Instructors Will Attend MSTA Meet

Thirty-six members of the F. S. T. C. faculty and the administrative staff will attend a meeting for the faculty of all teachers' colleges in Maryland at Towson, on October 9. From October 10 to 12 the instructors will participate in the Maryland State Teachers' Association Convention in Baltimore.

On Friday morning, Miss Margaret Hamilton, a member of the Mathematics Department and State President of Alpha Beta, will preside at a joint meeting of Phi Delta Kappa and Delta Kappa Gamma at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

The meeting at Towson will convene in the form of a dinner, at which there will be a guest speaker. On Thursday morning there will be departmental meetings.

At the first general session of the M. S. T. A. Convention in Baltimore on Thursday afternoon, the Honorable John F. Kennedy, Senator of the State of Massachusetts, will be guest speaker.

Presiding at the dinner meeting that evening will be Dr. Earl T. Hawkins, President of Towson State Teachers' College. The guest speaker for the first evening meeting will be Dr. Andrew C. Holt, Vice President of the University of Tennessee.

John Mason Brown To Speak

For the second general session, held Friday, Violet Davis, President of the Maryland State Teachers Association, will preside. The All-Maryland High School Chorus will present a concert of music as a special feature. A well-known lecturer, author and critic, John Mason Brown, will address the teachers also at this session.

The third and final session of this year's convention will take place on Saturday, October 12. The director of the Institute for Atomic Development, Dr. Gerald Weridt, will speak.

Besides the dinner meetings, the teachers will attend departmental meetings for those interested in adult education, art, audio and visual education, business education, classics, core teachers, driver education, English, geography elementary, higher education and others.

Due to the fact that many of the college and laboratory school faculty will be attending the meeting prior to the Baltimore convention, the college will close at 11:50 a. m. Wednesday, October 9.

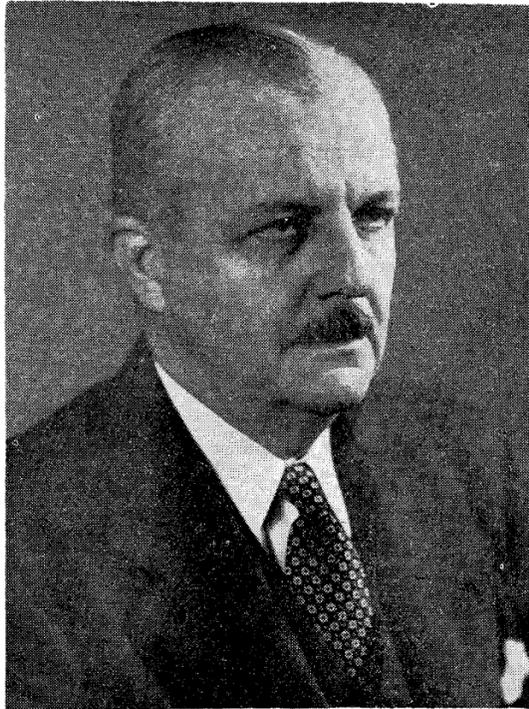

Dr. Lindsey To Lead Panel On Education

Dr. Margaret Lindsey, of Columbia University, will discuss "The Citizen Looks at Education During the Second Half of the Twentieth Century" at the second of a series of discussion groups inaugurated by President R. Bowen Hardesty this year. The meeting will be held in Compton Hall on October 17 at 7 p. m.

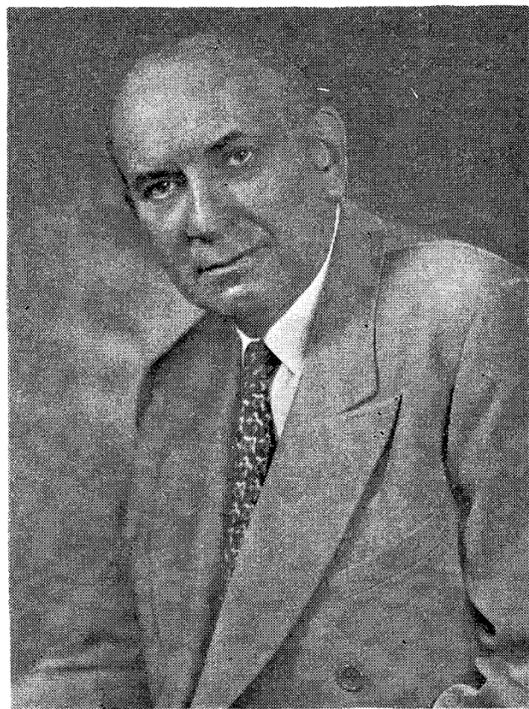

The first panel, held September 19, had as its topic "Living in an Age of Automation." Dr. David W. Zimmerman, assistant state superintendent from the Maryland State Department of Education, served as moderator of the panel.

Finley Thompson, Celanese Corporation of America; R. M. Hains-further, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.; D. H. Little, Allegany Ballistics Laboratory; J. C. Warden, Kelly Springfield Tire Co.; William M. Thompson, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co.; and Stanley Zor-ick, AFL-CIO, in Cumberland, spoke on the subject.

Returning Alumni To View Parade

Depicting the theme "Around the World in Eighty Days," the annual Homecoming parade will begin at 12:30 October 5, starting from Lowndes Hall.

For the first time in the history of F. S. T. C. Homecoming parades, a trophy will be awarded to the organization sponsoring the winning float. This will be a three-legged trophy, that is, the organization that wins it for three years will gain full possession of it.

Bands from the surrounding area, floats representing various organizations on campus, and the Homecoming Queen and her court will follow this route: College Avenue, Bowery Street, Main street, Water Street, back to College Avenue, and it will disperse behind Compton Hall.

The trophy for the winning float will be displayed on campus a week before the dance. It will be presented to the winning organization at the Homecoming Dance.

Members comprising the parade committee are Oliver Replann, Stanley Wilson, Mary Francis DeLuca, Margaret Buterbaugh, Lois Sweltzer, and John Kolb.

In the event of rain Saturday, the parade is scheduled for Sunday October 6, at the same time.

The floats will be judged on the basis of a form set up by the parade committee with suggestions from the organizations.

Lecturer To Speak On 'Earth Satellite'

Dr. I. M. Levitt, widely-known scientist-astronomer and director of the Feis Planetarium in Philadelphia, will appear on October 8, at 8:15 in Compton Hall, under the auspices of the Assembly Committee. His lecture will be titled "Earth Satellite."

Among Dr. Levitt's inventions are the Hamilton Space Clock, designed to tell the time on Mars in relation to earth-time, and the Pulse Counting Photoelectric Photometer, which earned a place in the 1948 Encyclopedia Britannica Year Book as one of the two articles on electronics.

In his lecture he will discuss many of the unknowns and unsolved problems still to be dealt with before human beings can venture from earth.

Dr. Levitt has served as director of the Philadelphia planetarium since 1949.

Student Teachers, Advisors Experience Week Of Camp

Five elementary student teachers from this campus and their advisor, Mr. Waldon Skinner, are having a camping experience this week at Camp Greentop in Catoctin Mountain Park.

The program, for sixth grade teachers and their pupils, is being sponsored by the Frederick County Board of Education and directed by Herbert Steiner, State Superintendent of Physical Education. Mr. Warren Evans, Health and Physical Education Supervisor of the county, is in charge of the camp.

Mrs. Grace Kopp, supervisor of elementary education, said that the program, known as School Camping Teacher-Education, was initiated by the National Education Association to give children more outdoor experiences.

The student teachers camping with three sixth grades from Frederick county this week are Carol Miller, Jo Epperson, Karen Casserly, Phyllis Raines, and Dorothy Bampton.

During the week of September 23 to 27, Mrs. Kopp acted as advisor to Colleen Pollock, Marilyn Lewis, Leah Robinette, Gladys Harsh, Frances Davis, and Sara Murphy at the camp.

On October 14 to 18 Miss Lillian Wellner will be the advisor to Mary Yoder, Norma Taylor, Nancy Bleakley, Grace Nagle, Arlene Landefeld, and Ann Veach for their camping experience.

This new type of education is an addition to the teacher education program here. Mrs. Kopp said concerning the program, "The status and role of the student teachers in this experience is to be the same as the role of a regular teacher engaging in the program at any given time. The student teacher will accept responsibility and participate in the program with the maturity and good judgment expected of regular teachers."

Staff Needs Cooperation . . .

State-to-Date is your newspaper, just as the many organizations on campus are your organizations. We, the editors and staff members for the 1957-58 newspaper, are here only to set forth in print your news and our views for your pleasure and benefit.

Just as the chairman of each organization needs the assistance of each club member and the instructor needs students in his classes, the State-to-Date staff needs the assistance and cooperation of each student and faculty member on campus in order to publish unbiased news.

As has been the policy of State-to-Date for many years, pages one and three will be devoted to college and local news, while page four will contain college sports stories. Page two will contain editorials, individual columns, and features which will express the opinions and views of the staff members and guest writers. "Laurels to a Leader" will appear in each issue to honor the heads of each organization.

Just as each club is no stronger than its members, State-to-Date is no stronger than you and your organization. We need your news, views, and co-operation!

We Hail Freedom Fighters!

Students of American colleges and universities have nearly always had unquestionable academic freedom in their pursuit of knowledge. Regardless of a youth's vocational field of endeavor, he has been free to express his own ideas—proclaim them orally or have them published, provided they met the standard of truth.

In Hungary today where young students are denied the right to think freely and to examine an issue thoroughly from all the known facts, a widespread revolt has resulted. Their strict adherence to the procedures of an autocratic government has not permitted the acquisition of truth.

With the purpose of reforming their present situation, Hungarian youth prepared a declaration of demands and formed their own organization. It is of great importance to note that "these basic demands, first formulated by the students and intellectuals of Hungary and then taken up by the workers, led to a public revolt in Budapest." The Hungarian Communist Secret Police acted immediately—firing upon this peaceful demonstration. A raging battle then followed which spread throughout Hungary. Hungarian students, youths, and workers fought the Hungarian Communist Secret Police and armed troops from the U. S. S. R.

The "puppet method" is destined to failure because no person can ever conform totally in mind or spirit to anyone else. Individuality, both in thinking and in expression of ideas, is basic to man.

College—An Industry?

Did you know that State Teachers College is considered by the residents of Frostburg as this town's largest and most stable industry, inasmuch as it turns out a very salesworthy product—a school teacher?

The businessmen of Frostburg are benefited by this product as is the product by the business man, for the product must call upon the retailers of Frostburg as he would an instructor, for certain services. Each one needs the other for mutual help.

Merchants take pains in selecting a varied stock of quality goods to attract the student into their establishments. Every courtesy is extended to a student while he is speculating on his purchase, even to a budget if it is a large purchase. Frostburg businessmen have faith in and trust students of this college. We, the students, can show our appreciation in many ways.

Jazz

By Jim and Mike

To all Freshmen and new students do not expect to find Elvis' latest offering or what position "Short Fat Fannie" is on the hit parade, in this column. Our material will be devoted entirely to jazz.

In our very first column of last term we predicted a great future for trumpeter Maynard Ferguson. This prediction has come true. One only has to read his notices in the trade magazines or see and hear the many albums of his Birdland Dream Band.

Ferguson, who for years has been noted only as a high-note sectionman is now a full blown jazz man and well respected by his peers. His albums for Emory are a real gas; and Doug Sullivan is the proud possessor of two of them which he purchased in Atlantic City after hearing the band in person on the "Steel Pier."

Charles Welch had the distinct pleasure of talking with Maynard and several of his well-known sidemen such as Bob Burgess, Harry Banker, and Johnny Bellows.

While working in Atlantic City this summer, we (Jim Duffy, Mike Cunningham, Charles Welch, and Doug Sullivan) broadened our jazz listening experiences by hearing the bands of Ferguson, Stan Kenton, Woody Herman, and Dick Maltby plus the quintet of Miles Davis. Kenton's band was, as usual, very exciting. The band was dominated by younger men, especially in the trombone section.

Herman's herd seemed to be having a hassle with most of the book but still played some swing-in' things. Maltby's group sounded crisp and well rehearsed as they swung through his familiar book.

Laurels To Two Leaders

Today we have chosen to salute two young men who have reached the goal of presidents of their respective classes, William Delaney, senior, and Oliver Wittig, junior.

Bill Delaney

Bill, as the Senior prexy is known on campus, displayed his leadership abilities last year, when he served as co-chairman of the Junior-Senior Prom.

Bill has been a faithful member of the Newman Club, serving as vice president in his sophomore year and as president last year.

Bill also found time to serve as student chairman of the Assembly and Talent Committee in his junior year. He worked on the Nema-colin staff and joined two fraternities: Kappa Pi, the national art fraternity, and Alpha Tau Alpha in which he is now serving as secretary.

Bill is also well known for his athletic ability.

His name was news in the spring of his junior year when he received an Athletic Jacket Award. He has participated in intramural basketball since he first came to State and has been awarded letters for track three times.

Bill, we wish you luck this year, as senior class president, soccer manager, and vice president of the Day Student Council!

The junior class president, Oliver Wittig, is known to all his friends as "Ollie." He is a member of Delta Kappa Fraternity and holds the office of chaplain.

Ollie is one of those faithful people who stand up for the rights of F. S. T. C. students by serving as a member of Student Congress. He is treasurer of this organization.

The junior class president works on the Nema-colin business staff. The evenings Ollie is not busy with the yearbook you may find him working at the Frostburg A and P market. The National Guard at Frostburg will take much of Ollie's free time.

Ollie, we want to wish you luck as junior class president and luck in finding free time!

Senior Recalls Past; Envious Freshmen

I'll never forget that day I came back to college as a "senior." At last, I have arrived, I thought. It had been a hard pull to get through Mr. Taylor's "Elements of Geography," Dr. Howard's "English Literature," and Dr. Clay's "Teaching Language Arts," but I had succeeded. Only one more year and it would be over!

As I approached the campus, I wondered if I was at the right school, because the campus grounds had changed so. We now have no mounds of dirt in our quadrangle! Instead we have green grass and many fine white sidewalks.

As I am thinking of the near future, I see strange creatures roaming the green wonder of our campus. These creatures bring back memories of confusion and nervousness. These creatures remind me of someone I knew once. Could it be that these bewildered beings remind me of myself as a freshman? Yes, as I watch them scatter, I know I am seeing myself as the seniors of 1955 saw me and the rest of the then-lowly freshmen.

Yet, I do not feel sorry for these odd persons. I am the one who feels out of place. Here is a new group of hopefuls. With all these new lucky people, how will I ever feel a part of their college? The college I knew is no longer; new people are making their own college atmosphere. The atmosphere I knew for three years has changed so much that I no longer recognize the campus as I once knew it.

So, freshmen, feel at home and enjoy your campus. It belongs to you more than to any sophomore, junior, or senior!

Journal Of Freshman Days Reveals Early College Daze

Dear Diary: Sunday, September 8, 1957—Well, I am here at last! Last week was surely a hectic one, with so much packing and shopping for last minute things. And this week's schedule looks as though this one will be no better. But my big worry now is to find a place to store all my junk. Everyone here is so friendly that already I feel right at home. Tonight there was a freshman dance at Compton Hall and we all had a good time meeting our fellow classmates. It's 12:30, so good-night.

Monday, September 9: Dear Diary—Wow! What a day! First we met President Hardesty at the freshman assembly; then, after lunch, we really dug in with tests for 2½ long hours. This evening we had dinner with various faculty members. It's been a long, hard day, so goodnight.

Tuesday, September 10: Dear Diary—My second day at college over already. It doesn't seem quite possible. I've had a busy schedule with campus tours, orientation, a talk with the nurse, and more tests. Tonight I went to the fair, campus organization night, that is. Everything looked so interesting, I don't know which to join. Maybe I should sleep on it. Goodnight.

Wednesday, September 11: Dear Diary—First thing this morning, I had my picture taken for Nema-colin while sitting in the Varsity Shop. This afternoon, I took my last test. After the dinner with the ministers from the area, a free evening was offered, so many of us went into Frostburg and looked over the town. Goodnight.

Thursday, September 12: Dear Diary—I awoke this morning with a sigh of relief. Just a day of leisure ahead of me, and then I remembered that I had to be present for a freshman assembly, library instruction, a guidance conference, and then another freshman assembly. About four o'clock this afternoon I began preparing for the freshman tea. I'd been told that I should look my very best when I presented myself. I just returned from a Jam session with one of our big sisters and it's 1:30 a. m. so I think I'll turn in. Goodnight.

Friday, September 13: Dear Diary—Friday night and freshman week is all over. I guess I can call myself a full fledged freshman now!

Attention Freshmen; Observe And Heed!

Dear Freshmen:

We, as Seniors, have selected from our handbook of "Do's and Don'ts" several suggestions collected over the past three years, which we now throw out to you as incoming freshmen. We throw them out only in order to get rid of them and their inhibitive qualities. We, as student teachers, cannot afford to have any inhibitions.

Please read them carefully and memorize in case of the bubonic plague.

1. Don't try your mechanical genius on the radiators. They're sensitive and apt to cause serious floods!

2. Don't unscrew bulbs of ceiling lights. This may irritate house-mothers who make friendly calls after hours.

3. Don't forget to: first, stop, feel, and then look before going to bed. You may have been short-sheeted. (This is a favorite freshman trick. If your bed is in worse condition, "Cherchez la upper-classman.")

4. Before taking a shower, hide all cameras with flash attachments and proceed with caution eh, "Butch?"

5. Before opening your mouth for any purpose, other than eating, stop, and check for wires which may lead to a hidden tape recorder. Otherwise you may end up with your foot in your mouth sideways.

6. Above all, if you want a fun-filled college life, forget the above. In so doing you have passed your first mile-stone. Congratulations!

The Seniors

Assembly Features President's Address

The first administrative assembly was held on September 19 in Compton Hall Auditorium at 10 o'clock a. m. The program opened with a selection by Tschairowsky played by Mrs. Monroe Harris. This was followed by the invocation given by Rev. Edward Godsey, minister of the First Methodist Church in Frostburg.

The Maryland Singers, attired in their new robes, made their first appearance of the season. Under the direction of Charles I. Sager, the group presented the anthem, "God of Our Fathers," by Warren Gearhart.

Since the mayor of Frostburg, Joseph James, was unable to be present, Dr. Dorothy Howard, Chariman of State Teacher's English Department, read the mayor's greeting to the student body. Following this, Dean Ivan C. Diehl asked all personnel to introduce themselves.

Then came the introduction of student organization presidents, class presidents, editors of publications, captains of athletic teams, and the cheerleaders. James A. Rankin was accepted as president of Student Congress.

President R. Bowen Hardesty gave the address which was entitled "Interaction of a College Family." The Rev. William J. Yingling, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Frostburg, then delivered the benediction.

State Teacher's College band made its initial appearance with Dr. Ward K. Cole as conductor. After the selection, the cheerleaders led the student body in college cheers.

Because of the many events scheduled for presentation in Compton Hall Auditorium, the Ushers Club is being formed this fall. The group now has a regular meeting time scheduled for each month, third Thursday at 5:00 p. m., in Compton Hall Auditorium. Dorothy Bampton and Karn Casserly are co-presidents.

Any student wishing to belong to the Ushers Club should contact Miss Dorothy Stone White in the Drama Office in Compton Hall. Her office hour is 11:00 a. m. each day.

Little Theater Club Lists Full Schedule

Members and prospective members of the Little Theater met Monday evening, September 23, in Compton Hall.

The 1957-58 officers and their advisor were introduced and the new constitution was reviewed.

Plans for the ensuing year include entering a float in the Homecoming Parade, presenting a one act play and a spring production, and choosing a standardized pin for the organization.

Several committees were appointed at the meeting. They are as follows:

Float Committee: Sarah Slick, Marina Tuya, Amelia Diehl, Judy Wilson, Sue Silcox, Sue Ebersale, Elaine Smith, Marilyn Hitchcock, Thomas Richards, Ralph Mahaney, Elizabeth Ann Maher, Dollie Dawson, Barbara Carbaugh.

The club listened to records of Helen Hayes in "Victoria Regina," and Eva LeGallienne in "Hedda Gabler," from "Album of Stars."

McCall, Gilpin, Delaney, Nolan Visit Steel Pier, Atlantic City

The Alpha Tau Alpha Fraternity returned home on September 15 from their three-day trip to Mr. Taylor's cottage, about twenty miles west of Atlantic City.

William McCall, Richard Gilpin, William Delaney, and Hugh Nolan with their advisor, Mr. Taylor, left here on Friday. They arrived at the boardwalk in Atlantic City about 2:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

They started back home on Sunday, stopping off in Baltimore to see the second half of a double header baseball game between the Baltimore Orioles and the Cleveland Indians.

The Lillian C. Compton Chapter, Future Teachers of America, has adopted for this year the theme "Growing Professionally at State." The next meeting will be held October 8 at 6:30 p. m. in the Social Room of Lonaconing Hall.

The first meeting was held September 24 and was devoted to the opening of the membership campaign, which will terminate in an All-Teachers Education Assembly, when Mr. Orville Berwick, the newly appointed Coordinator of FTA and MSTA activities, will visit the chapter.

A committee composed of Marjorie Lewis, chairman, Carol Lannon, Eleanor Mank, Dottie Downs, Judy Wilson of Silver Spring, Elaine Smith, and Norma McLuckie, opened the activities with a "Gift to Teacher Education Students" booth at the Orientation Night program for Freshmen.

Another committee, under the direction of Pat McGill and Eleanor Mank assisted by Carol Lannon, Marjorie Lewis, Kathy Varah and Virginia Smith, provided a punch table to serve students and faculty during registration.

On September 13 and 14 State's Executive Council attended the MSTA Leadership Training Conference at Camp Louise, Cascade, Maryland.

The landlords urge all teacher education students to "join-up."

FSTC Opens Soccer Season Tomorrow At Lock Haven

Bobcats List Eight Games 'On The Road'

With five lettermen and a total of eight veterans returning for the "wars," the soccer Bobcats will launch their nine-game, 1957 schedule tomorrow against a strong Loch Haven State Teachers College squad at Loch Haven.

Last year's squad, which won three and lost three, left a big gap to fill when several front line booters graduated.

The vacancies created by the likes of Bob Kirk, Bud Poland, John Fatkin, all of whom were named to the All-Southern team, are naturally hard to fill.

All-Southerners Return

But State's other All-Southern selectees, namely Carl Emerick, Johnny Horine and Dave Marple, will again don the Black and Gold of Frostburg, along with several experienced upperclassmen and bright prospects in the freshman ranks.

Marple's participation on the squad this year is still somewhat in doubt, due to conflicting activities.

In an interview with Coach Kenneth Babcock, who will again be at the helm, several players were named who, he feels, will see a lot of action in this campaign.

Emerick To Start

Carl Emerick will probably get the starting nod at left wing. Emerick is a senior and this marks his fourth year on the squad.

John Keister, also a senior, will begin his fourth year at the right half-back slot.

Dick McPartland, senior, is slated to start at fullback, while John Horine, junior, will get the call for inside left.

Bill Preston, junior, is bidding strongly for the right wing position, while sophomore "Diz" Nightengale is a candidate for halfback duty.

'Rookies' Named

Among the first-year men, Terry Miles, a graduate and team captain from Clear Spring, "Butch" Young, of Valley high and Ed Truly, a '55 graduate of Beall High, are good bets for extensive action.

Miles will roam the inside and wing positions, while Young is after an inside right berth, and Truly is seeking a fullback slot.

Coach Babcock related that a stern schedule has been lined up and that eight of the nine games are away, but only because scheduling difficulties necessitated such an arrangement. The schedule appears below:

Dr. Novak Nicks Novice; Notches Net Encounter

Dr. Robert Novak, geography instructor, is the new Allegany County tennis champion since he defeated 16 year-old James Twigg in straight set 6-4, 6-2, 6-2. The match was played Sunday, September 22, at the Cumberland Country Club.

Novak was in command throughout the match as his experience enabled him to capitalize on every mistake made by his younger foe.

Novak's steady tennis, coupled with his slicing drives, forced Twigg into numerous errors and wrecked the youngster's timing.

After a five set victory in the semi-finals over William Day, Dr. Novak advanced to the finals, meeting Twigg who had defeated Maurice "Ish" Bernstein in straight sets.

The victory marked the debut of Dr. Novak in the county tennis championships.

Dr. Novak and Charles I. Sager, music instructor, moved into the doubles finals. They met Day and Bernstein Sunday, September 24, at the Country Club courts. Novak and Sager advanced to the finals by whipping Dr. Cal Hadidian and Johnny Byrd.

Two other Frostburgers, Oliver Rephann and Gene Sager, participated in the doubles, but were eliminated in the first round. Rephann also took part in the singles.

Veteran Booters Return

The Bobcats have ten veterans returning for another season for the soccer "wars." Kneeling are John Keister, Carl Emerick, Howard Gilpin and John Horine. Standing and in the usual order are Coach Kenneth Babcock, Don Fleigle, Norm Nightengale, Dick Gilpin, and Bill Preston. Absent when photo was taken were Dave Marple and Dick McPartland.

WRA Plans Active Season; Play Days To Be Staged Here

The Woman's Recreation Association of Frostburg State Teachers college held a board meeting on Monday, September 23. They met at 6:45 p. m. in the first floor lounge of Simpson Hall. The officers of 1957-58 in attendance were: Marina Tuya and Sylvia Hilliard, co-presidents; Nancy Bleakly, vice president; Barbara Bagent, corresponding secretary; Jane Bollinger, recording secretary; and Eileen Varah, treasurer.

Miss Wellner, faculty advisor of W. R. A., set the opening day of the girls' volleyball season for Monday, September 30. All resident and day students are invited to participate.

A committee consisting of Eileen Varah, Barbara Bagent, Jane Bollinger, and Judy Snyder was appointed to make the plans for the W. R. A. Homecoming float.

Plans were also formulated in regards to holding a wiener roast early this fall but no definite provisions were made.

Miss Wellner made a suggestion of a future play day to be held here at the college, but further planning was tabled until the first business meeting of the W. R. A.

Fair Or Foul

By Bill Fair

In this first issue of State-To-Date for the present year, a request is hereby sent out not only to the new freshman class but to the upperclassmen as well, concerning school spirit which seems to have escaped or perhaps has never arrived on this campus.

In previous years, student support for State's four varsity sports has been definitely lacking. For a college the size of Frostburg such a pitfall should not exist. All of us, while in high school, certainly had great enthusiasm when it came to backing athletics or any other school-connected endeavor. Why bury that enthusiasm when we seek further education at Frostburg?

A bona-fide following by the student body, both physically and vocally, must be present for a student to really feel as though he is a part of the college and this must stand out, if an athletic team is to be successful. Cheering a team on instills into players that extra something that gives desire to win, or at least, the desire to try until the final whistle for victory.

In past years, the actual number of really "dyed-in-the-wool" fans could be counted with a minimum amount of effort. There were only those few students and faculty members, led valiantly by never-give-up cheerleaders, and several friends of the college who gave their all as far as support was concerned.

This term, State is expected to outfit teams in all four sports—soccer, basketball, baseball and track—that have the ability to produce winning records, but the student body, with its enlivened support could send these squads to heights never before achieved by Frostburg teams.

F. S. T. C. is a growing college in more ways than one and its school spirit must grow accordingly. Let's forget past experiences and make this year a year to remember in athletics. Your high school undoubtedly meant a great deal to you; make it your duty, beginning this year, to make Frostburg State Teachers College mean just as much, if not more.

Freshman Class Holds Key To Bobcat Fate For Future Ventures In Team Athletics

Freshman athletes hold the key to forthcoming successful seasons in soccer, basketball, baseball, and track.

Heading the list for soccer players from the freshman class are Ed "Sapp" Truly, Terry Miles, Ronald "Butch" Young, and Johnny Johnson. Other candidates include William McCormick, Joe Carstens, Doug Brown, Arthur Scarpelli, and Neil Moore.

Valley Stars Hopeful

"Butch" Young and Johnny Johnson have led the Valley High Black Knights to the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League championship for the past three years. Both boys placed on the All-Star team and were among the high scorers of the league.

Another standout booter is Ed "Sapp" Truly, a star performer from Beall who kept the Mounties in the thick of the race with his play.

Terry Miles, another bright prospect, did his soccer playing at Clear Spring High School where he was a member of the team that was undefeated for three seasons.

Neil Moore, Joe Carstens, and Doug Brown, who are newcomers to the sport, also hope to bolster Coach Babcock's Bobcats.

Cage Prospects Good

Coach Waldon Skinner can also look forward to good prospects from the current frosh for his basketball team.

Again the list is headed by Johnson, Young, Truly, Billy Groves, and Joe Carstens. Other prospects are Charley Hartman, Harold Schriver, and Ronnie Lewis.

Young and Johnson, co-captains of Valley's State 'B' Champs, were among the leading scorers of the W. M. I., with Young copping the scoring honors. Truly and Groves are from Beall.

Joe Carstens, from College Park, did his hoop playing for the strong Northwestern High aggregation.

Harold Malone and Ron Detwiler, transfer students from Western Maryland and Maryland respectively, are also very good prospects for the cage team.

Head Diamond List

Baseball, too, will be headed by Young, Johnson, Groves, Truly, Carstens, and Miles. Carroll Staggs, Al Hoopengardner, Bob Clifton, John Atkinson, and Bob Crowe are other candidates for the diamond sport.

The track team will be bolstered by the addition of Don Turley, Charley Hartman, Ronnie Lewis, Bill McCormick and Bob Long, who were thinclad performers while in high school.

Cheerleaders Meet; Announce Year's Plans

An enthusiastic group of prospective cheerleaders met for a short session in Simpson Recreation Room, on September 16. Joan Sweeney, presiding over the meeting, gave a summary of the qualifications needed to make a good cheerleader and what was expected of each member.

On the squad, working diligently for a good season, are Joy Swett, Toby Morrissey, and Joan Sweeney.

Three practices are to be held before final tryouts. Four girls will be picked from the competitive group of seventeen by the present cheerleaders and three faculty judges.

Plans are underway for a homecoming float and new uniforms. Included in the plans for this season are pep rallies, bonfires, new cheers and transportation to away games.

In an effort to enliven the school spirit, President Hardesty has announced that ten minutes from each assembly will be set aside for the cheerleaders to lead the student body in school cheers.
