Scholar-in-Residence to Speak at MLK Convocation

The Spring 2002 Martin Luther King Convocation will take place on Wednesday, April 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center's Pealer Recital Hall, culminating several days of activities.

Lea Williams

leadership, non-violence and African American Studies.

Williams, executive director of the Women's Leadership Institute at Bennett College in Greensboro, N.C., and former vice president for Educational Services at the United Negro College Fund in New York. A scholar and writer, she is author of "Servants of the People: The 1960's Legacy of African American Leadership."

Describing herself as "an educator by training and experience, a teacher by temperament and a writer by passion," Williams has received the Kentucky State University Distinguished Service Award, the Hilda A. Davis Award for Educational Leadership of the National Association for Women in Education and the Paducah Black Historian Achievement Award in Education. Her article "Missing, Presumed Lost: Teachers of Color in the Nation's Classrooms," published in Black Collegian, won the 1989 Unity Award in Media for education reporting.

As part of FSU's Scholar-in-Residence Program, Williams will meet with student leaders for a discussion and dinner on Monday, April 15. The sponsors for this event are the Department of Student and Community Involvement, the Communication Studies Program and the Leadership Studies Minor.

On Tuesday, April 16, she will present a lecture/discussion, "African American Leaders, Then and Now," from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Lane University Center. This presentation, which is free and open to the public, will focus on African American leaders of the Civil Rights movement, their legacy for minority leadership and the role of campuses in emerging paradigms of minority leadership in the 21st century. A reception will immediately follow the program.

Tuesday evening, the MLK Speak Out Program will take place from 7 to 9 p.m. in the LUC Loft. Students, faculty, staff and the public are invited to this celebration of the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Participants will perform live musical selections, engage in creative readings and short stories and display artwork. Norma Blacke Bourdeau, a professor of African American Studies, English and Philosophy at FSU, will serve as the program facilitator.

On Wednesday, April 17, a Community Service Project is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the FSU Arboretum. For the fourth year, FSU's national service programs invite the public to serve alongside A STAR! and Allen HallSTARS! AmeriCorps members honoring the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The day's service projects will include trail maintenance and placing and securing a gazebo for classroom instruction. For information, contact Sean King at x4210 or sking@frostburg.edu.

After Wednesday evening's Convocation, Williams will conduct a book signing in PAC lobby. Books will be available for purchase from Main Street Books of Frostburg.

For information, contact Bill Mandicott at x4151 or Dr. Philip Allen at x4141.

Singer-Songwriter Paul Skyland to Appear

Paul Skyland will bring his acoustic guitar and original songs to the Lane University Center on Friday, April 12, at 8 p.m. as part of Center Stage's Live at the Loft! Series.

A favorite at college campuses around the U.S., Skyland is a multi-talented artist whose career spans a wide spectrum of the music and entertainment industry. Billings with artists ranging in style from Pure Prairie League and The Badlees to Michael Johnson and Orleans have established Paul as a proven commodity in the concert market.

Skyland has recorded two albums, "Songchild" and "One to One" on the Venture label. He has appeared on the nationally syndicated radio show "Mountain Stage."

For more information, call the LUC Information Desk at x4411.

Mathematics Symposium

The 31st annual FSU Mathematics Symposium, titled "The Spirit of Mathematics: Ideas, Investigations, Illuminations," will be held Friday, April 12. Designed to serve mathematics educators at all levels, the symposium usually brings to campus over 100 mathematics teachers from the Tri-State area.

The keynote speaker is James Rubillo, executive director of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, who will talk on "Communicating the Spirit of the Math Standards to Adults."

In addition, the symposium will feature talks on cryptology, statistics, geometry, incorporating technology into teaching and many other topics. Among the speakers are FSU professors Renny Azzi, Glynn Baugher, Laxman Hegde, Robert Larivee, Kurtis Lemmert and Gerard Wojnar, as well as FSU students Gareth Dimery-Anderson and Sherri Raley.

For information, contact the Mathematics Department at x4384, e-mail Dr. Karen Parks at kparke@frostburg.edu or visit the Symposium Web site at www.frostburg.edu/dept/math/wojnar/mathsymp/2002.

English Colloquium to Highlight Student Papers from 1 to 4:30 pm. Provost, Dr. Steve Simpson will deliver the keynote address, and 23 students from the English and other departments will present their papers in categories ranging from feasibility studies to literary analyses. This showcase offers our outstanding student writers an opportunity to share their papers with a live audience. The Colloquium is open to the public and refreshments will be served. The opening session begins in Appalachian Station at 1 p.m., and the papers will be delivered in concurrent session throughout the afternoon. Call Sharon Ritchie at x4221 for further information.

Speakers

20th Spring Festival of Children's Literature

The FSU's 20th Annual Spring Festival of Children's Literature is slated for Friday and Saturday, April 26 and 27 in the FSU Lane University Center. Embracing the theme "A Patchwork of Story: Celebrating 20 years of Children's Literature," the weekend event will feature the award-winning authors and illustrators Peter Catalanotto, Floyd Cooper, Patricia Reilly Giff and Martin Waddell.

Catalanotto, an author/illustrator, started his career at the Pratt Institute in New York City. According to Catalanotto, he tries to write and illustrate his books in a way that encourages the reader to think.

His book "The Painter" is a "delightful work of art that deserves a place in every collection," notes The School Library Journal. In addition, Catalanotto has illustrated works by well-known authors including Cynthia Rylant and George Ella Lyon.

Cooper, an award-winning children's book author/illustrator, began illustrating as a way of complementing his advertising career. His first book, "Grandpa's Face," is an American Library Association Notable Book. He was also chosen to illustrate books that deal with discrimination such as "Eddie Lee," the story of a young boy with Down's Syndrome.

"I feel children are at the frontline in improving society," Cooper states. "This might sound a bit heavy, but it's true. I feel children's picture books play a role in counteracting all the violence and other negative images conveyed in the media."

Because it is "like breathing to me," Giff begins each day by writing. The award-winning author taught for 20 years before deciding to write for children.

"I want the children to bubble up with laughter or to cry over my books," says Giff. She has written more than 60 books including the Newberry Honor Book "Lily's Crossing." Giff is also the author of the book series "Kids of the Polk Street School." Her novel, "Nory Ryan's Song," was awarded the American Library Association's Best Book for Young Adults.

Northern Ireland native and resident Waddell's life was forever changed when he was injured by a 1969 Belfast bomb explosion. "I became Mr. Mom," he states. "What I didn't know was that I was sitting on the richest vein of ideas."

Waddell's first work "Can't You Sleep, Little Bear?" became the first of this award-winning author's Big and Little Bear stories.

In addition to having written over 100 books for children and young adults, Waddell has worked with outstanding illustrators including Helen Oxenbury.

Throughout its history, the FSU Festival of Children's Literature has welcomed a "packed house" of librarians, educators, parents and students who travel to Western Maryland to share their love of children's literature and learn more about the successful ways to share that love with children.

This year's agenda includes small group sessions and large group presentations offered in topics ranging from using children's literature as bibliotherapy, to using brown bags to help integrate children's literature into students' homes. Participants will have the opportunity to mingle with fellow educators and exchange ideas, purchase books and learn from the wisdom and experience that the visiting authors share.

In addition to the numerous workshops, the Festival includes the R. Margaret Hamilton Children's Hour for children ages 4 to 13, Friday, April 26, beginning at 4 p.m. in the Lane University Center. Age-specific programs by the guest authors offer an opportunity for them to share their works with children and to offer guidance in the process of writing, illustrating and enjoyment of literature. Contact Bruce, Kristy or Mairead at x4420 to register for these sessions.

Admission to the Festival is limited and by registration only. Pre-orders and autographing for featured books is also available. Contact Dr. William Bingham, Director of the Children's Literature Centre, at x4420 for information and registration.

Writer Daniel Mark Epstein to Offer Reading

The Department of English and Western Maryland Writers' Workshop will feature Baltimore writer Daniel Mark Epstein on Tuesday, April 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lane University Center Room 201.

An award-winning poet, essayist, playwright, translator, biographer and musician, Epstein has read to enthusiastic audiences throughout Western Europe, Africa and the United States.

In his most recent collection, "The Traveler's Calendar," the poems — by turns mysterious, tender, ironic and apocalyptic — explore the healing power of poetry in times of crises. "A book of night thoughts, of the poet in the middle of his life peering backward, marveling at the mysteries, dramatizing other lives and daydreaming about his own, crafting his song with a gift and a passion, as he so forcefully puts it, 'for filling/Darkness with music'," notes poet Edward Hirsh.

A reception and booksigning will follow the 7:30 p.m. reading.

This event is free and open to the public. For information, contact the FSU Department of English at x4221.

Appalachian Lab Spring Seminar Series

"Modeling Multiple Ecological Scales to Link Landscape Theory to Wildlife Conservation" will be presented by Thomas C. Edwards Jr., of the Utah Cooperative Fish and Wildlife Research United and Department of Fisheries and Wildlife at Utah State University. The presentation, Thursday, April 11, at 3:30 p.m. in AL room 109, is part of the Appalachian Lab spring seminar series.

Art

'Traces of Reality' Opens at Roper April 12

"Traces of Reality," featuring artwork by FSU students Jennifer DeMarco, Wanda Wagus and Gregory Davidson, will be exhibited in the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery in the Fine Arts Building.

An opening reception will be held Friday, April 12, at 7 p.m. in the gallery, and is free and open to the public. Regular gallery hours are Sunday through Wednesday from noon to 4 p.m.

DeMarco will graduate in May with a BFA in art and design and a minor in art history. Her primary focus is metal sculpture using brass, copper and steel. She creates both large sculptural forms and sculptural jewelry.

Wagus is a local artist residing in LaVale with her four children. A printmaker, she prefers linoleum block printing. She will graduate in May with a BFA in art and design, an art history minor and a K-12 teaching certification. She hopes to teach locally while pursuing an MFA.

Davidson will graduate with a BFA and a certificate in graphic design, along with an art history minor. His focus has been graphic design, photography and painting.

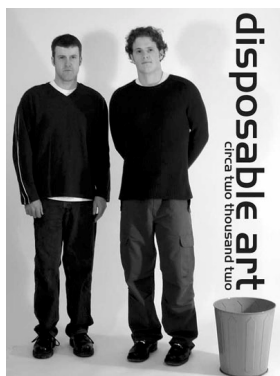

For information, contact the Department of Visual Art at x4797.

Spiker Brothers' Works Featured at Roper

The artwork of local brothers Shawn and Shane Spiker, students at FSU, will be featured at the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery in the Fine Arts Building through Wednesday, April 10.

Gallery hours are Sunday through Wednesday from noon to 4 p.m.

The Spiker brothers, both graduates of Northern High School in Garrett County, disposable art

circa two thousand two

began their college careers with different ambitions and only recently decided to change their majors to art and design. "Disposable Art," which includes both graphic design and fine art media, presents the artists' artwork as a fully interactive, artistic commentary. The show fulfills the Visual Arts Department's senior thesis requirement for both of the Spikers, who will soon graduate from FSU.

For information, contact the FSU Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

Music

Plitnik to Present Trombone Recital

Brian Plitnik will give a faculty trombone recital on Tuesday, April 9, at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center's Pealer Recital Hall. Chris McCabe will accompany on piano.

The program will consist of: "Basta" by Folke Rabe, "Sonatina" by Kazimierz Serocki, "Concertino" by Lars-Erik Larsson, "Arie et Polonaise" by Joseph Jongen, "Cavatine" by Camille Saint-Saëns and "A Day in the City" by Howard Buss.

Plitnik serves as adjunct music faculty at both FSU and WVU and has performed in the region with Stage Left Theatre, Apple Alley Players, Emmanuel Brass and the Johnstown Symphony Orchestra.

The recital is free and open to the public. For information, call x4109.

Theatre

'Ubu Roi' Presented by Season Too!

"Ubu Roi," the 1896 absurdist play by Alfred Jarry, will be presented in the PAC Drama Theatre Friday and Saturday, April 12 and 13, at 8 p.m. All tickets are $2. This satirical reworking of "Macbeth" is directed by John Bennett and stars Jessica Dukes as Pa Ubu and Chris Krystoviak as Ma Ubu.

University Theatre to Present 'Fuddy Meers'

University Theatre will present the play "Fuddy Meers" on Friday and Saturday, April 19 and 20; and Thursday through Saturday, April 25 through 27, at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center F. Perry Smith Studio Theatre. A matinee is set for Saturday, April 20 at 2 p.m.

"Fuddy Meers" explores the strange dilemma of Claire, who loses her memory whenever she sleeps. Every morning, her husband explains her condition and gives her a book filled with essential information about her life. When a man in a ski mask enters her house and claims to be her brother coming to rescue her, Claire begins a strange journey to find her past and forgotten life. Her adventure brings her into contact with several outrageous characters, including a dimwitted thug, a claustrophobic policewoman and a crude hand puppet. Claire's virtual roller-coaster ride as an amnesiac in search of her fractured life is hilarious, yet disturbing and poignant.

Tickets are $3 for students and $7 for the general public. For reservations and information, call the Department of Theatre at x7462, Monday through Friday, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Take Note

Spring Convocation Scheduled for April 18

Dr. Gira's Spring Convocation will be held on Thursday, April 18, at 3:30 p.m. in the PAC Drama Theatre.

Name the Hall: Be a Part of FSU History

You can make a contribution that will be a permanent part of FSU. A new residence hall will be built on the lower end of campus, due to open for students in the fall of 2003, and FSU is looking for a name. All members of the campus community are encouraged to submit suggestions.

In response to student requests at the time they were built, all the newer (downhill) residence halls have been named for cities in Maryland. That history will be taken into account, but all suggestions will be considered.

Send your ideas by April 22 with your name, phone and e-mail address to Liz Medcalf by campus mail at 228 Hitchins or by e-mail at emedcalf@frostburg.edu.

This is your chance to have lots more than 15 minutes of fame and be a part of FSU forever.

New Major in Urban and Regional Planning

In fall 2002 FSU students will be able to major in Urban and Regional Planning. The new major will be available for continuing, new, and transfer students who seek a career in planning. The new major will lead to the bachelor of science degree in urban and regional planning. Majors will also complete a two-course sequence in community planning, mapping sciences, tourism planning or environmental planning.

The Department of Geography will provide advising for students in the new major. The current urban concentration in the geography major will be discontinued in the fall. The new major represents a substantial updating of requirements, but utilizes existing courses.

The new major and degree is a cooperative effort of the Departments of Geography, Political Science, Economics and Sociology.

Students interested in the new major should see Dr. Henry Bullamore in the Department of Geography (DH 309, x4413). There are partial scholarships available for majors in the program.

Summer School to Offer Beginning Japanese

FSU will offer a Beginning Japanese Language class during the 2002 Summer School Program, from June 10 to Aug. 13.

The class will meet Monday through Friday, 11 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., in 201 Lowndes Hall. This course will offer 3 credits for students, but is open to the general public. Shuko Takase, a visiting instructor from Japan who is now working in FSU's Department of Foreign Languages and Literature, will teach the class. For information and registration, call x4348.

Payroll Deductions Exceed $12,600

The FSU Foundation received $12,634 during the calendar year 2001 from faculty and staff payroll deduction designations. Employees wanting to make a charitable payroll deduction in support of programs for 2002, may still do so. To complete the deduction through the Central Payroll Bureau contact Jack Aylor, x4161.

Advising Reception: Educational Professions

All education majors and other majors who are taking the Education sequence (Physics, Mathematics, Art, PE, etc.) are invited to an advising reception in Framptom Hall 103-105 on Monday, April 8, from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. Students and faculty will have an opportunity to discuss advisement concerns and ask questions informally. More formal advisement will be offered in breakout groups arranged according to catalog year and specific programs following the time to mix and mingle. Light refreshments will be provided.

Commemorative Quilt to be Raffled

An impressive collection of children's literature authors and illustrators have helped create a quilt that will be sold by raffle to commemorate the 20th anniversary of FSU's Children's Literature Festival.

The 2002 Spring Festival of Children's Literature, "A Patchwork of Story: Celebrating 20 Years of Children's Literature," will highlight the raffle as a fund-raising effort to help support the Centre and its future events and activities. Set for April 26 and 27, the Festival features authors and illustrators Peter Catalanotto, Floyd Cooper, Patricia Reilly Giff and Martin Waddell.

Composed of 59 squares, each measuring six square inches, the quilt includes drawings, signatures and messages from many noted names in the world of children's literature. All contributors from the United States and around the globe have participated in previous events sponsored by the Centre. The quilt, which measures five square feet, will find a home when the raffle is completed next October.

For information about the raffle, the Spring Festival or the Centre, call Dr. William Bingman at x4420 or contact him by e-mail at wbingman@frostburg.edu.

Commencement Announcement

Students planning to complete their studies during the current semester (spring 2002) must first officially file for graduation. Undergraduate students should contact the Registrar's Office (x4349, 144 Pullen Hall), while graduate students should submit all necessary paperwork to Graduate Services (x7053, 141 Pullen Hall).

Mailings regarding Commencement are sent only to those students who have completed all filing requirements.

Caps and gowns are provided at no charge to all students cleared to participate in the Commencement Ceremony; however, each student is responsible for placing an order in advance. Orders should be submitted to the University Bookstore immediately.

Information about Commencement is always available on the University's Web site. Go to www.frostburg.edu/events/commenc.htm. For information, contact Beth Deatelhauser in Special Academic Services, x3130, 127 PAC, or via e-mail at bdeatelhauser@frostburg.edu.

Last Chance for Graduation Exceptions

April 11 is the last date for requesting exceptions to graduation and commencement participation requirements for undergraduates wanting to graduate or participate in the May 2002 commencement. After this date, the commencement booklet will be published and no further exceptions will be considered.

To request an exception, a written request, along with all documentation and support letters, must be received in the Office of the Provost, Hitchins 213, no later than 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 11, for consideration at the last Academic Standards Subcommittee of this year.

If you have been informed by the Registrar's Office that you have not met graduation requirements, appeal by this date if you have a basis to do so, or tell your family that you are not eligible to participate in the May commencement.

Points of Pride

FSU's Chapter of the National Broadcasting Society participated in the National Broadcasting Society's 2002 National Conference, held in March in Atlanta, Ga.

FSU's chapter received the National Community Service Award for its organizational leadership abilities and community service efforts. Chapter President Tina Woodard received the National Rookie Member Award and a travel grant.

With support from FSU's Student Government Association, the organization sent Woodard, Treasurer Kimberly Miller, Secretary Jennifer Grant, members Katherine Wallace and Linnea Grant and advisors Dr. John Lombardi and Melanie Lombardi to the conference.

The S.A.F.E. Office and Human Resources would like to thank everyone who participated in the third Annual Health and Wellness Fair last Tuesday. Over 112 students, staff and faculty received some type of massage therapy and several people won door prizes. The winners were: Carmen Jackson, Walkman; Lynn Davis, T-shirt; Brooke Williams, T-shirt; Beth Broome, T-shirt; Candice Thomas, gift certificate (FSU bookstore); Kelly Vaden, gift certificate (FSU bookstore); Susie Yates, gift certificate (FSU bookstore); Ellen Callis, flowers.

Volunteers

Service Project at Frostburg Village

On Monday, April 8, at 7 p.m., UCM members will conduct a service project at Frostburg Village Nursing Care Center. Meet at 6:30 behind Ort Library.

Get Involved

National Broadcasting Society

Are you looking for a way to build a career in graphic design, Web design, journalism, photography, and/or marketing?

If you are a hard-working individual who is creative, ambitious and wants an opportunity to show off your skills and possibly receive national recognition for your efforts, than the National Broadcasting Society is looking for you.

NBS is a great organization to help you build your portfolio and resume'. We are seeking those who are experienced in the above-mentioned areas of photography, web design, journalism, graphic design and marketing.

Those who are experienced in these areas and have their own equipment are needed to fill positions within the organization on a project-to-project basis.

Projects entail creating and maintaining an active Web site for the chapter, promoting upcoming television shows and events, as well as designing logos, posters and other forms of advertisement for television, print (writing radio public service announcements and news press releases), and other broadcasting venues.

If selected to fill either position, you will not be asked to join the organization's chapter, unless you so desire. Individuals will work on a free-lance, volunteer basis.

If you are interested either submit a letter of interest to Lane Center Box 289, Attention Tina Woodard or call x7275 for more information. If you want to e-mail samples of your work, you can do so by sending samples to nbs_fsu@hotmail.com.

FSU's NBS Chapter to Host Video Competition

FSU's Chapter of the National Broadcasting Society will host FSU's first annual Campus Wide Video Competition on April 21 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Lane University Center's Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall.

The purpose of this competition is to encourage and reward students for their accomplishments in video production. The competition includes both organizational and individual categories. Awards will be given for directing, writing, editing and performance.

The National Broadcasting Society Video Competition Committee and its advisors will judge all entries. Entries will be judged based on originality, performance, technicality, creativity and composition. Winners will be announced at the awards ceremony in the LUC's Alice Manicur Assembly Hall on Sunday, April 21, from 7 to 9 p.m. Judges will not participate in the competition.

All entries must be produced by FSU students, faculty or staff. Due to limited space and equipment in the mass communications department, participants must be self-sufficient and provide their own video and editing equipment, props, wardrobe, location and other necessities.

Entry procedures are as follows.

- Each entry must be submitted with an entry form completed in its entirety.
- Each entry must be accompanied with a $10 submission fee. Checks should be made payable to National Broadcasting Society, FSU Chapter.
- Entries must be on standard VHS tapes, recorded at standard play (SP).

- Entries must be between 3 and 10 minutes in length.

- All entries must be cued at the beginning of the tape.

- Each tape must be in a box, labeled on the top or front and on the tape itself with entry title, entrant's/organization's name and address, competition category and program length.

- If you borrow a script, or clips from copyrighted productions, include the authors' name and production title on the entry form.

- No extreme violence, nudity, excessive profanity, sexual content or drug and alcohol endorsements.

- There will be no refunds.

For more information and entry forms, contact Jennie Grant, NBS committee chair, at (301) 687-0857 or e-mail us at nbs_fsu@hotmail.com.

United Campus Ministry

On Saturday, April 13, UCM will take a tour of Kentuck Knob, a home in Chalkhill, Pa., that was designed by world-famous architect Frank Lloyd Wright, and the Bruderhof, a Christian community in nearby Farmington, Pa. For more information, call x7490.

Catholic Campus Ministry

On Saturday, April 13, CCM will take a trip to Swallow Falls. Meet at the Osborne Newman Center at 10 a.m. For more information, call (301) 689-5041.

Supplemental Instructors Wanted

FSU's Learning Center is looking for students to participate in the Supplemental Instruction (SI) Program. A Supplemental Instructor attends a selected course, models good student behavior (like reading the book, taking notes, asking questions), and coordinates a weekly lab where students participate in structured activities designed to improve classroom and test-taking performance.

Current positions, among others, include History 100, Sociology 100, and English 101.

Students interested in teaching or tutoring are encouraged to apply, but the positions are available to any FSU student willing to share study tips and motivate students!

An SI Leader receives a stipend of $250.00 and Education Field Experience credits. Job duties include class attendance, weekly supervisor conference, and a one-hour per week lab.

Opportunities for additional service, and pay, are available.

For applications or additional information, please visit the Learning Center, 150 Pullen Hall, or contact Dr. Sandy Eckard at x3064 or seckard@frostburg.edu.

Attention Past Student Telemarketers

The Office of University Advancement, Office of Annual Giving will be conducting its 2002 Annual Fund Spring Telemarketing Campaign from Monday, April 8 (TRAINING) to Thursday, April 25. Student Telemarketers who helped with the 2001 Fall Campaign need to contact Chris Harmon (x4758 or cjhrmon@frostburg.edu) ASAP to let him know that they will be participating and to arrange their spring schedule. We will begin soliciting contributions from alumni, friends and parents for unrestricted gifts to the University beginning on Tuesday, April 9.

Student Telemarketers

Twenty positions are available. The positions are part-time evenings for the months of April and May, paying $6.50 to $8.50 per hour. The Office of University Advancement, Office of Annual Giving is now hiring experienced telemarketers to help with the 2002 Annual Fund Spring Telemarketing Campaign. This is an excellent opportunity to earn extra money and gain experience in telemarketing. Candidates will be responsible for soliciting contributions from alumni, friends and parents for unrestricted gifts to the University.

The position requires prior telemarketing experience, excellent organization and communication skills. Advanced marketing and sales skills are a must. Candidates must be available to work Sundays through Thursdays from 5:30 to 9 p.m.

Interested candidates may pick up an application April 1 at the Office of Annual Giving, Hitchins Room 228.

Candidates hired for the Spring Phonathon will be eligible for employment for the Fall Telemarketing Campaign in November.

International

Ireland Exchange Info. Meeting April 8

A second information meeting for students interested in the spring 2003 exchange program with Mary Immaculate College in Limerick is scheduled for Monday, April 8, at 5 p.m. in the Fuller House. All students are welcome to attend. Those who attended the first meeting in February may come to this meeting to ask further questions or hand in applications.

Deadline to apply is April 30. For information, contact Amy Simes at x3091 or Dr. Ken Witmer at x4357.

Apply Now for Fall, Spring Study Abroad

A few spaces remain open for students who want to study abroad fall semester 2002 through UNN, AustraLearn, or some ISEP, AIFS or SIT programs. Deadlines are approaching in mid to late April. Student who want to study abroad spring 2003 need to apply as soon as possible. There are many overseas opportunities in a wide variety of locations. Students who are interested in studying through the International Student Exchange Program (ISEP) during spring 2003 are urged to apply now. Deadline for spring is Sept. 1.

Study Abroad Programs

The Center for International Education offers a variety of ways for FSU students to see the world. In many cases students register at FSU during a semester abroad and can take all financial aid with them and transfer credit back to FSU. For information on any of the programs or scholarships that may be available, check with Dr. Amy Simes at the CIE in the Fuller House on Braddock Road, call her at x3091 or e-mail her at asimes@frostburg.edu, or visit the CIE web page at www.frostburg.edu/admin/cie/cie.htm.

School for International Training

FSU is affiliated with the School for International Training (SIT). This enables FSU students to study through SIT in over 50 locations while remaining registered at FSU. All financial aid will transfer. SIT offers programs in Africa, Asia, South America, Europe and Austral-asia. This is a fantastic opportunity for students who would like to spend a semester, year or summer off the beaten track.

Study in Limerick, Ireland, Spring 2003

Students interested in taking part in the Ireland Exchange Program in Limerick during spring 2003 are encouraged to pick up an application at the CIE office. Participants in the program study at Mary Immaculate College and take one FSU class and three MIC classes. Next spring, Dr. Kenneth Witmer (Educational Professions) will accompany the group and will teach three classes. All financial aid will transfer and scholarships are available.

Study Down Under: Australia, New Zealand

FSU is affiliated with AustraLearn, an organization that provides unique opportunities for students to study at universities in Australia and New Zealand. AustraLearn arranges cheap flights, an orientation program on the Great Barrier Reef, pre-registration and transcript evaluation. Students may choose from a range of courses at campuses in exotic surroundings. Scholarships are available from both FSU and AustraLearn. Applications for fall 2002 and spring 2003 are now being accepted.

Study in Newcastle, England

Students interested in studying at the University of Northumbria in Newcastle, England, may apply now for spring 2003 semester. Newcastle is one of the liveliest cities in the UK, just across the Channel from Amsterdam, and three hours north of London (one hour south of Edinburgh) by train. Courses are available in a wide variety of subjects. The cost is about the same as one semester at FSU and all financial aid will transfer.

Semester Overseas for Same Price as FSU

The International Student Exchange Program allows FSU students to register at FSU, pay FSU tuition and housing, and then study overseas for a semester, year or summer at one of more than 200 locations. Students may take financial aid with them and apply for scholarships from the CIE. Students may choose programs taught in English or other languages. For the price of an airline ticket, this is a great way to earn credit toward an FSU degree while enjoying life in a foreign culture. Apply now for spring 2003.

Choose from Over 20 Locations to Study

FSU affiliates with the American Institute for Foreign Study, which offers study abroad programs at a variety of universities around the world. Programs are open to all majors. Study in Prague, South Africa or Japan. Register at FSU and use your financial aid for all programs. AIFS offers scholarships to qualified students. Apply now for spring 2003.

Do Your Student Teaching in Copenhagen

Education majors who would like to earn a semester of FSU credits while studying in Denmark should apply now for the spring 2003 semester's exchange program with the KDAS School of Teacher Training in Copenhagen. Students complete projects and spend several weeks in Danish schools practicing student teaching skills. All courses are in English. Financial aid transfers and scholarships are available.

Gain Work/Volunteer Experience Overseas

Students interested in working abroad should come by the CIE for information about internships, volunteer organizations and paid work overseas. Many organizations help students obtain jobs and work permits, and some help to arrange housing as well. Students can choose from short experiences (one to two months) to longer experiences (four to 12 months), or even look into a more serious commitment (one to three years). Destinations are available throughout the world.

Learn More about Study Abroad

Students who would like to learn more about study abroad opportunities and how they fit into a degree program may come to the CIE. The CIE staff will provide an overview of study abroad programs and requirements and have applications available. Scholarship and financial aid information will also be available. Students may use the CIE library and computer to search for programs. Many videos are also available.

Music from Around the World

Tune in to the university's commercial-free radio station, WFWM (91.9 FM), every Wednesday between 7 and 8 p.m. for

"Planet Frostburg." Listen to both traditional and contemporary world music and get the latest announcements from the CIE about study abroad opportunities.
