BELIEVES IN ATHLETICS

Of Right Kind And In Proper Way. Merry, Silvery Laugh, Sunny Face And Well Developed Body, An Ideal. Extracts From Recent Sermon Of Rev. B. G. Parker.

I Cor. 9, 24. "So run that ye may obtain."

Base Ball is a game which when rightly played, freed from betting, swearing, drinking and kicking, it is manly and perfectly legitimate. The desire for amusement and recreation is well-nigh universal, and among the young, it is absolutely essential. We sometimes hear it said that you can not put old heads on young shoulders, and am heartily glad that you can not. I would rather put young hearts into old bodies. The trouble is, we age too fast; we grow away from the young people, and this drives them away from us. There are in the United States today 10,000,000 young men. The problem for the Patriot and the Christian is how to save this vast army for their country and their God. This can never be done by interdicting their innocent sports. In denouncing evil it is well to discriminate. For instance, while I believe tobacco using is a useless waste of money and in very many cases a filthy and injurious habit, yet would not be so unwise as to class its use with that of strong drink, which is evil and only evil. The athletic body is not to despised, muscle like whipcords, and the heart pumping the blood like a mountain stream. To be able to play ball well, not only cultivates the whole physical man, but also fortifies the body against many forms of moral uncleanness. It gives a mastery over the mere animal part. When the physical cries for indulgence, the body trained to resistance says: NO! We need to come more and more into touch with our young men. One of the pictures that pleased my heart the most was that of the old grand-father, who permitted the grand-children to harness him up as a horse and ride him away to "Huckleberry Town." The rollicking youngsters voted him just the dearest old grand-pa that ever lived. Reference in the text was to the Isthmian Games, once so popular in Greece. The contestants were all required to be of pure Hellenic Blood. They must be free from all taint of crime and above all suspicion of bribery. When you demand that all players in your game of Base Ball shall be true gentlemen, then you have done much towards popularizing the game. It never pays to outrage the religious sentiment of a community, and this is always done when professional teams, or any other play on Sundays. This has given the game a bad name, and all lovers of the sport should band themselves together to restore its fair name. Golf, will be short-lived, just because the players by their incessant Sabbath desecration are outraging the religious convictions of our people. God still lives in the conscience of our nation, and sad the day when religious convictions cease to rule. Athletic sports of the right kind, and in proper proportion, are fascinating and healthful. And I do not see why even a preacher should not be able as a matter of pure recreation, to knock a ball higher, row a boat swifter and shoot a ball straighter than any other man in the community. This notion that some people have, that piety consists in sunken eyes and shrunken chest, stooped shoulders, sallow complexion and long face, I do not believe in. The merry, silvery laugh, sunny-face and well-developed body comes nearer my ideal. The condition of the body physically will give color to one's idea of God and of Heaven.

That there should be seriousness in life, none ought to deny, for our stay here is short and soon we must meet God. Religion was never intended however, to lodge clouds in our spiritual sky, but to clear our spiritual horizon and give us a proper conception of God, of duty and of Eternity. The exhortation of the Apostle, in our text, is his exhortation to you, young men. "So run that ye may obtain." You have not lost faith in God, and you also know that there is a kind of running that will not obtain a crown. The Christian race will call out the very best endeavor, and it is the most manly thing you ever did or could do. No young man can ever expect to win the prize who does not enter the race. This same Apostle has taught elsewhere, where "So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God." Determine tonight young men, upon a Home-run. Do not suffer yourself to be put out on first-base. With what mortification have we witnessed a favorite player get well-nigh home and then be put out, when only another step would have made it. So near the Kingdom of Heaven, and yet not enter it. Let me draw you a picture in which there is no occasion for mortification. It is that of a player sweeping past third base, face radiant, every muscle strained to its utmost tension, breast thrown forward, heart beating like a trip-hammer, the spectators wild with excitement, and the moment his foot touches the home-plate, the air is rent with applause. That is the way I want you young men, to enter Heaven, amid the shouts and hurrahs of the Angels. "So run that ye may obtain."

"FOR ALL CATARRHAL COMPLAINTS"

Pe-ru-na is Most Excellent," Writes Congressman John L. Sheppard.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN L. SHEPPARD.

Congressman John L. Sheppard, Member of Congress from Texas, writes: "Gentlemen:—I have used Peruna in my family and find it a most excellent remedy for all catarrhal complaints."—Congressman John L. Sheppard.

THERE are two things that the whole medical profession agrees about concerning catarrh. The first is that catarrh is the most prevalent and most painful disease to which the people in the United States are subject. All classes of people have it. Those who stay in doors much and those who go outdoors much. Working classes have it and sedentary classes have it. The doctor finds catarrh to be his constant and ever-present foe. It complicates nearly every disease he is called upon to treat. The second thing about catarrh on which all doctors agree, is that it is difficult to cure it. Local remedies may give relief but they fail to cure permanently. Sprays or snuffs amount to afterwards manufactured expressly for him in large quantities. This remedy, Peruna, is now to be found in every drug store and nearly every home in the land. It is the only reliable internal remedy ever devised to cure any case of catarrh, however long the case may have been standing.

A Case of Nasal Catarrh of Five Years' Standing Cured by Pe-ru-na. Hon. Rudolph M. Patterson, a well-known lawyer, of Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have been a sufferer from nasal catarrh for the past five years and at the earnest solicitation of a friend I tried Peruna and am glad to say it has afforded a complete cure. It is with pleasure I recommend it to others."—Rudolph M. Patterson.

A course of Peruna never fails to bring relief. There is no other remedy like Peruna. Its cures are prompt and permanent.

Mr. Camillus Senné, 257 West 129th street, New York, writes:

"I have fully recovered from my catarrhal troubles. I suffered for three years with catarrh of the head, nose and throat. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief, but at last I have been cured by the wonderful remedy called Peruna."

"I read of Peruna in your almanac, and wrote you for advice, which I followed. After taking one and one-half bottles of Peruna I am entirely cured, and can recommend Peruna to anyone as the best and surest remedy for any catarrhal troubles."—Camillus Senné.

Hearing Lost by Catarrh—Restored by Peruna. Mr. William Bauer, Burton, Texas, a Ginner and Miller, writes:

"Some years ago I lost the hearing in my left ear, and upon examination by a specialist, catarrh was decided to be the cause. I took a course of treatment and regained my hearing for a time but I soon lost it completely. I commenced to take Peruna according to directions and have taken eight bottles in all, and my hearing is completely restored, and I shall sing the praises of Peruna whenever an opportunity occurs."—Wm. Bauer.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ind.

FASHIONS AT SARATOGA.

Early Morning Costumes; Coats; Afternoon And Evening Gowns; Flowered Organ-dies; Girdles; Shoes And Hosiery.

For the morning promenade and visit to the Springs, where it is the pleasure or duty of the visitors at Saratoga to assemble for a matutinal draught of the healing waters, negligence attire is considered quite COMME IL FAUT.

Plain costumes of Mohairs, pongee, linen or etamine with little coats in bolero or Eton style which can be carried on the arm on very warm days are quite correct; and also shirt waists of linen, taffeta, shantung or of any of the multifarious shimmering materials suitable for summer morning negligee attire. Coats of costumes are shirred or plaited, the same back and front, and many have loose flowing elbow sleeves, showing the waist worn under them.

Very Sheer

materials are the rule for these lingerie waists and they are rather elaborate with trimmings of lace and frills of the very open lace embroidery so much in vogue; and sometimes hand tucking and feather stitching enhance the effect. The stocks are all transparent in lingerie style with the same trimming as the waist.

Afternoon And Evening Gowns

The silk vogue which is gaining strength continually, is evident on the unusual number of gowns in dressy style, and worn on the afternoon promenade or drive at Saratoga. Taffetas and lousines with very small checks in pale shades, and white; and shot Taffetas as well which are very much trimmed with sheer lace.

They are frequently made in Louis XV style with lace insertions and ruffles of the silk on the skirt and shirred bodices with deep points in front, sleeves that are gathered full in a puff at top, and end at the elbow with frills of lace, that of a bertha which surrounds a yoke of tucked sheer muslin and insertions of lace.

A Great Many

flowered organ-dies are worn with val lace trimmings. A charming blue flowered organ-die, worn by a Baltimore belle, had a skirt composed of tucks and ruffles alternating. A cluster of four tucks was a little below the waist, then an equal number of ruffles was next, each edged by Val lace. Five tucks formed the second cluster, below which were five ruffles. The waist was a yoke of tiny squares of al lace, with a ruffled bertha, so arranged that the elbow sleeves seemed a continuation of the bertha, and worn over a blue Pres-de-sole slip skirt, the silky luster peculiar to that fabric gave the finishing touch, while a Lily Hair Cloth Flounce, tucked under the lower cluster of ruffles, kept the skirt from becoming entangled under the feet of the wearer.

Pompadour Bobinettes

with trimmings of ribbons or ruffles of silk. Gowns of embroidered Swiss and of batiste trimmed with embroidered and gowns of net and lace, all have a representation.

High draped girdles of silk or ribbon which are sometimes pointed in front, sometimes round, are worn with these gowns; they are often trimmed with handsome art or rhinestone buttons, and have knotted sash ends at the back.

The Veritable

Swiss peasant waist is sometimes seen. Plain silks and ribbons form the girdles of the flowered organ-dies, notes or muslins and warp prints with Pompadour designs on white or pale tints accompany the plain fabrics. Costumes or toilettes of one color, or shades of a color are much worn, and the scheme is carried out in all the accessories from the hat to the shoes and hose. Hose and shoes must match in color and both should match the color of the toilette; but white or tan footwear is worn with toilettes where no particular color scheme is chosen. Lucy Carter.

$22,000 FIRE LOSS

At Large Milling Plant Of E. S. Adkins & Co. Conflagration Lighted Up Whole City. Hundreds Of People Turn Out To Aid.

There was little sleep in Salisbury between midnight Friday and 3 o'clock Saturday morning, on account of the disastrous fire which raged at the large original lumber plant of E. S. Adkins & Co., Incorporated, during those hours, and imperilled property in a large circle near by.

The fire broke out a little after twelve in the front part of the mill on the second floor. When discovered by the watchman it had gone beyond his control, but he pluckily tried to extinguish it and so seriously injured himself that he was taken to the Hospital to recover.

The fire department responded with alacrity but so rapid were the flames that they had covered almost the entire burned district before the hose could be brought in action. Some difficulty owing to the distance was experienced in getting a sufficiently strong water supply, and for many anxious minutes it looked as though the entire plant and other valuable property around the B. C. & A. Junction must go. Two hours of hard fighting by the department, however, changed the outlook and outside of occasional outbursts of flames from the burning piles the fire was well under control by three o'clock.

For awhile the large car shops of the B. C. & A. were in imminent danger but by play of water on the roof the fiery flames were kept from catching. The night, as good fortune would have it, was one of the stillest on record. There was scarcely a breath of air stir. Had there been much wind no calculating could tell where the fire would have stopped. It would have caused untold damage, and now stands as the most disastrous conflagration that has visited Salisbury in recent years.

Luckily the large stock warehouse, containing about $4000 of sash and doors, on which there was no insurance was saved.

The property destroyed included the mill, office, glazing and paint house in which was stored $1,000 worth of glass and $500 worth of sash and doors, large storage sheds south of the mill which were filled with dry lumber, several hundred thousand feet of lumber on the yard and one flat car owned by the B. C. & A. Railway Co., which was loaded with lumber. There were twelve other cars on the siding in the Adkins yard, but they were hauled beyond danger by a special engine sent down from Delmar.

All the machinery in the mill is completely ruined on account of the fierce heat, which in some instances completely melted pulleys and pieces of shafting. The engine is also ruined, but the boilers are not irreparably damaged.

The insurance on the burned property amounts to about $14,000. The Company estimate their loss at about $22,000. They were paying $1400 a year in premiums on the insurance they carried. With the energy and enterprise which has characterized this firm since its debut in this city they have already erected a temporary office near the site of the old one and occupied it on Wednesday.

Mr. E. S. Adkins left for the city on the early train Saturday morning and purchased new machinery which has already been placed in the No. 2 mill recently built at an outlay of about $20,000. This will enable them to proceed with very little delay in the manufacture of lumber into the various commodities for which they have large contracts and extensive markets. Their temporary arrangements, we understand, will be fully competent to take care of all present business and future contracts, as usual.

Such enterprise as displayed by the firm cannot be too well commended, and it will not be out of place to remark that just such a spirit has made Salisbury the leading commercial emporium of the Peninsula. It permeates the whole industrial system.

From 85 to 100 men are employed here by E. S. Adkins & Co., and the manufacturers include building lumber of every description, shingles, sash, doors, blinds, baskets, framing, flooring, siding and ceiling. In addition they are extensive manufacturers of Box Shocks.

The E. S. Adkins & Co. is incorporated with a paid up capital of $100,000, and the officers are E. S. Adkins, president, O. R. Disharoon, treasurer and F. P. Adkins, secretary.

Dr. Marshall L. Price of the State Board of Health has been notified of a case of small pox at Horlock, Dorchester county. The patient is a woman who went to the village recently from Bridgeport, N. J., where it is believed she contracted the disease. She is now in a very serious condition and both her home and the adjoining house have been quarantined. According to Dr. Price, this is now the only case of the kind in Maryland. There are several patients who are convalescing in various parts of the State—Exchange.

HOW THE GAMES GO.

Eastern Shore Series Started This Week: Much Interest Manifested In The Three Towns. Cambridge Wins 4 To 2 From Easton Thursday.

The first game of base ball for the championship in the Eastern Shore League was played at Cambridge Monday between the team of that city and Salisbury.

The game was one of the closest ever played on the shore. Loos' pitching and Foster's catching for the Cambridge team were excellent while Wolfe and Gribbley for Salisbury were not far behind. Charles earned a run in the seventh inning. Thumbs long hit and a splendid throw by Roberts were the features of the game. The "Dorchester Standard" says, Salisbury has a good team made up of gentlemen, among them worthy of special mention is Mr. Ray Truitt, who is a Salisbury boy, and has won favor in Cambridge as a clean ball player.

The score:
Cambridge 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 x—2
Summary:—Earned runs, Cambridge 1. Two base hits, Thumb. Struck out by Wolfe, 5; Loos, 6. Left on bases, Salisbury, 3; Cambridge, 4. Stolen bases, Charles, 2. Double play, Jones and Green. Time of game, 1.14. Umpire, Mr. Cox of Baltimore.

Easton vs. Salisbury.
Salisbury 0 0 1 2 0 0 1 0—4
Easton 1 0 3 0 1 2 1 0 x—9
Summary:—Earned runs, Salisbury 1; Easton, 2. Two base hits, Truitt. Sacrifice hits, Truitt, Barnes, Savage. Stolen bases, Truitt, Schuler, 2; Mack, Slaughter, Gribbley, 3; Smith, Bertrand, McKeldin, Savage, 2. Struck out by Russell, 2; Slaughter, 3; Maddox, 8. Bases on balls off Russell, 2; Slaughter, 2; Maddox, 5. Passed balls, Gribbley. Double plays Mack and Schuler. Time of game 2 hours 12 minutes. Umpire Mr. Cox.

Wednesday was another hard day for the home team. Weak batting at critical times and unfortunate base running on the part of Salisbury lost the game on a shut out.
Summary:—Sacrifice hits, Black, Jones, Munce, Logan, Struck out by Wolfe, 5; Lewis, 4. Bases on balls off Lewis, 7. Left on bases, Salisbury, 9; Cambridge, 4. Double plays, Slaughter to Richer; Wolfe, Mack to Drennen. Triple play, Wolfe, Mack and Schuler. Time of game 1.46. Umpire, Cox.

Appreciate The Sympathy And Assistance Rendered.

We sincerely desire to express our hearty thanks and appreciation of the timely assistance of those who helped to fight the sudden, disastrous fire which visited our milling plant here Friday night. Not only for the earnest labor of the men who helped to fight the fire with bucket and water and board, but those who came out to our aid and the many expressions of sympathy in our loss, is our deep appreciation felt.

E. S. Adkins & Co., (Incorporated).

To The Fire Department.
Mr. G. E. Sirman, Chief,
Salisbury Fire Department,
Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir:—We wish to express to you, and your volunteer fire department, our sincere thanks for the noble fight you made in the extinguishment of the disastrous fire which occurred at our plant last Saturday morning. We feel that it was through your heroic efforts that there was prevented from burning our No. 2 mill and a lot of valuable lumber. We enclose you our check for $50.00 which we hope you will accept, and use as you, and your company may decide. Again thanking you, we are,
Yours very truly,
E. S. Adkins & Co.,

If you want a good watch at a very low price go to Samuel N. Culver. He carries a complete line in stock and every one is guaranteed in every particular. Elgin's, Walthams, Hamiltons, Hampdens, Illinois, etc.

We hear a great many men talking around town about wanting work. But an instance occurred to us the other day and we now believe they are not looking for work as much as they pretend to be. It was a man over eighty years of age helping pull the rope to drive a well in Delmar. We think if men of this age find work younger men ought to be able to find plenty of it.

Mr. Robert Duer of Cape Charles is in town this week. It seems as if Mr. Duer has gotten a taste of Delmar's good water.

Several strawwides have been seen around town this week on their way towards the camp. But one party said it was only a wagon ride the straw was a bluff.

The Philadelphia Record.

The fact that a good thing is never wasted on the public is strikingly illustrated by the increasing popularity of "The Philadelphia Record." True merit is always appreciated if backed by enterprise, whether it be in a cake of soap or in a newspaper. The spurious article, or the one that is not up to a competitive standard is soon left behind in the race for popular favor.

There are older newspapers than "The Record," and papers that have shot upward like skyrockets, with a flash of ephemeral brilliancy, only to come down again like charred sticks. But "The Record" has advanced steadily and irresistibly year by year since 27 years ago it set the pace as the pioneer one cent paper of America. Since then it has never retrograded; it has never even stood still, and today in its circulation exceeds that of any other newspaper published in the State of Pennsylvania, with an influence that is felt all over the country.

Continued success is never accidental. It is possible to stumble into luck as one stumbles into a hornet's nest, with just about as much chance of winning out in the end. But luck has never entered into the success of "The Record." That success has been due to a keen insight directed toward the public mind, an ability to see at a glance what the public wanted in the way of a newspaper, and then to supply that want. "The Record" has never attempted to force down the public's throat a style of journalism that was inherently distasteful to it.

We congratulate the management of "The Record" on its adherence to these principles that have marked the papers' career, as well as upon the excellent business methods that have won the confidence and esteem of its great advertising patronage.

To Cultivate the Mitsuama Plant In America.

It is a well known fact that the Japanese make the finest grades of linen and tissue papers. It is not so well known that most of their paper is made from fibers of a plant called the mitsuama plant. It is now proposed to introduce the culture of the mitsuama plant into the United States.

It is a perennial shrub with long, lance-shaped leaves and yellow flowers. Its bark has long delicate fibers, and it is secured by cutting the plant and stripping off the bark, which is then macerated and made into paper.

The plants are grown from the seed and afterwards set out and cultivated. They are cut off from year to year, other sprouts coming up for another crop.

The Japanese make their napkins, umbrellas and lanterns out of such paper. It takes the place of glass in the walls of the people's houses, and as oil paper serves as rubber blankets and rubber coats.

There is no reason why such plants should not be raised here and why, with our modern machinery, they might not form an important part of our paper industry.

UNION CAMPMEETING

To Be Held in Owen's Grove, Near Sharptown, Md. Arrangements Are Completed for The Annual Campmeeting To Begin August 5, And To Continue For 10 Days. The Services Of Several Ministers And Good Musicians Have Been Secured.

The tentholders and committee of Union Camp located in Owen's Grove near Sharptown, Md. have been exceedingly busy this week preparing the beautiful grounds for their annual campmeeting. The tentholders moved out Friday afternoon, and the first service will be held this Saturday afternoon. Last year there were more than 350 people tented at the camp, and arrangements have been made to accommodate a larger number this year. The boarding tent has been enlarged in order to provide for a number of city people who will spend the entire week at the camp. J. P. Cooper and B. H. Phillips who gained an enviable reputation for their excellent cuisine will again provide for their guests in that capacity. They have employed a chef from Philadelphia to aid in the work.

The committee has arranged with the Riverton Telephone Company to extend its line from Sharptown and to make direct connection with the campground, so that the tenters and visitors will have connection with the outside world.

John T. Selby, of Baltimore, has enlarged his tent to include a branch office of his art studio. W. D. Gravenor will have charge of the confectionery stand, as well as the barber shop. Lee Bradley will conduct the horse pound. Besides in the pound extra hitching room has been provided. There will be several excursions to Sharptown during the camp. The excursionists will be conveyed to the grounds by excellent hack services under the direction of W. C. Mann. Indeed the committee seems to have spared no expense or trouble to accommodate their guests and visitors, or to make the camp home-like.

Religious Services.

There will be religious services, including a sermon every morning, afternoon and evening each day during the camp, except Saturday. The following ministers have been appointed by the conference to be present and to assist with the work, most of whom will remain during the entire time of the camp: President of the Maryland Conference, F. T. Little, Revs. J. M. Holmes, A. W. Matther, G. M. Clayton, C. K. McCallin, Louis Randall, F. H. Lewis, G. I. Humphreys and G. J. Hooper. Rev. J. M. Holmes will preach both morning and evening the first Sunday of the camp. The children services each afternoon will be conducted by young men especially consecrated to the work.

The Music.

An excellent chorus composed of some of the best local talent assisted by city specialists has been organized to lead the song service. This will be directed by Prof. George C. Huggs, of Philadelphia, whose popular compositions have been sung extensively at home and abroad. Prof. Irving L. Twilley, of Baltimore, has been engaged as cornetist. Prof. Twilley has had much experience as a leader of sacred music, and is an artist cornet soloist. Miss Lena Cooper will preside at the organ.—Sharptown Herald

Townsend for Berlin was an enjoyable whilst Spicer for Laurel was hampered at a lively rate. Berlin defeated the Laurel base ball team in Friday's game. Score 17 to 5 in favor of Berlin. The features of the game were the sharp fielding and heavy batting of the locals, and the daring base running of Townsend. Earned runs, Berlin 12, Laurel 2. Two base hits, Tingle, Boston, Collins, Davis, Fowler. Three base hit, Townsend. Left on bases, Berlin 8, Laurel, 5. Bases on balls off, Spicer 1. Struck out by Townsend, 10, by Spicer, 7. Stolen bases Fowler, Marshall 2, Henry Collins 2, Tingle. Hits off Townsend 7, off Spicer, 15. Hit by Pitcher, Henman, Swack, Collins. Time of game one hour and fifty minutes. Umpire Davidson.

Members of the club would rather not hear farther criticism from the advocate in regard to Davidson as umpire, for the game was not decided on a more technicality, which we feel sure the advocate will know how to understand and appreciate. The home team is ready to do business with our sister towns.

REPUBLICANS QUEER ABOUT TARIFF.

The Democrats of this country may as well give up trying to stop the Republican lie that the Wilson-Gorman tariff bill of 1894 was responsible for the panic of 1893. We may deny and vociferate our denial until we are black in the face that a tariff bill can be retroactive and can not go back one year before it was in existence, because every time we do, the Republicans will add a few more billion dollars loss which occurred in that panic. There never was anything so idiotically silly as the statement made by Republicans that every tariff bill passed by them brought prosperity and that every tariff bill passed by Democrats brought commercial disaster. The Republicans were responsible for the tariff bill—if a tariff bill can produce anything in the way of commercial depression—which occasioned the dread depression in the panic of 1873, and for the panic of 1893, because the McKinley Bill was then in active operation and had absolutely gutted the Treasury. The tariff wall had been placed so high that it absolutely paralyzed barter and exchange and trade and commerce. Nothing could come in and therefore very little went out for where people cannot sell they buy little, except of necessity.

TAXES, TAXES, EVERYWHERE IN LONDON.

The following extract is taken from Elizabeth Robins Pennell's paper in Lippincott's Magazine for June on her experiences while living "In London Chambers."

There was, of course, to begin with, the rent. It seemed a fair price for what we were to get from our windows alone, and so we over looked the less cheerful fact that it was out of all proportion to our income, and worse than that, though an ordinary modern flat rates and taxes are the landlord's affair, in chambers they are tenant's. We could count upon their coming to a third of the rent everybody, including the agent told us. But in the absence of definite figures it was easy to believe that everybody exaggerated. If you want a thing very much you do not see its drawbacks until you can't help yourself. The first blue paper opened our eyes a bit. It is appalling the first time you come face to face with sewer rates, and poor rates, and school board rates, and police rates, and gracious knows what sort of rates besides. The second blue paper, a water rate all by itself was more depressing still. Then there was the terrible moment when it dawned upon us what it meant to have these two papers appear regularly not every year but every six months. Most unbearable, however was the third blue paper, demanding from us, good American citizens, an income tax that goes, as I understand it, to swell the imperial tax, charged on the same paper, the exact nature of which I have never been able to fathom. This we could have endured. It is the income tax, against all American ideas of right and wrong that rankles. As long as we had been content in lodging, our income had escaped the official eye. But once we set up as householders, not even our American citizenship or American principle could save us. Americans in London may rebel for awhile but, they cannot get out of it in the end. I know of one who evaded it for ten years, and then was pounced upon by the Collector for arrears. And it is no use to refuse to fill up the wretched paper of inquiry sent in your letter box—a paper which could have given the Grand Inquisitor points. We refused one year, but the Assessor, I think he is called, filed it up for us, and it was wonderful how, according to his reckoning, our income had gone up by leaps and bounds.

IN FAVOR OF FIRST CLASS ROADS.

More convincing argument is found in favor of the expediency of building first class roads, in a single practical example where good results have been obtained, than in any amount of discussion where actual results are often exaggerated, and by the disappointments which occur in certain instances, really retard the promotion of model highways. The advantages offered to the counties of Maryland by the recently enacted law for state aid to road building, are inclining county officials and residents to avail themselves of the offer and the mention of one object-lesson in the town of Cambridge, demonstrating the greater satisfaction of macadam road over other materials will show how unwise it will be to allow the opportunity to secure those state funds to pass unappreciated.

Street building and repairing in Cambridge had become a more expensive item every year, until finally the lately retired Board of Commissioners after considering many plans of street building, decided to put down a macadam road on the most frequented street of the town. They considered that to meet the situation in this way would mean a greater initial expense but would be cheaper in the end, besides giving much greater satisfaction to traffic. The results have fully justified their determination. In this work the commissioners received free of cost the assistance of Mr. A. N. Johnson, highway engineer of the Maryland Geological Survey and were able to put down a road which so far has met every requirement and is a great improvement over the shell road which it replaced.

There is now about six foot more of carriage room than in the old street, the road drains perfectly, it has a firmer resisting surface, it dries up more quickly after a rain, and it is less expensive when its lasting qualities are considered. In speaking of the great improvement made by the road, the Democrat and News of Cambridge says:

"The Board decided to build a macadam road although each member knew there was some opposition to the new method. Its expense was pointed out; its lasting qualities were doubted. Fortunately the Board did not allow this opposition, which was by no means insignificant, to deter it from going to the bottom of the plan and now the town is better off by reason of the courage of the old board. The street building and repairing was becoming a more expensive item every year, and the Board decided to try to meet the situation in a method more expensive in the first cost, but cheaper in the end. All of which goes to show that the first step made by the Board in the direction of modern road building was a step in the right direction and further progress in this direction will result in the betterment of the streets of the town and a decrease in the expense of building and repairing streets."

It is well to remark here however that the work could have been done better if the county had been equipped with a steam roller to pack the material. As it turned out, it had to be left to passing teams to pack the road and in order to hold the material in place, a great deal of fine stuff had to be put on, rendering the road dustier than would have been necessary if a steam roller had been available. In the course of time, however the fine stuff will pack and disappear as the road becomes more and more used. It is also said that the cost of the road need not have been as great as it proved as certain items of expense which may be curtailed in the future were unnecessarily undergone.

Feminine Fads.

This feminine summer girl who is so fond of odd jewelry and dainty fluffs and frills is very frequently seen with a little black court-plaster patch on her face. In fact, such a highly favored fad is this wearing of the dainty mouches that many of the shops carry small boxes of these bits of black court-plaster cut in the shape of stars, crescents, clubs, spade, hearts and diamonds.

The most approved place for wearing the mouches is a trifle to the left of the left eye, and it is generally worn there to attract attention to the beauty of the eyes.

The little powder puff so necessary to the summer girl is now hidden away in the center of a dainty lace trimmed pocket handkerchief. The powder pocket is a small square patch pocket just large enough to hold the little wooden powder puff.—August Woman's Home Companion.

COD FISHING.

Extent of the industry at Miquelon. Cod fishing is done with dories and trawls. The dories are flat bottomed, sloping sides, and fitted into one another in the ship's waist, economizing space thereby. Each dory takes two men and the whole crew, except the captain and the cook, go off in them every sunrise day, and set the trawls in the water outward from the ship. The trawls are long lines, each with 3,000 hooks attached at intervals of a yard, every hook baited with some smaller fish, either herring, caplin or squid, that the cod affects. The trawls are anchored at each end, baited in the day, left lying over night and are stripped of their accumulation of fish next morning, being hauled again when overhauled. The fish are taken to the vessel in the dories, exonerated, washed and sorted. This routine continues until the bait is exhausted, and then the vessel returns home, lands the fish, takes more bait and salt and goes out again. At St. Pierre her catch is taken in hand by the graviers and women, who submerge it in crates until the salt has been washed off. Then they scrub each fish with a hard, coarse brush and pile them in heaps to drain. This done, they are next spread on the benches to dry in the sunlight. When a sufficient quantity of several acres of flat ground covered with basalt stones worn round by the motion of the sea for ages. These stony fields surround St. Pierre, and thousands of cod are displayed there on a fine day. Every evening or if fog or rain threatens the fish are gathered up again and are covered with tarpaulins. The process is repeated until the fish are quite dry and hard. Dry fish are piled in round stacks, the rest in oblong ones. When a sufficient quantity to load a vessel is obtained, it is packed into her hold and shipped to market. The extent of the cod fishing of Miquelon and St. Pierre may be indicated by the record of the catch of these islands in 1902, which was 72,500,000 pounds. While much of the annual product is exported to other countries, France naturally gets the larger part. In fact, St. Pierre furnishes three-fourths of all the codfish used in France. Booklovers' Magazine.

Thoughtful. General Joe Wheeler relates the following amusing incident that took place during the night of the El Caney affair. "General Lawton's division was marching back to El Paso, there to take up a new position in the morning. The general, in company with Major Creighton Webb, inspector general of his staff, was standing at the edge of the road, watching his troops file past. Just as dawn was breaking the colored troops came in sight. They gave evidence of being dead tired, but were nevertheless full of ginger. "General Lawton's attention was attracted to a certain corporal of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, a great six foot negro, who, in addition to a couple of guns and two cartridge belts loaded full, was carrying a dog. The soldier, to whom the other gun belonged was limping alongside his comrade. "The general halted the man. 'Here, corporal,' said he to the six foot man, 'didn't you march all last night?' "Yes, sir," responded the negro, saluting. "And fought all day?" "Yes, sir." "You have, besides, been marching since 10 o'clock last night?" "Yes, sir." "Then," said Lawton, 'why on earth are you carrying that dog?' "Well, general," replied the negro, showing his white teeth in a broad grin, 'the dog's tired'."—Woman's Home Companion.

The only interesting feature of the game was the utter ignorance of the Red boys who seemed to think that the rules in force years ago still held good. Batteries, Hebron, Cooper and Cordrey, Athel, Horseman and Ryan. The game scheduled for Tuesday against the Eastern Shore Commercial College of Salisbury, was postponed until Wednesday on account of the rain. The game Wednesday was exciting from start to finish although it was evident from the very start that the Salisbury boys had the odds against them. Preaching by Rev. Howard Davis at Eden M. E. Church Sunday at 3 p. m. Sunday School 2 p. m.

What is the flag of the ship of life? It is the cross that glorious signal of which the poet sings.

"In the cross of Christ I glory, Towering o'er the wrecks of time; All the light of sacred story, Gather round its head sublime."

Under that flag we sail to victory and to home. We fear no shoals, no storm, no wreck, no danger. Whatever wind blows, our flag unfolds in ruddy splendor that all may see. We speed before the favoring gales of prayer, and at times we see the lights along the shore and catch faint snatches of the angels' song. Poes may encounter us but they can never make us lower our flag. Being nailed to the mast, it is a part of the ship; and through the guns of all the private barques that ever sailed the sea below and roar around us, we never pause, but gloriously and gallantly, over the glancing tide, speed on, homeward bound, sure that on the sunrise coast yonder, the Father is waiting to give us a glorious welcome home.

Mr. Cleveland Twilley was the guest of Mr. C. Kennedy Lewis last Sunday. Miss Ethel Lewis spent Sunday with Miss Francis Davis.

The Delineator for August.

In addition to entertaining fiction for leisure hours, the August Delineator contains something for each of the practical needs of woman. In dress the latest styles are depicted, with the aid of handsome colored plates and drawings in black and white, and the movements in fashions described. The kitchen, the table the garden, the nursery, besides the lighter interests of woman, such as her reading, her clubs and other amusements, are treated from various standpoints. The literary features of the number are of the highest order. There are three stories that furnish the exact flavor that is looked for in summer reading, by Carroll Watson Rankin, Alice Mac Gowan and Cyrus Townsend Brady. Lillie Hamilton French, in the delightful "Joy of Living" series writes out the manner of receiving, and Seumas McManus and Elizabeth Rugles contribute excellent verse. A timely article by Edward Emerson, Jr., on "The Attitude of the Japanese Women in the War" gives some very interesting information and is illustrated with exclusive portraits of women who are prominent in the patriotic associations of Japan. Bodily symmetry is the subject of the "Beauty" paper. The story of Elizabeth Kenton, wife of the noted Indian fighter, General Simon Kenton, is told in the "Pioneer Women" series, and in the pictorial trip around the world the cities of the Mediterranean are done in thorough tourist style. In addition, there are plans for Summer cabins on seashore and mountains, and a most entertaining collection of stories and pastimes for children.

EX-GOV. JACKSON CHOSEN

To Lead Democratic Party To Victory, At Ocean City, Wednesday, Nominated By Ex-Gov. Smith.

The Democrats of the First Congressional district of Maryland assembled at Ocean City Wednesday and nominated ex-Gov. Elihu E. Jackson for Congress. The nomination speech was made by ex-Gov. John Walter Smith, of Worcester county, who was roundly applauded.

At 2:30 o'clock the convention was called to order by Senator John P. Moore. Henry R. Lewis was made chairman, with George Wilson secretary.

Ex-Governor Smith's Speech.

Just as the platform was adopted ex-Gov. John Walter Smith made his appearance in the hall, which caused loud cheering and prolonged applause. Joshua W. Miles led in the cheering. Governor Smith bowed and took his seat with the Worcester delegation.

Nominations were in order, and as Caroline was called it yielded to Worcester county. Ex-Governor Smith faced the audience, which arose in a body. There was a general shout, "Take the platform!" Ex-Governor Smith did as requested. He said: "I am always willing to obey orders; I want to say first that it is a great pleasure to be with you. We are sent here to represent the Democrats of the First district, but also to look after the interests of the Democrats of the State. (Applause) This is a momentous occasion. We are not here alone to select a nominee for Congress, but our actions will be far-reaching. The result of the election of President may depend on Maryland and the First district to help to carry the State. (Cheers) I am a Democrat I say that nothing shall come between me and my party. (Cheers) If there is any difference or has been we are now together. (Cheers) Harmony is the watchword. Let us get together; let us bring about success. If we do this we will win. The people of the State have honored me, and I want to do what is in the interest of the party of the Eastern Shore, and I will name Hon. Elihu E. Jackson the leader of Worcester county, (shouts) who will lead us to victory. (Shouts.)"

Ex-Governor Smith asked that the nomination be made by acclamation, which was done amid great applause. The chair appointed the following to notify the nominee: Henry R. Lewis, Manley Drenning, Robert G. Henry, Dr. E. A. Scott, Finley Roberts, Albert W. Robinson, L. M. Milbourne, J. B. Henry, John P. Moore.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

Of First Congressional District Of Maryland. Constitutionalism And Conservatism Against Radical And Arbitrary Republicanism.

The platform reported adopted by the Congressional Nominating Convention of the First District of Maryland is as follows:

"The Democracy of the First Congressional district, in convention assembled, declared:

"That we endorse the platform adopted by the National Democratic Convention, which assembled at St. Louis on July 6. We congratulate the stalwart and representative Democrats of that body for the masterful leadership, the broad party spirit and the splendid patriotism which characterized and directed the proceedings of that historic convention, and we pledge its nominees, Judge Alton B. Parker and Hon. Henry G. Davis, the zealous efforts and the unremitting and enthusiastic support of the great rank and file of the Democracy of the Eastern Shore.

"We join with all classes of people throughout our common country in especial rejoicing because of the exalted characters of our candidates for President and Vice-President, but we especially congratulate all those lovers of sound Democratic principles as taught and expounded by Jefferson and by Madison. The nominee of the great Democratic party for the high office of President of the United States is of ideal Presidential quality and peculiarly fitted by reason of temperament and training for leadership in the impending battle for constitutional government. We believe that, all other issues aside, success will follow our standards, victory perch upon our banners because the great body of intelligent American electors before casting their ballots will make proper contrast of the strenuous egotism and dangerous and meddlesome restlessness of President Roosevelt with the attractive personality of that cool, sympathetic and well-informed jurist, that liberty-loving and self-poised statesman and Democrat, Alton B. Parker.

We desire to emphasize the fact that we believe the personal characteristics of the Republican and Democratic candidates best serve to illustrate to the voters of the country the best meaning of the contest in which we are now engaged; that the lives of the two men are books in which the people may read that the great struggle of the campaign of 1904 is to be one in which the mighty hosts of conservative and constitutional Democracy are arrayed on the one side and the dangerous and forbidding forces of radical and arbitrary Republicanism on the other. The Republican party under the leadership of President Roosevelt would, if it could, win the affections of the American people for a political gospel not taught by the fathers of the Republic—the gospel of force. "The sane and temperate Alton B. Parker would remind us that force is not the equivalent of right and that the will of a President is not the equivalent of law. We invite the people to choose between constitutional government, based upon law, under an incomparable American Democrat and statesman, and absolutism, usurpation and disregard of law as typified by the present occupant of the White House. The Republican party of this district in convention assembled formally indorsed all the policies of President Theodore Roosevelt, peculiar to and inaugurated by himself.

"Under the administration of Grover Cleveland and William McKinley the race problem had been left to the people of the several States for settlement, but President Roosevelt inaugurated a new policy peculiar to himself. This policy consists among other things, in depriving the white people of certain communities of the South of their postal facilities for the furtherance of a peculiar negro policy. It involves the selection of negroes to high and important Federal offices over the protests of the white citizens of the communities interested and of their representatives in Congress. It involves the selection of a negro as collector of customs for a great commercial city of the South, as well as the selection of another negro as the President's confidential adviser in making appointments to office and in determining all matters of public policy affecting the welfare of one of the greatest States of the South, and against such a policy, though peculiar to President Roosevelt and indorsed by the Republicans of this district, we solemnly protest. We call the attention of our people to the fact that less than 12 months have passed since the Democrats of this State in convention assembled declared that the destinies of the people of Maryland should be controlled by the white people of the State.

"That upon this issue of white supremacy not only in the state, but in nearly all the counties thereof, we won a splendid victory; that this victory was won in spite of the teachings, the example and the executive influence of the present President of the United States. The white people of Maryland do not forget that fact, and neither must they forget that in President Roosevelt they have a candidate for President who precipitated anew the race issue in those States of the South where it had reached at least a partial settlement; that to cozen the negro vote in this State and in the States of the North he selected a Maryland negro to second his nomination for President; that he therefore gives evidence at least of his willingness to misuse the grave race problem for partisan ends, if not of his eager desire to show his lack of sympathy for the Maryland Democratic campaign slogan of 1903.

"This convention derives great inspiration from the fact that its nomination to-day of a distinguished Eastern Shoreman for the high office of an American Congressman will be enthusiastically and unanimously made, and that in reaching our conclusions both as to the nominee and all the other matters affecting our deliberations a manly spirit and a splendid Democratic loyalty and interest in a great contest have actuated every member of the convention, and that in our deliberations these Democrats on the Eastern Shore leading in our preliminary counsels have manifested their manliness, good citizenship and loyalty to our party."

TO GO BEFORE COURT

Previous To November Election, And Have Judicial Decision As To Proper Way To Mark Maryland Ballot This Year.

Notwithstanding the contention that there is no way in which a judicial decision upon the proper way to mark the ballot in Maryland this fall can be obtained before the election, it is now practically certain that the matter will be taken into the courts and that some time in October the Court of Appeals will be called upon to decide the question.

The method by which this can be brought about is extremely simple, and in all probability will be favored by the Democratic managers, to whom it has already been suggested as the only means of settling the controversy now going on as to whether it is necessary to vote for each individual elector on the ticket, as is claimed by Messrs. John Poe, Jas. E. Ellegood and others, or whether a cross-mark opposite the names of the candidate for President and Vice-President will carry the whole ticket, as is the opinion of Attorney General Bryan.

How To Get A Decision.

It has been suggested to the Democratic leaders that in order to put an end to the uncertainty it would be well to have one of the county boards of supervisors of elections—possibly that from Somerset county where the deepest interest is felt—declare that they intend to print the ballot with the voting squares only after the names of the electors and not after the candidates for President and Vice-President. In the event of such a declaration upon the part of any board of supervisors, it is claimed, it would not only be perfectly proper, but entirely natural, for one of the candidates for elector to go into the lower court and ask for a mandamus to compel the board to print the ballot in accordance with the instructions issued by the Attorney-General.

This, it is urged, would bring the whole question up and a decision would be given without delay. This decision, of course, would be at once taken by the losing side to the Court of Appeals, where the matter would be finally decided one way or the other and a stop would be put to all controversy and uncertainty about it. Such a decision from the Court of Appeals, the highest authority in the State, would stand not only here, but it is claimed, would not be set aside by a Republican Congress even if there should be a contest over the matter.

The agitation of the question within the last few weeks has been so great and the difference of opinion among Democrats so wide that it is now regarded as necessary that it be finally settled as speedily as possible. Hence the suggestion that it be taken to the Court of Appeals in the manner indicated above has met with prompt favor from the managers.

LOST, WON AND LOST

Thursday's Game, Salisbury vs. Cambridge One Of Closest And Most Exciting On Home Diamond. Other Games.

Cambridge	6	1	.887
Easton	4	2	.667

For eleven innings victory hung in the balance at the Salisbury-Cambridge game here Thursday afternoon, and not until the last home man went out was hope of winning abandoned. The game was of unusual excellence and only three errors discounted the game. Cambridge made her first run on the start and it was not until the ninth inning that Salisbury scored by a two bagger from Wolfe followed by a hard one from Hoover. Cambridge scored its winning run in the eleventh inning by the good batting of Burris and Jones.

Of about 80 carloads of visitors from Cambridge who spent the day at Ocean City, a large contingent remained over in Salisbury for the game.

MISS LOTTA VINCENT DROWNED

Young Lady From Parkley, Va., Lost Life While Bathing In Surf At Ocean City.

Allen, Aug. 11.—Miss Lotta Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Vincent of Parkley, Va., was drowned on Tuesday at Ocean City while bathing in the surf. The dead girl's sister, Miss Mary in her efforts to save the former from a watery grave, came near losing her own life, and had it not been for the quick work of the life-saving crew she, too, would have met a similar fate.

The unfortunate girl sank for the last time before the life-savers at the station could reach her and in a few moments her sister would have gone down a third time.

The body of the young woman was quickly recovered and shipped to her home on the same train on which she left that morning so happy and gay.

Miss Vincent was quite popular in and around Parkley, and was highly esteemed in Allen, where she was born and grew up.

HIGH OFFICE SEEKS THE MAN.

From the stand-point of party success, the Democratic convention which met at Ocean City Wednesday, could not have nominated a better man than Hon. Elihu E. Jackson. Perhaps no man of the First Congressional District is as well or as favorably known, as Ex. Gov. Jackson. This nomination came to Mr. Jackson entirely unsought, and as a matter of fact the convention nominated him in the face of his protest. A greater compliment has never been paid a man in our district, and we doubt in this day of office seeking you can find its equal anywhere in our country. All who know Ex-Gov. Jackson know that he cannot accept this nomination without great personal sacrifice—at the head of one of the largest business enterprises of the country, his time is fully occupied and in addition to this the condition of his health, which for some time has not been of the best, renders the strain of an active campaign very trying. If he accepts this nomination and we believe if there is any possible way that he can do so, he will for the sake of his party, the democrats of the First District should and undoubtedly will rally to his support with an enthusiasm that will sweep all opposition before it. We can not answer for the rest of the counties, but as for old Wicomico the Ex-Governor's name on the ticket will be enough to enthuse old and young democrats alike, and bring in a democratic majority that has not been reached in years, and we believe that this will be the case throughout the entire district. Easily approached, affable and pleasant, Gov. Jackson is popular wherever he is known.

Credible reports from Worcester say that Governor Jackson's nomination will mean a Democratic majority of a thousand in that county. All the other Eastern Shore counties will be in line, and enthusiastic for Wicomico's Democratic leader.

THE MAN TO REPRESENT.

If ever there was a true man of destiny, strong evidences point toward Judge Alton B. Parker, as the one destined by nature and by experience to head the great American nation of the United States in its present critical and unsettled condition. The opposite of Roosevelt in extreme strenuousness, impetuosity, rashness and general unreasonableness, Judge Parker looms forth in clear outline, the earnest, able and learned exponent of national conservatism, calm and deliberate in thought and action, a man wonderfully endowed and exceptionally qualified to guide and steady the bark of the State. Parker's letter of acceptance is being received with great approval and the comments of honest endorsement cover a large area of humanity not connected with the Democratic party. It reflects the strong qualities of the man, and inspires increased public confidence.

—Eleven prisoners escaped from the Georgetown jail Friday noon. While Deputy Sheriff, Chas. P. Purnell was handling some food to a prisoner, another inmate struck him and he was felled to the floor. The assailant quickly secured the keys and liberated the remainder of the prisoners. They are believed to have made their way into Maryland. A dispatch from Laurel states that a posse pursuing them shot one of the refugees at Old Furnace Mills.

NONEED TO GROW OLD

Women Have It in Their Power to Remain Young if They Elect to Do So.

All women have it in their power to remain young. It is an easy thing to do if one wants to do it. One can stay young forever if one elects to do so, or one can grow old as rapidly as one pleases. It is a thing which is almost at one's own disposal.

True, staying young is hard work. One cannot neglect oneself and yet remain young. The body will begin to show wear and tear, and unless one constantly repairs it, there will be the finger marks of time upon the hands and face, upon the hair and the teeth, and upon the whole body. These come in some cases very soon indeed.

Take the woman who gets up in the morning and neglects the facial steaming process, take the woman who retires at night without the lotions which are necessary to beauty, take the woman who goes out into the winds without protecting her complexion, and take the woman who frowns and gathers furrows during the day without smoothing them away at night. A woman of this kind will surely look old and very soon.

Wrinkles are the first marks of age. The girl of twenty will begin to get them. At 25 she will have from three to five deep wrinkles between her eyes. Perhaps she will have the complaining wrinkles which come across the forehead at an early age. These wrinkles mark a woman as old before her time.

To get away the wrinkles requires one of three good treatments, or all three. In the hands of a good manipulator every wrinkle can be taken out of a woman's forehead in a few hours and if the wrinkles come back again it will be the woman's own fault.

To understand the art of keeping wrinkles at bay one must understand their construction. Wrinkles are caused by a poor skin. The skin loses its natural oils and becomes dry upon the surface. The outer skin shrivels and wrinkles and in time these wrinkles become furrows. Great deep creases, deep enough to accommodate one's finger, will lie upon the brow of women whose skin, naturally dry, has been allowed to curl up and die.

To reclaim a poor old skin is a pleasant task for one who understands her job, and it is a task from which she will not shrink. The woman who can cure wrinkles will take the deepest furrows and generally fill them in. She will steam the skin until it is in a receptive state, and then, while the pores are open, she will feed them with a good skin food.

Furrowed faces must be fattened first of all. This can only be done by feeding the pores. Take the skin and heat it hot. Hot cloths will do the work well and without injury. And then, while it is very warm the skin food can be massaged in. This is the quickest fattening agency known.

Massaging skin food into the wrinkles is a task from which the home woman shrinks because it takes so long. The food must be rubbed in a little at a time until the pores are full of it. It takes fully half an hour to do it right, for the skin must not be irritated.

Women with plump cheeks should take care not to rub a skin food into them or the cheeks will puff out and grow too fat. But the forehead can be fed in this manner and with the very best of results. Rub in the skin food and keep on rubbing it in. This is an excellent way to fatten and remove the lines which are such a mark of age.

Fresh Milk Better.

At the Oregon station is an experiment of about five days duration the milk of 11 cows, averaging 121 days from calf, was compared with that of 4 cows averaging 283 days from calf. So far as this experiment goes, it shows that the milk from comparatively fresh cows gives up its cream more readily, even with a separator, than does milk from cows well along in the period of lactation. It also shows that butter made from the milk of cows, which have been in milk for a considerable period of time, is slightly inferior to that made from the milk of cows which are comparatively fresh.—Prof. F. L. Kent.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or impulse of hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Letter to E. J. Parsons.
Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir:—You are interested in the prosperity of your town. You can contribute to it materially, and give it a far more prosperous look at the same time.

Perhaps the public property needs a good coat of paint.

Devoe will supply that coat with two-thirds of the number of gallons required of any other. Devoe will last twice as long as any other. Devoe is all paint and full measure. Devoe is the strongest paint known. Devoe will take care of the property, in the long run, for half the money required by any other.

The reason is stated above; Devoe is all paint and full measure; the strongest paint known. E. D. Jewell, Corry, Pa., painted his house 5 years ago with a mixed paint; took 14 gallons. Last spring he painted with Devoe; bought 14 gallons and had 4 left. Saved $15 to $20, for painting costs two or three times as much as the paint. Yours truly are words that we often hear after people have tried Orange Phosphate at our fountain. Orange Phosphate is so common that it takes something extra to call forth such remarks. Why Do We All Like Base Ball?

The Base Ball Season is now a few weeks old and as ninety-nine men out of every hundred in Salisbury (and everywhere else) are more or less interested we are led to believe that a few remarks on this subject by a man who hasn't had time to go to a ball game but once this season would prove interesting. Why Do We All Like Base Ball? Because we can hire a lot of better players than we are to do the work while we sit in the grand stand in the shade and tell them how to do it, and because we feel that when we buy a ticket to see the game it also includes a license to kick. In base ball everybody kicks, and we had all rather kick than eat. Lacy Thoroughgood doesn't go to the ball game very often because he's too busy. He's got 2 stores in Salisbury and he hasn't a kick coming; they are each doing well. Lacy Thoroughgood STRUCK OUT to do a big business this spring and summer with these two stores and he has made a HIT, a regular THREE RAGGER. Lacy Thoroughgood intends to score a HOME RUN the balance of Aug. with little prices for men's shirts. Thoroughgood sells the Emory, the Manhattan, the Eclipse, three of the best shirts on earth. Now for the balance of this month you can buy the Manhattan $1.50 $2.00 and $3.50 Shirts for $1.25. You can buy the Eclipse $1.25 and $1.50 shirt for $1.00. You can buy the Emory $1.25 and $1.50 shirt for $1.00. You can put your hand on any shirt that Thoroughgood advertises and you won't get bit. Want to bite?

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers. They filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or uneasy heartbeats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

The information contained in this Citizen's Statement is invaluable to Salisbury People.

When a resident of Salisbury, whose statement appears below, who has no monetary or other interest in the article which he endorses, who is anxious to do his acquaintances and fellow citizens a good turn, who publishes in this paper his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills—that citizen must have good and sufficient reason for doing so. The following should dispel any doubts which may have existed in the reader's mind on this subject:

J. T. Hayman, book keeper, residing at the corner of Chestnut and Park Streets, says: "Having been affected for some time with an aching in the small of my back and other troubles which indicated disordered kidneys I tried a box of Doan's Kidney Pills from White & Leonard's Drug Store, and finding that they gave me some relief, I continued taking them and I consider my condition much improved."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

The work of completing the large marble column taken from the quarry on the Beaver Dam Marble Works at Cockeysville, is about finished and will be shipped to its destination in a few days. "A friend recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I bought a twenty five cent bottle and after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by all druggists."

The Farmer's Wife

is very careful about her churn. She adds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are exactly akin to the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach churn is "sour" it sours all which is put into it? The evil of a foul stomach is not the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of the blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every taint or corrupting element. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant and no narcotic.

The Highways Commission of Baltimore county, have accepted the proposition of Albert Weber to construct the new bridge on the River road, he to furnish all the material and labor at a set price, and to do the work for 10 per cent. of the total cost. Mr. Weber's bid for the work was $1,465, which Roads Engineer Shirley regarded as too excessive. This will be the first work done in this county on the percentage plan, which the commission expects themselves favorable to in the construction of all county work.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kimrose, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicine.—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by all druggists.

The work of rebuilding Millington, almost totally destroyed by fire three weeks ago has begun. The two principal streets will be made 10 feet wider. ### Fibroid Tumors Cured.

A distressing case of Fibroid Tumor, which baffled the skill of Boston doctors. Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, Mass., in the following letter tells how she was cured, after everything else failed, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Hayes' First Letter Appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for Help:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under Boston doctors' treatment for a long time without any relief. They tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing-down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk or be on my feet for any length of time. The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor given in your little book accurately describe my case, so I write to you for advice."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice—although she advised Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, to take her medicine—which she knew would help her—her letter contained a mass of additional instructions as to treatment, all of which helped to bring about the happy result.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and to-day I am a well woman."

"The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt.

Mrs. Hayes at her above address will gladly answer any letters which sick women may write for fuller information about her illness. Her gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so genuine and heartfelt that she thinks no trouble is too great for her to take in return for her health and happiness.

Truly it is said that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women, and no other medicine; don't forget this when some druggist wants to sell you something else.

BEFORE IT is sent forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of Mrs. Hayes, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

NURSERY INSPECTION

State Entomologist and Pathologist Advise Necessity of Inspecting Trees, Vines, Etc., For Market.

As the season is at hand when the officers of the State Horticultural Department conduct the annual inspection of nurseries in the State as required by laws of Maryland 1898, Chapter 289, we wish to announce to the public that it is necessary for everyone who wishes to sell either trees, vines, shrubs, plants, etc., in this or any other state to have their premises inspected by the State Entomologist and the State Pathologist, and secure a certificate from the above mentioned officers, if the inspection is satisfactory, certifying that said inspected stock is apparently free from injurious insects and plant diseases. Such certificates should be attached to every consignment of either trees, vines, shrubs, plants, etc., in order that the consignee may not violate the above mentioned law.

The inspection of nurseries is of great importance both to the nurserymen and the growers; to the former, in that a rigid inspection of his stock will reveal any injurious pests which may have recently commenced their ravages, thereby giving him an opportunity to control the same before their depredations are serious. Further, having the stock inspected by specialists enables him to give a greater assurance to the public that his stock is clean and healthy. The official certificate given to the nurserymen in this state protects them from competitors who grow inferior stock and moreover allows them to ship their stock into other states without it being confiscated by the officers of the respective states.

To the grower, the attached certificate accompanying every consignment of nursery stock assures that the stock has been duly inspected and is apparently free from any injurious pests. As there are so many pests that attack nursery stock which the ordinary grower would not detect until after the planted stock commenced to lose vitality or dies, the result being a loss of money and time, the inspection of nurseries is in many ways a great benefit to the prospective grower.

Those wishing to sell trees, vines, shrubs, plants, etc., should at once notify the officers of the State Horticultural Department, College Park, Md., and the inspection will be made at the proper time, at the expense of the State Horticultural Department.

Thomas B. Synnors, State Entomologist, J. B. S. Morton, State Pathologist.

OPPORTUNITY FOR 12

Young Men to Go to College and Obtain an Education Through the Currency of Their Available Service.

Messrs. Editors:—I am sending you a copy of our catalogue. By the opening of College, Sept. 15, there will be a new dormitory containing 52 rooms capable of accommodating 108 students. These rooms will be furnished with new furniture throughout. They will be heated by steam and lighted by electricity. There will be a lavatory furnished with shower baths, bath rooms and sanitary fittings for the convenience of students. In this same building will be a spacious auditorium for public functions and social gatherings. A large drill hall and gymnasium equipment will be fitted up under the auditorium. The old building will be refurnished and thoroughly repaired. All rooms will be freshly plastered, and supplied with metal ceilings and new floors. In fact our new home will be a revelation to those who have not yet seen it. The new scholastic year will open with more of hope for the Maryland Agricultural College than it has even known in all its past history. It has been decided to offer twelve young men, who earnestly desire to be educated, an opportunity to avail themselves of this great blessing by paying for the same in the only currency at their command: their power to render service such as they can readily give. We want young men who realize that there is great dignity and honor in any kind of honorable labor. These young men will act as waiters in the dining room and janitors on the halls. They will have every facility for instruction and every comfort and accommodation enjoyed by any other student. They will, on entering, sign a regular contract to perform every duty they assume in an orderly manner. Thousands of young men in the north have secured their education by just such means, and are today among the most honored of our citizens. We know that there are thousands of just such young men in Maryland. Remember it is only the weakling who shuns opportunities of this character. Every self respecting man must yield the highest admiration for the young man, who not having means is willing to pay in the currency of his strength of body and vigor of mind and heart for this preparation for his life work. In these young men we want well settled purposes of life; a strict sense of obligation to every duty assumed; and at least to have completed the eighth grade in some graded public school. These young men in deciding this question for themselves must bear in mind, that the young man who puts the best of his mind and heart into the work of his hands is giving to the world a currency whose standard is far more stable and valuable than any which has ever been devised by the ingenuity of man. No man is doing or can do his best work without this trinity of heart, head and hand engaged. As either of these forces are neglected just in this proportion is his work incomplete; they are associated so that weakness in either means weakness in all. Trusting you will aid us in bringing this matter to the consideration of the young men of your county, I am with much respect and esteem,

Very truly yours,
R. W. Silvester.

GOV. JACKSON DECLINES

First District Congressional Nomination in Response To Letter Of Notification. Sets Forth His Reasons In Reply Wednesday.

Ex-Gov. E. E. Jackson, who was nominated by the Democratic convention of the First Congressional district of Maryland Wednesday sent his declination to Mr. Henry R. Lewis, chairman of the committee which was appointed by the convention to notify the ex-Governor of his nomination.

As a consequence of his refusal to accept the nomination it will be necessary for the Democrats to reconvene the convention and select another standard-bearer.

Ex-Governor Jackson Wednesday received the following letter from Mr. Henry R. Lewis who presided over the convention at Ocean City August 10; "Berlin, Md., Aug. 13, 1904.

"Hon. E. E. Jackson:

"My Dear Sir:—I desire to congratulate you on your unanimous nomination by the Democratic convention which convened at Ocean City on the 10th, instant, and of which I had the honor to be chairman, to represent the First Congressional district of Maryland in the Fifty-ninth Congress of the United States. It is seldom that such unanimity and enthusiasm in regard to a nominee prevail in any convention as were manifest in the convention that nominated you for this high and honorable position from the moment that the members of that convention were assured that you would accept the nomination if unanimously bestowed. Caroline county had a candidate of its own that, we felt had just claims on the party for the nomination, but when it was said that you would accept the nomination both he and his delegates cheerfully joined in conferring the honor so eminently deserved, and their course in this is enthusiastically received and approved by the Democrats of Caroline county. With you as our standard-bearer there is no doubt of our success at the polls in November next.

"Prior to the meeting of the convention I had arranged to go to St. Louis on the 15th, instant. It will, therefore, be impossible for me to be present on the occasion of your formal notification, but I have delegated Harvey L. Cooper, Esq., of this town, to represent this county on that occasion. I shall be pleased if you will at your convenience make known to Mr. Cooper the time and place at which you will receive the notification committee and he will make arrangements to comply with your wishes in the matter. Hoping that you have fully made up your mind to accept the nomination, I am

Sincerely yours,

Henry R. Lewis.

The Ex-Governor's Letter.

Upon the receipt of the letter ex-Governor Jackson wrote his reply and forwarded it to Chairman Lewis. The ex-Governor's letter is as follows:

"Baltimore, Md., Aug. 17, 1904.

"Hon. Henry R. Lewis,

Denton, Md.,

"My Dear Sir:—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13, instant referring to the action of the Democratic convention which convened at Ocean City on August 10 in nominating me to represent the First Congressional district of Maryland in the Fifty-ninth Congress of the United States and asking me to name a time and place when the notification committee, of which you are chairman, may formally notify me of my nomination. I beg to call your attention to the fact that prior to the assembling of the convention I repeatedly stated through the press and to everyone with whom I had occasion to discuss the subject that I was not a candidate and that I did not want the convention to nominate me.

"While the honor which the convention has conferred upon me is a great one, and while I appreciate the action of the delegates to that convention in thus honoring me, for personal reasons I have no ambition to serve a term in Congress. The only question, therefore which I feel called upon to consider is whether, notwithstanding my own personal disinclination and wishes, I should accept a nomination coming to me as this one did and make the fight for my party.

"Unofficial information which I have received leads me to believe that I was not primarily the choice of the convention and that my nomination was not made in response to a public sentiment reflected by the delegates to the convention.

"I have never failed to serve my party when I have been called upon in such a manner as to convince me that it was my duty to do so consistently with my own self-respect, and had I been so impressed by the action of your convention I should have found it very difficult to decline.

not be delayed in taking such further action as it may deem necessary. In conclusion I want to express my very great appreciation of your complimentary reference to me in your letter and through you to assure the delegates to the convention that I shall give to the Democratic nominee, whoever he may be, my cordial support. Yours very truly,
E. E. Jackson.

Johnson—Leonard.

Willards, Md. August 11, 1904. The event that has recently stirred our social circle to its centre is the wedding of Miss Edie W. Leonard of Wango, Md., to Mr. Elmer J. Johnson, son of Mr. John Johnson, a well to do farmer of Nutters district, Wilcomico county. The ceremony took place at the bride's parents Thursday evening, August 11th., at half after eight o'clock in the presence of the two immediate families and intimate friends.

Miss Della Collins, daughter of Mr. Denard Collins, of Berlin, Worcester county, Md., presided at the organ and rendered Tannhauser's wedding march very artistically. As the bridal company entered the parlor, leading the procession was little Earl Johnson, sister of the groom, carrying a basket of ferns, pink and white roses, acted as flower maid. Next came Miss Lucie J. Parker, cousin of the bride who was bridesmaid, accompanied by Mr. Lee Holloway, of Warfield, Va., who was the groom's best man. Next came the groom accompanied by Mr. Quinton S. Leonard, of St. Martins, Md., brother of the bride, and acted as brides maid attendant, then the bride leaning on the arm of her sister, Miss Lucie M. Leonard who was maid of honor marched beneath a beautiful floral arch composed of ferns, pink and white roses and was there made the wife of the man whom she had forsaken all others by Elder Thomas M. Poulston, of the old School Baptist Church. Thence at the strains of Mendelssohn wedding march rendered by Miss Collins the procession marched to the dining room where a bounteous reception had been prepared by the bride's parents, where fully two hundred friends of the bride and groom were entertained with confectioneries ices and cake. The happy couple received many handsome and useful presents and indications of the good wishes of hosts of friends. By this marriage Wilcomico county will lose one of its most efficient teachers as Miss Leonard has for six years in succession been teacher of Phillips' School in Nutters district, Wilcomico county.

Invites Specimens of Fruit for Distribution Maryland Day. Berlin, Md., Aug. 15, 1904. Dear Sir: I have been authorized by the Maryland Commissioners of the St. Louis Exposition to collect fruit to be distributed on Maryland Day, September 12th. I want to know how many crates of peaches, pears, apples or plums you will contribute about September 8th. If you have any vegetables that are extra, I will place them on the Agricultural Exhibit. My idea is to load a refrigerator car at the most convenient place with the choicest fruit from Maryland soil. Full instructions will be given all regarding packing and the expenses after leaving you will be borne by the Commission. We hope to have one thousand Marylanders there and trust you will be one of that number. This is an opportunity for any fruit grower or Agriculturist of the State to exhibit at the greatest Fair that was ever before the American people. Address all communication to Orlando Harrison, Berlin, Md., One of the Commissioners.

Ships That Pass In The Night. It is impossible to feel a lasting, a vital, an unselfish interest in a stranger. It is equally impossible to forget a comrade you have toiled with, a friend you have helped, or who has helped you. This is the secret of the success of the Wilmington Business School. There is such uniform good will existing between the management and the students, a comradeship born of mutual endeavor in the schoolroom, which is an incentive for each to do his best. Many a young man who has gained success in the business world owes his advancement to the thorough instruction and the timely suggestions given him by Mr. Beacon. Thousands of young people date the beginning of their forward march to the kindly encouragement received from him. Mr. Beacon is constantly in the schoolroom. Each student receives the benefit of his instruction and experience, and the results are all that the most conscientious parent could desire. If you are interested in young work, or if you are interested in the people, you should investigate the young working of this school. Write the Wilmington Business School for the latest catalogue ever issued relating to a course in business training.

SALISBURY WINNING

Breaks Ice Lines Of Hard Luck At Easton Tuesday And Gives Gambridge Severe Waterloo Wednesday On The Diamond.

Salisbury won its first game of the season from Easton Tuesday, at Federal Park. The game was the prettiest played there this season. Slaughter pitched winning ball, Sherwood for Easton also pitched well. Salisbury scored its first and only run in the sixth inning. Hoover made a sensational play by catching a ball that hit the first baseman's glove and bounced off doubling the man on third. Score.

Salisbury won its second game of the championship series from Cambridge, Wednesday, by the score of 10 to 0. After administering a white washing to Easton on Tuesday, Cambridge received the same medicine Wednesday. Good hitting and fine fielding won the game for Salisbury. The fun started in the second inning when five hits were bunched off Stub Brown, Ball and Hoover made hits, Knotts sacrificed, putting them on second and third bases respectively, Cain knocked out a two bagger scoring two runs. Slaughter's hit scored Cain. A double play followed which ended the agony. The other innings were of about the same order. Schuler worked three bases on balls. The attendance was the largest of the season.

PLENTY OF GOOD MEN.

The inability of Ex-Governor E. E. Jackson to accept the nomination for Congress from the First Congressional District will be generally regretted by Democrats all over the District and State.

That it would have been at great sacrifice on the part of the nominee no one doubted, and had he accepted great indeed must have been his love of party.

The honor of next Congressman is now open to the field and the convention of the First District will again, by call of its chairman, assemble shortly to select a winning candidate. There are many available Democrats on the Eastern Shore, of proper and becoming Congressional status who have the ability and requisite qualifications to lead a successful fight against the attack of the enemy. There is every reason for encouragement this fall, and with a good aggressive man of which there are many at hand, the Democrats of the First District can win by a substantial majority. It now behooves the party to select the best man, whom the rank and file have confidence in and with the platform adopted carry the white colors of the party triumphant to the polls and its standard bearer to the national halls of legislation to represent the majority of white sentiment.

PARKER STANDS FOR "EXPERIENCE AND PRECEDENT."

The supreme mission of the Democratic party in the United States is to keep alive the principles of competition; and, with that political and economic idea accepted as the underlying thought of our peculiar form of government, Alton Brooks Parker emerges into the struggle for control of the nation as the undeniable leader of conservatism.

With the nomination of this strong, brave, sober American—who has risen by sheer force of character from the obscure drudgery of a farm boy to pre-empt, at the age of forty-five years, over the highest court in the great State of New York—the Democracy once more takes its place as the advocate and guarantor of government according to the written Constitution and written laws, as against the personal and radical policies which inspire and control the Republican party to-day.

At the root of Judge Parker's candidacy is the contention that a just government exists only for public purposes, and that the use of public powers for private ends—as in the tariff laws—not only violates the spirit of our institutions, but leads to favoritism, corruption, and a perilous disruption of the conditions which are necessary to the equal development of the moral, mental, and material interests of the American people.

Judge Parker stands for experience and precedent, as opposed to inspiration. He believes in party responsibility rather than in personal responsibility for government. In that respect he is unlike Grover Cleveland or Theodore Roosevelt. One must go to the earlier American Presidents to find his like in character and temperament.—From "Alton B. Parker: A Character Sketch," by James Creelman, in the "American Monthly Review of Reviews" for August.

Granted a pension of $1.50 per month to Edward Holbrook; order to Covington & Culver.
Bills approved; J. W. Rounds, road work, $28.10; R. D. Grier, court house work, $12.00; Philadelphia Ledger, advertising bonds, $183.20; T. J. Hugh, ditching, $5.00.

Vault And Other Changes Planned For Court House.

At the session of the County Commissioners Tuesday Messrs. Slemons and Bounds were called in to prepare an estimate for some long contemplated improvements in the Court House.
It is proposed to construct a large fire-proof vault on the main floor of the court house, taking in the room now occupied by the tax collector and the present toilet room. This would give a large vault with space enough to hold all file cases in the Clerk's office and all the book racks. These documents and books have no protection from fire at present and if destroyed valuable records would be lost which could not be replaced.
In event of this change the Clerk's quarters will be moved to the room now occupied by the County Commissioners; the County Commissioners will move across the corridor to the rooms now occupied by the School Board and the Sheriff and the School Board will take the room vacated by the Clerk of the Court.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

SAILING.

Wind and wave and gold-washed weather. Wind flying loose and wave set free; She and I alone together Sailing on a sapphire.
Clang and clamor of the crowded City street is heard no more; Only billows, foam enshrouded
Freighting music to the shore.
Sail full blown and sloop prow flinging Floods of song on either side; White gulls in the wide blue winging. (Gipsies of the roving tide.)
Peaks afar that know the splendor Of the sunset's waste of wine; Twilight sky grown strangely tender
Like the eyes that look in mine.

Weber And Fields Wives, Grand Vau-deville At Ocean City.

The climax was reached in the theatrical life at Ocean City last Friday night when Mr. Jack Taylor presented a burlesque on "Weber and Fields." Never in the annals of the place has there been a more creditable performance or one that displayed more genuine ability on the part of its manager.

To Mr. Taylor belongs the credit of the occasion, his forcible yet gentle attitude toward the "Company" was the key-note of his success.

Mr. Clarence Holloway gave the audience a treat in his impersonation of Mrs. Field. His Dutch dialect was excellent. He made his greatest hit however as Louis Mann in the "Telephone Girl." Local humor ran high and Mr. Mann had his sport in the saucy knocks given his friends. Mr. Gist Landon as Mrs. Weber was good and his Dutch dialogue with his friend Mrs. Field was one of the most enjoyable features of the evening.

Lillian Russell, Mr. Edgar James brought down the house together with his "Evening Star." Bedecked with glittering diamonds, she looked not as one lone stella world, but as a whole slice from the scintillating firmament. Mrs. Holloway did herself credit in the dramatic scene from "Becky Sharp" and her "baby song" was most fetching.

Miss Ada Mosby brought tears to the eyes in her touching "Frankforter" dialogue, while Mr. Frank Ferry in his Willie Collier role put Irving and others to shame.

Mr. Kortright Church, Pete Daly, took the part of the ireful husband to perfection.

Miss Pauline Mosby, as Nanette, made a decided hit when she dropped the tray and struck the floor.

"Pinky Panky Poo" was ably sung by Mr. Holloway with eight dainty Japanese maidens who did their Jappy "stunts" so naturally that one could scarcely believe them other than the genuine article.

To the excellent performance and beauty of the chorus girls be given the highest praise. Chorus after chorus pealed forth from the throats of these "American Beauties" from the romantic strains of "Come Down my Evening Star" to the plebeian tune of "Rags," they filled the air with their harmony, and made one feel they were occupying the "bald head" a row in Gay Paris.

The Spanish Senorita's solo by Mr. Taylor with grand final chorus was most effective, and gave a fitting climax to a most delightful audience.

Mr. Jack Taylor, a star of the first magnitude floated upon the stage, causing the lesser lights to pale as he sang the "Milky Way" before his majesty. His voice, a marvel of strength and beauty would have alone repaid an enthusiastic audience.

are words that we often hear after people have tried Orange Phosphate at our fountain. Orange Phosphate is so common that it takes something extra to call forth such remarks. The secret of ours is that we are careful to have fresh syrup made from the best material we can find. Fresh syrup means syrup made not longer than the day before you taste it. Our Orange Phosphate is delicious because it hasn't that flat "cellery" pine wood taste. It has that tart acid taste that pleases.

You can't tell what's in a house by looking from the outside.

He was not a very welcome visitor at a certain home in Salisbury where there was a maid, but he hadn't caught onto the fact. He had noticed, however, that of late whenever he called the young lady happened to be out. He called last Sunday afternoon and the same smiling colored girl came to the door and remarked "she's out." As he descended the steps he happened to turn around and just then a curtain that had been down suddenly sprung up. As the curtain rolled way up to the window he saw the young lady try to dodge out of sight. He hastily ran up the steps and as she came to the door he angrily remarked "Well I've found you out at last." "It looks more as if you had found me in," she sweetly replied. "You can never tell what's in a house by looking on the outside. You can't even get a good idea of what's in Lacy Thoroughgood's two stores by looking at the windows, for Thoroughgood wouldn't have windows enough to show all the good things he's got if he had them clear around the block. ## The Happy Home.

Happiness must be founded on health. Where there is ill-health there will surely be unhappiness. The happiness of many a home has received its downfall at the table, spread with rich and dainty foods. The first symptoms of disease of the stomach are ignored as being disagreeable but not dangerous. Presently dyspepsia or some other form of disease fastens on the stomach.

At any stage Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. But the cure is quicker if the "Discovery" is used in the earlier stages of disease. If you have any symptoms of disease of the stomach use "Golden Medical Discovery" and be cured.

"I feel that I would be doing an injustice to you if I did not send you a statement of my case," writes Mrs. David W. Guice, of Hamburg, Franklin Co., Miss. "I had liver complaint and indigestion. Everything that I ate disagreed with me. I suffered all the time with swelling in my head; heart beat too fast; my feet and hands were cold all the time. Did not sleep well at all. Was able to get about but very little. I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets in May, 1897, and by December I could begin to get about very well. Have been doing much work ever since. Feel better than I have for several years."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Calmage Sermon

By Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D.D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 14.—In his sermon the preacher shows how one sin breeds other sins, how remorse tortures and makes cowards of men and how human nature is pretty much the same today as in the time of Adam. The text is Genesis III, 8, "And Adam and his wife hid themselves."

"Where was the garden of Eden?" is the theme of a never ending discussion. Some think its site was at the north pole. The site of the garden does not, however, concern us so much as the event which took place there. Man was put on his trial in that garden, and he failed. The consequences of his disobedience have come down to us, for all his descendants have been deprived of the blessings which would have been theirs had he obeyed God. I do not wonder that the sterile region around the north pole should have become a fitting scene for the catastrophe. In the course of the ages it may have been that the glory and fertility of Eden may have been transformed into a region of ice and snow. Many have tried to penetrate it and have failed.

It seems as if the guardian angel, with her sword, who once stood at the gate of Eden, saying to the first ancestors of the human race, "Thus far shalt thou go and no farther," stands there with the same warning message for the children of the twentieth century. Her garments of the white "wings of a dove covered with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold," have been changed for the long flowing robes of spotless snow. She is perhaps the same sentinel, although her wardrobe of springtime has been thickened into the heavy toga of winter. Instead of swinging in her hand a sword of fire, she now holds in tight grip her glittering blade of ice.

Site of Garden of Eden.
Some think the garden of Eden was fragrant with the flowers of a continent which once stretched between the old world and the new. Exploring parties have gone forth and have claimed that they have located with their sounding lines the lost Atlantis. They assert that the islands of the New Hebrides are only the highest mountain peaks of that famous continent which was sunk by tidal waves and engulfed by earthquake. Some claim that the garden of Eden was in Persia, others that it was watered by the outflowings of the mighty Nile, others that it was in India and still others that it was in central China. But here today, in the words of my text, we are not concerned with the site of the garden of Eden, but with the conduct of our first parents after they had sinned. No sooner had Adam and his wife eaten of the forbidden fruit than they hid themselves, as frightened hares hide themselves in the jungles of the forests from the baying hounds. The voice of God calling them to confession of their sin was a summons to judgment which they would have evaded if they had been able.

Our first parents hid themselves after they had sinned. That is always the impulse of the conscious sinner. He shrinks from meeting the God whom he has offended. A famous writer once declared, "The sins of the garden of Eden are as old as the dawn of creation, yet, like the rising sun, each day they are ever fresh and have no applications for each changing hour."

What we first want to do is to find out how Adam and Eve hid away into the Edenic jungles to hide themselves after they had eaten of the fruit of the forbidden tree, then to ask whether living men and women are not now acting in the same way in trying to conceal themselves in similar hiding places. I want to show them how vain are such attempts at concealment from the omniscient eye of God and by the help of the Holy Spirit to woo them from their retreats and lead them to bend in humble contrition at the foot of the cross.

Application of the Text.
Modern application of the first. We find Adam and Eve hiding away from God in the garden of Eden when we see men and women shunning the faces of those whom they have wronged. We find the Satanic retreat of the first paradise in the skulking fold and the averted gaze and the conspicuous absence of those who after they have injured a brother flee his presence even as the prodigal son when he desired to do wrong planned to take his goods and leave his father's house and go into the far country where he would not be in the presence of his parents, whose hearts the wayward boy was breaking. It is a peculiar but incontrovertible fact that sin, no matter whether spasmodic or habitual, produces a sense of humiliation and degradation in the presence of its victims whom it has deceived or injured. Thus Herod, the tetrarch, although he was a great Roman governor, trembled when he thought the beheaded John the Baptist was risen from the dead. Remorse is a terrible castigator. She has in her hand the grip of an unbreakable steel vice. She welds a whip which has a thousand lashes, the fury of a thousand avenging angels, the fury of a thousand conditions of remorse is a merciless and an implacable torturer. I once asked an old soldier this question: "Captain, did you ever kill a man in the civil war?" At once his eyes took on a faraway look. Then he slowly and regretfully answered me: "I have asked myself that same question a thousand times, but I have never dared answer it, even to myself. I know, however, that some of our company's rifles must have killed some soldiers during the civil war. I know, furthermore, that when I was a young man I was a crack shot. When as a boy I went hunting, I never used a shotgun, but always a rifle. I could as easily hit a flying bird as a man."

Jack rabbit with one ball as I could put four out of every five rifle shots into the bull's eye of a target. I furthermore knew that there were certain battles in which we could see the whites of the enemy's eyes. I was one of the best of sharpshooters. But I never knew absolutely whether I killed a man, because I never wanted to know. I would not want to see the face of a man whom I turned into a corpse and to realize that I had wrecked that man's home. I would not want to know that I had made his wife a widow and his children orphans. After the battles were over I never crossed the fields in the direction where I had been shooting. I was afraid to see the proofs of my marksmanship. Remorse, even when we are in the line of duty, has awful results. How much more terrible is it for you to look upon the face of one whom the sinner has wronged.

Oh, sinner, let me prove to you that you are now, like Adam and Eve, hiding in one of the Satanic retreats. Why do you dislike Mrs. So-and-so? She was the wife of one of the best friends you ever had. Has she wronged you? No. The reason you dislike her and never want to be seen in her companionship is because that dead friend left you the executor of his estate. You mismanaged it. You criminally mismanaged it. You used her money for your own benefit. If that widow had wanted, she might have put you in jail. Now you hate her. You never want to meet her because she has wronged you, but because you have wronged her.

Why We Do Not Forgive.
Why is that lifetime friendship between you and your school chum broken up? You were both born in the same country village. You grew up together. You played ball together, flew kites together, went fishing in the old brook together, sat side by side behind the same school desk and ate your lunches out of each other's basket. You came to the city on the same train, lived in the same boarding house and went to work at the same city store on the same day. Why are you estranged? I will tell you. You both fell in love with the same girl. In order to win that girl's affections you lied about your old friend. You circulated evil reports about his past life, when you knew that no squarer, truer man ever lived. You said his family was not respectable, when his mother used to be a second mother to you and helped nurse you when you were sick. You hate your old school friend not because he has done an injustice to you, but because you have done an injustice to him. "What is the matter with Mr. So-and-so?" I once asked my father. "He never comes around the house as he used to do." "No," said father, "he is my enemy. I loaned him some money. He would not pay me back. However, for old times' sake I forgave him the debt and said it was all right. But he has never forgiven me the injustice he has done me."

But again I learn that our first ancestors sought other refuge besides leaf and flower and clinging vine and tree trunk and bush. It is true that the tropical forests are so dense that they make excellent hiding places. Sir Gordon Cumming, the great hunter of wild beasts, tells us that the Ceylon jungles in places are so impenetrable to the eye that the keenest and most experienced hunters may sometimes be unable to distinguish the wounded elephantine monster only a few yards away, though the valleys and the mountain sides may be strewed with the belongings of the dying wild beast. But sin never tries to cover up with the curtain of leaf alone. Sin always tries to conceal sin behind the bulwarks of other sins. Thus, when Adam and Eve hid themselves from the presence of God in the garden, they tried to conceal their sin with the sin of falsity. They pretended they did not hear God when he called. They tried to conceal sin by saying, "O God, because we were naked, as thou didst create us." They tried to conceal sin in exactly the same way as thousands and tens of thousands of living men try to conceal sin with sin. Ah, the "poisonous ivy" behind which Adam and Eve concealed themselves was not an arbor of oak, but an arbor of lies and deceptions. If they had spoken the truth, they would have said, "The shame we feel, the shame that forced us to hide ourselves from thy presence, is due to our consciousness of wrongdoing."

Concealing Sin.
How does man try to conceal his first sin behind a mighty bulwark of many sins? Here is a young man who has been brought up in a country home. He was raised up right. He had his first gospel lessons instilled into him at the family altar, in the Sunday school, and in the church pew, where, as a little child, he used to be taken to the service and would sleep through the long sermon clasped in his mother's arms. Away from home he falls into bad companionship. He gradually gets into the habit of spending his evenings in billiard halls, and his Sundays on excursion trains and picnic parties. He drinks a little. He plays cards a little. He dresses a little better than he can afford. He runs a little in debt. One night while seeing some of his companions gambling he says to himself, "Why cannot I make a little money that way? He is a collector for the store. He plays and loses. He plays again and loses. He feels again for money in his pocket. Now his cheeks pale and his hands tremble, for his fingers have touched the envelope which belongs to his employer. He says to himself: 'I must win. I will borrow $5 and pay it back very soon.' He plays again and loses. The next day he dare not confess, so he uses other people's money until at last one night in order to conceal his past sins he forges. Then all the infernal regions clasp their hands for joy. At last they have a new victim. The law places its heavy hand upon that young man's shoulder. A striped suit and a penitentiary cell and a broken hearted mother are the results of the sinner trying to conceal his sin behind a bulwark of many sins.

But today I do not see alone Arnold the traitor. I do not see merely the betrayer of West Point. I see, first, Benedict Arnold the hero of Ticonderoga. I see Benedict Arnold the hero and commander of the wonderful expedition against Quebec, which in 1775 in midwinter marched through the Maine woods. I see Benedict Arnold wounded before the walls where Wolfe fell and where Montcalm breathed his last. I see Benedict Arnold of Lake Champlain and the conqueror at Ridgefield, Conn. I see Benedict Arnold who fought in the first battle of Saratoga and Benedict Arnold, the Phil Sheridan of the second battle of Saratoga, who turned the ebbing tides of defeat into the food tides of a victorious campaign. Burgoyne and his troops even as Pharaoh and his hosts were drowned in the Red sea. Then I see this wounded hero, Benedict Arnold, wounded the second time at Saratoga, being appointed to the command of the city of Philadelphia, to rest there until his wounds healed. Then I see the aristocracy of the American capital making a pet, a social lion, of this hero of heroes. Then I see Benedict Arnold running into debt to pay the expenses of his social triumphs and not knowing how to extricate himself. Then I see him lean on sin to conceal sin until at last he had to do something to save himself from financial as well as social disgrace. Then I see him, as a last resort, to conceal sin, trying to barter away the citadel of American independence, West Point. Ah, my friends, when Benedict Arnold started on his downward path of extravagance he never intended to be a traitor. His attempt to betray West Point was merely the culmination of a long series of attempts to conceal sin. Beware of the first glass, the first lie, the first taste of the fruit of the forbidden tree. Oh, yes. But, more than that, beware of the infernal folly of trying to conceal sin with sin.

But as we push our way through the flower gardens and the hedges of paradise and see our guilty ancestors standing before God I feel that they are not willing to leave their hiding places of sin even after the embowered roofs and the curtains of leaves have been torn aside, and the guilty pair are compelled to confess that the fruit of the forbidden tree has been placed against their lips. Even now they are both trying to conceal sin within sin. What is the man trying to do? Why, he is trying to throw all the blame of his sin upon his wife. What is the woman trying to do? She is no better. They are both tarred with the same black pitch of meanness. Why, she is trying to throw the blame of her sin upon the serpent. The man said, "The woman whom thou gavest to me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat." The woman said, "The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat." The young Adam of the present day says, "I believe all my evil desires were inherited from my ancestors, and they are to blame, and not myself." The young Eve of modern times, lifting the glass of wine to her lips just before her doom, says: "I am not to blame. Other people drink. Every one of my friends drink; therefore they set me an example I must follow. They are to blame, not myself." The young drunkard blames the saloon keeper for selling him the whiskey. The saloon keeper justifies himself by pleading that the voter approves of his having a license to stand behind the bar.

The Responsibility of Sin.
I believe in many cases the responsibility of sin may be placed upon other shoulders than upon those of the one who has sinned. There is a terrible indictment Peter Noldemeyer, the Chicago bandit, hurled at the churches when in April, 1904, he stood under the shadow of the gallows and said: "It is all well enough to pray with me now, but it is too late. Who are my two companions and myself, about to die? We belong to the great army of the poor, miserable, social outcasts. We grow up in the slums, half starved and always miserable. We work day after day like slaves, to die a criminal's death. The churches did nothing more for those who need their aid in the struggle to earn a living than they would more good than they can by converting men about to be hanged." Ah, yes, there was a thunderbolt of terrible truth hurled in that one saying by a man who was facing death.

Miss Rose Hennessy, well known as a poetess and elocutionist, of Lexington, Ky., tells how she was cured of uterine inflammation and ovaritis by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I have advised a number of my lady friends to use it, and all express themselves as well satisfied with the result as I was." — Miss Rose Nona Hennessy, 410 S. Broadway, Lexington, Ky. — $5.00 bottle if shipped to you before printing guarantee cannot be produced.

younger days I used to picture God as a tyrant, a monster, when he was seeking those two frightened, fleeing sinners. I used to think his voice was harsh and condemnatory, that the call, "Adam, where art thou?" had in it the roar of a wild African lion starting forth at night to seek his prey. But a few years ago my mind entirely changed in reference to this, for then I heard a great English preacher say: "This call of God in the garden of Eden was not the call of death, but to life. God's call, 'Adam, where art thou?' was the pleading call of a sorrowing father seeking a lost and a wayward child." It is the same kind of a call the pilgrim fathers used when as a searching party they went forth into the dark woods seeking a lost child. It is the same call that you would give if your boy were lost in the jungles of the Indian hills. Then you would call, "My child, oh, my child, cannot you hear my voice?" As God was calling to our ancestors to come forth out of their hiding places of sin and they would be forgiven, God the Father is calling to you and to me: "Come home, ye weary and lost sinners. Come home."

Love Relieved Everywhere.
Thus we started this sermon with a garden; we are going to end it with a garden. The apostle Paul sees in the story of our first homestead a wrecked and disorganized animal and vegetable and ichthyological and ornithological and human world. He leads us to see how the whole creation—the birds of the air, and the fishes of the sea, and the beasts of the forest, and the flowers of the fields—were influenced through and had their nature changed by the sin of man. Once love reigned everywhere. Now the law of life is dependent upon the "survival of the fittest." The eagle begins to mount higher and higher and higher, not to come nearer to the heavens to see God, but that on account of the greater altitude he can have a wider horizon to swoop; that with his keen eye he may see the helpless dove far off, into which the feathered murderer can plunge the terrible beak and rip and tear and slay. Once the trees as lovers stretched forth their arms of branches and with rustle and moan talked to each other until for very love they trembled with delight. Then it was affection, wooing affection, and tenderness, enchanting tenderness. But now the batteries of the storms are unlimbered, and the thunderbolts are aimed at their hearts. Now the mighty forest giants, not as lovers, but as dying warriors, groan and totter and fall. Once the lion and the lamb lay down side by side to sleep. But after the sin of man the enmities of the shaggy brute was the prelude to a bite by which the helpless lamb was gashed and torn and became a meal for its foe.

But this is not the end. The same inspired writer tells us that the time will come when creation itself also "shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God." Then shall the day of universal peace dawn, which the ancient prophet described, when not only will men cease from war, but the animal creation will cease to devour one another, and again "the wolf shall also dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid, and the cow and the bear shall feed, and their young ones shall lie down together, and the lion shall eat straw with the ox, and the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand to the cockatrice's den. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy temple, for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the seas."

Oh, my brother, will you not believe that this call of God the Father to his wayward children may mean a paradise, an Edenic and a redeemed world, glorified with love on the land, in the heavens and under the seas? Will you not heed the Father's call, which is today seeking you even in your shameful hiding places? (Copyright, 1904, by Louis Klopsch.)

UNION CAMPMEETING

A Most Enjoyable Camp Concludes Under Favorable Circumstances. Those Who Were There, And What They Did.

The Union Methodist Protestant Campmeeting which was held in Owen's Grove, near Sharptown, for ten days was one of great success. The tent holders returned to their homes last Monday morning much pleased with their pleasant stay at the camp. This is the eighth camp meeting held under the present auspices. Each year the committee has made extensive improvements on the grounds, and have provided many accommodations for those who tented at the camp. This year several persons from Baltimore, Philadelphia, Wilmington and other cities rented or purchased tents making the number tenting 408. There were more demands for tents than the committee could provide, but arrangements are already being made for another year on a larger scale.

The auditorium will be enlarged, a board floor placed therein and the roof raised. There will be a special study of the caustic properties that in the new arrangements all seated in the enlarged auditorium may hear the speakers distinctly.

Innovations.

The innovation of games for the children in the afternoon introduced by Rev. Louis Randall was a popular one. The bag race, potato race, shoe race, etc. was entered into with a vim causing much interest on the part of the participants and furnished amusement for many of the "older heads," who saw for the first time such exercise. The social features were said by those who have attended the camp since its first meeting, to be the most pleasant. The "funny men" from Baltimore, formerly Sharptown boys, were on the alert, and their jolly ways of doing things kept their neighbors on the anxious seat, while providing innocent amusement for the more sedate.

Religious Services.

The religious services were devoutly attended three times daily, and while there were no conversions, yet there was much manifestation of zeal on the part of the congregation. The eloquent words of the ten ministers in attendance were given the most respectful attention and were effectively received. On the last evening, led by the ministers the entire congregation formed in line and marched around the grounds singing praises, and shouting hallelujahs. It was an impressive service, the devout rejoicing and those not of devout standing quietly awed by such inspiration into silence.

The music was a special feature and was greatly enjoyed. Prof. Hogg, of Philadelphia directed the large chorus choir to a good advantage, and Prof. L. L. Twilley's sweet tones on the cornet skillfully accompanied by Miss Lena Cooper at the organ was a strong lead that was much appreciated, as the large number of voices joined in the glad refrain that swelled the anthems to the most High.

There were 150 regular boarders at the boarding tent and many transients. J. P. Cooper and H. B. Phillips who managed for the inner man surpassed their previous good record of last year. Their good meals have become proverbial. The attractive and polite lady waiters added to the delicacies which they served.

Tent Holders.

Among those whose family tented were: S. J. Cooper, J. P. Cooper, W. C. Mann, W. D. Gravenor, Capt. O. L. Smith, Mrs. J. A. Ellis, J. W. Phillips, J. S. Cooper, J. F. Beach, S. J. Lowe, J. E. Bailey, Lee Bradley, W. H. Cooper, Albert Fletcher, Capt. T. J. Russell, J. D. Phillips, C. J. Mooney, L. Bennett, G. S. Phillips, W. E. Hastings, J. M. Phillips, Mrs. M. E. Walker, T. H. Bennett, J. ## QUESTIONINGS.

I wonder where thou art, to-night,
Oh! friend of the long ago!
Do sea-winds fan thy forehead white,
And wait thee on, now swift, now slow.
O'er liquid milk a far—afar
Perhaps to the golden West
To the East or the mystic Star,
Or the South of "visions blest"?
Or hast thou kept to field and plain,
To the hills and vales between,
To song of birds and wild refrain,
Of sighing winds in woodlands green?
I stand within the golden glow
Of a million stars alight,
And think, oh! friend, of long ago,
And wonder where thou art, to-night!
Ay, wonder where thou art, to-night,
Oh! friend of the olden time!
When life was young, and hearts were light,
And faith was a thing sublime.
Perhaps thou'rt very near at hand;
It seems, sometimes, it must be so;
I almost turn to clasp thy hand,
And list thy greeting soft and low.
Ah! me, 'tis ages since thou went!
My hair is white, perchance thine, too,
I've taken what the years have sent,
And held life sweet, and good, and true.
But oft I wonder where thou art—
If far, or near thy footsteps stray—
If sad, or glad thy loyal heart,
If rough, or smooth thy chosen way?
Perhaps sometime I'll surely know
And find the knowledge very dear—
If not until hope's sun burns low
And life is old and heaven is near.
Amanda Elizabeth Dennis.

(Use Per-na for Catarrh.)

Pe ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

F. Y. FITZPATRICK, M. C.

Hon. F. Y. Fitzpatrick, Congressman from Kentucky, writes from the National Hotel, Washington, D. C., as follows: "At the solicitation of a friend I used your Per-na and can cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone suffering with catarrh or who needs a good tonic."

—F. Y. Fitzpatrick.
Per-na is the remedy for catarrh. Almost everybody knows that by honesty and common sense it can be cured. What can be cured in the beginning in a week or two by using Per-na, if allowed to become chronic, may require months of faithful treatment. You had better take Per-na now for by and by you may be obliged to take it for some time in order to get well. Now the warm, dry weather will assist in your cure. You are not liable to catch fresh cold and delay your cure.

Hundreds of men of dignity and prominence from all over the United States endorse Per-na.

No other remedy receives such convincing testimonials. Send for free book of testimonials.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Per-na, write once to Dr. Hartman, giving full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

FOR BETTER ROADS

County Commissioners Set Date for Investigation And Make Progressive Move. What is Being Accomplished Elsewhere in State.

Tuesday, September 27, at 10 a. m. in the Parsons Opera House, a public meeting of the taxpayers of Wicomico county, has been called by the County Commissioners for the purpose of taking up the question of road building and what disposition to make of the opportunity afforded by the late appropriation of the State Legislature. It is earnestly desired that the people of the county will respond in large numbers or in proxies to the call of the Commissioners, hear Prof. Johnson, of the Geological Survey, and others on this all important matter and decide for better roads if, on intelligent inquiry and deliberation it is manifest that the advantages of improved highways are more than commensurate to the cost of construction and maintenance.

The estimation in which the people of the Counties of Maryland hold the question of good roads is being fully demonstrated and the efforts of the projectors of the new law for State aid to road building is receiving its reward in the earnestness with which five or six counties of the State, led by Prince George's county, are already taking steps to avail themselves of the State fund appropriated for model road building. Montgomery, Allegany, Harford and Carroll Counties have all indicated their interest in the building of one or more pieces of model road within their boundaries, and of these Counties Allegany and Harford are re-arranging for the preparation of plans, specifications and estimates upon certain roads, in order to obtain the State aid and go forward with the road building as soon as the necessary funds become available.

Prince George's County, through its Board of Road Commissioners, has the honor of being the first County to petition to have plans, specifications and estimates made for the survey and building of scientifically constructed roads under the provisions of the new road law, but the interest shown by the people of this section has been closely rivaled by the people of Allegany County in the neighborhood of Cumberland, Frostburg and Lonaconing; and by the residents of Pylesville and of Forest Hill, Harford County. Montgomery County early evinced a decided interest in the new law, and after the recent issue of the pamphlet published by the Highway Division of the Maryland Geological Survey, describing the new law, the Board of County Commissioners took under consideration the building of a piece of road under its provisions, but as yet no decision has been reached. Caroline County, through its Roads Engineer, Mr. William D. Uhler, has expressed its desire to construct a State road at an early date.

For the Prince George's and Allegany roads, for which applications have been received for the drawing up of the plans, specifications, and estimates by the engineers of the Maryland Geological Survey, the surveys will begin in three or four weeks, as soon as enough applications from the residents along the routes have been received to thoroughly organize the work. The Board of Road Commissioners of Prince George's County have requested that seven pieces of roads be placed upon the files of the Highway Division of the Maryland Geological Survey, on three of which roads it is requested that five miles be surveyed and reported upon with regard to plans, specifications and estimates.

Allegany County has come forward to request the surveying of four miles of road, and the Board of Road Directors announce that the County will take up its full allotment of the State aid. The roads in question are the old National road near Cumberland, the Legislative road near Mt. Savage,

ON MARYLAND FARMS

Conditions of Past Week Governing Crops. About The Wheat, Corn, Fruit And Vegetable Yield And Prospects.

Over much the greater part of the Section the week was quite dry until the 19th, though light showers were numerous on the 16th and 17th, and in a few places heavy local storms occurred. A heavy thunderstorm with considerable hail visited Allegany County on the 16th; and on the 17th one of the heaviest rains of the season occurred in portions of Carroll County. This storm was accompanied by hail and severe lightning; a barn and contents, and several hay barns were struck by lightning and consumed. No precipitation of consequence fell over many districts between the 10th and the 19th, and by the last of the week rain was badly needed. Growing crops were beginning to suffer in numerous localities; the ground had become dry and fall plowing was advanced with difficulty; pastures were getting short; tobacco was firing, and corn on hill-sides in central and Southern Maryland was suffering from lack of moisture. Rain was insufficient to sprout small seeds sown recently, and cabbage and turnips were not coming up well. But on the 19th and 20th moderate to good showers were general. Late corn and tobacco were thereby greatly benefited; pastures revived, and the soil put in excellent order.

Wheat, Oats And Corn.

In the principal wheat belt, that grain is now mostly thrashed and reports continue to tell of an excellent quality of grain, but generally light yields. Considerable of the grain in stacks was damp and did not thrash well. Buckwheat is looking especially fine in Garrett County and is promising elsewhere. Oats are ripe in Garrett and Allegany counties and harvest is well advanced. The yields are exceptionally good. Regarding the condition of corn some adverse reports have been received. Considerable apprehension was felt late last corn, composing about one-half of the acreage, both of field and sugar corn, would be injured and the yield reduced by the dry weather which prevailed just at the critical stages of tassels and silk. But it is believed that the generous rains at the close of the week will prevent serious results if they do not entirely restore the condition of the crop. These late rains will go far toward insuring a full crop of early corn, which filled and matured satisfactorily during the dry weather.

Fruits And Minor Crops.

Peaches are still yielding very irregularly; in many localities they are fair to good, in many other places there are but few peaches. Shipments are quite light. Grapes promise fair to plentiful returns.

Sugar corn is ready for the canneries and the packing of corn and tomatoes was general, but not in full away during the week. The outlook for sugar corn is very good and a heavy pack is indicated. Tomatoes are ripening slowly; blight is common; and where this affliction exists the bloom is inadequate to maintain the supply, and a rather short pack is anticipated. In Southern Delaware the tomato crop is very promising. Potatoes are mostly dug and good to excellent yields are reported; late potatoes are also looking well. Melons are plentiful and of good quality; large shipments are in progress. Garden truck is still abundant and unusually good for the season.

HOW THE GAMES GO

Salisbury Still Winning. And Lost Only One Since Re-organization. Intense Interest Over The Score Is The Outcome.

The Cambridge team went down before the Salisbury Champions on Monday, the score being five to three in favor of the Wicomico boys. A large party of Salisbury people went over to witness the game.

The game was a very pretty one in most of its features, though the ease with which Salisbury got three runs in the first inning was rather disheartening to the Cambridge rooters. In their half of the sixth Cambridge secured two runs and they made one more in the seventh, making the final score five to three in favor of Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Marshall, to the regret of a host of friends, bade us a final adieu Thursday and departed for Orville, Ala., their southern home. Mr. Marshall is largely interested in the present cotton market and felt that his business interest needed his personal supervision. 'Tis Mrs. Marshall's first visit to Maryland, but judging from the tenor of her conversation it will require but little persuasion even the coming summer to make us a second one. There are really so very many attractions and inducements that this part of the Eastern shore can offer a stranger 'tis not at all surprising they should wish to repeat the visit.

Edward Henry, the oldest son of the late R. J. Henry died last Thursday of catarrh of the stomach in Newark, New Jersey. When quite young he left our town and settled in St. Louis, Mo., running a large livery in that city until about three years ago. Then coming east, finally located in Newark remaining until the end. He leaves a wife and one son, Edward, who still resides in St. Louis. Edward came with the remains which reached here Sunday morning and were placed in St. Paul's churchyard beside his parents at 11 o'clock Monday morning.

Rev. Mr. Howard of Salisbury read the burial service, Edward returning to St. Louis Thursday.

It would appear that the organized road labor trust which has existed for some time in the lower end of the county, unexpectedly Tuesday, when brought before Squire Lewis in Snow Hill struck a most unexpected snag and to their utter astonishment landed some twelve or fifteen of them in the county jail. Their principal advisers and most active members who had been expounding the true inwardness of the road law as they seem to view it however, failed to appear and assist the misguided in backing up their preachings. Some such feeling had also commenced to take root in this section and a few of them were on hand to size up the result. Since their return most of them have concluded to let the road law stand as now interpreted, taking a different view entirely since Tuesday's proceedings before the Squire. Manager Horthaway, who will act in the capacity of landlord for the next 10 days has the opportunity to so cater to their taste and ingratiate himself in the affection of his white and colored guests. What in the dim future might prove both a drawing and a winning card. It is to be hoped at the expiration of their ten day visit they will return to their homes at least wiser and more pliable to the laws of our land.

We are glad to know that the Snow Hill Base Ball team has been reorganized, and must say that we think they are much stronger than before. Hope that they will give the public a clean and fast article of ball. Also glad to know they have the blood to tackle Ridgely, Salisbury, Easton and others, but fear they will be wiped off the diamond when they play them.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Mrs. Annie Marvill.

Mrs. Annie Marvill, wife of Levin C. Marvill, died on Tuesday night of blood poison superinduced by a complication of afflictions, having been sick about twelve days. She was thirty six years old and leaves six children, all boys, the youngest about four years old.

Funeral services were held at the late residence, the Burford home, on Main Street by Rev. H. W. D. Johnson of the M. P. Church on Thursday morning, her pastor, Rev. Mr. Parker of Mardela being away from home. She was a charter member of the degree of Poochontas, and was buried with the honors of the order. The members of the order gave her all the attention during her affliction that was possible to bestow and demonstrated the noble purposes of that fraternal society.

As a token of grief the order has ordered that her chair and the chair be draped for thirty days and that the members wear the usual emblem of mourning. After the funeral services, six lady members, as pall bearers accompanied by other members and a number of friends and relatives took the remains to Branch Hill Cemetery near Mardela for interment. This was a very sad death dying as she did ere she reached the zenith of life breaking the tender cords that bound her to her happy family and leaving six orphans, small and young in years without a mother's care, a mother's love and a mother's instruction. Mr. Marvill and the bereaved family have the sympathies of the town and community. Last spring the family were burned out and lost nearly everything they had and now this sad bereavement of these dear little ones has renewed the deep feelings of sympathy of the community and every effort is being made to aid comfort and take care of the bereaved children. Already more good homes have been offered them than they can take, in and out of town, but it is hoped that some arrangements may be made to keep them together, for they are all very devoted to each other, and would like to remain together or at least have a place where they can meet together as home.—Sharpstown Herald.

You can't tell what's in a house by looking from the outside.

He was not a very welcome visitor at a certain home in Salisbury where there was a maid, but he hadn't caught onto the fact. He had noticed, however, that of late whenever he called the young lady happened to be out. He called last Sunday afternoon and the same smiling colored girl came to the door and remarked "she's out." As he descended the steps he happened to turn around and just then a curtain that had been down suddenly sprung up. As the curtain rolled way up to the window he saw the young lady try to dodge out of sight. He hastily ran up the steps and as she came to the door he angrily remarked "Well I've found you out at last." "It looks more as if you had found me in," she sweetly replied. "You can never tell what's in a house by looking on the outside. You can't even get a good idea of what's in Lacy Thoroughgood's two stores by looking at the windows, for Thoroughgood wouldn't have windows enough to show all the good things he's got if he had them clear around the block. Lacy Thoroughgood is never OUT of good Clothing and good Hats, never OUT of good Shirts, good Hosiery, good Neckwear, good Underwear, Lacy Thoroughgood wants to impress upon your mind that his new Fall Hats are coming in as well as going OUT. We have two stores selling hats, take your choice. We're brothers and sell the same kind of Hats at the same prices. "For about two years I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia, I wrote Dr. E. C. Pierce, of 13 Eastern Ave., Toronto, Ontario. I tried a great number of remedies without success. I finally lost faith in all of them. I was so far gone that I could not for a long time bear any solid food in my stomach. I felt faint, dizzy, and depressed. Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three bottles and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

A man can succeed and be strong if he heeds Nature's warnings. When there is indigestion, loss of appetite, ringing in the ears, dizziness, spots before the eyes or palpitation of the heart; any or all of these symptoms point to weakness and loss of nutrition. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the medicine to turn to.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is strictly a temperance medicine. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach.

The "Common Sense Medical Adviser," 1000 pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Impurely assimilated food acts on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Thedford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach a new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Thedford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev. Frank B. Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 21.—In this sermon the freedom of this world, with all its restrictions and limitations, and the larger freedom of the spiritual world are picturesquely contrasted. The text is John VIII, 32, "The truth shall make you free." The word freedom has a charming sound. Like unto a xylophone, each one of its letters seems to be a golden bar. Like unto a silver throated trumpet, its voice sounds just as enchanting in the rich man's palace as in the peasant's hut. Like unto the peacock's call for his mate, it seems to recognize no government save the scepter of love. Like unto the aeolian harp, which emits its most thrilling notes when the wintry storms thrush through its strings, this word freedom never has a more plaintive melody than when it is uttered by a man who pines for it while they cringe under the lash of the taskmaster and spend their lives in the bondage of tyrants at whose word they may have to die.

There have been orators whose tones were so penetrating and impressive that the words they uttered took a new and deeper meaning. It was said of George Whitefield, the famous evangelist, that his voice was of such compass and pathos that he could melt an audience into tears by the intonation he could throw into the word "Memoranda." But it is not by melodious tones that the word freedom reaches the heart most powerfully, but by the heroic deeds of men who have suffered and died to win the blessing for their people. It was thus uttered by Spartacus, the Roman slave and gladiator, when he led the insurrection against the throne of the Caesars and offered as a libation for that word his own blood, which was shed upon the battlefield of Silarius in 73 B. C. We can hear it thus spoken in the church calls of a Bernardo O'Higgins, the great liberator of Chile, or of a Toussaint L'Ouverture fighting for the liberty of Haiti, or of a Maceo dying for Cuba, or of a Garibaldi struggling for the liberation of his beloved Italy.

O freedom, thou art more than a mere word! Thou art a strong armed angel of light, breaking the shackles of the slave, unuzzling the lips of the patriot, lifting the shadow from the home. Under this benignant rule every man's abode is his castle, surrounded like the ancient fortresses of the old world, with the most watchful waters were impassable to the millions of a king. Thou art the messenger of God, who would place the coronation robes around every human shoulder. Thou wouldst put the crown of gold upon every manly or womanly brow as thou dost say: "Man, lift high thy forehead, for thou art a king! Woman, God has made thy head the resting place for a diadem which is the equal of the crown that I have placed upon thy husband's brow." Yes, yes; no word in all the English language has a more potent sound than that of freedom, for, as God gave to King Solomon everything a prince could want because the young king had asked of him "wisdom," so every good thing in life is accessible to the earnest, aspiring soul when freedom removes the barriers to its flight.

What is Freedom? But as I began to study my text I asked myself this important question: "What is freedom?" Is it unbridled license? Does it practically say, "Man, you are free; therefore you can do as you will, no matter what your desire may be?" Does it mean an emancipation proclamation which liberates from obedience to all law? When, on Jan. 1, 1863, Abraham Lincoln in the White House signed his name to the famous state paper which declared that all black men and black women under the stars and stripes "are and henceforth shall be free," it did not mean that the negro was set free to follow his own unbridled inclinations, but that he passed from under the control of his owner to be under the control of the same law that his owner himself has to obey.

Freedom has its limitations. We find those limitations in the physical, the mental and the social as well as in the spiritual world. Biologists find them in the dumb brutes and in the vegetable and mineral kingdoms as well as in human society. Thus my subject today, "The Limitations of Liberty," offers a wide scope for natural and spiritual investigation, and I shall endeavor to show that the only true freedom that the spiritual man can enjoy is in the surrender of himself to the service of Christ. In becoming a servant of Christ, in taking his will as the law of our lives, we are set free from the dominion of sin and enjoy the glorious liberty of the children of God.

The physical man is surrounded by limitations which are impassable bars, restrict him to a certain kind of life. If he tries to break out of the inclosure he bruises and batters his body against those bars. I am not now alluding to the penalties suffered by the glutton and the drunkard, which are only too obvious. There are penalties against overindulgence in legitimate courses. A man may so devote himself to his business or profession as to neglect the proper care of his body. He has to pay the penalty for overwork in premature exhaustion and decrepitude. A conspicuous illustration of the fact was in the confession which the great and brilliant Dr. Golling third made when he died from overwork at forty when he should have lived out his threescore years and ten. A few months before his death he said to the famous surgeon, Dr. Bouthle: "Yes, you see me at a little over forty having a fine practice, making my several thousand pounds a year, but I am today a physical wreck. I have a fatal disease of the heart, in the result of overwork. I cannot live many months, and my parting advice to you is this: Never mind at what loss, take your annual six weeks' holiday. It may delay your success, but it will insure your development. Otherwise you may find yourself at my age a prosperous practitioner, or, but a dying old man."

I am not here going into the details of the errors and the reasons why a man should not abuse his physical organism. But I am here to state that as God limits the natural realm in which the fish can live, and the plants can live, and the creeping things, like the worms and the snakes, can live, so God gives to man a physical realm, and in that realm he must live. If he persists in going out of that realm he must die.

An Airship Tour.

I step into the airship of Santos-Dumont, that wonderful wizard of the air. The Brazilian aeronaut says: "Where would you like to go? Would you like a sail over the waters of the Mediterranean? Would you like to view Paris from a height higher than the Eiffel tower? Would you take a sightseeing trip above the buildings of the St. Louis world's fair? But I am ambitious, and, forgetting the limitations of my body, I say: 'Nay, not any of these journeys would I go. But, as a sailor might sight the gleaming eye of a lighthouse from afar and head toward it, I would head toward the lighthouse of some star. I would explore an unknown world.' With that request a smile twitches the corners of my companion's lips. The machinery of his airship begins to throb. We mount higher and higher and higher until it seems the blood must burst from my agonizing brain. "What is the matter?" I cry. "Turn the ship, turn it, or I shall die." With that Santos-Dumont turns the airship's rudder, and as we begin to descend he says: "I took you to the stars to prove to you that it is an impossibility for man to live far above the earth. When the air becomes rarified there is not enough substance there for man to breathe. God has decreed that physical man never can fly like a bird away to the stars. He is free to live in this air only as he breathes that air when his feet are planted upon the solid earth."

Down into the shaft of a coal mine I descend. Farther and farther I go until the darkness seems to be hurtling at me. I cling to the rails of the mine car. We go down and down until the heat becomes like the blistering sands of the Sahara desert. Fresh air from above is now pumped to my panting lungs. But the heat grows more and more intense until it seems I cannot live. Suddenly we come to the end of a long coal shaft. "Why not farther?" I ask my guide. "Has the coal vein stopped here?" "Nay," is the answer, "the coal is just as rich farther on, but it is an impossibility now to work it. The farther we have gone into the earth the hotter it becomes. God has decreed that physical man must live on the earth's surface. He may pass around the surface of the earth, but cannot go through it. He can never tunnel his way from New York to Peking. What is true of the air and land is true also of the sea. In that wonderfully interesting book called "Intra Mundi" the author describes one of the pleasures of heaven as walking through the crystal halls of the river of life. We know and we feel that the delights reserved for us in that celestial sphere. It may be ours to pass dryshod through the river of life as the Hebrews passed through the Jordan. But while we are in this mundane life we can never explore the crystal halls of the Atlantic ocean nor sail through the ether of the skies. If man leaves his natural element he dies as surely as did the fish we caught some weeks ago when they were drawn out of their natural element. Physical man has his limitations of life. If we would physically live we must obey certain physical laws. We cannot breathe like an ostrich. We cannot liberate like a snake. We cannot drink in water like a bluefish. We cannot eat grass like an ox. We cannot breathe the foul and fetid air of a miasmic swamp as the fiery, with its little lantern, makes its home among the bogs and calls the green slime its playground. Physical limitations hem in the liberties of physical man. We can live our physical life only as we obey God's physical laws.

Our Social Limitations. By what I mean in the liberties of social economy. Every man's liberty ends where his neighbor's liberties begin. As a citizen of the United States I have no right in the sight of the law which is not possessed in an equal degree by every other private citizen of the United States. Neither has any other citizen of the United States a social right which I as an individual citizen do not possess. In other words, my liberties are mine only as long as I do not transgress the rights of my neighbors. Let me illustrate my thought by the civilized laws of our country. America is called the "land of the free." But freedom does not mean license. For the benefit of our social life we have established restrictions on liberty, and those restrictions must be obeyed. I see a ship sailing hither from the orient. It is magnificently furnished with lavish splendor. It is owned by an oriental gentleman of high caste who is coming to live among us. He has heard that America is the land of the free and supposes that here a man may live as he pleases. He has on board eight wives, and he sets up his harem in one of our great cities. One day an officer of the law comes to him and says: "This kind of household is contrary to our laws. You have seven wives too many." But the oriental replies: "I have taken out naturalization papers, and I am a free citizen. I can live as I choose." But the officer answers: "No; you are under legal restrictions. If you continue to violate them we shall send you to prison as a bigamist."

The land of the free? Yes, if you obey our laws, but not otherwise. You are free to do as you will in your own home—that is, if you do not abuse your offspring. If you do, as an agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children I can step in and take your children away from you. The land of the free? Yes, but you dare not sell to my children obscene pictures, for if you do I can make you wear convict stripes. The land of the free? Yes, it is the land of the free if you do not try to forcibly enter my home, or rob my store, or refuse to pay your taxes, or to go to war as an American soldier when you are drafted, or to serve in the jury box when you are impeached. You are free, in a social sense, only when you liberties do not conflict with the equal liberties of some one else.

Not only does man have his physical limitations and social limitations, but also his mental limitations. As the United States government first has its national legislature, and then this national form of government is subdivided into states, and these states into counties, and these counties into townships, so I find the great human race is divided and subdivided and again redivided in reference to its limitations. And in no way can you trace these limitations more than in the mental makeup of the individual.

Under the old educational system every American college used to exact a hidebound course. The young man who was a candidate for the B. A. degree had to take just so much of mathematics, so much of languages, so much of the sciences, so much of philosophy, so much of this and that and the other thing. But now our college systems have become broadened. The "elective system" is in vogue. Great educational leaders have come to the logical and right conclusion that what is most for one brain may be poison for another. Charles Sumner was one of the great men America ever produced, but it was simply an impossibility for Charles Sumner to grasp mathematics. As a result of this deficiency Sumner, one of the greatest of all Massachusetts scholars, was unable to graduate from Harvard college. When my father graduated from college Howard Crosby, then a professor in the New York university, declared he was the finest student of "belles lettres" who had ever studied in the halls of the New York's great institution of learning. But, though my father was strong in certain studies, he was very weak in others. Among his weaknesses was his inability to grasp a foreign tongue. For years he wanted to go forth, as did my Uncle John, as a missionary to foreign lands. He was, however, deterred from this purpose by the (to him) almost insurmountable difficulty of becoming proficient in a foreign language.

Sometimes there is born a child, as was Edmund (Charles) Stedman, with an array of myriad possibilities. As an American poet he trends closely upon the heels of our greatest poets. Yet Stedman the poet is also Stedman the Wall Street banker, as he was also Stedman the famous war correspondent. But such minds as that of Edmund Clarence Stedman are the rare exceptions. For the most part God gives to man but one first class talent and not ten. The reason Theodore Parker became the great power he was in his day was because, as he said: "Everything I ever saw or did ground up into the mental gristmill of my sermon. I was born a preacher and can do nothing else but preach." When U. S. Grant drew his sword as a commander of the American armies, he carved out for himself one of the greatest names in American history, but U. S. Grant made a failure at everything on earth he ever attempted except the vocation of a soldier. Many a soldier has been a failure as a statesman; many a statesman has proved his utter incapacity when he tried to command an army.

Beecher and His Father. The limitations of brain power can be well illustrated by comparing the mental makeup of Henry Ward Beecher with that of his illustrious father, Lyman Beecher, one of the greatest ecclesiastical leaders of his day. The famous pastor of Plymouth pulpit was in every sense a prose poet. He spoke, he thought, he lived, in symbol and picturesque verbiage. The songs of the birds, the beautiful wardrobes of the flowers, the autumnal sunsets, the bees, the snow banks, the murmuring brooks—all had to him a message. Lyman Beecher was made of angular Puritan granite. He was to him as bare, unbreakable rocks, and not as rocks clothed in garments of green and in Joseph's coats of many floral colors. One day, much to Henry Ward Beecher's surprise, he saw his father standing before a beautiful picture. It was a hunting scene, but the son prized it for the beautiful colors, such as are always found in the retreats of the woods. "Ah," said Henry Ward Beecher, "father is at last learning to love nature." He stepped up to the artist and said: "What do you like about this picture?" "Well, Henry," said the old man, "I was studying that picture to see whether the artist had aimed that gun right. Yes, I think that hunter will hit the rabbit. I think he will. I think he will." "Ah, father," said Henry Ward, "can you not see anything more in that picture than a cruel man shedding the blood of an innocent, playful rabbit?"

No, Henry Ward Beecher's mind and Lyman Beecher's mind were cast in different molds. They both had their limitations. What one could do in a mental way the other could not do, though both of those brains belonged to the master minds of the last century. Now, as we all have our physical limitations, it is preposterously unjust for us to complain because we also have our spiritual limitations? If the only way to cross the Atlantic or the Pacific is in a steamship or a sailing vessel, it is not absurd to say that we are limited because we have to sail on the great sea of eternity in a gospel lifeboat?

If the United States government compels us to obey certain social laws, enacted upon the statute books by the dictates of its own national legislators, is it unjust for God to declare that when we surrender our hearts to him we should come to him in his way and not in ours? If we have our mental limitations and only in a feeble and incomplete way can grasp the infinite thought of God, are we not foolish in setting up ourselves as judges and critics of his methods? Ought we not rather to accept his plans and humbly to submit ourselves to his rule? That is the way to true freedom. When we accept the truth that he has revealed to us and give ourselves to his guidance, we learn by experience that the truth makes us free. The finite mind yields to the infinite and grows into its true development. Therefore shall we not today yield our minds and hearts to the supremacy of God's will, whose "thoughts are not our thoughts and whose ways are not our ways?"

Limitations of Freedom. True freedom always has its limitations. The Christian life, too, has its rightful limitations. Christ said, "I am the way, the truth and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by me." There is only one way to God, one door, one true life. But after we have once entered through that open door, then we are free. Aye, we may become transcendently and eternally free. Is not my text right when it says, "In Christ the truth shall make you free?" The freedom he gives is the freedom from sin, the freedom from punishment, but that freedom, like all others, can be obtained only by submitting to Christ's rule. In one way alone can we gain that freedom, and that is by the way of the cross. In his service is endless joy and pleasures for evermore.

My brother, my sister, are you ready to let the truth make you free? In antebellum days there was a beautiful scene enacted in one of the southern slave markets. A young black girl stood upon the auction block and was being sold to the highest bidder. Rough men were trying to buy her for evil purposes, but in that group of bystanders was a Christian gentleman, holding by the hand his own young daughter. The young girl's heart went out for the sufferings of her black sister, and she persuaded her father to purchase the slave. Higher and higher went the price, but at last the Christian gentleman bought the young slave. When the black girl was handed over to her new master he said: "Mary, I bought you for my daughter's sake. I now give you your papers of freedom. You can go where and when you please. You are free." "What, master, am I free? Can I go where I will? Then I shall go and stay with you." Oh, she was a slave before the auction. She was a slave after the auction. But now she had become a slave of love. Will you not, O man, O woman, hear Christ's proclamation of emancipation from sin? Will you not let "the truth make you free"—that is, will you not, in Christ's name, cease to be a subject of sin, but in bondage for the love of Christ? He died to make you free. With his divine limitation will you not be eternally free, yet still in bondage to Jesus Christ?

Lord, open such the what to do: His mind is full of love and true. Help me, ere too late, to be. Something yet to do for thee. [Copyright, 1904, by Louis Klopsch.]

Jay Cooke as an Angler. Jay Cooke, now eighty-four years old, and a party of friends from Ogontz and Ashbourne made the star catch of the season at Beach Haven, Mass., recently. The result of the trip affords a good example of Mr. Cooke's skill as a fisherman. The party of five caught 474 fish in all, of which 177 were caught by Mr. Cooke himself. The entire lot of fish was expressed by Mr. Cooke to Ogontz, to be distributed among the members of his Bible class. This Bible class has been conducted by Mr. Cooke for more than fifty years and has at the present time eighty members.

A Russian Incident. A young Russian Jew was obliged to go to the jail in Manchuria. At first his father got letters from him regularly, but presently they ceased. One day the father was called to the police headquarters, where he was told there was a telegram regarding his son, but that he would have to pay 20 rubles to get it. He did not have the money, and it took him some time to collect it from his friends. When he finally opened the telegram, it contained the announcement of his son's death.—New York Post.

Miss Gannon, Sec'y Detroit Amateur Art Association, tells young women what to do to avoid pain and suffering caused by female troubles.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I can conscientiously recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to those of my sisters suffering with female weakness and the troubles which so often befall women. I suffered for months with general weakness, and felt so weary that I had hard work to keep up. I had shooting pains, and was utterly miserable. In my distress I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it was a red letter day for me when I took the first dose, for at that time my restoration began. In six weeks I was a changed woman, perfectly well in every respect. I felt so elated and happy that I want all women who suffer to get well as I did."—Miss G. G. Gannon, 330 Jones St., Detroit, Mich., Secretary Amateur Art Association.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

When one considers that Miss Gannon's letter is only one of the countless hundreds which we are continually publishing in the newspapers of this country, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

The Information Contained in This Citizen's Statement is Invaluable To Salisbury People.

When a resident of Salisbury, whose statement appears below, who has no monetary or other interest in the article which he endorses, who is anxious to do his acquaintances and fellow citizens a good turn, who publishes in this paper his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills—that citizen must have good and sufficient reason for doing so. The following should dispel any doubts which may have existed in the reader's mind on this subject:

J. T. Hayman, book keeper, residing at the corner of Chestnut and Park Streets, says: "Having been affected for sometime with an aching in the small of my back and other troubles which indicated disordered kidneys I tried a box of Doan's Kidney Pills from White & Leonard's Drug Store, and finding that they gave me some relief, I continued taking them and I consider my condition much improved."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

A conference was had Wednesday between the County Commissioners of Anne Arundel County and the Baltimore County Commissioners with reference to the erection jointly of an iron bridge over the Patuxent, to replace the old Sweetser bridge, the cost of which is estimated at $15,000, to be divided between each county. The matter was referred to Roads Engineer Shirley, who will examine the plans and specifications and make a report.

Violent Attack of Diarrhoea Cured By Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and Perhaps A Life Saved.

"A short time ago I was taken with a violent attack of diarrhoea and believe I would have died if I had not gotten relief," says John J. Patton, a leading citizen of Patton, Ala. "A friend recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I bought a twenty-five cent bottle and after taking three doses it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by all druggists."

The Frederick Examiner was sold at public sale on Saturday last to Mr. Adrian Posey, of La Plata, Md., for $1,500. Mr. Posey, the purchaser, is proprietor of the Maryland Independent, of La Plata. The Examiner will be managed and edited by his brother, Mr. Fabian Posey.

No Substitute Offered.

Say what you will about druggists offering something "just as good" because it pays a better profit, the fact still stands that ninety nine out of a hundred druggists recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when the best remedy for diarrhoea is asked for, and do so because they know it is the one remedy that can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. Sold by all druggists.

Last week Garrett, Miller & Co., of Wilmington, Del., had men at work rewiring the court house in Elkton, putting in a complete and safe up-to-date system of wiring for the electric lighting of the building, the old wires being deemed dangerous.

End Of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung," writes J. F. Hughes, of Du Pont, Ga., "and gave me up. Every body thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all Coughs, Colds and Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c, and $1.00; Trial bottles free.

The report of Treasurer J. Finney Wells, shows that up to August 3 Hartford county had a balance on hand of $28,810.18.

DeWitt Is The Name.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure, unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles. The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on the market. The genuine bears the name E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by all druggists.

Fred Myers, a blacksmith of Cecilton, was struck by a horse kicking at flies, knocked down and his knee cap broken.

A Helpless Child.

A weak, puny child is badly handicapped in the battle of life. It is isolated from the healthy enjoyments of its little few belongings. It cannot partake either of their play or their sturdy work and progress in the world; its whole life is embittered by incapacity and weakness.

Any woman who expects to become a mother ought to know what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do both for her own health and safety during her time of trial and also to insure her in bequeathing a fair measure of health and strength to the prospective little one.

Letter To Harry Danks.

Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir:—Would you rather have your customers speak of your shoes as wearing well, as not running down at the heel, as turning water, and taking a shine; or wag their heads and say nothing?

We'd rather have ours, at long intervals, say: "We want some more paint, and we want Devco." We know it isn't in human nature to paint very often; we don't expect them to come very often; don't want 'em to. All we want is to paint what they have to paint, when ever they paint it; the longer the time, the surer they are to come back. There's business enough in the word; there are houses enough to paint; let 'em take their time.

If we were a shoemaker, we'd make shoes to last half a lifetime, and shoe the whole town.

Yours truly

F. W. Devco & Co.

P. S. L. W. Gunby Co. sell our paint.

The tax rate for Frederick City for 1904 has been fixed by the Mayor and Aldermen at $1.10 on each $100—an increase of 10 cents over the rate for last year. Although there is a slight increase in the assessments for both real and personal property, the taxable basis is lower than last year's owing to a reduction by the State Tax Commissioner in the valuation of local bank stocks. The taxable basis is $3,828,464, divided as follows: Real estate, $2,843,810; personal property, $608,409; bank stock, $377,045. The bonded indebtedness of the city is $379,800.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmas, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicine—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by all druggists.

A Sweet Breath

is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary B. Crick, of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years; tried all kinds of remedies out continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by all druggists.

The Baltimore County Water Company is not making any more contracts in Towson, and those who are now building and need water must secure it from other sources. After next January the company has announced that it will advance the price from 15 to 20 cents per 1000 gallons. This is said to be because at the lower figure the company cannot furnish water profitably.

Cholera Infantum.

This disease has lost its terrors since Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy came into general use. The uniform success which attends the use of this remedy in all cases of bowel complaints in children has made it a favorite wherever its value has become known: For sale by all druggists.
