

Dance Highlights Seniors' Day Program

Annual High School Seniors' Day found STC host to several hundred high school seniors from all over Maryland. After registration at 3:00 P.M., a tour of the main building and the women's dormitory began, while high school faculty guests were entertained in the Social Room.

An athletic demonstration was presented in the gymnasium at 4:15 P.M. by the physical education departments. Miss Althea Whitney's classes performed a fascinating group drill to music, folk and square dances, and a jump-rope routine to "School Days." Featuring two clowns, June Thorne and Becky Flurer of the freshman class, a tumbling exhibition ended the girls' part of the program. Under the direction of Mr. Benn Maggs, the boys' program consisted of tumbling and apparatus.

At 5:15 P.M. the men students were hosts at open house and a tour of the men's dormitory. Following this, dinner was served in the dining hall.

This year's program included a number of interesting and unusual exhibits. Room 276, the art laboratory, was the scene of a display of waffle mats woven in contrasting colors, wood plaques, colorful paper mache' maps, a mechanical drawing exhibit, and selected art work, all of which were done under the instruction of Miss Henrietta Purnell.

Dr. Francis' exhibit in Room 119A will be remembered as one of the most interesting ones. Of particular interest were three lovely colored etchings which were bought by Dr. Francis in Paris. Other exhibits were arranged in connection with biology, audio-visual aids, chemistry, literature, and public speaking, music, nursing, physics, psychology, Future Teachers of America, and the library.

After these tours of interesting exhibits, the guests were entertained in the auditorium, where they lived all the exciting moments of a college student's life. The show was a student production produced by Carl Rathgeber and directed by Shirley Bowdle. The assistant producer was Sis Givans.

Carl Rathgeber, a junior from Salisbury, is active in the Salisbury Art League, Community Players, and is chairman of the play selection committee for the Sophanes Players. Carl's work in dramatics is highly admired and respected throughout the campus. His last achievement before this was the designing of a set for the Sophanes Players' production "Pink and Patches."

Shirley Bowdle, a junior from Williamsburg, Maryland, is also an active member of the Sophanes Players, serving this year as vice-president. In the production "Pink and Patches" she served as student director. Early in the year Miss Bowdle distinguished herself by winning the Harvest Queen title. Sis Givans, another native of Salisbury, will be remembered as the student who "fainted" in the

Campus Leaders Named On High School Seniors' Day

In the early part of February last, the balloting for the Campus Leaders of Salisbury Teachers College took place. The results of the balloting were announced by Dr. J. D. Blackwell, at the annual High School Seniors' Day Program. Everyone was pleased with the results.

At STC students feel that it is a great honor even to be nominated for one of these awards, to win one is an honor to be treasured throughout the rest of our lifetime. In later years the awards will be remembered as a part of the wonderful and happy life they spent at STC.

The eight awards and their requirements were created when the college was founded. There have been many fine persons to receive one of these awards. In many cases the recipients have gone on to become outstanding leaders in their communities. Some of the more recent winners have been: Donald Reed, James Williams, John O'Brian, John Day, Nancy Strosacker, and Catherine Widowson.

Miss STC, the highest honor that can be won by a girl student at the College, was won this year by Barbara Jones. The requirements for this award include: doing something outstanding for the College, possessing a character above reproach, be an excellent leader, and be trustworthy and cooperative.

Bobbie fills the qualifications easily. She is the editor-in-chief of the yearbook, an honor roll student, member of the Sophanes Players, and a member of the Philosophy Club. In her past years she has been a member of the Cheer Leading squad, the Gull Wings, the HOLLY LEAF, and the girls' basketball team. Bobbie is indeed Miss STC.

The counterpart of Miss STC is Mr. STC. The qualifications are the same as that of Miss STC, plus that he must be an outstanding member of the Senior class. After much thought and evaluation, the students have decided that William Horner fits the title best.

"Uncle Willy" is the trade-mark of STC. He's quiet and intensely active in school affairs. He is at present the President of the Student Government Association, an outstanding member of the Newman Club, a tenor in the Glee Club, and a member of the Snack Bar Committee. In addition to these duties he has maintained a better-than-average scholastic standing.

Of course we all look towards May Day, this year's Queen will be Ingrid Esterson, a pretty member of the Junior class. Ingrid surely does possess the countenance of a Queen. Escorting her to her throne will be William Kniceley, a handsome member of the Senior class.

Every Queen has a court, and in Ingrid's will be Shirley Young, Duchess, and Charles Navratil, her escort. Of course there will be others but these are the supreme choices of the student body.

The Most Scholarly Woman award went to Esther Harrington. Esther is a Sophomore from Princess Anne. She is quiet and possesses a fine sense of humor. We expect her to keep up her excellent record in the remaining years at the College.

Con Dryden, a close neighbor of Esther's in Princess Anne, is this year's choice for the Most Scholarly Man Award. Con is one of the finest and most sincere boys at the College. In addition to maintaining his excellent scholastic average, he has been the advertising manager of the Evergreen, and we might add, has done an extremely well job.

Athletics comprise a major part of the life at STC. Many fine athletes have been made at the College. In the past they have included such persons as: Betty Calcott, Denny O'Brien, Marie Doyle, and Bobby Fithian. This year is a little different from the others because many think that these two persons are among the best ever turned out by the school.

The Best Woman Athlete for 1953-54 is Harriet Dickinson. Harriet was a member of the volleyball team, the hockey team, and the basketball team. In her spare time she has aided Miss Whitney in her officiation of the intramural teams.

On the soccer team this year was a wing that could hook a ball past the best of goalies, he also played on the basketball team with such success as to have one of the higher scoring averages. You'd think with this schedule that he wouldn't have time for much else, but he found time to squeeze in volleyball and the Gym Club. Without any doubt Bill Eley is the Best Man Athlete at STC.

Thus is culminated the awards for 1953-54. The students wish the winners happiness and continued success in the future.

Mrs. Bennett Honored At Sophanes Banquet

The Sophanes Players of the State Teachers College at Salisbury, Maryland held a banquet on Tuesday evening, March 9, in the college dining hall. Mrs. Lucy W. Bennett, professor of Literature and Speech at STC, was the guest of honor. Mrs. Bennett founded the Sophanes Players and did much to develop the dramatics at STC. The president of the Sophanes Players, James Hastings, presented flowers to Mrs. Bennett and also to the faculty advisor of the organization, Mrs. A. L. Fleming.

Miss Audrey Stewart, who holds Guidance Director's position at the Wicomico High School, was guest speaker at the banquet. Miss Stewart is very prominent in the field of dramatics in Salisbury and has done outstanding jobs of acting in the Community Players productions. The members of the college

AS THE EDITORS SEE IT

Once again it is Senior's Day at the Salisbury State Teachers College and we, the students, together with the faculty join in welcoming you to our college and expressing our wish that you may find us both interesting and entertaining. Once a year we take this opportunity to open wide our doors and extend our warmest welcome to you high school seniors in an effort to let you see STC at its best and to make you realize as we do that STC is a wonderful school to attend.

We like our college and we are proud of it! We are earnestly interested in all the events that take place here and the people who are concerned in these events. We appreciate the "big, happy family" feeling that STC as a small college can offer. We realize that it is a constantly growing college and we are proud of the fact that we are helping to make it grow. We are conscious of its needs as well as its assets and we are impatient to see our ambitions and hopes for it realized. In short, we think our school is a pretty special place.

So, look around. Examine the classrooms and the grounds. Talk to some of our students and see how they feel about the school and try to discover the pleasant atmosphere that surrounds STC. We think you'll like what you see and we hope you appreciate it as we do. Above all, make yourself at home and have a good time. For that is one of our main reasons for having this event - we want you to enjoy yourself! Please do...

President's Message

On behalf of the twenty-five members of the faculty and three hundred students, I wish to extend greetings to all prospective college students on this, our nineteenth annual High School Seniors' Day. The doors of our College have been opened to you. You were doubtless interested in our activity center, auditorium, classrooms, gymnasium, lounge, library and social room in the main building; and the administrative offices and men's dormitory with annex, located on the thirty recently-acquired acres of our campus. We hope you also visited the President's new home, and the Demonstration School under construction. A new $213,000 library building will be erected between the main building and the men's dormitory. We think you will be interested in examining the architect's drawing of our present and projected campus buildings in the corridor of the main building.

We trust that our day's program of athletic demonstrations, classroom exhibits, guidance conferences with faculty members, dinner, announcement of scholastic honors, campus leaders and achievement key winners, our presentation of college talent in "Local Color" and the closing dance, has been an enjoyable and profitable experience.

It has, we assure you, been a genuine pleasure to have had you with us on this occasion. If this opportunity to observe college students in their academic pursuits and recreational activities has aided you in some measure in planning your own future, we shall indeed be rewarded. We shall be delighted to have you re-visit the College, bringing your parents with you.

We congratulate you upon your approaching high school graduation. We know your parents' pride in you will be continuously justified as you meet success in broader and broader experiences.

Fred Johnson, a sophomore from Cedar Falls, Iowa, was the man behind the lights. Mr. Johnson, a science major, has become a part of every production here at STC through his adroit handling of the switchboard and has recently distinguished himself by winning a science award from the Chemical Rubber Company.

The day ended in gala fashion with an informal dance from 9:30 to 11:55 P.M. in the gymnasium. With music furnished by Will Smith and his "Musical Knights," the dance was a fine way to close the day.

Spotlighting Students

This is a special issue of the HOLLY LEAF and we are spotlighting two of our very special seniors. Donald Collins was born March 25, 1932, in Salisbury and has been a resident here ever since. He attended North Salisbury Elementary School.

Don was a student at Wi-Hi and for four years served as president of his homeroom. He was in the cast of his junior and senior class plays and was outstanding in intramural sports (mainly football, basketball and softball).

In 1950 Don entered STC as a day student and took the Junior College Curriculum. He was automatically a member of the Men's Day Association, and again Don was interested in intramural sports. As a junior he was treasurer of the Men's Day Association, on the June Ball Committee, and active in sports. Now as a senior this spry individual is treasurer of the Student Government Association, and was a dependable member of the varsity soccer squad.

This "real gone kid" likes many things among which we find Budweiser, Kesslers, Chuck and Al, blondes, piazza pie, STC, Mr. Martin and Coach Maggs, women's garters, and math.

Don's only gripe is "that fellow McCarthy."

As immediate future plans develop Don will probably spend two years in the service and then teach mathematics. Eventually, he wants to work for a master's degree. Then he plans to get married and rear a large family.

This spirited fellow has all the essentials for becoming a topnotch citizen and we are sure he will. We wish you all of the luck and happiness in the world, Donnie.

Doris Louetta Lutz was born August 1, 1933 in Baltimore, Md. She attended No. 65 Elementary School in Baltimore. She moved to Church Creek in her Junior year of high school and attended Cambridge High School. Here she was a member of the dramatics club, newspaper and yearbook staffs, and biology and chemistry clubs.

In her freshman and sophomore years at STC she belonged to the Christian Association, was president of the FTA and has been a member of state committees for three years. She was also a member of the college chorus. As a junior, Doris continued to be connected with, and active in, FTA. As a senior she is in the FTA, a member of the Philosophy Club, and layout editor of the Evergreen. She is student teaching at Princess Anne in the core curriculum. In the summers Doris works in the laboratory at Campbells Soup.

Doris likes bridge, ping-pong, tea, mashed potatoes, and before vacation get-togethers.

Her dislikes include hillbilly music and people who won't stand up for their beliefs.

In the future she wants to be a successful teacher. Her ambition is to obtain her degree and teach science in high school and, eventually, to become a professor in a college.

Seniors to Visit Hartford County

During the course of the Senior Year each and every Senior in the class suddenly becomes conscious of the prospects of teaching the following year. To help the Seniors with this problem the Administration has arranged various interviews for the group.

Since the beginning of the year the members of the class have been interviewed by representatives from Harford and Anne Arundel Counties and Baltimore City. As a result of these meetings the class is planning a trip to Harford County and the surrounding areas on the eighth and ninth of April. The purpose of the trip is to enable the Seniors to see the various aspects of the school systems to be visited.

Deciding on a definite place to teach is one of the hardest problems facing a graduate. A number of things must be taken into consideration. Among the factors influencing any decision are the following: relative distance from home, type and size of school, salary scale, and positions open to the graduate's field of interest. With the help of the visitation and the previous interviews the problem lessens in its proportions for the Seniors.

Welcome, High School Seniors!

Girls Finish Winter Sports Schedule

The girls' varsity basketball team finished the season with three victories and three defeats. All of the games were close and several times, one point made the big difference in the final score. Let's look at the bright side first: we downed Goldey - Beacom, 41-36; Kings, 47-46; and Goucher, 26-21. We came out on the losing end to Towson, 52-51. Goldey - Beacom, 45-36, and Kings, 39-38. It was that one point difference in the Towson game that really hurt.

Coach Alethea Whitney had this comment to make, "It was an excellent team and I feel that the small schedule was their biggest handicap. Next year we hope to play more schools." Unless there are some transfers, the same experienced team will be here next year to make '55 a much better season in basketball.

Intramural basketball games are still under way. The five teams have adopted the last name of their coach to use as squad names. Carolyn Bennett, "Sis" Givans, Peggy Ross, Pat Gardner, and Frances Johnson are the coaches. The girls are participating in a "Round Robin" tournament and after every team has played every other team, they will eliminate to a four-place competition. Then, the play offs will run until one team becomes the champion.

Spring is well on its way and new ideas in sports are ready to be put into practice. There will be intramurals in softball, tennis and badminton. Everyone interested in softball and badminton will have the opportunity to compete with others. The best players in these competitions will go on a few trips to other colleges to spend the day and to participate in these sports. The gym classes can look forward to archery, something that is good for the posture as well as being great fun!

Gulls Top Towson 61-58

The Gulls ended the season right by humbling Towson State Teachers in an even battle 61-58. Displaying good teamwork, the Salisburyans managed to keep a lead all through the game. Coach Benn Maggs employed a stiff zone defense which proved effective. The scoring for the STC'ers was evenly distributed with Roland Fosky contributing 19 to lead the Cagers.

The score: Salisbury Teachers: Fosky 7-5-19; Eley 3-5-11; Ayers, R. 3-3-9; Navratil 4-4-12; Long 4-1-9; Slacum 0-1-1; (18-29-47-61). Towson Teachers: Livingston 4-6-16; Taymans 1-1-3; Spitzonas 4-5-13; Lastner 6-0-12; Venetulis 2-2-6; Gamse 2-0-4; Vingling 1-1-3; Friesland 0-1-1; (10-24-38-58).

Hot Shots Win Title

The Boys Intramural Basketball teams have been the instigators of much enthusiasm at STC for the past two months. The members of the five teams were chosen by the coaches who were varsity players of this year's Gulls. The two outstanding teams of the season were the "Hot Shots" coached by William Knicy and Bob Hall, and the "Codgers" who were coached by Roger Ayers. The other three teams were the Devils' coached by William Eley, the "Scarlets" with William Curtis as coach and Jim William's "Jammers."

The spectators witnessed the most exciting game of the season when the "Hot Shots" were victorious over the "Codgers" in the final playoffs. The "Hot Shots" hero of the game was Don Meize as he swished the net with a last second foul shot which clinched the tied game, thus ending the '54 Intramural Basketball Season.

Fred Johnson Receives Science Award

A Handbook of Chemistry and Physics was awarded to Fred Johnson, a Sophomore here at STC. This award was given by the Chemical Rubber Company and is given to students who do outstanding work in Physics. Fred, who is under the instruction of Mr. Allen Weaver, attained the highest grades in Physics 101 and 201. The handbook was engraved in gold letters. It was awarded to him during the last class of the first semester.

Sport Beat

By Bradley

This time, fans, we will delve into a sport of a selected few. Many attempt but few compete; many observe but few realize that the smooth performance exhibited by these ultimate athletes, is a result of days and weeks of practice, uninterrupted by bruised muscles, skinned bodies and sprained bones. These fellows are products of a real love for this type of sport because without, one would not tolerate the physical exertion. This sport of champions is gymnastics.

Gymnastics are a result of the physical training given to Greek and Roman boys as physical culture for use in war and for amusement. These two, particularly the Greeks, were encouraged in war-like tastes and they promoted body strength for this purpose. These have come down to the present generation in various renovated forms. The present Olympic games have served as a means of keeping alive world-wide competition and the development of new techniques. This is particularly true in Europe and especially the Scandinavian countries.

Today in the Gym, you saw, on a small scale, but one to admire very much if you have ever tried any of these routines, a sample of what can be done with a little equipment, time, curiosity by a few lads and proper supervision. These fellows have been working on the various witnessed acts, off and on ever since fall, in order to exhibit them. They are proud to be able to show this ability.

These men have a language all their own as you would know if you were ever to sit in on one of their bull sessions. For example— one and a half fly away, drop kipp, twist giant, dip swings, etc. They not only talk about these things but they also put them into action. One cannot put into action the things that need be said to describe these acts. Only through observation and the actual trying of these routines, can one appreciate them. The chief instruments used are the parallel bars, vaulting horse, mats, horizontal bars, and the flying rings.

A couple of weeks ago a group of us went over to the Naval Academy at Annapolis to watch a meet between Navy and Temple University from Philadelphia. Those boys were good. They did things on the bars and rings one wouldn't believe possible. A noticeable thing about these meets, here as well as the Academy, is the lack of accidents. These boys won't perform as long as there is some doubt in their minds. Unless they can perform smoothly, with no flaws, they consider it not worthwhile. Because of this, accidents that are publicized are few and far between.

This has been a special tribute to the fellows that work all year in private to show you, the fans, that they can perform. They receive no other reward than their own gratification and satisfaction that they have done a good job except for an occasional pat on the back from their fellow performers. Well, another time has come and gone, so until next time remember, "If you can't be a good winner, be a good loser."

Cheer Leaders Having A Successful Year

There is an organization on this campus that has made a dent in everyone's thinking. This group is our ever-faithful cheerleading squad. Game after game they appear and root with or without the backing of our student body.

Five people make up this squad. They are as follows: Barbara Bailey, Captain who was graduated from Delmar High in Delmar, Maryland; Eleanor Pirk, co-Captain, who was graduated from Bloomfield High, Bloomfield, New Jersey; Doris Burke, who was graduated from North Harford High, Darington, Maryland; Lou Davis, who was graduated from Buckingham High School, Berlin, Maryland; Bob Denston, who was graduated from Pocomoke High School, Pocomoke, Maryland.

MEN'S DORMITORY OPENED IN 1951

An Open Letter to High School Seniors

Why do some people put good time and money into going to college? There are several reasons, but some of the greatest are to satisfy that curious nature of man, to learn more about the past, but most of all to better prepare us for the future.

College time well spent builds an immature individual into a mature, well-founded person. Of course this only happens if the person wants and allows it to occur. If you are planning to come to college (and it is a good idea, for people to run it), come with the idea of being an active participant in the social fields, but come also with an open mind towards your studies. Collegiate life has so much to offer and it helps to mold a happy, well-rounded individual.

Your Student Activity Center

How long have we had it? Why was it established? Who paid the original costs?

These were the questions recently asked by the Editor of the HOLLYLEAF in an interview with Mr. Fleming, faculty chairman of the Committee for the Activity Center.

It was in 1950 that Leon Connor, the president of the Student Government Association, made the first move to set in motion a formal request for a place where students might relax, study, dance, and otherwise use non-class hours as their personal schedules and tastes allowed. After tabulating the results of a questionnaire circulated among the students, Mr. Connor and two other students, Curtis McDowell and Levin Heath, drew up a report to present President Blackwell enumerating the reasons that a student activity center would be of great advantage to the college in its total student life program. Dr. Blackwell in turn submitted the report with his support of it to Dr. Thomas Pullen, State Superintendent of Instruction.

In June following the request in May, Dr. Pullen asked Mr. Reed, state architect, for the Board of Education, to come to the college to study possibilities from the architectural point of view. Dr. Blackwell had asked Mr. Fleming to serve on the committee planning the structure, and subsequently Mr. Fleming presented a floor plan and an estimated cost of operation. The latter was requested because the State could not assist in the cost of operation. The estimate showed the Center self-supporting at 250 students.

Mr. Reed let contracts for the renovation of the space and for the equipment, the former at a cost of $5000 and the latter at a cost of $9000. The equipment consisted of counters, tables, fountain, refrigerator, bookcases, showcases, and shelving. The total cost exceeded $14,000.

One thousand dollars was needed to open the Snack Bar. Although profits from the Bookstore were small because of small enrollment, nevertheless those profits which were turned over helped;

The SGA helped by asking that students pay rent on mail boxes; and, Dr. Blackwell assisted by furnishing some student help. After two years the indebtedness was paid. Last year the Center operated in the black; this year reasonable profits are being made as indicated by the recent profits turned over to the SGA. There has been no aid from the College or SGA; the need for the College aid having been obviated when SGA established last year a scholarship for bookstore service.

Personnel in the Center has been both professional and student. The Snack Bar has been operated, first, by Mrs. Nellie Gavin who was followed by Mrs. Margaret Ennis. There has been a Student Manager for the Bookstore and student workers in the Snack Bar.

Currently the Student Activity Center is stressing a Keep-Your-Snack Bar-Clean campaign. It has been most concerned that an operation carried on for the benefit of the students should not be seriously accepted by the students as a real responsibility. It urges and appreciates cooperation on the part of every student.

With additions such as these the campus at STC will be one of which the students and personnel should be proud.

The President Will Move in New Home

Dr. Blackwell has announced the addition of new properties to the STC campus, a tract with buildings known as the "new" campus. The recent addition consisting of 32 acres now brings the total acreage up to 62 acres.

The following new buildings have been provided as a part of the six-year building program submitted by Dr. T. G. Pullen, Jr., State Superintendent of Schools, on July 26, 1950, to the State Planning Commission: men's dormitory with equipment, $300,000; demonstration school, now under construction, $454,000; administrative offices, President's new home, and men's dormitory annex with the additional land purchased, bringing the total expenditures on the new campus to more than $1,000,000.

The 1953 Legislature appropriated $213,000 for a new library building to be located midway between the main college building and the men's dormitory. As will be found by comparing the list of buildings already provided with the list included in the Six-year Building Program, practically all buildings, with the exception of the men's gymnasium, should be completed by 1955-56.

Dr. Blackwell will leave his present home—but he will not go far. That attractive white house sitting among the trees on the right as you enter the driveway leading to the boys' dormitory will be his new home. At about this time last year that house belonged to Austin Mills, but in June it was purchased as a new home for the president of the college. At present the inside of the house is undergoing a thorough repainting so it will be fresh and new for the new occupants. They plan to move from their residence on College Avenue soon after April 1 of this year.
