The Myrtle Portraits.

In a small but handsomely furnished sitting-room in a London hotel, a young lady was sitting in an easy chair, before a blazing fire, one dreary November afternoon.

Her hat and cloak lay on the table beside her, and from the eager impatient glances she turned toward the door at every sound of footsteps on the staircase outside, it was evident that she expected a visitor.

At last the door opened, and a tall, aristocratic-looking man entered the room.

"Harry, what a long time you have been," he explained, springing up from his seat. "What news have you brought? What does your father say about our marriage?"

"Read for yourself, Helen," replied her husband, handing her an open letter, and standing opposite her, leaning against the marble mantelpiece, watching intently the expression of her fair young face as she read.

"Harry, why did you not tell me of this before?" exclaimed Helen, as she read the hard, cruel words, looking up through her tears into her husband's face.

"My darling, what was there to tell? How could I know that my father would act in this hard-hearted manner? I knew that he wished me to marry the daughter of a nobleman living near Marston Hall, and so until the two estates; but I had no idea that he would cast me off for disobeying his wishes. And even if I had known it," he fondly added, clasping his young bride to his heart, "I should not have acted differently. My Helen is worth fifty estates, and so long as she loves me I shall never regret the loss of Marston Hall and its fair acres. But, my love, he continued, more seriously, "there is an end of your promised shopping expedition into Bond Street. You will have to do without diamonds now that your husband is a penniless outcast, instead of the heir of fifteen thousand a year."

"Hush, Harry! Please don't talk like that," she said, but at his bitter tone, "You know it was not of diamonds and dress I was thinking. But what are you going to do, Harry?" she continued, laying her hand upon his arm, and looking up into his pale, set face. "You can not work for a living."

"And why not work for a living?" he exclaimed in a determined tone. "Because I happened to be the son of a baronet, brought up and educated without any idea or knowledge of business? But will work for my living, and show my wife that I am not a penniless outcast, and worthy of the trust and confidence she reposed in me when she placed this little hand in mine," he added, stopping to kiss the small, white hand that rested fondly on his arm.

It was while pursuing his favorite study of oil paintings among the famous galleries of Rome that Harry Marston, who had been a penniless outcast, found the child of his poor lost daughter!

In a few words Mr. Treherne explained how he had cast off his only child, on account of her marriage with a poor officer, and refused even to open her letters when she wrote asking forgiveness.

"But think, Harry," said he, when he had finished his story, "I can alone in some measure for my husband's heart and making her my dear daughter."

It is needless to add that when Sir Philip Marston heard that his son had married the heiress of one of the best and oldest estates in the country, he at once wrote a letter of reconciliation to Harry, and after a while, Helen eventually became mistress of Marston Hall, in the picture gallery of which no painting is more valued or treasured than "The Mystery Portrait."

A man in Olio was in the habit of visiting a neighboring town and getting drunk. One night on his return home, with several shillings in the wind, he approached his house, saw no light, and suspected that his wife had gone to bed.

"And hasn't anything for me to eat?" he made it warm for her. "But in a moment he saw a light, and then said, 'I'll be blessed if the extravagant thing isn't sitting up till this hour of night burning out my oil. Now, damn me if I don't make it hot for her.'"

But he soon found it was not so easy as he thought.

It was all very well when he was in Marston Hall, and studied painting merely for love of art, but picture dealers, who in those days had been all fastidious obsequious towards the young heir, now that he really wanted to sell his pictures and sketches, shook their heads and politely but firmly declined to purchase.

At last one dreary afternoon, when Harry was sitting in the little room he called his studio, trying to devise some new scheme to replenish his slender purse, the servant opened the door and ushered a white-haired old gentleman into the room.

Placing a chair by the fire for his visitor, Harry inquired his business.

"You are a portrait painter, I believe, sir," said the old gentleman, looking at him through his gold spectacles.

"That is my profession, sir," replied Harry, delighted at the thought of having found a commission at last.

"Well, sir, I want you to paint a portrait of my daughter," said Harry, eagerly. "When can the lady give me first sitting?"

"Alas, sir," she is dead—dead to me these twenty years, and I killed her—I broke her heart with my harshness and cruelty!" exclaimed the old man in a trembling voice.

A strange chill came over Harry, as the idea that his mysterious visitor might be an escaped lunatic, crossed his mind, but mastering with an effort, his emotion, the stranger continued:

"Pardon me, young sir. This is of no interest to you. My daughter is dead, and I want you to paint her description, as I perfectly well remember her twenty years ago."

"I will do my best, sir, but it will be no easy task, and you must be prepared for many trials," said Harry, when, having given him a long description of the form and features of his long-lost daughter, the old man rose to depart; and for weeks he worked incessantly upon the mysterious portrait of the dead girl, making sketch after sketch, each of which was rejected by the remorse-stricken father, until the work began to exercise a strange fascination over him, and he sketched face after face, as if under the influence of a spell.

At last, one evening, wearied with a day of fruitless exertion, he was sitting over the fire watching his wife, who was sitting opposite, busy on some needlework, when an idea suddenly flashed upon him.

"Tall, fair, with golden hair, and dark eyes. 'Wily, Helen, this is the picture of yourself!' he exclaimed, starting from his seat, asking his wife's face between his two hands, and gazing intently into her eyes.

Without losing a moment, he sat down and commenced to sketch Helen's face, and when his strange patron called the next morning, Harry was so busily engaged painting the finishing touches to his portrait that he did not hear him enter the room, and worked on for some moments unconscious of his presence, until, with a cry, "Helen, my daughter!" the old man hurried his aside and stood enraptured before the portrait.

"After gazing for some minutes in silence, broken only by his own half-suppressed sobs of remorse, the old man turned slowly around to Harry, and asked him in an eager voice where he had obtained the original of the picture."

"It is a portrait of my wife," Harry replied.

"Your wife, sir? Who was she? Pardon me for asking the question," he added, "but I have heard lately that my poor Helen left an orphan daughter, and for the last six months I have been vainly trying to find the child of my lost daughter, so that by kindness and devotion to my grandchild I might in part atone for my harshness towards her mother."

Harry was beginning to tell him the story of his meeting with Helen at Rome, and their subsequent marriage, when the door opened, and his wife came into the room.

Perceiving that her husband was engaged in an excited tone, "As I have found the child of my poor lost daughter!"

In a few words Mr. Treherne explained how he had cast off his only child, on account of her marriage with a poor officer, and refused even to open her letters when she wrote asking forgiveness.

"But think, Harry," said he, when he had finished his story, "I can alone in some measure for my husband's heart and making her my dear daughter."

It is needless to add that when Sir Philip Marston heard that his son had married the heiress of one of the best and oldest estates in the country, he at once wrote a letter of reconciliation to Harry, and after a while, Helen eventually became mistress of Marston Hall, in the picture gallery of which no painting is more valued or treasured than "The Mystery Portrait."

A case in a suburban school was giving her class an object lesson a few days ago, and drew a cut on the blackboard for its inspection. She then asked what there was on the cat, and the unanimous reply was, "Hair." "What else?" she queried. There was a long pause of consideration, but finally the band of a bright-eyed little fire-red old shot up, and almost simultaneously came her triumphant answer, "Flea!"

In case of poisoning, the simple rule is to get the poison out of the stomach as soon as possible. Mustard and salt are the best emetics, and they are always at hand. Stir a teaspoonful in a glass of water and let the person swallow it quickly. If it does not cause vomiting in five minutes, repeat the dose. After vomiting give the victim of two or three eggs and send for the doctor.

Burns and scalds are somewhat relieved by an application of cold water. Dry carbonate of soda, or baking soda, sprinkled over the burned spot is the latest remedy, and is said to be very effective. These means are only temporary. In severe cases a physician should be sent for.

The man who was detected in the act of burgling a laundry, declares that he had only dropped in to see about getting some washing. "Good," said the officer, "and now you'll want ironing," and he slipped a pair of handcuffs on him.

Another disguised a Vermont man who went to a neighbor's barn to steal a cow to find when he got the animal home that it was his own cow, which his neighbor had stolen earlier in the night. He says the neighbor is a confounded thief.

"Do you believe that a woman, nowadays, would die for the object of her love?" asked a bachelor friend. "I don't know whether she'd die or not," answered the Bachelor, "but I've known her to go wild when the trimming didn't suit her."

A Social Fable.
"My father was a very strict man with his children," said one of the Supreme Judges of Arkansas, "and I don't think I ever knew him to overindulge me in a fixed purpose. He looked upon a boyish prank as a sign of the

This image shows a vertical strip of a document page. The left side is a dark, textured surface, likely the cover of a book or folder. The right side is a lighter, possibly metallic or plastic, strip, which appears to be a hinge or a binding element. The strip is slightly curved and has some visible wear and tear.

Town and County.

Mr. George L. Bradley has a cabbage with seventeen heads.

Robert O. Adkins, now of Dover, has been in town this week.

Rev. and Mrs. P. T. Warren are visiting relatives in town.

The festival at Zion Wednesday was largely attended. B. J. D. C. Hanna and James Conner spoke.

Mr. Levin Wright, of Warren Creek district died Monday morning. He was the father of Dr. J. A. Wright.

The Shakespeare Society will hold its first meeting for the season at Mrs. James Cannon's Monday evening.

William Perry, Esq., formerly with J. Cannon & Son, has gone to Florida for the winter, hoping to recover his health.

The registered vote of Wicomico will now reach about 5000. The sittings this year have added probably three hundred.

In the list of election judges for Trappe district published last week, the name of Levin Malone should be Levi A. Malone.

Mr. John T. Stums was married Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock to Miss Mollie Dykes at the M. P. Parsonage, by Rev. F. H. Mullineux.

The regular annual protracted meeting for Rockaway Methodist Episcopal Church will commence on Sabbath evening, Oct. 14th, at 7 o'clock.

Service at Trinity M. E. Church South at the usual hour on Sunday, 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. Pulpit will be filled in the evening by Rev. J. D. C. Hanna.

Married, at the Southern Methodist Parsonage, Oct. 4th, 1888, by Rev. B. F. Lipscomb, Mr. Daniel H. White and Miss Lizzie Lank, both of Wicomico county.

Married, in St. Paul's Church, Spring Hill, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 3rd, by the Rev. F. B. Adkins, Stephen K. Mills, to Sallie Jessamine Bradley, all of this county.

Rev. B. F. Lipscomb will preach at the Methodist Episcopal Church on next Sunday evening, services beginning at 7 o'clock. The Rev. J. D. C. Hanna will preach in the morning.

There will be Morning Prayer and Celebration of the Holy Communion in St. Phillips Church, Quantico, next Sunday at 10 A. M. Evening Prayer at St. Paul's Church, Spring Hill, at 3 P. M. F. B. Adkins, Rector.

R. W. Hearn, Esq., was at Laws & Harnley's store a few days ago and fastened his horse to a post. The animal became restive and pulling up the post, started on a run. Before being caught he injured himself severely.

Married, Sept. 25th, at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. Jas. D. Elderidge, Anthony J. Carey, of Wicomico county to Miss Jennie Wright, of Dorchester county. The bride is a sister of Mrs. A. W. Woodcock of Salisbury.

A series of revival meetings began at Parker's Chapel to-morrow evening under the direction of Rev. F. H. Mullineux. The church building has been considerably improved by lowering the pulpit, changing the lamps and rearranging the seats.

Miss Sallie Toadvine was driving over Camden bridge Saturday when her horse became impatient at waiting for another team to pass and started. The wheels ran upon the arch and came near turning the carriage over. L. E. Williams & Co., just reached the horse in time. The carriage wheels were considerably damaged.

Moving has already begun. Mr. and Mrs. George P. Cannon have gone to Mr. James Cannon's residence. Mrs. James Cannon and Miss Jennie will probably pass the winter in the South. Mr. John Coulbourn will go where Mr. Cannon vacated and W. C. King where Mr. Coulbourn left. Mr. William Johnson has moved this week to the farm where Mr. Robert Hitch formerly resided.

The following is a list of letters remaining in the Salisbury (Md.) Post-Office, Thursday, Oct. 4.

Ladies' List.—Susan Hastings, Martha J. Harris, Maggie Pollock, Elizabeth Smith (2), Adeline Tucker, Miss Martha Toadvine.

Gent's List.—Edward Fowler Clayton Hastings, W. L. Lawson, P. B. Messick, Mr. O. Farrell, J. Roam, Rev. D. W. Sims, J. Twigg (2).

Persons calling for them will please say they are advertised. J. P. Owens, P. M.

The new stamp bears a profile of Washington's head. The color is a brownish-red, similar to the crushed strawberry and other faded tints.

Notwithstanding the fact that the press has repeatedly informed the public that the old two-cent stamp is just as good as the new, many people have received a contrary impression and some have applied to have the old exchanged for the new. No exchanges of postage stamps have been provided for, and there is no necessity for such provision, as all the stamps old and new are worth their face value.

The Secretary of the School Board desires again to call attention to teachers to the law requiring pupils to be vaccinated before entering school. The section referring to the subject is as follows: "No teacher in any school shall receive into the school any person as a scholar until such person shall produce the certificate of some regular practicing physician, that such applicant for admission into the school has been duly vaccinated before entering school. Any teacher who receives into the school any child without such certificate, shall be liable to a fine of ten dollars for each offense, and no public school trustee or commissioner shall grant a permit to any child to enter any public school without such certificate, under the same penalty." (Section 13, Art. CV, Revised Code.) If a pupil has been registered in the "vaccine record" of the school, or holds a transfer certificate from some other school, it will be considered sufficient evidence of such pupil's vaccination.

Temperance.

Letter from an Advocate of the Cause, Published in the Convention.

A correspondent sent us a vigorous letter last week which we publish in part. He says:

"We expect to see this county from center to circumference. Let no one say we can't rid Wicomico of the liquor cause. It can be done, but will require the combined wisdom and energy of all good men in the county. Is it not a startling fact, that in the town of Salisbury there are eleven or twelve places that sell whiskey and brandy, and other liquors? Can we expect anything better while we legalize the traffic? Glance at some of the results of this abominable business. Has not strong drink extinguished some of the brightest intellects in the county? Is it not to-day filling the homes and hearts of many of your wives and daughters with sadness and blasting the hopes you entertained of making your sons competent to fill high and responsible positions? And has it not robbed you personally of money, time, intellect and social position? If so, is it not your duty and mine to seek to get rid of such a gigantic evil? These and other considerations that must be given that it is time and space to do so? I think demand your presence and co-operation. Now, if there are any ministers or members of the various churches in the county who are waiting for the church to legislate on this question before they can give it their personal influence and help, let me say to all such that it is high time for you to act. The evils of intemperance are apparent to the most casual observer. The old and middle aged men of the county are staggering through the streets. The young men, (the hope of the Nation) are learning to drink. Does it become Christians especially to cavil about this momentous question? The Secretary for the cause, with the following report of Tuesday's Convention: The weather of Tuesday morning was not of a character to give much cheer to the Temperance workers of the county. It was the day for the Temperance Convention, but all hope of a large turnout was given up by many when they saw the manner in which the rain poured down. These fears, however, were discovered to have been groundless, when the convention met. From every district in the county, delegates were present, except Sharptown, and as this district was so far off, and in the election of 76 it proved its temperance zeal by giving 87 votes for Local Option to 39 against it, it was excusable. A. G. Toadvine, Esq., was called to the chair and the convention was opened with prayer by Rev. J. M. Lindale, of Fruitland. Messrs. Hugh Ellingsworth, T. H. Williams and Rev. Wm. A. Smith were appointed a committee on credentials, and found delegates present as stated above. It was decided that the Temperance men of Wicomico should unite for action, and that our ultimate aim was the prohibition by law of the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The following committee was appointed on permanent organization: No. 1. Barren Creek Rev. Joshua Gray; No. 2. Quantico, Rev. T. H. Harding; No. 3. Tayskin, J. T. Roberts; No. 4. Pittsburg, Samuel J. Riley; No. 5. Parsons, Jas. A. Venables; No. 6. Dennis, J. T. Wimbor; No. 7. Trappe, H. S. Dunaway; No. 8. Nutters, Rev. J. M. Lindale; No. 9. Salisbury, Hugh Jackson; No. 10. Sharptown.

This committee retired to prepare a report. During the absence of the committee, stirring speeches were made by Rev. J. A. B. Wilson, Jas. Conner, T. H. Mullineux and Wm. Humphreys, Esq. There was much enthusiasm manifested by speakers and audience, and many telling points were made.

The committee on organization made a report covering the following points: (1). The plan of work between now and the meeting of the legislature, will be to agitate the subject and thus to make sentiment in favor of temperance and Local Option, and to secure signatures to a petition asking our legislature to grant us the privilege of voting on a Prohibition Law similar to that now in force in Hartford county. (2). To accomplish these ends that a county organization, Temperance auxiliary to the Md. Temp. Alliance, be formed, and that in each district, a district organization be formed as soon as possible. The following gentlemen were nominated and elected permanent officers: Prest. Wm. H. Jackson, First Vice Prest. James Cannon, Second Vice Prest. A. G. Toadvine, Secretary, T. F. J. Rider, Treasurer, Emory Williams, Executive Committee, Harlan Creek, Joseph Bratten; Quantico, John Dorman; Tayskin, Capt. John Turner; Pittsburg, Dr. G. W. Freney; Parsons, Col. Lemuel Malone; Dennis, King V. White; Trappe, Capt. W. H. White; Nutters, Peter J. B. Hobbs; Salisbury, Dr. S. S. Slemmons; Sharptown, John Robinson. Besides as a committee, having general oversight of the Temperance work of the county, the individual members are to see that at least one Temperance organization is formed in their respective district, and to secure speakers of all meetings not otherwise provided for. The officers of the county organization were instructed to take charge of the work among his own race.

Mrs. A. E. Williams & Co. returned from the city yesterday with their new goods. The desire to call the attention of their friends and the vicinity at large to the large stock of Feathers, they now have on hand. They will offer for sale now two hundred Ostrich Plumes of all the new and most desirable shades and colors. Prices ranging from 50 cts. up to $5.75. Bunches of Ostrich Tips justly in shade and color from 20 cts. each up to $1.50. Hats of all styles from 15 cts. to $3.00 each. They will also have a new trimmer from the city who will be able to compete with any on the Shore. We will continue the dress making as we did during the past season, giving entire satisfaction to all, so far as we know, at the most moderate prices. Misses' Suits, done up at the shortest notice. We now ask our friends to come in, and look and price our goods, and we think they will say we can sell cheaper than the cheapest. Remember now the bargain which will be offered and sold during the next ten days.

Some persons entered the dwelling of Miss Annie Moore, in Snow Hill, Wednesday night of last week. Miss Moore was aroused by the noise made in entering and fired several shots at the intruder, who escaped. A thorough search was made of the premises, but no one could be found.

State and Peninsula.

What the Newspapers Have to Say on Various Subjects.

The Calvert county democrats expected to hold their nominating convention Oct. 12.

B. B. Hastings, now a resident of Texas, but formerly a resident of this State is visiting relatives and friends in Delaware.

Samuel Elliott, of Delmar, son of William Elliott, was severely wounded in the face last week and nearly blinded by the explosion of a gun.

James Melvin, editor of the Dental Journal, was married at Denton this week to Nannie V. daughter of the Hon. Thomas F. Garey. She is just 18 years old.

A dog belonging to Capt. John Emory of Centerville, went mad one day last week. An infant was in the cradle in the room with the dog and the mother snatched it up and escaped from the room, the rabid animal tearing the baby's blanket to pieces. The dog was killed before it had bitten anyone.

While we are not an admirer of B. F. Butler, we can't help rejoicing that the abolitionists of Beacon Hill and the Bay district, who heretofore have considered Massachusetts their personal property, have been compelled to make obeisance to other powers. While Butler does not, in his opinions, represent the doctrines of the Democratic party, his nomination enables that party to obtain the control of the State, which is of itself sufficient.—Dover Delawarean.

John R. Banks of district No. 23, Baltimore hundred, has almost put an end to swearing and fighting in his neighborhood. Whenever he hears a man utter an oath he immediately approaches him and administers a severe rebuke and threatens to "prosecute" him. In this way he has gained the fear and respect of the unruly elements of society. He attended the late stock law election in that district and his presence prevented a fight. Mr. Banks is 60 years old and the father of 21 children.—Sussex Journal.

The good work is still going on at New Castle. There were 14 criminals whipped there one day last week, and several more have suffered under the lash since. This mode of punishment is very apt to strike terror to criminals, and after passing through the mill they promise to become better, but as the year rolls around the same seared backs are brought under the lash again. The cruel whipping should be done with the first whack. Perhaps this would be a more forcible reminder to those who are about to commit wrong.—Delaware Ledger.

Mr. W. L. Coudon received one day this week from the National Association of Amateur Athletics a handsome gold medal. On the obverse are emblems representing speed, strength, endurance, &c. The reverse is engraved as follows: "Given for throwing the hammer 98 feet and 11 inches." Mr. Coudon won this emblem of championship at a meeting of the association held in New York City last summer. The hammer thrown weighed 16 pounds, and on this occasion was thrown by Mr. Coudon a distance beating all previous records. The value of the medal is about $25.—North East Star.

While engaged in dredging the upper Choptank, just below Greensborough, Caroline county, Md., Col. Soder, who had charge of the work, discovered an extensive and valuable marl bed, the marl stratum lies in the bed of the river, but extends several yards under the river bank. Borings are now being made to ascertain its extent and location. The land covering the bed is nearly all owned by Mr. Wm. C. Satterfield. A similar mine is being worked in Dorchester county, and the company is paid $8 per ton for the marl in its natural state. It is used in the manufacture of fertilizer.

On last Tuesday afternoon while Mr. Edward Pleasanton and family who lived about three miles from Dover, were away, a negro named Robert Wisher went to the house and told Mrs. Eva Pleasanton, a married woman who lives in the family, that dogs were in the woods killing the turkeys. Mrs. Adkins went with him to the woods to drive the dogs away, but as soon as she reached the woods he seized and outraged her. After accomplishing his purpose he made off. Crawling back to the house Mrs. Adkins told Mr. Pleasanton on his return of the crime. He immediately came to town and had a warrant issued for Wisher's arrest. Deputy Sheriff Forkum went to Mr. Pleasanton's the same evening to make the arrest. As he neared the woods the negro saw him and started on a run for the woods. Mr. Forkum shot at him twice but without effect. The negro is still at large. Wisher lived in a little tenant house on the farm of Mr. Hamm, adjoining Mr. Pleasanton's.

From the Tuesday Edition.

Case of Throat-Accidents and Other News of Interest.

Mr. Thos. Humphreys is putting in repairs at his dam and the water is nearly all run out of the lake.

About fifteen Salisbury gunners were on the marshes after rails Tuesday. Mr. A. O. Smith led the party with fifty birds.

Charles F. Beckley, of Baltimore county, who has been in charge of the cooking at the Peninsula Hotel for a few months, was caught by Mr. Gravenor Sunday morning about 5 o'clock, in the barroom. He was reaching through the transom with a stick to draw back the bolt of the lock. He has been suspected for some time. Articles belonging to travelers and money have been missed from the room and on one occasion a bill of crab was seen on the money drawer when Beckley had been preparing crabs for the table. He was confined in jail but was liberated, Mr. Gravenor refusing to appear against him.

Rev. F. H. Mullineux preached in the M. P. Church Sunday evening, a vigorous sermon on the temperance question. He had illustrations beside the pulpit with which he frequently enforced a point. He said that "intoxicating liquors are like the cattle fish with numerous powerful arms, including its victims in a deadly grasp at one bound. He told the Arabian Nights story about the genie and the fisherman. The fisherman found a jug and when he pulled out the stopper a dreadful genie crept out and expanded to huge dimensions, threatening to destroy the fisherman. The latter said to him, "believe me the genie would be better confined in so small a vessel. The genie to prove it, crept back into the jug, when the smart fisherman put in the stopper and held him prisoner again. So with the demon of drink; it must be held in control. The speaker quoted Mr. Cross's illustration of the danger of moderate drink. Take said he, the great number of moderate drinkers and set them at one end of a road, then in a few years from the other end comes an army of broken down drunkards. Mr. Mullineux states that at $700,000 were wasted every year in this country in the purchase of liquor or sixteen times as much as the gospel. Since the war it is calculated that $8,000,000,000 have been spent in strong drink.

We Desire to Call the Thoughtful Attention of Farmers TO THE SUPERIOR MERITS OF ORCHILLA GUANO

"AS A FERTILIZER FOR WHEAT AND GRASS.

The advantages resulting from its use are not only an increased yield but the permanent improvement of the soil from the abundant growth of grass which is sure to follow.

"ORCHILLA." I had no new thing. For sixteen years it had been undergoing trial,--and well has it stood the test. At first, its progress to favour was naturally slow; but merit will, sooner or later, have its reward; and now its sales every year are largely increased over those of the preceding year, and the friends of its early days are its best friends now.

It has been used extensively in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia, and from its abundant success everywhere, we are justified in recommending it to you as being well adapted to your soils. No fertilizer for your corn has its basis so soundly in Nature's own provision for her exuberant crops. It is the largest and best farmers in these three States use it, and, consequently,

It is Successful, because it is Nature's own provision for her exuberant crops, and is the best adapted to your soils.

It is Low Priced, because we have none of the expense of manufacturers, and, without regard to its high commercial value, we base its price solely upon its actual cost to import.

We refer you below to some of the farmers who have used it, and ask you to enquire of them as to its merits.

WOOLDRIDGE, TRAVERS & CO., Importers,

JESSE HUFFINGTON, Allen P. O., Wisconsin Co., Md., says: "I have been using Orchilla Guano for a number of years. I have tried it carefully on my own land, and have seen its results on my neighbors' lands also."

and I assure you I cannot say enough in its praise. From the condition my land is now, I am free to say that I consider, if I had given away the soil, I would have been well repaid for the cost of the fertilizer. It would have been well improved to my land, and the crop would have been well repaid by the fertilizer in the market at the same price as Orchilla. I would far rather take Orchilla, because I have proved to my satisfaction that it is not only good for one crop, but it is a permanent improver of the soil, and will insure fine grass for years to come. I don't care how poor the land is, I believe Orchilla will bring it out. There will be twice as much sold in this neighborhood this fall as was last.

WM. C. SATTERFIELD Greensboro', Caroline Co. Md. August 1, 1882 says: "I have been using Orchilla Guano for fifteen years largely. I have frequently tried other fertilizers, but fell back on Orchilla. I believe it is a good, permanent improver of poor lands."

JOHN PRICE, Cordova, Talbot Co., Md., writes, June 18, 1883: "After several years' trial of Orchilla Guano, I like it so well that I do not want anything better."

GEORGE C. GRAHAM, Trappe, Talbot Co., Md., writes, June 20, 1883: "I gave Orchilla Guano trial last fall by the aid of two other brands of bird-excreta, strudans fertiliser and J. J. Bird's and the result was

H. H. PRICE, Longwood, Talbot Co., Md., writes, June 21, 1888: "I have used Orchilla for several years, and have tested it by the side of high-price fertilizers. I decidedly give my preference to Orchilla."

W. SPREY SHERMAN, Vienna, Dorchester Co., Md., writes, July 10, 1888: "Most of the best farmers in this county, and some of the best of the State, such gentlemen as JAMES MITCHELL RIED, ALFRED H. MERRICK, WM. H. TURNER and others, have used Orchilla Gumbo for years, and still use it. I declined to use it, am now using it exclusively for wheat and corn, and say that it is the BEST fertilizer in the market for clover and grass. The sales this year will be much larger than ever before."

THOMAS H. TRAVERS, Taylor's Island, Dorchester Co., Md., writes, Jan. 1889: "I have used on my wheat last fall 1 ton of Orchilla Gumbo, at the rate of 250 pounds to the acre, and the result was a decided increase of part only of the other. My regret now is that I did not buy enough to complete my seeding entire, as it would have made 100 per cent. on its cost. I have used it on my corn, and it has given me a decided increase of wheat on the fertilized ground that there is on the unfertilized; some of my neighbors say there is three times as much. The young clover from the seed I have sown is much more abundant and healthy than the second year I have used Orchilla, and it has given me the same gratifying result each year, growing me more wheat and clover than any other fertilizer I have used. I have not been exposed to the temptation not hesitate to say that I believe it is unsurpassed as a fertilizer for grass and clover. I shall continue to use it as long as I conduct a farm—if it can

ROBINSON BARNES, Taylor's Island, Dorchester Co., Md., writes, June 25, 1888: "I purchased a ton of Orchilla Guano last fall, which I applied to my wheat at the rate of 150 pounds to the acre. It has given me great satisfaction. It has produced more than three times as much wheat as when no guano was put on the same field. The grain is fine and plump, and the heads are the largest I have ever grown. This is my first use of Orchilla, and I want no better measure. I will use it this fall in increased quantity."

JESSE W. DOWNES, Dayton, Howard Co., Md., writes, June 18, 1888: "I have used Orchilla Guano for the past four seasons on wheat, rye, corn and potatoes, and find it equal to any high-priced fertilizer that I have used in the past ten years. On good land it makes fine crops at once, and on thin land has watched its action carefully, and can say with truthfulness that it is a sure and permanent improver of the soil. It certainly makes 'poor' lands rich." I am only sorry I did not get hold of it, and long ago I purchased it for use in this neighborhood spoke well of it, and will use it again this fall."

By order of
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The October Victory.
Ohio gives Heady a Handsome Majority—Towns Republican.

The Democrats Tuesday swept Ohio, electing the Governor and other State officers and both branches of the Legislature. The victory is no half-way success, giving glittering shadows without substance. It is a complete Democratic triumph, no matter by what cause achieved, as it makes all the States of the Union Democratic, gives the Democrats the first control of the Supreme Court, the Board of Public Works and all the boards of State charitable and other institutions they have had since the organization of the Republican party in 1855 and secures the re-election of Pendleton or some other Democrat to the Senate.

Both parties voted, both dignified the contest into national importance as one of the most vital preliminary battles of 1884. The Republican machinery and means were extensively employed to save the State for the Presidential race, and what have heretofore been residents of Democratic victory in Ohio now command the respect due a really victorious party with an apparent lease of power limited to good behavior. According to modern Democratic precedents, that may not be regarded as a promise of long-continued Democratic rule in Ohio, but it is the Republican leaders suppose that Ohio is a certain or even probable Republican State for 1884 they gravely misunderstand the situation. It looks like the breaking up of a long Republican winter in the Buckeye State and only Democratic blunders or crimes can restore the lost Republican power.

The Legislature is Democratic by at least 22 majority, and the Senate by 13 majority. Heady is elected Governor by 7,000 to 12,000 majority, and may reach 15,000.

In Iowa, Gov. Sherman Republican, will have 30,000 or more over Kingle Democrat, and probably 12,000 to 15,000 overall. John Reed will have nearly the same. The Legislature is Republican by 10 to 10 majority. In the Ohio Congressional district the Democrats are favorable to Sales Republican. The victory is probably secured.

A Partially Dead Man. The Morning Herald, Baltimore, Md., states: Major R. S. White, of this city, describes his misadventure as follows: "I have been a partially dead man for ten years. Doctors attributed my suffering to the enlargement of certain glands. The quantity of medicine I took without relief would be sufficient to set up a first-class apothecary shop. Finally Dr. Jacobus Off was recommended. I had my spinal column thoroughly rubbed, with a few knuckle blows and pinches, and I was cured away—and I am myself again."

State Politics.

The Republican State Executive Committee met Thursday of last week at the Carroll Hotel, Baltimore. Almost every county in the State was represented, and the meeting was presided over by Mr. James A. Gray, the chairman of the State Central Committee, with James T. Clark as secretary. The letter of Mr. R. Stockett, Mathews, declining to accept the nomination for Attorney General, was presented and accepted. Mr. Frank H. Stockett, of Annapolis, Anne Arundel county, was nominated by the unanimous vote of the members to fill the vacancy. A letter was also received from Dr. Wash. A. Smith, saying that domestic reasons prevented him from accepting the nomination for the office of comptroller. Dr. Smith's declination was accepted, and Colonel James C. Mullikin, of Talbot county, was unanimously selected to fill the position.

Mr. Frank H. Stockett, the nominee for Attorney General, is a resident of Annapolis, Anne Arundel county, where he is actively engaged in the practice of his profession. He is in his sixty-second year.

Colonel James C. Mullikin, the candidate for comptroller, is a lawyer, practicing at the bar of Talbot county. He served in the Union army during the war, and afterwards taught school. He was the candidate of his party for Congress in the First Congressional district last fall, and received a very heavy vote carrying his own county by 22 majority.

At the meeting of the county nominating convention in Baltimore on Thursday of last week, Ferdinand C. LaRoe was nominated by acclamation. The said gentleman has filled the position three times before.

Many of the leading democrats of Baltimore claim that great frauds were practiced at the primaries which elected delegates to the convention which made the above nomination, and an independent ticket will be placed in the field.

Mr. J. Monroe Heiskell, fire marshal of Baltimore, consented to the use of his name in connection with the majority, and informed the citizens' reform committee which waited upon him that, in obedience to their earnest demands, they could consider him an independent candidate. It is said the republicans will support the independent movement.

The reform democrats held a conference Monday. Major Venable and Mr. Hal Piesagat were in attendance. They decided that they will support Mr. Heiskell for mayor, and divide all the places, except the legislative ticket and the three State ticket candidates, with the republicans. A committee of ten was directed to report their decision to the republican city executive committee, and confer with them as to the candidates to be selected. The division proposed will give the republicans half of the two branches of the city council. The majority are understood to be conceded the State's attorney, and Mr. Geo. C. Maund is mentioned for the place. For sheriff, the republicans will probably name Mr. Wm. F. Airey, chairman of their city executive committee. The reformers ask for Major Allison as the candidate for clerk of the Superior Court. The three judges of the Orphans' Court are to be supported by the reformers. The republican committee will take the fusion question up today and will accept or reject it. They have, however, had informal knowledge of the action of the reformers in the several stages, and are no doubt ready to take their share, if they do not ask further concessions. The fusion candidates will be voted for at both the municipal election on the 21st inst. and the State election on November 6. The tickets on the latter date will include, besides those of the State and legislative candidates, the clerk of the Superior Court, sheriff, State's attorney, city surveyor and judges of the Orphans' Court. The republicans say they expect from the mixing of these local candidates on the fusion in that election to gain an advantage for their State and legislative candidates from the company they will be in.

Major Richard M. Venable said the canvass for Mr. Heiskell has gone so far that there is no thought of taking any one else for mayor. He himself has preferred an acceptable republican, but the question of expediency in the matter outweighed other considerations. He considered it a proposition for a business city administration, where he believed the appointments to offices will be made independent of party. He said the movement is an experiment which he considers to be in the right direction. He has heard a good deal for and against the prospects of success for the proposed fusion, but its friends have determined to try it and will make an active canvass.

George W. Hancock has declined the nomination of the republican convention for county commissioner of Worcester county, Md. Mr. Hancock says: "Having been a democrat all my life I will serve on no other than a democratic ticket. I will not allow my name to remain as their candidate, and I hereby authorize you to announce the fact. The nomination was without my consent."

The Wilmington Evening News says: J. Monroe Heiskell's candidacy for Mayor of Baltimore under patronage of the disaffected Democrats of that city is a little curious when it is remembered that Mr. Heiskell was lately private secretary to Mayor Whyte and was appointed to office only a few months since by that sincere devotee to machine politics. Furthermore, the movement that brought out Mr. Heiskell really had its origin in the movement of the Young Democrats, who were tooth and nail opposed to Whyte.

We are, however, becoming more and more convinced from day to day that the hope of Baltimore lies in the divorce of its municipal management from partisan politics.—Baltimore Day.

What the Newspapers Have to Say on Various Subjects.

—All the twenty-six scholarships of the State to St. John's College have been filled.

—The Charles county Democrats on Saturday decided to nominate no county ticket.

—James F. Antidel of Wisconsin, who rented the Hotel Richardson at Dover, is dead.

—Goodman Honey, aged 80 years, dropped dead on the streets of Dover this week.

—A new telephone office, in charge of Miss Gray, has been established at Exchange Hall, Newark.

—The State Sentinel hears that Smith Brothers of Canada will buy Fair View Park, the State fair grounds at Dover, for $10,000.

—Rev. R. W. Todd of North East will begin a village camp, Sabbath, 7th inst. Revs. R. C. Jones, C. F. Sheppard and others will assist.

—According to the confession of John Wilson, who is in jail at Frederick for horse stealing, there is an oath-bound gang of horse thieves deprecatory in Western Maryland and Virginia.

—Rev. J. B. Quigg has applied for railroad orders to buy excursion tickets to and from the Delaware State Temperance Alliance which meets in Middletown, 16th inst. He will need to delegate if received.

—A Specific for Change of Life. We are in receipt of a letter from J. T. Hamby, Esq., of Floral, Ark., in which the writer says: Samaritan Nerve cure female decline, and during the change of life it is a specific." Suggestive facts, truly, $1.50.

—The wife of a farmer in Cecil county, Md., recently had three children at one birth. On the same day one of his sons had a litter of seventeen pigs and another sow a brood of thirteen pigs. Any farmer who can beat this record should come to the front and be heard from.

—John Matthews, of Somerset county, was accidentally shot by French Morgan on Sunday. Both are boys. When they reached Matthews' home, the wounded boy's father ran out and emptied a load of buckshot into Morgan. Neither of the boys is dangerously injured.

—My brother Myron and myself were both cured to all appearance, of Catarrh and Hay Fever last July and August. Up to this date, Dec. 28, neither have had any return of these troubles. Ely's Cream Balm was the medicine used.—Gabriel Ferris, Spences, Toga Co., N. Y.

—William Collins of Greensborough, Caroline county, who recently fled from Camden, Kent county, to avoid the legal consequences of a jury duty, while on his way to Denton jail on Sunday for a petty offense escaped from his captor. Late that night he stole a horse and carriage from W. H. Cobes of Greensborough and drove out of the reach of Caroline county laws.

—The will of the late Judge Jeremiah S. Black was filed Friday. Among the bequests is a lot of land in Somerset county, Md., to Henry F. Schill, on condition that a respectable house shall be erected thereon and finished by the 1st of April, 1886, and shall be occupied by the evangelist or preacher duly appointed by the Disciples' Church at Somerset, and the property only when the church has no preacher shall be leased to some one else, and the rents paid to the elders for the use of the poor.

—Swayne's Pills—Important to the Sick: Symptoms indicate disease, a continuance, days of suffering, perchance death! Symptoms are, impure blood, costiveness, irregular appetite, headache, sore belching, soreness in back, breast and side, heart pains, giddiness, bad color to skin and countenance, and cold sensations, yellow skin. "Swayne's Pills" cure by gently removing all corrupt matter, regulating and nourishing the system. 25 cents, box of 30 pills; 5 boxes, $1. At Druggists or by mail. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

—The quality of the cattle bred in Western Maryland and the adjacent counties of Virginia has much improved during the last few years. This is largely due to the importation of fine stock by enterprising farmers and the scattering of their male progeny throughout the section. The difference in value between young stock bred from thoroughbred males and those bred from the ordinary old field animals has caused all farmers of thrift and appreciation to invest in a thoroughbred male for the head of each herd or drove on his farm.

—The colored M. E. Church at Crisfield, known as Shiloh, was destroyed by fire about one o'clock on Sunday night last. The building was comparatively new, and the money for the last payment on it was raised on Sunday morning. Service was held in the church at night—the congregation retiring to their homes between ten and eleven o'clock. The origin of the fire cannot be accounted for. The cost of the building was $1200—insurance $800. A colored church stood within twenty feet of the burning building, and was only saved by the good work of the fire engine of Crisfield.

Army of the Potomac.
ON THE CHICKAHOMINY.
Under date of May 8, 1863, Col. S. F. Abbotts, of Dover, N. H., sends us the following: "While on duty in the army of the Potomac in the swamps of the

Dear Sir, I contracted a terrible trouble, paralysis on one side, and was very near death. I was in the use of many of the kidneys and bladder medicines, but without success. For a long time I was under the treatment of some of the best physicians, and tried many of the so-called remedies, but received no permanent benefit. When I was in the drug business in Boston I heard favorable accounts of the efficacy of Hunt's Kidney and Bladder Remedy, and, having decided to try it, I purchased some at Winchester, N. H., and received great relief from using it. I am now able to sleep soundly and can do all the work I want to do. I greatly regret that I did not test the efficacy of Hunt's Remedy when I was first taken sick, as I am confident it would have saved me from several years of suffering.

convinced of this after hearing of the most remarkable cures effected by Hunt's Remedy in a case of Bright's disease here in our midst in Dover, at the patient had been pronounced incurable by celebrated physicians."

S. S. Whitney, assistant postmaster, Newnam, Conn., writes May 3, 1898: "I have used Hunt's Remedy with the best results. I have suffered from kidney complaint. I have suffered with kidney complaint; my water was very bad, and I actually passed blood. This was followed by general prostration. My business requiring me to be on my most of the best medical knowledge of the age. I was advised to use Hunt's Kidney Pills, kindly by a friend who had been cured of the same complaint, and can truly say that they have benefited me more than all the other medicines I have used. I consider it the best medicine for kidney and liver troubles, and cheerfully recommend it to all."

These are the FIRST DAYS of the Fall Business

Already the hum of activity begins. We launch the busy season with

SOME

that prove to be strangely low.

A few of these have been in store some days, but, to give everybody a fair chance, we held the announcements until the return of people from their holidays.

A good lot of first-rate Jersey at 22½. These are 12½.
A Black Silk Dress at 75c. until Monday 81.
A Black Rhinamda, 22 inches wide, at 22½.
Half wool Black Fresh goods at 19½. These are in just half price.
All-wool stylish Plain Suits, ranging in price at 50 cents. The same at 41.
Another stylish suit at 65 cents. Not dear at $1.00.
A quality of Lapins' Cashmere for 50 cents (all wool). The new tariff will prevent selling at this price.
A good lot of new 25 cents, exactly half price.
A good lot of Camel's Hair, 46 inches wide, at 50 cents. Good 38-inch all-wool Cashmere at 50 cents.
An excellent Black Cashmere, 46 inches wide, at 65 cents.
Very few much admired Embroidered lobes at one-third of usual price.

A Bleached Muslin, 36 yard wide, for 16c. The 36 yard wide, for 12½.
The best Twilled, All-wool Flannel, 44 inches wide, at 25c.
The best Canton Flannel, 12½c. We never could afford a quality at this price before.
An extraordinary lot of 18½c. Ladies' and Children's underwear, our counters at 30 cents under prices.

These Lots of Shoes that are amazingly desirable for the prices:

250 pairs Women's Straight Good Buttons, $3.25	162 pairs Women's French Kid Buton, $3.00	141 pairs Women's French Lace Walking Boots, $2.50
