

Dr. Hardesty States Need For Buildings

The proposed reduction in appropriations for the college was announced at the All-College Administrative Assembly held on February 12 in Compton Auditorium by Dr. R. Bowen Hardesty.

President Hardesty explained to the students the situation as it now stands. He stated that although the State Department of Education recognized the need for the construction of two new residence halls, Governor Tawes made no such provision in his fiscal budget.

The State Department of Education had recommended that Frostburg be allotted $1,131,500; however, under Governor Tawes' proposition, it will receive only $175,000. Therefore his provision did not include the $850,000 request for a new men's residence hall and a women's residence hall at Frostburg.

President Hardesty impressed upon the student body that not only are the present residence halls badly overcrowded but also that the supply of private homes for boarding students has been exhausted.

When asked how the students themselves could aid in obtaining the dorms, President Hardesty recommended that they act through organizations such as the Student Congress or the Inter-Residence House Council.

Allotment Of Funds

Of the $175,000 allotted Frostburg, $60,000 is to be used to purchase the site for a new women's dorm, $60,000 for building sidewalks and a roadway at the Thomas G. Pullen Laboratory School, and for a play court and drainage and further development of the athletic field. Of the remaining amount $20,000 will purchase equipment for the new dining hall-student activities building and there is $35,000 for remodeling Allegany Hall.

President Hardesty announced that, when the new dining hall-student activities building is completed next fall, the present dining hall will be turned into two sections; one section will be a study room to contain the overflow of students from the library and the other room will be a lounge for the residents of Frost Hall. It is also hoped that, when sufficient funds are available, the present kitchen will be converted into a student infirmary.

Ceylonese To Speak At College Assembly

Mr. Victor Cherubim, an outstanding Ceylonese student leader, will be guest speaker at the International Relations Club Assembly tomorrow, February 25, at 2:00 p. m. in Compton Hall.

Mr. Cherubim comes well prepared to speak to American students not only about student life in Ceylon but also about American campus international and WUS programming. He has studied at the University of Ceylon and the University of London, England, where he received his Bachelor's Degree in Economics. Recently he completed further studies in Business Administration at Albion College, Michigan.

During his academic career, Mr. Cherubim has been active in many student organizations. In Ceylon he was president of the Ceylon-American Youth Society and the Aquinas University Geographical Society. In the United States he has served as President of the World Friendship Club at Albion and Vice Chairman of the International Seminar which is sponsored by the Institute of World Affairs at Salisbury, Connecticut.

The fight against poverty, disease, ignorance, and despair is the task of World University Service in the international community of students and professors.

In both long-term and emergency programs, World University Service has demonstrated a consistent ability to act effectively on behalf of its far-reaching constituency. Moreover, this activity is often far in advance of world opinion, pointing a way and setting a pace for agencies and governments eventually to follow.

The public is cordially invited to

Two New Teachers Join FSTC Faculty

That two new instructors have been added to the faculty this semester was recently announced by President R. Bowen Hardesty. Dr. Alta Elizabeth Schrock, Grantsville, will teach in the Science Department and Miss Martha Grimes, Mt. Lake Park, will teach in the English Department.

Dr. Schrock, a graduate of Salisbury High School, earned her AB degree in biological sciences at Waynesburg College in 1937; her MA degree in Botany and Zoology at Kent State University in 1939; and her PhD in botany at the University of Pittsburgh in 1944.

Her teaching experiences have included Bluffton College and the University of Pittsburgh. She is the founder of the Penn Alto project at Grantsville, which was formed to give employment to elderly folks, widows and physically handicapped to make hand crafted articles for sale.

Miss Grimes graduated from Oliver High School, Pittsburgh; received her AB degree at the University of Maryland and her MA degree one year later in 1955, at the same institution. She has nearly completed work for her PhD degree at the State University of Iowa.

Pygmalion To Be Produced In New Form

Kappa Xi Cast of Alpha Psi Omega, National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity, will introduce to the campus, a new form of dramatic presentation, March 8, in Compton Hall Auditorium at 8:15 p. m. The fraternity, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Stone White, will read George Bernard Shaw's Pygmalion.

Bernard Shaw's heroine is a London flower girl who will be portrayed by Susanna Ebersole. This lowly flower girl, Eliza, is transformed into a charming woman of the world by three months' work on the part of a professor of phonetics, Mr. Henry Higgins, played by Harold Vance. The girl's father, Mr. Doolittle, played by Ira Riley, is a dustman.

Other members of the cast are Elaine Smith, playing the role of Mrs. Higgins. John Ewald as Colonel Pickering, assistant to Mr. Higgins; Louise Downton as Mrs. Pearce; Judith Ritchey as Mrs. Eynsford Hill; Sherron Bailone as the parlor maid, and Marvin Vann as the bystander. Edward Lester will be both Nepommuck, a famous linguist, and the taximan. Marilyn Hitchcock will act as narrator for the entire production.

The price of admission will be thirty-five cents for students, seventy-five cents for adults.

To honor the recipients of the "Who's Who" and the "Leadership" awards, the annual Awards Banquet will be held tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the College Dining Hall. Dr. John Bayley Jones, Minister of the Calvary Methodist Church, Washington, D. C., will be the guest speaker.

Dr. Jones, former minister of the First Methodist Church of Frostburg, and his wife will be present for the reception at Lowndes Hall at 5:30 p. m. tonight. College students, faculty, and parents of awardees are invited to attend the dinner sponsored by the Student Congress. Harold Schriver, president, will serve as master of ceremonies and President R. Bowen Hardesty will present the awards.

Recipients of the Leadership awards alone include Jane Bollinger, Leo Cangianelli, Sterling Edwards, Pat Heyde, Hila M. Hines, Marilyn J. Hitchcock, Catherine Joyce, John E. Lester, Marjorie E. Lewis, Elizabeth Ann Maher, Frank S. O'Rourke, Carolyn Angle Seburn, Jean Stottlemeyer and John H. Zink.

Hila M. Hines was a member of the Maryland Singers and of Kappa Pi. Frank O'Rourke has served as president of Delta Kappa and treasurer of Kappa Pi.

Seniors being honored will be Jane Bollinger, Leo Cangianelli, Sterling Edwards, Jr., Patricia Heyde, Marilyn Hitchcock, Catherine Ann Joyce, Gail Kesner, Carol Jean Lannon, John Edward Lester, Marjorie Lewis, Elizabeth Ann Maher, Carolyn Seburn, Elaine Smith, Virginia Smith, Jean Stottlemeyer, Barbara L. Wiles, and John Zink as recipients of the "Who's Who Award."

Mid-Term Grads Fill Maryland Positions

Mr. John Dunn and Mr. Robert Jones, Directors of Practice, Junior High; and Mrs. Grace S. Kopp, Director of Practice, Elementary; have announced appointments of mid-year graduates. Of the seventeen who completed their studies in January, only six are not at present under formal obligation to a particular county. Mr. Dunn stated that these six people are "awaiting verification of contracts."

Four junior high instructors have accepted positions in Prince Georges county. Michael Wiland and William Chappell are at Buck Lodge Junior High School. John Blake and James Lupis are the other members of the mid-year graduate group in that county. Blake is at Glenridge Junior High School while Lupis is at Greenbelt Junior High. All are teaching Core.

Robert Hardman is teaching in Frederick County. He is at West Frederick Junior High School.

Judith Snyder and Rita Schoenadel are stationed in Allegany and Garrett Counties respectively. Judy is teaching the seventh grade at Cresaptown Junior High. Rita is instructing both junior and senior high physical education at Northern High School.

Janice Diehl is teaching at Parkside Elementary School in Cumberland. She is the only new elementary placement in Allegany County.

Howard Gilpin has accepted a position at East Frederick Elementary School in Frederick. Alice Sulin Stevens is teaching second grade at Beltsville Elementary School in Prince Georges' County.

Hila Hines is substituting in Allegany County. Others who have not as yet signed a contract for a position are: Laura Clise, Benjamin Hughes, Martin Eichorn, Dorcil Kline, and Robert Lancaster.

Students Seek Tawes' Aid

Becoming an increasingly serious problem, as the college enrollment increases, is the need for campus housing facilities.

This year all three residence halls are badly overcrowded and a large number of students are boarding in homes off campus. Residents in the dormitories last year agreed to this overcrowding in the hope that two new dormitories would be provided this year. However, it appears that although the Maryland State Board of Trustees recognized our plight, there was no provision made in the state budget for funds to construct new dormitories at Frostburg.

In order to impress upon the Governor the urgency of our problem, the Student Congress and the Intra-Resident House Council have sent letters to him personally. These letters not only renew the request for new residence halls, but also support the request with statistics and quotations from the students themselves.

States the letter from the Student Congress: "We have willingly lived under the most crowded conditions these past two years, trusting and hopeful that this overcrowded situation was temporary and that your administration would bring us relief."

"We would like you to know that at present we have three and four students in rooms originally intended for two persons—that space formerly used for study and living rooms is now housing students." This fact is expressed in the Intra-Resident House Council letter.

The problem of overcrowding and the almost desperate need for new dorms today might not have arisen had the Maryland Legislature heeded the requests of President Hardesty and the Board of Education. Both predicted the present need four years ago, in view of the expanding enrollment, and, therefore, asked that long range planning for the college be carefully considered.

Frostburg State Teachers College has had the largest percentage of enrollment increase of any of the State Teachers Colleges during the last three years. The figures as compiled are as follows: Bowie, 13%; Salisbury, 19%; Towson, 21%; Coppin, 23%, and Frostburg, 48%.

This is the main reason why the Maryland State Board of Trustees, in their planning, gave priority to our request for dormitories above any other requests for buildings. This fact was disregarded by the planning Department.

It seems only reasonable, considering the bad experience we are having now, that in the future the State of Maryland Planning Department should give more attention to the statements of persons who know intimately a local situation and understand the problem thoroughly.

We believe that Governor Tawes has not been fully informed as to our plight and recent communications from him lead us to think that he is now giving the matter more study. He can of course, take care of the matter through his supplementary budget.

The administration expects an enrollment of 1000 students for the college next year. The Maryland State Board of Trustees at present has set a limit of 1200 students for Frostburg. At the present rate of expansion, however, the college will soon be enrolling 1500 to 1600, or turning five or six hundred of these students away because of the lack of housing facilities! This would mean a great fewer teachers for the State.

As our paper goes to press, the news is that the money for one dormitory has been placed in Gov. Tawes' Supplementary Budget. There is still the possibility of our getting a second dormitory, if the Legislature so decides.

☆ Four Delegates Enjoy Visit To Montreal ☆

I. R. C. delegates to Montreal were Betty Swartley, Carolina Agnolutto, Helen Herboldsheimer and Susan Logwood. Their advisor, Dr. Hazel Ramsay is shown standing. (Photo by Bob Long)

Long is the road and weary is the way from Frostburg to Montreal, Canada, but as the four students and faculty advisor who made this journey will emphatically assert, "It was well worth it!" Now, what would entice our fivesome to leave the snowy heights of Frostburg and travel to the steeper ranges of French Canadian Montreal?

Nothing. Nothing, that is, other than the University Model United Nations, the second session of which was attended by Helen Herboldsheimer, Betty Swartley, Carolina Agnolutto and Susan Logwood, all members of the International Relations Club. Of course the four girls were accompanied by one of the club's faculty advisors, Dr. Hazel B. Ramsay.

After approximately fifteen hours of travel the future ambassadors arrived via Greyhound at their point of destination, the Queens Hotel. The trip was not non-stop; they had several layovers in major cities along the way. Finally the girls had arrived to meet all of the delegates from fifty-five different colleges for a long and exciting week's stay.

Puzzled? Well, the answer to the question, "What exactly is the University Model United Nations?" is an extremely fascinating one. Sponsored by the University of Montreal, McGill and Sir George Williams Universities, Loyola College and the Montreal branch of the United Nations association, the UMUN reproduced the work of the three agencies of the United Nations organization.

Represent El Salvador
Each college represented a member of the U. N. Our students went south of the border and represented the country of El Salvador. Some of the delegations were assisted by advisors from consulates and embassies of the countries they represented.

At the various sessions the members gained the experience of attempting to solve the world-wide problems by discussing, voting and debating.

Girls, Lend An Ear!

Desperate co-eds lend an ear
And catch a husband this Leap Year.
Experts in this field of strategy
Offer this advice to avoid the tragedy:
First, for his approval—do not cook,
He gets frozen dinners from his Mother's nook.
For that second glance—it's such a prize—
Look your best, but don't over glamorize.
Don't baby him, he wants to look strong,
And never keep him waiting—well, not too long.
Don't be too clever and don't be too smart,
Just be yourself and you'll win his heart.
These rules are infallible—try them and see—
And if they should fail, join the spinsters' club with me!

February To Be All Holiday!

Nogoodniks! Imbeciles! Schnooks! Yes, all of you are guilty of being Fellow Frivolous Forgettors of Fabulous February Holidays. So, you may say, "Not me, I sent valentines." To this meager assertion, I assert that most of the populace is ignorant of the many important days in this month. Climb out of that intellectual abyss. Read, and be informed:

Several years ago, in 1859, one of America's most distinguished composers, Victor Young, made his first debut—and was born on February 1.

On February 2, all the groundhogs can proudly step out of their holes and take a bow because this is Groundhog's Day.

You will soon see that this is not only an historical month but a musical one as well. It was in 1807 that Felix Mendelssohn was born on February 3. Yes, he was a composer, pianist, organist, and teacher, and how many people even hum a tune in his memory?

In this present day of around-the-world flights it is interesting to remember the birth date of Charles A. Lindbergh, who was our own American boy to be the first to fly non-stop across the Atlantic from New York to Paris. He was born February 4.

Roger Williams (it has been stated that this is a musical month but this Roger is not the pianist, but the preacher) arrived in America on February 5, 1631.

We added to the Union the proper state of Massachusetts on the 6th in 1788. Scoff not at the importance of these holidays—what would the U. S. A. be like without its manner-conscious Bostonians?

Let's go out to the ball game and celebrate the birth of Babe Ruth on the 7th. It was in 1894 that he made his first smart play—as I told you, he was born. All of the day will not be as joyful as Babe Ruth Day for it was on the 8th in 1587 that poor Mary, Queen of Scots, was executed. Then 323 years later the Boy Scouts of America was formed. There was, of course, absolutely no influence of one event on the other!!

Rock and Roll, Hi-Fi, and Stereo enthusiasts, do you know who made your hours of "pure pleasure" possible? It was on the 11th of February in 1847 that bright Thomas Edison was born and in the course of his lifetime invented the dream creating phonograph, and rude-awakening light bulb.

Ladies! This is 1960—Leap Year and Election Year. On the 14th we can send a flowery valentine to the object of our affections, and on the 15th take a moment to thank Heavens for Susan B. Anthony, who struggled her lifetime away for women's rights. (That woman was right!)

Other famous birth dates include those of Jefferson Davis, President of the Southern Confederacy; Copernicus, an astronomer; Gutenberg, inventor of printing from movable type, not to mention Buffalo Bill, Caruso, Longfellow, and last but not least—Homer Wagner.

I now propose that the entire month of February be set aside as a national holiday!

Students Face Field

Practice teaching, what a joy! For two years and a half, we've been looking forward to that day when practice teaching would begin. No classes, no tests, no worries for nine weeks!

Well, those two and a half years have passed and here we are, practice teaching at last. We're in classes all day long from 9:00 until 4:00; you might say we have a test every day; and there are worries galore!

A typical day begins bright and early at 7:30 a. m. After breakfast, it's out "to the field."

With one eye open and half a mind, we must collect the lunch money, Weekly Reader money, picture money, ticket money, and party money. And then the day begins! It's "Miss Snodgrass, may I get a drink?" "May I sharpen my pencil?" "May I have a clean sheet of paper?" "Will you tie my shoe?" "How do you spell that?" "Do two apples and three apples make six apples?" hour after hour.

Noontime comes, and with it comes the realization that there are only twenty-nine and a half days to go. After a delicious lunch of dry sandwiches and warm milk, we march back to the job.

The afternoon rushes by with only six lessons to teach.

After dinner it's time to get started on the four lesson plans, two charts, and fifty pages of seat-work for the next day!

Kappa Pi Fraternity Inducts Five New Members

Five new members have been inducted into Beta Mu Chapter of Kappa Pi, National Honorary Art Fraternity, according to Catherine Anne Joyce, president of the organization. The pledge period concluded with a formal initiation and banquet Thursday evening, February 11, at the Clarysville Inn.

The initiates were students who had completed the required Fundamentals of Design course and who had displayed an interest in the mechanics of art or art appreciation.

Norma Ravenscroft, a senior, is a graduate of Valley High School. Coming to State from Lonaconing, she is enrolled in the elementary program. Charlotte Sigler, a resident of Frostburg, is a junior. A graduate of Beall High School, Charlotte is now practice teaching at Beall Junior High School.

Bettie Umstead, also a junior, is a graduate of Sherwood High School. Two sophomores included as initiates were Carolyn Brooks and Mary Lee Callis. Carolyn is a graduate of Wheaton High School. Mary Lee is a graduate of Fort Hill High School.

Mr. John Schlump, instructor in the Art Department, was guest speaker. He spoke on "Art Education at All Levels." Mrs. Schlump and Dr. Laura B. Harney, an honorary member, were guests.

The initiation followed the banquet. Catherine Ann Joyce was presiding officer. She was assisted by Marilyn Hitchcock, Hila Hines, and Frank O'Rourke.

Miss Roseann Langhans is faculty advisor to the fraternity.

SEA Group To Hear History Instructor

The Student Education Association will hold its next meeting Tuesday, March 1. Miss Mary Murray, a member of the History Department, will be the featured speaker. She is the Maryland State Teachers' Association state representative to the National Education Association.

On Tuesday, February 16, the meeting was spent discussing the proposed teachers' budget of the Maryland State Teachers' Association.

Plans are now under way for the spring convention of the Maryland Association of Future Teachers of America which will be held April 29 and 30 at Frostburg State Teachers College and Beall High School. Approximately 500 to 700 students are expected to attend.

On February 13, Mr. Jack Snyder, advisor of State's SEA; Grace Kifer, chairman of the policy and constitution committee; and Marjorie Lewis, advisor to the nominating committee, attended a joint meeting of the nominating committee and the policy and constitution committee.

Three State students are running for offices: Larry McLean, for president, Beatrice Baer for treasurer, and Martha DeBarry for member-at-large of the executive committee.

Wanda Hill To Be Festival Princess

Miss Wanda Hill, a member of the junior class, has been elected by the student body to represent the college as princess in the court of Queen Shenandoah XXXIII at the annual Apple Blossom Festival to be held April 29 at Winchester, Va.

The princess was elected from the junior class and will represent FSTC as one of 24 attendants from various colleges in Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland.

On Friday, April 29, the princess will be given a formal send-off by the administration and student body as she departs for the festivities at Winchester. At this time, Dean Ivan C. Diehl will present a corsage to her.

PE Club Gains Charter, Elects Year's Officers

Frostburg's newest campus organization, The Physical Education Club, has had its constitution approved by Student Congress.

Officers of the club were elected at the February 16 meeting. Officers are Paul Flynn, president; Charlotte Couzens, vice president; May June Wolfe, secretary; and Bill Bruchey, treasurer. Program chairman for women will be Virginia Thompson and Ronnie Mann will be chairman for men.

Plans were made for another Co-Ed Sports Day to be held Saturday, March 5, in Compton Gym, from 2 to 5 p. m. The day's activities will consist of basketball, volleyball, tumbling, the trampoline and a girl's wrestling match.

News Briefs

Newman Club held its second Communion Breakfast on February 21, following the 7:30 Mass at St. Michael's Catholic Church. Father Montgomery served as the guest speaker.

On February 22, the members of the club sponsored a bake sale in Old Main. Colleen Nies served as chairman of the sale and was assisted by Leo Cangianelli, Jim Shertzer, Mike Fabbri, Joan Gisriel, Sally Sullivan, and Margie Strong.

Members of the Literary Circle discussed a possible club agenda at the meeting February 10.

The first item on the schedule is a visit to the Sara Lee Ceramic Shop in Cumberland. The trip is tentatively set for the end of February.

A member of the month plan has been initiated by the Alpha Tau Alpha Fraternity, according to Tom Delaney, president. This plan will be a source of recognition for outstanding roles as fraternity brothers.

New members that were formally initiated are: James Cave, Donald McIntyre, Robert Thomas, and Edward Witt.

The Freshman Class sponsored an assembly on Thursday, February 18, at 2:10 p. m. in Compton Auditorium.

Masters of Ceremonies for the affair were Eugene Lumm and David Beard.

Student directors for the affair were Lynn McSpadden and Thelma Ziegler, assisted by faculty advisor, Dr. William Van Newkirk.

Directors Appoint Students To Nine-Weeks Of Teaching

Mrs. Grace S. Kopp, Director of Practice, Elementary, and Mr. John M. Dunn and Mr. Robert W. Jones, Directors of Practice, Junior High, announce the appointment of student teachers for this nine-week session.

In the junior high field, Marianne Hoelzer and Harold Schriver are teaching seventh and eighth grade core under Miss Nell Hawkins at Allegany High School. Also at Allegany are Jacqueline Calhoun and Jane Walters teaching seventh and eighth core under Mrs. Flora C. Lease, and William Brown and Michael Cunningham teaching science under Mrs. Ellen I. McKenzie.

Teaching at Beall High School in the Mathematics Department under Mr. John D. Kelly are Mary Angle Hawbecker and Judith Wilson. Also teaching mathematics at Beall is Barbara Haugh under the direction of Mr. Joseph Hoopengardner. In the Social Studies Department at Beall are John Kylus and John Weatherholt under the direction of Mr. Ralph Koontz. At Beall Junior High teaching seventh grade English are John Hawkins and Charlotte Sigler under the direction of Mr. Roy Pepper.

Frank O'Rourke and Thomas Whelan are teaching seventh grade core under Mr. Ben Elkins' direction at Bruce High School. Mr. Joseph E. Gerstell is directing Sandra Dillon as she teaches ninth grade social studies, and Mr. Larry Patterson is directing Jack Chappell and Thomas Swauger as they teach science at Bruce in

SCA Representative Attends Conference

Miss Helen Cummings, vice president of the campus chapter of Student Christian Association, represented the organization December 27 through January 2 at the Eighteenth Ecumenical Conference on the Christian World Mission at Athens, Ohio.

The purposes of the meeting were "to hear the Word of God in Jesus Christ, to affirm that God is at work in and through the people and events of our time, and to attempt to discern how we may respond to Him."

Nearly 4,000 students gathered at the Ohio University from more than 300 American campuses and nearly 100 countries. Approximately 1000 were foreign students.

Helen spent a busy week participating in worship services, Bible studies, discussions, frontier forums and area firesides. In the services, she had an opportunity to listen to such eminent speakers as Dr. John Baker, president of Ohio University; Mr. Bola Ige of Nigeria, former general secretary of the Student Christian Movement; Dr. Martin Luther King, pastor of Baptist Church in Montgomery, Alabama; Bishop Leslie Newbigin, from England, general secretary of the International Missionary Council.

the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades.

At Cresaptown Junior High are Robert Holmes and Ed Mueller teaching seventh grade core under Mr. Oberlin Chaney. Also at Cresaptown are Larry Cleaver and George Windish teaching core under Mr. Glenn W. Hanna.

Teaching social studies at Fort Hill High School are Carroll Staggs and John Mummert under the direction of Mrs. Nellie Hilton. Jane Duling is teaching English in the seventh grade under Miss Twila Brotemarkle, and Elizabeth Dilgard and Ellen Olinger are teaching social studies in the seventh grade under Mr. William Williams, also at Fort Hill.

Lee Anna McGann and James Gentry are teaching core on the ninth grade level at Mt. Savage High School.

At Pennsylvania Avenue Junior High School are Catherine Stanton and Helen Herboldsheimer teaching seventh grade core under the direction of Miss Margaret Blake.

Teaching the second grade at Beall Elementary is Helen Cummings under the direction of Miss Athalia Everline. Also at Beall Elementary is Rosalie Llewellyn teaching the fifth grade under Mrs. Myra Taylor.

At Columbia Street Elementary are Kathleen Varah and Mary Helen Altice teaching the fourth grade under Mrs. Jean Staggers.

Charles Welch is teaching the fourth and fifth grades under the direction of Mrs. Annetta Gerson at the Cresaptown Elementary School.

Wanda Hill and Judy Robinson are teaching the fifth and sixth grades at Eilerslie Elementary under Miss Mary Straw's direction.

At Mt. Savage Elementary is Wilma Stanley teaching under the direction of Mrs. Helen Caldara on the sixth grade level.

Jane Guard is teaching the third grade at Oakland Center Street Elementary under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Thayer.

In the first grade at Hill Street Elementary are Rosalie Sisler and Barbara Glotfelty under the direction of Mrs. Sara Park. At Parkside Elementary in the third and fourth grades is Beverly Speicher teaching under Mrs. Lena Kenny.

At Route 40 Elementary teaching in the second grade is Florence Faith under the direction of Mrs. Zeola Robeson.

In the Thomas G. Pullen Elementary School are Janet Bealde and Regina Eichner teaching in the first grade under the direction of Miss Irene Condry. In the second grade teaching under the direction of Miss Thelma Hadley is Blanch Filer Felker and in the fifth grade is Lynn Tracy under the direction of Mrs. Betty Taylor also at Thomas G. Pullen Elementary.

Irene Drumm, Court Of Seven Reign At Sweetheart Ball

Sponsored by the Day Students Association, the annual Sweetheart Dance was held on February 12 at the Clary Club from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Irene Drumm was crowned Sweetheart Queen by Dr. Thomas Baucum, Day Student advisor. She was elected from among eight day student candidates. These candidates consisted of two girls from each class, namely: Phyllis Carter and Margaret Davalli, seniors; Lois Sweitzer and Cathy Grubb, juniors; Sally Layman and Judy Brant, sophomores; Marsha Barclay and Irene Drumm, freshmen.

The theme of the informal dance was "Hearts and Flowers," carried out in red and white decorations. Music for the affair was provided by Peter Lucas.

Chairman of the decorations committee was Pat Harvey, assisted by Louise Downton, John Morris, Harvey May, Phyllis Carter, Margaret Davalli, Nancy Robeson, Cathy Grubb, John Hawkins, Anne Harper, and Lois Sweitzer.

Coaches Select Four Bobcats For All-Southern Team

Kelly, Nightingale, Sigler, Butch Young Chosen From State

By Ed Root

Honors continue to be won by the soccer team fielded by the Bobcats this season as four players copped positions on the 1959 edition of the All-Southern College soccer squad.

Roy "Muggs" Sigler, sophomore, of Middletown, Maryland, earned the number one outside right spot. "Muggs" has been the regular outside right for the Bobcats for the past two years and also was an All-Southern selection last season.

Ronald "Butch" Young, junior, of Barton, Maryland, earned the number two spot at inside left. Butch has three years varsity experience and this is his first appearance on the All-Southern squad.

Nightingale Repeats

Norm "Diz" Nightingale, senior, from Lonaconing, was the number four center halfback choice. "Diz," the team captain, made his presence known on the All-Southern team for the second straight year.

Jim Kelly, sophomore, another Lonaconing boy, was the number four left halfback selection. Jim has had previous varsity experience at Frostburg, but took time off from his schooling to serve a hitch in the Army.

A total of 55 players were selected to the All-Southern team with representatives coming from 14 schools. Five players are selected for each position.

Schools Represented

Schools represented on the All-Southern team, besides Frostburg, included: Western Maryland, Towson State Teachers, Washington College, University of Maryland, U. S. Naval Academy, Howard University, Johns Hopkins, Lynchburg, North Carolina, Duke, Davidson, Baltimore University, and Mt. Saint Mary's.

Lynchburg and Towson appeared on the Bobcat schedule and contributed to the victory side of State ledger. The Bobcats posted six wins and a tie against one loss.

Four Place More

Only four schools placed more players on the All-Southern squad than Frostburg. The University of Maryland, U. S. Naval Academy, and Howard University, each placed six players while Western Maryland had five winning positions.

Last season, in addition to Sigler and Nightingale, the great John Horine won a position on the All-Southern for Frostburg State.

The WRA bowling tournaments are winding up in grand style and will go down in the records as one of the most successful tournaments ever held. The team taking top honors in December was the Junior-Senior B team.

In January the Junior-Senior E team rated top position. Delores Vetter took the individual honors with a 141 game. Barbara Carbaugh came in second with a 130. The top ten bowlers for December and January are posted on the bulletin board in Old Main.

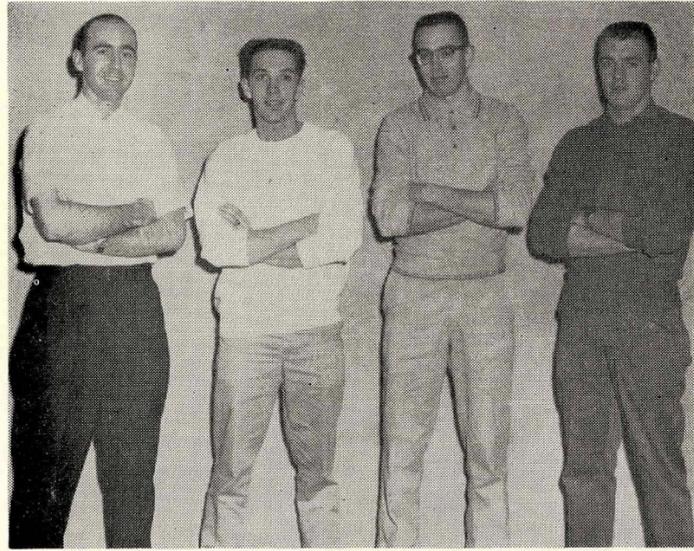

At the WRA meeting, February 9, Barbara Tompkins was elected recording secretary upon the resignation of Linda Smith.

Another election found Doris Moffitt selected to serve as an overall basketball chairman.

The WRA is busy planning a high school play day, to be held March 19. Schools from all areas of Maryland are being invited to attend this Saturday activity. Jane Bollinger and Alice Gaither are acting as co-chairmen for this important WRA project.

In recognition of Leap Year, plans are being made in WRA to hold a Sadie Hawkins Dance. These plans are still in the initial stage so keep your eyes peeled for further information. Just a forewarning to the fellows—the girls will be asking the guys to this dance.

State's Best

Harold's Herald

Hats off to "Jumbo" George Lauder and his fantastic foul shooting percentage. George's .915 percentage and .923 percentage for two successive weeks left him far above the heap in the NAIA foul shooting race and well ahead of the .795 posted for a single season by Jim Cave, an erstwhile State star. Incidentally, Cave owns the four year foul shooting mark for Bobcat basketball, hitting on nearly 80 per cent of his shots over the four year period from 1953-1957.

Although ineligible this semester, Lauder is a sure bet to crack the mark of Cave and even extend it considerably.

Congratulations are also in store for the four boys selected on the All-South Soccer Squad.

Norm "Diz" Nightingale closed out an illustrious four year career by being named to the dream team for the third time. "Diz" was even considered by many as a real prospect for All-American honors. Since most teams concentrate their best defensive players at the center halfback position, "Diz" was pitted against "the cream of the crop" for that position.

The Bobcats' other members on the all star eleven are "Butch" Young, Jim Kelly, and "Muggs" Sigler. These three athletes gave fans a foretaste of things to come, as all three will be returning to the soccer wars, come next season.

Young, at center forward, gives Coach Babcock the most dependable player ever seen by this writer in many soccer games Sigler, a two time All South selection, only in his sophomore year, is hustle exemplified. Kelly will be assigned the task of playing center halfback, a position where the best defenseman should be and that is exactly what Jim is—the best defenseman.

These three soccerites should form the nucleus of a very powerful soccer eleven next year.

A final report on football status at State should be emanating from this column in the very near future. A meeting attended by Dr. Harold Cordts, chairman of the Physical Education Department, the president of the Men's Athletic Council, this writer, and a representative from the State Board of Education was to take place after the paper went to press. Some sort of results, either favorable or unfavorable, will be reported in this column in the next issue of the paper which will be out March 9. This meeting was originally set for the early part of November, 1959, but has been postponed continuously since then.

Football enthusiasts and all other interested personnel have the right to know our gridiron status and you will get this information first-hand through this column.

Even though the basketball team was victorious in its final game against Hagerstown Junior College, it looked like anything other than a smoothly operating outfit. Many times throughout the game the team looked as if Frostburg Methodist in the local Sunday School league could have beaten them.

Granted that the 90 points racked up by the team in the initial encounter with JC in the Hub City may have "gone to their heads," it certainly looked it, as every one on the team showed desires of wanting to be "top dog on the totem pole" at the end of the game.

Many times throughout the contest this writer saw Frostburg players clearly in the open under the offensive basket only to be shunned by a point hungry teammate. Readers, this sort of thing should not happen to a Sunday School league team much less to a team that bears the name college.

Also granted, that the team won five more games this year than last, but it seems necessary to this reader that someone take stock next year before this year becomes a repeat performance.

This victory total of five could have easily been doubled this year if only a little "self first-team second" attitude could have been switched around.

Bowie Stops State; Bobcats Bow 88-71

Bowie State Teachers College defeated the Bobcats of Frostburg 88-71 on Monday, February 15, on the home hardwoods.

Frostburg was the first to draw blood in the contest, scoring on Sigler's free throw. The 1-0 lead marked the first and last lead held by the Bobcats during the game. Bowie roared back with a field goal and in a few minutes had the situation in hand. The score at intermission read Bowie 49, Frostburg 32.

As the second half got under way, the Bobcats caught fire and whittled Bowie's lead down to nine points. At this point Bowie called time out. When play resumed, the fire was virtually smothered by Bowie's fast break and long jumpshots. Bowie's accuracy with the jumpers from twenty to thirty feet out were the key factor in Frostburg's demise.

Hank Winner, despite a leg injury, led the Bobcats with his backboard cleaning and tip-ins, finishing up with 21 points.

Butch Young tallied 15 points and Geoff Whitmore came off the bench to sparkle as pivotman and register 13 markers. Other scorers included Leon Brumback, ten points; John McClelland, seven points; Roy Sigler, three points; and Jerry Llewellyn, two points.

Lauder Leads Nation As Top Foul Shooter

George Lauder, Bobcat cage star, has received recognition as the nation's number one foul shooting artist, according to the basketball statistics report issued by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The N. A. I. A. recognized Lauder's .915 percentage as the best in the country for the week of February 3. The following week George boosted his average to a big .923.

To be considered for these ratings the individual must tally his points in contests staged against a four-year school and must shoot at least three free-throws per game.

The N. A. I. A. is composed of approximately five-hundred small colleges and was founded in 1940 as the National Association of Inter-collegiate Basketball. There are 32 individual districts in the national association. Each year the 32 top contending teams vie in a national tournament.

Frostburg is a member of the thirty-first district which is composed of Maryland, Delaware, New York, and New Jersey cage teams.

Intramurals Playoff Spot Still Unsolved

As the 1959-60 Intramural Basketball League draws to a close, tough competitive playing has been the story for the season. The top four teams have just about been decided for the playoffs and a drawing will take place to see who will be facing whom for the finals.

Al George of the Bums, with 84 points, leads the loop in scoring.

Carlson Leads

Harland Carlson of the front-running Golden Hawks in the Monday Night League, leads his loop with 68 points and is second to George in scoring in both leagues.

Trailing George in the Thursday Night League are "Cookie" Nash, Gunners, Arch Webster of the Clodhoppers, Bob Scarpelli of the Bums, and Dr. Harold Cordts of the Wildcats. The Clodhoppers have just about wrapped up the fourth place spot in this league, while the Wildcats have an outside chance.

Animals Top Offense

In the Monday Night League, the Animals lead the loop in total points in offense. They have a 57 point average for four games. The Golden Hawks are second with 54 points per game and the Firehouse 5 have accumulated 50 points per game.

In the Thursday League, the Bums have racked up 346 points for five games and a 73 point game average. The Gunners trail with a 60 point average, followed by the Miners from Eckhart with 46 points per game.

West Liberty Stymies State Quint 99-73

In the Frostburg-West Liberty game, the Senator's Ted Mattern (53) is shown snaring a rebound against State's John McClelland (30). Other players are Dick Pannett (25) and Jim Tegley (55), of West Liberty, and Hank Winner (40), of Frostburg.

With a solid offensive effort and a sticky man-to-man defense, West Liberty downed Frostburg 99-73 on Tuesday, February 9, on the home floor.

The Bobcats held an early 6-5 lead on a field goal by Hank Winner and two by Ronald "Butch" Young, but Tom Meikle's fielder pushed the visiting Senators into the lead to stay.

When the buzzer sounded an end to first-half hostilities, West Liberty loped to the lockers leading 53-38.

West Liberty struck with the force and speed of a hurricane as the battle resumed in the last half. With their dazzling fast break being the principal weapon, they quickly lengthened their advantage to 70-44. Frostburg fought back gamely and was trailing 80-58 when West Liberty reeled off 12 straight points, stretching their point spread to 92-60.

With the score standing at 95-63, the stands erupted with the spectators imploring their team not to allow West Liberty to reach the century mark. As the score reached 99-71, West Liberty called time to set up a play, hoping to surpass a hundred points.

The play fizzled and Roy "Muggs" Sigler tossed in a goal to end the scoring, 99-73. "Butch" Young led the Bobcats with 21 markers.
