WILLIAM F. JOHNSON, ATTORNEY, SNOW HILL, MARYLAND

PUBLIC SALE OF A VALUABLE

Tract of Pine Timber

NEAR SNOW HILL, MD.

THE LARGEST AND MOST VALUABLE TRACT OF TIMBER IN WORCESTER CO.

The undersigned, as owner, will offer at public sale, to the highest bidder at the Court House Door in the town of Snow Hill, Md., at 2.30 o'clock P. M., on all that valuable PINE TIMBER now growing on the farm occupied by the undersigned, of the dimensions of ten inches and over at the ground, growing a small tract of young timber in a branch up to a line of marked trees, which will be shown to prospective purchasers before the day of sale.

This tract of timber

is of exceptionally fine quality, large OLD GROWTH, and a large quantity of it is high grade HEAVY PINE. It is estimated that this tract will yield about of choice lumber. This is such a beautiful and valuable tract of timber that the Forestry Surveyors of the United States Government made photographs of it to exhibit as an evidence that there existed so near the sites of the East such a magnificent body of timber that the mere recital of its qualities might be questioned, therefore large photographs were made, which were convincing proofs. This timber is situated eight miles from Snow Hill, one mile from the Potomac River, and five miles from a railroad station. The purchaser will be allowed five years to operate and remove timber, with mill privileges.

FIVE MILLION FEET

TERMS OF SALE

One-third cash will be required at sale, one-third of the balance in six months, and the remainder payable in twelve months from day of sale, or all cash, at the option of the purchaser; the deferred payments to bear interest from day of sale, and to be secured to the satisfaction of my attorney, William F. Johnson, Snow Hill, Md.

BUSINESS FIRMS MAKES

Changes—Farmers and Planters Company, Change in Drug Firm.

Arrangements have been completed whereby Mr. Glen Perkins, owner and manager of the Farmers and Planters Company, has sold to a party of business men an interest in this firm. The new company will have a capital stock of $50,000. Mr. Perkins will retain a large interest in the new company, but will retire as active manager, giving his time to his large brick business. The name of Farmers and Planters Company will be retained by the new firm.

This is one of the old and well known firms of this city, and under the management of Mr. Perkins has grown into a big business. The new officers will be: Glen Perkins, President; D. J. Ward, Vice President; Elmer J. Nichols, Secretary and General Manager; W. P. Ward, Treasurer; Elmer D. Bailey, Assistant Manager. Other members of the company are County Commissioner T. W. White Jr., and C. M. Peters, Esq.

The company will take over all of the property of the Farmers and Planters Company at the foot of Main Street, the large warehouse and all of the stock and will add to the business, feed and building material. A large warehouse of brick or iron will be erected on Mill Street, with railroad siding for the purpose of handling feed and building material, shingles, etc. The company will make a specialty of farming machinery, gasoline engines, fertilizer, coal and all lines which go with this business and will enlarge the business in every quarter, having their salesmen on the road soliciting trade.

Changes in Drug Company.

There has been a change in the L. D. Collier Drug Company, of this city. This company was formerly owned by three parties, Mrs. L. D. Collier, George R. Collier and Levin D. Collier. Mr. Levin D. Collier retired August the 1st and his stock will be taken over by the other members of the company.

Mr. Levin D. Collier will open a new Drug Store under his own name. He has rented the storehouse of Mrs. M. H. Fooks and will have the same renovated and put in proper shape for his business and will start up just as soon as he can get his goods here and opened. This will add another Drug Store to the trade of the city, making five Drug Stores in Salisbury.

DOODY—TAYLOR WEDDING

Solemnized Tuesday Morning At The Home Of The Bride.

One of the prettiest weddings of the summer took place Tuesday morning at six o'clock, when Mrs. Elsie McElroy Taylor was married to Mr. Patrick Henry Doody. The marriage ceremony was performed at the home of the bride, Rev. W. T. M. Hale, of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, officiating. In the presence of the two immediate families. The house was artistically decorated with potted plants, cut flowers and palms, the color scheme being pink throughout. The bride entered the drawing room with her son, Victor, who gave her mother in marriage. The groom was attended by Mr. Ernest McKinstry, brother of the bride, who was best man. Mrs. Henry Rowe, of New York, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

The bride looked charming in a "giving away" gown of imported chariot of Gobi silk and silver mixed stripes. A classy lace waist, large Panama picture hat and a corsage of lilies of the valley completed the toilet.

After receiving congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Doody motored to Delmar and took the seven o'clock train for a wedding journey, which will include Philadelphia, New York and Atlantic City. The wedding presents were numerous and costly, the most substantial of which were diamonds and cash stock to the bride from the groom. Upon their return they will reside at the present home of the bride on William Street.

Mr. Doody has let the contract for a handsome new residence in Camden, but it will not be ready for occupancy until the first of the year.

Mrs. Doody is one of Salisbury's successful business women, having been engaged in the Millinery business on Main Street for several years. Mr. Doody is among Salisbury's substantial and progressive business men, having conducted a wholesale and retail grocery business here for many years. He is also a director in the Peninsula Trust Company of this city.

SCHOOL BOARD PROCEEDings At Its Last Session—Much Work Disposed Of and Many Vacancies Filled.

The School Board held an important meeting on Saturday evening, for the purpose of filling the vacant scholarships, awarding contracts for school repairs, the appointments of teachers, etc.

The vacant scholarship in the Maryland Agricultural College was awarded to Vaughn Williams, of Nanterville, who won in a competitive examination over Vaughn Richardson, of this city.

Vacancies in the State Normal School were awarded to Miss Jessie M. Phillips, of Sharpsburg; Miss Margaret Travers, of Nantux; Miss Mariah Menick, of Trappe.

There is a full-term vacancy in St. Mary's Female Seminary, which the School Board is very anxious to fill, and applications will be considered at the next meeting.

The resignation of Miss Daley M. Bell, assistant to County Superintendent of Holloway, was presented to the Board to take effect not later than September the 15th. The resignation was accepted with considerable regret by the Board, as the very efficient services of Miss Bell were recognized and appreciated by the Board. Miss Bell has served in the capacity of assistant to the County Superintendent for ten years, and is thoroughly conversant with all the work of the office. The resignation of the Board at the severance of very pleasant relations were ordered spread upon the minutes.

The vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Miss Bell was filled by the appointment of Mr. J. Ralph Dykes, who is a graduate of the Commercial Department of the Woomer High School. Mr. Dykes taught the past year in one of our rural schools. He is now taking a special summer course at Columbia University.

Bids were opened for the improvement to be made in the Frontland public school building which will give a larger and better arranged building than the present one. The bids were as follows: A. F. Smith, $764.50; Wm. O. Bretingham, $887; E. G. Clark, $875. The contract was awarded to Mr. Smith.

ISSUE 'BEFUDDLED,' BOTH Sides Assert—Price and Anderson At Last Find Point Upon Which They Can Agree.

Is somebody befuddling the issue? Senator Jesse D. Price and William H. Anderson, Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, agree—and it is the first time they have agreed—that the issue is being befuddled.

Senator Price declares Mr. Anderson is the befuddler. Mr. Anderson places the onus on Senator Price. The gentlemen have been engaged for several weeks in a more or less strenuous letter-writing contest over a proposed joint debate concerning details or which they are unable to reach an understanding.

Senator Price says that while he hasn't yet prepared his answer to Mr. Anderson's last letter, he has given it enough attention to know that this communication is merely an attempt on the part of Mr. Anderson to get out of a face-to-face meeting with the Senator.

"Throwing A Bluff." "He's been throwing a bluff, and now that I've called him, he's trying to get out of it by befuddling the issue," declared the President of the last Senate.

"Mr. Anderson makes some pretty specific charges," he was reminded. "In one place, for instance, he says that the fact that Ulman, the proprietor of the Opera House, refused to accept his (the Superintendent's) offer to allow him to hold on to the check received in payment for the Opera House as an option on the house for the afternoon of the same day is proof of your inactivity."

"That's one of his attempts to befuddle the issue," declared Mr. Price. "I said last week that I have no connection with Ulman, and I still stick to that statement."

"Then he says, too, that you will attempt to befuddle the issue, which is your record in the Legislature on the liquor question, by making personal attacks on him."

"It's possible, isn't it?" questioned Mr. Price, that Mr. Anderson is guilty of just that fear of which he accuses me—the fear of facing his own record before an audience."

Will Make A Reply.

"Will you accept his terms as outlined in his last letter?" "As to that I cannot say. I don't think I will accept them in their present form. I shall, however, reply to it in great detail. And I think that I can show that Mr. Anderson is now trying by every possible means to keep me from meeting him in Salisbury on anything like equal terms."

"I am not befuddling the issue," declared Mr. Anderson. "Mr. Price is the befuddling individual."—Monday's Baltimore News.

LIGHTNING DESTROYS

Factory—Manufacturing Plant At Frontland—Bolt During Wednesday's Storm—A Cow Is Killed.

Salisbury was visited by one of the worst electrical disturbances of the season of Wednesday evening. A heavy downpour accompanied the storm. Several trees in the vicinity of Salisbury were struck and some little damage to the crops resulted from the heavy wind which swept the storm onwards.

The big shirt factory owned by Mr. Kruess Moore, at Frontland, was set afire during this storm as a result of being struck by the lightning. The building went like lightning and was soon a mass of uncontrollable flames, which burned the building down to the foundation of brick. Despite the heavy storm quite a number of automobiles rushed to the fire from Salisbury, believing that Frontland was ablaze. As the factory was located some distance from other buildings no other loss was suffered.

The loss to Mr. Moore is estimated at quite a number of valuable and useful presents. Letters of congratulation were sent by their many friends in Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Mr. Layfield is a prosperous farmer of this County. For a number of years he was a resident of this city where he is well known and has many friends. Although having passed the three score years and ten, he is still very active for any one so old in years.

We extend our congratulations and wish for the happy couple a long and successful future.

An alarm of fire about two o'clock Wednesday morning from John H. Tomlinson's crate and barrel factory brought a quick response from the fire department, which subdued the flames in short order. The fire started in the boiler room among the saw dust used as fuel. The loss is slight. This factory came near being destroyed by the fire which consumed Plant No. 2, of the Salisbury Ice Company several months ago.

CHANGES AT HOSPITAL

Improvement Of Grounds—Wire Fence Enclosed.

The Board of Directors of the Peninsula General Hospital are now contemplating to make extensive improvements in the grounds and buildings at the Hospital. The first improvement will be the fencing of the grounds on all four sides. Ever since the erection of the buildings the grounds have practically been at disposal of the public and have been used as a short cut from the southwest section of the city to South Division St. To put a stop to this nuisance the directors have contracted with the L. W. Gushy Co., to erect a six foot fence on the North and West sides of the grounds. This fence will have iron posts set in concrete and will be of fine wire with a three foot protecting arm with four strands of barbed wire on the inside, which will effectively prohibit any climbing of the fence. The fence on the Division street side and Locust street will be of wrought iron, five feet high, ornamental and set in concrete. There will be but one gate to the grounds and that will be at the corner entrance on South Division street. At this point there will be constructed ornamental brick posts three feet square with iron gates so that the grounds can be closed at night. The directors have also contracted with the Downing Landscaping Company, the lowest bidder, for the construction of concrete driveways around Hospital and Nurses Home. These driveways will be constructed of concrete with smooth finish inches deep and will be laid on a proper grade to shed the water into the sewers.

This work will greatly improve the appearance of the grounds and in the fall the lawn will all be replanted in grass and shade trees set out on the lawn in front of the Nurses' Home. It is the intention to terrace the brow of the hill in the rear of the hospital and put the grounds in most excellent shape.

The Hospital Building and Nurses Home have recently been much improved in interior and exterior. The porches have all been surrounded by many other improvements made for the comfort of the patients. The improvements at the hospital will cost in the neighborhood of four thousand dollars. The Board of Directors would be glad to receive some organized checks from our philanthropic citizens to help bear the cost of these improvements.

WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Leaves Note For Her Husband—Says "I'm in the River."

When Mr. Austin Pusey, who lives on Smith Street, awoke about one o'clock Friday morning he found his wife but found a note from her addressed to him, stating that she was going to commit suicide and asking him where the body could be found. Mr. Pusey got into his coat and drove to the spot indicated in the note. He found a woman lying face down in the river near the Boat House. LOVE OF TRUTH.
I know not if it is a duty to clear up fortune and the truth. Certainly the reason and foundation necessary to such a sacrifice is a gift which we can bestow upon ourselves. But I know it is a duty. It is a duty to reach the whole of it or none at all, to reach it clearly and roundly, without disguise or reserve, and with perfect confidence in its efficacy and utility, and the gifts required for such a decision are in our power. Whoever will not acquire these, or when required will not use them, shows that he has a very poor opinion of the human intellect, and he deserves to lose the confidence of his hearers, who, while he tries them from gross errors, yet withholds the entire truth and thinks to satisfy them by a compromise with falsehood, for the greater the error the shorter and straighter the way to the truth. On the other hand, subtle error can prevent our recognition of its nature and forever blind us to the truth.—Lessing.

HOW TO SAVE $1,000,000,000 A YEAR.

An insurance company estimates the lives of men in their prime to be worth $4,000 each to the nation. If we therefore lose 800,000,000 such men annually who might be saved we waste thus every year $1,000,000,000, and Professor Irving Fisher of Yale declares that we might save $1,000,000,000 each year by the application of existing and established knowledge to the control of various diseases now known to be preventable. And this would mean merely that we would have recovered the ground lost through the increase during thirty years of chronic ailments. We ought to find it possible to do much more than that. We ought to find it possible to bring about a real advance, to so improve conditions that our situation in the future would be better than it ever has before. We have done it with acute complaints. We ought to do it with the chronic ailments.—William Jay Schiefel.

CANADA'S FRIENDSHIP.

As neighbors and kinsmen we desire an enduring friendship with the American people, being ever conscious of the obligation which rests on us as the chief British power on this continent to be wise and temperate in our international dealings and pre-eminently to maintain and strengthen as far as we have the opportunity the good relations between the mother country and the republic. Rivalry in trade there must be, international differences there may be, but these only illustrate the vitality and energy of a free people and the endeavor, alike of Canadians and Americans, to increase their industrial efficiency and improve human conditions.—Premier Borden of Canada.

Little Tom Tucker sings for his supper, But it's doubtful whether he'll get it. His mother washes the old-fashioned way. Boiling and rubbing the livelong day. She has no time for cooking on Monday, And little Tom Tucker goes hungry.

What has become of the dirt?

That's the first question you ask when you rinse out the clothes after they've been soaped with Fels-Naptha and soaked in cool or lukewarm water.

The clothes are white and clean.

The dirt's gone.

What became of it?

Here's the answer.

Fels-Naptha Soap acts on dirt like water does sugar; dissolves it; separates it into tiny particles that are carried away by the rinsing water.

Fels-Naptha Soap takes the place of boiling.

Makes the clothes whiter and cleaner without it.

Dirt doesn't need to be rubbed out when it's dissolved.

Do you wonder that women who use Fels-Naptha Soap in Winter or Summer are able to do their washing in one-half the time with one-fourth the work required by the old way?

When you try it yourself, follow directions printed on the red and green wrapper.

HIGH COST OF LIVING.

A wise philosopher is accredited with the statement that it is impossible for a people to be greatly interested in more than one issue at a time. If this is true it will take a prophet indeed to point out the one thing which the people of this country will center upon as the real thing in the coming Presidential campaign, where so many issues have been raised many of which seem important enough to hold the first place in the minds of the thoughtful voter. It may be however that some one of these will take a leading place and the others be made to fit in as accessories to the main proposition.

The high cost of living, probably as a corollary, will have its place in the coming fight and will doubtless exercise considerable influence as it is a question which appeals every day to the vast majority of our voters who are compelled by necessity to give it close attention. This question may or may not be a proper political proposition, as the fact that it costs much more to live today than ever before will have its effect and many will blame present political conditions for the increase.

Many reasons have been given for this increase and many more theories will be advanced before the War of Woe preceding the battle of ballots is over. Some will lay the blame on High Tariff and protected interests, or monopolies brought into existence by a tariff greater than the cost of manufacturing goods here and abroad, a condition which President Taft himself in his speech of acceptance says "tempts the manufacturers of this country to secure the monopoly of the industry and to increase its price as far as the Executive Tariff will permit."

Others of course will lay the blame for the increase on the natural laws of supply and demand; some on the middle man and not the manufacturer; while many will blame the people themselves and say the increased cost is mainly due to their own extravagance.

Perhaps in a greater or less degree all of these contentions are right, but the man who is getting but a dollar and a half a day will want to make a change which will permit of his having some kind of meat for dinner, which at the present price is practically impossible. The man with a family of six children will know that his extravagance has not run up the price of necessities. He will be hard to convince that there is less beef, pork and other staples in the country in proportion to the number of consumers than was the case several years ago, while he may be tempted to blame the middleman some, yet he, as a rule, knows this man personally and feels sure he is not getting extravagant in really paying his trade. To this man the Tariff is not more theoretical combinations to be discussed in the abstract, but living beings who are taking the bread out of the mouth of his children.

As these trusts and monopolies are only made possible by an "excessive" tariff, he will throw the blame on the party which stands for the "excessive" tariff and more than likely will vote for a change in the tariff and a change in tariff

AN ITALIAN HISTORIAN ON ROOSEVELT.

Mr. Roosevelt's efforts have been tending for some years toward getting the most advanced section of the Republicans and the most moderate section of the Democrats by means of a program that takes into consideration the profound changes that have come over the mind of the masses. Conservative parties have always adopted these tactics when they have felt themselves threatened by the growing discontent of the people. And this is sufficient to explain the rage, distrust and enthusiasm which the attitude of Mr. Roosevelt is arousing all over the Union, to explain the accumulation of denunciations which many of his old friends are hurling at him, and the surprise which this struggle has already caused us and probably still holds in reserve for us. But such tactics are always difficult and full of dangers. How many illustrious statesmen have been their victims in the difficult moments of history! It is for this reason that in Europe many of Mr. Roosevelt's friends, too far away from the struggle to gauge the psychological motives which have caused him to leap into the melee, would have preferred that he should not have been put to this formidable test.—Guglielmo Ferrero.

THE GREAT SALISBURY FAIR!

AEROPLANE, HIPPODROME, SENSATIONAL AERIAL ACTS, TROTTER, PACING AND RUNNING EVENTS

Aug. 13, 14, 15, 16, 1912

ADMISSION PRICES Last year we inaugurated a plan of charging 50 cents on Wednesday and Thursday. This was done in order that we might be able to give to the people amusements which would be impossible at the old admission prices. Believing that those attending were satisfied with the program given, we have decided to continue this plan, and have arranged a program this year which in every respect we believe to be equal, if not superior, to the one given last year. We are spending a large amount of money for free attractions, and believe that all will be satisfied with the entertainment offered.

SEASON TICKETS In order that those who attend the Fair every day may do so without too great an expense, the Association has arranged for Season Tickets. These will be sold for $1.00 each and will be good for one admission each day of the Fair. Same can be had by applying to the Secretary, Salisbury, Md.

GRANDSTAND Grandstand tickets will be sold at 25 cents each day of the Fair.

Aeroplane Flights

A great many saw the Aeroplane Flights at our Fair last year. They know that they were a success. For those who have never seen them, as well as for those who wish again to see this great exhibition, we have arranged with the Curtiss Company for flights on the ground each day of the Fair. REMEMBER, WE DELIVER THE GOODS—NO FAKES HERE—THE FLIGHTS WILL TAKE PLACE.

Hippodrome Races

Arrangements have been made for the Hutton's Hippodrome to give daily exhibits on the track during the Fair. This is one of the best Hippodrome Races obtainable. It carries from 12 to 15 spirited horses and able riders and drivers. CHARIOT RACES, RUNNING RACES, HIGH JUMPING WITH THE HORSES, AND OTHER EXCITING EVENTS GIVEN DAILY.

Aerial Feature

The famous Marion Family, consisting of four gentlemen and three ladies, have been engaged to give daily exhibits. This act is claimed to be the biggest aerial stunt in America. Wonderful Gymnastic features are performed by the actors on a rigging suspended thirty feet in the air. This is the first real big aerial performance ever given by any Fair in this section of the country, and should prove interesting and amusing to all. Consists of Single, Twisting, One and A-Half, and a Double Somersault to Catch and Return, Aerial Casting, Dives and a Triple Somersault to Net. A REAL THRILLER.

Trotting and Pacing

The usual good sport in our Trotting and Pacing events will be found on the track this year. Good horses are expected and fine racing assured.

Music

A good Band will be on the Grounds and furnish music during the day and night.

Other Attractions

We have not the time nor space to outline the many interesting and amusing attractions which will be found on our Grounds this year, but the people can rest assured that everything that goes to make a Fair will be found here. A GOOD SHOW, WELL WORTH A DOLLAR.

Notice to Exhibitors

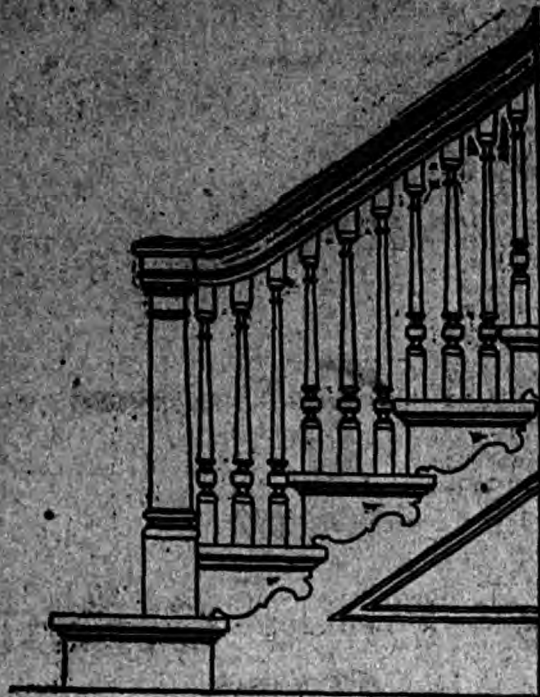

The Salisbury Fair is looking for a good line of exhibits in every department. If you have anything, send it to us. WRITE FOR ENTRY BLANKS AND BE SURE TO MAKE YOUR ENTRIES EARLY.

Men Wanted

On Friday, June 7th, a number of employees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company left their positions without notice and went on a strike which now exists. These represented almost entirely the negro, younger, more inexperienced men. A large majority of the men, including nearly all of the older, responsible men, remained with the Company and have faithfully served it in operating its car service, which has been well maintained over its entire system.

The Company wants at once reliable experienced Motormen and Conductors to fill the places of men who have left the service, and offers attractive permanent employment not only to these, but to other worthy persons who can qualify.

For full information write or apply to Superintendent of Employment, 103 2nd Street, Boston, Mass.

SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISING

NOT GOVERNED BY RULES

By BERT M. MOSES,

President, Association of American

Advertisers.

Many things in life are more or less regulated by fixed rules.

There are precedents to follow, and experience goes a long way toward telling us what to do next time.

In advertising, however, it is my belief that there are no fixed laws, and success is something that has to be worked out independently of what has been done by others.

In brief, every man has to work out his own salvation.

The thing that wins today is likely to make a failure tomorrow.

Not so very long ago one of the biggest and most successful advertisements of today, in introducing his product, gave a dozen packages of goods

free to every retailer in his line.

The response to the advertising that followed this gift was quick and almost universal.

The goods went with a surprising

rush, and the sale still continues big.

Naturally the advertiser thought

the underlying cause of his success

was the giving away of free goods.

Quite recently this same advertiser introduced another article in the same territory where he had made his previous big success.

He followed identically the same plan of giving away free goods, and used precisely the same mediums for his advertising.

The second article, by the way, was one which is presumably far more standard than the first.

But the advertiser who duplicated

his first success on his second venture?

Not on your life, Helen!

He made just as big a failure in the second instance as he made a big success in the first.

What the trouble was no one really knows, although a dozen different

good reasons might be given by a dozen different men.

Apparently it appears advisable to promote an article which sells at a popular price on the theory that many more people will buy something if the price is small than if it is big.

Theoretically, this is a beautiful proposition, but sometimes it fails

when put to the test.

The biggest selling safety razor in the United States retails at 45c.

Before this advertising was started

I don't suppose you could find one man in 50 who agreed with the promotion that success was probable for a common article like a razor that was going to be sold at such a prohibitive price.

However, the man believed in the scheme, and made millions out of it.

He has made these millions in competition with dozens of other safety razors at all sorts of prices.

I saw a safety razor the other day

that was priced at 10 cents, and it looked as though it might shave pretty well, too.

The reasons for this apparent paradox could be given by the dozen,

perhaps, but to me the big reason is this:

The 35 razor man had faith plus in his product, and he was taking to the full of his belief and faith.

He worked out his own salvation regardless of rules and precedents, and that is what every advertiser has got to do if he wants to arrive at that point where he can buy full pages in the newspapers and have money to pay his bills.

Filling Empty Pews.

The town of Meeker, Colo., has a churchman who, if anything, is suffering. At last Sunday evening's service of his church a larger number of pews than usual were vacant, and,

while he did not at that time comment on the remembrance of the absent

pastor, in one of the town's newspapers

this week the following advertisement appeared:

"MISSED—Last Sunday, some familiar faces and familiar forms, the services of the Methodist Episcopal church. Any person with a spirit of loyalty who will restore one or more of these to their accustomed place will in nowise lose a reward from the great head of the church and from his servants, the pastor and his co-workers."

Needless to say, the erstwhile empty pews ceased to be empty.

How could I tell you then that I had dressed as a man, and played the part of a spy? I—I thought you might despise me, and—and I wished so to retain your respect. It was an accident we were with Delavan that night. We were endeavoring to waylay a courier, and rode suddenly into his party. I had to invent a tale on the spur of the moment. Maxon Lawrence, now that you know all, told me the one thing I must know before we join the others—would you wish your own sister to do as I have done?

"Not to pass through the danger, surely," I returned eagerly, "but I should rejoice at her loyalty, and be proud of her. Claire, Claire, there has never been in my heart ought but love for you. As Lady of the Blended Rose, as daughter of a colonel of Queen's Rangers, even in the disguise of a dragon, I have never questioned the depth of your womanhood. Once I guessed you a British spy, yet ceased not to love you. Am I to have my reward? You know little of me, as you say, but as an officer and a gentleman."

"And now it is an invitation to remain."

Her eyes were uplifted to mine. Slowly I drew her toward me, her arms were upon my shoulders, and our lips met.

"I love you," she said slowly. "Yes, dear, I love you."

Above us, his head thrust through the opening, Farrell called:

"Have you found her, major? Shall I come down?"

"It's not necessary."

"The colonel is half crazy, and the boy is getting back his senses."

"We went up together, I bearing the candle in one hand, and helping her along the circular stairs with the other. In the upper hall I glanced below, but the bodies of the dead had been removed. Farrell stood bareheaded, a great figure on his short legs."

"This has been a fine night's work," he said steadily, "the last of Farrell's snags."

"Dead?"

"Ay, and Grant with him—blessed your pardon, mistress."

Her eyes glanced from his face into mine, and my hand-clasp tightened. It was thus we went in together, and stood opposite the colonel's bed.

WAKE UP BOYS

Sparks World's Famous Shows--Circus, Hippodrome and Menagerie--To Be Here Wednesday, Sept. 11th.

All day Wednesday the busiest man in town was the Advance Agent of John H. Sparks World's Famous Shows. He was like a will-o-the-wisp, now here, now there, making contracts and arranging for the coming of the great circus. Large quantities of provisions were contracted for from our merchants, and the grounds known as the Wilbrow Show Grounds were leased from its owners.

The Sparks Shows as they will appear here larger this time are in size, and now rank among the leading circuses of the country. It is claimed to have a solid train of twenty monster railway cars, almost four hundred people and over two hundred animals, both foreign and domestic.

The Show employs over fifty people in the departments of publicity alone, and from now on until show day the country for twenty miles around will be given a thorough billing and if the weather is as all favorable September the 11th will have its entrance in immense throng on that day.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Account of Meeting Last Monday Evening.

The Mayor and Council at the weekly meeting on Monday night, decided to ratify the report of the Commission named to open, straighten and lay out the water street. The Commission will mean a new street across the property of Thomas H. Mitchell and the Salisbury Machine Construction Company. Under the agreement with the Wisconsin Realty Company, this Company will make the fill and build the street. The County Commissioners will build the bridge and the improvements will cost the city nothing. When this is done it will open up a new thoroughfare to the Wisconsin Fair Grounds.

The City Solicitor was instructed to prepare an agreement between the city and Mr. Clinton Krause to lay a sewer from the bakery on Olive Street to North Division Street.

Mayor Kennerly and William L. Tilghman were named as a committee to contract for the extension of the Isabella Street sewer to deep water across the property of the Salisbury Light, Heat and Power Company, as to correct conditions as noted in The News several weeks ago.

The property owners on West Isabella Street were notified to fix their pavements in accordance with the Street grade and to lay cement pavements within thirty days from date or the Council would proceed to fix the grades and lay the pavements and charge the same to the properties to be collected as other taxes are collected.

Mayor Kennerly reported that all of the property owners along Main, Dock and North Division Streets had reported that they were contracting for the removal of awning posts on these Streets and that in a short time all of the posts would be removed which would stop the hitching of horses on these Streets.

The City Solicitor was authorized to prepare a new ordinance for the proposed new Wilson Street from Railroad Avenue to North Division Street. The ordinance passed two weeks ago was repealed and a new ordinance passed in its place and a new Commission named, consisting of Wm. M. Couper, W. F. Messick and George E. Mitchell. This second ordinance provides that the Street shall be laid out by taking one half of the property needed from the private owners and one half from the Railroad Company. The first ordinance called for taking all of the property from the private owners, who objected to this, and the Council changed so as to make the Railroad Company give property for half of the Street. This will be satisfactory to the private property owners so it is said.

Just as soon as this new Street is opened and East Railroad Avenue is widened, it is understood that the two Railroad Companies will start to build the new Union Passenger Station. The people of Salisbury hope that nothing else will spring up to stop this much needed improvement.

THE BIG FAIR ON TUESDAY

Many Attractions On The Programme—Big Crowds Are Expected.

The Great Salisbury Fair will open its gates on Tuesday of next week to one of the biggest line of exhibits ever seen on the grounds. In all Departments the entries have been unusually heavy and thousands of various articles will be seen this year, representing the work of many hands and the products of many places.

In the line of attractions, this year's Fair promises to be the most interesting of any yet held. The entry list of horses in the various races is longer than ever before and embraces a great many good horses who will fight out the battles on the track.

In addition to the racing end of the amusement, an Aeroplane has been engaged from the Curtiss Company, the same Company with which the contract was placed last year. Young Dixon, the Aviator who made the very successful flight from the Salisbury Grounds last year, was killed soon after winning a $10,000 prize for being the first to cross the Rocky Mountains in a machine. The Curtiss Company will send out an expert man to run the Aeroplane and the name of the Company alone guarantees successful flights.

The Great Hutton's Hippodrome is another amusement which will be seen at the Fair this year. This will consist of running horses, chariot races, high jumps and many other features. An aerial performance will be held each day before the Grand Stand in the Quarter Street which on account of the height of the performers and the reputation of the Company should prove to be one of the most interesting features on this year's programme.

The folks with their goods, the showmen with their troupes, and all of the other things which go to make up an old time Fair will be on hand, and not forgetting the fortune tellers. Everybody will see everybody else as is always the case during Fair week, and many will come to renew acquaintanceship and to see friends and relatives.

Willards Campmeeting.

The Willards Campmeeting will begin August 16th and close August 26th, 1912. The pastor, Rev. W. B. Guthrie will have charge.

Rev. Liddell will have charge of the Evangelistic services and preach once each day. Rev. George P. Jones, District Superintendent, Rev. O. T. Wynne, G. W. Hastings, O. T. Baynard and other prominent members of the Willards Conference will be present and preach.

Brother Lewis, of the Baltimore Conference, will have charge of the children's and young people's meetings. Music will be a feature of the Camp.

The ground is dry, well shaded and plenty of good water. Come and enjoy a delightful and profitable outing in the Grove with us. Committee.

PRICE MAKES REPLY TO ANDERSON

Accepts Challenge And Gives Details of Terms.

Sen. Jesse D. Price, president of the Maryland Senate has mailed the following letter to William H. Anderson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in answer to the communication received from Mr. Anderson July 27:

Salisbury, Md., August 8.
To Mr. William H. Anderson, Superintendent Anti-Saloon League of Maryland, 808 American Building, Baltimore Md.

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of July 27, in which you attempt to muddy the waters in the controversy instituted by yourself.

I am very busy at present attending to my private affairs, and am receiving no compensation, as you are, for agitation. However, I fully appreciate your position as a public servant and as a representative of the people. I also appreciate the worth and sincerity of the many good people of this state who are interested in the abolishment of the saloons, for which purpose you are their recognized representative. Otherwise I should have declined from the start to engage in anything so unprofitable as the agitation of a question which our people of the Eastern Shore and many other sections of the state have long and settled to their satisfaction. This event occurred some time prior to your advent into our state, and I believe I am correct in saying that very little progress has been made since your connection with the cause in Maryland. Be this as it may, however, I now, for my part, propose to close this preliminary controversy, which so evidently suits your purpose of self exploitation and personal advertisement.

No Lincoln-Douglas Debate.
Without attempting to answer the coarse insinuation and cheap wit which your letter abounds I cannot fail to notice the arguments and by you in your contention for the right to open and close the proposed debate. You say that I "misapprehend the nature of the meeting," and that "this is not a duel with pistols or swords or even eggs." You then cite as precedents the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates as well as court proceedings, showing that you thoroughly misapprehend the nature of the proposed meeting. If you will review the history and purpose of the Lincoln Douglas debates you will readily see that they are not pertinent to this case and the rules followed therein cannot serve as a basis of criterion for this proposed discussion. The Lincoln Douglas debates were discussions of a great public question by two intellectual giants, and as before stated, the rules of discussion applicable to that case have no reference to the case in point which is of an entirely different nature.

No Precedent For The Show.
As to court proceedings they have nothing whatever to do with this proposed discussion, especially as I am not a prisoner at the bar nor under indictment—except by you. In a court of law or of equity you would not be permitted to act as the grand jury by framing the indictment as you have done, to act as the paid prosecuting attorney, presenting witness, judge and jury, as you are attempting to do. The fact is, there is no precedent for this proposed meeting, as you are the first individual in all history, so far as I know, with sufficient self conceit to undertake to dictate the attitude of the representative of a people with whom you have no connection.

Called Flimsy Subterfuge.
It is evident to all who have read your communication and note your efforts to obscure the issue, that your purpose was not that I should discuss in such discussion, but that you would make the conditions so unfair that I could not accept and then you would be able to hold me up as fearing to face my record. If your real purpose had been the holding of a joint discussion of my record, you would not have quibbled over minor details, such as a rebuttal speech, which you claim as a right, and the raising of little technicalities, such as that my refusal to accept your challenge sooner forfeited my right to suggest conditions under which I would meet you. You speak of protecting your rights. I know of no rights which you are called upon to protect except the right of free speech and a respectful hearing, as you have been the aggressor from the beginning, having instituted this controversy and having challenged me to defend my legislative record. When I accept and agree to an equal division of time, you contend for a speech of rebuttal, for fear I will attack you personally and you will have no chance to defend yourself. Just how flimsy a subterfuge that is to hide behind that you have at your command a weekly newspaper in which to correct anything untrue I might say about you; have access to many of the priests of our state, also are constantly engaged in platform work, and it is ridiculous to contend that I could misrepresent you successfully. I can assure you that the citizenship of this country is too intelligent to be fooled even by you with your skill as a debater and your wonderful insight into the motives of other people which you profess to have.

Equal To The Senate.
You complain in your letter of the 27th of July that I took an unfair advantage of you while presiding over the Senate, because, forsooth, I attempted to defend myself on the floor against false accusations made by you; and you go on to say that I "wielded the power conferred upon me by the Mahon-Preston city liquor ring in the people of the State and your moral obligation," and that you were helpless then, but now you have both the ability and willingness to protect your rights. Your ability is conceded, but the impression that you are short on willingness is gaining ground. In defending myself on the floor of the Senate I was clearly within my rights as Senator and you have no right to complain of unfairness, because you had previously attacked me in the public press more than once. This is the first insult you have offered the Senate of Maryland, whose traditions are as high and honorable as any legislative body in this country, and it affords no greater degree of immunity to a member speaking upon the floor than do the pulpits of our churches. Yet you have not scrupled under the sheltering mantle and hallowed influence of whatever pulpit would give you the opportunity and furnish you with an audience and a collection to attack the good name and record of any citizen, high or low, who happened to disagree with you in the solution of a great public question.

Price's Final Terms.
However, I have determined to meet you and in order to put at rest any doubts about my position I will agree that you have twenty minutes of your time for rebuttal reserving the right to answer anything necessary to be answered in your rebuttal speech, neither of us to bring in new matters. I accept with the understanding that the meeting is to be held in the Opera House at eight P. M., on September the twenty-seventh, nineteen hundred and twelve, but I will meet you at an outdoor meeting at three o'clock in the afternoon only in the event that the Opera House is not secured. As you seem to think there is a snake in the suggestion I made about engaging a band to furnish music for the audience I will make no point of that. Your conception of the functions of a chairman accord exactly with my ideas, and so far as stage tickets are concerned your suggestion that there be none is perfectly satisfactory to me.

This meeting is not to be your "show," all you are pleased to call it, but it is to be our meeting, and I shall expect to pay half of the cost of the Opera House rental, and jointly we are to select a chairman who shall preside, state the object of the meeting, introduce the speakers briefly and keep the time.

We are to have one hour each, you to open the discussion and reserve twenty minutes for rebuttal if you desire. I am to follow and reserve ten minutes of my time to answer your rebuttal speech if I desire.

You may accept this proposal as a whole or reject it as you may elect, but if you are sincere in your professed desire for a joint discussion I shall expect you to accept without further hair-splitting over terms and conditions.

Called Arrogant Bluffer.
This is all I shall have to say regarding this proposed meeting, but in any event, my dear sir, I shall be present at my meeting if you accept, and if you decline I shall be present at your "show." If you hold it, as I answer the roll call and if, as you profess you are coming to tell the truth regarding my legislative record, my reply will be brief. If, on the other hand, however, my legislative record is twisted and perverted to suit your own ill-conceived purpose, I shall demand and expect to receive sufficient time as I may deem necessary to answer any or all of the speeches you may make, and if I am denied that right by you, in your "show," all the people of the State will fully realize what some already know, that you are an arrogant bluffer, and the Christian Temperance people of Maryland will refuse longer to support and finance the employment upon your direction of unfair and questionable means to attain a desirable and worthy end. Very truly yours,

Jesse D. Price,
President of Senate.

WILSON ACCLAIMED BY

Thousands As Leader—Democratic Presidential Nominee Tells Of The New Age, Its Demand And Hope.

Maryland Democrats and admirers of Governor Woodrow Wilson are highly pleased over the Governor's speech accepting the Presidential nomination. In it they contend that he has given the real keynote of the campaign, one that will resound throughout the country until election day.

United States Senator John Walter Smith said:

"In my judgement, Governor Wilson's speech is one of the strongest ever made by a Presidential candidate of any party. No fair minded man can read it, as I have done, without feeling its absolute sincerity and without recognizing the deep earnestness as well as the tremendous ability of the man. The speech is Democratic and it is progressive, without being in the least socialist or anarchoistic."

"It is the kind of a speech that ought to satisfy every Democrat, and it ought to bring to Governor Wilson many thousands of votes from men not affiliated with the Democratic Party. The sanity and balance and judgement with which the nominee deals with the big and vital issues before the people are calculated to inspire confidence and support in the business world and give to the commercial interest of the country a feeling that Democratic success this year means a genuine square deal."

"It is delightful, too, to find that Governor Wilson does not profess to be possessed of all the knowledge in the world; that he offers no quick remedies for all the ills of the world and that he makes no pretensions of infallibility. The address is wholly free from hypocrisy, cant and buncombe. His words are the words of an American, a Democrat and a Man. It rings true from the first to the last word."

"A Gem" As To Tariff.

"I was really glad that Governor Wilson spoke so strongly on the tariff question," said former City Collector George N. Nissen. "His letter of acceptance is a gem in that respect, as well as in all others. The tariff is going to be the chief feature of the campaign and one in which the whole country is intensely interested, particularly at this time. I read every line of what the Governor said on this question and agree with him thoroughly. It places me that he advocates a regulation of the existing tariff and favors revision downward. He proposes to deal with the question in a sensible way. This is a tremendously big point in the letter and one that is bound to make an impression on the minds of the people."

"Great Speech By Great Man."
"Frank" Kelley, organization leader, said:

"It's a great speech delivered by a great man. There is nothing to it but Wilson. The poor and middle classes realize that he is the one man who will do what he says, and in his speech he declares for a rigid reduction in the tariff, what these classes want. Wilson's campaign is going to be one of the easiest, but yet one of the most enthusiastic that we have had in this State for years."

The Two Things To Be Done.
"There are two things to do," said Governor Wilson in his speech accepting the Democratic nomination for President. "One is to set up the rule of justice and of right in such matters as the tariff, the regulation of the trusts and the prevention of monopoly, the adaptation of our banking and currency laws to the very uses to which our people must put them, the treatment of those who do the daily labor in our factories and mines and throughout all our great industrial and commercial undertakings, and the political life of the people of the Philippines, for whom we hold governmental power in trust for their service, not our own."

"The other, the additional duty, is the great task of protecting our people and our resources and of keeping open to the whole people the doors of opportunity through which they must, generation by generation, pass if they are to make conquests of their future in health, in freedom, in peace and in contentment. In the performance of this second great duty we are faced with questions of conservation and of development, questions of forest and water powers and mines and waterways and of the building of an adequate merchant marine."

"We have got into trouble in recent years chiefly because these large things, which ought to have been handled by taking counsel with as large a number of persons as possible, because they touch every interest and the life of every class and region, have in fact been too often handled in private conference."

Smiley, General Freight Agent, have charge of the Freight Traffic on the Maryland Division."

$1,500 In Cash Prizes At Peninsula Apple Show.

The Peninsula Horticultural Society will have the biggest Apple Show ever seen on this peninsula at its meeting in Wilmington next January. The Wilmington Board of Trade contributed $500 in cash besides taking care of rent for the hall for the meeting and exhibition rooms for the fruit and vegetable displays. The Delaware Board of Agriculture contributes $500 in cash. The Society itself will make up another $500. Special premiums will also be solicited and will add materially to these cash prizes and the value of the premium list. The largest prize will naturally be for apples, as this fruit can be kept or a winter expansion much better than peaches and the other more perishable fruits, and there will be three or four large cash prizes for the best general display of apples, and liberal prizes for boxes and plates of all the leading commercial varieties. Apple growers should begin now to send in their fruit to cold storage for this show. It will be stored free of charge at the Wilmington Abattoir and Cold Storage Company, 230 Tenth Street, Wilmington, Delaware. The full premium list will soon be out and will offer liberal prizes for all fruits and vegetables and for canned fruits, etc., and may be had by addressing the Secretary, Wesley Webb, Delaware.

Hon. F. M. Hoper, President of the Society, requests especially the amateur growers to make exhibits and assure them that the premium list is arranged for them as well as for the big fellows. Every farmer should be interested because this show will better fruit, better farming, better prices for lands, and more profits for the farmer, hence more comfort and luxuries for his home.

DEAL WITH CUT-WORM PEST

Test Course is to Plow in Fall and Renew War in Spring—Poisoned Bran May Be Used.

The test course in dealing with cut-worms is to plow early in the fall and continue cultivation with a spring-toothed harrow until freezing time prevents it and then renewing the war on them by extra early spring cultivation.

There is no easy method of dealing with these pests, but they may be killed if one is willing to go after them with determination. An effective method of combating them is to use sweet and poisoned bran, says the Prairie Farmer. The method is to add one part of Paris green, by weight, to thirty or forty parts of bran, stir this together, while yet dry, and then mixing it with water that has been sweetened by the addition of strong or coarse molasses. The older and stronger the molasses, to give it color, the better it will be.

The bran should be moistened with this sweetened water until it is made into a damp mass, just wet enough to stay in little heaps. A very small pinch of this placed at the base of each garden plant to protect it will be effective. The cut-worms will eat it in preference to the plant.

To protect corn it is advisable to drop a pinch in the corn row each week or two across the field, so that the worm will find this and eat it and let the corn remain. It would be better to put the poison out before the corn appears above ground and thus kill the worms early, than to let them remain untreated until after the corn is once cut off.

It is much better to put out the poison bran in the evening while it is damp, or on a damp day, so that it will not be dry when these pests come forth at night to seek their food. It will be found by them just about as readily if it is slightly covered with earth and for this reason, if it should become necessary to protect domestic fowls from it, one could cover it with loose earth at the time of application.

SUPPORTER FOR TREE LIMBS

Wire Contrivance Fastens Sagging Branch to One Above—Illustration Shows the Plan.

A contrivance for supporting limbs of trees that are either broken or sagging with their own weight or a heavy burden of fruit has been designed by a California man. Two iron hooks have slots at both ends and a hole at one end. One of the hooks is thrown over a sound upper limb, near the crotch, and the other is adjusted on the limb below that requires support. A piece of strong wire is then fastened to both hooks by means of the slots and perforations and pulled up till the sagging branch is in proper position. The wire is then twisted fast and there is no danger of its yielding or breaking, as rope has been known to do.

THE MYSTERY OF MAGIC

Germain Deserves His Name

An appeal to the imagination always meets with instant response. It takes us beyond the mere commonplace of life into the unknown and therefore fascinating. That is why a magician always exercises such attraction over old and young. They don't understand; nor do they want to. The more impossible the illusion in appearance the more pleasing it is to the would-be-deceived audience. The work of Germain the Wizard, who is to appear on the second day of the Chautauqua, is of the thoroughly inexplicable sort. Whether he produces a course dinner from a borrowed hat, reads the thoughts of his audience, or conducts a spirit séance, nothing can be explained. He himself asserts that all his feats are "experiments in sleight-of-hand, optical, and mechanical effects." But if anyone can tell by which particular effect, the deception is obtained that person will have gone far toward solving the mystery of Germain's performances.

THE TRIALS OF A TRAVELER.
"I am a traveling salesman," writes E. B. Young, E. Berkshire, Vt., "and was often troubled with constipation and indigestion till I began to use Dr. King's New Life Pills, which I have found an excellent remedy. 'For all stomach, liver or kidney troubles they are unequalled. Only 25c at all drug stores.'"

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

INDISCRIMINATE HASTE.

What do we gain by impatient zeal? Striving for immediate results in education seems to result either in narrower training or in the cramming of children with knowledge which is confusing and a hindrance to all normal development. In legislation it seems to result in leading us to trust to laws instead of educating the people in principles of life, and our haste in lawmaking is revenged upon us by reactions that leave us in worse condition than before. The practice of the law itself by bad methods, red tape, technicalities that defeat justice and inexcusable delays has a just deal to answer for, but if it were tenfold worse it could not excuse the teaching and example of lawlessness which attack courts and judges without restraint and which set on their own standards against them. This indiscriminate abuse of judges is too like the lynch law which defiles our country. Thus have enemies been aroused that will make adjustment almost impossible until education and religion can do better work or until revolution destroys and we begin all over the slow march upward. Such talk, not infrequent from our colleges, is but a step to anarchy and revolution. President Taylor of Vassar.

SOCIETY'S UPWARD COURSE.

Society in all its developments undergoes the process of evolution. These old forms which it successively throws off have all been once vitally united with it; have severally served as the protective envelopes within which a higher humanity was being evolved. They are cast aside only when they become hindrances, only when some inner and better envelope has been formed, and they bequeath to us all that there was in them good. The periodical abolitions of tyrannical laws left the administration of justice not only unimpaired, but purified. Dead and buried creeds have not carried with them the essential morality they contained, which still exists, uncontaminated by the sloughs of superstition. And all that there is of justice and kindness and beauty embodied in our numerous forms of etiquette will live perennially when the forms themselves have been forgotten.—Herbert Spencer.

Peter, Peter, Pumpkin-eater, had a wife who wouldn't work,
Every Monday morning, the washing she would shirk,
Till he bought Fels-Naptha and showed her how 'tis done,
With cool or lukewarm water—hard rub or boiling none,
Now she finds it easy and does it very well,
And he never needs to shut her, within the pumpkin shell.

Just as the capacity of automobiles is measured in horse-power, the cleaning value of Fels-Naptha Soap should be measured in woman-power.

Fels-Naptha Soap gets rid of more dirt in thirty minutes than three or four women in half a day.

You've often wished for an extra pair of hands on washday.

Fels-Naptha Soap is better than several pairs of hands.

Because Fels-Naptha Soap actually attacks the dirt and dissolves it.

No boiling is necessary; no hard rubbing.

You just wet the clothes, soap well with Fels-Naptha, put to soak, and think of something else.

At the end of thirty minutes you rub them lightly, rinse out and they're ready for the line. All this in cool or lukewarm water, mind you in Summer or Winter—no boiling, no hot suds.

For all uses of Fels-Naptha, follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.
Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine smells the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bad wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the diseases is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit of weak people's organs.
Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble,
and both need the same great remedy.
The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr.
Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address,
Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CHILD RUN OVER BY ENGINE IS NOT HURT

Falls Between the Rails From a Sled Which Is Demolished
by the Pilot.

Chicago.—When a switch engine on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad passed over the body of four-year-old Margery Johnson in East Chicago the other afternoon, Mary George, the little girl's nurse, who had been giving her charge
a ride on the sled when the accident occurred, faintly beside the tracks.
The nurse had just cleared the tracks, had felt the sled being struck from her grasp and caught a fleeting glimpse of the engine passing over the body of the child. When she returned to consciousness five minutes later she felt the soft pressure of two little hands on her cheeks and heard a child's voice whispering in her ear:
"Margery wants a ride."

She Felt the Sled Being Struck.

The little girl was uninjured. When the nurse had pulled the sled in order to clear the track ahead of the onrush-ing engine the child had fallen off, directly in the locomotive's path. Her small body, however, escaped the wheels and remained untouched by wheels and crossbeams during the quick passage of the engine. The sled, struck by the side of the engine, was demolished.
Just as the sled was on the tracks
the woman saw the black shadow of the approaching locomotive. The quick jerk she gave the rope to bring the little girl safely across the tracks instantly left the child directly between the rails.

TOWEL SEWED UP IN WOMAN

Remained in Patient Five Weeks Before Being Recovered by Another Operation.

New York.—A towel, a yard long and a foot wide, with a red border, was accidentally sewed up inside of Mrs. Mollie Myers when she was operated on in St. Vincent's hospital in November, 1905, according to an affirmation filed with the supreme court by Dr. Benjamin Friedman, formerly of this city, now living in Hungary. Mrs.
Myers held Dr. Herman J. Boldt, responsible and has sued him for damages.

He Recovered the Towel.

Doctor Friedman asserts that when he recovered the towel, after it had remained five weeks inside Mrs. Myers it bore the label "St. Vincent's hospital."

"A few days later," alleges Doctor Friedman, "I met Doctor Boldt, who told me that he had sent the towel to the New York County Medical association as a curiosity, indicating the great vitality of the patient. Mrs. Myers told me she was going to sue Doctor Boldt, and I told him of this. He said he was insured against such accidents and that he did not care."

POULTRY

Youngsters Must Be Protected From Excessive Heat and Dampness, Says Government Bulletin.

FIGHT ON TURKEY PARASITES

No kind of young poultry is so susceptible to the effects of unfavorable conditions as the young turkey. They must be carefully protected from the attacks of parasites, and from excessive heat and dampness, says a government bulletin, until they have gained sufficient strength and size to wander away with the parent turkeys and care for themselves on the range.

The chief danger from lice and mites attacks to the poults is directly after the poults are hatched, but the best remedy is to deal with the lice before the young are hatched.
The plumage of the hen should be dusted with insect powder, and close down to the skin from head to neck joint, being careful not to get it into the eyes. This should be done at least twice a week until two or three days before hatching.

The most careful attention should be given to this. Never use lime or sulphur for this purpose. Nothing is better than some insect powder, if it does not contain ingredients that are injurious to the eyes.
It may often occur, however, that the hen will not have been properly treated, and also the lice and mites will be found on the young, and in order that the poults may live and thrive, they must be freed of these enemies. As soon as the young are ready to leave the nest they must be examined carefully for lice, which may be on the top of the head, under the throat or about the wings or vent. Some of them are gray in color and difficult to see.

They may be destroyed by the use of sweet oil, rubbing a small amount upon the head and throat; insect powder is sufficient for the other parts of the body. It is very important that only a small amount of the sweet oil be used, as too much is injurious.
Kerosene should never be used to destroy parasites.

ODD WAY FOR DATING EGGS

Rubber Stamp Held in Place in Palm of Hand Performs the Operation—Type Removable.

A Minnesota man has patented an ingenious device for putting the date on eggs. It consists of a rubber stamp of removable type which fits

Dating Eggs

into apertures in the palm of a glove-like cover which is strapped around palm of the hand. As each egg is picked out of the nest the date is imprinted upon it, and there is no need of going all over the day's crop to see that they have been collected. The type, of course, is inked from time to time.

Remedy for Diarrhoea.
When simple remedies fail to correct diarrhoea in birds, give the following: Subdivide of blameth, one to three grains twice each day, or pulverized cinnamon bark, two grains twice each day. The soft feed given the bird should be dry or as nearly dry as possible. In case the trouble is checked too promptly, give from 20 to 30 grains of salts in a tablespoonful of water. One or two grains of calomel in soft water is also a good corrective.

POULTRY NOTES

Feed dry, feeds—no mash.
For the first feeds use plenty of dry oatmeal.

Now is the best time to try your breeding stock.
Chills, wet food and lack of sunlight are the main causes of bowel trouble in chicks.

Where the dropping boards are made of matched lumber the job of cleaning them is easier.

This is a good time to put a square of tar paper in the bottom of each nest box for the benefit of lice.
If a new poultry house is to be built this spring see if there isn't a ready spot handy on which to locate it.

If all the chickens and full-grown hens run together, the stronger chickens will get most of the feed and keep the others poor.

In operating brooders remember that uniform heat should always be maintained. It is better to have a little too much heat than too little.

PUBLIC SALE

OF A VALUABLE

NEAR SNOW HILL, MD.

THE LARGEST AND MOST VALU- ABLE TRACT OF TIMBER IN WORCESTER CO.

The undersigned, as owner, will offer at public sale, to the highest bidder at the Court House Door in the town of Snow Hill, Md., at 2:30 o'clock P. M., on Tuesday, August 20th, 1912

all that valuable PINE TIMBER now growing on the farm occupied by the undersigned, of the dimensions of ten inches and over at the ground, excepting a small tract of young timber in a branch up to a line of marked trees, which will be shown to prospective purchasers before the day of sale.

is of exceptionally fine quality, large OLD GROWTH, and a large quantity of it is high grade KEMANT PINE. It is estimated that this tract will yield about

of choice lumber. This is such a beautiful and valuable tract of timber that the Forestry surveyors of the United States Government made photographs of it to exhibit as an evidence that there existed so near the cities of the East such a magnificent body of timber that the mere recital of its qualities might be questioned, therefore large photographs were made, which were convincing proofs. This timber is situated eight miles from Snow Hill, one mile from the Potomac River, and five miles from a railroad station. The purchaser will be allowed five years to operate and remove timber, with mill privileges.

TERMS OF SALE

One-third cash will be required at sale, one third of the balance in six months, and the remainder payable in twelve months from day of sale, or all cash, at the option of the purchaser; the deferred payments to bear interest from day of sale, and to be secured to the satisfaction of my attorney, William F. Johnson, Snow Hill, Md.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For President of the United States:
WOODROW WILSON,
of New Jersey.

For Vice-President of United States:
THOMAS R. MARSHALL, of Indiana.

For Representative in the Sixty-third Congress, First Congressional District:
J. HARRY COVINGTON,
of Talbot County.

WILSON'S ACCEPTANCE.

The speech made by Woodrow Wilson this week on accepting the Democratic nomination is a clean cut exposition of his stand on many of the questions which are today engrossing the minds of the American people. Couched in language, plain and simple enough to be understood by all classes, it will prove a great document to place before the thinking American people.

There is no dodging or hedging on a single issue but a plain, frank, straightforward stand taken, but not in a way to arouse the alarm of those who own that things are wrong but fear the correction of the evils will be so sudden as to sweep all away together. Wrong must be righted; but this re-adjustment must come by degrees, and not too many at a time in order that the Country may be able to re-adjust itself in accordance with a new and right line of action.

On the Tariff, Mr. Wilson is more explicit than upon any other issue, and advocates a tariff for revenue only, but believes in a gradual but sure downward revision. Those products which have been used by monopolies and trusts to be boosted up in price are the first which should have attention and they should be put on such a basis as to guarantee that the manufacturers shall have no special advantage given them by the Government, in the way of a special tax.

Mr. Wilson shows that he is in touch with the wave of National Morale awakening which is sweeping this Country from end to end, and makes it plain that he will do everything in his power to correct the abuses which have crept into our political and business life.

"The Rule of Right and Common Sense" will be one of the slogans of the coming campaign, and the confidence of the people in the sincerity of the man fighting under its banner will give it an added significance in the minds of thousands of voters, and carry Mr. Wilson to the White House where we believe his administration will be in every respect a notable one and mark the return of the people back to their rights, and place special interests and protected monopolies where they will not have a share of our government in forcing up prices.

Mr. Wilson makes it clear that he does not believe in the elimination of big business, but that these big business interests should not have it in their power to hold the destinies of the people in their hands. Big business is here and here to stay, and we want to interfere with a legitimate business of any size, but we should not be interfered with.

To Give A Suit Away.

Kennedy and Mitchell will occupy one of the booths in the Grand Stand Building this year as has been their custom for several years. This booth will contain a fine display of men's Wearing Apparel, and among them will be a suit of many colors, in which a guessing contest is to be held. The one guessing the nearest number of stripes in the suit will be presented with a suit of clothes valued at $50. Everybody can have a chance, on this suit, which will cost the owner of many colors.

County Commissioners.

The County Commissioners in session Tuesday, ordered a railroad to be published in the Bear Swamp.

The Board ordered the Powellville-Bear Swamp Road, to be located and repaired. The Board ordered a railroad to be published in the Bear Swamp.

Grand Army Post Formed.

A number of old soldiers who served during the war of 1861-65, met at Parsons Opera House Saturday, August 3, 1918 and organized a Post of the Grand Army of the Republic. There was an enrollment of about twenty five members. The name of the Post will be known as the John P. Owens Post. Among the charter members are: Lieut. Thomas Lavery, William Hill, Jas. Calloway, Josephus Smith, G. G. Hancock, W. J. Windsor, Maj. M. O. Brittain, Benjamin Davis, L. J. Wilkins, Philip Hudson, D. H. Sutherland, L. P. O'Casey, Zephia Pusey and Noah Jenkins.

The following officers were selected, Commander, Thomas Lavery, Senior Vice, D. H. Sutherland, Junior Vice, M. O. Brittain, Adjutant, L. P. O'Casey, Quarter Master, Benjamin Davis, Officer of the Day, W. J. Hancock, Chaplain, M. J. Hardesty, Surgeon, W. J. Windsor, Inside Guard, H. D. Spence.

It is requested that those veterans in this community who have not enlisted in this Post communicate with the Commander or the Adjutant, who will explain to them the benefits and purposes of this organization. All old soldiers and sailors are cordially invited to attend the meeting that is to be held at Parsons Opera House August 10, 1918 at 8 o'clock, p. m.

THE GREAT SALISBURY FAIR!

AEROPLANE, HIPPODROME, SENSATIONAL AERIAL ACTS, TROTTERING, PACING AND RUNNING EVENTS

Aug. 13, 14, 15, 16, 1912

ADMISSION PRICES Last year we inaugurated a plan of charging 50 cents on Wednesday and Thursday. This was done in order that we might be able to give to the people amusements which would be impossible at the old admission prices. Believing that those attending were satisfied with the program given, we have decided to continue this plan, and have arranged a program this year which in every respect we believe to be equal, if not superior, to the one given last year. We are spending a large amount of money for free attractions, and believe that all will be satisfied with the entertainment offered.

SEASON TICKETS In order that those who attend the Fair every day may do so without too great an expense, the Association has arranged for Season Tickets. These will be sold for $1.00 each and will be good for one admission each day of the Fair. Same can be had by applying to the Secretary, Salisbury, Md.

GRANDSTAND Grandstand tickets will be sold at 25 cents each day of the Fair.

Aeroplane Flights

A great many saw the Aeroplane Flights at our Fair last year. They know that they were a success. For those who have never seen them, as well as for those who wish again to see this great exhibition, we have arranged with the Curtiss Company for flights on the ground each day of the Fair. REMEMBER, WE DELIVER THE GOODS—NO FAKES HERE—THE FLIGHTS WILL TAKE PLACE.

Hippodrome Races

Arrangements have been made for the Hutton's Hippodrome to give daily exhibits on the track during the Fair. This is one of the best Hippodrome Races obtainable. It carries from 12 to 15 spirited horses and able riders and drivers. CHARIOT RACES, RUNNING RACES, HIGH JUMPING WITH THE HORSES, AND OTHER EXCITING EVENTS GIVEN DAILY.

Aerial Feature

The famous Marion Family, consisting of four gentlemen and three ladies, have been engaged to give daily exhibits. This act is claimed to be the biggest aerial stunt in America. Wonderful Gymnastic features are performed by the actors on a rigging suspended thirty feet in the air. This is the first real big aerial performance ever given by any Fair in this section of the country, and should prove interesting and amusing to all. Consists of Single, Twisting, One and A-Half, and a Double Somersault to Catch and Return, Aerial Casting, Dives and a Triple Somersault to Net. A REAL THRILLER.

Trotting and Pacing

The usual good sport in our Trotting and Pacing events will be found on the track this year. Good horses are expected and fine racing assured.

Music

A good Band will be on the Grounds and furnish music during the day and night.

Other Attractions

We have not the time nor space to outline the many interesting and amusing attractions which will be found on our Grounds this year, but the people can rest assured that everything that goes to make a Fair will be found here. A GOOD SHOW, WELL WORTH A DOLLAR.

Notice to Exhibitors The Salisbury Fair is looking for a good line of exhibits in every department. If you have anything, send it to us. WRITE FOR ENTRY BLANKS AND BE SURE TO MAKE YOUR ENTRIES EARLY.

Mrs. Ellen Gillis.

The funeral of Mrs. Ellen Gillis, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Quantico who died at her home last Monday morning, August the 5th, at the age of nearly seventy nine years, took place Tuesday afternoon at four thirty o'clock. The services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. M. P. VanBlunk, of the Quantico M. E. Church, of which she had been a member for more than forty years. Her case was a remarkable one from the fact that she conducted the affairs of the household up to within a few days of her death.

She was the mother of nine children of which four survive. They are as follows: Mrs. N. P. Dashiell, Miss Fannie M. Charles E., and Ex-Sheriff William Gillis. Interment was in the town cemetery.

DON'T BE AN IMITATOR—ORIGINALITY WILL WIN

By BERT M. MOSES,

President Association of American Advertisers.

Roughly speaking, I should say that more than half those who fail do so because they try to imitate somebody who has succeeded, and this is particularly true in advertising.

Just the minute the word goes along the line that a man has succeeded in some advertising plan, that minute a dozen or a hundred imitators spring up.

They try to copy his plans, and imitate his packages, his advertisements, and his procedure generally.

They do not seem to understand that success is not so much a matter of plan, or of copy, or of medium, as it is a matter of personality, and sometimes even a matter of chance.

It is not given to the human family to look into the future far enough to see what the public is going to do, because the public is the most fickle thing on this earth.

A man who comes along and promotes something that the public "takes to" is heralded as a "wise guy," or a man with wonderful intuitive prophecies.

If he promotes something that the public rejects he is set down as a fool, sometimes preceded by an adjective.

I am willing to admit that one man can do a whole lot more than another, but I will not admit that any living human being can say in advance what any certain line of advertising of any certain article is going to surely do. We must simply take our chances with the rest, and follow the three or four set rules in advertising which are so broad and general that they can be said to apply not only to advertising, but to every human endeavor.

One of these rules is that permanent success comes only from truth telling.

It comes only when promoting an article of merit for which there is or can be a widespread use.

It comes only when promoted by a man who believes in the article, and who takes a pride in keeping up its quality and in dominating the field.

It comes only by adopting forms of advertising which reach the most people at the least cost, chiefest of which is the evening newspaper.

It must be advertising that creates a favorable impression and stimulates a desire to buy.

It doesn't make any difference whether the field is apparently all ready fully taken up with articles of a competing nature.

It doesn't make any difference whether somebody else has tried practically the same thing and failed.

It doesn't make any difference whether everybody says such a thing is impractical or not.

If the right man comes along at the right time with the right article, and does the right sort of advertising, he is going to win out in spite of heads, high water, and court injunctions.

Saw Nothing of Value in Pearl. When the army of Gaius sacked the camp of the routed Persians a bag of shining leather filled with pearls fell into the hands of a private soldier, but the latter, while carefully preserving the bag, threw away its contents under the impression that anything that could not be used for useful purposes had no other value.

Pennsylvania Tobacco. Pennsylvania tobacco fields yield 1,100 pounds to the acre, not the top of the list of the states by any means.

Flying Men Fall victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles just like other people, with like results in loss of appetite, backache, nervousness, headache, and tired, listless, run down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that as T. D. Peabody, Henry, Tenn., proved. "Six bottles of Electric Bitters," he writes, "did more to give me new strength and good appetite than all other stomach remedies I used." So they help everybody. Its folly to suffer when this great remedy will help you from the first dose. Try it. Only 50 cents at all drug stores.

The Largest Carriage, Wagon and Harness Dealer in the State of Maryland

New styles for 1912, they are exclusive, no other dealer can get them only through J. T. Taylor, Jr., as I am the general agent for the manufacturers who produce the new styles which other manufacturers copy, and are always one year behind the styles.

I have in Stock For Your Selection

The Largest Surrey made in the U. S. for one horse.

The Lightest Runabout with 4 styles axles.

The Lightest Novelty Wrenn Buggy with 4 styles axles.

The Lightest Speed Cart on the market.

All of the above goods are bought in car load lots

My Farm Wagons cannot be equaled for ten dollars ($10.00) more. We don't only guarantee our steel axles, but we guarantee every part of the wagon. Our rims are deeper, our spokes and hubs are larger. Look them over. Don't be deceived by paint and putty.

Yes, I keep the price down. I have no one to divide my profit with but my customer.

I am selling more buggies, runabouts, wagons, and harness this year than ever before.

I have the largest stock you ever saw.

My sales last year were over One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00). I'll build you a buggy to order at the same price you pay for the ones you have forced on you by other dealers. You have been paying too much; come see for yourself.

Performer Badly Injured.

At the opening of Wisconsin county Fair here Tuesday, in the midst of the performance of the Staron family in front of the grand stand and before two thousand spectators, Miss Emma Stark fell from a high trapeze through the net to the ground. It was thought for some time she was dead, but after a while she was revived.

World's Record Broken.

The world's record for a two-year old trotter on a half mile track was broken Tuesday, when Billy Tison crossed the mile in 2:15 and one quarter on the Wisconsin Fair Association track. The record was previously held by Fly Ball, made in 1911, his time being 2:15 and three quarters.

James E. Dickerson.

The many friends of Mr. James E. Dickerson, one of the best known citizens of Worcester County, were shocked to learn of his death at his home in Piney Grove on Tuesday morning of this week. Mr. Dickerson had been in poor health for some time.

His trouble had been diagnosed at John Hopkins Hospital as cancer of the stomach. Mr. Dickerson was sixty years of age last January. He was a big land owner in his County and a man of considerable means. His holdings at home and in Indian Town embraced more than 3000 acres of land, much of which is covered with growing timber, as well as valuable stillage land.

Mr. Dickerson during his life, in addition to his farming operations, was engaged in the mercantile business and operated in timber. He owned an estate estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000. He was a member of the Methodist Protestant Church and active in its work. He is survived by his widow and the following children: Messrs. Charles and Willie O. Dickerson, of Indian Town, Mr. James E. Dickerson, who made his home with his father; Mrs. Elmer Goffrey, of Indian Town, and Grace, aged ten. He is also survived by his stepmother, Mrs. James M. Dickerson, and the following brothers and sisters: Mr. U. W. Dickerson, of Salisbury; Mrs. Jno. H. Shockley, of Millville; Mrs. J. J. Garrison, of Snow Hill; Mrs. E. W. Purdie, of Piney Grove, and Mrs. Henry Carter, of Snow Hill.

The funeral services were held in the Methodist Protestant Church at Mt. Olive, and the remains interred in the cemetery at that place.

Accident On Railroad.

Mrs. William L. Parnell of Berlin, narrowly escaped being run over by the cars Tuesday morning. She was leading her cow to pasture, with the rope wound around her wrist, and started over the railroad at the William Street crossing, near her home, when the cow became frightened at the approaching Baltimore Express on the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Annapolis Railway, and dashed along the track in front of the train, dragging Mrs. Parnell with her. The cow was killed, but Mrs. Parnell, was fortunately knocked from the track, comparatively uninjured.

M. P. Excursion.

The Sunday School of Bethesda Methodist Protestant Church, of this city, will have its annual excursion to Ocean City on Tuesday next, August 20th. Passengers can leave Salisbury on the nine twenty four or the ten forty train, and can return on the six afternoon train, arriving at Salisbury at about six twenty; or they can remain until the ten thirty evening train. This will give a long day at the seashore.

PRISONERS WANT RElease—Matthews Writes To Salisbury Where He Was Confinement.

To the People of Salisbury and Vicinity: Having served a sentence equivalent to a seven year term, James Matthews and myself through our attorney, Elmer H. Walton, Esq., are seeking executive clemency, and in support of that I make this statement, trusting it may induce the people of Salisbury to help us.

In the year of 1903, James Matthews, Frank Smith, Robert Taylor and myself were charged with attempting to rob the B. O. and A. R. R. Station, and at the September term of Court Salisbury were convicted and sentenced with one John Avery, who pleaded guilty, to serve fifteen years each in the Penitentiary.

We make this appeal to the people of Salisbury on the ground that our sentence is excessive, and state that should a pardon be refused us, we intend to ask for a commutation of our sentence. Unfortunates that many may give us their aid and wishing to assist as many more as possible in support of our effort, I ask the facts known in our case be analyzed as to their tendency to prove that the sentence is excessive, in which case it will be only reasonable that a great many of the people will believe that justice could be satisfied when a part of the full sentence does acquiesce with the crime committed. In asking consideration of the evidence on which we were convicted, I wish to have it judged, as to whether the desire, in imposing the heavy sentence of fifteen years was to commensurate with the crime committed or to set an example? To me, it is the latter. And the crime committed was considered as to the extent of damage done or the loss of property sustained, I am sure much lighter sentence would have been imposed.

Do you realize that when all five sentences together are considered as a whole, they amount to seventy five years? I ask this question with but one intent and that is to call attention to the fact that the instance where seventy five years have been meted out for an attempt to commit a single robbery, is very rare indeed in the history of the Courts in Maryland.

When I read where two thirds and sometimes even less than fifteen years have been imposed for crimes far more grievous than the one on which our conviction was based and which crime was committed have either resulted in greater loss of property or the death of a human life, or sometimes where a woman has been subjected to a heinous crime, can you blame me for thinking our sentence excessive?

Do you think that attempting to blow open a safe is a railroad depot, is looked at with the same horror or is as damnable a crime, as the taking of a human life or the ravishment of a woman? Some may say that it is the principle of the thing for which we now suffer, not the crime itself. That is a sophistry. You would not think for sending a man to prison for fifteen years for stealing food, when he either had to do it or starve would you? Yet the rationale is the same whether a man steals from necessity or for gain. No crime is punished by prison, not the principle, and that is as it should be.

In what I have stated above, my sole intention is to make clear the fact that our sentence is excessive, therefore, I do not wish any of those who may read it to misconstrue my meaning and think I am defending the crime for which we stand convicted, nor realizing that punishment must be given to crime a deterrent effect.

I am not only unfortunate in being confined in the Penitentiary but I am afflicted in being subjected to Mrs. All my life I have suffered from them and must continue to. From my birth until I was six years old, they were very mild of action, then I had the typhoid fever with an accident. My skull was fractured from a fall and from then on they became more active. I tell you this, so it can be fully understood, how much my freedom will mean to me.

I desire an opportunity to say for something better than my present surroundings can afford, and as I have been promised a pardon should the Governor act favorably on our petition, I am anxious to be free, that I may go to it, and from it, rise to a place from where I can forget, as much as possible this period of my life, by earnestly endeavoring to do good.

When it becomes generally known that our sentence is excessive, the sense of justice and the generosity of the people in Salisbury, I am sure, may cause them to help us secure our freedom. I bespeak the good wishes of them all and state that our gratitude will be extremely great for whatever they may see fit to do in our behalf. Respectfully submitted,
James Matthews.

THE PEOPLE'S CAUSE

Assailed By Woodrow Wilson—Let All Contribute To His Election.

August 16th, 1912.
Editor:—I am indeed new times and with new times there have come new expectations and new ways of doing things. This is all especially true of government and the relation that the Press of the Nation has to public affairs.

It was Dr. Wilson, President of Princeton University, Democratic Nominee for Governor of New Jersey, who coined the term, "People's Policy." It was Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, who made that term a vital and living word until today it has become the watchword of the Press and the people.

Governor Wilson has called upon the Press of New Jersey to aid him in every battle he has matched against the entrenched Political Bosses in their partnership with big business. Governor Wilson has won every battle against the enemies of the people and their Government in New Jersey, because the Press of New Jersey—not only the Democratic and Independent Press, but a large majority of the Republican newspapers—have enlisted in this fight.

Always holding the Press in the highest esteem, Governor Wilson recognizes it as the most potent factor in the great contest now going on where the people are trying to regain control of the Government.

Governor Wilson takes the position that it is as much the duty of the people to own the Party machinery as it is the Government machinery; for this is a Government of parties, and the Government can therefore, be better than the political party in power. Neither can the Party be any better than the influence which it is in power and keep it in power. In the past these influences have been corporations and individuals seeking special privileges from the Government. Naturally they have in turn owned the Government and exacted from the Government Officials heavy tribute in return for having financed the campaign that gave these Officials their positions of power.

Governor Wilson wants nothing and will have nothing of this sort. He wants the people to own the Party, which means they will own the Government.

Therefore, he wants the Campaign Expenses incurred in making him President of the United States and in turning the Government over to the Democratic Party, to be contributed according to each one's ability—by the millions of citizens who ought to own the Government and in whose interest the Government ought, and must be administered.

Governor Wilson asks the cooperation of the Press of the Nation. The method adopted for the Press is to open its columns in appeals for popular subscriptions from the readers of the newspapers of the country.

As a Brother Publisher in charge of the Newspaper Fund Bureau, I appeal to you to help us.

Very truly yours,
Robert Ewing,
Chairman Newspaper Fund Bureau.

DEATH OF MRS. SHOCKLEY

Member of Mr. P. S. Shockley, of Salisbury, Passed Away.

Mrs. Julia Shockley, widow of the late John Shockley, died at her home in Snow Hill, after a very brief illness last Monday evening. Mrs. Shockley was in her eightieth year and had been enjoying comparatively good health; in fact, her condition was such that her sons, Mr. Peter S. Shockley, of Salisbury, and Lieutenant Shockley, of Annapolis, who were visiting her last week, with the conviction that she was almost in perfect health.

Mrs. Shockley was a daughter of the late Joshua Tilghman, of Wisconsin County, who resided between here and Salisbury. She is survived by three children, two sons and one daughter. They are Peter S. Shockley, of Salisbury; Joshua S. Shockley, of Baltimore; and Mrs. Parnell M. Fooks. Mrs. Fooks resided with her mother. Mrs. Shockley was a generous, kind-hearted woman, whose chief delight was to do little acts of kindness for those near and dear to her. She was very fond of her children.

The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased Wednesday afternoon, after which her remains were buried in the Old School Baptist Churchyard.—Snow Hill Messenger.

ANDERSON-PRIKE QUEST

See—And Selma Loomis's Investigation Sends to His Book.

Baltimore, Md., August 16th, 1912.
Hon. James D. Priece,
Pres. Maryland State Senate,
Salisbury, Maryland.
Dear Sir:—I am glad to see from your letter of yesterday that I have at last been successful in compelling you to recognize that this is one issue you cannot dodge.

The personalities in your letter I am sorry to see. Having undertaken to help the temperance people of the State break the domination of the unscrupulous Preston—Mallon City Liquor Ring and those county politicians who work with it, I am disappointed and discouraged to find that you feel somewhat perturbed about it.

I understand, though not entirely sure about it, your letter to agree upon every point except that you demand an election in sub-rebels after my rebuttal speech. I am fully aware of the purpose for which this is put in. Nevertheless I refuse to agree to it. If I could be stampeded or coerced by clamor I would not be in this sort of work at all. I am quite content to let my record speak on the question of whether I am afraid to carry through anything I undertake.

My reason for refusal is simple and easily understood. The original challenge for amendment was made by your effort in the Senate to change your Local Option record by a personal attack on me. We would not go anywhere by giving you a chance to do the same thing over again. If I should be all that you seem to feel, what has that to do with the question of whether the people of Baltimore shall have the right to vote on the liquor question? I shall not consent to anything that will let you get away from what you did on that question.

Your letter betrays your own recognition of the unpopularity of your contention, for you say that you will be present to speak anyhow, whether I agree to your demand or not. If my refusal will not deprive the people of your presence, why should I concede you more than your right?

You say I have insulted the Senate and yet I have told you that while I could prove, you will know that I had made any false statements against you or any other member of the Senate would have been made available for legal proceedings against me. I realize that the Senate is the most important body in the State and that it is the duty of every citizen to be present at its sessions. I shall not fail to be there when I am asked to be there.

You say that you recognize the worth and sincerity of the people's cause of this movement. Our would kindly have passed it from your position relative to our friendly efforts, years before the close of the session, to give you from just this kind of a concession, even though you might not have been able to do so.

You charge me in effect, with being unwilling to let the Senate decide the question of the amendment to the Constitution. I am sorry to hear that you are so prejudiced. I am sure that the Senate will decide the question of the amendment to the Constitution.

The best evidence of your prejudice will be for you to continue your prejudice, who is trying to help you to keep the Senate from deciding the question of the amendment to the Constitution. I am sure that the Senate will decide the question of the amendment to the Constitution.

Expecting to meet you on Saturday the 24th, I am,
Yours respectfully,
William H. Anderson,
Representative.

WILSON'S SPEECH HIGHLY PRAISED

Press and Public Men Join in Chorus of Approval.

DISCREET, ABLE, SAFE, SANE.

"Will Impress the Country Favorably," Declares William Jennings Bryan. "Admirable Pronouncement," Says Champ Clark. "Appeals Strongly to Every Legitimate Business Interest," Declares John W. Kern.

An Admirable Speech. Hon. William J. Bryan. "Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is admirable. It is original in its treatment of the issues of the campaign. I am sure the address will impress the country favorably."

Appeals Strongly to Every Legitimate Business Interest. John W. Kern, Senator from Indiana. "Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is a masterpiece, setting forth with great clearness his conception of the work to be accomplished by the Democratic party under his leadership. It is in complete harmony with the progressive sentiment of the country, but also appeals strongly to every legitimate business interest."

Will Take High Rank. Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of Representatives. "Considered from a literary standpoint, Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance will take high rank in the political output of the year. It will make pleasant reading and therefore will prove a fetching campaign document. He discusses the issues of the day philosophically, clearly and forcibly. Its courteous tone will ally opposition and win him friends. It is an admirable pronouncement."

Battle Hymn of Democracy. Senator Gore of Oklahoma. "The closing sentence of his speech will become the battle hymn of Democracy in the pending campaign. I thank God and take courage. It is at once a poem of praise and a summons of patriotic duty."

Discreet, Able, Safe and Sane. John E. Lamb, ex-Representative from Indiana. "Speech is discreet, able, safe and sane. Governor Wilson believes in the efficacy of the scalpel rather than the big stick. His discussion of trust and tariff evils is unique and convincing. His suggestions of reform in methods of government and reduction of tariff schedules will meet with approval of legitimate business and the laboring masses as well."

Points the Way for Justice. Hoke Smith, Senator from Georgia. "I am delighted with Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance. It is a superb statement of the present purpose of the Democracy and points the way for justice to all through real progress by law under the constitution. With his election assured, it should give confidence to honest business and new courage to those who need a square deal."

Lays His Soul Bare. John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor of Boston. "Governor Wilson's acceptance is characteristic of the man. He lays his soul bare to the people and asks them to join with him, irrespective of party, in righting present wrongs without undue clamor or injury to legitimate interests. He lays emphasis on constructive thinking and I believe this epitomizes one of the nation's greatest needs at the present time. It will be President Wilson overwhelmingly in November."

Progressive, but Not Wild. Thomas Mott Osborne, Auburn, N. Y. "Governor Wilson's speech fits the occasion and the man—progressive, but not wild; sane, strong and unambiguously Democratic. It makes an inspiring opening of the campaign, indicating clearly and nobly the spirit in which the leaders of our regenerated Democratic party must work; not one of mere partisan make believe, but of honesty and justice toward all men."

Prophetic of Success. Governor William H. Mann of Virginia. "I think it was an admirable speech. It was wise, conservative, comprehensive; prophetic not only of Democratic success, but of Democratic supremacy for years to come."

Rings True in Every Sentence. Governor Frederick W. Plafie of Maine. "It is a splendid presentation of the issues for the American people. It rings true in every sentence and in every word. It represents the spirit of the Democracy of today. It is the address of a statesman."

An Admirable Presentation. Governor Eugene Foss, Massachusetts. "It was an admirable presentation."

REVISE TARIFF UNHEEDINGLY DOWNWARD.

There should be an immediate revision of the tariff, and it should be downward, unhesitatingly and steadily downward. From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

THE LONE PRAMIE

Music of The Steers

A few years ago Walter Bentley Ball was spending a week-end or so with a friend down in the "Pan-Handle" of Texas. All unaccustomed to the ways and manners of the Western cow and cowboy, he was, we will say startled, one evening by a yell which sounded like a whole tribe of Apaches on the war path.

From the middle of a great cloud of dust it came, and through the dust he presently saw a herd of steers driven by a dozen cow-punchers singing at a pitch that was almost a yell, the strangest song Mr. Ball had ever heard.

Eager inquiry brought out the information that this song, "The Lone Prairie," was, in a way, a lullaby for the steers, as it quieted their nerves, and greatly aided the cowboys in their task of bringing the herd home to the corral.

This very unique song will be sung by Mr. Ball at the Chautauqua in our town this fall.

A STOIC'S CONSOLATION.

'Tis a great comfort that we are only condemned to the same fate with the universe. The heavens themselves are mortal as well as our bodies. Nature has made us passive, and to suffer is our lot. While we are in flesh every man has his chain and his clog, only it is looser and lighter to one man than another, and he is more at ease that takes it up and carries it than he that drags it. We are born to lose and to perish, to hope and to fear, to vex ourselves and others, and there is no antidote against a common calamity but virtue, for the foundation of true joy is in the conscience.—Seneca.

RESPONSIBILITY OF EDUCATION.

Do not be complacent in the security of a narrow minded prejudice which places exclusive stress upon the material values and thereby starves the soul. This is not a world in which you are merely to seek fortune, pursue pleasure or endeavor to achieve name and fame. There are two factors which combine to determine your responsibility, the world's need on the one hand and your ability to meet it on the other. One of the most significant results of your education is to give you a more vivid and real sense of the need and at the same time to increase your powers of ministering to it. Whether your life is a success or failure will be determined solely by the set of responsibilities which you recognize as supreme and which you heartily endeavor to discharge. Circumstances will not make you, nor will they unmake you, but solely the burden of obligation which you are brave enough to shoulder.—President Hihen of Princeton.

THE WANDERING KNIGHT'S SONG.

My ornaments are arms.
My pastime is in war.
My bed is cold upon the wold.
My lamp yon star.

My journeyings are long.
My steed is short and broken.
From hill to hill I wander still,
Kissling thy token.

I ride from land to land.
I sail from sea to sea.
Some day more kind I fate may find.
Some night kha thee.

—Lockhart.

The Trials Of A Traveler.

"I am a traveling salesman," writes E. E. Young, E. Berkshire, Vt., "and was often troubled with constipation and indigestion till I began to use Dr. King's New Life Pills, which I have found an excellent remedy. 'For all stomach, liver or kidney troubles they are unequalled. Only 25 cents at all drug stores."

Anty Drudge—"You poor unfortunate victim of the old-time washday habit! Why won't you wash in the Fels-Naptha way, and strike off the chains that bind you to the steaming washboiler and the all-day hard rub-rub on the washboard?"

If you really believed what we say about Fels-Naptha you would use it, wouldn't you?

But you think that it's too easy—impossible.

Many men are wealthy to-day because the majority thought the same thing about the telephone.

To you boiling seems necessary to thorough cleansing.

With soaps of the old sort it is.

The clothes must be boiled in order to get the dirt out by rubbing.

Incidentally much of it gets rubbed in.

Fels-Naptha separates the dirt from the fabric in cool or lukewarm water.

Once separated it is easily rinsed away.

But you must remember that Fels-Naptha is made to be used in cool or lukewarm water, summer or winter.

WILSON STRENGTH GROWING.
A few days after the nomination of Mr. Wilson in Baltimore, a great wave of enthusiasm swept over the country, as has been the case in a number of previous nominations. Close observers desired to wait a while before risking any guess as to the real value of this sentiment, recognizing that often the way in which a thing is done is mistaken for the real sentiment in favor of the man himself. But to those there has not appeared the usual reaction and Mr. Wilson is apparently much stronger today than on the day of his nomination. Progressive and conservatives alike are praising and pledging to him their support.

His speech of acceptance was a masterpiece and the more it is studied the more strongly does it appeal to the sober common sense of the people. Legitimate business has nothing to fear from Mr. Wilson, nor is he in any sense a "standpatter." A progressive along good, safe, sane and conservative lines would be a fair characterization of his speech of acceptance. Business has not shown any signs of being uneasy although the feeling is now and one half to one in favor of his election. Even the big Republican papers can find little fault with his utterances, and The New York Herald is an editorial has expressed its opinion that the country would be entirely safe if he should be elected.

Under a very great change in conditions should take place Mr. Wilson will win the election, with one of the most popular votes and electoral votes for a President for a number of years. His plan of collecting campaign expenses in little sums from the people themselves is appealing to the country, as in this way he will not be under any obligation to any one but the people themselves.

PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN.
All villages with Mr. Wilson that he ought to own their own campaign machinery and let the best men do that is to see that their money is put under great financial obligation to the big corporations by the necessity of calling upon them for financial help. It takes money to run a campaign and some one has to pay for it, let the people by giving and saving as they feel able to contribute to help along, and then the money can go into power with no obligations made and under no obligation to any, except the one owed to the people themselves. The SALISBURY ADVERTISER will be glad to accept any contributions the people in this country feel like giving and will make the money over to the proper person. Every contribution received will be acknowledged.

Our Star County Somerset has already raised $500 and this sum will be greatly increased before the campaign is over. Good year contributions to be plainly marked with name and address. Anything from $1 up to $1000 is received.

Remember column of this week's issue publish a letter received by Mr. Robert Ewing, of the Somerset Press Bureau, which will tell the reasons why this method of raising campaign funds is adopted. It is a good plan, and it is always in the hands of the people. It is a good plan, and it is always in the hands of the people. It is a good plan, and it is always in the hands of the people.

ICE PLANT
The Orisfield Ice and Cold Storage Company's plant and large house, valued at $50,000, was destroyed by fire early Thursday morning. The engineer at the plant says the fire started from an oil tank, which is used for fuel to run the electric light plant. When the tank exploded, burning oil was thrown to all parts of the building and the huge plant was soon ablaze.

So rapidly did the flames spread that the men in the fire room used their escape with difficulty. A lightning which had fallen previously on the pump work of the Orisfield Ice Department prevented the spreading of the fire to the surrounding buildings. The schooner, North Carolina, Captain Charles Bradshaw, loaded with coal, lying at the ice plant dock, was saved after hard work by power boats.

Clarence Wright, colored, of Roseton, Virginia, a deckhand on the schooner, had his thigh broken and was otherwise injured when the schooner fell upon him. The injured man was removed to the accident ward of the General Marine Hospital in Orisfield.

The company places the damage at about $50,000, of which about $40,000 is covered by insurance.

As the ice plant also owned and operated the electric light plant which supplied that city with electricity, Orisfield is likely to be in darkness for some time to come unless necessary arrangements can be made with the gas company to furnish them with lights.

Large Cantaloupe Crop.

The cantaloupe crop around Delmar is very large this season. Irving Oliver on Monday shipped eight car loads, on Tuesday, six, and six on Wednesday, making a total of 20 car loads of in three days. Prices have been ranging from 75c to 90c for standards and $1 to $1.25 for jumbo carloads.

Mr. Oliver on Wednesday loaded nine carloads of watermelons of the Tom Watson variety. He is also expecting a tremendously large melon crop. Last year his shipments of cantaloupes amounted to 57 carloads; this year they will probably exceed 100 carloads, with melon shipments increasing in proportion.

Men Wanted

On Friday, June 7th, a number of employees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company left their positions without notice and went on a strike which now exists. These represented almost entirely the newer, younger, more inexperienced men. A large majority of the men, including nearly all of the older, responsible men, remained with the Company and have faithfully served it in operating its car service, which has been well maintained over its entire system.

The Company wants at once suitable experienced Motormen and Conductors to fill the places of men who have left the service, and offers attractive, permanent employment not only to these, but to other worthy persons who can qualify.

For full information write or apply to Superintendent of Employment, 127 Milk Street, Boston, Mass.

POULTRY

ADVANTAGES OF TRAP NESTS

By Use of Device Number of Eggs

Laid by Each Hen May Be Ascertained Without Trouble.

The primary object of using trap nests is to develop a heavy laying strain. It has been found by the use of trap nests that the number of eggs

laid per hen in an average flock varies from 40 to 50. Without using trap nests, the results from such a flock

would be uncertain and probably unsatisfactory. It is the object of the poetryman to breed and build up the strain which lays the heaviest, by breeding to the heavy producers.

For fanciers, the trap nest is indispensable on account of the fact that in the ordinary pen there are from six to 12 females to one male. If trap nests are used, and there are as many as there are females in the pen, it is possible to distinguish each hen's eggs, while if the trap nests are not used, this is impossible.

The use of trap nests goes far to prevent the hens forming the habit of egging. They are likely to form

this habit if kept in limited quarters.

If so kept, they are probably not given the very best food, and probably not enough of it, especially animal food.

The accompanying drawings of a bank of trap nests are self-explanatory. The nests are built without any top or bottom. The hen enters through the back of the nest, brushing under the hanging wire, which releases the door. She then passes on to the nest compartment toward the front end.

To inspect the nest, and to remove the hen, ascertain her number, and secure the eggs, the front door is simply unbuttoned, and let down. It will be noticed that the two doors are fastened together with a cord, so that when the front door is let down, the trap is automatically set again. The hen will find it difficult to leave

through the back door at this time, as the hanging wire permits her to go

one way only. These are so simple that in making them in almost any quantity, the material should not cost over 15 cents, at most, per trap nest.

PERCH SPACE FOR CHICKENS

Small Hens Should Be Allowed Six

Inches, While Larger Birds Should

Be Given Eight.

As a general rule, small hens should have about six inches of perch space,

while the larger hens should be allowed eight inches. In the winter

they huddle closer together, but in the summer there should be plenty of room, to allow them to spread out.

Perch for Chickens.

Perches should be 12 inches apart and not closer than 15 inches to the wall or ceiling. Show birds, especially Leghorns or similar type, should be kept at a greater distance from walls and ceilings. Many good birds are spoiled by "brooming" their tails

against the walls.

There are several methods of making movable perches. One of the most common is by hanging them to the

Fertility of Eggs.

The disposition of the malebird has considerable to do with the fertility of the eggs. A male that is greedy and quarrelsome is apt to drive hens

away from the feed and gulphdown

more than is good for him. Such males become overfat and consequently sluggish.

On the other hand, the too gallant

male will stand back while the hens

are helping themselves. His condition is as bad as the greedy bird, for he is undated and has not the proper strength to fertilize.

Men Not Sentimental.

There is no sentiment in a hen.

Her only object in life is to get enough to eat. If she is given that and a warm, well-ventilated house to sleep in at night, a dry sheltered place in winter, she will do the rest.

Generally debilitated for years. Had sick headache, lacked ambition, was worn out and all run down. Burdock

Blood Bitters made a well woman."

NOW COMES THE BIG SALE OF THE SEASON!
CLEARANCE OF Hart Schaffner & Marx Suits
1-4 to 1-2 Off!

Here's where you make some money by spending a little. Your saving is from 25 to 33 1/2 per cent. Every season we clear our stock. All goods go to make room for new clothes. It is the policy of this store not to carry stock from one season to another, and this is clearance time in this store.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes are a good bargain at regular prices. You get big values wherever you buy them, but right now we are giving so much extra that no man who needs clothes can afford to miss this opportunity. The clothes will look good to you; bright and snappy; new patterns.

POULTRY
MAKING YOUR OWN BROODER

Directions and Illustrations Given of Suitable Shelter for the Little Chickens.

In describing a brooder that she had constructed herself and used successfully, Mrs. Belle Stiles says in the Missouri Valley Farmer:

A box 3 1/2 feet wide by 3 1/2 or 4 feet long is made of matched lumber, eight inches deep inside measure. A box cover six inches deep is hinged to one side, and is hinged again in the center. A notch is made in each end of the box one-third of the way across from the hinged side, with corresponding notches in the cover, and in these notches rest a cylindrical tank for heating the brooder. Windows should be put in the front, and a door in one end. Small holes should be bored in the ends of the cover for ventilation. The cylinder tank is made of galvanized tin, with a hollow tube through the center of such a size that heat from a lamp can be turned in with an elbow. On the top of the cylinder there should be a screw plug for putting in water. The tank when filled with water is heated by the hot air in the hollow tube. This center tube should be long enough to extend through the brooder box and to the lamp set outside. The box should be carpeted with paper or litter, the tank put in place and filled with boiling water, the lamp put in position and the brooder allowed to warm up before the chicks are put in. When in position the cylinder should be two inches from the bottom. After the heat is up the lamp may be turned very low. If the chicks are too warm the cover may be raised and a stick slipped under the edge to give more air. Don't overcover. Give plenty of warm water in cold weather. Don't overheat. Give plenty of grit. Keep clean. It's a joy to raise chickens by this method, and these brooders if properly cared for will last for years.

Sometimes Best to Be Patient. Frequently the worm that turns merely gets itself bruised on the other side.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Flying Mosquito. Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles just like other people, with like results in loss of appetite, headache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that as T. D. Pettibone, Henry, Tenn., proved. "Six bottles of Electric Bitters" he writes, "did more to give me new strength and good appetite than all other stomach remedies I used." So they help everybody. Its folly to suffer when this great remedy will help you from the first dose. Try it. Only 50 cents at all Druggists.

TRI-COUNTY INSTITUTE

Teachers Of Worcester, Wilcomco And Somerset--Session Opens August 28.

The annual arrangements have been made by County Superintendents Holloway, Daehliell and McMaster for the eight annual Tri County Institute to be held at Ocean City from August 28th to Sept. 5th. The opening session will be on Wednesday afternoon August 28th at 8.30 o'clock, at the public school building. This session will be devoted to organization, grouping and the general work of the institute. The work will begin on Thursday morning and will continue through the week, Saturday included from 9 o'clock a. m. to 1 o'clock p. m., thus leaving the last two days of the week to enable teachers to reach their homes and prepare for the regular school work which will begin on the following Monday morning, September 9th. The teachers will be divided into five grades as follows:

Group A--Teachers of First and Second Grades of High and Graded Schools.

Group B--Teachers of Rural, (one room), Schools.

Group C--Teachers of Rural (one room) Schools.

Group D--Teachers of Third to Seventh Grades of High and Graded Schools.

Group E--High School Teachers and Principals of Graded Schools doing High School work.

The following is a list of instructors and their subjects.

Dr. J. H. Apple, President Woman's College, Frederick, Md., "Psychology and Pedagogy."

Prof. H. D. Hemenway, People's Institute, Northampton, Mass., "Agriculture and Nature Study."

Miss Flora E. McElhinney, of Wilcomco county, "Domestic Science and Art."

Prof. Thomas H. Spence, Maryland Agricultural College, "Language and School Management."

Prof. E. Clark Fontaine, Warrington School, Va., "Pedagogy."

Miss Margaret M. Donthett, Somerset county, "Music."

Prof. O. G. Prince, New York City, "Penmanship."

Prof. E. E. Race, Maryland State Normal School, "Science."

It is needless for us to dwell upon the benefits derived from the Teachers Institute. Those who have attended regularly for years past attest their value. As the law now requires strict classification of teachers to ascertain the salary to be paid, the attendance at the Teachers' Institute, exhibiting as it ought, valuable object lessons of promptness and punctuality, will play no small part in such classification.

In Memoriam.

In memory of our dear mother, Laura Deoria, who departed this life five years ago the 23rd of August and our dear father who departed this life one year ago the 18th of August.

Sleep dear parents on: take your rest. God took you home, he thought it best. In silence you both suffered, in patience you bore. The sweet peace of God is yours forevermore.

Gone from earth, yet gone to Heaven, But our eyes shall gaze in vain. We shall hear thy voice, oh never; Never more on earth again.

Sleep on dear parents and take thy rest, In God's sweet mansion fair fate, By and by we hope to join you in our Father's palace there.

Dear parents you are not forgotten nor will you ever be, for as long (as life and memory last we all remember thee. Our feet will oft times wander toward the sacred graves, where the ones we loved so well, the ones we could not save, lie.

Nelson-Windsor.

A very pretty home wedding was celebrated on Tuesday of this week when Miss Minnie B. Nelson became the bride of Mr. Lester D. Windsor. Rev. Dr. Chas. A. Hill performed the ceremony at the home of the bride. The marriage was witnessed by the immediate family. Mr. and Mrs. Windsor left soon after the ceremony for a trip to Northern cities. On their return they will make their home in Salisbury.

Slipped Off And Got Married.

Friends of Mr. George N. Perry and Miss Bessie Elliott, were surprised to learn Wednesday that the young couple had slipped off to Salisbury and had been married by the pastor of the M. P. Church. The bride is a daughter of Charles A. Elliott, a conductor on the N. E. P. & N. Railroad, and the groom is a member of the clothing firm of S. N. Culver Co. They are spending their honeymoon in Ocean City.

A FULL AGREEMENT

Reached—Anti-Salmon Superintendent Says No Objection To "Hoop Talk"

September 27th.
Baltimore, Maryland.
August the 19th, 1912.
Hon. Jesse D. Price,
Pres. Maryland State Senate,
Salisbury, Maryland.

Dear Sir:—The excuse for this letter is the fact that I find that your friends and some of the general public have gotten the impression that I am afraid to let you talk as much as you like and that my refusal to accede to your proposition has left in doubt the question of our meeting to discuss your slaughter of the Local Option Bill.

Having allowed your friends a few days to enjoy the only comfort which they are destined to derive from this affair I now correct this impression which is due to misunderstanding in some instances and to misrepresentation in others.

I never start a transaction of this kind without knowing about where it is coming out, and I was definitely determined upon two points at the outset. (1) That you should not escape the meeting. (2) That after the meeting was held there should not be left a shred of justification for a claim that you were not treated fairly.

But I was equally determined that this fair treatment of you should be voluntary on my part in giving distinction to your treatment of the local option bill and of myself, and not because you had been able to outwit me in negotiations or bluff me into yielding to your demands.

So long as you were trying to break into my meeting on your own terms, the effects of which would be to allow you to determine the basis upon which and the extent to which your local option record should be exposed, I refused to give you any consideration beyond your rights, and that was the point upon which I turned you down.

However, when, as in your letter of Aug. 7th, you recognized the futility of such tactics by stating that I did not agree to your terms you would come to my meeting and speak anyhow the situation instantly changed. Having now obtained from you this statement that you would be present, evidently based on the belief that I would be afraid to make any concessions, I now assure you that at the meeting which I shall hold on Sept. 27th you may have the ten minute rebuttal speech which you want, or three of them for that matter if you think you need so many.

Your suggestion as to what people will think if I refuse to give you a chance to be heard at my own meeting is quite unnecessary, because so long as there is somebody in charge of the situation to bring the people's minds back each time to the question of how you helped the Preston-Mahon City Liquor Ring till the local option bill the more you talk the better it will be for the cause. That is why I shaped this correspondence as to force you into agreeing to be present and speak. We want you to have such freedom that it will be generally understood at the close that there is not another solitary thing that you can think of to say in your own defense.

If the best reason, as the representative of a temperance society can give for lining up with the liquor traffic is to question my motives and criticize my methods we want that made clear too. So that you need feel under no obligations to us in talking until you have enough and the audience is satisfied. You will be notified if the hour for the meeting is changed.

I shall defer until Sept. 27th the exposure of the folly of the efforts to make sympathy in your behalf on the ground that I am persecuting you in pressing this matter. But I shall then prove beyond the possibility of doubt that I spared no effort, weeks before the situation became dangerous to you, to get you to agree to a report from the hostile temperance committee which you had packed against the local option bill. In short if you had taken the advice I pressed upon you, you would have avoided all this mess and your aspiration to be Governor would not have suffered such a national blight. I have nothing personal against you, but I am carrying out to the best of my ability the League policy not to let any tool of the liquor traffic fool temperance people into believing that he is a friend of their cause.

Yours respectfully,
William H. Anderson,
Superintendent.

Oscar Carey Won Suit.

About 3,000 guests were made on the number of stripes in the suit exhibited by Kennedy and Mitchell, at the Fair Grounds last week. The suit contained exactly 3,200 stripes and the nearest guess to this number was made by Mr. Oscar Carey, near Salisbury, whose guess was 3,207. The lucky winner was given a twenty dollar suit of clothes by Kennedy and Mitchell.

HORRIBLE DEATH BY

Scalding—Jesse F. Waller, Of Allen—Falls In Hot Water Tank.

Mr. Jesse F. Waller, a well known citizen of Allen, met a horrible death on Tuesday of this week, when he fell into the boiler of hot water at the Canning Factory of Mr. Robert Chatham.

Mr. Waller was in charge of this factory, and was attempting to slither down to take out a crate of tomatoes, when the crank slipped and he was thrown back into the boiling water. All of the help had left with the exception of a colored man, who, hearing the cries, rushed to his assistance. Mr. Waller had succeeded in almost getting out of the water when his hands slipped and he fell back into the boiler. With the assistance of the colored man, he got out and went up to the house of Mr. Chatham.

In attempting to strip his clothes off, it was found that the burns had been so deep that the skin from his shoulders down, came off with them, and in some cases, where they were deeper, the flesh as well. Medical aid was summoned, but the injuries were too deep and after suffering intense pains from the burns for twenty four hours, he succumbed to the injuries.

Mr. Waller was one of the well known citizens of his section of the County. He was prominent in politics always being a hard worker in the Democratic Party. He was a member of the M. E. Church at Allen.

Mr. Waller was about fifty three years of age. He had never married and made his home with his brother, Mr. Vaughn Waller. He leaves three brothers, Messrs. Greenbury and Henry Waller, of this city, and Mr. Vaughn Waller, of Allen. He is also survived by one sister, Miss Annie Amelia Waller, of this city. His remains were interred in the M. E. burying grounds at Allen, Maryland. The funeral services were held at the Church on Friday morning.

DURING THUNDERSTORMS

Few Risks Which It Were Well To Avoid—Advisable To Be Cautious.

Here are some rules to observe in thunderstorms:
Never get under trees or stand near lateral branches. Even a small part of a lightning flash traveling over was leaves to a person underneath would form a convenient path for lightning to travel to the earth.

Equally dangerous is to shelter alongside of buildings or close to haystacks for similar reasons, as raindrops from roofs may lead the flash to one thus standing. Unfenced houses are another dangerous source, wet scaffold poles becoming conductors. Many accidents have been so caused. To Telegraph poles give wide berth, and never use the telephone during a violent storm.

Never stand near rain or ventilating pipes. In no circumstances ride or lead bicycles, and the same warning applies to motor cars or ordinary carriages or cars.

Umbrellas are dangerous held up; also fishing rods and guns.
Not that lightning is directly attracted by these objects, but, traveling to earth, the flash gives out innumerable small discharges, which are attracted to metallic projections, and the shock which might cause to one's dry clothes minor injuries, may prove fatal to one previously rain sodden.

TAKES OFFICE SEPT. 1st

New Commander Of "Nellie Jackson" Soon To Take Post.

Mr. Wilfred B. Jester, who was named by Senator Price as captain of the Police Boat, "Nellie Jackson," will receive his commission and will take charge of the boat about September the first. Captain Wade Bedeworth, who has been commander of the boat for the past four years has recently had the boat in Salisbury at the Marine Railway having her thoroughly overhauled and fitted up to turn over to his successor. Captain Bedeworth turns over his boat after four years of command which have been a credit to himself as well as the Democratic party and the State of Maryland. He has handled the boat in a perfectly satisfactory manner, without friction with the oystermen and at the same time has had no trouble in getting the oystermen to take out their license.

The other candidates for the command of the "Nellie Jackson" were Hon. H. James Messick, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee for Wicomico County, and Captain Robert F. Walter, who commanded the boat four years prior to the captaincy of Mr. Bedeworth.

—Rev. Dr. and Mrs. T. E. Martindale have returned from their summer vacation. Dr. Martindale will fill his pulpit in the Asbury M. E. Church on Sunday. Sunday School at 9:45; preaching at 11; Prater Service at eight o'clock.

CHAUTAUQUA TICKETS ON Sale—A Big Treat In September—Programme Entertaining And Instructive.

A meeting of the promoters of the Chautauqua which is to be held in this city, the second week of September, was held in the City Hall on Tuesday evening. A great number of those who have taken interest in this great Educational work were present and it was decided to place the tickets on sale at once, and appoint a committee of ladies to canvass the town and sell as many as possible.

In order to get the Chautauqua here it was necessary to guarantee the sale of at least six hundred tickets at two dollars each, which was done by thirty two of those who thought it would be a great benefit to our Community.

The Chautauqua course will commence on Thursday, September the 13th, and will continue for two weeks. Each day will see two sessions, one in the afternoon commencing at two o'clock and the other in the evening at seven thirty.

The cost of running this Chautauqua is estimated at more than $3000. The Chautauqua is not run as a money making scheme but is backed by several philanthropists who are putting up the money in order to give the people something worth while, both instructive and entertaining.

It stands for "pleasure, delight, enjoyment." Not only does it exalt the good, the beautiful and the true, but it emphasizes the humorous as well. Some of the attractions listed for Salisbury are Orinillo's Famous Italian Band. This is said to be the best band since Orchestra.

George Linn Kieffer's will show more than two hundred of his famous views of the grounds and Battle of Gettysburg. Worth in itself the price of admission.

Mr. Frank Dixon, the famous "wit and logicians" will lecture on the second day.

Walter Bentley will give a Ball Song Recital, and has a popular programme of Folk Songs.

Perhaps Germain The Wizard will be one of the most popular performers at the Chautauqua. He is skilled in all sleight-of-hand and legedomain performances and does things almost unbelievable.

It is impossible at present to give a full outline of these various entertainments as more than twenty one events are scheduled, each worthy of special notice in itself.

Tickets good for the whole week, both afternoon and evening sessions can be bought now at two dollars at the following places:
L. D. Collier Drug Company, White and Leonard's Drug Stores, Paul Watson's Smoke House, Kennedy and Shookley's Department Store, Ulman Sons' Store, John M. Tolson's Drug Store and the new Drug Store of Levin D. Collier on Division Street.

These tickets are good for the entire seven day programme and give the holders an opportunity to see twenty one events, any one of which will be worth the price of the ticket.

Downie & Wheeler's Circus

The streets of Easton on Saturday notwithstanding the downpour of rain, were crowded with people coming from all parts of Talbot and adjoining counties to see the large Downie & Wheeler circus, which arrived here early in the morning on their own special train of cars, and were jostling each other about for good positions to witness the magnificent parade, as advertised by them, and which in magnitude and splendor even surpassed their advertisement, and it was the universal comment that it was one of the finest and most interesting circus parades ever seen in Easton, as it took quite a long time for it to pass a given point.

There were a number of open cages of wild animals, several good clowns, who made lots of fun for the large crowd of spectators, which were lined along the sidewalks of the different streets which the parade traversed and two or three good bands of music, which greatly aided in enlivening the occasion. In fact there was everything that went to make the parade a success and pleasure to the vast throng that witnessed it. They gave two performances, one in the afternoon and one in the evening, both of which drew fine audiences, and it was the universal opinion that it was the best circus that has been seen in Easton for a number of years. The performances consisted of bareback riding, daring trapeze performances, trick bicycle and unicycle riding, dog and pony acts, and in fact everything that went to make up a first class circus. One of the striking features of the show was the courteous manner in which the proprietors and their employees looked after the comfort and welfare of their patrons, and the absence of all kinds of swindlers and gamblers which usually follow up a circus although not connected with it in any capacity whatever.—Easton, Md. Herald, Monday, Sept. 18th.

JNO. J. PERRY SHOT

On Way To MM—Found Unconscious In Car—Colored Man Had Made Threats.

Mr. Jno. J. Perry, a prominent lumber man of Delaware, was found unconscious in his car about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning on the road leading from Seaford to his large planing mill. Mr. Perry had just been down town where he got shaved and was on his way back to his plant, driving a little Buick car which he had bought for his children. He had taken an unusual back road and the car was found just after crossing the railroad. It was on high gear and had stopped by the flooding of the gasoline. He was found soon afterwards and carried to his home. It was thought at the time that he was suffering from a fracture of the skull. Dr. Dick, of this city, was summoned and at once diagnosed it as a bullet wound. The bullet apparently entered on the left side of the back of the head and passed through the brain. Mr. Perry never gained consciousness and died at about ten o'clock in the evening.

Various theories are extant as to the shooting. The general opinion, at the time, seemed to be that he was shot by a colored man who was known to have a grudge against him. Wayne Williams, a colored man, who escaped from the jail at Georgetown this week, was known to have made threats.

The report of the shooting caused great indignation in Georgetown and points in Delaware and a posse was formed to catch and lynch the guilty man if he could be found.

Another colored man was arrested Thursday afternoon suspected to know something of the matter. A pistol was picked up about a foot behind the stopped automobile.

Mr. Perry was a native of this county having spent his early days around Quantico. He was the son of the late Geo. E. Perry. Early in life he moved to Delaware and engaged in the lumber business. For years he was connected with the late Mr. Houston and his brother, M. Vandalia Perry under the firm name of Houston, Perry and Company.

He is survived by a widow and two sons, Morris, 34 years and George 10 years. Also the following brothers: Messrs. Vandalia and Theo. Perry of Salisbury and James Perry of North Carolina. Mr. Perry was about 54 years old.

The funeral services will be held at his late residence in Seaford on Sunday afternoon at one thirty o'clock.

Anty Drudge Advises the Fireman.

Fireman—"Morning, Anty Drudge! You had better go over to Mrs. Slims; she's terribly burned."

Anty Drudge—"How did it happen?"

Fireman—"Over-heated stove. Trying to get the fire hot enough to boil her clothes. My wife was badly burned last week doing the same thing."

Anty Drudge—"Yes, I'll go right over. But look here, young man! Get your wife Fels-Naptha. Then she won't have to boil the clothes. Just use lukewarm or cool water; let the clothes soak for half an hour; that's all there is to it."

Friendship begins with acquaintance. All Fels-Naptha wants is an introduction and it will become your boon companion in laundry and kitchen.

We are advertising to get Fels-Naptha that introduction into new homes.

Then we depend on the soap itself to keep it there.

If Fels-Naptha wouldn't do what we claim; if it wouldn't wash clothes quicker and better in cool or lukewarm water without hard labor or boiling; if it wouldn't save time, work, fuel and health—would over a million women use it every washday?

Not much.

But Fels-Naptha will do these things and more; has done them and is doing them for more and more progressive women every year.

Follow the easy directions on the back of the red and green wrapper.

FARMERS SHOULD SUPPORT WILSON

Best Equipped Man For Presidency Since Lincoln.

SENATOR GARDNER'S VIEWS.

The Maine Statesman, Himself a Farmer, Declares That President Taft Would Continue to Tax Farmers of the United States and at the Same Time Compel Them to Compete With Canadian Farmers.

The reasons why those engaged in agricultural pursuits should support Governor Woodrow Wilson for president are strongly set forth by Senator Obadiah Gardner of Maine in an address to farmers.

Senator Gardner is a practical farmer, one who farms his own farm, and he is probably in closer touch and sympathy with country life and its environments than any other man in public life.

For twenty-five years Senator Gardner has been actively interested in the national granges, and for ten years he was the master of the state grange of Maine. A few years ago he came within a close margin of being elected governor of the Pine Tree State.

A little less than a year ago, when Senator Frye, who had represented Maine in the senate for thirty years, died, Governor Plaford honored Mr. Gardner and recognized the agricultural interests of the country by appointing him to the United States senate, where he has made a most creditable record, devoting particular attention to the welfare of the great rural population of the country. He is now a candidate for re-election and will undoubtedly be successful.

In his address Senator Gardner says: To the Farmers of the United States: Greeting:

Being one of you and for the greater part of my life having been engaged in the practical everyday duties of my own farm, having been for twenty-five years past officially at work through boards of agriculture and the national and state granges, having served four years as second officer of the national grange and as master of the Maine state grange, ten years during which time the order in Maine added 3,540 members and attained a power and influence never held before, I feel I am in a position to speak from the standpoint of one who knows the farmer and his needs: and it is solely because of

Say Farewell to Care.

Quick is the succession of human events; the cares of today are seldom the cares of tomorrow; and when we lie down at night we may safely say to most of our troubles: "Ye have done your worst, and we shall meet no more."—Cowper.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers, rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Fine for cuts, burns, bruises. Should be kept in every home. 25c and 50c.

THE PEOPLE AND THE CURRENCY.

In dealing with the complicated and difficult question of the reform of our banking and currency laws it is plain that we ought to consult very many persons besides the bankers, not because we distrust the bankers, but because they do not necessarily comprehend the business of the country, notwithstanding they are indispensable servants of it and they do a vast deal to make it hard on many. No mere bankers' plan will meet the requirements of the people. It should be a merchants and farmers' plan as well, elastic in the hands of those who use it as an indispensable part of their daily business. From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

What has the result been? Prosperity? Yes; if by prosperity you mean vast wealth, no matter how distributed or whether distributed at all or not; if you mean vast enterprises built up to be presently concentrated under the control of comparatively small bodies of men, who can determine almost at pleasure whether there shall be competition or not. The nation as a nation has grown immensely rich. She is justly proud of her industries and of the genius of her men of affairs. They can master anything they set their minds to, and we have been greatly stimulated under their leadership and command. Their laurels are many and very green. We must accord them the great honors that are their due, and we must preserve what they have built up for us. But what of the other side of the picture? It is not easy for us to live as it used to be. Our money will not buy as much as it once did, even when we can get them, yield us no great comfort. We need to be better off with less, because a dollar could buy so much more. The majority of us have been disturbed to find ourselves growing poorer, even though our earnings were slowly increasing. Prices climb faster than we can push our earnings up. From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

Now, the farmers of this country have an opportunity to benefit themselves that has never appeared within my recollection, as the Democratic party has been compelled by the force of public opinion to nominate a man for the presidency who is the best equipped for that high office of any that have been nominated or elected since Lincoln—a man that I speak of from a personal acquaintance with and a knowledge of his fitness; a man of great natural ability, splendidly educated, not theoretically, but practically, a man of intellect remarkable for his grasp of every condition with which he is confronted; an indomitable courage in doing right; above all, a great, broad sympathy with and sympathy for all classes. He will make one of the most accessible

No Limit to His Cleverness.

"God darn his skin, I could have licked him if he had been a hundred years old!"—Saturday Evening Post.

presidents ever in the White House and through whom none will be refused a hearing, however humble, nor fail to receive justice at his hands. He is truly a marvelous man, and I wish every person in the United States could know him as I know him. And supplementing all these qualities is the addition that his home is one of perfect balance.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because it develops insidiously. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.
Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root cures inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it,
and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.
Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address:
Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell
you something in place of Swamp-Root.
If you do you will be disappointed.

CHAPTER IV.

A Dance on the Beach.
The great vernal equinox of April 178—was the cause of certain unusual movements of the tide, which made old mariners and coast-fish-men shake their heads and gaze seaward, out of all reckoning. At times, after a tempest, on this strange coast,
the waters would rise in a manner
and at an hour out of the ordinary,
and then among the dwellers on the shore, there were those who prophesied dire unhappiness, telling how the sea had once devoured two villages overnight, and how, beneath the sands, were homes intact, with the people yet in their beds.

Concerned with a disordered social system and men in and out of dungeons, the governor had little time and less inclination to note the caprices of the tide or the vagaries of the strand. The people! The men-ing and mercurial ebb and flow of their moods! The maintenance of autocratic power on the land, and, a more difficult task, on the sea—these

The Lad Complied.

were matters of greater import than the phenomena of nature whose purposes man is powerless to shape or curb. My lady, his daughter, however, who had just returned from seven years' schooling at a convent and one year at court where the queen, Marie Antoinette, set the fashion of gaiety, found in the conduct of their great neighbor, the ocean,
a source of both entertainment and instruction for her guests a merry company transported from Versailles.

"Is it not a sight well worth seeing after your tranquil Seine, my Lords?" she would say with a wave of her white hand toward the restless sea. "Here, perched in mid air like eagles, you have watched the 'grand tide,' as we call it, come in—like no other tide—faster than a horse can gallop. Where else could you witness the like?"

"Nowhere. And when it goes out—"

"It goes out so far, you can no longer see it; only a vast beach that reaches to the horizon, and—"

"Must be very dangerous!"

"For a few days, perhaps; later, not at all, when the pettish tides are the rule, and can be depended on.
Then are the sands, except for one or two places very well-known, as safe as your gardens at Versailles.
But remain, and—you shall see."

Which they did—finding the place to their liking—or their hostess; for the governor, who cared not for guests, but must needs entertain them for reasons of state, left them
as much as might be to his daughter.
She, brimming with the ardor and effervescence of eighteen years, so-coped these responsibilities gladly;
pending that period she had referred to, turned the monk's great refectory into a ball-room, and then, when the gales had swept away, proposed the sands themselves as a scene for diversion both for her guests and the people. This, despite the danger of his Excellency, her father.

"Is it wise," he had asked, "to court
the attention of the people?"

"Oh, I am not afraid," she had answered. "And they are going to dance, too!"

"They?" He frowned.

"Why not? It is the queen's own Mae. Let the people dance, she has said, and they will keep out of mischief. Besides, with a prouder peter of the bright head, 'why shouldn't they see, and like me?"

"They like nothing except themselves, and," drily, "to attempt to evade their just obligations."

"Can you blame them?" She made a light gesture. "Obligations, mon pere, are so tiresome!"

"Well, well," hastily, "have your own way." Although he spoke rather shortly, on the whole he was not displeased with his daughter; he was be-troubled with the Marquis de Beau-villiers, a nobleman of large estate—arranged while she was yet a child—promised a brilliant marriage and in a measure offered to his Excellency some compensation for that old and had been broached and wine was being circulated among the people.

There, master of ceremonies, Beppo dispensed advice with the beverage, his grumbling talk heard above the light laughter and chatter of the ladies and ladies.

"Drink to his Excellency!" As he spoke, the governor's man, from the elevated stand upon which he stood,
gazed arrogantly around him. "Clods!
Sponges that sop without a word of thanks! Who only think of your stomachs! Drink to the governor, I say!"

"To the governor!" exclaimed a few, but it might have been noticed they were men from the town, directly beneath the shadow of his Excellency's castle, and now close within reach of the fat factotum's arm.

"Once more! Had I the ordering of wine, the barrels would all be empty ones, but her ladyship would be generous, and—"

Beppo broke suddenly off, his wandering glance, on a sudden, arrested.
"Hein!" he exclaimed, with eyes protruding.

A moment he stammered a few words of surprise and incredulity, the while he continued to search eagerly —but now in vain. The object of his startled attention, illumined, for an instant, on the outskirts of the throng,
by the glare of a torch, was no more to be discerned. As questioning the reality of a fleeting impression, his gaze fixed itself again near the edge of flickering lights; shifted uncertainly to the pavilion where servants
from the Mount hurried to and fro;
then back to the people around him.
His jaw which had dropped grew suddenly firm.

"Clear a space for the dance!" he called out in tones impatient, excited.
"It's her ladyship's command—so see you step blithely! And you fellows there, with the tambourin and haultbols, come forward!"

Two men, clad in sheepskin and carrying rude instruments, obediently advanced, and it once more marked contrast to the recent twinkling measures of the orchestra, a wild, half-barbaric concord rang out.

But the governor's man, having thus far executed the orders he had received, did not linger to see whether or not his own injunction, "to step blithely," was observed; some concern, remote from galliards, garotte or bourree of the people, caused him hastily to dismount from his stand and make his way from the throng.
As he started at a rapid pace across the sands, his eyes, now shining with anticipation, looked back.

"What could have brought him here? Him?" he repeated. "Ah, my fine fellow, that should prove a lucky stroke for me!" And quickening his step, until he almost ran, Beppo hurried toward the tower gate of the Mount.

CHAPTER V.

An Interruption.

"They seem not to appreciate your fete, Madame, my Lady!" At the verge of the group of peasant dancers,
the Lady Elise and the Marquis de Beauvilliers, who had left the other guests to the enjoyment of fresh culinary surprises, paused to survey a scene, intended, yet failing to be festal. For whether these people were too sodden to avail themselves of the opportunity for merry-making,
or liked not the notion of tripping together at Beppo's command, their movements, which should have been free and untrammelled as the vigorous swing of the music, were characterized only by painful monotony and lagging. In the half-gloom they came together like shadows; separated simply and cast misshapen silhouettes
—caricatures of frolicking peasants—
on the broad surface of the sands beyond. These bobbing, black spots my lady disapprovingly regarded.

"They seem not in the mood, truly!"
tapping her foot on the beach.

"Here—and elsewhere!" he laughed.
But the governor's daughter made an impatient movement; memories of the dance, as she had often seen it,
when she was a child at the Mount, recurred to her. "They seem to have forgotten. Her eyes flashed. 'I should like to show them.'"

"You! My Lady!"

She did not answer; pressing her red lips, she glanced sharply around.
"Stupid people! Half of them are only looking on! When they can dance, they won't—and—"

She gave a slight start, for near her, almost at her elbow, stood the young man
she had observed only a short time before, when the minutest was in progress. His dark eyes were bent on her and she surprised on his face an expression half derisory, half quiescent. Her look changed to one of displeasure.

His Obligation to Nature.

Nature was his nurse and playfel-

she would send wandering breezes to rosemary gums; to him the tall reed woods nodded familiarly and sleepily, the humble bees buzzed, and the rocks carved a sinuous accompani-

VOTE BUYING IN VIRGINIA.

Those who have given the question of buying votes any consideration are well aware of its bad effect from a moral standpoint, as well as the great moral wrong committed by the individuals concerned. In common with other sections, the Eastern Shore of Maryland has suffered more or less from the corruption of the voters by means of money paid for their vote.

It is however a matter of congratulation that this means of carrying elections seems to be on the wane.

As a matter of fact the money spent for votes in this County for the past few elections has been so small as to be almost negligible.

The raising of a big campaign fund is no longer regarded as essential to the success of a ticket.

This change has been brought about by an aroused Public Conscience, which has demanded the abolishment of the corruption, found at our elections. The people more and more come to realize the danger of allowing men with some special interest or interests to serve, to buy up our voters like so many cattle on election day.

The people however should not allow indifference—that friend of the corrupt politician and enemy to good government—on this subject to discourage the good work happily commenced in this community, but should show their determination to root out
the practice once and for all.

A petition of Virginia is now going through the throes of having the petition stopped by the strong arm of the Law. Judge Sken, after dismissing of what might be expected if the buying of votes was not stopped in his jurisdiction has taken steps to put an end to it, by indicting and convicting a large number of those who despite his warning persisted in buying up the election.

Judge Sken has shown what can be done in this direction by our Courts
when they are really in earnest about the matter.

Success to Judge Sken and his good work. May his actions be emulated by all other Judges who have within their District politicians who persist in practicing this great moral and public wrong.

The fight should be kept up until our elections are bribery proof, so that those who are sworn into office as our servants can come in with clean

Death of Wm. H. Harper.

Mr. William Harper, father of Mr.
Charles E. Harper, of this city, and one of the best known residents of Harlock, Maryland, died Monday last at the advanced age of eighty six years. Deceased was an extensive farmer until a few years ago, when he retired, and went to Harlock to make his home. He was a Justice of the Peace for about twelve years, being appointed by Governor Warfield.

Mr. Harper was a leading member of the Methodist Church and was a class leader for more than forty years.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs.
Willie, of Federalburg, who is nine years of age; and four children—
by H. Harper, of Harlock; John W.
Harper, of Ellwood; Mrs. Annie Harper, of Harlock; C. M. Harper, of Salisbury.

The funeral services were held from the Washington M. E. Church, at Harlock on Wednesday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. C. A. Hill.

Among the guests recently entertained by Mr. and Mrs. A. Crawford at their home, "Oakhurst," were Mrs. George Lankford, of Mobile, Ala.; Miss Florence
and Virginia Gales, of Somerset County; Major W. Lankford, of Washington, D. C.; and Mr.

ROCKED BOAT: DROWNED

Robert E. Taylor Loses Life in Thoughtless Frank.

A victim, of rocking a boat, it is stated, Robert E. Taylor, twenty three years old, assistant steward on the Steamship, Seawaves, of the Merchants and Miners' Line, was drowned
Sunday afternoon in the Patuxent River, a few hundred yards from the Mount Vernon Shore, near Duddell Station.

Taylor, whose home is at Traskin, Wicomico County, had been boarding in Baltimore. With three young friends—George U. Frederick, 1915
Hollins Street; John W. Englehardt and Joseph Fuchs, both of 616 Cumberland Street—they went out to spend the afternoon at the shore.

The young men agreed to take a boat ride. They procured a rowboat and, after donning their bathing suits, launched it into the river. They were about three hundred yards from land when one of the number suggested that they "rock the boat" until it was turned bottom upwards in the water. This, it seems, was agreed too.

Frederick could not swim, but his companion agreed to see that he got safely to land. Taylor, Englehardt and Fuchs declared that they were amplified to take care of themselves.

The plan agreed upon, the young men suddenly threw their weight to one side of the boat, which capsized, throwing them into eight feet of water.

Englehardt and Fuchs immediately directed their efforts toward assisting Frederick to a nearby boat, and when this responsibility was off their hands they turned to look for Taylor. To their alarm they saw that he had sunk. They waited a short time, thinking that, perhaps, he was swimming under water. Then, when he did not appear, they began diving for him.

A. W. Voyce, 119 East Fort Ave-ue, who was at the shore, was summoned to the aid of the young men and, nearly half an hour later, succeeded in bringing the lifeless body of Taylor to the surface.

From Taylor's companions, the police learned that the youth had an aunt, Miss Annie Taylor, living with the family of Dr. Albertus Cotton, at 1828 East Baltimore Street. Dr. Cotton and Miss Taylor were sent for and, arriving upon the scene, the sums fainted. Dr. Cotton took charge of the body, which was sent to Tys-kin for burial.

Young Taylor was the son of the late Capt. Robert Taylor, a sea captain. He is survived by his mother Mrs. Ella Taylor, and one sister, Miss Ora Taylor, of Traskin.

Taxed, Taxed, Taxed and Then Taxed and Taxed.

How the public bears the burden of the tariff was vividly illustrated in a statement Thursday by House Majority Leader Underwood, reciting the record of the present Congress. Here is how Underwood described the actual tariff burden upon the public:

"Under the present oppressive tariff law the laboring man returns at eight from his toil clad in a woollen suit taxed 75 per cent., shoes taxed 12 per cent., stockings and underwear taxed 71 per cent., a cotton shirt taxed 50 per cent., and a woollen hat and woollen gloves taxed 78 per cent."

"He carried a dinner pail taxed 65 per cent., and greets his wife as she looks through a window pane taxed 62 per cent., with a curtain taxed 45 per cent."

"After scraping his shoes on an iron scraper taxed 75 per cent., he wipes them on a mat taxed 50 per cent."

"He lifts the door latch taxed 45 per cent., steps on a carpet taxed 65 per cent., and kisses his wife clad in a woolen dress taxed 75 per cent. She is wearing an umbrella taxed 50 per cent., with thread taxed 30 per cent."

"The house is made of brick taxed 25 per cent., and lumber taxed 90 per cent., with paint taxed 33 per cent."

Death of John W. Allen.

John W. Allen, of Pocomoke City, who was shot on July 10th by William B. Duncan, following a quarrel of several years, died at his home Tuesday morning from the effect of his wounds. A charge of murder has been placed against Duncan and he will be arrested as soon as he can be apprehended.

Mr. Allen was brought to the Peninsula General Hospital at Salisbury, where he laid in a precarious condition for several days. He was afterwards taken back to his home in Po-comoke City, in a paralyzed condition.

The affair has caused the most intense excitement in the lower section of the county where the men are well known. Both men have large families, both of them have many friends in the town and county and there is a genuine feeling of regret at the unfortunate occurrence.

Buggy and Auto Collide.

Mr. Irving Oliver, of Delmar, while on route to the Salisbury Fair Grounds on Wednesday of last week, stopped his machine at the E. C. and A. Railroad Crossing to await the movement of a passing train. Immediately after the train had cleared the crossing a horse and buggy coming from the opposite side of the street dashed into his car, wrecking the buggy and damaging Mr. Oliver's car. The driver disappeared so suddenly that Mr. Oliver failed to ascertain his identity.

RECKLESS TALKING

Tongue That Wags Usually Brings Owner
To Grief.

It is wise to learn early in life that the one way not to have anything you say come back to you is not to say it.
It is easy to be a reckless talker: hard to escape the consequences.

We are all reckless with our tongues. Sometimes this is from thought-lessness, more often from a careless disposition that makes criticism second nature.

If parents were stricter in not letting children discuss personalities there would be less rash talk. Or if the ducking stool and penalty for gossip could still be enforced, girls might be careful of what they say of others.

If you must talk, make two rules.
Never say anything that would hurt you if repeated, and cultivate the habit of keeping disagreeable gossip to yourself.

Your dearest friend may wear secrecy and may mean it, yet that remark of yours has started on a circle that leads back to you.

If only the thing we said came back
as we said it life would be easier, but when we hear it again it has grown like Jack's beanstalk.

There is nothing so unexplainable as the story we have told in part. If we are unjustly slandered it is possible to be indignant; but one can be just as indignant and not be able to get around that grain of truth.

If a girl will not put a guard on her tongue because it is kind, she should do it to save herself unpleasant harm. There are people who seem to be able to cut and slash at will; they say the most reckless things, verging
on the slanderous yet no one calls them to account. The majority are not so fortunate and keep themselves in constant alarm.

Do not even tell a joke if it has a sting to it. Be sure the sting sticks long after the wit is lost, and when the object of the story hears it, it is not labeled a joke.

There are girls who, prudent in their homes, will tell comparative strangers tales better left untold.
They think no one knows the person and no harm is done.

A curious case of this kind happened to a girl not long ago. She was dining in a cafe in California, and told a story with a sting to it about a girl friend in the East. Sitting at the next table were two strangers who heard the story, remembered it,
and when they heard that girl's name mentioned months later in a New York drawing room, promptly repeated the slander and described the slandered to the victim's cousin. It meant a broken friendship, a family rupture, almost a national fight.

Specially when there is excitement rife in a community, hold your tongue. The time is ripe for scandal;
everyone talks, and the simplest remark
is distorted out of all semblance of truth.

A woman may be asked for her opinion, which is promptly quoted as if said in malice.

All this should make a woman wary. If you cannot say a kind word say nothing. If you hear an ugly truth, it helps no one and harms our character to pass it on. Especially do not talk of it in a crowded hall, in the cars or in restaurants. This is a traveling age, and your victim's best friends or bitter foe may be at your elbow.

Do not be prudent in general and out loose to chosen ones. They may be all your fancy paints them in loyalty, but why prejudice them against a third party.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON ROAD

Arthur Cropper, Of Ocean City, Killed On Road Near Ocean City.

Mr. Arthur Cropper, of Ocean City, was killed Friday night in an automobile accident while returning from a ball game at Newark. The car in which Cropper was riding was driven by Harry Ludlum, had just passed through Ironsboro, and was proceeding along the State Road towards Berlin when they overtook an automobile driven by H. Harrison.

Both machines were going fast when Ludlum attempted to pass the Harrison machine. The road was overgrown with high weeds which obscured a cement bulhead to a certain. Ludlum's car struck this and was demolished. Cropper was found underneath the car. His back was broken and his skull fractured.

A wheel of the Ludlum car was found fifty feet up the Road, showing the high rate of speed at which the car was running when it struck the obstruction.

Pie Sale A Success.

The ladies of St. Peter's Guild, who purchased the privilege of selling home made pies and milk at the Fair Grounds during the Fair, had a fairly successful week's business. During the Fair, they sold about four hundred home made pies and many gallons of milk. The ladies say they will clear about one hundred dollars on the venture, although they think they would have made more if their privilege had not been infringed upon by other privilege holders at the Fair. The proceeds will go towards liquidating the debt on the church improvements.

Mr. Nosh H. Rider has purchased of Mr. William B. Tighman
the Clyde residence at Tony Tank where she will make her home on her return from Europe where she is spending the summer.

NEW PARTY'S CALL

On Eastern Shore—Progressives To Meet
During First Week in September.

A call will be issued this week for a Progressive Congressional Convention to meet at Easton, Talbot County, during the first week in September to nominate a candidate for the Sixty third Congress. The call comes from former Orphans' Court Judge Charles W. Hobbs, of Caroline County, who was chairman of a meeting of delegates from the First Congressional District, embracing the also counties of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, to the Progressive State Convention held in Baltimore early this month, and former State's Attorney William N.
Andrews, of Dorchester, Secretary of the meeting.

These two were instructed, by resolution, to set a date for a Progressive Congressional Convention, and Judge Hobbs said that the gathering would probably be held either September the fourth or fifth at Easton. The formal call will be issued in a day or two by Secretary Andrews, from Cambridge. It is expected that many delegations will be sent from many of the Counties, and that the Convention will give the Roosevelt Movement in this part of Maryland a strong impetus. Easton can be readily reached from the lower Counties—Somerset, Worcester, Wicomico and Dorchester—and it is more accessible to the upper Counties above the Choptank— Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's, Caroline and Talbot—than other points.

There has been much comment throughout the Eastern Shore on the failure of the regular Republicans to name a Congressional Candidate in this District, which is the only one in Maryland where no opposition was put up to the Democrats in the Congressional campaign.

—Miss Mildred Collins, of this city, has been appointed principal of the Commercial Department of the Pocomoke City High School for the ensuing term. Miss Collins is not only a graduate of the above named school, but is also a graduate of the Seacom Business College, here.

"You are not dancing!" severely. "No, my Lady." Too late, perhaps, he regretted his temerity that too untried and open regard.

"Why not?" more imperiously. "—He began and stopped.

"You can dance?"

"A little, perhaps."

"As well as they" looking at the people.

"Wooden fantoccini!" said the man, a flicker of amusement returning to his face.

"Fantoccini?" spoke the girl impatiently. "What do you know of them?"

"We Breton seamen sail far, on occasion."

"Far enough to gain in assurance!" cried my lady, with golden head high, surveying him disdainfully through half-closed, sweeping lashes. "But you shall prove your right."

"Right!" asked the fellow, his eyes fixed intently upon her.

"The right of one who does not dance—to criticize those who do!" she said pointedly, and made, on the sudden, an imperious gesture.

"He gave a start of surprise; audacious though he was, he looked as if he would draw back. "What? With my, my Lady?"

A gleam of satisfaction, a little cold and scornful, shone from the girl's eyes at this evidence of his discomfiture. "Unless," she added maliciously, "you fear you—can not?"

"Fear!" His look shot around; a moment he seemed to hesitate; then a more reckless expression swept suddenly over his features and he sprang to her side.

"At your Ladyship's command!"

My lady's white chin lifted. The presumptuous fellow knew the dance of the Mount—danced it well, no doubt!—else why such ease and assurance? Her lids veiled a look of disappointment; she was half-minded to dismiss him, when a few words of low remonstrance and the sight of my lady's face decided her. She drew aside her skirts swiftly; dashed back at the nobleman a smile, capricious and wilful.

"They," indicating the peasants, "must have an example, my Lord!" she exclaimed, and stood, with eyes sparkling, waiting the instant to catch up the rhythm.

But the marquis, not finding the reason sufficient to warrant such consideration, gazed at my lady, and then at the two figures, so ill-assorted; my lady, in robe of satin, fastened with tassels of silver—the sleeves, wide and short, trimmed at the elbow with fine lace of Brussels and drawn up at the shoulders with glistening knots of diamonds; the other, clad in the rough raiment of a peasant! The nice, critical sense of the marquis suffered from this spectacle of the incongruous. His eyes, seeking in vain those of the governor's daughter, turned and rested querulously on the heavy-browed peasants, most of whom, drawing nearer, viewed the scene with stolid indifference. In the case of only a few did that first stupid impression suffer any change; then it varied to one of vague wonder, half-amphibious inquiry!

"Is he mad?" whispered a clod of the clods to a neighbor.

"No so loud!" breathed the other in a low tone.

"But he," regarding with dull awe the young fisherman, "doesn't care! Look! What foolhardiness! He's going to dance with her!"

"Witchecraft! That's what I call it!"

"Hush!"

My lady extended the tips of her fingers. "Attack well, man the old Gallic injunction to dancers; the partner she had chosen apparently understood its significance. A little muscular hand closed on the small one; whirled my lady swiftly; half back again. It took away her breath a little, so forcible and unceremonious that beginning! Then, obeying the mad rhythm of the movement, she yielded to the infectious measure. An arm quickly encircled her waist; swept the slender form here—there. Never had she had partner so vigorous, yet graceful. One who understood so well this song of the soil; its wild symbolism; the ancient music of the hardy Scandinavians who first brought the dance to these shores.

More stirring, the melodies resounded—faster—faster. In a rapid turn, the golden hair just brushed the dark, glowing face. He bent lower; as if she had been but a peasant maid, the bold eyes looked now down into hers; nay, more—in their depths she might fancy almost a warmer sparkle—of mutual admiration! And her face, on a sudden, grew cold.

"Curses, your Ladyship sets them an example!" murmured the audacious fellow. "Though, parli—one not easy to imitate!"

She threw back her head, proudly, imperiously; the brown eyes gleamed, and certain sharp words of reproach were about to spring from her lips, when abruptly, above the sound of the music, a trumpet call, afar, rang out. My lady—not sorry perhaps of the pretext—at once stopped.

"I thank your Ladyship," said the man and bowed low.

But the governor's daughter seemed, or affected, not to hear, regarding the other dancers, who likewise had come to a standstill—the two musicians looking up from instruments now silent. A moment yet the young fisherman hesitated; seemed about once more to voice his acknowledgments, but, catching the dull eye of a peasant, stepped back instead.

"Baptist! They might, at least, have waited until the end of the dance!" he muttered, and with a final look over his shoulder and a low laugh, disappeared in the crowd.

"Where are the enemy?" It was the marquis who spoke—in accents he strove to make light and thereby conceal, perhaps, possible annoyance.

"Coming forward, he looked around toward the point whence the sound had proceeded. "If I mistake not," a note of inquiry in his tone, "it means—a call to arms!"

My lady hit her lips; her eyes still gleamed with the bright cold light of a topan. "Why—a call to arms?" she asked somewhat petulantly, raising her hand to her hair, a little disarranged in the dance.

"Perhaps, as a part of the military discipline?" murmured the marquis dubiously. "Seel!" With sudden interest, he indicated a part of the Mount that had been black against the star-spangled sky, now showing sickly points of light. "It does mean something! They are coming down! And even as the marquis spoke, a cluster of boots on the stone pavement leading from the Mount to the sand ushered a horseman into view. He was followed by another and yet another, until in somewhat desultory fashion, owing to the tortuous difficulties of the narrow way that had separated them above, an array of mounted men was gathered at the base of the rock. But only for a moment; a few words from one of their number, evidently in command, and they dispersed; some to ride around the Mount to the left, others to the right.

"Perhaps Elise will enlighten us?" Of one accord her guests now crowded around the girl.

"Does the governor intend to take us prisoners?"

"You imply it is necessary to do that—to keep you?" answered my lady.

"Then why?"

Her expression, as perplexed as theirs, answered.

"Beppo!" she waved her hand. The governor's scryer, who was passing, with an anxious, inquiring look upon his face, glanced around.

"Beppo!" she repeated, and beckoned again.

The man approached. "Your Ladyship wishes to speak with me?" he asked in a voice he endeavored to make unconcerned.

"I do." In her manner the old antipathy she had felt toward him as a child again became manifest. "What do the soldiers want? Why have they come down?"

His eyes shifted. "I—my Lady—" he stammered.

"The little foot struck the strand. "Why don't you answer? You heard my question?"

"I am sorry, my Lady—" Again he hesitated. "Le Seigneur Noir has been seen on the beach!"

"Le Seigneur Noir?" she repeated.

"Yes, my Lady. He was caught sight of among the peasants, at the time the barrels were opened, in accordance with your Ladyship's command. I assure your Ladyship, with growing eagerness, "there can be no mistake, sir."

"Who," interrupted my lady sharply, "is this Black Seigneur?"

Beppo's manner changed. "A man," he said solemnly, "his Excellency, the governor, has long been most anxious to capture."

The girl's eyes flashed with impatience, and then she began to laugh. "Saw you ever, my lord, and ladies, his equal for equitication? You put to him the question direct, and he answers—"

The loud report of a carbine from the other side of the Mount, followed by a desultory volley, interrupted her. The laughter died on her lips; the color left her cheek.

"What?" The startled look in her eyes completed the sentence.

Good Breeding.
We see a world of pains taken, and the best years of life spent, in collecting a set of thoughts in a college for the conduct of life; and, after all, the man so qualified shall hesitate in his speech to a good suit of clothes and want common sense before an agreeable woman. Hence it is that wisdom, valor, justice and learning cannot keep a man in countenance that is possessed with these excellences, if he wants that inferior art of life and behavior which good breeding—Steele.

BEEES ARE QUITE PROFITABLE

As Adjunct to Farm Nothing Pays So Well When Properly Cared For—Work for Women.

(By MRS. J. TAYLOR, Ohio.)
As an adjunct to farming I know of nothing, when properly cared for, that pays so well, considering the time spent and the money invested, as bees. Last year, two colonies produced $50 pounds per colony of surplus honey, which sold for $20. The bees cost $5, so there is a gain of $15, or 300 per cent. No other stock or crop paid us as well.

A bee-keeper not far from here averaged 112 pounds of honey from his colonies. He sold it for 16 cents a pound. This seems like a very large yield, but with improved methods we expect to do even better. One farmer in this community manages to clear $100 each year from his bees. He keeps from twelve to fifteen colonies, and his farm does not suffer from neglect in the least.

If the men have not time to attend to the bees, the women can look after them. They are generally about the premises and have a better opportunity for watching them.

For gentleness in handling, ability to gather honey and to keep free from moth, I prefer the Italians. Any chaff here will answer the purpose. It should be changed at least once, and for wintering out of doors, a chaff cushion should be placed over the bees to absorb moisture.

TO MAKE FOUNDATION SOLID
Gasoline Machine Will Not Do Good Work Unless Placed on Good Substantial Base.

It is unreasonable to expect a gasoline engine to do good work unless it is mounted on a solid foundation. There is nothing better than concrete for this and when placing same in position, fastenings should be set in the concrete as shown in the accompanying illustration, says the Prairie Farmer. These fastenings can be made by any blacksmith or iron shop, and farm work shop. They are placed in the concrete when it is poured and should, of course, be placed so as to engage with the holes in the body of the engine. Care should be used not to injure the threads on the ends of the rod, and to this end it is best to keep the nuts on same.

Spreading Manure.
Get into the habit of hauling manure to the field every day as it is taken from the barn. The sooner manure is spread in the field the smaller the loss of fertility incurred, and the smaller the amount of labor required to handle it.

Bees and Farm Notes
Asparagus will grow in any good well-drained farm land. Onion sets should be set out just as early as ground can be worked.

Almost all our common garden vegetables require a somewhat alkaline soil. Selling all the hay and grain raised on the farm is a sure method of selling the farm.

Young cabbage plants require thorough protection in the hotbed and cold frame. It is seldom that the very early varieties of potatoes yield so well as those a little later.

Long, straight rows will make easier work with the horse cultivator or wheel hoe later on. For sandy land the mammoth red clover has proved a superior to alfalfa or the medium red varieties.

Early pruning measures are needed to bring many old trees into bearing, but it need not all be done the first year. There is no danger of an overrich soil for asparagus. In fact this crop can only be grown profitably on very rich land.

Did you ever think how much ground a good corn will plant? It is just that much ground wasted if you plant a poor ear.

It is as idle and useless to expect good crops from inferior seed as it would be to endeavor to breed thoroughbred cattle from scrub stock.

Asparagus roots, properly planted, fertilized and given good culture, will continue to produce large crops for fifteen to twenty years in succession.

Alfalfa clover is a perennial and can be grown on ground that is too low and moist for the medium red or mammoth; it is grown equally well on high ground.

Long, straight rows will make easier work with the horse cultivator or wheel hoe later on. For sandy land the mammoth red clover has proved a superior to alfalfa or the medium red varieties.

Early pruning measures are needed to bring many old trees into bearing, but it need not all be done the first year. There is no danger of an overrich soil for asparagus. In fact this crop can only be grown profitably on very rich land.

Did you ever think how much ground a good corn will plant? It is just that much ground wasted if you plant a poor ear.

It is as idle and useless to expect good crops from inferior seed as it would be to endeavor to breed thoroughbred cattle from scrub stock.

Asparagus roots, properly planted, fertilized and given good culture, will continue to produce large crops for fifteen to twenty years in succession.

Alfalfa clover is a perennial and can be grown on ground that is too low and moist for the medium red or mammoth; it is grown equally well on high ground.

Bees and Farm Notes
Asparagus will grow in any good well-drained farm land. Onion sets should be set out just as early as ground can be worked.

FOR MARYLAND WATERS

Government Has Spent $3,583,836 in Improvements—Secretary MacVeach Reports.

In a statement made to the Senate by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeach it was shown that the Government has expended $3,583,836 on the improvement of Maryland waters since the policy of internal waterway improvements has been in effect.

Of this sum the Patuxent river has received a greater share than any other stream. In all $4,458,947 has been spent upon widening and deepening this river. To make the expenditure complete there should be added to this $3,987,900, all of which has been appropriated and expended on Baltimore's harbor.

Other Maryland water courses have received the benefit of large sums of money, too. The Susquehanna river received $214,800; Cambridge harbor, $50,287; the Chester river, $53,941; Crisfield harbor, $85,079; Elk river, $84,068; Annapolis harbor, $8,475; Battery Island pier, $17,275 and Boston Bay $16,383. Among the other sums expended are:

Cambridge and Pocomoke harbors.....	$2,200.00
Chesapeake Bay, survey head waters.....	465.56
Choptank river.....	60,000.00
Corroco creek.....	30,000.00
Fairlie creek.....	10,000.00
La Trappe river.....	7,250.00
Leonardtown harbor, Boston Bay.....	37,000.00
Manokin river.....	24,000.00
Northeast river.....	20,640.00
Patuxent river.....	4,458,947.98
Patuxent river.....	10,617.30
Pocomoke river.....	26,800.00
Queenstown harbor.....	19,000.00
Rock Hall harbor.....	16,897.19
Rock Hall, Queenstown, Olathe, Cambridge harbors; Chester, Choptank, Warwick, Pocomoke, Wicomico rivers and Tyeckin creek.....	253,891.95
St. Jerome creek.....	30,000.00
Susquehanna river.....	214,800.00
Treadwaters creek.....	6,000.00
Warwick river.....	12,000.00
Wicomico river.....	78,018.00
Wroten harbor.....	12,000.00

These sums do not include the millions expended on the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, the Potomac river and many other waterways not altogether within the State of Maryland.

The Senate will consider these expenditures in connection with the appropriations yet to be made for the Maryland Streams—the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries.

No Danger From Telephones.

Nearly two years ago the Postmaster General at London became interested in the reports that tuberculosis could be communicated by the use of the telephones, particularly those for public use. In order to confirm or refute such a statement he arranged that a number of them be selected from various places and that they be delivered to a well known bacteriologist for examination. Special care was taken to obtain instruments that were without the possibility of having been disinfected or even cleaned, and the same care was taken to see that they reached the testing laboratory in the exact condition in which they were removed from public use. They were taken from postoffices, railway depots, news markets and other places frequented by the public.

The laboratory used is that of St. George's Hospital Medical School, Hyde Park Corner, S. W., and the work was done in the Clinical Investigation Department under the supervision of Dr. H. H. D. Spitta, Superintendent. Washings were made of the mouthpieces and the whole contents were then injected in guinea pigs. The animals were kept in separate cages under supervision and killed a few weeks later. Exhaustive examinations proved that they were absolutely healthy. From the twenty one telephones used in the test no tubercle bacilli were found.

From a subsequent series of tests ending February the 9th of the present year, and made with instruments used wholly by consumptive patients, the same results were obtained. The tests were made at the Frimley Sanatorium with instruments installed at the bedside of phthisical patients undergoing treatment. They were in use by the patients at regular periods for a number of days just prior to the tests.

Tests were also made by the American Government, and like proofs resulted.

From all of these impartial and exhaustive experiments it has been proved beyond question that not the slightest danger of communication of the disease is possible through the medium of the telephone.
