Center for FSC Scheduled

Center scheduled for FSC

A new Western Maryland Directions Center designed to refer parents of handicapped children to appropriate service agencies is scheduled to be established at Frostburg State College, it has been announced by Dr. Nelson P. Guild. The Center will be funded by a grant to the College from the Bureau for the Education of the Handicapped to the Maryland State Department of Education. Director of the Center will be Alexander Weinstein. Mr. Weinstein said that in addition to the information and referral services, the Center will also provide parent counseling, parent and professional training, and diagnostic services. All services will be free to the citizens of Allegany, Frederick, Garret, and Washington Counties. Services of the Center will be available to those individuals whose handicap meets the criteria established by the Maryland State Department of Education. Announcement of the opening date of the Center will be made within a few weeks. When the Directions Center opens, it will be staffed by a full-time counselor, two graduate students and a secretary, in addition to Mr. Weinstein, and will occupy the old Lincoln Kindergarten building located adjacent to the campus of Frostburg State College. The Center will be linked to a central computer which will help the staff to match a child's characteristics with services available to that child. In addition, transportation to and from the Center for parents will also be provided.

Orders may be mailed to your permanent address in the event that you are not going to be on campus to pick them up in the Student Association Office. Orders must be paid for at the time the order is placed. Checks may be made payable to: Frostburg State College Student Association.

This is the only time this year that orders will be taken so please pass the word along to your friends.

Presidential Debate

Ends in Stand-off

On October 20, the Current Political Club sponsored a Presidential debate between representatives of the respective Republican and Democratic presidential candidates. Representing President Ford were Edward J. Mason, Mr. John W. Bambacus, and Mr. George L. Baker Jr. Representing former Governor Jimmy Carter were Mr. Thomas Finen Jr., Mr. Doug Roberts, and Mr. John Bass. Dr. Mike Wallinger moderated the debate.

While the debate dragged in parts, the students who were present were able to get a feel for the tension and pressure involved in the Presidential campaign. While the debate itself was a draw the real winner will be decided on November 2, when the country votes.

The next meeting of the Political Science club will be on November 4 at 7:00 p.m. in Leo House, Cambridge Hall.

Self-Awareness

Group Forms

This Monday from 3-5 p.m. a new group will be starting at the Counseling Center. The purpose of the group will be to increase your self-awareness and to develop your interpersonal skills. The group will give you a chance to meet new people and to share with them. This is an opportunity for you to learn and to grow with people who care.

If you're interested, and want more information, contact the Counseling Center at 689-4234 and make an appointment with either Dominic D'Angelo or Lisa Ratte.

Davis Released As Coach

Michael J. Davis, head football coach at Frostburg State, has been fully relieved of his coaching duties, it was announced recently by a spokesman for the College. The decision to release Davis followed an investigation of an alleged assault and battery by Davis on David Bentley, a student at Frostburg State, following the Bobcats' 55-7 loss to Westminster College last Saturday.

The investigation was conducted by President Nelson Guild, Athletic Director Harold Cordts, and other college officials. Criminal charges which have been preferred by the student, are now in the hands of the State's Attorney. The College will not make a decision on Davis' status as a faculty member until these charges have been concluded. The trial date has been set for November 8.

Oscar Lewis, former assistant coach, will serve as head coach for the remainder of the 1976 football campaign.

Mini-Course Offered

A mini-course on "How to Write Term Papers" will be offered on Wednesday and Thursday, November 3 and 4 in room 210 of the New Library at 7:00 p.m. The first evening will involve a lecture/demonstration on planning and writing techniques, and the second evening will include a tour of the new library as it relates to writing term papers. All students are invited to attend either or both sessions. Interested students should contact Ron Geatz in DH213 or call EXT4482.

Retention Program to be Implemented

A grant of $99,300 from the State of Maryland has been awarded to FSC to implement an Academic Retention Program as a state pilot project. The funds have been awarded to the college based on the success of existing programs. Under the supervision of Dr. Joseph Malak, Coordinator of Special Instructional Programs, the Retention program is designed to serve 250 freshmen and sophomore students who need alternative learning experiences. Along with SIP's other component programs, the Academic Retention Program hopes to increase the student retention rate by boosting student achievement. The strong academic standards at FSC will thereby be maintained. Focal point for the new program will be the Learning Center, equipped with auto-tutorial media stations, a computer terminal, classrooms for full-time basic skills instruction and offices through which tutoring and peer counseling may be requested and assigned. Morris Willey will assume responsibilities as Director for the Learning Center, located in Pullen School. Ron Geatz will be Production/Utilization Assistant. The proposed staff also includes a Learning Specialist and five graduate assistants.

Business Club Expands

The Frostburg State College Business Club, recognized as one of the fastest-growing campus organizations, recently increased its membership to 43 as 17 new students were admitted.

Future activities being planned include seminars on career development, speakers from various segments of the business world, trips to selected industrial firms, and fund raising functions.

A primary goal of the club is to increase student development in areas which classroom experience can not provide.

Information on what today's employer is looking for in terms of new personnel and actual job market conditions are invaluable to all students.

The next meeting of the Business Club is November 8 at 7:00 in 232 Tawes Hall. Everyone is Welcome.

Letters to the Editor

I don't think Mr. Davis should have been terminated from his position because he displayed traits of being human. I feel that when a person lets his principles or his profession destroy his feelings, he then becomes a heartless Robot.

Should a man not defend the honor of his wife and the name of his family? When one becomes a professional, should he then throw away all his feelings and emotions? Because of his profession, should he not be human? Ladies, what would you think of your man if he let your name be slandered and dirtied and left it unchallenged? Men, could you let someone degrade and disrespect someone you loved in such a manner? Mrs. Davis is a wife and a mother.

I can't see why Mr. Davis's actions off the job, during his personal life, should reflect so drastically on his profession. I have personally known him for four years and don't feel that the loss of the game had anything to do with his actions. I feel his actions would have been the same even if the team had won, or under any other circumstances. If any person feels his actions were wrong, I feel sorry for their loved ones.

Joe Wallace

Dear Editor:

Once again, we wish to call your attention to the fact that voters of the State of Maryland will have the opportunity on Election Day, November 2, to vote For or against a State Constitutional Amendment which is important to the citizens of Howard County. On the Ballot, it is Question 4.

Question 4 is "An Act providing for the election of the members of the County Council of Howard County by Councilmanic districts, of by the voter of the entire county, of by a combination of these methods of election."

Please urge the voters of your jurisdiction to vote for this amendment that will allow voters in Howard County to decide how they wish to elect their county council. "Vote county council. Vote FOR Question 4."

Four years ago, every county in Maryland did this for Baltimore County. They have found councilmanic districts very beneficial. Now Howard County needs your support. Please, "Vote FOR Question 4."

The citizens of Howard County will greatly appreciate your cooperation.

Yours truly,
Marie B. Zimmer,
Treasurer, The Committee for Councilmanic Districts

Dr. Tom L. Beauchamp, associate professor of philosophy at Georgetown University and senior research scholar at the Kennedy Institute, will present a lecture entitled "The Justification of Reverse Discrimination." The lecture to be followed by a discussion period is sponsored by the FSC Department of Philosophy and is scheduled for 8:00 p.m., November 3, 1976; Lane Center 201.

The moral problem posed by reverse discrimination can be brought to light by a consideration of the following hypothetical case. Suppose a white male applies for a job. In accordance with the operative affirmative action program, the employer informs him that, though he is highly qualified, his chances of being hired are lessened by the company's commitment to give preference to women and members of minority groups such as blacks. It seems undeniable that the white male in this case is being discriminated against on the basis of his race and sex. Clearly, then, we are confronted with a case of reverse discrimination. It is often argued that any such reverse discrimination is morally unjustified. Reverse discrimination, it is said, violates the principle of equality, which excludes any kind of preference. Dr. Beauchamp, however, argues that reverse discrimination can be morally justified.

Beauchamp's argument develops along the following lines. He concedes that reverse discrimination does violate the principle of equality and so appears to be immoral. But the need to compensate for past discrimination creates a strong obligation to ensure that such discrimination does not continue. Beauchamp maintains that in our present situation, reverse discrimination is necessary as a means to an undeniably justified end. Measures productive of reverse discrimination are necessary to eliminate present and future discriminatory practices and not simply to compensate for past injustices. Beauchamp's argument is in large measure based on the following set of factual claims: (1) Sexual and racial discrimination still exists in our society. (2) The judgments of those who evaluate competing applicants are often affected by subtle sexist and racist attitudes. (3) It is in part because of such attitudes that judgments supposedly based on objective criteria of merit are frequently subjective and discriminatory. (4) In this kind of situation present and future discrimination will not be eliminated unless social measures productive of reverse discrimination are employed.

Bobcats Lose Eighth

Way down in Harrisonburg, Virginia last Saturday the Bobcats played the Madison Dukes in a Super Bowl atmosphere, their programs cost $1.00. The Dukes big time arena, which was jam-packed with at least 8,000 screaming fans, 50 of whom were rooting for the Bobcats, ignited the Bobcats to produce one of their best performances of the season. The final score, 44-7, is in no way a reflection of the Bobcats eighth loss of the season.

Under the supervision of newly acquired head coach Oscar Lewis, the Bobcats appeared to go all out. They were hitting harder than they ever hit before. They made fewer mental mistakes and were responsible for fewer penalties than in any game of the season. They seemed to be under less pressure and had more freedom to exhibit their individual talents and skills. Whether or not this apparent enthusiasm was caused by the long overdue coaching staff change which occurred earlier in the week remains to be seen. But it was clear that something or someone inspired a complete attitude change for the better. The Bobcats performed like champs until they simply exhausted themselves late in the game. The Bobcats couldn't go the distance and that's why Madison won. Our team is in excellent shape but Madison shuffled in rested players right and left while the Bobcats did the same except, our reserve forces were much smaller than theirs and consequently, the team exhausted itself faster.

At the half, the Bobcats had the once number one small college football team in the nation on the ropes, with the score Madison 10, Frostburg 0. Merv Daugherty blocked a Madison punt deep in their own territory but the Bobcats offense couldn't produce a score until number 31, tailback Billy Douglas left the entire Madison defense dazzled and confused after running 94 yards for the Bobcats only score. Madison collected most of their points in the fourth quarter, after it was clear that the Bobcats were physically exhausted and could no longer compete with a team that maintained an unlimited resource of players.

Lacrosse

Coach Bob McFarland has called a meeting of all men who plan to try out for the Men's Lacrosse Team next spring. The meeting will be on Monday evening, November 1st, at 7:00 p.m. in Lane Center, Room 140. All interested students should attend at this time.

Rogers Wins Intramural

After several postponements due to weather conditions, the intramural cross-country meet was held on Thursday, October 21. After winding their way around the athletic fields and Loop Road and through the driving snow flurries, Tom Rogers led the field to the finish line. Trailing Rogers by a matter of seconds were Tom Langan, George Lucas, and Steve Musselman.

Langan took the early lead through the first half of the race and forced a quick pace. With about only a half mile to go Rogers took the lead and held it to the finish line, holding off a late surge by Langan, Lucas, and Musselman.
