BAILEY'S DESPERATE CRIME.

The Grand Jury Finds A True Bill Of Murder—His Trial Set For Monday Week, April 16th—He Will Be Defended By Miles & Stanford.

A true bill, charging murder, was found by the Grand Jury on Wednesday against Goldsborough R. Bailey, and the prisoner was arraigned at the bar. The trial was set for Monday, April 16th. The Grand Jury adjourned Saturday last, having completed its work on the March session of Court, but was re-assembled on Wednesday by order of the Court issued on Monday, following the shooting of Mrs. Laura Ennis at her home by Bailey last Saturday night. The Grand Jury occupied most of the day on Wednesday in the examination of witnesses and sent down the indictment as above stated, in the afternoon.

The testimony before the Grand Jury was conflicting in several particulars and whether murder in the first or second degree, or manslaughter, was committed, will be fixed at Bailey's trial. The Grand Jury made no attempt to define the crime. It was not clearly developed as to the number of times Bailey went to the Ennis home, nor was the testimony showing the intention, if any, very definite. This will be, necessarily, decided largely by circumstantial evidence, and the jury that tries Bailey for his life must settle this point. Bailey has retained attorneys Miles and Stanford to defend him and States Attorney Joseph L. Bailey will conduct the case for the State.

STORY OF THE TRAGEDY.

The scene of the tragedy was at Parkers Mill, about four miles from Salisbury. Bailey's wife, who was before her marriage Miss Henrietta Richardson, had gone to the Ennis home, a short distance from where she lived with her husband, for protection, she stated.

She had been having trouble with him for some time, it is said, and he had driven her from home on several occasions. She spent most of the day on Saturday at the Ennis's, but went back to her own home late in the afternoon to prepare her husband's supper. She returned to the Ennis's just before dark, saying he had driven her away. About 7:30 o'clock Bailey appeared at the Ennis home, and demanded that his wife return home, accused the Ennis's of harboring her, and became very abusive. He was ordered to leave the Ennis's premises and finally did so in a rage. After he had gone the Ennis family tried to persuade Mrs. Bailey to go home.

Here is where the stories differ. One version is that Mrs. Bailey refused to go through fear of her life and that Bailey returned, had an altercation with John Ennis, a son, and went away to come back in a few minutes for the third time, with his gun, a struggle between he and young Ennis resulting, during which the gun was discharged and Mrs. Ennis killed.

Another version presented to the Grand Jury was that Mrs. Bailey started for home but saw her husband coming with the gun and ran back to the Ennis's, thinking Bailey meant to shoot her. This witness testified that Bailey set his gun down under an apple tree and went on to the Ennis home, cursing and swearing and said he could kill the whole family at a cost of not over 25 to 30 cents each. It was further testified that when John Ennis came out and told Bailey to clear out, threatening him with bodily violence, Bailey stepped back to where his gun was lying, picked it up and came toward young Ennis, crying to him to "stand back." He pointed the gun at Ennis, who grabbed it by the barrels, moving it aside a few inches as it was discharged.

Mrs. Ennis, mother of the young man, and Alfred Jones, had followed Ennis into the yard and were standing in the line of fire. Both received a part of the load, Mrs. Ennis in the throat and side of her head, Jones in the left wrist and a stray shot or two striking him in other parts of his body. Mrs. Ennis died where she fell. Jones was not seriously wounded.

Mrs. Ennis knocked Bailey down and took his gun away from him, but in the excitement he was allowed to escape.

It was the intention to hold a birthday celebration in honor of a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ennis that evening and several young people had arrived to attend it, Jones being among the number. After the shooting the party left, the home being turned from one to joy to one of mourning. Jones and another young man drove to Salisbury as quickly as possible for a doctor and to notify the officers. Drs. Slemons and Morris dressed Jones' wounds and Dr. George W. Todd accompanied States Attorney Joseph L. Bailey to the scene of the crime. When they arrived they found Mrs. Ennis dead and the family terrified. Bailey was still in the vicinity, accompanied by his dog, a very savage brute, that could be heard barking and growling nearby in the field. In a few moments Deputy Sheriff Walter and Chief of Police Disharoon arrived and arrested Bailey, finding him lying on the ground, muttering to himself, in a drunken stupor. The officers were compelled to shoot the dog before they could take Bailey prisoner.

On the way to town Bailey asked several times what he had done and seemed to be very much under the influence of liquor. When searched a half-pint flask partly filled with brandy was found in his pocket. No weapon was found in his clothes. Though handcuffed he tried to get his hand in his pocket several times on the way to jail. He was unsuccessful. When again searched a razor was found in his pocket.

SAFETY GATES AT CROSSINGS.

Mr. W. U. Polk, President Of The City Council Explains His Position On The Matter Of Protection At The Railroads In Town.

Mr. Editor:—In compliance with our verbal conversation a week or two ago and for the benefit of others will state my position in the matter of Grade Crossings by steam roads of our streets, and while I am not authorized to speak for either of the corporations operating in this town, yet I believe they are as much interested, if not more, in the protection of life and property as any citizen, and believe they will co-operate in doing all that is necessary for their protection if approached in the proper spirit. And as an individual member of the City Council, I know I am as much interested in the protection and safety of our citizens as anyone, and will go as far as compatible with the best business interest of the town as any man, in providing for their protection against locomotives, automobiles, vehicles or anything else, and all alike without prejudice, fear or favor, whether it is the rich, poor, old, young, corporation or individual; but I will not promise to act quite so hastily as some of our friends would have us, for several reasons, two of which I will mention. First, because I do not think it best for the business interests of the town, as it certainly would be affected by a mistake on matters of this kind whether the people realized it at once or not. So far as the Municipal Government is concerned, I know it is not for its best interest to act hastily or use drastic measures, neither do I see the necessity of it, when the same can be obtained on a more conciliatory plan and one satisfactory to all parties. In fact, I do not consider it good business policy for the City Council to place itself in an antagonistic attitude toward the Railroad Company, especially at this time, when the Council is preparing to spend from $75,000.00 to $100,000.00 for street improvements, and most of the material will have to be imported by rail, over a line that would concur in a special rate, that has been the basis of our estimates for the past year. This rate would benefit our town to the amount of about one thousand dollars or more, that would otherwise come out of the taxpayers, whose interest I feel it my duty to protect. In arranging to derive all the benefits possible by a judicial and economical expenditure of their money, we have plenty of room for all we can get without wasting one cent.

My second reason as to why the Council should avoid hasty action, is to give them time to devise plans and inform themselves as to what kind of protection is best for our crossings. To do this requires time, thought and study to secure the best results. I do not know how well informed the other members of the Council are, or what efforts they have, individually, made to satisfy themselves on this subject. I can say for myself, individually, I am not able to advise which is the best method of protection at this time, therefore I am not prepared to cast my vote on any plan yet, but propose to be when I do, which I feel it my duty as a public servant. And I cannot believe any citizen of this town would have its Municipal Government to act otherwise, especially in a matter of this kind where the same conditions, or worse, have existed for nearly forty years. If it is essential there should be drastic measures or hasty action all at once why has this condition been allowed to exist so long? Surely we have not been asleep all these years and just awakened to our duty. We also know to approach the average man who has not given crossing protection a study, and ask his advice as to the best method of crossing protection, he would say "gates."

"What kind of a gate?"
"I don't know."
"Why then do you say gates?"
"Because this is the only thing I ever noticed and because they give notice of danger to pedestrians, and if they do not notice the warning they accept the responsibility and relieve the railroad company."
Now this is the vital question confronting us, how to keep pedestrians from taking this risk and meeting with accidents—as there would not be any accidents if every one used due care—is what we are striving for and hope to accomplish, and while relieving the companies of any responsibility, at the same time save life and property. W. U. Polk.

The Maryland Ice Company.

By advertisement in the columns of this issue The Maryland Ice Co. announce their readiness for business. The company has placed a new wagon on the streets of Salisbury and is actively competing for business, both wholesale and retail. Their plant at the junction of the B. C. & A. Ry. and N. Y. P. & N. R. is in full operation, with a daily capacity of 30 tons. They also have storage capacity for 2000 tons and are in position to fill orders both large and small with promptness. The Maryland Ice Co. claims to manufacture a very superior quality of pure crystal ice from distilled water by the most modern method and machinery. The plant is equipped with new machinery throughout and is of the most up to date pattern. They are thus able to compete in price with any ice manufacturing concern in the country. SPRING MILLINERY OPENING.

Crowds Of Ladies View The Pretty Spring And Summer Pattern Hats This Week At The Various Stores. A Large Number Were Sold.

The millinery stores in Salisbury have attracted the undivided attention of the ladies in the town and vicinity this week, the openings for spring and summer hats and dress goods being held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. A large number of pattern hats had been trimmed in readiness for the occasion and all of the openings were well attended. A large number of the hats were sold. The decorations, especially of the windows, were particularly attractive. Fewer cut flowers and potted plants were used as decorations this year than usual, all the available space being taken up with hats and their trimmings.

The milliners had come to the conclusion that the ladies wanted to see hats and not flowers. Therefore more styles were shown than on similar occasions in previous years. The fashions this year are distinctive and new. The sailor hat is the feature and it is made both in the original flat sailor style, or with a turned up back or side. The mushroom shape is also very popular. This hat has a low crown and high side flare. The trimming is left largely to the taste of the purchaser or the trimmer. Distinctive styles therefore, are seen at all the stores. Old rose is a very popular color, and is one of the new shades that is being used, though of course all colors are selected as the choice of the purchaser may dictate.

Mrs. George W. Taylor had about 100 pattern hats made for the opening and they were largely sold. The windows at her store were filled with daintily designed hats of the various shapes and were very attractive. Her store was crowded all three days. The beautiful weather, especially on Thursday, together with the desire to be among the first to see the pretty things that R. E. Powell & Co. had gotten ready for their customers, made the crowds at this ever popular store larger than ever. It was almost impossible to do more than squeeze one's way into the millinery department. The decorations of the store were fancy draperies, small novelties, silks and potted plants. The east window was trimmed with the latest dress goods, trimmings, silks, etc., while the west window was devoted to millinery, including trimmed hats, flowers, etc. The color effect of this window was lavender and light blue.

Powell & Co. showed the fashionable book-ended hats in great profusion, the most popular untrimmed being Neapolitan, Milan, chip and unfinished leghorn. As best illustrating the prevailing styles were a pretty small sailor hat of green straw, trimmed very simply with a broad quill and knot of velvet, banded at the back with foliage, and a queen colored hat with a wide band of lavender velvet, trimmed on the side with light blue, lavender and corn colored ribbon. A very pretty hat of the old rose shade that is popular this year was made with a high back and short front, curved in on the right side with ribbon and shaded roses as trimming.

Powell & Co. also showed the new dress goods. Grays and greens, old rose and blues, are all much admired colors, the prevailing fabrics being velvets, panamas, albatross and mohairs. For trimmings, braids in plain and perian effects are in great demand. Brookhead & Shockey Co. made a display during the week of new dress goods, white goods and other spring and summer goods, except hats. They do not sell millinery. The ladies, however, were attracted to their store by the display above mentioned to almost as large an extent as at the millinery stores. The firm is rapidly growing in favor and their tasteful selection of material for warm weather wear was much admired and their sales were correspondingly large.

Mrs. Lowenthal spent six weeks in Baltimore, New York and Philadelphia early this spring to snap up the newest things for her customers and that they appreciated her efforts to please their taste was seen all three of the opening days. Most of the pattern hats she had to show were so pretty that a choice was doubly hard to make. Among them were: A noticeable hat of unfinished leghorn, laced in small black lace ruffles, with three large black plumes drooping under the brim and American Beauty roses covering the crown.

Another exquisite hat was one of lace and maline in the old rose coloring, banded in the back with old rose maline and roses, and with a long rose colored plume drooping over the crown. Children's, lace hats, bonnets and caps, were shown in profusion.

The window display at Lowenthal's represented a rose garden, with vines overgrowing the wall and quantities of various colored roses blooming amid the foliage. It was something new and very much admired.

—Bachelors of this peninsula are agitated over the oratorical volleys hurled at them recently by Rev. Wm. J. Birmingham, in St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Wilmington, Del., during a discussion of "Courtships and Marriage." He defined the doctrine of the Catholic Church on the subject, and among other things said: "A man without a home is dangerous. Woman's place is at home and not making speeches on public topics or some assembly. Parents should learn the intentions of young men who call upon their daughters' sufficient length of time. Bachelors seldom save their souls. One year is long enough for a couple to go together. If they don't know one another in that time they never will. If a man can't save enough in a year to get married, he never will save it."

Report Of Grand Jury Committee.

The Grand Jury adjourned on Saturday, after examining nearly 100 witnesses and finding 23 true bills. They submitted the following reports of public institutions in the county:

Report of County Jail Committee.

To the Honorable, the Grand Jury for the March Term of the year 1906 of the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland: We, the undersigned members of the committee appointed by our Honorable Foreman to visit and inspect the County Jail and the Court House and premises, report that we, on Friday, March 30, 1906, inspected the Court House and found all the offices and the main court room in excellent condition. We found the Jail neatly, cleanly and nicely kept and five persons therein. We recommend that the brick work on the South side of the Jail by the cellar window be repaired. We also report that we learn that the furnace in the Jail does not properly heat it under normal conditions, but that it scarcely gives any heat at all to the cells on the North side of the building, all of which is hereby respectfully submitted.

Report Of County Alms House Committee.

To the Honorable, the Grand Jury for the March Term of 1906 of the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland: We, the undersigned committee appointed by our Honorable Foreman to visit and examine the Alms House and make a report in reference thereto, respectfully submit that we did, on Thursday, March 29, 1906, visit the Alms House and found conditions as good as could be expected under circumstances. We found the main building in somewhat dilapidated condition, the door steps, part of the doors, the floors and ceilings in various places, the banisters and the buildings in various other places in need of repairs, the kitchen, the colored quarters, the barn and outbuildings in fair condition, and the farming machinery, implements and live stock well kept and cared for. There were thirteen inmates, six white females, three white males, three colored females and one colored male. The general sanitary conditions were good excepting near the hog pen, where there is a basin or sink which should be drained or filled in with dirt. We believe the keeper is doing as well as could be expected under circumstances.

Respectfully submitted,

Major's Oak.

The following account of a famous landmark of the county is contributed by a subscriber. The oak tree in question stands at the end of Sneathen Lane, two miles from Riverton: "The Old Oak Tree which is the beginning of several tracts of land, has been one of the old land marks for generations back and as it was in line with the travel between the two Indian settlements of Rookawalkin and Indian Town it is more than likely that this was a place where the brave stopped to rest, spread their lunch, talked love to the maidens and planned for the crossing at Hallowing Point.

Years ago a gentleman owned and occupied the house here by the name of Jesse Bradley. Jesse was a man that liked his drink and his sport also. Horse racing was fashionable then—not trotting, but running at their level best—and Jesse liked to see them run too. So he went over in Dorchester to one of those races and staked a small sum on a horse named Peesitale. He lost his money but gained the name of Peesitale which he never outlived.

Jesse also liked to be considered rich whether he was rich or not. He owned 100 acres of land but when the assessors went to see him, he gave in 200 acres. Jesse also liked to be conspicuous, and though he never was an officer of any grade his officiousness gave him the name of Major, then the name of Major Peesitale was so well known that many thought that was his real name. Major Peesitale died a very poor man and his 100 acre farm has changed hands several times, but Major's Oak still stands as a monument linking the past with the present."

Legislative Notes.

The child labor bill has passed both Houses and been signed by the Governor—it is now the child-labor law.

The Finance Committee of the Senate and the Ways and Means Committee of the House named $2,500 as the proper fee to be paid to each of the lawyers who were employed by the B. & O. Committee. Each had presented bills for $5,000.

The Democrats say that the Murphy election bill was bad before it reached their hands, when they made it good; the Republicans say that it was good until it reached the Democrats hands when it was made bad—now somebody's lying.

The Senate treated itself to five hours of stump speeches Friday night on the subject—"We are far better than thou." Just barely possible all that was said may influence twenty votes at the next election—possibly, but by no means probably.

The swift way in which the House Republicans slipped out from under Murphy Monday night, or rather early Tuesday morning, just as soon as Murphy's own party endorsed him, or Murphy endorsed his own party, was something to see.

Last Wednesday in the Senate bills which were introduced in the House by Mr. Diharoon, to amend the Wicomico County Bird and Game law; Mr. Davis, to create Election District No. 14 in Wicomico county; Mr. Davis, to incorporate the town of Willard, Wicomico county; Mr. Diharoon, to authorize the Mayor and Council of Salisbury to issue $50,000 drainage bonds, were passed.

Last Saturday the Senate passed the bills introduced in the House by Mr. Diharoon, to provide teachers' pension for Amanda E. Davis; Mr. Adams, to authorize establishment of high schools at Delmar and Sharptown, Wicomico county, and appropriate money in maintenance thereof; Mr. Diharoon, to amend charter of Presbyterian Church, Salisbury; Mr. Adams, to incorporate town of Mardela Springs, Wicomico county.

All the above have been signed by the Governor and are now laws.

Saturday the House passed Senator Brewington's bill incorporating the Audit Company of Maryland; also incorporating the Chesapeake Bank, of Baltimore; also providing for new general registration in counties in 1910.

Friday the Senate passed Mr. Diharoon's bill to amend the charter of Salisbury.

There is a way to escape these woes.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure such ills.
Have cured women here in Salisbury.
This is one Salisbury woman's testimony.

Mrs G. W. Fooks, wife of G. W. Fooks, County Sheriff of the Court House, says:
"I have suffered off and on with kidney complaint for the last eight years. It came on me gradually and continued to get worse. I felt tired and weak, was short of breath. One doctor told me I had kidney disease and it would finally result in Bright's disease. I was laid up at one time for three weeks. I was feeling very miserable when I went to White and Leonard's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills. I had not taken them more than three days when the distressing aching across my back disappeared. I have great faith in this remedy, and I know if anyone will take the remedy as directed they will receive beneficial results."

An Open Challenge.

There has been some talk of late of forming a strictly amateur base ball league on the Eastern Shore and we trust it will be accomplished, but if it should not, we hereby challenge any of the following base ball clubs for a series of five or seven games to decide this question.
Salisbury, Cambridge, Easton, Preston, Hurlock, Ridgely, Denton, Greenwood, Bridgeville, Seaford, Laurel and others within reach. When we say amateur teams we mean amateur. We are willing for the mayor of our town or any other responsible person to pick our team from bona fide residents and will expect the other teams to do the same.
Then they can be submitted to a board of men selected by the teams and all not eligible will be dropped. In that way it will keep any team from hiring men to work in their town just to play ball.
If any person should move to any town before the season ends they will not be allowed to play until their names are submitted and passed on. Each team having the privilege of naming as many players as they choose. Will the papers in the above named towns please publish this notice.

Somerset Attracts Theatrical People.

Somerset county seems to have attractions for stage and theatrical people.
Among the first to purchase a home within its borders was Mr. Ellison Van-Hoose, a well known singer. He owns a fine farm on the Wicomico creek, about eight miles from Princess Anne,
where he can be found when not filling engagements. Mr. W. F. Pendleton owns the Clifton farm in Revells Neck, on the south side of the Manokin river.
Mrs. Pendleton whose stage name is Mme. Lillian Blauvelt, is a famous American prima donna. She appeared in Baltimore a few days ago in "The Rose of the Alhambra." Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton spend the summer months at their home on the Manokin. Mr. Paul Armstrong, story writer and dramatist owns a fine estate on the Wicomico creek, about seven miles from Princess Anne. He was in Baltimore last week at the first performance of his new play
"Blue Grass" at the Academy of Music.
Mr. Armstrong acquired possession of his Somerset county farm last fall. His avowed intention in buying it was to place himself in a position of complete independence as to theatrical managers and the world in general. He was also prompted in it by his love of pure country life and thoroughbreds. He is a devoted horseman and owns some fine trotters and runners, which are now being trained at his farm.

Cormorants are far the largest and most striking in appearance of our common English sea fowl. A male cormorant is a yard long and very strong and heavy, and, though more quiet than beautiful, whether flying, diving or sitting on the rocks or buoys, it is a far more interesting creature than the sea gull—a wonderful instance of adaptation of form to special needs and of permanence of type enduring from remote ages, for the fossil cormorant hardly differs from those which are now fishing from the cliffs in which their petrified ancestors are imbedded.
Our common "great black cormorant" is not only the most representative type of his family, but a link with the inhabitants of the shallow seas of both the old and new worlds. He is found throughout Europe, in North Africa, Egypt and the greater part of Asia, in eastern North America and, a little changed by distance, in New Zealand and Australia. Lastly he is the only bird except the hawks and falcons which is trained to assist man in the capture of living prey, and in this vocation he is of all birds, by sense, memory and affection, incomparably
the best.—London Spectator.

Wicomico's Place In The General Assembly.

Wicomico's representation at the General Assembly was, on the whole, a satisfactory one, politics aside. Mr. Disharoon and Mr. Adams had important committee assignments in the House and did good work. Senator Brewington was especially prominent in the Senate and few names were mentioned in the dispatches oftener than his. He was, as usual, a part of the machine and on political measures a partisan of partisans. He was quick in debate however, and succeeded in throwing oil on the troubled waters several times whereby legislation for the good of the whole people was secured. The bills introduced by him that were passed were few and unimportant, but he was in the lime-light during the whole session.

Senator Brewington and Delegates Disharoon and Adams voted for the Seth-Haman Oyster Planting Law. Many of our people were opposed to this law, but the general impression was that it was the best that could be obtained for the oystermen. As our correspondent has pointed out in his dispatches, if the tide water members had not agreed upon this bill, it is likely that the Haman bill in its original form would have been passed. Delegate Davis voted against oyster planting legislation consistently throughout the session.

The bills passed providing local legislation were as follows: Introduced by Mr. Adams—To amend the law relative to Wicomico County Treasurer; To authorize establishment of high schools at Delmar and Sharptown and appropriate money in maintenance thereof; To incorporate town of Mardela Springs; Incorporating Riverton Telephone Co.; Incorporating the Riverton Canning Co. By Mr. Disharoon—To appropriate $10,000 for file cases in the Land office, Annapolis; To amend the county game law; To authorize the Council of Salisbury to issue $50,000 paving bonds; To amend the charter of Salisbury; To provide teacher's pension for Amanda E. Davis; To amend charter of Wicomico Presbyterian Church. By Mr. Davis—To create new election district in Wicomico county; To incorporate town of Willards; To incorporate town of Pittsville. By Senator Brewington—Regulating boards of health registration; Incorporating the Audit Co., of Maryland; Incorporating the Chesapeake Bank, of Baltimore; Providing for new general registration in counties in 1910.

The Salisbury Post Office Fight.

The petitions for the appointment of a postmaster at Salisbury, Mr. Marion A. Humphreys' term expiring June 30th, have been pretty well circulated and we understand that Mr. Humphreys has been endorsed by not only a majority of the Republicans in Salisbury, but by the business men, to succeed himself. Mr. Humphreys' appointment will please the Republican organization in the county and the patrons of the office, as he has given a first-class administration and introduced many conveniences and methods that have been of great benefit to the people. We hope he will be re-appointed and feel reasonably sure he will.

The Late Session Of Legislature.

The session of the Maryland Legislature that has just adjourned, like most things controlled by human weakness and strength, virtues and vices, was not wholly good nor wholly bad. It deserves praise for some of its actions and censure for others, depending, in this, moreover, upon the viewpoint from which it is criticized. Few but will applaud its attitude toward corporations and its investigation of the affairs of the Washington Branch of the B. & O. R. R. The lowering of the State tax rate to 16 cents as a result of this investigation and the subsequent sale of the State's stock, is particularly gratifying. Several other bills that were passed have great merit, notably the act providing for the erection of a State sanatorium for consumptives.

The Legislature should have given the people a fair election law, however. It was currently reported around Annapolis and predicted in these columns several weeks ago, that there would be no changes in the election law. The Democrats have tinkered on the laws until they think they can win, no matter what the desire of the people is, and they do not intend any changes unless they can fasten their grip tighter. Fake candidates and trick ballots therefore are likely to become a fixture in Maryland politics unless the people (and it takes an extraordinary number of them under the law as it stands) decide to elect a Republican majority of the General Assembly.

The Democrats are attempting to fasten the blame for the defeat of the Murphy bill upon the Republicans. They cannot do so, however, in view of the circumstances. The Democratic machine was opposed to any change and the Democratic party made no bona fide effort to enact a bill giving square deal elections. The Murphy bill was amended out of all semblance to its original form and sent to the House after midnight on the last day of the session. And the Republicans killed it. They would not take the Democrats' word for it that it contained no "snakes."

Who can blame them? As United States District Attorney Rose puts it:

"With the experience that the people of Maryland have had of the 'snakes' which have been so frequently introduced into our election laws by the politicians of the dominant party in this State, the Republicans of the House of Delegates took the only position it was possible for them to take. None of them were, or in the nature of things could be, in any physical condition after midnight upon the last day of the session to pass in a few minutes upon a bill which, in its final form, they had never before seen. They were, therefore, right in voting against the adoption of the amended bill. The reason why no reform in the really infamous election system of our State resulted from the labors of this General Assembly is that, as always before, the men who control the Democratic organization in Maryland are not ready, and never have been ready, to give a square deal. They always insist to the limit of their power on introducing some feature or other into our election system which will make it more difficult for Republicans than for Democrats to vote, or which will disfranchise more Republicans than Democrats."

LICENSE OR NO LICENSE.

The Delmar Liquor Fight Expected To End In A Few Days.

The fight that has been going on at Delmar for and against the granting of a liquor license to Mr. Theodore A. Veasey, at his new "Stone House," is expected to end this week, the matter being decided one way or the other by the Court at Georgetown. The fight has been bitter at Delmar and is being hotly contested at Georgetown, both sides being represented by counsel. A large number of prominent citizens of Delmar have opposed Mr. Veasey and he is as warmly supported by others. Both sides are presenting strong petitions.

The feeling is that Mr. Veasey will succeed in securing the license, unless some flaw is found to exist in his application, as the Delaware law is framed in such a manner that where an applicant is properly endorsed and is of such a character as to guarantee the conducting of a bar and hotel in a respectable manner, he is seldom turned down. It is not understood that Mr. Veasey is being attacked personally in the fight, the objection being to a bar in the town no matter how it is conducted. Mr. Veasey's chances are therefore considered very good of succeeding in his attempt. The hotel he has built is one of the best buildings for that purpose on the peninsula.

ANNAPOLIS LETTER.

The Courier's Correspondent Reviews The Acts Of The Recent Session Of The Legislature.

State House, Annapolis,
April 3, 1906

The General Assembly has at last adjourned sine die and its record is before the people for their approval or condemnation.

Yesterday's session was tumultuous and exciting in the extreme, and the oyster bill was forced through by a rigid application of Reed's rules, despite the vigorous protests of the representatives of the oyster counties, who, under the leadership of Dr. Hayden, Chairman of the Chesapeake Bay Committee, made a fight lasting nearly four hours to prevent a final vote on the bill. After all sorts of dilatory tactics had been used by the opponents, the Speaker declined to hear or recognize any one, ordered a vote on the bill, which was passed by a vote of 63 to 32. What will be its effect on the oyster industry is a problem, but the indications are that the measure will cost the State at least $100,000 before it can be repealed two years hence—for that it will be repealed is the opinion of everyone who has any practical knowledge on the subject. Dr. Hayden and his friends made a game fight against the bill, and that they failed was due to no fault of theirs, but rather to the fact that a strong lobby has been for several days working night and day against them. All the capitalistic and professional influence of the State was cast for the measure and it was passed, as all bills are under such circumstances. Republican and Democratic politicians of high and low degree were here in force for it and they influenced many wavering votes in its favor.

The Murphy election bill was defeated in the last hour of the session by the Republicans, on whom will rest the blame or the credit for the fact that no changes were made in the election laws. The old laws will remain in force for two years more.

The bill to authorize a vote on the proposition to call a constitutional convention passed both houses and the matter will be settled at the polls in 1907 when the people desire a constitution the next General Assembly will pass the necessary legislation to elect the delegates.

Taking it as a whole the work done by the Legislature which has just adjourned, will probably redound to the benefit of the State. The most important matter determined was the settlement with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company and the sale of the State's stock in that corporation. This enabled a reduction of State taxes from 23 to 16 cents on the $100. As it is, the only direct tax now levied in Maryland is the sum necessary for the support of the public schools. The other expenses of the government are paid by the money derived entirely by licenses and other indirect taxes.

The close of the session, thanks to the incidents of the final hour, fulfills the promise made by the Democrats at the time of the defeat of the constitutional amendment—that there would be no changes in the election law made this session. There have been no changes, the Crescent Club bill failed, every other bill introduced failed. The Murphy bill was not introduced by a strict party man. The situation toward the end seemed to justify the Democrats in considering the advisability of breaking the election law promise, but at last the promise was kept for them.

As a whole the session was creditable, and with few exceptions the members of both Houses were faithful to their constituents and the trust reposed in them.

SALISBURY CITY ELECTION.

To Take Place First Of May—A Bi-Partisan Ticket Talked Of.

The city election in Salisbury takes place the first of next month and, as it is announced that Mr. W. F. Bounds will resign, four members of the Council will be elected instead of three, Mr. H. H. Hiteh being the only hold-over member to remain on the board.

The members whose terms expire are Messrs. W. U. Polk, L. W. Dornah and C. M. Brewington. Mayor Charles E. Harpers' term also expires and his successor is to be elected.

Few names have been mentioned in connection with the above offices and as it is likely that a majority if not all of the present incumbents will refuse to accept a renomination, it is probable that the make-up of the board will be entirely changed. An effort has been made by various public spirited citizens to induce prominent business men to go on the board and undertake the work of paving the streets and other important improvements that are contemplated, but so far as we have been able to learn, without success up to this time. A large amount of money will be spent in Salisbury in the next year or two and the close attention of the board will be necessary, with arduous and thankless labor.

A bi-partisan ticket is spoken of, its personel however has not been definitely mentioned. If such a movement takes place, it will come from the Democratic organization, as the Republicans, from a party standpoint, make very little effort and take very little interest in City elections. It is understood that, if a non-partisan ticket is nominated by the Democrats, no other ticket will be nominated.

The Leading People In Salisbury Get Their Clothing and Hats From THOROUGHGOOD.

A prominent lawyer who has been buying his clothes at Lacy Thoroughgood's for years told us that he owed his success to a suit of well-fitting clothes. At least his rise dated from the day he decided that no man would employ the services of a man whose appearance spoke so little for his ability as his did. That day he invested $18.00 in a suit of Lacy Thoroughgood's ready-made clothes, and his improved appearance (so he said) secured for him his first case of real prominence. Of course his ability did the rest. Many men are passed over and miss opportunities for advancement every day because their appearance is against them. Lacy Thoroughgood's will do much for any man in any walk of life. They're ever the standard of what is best in quality and correct in style. We have a complete stock of New Spring Suits and Hats, and every Suit and every Hat is guaranteed to be good. Just try us this season.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Second Week Of The March Term. The Time Taken Up By Four Or Five Cases.

Last Friday as The Courier closed its account of Circuit Court proceedings, case No. 17, trials, was being heard. It was a suit of J. L. Roland & Co. vs. Stephen W. Dolby, Jr., and Robert W. Staton, trading as Dolby & Staton. Suit growing out of the sale of canned goods. This case occupied Friday and Saturday until about 1 p. m., when the jury brought in a verdict for plaintiffs in the sum of $307.47. Monday morning No. 19 Trials, McDowell, Pyle & Co. vs. H. Winifred Gillis, was taken up. This was a suit on account, McDowell, Pyle & Co. claiming the sum of $350.00 due them from Mr. Gillis. The latter brought a countersuit for $400.00 for money alleged to be due him from the firm. Tried before jury; verdict for Gillis for 1 cent damages and costs.

Tuesday morning the injunction suit of Assyria L. Jones vs. Benj. L. Jones, removed from Worcester county, was brought up. This case was tried in this court last year and a verdict rendered for the plaintiff for $741.42, but a new trial was granted by the Court of Appeals. The trial occupied Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday until noon, when a verdict was again rendered for the plaintiff, this time for the sum of $486.31.

At the conclusion of the above case the will case of Archelus E. Jones, Caveator, vs. Clara J. Jones, caveatee, was placed on trial. It also is a case removed from Worcester county and is a suit to set aside the will of Edward T. Jones. This case was also tried in this Court at the Sept. Term, 1905. The jury at the first trial rendered a verdict in favor of the Caveator on the 2d and 4th issues and the Caveatee on the 1st and 3rd issues. The Caveatee made a motion for new trial, which the Court granted, on January 20, 1906. The case is being tried as we go to press. R. D. Jones, W. F. Johnson and Tordvin & Bell, attorneys for Caveators; J. S. Crockett, L. Paul Ewell, and Ellegood, Freeny & Wallis, attorneys for Caveatee.

The Howeth-Brinsfield slander case was again postponed until next Monday. Between 60 and 70 witnesses assembled here Tuesday to testify in this case, but were sent home by the Court on Wednesday until the time stated above.

The Grand Jury found an indictment against Elmer Bodley for burning the Thomas Hearn barn, and the witnesses have been summoned. This case will be tried next week and it, with other minor cases, will occupy the Court until the murder trial of Goldsborough Bailey, set for Monday April 16th.

In Memoriam.

In sad and loving remembrance of Miss Laura Jones who departed this life March 28th, 1906.

Farewell dear Laura thou art gone,
Thou hadst to give you up;
And part with all we had on earth,
And drink the bitter cup.

You were patient good and kind,
As anyone could be;
The Lord in taking you away,
Has taken all from me.

A girl more patient or more kind,
Never lived beneath the sun;
We think she was without a fault,
We do not know of one.

Another follower has gone,
To dwell with Him who gave;
Another virtuous Christian,
Is sheltered in the grave.

God needed one more angel,
And the shining land;
And so he bent with loving smiles
And clasped our dear one's hand.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON II, SECOND QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, APRIL 8.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xii, 1-14.
Memory Verses, 7, 8—Golden Text, Ex. xx, 8—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1906, by American Press Association.]

In all our studies let our prayer be "that I may know Him," "that God in all things may be glorified" (Phil. iii, 10; I Pet. iv, 11). This whole book, the Bible, reveals Him to us and also reveals to us man's heart toward God, as well as God's heart toward man. God manifest in the flesh was in the world that was made by Him, and the world knew Him not. He came unto His own, and His own received Him not. The world by its wisdom knew not God (I Tim. iii, 16; John i, 10, 11; I Cor. i, 21). Yet in Jesus Christ God the Father was revealed as the sinner's Saviour, the Redeemer of the lost, the Messiah of Israel, the only One who can forgive sins and give life eternal. In Matthew's gospel He is especially the Messiah of Israel, the King of the Jews, but they will not have Him, and the last verse of today's lesson says that they held a council against Him, how they might destroy Him. This they did because He, in their estimation, had broken their Sabbath day by allowing His disciples to pluck corn and by healing in one of their synagogues a man with a withered hand. In chapters vi-vii He had given them the laws of the kingdom or had opened up to them the true meaning of the law and its righteousness. In chapters viii and ix we have samples of the absence of sickness and disease in the kingdom when He shall reign, or, if you prefer it, some credentials of the King. In chapter x He sends forth the twelve to go with a man with a withered hand, commissioning them freely to heal the sick, to cleanse lepers, to raise the dead and cast out devils, but warning them that they would be persecuted and imprisoned and perhaps killed for His sake. Chapter xi tells us that the cities where most of His mighty works were done repented not, but showed their estimate of Him by slandering Him and numbering Him with transgressors. He telling them in reply that it would be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon, for Sodom and Gomorrah, in the day of judgment than for them. He was heavy laden with their sins, with pity for them, with compassion upon them and with sorrow because they would not accept their redemption which He offered them in Himself, even as afterward He wept over their city because they would not let Him deliver them (Matt. xxiii, 37-39; Luke xix, 41-44). Yet He could say, "Even so, Father," resting Himself under all circumstances in the will of God and inviting all weary, heavy laden ones to rest where He did, in that same perfect will of God (xi, 28-30).

Among heathen nations the common idea is that God or the Great Spirit or that which they worship must be propitiated, appeased by offerings or sacrifices, but the one only living and true God revealed in the Scriptures is One who provides the sacrifice in Himself that helpless sinners may be freely saved. In the first sacrifice (Gen. iii, 21) the Lord God did it all—providing the animals, shedding their blood, making the coats of skins and clothing the guilty pair. It was the same on Golgotha, where all the types were fulfilled and all the shadows found their substance. God does all and gives all, and man is the empty, helpless one, who, having nothing to give, can only receive as a beggar. The great institutions of Eden before the fall were marriage and the Sabbath, pointing onward to the marriage of the Lamb (Eph. v, 31, 32) and the rest of the seventh day or seventh thousand years. After the fall came the revelation of God's way of redemption by sacrifice and the consummation of that redemption in the cherub forms of the redeemed, but from beginning to end all is the work of God, who so loved that He gave.

Israel in her rebellion against God asked to be like all the nations (I Sam. viii, 5, 20), and so they turned from God, who gave all freely, and worshiped a god of their own imagination, who demanded their sacrifices and their forms and ceremonies and washings and the keeping of a Sabbath after a fashion that God never commanded, perverting the whole thing by teaching that their god demanded this and that, while all the time God was begging them to turn to Him that He might have mercy upon them. In our lesson we see Him in their midst as the Lord of the Sabbath, one greater than the temple, rebuking them because they had not learned the meaning of the words, "I will have mercy and not sacrifice" (verse 7). See the original word in Hos. vi, 6, and note the rest of the verse, "The knowledge of God more than burnt offering." Compare Isa. lv, 7; Jer. iii, 12-14; Hos. xiv, 1-4. All the doing of today to obtain peace with God, as well as the Sabbath keeping and washings of the Pharisees of our Lord's time, who sought only the praise of man (Matt. xxiii, 5), is simply a form of idolatry, a breaking of the first commandment, "Thou shalt have no other gods before Me" (Ex. xx, 3). Much of modern so-called Christianity, as well as the Judaism of the Jews, might well be called a civilized heathenism. (Like all the nations.)

The time had not come for Him to cope with His enemies, who were but bruised reeds in their impotence and smoking flax as to their wrath, nor has it yet come, but it now draweth near and hasteth greatly, and the long despaired and rejected Christ will soon be coming again in His glory to establish the kingdom of righteousness upon this earth.

The Wiles of Beasts of Prey.

The panther on the plains of Patagonia gets as near a herd of guanaco as it can, then lies down behind a bush on its back. It puts one paw up in the air, then another, then the third and fourth and after a bit all four at once. That seems curious to the guanaco, and they come close to investigate. Up jumps the panther and lights on the nearest one's back and breaks its neck. A fox up in Nova Scotia comes down to the bay of Fundy and goes jumping along the beach a couple of rods and back again, rising on its hind legs at each about face and waving its big tail in the air. The little flock of four or five Canada geese out on the water beg to wonder what can be the matter with the fox. They swim up into the shallow water to investigate, when it dashes the fox and grabs one by the neck. The men have taken advantage of this trick and have trained dogs to do as the fox does. For lack of a dog men themselves have ambled about on their hands and knees to attract the birds.

Lighting the Yule Log.

A custom at one time prevalent in England and still observed in some of the northern districts of the old country is that of placing an immense log of wood, sometimes the root of a great tree, in the wide chimney place. This log is often called the Yule log, and it was on Christmas eve that it was put on the wide hearth. Around it would gather the entire family, and their entrance was the occasion of a great deal of ceremony. There was music and rejoicing, while the one authorized to light it was obliged to have clean hands. It was always lighted with a brand left over from the log of the previous year, which had been carefully preserved for that purpose. A poet sings of it in this way:

With the last year's brand Light the new black and
For good success in his spending
On your pastries play.
That sweet luck may Come while the log is a-tending.

The Yule log was supposed to be a protection against evil spirits, and it was considered a bad omen if the fire went out before the evening was over. The family and guests used to seat themselves in front of the brightly burning fire, and many a story and merry jest went round the happy group.

Curious Facts About the Eye.

A very curious fact is the impossibility of moving your eye while examining the reflection of that organ in a mirror. It is really the most movable part of the face. Yet if you hold your head fixed and try to move your eye while watching it you cannot do it—even the one-thousandth of an inch. Of course if you look at the reflection of the nose or any other part of your face your eye must move to see it. But the strange thing is that the moment you endeavor to perceive the motion the eye is fixed. This is one of the reasons why a person's expression as seen by himself in a glass is quite different from what it is when seen by others.

Advice From Her Lawyer.

Timothy Coffin, who was prominent at the Bristol county bar in the last century, once secured the acquittal of an old Irishwoman accused of stealing a piece of pork. As she was leaving the courtroom she put her hand to her mouth and in an audible whisper said: "Mr. Coffin, wha'll I do with the por-ruk?"

Quickly came the retort: "Eat it, you fool. The judge says you didn't steal it."—Boston Herald.

Irate Wife—I want to know, sir, what time it was when you got home last night!

Husband (meekly)—A quarter of 12, my dear.

Irate Wife—Twelve nothing! The clock had just struck 8, and—

Husband (triumphantly)—Well, ain't that a quarter of 12?—Judge.

Wholly Unnecessary.

"You don't even know how to make a lemon tart," remarked the cooking school girl, with fine scorn.
"It isn't necessary to make a lemon tart," replied the other. All the lemons I've ever seen were pretty tart already."

Mr. Oliver T. Beauchamp, Clerk of the Court for Somerset County, who has been in poor health for several months, left Saturday for Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, to be treated.

Silas Hinson, an official of Sussex county, Del., probably receives the smallest pay of any man in the country holding a position or office requiring daily attention. He has just been reappointed bridge tender at Cedar Creek, at a salary of $36 per year.

William Reed, a well-known muskrat trapper, near Milford, Del., has caught up to this time 1,200 muskrats. He sold the hides for 40 cents each and the meat at five cents each. He also caught two otters, for which he received $22 each, making for his winter's work in trapping $584.

Since the Small Pox patient at Crisfield has been moved to the Pest house on the marsh, the smallpox scare has about died out. Dr. G. T. Simonson, who has the case in charge states that the patient is improving nicely, and that none need fear the spreading of the disease.

Mr. John Smith, formerly of Somerset county near the Wicomico line, but recently a resident of Berlin, died at the latter place Friday, March 23rd, of pneumonia. He leaves a large family. Those of his sons who are well known in Salisbury are Wood, Hampton, John E. and Isaac Smith, all four of whom have been employees at various times of the B. C. & A. Ry. Co.

Rev. C. W. Pettymann, pastor of the M. E. Church at New Castle, Del., and Rev. G. T. Alderson, who has had a successful pastorate of two years at Snow Hill, have changed appointments. Mr. Alderson desires to be near Philadelphia on account of an afflicted child. This change has been effected through the bishop, the presiding elders of Wilmington and Salisbury districts, and the two churches named.

This has been one of the most prosperous oyster seasons ever known on Chincoteague Island. It is nearing its close although there is a considerable amount of barrel stock still being shipped and will continue to be during April. The clam business has been somewhat neglected on account of the islanders being so busy with oysters, but just at present several of the young men have gone down the bay clamming. Several more will follow in a few days. Chincoteague clams as well as oysters are of a very fine flavor.

The announcement is made that Frank M. Soper, of Magnolia Del., who came from Canada several years ago with nothing, has not only developed the great fruit farm on which he has 10,000 apple trees alone, but his net profit for last year were $15,000. Mr. Soper has become the "apple king" of the Peninsula. Besides all the successful early varieties, Mr. Soper is growing these splendid late varieties—Ben Davis, Stayman's Winesap, Rome Beauty, York Imperial, Nero, Nickajack, Stark, Lawyer, Paragon and Mammoth Black Twig.

Five of a double series of 13 notes for $144 each, for 3 and 6 months respectively, given by Cecil residents to Lortrop & McElwee, of Morris, Ill., for county privileges, in this and other states, to sell a patent window fastener widely distributed hereabouts by their agents, due on March 20, were sent to the Second National Bank of Elkton by the Citizens Bank of Hope, Ark., were paid. The others were protested but will, no doubt, be sought to be collected. The second series will fall due on June 20th.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the members of the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Somerset and Worcester Counties was held at the office of the company in Princess Anne Wednesday morning and the following directors were elected: John Sterling of E. Albert Sudler, Roger Woolford, Alfred B. Turpin, James B. Armstrong, Frank M. Wilson, Wm S. McMaster, Joseph Webster, Francis S. Lockerman, Wm. T. G. Polk, Cassius M. Dashiell and Wm Edgar Jones. The directors immediately after held a meeting and elected Thomas H. Bock president, and Henry J. Waters secretary and treasurer.

It is expected that farmers will this year more than double their acreage in sweet potatoes. There is more clear money in this crop to them than in any crop they can grow in the same acreage. Our farmers should be shipping thousands of barrels of potatoes when they are shipping only hundreds. This is one of the most certain crops farmers can plant and the harvesting and shipping extends through a long period of the year. Double or treble your crop this year and you will not regret it. If our farmers will but do this there will be a wonderful improvement in their financial worth in a very few years. —Snow Hill Messenger.

Miss Imogene Hodges, of St. Mary's, who has been visiting Miss Iris Messick for the past two weeks, returned to her home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Turner, Misses Sadie Turner and May Hill are in Baltimore this week.

One of the most enjoyable events of the week was the party given by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Turner in honor of Mr. Turner's birthday. The rooms were handsomely decorated with crepe paper, potted plants and out flowers, and the evening was spent enjoying musical selections and playing games, until a late hour. Refreshments were served in the dining room. The music was furnished by Miss Cecile Willing. Those present were: Misses May Hill, Sadie Turner, Cecile Willing, Imogene Hodges, of St. Mary's, Helen Verne, Iris and Grace Messick, Ada Travers, Reta Elliott, Lottie Robertson, Amy Turner, Emma Price and Pearl Young. Messrs. Carl, Newell and Frank Messick, Gerald and Gordon Harrington, Raleigh and Holton Douglass, Loran White, David Turner and Levin Walter.

Miss Verne Messick visited friends in Salisbury this week.

Entertainments are getting to be quite popular with us now.

F. A. Robertson received 400 more Hens this week. He now has 1300 birds.

The installation of the electric lighting system by the P. B. & W. R. R. has been delayed. Officials were here Thursday, however, and work will probably begin shortly.

What has become of the paper we are to have? Talk has died out.

Mr. H. T. Hickey spent Thursday in Wilmington.

We regret to write that Monroe Pote had the misfortune to have a leg cut off at Pocomoke early Thursday morning. He was brought to the hospital at Salisbury on the 7 a. m. train and at this time is doing as well as could be expected. It is to be regretted that a young man just entering manhood should thus be partially deprived of his usefulness.

To make the matter more regrettable he has been married but a short time. We sincerely hope he will soon be among us again.

Mr. Harry Ellis has accepted a position with S. N. Culver, clothier.

The wages of the clerks employed in the Yard Masters Department have been raised $5.50 per month, effective April first.

The remains of J. Howard Ellis were interred at Smith's Mills last Saturday afternoon. Notice of his death was chronicled in last week's issue.

Rev. R. K. Penney preached at the M. E. Church Sunday evening on the temperance question. Quite a large crowd was present.

Rev. Z. H. Webster was in Georgetown Tuesday.

Mr. Howard C. Kirk has succeeded Mr. H. W. Hill as ticket agent, and T. Barton Freeman has succeeded Mr. Kirk as day operator.

Mr. A. E. Culver, of Easton, has accepted a position at the freight office here.

Mr. Harry W. Hill, our well known ticket agent, has accepted a position as Chief Clerk to H. F. Smith, Division Operator, Pennmar Building Wilmington. This is a promotion for Mr. Hill, and we are glad his ability has been recognized. He is known far and near as the best operator on the Delaware Division. We wish Mr. Hill all success in his new position.

We now have a murder charged to the vile stuff sold at the distillery. We have always told you it was common stuff that sets a man crazy.

Mr. A. B. Ellis has begun the erection of buildings on his lot purchased from Levin Hastings.

BAILEY'S DESPERATE CRIME.

The primary cause for the trouble that occurred recently between Bailey and his wife, was the sale of Bailey's farm. His intention was to sell out and leave, he said, but his wife would not sign a deed without being paid for her dower rights.

A sale of the property was made two weeks or more ago to Reuben Bailey, his cousin, but Mrs. Bailey would not sign the deed. A few days subsequent to this, another sale was made to J. A. Jones and Cyrus Bailey, Goldsborough Bailey's brother. The consideration named in this latter deed was $1,700. Mrs. Bailey signed this latter deed, the purchasers paying her in cash for her dower. Both deeds were filed at the Clerk of the Court's office the same day.

It is stated that Bailey tried to get his wife to give him the money she had received and that her refusal made him ragingly angry.

It is reported that Bailey had made all preparations to leave the night the crime was committed, his carriage and harness being found about 400 yards from his house by Mr. Alex. Malone. In the carriage was a box of valuable papers, including a note for $1,850 for the sale of the farm. The papers were turned over to State's Attorney Bailey.

Bailey expressed great sorrow to Sheriff Bradley on Tuesday and shed tears. He stated several times that he had no intention of shooting Mrs. Ennis, but admitted firing the gun.

The counsel for the defense will attempt to prove that the shooting of Mrs. Ennis was accidental and that the gun was discharged as a result of the struggle with John Ennis.

A coroners' jury was empaneled on Sunday, Justice W. A. Truitt acting as coroner. Mr. Harry L. Brewington was foreman and the other members were Wm. F. Bounds, T. Byrd Lankford, Geo. W. Causey, D. R. Holloway, Alex. P. Malone, Ernest Townsend, James Chatham, J. Samuel Duffy, Reuben P. Bailey, John T. Elliott and J. Clayton Kelley. The jury viewed the remains, examined several members of the Ennis family as witnesses and adjourned until Monday morning. They brought in the following verdict:

"That on March 31st, 1906, at Wicomico county, one Goldsborough K. Bailey, did feloniously kill and murder said Laura Ennis by shooting her with a shot gun in the head, thereby inflicting a mortal wound, of which said Laura Ennis then and there died."

Mrs. Ennis' funeral took place Monday, the interment being made in the public cemetery at Salisbury. The services were conducted by Rev. J. S. Bowman and Rev. Mr. Hardisty. A large crowd of people were present both at the house and the burying-ground and the grief shown was intense, a majority of the company being moved to tears. Mrs. Ennis' family were completely prostrated.

The Ennis family is well known and highly respected, as is Mrs. Bailey and her family connections. Bailey himself bears rather a hard name and has drank more or less heavily for several years. He is one of a large family, his father before his death living near Wango. The crime has aroused great indignation and the trial will attract large crowds. The outcome will be awaited with intense interest.

Death Of Willie L. Dorman.

Death has again visited our vicinity on March 30 and taken from us a loved one, Willie L. Dorman, age about 17 years, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac H. Dorman. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in Tyaskin M. E. Church, conducted by Rev. G. R. Neese, pastor of the church, and the body was laid to rest in Tyaskin Church yard. The pall bearers were Messrs. Charlie Fisher, Basil Larmore, Clyde Riall, Reese Horner, Spry Larmore and Esau Anderson.

Willie had for about eight weeks been a most patient sufferer from stomach trouble, finally pronounced enlargement of the liver. Until Thursday afternoon March 29 he was at his home in Tyaskin, but his suffering becoming so intense, upon advice of Dr. Walwright, of Princess Anne, who had been summoned, he was removed to the Maryland University, Baltimore, where he died the next afternoon about 8.30 o'clock.

A number of the members of the Junior Order Mechanics of this place, of which he was the youngest member, met his body at Rearing Point Sunday morning and conducted his body to the home of his parents. A large number of friends attended the funeral services and followed his remains to the grave.

We extend our deepest sympathy to his bereaved parents, sister and brother, and trust they may meet him in Heaven.

An Angel kissed our Willie's brow And bade him gently, "Follow Me." To God's own will, we will submit, For our dear boy in Heaven we'll see. Rest on, dear Willie, meet us when we come To Heaven, our eternal home.

A FRIEND,
Tyaskin, Md.

Fruitland.

Easter services will be held here on the 16th. The songs for the occasion have been selected and are being practiced by the choir.

Our people have been making use of the recent pleasant weather doing garden work.

Our merchants have bought and shipped quite a lot of chickens this week. Prices paid per pound have ranged from eleven to fourteen cents.

The tie social held in the Red Men's hall on Friday evening last was not a success financially as it otherwise would have been had it not been a rainy evening.

In last week's issue of The Courier we find an article purporting to be from the pen of our Fruitland Traveler, telling of his wonderful success. It seems that the blood-hounds were not into it and we would be pleased to learn as to whether or not he has received the two thousand dollar reward. If not we are ready to assist him in any legitimate way we can in obtaining the same, for we think such labour and heroism should be amply rewarded.

TO CONFER WITH RAILROADS.

Salisbury City Council Has Invited Representatives of B. & A. Ry. And N. Y. P. & N. R. To A Conference On The Gate Question.

The City Council has invited the B. & A. Ry. and the N. Y. P. & N. R. to send a representative to Salisbury next Monday evening to confer with them upon the gate question, and the best method whereby protection at the various street crossings in Salisbury may be afforded both to the people and the railroads. It is the intention to take up the matter fully and discuss it in all its details. The B. & A. Ry., through its Superintendent, Mr. A. J. Benjamin, has accepted the invitation and it is expected that the N. Y. P. & N. R. will send some one to present the views of that company on the matter.

It is believed that the railroads are as much interested as either the city officials or the people in affording adequate protection at the crossings in Salisbury and that the result desired can be obtained with satisfaction to all parties concerned at this conference. The officers of the railroads are better informed and in a much better position to know the efficiency of the various devices for protection at crossings, and of the necessities of the case, than any one else. If they lend their co-operation freely and frankly there should be no difficulty in securing just what Salisbury city needs. Protection from loss of life or limb is what is wanted, the benefit the railroads will derive being the incidental one of relief from responsibility. The Council hopes and expects a large attendance and general expression of opinion on the subject at Monday night's meeting.

CIRCUIT COURT'S SLIM WEEK.

Very Little Business Of Importance Transacted—Adjourned Thursday Until Monday, When The Bailey Murder Case Comes Up.

The Jones will case, removed from Worcester county, that was on trial as our former closed last week, continued until Saturday at noon, when a verdict was rendered for Archelus E. Jones, Caveator, on the 2d issue and for Clara J. Jones, Caveatee, on the 1st, 3d and 4th issues. At the trial of this suit in this court last fall the jury found for the Caveator on the 4th issue in addition to the 2d, and a new trial was granted by the Circuit Court. Under this verdict the widow of deceased will get but her one-third of the property, the remainder going to the children and grandchildren of the deceased.

Very little business of importance was transacted this week, except the trial of William Bodley for burning Thomas Hearn's barn, as the Howeth-Brinshead slander case, removed from Dorchester county, collapsed on Wednesday after two witnesses were examined. At the conclusion of the examination of the two witnesses the plaintiff's counsel rested their case and the defendant's counsel offered a prayer to instruct the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendant. The Court granted the prayer thus ending the suit. Judgment was entered for the defendant's costs. There was great surprise over the collapse of this case. It is understood that the suit was practically abandoned by the plaintiff and that a new suit will be entered in the Dorchester Court in April.

The Bodley trial occupied all of Monday and Tuesday and a night session Tuesday night. About 11:04 o'clock Tuesday night the jury rendered a verdict of guilty. On Wednesday Bodley's counsel, Messrs. John H. Handy and Elmer H. Walton applied to the Court for a suspension of sentence. This motion was argued on Thursday. The Court reserved decision until Monday next owing to the absence of Judge Lloyd. At the conclusion of the argument on the above motion on Thursday Court adjourned until Monday, when the trial for murder of Goldsborough Bailey will come up.

Minor cases heard during the week were: No. 1, Criminal Presentments, State vs. Gertrude Pinkett, indicted for stealing money from Mrs. Ida Williams, Salisbury. Plead guilty and sentenced to House of Correction for 3 months.

No. 2, C. P., State vs. Stranghn Gale indicted for stealing chickens from Levin Bailey, Quantico. Plead guilty, sentenced to 6 months in House of Correction.

No. 19, C. P., State vs. George Gattis, indicted for stealing from under a setting hen belonging to Mrs. Fitzgerald, at Allen. Plead guilty, sentence deferred.

No. 23, Trials, Annie L. Waller, Willemania Twilley, Eleanor Goales, Chas. Bailey vs. Mary Virginia Pollitt, Andrew Pollitt, and Fred Pollitt, suit to recover a farm in Trappe district. On prayer of defendants counsel, E. H. Walton and Jno. H. Handy, jury rendered verdict for defendant by order of the Court.

Gives Up Business For Religion.

Sharptown, Md., April 11.—George W. Phillips, who has just returned from Denton, where he attended a convention of the Holiness Association, has sold out his business here as a shipsmith and wheelwright to his son and son-in-law, and will devote his time to evangelistic work. He will erect a large tent here as soon as the weather will permit, and on May 17 will go to Elendale, Del. He has a fine business, but he says that he feels called to give up all and do religious work.—Baltimore American.

VEASEY REFUSED LICENSE.

Delmar Hotel Man Cannot Sell Liquor. Delmar Town Election And Other News.

Mr. Theodore A. Veasey, proprietor of the "Stone House," at Delmar, was on Thursday refused a liquor license by the Sussex County Circuit Court sitting at Georgetown and therefore Delmar will be without a bar-room for a period, at least. There was much rejoicing over the decision of the Court.

Mr. Veasey's application for license was heard by the Court at Georgetown Thursday morning. Opposition to granting the license on the part of a large number of the residents at Delmar was very strong. Both sides were represented by counsel. The license was refused for the reason that the law specifies that each and every signer of the application shall read or have read to them the application before signing. It was proven that this was not done, and this was declared by the Court as sufficient reason for not granting the application, without going any further.

DELMAR TOWN ELECTION.

An exciting town election took place at Delmar on Tuesday. The contest was between the N. Y. P. & N. R. Co. and a citizens ticket for town commissioners. The citizens ticket, composed of I. J. Nichols, J. C. Killiam and E. W. Palmer, was elected over the railroad ticket, composed of Otis Powell, A. A. Waller and J. E. Sturges, by 14 votes.

The contest was caused by a fight between the railroad and the town commissioners over a crossing which the commissioners authorized to be placed over the railroad connecting East and West Elizabeth streets. The case was referred to the Wicomico county Circuit Court and was tried last week. A verdict was rendered for the town. Preliminary work incident to putting in the crossing was done last week and on Friday night railroad workmen attempted to tear it up and were arrested by the town militia, but subsequently released on bail. Saturday morning men were sent by the company to the scene and two cars were chained over the projected crossing.

The matter stands as above described, but it looks as if the crossing will go in without further trouble, the railroad having been defeated at all points.

ELLIOTT-HITCHENS.

The wedding of Miss Stella May Hitchens and Mr. John M. Elliott was solemnized Wednesday evening at the M. E. Church, Rev. Geo. W. Townsend, of Cape Charles officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Leah Hitchens of Philadelphia, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Pearl E. Deputy, of Milford, as matron of honor. The ushers were Messrs. Fred P. Adkins, of Salisbury, Victor Hitchens, of Laurel, S. N. Culver and Herman Elliott, of Delmar.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. Music was furnished by the Delmar Orchestra. The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome presents. The happy couple left on the night train on a tour of the Northern cities.

The groom is one of the best known young business men of Delmar, being associated in the hardware business with his father, Mr. F. G. Elliott. The bride is a daughter of Mr. S. J. Hitchens and is an accomplished young lady.

THOMAS AUSTIN SHOT.

Saturday night last, Thomas Austin, a very worthy citizen of Delmar, was seriously shot by a mob of drunken boys and men. Austin had been in the barber shop to get shaved, and when he came out the crowd halted him and tried to make him dance. On his refusal, he was assaulted and shot three times, two balls entering one leg and one the other. He was rescued by the police, carried to Salisbury in a very serious condition. Dr. Dick rendered medical assistance, and Austin is now in the Peninsula General Hospital, where it is thought he will recover. His assailants have not yet been arrested, but two of them are known.

The County Commissioners on Tuesday passed an order requesting the property owners interested in building the six miles of road for which State aid has been asked, to come to their office, and get the necessary bonds and have them properly executed. The six miles for which State aid has been asked are located as follows: Two miles on Quantico road, two miles on Snow Hill road, two miles on Powellville road. The Commissioners at first applied for aid on but four miles of road. This was subsequently increased to six miles.

John Ennis was on Tuesday appointed Road Supervisor for Williams district on South side of railroad.

Letter From Miram Furbush.

Wetipquin, April 4th 1906.

Mr. Editor:—Through a friend of I received my letter of Jan 9th. Which you refused to publish as it was not written plain enough for you to understand since that, I see a somewhat flimsy article from your reporter in regard to Rebuilding the Nelly Reed and the different kinds of medicines on hand. The only excuse your reporter had for his mistakes was that he was two thirds full of moon. Shine blackberry. Instead of 113 kinds, I have but 36 kinds of Dr. Hammons for 36 disease, special treatment in addition, I also have Joseph Hopkins whole course of treatment, the renowned root and herb Dr. of his day. We are keeping our selves in good health now by use of woolcots and the blackberry cordial, therefore Drs. have no business at our place, a great blessing to us when I get on the road at work these grand household remedies. Will carry to every home glad tidings of great joy. Peace on earth and good will toward man before going on the road at work I think of making an express trip to Jamestown to see what can be done I have always wondered why Columbus did not discover this great country.

But I have been recently informed by Mr. F. R. Smith that when the second mate changed the course Columbus was down in the cabin playing seven up I have some thought of going into political business we have not yet got our new road from Wetipquin to Sandy Hill promised by the Democ. at party and I am tired of getting in the mire therefore I shall continue to do good Republicans work. While on the road after the closing of the O. S. Baptist association at Nantuxung Va. If it is the Lords will I shall return home and rest up and get ready to do a good and hard days work at Tyaskin Polling place in view of this I expect to serve the Lord and vote the Republican ticket trusting that our taxation will be reduced.

P. S.—Mr. Benjamin:—Please publish this letter for me, and sign my name to it, and please send me two copies of the paper and oblige.
Yours truly,
James H. Furbush.

At the canning factory in sight
Of Rockwalkin station Friday night,
To see a good play indeed.

The ladies and gents
For but twenty-five cents
Will allow any adult to come,
And the children you see
Come for half the fee,
Then why won't you help us;
Come!

The proceeds will be
For the church you see,
That is not very far from town.
It is without any books
And for the sake of books,
You all must come around.

Then if you want to be kind
And help us to find
Some books and a few things more,
Just come to our play,
It's not far away.
And enter the open door.

Yours truly,
JOHN DOOLEY.

A New Idea On Good Roads.

EDITOR COURIER:
I have always felt interested in your paper from its infancy and have often wished could say something for its advancement, but have always known I was not competent. As I travel the roads a great deal and there is so much said about good roads and they get worse all the time, I feel like suggesting a few thoughts. My experience is, our roads are not wide enough to do the work that is needful, and the road bed must surely be raised above the surface of the land so as to let the water off. I feel safe to say the roads in Wicomico county will average two feet lower than the surface of the land. How are you going to make good roads while this condition exists? The scraper used at proper times is in my opinion the cheapest way to improve the roads in the rural districts of our country. And with plenty of room after the first scraping it will not be so costly as shovels or stone.

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN

Learn The Cause Of Daily Woes And End Them.

When the back aches and throbs.
When housework is torture,
When night brings no rest nor sleep.
When uterine disorders set in.
Women lot is a weary one.

There is a way to escape these woes.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure such ills.
Have cured women here in Salisbury.
This is one Salisbury woman's testimony.

Mrs G. W. Fooks, wife of G. W. Fooks, County Sheriff of the Court House, says: "I have suffered off and on with kidney complaint for the last eight years. It came on me gradually and continued to get worse. I felt tired and weak, was short of breath. One doctor told me I had kidney disease and it would finally result in Bright's disease. I was laid up at one time for three weeks. I was feeling very miserable when I went to White and Leonard's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills. I had not taken them more than three days when the distressing aching across my back disappeared. I have great faith in this remedy, and I know if anyone will take the remedy as directed they will receive beneficial results."

The body of John Johnston, a miller, of Hickman, Del., was found in Marsh Hope Creek last Friday and murder is suspected. Johnston when seen last was inquiring the way to the home of Thomas Green. This was on Wednesday evening. The next morning his overcoat was found by Alfred Johnson at the D. M. and V. Railroad bridge.
Later his cap was found lodged in the branches of the tree. The man is said to have had between $75 and $100 on his person but this was missing when the body was found.

The stockholders of the Harford County Agricultural Society, having decided that it is inexpedient to hold a fair the coming fall, have instructed the board of directors to dispose of the fair ground property. It was shown that while the fair was self-sustaining by a narrow margin last year, the balance was absorbed by the fixed charges. Fairs have been held almost continuously on these grounds for over thirty years.

One of the largest flocks of wild geese ever seen in Western Maryland passed over Towson last Monday evening shortly after 6 o'clock. The flock was in "battalions" and comprised about 350 fowls. The main body was of the conventional V shape, the longer leg, extending for about a half mile. This long leg was paralleled on the inside by a single long string and toward the rear of this and still inside was a smaller V, containing 47 geese. Seven of the birds if not more, were black. The flock passed from east by south to west by north and flew just out of gunshot.

over from Easton to Cambridge Ferry.
The incorporators are Messrs. Herman
Pink and Ernest P. Pink, of St. Mich-

Philadelphia. The next move in this very interesting enterprise is anxiously awaited. St. Michaels Comet.

An indictment has been hanging over Sheriff Elijah C. Lynch of Sussex county since last October term of court, for allowing prisoners to escape and permitting them to roam the streets at will.
Many thought the indictment would end at the close of the last court but Chief Justice Lora thought otherwise.
The sheriff was called before the court last Thursday morning and was given a sound lecture by the chief justice which seemed very mild to the sheriff, but at the conclusion of his remarks, when he said: "You are sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and costs of prosecution, and are in the hands of the constable until the fine is paid," you could have bought the sheriff with a three-cent piece. Escorted by the constable Sheriff Lynch went to his office and drew up a check for the amount.

SATURDAY, APR. 14, 1906.

The New City Council.

There is no good reason that we can see, why the City Council to be elected on Tuesday, May 1st, should not be a bi-partisan board.
There is no issue of a political nature in city affairs and politics should be eliminated from them.

The Republicans for several years have taken very little interest in the city government of Salisbury, or in who administered this government. This is wrong.
But as the Republicans are in a minority, they seldom attend an election or take any active part in any manner. The result of a partisan board (though partisanship has been less evident with the present board than previously) is to place the Republicans in opposition to almost every movement started by the Council and, with but little provocation, this develops into strenuous objection.

This, again, is wrong. There are very few people in Salisbury who are not really at bottom true Salisburians and anxious for the accomplishment of everything with a tendency toward forwarding the interests of the town. But when attacked from a political standpoint on any matter affecting the town's interests, they hold aloof to criticize and perhaps oppose.

The Republicans though fewer in number pay perhaps a larger portion of the taxes than the Democrats. They are thus more largely interested in the tax-paying and tax-spending. Whether few or many, they should have a voice in town affairs and the management of town finances.

Gen. Seth's Railroad Charter.

During the recent session of the Legislature General Joseph B.
Seth, of Talbot county, President of the Senate, introduced a bill making amendments to the charter and broadening the powers of the Baltimore and Ocean City Railroad Co., which was passed and signed by the Governor. "The Baltimore Sun" now criticizes the bill, and intimates that it was drawn in the interest of railroad companies which had failed to secure additional powers desired, by the introduction of other more direct bills. The Sun says:

"A prominent attorney who looked over the bill said that it was indeed a 'cuckoo,' and he wondered just why and how its wide scope escaped the scrutinizing eye of the Governor and Attorney General. It was also said that a strong combination of capitalists from New York was behind the measure and that, as an evidence of the great interest being manifested in the unusually large powers granted by the act, the telephone was kept hot yesterday from Baltimore to the Court of Appeals asking for certified copies of the law."

Mr. Wm. S. Gordy, Jr., of Salisbury, is named as a director of the B. & O. C. R. R. Co. Mr.

Gordy knows nothing of the intent or object of the charter and simply filled in at General Seth's request to make up the required number of directors.

Senator Brewington says he knew very little of the bill; that General Seth told him it was intended for the use of a company formed to build a road on the patents of a Mr. Tunis, of Talbot county, who had invented a monorail system of operating a railroad.
The Senator says he thinks it is a scheme to run cars on one rail, but is not sure whether the rail is overhead or on the surface of the ground. Mr. Tunis conceived the idea several years ago and has experimented with it ever since.
Senator Brewington emphatically asserts that this is the only intention of the bill and that there is and was nothing hidden about it.

No person who knows General
Seth will believe for a moment other than The Sun has found a mare's nest. The bill has broad powers, without question. But that General Seth will use those powers, or dispose of the charter to others who will abuse them, to the detriment of the people of Maryland, very few will believe.
No "Girdle Railroad" nor "Pennsylvania cut off" will be built on the charter of the Baltimore and Ocean City R. R. Co. On this a great many people on the Eastern Shore, and elsewhere in the State, for that matter, will gamble almost any amount of money.

Automobile Signals.

We would like to call attention to Mr. Miller's letter in this issue on the subject of the use of the county roads by teams and automobiles. The letter was written at the suggestion of Mr. W. M.
Cooper, President of the Board of County Commissioners.

We feel justified in endorsing Mr. Miller's opinion that if the signals which he emphasizes in his letter, are carefully observed, the drivers of horses can use the roads with perfect safety against danger from automobile accidents.

"The Prince of India" At The Academy of Music, Baltimore.

Chicago has been shouting praises for the past two months over Klaw & Erlanger's remarkable production of "The Prince of India," dramatized by J. I. O. Clarke from the book of Gen. Lew Wallace, author of "Ben Hur," and which opens a two weeks engagement at the Academy of Music, Baltimore, on Monday, April 16th. If possible,
"The Prince of India" has far outstripped
"Ben Hur" both in dramatic achievement and scenic splendor. As a play it is strong dramatically, yet retaining that atmosphere of intensity which appealed so strongly to English speaking people in its predecessor.
It deals with the race and religious conflict in the middle of the fifteenth century between the Mahomedans and Christians, which ended in the disastrous capitulation of Constantinople, at that time governmental seat of the Greek Empire, and the home of the Byzantine Emperor Constantine and the center of Eastern European Christianity. Interwoven in this warlike, historic chronicle is the love story of the Princess Irene and the Sultan Mahommed, which concludes with the conquering Moslem granting religious liberty to the Christians in their fallen territory; a genuine triumph for the Christian faith, although a downfall for the Grecian arms. Deftly interwoven in this story, looms ponderously, yet dignified, the imposing figure of the wandering Jew,
who Gen. Wallace introduced into his book.
The play is in a prologue, six acts and thirteen massive and magnificent settings, and is by far the costliest, most elaborate and most comprehensive production ever disclosed on any stage. Some idea of its magnitude may be gleaned from the fact that it requires fifteen 60 foot baggage cars in transportation, and utilizes the services of upwards of 600 people.

The prominent scenes are the historic Bos-porus, showing a panorama of that famous waterway in a storm, the Palace of the Princess Irene at Thessalonica, the Audience Chamber of the Emperor Constantine's Palace at Constantinople, the tent of the Sultan Mahommed, the fall of Constantinople and the interior of the Cathedral of Sancta Sophia. These pictures are so massive and elaborate that one scarcely can grasp their full artistic depth and meaning in one performance, and many people have already seen "The Prince of India" several times.

The importance of this event is such that the railroads centering in Baltimore are straining some points encouraging visitors to the Orville City in consequence of the engagement. Those locally anticipating the trip may secure seat reservations and other information regarding round trip rates to Baltimore from here on application to local railway Ticket Agents.

WRECK ON N. Y. P. & N. E. R. R.

Engineer Parker And Fireman Wilkins Killed Near Exmore Early Tuesday Morning.

A wreck occurred near Exmore, on the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, Tuesday morning, about 5 o'clock. The Norfolk and Cape Charles express freight
No. 1 was running south on regular mail-train schedule, when, on nearing Exmore, a coupling broke or drawhead pulled out, and a number of cars were cut from the train. Owing to the great speed the freight was making, the division of the train was unnoticeable for a few minutes.

When the flagman in the rear end of the freight discovered the accident he quickly tried to flag the Old Point mail express, which was following. His efforts were, however, in vain as the engineer on the express was unable to see the signals owing to a thick fog.

The express, running at the rate of 50 miles an hour, soon overtook the section of cars that had broken away. A terrific crash followed, and resulted in the death of the engineer and fireman of the express, Daniel Parker, of Delmar, and George Wilkins, of George town, Del., respectively.

Their remains were carried to their respective homes on the noon express Tuesday accompanied by a number of railroad men.

Passengers on the train were bruised and badly shaken up, but no one was seriously injured. A number of cars were derailed, but connections were restored in about six hours.

Parker was one of the best known enginemen on the road. He leaves a wife and one child living at Delmar. He was a son of the late Hiram Parker, and a brother of Joshua M., Billy H., Ellisha H. and George
T. Parker, and Mrs. Sarah J. Downs, Mrs.

A Suggestion To Drivers Of Teams
And Automobiles.

The large addition to the mileage of the shell roads of Wicomico County will, naturally, stimulate both commercial and social driving over roads but seldom used in the past. With a hope of averting possible accidents, I want to impress upon those of our citizens who own motor cars, and our county friends who drive nervous horses, the importance of using extra care and vigilance when using these roads.

Many, if not all, of the roads referred to are crude and unfinished, and in many instances will have to be widened and improved before they can be traveled with perfect safety by automobiles and other vehicles.

With a view to thoroughly draining the new roads, the builders have in many places elevated the centers and rounded the sides to drainage of considerable depth, with the result that vehicles will have to pass within a few feet of each other to avoid slipping into the ditches on the sides.

For a nervous horse and an automobile to meet at such a point would mean the possibility of a serious accident, even should the drivers of both vehicles do all in their power to accommodate each other.

The law governing the use of the County roads and the City streets by automobiles requires the drivers of automobiles to give immediate attention to signals made by the drivers of horses, whether the horse is being driven towards the automobile or in the same direction ahead of it.

Upon receiving this signal, the automobile driver must stop his car and give the driver of the horse an opportunity to extricate himself from the danger.

The signals provided by law—and it is to these that I want to call especial attention—are,
THE HOLDING UP OF THE HAND IN SOME CONSPICUOUS MANNER TOWARDS THE APPROACHING AUTO-MOBILE, AND THE EXTENDING OF THE HAND AND ARM, AS FAR AS POSSIBLE, OUT OF THE SIDE OF
THE WAGON OR CARRIAGE WHEN THE AUTO MOBILE IS COMING UP BEHIND.

The signals as a rule can be seen at some distance, and it is the duty, and I am sure the pleasure, of every automobile driver to respond to them and afford any assistance to the driver asking for help. If you are driving a horse that is unaccustomed to automobiles, do not take any chances, as the motor car driver assumes that if the signal is not given that you are willing for him to approach.

Do not use your voice as a signal, as it cannot be heard by the automobile driver when his car is running, as the noise of the engine drowns the sound.

Do not jump out or get excited, as you are not in the slightest danger if you have given the proper signal. The car is under perfect control and will stop far enough from you to give all the protection needed. The more calmly and naturally you act, the more confidence you will inspire in the horse you are driving.

Recognizing the fact that motor cars have the right to use the roads under defined conditions, and that the number of cars now owned in the county makes it probable that you will meet one at any time, I would earnestly advise that horses of a nervous and vicious class should be driven with great care, and only by experienced drivers, and never by ladies.

I would also ask the automobile drivers to use extra precaution in using the new shell roads by keeping a constant lookout forward for approaching vehicles and to be on the alert for possible signals.

SALISBURY, MD.

Extravagant Economy.

JOHN JONES he was a thrifty man. And Mrs. Jones was, too. That is to say, Good Mrs. J.

Was thrifty and would do Her share in saving, but she thought Her husband was a bit too taut. He kept the purse strings tied around His fingers in a twist, And every time She got a dime She had to force his fist. "Don't spend so much," he'd always say. "We're saving for a rainy day."

John owned a lot of property In buildings, farms and grain, With stock galore And stuff in store, But never stopped the strain To gather in all he could get Against the day that might be wet.

And still his wife could scarcely find Enough to eat and wear. Her bonnet had Grown old and sad. Her clothes made people stare. But John stayed in his narrow way And harped upon "the rainy day."

Two years went by; John saved and saved— Until the "wet spring" came, When floods poured down On farm and town And washed away the same, Including John's possessions, which By now had made him very rich.

John and his wife took to the hills To save themselves, and he Began to swear And rip and tear At his adversity.

Indeed, it was enough to cause A man to break the ten first laws.

But Mrs. J. was less disturbed, And as she shook her head At John's distress And wickedness In swearing so she said: "Now, John, don't carry on that way; You saved it for a rainy day."

—William J. Lampton in New York Tribune.

The Count's Baseless Fear.

"I haf come," said the count, "to apik to you, Meestaire Moneybag, about one what you call heem important mat-taire."

"Ah, yes, count, I understand! Have a chair. You wish, I presume, to speak to me about my daughter."

"No, parition, not zat. I haf seen ze tax list where he say you haf only fifty thousand what you call heem dol-laire."

"Oh—ho, ho! That's all right, count. Don't worry about that. My office boy, to whom I had transferred $5,000,000 worth of gold bonds, which he held while the assessment was being fixed, has just handed them back. They're here in the safe now. Do you want to see them?"

"Merci, monsieur! You haf lift what you call heem a weight from my mind." —Chicago Record-Herald.

According to Her Taste.

"Have you been touching the barometer, Jane?"
"Yes, mum; I've just put it to 'very dry,' cos it's my day out tomorrow." —Tattler.

Modern Titles.

"Say, is the big noise in?" inquired the visitor as he entered the office.

"Naw. He's out feedin'."

"Well, where is the chief gazabo—the one who has charge when the big noise is out?"

"He's outa town."

"Ain't there some one here who acts as the main squeeze when they're away?"

"Nobody but me."

"And who are you?"

"I'm de small bunch—de guy what sweeps out de office. See?"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Succeeded Too Well.

The multimillionaire sits in gloomy and lonely grandeur in the heart of his vast forest preserve.

"It's a mistake," he sighs. "I went too far. Now that I have bought up all the land for forty miles in each direction and have fenced in the property not a soul can come around to see how I am enjoying my money. I'll have to induce some one to get out a court order compelling a road to be cut through my property or I'll be as forgotten as a hermit."—Judge.

Creations of Impulse.

"So you can't help stealing?" asked the magistrate kindly.

"No, your honor; an impulse comes over me that I can't resist."

"Too bad, too bad! An impulse to send you up for six months is getting hold of me. There! It's got hold. Six months; can't resist. Impulse is a wonderful thing."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Centure and His Dainty Pupil.

An old pupil of Centure tells how the master came into his schoolroom one day when the model was in exceptionally good condition, the light especially fine and the circumstances of the scene altogether auspicious. As he entered one of the students got up and went to the tub of water in the corner, leaving all the rest buried in their work. "What are you going to do?" asked Centure roughly. The student showed his hands, which had some paint on them, and replied that he was going to wash them. Centure dabbed his thumb in some paint on the palette of the nearest student and made a smear on the dainty pupil's forehead. "You'd better wash your face, too," he said. The face washing was the last act of the students when they had finished their work for the day. The dainty pupil took the hint to heart, apologized and sat down at his easel without visiting the tub. If he had not done so he would never have entered the school again.

The Earth's Swift Motion.

Everybody knows that the earth makes one complete revolution on its axis once in each twenty-four hours, but few, however, have any idea of the high rate of speed at which such an immense ball must turn in order to accomplish the feat of making one revolution in a day and a night. A graphic idea of the terrific pace which the old earth keeps up year after year may be had by comparing its speed to that of a cannon ball fired from a modern high pressure gun. The highest velocity ever attained by such a missile has been estimated at 1,628 feet per second, which is equal to a mile in 3.2-10 seconds. The earth in making one complete revolution in the short space of twenty-four hours must turn with a velocity almost exactly equal to that of the cannon ball. In short, its rate of speed at the equator is exactly 1,607 feet per second. This is equal to 17 miles a minute.

Not Fatal.

No Matter What Doctors Say—We Know That Heart Trouble in Many Cases Can Be Cured.

There are seven main features of heart disease, viz.: (1) Weakness or Debility; (2) Rheumatism or Neuralgia; (3) Valvular Disorder; (4) Dilation; (5) Enlargement; (6) Fatty Degeneration; (7) Dropsy.

Documentary evidences will prove thousands of so-called "incurables" have been absolutely cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Patients often have no idea their disease is heart trouble, but ascribe it to indigestion, liver complaint, etc.

Here are some of the symptoms: Shortness of breath after exercise. Smothering Spells. Pain in Chest, left Shoulder and arm. Discomfort in Lying on one side. Fainting Spells. Nervous Cough. Swelling of Feet and Ankles. Paleness of Face and Lips. Palpitation. Nightmare. Irregular Pulse.

"I have great faith in Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and speak of its merits whenever opportunity presents. I can now go up and down stairs with ease, where three weeks ago I could hardly walk one block." One year later—"I am still in good health; the Heart Cure did so much for me, that I find it a far greater medicine than you claimed it to be."—B. D. YOUNG, D. D., 697 North Pine St., Natchez, Miss.

Maryland's New Oyster Law.

Under the Haman-Beth compromise bill as passed by the legislature and signed by the Governor, oyster culture is to follow a complete survey of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries to determine the natural beds and barren bottoms.

Three shellfish commissioners are to be appointed by the Board of Public Works. They are to supervise the survey and to attend to the leasing for the state.

Survey is to be made under direction of a hydrographic engineer, and a United States Geological Survey expert is to be invited to help. An expert oysterman from each county is to act in an advisory capacity in the survey of waters in his county.

No corporation may hold claim to oyster lands, and each holding by assignment or otherwise is to be restricted to 10 acres in the tributaries and 100 acres in the Bay.

Leases are to be for 20 years. Annual rentals are to be charged at $1 for the first two years, $2 for the third year, $3 for the fourth year, $4 for the fifth year and $5 per year for the balance of lease.

Any legislature may change the leasing law, and methods of appeal to circuit courts are provided on the question of survey.

The season for catching oysters is to be extended for tongs to May 15. Between April 15 and May 15 (the extended term) oysters are to be caught for Maryland planters only, and the Commissioners are given powers for designating the cases in which this toning may take place and to provide rules to keep the seed in the state.

The cull law still holds, but on private beds the lessee may do as he pleases with his own oysters. He may use mechanical means for hatching them.

Natural bars are to be perpetually reserved as commons. Riparian right-holders are to have six months' priority of claim for leasing, to be followed by four months' priority for oystermen, after which any resident of Maryland, male or female, may apply for leasing rights, priority of claim to hold good.

Oliver T. Beauchamp Dead.

Mr. Oliver T. Beauchamp, a well known resident of Somerset county being prominent in Republican politics and clerk of the circuit court for the county, died at the Johns Hopkins Hospital at 11:45 o'clock last Sunday morning of Bright's disease. Mr. Beauchamp arrived at the hospital about a week previous accompanied by his attending physician, Dr. Charles W. Wainwright. For a time Mr. Beauchamp's condition improved, but on Wednesday he suffered a relapse. The remains were shipped to Princess Anne Saturday where interment took place.

Mr. Beauchamp was born at West over, in Somerset county, in October 1860, and had been prominent in the Republican party there since reaching manhood. In 1895 he was elected clerk of the circuit court for six years and was again renominated and elected to the same position in 1901 for the term Prior to that time he was sheriff of Somerset county, and frequently represented his party in county and state conventions. He was also extensively engaged in the milling and lumber business and was a director at the time of his death of the Peoples Bank of Somerset County, at Princess Anne. He is survived by his widow (Mrs. Ida Beauchamp, who was Miss Davis) and five children—one daughter (Mildred Beauchamp) and four sons (Creston, Roger, Oliver and Sydney Beauchamp).

What The Jeweler Added.

The following story has appeared in several papers. It deserves reprinting whether true or not:

"Recently a church congregation in a little town built a church. To pay for it they were obliged to call upon the merchants of the community for donations. The merchants responded liberally, and $300 was raised from this source. The last man to subscribe was John Smith, jeweler. 'I will give you $5 if you will let me add something to your subscription list,' he said. Permission was accorded him and he wrote at the bottom of the list:

John Smith, jeweler.....$5.00
Sears, Roebuck & Co..... 00
Montgomery, Ward & Co..... 00

"The church people saw the point when the minister read from the pulpit the list of donors to the building fund. Since the dedication of the church there have been no mail orders sent out from that little town."

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Made from Pure Grape Cream of Tartar

In baking powder Royal is the standard, the powder of highest reputation; found by the United States Government tests of greatest strength and purity.

It renders the food more healthful and palatable and is most economical in practical use.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy alum powders because they are "cheap." Yet some of the cheapest made powders are sold to consumers at the highest price.

Housekeepers should stop and think. Is it not better to buy the Royal and take no chances—the powder whose goodness and honesty are never questioned?

Is it economy to spoil your digestion by an alum-phosphate or other adulterated powder to save a few pennies?

A few days ago a certain fellow passed through our village with a stomach well filled with whiskey and stopped at one of our stores and purchased one dozen quinine pills and took all of them at one dose. We supposed he imagined he had drunk chills. We have not heard whether the medicine killed the patient or the chills.

The wild geese have all gone North except one old saucy gander that we hear squawking occasionally. We don't know when he will take his flight but as the others have all left therefore according to the old saying we may expect warmer weather.

Senator Brewington's Record.

Two Democratic senators showed vast improvement over their former records. They were Messrs. Brewington and Bid-dison. After a service of two terms Mr. Brewington has developed into one of the most useful members of the Senate, and if Wisconsin must elect a Democrat the county cannot be more faithfully served than by him. Mr. Brewington carried around a big bucketful of oil which he sprinkled over the ruffled waters of the Senate when the tempests arose and the waves tossed in that body. He was instrumental in bringing about the compromise on the Haman-Seth Oyster Bill. He did his best to bring the city and Baltimore county to an agreement on the much mooted water question and nearly succeeded. President Seth frequently invited him to the chair when times were boisterous and business was pressing.—Balto. American, Sunday April 8 1906.

DR. TRUITT TO REBUILD.

Will Begin At Once As Soon As His Insurance Is Adjusted—His Loss Pretty Well Covered.

It is the intention of Dr. Charles R. Truitt, proprietor of R. K. Truitt & Sons drug store, which was burned last Saturday night, to rebuild at once, as soon as his insurance is adjusted. No time has been set for the insurance adjusters to examine into the loss, but they are expected next week. In the meantime nothing has been touched at the store, Dr. Truitt having had it boarded up and tightly closed awaiting the action of the insurance people.

The loss at the fire, which at one time appeared to endanger several buildings on Main street, is in the neighborhood of $28,000. It is pretty well covered by a total of $23,000 on the building, stock and fixtures, as follows:

Agency of White & Truitt, $8,800.
Agency of Insley Bros., $1,200.
Agency of A. G. Todd & Son, $6,800.
Agency of W. S. Gordy, $1,000.
Agency of Wm. M. Cooper & Bro., $1,000.
Agency of L. Atwood Bennett, $1,200.
Agency of P. S. Shockley & Co., $8,000.

The number of companies involved is 18. The fire started between 11.30 and 12.00 o'clock Saturday night and was caused by the overturning of a vessel filled with alcohol near an alcohol lamp which was burning.

Dr. Truitt was compounding some chemicals and barely had time to get out of the building to give the alarm before the whole prescription department was a furnace. The alcohol caught fire immediately upon being spilled and ran over the counter and floor throwing its flames in all directions. So hot was the fire that no person could enter that portion of the building until it was drenched with water. An attempt was made to use a fire extinguisher but without success.

The Fire Department got into action in a hurry and by their determined efforts confined the fire to the Truitt building. Their work was highly complimented and compared favorably with the work of a city department. The flames burst out several times during the night and it was not until 6 o'clock Sunday morning that the fire was under complete control.

A tremendous crowd gathered shortly after the fire started and were handled with difficulty. The city police took charge within a few minutes and they and the firemen prevented any petty stealing, though they detected several attempts. Much indignation was expressed at this thievery.

The Woomoo News building, adjoining the Truitt building, was thought to be in danger several times, but the thick walls between and the metal roofs prevented a spread of the fire. Several tenants moved out of the News building, but the loss was trifling. It was fully covered by insurance.

TEN YEARS APICE.

Bodley and Bailey Each Sentenced To The Maryland Penitentiary For Above Terms—Bailey's Trial Monday Largely Attended.

Goldborough R. Bailey's trial on Monday for killing Mrs. W. A. Ennis at her home near Parker's mill on the evening of March 31st, was very largely attended and intense interest was manifested. There was no disorder, but the Court was compelled to clear the aisles once or twice, no great was the crowd. Bailey was calm and collected throughout. A verdict of manslaughter was reached at 11:25 o'clock Monday night and Bailey was at once sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary. Judge Lloyd delivered the sentence and told Bailey that, considering the crime he had committed, he was very fortunate in getting off with such a short term.

Wm. Bodley, who was convicted last week of arson, was also sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary Monday morning, previous to the commencement of Bailey's trial. Wm. Bodley thus sends to the penitentiary from this session of Court two criminals with longer sentences than has gone from the county for some years. Sheriff Bradley expected to take the prisoners to the institution on Friday.

The jury that tried Goldborough Bailey was composed as follows: Lee Godfrey, foreman, John B. Hurley, Wm. H. Gale, James C. Mitchell, Chas. E. Parker, G. E. Hinch, C. L. Dickerson, Sidney L. Traylor, James H. Coulbourn, Geo. A. Shockley, Jno. W. Rounds, Louis P. Coulbourn. Miles & Standford defended the prisoner and State Attorney Joseph L. Bailey was assisted in the prosecution by A. M. Jackson. Judges Holland and Lloyd were on the bench throughout the trial.

The testimony left considerable doubt in the minds of the jury as to Bailey's intent to kill any one. It was proven that he had been drinking heavily for a day or two previous to the shooting and that a decided altercation took place between Bailey and young John Ennis. In fact William A. Ennis testified that to the best of his recollection a scuffle took place between his son and Bailey before the gun went off. The only thing in the nature of a threat was Bailey's request to John Ennis, the first time he left the house at the demand of the Ennis's, to "stay there until I come back." Bailey also said during the quarrel that he "could kill the whole mess and it would only cost him 25 or 30 cents apiece." This remark, however, was looked upon as the empty boast of an angry and drunken man.

Young John Ennis was one of the best witnesses placed on the stand. He gave a clear and connected story of his encounter with Bailey and the subsequent shooting. His evidence was unshaken in any particular. Mr. Ennis acknowledged that when he came out to Bailey the second time his intention was to assault him. He made a rush for him (Ennis for Bailey) and did not stop even when he saw that Bailey had a gun, and notwithstanding Bailey was calling to him to "stand back." When he got up to Bailey, he brushed the gun aside and it went off. He then took the gun away from Bailey, knocked Bailey down and beat him up pretty badly. Young Ennis did not know that his mother was shot until after he had let Bailey get up and run off down the lane. He then went into the house and learned that his mother had been killed.

The jury was only out 12 minutes and the sentence was pronounced immediately upon the announcement of the verdict.

The defense labored hard for the acquittal of Bailey on the ground that the shooting was accidental, and that had it not been for the scuffle between John Ennis and Bailey the gun would probably not have been fired which killed the woman. Great stress was also laid upon the fact that Bailey was too drunk at the time of the shooting to have deliberately planned to kill anyone, and that if he had gone to the Ennis home to commit murder, and had been in a condition to do so, he had ample opportunity to shoot John Ennis, who assaulted him.

At the conclusion of the Bailey trial Monday night Court adjourned for the session. The sentence of George Gattis, colored, which had been held under advisement, was given Monday morning. His punishment was fixed at 30 days in jail. Gattis stole some eggs from under a setting hen.

HOT FIGHT AT WILLARDS.

Ebenezer C. Davis Loses His Own Town At Municipal Election On Tuesday.

At the municipal election here last Tuesday the Republicans elected two Town Councilmen and the Democrats one, therefore the Republicans will have the reins of government for two years.

Frank Brittingham, Republican, received the largest vote, his colleague, James T. Phillips, who is the Democrat elected, received the next largest vote and George W. Truitt, the other Republican elected, received the next largest vote. The defeated candidates on the Democratic side are as follows with their vote:

Ebenezer C. Davis..... 8
William T. Brumby..... 1
Handy A. Adkins..... 7
The Republicans defeated were:
Mitchell Donaway..... 8
William H. Webb..... 7

By the above it will be seen the Republicans ran ahead of the Democratic candidates. There is no Mayor to elect and the three Councilmen elected have full powers of the town for 2 years.

BIG MONEY IN CHICKENS.

C. D. Krouse Is Raising Broilers Successfully in Salisbury—Has Sold Already About Two Thousand This Spring.

That Wicomico county is a first class location for the chicken-raising business has been thoroughly demonstrated this spring by Mr. C. D. Krouse, who started under rather unfavorable conditions during the winter, with practically no previous experience, and who has made money out of the venture from the very start. Mr. Krouse came to this country from Pennsylvania seven or eight years ago and has been engaged in various enterprises since coming here, but mostly as a taker. He bought the "Underwood" property, opposite Parsons' cemetery, and this is where his chicken-raising industry is now established, on the hill, back from the road, facing the east and south. He conceived the idea last winter and ordered five incubators, at the same time building two long brooding sheds. He has been hampered by lack of room and has had other difficulties to contend with. But he is entirely satisfied. His broilers are now a sight worth seeing. He has nearly 2,000 young chicks of different size and next week expects to put out any where from 1,200 to 1,500 little biddies. He cannot quite count his chicks before they hatch as yet, though he comes near it, and the above number is therefore somewhat indefinite. He has been compelled to buy his eggs for setting purposes from anywhere he could obtain them and has consequently lost more than he should. His incubators have a capacity of 1,900 eggs.

Mr. Krouse has already shipped 2,000 broilers and is shipping almost every day. He has received prices averaging about $1.00 a pair, or from 45 to 55 cents per pound. The cost is comparatively light. He and his father and one colored boy do all the work around the place and the expense for feed per chick is light, as he begins to market them in 6 and one-half weeks from the time they leave the shell and none are kept longer than 10 weeks. Mr. Krouse says he does not know how long the season lasts, but he expects to keep on hatching until the prices go down so low it will not pay. He has succeeded in growing a superior chicken for the table, as when he began he figured on getting 60 cents per pair, but has not yet received returns much less than $1.00 per pair. Mr. Krouse attributes a large part of the success of his experiment to the climate. Next year he expects to increase both his incubator and brooder capacity. He also intends to raise his own eggs, from a variety of chickens that mature quickly for broiling purposes. He expects to experiment with various later on this spring and hopes to increase his business in other directions.

Salisburians On Pacific Coast.

A number of former Salisburians now reside on the Pacific coast and there has been considerable uneasiness here over them on account of the tremendous disaster of earthquake and fire at and near San Francisco. So far as has been learned however, none were injured. The only person from here who reside directly in San Francisco are Dr. William Moore, a brother of Rolfe Moore and nephew of Mrs. Gustavus White, and Mr. Charles Davis. Both Dr. Moore and Mr. Davis have lived in San Francisco a number of years. Mr. Davis is in the plumbing business. His brother, Mr. John Davis, of the Golden Eagle Tea House, has heard nothing from him since the disaster.

Mrs. White also has a brother in California, Mr. Ernest Riall. He lives at San Diego. Mrs. Grace Chase, Mr. and Mrs. White's daughter, was in San Francisco for some time but now resides at Los Angeles. Others from this town living in Los Angeles, and who are frequent visitors to San Francisco, are Messrs. J. W. and C. V. Holder and families, Joseph J. Wilson, William and John Bacon, Byrd Taylor and a daughter of Mr. Jonas Guany.

Washburn & D'Almas Trained Animal Shows.

The ponies, handsome little animals they are, too, and smart, are a feature of the Washburn & D'Almas Famous Trained Animal Shows, which will visit Salisbury and present its remarkable performances, afternoon and evening on Thursday, April 26th. There are 75 ponies of all sizes with this show including "Prince," positively the smallest pony ever known. This cute little equine is three years old, is 14 inches high and weighs just 37 pounds. And then there are talking ponies, musical ponies, dancing ponies, military ponies, and ponies who have been taught to accomplish tricks hitherto thought impossible by animal trainers. Every boy and girl will be interested in this happy family of miniature horse-flesh, and that the children may have an opportunity to pet and fondle the cunning creatures, immediately before or after each performance the little folks are allowed the privilege of riding them, all of which are perfectly gentle, and are accompanied by careful attendants. No other Animal Show in existence allows such a privilege to its juvenile patrons, and it is no wonder that the advent of the Washburn & D'Almas Shows is so eagerly awaited by the boys and girls.

There are also with the shows 50 dogs, 100 monkeys and a herd of elephants. The show will be given in tents in South Salisbury near the baseball grounds. The performances begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening.

FOR SHELL FISH COMMISSIONER.

The Board Of Public Works Met At Annapolis On Thursday.

The Board of Public Works met at Annapolis on Thursday to elect Shellfish Commissioners under the Seth-Haman Oyster Law. It was decided however to postpone the selection of the commission until next Friday, April 27th. It is stated that Professor Grave, of the Johns Hopkins University will be asked to accept one of the three appointments.

A large number of other names are mentioned for the commission, among them being Mr. B. Howard Haman, the author of the law. Aside from Prof. Grave (if he is appointed) one commissioner is to come from the Eastern Shore and one from the Western Shore. Senator M. V. Brewington was at Annapolis on Thursday with Mr. John W. Wingate to press his claims for appointment from this side of the bay. Comptroller Atkinson is said to have no candidate, and both General Vandiver and Governor Warfield are not committing themselves in favor of anyone.

One of the two members of the commission from the Tidewater counties must be a Republican. If an Eastern Shore Republican is appointed, Wicomico has a strong candidate in Capt. A. L. Wingate, of White Haven. Capt. Wingate has secured signatures of a large number of prominent Republicans to a petition and is backed by the oystermen of the county irrespective of politics. He is not engaged in the business at this time in any manner, but is thoroughly familiar with it in all its phases. He also knows the bay, as he both dredged and tonged for oysters for a number of years.

Following is a portion of a letter received by The Courier this week in advocacy of Mr. Wingate's appointment:

"Now let every oysterman in the county wake up and do all in our power to put one of our kit and kind on the Shellfish Commission. Capt. A. L. Wingate is the gentleman I mean. Let every oysterman pray: Oh! Board of Public Works, when you do meet to appoint the Shellfish Commissioner, don't forget we poor oystermen (as the Legislature did) but give us some one we can believe in and men that we know. We, that have the interest of the oystermen at heart. And one that will not be afraid to speak and do what he can to keep the grafters from getting hold of our rocks which means meat and bread to our oystermen. Now give us A. L. Wingate and all will be well. Amen."

EASTER DANCE.

An Enjoyable Function Given By The Young Men Of Salisbury Wednesday Evening.

The young men of Salisbury gave a most enjoyable Easter dance in the Masonic Temple assembly room Wednesday evening, the affair being in charge of a committee composed of Messrs. L. D. Collier, Jr., Raymond K. Truitt and H. Winter Owens. About 100 persons were present and dancing was continued until a late hour. Music was furnished by Prof. W. A. Kennerly's orchestra, assisted by three musicians from Baltimore. The supper was served by Caterer Harry Phillips, of the Peninsula Hotel. The fees were in appropriate Easter designs. Sherbert was served during the evening.

The out-of-town guests included Miss Waller, of Princess Anne; Mrs. Berry and Miss Turpin, of Westover; Mrs. Walton Brewington, of Baltimore; Miss Brady, of Middletown, Del.; Mrs. and Miss Jones, of Quantico; Messrs. Hopkins, of Baltimore; Robert Glover, of Wilmington, C. J. Cook, of Philadelphia, Promme of New York and Prof. Shingle, of Delmar.

Dr. C. R. Truitt's Insurance Adjusted.

The insurance adjusters came to Salisbury on Wednesday and on that day and Thursday went over the stock and fixtures of R. K. Truitt & Son's drug store that was burned and partially destroyed two weeks ago. The loss was finally fixed upon as being about 66 per cent. of the total insurance carried. Dr. C. R. Truitt was entirely satisfied with the adjustment made and said he had received very fair treatment.

Dr. Truitt will be paid on his stock $8,667.16 and on fixtures $8,560.79, and takes all the salvage. The damage to the building is left to the contractors to decide. Dr. Truitt cannot estimate his net loss until after he ascertains the value of the stock and fixtures that were saved. He does not estimate at this time however, that his loss will be very great.

Lecture Next Monday Evening.

Rev. Wm. J. Rowan, Ph. D., will lecture on Commodore Stephen Decatur in the Masonic Temple, Monday 23rd inst. Dr. Rowan has made a special study of the famous Commodore, having had access to the original documents in the Navy Department at Washington. He will speak of Decatur's Dutch and French ancestors, his preparation for a sea-faring life, his remarkable feat in the war with Tripoli, his two naval engagements in the War of 1812, his course in the war with the Barbary Pirates, and his duel with Commodore James Barron.

Several musical selections by local talent will also form part of the evening's entertainment, which is given under the auspices of Wicomico Presbyterian Church. Admission, adults 25 cents, children 15 cents. Tickets on sale at Harper & Taylor's.

In Loving Remembrance of Daniel B. White.

At Delmar, Del., April 6th, 1906, entered at rest, Mr. Daniel B. White, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. White. Having been sick only two weeks, with typhoid fever, his death came as a severe shock to all his family and friends. He was a kind, loving, and obedient son and brother, and was beloved by all who knew him. Some years ago he united with the M. E. Church of which he was a faithful member, and to its service he fully adhered. He was usher in the church, and was always willing to lend a helping hand in any way that he could. He will be missed by a host of friends, by his pastor, who was his Sunday School teacher and by his class mates, but may their loss be his gain.

"Dan" as he was called by his friends, was a bright, upright, and intelligent young man and had a word of cheer for all with whom he came in contact. He had been in the service as mail-carrier for more than four years and was always at his post of duty. Mr. White was to have married Miss Ruth Webster, daughter of Rev. Z. H. Webster, of Delmar, Del., April 11th, and that day had been looked forward to with joy and much pleasure by all the friends of both parties, many presents having been received by the intended bride.

As the end of the two weeks of his illness drew near, and as the Lord called "Dan" unto himself, he realized how "Sweet it was to trust in Jesus" and said he was ready and willing to go, and the Lord's will be done.

May the friends he has left behind, follow his example and meet him where there will be no parting forever and ever.

Funeral services, which were one of the largest ever witnessed in Delmar, were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Z. H. Webster, Sunday afternoon at Delmar M. E. Church, at 1:30 o'clock. The flowers bearers were Messrs. Harley Elliott, Victor C. Hitchens, C. C. West, M. H. German, Wilmer Tilghman and Elmer Tilghman, all of whom were laden with flowers, sent by various friends. One design was a vacant chair presented by the Post Office Department, a harp and an anchor, given by his ushers, a large bouquet given by his intended bride, beside a number of other floral tributes given by various friends.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Herman Elliott, Harvey Kirk, Herman Culver, S. N. Culver, Howard Kirk, C. Norman Jefferson, Loran German and Claude Phillips.

His remains were laid to rest in Mason's M. E. Cemetery, to await the Resurrection Morn. He leaves a mother, four sisters and three brothers to mourn their loss, namely, Mrs. Clarence Hearn, of Delmar, Mrs. Augustus Parsons, of Parnassburg, Mrs. Theodore Hearn, of Salisbury, Messrs. James White, of Philadelphia, Geo. W. White and John H. White, of Salisbury, all of whom have our deepest heartfelt sympathy.

His virtues fair we now recall,
Within our hearts they bloom;
Like flowers behind a garden wall,
That summer suns illumine.

His character a fragrant breath,
To all who knew him well;
Which all the force of Mighty Death,
From earth could not dispel.

He, being dead, is speaking still,
In words that e'er shall be;
And these our hearts with odors fill,
That sweeter memory.

A FRIEND,
Berlin, Md.

Obituary.

Daniel B. White aged 31 years, departed this life April 6, 1906, leaving a mother, five sisters and three brothers to mourn their loss.

Oh! dear Daniel thou hast left us,
'Tis so hard to give you up;
But 'tis God who hath so willed it,
And we'll drain the bitter cup.

You were sweetest, loving, patient,
So you've gone to dwell above,
And dear Father, when you called him,
You have called one that we love.

Oh! our hearts are sad and lonely,
Sorrow, grief, so hard to bear;
Father, when our journey's over,
May we dwell with him o'er there.

Thou art gone but not forgotten,
You on earth no more we'll see;
God did give and he hath taken,
He has gone to dwell with Thee.

—By the family.

In Memoriam.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife, Addie M. Jackson, who died one year ago April 12, 1905.

Thou hast left us sad and lonely,
Left us all with aching hearts,
Thou' suffered long and grievous,
Dear one, still 'twas hard to part.

Through the year our thoughts were with thee,
Yearning e'er to see thy face;
But we know you filled your mission,
God has called you to your place.

You were always kind and gentle,
Ever thoughtful, good and true,
Always seeking, ever anxious,
Something more for us to do.

In His wisdom, God the Father, Called from us the one we loved;
But we know you're waiting for us;
In "His Heavenly Home" above.

By husband and children.
Softly our tears are falling,
Sad are our hearts today;
For the one we loved so dearly,
Has been called from us away.

And now that our circle is broken,
And parting has filled us with pain,
We hold as a glorious token,
The bright hope of meeting again.

—By her parents and sisters.

COLORED INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Good Work Being Done By The Pupils Under Direction Of Principal Phineas E. Gordy.

At the colored Grammar and Industrial school, which was held Saturday 14th inst. at the school building, many pieces of the scholars work were displayed. During the school year the pupils have done creditable work in wood-working, upholstering and chair caning, reed and raffa work, clay modeling and drawing. In connection with above a domestic science department is maintained for the girls in which they do cooking and sewing. About 101 pupils have been enrolled during the year, and besides the regular school studies all received industrial training suitable to their ages and grades.

The different pieces of the pupils work were exhibited in the general work-shop and the domestic science rooms on the second floor of the building. Among the exhibits of special note were nicely finished shirt-waists, and handkerchiefs-bags, made by the girls, and a couch, an upholstered chair and a screen made by the boys and an old chair reupholstered and properly repaired otherwise.

Many persons called during the day to see the exhibits. Among them were Supt. Boudin, who explained to the Courier's representative some of the important features of this work, residents from other States and many citizens of this city.

The principal, Phineas E. Gordy, and his assistants, Miss Estelle V. Kennedy, James L. Johnson, and Miss L. G. Brown, are doing much toward training the pupils of this school to be industrious and respectful citizens.

Resolutions Of Respect.

Entered into rest from her home in Jester-ville on Sunday evening March 11th, 1906, Mrs. Ida C. Jester, beloved wife of Wilfred R. Jester. She leaves besides her husband, five children, a mother, one sister and a host of loving friends to mourn her loss. The end came suddenly though afflicted for nearly twelve months. Her funeral services were held at their home Tuesday morning March 13th by her pastor, Rev. J. L. Ward, at which he spoke so beautifully of her true Christian life. A very large concourse of sympathizing friends were present to show their high esteem of her. She was afterward laid to rest in the family burial ground near their home to wait the Resurrection Morn.

Therefore, be it resolved, we extend to our brother Jester and their bereaved children and other friends our heartfelt sympathies, believing their loss is her eternal gain.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the relatives and friends, also published in the county papers.

An Expression Of Appreciation.

During the six years of my residence in Salisbury I have had the honor of being brought into relation with all classes of citizens—physicians, lawyers, preachers, merchants, artisans, county officials—and I have been with persons in prosperity and adversity, in their sorrows and in their joys. My energies have been given to religious and reform work.

For the privilege of serving the people in what I have conscientiously believed is for their welfare, for sympathy in affliction, for honest words of appreciation, for all kindnesses bestowed, I hereby express sincere thanks.

I shall always take lively interest in the onward and upward progress of Salisbury and Wicomico County. It would give me pleasure to visit and bid adieu to my many friends, but the time at my disposal will not permit.

Sincerely yours,

S. J. Smith.

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN

Learn The Cause Of Daily Woes And End Them.

When the back aches and throbs. When housework is torture. When night brings no rest nor sleep. When urinary disorders set in. Women's lot is a weary one.

There is a way to escape these woes. Doans Kidney Pills cure such ills. Have cured women here in Salisbury. This is one Salisbury woman's testimony.

Mrs. G. W. Fooks, wife of G. W. Fooks, County Sheriff of the Court House, says: "I have suffered off and on with kidney complaint for the last eight years. It came on me gradually and continued to get worse. I felt tired and weak, was short of breath. One doctor told me I had kidney disease and it would finally result in Bright's disease. I was laid up at one time for three weeks. I was feeling very miserable when I went to White and Leonard's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills. I had not taken them more than three days when the distressing aching across my back disappeared. I have great faith in this remedy, and I know if anyone will take the remedy as directed they will receive beneficial results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

STATE.

A flock of white Pekin ducks owned by Rev. J. H. Baker, of Aberdeen, Talbot county, has laid 900 eggs in 192 days.

Hon. Sydney R. Mudd, Congressman, has been elected a member of the Republican Congressional Committee from Maryland.

Dr. Thos. Lewis, of Western Maryland College, has been granted a leave of absence for a year and will take a trip to Europe with his daughters.

Mr. O. Straughn Lloyd has been appointed assistant postmaster at Princess Anne to succeed Mr. Charles C. Sudler, who was compelled to resign on account of his health. Mr. Lloyd entered upon his duties Monday.

After a long struggle the Wilmington Conference Academy, one of the most deserving institutions engaged in the work of educating poor boys into most useful lives as teachers, ministers and physicians will be absolutely freed from debt on its Commencement Day.

Cards of invitation have been sent out by Mr. and Mrs. George C. Barton, of Annapolis, for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Pearl Magdalene, to Mr. Thomas Spence Smith, of Snow Hill. The wedding will take place at noon, Wednesday, April 25, in St. Anne's Church, Annapolis.

The promoters of the trolley line from Wilmington to Rehoboth were before the Town Board at Georgetown, last week and were granted a franchise to use Market street, in Georgetown, after posting a forfeit that the work would be commenced in said town inside of one year and completed within two years.

The Maryland Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, elected last week the following officers for the ensuing year: Grand Chancellor, Richard Laws Lee; grand vice chancellor, William F. King; grand prelate, Olin Bryan; grand keeper of records and seals, James Whitehouse; grand master of exchequer, Louis Reitz.

There will be no encampment of the Maryland National Guard at Idlewild Park, Easton, or anywhere else this year. To take the place of this annual outing of the militia, arrangements have been made by which the several battalions will be sent to the State rifle range, at Glenburnie, Anne Arundel county, for rifle practice during a period of three days. Adjutant-General Riggs has just issued an order setting forth the arrangements of the practice.

The Norfolk and New York express on the Delaware railroad, due in Wilmington at 4.10 Saturday morning, arrived at 5.13, but the run was one of the fastest on record. Engineer John Parsons took charge of the engine at Delmar at 3 o'clock, in place of the scheduled time, 1.08, and made the run in 2 hours and 13 minutes, and thus made up 49 minutes of the regular schedule over 97 1/2 miles. All the regular stops were made and two slow downs.—Every Evening.

Sheriff Catlik and Deputy-Sheriff Gannon last week raided a number of speakeasies in Graham's Alley, Easton, and arrested their proprietors all colored. They were given a hearing before Police Justice William Reddie, who held them for Court under a bail of $600 which they could not give. This is one of the most notorious localities in Easton, and all kinds of gambling devices and other violations of the law are carried on, notwithstanding it is frequently raided by the officers and the perpetrators sent to the House of Correction and the county jail.

The trustees of Jacob Tome Institute recently chose Dr. Francis C. Lane, principal of the Polytechnic Preparatory School, Brooklyn, N. Y., as successor to Director Abram W. Harris, who recently accepted the Presidency of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. Dr. Lane was born in 1860 at Manchester, N. H. He is an M. A. of Dartmouth and M. D. of Columbian now George Washington University, Washington, D. C. of the high school system of which city he was for two years director. There were fifty or more applicants for the position.

A Delaware baseball league, which will include clubs in Kent and Sussex counties only, will shortly be formed. James P. Allee, Jr., son of Senator Allee and his secretary, and William C. F. Waller, both of Dover, are at the head of the movement. Young Allee is a crack player. Representatives from Dover, Laurel, Milford, Frederica and Camden met in Dover Saturday and agreed upon the details. It was decided to allow only two non-resident players on each team. The object in confining the membership to the two counties is to obviate expensive jumps. It is probable that Smvrna will be secured, thus making a six-club circuit.

Six small hotels have closed at Ocean City owing to the jump in the price of liquor license from $300 to $450.

The McCall's Ferry Power Co., just north of the Mason & Dixon's line, near Haver De Grace, on the Susquehanna river, is expected to develop 45,000 horse power. The power will be sold in Baltimore in the form of electricity.

There was a scandal at the late session of the Circuit Court at Georgetown. It being charged that efforts were made to tamper with members of the Grand Jury Chief Justice Lore called the jury sharply to account. One case ignored by the Grand Jury was that of several Laurel men, accused of improper conduct toward a girl who was afterward sent to a Wilmington home. This case was returned again to the Jurors after the lecture by the Court and one man was indicted, but he has disappeared. In several cases the State has had trouble in holding its witnesses.

Engineers connected with the War Department have made a survey of Tyaskin Creek, in Wicomico county and recommend that it be improved as a waterway by dredging a channel nine feet deep and one hundred and twenty feet wide with a turning basin at the town of Tyaskin. Such an improvement would permit steamers to land at the wharf at Tyaskin and afford better facilities and cheaper rates for shippers at that point. Tyaskin has a population of 300 and its trade in lumber, wood, melons and canned goods is considerable. The cost of the improvements would be approximately $6500.

Among the first official acts of the new Clerk of the Circuit Court of Somerset county, S. Frank Dashiell, was the issuing of a marriage license for a colored couple named John Logan and Easter Powell, residing at or near Punccheon Landing, on the Pocomoke river, in Dublin district, Rev. T. A. Johnson, colored, applied for the license and gave the man's age at 85 years and the woman's, as 115. The minister was questioned very closely when he gave the woman's age as 115 but he stuck to his text and said from the best information he could gather in the neighborhood, that was her age. She has been blind for several years, otherwise she is quite active.

The Rev. J. B. Pruitt, of Pocomoke City, has one of the two stamp canes in America, for which he has been offered $125. The body of the cane is made of stamps ranging from one to fifteen cents, the whole number required being 6,115. Sandpaper, shellac and alcohol were used in the dressing of the stamps, the effect of which gives the appearance of highly polished onyx with veins of red blue and buff. The cane is further ornamented with a heavy carved gold top on which is engraved the name of the owner, number of stamps and value. The only other one like it in America, by which Mr. Pruitt made his, is owned by a Mr. Morgan of New York.

Bilious? Feel heavy after dinner? Tongue coated? Bitter taste? Complexion sallow? Liver needs waking up. Doan's Regulax cure bilious attacks. 25 cents at any drug store.

According to the American Grocer, of New York, the entire country can consume from 8,500,000 to 9,000,000 cases of tomatoes per year, and, in fact, has done so for the last four years. According to authentic reports the pack of 1905 was 5,555,000 cases, or about 3,000,000 less than are needed. To this must be added the carry over from the previous year say 1,000,000 cases making a grand total on hand at the end of the packing season of 6,555,000 or over 2,000,000 cases less than required. As a result of the shortage prices were advanced immediately and from opening figure of about 75 cents to 80 cents per dozen for the large size, three pound cases. In the season they have advanced until to $1.15 is the figure at which they are generally being held. Now, as the country has found to consume 8,500,000 to 9,000,000 cases per year, it is not difficult to see how long the present supply will last, provided the consumption keeps up as in the last four years.

The Importance Of Selecting Good Men.

The Wicomico News advises that the voters of Salisbury rise above political considerations in selecting a new City Council two weeks hence and we heartily agree with our contemporary. It was for this reason we suggested a bipartisan board. In our opinion, members of the Council should be elected and serve as citizens, irrespective of politics. There is no politics in city affairs.

If the old board of councilmen will consent to serve again, we are glad to withdraw our suggestion of a bi-partisan board. What the city wants is not only men of good business judgment, but of experience. The present Council has made a fine record. We do not see why they cannot continue the work they have so well begun until it is successfully completed.
We hope they will. With the assistance of a commission, they should not be overburdened with the work to be undertaken on the streets. They are also authorized to employ an engineer, which will be an additional relief. If all pull together—the citizens, the Council and their assistants—Salisbury will be a city indeed to be proud of a year hence.

If new and untried members of the Council are elected, it is our opinion that the contemplated improvements to the streets should be delayed, and probably abandoned altogether for another year.
A large amount of money is to be expended. It must be done judicially. We want good streets, but we want them built right and economically.

Colored Appointee Of Democrats Causing Trouble.

Joseph E. Postles, colored, clerk in City Treasurer Blaine's office, Wilmington, Del., is causing his Democratic friends no end of trouble. He was found to be incompetent to perform the duties of his office and has been walking about the city, enjoying life at the City Council's expense. They dared not remove him, as his father, the colored member of the Council with whom the Democrats combined to control the appointments, would not listen to it.

The white members of the Council tried to get rid of their negro clerk by withholding his salary for the month of March.
They thought he would quit. But he only got mad.

"I have no intention of resigning. If the Council wants me out they must put me out." So said colored clerk Postles last Saturday to a reporter of the Every Evening.
That paper says, in explaining the situation:

"When the miscellaneous payroll came before Council for action at the meeting on March 29th, there was a hitch, some of the members being opposed to allowing Postles' salary. Before the matter came up for action all of the councilmen had a conference in regard to it, in the mayor's office. At the conference Councilman Kane asked Councilman Postles whether it was true that the young man intended to resign, and Postles replied in the affirmative, evidently believing that the salary for that month would be allowed. But the salary was not allowed, and the situation immediately changed. In the vote on paying the salary all of the Republicans voted against paying it, while Postles and all of the Democrats, except Mr. Lynch, voted for it."

The Democrats deserve all the trouble they have gotten themselves into, but to the taxpayers it should be an object lesson. The situation is an example of what lengths some politicians will go to, for a few dollars in patronage.

The Disaster At San Francisco.

As details of the earthquake and fire in the State of California, centered at San Francisco, reach the outer world through the metropolitan press, the disaster is proven to be one of the worst in the world's history. Several earthquake shocks were experienced and the falling buildings, catching fire amid their ruins, have spread the flames until whole cities have been destroyed. The New York American says that a broad tract of prosperous, peaceful and happy country, embracing practically the best section of the State of California, has been laid waste. More than 20 cities and large towns have been destroyed and hundreds, perhaps thousands of lives have been lost. The damage in money is impossible to estimate, except to state that it will reach into the hundreds of millions.

More than $2,500,000 relief funds have been subscribed and aid is being rushed to the stricken State as fast as possible. At the last reports, hundreds of thousands of people were destitute and homeless. They are sleeping out of doors and food was getting scarce. This condition however, should have been relieved to some extent before this is printed. Congress has voted $1,000,000 and General Fun-ton, commanding the Pacific coast troops, has been placed in charge.

The cause of the earthquake is said by scientists to have been the formation of the rocky foundations of the earth at that point. It is probable that the slip, or fracture, in the underlying rocks which led to the disaster, occurred several miles beneath the surface. California has experienced many earthquakes, more than 250 being recorded at San Francisco during a period of about 25 years. There is no danger of a similar occurrence on the Atlantic coast from the same cause, and the shocks in California can have no appreciable effect at such a distance. The cataclysm at San Francisco has been predicted by seismologists, but the people had grown accustomed to the slight "quakes" and disregarded the warnings that have been issued from time to time.

the invitation was extended by tries. Addresses will be delivered

CROSSINGS TO BE PROTECTED.

Railroad Officials Meet City Council Monday Evening And Agree To Use Gates And Bells.

As announced in last week's Courier, the officials of the N. Y. P. & N. R. R. and B.
C. & A. Ry. Co. met the City Council Monday evening and a thorough understanding was had between them in regard to better protection of life and less serious accident at the various street and railroad crossings in Salisbury.

The railway officials showed a most willing spirit to do anything the Council requested and while they stated that they believed watchmen were better than gates, if gates were desired they would erect them and maintain them. The outcome was that gates were decided upon at South Salisbury and East Church street, on the N. Y. P. & N. R. R., to be operated by crossing watchmen, thus giving double protection. Supt. Rogers also stated that if it were found to be practical,
he would also erect gates at the Isabella st.
crossing.

Supt. A. J. Benjamin, of the B. C. & A.
Ry., agreed to place alarm bells at the Division street crossing and at Byrds' switch, and to remove the water tank at the Division street crossing so as to give a clear view of the track from that approach. The question of placing gates at the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic was gone thoroughly into, and it was the consensus of opinion that gates were unnecessary for that road, as there is always a watchman at the Division street crossing when a train is passing same. It was pointed out by Mr. Benjamin that during nine months of the year there was a very limited number of trains running over the road and the danger was slight.

Before the close of the conference the Council also stipulated that all trains should run within the city limits under control of the engineer, and that the crossings should be kept clear of trains at all times during the day and night except for five minutes at a time.

The work of putting in the appliances described above will be completed in time for the heavy summer business. The city and the railroads are both to be congratulated upon the solution of what might have proven a most disagreeable controversy.

Stole a Canoe.

Nantooke, Md.,
April 19, 1906.

A canoe, owned by Mr. Herman S. Turner, was stolen from her mooring near Roaring Point steambot wharf early Tuesday morning by two colored people from Dames Quarter by the name of Mobile Lester Hyland and Jno. Dashiell. She was seen to go up the Nantooke river by a vessel captain, and on Wednesday morning Mr. David L. Turner, accompanied by three colored men, Jesse Miller, Geo. and Jos. Jones, went in pursuit and came up with the missing canoe at Vienna, with Hyland in command. He was trying to dispose of her for $25.00, so he and the canoe were taken in charge and brought to Nantooke. Hyland was taken before Justice of the Peace, L. T. Walter. He said he and his comrade had boarded the steamer "Enoch Pratt" at Deal Island bound to Seaford, Del., and before they got to Roaring Point a distance of 45 minutes' sail, they had been robbed of their money on the boat and the captain put them off at Roaring Point, and that John the older of the two said he had a canoe there and they would proceed on their journey in that.
So they took Mr. Turner's canoe and throwing tongs, oulling board and etc., overboard went up the river trying to sell her to every one they met till apprehended by the searching party. Justice Walter held him for the action of the Grand Jury and sent him to jail in default of bail.

A Strenuous Season.

The majority of theatre goers entertain an idea that about all there is to the theatrical business is rambling "round seen" the country, counting box-office receipts and spending the summer in "riotous" living on the season's profits at Saratoga or Long Branch but the erroneousness of this impression is amply proven by the following clipping taken from the bill-board, America's leading theatrical weekly, regarding the experience of the Herald Square Comic Opera Co., which appears here on Wednesday, April 25, at Ulman's Opera House in their season's success—"A Trip to India": "The Herald Square Comic Opera Co. will shortly celebrate its season in the one night stands. They opened the season at Annapolis, Md., on April 11th, 1905 and since that time the company has covered eighteen states, played in over 220 cities; travelled over 16,000 miles; been in three railroad wrecks; has buried one comedian; sent two members to the hospital; returned three to New York, on account of illness; has been in two theatre fires; opened eleven new theatres; played forty-seven engagements in one state (Louisiana) of which seventeen were return dates; (four separate engagements in one theatre, three in three others are two in eight others); sent two stranded companies home and made twenty-eight changes in the cast and chorus."

A strenuous season indeed but according to the press agent, still on top of the brush heap doing business at the same old stand, it has played for the past nine seasons.

THE Salisbury Building & Loan and Banking ASSOCIATION

The Building & Loan Department, with its paid-up capital stock of $14,500.00, makes loans, secured by mortgages, to be paid back in weekly installments of 30c, 40c, 50c, $1.00 or $2.00 per week, to suit borrower; and has been doing a popular and successful business since 1897.

The Banking Department was added in 1902 under authority granted by the General Assembly of Maryland of that year, to act as a depository for the Association's capital stock for banking purposes, receives money on deposit, makes loans on commercial paper, enters into such business transactions as conservative banks ordinarily do, and generally solicits the patronage of its friends and the general public. Open an account with us, no harm can possibly result.

—Messrs. A. J. Benjamin and W. B. Miller attended the annual meeting of the New Castle Presbytery, in session at Lewes, Del., this week. Mr. Miller attended as commissioner appointed by the congregation, to notify the Presbytery of the severance of the pastoral relation of Rev. Dr. S. W. Reigart with Wicomico Presbyterian Church. Mr. Miller's remarks upon making the formal notification of Dr. Reigart's resignation were received by the Presbytery with marked sympathy and profound regret. The responsive remarks evidenced the high esteem in which Dr. Reigart is held by this body, of which he has been a member for the past 16 years. The Presbytery was greatly touched by the evidence of affection that exists between Dr. Reigart and his congregation and appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions, which will be placed upon the minutes.

Painting Winona

By ETHEL BARRINGTON

Copyright, 1905, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

Against the autumnal yellow and crimson glory of the maples the girl's golden hair and dull red dress made a harmonious picture. Wilfred Clay, artist, brought his wheel to a sudden stop, wondering if he ever had seen anything so exquisite before. Surely it was toward this that he had been journeying, this wonderful breathing picture. Already he mentally planned the blendings of madder and lake, of chrome and yellow, to reproduce the charm as, steadying his wheel against a rock, he climbed the bank.

"Is there any place near by where I can put up for a few days?" he inquired, standing bareheaded before the vision.

"Folks sometimes stay at the farm-houses."

"Any you particularly recommend?"

"None," was the laconic answer. The young fellow laughed, noting the discontent that dimmed the girl's real beauty. "How about that one?" indicating a red chimney that showed among the trees.

"I live there. It's no worse than the rest."

"It has attractions that the others lack," he declared gallantly, but the compliment flew wide of its aim. "Will you accompany me to present my cause?"

Silently the girl acquiesced, keeping a little in advance; then, suddenly waiting for him to join her, she began to talk rapidly. Her eyes never wavered from the advancing figure of a man, a farmer from his dress, who with a switch lashed moodily at the goldenrod and passed without a word, the rising color above the loose collar alone betraying his consciousness of their presence. After he had gone the girl fell again into silence.

She left the artist on the wide porch and sent her mother to interview the stranger. Clay promptly accepted the terms and was soon smoking in homelike ease, wondering how he might persuade the girl to let him paint her, his fingers already itching to be at work.

During supper, which he shared with the family, Clay endeavored to draw Winona—he had discovered that to be her name—into conversation, but she repelled such advances with monosyllables. One of her brothers chaffed her on her ill humor, arousing her to sharp retort, whereat he laughed loudly.

"Fortune's sours sis's temper. Funny how some folks can't stand good luck."

Later Clay found her leaning against the trellis where the vines still clung. "I congratulate you on being an heiress. Independence is not the least gift that riches confer."

The girl raised her head rebelliously. "Why should Aunt Lisa give me her money? I don't want it. I hardly ever saw her and cared less. What right had she to spoil my life?" Her voice vibrated with resentment, and a low whistle escaped Clay.

"Truly an unusual view to take. If you are in trouble possibly I can help you. I'd like to try."

Winona shook her head. "Guess no one can."

"What about the fellow we met?" A chance shot, but it made the color surge painfully to the girl's face, though she kept silent.

"I stayed over to paint a picture," proceeded the artist, abruptly changing the topic. "I'm going to try for the rioting splendor of a New England fall, and I want you in the shadow of the maples—just as you were today."

"If it depends on me you may as well give up your picture."

"It would mean a good deal to me."

"I don't hold with such," returned the girl indifferently and went indoors. Musing, Clay continued to pull at his brier. It took a good deal to discourage him. The subject was an inspiration. He would paint now as before he only dreamed of doing. On the morrow he would sketch the girl from memory—her pose and coloring were photographed on his brain—and then go to work on the background.

But as the week passed he found himself no nearer his object. Winona, who now conversed on ordinary topics, was dumb when he advanced the picture, nor did he gain in her confidence regarding her personal affairs. It was from her mother, Mrs. Eager, that he learned the facts.

Previous to her aunt's death Winona had "kept company"—the local phrasing for courtship—with Keith Adams, but there had been no formal engagement, for which fact the mother now rejoiced, as with her improved prospects the girl might do much better. Mrs. Eager herself had privately administered some broad hints to the aspiring farmer, which he had apparently accepted. Did Winona care? Well, she supposed that Winona thought she did, but she was young enough to have a dozen fancies before coming into control of her money. It was her duty to marry well and help her brothers and sisters.

"I'm told you are not ambitious," remarked Clay that evening, causing Winona to stare up unexpectedly.

"I want nothing but to be let alone. If I had the money now I'd give it to you to any one who'd go away and never let me hear of it again." Her voice choked suddenly, and, covering her face, she sobbed with an abandon and passion that Clay never had seen before.

He felt uncomfortable, like all men when confronted with women's tears. But he wanted to help her. Above all things he wanted his picture. Impulsively he whispered a suggestion, a hint for their mutual benefit. At first she made no sign of having heard, but little by little she grew calm and as he finished caught eagerly at his hands.

"You are right, of course," she cried. "Who ever won anything by moping?"

When she retired Clay sat lost in meditation. "It's playing with fire, but the picture's worth it," was his verdict.

From that night the girl's demeanor changed. During the long autumn days she posed for the painter beneath the maples and chatted gaily with him at dusk on the porch, but always where her red gown might be seen by one passing on the road. Her mother smiled knowingly at the neighborly gossip that reached her ear.

Meanwhile the picture grew, and Clay knew it was the best he ever had done, though the exquisite tints of the girl's face were his despair, and the sweet companionship caused the memory of a certain compact to dim.

Each day the young farmer passed and repassed, and the more depressed he seemed the more gaily Winona's laugh pursued him on his way.

One morning Clay was putting finishing touches on the foliage when a shadow darkened his canvas. Glancing up, expecting Winona, who was to join him, he encountered the angry gaze of Keith Adams. For a moment neither spoke; then all the pent up jealousy and rage broke forth in the lover.

"How dare you paint her, making her name and face alike common?"

"Who are you?" inquired Clay coolly.

"I speak as man to man," replied the other. "She's nothing but a child, for all her years. Leave her alone."

"I think I've helped her," remarked Clay.

"Do you love her?" demanded Keith Adams. "Are you going to marry her?"

"What business is it of yours?"

The half smile in the artist's eye maddened Keith, and he gripped him savagely by the collar, thrusting his own face close.

"It's this much—that while I live no man shall slight that girl. I know you painting men. You think you own creation—believe yourselves free to take or leave and pay no bills. That girl's name is being mixed with yours, and it's time for you to go unless you mean honest by her. Which is it to be?"

"What possible right have you to question?"

"What right?" cried Keith, his voice thick with passion. "What right? Why, I love her—do you understand? I love her!"

"Then tell me so."

Keith dropped his bold, and, turning, the two men saw Winona close beside them, with all the witchery of love in her eyes. Clay spoke slowly, a grim acceptance of the inevitable hardening his face.

"It seems that my friendship has been questioned. Winona, so you must forgive me if I seem abrupt. Will you be my wife? I—"

"Hush!" cried the girl. "Don't spoil the kindest friendship that ever a girl had. It was not necessary between you and me," she added, with a laugh. Then, turning to the man of her choice, his name fell tenderly from her lips.

Clay considerably turned his back and, collecting his painting outfit, left them in the golden glory of the maples.

"It's a good thing the picture is about done." Then his mouth closed inscrutably as he went down the road alone.

Suffering

Will Not Help Your Disease, but Will Weaken Your Nerves.

Folks who think it is better to bear pain than soothe it—are wrong. Old-fashioned doctors used to say it was better, because they had nothing with which to ease pain but dangerous, heart-paralyzing drugs.

But now, that a safe remedy has been found, Dr. Miller's Anti-Pain Pills, it is wrong to suffer, for nothing can be gained but weakened nerves.

A safe rule to remember is: When in pain, take an Anti-Pain Pill.

This will soothe your quivering nerves. Dr. Miller's Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain by restoring the natural secretions, in which they differ from opium and similar narcotic drugs, which relieve pain by checking the action of the glands.

They are sure and harmless, and are the latest medical treatment for the cure of Headache, Neuralgia, Backache, Rheumatism, Dizziness, Toothache, Stomachache, Menstrual (Monthly) Pains. Also nerve irritations like Sea-Sickness, Car-Sickness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, etc.

Pleasant to take, quick in results. "I have used Dr. Miller's Anti-Pain Pills for sick, nervous headache, and have received the best results. I heartily recommend their curative properties, for they are successful."—REV. RAY A. WATROS, D. D., Iowa City, Ia.

Everybody's Magazine for May, 1906.

Most notable persons, among several notable articles in the May Everybody's Magazine, is Lindsay Denison's "Making Good at Panama." Mr. Denison's is the first authoritative story of the work being done on the canal. He went to Panama armed with a letter from President Roosevelt instructing all Government officers and employees to tell the bearer the whole truth "whether it hurts or not." "Making Good at Panama" will give you real impressions as if you were looking with your own eyes, and, best of all, the truth will not hurt; it will line you up enthusiastically with the President and Taft and Stevens.

"The Condemned-Meat Industry." Upton Sinclair's trenchant reply to J. O'Brien's defense of the Beef Trust, backed up by documentary evidence, will require a deal of answering.

Part II of "The Coal Trust, the Labor Trust, and the People who Pay," by Aartley Davis, is particularly timely just now—more than most of us wish.

Thomas W. Lawson recounts a recent experience with Heinze. Readers of Everybody's will recall the chapter some months ago in which he described Heinze; but in spite of that marvelous skinning, Heinze bobs up a few months later with a proposition that Mr. Lawson join forces with him to harnawoggle the public. He showed Mr. Lawson where they could both make millions. "Fools and Their Money" is the suggestive title of the article in which Mr. Lawson tells about it.

One must read "The Autobiography of an Elderly Woman" in order to understand its quite compelling interest.

"The New Democracy," a poem by Rose A. Phelps Stokes stands out with a rugged strength that should make it long remembered.

The fiction in this number of Everybody's is well worthy of the rest of the magazine. Rex R. Beach concludes his great novel of Alaska "The Spoils"; James Hoppe, contributes a short story "The Pity of Woman"; Zona Gale "Rehearsal"; Joseph C. Lincoln, "A Tarnished Star," and Anne Storr Allen, "The Paper Lady's Lodger."

A facsimile of President Roosevelt's letter to the Government officers and employees at Panama concerning Mr. Denison's visit makes a most striking cover.

Watson's Magazine for May.

Watson's Magazine for May will be on time, appearing on the newsstands April 25th, Mr. Watson, in an editorial reviews Upton Sinclair's book, "The Jungle," and incidentally gives Socialism some hard rap; in an editorial, "What's the Constitution between friends?" he points out the Government's paternalism toward the Whiskey Trust and National Bankers; and in "Just Campaign Lies," he again reviews the pending Georgia campaign.

"A Solution of the Railway Problem," by James B. Lloyd; "Common Sense," by W. D. Wattles; "Overcapitalization of Railroads," by William D. Marks; "Life Insurance," by A. L. Benson; "Bucketshop Gambling," by John A. Boykin; and "Philadelphia Vigilantes," by Reginald Wright Kauffman, make up the special articles on vital political question of the day.

In addition to these are original cartoons by W. Gordon Nye; several pages of reproduced cartoons, six short stories; "Letters from the People," Educational Department; "Home," by Louise H. Miller; book reviews; The Say of Other Editors; News Record, and "Along the Firing Line."

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas, Electric Oil Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain cannot stay where it is used.

Old Time Dances for Confederates.

NEW ORLEANS. — The entertainment committee of the U. C. V. Reunion to be held in New Orleans April 25, 26 & 27 has issued a call to veterans from other cities to arrange their "acts," for an old time Southern cotillion and Virginia reel, which will be led by General Stephen D. Lee and Mrs. General Braxton Bragg on the night of Thursday April 26th. It is desired that each locality make up its own set so as to be prepared to participate in the biggest single dance ever given in the South. The old Saint Louis Hotel which is immediately opposite the reunion hall has been fitted up with 3,000 cots, with electric lights and other conveniences, all of which will be free to the veterans.

The Southern Railway has made reduced rates to New Orleans for the occasion and from the present outlook the indications are that the attendance will exceed even that of the big reunion held here in 1904.

The fine weather after the Easter holidays have given the farmers splendid opportunities to make some show in their fields.

It looks as if men should be the most industrious of the two sexes, but to catch a glimpse at the gardens will find that the women are greater agriculturists than their opponents.

The citizens of our little town were called together on Tuesday for an election of three commissioners to pass ordinances and govern our town under the corporation act of the past Legislature. They are: Frank Brittingham, James Phillips and George W. Trull. Others were in nomination but these received the majority and were declared elected. We trust they will get down to business at once and make numerous changes toward the outspreading of the town's honor.

The Democratic City primaries are called for next Monday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, in W. A. Trader's office at the rear of the Court House. The call is to nominate a candidate for Mayor and three for the City Council.

In the time of the reign of Heliogabalus, about A. D. 190, a Jew appeared among the people of Palestine claiming to be a messiah—the "star out of Jacob"—which Balala predicted in his prophecy. (See Numbers xxiv, 17.) This Jewish messiah's name was Simon Bar-Cocheba, which latter name in the Hebrew language means "son of a star." This individual who so blatantly proclaimed himself to be of divine origin took Jerusalem by storm (A. D. 132) and actually commenced the rebuilding of the temple. He took the government in hand and issued coins and performed many other public offices. One of these coins, now in the British museum, has an enlarged star upon one side and upon the other a Hebrew legend meaning "The Deliverer of Jerusalem." The Jews, it is said, lost 600,000 men defending this messiah at the time when the Roman government attempted to put down the popular delusion. In Roman history Bar-Cocheba is known as "Cosiba of Barchocheba." The enemies of the "son of a star" changed his name to "Bar-Cocheba," which in the Hebrew means "son of a lie."

A Speedy Recovery.

On one of the visits of the American fleet to English waters Admiral Erben was in command, with Captain Alfred T. Mahan, the writer on naval affairs, as his flag captain. One morning Captain Mahan came to his admiral with an invitation to dine with a duke which he had received.

"I can't accept," said Captain Mahan, "as they forgot to invite you."

"I should say you couldn't," growled the admiral. "I'll answer for you."

Whereupon the admiral wrote: "Admiral Erben, United States navy, regrets that Captain Mahan, his flag captain, cannot accept the invitation of the Duke of Blank. Captain Mahan is on the sick list."

An hour or so later a messenger from the duke returned with invitations for the admiral and the captain, whereupon the admiral wrote again: "Admiral Erben accepts with pleasure the invitation for Captain Mahan and himself. He wishes also to advise the Duke of Blank that he has taken Captain Mahan off the sick list."

Color Blind.

John Dalton, without whose discovery of the laws of chemical combination chemistry as an exact science could hardly exist, was wholly color blind. His knowledge of the fact came about by a happening of the sort which we call chance. On his mother's birthday, when he was a man of twenty-six, he took her a pair of stockings which he had seen in a shop window labeled, "Silk, the newest fashion."

"These have bought me a pair of grand hose, John," said the mother, "but what made these fancy such a bright color? Why, I can never show myself at meeting in them."

John was much disconcerted, but he told her that he considered the stockings to be of a very proper go to meeting color, as they were a dark bluish drab.

"Why, they're red as a cherry, John," was her astonished reply.

Neither he nor his brother Jonathan could see anything but drab in the stockings, and they rested in the belief that the good wife's eyes were out of order until she, having consulted various neighbors, returned with the verdict, "Varrs fine stuff, but uncommon scarlet."

The consequence was that John Dalton became almost the first to direct the attention of the scientific world to the subject of color blindness.

Can You Define Them?

How many people, even Sons and Daughters of the Revolution, can define the following words? To how many does any of the words convey a picture? Yet they were all of good usage in colonial days: Allibairnes, balcony, bishops, baths, horsehair bonnets, mushroom bonnets, whalebone bonnets, wagon bonnets, beehive bonnets, flap breeches, "Franklin's" (broadcloth breeches, lined with leather), iron bunks, whalebone bunks, couch shell buttons (Washington had a set), byram, men's Newmarket caps, champagne bras, caushets, chints, clocks, cushiones, cuttanees, cue de Paris, chuckloes, dannador, dickmansoy, everlasting, forettes, greatcoat, gray du-rox, gulls, roll up stockings, issing hams, luckabacks, Job's tears, kittols, lemonees, moree, nafferramy, saxling ham, side locks, skimmer, small cloths, spice, clim'd soosus, pack thread stays, stiffners, tandems, ticklenberg, tout pies, thrumbs, turkettas, oiled linen, watchets, shagreen, etc.

A Miser's Wish.

Greedydot, who is rather miserly, was recovering from a long illness. "How was it, doctor," he asked one day, "that I was able to live so many weeks without eating?"

"Why, you were fed by the fever," "Are you sure?" Then after a moment's reflection, "I wish I could give it to my servants."

Speaking Their Minds.

The queer thing about the people who boast of always speaking their minds is that they nearly always have such disagreeable minds to speak. Did you ever hear any one preface a compliment, a commendation or anything gracious or pleasant by saying, "I always must speak my mind?"—Woman's Life.

Morris—Tilghman.

The following account which appeared in the Baltimore Sun of last Wednesday was the cause of much surprise to the many friends of Mr. Oscar I. Morris of this town:

"A very quiet wedding of much interest to Worcester and Wicomico counties took place at 8 p. m. yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morris, 3084 West North Avenue, when their sister, Miss Eva Alberta Tilghman, of Whiton, Md., was married to Mr. Oscar I. Morris, of Salisbury.

The bride, wearing a handsome imported robe of organdy and lace, and carrying a shower bouquet of bride roses, entered on the arm of the groom, her only attendant being her little niece, Helen Tilghman Morris, who acted as flower girl. Miss Grace Brown, niece of the bride, played the wedding march. Rev. J. McLain Brown, brother-in-law of the bride, performed the ceremony. A wedding reception followed.

The bride and groom left for a Northern trip. The bride's going-away gown was a princess costume of gray silk, with hat and gloves to match. They will reside in Salisbury.

The wedding was a surprise, as it was widely known that an elaborate home ceremony was being planned for June at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Samuel H. T. Tilghman, of Whiton, Md."

The groom is one of the young business men of the town, being a member of the firm of W. B. Tilghman & Co. Inc.

Death Of Harley Taylor.

Mr. Harley Taylor, a well known citizen of "California" died at his home in that part of Salisbury Wednesday night about seven o'clock, of heart trouble and pain in the back.

Mr. Taylor had not been feeling well for some days and did not go to work on the day of his death until that afternoon. The pain in his back was so intense, however, that it was necessary for him to go home and go to bed, which he did about five o'clock.

His illness was not considered to be of the serious nature which it has since proven itself to be until about six o'clock, when he told his mother that the pain in his back pained him so much that he would die if he did not get relief. Dr. George W. Todd was sent for immediately but before he could reach the sick man's bedside he was past human aid and he passed away in a very few minutes.

Harley Taylor was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor and is survived by both of his parents and a sister, Mrs. F. M. Travers, of Nanticoke. He was about thirty-three years of age and a bricklayer by trade. He was buried in the family burying ground at Green Hill Cemetery Friday afternoon.

Democratic Primaries.

On Monday night the Democratic primaries were held in Mr. W. A. Truitt's office near the jail. Hon. C. R. Disharoon was Chairman and Messrs. W. S. Gordy, Jr. and J. Cleveland White, secretaries. Messrs. Thomas Perry, J. D. Price, George E. Mitchell, J. Cleveland White, and E. E. Twilley were nominated city executive committee. On motion of Mr. J. D. Price, Mayor C. E. Harper was renominated for Mayor by acclamation. The present board consisting of Messrs. W. U. Polk, L. W. Dorman and C. M. Brewington were again nominated by a unanimous vote. The Executive committee was empowered to fill vacancies occurring before the election.

LECTURE BY DR. ROWAN.

Life And Action Of Commodore Stephen Decatur Jr. Most Entertainingly Narrated.

Dr. W. J. Rowan Ph. D. delivered a very interesting and entertaining as well as instructive lecture on the life and actions of Commodore Stephen Decatur Jr., at the Masonic Temple Monday evening to about 125 people.

Dr. Rowan told of the birth of Commodore Decatur in Worcester county, not far from Berlin, his subsequent removal to Philadelphia and his training for a sea-faring life.

In a very thrilling tone he told of Decatur's marvelous feat in the war with Tripoli and his later settlement with the government of Algiers. Dr. Rowan showed Commodore Decatur, by his deeds in the war of 1812 to be the true hero that he was.

Muscle was furnished by a male quartet and the choir of the Presbyterian church, under whose auspices the lecture was given.

To Have a Fine Store.

Mr. Paul E. Watson has rented the store room next to his present establishment now occupied by Mr. B. Manko and will greatly improve the same before he moves his stock of tobacco and periodicals into it about the first of June. Mr. Watson left Tuesday morning for Baltimore and Philadelphia where he will purchase plate glass wall and floor cases, together with new electric lighting chandeliers. A handsome metal ceiling will replace the one now in use. After improvements have been made Mr. Watson will have a store equal to any in the State.

The Baltimore Herald To Be Sold.

Judge Morris yesterday signed a decree authorizing a sale of the Evening and Sunday Herald. The fact that the Herald will be sold must be advertised for four weeks in a Baltimore newspaper before the date of sale.

There have been several rumors as to prospective buyers, and the latest is that the news paper has been sold to a San Francisco publishing company. The property has been advertised for sale in a number of out-of-town newspapers for several weeks.

The manner and terms of the sale, as laid down by Judge Morris, are:

Notice of the time, place, manner and terms of the sale shall be published twice a week for four successive weeks preceding the day of sale and on the day next preceding the sale.

The property shall be offered for sale free of all liens, except that of the Mortgage Lender Company upon eight linotype machines, under a mortgage upon which there is still $13,500 unpaid.

All the taxes and expenses shall be paid or adjusted on the day of sale.

The purchaser shall pay in cash $20,000 and $30,000 in cash in addition within 10 days after sale.

The balance of the purchase money must be paid within six months of sale.

John Paul Jones Buried.

On Tuesday afternoon, in the presence of President Roosevelt, Ambassador Jusserand, of France, Secretary of the navy, Bonaparte, Admirals of the French and American Navies, Senators and Congressmen and many other distinguished persons, the body of Admiral John Paul Jones was laid to rest in the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

The fact that the 24th was the anniversary of Admiral Jones' victory over the Drake helped to make the occasion one of the most important and bring some of the most important personages into the Maryland capital that Annapolis has ever seen.

A GRAVEL MINE.

Mr. Ernest Downing Has Discovered A Large Deposit Of His Property Of About Two Acres.

After tiring of farm life a few years ago Mr. Ernest Downing sold his farm near Allen and purchased about 2 and one-third acres of land on Lake street bordering on the Wicomico River, for about $400. Last Thursday Mr. Downing refused to accept $1,000 for his property. A short time ago, while digging near the river he accidentally struck a very fine bed of gravel.

He has dug in many different places on his property and has not failed to find gravel whenever he digs. The gravel is found about ten inches from the top of the earth and according to Mr. Downing's own statement the deeper he digs the better it gets. To date he has dug about six feet deep.

Mr. W. A. Crew visited Mr. Downing's place Thursday morning to examine the gravel and pronounced it to be the finest he had ever seen and immediately ordered twenty-six loads for that day at fifty cents per load. Even at this exorbitant price Mr. Downing finds it all he can do to supply his orders.

Mr. Downing has repeatedly refrained from making any contracts for a regular price as he feels that he has a "corner" on the supply and would rather trust to the open market where he feels he can dictate his own terms in the near future.

To Rebuild San Francisco.

The reports of the exodus from San Francisco are probably exaggerated. If the numbers given are correct, there cannot be many left in the city. There is usually a tremendous floating population in the city, which increases largely in the late fall. Prospective miners, men out of work flock to the city for the winter months, when the rain is so constant that work of all kinds is checked in the foothills, the mountains and on the ranches. In the aggregate there are often many thousands of such, and the time for the resumption of activity had arrived when the earthquake came. These have probably left the city, as there was nothing to be gained by remaining. There were also great numbers engaged in minor occupations who could not afford to remain and wait.

Many of the latter will doubtless return after some progress has been made in rebuilding the city. The occupations of the servant class are also temporarily destroyed, and it is difficult to understand the number of those who are thus engaged in one way or another. They run up into the thousands. There is not much use for servants even in that part of San Francisco which is left, all alike being subject to the rules adopted by the temporary government. If it were possible for the bulk of the inhabitants to distribute themselves comfortably through California, it would be a good arrangement, but it is doubtful if the State could conveniently absorb them. Several of the cities near San Francisco have already more than double their normal population, while others are almost as bad off proportionately as San Francisco. It is one thing to give temporary shelter to a great number of people and quite another to provide permanent employment for them.

It is, therefore, probable that the bulk of the population will remain, and best for San Francisco that it should. While it will entail additional care and expense for a few weeks, the labor will be there when the work begins. A very large part of that work will begin in a few days, in some respects the heaviest and slowest part. After the double catastrophe the clearing away and cleaning up must be an awful job, but it happens to be work in which very little skilled labor is necessary.

This will give employment to idle people of every description, and as a small area is cleared away, the artisans can be put to work, so that the rebuilding can run along with the cleaning. While there is likely to be all the labor needed to put the burnt district in order, there may be a dearth of skilled labor. There were not more than enough of the latter in San Francisco before the fire to do the ordinary work, and it will be difficult to obtain the required supply in California, especially as there are considerable cities which are in substantially the same fix. Such a need, however, would not exist long. The law of supply and demand would soon adjust it.—Baltimore American.

One On The Devil.

The "devil" at The Courier office one day this week discovered a barrel off the side of a small goods box used to empty our waste basket in, awaiting the arrival of the town refuse cart. The box was alongside the brick wall of the building and the barrel was off the other side. The "devil" took his hatchet, pulled the box out, tore a board off the good side, and nailed it on the other side of the box to prevent the paper from falling out. When asked why he didn't just turn the box around, he didn't say a word. Don't kid him boys as he's just put on long pants.

CONGRATULATORY.

Rev. W. S. Phillips Highly Esteemed By The Members Of His Congregation In Crisfield.

The Crisfield Times of April 21 had the following to say about Rev. W. S. Phillips, the new pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, of this city:

"It is with much regret that we must part with the Rev. W. S. Phillips of Mount Pleasant M. P. Church of this city. But what is our great loss is the greater gain to our sister town—Salisbury. Mr. Phillips has been pastor of the church in this town for the last four years; and during his service here he has been the source of great comfort and strength to hundreds of people. He was always an open, frank, genial man with tenderness and humility towards the weak and poor, but ever a lion in strength and force when fighting Satan and his allied armies.

"During his pastorate large funds have been raised for church purposes, and the Sunday School and attendance at church services has been greatly increased. His influence was not only powerful amongst his own people, but he was the friend of nearly every citizen of this town. He always stood high in the estimation of other ministers of this town for his learning, his great strength of character, and Christian qualities which ought to belong to every ambassador of Christ. We congratulate Salisbury in obtaining such an excellent minister. And bespeak for him there the same great success which he has made in Crisfield.

"In token of their appreciation and in honor of his great work, the members of the M. P. Church presented him with a very handsome gold watch. This was suitably engraved with Mr. Phillips' name and date of presentation."

Rev. Mr. Phillips preached his opening sermon here last Sunday morning to a large congregation.

Resolutions Of Respect.

Delmar Del., April 28th 1906.

Whereas, The great and supreme Ruler of the Universe has in his infinite wisdom removed from among us, one of our worthy and esteemed brothers, Daniel J. Parker, and

Whereas, the long and intimate relationship held with him in the faithful discharge of his duties as a member and officer of Eastern Shore Division No. 374 Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers makes it eminently befitting that we record our appreciation of him. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the wisdom and ability which he has exercised in the aid of our organization, by service and counsel, will be held in grateful remembrance.

Resolved, That the sudden and untimely removal of such a life from our midst leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by the members and friends of this organization, and will prove a serious loss to the community and the public.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy with the bereaved relatives of the deceased, we express our hope that even so great a loss to us all may be overruled for good by Him who doth all things well.

A Trip To India.

The Herald Square Comic Opera Co., of New York, gave a musical version of "Said Pasha" at Uman's Opera House Wednesday night entitled "A Trip To India." The company was an unusually strong one, in fact, thought by many to have been the best seen in Salisbury this season.

"A Trip To India" is a comic opera of two acts, in which Frank Minor as "Nockey," Martin Paché "Ternito," a Mexican nobleman, Miss Leona Watson, as "Albi," the queen of Altau, and Miss Martha Posten, as "Balah," the sister of the Rajah, play their parts with much skill and grace. Wilbur Cox as "Hey Dad," an adventurer, also drew liberal applause for his many stunts.

Taken all in all "A Trip To India" was a very good comedy, far above the show generally seen in Salisbury.

PEACH LIAR IN HIDING.

The Perennial Croaker Dare Not To Show His Head—Crop Outlook Is Very Bright.

Barring accidents from late frosts to the embryo fruit that is in full bloom in the great Eastern Shore peach and pear orchards, and throughout the productive belt stretching for many miles along the foothills of the Western Maryland mountains, the outlook is for one of the greatest fruit crops grown in this State in recent years. In all of these sections the delicate buds have passed through the winter without injury; the set of fruit is heavy, and every prospect, up to this time, points to abundant yields of all kinds and varieties.

"The critical point is now on," said farmer Senator James H. Baker, one of the most successful horticulturists in Kent county, Md. a few days ago. "Unless a frost sweeps over the orchards within the next few days the prospects for a great crop of fruit are fine. The trees are now in full bloom, and a heavy frost would do great injury."

Capt. R. S. Emory, the great Maryland pear grower and fruit expert, of the same county, is reported as saying that the set of buds is heavy, and that the orchards came out of the winter in ideal condition for a heavy yield.

Mr. Thomas J. Shalleross, a pioneer in peach culture on this side of the bay, declared a few days ago that the outlook was never more promising.

PEACH LIAR IN HIDING.

"The peach liar dare not show his head or lat an eye in the face of the hopeful sentiment prevailing throughout the Eastern Shore fruit country," said Mr. Shalleross.

Under the inspiration of the big prices and heavy demand of the past few years, thousands of young peach trees are being set out in the Eastern Shore territory, which during the last twenty-five years was devastated by the peach yellows. Growers believe that under improved conditions the old trouble will not reappear.

The San Jose scale, on the other hand, has spread like a mighty scourge throughout the Eastern Shore peach country. Growers, however, have taken up the battle against this pest with an earnestness never before manifested among fruit men in that section of the State. Virtually all growers have begun a systematic spraying of their orchards, and it is believed that the scale scourge can at least be checked.

Not only are peach and pear trees being attacked by the scale, but forest trees and shrubbery as well.

To Preserve Old Records.

The passage of the bill appropriating $1,500 to complete the work of Public Records Commission which bill was signed by the Governor two weeks ago, was a tribute to the valuable work done in the past by that commission was created by act of Legislature in 1904 for the better security of the public records of the State. The commissioners appointed by Gov. Warfield are Mrs. Hester D. Richardson (president) Mr. Samuel K. Dennis (secretary and treasurer) and Dr. Bernard Steiner.

In its condensed report to the Legislature the commission emphasized the importance of the work undertaken and said that in every country and in public offices records of priceless value are falling into decay for lack of proper care. In this connection the report said:

"The investigation of the state records by the public Records Commission of Maryland has demonstrated that we are the proud possessors of records probably unequalled in age, completeness and historical interest by those of any of the original 13 States. But the condition of hundreds of these rare old volumes which alone are the open sesame to the past history of the makers of Maryland, demands prompt action on the part of the Assembly, for delay in the work of rescue and preservation will prove fatal in many instances."

Further on the report says: "The Public Records Commission has not been able to investigate the entire records of the State under the annual appropriation of $1,000 for two years. Those not yet examined include Prince George's county, all offices in the Baltimore Courthouse, excepting the offices of the Clerk of the Superior Court and the Court of Common Pleas, the offices of the Secretary of State, Comptroller, Treasurer, the Clerk of the Court of Appeals, the entire Statehouse, the State House, the State Library, the City Hall of Baltimore and other municipal records."

It is to complete the work in the offices named and to print in detail a list of the records in every office of the State that the appropriation was made.

Mrs. Richardson was appointed president of the commission by the Governor in recognition of her original research in the State records published in the Baltimore Sun. Her commission was handed her by the Governor in the old Senate Chamber at Annapolis at a reception given by the daughters of the American Revolution. The offices carries no salary.

Diamonds And Hearts.

Under the auspices of the Rockwalkin Methodist Church, a drama in three acts entitled "Diamonds and Hearts," was presented to an appreciative audience of 75 in the Rockwalkin Opera House last Friday evening.

The plot of the play rested in the effort of Miss Bernice Halstead and her two accomplices scheming to meet a Dr. Burton, who had just come into the community and the efforts of Dwight Bradley to secure Miss Halstead for his wife. The theft of some diamonds and the marriage of Dr. Burton and Miss Halstead in the third act kept interest from lagging. Popular music was furnished between the acts. The proceeds of the play went towards the purchase of hymn books for the Church.

What's in McClure's.

McClure's begins a new volume with May. If the forthcoming numbers are to be gauged by this first one the readers of this magazine have a rare treat ahead of them. Two universally important and interesting series begin: Rudyard Kipling's "Robin Goodfellow—His Friends," and the Life Insurance articles by Burton J. Hendrick. In "The Centurion of the Thirtieth," Kipling comes back to us more the wizard than ever. No one who reads English should miss these stories for they are about a British-born Roman, who held the Great Wall of Hadrian for his Emperor against the "Painted People" and the "Winged Huns," in the days before England was English. "The Story of Life Insurance" for the first time gives both sides of the case, and contains, in a simple condensed form, the information which for a year we have been trying to glean. The first instalment is "The Surplus: The Basis of Corruption," and it tells how certain men have been pulling the surplus down while a few have been struggling to save it. There are facts about the "Before the Deluge" officers that will make you open your eyes. George Edward Woodberry contributes another chapter to his "Great Masters of Literature," throwing some entirely new lights on John Milton. "The Flight from the Fatherland," the instalment of Carl Schurz's "Reminiscences of a Long Life" gives us another chapter of true and exciting adventure. Clara Morris, in "An Actress on Guard," tells us some of the innermost secrets of a successful actress's soul. John McAuley Palmer has more of Col. Lumkin, and Stewart Edward White offers "Cyclone Bill's Yarn," the best and funniest of the "Arizonia Nights" series. There are other dramatic and humorous stories by Richard Washburn Child, Mrs. Wilson Woodrow, and Joseph C. Lincoln and poetry by Florence Wilkinson, Witter Bynner and A. E. Houseman. The illustrations are by Castaigne, Ditzler, Lowell, Wyeth, Glackens, and Sloan.

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN

Learn The Cause Of Daily Woes And End Them.

When the back aches and throbs. When housework is torture. When night brings no rest nor sleep. When urinary disorders set in. Women lot is a weary one. There is a way to escape these woes. Doan's Kidney Pills cure such ills. Have cured women here in Salisbury. This is one Salisbury woman's testimony.

Mrs G. W. Fooks, wife of G. W. Fooks, County Sheriff of the Court House, says: "I have suffered off and on with kidney complaint for the last eight years. It came on me gradually and continued to get worse. I felt tired and weak, was short of breath. One doctor told me I had kidney disease and it would finally result in Bright's disease. I was laid up at one time for three weeks. I was feeling very miserable when I went to White and Leonard's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills. I had not taken them more than three days when the distressing aching across my back disappeared. I have great faith in this remedy, and I know if anyone will take the remedy as directed they will receive beneficial results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

stole about $250 worth of clothing, shoes, dry goods and groceries. The safe was pried open but nothing of value was in it, as Mr. Smith had deposited his money the day before. All efforts to locate the guilty parties have proved futile.

Ground was broken Monday for the new administration building for Washington College, of Chestertown, that has been under consideration for some time. In this building will be concentrated all the work of the College, and it has been planned on a scale sufficiently large for this purpose. The building will have a frontage of 116 feet and a depth of 110 feet. In addition to the classrooms, laboratories and library rooms, there will be an auditorium capable of seating about 500. The building will be of brick, with terra cotta and granite trimmings, three stories high,
and will be one of the finest college buildings in the State. The contract price is $35,000. money for the erection of the building is now in hand, and the recent appropriation by the Legislature will enable the college to equip and furnish the building, as well as make other necessary improvements to the other buildings.

SATURDAY, APR. 28, 1906.

To Aid San Francisco Sufferers.

Acting on the suggestion of many citizens Mayor Harper will receive cash donations for the aid of the sufferers from the earthquake and fire in San Francisco, which will be sent through the Maryland Red Cross Society.

The country has given over $21,000,000 for the relief of San Francisco. And yet no community nor individual has been crippled by the individual contribution going to swell this vast whole.

The City Election.

The leaders of the Republican party met Tuesday afternoon and after considering the strong ticket nominated by the Democrats Monday night, decided not to put any ticket in the field against them. The party recognizes the great work done by the present board in the past and the still greater work to be done in the future, and feels that any opposition on their part would only tend to confuse matters and embarrass the Mayor and City Council; hence their decision about a Republican ticket. They feel that the present situation is one in which party and politics should not stand before the good of the city, and are content to let the old board hold over so far as they are concerned. May they make as good a record in the future as they have done in the past!

The Shell Fish Commissioners.

The Board of Public Works meets as we go to press for the purpose of appointing the members of the Shell Fish Commission, provided by the Oyster Bill passed at the recent session of the Legislature. These appointments may be postponed, as was the case last week; but we earnestly hope that men of efficiency and integrity and absolutely above reproach, and men who will be both congenial and satisfactory to the oystermen will finally secure these positions.

We would like to quote General Joseph B. Seth, of Easton, who recently spoke at a banquet celebrating the passage of the Haman bill, on this point. General Seth spoke in part as follows:

"Standing here as a representative of the Eastern Shore, I want to make a plain statement. It is this: The men from the Eastern Shore who are appointed on the commission must be congenial to our people. They must be men in whom we have the utmost confidence. Without this you'll never locate the oyster bars. I tell you that our people will exercise their rights in the courts unless the commission is generous and shows some regard to the interested communities."

May the whole board be governed by the same ideas and intentions as expressed by Governor Warfield in a recent speech, concerning the oyster question, which is, in part, as follows:

"I stand here committed to a business management of this department of the State government." (Referring to the Board of Public Works.) "I stand here committed to appoint men regardless of their political affiliations who will be actuated by one motive—to get the best results from the law. I won't stop to ask whether the man has scratched his ticket or not. I will ask only, are you fitted for the place; have you the qualifications?"

"If you allow politics to dominate or control the commission you will never get results. We want young, intelligent, vigorous men who will give their whole time to this work. I will not vote for any man who assumes the duties as a side issue. He must give every moment of his time, and I feel that in my views on this matter I will have the co-operation of my associates on the Board of Public Works."

From the statements of these two gentlemen it will be seen that the principal qualifications of a prospective member are that he be a man of recognized integrity and in accord with the people, willing to devote his entire time to the work of the commission, and thoroughly familiar with the oyster question from A to Z.

Considering the great powers vested in this commission we trust that the Board will be successful in securing men of this type.

Washington Letter.

Washington, D. C. April 26, 1906. Almost everything else in Washington this week has been subordinated to the ceremonies at Annapolis over the remains of John Paul Jones. It is true the ceremonies were held in the quaint little Maryland town an hour distant by rail, but the President and the members of the Cabinet went there for the services of respect, all too long delayed, but shown at last to be first and greatest hero of the American Navy. It was an opportunity too for the President to deliver an address, and addresses from the President have come to be looked upon as more than mere perfunctory talks. They are the best opportunity that the President has for addressing the people through the papers and he usually has something to say worth listening to. The meat of his Annapolis speech was what he has said before, though in a somewhat more restrained vein. It was a plea for a stronger navy. And of course the occasion was most opportune. He pointed out that dauntless courage and high resolve were good and necessary, that with them Paul Jones had accomplished wonders in spite of being handicapped by the worst equipment that a great naval commander ever had to struggle with. But he said that this country in the War of 1812 had known the humiliation that comes of insufficient preparation and faulty equipment and that there was no excuse for not maintaining a navy that would compel peace rather than struggle against odds to a doubtful success when war was forced upon us. That was the President's message to the people and it doubtless will have its effect in the building up of an adequate navy.

But aside from the opportunity that the ceremonies at Annapolis gave the President to speak his mind on a vital important subject, the occasion was of international importance, for there present in the harbor the cruiser squadron of the French Navy, sent to do honor to the remains of John Paul Jones, remains that the French government did a very graceful act in surrendering to the United States, for John Paul Jones is almost as much a French hero as he is an American hero. If it had not been for the assistance that was given him by Louis the XVI, he would never have been able to write his name large on the roll of fame.

Admiral Campon and the other officers of the French squadron spent almost as much time in Washington as they did at Annapolis. They were received at the White House by the President before the Annapolis ceremonies. The day after they were entertained at luncheon by the Secretary of the Navy in company with many of the most distinguished officers of the Army and Navy. Then they were taken over to Fort Myer and shown how our troops could ride and how the batteries could handle their guns. In the evening Ambassador Jussereau entertained them at the French Embassy at dinner and the day following they were taken to Mt Vernon on the Dolphin and shown the home of Washington, not forgetting the key of the Bastille which is one of the prominent exhibits in the hall of the mansion. It was altogether a very pleasant meeting with the France Naval representatives and while the relations of this country and France have always been close and friendly, it is that sort of personal contact which does much to keep up the feeling of personal acquaintance and good fellowship.

There has been considerable talk lately over the "free alcohol bill" and the prospect that it would be killed for the present session principally through the instrumentality of Senator Lodge who, it is said, would offer the Philippine Tariff bill as an amendment to it in the Senate. Now whatever may be the feeling of Senator Lodge toward the denatured alcohol bill, there is little question that he would rather see it passed twice over than to bring in the Philippine Tariff bill as a substitute with the danger, that always exists, of its being passed if it came to a vote. However, he has come out in a positive statement that he is not opposed to the bill for the use of free alcohol in the arts and he says he will do nothing to oppose its passage. There is no question, and Senator Lodge says so in his statement, that the free alcohol bill ought to pass and ought to pass at this session. It is a measure that would provide new and profitable crops for the farmers all over the country, for alcohol is something like wine. It will be remembered that the old wine merchant, in confiding his valuable trade-secret to his sons, said that "wine can be made from anything—even grapes." So alcohol can be made from almost anything, grain, beets, potatoes and a dozen other crops all of which are valuable to the farmer, while the cheap alcohol that would result would be of incalculable value in the production of motive power for light and in the textile and other arts. It is possible that the free alcohol bill will not pass at the present session, but if not it certainly will pass at the next session, the only two great interests opposed to it being the Standard Oil Company and the manufacturers of untaxed wood alcohol.

—Washburn and D'Alma's Dog and Pony show gave two exhibitions on the grounds in South Salisbury Thursday of this week to large crowds. The animals were especially well trained. A circular drill, and the playing of Home Sweet Home by some Shetland ponies and a fire brigade and dance given by three trained dogs were there prominent features.

The Empress Dowager.

The Empress of China has offered a personal subscription of $75,000 to American Minister Rockhill, at Peking, for the relief of San Francisco sufferers, which Mr. Rockhill was instructed by the State Department to decline with an expression of the appreciation by the U. S. Government. It is probable that this money will be sent direct to Chinese representatives in San Francisco for the use of the homeless Chinese.

Sir Chentung Lian-Cheng, the Chinese minister, received dispatches from China last Thursday showing that movements for the relief of the Chinese in California had been instituted in many parts of China. Nine charitable organizations in Hongkong have subscribed $40,000, and smaller amounts have been contributed in other cities. The Chinese Consul General in San Francisco was not injured in the earthquake, and has established a temporary consulate in Oakland.

Pointed Paragraphs.

The best way for a man to train a child in the way it should go is to travel that way sometimes himself. If you would not have affliction visit you twice listen at once to what it teaches. Troubles are like hornets, the less you make about them the better, for your outcry will only bring the whole swarm upon you. Don't meet troubles half way, for they are not worth the compliment. Some sort of charity will swallow the egg and give away the shell. The best way to keep good acts in memory is to refresh them with new. Value the friendship of him who stands by you in storms. Swarms of insects will surround you in sunshine. The greatest truths are the simplest; so are the greatest men.

Secrets Of Success.

"What is the secret of success?" asked the Sphinx. "Push," said the Button. "Never be led," said the Pencil. "Take pains," said the Window. "Always keep cool," said the Ice. "Be up to date," said the Calendar. "Never lose your head," said the Barrel. "Make light of everything," said the Fire. "Do a driving business," said the Hammer. "Aspire to greater things," said the Nutmeg. "Find a good thing and stick to it," said the Glue. "Do the work you are suited for," said the Chimney. —Baltimore Sun.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain cannot stay where it is used. —Bell's Chocolates at Harry Fooks.

The Building & Loan Department, with its paid-up capital stock of $14,500.00, makes loans secured by mortgages, to be paid back in weekly installments of 30c, 40c, 50c, $1.00 or $2.00 per week, to suit borrower, and has been doing a popular and successful business since 1887.

The Banking Department, was added in 1902 under authority granted by the General Assembly of Maryland of that year, to set apart $25,000.00 of the Association's capital stock for banking purposes, receives money on deposits, makes loans on commercial paper, enters into such business transactions as conservative banks ordinarily do, and earnestly solicits the patronage of its friends and the general public. The Bisque Token

By JOHN ERIC VIRGINI

Copyright, 1905, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

The long sand beach seemed to be deserted—not a single soul in view. Suddenly from the gray timbers of a wrecked vessel's stern rose Dickie Boy's head. Half kneeling in his worn and scanty garments, he rested a hand on the jagged edge of a beam and, craning his neck, looked up and down the beach.

For a second he knelt there, facing the gleaming sea. The sun was in the west, but it was still bright. Well, it was early yet. She usually came a bit nearer sunset time. He hastily dived into one of his pockets and from the tangle that crammed it extracted three marbles, a fishhook and—his dearly bought treasure. The salesgirl had wrapped it daintily for him with narrow white ribbon, and he held it carefully, almost reverently, in both brown little hands.

For a quarter hour more the sun marched toward the western horizon, and then she came. But, alas, she was not alone! A man was with her—not one of her numerous summer admirers, but a man whom Dickie never had seen. He was young and vigorous, but there was something about him that bespoke age—a sternness, even a hardness, as of one who had fought battles.

They passed the corner of the wreck whence Dickie Boy's head had risen just before and went down to the other end of the vessel, where some fallen timbers made a sheltered seat. They were both looking away from the dismantled stern, and through a convenient opening in its joints a pair of blue eyes watched them eagerly. It was not in Dickie's character of youthful traditions to sneak or hide, even less to be an eavesdropper, but somehow a curious shyness had invaded him at sight of the stranger, and he found himself unable to go forward or speak, but of the conversation which reached his ears he understood little or nothing—he was still such a child.

"How plainly we hear the buoy!" said the girl, arranging the border of her blue serge skirt close to her russet shoes. She was intent upon speaking of impersonalities. The man looked out to sea, whence came the fitful tone of disconcerting intervals.

"Wind's in our direction," he remarked briefly.

"What makes it so sad?" she speculated idly, picking up a pebble and throwing it into the surf. "The irregularity of the sound, do you think?" "Irregularity is not necessarily sad," the man objected. I think perhaps it's the aimlessness, the futility of it, dear. A bell ought to call people together, and this one warns them off. Therefore it's lonely. It must ever be lonely. That's why it's sad, little girl."

The bell swung at the mercy of the wind and water. Its sound came to them in the pauses of the surf.

"Keep away, keep away!" chanted the girl, with the same measured intervals. "Yes, I don't know but you're right. It's a rather doleful burden."

While the girl looked silently out to sea he reverently studied her face, with its somewhat pale beauty—the effects of the gold hair under the yachting cap and that of the chastening indifference of her eyes.

Suddenly he rose and stood before her, his broad shoulders silhouetted against the growing pink of the western sky.

"I'm going away again, Eleanor," he said. "I'm going tonight. I thought when I came back that you might love me. Perhaps you do. I don't know. You don't know yourself. But I've lost my old boyish faith, you see. I distrust you, and you distrust yourself—and so—it is hopeless."

He spoke with a bitterness that seemed involuntary. Then for one brief second he stooped and laid his face against the soft hair on her forehead. She could not see the yearning tenderness of his expression, but there was a flush on her cheeks and a light in her eyes.

"You see, Blair," she said slowly, "it's so hard for me to know my own mind, I—"

"Yes," he threw in, a little frown on his forehead, "and it wasn't so very different five years ago."

"You mean to reproach me, Blair?" The flush on the girl's face was deeper now, but the light had died out. The note of trouble in her voice melted him. Unconsciously he sat down again on the timbers.

"I mean that I have lost five good years out of my life because you didn't know your own mind, little girl. If you had known!"

She held out her slim hand to stop him. Then his eye fell on a tiny ring on the third finger—a ring with a bit of red stone like a drop of blood. He reached over and took the outstretched hand.

"Poor little ring," he said musingly. "You would not take it, you remember, Eleanor, till I promised that it should bind you to nothing. It was to be a reminder merely of our friendship. But in these five years all my thought, all my labor, has been for you. I've been wholly hopeful, but now the last shred of hope is gone." He relinquished her hand gently. "And tomorrow—well, the years that stretch before me seem a bit black and long."

"Blair, I don't think it's kind of you to talk like that," the girl broke in, with a nervous little laugh that was half a sob. "It makes me feel—it makes me feel positively guilty, as if I had purposely broken your heart."

You wouldn't want me to marry you if I hadn't surely made up my mind, would you? And I can't help it if nature deliberately made me a coquette—so there!" She tossed a handful of sand into space. She was angry with herself for the foolish tears that had started.

Then there came a startled little cry of pain. Some of the sand had blown directly into Dickie Boy's blue eyes.

A few moments later, when he had been drawn out into the light and had stammered his honest excuses, he laid the ribbon wrapped packet in his lady's lap and would have turned and fled, but his limbs seemed to have lost the power of locomotion.

Eleanor swiftly untied the ribbon while Dickie watched her adoringly. He was not afraid of her, ever, but of the big strange gentleman with the serious eyes.

"Oh, oh, oh!" cried Eleanor. "What a dear, cunning little heart!" She held up a heart shaped pin tray between her eyes and the light. "And it's bisque, real bisque. But who sent it, Dickie Boy?"

"I bought it, I did," assured Dickie, swelling with dignity.

"Why, Dickie, Dickie Boy! Wherever in the world did you get so much money?" she said tenderly, drawing him down to her side and pushing back his locks of hair while she looked into his eyes.

"Worked," answered Dickie laconically, displaying his hard, brown little hands, which showed unmistakable signs of wrestle with a stubborn soil.

"Oh, Dickie, Dickie Boy! And you did all this for me?"

"Do more'n that for you, I would. I'd do anything for you," said he stoutly. "An' I wanted you to have something to remember me by when you was gone."

Involuntarily Eleanor turned to the grave face behind her. Blair had not spoken. He was looking at the cliffs which frowned darkly against the glow of the sunset sky, and it suddenly struck her how deep were the lines that loneliness and pain had carved. Quickly she glanced down again at the adoring small countenance on her arm. Years before Blair's face had worn that same look of boyish idolatry. The remembrance of it touched her now as his manly devotion had failed to do.

"I'll keep the little heart always, Dickie," she said, rising from the sand and stooping to kiss the boy's forehead as she did so.

"An' you won't break it?" inquired Dickie anxiously. Eleanor smiled strangely. The bit of bisque had come to her as a token.

"No, Dickie Boy, I shall never break any more hearts, I think—never any more." Turning to the man, she said gently: "Blair, dear, I'd like to walk up the hill and see the last of the sunset. Will you come?"

The man stopped at sight of the girl's face. There was about it a strange radiance that touched while it uplifted him.

And as the two went up the hill together Dickie followed at a respectful distance, turning handsprings.

Extermination Of The Mosquito.

Extermination of the mosquito is not only a possibility but it can be rendered a simple matter and it can be accomplished at a comparatively small outlay. Certainly it could not be accomplished entirely without action upon the part of the General Government but if the mosquito progenitor is but semi-negatory as I believe to be the case any State can obtain results satisfactory. In moderate weather, even in mid winter if we start a pot of cabbage to boiling, leaving a door or window open the room will swarm with a variety of flies, the blue fly predominating. The blue fly is the progenitor of the house fly. This sudden appearance of the flies at such a time of the year is proof positive that they are hibernating in that locality, and that they are but semi-migratory. We may most consistently expect the same to be the case with the mosquito progenitor. The mosquito progenitor is a small slender fly bearing no conspicuous resemblance to the mosquito. The queen blows stagnant water, and her blows develop into wigglers, and the wigglers develop into mosquitoes. Her preference for rain water is as strong as the blue fly's preference for stable refuse, and by these preferences extermination of both the mosquito and the house fly can be rendered a simple matter. Unless done in the cold weather the house fly could be exterminated only by the Government assuming control of all stable refuse exactly as a corporation assumes control of house garbage. The refuse conveyed to one center would draw all of the progenitor to the same center where they would be trapped and destroyed. The destruction of one of either progenitors would be tantamount to the destruction of millions of the progeny.

Sterilizing water by pouring kerosene upon it is a delusion, unless viewed as a profit to the oil trust. It has an effect and that is about all. If there are wigglers in the water at the time when the kerosene is applied it kills the wigglers, but if there are no wigglers present the effect is nil. The fly will not blow sterilized water any more than the blue fly will blow salt meat. In the first place she will not be drawn to the water but she will be drawn in some other direction where the water has not been sterilized. After the effects of the Kerosene have died away she may return at next spawning, so that the result has been nominally nothing. The only way to exterminate any pest is to exterminate the progenitor then the extermination will be permanent.

To exterminate the mosquito, the Government, local or general, should begin work in the cold weather at least before the swamps begin to sour. Operating upon a large scale long tanks, each containing something over a barrel of rain water are placed upon the running gears of wagons and hauled through the country. The water is soured artificially by a small fire underneath. The jostle of one such wagon will occasion an evaporation exceeding that of a small swamp, and by moving about will collect all the flies of a locality.

A trap may be described as follows: A glass globe, a lamp chimney for example with a long nosed funnel set down in the top of the chimney, the point of the funnel extending below the bottom of the chimney. The bottom of the chimney is set into the bung-hole of a barrel containing stagnant water and sealed there air-tight with clay, putty or a rubber band. The barrel may contain any number of holes as draughts, or vents, but all save the one containing the trap must be securely shaded from the light. The fly will scent the evaporation passing up the funnel and she will descend into any darkness to reach sour water. On returning she will miss the funnel point by following the light. She is then within a trap from which a fly will never escape.

Sit a funnel down in the top of a lamp chimney and the entire invention will be comprehended sufficiently.

The above is my own invention and I freely make it public property so that no community need be harassed with royalty.

They expect to erect a pavilion in addition to their bleachers which when completed will afford a large seating capacity. The team is composed throughout of the very best material that can be had and when fully equipped will present a fine appearance. They expect to "play ball" at every game and if any visiting team expects to down 'em they have got to do some fine work. If our boys play ball this summer as well as they played "Dramas" last winter, they will surely win the pennant.

Dr. Truitt says he expects to be open again for business by the last week in July.

The Deceitful-as-a-Fox.

It detracts somewhat from one's feeling of pride in a handsome fur garment to know that after the furrier, chemist and dyer have got through with the rabbit skin it may be a "sealskin," a "sable," an "otter," a "Siberian squirrel," a "mink," a "martens," a "beaver" or any other fashionable fur. The transformation takes place in the shops which sell felt to hatmakers, carpet weavers and felt manufacturers, and Paris and London are the principal centers for this industry. In those cities millions of rabbit skins are dressed and treated, and bogus furs are sent out to robe men and women of all parts of the world. The skins are purchased soon after they have been stripped from bunny's back and are stiff and hard when they are unpacked in the sorting room. Experts examine each skin, and those which come up to the established standard are sent to the furriers, but the torn, undersized and punctured pelts are turned over to the men and women who strip the hide of its hair for the felt maker.—Exchange.

Lady Jane Grey.

Lady Jane Grey was the most learned child of which history has any record. Before she was nine years old she wrote a beautiful hand and was able to play on many different instruments. She could speak several languages, both ancient and modern, besides being well grounded in philosophy. When other children were playing she would amuse herself by reading writings of the philosopher Plato in the original Greek. Perhaps it was because she had led a very lonely life when she was a child, as her mother and father were often away at court, leaving her to the care of her governess and her schoolmasters at the gloomy family place called Bradgate. The big square house was built on the edge of a great forest surrounded by acres of uninhabited land. There were very few books and not any newspapers at the castle, and Lady Jane Grey had no playmates, as her governess would not allow her to play with the servants' children, and there were no others suitable for her companions within miles.

The Origin of Windfall.

The origin of the expression "windfall," which is used when one wishes to refer to a streak of good luck, dates back to the time of William the Conqueror. At that time it was a criminal offense to cut timber in the British forests without royal consent. All that could be gathered for fuel or other purposes was such limbs as the wind should happen to break and cast to the ground. On this account the peasants hailed a great windstorm as a blessing, because it was apt to cast enough of "windfalls" for winter firewood. From this old time forestry custom comes the modern application of the expression. At one time it was decreed that only such limbs and whole trees as should fall during the three summer months could be used as firewood, but the unjustness of the act was so plainly apparent that no attempt was ever made to enforce it.

Muzzled Women of Muscat.

Women of the better class in Muscat all wear muzzles, which barely allow them to open the mouth or see with the eye or sneeze. If there happens to be a Cleopatra in Muscat she will never fascinate any Antony by the beauty of her well shaped nose, for it is kept in a specially made, ugly case, in which it is impossible to tell its shape. But with all its faults this is a far better system than that of cutting off the nose, as men in the Kangra district in India are wont to do when any of their spouses have proved too fascinating.—Allahabad Pioneer.
