COMMUNICATION.

Dr. Le Baron, a gentleman lately from Michillimackinac, and who has resided there for the last five years, has lately left this city for Philadelphia, New-York and Boston, for the very laudable purpose of forming a company of American merchants from those cities to embark in the Far Trade of our north-western frontiers. We hope the enterprise of Dr. Le Baron may be crowned with every possible success in this important object. It is the only means by which the current of that valuable and lucrative trade can be diverted from Canada to the United States, and it is the only way to acquire such an ascendancy over the savage mind, as to insure a pacific disposition on the part of the Indian tribes: We are happy to learn, that every disposition has been manifested on the part of the government to encourage and support this important object. [Nat. Int.]

A gentleman has discovered, that excellent hats can be made of white birch bark, and has obtained a patent. A manufacturing house at Newburyport has purchased the privilege of making for that town. [N. E. Palladium.]

Extract of a letter from Cadix, received at New-York, dated Nov. 18th.

"Political affairs seem more and more perplexing daily. The reigning family of Portugal are to be annihilated, and that country annexed to this, and no doubt some other compensation taken from this."

"Some private disturbances in the royal family here have occasioned two extraordinary publications of the government, of which I enclose you the copies. The fact is, that the prince of Asturias and the prince of peace are sworn enemies, and of course one or the other must fall. With these unfortunate differences the whole country is kept in a state of suspense and alarm, which, however ridiculous it may appear to foreigners, gives a temporary suspension to every kind of business; and occasions the demands from the interior to be very limited."

Translated for the Mercantile Advertiser.

In a letter of the 6th inst. the secretary of the public granary and government of the royal council wrote to his excellency the corregidor of this city as follows:

"Most Excellent Sir,

"Under the date of the 5th inst. his majesty sent to the council the following royal decree:

"The voice of nature arrests the arm of vengeance; and where a son repents an inadvertent act, we cannot refuse to act as an affectionate father. My son has already declared the authors of the horrible plan which they had caused him to enter upon, to be wretches; all which he has done in a proper manner, altogether consistent with that formality which the law requires in similar cases. His repentance and fear have dictated the representations which he has made to me and which follow: 'Royal Sire, I have erred. I have sinned against your majesty as a king and a father. But I repent, and offer to your majesty the most implicit obedience. I ought to have done nothing without the knowledge of your majesty; but I was blinded. I have, however, discovered the culprits, and I beseech your majesty to forgive me, and permit me to approach your royal presence as your acknowledged son.'

FERNANDO.

San Lorenzo, Nov. 5th, 1807.

"Royal Mother,

I repent myself of the horrid crime I have committed against my royal father, and with the greatest humility supplicate your majesty's pardon for it; likewise for my gross obstinacy in denying the truth a few nights since; and now, from the bottom of my heart, I beseech your majesty to deign to intercede with my father, that he will permit me to approach him as his forgiven son."

FERNANDO.

San Lorenzo, Nov. 5th, 1807.

In consequence of these, and the entreaties of the Queen my beloved spouse, I pardon my son, and will restore him unto favour when his conduct shall prove that he has undergone a thorough reform. And I hereby command those judges, who have been acquainted with the business from the commencement to act according to the sentence of the law, according to the atrocity of the crimes and the quality of the criminals, taking as a guide for the formation of the charges the answers of the prince which are drawn up and signed in his own hand writing, as well as the papers found in his desk, also written by him.

"All this you are to communicate to my councils and tribunals; publishing it to my people, that they may behold my mercy and justice, and that it may alleviate the affliction and uneasiness into which they were thrown by my former decree; since in it they beheld the danger of their sovereign, who reciprocates their affection by loving them as children."

San Lorenzo, Nov. 5th, 1807.

"To the governor of the council"

The foregoing decree, published in full this day, I have fulfilled, and communicate it to your excellency, in order that you may circulate it immediately among all the judges within your jurisdiction, for the purposes which are expressed therein; and please advise me of having complied with it.

This is sent to your excellency for your government.

God preserve your excellency many years.

DON JOSEPH MONTEMAYOR.

Cadix, Nov. 18th, 1807.

SICKNESS IN PRUSSIA.

The flux is very fatal; no less than three hundred died last week at Koningberg; and at Wordintz, not far from the Passarge, not less than 600 are dead of the same disease—the whole of the inhabitants were not more than 1000. A dreadful distemper rages among the horned cattle. In Tilsit, out of one thousand one hundred cows the town had, only 10 remain. [London Pap.]

On Monday the 14th inst. at about the break of day or a little after, the weather being moderate, calm, and the atmosphere somewhat cloudy and foggy, a meteor or fire ball, passing from a northern point, disintegrated over the western part of this state, with a tremendous report. At the same time several pieces of stony substance fell to the earth in Fairfield county. One mass was driven against a rock and dashed into small pieces, a peck of which remained on the spot. About three miles distant, in the town of Welton, another large piece fell upon the earth, of which a mass of about thirty pounds weight remains entire—and was exhibited the same day at town meeting. A small mass has been sent to Yale College, and examined by a number of gentlemen. It was immediately perceived by professor Silliman to contain a metal—and on presenting it to a magnet, a powerful attraction proved it to be iron.

This is, we believe, the first instance in the United States, in which the substance of this species of meteor has been found on the earth, though it has been often in Europe. Fortunately the facts respecting this wonderful phenomenon, are capable of being ascertained and verified with precision, and an investigation will, we understand, be immediately commenced for the purpose.

We request gentlemen who may have observed it in distant parts of the state to favour the public with their observations.—It is desirable to ascertain the course or direction of the meteor; the point of compass in which it appeared at different places; its general appearance and velocity; the manner of its explosion, and the time between the explosion and the report.

The violent hurricane, which was so severely felt in many parts of South America, is represented to have committed dreadful ravages at Campeachy. It commenced there on the 5th of September, and continued with unabated violence, until the 7th, during which the sea rose 18 feet above its level, destroyed 200 houses, 50 vessels of different descriptions, and a number of inhabitants. A felucca which was seven leagues to windward of that place, at the time the hurricane commenced, was found in a field of corn, a league from the shore, after the elemental conflict had ceased. A brig likewise went over one of the wharfs, and was found alongside the church, when the water had receded. The greatest consternation prevailed among the inhabitants, such a terrible visitation never having before been experienced at that place.

[N. Y. Pap.]

A dreadful carnage has taken place in Africa, among some of the principal tribes there. From all we have been able to learn, it appears that one of the chiefs, a very rich and powerful prince, of the tribe of the Affenties, died, and, in conformity with the custom, was buried, and a large portion of his treasure deposited in the grave. The chief of another tribe found means to approach the tomb, from which he stole the money: the violation was discovered, the thief was pursued, who it was discovered had taken refuge with another chief, with whom he shared the booty, and these two were joined by a third. These three tribes were followed by the party aggrieved, with a very large army. One of the offending parties proceeded to the English fort at Anamaboo, where 7000 women and children had previously taken shelter; the fort was attacked by the Affenties, in the defence of which 1,700 of them were killed. They were afterwards informed that the chief of the tribe of whom they were in search had escaped to Cape Coast Castle, for which place they instantly commenced their march, and on their arrival there, he was given up by the governor, with whom they separated on the most friendly terms, and proceeded again in search of the other offenders, carrying fire and murder through the whole of the country through which they marched. When at Cape Coast, they had proceeded about 600 English miles from their native country, and it is said, that in the course of their march not less than from 30,000 to 40,000 persons had fallen victims to their ferocity.

MAMMOTH PUMPKINS.

Produced in a garden in the town of Southborough, the last year, from a single seed, which was accidentally sown, 19 Pumpkins. Two of this number were small, and one of them of middling size, was so defective that it could not be removed. The remaining sixteen weighed 344 pounds. Six or seven of these were nearly of the same size, the largest of which weighed 54 pounds. The vine on which they grew consisted of three principal branches. These, with the smaller branches which issued from them, when placed in a line measured 40 rods. [Palladium.]

A gentleman from Dundee has just invented and finished a model of a door, which, when once locked, it is impossible for a stranger to open; and in case of a thief making the attempt, it is equally impossible for him to avoid being caught in the act, and detained on the spot, until a person acquainted with the invention comes to his relief.—It will be found highly beneficial for the security of banking and counting houses, repositories of plate, &c. Should the attempt be made on the latter, in any gentleman's town or country residence, in the absence of the family, the delinquent will inevitably be starved to death for his temerity, unless relieved by a person entirely acquainted with the proper method of opening.

[London paper.]

SIR, Your paper being intended to communicate facts important to the statift; I send you for publication, the following statement of the progress of the sales of the public lands, which are collected from official documents.

	Acres.	Dollars.
In 1803 were sold	199,080	for 898,161
1804	373,611	772,851
1805	619,266	1,235,953
1806	475,211	1,004,358
1807	284,180	588,610

The neat sales since the opening of the land offices, have amounted to 2,669,994 acres which have sold for 5,547,865 dollars, or somewhat better than 2 1-2 dollars on the average per acre.

As the total of the public lands on this side the Mississippi, amounts to more than three hundred millions of acres, the quantity of public debts, which might in the event of a war, be redeemed by this immense fund is almost incalculable—for the value of the lands will continue to increase with the increase of our population, as well as of our circulating debt; and of all money, and thus bring the public lands to their acme, or say, at least to fifty dollars per acre.

The following is a progressive view of the revenue of England.

In 1100 it was £.	100,000	In 1500 it was £.	400,000
1200	100,000	1600	500,000
1300	200,000	1700	4,000,000
1400	300,000	1800	30,000,000
And in 1807, about,			50,000,000

It is an unpleasant item in our national history, that during the last four years 39,310 human beings have been imported from Africa into the city of Charleston alone; viz.

In the year 1804	- - - - -	5,386.
" 1805	- - - - -	6,790.
" 1806	- - - - -	11,458.
" 1807	- - - - -	15,676.

This disgraceful species of commerce ceased in the U. States last month.

Introduction of Christianity into China.

A catholic missionary at Pekin, named Odeadato, has been sentenced to imprisonment for life, at Geho, in Tartary, for having converted numerous Chinese to Christianity. A native of Canton, named Chin-yo-yang, and some soldiers, who were instrumental to the pious labours of Odeadato, have been punished, and all their converts have been sent into banishment and slavery at Elu, in Tartary. The books on christianity, the blocks with which they were printed, and all the papers of Odeadato and his followers, have been publicly burned, and several military and civil officers have been banished, for their negligence in suffering the people to be corrupted.

The Gospel had been publicly preached in numerous churches, and it is supposed has made such impressions amongst the natives, as even the persecution to which they are exposed cannot efface.

Extract of a letter from a member of the assembly of Virginia, to his friend in Washington, dated the 22d January, 1808.

"Two caucuses were held here last night, on the subject of the Presidential election, one by the friends of Mr. Madison, and the other by the friends of Mr. Munroe. The result of which was, that there were 134 members of the legislature for Mr. Madison, and 57 for Mr. Munroe. The friends of Mr. Madison formed their electoral ticket and corresponding committees."

A letter from Lisbon, of the 13th Nov. to a gentleman in N. York, says, we have a Russian Squadron here of five sail of the line and two frigates. Four more sail of the line are momentarily expected. We hope to be able to beat off JOHN BULL, if he should attempt to come Copenhagen over us.

A letter received by a mercantile house from their correspondents abroad, informs that "tobacco is 20 dollars at Cadiz, and 16 dollars at Amsterdam and rising." In Virginia it may be purchased at 20s.

Another letter mentions that Barbies and Ile of France cotton is selling for 80 cents at Nantz and rising. Here it may be bought at 20 cents and quilt at that.

The British armed schooner in Hampton Roads has dispatched for Mr. ROSE, and is to proceed immediately to Annapolis. [Norfolk Herald, Jan. 23.]

All British seamen have been discharged from the service of the U. States in armed vessels lying in the port of New-York.

The senate of Virginia has rejected by 13 votes to 6, the proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States, concerning the Federal judiciary.

Recipe to keep arms bright and clean.

M. Contee has discovered a method of preventing the oxydation (rusting) of iron and steel. This consists in mixing with oil varnish, at least one half, or at most four-fifths of highly rectified spirits of turpentine, according to the greater or less degree of durability intended to be produced by it. This varnish is to be lightly and evenly applied with a sponge, and the article put in a place free from dust. Articles so varnished are said to retain their metallic texture and never contract the smallest spot of rust.

SUMMARY.

OUR mails furnish us with London dates down to the 27th November. Mr. Forbes, our consul at Hamburg, has issued a circular, warning all American captains from entering the ports on the river Elbe, Jade and Weser, as all American vessels had been STOPPED, and American property in those ports SEIZED. A Russian fleet arrived at Lisbon, all British property in Portugal confiscated, the prince regent of Portugal had his fleet in readiness with every thing on board, prepared to embark for the Brazils, in case of a domiciliary visit of the French armies at Lisbon. Letters received at New-York, by the brig Fame, (which escaped in the night) from Bremen, state, that an embargo had existed there against all American vessels, and that none of them are permitted to sail but in ballast, lest they should go to England. There was between the United States and France was looked for as certain. Capt. Urry, arrived at Bolton from Leghorn, which he left October 14; the Americans there had addressed a memorial to general Armstrong complaining of their detention by Buonaparte's decrees, under the pretence of having cargoes of British growth or manufacture, praying his influence for their liberation. News of the embargo in the United States is said to have been received at the Havanna on the 7th ult. There was then falling at twelve dollars, but it was expected that it would rise shortly to thirty dollars. The death of Lord Grey, and the intended resignations of Lord Castlereagh and the duke of Portland, a new change in the British ministry will take place; Messrs. Wellesly to be the premier. A severe frost laid a half of the crops of potatoes—they were falling from 50 shillings to £.5 the tun; oat meal not to be had; wheat advancing; but prospects of supply, were a scarcity anticipated. Sir J. W. Craig, governor of Canada, has issued orders, dated Quebec, December, for the arrest of a Frenchman, of the name of Canau, or Canino, for attempting to stir up the Canadians to a revolt.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT.

By the arrival of the Swedish schooner Wolf from Charleston, via Norfolk, we have been politely favoured with a perusal of the Norfolk Ledger of Tuesday last, from which we make the following important extracts. London dates are down to the 4th of December by the arrival of the Powhatan, 47 days from London.

The papers of Dec. 4, contain the declaration of war against England by Russia. In this Russia enumerates her causes of complaint, among which are the apathy of Britain in the concerns of the late contest, which herself had kindled, and her violation of the neutrality of Denmark. The emperor of Russia calls his minister from the British court—sends to the British minister, and declares that he abrogates every act hitherto concluded between Great-Britain and Russia, and particularly the convention concluded in 1801. He proclaims anew the principles of the armed neutrality, that monument of the wisdom of the empress Catharine, and binds himself never to recede from that system.

[Id.]

NORFOLK, Jan. 25.

We have confined our extracts for this paper principally to the official documents relative to war and commerce.—War between Russia and Great-Britain has been officially announced, and it may possibly be followed by every continental power, not excepting Austria, and even Sweden. At the same time the continent is in a very agitated state, from the new and extraordinary decrees and orders of the great belligerent powers.

We have had only time to give a very hasty perusal to our papers, from which we notice that the king of Portugal is yet undecided, but from an article in the Paris Moniteur, we conclude that Portugal has fallen under the displeasure of France for permitting the English property to leave that country. Spain is in the most distracted state, the late confederacy supposed to be no longer more than a contrivance to give a new dynasty to that country.

The Russian fleet, or rather a part of it, after leaving Gibraltar put into the Tagus, more it is believed from accident than design, and owing to tempestuous weather. Three of the Russian ships parted from those that went into the Tagus, and had not been heard of after the gale.

Sir Sidney Smith had arrived before Lisbon, and another British division was on the point of sailing for the same place, but for what object the London prints differ much.

The British forces are stated to have evacuated Egypt and Sicily.

Provisions in Portugal were very scarce and dear, flour was at sixteen dollars and two-thirds per bushel, and likely to rise.

Letters from Holland to England, stated that serious disputes had arisen between our minister at Paris, Mr. Armstrong, and the French government, on account of the latter having demanded that the United States should exclude British commerce from their ports; That Mr. Armstrong had renewed his advice to the masters of American vessels to quit the ports of France and Holland, without delay.

The ascendancy of French power, is at length the following official communication, addressed to the lord

"My Lord—I have the honour to inform you that dispatches have been received from the Russian ambassador at the court, by which it appears, that having published a declaration, the Russian ambassador at the court; and not only a British mission at the court, but also a British mission at the court, now on his way home, communicating this intelligence, that it may be made

"I have the honour to be, Sir, your obedient servant."

(Signed) To the right hon. lord. The above information was given by Mr. Wilton, who arrived yesterday morning from St. Petersburg, and was immediately sent forward during several hours, and sent off from the ad-

CERTIFICATES.

I have examined Mr. Biddis's Sago, and am of opinion, it is of an excellent quality, and do hereby recommend it as a pleasant and suitable article of diet for sick people.

RENJAMIN RUSH, M. D.

I have examined the Powder of Mr. John Biddis: it appears that it contains the greatest quantity of nutritive fecula that can be extracted from the common potatoe; it must therefore be an excellent substitute for vegetable food, to delicate, weak, and sickly persons, who are obliged to have recourse to more expensive and imported sago, tapioca, arrow-root, &c. I think this discovery deserves to be encouraged, and made profitable to him, and useful to the public.

FELIX PASCALIS, M. D.

We do hereby certify, that having carefully examined the Sago-powder prepared by Mr. Biddis, from the solanum tuberosum, or common Potatoe, and compared it with the patent sago-powder of Bowen, we conceive the former to be in several respects superior, and in none inferior to the latter. The superiority of Mr. Biddis's sago-powder consists, principally, in its uncommon elegance, and the facility with which it may be converted into a fine vegetable jelly. The advantages which must necessarily result to the people of the United States, from the manufacture of an article so valuable, constitute its best recommendation to public patronage.

LATE IMPORTANT NEWS.

Mercury office, (New Bedford,) Jan. 30, 1808, 10 P. M.

WAR WITH ALGIERS.

Arrived this evening, the fast sailing ship Honestus, captain Nathan Clark, 42 days from the Downs. Left London about the 11th December, for the Mediterranean. Off Cape Trafalgar, spoke a British ship of war, who informed, that Algiers had declared WAR against America, and had captured a number of vessels; in consequence, went into Tangiers for further information; and on application, to the American consul, the account of war was fully confirmed; and a letter handed by the consul to captain Clark—a copy of which is given below.

In consequence of this information, captain Clark left Tangier for America 1st instant—touched at Madeira on the 9th, and found it in the hands of the English; they having taken possession of it on the 25th December.

THE LETTER.

Tangiers, Dec. 31.

Sir,

"The belief of the Algerines having commenced hostilities on the flag of the U. States, is founded on the declaration under oath of captain Ichabod Sheffield, of the schooner Mary Ann, of New-York, made at Naples; which states, that his vessel and the brig Violet, of Bolton, was captured on the 26th October,* by an Algerine frigate of 44 guns. Capt. Sheffield adds, that he had heard the same frigate had taken an American ship and schooner a few days before his vessel.—He was fortunate enough to overpower the Turks put on board the Mary Anne, and arrived at Naples on the 4th November.† This intelligence appears fully confirmed by the advice received at Gibraltar, on the 21st instant from Oran, of nine American vessels having been carried into Algiers, which Mr. Gavino has acquainted me. Under these circumstances, it is my decided opinion, your determination not to proceed up the Mediterranean is perfectly right; and I beg you make this known to every American vessel you may meet at sea.

"With this is a letter for consul Cathcart, at Madeira; if you can conveniently leave it there, or put it on board of any vessel bound to that island, it may be productive of happy consequences. I also deliver you a dispatch for the hon. the secretary of state, which I have to request you will put into the hands of the post-master, at the first port you may be able to make in the United States.

"I wish you a safe and speedy voyage, and am, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

JAMES THOMPSON.

Capt. Nathan Clark,

Ship Honestus, Tangier bay."

* Capt. Clark saw capt. Sheffield's declaration, and is confident that there is a mistake in this date; it was 26th November † Dec. 4th, in the original.

From our last mails we make the following interesting summary in addition to the news we have already published in this day's paper.

The court of Sweden has concluded an armistice with France to last till May. In consequence of the war with Russia, cordage in England had risen ten pounds sterling per ton. Accounts say that Buonaparte intends procuring a divorce from his present cara sposa, who is to be invested with the crown of Italy; after which Buonaparte is to marry the sister of the emperor Alexander of Russia, and to assume the title of Emperor of the West, likewise Constantine, the Russian emperor's brother to be seated at Constantinople, with the title of the Emperor of the East.

Lucien Buonaparte to be installed king of Spain and Portugal. It was said, in the Russian capital, upon the authority of the French general Savary, that Buonaparte intends shortly the invasion of Great Britain with 300,000 men. Wool is prohibited to be exported from Spain to any part of the British dominions. Three thousand French and Spanish troops are said to be quartered in Hamburg, whose maintenance costs the city 4,000,000 marks per month. The French are reported to be in possession of Lisbon. The British government have decided, that in future no foreigner can enter any part of the united kingdom unless previously furnished with a passport. The seeds of discord are said to have entered the British cabinet on the affair of Copenhagen, two of the principal secretaries having ceased to have with each other any except official intercourse.

On the 18th of December, in lat. 44, 30, long. 14, capt. Drysdale, (arrived at Charleston) spoke the British government brig Redwing, one of Sir Sidney Smith's Squadron, who informed him, that the Portuguese fleet having on board the royal family of Portugal, sailed from the Tagus on the 22d of November, bound to the Brazils. The fleet consisted of 9 sail of the line, 4 frigates and two brigs, accompanied with 4 sail of British line of battle ships.

Dispatches from Mr. Pinkney, our minister at London to the secretary of state, were brought out in the Suffolk, arrived at New-York, and have been forwarded to Washington by mail.

Mr. Boileau's resolution to amend the constitution of the United States, so as to take from congress and the legislature of all the states the right to pass laws for the importation of slaves, has passed the house of representatives of Pennsylvania by a very large majority—there were 11 in the negative.

A highly interesting report has been laid before the legislature of Pennsylvania, by a committee appointed for that purpose, on the subject of "roads and inland navigation." The report authorises the governor to subscribe for a large number of shares in the several turnpike companies now established, and appropriates thirty thousand dollars per ann. as a continual fund for similar purposes!

The following resolution was laid on the table of the house of representatives of Pennsylvania by N. B. Boileau on the 23d ult.

"Whereas the making of roads, improving the navigation of rivers, and cutting canals, is highly conducive to the promotion of the manufactural interests of every country, particularly those situated like the U. States, embraces such a diversity of climate, affords such a variety of productions, intersected by so many streams of navigable water, that if properly improved, it would furnish to its inhabitants, all the necessities and most of the luxuries of life, independently of any other nation.—The benefits to be derived from such improvements are evident even in times of peace—but, in the event of war, they become more peculiarly important, and interesting. An attention to this subject is worthy of the legislature of every state, in order to promote their individual state interests; nor is it less worthy to the notice of the general government, to promote the safety and interest of the Union.—For in case of invasion, the more easily, expeditiously, and safely the several states can have a communication with each other, the greater will be their security, and the effects of war, and whereas an effort has been made, by a private company, by means of a canal, to connect the bays of the Chesapeake and Delaware, which if carried into effect, would be of immense advantage to the states contiguous to and through which it would pass—But as to complete the design upon a plan sufficiently extensive to be of utility to the Union, is probably beyond the resources of a private company, or even the powers, or resources of an individual state, the legislature of Pennsylvania feel justified in requesting the congress of the U. S. to turn their attention to an object, which is conceived to be of great national importance. Therefore Resolved, by the senate and house of representatives of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania; That the senators of this state, in the congress of the U. S. be instructed, and the representatives thereof, be requested to use their influence to procure such aid from the general government, as to insure the completion of the contemplated canal, between the bays of the Chesapeake and Delaware, upon a plan commensurate with the national magnitude of the object."

An act passed the house of representatives of the state of Pennsylvania unanimously on Wednesday, the 3d inst. declaring masked balls or masquerades a public nuisance, and inflicting a fine, not exceeding 1000 dolls. on any person who shall set on foot, attend, or be present thereat in masques or otherwise, upon legal conviction in any court of quarter sessions, or of oyer and terminer and general gaol delivery; and to give security for good behaviour for twelve months thereafter.

However incredible it may appear, we have it from good authority, that major REX, a notary public of Charleston, made lately 1200 dollars, in the course of one day, by protesting notes!!!

To the Editor of the Mercantile Advertiser.

Sir,

"The merchants who have flax-seed ought to sell it to our farmers—they will find more profit by raising flax and hemp, by three fold, than any other produce. None can come from Europe. It must bear a very high price. The present embargo operates as a bounty.—Where ground is rich, hemp is preferable. If the embargo ceases before the season for sending ships to Russia (which is very improbable) there will always be a demand for it.—It is to be lamented that the general government have not yet granted a large bounty on our hemp, &c. there can be no doubt that, from its importance in a national point of view, it will be done in a very few days."

From Washington.

The supreme court of the U. S. commenced its session at the seat of government on the 1st February. Chief justice Marshall, judges Chase, Washington, Livingston, Cushing and Moore, attended.

Mr. Pinkney, the American ambassador, it is said, has had a private conference with Mr. Canning, on the subject of the late orders in council; at which Mr. Pinkney, gave it as his opinion, that his government would immediately direct an embargo to be laid on their shipping.

"This day the question was taken on a general postponement of the impeachment of the governor, and carried—yeas 44, nays 41, Abraham McKinney was absent."

Twenty-nine witnesses have been examined in the cases of the U. States, against Aaron Burr and Herman Blannerhaffett. The grand jury have not yet made a return to the bills laid before them by Mr. Creighton, the district attorney, in the above cases. It will probably be made in the course of to-morrow.

The grand-jury lately empanelled at Charleston, have found bills of indictment against Aaron Burr and Herman Blannerhaffett, for a misdemeanor. A detailed account of the proceedings of the court will be given next week.

EXTRACTS OF LETTERS.

FRANCE, Nov. 14.

"You would be astonished were you to witness the progress of the woollen and silk manufactures, and the incredible success and increase of those of cotton in France. Since about three years, the consumption of cotton-wool has increased near three fold, and it is impossible to say in what proportion this increase will progress, if we continue to receive this raw material with facility, and in the proportions in which it is wanted.

"France has consumed, for the last two years, upwards of 65,000 bales of Brazil cotton, (each bale containing 120 lbs. neat French wt.) imported from Lisbon, in the following proportions; 30,000 bales at Nantz, 10,000 at Cherbourg, and 5,000 at Antwerp and Bordeaux.

November 13.

"The prince regent of Portugal by closing his ports against the English has had no effect on the remitting spirit of the court of St. Cloud. His majesty's minister to its dictates has been thought to be too tardy, and an order was issued and has been already executed here to imprison all Portuguese subjects, and to confiscate their vessels, merchandise and freight. No alternative is now left to the prince regent, but to embark for Brazil, which he undoubtedly will do, and the valuable productions of that rich country will hence forward go direct to England. France, of course, must now look anxiously for her future supply of cotton to the U. States, from whence she will need annually from 30 to 40,000 additional bales.

EAST-INDIES.

MORADABAD, April 15, 1807.

The Northern division of this district is at present so much infested by Tygers, that we daily hear of men, women, children and cattle, falling a prey to that ferocious inhabitant of the Jungle.

"Mr. Lloyd, the collector of this district, has lately made an excursion in that direction, on his annual circuit. This gentleman distinguished for his humanity and domestic good qualities, is also famed in the field, for his address and dexterity as a sportsman. At the entreaties of the suffering villagers he has encountered and killed, single handed, 28 full grown Tygers, within the short space of one week. Ten of that number he killed in three days, one of which measured 18 feet 4 inches in length, and otherwise in proportion.

"It has been asserted and generally supposed the Tyger never gives chase to a man, unless he be attacked. A very daring instance to the contrary of this assertion, lately occurred to Mr. Lloyd, who while taking an evening drive in his buggy discovered a Tyger of immense size, prowling on the skirts of the Jungle, about 2 miles from his camp. Being unarmed he immediately turned his horse homeward and upon looking back, discovered the monster making towards him with all his speed. Mr. Lloyd continued to retreat as quick as his horse could gallop, the Tyger persevering in the pursuit, and was rapidly gaining ground, when alarmed at the report of a musket fired in the camp, he gave up the chase and took into an adjoining thicket. Mr. Lloyd went next morning in quest of his foe, and found him not far distant from his hiding place of the former night. The Tyger immediately made towards the Elephant allowing him to advance within thirty yards, when Mr. Lloyd levelled his piece and brought him down with the first shot. This Tyger measured 9 feet 11 inches in length."

Eye Knell.

Departed this life, on Thursday the 4th inst. Mrs. SUSAN WELLS, consort of William Wells, Merchant, of this city, in the 48th year of her age—she was an excellent woman and a kind mother, possessed of every amiable quality—she died with the term of all who knew her, and left a numerous family to regret her death.

So gentle and so good, that what was bad, Alike her pardon and her hatred had— Gracious to all, but where her love was due, So kind, so faithful, and so strictly true, That a bold hand as soon might hope to force The rolling Lights of Heaven from their course, Some happy Angel that beholds her there, Takes the lov'd mortal to its friendly care— And when this cloud of sorrow's overblown, Thro' the wide world her Virtues shall be known, Let dark oblivion and the hollow grave, Content themselves our frail thoughts to have; A virtuous mind is never taught to die, But with our nobler parts invades the sky— Then let us drop the last relieving tear— She is not dead! She ceases to appear!

CERTIFICATES.

I have examined Mr. Biddis's Sago, and am of opinion, it is of an excellent quality, and do hereby recommend it as a pleasant and suitable article of diet for sick people.

BENJAMIN RUSH, M. D.

I have examined the Powder of Mr. John Biddis: it appears that it contains the greatest quantity of nutritive fecula that can be extracted from the common potatoe; it must therefore be an excellent substitute for vegetable food, to delicate, weak, and sickly persons, who are obliged to have recourse to more expensive and imported sago, tapioca, arrow-root, &c. I think this discovery deserves to be encouraged, and made profitable to him, and useful to the public.

FELIX PASCALIS, M. D.

We do hereby certify, that having carefully examined the Sago-powder prepared by Mr. Biddis, from the solanum tuberosum, or common Potatoe, and compared it with the patent sago-powder of Bowen, we conceive the former to be in several respects superior, and in none inferior to the latter. The superiority of Mr. Biddis's sago-powder consists, principally, in its uncommon elegance, and the facility with which it may be converted into a fine vegetable jelly. The advantages which must necessarily result to the people of the United States, from the manufacture of an article so valuable, constitute its best recommendation to public patronage.

 Thomas Tongue,

Francis Darnall, Philip Darnall, and Elizabeth Darnall, heirs of Nicholas L. Darnall, deceased.

THE object of the bill filed in this cause is to obtain a decree for the sale of an equitable interest of the deceased in a part of a tract of land, called Cooley's Fancy, for the payment of debts for which the personal estate is alleged to be insufficient. It is stated by the complainant, that Francis Darnall, one of the defendants, who is the eldest son of Nicholas L. Darnall therein mentioned, and would have been his sole heir if the act to direct descents had not taken place, has appeared and answered the said bill, and the appearance of the said Francis Darnall to the said bill being entered on the docket, it is thereupon, on the application of the complainant, adjudged and ordered, that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted at least three weeks successively in the Maryland Gazette before the 20th day of February next, to the end that each of the other heirs of the said Nicholas L. Darnall, who are defendants in the said bill, may have notice of the said bill, and of its substance and object, and may be warned to appear in the chancery court, on or before the 20th day of June next, in person, or by a solicitor, to shew cause, if any they have, wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed.

True copy,
NICHOLAS BREWER,
 Reg. Cur. Can.

Gottenburg accounts state, that the Swedish consul at Copenhagen had been arrested for corresponding with a captain in the English fleet—the Danish consul, in retaliation, has been confined to his house, at Malmo, by the king of Sweden. The prince regent of Portugal carried with him, in his flight to the Brazils, property to the amount of one hundred millions of dollars, thirty millions of which were in specie.

The Paris Argus, of Dec. 10, contains the President's message to congress at the commencement of the present session—the following are the remarks of the editor:

"We have just received American papers to the 30th October. The most important article of their contents is the message sent to congress, at the opening of its session by the president Jefferson. This message gives the most favourable idea of the situation of the United States, and of the improvements made in the finances and policy of the country. It describes in the most lively colours the indignation with which the outrages of the British navy have filled the breasts of the Americans; and announces a determined resolution in the United States not to content themselves with the half satisfaction which the British government offered to them, for the purpose of eluding the difficulties of the moment."

Among the great number of reports more or less curious, which often fill the Gazettes of the north of Germany, the following one particularly attracts attention:—"Thirty-three rich and respectable Hanoverian families, composed of 3000 individuals have agreed on selling their property, and expatriating themselves.—These emigrants go neither to Russia nor to America, their intention is to go to settle in the Canary islands, and to transport to this delicious climate their industry and information. It is said that all the preparations are already made, and that they are secure of a favourable reception; the first materials necessary for their establishment, and even of a small mercantile flotilla. The small colony means to have no ecclesiastical establishment. A strict course of morals, and natural history will form the basis of education. A disciple of M. Pitalozzi, and some mathematicians, will accompany the colonists."

From Bayonne.

Yesterday arrived the brig Dearborne, captain Maccay, in 63 days from Bayonne, who states, that a considerable army of French troops passed through that place for the interior of Spain and for Portugal, commanded by general Oudinot. [Boston paper.]

From a London paper of December 13.

The intelligence of the week is of more than common interest—American papers have been received which contain the speech of the president of the United States upon the meeting of congress—it is not in the tone of conciliation or ordinary temperance; it is the speech of a man, who seems to think a quarre unavoidable—and, as such, contemplates it as a matter rather of congratulation than as a political misfortune.

If such be the feelings in America before the late proclamations in our Gazette have reached them—we may easily conjecture how much their resentment will rise upon the sight of these commercial interdictions.
If the public mind was even now wavering, these orders would most assuredly fix it; the door will be thus shut upon accommodation, and war must be inevitable.

Boston, January 29.

INSURRECTION.

We are sorry to learn, by the Kennebeck Gazette, that an opposition of the Plymouth Grant, in the county of Kennebeck, has assumed a shape so formidable, as to require the interference of military power. As the deputy sheriff, Mr. Johnson, was passing through Fairfax, a person dressed in an Indian garb, demanded his papers. He declared he had no writs of ejectment; notwithstanding this, the fellow returned to his party, and one of them followed him into every house he entered through the day. In the evening in the town of Fairfax he was again required to deliver his papers. On refusing, a double loaded musket was discharged upon him, his horse killed, and he received two balls, happily neither proved fatal.

Two other men have been stripped by these rebels, and this spirit of opposition has become so outrageous, that Mr. Lithgow, the high sheriff, has demanded of maj. gen. Sewal, 400 of the militia, who have accordingly been ordered to be ready at a moment's warning, to support, and defend the civil authority.

PORTUGAL.

NORFOLK, February 2.

Captain Dorman, of the Bremen barque Bremen, arrived here on Saturday last, from St. Ube's, which place he left on the 30th of November. On the 5th December, captain Dorman fell in with, and was boarded from the Portuguese ship Triumpho Americano, capt. Joaquim Joze Franco, one of the fleet from Lisbon bound to Brazils, from whom capt. D. derived the important information, that the French troops had entered Portugal, and would probably be in Lisbon by the 6th or 7th of Dec. and that on the 30th of Nov. the Prince, with the royal family, and many of the nobles, embarked and sailed for Brazil.
They were met at the mouth of the Tagus by an English fleet of men of war and transports; the latter probably for the purpose of taking a part of the persons who had embarked in the fleet. All English persons and property had got off by some means;
thus completely disappointing the French government, who no doubt calculated upon considerable booty.
The commander of the English fleet off Lisbon had not been apprised of the part which Russia had taken in the war, or it is probable the Russian fleet at Lisbon would have been compelled to depart also; they however remained with their new allies, and whether the English will make any attempt to take them out or not, will depend on the strength of the batteries in the Tagus. The English fleet were off the mouth of that river on the 5th December.

Before capt. D. left St. Ube's, public notice had been given to the troops, of the intended departure of the prince for the Brazils, in which the option of going or remaining in Portugal was given.

February 4.

Captain King of the ship Intrepid of this port, arrived here yesterday from Waterford. Captain K.
was originally bound to St. Ube's, but on the 24th of December, off Lisbon, was boarded from his Britan-nic majesty's ship Conqueror of 74 guns, the fleet under the command of admiral Sir Sidney Smith, then within hail in the Hibernia of 120 guns. The officer who boarded the Intrepid, informed capt. K. that the French having possession of St. Ube's, and indeed of all Portugal, he could not go in, endorsed his register, and turned him off.

This officer further informed captain King, that the prince regent, with the royal family, left the Tagus on the 30th of November, as stated in our last.
The approach of the French army was so rapid, that the fleet came out very short of provisions, with which they were furnished from the British fleet.
Sir Sidney Smith sent four sail of the line with the Portuguese fleet to Brazil. The Russian fleet was still in the Tagus, the batteries being too strong to permit an attack to be made upon it.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT.

BOSTON, February 6.

POSTSCRIPT.

Centinel Office, Midnight, Feb. 5-6.

WE have this moment received, by express from Salem, the following happy intelligence, on which we congratulate the public, and thank our friend.

Salem, Friday evening, 9 o'clock.

Dear Russel,

I have but a moment to snatch to send you the enclosed, knowing the importance to you, at this hour, of any occurrence that can afford relief. The ship Packet, captain Chafe, has just arrived from Malaga—left there January 7th—brings copies of the enclosed letters from Mr. Lear, which it is well known you will receive with great pleasure. Convinced of which, I thought it best, immediately to dispatch the bearer to you, express.

Your's sincerely,

J. DABNEY.

[CIRCULAR.]

Algiers, December 16, 1807.

SIR,

You have undoubtedly before this, heard that 3 American vessels had been detained by a frigate of this place, in consequence of the annuities for two years past not having been paid by the United States in naval stores, as stipulated by treaty, notwithstanding the amount thereof has been repeatedly offered in cash.

These vessels are the ship Eagle, of New-York, Nathaniel Thader, master; brig Violet, of Boston, James Merret, master; schooner Mary Anne, of New-York, Sheffield, master.

The people on board the vessels have been treated very well, and no pillage of any kind has been committed.

I have now the honour to inform you, that I have adjusted this business with the Dey, who has received the amount of two years annuities due in cash, and the vessels are liberated; and that our commerce will receive no further molestation from the cruizers of this regency.

I pray you will have the goodness to give this as much publicity as possible, for the benefit of all concerned.

I have the honour to be, sir, yours, &c.

TOBIAS LEAR.

December 17, 1807.

P. S. We have this moment heard by an arrival from Leghorn, that the schooner before mentioned has arrived in Naples, having been retaken by the captain and part of the crew left on board, who threw overboard four of the captors, and put four others in the boat to shift for themselves.

I have myself received no advice of this, and on application to the Dey, who first sent me the information, he assures me that it shall not alter the arrangement made yesterday, and that our vessels may navigate without fear or molestation.

At present all their cruizers are in port.

I have the honour to be, &c.

TOBIAS LEAR.

Extract of a letter of a late date from an American gentleman at Cadix, to his friend in this city.

The report of the day is, that the emperor Napoleon has demanded that the prince of Asturias shall espouse the niece of the empress Josephine, and that in case of his refusal, war will be declared by France against Spain. There is a large number of French troops in Spain, and it is believed are only waiting for a pretext, to take possession of the government. The distress among the poor is beyond description, and every day growing worse. [Phil. pap.]

From a Paris paper of December 5.

By letters from L'Orient, of the 28th Nov. we learn that his majesty's frigate Cybelle had arrived there from America, last from Chesapeake bay.

Five Dollars Reward.

A TOW BOAT lost, about ten days ago, off Poplar Island, and was supposed to be seen considerably up the bay afterwards, she is fourteen feet long, with a white bottom, and black and yellow mouldings, with green stern, and a ring bolt in each end. Any person taking up said boat, and delivering her to JOSEPH SANDS, Annapolis, or securing her so that the subscriber, living on West river, gets her again, shall receive the above reward.

THOMAS NORRIS, of THOMAS.

January 26, 1808.

A Runaway.

COMMITTED to my custody as a runaway negro man named CALEB, who says he belongs to GEORGE CHILDRESS, of Georgia, he appears to be about 23 years of age, 5 feet 7½ inches high, of a slender make, has several scars on each of his wrists; his cloathing is a round cloth jacket, of nabrigs shirt, striped cotton trousers, and coarse hat. His owner is desirous to take him away, or he will be sold for his expences agreeable to law.

JOHN M'WILLIAMS, Sheriff of St. Mary's county.

October 10, 1807.

Saint-John's College.

THE present situation of Saint-John's College is such, as to offer to the friends of science the pleasing prospect of its future respectability. The visitors and governors of this seminary have recently new modelled and placed it under the superintendence of the Rev. Bethel Judd, A. M. formerly of Yale College, in Connecticut, who is professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, and will reside in the College; there are also a Professor of Languages, and a teacher of the Grammar School. The building is large and commodious, situated in a retired part of Annapolis, the metropolis of Maryland, and one of the most pleasant and healthy cities in America. As the legislature and supreme courts hold their sessions at this place, it is the resort of people of the first respectability. The college possesses a philosophical apparatus surpassed by none in America. The price of tuition is fifteen pounds per annum. Students can be accommodated with board, including lodging, washing, and other conveniences, for fifty pounds per annum.

When we consider that Saint-John's College possesses so many advantages, without any of the disadvantages incident to commercial places, we trust that we have some reason to expect public patronage; but knowing that the only criterion of judging is "by the fruits produced," we invite an investigation of the rules and regulations, and of the improvement of the youth belonging to the college, for the farther satisfaction of those persons who may think it worthy of their attention.

The following regulations have been adopted:

There shall be four classes in the college, viz. the Noviciate, the Sophomore, Junior and Senior.

To the college shall be annexed a grammar school, in which shall be taught the various branches of English, and the Latin and Greek Languages, preparatory to an admission into the Noviciate class.

No student shall be admitted into the Noviciate class unless he can construe and parse Caesar's Gallic War, Salust, Virgil, and the Greek Testament.

The Noviciate class shall study Horace, Cicero's Orations, Lucien, Homer, Arithmetic and Algebra.

The Sophomore class shall study Juvenal, Xenophon, Demosthenes, Euclid, Surveying, Trigonometry and Navigation.

The Junior class shall study Tully's Offices, Epictetus, Logic, Astronomy, Fluxions, Conic Sections, Geography and Natural Philosophy.

The Senior class shall study Grotius de Veritate, Longinus, Blais Lectures, Moral Philosophy, Locke on the Human Understanding and Vattel's Law of Nations.

It shall be the duty of the professor of languages to make the students in the college constantly review their prior classical studies at such periods as he may find most convenient.

All the students shall attend prayers both Morning and Evening.

All the classes shall recite at least three times each day.

A due proportion of time shall be devoted to composition and speaking.

A lecture, either moral or literary, shall be delivered by the principal, or one of the professors, on every fourth Saturday morning.

There shall be annually two public examinations and exhibitions, one at or about the time of commencement, which shall always be on the fourth Wednesday in July, the other on the fourth Wednesday in December.

Every student shall attend public worship at such place as his parents or guardian shall in writing direct, and if no such direction be given, he shall attend such place of worship as the principal may appoint. No student shall be guilty of profane swearing, indecent conversation, gaming, drunkenness, frequenting taverns or houses of public entertainment, rude behaviour or any thing immoral.

No student shall purchase any thing on credit without permission of his parent or guardian, unless the principal shall think it necessary.

It shall be the duty of the principal to examine all compositions written, and all speeches intended to be delivered, and expunge every expression therefrom, that might give just cause of offence to any party, religious or political.

It shall be the duty of the professors to set good examples to the students, to treat them with parental tenderness and affection, to pay strict attention to the students committed to their care, particularly those from abroad, that they have every accommodation necessary to their comfort and health.

If any student shall offend in any respect against the rules and regulations of this seminary, he may be punished by moderate correction, admonition, talks, solitary confinement or expulsion, provided that no one shall be expelled without the consent of a board of visitors, and that no corporal punishment be inflicted upon any in the three higher classes.

If any student shall injure the college building or its appertences, he shall pay twice the expense of repairs.

There shall be two vacations in each year, one of two weeks, commencing on the twenty-fourth of December, the other from the fourth Wednesday of July to the second Monday of September.

The tuition money shall be paid by every student quarterly.

NICHOLAS CARROLL, President of the board of visitors and governors of Saint-John's College.

N. B. The price of tuition in the English school is ten pounds per annum. February 13, 1808.

ON application, by petition, of WILLIAM SMALLWOOD TILLARD, administrator of Thomas Tillard, late of Anne-Arundel county, deceased, it is ordered, that he give the notice required by law for creditors to exhibit their claims against the said deceased, and that the same be published once in each week, for the space of six successive weeks, in the Maryland Gazette, Annapolis, and the National Intelligencer, at the city of Washington.

JOHN GASSAWAY, Reg. Wills for Anne-Arundel county.

legged, stoops as he walks, has short wool, and is fond of strong liquor; he is upwards of 30 years of age; his clothing unknown; he may change his name, harboured either at Mr. Fielder Gantt's, or maj.

has relations. Whoever takes up said negro, and brings him home, or secures him in gaol, so that I

In CHANCERY, February 5, 1808.

Thomas Sellman,

against

Dennis Battee, and others, heirs at law of John Battee.

THE object of the bill in this cause filed, is to obtain from the defendants a conveyance of three tracts of land, in Anne-Arundel county, called Burrage, Burrage's Blossom, and Burrage's End;
the bill states, that John Battee, in his life-time, gave his bond to a certain Leonard Sellman, in the penalty of two thousand pounds current money, for the conveyance of said land, that said bond was affirmed by Leonard Sellman to the complainant, that the whole of the purchase money has been paid to said Battee, that the complainant has had peaceable possession of the property since the assignment, and that Dennis Battee, one of the defendants, is out of the state of Maryland, beyond the jurisdiction of this court. It is thereupon, this 5th day of February, 1808, by William Kilty, chancellor, and by the authority of this court, adjudged and ordered, that the complainant cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Maryland Gazette, at least three successive weeks before the 5th day of March next, warning the said Dennis Battee that he be and appear in this court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 5th day of July next, to shew cause why a decree should not pass as prayed.

ODE ON WINTER.

STERN Winter comes to bid us mourn,
And lays the face of nature bare;
His voice on wings of wind is borne,
He brings ten thousand forms of care.

A growing tempest veils the sky;
The moon is hurried through the clouds;
Now light, now dark, she passes by;
The angry storm the stars enshrouds.

Hark! the wind among the trees,
The savage hides within his cave;
Wild uproar rages on the seas;
The sailor trembles on the wave.

Soft to my chamber I retire;
A thousand gloomy thoughts prevail;
I draw the chair and stir the fire,
And listen to the passing gale.

A spirit on its wings I hear,
That sternly says, or seems to say,
Remember, man, the time is near,
The time that calls thee hence away.

From the fair fields of life and pride,
Thy wand'ring soul is doom'd to fly,
To worlds far distant, wild, and wide;
Think, Oh! how awful 'tis to die.

Thus, every gale that rudely blows,
Brings a memento to the mind,
And terror more gigantic grows,
And aims a dart with every wind.

Great Author of this awful scene!
Thy works with wonder I adore,
Teach me to think on what has been,
And what it is to be no more.

A THOUGHT.

There are many, who by arithmetic learn to divide every thing into the most minute fractions, yet do not know how to divide a half-penny with a poor afflicted brother, in the way of charity.

In CHANCERY, February 6, 1808.

H. HARWOOD, trustee for the sale of the real

a copy of this order be inserted three successive weeks in the Maryland Gazette before the 5th day of March next.

THE object of the bill in this cause filed, is to obtain a decree for the sale of the real estate of John Young, late of Anne-Arundel county, deceased; the bill states, that the said John Young, teen pounds three shillings and a penny, and to the said Gideon White in the sum of thirty-seven pounds

M. and shall remain open between those hours for two days, unless sooner filled; and if it should so happen, that more than the stipulated number of shares should be subscribed on the first day, then the commissioners aforesaid are to apportion them among the subscribers, by deducting from the highest subscriptions, until they are reduced to a proper number, or if more persons subscribe than there are shares, then the commissioners are to cast lots to decide to whom they shall belong; but if the shares should not be all subscribed, in two days, then the commissioners in the different counties, and the city of Annapolis, are to return the remainder, together with the books and what monies they may have received at the time of subscribing, unto the commissioners in Baltimore, within thirty days. And the commissioners will, on deciding to whom the shares may belong, issue receipts to the different stockholders for the monies received by them at the time of subscribing, and these receipts, with the original subscription, shall be deemed good evidence of the quantity of stock to which each subscriber shall be entitled in this company; but no person or persons, bodies corporate or otherwise, shall be permitted to subscribe, on the first day on which the books are opened, for more than twenty shares; and if the stock be not subscribed on the first day, the books are to remain open on the second day, and the commissioners may permit any person or persons, bodies corporate or otherwise, to subscribe for any number of shares, until the whole number is complete, and if the stock be not fully subscribed for on the second day, all the shares at that time unsubscribed for, shall be under the direction of the commissioners at Baltimore, or the directors when chosen, to be disposed of by them for the interest of the institution.

The commissioners in Baltimore shall forthwith deposit, in one of the banks of the city, subject to the order of the president and directors of the company when chosen, all the money so received and retained, after deducting the expenses attendant on the subscription, and the previous meetings.

If any stockholder shall fail to pay his, her or their instalments, to the amount of ten dollars on each share, at the time or times, and in manner herein before specified, such stockholder shall forfeit, to the use of the company all money paid antecedent to such failure or default; but no forfeiture shall take place after ten dollars on each share shall have been paid; but as it is requisite that means should be taken to secure the regular payment of after calls, therefore, if any stockholder shall fail to make regular payment of any instalment or call after ten dollars have been paid, such stockholder shall not be entitled to any dividend until such instalment or call shall be made good; and the dividend thereafter to be paid to such stockholder, (as well upon the money by him regularly paid, as upon the money paid after default,) shall be calculated only from the time when the last instalment was made good.

The first general meeting of the stockholders for the choice of directors shall be held at such time and place as shall be appointed and publicly notified by the commissioners in Baltimore for receiving subscriptions to the company's stock. And for every meeting thereafter there shall be a general meeting of the stockholders for the purpose aforesaid, on the first Monday in May, annually, at such place in Baltimore as the president and directors for the time being shall appoint.

At the said first general meeting, and at every annual general meeting to be held thereafter, as aforesaid, there shall be chosen by the stockholders, by ballot, twelve directors, to serve until successors to them be chosen.

In the choice of directors, and in all other cases, the number of votes to which each stockholder shall be entitled, shall be in proportion to the stock he may hold, as follows, viz: for one share and not exceeding two shares, one vote each; for every two shares above two and not exceeding ten, one vote; for every four shares above ten and not exceeding thirty, one vote; for every six shares above thirty and not exceeding sixty, one vote; for every eight shares over sixty and not exceeding one hundred, one vote; and for every ten shares above one hundred, one vote; but no person or persons, body politic or otherwise, shall be entitled to a greater number than fifty votes. No share or shares shall confer a right of suffrage which shall not have been held four calendar months previous to the day of election, except at the first election; all stockholders actually resident within the United States, and none other, may vote at elections by ballot, in person or by proxy, which in all elections after the first, is to be made in such form as the board of directors may appoint. None but stockholders, being citizens of the United States, and residing within the city of Baltimore or precincts thereof, shall be eligible as a director or president.

The directors, immediately after their appointment, and so after every subsequent appointment as aforesaid, shall choose, from among the stockholders, by ballot, a president, to serve for one year from the time of his appointment, and until a new election of directors shall take place, and a successor to him shall be appointed; and the said president, and his successor for the time being, shall perform such duties, and receive such compensation for his services, as the directors shall from time to time appoint.

In case of the necessary absence of the president, he may, by writing under his hand, appoint one of the directors, who shall in all respects act for him during his absence, and in default of such appointment, the directors shall have power to appoint a president pro tempore who shall in all things act as president during the said absence.

In case any director shall be chosen president, the remaining directors shall immediately choose by ballot, from among the stockholders, a person to supply his place, and whenever a vacancy shall happen in the office of director or president, by death, resignation, removal from the state, or by any other means, it shall immediately be filled by ballot, by the directors from among the stockholders till the next election in course.

The president and directors shall have power, if to purchase and hold in fee-simple or otherwise, lands and real estates, suitable for the erection of the necessary works, and for the accomplishment of their undertaking, as they shall judge proper.

To prepare or procure, adopt and execute, such plan or plans as they shall think most advantageous and effectual for establishing, carrying on and encouraging, manufactories of all the useful or necessary articles which have heretofore been imported from foreign countries, commencing first with manufactories of cotton and wool, by means of the latest improved labour-saving machines, to be put in motion by water.

To make all by-laws, rules and regulations, necessary for the well ordering and conducting of the business of the company, and such by laws, rules and regulations, to alter, change or annul, at their pleasure, but every such by-law, rule or regulation, may be altered or repealed by the stockholders, at a general meeting to be called for that purpose by any forty or more stockholders; provided that there be present at such general meeting, stockholders holding two thousand shares in the whole, or their proxies, and that eight weeks notice be given in three news-papers printed in the city of Baltimore, one in Frederick-town, one in Hagar's-town, one in the city of Annapolis, and one at Easton, of such meeting, and of the alteration or repeal intended to be proposed thereat.

To appoint and remove at their pleasure all clerks, superintendents, agents or other officers necessary for carrying on the business of the said company, and to fix and pay, out of the funds of the said company, the compensations of all such clerks, superintendents, agents or other officers.

To make such contracts for labour, materials, engines and machines, and all such purchases of lands, tenements or hereditaments, in fee simple or otherwise; and to contract for and obtain in behalf of the said company all such privileges, permissions, rights and advantages, of every kind and nature whatever, as they shall judge necessary for establishing, carrying on and encouraging manufactories, agreeably to the first article of this association, and all necessary conveyances and assurances of the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, privileges, permissions, rights and advantages, to take and receive in trust, for the said company, or otherwise, as they shall judge most proper; and all and any of the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, materials, engines, machines, privileges, permissions, rights and advantages, to sell again, let, hire, or otherwise dispose of, in whole or in part, for the benefit of the said company, in such manner and on such terms and conditions as they shall judge most proper, and all power and needful conveyances, assurances, contracts and deeds therefor, to make and execute.

To receive, use, dispose of and employ, for the purposes aforesaid, or any of them, all the capital stock, money, property and funds, of the said company, of every nature and kind whatever, now or at any time hereafter to be held or claimed, keeping and rendering to the stockholders, at each annual meeting for the choice of directors, a particular account of all stock, property, money and funds, so to be received, expended and disposed of, in the course of the year then next preceding, and of all contracts, purchases, leases, sales and dispositions, so to be made within the same period, which shall at all times be subject to the inspection of the stockholders.

To provide for, and pay out of the revenues and funds of the company, all such annual expenses as it may be necessary to incur, for keeping up, carrying on and encouraging, the said manufactories, or for promoting and carrying on in any manner the business of the company.

To bind by their contracts, deeds and writings, under the hand of the president and the seal of the company, all the property, estate, common stock and joint funds, of the said company, but not the persons or separate property of themselves or any of the stockholders.

To establish rules and regulations for the transfer of the stock of the said company, and for the proof of property and ownership therein.

To call general meetings of the stockholders from time to time, and at such times and for such purposes, as they shall think proper, giving eight weeks notice in three news-papers or more in the city of Baltimore, one in Frederick-town, one in Hagar's-town, one in the city of Annapolis, and one in Easton, of the time, place and purpose of every such meeting respectively, provided that no such meeting shall be competent to the transference of any business whatever unless there be present thereat the holders of two thousand shares at the least, or their proxies.

11th. And generally to do, act and transact, in all things for the said company, relative to the undertaking, common stock and joint property aforesaid, in as full and complete manner as the individual stockholders or subscribers might do were they personally present.

Saint-John's College.

THE present situation of Saint-John's College is such, as to offer to the friends of science the pleasing prospect of its future respectability. The visitors and governors of this seminary have recently new modelled and placed it under the superintendence of the Rev. Bethel Judd, A. M. formerly of Yale College, in Connecticut, who is professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, and will reside in the College; there are also a Professor of Languages and a teacher of the Grammar School. The building is large and commodious, situated in a retired part of Annapolis, the metropolis of Maryland, and one of the most pleasant and healthy cities in America. As the legislature and supreme courts hold their sessions at this place, it is the resort of people of the first respectability. The college possesses a philosophical apparatus surpassed by none in America. The price of tuition is fifteen pounds per annum. Students can be accommodated with board, including lodging, washing, and other conveniences, for fifty pounds per annum.

When we consider that Saint-John's College possesses so many advantages, without any of the disadvantages incident to commercial places, we truly have some reason to expect public patronage; but knowing that the only criterion of judging is "the fruits produced," we invite an investigation of the rules and regulations, and of the improvement of the youth belonging to the college, for the farther satisfaction of those persons who may think it worthy of their attention.

The following regulations have been adopted:

There shall be four classes in the college, viz. the Noviciate, the Sophomore, Junior and Senior.

To the college shall be annexed a grammar school, in which shall be taught the various branches of English, and the Latin and Greek Languages, preparatory to an admission into the Noviciate class.

No student shall be admitted into the Noviciate class unless he can construe and parse Caesar's Gallus, War, Sallust, Virgil, and the Greek Testament.

The Noviciate class shall study Horace, Cicero's Orations, Lucian, Homer, Arithmetic and Algebra.

The Sophomore class shall study Juvenal, Xenophon, Demosthenes, Euclid, Surveying, Trigonometry and Navigation.

The Junior class shall study Tully's Offices, Epictetus, Logic, Astronomy, Fluxions, Conic Sections, Geography and Natural Philosophy.

The Senior class shall study Grotius de Veritate Longinus, Blair's Lectures, Moral Philosophy, Locke on the Human Understanding and Vattel's Law of Nations.

It shall be the duty of the professor of languages to make the students in the college constantly review their prior classical studies at such periods as he may find most convenient.

All the students shall attend prayers both Morning and Evening.

All the classes shall recite at least three times each day.

A due proportion of time shall be devoted to composition and speaking.

A lecture, either moral or literary, shall be delivered by the principal, or one of the professors, on every fourth Saturday morning.

There shall be annually two public examinations and exhibitions, one at or about the time of commencement, which shall always be on the fourth Wednesday in July, the other on the fourth Wednesday in December.

Every student shall attend public worship at such place as his parents or guardian shall in writing direct, and if no such direction be given, he shall attend such place of worship as the principal may appoint.

No student shall be guilty of profane swearing, indecent conversation, gaming, drunkenness, frequenting taverns or houses of public entertainment, riotous behaviour or any thing immoral.

No student shall purchase any thing on credit without permission of his parent or guardian, unless the principal shall think it necessary.

It shall be the duty of the principal to examine all compositions written, and all speeches intended to be delivered, and expunge every expression that might give just cause of offence to any party, religious or political.

It shall be the duty of the professors to set good examples to the students, to treat them with parental tenderness and affection, to pay strict attention to their conduct, to their care, particularly those from abroad, and to see that they have every accommodation necessary to their comfort and health.

If any student shall offend in any respect against the rules and regulations of this seminary, he may be punished by moderate correction, admonition, tasks, solitary confinement or expulsion, provided that no one shall be expelled without the consent of a board of visitors, and that no corporal punishment be inflicted upon any in the three higher classes.

If any student shall injure the college building or its appertences, he shall pay twice the expense of repairs.

There shall be two vacations in each year, one of two weeks, commencing on the twenty-fourth of December, the other from the fourth Wednesday of July to the second Monday of September.

The tuition money shall be paid by every student quarterly.

NICHOLAS CARROLL, President of the board of visitors and governors of Saint-John's College.

Maryland Gazette.

ANNAPOLIS, THURSDAY, February 25, 1808.

THE NEGOTIATION.

WE hear, and we believe the information correct, that a suspension of the negotiation between our government and that of Great-Britain, took place on Thursday. It is said that our government require Mr. Rolfe to specify the reparation his government is willing to make for the attack on the Chesapeake—while Mr. Rolfe has required that our government should previously rescind the proclamation issued on that occasion.—It is presumed, however, that the present aspect of affairs in Europe will induce one of the parties to yield. We sincerely hope that an amicable termination may take place, and it is our opinion that such will be the final issue. [Wash. Fed.]

FROM LEGHORN.

BY the arrival of the ship Louisa, captain Smith, at Baltimore, via Gibraltar, in 44 days from Leghorn, we learn, lord Collingwood and his Squadron had left the Dardanelles and arrived at Malta.

The queen of Etruria had left Florence and gone to Milan, on a visit to the French emperor—hence she goes to Portugal to govern that kingdom. It was currently reported and believed at Leghorn, that Lucien Buonaparte would be advanced to the crown of Etruria.

General Miellis commands at present at Florence.

Copy of the official decree of the emperor Napoleon, respecting neutrals, dated Milan 17th Dec. translated from the Italian, received per the Louisa, from Leghorn.

TRANSLATED FOR THE AMERICAN. NAPOLEON, by the grace of God, and by the constitution, emperor of the French, king of Italy and protector of the confederation of the Rhine. Considering the dispositions decreed by the British government, dated the 14th Nov. last past, which subject the vessels of friendly neutral nations, and also the allies of England, not only to the visit of English cruisers, but even to a particular station in England, and to an arbitrary imposition of a certain per centum on their cargoes to be established by the English legislature:

Considering that by this act, the English government hath deprived of their distinctive national quality (denazionalizzato) the vessels of all the nations of Europe; that it is not in the power of any government to suffer an infringement of its independence and rights—all the sovereigns of Europe being conjointly guaranties of the sovereignty and independence of their flags; that if by an inexcusable weakness, which would be an indelible stain in the eyes of posterity, such tyranny were permitted to become a principle and consecrated by use, the English would thence deduce a claim to establish it into a right, as they have already profited by the toleration of governments, to establish the infamous principle, that the flag does not cover merchandise, and to give to their right of blockade an extension arbitrary and derogatory to the sovereignty of every state: We have decreed, and do decree as follows:

Article I. Every vessel, to whatsoever nation it may belong, which shall have suffered the visit of an English vessel, or shall have submitted to a voyage to England, or shall have paid any duty whatever to the English government, is, for that reason alone, declared to be deprived of her distinctive national quality, has lost the guarantee of her flag, and has become some English property.

II. The above-mentioned vessels thus deprived of their national distinction by the arbitrary measures of the English government, are declared to be good and lawful prizes, as well in case they enter our ports, or those of our allies, as also in case they fall in the power of our vessels of war or privateers.

III. The British islands are declared to be in a state of blockade as well by sea as by land. Every vessel of whatsoever nation or whatsoever be her cargo, coming from the ports of England or from English colonies or from the countries occupied by English troops, is a good prize, as contravening the present decree. They shall be captured by our vessels of war, or by our privateers, and shall be adjudged to the captors.

IV. These measures, which are but a just reciprocity for the barbarous system adopted by the English government, which assimilates its legislation to that of Algiers, shall cease to have their effect with respect to all those nations, which may succeed in compelling the British government to respect their flag. They shall continue to be in force during all such time as this government shall fail to return to the principles of the right of war, which govern the relations of civilized nations in a state of war.

The dispositions of the present decree shall be abrogated, and null in fact, so soon as the English government shall have returned to those principles of the law of nations, which are equally the principles of justice and honour.

V. All ministers are charged with the execution of the present decree, which shall be published, and inserted in the bulletin of the laws.

GIVEN from our royal palace of Milan, the 17th day of December, 1807.

NAPOLEON.

By the emperor and king,

The minister secretary of state,

A. ALDINI.

A letter from Paris, dated Dec. 9, says, "It is expected a general embargo will take place at all the ports in France and its dominions, immediately."

By letters from Mexico, (says the United States Gazette,) we learn, that in case Spain should be subjugated to Buonaparte, the people of that country are ready to throw off the yoke of foreign dominion, and to erect themselves into a distinct and independent nation.

A letter from New-Orleans of the 19th ult. says, "we have just learnt that col. McNeil is appointed by his Britannic majesty, consul for Louisiana, and may shortly be expected here. This is the first time we knew that there was a consul from England for Louisiana. But the information may be relied as it comes in a letter from Mr. Canning."

It gives us pleasure to state that the definitive arrangements have been made for the execution of that part of the treaty with Tripoli that relates to the Ex-Bashaw. His family have been liberated, and sailed from Tripoli on the 13th of October, carrying with them their property, their slaves, and presents from the reigning to the exiled brother.

[Nat. Intel]

The ship Warren, of Baltimore, mounting 20 guns and carrying one hundred men, was taken possession of by the Spanish government, in the harbour of Concepcion, on the 21st of January, 1807, for having contraband goods on board. The 2d and 3d officers, and 12 of the crew of the Warren came home in the Nancy, the remainder of the crew, 80 in number, were in close confinement at Lima—capt. ANDREW STERETT, late commander of the Warren, and captain in the United States navy, died on the passage to Lima, the 9th January, after an illness of 28 days.

[Boston paper.]

We are authorized to state, the apprentices of the ship Warren, seized last year at the port of Concepcion, on the coast of Chili, have arrived in the ship Nancy, captain Burling, at Newport, R. I.

[American.]

Doctor Bullus, late surgeon of the Chesapeake, has been appointed navy agent at New-York.

There are now in the port of Baltimore 65 ships, 42 brigs, and 103 topsail schooners, exclusive of small craft and lighters; and 8 vessels of different dimensions on the stocks besides gun-boats.

DIED, after a few days illness, at Wilmington, (Del.) on Sunday morning the 13th inst. JOHN DICKINSON, Esquire, former president of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and author of the celebrated letters of A Pennsylvania Farmer.—A character venerable for his years, admired for his talents, respected for his virtues, and highly esteemed for his services to his country, in the most arduous and difficult times of the revolution.

HAVANNA, January 22.

The heads of department here, having received advice from his catholic majesty's charge des affaires in the United States, of an expedition being preparing in England, and according to news-paper reports, said to be intended against the Spanish possessions in the bay of Mexico. The most active preparations are making here to repulse the enemy, in the event of their attacking this port or island, by immediately calling out, and properly arming and training all the militia, of every description, which together with the French settlers in the island, and the Spanish planters, merchants and others already trained, will compose a formidable body. The fortifications have already been put in the best state of defence, and are most amply supplied with all warlike stores, to resist a siege, even should it last six months. The department of the marine (besides covering the garrison, and assisting it with men and means, will furnish a considerable number of officers to fill the vacancies that may exist not only in the corps of artillery and engineers, but also in the infantry, have armed and completely fitted forty gun-boats and bomb vessels, provided with ovens for heating shot, with which we shall not only be completely able to defend the lines of our harbour, but also to attack the enemy, should he anchor on the outside. The greatest harmony and military order pervades the whole, and so far from dreading an attack, we rather wish for one.
