Mrs. Devilbiss Crowns King and Queen at Sweetheart's Dance

John West and Delores Cooling were crowned king and queen of the Sweetheart's Ball on February 10 by Mrs. Wilbur Devilbiss. The couple, chosen by popular vote, were attended by the members of the court, Connie Mears, Clara Marshall, Bill Livingston, and Charles Barnes. Crowning the king and queen with wreaths of flowers, Mrs. Devilbiss also presented a bouquet of red roses to the queen.

Guests, welcomed by Mrs. Devilbiss, Mr. and Mrs. Wroten, John West, and Jane Thorsell, entered the gym through an archway of red and white streamers. The gym itself was beautifully decorated in red and white. At the center of the floor, the artificial ceiling met in a point where a huge red heart hung. Forming an artificial wall, streamers screened the tables from view. Music was furnished by Bob Fields' orchestra.

Committees who planned the dance, sponsored by the freshman class, were headed by Bob Berger, Lucy Hitt and Otto Fiedering, Bill Harding, Jack Weise, Carol Kirkwood, and Albert Seymour. They were in charge of publicity, decorations, tables, music, refreshments, and election of the king and queen, respectively.

FTA Delegates Sent to MAFTA Conference

Representing the college at the Third Annual Leadership Conference of Maryland Association of Future Teachers of America were Betty Lee Shawn and Ward Taylor. Both were elected delegates from the STC Future Teachers of America Chapter.

The conference was held at the Teachers' College in Towson, February 17 and 18. Included in the program were discussion sessions, question and answer periods, panel discussions, and a recreational program. The conference was both enjoyable and rewarding.

Mrs. Wallace Returns

Mrs. Jane Wallace, STC school nurse, has returned to active duty on the campus after a recuperation period of eleven days. She had been in the Peninsula General Hospital for treatment.

Sophanes Players Revise Constitution

At a recent meeting, the Sophanes Players formulated a definite program of activities for the spring semester of the 1955-56 academic year. Plans were made for the presentation of a snack bar show through which the club hopes to raise funds. Anne Anderson was placed in charge of arrangements for this affair.

A committee was appointed to look into the revision of the Players' present constitution. Thelma Hackert, Jeanne Skinner, Sally Dawson, and Frank Gentle were those nominated for this duty. It is hoped that their efforts will provide the Sophanes Players with a more elastic and contemporary type of organization.

STC Campus School To Be Dedicated

At 2:30 in the afternoon of Sunday, March 4, the new Campus Elementary School here at Salisbury State Teachers College will be dedicated. A ceremony is planned in which Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, State Superintendent of Schools, will introduce Governor Theodore McKeldin as the dedication speaker. Other members of the State Board of Education will also be presented. Invitations have been sent to the Comptroller, State Board of Public Works, Legislators in Eastern Shore counties and other public figures. Mr. Jerome Frampton of Federalsburg, Vice-President of the State Board of Education, will preside. The public is cordially invited to attend the ceremony.

Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss, President of this college, will deliver a short talk on the place of the elementary school in teacher education. Also included in the program are the invocation and benediction by the pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, the Reverend J. Robert Mackey.

The College will be represented musically by the Ladies' Ensemble. They will sing "Maryland, My Maryland," and will join the sixth grade class from the new campus school in "America, the Beautiful." The accompanist will be Mrs. Barbara Mumford, and the director, Miss Margaret Addis.

A reception will be held in the school cafeteria after the dedication. The local Parent-Teachers Association will sponsor it. Student teachers assigned to the ele-

New Policy Proposed For Seniors Day

Tentative Plans Set Up By Faculty Committee

Each year, the faculty and students of State Teachers College invite Maryland high school seniors interested in furthering their education to visit the college. Entitled High School Seniors Day, it is an event highly prepared for and enjoyed by the students and faculty as well as the visitors.

This year, a new policy has been proposed and approved by the Shore County Superintendents. In a meeting on Friday, February 3, of the Shore County Superintendents attended by Dr. Devilbiss, it was proposed that four or five Senior Days be scheduled. Tentatively, these days are March 13, 14, 15, and 16. The high school seniors will then be invited, according to geographic location. By inviting the seniors according to counties, or groups of counties, attendance on any given day will be small, and the college can endeavor to give a clearer and truer picture of the typical college day.

As planned the visitors should arrive in the morning, instead of middle afternoon, as in years past. Students from the freshman and sophomore classes will serve as hostesses and guides to the high school seniors from their home county. It is possible that the guides will be friends or acquaintances of some of the visitors, and thus the visitors will be made to feel more welcome. The guests will visit and perhaps participate in classes in session; tour the main building, the campus school, the dormitories, and the Ranch House; and lunch with the college students in the dining hall.

In the afternoon, an assembly has been planned, designed to answer the visitor's questions. Who's Who nominees, SGA officers, and other campus leaders will be invited to speak to the seniors and the music, physical education, and dramatic departments will be asked to plan an entertaining program. The new policy is planned to give the prospective college entrant a clearer picture of the college's program, objectives, and advantages.

Committee on Cultural Affairs Formed

A subcommittee of Student Life Activities has been formed to plan a balanced program of cultural events for the second semester and the school year 1956-57. The assembly schedule will come under the jurisdiction of this committee, composed of both student and faculty members. Mrs. A. L. Fleming and Dr. Elderdice are the faculty chairmen; John Shaheen is student chairman.

In evaluating the basic needs of the college, it has been apparent that there are two problems to be solved. One of these needs is to provide an enriched program of cultural activity including not only assembly programs but other opportunities for students to broaden their understanding of beauty in the world. This could be achieved by way of art exhibits, "listening hours" to recordings of both music and literature, developing an appreciation of dramatic art, and examples of the art of motion pictures. Movies of this kind could be classified under one of three types, namely, foreign, documentary and outstanding films. There have been some outstanding Japanese films recently produced which are available. Documentary films are those of significant events either on the spot or an exact replica of the original. Domestic films to be shown would be characterized by good direction or as pertaining to outstanding works of literature. These movies would not be readily available at our public movie houses.

Another need the committee found was the necessity of wisely financing the cultural affairs program from the stipend allocated in the college budget for cultural activity. The question has been raised as to whether or not the assembly hour on its present basis

New Students Are Admitted

According to the Registrar's Office, the following students have been admitted to Salisbury State Teachers College for the second semester which began February 1: Anne Brady, Thomas Cropper, Mrs. Betty Jane Dashiell, Mrs. Cecelia Dougherty, Henry Hausdroff, Sue Magee, Mrs. Florence Porter, and Robert Schilling. The following students, having previously attended STC, have re-entered for the second semester: Ed Betts, William Dorman, Ronald Hughes, Jack Jackson, George Smith, and Lawrence Wise.

Series of Speakers Sponsored by SCA

During the month of February the Christian Association has tried to arouse student interest by sponsoring a series of talks on marriage. This is a very interesting subject and has proved itself so by the number in the audiences. Whether you are engaged, married or just dating, these speakers have and will continue to give you something to think about.

Since God and religion have such an important part in a happy marriage, Dr. J. Leas Green, a well-known minister and speaker, was chosen to be our first guest. He delivered his speech on February 6th with excellent results. Dr. Green helped his audience to realize that marriage is sacred and something that you should think through thoroughly before making the serious step. It is an institution which grows with the years in love and understanding for each other. The most important thing to remember is that if you both

"Dial M for Murder" Presented by Players

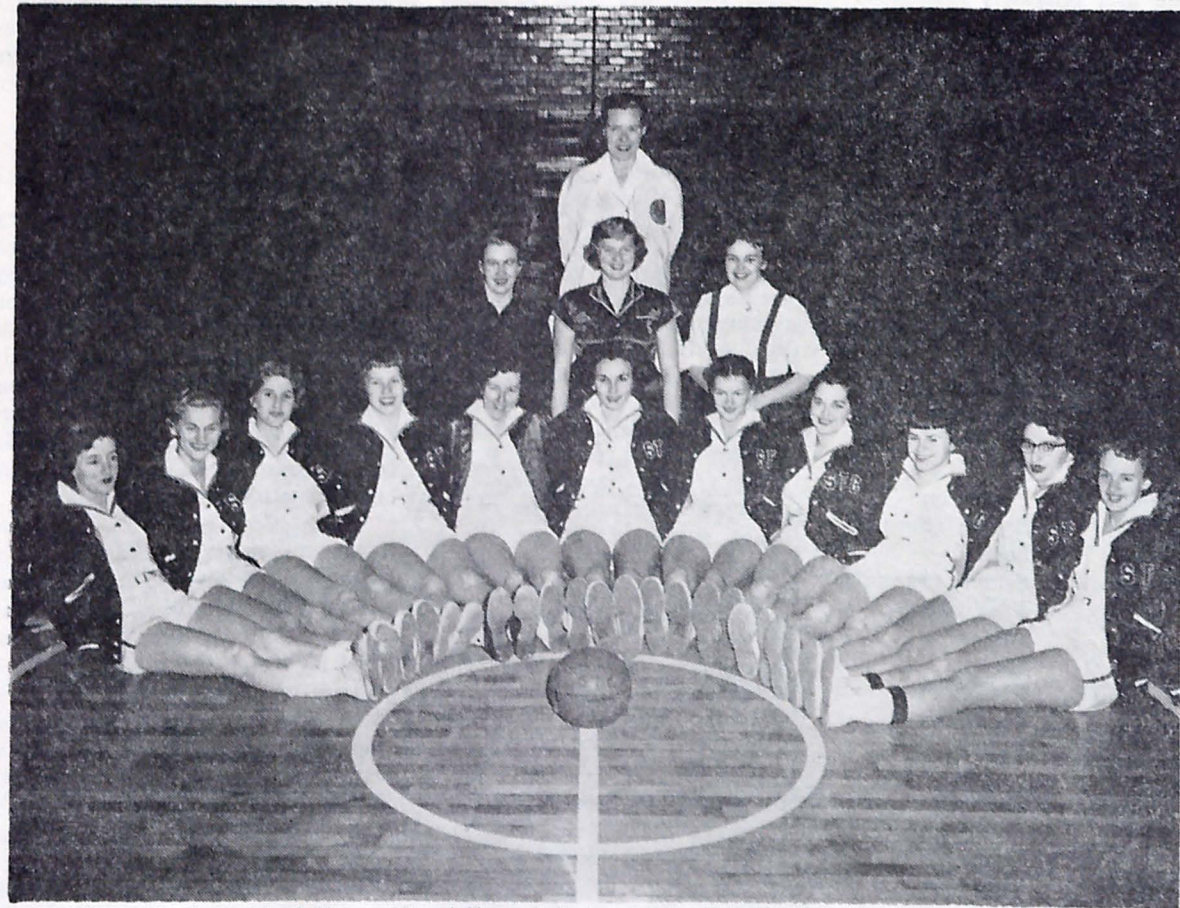

Murder is always a fascinating subject. Thus the audience remained fascinated and spellbound as the Community Players presented their second production of the season, "Dial M for Murder" by Frederick Knott. The Players presented the play Thursday and Friday nights, February 9th and 10th at Wicomico Junior High School.

The plot unraveled before the eyes of the spectators displaying the combined talents of Miss Audrey Stewart as Margot Wendrice, John Corey as Max Halliday, Clay Hentschel as Tony Wendrice, Joseph Udovich as Captain Lesgate, and William Thornton, Jr., as Inspector Hubbard. Among those contributing to the production were our own Miss Dolores Miller as assistant stage director and Mr. MacCurdy Burnet who provided the off-stage voices.

The Community Players will present this spring as the third and final play of the season "The Women."

SOPHANES PLAYERS REVISE CONSTITUTION

(Continued from Page One) The reading committee, composed of Mimi Ralph, Laura Hammerman, Thelma Hackert, William Stubbs, and Jack Weise, reported on the plays they had selected for the approval of the members. There was some discussion as to whether one three-act play or three one-act plays should be presented. Decision was withheld until the next meeting.

Recent Weddings

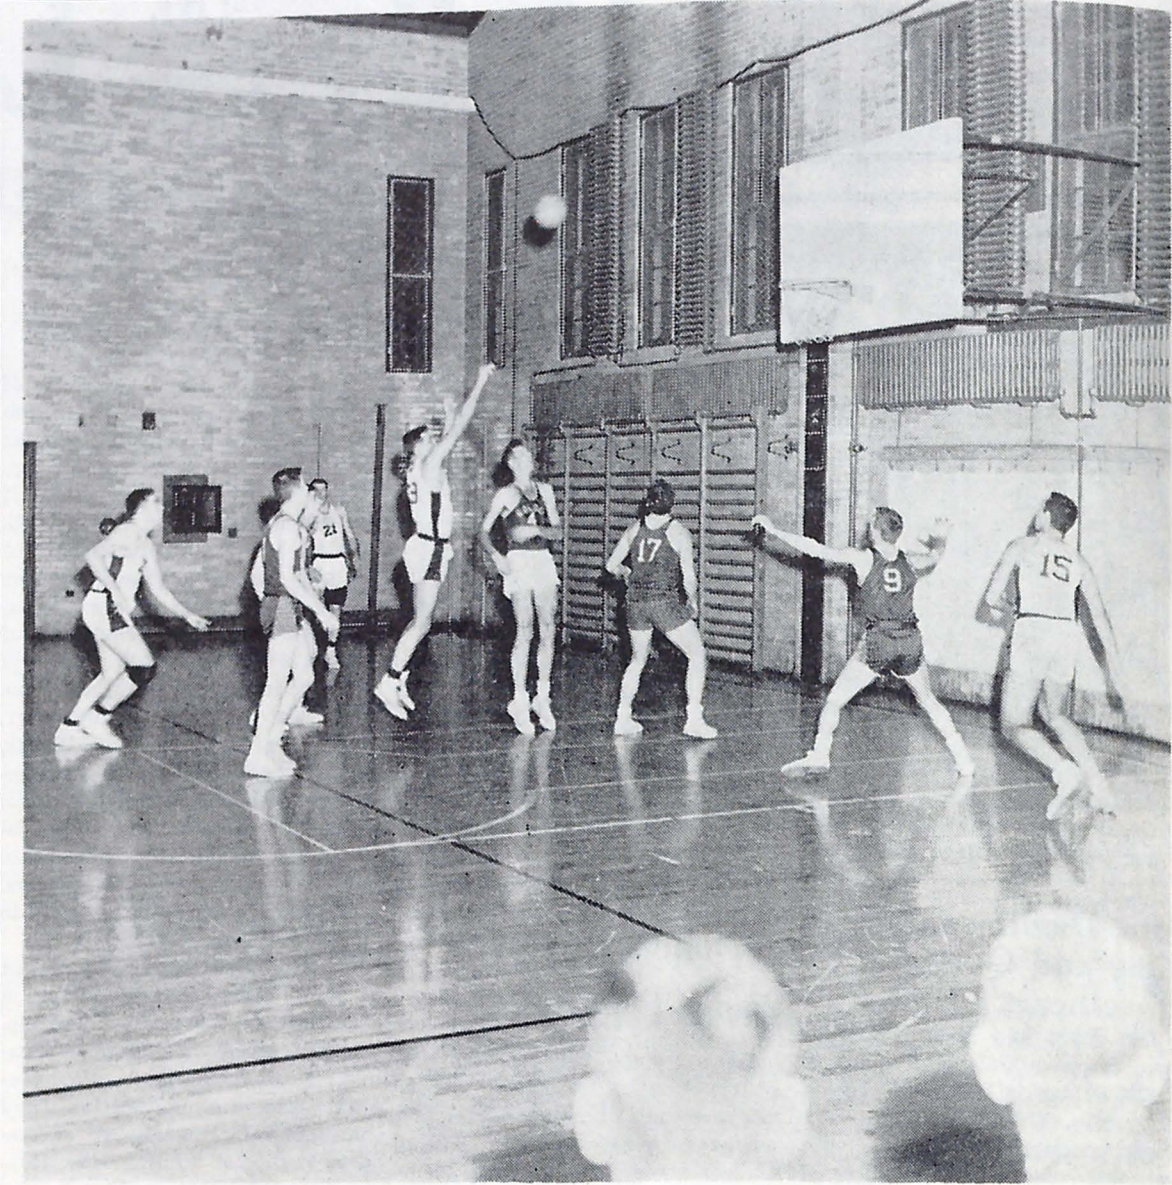

June is traditionally known as the "Wedding Month"; but December and January seem to be favorites around the campus. Many STC students have taken the step to "the halls of highest human happiness." Among the girls who have changed their names are: Donna June Seymour to Mrs. Mahlon Trout; Nancy Sue James to Mrs. Irving Custis; Eleanor Pirk to Mrs. Richard Volmer; Henrietta Hudson to Mrs. Vollmer; Henrietta Hudson to Mrs. Jerry Fields; Eleanor Bach to Mrs. William Curtis; Nancy Wilson to Mrs. Lynn Engh; Roberta Burns to Mrs. George Mason. Congratulations and best wishes to all.

STC GIRLS DOWN WESLEY COLLEGE

With the downing of Wesley Junior College by the score of 60-30, the STC girls keep their record clean, with two wins and no defeats so far this season.

Ina Ray Calloway accounted for 17 points for the winning team with Ruth Nielsen and Dee Cooling right behind her with 11 and 14 points respectively.

The next game on the slate was with Villa Julie Junior College, an all-girls' college from Baltimore.

Villa Julie journeyed into STC only to fall in defeat with the score 47-18 in favor of STC.

Ruth Nielsen came off with the honors for the game with 12 points to her credit, followed by Ina Ray Calloway who pumped 11 points through the net for STC.

The girls' team now has a record of three wins and no defeats. The guards as well as the forwards deserve credit for all the points scored in the games. Cooperation, the team plays their very best on the court for STC.

With the speed of Helen Luzetsky and Dee Gardner, the faking of Ruth Davis, Jo Anne Cathell, and Louise "Buttons" Holbrook, the height of Norma Lee Trice, the net powers of the forwards, plus Miss Whitney's coaching and encouragement, it is a combination of fun and sportsmanship.

STC CAMPUS SCHOOL TO BE DEDICATED

The school itself, one of the most modern in the state, with its seven classrooms, dining room, library, gymnasium, and science room, offers instruction for about two hundred pupils from kindergarten through the sixth grade.

Although STC is not a highly ranked sports school, there is one sport in which we excel. It is another one of those seldom heard of, seldom seen, sports. The team about which I'm talking is the gym team. Long hours of practice, great individual skill and determination, and quite a few blisters, go into making a fine, well-coordinated team.

This year as in the past, the gymnasts are preparing for several shows which they hope to put on. However, unlike past years, they are planning brief tours to high schools in the surrounding area, at least wherever facilities are available. I think that most of you will agree with me when I say that I hope the assembly committee will try and get the boys to put on an exhibition of their intricate skills.

Sign of Spring . . . Along with the first robin and newly budding trees, a sure sign of spring is the opening of the major league training camps. Although most of the teams train in Florida, a few such as the Orioles and the Indians stick to the far East West.

Dark Horse Candidate . . . The team to watch in the National League, at least in my humble opinion, is the Cincinnati Redlegs. No other team seems to be as solidly loaded with slugging talent as the Redlegs. Their pitching, however, leaves much to be desired and if they can pick up one or two starters and develop a new rookie, they could make things hot for the Champion Bums.

It's a little early yet for me to start predicting any pennant winners, but cheer up, I'll give you hotstove leaguers a chance to argue in the near future.

Competition Improving on the Shore . . . Everyone likes to see the underdog beat the big ones every now and then. Wicomico High School has been the team to beat on the Shore in days gone by. However, that is not now the case. In the past Wi-Hi's large enrollment gave them the advantage over the smaller schools in drawing their athletic powers.

Basketball's amazing growth to the top of America's winter sport calvacade is mainly responsible for this. Almost every kid in the city or on the farm has a spot where he can practice.

With the advancement of the consolidated school in the educational field, the improvement in the caliber of sports play has also advanced. On the Shore you have a fine example of this in the removal of Wi-Hi as the main team (Continued on Page Four)

Boys' Varsity Squad Loses Three Players

The morale of STC students is low and their spirit is dampened. The school with a 1-9 record had been unsuccessful in their basketball campaign with opposing college teams. Their only win was at the hands of Ft. Custis as they trimmed the Army boys by a comfortable margin.

Just before the end of the first semester the Gulls traveled to Dover to meet the slightly favored Wesley squad. The Wesley five held the edge in height but the Gulls had determination. It was a nip and tuck battle throughout the game. STC shared in backboard control and the team was hitting from outside the tight Wesley defense. Foskey, the stellar forward, threw in a high 30 points for the losing cause and Muir helped with another 23 points. But Wesley couldn't be stopped and they finished with a 90-81 lead.

Then the "schoolmasters" journeyed to northern Delaware to meet Goldy-Beacom. The Delawareans had trouble stopping Foskey who scored 37 points but it was in vain as Goldy-Beacom had a 103-85 win at the finish.

STC Cheerleaders Boost Varsity Teams

"Fight, team, fight!" This echoes the never-dying school spirit of STC's cheerleaders. At every possible chance, these cheerleaders are following and backing up the men's and women's varsity teams.

The captain of the cheerleading squad this year is Ina Ray Calloway, who has been a member of the squad for two years. Ina Ray, a well-known sophomore, is enrolled in the teachers' training curriculum, and hails from Delaware, Del. She is well aware of the importance of school spirit to (Continued on Page Four) share the same faith in God and worship likewise, the things which seem so important when you don't trust in Him seem so small. One knows that when he has faith, there's always a way. Before engaging in matrimony it is also wise to visit a physician. On February 15, Dr. Earl Royer, a well-known physician from Salisbury enlightened us on the importance of a physical examination before marriage. He also stressed that physical harmony is necessary in a happy marriage. To be physically fit is as important as being mentally fit in this situation.

No matter how well we plan, prepare and work together there always seem to be problems. Some can be patient and work them out, others can not. This will be the theme of our next talk made by Dr. Lederman, a well-known Salisbury psychiatrist. He will help us to see the importance of taking life for what it's worth, doing the best we can at all times under particular conditions. Childbirth is always a strain at its best but some mothers take it more seriously than others. He will explain how wonderful this may be if looked at from the right angle at the very start. Marriage presents many problems and Dr. Lederman will do a fine job of giving methods to overcome them.

The wedding day is a day that everyone wants to remember. A day when the bride looks her loveliest and the groom the happiest. This of course takes much planning but with the help of a fine wedding consultant everything will go along smoothly. For the last talk of the series we will have a wedding consultant from one of the larger department stores here in Salisbury. She will answer many of your unanswered questions. She will be glad to help you in any way. Come and let her help you!

Other members of the squad include a junior and member of the squad for three years, Doris Burke, from Dublin; three sophomores: Nancy Horseman, from La Plata; Louise "Buttons" Holbrook, from Snow Hill; and Wayne Smith, from Laurel, Del.; and two Freshmen: Flo Kelley, from Salisbury, and Stewart Scott from Berlin.

The squad is proud of the interest with which their sponsor, Miss Alethea Whitney, attends and coaches their practices. Through her interest and concern, the WAA board appropriated the fashionable, white V-neck sweaters which the girls are wearing this year. The SGA furnished the clever outfits for the male cheerleaders.

These cheerleaders are putting forth time, effort, and talent to build up and support the morale of our Alma Mater. Appreciation of these efforts can be shown by attendance at games and by participation in the cheers.

SPORT BEAT

to beat. The consolidated school has given birth to better, larger, and faster teams. Many new teams are created when the schools are formed, making competition tougher in almost every sport.

Shore Should Be Proud . . .

Every sports fan here in the Shore should be proud of the fine record of the Maryland State Hawks. The Hawks, at this writing, are currently undefeated in thirteen straight games. Not only do they excel in football and basketball, but baseball too is one sport in which they star.

End of an Era . . .

The resignation of Jim Tatum at Maryland marks the end of an era, an era when football was king, an era when the idea was that a nationally ranked team was necessary for existence. Tatum was nass, his recruiting of players king, an era when the idea that a National ranked team was necessary for existence. Tatum was disliked by many for his bluntness, his recruiting of players, and his seemingly-arrogant ways. Perhaps the few words that he said to his players in his final letter to them will bring some light to his side of the story.

"Remember men, you are here for an education. I am here because football is my occupation."

Did You Know That . . .

Here's an interesting fact for you grandstand referees. The five second count of a player controlling the ball does not go into effect when he hears the center slot.

The end of the semester brought more troubles to Coach Maggs and the Gulls. The school suffered the loss of Charley Muir, who is leaving to play professional baseball, "Doc" Vollmer, who quit school to enter into matrimony, and the basketball magician Roland Foskey.

Suffering from the loss of three mainstays in the squad, the Gulls traveled North again to meet at strong Glassboro five. The Maggs-men were unable to keep up with the highly superior Glassboro team and the Gulls were given a 119-67 trouncing. Hurley led the team's scoring with 23 points.

With the end of the season near the STC team finds itself with a 1-9 record and only a few games left to snap their losing streak.
