

High School Seniors Tour Campus Under Guidance of Student NEA

Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, October 27, 28, and 29, from 9:30 to 2:30, were reserved for "High School Senior's Day" at STC.

Attending this occasion, in addition to those high school seniors who think they want to teach and those who wish to attend college but have not decided upon a specific vocation, were county superintendents, high school principals, and guidance counselors.

An invitation had been extended to all high schools in the nine Eastern Shore counties. A definite day was assigned to each county: Monday, October 27—Dorchester, Somerset, Worcester, and Kent counties; Tuesday, October 28—Cecil, Caroline, Queen Anne, and Talbot counties; Wednesday, October 29—Wicomico county.

The agenda for the day included registration at 9:30. The high school seniors, organized into small groups with college freshman guides in the morning, visited college classes, toured the campus, and met informally with some of our college leaders; lunch was served at 12 noon; after lunch entertainment consisting of musical selections by the College Chorus under the direction of Dr. Jessie Fleming, creative dances by groups

Who's Who Candidates Announced by Dr. Devilbiss

Recognition Given to Outstanding Student Contributions to STC

President Wilbur Devilbiss has announced five candidates for inclusion in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. The following chosen seniors are to be congratulated for their contributions to STC: Delores Gardner, Regina Hughes, William Livingston, Jean Pusey, and Albert Seymour.

In September, a committee of six, at that time unannounced, met to vote on those seniors eligible for inclusion in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Faculty members Mr. Eugene Farace as Dean of Men, and Miss Margaret Addis as Dean of Women, worked with three members of the Junior Class, Janet Hart, Joan Cowan, and Helen Mae Ellis; and one member of the Sophomore class, Jim Davis, to select the five candidates. Members of the committee were required to have averages at least as high as the 2.5 necessary for seniors to be academically eligible for Who's Who. Student committee members chosen were those felt to be active enough in college activities to know the qualities of the eligible seniors.

This is the first time that Who's Who candidates have been chosen in this manner. Previously, they were selected solely by the Dean of Men and Dean of Women, on the objective basis of grades and an activity record in a minimum of three areas. Since the students come into contact with fellow students rather more intimately, it was felt by the SGA Board of 1957-58 that they should have a voice in selection. Those students chosen for the committee, however, were chosen on the belief that their judgment would be as objective as possible so that the candidates would not be chosen purely on basis of popularity.

Candidates chosen must have an average of 2.5 and have been in attendance at STC for the past six semesters. Points gained through participation and offices held in Campus organizations were estimated and judged with some degree of subjectivity since some students who never held an office have contributed much more to STC than those who have held offices.

Delores Gardner, a native of Lexington Park in St. Mary's

County, is enrolled under the Junior High Program, majoring in English and Social Studies, and is presently student teaching at Wicomico Junior High School. Last spring, Miss Gardner, who has been

Judith Rayne Chosen Harvest Ball Queen

The honor of Queen of the Harvest Ball was bestowed on Miss Judith Rayne of Willards, Md. A graduate of Wicomico Senior High School, Miss Rayne is now a member of the Class of 1962.

Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss crowned the queen with a crown of autumn flowers amid a Pennsylvania Dutch setting in the college symnasium on Friday, October 10. A nosegay of fall flowers was given to each of the other candidates.

The runner-up was Miss Isabelle Hart from Greenbelt, Md., a member of the Sophomore Class.

Refreshments of punch, sandwiches, cake, nuts, and mints were served in the social room by the Sophomore Class sponsors.

The Sophomore Class can well be proud of the success of the first

"CAINE MUTINY" SOPHANES PRESENTATION IN FINAL STAGES OF PRODUCTION

The Sophanes Players' presentation of The Caine Mutiny Court Martial will take place this Thursday evening at 8:00, in the College auditorium.

Dress rehearsals for this first major Sophanes production in two years have been in process every evening of this week. Sophanes President and play producer Lucy Holloway comments that she expects a large student audience, basing her feelings on the entertaining quality of the play itself and the fine work of the cast and behind-the-scenes workers.

The Sophanes production on Thursday casts Gerald Pine in the role of the plaintiff, Captain Queeg. James Davis will act as Queeg's attorney in the role of Lt. Commander Challee. Thomas Parker takes the role of the defendant, Lt. Steve Maryk. Defending him is Ronald Allen as Lt. Greenwald. Captain Judge Blakely will be played by Lloyd Cooper.

Cast as witnesses (Captain Southard, Lt. Keith, and Signalman Third Class Urban) are J. A. Jerman, Kenneth Unruh, and Mike Coffin. Donald Moore will have the role of novelist Lt. Keifer; Donald

Music Programs Offered To Public by State Music Teachers, Convening Here

The general public of Salisbury may avail itself of the opportunity to enjoy several musical offerings to be presented in the STC auditorium by the Maryland State Music Teachers Association, who will be convening in Salisbury on November 2 and 3.

The convention will be called to order at the College at 4 p.m. on November 2, and Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss will offer greetings.

On Monday, the College will be the site of sectional and workshop meetings. Luncheon will be served to the convention in the dining room.

On Monday afternoon and evening, two musical programs will be open to the public. At 4 p.m., Joel Berman, violinist, and Charlton Meyer, pianist, of the University of Maryland faculty, will present a sonata recital. In the evening, at 8:30 a piano concert and a recital by the Western Maryland College Choir will be presented.

EDITORIALY SPEAKING

From Idealist to Cynic

Each year a new crop of freshmen enter STC with their hearts and minds full of vigorous plans for improving themselves and the world they'll live in.

But what happens to these same men and women as they enter the sophomore, junior, and senior years? Gone is the idealism, responsibility, and feeling of worthiness.

Chinese Embassy Attache Stresses Need for Firm U. S. Policy in Que Moy

Dr. Timothy Tientseh Mar, an attache from the Chinese Embassy, addressed the college assembly on Tuesday, October 14, at 1:45 p.m.

SGA President, Dick Morrison, presented Dr. Maurice Fleming who introduced Dr. Mar as a "free Chinese" who expects to become a U. S. citizen.

Dr. Mar's timely topic was "The Crisis in the Formosa Straits". On August 23 Communist China bombarded Quemoy Island.

Dr. Mar stressed the fact that the "U.S. must adopt a firm policy, a policy not subject to change.

be no war. If we compromise, we will encourage the Communists to go ahead. If the U.S. should lose the confidence of all free peoples, it would be disastrous."

Theatrical Background of Mr. Burnet Is Asset to STC Dramatic Department

Mr. Macurdy Burnet, faculty advisor to the Sophomore Players, is currently working with the Players on the presentation of "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial".

Mr. Burnet is a man with a profound knowledge of theatrical productions and was the first person to receive the "Key Award" in commemoration of his work in this field.

As a student at the University of North Carolina, he was a member of the Carolina Playmakers in which he acted, directed, and was the author of two plays produced there.

When questioned as to the reason he abandoned this career in preference to the less glamorous field of teaching, he merely stated that "I thought teaching was more important."

Although plans for future productions are not yet definite, due to the crowded facilities and the numerous other activities of able people, it is satisfying to see the rejuvenation of the Sophanes Players.

General Hospital. Linda Kay Magalis, Joyce Bennett, and Helen Mae Ellis spent the M.S.T.A. vacation in New York City. Billye Parks and Ann Jones attended Homecoming activities at United States Military Academy West Point, New York, the weekend of October 17.

Defense Keynotes Opening Soccer Game

The men's soccer season got underway on October 9 when the STC "Gulls" met Frostburg on the Towson Campus.

General consensus was that the passing and offense of the team was good, with the play of the halfbacks, Paul (Buddy) Butler, Tom (Jack) Alderson and J. Barnes outstanding in keeping the ball upfield.

Upcoming games are with Gallaudet, away, on October 24 and with Baltimore University here on Wednesday, October 29.

HOCKEY SQUAD TIES NOTRE DAME, 2 - 2

The Varsity and Junior Varsity Hockey squads made their 1958 debut when they journeyed to Baltimore for two games with Notre Dame.

The Varsity teams took over the field for the first game, closing it with a 1-1 tie, with team captain Dee Gardner scoring Salisbury's only goal in the second half.

The Junior Varsity really started the season off with a bang by literally stomping Notre Dame by a score of 5-2.

Janet Hart Elected Secretary to SGA

Following the assembly on Tuesday, October 14, the student body elected Janet Hart of the Junior Class to the office of Secretary of the SGA.

A native of Harford County, and a graduate of North Harford High School, Miss Hart enrolled in STC in September of 1956 under the Elementary Program.

might have thought they were a seasoned team.

In the first half, Notre Dame gave the Salisbury girls a run for their money by tying the score up at 2-2.

Prospects are that these two spirited teams will credit STC with several good games this season.

Following the two games, the STC squads were served supper in the Notre Dame dining hall.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE MAKES DEBUT WITH FRESHMAN DOWNING THE VETS, 32-18

The Intramural Flag Football league began Thursday, October 9, in an exhibition game between the Freshman and the Vets.

With Carroll Wheedleton leading the way, the Freshmen were victorious 32-18.

It was in the second half that the Freshman hit paydirt consistently. Middle-way of the third-quarter found Chester Davis racing 25 yards with an intercepted pass to make the score 12 to 6.

The BILL-BOARD by BILL LIVINGSTON

Jack Messick, the very able president of the Men's Athletic Association, and the questionable writer of this column were recently engaged in some conversation over a hot cup of coffee.

During the past four years, it has been the observation of this corner, that something should be done to increase interest in this organization.

For a long time now, it's been almost a secret that every man who enrolls in this college automatically becomes a member of the Men's A. A.

A set-up of this type would provide the M.A.A. with capable people to head the various leagues that are organized throughout the year.

Every man would still be a member of the large body of the Men's A. A., but it would insure the student body of having enough people to see that the various intramurals are planned and carried out.

DEPARTMENT OF WORTHLESS INFORMATION: Now that we have executed the business of the day, it's time that we turned the spotlight upon the ole king of sports, Mr. Football.

These boys play some of the toughest and best football in Maryland, if not in the East.

Those of us who have journeyed down to the Maryland Campus these past two weekends have been treated to two exciting afternoons of football.

In case you are interested in driving down some afternoon, it would be a good idea to take identification along to prove that you are an STC student.

The Freshman team stopped their ground-gaining offense and took to the air. In six plays later, Wheedleton tallied off a series of passes from Noel Farmer.

The undisciplined and determined Vets immediately raced back to score on a pitch out and option-pass play that covered 80 yards with the teamwork of Gene Carstens pitching to Jack Barnett.

It was in the second half that the Freshman hit paydirt consistently. Middle-way of the third-quarter found Chester Davis racing 25 yards with an intercepted pass to make the score 12 to 6.

Cultural Affairs Committee Plans Informal Discussions for Coffee Hour Series

The idea has been suggested to the Cultural Affairs Committee that there be a Coffee Hour Series of informal discussions on social and intellectual issues of the day. A sub-committee composed of Helen Mae Ellis, Joanne Little, Kay McClanahan, and Bill Bailey have set up the framework for putting the series into effect beginning with a November discussion. Students have been asked to indicate their interests in such a series and their preference to topics. Among topics they have been asked to rank in order of preference are the role of the Supreme Court today, problems of mental health, the philosophical cult of existentialism, the impact of neo-orthodoxy, the meaning of modern art, the problems involved in integration, and the problems of the juvenile in today's society.

The Committee expects to invite members of the faculty whose special fields will give them a competence in discussing the various topics and to invite people in the community whose competence in a field will make them eligible to discuss certain topics. Each of the programs will be either informal discussions of one person, colloquies of two people, or a panel of faculty members. Students will be asked to preside at Coffee Hours and will lead the discussion and conversation with the leader, which will follow the initial introduction of the subject.

The series of discussions will be held in the Conference Room and later in the new Student Center. Coffee will be served during the discussions. Although it is presumed that the discussions will be held in early evening, late afternoon may prove to be a better time. The Cultural Affairs Committee wishes to accentuate the informality of the discussions, and although they are estimated to last from 45 minutes to an hour, the students are to feel free to leave at any time.

"My Fair Lady Overture" Will Be Modern Dance Theme

S.T.C.'s Modern Dance Group has set its theme for the High School Senior Days Program. It will be a Romantic Number from the "My Fair Lady Overture." The Overture will include four basic episodes. Playing the modern dance male role is Don Moore; Joyce Bennett is the star in the female line. Those in the dance chorus are as follows: Mike Shortall, Juanita Barker, Emily Burns, Carolyn Coghill, Sylvia Stant, Jo Snyder, Louise Campbell, and Jan Barclay. The Modern Dance Group on this campus is in its third year. Since its inception in 1956 it has distinguished itself by quality performances on high school senior day programs and at an Easter program when it gave an interpretation of "The Lord's Prayer," and at a Snack Bar show in the spring of '57. Participation is extra-curricular. Although Dr. Whitney is the director and mentor for the group, choreography is done basically by the dancers themselves with the advice of the director.

Dr. Wroten Participates In Panel

Dr. William Wroten of this college represented the social science instructors of the state colleges on a panel heard on Thursday morning at Towson State Teachers College during the conclave of state college faculty members held October 17, 18. The assignment given the panel, which was composed of one representative from each of the basic academic disciplines, was to evaluate the lecture heard the evening before delivered by Dr. Walter Cook, Dean of the School of Education, University of Minnesota, each in his own field. Dr. Cook spoke on "The Improvement of Teaching". Dr. Wroten was applauded by the audience for his forthrightness of defense as well as his position that curriculum planning on all educational levels should be a joint operation between the people in curriculum development and the people in subject matter areas.

The panel was followed by departmental meetings which further pursued problems peculiar to each discipline. During the departmental meetings Dr. Jessie Fleming of STC presided at the meeting of music instructors.

President Wilbur Devilbiss attended a Supervisors' Conference of the State Department of Education at the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore, on Oct. 27, 28, and 29.

Even though the infiltration of the Freshman's artillery proved too much for the opposition, the Vets employed a very impressive and powerful single-wing attack that featured Jack Barnett, Dick Taylor, Gene Carstens, and John Brenner ripping off huge chunks of yardage. Vicious blocking was also exhibited by Earl Reddish, Ed Fears, and George Mills. This array seemed to lack a scoring punch in the fourth-down clutch situation that would enable them to jell into a more serious threat. Most noteworthy of praise was the stout defense of the Freshman forward-wall which consisted of Jim Davis, Bill Elliot, Donald Messick and Buck Rafter. This is where most football games are won.

For those who would like to enter a team in the league, contact Jack Messick, President of the Men's Athletic Association.

active in varsity hockey and basketball since she entered STC, and who was Bowling League champion in her junior year, was elected Best Woman Athlete by the student body. She also served as Vice President of the Woman's Dormitory Association in her junior year. Last spring, she was elected President of that same organization, but resigned her post this fall since she will be graduated in February. She served as President of her class in both her sophomore and junior years.

Regina Hughes, a resident of Goldsboro, Md., and a 1955 graduate of Greensboro High School, has participated in a variety of activities on Campus. She is majoring in elementary education and is presently student teaching the sixth grade in the Campus School. In her sophomore year, Miss Hughes served as class representative to the Social Committee, and as secretary to her class in her junior year. Presently, she is Co-Editor of the Evergreen, President of STC Wesley Foundation, a member of the Science Club and the Bowling League, and serves as intramural tennis manager on the WAA Board.

William Livingston, a graduate of Wicomico High School and a native of Salisbury, came to STC from the University of Maryland in the spring semester of 1956. Since that time, Mr. Livingston has become well-known to STC students for his quick wit and role of Master of Ceremonies in most of STC's all-college entertainments. In his sophomore year, he served as Chairman to the Social Committee and as a member of the Men's AA Board. Last year, he was Vice President of the Student Government Association. Mr. Livingston's contributions to the College won him the student vote to the title of Mr. STC last spring. Mr. Livingston, who is majoring in English and Social Studies, is now student teaching at the Mardela High School.

Jean Pusey of Eden, Md., a graduate of Snow Hill High School, has quietly contributed to a number of Campus organizations in her three years at STC. For outstanding scholastic achievement and active participation in Campus activities, Miss Pusey was an Achievement Key Winner in her freshman year. She has been a member of the Variety Hockey Team and is not active in the Bowling League. In her sophomore year, she was Secretary-Treasurer of the Woman's Dormitory Association. This fall she was elected President of the Women's Dorm. She is now Secretary of the Senior Class and a member of the Philosophy Club. She has been a contributing member of the Holly Leaf staff and is at present Associate Editor and a member of the College Chorus since she enrolled in the Elementary Education Program in 1955.

Albert Seymour, another dependable behind-the-scenes worker, came to STC from Easton, Md., enrolling under the Junior High Program and majoring in Math and Barnes and Ed Feards will play psychiatrists Dr. Lundeen and Dr. Byrd. Allen Muir will play the stenographer and Phillip Doyle has the role of orderly.

Serving on the court are Ervin Marsh, Elbert Detwiler, Dennis Paquette, Earl Reddish, David Cook and Donald Messick.

The story takes place in February of 1945 in the General Court Martial Room of the Fifteenth Naval District in San Francisco. The theme of the play, that the institution is greater than the man, is illustrated in Greenwald's (Ronald Allen) belief that by having Maryk (Tom Parker) acquitted and ruining Queeg (Jerry Pine) he is dishonoring the Navy, since he honestly believes that his client is in the wrong. The human emotions and tension in the play are not easy for a non-professional group to portray.

Special credit is given to the following people for their dependability and earnest effort in their respective positions: stage manager, Elinor Downs; prompters, James Richardson, Anne Spicer, Joan Williams, Ann Kistler; makeup, Ruth Tyler, Constance Hillman; Nancy Sutton, Rosalie Gault; publicity, Evelyn Lofland, Jeffrey Potts; properties and scenery, Paul Timmons, William Wheatley; lighting, Mike Coffin, Donald Moore, Jeffrey Potts; ushers, Billy Paris, Evelyn Lofland, Loretta Fitzsimons; business, Maryanna Lofland and Donald Banting.

Miss Holloway also publicly wishes to thank Sophanes faculty advisor McCurdy Burnet for his endless time and effort as Play Director.

The production on Thursday is open to the public and friends of the students.

Correction

The Holly Leaf staff apologizes to Mr. Robert Frost for the error in the last issue as to the college he attended. Mr. Frost is a graduate of Maryville College in Tennessee.

Science. Mr. Seymour has been active in the Science Club since it was established last year. Presently, he is President of the Men's Dormitory Association and Parliamentarian of SGA. He has served as treasurer to his class for the past two years.

Miss Addis, out of fairness to those students whom she did not know well, declined to take part in the balloting in selecting the candidates. Mr. Farace stated that he felt he was speaking for the entire committee in saying that these students selected represent a good cross-section of those seniors who have contributed most to STC.

Each of the students who will be listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities will be awarded a shingle commemorating their honor in the Awards Assembly next spring.
