Instructors Select WWNFF Nominees

That Frostburg State Teachers College has been invited to nominate outstanding college seniors and graduates for the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation has been announced by Mr. John Allison, chairman of the guidance committee.

The nominees from this year's senior class for consideration of the Woodrow Wilson fellowship are Miss Jane Guard, Mrs. Helen Herboldsheimer, Miss Marianne Holzer, Mr. James Mellon, Mr. W. Elwood O'Hara, Mr. Harold Schriver and Miss Lois Sweitzer.

Individual members of the faculty nominated the seniors for consideration in the search for future Woodrow Wilson Fellows.

Nominations were in the hands of the regional chairman on October 31, 1960. The candidates are to send their information form and other supporting material no later than November 20, 1960. Interviews will be held in January and announcements of awards will be made by March 15, 1961.

By the fall of 1961 these students are to have accumulated less than a year's graduate credit. A fellow is expected to accept an award only if he believes that a career in College teaching is at least a possibility for him.

A fellow receives 1,500 dollars plus dependency allowances for wife and children. The foundation also pays directly to the graduate school tuition and fees for the fellow.

A tea was held honoring the FSTC senior nominees on November 5, at 4:00 p. m. in the Social Room of Lowndes Hall. At this tea the candidates were photographed and received information that was to help in their decision.

New Chapter

Dr. T. V. Baucom Heads A. A. U. P.

Faculty members of Frostburg, having recently formed a local chapter of the American Association of University Professors, have set their next meeting for November 15 at 4:00 p. m.

Dr. Thomas Baucom is president of the local organization, assisted by Mr. Thomas Hutcheson, vice president; Mr. Walter Rissler, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. Dorothy Howard, publicity chairman.

Membership in this group which is steadily increasing, presently includes, in addition to the officers, Dr. Lucile Clay, Miss Esther Doerr, Miss Margaret Hamilton, Mr. John Kneisly, Miss Rosann Langhans, Dr. Virginia Mills, Dr. Hazel Ramsay, Mr. Jack Snyder, Mr. Thomas Turner, and Mr. Glenn Workman. Mr. Don Emerson and Mr. William Stewart are two members on leave of absence.

The purpose set forth by the Frostburg chapter is support of the Association's purpose "... to facilitate a more effective cooperation among teachers and research scholars in universities and colleges, and in professional schools of similar grade, for the promotion of the interests of higher education and research, and in general to increase the usefulness and advance the standards, ideals and welfare of the profession."

Thirty-one state and regional conferences have been organized to facilitate the work of the Association, in addition to more than 620 local chapters on college and university campuses in 50 states.

Local chapters work with the national group in making studies in such areas as professional ethics, academic freedom, economic status of the profession, and retirement and insurance.

Towson State Teachers College has an active chapter, while the other Maryland teachers' colleges are represented in the national organization by "members at large" though no local chapters are yet in existence.

Thirteen seniors have received the honor of being included in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, according to Marvin Vann, president of Student Congress. These students were chosen on the basis of both leadership and scholarship.

What Are The True Values?

This week, American Education Week, as observed in the schools and colleges throughout the land, gives students and educators alike the opportunity to evaluate and reassert the importance of education on the modern American scene.

Students of Frostburg State Teachers College have a dual role in education. Both as students and future educators they must view the importance of education with a singleness of purpose, and go on to inculcate this feeling in their students.

Much has been said regarding the necessity for an education in science and mathematics since the recent scientific advances by the Soviet. Certainly progress in this realm is vital to the national security, but it must not be allowed to minimize the other areas of learning.

Although we, as a nation, are engaged in a great political struggle, perhaps for our very survival, still as leader of the free world we must lead the human race from the threat of war.

Perhaps the difficulties which we face from nuclear and thermonuclear weapons are the result of a general lack of education in the social sciences. A scientist knows no political, social, or educational bounds. He is free to create according to his own ability, disregarding the improper uses of his creation by the laymen. Hence it is left to the laymen to control the products of science for peaceful purposes. This demands a widespread education in the social sciences.

It is not enough to emphasize science and mathematics in modern curricula. What is vitally needed are progressive social scientists who can and will control the use of atomic weapons through a profound knowledge of history, politics, and the human mind.

This, then, must be the theme of American Education Week: to provide the proper balance between science and the humanities; to present to the citizens of a war-torn world with hope for the future—through education.

Child Enjoys World Via Books

Every child cannot live on a pony farm, have Bonzo the circus elephant as a friend, visit the sun kingdom of the Aztecs, or be a space ship pilot on the first voyage to Pluto. But every child can experience these things through good books.

Essential information can be gotten from factual books, but it is experience that children need most. That is why during Children's Book Week, November 13-20, emphasis is placed upon the child's leisure reading—the books the child selects on his own for his own enjoyment. Since his accumulated readings have a decided effect upon him, it is important that the child read high calibre books, whether they be classics or the best in modern writing.

In the effort to promote good literature for children, two medals are given each year for children's books, with the American Library Association naming the awardees. The Caldecott Medal is given for the best picture book of the previous year and chiefly considers "the harmony of conscious designs holding together the text and all departments and details of mechanical production."

The Newberry Medal, named for John Newberry who has been called the "father of children's literature," is awarded for the "most distinguished juvenile book written by a citizen or resident of the United States and published during the preceding year."

Consequently, children today are presented with a wide selection of books from which to choose, and before long their choices become "... the compasses and telescopes and textants and charts which other men have prepared to help us navigate the dangerous seas of human life."

Kingston Trio

College Group Enjoys Concert

Six students from this college were among the 7,000 fans who jammed the West Virginia University Field House in Morgantown on October 19 to hear the Kingston Trio.

Woody Herman Jazz Sparks Homecoming

At least 500 students, guests and faculty members, availed themselves of the opportunity to hear firsthand a recording star of national acclaim. We refer to the Woody Herman Jazz Concert held October 8 in Compton Gymnasium.

Equally adept at the ballad as well as the "tin pan alley," the band held the audience in a state of rapt attention... this was no "spellbound" crowd, however, because often the gymnasium was filled with delighted applause.

In a satire aimed at Lawrence Welk, the bubble blowing trumpet player captured the interest of feminine enthusiasts. There was also included on the repertoire a flighty number dedicated to the "late Dick Clark."

Finally, the versatile group must be commended for their stamina. After playing a quickly paced and high keyed concert, they continued to perform all evening.

They were Donna Williams, Marie Goebel, Charlotte Welsh, Deanna Knepper, Ruth McCumbee, and Colleen Nies.

With professional skill and with "amateur" enthusiasm, the Trio, while happily playing banjos, guitars, and bongo drums, catcalled, shouted, whispered, hooted and howled into the microphone.

Colleen Nies accompanied a friend, who is a United Press International reporter, when he held an interview.

Dave Guard stated that the name "Kingston" came from "Kingston, Jamaica," since calypso was very popular at the time of the selection of a title.

Guard also reported that the three are not folk singers; they sing some folk music, but that it is coupled with several other types to round out their program.

Bob Shone, Dave Guard, and Nick Reynolds started singing as a trio while attending college. Their fame and fortune, which has rocketed in the past four years, began with their first recording, "Tom Dooley."

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

In State-To-Date for October 26, an article entitled "Bill Buttrill, Gene Zumpano Merit Praise For Enthusiasm," several of my ambitions as president of the freshman class were "aired," so to speak. Among these was the plank in my platform concerning betterment of the existing conditions in the cafeteria. At the same time the question was raised as to the source of "necessary funds."

In the first place, it is not necessary to have funds. May I point out that Student Congress has a Dining Room Committee headed by Louise Downton which is already working on many of the problems, such as shorter lines, larger portions, etc.

You may have heard the saying "If there's a will, there's a way." Well if enough interested persons raise a good ole, ever lovin' stink about the problem at hand, the smell is bound to reach somebody's nose; somewhere, soon!

Also mentioned in the article was my interest in restoring to Student Congress the prestige it deserves as the governing body of this campus. But, the question was raised as to how I am going to accomplish this feat. At the same time I was credited with having "one refreshing quality above all others — enthusiasm." People laughed at Ghandi with his passive resistance at first. Who knows what can be accomplished by enthusiasm? Bill Buttrill

Junior Co-ed Climbs On Bill's Bandstand

As a member of the junior class and subscriber to State-To-Date I say "Hats Off" to an Annapolis man who is first rate.

He may not be able to raise funds for the dining hall, But we will have to admit he is on the ball.

Although his battle for Student Congress prestige is not yet won—

Just how many upperclassmen realize that it needs to be done? Have you noticed the only preposed agenda of a class meeting?

Mr. Buttrill does more than his varsity cheerleading.

Of course, all of us realize we have lots to learn

But let's think twice before we spurn.

Too bad we all don't have this "refreshing quality" like Bill

The enthusiastic youthfulness and strong will.

Yes, of our freshman we are proud indeed,

Especially of the possessor of the quality which we all need.

In expressing these thoughts we are most sincere—

And we are sure Mr. Buttrill, that your enthusiasm will last beyond next year! Bessie Bailey

'Hoopy' And Eyler, Presidents, Deserve Applause From Staff

As a writer for State-to-Date I must admit that we seldom have the chance to applaud individual members of the student body. We are happy to have this chance to comment on two class leaders—Alton Hoopengardner and Dave Eyler, presidents of the senior and junior classes.

Alton Hoopengardner

Dave Eyler

Alton ("Hoopy"), the top man in the senior class business department, keeps active in a variety of ways. He was elected by his classmates in his sophomore year to be one of the class representatives to Student Congress. Re-elected to Student Congress the next year, he found himself chosen to fill the position of class treasurer, also.

His quiet, positive influence has been felt on the Allen House Council for the past two years, and the house selected Alton as the recipient of the Citizenship Award 1959-1960.

Last year Alton was one of the men who initiated and founded the Rod and Gun Club. From the outdoors to music (he's in the band) he stays occupied. It's not all play, because he happens to be a member of Xi-Xi, honorary science and math fraternity, and also a member of Sigma Tau Gamma.

Another Xi Xi member, Dave Eyler has the task before him of organizing the junior-senior prom. When questioned as to any concrete plans thus far, he answered, "so far nothing definite can be announced but we have written to Richard Maltby of 'Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom White' fame."

His interest in science won for him the opportunity, with the assistance of State Senator J. Glenn Beall, of a secretarial appointment from the Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service, to work for 12 weeks within a 400 mile radius of Fairbanks, Alaska.

Dave is a member of Delta Kappa social fraternity and holds the office of corresponding secretary. He recently attended a National Delta Kappa convention in Ithaca, New York, as a delegate.

Let's Spoof About The Frosh

College freshmen come in various sizes, weights and colors. They can be found everywhere on campus—asking for, leaning on, looking into, shouting at.

Few freshmen love them, sophomores hate them, juniors and seniors ignore them, instructors tolerate them, and the Grace of God protects them.

Nobody else is so early to registration or so late to get through. Nobody else thinks he can squeeze into one semester's schedule: English, European history, health, physical education, art appreciation, fundamentals of music, college algebra, chemistry, beginning piano and Madrigals.

A freshman is Courage with a homesick feeling in the pit of its stomach, Truth with a million questions on the tip of its tongue, and the Confidence of tomorrow with a letter in its hand asking Mom to please talk to Dad about sending more money!

A freshman is a captivating individual. You can keep him out of your room, but you can't keep him out of your hair. You can stay out of his classes, but you can't stay out of his way.

And when you come in to your room at night—exhausted from your heaviest day's classes, when you sink to your bed for a teeny cat nap before cramming for an American Lit exam, nobody can come so near to being strangled as he does, when he throws open your door, bounds in and shouts those four agonizing words:

"Hey, Are you asleep?" (Our apologies to Alan Beck's "What is a boy" and to Sandra Layton of the Baptist Student Magazine, Nov. 1960.)

Bobcats Defeat Slippery Rock As Young, Truly Score

Extend Skein; Rockets Lose By 2-1 Score

Lauder, Sigler Aid; 4-3 Campaign Mark

By Eddie Root

Frostburg's Bobcats put their season's record on the winning side of the ledger by edging Slippery Rock 2-1 in a hard fought game. The win was State's fourth against three losses.

Ed "Sapp" Truly broke the scoreless deadlock at 8:00 of the second quarter. George Lauder kicked the ball in bounds from midfield and a race ensued between Truly and Willison, Rockets' goalie, for the ball. "Sapp" was the faster and his aim was true; score Frostburg 1-0.

At 17:00 of the second period, Ronald "Butch" Young tacked on the insurance marker that proved to be the victory margin. Art "Sookie" Scarpelli booted a corner kick to Roy "Muggs" Sigler who in turn crossed the ball to "Butch" Young. "Butch" outmaneuvered the defense and split the goalposts for the Bobcats' second and final tally.

State's 2-0 lead held up during a scoreless third heat; however, Slippery Rock managed to push a goal through with 6:30 gone in the last quarter. Kocourek, inside right for the Rockets, had the scoring honor with Hubbel, inside left, gaining the assist.

Slippery Rock held an edge in shots with eighteen while Frostburg managed sixteen. Willison had nine saves for the Rockets and Geoff Whitmore speared nine shots for the Bobcats.

Dr. Van Ryswyk, Grid Coach, Conducts Initial Meeting

On Monday, October 24, the first official football meeting was held at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Dr. Van Ryswyk told the prospective football players his outlook and plans for the coming 61-62 football campaign. He said that the team would run out of a multiple offense; it also would be a fast and hard-hitting team.

In using the multiple offense, Dr. Van Ryswyk said, "the element of surprise makes it harder for a team to defend." He said the team would rely on the "T" formation and its variations, plus the single wing or short punt formation.

He told the prospective players that because we have a first year team, we should not lose all our games. He would be very disappointed if State lost one game. Dr. Van Ryswyk said that the school has the material to have an undefeated season. He also put out an invitation to all male students to come out for football, regardless of previous experience.

One of the main questions was uniforms. Dr. Van Ryswyk said they were indefinite, but he thought that the basic color would be white, with black and gold trim.

He told the prospective players that spring practice started the middle of March or the first of April, and would last 20 days. He said that the boys should be in good shape, since there would be no time allowed for this in the spring. The second day the players would be "butting-heads," as Dr. Van Ryswyk put it. Spring practice would close with an inter-squad game, under game conditions.

Each prospective player was given an information sheet to fill out. It asked for previous experience, height, weight, hat size, shirt size, etc.

Dr. Van Ryswyk closed the meeting by saying that he wanted the boys to get into shape, stay in shape, run hard and long, lift weights, and then come out for spring practice as a tough, rugged, moving machine.

Harold's Herald

By Harold Schriver

When it comes time at the end of the current soccer campaign for the coaches and the referees to submit their choices for the All Southern All Star Team it seems to this writer that the entire Bobcat team should receive some recommendation.

True, there have been some standout performances, but basically each of the games has seen the team play being predominant.

Consider for a moment that all the 'Cat scoring has been well distributed between Buch Young, Sapp Truly, and Sookie Scarpelli; and that the assists have come mainly from Muggs Sigler and Jim Kelly.

The entire halfback line consisting of Don Amoruso, Jerry Llewellyn, and Dick Hesterberg have performed creditably. Since the two early season setbacks this trio has turned back onslaught after onslaught by opposing teams and has been getting the ball to the front line at a very consistent rate.

Not to be outdone by any members of the "forward eight" are fullbacks George Lauder and Hank Winner. It is needless to discuss the important roles that these two have played in each of the games thus far.

Geoff Whitmore at goalie is vastly improved, as can be witnessed by the sparse number of goals allowed in the last five games.

However, much credit should go to Coach Babcock who molded the team.

Scotties Win League Play; Gain Awards

By Charlie Adcock

Climaxing an undefeated season, the Scotties defeated the Mau Mau's 36-24, to clinch the Intramural Football Championship.

The game, played in perfect football weather, featured a passing battle between Corky Connolly of the Scotties and Paul Nolan of the Mau Mau's.

The Scotties took a 6-0 lead on a 15-yard pass play from Connolly to Wayne Bruchey. Paul Nolan's three yard pass to Ronny Mann tied the game at six all. Connolly intercepted a Nolan aerial and returned 35 yards to give the Scotties a 12-6 lead. Fred Wartzack set up the Mau Mau's second score when he returned an intercepted pass to the Scotties' one foot line. Four plays later, Nolan flipped a pass to Jim Price in the end zone to tie the score at 12-12.

The Scotties then assumed an 18-12 lead as Wayne Bruchey made a good grab of a 30 yard pass from Connolly, as the first half neared completion. The game was again knotted as Paul Nolan hit Dick Wilson with a 12 yard TD pass.

John McClelland grabbed an eight yard pass to give the Scotties a 24-18 lead. Nolan then countered by completing a 20 yard pass to Ronny Mann to again tie the game.

The 24-all tie was broken by the Scotties as Bill Bruchey snared a 35 yard TD toss from Connolly. The Brucheymen scored an insurance tally as Connolly again threw an eight yard pass to McClelland.

Hustling 'Cat Squad Evens 1960 Record; Grab Two At Home

In their last two outings the Bobcats have given the hometown crowd something to cheer about. These games brought 2-1 and 4-1 victories for the fighting Cats. The games were played against Grove City and American University on October 22 and 29, respectively, at Frostburg.

The Grove City game found State's "Sapp" Truly and Art Scarpelli rustling the opponent's nets for scores. Grove City scored one, but it was not enough to overcome a hustling Bobcat squad.

Homecoming was blessed this year with a beautiful day. The air was crisp and the sky filled with sunlight. This was to remain a very sunny day for Frostburg too. At 4:05 p. m. the homecoming game against American University ended and it found the ever powerful Bobcats on top by a 4-1 margin. Every player who got into the game did a very capable job. The forward line put a blitz on the American University goal. It seemed as if everytime the goalie for American U. turned around he was trying to knock down a shot. However, he didn't knock down quite enough of State's booming blasts. "Sapp" Truly, "Butch" Young, "Muggs" Sigler and Art Scarpelli made a miserable day for the American U. goalie by booting the bacon home for four points.

The halfback line stood out again in this game. Gerry Llewellyn, Dick Hesterberg and Donny Amoruso made American U's offense look very bad at several times during the game with some of their fancy footwork and flashy kicking.

Geoff Whitmore also played a good game in the goal, knocking down several would-be goals.
