Academic Program Proposals Discussed

President Nelson P. Guild has issued the following statement on the status of several proposed programs which the College hopes to implement this coming fall. None of the programs has been finally approved. The College community will be notified of any important developments concerning these academic program proposals as soon as information becomes available.

"At the moment, three proposed graduate programs (M.S. in Biology, M.S. in Fisheries Management, and M.S. in Wildlife Management) have been approved by the Program and Advance Planning Committee of the Board of Trustees of the State Colleges. In addition, two of the three proposed undergraduate programs (Philosophy and Recreation) have been approved by the same committee. All five of these proposed programs have been presented to the Maryland Council for Higher Education, with favorable recommendations for each one from the Council's Program Review Committee. The Council is expected to approve these five programs at its next meeting on February 6.

Following that action, the Board of Trustees of the State Colleges is expected to approve all five programs at its next meeting on March 4.

"The proposed undergraduate program in Fisheries-Wildlife Management has not yet been approved by the Board of Trustees Program and Advance Planning Committee, the Maryland Council or the Board of Trustees itself. This delay is not caused by any opposition, but simply because the proposal was not delivered to Annapolis as early as the others were. All of the necessary approvals will probably occur, but somewhat later for this proposal than for the other five.

"The only other important fact is that approval by the College Senate for implementation of the Recreation major was contingent upon the availability of a new faculty position in that field. Such availability is dependent, in turn, upon whether the College obtains the new faculty positions it has requested in the Fiscal 1977 budget. We shall not have definite information on the fate of our budget request until mid-April when the General Assembly adjourns."

SDP Initiates New Members

On Sat. Jan. 17, 1976, 1976 at 11:00 in the Lane Center, 19 new members were initiated into the National Spanish Honorary Fraternity, Sigma Delta Pi. Dr. Thomas Redick, Dr. Anthony de Munecas, and Sandra Enswiller were initiated as associate members.

The remaining neophytes are active student members: Marie Lufkin, Bruce Hoegg, and Jane Straub from Frostburg; Dr. Ann Heckert of LaVale, Laura Lang of Chevy Chase, Sandra Stephan of Ijamsville, Lisa Solley of Catonsville, Guillermo Arguero of Towson, Orlando Garcia of Baltimore, Deborah Pollard of Lanham, Debbie Zavatchan of Wheaton, Tracey Lee of Edgewater, and Teresa Valear of Rockville, and Vicki De Vore of Westernport.

Presiding at the ceremony were Dino Volta, president, Barbara Sumners, vice-president, and Joan Severn, secretary, and Dr. Oswaldo Lopez, advisor of the chapter. Following the initiation, there was a luncheon, after which Dean Kenneth Jablon gave a talk on the aspects of the influence of the substrato and of the substrato in the evolution of Castillian language.

Bicentennial Committee Invited to California

The Frostburg State College Bicentennial Committee has received an invitation from Inventors Workshop International, to select the most creative idea on the broad theme of Creativity in America. The contest will take place at the Ventura County Fair grounds, Ventura, California, on May 13-16, 1976. Awards totaling more than $15,000 will be awarded to the three winning students and honorary plaques to their schools. For further information, students may contact the Art Department (689-4109) or Mr. Dustin Davis (689-4774).

Welsh Named Field Supervisor of Public Affairs Internship Program

Martin P. Welch, a 1974 graduate of Frostburg State College, has been named field supervisor of the Public Affairs Internship Program of the College, it was announced recently by Dr. Nelson P. Guild, president, and by John Bambacus, director of the internship program.

Born in Catonsville, Maryland on September 17, 1953, Martin completed his public school education in the Catonsville area. He then attended Frostburg State, where he earned his Bachelor of Science degree in three years. While at Frostburg, he was involved in campus government, serving as vice-president of student government and president of the College's tri-partite academic governing body.

Under Frostburg's Public Affairs Institute, Welch interned for the Maryland Commission on the Functions of Government. A political science major, he prepared a study on municipal elections for the Maryland Municipal League. He also worked as assistant to the director of the Public Affairs Institute in his last semester of undergraduate school. Additionally, he was a senior student coordinator of Frostburg's freshman orientation program.

Welch entered the University of Maryland School of Law in August 1974 and worked during the following summer as a law clerk for the Baltimore City Law Department. He is currently serving in the capacity of law clerk/bailiff for the Honorable Joseph C. Howard of the Baltimore Supreme Bench.

Area High School Students to Take Classes at FSC

Frostburg State College will once again conduct an advanced studies program for area high school juniors and seniors this spring, according to an announcement made today by Dr. Nelson P. Guild, president of the College.

This year's program will begin February 21 and run for eight weeks through April 10. Classes will be held on Saturday mornings and will include four courses taught by members of the Frostburg State faculty.

Course offerings will be in the areas of astronomy, business, history, and mathematics. Each class session will be approximately two hours in length.

According to President Guild, the program is designed to provide additional study opportunities to superior students and give such students an advanced look at the demands of college level work. "Courses are not designed to duplicate or be a substitute for any high school curriculum," Dr. Guild added.

Last year, over 100 students from 15 high schools in five counties in the tri-state area participated in the program.

The costs of the program are being defrayed by the Frostburg State College Foundation. Enrolled students will be responsible only for a modest charge for textbooks and transportation to the College.

Students will become eligible to enter the program upon the recommendation of their home school and such recommendation will be made upon the basis of demonstrated academic ability or reasonably suspected promise. Additionally, provision is also made for self-nomination by students themselves.

No college credit or letter grade will be given in the program. However, each student who completes a course will receive a personal evaluation from the instructor, a copy of which will remain on file at the college which may be used by the student when seeking admission to a college or university. Students who successfully complete a course in the program will also receive a certificate from the college.

Allocation of Funds discussed at SA Meeting

The House of Representatives of the Student Association held its second meeting on Thursday, January 29. The main objects for discussion on the floor of the House were the allocation of funds to various student organizations and pay for SA officers.

The controversial "Pay for SA Officers" issue was discussed at great length throughout the course of the three hour meeting. After much debate, the $300 per semester pay rate for SA president, $150 per semester for vice-president and treasurer and a $100 per semester expense account for the director of state affairs were all passed.

Bittersweet, the student literary magazine, was alloted $1,000 for printing cost and materials for publication of the magazine later in the semester. Nemaocolin, was awarded $7,358 for publication of the 1977 yearbook. Other organizations allotted funds by the House included: Dramatis Personae, $600 for their next production; psychology club, $200 to attend a convention; International Relations Club, $200 to attend a model United Nations meeting; Intersarsity Christian fellowship, $200 to attend a leadership conference; and the caving and climbing club, $245 for equipment.

The next meeting of the House will be held February 11, at 7:00 p.m. in 202 Lane Center.

Editorial

SA: Visions of Power

March 25, 1976--The Student Association House of Representatives tonight approved nearly $4,000 worth of budgetary allocations for the fall semester of 1976. These assorted expenditures were comprised solely of student payroll allotments.

Student Association President Don Fry made the following comments regarding the action of the House:

"I'm satisfied with the results. It's a shame, though, that some of them took so long to be passed. Take the $50 per semester we approved to pay somebody to empty the ashtrays in the CCB office. Of course, someone still has to be appointed to that position, but that's a small problem.

"Another thing I was happy to see was the pay for officers in the Caving and Climbing Club. Those guys do some pretty risky stuff, and they do represent the school. Besides, they've never come to us for money before.

"Additionally, I thought it was good that the House voted to pay the officers of the International Relations Club. They work extremely hard at what they do, and they've never come to us for money before.

"Editors of all the student publications will now be paid, too, which is good. They spend a lot of time in their office, doing whatever it is they do, and I think the students care enough about the publications to pay the editors out of the student activities fee. It's a wise move, I think.

"And, of course, pay for the Student Association officers was renewed. It's not as easy as everybody seems to think. A lot of these groups have really ridiculous reasons for asking for money, and it's a tough job deciding who should get the money and who shouldn't. We get a lot of crackpots in here asking for SA funds."

"Don, wake up! The House meeting starts in fifteen minutes!"

"Oh, I must've dozed off. You wouldn't believe the dream I just had!"

It wasn't a dream, Don. The whole thing was a nightmare.

Letter to Students

Dear Students,

At the SA House of Representatives meeting last Thursday night, an amendment to the Constitution was passed that provided salaries for the officers of SA. I for one am completely against this move. At election time, I felt that I shared the views of Vice President Howard Paper and Treasurer Derek Baliles. Howard, in his interview with reporters of the State-To-Date, stated, "Something that is coming up soon is pay for officers. These people are running for the job because they want to represent the students. They shouldn't be running because they want to be paid." Derek, in his interview, stated, "Pay for officers, too, seems to be a useless sort of thing. It's a nice gesture, but I think it's an unnecessary expense." At the House meeting, I was deeply disappointed when neither Howard or Derek offered any opposition to the amendment.

The salaries as they now stand are $300.00 a semester for president, $150.00 a semester for treasurer and vice-president. It was stated that compensation should be allotted as incentive for the efficient fulfillment of their offices. It seems to me that if a person runs for office, he should do so because he is truly interested in helping the students, not in helping himself to the students money.

Also, there are other positions on campus which entail as much work--if not more-- as the executive offices of SA. The editors of the newspaper and yearbook, in addition to those people connected with the radio station, spend as many hours on their jobs as the SA officers spend on theirs.

As a voting member of SA and a representative of the Student body, I feel that I was right in voting against pay for officers. I now feel that I am fulfilling my duties to the students in proposing an amendment to the constitution and calling for a nullification of the pay for SA officers. In the next week there will be petitions around campus that will be calling for such an amendment. If any of you feel the same way I do, please sign it and let your voice be heard. The next SA meeting will be held February 12. Come and see your Student Association in action.

Sincerely yours,
Chris Geisel
Senior Representative

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to comment on the proposal of SA giving $200 of student fee money to the football team. Fortunately, SA voted down the proposal, but the threat of some representatives choosing to spend the money so irresponsibly was there.

Some persons who were in support of the proposal cited as their argument that the football team, which benefits supposedly many people, was not given money when other campus organizations such as the Psychology Club and the International Relations Club were.

To state it simply, the utter mindlessness of the argument is clear when one simply considers that the football team already has thousands of dollars in its own budget, and shouldn't come to SA for money due to mismanagement or any other reason. Finally, the Psychology Club and International Relations Club do not get a budget from the state or school. Therefore, comparing the clubs to the football team is a totally fallacious argument. Fortunately, SA was not fooled.

Dear Friends:

This letter is to bring you up to date on the status and availability of the Mustard Seed.

Many students and campus organizations have become familiar with the building known as the Mustard Seed. It was the scene of a Coffee House for four years, as well as college courses, social functions, and United Campus Ministry activities. Campus Ministry wants to continue to make creative use of that facility. Recent remodeling has made it a beautiful, comfortable, and flexible building.

At the same time, you need to know that the entire building is being rented by the County Health Department as a walk-in counseling and referral center. The programming of this center will always take precedence. United Campus Ministry can still make use of the building however, at agreed times and with Health Department approval.

Because the Center is open only during the days and counseling is presently scheduled two days a week, other functions can take place at the Mustard Seed. Applications must be made far enough in advance to secure approval. A set of rules and a rental policy has been agreed upon. If you have any questions about the form or the nature of the activity that will be approved, please contact Rev. Richard McCullough at the Osborne Center or call 689-9414.

Sincerely yours,
George Plitnik

Dear Editor,

It has come to our attention that during the past week an election has been held for 24-hour visitation in Annapolis Hall. The outcome of this election was negative toward the 24-hour visitation. After the election, a petition began to circulate throughout the dorm members to have a re-vote because of the fact that fifteen residents did not vote. In light of the confusion, we feel that if there is going to be another vote, then the policy of 24-hour visitation should either stay the same or go all the way. But the girls should be made fully aware of the situations that can arise with such a policy. In our opinion such an invasion of privacy is impossible in an all-girl dorm.

Dear Editor,

Regarding the recent modification of Aerial Conjunction: one down, two to go!

John S. Shantz

Dear Editor,

Football seems to be a pretty big interest at FSC, while the Psychology Club, open to the entire campus, doesn't attract too many people. Football, on the other hand, attracts, I'd say, at least two-thirds of the students at FSC in some way or another. Why should the Psychology Club get $500 for 20 people to attend a convention, while the football team doesn't get $200 for one hundred guys who play a game for the entire student body? It doesn't make sense.

This is what happened at the Student Association meeting on Thursday, January 29, 1976. Many organizations wanted allocations, and every single one got their allocations except the football team. The IRC-International Relations club got $200 for seven people. It's hard to believe. $200 for seven people to go to a convention. It's something that will benefit these seven students, but how many others will this convention affect? Other organizations that got allocations include Nemacolin $7,358, Bittersweet $1,000, the Caving and Climbing Club $248.20, Dramatis Personae $600, and IV Christian Fellowship $200. All these organizations affect groups of people, but do any of them affect as large a group as the football team? NO!!

The reason the football team wants this money is to come back to school early in the fall semester so they can practice. A lot of time is needed in the practices, and by not giving them the $200 is cutting more days off of practice.

$200 is nowhere near the amount the team needs next fall however, the team has agreed to have fund raisers and to get donations. Yes, the Psychology Club has tried to have fund raisers, but theirs didn't work. It is the first time the Psychology Club has come to the Student Association for money this year, but it is also the first time the football team has come to SA for money. Why should one organization get money over the other?

Student Association represents you, the student at FSC. Do you agree with what was done Thursday night? I am bringing up this issue again at the next SA meeting which is cont'd. on page 3.

Health Center

Hot Line

The Brady Health Center is now sponsoring a weekly column pertaining to questions about physical and mental health. If you have any questions for the column, please submit them to State-to-Date, Lane Center rm. 232 or Box 40.

Q-- What can you do for your cold?

A--You can relieve the symptoms:

--Your usual dose of aspirin will help your headache and general achiness.
--Antihistamines will give you some relief if allergic reactions accompany your cold.*

--A vaporizer may help relieve your congestion.

--A piece of hard candy will relieve your aching throat.

--Cough syrup eases a troublesome cough.*

--Nasal decongestants, in the form of drops, inhalers, or sprays, are useful when your nose is clogged up and your breathing is difficult.*

--Drinking fruit juice or water helps keep the mucous membranes moist.

--And rest, since it conserves energy, helps your body to build up resistance against complications.

*Some nose drops, sprays, combination cold pills, lozenges, capsules and cough mixtures contain drugs which have a long-term bad effect. Ask at the Health Center which are recommended.

Warning: Occasionally a sore throat, headache, and fatigue may not be symptoms of a cold at all, but the beginnings of a more serious illness. Come to the Health Center if you develop any of these.

Career Planning

What are you doing now to prepare for graduation? What plans have you made for your future? Wayne Carlisle, director of Placement and Career Development, is giving a talk on Monday evening, February 2, at 8 p.m. in the small lounge at Frost Hall. You might get some ideas about how to plan your future.

Career planning is only one of the topics we discuss at these weekly rap sessions sponsored by the Counseling Center. Other programs will include interpersonal communications, sexuality, and facts on how to develop better relationships. We welcome other program suggestions that interest you, so come on up and get together with us every Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the small lounge at Frost Hall!

Q--Can you prevent a cold?
A--Not very effectively.

Vaccines against cold viruses do not exist. One of the problems is that there are many different cold viruses. Protection against one gives no protection against the other. Like the immunity you get from the cold itself, this protection may only last a month or so. Nevertheless, you are still the subject to other cold viruses that are in the air.

To protect yourself against the common cold, here are some things you can do:

--Keep your distance from people who have colds, especially when they sneeze or cough.

--Eat well balanced meals, and try not to get chilled or overtired.

--If you do get a cold, take precautions against spreading the infection. Do not go to crowded places. Cover your coughs and sneezes. Use disposable tissues and get rid of them immediately.

It's Puzzle Time

The following problem was reported in a recent University of Chicago bulletin used to screen high school seniors for math potential.

Question: Nine fraternity brothers eat dinner in a room with four tables and only three chairs per table. If the brothers eat Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday together design a seating arrangement so that they all eat with each other in the course of the four days.

Send your solutions and attempts to Math Club, Box 49, Lane College Center. You can use the campus mail. Catch Dr. Biggs between classes and he may give you a hint.

Counseling Available

Every Monday from 3-5 p.m. in the Counseling Center, the students of Frostburg State College are invited to attend intimate happenings. At these "happenings" people will learn to share, non-defensively, the impacts they make on one another, to take risks and to enhance their ability to break out of self-defeating emotional and behavioral patterns. This will be accomplished by a variety of exciting experiences integrated within a rational therapy framework. These sessions will be led by Dominic D'Angelo. All those interested should contact the Counseling Center.

Business Club Reactivated

Business students did you know that there is now an active business club? The Business Club has now moved into full motion. Although in the past the Business Club was a very silent organization, this semester it will be different. With a great increase in membership, the club has already been active in various fundraising activities and other the Winter Carnival. The Club also is planning to have numerous guest speakers at their meetings that will talk on a variety of subjects that pertain to the Business World.

But outside of these functions, the Business Club finds a need to satisfy its objectives of familiarizing the business student with the business world in which he must work.

If you are a business major and wish to profit from such an organization, come to our next meeting on Monday, February 9, in Tawes Hall at 7 p.m., when Mr. Wayne Carlisle, Director of Job Placement, will be the guest speaker. If you are interested in a job in the business field, this is a great opportunity for you to find out just what kind of jobs are available when you graduate with your degree in Business Administration. If you, as a business student, have any questions about the essentials needed in your resume or any other questions concerning job placement the prime opportunity to have these questions answered now exists.

Editorial Board

Selected

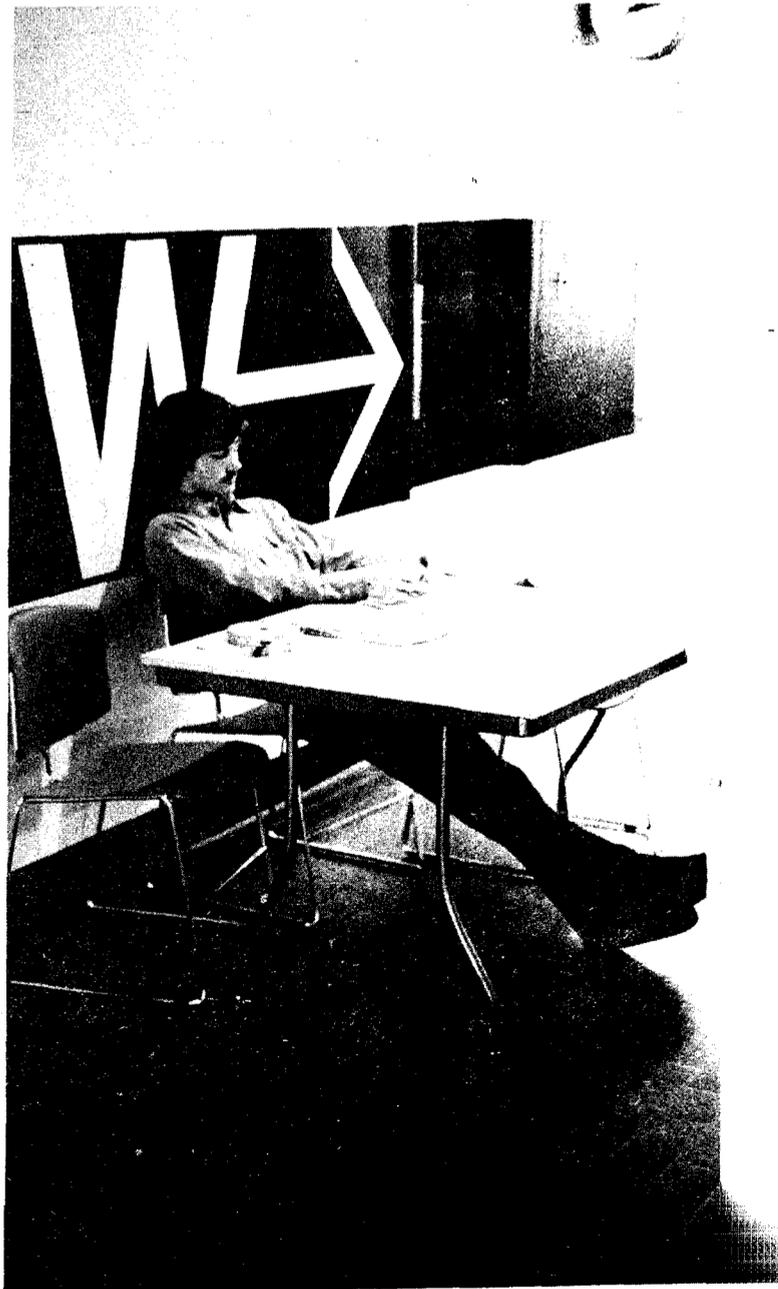

State-to-Date, the student newspaper of Frostburg State College, has elected a new editorial board for the 1976 academic year.

Seniors on this year's staff are layout editor Thomas Nussear, an economics major from Hagerstown, and business manager Larry Hite, a psychology major from Hyndman, Pennsylvania.

Features editor David Shaffer, a music major from Annapolis, and art and photography editor Chris Geisel, a geography major from Edgewood, both juniors, were named to the board for another term.

Also elected to the board were: editor-in-chief John Preisinger, a sophomore, political science major from Bel Air; sports editor Barbara Grim, sophomore political science major from Frostburg; and news editor Kevin Fitzgerald, a sophomore history major from Bowie.

The new board's term began with the first issue of the spring semester, published on January 26.

Despite the fact that Winter Carnival Weekend was well-publicized, many of the events were hampered by a lack of interest. Winter Ball tickets, for example, had to be given away free, the Faculty Follies were cancelled and a 25-person limit was placed on the Pancake Eating Contest because the entrants were not charged.

Eyler to Present First Solo Percussion

The first solo percussion recital in the history of the Frostburg State College music program will be presented on Sunday, February 8, by David P. Eyler, a junior majoring in music education and performance at the College.

The first piece of the program is a transcription of J. S. Bach's flute sonata No. IV in C major. On this selection as well as the Chopin Prelude op. 28 No. 20 in C minor and the Rondo, a contemporary work by Theodore Frazeur, Mr. Eyler will be featured on the marimba. The work entitled "Toccata" by James D'Angelo, the second number, is a multiple percussion feature. The instruments required to perform this work are two suspended cymbals, a triangle, a pair of timbales, a snare drum and two tomtoms.

Ending the first half is a jazz combo selection, "Cool Step," featuring Mr. Eyler on drum set assisted by Mr. Robert Harmon on electric bass, Mr. James Michael on alto saxophone and Mrs. Lemmert on piano.

Campus Ministry Sponsors Retreat

United Campus Ministry is sponsoring a student spiritual retreat on the weekend of February 20-23. The retreat will be held in the Camp Living Waters Retreat Center, about forty-five minutes from campus in Pennsylvania. The cost will be $5.00, which will be used to supply the food.

Students will leave campus after the evening meal on Friday, February 20. They will depart from the Retreat Center following lunch on Sunday. All costs for the rental of the Center will be paid by the United

In the second half is another recently written piece entitled "Sonatina for three timpani and piano" by Alexander Tcherepnin. The closing work, "Recital Suite," is again for marimba and piano. It was written by Walter Watson in 1963 on a commission by his brother Ken Watson.

While attending Frostburg State College, Mr. Eyler has participated in Marching Band, Concert Band, Choral Union, Concert Choir, Orchestra and Jazz Ensemble. It was through Mr. Eyler's efforts that the Percussion Ensemble, a nine member ensemble that performs different types of percussion literature, was formed two years ago. He now serves in the capacity of conductor and performer of that organization. Mr. Eyler is also a member of the Frostburg chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, the international men's fraternity. Recently he was elected as the vice-president of the organization.

He has studied with Steve Lizotte, percussion instructor at Frostburg, Dennis Kain, timpanist of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, Charles Memphis, instructor of percussion at Peabody Conservatory, and Robert Mitchell, retired bandsman from the West Point Academy Band. Mr. Eyler is also a teacher at Ott's Music Store in Cumberland.

Recital in FSC History

"The Ascent of Man"

The film series, "The Ascent of Man," by Jacob Bronowski will be shown every week this semester on Thursday at 7 p.m. in room 232 of Tawes Hall. Students, college personnel and the public are invited. Since the films will be on campus each week from Tuesday to Friday, they will also be available for other showings. Faculty who would like to reserve the films for use in classes should contact the biology department secretary, Virginia Hay, at ext. 4266. Faculty interested in attending a faculty showing and discussion of any segment should contact Doug De Mars, Dunkle 131, or call ext. 4285. A complete schedule of films in the series will be published next week.

Skills Workshop Offered

The Placement and Career Office will offer an interview skills workshop for students on Thursday, February 5, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Video tapes will be used to help students prepare for future employment interviews. Questions about this program should be directed to Mr. Carlisle at ext. 4403.

Fine Arts to Hold Exhibit

The Fine Arts Gallery will hold a photography exhibit February 1 - 26, encompassing a wide range of modern work and featuring the photography of Bob Rogers, Les Sattinger, Bertram A. Thiel, and a special traveling exhibition of Jerry N. Uelsman.

Bob Rogers, a Dorcas, West Virginia resident, will be showing large black and white photographs executed in the documentary tradition. Most of Rogers' work was done in Grant County, West Virginia.

Sattinger, an instructor of photography in the communication media department of the College, will be showing a variety of images and photographic techniques. Also on display will be a number of color photogram-images made directly on paper without a negative. Additionally, a number of non-silver prints in the gum-bichromat process and several non-traditional works utilizing an assortment of media will be shown.

Bertram A. Thiels will have on display color prints made from crystals, a process he developed and published in Camera 35. Each of the prints is unique and is the result of growing prepared birefringent crystals on a glass plate. Mr. Thiel is an instructor in the planetarium and communication media department of the college.

The Jerry Uelsman photographs are on loan from the International Museum of Photography at George Eastman House. Mr. Uelsman, a professor of art at the University of Florida, will be displaying photomontages-images comprised of many negatives.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend. Regular gallery hours are Monday through Thursday, 1-5 p.m., and Sunday, 2-4 p.m.

A love story that is always new returns to thrill you anew.

The purpose of the group is to select and show CCB sponsored films and to aid organizations in the selection and production of their films. Ford to Axe Student Aid Programs

The Administration's budget for the next fiscal year could prove to have a major impact on colleges and universities. President Ford proposes to phase out one of the Federal Government's largest student aid programs--social security payments to students 18 to 22 years old. The payments provide about $1 billion in support to more than half a million undergraduate students. The social security aid continues child-support payments beyond the age of 18 to survivors of deceased workers and dependants of retired or disabled workers if they are enrolled in school or college. The budget gives the rationale for the proposal: "Since social security student benefits serve as an educational stipend, it would seem more appropriate to provide such support within the purview of programs established specifically for this purpose such as grants, scholarships and loan programs rather than in the context of a social insurance program."

The plan to end social security payments is the major new proposal affecting higher education contained in the Fiscal 1977 budget which President Ford sent to Congress on January 21. Another new proposal would increase the institution's matching share of College Work-Study funds from the present 20 percent to 30 percent next year and to 50 percent over the following two years.

In the new budget the President repeated his earlier proposals to terminate GI educational benefits for new recruits entering military service, eliminate Supplemental Opportunity Grants to post-secondary students, cut off new capital contributions to the National Direct Student loan (NDSL) fund, eliminate support for a number of categorical higher education programs--veteran's cost-of-instruction payments, fellowships, university community services, state postsecondary education commissions, and land-grant college aid.

Work - Study funds would be cut from this year's $390 million to $250 million but Basic Opportunity Grants (BOG) to students would be increased from $715 million to $1.1 billion. The budget also proposes a $335 million supplemental appropriation for BOGs this year, but said this request is conditional on Congress' acceptance of $768.1 million in rescissions proposed by the President last November in already appropriated higher education funds for this year. The House Appropriations Committee has already rejected these rescissions.

According to the Special Analyses of the Budget, Federal expenditures for education and educational related programs from all sources will total $18.2 billion in fiscal 1977. The amount of student aid available from all sources will total an estimated $7.1 billion. The GI Bill will provide the largest share, 41 percent. The Office of Education will provide 26 percent of the total for about 3.7 million student grants and loans.

Cats Upset Point Park

In the most recent Bobcat basketball games, the team was thumped by the University of Pittsburgh-Johnstown and West Virginia Wesleyan, but put it all together at home against a tough Point Park quint. The 'Cats have dropped ten games in sixteen starts.

Against Johnstown, FSC was downed by a score of 81-68. The first half was close with the 'Cats returning to the locker room at half time trailing by two points, 42-40. The deciding factor was Johnstown's ability to convert 21 of 27 free throws, while Frostburg converted 6 of 13. Wayne Simonsen bucketed 21 points, Leroy Scott added 20, Bob Ridder 15 and Ray Nelson 11.

The 'Cats returned home to play spectacular ball against the Point Park Pioneers. FSC broke the Pioneers' eight-game winning streak by dumping them 70-56. Almost three minutes had elapsed before the visitors were able to get on the scoreboard. Point Park had a tremendous height advantage over the 'Cats. What FSC lacked in height, they made up for in good, strong defense. Frostburg controlled the boards throughout the game to beat Point Park for the first time in three years. The half time score was 34-26 in favor of the 'Cats. For the winners, Ray Nelson scored 24 points, Leroy Scott 13 and Billy Sayles 12. Top rebounder was Billy Sayles with 22, while Ray Nelson pulled in 13.

The game against West Virginia Wesleyan resulted in the tenth loss of the season for the Bobcats. They were beaten by a score of 97-70. In the first half, FSC was outplayed as Wesleyan jumped out to an early twelve-point lead and doubled the mark to lead by 24 at the half (49-25). The 'Cats lacked ball control and were victimized by several turnovers. The final score was Wesleyan 97, Frostburg 70. Ray Nelson led in the FSC point department with 13, Bob Ridder added 12 and Terry Delaney scored 10. Nine games remain in the twenty-five game schedule.

Wrestlers Take First Victory

The Frostburg matmen took their first victory of the season in an away match against Juniata College with a score of 24-18. In this first decisive match of the season, Frostburg entered the match with a season standing of 0-4 to demonstrate, in spite of some very exciting individual displays of skill, Frostburg could also show some excellent team drive.

The Frostburg matmen opened up the match with the usual display of superior strength in the lower weight classes. Starting off in the 118-lb. weight class event, veteran Joe Wallace pinned his Juniata opponent, and led the way on up to the 126-lb. weight class event when another Frostburg matman, veteran Ron Ginsburg, would also pin his Juniata opponent. Although these two would be the only ones to score by a pin in the match, Frostburg was to lead in decision point scoring.

In the 142-lb. weight class event, Sophomore Tim Drehmer lost his match to Juniata by a four point decision. During the 150-lb. weight class event, teammate Joe Oddis tied the earlier decision with his own four point decision against Juniata. Then veteran senior Dave Macey won another four point decision in the 158-lb. weight class event.

Following in the 167-lb. weight class event was perhaps Frostburg's most sorrowful events of the season as junior Mike Ender's match was stopped by default because of an injury he suffered that may put this former Junior College's Conference second-place champion out for the rest of the season. This was to be Mike's first season of wrestling as a Frostburg matman. In the following 177-lb. weight class event, freshman Bill Karlson's match ended with a draw. Frostburg lost the 190-lb. match as Joe Corbin lost by a four point decision. Finally, in the heavyweight match, Junior Bill Hyson demonstrated perhaps the top performance of the evening as he won a crucial four-point decision against his 270-lb., 4-1 Juniata opponent.

While the Frostburg matmen ended with a very fine victory over Juniata, this week Frostburg will challenge extremely competitive schools in their very tough conference schedule that lays ahead.

Buster Nelson tips ball to begin recent Bobcat game.

Gymnasts Look To Future

"I have never had such a dedicated group of gymnasts at Frostburg," stated Coach Fred Surgent of his 1976 Bobcat squad. Although the Bobcats are winless in three meets, Coach Surgent is not discouraged. "They have great desire, and so far they have been willing to pay the price necessary for success." While the team has been defeated decisively by West Virginia and Trenton State, their team score has improved each meet. "We have to be realistic about our win-loss record," says Surgent. "I feel we have to concentrate on improvement. We had no program last year, and most of my gymnasts had a year off from the sport. If we continue to improve at the rate we're going, the wins will take care of themselves."

The team is led by veterans Ralph Ransone, Wes McCloskey, Jeff Mallery and Wayne Miller with six newcomers on the squad. Coach Surgent feels that the strongest point is the still rings while the weakest point is the pommel horse.

The team's tough schedule must be taken into consideration when looking at the thus-far winless season. Due to the fact that there are few gymnastic programs comparable to Frostburg's level in the Middle Atlantic states, the 'Cats schedule includes tough gymnastic powers such as West Virginia, Navy, U.S. Coast Guard, Trenton State and William and Mary. The gymnasts have six more meets on their ten meet schedule.

Balestri Receives All-State Honor

Fabrizio Balestri, a junior fullback on the Bobcat soccer team, has been named by the All-American selection committee of the National Soccer Coaches' Association to the 1975 All-South team. Balestri is the first Bobcat to be named All-South since Steve Secrest achieved the honor in 1972.

Fab received MVP honors in his senior year at Bladensburg, and also accomplished all-county and all-Metropolitan awards. At Prince George's Community College, Balestri was chosen to the All-Maryland JUCO squad and All-Middle Atlantic Region JUCO team, in leading PG to a national ranking.

"I was truly taken by surprise when Coach Kutler informed me of the award," said Balestri. "I thought Don Higgins, our goalie and center halfback Lorin Campbell deserved the award as much as I did." The 5'9", 160 pound all-star, who was switched from forward to fullback this season, continued, "At first I didn't like the idea of changing positions, but I adjusted quickly. I'm just sorry we didn't get a playoff bid."

Balestri missed by only a few votes of giving Frostburg its first All-American since Roy Sigler was chosen to the team in 1961.
