That the new laboratory school, which will be completed by September 1959, has been named in honor of Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State Superintendent of Schools, has been announced by President R. Bowen Hardesty.

Located at the rear of Compton Hall, facing Midlothian Road, the school will be one story, and constructed of the same type brick as that of other campus buildings.

Adequate space will be provided for 210 students on the kindergarten through grade six level. There will be an administration and health suite, a multi-purpose room to be used as an auditorium and cafeteria, and adequate storage space provided.

Dr. Pullen was born at Madison Court House, Virginia; he attended Virginia public schools and was graduated in 1917 from the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg. He taught and officiated as principal in the Virginia public schools until 1926, when he came to Maryland as principal of the Catonsville High School in Baltimore County.

He was appointed to the superintendency of schools in Talbot County in 1932; two years later he became a member of the Maryland State Department of Education as State Supervisor of High Schools. In 1936 he was made assistant State Superintendent in Administration; in March 1942, he succeeded to the State superintendency.

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr.

Dr. Pullen received his master's and doctor's degrees at Teachers College, Columbia University. He has received four honorary degrees: The LL. D. from Loyola College in 1947, the L. H. D. from the University of Maryland in 1950, the Ped. D. from Western Maryland College in 1951, and the LL. D. from Morgan State College in 1954.

In 1948 Baltimore Radio Station WBAL chose Dr. Pullen to receive its achievement award for his work in education. He received two awards of merit from his alma mater, the College of William and Mary. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

The Supreme Weapon?

Recently, the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare issued a bulletin entitled Education in the U. S. S. R. which gives us some knowledge as to Russia's present system of education.

Kindergarten and nurseries in the U. S. S. R. are utilized primarily as babysitting centers to enable both parents to work for the State. Elementary and secondary education includes an intensive ten year, six-day-a-week program.

Teaching is a minimum security position requiring "politically reliable" candidates to be certified in accordance with graduation from:

- (1) Pedagogical schools which are semi-professional and designed to train teachers for kindergarten and the primary grades.
- (2) Universities for teachers of grades V through X.
- (3) Pedagogical institutes devoted to the specific training of teachers for grades V through VII.

The candidate teacher must specialize in one of the following fields: physics, mathematics, chemistry, natural science, history, foreign language (English, French, German), music, art, physical education, primary or kindergarten teaching.

A Soviet teacher is the link between the Party organization and the people of his community. He must take an active part in community affairs and projects, and aid those who seek advice in respect to Party ideologies and requirements.

Teaching is held in high regard in Russia, "In the Soviet land," to quote Pravda, "the work of the people's teacher is surrounded by the greatest respect and care. With us, the people's teacher has been placed in a position of such eminence as he has never occupied before, as he cannot occupy in any capitalist country!"

Salary scales vary widely according to the length of service, etc. Many earn twice their base pay by teaching double shifts.

The Soviet teacher has prestige and money; he lacks only the right to think for himself—a small sacrifice! He is the weapon to which Soviet premier Nikita Krushchev referred when he said, "We will beat you (U. S.) in the classroom."

Keep America Beautiful!

Did you know that $5,000,000 is spent every year to pick up after litterbugs on the highway? Those tax dollars are spent only on primary highways.

Besides that, each year between 750 and 1,000 Americans are killed and 100,000 injured by cars that either strike or swerve to avoid hitting objects thrown on the highways.

More than $170,000,000 is spent annually because of litter-caused fires. To clean up litter from our national forests, the U. S. Forest Service budgeted $3,000,000.

Lastly, litter is a menace to health. Littered water makes swimming or fishing in many recreation areas unsafe and disease-carrying insects and rodents find breeding grounds in refuse.

Do you want to be called a litterbug? Think of the lives, money, and respect we can save by carrying litter-bags and by throwing trash in trash cans. It is worth it, is it not?

★ President's Welcome ★

The faculty, students, and our administrative staff extend to you a hearty welcome to Western Maryland's only state-supported college. You will find here a friendly atmosphere among students, faculty and all personnel and a willingness to help the individual which counts in quality education. We hope you will take advantage of the services of our guidance staff of twenty-two instructors under the leadership of Mr. John Allison; both Mr. Allison and these guidance instructors will help you with your personal problems and orientation to college. Do not shy away from them but seek them as friends for assistance.

R. Bowen Hardesty

We look to our students as adults and expect them to govern themselves through Student Congress of which Mr. Oliver Wittig is president; students also govern themselves through House Councils. We are very proud of our students, for they have earned prestige in all communities of our State. They are sought as teachers throughout this great State of Maryland. Therefore, it is important to you to continue to attain high standards and quality of work.

Part of your education here at State will take place in the classrooms and in our library which we consider the heart of our campus. Another very important phase of your education takes place in student organizations, travel across our nation and elsewhere, assembly, sports, and residence halls where you exchange ideas with your fellow students. We suggest, therefore, that you be very active in mingling with other students and peoples to share with them your experience background.

Best wishes for a happy, successful experience at Frostburg State Teachers College! Cordially yours, R. Bowen Hardesty.

Geo. Washington's Past Comes To Life

We, as Americans, feel we are very well acquainted with the "Father of Our Country." We know such stories as the ones of his cutting down the cherry tree, crossing the Delaware, and countless others.

Washington was a descendant of one of William the Conqueror's Norman Knights. This ancestor of 1183 became the Lord of the manor and village, Wessyngton, and assumed the name of the estate as his family name.

The branch of the family from which the President descended was established in the 16th century at Sulgrave Manor, in Northampton. The great-grandson of the grantee of this estate, John Washington, came to America in 1657 and founded the American branch of the family. He and his family settled on a tract of 150 acres in Westmoreland County, on the banks of the lower Potomac River. This tract became the site of Mount Vernon. Both the grandfather and father of George added to the Westmoreland plantation until it included all of the peninsula between Popes Creek and Bridges Creek, both small streams emptying into the Potomac River.

Augustine, the father of George, was evidently a man of foresight and energy. He was active in the management of his plantations, and was also part owner of iron mines near Fredericksburg. Augustine Washington had four children by his first wife, Jane Butler, and six by his second wife, May Ball. George, the oldest child of Mary Ball, was born February 22, 1732. His birthplace is believed to have been at the home on Popes Creek, later known as Wakefield. From this beginning George Washington developed into the gallant, strong, and noble gentleman whom we recognize as the "Father of Our Country."

Alumnus Describes Plot; Castro Delays Airplane

"There were about two hundred in number, all armed to the teeth . . . Each man was armed with a knife of some formidable shape and size and each carried a fire-arm . . . of any shape, caliber, and make, though most were armed with Thompson sub-machine guns . . . The rebels were screaming in Spanish and waving their weapons about their heads . . . "Welcome to Havana," said the sign on the tower.

These were the words of Pfc. Charles H. Briggs in a letter to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Briggs. Pfc. Briggs, along with the rest of the crew, was flying back to Fort Kobb, Canal Zone, after spending a furlough at home. The plane was scheduled for a ten minute stop at Havana, but Fidel Castro's rebels had other ideas. The soldiers were not allowed to take any pictures of the scene because, as Pfc. Briggs stated, "The pilot warned us not to take any pictures. He said that the men of Castro had itchy trigger fingers."

Charles Briggs graduated from FSTC in June, 1957.

New Faces Appear On College TV Sets

Lots of absolutely crazy things have been happening lately, especially to our TV set. Take for instance, Monday night. We were all ready to watch "Tales of Wells Fargo" when out popped Russ Heyde to tell us that Jim Kelly would take over the leading role. Next, Bob Scarcelli took over the work of that hard-punching, walking dream, Peter Gunn. (Nice work, Bob!) By that time, it was time to crack the books (worse luck!) so off went the set.

The next night, the same thing happened again, only this time it was Mae Rice who put her head through the screen ("Nothing Brings It Home Like Television!") and captivated us by proclaiming Charlie Smith would be the new leader of the Bob Cummings Show. And guess what—Pan Minke and Clara Boettner had been cast as some of the Californians! (We had thought all along that they were going to be future Frederick Countians). What really shook us all to pieces was Mr. Stansberry's imitation of Alfred Hitchcock. He had gone to Yul Brynner's barber and he had dieted on Varsity Shop special. His victims for that night were former members of Ed. 312(s) Part II.

Without warning, a billowy stream of smoke blasted forth from the sizzling set. With it went our dreams. Oh, well, we can always see these characters on campus—has anyone seen my American Lit book?

Imagination Travels To Faraway Places

One foggy night, Plain Jane, Tomboy, and I took a tour of Bim-bombay. We became very disturbed because there were Pretty Girls Everywhere. I Cried A Tear because you girls know how you look with The Wind and the Rain in Your Hair. In addition to this Tragedy, our guide, Tall Paul, met the Little Space Girl and whirled away to The World Outside.

Suddenly, I felt myself Fallin'. I heard Mandolins in the Moonlight playing the Moonlight Serenade, but I was All Alone! A sharp sound penetrated my cranium and I looked up—Ouch! I Got Stung! Stupid Cupid shot me! I turned over, but I got shot again!

Don't Ask Me Why, but I started to fall again, down, down. Help me, Peter Gunn! There Must Be A Way out of here . . .

As I opened my Brown Eyes, I found myself on the nice, soft(?) floor. Among My Souvenirs was an evil looking safety pin-cupid's arrow!

That's what I get for eating a peanut butter, dill pickle, banana, jelly sandwich before I go to meet Mr. Sandman!

Man's Dissatisfaction Causes Controversy

The eternal dissatisfaction of man has been a subject of literature, but it is with the subject of this familiar phrase, "if only" that we are concerned.

- (1) "If only I made straight A's." Sequel: "I wish people would leave me alone and do their own homework."
- (2) "If only I had a new car." Sequel: "Those darn girls go out with me just cause I have a new car."
- (3) "If only I had more stylish clothes." Sequel: "Oh! I can't wear that, it's too special and not appropriate here."
- (4) "If only I went to a large college." Sequel: "There are so many people—I can't possibly find my place. It's so unfriendly."
- (5) "If only I went to a small college." Sequel: "It's like a busy body small town, I can't scratch my ear, but have everyone on campus think I'm going deaf."
- (6) "If only I had such and such a teacher instead of this gal." Sequel: "No one compares to my old teacher."
- (7) "If only more people were content with present situations and made the best of them." Sequel: "This would be a much happier place."

College Airs Pros, Cons Of Football

"Should football be inaugurated at Frostburg State Teachers College?" This was the topic of discussion for the panel at the all-college assembly on February 5, in Compton Auditorium.

The panel was composed of Dr. Laura B. Harney, chairman of the faculty survey committee; Miss Lillian M. Wellner, representative of the Department of Physical Education; Mr. Oliver Wittig, president of Student Congress; and Mr. James A. Hosack, moderator.

Dr. Harney gave the first report on the results of a survey of the attitude of high schools toward college football. Nineteen schools gave favorable comments toward football; seventeen have a football team.

Miss Lillian Wellner then gave the results of the survey made by her department. She gave three points that the committee agreed upon:

(1) We are aware of, and believe in, the values of football gained by those who have the opportunity to participate in inter-collegiate competition, and the recognition that such activity brings to the College and community.

(2) If, after the present inter-collegiate offerings at the College are fully utilized and developed, there is still need for other sports, they should be added.

(3) If one purpose of introducing football is to increase the enrollment, then the total program must be given serious consideration for expansion and growth in facilities and personnel.

Oliver Wittig gave the results of a recent all-college student poll. The tabulation of student opinion received from 321 students reveals that 271 students are in favor of football, whereas 40 are not.

Club Lists Activities; Include Hiking, Camping

Members of the Outdoor Club are anticipating hikes and camping before the year ends. Skating, boating, horseback riding, and overnight camping are also among the activities being considered. Before spring they hope to identify animal tracks in the snow under the guidance of Mr. Joseph Minke.

The club plans to purchase labels for various trees and other specimens on campus. In the near future, representatives will go to West Virginia University to select the labels.

Several representatives will go to the University of Maryland to purchase camping equipment. Books on nature will also be ordered.

During the meeting held February 12, Mr. Stanley Wilson, Sr., showed colored slides on bees. Mr. Wilson has won several first prizes in state competition for his bee cultures and honey.

Mr. Don Emerson, advisor, showed color slides on conservation at the meeting held January 8. In the discussion accompanying the slides, Mr. Emerson pointed out the dangers of strip mining and lack of plant rotation. He showed a means of remedying the erosion caused by lack of care. He also pointed out ways of attracting wild life to restore the balance which nature provided.

IRC Group Attends Montreal Colleges' Model U. N. Session

Four members of the International Relations Club, accompanied by their advisor, Dr. Hazel G. Ramsay, recently returned from Montreal, Canada, where they represented Frostburg State Teachers College at a model United Nations session.

Delegates of the college included Helen Herboldsheimer, Betty Swartley, William Shoemaker, and Margaret Stitche.

The model United Nations was sponsored by four Montreal universities: Sir George Williams College, Loyola University, University of Montreal, and McGill University. Its aim was to demonstrate to the participants and to the public at large how the principal organs of the United Nations function and why they operate as they do.

A U. N. special commission advised in procedural and organizational questions. Heads of the various U. N. bodies concerned were invited to associate themselves with their counterparts at the sessions. A system of simultaneous translation, French and English, was provided to add more realism to the meetings.

The honorable Lester B. Pearson was the keynote speaker. He is the leader of Her Majesty's Loyal opposition in the House of Commons, Ottawa, Canada. He was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1957.

The Frostburg delegation was one of the approximately 25 U. S. Colleges invited to the event. They "represented" the country of Lebanon.

State Wins All-South Soccer Honors

Bobcats Snare Three Positions On 'Dream' Club

By Harold Schriver

John Horine, Roy Sigler and Norman Nightingale are Frostburg's representatives on the 1958 All-Southern Soccer Team.

Horine, a senior, and Nightingale, a junior, are repeaters from last year's aggregation, whereas Sigler was selected in his initial year of varsity competition.

Horine, the hard-hitting portside, was chosen for the position of inside left which he so capably filled this season while setting two scoring marks; "Diz" Nightingale, a mainstay on State's team for the past three years and a vital cog in the defense set up by Coach Babcock, was chosen on the "dream team" as a center half-back; "Muggs" Sigler, the ever-hustling wing, made the jump from high school to the college calibre of soccer in a fine way, being chosen as one of the most outstanding outside rights in the South.

'Best In South'

The three representatives of State on the team considered to be the "best in the South" were picked by the coaches and referees on their performance during the past season in which Frostburg recorded a 2-4-2 log.

Frostburg's opponents fared well on the All-Southern team. Lynchburg placed three men on the team while Washington and Lee had four and Western Maryland placed three.

Horine in his fourth final year as a regular compiled two scoring marks and was selected on the Pan-American Olympic team. John was chosen for the fourth consecutive year by rival coaches.

Second Time Honored

Nightingale, a regular for three years and an All-Southern selection for two seasons, was a main link in the Bobcat offense and defense.

Sigler, the starting outside right for Coach Babcock's charges, was known to local fans for his constant hustle and never-say-die attitude.

Although State was one of the smallest schools participating in college soccer for the past several seasons, nevertheless, it has been well represented on the All-Star teams each year. Only Howard University with six selections, Towson with four and the University of Maryland with four players placed more men on the team than State.

Coach Babcock has reported that an added incentive will be present for the players next year. The NAIA will promote a soccer tournament to pick a national soccer champ. All teams will have an equal chance to complete in the tournament.

Track Hopefuls Report To Coach For Meeting

Coach Kenneth Babcock has called for a meeting of all boys interested in track to report to him for a get together. This meeting was to have taken place last week.

Coach Babcock said he hoped for a large turnout and that interest in track would pick up. He probably remembers last year's game but greatly outnumbered thinclad squad.

Those fellows returning from the team last year with plenty of experience include Bill Preston, Gene Wiltison, Howie Gilpin, John Krietzburg, Bill Chappell, and Bill Fair.

Denny Knippenberg Captures Resident Table Tennis Crown

Denny Knippenberg has been crowned singles champion in table tennis for Resident men, following an elimination tournament held recently in Allen Hall.

The tournament was sponsored by Nemaocolin. There is to be an all-college tournament later with the Men's Athletic Council and Allen Hall Council acting as sponsors.

Two Of Twenty-Two

Ronnie Mann (No. 22) is seen in action against Shepherd College as he shoots one of his patented jump shots, which have made him one of the biggest offensive threats on the team. Other identifiable Bobcat players are Rick Winfield (No. 34) and Roy "Muggs" Sigler (No. 10).

Benefit Game

DK, ATA To Vie In March Of Dimes Basket Tilt Tonight

The traditional friendly rivalry between the two fraternities on campus will come to a head tonight, but the clash will not involve swords, fisticuffs, guns or knives.

Rather a friendly basketball game between Alpha Tau Alpha, the local organization, and Delta Kappa National Fraternity, Inc., is on tap. The game will start promptly at 6:15 and will be played as the preliminary to the varsity-Potomac State contest.

This benefit affair is being staged for the sole purpose of raising funds for a March of Dimes contribution. Immediately following the fray, silver offerings from the spectators will be requested. Both "frats," in this erstwhile effort, ask patronage from the student body. And seeing that the present cage season isn't affording tremendous pleasure, the fraternities promise several good laughs.

A good turnout of students for both the preliminary and the varsity games will be greatly welcomed, according to Stan Wilson and Jim Sheehe, respective presidents of DK and ATA.

Among those players suiting up for the local "frat" are Jack and Bill Chappell, Johnny Horine, Tom Delaney, Jim Lupis, and Jim Sheehe.

Representing DK hoopsters will be Ron Detwiler, Harold Schriver, Bill Preston, Bill Fair, Leo Cangianelli, Bill Brown, et al.

State Hosts Cats Tonight; Victory Will Even Up Series

Coach Harold Cordts' luckless cage team will try to even the season's series with the Potomac State Catamounts tonight at 8 p. m. on the Compton Gymnasium hardwoods.

Potomac State was victorious in the initial meeting of the basketball rivals by a 75-63 score.

Coach Cordts, finding his squad somewhat depleted since the semester break, will probably start an all freshman line-up tonight as he searches vainly for a winning combination.

Unbeatens Pace MAC Cage Loop

Papermates in the Thursday League and Firehouse 5 in the Monday League are the pacesetters in the Men's Intramural League as the season reaches the halfway mark.

Neil Moore of the Goof-Offs and Paul Flynn of the Natives are leading their respective leagues in scoring. Bill Fair of the Papermates and Don McIntyre of the Playmakers are running close seconds.

In the Thursday Night League, the Papermates remained unbeaten in four outings by beating the once beaten Collegians 61-43.

Goof-Offs were handed their first defeat in four tries by the Playboys who picked up their first win, 30-24.

Rocking Nine remained in a third place tie by virtue of a 42-39 win over Wheeler-Dealers. The latter club has yet to win in four tries and is lodged in the cellar.

Firehouse Five leads the Monday Night League with a perfect 4-0 mark. The latest win for the Firehouse team was an 81-43 trouncing of the Scroungers.

The Natives remained one game out of first by recording a 47-31 victory over Playmakers.

Playmakers evened their record at 2-2 with a 63-29 trimming of Colts.

Scroungers are currently in fourth place with a 1-3 mark while Colts are winless in four attempts.

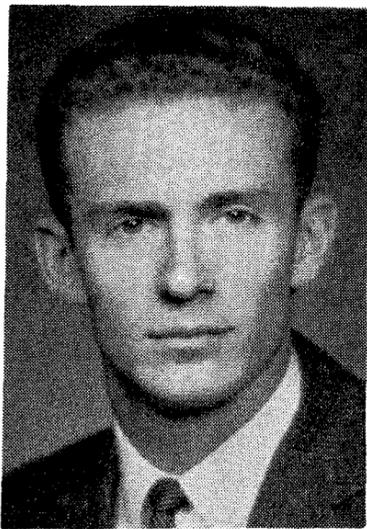

Neil Moore, the Thursday league leading scorer, tallied 25 points to hold a two point lead over Bill Fair. Fair scored 33 points in the last two games to challenge Moore for the lead.

Denny Knippenberg holds down third place in the scoring race with 42 tallies, by scoring 30 points in two encounters. Dorcil Kline slipped from second place to a fourth place tie with 41 points. Bob Dawson and Ralph Nelson also have ripped the cords for a total of 41 markers.

Paul Flynn continues to lead both leagues with 62 tallies. He has scored 32 of these in the last two games. His nearest competitor in the Monday Night League is Don McIntyre of the Playmakers, with 57 points.

John Hawkins and Ken Metz are tied for third place in loop scoring with 53 points. Both boys play for Firehouse Five. Carl Petenbrink, Colts, has tallied 44 and Steve Broadwater, Firehouse Five, has scored 43.

Horine Receives Pan-Am Acclaim

John Horine

John Horine, State's first selection on the All-Southern soccer squad for the second straight season, will leave for New York City March 19, for the final tryouts of the Pan-American Olympic Soccer Games.

Should John be successful in the trials set for March 20, 21, and 22, the senior inside left will participate in the Pan American Games later in the year. John will have thus become the first player ever to represent State in such an endeavor.

Horine, who scored eight of the twelve goals credited to the Bobcats during the past season participated in the eastern tryouts at Brooklyn College, New York, December 6 and 7, when 16 of 55 candidates from 22 colleges were picked for second-round trials.

A letter from Selection Committee chairman James Reed revealed that Horine was among the 16 final qualifiers who will vie against an Armed Forces squad March 21 and 22. The Pan-Am games proper are slated for August.

A four-year regular on the soccer squad, John hails from Meyersville, Md., and is a graduate of Middleton High School where he was a multiple letter winner. He was one of seven linemen selected for the Olympic event.

The 16 selectees represent 13 colleges in five states. These are Connecticut, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. The March tryouts will bring together soccer stars from all corners of the country prior to the final team selection.

This is the third year that John has received All-Southern honors, two of these were first team nods.

The probable line-up for the Bobcats tonight should be Ronnie Mann and Harry Taylor at guards; Rick Winfield, center, and Roy Sigler and Geoff Whitmore at forwards.

The cagers suffered their twelfth consecutive defeat at the hands of Altoona Center, 70-663.

Wade Ingram, "Hammy" Hamaker, and George Snyder with 17, 15, and 11 points lead the attack for the victors from the Pennsylvania city.

Rick Winfield paced the losers, and took game scoring honors, with 22 points. He was assisted by "Muggs" Sigler with 13 tallies. Jerry Llewellyn with 12, and Ronnie Mann with 11 markers.

State experienced a poor night from the floor, hitting on only 23 shots out of the 89 attempted for an anemic .259 average.

Altoona didn't fare much better, however, as they made good on 27 fielders in 79 attempts for a mediocre .343 average.

At the foul stripe the Bobcats made good on 17-30 while Altoona hit for 16-27.

Winfield registered his 22 tallies on seven fielders in 15 attempts and eight out of eleven shots from the charity stripe. Sigler connected on six shots from the floor in 20 tries and one for four from the 15-foot stripe, for a total of 13 points. Llewellyn shot 14 times from the floor and canned five and made good on one of four foul shots for 12 tallies. Mann, having an infrequent "off" night, could muster only three field goals in 14 attempts and 5-6 foul goals for 11 markers.

This same freshman quint has started the last several games and although they have not come up with the first win as of yet, nevertheless they have looked like a team worthy of recognition on several occasions. They have battled experienced teams right down to the wire, but being unable to come up with a few vital baskets at crucial times in the game, have tasted defeat and are anxious to record that first victory tonight.

PAN HANDLE

By Pan Minke

Girls sports are, in general, underway or in the scheduled stage for the remaining part of the semester.

Badminton, under the chairmanship of Lois Spring, will begin on February 17, and continue until the Easter Vacation, March 25. Matches have not yet been scheduled.

Miss Lillian Wellner spent several minutes at the last W. R. A. meeting presenting ideas for forming a field hockey team. The Women's Recreation Association would be willing to purchase necessary equipment if enough girls showed interest. About 15 W. R. A. members have had some experience in playing hockey, but others indicate an interest in learning.

Swimming is scheduled to begin Friday, March 6. Judy Wilson is the newly elected chairman of swimming.

Consideration is also being given to undertaking tumbling as a W. R. A. activity. This will also depend on the number interested.

This evening will mark the eighth practice of girls' basketball. Miss Marjorie Berkley is "coach" of the four class teams. The frosh team is comprised of about 27 girls, who all exhibit pre-developed qualities in this sport. (Perhaps we should "tackle" Coach Cordts' Bobcats.)
