $4.75 to $6 per thousand.

Glass, $17,000,000 capital—Window glass increased 100 per cent.

Tinplate, $50,000,000 capital—Tinware increased 50 per cent.

Copper, $400,000,000 capital—Copper utensils increased 80 per cent.

Rope and Cordage, $12,000,000 capital—Rope and cord increased from 8 cents per pound to 17 cents.

Broom, $10,000,000 capital—Brooms increased from $1.75 to $2.85.

Sardine, $3,000,000 capital—Sardines increased from $2.50 to $4.

Canning, $30,000,000 capital—Canned vegetables increased 30 per cent.

Tack, $3,000,000 capital—Tacks increased from $1.50 per gross to $2.50.

Match, $15,000,000 capital—Matches increased from $4.50 per gross to $7.50.

Salt, $12,000,000 capital—Salt increased from 75 cents per barrel to $1.10.

Soap, $100,000,000 capital—Laundry soap increased from $2.25 per box to $2.85.

Starch, $4,000,000 capital—Starch increased from 2 cents per pound to 4 cents.

Tobacco, $75,000,000 capital—Tobacco increased from 32 cents per pound to 42 cents.

Sugar, $75,000,000 capital—Sugar increased 9 cents per pound.

Envelope, $5,000,000 capital—Increased 40 per cent.

Enamel Ware, $25,000,000 capital—Increased 50 per cent.

Chair, $30,000,000 capital—Increased 30 per cent.

Furniture, $12,000,000 capital—School furniture increased 40 per cent.

Flour, $40,000,000 capital—Increased 20 per cent.

Beef, $100,000,000 capital—Increased 5 cents per pound.

The prices of the producers of raw material which goes into the manufacture of these articles have not been increased so far as these producers are concerned, as they get no more for their products than they did before these trusts increased the prices to the consumers.

Every manufactured article not controlled by the trusts is today selling for the same or at a less price than before these trusts were organized, thus showing that the laboring men who manufacture these goods are receiving no more wages than formerly. The statistics show that the workmen receive no higher wages in factories where trust goods are manufactured than they do where those not made by the trusts are manufactured. Added to all this the cost of living has been increased. All housewives whose husbands vote for McKinley and the trusts can expect to continue paying the above increased prices for the next four years.

FREE-COINAGE ADMINISTRATION.

It is objected to Mr. Bryan that in case of his election he will introduce the free and unlimited coinage of silver dollars at the ratio of 16 to 1. This is mere speculation and could be brought about only by a concurrence of events most unlikely to take place.

But Mr. McKinley has, since his election, been engaged in a kind of "free coinage" which is a reality and from which the people have already begun to suffer. He has engaged in the free coinage of Philippine subjects, who work for about 6 cents a day and who, when the Supreme Court of the United States decides that they are entitled to the rights of American citizens, cannot be prevented from swarming into this country to compete with the American workman.

He has given us free coinage of yellow Chinamen, who are now in the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands and who will also find their way into this country to compete with American labor. When that takes place the trusts and big corporations will no longer fear the strike and the trades union. They will have free coinage of labor, and that is what they want.

There has been free coinage in war taxes and the mints are working overtime, although we are told that there is no war.

There has been free coinage in trusts, no less than five hundred having been organized under this Administration, with a total capitalization of more than eight thousand million dollars—nearly all water; not even at the ratio of 16 to 1.

There has been free coinage in coffins, many thousands having been required already for those who have lost their lives subjugating the Filipinos and opening up markets for the trusts.

There has been free coinage in disease, in yellow fever, plague, leprosy, all of which we have annexed and which will be spread broadcast throughout the land by returning soldiers and favored immigrants from the cannibal islands.

There has been free coinage in offices to be held by men who will support McKinley and who are to be paid with money wrung from the people.

And the free coinage of scandals has begun in the Cuban Postoffice and will doubtless spread as the opportunities offer.

Are these things more pleasant than the free coinage of silver, even if that were possible? Baltimore Sun.

The Baltimore Sun in speaking of the Music Hall meeting last Monday night says:

"The ovation given Mr. Gorman's name was but little short of that accorded Mr. Bryan."

Mr. James Richardson, of Tennessee, chairman of the Democratic Congressional committee, read to the audience a letter from Mr. Gorman expressing the latter's regret for enforced absence from the meeting.

By way of introduction Mr. Richardson said: "I am called upon to present to you tonight a communication from, I might say, the most distinguished citizen of your State—a man whom you and the United States delight to honor—a man who has filled the highest office in the gift of your State—I mean the Hon. Arthur Pue Gorman."

What Prominent Maryland Democrats
Say about Mr. Bryan and the Issues of the Campaign.Plain Reasons Why Democrats Should Repudiate
Bryan and Vote for McKinley.Gen. Lloyd L. Jackson For McKinley.

Gen. Lloyd L. Jackson, recognized as one of the staunchest Democrats in the State, and one of those who never scratches a ticket, "and who supported Mr. Bryan in 1896, has announced his intention to support Mr. McKinley this year. Mr. Jackson recently addressed a meeting of the Core he said: "It is true that I supported Mr. Bryan in 1896. It is almost true that I furnished all the money used by Maryland Democrats to aid in his election. I organized Bryan meetings in Baltimore on the same plan that the New York men are holding daily meetings for McKinley. I merely mention this to indicate that I was the staunchest of Democrats. Yet, on election night when I learned that McKinley had been elected, I said I would take off my hat to him if he did what he promised to do. He has done it, and I have taken off my hat to him. I shall vote for him and vote for him." Mr. Jackson is one of the leading business men of Baltimore. He is a member of the dry goods firm of John E. Hurst & Co., and president of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association of Baltimore.

Mr. Jackson at the request of the League, has given his views on the issues involved in this campaign, which are as set forth below:

"As a business man I am opposed to Bryan because I believe the best interests and the future welfare of this country will be promoted by his defeat. The Democratic organs and individuals who opposed Bryan in 1896, have returned to their party this year, have asserted that the money question is not an issue. The fatality about their position is their candidate. If Bryan dominated the Democratic Convention in 1896 and imperialed in 1900, who would dare to say that, as President, he would not work his own will on the financial policy of the country?"

"His own will is the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1, without consultation with any other nation. To this cause he has given all the devotion of a zealot. It was the stepping stone from which he expected fame. All the counsel and adroitness of the oldest, ablest and shrewdest leaders of Democracy have never swerved him one iota from his conviction, and he will use all the powers within his grasp to accomplish the end for which he has striven for years.

"Whether he succeeds or not, the evil conditions which would result from his election will differ only in degree.

"The solid business interests of the country decided this matter in 1896, and decided against Mr. Bryan's theories. In either case the country is threatened with a vital internal danger. We have passed through financial and industrial crises, and they have been the most terrible periods in the history of the country, being but a shade less horrible than civil war. The election of Bryan will inevitably tend to the cessation of business development and growth, because the elements in the community which make for industrial and commercial progress will become alarmed and will immediately curtail their efforts.

"They know the persistence and inflexible nature of the democratic candidate, and they fear the result. Capital will be withdrawn from active enterprise, curtailment will ensue all along the line, 'hard times' will come again and the country will be plunged into the trying experiences of another industrial depression.

"The prosperity of the country has been unparalleled and the business and industrial interests of the country have never embarked in new enterprises with greater confidence and satisfaction, much to the advantage and advancement of all classes of society. So far as we have heard, no orders have been placed for imperialistic crowns or scepters. We have had an executive at Washington, democratic as an old shoe, accessible to the masses of the people, toiling day and night, grappling with more grave and more serious questions than have confronted any president in the last quarter of a century. A president who cannot please all for that is impossible; a man who is not infallible; but with all, a man who has striven as God gave him light and guidance, to act the patriot, to uphold the honor and integrity of the country which have been so largely committed to his hands. His responsibilities have been grave, his duties manifold his acts cautious, his President McKinley in matters effecting the national policy, which his enemies are pleased to term 'imperialism' should in my opinion have the respect and support of every good and patriotic citizen.

"Not to have done what he has in upholding the good name of his country and endeavoring to save from anarchy the people who by force of circumstances came under our banner would have been to fail short in his duty as a man and as the head of this nation. Now, as to the facts about imperialism: The so-called anti-imperialists are prating less about expansion now than earlier in the campaign, because they know that the logic of history is against them. It is in the blood, the bone and sinew of the Anglo-Saxon race to expand in everything it touches or undertakes. It must grow. To stand still is to die.

"Are we warring for conquest? Ask Cuba, which, in the short space of three years, by the aid of American arms and sympathy, is emerging from her long struggle for liberty into the condition of an independent Government. Ask China, where the course of the American forces guided by the Administration has been the most wholesome spectacle of the Chinese episode.

"Hawaii and Porto Rico opened their arms to America; and the Philippines, 'aye, there's the rub' for the 'anti,' When the war was over there were two courses to pursue—abandon the islands or take them.

New Advertisements.

"There was a time in the past when the first course could properly be discussed. That was nearly two years ago, when the peace treaty was under discussion. The time to discuss that is past. Moreover, Mr. Bryan avowed approval of the treaty, hence it cannot be an issue. We have the islands by treaty, right and purchase, and they are ours as much as Alaska, New Mexico, Louisiana, Florida or California at the time we acquired title to those magnificent stretches of country.

"I do not for one instant maintain that the Philippines do not bring to us grave responsibilities and duties, but true Americans scorn a man who does not measure up to his duties and responsibilities. And now that we have these islands, the question is how are we to manage, control and govern them and seek to bring them into the full measure of American civilization and progress. I have confidence enough in the American people to believe that this can be accomplished wisely and satisfactorily.

"Nor am I cognizant that Mr. Bryan, with his limited experience in public affairs of finance and statesmanship, has the capacity or ability to accomplish anything in this line that could not be done by President McKinley, who has had a long career in public life, and who is today, by reason of his severe experiences, more conservative than nine out of ten men who might be elected to the chief magistracy of his country.

"Whatever may be done, or be necessary to do in working out the Philippine problem, I am confident that it will not disturb the internal equilibrium of the country as the Bryan programme of silver at 16 to 1, first last and all the time, will inevitably do. Turning to the future, when sufficient time shall have elapsed to write unbiased history, I can picture the current events of these years as marking the beginning of a great epoch, when the mighty nation of the American Continent took its proper place in the galaxy of the great nations of the world.

"Our manufacturers have gone abroad and are conquering the commercial world. Our brains have produced more ideas, more inventions and contributed more to the advancement of the world than any other nation, age and opportunities being considered.

"Nor does any citizen fear that the controversy over the Philippines is going to deprive him of his rights under the Constitution.

"We have expanded many times before, and the Constitution has always come in good time to throw its sacred shelter over those who needed it and were entitled to have its beneficent protection.

"Deciding in the face of a certain danger within our own midst and a peril existing largely in the minds of agitators and politicians, I shall cast my vote for William McKinley, to aid in preventing the certain danger that is at hand if Bryan should become the President of the United States."

"I Refuse to Vote for Mr. Bryan."

Hon. Robt. C. Davidson, Mayor of Baltimore in 1889-1891 speaks of Mr.
Bryan:

"I refuse to vote for Mr. Bryan because he means free coinage in 1900 as much as he did in 1896. His letter of acceptance and his oft repeated declarations indicate that he will rid this country of the gold standard just as soon as he is able. A popular verdict in his favor now will constitute a tremendous stride toward the acquisition of the 'ability' which he covets.

"That means that by reviving the money question, and by the abandonment of every well established principle of finance he will retard the industrial development of the country. It means that Bryan will needlessly imperil the comfort of every wage earner by creating distrust in the stability of our currency, and discourage the employment of capital in factories, railways and other business enterprises.

"Jefferson the greatest exponent of the principles of Democracy, said that the ratio between the metals was purely a commercial question, and every sensible man knows that the first consequence of free coinage at 16 to 1 would be a variation in the value of the gold and silver dollar of more than 100 per cent, because each coin would be worth no more than the amount of the bullion contained in it.

"I refuse to vote for Mr. Bryan because he is a populist and not a democrat. He is the open and avowed candidate of the populist party, who nominated him on an uncompromising free-silver platform, and invited their 'allies' at Kansas City to unite with them in the endorsement of their candidate and their principles.

"It is a notorious fact that, without Populist support, he would have no possible chance of one-third of the electoral vote, and the majority of the American people have no sympathy with a party that can only be held together by wanton attacks upon thrift and public honesty."

MR. D. K. ESTE FISHER.
Son of Ex-Judge Wm. A. Fisher.
States His Reasons For Refusing To Support Bryan.

"I was brought up a Democrat and have always been a Democrat, and would like to vote the Democratic ticket if I felt that I could do so, but I cannot vote for Bryan, believing that in doing so I would be striking a blow at the soundness of our currency. Mr. Bryan ever since his first appearance in national politics has been recognized as the leader in the movement for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1; and in 1896 was nominated for the Presidency upon a platform which made that the main issue of the campaign. Not content with the verdict of the American people in that contest that the currency of this country should be maintained upon a gold basis—that every dollar should be an honest dollar—worth a dollar in gold in every country in the world, he spared no effort by lectures and speeches and interviews to accomplish the purpose which he had in 1896 of putting the currency of the country on a silver basis by the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1; and when the platform of the Democratic party was being prepared for the Convention of this year and efforts were made by Sound Money Democrats to leave out the silver plank and to make the fight upon expansion and other issues, he declared that he would not accept the nomination for the Presidency unless that plank was put in the platform. It is difficult for me to see, in view of these facts, that the silver issue is a dead issue. It is the most important issue in this campaign, and in the face of it in all the marts of trade we see enterprise blighted and business men refusing to put their money in on new enterprises which would give employment to labor because of their fear that Bryan may be elected."

MR. J. SOUTHGATE LEMMON.
One of Baltimore's Leading Lawyers,
Who Served in the Confederate Army, Gives Reasons For Not Supporting Bryan.

"I voted against Mr. Bryan in 1896 because of my opposition to the silver plank and other disquieting theories which were imposed upon the party by the Populists and Communists who controlled the Democratic party and sought to cater to all who opposed law and order in this country.

"Since then I have found all my objections to Mr. Bryan and his present platform, directed to him by an unwilling but subservient Convention, intensified by his speeches, which appeal to the passions and prejudices instead of to the intelligence and patriotism of his fellow-citizens. I voted for McKinley then as a choice of evils without being able to approve of him or his party in any particular. I thought him weak when he yielded his own judgment and approved the declaration of a war of aggression against Spain under the pressure of his own party, backed by the Democrats of the South.

"Mr. McKinley may be weak, but he has shown the disposition and ability to unite his party and to be guided by the intelligence of its leaders. Mr. Bryan, on the other hand, has disrupted his party for the second time and has driven many of its best and ablest leaders either into seclusion or rebellion by such plain, ordinary and obstinate adherence to his own crude personal opinions as marks him unfit for the high office to which he aspires.

"We practically know the worst to expect from McKinley, while the dangers attendant upon the vagaries of Bryan, spurred on by Algeid, Tillman and other similar 'leaders' who now control the Democratic party, cannot be estimated."

MR. A. H. S. POST.
Is Another Prominent Democrat
Who Will Not Vote For Bryan.

"Although a Democrat from sympathy with the underlying principles of that party as to moderate tariff, civil-service reform and sound money, as well as from sentiment and the atmosphere in which I have been raised, I must, however, forsake the banners of that party when it abandons every time honored principle and advocates a platform embracing every political evil calculated to trick an uneducated vote.

"It is claimed by the Democratic leaders of this campaign that the issue of the respective parties is anti-imperialism versus Expansion. This is not my idea of the situation. The so-called 'imperialism' which has been indulged in by the Republican party has been a necessary by-product of the ratification of a treaty consented to, concurred in, and in a measure brought about by the very man who now desires to make this country the laughing stock of the world by abandoning its attempt to form a stable government in the Philippines. This is at least, my interpretation of Mr. Bryan's views on the subject. This country must continue to endeavor to install law and order in its new territory in the East by the very methods as at present being carried out by President McKinley, or its only alternative is to leave the Philippines to work out their own salvation as best they may.

"If Mr. Bryan has any other remedy for the unfortunate conditions existing, I have never yet heard of his confiding this information to a most interested public. In my opinion, therefore, the cry against 'imperialism' is simply a cloak to hide the real issue, which is, and always will be as long as Mr. Bryan is the candidate of the so-called Democratic party, the currency question—whether we shall continue to maintain the gold standard or whether we shall permit the unlimited coinage of silver at an absurd ratio."

MR. WALTER B. THOMPSON,
Master Mechanic, 1620 East Monument St., A Sound-Money Democrat, Writes To The League
What Would Follow
Bryan's Election.

Mr. Thompson says:
"Consider now what the immediate consequences would be if Mr. Bryan were elected President. As soon as on the 6th of November the result of the election was announced, everybody would know that the parity of gold and silver would not be maintained, for nobody would then buy bonds for gold, expecting them to be paid back in silver; neither will the banks of the country, as they have heretofore done, come forward again to supply the Treasury with gold, for they would have to expect that the money they would get for the gold would be redeemed in silver.

"And here permit me a word, by the way, about those banks. Some of the silver papers said that the banks, in coming voluntarily to the rescue of the Government, acted not from patriotism but from interest. If so, then let us thank God that we have financial institutions that consider it their interest to keep the Government solvent. Woe to the country if a majority of people should find it in their interest to make the Government bankrupt."

Parsons District Club.

Owing to change of date and mistake in printing the hour of meeting of the Parsons District Democratic Club the attendance last Thursday night was rather small and only routine business was transacted. The meeting night was changed from Friday to Wednesday. So instead of next Friday the regular meeting next week will be on Wednesday evening at 7.30. Eloquent speakers have been engaged who will entertain the meeting.

A glee club is being organized and national and other music will be made a feature of the meetings. Ladies are especially invited.

The club has beautiful and comfortable quarters at Parsons Opera House, which has been tastefully decorated. These rooms are the finest in the county, and the meetings will certainly be quite as interesting as it is possible to make them. In addition to the regular meetings on Wednesday nights there will be a series of Saturday afternoon meetings, beginning on Saturday 20th at 2 o'clock. Speakers from a distance will be present on these occasions. A large attendance is earnestly invited.

Be brief. Bad blood means illness. Good blood means cheerful, active men and women and strong, hearty offspring. Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Medicine, cures it self with few words, but it mends broken constitutions, because it purifies the blood, and prepares the body with a systematic defense against disease.

Tired, Headaches—"My disease was one familiar to all women—tired in the morning and had continuous headache. Three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla caused the headache and tired feeling to disappear." Mrs. Josephine Rodier, 525 N. Alfred Street, Alexandria, Va.

Uncle-Sam-the-Store-Keeper

Sat at the back of the store half a leap. Customers were scarce and flies plenty, and every little while he would reach up and flick a fly off his ear, and then reach for the box and get a dried apple which he would chew, and sort of wonder where the next customer would come from. He had had a good season—sold canned goods to the whole world, sold lard to Greece, cigars to Cuba, and he had sent his traveling men all over the world drumming up trade, and he thought he had earned a little rest. Then he heard a foot fall, and he looked up; a man of fine figure was coming down the store and as he got up to wait on the new comer he inquired, "Can I do anything for you to-day?" Well, yes, I am going to the Eastern Shore of Maryland, for my first time, and want to buy a Brand New Suit of Clothes and a New Hat. I am booked to make a speech in Salisbury, October 24. My name is Bryan and I am a little particular. Say Bill I haven't what you want in the clothing line. Now if you are going to Salisbury, you are going to the best town on earth to get clothes and the best clothes in Salisbury are to be had at Lacy Thoroughgood's. That's it, Sam be honest, if you haven't what a man wants tell him the best place to get it. "Well," said Uncle Sam, "there are so many good kinds of clothes and hats at Lacy Thoroughgood's you may be bothered in selecting, but you can't make a mistake for Thoroughgood won't let you." "Well," said Bryan, "the way some people in Salisbury are talking makes me hot in the collar. "Well," said Uncle Sam, "if it does you can go to Thoroughgood's and get a new one."

Feelings of safety pervade the household that uses One Minute Cough Cure, the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. It is infallible for coughs, colds, croup and all throat and lung troubles. It will prevent consumption. Dr. L. D. Collier.

Edward T. Shea, Sheriff of Prince George's county, who is under indictment for criminal assault upon Miss Lucy Hart, has been indicted again, the second return being for malfeasance in office for permitting the Peyton Bob prize fight at Chesapeake City.

It is well to know that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve will heal a burn and stop the pain at once. It will cure eczema and skin diseases and ugly wounds and sores. It is a certain cure for piles. Counterfeits may be offered you. See that you get the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Dr. L. D. Collier.

In a drunken frenzy, on Saturday afternoon, William E. Whitby of Easton Point, near Easton, Talbot county, shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide.

Do not get scared if your heart troubles you. Make like you suffer from indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and gives the worn-out stomach perfect rest. It is the only preparation known that completely digests all classes of foods; that is why it cures the worst cases of indigestion and stomach trouble after everything else has failed. It may be taken in all conditions and cannot help but do you good. Dr. L. D. Collier.

The attendance at the Frederick Fair Wednesday was the largest in the history of the association, surpassing even the record breaking crowd of the day on which Adair Schley was present last year the betting on the races was heavy.

Dr. W. H. Lewis, Lawrenceville, Va., writes, "I am using Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in my practice among severe cases of indigestion and find it an admirable remedy." Many hundreds of physicians depend upon the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in stomach troubles. It digests what you eat, and allows you to eat all the good food you need, providing you do not overload your stomach. Gives instant relief and a permanent cure. Dr. L. D. Collier.

Another fight with knives occurred in Montgomery county on Sunday night. At Cedar Grove, P. E. Poole attempted to shoot William Appleby and Albert Carter, and then in a rough and tumble fight, cut both of them badly. Appleby has been taken to a Baltimore hospital. Poole is still at large.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose. I went for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely." This remedy is for sale by R. K. Truitt & Son.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO. Toledo, O.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A fatal row occurred on Saturday among negroes at a colored picnic near Germantown, Montgomery county, in which Howard Hall was killed and Nathan Doy, Lum Powers, Alexander Corn and Mote Smith were seriously wounded. It is that the shot which killed Hall was fired either by Perry Dimes or John Duffin. Both were arrested and committed to jail.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Graddin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy. It is for sale by R. K. Truitt & Sons."

Senator Wellington returned to Cumberland Wednesday from his tour through Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska in behalf of Mr. Bryan. He expresses great pleasure at his reception in the west. In a few days he will leave for a tour, covering Baltimore, other places in the state, West Virginia, New Jersey and Connecticut.

"Have by some surgeon. Shylock on thy charge to stop his wounds lest he do bleed to death." People can bleed to death. The loss of blood weakens the body. It must follow that gain of blood gives the body strength. The strengthening effect of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is in large part due to its action on the blood-making lands and the increased supply of pure, rich blood it produces. It is only when the blood is impoverished and impure that diseases find a soil in which to root. The "Discovery" purifies the blood and makes it antagonistic to disease. When the body is emaciated, the lungs are weak, and there is obstinate lingering cough, "Golden Medical Discovery" puts the body on a fighting footing against disease, and so increases the vitality that disease is thrown off, and physical health perfectly and permanently restored. It has cured thousands who were hopeless and helpless, and who had tried all other means of cure without avail.

Twenty-one one-cent stamps to cover expenses of mailing only will obtain a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, in paper cover. Send thirty-one stamps if cloth binding is preferred. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Good News For Our Readers.

Who have scrofula taints in their blood, and who has not? Scrofula in all its forms is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla which thoroughly purifies the blood. This disease which frequently appears in children, is greatly to be dreaded. It is most likely to affect the glands of neck, which become enlarged, eruptions appear on the head and face, and the eyes are frequently affected. Upon its first appearance, perhaps in slight eruptions or pimples, scrofula should be entirely eradicated from the system by a thorough course of Hood's Sarsaparilla to prevent all the painful and sickening consequences of running scrofula-ores which drain the system, sap the strength and make existence utterly wretched.

The Louis McMurray Packing Company, which was established in Frederick 31 years ago, will move its entire plant to Appleton, Wis. The officers say that corn can be had there for half the price demanded around Frederick, and that the West is their principal market.

This is What They Say.

Those who take Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, eczema, eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism or dyspepsia, say it cures promptly and permanently, even after all other preparations fail. You may take this medicine with the utmost confidence that it will do you good. What it has done for others you have every reason to believe it will do for you.

Some Census Figures.

The population of Delaware in 1900 is 184,726, as against 163,493 in 1890, representing an increase since 1890 of 13,242, or 8.1 per cent. In 1790 the population was 59,086, from which it appears that the population in 1900 is a little more than three times that of 1790.

The population of the District of Columbia in 1900 is 278,715, as compared with a population in 1890 of 220,293, showing an increase of 48,422, or 22.0 per cent. During the past 10 years. The population in 1900, the first census taken after the District's formation in 1791, was 14,093, which, as compared with the population in 1900, shows an increase of not quite twenty fold in 100 years.

The total land surface of Delaware is, approximately, 1,900 square miles, the average number of persons to the square mile at the census of 1890 and 1900 being as follows: 1890, 85.9; 1900, 94.3.

The total land surface of the District of Columbia is, approximately, 60 square miles, the average number of persons to the square mile at the census of 1890 and 1900 being as follows: 1890, 8,889.8; 1900, 4,645.8.

Delaware's population by counties is: Kent, 32,702; increase, 98, or 3 per cent.

Newcastle, 109,697; increase, 13,510, or 12.8 per cent.

Sussex, 42,276; increase, 5,320, or 9.8 per cent.

Of the incorporated cities and towns in Delaware there are only six having a population in 1900 of more than 2,000, namely, Wilmington, with 77,508; New Castle, with 5,380; Dover, with 3,359; Milford, with 3,500; Lewes, with 2,369, and Smyrna, with 2,188 inhabitants.

Wilmington is the only city in Delaware that has a population in 1900 of more than 55,000. It had in 1840 a population of 8,367, and has steadily increased during each decade, its population in 1900 being 76,508, or an increase of 84.5 per cent. during the last 10 years.

The Delaware side of Delmar, has 444 inhabitants as against 380 in 1890. Laurel's population has decreased since 1890 from 2,388 to 1,935 in 1900.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winalow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures all wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty cents a bottle.

The San Jose Scale.

Prof. Willis G. Johnson, State Entomologist, has issued a circular to the Maryland peach growers instructing them how to deal with the San Jose Scale. He says:

"The rapid and unusual development of San Jose Scale during the past hot summer calls for all the enterprise and energy of the fruit grower, who is so unfortunate as to have it on his place, to keep it in check. This is a matter of very grave importance and nothing should be left undone to apply the most efficient remedy in every case of infestation.

All badly infested trees of whatever variety, should be grubbed out without delay. Pile the brush and wood where the tree stood: do not burn it until next May or June. This is done to preserve the little parasites that feed upon the scale. If they are not destroyed these little fruit-eaters will concentrate their attack upon other moderately infested trees nearby. The scale cannot leave a branch or twig to which it is attached, therefore when a tree is cut down all the insects die with the drying out of the sap, while the parasites escape and fly to other trees.

For those trees which are not seriously infested, he recommends spraying with a kerosene preparation. To those interested, Prof. Johnson will send the circular and any other advice that may be of service, on application. His post office address is College Park, Md.

It's the Baby.

If you lose a pound in flesh it doesn't matter much. But if it's the baby it may mean everything. There is no food in the world equal to Scott's Emulsion for making thin babies plump. If you have a thin baby in the house you'll be surprised to see how it will thrive on this nourishing and fattening food.

Victims of Insurance Swindlers.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Laura Carroll, 22 years old, is named as another victim of the insurance conspiracy syndicate, said to be headed by Dr. August M. Unger. The physician used her, it is said, as a subject on whom to take out policies in a game similar to that which he attempted with Marie Defenbach. The Carroll woman disappeared four or five months ago, and none of those with whom she associated have seen her since. During her residence here she was an intimate friend of Miss Defenbach, and is alleged to have been a patient and sweetheart of Dr. Unger's.

Four Killed at Railroad Crossing.

Holbrook, Neb., Oct. 11.—Last evening as Mrs. Herman Kleiback and family were crossing the railroad in a farm wagon an engine ran into them, instantly killing Miss Lizale Horman, Mrs. Kleiback and her baby girl and seriously injuring the latter's 15-months-old baby girl and seriously injuring her 4-year-old boy. The wagon was smashed into kindling wood and one of the horses killed. Mrs. Bartenbeck was the wife of Carl Bartenbeck, who was shot and killed near here Monday night by his brother-in-law.

Stolen Child Quickly Recovered.

New York, Oct. 11.—John Sheedy, of 144 Hester street, called at police headquarters last night and said his daughter Annie, aged 5 years, had mysteriously disappeared. A moment before he arrived a telegram had been received from the Jersey City police stating that Giuseppe Genio, an Italian of Jersey City, had been arrested as he got off a New York ferryboat with a child which it was plain did not belong to him. Sheedy went over to Jersey City, found the child to be his, and took her home. Genio will be extradited.

MATTERS IN MARYLAND.

Cumberland, Oct. 8.—Herschel Sharpless, aged 25 years, of Kerens, W. Va., had the top of his head blown off by the explosion of his gun while hunting this morning. His father committed suicide by shooting at the same place five years ago.

Easton, Oct. 7.—William E. Whitby, an oysterman, at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, shot and killed his wife and then killed himself at their home at Easton Point, near Easton, in Talbot county. The crime was premeditated, for in a memorandum book found in the dead man's pocket was a note to one of his sons, saying he was going to kill his wife, as she was unfaithful to him.

Elkton, Oct. 5.—Rev. E. K. Miller, pastor of three Episcopal churches in Delaware—St. James' church, Newport; St. James' St. Anne's, and St. Barnabas', Marshfield—closed his rectory on Sunday and on Monday removed to his new charge—Trinity church, Long Green, Baltimore county. Mr. Miller for years was pastor of St. Mary's church, at North East, Cecil county.

Denton, Oct. 7.—In the case of the state against Abraham Hutson, indicted for stabbing and killing Edward Cox, after remaining out a short time the jury returned a verdict of homicide. The court sentenced Hutson to the penitentiary for five years. Roma Pritchett, colored, was convicted of violating the age-of-consent law with a colored girl 14 years of age, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for 18 months.

Annapolis, Oct. 9.—A general court martial convened today at the Naval Academy to try six naval cadets now under arrest and such others as may be further implicated for hazing cadets. The penalty, under act of congress, if convicted, is dismissal from the service. The accused cadets are Merlyn G. Cook of Kansas, William J. Giles of New York, John S. Abbott of Wisconsin, George S. Radford of Michigan and William P. Reid of Arizona.

Hagerstown, Oct. 7.—The sum of $168,090.95 was paid out by the commissioners of Washington county for the fiscal year. The resources were the taxes collected and $3,322.84 from miscellaneous sources, including some $1,500 from dividends from seven turnpike companies in which the county owns stock. Of the county's expenses the biggest item was for schools, which was $75,851.51. The next largest item was for roads and bridges, $13,433.32.

Boys, Oct. 7.—At a colored picnic last night on the road leading from Germantown to Darnestown, Montgomery county, near Brown's church, a free fight occurred among the negroes, which resulted in one negro—Howard Hall—being killed and four wounded, one very dangerously. The wounded are Nathan Doy, Lum Powers, Alexander Corn and Mote Smith. The fight occurred between a gang of negroes from near Boys and another gang from Germantown. The coroner's jury declared the fatal shot was fired by either Peter Dimes or John Duffin. These, with several other negroes, are in jail.

Chestertown, Oct. 8.—The farmers of Kent and Queen Anne's counties are losing hundreds of dollars by the ravages of weevil. The situation has become more serious because of the fact that the local supply of bluishide of carbon, the remedy recommended by State Entomologist Johnson, has been exhausted, and the farmers are left perfectly helpless in an unequal struggle with the pest. From 5,000 to 6,000 bushels of this weevil cut wheat was sold last week at a reduction of four cents a bushel. The farmers are in a quandary what to do. A protracted delay in securing a supply of bluishide of carbon will mean the loss of thousands of bushels of wheat, as every section of the two counties is infested with weevil.

Cumberland, Oct. 5.—Marie Anderson, aged 18 years, was arrested today while trying to board a Baltimore and Ohio freight. She said she was going to Baltimore. Her home is in West Newton, Pa., and she is said to have escaped from a reformatory institution near Pittsburgh. Last Monday night she arrived on a Baltimore and Ohio freight. She says she was assaulted while en route by a party of men, who tore off her clothing, and that the man's clothing she wore when she arrived here was given to her by railroad men who took pity on her. She obtained work at a hotel here after secretly discarding her male attire, but she thought she was being pursued and today she decided to leave. The officers claimed the girl a little before she was caught. She is rather pretty, but her hair is cut ragged, as if she had done it herself.

Frederick, Oct. 8.—The Louis McMurray Packing company, which was established in Frederick in 1869 by the late Louis McMurray, of Baltimore, and which conducted one of the largest corn packing houses in the United States, has decided to move its entire plant to Appleton, Wis. The company states the principal reason for leaving Frederick is that the greatest demand for their goods is from the west. Another very important reason for moving west is that corn can be purchased much cheaper in that country than around here. Here they are required to pay from $2 to $2.50 per ton for the green corn delivered, while in the western states it is bought for about $4 per ton. Work has already begun on the new buildings in Appleton and the company will move all their packing machinery this winter, so as to be in position to be ready for next summer's packing. They will continue to manufacture their many million cans here this winter and ship them west, but in the spring the tinshop, too, will be moved.

Ex-Senator Gorman's Denial.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Ex-Senator Arthur P. Gorman, of Maryland, has authorized an absolute denial of published reports that he had resigned from the Democratic national committee and from the other political committees of which he is a member. Regarding published statements that he had informed ex-Governor Stone, of Missouri, that Bryan had no chance of election, and that he (Gorman) was tired of the whole campaign, Mr. Gorman said: "The report is a fiction, as I never made such a statement, nor have I ever entertained such a view."

Messrs. Joseph Truitt and Denard Parsons took a trip to Philadelphia last week.

Mr. Garlie Truitt who has been visiting friends in Philadelphia has returned home.

Mrs. A. B. Truitt visited friends in Berlin this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Wimbrow of Whaleyville were in town this week.

We are sorry to state that Miss Mae Farlow is ill at this writing.

Mrs. Louise Parsons spent last week with friends in Laurel, Del.

Several of the people here attended the openings at Salisbury this week.

There will be a "Harvest Home" service held at the M. E. Church next Sunday afternoon. All are invited to attend.

Mr. Thomas Shockley of Whiton is visiting relatives here.

Several of the people here attended the Baptist meeting at Indiantown, Wednesday and Thursday.

We are glad to note that Miss Blanche Brattin who has been sick for the past few weeks is very much improved.

Mr. F. Taylor Baker is having a new building erected on Pine St. He is having a cellar built which is the only one in Pittsville.

There were several salesmen in town this week.

Mr. Clayton Wells has moved to Wango where he will be engaged in the timber business.

Bumer says that one of our prominent young merchants was married this week and if it be so we wish him much joy.

Mrs. Amanda Truitt, Mrs. Stella Jones of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Nancy Danna, spent last Monday with friends in the country.

SHARPTOWN.

Samuel P. Twiford lost a valuable dog a few days ago. The dog died while on the chase. Mr. Twiford had owned the dog about ten months, and it was quite young when he got it from the Chesapeake Hunting Club of Baltimore country. It was a true foxhound. On the night of the death of the dog Mr. Twiford and friends went out to give chase to the foxes nearby, which are protected in the swamps for home chases only. During the hot chase of the night, the dog swam across a creek and soon after crossing was seized with cramps and died in a short time. It was the only dog of that species ever in this community and it was highly prized by all local sportsmen.

Capt. Major D. Twiford who formerly lived in this town, but who has been absent for eleven years, is visiting his many relatives and friends in town this week.

Lambert Ellis, near here on the Delaware side of the line, and who has been filling a government position in the Indian reservations of the west or six years is now home. He is the son of Joseph Ellis a prosperous farmer near here.

Mrs. Maggie Selby, wife of Capt. Jno. W. Selby, formerly a very prominent merchant and business man of this town, but now of Charles county, Md., is visiting relatives and friends here after an absence of five years. Her mother, surviving widow of the late Edward Burford, lives here. Her sisters also.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew W. Adams of Baltimore, have been spending a few days with relatives and friends. His aged mother Mrs. Vashli Twiford lives here.

Rev. Fred J. Phillips a minister of the Maryland Conference and stationed at Lawtonia, near Crisfield, is visiting his mother and friends here this week.

S. J. Cooper & Son have purchased a manure spreader this week and put in their new department. They are buying and killing a great many hogs and beefs.

Revival is in progress at the M. E. Church but not much success as yet.

The cold snap of this week caused considerable hustling to prepare stoves for heating purposes.

Raymond Kennerly has moved from here to Riverton. The house he vacated on Cottage Row will be occupied by Miss Jane and Miss Laura Wright.

John Howard died on Monday after a lingering illness of nearly four months of a complication of diseases. He was forty-six years old and moved here about one year ago from Mardela. His wife died about a year ago and he and four children kept house. He was married three times and these four children are by his second wife. One by his first wife and one by his third wife are wards of their mother's relatives. These four children, two of whom are large enough to do light work will endeavor to reside home as a family, providing, however, their grandmother who lives in Laurel will come and reside with them. The two children have good positions here. His remains were interred at Mardela on Tuesday. Great sympathy exists here for this family and material aid has been given by the people of the town and community.

The marriage bells rang out in the town of Sharptown, on Wednesday evening and two couples of that town were joined in holy wedlock. Edward Bennett and Miss Mary Cooper were married on Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's mother by Rev. E. H. Miller. A few relatives and friends were present. The bride is the daughter of the late Levin Cooper of near Mardela. On the same evening by the same minister Theophilus Pritchard and Miss Martha Elzey were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Elzey. A few friends and relatives were present.

TYASKIN.

The schools of this place are largely attended this year. Several new names were annexed to the register this week.

The oyster supper given at Bivalve Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. Church, was patronized by several young couples of this place.

Hog cholera is prevalent throughout this vicinity. Swine raisers are becoming alarmed at the many large porkers that have been drawn from their pens during the past few days.

The Tyaskin Packing Company on Tuesday canned their first sweet potatoes of the season. We are informed that they will begin next week to can them on a very extensive plan.

Epworth League was led Sunday evening by Mr. Linwood Messick. The meeting was well attended by the young people which showed an interest in the organization by their presence and also by taking part in its proceedings. The meeting will be led next Sunday evening by Mr. Dayton McClain, principal of our school.

Mr. James Culver and Miss Mabel Langrill were the guests of Miss Mae Freeny at her home in Spring Hill last Sunday.

Miss Edith Anderson returned Tuesday from her visit in Baltimore.

Mr. Ashby White of Bridgeville, Del. is the guest of Tyaskin friends this week.

Call at I. H. A. Dulany's and take a look at their complete line of new fall goods.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carey is quite sick with croup at the time of this writing.

Miss Elizabeth Hearn who is teaching near Parker's Church, spent last Saturday and Sunday at this place.

MARDELA SPRINGS

Wheat seeding is now engaging the attention of our farmers.

Messrs. I & M. Cooper will begin in a few days to can sweet potatoes at their cannery. Their tomato pack is completed.

Messrs. Samuel Douglass and L. Atwood Bennett of Salisbury, made very entertaining speeches to the Democratic Club here Thursday evening.

Ex Judge George M. Kusun is at the hotel enjoying the hospitality of the genial host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Wilson. Other guests registered at the hotel during the week were Mr. Levin Dail, Cambridge, Md.; Mr. Stokes, Chicago, Ill.; Mr. Bibley and Mr. Daugherty, Baltimore.

ALLEN.

One of the funny incidents of the registration occurred at Allen Tuesday. A young colored man tried to register but was challenged by the Democrats who claimed that he was underage. After much dispute the darkey said he would go for his family bible. Two zealous democrats fearing that the bible would be tampered with followed the colored man and a white Republican friend for four miles. 'Tis said some pretty fast time was made over the dusty Trappe roads. After reaching the abode of the would be voter the colored boy and his friend went in the house and looked the door. The democrats were left out in the "cold," but when they reappeared the boy said he remembered the bible was burned eight years ago. Then it was the other fellows turn to laugh. It was a sheepish looking quartette that returned to Allen.

Coming Attractions.

Conroy, Mack & Edwards' Comedians will play three nights, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, at Ullman's Opera House.

Their repertoire of plays will include The Patriotic War Comedy Drama "A Daughter of Cuba," the Powerful Comedy Drama "All for Gold" and the funny musical Comedy, "Mr. Bluff of New York." In All for Gold the entire gamut of the feelings that actuate men and women are embodied in its lines. Beautiful pathos that brings the tears to the eyes of both sexes, intensely powerful dramatic situations that cause tumultuous applause, a love story of remarkable sweetness, villainy of malignant unrelenting type, cliques that thrill one to the core and the choicest of rich humor are the ingredients that have caused thousands of theatre goers to regard "All for Gold" as one of the most glorious plays ever placed upon the stage. Judging by its popularity, its unquestioned strength of construction and the brilliant performances that is sure to be given "All for Gold" should prove a red letter attraction from all points of view. Between the acts of each play high class specialties will be presented and the vaudeville artist will change their acts nightly. Such prominent specialties as Pat Conroy and Dick Mack the Irish aristocrats; Alice Gleason, Contralto Extraordinary; Wm. Chamberlain, Baritone Vocalist; Helen McCabe, singing and dancing soubrette, Agnes Earle, Descriptive singer; Charles Edwards, Eccentric Comedian; and the famous Metropolitan Quintette will be introduced. Two ladies or a lady and gentleman will be admitted on one ticket Monday night.

CLAIMS AGAINST ENGLAND.

American Citizens Deported From South Africa Without Trial.

New York, Oct. 11.—Driven from the Transvaal by force of British arms, eight Americans, who recently arrived penniless in this city, have petitioned the United States government to present claims for indemnity against Great Britain. They declare that although neutral in the recent conflict, they were kidnapped from their homes, leaving wives and children behind. As prisoners of war the men say they were driven out of Johannesburg on July 13, railroaded to the sea coast in cattle trucks and then sent in the steerage of a transport to Holland. American consuls in the ports where they stopped were powerless to rescue them, and they have made a final appeal through attorneys in this city to the secretary of state at Washington.

These men arrived here in the steerage of the Sparndam, of the Holland-American line, on Sept. 27. They are: Charles Fowles, a mining contractor, of Whitefield, Me.; James J. Maloney, a miner, of Chicago; Frank Sharpe, an engine driver, of Detroit; Frank Crees, a mining expert, of New York, and the following naturalized American citizens: Francisco Budjamasakan, manufacturer; William Phillips, gold miner; John Anderson, carpenter, and Henry Mormonstein, interpreter.

Charles Fowles says he was arrested when returning to his home from the mine where he was employed as a foreman, and without a trial he was hurried out of the country. His wife and two young children, who were dependent upon him, were left behind. Fowles does not know whether they are alive or dead.

High Priced Workmen of Strike. Forest Hill, N. J., Oct. 11.—Sixty of the highest paid workmen in the world are on strike in the factory of Tiffany & Co., of New York, and the entire wedding invitation business of the big jewelry firm is tied up. The strikers are copper plate engravers. The managers of the factory declare that half of them regularly earned from $90 to $100 a week, others $75 a week, and none of them less than $50 a week. These highly paid workmen demand that the company adopt the union's regulations as to apprenticeship. A representative of the company declares that rather than yield to the demands of the strikers that branch of their business will be abandoned.

Railroad Y. M. C. A. in Convention.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—The tenth annual conference of the railroad department of the Young Men's Christian association began here today. There are 1,500 delegates in attendance. Nicholas Rettlinger, a special representative of the czar of Russia, and assistant manager of the railway pension committee of Russia, is here to study the economic conditions of the railways of this country and their various pension relief and saving fund systems. He will also inquire into the home life of the railroad men of this country and submit a report to the czar. Col. John J. McCook, of New York, is presiding officer of the conference.

Watson's Special Cigar

It is an old saying that if you tell a man a thing times enough he will believe it. We have told the smokers of America so many times and so forcibly that they ought to try the Watson's Special Cigar that they are taking the advice in vast and constantly increasing numbers. After they have tried it, the cigar does the rest. They find that it is as we claim—the best cigar that can be made and sold for the money. It holds its trade and constantly increases in popularity.

YOUR FEET.

How About Them?

Have you your Solid Soled

WINTER SHOES?

Are you waiting for stormy weather. The weather won't wait for you.

A cold may mean a cold all winter, hence it is of vital importance to keep your feet warm and dry at this damp and frosty season of the year.

OUR SHOWING OF MEN'S SHOES

is making for us many pleased customers. Staunch and sturdy winter shoes with broad extension soles made from box calf, wax calf and tan Russia. Shoes that sell the world over at $3.50 a pair. They are yours for $3.00 if you do your shoe buying here. This is a money saving store.

R. LEE WALLER & CO., SALISBURY, MARYLAND.

A FROST

Will catch you out one of these nights in that Summer suit, and no matter how warm your heart is, or how closely your best girl "snuggles," you are bound to catch cold, and then comes misery and a doctor's bill that will amount to twice the price of a good, all-wool, warm Winter Suit.

Our Competitors

Say we can't give you an all-wool, up-to-date suit that will fit and wear for $8. If we sold one a week we couldn't, but it's volume with us that does it, and then, friend, we guarantee every garment sold and don't try to argue you black in the face and make you mad—NO—we simply give you your money back if you are not satisfied.

A large variety of patterns to select from—at any man's price.

Will buy a better suit than, perhaps, you think it will. Come and see.

Extensive preparations are being made to feed the thousands who will be here for the day. Besides the hotels and boarding houses a number of lunch rooms will be opened for the day. The ladies of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church will serve a dinner in the store-room in the Brewington Building next to Mr. S. Q. Johnson's store on Main street.

The ladies of the Trinity M. E. Church South, on the vacant lot on Division street, opposite Dr. E. W. Humphrey's residence.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church in the vacant store room on Main street next door to Mrs. Ella J. Cannon's millinery store.

The firemen on the Ulman lot, Division street, next door to the ADVERTISER building.

Mr. M. A. Lucas in the store room on Main Street adjoining the store of Mr. L. B. Gillis.

In a letter to the ADVERTISER Hon. Murray Vandiver, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, says:

"The desire of the Democrats throughout the State to hear Mr. Bryan is very great. It is expected and desired that his reception on the Eastern Shore of Maryland will be equal to any that he will receive during the campaign."

It has been definitely decided that Mr. Bryan shall speak at "Firemen's Park." The trees and bushes have been trimmed and removed and there will be plenty of room for all. When the decorating committee finishes its work, the park will present a beautiful appearance. If the weather permits, there will be an all day open air meeting. Plenty of prominent Democrats will be on hand to speak in the afternoon and night.

It is the desire of the Committee, having in charge the arrangements for "Bryan Day," that all persons on Division street and along Main street to St. Peter's, the route of the procession, shall decorate their buildings for this most important occasion. The merchants have ordered a large supply of bunting and flags.

The following business houses of the city will be closed on the morning of Wednesday, Oct. 24th from 8.30 to 10.30 a. m.: R. E. Powell & Co., R. Lee Waller & Co., Laws Bros., Birchhead & Carey, Lacy Thoroughgood, Harry Dennis, H. S. Todd & Co., Dorman & Smyth Hardware Co., Keenly & Mitchell, L. P. & J. H. Coulbourn, Twilley & Hearn, Guthrie & Perry, Dykes & Co., Mrs. Ella J. Cannon.

Let everybody join in giving a rousing welcome to the Democratic Standard Bearer.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Insurance Case Contested in Somerset County, Lost by the Plaintiff, Mr. W. M. Johnson.

The Marylander and Herald, of Prince Anne, says in its last issue:

The most important cases tried at this term of court were heard and determined on Thursday last. The cases grew out of a loss sustained by Mr. William M. Johnson of Kingston, by the burning of his store at that place sometime in the latter part of June, 1898. Mr. Johnson held two policies of insurance on his stock of goods; one for $900 in the Pennsylvania Company and one for $300 in the Royal Company, of London. The insurance companies refused to settle the claims for loss, because they claimed that Mr. Johnson had not met the requirements of what is known as the "Iron Safe Clause" of the policies should be forfeited and become void, in case the insured should fail to keep a complete inventory of his stock of goods always in an iron safe, and be prepared to deliver said inventory to the company in case of fire. Johnson, it seems, had been engaged in making an inventory from day to day, as opportunity afforded itself, when the fire occurred, but this inventory, although covering goods over $1000 in value, was not complete and the old one having been destroyed in the fire and not having been made within the calendar year as required by the iron safe clause of the said policies, the court held that as a matter of law, however hard the rule, Mr. Johnson could not recover against the companies. Mr. Johnson sustained a loss of over $3000 and there is much sympathy expressed for him since he has failed to recover the amounts of his insurance on grounds so technical.

Miles and Stanford represented Mr. Johnson and A. L. Car and Mr. White, both of Baltimore, represented the insurance companies.

Epworth League Convention.

The Salisbury District Epworth League held its Eleventh Annual Convention at Berlin, Md., Wednesday and Thursday of this week. A very interesting program had been arranged by the President, Dr. G. W. Woodall, of Princess Anne, and the unanimous opinion of all present was that the convention had been a great success.

The Address of Welcome was made by Rev. H. G. Budd of Berlin and responded to by Rev. W. W. Sharp of Delmar.

On Wednesday evening Rev. James W. Marshall, D. D., of Camden, N. J., delivered an address on the Twentieth Century Volunteers. Rev. W. I. Haven, D. D., of New York, was the speaker for Thursday evening.

About eighty-five delegates and officers were in attendance. Those from Salisbury were Dr. and Mrs. Martin Dale, Rev. C. W. Prettyman, Miss Maria Ellegood, Miss Nina Venables, Miss Katie Rounds, and Miss Minnie Hearn.

Salisbury Leads.

The total gross receipts for Princess Anne's office for 1900 have been put down at $3 174.24; for Crisfield, $4,074.12; Pocomoke City, $3,897.70; Snow Hill, $3,068.60; Cambridge, $7,007.12; Easton, $7,889.28; Centerville, $3,963.88; Berlin, $3,094.33; Chestertown, $3,410.88; Denton, $3,982.03; Salisbury, $10,604.40.

The Marylander and Herald says: Dr. Harry C. Tull, son of H. C. Tull, Esq., of Fairmount, Somerset County, has decided to settle at Nanticoke, Wicomico county. Dr. Tull is represented as being a bright young physician and we hope he will make his mark in his profession.

Dedication of Hebron Church.

We will dedicate Hebron Methodist Protestant Church November 4th, and cordially invite all of our ministers and friends who can do so, to be with us on that important occasion.

Rev. W. B. Graham D. D., of Westminster will preach morning and night and Rev. A. D. Melvin, President of the Maryland Annual Conference, in the afternoon. This will be a grand opportunity to hear the Gospel ably proclaimed. We also expect to have good music and make it a glad day in the service of our Lord.

Come out and help us in this good work. Elmer Simpson, Pastor.

Fell into a Well.

Snow Hill, Md., Oct. 17.—John Morris of Somerset county, by Gordon Tull, his attorney, has brought suit against Riley J. Stevenson for $10,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been caused by the falling of the plaintiff into a well containing scalding hot water on the mill premises of the defendant in Pocomoke City on the 16th of August last. Melvin & Handy will appear for the defendant.

A GOLD DEMOCRAT FOR BRYAN.

Mr. F. Leonard Wallis States His Views on the Present Campaign—General Lloyd Jackson Answered.

Meems, Editors:—In your last issue I noticed an advertisement, inserted and paid for by the so-called Honest Money Democratic League of Md., in the form of a statement by Gen. Lloyd Jackson as to his views on the issues involved in the present campaign. Before discussing Mr. Jackson's views as set forth in the paid advertisement above referred to it will be well to make some investigation of the organization termed the Honest Money Democratic League of Md.

In 1898 there were a great many persons who had affiliated with the Democratic party, in the past who were unwilling to endorse the platform of the Chicago convention, and especially the plank relating to the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and who were equally unwilling to endorse Republican extravagance and protection. Feeling that they were without a party they called a convention to meet at Indianapolis, Ind., on Sept. 3rd, 1898, in order that they might register their opposition to both the Democratic and Republican parties, adopt a platform for themselves and nominate candidates in accord with their own convictions. In the platform adopted by that convention we find an arraignment of both of the old parties as follows:

"The demand of the Republican party for an increase in tariff taxation has its pretext in the deficiency of revenue, which has its causes in the stagnation of trade and reduced consumption, due entirely to the loss of confidence that has followed the Populist threat of free coinage, and depreciation of our money, and the Republican practice of extravagant appropriation beyond the needs of good government. We arraign and condemn the Populist conventions of Chicago and St. Louis for their co-operation with the Republican party in creating these conditions, which are pleaded in justification of a heavy increase of the burdens of the people by a further resort to protection. We, therefore, denounce protection and its ally, free coinage of silver, as schemes for the personal profit of a few at the expense of the masses, and oppose the two parties which stand for these schemes, as hostile to the people of the Republic, whose food and shelter, comfort and prosperity are attacked by higher taxes and depreciated money."

It will thus be seen that those who were opposed to Bryan and the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 were equally opposed to McKinley and protection, that they regarded the platforms of the Democratic and Republican parties as equally populist. The candidates chosen by that convention were John M. Palmer and Simon B. Buckner and the delegates from Maryland, some of whom were and still are identified with the committee of 70 of the Honest Money Democratic League of Md., cast their votes in the convention for the aforesaid nominees. Having helped to make a platform to their own liking, and having aided in the nomination of candidates in full accord with their convictions it seemed only right that an effort should be made to elect their candidates.

The Honest Money Democratic League of Md., therefore, began to wage an earnest warfare in behalf of their candidates, and continued to do so until within about two weeks of the national election, at which time they passed the word along the line that they desired all of their supporters to cast their ballot for Wm. McKinley the Republican nominee.

Thus we find a base betrayal of party platform and party nominees by this Maryland League of Democrats who prize Honest Money above everything else. Were they honest themselves? Why did they nominate a ticket if the Republican ticket was good enough for them? It was simply that they might play upon the feelings of the unsusppecting ones and have those who would not vote for McKinley cast their votes for Palmer, and thus make certain the defeat of Bryan and the election of McKinley.

Thus we find them endorsing protection which they had branded as the ally of free coinage, lending their aid to Republican doctrines which they had branded as Populist and casting their vote for the Republican ticket.

In 1897 we find this same League affiliating with the Republican party in our state election because a U. S. Senatorship was involved.

In 1899, even though no national question was involved, we find these same parties engaged in an effort to re-elect a Republican Governor and the only reason that they could assign for their action, was that his reelection was necessary to guarantee the electoral vote of Maryland to the cause of sound money in the present contest. Next year this same organization will support the Republican party because another U. S. Senatorship will be at stake, and in 1903 they will probably be with them again because there will be a congress to elect.

In our state contest in 1908 we may still expect to find them an adjunct of the Republican party because of the effect that contest is likely to have upon the national election of 1904.

Happily the people now know where to find them, and are fully persuaded that the Honest Money Democratic League of Md., is not composed of Democrats of any kind. If they are so dissatisfied with the Democratic party why do they not go to the Republican party for good, and not pose as Democrats who never vote a Democratic ticket?

Now as to Gen. Lloyd Jackson's views of the issues involved in the present campaign: What is the cause of this sudden change of convictions on his part?

If the Democratic platform in 1898 was worthy of his support, is it any less worthy now?

Is he more honest now because of his connection with the Honest Money Democratic League of Md., than he was in 1898?

Even if Mr. McKinley has (in his opinion) made a good President, is that a sufficient cause for his change of attitude?

Is it not strange that he could support Mr. Bryan in 1898 on a silver platform, and yet decline to support him in 1900 on the same platform, even though our monetary system is now secure against assault save by legislative action?

It becomes evident that the thought of free coinage could not have frightened Mr. Jackson into his present attitude. Let us then look for the cause of his present attitude. Like most of the committee of 70 he seems to regard the dollar above everything else and thus in his anxiety to have an enlarged outlet for trade he is willing to lay aside every question of right and lend his aid to a war of conquest.

If we recall his utterance just after the meeting of the Kansas City convention it becomes evident that he has gone to the Republican party simply because he is an expansionist and believes that trade will follow the flag. I presume that it is of little consequence to him whether or not the Constitution follows the flag.

When he speaks of Mr. McKinley being as "democratic as an old shoe" and "accessible to the masses of the people" it is fair to presume that he speaks of his own knowledge, and we are almost led to wonder what could have brought him into such nearness with our President. It is to be hoped that that contact has had nothing to do with his change of party affiliations at the present time.

He says that he is going to vote for McKinley because Mr. McKinley has kept all of his pledges. There are a great many persons who have belonged to the Republican party all of their lives who cannot give Mr. McKinley such a strong endorsement as this recent convert to Republicanism, Gen. Lloyd Jackson.

If the Republican party has kept all of its promises, I cannot understand why Gen. Lloyd Jackson should be so much afraid of free silver in the event of the election of Mr. Bryan. If the Republican party has not passed such a financial law that the money standard of this government cannot be changed except by an act of congress, it has not kept its promise, and is not entitled to support.

If it has passed such a law the standard of value is in no danger at present, and should not cause Gen. Jackson such concern. Has the Republican party kept its promise in the matter of civil service reform? The plank in the Republican National Convention of 1898 relative to Civil Service Reform may have been intended only to catch votes, but the American people are well aware that Wm. McKinley has done more to stay the progress of civil service reform than any President in years.

Has the Republican party done its duty toward Porto Rico? Ask Benjamin Harrison.

Is he who said the Porto Rican tariff measure (enacted by a Republican congress and approved by a Republican President) was a "grave departure from right principles?"

Is the Republican party doing its duty toward the Philippine Islands? Ask the venerable Senator Hoar. It is he who says, "If there were no Constitution, if there were no international law, if there was nothing but the history of the past two years, the American people would be bound in honor if there be honor, bound in common honesty, if there be honesty, not to crush out this Philippine republic, and not to wrest from this people its independence."

If in the campaign of 1896 Gen. Lloyd Jackson did all that he claims to have done, even going so far as to furnish all of the campaign funds, does it not seem strange that the Democratic party should have been so blind to its own interest as to decline to allow him to feed at the party crib, and thus keep him in line for the present campaign. If his work and contributions to that campaign are to be measured by the results, his work must have been like warm and his contributions small.

I have not changed my views on the money question since 1896 when I declined to support Mr. Bryan and the Chicago platform and cast my vote for Gen. Palmer. I am unwilling, however, to measure everything by the standard of money, and believing that in the present contest there are questions of much greater importance than money, I expect to subordinate my views on that question and cast my vote for Wm. Jennings Bryan. F. L. WALLIS.

"Down on the Farm."

There is plenty of fun in "Down on the Farm." The character of Seth Huckleins, an honest old farmer, is well conceived, strongly drawn, and is actually a portrait from the living model, and is impersonated by that amusing Yankee comedian, Mr. Charles Manley, who is supported by a company of clever people. This plot is a good one and holds the audience from start to finish. It has proven a great success.—New York Journal.

Does Your Baking Powder Contain Alum?

Prof. Geo. F. Barker, M.D., University of Penn.: "All the constituents of alum remain (from alum baking powders) in the bread, and the alum itself is reproduced to all intents and purposes when the bread is dissolved by the gastric juice in the process of digestion. I regard the use of alum as highly injurious."

Dr. Alonzo Clark: "A substance (alum) which can derange the stomach should not be tolerated in baking powder."

Prof. W. G. Tucker, New York State Chemist: "I believe it (alum) to be decidedly injurious when used as a constituent of food articles."

Prof. S. W. Johnson, Yale College: "I regard their (alum and soluble alumina salts) introduction into baking powders as most dangerous to health."

In view of such testimony as this, every care must be exercised by the housewife to exclude the over and over condemned cheap, alum baking powders from the food.

Baking powders made from cream of tartar, which is highly refined grape acid, are promotive of health, and more efficient. No other kind should be used in leavening food. Royal Baking Powder is the highest example of a pure cream of tartar powder.

Another Answer to Discontent—Other Things of Interest to Teachers and Pupils.

We publish below a letter from a former principal of the Salisbury High School expressing approval of this column. His letter reads as follows:

Delmar, Del., Oct. 12, 1900.
Messrs. White Hearn & Cooper:

Please allow me to congratulate you on your happy thought in getting the teachers of the county to put questions pertinent to their work in your column, and in securing the help of Prof. LeFevre to solve them.

His answers of last week reflect credit upon him as a master of the art of teaching, and the continuance of living questions and sensible, practical solutions cannot fail to be a great help to the teachers and schools of the entire county.

Yours very truly,
HARRY B. FREMONT.

Prof. LeFevre:—As your answer to my request published in the "Teachers Column" of the Advertiser, last week, did not contain the advice I sought, I must have failed to make myself plain in the question. Anyway, your answer does not satisfy me. I am teaching with seemingly good results, but I do not love the work. I wanted you to tell me what course to pursue in order that my love for teaching may be increased. I believe that I care enough for my profession to follow any suggestions you may be able to give me tending to cultivate a fondness for teaching. My health is fairly good and it's only because I care so little for what seems my life work that I am "despondent."

Despondent.—First love is commonly lost love, as well, in pursuit, as in all things. What has become of those inducements that influenced you to enter upon the work of your profession? Have they lost their charm? Neither our work nor our love for it can be perfect, yet this is no reason for false apprehensions nor for despondency. Is it possible for you to teach with seemingly good results and not to experience emotions of pleasure and joy? Instead of looking upon the love of teaching as some strange thing that you have never felt, recall the wish or desire that prompted you to begin the work, think now you have striven to succeed, and attribute your success to a thing prompted by instinctive aptitude. You are doing that for which you are fitted; accept my congratulations upon your "seemingly good results"; and be cheerful.

I have nothing to suggest if the proper use of your talent cannot make you happy. A useful character, like a well cut diamond, shines which ever way we approach it, and life without a mission is only a mask.

There is no profession more honorable or more important than that which deals with the harmonious development of all the powers of man—a being who stands midway between the kingdom of nature and that of immortal spirits, who is the measure of the earth and all it contains, and who unites in himself every power and every beauty dispersed in nature.

The longer you study humanity, the greater will be your faith in the possibilities of human attainment and the stronger your interest in its development. "Know Thyself" was the stern admonition inscribed upon the temple of Apollo, but how this knowledge is to be attained is a question which the gods did not answer. He that will understand himself must observe those around him, the systematic development of all contained in man. "Education alone can conduct us to that enjoyment which is, at once, best in quality and infinite in quantity."

BARRIED FROM WHITE SCHOOLS
In an opinion sent this week to Mayor Hayes and President Packard, of the School Board, of Baltimore, City Solicitor Wm. Pinkney Whyte holds that the children of a man having one fourth negro blood are not entitled under the law to enter white schools. The opinion was in response to a letter sent to Mr. Whyte on October 1 by President Packard. The case in which the opinion was asked was brought to the attention of the School Board by the Junior Order United American Mechanics. It is stated in the opinion as follows:

"An individual admits that he has one fourth negro blood, but in appearance he might pass for a Spaniard. His wife is a white woman, he was married to her some where out of this State. The children are, to all appearances, white. Several children of this man and his wife, older than the two now in question, have been educated during the past 10 years in the white schools of the city without any objection. His name appears in the city directories of 1897, 1898, 1899 and 1900 as that of a white man. On the other hand, we are informed that the register in his precinct have refused to register him as a white man. The Board begs to be informed, as soon as convenient, whether, under the law of Maryland, these two children are entitled to enter a white school or a colored school."

Mr. Whyte says in his opinion: "Under the fact above stated, in my judgment the children described are only entitled to enter a colored school, and not a white school." Mr. Whyte quotes the law bearing on the case and concludes as follows: "The distinction is one of race and color absolutely."

SCHOOL DISTRICT IN MAINE.

School district No. 2 in Houlton, Maine, says a dispatch to the New York Sun, is known all over Eastern Maine as the Barberry district, so called because it contains 22 families who are rigid vegetarians. The sect owes its origin to a corner in Chicago dressed beef 13 years ago, when beef-steak went up to 30 cents a pound in the district and plain soup bones were sold for the price commonly paid for sugar-cured hams. As the rates were maintained month after month without relief, the beef-eaters were aroused till they finally met in convention and every person present made a pledge to eat only all animal foods. They also agreed to confine themselves to the use of vegetables as far as possible, not only in their foods, but in every branch of their labors where the products of plants could be made to take the place of animal or mineral substances.

The community is remarkably healthy, the men and women retaining their full vigor up to an advanced age. Consumption, the fatal malady in the county, has never visited the district since it changed its mode of living. The young men are big, red checked and vigorous, and the girls are famous for their beauty. Good judges say that the diet has improved their looks so that no part of the country can show so many pretty girls as the Barberry district.

At Ulmans' next week.

"Down on the Farm" is described as being one of the most fascinating plays ever produced, with the attractive theme of New England country life for its subject, and has been warmly received in all the large cities of the United States, and its strong dramatic effect has been most highly commended. The company supporting Mr. Manley is a very able one, composed of metropolitan favorites who have been selected for their special adaptability to the parts assigned. The company is one of the ablest now on the road, and the specialties deserve particular mention, being very strong.

"Down on the Farm" carries its own band and orchestra and special scenery. There will be a street parade made at noon by the Rufo Band October 26th., when the company will appear at Ulmans' opera house. Seats at 25, 35 and 50 cents. Reserve seats will be sold at box office.

"Eastern Shore Exhibit Committee."

The Eastern Shore of Maryland will have an exhibit at the Pan-American Exposition next year at Buffalo. This much has been definitely decided upon by the Eastern Shore Board of Development. The exhibit has been placed in the hands of an able and representative committee, one member from each county on the Shore. This committee will meet in Odd Fellows' Hall, Easton on Friday, Oct. 20th to organize and get to work.

The following gentlemen have been selected as members: Caroline, Thos. D. Day, Ridgely; Cecil, Geo. W. Lockwood, Warrenton; Dorchester, Colonel Wilbur F. Jackson; Castle Haven; Kent, Hon. J. A. Pearce; Chestertown; Queen Anne, Wm. McKenney; Centerville; Somerset, Hon. L. E. F. Dennis, Crisfield; Talbot, M. B. Nichols, Easton; Wicomico, Dr. Saml. A. Graham, Salisbury; Worcester, Dr. E. J. Women's Auxiliary at Princess Anne.

The semi-annual session of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Easton convened in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church at Princess Anne Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Stoussat, of Lake Itland, president of the Maryland Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, made an address at the morning session. At the afternoon session the auxiliary was addressed by Bishop Parridge, of Kyoto, Japan, upon mission work in Japan and China. In the evening a reception was tendered the auxiliary at the mansion. Mrs. M. V. Brewington and Mrs. Thomas Perry were the delegates from Salisbury.

Farmers' Institutes.

Mr. William L. Amos, director of the farmers' institute in Maryland, says he has engaged Mr. Joseph E. Wing, of Ohio, a noted breeder and feeder of sheep, to assist in treating of sheep husbandry. He will be assisted in the dairying counties by Mr. Edward Van Alstyne, of New York, and by specialists from the Department of Agriculture. He will begin holding the institutes in Garrett county on January 7 and work thence easterly, closing in Southern Maryland about the last part of February. An institute lasting two days will be given in each county.

WILLIAM L. WILSON DEAD

The President of Washington-Lee University Expires Suddenly.

AUTHOR OF WILSON TARIFF BILL

And Postmaster General in the Cabinet President Cleveland—Known as the "Scholar Statesman" of West Virginia.

Lexington, Va., Oct. 18.—Ex-Postmaster General William L. Wilson died suddenly yesterday forenoon. Mr. Wilson's funeral will occur at Charlestown, W. Va., at 10 a. m. tomorrow. The remains will leave Lexington at 4 a. m., accompanied by the family, Harry St. George Tucker, chairman of the faculty of professors; A. L. Nelson and H. P. Willis, a committee of the faculty; Hon. William A. Anderson and A. T. Barclay, of the board of trustees and a committee of twelve students. Services will be held this afternoon in Lee Memorial chapel, at the university.

THE LATE WILLIAM L. WILSON.

conducted by Rev. T. A. Hall, of the Lexington Baptist church, and Rev. Dr. James A. Quarles, of the university. All duties were suspended yesterday in the university. The remains are now lying in state at the president's house.

William Lyne Wilson, known as the "scholar statesman" of West Virginia, was born in Jefferson county in 1845, and was educated at the Charlestown academy, at Columbian college, at Washington, and at the University of Virginia. Although but a youth in his teens when the war broke out, Wilson enlisted in the Confederate army, and rendered excellent service. After the war he was a professor in Columbia college for several years, and afterward practiced law at Charlestown, W. Va. In 1882 he was elected to congress, and was re-elected without difficulty. As chairman of the ways and means committee he prepared the Wilson tariff bill, which became law, and soon after decided to retire from politics on account of ill health. Later, however, he was again a candidate for congress, but was defeated, and was appointed postmaster general by President Cleveland. Before his term expired he was chosen president of the Washington-Lee university at Lexington, Va., a position he held until his death.

Intimidating Cotton Mill Workers.

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 18.—The cotton mill trouble in Alamance county has resulted in a strike. Hundreds of men, women and children are idle as the result of notices posted by the mill owners some days ago notifying all operatives who would not withdraw from the textile union to consider themselves discharged after the 15th. Very few, if any, of the operatives abandoned the union. As the mill men remained firm a majority of the mills in the county are either idle or running with greatly reduced force.

Prince Hohenlohe Resigns.

Berlin, Oct. 18.—The Johanne Zeitung asserts that Prince Hohenlohe has tendered his resignation as imperial chancellor, and that it has been accepted. According to the same authority Emperor William has designated as the retiring chancellor's successor Count von Buelow, minister of foreign affairs. The reasons which induced the prince to insist upon retiring were, in the main, his rapidly growing infirmities and his distinct disapproval of the emperor's personal policy in China.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. These children urinate too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. —The Republicans want the drum-beat (of imperialism) to be heard around the world; we want the light of liberty to shine so brightly here that it will be seen around the world and will everywhere inspire people to fight to secure the right to govern themselves.

W. J. Bryan.

"IN THE ENEMY'S COUNTRY."

Mr. Bryan has entered what in 1896 was called the "enemy's country." This an "enemy's country" no longer, those who fought him hardest four years ago are this year shoulder to shoulder in their efforts to elect him President.

The reception he received in New York on Tuesday night, when he made his first speech to an Eastern audience, is without a parallel. The New York democracy surpassed itself, never in its history has Tammany Hall gotten up such a demonstration. Seventy-five thousand people heard Mr. Bryan speak at four different meetings and as many more were on the outside of the Hall unable to get in.

Mr. Edward M. Sheppard, who is a gold democrat and opposed the election of Mr. Bryan in 1896, presided at the largest meeting of the evening. Every where was there intense enthusiasm displayed. At no place could the Democratic nominee appear without prolonged cheers, which at one place lasted for fifteen minutes.

After it was all over, Mr. Bryan said it exceeded anything he had ever seen and that "it means votes." Mr. Croker said it meant New York would go for Bryan by forty thousand. Ex-Governor Stone of Missouri said it insured the electoral vote of New York to the Democrats.

On Wednesday morning a tour through New York State was begun. From every point where he stopped comes the same report—tremendous crowds and great enthusiasm. Republican strongholds have endeavored to outdo Democratic strongholds in their welcome. Where the Democrats were thought weakest the largest crowds and greatest enthusiasm have prevailed. The Empire State is thoroughly aroused. Now let Maryland do the same thing and particularly the Eastern Shore. Let the Democrats of Wicomico and the surrounding counties, on next Wednesday, show Mr. Bryan that there is no such thing as the "enemy's country" in this section of Maryland.

—Our fight is not against patent law that gives a man a chance to make something out of his own genius. Our fight is against that great monopoly that confers no blessing on the human race, but corners everything it can and makes victims of every human being brought within its power.—William J. Bryan.

—"Tell me the laboring man is prosperous, when the laboring man must send his son and his daughter out to work to help support the family, when they ought to be in school. Is this prosperity?"—W. J. Bryan —In another column will be found campaign literature of the Sound Money Democratic League of Baltimore.

In publishing this matter the ADVERTISER is making no new departure from a long established custom of selling space to political organizations not of our own persuasion. The tickets of the Prohibition and Republican parties, have many times in the past appeared in the columns of the ADVERTISER as paid matter, and in 1896 space was given to the Republican party to discuss and lay before the voters of the county the campaign as seen from their point of view, there being at the time no Republican organ in the county. We did not then and do not now see how a righteous cause can suffer by comparison.

It is to be hoped that the friends and patrons of the ADVERTISER have long since discovered that the paper is not run on provincial lines, and can afford to sell space to those who differ with us in political faith without having to apologize for it, as some of our contemporaries are doing by referring to the fact that the city dailies are giving prominent positions in the advertising columns to this class of paid matter.

The ADVERTISER never vindicates its position in that manner. Its publishers map out their own line of action regardless of what other people, or other papers, do, and follow it.

In the case in question the ADVERTISER has treated the matter in a purely business way, and not in any way considering it indicative of the paper's political policy.

—"We are not the foes of that wealth which comes as the reward of honest toil, and which is enjoyed by those who give to society something in return for that which society bestows upon them."—W. J. Bryan.

REPUBLICAN SUPPORT OF TRUSTS.

The farce of pretending that the Republican party if retained in power by the re-election of President McKinley will attempt to resist the growing power of the trusts is still maintained by Republican organs and some Republican speakers, although not by Chairman Mark Hanna, who repeats from day to day his stereotyped assertion that there are no trusts. Hanna knows who furnishes the Republican campaign funds, and he doesn't propose even to promise any future Republican hostility to the trusts.

Incontrovertible evidence of the sympathy of the Republican leaders for trusts and trust methods is furnished by the fact that the Republican national committee is using its machinery for the circulation of trust literature. A book entitled "Other Side," written by Lyman Horace Weeks and published by the National Publishing Company, of New York, which is an argument in defense of trusts, is now being circulated by the Republican national committee, the trusts paying for the books and the publishing company delivering them to the Republican headquarters in New York for distribution. The books are received for upon delivery by the publishing company by Joseph H. Manly, the secretary of the Republican national committee at that place.

If the Republican national convention at Philadelphia had announced its friendliness to trusts in its platform there would have been neither false pretense or dishonesty in circulating from Republican campaign headquarters a defense of the trusts. The Republican platform contains a distinct declaration against trusts, however, and this attempt on the part of the Republican campaign managers to create public sentiment in favor of the trusts is either a confession that the Republican anti-trust plank was insincere or a gross betrayal of the convention that adopted it as an expression of Republican sentiment.

In either case the only safe policy for any voter who is in favor of proper restriction of the trusts is to vote with the party whose opposition to trust tyranny is sincere, and for the candidate whose declarations against the trusts are accepted by friend and foe as the expressions of his honest and unalterable purpose. The Democratic party is making no campaign of false pretenses on this subject, and its candidate, William J. Bryan, means every word he utters and will keep every promise he makes in regard to the trusts.—Philadelphia Times.

CLEVELAND UNCHANGED

Views On Money Issue Same As It Was In 1895.

EX-PRESIDENT REAFFIRMS POSITION THEN TAKEN.

Pointed Out Evils of a Debased Currency.

HOW THE POOR WOULD BE THE FIRST TO SUFFER—FULL TEXT OF THE CHICAGO LETTER.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 19.—John S. Green, of this city, recently wrote to Ex-President Cleveland asking him if he had changed his views from those expressed in a letter to Chicago business men which was dated April 18, 1895.

Mr. Green explained that Mr. Cleveland's friends were very much in doubt as to the position he now held, and, inclosing a copy of the Chicago letter, asked him to state his views now. Mr. Cleveland's answer was brief and pointed. It was dated Buzzard's Bay, October 7, and was as follows:

Dear Sir—I have received your letter, inclosing a copy of my letter written more than five years ago to the business men of Chicago. I had not seen it in a long time, but it seems to me I could not state the case better at this time if I should try. I have not changed my opinion as therein expressed in the least.

Yours truly,
GROVER CLEVELAND.

The Chicago Letter.

The letter to the Chicago business men was devoted entirely to the financial question, and was as follows:

"If recklessness, discontent and wild experiment should sweep our currency from its safe support, the most defenseless of all who suffer in that time of distress and national discredit will be the poor, and they reckon the loss in their scanty support, and the laborer or workman as he sees the money he has received from his toil shrink and shrivel in his hand when he tends it for the necessities of the humble home. I will not believe that if our people are afforded an opportunity to intelligent second thought they will sanction schemes that, however cloaked, mean disaster and confusion, nor that they will consent by undermining the foundation of safe currency to endanger the beneficent character and purpose of their Government."

"The situation we are now confronting demands that those who appreciate the importance of this subject, and they ought to be the first to see impending danger, should no longer remain indifferent or overconfident. If the money situation abroad in the land is to save us from mischief and disaster, it must be crystallized and combined and made immediately active."

Growth of Free-Silver Sentiment.

"It is dangerous to overlook the fact that a vast number of our people, with scant opportunity thus far to examine the question in all its aspects, have, nevertheless, been ingeniously pressed with special suggestions, which, in this time of misfortune and depression, finds willing listeners, prepared to give credence to any scheme which is plausibly presented as a remedy for their unfortunate condition."

"It ought not to be difficult to convince the wage-earner that if there were benefits arising from a degenerated currency they would reach him least of all and last of all. In an unhealthy stimulation of prices an increased cost of all the needs of his home must be his portion, while he is at the same time vexed with vanishing visions of increased wages and an easier lot. The pages of history and experience are full of these lessons."

An Appeal to Class Hatred.

"An insidious attempt is made to create a prejudice against the advocates of a safe and sound currency by the insinuation, more or less directly made, that they belong to financial and business classes, and are, therefore, not only out of sympathy with the common people of the land, but for selfish and wicked purposes are willing to sacrifice the interests of those outside their circle."

"I believe that capital and wealth, through combination and other means, sometimes gain an undue advantage, and it must be conceded that the maintenance of a sound currency may in a sense be invested with greater or less importance to individuals, according to their conditions and circumstances."

"It is, however, only a difference in degree, since it is utterly impossible that any one in our broad land, rich or poor, whatever may be his occupation, and whether dwelling in a center of finance and commerce or in a remote corner of our domain, can be really benefited by a financial scheme not alike beneficial, or that any one should be excluded from a common and universal interest in the safe character and stable value of the currency of the country."

What Mr. Bryan Says He Would Do to the Gold Standard.

"Against the maintenance of the gold standard for one year or forever the Democratic party has arrayed itself. We are opposed to a gold standard. We have declared an honorable opposition to it. We have commenced a war of extermination against it—a war that will not cease while there is any party or any considerable number of men attempting to fasten this foreign yoke upon an independent people. I seek no votes under false pretenses. I want no one to vote for me under misunderstanding. IF THERE IS ANYONE WHO BELIEVES THAT THE GOLD STANDARD IS A GOOD THING OR THAT IT MUST BE MAINTAINED, I WARN HIM NOT TO CAST HIS VOTE FOR ME, BECAUSE I PROMISE HIM THAT IT WILL NOT BE MAINTAINED IN THIS COUNTRY LONGER THAN I AM ABLE TO GET RID OF IT."—WILLIAM J. BRYAN, AT KNOXVILLE, TENN., IN 1896.

"We have commenced a warfare against the gold standard and expect to continue that warfare until there will not be a man in this country who will dare to raise his voice in favor of the gold standard."—WILLIAM J. BRYAN, AT INDIANAPOLIS, 1896.

"The Republicans tell us we ought to have the gold standard because England has it. I reply that we cannot have the gold standard because so many nations have already adopted it that they have forced up the price of gold, and for us to join them is to commit murder upon ourselves, while we commit suicide upon ourselves."—WILLIAM J. BRYAN, AT NEWARK, N. J., 1896.

MR. BRYAN OF THE SAME OPINION STILL.

MR. BRYAN, AT ZANESVILLE, SEPTEMBER, 1900.

"The party stands where it did in 1896 on the money question."

MR. BRYAN, AT MILWAUKEE, SEPTEMBER, 1900.

MR. BRYAN, AT SCOTLAND, S. D., SEPTEMBER, 1900.

"We stand today opposed to the gold standard as we did then (in 1896)."

MR. BRYAN, AT ANN ARBOR, MICH., OCTOBER 11, 1900.

"We are in favor of the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation on earth."

Bryan Analyzed.

Jan. H. Eckels, United States Comptroller under President Cleveland's administration, analyzes Bryan as follows:

"As long as Mr. Bryan leads Democracy, it is hopelessly wedded to a money standard which means repudiation of the nation's obligations and the impairment of the nation's credit, if once it should be powerful enough to accomplish such a result. It will not do to lull ourselves into a supposed security from danger on this score because Mr. Bryan has seen fit to cease talking on the money question. The people must not flatter themselves that Mr. Bryan has changed his views on this subject. He has not, and he will not. His erroneous views are fixed. He has only found it politic for the present to conceal them, and Mr. Bryan is nothing if not politic in his demagoguery. He is the strenuous advocate of silver until he has gotten through with the Populist and Silver conventions; but, once they were over, the advocacy of something else being necessary to bring votes and support, silver is made to give way to the issues of anti-imperialism and so-called 'anti-militarism.' When it is once realized that Mr. Bryan is not a statesman, but a charlatan and demagogue, who loves public applause and servile flattery, he will stand stripped of many of his supposed Spartan virtues. His craving is always for notoriety, and there is no means that is at hand that he will not avail himself of. He has never read beyond the elementary in his study of political economy; and, as a result of consistency of his statements, one with the other, does not concern him. He is equally indifferent to the contradiction by the course of events of assertions which he has put forth."

"It is urged that he is intellectually honest. The acceptance of this statement as truth by one who follows Mr. Bryan from day to day in all his thousands of words, requires unbounded assurance as to either the simplicity of his nature or the density of his ignorance. Mr. Bryan has been regarded by many as belonging in sympathy to what is termed the common people. That is a false view. He has led too many of the common people into grievous errors by the sophistry and eloquence of his speech, and that, too, for his own political advantage, and not to their advantage, as a class. The establishment of any close bond of union between the workmen of the country and their employers would mean the loss to Mr. Bryan of every vestige of the support of the workmen, and, therefore, we find him continually a sower of strife, between capital and labor. Any considerable exhibition of fraternity of feeling between this and other nations, sanctioned by general consent, would deprive him of another means of appealing to prejudice, and always we find him sowing such relations with other people."

He inveighs against everything that is, and applauds something which might be, always having in view the bringing to himself the benefit which might accrue in a political struggle from a situation based on discontent and a desire for change.

"I do not believe such a man can make a safe Chief Executive in a nation whose population is as varied as that of the United States."

The United States Senate If Bryan is Elected.

What Hon. George E. Roberts, Director of the Mint, in the October number of the Review of Reviews says regarding Bryan:

"The gold-standard law received 11 Democratic votes in the House. There is greater probability that the next House will be Democratic than that Mr. Bryan will be elected, and, if the latter event occurs, it may be accepted as certain that the House will be Democratic by a much larger majority than 11. The free silver element will organize the House, elect the Speaker and control legislation."

"In the Senate there are now 54 votes to sustain the gold-standard law, counting one in the Pennsylvania vacancy. But the two Democrats who voted for it, Lindsay and Caffery, will be replaced on March 4 next by free silver Senators already elected. Seven Republican Senators who voted for it are likely to lose their seats at the same time, if the sentiment of the country is such as to elect Mr. Bryan. They are Bakers of Kansas, Carter of Montana, Eldridge of West Virginia, Shoup of Idaho, Thurston of Nebraska, Warren of Wyoming and Wolcott of Colorado. If Mr. Bryan is elected he will almost certainly carry all of these States, and if he carries them it is to be expected that they will elect free-silver Senators. Nine votes deducted from the sound money strength leaves the Senate a tie, with a free-silver Vice-President in the chair."

"It is apparent from the foregoing that if Mr. Bryan is elected there will be no safe and reliable majority against him in either branch of Congress. It is impossible for any man to give his influence to the election of Bryan without aiding him to control in Congress. A few sound-money Democrats in either body will not suffice to relieve the country from anxiety. Against them will be their party presence, the organization in both houses, and finally the influence and disciplinary powers of the President. A signal example of what the latter can accomplish was given when the purchasing clause of the Sherman Act was repealed, and a striking demonstration of how Mr. Bryan would use these powers was afforded by his attitude toward the Kansas City Convention."

THE LEAGUE TO ALVEY.

Reply to the Hagerstown Lawyer. Why he Should Not Support Bryan.

Richard H. Alvey, Jr.

In answer to a communication addressed to you by the Honest Money Democratic League, inclosing its declaration of principles, you have seen fit instead of answering us, to write an open letter to the editors of the Sun. We do not complain of this, but simply as our ourselves of the same method in making a reply, and it gives us pleasure to acknowledge that, though we deem your position essentially unsound, the reasons for it are stated with frankness and candor.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

You do not join in the ignorant attack made upon the League by those who question our sincerity and honesty because some of our committees are interested in banks and trust companies. You are too intelligent not to know the real and necessary functions of banks in the community and that they are managed by able and upright men, who are profoundly interested in the general welfare, and being the son of your illustrious father, you are too honest to join in the demagogic outcry against them."

AND YET—

And yet have you not absorbed some of the poison of Populism when you say that "their political horizon is limited by the atmosphere of 'change and the countinghouse'?" If you think a little you would know that banks prosper when the people are prosperous; that banking business is good when the mills and factories are running, when the transportation companies are busy, when the merchants, wholesale and retail, are buying and selling, and as a necessary consequence vast numbers of persons are employed at good wages. You cannot have prosperous banks and unprosperous community. Therefore, in fighting a measure that will bring commercial disaster the banks are fighting for themselves. Yes! But also fighting for all those who would be injuriously affected by the same cause. Do you think this is wrong? Should banking men and business men be blamed for fighting in self defense? The Populists say that they should be blamed, and decided and suspected. But this is only because they foolishly believe that the welfare of banks is hostile to the interests of the community. You are too intelligent to lend your efforts to stir up prejudice among classes of the people whose interests are identical; therefore, it is not entirely worthy of you even to intimate that a banker cannot now be trusted in this campaign for he is fighting for sound money.

WHO WILL BE HURT BY FREE SILVER?

The banks will be hurt, all business men will be hurt, but you know perfectly well that those who will be hurt the most are the persons employed. Their wages will be reduced to one-half in purchasing power. The banker and merchant have the chance of rapidly adjusting themselves to the new order of things after the panic which you know would undoubtedly result from free silver. But how about the wage earner? All experience shows that he would feel the blow more heavily than anyone else, and be the last class in the community to recover from its disastrous effects. The mass of the people ought to be thankful that the interests of the bankers and merchants are the same as theirs in this campaign, and that in fighting for themselves the banker and merchant are fighting the workingman's battle.

WHAT WILL BRYAN DO?

You claim to be a Gold Democrat and yet you think we are extravagant in saying that Bryan would force in a silver on the community through free-silver Secretary of the Treasury and a free-silver Attorney General.

Are we not right? Our reasons are as follows:

1. Bryan forced free silver on the Kansas City Convention against the wishes of one half the Democratic party, and that the better, wiser and more conservative half. He threatened not to take the nomination unless the free silver plank was expressly inserted in the platform.

2. He accepted a nomination from his populists and Free-Silver Republicans.

3. He is known to be fanatically wedded to the 16 to 1 doctrine and has always persisted in it.

4. He has expressly said:

"If there is anyone who believes that the gold standard is a good thing or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to vote for me, because I promise him that it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

Just the other day he said (September, 1900) at Milwaukee:

"The position of the Democratic party on the money question has undergone no change."

In answer to this overwhelming testimony you simply say that he won't do it. Bryan says that he will; you say that he will not. Do you think the position you take is reasonable? Don't you think that Bryan knows better what he will try to accomplish than you do? And do you really think that Richard Olney, William L. Wilson, Carl Schurz, Governor Boutwell, Bourke Cockran or Charles Marshall could persuade him to be conservative, stultify his whole political career and break his reiterated promises to the people? If half of his party could not bend him or swerve him from his settled purpose, you know that the men you mention could not influence him in the slightest degree.

WHAT CAN BRYAN DO?

You entirely ignore the possibility of a Democratic majority in the two houses, and yet you expect Democratic anti-trust legislation. But suppose that Bryan were elected and the Senate remains Republican; you simply say that Mr. Bryan could have no effect upon the financial policy of the country during his Administration. You present no argument to support your contention, though the contrary has frequently been demonstrated. Without repeating the arguments already known to the people, allow us to confront you with the opinion of the leader whom you are now following, the Baltimore Sun:

THE SUN ANSWERS ALVEY.

The Baltimore Sun of August 3, 1896, declares as follows:

"If unfortunately Mr. Bryan should be elected, even though the Republican party have a clear majority in Congress, he would no doubt do what his party promised to do, pay the obligations of the Government in silver—that would settle the matter without any Free Coinage Act by Congress."

"The Sherman Act of 1890 and the repeal of the act of 1893 would make it the duty of the President to keep all forms of currency at par with gold; but elected on a revolutionary platform and himself an extremist, Mr. Bryan would hardly show seal in keeping all forms of currency up to the present gold standard; he would let the gold reserve vanish, which of itself would probably bring us to the silver basis without the enactment of a free-coinage law. Hence the importance of electing a man whose principles will secure the payment of sound money in all relations, public and private."

Now Mr. Alvey, do you not feel your position somewhat shaky when on one important point you are contradicted by the Baltimore Sun and on the other by Mr. Bryan himself?

GOLD AND THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

You object that the gold standard will not be safe under Republican rule. It is sufficient answer to call your attention to the fact that in 1896, in one of the most intense campaigns ever fought in this country, the Republican party stomped the free silver cause; that without its exertions we would now be on a free-silver basis.

We hope that a careful consideration of this letter will cause you and the other Gold Democrats of Hagerstown who were with us in 1896 to reconsider your position and to stand firm as a rock on the side of honest money.

Very respectfully,
THE HONEST-MONEY DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE OF MARYLAND.

Through the liberality of the School Board there will soon be placed in the hands of the teachers the suggested guides mentioned in the Course of Study. This progressive step on the part of the school officials will undoubtedly be followed with good results.

Salisbury Marine Railway.

—Mr. Otis Lloyd, of White Haven, who recently purchased the plant and good will of the Salisbury Marine Railway Co., was in Salisbury Friday. He expects soon to assume the management of the plant, and will begin at once the construction of a big barge for Capt. Wm. Travers of Nanticoke. He also has a great deal of repair work waiting on him.

"Many a Mickle Makes a Muckle."

"Line upon line" is the way a building grows. The "Mickle" in this Scotch proverb is something very small, but the "muckle" is something great. One microscopic bacillus makes impure blood, and "muckle wae" (much disease and disaster) follows. Hood's Sarsaparilla cleans the blood as nothing else can. It brings "muckle" joy at "mickle" cost. Half teaspoonful does.

Pimples—Pimples, blackheads and a kind of rash covered my face. A friend advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have taken three bottles and the pimples are gone. Lissie Meyerhem, 12 Hunterly Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Uncle-Sam-the-Store-Keeper

Sat at the back of the store half a leep. Customers were scarce and flies plenty, and every little while he would reach up and flick a fly off his ear, and then reach for the box and get a dried apple which he would chew, and sort of wonder where the next customer would come from. He had had a good season—sold canned goods to the whole world, sold lard to Greece, cigars to Cuba, and he had sent his traveling men all over the world drumming up trade, and he thought he had earned a little rest. Then he heard a foot fall, and he looked up; a man of fine figure was coming down the store and as he got up to wait on the new comer he inquired, "Can I do anything for you to-day?" Well, yes, I am going to the Eastern Shore of Maryland, for my first time, and want to buy a Brand New Suit of Clothes and a New Hat. I am booked to make a speech in Salisbury, October 24. My name is Bryan and I am a little particular. Say Bill I haven't what you want in the clothing line. Now if you are going to Salisbury, you are going to the best town on earth to get clothes and the best clothes in Salisbury are to be had at Lacy Thoroughgood's. That's it, Sam be honest, if you haven't what a man wants tell him the best place to get it. "Well," said Uncle Sam, "there are so many good kinds of clothes and hats at Lacy Thoroughgood's you may be bothered in selecting, but you can't make a mistake for Thoroughgood won't let you." "Well," said Bryan, "the way some people in Salisbury are talking makes me hot in the collar." "Well," said Uncle Sam, "if it does you can go to Thoroughgood's and get a new one."

There are some women who seem to be perennially youthful. The grown daughters are companions as well as children, and the color in the mothers cheeks, the brightness in her eyes, the roundness of her form, all speak of abounding health. What is her secret? She is at the middle age of life when so many women are worn, wasted and faded; and yet time has only ripened her charms. The secret of this matronly health and beauty may be told in the brief phrase, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The general health of woman is so intimately related to the local health of the delicate womanly organs, that where these are diseased, the whole body must suffer. "Favorite Prescription" drives the debilitating drains, heals ulceration and inflammation, cures female weakness and imparts to the delicate female organs natural vigor and vitality. Women who have lost their health and their beauty have been made "robust and rosy cheeked" by the use of this marvelous medicine.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy. It is for sale by R. K. Truitt & Sons.

STRIKING MINERS WIN.

Employees Agree to the Demands of the Scranton Convention.

THE SLIDING SCALE ABOLISHED.

The Strikers Now Only Await Notice From the Mine Workers' Officials to Return to Work—Operations May Be Resumed Next Monday.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—The great strike of the anthracite mine workers of Pennsylvania, which began Sept. 17, practically ended yesterday when the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company and the Lehigh Valley Coal company agreed to abolish the sliding scale in their respective regions and to grant an advance in wages of 10 per cent, the advance to remain in operation until April 1, 1901, or thereafter. This action meets the demands of the Scranton miners' convention. The decision was arrived at after a conference between representatives of the individual coal operators and the large coal carrying companies.

Yesterday's action was the culmination of the recent meeting of the individual operators at Scranton, following the mine workers' convention in the same city. Nearly all of the collieries in the coal region had previous to the the mine workers' convention posted notices granting an advance of 10 per cent. The mine workers, in considering this, demanded that the sliding scale be abolished, the increase to be guaranteed until April 1, 1901, and all other differences be submitted to arbitration. The individual operators agreed to everything, and the appointment of a committee to induce the Reading and the Lehigh companies to abolish the sliding scale and make the wage increase permanent followed.

It is conceded that the result of yesterday's conference is a complete victory for the men. All the demands of the convention are conceded to, and as one of the individual operators put it after the conference, the operators go a little further in agreeing to maintain the wage advance after April 1. This same operator, who requested that his name be not used, said, in speaking of the conference:

"It's all up to the miners now. We have agreed to everything, and nothing remains now but for them to return to work as soon as the notices are posted by the colliery managers. These notices will be practically similar to the Reading company's notice, the phraseology only being changed. I look for a resumption of operations by Monday at the latest. The conference was entirely harmonious, and every phase of the strike situation was gone over."

Just how soon the official order notifying the men that the strike is ended and to return to work will be issued by President Mitchell can only be conjectured. It is the belief here that no order to return will be issued until a notice similar to or in line with that of the Reading and Lehigh companies is posted at all the mines.

The first company in the Hazleton region to take action similar to that of the Reading company were Calvin Pardee & Co., operating the Lattimer collieries, and A. Pardee & Co., owners of the Cranberry mines. Both of the individual companies. The notices announcing their acceptance, which were posted this morning, are as follows:

"We hereby withdraw our offer of Oct. 6 and make the following announcement to our mine employees: The sliding scale under which we have been working is hereby suspended, and we will adjust the rate of wages so as to pay to our mine employees from Oct. 1, 1900, to April 1, 1901, and thereafter, and until further notice, a net increase of 10 per cent over the wages paid for September, 1900."

These companies will reduce the price of powder from $2.75 to $1.50, which reduction is to be considered in arriving at a net increase in wages.

Ex-Secretary Sherman Seriously Ill.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Former cabinet officer and senator, John Sherman, is dangerously ill at his residence on K street in this city. The attack has taken the form of a general collapse, in part due to the general debility incident to old age and to the effects of the serious illness which he suffered while on a trip to the West Indies two years ago. He never had fully recovered from that illness. Mrs. Sherman's death has also had its effect on the venerable statesman, who deeply mourned her loss. There are said to be no very immediate danger of death, and it is possible he may yet rally.

Army Reforms For Spain.

Madrid, Oct. 18.—Gen. Linares, to whom the premier, Senor Silveira, has offered the portfolio of war, stipulates as a condition of acceptance that he shall have perfect freedom to introduce sweeping military reforms and to reorganize the entire army. He also stipulated that his method of reaching these ends must rest solely with himself. Senor Silveira, it is understood, has accepted these conditions, and the nomination of Gen. Linares is therefore practically assured.

Lipton's Challenge Accepted.

New York, Oct. 18.—Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge for the America's Cup was accepted by the New York Yacht club last night. At a special meeting of the club, held for the purpose of considering the challenge, resolutions were adopted, by the terms of which the commodore of the club is authorized to appoint a committee to formally accept the challenge of the Royal Ulster Yacht club. The committee is empowered to arrange the terms of the proposed match.

Thieving Postal Clerk Sentenced.

Baltimore, Oct. 18.—Walter T. Holmes, the clerk in the postoffice, who was charged with opening mail and taking the money found in the letters, pleaded guilty of the charges yesterday and was sentenced by Judge Morrie, of the United States district court, to three years and six months in the penitentiary.

MATTERS IN MARYLAND.

Cumberland, Md., Oct. 18.—Policeman Edward O'Neill shot Owen Stowell, a miner of this county, through the heart, in front of the Queen City hotel here yesterday morning while trying to effect his arrest for fighting. O'Neill claims the shooting was done in self defense, and that Stowell eluded him and struck him in the mouth with a rock.

Snow Hill, Oct. 12.—The office of school examiner and secretary and treasurer of the board was formally handed over yesterday by Dr. William D. Stranghn to his successor, Edgar W. McMaster. Messrs. Oliver D. Collins and John W. Staton, auditors previously appointed to examine the accounts of the retiring treasurer, reported them correct, and the transfer of funds was at once made.

Cambridge, Oct. 12.—The hardware store of Charles H. Willis, at East Newmarket, Dorchester county, was entered by burglars Thursday night. The robbers took some of Mr. Willis' powder and blew open the safe, obtaining about $15 in money belonging to the Methodist Episcopal church of East Newmarket. The powder set fire to the store and a conflagration was prevented by citizens who heard the noise of the explosion.

Rockville, Oct. 14.—The November term of the circuit court for Montgomery county, as far as the trial of the criminal cases is concerned, promises to be one of the busiest sessions of recent years. There are now in jail here 35 prisoners awaiting trial for various offenses, and a large number of others are out on bail. The offenses charged include almost everything from simple assault to murder, there being no less than four murder cases to be tried.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 16.—The case of Naval Cadet John S. Abbott, on trial for hazing, ended yesterday. No order in the case was made public. Cadet Merlyn G. Cooke, first classman, found guilty of being present when hazing was in progress and not stopping it, has been given 60 demerits, and is to be confined on board the Santos until further orders. Being a member of the graduating class, Cadet Cooke's case has been referred to the secretary of the navy for further punishment. In the first class 150 demerits "bilges" a cadet.

College Park, Oct. 14.—William L. Ames, director of the farmers' institutes in Maryland, has engaged Mr. Joseph E. Wing, of Ohio, a noted breeder and feeder of sheep, to assist in treating of sheep husbandry. He will be assisted in the dairying counties by Edward Van Alstyne, of New York, and by specialists from the department of agriculture. He will begin holding institutes in Garrett county on Jan. 7 and work thence easterly, closing in southern Maryland about the last of February. An institute lasting two days will be given in each county.

Chestertown, Oct. 16.—Prof. J. A. Bonsteel, of the United States geological survey corps, is at work in Kent, with headquarters at Chestertown. Professor Bonsteel is making a geological chart or map of the soils of the county and their relation to agriculture. He has completed Quaker Neck, and is working north from Chestertown. He stated yesterday that he had never seen the Chesapeake loam, one of the most valuable soils for agricultural and horticultural purposes in Maryland, run so uniformly as in Kent. He will work in the county until stopped by cold weather.

Cumberland, Oct. 16.—Senator G. L. Wellington returned from his second campaigning tour in the west this afternoon. He spoke two hours on Monday night at the People's Institute meeting in Chicago. He felt no ill effects from the exertion, but after going to his room at his hotel, was called down to the office, and upon reaching there was seized with a nervous chill. This attack, with the strain on his voice, obliged him to cancel engagements for the rest of the meetings this week. He said he was compelled to refuse to return to the west, because of his eastern engagements. He has a very severe cold, and being alarmed by the nervous chill thought it best to desist from speaking for a few days.

Baltimore, Oct. 18.—The itinerary of William J. Bryan while in Maryland is as follows: Rockville, Oct. 23, at 9 a. m.; Frederick, 11 a. m.; Bruceville, 2:30 p. m.; Union Bridge, 3:41; New Windsor, 2:58; Westminster, 3:20; Glyndon, 4:32. Mr. Bryan will arrive at Baltimore at 5:17 p. m., and will dine at the Hotel Rennett. From there he is to be driven to Music Hall, where he will make one speech on the outside, and immediately afterward address the audience on the inside of the hall. Wednesday, Oct. 24, he will speak at the following points on the eastern shore: Eastern, 7 a. m.; Preston, 8; Hurluck, 8:20; Vienna, 8:35; Salisbury, 9; Berlin, 11 a. m. At the latter point the candidate will be handed over to the Wilmington committee, who will escort him into Delaware.

College Park, Oct. 14.—State Entomologist Johnson, of the Maryland Agricultural college, in speaking of the fall treatment of trees for the San Jose scale, makes the following recommendations for immediate action: All badly infested trees, of whatever variety, should be grubbed out without delay. File the brush and wood where the trees stood, but do not burn it until May or June. This is done to preserve the little parasites that feed upon the scale. If they are not destroyed these little friends can concentrate their attacks upon other moderately infested trees near by. The scale cannot leave a branch or twig to which it is attached, therefore when the tree is cut down all the insects die with the drying out of the sap, while the parasites escape and fly to other trees. Spray all susceptible trees with a 10 per cent mixture of kerosene and water before the leaves fall and while the pest is still active and breeding. The scale will continue to breed until cold weather. Do the work thoroughly and see that you touch every part of the tree, as the spray kills by contact only. Select a calm, sunny day for the spraying. Mechanically mix the kerosene and water in right proportion. Let this fall, after the foliage is falling off, while oil soap at the rate of 2 pounds to a gallon of water can be used on pear and apple trees, but it is not recommended for peach and plum trees.

QUANTICO.

The Epworth League of the M. E. Church of this town advertised two weeks since that it would render a farce, "The Prodigal Son" in Turpin's Hall, Thursday, Oct. 25th. The date has been changed from Oct. 25th to Friday, Oct. 26. In addition to the farce, a short musical will be given which will add to the evening's entertainment. Admission 10 cents only.

Revival services are being conducted at Bethel M. P. Church by the pastor, Rev. F. L. Stevens.

The congregation of Mt. Pleasant M. P. Church will serve an oyster supper in the grove adjoining the church on Saturday evening, Oct. 26th. The public is invited to the table to partake of the viands prepared that evening.

Miss Nettie Brady will conduct the devotional meeting of the Epworth League on next Sunday evening. The members and friends of the League are urged to attend on that evening to help make the service beneficial and interesting.

The registration books of Quantico district show four hundred and thirty-three (433) men qualified to cast their vote in this district on the sixth of November. Little as some may think of it, this number may fix the destiny of this great nation as well as decide the fate of dependent colonies.

The Reading Circle has been organized for Quantico district. The second Friday night in each month was named as the night for meeting. It is to be hoped that every teacher in the district will do all in his or her power for the general interest of this association, as its value for the mental improvement and the giving of tact in their pedagogic duties to teachers cannot be overestimated.

The young people of town spent Wednesday evening very pleasantly at the home of the Misses Taylor near town. The social gathering was in honor of their guests the Misses Ella Wheatley and Nina Brewington of Whaleyland.

Judging from gossip at present, it seems that Quantico will be almost deserted on next Wednesday as so many say they must go to Salisbury to hear Wm. J. Bryan speak in that town.

Mr. Ira A. Disharoon left Monday for Philadelphia where he will resume his work at Pease's Business College.

RACES AT BERLIN.

Mr. Walter B. Miller's Young Horse Drego, Takes Second Money.

Quite a number of Salisbury gentlemen attended the third annual Berlin races at Franklin Driving Park Wednesday afternoon. They were highly successful. The day was perfect, the track in fair condition and the crowd was estimated at 2,500. The bleachers, track and roadside were lined for a quarter of a mile with people and bicycles, the Peninsula of Maryland, Delaware and Virginia being liberally represented.

The judges were Dr. N. S. Smith, of Chincoteague, Va., and Geo. W. Henry, of Berlin. Timers, A. Parker and John Otwell. There were four races, each being for the best two heats in three. The results:

Three-minute class; purse $35. Martha Ford owned by T. T. Savage, Berlin, won; Drego, owned by Walter B. Miller, Salisbury, Md., second; Cricket and Bay Bill, tied for third. Time, 2:04; 2:50 class; purse $35. Honest John, owned by William J. Hall, Marion, Md., won; Onward, Morrill, owned by William Hudson, Delaware, second; Sam Morrell owned by Captain Tracy, of Lewes, Del., third. Time, 2:39.

2:30 class; purse $35. Lady Cleveland, owned by A. K. Parson, of Parsonsburg, won; Don, owned by Captain Tracy, and Walter Morrell, owned by M. Collins, of Berlin, tied for second and third. Time, 2:39.

Free for all; purse $50; two entries. Judge Case, owned by William J. Hall, of Marion, won, and Bill Linkwood, owned by Frank Bartlett, of Berlin, second. Time, 2:34.

Judge Case, who won the free for all, is a handsome stallion, nine years old whose sire was sold to the Russian government a few years ago for $30,000, and is at present at the head of the government stud. His record is 1:18.

Mr. Hall's horse is capable of going his mile in 2:16. He stands 15 1/2 hands high and is very showy. His performance Wednesday breaks the Berlin track record of 2:28.

Mr. Miller's Drego is a youngster and promises great speed with handling.

A GREAT MEETING.

Seven to Ten Thousand People Hear Mr. Bryan in Salisbury.

The Town in Gay Attire and Filled with Visitors From All Points on the Eastern Shore.

Wednesday was a red letter day in Salisbury. More people greeted Wm. Jennings Bryan than were ever here before. From Tuesday at noon visitors began coming into town to avoid the rush on the early trains Wednesday. Although it rained hard during the night the early morning found the town crowded with people and every incoming train bringing hundreds more. On the N. Y. P. & N. the heavy downpour prevented about half the crowd from reaching Salisbury, as the rain came down in torrents when the Virginia section left Cape Charles.

The crowd that came to hear the democratic candidate is variously estimated, the republicans placing it at about four thousand, the democrats at from ten to twelve thousand. The better opinion seems to be that there were from seven to ten thousand visitors here on Wednesday.

The town had been gaily decorated with flags and bunting in honor of the occasion and Division and Main streets presented a very pretty sight to the multitude that was here.

When the Bryan special pulled into the depot three or four thousand voices went up a great hurrah. Mr. Bryan was quickly placed into a carriage in waiting with ex-Governor E. E. Jackson, and a procession was soon formed to Firemen's Park where a great mass of humanity was anxiously waiting to get a glimpse of the great champion of the Republic against the Empire. Mr. John H. Waller, Chief Marshal of the parade with his aids, Mr. Claude Sirman, Roscoe Jones, George Sirman and Mr. Alfred W. Reddish, headed the march to the park. Next came the Baltimore City band followed by the reception committee of 180. Following the reception committee were the carriages containing the distinguished visitors. With Mr. Bryan there were ex-Governor Jackson, Hon. Lloyd Wilkinson, late speaker of the House of Delegates at Annapolis, and Hon. Murray Vandiver, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. The various clubs throughout the county were next in order with Nutters in the lead, followed by Delmar, Parsons, Salisbury, Trappe, Mardela, and the Newark, Snow Hill and Cambridge clubs from without the county. The members of clubs wore badges and carried banners. Delmar made a very fine showing with her band and handsome banner. The Cambridge delegates also brought a band and helped to enliven the day with patriotic airs. Deputy Marshall Farnan, with his six sergeants from Baltimore, who have accompanied Mr. Bryan on his tour through Maryland, were with him in Salisbury and walked beside his carriage to and from the park. Several special get-togethers were also on hand.

As the procession moved down Division to Main street Mr. Bryan was accorded an ovation. Thousands lined the side walks and cheered the Democratic candidate. When in front of the residence of Mr. Dean W. Perdue, Mr. Perdue's little daughter, Virginia, handed Mr. Bryan a bouquet which he took with a smile and kissed the little girl's hand. At the park great difficulty was experienced in getting Mr. Bryan to the platform, so dense was the crowd. It was finally accomplished however with the good work of the Baltimore sergeants who showed their ability in handling a crowd.

Ex-Governor Jackson who presided at the meeting, introduced the distinguished leader in a short but forcible speech. It was some time after Mr. Bryan rose to address the great concourse of people before he could be heard above the deafening cheers of the crowd.

Mr. Bryan spoke for nearly an hour and was listened to with intense earnestness. This was so marked that he noticed it and afterwards remarked that he was delighted to receive so close and earnest attention. His telling points were vigorously applauded. From a close observation of the eager listeners, it was easy to see that they were more interested in Imperialism and Trusts than any other questions before the American people today.

In speaking of trusts Mr. Bryan said: Mr. McKinley spends more time in warning you not to hurt the good trusts than he does in denouncing the bad ones. He declared that in his own state of Nebraska trusts had been suppressed by enforcing the law. Continuing he said:

"My greatest objection to the trusts is that the trust is closing the door of opportunity against our young men and condemning the boys of this nation to perpetual clerkships."

"When a man has worked for years in making himself proficient at some work has but one employer, if when he loses his employment under the one man he must go out and commence life over with no advantage from his experience, he ceases to be a free man, he becomes the serf to the man who employs him, and then, as the election approaches, the trust magnates can threaten to close down and starve those who work for him if they refuse to vote for a government of the syndicates by the syndicates. [Tremendous applause.]

"A government of the people, by the people, and for the people is impossible under reign of the trusts. I want a government that will plant a hope in the breast of every child born into the world and give every being something to live for. If I could leave my children a government which would protect them in the enjoyment of life and liberty and in the pursuit of happiness, and guarantee to them a fair share of the proceeds of their toil, I will leave to my children a richer inheritance than any trust magnate ever left if he left his fortune and the law by which he robbed others to get it.

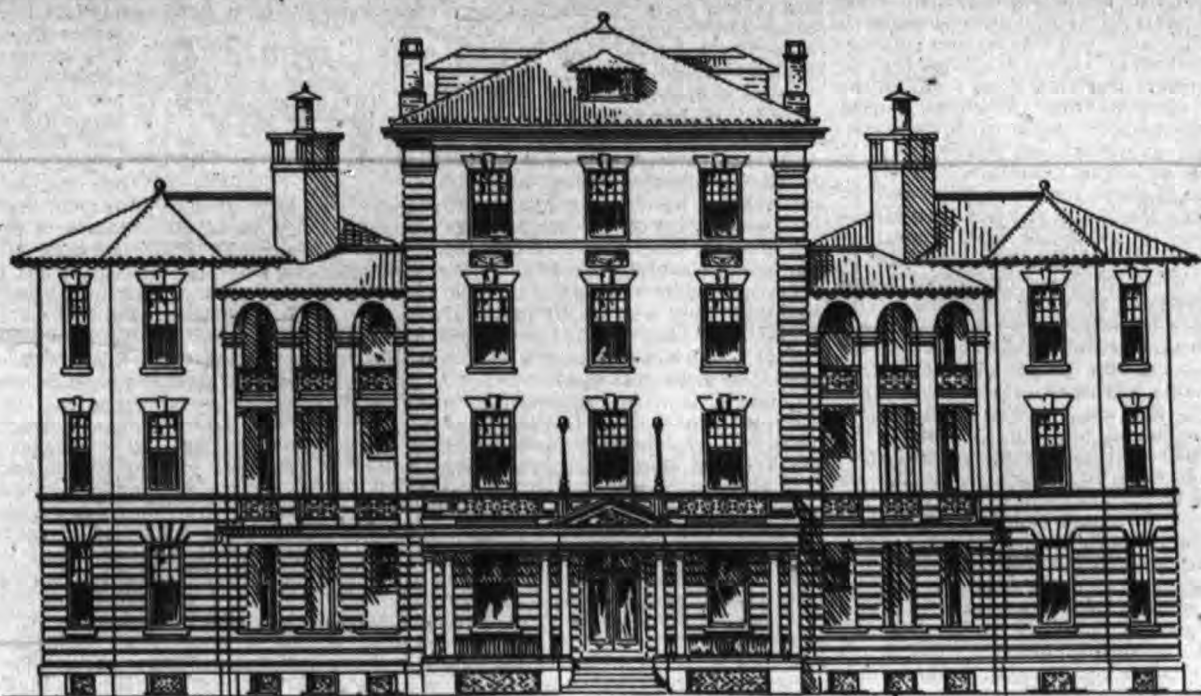

On the question of imperialism he spoke as follows:

"But, my friends let me invite your attention to a new question that the people have never considered in any campaign. Shall we have a large army in the United States? How many did we have in the standing army in 1898? Twenty five thousand; and the President asked for 100,000 in December of 1898, and if anybody tells you that the President called for that army because of the war in the Philippine Islands you tell him the president asked for the army two months before the war broke out in the Philippine Islands. Why did he ask for that army two months before the war broke out?

"Was it because they knew there would be war? Was it because they knew that imperialism meant war and bloodshed? Or did they want the army whether they had the war or not? What was their reason? I have only heard two reasons given for a large army, and one of them is not given in public by Republican speakers; and yet if you will inquire among those who are at the head of the syndicates, you will find that there is a domestic reason sometimes urged in private for a large army in this country. What is it? To protect us from the Indians? The less Indians we have the more soldiers the republicans want. Why do we want or need a large army in this country? There is but one domestic reason. If the army is not to be kept busy in foreign lands, subjecting people or holding them under our domination, then the army must be engaged here either in idleness or in action. If in idleness, then you are supporting people in idleness, and if in action, what action do you suppose an army can be called upon for in this country, for domestic purposes? I believe that one of the reasons that they want a large army for is to build a fort near each city and suppress by force, that discontent that ought to be cured by legislation.

"But my friends that argument will not be made in the campaign. What argument do you hear? That we need an army in order to carry on an imperial policy. You never voted for a large army, you never voted for an imperial policy, and the president asked for this army before the question had ever been submitted to the American people. [Applause.] In 1898 there was no such question before the country. In 1898 the treaty had not been signed and the Republican party had not announced its policy in the Philippine Islands, and yet, before the policy was decided on by the American people, a Republican president had asked for a permanent—not a temporary—army, but a permanent

PENINSULA GENERAL HOSPITAL.

The Accompanying Cut Shows Front Elevation of the Proposed New Building which will be Erected on the Recently Purchased Lot in South Salisbury.

The above cut represents the front elevation of the new city hospital, which will be erected in Salisbury within the next year. The plans for the hospital provide for a main building 40x36 feet, four stories with dome roof, and two octagon shaped wings 40x22 feet, three stories, built at an angle of about forty-five degrees from the main building. The rooms on the lower floor of the main building will be used as offices for the physicians and other officers of the institution, consulting rooms, a sitting room, and dispensary. The second, third, and fourth floors will be devoted to private wards, four to each floor. In the two wings will be the public wards, each of the three floors in both wings accommodating eleven beds. Each floor of the three buildings is to be provided with a diet kitchen, also with baths and toilet rooms. Each building will have two sun parlors, and each bed is to have a window opposite it. An elevator is to be put in the main building in a position so as to reach all the floors of the three buildings. A large veranda with balcony will be in front, and also verandas at the rear of the building.

The structure is to be built of brick, and well equipped with all modern improvements. When finished we will have a hospital, surpassed in the state only by the Johns Hopkins of Baltimore, one of which our citizens can feel justly proud.

Democratic Mass Meeting.

The Executive Committee of the Democratic party has scheduled the following District Meetings. Rev. S. W. Maxwell, formerly of this county, together with several prominent speakers from Baltimore and several of our home orators will address the Democrats at these meetings. Every Democrat should post himself on the date of the meeting in his District and be sure and be present. Give the speakers a rousing reception.

Saturday night, October 27, Parsons' Opera House, Salisbury, Md. 8 o'clock.

Monday night October 29th, Sharpstown, 7:30 o'clock.

Tuesday night October 30th, Allen, 7:30 o'clock.

Wednesday afternoon, October 31st, Bivans, 2:30 o'clock.

Wednesday night, October 31st, White Haven, 7:30 o'clock.

Thursday afternoon, November 1st, Powellville, 2:30 o'clock.

Thursday night, November 1st, Pittsville, 7:30 o'clock.

Friday afternoon, November 2nd, Nutter's voting house, 2:30 o'clock.

Friday afternoon, November 2nd, Mardela Springs, 2:30 o'clock.

Friday night, November 2nd, Hebron, 7:30 o'clock.

Saturday afternoon, November 3rd, Quantico, 2:30 o'clock.

Saturday night, November 3rd, Delmar, 7:30 o'clock.

These meetings will be held on the above dates, rain or shine. The local executive committees or leaders in the Districts will confer a favor on the committee if they will have all arrangements, such as securing proper places to accommodate the crowds, etc., made at once, so there will be no hitch in the program.

BY ORDER COMMITTEE.

Division Street Baptist Church Will Be Dedicated November 18th.

Rev. D. M. Lennox is making preparations for the dedication of Division Street Baptist Church of this city. The dedication will take place Sunday, November 18th, and a large attendance is expected as a number of distinguished men will be present and take part in the services. Following is the order of service for the day: 11:00 a. m., dedicatory sermon by Rev. A. J. Rowlands, D. D., of Philadelphia; 2:00 p. m., address by Rev. F. A. Clark and State Missionary Chote; 7:30 p. m., sermon by Prof. H. J. Handy, or pastor of Pocomoke City Baptist Church.

Services will be held every evening during the following week, preachers from Baltimore and elsewhere to be present. On Friday evening there will be a Young People's Rally, addressed by prominent speakers.

The Baptist Association.

The Salisbury O. S. Baptist Association met at Nassawango Church, about seven miles from Salisbury, and held a meeting three days this week. Each day services were held both morning and afternoon, and a bountiful dinner served on long tables under the trees.

Among the visitors present were, Elders Francis, Meredith and Bistenhouse, of Delaware; Elder Durand, of Pennsylvania; Elder Chick and Mr. A. S. Cook of New Jersey; Elder Ker of New York; Elder Poulson of Virginia; Elders Robertson and Hardy of North Carolina; Elder Kubanks of Kentucky; Elder Rowe and Dr. Thorn of Baltimore City.

A Fashionable Wedding at Crisfield.

Mr. E. Benson Dennis and Miss Mabel Riggan, both of Crisfield, Md., were married last Wednesday evening at half past eight o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal Church of that place.

The ceremony was a very pretty one, the whole bridal party being attired in full evening dress, and was witnessed by a large company of people. The bride entered the church with her father who gave her away, and was attended by her sister as maid of honor, the two sisters and two cousins of the groom, as bride's maids. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Herbert Mullen, of Westchester. The ushers were Dr. W. G. Smith and Mr. Graham Gurnby of Salisbury, Mr. G. Sellman Williams and Mr. John Jones of Wilmington.

After the marriage a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, to which a large number of invited guests were present. About midnight a special train took the young couple to King's Creek, where they met the north bound express, and started on a bridal trip to the northern cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis are well known to many of the people of Salisbury, the groom being a cousin to the Dr. Smith.

Harry Lindley Co. Next Week.

Harry Lindley and his big Company of 14 people will appear at Uman's Opera House next Thursday for a three nights engagement opening with the three act English Comedy, The Circus Girl. Mr. Lindley will present one night the play in the Klondyke, a play written by himself, which is meeting with great success. Mr. Lecord, a member of the Company, who was personally acquainted with Sippy Smith, the mayor of Skagway, personifies him to the letter. No doubt big houses will greet him here. Popular prices 15, 25, 35.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following is a list of the letters remaining in the Salisbury, (Md.) Post Office, Saturday, Oct. 20th, 1900.

Mrs. Ellen Bailey (3), Miss Mary C. L. Robinson, Miss Nettie Brown, Miss Ruby Paterson, Phil Tolson, Pat Duffing, W. C. Lindsey, Lambert Waters, 806 Lake St, Master Willard Shookley, Leland Ellis, Dr. Reuten, J. W. Correlson.

Persons calling for these letters will please say they are advertised.

True Economy

The difference of cost between a good and a poor baking powder would not amount for a family's supply to one dollar a year. The poor powder would cost many times this in doctors' bills.

Royal Baking Powder may cost a little more per can, but it insures perfect, wholesome food. In fact, it is more economical in the end, because it goes further in leavening and never spoils the food.

Royal Baking Powder used always in making the biscuit and cake saves both health and money.

You cannot, if you value good health, afford to use cheap, low-grade, alum baking powders. They are apt to spoil the food; they do endanger the health. All physicians will tell you that alum in food is poisonous.

A GREAT MEETING

army of 100,000. They want you now to endorse their imperial policy. They want the splendor of empire. They want to hear the tramp of armies; they want to hear the glory of conquering heroes returning home to receive their thanks and their plaudits. The republicans want the drumbeat to be heard around the world; we want the light of liberty to shine so brightly here that it will be seen around the world, and will everywhere inspire people to fight to secure the right to govern themselves." (Tremendous applause.)

After the conclusion of his speech Mr. Bryan was driven rapidly to the station where his special was in waiting to carry him to Berlin.

The following went to Easton and accompanied Mr. Bryan to Salisbury: Wm. L. Laws, S. E. Gordy, Dr. Geo. W. Todd, Wm. Jeff. Staton, Chas. R. Disharoon, A. A. Gillis, B. Frank Kennerly, Geo. W. Bell and Jas. L. Powell.

Mr. W. A. Trader and his assistant Mr. Geo. H. Riall decorated the park in a very elaborate manner and deserve much credit for the general arrangement of the grounds and stand. The Mayor and City Council are to be commended for the general good order that prevailed during the day. The police force did good work and it was remarked by the visitors from other towns how well Salisbury could handle a large crowd.

The afternoon and night meetings were well attended and much enthusiasm was displayed. In the afternoon Mr. Jas. E. Ellegood presided and made a strong speech on taking the chair. He was followed by Hon. Buchanan Schley, Mr. Isaac Lobe Straus, and Mr. Howard Bryant. This meeting was also held in the park.

At the night meeting, which was held in Ulman's Opera house, the hall was packed and there was a large number of ladies in the audience. The following gentlemen addressed the meeting: Hon. John P. Moore, Edwin H. Brown, J. Frank Turner and Howard Bryant. Mr. Thos. F. J. Rider presided. Mr. Bryant of all the speakers caught the crowd. He is a good speaker and perfectly familiar with the subjects now interesting the people.

Some of our leading citizens speak of the day as follows:

Mr. James E. Ellegood:—"It was a great success and must have a great and widespread influence for the good of the Democratic party. Mr. Bryan impresses his hearers with the sincerity and honesty of his purposes and this combined with his power of oratory, his faculty of compacting great truths in a few words makes what he says exceedingly effective. I estimate the crowd at from six to eight thousand."

Hon. E. Stanley Toddy:—"The meeting was all that was expected, it was a great democratic outpouring. I estimate the attendance at from ten to twelve thousand. It should have a great effect in arousing the voters on the Eastern Shore. The presence of a presidential candidate and his speeches on the Imperialistic tendency of McKinley and his advisers, have convinced many of the warning of its danger to the stability of the constitution and of life of the Republic, and their votes will be cast on election day for the democratic presidential nominee."

Mr. Charles R. Disharoon:—"It was magnificent, and will aid greatly in getting out a full democratic vote. Mr. Bryan made votes. I estimate the crowd at ten thousand."

Mr. J. D. Price:—"It was indeed a great day in the history of our city and the democracy of the county, the great crowds present were enthusiastic good natured and orderly, their enthusiasm may be taken as an indication of democratic success in Maryland, and their behavior as an index to the character of the democratic party and a distinct rebuke to the assertion of Mr. Hanna and Mr. Roosevelt that the democratic party is composed of the lawless and disorderly element."

Hon. R. P. Graham:—"It was a good meeting but I think there have been twice as many people here before as there were Wednesday. The only effect it will have politically [will be] to arouse the republicans to greater efforts."

NOTES OF THE MEETING.

Mr. Bryan requested a representative of the ADVERTISER to say that he had never seen so many handsome ladies in one audience as he saw in Salisbury. He estimated the crowd that heard him at eight thousand five hundred.

Sergeant Shockley of the Western District, Baltimore, who was one of the Sergeants who accompanied Mr. Bryan through Maryland, used to be on the "Salisbury Police" force. He was recognized by his many friends here.

The applause that greeted the mention of ex-Governor Jackson's name at the night meeting was greater than any other outburst of enthusiasm during the evening.

Messrs. White & Leonard sold some twelve to fifteen hundred Bryan badges and buttons on Wednesday.

Mr. Howard Bryant stated that the band from Baltimore was the best he had ever heard at a political meeting. Mr. John Nichols, an old Salisbury man, was the leader. Mr. Arthur Kennerly had charge of the music and deserves credit for the perfect arrangements.

At Vienna some Republican asked Mr. Bryan "How about 10 to 1?" and in a second the answer came forth. "When the Republican party stops going 10 to 1, I will discuss the issue."

The saloons of the city closed from 8.30 a. m. to 11 a. m. They also closed at 3.30 p. m. for the day on Wednesday. This had much to do with the general good behavior that prevailed.

Mr. O. J. Schneck of the Peninsula Hotel accommodated about four hundred for dinner. The different lunch rooms throughout the town did a thriving business and cleared from $75 to $100 apiece.

Allen, Walnut Tree, and Sharp's Point Clubs were in the procession, and shared in the ovation tendered Mr. Bryan.

ANSWERS TO TEACHERS

Solutions to Some Questions Which Bother them.

QUESTION 8.

Editor Teachers Column:—Will you please explain to me fully what is inductive and what is deductive reasoning; and, if practicable, please say which method is to be used in the teaching of our several school subjects? T.

Inductive reasoning leads us from particular truths to general truths, and deductive from general to particular. When we lead our pupils to see a principle or rule before stating it, we teach inductively; if we first state the general principle and then lead to the particular application of it, we are teaching deductively. Deriving ideas from definitions, methods from principles, particular methods from general laws, are all deductive methods of procedure; the reverse would be inductive.

Both of these forms may be used in teaching the same subject, sometimes the one is preferable and sometimes the other. Inductive forms should be used with children; deductive forms are suitable to older persons. The young mind begins with ideas of particular objects, not with general notions. From particular facts it gradually rises to general truths, and it should be the aim of the teachers to aid the mind in this process. By and by after the mind has attained to some general principles through induction, it begins to reverse the process and infer particular truths from such general principles. Care should be taken not to require deductive thought too early. The work of instruction must be done according to the mental activity of the mind. The law of nature should be understood by the teacher and implicitly followed.

The elements (facts and phenomena) of the inductive sciences should precede the deductive sciences, y. t. the formal study of the latter precede the former sciences. Thus the syllogisms of geometry are more readily grasped by the young mind than the investigations of natural philosophy; and reasoning in the mathematical sciences trains the mind to see the relation of premise and conclusion, and gives it the habit of logical activity.

In arithmetic little children should learn particular solutions before they learn a general rule; and be required also to derive the general rule from the solution of particular cases. With advanced pupils the demonstration method of reasoning should be employed. Thus, in fractions, the rules for all the various cases may be derived from the principles of fractions.

In grammar the child first learns the general laws of speech by seeing them presented in particular instances; later, the fundamental principles are not only to be understood but also to be applied in correcting and in constructing language.

In geography the detailed facts are learned and then they are classified, and their causes and laws are explained.

When confined to the processes in an argument, proof in deduction is based on the axiom that whatever is common to all the individuals of a class must be found in each individual of the class, and proof through induction is based on the belief that what is essential to the part must be common to the whole. I have treated induction and deduction as forms of instruction, or ways of imparting knowledge to the mind.

QUESTION 9.

Editor Teachers Column:—Will you please tell me what to do with my Fifth Grade which has as a whole literally resolved itself into an interrogation point?

J. W. H.—I fail to comprehend the significance of your question. Alexander Pope was called the "Interrogation Point" because he had a hump on his back. If your pupils have gotten crooked, straighten them out. For an answer to what is called fifth grade see Examiner Boudin's course of study. If you mean that the class asks innumerable questions, I would say, encourage your pupils to continue asking questions, but do not answer them yourself until after you have given the class an opportunity to answer. Beyond imparting a small stock of specific knowledge, the chief work of the teacher is to teach pupils the right way of finding out things for themselves. Agassiz said that the worst service a teacher could render to a pupil was to give him a ready made answer. The best teachers are those whose pupils are made daily more and more able to pursue their studies without the aid of teachers. We want to cultivate inquiring minds, and it is a good plan to set apart a regular time during each recitation for questions upon the subject under consideration, but give the pupils an opportunity to ascertain for themselves the true answers.

QUESTION 10.

Editor LeFevre:—What is usually the best way to control a bright pupil who is mischievous, but not of a bad disposition?

S. Mischievous children are usually bright boys and girls. Children with an abundance of energy. It is your duty to direct this energy into proper channels. See that your pupils are kept busy with school work and you will be directing their energies in the ways that will reflect the greatest credit upon your labor. To keep pupils employed at their lessons is the great secret of successful teaching.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

In Memory of Oliver M. Lord.

(By Dayton H. McCain.)

Changes are continually being wrought in every community—changes in laws, changes in individuals, changes in home circles. Such a change has come in our midst, and with it goes one out of life who was the joy of parents, pride of teachers and comfort of associates. Such a departure, we in "looking through a glass darkly" call death; yet it is but "the gray eve between two shining days"—the day of the short past and the immortal day of the eternity of the future.

I, with the rest who knew Oliver, and know of the sudden approach and fate of his departure, feel it a severe blow; but we should bow to this, as to other like troubles, with humble submission to God's decree.

God's finger touched him and he slept. He has gone from our vision; but his loving smiles, musical words and friendly acts will long be remembered. While the loss to his parents, his church, his friends, his teacher is irreparable, yet out of his gravesprings the hope that dies not. "Of the beauty and sweetness of a pure life." Always ready and ever willing to sacrifice self to satisfy the wishes of parents and friends, he knew no such word as "can't," but where many would have used it he used "all right."

Oliver's cheerful disposition was attractive, the echo of his singing and whistling, fascinating, and his terse conversation, an increasing charm. All this is of the past. He will never be seen or heard on earth again; but this we can go to him. "Honored in life, triumphant in death, blessed in eternity, he sleeps the sleep of the just."

It was not mine, dear pupil, to teach you the truths that you had learned, but this it is to write these parting words to be sung over your grave: Dear one, so fair, so kind, so good, We all regret thy parting breath, And would that God, though good and wise, Had not so soon thus wrought thy death. We would that God had kept thee here, And heard you speak those loving words, As did you while in our embrace, But we remember God is just, And that "He doeth all things well," And now we say God's will be done, From us all doubt in these dispell, We too shall soon bid thee farewell, And go to live with Christ above, Where death comes not, nor grief can harm; But where we meet the ones we love.

—It is not necessary to own people in order to trade with them. We carry on trade today with every part of the world, and our commerce has expanded more rapidly than the commerce of any European empire. We do not own Japan or China, but we trade with their people. We have not absorbed the republics of Central and South America, but we trade with them. It has not been necessary to have any political connection with Canada or the nations of Europe in order to trade with them. Trade cannot be permanently profitable unless it is voluntary.—W. J. FARMERS MUST STAND AND DELIVER.

The formation of the Agricultural Implement Trust is openly announced.

After January 1, 1901, every piece of machinery used by the farmer must be purchased at trust prices.

Every factory in the country has been captured together with all the rights and patents. A number of factories are to be shut down and prices of agricultural implements are to be braced up.

Thousands of traveling men and agents in charge of agricultural implement depots, have received notice to look for other employment, that by March first none of their services would be needed.

The trust schedule of prices being arranged now and will go into effect after the big monopoly takes hold.

Nearly all the big implement firms of the country have agreed to pool their issue in the trust. It means that every piece of machinery, plow, harrow, roller, pick, shovel, hoe, rake, scythe, etc., must be purchased through the trust at trust prices. There will be no remedy. It will be a case of stand and deliver.

—It is the manners and spirit of the people which preserves a republic in vigor.—Thomas Jefferson.

EFFECT OF TRUSTS ON LABOR.

Out of the 15,000,000 entitled to vote in this country 10 men are worth 50 millions each, and 20 are worth 25,000,000. There are 300 who own $1,000,000,000 of the $38,000,000,000 on the tax books, and also hold securities for $7,000,000,000, which are virtually a mortgage on all property and labor in the country. Before he surrendered to the present Republican leaders Theodore Roosevelt designated these 300 men as the "dangerously rich" class. These 300 men appoint the officials of railroads and trusts, and these officials endeavor to pay interest on the mortgage by increasing the amount annually extorted from the public and by decreasing the amount paid labor. The ablest and least scrupulous talent is employed to invent methods to increase the amount collected from the public, and to keep the masses quiet.

MARYLAND FOR BRYAN.

In speaking of the splendid reception given Mr. Bryan in Baltimore City on Tuesday the Sun says:

"The reception given Mr. Bryan last night was the most magnificent popular demonstration ever witnessed in this city. The rain could not chill the enthusiasm of the immense multitude which waited patiently for hours in the vicinity of the depot to welcome him, and which crowded Music Hall and the vicinity to hear his addresses. There can be no mistaking the meaning of such a popular outpouring as that of last night. It means that the people of this city are with and for the cause which Mr. Bryan represents, and that the popular heart still responds with enthusiasm to appeals to its patriotism and its love of liberty. It means that the people understand the true issues of this campaign and are not deceived by the shallow sophistry of selfish interests. It means that they do not regard Mr. Bryan as a demagogue or a dreamer, but as an honest and earnest patriot, who is fighting for the cause of popular government against dangers which threaten its existence. It means that they recognize this as a struggle between greed and gold on one side and popular rights and free institutions on the other. It means, last but not least, that Maryland will cast its electoral vote for Mr. Bryan. It is the handwriting on the wall, as far as Maryland is concerned, whatever the Republicans and their allies may profess to believe. The only hope the Republicans have of carrying the country is by purchase and coercion. In common with their so-called 'honest money' associates in Maryland their only argument is the dollar. The Republicans and their allies know as well as they know anything that if the issues of this campaign were left to the uninfluenced decision of the country, to its reason and its conscience alone, they would be beaten, horse, foot and dragons. Their only hope of success rests on the dollar, which is the god of their idolatry, and in which they live and move and have their being. They are straining every nerve to compass Mr. Bryan's defeat by coercing their employees and by raising an immense corruption fund to tempt the desperate and venal voter. These are the men, forsooth, who have the effrontery to denounce Mr. Bryan as a demagogue and a dangerous man. The dangerous men are those who are deliberately attempting to debauch the country with their 'honest dollars' and intimidate it through the power of their financial combinations. We do not believe they can succeed. We believe they will receive a deserved and memorable rebuke on the 6th of November and that the manhood, the honor and the patriotism of these United States will assert themselves overwhelmingly against the tyranny and corruption that for their own selfish ends are recklessly endangering free institutions.

In Maryland their game is surely up. They are beaten—beaten in spite of all their money bags and their tons of campaign literature, in spite of the solid phalanx of ignorant and prejudiced black voters who form the large majority of their supporters in this State and who have recently been inflamed to dangerous frenzy by incendiary appeals from colored ministers and bishops. Thousands of intelligent and patriotic white Republicans have declined to follow the lead of these false prophets and will be found on election day voting for government of the people and by the people and against government of plutocrats and by plutocrats. Mr. Bryan is a dangerous man—dangerous to the plutocrats, but not to the people. He represents the people's cause, and the reception they gave him in this city last night shows that they regard him as a leader worthy of that cause, and that in Maryland they will carry its banner to victory."

—During the campaign of 1896 so representative a leader of the best eastern sentiment as Theodore Roosevelt publicly avowed his readiness to lead an armed force to Washington to prevent the inauguration of Mr. Bryan, should he be elected.

Neither at the time nor since has this utterance been rebuked by his party or by any considerable section of the press in the east. On the contrary, Col. Roosevelt has since been elected governor of his state.—Paul Tynner in the Arena, November—December, 1898.

Address to Independent Voters.

The undersigned citizens of the United States regard with profound appreciation the course of the present administration in Porto Rico and the Philippines. Our prior acquisitions were of adjacent territory for the extension of the area of constitutional government and the creation of new states of the Union. We made their few inhabitants citizens; our people settled them; we there established institutions of freedom. For the first time in our history it is now proposed that the President and Congress shall rule vast territories and millions of men outside our constitutional system. Officials sworn to support the Constitution and deriving all their powers therefrom have acquired colonies and assumed arbitrary authority to govern their inhabitants without consent and to tax them with representation. This policy offers to the people of Porto Rico and the Philippines no hope of independence, no prospect of American citizenship, no representation in the Congress which taxes them. This is the government of men by arbitrary power; this is imperialism.

We believe that it is the duty of the American people to stamp with their disapproval all the doctrines so hostile to liberty and dangerous to constitutional government. If they are to remain free and their government is to continue representative, their servants must not have or exercise any but constitutional powers. Between the claim of freedom that all men are entitled to equal political rights and the dogma of tyranny that might makes right, there is no middle ground.

We have not prior to this year supported the candidacy of Mr. Bryan. We do not now concur in certain of his views on minor issues. Yet his position on the supreme issue of the present campaign is so sound, and the advocacy of it has been so able and courageous that we now favor his election as the most effective way of showing disapproval of Mr. McKinley's course. Without claiming any special political influence, we unite, for what our fellow citizens, in this statement of proposed action in the presence of the greater danger than we have encountered since the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth—the danger that we are to be transformed from a republic, founded on the Declaration of Independence, guided by the counsels of Washington, into a vulgar, commonplace empire, founded on physical force." We invite the cooperation of all independent voters to avert this great and impending danger.

Reopening.

The new church at Parsonsburg will be reopened for service to-morrow. An all day service will be held, and distinguished preachers from abroad will preach and take part in the services. The church is a model of beauty and neatness, and reflects great credit on those who brought it to such perfection. A cordial invitation is extended to all friends to come and see the new church and take part in the services.—D. F. McPaul, Pastor.

IMPERIALISM AS A PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

ONLY A SHAM ISSUE OF BRYAN'S CONVENTION TO MASK FREE SILVER.

Amid many blunders the Dem-Populist Convention built cunningly when it proclaimed imperialism a "paramount" issue. If it had claimed to have differed with the Republicans as to the declaration of the Spanish War, attention might have been called to the fact that the war resolutions were adopted in the House by a vote of 311 to 8. If it had claimed to have opposed the Spanish treaty, it would have had to explain away the vote of 10 Democrats, 3 Populists, 3 silver and 1 independent Senator, who, under the direct appeal of Mr. Bryan voted for the treaty. If it had posed as having resisted the acquisition of the Philippine Islands, it would have had trouble with the 48 Democrats, 9 Populists and 9 fusionists who, on February 20, 1899, voted to pay for them. If it had pretended to have resisted the increase of the army, as an instrument of imperialism, as an illustration of militarism which every freeman should detest, it would have been answered by the fact that the Military Committee of the Senate, on February 24, 1899, provided for the present establishment by a report which was unanimously concurred in by Democrats, Republicans and Populists, and was adopted in the Senate by a vote of 55 to 13, passing the House by a vote of 308 to 33. Instead of reciting their opposition to these "Acts of Imperialism," they have their own party representatives, familiar with and sworn to uphold the Constitution, first concur in each and every one of them as good and lawful legislation, and then under the stress of political expediency in the effort to mask, while reaffirming, the rejected platform of 1896, arise and proclaim that the sum total of the several good and lawful acts in which they had participated constitutes a crime against the Constitution and an assault upon liberty, and actually set up the fact that Republicans also participated in them, as an issue upon which a jury of American voters should condemn the Republican platform and the Dem-Populists, rewarding the latter, not upon any record of having resisted the crime, but upon the high and moral ground of having turned State's evidence.

FALSITY OF PRETENCE OF ISSUE OF IMPERIALISM.

They demand the punishment of Mr. McKinley upon the testimony of Bryan, his accomplice, and insist that for his infirmity's fee, the latter should have the spoils of office. Out of McKinley's action and Bryan's concurrence, they seek to raise an issue between them. The mere statement shows that Never Was a Party Issue really raised upon any of these, and if the Kansas City Convention had had the audacity to say so, the falsity of the pretence would have been immediately exposed. In the place of defining the issue upon which they rely they make this general and vague declaration—"The burning issue of imperialism growing out of the Spanish War involves the very existence of the Republic and the destruction of our free institutions. We regard it as the paramount issue of the campaign."

Having so delivered themselves, without specifying in what particular spot the issue was or is burning, or how or where it involves the existence of the Republic, or what act growing out of the Spanish War has destroyed any free institution of America, their orators dwell upon the "paramountness" of an issue of this kind, and very naturally make a good argument. We all agree upon that with an agreement which surpasses the unanimity of the parties when they voted for the Spanish War, the Spanish Treaty and the increase of the army at the end of the Spanish War. Every sane man in the United States, Republican or Democrat, looks upon the continuance of this republic and the preservation of its free institutions as paramount to all questions of which the platforms of any Political Party Treatise and if any question as to their continuance should really arise they would unite and vote as one man for their preservation. In that principle, however, Democrats would turn for protection and leadership to some one of approved statesmanship and courage such as Grover Cleveland, and not to self advertised trimmers like Mr. Bryan, who helped to bring the trouble upon us. Trying to get in the swim, he helped "imperialism" along, and now trying to get into office, the swim being over, he would pose as his country's liberator from his own legislation.

As the Kansas City Convention had, therefore, no real Spanish War issue upon which to construct a controversy between their acts and the acts of the Administration it must construct a dummy in very general words, and for fear the existence of the dummy would be promptly disproven, if left to itself, stamped it "Paramount" and proceeded to argue with great force and eloquence and consummate gravity to the American people that liberty is really preferable to slavery and that a real Republic is more to be desired than any old Empire that could be constructed.

Taking a text upon which men have thought, written and spoken for centuries, and with the talent for giving expression to the thoughts of others which marks him, Mr. Bryan made the one good speech of his campaign. He should have stopped right there, when all agreed with the general principles enunciated by him and while comparatively few of his own party saw their want of application to the actual situation. As time has gone on and his speeches have flooded the country, people have begun to think, and the more they think about it the less they see in this pretended issue.

IMPERIALISM AS A PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

ONLY A SHAM ISSUE OF BRYAN'S CONVENTION TO MASK FREE SILVER.

ISSUES ARE BORN, NOT MADE.

To many indeed it appears evident that the agitators who sought to make lawful money out of paper, and who still seek to force upon us fifty cents worth of silver as a dollar, have not hesitated to attempt "the free and unlimited coinage of issues" out of nothing; to stamp them "Paramount," and to pass them upon an unsuspecting people "in the name of liberty." Like poets, issues are born, not made, and secure attention by their merits, not by their little pages. Advertising may help but cannot create them, and when the puff becomes too lurid it suggests doubt to the reader. An issue can only arise from some conflict of fact or circumstance, and when political, to be real must involve some course of action or legislation defined and advocated on one side and resisted on the other. The War of the Revolution arose from specific acts of oppression, and upon the issues of resistance or submission the Whigs and Tories of that day divided. The extension of slavery into the Territories produced the controversy of 1860, and upon the issue so raised the Democrats and Republicans first contended. The effort to foist silver upon the country at double its real value gave origin to the proposal of the free coinage of silver, upon which the Democratic party split, and so from time to time real conflicts, involving actual questions of property, commerce and liberty, which required real and immediate action or legislation, have produced controversies among us. In each and every case, however, there has been something which part of the people wished to have done, and it has only been when the popular demand for action became pronounced that political parties have divided upon the subject and have recognized the issues so made.

The Whigs of 1776 did not debate the "Paramountness" of issues, they demanded that the colonists should fight. The Republicans of 1860 did not prate of the value of issues, they demanded the abolition of slavery in the Territories by Act of Congress. The Democrats of the South who seceded wasted no words upon the subject, but seceded, and during the war which followed no one argued upon the existence of the issue, but fought for or against it. In all the cases the facts created the issue and upon the issue, the people take sides. It takes two sides to make an issue, and upon that of so-called imperialism all are of one mind; all love freedom and the Republic, and it is impossible to raise any issue about it.

When the voters of 1896 found that the Populists, backed by Bryan, had captured the Democratic Convention, and joined forces with the mine-owners in the attempt to debase our coinage, they did not debate about "issues," they studied the effect of the legislation proposed by the new combination, and voted accordingly.

VOTERS NOT DECEIVED BY UN- REAL ISSUES.

Voters who understood the political situation then will not be deceived by unreal issues now. They will see that while the Dem-Populist platform of 1900 omits to specify any act of usurpation which it would undo, and fails to show how it will maintain order or protect property in the distant Philippines without the use of coercion or the support of an army; it in terms reaffirms the Chicago platform, which in unmistakable language proposes to do certain things with regard to our courts, our currency and our commercial, financial and industrial interests, which if carried out, will produce a very immediate and disastrous effect throughout the length and breadth of America.

They will see that the acquisition of the Philippines can no more be made a party question now than that of Alaska; that the islanders, as now instigated, must be curbed by some force and governed, whether they consent or not, and that when so governed by us their condition will be better and their Government freer than any they have ever known or are in themselves capable of. They will see behind the remote shadow of imperialism the very substance of that repudiation and anarchy which threatened us openly in 1896 and is now seeking to sneak in upon us in 1900. When Mr. Bryan visited the East in 1896 he proudly proclaimed, as a conqueror, that he was visiting the "enemies" country. The same Mr. Bryan is here again in the same spirit, holding the same views and possessed by the same ambitions. He has learned, however, that he is not strong enough to overcome the "enemy" by open force, so he cloaks himself under the mantle of the Goddess of Liberty, calls himself friend and sneaks in upon us, as the Tagalo upon our soldiers, to use the stiletto with greater effect when he has disarmed suspicion. The old saying was, "Scratch a Russian and you will find a Tartar." Strip from Bryan this cloak and the Populist and Communist of 1896 will stand revealed before you.

EX-SENATOR BOND, A PROMINENT DEMOCRAT OF CALVERT CO., REPUDIATES BRYAN.

Hon. John T. Bond Declares for McKinley.

for another term of four years, from 10 o'clock of next March. The principal candidates for President this year, as in '96, are the same—the issues the same. No one can but remember in the last Presidential contest, Mr. Bryan prophesied if Mr. McKinley was elected and administered this Government in accordance with the promises made by the party that nominated him that ruin and desolation would surely follow. There is not a man today, with three grains of common sense, with brains enough to keep him out of an insane asylum, who does not know that Mr. McKinley was elected and did just what he promised to do. We all know that he assumed command of the executive branch of the Government at a time when the nation was on the brink of a financial panic, when business of every kind and in every section was at a standstill, or on the downward to ruin.

When Mr. McKinley took the helm he reversed the course, and in the short period of four years we find universal prosperity. Where there was gloom and distress—by a change in the tariff laws, by financial legislation, or by what other means I care not. This I do know that under the wise and statesmanlike Administration of William McKinley this nation has taken the foremost rank among the nations of the world, with a national credit greater than Great Britain, with the establishment of a standard of value, in harmony with all other nations, with the supremacy of trade in our favor, with the flag—the emblem of our liberty—honored, respected and feared by every nation on the face of the globe.

For all this we are asked to change our Executive, to try an experiment, to elect a man whose only qualification is a glib tongue, with no experience, uneducated in the duties of statesmanship.

Imperialism is but a piece of "fly paper" to catch votes. Who would dare to rob the humblest citizen of his rights? To act the tyrant he would pay the penalty with his life. His name would be handed down to posterity, linked with those of Benedict Arnold and Judas Iscariot, to be loathed and despised by all men. Think you that a man like Mr. McKinley, whose whole life has been spent in the service of his country, would be such a tyrant, the man who when but a boy shouldered his musket and as a private soldier risked his life in behalf of a united country, who from that time to this has been a conspicuous figure in the eyes of the public, who from the humblest walks of life, by his own good character, has climbed to the topmost round and stands today in the most exalted position that a free people can bestow? Think you such a man need to be feared? No, a thousand times no! Those who say it do not believe it. A change of administration this fall, with the present candidate and issues involved, would renew conditions from which we have just escaped. Instead of a true statesman like McKinley, we would be at the mercy of a man who is striving to be President by accepting a nomination at the hands of any party that will help him. He is the representative of the so-called Democratic party, the Populist and Silver Republicans, a conglomerate as heterogeneous as night is from day.

"Let well enough alone!" Trust to the same commander. The old ship of State, guided by his mighty hand and head, taken out from shoal waters of danger and now on the great ocean of prosperity, will move onward and onward to a destiny beyond the comprehension of man. Unborn generations will thank us, the God of Nations will bless us.

Watson's Special Cigar

It is an old saying that if you tell a man a thing times enough he will believe it. We have told the smokers of America so many times and so forcibly that they ought to try the Watson's Special Cigar that they are taking the advice in vast and constantly increasing numbers. After they have tried it, the cigar does the rest. They find that it is as we claim—the best cigar that can be made and sold for the money. It holds its trade and constantly increases in popularity.

The commission is dated October 22nd., and takes effect November 6th. It holds good till the general election in November 1901, when a judge will be chosen by the people for the full term of fifteen years. Gov. Smith wrote Judge Holland a very complimentary letter, expressing the pleasure he experienced in making the appointment and his assurance, based on the Judge's past official record, that the duties of the Judgeship would be splendidly performed.

—Captain I. H. White of Salisbury has leased the "Almodington" farm, on the north side of the Manokin river, nine miles from Princess Anne, in Somerset county, for a term of five years. The farm contains 865 acres, 200 of which are in cultivation. The farm is regarded as one of the best grain, grass and stock farms in the State of Maryland. Captain White will utilize it for these purposes, and last week received a car load of Western Short Horn cattle for breeding purposes. He will need a forty-acre field to wheat this season. Capt. White will continue to reside with his family in Salisbury, but will visit the farm at frequent intervals. Capt. E. J. Hall is overseer of the place. Capt. White is an experienced stockman, and will no doubt make a lively competitor of the stock growers of Somerset county.

The Parsons District Democratic Club will hold a rousing meeting in their club room in Parsons Opera House tomorrow, Saturday evening at eight o'clock. Rev. S. R. Maxwell, one of Virginia's most noted orators, who is well known in Salisbury, will address the meeting. Seats will be reserved for the ladies and there will be ample room for the large crowd who will wish to hear the vital issues of the campaign discussed by such an able orator, and an "original Bryan man." This will be the great rallying day for the Democratic Clubs of the United States.

The next regular meeting of the Parsons Democratic Club will be held in their club room on Court House Square on next Wednesday evening, Oct. 31st. All the members of the Club are urged to be present. Prominent speakers will address the meeting.

"What does he look like? How old is he? How did he ever get where he is? What did he do before he went into politics? How much does he weigh? Is he big or little? Is he pleasant and jolly or is he a sort of a crank? Has he got the big head?" These and a thousand other similar questions are being asked about Bryan, the guest of Salisbury Wednesday. At a great deal of expense, time and trouble, Salisbury sent a committee after Bryan Wednesday to bring him to Salisbury on a special train, and at the same time to give us all the information possible about him. The committee reports that while Bryan laughs heartily he seldom smiles. He has quite taking ways, for he took the trouble to go to war, took the enemy, took a trip home, took Nebraska by storm, and Wednesday he took Salisbury. Bryan likes Salisbury—he shows it by requesting that we don't all shake hands with him, for he says he never wants to be shook by this town. Bryan is not at all affected by "big head," we having it from another of the committee that he and Bryan got their hats exchanged on the train this morning, and neither one knew the difference until Bryan noticed Lacy Thoroughgood's brand up in the top of the hat he had on and remarked: "Why this is a Stetson Hat and came from Lacy Thoroughgood's store. Well, Thoroughgood's store is always in it and can't be shook." Thoroughgood wants to say to Mr. Bryan that when he is in the Firemen's Park, and is shaking hands with five miles of people, that he can't shake Thoroughgood. Lacy is always in it and he can't be shook. And when you are done speaking and shaking Bryan, just sneak away from the crowd long enough to come over and see the grandest line of Suits and Overcoats you ever saw—Suits and Overcoats that are all right, they are sold on their merits, they're winning favors by being right just the same as you did, and you'd better buy a Suit and an Overcoat while you're in Salisbury. Well, Mr. Bryan, come on over and Thoroughgood will take off his hat to you as an advertising man, for while Thoroughgood has advertised Salisbury pretty well around here, you've advertised Salisbury around the world, and done it well.

THE HOUSE OF DAVID

SAVED FROM EXTINCTION BY JEHOSEBA'S HEROIC DEED.

Rev. Dr. Talmage Draws a Useful Lesson From the Rescue of Josiah From the Murderous Athaliah—The Saving of Saul.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—In this discourse on a neglected incident of the Bible Dr. Talmage draws some comforting lessons and shows that all around us are royal natures that we may help deliver. The text is 17 Kings xi, 2, 3: "Jehoshaphat, the daughter of King Joram, sister of Athaliah, took Josiah, the son of Athaliah, and stole him from among the king's sons which were slain, and she hid him, even him and his nurse in the bedchamber from Athaliah, so that he was not slain. And he was with her hid in the house of the Lord six years."

Grandmothers are more lenient with their children's children than they were with their own. At 40 years of age if discipline be necessary chastisement is used, but at 70 the grandmother, looking upon the misbehavior of the grandchild, is apologetic and disposed to substitute confectionery for whip. There is nothing more beautiful than childhood. Grandmother takes out her pocket handkerchief and wipes her spectacles and puts them on and looks down into the face of her mischievous and rebellious descendant and says: "I don't think he meant to do it. Let him off this time. I'll be responsible for his behavior in the future." My mother, with the second generation around her, a boisterous crew, said one day: "I suppose they ought to be disciplined, but I can't do it. Grandmothers are not fit to bring up grandchildren." But here in my text we have a grandmother of a different type.

I have been at Jerusalem, where the occurrence of the text took place, and the whole scene came vividly before me while I was going over the site of the ancient temple and climbing the towers of the king's palace. Here in the text it is old Athaliah, the royal murderer. She ought to have been honorable. Her father was a king. Her husband was a king. Her son was a king. And yet we find her plotting for the extermination of the entire royal family, including her own grandchildren. The executioners' knives are sharpened. The palace is red with the blood of princes and princesses. On all sides are shrieks and hands thrown up and struggle and death groans. No mercy! Kill, kill! But while the ivory floors of the palace run with carnage and the whole land is under the shadow of a great horror, a feet footed woman, a clergyman's wife, Jehoshaphat by name, stealthily approaches the imperial nursery, seizes upon the grandchild that had somehow as yet escaped massacre, wraps it up tenderly but in haste mingles it against her, flies down the palace stairs, her heart in her throat lest she be discovered in this compassionate abduction. Get her out of the way as quick as you can, for she carries a precious burden, even a young king. With this youthful prize she presses into the room of the ancient temple, the church of olden time, unwraps the young king and puts him down, sound asleep as he is and unconscious of the peril that has been threatened, and there for six years he is secreted in that church apartment. Meanwhile old Athaliah smacks her lips with satisfaction and thinks that all the royal family are dead. But the six years expire, and it is time for young Josiah to come forth and take the throne and to push back into disgrace and death old Athaliah.

The Crowning of Josiah.

The arrangements are all made for political revolution. The military come and take possession of the temple, swear loyalty to the boy Josiah and stand around for his defense. See the sharpened swords and the burnished shields! Everything is ready. Now Josiah, half-frightened at the armed train of his defenders, scarcely dares to utter a word of his admirers, is brought forth in full regalia. The scroll of authority is put in his hands, the coronet of government is put on his brow, and the people clapped and waved and huzzed and trumpeted. "What is that?" said Athaliah. "What is that sound over in the temple?" And she flies to see, and on her way they meet her and say: "Why haven't you heard? You thought you had slain all the royal family, but Josiah has come to light." Then the royal murderer, frantic with rage, grabbed her mantle and tore it to tatters and cried until she foamed at the mouth: "You have no right to crown my grandson. You have no right to take the government from my shoulders. Treason, treason!"

While she stood there crying that the military started for her arrest, and she took a short cut through a back door of the temple and ran through the royal stables, but the battlements of the military fell on her in the baryatry, and for many a day when the horses were being unloaded from the chariot after drawing out young Josiah the fiery steeds would snort and rear passing the place as they smell the place of the carnage.

The first thought I had you from this subject is that the extermination of righteousness is an impossibility. When a woman is good, she is apt to be very good, and when she is bad, she is apt to be very bad, and this Athaliah was one of the latter sort. She would exterminate the last seed of the house of David, through whom Jesus was to come. There was plenty of work for embalmers and undertakers. She would clear the land of all God fearing and God loving people. She would put an end to everything that could in anywise interfere with her imperial criminality. She folds her hands and says: "The work is done. It is completely done." Is it? In the swaddling clothes of that church apartment are wrapped the cause of God and the cause of good government. That is the seed of the house of David. It is Josiah, the God worshipping reformer. It is Josiah, the friend of God. It is Josiah, the demolisher of Baal's idolatry. Rock him tenderly, nurse him gently. Athaliah, you may kill all the other children, but you cannot kill him. Eternal defenses are thrown all around him, and this clergyman's wife, Jehoshaphat, will snatch him up from the palace nursery and will run down with him into the house of the Lord, and there she will hide him for six years, and at the end of that time he will come forth for your dethronement and obliteration.

Cannot Be Extinguished.

Well, my friends, just as poor a blotch does the world always make of extinguishing righteousness. Superstition rises up and says, "I will not put an end to pure religion." Domitian slew 40,000 Christians. Diocletian slew 844,000 Christians. And the scythe of persecution has been swung through all the ages, and the flames hissed, and the guillotine chopped, and the Basille groined, but did the foes of Christianity exterminate it? Did they exterminate Alban, the first British sacrifice, Zwingli, the Swiss reformer, or John Oldcastle, the Christian nobleman, or Abdallah, the Arabian martyr, or Anne Askew or Sanders or Cranmer? Great work of extermination they made of it. Just at the time when they thought they had slain all the royal family of Jesus some Josiah would spring up and out and take the throne of power and wield a very scepter of Christian dominion.

Fidelity says, "I will exterminate the Bible," and the Scriptures were thrown into the street for the mob to trample on, and they were piled up in the public squares and set on fire, and mountains of indignant contempt were hurled on them, and learned universities decreed the Bible out of existence. Thomas Paine said: "In my 'Age of Reason' I have annihilated the Scriptures. Your Washington is a pusillanimous Christian, but I am the foe of Bibles and of churches." Oh, how many assaults upon that word! All the hostilities that have ever been created on earth cannot be compared with the hostilities against that one book. Said one man in his infidel desperation to his wife, "You must not be reading that Bible," and he snatched it away from her. And though in that Bible was a lock of hair of the dead child—the only child that God had ever given them—he pitched the book with its contents into the fire and stirred it with the tongue and spat it and cursed it and said, "Susan, never have any more of that damnable stuff here."

Perpetuity of the Bible. How many individual and organized attempts have been made to exterminate that Bible? Have its enemies done it? Have they exterminated the American Bible society? Have they exterminated the British and Foreign Bible society? Have they exterminated the thousands of Christian institutions whose only object it is to multiply copies of the Scriptures and spread them broadcast around the world? They have exterminated until it is to multiply copies of the Bible in our houses we have eight or ten, and we pile them up in the corners of our Sabbath school rooms and send great boxes of them everywhere. If they get on as well as they are now going on in the work of extermination, I do not know but that our children may live to see the millennium. Yes, if there should be a time of persecution in which all the known Bibles of the earth should be destroyed, all these lamps of life that blaze in our pulpits and in our families extinguished, in the very day that infidelity and sin should be holding jubilee over the universal extinction there would be in some closet of a backwoods church a secret copy of the Bible, and this Josiah of eternal literature would come out and come up and take the throne, and the Athaliah of infidelity and persecution would fly out the back door of the palace and drop her miserable carcass under the hoofs of the horses of the king's stables. You cannot exterminate Christianity! You cannot kill Josiah!

The second thought I had you from my subject is that there are opportunities in which we may save royal life. You know that profane history is replete with stories of strangled monarchs and of young princes who have been put out of the way. Here is the story of a young king, how he trembled as she rushed into the imperial nursery and snatched up Josiah! How she hushed him lest by his cry he hinder the escape! Fly with him, Jehoshaphat! You hold in your arms the cause of God and good government. Fail, and he is slain. Succeed, and you turn the tide of the world's history in the right direction. It seems as if between that young king and his assassins there is nothing but the frail arm of a woman. But why should we spend our time in praising this bravery of expedition when God asks the same thing of you and me? All around us the imperiled children of a great king. They are born of Almighty parentage and will come to a throne or a crown if permitted. But sin, the old Athaliah, goes forth to the massacre. Murderous temptations are out for the assassination. Valens, the emperor, was told that there was somebody in his realm who would usurp his throne and he named the name of the man who should be the usurper would begin with the letters T, H, E, O, D, and the edict went forth from the emperor's throne: "Kill every body whose name begins with T, H, E, O, D." And hundreds and thousands were slain, hoping by that massacre to put an end to that usurper. But sin is more terrific in its denunciation. It matters not how you spell your name, you come under its knife, under its sword, under its doom, unless there be some omnipotent relief brought to the rescue. But blessed be God, there is such a thing as delivering a royal soul. Who will snatch away Josiah?

This afternoon in your Sabbath school class there will be a prince of God, some one who may yet reign as king forever before the throne; there will be some one in your class who has a corrupt physical inheritance; there will be some one in your class who has a father and mother who do not know how to pray; there will be some one in your class who is destined to command in church or state, some Cromwell to dissolve a parliament, some Beethoven to touch the world's harp strings, some John Howard to pour fresh air in the lazarhouse, some Florence Nightingale to bandage the battle wounds, some Miss Dix to soothe the crazed brain, some John Frederick Oberlin to educate the benighted, some David Brainerd to change the Indian's warwhoop to a Sabbath song, some John Wesley to marshal three-fourths of Christendom, some John Knox to demolish idolatry and strike for the kingdom of heaven. There are sleeping in your cradles by night, there are playing in your nurseries by day, imperial souls waiting for dominion, and whichever side the cradle they get, will decide the destiny of empires. For each one of those children sin and holiness contend. Athaliah on the one side, Jehoshaphat on the other. But hear people say: "What's the use of hatching children with religious instruction? Let them grow up and choose for themselves. Don't interfere with their volition." Suppose some one had said to Jehoshaphat: "Don't interfere with that young Josiah. Let him grow up and decide whether he likes the palace or not; whether he wants to be king or not. Don't disturb his volition." Jehoshaphat knew right well that unless that day the young king was rescued he would never be rescued at all. I tell you, my friends, the reason we don't claim all our children from worldliness because we begin too late. Parents wait until their children are before they teach them the value of truth. They wait until their children swear before they teach them the importance of righteousness. They wait until their children are all wrapped up in this world before they tell them of a better world. Too late with your prayers. Too late with your discipline. Too late with your benediction. You put all care upon your children between 12 and 15. Why do you not put the chief care between 4 and 9? It is too late to repair a vessel when it has got out of the drydocks. It is too late to save Josiah after the executioners have broken in. May God arm us all for this work of snatching royal souls from death to coronation.

Work of Soul Saving.

Can you imagine any sublimer work than this soul saving? That was what thrust Paul's cheek with enthusiasm; that was what led Munson to risk his life amid Boracian cannibals; that was what sent Dr. Abel to preach under the consuming skies of China; that was what gave courage to Phocas in the third century. When the military officers came to put him to death for Christ's sake, he put them to bed that they might rest, while he himself went out and in his own garden dug his grave and then came back and said, "I am ready." But they were shocked at the idea of taking the life of their host. He said, "It is the will of God that I should die," and he stood on the margin of his own grave, and they beheaded him. You say it is a mania, a foolhardiness, a fanaticism. Rather would I call it a glorious self-abnegation, the thrill of eternal satisfaction, the plucking of Josiah from death and raising him to coronation.

The third thought I had to you is that the church of God is a good hiding place. When Jehoshaphat rushes into the nursery of the king and picks up Josiah, what shall she do with him? Shall she take him to some room in the palace? No, for the official desperadoes will hunt through every nook and corner of that building. Shall she take him to the residence of some wealthy citizen? No; that citizen would not dare to harbor the fugitive. But she has to take him some where. She hears the cry of the mob in the street; she hears the shriek of the dying nobility; so she rushes with Josiah into the room of the temple, into the house of God, and there she puts him down. She knows that Athaliah and her wicked assassins will not bother the temple a great deal. They are not apt to go very much to church, and so she sets down Josiah in the temple. There he will be hearing the songs of the worshippers year after year; there he will breathe the odor of the golden censers; in that sacred spot he will tarry, secreted until the six years have passed and he come to entronement.

The Best Hiding Place.

Would God that we were all as wise as Jehoshaphat and knew that the church of God is the best hiding place. Perhaps our parents took us there in early days. They snatched us away from the world and hid us behind the baptismal fonts and amid the Bibles and psalmbooks. O glorious inclosure! We have been breathing the breath of the golden censers all the time, and we have seen the Lamb on the altar, and we have handled the vials in which are the prayers of all saints, and we have dwelt under the wings of the cherubim. Glorious inclosure! When my father and mother died and the property was settled up, there was hardly anything left. But they endowed us with a property worth more than any earthly possession because they hid us in the temple. And when days of temptation have come upon my soul I have gone there for shelter, and when assailed of sorrows I have gone there for comfort, and there I mean to live. I want like Josiah, to stay until coronation.

O men of the world outside there, betrayed, caricatured and cheated of the world, why do you not come in through the broad, wide open door of Christian communion? I wish I could act the part of Jehoshaphat today and steal you away from your perils and hide you in the temple. How few of us appreciate the fact that the church of God is a hiding place! There are many people who put the church at so low a mark that they begrudge it everything, even the few dollars they give toward it. They make no sacrifices. They do a little out of their surplusage. They pay their butcher's bill, and they pay their doctor's bill, and they pay their landlord, and they pay everybody but the Lord, and they come in at the last to pay the Lord in his church and from as they say: "There, Lord, it is. Send me a receipt in full and don't bother me soon again." There is not more than one man out of a thousand that appreciates what the church is. Where are the souls that stand aside on tenth for Christian institutions—on tenth of their income? Where are those who, having put aside that one-tenth, draw upon it cheerfully? Why, it is pull and drag and hold on and grab and clutch, and giving is an affliction to most people when it ought to be an exhilaration and a rapture. Oh, that God would remodel our church on this subject and that we might appreciate the house of God as the great refuge! If your children are to come up to lives of virtue and happiness, they will come up under the shadow of the church. If the church does not get them, the world will.

Christian Association.

Ah, when you pass away—and it will not be long before you do—when you pass away, it will be a satisfaction to see your children in Christian society. You want to have them sitting at the holy sacraments. You want them mingling in Christian associations. You would like to have them die on your dying couch and your little ones to take your last word and you look into their bewildered faces, you will want to leave them under the church's benediction. I do not care how hard you are; that is no sin. I said to a man of the world: "Your son and daughter are going to join our church next Sunday. Have you any objections?" "Bless you," he said. "Objections? I wish all my children belonged to the church. I don't attend to those matters myself—I know I am very wicked—but I am very glad they are going, and I shall be there to see them. I am very glad, sir. And so, though you may have been wandering from God and though you may have sometimes caricatured the church of Jesus, it is your great desire that your sons and daughters should be standing at their lives within this sacred inclosure."

More than that, you yourself will want the church for a hiding place when the mortgage is foreclosed; when your daughter, just blooming into womanhood, suddenly clasps her hands in a slumber that knows no waking; when gaunt trouble roams the dining hall and the nursery, you will want some shelter from the tem-

Dr. W. H. Lewis, Lawrenceville, Va., writes, "I am using Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in my practice among severe cases of indigestion and find it an admirable remedy." Many hundreds of physicians depend upon the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in stomach troubles. It digests what you eat, and allows you to eat all the good food you need, providing you do not overload your stomach. Gives instant relief and a permanent cure. Dr. L. D. Collier.

Constable David Reader of Hagerstown may be removed on account of the recent escapes from the Washington County Jail. There are charges of collusion with the prisoners.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medical properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 66 Warren St., N. Y.

William Peyton was put on trial at Upper Marlboro yesterday for his participation in the prize fight at Chesapeake City with "Lanky Bob." Peyton is the man for not arresting whom Sheriff Shes has been tried for malfeasance in office.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely." This remedy is for sale by R. K. Truitt & Son.

Dismissing—Hailstorms by Cannon.

"An effort is being made in France to dissipate hailstorms by firing cannon at the clouds," writes Consul Coveri to the state department from Lyons. "Fifty-two cannon, manned by 104 cannoniers and their chiefs, have been distributed over an area of 2,500 acres of rich vineyard. A high point in the vineyard to be covered by the experiments was selected as the central point of observation and a signal cod adopted under which, when a shot is heard from the central post all the cannon are fired, at twice a minute and more slowly after the first ten shots. I translate the report of the first firing at the storm cloud this season: The farmers of Denice were aroused at 1:30 o'clock on the nights of June 5 and 6. The storm was very severe. The artillery, from forty to fifty strong, fired their guns and stopped the thunder and lightning. In the neighboring communes the people saw columns of flame rise 800 feet above the cannon when the shots were fired."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO. Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Miss Lillie B. Edmonds swore out a warrant before Justice Crapner at Westminster Monday charging Jesse F. Dixon, her brother-in-law, with assaulting her near Gamber, Carroll County. She is 17 years of age and Dixon is 21 years old.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy. It is for sale by R. K. Truitt & Son."

Steps have been taken at Cambridge to organize the Home Telephone Company of Dorchester county to compete with the Diamond State Company. As soon as the latter concern secured a monopoly in Cambridge it raised the rates, and has now produced new opposition.

To put the brake on the wagon going down the hill is a help to the horse, when the wagon is heavily loaded. But what driver would think of applying the brake to a loaded wagon going up hill? If he did, his sensible horses would probably balk. Many a man is in the condition of pulling a load up hill with the brake set against him. When his stomach is out of order, and the allied organs of digestion and nutrition impaired in their functions, a friction is set up which has to be overcome in addition to the performance of daily duties. A foul stomach makes a foggy brain, and the man with a disordered stomach has often to grope his way through the day's business like a man in a fog. He forgets appointments. Problems seem presented to his mind 'wrong end up.' This condition is entirely remedied by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It puts the stomach and digestive and nutritive system into a condition of perfect health, and gives a clear brain, a steady hand and a light step for the day's duties. When constipation clogs the channels of the body, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will work an effectual cure of that disastrous disease.

The directors of the Cherry Hill, Elkton and Chesapeake City Railway have decided to begin the construction of the road whether they get the appropriation of $58,000 from the State or not.

Cuts And Bruises Quickly Healed.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm applied to a cut, bruise, burn, scald or like injury will instantly allay the pain and will heal the parts in less time than any other treatment. Unless the injury is very severe it will not leave a scar. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, sprains, swellings and lameness. For sale by R. K. Truitt & Son.

CHAMPION BANK THIEF.

Disappears After Stealing Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars.

HIS FRIENDS TALK OF SUICIDE.

The Thief Had Not Been Absent From the Bank One Business Day This Year—He Had Been Robbing and Falsifying Accounts For Five Years.

New York, Oct. 25.—Bank Examiner Charles A. Hanna was closeted with United States District Attorney Burnett for nearly 15 minutes yesterday. When he left he refused to give any details of the conversation. He denied, however, the published statement that he had said that the Alvord embezzlement was the result of a conspiracy.

A squad of detectives is still on guard at the Alvord home in Mount Vernon, and it is expected that the horses and carriages and other property of the defaulting teller will be attached. The detectives are acting in the interest of the bank, and as soon as it can be definitely learned how much of the property is in the name of Alvord it will be attached. Later in the day Vice President Hine said that the note teller's pecuniary situation dated back about five years. He said that the figures mentioned, $700,000, represented the maximum of the embezzlements, and the shortage might fall short of that.

In spite of many rumors, some of them very circumstantial, it may be positively stated that the officials of the bank have no definite idea what Alvord did with the large sum of money he stole. That much of it went in high living and luxuries for his family is clear, but the bank officials believe that less than one-fourth of his pilferings went in that way. Wall street is full of stories telling how the defaulter was a heavy loser in the stock market and although the bank officers refuse to discuss that phase of the matter there is no doubt that the detectives are looking into it, and if Alvord's broker or brokers can be found they will be made to disgorge, if that should be possible.

In Wall street the opinion prevails that Alvord was a superior defaulter—that is to say, he was cleverer than the average of his kind. He probably realized that the majority of his rivals of the past got away with very little money. Banking men are disposed to believe that probably Alvord managed to make his escape with several hundred thousand dollars. It was also thought probable that the Schrieber-Elisabethport defalcation helped to uncover Alvord's operations. Becoming nervous and apprehensive over the notoriety obtained by Schrieber Alvord failed through neglect or nervousness to check up some of his transactions, and the result was exposure.

Many personal friends of Alvord in Mount Vernon believe he has committed suicide. John H. Murphy, one of the banker's most intimate friends, said he firmly believed that Alvord has taken his own life.

"He is just the sort of a man who would do such a thing," said Mr. Murphy. "While he is phlegmatic and apparently takes matters as they come he is in reality a sensitive man. I wish, as his personal friend, to deny the story current that there was another woman in whom he was interested. He was deeply attached to his wife and family and did not associate with a fast set."

The following supplementary statement was given out by the First National bank officials yesterday afternoon: "Alvord's false entries appear to have commenced about five years ago. One of his duties was to collect drafts and notes not payable through the clearing house, a considerable part of these usually being paid in cash. He appropriated a portion of this cash from time to time, as opportunity offered, before any of it was turned over to the money clerk. The discrepancy was concealed by adding to the item of 'exchange for clearing house' on the note teller's balance book an amount equal to the sum of abstractions.

"Until his recent disappearance Alvord has not been absent from the bank during one business day this year. He did not take his usual vacation last summer, requesting that instead he might take a month next winter for a trip to California."

The betting men of the local race tracks say that Alvord could not possibly have lost any great amount of money on the race track, even if he bet through commissionaires, without his identity being discovered. To lose anything approximating the sum of Alvord's defalcation while keeping his name secret, they declared, was impossible.

C. L. Alvord, the missing note teller, had been in the employ of the First National bank for over 20 years. He is about 50 years old, and lived in splendid style with his wife and three children at Mount Vernon. He has been missing for about ten days, and his belongings are placed at $700,000.

Mrs. Alvord is said to have told friends that owing to his position in the bank Mr. Alvord was able to obtain tips which enabled him to make $40,000 to $50,000 a year over his salary by operating in Wall street. She is said to have boasted that her husband's tips were so straight that he never lost a cent in the street, and always made a gain.

They Prefer to Be Dances.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., Oct. 25.—Intense adverse feeling has been excited here by the renewal of the report that Denmark intends to sell the Danish Antilles to the United States. A meeting of the colonial council has been convened at St. Croix for the purpose of making a formal protest. The newspapers discuss the question, declaring in bold type "we do not wish to be sold." There is no desire, much less enthusiasm, among the population to belong to the United States.

Spanish-American War Claims. Washington, Oct. 24.—There have been filed 34,006 claims on account of the Spanish-American war up to Oct. 22. Claims have been made for evidence in 32,424 of these claims. Medical examinations have been ordered by the pension bureau in 22,324 claims.

MATTERS IN MARYLAND.

Cambridge, Oct. 19.—Harpers' shirt factory at Hurlock was burned to the ground about 1 o'clock this morning. The building and contents, including about 1,500 dozen shirts, were destroyed. The property was insured.

Cumberland, Md., Oct. 24.—Five children were poisoned by chewing the black berries from the dry pods of Jimson weed. Joseph the 3-year-old child of Louis Kabosky, died in a few hours in most violent convulsions. Two children of Joseph Siego, aged 3 and 2 years, respectively, are still in a very critical condition. The other two poisoned, also 3 and 2 years, respectively, are children of Jacob Kabosky, brother of Louis Kabosky, and are thought to be out of danger.

Cumberland, Oct. 21.—The remains of six Confederate soldiers were discovered at Harpersville, this county, under the direction of Dr. Benjamin Cromwell, of the United Confederate Veterans. Three of the soldiers were from North Carolina, two from Virginia and one from Tennessee. One of the skeletons was fully preserved, notwithstanding the body had been buried over 35 years. The bones will be reinterred in Rose Hill cemetery on Tuesday next.

Cumberland, Oct. 22.—John Hughes, colored, aged about 30 years, was shot by James Davis, colored, in a quarrel over a crap game near Glencoe, where the men were working on the new Baltimore and Ohio track, last night. He died while being brought to Cumberland on an excursion train from Pittsburg. Hughes was running away from Davis at the time. Davis was promptly arrested and lodged in jail. The men came here with a gang of negroes last August to work on the new track.

Hagerstown, Oct. 21.—Because her parents objected to the attentions which a young man was paying her, Louella Sours, aged 16, committed suicide yesterday evening at her home in Hagerstown. She took six grains of strychnine. Fifteen minutes after she took the poison she was dead, expiring in violent convulsions. Her intimacy with the young man, Lee Harper, dates back some months. It is said her parents strenuously objected to her keeping company with Harper, whose parents, too, were also said to have been opposed to the match.

Barnesville, Oct. 21.—The corner stone of the new St. Mary's church, located at Barnesville, Montgomery county, was laid with impressive services yesterday afternoon. A large assemblage was present at the ceremony. Among the clergymen in attendance were Revs. J. F. Mackin, Martin O'Donoghue and Philip McGuire, of Washington; Rev. John Gaynor, Rockville; Rev. James O'Connell, Petersburg; and the pastor, Rev. Gilbert H. McDonald. The new edifice will be of brick and is built to replace the old church, which was destroyed by fire.

Hagerstown, Oct. 21.—The receipts at the gate and grand stand during the Hagerstown fair, just closed, were $9,150. The railroads have not yet made their returns, but about $10,000 will come from this source also. The receipts from the race entries were nearly $2,000. The receipts from season tickets sold, not counted in the gate receipts, were $1,614. The total attendance for the four days of the fair is estimated at 52,000 persons. The association expects to clear enough to pay off their indebtedness of $5,000.

Hancock, Oct. 21.—While returning in a wagon to their homes along Tontoy mountain, four miles west of Hancock, last night John McCusker, his son, Claude McCusker, and William Pryor, who was in the wagon with them, were shot from ambush. The men were all in a merry mood and left Hancock shortly after dark in McCusker's wagon. It is said that while driving along they yelled vociferously and singled out people living along the road for remarks. One of these, it is supposed, led fly into the passing wagon on the contents of a double barreled shotgun. The men positively refuse to state who shot them, but it is understood a young man who had been hunting corn in a field along the road was accused.

Hagerstown, Oct. 21.—William Griffin, charged with being a pickpocket, who was arrested and placed in jail, escaped in a slick manner. Constable Reeder went to the jail to take a prisoner to the justice's office for trial. Griffin followed Reeder and the other prisoner out of the jail. The turnkey, Hugh Frush, thought the constable was taking Griffin along. The constable thought the jail officials were sending Griffin along with him to the trial. On the way to the justice's office Griffin lost himself and boldly returned to the jail for $37 which was taken from him when he was arrested. The turnkey gave it to him, thinking Griffin had been tried and acquitted. That was the last seen of Griffin, who is wanted in several places on similar charges.

Oakland, Oct. 19.—Mr. Percy Proctor, president of the Oakland club, during the past week has received a letter from W. W. Wood, industrial agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, asking for a location here for a large spoke factory which Mr. Wood is trying to get here. Messrs. Jennings Bros., of Lopes, Pa., who purchased about 12,000 acres of timber land in and around the town of Bittinger, about 18 miles from Oakland, have completed the grading for a standard gauge railroad from Niverton, Pa., along the Casselman river, in Garrett county, to a point near Bittinger. The railroad will be ready for use in January. These gentlemen will also erect a large lumber plant which will employ 200 men and be in operation in the early spring. The West Virginia Coal company has completed the purchase of 3,000 acres of coal land near Gorman, in Garrett county. Mines will be opened at once.

Bryan's Day in Delaware.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 25.—Mr. Bryan made two speeches of length in this city last night, after having made 17 other addresses during the day. Beginning at St. Michael's, on the eastern shore of Maryland, he spoke in succession at Eastern, Preston, Turlock, Vienna, Salisbury, Berlin, all of which places are in Maryland, and at Frankford, Georgetown, Milford, Harrington, Dover, Clayton, Middletown, Kirkwood and New Castle in Delaware. The audiences of the day were as a rule fair sized, and a majority of them were thoroughly appreciative.

QUANTICO.

The three millinery stores of town have laid in their stock of millinery in addition to dress goods and notions which can always be found on their shelves and in their cases.

Mr. Elmer Disharoon, by the removal of a partition has improved the appearance of his large department store.

"Tobe" Austin, colored, the proprietor of Austin's restaurant has fresh beef for sale every Saturday at his place of business next to Dorman's store. "Tobe" is one of the busiest hucksters we have in this vicinity as he will walk and drive almost from Monday morning until Friday night that he may have his goods to supply the Saturday trade.

Now that the fall is coming on, our streets, which compare very unfavorably with our buildings are beginning to fall into a deplorable condition. The dwellings of the town are a credit to the inhabitants so let us have our streets in keeping with our homes, then surely to Quantico will belong the palm for being one of the prettiest small towns on the peninsula.

Mr. Talbot Truitt left Friday for Baltimore where he will attend Strayer's Business College. Mr. Truitt is the third worthy representative from town at this college. We feel sure that he, with the two others who have preceded him will graduate with distinction and become apt and energetic men in their business careers.

Mrs. E. W. Parsons and Mrs. Joanna Riley of Parsonsburg visited Rev. C. W. Strickland and family this week.

Miss Bernice Cooper spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents near Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Langdale visited Mr. Jno. Hufington and family of Allen Sunday.

Mr. T. Phillips and family of Delmar spent Sunday with Mr. Wm. Phillips and family, this town.

Mrs. Estelle Collier and V. F. Collier who have been visiting friends in Washington returned to their homes Wednesday.

Rev. F. B. Adkins spent a few days of this week with the family of Mr. A. L. Jones.

Mr. Jim Humphreys of Rockaway was in town Wednesday.

Mrs. A. J. Allen of Salisbury spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Ellen Gillis, this town.

Mrs. Lyle and Knowles Gordy visited friends in Mt. Vernon last week.

Mr. Frank Rencher spent Sunday with Mr. Noah White of Wetpquin.

Mr. Wesley Acworth who has been lingering on earth many months with the asthma passed away Monday, Oct. 23 from the home of his brother, Mr. Lee Acworth, near town. Mr. Acworth was born and passed the early part of his life in and about this town. During this time he was one of the popular young men of the place. At middle age he went West and in that section, mostly New Mexico and Colorado he spent fifteen years, returning a victim to the disease that caused his death. He was about seventy years of age, never married and leaves two brothers, Samuel and Lee Acworth of Quantico and two sisters, Mrs. Amelia Waters of Somerset county and Mrs. J. L. Straghn of Baltimore. Mr. Acworth was known to all to have a warm heart, and a kind disposition and none knew him but to admire his geniality and free manners. His remains were interred in the family burying ground on Tuesday, Oct. 23.

FRUITLAND.

Mrs. Belle Ruark of this place is visiting friends at Nassawango.

Mr. A. S. Cook and daughter Miss Lizzie of New York City are guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. A. Dulany at the time of this writing.

Little Miss Isabella Turpin who has been on the sick list for some time is now slowly improving.

Miss Stella Crouch spent last Saturday night and Sunday out of town as the guest of Miss May Colbourne.

Mr. Sydney Disharoon and family have recently removed to Salisbury where they will reside in the future.

Mrs. G. W. Messick is spending a week at Capitola as the guest of Mrs. Luther Messick.

A number of folks from here attended the Baptist Association at Nassawango on Thursday of this week.

Mrs. A. M. Dulany, who has been on the sick list is now much improved.

Mrs. W. O. Bennett who is the guest of her mother Mrs. Francis Price at Queenstown, is expected home this week.

On Friday Evening Nov. 2nd, there will be a Temperance entertainment by local talent in the Town Hall, admission only five cents, proceeds for Junior League. All are cordially invited and urged to come and help the Juniors. Don't forget Friday Evening Nov. 2nd, beginning at seven o'clock.

Messrs. Christopher and Charles Ball of Princess Anne spent Wednesday night as the guest of their sister Mrs. Wm. Disharoon, on Mill Street.

Mr. Willie Acworth of Eastville Va. paid a flying visit to his parents at this place on Wednesday—no, Bryan Day.

Mrs. Gurney Messick and Misses Stella Crouch and Florence Carey attended the Epworth League Convention at Berlin on Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

We think if the Hon. William Jennings Bryan could have seen the way in which some of his enthusiastic friends were celebrating his visit to Salisbury he would feel more disgraced than honored. Whiskey flowed like water and every one knows that when a man is intoxicated he doesn't respect either men or women. We only wish that we had had a ball in town for a few minutes Wednesday evening.

"Old Folks Day" at Siloam M. E. Church Sunday Oct. 28th, Rev. W. O. Bennett, Pastor in Charge.

Rumor says we are to have a wedding soon. If so we wish the contracting parties a long and happy life.

PITTSVILLE.

The passing of Bryan, through this place on Wednesday, created quite a sensation among the school children. It was stated that a special train carrying him would pass through about eleven o'clock and the teachers gave the children the privilege of going near the railroad to get a glimpse of "his majesty" and they all crowded near the track waving handkerchiefs, hats, caps, and large American flags as the train passed through. But no sooner had they returned to school than another extra was heard coming and they again flocked by the nearest way possible to the railroad waving their hats again. They could not agree which train he was on it seems and the rest of the day was noisily passed, some of them declaring him to be on the first train and some on the second. Probably they will be glad to learn that they cheered the right train.

Professor Daehell of Salisbury, who has a class of music pupils here, gave the first lessons of music last Thursday.

Mrs. Amanda Truitt is spending the week in Philadelphia.

Miss Addie Farlow is visiting relatives in Frankford this week.

Mr. Garlie Dennis of Philadelphia is visiting relatives here.

Several of the people here attended the Democratic speaking at Salisbury last Wednesday.

Mr. Will Parker and Miss Alice Parker were married last Wednesday evening at the home of the bride.

We are sorry to state that Mr. Henry Parsons is on the sick list this week.

TYASKIN.

Miss Ida Larmore visited White Haven on this week as the guest of her cousin, Miss Ruth Larmore.

The disease known as "Blind staggers" has attacked several horses in this district during the past week. Horse owners have been debating a remedy for it, but as yet nothing seems to prevent its spreading.

Bryan's speech, at Salisbury on Wednesday, was heard by a large majority of the men in our district. So great was the desire to hear him that the oyster rocks were abandoned, stores were closed and business in general stood at a stand still.

Epworth League service last Sunday evening led by Mr. John A. Insley was well attended and well enjoyed. The service will be held next Sunday evening by Miss Emma Larmore.

The teachers of this district met here last Friday evening and organized a "teachers reading course." There was quite a goodly number present, and the evening was well spent in discussing educational matters.

Oliver Lord, a boy fourteen years old, was drowned down the river a little ways from here on Friday of last week. He, in company with his brother and cousin, went out to catch oysters for the family dinner, and it was after they had started home that in fixing the sail it pulled him overboard. His body was found half an hour later by Mr. Frank Langrall and after bringing him ashore a coroner's inquest was held over him with Mr. Benjamin Phillips as foreman. His funeral was preached at M. E. Church Sunday morning at 10:30 by the Rev. Mr. Smoot, after which his remains were interred in the Tyaskin grave yard.

SHARPSTOWN.

John Short the mail carrier from here to Seaford, lost one of his driving horses on Sunday last.

Miss Donnie I. Phillips, Mrs. M. A. Gravenor, Thos. J. Sauerhoff and wife and Ned E. Bounds have spent several days of this week in Baltimore.

Measles have been quite prevalent here for several weeks and have diminished the attendance at school.

Allen B. Robinson, one of our bright young men has secured a position in Baltimore.

Rev. W. O. Bennett of Fruitland is visiting his parents here.

George W. Lowe, the jeweler has moved into the store room in Phillips block on Main Street.

Mr. Robertson, a clothing merchant of Tyaskin was in town again this week endeavoring to secure a store room in which to open a clothing store.

Never in the history of the town has there been such a demand for houses, especially residences. A great many new buildings have been put up this year and others in course of erection, and material for others still, and all our carpenters pressed hard with work, and the forces have been greatly increased within the last two weeks.

There has been since the spring a growing demand for houses and while lots are available at reasonable rates, it seems buildings can not be made ready as fast as needed. The various industries of town are busy and constantly taking on more laborers, and if homes could be secured our population would soon be greatly increased.

MELSON.

Mrs. M. E. Truitt is building a new two story dwelling. Mr. John Lewis has the contract.

Mr. D. A. Hitchens has sold out his stock of store goods to J. W. Adkins. Mr. Adkins will continue the business at the old stand. Mr. Hitchens expects to move his family below Salisbury to his mill where he and Mr. B. S. Figgis are engaged in the lumber business for J. W. Holder.

Our farmers are busy sowing wheat. They report a good crop of corn and fodder. The pea crop is also good.

The new Methodist Church is now shut in and when completed it will be one of the finest on the circuit. Honorable A. L. Cox, ex-treasurer of Douglass county, Kansas, a former citizen of this community, has taken a $500 memorial window. Mr. Cox is one of the directors of the Kansas exposition to be held in 1904.

JOHN SHERMAN DEAD.

The Former Premier Succumbs to Brain Exhaustion.

FORTY YEARS IN PUBLIC LIFE.

Funeral Services Will Be Held at His Washington Residence Tomorrow, and the Body Will Be Taken to Mansfield, O., For Interment.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Hon. John Sherman, who for a period of more than 40 years occupied a prominent place in the legislative and administrative branches of public affairs in the United States, died here at 5:45 o'clock Monday morning. The immediate cause of death was described as brain exhaustion incident to extreme weakness due to old age and to several attacks of sickness from which he had suffered for the past year and a half.

It is known that Mr. Sherman left a will, but no information as to its contents or even when it will be probated.

THE LATE JOHN SHERMAN.

will be obtainable until after the funeral. Conservative estimates of his wealth place it at $1,000,000, most of which is believed to consist of Washington real estate. Other investments consist of securities, and it is stated that the old family home at Mansfield, O., remained in his possession, notwithstanding reports that he had disposed of it prior to his return to Washington last month.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon funeral services were conducted at the late residence of Mr. Sherman, Rev. Mackay Smith, of St. John's Episcopal church, being the officiating clergyman. Immediately after the services the body was escorted to the railway station and taken to Mansfield, O., where it will be buried by the side of Mrs. Sherman.

The list of honorary pall bearers includes Secretary Gage, Justice Harlan, of the supreme court, Hon. John A. Kasson, Hon. J. C. Bancroft Davis, Hon. J. D. Cameron, Senator Hawley and M. M. Parker. The members of the cabinet now here attended the services at the house and President McKinley will go to Mansfield from Canton to attend the services there.

Of the large family of brothers and sisters originally comprising the Sherman family only two brothers survive the secretary. They are Maj. Hoyt Sherman and Lamson P. Sherman, both of Des Moines, Ia. The latter is in feeble health, and it is not likely that he will be able to attend the funeral at Mansfield.

John Sherman was born in Lancaster, O., May 10, 1823, and in 1829 he, with ten brothers and sisters, was left to his own resources by the death of his father. He found a home with a cousin at Mount Vernon, O., and when 12 years old returned to Lancaster to enter the academy. Two years later he went to work as a rodman for a corps of engineers, and in 1839 entered the law office of his brother Charles. In 1844 he was admitted to the bar, and at once became active in politics, quickly forging to the front. A delegate to the Whig national convention in 1848, when only 25 years old; a delegate again to the convention in 1852; president of the 1854 Republican state convention held in Ohio in 1855; elected a representative in congress in 1854, and re-elected in 1856, 1858 and 1860; the Republican and Free Soil candidate for speaker in 1859, losing an election by only three votes; entering the senate in 1861, and serving there continuously until 1877; devoting four years as secretary of the treasury in President Hayes' cabinet; returning to the senate in 1881 and retaining his seat there through three successive re-elections; a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1880, 1884 and 1888, receiving in the convention of 1888 249 votes; leader of his party in the senate, and one of its recognized and authoritative spokesmen on the public platform, and finally secretary of state under President McKinley from March 5, 1897, to April 25, 1899—all these phases of a useful, honored, laborious and eminently successful political career except the last can be traced between the lines of the concise and unassuming twelve line autobiographical sketch which its subject used to furnish to the Congressional Directory.

Two Killed at a Crossing.

Harrison Park, N. J., Oct. 25.—Jacob Herring, 77 years of age, of this place, and his housekeeper, Eliza Benyan, 76 years of age, while driving, were both killed yesterday afternoon by being struck by an express train of the West Shore railroad at Harrison crossing. Mr. Herring had stopped his horse in order to allow a freight train to pass, and thinking the track all clear started to cross, when the express bore down upon him before he could avoid it. Death was instantaneous.

Clara Barton Dangerously Ill.

Galveston, Oct. 25.—Clara Barton is dangerously ill at her apartments at the Tremont hotel. Ever since her arrival in the city, about six weeks ago, she has been in ill health and at intervals, upon the advice of her physician, was compelled to remain indoors. Of late her illness has assumed a serious phase.

STAR ROUTES.

Non-Resident Contractors Barred From Bidding.

J. A. Chapman, Asst. Supt. Railway Mail Service of Washington, D. C., was here this week, in connection with the letting of the star route mail service for the State of Maryland, for the contract term of four years from July first next. He calls our attention especially to the two new and important features of the present administration, viz: Professional non-resident bidders are barred and bids will be confined to men who live in or near the different routes. The entire pay will thus go to the men who actually do the work. Mail Carriers will be required to deposit mail into individual boxes along the routes, which will be a great favor to our farmers. Under this system mail will not only be delivered earlier in the day but letters of importance can be answered the same day. In these respects it is an improvement on the regular rural free delivery, and it is not intended and will not tend to do away with our country post offices. Bids will be received at the Department up to December 4, 1900. A man may bid on two or more routes and successful bidders will be permitted to sublet to local men. Blank bids and further information may be had on application to the post masters at terminals of routes or to the Second Asst. Postmaster General at Washington, D. C. The following is a list of routes in this county, together with present rate of pay on each:

No. 13487, Longridge to Salisbury, present pay, $187.37.
No. 13408, Quantico to Salisbury, present pay, $215.80.
No. 12418, Wetpquin to Quantico, present pay, $161.78.
No. 13409, Whayland to Fruitland, present pay, $103.00.
No. 13405, Kelly to Longridge, present pay, $59.00.
No. 1411, Allen to Eden, present pay, $124.00.
No. 13407, Tyaskin to Widgeon, present pay, $411.21.
No. 13412, Athel to Mardela Springs, present pay, $79.00.
No. 13406, Nelson to Delmar, present pay, $75.00.
No. 13488, Colbourne to Parsonsburg, present pay, $304.37.
No. 13410, Pittsville to Whifton, present pay, $175.37.

Governor's Appointments.

Annapolis, Oct. 23.—The Governor has commissioned as deputy commanders of the State Fishery Force, Alonzo Adams of Dorchester county, to be in charge of the local boat to guard the waters of Pollards strait, Hongo river and Hooper's strait; Thomas Kirwan of Somerset county, to guard Manokin river. Wm. E. Wilson of Somerset county, in charge of local boat to guard the waters of Pocomoke river and sound.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod Liver Oil is the means of life, and enjoyment of life to thousands: men women and children.

When appetite fails, it restores it. When food is a burden, it lifts the burden.

When work is hard and duty is heavy, it makes life bright.

It is the thin edge of the wedge; the thick end is food. But what is the use of food, when you hate it, and can't digest it?

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the food that makes you forget your stomach.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

YOUR FEET.
How About Them?
Have you your Solid Soled
WINTER SHOES?

Are you waiting for stormy weather. The weather won't wait for you.

A cold may mean a cold all winter, hence it is of vital importance to keep your feet warm and dry at this damp and frosty season of the year.

OUR SHOWING OF MEN'S SHOES

is making for us many pleased customers. Staunch and sturdy winter shoes with broad extension soles made from box calf, wax calf and tan Russia. Shoes that sell the world over at $3.50 a pair. They are yours for $3.00 if you do your shoe buying here. This is a money saving store.

R. LEE WALLER & CO., SALISBURY, MARYLAND.

A FROST

Will catch you out one of these nights in that Summer suit, and no matter how warm your heart is, or how closely your best girl "snuggles," you are bound to catch cold, and then comes misery and a doctor's bill that will amount to twice the price of a good, all-wool, warm Winter Suit.

Our Competitors

Say we can't give you an all-wool, up-to-date suit that will fit and wear for $8. If we sold one a week we couldn't, but it's volume with us that does it, and then, friend, we guarantee every garment sold and don't try to argue you black in the face and make you mad—NO—we simply give you your money back if you are not satisfied.

A large variety of patterns to select from—at any man's price.

$10, $12, $14,

Will buy a better suit than, perhaps, you think it will. Come and see.
