Baby's Skin Cured
My baby was about one month old, a nurse made its appearance on its forehead continued growing worse until it nearly hid the baby's body. A physician said it was eczema, and first prescribed ointment, and afterwards a solution of arsenic and good results followed. COL. HENRY PAGE,

OF BOWENSBURY COUNTY.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY!

TO BE HELD AT

SALISBURY,

ON

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11TH, 1890.

Every citizen who has the interest of good government at heart should be present and hear the live issue of the day.

TARIFF REFORM.

Discussed by the Hon. Henry Page, our nominee, and Hon. John W. Cassin, the old war horse of the First Congressional District; Hon. L. Victor Richmond, State Comptroller; Hon. Charles H. Gibson, our present Representative in Congress, and other prominent speakers. All Democrats should come out and bring their neighbors. All Republicans should come out and listen to the discussion of a live issue by live men.

Speaking at 2 and 8 p.m. Don't forget the date—October 11th, 1890.

SALISBURY, AND HER NEIGHBORS.

The completion of the R. & E. S. railroad has awakened the business men of neighboring towns to a sense of the commercial importance of Salisbury as compared with other towns of the Eastern shore. They now see the trend of public sentiment which declares Salisbury to be the Eastern Shore metropolis. The integrity, enterprise and fair dealing of our merchants are not newly discovered traits, but facts long and well known in all the adjoining towns and counties, and they have drawn custom to us which could not have been secured in any other way.

Places which were formerly isolated and cut off from communication with outside life, have suddenly been swept into the great vortex of the busy world by the new road. The desires of these localities, so long chafing under the restrictions of no railroad transportation, at once appreciated the value of the new situation, and instead of continuing to take their stock in trade to the nearest cross roads or village store to exchange it for goods bought during the war and on which war prices still prevail, they are driving behind the iron horse to that town or city where prices have been marked down and modern goods are displayed. The fame of Salisbury had already reached these really progressive people whose enlightened condition Gen. Seth's road has believed, and they are turning toward our merchants whose sagacity and shrewd foresight enables them to offer almost every commodity, and at city prices.

People once coming here will come again because they know it is to their interest. It is not a vain boast, but an incontrovertible fact that Salisbury's commercial enterprise is more varied and extensive than that of any other town on the peninsula. The people of the upper districts of Dorchester county certainly show their wisdom in coming to us. A gentleman of Vienna recently said to us that he could expend fifty dollars to better advantage in Salisbury than in Baltimore for the necessities of life. This expresses the opinion of others who have tried both.

A thing which at present operates against Salisbury is the prevailing schedule arrangement of the B. & E. S. railroad. As it is people coming here on business have little more than one hour in the place between the arrival and the departure of our trains. Our merchants complain, and in fact, it is lamentable. Eastern is not giving much because she has the best of it. Several hours are given visitors to that town in which to make their selections and purchases. If we could have a daily train to arrive here about noon as at present, and another to depart three or four hours later, we would not utter another complaint but leave the matter in the hands of our newspapers and citizens to attract to Salisbury its share of the trade the new road has opened up.

—Our colored brethren who assembled last week in district conference at Nantux, seem to have vested themselves with powers plenipotentiary in the hope of their action. They first decide to change, in a religious way, all elementary and reformatory institutions within their confines; then follows a death blow to the Maryland University Law School for not admitting colored students of jurisprudence. Next follows an avowed determination to assist the school officials of the State in bettering the condition of the colored schools, especially in Worcester county. The whole is beautifully founded up by binding the members to the "unit rule" in the matter of voting for that party which, in view of its past

COL. LEVIN WOODFORD DEAD.

Stricken Down in his Yard While Directing Some Work.

PRINCES ANNE, Md., Sept. 29.—Col. Levin Woodford, State tax commissioner of Maryland, died shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon at his home, in Princess Anne, of a stroke of paralysis received between 7 and 8 o'clock this morning.

He returned to Princess Anne from Annapolis yesterday morning, as was his weekly custom, to spend Sunday with his family. All day yesterday he was in cheerful spirits, and chatted pleasantly with his family and friends who visited him. His health seemed as good as usual. This morning after making his toilet, he stepped into the yard, and there he was found by his son, Roger, who had gone in search of him to summon him to breakfast. He was entirely helpless and speechless. He was supported into the house and thence into his bedroom. Dr. Dale and Walworth were summoned and soon discovered that he had been paralyzed, and that life could last but a few hours. Col. Woodford attempted several times to speak, but could not, and during the morning he lost consciousness. A number of members of his family were summoned, and around the death bed were gathered the entire family when the end came. His funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon from St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal Church, of which he was a vestryman.

Col. Woodford was 71 years old, a native of Somerset county, and well known in the democratic political circles all over the State. He was educated at old Washington Academy, and was admitted to the bar here over forty years ago. The late W. W. Handy was his partner. In 1851, the age of 32 years, he was elected clerk of the Circuit Court for Somerset County, a position which he held uninterruptedly until 1870. In that year he was nominated by the democrats for State controller and was elected. He served as controller for four terms, retiring in January, 1878, and immediately being chosen to the position as State tax commissioner, which was created at the legislative session of 1878. He held this office until his death. His success was to have been elected by the board of public works at its meeting this week or next.

Whom Woodford was twice married. His first wife was a Miss Abbotson, by whom one child, Mr. Arthur Woodford, survives. His second wife was a Miss Waters, sister of Hon. Levin L. Waters, of Princess Anne, and by her are three children living, Mr. Roger Woodford and Misses Beattie and Lena. His wife survives him. She has been ill for several days. Col. Woodford was instrumental in organizing, two years ago, the Somerset County Savings Bank in this town, and was its president until the day of his death. He was a gentleman of genial manners and of general popularity.

Among those mentioned for the vacancy are General Joseph B. Seth and ex-Commissioner J. Frank Turner, both of Salisbury. It is thought that there will be a number of applicants for the place, which will be filled by the board of public works.

PRINCES ANNE, Md., Sept. 30.—The funeral of Col. Levin Woodford, State tax commissioner, took place this afternoon from St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal Church, which was filled with his friends and relatives. The procession arrived at the church from his late home at four o'clock. The coffin was borne by Messrs. Roger Woodford, his son, John Woodford, Hon. Levin L. Waters, his brother-in-law, Frank Covington, W. T. G. Polk and Fortune Woodford, the last named of whom was a faithful colored servant in the family for many years.

Services were read by Rev. Dr. Martin, rector of St. Andrew's church. Rev. W. G. Woodford of New York, a nephew of Colonel Woodford, was also within the church. The coffin was borne by friends from various friends. Telegrams of condolence were received by the family from Governor Jackson, Senator Gorman, Benjamin M. Wright, of the United States House of Representatives, and others. The interment was in the cemetery attached to St. Andrew's Church. Among those attending the services at the church were: Dr. Somerset S. Waters, of the tax commissioner's office; Colonel Henry Page; Joshua W. Miles, Dr. John W. Dashiell, Rufus Dashiell, John Dale and C. W. Wainwright, H. H. Dashiell, Judge Irving, E. G. Polk, State Senator R. F. Bratton and Hon. John W. Crisfield.

That Salary List.

The fact that the six leading officials of the Chicago world fair have been told salaries aggregating $70,000 a year is attracting considerable attention. As well as the fact that that of this amount the democratic officials will receive but $15,000, whilst the republicans will get $55,000 a year. This, however, does not distress the democratic officials, as they are not in the least concerned with the matter. The republicans, who declare that the republican preponderance of salaries "seems to be the only good or encouraging feature about this thundering salary list," are not in the least concerned with the matter. The republicans, who declare that the republican preponderance of salaries "seems to be the only good or encouraging feature about this thundering salary list," are not in the least concerned with the matter.

Literally means bad air. Poisonous germs arising from low, marshy land, or from decaying vegetable matter, are breathed into the lungs, taken into the blood, and unless the vital fluid is purified by the use of a good medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, the unfortunate victim is soon overpowered. Even in the more advanced cases, where the terrible fever prevails, this successful medicine has effected remarkable cures. Those who are exposed to malarial or other poisons should keep the blood pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A Second Trip to Behring Sea.

Several Canadian sealing schooners, encouraged by the lenient treatment accorded them in Behring sea and their immunity from seizure this year, are to make a second trip there this fall. The Ottawa government advises that the British Columbia schooner, Triumph, has sailed on her second trip, for the purpose not only of demonstrating that she is not the seal in Behring sea, but also to endeavor to ascertain if the seals have taken possession of new feeding grounds.

Memory Culture.

Mr. Entor.—Through the columns of the ADVERTISER, I would like to present a few thoughts, which we suppose ought to be of some interest to the citizens of Salisbury, and readers of your paper generally.

In our varied experience we often meet with things for which we cannot account. One would suppose that every citizen of this town would be deeply interested in Mental Culture, especially in the development of the faculty upon which depends the knowledge of all things else.

Memory—some of the greatest minds in all ages of the world have earnestly endeavored to improve the memory, or to make some way by which things might be more easily remembered; and many have been quite successful in their efforts.

Thousand of prominent, reliable and well-known persons of the present age testify to the great benefits they have received from giving a few hours' attention to a system of Memory Culture taught in their midst. But why so few comparatively, of those whom you would suppose would be so glad to find something of the kind, will not stop to give an hour's attention to the subject when presented right in their midst, we cannot say.

I am well aware that various reasons may be assigned for this neglect. It may be said that the people have too many other things on hand. To this, reason would say, a person with a good memory can accomplish especially in a mental way—twice as much as one who has a poor memory. Hence the reason given is not a good one; to which all logical persons will agree.

Others say, "we have tried a memory system, and found it to equal a great deal of hard work, with little or no profit."

Then the testimony of a dozen reliable and well known persons of neighboring cities, which have studied other systems, is presented, and declares in the strongest and plainest language possible, that after spending a great deal of time and hard work over other systems to no profit, they have found that, by the use of the system, they have been able to do a great deal of work, and that, after giving it only a few hours' attention. Then to neglect to value a thing so strongly endorsed, is one of the things which seems to be difficult to account for.

Non-Resident Voters.

LEONARDTOWN, Md., Sept. 27.—A registration case was argued to-day in the St. Mary's County Circuit Court, Judge J. P. Parson presiding. The case was brought by Daniel C. Hammett and Robert C. Combs against the register, and George C. Merrick, Enoch B. Abell and Frank N. Holmes for the petitioners, who represent the registered voters of the registration law. The case was argued by the counsel for the petitioners, who were assisted by the counsel for the register. The court decided in favor of the petitioners, and the register was ordered to register the names of the petitioners.

The petitioners claimed that they had been denied the right to register, and that the register had acted arbitrarily in refusing to register them. The court found in favor of the petitioners, and the register was ordered to register the names of the petitioners.

Colored Divines in Conference.

The preachers' meeting of the Salisbury District, Delaware Conference, M. E.
Church, convened in Asbury M. E.
Church at Nanticoke Tuesday, September 23d, and continued in session three days. After devotional services on Monday of J. H. Nutter the following were appointed a committee on permanent organization: Revs. J. H. Hubbard, D.
R. Dunn, J. H. Winters, C. E. Henry and
H. Jolly.

A number of resolutions were adopted.
Among them was one relative to prisons and almshouses which reads:

Resolved, That we recommend that the Presiding Elder, after securing the privileges of the public schools and wisely exercising his influence in securing the required funds, to appoint one or more pastors or his district whose duty it shall be to visit or cause to be visited such places and hold religious services at such times and places as shall be appointed by the Presiding Elder, and that the said brother or brothers shall make report showing the number and condition of the inmates, to each preachers' meeting.

Here is their resolution on the public schools of the country:

Resolved, That we are painfully aware that there is a great need of improved facilities for the public schools for colored children in this and adjoining States, therefore be it

Resolved, That the pastors and other good citizens should take a special interest in the public schools and wisely exercise their influence in securing the required funds, and competent teachers who will perform their duties in a non-sectarian and non-partisan way.

Resolved, That we condemn the action of any school examiner or commission in appointing or retaining in any of our schools any incompetent or unworthy teacher for partisan or sectarian reasons, and that this resolution is not without application to Worcester county, Md.

Concerning the colored population in the University of Maryland, it was Resolved, That we deplore and denounce the race prejudice in the law department of the University of Maryland, which caused the authorities to exclude therefrom, and close its doors against the admission of students whose only disqualification is the color of their skin.

Resolved, That it is the honest, deep conviction of the colored people that it is not for the best interests of the black man for him to divide his vote; but that he should vote for that party which in view of its past history, its present principles and work, and future outlook, will most surely serve the best interests of his race and his country.

Resolved, That the Afro-American members in the M. E. Church are members with equal rights and privileges with all other members of the church.

The meeting adjourned Friday afternoon, to meet at Burton's M. E. Church, Accomac county, Va.

Travels in Letter.

It is now some time since your columns have had anything from our pen so we venture a few dots.

Fodder saving which in this district has been in progress since August, was completed last week. That part of the crop which took the heavy rains of a few weeks since was somewhat damaged, but the whole corn and fodder crop is greatly in excess of that of last year. Our farmers are now seeking wheat.

Our graded school here opened on Monday last week with a new corps of teachers, Mr. A. J. Dashiell, principal, and Miss Kate Venables assistant. There were some changes in the other schools of the district. Mr. Geo. N. Crosby of Wetpung, who has for many years played the part of pedagogue, has laid down the rod and with his family removed to Philadelphia where he will seek some other vocation.

Sunday, September 21st, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. J. D. Lucas, of the Bivalve M. P. Church, his pulpit was filled by Rev. B. P. Truitt from Hurlock's Dorchester county. Rev. Benny is a native of this county and his friends were much pleased at his discourse which attested that he has been making rapid progress as a pulpit orator.

The "colored brethren" have held several camp-meetings during the season.
There was a sort of protracted one in progress near here, which ran through three Sundays.

The outlook for the oyster season is now the all-absorbing topic among most of our citizens, and the country is full and kindred matters are fully discussed pro and con. It seems to be the general opinion that the prospect for this season is very poor.

A Trip over the New Road.

We had occasion to take a trip at the new B. & E. S. railroad and the country it passes through, last Thursday, in visiting the Eastern Fair. The road is well built and seems to be in first rate condition where it is completed.

It passes through a good section of country, one that will in a few years be a perfect garden, with it it passes through the best trucking section of the county.
From Salisbury to Vienna the land on both sides, is a light loam naturally dry and well drained, excellent for peaches, pears, strawberries, melons, potatoes and early vegetables. These are the crops that now pay, corn and wheat scarcely pay the cost of cultivation. The fair at Eastern was a splendid success. The first day there were about 10,000 people, fully ten thousand being in attendance on that day. The exhibits, outside of live stock, were not very interesting to those who didn't wish to take a hand in any of the various gambling schemes, such as "pool selling," "action pool," "wheel of fortune," "ringing the nag," "striking the bull's eye," etc. If the legislature authorized some of these things, which are possibly forbidden by the general laws we are not aware of it. The races were very good.

Death of Joshua H. Marvill.

Joshua H. Marvill, a prominent resident of Laurel, Sussex County, Del., died at his home last Tuesday. Mr. Marvill was a life-long resident of Sussex, having been born in Little Creek hundred September 3d, 1823. He was a shipbuilder, and afterwards engaged in the manufacture of agricultural implements.
In 1870 he began the manufacture of fruit and berry crates and baskets at Laurel, and soon built up a business that amounted to 2,000,000 baskets and crates per year. He leaves an estate valued at about $500,000. Mr. Marvill took an active interest in politics, and was prominently mentioned for the Republican nomination for Governor this year.

Reopening of the M. P. Church.

The Methodist Protestant church of this city, was reopened last Sunday with three services as previously announced.
The church has been greatly beautified by the repairs recently made.

Rev. Mr. Greenfield of Baltimore and Wm. M. Strayer, president of the Conference, assisted the pastor, Rev. C. S. Anderson, in the day's programme. The attendances were large at the morning, afternoon and evening services. Mr.
Smith, Messrs. Walton, Nichols and Graham, contributed to the musical program with their complete. Seventy dollars were subscribed toward liquidating the church debt.

A stockholders' meeting of the Building and Loan Association was held last Monday night for the purpose of voting upon an amendment to the constitution submitted two weeks previously. The amendment was adopted, thus empowering the directors to negotiate loans to the extent of $10,000.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Bits of News About Town, Gathered by the "Advertiser" Reporters.

—Hon. E. Stanley Towbin, trustee, Jas. F. Bacon and Mrs. Jennie E. Bacon, mortgagors, offer valuable real estate for sale to-day.

—Mr. H. H. Dashiell, Register of Wills for Somerset county, aspires to succeed the late Col. Woolford as State Tax Commissioner, it is reported.

—Elijah Elliott, a brakeman at Delmar was seriously hurt about the head last Saturday at Princess Anne, while turning the switch at the siding in that place.

—Mr. Thomas J. Dixon of Somerset county has been elected president of the Savings Bank of Somerset county, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Col. Woolford.

—The report of the death of Joshua H. Marvell of Laurel, Del., last week, was incorrect. Mr. Marvell was bereft of his wife, which fact the reporters got mixed, hence the mistake.

—The Rev. G. W. Bowman, formerly stationed at Parsonsburg, now at Mt. Vernon, Md., is having quite an extensive revival of religion. About fifty have professed conversion.

—Gov. Jackson has commuted the sentence of John Shelley, the colored murderer of Snow Hill, who was to have been hanged yesterday, to life imprisonment in the State Penitentiary.

—The Baptist Association will meet in Salisbury on Wednesday, 22nd of October, and worship together three days. A number of distinguished clergymen of the Baptist faith is expected on the occasion.

—Miss May Martindale, daughter of Rev. T. E. Martindale, of Salisbury, M. E. Church, has been seriously ill for several days. Her illness grew out of a surgical operation performed recently on the optic. Happily she is now improving.

—The young ladies of Salisbury have organized a cooking school. The first meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. E. H. Munford, on Thursday last. Officers have not yet been selected, but all preliminary matters are to be selected at the next meeting.

—All citizens should come out to the Court House this afternoon and evening to hear Pags, Gibson, Macgibbon, and Crisfield on the issue of the day. Republicans as well as democrats will be instructed and entertained by these forcible and trenchant speakers.

—C. W. Kenney, editor of the Sussex Courier published at Laurel, Del., refuses to discontinue his paper to any delinquent subscriber until the arrears are paid up. There is a law which justifies such action on the part of an editor or publisher, but it is seldom resorted to by peninsula journalists.

—The flowers which bloom at this season of the year are usually plentiful and flourish this autumn, especially wild flowers. This is due probably to the very warm and moist weather. Mrs. A. J. Allen, of Allen, Md., has recently sent us a fine specimen of Dahlias grown from seed she sowed herself.

—Mr. Walter Humphreys left home last Friday morning for Baltimore via the Baltimore & Eastern Shore railroad. He will enter the Maryland Law University with a view of graduating in law; meanwhile he will pursue a special course at Johns Hopkins, in which institution he has spent three years.

—Misses Margaret Jackson, Georgia Todd, Carrie Reigart, Mary Reigart, and Nettie Phillips, Messrs. Alex. D. Towbin, John B. Rider, Leonard Walker, J. Cleveland White and G. Vickers White, formed a party of trust gatherers last Friday day. They drove to the chestnut orchards about two miles from town where they spent a pleasant afternoon in opening burrs and gathering nuts.

—The registrars of voters for the several election districts of Worcester county are hereby notified to forward to James T. Truitt, Salisbury, Md., one of the Board of Election Supervisors, the number of registered voters on their books at the close of registration on Thursday, Oct. 9, as required by law.

E. M. WALTON, President Board Supervisors.

—Mr. John Parsons, who has acted in the capacity of assistant weigher, in the Port of Baltimore, has resigned after a very creditable service and returned to Salisbury. Mr. Parsons was appointed to office under Cleveland's administration, and is succeeded by an Afro-American. In asking for his resignation collector Marine said: "you know enough about politics to understand why this has to be done. We have got to make room for some of our friends."

—The Somerset Herald says: We have heard the name of Senator R. F. Brattan mentioned in connection with the next Comptrolship of Maryland. He is a recognized financier, and is widely and favorably known all over the State, and should be induced to enter the race for the nomination, the chances are that the Democratic State Convention of 1891 will choose him for that highly responsible position. We think he would make an excellent comptroller, and as good as the State has ever had.

County Commissioners.

At their meeting last Tuesday the county commissioners awarded the contract for building the election booths, rails, etc., to Robt. G. Robertson for $89.50.

Mr. Bennett was authorized to contract for raising dais and building bridge over what is called Donoho's Branch in 24 district.

Mr. Bennett reported that he had received the bridge over Culver's branch in 24 district built by F. E. Ellingworth.

Account of W. S. Smith, for ditching county roads, amount $29, approved.

Adjourned till October 28, 1890.

School Board Proceedings.

The School Board held its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday, with all the members present.

Secretary reported that he had had work done on colored school house in Salisbury, directed.

Mr. Cannon reported that he had accepted the new school house at Fruitland built by Messrs. Adkins & Ennis, and ordered treasurer to settle for same.

Secretary was instructed to reply to letter of Miss J. T. Towbin relative to the children of S. Frank Towbin, that they would be required to attend school in the district where they resided unless they were sufficiently advanced to enter the grammar school department of the Salisbury graded schools.

It was decided to employ an additional grammar school teacher for the Salisbury graded schools, to take charge of the male department of the Grammar School. For this purpose it was thought best to employ a male teacher. To accommodate the additional school, the building situated on Gay street, occupied for private purposes, was rented at $60 per year. School will start as soon as a teacher can be procured.

Trustees of Sharpstown school were given permission to have wood house built provided it does not cost more than $8.00.

Death of an Aged Lady.

Mrs. Phoebe Parker died at seven o'clock last Monday morning at her home in Salisbury, aged 82 years. Her funeral services were conducted by Rev. Wm. Munford at St. Peter's church Tuesday afternoon. The remains were interred in Parsons' Cemetery.

Mrs. Parker's maiden name was Fooks. She was a direct descendant of an old English family whose name was transplanted in young America by three women who came to this country over two hundred years ago.

Mrs. Parker was born near Pittsville, where she spent her early life. While very young she married Samuel Parker. He died nearly a quarter of a century ago. Since then she has lived a widow.

Mrs. Daniel B. Cannon of this city with whom Mrs. Parker has resided several years, is a daughter, and S. Q. Parker, Esq., of Eden is a son of the deceased lady.

Mrs. Henrietta Byrd, who died last January at a very advanced age, was a cousin of Mrs. Parker. She always been remarkable for longevity.

"Rock-a-Walking."

The people of Rockaway and vicinity will be relieved, and highly pleased to learn that we are to have a station at "Goddard's Lane."

Are there any sleeping, slow-going people among us? If so, let's have a resurrection, make a fresh start, and show the B. & E. road what stuff we are made of. Let every man turn over a new leaf and see how much fine marketable truck he can ship from Rockaway.

Our folks have been talking cannery. A good opportunity is now offered to put words into effect.

Let some lively business man start up a store and let every man who has any interest in or love for the general welfare and improvement of the community, put his shoulder to the wheel, his brains in his business and never rest till we have a flourishing trade from our station.

Installation Services.

According to the arrangements made by the presbytery of New Castle, which met in Middletown, Del., on the 7th inst., the installation of Rev. S. W. Reigart pastor elect of the Wisconsin Presbyterian Church, will take place on next Tuesday evening, the 14th, at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. W. H. Logan will preside and propose the constitutional questions, and deliver the charge to the pastor. Rev. Dr. Lafayette Marks of Wilmington, will preach the installation sermon, and the Rev. Mervin J. Eckels of Bradford, Pa., will deliver the charge to the people. The public is cordially invited to be present at this interesting service.

Wango Items.

The steam saw mills of this locality have started up after a summer of idleness. Two more are being put in operation near here.

Mr. E. G. Gordy, the photographer, is here taking pictures.

Miss Browne, our popular teacher, had the photograph of her school taken. Mr. Gordy has promises of considerable work before him.

Miss Alice B. Davis, who has been sick, is much better.

Mr. Geo. W. Leonard of this place has bought a horse recently near Salisbury of Messrs. E. S. Adkins and Ed. White, Jr.

One of the Best Farmers.

The Gainesville, (Fla.) Sun says: Talk about your big horses, Mr. D. S. Wooten, of Rocky Point, has a team of Kentucky bred mares six years old that weighs 2,700 pounds. Also a Florida raised colt, 27 months old, grass fed, that weighs 1,150 pounds. There are few, if any, larger horses in the State. Mr. Wooten is one of the best farmers in Alachua county, and takes great pride in raising fine stock and producing splendid vegetables.

SHAW AND BETH TIE MEN.

Frank T. Shaw of Carroll had secured Col. Woolford, Gen. Joseph B. Seth Commander of the Oyster Navy.

The Board of Public Works last Thursday made the appointments of State Tax Commissioner, and Commander of the Oyster Navy. Hon. Frank T. Shaw of Carroll county was appointed to the former, and Gen. Joseph B. Seth of Talbot, to the latter position.

Mr. Shaw was for several terms clerk of the court of Carroll county, represented the Second Congressional district for four years, preceding the Hon. Harman Stump, the present incumbent, and was a member of the last Legislature of Maryland, serving as chairman of the Ways and Means committee.

Gen. Seth is an ex-Speaker of the House of Delegates of Maryland, and a well known Eastern Shore politician. Lately, however, he has been giving his attention to the building of the B. & E. S. railroad, of which he is president.

There were applicants from our county for the position of Commander of the Oyster Navy, either of whom we would have been glad to have seen appointed; but, as one of these could not, it seems the appointments made will be well received with our people, especially the appointment of General Seth, who is well and favorably known in this county.

A Negro Shot at Quantico.

Blood was spilt in this county near Quantico last Saturday night. Samuel J. Evans, a rather notorious colored man of the village of Quantico, and Wm. Gillis, a white man of the same place, had a disagreement, which led to a use of weapons. Evans drew a razor and cut Gillis on the hand, making a long and ugly wound. Before either injury had been done the colored man escaped and took lodging at his sister's house about one mile from the scene of the cutting.

A warrant was sworn out against him for his arrest and placed in Constable Wm. Brady's hands for execution. The Constable, with a posse of armed men, left at once on a hunt for the fugitive who was found at the home of his sister. While inquiry was being made at the front door, the pursued man quietly made exit through a window in the rear of the house and was about to steal silently away when one of the officer's men saw him and gave the command to halt. This only increased the speed of the other, and a shot was fired, but it did not take effect. Other shots were fired which brought the fleeing negro to the ground. He was tied and placed into a vehicle and driven to town, where the party arrived at about 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

After being lodged in jail Dr. George W. Todd was summoned. The Dr. made an examination and found in the man's back a quantity of shot and one bullet track. The ball could not be located and for this purpose it was thought best that blood poison would set in and perhaps prove fatal, but that danger is believed to be passed now. Evans has a bad reputation wherever known, it is said.

The original cause of the trouble grew out of a difficulty Evans' younger brother had with a white man.

The census of Delmar showed a population of 737—370 in Maryland and 267 in Delaware.

M. H. German and W. B. Elliott have had a brick pavement laid in front of their property on Railroad ave., extending from the Union Store to the corner at the postoffice.

Mr. Jas. C. Freeny and wife of Suffolk, Va., were the cause of some amusement here this week.

The partnership heretofore existing between J. J. Ellis and Elliott & Ellis in the kindling wood business has been dissolved, the former retiring from the firm.

The protracted meeting at the M. E. church still continues.

A special train bearing A. J. Casatt, W. A. Patton and others made the run from Cape Charles to Delmar, 95 miles, on Wednesday afternoon in about two hours.

Frank Labelle, fireman on engine 82 of the Delaware Division, expired very suddenly early Tuesday morning after retiring at the bunk room. The physician was hastily summoned but life was extinct. A jury of inquest was summoned and the inquest, conducted by Jas. H. Tyre, Esq., resulted in a verdict that heart failure was the cause of his death. The deceased boarded in Wilmington at 907 E. Sixth street, and to that city the remains were forwarded on the 3:05 p. m. express. It is stated that his parents are living in Nova Scotia. He was about 35 years of age.

Security of Investments!!

The United States Review upon this subject wisely remarks: "The first thing to be considered is safety, the second, profit. Loans upon mortgages we believe on the whole to be the best investments for life insurance purposes. It is a loan upon things which are tangible. It is an investment upon which the rates of interest remain more nearly uniform than upon almost any other. The experience of companies will, we think, support this view. It may be policy to invest something in public securities on account of their convertible character; but the individual or the corporation which loans money on judiciously selected mortgages, which can be called in at once, in event of depression, is on pretty strong ground."

See the excellent quality of THE WASHINGTON'S investments is seen in the fact that on the first day of June, 1890, there remained only about one-half of one per cent of interest due and unpaid.

Twenty-three years in the Drug Business.

I have been a druggist twenty-three years, and have sold all the patent medicines which are known in this country, and can truthfully say that I have never known a remedy for Blood Diseases of more value than S.S.S. (Swiss Specific). Mr. A., a customer, was troubled with an eruption of the skin on the back of his hands, and had in vain sought relief of the best local medical talent, also of some of the most noted specialists in New York and as a last resort spent some months in Paris, France, under treatment of the physicians there, and had secured only temporary relief. After all this treatment he was finally cured, sound and well, by Swiss Specific.

Another customer, Mr. B., had suffered for many years with Blood Poison, and thought he had been cured by mercurial treatment, but the disease returned, accompanied by Rheumatism of a bad type. A dozen small bottles of S.S.S. made a perfect and lasting cure.

Indian Monks in the Capon Valley.

A region very rich in Indian remains, where quantities of stone arrowheads and other products of aboriginal manufacture have been collected, is found in the Capon Valley, West Va. Dr. J. H. Porter has reported very rich finds, and it seems as if the region were worthy of special attention from American anthropologists. One of the most interesting of these, nearly 200 feet long, is described, but has not yet been excavated. Dr. Porter's work will be the subject of a report by himself to the Smithsonian Institution.

Hopewell Again.

may come into play, but it is hoped not. The transformation which will bring back that style of civilization ought to be indefinitely postponed. Transformations in the lives of thousands of women throughout the country have taken place during the past few years. Pale, haggard, and dispirited, that have become bright and healthy. The secret? Dr. Porter's Favorite Prescription, which cures all these chronic "weaknesses" and distressing ailments peculiar to women.

Exploration of Alaska.

A bill introduced in the House of Representatives provides that the Secretary of War be authorized to send an expedition to the interior of Alaska for the purpose of making a thorough exploration and survey of that Territory, with a view of ascertaining its resources and capabilities. It is proposed that the party sent out should locate near the center of the Territory, and from that point as a base push expeditions into all parts of the interior. The party is to remain not less than three years. In this way a thorough knowledge of the topography and other features of the country may be gained. An appropriation of $100,000 is asked.

The Great Benefit.

Which people in run down state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves that this medicine makes the weak strong. It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up in a perfectly natural way all the weakened parts, purifies the blood, and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver.

To Destroy Stumps.

1. Bore a hole 1 inch in diameter, 18 inches deep, into the center of the stump, and put in 1 ounce of saltpeter, filling up with water and plugging up the hole. This should be done in the fall. In the spring the plug is to be taken out, a half a gallon of kerosene poured into the hole and set on fire. It will burn the stump to the farthest root.

Our Modern Rifles.

The range and penetrating power of the modern rifles are tremendous. The six-inch rifle will hurt its projectile through ten and a half inches of wrought iron a thousand yards in range. The eight-inch rifle will pierce thirty and three-tenths inches of iron at the same distance. The ten-inch rifle, which the rejuvenated Mantonmoh will carry ten inches of iron a thousand yards away. The twelve-inch rifle, which we are to have a supply in the future, will penetrate twenty-eight inches of iron at a range of three thousand feet.

Some one says: At ten years of age a boy thinks his father knows a great deal; at fifteen he knows as much as his father at twenty he knows twice as much; at thirty he is willing to take his advice; at forty he begins to think his father knows something; after all, at fifty he begins to seek his advice; and at sixty after his father is dead—he thinks he was the smartest man that ever lived.

BOOK NEWS for October (60 pages) is ready with a plate-plate portrait of the late John Boyle O'Reilly and nine illustrations chosen from leading books of the month.

In these times one can't read all the good books that are published, even all one would like to read. We must pick and choose. There are some among the best that we would like to know something of, and we want to tell you of some of them. One of the best is a book called "The Book News," a little book of about 60 pages, which gives you a list of all the new books, gives you a little about each one, and tells you where to get it. It is a very handy book, and one that every one who likes to read should have. It is published by the Book News Company, and is sold at 10c per copy. The imperial character of the Dress Goods stock makes it almost imperious in its command upon your attention. You may not pass by it for a complete knowledge of the Dress Goods of the season or for possible economies. Let us tell you of two sorts.

Scotch Suitings.

They strike at a single counter; grand bold plaids, modest plaids, neat checks, stylish overalls, modish stripes, the charms of the Cheviots are universally felt, rarely understood. Perhaps you may explain it by the association of rough fabric with exquisite color. At that point the dexterity is more Scotch than French. You are almost staggered by the large size of the stock, and the strength of some colors. You doubt, perhaps, take the benefit of the doubt until you see the dressmaker agree in the solution. Honest public, they are 60 inches wide, $1.50 to $2.50.

At Fifty cents. Unless you are a veritable skeptic, a Dry Goods Bear, you must be glad surprised at the Woolen Stuffs at 50 cents.

Here are Clan Plaids, Mackenzies, Graham, Fortynines, and all the rest, brilliant fresh lot at 50 cents. The style of double coat.

Beside them another lot with all the same points of honesty, also plaids, plain weave with camel's hair brown in 60c. Beyond, again, a lot of Homespun, Cheviot Diagonals in browns and grays, weave with and quality just like the clan plaids, also 50 cents.

It is pleasant to get these new products at little prices; moves the previous questions; cuts off debate about many a lot of stuffs from last year or before. A used-to-be merchant holds on to old things.

Indigestion

It is not only a distressing complaint, but it is, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mr. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:

"I have complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and caused me to lose my appetite. For more than four years I suffered under agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food disagreed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could eat and sleep, and my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention, my directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to my household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

Combined—Catching Blues on Shore.

A slight breeze ripples the ocean. The vessels sail under full sail, and the fishing boats, off on the banks, rise and fall like logs on the long ground swell. The surf breaks on the beach in great combers, which throw themselves high upon the sand and then rush back to mingle with the more congenial element. On the bluff at Seabright stands a man whose eyes, shaded by his hand, are fixed on the long ground swell. He is a fisherman, and he is waiting for the surf to break on the beach, and then he will throw himself into the water, and he will catch a bluefish.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS FROM THE FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

COL. HENRY PAGE,

OF SOMERSET COUNTY.

The New York Herald says: The constitutionality of Speaker Reed's famous quorum ruling at the last session is in a fair way of being contested before the Supreme Court of the United States. The issue was raised by the protest of a number of importers against the classification of worsteds under the recent act of Congress. The constitutional validity of this act was assailed on the ground that it was not regularly passed under Speaker's ruling. It is sustained by the new Board of Appraisers in an opinion printed elsewhere in the Herald this morning.

From this an appeal lies to the courts, and is likely to be taken by the importers. An opinion by the Supreme Court at Washington would be of exceptional interest and importance, since the question involves the validity of numerous acts of Congress as well as the constitutional procedure of the House.

Ambitious American lads may take courage from the career of the late Judge Miller, who was recently called from the Supreme Bench to the "Highest Court." He spent the early years of his life on his father's farm in Kentucky, afterward he became a druggist, then he studied medicine and became a practicing physician. Finding this unsatisfactory to his tastes and believing the natural bent of his intellect was in the direction of the law, he began the study of that profession and was admitted to the bar in less than two years. The position of Judge was the only office he ever held. No where under the Sun except in America could a boy serve in so many spheres in life.

As Ex-Secretary of the Career.

General Belknap, Secretary of War under President Grant, was found dead in his bed last Monday morning.

The principal event in the political career of General Belknap was the allegation affecting his official integrity made during the first session of the Forty-fourth Congress, when he was Secretary of War. The dramatic circumstances attending his exposure from the cabinet, for that was what it actually amounted to, although covered by the formality of a resignation, was related by the only living witness of the remarkable scene.

Before giving this narration, however, it will not be amiss to tell in brief the story of General Belknap's downfall. His resignation was tendered and accepted in March, 1876. He had already been impeached on a charge of having received bribes for the appointment of post traders, and after his resignation was tried by the Senate, but acquitted on the technical ground of want of jurisdiction.

Mr. Caleb P. Marsh of New York City, was the complainant. His claim was that the Secretary of War had asked for and had received a bribe from him in 1870, and had promised in return to appoint him to a post tradership. The Secretary's wife seems to have moved first in the transaction. It was her husband's advice to apply for a post tradership and gave him clearly to understand that he would have to pay for it. Acting on her advice, Marsh had several interviews with the Secretary of War, and was finally assured by him that he would be appointed to a post tradership, provided he could furnish satisfactory recommendations. The office for which Marsh was an applicant was at that time held by John S. Evans and Secretary Belknap indicated that Evans would be rather loath to give up his handsome perquisites, and suggested that Marsh have an interview with him.

Marsh acted on this advice and the result was that Evans agreed to retain his position and to pay Marsh $15,000 a year as consideration. This sum was subsequently reduced to $12,000, which was to be paid in quarterly installments. On receipt of the first installment Marsh sent half of the amount to Mr. Belknap. She died soon afterward and Secretary Belknap married her sister. For a time things went smoothly, but Marsh and Mrs. Belknap eventually had some misunderstanding about the money, and according to Marsh's testimony, the quarterly installments were thereafter forwarded regularly by him to the Secretary of War. The annual payment was finally reduced to $10,000.

A Costly Transaction for a Baby.

Mrs. Emma Blaine (formerly Anita McCormick) paid $1,700 for her new baby's baptism and baptismal gown. The gown of the toilet basket is ivory bound with the family monogram inscribed in silver turquoise and small diamonds. The tiny shirt and caps are made of woven silk; all the skirts, dresses and hats are of pure linen, finished with real Valenciennes lace; the beautiful flannels are hand-embroidered with white silk in Marguerite and rosebud designs, and the blankets and layette are the latest and most beautiful in art needlework. Not only is the youngest spoon silver, but the soap-box, the bottle, and the darning-needle, the fork and the plate are of sterling and there are solid gold pins for the baby's hair, chains and rings by the dozen for his baby's fingers.

Death of Justice Miller.

Associate Justice Samuel P. Miller of the United States Supreme Court, who was stricken with apoplexy on Friday afternoon last, died Monday night, at 10:30 o'clock. His wife and son were the only immediate members of the family present at the death bed scene, one daughter being abroad, while another is on her way from the west.

Samuel P. Miller was born at Richmond, Ky., April 26, 1816, and was graduated at the University of Pennsylvania. He at first studied medicine at Lexington, Ky., and practiced several years, then, in 1840, removed to Iowa. There he rapidly rose to the front rank of his new profession, further distinguishing himself as a political manager, first as a Whig, then as a Republican. On July 16, 1862, President Lincoln appointed him to the Supreme Court, of which he was the senior justice in service at that time. He was a member of the Electoral Commission in 1877, and at the centennial celebration of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States he was the chosen orator of the day. He was a devoted father, original in thought, and a decided opinionator, a man of striking appearance, and in private life temperate, kindly and sincere. He had the will and courage of a lion with the heart of a child.

The Church's Shortcomings.

Bishop Huntington in the October Forum says: More than half the religious organizations, large or small, are at present practical contradictions of the sermon on the mount. It does not need an ostentatious hierarchy to open the door for the "prince of this world," of whom the Saviour said, "he hath nothing in me," leaving him in where he does the mischief he could do by his own actions, seductions, or infidel arguments outside. He buys up the property, holds the keys of the parsonage, puts families in the foremost seats, hires and pays the choir, raises funds by lotteries and theatricals, tells the "lower classes" to stay out in the streets or patronize them with a mission chapel in the outskirts, makes a fashion plate of the female worshippers, sees to it that parish offices and all other marks of distinction are assigned to prosperous merchants, politicians, and leaders of society—never to mechanics and day laborers who have no qualifications except piety and good sense—suits the preacher to the tastes of the ruling set, and "runs the concern." What is all this parochial mammonism and snobbery but a surrender of the kingdom of the crucified to his adversary? Where is the divine brotherhood? Meantime, prudent care is taken to keep the holy language and handsome ceremonial safe, and not to put St. Dives into the calendar. —Harper's Weekly.

The romance of a Ring.

The romance of a ring, ending in the telling of a long missing link, has come to the surface in Scranton, Pa. Truth says that when City Engineer Biebert attended the State Firemen's Convention at Chester, he met Geo. Sykes, of Swarthmore. Sykes was a member of the fire department of a city which Reese F. Davis, formerly of Scranton, had traded with him just before a battle in West Virginia in 1865, in which Davis was killed, and he was anxious to communicate with Davis's relatives with a view of settling the thing to him. A few days after the appearance of this statement John R. Davis, of Pittston, and William Davis, of Bellevue, father and nephew, called on Biebert and learned for the first time the story of his son's death. Members of the family will visit Swarthmore to see Sykes and get the ring.

Roach's Shipyard sold.

The syndicate, of English capitalists known as Roach's Ship-building and Engineering Company, Limited, which was organized in England last June, and which made an offer to buy John Roach's ship-building yards at Chester, Pa., requested their offer to be accepted, and it was accepted. The company has a capital of $500,000 and the securities are divided into preference shares amounting to $300,000, and the balance in ordinary shares. There is also a debenture capital of $200,000 in 5 percent bonds of $20 each. Two valuations were made the first being $3,357,261 and the second $3,665,261. Mr. Roach was seen at his office in Chester and said that as soon as the English capitalists arrive with the money he will make the transfer.

A Matter of Nineteen Years.

Nineteen years ago Saturday morning the first great Chicago fire began, and by dawn the refugees from the North Side were pouring toward "Cow Prairie." Sunday, the 8th, had been a scorching hot day; during the night of the 9th the burned-out households were seeking shelter from a pouring rain, and on the 10th the refugees were sleeping in the snow on "Cow Prairie." Since then a second fire has devastated the city, and on the ashes have arisen the industrial structures of today, covering "Cow Prairie" as well as the rest, and the crippled community of 19 years ago is no longer to be seen in the world and inviting all creation to a World's Fair.

The New Ballot Law in New Jersey.

The new ballot law in New Jersey, tried Tuesday at the city election in Newark, N. J., for the first time. The new system worked satisfactorily, no hitches being perceptible. There was a general feeling of confidence in the new system, many supposing it complicated, and, undesired of displaying their ignorance, remained away from the polls. Very little money was used, and the "bribe" from their occupation gone. The police strictly enforced the rule keeping political workers and longers one hundred feet from the booths.

Malaria.

Literally means bad air. Poisonous gases arising from low, marshy land, or from decaying vegetable matter, are breathed into the lungs, taken up by the blood, and unless the vital fluid is purified by the use of a good medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, the unfortunate victim is soon overpowered. Even the most advanced cases, where the terrible fever prevails, this successful medicine has effected remarkable cures. Those who are exposed to malarial or other poisonous fevers should keep the blood pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The new town company just beginning operations at Bridgeport, Ala., on the Tennessee river, has sold out to syndicate headed by Robert Bonner, the newspaper man, associated with H. B. Olin and Connell and Delamater, the iron kings. They have organized a new company under the name of the Bridgeport Land and Improvement Company, with a capital of $50,000. The members of the new company went to Chattanooga Tuesday and proceeded to Bridgeport, where they take formal possession of the property Wednesday.

Another Justice Miller.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Will there soon be another Justice Miller on the Supreme Bench? That is a question which many are asking today and may also be asking in the near future. It will be remembered that President Harrison thought seriously of nominating Attorney-General Miller to fill the vacant seat on the supreme bench which was finally given to Justice Brewer. Rumor had it then that the President yielded to the arguments against the attorney-general's appointment, which were addressed to him in great numbers by members of Congress, of the bench and of the bar. Not only with these reservations, but with the fact that when another vacancy occurred he would appoint his fellow townsman and crony any way.

If he does there will be trouble. Attorney-General Miller is the smallest man in the cabinet, and he has grown weaker constantly, instead of stronger, in the estimation of the public ever since he came to Washington. He is not at all up to the supreme court standard. His management of the department of justice has been characterized by a very common-place order of ability. Indeed, his brother cabinet officers treat him with scant respect for his official capacity. The Secretary of War, for instance, has not only refused to accept his advice or jurisdiction this year, and some of the other secretaries are said to have broken even this record, whereas ordinarily the department of justice is constantly appealed to by the other departments in regard to law points coming up in the administration of affairs. The hope is openly expressed on all sides that the President may be induced again to lay aside his personal preferences in such an important matter as the appointment of Justice Miller's successor.

His Leaves a Scar.

Alexander Dumas makes it a boast that in all his works there are none unfit for girls to read. This depends largely on what Mr. Dumas considers proper literature for girls. I should not care to place some of these interesting works of fiction in a young girl's hands. I think I can prove it by taking more than I should care to take young ladies to see the French dramatizations of them. Mr. Tolstoy thinks that his peasant daughters should read and learn from his books. The strongest argument in favor of immorality, but we do not want our daughters taught this way. The child who is allowed to burn his hand that he may learn the harm of fire sometimes, and not infrequently either, carries away the scar through life.

Stage "Held Up" by a Boy.

UKIAH, CAL., Oct. 14.—The overland stage was robbed Sunday night 18 miles north of this place. The Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure box, the United States mail sacks were taken. While the robbers were cutting the mail sacks open, Driver McDonald snapped a pistol at him but it would not go off. The robber retreated and fired two shots at the driver, neither of which took effect. The robber was caught at Cloverdale yesterday afternoon. His property was valued at 18 years old and a stranger in this community. He traveled over 60 miles afoot before he was captured. He succeeded in getting about $100 from the stage. He has admitted that he committed the crime.

World's Records Broken.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The annual championship contests of the Amateur Athletic Union were opened on Saturday by a lacrosse game between the teams of the Schuylkill Navy and the Staten Island Athletic Club. The Philadelphia Flyers were beaten by a score of 7 goals to 1. John Owen, Jr., of the Detroit Athletic Club, broke the amateur record for the 100 yards dash, his time being 9.4 seconds. Copeland broke the running broad jump record, making 23 feet 3 1/2 inches. The third record smashed was the 50-yard dash throwing, Quickbomber threw the weight 32 feet 10 inches, more than two feet beyond the record.

Delaware Game Association.

The annual meeting of the Delaware Game Protective Association will be held at Dover on October 22d. Officers will be elected and other important business transacted. During the last week the agents of the association have secured evidence against four or five persons for poaching game out of season. They have the names of others and are working up evidence against them. It is the intention of the association to prosecute wherever it finds violation of the game laws. Game breakers have been tried before Justice Monaghan against William Homeward of Riverview.

Beautiful Pearls in Wisconsin.

CHILTON, WIS., Oct. 14.—The excitement caused by the discovery of pearls in the Sugar River, near Albany, in this State, has spread to this locality. The gems have been discovered in the north and south branches of the Manitowish, the Killbuck, and Mudcreek, besides numerous small lakes which lie in the country of Chilton. Specimens of the pearls have been sent to Chicago, New York and Milwaukee, and favorable reports as to their value have been returned.

An Offensive Breath.

It is most distressing, not only to the person afflicted if he have any pride, but to those with whom he comes in contact. It is a delicate matter to speak of, but it has plagued not only friends but lovers. Bad breath and its cause are inseparable. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases as thousands can testify.

A Large number of the heirs of Robert Morris, the millionaire of the revolution and Washington's financial agent during the darkest days of the struggle for American independence, have decided to bring an action for the recovery of a large tract of land in the western counties of New York, said to embrace 1,204,000 acres, and estimated to be worth something like $200,000. The heirs reside in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, and it is the descendants of Robert Morris in the latter State that have taken the initiative in an effort to recover property of which they believe the great patriot was fraudulently dispossessed, and to which they believe they have a valid claim as his heirs.

A terrapin farm is described by the Fernandina (Florida) News. It is an enclosure about twenty feet square, one half of it filled with loose sand and a tank occupying the rest of the space. The tank is below tide level, and at high tide the salt water runs in from the marsh to a depth of four feet. The sand was perforated with holes, and the owner, digging down with his fingers, unearthed some baby terrapins an inch or two long.

Farming Article No. 2.

Mrs. Brown.—I will now attempt to give you readers Article No. 2 as I promised several weeks ago.

About July 1st, 1887, we commenced preparing about three acres of corn stubs for cabbage by plowing and harrowing. It was in fairly good condition July 9th, when we commenced setting plants, using Humphreys & Tilghman's "B" Phosphate about 700 or 800 pounds to the acre. We got a fair crop. The next spring (1888) we planted the same ground in cabbage, manuring with a light dressing of night soil, composted with two loads of wood mould, or rich earth to one load of night soil. We reaped in October the young cabbages, as we have done for several years, and the result was a fine crop, using from 700 to 800 lbs. of Tilghman's "B" on a part of the patch and Woolley's No. 2 phosphate on the other part of patch. The results were a fair crop again. In the spring of 1889 we sowed the land to oats and clover seed, using the shell and rock mixture, similar to the formula named in Article No. 1. In addition we have used some hen house scrapings, as we often do when wishing to add some ammonia to the mixture. The result was a fair crop of oat hay or fodder, so called because it was cut and cured before it matures its grain in order to save the young clover, as my experience has taught me that the maturing of the grain of oats or wheat, often starves the clover, especially in a dry season or light land. This made the fourth crop in twenty-four months, and the growing crop of clover in September and it made excellent food for cattle. We didn't use any manure on the clover in the spring of 1890, but we cut about ten tons of hay at three cuttings. This was not so large a yield as rich land produces, but remember we were experimenting with very poor land, and it was heavy and continuous cropping. But by concluding with clover the land was from 25 to 40 per cent better than at the beginning. The next spring we planted the same ground in corn, paying for the labor and fertilizer expended in crop.

Many farmers say land cannot be improved with commercial manures, but I think I can prove the contrary. I am a member I always conclude excessive cropping with a clover seed. To do this I use the pulverized seed prepared by G. W. White of Salisbury, mixed as heretofore described in these articles. I use it because it is not more expensive, cheap than lime for me, and I always get a stand of the plant. The foregoing facts are from my practical experience. JAMES ELLIS.

Atkins bought of said Lowe to intersect the Spring Hill road at the corner of another piece, now laid out, and to close the old road between the last named point and the road called the Rockvale road.

Canons Asked to Withdraw.

DANVILLE, ILL., Oct. 14.—There is great opposition among the Republicans of this district to the return of Joseph G. Cannon to Congress, and the probabilities now are in favor of his defeat, though even his bitterest enemies agree that he might slip through by a small majority. He is not afraid of election expenses, and being wealthy is said to be willing to spend $50,000 to remain where he is. About half the Republican papers in the Fifteenth district are against Cannon for re-election, and to-day there was a meeting of the editors representing as many papers being present. A resolution was passed giving it as the sense of the editors that Cannon should be asked to withdraw from the campaign, and let some Republican who had the confidence of the voters take his place.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which cause painful running sores, the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the ears, eyes, nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which, unless removed by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How CAN IT BE CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula, she was a fine looking girl, but her face was covered with sores, and she was a great deal of trouble to her mother. She was given Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the lumps on her face disappeared, and she was a healthy child. J. S. CARRIE, Naughton, N. J.

ANOTHER POCAHONTAS.
An ALASKAN VERSION OF THE JOHN SMITH ROMANCE.

By Wing, a Chinese Cook, Is Capt. Avery.
By Indian, and by a party of the house. A victim had been killed. When an Indian Maiden saved his life.

Pocahontas has been outdone by an Alaskan maiden. John Smith was only in danger of having his brains spattered over the surrounding rock estate when Pocahontas rescued him with her love.
The John Smith of Alaska was not only in danger of being killed, but of being eaten. When the woman in whose eyes he found favor saved him.

The Alaskan John Smith was not a titled explorer when he fell into the hands of the savages, nor was his name John Smith. He was only a common, yellow skinned sea cook. His name is Ah Wing, and there is nothing attractive about him. He is about as homely a mixture of Chinaman and Malay private as could be found in a day's walk.
Wing Pocahontas answers to the name of Julie just now, but nobody knows what her Indian name was. She is a long young woman, with a face as fair as beauty, and the Siwash features of generations were consolidated when her face was made. Still the romance is true.

Ah Wing and Julie, now Mrs. Ah Wing, arrived here on a codfish schooner several months since, but have not gone to harbor since. They were a part of the party that came from the coast of China, in Chinatown, and submitted to an interview. They only submitted to

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

OF SOMERSET COUNTY.

RALLY, DEMOCRATS.

The following district meetings will be held in Wicomico under the auspices of the Page Democratic Club:

Watersville, Monday, Oct. 27th, 2 p. m.

White Haven, Monday, Oct. 27th, 2 p. m.

Allen, Wednesday, Oct. 29th, 2 p. m.

Pittsville, Thursday, Oct. 30th, 2 p. m.

Barnes Creek, Friday, Oct. 31st, 2 p. m.

Quantico, Saturday, November 1st, 2 p. m.

Prominent speakers have been invited to address these meetings. Hon. J. W. Mills has notified the Committee that he will be present at the Allen meeting and Hon. Levin L. Waters that he will be present at the Quantico meeting.

The Club has received a letter from Hon. J. W. Mills, offering to accept an invitation to deliver an address in the Court House in Salisbury, one day next week, notice of which will be given at a later date. Gen. Shep has been invited to speak at E. C. Springs.

The new McKinley Tariff bill seems to operate differently in different sections. For instance Congressman Dorey, of Nebraska, one day this week telegraphed the following pitiful appeal to Senator Tamm: Have manufacturers quote lower prices, and deny that the McKinley bill raises prices. If this is not done it will cost thousands of votes in Nebraska.

The farmers at last it seems are opposing their eyes. They see the practical effect of paying a dollar and twenty-five cents in October for what cost them a dollar in September. The people in this county can see the practical effect by inquiring the price of merchandise in this town. Jobbers have already advanced prices fifteen per cent.

Farmers, laborers, do you feel willing to pay this increase without an equivalent? If you do, then vote the republican ticket and keep on voting it the balance of your days.

Now that the Tariff bill has come into effect and English goods are kept out of the market, the English manufacturers are buying up American mills and bringing from England their operatives. The McKinley protected laborers must now sit on the fence and watch all this proceeding, or go to farming and grow unprotected material for market and buy their necessities of life at protected prices twenty-five per cent above what they should cost, thus protecting English laborers and turning themselves out into the cold. The former owners of these mills, who sold out at fabulous prices, can invest their money in bank stock and spend their time travelling in Europe and enjoying the luxuries of life.

Who is the protected party? The Englishman whom we are trying to choke. Of course if he goes to all the trouble to start up business in this country he will not sell at English prices, but American prices—protected prices. And this is the way we choke Johnny Bull, by putting him on top and our own laborers underneath.

Do you think the republican party intends to pass the Force Bill when congress meets in December? You have no fear of it? Well, if you don't, we, and there is but one thing under the sun that will prevent them; that is an overwhelming defeat on the fourth of November. Just as certainly as they carry the next House they will pass that bill and will do it before the adjournment of the present Congress. They dare not pass such a bill any more. But why not, if the country sustains them in what they have already done? We say unto you the day of evil is here, and the evil is upon us.

In this country, they have already applied to the United States court to have district United States supervisors of election appointed to supervise the elections in this country, to go behind the rail and watch voters, to brow beat the timid and add to the insolence of the negro. We are willing that every negro in this country have the privilege to vote. There is not now and there never has been any disposition to deprive him of that privilege, but the people are ungratefully opposed to being harassed by federal officials. It looks to such like federal usurpation, gag law, carpetbag rule. There is no condition of things to warrant such a step. It behooves every voter who has a spark of democratic blood in his veins to come out and express his disapproval of all such methods to over-ride all local authorities. It has been said that one-half of these supervisors are to be democrats. The democrats have no reputation in the matter. No true democrat will accept such an appointment or act in that capacity. There has not been such an urgent demand for a decided democratic majority in these years as there is this. See it, democrats, the country does her duty.

The Philadelphia Record of Thursday says:

The withdrawal of Delamater from the fight and the substitution of Hastings in his place at the head of the Republican ticket is a matter that is receiving serious consideration at Mr. Quay's headquarters.

Amazing as this proposition may appear to be there is some foundation for the story, which has not yet gotten beyond a very limited circle of Republican friends, but which has been more than hinted to some of General Hastings' intimates. Within the past ten days the conferences between Cameron, Quay and the Delamater stalwarts in western Pennsylvania have shown that the Republican candidate is already practically beaten.

Christopher Magee has advised Cameron that there is no earthly hope of a majority from Allegheny county; that all of the western Republican counties are in revolt, and one of them can be depended upon to give a majority for Delamater; that this feeling against Quay and his candidate was so deep that no amount of money could change the result.

It may not be out of place to suggest that our estimable County Commissioners should give the resting place of our ferryman some consideration, as stern winter is gently throwing his mantle around us for the house or office as an insufficient shelter to ward off his fury. In fact the traveling public shares with the ferryman, the comfort or discomfort as the conditions may be, during slight, though necessary detentions, and it is highly important that this matter be given some attention. This suggestion, however, is not intended as a reminder of duty neglected but to give notice of what, in our judgment, needs early attention. Wedding Glimpses.

Harper's Bazar, in a judicious editorial on wedding gifts, has this saying concerning a custom which happily is no longer countenanced by the best society: "That one may have as many recurring wedding feasts as there are wedding days, no one will deny. But that one may turn any of these festive into an excuse for beging and receiving, an excuse for imposing another domestic tax upon friends and acquaintances, no one will assert; whatever may have been the case in former times, it is not so now. The custom of giving and receiving of gifts, and we would expect its anniversary to be celebrated not in rule merrymaking, but with a sort of solemnity making such things impossible."

An Old Sore Healed.

I had a painful, annoying sore on my leg, near the knee, that troubled me for over two years. I tried various remedies, but the sore, instead of healing up, continued to grow larger, and to cause me more pain until I began to look for a cure. Through the advice of a friend, who was cured of a similar trouble, I took S. S. S., and in a few weeks was cured entirely. The sore healed up, and there is not even a scar left to mark the place.

A White Dove in Church.

A Newton, Mass., young lady saw a peculiar figure in church in a Maine town which she visited this summer. Hearing the cooling of a dove, she looked around and saw a white dove perched on the organ and listening to the music with great appreciation. She learned afterward that the dove had been a regular attendant at church for eight or ten years, being attracted by the music, of which it was very fond. It was twelve years old, and was the pet of a lady who lived near. After church the dove was taken to his Sunday-school class by a boy, and seemed to enjoy the proceedings. Unlike many church-doves, the weather made no difference to it; it was there every Sunday, summer and winter, but at his post on the organ—Newton Graphic.

Life Insurance.

Is a social duty, because no person has a right to expect society to support or provide for those for whom he himself could by a little self-denial, have made a certain provision. Society is justified in casting a reproach upon the memory of those whose selfishness leaves their widows and children a tax upon charity or legal support. Reader! Are you insured? If not get a policy at once in the "Washington" Life Insurance Company of New York.

Where Drunkenness is Unknown.

All the native people of the Kuskokwim Valley, in Alaska, are Esquimaux, says a correspondent, and from the statements of the Moravian missionaries on that river and those just made to me, I am prepared to say that those natives are wholly free from the vice of drunkenness. They are an exceedingly good-natured people, and in those villages where polygamy is still practiced, with other native barbaric customs, they have none of the savage and cruel dispositions which still adhere to the Thlingian clans, with whom I am quite familiar on the coast and among the islands of south-eastern Alaska.

Artistic Taste on the Case for Novels.

Mrs. M. C. Hungerford, in an article on "Pretty Things for Housekeepers," in Harper's Bazar, says: "As artistic taste in home decoration is now most cared for, less for less than quiet, and is used no longer upon meaningless things, but is applied to article of real use in a house."

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children's teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world.

A Disinfectant Specie.

There is no spectacle more disagreeable than that in Pennsylvania. That a party should seek support because of its policy of protection is a legitimate movement of politics. But that it should ask the friends of protection to prove their faith by voting for a candidate whose election would be the condonation of his own confessed offences and of those charged upon Quay by a multitude of his most honorable fellow-citizens, and which are universally believed to be as disgraceful and as infamous as the annals of party and this country afford—Harper's Weekly.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, Oct. 20, 1890. An event in the Fine Art history of Philadelphia.

On the third floor of our store an Oriental Bazaar has been created for the display of a collection of Textile and other articles from the far East. Our city has not heretofore seen very much of the Art of the Orient, especially in Textiles, and we are therefore exceedingly proud to bring to art lovers in Philadelphia an explosion of Rugs and Carpets from Persia and the tribes of Tartary, from towns of Asia Minor and the nomads of Syria and Arabia in variety and interest far beyond anything yet seen here or in any other American city save perhaps New York.

You do not need to take a "Ride to Khiva," to catch inspiration from the Fire Whiskers or the Arabian Nights to float down the Nile taking notes with a Howdji in order to be under the spell of the far East. You are freely and cordially invited to enjoy the Oriental Bazaar.

The elevators or stairs will quickly place you under Oriental influence. It is worth thinking about. Within this enclosure you are surrounded by textiles that are without exception antique. In color and figure they are original. The debasing influence of cheap French dyes is destroying delicate touches of color produced in strange ways from earth and roots, flowers and vegetables—some are already lost. Occidental taste was slow in appreciating the sentiment of Oriental Art, but now that Europe and America are demanding these rich old fabrics the dreamy Oriental succumbs to the Occidental tendency to shams and often buys cheap dyes to replace the sorts created by his ancestors with infinite care and patience. But that is too big a subject to discuss here.

These Rugs date back decades and centuries—none of them are modern. As you look you wonder why you admire them. The figures are strange, the colors never weary, and despite their age are clear and bright. They grow old gracefully, merely becoming softer, more tender and richer with the lapse of time. Strange, too, the thought that they are never made to patterns—nothing machine-like, mechanical. All hand work, usually the work of a single hand they are the outcome of the fancy of the weaver. And yet we call the makers Barbarians.

There are Silk hangings 400 years old from a Japanese Temple—pedigree thoroughly established—and many other things of deep interest. You may dream here if you will, it wouldn't take much imagination to locate the awful presence of the veiled Prophet or some grim grinning Turk, Naiglegh and all on one of these grand old Rugs. But you can fill the place of Turk or Persian, Kurd or Turkoman if you choose to buy a Rug. And the sum of it all is come and enjoy these things—nobody asks you to buy them. If you are critic, collector, connoisseur you are very welcome, if you are not and merely have a fancy for beautiful things you are just as welcome.
