Careful Thorough Prescription Work

Sometimes you imagine that you have to wait a long time for a medicine, but if we give it to you in less time, it would not be such good medicine. No matter how busy we are, every prescription is prepared carefully and thoroughly; no part of the work is slighted in any detail. It must be right before we let it out of our hands.

You may think at the time we are being too particular, but it is due to your anxiety and we will thank you for it. You will admit that we are such RELIABLE people. Our methods have the commendation of all physicians who have had them to know about them.

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD.

Neglected Colds Lead to Consumption.

How Consumption Develops.
Nine cases of consumption out of ten occur in this way:
A person catches a cold. The cold is not properly cured, and another cold is caught.
This cold is dilly-dallied with, either by no treatment whatever or some treatment that is inefficient, and the cold continues.
By and by the patient gets tired of taking medicines and cough syrups and gives up in despair.
The cold continues to develop and the cough grows worse.
Then the doctor is called in, only to discover that the patient is in the first stages of consumption.
It was just in this way that Miss Powell, of Aurora, Ind., became sick. She caught a cold, and not considering it serious, neglected it, thinking as many others do, that it would "wear off."
However, it clung to her tenaciously, and in two weeks she found her health in a serious condition.
Fortunately, Peru-na had been brought to her notice, and she took a course of this remedy before it was too late.
In a week the cough and cold were broken, and a three weeks' treatment completely restored her to health.
This is what Peru-na is doing all the while. Not a day, and probably not an hour passes in which some one does not have a similar experience with Peru-na.
Cure the Slight Colds and Avoid Consumption.
The first step toward consumption is a cold. The next step is a failure to cure it promptly. The third step is the development of catarrh, which gradually becomes chronic. The fourth step, the catarrh begins to spread from the head to the throat, then to the bronchial tubes, and finally into the lungs. It is then consumption in the first stage.
At any time during the progress of catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peru-na can be relied upon to stop the disease. If you have taken a cold, buy Peru-na without delay. One bottle in the beginning will do more good than a half dozen bottles after the catarrh has fastened itself on the lungs.
Thousands of Testimonials.
We have on file thousands of testimonials from people who have been cured of catarrh of the lungs by Peru-na. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unpolished endorsements we are receiving every month. Another physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peru-na.

How Pretty Miss Powell Was Restored to Health by Pe-ru-na.

Miss Lillian Powell, Aurora, Ind., writes:
"Last spring I caught a severe cold from getting my feet wet and being out in the rain, and in a day I had a great miserable cold, but I neglected it, thinking it would soon leave me. But it being in me for two weeks, when I felt something must be done, as my condition was serious.
"I had heard so much about Peru-na and in the spring I bought a bottle and began taking it regularly. I was gratified to find that in a week the cold had almost gone, and in three weeks' treatment completely restored me to health."
We have a multitude of similar testimonials.

THE COMMENCEMENT

Exercises Of Woomioo High School Held With Baccalaureate Services May 27.

Continuing Through the Week Including June 1. Program follows.

The Woomioo High School is now engaged in final examinations preceding the close of the present school year in the county and it is a strenuous season with faculty and students.

Principal Hallington, will make a large class into the commencement of real, everyday life this month.

There are sixteen members of the graduating class who will all be on the roll if the returns of the next few days bring the required number of points to pass on. They are Misses Ethel Colley, Irene Boston, Rena Lanford, Margaret Laws, Alice Dykes, Mattie Winkler, Benish Mason, Katherine Bunnell, Kate Derby, Frances Hearn, Bessie Inley, Doris Jones, Gertrude Killian, Messrs. George Hill, Vaughan Gordy, Clarence Gordy.

The Baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Rev. David Howard, Sunday, May 27, in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church.

On Monday, May 28th, there will be the usual Declaration and Recitation Contest in the Assembly Hall of the High School.

Tuesday, May 29th, the joint celebration of the Longfellow and Bryant Literary Societies. A feature of Tuesday night will be the music provided by Miss Parkinson which will include a chorus of 100 High School voices.

Wednesday, May 30th, will be Class Day, and the exercises will be held in Uman's Grand Opera House.

Thursday, May 31, is final Commencement night at the Opera House when the principal exercises will take place with Ethel Colley, valedictorian, Irma Boston, Salutatorian, Rena Lanford, Medal Essayist, George Hill, Medal Orator, Margaret Laws and Alice Dykes who will also deliver essays. Each member of the class will appear on the program either Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday evening.

At Rev. Leighton Coleman, Bishop of Delaware will deliver the annual address to the graduates.

Friday night, June 1st, will usher in the annual banquet, which will be given in the new High School building this year.

DEATH ATTENDS OLD AGE

Three Citizens Averaging Over 80 Years Each Pass To The Beyond In Trappe District.

Three aged residents of Trappe district have died within the last week. The oldest, Levin W. Malone, died at his home on the Woomioo river Saturday evening. Mr. Malone was one of the oldest citizens of the county and well known throughout this section. He was 94 years old and was a brother of Dr. Senator Lemuel Malone, who for so many years edited the Salisbury Advertiser. He leaves a widow, who was Miss Sarah Jane Stanford before her marriage. The children of Mr. Malone living are James, Theodore and Thomas Malone, Mrs. Thomas W. H. White, of Trappe district, and Miss Linnie Malone. Mr. Malone was buried in the Shad Point burying ground Monday afternoon.

Mr. Washington Daley, another well known resident, died Sunday evening. He was 77 years old and leaves two children—Mrs. Samuel Jenkins, of this city, and Mr. John Daley, of Cambridge. He was buried Tuesday in the Shad Point burying ground.

Mr. Emory Banks, aged 82 years, probably one of the best known men in Trappe district, died last Sunday night. He had been in feeble health for some time past. Mr. Banks was one of the pioneers of his district. For many years he was connected with the big shad fisheries which once were the pride of the people of Shad Point. He leaves one son—Gabriel Banks.

All three of the dead men had much to do with the development of that section of the county and were all honored citizens.

SHELLFISH COMMISSION

ers Selected By Board Of Public Works To Administer Oyster Law. Sketches Of These Chosen For This Responsible Task.

Governor Warfield, State Treasurer Vandiver and State Comptroller Atkinson who by virtue of their offices compose the Board of Public Works, and are also members of the board of managers of the House of Correction, after finishing their work as managers, and while waiting for a train to convey them to the Baltimore depot to hold a meeting of the Board of Public Works for the appointment of three shellfish commissioners.

With Mr. Hart, the Governor's private secretary, they drew close to the trunk of one of the silver maple trees. The Governor announced that the body was in session and that its object was to select three Shellfish Commissioners, into whose keeping is to be placed the operation of the Heman Oyster law, which was passed at the recent session of the Legislature.

Comptroller Atkinson nominated Messrs. Benjamin K. Greene of Somerset county; Walter J. Mitchell, of Charles county, and Dr. Caswell Grave, Republican, of Baltimore city. Governor Warfield's face colored slightly, and he said:

"I offer as a substitute for that motion that we elect Commander T. C. S. Howard in the place of Benjamin K. Greene and Messrs. Mitchell and Grave."

Treasurer Vandiver said nothing. Secretary Hart called the roll, the Governor voting for Messrs. Howard, Mitchell and Grave.

Comptroller Atkinson and Treasurer Vandiver cast their votes jointly for Messrs. Greene, Mitchell and Grave.

Governor Warfield, commenting on the action of the board, said that he had suggested Commander Howard, had tried to elect him and had voted for him from first to last, believing that he is the best equipped man in Maryland to fill the position of president of the Shellfish Commission, and that his conscience is perfectly clear on the subject.

Chairman Vandiver said that he had no apologies to make; that while he personally would have liked to vote for Commander Howard, he could not do so, as he believed that the selection of the Eastern Shore Commissioners should be left to Dr. Atkinson.

In addition to Dr. Atkinson's being opposed to Commander Howard, Mr. Vandiver said he himself had received letters from at least five counties of the Eastern Shore in which the writers declared themselves unalterably opposed to the selection of Commander Howard. The men selected, he said he believed, would carry out the law of the letter.

Dr. Atkinson seemed to realize the fact that his selection of Mr. Greene might not prove popular and contented himself with saying that he would have to shoulder the responsibility.

Commander T. C. S. Howard was unanimously re-elected as commander of the Maryland oyster navy. The other appointments connected with the Maryland fishery force will be made on May 10 at Annapolis, when the Board of Public Works will meet.

Who The Commissioners Are.

Dr. Caswell Grave, the scientific man of the commission, is a native of Indiana and is associate in zoology at the Johns Hopkins University. He entered Hopkins as a student in 1899, and since that time has been connected with the university.

He has had wide experience in oyster culture, having spent the entire year of 1900 as biologist of the North Carolina oyster survey, and for the following three summers served in that capacity. He is also director of the Fisheries Laboratory of the United States Fish Commission at Beaufort, N. C. but he has resigned that place, retaining it only till a successor is appointed.

In addition to the study of the oyster, Dr. Grave has devoted considerable time to the study of Starfishes, and has written several papers on the subject. He has spent time in the study of this organism in Jamaica and on the Massachusetts coast.

Dr. Grave is a young man, quiet and reserved, but with a pleasant way of speaking.

"All the Chesapeake bay oyster wants," he said, "is half a show, and though it has diminished considerably in late years, scientific culture will bring it back in its old numbers. I have carefully studied the North Carolina oyster, which is practically the same kind as the Chesapeake type."

Maryland is the home of the oyster, and there is no reason why oyster culture should fall in Chesapeake bay, for it has been tried successfully in Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Virginia and other places. There are some bays, I understand, here in the bay that still yield the same quantity of oysters as they did in other years, and I am sure that it is not necessary to that have become impoverished that will need the culture."

Mr. Benjamin K. Greene.

Mr. Greene also knows much of the many sides of the game of life, having been a farmer, merchant and a Representative in the House of Delegates. He is at present a collector of the State oyster tax. His home is in Somerset county and there his constituents are no less proud of his record as their representative than they are of his ability to tell a good story.

In addition to serving in the House of Delegates, Mr. Greene was private secretary to Mr. John W. Miles when a member of Congress. As collector of the oyster tax Mr. Greene succeeded in collecting about $40,000 which is not considered an easy task.

Mr. Greene is a member of the Methodist Protestant Church of Fairmount and on Sunday sings in the church choir.

Mr. Walter J. Mitchell.

Mr. Walter J. Mitchell is a man of versatility, being a lawyer, editor, politician and farmer. It would seem that his days would be rather full of duties in the performance of these occupations without the work incident to his election as Shellfish Commissioner.

His newspaper work consists of editing the La Plata Times-Creoscent, and Port Tobacco Times, a merger effected by Mr. Mitchell.

The farming part of Mr. Mitchell's career is a pleasure rather than a duty and it may be said that Mr. Mitchell does not altogether depend on the sweat of his brow for his entire income and finds succor from this labor in the practice of law.

As a politician his most recent activity was in his campaign for the Senate last fall as the opponent of Spearman S. Lancaster, of Charles county; Republican, who, with the support of Congressman Mudd, was elected.

Oratorical Association's First Contest Next Friday.

Next Friday, May 11, Mr. George Hill, as orator and Miss Irma Boston, as reciter, will represent the Woomioo High School in Pocomoke at the first annual meeting of the Inter-School Oratorical Association, embracing the high schools, tenth and eleventh grades, of Salisbury, Pocomoke, Princess Anne and Snow Hill.

The judges will be State Superintendent M. Bates Stephens, Dr. James W. Cain, president of Washington College and Prof. E. M. Noble, School Supt., of Caroline County.

This Association was formed to hold a contest in one of the towns named, each year, each school to be represented by two contestants—a boy and girl. The first contest was arranged for May 11 next, to be held in Pocomoke City.

The officers of the new association are: President—E. Clarke Fontaine, of Pocomoke City; Vice President—Geo. H. Myers of Princess Anne; Secretary—Virgil F. Ward, of Snow Hill; Treasurer—William Price Turner, of Salisbury.

Violent Hall Storm Visits Virginia.

A telegram from Branchville, Va., states that that section was visited Sunday afternoon by the most severe hail and thunder storm ever known in that section. The storm lasted about 45 minutes, there being large hail, a heavy rainfall and heavy thunder.

The storm was so severe that almost every small animal caught in it was killed. Almost all the small chickens, ducks and geese in town were killed, as well as two horses. All the gardens are completely destroyed.

Houses were broken in and even the sheet iron roof of the Seaboard Air Line's warehouse was completely ruined by the heavy hailstones. Nearly all the windows in the place were smashed.

Take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in Time; you know cold and cough breed consumption.

WILLIAM G. GRIER

Dies Here Monday At His Home. Cause Of An Eventual Cancer. Funeral Services Thursday. In Memoriam.

Mr. William George Grier, late custodian of the Masonic Temple, brother of Robert D., and F. A. Grier, of this city, died at his home on Poplar Hill Avenue, Monday afternoon after a lingering illness of Bright's Disease at the age of 63.

At one time he was master mechanic of the Delaware, Maryland & Virginia Railway, with headquarters at Georgetown. He was also chief engineer of the New Castle electric trolley line, and was one of its founders and a stockholder. The deceased was a son of Mr. George B. Grier, of Millford, who has now passed his 90th year. He leaves a wife, who is a sister of John Collins, Esq., cashier of the First National Bank of Dover, Del. Three children survive, A. G. Grier, City editor of the Every Evening, of Wilmington; Howell Grier, of this city, and Miss Maud B. Grier, of Wilmington, Del.

Funeral Services—In Memoriam.

The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon and was largely attended. Mr. Grier was buried with high Masonic honors, being a member of Woomioo Lodge No. 81, and well and favorably known in this State and Delaware. Services were conducted at the home, 706 Poplar Hill avenue by Rev. Thomas E. Martindale, D. D., pastor of the M. E. Church, North, who paid high tribute to the memory of the deceased. He spoke of Mr. Grier's Christian character and alluded to the fact that he devoted much of his early life to the religious training of children, as a Sunday School Superintendent, and also to the person which had attended his efforts especially when he held responsible positions.

The choir of the Presbyterian Church sang appropriate selections, including "Nearer My God to Thee," a favorite hymn with Mr. Grier.

Interment was made at Fawn Cemetery, where Masonic services were held by Woomioo Lodge No. 81, of which Paul E. Watson is worshipful Master. Woomioo Lodge was accompanied by a delegation from Delmar Lodge. The pallbearers were A. A. Gillis, H. G. Byrd, James L. Powell, Senator E. Stanley Toddman, E. Frank Williams and William E. Booth, all members of Woomioo Lodge.

There were many handsome floral tributes, including a large square and compass from Woomioo Lodge, wreath from the trustees of the Masonic Temple; pillow with the inscription "Father" from widow, son and daughter, Mrs. William G. Grier and W. H. Grier of Salisbury and Miss Maud B. Grier, of Wilmington; pillow with the inscription "Uncle William," from brother, Frederick A. Grier, and family of Salisbury, sixty three carnations from son, A. G. Grier and family, of Wilmington; cluster of calla lilies from his three sisters, Mrs. John W. Raballine, Mrs. James P. Price and Mrs. William B. Deputy, of Millford; basket of carnations and sweet peas from Mrs. Mary E. Duffay and Mrs. James E. Watson of Wilmington, bouquet of sweet peas from L. Lamon of Germantown, Pa., ahead of wheat and lilies from Dr. and Mrs. J. McPadden Dick, of Eastern lilies and palm branches from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips of the Peninsula Hotel, cluster of Easter lilies and fern from Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Elliott of Wilmington, bouquet of lilies of the valley from a sister, Mrs. John W. Ratcliffe of Millford.

Business was partially suspended in Salisbury during the afternoon, because of the funeral.

The widow and children received many letters and telegrams of condolence, while many expressions were delivered personally by sorrowing friends.

NEW CONGRESS—DEMOCRATIC—NEEDED

Tariff revision, which has received such strong agitation and other reforms will come, not through the aid of the unwilling Republican Speaker of the House of Representatives, or his party associates, but through the ardent reform efforts of a new Congress born of the desire of the Democracy and aided by independent voters who are sick and tired of the plundering of the trusts and the corruption and grafting of the Republican party.

The attitude of the Republican politician towards the protective tariff is like the heathen before his idol, it is a fetish to worship and too sacred to be touched. But when the time of stress and political trouble comes and the tariff idol has shown itself to be but a brazen image and its high priests have exalted it to plunder the people, then the voters will have none of it and will cast it down and break it.

The Republican contention that to revise the tariff, by reducing the rates on hides, or coal, would destroy domestic industry is too absurd for argument. Would it ruin the crops or cause the rain to come or the sun to be darkened? The Beef Trust would lose a trifle of its enormous profits, but no one believes the farmer or cattle grower would lose a cent. Even the abnormally high prices for hides, now being paid, has not increased the price of cattle, for cattle are now selling cheaper than for many years before, though the tariff protected Beef Trust is getting a high price for beef.

Take the iron and steel schedules and abolish the tariff rates on the products of Steel Trust and that giant corporation would still control the market for its products, for the cost of transportation over sea would be protection enough and only inordinate profits would be reduced. There is hardly a schedule of the tariff that does not shelter some trust, or combine, that is all fairness to a long-suffering people does not require revision. The Republicans refuse to muddle with it, so this duty must be fastened to the Democrats, who are pledged to a reasonable reform that will prevent the trusts selling cheaper abroad than here, and while producing enough revenue to run the government will reduce the cost of living to something more in reason than now.

The Effect Of Music On The Nerves.

In this rushing age we are constantly seeking a remedy to soothe our poor, weary nerves. Some try the rest cure after a strenuous winter of gaiety and excitement, while others travel and find relief in visiting strange lands. Change of scene is often successful in curing stubborn, nervous ailments. You must take a sea voyage the specialist will say to the overworked business man or the society maid who fill the house with noise and dance. So the man and the maid are both hustled off on the first steamer. One physician sends his patients to some quiet country place and after a busy life in a large city, the complete change has the desired effect. A friend of mine holding a consular position to one of the principal cities of Europe has adopted a novel way of curing insomnia. At any hour of the night a boatman is ready for his call and a musician who plays the languorous dances of the tropics with the gentle motion of the hand and soft music. The tired nerves relax and sleep soon comes. There is no doubt that music has a wonderful charm and is frequently used with good results. Do not worry for there is nothing quite so exacting as the experience of a French soldier during the Franco-Prussian war will prove. His hair, a jet black, turned white in a single night from the terrible strain. We must meet the man of life with a brave smile and the Moorish Chief, who gazed for the last time upon his native hills, as the Arab says, it is my kismet.—Katherine B. Lewis, Philadelphia, Pa.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Or Modes in New York: New Coats Long And Short: Pretty Wash Dresses: Smocking And Other Self Trimmings: Fancy Neckwear: Malinette: And Lace.

Automobile is responsible for many sensible modes and a few pretty ones. In the beginning it seemed as if everyone were trying to see how hideous they could make themselves when indulging in this sport but gradually better looking styles have prevailed. As a rule the materials chosen for three quarter or full length coats are of the rain proof sort but this now embraces almost any substantial weave of silk or woolen. It is curious to note how the demand for waterproof materials, have been met on all sides. The latest fabric to take its place in this class is a waterproof maline known as Malinette. "Malinette" has come just in the nick of time too, for never was there a season when maline was so much in demand. Almost every hat has more or less of it, and nearly every modish woman one meets is wearing a full wide ruff of malinette—if she is fortunate—but of maline of some sort anyway. These ruffs are so pretty and becoming that they are irresistible to the woman who has a generous dress allowance. The woman with less, hesitates, for she knows how perishable ordinary maline is, and that a ruff once flattened and made limp with dampness loses its attraction altogether. It is here that the new waterproof "Malinette" gets its innings, for dampness does not affect it at all, and even the economically inclined can indulge and be happy in the assurance that their newly purchased "ruff" will last a reasonable time.

Thanks are due the McCall Co., makers and designers of Fashion for the handsome illustration accompanying this article.

Dainty Gowns And Silk Coats.

To accompany the dainty gowns that are the ruling style whether materials be silk, wool, cotton or linen, nothing seems so exactly right as the little silk coats that are being extensively worn. It is a pretty notion, much indulged, to have these little confections accord with the hat and parasol, and to choose them of a color that will go well with one's various toilettes. Black is a good if rather sombre choice, and lingerie trimmings and touches of color can be employed to make it as youthful and cheerful as is desirable.

New Collar Stiffeners.

There are brand new collar stiffeners to be had this season that are more satisfactory than anything heretofore made. These come in dainty silk covered loops, elongated, round at either end, and giving a double support wherever they are attached. These are known as "Trynne" collar stiffeners and are being used by the high class dressmakers here and in Paris. The material is a secret but is guaranteed not to rust like steel, curl like celluloid, or stick into your neck as the featherbone supporters are apt to do. In another form, trifle thicker and heavier this same stuff is made up and called "Lactikon". In either style one can get the usual sizes and white or black silk finish.

Wash Gowns.

Wash gowns so called for many of them never come to the laundress for rejuvenation—are to be popular in the warm days of 1908 as they were in 1906. What more can one say? Materials are more enticing than ever and given a good pattern and a certain amount of "simplicity" and skill with the needle, the prettiest sort of toilettes are within reach of almost any woman. The silk and cotton fabrics are of many weaves and make fascinating dresses, at very low cost. Half trimming are fashionable and a little smocking or ruffling or collaring will

Let it be emphatically understood that these Suits were designed for last season's service. Yet the only style differences lie in the length of the coats—they are shorter than those of this season. But with such big savings in sight, we believe every man will overlook this shortcoming.

The suits consist of Homespuns, Cheviots and a few Fancy Worsteds, in light and dark colors. The coats are skeletonized, half or full lined; single and double breasted, and modish.

Boys' Dressy and Durable Suits at $3.98

UNCLE SAM'S OLD RIFLES

Problem of Disposing of Those Replaced by a Million Others.

NEW RIFLE'S ADVANTAGE.

United States Never Sells Arms to Foreign Countries—Some Used in Spanish War Were Old and Inferior—Second Hand Dealers Buy and Sell Old Arms.

The auction sale at the United States armory in Springfield, Mass., of nearly twenty-five thousand rifles and thousands of other small arms answered as an illustration of one of the methods the government employs in disposing of antiquated implements of warfare. This sale brought the government many thousands of dollars, the money being turned into the Treasury at Washington. The condemned stores were divided into lots and rated as serviceable or first, second and third class unserviceable, according to their state of repair.

To follow the rifles after leaving the second hand dealers would be interesting. If such a thing were possible, and would take the curiosity seeker into many corners of the world. Rifles bearing the inscription, "Springfield," have been found in South Africa, while in the small South American republics, where revolutions spring up in a night, many of the natives are very familiar with the use of the old Springfield arm.

Of course the United States government never sells arms to another country, and a few of the second hand dealers dispose of them directly. The majority of rifles sold by Uncle Sam are not serviceable at the time of sale, but the parts missing from one rifle may be supplied from another, and in this manner one complete rifle obtained. Many of the second hand dealers make it their business to reit and make over old arms and the profit is generally large.

But there are other uses for the old rifles. Colonel Phipps has had thousands of them cut down for the State schools and academies where military tactics are introduced. These are known as the "Springfield cadet rifle," and are made wholly from old stock.

Another use Colonel Phipps has discovered for the old Springfield is that of making them into fencing rifles. For this purpose the rifles are cut down to the length of the new magazine rifle and supplied with a bayonet bearing a rubber tip. The arms are then allotted to the different posts. Fencing is particularly hard on the gun stocks, and by using old rifles the new ones are saved considerable wear.

When the Spanish war broke out many of the companies which went to the front were supplied with old Springfield field rifles, while their enemies carried up to date Mausers. There was much criticism of the Ordnance Department at that time for supplying troops with antiquated arms. Thousands of rifles which had been stored in the arsenal at Springfield for years went to the front.

This was not the fault of the Ordnance Department, but was owing to the lack of a sufficient appropriation. Since then the government has awakened to the fact that the country should always be ready for war, and as a result appropriations have been made, and will be made, for the manufacture of nearly a million of the new United States magazine rifles within the next five years.

After the regulars have been supplied the navy and cavalry will be furnished with the new rifle, the militia of the many States to follow. After the militia has been supplied work will be commenced on five hundred thousand guns to be sent away for use in case of war. Most of these will be stored in Springfield.

There are many advantages claimed for the new rifle as compared with its predecessors. Prominent among the points of superiority are its simplicity of construction and facility of action. The velocity of the old Springfield rifle of .43 calibre, in use before the Krug-Jorgensen, was between 1,300 and 1,400 feet a second, and that of the Krug 2,000 feet a second, while the velocity of the new rifle is 2,300 feet. The bullets to be used with the new rifle have steel jackets. Their great velocity and power of penetration make the new weapon the swiftest and deadliest of any small arm that has been employed in the army and at the same time safer to use because of the increase in range.

Rapidity of loading is also an advantage of the new gun, and by a cut off arrangement it is possible to shut off the magazine supply and use the weapon as a single loader when desired. The same method may be employed to remove the bolt and disable the gun in case it is about to fall into the hands of the enemy. Still another advantage is that the gun can be taken apart without the use of tools so far as it is necessary for the user to do so. The rifle will carry a bullet 4,781 yards while the bullet will prove effective at 4,400 yards.

A Fair Exchange.

A man who had purchased some current buns at a bakery was distressed, on starting to eat, one, to find that it contained a fly. Returning to the bakery, he made an indignant complaint, demanding another bun in place of the inhabited one.

"I'm sorry, sir," said the saleswoman. "I can't give you another bun, but if you will bring me back the fly I will give you a current for it."—Harper's Weekly.

An Unusual Form of Punishment.

In Mexico they do not seem to have any greater respect for the military profession than in China. In that happy Republic every proved pickpocket is at once enlisted in the army for a period which varies according to the importance of the theft and its attendant circumstances. The idea seems to be that this method of punishment has a more salutary effect upon the felonious mind than would a similar period in prison, in any other of the countries that it is chosen. At the same time the better part of the army are

AMERICANS AS SNUFF USERS.

Large Amounts Consumed Annually. Steps in the Manufacture.

It costs the great American public something like $7,000,000 annually to square its snuff bill. More than 15,000,000 pounds of this article are used each year in this country. And we are not prominent as a race of snuff users, either.

The figures are taken from the internal revenue reports, says the Chicago Tribune, so they cannot well lie. Taxes are paid annually on 16,000,000 pounds of snuff in this country. At the average price of 45 cents a pound, which is a low estimate, the nation's snuff bill will foot up to more than $7,000,000. And the custom of snuff using is steadily growing; snuffing is becoming popular.

Contrary to general opinion snuff using is not confined to, or even exceptionally prevalent among the foreign element. According to one man who has made snuff in Chicago for half a lifetime, it is the native born American of the Southern States who buys most of the snuff sold in this country. The foreign born snuff user is not so numerous, nor does his weakness for the stimulant cost him so much as it does the Southern of the larger cities.

The great bulk of snuff manufacturing, as well as consuming, is done in the South. As the snuff is made almost exclusively from the leaf grown in that section, it is a matter of economy to have the factories there. The snuff made in this country is manufactured principally from Virginia, Tennessee or Kentucky tobacco. The quality of the tobacco used compares favorably with that put into the best plug tobaccos. The leaf used is particularly ripe, as unripe leaf will spoil after making.

Aside from the actual tobacco, the other ingredients used in the composition of snuff are of a much higher grade than those used in plug making. The prices of the two are nearly the same. Rose oil, oil of rosegeranium, claret and honey are used to give flavor and aroma to the product generally, with tamarinds and St. John's bread ground in it to have a fruit flavor.

The first process in snuff manufacture is the grinding or pulverizing. Occasionally a manufacturer ferments his leaf before grinding, but accepted method is to first grind, then ferment. The grinding is done mostly in what are termed "snuff mills."

These mills are apothecary mortars on a large scale, with power run millstones for pestles. The capacity of a mill is about 150 pounds of leaf tobacco. The tobacco is ground into three grades—fine, medium and coarse. The finest is used for the manufacture of higher grades of snuff, the Scotch and Macosby brands.

From the grinding room the leaf goes to the fermenting room, where it is subjected to fermentation at from 90 to 140 degrees of temperature, according to the degree of fermentation desired. The fermentation takes from twenty days to three months. In this process the common ground tobacco is transformed, through the process of fermentation, to a compact, cohesive mass more akin to lampblack than tobacco in any form. When it is ready for the mixer the snuff is taken from the fermenting room, and the other ingredients, the flavors and perfumery properties, are kneaded in.

Occasionally a little salt is added to give the snuff more zest and taste. Then it is packed in jars, tins or packages and is ready for shipment. Snuff is still packed, for the most part, in stone jars, as it has been done from time immemorial. No modern method has been found for packing it that will allow it to retain its coolness and moisture as well as does the old fashioned stone jar.

The work of making the snuff is nearly wholly in the hands of men. Girls are employed to do the packing. The men who stick at the work for any length of time invariably become addicted to the use of the article they manufacture. It is seldom that a girl found who does not abhor it; although among the people who are addicted to snuff as a national habit the women are not far behind the men as users.

Seventy-five percent of the snuff manufactured in this country is made for what is termed "dipping," or snuff chewing. The "snuff dipper" carries his snuff in a receptacle with a small brush, or stick, with the end smashed so as to hold tiny particles of the stimulant. The brush or stick is touched lightly to the nostrils, the snuff chews uses snuff much as plug tobacco is used. A small wad is rolled and placed between the gum and the upper lip. It is allowed to lie there much as a piece of tobacco is tucked into the cheek. This is the principal manner of snuff consumption in this country.

The Title Prime Minister.

The title of prime minister was unknown until the beginning of the eighteenth century, and the gentlemen who first filled the position and were so called objected to the title, which was regarded as a sinister importation from France and conveying the meaning of grand vizier—something despotic and unconstitutional. William III., had nobody in his council who could be said to correspond to our prime minister, nor had Queen Anne. Dean Swift was the first writer to use the term, which he applied to Harley, who, however, had no power to appoint his own colleagues. The true forerunner of the modern race of Balfours and "C. B.'s" was Walpole.

Mrs. Peary, during the several Arctic expeditions whereon she accompanied her husband, became an expert and fearless walrus hunter.

Chinese dealers in Singapore have refused to buy Manila cigars from Singapore merchants, on the ground that Manila is an American colony. Still the China-Manila vessels which go from Manila to Hongkong every few days all carry large consignments of Manila cigars and cigarettes.

King Edward is said to be growing peevish of late. The story comes from Cores, where he recently ordered the removal of an archbishop from his throne.

There is a new kind of snuff being made in the South. It is made from the leaf of the tobacco plant, and is called "snuff" because it is used in the same manner as snuff.

INOCULATED
Ready For Sowing.
Inoculation makes it possible to grow alfalfa where it could not be grown before.
It supplies the bacteria necessary for the best growth and development of this valuable crop. Alfalfa once well established lasts for years, yielding large and continuous cuttings of the best and most nutritious hay. Price of seed quoted on request.
Wood's 1904 Seed Book tells all about inoculated seeds, both for the Garden and Farm. Mailed free. Write for it.

SECURE BANK POTATOES.
Results Obtained by Various Experiment Stations.
At the Kansas Station seed tubers of four different varieties of medium-sized potatoes were placed in shallow boxes with the seed ends up in moist sand leaving the upper fourth of the tubers exposed, and the boxes placed in a light room having a temperature of 58 to 60 degrees. Vigorous sprouts soon pushed from the exposed eyes. The whole potatoes were planted in furrows in March parallel with potatoes from a storage cellar.
The tubers sprouted in the moist sand and produced table potatoes from 7 to 10 days earlier than the storage-cellar seed.
At the Rhode Island Station medium-sized whole potatoes sprouted on racks, in a fairly warm and light room, gave a 37 per cent. better yield at the first digging than potatoes kept in a cold cellar until planting time; and this was increased to 40 per cent. at the final digging. The percentage of large tubers was also greater at each digging with the sprouted tubers.
The rack used held 5 trays. Each tray was 3 1/2 feet long and 1 1/2 feet wide, and would hold about 1 bushel of potatoes when spread out in a single layer for sprouting. The bottoms of the trays were made of pieces of lath placed about 1 inch apart. Nine trays were placed in a rack over each other, leaving about 9 inches of space between each tray. This method of arrangement has the advantage of securing a very uniform distribution of light, heat, and air for all the trays.
Feed a Variety.
In corn-growing sections there is a disposition to feed corn almost exclusively on account of its cheapness, its palatable qualities, and the relish with which it is eaten. While in some sections corn cannot be grown successfully as a grain crop, a long list of other cereals, such as oats, barley, wheat and millet, can be raised cheaply with very little danger of failure. The cost of production is low enough to make them cheap stock food. A mixture of chopped wheat, oats, and shorts will give better results than a single grain of any sort, not excepting corn. A mixture of this kind is usually cheaper than wheat alone, and will produce better gains. Chopped oats should not be fed alone. The hulls interfere very materially with its value as food for hogs. They do not enjoy the hulls and will refuse to eat the oats more quickly than any other grain except bran, which they do not relish, principally for the same reason. Chopped barley and shorts make a good combination for feeding. A small amount of bran can be used to good advantage when mixed with other grains. Shorts alone will not furnish mineral matter enough for growing swine.—Rural Home.

"John," said the devoted wife, "you told me that there was a photograph over the way that resembled you so much of me."
"Did you?" asked John.
"Yes. Don't you remember? Well, I was over there to-day, and I didn't see any photograph that looked the least bit like me. Was it in an album?"
"Photograph? My dear, I said a phonograph."
"A phonograph?"
"Yes. I was looking at the home of a friend."
"Will you have some of the tongue?" asked the husband.
"No, thank you," replied the wife. "I get too much of that at home."

Work of Foreman Property Assessor Started

In addition to the assessors of personal property mentioned by the Advertiser last week the following, completing the list, have also been appointed:

Salisbury, Wm. O. Mitchell; Sharpsburg, A. B. Howard; Willard, Frank T. Rayne. Treasurer Price states the assessment work is making good progress.

When the blank is placed in the property owner's hands by the Assessor, he is required to make a list of all personal property under the printed heading as they appear in said blank, and have same properly filled out for the Assessor when he returns for it. The law requires that each item of property shall be assessed at its full cash value without looking to a forced sale.

Should any item be listed at less than its cash value, it is the duty of the Assessor under the law to increase such valuation, and it shall be his duty to examine property owners' returns as to such valuation, and also as to whether he has included all his property therein.

The penalty prescribed by law for making a false, fraudulent or incomplete return is a fine not exceeding $500.00, or imprisonment not exceeding two years and to be forever disqualified from being a witness in any matter or controversy.

Should any one fail to fill out, or have filled out, the assessment blank, it becomes the duty of the Assessor to personally inspect his property and assess it at its full cash value, and from assessment, when so made by assessor, there shall be no right of appeal.

A large meeting will be held at the Salisbury Athletic Club rooms on Monday night at 8:00 p. m., May 7th. All members are expected to be present. Some important business will be disposed of.

Mr. S. P. Woodcock sold on Saturday to Mr. Eugene W. Foster, of Long Island, the well known Ootman Farm, located in Trappe District, for $20,000. This farm contains 800 acres, 500 acres of which are in cultivation. There are 4,000 peach trees and 2,000 pear and plum trees in bearing. One hundred acres are seeded in wheat, 100 in oats and 65 in clover presenting a thrifty appearance. One hundred acres have been plowed for corn this season.

The County Commissioners met Tuesday and had before them the assessors, who were given full instructions as to the work of assessing personal property. The assessors were supplied with the necessary blanks and ordered to begin work at once. The Board appointed W. M. Cooper, J. D. Price and M. V. Brewington a committee to look after the work of assessment. State's Attorney Bailey was notified to have a settlement of the account of J. Frank Kennedy, a late tax collector. The Board meets again next Tuesday, May 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Walston entertained at dinner last Sunday, Mrs. Walston's brothers and sisters and their families, also her children and grand-children, the occasion being her 55th birthday. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Price, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Farnes and son and Mrs. Mary E. Layfield of Princess Anne, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Roads of Salisbury, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. W. Farnes of Delmar, Mrs. Sallie B. Palmer, Mrs. Maria G. Walston and George W. Walston, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Parker and Mrs. M. L. Parker, and Mrs. S. B. Smith.

Work of Foreman Property Assessor Started

In addition to the assessors of personal property mentioned by the Advertiser last week the following, completing the list, have also been appointed:

Salisbury, Wm. O. Mitchell; Sharpsburg, A. B. Howard; Willard, Frank T. Rayne. Treasurer Price states the assessment work is making good progress.

When the blank is placed in the property owner's hands by the Assessor, he is required to make a list of all personal property under the printed heading as they appear in said blank, and have same properly filled out for the Assessor when he returns for it. The law requires that each item of property shall be assessed at its full cash value without looking to a forced sale.

Should any item be listed at less than its cash value, it is the duty of the Assessor under the law to increase such valuation, and it shall be his duty to examine property owners' returns as to such valuation, and also as to whether he has included all his property therein.

The penalty prescribed by law for making a false, fraudulent or incomplete return is a fine not exceeding $500.00, or imprisonment not exceeding two years and to be forever disqualified from being a witness in any matter or controversy.

Should any one fail to fill out, or have filled out, the assessment blank, it becomes the duty of the Assessor to personally inspect his property and assess it at its full cash value, and from assessment, when so made by assessor, there shall be no right of appeal.

"BABY RAMBLER" Rose Bushes

15c each, 2 for 25c, postpaid. $1 per dozen; add 30c for postage.

The New Dwarf Rose blooming Crimson Rambler. This is the rose that has set the new standard for all Rose bushes. It has created a commotion in the rose world that no other rose has ever approached, and it is without question a decidedly unusual variety. It is identical in every way with the wonderful rose, "Crimson Rambler," except that it is a dwarf, bushy grower and is a true ever-bloomer. It is in bloom all the time, flowers in large clusters of brightest crimson. It grows to a height of 18 inches and hides the plant with its bloom.

FREDERICK, MD., April 7th, 1906.—Messrs. J. Bolgiano & Son, Baltimore, Md.: I received the "Baby Rambler" 15c each in 4 mail and am much pleased with them.—Miss A. O. RICH, 18 Fourth Street.

May Is Here Again!

We MAY have more spells of weather to the day this year than we did last MAY. We MAY have so many sorts of clothes to tell you about. In the morning it MAY look like rain coats and umbrellas, at noon it MAY look like soft shirts and straw hats; in the afternoon it MAY look like overcoats and rubber shoes and by 5 o'clock it MAY look as if everybody was glad MAY was here again. Well, no matter what your clothes needs are, if you're a man, Lady Thoroughgood's got it and so has James Thoroughgood. There has never been a time in the last twenty years and there never will be, when you can buy as good goods for your money anywhere else as you can from Lady Thoroughgood or James Thoroughgood. Why you can't get common shoddy things from them, they don't sell them. No two stores in the world come nearer to doing business right than Lady Thoroughgood's and James Thoroughgood's. Why we sell you goods solely on their merits, there's no flim flam about it. We never have any apologies to offer or excuses to make for selling goods cheap; we do it simply to sell more. We are selling this week men's suits for $10, $12.50 and $14. Children's suits for $2.50, $3, $4, $5, $6, $7, $8, $9, $10, $11, $12, $13, $14, $15, $16, $17, $18, $19, $20. We are selling Men's Hats, all kinds, including STRAW, at all the popular prices. You MAY expect to see as good hats as ours are—but you won't—anywhere else.

THE SHIP.

Arthur H. Clough, beautifully describes two ships at sea side by side separating in the night and barely visible each to each at dawn.
"At dawn of night their sails were filled,
And onward each rejoicing sped:
Ah neither blind, for neither willed,
Or wish, what first with dawn appeared!"

"To veer, how vain! On onward strain,
Brave bark! In light, in darkness too,
Through winds and tides, one compass guides—
To stand and pour own selves, be true.
But O blithe breeze, and O great sea,
Though never, that earliest parting past,
On your wide plain they meet again,
Together lead them home at last."

One port, methought, alike they sought,
One purpose held where'er they fare—
O bounding breeze, O rushing sea,
At last, at last, unite them there!"

Thus friends come to differ little by little, and find at last their paths turned from each other. Perhaps both are to blame, perhaps neither. Let each have charity, and let
"Through winds and tides one com-
pass guides,
To stand and pour own selves be true."
—The Christian, Boston, Mass.

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN.

Learn The Cause Of Body Weas And End Them.

When the back aches and throbs.
When night brings no rest or sleep.
When a weary body aches all over.
There is a way to escape these woes.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure such ills.
Have cured women here in Salisbury.

This is one Salisbury woman's testimony.
Mrs. G. W. Fooks, wife of G. W.
Fooks, of the Sheriff of the Court House says: "I have suffered off and on with kidney complaint for the last eight years. It came on me gradually and continued to get worse. I felt tired and weak, was short of breath.
One doctor told me I had kidney disease, and finally, finally, finally, finally,
I was laid up at one time for three weeks. I was feeling very miserable when I went to White & Leonard's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills. I had not taken them more than three days when the distressing aching across my back disappeared. I have great faith in this remedy and I know if anyone will take the remedy as directed they will receive beneficial results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

An improvement in the latest London "tube" is stations painted distinctive colors, so that passengers may recognize them without hearing their names called. Not much of a change, suggests an English paper—merely the substitution of a blue for a gray.

The Body Requires It Just As Much As The House Does.

"You look sick this morning."
"Yes. I woke up with a dull headache, a coated tongue and that dark brown taste in the mouth."
"Didn't you have pains in the joints and muscles?"

Yes. As my old negro mammy used to say, "I have misery in my joints."
"Better get a bottle of Rheumacide and take it, old man."

"What does Rheumacide do?"
"Why Rheumacide is the most powerful and effective blood purifier in the world. It sweeps all the germs and poisons out of the blood and makes you well all over."

"Ever try it yourself?"
"Sure. I take a couple bottles of it before spring begins. Give my blood a spring cleaning, and Rheumacide puts me in such fine shape that I never have that tired feeling."

"Well, I'm going to try this Rheumacide, you say is the best ever?"
"That's right. All the druggists sell it. Better get a bottle today.
You want to get well with the first dose. The proprietors say that Rheumacide gets at the joints from the inside and makes you well all over."
And that's the truth, old man.

Charged with allowing some of his sheep to stray an English farmer sent a blank check to the magistrate with a note reading: "Kindly write out our requirements and oblige." The court filled out the check for a small fine and the case was ended.

solstices. The pain and suffering which he endured during this time is beyond comprehension. Nothing gave him any permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm.
One application of that liniment relieved the pain and made sleep and rest possible, and less than one bottle has effected a permanent cure. It troubled with sciatica or rheumatism

CASTORIA

Mark Twain's New House.

Mark Twain visited the secret problem about 1880, so far as concerned his own domestic life. When the famous humorist was building his house he was astonished the architect by insisting that the kitchen should be placed on the ground floor, on a level with the entrance door, and with windows—good, large windows—overlooking it.

"But a kitchen facing the hall door? I never heard of such a thing," protested the surprised architect.

"No, I don't," said not, observed Mark Twain: "you see it is my own original idea."

"But what is the idea?"

"Oh, it's a very simple. I want the cook and other servants in the kitchen to be able to see everybody that calls. Directly the bell rings, they look out of the window, without leaving their work, and see who it is and what they are wearing. The work will get done, the dining won't be spoiled, and the maid will be saved, and the master will be happy and stay with us. Under the old plan the poor servants were always running up and down stairs, and it was a great deal of expense. That was the time and spoiled everything."

And the humorist's house was actually built with the kitchen on the ground floor overlooking the entrance.

Not As Rich As Rockef.

If you had all the wealth of Rockefeller, the richest Oil magnate, you could not buy better Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
The most eminent physician cannot prescribe a better preparation for colic and diarrhoea, both for children and adults. This uniform success of this remedy has shown it to be superior to all others. It never fails, and when reduced with water and presented, is pleasant to take. Every family should be supplied with it. Sold by O. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

Minister Olliver reports from Madrid, under date of March 23, that various organized industries in Spain are urging the Government to increase the necessity for increasing tariff rates on various commodities as a protective measure.

It Is Dangerous To Neglect A Cold.

How often do we hear it remarked:
"It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy considers any tendency of a cold to become pneumonia, and has gained this great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by O. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

Stomach Troubles.

Mrs. Sue Martin, an old and highly respected resident of Falconia, Miss., was sick with stomach trouble for more than six months. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured her.
She says: "I can now eat anything I the world to find such a good medi-

SMALLPOX IN SOMERSET

Serious Outbreak Among Negroes At Crisfield And Marion. A Total Of 15 Cases Reported.

A serious outbreak of smallpox has occurred in Somerset county, about 15 cases having appeared at Crisfield and Marion Station. The disease was brought into the county by a negro about six weeks ago.

Dr. Marshall L. Price of the State Board of Health, returned from Somerset county Tuesday after an investigation of the situation. He found nine cases of smallpox in Crisfield and six at Marion Station, which is on the N. Y., P. & N. railroad, about 10 miles from Crisfield. All of the victims except one are negroes. Dr. Price found several other cases that resembled smallpox, but the disease was not marked with sufficient distinctness to insure a correct diagnosis.

Dr. Price advised the County Commissioners to put the small pox patients in the pesthouse, near Crisfield, and in open tents, the pesthouse not being large enough to hold all of them.

PARSONSBURG.

Miss Mary Leonard and brother and also Miss Eva Katie Leonard, of near Parsonsburg, spent last Saturday and Sunday with their cousin, Miss Lucie Leonard, of near Wango, and Miss Annie Chatham and brother of Pocomoke City. All reported a fine time.

Appreciates His Reception At Pocomoke Circuit.

Eden, Md., E. F. D., May 2nd, 1906.

Editor Salisbury Advertiser, Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir:—I would like through the medium of your paper and your courtesy, to say a few words about the people whom I have been appointed to serve as pastor, the place and ourselves.

After a drive from Dagoboro, Del., I arrived in Salisbury on Tuesday afternoon and spent the night with some people; next day I met Mrs. Elliott and my boy, Russell, who came by boat from Baltimore and after dinner we started for our new home where we arrived Wednesday afternoon.

Our coming at that time was unexpected but on the Tuesday evening following, a number of persons called and they had also taken thought regarding our inner wants: flour, sugar, coffee, potatoes, corn for Billy Betton, a dressed chicken, (which we got outside of next day) and a fine rooster, (very much alive), were among the donations brought us.

One gentleman gave me on Wednesday three hens and yesterday I received another hen and chicks just hatched, and we have the promise of more hens; the people are interested in our being supplied with chickens.

A garden has been plowed and laid off for us and many other kindnesses have been done us by the people which are incentives to us to do them all the good possible.

It is the hope and expectation of the writer that God will bless both people and pastor in their new relation. Sincerely, W. Biggs Elliott, Pastor Pocomoke Circuit M. P. Church.

Headquarters for Fine White Goods.

WITHIN THE PAST TWO MONTHS all white goods have advanced about 33 per cent. We have never before, and do not now, wish to make fabulous as to cheapness, but, our motto has always been fair and square treatment and value received. In this incident, when we say we are selling these goods way below the present value, we wish especially to emphasize it. All our white goods were, fortunately, bought in large quantities sometime before the advance, consequently we are in a position, considering the present market, to offer you unusual values.

There has put on its new spring and it is very becoming. The never looked prettier. An entire firm of photographers have taken nice views of the town. There is one, a view of our Main Street, that is especially praiseworthy. The pictures are for sale at Mr. Jones's store.

A group of young men, known as the V in the P. M. Church are giving up a unique entertainment for the benefit of the Church. The entertainment will be on Saturday night in the Church Hall. This is to redeem a debt that they made to the church. The young fellows of their make up is hardly worth doing. It would have to go far to find a group of men who have more fun to the same look than they have. And if all, they are really men.

A mild protest was registered on Monday morning last, not against the streets, as wrongly reported, but against filling up the street with dirt before putting the shells on. The protest was made on private property, without making any exit for the natural course of the water. A protest has already decided that it is a just cause for a suit for damages.

The Town Council had been ordered a few days earlier they would have had a case on their hands. Some of the old tin and bottles right in the street of the M. P. Church. It is great to see some people who drive their cars down the street. One driver came near losing his horse by driving down the street before he knew they were there.

The celebrating townsmen, Col. Adams, is putting a rear building to the dwelling. It will greatly improve the appearance of his property.

The caterpillars are showing themselves in great numbers just now. They are all along the road and in places loaded with these pests. It is the time for the farmers to get out their guns and exterminate the whole lot. If this is not soon done the leaves of our trees will be completely destroyed.

Mr. Parker will on Sunday, in the old Presbyterian Church, deliver the second sermon in the series on the book of Jonah.

The first Primary election for the purpose of nominating candidates for the members of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Somerset, will be held Saturday, May 5th, at 10 o'clock, at the place where elections are regularly held. Polls will open at 8:00 p. m. and close at 7:00 p. m. The formal election will be held on Tuesday, May 6th, at the same place. Polls will open at 9:00 a. m., to 5:00 p. m. E. P. PERRY, Chairman.

HELP NEEDED FOR SAN FRANCISCO AND MANY OTHERS.

It is proposed by the Democrats to raise the tariff tax on building material for San Francisco while that city is being rebuilt. But the Republican stand—patrons are secretly opposing it, as it will call attention to the inequalities of the present tariff law, which fosters trusts and combines and protects them in obtaining and constantly present high prices. The Democrats in Congress will unite in voting for rebating the duties paid on all building material used in the stricken city and would welcome a decrease of the tariff rates paid by the whole country.

The tariff tax on steel, glass, nails and lumber is all protective of the combines that aim to control the price and avoid competition. The tariff on structural steel, nails, etc., is from 35 per cent to 87 per cent. On common window glass from 37 to 115 per cent according to size, and on plate glass from 49 to 140 per cent. On lumber planned on one side 23 per cent and up to 30 per cent for flooring. On paints from 48 to 79 per cent and on linseed oil 53 per cent. Brick and Tile, 23 per cent. Cement 25 per cent. Lime, 37 per cent. Wall Paper, 25 per cent. Stone, 50 per cent.

To refund these tariff taxes will be an enormous saving to the home builders of San Francisco and will open the eyes of home builders everywhere to the tax upon building homes.

The question to be considered by voters in electing the next Congress is whether they will vote to reduce the tariff rates enough to induce foreign competition, unless the trusts and combines lower their prices to the level to prevent the foreign goods from coming in and underselling them. If the tariff on building materials and other necessities were necessary to protect American workmen, employed at good living wages, the tariff taxpayers—and that is everybody—would perhaps bear it patiently until the plundering system could be revised for the benefit of all alike. But the tariff increased price paid by the American people should only be enough more than the European prices to cover the difference between wages here and there. The transportation charges alone on such heavy materials are enough protection in themselves.

The natural desire of everyone is to own their own home, but the Republican plan of protecting the trusts and combines decreases the opportunity of a largely increasing number of people from ever being home owners. The home is the pedestal upon which Democratic institutions must rest and to tax the home unnecessarily is to slow the evolution of the Commonwealth to its highest development. So let us have free homes not only in San Francisco, but everywhere and make the many for the benefit of the few.

Effects Of Wednesday And Thursday frosts.

A blighting frost fell over this section Wednesday and Thursday nights and small vegetable plants were laid low. Watermelon and cantaloupes, tomato, potato, bean, cabbage, were generally found limp and flat yesterday morning and will undoubtedly replanting, which will be done at once so the trucks will be as little late as possible. Fruit prospects, such as peach, apple, pear, quince, etc., are believed to have been practically uninjured. Early corncries seem to have been sufficiently advanced to have taken care of themselves, but not so with the late berries. Mr. Wm. J. Station, who has 400 acres out in the late Gandy country, now he doesn't look for over 100,000 quarts. He says the crop is laid at least one half and that the Old Gandy country has suffered a similar fate. A plant in blossom left at the Advertiser Office shows clearly the deadly work of the untimely frost.

JUNE 2, 1906,

at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m., all the following real estate and personal property.

"New Hope Mills" and Rights.

FIRST: All that piece or parcel of land, situated in Williams Election District, in Worcester County, Maryland, being all the New Hope Mills with all the privileges thereto belonging, also all the land thereto attached, and described as follows:

BEGINNING at the west end of the old capmill where formerly stood the saw mill, thence in a westerly direction by and with the county road to the land of the Ebenezer Davis lot to the mill pond, thence with the mill pond to the beginning; also all the land lying between the said county road and the land of Jack Lewis on the south, containing in all about one acre of land, and being the same property which was conveyed to Edward White by Henry Dennis et al., by deed dated May 7, 1887 and recorded among the land records of the said county in Liber F. M. S. No. 2, Folio 306.

Together with all the water rights and privileges appurtenant thereto.

This is a valuable water mill and should command a good price.

Wood and Timber—Pittsburg District.

SECOND: All that valuable tract of wood and timber land, situated in Pittsburg Election District, in Worcester County and State of Maryland, on the east side of the County road, leading from New Hope to "Purnell's Bridge" on the Pocomoke River; bounded on the north by the land of Hiram J. Cooper, formerly belonging to Edward White; bounded on the east by the land of "River Swamp," and bounded on the south by the lands of John Elijah Truitt, containing 13 acres of land, more or less, and being a part of the same land which was conveyed to Edward White by Levi D. Gordy et al., by deed dated Dec. 25, 1888, and recorded among the land records of the said county, in Liber F. M. S. No. 4, Folio 208.

"Fooks Mills" and Rights.

THIRD: All that lot or parcel of land, situated in Parsons Election District, in said county and state, on the county road, leading from Salisbury to Parsonsburg, and about five miles from Salisbury, being all that valuable water mill property which is commonly known as the "Purnell's Bridge," including all the mill, mill lot, mill privileges, water rights, and all other rights, ways, privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging, the mill lot being bounded on the south by the land of John S. Hastings; on the east by the lands of E. M. Watson, George S. Parsons, and land now or formerly owned by D. J. Parsons; on the north in part by the land of John Hank; and on the west by the land of John S. Hastings, containing five acres, more or less, being the same property which was conveyed to Edward White by Thos. R. Layfield by deed dated May 11, 1893, and recorded in Liber J. T. No. 11, folio 353.

This is a desirable mill property and is one of the most valuable water powers in this vicinity.

The Hudson Tract.

FOURTH: All that farm or tract of land, situated in Pittsburg Election District, in Worcester County, Maryland, adjoining the lands of Edward White, Robert Showell, Robert Baker, and the heirs of Benson Whaley, containing 44 acres, more or less, being the same land which was conveyed to the said Edward White by John H. Hudson, by deed dated August 28, 1898, and recorded among the land records of the said county, in Liber J. T. No. 12, folio 16.

Swamp Timber.

FIFTH: All that tract of land, in Dennis Election District, in Worcester County and partly in Worcester County, Maryland, near "Givans River Bridge," on the south side of and binding on the county road, leading to Givans River and adjoining the lands of James D. Massey, containing 93 1/2 acres of land, more or less, and being the same land which was conveyed to Edward White by King V. White by deed dated Sept. 5, 1897, and recorded in Liber J. T. No. 21, folio 147.

50 Acres Gum—Ash, Pine and Cypress.

SIXTH: All that valuable timber tract, situated in Worcester County and west by the farm lands of John F. Jones; on the south by the lands of Henry T. Rayne and on the east by the Pocomoke River, containing 50 acres more or less, and being the same land which was conveyed to Edward White by James S. Williams by deed dated July 27, 1896, and recorded in Liber J. T. No. 14 folio 407.

This land is covered with gum, ash, pine, and cypress timber.

Valuable Salisbury Property For Building Lots, Wharfage and Business Sites On Water and Near Rail, Tract Of Fast Growing Timber.

SEVENTH: An undivided one third interest in and to all the following real estate situated in Salisbury Election District, in Worcester County and State of Maryland, including some valuable building lots, manufacturing sites and river frontage:

Lot No. 1 All that lot of land, situated on Mill Street, and fronting thereon 100 feet, and extending back therefrom 200 feet to the Pocomoke River, being designated on the plat filed in the proceedings of the sale of the real estate of Gordon H. Goodvine, by L. E. Williams, Trustee, in No. 871 Chancery as Lot No. 6 of Division No. 7.

This property is well located as a manufacturing site, being immediately on the river, with the railroad passing directly in front of it.

Lot No. 2. All that lot or parcel of land, situated on Lake Street and lying between Lake Street and the Pocomoke River, and having a front on both Lake Street and the River of 800 feet, with a varying depth of from 300 feet to 350 feet.

This property is sub-divided into smaller lots as will be seen by reference to the aforesaid plat, and is therein designated as Lots Nos. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13. Of Division No. 10, each of which subdivisions or lots has a frontage on the said Lake Street and the said river of 100 feet.

This property will first be offered in accordance with the sub-divisions of the said plat, and will then be offered as a whole and under understanding that if the bid for the same as a whole shall be equal to or exceed the sum of the bids received for the several lots separately, the bid for the whole will be accepted; but if the aggregate of the bids for the separate lots shall exceed the bid for the whole, then the separate bids will be accepted.

Lot No. 3. All those two lots or parcels of land, binding on Lake Street, and extending along the same for 905 feet, more or less, from Gordon Street to the property of David Wroten, and extending back from Lake Street to the property of David Wroten, and containing 9 1/2 acres, more or less, and being all of Lot No. 1 and Lot No. 2, of Division No. 14 on the plat aforesaid, except a strip of 40 feet in width along Lake Street sold from Lot No. 2 to David Wroten.

The greater part of these two lots is covered with a fine growth of pine and cypress timber.

Lot No. 4. All those three lots Nos. 1, 2 and 11 of Division 18 on the said plat. Lots 1 and 2 are mostly covered with pine and cypress timber.

All these lots situated as aforesaid will be offered as a whole and then separately, with the understanding as given under Lot No. 2.

Valuable Tract of Pine and Clear Land.

EIGHTH: All that farm or tract of land, situated in Worcester County, Maryland, in Dennis Election District, on the east side of and binding on the county road, leading from Salisbury to Snow Hill; bounded on the north by the land of Albert Perdue; bounded on the east by the "River Swamp" of the heirs of Edward White; and bounded on the south by a big ditch separating this land from other land of the heirs of Edward White, containing about 20 acres of timber land, and about 40 acres of cleared land. The timber is fine thrifty pine and is estimated at 350,000 to 400,000 feet. This is a valuable farm of 50 acres, and will be offered as a whole. The cleared land and timber land will then be offered separately, with the understanding that if the bids received for the separate parcels shall exceed the bid received for the same as a whole, it on the separate bid will be accepted; but if the bid for the whole shall exceed the sum of the separate bids, then the bid for the whole will be accepted.

Farm Well Set In Young Pine.

NINTH: All that farm or tract of land, situated in said district, county and state, adjoining on the north the lands of E. T. Shockey; on the east and south the land of George Harrison; and on the west the land of Lambert Adkins and William Davis mill pond, containing about 30 acres, being a part of the same land which the said Edward White obtained from William Davis, by deed dated June 16, 1884, and recorded among the land records of Worcester County, in Liber S. P. T. No. 6, folio 468. A part of this land is well set in young pine timber.

32 Acres of Pine and Oak.

TENTH: All that piece or parcel of TIMBER LAND situated in Dennis Election District, in Worcester County and State of Maryland; bounded on the south by the land of E. E. Shockey; on the east by the land of Jas. A. Hall; on the west by the land of Solomon Shockey; and on the north by the county road leading to Salisbury, containing 32 acres, more or less, and being a part of the same land which was conveyed to the said Edward White by George W. Phillips by deed, dated May 13, 1881, and recorded among the land records of Worcester County, in Liber S. P. T. No. 4, folio 178.

This land is covered with a fine growth of pine and oak timber and is very desirable property.

CREAMERY

TO MAKE FARM DAIRY CREAM.

Simple Process Which Gives a Unusually Good Cheese.

The best time to make farm dairy cheese is immediately after milking.
First pour the milk from one vessel to another in some locality where the air is pure and fresh, raising the vessel well so that the air can pass through the milk as it is poured out and carry off the animal heat and odor. Then pour the milk into the vat, or, if no regular vat is at hand, use a large wash boiler.

Coloring.—If it is desired to have more than the natural color, so that the cheese will look rich, add about a teaspoonful of cheese color to 15 gallons of milk. To do this properly take a large dipper half full of milk, mix in the color thoroughly, and stir
the whole into the vat of milk.

Renet.—Now add rennet extract at the rate of 1 ounce to 100 pounds, or 15 gallons of milk. Mix the extract with half a dipper of cold water and then pour into the milk.
Rennet tablets may be used instead of the extract, one small tablet for every 5 gallons of milk, or one large tablet for 15 gallons.

Temperature.—Great care should be taken not to have the milk at a temperature below 55 degrees F. nor above 60 degrees when the rennet is put in.

Curdling.—After the rennet is put into the milk, stir gently two or three minutes, then let stand until the curd is firm enough to cut. The milk should begin to curdle in from ten to twelve minutes. To ascertain when the curd is ready for cutting, push the forefinger into the milk at an angle of 45 degrees until the mold is full and well rounded up.
Regular Gonda molds are best, but any tin or wooden receptacle will answer if small holes are made in it to allow the whey to escape. The cheese should be from 8 to 10 inches in diameter and about 3 inches thick. Then take the cheese out of the mold and turn it upside down, and replace it. Put on the cover and put the cheese to press.

Pressing.—The press may be a simple lever and weight described as follows: The lever should be about 12 feet long; a broken wagon tongue answers the purpose very well. Set a strong box, on which the mold may be placed, about 3 feet from a wall, post, or tree; on the latter nail a slat and under it put one end of the lever. Put a circular board about 6 inches in diameter upon the mold and on this rest the stick or lever. A pall containing a few cobbles will answer for the weight. Do not apply full pressure at first, but let the weight hang about halfway between the mold and outer end of the stick. Let the cheese remain a few hours in the press;
then take out and dress.

Dressing.—To dress a cheese, first put it in warm water for a few moments and then wipe dry and rub smooth. Take a piece of linen cloth about 8 inches wide and long enough to go around the cheese, folding the edges down carefully over the sides;
then put a circular cap of cloth of suitable size on each side. Replace the cheese in the mold, with the bandage or dress all smooth, and put it under the press, moving the pall to the end of the stick. Leave the cheese in the press for about twenty-four hours; then take it out and salt it.

Salting.—The cheese may be either dry salted or brine salted. Brine salting is the better way. Make a solution of salt and water as strong as it can possibly be made; put the cheese into this brine and sprinkle some salt on the surface which is exposed as it floats.

Curing.—Next put the cheese on the shelf in the cellar for curing.
It should be turned and rubbed with the palm of the hand every day for a week or two; after that twice a week will suffice. When curing cheese should be wiped with a cloth dampened in warm water, and if it gets a rough-rind smooth it by using a brush and warm water. The proper temperature for curing is 55 to 60 degrees F. and the salt should be moist as possible. The cheese will be ready for use in two weeks if the above directions are carefully followed.

Drink Buttermilk.
There would be more buttermilk sold if people only knew the good qualities of the drink. There is nothing in the line of simple drinks which exercises a more beneficial influence on the general health. It is at once a food and medicine. The lactic acid it contains acts on the whole digestive system, while as food it has already undergone a semi-digestion in the churning to which it has been subjected. Instances are numerous of persons afflicted with Bright's disease living for many years in comparative comfort with no other medicine than a daily supply of buttermilk.

Perpetual Motion Cradle.
It hangs on a hook with a spring, like a canary's cage. You give it a little start and it continues to bob up and down for some time. This arrangement keeps the baby satisfied, while the mother may go about her housework or receive visitors. The doctors object to soothing babies.
Babies, say the doctors, are not to be soothed by such artificial methods as cradles and sugar plums or rubber rings. These things are really nerve destroyers. Opposing mothers then want to know how it is that so many apparently healthy people have been rocked in cradles, brought up on rubber nipples fastened to corks and lumps of sugar carelessly tied in a piece of unsterilized cloth. They want to know if the antiseptic baby is any better than the old-fashioned kind. But these old-fashioned folks will no doubt welcome the new canary cradle, a picture of which shows at a glance its great simplicity and like a bird cage, it is handy to take on a journey.

FASHION'S MANDATE.
Heavy white washable shirt waist materials have small dots embroidered all over them.

Empire models in tea gowns are among the loveliest of those shown.

For shirt waists of silk, modest little girlish of silk to match are most worn; but for the linen shirts
—those plain ones which are so steadily making a way for themselves in the fashionable world—nothing but the plainest, flattest sort of belts are good.

In the case of gloves, dressed kid retains its freshness longer than suede, and black gloves are usually less shabby than white and colored ones.

Ancient Superstition.
From Cullacan, Mexico, it is reported that, because a woman suffered the Jesus Maria y Anzures mines, several hundred miners went on strike and refused to return to work until the parish priest went into the mines and sprinkled all shafts and tunnels with consecrated water. It is an old superstition among Mexican miners that if a woman enters a mine a catastrophe will follow.—Exchange.

While a blacksmith may have many virtues, he must at least have one vice.

Many housewives are careful to change the bed linen, and take pride in keeping it snowy white, yet they do not pull the beds apart often enough. Careful women not only daily air all the bedding, but during the weekly sunning the springs are taken out, dusted and wiped off with a damp cloth, and if there are wooden slats under the springs they are washed off in hot suds and put out

May Is Here Again!

We MAY have more spells of weather to the day this year than we did last MAY. We MAY have so many sorts that really we can't tell what sort of clothes to tell you about. In the morning it MAY look like rain coats and umbrellas, at noon it MAY look like soft shirts and straw hats; in the afternoon it MAY look like overcoats and rubber shoes and by 5 o'clock it MAY look as if everybody was glad MAY was here again. Well, no matter what your clothes needs are, if you're a man, Lacy Thoroughgood's got it and so has James Thoroughgood. There has never been a time in the last twenty years and there never will be, when you can buy as good goods for your money anywhere else as you can from Lacy Thoroughgood or James Thoroughgood. Why you can't get common shoddy things from them, they don't sell them. No two stores in the world come nearer to doing business right than Lacy Thoroughgood's and James Thoroughgood's. Why we sell you goods solely on their merits, there's no film flim about it. We never have any apologies to offer or excuses to make for selling goods cheap; we do it simply to sell more. We are selling this week men's suits for $10, $12.50 and $15. Children's suits for $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4, $4.50, $5, $5.50, $6, $6.50, $7, $7.50, $8, $8.50, $9, $9.50, $10, $10.50, $11, $11.50, $12, $12.50, $13, $13.50, $14, $14.50, ### Sick Women To Consider

First.—That almost every operation performed upon women necessitates a thorough neglect of the system, resulting in backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, running-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming all other ailments. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing women for childbirth and the change of life.

Third.—The great volume of unswerving and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give abundant evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered promptly. Free symposiums given, and the best possible medical and nursing care will be given to all who are afflicted. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been administering the business of the company. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

THE PHILIPPINE STAMPS

Distinctive Set Typifying Industries of the Islands.

A GOVERNMENT PLANT.

Making Postage Stamps an Interesting Process—Skillful Hands and Considerable Time Required—No Loop Hole Allowed for Loss of a Single Stamp.

People of the Philippine Islands are to have their own distinctive postage stamps, the designs of which will typify the arts and industries of the archipelago, says the Brooklyn Eagle. Ever since the islands came into the possession of the United States they have been required to make use of the ordinary postage stamps printed for the people here, save for the word "Philippines" stamped in ugly black ink across the face of each. During the year 1905 6,206,200 stamps were printed for the use of the Philippines.

These new Philippine stamps, as well as the billions that will be ordered by postmasters throughout the United States, will be printed at the government's great paper money and stamp mill, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, in Washington.

The making of a postage stamp is an interesting process. Skillful hands are required, as well as considerable time. As much care is exercised in getting out a tiny two-cent stamp as a $1,000 treasury certificate.

The printing is done on queer looking presses, each of which produces 1,600 stamps a minute or about 100,000 an hour. Each press has an endless chain that carries four plates, on which the designs of the stamps are engraved. On each plate 400 stamps are represented. The sheets printed from these plates are intended to be cut into quarters eventually, in which shape they will be sold by the Post Office Department.

Each plate is carried by the endless chain first under an ink roller, from which it receives a coating of ink of the proper color. Then it passes beneath a pad of canvas, which oscillates so as to rub the ink in. Next it passes for a moment under the hands of a man who polishes the plate. Finally a sheet of white paper is laid upon the plate, both pass under a roller, and the sheet comes out on the other side 400 printed postage stamps. The plates revolve in a circle, as it were, more accurately speaking they move around the four sides of a square in a horizontal plane.

While one is being inked another is being rubbed by the canvas, another is passing under the printing roller. The circuit takes about a minute, during which four sheets of 400 stamps each are printed. The most important part of the work, requiring the greatest skill, is the polishing. It is done with the bare hands, no other method being equally efficient. The object is to leave exactly enough ink for a good impression, and no more. One girl lays the white paper sheets upon the plates, while another young woman removes them as fast as they are printed and stacks them up in a pile.

The process gives the results of hand press work. Half a dozen presses working together, each turning out 100,000 stamps an hour, can produce a good many millions in a day. Three hands are required for each press—the printer, who does the polishing, and two girls.

As in the case of the men who print paper currency, each printer must account for every sheet of blank paper that he receives. These sheets are counted in the wadding division, before they are delivered to him. After they are printed they are counted and then sent to the examining division, where they are counted again. Spoiled sheets are counted as carefully as perfect ones, because they represent money. If lost or stolen, they could be used. On each sheet appears the special mark of the printer who turned it out. An allowance of 1/2 per cent. is made to him for spoilage. If he exceeds the allowance he must pay for the extra loss at the actual cost of the paper, ink and labor represented.

No loophole is left for the loss of a single one-cent stamp. After being examined, the sheets are counted again and put between straw boards under hydraulic press to make them lie flat. Thus they are counted more easily, and can be made into smaller bundles. After undergoing this process they are counted once more and are now ready to be gummed and perforated. The stamps now done, only remain to be gone over, inspected, counted and tagged in packages of 100 sheets before being sent out. Each package of 100 sheets holds 10,000 stamps.

Furze May Yield Paper. The salvation of the world's paper supply may come from furze. It has been ascertained that the furze, suitably treated, produces a white and solid pulp. After a boiling of five or six hours the pulp is washed with water, acidulated with sulphuric acid in suitable quantity, bleached with chloride of lime and thoroughly washed, when it is in a suitable state for use in paper manufacture. If successful, this sort of paper-making will open up a large class of new paper-making materials and possibly prove the solution of the serious problem caused by the rapid exhaustion of the timber districts in the effort to meet the demand for wood pulp, the present universal material.

Sir John Bingham, a noted member of the British Bar, gives advice to young lawyers as follows: "Work hard, have noble ambitions, be bold, have confidence in yourselves, get married."

LIVING RIGHT AT HOME.

May 13, '36—(Mark 5:1-20.)

A Gadarene demoniac, who had been the terror of the neighborhood, because of his strength, his ferocity, his dwelling place among the tombs of the dead, was one day instantly and permanently cured of his affliction by the Great Physician. His gratitude was so overmastering at his recovery that he proposed to leave everything and go with his deliverer. He wanted to show how much he appreciated what had been done for him. He thought he could body about it. He thought he could convince the world if he could only have a chance.

But the Master put a damper on his ambition and pointed out his proper field of usefulness by saying: "Go home to thy friends and show them what great things hath been done for thee." And the man went home to his family, to his neighbors and lived his changed life among them until they were all convinced of the reality of the cure.

Whatever may be a person's profession, the home is the real test. Not pious at home, not pious at work. Many a person is longing for a chance to become a foreign missionary and preach the gospel to the heathen who is far from being a burning and a shining light in his own family circle and neighborhood. It is very much easier to preach to those who don't know us, than to live right among those who do.

The Master recommended this zealous convert to go home and show, not preach about, what had been done for him. He would have the healed man put on exhibition in the home, a sample of goodness, meekness, gentleness, temperance, all the characteristics of real piety, instead of getting up in a pulpit and talking about such things. He gave him the more difficult task. Many a silver-tongued orator is a sharp-tongued liver. Eloquent periods roll off his tongue in public, harsh and snappy, and bitter language come out of that member in private. To the congregation his tongue is an instrument of music, to his wife and children it is a sledgehammer.

James says: "There with big words and sweet words we deceive ourselves. No man is a hero to his own valet." Every hour brings its pressure upon some element of our nature, and Satan can find the points in our harness when we are careless and unbraced in the family circle, and not half try. That man's piety needs to be genuine to stand the discomforts and upheavals of the annual house cleaning; and he is a candidate for canonization who can keep sweet while bawdy pipes fall about his ears, or he fills his being with the dust of months while beating carpets in the back yard. What can be more provocative of irritation than to be roamed from peaceful slumber at midnight in the dead of winter by roisterous offspring insisting upon perpetual motion of the cradle, or an airy walk about the premises.

The patriarchs are held up before us as models of one particular grace, but he who shows piety at home, in the midst of family cares, even in the best regulated household, needs the patience of Job, the meekness of Moses, the faith of Abraham, the courage of Daniel and the endurance of Paul.

Don't get the impression that the heroes and heroines are all foreign missionaries. There are martyrs of the kitchen as well as of the battlefield. The old time martyrs suffered at the stake, and in ten minutes it was all over; some of these household martyrs have been roasting for fifty years. When the rewards are distributed hereafter, the highest seats of honor will be bestowed upon the unheard of men and women who in the narrow circle of home life proved their genuine worth.

Home! There the campaign of life is planned. There the battle of life is fought. There eternal victories are won. In the home the little feet are started in right or wrong directions. In the home is reinforcement for the fabled, and restoration for the wounded. The comedy and the tragedy of life is there. No matter how poorly furnished, or in what undesirable neighborhood it may be located, we would die on its threshold to desert it. Angels encamp about it. Ladders are lowered from heaven to every pillow in that home. Over the infant's crib songs are crooned and cred alone to motherhood. If you wanted to gather up all tender memories, all lights and shadows of the heart, all banqueting and reunions, all filial, fraternal, paternal, conjugal affections, and had only four letters with which to spell out their meaning you could easily and appropriately do it with the four alphabetical characters—H-O-M-E.

To those who are sighing for a sphere and longing for worlds to conquer these words need to be reiterated. Go home! Go home! Not every convert is called to preach, but every convert is called to practice. Practice! Until the wrinkles fade out of the wife's brow and give place to youthful dimples. Practice! Until the children no longer cower in terror but bound with springing feet to greet your coming. Practice! Until everything animate and inanimate in the home sees what great things hath been done for you.

Monkey That Wears Glasses. In the British zoological garden there is a spider monkey which was operated upon for cataract, and now wears glasses.

For more than a year after it was revealed that the monkey was very healthy and lively; then it became very quiet, ceased to play and crouched in a corner. It was examined and found to be suffering from cataract, so it was immediately taken to the eye hospital and operated upon. It now wears a spectacle and is very healthy.

CURES AFTER THE DOCTORS HAVE FAILED.

RHEUMACIDE has cured thousands of cases of Rheumatism after all the doctors and all other means had failed. Rheumacide cured John F. Eline and others, after the famous specialists of Johns Hopkins Hospital, the greatest hospital in the world, had failed. Rheumacide cured Austin Percelle, of Salem, Va., and D. H. Oimstead, the Norfolk, Va., contractor, after they had spent large sums on other remedies and the doctors had given up hope. Rheumacide cured Mrs. Mary Welborn, of High Point, N. C., of rheumatism she had endured for 20 years. Rheumacide cured W. R. Hughes, of Atkins, Va., after the most famous New York specialists failed. There is a reason why it cures: Rheumacide is the latest discovery of medical science, and while powerful enough to sweep all germs and poisons out of the blood, it operates by purely natural methods, does not injure the most delicate stomach, and builds up the entire system.

What Does It Mean

to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policyholder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit, and the policyholders use them either to help pay premiums or to buy increased insurance. The policies of the Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. contain special and peculiar advantages which are not combined in the policies of any other company. Examine these advantages before placing your insurance. You owe it to your family to have the best.

ORTUARY.

The Angel of Death visited the home of William E. and Blanche Hastings, May the 2nd, 1905, and took away their infant son, Leon. Aged 1 year, 8 months and 21 days. Another little lamb is gone. To dwell with Him who gave. Another little darling boy is sheltered in the grave.

God needed one more angel child, Amidst His shining band, And so He bent with loving smile And clasped our darling's hand.

In a casket white as snowdrifts, Nestled all among the flowers Lies a pure and stainless lily. That a little while was ours.

A tiny grave, but oh how sweet, For little Leon slumbers there. A father's pride, a mother's joy, Lies buried with our darling boy. His Parents.

"More haste, less speed," and "hasten slowly," are proverbs born of experience that some things can't be hurried without loss and waste. That is especially true of eating. The railway lunch habit, "five minutes for refreshments," is a habit most disastrous to the health. You may hurry your eating. You can't hurry your digestion, and the neglect to allow proper time for this important function is the beginning of sorrows to many a busy man. When the tongue is fast the head aches, when there are sour or bitter risings, undue fullness after eating, hot flashes, irritability, nervousness, irascibility, cold extremities and other annoying symptoms be sure the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition have "broken down." Nothing will re-establish them in active healthy operation so quickly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, purges the blood, and builds up the body. It is strictly a temperance medicine containing no alcohol or other intoxicant.

Given away. Dr. Pierce's great work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expenses of mailing only. Send 31 one cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 31 stamps for cloth binding, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

—We are frequently asked by oystermen, "What is the commercial value of an oyster pearl?" We can only give the answer of one of the most prominent of Philadelphia jewelers. He tells us that pearls found in ordinary eating oysters have no commercial value. Pearls found in mollusks iridescent shells which are used for the manufacture of articles under the name of mother-of-pearl, and the pearls found in these, receive the same value from the shell. Notwithstanding this high authority we would advise oyster men to keep a pearl to ascertain at once whether it has commercial value. Sometimes the peculiar hue of a particular pearl gives it great value. It is said that the relative value of a clam pearl is greater than that of an oyster.—Ed.

Scissors Cured After Twenty Years Of Torture.

For more than twenty years Mr. J. B. Maury, of 3523 Clinton St., Minneapolis, Minn., was tortured by scissures. The pain and suffering which he endured during this time is beyond comprehension. Nothing gave him any permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. One application of this liniment relieved the pain and made sleep and rest possible, and less than one bottle has effected a permanent cure. If troubled with scissures or rheumatism, why not try a 25 cent bottle of Pain Balm and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain. For sale by C. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN.

Learn The Cause Of Daily Weak And Tired.

When the back aches and throbs. When night brings no rest or sleep. Women's lot is a weary one. There is a way to escape these woes. Doan's Kidney Pills cure such ills. Have cured women here in Salisbury.

This is one Salisbury woman's testimony. Mrs. G. W. Fooks, wife of G. W. Fooks, County Sheriff of the Court House says: "I have suffered off and on with kidney complaint for the last eight years. It came on me gradually and continued to get worse. I felt tired and weak, was short of breath. One doctor told me I had kidney disease and it would finally result in Bright's disease. I was laid up at one time for three weeks. I was feeling very miserable when I went to White & Leonard's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills. I had not taken them more than three days when the distressing aching across my back disappeared. I have great faith in this remedy and I know if anyone will take the remedy as directed they will receive beneficial results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Stonewall Jackson's Looks.

His form was tall, gaunt and angular. His feet and hands were large and his walk was singularly ungainly, says Thomas M. Semmes in the June Century. He always spoke quickly, in short sentences, devoid of ornament, but to the point. A habit of "beating" his eye added a little to the peculiarity of his appearance. His eyes were gray and ordinarily dull and expressionless; but when excited by drill, which always seemed to arouse him, especially when charges were fired, the whole man would change, as if he were transported by the roar of the guns to the exciting scene of an actual battle.

"SPRING CLEANING" NEEDED.

The Body Requires It Just As Much As The House Does.

"You look sick this morning." "Yes. I woke up with a dull headache, a coated tongue and that dark brown taste in the mouth."

"Didn't you have pains in the joints and muscles?"

"Yes. As my old negro mammy used to say, 'I have misery in my joints.' "Better get a bottle of Rheumacide and take it, old man."

"What does Rheumacide do?" "Rheumacide is the most powerful and effective blood purifier in the world. It sweeps all the germs and poisons out of the blood and makes you well all over."

"Save it, I take a couple bottles of it before spring begins. Give my blood a spring cleaning. And Rheumacide puts me in such fine shape that I never have that tired feeling."

"Well, I'm going to try this Rheumacide, you say it's the best ever?"

"That's right. All the druggists sell it. Better get a bottle today. You start to get well with the first dose. The proprietors say that Rheumacide gets at the joints from the inside and makes you well all over."

And that's the truth, old man."

CRONCE.

By Grace Daffield Goodwin

What is the cargo, Son? The merchandise of kings. The spoils and gains of lands afar. Or a freight of trivial things?

Where is the voyage, Son? To shores that are steeped in sun? Or the barren islands of Brist Desire That shelter when day is done?

The breezes are fair and soft. While the mooring holds in sight. But his is the guardian who dare to sail Where the world is rimmed with light.

Not As Rich As Rockefeller.

If you had all the wealth of Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, you could not buy a better medicine for bowel complaints than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The most eminent physician cannot prescribe a better preparation for colic and diarrhoea, both for children and adults. The uniform success of this remedy has shown it to be superior to all others. It never fails, and when reduced with water and sweetened, is pleasant to take. Every family should be supplied with it. Sold by C. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

The London Jewish World states that King Carlos of Portugal, on his recent visit to England, was so much impressed with the position of Jews there and by the services they rendered the country that he has stated his intention to have the Jewish religion formally recognised in Portugal.

It Is Dangerous To Neglect A Cold.

How often do we hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and has gained this great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by C. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

Stomach Troubles.

Mrs. Sue Martin, of a old and highly respected resident of Falouta, Miss., was sick with stomach trouble for more than six months. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured her. She says: "I can now eat anything I want and am the proudest woman in the world to find such a good medicine."

For sale by C. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

DELMAR.

Mrs. Mary Ann Henniger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Henniger, of Delmar, and Mr. Austin J. Henniger, of Orisfield, were married today in the Methodist Episcopal Church by the Rev. E. H. Webb. The wedding march was played by Mr. E. M. Waller. The bride was accompanied in a traveling gown of gray panama cloth with black gloves to match and carried a bouquet of roses. The matron of honor was a white embroidered net robe and carried La France. The bride's maids wore white with white picture hats and carried pink and white carnations. The bridesmaids wore the conventional.

After the ceremony the bride party moved to the home of the bride where luncheon was served. The bride and groom being seated at a small side table set for two.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Henniger, daughter of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Foreman, Miss Elsie Foreman, Mrs. Grace Lawes, of Orisfield; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wharton, Mrs. Anne; Mrs. C. H. Mahoney, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Miss Myrtle Thorpe, of Pocomoke City; Mr. William Foreman, of Wilmington; Mr. Abraham Foreman, of Laurel, Del.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hensley and son. The happy pair left on the north bound afternoon express and will visit Wilmington, Baltimore and Washington. They will reside in Orisfield. The wedding presents in silverware, cut glass and other articles were numerous and valuable.

Miss Clara Evelyn, daughter of William and Ellen Oliver, of Delmar, was born May 7th, 1873 and died May 4th, 1914. She had been a patient sufferer with pulmonary trouble for several months and all had been that she apparently could be done without avail. She was a religious and faithful member of the Church of the Holy Trinity, of Delmar. She will be buried at 10 o'clock from the church services were held in the M. E. Church Sunday afternoon May 6th, at 2 o'clock, by Rev. Z. H. Hill, of the M. E. Church. There were many flowers from friends of the deceased and a large congregation attended the services after which interment was made in the Delmar M. E. Cemetery. She leaves both parents, one sister and five brothers to mourn her loss. The grief stricken family and the sympathy of the entire community.

The F. O. S. of A., Lodge will hold their festival next Saturday, May 16th, in Hastings Grove on State Street. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Joe T. Wilson shipped the first crate of strawberries from here on Thursday. They were the Excelior variety and grown by Mr. Virgil H. Hensley.

Strawberries appeared in town on Thursday, 7th inst. and were sold at ten cents per quart.

The Delaware High School will close on Friday, 18th inst. The graduating class contains two pupils, Miss Anna Foreman and Mr. William Stephens. The commencement exercises will be held in the Opera House on Monday evening, May 1st.

First appeared on Thursday morning.

Mr. John J. Culver of this town and Miss Laura Hearn of Salisbury were married by the Rev. T. E. Martineau in Salisbury on Monday evening the 7th inst.

The election for town Commissioners was held on Tuesday and resulted as follows: Irving N. Cooper, James E. Bacon, Levin A. Wilson, Thomas R. Bounds and William J. Graham. There seems to be a little dissatisfaction but why no one seems to be able to tell. The whole matter of incorporation was thoroughly canvassed at the start, and without doubt there was an overwhelming majority in its favor. It is not a good democratic principle to oppose the will of the majority. There is every reason why we should work together. The men elected stand well in the community and surely we can trust to their judgment. Let us work in harmony. There should be no Reactionists, but every man a Progressionist. A proper drainage system should be devised and executed at once, for every year it is put off, it becomes more complicated. Many towns have paid dearly for permitting building operations to go on before grades were fixed. Let us profit by their failures. Our town is not always going to remain small as it is now. If our commissioners will determine the grading matters will fix the drainage. Give us lights as soon as possible, for we have walked in darkness long enough. We are ready to work on the streets whenever the word is given.

The entertainment given by that class of young men last Saturday night was as the Constable in Chicago said, when he levied on triplets for a bad debt, "a howling success."

Announcements have been made, that a Rev. Mr. Logan, a Presbyterian minister will preach in the old building on Sunday morning. A full attendance is requested.

Last Sunday morning Rev. B. G. Parker immersed three candidates in the Vienna Baptist Church. This church is renewing its former life.

On the twenty fifth of this month Mr. Parker will deliver his humorous lecture on "The Ideal Mother-in-law." in Girdlewood. It has been spoken for in Orisfield also.

Rev. Mr. Revell of the M. E. Church is preaching upon some intensely practical subjects. There is no uncertain sound in his messages. He can say with the great Apostle "I believed, and therefore have I spoken."

Rev. E. P. Perry, since the Conference is back in harness and hard at work. Everything about his church building looks as bright as a new pin.

Elder Francis on Monday night preached a fine expository sermon, in the old Presbyterian building. His mind and heart seem saturated with Scripture. He has been preaching for forty years, I believe.

Miss Fannie P. Haddox of Philadelphia, is visiting her sister, Mrs. B. G. Parker.

Headquarters for Fine White Goods.

WITHIN THE PAST TWO MONTHS all white goods have advanced about 33 per cent. We have never before, and do not now, wish to make fabulous as to cheapness, but, our motto has always been fair and square treatment and value received. In this incident, when we say we are selling these goods way below the present value, we wish especially to emphasize it. All our white goods were, fortunately, bought in large quantities sometime before the advance, consequently we are in a position, considering the present market, to offer you unusual values.

Careful Thorough Prescription Work

Sometimes you imagine that you have to wait a long time for the medicine, but if we gave it to you in less time, it would NOT be such good medicine. No matter how busy we are, every prescription is prepared carefully and thoroughly; no part of the work is slighted in any detail. It must be right before we let it go out of our hands. You may think at the time that we are being too particular, but that is due to your anxiety and impatience. In your corner, you will admit that we are right, and will thank us for preparing such RELIABLE medicine. Our methods have won the commendation of all real physicians who have had occasion to know about them.

QUEEN OF ACTRESSES' PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

MISS JULIA MARLOWE
Recently appeared at the Forum for the Nervous.

In a recent letter to The Forum Medical Co., Miss Julia Marlowe, of New York City, writes the following:

"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna, as a nerve tonic. I do so most heartily."—Julia Marlowe.

Nervousness is very common among women. This condition is due to anemic nerve centers. The nerve centers are the reservoir of nervous vitality. These centers become bloodless for want of proper nutrition.

This is especially true in the spring season. Every spring a host of invalids are produced as the direct result of weak nerves.

This can be easily obviated by using Peruna. Peruna strikes at the root of the difficulty by overcoming the digestion.

REVISED FORMULA.—For a number of years doctors have been giving us a number of different remedies, saying that Peruna is a great nerve tonic. I have been using Peruna for some time, and I can say that it is a great nerve tonic.

THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE

To The City Council Monday Evening A List Of Officers Recommendations And Review Of The Year's Work. Results.

Salisbury, Md., May 4, 1906. To the Honorable Council, of Salisbury, Md.

Gentlemen: In compliance with the provisions of the Charter of Salisbury, a list of officers recommendations and a review of the year's work. Results. In compliance with the provisions of the Charter of Salisbury, a list of officers recommendations and a review of the year's work. Results. In compliance with the provisions of the Charter of Salisbury, a list of officers recommendations and a review of the year's work. Results.

This has been a matter which has agitated the minds of your Honorable Body and those whom you have succeeded, and it has been met with a spirit of conservatism and mature thought that has reflected credit upon your Honorable Body. How that your plans are rounding into definite proportions and the necessity of the work more effectively appealing to you from all sides. I trust that you will take up this work as soon as convenient taking into consideration all the existing conditions. The responsibilities that rest upon you are fully appreciated by your Honorable Body and it is superfluous for me to go into this phase of the case, but I must congratulate you upon the confidence reposed in you by your constituents in selecting you to take charge of the large expenditure of money which it falls to your lot to handle, that you will accept the duty and execute it properly as conceded by all.

The Council should be especially commended for their apparent solution of the water question in securing for the town a contract on a business like basis and extended protection from fire to the more remote districts of the town and added facilities in that respect by increasing the size of mains and we hope an adequate supply of water. The increase in the number of fire plugs from fifteen to twenty four without extra expense to the town is another evidence of the judicious and businesslike manner in which you have handled the affairs of the town, and it might not be amiss to state, without any compensation whatever accruing to you, except the honor which is the only emolument of the office, and in consideration of the arduous and time consuming labor should be heartily appreciated by all.

Alfred D. Jones—Electrician—Killed While Boarding Train.

Mr. Alfred D. Jones an electrician employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad was killed at Salisbury Sunday morning about 5.30 o'clock while trying to board a northbound fast freight. Jones had been to Wilmington Saturday and came through to Salisbury on the "owl" express.

He was getting in a new electric light plant for the Pennsylvania at Delmar and was anxious to return Sunday morning. As no passenger trains were running, he endeavored to jump the freight, but he missed his hold and was thrown under the wheels of the train passing over his body. The fragments of the body were gathered together by Undertaker Holmway and were taken charge of by the Salisbury Lodge, Knights of Pythias of which order Jones was a member. The remains were sent to Greenwood, Del., for burial.
Mr. Jones was well known in Salisbury, having for a long time been employed by the Salisbury Telephone Co., and afterwards by the Diamond State Telephone Co.

Meeting And Re-Organization Of City Council Monday.

The new City Council organized Monday night by electing W. U. Polk president. Messrs. L. W. Dorman and C. M. Brewington drew the two year terms, and Mr. W. U. Polk the one year term.

A permit was granted to Dr. Dick to build an addition to his residence on West Church Street, to cost about fourteen hundred dollars. The Council decided to extend the ten inch sewer on North Division Street 15 feet to the property of E. S. Atkins.
The annual message of Mayor Harper, full of good recommendations, was received and carefully perused by the Council. The Mayor announced that he had not completed his list of appointments, but would have them ready at the next regular meeting of the Council.

Notice.

SAFE WAS DYNAMITED

Early Yesterday Morning in The U. S. & A. Railroad Station. Held the Dynamite Attempts At Destroying Station. North Salisbury. Five Men Under Arrest. One Seriously Wounded, Another Lamed.

The immediate inhabitants in the neighborhood of the B. O. & A. Railroad Station were aroused by a quiet sharp explosion about 1.45 yesterday morning. A gang of five men had reached the safe door of the B. O. & A. Railroad and attempted with the use of dynamite to blow it open. Crying probably to inexperience their evident intention failed.

They might perhaps have succeeded in a second attempt, but for the serious injury of a member of their gang, who, in the discharge of the dynamite which must have been present, or ignorantly arranged, reserved. It is alleged, a critical wound, a piece of the safe door.

Deputy Waller Called.

Immediately after the explosion Deputy Waller received a call from Eliza Jones at his place just opposite the Depot and immediately rushed to the scene where he was joined by Chief of Police Woodland Dabaron, but the frustrated would-be robbers had made good their escape and little evidence of them except their work remained.

At The Depot.

The people in the vicinity of the station hearing the noise had assembled and there was much excitement. One piece of steel pipe forced by the dynamite shock from the safe ran through the ground floor, where the safe was located. One piece broke through the partition then through the window on out into the yard toward Division Street. They succeeded only in breaking off the outside casing of the safe. Mr. W. D. Parker, living near the station, was aroused by the report, and immediately suspecting the nature of the commotion was soon in view of the perpetrators, who, passed by his home on going to work. Mr. Parker says an injured man was leaning upon one of the pillars and they were gesticulating and talking excitedly.

The station was not damaged beyond the shattering of glass or five windows and the burning of partitions in a place of plain floor through it. The wounded man was taken to the N. Y. P. & N. crossing, where he was left by his partners, who then went to a neighbor's house and there was a man near there who had been injured by the three or four south bound train. Mr. Wm. Tinsie, the neighbor, looked up his house and took the man to the Peninsula Hospital.

Man in The Hospital.

At first it was thought the wound was fatal, as the steel came out in his back, exposing one of his lungs.

Dr. Dick was called in and examined a piece of steel about six inches long, three inches wide and 1/2 inch thick from his back. It is not thought he is out of danger. His name John Avery as his name, and that more his home, said he was seeking work, and was injured by the 3 o'clock express.

Four More Brought In.

In the meantime Waller, had driven by county road to Delmar and Delmar town walked the railroad tracks, evidence pointing to the others having taken a northerly direction. At Delmar it was learned that four suspicious characters had been seen through that town about 4.45 yesterday morning. The officers have been in touch with neighboring towns and close watch was being made. Deputy Waller now went to Laurel having received intelligence that three men had been arrested there to await the coming of the Wicomico authorities. These, however, were released on the arrival of Waller, who was sure they were the wrong men, and three more were arrested on the arrival of the morning freight train. Laurel, after a lively chase and shot of fire arms about the town.

The freight conductor told the officers of a fourth man who had been shot to get aboard about two miles south on a hunk was made the day after a chase to Broad Creek, where he made a stand refusing to surrender, he was at length captured by the three other brigands in Salisbury on the 1.45 express yesterday afternoon and landed in the hands of Sheriff Bradley in the Salisbury Jail. Up to the present they have refused to disclose their names or place of residence.

Steel Fits Door.

The piece of steel taken from the wounded man at the hospital was tried on the safe door at the depot. It fits a missing part there. That who attempted the robbery were armed, except, but the man who was shot, had a knife, and the man who was shot, had a knife, and the man who was shot, had a knife.

How About The New Corset

While a season changes everything in fashion from a woman's hat to her shoe, the most radical change this season has been in the corset. Past modes have been laid aside. Diagonal seam corsets are on the wane. Every figure that can be, is moulded into a slender tapering waist, with higher bust effect; a drooped, close-fitting hip; a comfortable easy bust, with plenty of room for natural breathing space. That, in a word, is the science of the new corset. Needless to say that an unusual number of shapes are essential.

The store is at the very pinnacle of best in style and number of models. No pains have been spared to bring ultra-best, as well as most accurate in line and fit.

There are several points to be studied in the intelligent selection of a corset. Individuality above all; and to some extent the gown that is to be draped over it. Whether it be Princess frock, Princess girle or Princess effect, the right corset is to be found here.

Corsets for such are longer below the waist, almost a skirt. There are specially tractable, clinging materials for this sort of corset. The lines, the boning, indeed the entire corset, is modeled to give longer allness to the waist.

But here's a corset here for every style of gown or suit, and for every figure. The range for choice is wider than in any other store—it is merely a question as to preference.

Gretchen Corsets are ours exclusively—and we are proud of them.

Redfern Corsets are in high favor with "dresy" women.

R. & G. Corsets are excellent—and there are the P. H. Royal Worcester, Memo, Warner's Bustproof, Thomson's Glove Fitting, American Lady and W. H. Reform.

Farris, Equipoise, Waists and E. W. Waists, Farris Bass Supporters, E. W. Bass Mies, Ideal Waists for Children, Rose Support, Ideal Sashes, Silk and Tape Girdles, Anterior and Posterior, Silk and Linen.

This is a complete corset store—you should know it.

every citizen of the town that has its progress and material advancement as its aim.

Our Police Department is one of the most important to the peace and quietude of our town, and upon them the responsibility rests in bringing about a state of affairs whereby the citizens of the town observe not only the laws of the State in regard to crime but in observing the Ordinances upon our Statute Books. I respectfully ask a co-operation of the Council in this respect to impress upon our Police Department the degree of lawlessness in which the citizens of our town are observed. It only requires that a case be allowed to remain in the street or placed there without proper authority, or the violation of various other Ordinances which are innocently violated by our citizens because of the lax manner in which the laws are enforced, and allowing them to remain on the books as far as the spirit of the law is concerned, that these persons be properly approached by the Police and the Ordinances explained to them, with the understanding that unless the nuisance is abated and the act not be committed again that they will have to suffer the consequences of the Ordinance. I ask this co-operation on the part of the Council because of the negligence on the part of our Council the town has suffered a lawsuit whereby it has been called upon to pay damages which money is needed very badly at this time for a better purpose.

To that organization which deserves nothing but commendation and praise for its valiant efforts and heroic work in protecting our property and our lives from the ravages of fire, I would most heartily commend the Fire Department to your generous consideration, extending to it a helping hand and receive its consistent aid. The chief and every member of the department, in making the sacrifices for the benefit of the town and its citizens, being actuated by the high motive of patriotism and devotion to the town of which they are a part, should receive the well earned word of commendation from your honorable body, and the feeling of gratitude from every citizen.

Your honorable body should be especially commended for the financial condition of our town, having secured its indebtedness very materially during the past two years by paying about $10,000, leaving an indebtedness of about $4,000, and the town being run on a cash basis, notwithstanding the extra expenditure in the way of laying sewers for the town and shelling North Division Street to the city street division Street and street William Street, which has required thousands of bushels of shells and mounds of surfaces of the system. "I can truthfully say that just two boxes of Cuticura Soap and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent surprised me, as the skin was peeling off my baby's hands and face, and he was suffering awfully. When the eczema first appeared he was very healthy, but as he flesh rapidly. But as soon as I commenced to use the Cuticura Remedies he started to mend. I keep on using the Cuticura Soap, as I think it is an indispensable article around the house. At my baby weighs thirty-seven pounds and is only seventeen months old, you can imagine the torture he endured. My neighbors can vouch for this statement as being correct. # TRUSTEES SALE

REAL ESTATE
Water Mills
FINE TIMBER
Factory Stock
Salisbury Property

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court for Worcester County, Maryland, in and to the effect that the following real estate and personal property, to-wit: the water mills, fine timber, factory stock, and other property, belonging to the late Edward White, deceased, and to his heirs, do hereby sell at public sale to the highest bidder, at the Court House, Salisbury, Maryland, on

SATURDAY,
JUNE 2, 1906,

at the hour of 3 o'clock p. m., all the following real estate and personal property:

"New Hope Mills" and Rights.

FIRST: All that piece or parcel of land, situated in Willards Election District, in Worcester County, Maryland, being all the New Hope Mills with all the privileges thereto belonging, also all the land thereto attached, and described as follows: BEGINNING at the west end of the old capmill where formerly stood the saw mill, thence in a westerly direction by and with the county road to the east end of the Ebenezer Davis lot to the mill pond, thence with the mill pond to the beginning; also all the land lying between the said county road and the land of Jack Lewis on the south, containing in all about one acre of land, and being the same property which was conveyed to Edward White by Henry Dennis et al., by deed dated May 7, 1897 and recorded among the land records of the said county in Liber P. M. S. No. 2, Folio 308. Together with all the water rights and privileges appurtenant thereto. This is a valuable water mill and should command a good price.

Wood and Timber—Pittsburg District.

SECOND: All that valuable tract of wood and timber land, situated in Pittsburg Election District, in Worcester County and State of Maryland, on the east side of the County road, leading from New Hope to "Farnell's Bridge" on the Pocomoke River, bounded on the north by the land of Elmer J. Cooper, formerly belonging to Edward White, and bounded on the east by the land of "River Swamp" and bounded on the south by the lands of John Eljah Traut, containing 18 acres of land, more or less, and being a part of the same land which was conveyed to Edward White by Levi D. Gordy et al., by deed dated Dec. 25, 1898, and recorded among the land records of the said county, in Liber P. M. S. No. 4, Folio 300.

"Forks Mills" and Rights.

THIRD: All that lot or parcel of land, situated in Parsons Election District, in said county and state, on the county road, leading from Salisbury to Parsonsburg, and about five miles from Salisbury, being all that valuable water mill property which is commonly known as the Farnell E. Jones Mills, "Hastings Mills," or "Forks Mills," including all the mill, mill privileges, water rights, and all other rights, ways, privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging, the mill lot being bounded on the south by the land of John S. Hastings; on the east by the lands of E. M. Watson, George R. Parsons, and land now or formerly owned by D. J. Parsons; on the north by the land of John Lank; and on the west by the land of John S. Hastings, containing five acres, more or less, being the same property which was conveyed to Edward White by Thos. B. Leyfield by deed dated May 11, 1899, and recorded in Liber J. T. T. No. 11, folio 553. This is a desirable mill property and is one of the most valuable water powers in this vicinity.

The Hudson Tract.

FOURTH: All that farm or tract of land, situated in Pittsburg Election District, in Worcester County, Maryland, adjoining the lands of Edward White, Robert Shows, Robert Baker, and the heirs of Robert White, containing 44 acres, more or less, being the same land which was conveyed to the said Edward White by John H. Hudson, by deed dated August 28, 1898, and recorded among the land records of the said county, in Liber J. T. T. No. 12, Folio 14.

Swamp Timber.

FIFTH: All that tract of land, in said county and partly in Worcester County, Maryland, near "Oliver's Bridge," on the south side of the said county road, leading from Salisbury to Parsonsburg, and adjoining the lands of James D. Mosey, containing 25 acres of land, more or less, being the same land which was conveyed to Edward White by John H. Hudson, by deed dated Dec. 25, 1898, and recorded in Liber J. T. T. No. 12, folio 147.

32 Acres of Pine and Oak.

SIXTH: All that piece or parcel of land, situated in Parsons Election District, in Worcester County and State of Maryland, bounded on the south by the land of E. M. Shockey; on the east by the land of Jas. A. Hall; on the west by the land of Solomon Shockey; and on the north by the county road leading to Salisbury, containing 32 acres, more or less, and being a part of the same land which was conveyed to the said Edward White by George W. Phillips by deed, dated May 18, 1891, and recorded among the land records of Worcester County, in Liber S. M. S. No. 4, folio 175. This land is covered with a fine growth of pine and oak timber and is very valuable property.

owned by the farm lands of John S. Jones, on the south by the lands of Henry T. Jones, and on the east by the Pocomoke River, containing 80 acres more or less, and being the same land which was conveyed to Edward White by James B. Williams, by deed dated July 27, 1898, and recorded in Liber J. T. T. No. 14, folio 407. This land is covered with gum, ash, pine, and cypress timber.

Valuable Salisbury Property For Building Lots, Wharfe and Business Sites On Water and Near Rail, Tract Of Fast Growing Timber.

SEVENTH: An undivided one third interest in and to all the following real estate situated in Salisbury Election District, in Worcester County and State of Maryland, including some valuable building lots, manufacturing sites and river frontage:

Let No. 1. All that lot of land, situated on Mill Street, and fronting thereon 100 feet, and extending back therefrom 300 feet to the Pocomoke River, being designated on the plat filed in the proceedings of the sale of the real estate of Gordon H. Todd, by and for the heirs of the said E. S. Adkins and Elmer V. White, in all the property named in the Seventh paragraph of the Trustee's Sale, will also be sold at the same time that the interest of the heirs of Edward White is sold, so that the purchaser or purchasers will get the whole interests in the whole property.

Let No. 2. All that lot or parcel of land, situated on Lake Street and lying between Lake Street and the Pocomoke River, and having a front on both Lake Street and the Pocomoke River, with a varying depth of from 300 feet to 320 feet.

This property is sub-divided into smaller lots as will be seen by reference to the aforesaid plat, and is therein designated as Lots Nos. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13. Division No. 10, each of which subdivisions or lots has a frontage on the said Lake Street and the said river of 100 feet.

This property will first be offered in accordance with the sub-divisions of the said plat, and will then be offered as a whole, with the understanding that if the bid for the same as a whole shall be equal to or exceed the sum of the bids received for the several lots separately, the bid for the whole will be accepted; but if the aggregate of the bids for the separate lots shall exceed the bid for the whole, then the separate bids will be accepted.

This is a rare opportunity for manufacturing sites for industries of whatever size and taken as a whole, such an opportunity for acquiring such an extent of river frontage comes few times in one's lifetime.

Let No. 3. All those two lots or parcels of land, binding on Lake Street, and extending along the same for 905 feet, more or less, from Gordon Street to the property of David W. Wooten, and extending back from Lake Street to Cypress Street, containing 9 1/2 acres, more or less, and being all of Lot No. 1 and Lot No. 2, of Division No. 14 on the plat aforesaid, except a strip of 40 feet in width along Lake Street sold from Lot No. 3 to David Wooten.

The greater part of these two lots is covered with a fine growth of pine and cypress timber.

Let No. 4. All those three lots Nos. 1, 3 and 11 of Division 18 on the said plat. Lots 1 and 3 are mostly covered with pine and cypress timber. All these lots platted as aforesaid will be offered as a whole and then separately, with the understanding as given under Lot No. 2.

Valuable Tract of Pine and Clear Land.

EIGHTH: All that farm or tract of land, situated in Worcester County, Maryland, in Dennis Election District, on the east side of and binding on the county road, leading from Powellville to Snow Hill, bounded on the north by the land of Albert Perdue; bounded on the east by the "River Swamp" of the heirs of Edward White, and bounded on the south by a big ditch separating this land from other land of the heirs of Edward White, containing about 30 acres of timber land, and about 40 acres of cleared land. The timber is fine thrifty pine and is estimated at $50,000 to $60,000 feet. This is a valuable farm of 60 acres, and will be offered as a whole. The cleared land and timber land will then be offered separately, with the understanding that if the bids received for the separate parcels shall exceed the bid received for the same as a whole, then the separate bid will be accepted; but if the bid for the whole shall exceed the sum of the separate bids, then the bid for the whole will be accepted.

Farm Well Set in Young Pine.

NINTH: All that farm or tract of land, situated in said district, county and state, adjoining on the north the lands of E. T. Shockey; on the east and south the land of George Harrison; and on the west the land of Lambert Adkins and William Davis mill pond, containing about 30 acres, being a part of the same land which the said Edward White obtained from William Davis, by deed dated June 16, 1894, and recorded among the land records of Worcester County, in Liber S. P. T. No. 8, Folio 428. A part of this land is well set in young pine timber.

32 Acres of Pine and Oak.

TENTH: All that piece or parcel of land, situated in Dennis Election District, in Worcester County and State of Maryland, bounded on the south by the land of E. M. Shockey; on the east by the land of Jas. A. Hall; on the west by the land of Solomon Shockey; and on the north by the county road leading to Salisbury, containing 32 acres, more or less, and being a part of the same land which was conveyed to the said Edward White by George W. Phillips by deed, dated May 18, 1891, and recorded among the land records of Worcester County, in Liber S. M. S. No. 4, folio 175. This land is covered with a fine growth of pine and oak timber and is very valuable property.

What Does It Mean

to list Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policyholder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit, and the policyholders use them either to help pay premiums or to buy increased insurance. The policies of the obtain special and peculiar advantages which are not combined in the policies of any other company. Examine these advantages, before placing your insurance. You owe it to your family to have the best.

ACADIA BUTTER

has been on the market eight years, and during that period the demand has doubled and tripled a thousand fold or more.

It is used by some of the largest consumers in New York and Philadelphia—firms who make quality the very first requisite in a butter product. It supplies the tables of some of the best hotels at Atlantic City, and has been sold as far north as Canada.

The ACADIA BUTTER we offer you here at home is the same high-grade article that supplies the table demands of the big cities and hotels referred to above. Sold in the same hermetically sealed packages and made by the same faultless process.

If your grocer doesn't keep Acadia Butter, drop us a postal and we will fill you who has it.

The Sacred Cod.

In describing how the "sacred insect" killed the fish and bill, Henry

B. Needham narrates in the World's Work some interesting anecdotal history. Senator Hayburn said:

"What Senator here will cast a vote against a measure which provides that articles of merchandise offered for sale shall be properly branded? Who is injured by compelling the dealer in the commodities of life to tell the truth about them, to mark them for what

This cry in the wilderness was too much for Senator Lodge. He was forced to his feet. All he did was to offer an amendment permitting the use of preservatives in goods packed for export. But it was enough. Senator

Lodge had disclosed the reason for his opposition to the bill—his devotion to the Sacred Cod. Many people wonder what has caused the downfall of the codfish bill. Senator Lodge knows—knows that boric acid and not salt is now used to preserve codfish, hence

the shoe leather quality which constituted the codfish bill will not improve. Senator Lodge came more for the cod—for the cod-preserving industry—than for the cod-fish bill.

Remembering Senator Hoar's praise of

"the exquisite flavor of the codfish, sauced, made into balls, and eaten on a Sunday morning by a person whose theology is sound and who believes in the five points of Calvinism"—recalling the famous "fishball letter," who can doubt that the Massachusetts statesman, if alive would have fought to emancipate the backbone of the American Sunday breakfast?

Careful Thorough Prescription Work

Sometimes you imagine that you have to wait a long time for the medicine, but if we give it to you in less time, it would NOT be such good medicine.

No matter how busy we are, every prescription is prepared carefully and thoroughly; no part of the work is slighted in any detail. It must be right before we let it go out of our hands.

You may think at the time that we are being too particular, but that is due to your anxiety and impatience. In your calmer thought you will admit that we are right, and will thank us for giving such RELIABLE medicine. Our methods have the commendation of all the physicians who have had occasion to know about them.

NEWS FROM DELMAR.

Base Ball Winning Interest. Home Club Ahead. Annual Commencement Exercises. Sunday Passenger Trains. Other Notes.

The ball game on Friday last between the Delmar Club and the Wilmington Conference Academy Club of Dover on the Delmar grounds was attended by a large number of enthusiastic rooters for the home club. Delmar took 12 runs, Dover 7.

A game on Thursday with the Greenwood Club was won by Delmar with a score of 4 to 2. Time about one hour and twenty minutes.

The baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the Delmar High School was delivered by Rev. Z. H. Webster on Sunday morning. The third Annual Commencement of the Delmar, Del. High School was held in the Opera House on Monday evening. The graduates were Miss Anna Isabel Francis and Mr. William Stephens. Prayer was offered by the Rev. G. J. Hill of the M. P. Church. The salutatory and an oration on "Character" was delivered by Miss Francis. "The American Boy" was the subject of an oration by Mr. Stephens, who delivered the valedictory. The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. John M. Arters on "Education." The speaker paid a tribute to the "home, the church, and the school," as the bulwarks of American institutions. Superintendent John D. Brooks after a few remarks of a humorous and pleasing character, presented diplomas to the graduates. Closing remarks were made by Mr. C. N. Jefferson, principal of the school, Elder A. B. Francis and Rev. Z. H. Webster. Music was furnished by an orchestra composed of Mrs. F. E. Lynch on the piano, Miss Helen Lowe and Walter Venables, violin, S. M. Ellis, Cornet and F. A. Robertson, baritone.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Missionary Baptist Church will hold a strawberry and ice cream festival on Saturday evening, June 2nd, on the vacant lot of Hon. W. L. Sirman, corner First and State streets.

Miss Helen Wooten of Laurel, was the guest of Miss Daisy E. Culver, several days this week.

Elder H. C. Ker is announced to preach on Monday evening next at the O. S. Baptist Church at 8 o'clock.

Charles E. Elliott died at his home in this town on Wednesday morning after a lingering illness of consumption complicated with typhoid fever. He was the son of the late John M. G. Elliott and was in his thirty eighth year. His wife and two children survive him. Funeral services were conducted at the M. E. Church, of which he was a member, on Friday afternoon, and the body interred in the family lot at the cemetery.

Commencing, May 27th, Sunday passenger trains on the Delaware Division will leave Delmar 7.00 a. m. and 8.47 p. m. Arrive at Delmar 10.58 and 7.35 p. m.

Dance By Young People Monday— Italian Music.

DEMOCRATS HAVE LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC

Gathering in Baltimore Thursday, And If Coming Events Cast Their Shadows—Before These Indicate A Democratic Victory Throughout The State. Resolutions Adopted And Congressional Convention Dates Selected. The Outlook.

Every county and every legislative district was represented when Chairman Vandiver called the state central committee to order Thursday. The meeting was held in rooms adjoining the democratic headquarters at the Eutaw House, Baltimore.

Dates for the several congressional conventions were selected and resolutions regretting the serious illness of United States Senator Arthur Poe Gorman were adopted.

No dates were selected, however, for the congressional conventions in the Third and Fourth districts, both of which are in Baltimore City. It will be impossible to select the date until after a conference with the Republicans, who, according to the primary law, must hold their primaries on the same day as the Democrats.

The large attendance, notwithstanding the business was in a measure perfunctory, occasioned surprise.

The meeting was called to order shortly after one o'clock by Chairman Vandiver.

Mr. Vandiver On The Outlook.

Mr. Vandiver said: "I am glad to be able to greet you with the gratifying declaration that the general condition of the party in the state is encouraging, and our prospects in the coming campaign are good. Notwithstanding all the disadvantages under which our last campaign was conducted, we succeeded in maintaining control of both branches of the General Assembly. Our majority in the House of Delegates was a slender, but the work of the session on the whole was most admirable, and may well be referred to as justly entitling our party to continued confidence and support."

"The large reduction of our state tax rate from 28 1/2 cents to 16 cents on the hundred dollars as the immediate result of the adjustment of the state's long disputed claim against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, is especially worthy of commendation. The settlement of the oyster question marks an important era in the history of the state, and it is hoped that under the provisions of the new law oyster culture may be stimulated and our oyster industry restored to something like its former activity and value."

"It will necessarily take some time to prove the practical workings of the new system, and no large revenue is to be looked for until the shell fish commission can mature its plans as prescribed by the statutes, and substantial leases of available oyster grounds can be made."

"Our work here today is simple, and can easily be done. It is merely to name time and places to hold conventions to nominate candidates for Congress and to nominate associate judges for Baltimore city."

Cheerful Forecast.

"Strong hopes are entertained all over the country that the elections next November will give to the democracy control of the House of Representatives. We must do our part in Maryland to bring about so important a result. To this end the work of registration must be thoroughly and systematically attended to, and on election day in every precinct our full vote must be polled."

"The time was when Maryland sent a solid democratic delegation to Congress. Let us all do everything in our power to again bring about so gratifying a situation. The protracted illness of our senior senator, Hon. Arthur P. Gorman, and the consequent deplorable loss of his influence, wisdom and sagacity in the adjustment of the weighty matters, which, for several months have occupied the attention of the Senate, have given the people great solicitude and caused universal sorrow."

"The latest intelligence from his sick chamber is most encouraging and justifies the confident belief that, with further rest for a short season from senatorial labors and responsibilities, his health will be restored, and that we shall continue to receive the benefit of his matured counsel and experience as our honored and beloved leader."

Sympathy For Mr. Gorman.

Following Mr. Vandiver's speech the following resolutions, which were offered by ex-Gov. E. E. Jackson were read:

"Whereas the allusion of the chairman to the protracted sickness of Senator Gorman and his long enforced absence from his place in the Senate touches us most deeply; Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we sincerely deplore the loss to the country of his services at this important time, but find great comfort in the gratifying announcement that the crisis of his illness has been happily passed and that there is now every prospect that he will be spared for further usefulness and distinction; and, be it further

"Resolved, That we send him in his sickness and suffering the heartiest assurances of our sympathy and affection, and earnestly trust that we shall soon be cheered and strengthened by his presence among us as our trusted counselor and beloved friend."

Mr. Vandiver suggested that a vote was unnecessary as every one present was ready to acknowledge the worth of the leader of Maryland democracy, when Dr. W. R. Birch, of Baltimore, remarked "that's right." His remark was echoed throughout the room and Mr. Vandiver then appointed the following committee on resolutions:

First District—Ex-Gov. E. E. Jackson.
Second District—Senator Thomas H. Robinson.
Third District—John Hannibal.
Fourth District—William F. Porter.
Fifth District—B. Harris Camaller.
Sixth District—I. G. Hilton.

The Resolutions Adopted.

The following resolutions presented by Ex-Gov. Jackson, chairman of that Committee, were adopted:

"Whereas for the purpose of the selection of candidates for Congress in the congressional districts of Maryland, and the selection of a candidate for the position of associate judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore city.

"Be it resolved, That primary meetings be held under such regulations as the members of this committee from the several counties of the state and the legislative districts of Baltimore city may prescribe for the purpose of selecting delegates to congressional conventions, to name democratic candidates for Congress in the several congressional districts of the state, to be voted for at the fall election of 1906, and that the representation in such congressional conventions shall be the same as fixed and prescribed for the nomination of candidates for Congress in 1902.

"This resolution to apply to the Third and Fourth Congressional districts, so far as it is not in conflict with the primary election law of Baltimore city.

"Second—That the members of the state central committee for the four legislative districts of Baltimore city be, and they are hereby, authorized and directed to make such provisions as may be necessary and proper, under the provisions of the primary election law of Baltimore city, for the purpose of selecting a democratic candidate for the position of associate judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore city, to be voted for at the fall election of 1906.

"Third—That at least two weeks' notice shall be given of the time and

THE MEN ARRESTED

And Brought To Salisbury For Attempted Safe Burglary Are Examined By A Baltimore Detective. His Opinion.

Detective Peter B. Bradley, of the Baltimore headquarters force, returned Thursday morning from Salisbury, Md., where he has been investigating the attempted robbery of the safe in the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway's office, at that station. He saw the five men under arrest there, and identified two of them as Frank Smith, alias Reese, alias "Specs," and Robert Davis, alias John Pennell, who were arrested in Baltimore several months ago, charged with breaking into cars of the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad.

Smith and Pennell were never looked upon as yeggmen, and Detective Bradley said he looked upon the two men as novices, but he was deeply impressed with the other three men who are in the toils. They give their names as Charles Avery, Frank Matthews and James Hawkins, but no importance is attached to the names. In order that something definite may be learned about the men, their photographs have been taken and these will be sent to all of the large cities throughout the country for identification. However Detective Bradley says there is no doubt about it being a plain case.

To substantiate his opinion, the detective said he made an examination of the safe. He found several pieces of the safe had been blown into the ceiling, so he had them dug out and found that they fitted into the hole left in the door of the safe. The piece of steel taken from Avery's back was also fitted with the other pieces, and Detective Bradley says there can be no mistake about where it came from.

Avery is 28 years old and said he came from New York. Matthews and Hawkins, the detective said, are typical toughs and yeggmen in appearance and manner. The former also claims to be a native of New York, and is 22 years old. Hawkins is the same age and says he lives in Shenandoah, Pennsylvania.

On the sweatband of a black slouch hat worn by Avery the initials, "R. E. R." were found, and his clothes were marked "James Al-lison & Co., 222 and 224 Market street Philadelphia." The police hope to learn something of Avery from these marks.

R. E. Powell & Co., Occupying Their Double Store.

R. E. Powell & Co.'s, new quarters were occupied Monday for the first time, and drew quite a crowd to view the changes made. The firm's office is located on the first floor of the annex, while above it is a well appointed waiting room for ladies. The annex is beautifully lighted by five of the Benjamin patent Arc-Burst lamps, with frosted shades, which give a very soft and pretty light. These have five lights each, 160 candle power to each lamp, or a total of 760 candle power in the room.

The dress and white goods and millinery departments are occupying the first floor of the new quarters, while the second and third floors are devoted to furniture, carpets, matting, wall paper and window shades.

The changes to be made in the old building—which call for a complete renovation of the interior—will not be made until the first of August, after the busy season is over. In the main store room five of the Arc-Burst lamps have been installed, two with five lights and three with seven lights, a total for this room of 900 candle power.

—FOR SALE—One pair good mules, cheap; good workers and quick. For full particulars address Samuel P. Woodcock, Salisbury, Md.

Dates For The Convention.

"Resolved, That for the purpose of nominating candidates for Congress in the several congressional districts of the state, conventions, which shall be held at the hour of 12 o'clock noon, shall be held as follows:

"For the First Congressional district, at Ocean City, on July 12.

"For the Second Congressional district, at Westminster, on June 27.

"For the Fifth Congressional district, at Cross Street Hall, on September 6.

"For the Sixth Congressional district, at Hagerstown, on September 30."

"Resolved, That a committee on resolutions be appointed by the chairman of this committee, to consist of one member from each congressional district, and all resolutions submitted to this body shall be referred to said committee without debate."

THE COMMENCEMENT

Exercises Of The Wicomico High School Which Begin Tomorrow Night And Continue, Including Friday Night. Program Arranged.

Principal Huffington and faculty, are to be congratulated on the excellent results obtained at the Wicomico High School this school year, the close of which is near, when a large class of graduates will appear for Commencement week to attest to the efficient instruction they have received.

Special commendation, to should be given for the fine discipline that has prevailed throughout and the increased interest that has been manifested in school work generally, promoted and encouraged in many thoughtful ways by the guiding minds of the High School.

Commencement Week Program.

The Commencement exercises of '06 will begin Sunday night with the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. D. B. Howard, at St. Peter's P. E. Church.

Monday night—Declamation contest, High School building. It is decided to make this a feature of the Commencement. The public is cordially invited. Contestants: Hartwell Adkins, Norman Smith, Erman Hastings, Irving Phillips.

Tuesday, which is a celebration of the Bryant and Longfellow Literary Societies of the school will be particularly attractive on account of the musical feature, there being a chorus of 50 voices directed by Miss Parkinson. The programme for the evening follows:

In Loving Memory of Mrs. Cora Ward

Mrs. Cora Ward, wife of Mr. George T. Ward, and daughter of the late Wm. F. Ward, passed peacefully away Sunday, May 13th, after lingering illness of tuberculosis of the throat.

She had been a very great sufferer for the past ten months being, at times, unable to take but very little nourishment. Although her sufferings were intense she was very patient, never uttering a word of complaint or pleading. She expressed a desire to live, as she had so much to live for, a kind husband, two dear little girls and everything to make home happy. But she had long ago submitted herself to the Lord's will. She was a devoted wife and a loving mother.

The deceased had been a member of the Protestant Church for a number of years, and was not only loved by her relatives but by all who knew her.

Besides a husband and two little girls she leaves a mother, Mrs. Sallie E. Ward, one sister, Miss Ida M. Ward, Principal of Salisbury Intermediate School, and three brothers, Willie P. Ward, David J. Ward and Virgil F. Ward, Principal of Snow Hill High School.

After funeral services conducted by her favorite pastor, Rev. Geo. Morris of Pittsville, her body was laid peacefully away in the family burying ground at Wango. The pall bearers were brothers and brothers-in-law of the deceased.

"Tell me not in mournful numbers,
Life is but an empty dream!
For the soul is dead that slumbers,
And things are not what they seem.
Life is real! Life is earnest!
And the grave is not its goal;
Dust thou art to dust returneth,
Was not spoken of the soul!"

LIMB RAW AS PIECE OF BEEF

Suffered For Three Years With Itching Humor—Doctor Did No Good—Cruiser Newark, U. S. N. Man Cured In Three Weeks.

SPEEDY CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I suffered with humor for about three years, off and on. I finally saw a doctor and he gave me remedies that did me no good, so I tried Cuticura when my limb below the knee to the ankle was as raw as a piece of beef. All I used was the Cuticura Soap and the Ointment. I bathed with the Soap every day and used about six or seven boxes of Ointment. I was thoroughly cured of the humor in three weeks and haven't been affected with it since. I use no other Soap than Cuticura now. I remain, yours respectfully, H. J. Myers, U. S. N., U. S. S. ## REOPENING EXERCISES

Of Sharptown Methodist Episcopal Church. Impassive Dedication Service. A Debt of $5000 Lived.

The Methodist Episcopal Church at Sharptown which has been rebuilt at a cost of fifty two hundred dollars was reopened on Sunday last and every dollar of the cost provided for. The closing service was the dedication which was very impressive and followed by many cheerful greetings.

Rev. H. W. Bolton, D. D., of Westminster conducted the collecting and did a splendid work. His effort was a wonderful success. His method of attracting and winning the attention of his audience was something rare. There did not seem to be a dull, dry moment in all his work. His propositions were so feasible and his promises so attractive that they were irresistible and they worked like magic. He held the people to the object in view and won a victory that was a great surprise, reaching results beyond the most sanguine expectations of the promoters of the enterprise and winning for himself the love and admiration of his audience.

The day was an ideal one and everybody seemed in the best of spirits. After the morning love feast, Dr. Bolton preached a short though highly interesting sermon after which he began his work of raising the amount of money due. In the afternoon Dr. Adam Stengle, presiding elder of Salisbury District, preached a very interesting sermon, after which Dr. Bolton resumed his work of soliciting. These two efforts had been very gratifying. The first duty of the evening was to bring up the balance and a magnificent audience to draw from. Every one seemed in sympathy with the effort and the amount was soon provided for and the doxology sung with great power. The giving was universal, men, women and children, regardless of denomination or church fellowship, gave liberally and much credit is due both young and old for such noble responses to the requests of the hour. It was a happy day in the history of the church and will long be remembered.

"REPUBLICAN PARTY—INSTRUMENT OF CONFEDERATED SELFISHNESS."

The speech of the session in the House was delivered by Representative Charles A. Towne, of New York, Thursday.

He spoke for nearly two hours and a half. At the conclusion of this speech every Democrat in the House and many Republicans congratulated him.

Mr. Towne emphasized the issue raised upon the tariff questions. He said the Republican party is controlled by influences upon which it depends for success and from which it cannot be divorced, though these influences are in conflict with the interests of the great mass of American people. He declared that the abuses of the present tariff system could not be excused or covered by the pretenses that to attempt a correction was to enter into free trade. He contended that the issue was not between protection and free trade, and that the evils of the protective system could not be disguised by crying free trade where the contention as opposed to the protective system in force was for fair dealing and free opportunity for all people. He said that the Republican party had ceased to represent the people and had become the instrument of confederated selfishness. The reaction from this confederation of selfish interests, he said, tended dangerously in the direction of socialism. The Democratic party, he contended, stood firmly between the tyranny of monopoly on the one side and the dangers of anarchy on the other; the party stood for the inviolability of private property and the defense of individual liberty.

Big Sale of Real Estate.

The sale of the real estate and valuable timber of the late Edward White in Wicomico county will be sold at public sale in Salisbury on June 2nd, at 2:30 o'clock, p. m. The property to be sold includes two valuable water mills, one located at New Hope and known as "New Hope Mills," the other located near Salisbury and known as "The Fooks Mills;" several desirable tracts of timber in Pittsburg and Dennis districts; a farm well set in young pine; four shares of stock in the Powellville Manufacturing Company; 23 acres of pine and oak; a valuable tract of pine and cleared land this being a part of the home farm of the late Edward White, and estimated to contain 850,000 to 1,000,000 feet of thirty pine timber; and interest in several desirable building lots in Salisbury. The advertisement of this sale will be found on the fourth page of the ADVERTISER. The Worcester property of the late Edward White will be sold a few weeks later, the advertisement and description of which will appear in next week's ADVERTISER.

Valuable Farms To Be Sold.

Probably the history of Dorchester county does not record an instance when five of the most desirable farms in the county were offered for sale at one time. This fact, makes the sale of the Radcliffe farms the most important sales of real estate that has ever taken place in the county. Moreover, the extraordinary location of the farms makes it the most valuable offer ever made to the people. Situated a few miles from Cambridge on the main county roads, with the buildings and fences in fine condition, the land in high state of cultivation, splendid water privileges and opportunities, these farms cannot be surpassed except in a few instances of private homes.

It is the ambition of many people to own a farm. Many people desire to invest money in real estate for safe keeping, speculation and investment. These farms are paying a handsome profit and with land values constantly on the increase are better than gold bonds. The expense and worry of improving an old farm is avoided by purchasing one of these highly cultivated farms.

The most important part of the sale is the liberal terms of sale—only 10 per cent. of the purchase price to be paid in cash, the balance on approved bonds. A few hundred dollars will buy any of these farms, which will be the best investment in the county to bid against the capitalist. The advertisement of sale in this issue.

Massey, containing 63½ acres of land, more or less, and being the same land which was conveyed to Edward White by King V. White by deed dated Sept. 6, 1897, and recorded in Liber J. T. T. No. 21, Folio 147.

70 Acres Gum, Ash, Pine, Cypress

SIXTH: All that valuable timber land, situated in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, in Dennis Election District, on the south side of the land of Zadock P. Henry; on the west by the farm lands of John F. Jones; on the south by the lands of Henry T. Rayne; and on the east by the Pocomoke River, containing 70 acres more or less, and being the same land which was conveyed to Edward White by Isaac S. Williams by deed dated July 27, 1895, and recorded in Liber J. T. T. No. 14 Folio 407.

This land is covered with gum, ash, pine, and cypress timber.

Valuable Salisbury Property For Building Lots, Wharfrage and Business Sites On Water and Near Rail. Tract Of Fast Growing Timber.

SEVENTH: An undivided one third interest in and to all the following real estate situated in Salisbury Election District, in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, including some valuable building lots, manufacturing sites and river frontage:

Lot No. 1 All that lot of land, situate on Mill Street, and fronting thereon 100 feet, and extending back therefrom 300 feet to the Wicomico River, being designated on the plat filed in the proceedings of the sale of the real estate of Gordon H. Toadvine, by L. E. Williams, Trustee, in No. 871 Chancery as Lot No. 6 of Division No. 7.

This property is well located as a manufacturing site, being immediately on the river, with the railroad passing directly in front of it.

Lot No. 2. All that lot or parcel of land, situate on Lake Street and lying between Lake Street and the Wicomico River, and having a front on both Lake Street and the River of 900 feet, with a varying depth of from 300 feet to 350 feet.

This property is subdivided into smaller lots as will be referred to in the foregoing plat, and is therein designated as Lots Nos. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13, of Division No. 10, each of which subdivisions or lots has a frontage on the said Lake Street and the said river of 100 feet.

This property will first be offered in accordance with the subdivisions of the said plat, and will then be offered as a whole, with the understanding that if the bid for the same as a whole shall be equal to or exceed the sum of the bids received for the several lots separately, the bid for the whole will be accepted; but if the aggregate of the bids for the separate lots shall exceed the bid for the whole, then the separate bids will be accepted.

Lot No. 3. All those two lots or parcels of land, situate on Lake Street, and extending along the same for 305 feet, more or less, from Gordon Street to the property of David Wooten, and extending back from Lake Street to Cypress Street, containing 9½ acres, more or less, and being all of Lot No. 1 and Lot No. 2, of Division No. 14 on the plat aforesaid, except a strip of 40 feet in width along Blake Street sold from Lot No. 3 to David Wooten.

The greater part of these two lots is covered with a fine growth of pine and cypress timber.

Lot No. 4. All those four lots, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and northeast half of No. 7 of Division 18 on the said plat. Lots 1 and 2 are mostly covered with pine and cypress timber.

All these lots situated as aforesaid will be offered as a whole and then separately, with the understanding as given under Lot No. 2.

Valuable Tract of Pine and Clear Land.

EIGHTH: All that farm or tract of land, situate in Wicomico County Maryland, in Dennis Election District, on the east side of and binding on the county road, leading from Powellville to Snow Hill; bounded on the north by the land of Albert Perkins; bounded on the east by the lands of the heirs of Edward White; and bounded on the south by a big ditch separating this land from other land of the heirs of Edward White, containing about 38½ acres of cleared land. The timber is fine thirty pine and is estimated at 850,000 to 1,000,000 feet. This is a valuable farm of 30 acres, and will be offered as a whole. The cleared land and timber land will then be offered separately, with the understanding that if the bid received for the separate parcels shall exceed the bid received for the same as a whole, then the separate bid will be accepted; but if the bid for the whole shall exceed the sum of the separate bids, then the bid for the whole will be accepted.

Farm Well Set in Young Pine.

NINTH. All that farm or tract of land, situate in said district, county and state, adjoining on the north the lands of E. T. Shockley; on the east and south the land of George Harrison; and on the west the land of Leber Adams and William Davis mill pond, containing about 30 acres, being a part of the same land which the said Edward White obtained from William Davis, by deed dated June 16, 1894, and recorded among the land records of Wicomico County, in Liber S. P. T. No. 6, Folio 468. A part of this land is well set in young pine timber.

32 Acres of Pine and Oak.

TENTH: All that piece or parcel of TIMBER LAND situate in Dennis Election District, in Wicomico County and State of Maryland; bounded on the south by the land of S. E. Shockley; on the east by the land of Jas. A. Hall; on the west by the land of Solomon Shockley; and on the north by the county road leading to Salisbury, containing 32 acres, more or less, and being a part of the same land which was conveyed to the said Edward White by George W. Phillips by deed, dated May 13, 1891, and recorded among the land records of Wicomico County, in Liber S. P. T. No. 4, Folio 316.

This land is covered with a fine growth of pine and oak timber and is very desirable property.

About 30 Acres of "River Swamp" Gum, Cypress and Maple.

ELEVENTH: All that Lot or parcel of land, lying and being situate in Pittsburg Election District of Wicomico County, being the "River Swamp" land belonging to the Levi D. Gordy place, and bounded on the North by the lands of Frank Gordy, on the East, the lands of Robert J. Baker, on the South by the land of Edward White, The Hudson Tract, and on the West by the uplands of Hiram J. Cooper, containing 30 acres of land, more or less, and being a part of the same land which was conveyed to Edward White by Levi D. Gordy et al. by deed dated the twenty third day of December, in the year eighteen hundred and eighty eight, and recorded among the land records of said county in Liber F. M. S., No. 4 folio 309.

John J. Forger

By Grace Charles

Copyright, 1906, by E. C. Parcells

"Then you have no excuse to offer?" Marion's voice was dangerously even. Dick Gordon hated those cold, accusing tones.

"I have no excuse—to offer," he confessed angrily. "The woman I am to marry should be content with my statement that there was a good reason."

"Unfortunately she is not," said Marion as she laid the ring on his desk. "I cared enough about the matter to come to your office to see you about it. Since you want to be independent, I give you back your entire independence."

His face white with anger, Gordon threw open the door and stood there as she passed through to the next room. Over in the corner John J. was busy with the mail, but he looked up with a smile on his freckled face to smile upon her as she went out. John J. approved of Marion.

Gordon went back to his desk. The golden circlet lying there was too much for his composure, and, with a groan, he threw his arms forward on the desk and buried his head upon them.

It had all been very silly and yet very tragic. He had meant to write Marion that there was a meeting of the promoters of the L. and F. railroad and that he would have to be present to furnish them with estimates. If he could land that order his success would be assured, and in the prospect of winning it he had forgotten to write.

They were both high strung, and in the morning she had demanded an explanation of his broken engagement without having waited for him to call up on the telephone he had refused to offer any explanation, and when she had called on his office they were both too tired to arrive at an understanding.

He sprang nervously up, to tell John J. "You don't go home," he thought. "The office should have been half an hour ago!"

"I'm going now," explained John J., with unusual meekness. "But you better go up and see Miss Marion and tell her you're sorry."

Gordon grasped John J. by the shoulder and propelled him into the outer door.

John J. watched her anxiously. She, while that youngster insisted that he would be sorry in the morning if not just then. The encounter had at least served to rouse Gordon, and he went uptown to the club to spend a miserable evening trying to pretend to himself that he did not care about the broken engagement.

John J.'s "You'll be sorry in the morning if you don't now" was prophetic. Dick moped over his desk all the morning, unable to do any work. A dozen times he reached for the telephone to call Marion up and ask her forgiveness, and each time he set it irresolutely down again, declaring to himself that Marion should have known that he had a good excuse and that he should have waited until he could call her up. It was on her account as well as his own that he was worried about that contract, and if she could realize that a half mentioned engagement might have slipped his mind under the pressure of more important matters that was her fault, not his.

Half a dozen times during the morning John J. stole into the room to remind him that those figures for the L. and F. had to be sent out that evening. Each time he was met with a torrent of rebuke. Then he put on his hat and went out of the office, though his luncheon was not until 1 o'clock.

He knew where Marion lived, and the statement that he had a message for her was enough to get him past the door. Presently the butler came back wearing a solemn frown.

"Miss Darling does not care to receive the message," he said. "You tell her I want to see her myself," announced John J.

For a moment the butler hesitated, and through that hesitation was lost. Somehow John J. usually got what he wanted, but he was the only person not surprised when Marion sent down word that she would see him.

"I want to tell you about Mr. Gordon," he began as the butler closed the door. "Say, he's awful about the place. He can't do any work, and he can't keep his hands off the telephone. If he don't quiet down and write those railroad people he's going to lose the chance of his life."

"Why do you come to me?" she asked coldly. "I have nothing to do with it."

"Quit your kidding," urged John J. "You heard you yesterday. You didn't ask me, but your words came through the partition like they were built for you. You threw him because I forgot to bring you a letter yesterday. It's all my fault for forgetting to bring up the letter."

"Sure," was the easy reply as John J. dug in one of his pockets. "He was in a hurry, and I took it on the machine for him. Just tell him you're sorry over the telephone, so's he can go to work."

Marion tore open the letter. "Dear friend," it ran. "I am sorry I can't come to see you tonight, but there's some guys I must see about that railroad matter and I can't come. I'm sorry, but you see this is awfully important, and I know you won't mind. Don't dance with any of the other fellows. I'm sorry I can't come. Yours till death."

It was signed with his full name, and Katherine's eyes twinkled as she read it over. John J. watched her anxiously. As the smile came over her face his own assumed a look of satisfaction, and as she replaced the sheet in its envelope he sprang forward.

"Does it go?" he demanded. "Will you telephone him?"

"It goes," she smiled as she crossed the room where the telephone stood. He followed her across.

"Don't give me away," he pleaded hoarsely. "Don't let on that I forgot to give you the note."

"I won't," she assured as she raised the receiver from the hook. With instinctive politeness she crossed the room and pretended to look out of the window while she was speaking, but the sharp ears would listen, and when she called to him he knew that it was all right and that the important letter would be written.

"It is all right," she said as she came toward him. "I have telephoned Mr. Gordon, and he understands. It was very good of you to come up and tell me, John."

"Something had to be done," he protested, "and there wasn't anybody else to do it."

Marion leaned forward and kissed his freckled cheek. "I should be very jealous of you, John J., if you were a woman," she said. "You care a great deal for Mr. Gordon."

"He's all right," assented John J., "if he does have a mad spell now and then. I just let him rave till he gets over it; then he's sorry. You ought to try that."

"It's good advice," she smiled. "You didn't tell him that I was up here?" she asked as he paused at the door.

"No," she assured. "Then I should have had to explain about the letter."

"He don't like to have me butting in," explained John J. as he slid through the doorway.

It was not for several days that Marion told Dick of the pitiful little forgery made to bring things out right and showed him John J.'s idea of a love letter, with its inked over rubber stamped facsimile of his signature, but it was a happy moment for John J. when Dick shook his hand, man fashion, and thanked him for what he had done.

"Forget it," was the only suitable response he could think of, but Dick and Marion cannot.

Changes in Pronunciation.

It requires no very profound knowledge of English literature to ascertain that the pronunciation of the language has undergone a vast change during the last three centuries. The shrewd conjecture has indeed more than once been hazarded that the works of the Elizabethan dramatist would be unintelligible to a modern audience if the native and original pronunciation were adhered to, and certain, at all events, it is that in many well known passages of Shakespeare the very rhythm of the line imperatively demands a strange and unaccustomed accentuation of certain words. With the peculiarities of a later period most people are sufficiently acquainted. That gold was gold and that chaga was chaga during the Augustan era is matter of common knowledge. And who can forget Pope's description of Atticus:

Dreading even fools, by flatterers beset, and so obliging that he ne'er obnoxious?

The last mentioned mode, as well as the two others, lingered on well into the last century and was habitual with Lord John Russell, though they are all probably by this time as rare as Roebuck for Russia and rarer than Spav for Spas—Chambers's Journal.

How Arnold Studied Logic.

Here is an interesting story told in the life of Archbishop Temple: Matthew Arnold got leave, at the last moment, to take in "Logic for Dilettantes" instead of "Euclid," which he could never master. The day before the examination he went to Jowett, who was his tutor, and asked how he could learn the subject in time, as he was wholly ignorant of it. Jowett said his only chance was to go to Temple and see if he would try to teach him in one day. Temple consented and, starting about 9 o'clock in the morning, talked continuously, allowing two pauses of half an hour each for meals, till past 2 o'clock next morning. Arnold had been provided with paper, but took no notes. He lay back in his chair with the tips of his fingers together, saying from time to time, "What wonderful fellows they were!" Soon after 2 o'clock a. m. Temple sent Arnold away to get some sleep, after which he satisfied the examiners in logic. He answered every question.

The Art of Not Hearing.

The art of not hearing should be learned by all. There are so many things which it is painful to hear, very many of which if heard will disturb the temper, corrupt simplicity and modesty, detract from contentment and happiness. If a man falls into a violent passion and calls all manner of names at the first words we should shut our ears and hear no more. If in a quiet voyage of life we find ourselves caught in one of those domestic whirlwinds of scolding we should shut our ears as a sailor would furl his sail and making all tight, wait before the gale. If a hot, restless man begins to inflame our feelings we should consider what mischief the fiery sparks may do in our magazine below, where our temper is kept, and instantly close the door. If all the petty things said of a man by headless and ill-natured idlers were brought home to him he would become a mere walking pincushion stuck full of sharp remarks. If we would be happy when among good men we should open our ears when among bad men we should shut them. It is not worth while to hear what our neighbors say about our children, what our rivals say about our business, what fools say about our affairs.

SNOBISHNESS IN THE ARMY.

The objections of Admiral Sampson to the promotion of an enlisted man because he did not possess the social qualifications for becoming an officer are recalled by the remarkable social code which brought a Lieutenant of the coast artillery before a court-martial at Governors Island. It appears that a sergeant who has served five enlistments, with an honorable discharge for each, occupied a seat in a theater which proved to be next to one purchased by the Lieutenant. The officer ordered his subordinate to move to some other seat, and upon his refusal had his own seat changed. The incident was noticed by the captain of the company, who preferred charges against the snob of conduct unbecoming an officer.

It was fortunate that this particular act of snobishness was witnessed by a superior officer who was ready to take prompt action. The abuses of military autocracy in the German army have shocked the world. Any attempt to foster such practices in the American establishment cannot be too strongly reprobated. But it is a curious instance of a trend, frequently noticed, toward imperialism rather than Americanism in the military service.

MACHINERY CLEANED CLOTHES

This Process Removes Dust Quicker Than Beating and Brushing.

An ingenious device for brushing clothes, in lieu of the more conventional clothes brush, has been introduced into a London hotel. It is an adaptation of the vacuum cleaner, now extensively used for cleaning carpets, furniture et cetera. By this apparatus every particle of dust or dirt in a person's clothing can be removed much more quickly and thoroughly than with a clothes brush, which only removes the surface dust of the apparel. In the basement of the hotel is installed a small air pump driven by an electric motor. From this a long tube extends to the suction nozzle of the apparatus, placed in the vestibule of the hotel. An attendant passes this nozzle quickly over the clothes of the customer, and all the dust is drawn from the cloth into the machine.

Dying Moments of Reptiles.

A Viennese observer has spent several years in studying the dying moments of various reptiles, and has published some interesting data on the subject. He notes that reptiles die nearly always between midnight and midnight and morning, and but rarely in daylight. Most reptiles seem aware of their approaching death, writhing out particular places and there awaiting the end, while those whose lives are spent underground come to the surface before death. Many reptiles, such as snakes, chameleons, crocodiles and lizards, show the approach of death in their faces, a peculiar and unmistakable expression coming into their eyes.

My Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your letter of the 14th enclosing me a statement and asking me to exercise the options given me under my policy.

I have a heavy insurance and the annual premiums are considerable, and for this reason I believe I will accept the second proposition, yet I am somewhat uncertain as to what to do and would really like to hear from you before determining, getting your view of it.

I have policies in a number of different companies. This is the last one that I took out and in my opinion is the best policy that I have, therefore, as a matter of course, I must be pleased with it. After insuring for fifteen or more years, it is to be supposed that one may learn something as to how to insure, therefore the fact of the last being the best may in some degree depend upon this.

Upon hearing from you, if you desire me to write a separate letter expressing my satisfaction, I will do so with pleasure. I have $13,000 on my life and only wish that all of it was as satisfactory as this.

Yours truly, JOHN R. PATTISON.

CORDIAL INVITATION

ADDRESSED TO WORKING GIRLS.

Miss Barrows Tells How Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Helped Working Girls.

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female ailments, especially those who are obliged to stand on their feet from morning until night in stores or factories.

Day in and day out the girl toils, and she is often the bread-winner of the family. Whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, she must go to her place of employment, perform the duties exacted of her, smile and be agreeable.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach. In consequence of frequent wetting of the feet, periods become painful and irregular, and frequently there are faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden.

All these symptoms point to a derangement of the female system, which can be easily and promptly cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Abby F. Barrows, Nelsonville, Athens Co., Ohio, tells what this great medicine did for her. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

It felt my duty to tell you the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier have done for me. Before I took them I was very nervous, had dull headaches, pains in back and periods were irregular. I had been to several doctors, and they did me no good.

"Your medicine has made me well and strong. I can do most any kind of work without complaint, and my periods are all right."

"I am in better health than I ever was, and I know it is all due to your remedies. I recommend your advice and medicine to all who suffer."

It is to such girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand and sends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Her long record of success in treating women's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

At present an effort is being made at army posts to have the men interested in athletics generally, and while it has been tried at some with indifferent results, Colonel Hall, commandant at Fort Leavenworth, and Captain E. L. Dues, Eighteenth Infantry, author of "Duties Manual of Callisthenes," which is in use in the army, have enlisted quite a rivalry among the enlisted men of the many branches of the service represented at the fort. The commandant has set aside days for athletic contests and time for men to practice.

During the fall of 1905 a series of athletic contests was held and a silver cup presented to the winning team. Cash prizes from the post exchange fund were also offered to the best individual contestants. First field meets were held and the different companies in each battalion represented. The company having the best athletes was then placed in competition with the best company of some other battalion. The final events were among the best individual athletes of each company, and the enthusiasm aroused was sufficient to convince the authorities that these athletic contests should be held every year.

It was no unusual sight to see from one hundred and fifty to two hundred men out daily practicing for two events. An athletic field near the main parade grounds was constructed with a quarter mile running track, enclosing it. Here such contests as wall scaling, tent pitching, mule packing and the usual college athletic events were arranged. Excellent time was made in all. The wall scaling, which is the most exciting and interesting of the twelve events, was a ten foot wall in thirty-three seconds. All army records were broken by these athletes, and nearly every man of the three thousand either took part or stood about the field to cheer his favorite.

The authorities at Fort Leavenworth think they have, in a measure at least, hit upon a plan to keep men from deserting in keeping them interested. The athletic feature, they feel, should be introduced into every army post in the United States, Hawaii, the Philippines and Alaska.

Barefoot American Soldiers. Barefooted soldiers may soon form a novel feature of the United States army. At any rate, Inspector General Burton has suggested that the efficiency of the Philippine scouts would be improved if they were required to go without shoes, especially in the field. That would be a return to the primitive state and customs of the scouts, who in the old days went about without shoes, with no notion of stockings and shoes, to say nothing of the military leggings which now grace the shanks of that valuable agent of the government. It may be advantageous, it is pointed out, to have the scout equipped with a light canvas shoe for garrison use, but he is considered as at present almost unclothed with the weight of what most people would regard as the necessities of life, especially of the life in the field. It is reported that beyond the clothing on the back of the scout, he does not need more than a blanket in which to wrap himself at night. Altogether there is no more economical soldier of the government, so far as the necessities of the service are concerned.

THE CURE FOR PAUPERISM. Prominent Englishmen seeking a solution for the problem of the unemployed are considering a suggestion emanating from the poet, William Watson, that adobe walls be constructed along country roads for the use of pedestrians. These, he says, "would give the ordinary walker a sense of security from the bicycle and the motor car." Such an extensive constructive scheme would drain London and other large cities of their unemployed, spreading them over the whole country. In the United States, considerable legislation would be necessary to put such a plan into effect, but possibly the suggestion could be given a trial in England with less delay. It is a novel idea to come from a poet.

THE END OF NIAGARA. Niagara, according to a Canadian government report, will last. If the water is allowed to run over its precipice about 3,000 years longer, says the New York Globe. By that time the process of wearing away the cliff will be completed; the cataract will back clear up to the margin of Lake Erie, and that lake, being nowhere so deep as the cataract is high, will be drained dry, save for a river of the size of the St. Clair, the Detroit, and the Niagara flowing through its bed.

President Roosevelt is striving to save Niagara. But the cynical advocates of the diversion to the purpose of turning the wheels of manufacturing may maintain that if all that water is sent through a tunnel instead of over a cataract, the cliff will last indefinitely.

However this may be, we think the people would rather leave Niagara to the course of Nature. They would rather leave it to thunder on in its sublimity, even if, by the end of 3,000 years, no cataract is there. What it should be saved from is not its natural fate, but an unnatural one.

GO WEST, YOUNG WOMAN. The commercial clubs of Big Horn County, Wyoming, are raising a fund to be used in attracting marriageable young women from the States to the latest State census the county contains only 118 unmarried women to 1,261 bachelors. A bureau of publicity is to be established which will call attention to the many desirable business opportunities for women offered in the county. Big Horn merchants declare it is "of the utmost commercial importance that more women become inhabitants of the county."

This latter statement is significant. Women are not only the shoppers, but the buyers. The larger proportion of women in the population, the greater the prosperity of the merchants. So even the married merchants of Wyoming have a personal interest in the movement.

A considerable number of Eastern women wage-earners became Western wives, the result would doubtless be an increase in the wages of Eastern men, thus helping to solve a perplexing problem.

TEMPERANCE IN GERMANY. The action of Germany's minister of public works requiring railroad authorities to prohibit the use of alcohol by their employees while on duty is somewhat remarkable in a country where "everybody drinks."

More than one railroad in this country has adopted similar restrictions for its employees, and the community contains no more sober set of men. The order in Germany includes ticket collectors and other station employees as well as those actually at work on trains. The order has created some dissatisfaction, but none on the part of the traveling public.

As Santo Domingo always keeps a large surplus supply of presidents on hand the disappearance of one now and then cannot make much difference.

LESSENING ARMY DESERTIONS

Methods Adopted at Fort Leavenworth With Good Results.

The serious problem that is now confronting the War Department is how to prevent desertions from the army. The soldiers men are coming more to regard the oath of allegiance which they take upon entering the service as not binding, and on this subject the Secretary of War in an annual report speaks at some length.

"The loss to the government on account of desertions is roughly estimated at about $400,000 for the year 1905. It (desertion) has been called the 'bane and disgrace of the arm.'"

War's annual report recently submitted to Congress.

The report of the Inspector General of the Army for the fiscal year 1905 shows that there were 6,512 desertions from the army during the year, or 11.07 per cent of an average enlisted strength of 59,976. The report of the Military Secretary for the same period shows that the desertions were 6.8 per cent of the whole number of enlisted men in the service during the year. That was 96,246.

What is the War Department doing to prevent wholesale desertions? Fort Leavenworth, where desertions are fewer than at any other army post, despite the fact that it is the largest in the United States, having an enlisted force of 3,000 men, ninety-nine per cent of the privates have better sleeping quarters and better food than they ever had in civil life; their barracks are models of sanitary construction; they have porcelain-lined bathtubs, lavatories of slate, with running water, and nickel-plated fixtures; electric lights in their bunks, looking as an dining rooms; warm bedclothes, the best and warmest of outer clothing for winter, good light and heavy underwear, tur gloves and fur caps and heavy overcoats for winter marching; steam heated quarters, a reading room and a good library. In each barracks are pool and billiard tables, and the gymnasium, which is also used as an entertainment hall for the enlisted men, having a large stage, drop curtain and scenery in it, has in connection a big swimming pool, where the men may swim both summer and winter. This building is considered the largest used for this purpose in the United States army.

All these conveniences are for the mental and moral welfare of the enlisted men, but until recently the War Department had been neglecting the physical. It provided gymnasiums, but did not show the men what to make of them. All men, it was suggested by a high army officer, are interested more or less in athletics. The soldier has had his "setting up" exercises to give him a good carriage for years, but this form of exercise becomes tiresome to him.

At present an effort is being made at army posts to have the men interested in athletics generally, and while it has been tried at some with indifferent results, Colonel Hall, commandant at Fort Leavenworth, and Captain E. L. Dues, Eighteenth Infantry, author of "Duties Manual of Callisthenes," which is in use in the army, have enlisted quite a rivalry among the enlisted men of the many branches of the service represented at the fort. This latter statement is significant. Women are not only the shoppers, but the buyers. The larger proportion of women in the population, the greater the prosperity of the merchants. So even the married merchants of Wyoming have a personal interest in the movement.

A considerable number of Eastern women wage-earners became Western wives, the result would doubtless be an increase in the wages of Eastern men, thus helping to solve a perplexing problem.

TEMPERANCE IN GERMANY. The action of Germany's minister of public works requiring railroad authorities to prohibit the use of alcohol by their employees while on duty is somewhat remarkable in a country where "everybody drinks."

More than one railroad in this country has adopted similar restrictions for its employees, and the community contains no more sober set of men. The order in Germany includes ticket collectors and other station employees as well as those actually at work on trains. The order has created some dissatisfaction, but none on the part of the traveling public.

As Santo Domingo always keeps a large surplus supply of presidents on hand the disappearance of one now and then cannot make much difference.

CANADA'S PROGRESS.

The Dominion of Canada is attracting more attention from the people of this country than formerly, says the New York Herald. The development that has taken place in the past five years is as marvelous in some respects as that of the United States. The progress of Canada is identical with those of the border states, especially the northwestern states, and Quebec. It is not surprising to learn that the immigration to Canada is heavier from these sections.

Many thousands of Americans have crossed over the border in recent years and met their lot with the Canadians. From January 1 to October 1, 1905, nearly 35,000 have settled there, nearly one-half of the number coming from North Dakota and Minnesota. Two hundred and sixteen of this new population are from Pennsylvania. Some credit, however, must be given to the capitalists of the United States, who have been interested in almost every industrial enterprise in the Dominion, and who may be comforted with the reflection that what prosperous Canada adds to our national and individual wealth, it is certainly worth while to have such a neighbor.

A PROTEST FROM THE TOMBS. As a nation Korea has ceased to be. All the Powers have recognized its demise and have published obituaries. Japan, as heir and executor, has taken charge of its estate. This being the case, it is disconcerting to find the deceased marring the tranquility of the obsequies by sitting up and protesting that it is not dead. That is what the Korean government is doing, however. In an address transmitted to the authorities at Washington, the defunct sets forth that it is still among the living.

Korea may still have claim on life; but it will have difficulty in convincing other nations of the fact. It need not be surprised if the response to its entreaties is a scornful admonition to "go and get a reputation!"—and an army and navy. As Japan will see that it does not get either its fate is sealed.

THE CURE FOR PAUPERISM. Prominent Englishmen seeking a solution for the problem of the unemployed are considering a suggestion emanating from the poet, William Watson, that adobe walls be constructed along country roads for the use of pedestrians. These, he says, "would give the ordinary walker a sense of security from the bicycle and the motor car." Such an extensive constructive scheme would drain London and other large cities of their unemployed, spreading them over the whole country. In the United States, considerable legislation would be necessary to put such a plan into effect, but possibly the suggestion could be given a trial in England with less delay. It is a novel idea to come from a poet.

THE END OF NIAGARA. Niagara, according to a Canadian government report, will last. If the water is allowed to run over its precipice about 3,000 years longer, says the New York Globe. By that time the process of wearing away the cliff will be completed; the cataract will back clear up to the margin of Lake Erie, and that lake, being nowhere so deep as the cataract is high, will be drained dry, save for a river of the size of the St. Clair, the Detroit, and the Niagara flowing through its bed.

President Roosevelt is striving to save Niagara. But the cynical advocates of the diversion to the purpose of turning the wheels of manufacturing may maintain that if all that water is sent through a tunnel instead of over a cataract, the cliff will last indefinitely.

However this may be, we think the people would rather leave Niagara to the course of Nature. They would rather leave it to thunder on in its sublimity, even if, by the end of 3,000 years, no cataract is there. What it should be saved from is not its natural fate, but an unnatural one.

GO WEST, YOUNG WOMAN. The commercial clubs of Big Horn County, Wyoming, are raising a fund to be used in attracting marriageable young women from the States to the latest State census the county contains only 118 unmarried women to 1,261 bachelors. A bureau of publicity is to be established which will call attention to the many desirable business opportunities for women offered in the county. Big Horn merchants declare it is "of the utmost commercial importance that more women become inhabitants of the county."

This latter statement is significant. Women are not only the shoppers, but the buyers. The larger proportion of women in the population, the greater the prosperity of the merchants. So even the married merchants of Wyoming have a personal interest in the movement.

A considerable number of Eastern women wage-earners became Western wives, the result would doubtless be an increase in the wages of Eastern men, thus helping to solve a perplexing problem.

TEMPERANCE IN GERMANY. The action of Germany's minister of public works requiring railroad authorities to prohibit the use of alcohol by their employees while on duty is somewhat remarkable in a country where "everybody drinks."

More than one railroad in this country has adopted similar restrictions for its employees, and the community contains no more sober set of men. The order in Germany includes ticket collectors and other station employees as well as those actually at work on trains. The order has created some dissatisfaction, but none on the part of the traveling public.

As Santo Domingo always keeps a large surplus supply of presidents on hand the disappearance of one now and then cannot make much difference.

AN INTERESTING EXPERIMENT.

The Lithuanian people of Wisconsin, pointing the way to a social and economic experiment which may sometime have great influence on the history of this country. These people, who are of a thrifty and industrious race, have combined in a society to establish what would practically be a whole county in the Columbia river valley in the State of Washington. Each person out of the 10,000 who join the society will put in $100, and the $1,000,000 thus obtained will be used in starting industries and laying out farms and towns in the chosen area, which is presumably an irrigated one.

The principle of combination in colonies, on a large scale, has not been generally applied heretofore in this country because it has not been necessary. People have preferred to "go it alone," and that is the best way when it is practicable.

Doubtless their entire success depends on the quality of the business management of the enterprise, but management in such a case is not difficult. It follows a more or less beaten path, in which all the pioneering has already been done.

Intentioned Insects. A delectable garden where the flowers are out at about noon is a regular spot for bees and wasps and even the big bumble bee has been seen to refuse to invade. From the out stain of the plant on sunny days about noon a juicy exudes that seems to be the main midrib of intoxicants for the insects, and for two or three hours afterwards the won't-go-home-till-morning state is very apparent. The industrious, steady-going bees, misled into tasting it, will first stagger then drop to the ground and with head down attempt to drag themselves home, only to finally roll over and give up to it. Presumably they recover and are ready to try it again if the temptation remains. If not, they take up the burden of work and probably have some excuse to offer for time lost and no returns. Bees and wasps and bumble bees are not white ribbons if opportunity offers.

Beil With the Wall of a Child. An anti-hill is made of tiny pebbles, cuples a position of honor in the center of the city of Seoul, Korea, is said to be one of the largest in the world and is called "the bell with the wall of a child in its voice." When first cast the bell sounded with a harsh and cracked note, and the superstitious emperor, fearing an ill omen, consulted with his magicians. These gentlemen held a long confab and finally stated that the bell would never sound right until a live child was given to it. The mass was then melted again, and with remorseless cruelty a live baby was thrown into the molten metal. The wall of agony uttered by the little tot, the bronze seemed to be repeated every time the bell was tolled, and today the Koreans still claim that the wall of a child can be heard in the voice of the metal.

Old Time Carving Terms. In an old number of a magazine issued more than a century ago we lighted upon a list of different terms used at "tables of elegance" in the days when Queen Charlotte came as the bride of the young and handsome king. From this list it would appear that nothing in the way of game was to be carried. The correct phrase was to "cut up" a turkey, to "rear" a goose, to "unlace" a hare or rabbit, to "wing" a partridge or a quail, to "sally" a pheasant, to "dismember" a hero, to "high" a woodcock, to "swallow" a crane and to "lift" a swan. Beef and mutton were "carved," of course, and the sporting men prided themselves by using appropriate sportsman terms when the spoils of their morning's work made its final appearance on the table.

Breakfast in Japan. Breakfast, which in Japan is eaten at sunrise, is light and dainty. It commences with a small fruit, a persimmon usually. Then kamaboko is served, which is white fish pounded with a stone masher, then rolled into little balls and baked brown in radish oil, though butter could be substituted. The inevitable tea completes this simple meal. Luncheon, a mid-day meal, begins with a soup. Chirashi is a thin soup made of the bones of a large fish, strained and then boiled again with mushrooms. It is served in little bowls without handles, no larger than a cup. Struck is a delicious kind of rice cake, partaken of at luncheon. The rice is boiled to a paste, then cut into thin cakes, and fried in oil. A sauce made of red beans is poured over it.

How an Ant Goes to Bed. An anti-hill is made of tiny pebbles, which are piled about an entrance hole. At night the ants take these pebbles in their mouths, and, carrying them to the hole, pile them one upon the other, as men build a wall. After the hole is filled up, except one tiny place at the top, the last ant crawls in and with her head pushed up against the hole from the inside, this stopping it up entirely. Then all night long it will be seen, but about eight o'clock the next morning, if one looks very closely, one may see a pair of tiny feelers thrust out through the cracks between the stones. Then an ant pushes its way out and behind the first comes another, and another, until the whole family comes journeying out.

Checking Old Age. Physiologists long ago noted the fact that "burden of years" which weighs down the physical man is in reality the burden of osseous deposits with which his system in its various parts is increasingly clogged. To retard this process is simply a question of "vituals and drink." Confine yourself as closely as possible to those articles which contain the smallest per cent of caloric matter. The cereals should be largely barred. Eat sparingly of bread, and use fruit, fish, poultry, mutton and beef. Drink plain water, or better, distilled water. It is really possible in this way to prolong the period of life.

General Assembly of Maryland,

JANUARY 1906.

CHAPTER 324.

AN ACT to authorize the Board of County School Commissioners of Wicomico County to organize High Schools, one to be located in the town of Delmar and one in the town of Sharptown, in said County, and to appropriate certain moneys in the main-tenance thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the Board of County School Commissioners of Wicomico County be and the same is hereby authorized, directed and required to organize High Schools, one to be located in the town of Delmar and one in the town of Sharptown, in Wicomico County and upon the organization thereof the said Board of County School Commissioners shall forward to the Comptroller of the Treasury of Maryland a certificate that the sum of five hundred dollars each per annum be and the same is hereby appropriated to be paid by the State of Maryland to assist in the maintenance of such High Schools and that the Comptroller of the Treasury of said State be and he is hereby authorized, directed and required annually, on the first day of October in each and every year after receiving such certificate to issue his warrant on the Treasurer of said State for the payment of the said sum of five hundred dollars to the said Board of County School Commissioners for the use and benefit of said High Schools.

Section 2. And be it enacted that this Act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Approved April 18 1906.
EDWIN WARFIELD, Governor.

CARVILLE D. BENSON, Speaker of the House of Delegates.

JOSEPH B. BETH, President of the Senate.

CHAPTER 190.

An Act to create and establish a new Election District in Wicomico County to be known as the 14th or Willards Election District of Wicomico County.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland that there shall be and there is hereby created a new Election District in Wicomico County to be known as the 14th or Willards Election District of Wicomico Co., and to be formed of the Eastern part of Election District No. 4, or Pittsburg and the polling place shall be in the place of Willards.

Section 2. And be it enacted. That the boundaries of said new district shall be as follows: Commencing at the Delaware and Maryland line at a point on the County road leading from Bethel Church to Whitesville, Delaware, about two hundred yards west of the residence of Mrs. Knott Truitt now residing by and with the center of said County road to intersect County road leading from Cobb's Hill to the James H. West road at or near Quackison school-house by and with the center of said road to intersect the County road known as the Little Farlow road, by and with the center of said County road to Old Burnt Mill known also as "new mill" thence

CRISFIELD HAS A FIRE.

Twenty-Three Buildings Burn And Less May Be $15,000. Mill, Church, Odd Fellows' Hall And Many Stores And Dwellings Destroyed In Early Morning Blaze.

Fire destroyed a large section of Crisfield early Sunday morning. The alarm was given about 5 o'clock by the blowing of the ice plant whistle. The blaze was in the flour mill, containing house and wood yard of Frederick Johnson and soon the building was enveloped in flames, which spread to the adjoining buildings. The flames spread rapidly and it seemed for a while that the whole town would be swept as there was a stiff breeze blowing.

In a few minutes four or five dwellings were on fire and the flames were spread down Eighth street commonly called Cove road, toward Main street. By good work the fire was headed off from Main street. The town's single engine was brought out, but as the tide was low there was not adequate water supply available. The firemen used water from the mains and with this limited supply saved the town.

While the firemen were concentrating their efforts toward keeping the flames from spreading toward Main street the fire leaped from one building to another down Eighth street until it burned to the end of the street sweeping clean that section of the town. Twenty-three houses were destroyed in a little over two hours. These, being frame buildings, burned rapidly. Women and children escaped from the houses in their night clothes and a number of families lost much of their household effects.

This portion of the town was mostly inhabited by negroes, and the disaster is a great hardship on them. The burned mill belonged to George W. Long and was leased to Frederick Johnson. The property was estimated to be worth about $5,000, with no insurance. Mr. Johnson says his personal loss will amount to $8000 net covered by insurance.

Two of the dwellings belonged to Fred L. Godman and were partly insured; his loss will amount to $600. The African Methodist Episcopal Church was destroyed, the loss being about $5,000. Mr. Joseph Disharoon owned several of the buildings, which were insured. The dwelling of Kenney Brown, colored, was worth about $1,500, with no insurance. The loss on the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows Hall, belonging to the negroes, was about $1,000. The residence of a colored man, colored, was destroyed and his loss will be about $3,000. The stock of the Association Grocery Company, a colored firm, was destroyed. It is supposed the fire was caused by some persons who had been in the building during the night and had thrown cigarette or cigar stumps on the floor.

PLANNING IMPROVEMENTS

The N. Y. P. & N. To Shorten Ferrying Distance Across Bay To 10 Miles. By Extending Line To Extreme Point Of Cape Charles. A Double Track.

A meeting of the stockholders of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad Company has been called at the office of the company at Cape Charles City, Thursday, the 14th day of June, 1906, at 9.30 o'clock a. m., to consider and take action upon an additional issue to the extent of 10,000 shares of the Company's authorized stock, which when issued will make the aggregate capital $1,000,000, as recommended by and for the purposes stated in a resolution of the Directors adopted May 1st, 1906, a certified copy of which will be submitted to the meeting, as well as also for the consideration of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

It has been decided by the Directors to proceed at once to double track the entire system from Delmar to Cape Charles City. This improvement has been recommended by the Board of Directors, and the fact that the Pennsylvania Railroad will use the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk track as the direct route from New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk to Cape Charles, and to the fact that the large number of people expected to visit the Jamestown Exposition next year.

It is said upon the best of authority that the officials of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad will at once push the work of building the road on down to the extreme point of Cape Charles, the route of which has been surveyed. When this improvement is made the road will have only a short distance of 12 miles from the Point to Norfolk, which will be a great improvement over the present route from Cape Charles City, where the farriage is over thirty miles across the Norfolk.

STURDY FARMERS KEEP OFF ALL CATARRHAL ILLS BY TAKING PE-RU-NA.

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Pe-ru-na a Necessity in the Home.

J. B. Alexander, Publisher of the "Fruit and Floral Guide, A Magazine of Horticulture," published in Hartford City, Ind., says of Peruna:

"I was afflicted with catarrh of the throat and head for over ten years. I was treated by many physicians, but got out in cold weather. 'About one year ago I was advised to try Peruna, which I did, and I am now entirely well of the catarrh."

"Peruna is a necessity in my home. With the first symptoms of a cold we use it, and are never afflicted with catarrh."

"I advise all who are afflicted with catarrh to try Peruna. There is certainly nothing equal to it as a catarrh medicine."—J. B. Alexander.

Pe-ru-na is a Systemic Remedy.

If Peruna will cure catarrh in one place, it will cure it in any other place, because it is a systemic remedy.

Pe-ru-na Always on Hand.

Mr. Fred Schnell, Lakeview, Erie Co., N. Y., writes:

"I had been a sufferer for more than thirty years with catarrh of the intestines. I had used a great deal of medicine to no avail, so I decided to try Peruna."

"I have now used thirteen bottles and can give you the joyful tidings that I have no more trouble. I always keep Peruna on hand."—Fred Schnell.

The people generally are very much misinformed as to the nature of catarrh. Catarrh is usually believed to be confined to the head, nose and throat. Later we sometimes hear of catarrh of the stomach and catarrh of the bladder. Seldom, if ever, do we hear of catarrh of any other organs.

It is not because these organs are not subject to catarrh, nor that catarrh of these organs is not a very common disease, but simply because it is not generally known that affections of these organs may be due to catarrh.

Had Catarrh Thirty Years—Pe-ru-na Cured Him.

Mr. Gustav M. Schmidt, Spring Valley, Ill., writes:

"I had catarrh of the head and throat for over thirty years. It became worse every year. 'About three months ago I commenced to take Peruna and Manalin, and now I am entirely cured of that troublesome sickness. Your medicine is surely a blessing to mankind."

"You can truly say that you have not lived in vain, Doctor, and I thank you for the good you have done me. May you enjoy a long life to help suffering humanity."—Gustav M. Schmidt.

Dr. Hartman Makes Personal Use of Pe-ru-na.

In speaking of his own personal use of Peruna, Dr. Hartman says:

"For a number of years my professional duties have compelled me to be much on the road, traveling long distances by rail, river and day, exposed to all kinds of vicissitudes, sleeping and eating in different hotels continually, and through it all I have preserved myself from any derangement of the body resulting from catching cold."

"At the slightest evidence of a cold, a few doses of Peruna invariably checked it."

Mr. Henry Schroeder, Route 2, Napoleon, O., writes:

"I suffered for almost ten years with catarrh of the stomach and all doctoring was of no avail."

"I took nine bottles of Peruna and two of Manalin and am now entirely cured."

"I recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this disease. It is my household friend."—Henry Schroeder.

A Farmer's Talk to Farmers.

Before Dr. Hartman began the study of medicine he was a farmer boy. He was brought up on a farm in Southern Pennsylvania.

He belonged to that industrial, successful class of farmers known as the Pennsylvania Dutch, the best farmers in the world.

It was here that he early learned the lesson of pulling obnoxious things out by the roots.

Dr. Hartman's Method of Treating Catarrh.

Naturally, when he began the study of medicine his mind turned instinctively toward the removing of causes. He could not content himself with doctoring symptoms any more than his enterprising father could have contented himself by pulling off the tops of weeds to eradicate them from the soil.

The Doctor turned his attention early to the science of removing the cause of

At Work on the Farm—Praises Pe-ru-na.

Geo. H. Thompson, Raleigh, Miss., writes:

"I have been cured of catarrh by your medicines, Peruna and Manalin. I have been affected with catarrh of the stomach about all my life, and I had taken bad every spring and summer. 'I used several kinds of patent medicines, but they did me no good. I took a treatment under an M. D., who did me but little good. By this time I had got where I could eat nothing but a little soup. I had severe pains, lost in weight and could not do anything."

"I began taking your medicine, Peruna and Manalin. I then weighed 130 pounds, but after taking 17 bottles of Peruna and one bottle of Manalin, weighed 160 pounds."

"I am now at work on the farm and feel well all of the time. I eat all I want to and my friends say that I look better than ever before. I will ever praise Peruna for its healing power."—Geo. H. Thompson.

Man-alin is a modern, up-to-date, laxative, pleasant to take, mild in action and sure to overcome constipation. It is an efficient cathartic for adults and children take it readily. Full directions accompany each bottle.

ATHOL.

Rev. E. P. Perry of Maryland, with the help of the members and friends of Mt. Pleasant has organized a Christian Endeavor Society. It is hoped that they may have great success during the ensuing year.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wilson, Mrs. Jennie Graham and Miss James Evans were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Evans.

The Ladies Aid Society meets at the home of Mrs. Emma Courtney, Wednesday June 6th. Everybody invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Ware Evans visited the home of Capt. Wm. Donoho Sunday.

Large quantities of strawberries are being picked in this community this season. They are so far, a fairly good price. Mr. Harry Green of Baltimore is home for a short stay. There is a certain person whose name I will not mention at present was very glad to see him. Can any one imagine who that person is?

Miss Nellie Graham spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Blanche Elzey, of Sharptown.

We are very sorry to say that some of our young girls have left Sunday School, for what reason we are not able to say, yet there are more coming in all the time.

Miss Mae Phillips gave a party Saturday evening. Several interesting games were indulged in, and all departed at a late hour, after spending a pleasant evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Misses Lela Lloyd, Annie Truitt, Bessie Phillips, Laura Katie Evans, Eva Riggins, Ada and Dora Austin, Daisy Hurley, Ida Phillips, Helen and Mildred Lloyd, Mary Elliott and Dora Horsman; Messrs. Howard Truitt, Clark Riggins, Clarence Evans, Red Jackson, Kisting seems to be very pious at present with our young people.

Miss Katie Evans gave a party Thursday night. Quite a number of interesting games were indulged in and a very enjoyable evening was spent. Among those present were Misses Katie Evans, Daisy Hurley, Ada and Dora Austin, Eva Riggins, Ida Phillips, Mae Phillips, Annie Truitt, Bessie Phillips, Mary Elliott, Messrs. Rodney Austin, Willard Donoho, Howard Truitt, Reuben Watson, Lewis Phillips, George Lee and Howard Riggins, Stanley Bailey, Homer Bailey, Clarence Evans, and John Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Wilson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bennett, Sunday.

MARDELA.

The members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Methodist Protestant Church have rented the shop belonging to Miss Annie Bonds on Main Street and will have ice cream for sale on next Saturday evening and on Saturday evening during the week for the benefit of the church.

Words Of Commendation For Wicomico H. S. Students.

The Pocomoke Ledger—Enterprise in an article on the Inter-Scholastic Oratorical Contest held in that city has the following complimentary notice of the Salisbury participants:

"Miss Irma de Learsey Boston, of Salisbury, appeared before the footlights. Her fair face, charming personality and unusually sweet voice won the admiration of the audience and held rapid attention as with delicate art and rare skill she unfolded the pathetic story of 'Willie Baird.' The tenderness with which she dwelt upon the love of the school master for his little pupil, the aptness of expression when referring to the dog and the description of the storm contributed greatly to effective rendition and she retired amid much applause."

"George Reigart Hill, of Salisbury, mainly in bearing, prepossessing in appearance, with quiet force and marked composure of manner, Mr. Hill gave evidence of much oratorical ability, and in a voice that easily filled every corner and crevice of the crowded building, spoke in glowing and eloquent terms of 'America Supreme,' comparing her with other nations, outlining her glorious history and placing her on the highest pinnacle of power. With the characteristics of a patriot, of which the country might one day be proud, Mr. Hill left the stage amid great applause."

"The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. Correct any constipation by giving small laxative doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable sugar-coated."
