SALISBURY STATE COLLEGE, SALISBURY, MARYLAND

NOVEMBER 1, 1969

Jeanne Stewart Voted 1969 Homecoming Queen

Jeanne Stewart will reign as Salisbury State College's 1969 Homecoming Queen. Although a Salisbury commuter student, Jeanne has found time to participate in Modern Dance Club, gymnastics, varsity and intramural basketball and intramural archery. This fall Jeanne serves as secretary of the Student Government Association and a member of the President's Student Advisory Council. Numerous committee and club activities have distinguished Jeanne as a 1969 Campus Life Award recipient. Jeanne was named Homecoming Queen during the SGA elections last spring.

The Homecoming Court consists of Helena Moore, senior representative; Kay Harner, junior representative; Mona Licefi, sophomore representative; and Judy Myers, freshman representative.

Academic Committee Begins Work

The Student Academic Committee serves as a bridge over the gap between the students and faculty on academic ideas. The students of the college can bring any academic problems to the committee and have them acted upon. Although the board is not a grievance committee, it plays a large part in the smooth functioning of the college.

If a student has a particular complaint he should either place it in campus mailbox #722 or contact one of the members of the committee. After this is done, the committee goes into action. The problem is discussed at the Academic Committee meeting which is a closed session. The committee consists of representatives from all four levels of the college and must be in good standing while they are active. After preliminary discussion, the matter is taken to the faculty committee. Dean Baker acts as the go-between for the two organizations. He is also the chairman of the faculty staff. He conveys the thoughts of the first meeting, and the faculty acts upon the issue in question.

President Smith Discusses Resignation

Perhaps preachers and college presidents listen to the same voice because both are often "called" to move on to new assignments. My decision to leave Salisbury State has been one of the most difficult of my life, but finally the choice was to leave a happy faculty and very friendly student body in a rapidly growing school to build an entirely new college "from the ground up".

This, of course, calls for a degree of pioneering as one must recognize that success is not assured and failure is possible. But, it also promises an opportunity to put into practice some of the dreams every educator must have when he thinks of his "ideal" college. I could not leave my dream untested.

I feel, therefore, that in embarking on such a venture I may provide a greater service to higher education and perhaps live a fuller life in doing so. Preachers could never explain their "calls" very well. Nor does this college president do a very satisfactory job.

I will become President of Marion State College, named after Francis Marion, which will open its doors at Florence, South Carolina, on July 1, 1970. This will be South Carolina's first new state-supported four year college built in this century. After nine years at Winthrop College in South Carolina, I feel an identification and attachment to the State which made it impossible for me to turn down the invitation to return.

Salisbury State College is strong; it knows where it is going and it must move forward with only a brief acknowledgement that one president leaves and another enters. It has been both a challenge and a joy to serve as Salisbury State's President for two years and to have taken part in the affairs of a most progressive community during that period.

If the College continues to move forward, as I have observed it to move during my two years of service, its students and alumni can be assured that their school will always merit their pride and their support. And it will always be with the greatest pride that I can point to my two years as President of Salisbury State College.

Walter D. Smith
President

Big Band Sound For Homecoming

Students of SSC should be glad to hear that one of the main features of Homecoming week-end will be a big band sound consisting of a total of thirty-two players and singers.

To start off the week-end, Friday night after the Charlie Byrd concert there will be an informal dance in the cafeteria from 9:00 to 12:00. The Nowhere Men will be featured. Those students from the D.C. area are probably already familiar with the type of music this band plays, as are those who remember their fine performance last year. This group combines much of the Blood, Sweat, and Tears-type with the ever-popular soul sound. The Nowhere Men have ten pieces and two singers.

Saturday night the semi-formal Homecoming Ball will be held in the dining hall from 9:00 until 1:00. The main attraction featured here will be Gary U.S. Bonds.

This artist had records that were popular in 1963 and 1964. Some of his hits were "Quarter to Three", "Not Me", and "New Orleans." Backing up Gary will be a fantastic band called Magnificent Seven. This group together will play popular rock and soul oldies and will play about an hour and a half.

The Spades and Rainbows are scheduled to play for the rest of the evening. This versatile group consists of five singers, four horns, and three rhythm guitars. They are a Negro group and will be performing the exciting music of the Supremes and the Temptations. They will also be playing and improvising on other popular songs.

Tickets for the Homecoming Ball are $3.00 per couple.

With such talented groups scheduled to play at the dances, the week-end should provide a good time for everyone.

Works Of Ernst On Display

The Salisbury State College Gallery will be the setting for an exhibit of the works of internationally known artist James A. Ernst from October 20 through November 7, 1969.

This is Ernst's first major show on the Eastern Shore, the largest he has mounted since he left New York. He will show some thirty paintings, selected from his work of the past ten years.

Oils, watercolors, and drawings will be included, a number of them never before shown. There are both abstract and representational pieces. Many reflect his life on the Eastern Shore during the past four years. Others were painted as he traveled in Portugal and the Azores Islands and throughout the Caribbean.

Though Mr. Ernst works chiefly in watercolor when traveling, his studio work is in oils and drawings. He has been an invited exhibitor, for several years, in "DRAWINGS - USA", a biennial national competition in drawing. His book, DRAWING THE LINE, published by Reinhold in 1962, includes 165 of his drawings in a broad variety of materials - pen, brush, charcoal, scratchboard, etc.

In New York City, where he was born, where he studied art, and where he returned after World War II service in the infantry, he taught watercolor and drawing at the City College of New York, and gave lecture-demonstrations in watercolor painting semi-annually at The New York Public Library. During this period, also, he was on the art staff of Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn advertising firm as Specialist in Design and Specialist in Line Drawing, but he always continued fine arts as his major work.

His oils, watercolors, and drawings have been exhibited in nine one-man shows in New York galleries, two in Paris, and others in St. Thomas, V.I.; Georgetown, Cayman Island, B.W.I.; and, lately, in Maryland, a recent one being a three-month show in the Vertical Gallery at One Charles Center in Baltimore.

The Salisbury State College Gallery is open from 2-4 PM and 7-9

PM Monday through Friday and Sunday afternoon from 2-5 PM. The public is cordially invited. There is no admission fee.

Through the Dusty Keyhole

A Mountain And Mohammed

On October 6, the Sophanes Players finally came to the SGA, vaguely suggestive of the mountain coming to Mohammed. The mountain suddenly discovered that Mohammed might be necessary after all when "rumors were flying" that Sophanes was not receiving its usual fat ("rums") grant. Rodney Wilson himself finally shook off enough disdain to appear at the SGA meeting.

Not that ALL disdain was shaken off, Mr. Wilson still retained enough to laugh at the SGA's notion that he and his organization should go through such unnecessary, indeed foolish, procedures as properly filling out requisitions and attending financial meetings. As an artist, he apparently feels that it is also expected of him to overspend his allocation.

To prove that he is an artist, Mr. Wilson performed examples of light (?) humor at the expense of Winthrop College, of smugness at his special arrangement with the business office, of worldly wisdom with such never-to-be forgotten lines as "Is anything cheap these days"? (Well, plays which do not require huge royalty fees would be a good start; the crowd at SCHOOL FOR WIVES suggests the continuing popularity of older plays), and of much heavy sarcasm.

Unfortunately, attempts at biting sarcasm do not run an organization, Mr. Wilson -- good business practices do. If an organization cannot follow SGA practices, there is no reason for the SGA to support it. G.W.

State Scholarship Programs Change

The Maryland State Scholarship Board today announced changes in the State scholarship programs and procedures for the 1970-71 academic year. In accordance with revisions made in the programs by the last session of the Legislature, students will no longer have to take a special State Scholarship examination. Instead, a student wishing to compete for either of the two types of scholarships should take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) in the test center in his area, either in November or December of this year.

In addition, scholarship candidates must file a formal scholarship application and a financial analysis statement, known as the "Parents' Confidential Statement" (PCS). These forms must be filed with the College Scholarship Service in Princeton, New Jersey by December 1 in order for a student to be considered as an eligible State scholarship candidate. The necessary forms will be distributed to all public and private secondary schools and colleges in the State during the month of September.

A new program of State scholarships will be available to students beginning with the 1970-71 academic year. This program is known as the General State Scholarship program and it replaces the General State Tuition and Teacher Education scholarship programs, both of which will be phased out of existence over the next four years. The new General scholarships will be awarded in units of $100, but no award may be less than $200 or more than $1500. The stipend may be applied to the cost of tuition and/or room and board. The State Scholarship Board will award fifty per cent of the scholarships in each political subdivision to the "ablest of the needy" and fifty per cent to the "neediest of the able."

The Senatorial Scholarship program was amended to change the value of the units from $250 to $100 to more closely meet the actual need of the student; how-

Sociology Major Develops

Evidence of S.S.C.'s expanding Arts and Sciences program may soon be seen with the addition of a sociology major. Special interest is being shown in sociology because it requires fewer credits needed to satisfy major requirements of any of the eight new departments proposed for the near future.

To institute the new department President Smith has added to the faculty Dr. John H. Shope, who has been engaged in a career of curriculum research and development. The process of establishing a major in sociology is being planned over a two or three year period; Dr. Shope, however, feels that it could be accomplished in one year. He is already proposing for next semester three new courses which would concern social problems, the sociology of religion, and the sociology of small groups. Dr. Shope also has in mind two other courses which could be added this summer.

Before the list of courses is completed, Dr. Shope intends to study the interests and needs of the students as well as the "area need." He has comprised a questionnaire, and all interested students are asked to answer the questions and return the questionnaire to campus box #723.

Board Of Visitors Initiated

The Board of Visitors serves a very important function in the running of Salisbury State. The board is made up of citizens from the Eastern Shore including Salisbury and the vicinity.

Chairman is Avery Hall of Salisbury. His committee consists of Robert Davis of Cambridge, A.L. Fleming, Dr. Harvey Hall and Thomas Smith of Salisbury State, Elwood Jones of Chrisfield, Larrie Jones of Centreville, Marshall Moore of Salisbury, and Jack Pruitt of Berlin.

The purposes of the Board of Visitors are many and varied. These functions are (1) to assist the President in determining the goals for the College and the evaluation of progress toward these goals, (2) to review budget proposals or make recommendations in the preparation of the annual budget, (3) to advise and assist in the development of college facilities (4) to assist in the conduct and development of community-related programs, (5) to assume leadership in the development of communication for the private support of the college, (6) to carry out other responsibilities as delegated to it by the Board of Trustees whenever it has to elect a new president of a college. The last responsibility is the most important to Salisbury since President Smith is resigning.

The Board is presently working on the idea of raising scholarship funds to supply additional help to students pursuing their education at Salisbury State.

Former Professor Remembers SSC Of 30 Years Ago

Do any of the alumni returning for homecoming remember Willis Conover? How about Marjory Philbin? Or Bill Hollis, Bob Potter, Jimmy Wright? If they do remember them, the alumni are dating themselves from the period of 1935 through 1946. This is the period when Dr. Simonds taught at Salisbury, a period she recently discussed.

Now Mrs. John May, wife of our psychology professor, the former biology professor was the first SSC teacher with a Ph.D. In 1935, Salisbury was a small town, with one traffic light and several theaters providing the only entertainment, and it contained a small college. SSC was Holloway Hall and a surrounding strip of land bordered by College Avenue and strawberry patches and peach orchards.

As a college whose male students had to live off campus, Salisbury was able to utilize these orchards. Some of the men held kitchen raids in the Holloway cafeteria late at night, but Dr. Blackwell, President of the College, would often be called to chase the men away. Since the men, notably the "Butcher boys" (those who lived with Mrs. Butcher), could outrun the President, they would climb into the peach trees and hide. The college students were also allowed to glean the strawberry fields, thus providing their own desserts.

Holloway contained all of the college facilities, from gym (behind the auditorium) to library (the current lounges). The art gallery was then the dining hall and the infirmary the kitchens. In the dining hall ate not only the college students and faculty members but also the campus school students and teachers. The campus school was then located in the East Wing and contained seven grades.

But if Holloway Hall was a small world, the world of the social room, it was not a totally provincial one. Mrs. May can remember the introduction of the Columbia Concert Series and the visits of such famous persons as Admiral Richard Byrd. The Social Room was always open then and served as the heart of the College. Every

by Albert Philips

Peace. Everybody seems to want it, but most everybody has a different method to achieve it in Vietnam. Four SSC students, Rich Barbieri, George Messmore, Joe Thornton, and I feel that they might have helped bring that day closer by organizing support for the October 15th Moratorium.

The group started by talking to the administration to find out exactly what could be done. The administration was very cooperative. The group asked and got the College to take a neutral stand on the Moratorium. The position the College took was that students would not be penalized if they chose not to go to classes and a professor could call class for the day if he felt it necessary.

On October 9th the group presented a motion to the Student Government Board so that it would have an opportunity to take an official stand on the Moratorium. The Motion asked the SGA to support anyone who upheld the Moratorium and recognize the right of a student to attend or cut class as his conscience dictated. The motion was passed.

The actual purpose of the Moratorium varied throughout the country. While many people felt it was a day of protest, we felt it should be a day of discussion about the war. In view of this aim, the group planned a program for the college which was attended by about 175 students and faculty members. In keeping with the educational theme, Dr. Millard LesCalle delivered a lecture on how we got involved in Vietnam. The next speaker was the Vicar of St. Albans Chapel, Father Charles T. Mason. Father Mason said to end the war, the United States would have to bear the burden of responsibility on their own shoulders. Dr. A. Nayland States must be prepared for change in the world, especially in Latin America.

The group ran into problems trying to find a speaker in favor of the war. The Army and the Marine Corps and several local people who had taken "hawkish" stands were contacted and invited to come. No one was able to accept due to short notice or other reasons.

The national reaction to the Moratorium has ranged from the feeling that it was a complete success to the feeling that it did nothing but harm. I don't feel that I am in a position to judge what it accomplished; only time will tell that. The one thing that struck me as significant was that the violence and riots that were expected by many people did not occur.

I do feel it was a success on the SSC campus. I think that this has made not only the Vietnam war but other major issues accepted topics of conversation and thought. I only hope that this continues to take place.

Wednesday there was an afternoon tea, with campus organization's representative pouring. During the January exam week, when it was felt that the students needed fortification, tea was served every afternoon. "In the winter time," Mrs. May recalls, "there was always a fire in the fireplace, so it was a real homey place."

The cafeteria help made a special effort to prepare surprises for the teas, such as ham biscuits and marmalade muffins. At one of these teas, the President of St. John's College, a celebrity at the time due to his introduction of the Great Books curriculum, "...Completely demoralized the kitchen force - and everyone else - by asking for milk in his tea. We were expected to drink our tea with lemon and say nothing."

The world of the teacup was dominated by Ruth Powell, who also served as social director, housemother, dietician, and unofficial dean of women. As there were no deans at the time, "Miss Ruth" and the president (who was originally called Principal) were the entire administration. The campus school children were in awe of "that Ruth woman", who spanked them if she didn't feel that they had eaten enough of their lunch.

"Miss Ruth" also commanded the obedience of some of the faculty, since several unmarried women teachers also lived in Holloway. These teachers joined in the taffy pullings in the kitchen and even made fudge on Mrs. May's Bunsen burner in her stockroom (now Dr. May's office). Mrs. May also helped to sneak some girls into the dorm after curfew, tiptoeing down the main hall without shoes so as not to awaken "Miss Ruth." The curfew at that time was 10:00 (11:00 on weekends) and "Miss Ruth" was waiting at the door at 9:50. It was easy for Mrs. May to answer the gravel thrown at her window because the only night guard spent his evenings sleeping and eating in the kitchen.

Dances, which were held in the gym, were very sedate affairs with a reception line. This reception line, headed by the President, was called the "automatic breatherizer test" and ascertained that no one had been drinking. When asked if any ever failed the "test", Mrs. May laughed and said, "Some of them should have - I don't know how they ever made it by!" Smoking was also forbidden and positively no jittersbugging was allowed -- students were told to "... keep their feet on the floor."

The Big Apple was not quite as frowned on... Informal dancing to a jukebox was often held after

Men's Sports

by Roger Mason

With six games down and six to go, the SSC Seagulls remain undefeated and have two ties. In spite of some impressive teams left to play, including Frostburg, Coach Ben Maggs is expecting an undefeated season. Also, he is expecting his team to be the Delaware Valley Conference Champions again this year. So far the Seagulls have put down two Conference members, Lincoln and PCB, and if things continue on their present course, the chances are very good that the Seagulls will bring their second conference title back to Salisbury.

The SSC team is playing an outstanding defensive game, allowing no more than two goals in any one game and only six goals all season. The Gulls are also playing a very good offensive game, scoring a total of 19 points against their opponents.

If the Seagulls are doing well now, speculation has it they will be just as good, if not better, in the future. The majority of players come from the Sophomore and Freshman classes. This is one of the youngest teams ever at SSC, and things look bright to soccer fans not only now but later as well.

Kicking the winning goals for the home team are Andy Hall, a senior, leading the list with 7 goals so far. Dale Pusey, a sophomore, has contributed 5 goals. Bunky Nelson, also a sophomore, has booted in 4 points. Tony Redman, a junior has scored 2 goals, and Norman Larimore, a full back, rushed in to score 1.

After a look at the SSC soccer team as a cooperating whole, we will now tell a little about the individuals that make up Salisbury's winning team.

Andy Hall

Senior, Andy Hall, comes from Princess Anne. He was one of last year's most valuable players, scoring a total of 12 goals. It looks as though Andy may top last year's total with 7 points already scored and 6 more games to play. He is a big threat to score against because of his speed and ball control. Andy is co-captain of this year's team.

Charlie Bozman

Charlie is also a co-captain of the Seagulls and like several others on the team, lives in Princess Anne. Charlie, a senior plays center half-back and is a very hard-nosed ball handler. Because of his ability to play defense, Charlie is one of the biggest assets of the Seagulls.

Danny Long

Goalie, Dan Long, also comes from Princess Anne. He is a senior and because of his position, one of the most important men on the squad. Dan, a back up goalie last year, has had a successful season this year allowing only 6 goals for the opposers.

Richard Jenkins

Richard, a sophomore, played soccer for Mardela High School and was a member of the SSC soccer team last year. Playing a full-back position, Richard is one of the most improved players this year. He has lots of strength and speed which allow him to patrol the whole defense and jump in when needed.

Henry Hunt

Henry, a junior from Baltimore, is the only starter on the team who does not live on the Eastern Shore. Playing half-back, he is the most improved player on the team. He is quick, has good ball control and is a real hustler on the soccer field.

Dale Pusey

Sophomore, Dale, is the second highest scorer on the team with 5 goals to his credit. He plays on the line and really makes himself known to the opposing teams. A good player last year, Dale has really become a leader on the team this year.

Dale lives in Salisbury and is a graduate of James M. Bennett High School.

Reports on the other soccer players will appear in future issues of the "Holly Leaf."

Graduate Record Exams Announced

Educational Testing Service announced that undergraduates and others preparing to go to graduate school may take the Graduate Record Examinations on any of six different test dates during the current academic year.

The remaining five test dates are December 13, 1969; January 17, February 28, April 25 and July 11, 1970. Equivalent late fee and registration deadlines apply to these dates. Choice of test dates should be determined by the requirements of graduate schools or fellowships to which one is applying. Scores are usually reported to graduate schools five weeks after a test date.

The Graduate Record Examinations include an Aptitude Test of general scholastic ability and Advanced Tests measuring achievement in 21 major fields of study. Full details and registration forms for the GRE are contained in the 1969-70 BULLETIN OF INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES. The BULLETIN also contains forms and instructions for requesting transcript service on GRE scores already on file with ETS. This booklet may be available on your campus or may be ordered from: Educational Testing Service, Box 955, Princeton, New Jersey 08540; Educational Testing Service, Box 1502, Berkeley, California 94701; Educational Testing Service, 960 Grove Street, Evanston, Illinois 60201.

The club has purposes, as do all clubs. The society purchases needed items for the department, constructs a float for homecoming, sponsors a tutoring program for students who are taking Physical Elements 201, and prepares "senior theses" which are read at their monthly meetings. The officers of the club are: President, Jim Miller; Vice - President, Theresa Williams; Secretary and Treasurer, Becky Golt; and Historian, Kathy Reis. New members are Ann Alcock, Nancy Fusillo, Ben Robbins, Danny Grauman, Joe Pearsall, Albert Phillips, Vernon Usilton, and Dottie Houlihan.

Salisbury vs. PCB

Salisbury State opened its soccer season on September 19th at Philadelphia and returned home with its first victory of the season. The Seagulls had little trouble with PCB and soon had the game wrapped up, ending with a 4-0 score.

2-2 Tie with Towson

Salisbury's first tie of the season came on October 3rd at Towson. The hosts proved to be stiff opposition throughout the game and especially as the two teams fought for the deciding goal. However, time ran out before either team could score again, and the game ended in a 2-2 deadlock.

Seagulls Tie Glassboro 1-1

On October 7th, the SSC team travelled to Glassboro to challenge the Glassboro players. Both teams scored 1 point each and played hard to kick the deciding goal. However, both teams were allowed to score only once, and the clock ran out with the score tied at 1-1.

Salisbury Tromps Gallaudet

Washington D.C. was the scene of Salisbury State's fifth soccer game of the '69 season. SSC took command early and from then on it was SSC all the way. Throughout the entire game Gallaudet did not pose as any serious scoring threat. At the end of the game it was Salisbury 5 and Gallaudet 1.

Seagulls Battle Navy B

One of the hardest played games of the season was at Annapolis on October 15th, against the Navy B team. The Navy men were tough competition for Salisbury but finally, after double overtime, the Seagulls went home with a 3-1 victory.

To Be Charged Breakage Fee

Effective September 1970, Salisbury State will charge a Dormitory Breakage Fee to all resident students. The fee is intended to cover minor repairs to dormitory buildings and equipment which are damaged through student negligence. On a nonrefundable basis, the fee will cost $2.00 for the academic year, $1.00 for one semester only, and $1.00 for each summer session.

Cheerleaders Find Sponsor

S.S.C. DOES have cheerleaders; they were chosen on October 2, 1969 by a panel of four faculty judges and three student judges. This year's squad is under the S.G.A. Board with Mr. Deane Deshon as their advisor. There are eight girls on the squad with two alternates. They are Kathy Crews, Jackie DeBosier, Robin Long, Nancy McCulley -- secretary-treasurer, Anita Miller, Lynn Robertson -- captain, Jane Thoma and Kristi Waetjen -- co-captains. The two alternates are Lynn Gerberick and Judy Kirchhoff. Classes are well represented on the 1969-70 squad as there are five freshmen, one sophomore, three juniors, and one senior.

The cheerleaders have been quite active already this semester. New uniforms were ordered and should arrive in time for the first basketball game on December 1st. There was a dance held for the benefit of the cheerleaders to add to their fund. Unfortunately, not too much was made on the dance, but other projects are being considered such as a pool contest and booster buttons.

Hockey Team

The hockey team has made an impressive start in their season this year sporting a 5-2 record. They began with a squeaker, 5-1, over Wesley College of Dover but came back on the 3rd to smash Gallaudet by 4-1. Sandy Amos contributed two goals with Judy Sterling and Lynn Robertson each adding one to complete the final winning score. Miss Purvis' junior varsity squad also got a chance to prove themselves, with a sound defeat of Gallaudet's J.V. 2-0.

Travelling from Gallaudet to American U. the Salisbury girls could not be stopped. Both varsity and junior varsity squads rocked up yet another win. Sandy Amos scored both of the two goals that appeared in the 2-1 victory over American U. The J.V. squad again did not allow anyone to score on them leveling a crushing 5-0 defeat to American U. Judy Sterling, Mary Jo Shoemaker, Sue Brinsfield, Kathy Price, and Holly Lowe each contributed one goal.

October 8th was quite another story for Salisbury when they ventured to the University of Delaware. They were dealt a stern blow in the way of 4-1 defeat with Lynn Robertson scoring the only goal. The varsity bounced back though on October 11th and carried away an impressive 4-0 win over Western Maryland. Debbie Murray takes credit for each of Salisbury's goals. Though the varsity redeemed themselves, the J.V.'s suffered their first loss. The final was 1-0 in favor of Western Maryland. On October 14th Salisbury added still another win to the list with a smart defeat of University of Maryland, Baltimore Campus by a score of 4-0. Terry Miller took top honors for backing up each of the four goals scored. The Salisbury girls have six games ahead of them in which they will meet the University of Maryland, Catonsville Community College, Essex Community College, Villa Julie on Homecoming, Morgan State, and Towson State.

Maryland Sports Day

Each year the Women's Athletic Association of the University of Maryland hosts a Sports Day inviting other colleges to participate. This year Salisbury's W.A.A. has accepted the invitation for Saturday, October 25. The events offered will consist of tennis, hockey and fencing. While individuals may sign up for tennis and fencing, a new twist has been added for selecting the participating hockey team. In years past the varsity hockey players have attended; this time the players will be coming from the new hockey intramurals.

The girls will leave Salisbury early Saturday morning and return Saturday evening. This Sports Day and others like it give those girls interested in sports, but not in varsity competition, a chance to participate.

Resident Women Revise Constitution

For the past year, the women residents of the campus have been analyzing their constitution. The original constitution of the Women's Residence Association was suspended in December of 1968 by the women residents. It was believed to be obsolete in the terms of such an expanding campus.

Each hall delegated two members to a Constitution Committee. This group worked hard towards constructing a basic and necessary guideline for a new form of government. The proposed document was partially complete, except for fine and minute details by May of 1969. It was presented to the women students. At a meeting of the girls, it was approved and voted upon to continue the work.

When the fall semester of 1969 began, the girls once again elected representatives to a new Constitution Committee. Each dorm contributed three members: Linda Hemmings, Linda Toth and Gwen Kuykendall of Nanticoke Hall, Lynn Robertson, Betsy Mackie and Carol Walker of Manokin Hall, and Rudy Kirchoff, Candy Frank, and Donna Wilson of Holloway Hall, along with the residence assistants and the residence supervisor of each dormitory. At the first meeting Linda Hemmings was elected chairman of the group and Betsy Mackie and Candy Frank were appointed secretaries.

SSC Of 1930's

the evening meal in the main hall.

World War II caused the first serious reduction in male students. The College has never diminished in population, however; even the Depression saw an increased enrollment, for it was less expensive to live at college than at home. During the War, Salisbury produced an ever increasing number of teachers by an accelerated program (involving summer sessions) and "cadet teaching" (replacing student teaching) in order to fulfill the public schools' demands.

SSC also involved itself in the war effort by handling the city's rationing of food and supplies, sometimes calling classes to do so. The College women made Red Cross surgical dressings and entertained at the USO for locally stationed servicemen.

The plaque to the left side of the front door of Holloway Hall commemorates those students and faculty members who fought in the War. This was compiled from a temporary plaque kept at the front of the auditorium honoring those currently in battle. The six men who died in the War are commemorated by the six evergreens on the east side of the gym.

That was the SSC of 30 years ago. But some features have remained constant. The College Grocery was already open. The Candlelighting Service was held (at that time, following a dinner for faculty members and their families). Students went Christmas caroling. And the food was a constant source of discussion; a popular song had a refrain of "Beans, beans, baked beans, boiled beans, beans." Mrs. May can, after a 23-year-absence from the cafeteria, still remember perfectly that "Saturday meals were pretty bad and Sunday nights were awful."

Every Wednesday night the girls have met to discuss policies concerning lateness and other problems facing a women's residence hall on a college campus. They have constructed a new form of government with a general assembly, a judiciary committee and officers.

The present Constitution Committee hopes to have their document finished and ready for adoption by December 1st. They are anxious, as are other women students, to present it and begin working under the newly founded program.

State Scholarships

ever, no single scholarship may be less than $200 or more than $1500. In addition, certain restrictions on the use of the scholarships have been removed, so that beginning in September 1970, the Senatorial units may be applied at any degree-granting institution of higher education in the State, including the community colleges.

A student wishing to be considered for a Senatorial scholarship must file a special application with his State Senator prior to March 31 of the year following that in which he took the S.A.T. Senatorial scholarship applications may be obtained from any high school in the State or from the office of the respective State Senator, beginning in January of the same year.

Students who have already completed at least one year of college are exempted from the S.A.T. requirement. However, such students must still file the formal application and the P.C.S. by December 1 in order to be considered for an award.

For further details of the State programs, students should consult their principal or guidance counselor. A brochure describing all the State scholarship programs is available upon request from the State Scholarship Board, 2100 Guilford Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland 21218.

Director Of Gallery Plans Exhibits

The activities of Mr. Kent N. Kimmel, new art instructor here at Salisbury, demonstrate the pattern of continued growth and improvement in both the curricula and in extra-curricula affairs at Salisbury State as the new decade approaches.

Working in conjunction with the Cultural Affairs Committee, Mr. Kimmel will plan upcoming art exhibitions featuring works by noted State and out-of-State artists. The department has planned four more exhibitions this school year.

This semester the gallery will feature paintings by Jack Ernst, noted for his watercolors and paintings in oil. A native Marylander, Mr. Ernst will officially open the exhibit at a reception in the Social Room Tuesday, October 21 at 8 P.M. Faculty, students, and guests are welcome. The exhibition will open October 20 and will close November 7.

Also this semester will be a display entitled "The Sopher Exhibit," to last December 1-19. Mr. Sopher is a noted artist and illustrator.

From January 30 until February 15 "Maryland Artists Today - Exhibition Alpha" will feature pieces from various State exhibitions selected by a jury of artists and the Maryland Arts Council. This show, featuring various kinds of art, is sponsored by the Wicomico Council of the Arts.

Rounding out the year's schedule will be a photographic exhibit by Orlando Wootten, photographer for the DAILY TIMES. This display will feature scenes from the Eastern Shore.

Gallery hours are 2-4 P.M. Sundays thru Fridays and 7-9 P.M. Mondays thru Thursdays. Changes in the above schedule will be posted on the gallery door. Admission to all exhibits is free.

Mr. Kimmel plans to continue exhibitions during the summer and would like to have one exhibition a month beginning next school year. The former University of Maryland instructor is also helping to lay the groundwork for a major in art here within the next 5 to 8 years.

Circulo Quijote Sponsors "The Gun"

On October 15, the Spanish Club presented "The Gun" (formerly called "Pride and Passion"). This Hollywood spectacular was, to be sure, an excellent account of the Napoleonic invasion of Spain. Aside from the superb acting of Cary Grant and Frank Sinatra and the sight of beautiful Sophia Loren, the students and faculty were given an excellent insight into this exciting chapter of Spanish history. Dr. A. Nayland Page prefaced the film with a brief historical introduction. The event was well publicized and received an audience of over 200 people. The CIRCULO QUIJOTE was happy to entertain the College and its guests and plans to do so again in the future.

At a recent faculty meeting, President Smith stated that "Salisbury State College should not remain isolated from the rest of the world." This is the basic policy of the CIRCULO QUIJOTE, which has always attempted through films, speeches, and interesting discussions to present to the students of the College various aspects of culture, life, and history of the Hispanic countries.

The program of the Club, as it stands for the academic year 1969-70, is one of the best that we have ever had. Pedro C. Harispe, our advisor, has invited Senor Don Raul Estrada Oyuela to speak to the students and faculty on November 3 at 7:30 in Caruthers Auditorium. Senor Estrada Oyuela, Cultural Attache of the Argentine Embassy in Washington and noted speaker and scholar, will speak of "Argentina and the USA: At the Present and in the Future." The faculty staff, and students of the College are cordially invited to attend.

Bartyczak Heads SGA

SGA Vice - President Ron Bartyczak will assume the office of SGA President due to the resignation of the former SGA President Joe Decerbo. A Vice-Presidential election will take place in the beginning of November.
