

STC Library Dedication Will Be Held Today; Third New Building Added In Past Six Years

Annual Homecoming Set for November 2

The Wicomico County Chapter will be hosts for the day at STC's annual Homecoming on November 2, 1957.

Registration will begin at 2:00 P.M. in the main corridor of the Administration Building. At this same time, the Alumni vs. Varsity soccer game will be played. Tea will be served in the College social room at 2:30. Throughout the afternoon, the new library and science wing will be open for inspection to the Alumni.

A business meeting is scheduled for 4:30, during which time there will be election of officers and voting on a revision of the constitution.

Dinner will be served in the College dining room at 6:00 P.M., and the Student Government Association will sponsor a dance in the gymnasium at 8:30 in honor of the Alumni.

Organization Budget Requests Are Slashed

Requests Exceed the SGA Funds by $905.32

On September 24 the Executive Board of the SGA held its first meeting. At this meeting Kenneth Gerlach, treasurer, reported a budget of $5,701.68 against total requests from the various organizations of $6,607.00. This necessitated cutting the submitted budgets of member organizations. All budgets were cut with the exception of the Evergreen.

After much consideration the funds were allocated as follows:

Chorus	$ 16.73
Evergreen	2,300.00
Student NEA (FTA)	164.15
Holly Leaf	1,340.00
Men's Dormitory	45.00
Photography Club	147.00
Social Committee	1,335.00
Women's Day Ass'n	14.40

Governor Theodore R. McKeldin Will Deliver Formal Address; The New Library Will Be Open to Visitors

The new library building of the college is to be formally dedicated this afternoon at 1:45 P.M. Governor Theodore R. McKeldin will dedicate the edifice in a formal address to students, faculty members, and guests. The exercises are to be held in the

STC auditorium.

Boasting modern facilities and decor, the two-story brick building will be presented to the college by Mr. James J. O'Donnell, Director of the State Department of Public Improvements.

The third new building to be added in six years, the library indicates the rate of recent STC expansion. In 1951 the Men's Dormitory was dedicated followed by the Campus Elementary School in 1955. A new science wing has been housed in the old demonstration school wing just this fall and a student center will be constructed in the old library during 1957-1958.

Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss, president of the State Teachers College, will introduce the platform guests, Mr. James J. O'Donnell, Director of the State Department of Public Improvements, who will present the library; Mr. Jerome Frampton, Jr., Vice-president of the State Board of Trustees, who will accept the building; Mr. George C. Rhoderick of Middletown, member of the State Board of Trustees; Mr. Henry Hausdorff, President of the Student Government Association, who will express appreciation on behalf of the students; Dr. Earl T. Willis, Dean of Instruction, who will express appreciation on behalf of the faculty; and Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State Superintendent of Schools, who will present the governor. Reverend Harold P. Spedden, a sophomore student, will give the invocation and the benediction.

The first day of library service for the new library at STC was October 14, 1957. A T-shaped building, it is rather conventional in style so as to conform to the other campus buildings. There is a seating capacity for 250 persons. Since workability of a library is of utmost importance,

New Constitution For Women's Dorm Is Near Completion

For the past two years the Women's Dorm Association has been formulating plans for a new constitution for their organization. In a recent dorm meeting, appointments to the newly formed constitution committee were announced, consisting of two women from each class. They are: Freshmen: Peg Bell and Jean Gladden; Sophomores: Lou Lamben and Helen Mae Ellis; Juniors: Linda Magalis and Carole Kirkwood; Seniors: Ruth Neilson and Lou Pritchard. Heading the committee are the officers, Norma P. Culver, president; Delores Gardener, vice-president; and Joan Cowan, secretary-treasurer. The committee plans to meet one hour daily starting October 14th and continuing until the completion of the new constitution.

Recently a copy of the constitution now in operation was distributed among the dormitory women plus a copy of revisions already in operation and suggest-

Science Department Housed in Renovated Campus School Wing

Probably the most historic section of our college is that department which served as the campus elementary school from 1925 to the time the present campus school was opened in 1954. This summer the entire wing was renovated and converted into a much-needed science department, so that it is at once the oldest and the newest section of the main building.

All classrooms in the department have completely new furnishings, tile floors, and fluorescent lighting. The modern light green walls and woodwork add much to the atmosphere of freshness. The science instructors' modernized offices are conveniently located near to their classrooms.

The new biology laboratory and lecture room, located inside the front entrance, have a greater seating capacity than the old one. The tables make it possible for every student to sit facing the

Editorially Speaking

Autumn is a most beautiful and colorful time of the year. Nature seems to have conspired with God in producing such color, shape and beauty as is evident all over this United States.

Most colleges and universities have chosen this season as a backdrop for one of the oldest traditions on the American campus—Homecoming. Graduates return to renew old acquaintances and to form new friendships. Students, faculty and alumni coming together for business meetings, sports events and social affairs develop a feeling of "oneness" and of pride in their school. Warm autumn afternoons and brisk evenings help create an atmosphere of friendliness and contentment.

STC, too, has an annual homecoming. But somehow it doesn't bring with it the connotations implied by such a tradition. What is wrong?

A closer relationship between the alumni and the students and faculty needs to be established. This can only be done through cooperation by all concerned. It means more frequent opportunities for establishing such a relationship. It means planning by all to provide such opportunities.

A fuller, deeper understanding of the true meaning of Homecoming is needed on our campus. With this understanding would come appreciation and then perhaps the proper emphasis could be given to the occasion.

Whose responsibility is it? It belongs to each and every member of the college. STC is growing. Help it grow in tradition. Nature has generously supplied the stage; we must produce the play.

[Excerpts from an editorial in The Baloo, September 27, 1957, student newspaper of the University of Baltimore, Baltimore, Maryland.]

The condition of the student lounge on the basement floor of Charles Hall has become a serious problem to those concerned with the upkeep of the building. Students have been guilty of leaving the lounge in a deplorable condition each day. Trash left on the floors and tables, and stamping out used cigarettes on the floor have been the worst offenses. . . .

Looking at this problem realistically we find that many of the abuses of the lounge can be prevented. . . . One piece of trash on the floor is unsightly. Hundreds of pieces of trash on the tables and floors is a mess, a disgusting mess. If you walked into the lounge after 2 o'clock last semester you would know what we mean. Tables and chairs are scattered around the floor. Trash is everywhere. Cigarette butts are all over the room. The place looks as if a cyclone had struck it.

. . . If this lounge is not kept in satisfactory condition this semester, the privilege of using it will be taken away from the students and the lounge will be converted into store rooms.

The problem is before us. We have only to correct it. The Student Activities has pledged itself to help keep the lounge clean. This can be done only with your help. . . . In the meantime we reiterate that the lounge must be kept clean in the future. If it isn't the privilege of using it will be taken away from the students. Remember—it is your lounge, keep it clean and keep it."

If we, the students at STC, continue in our present path such action as the above will prove to be the only solution to the condition of the snack bar here at the college. It is the responsibility of each student as a mature citizen of the college to help insure that such an ultimatum is not delivered to us. There is no excuse for such disorder and uncleanness as is evident in the Student Activity Center. Don't make it necessary to keep repeating that old "worn-out" expression—"keep your snack bar clean."

Cheerful Service Characterizes Library Staff

By JANET HART

A good librarian is as essential to a well-run library as are good books. The duty of the librarian is to guide people in their quest for a deeper knowledge through books. Here, at State Teachers College, we have such librarians under Mrs. Grace S. Chaires, who has been associated with our library since 1937. Her staff includes:

Mrs. Nettie C. Bentley, Assistant Librarian; Miss May H. Truitt, Assistant Librarian; Miss Gladys Lewis, Library Assistant; Mrs. Constance Sickmund, Assistant Librarian.

When asked if she regretted leaving the old library located in the main building, Mrs. Chaires had this to say: "It was like leaving a home where you've spent many happy years. We will miss the feeling of closeness to the faculty and students, but the new library will be of even greater value to the college as a whole. It is interesting to watch the students as they enter for the first time. There is first look of surprise and then, pleasure. The lightness and brightness of the library seems reflected in the students' faces. We hope this will be a gathering center and will not fail in its usefulness. This is a library for the faculty and students; if it is any less than that, it is a failure."

Miss Lewis, who may boast of being on the staff for the longest number of years, was herself, a graduate of this college. Upon her graduation in 1933, she began her faithful and useful term in our library.

More recent members of the staff are Miss Truitt, who came in 1952; Mrs. Bentley, who came in 1955; and Mrs. Sickmund, who is beginning her first year with us.

There needs to be little said (Continued on Page 4)

First STC Library Was Founded in 1925

The North Wing of the Administration Building of the State Teachers College in Salisbury has been, since the founding of the said College in 1925, the library. In 1925 Miss Dorothy Doerr became the first librarian. She was followed by Miss Miriam Kutz in 1927. The following is a quotation from the "Evergreen—1927" covering the progress of the library during that period:

"The State Normal School Library is a living organism. That means that it is alive and growing. While it may not be so large as some libraries of older and larger colleges it is growing fast. There is no dead wood in the library; every book is up-to-date, useful and necessary. Besides the reference books, many new books have been added recently in fiction and juvenile reading."

By 1929, five thousand volumes had been amassed, making the collection of professional stature.

In September, 1929, Mrs. Lucy Bennett became the librarian, taking Miss Kutz's place. Miss Bennett remained in that capacity until September, 1937, when she was given a full-time instructorship in the literature department.

In order to fulfill the requirement for accreditation fifteen thousand volumes and a full-time trained librarian were needed. At this time, Mrs. Grace Strickland Chaires was then employed.

In 1936 the school became an accredited college. The college, with the library as an integral part, is now accredited by both the "American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education" and the "Middle State Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools."

Because the library outgrew its quarters, planning started in 1949 for a new building. After three appropriations made by the legislature, and sufficient funds given, the building progressed.

The new library opened October 14, 1957. At the present time the book collection is approximately twenty-seven thousand.

Special features of the present library are reference material, current periodicals, bound periodicals, curriculum material, and Maryland books. These are arranged in special areas to facilitate their use.

The Tax Foundation estimates that new spending appropriations were $6.1 billion under the President's budget request. It attributes this to "strong grassroots economy demand" and urges more of the same.

New Program Adopted By Sophanes Players

"We want to introduce a different type of play at STC," stated president Julia Craford, summing up the Sophanes Players' plans for the year. Barren of props, the stage atmosphere will be created by background music and unusual lighting devices.

Elected October 3, the new president's co-workers include: Dean Powell, vice-president; Carolyn Bloodworth, secretary; and Victor Davis, treasurer.

SGA Admits New Member to Board

On October 1, at the second meeting of the Student Government Association, the Science Club applied for admission to the SGA Board. A constitution and budget were submitted to the organization and turned over to the Executive Board for review.

The Executive Board, after studying this constitution and budget advised the board at the meeting of October 15 to accept the Science Club as a member. The vote was unanimous in favor of admitting the club.

The election of officers, as dictated by the constitution, established Sam Brannock as president, Kenneth Gerlach as vice-president, Thelma Hackert as secretary and Linda Sehman as treasurer.

Varsity Hockey Scores on Notre Dame College

On Saturday, October 26th, the varsity field hockey team played their first game of the 1957 season. Meeting Notre Dame College of Baltimore, the STC lassies were victorious to the tune of a 2-1 score.

In the first half of the game DeLores Gardner, right inner, drove in the first point for the girls, putting them ahead of the Baltimore team at the end of this first period, 1-0. In the second half, left wing, Mary Evelyn Doepf, came forward to push in the other point. Notre Dame's only goal was made during this period.

The STC backfield exhibited fine work and skill throughout the game. They kept the opposing team scoreless in the first half and allowed only the one goal to slip by them.

Following the game STC served hot chocolate and doughnuts in the Snack Bar for both teams. This made it possible for the girls of

A SCIENCE CLASSROOM in the new science wing. Malone and Williams of Salisbury were the architects for the wing and J. Roland Dashiell, the builder. The total cost of the renovation was $97,730.

Movement of Books To the New Library Completed Smoothly

On Wednesday, October 9, 1957, the college closed for the annual Maryland State Teachers Association Meetings. When classes resumed on Monday, the 14th of October, the new campus library was ready for use.

The move had been planned by President Devilbiss, the library staff and the maintenance men so as to avoid inconvenience and confusion during regular scheduled classes. To facilitate the actual moving, approximately fifteen racks were built by the college maintenance men. These racks were three feet long, enabling the movers to carry all the books on a single shelf and transport them to the new library in the same order. The racks containing the books were placed in the school truck and moved over.

So as not to interfere with the normal school functioning activities, the bulk of the moving was accomplished between the 9th and the 12th of October when classes were closed for teachers' meetings. Some of the things which were not normally needed by the students were moved as early as the 3rd and 4th of October.

Mrs. Chaires is deeply grateful to all who participated for the willingness and enthusiasm shown throughout the entire project. The whole move went off smoothly with the exception of a broken finger incurred by Mr. Jones, one of the maintenance men.

both teams to meet each other and talk over the game. This establishment of friendly relationships between colleges is one of the aims of the girls' intercollegiate sports program.

Letters to the Editor

The Holly Leaf welcomes any and all letters written by students or faculty members containing either praise or constructive criticism of the various phases of college life. It is the policy of the paper to print such letters providing they are signed. It is hoped that such a column will become a regular feature of the Holly Leaf.

Science Wing

The physics laboratory and chemistry laboratory are equipped with tables of a four-unit type. Adequate storage means the equipment and supplies already on hand may be used more efficiently. Formerly, the equipment used in common by both departments had to be either purchased in duplicate or transported from one end of the building to the other. New common-storage facilities make equipment readily available to either department. Each table in the laboratories and the demonstration desk in the lecture room are furnished with compressed air. There is also a generator to supply 110-volt direct current to each student table and to the demonstration table. Recently-installed chemical hoods have abolished the problem of the obnoxious odors produced in chemical experiments.

The lecture room is used by the physics, chemistry, and physical science classes. Here, the well-equipped demonstration table is a particular asset. It means more demonstration work is possible because of the gas, water, and air readily available, and because of the convenient working space.

Still incomplete is the dark room which will be used jointly by the science department and the Photography Club. It is equipped with a table including hot and cold water, electricity, and storage space. When more urgent needs for teaching facilities have been taken care of, additional work space will be furnished.

The lighted exhibit cabinet presents interesting exhibits of a scientific nature maintained by a committee from the Science Club.

Dr. Francis's small classroom has also been remodeled. It may be interesting to note that this room was the first office of Dr. William Holloway, STC's first principal.

"MOUNTAINOUS MARYLAND LEVELED" or "A Geologist's Odyssey"

Can you jam three months into three days? If you don't think it's possible—read on.

Nineteen neophyte geologists and one instructor exuberantly left the glorious sunshine and warmth of the Eastern Shore at 8 A.M. on Friday, October 18, 1957. We zigzagged west on Route 50, stopping at Mardela, Vienna, Cambridge, Easton, and sundry other towns along the way for chow.

Arriving on the Western Shore, we drove through Glen Burnie, and blasted our way to Ellicott City, taking samples of Baltimore Gneiss along the way. After lunch we entered the Schist Belt. We have a box full of samples to prove same.

Samples of various varieties of rocks were noted west along Route 40; also outcroppings (fantastic ones), and monodnocks seen through a telescope from atop Town Hill. The caravan arrived in Frostburg at 7 P.M. and had dinner in the "Princess", which was highly recommended.

Mr. Al Taylor, Geography instructor at STC Frosburg, outlined our field work in the area, and surveyed the geo-morphologic history of the region.

Our segregated accommodations at the college were more than satisfactory and most comfortable. Reveille was held at 7 A.M. Saturday. After breakfast we proceeded to a slope mine and toured same with a Maryland State Mining Inspector. He then took us to a strip mine where we collected vegetation fossils embedded in shale and were extremely fortunate in finding an Indian relic, thanks to the keen eyes of Bill Livingston. After leaving the mine we had a bite to eat, and then proceeded to the Limestone Caves in the Pinto area. By this time it was noted that wherever the cars stopped, a clicking noise was heard almost immediately and continued until we moved on again.

Upon leaving Pinto we returned to the college for lunch and set out again immediately thereafter. We drove to the top of Big Savage Mountain. At the summit, the clicking sound became much more apparent.

The group took note of all major landform features in the area, and made field stops at such places as Will's Creek, Dan's Rock, Jennings Run, Youghiougheny River, Shriver's Ridge, and Muddy Creek Falls. At St. John's Rock, the clicking noise became a regular staccato and reached a crescendo. It was then that the entourage finally realized that a member of the group was taking the trip seriously and was out to make pen-planes in record time.

We arrived back in Frostburg at 8:30 P.M. We cleaned up, changed clothes and proceeded to an Italian Restaurant by command. It was here that the group held a meeting to make a momentous decision—something had to go—either wardrobes, 4 people, or 2864 pounds of sandstone (both Pocono and Pottsville). A long argument ensued, with one member vociferously voicing the minority opinion and stating in his case that a contract had been signed to pave the new U. S. 50 through Salis-

Upon completion of the Constitution, the council, consisting of the officers and the eight proctors, will review the final drafts. A vote of the majority of the Women's Dorm. Association is needed for indication of approval. Finally the Constitution is submitted to the SGA for final approval.

about these ladies, for the entire college knows of their efficient and cheerful service. Perhaps however, we do not get the opportunity often enough to express our appreciation of the help they have given all of us. If that is the case, the Holly Leaf Staff would like to take this opportunity to publicly state the feelings of gratitude of the college to our librarians.

Dedication Services

Under the direction of Dr. Jessie L. Fleming the college chorus will sing two selections: "The God Who Gave Us Life" and "Jubilate Deo." The Men's Chorus will sing "Now the Day Is Over." Miss Joanne Little will assist Dr. Fleming at the piano.

Faculty, platform guests and students will form an academic procession and recession.

A buffet luncheon is to be served to officials, community leaders, and visitors in the dining hall at 12:15. The library will be open to visitors prior to and following the dedication ceremonies.

Budget Requests

Women's Dormitory	14.40
Christian Association	45.00
Sophanes Players	130.00
SGA	250.00

At the second meeting of the SGA on October 1 this budget was passed by the entire board.

All organizations are to spend their allotted sums as itemized in each budget. All money not used in this manner is to revert back to the SGA fund. The Photography Club is to make all facilities available to members of SGA with the exception of films. The policy of keeping an exact record of all SGA spendings during the school year and throughout the summer months is to be followed this year. The budget was approved by the president of the college, Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss on October 8.

FACULTY HERE AND THERE STUDENTS

By JANICE HUBBARD

Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss addressed the Kent-Sussex Counties Federation of Women's Clubs at Lewes, Delaware on October 17.

Students who attended homecoming festivities at Wesley Junior College, Dover, Del. include Carolyn Higgins and Lloyd Cooper.

Mrs. Rosalie Griffith has received word of the birth of a granddaughter, Amanda Holly, born to Mr. and Mrs. Syrus Griffith of Lakeland, Fla.

Miss Delores Miller is playing the leading role in "The Country Girl" to be produced by the Community Players. Sandra Sherman is also in this play.

Lucy Hitt and Robert Noren, former STC students, were recent visitors on campus and attended the Harvest Ball.

Joanne Cathell attended homecoming activities at the University of Virginia.

Among those who attended the Maryland-Norh Carolina football game on October 19 at College Park were Miss Dorothy Powell and Pat Bailey.

On October 5th an evening of fun was enjoyed by approximately 65 students at the home of Ernest Fuchs near Denton, Md. A wiener roast, square dance, hayride, and campfire were some of the activities included in the barn party. Several faculty members were also present.

Mrs. Kaye Bradley Harrison spent the week-end of October 12 in Rhode Island where her husband is stationed at the Newport Naval Base.

On Friday, October 4, formal initiation and installation of officers was held by the Newman Club. A mass was held at St. Francis de Sales Church. Following this the club members attended a dinner in their honor at Bill's Seafood Inn. Father McGinley, their chaplain, officiated.

Parliamentarian Appointed to SGA

John Weise, a member of the Junior Class, holds the new position of Parliamentarian of the Student Government Association at STC. The revised constitution, adopted in the Spring of 1957, has provided for a Parliamentarian who will have the responsibilities of checking on the order of parliamentary procedure and informing the organization of correct ruling whenever necessary. He will officiate at every Board meeting of the SGA. However, he will not be present at any Executive Committee meetings.

Mr. Weise was appointed to this position by Henry Hausdorff, President of the SGA.

bury. The group was touched by his concern and decided we could all get new clothes, but how often is sandstone so easy to come by?

After a quiet evening in the dorm recapitulating our adventure, we fell fast asleep, only to be rudely awakened by a member of the group whose bow tie seemed to be constricting his jugular vein in a vain effort to prevent nose drops from being introduced into his bronchial system.

The First Sergeant held Reveille at 7 A.M. We packed, loaded the cars and then ate breakfast. We then proceeded to Dan's Rock, Will's Mountain, the Narrows, Lover's Leap (two almost did), and Cumberland. Heading for home we stopped at Twiggstown, where we saw a disappearing stream, a meandering stream, and defined examples of river terraces.

We sadly said goodbye to Mr. Taylor at Flintstone and struck out south on our own without a qualified road mapologist. We drove uphill down the mountains of the Great Valley of the Potomac, getting lost in Hagerstown, Sharpsburg, and two other smaller towns. We drove from Antietam to Harper's Ferry General Lee during the Civil War. After considerable travel along this route the group decided that the State Roads Commission has great historical leanings, since no improvements have been made to the road since Lee's retreat across the Potomac.

Just south of Harper's Ferry we set out on foot to walk across the Potomac and collect rock and mineral specimens. It was here that only the greatest of heroics saved Uncle Fred's

Dance Will Be Highlight Of Homecoming Activities

On November 2 from 8:00 until 11:00, the annual homecoming dance will be held in the school gym. All students are invited to the dance which will be informal. The receiving line will consist of SGA President Henry Hausdorff, the retiring alumni president, Mrs. Milton Whayland, the incoming alumni president, and Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur Devilbiss.

This dance will be a joint project of the SGA and the Alumni Association. The homecoming queen will be crowned during the dance. Refreshments will be served during intermission in the snack bar.

Regular classroom teachers across the nation are considerably better paid today than they were two years ago. Latest biennial survey made by Educational Research Service, NEA—AASA, shows a climb of approximately 12% since 1955 in median minimum and maximum salaries scheduled in 336 urban school districts with populations of 30,000 to 100,000 and in 138 districts with populations of more than 100,000.

Varsity Field Hockey Squad Announced by Dr. Alethea Whitney

The STC Varsity Field Hockey team has been selected. According to the coach, Dr. Alethea Whitney, the skill displayed by team members points to a successful season. Those girls playing varsity hockey are:

- R. W. . . . . Sue Metz
- R. I. . . . . Delores Gardner
- C. . . . . Helen Ellis
- L. I. . . . . Ina Ray Foskey
- L. I. . . . . Pat Lloyd

- R. H. . . . . Joyce Bennett
- L. H. . . . . Louise Holbrook
- R. F. . . . . Carole Kirkwood
- L. F. . . . . Joanne Cathell
- G. . . . . Pat Hutson

Co-captains of the squad are Helen Ellis and Joanne Cathell.

Three Girls Elected To Cheering Squad

On October 8 cheerleading try-outs were held in the auditorium during the assembly period. After try-outs before the student body three girls were selected for the cheer-leading squad by popular vote. Those elected were Jerry Baker, Becky Forsythe, and Sue Magee.

Mary Wright and Connie Mears, co-captains of the squad, deserve credit and recognition for the excellent job they did in preparing for the assembly, organizing the cheers and preparing the ballots.

Considerable interest has been shown by the men and as a result five topnotch male leaders are on the squad. They are Victor Davis, Thomas Lewis, Bob Fitzgerald, Don Moore, and Charles Wilkinson.

New Members Added to WAA Executive Board

The WAA has expanded its executive board this year. Captains of the cheerleading squad, Connie Mears and Mary Wright, equipment manager, Naurita Riggsby and assistant publicity manager, Nancy Biddle are officially on the board now.

Varsity volleyball tryouts will begin in October followed by basketball in November. Intramural teams in both sports will also be formed under the managership of Nancy Johnson and Dolores Cooling. New uniforms will be selected and purchased by the volleyball squad.

JV Field Hockey Team Is Selected

Because of the large number of girls who tried out for the hockey squad, a junior varsity has been selected. This team played Wesley Junior College in Dover on Thursday, October 17, bringing home with them a victory to the tune of 4-0. Three of the goals were made by Pat Lloyd with Mike Shortall scoring the fourth. With several other games scheduled the lassies promise to bring home more wins.

New Library

It has been given careful consideration in the planning of this library.

The library furniture has a modern, natural finish, which provides a bright attractive atmosphere conducive to study. A two-story red brick structure of Maryland Colonial design, the edifice also contains a basement. On the first floor there are two general reading rooms separated by two easily accessible rows of stacks. These stacks contain the main body of the library book collection having classification subjects 000-999. Current periodicals are on the right of the entrance with reading area adjacent to them. A separate reference room, the circulation desk, the librarian's office, and workroom for the staff are also on the first floor.

Two stairways lead to the second floor. Again there are two general reading areas divided by two rows of stacks. In addition this floor contains a Curriculum Lab, including children's literature; a Maryland room; a Conference and Audio-Visual room; an Art and Treasure room; a music room; a typing room; a staff room; and a room for storage. In the conference and Audio-Visual room there are folding chairs and tables, a screen, a projector, and a projector table, along with a film file. The Art and Treasure room will contain a bulletin board wall, two large exhibit cases and one museum case. Many attractive and informative exhibits may be arranged in this room. The music room has two separate listening booths and a larger room. A record player and ear phones are available in the larger room.

The basement, housing rest room facilities, is used primarily for storage and for the heating installations. There are both large and small storage rooms; and the winter-summer air conditioning unit will make it comfortable, and keep the materials in good condition. A book-drop is located at the exit facing the administration building.

Movement of the old library to its new quarters began on October 3rd, and 4th. On October 9, 1957, moving started again in order not to deprive students and faculty of library service.

From October 10th to October 12th inclusive, all books were moved in place. Mr. MacCurdy Burnet was the first borrower from the new library. The first student to come in on Monday morning was James Broumel. According to Mrs. Grace Chairs, Head Librarian, "This first week

Sport Beat

By Gary White

Pro football, rough or just plain dirty? That is a question many people have been trying to answer for the past couple of years. Many claim that the sport is just rough and that it only gets dirty for those who try to throw a little dirt themselves. Ollie Mason, Chicago Cardinals halfback, says "I found out one thing—if you're a good player everybody is out to get you. No dirty, just hitting extra hard." He goes on to say that a few rookies may try illegal stunts but then everyone will get after them.

Last year Life magazine made a few accusations against certain pro players and found themselves fighting lawsuits.

One man who certainly must think that it is clean is Ben Bell, President of the NFL. He gave that impression when he sided with Ed Meadows and the Chicago Bears last season.

Bobby Lane, the target of Ed Meadows still thinks that Meadows got him on purpose. As far as pro quarterbacks go, Layne says, "We've got the toughest job in sports and I've got the lumps to prove it."

In his article in True magazine, Layne goes on to blast other players for dirty play. He tells of how Norman Willey (Philadelphia Eagles) busted up Jim Finks (Pittsburg Steelers) with a sneak punch from the rear. He goes on to tell of his experiences with John Martin Kovac (Packers), Don Colo (Browns) and Lee Reicter (Rams).

Another player who got smashed up pretty badly was Charley Trippi. Trippi was playing defensive halfback. He got an elbow through his face guard that fractured his skull. That injury led to his retirement.

Bobby Lane also tells of an incident involving Charley Trippi. It seems that Ed Sprinkle (Bears) had been treating Charley a little dirty. Thus one time when Trippi went back to pass he waited until Sprinkle was right on top of him and then he dropped the ball and slugged Sprinkle right in the nose.

One thing for sure about pro football—dirty or just plain rough, it's a crowd pleaser and a more exciting game you never find.
