Achievement Key Winners Announced by Dr. Devilbiss

Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss has announced the names of six students who will receive the highest academic awards of the college. This year's Achievement Keys will be awarded to four seniors, one junior, and one freshman. Furthermore, honors will be bestowed upon the Most Scholarly Woman and Most Scholarly Man, those two members of the Senior Class who have made the highest scholastic average during the years at S.T.C.

Mrs. Elsie Nixon Roberts of Rhodesdale and Robert Scott Fitzgerald of Princess Anne are the recipients of these titles. Achievement Key winners are Miss Sylvia Delores Stant, class of '61; Robert Clayton Ball, class of '61; Richard Lee Taylor, Jr., class of '61; Robert Scott Fitzgerald, class of '61; Luther Weston Fennell, class of '62; and Miss Eleanor Mary Jennison, class of '64.

The Achievement Key which has been awarded annually since 1928 is the one honor conferred by the college — the administration and faculty. Those eligible must have maintained a 3.25 average for each of the previous two semesters with the exception of freshmen who are rated on one semester. Principally the honor is one of academic achievement, but other qualifications are civic responsibility and quality of participation in extra-curricular activities.

Mrs. Roberts, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Nixon, is married to Lt. Col. Lindley Roberts, U.S.M.C., Ret., also a student at the college. Mrs. Roberts has participated in Phi Alpha Theta. Although she has completed her college courses and is teaching science and physical education at Greensboro Junior High School, she will receive her degree in June with the Class of 1961.

Mr. Fitzgerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Frank Fitzgerald of Princess Anne, received an Achievement Key last year and is therefore entitled to a ruby set. He has previously been selected for inclusion in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." His activities have included President of the Senior Class, Vice President of the College Chorus, Gym Club, Science Club, and Sophanes Players. He has completed his student teaching in the fields of math and science.

Miss Stant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stant, Jr. of Mar-ela, will also receive the addition of a ruby set to her gold key. Current (See KEY, Page 4)

S.G.A. Elections Result in Tie

An incredible tie for S.G.A. Presidency culminated from the elections on Wednesday, March 15. Wayne Towers, Chairman of the Election Committee, announced that 324 votes were cast out of 356. All either candidate needed was one vote to win. This was probably one of the highest turn-outs for voting in the history of S.T.C. There will be another election on the day the Holly Leaf comes out, March 17, from 8:00 to 4:30.

The Holly Leaf interviewed both candidates for their reaction to this perplexing situation. Miss Foxwell stated that she was pleased with the high percentage of the student body showing up for the election and hoped that Friday would see as much interest shown at the polls. Mr. Fennell asserted, "It makes me feel good to know that so many people voted. I feel that this many people know the S.G.A. does exist on campus, and that the issues which were in the air are now clarified."

The Ballot-counting Committee consisted of Miss Addis, Sue Stevens, Della Hood, and Wayne Towers.

Chorus Plans For Rest of Year

The College Chorus, heralding the approach of Spring and all of its delightful connotations, have composed the remainder of their plans for this second semester.

The Campus Ranch House will be the scene of a gala Chorus party on April 15th for the chorus members and their respective guests.

On March 28, the College Chorus will offer a selection of appropriate numbers at S.T.C.'s annual Easter Assembly, including among them Handel's Hallelujah Chorus and Holy City by Stephen Adams.

New Admndments to SGA Constitution

At the SGA meeting on March 14, the discussion involved the proposing of new amendments to the SGA Constitution. The first proposal concerned voting regulations for all college elections. The Constitution states that if no candidate receives a majority of the total votes cast, voting will take place again on the following day. Since votes are not counted until 4:30 when the Main Office is closed, it is impossible to have ballots prepared by 8:15 the next morning. Therefore the new proposal states that voting will again take place as soon as possible.

The second proposal concerned the terms "minor office" and "major office". It was suggested that the representatives to the Social Committee from the four classes be considered holding a major office for the following reasons: (1) each representative would probably take his job more seriously; (2) it is time consuming; and (3) the representatives should not have too many other responsibilities in order to do a good job. Also, the representatives to the SGA Board would be reduced to holding minor offices.

The final admndment, though not yet proposed, concerns the selection of the Most Athletic Man and Woman. The WAA recommended that the Constitution be revised in order to establish the fact that the honor is not an elective one, but one based on cumulative participation points. It was brought out that the men's criteria used in selection are: (1) his Beginning as a minute idea developed by a few students on campus, the new college-wide program for May Day has snowballed into one of the biggest events to hit S.T.C. yet.

Tentative Plans Suggested

The idea for this new program was enthusiastically accepted by a selected group of 25 students and faculty members. This group organized several committees to begin work on the project.

The theme committee met on March 7. It was decided that the program would be entitled "Mayhem" and would be presented Saturday night, May 6. The theme of "Mayhem" centers around various aspects of the four years of college life here at S.T.C. Several topics which are possibilities for "Mayhem" are: Orientation during freshman year, sophomore geography, Case studies for juniors, and student teaching for seniors. General topics suggested include fire drills, the snack bar, and athletics.

Student Support Needed

"Mayhem" will certainly be an "extra, added attraction" to our presently scheduled May Day activities, but it can't be done by just one person or one group of students. Various clubs on campus have been asked to give their assistance, and it is hoped that each individual will donate freely of their ideas, talent, and enthusiasm.

participation in sports, and (2) his attitude while participating. The SGA feels that the men are too general and strongly suggests that they set up more objective criteria. Thus, the proposal was tabled until a committee from the SGA will be able to meet with both organizations.

REV. JOHN PAUL CARTER TO BE FEATURED IN EASTER ASSEMBLY

Scheduled on the calendar of events this month is the annual Easter assembly to be presented Tuesday, March 28, at 1:45 in the college auditorium.

Planned and sponsored by the Christian Association, the program features as the main speaker an informed and learned individual in the person of The Rev. John Paul Carter, Provincial Secretary for College Work in the Province of Washington. In his present capacity, The Rev. John Paul Carter serves the several dioceses and their college work in any ways that are appropriate and needed, including college clergy and women college workers as well as students and faculty members.

Born in Clarksburg, W. Va. and graduated from William and Mary in 1944, The Rev. John Paul Carter has been Episcopal Chaplain to the University of Texas since 1952. He received his S.T.M. from the University of the South in 1957 and has done considerable work toward his Ph.D. at the University of Texas.

Also accredited to The Rev. John Paul Carter is his unusual leadership in Mexico in 1955, and an American-Japanese student work-camp in Japan in the summer of 1959. Other noteworthy activities of our speaker include various aspects of university life and work with Episcopal and ecumenical agencies on matters of interracial concord.

Highlighting the Easter Program also will be music provided by the College Chorus under the direction of Dr. Jessie Laib Fleming. "The Hallelujah Chorus" by George F. Handel, "The Holy City," and a negro spiritual titled "Jesus Had A Mother Like Mine," are three of the chosen selections. The Responsive Reading, taken from Psalm 51, the Lord's Prayer, and a special Easter passage from the Bible are also included in the program.

The entire student body and all faculty members are extended an invitation to our annual Easter Program. Since The Rev. John Paul Carter is the first speaker outside of the local area to come to the college for a religious assembly, it is hoped that all students will show their appreciation by attending the program. It is the responsibility of every college student to display an active, alert, and enthusiastic interest in all its school's activities; and this special Easter Program certainly warrants such attention.

Phi Alpha Theta Group To Discuss Southeast Asia

On March 16, the Phi Alpha Theta club will hold its monthly meeting in the faculty room at 8:00 P.M. After the usual business meeting, there will be a panel discussion on the topic of South-East Asia. The panel will be composed of: Mrs. Charlotte Simmons, William Cotten, Clayton Ball, and Dean Robinson. This discussion will be emceed by the panel with all members of the club participating with various questions and group discussion.

The topic of South-East Asia was chosen because it represents the area that the club members believe would be the most likely to be a source of strong political agitation and importance should there arise another major war.

During the regular meeting, the club will make plans for their annual spring trip. They will also set up plans for the approaching regional meeting which will be held here at S.T.C. in April.

Nominations will be made for the election of the person to receive the coveted Achievement Key. This key is given mainly on the basis of scholastic ability.

FOR YOU!

If you are fascinated by the vestiges of former civilizations — if you would rather read historical tomes than Mickey Spillane — or if it pleases you to look upon the beautiful, then, friend, this is for you!

Perchance you remember those magnificent photographs displayed in the student center not long ago? The gentleman who contributed so generously to that collection, Mr. Orlando V. Wooten, will return on March 23, to be featured in a program presented by the Cultural Affairs Committee.

Mr. Wooten will show slides which reflect the history of the Mediterranean area. The subjects include Malta, Algiers and Algeria, Cyprus, Israel, names which conjure up a multitude of colorful images.

And, to heighten your enjoyment, a suggestion: take 15 minutes some time when you're in the library, and read an article on Palestine — before the program, of course!

Mr. Wooten earned his Bachelor of Arts degree at Harvard; his Master of Arts degree was received from Columbia.

THE "PEACE CORPS" ... A SOLUTION

Perhaps youth does have prerogative in world affairs, and possibly youth can be of great help in placing the prestige of the United States at an all time high. Reference here is being made to the "Peace Corps" proposal of the president. This is truly a new concept in American diplomacy and one that should be seriously considered. The tentative plan is this: young people, just out of college, would be sent by request to foreign countries to help train these people in the necessary skills needed to develop their communities. Public health projects would be created, agriculture methods examined and improved, and building programs developed. As a base for all this, English language teaching programs would be initiated. These and many more projects would be designed to educate the people in any field where help is needed. The Americans in this "Corps" will have to be highly trained in their respective fields, and have a working knowledge of language and culture of the country in which they will work. There will be no salary involved, just a living allowance scaled to the standard of living in that nation. The "corps" will not, however, exempt members from military service. The cost is estimated to be approximately $10,000 a year per member. The total cost for the American taxpayer would be about 50 million dollars a year.

Needless to say, there are many pitfalls and obstacles to hurdle in carrying out this plan. The screening of members will have to be strict, working regulations overseas must be fair but absolute and the stated goal must not be lost in favor of other activity.

It is easy to criticize any program and to take a negative viewpoint. However, our foreign policy in the past has been inadequate in meeting the many responsibilities. Unfortunately, the common man of the foreign world has been left to drift aimlessly for our aid has been too centralized. Cities have prospered while the villages have received no help. Is it not time to go into the heart of these nations, to live and live with the common people? Is it not time we befriend the people as well as their government? Can't we be of service to the poor as well as the rich?

Events lately in Africa and Asia have made it clear that the common man is rising to control his own future. What better chance have we to teach American people than by helping and teaching these simple people a better way of life. What better propaganda can we desire than this? It can become fashionable lately to press foreign countries with aid in order to influence their world affairs. Let us now aid the grass-roots of the nations, the common people. They are essential to hold the destiny of their respective countries in sway. Let us make plans for the future of the world now by giving the "peace corps" a chance.

LET'S WAKE UP!

By Bill Cotten

For those of you that have as yet to be informed, almost every Tuesday the college has set aside one period during which an informative and enjoyable program is presented in the auditorium. I am afraid a lot of us, both faculty and students, have changed this hour into a work period. The policy of mandatory assemblies could be and has been in some cases enforced to counter-act this. During this hour even the snack bar and the library cease to function for the main purpose of giving the student a hint that they are wanted elsewhere. Now why is it the assembly attendance is so poor?

Many times this year I have made the remark that I believe our school spirit has really improved over the past years. Then I turn around and see just a handful attending the S.G.A. assembly. How can we ever hope to accomplish anything here on campus with such support? The right to vote and to freely evaluate each candidate is an endowment left us through the sacrifice of armies, intellects, leaders, and peasants. The S.G.A. is you. You elect, govern, and run it. It has ties, but its officers are not figure heads. Its decisions govern you. Its leaders speak for you. Its problem then is you. College spirit has to be spread over the whole phase of campus life. I have not meant this article to be a lecture or a sermon, but you deserve one. I have centered around the S.G.A. assembly because it is the most recent assembly presented in audience, but it has been the case for all of them. What's use to have an S.G.A., a Cultural Affairs Committee, a chorus, religious organizations, and even sports if the support they require and respect is not available? You may gripe that this college is dead or that some phase of it does not meet your approval, but do you do about it? I am afraid we have too many, just gripe. Your potential is as great as my earnest desire. The next time we have an assembly or any other event, would you attend? There is an issue to fight for, you fight? When there is an issue to decide, will you decide or you be average and let someone else fulfill your obligations? Then ride through on his laurels? Let's inject a little life into this college. Let's wake up!

Out of three girls who tried, only one succeeded in passing the rigid written exam and extremely hard floor test for her basketball rating; that pert young miss was Jackie Dickerson of the Sophomore class. Congratulations, Jackie! That extra money will look good next year when it comes rolling in.

St. Mary's Jr. College gave the Salisbury STC Skyrockets and Torpedoes some stiff competition last week on the home court. Freshman Sandra Weaver scored a high 33 points as the Skyrockets overcame St. Mary's in the waning moments of the game, 53-48. Captain Jerry Blazek was available for 15 points, and Brenda Foxwell scored another 5. All were scored from under the basket as no long shots seemed to be connecting that day.

The STC Torpedoes did not have as easy a time, however, as they marched to defeat, 16-12. An obstacle which probably helped to defeat them was the matter concerning the 6-minute running time. Captain Cookie Harbaugh came through with a high 8 points and received scoring honors of the game; it was Bonnie Dean, another sophomore, who scored the remaining 4 points.

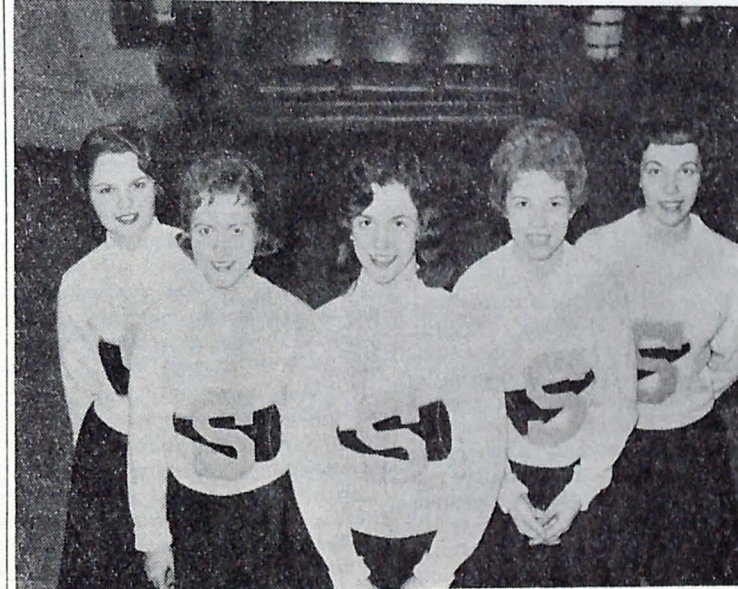

An item which has been brought to this writer's attention is one pertaining to the girls' intramural league. Girls, why be a member of a team if you think it's useless to worry over a game and its outcome, or if your spirit is lagging???? Recently, on a night when a couple of the girls were being given their floor tests for their basketball ratings, a reasonable and understandable protest was made, but one of the teams failed to see the legitimacy of this protest and sort of balked at the idea of replaying the game. Do you think this is the way for college girls, who are supposedly mature adults, to act?

The score of the Trinity game, 35-26, and it was Salisbury on the losing end giving the STC Skyrockets their second defeat of the season. One difficulty seemed to be that the offense just couldn't hit the basket, and our defense could always be penetrated. Fouling seemed to be another downfall.

Jerry Blazek took the scoring honors of the day with 14 points; Trinity's Molly O'Neill scored 13 which proved to be very useful to them in the outcome.

Our Unsung Heroines

S.T.C. has on its campus a group of "unsung heroines," namely the Cheerleaders. Working together in perfect harmony and unison at basketball games, these girls have been a great asset to team and spectator morale. Many compliments have been made about their attractiveness, as well as their excellent performances. These excellent performances can be credited to the long hours consumed each week in practice.

The Cheerleaders' captain is Susie Dunston from Dundalk, Md. Susie is a member of the Women's Athletic Association, on the year book staff, and participates in intramurals and bowling. She is enrolled in the high school curriculum and is majoring in geography. Also from Dundalk is Chotts Wilkens. Chotts is a Biological Science major and would like to teach handicapped children after she graduates. She is a member of the year book staff and participates in intramurals and bowling.

A third member is Margie Lomax. She is in the Elementary teachers curriculum and is from Washington. On her list of activities, she includes bowling and the year book staff.

Betty Lee Pilchard is the fourth member of the squad. She is from Westover, Md., and wants to teach at the elementary level after graduation.

The fifth member is Lucy Coleman, an aspiring high school math teacher from Princess Anne, Md. Other than Cheerleading she participates in bowling and intramurals.

When interviewed the five girls said their reason for being Cheerleaders was "to promote school spirit." This goal which they set was not only commendable but was carried out.

Gulls Defeat Alumni
In Fun-Filled Game

The Gulls sent out invitations to the "Old-Time" members of our past STC varsity basketball squads. Their task was to meet the "Youngsters" in mortal combat in our local gym. These invitations were accepted with open arms by the persons of Roland Foskey, Denny O'Brien, Charlie Muir, Murray Smith, Bob Fithian, Nelson Lynch, Bill Livingston, Bob West and Tom Bailey (this boy is really an old timer). The result was a Gull "victory", an afternoon of fun for all, and perhaps later on a few sore muscles.

Actually, the game was quite close, as the 74-67 score will prove, but Foskey and O'Brien hadn't lost the eye that made them feared by all in previous years. Thus it was their shooting which kept the Alumni in the game and the varsity on their toes. To illustrate what we mean, Foskey had a total of 29 points and O'Brien, who, by the way, arrived a little late, was able to tally up 23.

Our side did not fare so badly either. Led by Martin Davis with 20 points and Noel Farmer who bagged 19, our Gulls built up an early lead. This was not whittled away until Coach Maggs began his substituting; still the possibility of losing the game at this point was very remote. Again, Bill

AFTER SATURDAY'S GAME . . . with the Alumni, Ed Starkey has to relinquish the title of "gunner deluxe" to Freddy "Boom-boom" Distler. Old Fred didn't play a great deal, but he sure made his presence felt.

THE GAME WITH . . . the Alumni was delightfully entertaining, but could it have been otherwise? With "clowns" like Phil Slacum, Bill Livingston and Nelson Lynch around, laughter was assured. With the caliber of ball-players like Roland Foskey, Denny O'Brien, Charlie Muir and Murray Smith opposing us, a well-played game was likewise assured. Near the end, the alumni desired to put a sixth man into play. It was all in fun, though, so nobody cared.

THIS WRITER'S LAST . . . column contained a mild criticism, directed at no one and intended for everyone, concerning failure to support the men's intramural league. Well, it seems that there is a new rule which prohibits women dorm students, with less than a 2.5 average, from spending more than one-half hour nightly away from their rooms. To this writer the rule seems darn stiff, considering the fact that requirement for graduation is only 2.0. Did somebody goof just a little?

UNDERSTAND THAT . . . at North Caroline last week our gym club presented a creditable performance. Also, understand that Ronnie "Roll-Out" Nelson had a delightful view of the rest of the squad as they did their precision head-stand routine.

THE GULL TEAM . . . wishes to sincerely thank all those who came out and gave us support throughout the past basketball season, and we would particularly like to heap bushels of praise upon the cheerleaders who gave much of their time and energy to add more color and enthusiasm to our ball games. Thanks, gals, we feel you've done a fine job!

THE HEATHCLIFFS . . . eventually walked off with the laurels in the Men's Intramural Basketball team. They did this by beating Martin Davis's team in a play-off last Tuesday night. At the end of the regular season, the teams stood even at 5-1, thus necessitating the playoff.

BIG JIM HARTMAN . . . is as enthused as ever over his wrestling program, and practices are being held after school about two or three times a week. Don't forget, anyone still interested can still participate.

rently student teaching at Wicomico Junior High School in the fields of English and Social Studies, she will represent the college as a delegate to the Maryland National Education Association later this year. Sylvia has been Assistant and Co-editor of the Evergreen, member and officer of Phi Alpha Theta, member of the Ladies Ensemble, and accompanist for the College Chorus.

Mr. Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Gladstone Ball and a graduate of Washington High School, is another of the award winners to receive the ruby. Enrolled in the junior high curriculum, his field is math and science. He also is a member of Phi Alpha Theta, and he won the Science Award in his freshman year.

Mr. Taylor is currently student teaching at Wicomico Junior High School in the field of English and Social Studies. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Taylor and a graduate of Wicomico Senior High School, he was one of the six seniors chosen for inclusion in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." He is presently a member of the Cultural Affairs Committee, the Evergreen staff, and President of Phi Alpha Theta.

Mr. Fennell, son of Mrs. Margaret H. Fennell, was graduated from Bladensburg High School. His extra curricular activities include: Phi Alpha Theta, columnist for the Holly Leaf, Executive Committee of Student Christian Association, Business Manager for the Evergreen, First Vice President of Circle K, and President of the Junior Class.

Miss Jennison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jennison and a graduate of Oxon Hill High School, is the only freshman to receive this outstanding award. She has participated in Wesley Foundation, Gym Club, intramural basketball, and publicity for the Cultural Affairs Committee.

The Honors Convocation, scheduled for April 25, will honor students for scholastic achievement and for collegiate leadership. Our guest speaker for the assembly will be Dr. Harold Taylor, former president of Sarah Lawrence College.

SPRING TRAINING IS HERE . . . as well as in Florida. Several of the pitchers have been loosening up in preparation for the coming softball season. Ronnie Brewington seems to be the pitcher to draft at the start, but this writer thought that he was a shortstop, until the above information was passed to him.

THIS GOES TO HIM . . . before the election results are in, but I would like to comment on the election for S.G.A. president. First of all, my congratulations to both BRENDA FOXWELL and LUKE FENNELL for having conducted a campaign that all at S.T.C. can view with pride. The only disappointing aspect of the election was the pitiful show of interest that was exhibited by our students in their non-attendance at the campaign speeches. Also of tremendous interest were the WILLEY-HESTER debates.

Athlete of the Month

Freshman Sandra Weaver is this month's outstanding athlete. Hailing from the metropolis of Denton, Sandy has been an outstanding asset to the sports program of S.T.C. this year and has participated in volleyball and basketball.

The only freshman to be a member of the basketball varsity, perhaps Sandy can best be remembered for the high 33 points she racked up against St. Mary's Jr. College to give S.T.C. an outstanding victory recently. Her assistance has also been noted on the varsity volleyball team and on the WAA Board.

S.T.C. can indeed look forward to three more years of outstanding talent and skill exercised on the athletic court with Sandy Weaver as a player on any of the teams.

Miss Purnell's Art Class Experiments

Miss Henrietta Purnell, art instructor of Salisbury College, has harbored for many years an infinite amount of confidence in the artistic abilities of her students.

In accordance with her belief, she felt no qualms about providing her three Freshman sections with paper and a soft lead pencil and instructing them to place their closed fist upon the table and to draw it.

The object is to keep one's eye on the stationary fist and to concentrate, thereby the hand will be willed to transcribe whatever the eye sees. Miss Purnell encourages her students to draw only what they see before them and, most of all, to concentrate.

The students are allowed rest periods at intervals of five and ten minutes during which time Miss Purnell suggests various techniques and methods through which to improve their work.

After some experimentation with the drawing of fists, hands, and feet, the concepts of still life and portrait were introduced. At a future date, Miss Purnell hopes to open to her students the realm of charcoal, colored chalk, and water colors in depicting the same objects.

This method of drawing is adaptable to anyone who can draw even a little and is applicable in diminutive portions to students of the upper elementary level.

The results as evolved by the Freshman art sections are displayed in the entrance to the Main Hall.

For the first time in history, this year there are more Americans who own their own homes than those who do not.

Skyrockets Triumph Over Towson Rivals

It was the last game of the season, and the score was 19-13—a lead, but not a too comfortable one for Salisbury . . . The opponent they faced was the one they desired to defeat more than any other team they had played all year—Towson. All Towson needed was just a little spark, and they could overtake the Skyrockets and possibly build up a good lead.

However, good old Towson did not know what was in store for them, nor did they know how determined the cheerleaders of Salisbury STC are, for at about this time, a terrific noise went up from the balcony where the junior varsity was sitting. Coach Whitney and the varsity started running toward the door where Susie, Chotts, Margie, and Lucy had just made their entrance at the door. Held back because of afternoon labs, these girls searched untiringly until 5:00 p.m. before they found three Junior boys to take them to Towson—Paul Murrell, Chester Davis, and Ronnie Willey.

Towson could not stop the Salisbury varsity now, as they went on to win 34-29. Seniors Barbara Street and Jerry Blazek played a superb last game of their college career and seemed to fight even harder than ever for a victory—if that was possible. Nothing could now stop the Salisbury women as they brought home their most desired win of the year, with Jerry Blazek scoring 16 points.

A defeat of the junior varsity 32-14 could not even put these girls in bad spirits, for they had captured the "really big one," and they had had their cheerleaders there to cheer them on to victory.

A happy night? You might say so, and an overjoyed group of women who returned to Salisbury late that night. The score was 34-29, and it was in favor of Salisbury.

Cotten and Jay McCrea did a brunt of the backboard work, with Charlie Muir battling you can aptly be described as "w" The one man to start our "up a lead" spurt was Wayne Wers. Within five minutes of entering the game, the ex-Cabridge High athlete had rung 10 quick points in the Gulls' scoring column.

The fun began when the Alms began substituting, of necessity might add, at will and without stopping the game. At times, they were discovered to have six on the floor. Finally, Jay McCrea ended this fun filled contest "removing" the extra player as all was serene. We owe a lot to these fellows for coming out making our afternoon quite enjoyable. All we can say men "Thanks"!

Festival to be conducted at Washington College on April 29th. The Chorus will include as one of its selections the Saint Cecilia Mass.

The Spring Concert, which promises to be of the finest in entertainment, will be presented on a date to be selected from month of May. A few of the highlights of the program will be excerpts from the original show, Carousel by Oscar Hammerstein, and certain American folk songs and spirituals.

The Ladies Ensemble and the Men's Chorus will be included in various sections of these programs.
