TRUSTEES' SALE
-Of Valuable-
Real Estate.

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court for Wicomico county, passed in the case of Leonard Whaley vs. Wm. J. Whaley and others, in Equity in said county, the undersigned will sell at public auction, as Trustees, at the Peninsula House, in SALISBURY, ON Saturday, November 3rd, 1883.

AT TWO O'CLOCK, P. M.
The following described Real Estate, formerly owned by Wm. J. Whaley, and now owned by the undersigned, to-wit:

1-A Tract of Land lying in Trappe District, Wicomico county, west of the road leading from Trappe to Upper Ferry, called "LITTLE BELAIR," on which said Whaley resided for many years, and containing 175 Acres—more or less.

This place is in a good state of cultivation, and improved with dwelling house and barn buildings in good condition.

Fine Strawberry Patch.
A Tract of Land lying near Fruitland, in Wicomico county, called "WHITE PLAINS," purchased by said Whaley from William Burkhead and Lemuel Malone, Trustees of Wm. G. G. and containing 146 Acres—more or less.

A Parcel of Land lying on the road leading from Trappe to Upper Ferry, called "Night's Discovery," purchased from Lemuel Malone and wife, and containing 60 Acres—more or less.

This land is well set in timber, most of it small, but suited for wood.

"Goslee's Chance,"
part of the Benjamin Davis farm, and purchased by said Whaley from Robert F. Goslee, Trustee, containing 139 Acres—more or less.

This is very productive land, and is improved with a good dwelling and the necessary out-buildings, and a promising Strawberry Patch.

Miscellaneous.
Choosing a Husband.
Mixed with the humor and nonsense of the following selections are many shrewd and valuable hints to those young ladies whose minds are prone to thoughts of love.

First, catch your lover.
Hold him when you have him.
Don't let go of him to catch every new one that comes along.

Try to get pretty well acquainted with him before you take him for life.
Unless you intend to support him, don't whether he earns enough to support you.

Don't make up your mind that he is an angel.
Don't palm yourself off on him as one, either.
Don't let him spend his salary on you; that right should be reserved till after marriage.

If you have conscientious scruples against marrying a man with a mother, say so in time, that he may get rid of her to suit you, or rid of you to oblige her, as he thinks best.

If you object to secret societies and tobacco, it is better to come out with your objections now than to reserve them for certain lectures hereafter.

If your adorer happens to fancy a certain shade of hair, don't color or bleach to oblige him. Remember your hair belongs to you and he doesn't.

Be very sure it is the man you are in love with, and not the clothes he wears. Fortune and fashion are both so fickle, it is foolish to take a stylish suit of clothes for better or worse.

Trinkets and Finery.
The latest novelty is the fancy bordering, resembling one of the bands encircling morning stationery; the envelopes and the square correspondence cards match the note paper. Grained morocco paper has taken the place of the once favorite alligator-skin paper, which was a splendid imitation of the leather and for quite awhile was the "chic" in handsome stationery. Bagged paper is still favored. There are many very odd and extremely artistic paper embellishments. There are devices representing various kinds of bric-a-brac; these are richly colored and are very attractive. There are patches of country life given, such as a rustic chair, an arbor, a glimpse of a thatched roof, a stack of hay, a bundle of wheat, garden implements, etc.

And there are clusters of wild berries and bunches of fruit. Among the sentimental designs there are turtle doves, Kate Greenways in all sorts of attitudes, Cupids with bows and arrows and figures modestly dressed.

Letter headings with the days of the week in English or French is another favorite style of stationery. On the left hand corner the script is in some sort of mode tint. The monogram is yet fashionable. This design admits of so many changes it will no doubt continue in favor for years. One of the latest attractions in this style is the sunken spring, which is a darker color than the paper. Upon this is the monogram, stamped in raised letters, that tint matching that of the paper.

Among novelties in bracelets is one formed of a series of gold coils, either round or square shaped, strong on the outside, but furnished with a patent spring and fitting the wrist snugly and securely.

The new white camel's hair dresses for evening wear are embroidered in green leaves and white blossoms. Bangs are not as fashionable as formerly. Fluffy curls on the forehead are more worn.

Alligator skin bonnets are a novelty this fall.
The Profession.
A Lawyer returned to his home one evening to find that a tramp had forced his way into the house and appropriated property to considerable value. He rushed to the Police, and by some unaccountable accident the Thief was overhauled and conducted to the Cooler.

"Ah! you Bascals, you shall suffer for this!" growled the Lawyer.
"I desire to engage your Legal service to defend me!" was the sheet-iron rejoinder. "I will give you half the stolen property to clear me of the charge."

"Fetch how dare you!"
"Oh, if you don't close with me some other Lawyer will take all!" was the steady reply.

The Lawyer reflected for a moment and then decided to plead the man's case and tearfully called the attention of the jury to the fact that his client had no fault to find with anything, but that, in leaving the house in a hurry, the property got tangled up in his book-legs.

[Note.—Verdict of acquittal, and another triumph for right and honesty.]
"My dear," said Mrs. Poppertman to her husband last evening, "I was looking over a bundle of old letters to-day and found this one which you wrote to me before we were married, when you were young and sentimental."

"What does it say?"
"I'll read it."
"Sweet little thing, my lovely heart. I thought I'd place thy hand in mine, and say, dear love, I'll be thy bride, we'll fly away to some far realm—we'll fly to sunny Italy, and 'neath soft, cerulean skies we'll bask and sing and dream of naught but love. Rich and costly paintings by old masters shall adorn the walls of the castle I'll give thee. Thy bath shall be of milk. A box at the opera shall be at thy command, and royalty shall be thy daily visitor. Sweet strains of music shall lull thee from thy morning slumber. Dost thou accept? Say yes, and fly, oh, fly with me!"

A Young Man's Case.
Mr. S. S. Hodges, Jr., of No 147 Park street, Lewiston, Me., relates the following personal narrative, May 14, 1883: "About fifteen months since I had a severe attack of typhoid fever, was very lame, and confined to my bed for eleven weeks, and when the fever left me I was in a very debilitated condition. My back and loins seemed to have no strength, and I had no vitality or appetite. I tried various kinds of medicine recommended by my friends, but found they did not improve my condition. I was induced to try Hunt's Remedy, which has been used with great success here in Lewiston that it has a very enviable reputation of being a most reliable medicine. I purchased one bottle, and can date my improved health from the time I commenced using it, and my progress continued very rapidly; I gained in strength, and experienced less pain in my back, my appetite increased, and after using three (3) bottles my pains were all gone, and my health entirely restored, and I can most heartily recommend Hunt's Remedy to any who may need a true remedy for debility, kidney or urinary troubles."

A GOOD MECHANIC.
Mr. L. J. Jones, No 10 Charles Street, Portland, Me., writes these convincing facts, May 11, 1883: "I have for several years been troubled with liver complaints and indigestion, and have suffered at times terrible distress, and have tried many different cures, so called, that have been recommended from time to time. I one day noticed in one of our papers the testimonial of a person that had used Hunt's Remedy and been cured of diseases similar to mine. I purchased a bottle of one of our druggists in Portland, and before I had used the first bottle found that I was improving beyond my expectation; have used in all six bottles, and I have no trouble from indigestion, no distress or pain in the liver. I formerly had, and since I have been cured my wife has used it for kidney trouble, and it has cured her. We can both say that Hunt's Remedy is a blessing to any that are troubled with kidney or liver diseases, or indigestion. We gladly recommend it to our friends, and to any sufferers from liver or kidney diseases, and you can use this remedy as you may choose for the best interest of suffering humanity."

W. E. Thornton, Esq.—Dear Sir: I use Larocque's Bitters in my family, and think it a valuable and excellent medicine for all derangements of the stomach and liver. I give it to my children, and to endorse its merits, which you are at liberty to make use of in any way you may think proper. Very respectfully yours, Mrs. H. E. Kettlewell, 168 E. If you have a bouquet, throw it with your hand, throw a bouquet, or a brick, or anything of that sort, just to show your appreciation of the kindness extended.

Itching Piles—Symptoms and Cure.
The symptoms are moisture, increased perspiration, intense itching, increased by scratching, very distressing, particularly at night, seems as if pin-worms were crawling in and about the parts affected. If allowed to continue very serious results may follow. "Swray's Ointment" is a pleasant, sure cure. Also for Erysipelas, Barbers' Itch, Blotches, all scaly crusty Skin Diseases. Sent by Mail for 50 cents; 3 boxes, $1.25 (in stamps). Address, Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Sold by Druggists.

A threatened rival to ex-Senator Tabor begins to loom up on the Pacific coast. Tabor became the leading Congressional candidate by his $250 night-shirt, but we learn from our esteemed and able contemporary, the Stockton Mail, that Congressman Budd is hard after him, and has begun the campaign by laying in a stock of silk undershirts at $40 each. Up to this time the great eclipse of the year has been St. Julien's by Jay-Ee-See, but now it looks as though it was all up with Tabor.

The Wide, Wide World. Lima, Republic of Peru—Senator A. de la E. Delgado, L. L. D. and Counselor, Tribunal of Justice, Lima, Republic of Peru. Says: One single application of St. Jacobs Oil, cured me completely of rheumatic pains in my left arm. I recommended it to two of my friends, and Mrs. Dona Juana Garcia, widow, and Mr. D. Herman Decker, a German gentleman. Madam Garcia was relieved entirely by the pain-cure from terrible neuralgic pains of ten months standing. Mr. Decker was cured of incurable neuralgia by a single application of the cure. My brother used the great remedy for a species of paralysis of the arm. He was entirely relieved from his ailment by one or two applications, after having tried numerous other remedies without effect.

President Arthur made a "dash" when he was junketing through the Yellowstone Park, and it wasn't a sour mash, either. He mistook a large cat for a lion, and he was crushed. He has been rescued into a standing committee ever since. The cat was an insinuating address that is positively repulsive to one of a sensitive nature like Arthur.

A father complained bitterly of the way his children destroyed their clothing. He said: "When I was a boy I had only one suit of clothes, and I had to take care of it in those days." There was a pause, and then the old boy spoke up and said, "I say, dad, you have a much easier time of it now since you are living with us."

County and County.

The banner county will wear proud laurels this year if she does not get negligent.

The first snow of the season fell Thursday afternoon.

Wm. W. Mills sent us this week a stock of corn bearing large and perfect ears.

Deer A. Turner, of Nanticoke, is reading law in the office of Jas. A. Buchanan in Baltimore.

Thursday was the opening of the gunning season, and the sportsmen turned out in great numbers.

The gas fixtures have been put in the Opera House, workmen are now engaged in building the gas house.

Mr. J. J. Morris and family have moved into their elegant new residence on 17th Street, on Newtown.

Hon. J. Randolph Tucker, of Virginia, passed through Salisbury Thursday morning. He had been speaking in Virginia.

A buzzard alighted in the Court House corner yesterday. He is supposed to have scented the dying republican party.

The woods were never prettier than at present at this time of the year. One need not go more than a half mile from this town to view a perfect panorama.

The late Wm. H. Jackson left this week on his usual trip, taking Mr. W. H. Jackson and family and several members of Mr. Joseph Humphrey family.

The President has designated Thursday, November 22, as the next day of "national thanksgiving," and recommends its general observance as such by the people.

Dr. Newman, of Washington, who has been visiting near Quantico, was taken upon the Kent Monday night. He is in the last stages of a wasting disease, and had to be carried on board.

The new M. P. Church in Hungary Neck will be dedicated Sunday Nov. 4th. The service will be at 10 A. M., by Rev. H. Mullineux, preaching at 3 P. M., and 7 P. M. in the evening. All are invited.

Steamers of the Old Dominion Line now leave New York from Pier 23 (old No. 37) North River, foot of Beach Street, Monday's and Thursday's at 3 P. M. Returning, leave Lewes Tuesday's and Friday's at 3 P. M. and due in New York at 5 o'clock next morning.

The engineers of the New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk Railroad Company have begun at Delmar to settle the line of the new road, to be out the line from that point south through Salisbury to Pocomoke City. Orders have been given to complete the line and have it ready for operation by April 1st.

The new Methodist Episcopal Church of Salisbury, Del. Annual Conference, will be dedicated to Almighty God on the 11th day of November, 1883. W. F. Butler, D. D., Revs. H. A. Moore, J. A. Scott, W. H. Johnson and others will be present. Seats will be reserved for our white friends. J. B. Waters, pastor.

The County Campaign.

The Discussions of Democratic Principles Through the County.

An unusually earnest and effective campaign is being made through the county by the democratic candidates and their party friends.

At Tyaskin, Senator Parsons, Col. L.

Molone, Wm. H. Warren, Thomas B.

Taylor and J. A. Graham spoke to a considerable gathering. This was the scene in the old days of many a political meeting. The old walnut tree still stands, under whose branches the war horses of a former generation drew their followers around them.

The next day at Nutter's T. F. J. Rider made an eloquent address, which was followed by speeches from other gentlemen. Old Nutter's sticks by the flag and her staunch democrats promise to be at the polls next Tuesday without fail.

Capt. Richter took down to White

Have the same evening A. C. Smith,

E. Stanley Tordvin, W. H. Warren, L.

H. White, W. S. Moore, J. A. Parsons

and J. A. Graham. Mr. J. W. Wingate

and Dr. Catlin entertained the travelers and a pleasant meeting was held in the evening.

Saturday, Quantico turned out a very large and enthusiastic gathering of the democrats. The addresses were attentively listened to, and the clear exposition of the extravagance and corruption of republicanism made by the speakers seemed to find minds already well prepared to receive the truth.

Tuesday, Stomach gave her first politically meeting a big send-off and Fruitland did the same after supper. Mr. Parsons led himself out on this occasion and made a speech regarded as the best of the campaign.

Wednesday, Dennis' district welcomed its standard bearers. In this noble district where republicans are exceedingly scarce, a cordial reception was tendered, both at Powellville and Wango.

Everywhere the utmost satisfaction prevails among democrats. The ticket satisfies all elements of the party, and no doubt exists that any scheming will be confined to a few sorehead malconts who can always be relied on to be crooked. Mr. Taylor, candidate for the Legislature, has won hosts of friends. His clear, modest, businesslike statement of views always creates entire confidence in the man. He seems to be the most popular candidate, and will run ahead of his ticket in many sections.

Mr. Hodgson had provided a convenient stand for the speakers Tuesday night at Selmar, roofed over and decorated with flags. The meeting was well attended, and though the night was cold and discomfort was experienced by the speakers or audience. The former fully appreciated Mr. Hodgson's thoughtfulness.

There will be a democratic meeting at Waltersville next afternoon. This is an extra meeting not previously announced. All are invited.

The last of the regular meetings is at Pittsville this afternoon.

The republican meeting here last Friday may be regarded as a failure. It was well attended, many democrats going for the sake of curiosity. But the speakers dealt in wild statements, in abusive epithets and appeals to the negro voters. Many moderate republicans were disgusted and especially were turned away by the apparent superiority of McLane to Holton as a man. Those who object to the predominance of the State and Peninsula.

What the Newspapers Have to Say on Various Subjects.

Oxford claims a population of 1,500.

About 3,000 bushels of oysters are used in Cambridge daily.

The Presty terriers of Pocomoke City

are talking "new church."

There is talk in Cambridge, of attempting measures for protection against fires.

The Centerville people want a series of first class entertainments this winter.

A Cumberland firm is advertising a clock that runs 400 days with but one winding.

A number of sporting men of Dorchester have organized a game protecsion society.

Hon. James Lawrence Bartol, chief judge of the Court of Appeals of Maryland, has resigned his office.

Some persons in Annapolis now say the recent fire was not caused by a coal-oil lamp, but that it was of incendiary origin.

Forty fruit evaporating firms in Kent and Sussex counties, Del., have evaporated 600,000 pounds of peaches and pears this season.

It is said that the money paid out for fertilizers in Hartford county this year would have bought all the land in the county twenty years ago.

The Fifth Maryland Regiment have decided to visit New Orleans and participate in the Mardi Gras festivities which take place in February next.

A building boom has struck Hagerstown, where a greater number of houses are going up simultaneously than ever before in the history of the place.

A petition has been sent to the Postoffice Department for a post-office at

Scuders' Corner, between Mill Green and the Maryland Central Railroad.

Charles Williams was instantly killed in the Hoffman mine, near Camberland, on Saturday by having his head crushed between a car and the side of the mine.

The citizens of Port Deposit intend to purchase a new fire engine, and the

Clapp & Jones engine, of the Water

Witch Fire Company, of Wilmington,

Del., on trial.

The town of Newark, Del., is in a growing condition. The buildings erected for the last year are 21 brick, 13 frame dwellings houses, machine shop, store and carriage barn.

November 12 next an excursion party will leave Baltimore via the Bay Line steamer for a trip to and through North Carolina. The party will be composed of Pennsylvania and Maryland farmers and business men.

George Meekle was convicted of horse-stealing at Cumberland on Saturday. Meekle admitted that he was a member of an oath-bound gang, and gave the names of a number of its members. One is a man living in Baltimore.

The steamer Artisan, which has been plying between Seaford and Baltimore for over a year, has been sold to parties in Chester, Pa., and she made her last trip from Seaford last Thursday.

The Seaford Enterprise says no boat will be run from that town to Baltimore before next spring.

It is said that the bed of phosphate lately discovered at Cambridge, Md., is marvelously rich, yielding a greater percentage of valuable manure than the celebrated South Carolina rock. It reported that workmen in the pits last week took out the petrified skulls of three children and the petrified foot, ankle and slipper of a woman.

There is a singular case in one of the

The Annual Session.

Meeting of the Salisbury Old School Baptist Association.

The annual session of the Salisbury

Old School Baptist Association has just closed at this place. It commenced

Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. The weather was rather unfavorable and the roads. The unusually heavy rain of the previous day had prevented many from a distance from reaching the neighborhood, and some delay was occasioned by the badness of the travelling. Still, the house was filled yesterday morning, the sun shone out bright and clear, and a throng of people gathered from all quarters, not only packing the house but leaving hundreds outside. A stand was fixed in the door for the speakers and quiet attention to the speakers and good order prevailed throughout. Elders

NUMBER 12.

A Woman's Affair.

Mrs. N. H. Small, the wife of the popular deputy sheriff and assessor of Topsham, Me., writes us on May 15, 1883: "That she had been severely afflicted during several years with kidney and liver disease, accompanied with severe pains and backache. Having tried many so-called cures, and medicines, and doctor's prescriptions, without receiving any benefit, and while seeking for a cure she noticed the advertisement of Hunt's Remedy, and immediately ordered it. Having bought a bottle at Dr. Johnson's drug store, commenced using it, and after a few flattering results that she continued its use, and after using only five bottles the improvement in her health is so marked that she writes me in the following letter, in a manner to know of this most valuable and reliable medicine; and she most cheerfully recommends Hunt's Remedy to all, and especially the females who are troubled with the complaints peculiar to the sex."

A FAMILY LETTER.

Under date of May 10, 1888, we have received the following information from Mr. Lorenzo Lombard, of 18 Charles Street, Portland, Me. Mr. Lombard writes me as follows: "I have been long and severely troubled with severe backache and rheumatism in the side, and when I would lie down I could not rest well, as it seemed impossible for me to get into an easy position. I used many remedies, but without constantly to such an extent that I became convinced that I had a disease of the kidneys fastened to me, and after having used doctors' prescriptions and many of the so-called cures without getting any benefit, I was persuaded by a near neighbor, Mr. Jones, to try Hunt's Remedy, as himself and wife had been greatly benefited by its use, and many others of our acquaintances spoke of its merits in the highest terms. I decided to try it, and purchased a bot-at Nichol's drug store, and as soon as I had taken a few doses of it the pains in my back were relieved, and after taking three bottles my headache and lame back are cured, and I can truly testify that Hunt's Remedy is an article of great merit, and will do all that is claimed for it, and I know of many other people in Portland who have found a cure. Hunt's Remedy after all others failed to do any good, and I recommend it to who have kidney or liver disease, hoping that this may be the means of relieving some sufferer who does not know of the merits of Hunt's Remedy."

What is claimed to be the largest truck farm in the South is in Louisiana, near New Orleans, where the cultivation of very early cabbages, cucumbers and tomatoes are made a specialty for the markets of Northern cities. Last season the yield was about 300 barrels of cucumbers, 5,000 boxes of tomatoes and 170,000 heads of cabbages. In addition to this a considerable portion of the ground is devoted to the cultivation of strawberries, cauliflower, peaches, grapes, etc., and an apary yields an annual production of about ten barrels of honey.

The milk of cows at this season is always richer than during the first flush of green grass in the Spring. One reason is that there is less of it. As cows advance towards the time to bring forth their young there is more cream proportionally in their milk from the fact that the albuminoids are retained to build up the fetus. It is, however, not good policy to milk ordinary cows nearer than within three or four weeks of calving. The little that is gained within the last six weeks of milking does not pay. The calf is poorer for it, and the cow, unless fed unnaturally high, is not so good for the coming months, when she should be at her best.

Mulching quince trees in Winter and heavy manuring in Summer are the chief secrets of success with this shy fruit. The top is nearly or quite as hardy as the apple, and if the root is properly protected, and the soil enriched, quinces can be grown in most localities where apples succeed. No crop will better repay intelligent care than quinces. It is true that in many cases quince trees have succeeded better under neglect than under a system of culture that mangled the fine roots and left the surface soil bare, the freeze to the entire depth of the roots in Winter. Mulching with coarse manure is a great deal better than cultivation. If in addition the ground can be sheltered that snow will lie on the surface most of the Winter the trees will be healthy and abundant crops will reward the grower.

A writer in Vick's Magazine says: "It is evident that the wood and buds of grapevines suffer winter injury more from dryness than from intensity of cold. For when we lay them flat upon the surface of the soil, weighed down so as to be close to it, the wood is exposed—in the absence of snow, at least—to quite as extreme cold as if it were up on the trellis. Yet even in open winter, this more pressure upon the bottom of the other earth, cold as it may be, suffices to save the wood and crop. An exposed vine, when injured, scarcely ever betrays any apparent evidences of the injury by discoloration or shrinkage. The first evidence of its appearing is the failure of the buds to open, while unharmed vines have expanded their leaves and are in growth. But those tardy buds open, after many days, showing that the only difficulty was a drying of wood and buds, which is evidently relieved as the pressure of sap from the roots, under the genial warmth and moisture of the spring time, gradually expands and fills the broken cells. But this loss of time is fatal to the proper ripening of the crop. Even the well-nourished wood and buds of the Concord sometimes suffer from this winter drying and spring retardation, although generally proof."

The election in this state is now over, and it is to be hoped that there will be found some members of the state legislature who have the ability and inclination to look after the interests of the farmer, which have not been much regarded for some years past. Massachusetts' Ploughman notes the fact that an attempt was made to secure a member of the legislature expressly upon the ground of his ability to look after the interests of the farmers. The Ploughman says: "Last year was the first year that saw a member chosen strictly in relation to the farming interest, and Senator Grinnell, of Franklin, was sent to the legislature by the vote of both political parties, the members of which put out of sight all political differences from a common desire to see the farming interests distinctly represented, advocated and defended in that body. And in very great part as the result of that step, no previous session ever showed so much legislative interest in matters relating to agriculture, and during no session was so much accomplished for agricultural interests. But this is only the beginning of what is needed to be accomplished. A statute is urgently required that shall guarantee absolute protection to sheep, sheep husbandry being perhaps as full of promise for the farmers of Massachusetts as any other branch of agriculture. It was finally, not entirely, through the efforts of Senator Grinnell that it was finally passed through the Senate, though it failed of a passage through the House in consequence of the activity of a hostile lobby interest. The effort will have to be made again at the next legislature, and it must be persisted in until it is crowned with complete success. The farmers in every part of the state are loudly demanding the enactment of a law of this character, and they are resolved to have it. It is for you, fellow farmers and graziers, to be proud and to urge the legislature to have your just rights, and privileges in this matter duly respected by the legislature of the state."

ADVERTISER.
NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

With the beginning of the next year the publisher of the ADVERTISER desires to introduce several improvements in the interest of readers. One of the most important is the doing away with the reading notices which are so disagreeable to nearly all the country papers and so annoying to subscribers. We wish to put all advertisements in the space assigned to them and thereby increase the actual reading matter as well as avoid the necessity of our readers being bored with patent medicine and similar notices when they are interested in other matter. To accomplish this, the cooperation of subscribers is necessary. With a subscription list as large as the ADVERTISER'S, the failure of any considerable portion to pay promptly is a serious loss and to make up this loss, the publisher has to stretch his advertising space to its utmost to pay the heavy expense of publication. Bills will be sent to all subscribers between this date and the first of next year. If our request is complied with and all subscribers will assist us in this matter, we promise to take no more contracts for these reading notices and get rid of what we have as rapidly as possible. The rule we would like to insist upon is that, counting from the date of subscription, every subscriber over a year in arrears will be stricken off without respect to persons. It will be readily seen that such a rule must be invariably and promptly executed and if adopted it will be. It would be better still if every subscriber would pay in advance, but many do not have an opportunity to send or bring the money exactly at the time and we are willing to indulge them a few months. But if we are to be successful in our proposed improvements, we shall have to insist that all must settle during the year without exception. It will give us pleasure to hear from all our patrons upon this subject, though we are now convinced that they will gladly welcome the change.

Dr. Geo. W. Bishop is strongly talked of for the presidency of the Maryland Senate. He would make a capable presiding officer.

The republicans are hard up for an issue. A race conflict is the best they can do and on that they are trying to solidify the North and work up the negroes in the South. Their own corruption and their enormous taxation is what they are trying to cover up. Don't let the people forget their interests.

The special election contest is the topic of interest at Washington. Randall and Carlisle are the leading candidates. It is worth remembering that Randall comes from a republican state and that while he is undoubtedly a fine public man and an able man, the principles he is identified with are more republican than democratic. Carlisle represents the moderate free traders.

Harper's Weekly has a cartoon representing Mr. McLane as identified with war issues. War republicans had better drop the war issue subject. The colored vote was packed on war issues alone. The "rebels" were talked about freely in the campaign by republican speakers. The few colored men who wished to vote the democratic ticket were afraid to do so. In Somerset, one would not vote until he was promised protection, and shots were fired at him by other negroes as he left town. Just keep up this war issue talk until next year and if the white men of Maryland don't show their resentment by twenty five thousand democratic majority, they are weaker than we think.

The New York World (Dem.) claims that in spite of many drawbacks the result in New York is a Democratic triumph of no ordinary character, and adds: "It was more than a party success. It reaches further and rises higher than a mere victory of Democrats over Republicans. It means 1884. It means a change of Washington. It means that the people are tired of the ruling party. It means the vindication of popular self-government. The verdict means that the voice of New York next year will pronounce in favor of driving from power a party which has outlived its usefulness and its honesty, and has for years clung to power through corrupt methods and in impudent defiance of the will of the people."

General Wickham and Mr. Denzard, the leading Republicans of Virginia, are reinforced by Representative George D. Wise and General Jubal A. Early in their characterization of Mahone's address as a slander upon the people of that State. They say that it is false in every important particular and that its effect upon immigration and business cannot be otherwise than discouraging.

The full returns from New York give Carr, Republican, 18,247 majority for Secretary of State and the Democratic candidates for the other State offices the following majorities: Controller Chapin, 10,230; Treasurer Maxwell, 16,984; Attorney General O'Brien, 18,000; and Engineer Street over 20,000.

Mr. Spencer C. Jones, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, has awarded the contract to do the legislative printing for the next session of Maryland legislature to Mr. James Young of Baltimore, who was the lowest bidder, for $12,440.

Hanged by Masked Men.
Ada Atkinson's Murderer Taken From Jail and Lynched.

At Fowler, Ind., about 10:30 o'clock Monday night a man on horseback slowly rode to the jail from the southeast. After riding around the court-house he turned rapidly in the direction from which he came. About an hour after about 300 masked men rode into the town. They hitched their horses, posted guards to watch away the citizens and went to the east door of the jail, where they soon found entrance by breaking down the doors with sledge hammers. They then quietly, but with great determination, proceeded to break in the iron doors leading to the corridors. This took perhaps half an hour. They were after Jacob Nelling, who so brutally murdered Ada Atkinson some weeks ago. He met them at the door of his cell, already dressed and ready to go to his doom. He was quickly walked to a carriage in which was a rope. The only remark he made was, "Go a little slow, gentlemen; I am older than some of you."

Nelling, after being placed in the carriage, was driven to a spot within a quarter of a mile from the scene of his crime. After being removed from the vehicle he was told that he must die. He was given five minutes in which to make a confession, but he stolidly refused to do so, saying as he had already acknowledged committing the murder it was unnecessary to repeat his story. The rope was quickly thrown over a limb of a large oak tree, and two men stepped forward and placed the noose around the old man's neck. In doing this the collar he wore was torn off. Another attempt to make him recite the story of the murder was rewarded by a sneer from the defiant man. Fifty men then grasped the rope, and in a moment the body was swaying in the air. After Nelling had been pronounced dead the crowd quietly dispersed.

A previous attempt to lynch Nelling was made on October 16, but after a determined resistance the authorities were able to put the man in prison. Nelling was in prison for the murder of Ada Atkinson early in September, one of the most brutal crimes in the history of Indiana. At a hearing in the case the counsel for the accused read the following confession from Nelling, made first to Detective Harris, of Pinkerton's Agency, and afterwards to the coroner: "I, Jacob Nelling, being duly sworn, acknowledge that I killed Ada Atkinson with my pocketknife, shown to-day in open court in Benton county court-house. I killed her under the following circumstances: Before I started to do it something came over me that enticed me to do so. I took hold of her and then threw her down on the floor. Then I cut her throat. Then I became frenzied and made the other cuts. It seems my mind left me, and I did not care what I was doing. I cannot explain the rest of the cutting, but I suppose I did it all. I had no motive that I remember of for killing her in this manner, and I did not attempt to ravish her. As I left the house I went to the milk-house and washed my hands and knife in the basin which I had lying on the edge of the milk tank, near the door. I threw the water in the yard, and likely it soaked into the grass. I did not get my clothes bloody, because the blood did not fly. It seems to me that I had hold of the handkerchief which was around her neck, and I might have twisted it when I cut her throat. After washing the blood off my hands and knife, I went back through the orchard to my work. I do solemnly swear that Jacob Atkinson is innocent of the murder, and that he did not visit the house that day, and that the previous statements I have made about him are false in every particular."

JACOB H. NELLING. Colonel DeHart read the horrible confession with clearness and emphasis. When he had concluded he said: "We are now going to Fowler to hold a public examination." In an instant the crowd dispersed, men running for their horses and teams, or to the livery stables. In 20 minutes the roads leading to Fowler were black with wagons, all going at a rattling pace. To the farm hands plowing in the field who stopped work to inquire what was new, the answer was, "Come to the hanging at 2 o'clock." They did come, and by 1 o'clock the farms for miles around were deserted, and the town of Fowler was thronged with men seeming intent on vengeance. All hurried to the court-house, which was filled to its utmost capacity; the murderer was unseated in, and every eye fixed on his cold features. The prisoner displayed no sign of emotion. Order was kept, and when Nelling took his seat in the witness-chair he looked like a man about to converse on a trivial topic. Attired in a blue overcoat, white shirt and blue overalls, sitting with crossed hands and knees, he awaited his examination. In answer to questions Nelling said the statement he had signed was true in every particular. He had committed the murder himself, and no one suggested it to him. He could not tell what induced him to do it. "Are you guilty or not guilty?" was asked. "Not," he responded, in distinct tones, "to all that is charged. I had no malice; it was not premeditated. I had no revenge against the girl; I always loved the girl. Something told me to kill her and I did; I couldn't help it."

There was a whispering in the courtroom after the examination was over. Nelling was taken down the rear stairs, near which he was seated. The father of Ada rose from his chair, and tears streaming down his cheeks, and, in a broken voice, called out: "Take him out men." A rush was made for the doors with a view of intercepting the sheriff with his prisoner on his way to the jail, but the doors were not locked. The crowd could leave the room, and before they could attempt to break down the doors. Mr. Coffrath mounted a table and cautioned them not to do any violence, as they had restrained themselves so far. When the doors were opened the crowd of about 500 surged out and surrounded the jail. Sheriff Scanlan and his posse met them at the entrance, and after a brief struggle, the mob dispersed to look over the matter and await a better opportunity. Monday they found it.

A single dose of J. M. Laroque's Anti-Bilious Bitters, taken at night on retiring, will make you feel so much better the succeeding day that henceforth you will not be without it. Take our advice on the first approach of disease—Try it. The cost is trifling; 25 cents a bottle. All druggists sell it. W. E. Thornton, proprietor, Baltimore, Md.

The next issue of "Swinton's Story-Teller" is to contain features that will make it specially attractive as a Thanksgiving number. It is to present a full-page frontispiece by Alfred Fredericks, illustrative of Hawthorne's beautiful tale of "John Ingledew's Thanksgiving"; a characteristic original story by Harriet Prescott Spofford, entitled "Something to be Thankful for"; and an original tale by Edna Wheeler, called "John Smith; or, Two Thanksgivings."

Swaine's Pills—Important to the Sick: Symptoms indicate disease, a continuance, days of suffering, perchance death! Symptoms are: impure blood, costiveness, irregular appetite, headache, sour belching, soreness in back, breast and side, heart pains, giddiness, bad color to stools and urine, hot and cold sensations, yellow skin. "Swaine's Pills" cure by gently removing all corrupt matter, regulating and nourishing the system. 25 cents, box of 30 pills. Send $1. At Druggists or by mail. Dr. Swaine & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

A convention will be held in Philadelphia in January next, for the purpose of organizing a national labor party to hold the balance of power between the old parties.

Drawing the Color Line.
Mahone and President Arthur to Fight Shoulder to Shoulder.

The Virginia election has brought Arthur and Mahone shoulder to shoulder. The Virginian is not more than a poor relation, but will be welcomed with the fullest acknowledgments of the relationship, for which mutual necessities have paved the way. It is now believed in administration circles and by Republicans generally that Mahone's defeat will be worth as much in the Presidential canvass as anything flowing from doubtful canvasses has been. The want with the Republicans has been and now is an issue—something to direct attention from the corruption of the government. The idea is now entertained that the Virginia election has accomplished a good deal towards supplying this want. It depends on the success of what is to be attempted for converting Mahone's defeat into a war-cry how far this idea is realized.

Not as to Virginia alone is the hope entertained that a struggle will be precipitated which will give promise of success. There are other Southern States where the war-cry is expected to rally in a manner that has not been witnessed in a long time. Starting with the proposition that with a full vote and an honest count a number of Southern States are Republican, the conclusion is readily reached that there can be no better politics for the Republicans than an effort, equal to the occasion, for getting out the Republicans in those States; in other words, for bringing the entire colored vote to the polls. In this way the Republicans easily persuade themselves that an issue will be injected into the canvass which will draw attention away from their own shortcomings and create a solid North, with a possible chance for dividing the South.

It is to use such as these that the Mahone defeat is to be put. What Arthur seconded by Mahone cannot accomplish towards giving success to such an enterprise is thought not to be worth trying. Of course, it means Arthur for the candidate. Apparently Arthur is making great strides towards securing the nomination, and yet, so far as is known, he has actually done but little above-board. The fact that he will be a candidate and do his best to secure the nomination appears to be pretty well settled. A number of New York citizens have been here since the election. That their business was to come to an understanding preliminary to starting out for setting up the pins for Arthur is not denied. Arthur likes to have it understood that this was the fact. With the power of the government in his hands, the advantage he will have over all competitors is conceded. Such men as Harris, Allison, Logan and even Edmunds would start behind in such a race.

Constantine Carman, of Queenstown, Queen Anne's county, took into custody on Saturday last a white man named David Foster on the charge of attempting to feloniously assault Miss Clara Callahan some days since. The prisoner was taken before Justice Winchester, of Queenstown, who, after hearing the evidence of Miss Callahan, held Foster to bail in the sum of $600 for his appearance at the May term of court. At the time of the attempted assault Miss Callahan was walking to Centreville from Mr. Wm. B. Reed's, where she resided. Foster came along in a devious and asked her to ride. She did so, and he brought her to town. On her way back he made insulting advances, which she repelled. When the woods, about two miles from Centreville, were reached, he suddenly drove into by road, and Miss Callahan attempted to jump out, but was restrained by Foster, who held her. She seized the reins and pulled the horse to one side. Foster, in regaining possession of the reins, relinquished his hold upon the lady, and she took advantage of the opportunity and sprang from the devious road. She succeeded in reaching her home without further molestation. Foster is a somewhat noted character, having been before the County Court on other occasions for different offenses. The people are very indignant about the matter. Foster is a married man.

There were about 300 persons present the laying of the corner stone of the new Roman Catholic Church in Middletown Sunday. The Rev. Father Murphy of Washington, D. C., conducted the services, the Rev. Father Gaffney, of St. Francis Xavier Church, Warwick, Md., assisting. At 10 o'clock, after mass, general services were held in the hall, after which the congregation proceeded to the new building. The stone is of white marble 11x13x21 inches in size, and it was laid in the southwest corner. The stone bears the following inscription in capital letters: "Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam, 1883." Translation: "For the greater glory of God."

A joint stock company is said to be organizing in New York to run Gen. Grant in 1884 as a candidate for a third term. The railroad kings and stock brokers of Wall street and a lot of broken down politicians are said to be engineering the thing. The Democrats have no stock in it, and say "let her rip."

General J. J. Early declares that that English language is not strong enough for him when he talks about General Mahone.

Overcoats are going to sell out faster this season than ever before. There are new styles coming in every few days; some of them are a little cheaper than we could have bought them a month ago. We have marked down some lots so as to make room for the ones which are crowding our counters. You will not buy till you have seen our styles.

You may think it strange—but money cannot buy you a better wearing dress shirt than the one we sell for One Dollar. Many of our leading citizens wear no other. We have all grades down to a shirt with a linen bosom that we sell for 50 cents.

The Oysters.

Preserving the Water's Wealth and the Interests of Oystermen.

In this county, where a large number of people are dependent upon the oysters for a livelihood, considerable interest is taken in the legislation upon the subject this winter. In Tyaskin district, the principal seat of the oyster business in Wisconsin, the oystermen nearly all seem to desire a restriction upon catching. They think there should be a positive prohibition against taking oysters during the three summer months even in the smallest quantities, in short,

that the rocks should be absolutely undisturbed during June, July and August.

Many think dredging should be restricted for even a longer period. One dredging captain from Salisbury would go so far as to allow the dredgers to work only for two months, but as that would affect the value of vessels so as to ruin most owners, his idea is not considered exactly practicable. One of our State exchanges says: Among the measures likely to be presented to the next Legislature, looking to the protection and increase of the oyster interest of the Chesapeake bay and its tributaries, is one for the farming out of the natural oyster rocks and beds, those that are not known and each as may hereafter be discovered.

Oysters will not thrive and multiply upon muddy or soft bottoms. They must have beds of hard substances, such as rock, oyster shells, or something similar, to which the spawn will adhere and grow, and these formations, natural or artificial, ought to be in the lines of fresh water washings composed in great part of vegetable drainage, for it is upon vegetable decomposition that they fatten and become prolific. All the noted and best oyster rocks and beds in the bay have been picked over until they are now, in most cases, little more than barren, and the proposition to farm them out is thought to be the best thing that can be done. If the bill passes the patrons to whom the rights are given will be bound upon them to pay the expenses of the oyster police from the original site, but it is still uncertain whether the oyster police will turn out as productive as

Rhode Island, Connecticut, and Maryland, they will will

—William Emory, colored, aged 19, was convicted at Centreville of outrageous assault upon Mahala Pearce, an aged and respectable colored woman, and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

—"Brother" Fox, who was associated

State, in 1877 and 1878, was in Wilmin-ton last week. He is located now at Chicago, where he says he has an $1,800 situation and is doing better, financially and otherwise, than ever before.

—A Sanitary Convention, under the auspices of the State Board of Health, will be held in Baltimore on the 28th and 29th inst. An invitation to attend this convention is extended to all persons interested in diffusing among the people such information as may secure exemption from avoidable causes of disease.

—Mrs. Zoe Hayward of Philadelphia, attempted suicide at the Mansion

House, in Baltimore, Sunday, by shooting herself in the left breast with a pistol. She fired seven times, but only one ball took effect. The wound is serious.

She said her husband is an opera singer, and deserted her in Philadelphia.

—Mrs. John W. Garrett was buried

Saturday in Greenmount cemetery, the Rev. Dr. John Leyburn officiating, assisted by the Rev. Dr. J. C. Backus. The services at Montebello were of the briefest character, at the conclusion of which a quartet of the choir of the Associate

Reformed Church, led by G. W. Gephard, with Messrs. Gephart, Kaufman and Griffith, sang "Rock of Ages."

—The Rev. G. W. Burke of Hillsboro, Maryland, sends Every Evening a bit of oak wood from the old house near Camberland, Maryland, occupied by Washington as his headquarters in 1784, at the time of the memorable and disastrous

Braddock campaign. The house was removed a few years since a short distance from the original site, but it is still occupied, and even the doors and floors are unchanged since Washington made it his dwelling.

—Early in December the annual banquet of the Philadelphia Alumni Association of Delaware College, which includes all graduates and former students of the college resident in Philadelphia

upon the Peninsula, will be held in
