MILLINERY OPENINGS ATTRACT LARGE CROWDS.

R. E. Powell & Company Are Showing An Extensive Line Of Furs—Large Flat Hats In Different Shades Of Brown Seem To Prevail.

The usual Fall openings in the different millinery stores, Thursday, attracted throngs of ladies to the shops. Many shapes and colors in Fall hats are being shown, but the large flat, in the different shades of brown, seems to be given the preference.

At Powell's department store every one had a word of praise for the beautiful goods on display. Both stores were decorated for the opening, the color scheme in the millinery department being the new shade of brown. A row of various colored electric lights added a pleasing finish to the general effect. In the coat department all the new styles in ladies coats and furs were on display. The full length coat will be worn a great deal this year and braid trimmings seem to prevail. Furs, especially muffs, were shown extensively at Powell's.

In the millinery department a large, flat hat, made of plain Alice blue velvet, attracted considerable attention. The edge of the hat is finished with satin wires. It has a high crown of velvet and is trimmed with three large white plumes. The other decorations are a large flat bow of white morie ribbon and a rose of Alice blue in front. Another noticeable hat is a green felt hat, with a green taffeta band on the facing and a green crushed velvet band around the crown. It is trimmed with two large green plumes and one purple plume and is finished with a knot of green velvet and a large oval buckle.

Mrs. G. W. Taylor's store was beautifully decorated with the autumn colors, pattern hats and draperies of silk and velvet were shown. There were about one hundred and twenty-five trimmed hats, all much admired and many sold.

The predominating colors this season are plum green and brown. The hats have wide front effects, long backs and trimmed very full. Ostrich plumes, velvet roses, natural wings and marabout feathers, showing a handsome effect are used in profusion.

A large, white hat, made of Baby Irish lace and trimmed in gilt bands, ribbon velvet and two long Amazon plumes with white uncut velvet edge, was much admired. A large, black velvet hat with four large Ostrich plumes and a sweeping uncut Ostrich "fancy" jet pins, high crown, trimmed broad in front, received much praise. Two very handsome children's hats in pink and blue felts, trimmed with Irish lace and ribbon, velvet and buckles, caused much admiration.

The color scheme of the interior display at Lowenthal's was the new leather shade and olive green, with touches, here and there, of violet. The new leather shade also predominated in the show window. There was a pleasing arrangement of browns in every shade with autumn leaves effectively strewn in the back ground.

One of the most admired hats was a large leather shade velvet with four large willow plumes drooping gracefully on the side and fastened with two antique pins. Another attractive hat was one of three shades of violet, the entire brim being covered with morning glories of different shades of brown. Children's pokes, caps, and Mexican hats were shown in profusion. All the new plaids in silks and checked goods were shown with trimmings to match.

Negroes Charged With Murder.

When arraigned before the Circuit Court Thursday, Edward Dashiell and Ernest Robbins, the two negroes who have been locked up in the county jail on account of their alleged connection with the killing of Bruce Purnell on August 31st, plead not guilty to the charge of murder and Attorney Elmer H. Walton was appointed by the Court to defend them in their trial. The Court instructed the attorneys engaged on the case to prepare for trial at this term of Court.

The grand jury, which was in session last week, found a true bill on the charge of murder against the defendants and it is thought that State's Attorney Joseph L. Bailey, has succeeded in welding together every link in the chain of evidence that will, unless proven to the contrary, place the hangman's noose about the necks of the negroes.

Republican Candidates for County Treasurer and State's Attorney.

DR. SAMUEL A. GRAHAM
FOR COUNTY TREASURER

MR. ELMER H. WALTON
FOR STATE'S ATTORNEY

AN ABLE CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY TREASURER.

Dr. Samuel A. Graham, a Native Of Wicomico, Has Had Years Of Training In Financial Affairs—Mr. Walton's Career.

Dr. Samuel A. Graham, Republican candidate for County Treasurer, is a native of Wicomico county. He was born in this city in February, 1860. His parents were Col. Samuel A. and Louisa A. Graham. He is a graduate of the Salisbury High School and also a graduate of medicine and dentistry.

Dr. Graham has been connected with financial institutions the greater part of his life. He entered the Salisbury National Bank at its organization and remained with it seven years when he resigned to accept the position of cashier of the First National Bank, of Elizabeth City, N. C. He remained with that institution until he was called to Salisbury to accept a similar position with the Farmers & Merchants Bank, about fifteen years ago. That Dr. Graham is fully qualified to handle the financial affairs of the county is demonstrated by his success in the management of the bank's interests.

He is a director and treasurer of the Salisbury Light, Heat & Power Company, treasurer of the Stumpage Lumber Company and a director of the Salisbury Water Company.

Elmer H. Walton, candidate for State's Attorney upon the Republican ticket, was born July 14, 1874, and was a son of the late Rev. William B. and Sarah D. Walton, his father being for nearly fifty years a member of the Philadelphia and Wilmington Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

After his graduation from the High School, his higher education was obtained in the Wilmington City College and the New York University.

He was admitted to the Maryland Bar in 1896.

After his admission to the bar, he was for two years connected with a Wall Street law firm in New York, and upon the death of his father in 1898, returned to Salisbury and formed a partnership with Joseph L. Bailey, Esq., the present State's Attorney, which continued until January 1, 1900, since which time he has continued the active practice of law alone except when associated with other lawyers in individual cases.

In 1901 he was appointed Private Secretary to the Hon. William H. Jackson, Member of Congress from the First Congressional District of Maryland, which position he has held ever since that time.

In 1904, he was a candidate upon the Republican ticket for State's Attorney and in 1905, for the House of Delegates.

In June, 1906, he purchased a controlling interest in the Peninsula Publishing Company, and became the manager of the company, and the Editor of this paper.

In the last few years he has been connected as director with a number of different business concerns, including the W. J. Downing Lumber Company, the Camden Realty Company and the Eastern Shore College, of which latter institution he is now secretary.

Since his return from New York, he has been active in all the campaigns in the county, and connected with nearly all of them as chairman, secretary or treasurer.

JURY RENDERS VERDICT FOR $100.00 DAMAGES.

Biddle-Dick Suit Finally Settled Saturday—Cases Removed From The Other Counties Being Tried During This Week.

There being no cases ready for trial, the second week of the September term of the Circuit Court, did not convene until Tuesday morning, when the following cases were taken up.

No. 48 Trials, Joseph G. Holloway, trustee, vs. Charles Bishop. Suit for payment of purchase price of land. Submitted to Court without intervention of jury. Held sub curra. J. H. Handy, Elmer H. Walton for plaintiff; Purnell and Johnson and Toadvin and Bell for defendant.

No. 46 Trials, Robert W. Powell vs. Wimbrow and Parsons. In this case the plaintiff brought suit to recover damages on account of being thrown from a bridge into the Pocomoke river by a team owned by Wimbrow and Parsons. The jury found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1.00. Attorneys Miles and Stanford represented the plaintiff and Melvin and Handy were for the defendants.

The next case taken up was a removed case from Dorchester county. This is the case of Albert F. Jones vs. James T. Robinson, executor of Mary A. Jones, deceased. The suit is brought to break a will involving about $2600. This case was being tried when THE COURIER went to press.

The case of Biddle Brothers vs. Minnie Mills Dick was completed last Saturday afternoon when the jury found a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing damages in the sum of $100.00. This was a suit brought by Biddle Bros. to secure the payment of a plumbing bill. Payment was refused by the Dicks on the ground that the work was not done in accordance with specifications and the material and workmanship was faulty. When the case was called, first, at the September Term 1906, the plaintiffs were in Europe and could not get here for trial. Judgement in default was entered in favor of Biddle Bros. for the full amount of their bill, $336.56. An appeal was taken by the defendants, and the Court of Appeals on the 17th of March last, reversed the judgement, with costs, and granted a new trial, with the result as stated above. Elmer H. Walton and John H. Handy for plaintiffs; Ellegood, Freeny and Wallis for defendants.

The Grand Jury adjourned Saturday afternoon, after having examined 72 witnesses and found 19 true bills.

The jury made the following reports: "A committee of three visited the Alms House and report that they found it in good condition, with six inmates, 2 white and four colored inmates, all of whom are well cared for. The farm is in very good condition, and the crops are excellent."

"The grand jury visited the jail in a body and found it in good condition. We recommend that good, suitable iron bedsteads be put in the jail for use of the prisoners."

NO TRUTH IN RECENT ARTICLE PUBLISHED IN DELAWARE PAPERS.

Inquiry Reveals The Fact That Salisbury Merchants Were Grossly Misquoted—Writer Of The Offending Interviews A Tool In The Hands Of The Delaware License Committee.

PUBLISHED UNDER THE GUISE OF PAID ADVERTISEMENT.

The Citizens Of Salisbury, At A Public Meeting, Declare The Untruth Of The Statements And Demand That The Wilmington "Every Evening" Publish A True Statement Of The Conditions.

In its issue of September 18th, the Every Evening, of Wilmington, published a four column article under the glaring headline, "A Maryland County in Leading Strings."

Interviews from several of Salisbury's most prominent business men were published in that article in which they were quoted as having made comparisons as they exist in this city today and as they existed under the regime of the saloon.

It is to be regretted that this prevaricating scribe was brought to this city for that purpose by a former citizen—Mr. George Ennis. He was introduced to all the people with whom he secured the alleged interviews by Ennis and it was probably for this reason that Mr. Bock was able to talk with anyone on the subject.

The following true statements of the persons alleged to have been interviewed shows absolutely and conclusively that the statements were originated in the brain of this tool in the employ of the saloon campaign committee of Delaware, rather than the opinions of the business men of Salisbury.

Mr. J. Cleveland White, who is quoted as having said that "Lots of business was driven away from the city by the local option act and we will never get it back," said when asked the usual question as to whether or not he had been misquoted, "Misquoted, I should say I have. The man came in here and after the introduction we had a general talk about the insurance business."

Mr. Fred A. Grier, of the Salisbury Foundry and Machine Company, stated that he had been grossly misquoted in his interview. He stated that he had no knowledge whatever of the intention of the interview and that Mr. Bock, who was a former acquaintance of his in Milford, Delaware, did not even intimate that he was being interviewed for publication.

"I was awfully busy at work on a gasoline boat in the river in the rear of my shop and was all ready to try the engine when Mr. Bock appeared in company with Mr. George Ennis and was introduced by the latter. After a few commonplace remarks about our acquaintance of twenty years ago Mr. Bock said, 'Mr. Grier, how about this local option business? I replied that I thought it was a big farce at times. Mr.

Bock then asked me about the moral condition of the town since there has been no liquor sold here. I said in reply that in the residence and business sections of Salisbury the moral conditions were decidedly better but that in some instances in the outlying districts they were at times worse. I explained that in my opinion this was because the drinkers would secure their whiskey from other towns and loaf around the outskirts of the city in box cars, etc., and get drunk.

"As I have said I was busy and the whole conversation did not last more than three minutes. I saw no more of Mr. Bock and did not know that I had been interviewed for publication until I received a marked copy of the Every Evening in which the article appeared. Yes, I have been grossly misquoted."

The foregoing is a true version of Mr. Bock's interview with Mr. Grier, and yet he is quoted in the published article as having said, "There is no prohibition here. Everybody drinks that wants to, not a single man has been reformed, but thousands of dollars, yes, tens of thousands of dollars are sent to Baltimore every year for liquor and Salisbury does not get a cent of revenue from the business. If it did any good, morally I mean, I would have some patience with it, but it does not; and it robs us every day of money in addition to the revenue that we have lost. I can name you man after man, farmers and others North and East of this town who are taking their machine work to Delmar and Berlin. But this thing is not settled. We are going to have another election. This town is too big to be run by a lot of crenks. This is a business place and we are going to prove it."

Mr. A. A. Gillis, when asked by a COURIER representative whether or not he had been misquoted in the interview as published in the recent edition of the Every Evening, said, "Yes, I have been misquoted." "I positively did not make the statement credited to me in that publication." Mr. Gillis further stated that about two weeks ago Mr. George Ennis, a former clerk and bartender at the Peninsula Hotel, this city, now holding a similar position at the Hotel Richardson, at Dover, Delaware, came into the store and introduced the writer of the article in the Every Evening. His first question was as follows: "How is business?" Mr. Gillis replied that business was good. "Then you have no kick coming?" asked the brazen scribe from Wilmington. "None at all," Mr. Gillis replied. "How is business since liquor was voted out of town?" was the next inquiry of the questioner. And Mr. Gillis' reply was: "At the time the liquor question came to a vote in this city there were a lot of people who were so agitated over the question that they would willingly have turned on the spigot and let every bit of liquor in the town run to waste." Mr. Gillis said yesterday that the moment the last question was put to him he knew that the questioner was in search of information for use in Delaware and that he positively did not say that "We are in the midst of the people who would like to turn on the spigot."

After a little more talk about the existing conditions in Delaware the gentleman from Delaware left the store. Patrick Doody, who, according to the writer of the offensive article, made a statement of 350 words was also interviewed yesterday. He said, "I did not say over two dozen words to him. I was busy at the time and nine-tenths of the statement purported to have been made by me was not true. He did not tell me what his business was and I was too busy to ask him."

Harold N. Fitch stated positively that he did not tell Mr. Bock that prohibition was "an obstacle to business and an incentive to intemperance" and that "Prohibition stimulated private drinking and was making drunkards right along." Mr. Fitch told him, rather, that his business had increased 25 per cent. in the last four years, notwithstanding the fact that he had discontinued his jewelry business and was now engaged in the optical business only.

Samuel Lowenthal said, "About one-tenth of what was published as coming from me was true. Mr. Bock did not come to my place of business, but met me in the hotel lobby. He did not ask me any questions in particular, but our conversation of a few minutes occurred in a general way."

George W. Bell, Esq., said that to the best of his recollection he did not tell the fellow one-half of the stuff that appeared in the paper. He did not know that the Wilmington man was in the employ of the license faction in the Delaware fight. After a little reflection he remembered that he was introduced to him by George Ennis.

Mr. Jehu T. Parsons stated that when Mr. Bock called on him he did not infer in any way that he was securing information for publication but simply talked in a general way about different things. Mr. Parsons says that he was misquoted.

Mr. W. A. Kennerly was also interviewed. He said that his conversation was with George Ennis rather than with the scribe from Delaware and that he was not aware that he was speaking for publication until he read it in the Every Evening. He said that the fellow put a wrong construction on what he told him so as to infer an entirely different meaning.

The citizens of Salisbury gathered at the County Court House, Monday evening, in response to the call issued a few days previous, and in emphatic terms voiced their disapproval of the publications by nearly all the Delaware papers recently made in an article prepared by a representative of the Delaware State License Committee, as reflecting upon the morality and business standing of this town. It was a representative meeting, and probably one of the most remarkable in many respects that has ever gathered in Wicomico county Court House. The business interests of the town, irrespective of politics, were welded together to enter protest against the publication.

The advertisement in question was headed "A Maryland County in Leading Strings, Hedged in as to Trade, Wide Open as to Drunkenness, & etc.," and was first published in the Every Evening, and afterwards appeared in several other Delaware papers, and it was to take such action in respect of publication as might seem proper that the meeting was called. At 8 o'clock the available seating room had been filled and many people were standing in the rear of the hall. L. W. Gunby, was made chairman and John D. Williams, secretary. A committee to draft resolutions was appointed and after retiring reported the following:

Resolved, That the town of Salisbury, Md., has been advertised throughout the State of Delaware as a "Town in Leading Strings, Hedged in as to Trade, Wide Open as to Drunkenness, Business Gone to Baltimore and to Wet Towns of Delaware, Sunday Drunks Common;" therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting,

First. That the said representations are false and scurrilous.

Second. That whatever may be the cause, the business of this town has increased at rapid strides in the last three years. That more residences have been built within this time than in any like period prior to the departure of the saloon from our midst. That the statement at this time is as much liquor sold here at there as was sold under the license system is so manifestly untrue as to need no denial; and on the contrary the sobriety of our citizens and the general moral condition of the town has vastly improved because of the absence of the saloons from our town, notwithstanding the facts that Delmar, 7 miles to the north of us, Berlin, 20 miles to the east of us, and Pocomoke, 25 miles to the south of us, are all license towns.

Third. That we are so well content with our present conditions for sobriety and business that we challenge the advocates of the saloon system to petition the court to get a majority of the voters to get a vote, as they have a right to do under the statute.

Fourth. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Every Evening, of Wilmington, for publication; also to the secretary of the Anti-Saloon League of the State of Delaware.

Fifth. Be it resolved that it is the sense of this meeting that the gentlemen that are quoted in the interviews published in the Every Evening and the other Delaware papers as stating that moral and business interests of the city have suffered since doing away with the saloon, be asked to explain their statement, as we have been assured by several of these gentlemen that they have been grossly misquoted.

James E. Ellegood, S. King White, I. S. Powell, E. S. Adkins, W. J. Downing, W. B. Miller, B. Frank Kennerly.

While the committee was out Judge Holland, who has been quoted in the article to which such serious objection had been taken, in a five-minute talk denied making the assertions which the published interview attributed to him. He stated that the writer of the article had called upon him and talked upon various matters for some time, the conversation gradually drifted to the license question. He stated that he had said some of the things attributed to him, but that an entirely wrong construction had been placed upon them. He added that while he had formerly been against the local option movement and in favor of license, he was now convinced, after four years of enforcement, that it was a good thing for the town of Salisbury and the business interests depending upon it, and further-more that he would not only vote for prohibition in the future, but do all he could to influence his friends to vote for it.

This statement by Judge Holland was received with hearty applause. W. B. Miller, who followed, also declared he had voted for license, but that he had changed his mind as to the workings of local option and would do all he could to advance its interest in the future.

Upon the suggestion of F. Leonard Wailes, William F. Metten, a representative of Every Evening, who was present, was given an opportunity to explain the position of that paper regarding the publication of the offending article. Mr. Metten stated that the article had come to Every Evening from a representative of the State License Committee, and had been accepted and published, as numerous articles from both the License and Anti-License Committees, before, and since, as a paid advertisement. It carried the mark of the star which Every Evening invariably uses on all paid advertising appearing in the reading columns of the paper. He stated that the paper had nothing to do with the inception of the article, that it was written by a representative of the State License Committee, and that Every Evening disclaimed absolutely and responsibility for its production. He further stated that in view of the fact that the article appeared to have misquoted and misrepresented certain citizens of Salisbury, the paper stood ready and willing to publish retractions from these people, at any time when properly presented over their own names.

Some one suggested that the paper be asked to take up the matter editorially, and Mr. Metten stated that Every Evening was entirely willing, in view of the circumstances surrounding the offending publication, to publish the retractions from those who had claimed to be misquoted, and to refer to the matter in the editorial columns of the paper.

There was some further discussion as to the publication of the article, and it was later decided to appoint a committee to wait upon those mentioned in the interview who claimed to have been misrepresented and to secure their retractions and forward them to the Every Evening for publication as soon as convenient to do so. The committee appointed included Messrs. L. W. Gunby, Henry B. Greeny, Mayor Charles E. Harper.

It was also decided that the Every Evening be extended a vote of thanks for its position and Mr. Metten was given a rising vote of thanks for his appearance at the meeting and the position which his paper had assumed in the matter.

There was some further discussion upon the merits and demerits of the license system by James E. Ellegood, W. B. Miller, George B. Hynson and State Treasurer Rawlins. The meeting adjourned about 10 o'clock.

The following statement of the Delaware State License Committee appeared in the Every Evening in its Monday's issue:

"In regard to the controversy over the interview from Salisbury, Md., the State License Committee wishes to say that it has every reason to believe that the gentlemen interviewed were reported correctly, but if it appears that there has been any misrepresentation regarding the statement of these gentlemen, or the conditions in Salisbury and Wicomico county it will make adequate acknowledgment of any error or wrong resulting from their publication. "The committee has been exceedingly careful and desires to print only facts, of which it has plenty without resorting to any exaggeration or misstatement."

MAKE THIS ACCORDING TO THE DIRECTIONS.

Prepare This Simple Mixture At Home By Shaking Ingredients Well In A Bottle.

What will appear very interesting to many people here is the article taken from a New York daily paper, giving a simple prescription, as formulated by a noted authority, who claims that he has found a positive remedy to cure almost any case of backache or kidney or bladder derangement...

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well-known druggist here at home, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and could be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy...

Doings Of School Board.

The School Board was in session last Friday and disposed of considerable routine business in the way of auditing accounts for repairs to school buildings, teachers' vouchers, etc.

The matter of improving the grounds surrounding the new high school building was discussed at some length, and on motion the work was left in charge of Superintendent Bounds and Commissioner Brewington.

The application of Miss Florence Bounds to the State Board of Education for a life certificate was endorsed by the Board.

A letter from Prof. Huntington, principal of the Wicomico High School, was read before the board, stating that 15 scholars in the tenth grade and 7 in the ninth grade wished to continue the study of German.

Having completed the new school building at Double Mills, the Board authorized Commissioner Cooper to sell the old building and lot at public sale on Monday, October 7th, at 2 p. m.

Bulletin.

BALTIMORE OLD HOME WEEK.

Maryland is sending invitations to her sons and daughters scattered everywhere to come to a grand reunion, and is making extensive preparations to give them when they come, a week of right royal entertainment.

New Baltimore, sprung Phoenix-like from the ashes of the fire of 1904, will make of Old Home Week, October 13 to 19, one continual round of patriotic and civic display.

There will be an electrical pageant, a magnificent military and naval display, a gathering of patriotic societies, a parade and ball by the fraternal orders, a big concert, and a night carnival.

There will be also a special pilgrimage to Annapolis on "Peggy Stewart Day," Saturday, October 19, when visitors will have an opportunity to inspect the magnificent new buildings of the United States Naval Academy and the remodeled State House, so full of historic associations.

The Homecomers will have the advantage of specially low railroad rates. The Pennsylvania Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Baltimore, October 12 to 14, good for return passage until October 21, inclusive, from all stations on its lines north and east of Shrewsbury, Principio, and Port Deposit, at a considerable reduction from the regular fare.

Every former Marylander, whose address is known will receive a special invitation, issued by Governor Warfield, and the whole week will thrill with the hospitality for which the Old Line State is so famous.

For exact rates, conditions of tickets, and train service, consult nearest Ticket Agents.

To Roy C. Walter and wife, a nephew, farm in Quantico District.

To his niece Annie D. Bounds, Hessel Holloway, Maggie Brady, May Venables, Rosa Dickerson and Ella Humphreys, each $300.00 in cash.

To his colored servant, Marie Lowe, $50.00 and a home for the rest of her life with Roy C. Walter.

All the rest of his estate, real and personal goes to his brothers, George R. Lowe, Levin W. Lowe and his sister, Margaret E. Walter.

The will is dated the 16th day of April, 1907, and is witnessed by C. E. Holloway, J. B. Whayland and S. B. Langrall. Samuel B. Langrall is made executor.

HORTICULTURAL RESOLUTIONS.

Maryland Society Had A Successful Meeting At Jamestown Recently.

At the very successful summer meeting of the Maryland Horticultural Society held at the Jamestown Exposition, September 24th, the following resolutions were passed.

"In as much as the press of Baltimore City and Counties of the State as well as the press of Norfolk have from time to time freely published accounts of the Maryland Horticultural Exhibit at the Jamestown Exposition, thereby advertising the great Horticultural possibilities of Maryland.

Resolved, that the thanks and appreciation of the members of Maryland State Horticultural Society be expressed through this resolution to all editors in the State as well as in Virginia for the cordial support in promoting the aims of the Association in bringing to the public's attention, the great opportunities for this industry in Maryland.

Resolved, that the members of Maryland State Horticultural Society are very much gratified with the good work done by Prof. Thos. B. Symons, at the Jamestown Exposition, especially when we take into consideration, the small amount of the appropriation that he had to do it with, and ask that he be commended in all that he is doing for our "Grand old State of Maryland".

Resolved, that the members of this Association extend to the officers of the Jamestown Exposition, their great appreciation for the setting aside September 24th to be known as Maryland Horticultural Society Day and various courtesies in furnishing music at the opening session and in providing a most pleasant place for the meeting.

Resolved, that as the Jamestown Exposition has received so much adverse comment by earlier visitors that would tend to discourage future visitors from the Exposition, that the members of this Association hereby testify to their fellow citizens in the State that the Exposition in its completed form is more than worth a visit by every Marylander and we urge upon every one in the State who has not visited same to not miss this great opportunity of viewing a pictureque as well as most edifying Exposition."

Letter To Jas. W. Dashiell, Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir: They're glad they found out Devoe.

Corpus Christi, Texas, is right on the Gulf and one of the hardest climates for paint: hot sun, salt air, and strong winds.

The Salisbury Building, painted Devoe in 1899, is a shining example of perfect paint snow-white after 7 years, as if painted last week.

We should like every property-owner from Maine to Mexico to see that white white white.

Experience teaches who wants to learn as well as who wants to be kicked.

Yours truly F. W. DEVOR & CO. P. S.—L. W. Gundy Co. sells our paint.

A healthy man is a king in his own right; an unhealthy man is an unhappy slave. Burdock Blood Bitters builds up sound health—keeps you well.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Increasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood.

J. D. Coulbourn, farmer, living two miles out from Salisbury, Md., says: "My first attack of kidney complaint was in 1899. I was laid up three weeks at that time. I seemed to recover and was able to be around. I had two more attacks when it settled down to a regular daily backache and misery through my loins, limbs, joints and muscles. I do not think I was wholly free from pain one moment during that four years. It was as bad at night as during the day. I doctored, and I think used every known remedy for kidney trouble, at least everyone that I heard of. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I got them at White & Leonard's drug store. The first box gave me so much relief that I kept on taking them, using in all several boxes. They cured me and the cure was a lasting one as not a vestige of the trouble has ever returned. I made a statement for publication in 1903 endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills, and it gives me great pleasure at this time, May 11, 1907, to reiterate all that I said in my former statement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

—REPUBLICANS, remember that next Tuesday, October 8, is the last day of Registration, and that you MUST be registered on this day in order to vote at the coming election.

THE Salisbury Building & Loan and Banking ASSOCIATION

This Association has two separate and distinct departments: "The Building & Loan Department" and "The Banking Department." The Building & Loan Department, with its paid-up capital stock of $14,500.00, makes loans, secured by mortgages, to be paid back in weekly installments of 30c, 40c, 50c, $1.00 or $2.00 per week, to suit borrower; and has been doing a popular and successful business since 1897.

The Banking Department was added in 1902 under authority granted by the General Assembly of Maryland of that year, to set apart $25,000.00 of the Association's capital stock for banking purposes. It receives money on deposits, makes loans on commercial paper, enters into such business transactions as conservative banks ordinarily do, and earnestly solicits the patronage of its friends and the general public. The Wicomico News And The Legislative Ticket.

The Wicomico News is fearfully and awfully afraid of the "concerted plan among the Republicans of Wicomico county to elect their legislative ticket." They are very careful to warn voters against voting for the legislative candidates, because their election would mean four additional votes for two Republican United States Senators. This is the very reason why the Republican legislative tickets throughout the State of Maryland should this year appeal with special force to the voters in general.

The wonderful prosperity that is now being enjoyed by all the people of this country and particularly participated by the farmers of this section, is due to the policies of the Republican National Administration, and the voters themselves have a magnificent opportunity of voting for the perpetuation of the splendid conditions which now exist. Yes, we are perfectly willing to admit that a vote for the Republican legislative candidates does mean a vote for two Republican United States Senators, and as such a continuation of the most remarkable condition of unparalleled prosperity ever known, while on the other hand, a vote for the Democratic legislative candidates means a vote for two Democratic United States Senators, and as such, a return to the disastrous conditions when Grover Cleveland was President of the United States and farm lands all over the country mortgaged to their full value.

Take your choice, voters,—prosperity or desolation; good times or hard times; a continuation of Republican prosperity or another dose of the blighting, blistering, withering ruin and desolation that swept the country from 1893 to 1897, under the name of Democracy. The News has found the real issue, and we are delighted to know it. A vote for the straight Republican ticket means a vote for principle, prosperity, peace and plenty.

A Gross Misrepresentation.

Seldom has there ever been entered a stronger and more emphatic public protest against the action of a newspaper than that which was registered by the citizens of Salisbury last Monday evening against the article concerning this town which appeared in the Every Evening, of Wilmington, in its issue of Wednesday, September 18th. It makes little difference to our citizens that the article in question was a paid advertisement, and as such, inserted by the whiskey interests of the State of Delaware. The fact remains that the entire publication was a gross misrepresentation of existing conditions, an absolute slander upon the town and a wilful and deliberate attempt on the part of the liquor dealers to obtain votes through false representation of the local situation.

It is little wonder that our people have been highly indignant ever since the appearance of the offending article, and it was very difficult for the Every Evening to give any reasonable explanation of its readiness to accept such a false and highly colored manuscript without making the slightest effort to verify the statements contained therein. It is not enough for that paper to say, as it has done, that was a paid advertisement, and marked as such by a star or asterisk. Not one person in a hundred has the remotest idea what the star indicated, and to practically all the readers of that publication, the management itself had set the seal of its approval upon its every utterance and sent the vile libel forth to the world as bearing the impress of the paper itself.

There is not one single thing about the whole article except the unsuspecting star to lead a single person to believe it was an advertisement—inserted and paid for, line by line, by the liquor dealers who are interested in perpetuating the traffic in Delaware. In its general make up, in the type which was used, and the position which was given it, it has every appearance of being an ordinary article, and credence was given it as such, and having once been sent forth broadcast, it is utterly impossible to remedy the evil which has been accomplished, or counteract the injury which has been sustained by the community.

So far as the interviews themselves are concerned, they were grossly exaggerated and perverted and twisted out of all resemblance to their original form, as will appear by reference to the article on the second page of this issue of THE COURIER, and were obtained in the most reprehensible and indefensible manner. Hardly a single one of the men interviewed had the remotest idea that he was speaking for publication, and some off-hand remark made in connection with a running statement was singled out as the basis of a covert attack upon the present satisfactory conditions which now exist in Salisbury.

Not only is this true, but abominable and detestable innuendoes and materially false statements were constantly thrown in by the writer himself without the slightest foundation of truth or scintilla of reason. It is very evident that this irresponsible tool of the License Committee of Delaware was sent here for the express purpose not of ascertaining the truth, but of deliberately and purposely misrepresenting local conditions in the interest of the liquor cause, and it is to be regretted that in his efforts he was aided by a former Salisburian, who betrayed the town in which he formerly lived and proved a traitor, to many of his former friends.

It is a recognized fact, and one too well known to be controverted, that business conditions have never been better here than since the present prohibitory law went into effect, and as far as drunkenness is concerned, a drunken man upon our streets is now almost a curiosity. There is absolutely no comparison between the local situation at this time and the deplorable and intolerable conditions which existed prior to the abolition of the saloons, and such contemptibly censurable methods clearly demonstrate the extremes to which the liquor interests of Delaware will resort in their efforts to carry the State this Fall.

Editorial Jottings.

Next Tuesday is the last registration day.

We will soon have some light on the gas question now.

Wonder when the next shake-up on the Democratic ticket will take place.

We never thought Governor Jackson was going to "stick." Now we know it.

The "Standing Army" is actually disappearing. What in the world will we do when it has been entirely removed?

Said the Sheriff to the Chief Clerk of the Land Office: "You second the nomination of my man and I'll second yours," and so said they all.

The Democrats are very much exercised over the fact, as claimed by them, that the Republican legislative candidates are making a personal campaign, and they say it's "an old trick." It is indeed—with the Democrats.

Every Republican in the county should see to it that he is registered in the proper District. Next Tuesday is the last day. If you are not now registered, or if you have changed your District since the last election, and have not yet attended to the matter, be sure to do it next Tuesday, or you will be unable to vote at the coming election.

During the progress of the oratorical display of Mr. Jerome T. Hayman while he was placing Mr. Price in nomination for Senatorial honors, the speaker with a wise and profound air and lifting his voice in thunderous tones suddenly declared that Democracy this Fall would be gloriously successful from Garret to Allegany. Well, well—what a slip—but it will not even get that far!

The Democratic Convention Wednesday was beautifully oiled and ran like a top. Only four members of the Convention uttered a word during the progress of the whole affair—the Chairman, who naturally had a few things to say—Messrs. Hayman and Bradley, who had practically all to say, and Mr. William Banks, who on one occasion actually dared to say: "I second that motion."

Dashiell Plead "Not Guilty."

By an adroit piece of detective work on the part of the local authorities, Barney Dashiell was arrested Saturday on the charge of larceny. When taken before the grand jury, which was then in session, it was learned that Dashiell had stolen a pocket book from Charles Hearn, who had left his coat, with the purse containing about $1500.00 in checks and $300.00 in money, hanging on a fence while he was at work at Perdue's brickyard about two weeks ago. Owing to the free manner in which Dashiell was spending money last Saturday he was at once suspected and Deputy Sheriff Waller and Chief of Police Disharoon soon placed him under arrest. He was arrested, tried before the Grand Jury and a true bill found against him, all in the same day. On Thursday he was arraigned before the Court and plead "not guilty" to the charge. Having no counsel, the Court appointed Attorney Samuel R. Douglass to conduct his defence. His case will come up during the present term of Court.

He Saw the Game.

The office boy had buried countless grandmothers, brothers, sisters, aunts and cousins, but he felt an enthusiasm for the baseball game that day which would not be downed.

Suddenly an idea struck him. Approaching the easy boss with an air of familiarity which had been nurtured by long usage he asked:

"May I leave at noon today, sir?"

"And why, my boy?"

"There is a fancy fair at our church and mother wants me to go this afternoon. She was so anxious that she bought me a ticket which cost a dollar, as she was sure you would allow me the few hours off. I have to assist at the refreshment stall, and it seems a pity to waste..."

"But surely you are above such things as that which take you away from your work. Why not give the ticket to one of your sisters?"

"Well, you see, sir, that wouldn't be fair, for I'm the only one of our family who can be depended upon to eat a dollar's worth, and..."

His supreme nerve won the day.—Smith's Magazine.

An English Amenity.

A striking difference between our manners and those of our English cousins was shown one day at a garden party. The hostess, an American, was speaking to one of her guests, an Englishwoman of rank.

"Dear Lady B.," she said, "here are some sandwiches which I made with my own hands, particularly for you. You know I've often told you about our American sandwiches and how good they are. Here are different sorts, lettuce and cucumbers. If you care for 'grass,' or if you like a savory better try the cream cheese ones with pineapples. I've some sweet ones, too, raisins and nuts chopped together— which will you try first?"

She held a plate in each hand, a plate filled with dainty looking sandwiches, and they were extended invitingly toward her guest, who looked at them critically, then said in the clear, high pitched voice of the well bred Englishwoman:

"Oh, thank you, so kind of you, but do you know I never touch the nasty things?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Chance For a Home Run.

A clever teacher who has the power of calling out originality in her pupils says that she would have no use for text books if she took time to answer all the startling questions asked in the classroom. One day the attraction of gravitation was under discussion when one of the boys said that he didn't see any need of it, anyway.

"It seems to me," said he, "there's no particular use in having the earth attract things. Now, when the apple fell and made Newton think out the reason for it, that apple might just as well have stayed where it was until somebody gathered it."

"You play ball, don't you?" asked the teacher. "Well, suppose you knock the ball very high, what happens?"

"It falls."

"But if there were no attraction toward the earth it wouldn't fall. Don't you think that might prove inconvenient?"

"My," cried the boy, "what a bully chance for a home run!"—Chicago News.

Her Supposition.

In the Beecher family the name of Mrs. Stowe was often quoted to the rising generation as one having authority. She was also quoted ad nauseam, it would seem, from a story told by the Woman's Journal. On one occasion a grandniece of Mrs. Stowe became very angry at a playmate and, stamping her foot, said, "I hate you, and I don't want anything more to do with you, nor your man servant, nor your maid servant, nor your ox, nor your ass." Her mother sternly reproved her, asking her if she knew what she was saying.

Little Miss Beecher promptly replied, "Yes, the Ten Commandments."

"Well, do you know who wrote them?"

The child, looking disgusted, answered: "Goodness, yes. Aunt Harriet did, I s'pose."

Reads's Eccentric English.

Reads's use of the English language, too, was eccentric, not to say ludicrous. In "A Simpleton," when he wished to signify that two people turned their backs on each other in a fit of temper, he wrote, "They showed napes." Describing the complexion of the New Haven fishwives in "Christie Johnson," he says, "It is a race of women that the northern sun peachifies instead of rosewoodizing." In "Readsiana" he describes a gentleman giving a lunch to two ladies at a railway restaurant as follows: "He souped them, he tough chickened them, he brandied and cochenanted one, and he brandied and burnt sugared the other (brandy and cochineal and brandy and burnt sugar being Reads's euphemisms for port and sherry respectively). While he was preparing his series of articles on Old Testament characters he read what he had written to John Coleman on one occasion and came to this startling passage in his argument:

"Having now arrived at this conclusion, we must go the whole hog or none."

Coleman objected to this phrase.

"You don't like the hog, I see," said Reads. "Well, it's a strong figure of speech, and it's understood of the people, but—yes, you are right. It's scarcely Scriptural, so out it goes."—Gentleman's Magazine.

Her Purse and His Handkerchief.

"The thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts." The other day a young woman who had dropped her purse, full of pay money for the corps of girls under her charge, considered the thoughts of youth to be rather too "long."

She was in one of the large department stores, and as her hands were occupied she let her purse lie for a few moments where it had fallen. But her eye was on it. In the meantime a bright little fellow not more than nine or ten years old left his parents near by and deftly covered the purse with a handkerchief.

The woman, who is a perfectly self possessed young person, could hardly believe her eyes, but she waited to see what the boy would do. Just as he was stooping to his prize she placed her foot quietly upon it. The youngster slipped back without a word to the well dressed "respectable" people with whom he was.

Then the woman picked up her purse and, taking the handkerchief over to the lad, handed it to him, saying, "There is no reason why you should lose your handkerchief just because you didn't get my purse!"—New York Post.

Too Good to Miss.

"Theater audiences have improved in recent years," said a manager. "Why, with provincial touring companies in the past maltreatment was regularly expected. In fact, the companies profited by it in more ways than one."

"I know of a company that was playing 'The Broken Vow' in Paint Rock, a one night stand. The audience didn't like 'The Broken Vow,' and eggs, cabbages and potatoes rained up on the stage."

"Still the play went on. The hero raved through his endless speeches, dodging an onion or a baseball every other minute and pretty sore from those missiles that he hadn't been able to dodge."

"But finally a gallery auditor in a paroxysm of rage and scorn hurled a heavy boot, and the actor, thoroughly alarmed, started to retreat."

"Keep on playing, you fool," hissed the manager from the wings as he hooked in the boot, with an umbrella. "Keep on till we get the other one."

How a Tree Grows.

Both earth and air are required for the growth of a plant or tree. The roots absorb moisture from the soil, which, in the form of a watery fluid called common sap, rises through the fibers of the last deposited annular ring, traversing all the branches and leaf stalks until it reaches the leaves; there it undergoes a change by the absorption of carbonic acid from the air. It then travels downward again in the form of proper sap, just underneath the bark, which is expanded by the accession of moisture and in the cavity so formed a new layer of material is deposited which gradually hardens and forms a new annular ring. And so, from absorbing the moisture and minerals of the soil and the carbonic acid of the air the tree goes on until it finishes its cycle and dies.—New York American.

Jack Tar at a Christening.

A sailor went up to the font to have his baby baptized. Sailors as a class claim little stock in babies, and naturally enough this one presented the infant feet foremost.

"The other way," said the minister, and accordingly Jack turned the infant upside down.

"Excuse me," said the clergyman, "I mean the other way." So back came the embryo foretopman to the first position, to the discouragement of everybody.

"Wind it, Jack," said the nautical assistant, and with an "Aye, aye, sir," Jack promptly turned the baby end for end, and it was duly christened head first—"On a Man-of-war."

The Alternative.

The Count-Doctor. I have such a fearful bad cough. What can I do for it? Doctor—Well, sir, you must remember that you are no longer in your first youth and you must take care of your general health. So you had better leave off smoking; take no alcohol in any form and do not excite yourself in any way; do not—The Count—The mischief, doctor; what am I to do then? Nothing but cough?—Lustige Blatter.

Sandy's Criticism.

A young Scotchman went to a London school of music, where he learned to play the violoncello fairly well. On his return to his native village he gathered his friends together to hear his new instrument. When he had played one or two tunes, he looked up expectantly. "After a slight pause his old grandfather spoke."

"Eh, man," he said, "it's a malroy there's na smell wi' it!"—Liverpool Mercury.

He Knew.

Lady Customer—I wish to tell you how these shoes of mine are to be made. Shoemaker—Oh, I know that well enough—large inside and small outside.—Meggendorfer Blatter.

Pretty Bad.

Wife—Aren't you going to smoke those cigars I gave you? Husband—No; I'm keeping them till Tommy begins to want to smoke. They'll settle it!—Illustrated Bits.

Very Nicely Done.

Gallant Man (aside)—At last I have her all to myself. Now I can tell her how I love her and ask her to be mine. How shall I do it, I wonder?

Gentle Maid (behind her fan)—It is surely coming. I am so nervous and frightened. I know he is going to be terribly dramatic. I do hope I shan't have to help him up off his knees. Goodness, why doesn't he say something? I must break this horrible silence. (Aloud, recklessly) Have you ever been abroad?

Gallant Man (smilingly)—No. I'm saving it for a wedding tour.

Gentle Maid (demurely)—Why, how funny; so am I.

Gallant Man (meaningly)—Then why shouldn't we take it together?

Gentle Maid (innocently)—Possibly your wife and my husband might object to going in such a crowd.

Gallant Man (brilliantly)—The crowd wouldn't be objectionably large if your husband and my wife were husband and wife.

(Further conversation was disjointed and indistinct).—Pearson's Weekly.

Where Animals Beat Men.

"Nature faking aside," said the zoo keeper, "mice won't eat oleo. It is a fact. Lay a pat of oleo and a pat of butter side by side and in the morning the butter will be gone, but the oleo will remain untouched."

"Oh, yes, some animals are incredibly nice about their food. The otter, when living wild, will only eat one piece, one mouthful out of each fish he catches. He will land a beautiful trout, but only one bite of it from the back, just behind the neck, is good enough for him. The rest he tosses aside. This epicure often kills a dozen fish, big trout to make one meal."

"Chimpanzees have very delicate tastes. A banana or a pineapple that to you seems delicious to a chimpanzee may be revolting. His taste is keener. Grapes grown in hothouses where sulphur fumes are used as an insecticide taste all right to a man, but a chimpanzee will have none of them. The ichneumon loves eggs. He can tell a fresh from a stale one simply by tapping the shell."—Los Angeles Times.

"Copy Reading" Howells.

The London Athenaeum says of the following Howells paragraph that it is the best sentence perhaps in any recent English book. Describing a certain ancient edifice, Mr. Howells writes and the Athenaeum quotes:

"What, in the heart of all this blossoming, was the great cathedral itself when we came in sight of it but a vast efflorescence of the age of faith, mystically beautiful in form and gray as some pale exhalation from the mold of the ever cloistered, the deeply reforested past."

Very fine, all must admit. But wouldn't that paragraph have been meat and drink to the man who used to mark up Mr. Howells' newspaper copy back at Bucyrus, O. If Howells the reporter had written that for the Bucyrus Blade he would have found it in the paper next day about like this:

"The cathedral, with flowers all around it, looks fine. It is 400 years old and needs paint."—Galveston News.

Thought Nine Enough.

The following amusing birth notice appeared in the Dresden Anzeiger: "To our seven hearty boys there came today, in God's early morning, not the wished for little daughter, but, in compensation, a pair of fine boys. We judge by this elementary event that these strenuous times demand more men than blossoms of the gentler sex, and console ourselves with thoughts of our fatherland, to which we call:

"Hurrah! Hurrah! Now there are nine, Firm stand and true the watch on the Rhine!"

"To all dear friends and acquaintances and to whom else the joyous tidings may be of interest we give this notice—the last of its kind—Eduard Rost and wife."

The Virginia Plover.

The most wonderful bird flight noted is the migratory achievement of the Virginia plover, which leaves its haunts in North America and, taking a course down the Atlantic, reaches the coast of Brazil in one unbroken flight of fifteen hours, covering a distance of over 3,000 miles at the rate of four miles a minute.

Condensed.

"Here is an article on 'How to Live a Hundred Years.'"

"Yes, and the whole subject can be condensed into two words."

"What are they?"

"Don't die."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not the Music He Loved.

Mrs. Talkmore—Your husband is a great lover of music, isn't he? Mrs. Chatters—Yes, indeed, I have seen him get up in the middle of the night and try to compose. Mrs. T.—What? Mrs. C.—The baby.—Stray Stories.

Well Named.

"This is the parlor, eh?" tentatively remarked the real estate agent, who was looking over the house.

"Yes," replied the old man Kidder, "but I usually call it the courtroom. I've got seven daughters, you know."

B. is especially advised for chronic, deep-seated cases, as it cures after all else fails. The Boomerang and its Inventors. The boomerang is rather a puzzle. One might think that the highest laws of mathematics had been laid under contribution in the perfecting of it. The convexity on one side, the flatness on the other and the sharp, knife-like edge on the inside of the convexity have the air of having been carefully thought out. Yet the people who invented this singular weapon cannot count higher than five and are destitute of all the arts and amenities of life. There is perhaps the lowest plane of human life. Some people have assumed that the boomerang was the creation of an older and higher civilization, but for this there is no evidence. It must be the product of an age-long empirical use of throwing weapons.—London Spectator.

Can't Miss It

So many ailments are purely nervous affections, that you can hardly miss it if you try Dr. Miles' Nerve. It restores nervous energy—and through its invigorating influence upon the nervous system, the organs are strengthened. The heart action is better; digestion improved, the sluggish condition overcome, and healthy activity re-established.

"Dr. Miles' Nerve is worth its weight in gold to me. I did not know what ailed me. I had a good physician but got no relief. I could not eat, sleep, work, sit or stand. I was nearly crazy. One day I picked up a paper and the first thing that met my eyes was an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Nerve. I concluded to try it and let the doctor go, and I did so. After taking two bottles I could dress myself. Then I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and now I can work and go out, and have told many the benefit I have received from these remedies and several of them have been cured by it since. I am fifty-nine years old and pretty good yet."

FIRE DEFYING LIQUID.
Denver Man's Discovery to Make Wood Fireproof.

COLORLESS, ODORLESS FLUID

Costs but 10 Cents a Gallon and is Deemed Absolutely Effective—Silk Dress Dipped in the Liquid, It is Declared, Will Not Burn.

Spurred to the labor of discovering a liquid applications of which would render canvas and wood impervious to fire by the disaster in the Iroquois theater in Chicago, Professor Carl E. Krueger of Denver announces that he is now able to formulate a colorless, odorless fluid the presence of which cannot be detected, at the slight expense of 10 cents a gallon, which renders combustibles with which it comes in contact absolutely fireproof, says the Columbus Dispatch.

Professor Krueger is a German, sixty years old, and a photographer. He has been in that business since 1866, when he began polishing daguerrotype plates for his father. At that time it was necessary for the photographer to manufacture his own supplies, and a knowledge of chemistry was essential. Professor Krueger studied chemistry under Dr. Vogel of Berlin and at that time began experimenting in the photography of colors. He says he has succeeded in catching light red, brown and blue with the camera, but will not attempt to make pictures for the public until he is able to take deep red and yellow also.

Professor Krueger, to test the qualities of his fire defying liquid, performs a number of experiments. A shingle is dipped into the fluid, allowed to dry and then dipped in kerosene, which is ignited. The oil burns and the shingle is charred, but its strength and solidity are unaffected. Canvas prepared with the fluid is soaked in kerosene. The oil burns out and the canvas is only blackened, except where it has been heated to a white heat and flamelessly turned to ashes. The quality of the canvas is destroyed by such a test as kerosene, although it does not become ignited.

A small stick of pine, heavy with pitch, after being dipped in the liquid, was placed across a flaring gas burner. The pitch was boiled out of the wood and burned, the iron of the heater grew red, but the little pine stick only blackened and came out of the ordeal as solid and hard as ever.

A soft pine box was sprayed with the liquid and then stuffed with papers drenched in kerosene. The flames shot up through a crack at the top, curled around the sides and seemed to be burning the box as paper, but when the fire had died down the box was only blackened, otherwise intact.

Professor Krueger is employed at an Arapahoe street studio. He has been in Denver off and on for six years.

Speaking of his discovery, he said: "There need be no more fires on the stage, where women and little children will be burned up. In fact, there need be no fires any place. Roofs can be sprayed with this fluid and then a bonfire built on them. Box cars can be protected and lumber yards made fireproof."

"A silk dress can be dipped in this liquid and it would never be detected and will not burn. I have found that it will not wash out, but long boiling will take out the chemical."

"In the future houses can be sprayed with this and then painted. The paint will protect the fluid from the rain and weather and render the house fireproof. I feel very proud of my discovery, and I have tested it as severely I could. I have known for a long time how to manufacture a fluid that would repel fire, but left a stain when applied."

"I have applied to Washington for a patent, and if I can get any money out of it I am going to take up photographing in colors. It costs money to experiment, especially in trying to take pictures in their original color, because they are not treated like the other kinds of pictures."

WHAT CARP ARE GOOD FOR.

Banker Found Them a Fine Fertilizer For Sugar Beets.

Orlando F. Thomas, a New York banker who owns a stock farm in the vicinity of Lyons, N. Y., has settled the mooted question as to what carp are good for, says a Lyons correspondent of the New York Sun. The late Governor Roswell F. Flower cajoled Wayne county farmers into raising this kind of fish. Banker William S. Gavitt stocked Wayne county streams with carp and ever since has been exorciated in public and private. Carp gradually took possession of the streams to the exclusion of game fish.

Last spring the high water in Clyde river left tons of carp on the flats. Banker Thomas had his men gather up and plow under all the carp he could get and sowed sugar beets on the field. That sugar beet field is the finest in all Wayne county this year and will raise between forty and fifty tons of beets to the acre.

This summer the continued drought dried up all the little streams and swamps and particularly a deep carp breeding pond in a swamp on the Thomas stock farm. Banker Thomas had his employees gather up all the bullheads, perch, sunfish, bass and other food fish and carted them in milk cans on stone boats to Clyde river, where they were dumped in.

Tons of carp of all sizes, ranging from fingerlings to big fish weighing forty pounds and over, were left in the pools in the swamp. These were pitchforked up into carts and drawn out on the oats stubble, spread into furrows and plowed under. This field will be sowed to sugar beets next spring. The pond hole that dried up covered over ten acres of ground and had never dried up before. Sufficient carp were obtained to fertilize a ten acre sugar beet lot.

PHOTOGRAPH THEIR CLAIMS.

Homesteaders Use Cameras to Make Sure of Their Rights.

Determined that no dispute shall arise between themselves and the special agents of the government when the time comes for them to prove up, a number of homesteaders in the St. Louis valley country have adopted the novel experiment of photographing their claims, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press. To show what they tell of their homesteads is true the photographs will be on hand when the hearing on the final proof is held.

The photographs are taken from different views and will give a clear idea of the amount of land which has been cleared and placed under cultivation, and if there is any dispute the homesteaders will be able to present strong evidence to support their contentions. The photographs being made now will show the growing crops, and other photographs will be taken from time to time to show other improvements which are being made upon the claims.

Gust Eklund and Frank E. Anderson, two homesteaders, have set the example in having these photographs taken, and now every claim holder in the St. Louis valley country has provided himself or herself with a camera and is engaged in taking snapshots showing the buildings and other improvements upon their claims.

REVIVAL OF PIG STICKING.

"Pine Toppers" In Training For Sport at North Carolina Fair.

A new industry has been brought into Greensboro, N. C., one that promises to produce a very lively degree of interest and which may succeed in revolutionizing a time honored sport that is yet dear to those who frequent the fair grounds when the open season is on. In fact, the ancient sport of pig sticking may be revived if J. F. Jordan has his way about it and is successful in breeding a type of boars that are indigenous to the soil near Manchester, where he has a game preserve well stocked with different varieties of winged and four footed things at which to shoot or spear, says the Greensboro (N. C.) Industrial News.

These quadrupeds of the genus porcine are locally known as "pine toppers," but even Mr. Jordan's acquaintance with verbiage, because he was formerly sheriff of Guilford county, does not enable him to tell how these frisky long tusked boars have acquired their name. The suggestion was made recently, however, by Garland Daniel, secretary of the Central Carolina Fair association, that the name is based on the fact that these animals can outstep and outrun any other specimens of their kind on the footstool and are so difficult of capture that not even the fleetest footed negro can catch one, though given a big start by the boar.

Mr. Jordan has two of these racers in training. Each one is to be let loose on the fair grounds on a certain day, and the negro that captures his particular pig will be allowed to take it home for family consideration and indignation. One of these racers has a record of jumping twenty-seven feet on the level, and it is said to be Mr. Jordan's hope if not his full intention so to train this speedy and active runner and broad jumper that its record shall be brought to thirty-five feet. Anyway, the spectacle of a hundred or more black chasers after a pig that has been greased by the hand of nature promises to be one of those sights at the fair that are alone worth the price of admission.

Election Judges and Clerks.

Salisbury, Md., Sept. 3, 1907.

The Board of Supervisors of Elections for Wicomico County, having appointed Judges and Clerks for the several election districts of said county, in accordance with the provisions of section 10 of article 33, code of Public General Laws, hereby give notice of the name and address of each person, also the political party to which each belongs.

It is the duty of this board to examine into any complaints which may be preferred to them in writing against the fitness or qualifications of any person so appointed, and to remove any such Judge or Clerk when, upon inquiry, they shall find to be unfit or incapable.

The Board expects to swear in the unopposed Judges and Clerks on or about October 16th.

Misses Hattie and Alice Bennett visited Mrs. W. J. Cravenor, in Philadelphia, last week.

Mrs. Sallie Clash is having a new front porch erected and other improvements made to her residence.

Rev. Eugene A. Robinson, of Allentown, N. J., is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson.

Mr. Gorman Willing returned home Tuesday from Nanticoke, where he has been visiting for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings and children, of Philadelphia, spent several days this week as guests at the Ellis Hotel.

Mrs. Nora Twilley returned home a few days ago from a sailing voyage with her husband, Capt. Harvey E. Twilley.

The railway company laid the keel this week for a new barge to be 200 feet long and 35 feet beam, to carry about two thousand tons. She is being built for John T. Donoho, of Baltimore, and is to be completed early in the spring.

Tyaskin.

Mr. Dashiell Hopkins is on the sick list, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hopkins were made the happy parents of a fine baby girl, four days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ware Hopkins, returned home from Baltimore Saturday morning after a two weeks visit.

The shirt factory has shut down, on the account of not having work. There is trouble in getting the goods.

We haven't had any steamer to our wharf since Sunday on the account of the electric motor being out of order.

The balloon that fell at Princess Anne Monday, passed over Tyaskin about four o'clock in the afternoon coming from a West course across the Nanticoke river and was beyond the clouds at times, and seemed to go in a South-east direction, after passing this place.

The new gasoline boat that was built at Shad Point for the Nanticoke river, to ply between Tyaskin and Salisbury, has not yet put in its appearance. It is to be hoped that the directors will push the job as there are several people who are expecting to go to Salisbury on her. Success to the new enterprise.

Allen.

We are having cool weather.

Mr. Enoch Bounds of Salisbury, spent last Sunday in this place.

Rev. Mr. Thomas of Tennessee, spent last week here with Rev. Mr. Smith.

Mrs. J. E. White of Henricks, Va., and Miss Mary E. Wilson of Sunny Side Va., are visiting friends in Allen.

Mrs. L. Wood Malone returned home last Monday, after spending sometime with relatives at Hebron and Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. C. Allen, returned to their home in Cambridge Thursday last, after spending the Summer with relatives in this place.

Quite a number of our residents, saw the air-ship that passed over our place last Monday afternoon on its way South and halting from Washington, D. C. Quite a lot of commotion was created by the strange sight.

Mt. Pleasant.

Old corn is scarce in this neighborhood.

Miss Virgie Brittingham is better at this writing.

Mr. Norman Dennis was in Mt. Pleasant last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. King Lewis were the guests of Mr. Isaac Collins last Sunday.

Messrs. Purnell Dennis and Webster Coulbourne spent last Thursday at this place on business.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Margie Dennis, of Liberty, and Mr. Ernest Brittingham, also of Liberty.

Miss Julia Rayne entertained a number of her friends last Monday afternoon. Those present were Misses Annie Lewis, Laura Jones and Bertha Jones; Messrs. George Jones, Grover Nicholson and Arthur Jones. All enjoyed themselves very well.

Mr. Price For Senator.

The Democratic County convention, called in special session to nominate a candidate for State Senator, caused by the resignation of former Governor E. E. Jackson, who was nominated for that office at the regular convention last July, met in the court house shortly after noon Wednesday, and nominated Mr. Jesse D. Price to fill the vacancy.

As Mr. Price was already a candidate for County Treasurer, it was necessary to nominate a candidate in his place, and Mr. Thomas Perry, late aspirant for the Comptroller nomination at the State convention, was selected and received the nomination.

The convention was called to order by Chairman James T. Truitt, with Messrs. Wade H. Insley and Granville Catlin as secretaries. After the chairman had stated the purpose of the convention and read the letter from Governor Jackson in which he tendered his resignation, Mr. Jerome T. Hayman, in a speech full of flowery language, in which he said the same old things about Mr. Price that he previously said about the ex-governor when he placed him in nomination, wound up by nominating Mr. Price, Sheriff E. E. Bradley seconded the nomination. Mr. Price was sent for and appeared in the court room amid cheers of applause. He made an impromptu address in which he said that he "stood for the supremacy of the white people of Maryland" and something about the "Perpetuation of Democratic control" in the county.

No Reply To Proposal.

As the result of the communication sent last Friday by the Republican State Central Committee, in which was submitted a proposal to the democratic candidates that no money be used to buy votes at the coming election and that the campaign expenses should not exceed $1,000, a meeting of all the Democratic candidates for county offices was held at the Oaks, the home of ex-Governor Jackson, Wednesday afternoon. It was decided at this meeting that the ex-governor Jackson write a letter to his brother, Congressman William H. Jackson, suggesting that the members of the Republican State Central Committee meet the members of the Democratic State Central Committee at the court house, this city, on next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

According to the statement of one of the men present at the conference the object of this meeting is to go over the political situation thoroughly as far as bribery is concerned and endeavor to come to some agreement by which vote buying may be permanently stopped here. The recent proposal of the Republicans, it is thought, will be the means of bringing about the desired result. It is expected that the meeting of the state central committees Wednesday will result in a bonafide agreement, signed by the leaders of both parties, as well as the candidates, and for the first time in the political history of Wicomico county an election without money will occur.

A Man Lost From Boat.

Swept from the deck of the schooner "Ocean Bird," Samuel J. Culp, a deck hand, was drowned in the Piankatank river Wednesday night. Mr. Culp was presumably asleep, when by a sudden jibe of the fore sail he was thrown into the water. Captain Otho Griffith and the crew heard him call for help and at once lowered a boat, but the man sank before the boat struck the water. The vessel was loaded with a cargo of lumber for E. S. Adkins & Co., of this city.

As soon as Captain Griffith, who lives at Brookview, Dorchester county, arrived here he notified State's Attorney Joseph L. Bailey, and the authorities were also notified at Crisfield.

Culp, who had been employed by Captain Griffith since September 1st, was about 23 years old. In his bunk was found a bank book showing that he had an account at the Easton bank. Further than this nothing is known of him.

Wicomico Prohibitionists.

The Prohibition county convention met at the Courthouse Tuesday and nominated the following ticket:

State Senator, Bergen N. Brittingham, of Pittsburg district; House of Delegates, Isaac J. Nichols, of Delmar district; E. Winfield Wilson, of Salisbury district, and Covington W. Campbell, of Pittsburg district; county treasurer, Uriah E. Phillips, Parsons district; sheriff, James W. Wilkins, Camden district; surveyor, Geo. W. Parsons, Pittsville district; county commissioners, Levin M. Melson, Salisbury district; A. P. Toadyne, Nutters district, and S. P. Downing, Parsons district; Judges of the Orphans' Court, Albert E. Messick, Tyaskin district; G. W. Messick, Trappe district; and Oscar T. Insley, Nanticoke district.

Will Not Enter Race.

Ex-Governor Jackson, in a statement to a Sun representative Thursday, announced that he would not be a candidate for the United States Senatorship. He gave no particular reason, but stated that his decision not to enter the Senatorial race would meet with the joyous approval of his family.

Among other things the former Governor said, "This announcement, no doubt will come as a considerable surprise to my friends all over the State from whom I have received many assurances of support. In taking this step, I think that I am acting wisely, and I know that it meets with the joyous approval of my family."

"When the selection of the United States Senator by popular vote was first spoken of I concluded to become a candidate, and while I have not made any public announcement of my intention, it was generally believed among my friends that I would enter the race. The United States Senatorship of course is a high honor, and one that no man could well turn aside. However, I have never been an office-seeker and my inclinations do not run in that direction."

"I have always maintained and I think my course in the past will bear me out in the statement, that I prefer my party's success to selfish interests. In other words, in the future as in the past I prefer to serve my party rather than have my party serve me."

"There are many attractive features connected with the honor of the Senatorship, but I feel that at my time of life the quiet and peaceful career of a private citizen will be as greatly enjoyed by me as the Senatorial toga. All my life I have been engaged in active work and I have now reached the goal where I can lay aside many of the cares and vicissitudes which surround a man deeply engrossed in business affairs and enjoy some of the sweetness of life's autumn fruits. In reaching my determination not to enter the Senatorial race, this idea has largely influenced me."

Poole-Houston.

Miss Elizabeth Kollock Houston, of Millsboro, Delaware, and Mr. William Porter Poole, of Wilmington, Delaware, were quietly married Tuesday evening at seven o'clock at the home of the Misses Houston, cousins of the bride, on Camden avenue. Rev. W. T. M. Beale, pastor of Wicomico Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. Owing to recent deaths in the family of the bride, only the immediate relatives and friends were present.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Mamie Gillis, who acted as maid of honor, and she was given away by her brother, Mr. John Houston, of Delaware. The groom was attended by Mr. Foster Wheeler, of Boston, as best man.

The bride is a daughter of the late John H. Houston, and niece of the late Hon. Charles B. Houston, of Delaware. She has spent much time in Salisbury, where she has many friends. The groom is a son of Mr. Alfred D. Poole, of the Morton Poole Company, of Wilmington. Supper was served by Caterer Phillips, after which Mr. and Mrs. Poole left for a wedding journey. They will make their home in Wilmington.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Charles B. Houston, of Delaware; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Poole, the Misses Poole, of Wilmington; Mrs. John Spooner, of New York; Miss Lydia Houston and Miss Edna Houston Jones, of Millsboro, Delaware.

The Special Revival Services.

Much interest has been manifested in the services at the Division Street Baptist Church during the past week. The attendance has been large. The sermons by Revs. Dutton and Owens have been strong presentations of the Gospel message and the truths have been cordially received. The male quartette has been greatly appreciated, the solo work being done by Mr. Dutton, who has a rich, clear baritone voice. The meetings will continue through next week, still conducted by the visiting ministers. Baptism tomorrow evening. No services Saturday night.

$70,000 CONFISCATED FROM E. S. COLLEGE.

Old Currency of The Defunct Somerset and Worcester Bank Was Used As Advertisement By Salisbury Institution.

Mr. Charles E. Wright, operative in charge of the Secret Service Division of the United States Treasury Department, came to Salisbury Thursday and confiscated all of the old currency of the Somerset and Worcester Bank, which did a flourishing business in this city in the early sixties. The mere fact that these old worthless notes have been confiscated by the Government makes it unlawful to possess it. Mr. Wright stated to a COURIER representative that he had appointed Chief of Police Woodland Disharoon a deputy and that anyone possessing any of these notes should turn them over to Mr. Disharoon, who will forward them to the Treasury Department, where they will be destroyed.

When Professor Myron T. Skinner, of the Eastern Shore College of Business and English, conceived the idea that this old money would serve as a unique advertisement of the several educational institutions of which he is principal, he evidently did not figure that the similarity of the old currency and the notes issued by the Government would tempt some people to spend the money.

Accordingly he secured about a bushel of the old notes, printed the college advertisement on the back and sent them promiscuously over the Eastern Shore counties.

All went well until Julius Benjamin Pragg, a druggist of Cambridge, Maryland, secured some of the currency and pasted the notes together, back to back, completely obscuring the advertisement. With his pockets bulging with five dollar bills issued by the Somerset and Worcester Bank, this young man journeyed to Baltimore last Saturday and proceeded to "do" the tenderloin. In company with a young woman he entered a saloon in the vicinity of Josephine street and, after buying several drinks, passed a five dollar note to the bartender and received "real" money in change. This was his undoing, and inadvertently the cause of the confiscation Thursday, by the Government, of about $70,000 of the currency which was in the possession of Mr. Skinner.

Pragg, of course, was arrested and held under $1,000 bail for his appearance at Court. Captain Wright, the secret service agent, then went to Cambridge where there is a branch of the college and secured all of the currency at that institution. He then came to Salisbury, and from here he went to Crisfield and confiscated all of the money at the branch in that city.

The currency of the old bank is issued in one, two, three and five dollar denominations and bears a very close resemblance to a genuine bank note. Each note is properly signed by C. Whitelock and J. H. Tarr, who were cashier and president of the bank, respectively.

Off For Home-Coming Week.

AGREEMENT SIGNED TO ELIMINATE BRIBERY.

Each Party Will Publish Statement Of Receipts And Disbursements— Campaign Expenses Of Each Party Limited To $1200.

With the exception of Congressman William H. Jackson and Ex-Governor E. E. Jackson, the members of the State Central Committees of the Republican and Democratic parties, and the candidates for county offices upon both the Republican and Democratic tickets, met in the Court House Wednesday morning and signed an agreement to entirely abolish bribery at the approaching election. The agreement has been signed by the members of the respective State Central Committees and all of the candidates.

The meeting was the result of the recent proposal of the Republican leaders to bring about the desired change in the methods admittedly used by both parties in this county for years. On the 27th of last month a proposal was sent to the Democratic State Central Committee by the members of the Republican State Central Committee in which it was suggested that an agreement be made limiting the expenses of the campaign to a fixed amount and that a sworn statement of the money received and the expenditures be published subsequent to the election. After a conference of the Democratic leaders at the home of Ex-Governor Jackson, it was decided that the two State Central Committees and the candidates meet and discuss the matter and it was at this meeting Wednesday that the following agreement was signed:

"Recognizing the urgent need for reform in our political campaigns and elections, we, the Republican party of Wicomico county and State of Maryland, and the Democratic party of Wicomico county and the State of Maryland, solemnly bind ourselves to each other, to the citizens of said Wicomico county, and to the citizens of the State of Maryland, faithfully to carry out all the hereinafter-named conditions, and hereby form and enter into the following agreement, to wit:

"We hereby agree to limit the campaign fund of each party at the approaching election to a sum not to exceed $1,200, which amount is to include contributions from the candidates of said parties and all other sources of income; and it is agreed that all moneys that are to be used in the campaign are to be paid into the treasury of the respective campaign committees of said parties, all payments and disbursements of money to be upon the order of such campaign committees.

"It is further agreed and understood that within six days subsequent to the election to be held November 5, 1907, each of said campaign committees shall publish a sworn statement of the amount of money received, the sources from which it was derived and the person to whom it was paid, and the uses to which it was employed. It is further agreed and understood that no voter shall be influenced or persuaded to cast his ballot by reason of any promise made or complied with before said election, upon the day of election or subsequent to the election, nor shall any voter receive any reward or promise of reward of any character whatsoever to vote, not to vote or stay at home on said election day.

"It is further agreed and understood that a committee of six shall be appointed by the respective State Central

ABLE MEN FOR JUDGES OF ORPHANS' COURT.

Three Candidates For This Important Office, Each Of Whom Would Make An Efficient Official—All Are Natives Of Wicomico.

Mr. Charles F. Wimbrow, candidate upon the Republican ticket for Judge of the Orphans' Court, has lived all of his life in Wicomico county. He was born June 2nd, 1860, and was the son of John T. and Nancy Tubbs Wimbrow. When a boy he attended the public schools and most of his days have been spent on the farm. Mr. Wimbrow is now engaged in milling and farming at at his native home in Parsonsburg. While he has always taken an active interest in political affairs, he has never sought office and he has never before been nominated on the ticket.

Mr. William A. Crew, also a candidate for Judge of the Orphans' Court was born in the city of Baltimore. His parents, however, Charles N. and Letitia Crew, moved to Salisbury the year after his birth, so that practically all of his life has been spent in this county. Mr. Crew received his early education in the public schools of this county. After leaving school he learned the trade of plasterer and continued in this work until two years ago. Since that time he has devoted all of his time to the laying of cement sidewalks and the manufacture of grave vaults. He was the organizer of the National Concrete Vault Company and is president of that concern. With the exception of his appointment as judge of election, which he held for a number of years, Mr. Crew has never held office.

In nominating Mr. Benjamin W. Parker for Judge of the Orphans' Court, the Republicans of Wicomico county selected a man who is able, in every particular, to fulfill the duties of the office. For over twenty years he has been secretary and manager of the Delmar Union Store Company. He was born in 1848, near Delmar and has resided in that neighborhood ever since. He was the son of Elijah and Sarah Elliott Parker. His only education was such as could be secured during the winter in the public schools of that day. The greater part of his life was spent on the farm, but for a number of years he was engaged in the milling business near Delmar.

Committees at once, consisting of three Republicans and three Democrats, the purpose and function of said committee being to pass upon and decide all questions that may arise from this date until sometime subsequent to the election, that may be considered by either party as a violation of this agreement.

"The State Central Committee of the Republican party and the State Central Committee of the Democratic party hereby pledge their respective parties to the faithful performance of the terms and conditions of this agreement, and the candidates of said Republican party and the candidates of said Democratic party hereby likewise pledge themselves to the faithful performance of said agreement.

"In testimony whereof the State Central Committee of the Republican party and the State Central Committee of the Democratic party and the respective candidates of said respective parties hereby set their hands and seals this ninth day of October, 1907." The agreement was signed by both the Republican and the Democratic State Central Committees and the candidates for county offices on both tickets.

Letter Urging Anti-Bribery At the Coming Election Sent To Democratic and Republican Candidates.

The following letter was recently sent by the committee of the Anti-Bribery League of Talbot County to the candidates on the Republican and Democratic tickets for State's Attorney, Judges of the Orphans' Court and Judges of the Circuit Court for the Second Judicial circuit, asking them to pledge themselves to not use any money for the purpose of bribery at the coming election, and reads as follows:
"Believing you to be in full sympathy with any honest effort to make the coming election free from bribery and other corrupt uses of money, and impressed by the great influence which your character and the office for which you ask our vote enable you to exert, we, members of the Anti-Bribery League and voters of this county, respectfully request that you will pledge yourself before November 15, 1907, to place on file with the County Clerk of this county, a sworn statement of all expenses incurred by you in connection with the coming election, whether the money has been spent directly by you or by some other party with your knowledge, thus inaugurating voluntarily what all good citizens ask to be embodied in law, and lending your influence to aid our efforts to stop the corrupt practices that have disgraced our past elections.
"As this letter will be given to the press, we shall welcome an early response which shall have equal publicity. Very truly yours,

- William E. Stewart,
Martin M. Higgins,

Reward For Lynchers.

The Allegany County Commissioners met Tuesday and decided to offer a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the lynchers of William Burns, colored.

It is said that some of the lynchers are known and that the mob included several prominent citizens who have never been known to carry revolvers, but who did so upon this occasion. Coroner George Martz has decided not to hold an inquest.

It happened that the grand jury met on the day following the lynching and took up the case promptly.

Nothing has been heard from the supposed relatives of Burns, and it is the intention to bury the body in the Potter's field tomorrow morning. The authorities are not quite sure that the name of the dead man was Burns. He left a package at a laundry here a few days ago, and all the apparel was marked with the name of "James Hughes," although it was left by one supposed to be William Burns, the negro giving that name.

Verdict For $2000.00.

The jury in the damage suit of Adeline S. Mitchell against the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company, which was begun in the Circuit Court at Belair last week, returned a sealed verdict Tuesday morning, in which it awarded the plaintiff $2,000. The evidence of the plaintiff tended to show that Mrs. Mitchell was passing along Stokes street, in Havre de Grace, in September, 1905, a hammer suddenly fell from the railroad company's bridge, then being constructed, and passed so close to her in falling it broke her umbrella. The plaintiff soon developed a trouble which was diagnosed by her physician as an abdominal aneurism, her theory being that at the time of the falling of the hammer she had so suddenly thrown the upper portion of her body backwards that it had resulted in a rupture of the aorta, the main artery of the body, resulting in an aneurism.

Exhumed Body Of Girl.

By order of State's Attorney, Guy W. Stenle, the body of Miss Ella Baker, aged 19, which was buried at Uniontown September 25, was exhumed yesterday and an autopsy was held by Dr. Henry M. Fitzhugh and Dr. Chas. R. Poutz.

Miss Baker died September 22 at the residence of Clarence Ennor, about three miles from New Windsor, after an illness of one day. She lived in Wakefield and was a daughter of Henry Baker. She attended the performance of Robbins' circus here September 20 with a young man. She was then in good health and her sudden death 48 hours after caused suspicion.

The State's Attorney and the physicians who made the autopsy would not discuss the subject, but it is known that a portion of the body was sent to Baltimore for examination.

MR. GAITHER REPLIES.

Republican Candidate For Governor Says He Made No Utterances On Democratic Management.

Hon. George R. Crothers, Republican candidate for Governor, at a recent address to an assemblage in Easton, said in part:

"In the present important epoch in the history of Maryland our party appeals for the support of the intelligent and progressive element of her people upon the record of achievement which marked the Republican administration of Governor Lowndes. It was under that administration that our fair election law, the best and fairest Maryland has ever known, was enacted and successfully established—a law so fair that both victor and vanquished were satisfied with its results, and under which law our opponents once more came into power in 1899. It was due to that same Republican administration, that a fair and just reassessment law was passed—a tax law which added many millions to our taxable basis and vastly increased the revenues of the State. It was under the able and efficient administration of the finances of our State by Republican officials that our revenues were so largely increased, our collections so faithfully maintained and our debt so successfully funded and financed that the tax rate was lowered from 17 1/2 cents to 16 cents, although at the same time 2 cents more was added for supplying free schoolbooks and promoting the cause of education. It was this splendid result that I have been seeking to emphasize, and which I shall continue to impress upon the people of this State.

"I have made no attacks upon preceding or subsequent administrations of the State's finances. But the efficiency of Republican officials in accomplishing results is the best criterion of what that same party will once more seek to accomplish in considering and settling the problems of today. It is the result which drives home to the minds of the people the workings of their government, not the many details and processes by which the final triumph is evoked. And I commend to my critic the percentage of old loans of the State which were successfully funded with great benefit to the State, and yet which only finds it necessary to correct its erroneous charge against the Republican administration of 1895 to 1899 with reference to sinking funds by admitting, in parenthesis, that it had overlooked a State loan of $600,000.

"I say to this critic, in the words of Scripture, 'first cast the beam out of thine own eye and then shalt thou see clearly to cast the mote out of thy brother's eye.' And I ask the people of this State what they think of the fairness of an opponent which states in italics, 'Neither did the Republican administration inaugurate the policy of requiring interest to be paid to the State upon its deposits. That was inaugurated in 1893 by Treasurer Spencer C. Jones.' The motive of THE SUN in making this statement in the face of the fact that I had clearly stated this identical point shows the animus of the whole article.

"My statement was, 'Our Comptrollers not only carried out the policy of requiring interest on State deposits to be paid to the State, which policy had only been begun by their predecessors in 1893, which had yielded only $11,000, as against $33,000 under the Republican administration, but when Mr. Goldsborough found out that certain State collectors, notoriously the clerks of the Court of Common Pleas, were receiving interest on State funds and applying it to their own use as a perquisite of the office, he broke up that improper practice and required this interest to be paid over to the State. He even went further and instituted suits against former officials in these positions who had appropriated funds from this source and collected considerable sums of money from them.'

"But laying aside all personal questions and irrelevant issues, I ask the thoughtful voter of Maryland whether the record of the Republican party of our State in giving better government to Maryland does not entitle that party to favorable consideration in the approaching election?

Mr. Urner who also addressed the meeting, said, in part:

"It has been declared recently by my eloquent opponent that the success of the Democracy in this campaign would mean the regeneration of Southern Maryland. I would not have supposed that, after 40 years of almost continuous Democratic rule, an orator of that party would admit, much less assert, that any part of the State needs regeneration. If such a need has existed, it is difficult to understand why it should have been so long neglected by the party in power. I imagine that the only regeneration you desire would be through relief from the imposition of trick ballots and from the present unjust discrimination against Southern Maryland in the election laws of the State."

CARRIAGE BY WATER.

National Rivers And Harbors Congress Strongly Advocates Inland Water Ways In This Country.

In a recent editorial discussing the construction of the canal between Hamburg and Bremen by the German Government, involving a tremendous outlay of money but saving transportation charges vastly in excess of the outlay, the Philadelphia Press said:

"It is a singular thing that America has, up to this time, been so blind to the value and advantages of inland waterways. We hear now and then of the need of the deepening of a river to make a harbor for a city whose site was chosen before the day of large ships; of a canal to join two lakes, of a safe interior route for war vessels paralleling the Atlantic Coast from Boston to North Carolina, but surprisingly little is said or thought of in regard to any general system of inland waterway. No amount of computation can make it advantageous to neglect the waterway, and we shall add vastly to our resources, industrial and commercial if we open our eyes to obvious facts."

The obvious facts, to which the Press refers, are in the admitted inability of the railroads to meet the demands of trade and commerce. The volume of business in the United States has grown to the point of outstripping the railway in its capacity for transportation and the previous neglect of the waterways has given place to an earnest demand for their adequate improvement under a fixed policy of the general government in which the merit of the stream, its capability for improvement and the tonnage it would bear, if improved, will be the test applied to the question of improvement.

In shaping that policy, in bringing it to the attention of the general government and—more than all—in the results following, the National Rivers and Harbors Congress has done a great work. Not the least part of the work has been in displacing neglect of the inland waterways and substituting an intelligent appreciation of their value to the trade and commerce and complete development of the limitless resources of the country.

The improved inland waterway would not be antagonistic to the railway. There is a volume of trade and commerce more than enough for all with freight congestions impossible with the inland waterways adequately improved and with freight charges reduced, thereby lessening the cost of the raw material or the finished product to the consumer.

"Uncle Josh Perkins"

"Uncle Josh Perkins," is the title of a play that has scored a success this season unprecedented in recent years. It is to be given here in all its entirety by the original company which first carried it on to prosperity and popularity. It will be produced here next Wednesday, Oct. 16, at Ulmans Grand Opera House and it is certain to play to a packed house. "Uncle Josh Perkins" is a comedy drama; there is a touch of tragic nature in it that excites to an intense pitch the emotions of the spectators, with all ending happily. The play is livened up by the excellent comedy and when the spectators are not in tears over the misfortune of the beautiful young heroine and the shadows that appear to threaten her future, they are laughing and applauding uproariously at the funny antics of the comedians. Some new and exceedingly clever songs and specialities are introduced at appropriate stages of the play. A vast amount of new and magnificent scenery is used for the impressive stage pictures presented in each of the four acts of the piece.

MAKE THIS ACCORDING TO THE DIRECTIONS.

Prepare This Simple Mixture At Home By Shaking Ingredients Well In A Bottle.

What will appear very interesting to many people here is the article taken from a New York daily paper, giving a simple prescription, as formulated by a noted authority, who claims that he has found a positive remedy to cure almost any case of backache or kidney or bladder derangement, in the following simple prescription, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well-known druggist here at home, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and could be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up if asked to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic affections with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those of our readers who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

Miners Cause Trouble.

Tuesday morning, when the miners' train was approaching the switch at Morantown, near Cumberland, where many of the New York Mining Company's Italians, who are out on strike, reside, the engineer found that the switches had been securely spiked and the train was compelled to stop.

The special train with deputies arrived shortly afterward and the crews at once set to work removing the obstruction.

In addition of an offer of $500 made by the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad Company for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who spiked the switch, the New York Mining Company has offered a reward of $600 for the arrest of anyone interfering with any of its miners. Threats of dynamiting the coal company's plant were made today, but the company has placed guards all around, anticipating trouble. Papers are being prepared in injunction proceedings against the 125 Italian strikers. When Court convened this morning Judge Keedy stated to the Grand Jury that he had noticed by the newspapers that there was trouble at the mines near Morantown, and he instructed the jurors to investigate the matter at once so that by taking proper action further trouble might be averted.

Dashiell—Hamblin.

(Communicated.)

The marriage of Miss Beatrice Hamblin, daughter of Mrs. Mollere C. Emory and step daughter of Collins Emory, and Mr. James Dashiell was solemnized Thursday evening, October 3rd, at the home of the bride, 508 E. Church street, witnessed by only a few friends of the bride and groom. Miss Iris Plummer, of Washington, D. C. was maid of honor. Mr. Charles Parsons, of Salisbury, was best man.

The bride wore white silk organdie with long train trimmed with lace panels and tucks. She wore a tulle veil, fastened by a wreath of white rose buds and foliage. The bride carried a bouquet of bride's roses and maidenhair ferns. The maid of honor wore a handsome white silk gown, and carried no flowers. The bride was given away by her stepfather, Rev. J. T. Mathews, of St. Paul A. M. E. Zion Church, officiated.

Those present were: Mrs. Alice Morris, Mr. J. Hudson, Mr. Emory Birchhead, Miss Sarah Reden, Misses Anna and Lizzie James, Mrs. Mary L. Brown, Mrs. Parsey Brown, Mr. Jack Dennis, Mr. John Pinkett, Mr. Kelley Williams and Mr. Hamton Oneil. After the ceremony the guests retired to the dining room where a well ordered supper awaited them. The parlor and dining room, were beautifully decorated with plants and pink and white carnations. The bride and groom will remain at the home of the bride's mother for the winter.

SERIOUS CAR SHORTAGE.

Admission Of The Inability Of The Great Railroads Of The Country To Carry Freight Offered.

That another and very serious car shortage is certain in the near future is evidenced by the urgent appeals from headquarters of the railway systems to shippers to take advantage of the car supply of today, rather than to wait until a later period when the demand for cars to move the crops becomes more insistent and they are inclined to blame the shippers of the country for neglect to take advantage of the present supply.

Conceding the justice of the complaint of the railroads, it is none the less a striking illustration of the need for other and for continuous and reliable means of transportation. Members of the Inter State Commerce Commission have, on more than one recent occasion, taken steps to induce dealers in coal at distant points to lay in their supply now instead of awaiting the coming of winter. Under present conditions, the advice and the inducement are sound and wholesome. But trade and commerce cannot conform themselves to conditions to suit the railways. It would be a reversal of form in the fact that it would be subjugating the shipper and the receiver to the means of transportation, instead of subjecting the means of transportation to the needs of trade and commerce.

It is an admission of the inability of the great railway systems to carry the freight offered, no less distinct and emphatic than the frank admission of President James J. Hill of the inability of the railways to meet the ever increasing trade and commerce of the United States.

A car shortage would be a thing impossible with adequate improvement of the inland waterways of the country. They would furnish a cheap, safe and a reliable means of transportation at all times, not conflicting with the railways but complementary to them and clearing away the one great obstacle in the path of commercial and industrial progress— inadequate transportation facilities.

Letter To Vaughn D. Gordy, Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir: You've got 200 cows; how much will you take for calves and milk of 100 of 'em next year—you pick out the 100?

How much for the other 100? The point is: cows are not all alike, and you know which is which.

It is so with paint. You've got one best cow in that herd. There are 200 different paints in the United States; and one best. You know your best cow; we know the best paint.

The best cow is the one that gives the best calves and milk. The best paint is the one that covers most surface and stays there longest—neither paint nor cow goes by color—nobody asks whether Holstein or Jersey is better to look at.

10 gallons Devoe will cover your barn and wear 10 years; it'll take 15 of another paint, and that paint'll wear 5 years.

Reckon costs: Devoe: 10 gallons $1.75; $17.50; about 10 days' work $3, $30; the job, $47.30 for ten years; $4.75 a year. The other: 15 gallons $1.60; $24; about 15 days' work $3, $45; the job, $69 for five years; $13.80 a year. Devoe $4.75 a year; the other $13.80 a year. Difference $9 a year.

That's how to reckon cows and paint. Yours truly F. W. DEVOE & CO. P. S.—L. W. GUNBY CO. sells our paint.

Mrs. Chadwick May Die In Jail.

Columbus, O., October 8.—The condition of Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, who is ill in the hospital of the female department at the penitentiary, was not changed today. She has remained in practically the same condition for 48 hours, which is a very poor sign, according to the attending physician, Dr. A. G. Helmick. It was admitted today at the penitentiary that Mrs. Chadwick would probably not live to the end of her term.

Accidents will happen, but the best regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for such emergencies. It subdues the pain and heals the hurts.

The Anti-Bribery Agreement And Its Enforcement.

The signing of the anti-bribery agreement by the State Central Committees and the local candidates of the Democratic and Republican Parties last Wednesday was a notable local event and one of the most progressive steps ever taken toward the consummation of the complete overthrow of bribery at Wicomico elections. It is a sad commentary upon existing conditions in the county that it actually becomes necessary for a solemn agreement to be entered into by the leaders of the two great parties, that law and order shall be maintained and that the statutes of the State shall be respected; and the very agreement itself is a tacit acknowledgment of the violation of law upon the part of both of the parties. But as it is well known that these deplorable conditions have continued year after year, without any serious attempt to have them changed, the formal, open and frank declaration of the party leaders is extremely gratifying to all citizens, regardless of party affiliation. It necessarily marks the beginning of a new and better era in local politics.

There is absolutely no reason why it should not mean the final overthrow and complete abolition of the debauching system which has been in vogue for years in this county. The time for crimination and recrimination has passed. The causes which have made the signing of such a document necessary should be forgotten, and the one overshadowing purpose and effort of politicians and people should be the enforcement of the agreement and the maintenance of law. No contract is self enforcing. If parties to a contract fail to perform its stipulations and carry out its provisions, then it becomes necessary to have recourse to the Courts, through whose agency, backed by the sovereign power of the State itself, all agreements can be enforced and obedience compelled to all contracts.

The Republicans have entered into this contract in good faith, and with the absolute and unreserved intention of carrying it out strictly and faithfully, and we have enough faith in our Democratic friends to believe that they have entered into it in the same spirit and with the avowed and determined intention of abiding by its terms and conditions, regardless of consequences. But at the same time, no stone must be left unturned to see that proper provision is made to compel, if necessary, the parties interested to literally and strictly observe its letter and spirit. The agreement will not enforce itself. There must be a thoroughly united and determined effort not only on the part of the leaders of the two leading parties, but by the citizens in general to devise such ways and means as will positively insure the complete enforcement of the solemn covenant which has been made and the prevention of any violation of law in connection with this election.

Provision is made for the appointment of a committee of six, composed of three Democrats and three Republicans to whom are to be referred all matters of alleged violation of the agreement and who will virtually have charge of the enforcement of its provisions. This should be supplemented by a citizens' committee of not less than five or six to act in conjunction with the one above named, and these combined committees should in turn appoint vigilance committees in every district in the county, composed of the most substantial men of the community, men of reputation and strength, with sufficient backbone and nerve to prevent any violation of law and see that order is maintained and the law is strictly and rigidly upheld. It is important that an agreement be entered into, but ten times more essential and vitally important that its provisions be enforced.

The Republicans give notice now that having deliberately and solemnly entered into this pledge with full knowledge of all it entails, they propose to stand by it to the letter and they demand, as they have a right to demand, that their opponents do the same. Let there be one honest, clean and fair election in this county! Let the untrammelled voice of Wicomico's voters assert itself, and let this election mark the beginning of a new and different epoch in local affairs, when money shall no longer be the controlling factor in its elections, and when its officials shall be elected by the unprejudiced and unpurchased voters of the county!

Editorial Jottings.

Remember the administration of Governor Lowndes and vote the Republican ticket.

Vote the straight Republican ticket—it means plenty, peace, prosperity and progressiveness.

The Democrats of Wicomico are fearfully scared, and well they may be, for this is the year that Wicomico goes Republican.

A Democratic Legislature means Governor John Walter Smith for the United States Senate. How does that strike the people of Wicomico?

Salisbury should have a commodious and imposing union station, in keeping with the general progress which has taken full possession of the town.

That "walking delegate" seems to bother The News fearfully. He must be telling some very unpleasant things about Democracy. It is always the truth that hurts.

The free school book system is the product of the Republican Party, and one of the lasting monuments to the magnificent record made during the Lowndes Administration.

The man who fails to register when he is entitled to that privilege, and is therefore unable to cast a ballot at the coming election is unworthy of citizenship in a free country.

Every pledge of the Cambridge platform of 1895 was splendidly redeemed, and its every promise enacted into law. The same will be true this year if the party is successful, as we believe it will be, at the election next month.

Vote against the Democratic Party which took away the rights of the oystermen and gave us the Haman law. The Republicans have pledged themselves to the enactment of such laws as will restore these ancient rights and valuable privileges.

It was a bad day for the whiskey interests of Delaware when they sent paid and subservient tools to this city for the purpose of deliberately misrepresenting the local situation. It has proven a veritable boomerang, and the ringing cry is resounding all over Delaware: "Remember Salisbury."

The people had been demanding for years and years a reassessment, but it had been denied them constantly and repeatedly by the Democratic Party. It remained for the Republicans, under Governor Lowndes, to enact such a law and correct the inequalities throughout the State which had been apparent for years.

Governor Smith has entered the United States Senatorial lists, and has the backing of not only a large portion of the Eastern Shore but Baltimore City as well. As he was the controlling and dominating figure of the recent Democratic Convention, so he will be the power back of the throne in case of Democratic success, and will be the "Boss of the Crothers Administration," as well as the next Senator.

Governor Jackson must have undergone a fearfully sudden change of heart. Only the week before his resignation from the local ticket he ascribed as his reason for not remaining in the field the fact that he would probably be a candidate for the United States Senate, and hardly had his resignation gotten cold before he declared he would not be a candidate even for the United States Senate. Well, well! Wonders never cease! It really looks as though the Governor discerned the handwriting on the wall just in time to save his political scalp.

—It has been announced that Capt. Wm. K. Leatherbury will open an oyster shucking house at White Haven this winter. Capt. Leatherbury has about 25,000 bushels of oysters on his private beds and expects to purchase thousands of bushels from other growers.

—Most of his business interests being in Baltimore, Ex-Governor E. E. Jackson has decided to spend the winter in that city and avoid the exposure of travelling back and forth from Salisbury. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are arranging to open their Baltimore home about November 10th.

—The quarterly distribution of the state school fund last week gave Wicomico county $5,825.86. Somerset's share was $6,077.30; Worcester's, $4,926.22. The total amount distributed by Comptroller Atkinson was $250,000.00 which was $50,000 more than for the same period last year.

—The Epworth League connected with Asbury M. E. Church, will hold a social in the lecture room of the church next Friday evening at 8 o'clock, to which all members and friends are invited. A business meeting will be held at 7.30, and it is earnestly requested that every member be present.

—The moving picture parlor of Mr. E. C. Potter, is as popular as ever, and deservedly so. On Saturday evening there were 1402 persons in his place, the special feature being the singing of little Miss Annie Ricely, who has recently been playing "Eva" in Uncle Tom's Cabin. She will remain with him for some little while.

—Notwithstanding the predictions that the tomato crop would be short, it is estimated that nearly $3,000,000 will be realized by tomato growers on the Eastern Shore this year. The pack has been exceedingly large. Capt. Wm. K. Leatherbury put up about 22,000 cases at his factories in this and Dorchester counties.

—As the result of an investigation to ascertain the cause of the recent freight wreck at Tasley, Va., the operator at that station has been discharged. He allowed the trains to pass the station only two minutes apart, when the rules of the company require a lapse of five minutes. Engineer Dunn was held blameless by the officials.

—The trial of the negroes Ernest Robbins and Edward Dashiell, which was taken up Tuesday of this week has been continued until Thursday October 24th. Every endeavor, in the meantime to locate the negro "Biewie" who is also wanted on the charge of murder. The negroes are implicated in the killing of Bruce Funnell several weeks ago.

—WANTED—50,000 bushels of sweet potatoes. G. A. Bounds & Co., Hebron, Maryland.

—Leslie, the oldest son of Rev. W. S. Phillips, who was successfully operated on for appendicitis by Dr. H. C. Tall last week, was removed from the Hospital to his home one day this week, and is making a rapid recovery.

—Cards have been received in this city announcing the coming marriage of Miss Nettie Jones, of Baltimore. Miss Jones has been a frequent visitor in Salisbury and has many friends here. She visited this summer at the home of James E. Ellegood, Esq., on N. Division street.

—The date of the performance of "Uncle Josh Perkins" which was advertised for the evening of Thursday, Oct. 17th, at Ulman's Opera House has been changed and the play will be given the evening before, Wednesday, October 16.

—A recital by Miss Jessie Rae Taylor will be given at Princess Anne Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Eastern Shore College. Miss Taylor will be assisted by Mrs. M. P. Trussell and Miss Ruby Mills will sing a solo during the entertainment.

—"Rally Day" services will be held by the Presbyterian Sabbath School tomorrow morning at 9.30. An address will be made by the Rev. W. S. Phillips. All are cordially requested to attend. Mr. Beale's text at the regular morning service will be II Timothy, III: 14, the last clause.

—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Peninsula General Hospital, held Friday last, the following contracts were awarded: For electric wiring, to Garrett Miller & Company, of Wilmington, Del. For plumbing and gas fittings, to Louis Morgan, of Salisbury. For steam heating to L. W. Gunby Company, of Salisbury.

—Owing to the heavy shipments of canned goods on the Wicomico river line of the B. C. & A. Railway Company, the steamer "Virginia" left last Sunday, immediately after its arrival here, and loaded over 5,000 cases of canned goods between this city and White Haven. An additional steamer, the "Maggie", was also brought into use during the week.

—Much interest was manifested in the Opera House Programme puzzle of Oct. 4th, and the puzzle editor received many answers. Mrs. Ella Messick Leonard, 300 Newton street, was the prize winner, the prize being two of the best seats in the house for the coming attraction. The misspelled word was YOU in G. M. Fishers "ad" misspelled YON. Number 2 puzzle will appear in the programme shortly.

—A report of the six months operations of the Emergency Hospital, Easton, up to August 1, a copy of which has been received by this office, shows 103 patients treated. Of these patients 29 were white men, 39 white women, 15 colored men, 13 colored women, 3 white children and 4 colored children, 41 were treated absolutely free and 62 paid sums ranging from $1 to $15 per week. Melinda's Knight.

By CECILY ALLEN.

Copyrighted, 1907, by C. H. Sutcliffe.

Melinda had come from up state. Before her arrival in the big, bustling city she had studied stenography and typewriting in an up state business college.

But Melinda would read novels, and when she had secured a position and settled herself in a hall room at the working girls' club the novel habit reasserted itself more strongly than ever.

Melinda did not care much for the girls she met at the working girls' club. They talked shop and shirt waists, and most of them worked in factories at less salary than Melinda received.

It was much more fun to read novels, particularly the sort of novels most common at the second-hand bookshop, stories of English working lassies and chivalrous lords and dukes, who abandoned scented drawing rooms and red coated hunting fields to besiege the hearts of the forementioned honest working lassies.

Just about the time that Melinda had absorbed her three hundred and forty-ninth novel the bookkeeper gave her a couple of passes for the theater. It was just his luck, he explained, that the baby had the whooping cough when those passes came his way, but of course he wouldn't leave his wife alone of an evening under such circumstances.

It was a wonderful play, called "The Road to Yesterday," and the natural climax of Melinda's course in novel reading, for in it a young girl and her lover and many other folk were transported back 200 years and did all the things of which one reads in novels centuries old.

From that night, perhaps because of the play and perhaps because dog days set in, Melinda read fewer novels and hunted methodically for her twentieth century knight. It was too hot for her to light the gas in the small hall room or even to burn a lamp, and it was just right to sit on the stoop and watch passing figures that might suddenly blossom out as knights.

But things had been going badly on the market, and most of the men who held possibilities of knightlyhood hurried past her with quick, nervous strides, lowered heads and deep ringed eyes. Her fellow workers in the office were all married. The junior partner was engaged to a girl who had millions, a clubfoot and bad taste in frocks, so he held no knightly possibilities. To be sure, there was the boy who ran the elevator after 6 p. m. He always held the car when he saw Melinda coming on those nights on which she worked overtime. But he was scarcely over five feet high, his cheeks were a bucolic pink in hue, and his nose was freckled. Besides, he was paid to hold elevators and he was obliging to tenants who worked overtime, and mere knighthood on salary was not worth mentioning.

Once or twice he had brought her some garden flowers, the old fashioned kind, mignonette, heliotrope, phlox and ragged robins, that his mother raised in the garden of their suburban home. Melinda found them on her desk in a milk bottle without a card. A real knight, of course, would have a card or leave a glove or something of the sort.

Her search for a knight was lagging, partly because of the heat and partly because the hot, overworked men around her looked anything but knightly in midsummer, when the assistant matron, remembering the theater tickets, asked Melinda to make a trip down the bay and back one mercilessly hot night. Melinda assented languidly, and the assistant matron felt her heart stirred by a strange pity for this tired little up state girl, who sometimes, amid all the artificiality and sordidness of her city life, managed to hold on to her old ideals. She was so different from the other inmates of the club—a bit silly about novels and music and flowers, but still so shy and sweet.

It was a great night on the bay, moonlit and sparkling, after a day of relentless heat and humidity, and not a night for disaster at all. But one overtook them—a fiery sheet of flame beside which the sun's rays of the day just closed were merciful. Melinda heard just one long, hoarse cry, saw one great flash of light, felt an arm jerk her to her feet, and then everything was blank. This may have been because the day had been so long and hard or because the girl had never in all her reading days thought of what one ought to do when fire broke out on a crowded boat.

Something cool and lovely was trickling on her forehead, her eyes, her cheeks, her lips. She was floating on a cloud. No, she was lying on wet sand, and the assistant matron was murmuring:

"No, no, she's not hurt. It was just the shock. She will be all right in a minute. But you, you wonderful, wonderful boy, to save us both!"

Oh, yes, the fire, the trampling feet, the brief glimpse into the great beyond—she remembered it all now. And some one had saved them. There was a real knight in New York after all.

She wanted to open her eyes and see him, but the lids were so heavy, so heavy. But she knew he was straight and tall and dark and pale and slender. All knights must be. And then the other voice said brokenly:

"You know I never had a chance to tell her I loved her. She was so backward and shy and always seemed to be looking right past me. She isn't like other girls I know—and you're sure she'll come around all right."

Something in the voice made Melinda's eyelids turn light again. They popped open, and she looked straight into the anxious eyes of the elevator boy.

"Oh, then it wasn't a knight after all," she murmured as the assistant matron began to chafe her hands once more.

Melinda was sitting on the edge of the bed in the assistant matron's room. "I suppose they don't have to be tall and slender and pale and interesting if their hearts are all right and knightly. And Billy's heart is all right. He don't have to run an elevator, you know. His mother has quite a little money, but he's going to be an electrical engineer or superintendent of big buildings or something of that sort, and he says he wants to know everything from running elevators to running men, and then he can support me and mamma too. But when his mother came in to see me today she patted my hand and kissed me on both cheeks and said there was no reason why Billy and I should have to wait that long, because she thought there was love enough in my heart to keep two mothers going, and she had no daughter. She's just lovely, his mother is, and you'd know she was just the sort whose son would be a knight."

And the assistant matron remembered a stern, white face she had seen for just an instant on that dreadful night, felt once more the grip of his firm, strong hand and murmured, "Yes, of such stock do real knights spring."

The American Abroad. It has for years been brought home to us by comment more or less complimentary—that we Americans traveling abroad are closely scrutinized by the Europeans. But perhaps we have not realized that the observing eyes of the younger—in fact, the youngest—generation are turned upon us.

A Parisian woman going to her children's playroom discovered her little boy and girl absorbed in a remarkable occupation. The boy stood motionless and solemn on a small table in the middle of the room. The girl, arrayed in gown and hat and coat, walked slowly round him, regarding him thoughtfully, now and then peering abstractedly into a red covered book in her hand.

"What are you doing, children?" asked the puzzled parent. "Oh, Paul is the Column Vendome, mamma," gravely explained the sister, "and I am a tourist from America—with a book, you know."

A Bird Flight Fallacy. There have been decades of dispute over the value of the hollow bones and the air sacs in many species of birds. It has been contended that, inasmuch as the temperature of birds is higher than that of any other creature, this network of air chambers, becoming filled with air warmer than the surrounding atmosphere, enables the bird to rise. It is true that the gannet, the pigeon, the pelican, the albatross and other flying birds are equipped with air chambers, but the Australian emu, which flies when at all with the greatest difficulty, as well as the ostrich and the pteryx, which cannot fly at all, are also provided with these air cells—and so, too, is the orang outang! Moreover, notably good fliers—swifts, martins, snipes, the glass starting, the spotted flycatcher, the wood wren and the black headed gnatcatcher—have bones destitute of air, some of them, in fact, being filled with marrow. No fallacy in science has been more difficult to puncture than this air cell or balloon theory of flight—Everybody's Magazine.

The Canary. Canaries and other birds in cages, says an authority on the subject, very easily get rheumatism in their poor little legs from damp perches. And as a legful of rheumatism is a legful of pain, no matter what the size of the sufferer, it is not to be supposed that rheumatism is a less serious matter for a canary than for an elephant. The perches, therefore, should be kept dry. If the little feet get sore, bathing in rosewater will cure them. If the bird has a chill it should have two or three doses of olive oil and be sheltered carefully from drafts. Even in warm weather birds should not be hung in drafts, for they are very susceptible to them. Another "don't" for the woman who wants her bird to sing is "don't give the bird sweets." Sweet things affect a bird as they do a human singer—they roughen the voice.

English Proper Names. As for the pronunciation of place names, "I can gie thee a capper," says a north country friend. Ulverston, on the borders of the lake district, is locally known as "Ooston." There is a story about a native who had been to a fell side sheep dog trial and, returning home, got into a wrong train. "Where for?" demanded a porter. "Ooston," grunted the inebriate, so they took him to Euston right away. Why not? "Ooston" has a twin brother, by the way, in "Peeruth," the vernacular rendering of Penrith, which would easily saddle on a story of similar nature about Perth. And at King's Cross you may deceive a booking clerk by asking for a ticket to Ohan. He thinks you mean Hoborn.—London Chronicle.

Eating Eggs. He was a Frenchman and on his way to make his first visit to the land of Uncle Sam. At breakfast the first morning after the steamer had left Cherbourg his right hand neighbor noticed that he was watching some Americans who sat opposite. The meal finished, inquiry was made as to the reason for the Frenchman's interest in what was going on in front of him. "Did you see them?" he sputtered—the remarks may be freely translated—"did you see them eat the eggs?" "Why, of course I saw them. What about it?"

"They broke"—this in horror—"they broke the eggs into cups and then mopped the mixture with a spoon and ate it." "Yes, you see, that's the way we Americans eat eggs. We don't crack the top and eat the egg out of the shell, as you do." "Oh, we do, too—that is, some of us. We fix eggs that way for children who haven't learned table manners."

"Crocodile Tears." The phrase "crocodile tears" owes its origin to the imagination of some of the old travelers, who invented the fable that the crocodile weeps over its prey. One of the earliest English globe trotters to mention this fiction was Sir John Mandeville, who in his "Travels" (1390), speaking of "Ethiopia," "Ynde" and an "Ye clept Silla," says:

"That Lond is full of Serpents and of Cockadilles. These Cockadilles ben a manner of Long Serpente, zalowe and rayed above, and had four Feet and schorte Thyes and grete Nayles as Clees or Talons, and there ben some that had five Fadme in length and sume of six and a halfendal. And in the nyght thei dwelen in the Water and on the Day won upon the Lond. These Serpentes slue men, and thei eten hem weppinge, and when thei eten thei mowen the over Jowe and noughte the nether Jowe, and thei have no tonge."—St. Louis Republic.

Against His Grain. Almost Carrie's wife rules him "with a rod of iron." This his friends well know, and one evening when he joined the circle in Sam Hayward's grocery and showed no amusement at Joe Piper's jests they knew that in his mind he was retracing certain painful domestic incidents of recent occurrence. On being approached as to the cause of his silence he explained that he was down on his luck.

"Praps you don't know your luck," suggested Joe Piper, winking behind the back of Amos at the company generally. "There may be a thought too much lemon in her," said Mr. Hayward, driving straight to the mark, "but she has the courage of the masculine gender."

Amos said, with a sigh, "That's the mischief of it. If I'd been a weak man, ready to knock under and play second fiddle without whimpering, it wouldn't have mattered. But I ain't at all that sort of kind of man by nature, and it hurts my feelings like time to be made to do it."—Youth's Companion.

The Applause. Tompkins—the storm scene on the stage is usually a failure. It seldom brings out any applause. Funnibone—Oh, you're mistaken. Didn't you ever notice the thunderclapping?—Norristown (Pa.) Times.

Delicately Put. He would not say that she painted, powdered and all that. He was too much of a gentleman for that. "Still I may as well confess," he said, "that she impressed me as one who thinks she can improve upon the Lord's handiwork."

Difficult Breathing

Short breath, fluttering, palpitation, sinking spells are symptoms of a weak heart, struggling to do its work. It must keep the blood in circulation to carry nourishment to make flesh, bone and muscle, and remove the worn-out particles. When it cannot do this, it must have help. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure gives strength to the heart nerves and muscles, and increases the heart action.

"I am glad to say that I am so much improved in health. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure cured me when several doctors failed. I think no other medicine could do for me what Heart Cure has done. My case was bad; bad as it could be at times. I had difficulty in getting my breath, my heart beat so fast at times that I thought it impossible to live without rest. The pain was very severe in my left side, and my nerves were all unstrung. I had almost given up all hope of being cured, and I am sure I would not if I had not taken the Heart Cure. I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Miles' remedy to all who suffer with heart disease."

MISLEADING ESTIMATES.
Why Municipal Lighting Plants Generally Cost More Than Expected.

It is most unusual for a municipal lighting plant to be erected at a cost that comes anywhere near the estimate presented to the city officials. In some cases these officials are directly to blame for accepting the estimates of representatives of manufacturing companies, who are, of course, more anxious to make a sale than to protect the citizens from ultimate disappointment. When an electrical engineer is called upon for an estimate it might seem as though the council had done its full duty, but unfortunately, in some cases at least, the temptation to secure a percentage on the construction cost is great enough to overcome professional honor, and estimates are submitted which are absolutely inadequate. The only remedy for this would seem to be to obtain an independent estimate from a consulting engineer who would have no further interest in the matter.

Perhaps, however, the most common cause for disappointment is due to the fact that engineers in estimating cost fail to take into consideration what ought to be well known by this time—that cities cannot, as a rule, construct plants at as low figures as private companies can. This is due partly to the inexperience of city officials, which is taken advantage of in many cases, and also to the fact that the large amount of red tape which seems to be a necessary feature of such contracts has to be allowed for, by bidders. It is therefore perfectly possible that an estimate for a municipal plant may be exceeded by 30 per cent when it would be an adequate one if the construction were to be undertaken by a private company. This is a feature of municipal ownership which has not been heretofore given the consideration that it deserves.

ANTI M. O. TIDE RISING.

Many Defeats in Many Places in the Last Few Months.

The rising of the tide of public resentment against municipal ownership is shown by the many defeats it has suffered during the past few months. Among those previously unrecorded in these pages are the following:

The voters of Canon City, Colo., declared against constructing municipal waterworks.

In Hot Springs, S. D., M. O. candidates for aldermen were defeated in every ward.

The expenditure of $50,000 to $65,000 to develop electrical power was voted down in Shelburne, Ont.

In Shullsburg, Wis., the vote was nearly six to one against bonding the city for an electric light plant.

The committee appointed by the town of Winchester, Mass., to investigate the subject of municipal lighting reported as follows:

"The committee is unanimously of the opinion that the town should not at this time undertake to own or control any municipal lighting plant, nor should it, in the opinion of the committee, engage in the manufacture or distribution either of electricity or gas for municipal use or for the use of its inhabitants."

Galena Well Out of It.

The electric light plant of Galena, Ill., was installed in 1898 at a cost of $18,000. It was sold the other day for $13,000, but this price included a twenty-five year light, power and traction franchise. Under the new contract the city will get practically twice the amount of street lighting that was furnished by the municipal plant at only 10 per cent greater cost. The sale met with the unanimous approval of the mayor and city council, as the plant had not been a success. One account of it says:

"Its management was changed as often as new political cliques gained power, and at times there was no street illumination at all. The commercial service was inferior."

Would Forfeit Vast Revenue.

As long ago as 1902 the then $17 street railways paid to the various municipalities and states $13,366,355 a year in taxes, according to our bureau of census. Adding the taxes on street railway securities as property of the holders and the additions, the total is now fully $25,000,000 a year. Municipal ownership would forfeit that great sum as state and municipal revenue.—Walter J. Ballard in Los Angeles Times

No Exposures For Him.

"Now here," said the enthusiastic real estate agent to the prominent politician, "is one of the most desirable houses in the capital. It has exposures all around."

"Good heavens," cried the prominent politician, with a start of dismay, "that's just what I'm trying to get away from!"—Baltimore American.

Beating the City Plant.

Ruralites have a scheme to beat the municipal plant to a frazzle. There is no charge at Eaton Rapids for porch lights when next to the street. So out go the lights in the house after supper, and the evening paper is read on the porch in the midst of myriads of bugs. But it's cheaper.—Detroit News.

A pessimist is a man who won't take the one remaining seat in the car for fear a woman will get on at the next corner.—Dallas News.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin.
BALTIMORE OLD HOME WEEK.

Maryland is sending invitations to her sons and daughters scattered everywhere to come to a grand reunion, and is making extensive preparations to give them when they come, a week of right royal entertainment.

New Baltimore, sprung Phoenix-like from the ashes of the fire of 1904, will make of Old Home Week, October 13 to 19, one continual round of patriotic and civic display.

There will be an electrical pageant, a magnificent military and naval display, a gathering of patriotic societies, a parade and ball by the fraternal orders, a big concert, and a night carnival.

There will be also a special pilgrimage to Annapolis on "Peggy Stewart Day," Saturday, October 19, when visitors will have an opportunity to inspect the magnificent new buildings of the United States Naval Academy and the remodeled State House, so full of historic associations.

The Homecomers will have the advantage of specially low railroad rates. The Pennsylvania Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Baltimore, October 12 to 14, good for return passage until October 21, inclusive, from all stations on its lines north and east of Shrewsbury, Principio, and Port Deposit, at a considerable reduction from the regular fare.

Every former Marylander, whose address is known will receive a special invitation, issued by Governor Warfield, and the whole week will thrill with the hospitality for which the Old Line State is so famous.

For exact rates, conditions of tickets, and train service, consult nearest Ticket Agents.

Election Judges and Clerks.
Salisbury, Md., Sept. 3, 1907.

The Board of Supervisors of Elections for Wicomico County, having appointed Judges and Clerks for the several election districts of said county, in accordance with the provisions of section 10 of article 33, code of Public General Laws, hereby give notice of the name and address of each person, also the political party to which each belongs.

It is the duty of this board to examine into any complaints which may be preferred to them in writing against the fitness or qualifications of any person so appointed, and to remove any such Judge or Clerk when, upon inquiry, they shall find to be unfit or incapable.

The Board expects to swear in the appointed Judges and Clerks on or about October 16th.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Increasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

J. D. Coulbourn, farmer, living two miles out from Salisbury, Md., says: "My first attack of kidney complaint was in 1899. I was laid up three weeks at that time. I seemed to recover and was able to be around. I had two more attacks when it settled down to a regular daily backache and misery through my joints, limbs, joints and muscles. I do not think I was wholly free from pain one moment during that four years. It was as bad at night as during the day. I doctored, and I think used every known remedy for kidney trouble, at least everyone that I heard of. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I got them at White & Leonard's drug store. The first box gave me so much relief that I kept on taking them, using in all several boxes. They cured me and the cure was a lasting one as not a vestige of the trouble has ever returned. I made a statement for publication in 1903 endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills, and it gives me great pleasure at this time, May 11, 1907, to reiterate all that I said in my former statement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently."—Hon. John R. Garrett, Mayor, Girard, Ala.

Humorous Chinese Craft.

A certain Chinese taotal (magistrate) having told his men to have two ingots of gold sent to his treasury for purchase, the shopmen brought them in and in answer to the query of the taotal told him that the price was so much in tails, but added, "This is the ordinary price, but for your honor we will knock off one-half of the price." Then the taotal said to his underlings: "Seeing that they are to sell to me at only one-half price, just give them back one ingot of gold and put the other in my treasury, and thus their account is settled. Goodby." So the underlings of the yamen did so, but still the shopmen hung around waiting. The taotal asked them why they were waiting, when their account had been already settled. Said the shopmen, "When did your honor pay your humble servants?" Then the magistrate answered with a very fierce air: "Talo nu ta-al!" (Impertinent slaves), "did you not say that these two gold ingots were half price to me? Then did I not give you back one ingot and keep the other and thus settle your account without the least injustice according to your own proposition? So be off with you or my lictors will give you a taste of the scourge."—Harper's Weekly.

A Singular Calculation.

It would require, according to the calculations of a scientist, the power of a 10,000 horsepower engine about 70,000,000,000 years to lift the earth a foot in height, and to do this work, allowing thirteen pounds of water per horsepower per hour, would require some 10,000,000,000,000,000 gallons of water, or more than would be discharged at the mouth of the Mississippi in 6,000 years. This would be enough, the writer estimates, to cover the entire surface of the earth to a depth of not less than 300 feet, to convert which into steam, using good boilers, would require some 4,000,000,000,000,000 tons of coal. If the latter quantity of the mineral was loaded on cars of twenty tons each it would demand 200,000,000,000,000 such cars. If the latter were thirty feet long and all coupled together in one train it would reach around the earth 45,000,000 times and, if running twenty-five miles per hour, would consume 25,000,000,000 years in running the length of itself. So much for figures.

An Unmentioned Ancestor.

Mr. B. is very proud of his ancient lineage and never lets slip an opportunity to boast of it. At a dinner where he had been unusually rampant on this subject a fellow guest quieted him by remarking, "If you climb much further up your family tree you will come face to face with the monkey."—Lippincott's.

COUNTY.

Nanticoke.

Miss Annie Renshaw spent last week in Baltimore. Mr. T. J. Walter spent last Tuesday in Salisbury. Glad to report Master Vaughn Williams better at this writing. Mr. W. D. Turner, of Salisbury, was in Nanticoke several days last week. Little Mary Larmore, of Tyaskin, spent last week with Miss Vernie Messick. Mr. Horace Messick and little daughter, May, were in Salisbury last Tuesday. Miss Mannie Lumpkins, of Baltimore, has been the guest of Miss Bernice Walter for several weeks. Mrs. Rosa Somers, Mrs. W. H. Kennerly and little son, Rollison, are visiting relatives at Alberton. Mrs. A. F. Turner and Misses Carrie and Sadie Turner were guests of Mrs. T. J. Walter last Tuesday. Miss May Hill, who is teaching school at Tyaskin, spent Saturday and Sunday last with Miss Sadie Turner. Mr. and Mrs. H. James Messick returned last Wednesday from a ten-day trip to the Jamestown Exposition. Miss Ora L. Willing left last Monday for Baltimore, where she will resume her studies at the Peabody Institute. Mrs. A. J. Brockett, who spent several weeks with Mrs. T. J. Walter, returned to her home in Baltimore last Friday.

Pittsville

Rev. G. A. Morris, of Worten, Md., was in town last week. Rev. G. A. Ogg began his extra services at Mt. Hermon last Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Sheppard spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Leccates. Dr. and Mrs. Freeny spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Riggin. Mr. Verda Parsons, of Philadelphia, is spending some time with his parents here. Misses Mamie and Nellie Farlow spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Myra Dennis. Mr. Herbert Bailey spent last Saturday and Sunday with his uncle, Mr. Dan Parsons. Mr. Frederick Hamblin, of Chincoteague, Va., spent a few days last week with relatives here. Mr. and Mrs. Millard Campbell and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Campbell. Mrs. Hiram Ake left this week for a trip to Virginia. While away she will visit the Jamestown Exposition. Misses Alice and Mamie Holloway, of Parsonburg, spent Saturday and Sunday with their uncle, Mr. George Jackson, near here.

Parsonburg.

Mr. John E. Jackson is having a dwelling erected on East Poplar street. Tomato season is over here. Mr. E. Wm. Perdue made his last pack Wednesday. Mr. George H. Truitt visited Ocean City, the races at Snow Hill, and other places this week. People in this section are very busy saving fodder, pea hay, and putting in wheat and clover. Master Marion Tighman is the guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. White, at Salisbury. Mrs. Marion Tighman has returned home from Salisbury, where she has been on a visit to her many friends. All members of Parsonburg Council No. 134, Jr. O. U. A. M., are requested to be present next Monday night at 7.30 o'clock.

Mt. Pleasant.

Master Reuben Hales, of Piney Grove, was the guest of Master Ray Lewis last Saturday. Miss Essie Williams, of Liberty, spent last Saturday and Sunday with relatives at this place. Misses Virgie and Cora Hales, of Piney Grove, were the visitors of their aunt, Mrs. Jennie Lewis. We had a new visitor at our place last Tuesday night. It was Mr. Jack Frost. He left many impressions of his night's visit. Messrs. Washington Murray, of Box Iron, and James Beauchamp, of Showell's were the guests of Mr. Wm. Beauchamp last Sunday.

Tyaskin.

The Tyaskin P. C. Co. is still packing tomatoes. A severe rainstorm visited Tyaskin Monday, but no damage was done. Miss Annie P. Messick left Sunday on the steamer Tangler for Washington, D. C., to visit her sister. The Republicans here are hoping to be favored with a speech from Mr. W. B. Miller, candidate for Senator. Capt. Marcellus Windsor left Monday for Onancock, Va., to get a cargo of potatoes for canning at the Tyaskin Packing Co. Capt. Charles H. Larmore left Monday for the Potomac to load oysters for Covington and Culver to plant for winter shucking. Capt. J. K. Covington has accepted a position with the Shell Fish Commission, which is about to begin work in the Nanticoke. Oysters are small and about one size and the supposition is that they will about all be gathered this season and they will be scarce next season. Rabbit season has opened here. The boys are having a jolly time hunting and shooting. Last week the reports of guns could be heard in thickets where there was not even a squirrel. It is to be hoped that the County Game Warden or his deputy will attend to the unlawful hunting.

Circuit Court Adjourned Tuesday.

The Jones will case which was on trial last week when THE COURIER went to press was concluded Tuesday evening, the jury rendering a verdict for the defendant on all the issues, which means sustaining the will. This case had been previously tried in the Dorchester Circuit Court, where the plaintiff won; but on an appeal to the Court of Appeals a new trial was granted, and the case was removed to Wicomico for the second trial. The amount of money involved is about $2,500. Goldsborough and Fletcher, of Cambridge, and Ellegood, Freeny & Wailes, of Salisbury, were attorneys for the defendant; John R. Pattison and E. C. Harrington, of Cambridge, and Toadvin and Bell, of Salisbury, represented the plaintiff. The Court, Tuesday afternoon, rendered its decision in the L. P. Coulbourn case, which was that he had a right of appeal from the decision of Justice Trader. The Court, it is understood, construed the Act of 1906 as covering this case and giving an appeal. It is stated that the State's Attorney will likely take an appeal to the higher court.

Baptist Church Meetings.

During the past two weeks the meetings at the Division Street Baptist Church have been largely attended and the interest has been marked. Last Sunday evening, when the ordinance of Bible Baptism was administered, many were unable to secure admission. The sermons have been strong presentations of the Gospel message and have been productive of much good. The regular services tomorrow will be conducted by the pastor and announcements will be made concerning the further meetings.

Old Colored Resident Dead.

Mrs. Annie M. Huston, wife of Solomon T. Huston, died at Mt. Clair, N. J., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. H. Butler, Thursday night, aged 60 years. She had been ill about seven weeks. The remains will be brought to Salisbury Saturday and will be taken to her home at 406 East Church street. The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at John Wesley M. E. Church, conducted by Dr. H. H. Moore, P. E. of the Philadelphia District.

Thirteen Dangerous Age For Boys.

In an address before the teachers of Wilkesbarre, Pa., the other day Professor Sherman Davis declared that the age of thirteen is the most dangerous for boys, as at that age vices are most readily formed, says a special dispatch to the New York World. Recently he said he asked 2,000 men when they first began using tobacco, and 85 per cent answered when they were thirteen.

Long Distance Smoking.

Ted Cooper, a student at the University of Washington, has discovered a new smoke which, it is believed, may become a fad, says the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. While examining some glass chemistry tubes he noticed a long one and wondered how tobacco smoke would taste through it. By means of a rubber he attached the glass tube and tried it. The smoke was altogether different from that of the ordinary different from that of the ordinary because it was much cooler. He attached other tubes until his pipe was ten feet long and allowed it to hang out of the window. The result was that the smoke gave a new sensation and one very refreshing.

Personal.

Mr. Raymond Phillips returned Saturday from a trip to Jamestown. Mr. Howard Phillips, of Washington, D. C., is visiting relatives in this city. Mr. Fred A. Rochester, of Baltimore, spent Sunday with friends in this city. Mrs. G. E. Serman, Sr., is spending a few days with Mrs. Benj. Gibson, at Crisfield. Mr. E. Riall White and family are spending a few days visiting the Jamestown Exposition. Mrs. Milton R. Cullison, of Baltimore, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Ball, Division street. Mrs. L. L. Glover, of Haddonfield, N. J., is the guest of Miss Dora Toadvine, Isabella street. Mrs. Ida Williams and Mrs. W. E. Doran are spending the Home-coming week with Mrs. J. R. Laws, Baltimore. Mrs. Sallie Cooke and daughter Mary, of Philadelphia, are the guests of Mrs. Cooke's daughter, Mrs. A. M. Jackson, on Camden avenue. Messrs. Frank Ulman and Pitt Turner have returned from a ten-day trip to Boston, New York, Albany, Philadelphia, and other points. Captain and Mrs. Veasey and daughter Louise, are spending their vacation at the home of their daughter, Mrs. William Thomas, at Buckeystown, Md. Miss Lucy Polk who has been connected with the firm of R. E. Powell & Co. for several years has gone to Alexandria, Va. She will take a course for trained nurse. Mrs. Katharine MacMakin, Miss Isabella Carey, with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Rawlins and children, of Seaford, are spending this week at the Exposition and Richmond. Mr. and Mrs. James E. Ball, and daughter, Mrs. Cullison, of Baltimore, have returned home from a visit to friends and relatives in Chestertown, Kennedyville and Clayton. Mrs. Wesley Hearn, and sister, Miss Ella Hastings and Miss Olivia Hearn, of Fruitland, are visiting Hampton, Norfolk and Richmond for two weeks and will spend several days at the Jamestown Exposition. Harry Dennis has the greatest line of $2.00 Shoes for Ladies that was ever shown in Salisbury. All Leathers. All Styles. WANTED—50,000 bushels of sweet potatoes. G. A. Bounds & Co., Hebron, Maryland.

The Word "Poultry."

Poultry, according to the definition given in one standard encyclopedia, includes "the whole of the domesticated birds reclaimed by man for the sake of their flesh and their eggs." The word comes from the Latin "pullus," which could mean a young horse or donkey as well as a chick (the English "foal" is akin to this), through the French "poule," a fowl. But it is curious that "poultry" has no French version, the nearest equivalent being "volaille," or "oiseaux de basse cour," birds of the low yard. German in its descriptive way knows poultry as "federlich," feather cattle.

The Party Line.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES FOR SHERIFF AND SURVEYOR.

Both Well Known in Wicomico County. Each Of Them Peculiarly Adapted For The Office For Which They Have Been Nominated.

Mr. Thomas Walker English, Republican candidate for the office of County Surveyor, is a native of Wicomico county, having been born in what is now known as Sharptown district, (at that time Somerset county). He is the son of the late Levin and Elizabeth English. Always fond of books and study, he entered the public schools at an early age and after completing the course of study offered by the public schools of that day he entered the select latin school under the instruction of Griffith Jones Withey, from which he was graduated. In the intervals between the school terms he engaged in farming and milking until 1866 when he began teaching in the public schools. He continued in this occupation for twenty years, during which time he took up the study of surveying. Since his resignation as teacher Mr. English has had considerable experience in surveying. He was, for four years, Justice of the Peace under Governor Lowndes' administration, and with this exception he has never held office.

Mr. Thomas M. Truitt, of Pittsville, the choice of the Republican party for Sheriff, was born near his present home in September, 1859. He was the son of Isaac J. and Jane B. Truitt, who were among the first settlers in the county. After his education in the public schools, he learned the barber's trade and engaged in that business at different intervals until about a year ago, when he became interested in the produce business and opened a brokerage office in Pittsville. Some time ago he was elected President of the Board of Town Commissioners of Pittsville and many improvements have been made in that bustling little town during his administration. Mr. Truitt has never sought office and has never before been nominated upon the ticket. He would make an excellent official and it is expected that he will receive many complimentary votes at the election in November.

United Sunday School Services.

A Sunday School Institute of the united churches of this city will be held in Asbury M. E. Church, Friday, October 18th, afternoon and evening, under the direction of Dr. Charles Roads, general secretary of the Maryland Sunday School Association.

The program will be as follows: Afternoon Session—Devotions, Rev. Kingman Handy; Greeting, Rev. Dr. Martindale; "Best Things Now in Our Sunday Schools," opened by Rev. W. S. Phillips; Discussion, opened to all present, "New Features of Sunday School Organization," Dr. Charles Roads; Address, "Problems of Sunday School," Dr. Roads.

Evening Session—Devotions, Mr. F. Leonard Wallis; Address, "Short Steps to Sunday School Ideals," Dr. Roads. Dr. Roads is the newly elected Superintendent of the Sunday School Association, and is trying to newly organize this work. He is well equipped, a pleasant, forceful speaker and no one should miss this opportunity of hearing him.

New Pastor Installed.

The Rev. Morris J. McDowell, of Cecil county, was installed pastor of the Pitts Creek Presbyterian Church at Pocomoke last evening. Rev. W. T. M. Beale, of this city, presided and propounded the constitutional questions. The sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Bancroft, of Berlin, and Rev. J. B. North, of Snow Hill, charged the new pastor. Rev. Beale delivered the charge to the people of the congregation. After the services an informal reception was given in honor of the new pastor.

Disharoon-Baker.

Mr. Harry Lee Disharoon, formerly of Salisbury, and Miss Ida May Baker, of Salisbury, were married Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Southern Methodist Parsonage.

On account of the illness of the bride's mother, the wedding was quiet, only members of the two families and a few intimate friends being present. The groom is a son of Mr. Sidney Disharoon of Salisbury. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Baker, also of this city.

Republican Candidates For Sheriff And Surveyor.

THOMAS M. TRUITT, FOR SHERIFF.

THOMAS W. ENGLISH, FOR SURVEYOR.

WILL DEMONSTRATE GAS FOR LIGHT AND FUEL.

Home Gas Company Has Rented Store Room Occupied By W. F. Allen And Will Practically Demonstrate Uses Of Gas.

Although there are still two weeks before the expiration of the time limit fixed by the City Council relative to the date the Home Gas Company should have the pipes laid on the streets to be paved, the work has been completed. The work of construction at the plant near the N. Y. P. & N. depot is also progressing rapidly and from the present outlook it is evident that the entire system will be in operation long before July 15th, 1908, the date fixed in the agreement.

Another evidence that the company expects to rush the work and that the Home Gas Company may be ready to operate its plant as soon as it is completed is the fact that the large store room occupied by Mr. W. F. Allen has been rented by the company and will, within the next few weeks, be fitted up with gas fixtures of all kinds in order that the use of gas both as fuel and light may be demonstrated to the public. A man will be placed in charge who is thoroughly familiar with all kinds of gas ranges and it is said that in order to make the demonstration more practical an experienced chef will be on hand to demonstrate the methods of cooking with gas as a fuel.

For several weeks the Cruse-Kemper Company, of Pennsylvania, has been at work at the plant erecting the huge storage tanks. One of these tanks is 60 feet in diameter and 20 feet in height and has a capacity of 51,000 cubic feet. The other is a smaller container with a capacity of about 10,000 cubic feet. A brick building 85x288 feet has been erected in which the machinery will be installed. A great deal of this machinery has already arrived and the work of installation will be started at once.

Surely there is a marked difference between the methods of this company and those of the defunct Salisbury Gas Company which forfeited its charter because of its failure to fulfill its agreement with the city authorities.

MR. RHODES' RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY COMPANY.

Was Superintendent Of Plant For A Number Of Years—Resignation To Take Effect November 1st. Mr. Hynson In Charge.

Mr. Ralph B. Rhodes, who for a number of years has been connected with the Salisbury Light, Heat & Power Company, as superintendent, has tendered his resignation, it is understood, to take effect November 1st. Mr. F. H. Hynson, formerly connected with the electric light plant at Lewes, Delaware, has been engaged by the company to succeed Mr. Rhodes. Mr. Hynson has already taken up his new duties, but will not assume full charge of the plant until the departure of Mr. Rhodes.

The announcement of Mr. Rhodes' resignation came as a surprise to the public. He has been an excellent official and the present system of lighting is the direct result of his personal efforts. Since Mr. Rhodes assumed charge of the company's interests here many extensive improvements have been made in the electric light service.

Mr. Rhodes expects to remain in this city for the winter and take a much needed rest. It is known that he has had several flattering offers since his resignation became known, and it is thought that in a few months he will become associated with one of the electric light companies in the larger cities.

Will Build New Roads (?)

Were it not for the astounding fact that the bridge across the Tony Tank creek was promised by the County Commissioners over twenty-one years ago, and isn't built yet, the recent announcement that the work of building the Quantico road would be started within the next few weeks, might have some effect upon the people interested. At the same meeting of the Commissioners at which the foregoing announcement was made, the residents along the road between Salisbury and Coulbourn's mill, were assured that in a short time that public highway would also be shelled.

Notice!!!

There will be services (D. V.), in Spring Hill Parish, on Sunday next, October 10, as follows:
Spring Hill Church, 10.30 a. m.
Quantico, 7.30 p. m.

Letter To W. C. Cullett. Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir: The easiest way we know of to make a little money is—if you're going to paint—to paint with the paint that takes least gallons. Take a small job; say it takes 10 gallons Devco, two coats; that's an average house. When the job is done and the bill comes in, it is $50; the paint etc., $17.50; the rest is for labor and cartage; the labor is fixing the surface, shifting ladders scaffolds pulleys and ropes, and brushing-on paint. Take another job exactly like that; try another paint; it takes 12 gallons. The bill is $10 more. Take another exactly the same; another paint; it takes 20 gallons. The bill is $100. There is only one Devco; there's a dozen 12 gallon paints, and 100 that take 20 gallons to cover a 10-gallon job. The only difficulty is in finding-out Devco. After that you save work; there's less work in 10 than in 12 or 20 gallons; less paint to buy and less to brush-on and less wages to pay. If Devco were only a little better than others, there'd be some difficulty in finding-out the difference. It goes twice as far as half the paint; that ought to be easy. It wears longer too. You'll wait a good while, if you wait to find-out how long it wears; there are thousands of people who know that the least-gallons paint wears longest. Yours truly F. W. DEVCO & CO. P. S.—L. W. Gunby Co. sells our paint.

CAPTAIN JACK CRAWFORD.

Famous Lecturer And Poet Scout Will Be Heard Here During Lecture Course.

Of all prominent public men there is none loved and appreciated more than Capt. Crawford. His life began in Ireland, and its memories follow him ever. The fields of the Emerald Isle are a beautiful setting for many of the Poet Scout's recent verses which nestle in the heart of it like a dewdrop in the green leaf of the lily plant. And in his Scottish heart the love of Ireland as his birthplace is only second to the love of America, his adopted land. All was not a path of roses. His early years in America are a lullaby in minor chords, the careless laughter of childhood mingling with the sobs of a heart-broken mother, over the waywardness of husband and father and over the wee boy whom poverty compelled to labor in the mines. Then the rhythm of life changed but too soon to the martial swing of war and the sound of fife and drum. The boy marched away from the darkness of the mines to the deeper gloom of battle lighted now and then by the flare of flame and the dash of sword. Then the hospital bed, the loving care of sisters of charity; the struggle of the poetic muse, who fought for light, up through the very rocks of ignorance and lack of opportunity. Then came the sound of dirges, as both father and mother were torn away, and the crippled boy soldier knelt by his mother's bed to register an oath to her which he has kept and will keep forever. Then a business life and peace for a time. Suddenly upon his quiet came the war cry of the red man.

The spirit of war which had been so recently born in the heart of the boy, was not dead in the heart of the man, and with patriotic fervor of the Scotch-Irish blood within him, he responded to the need of men and turned his footsteps westward. The plains and mountains became his school. He learned the true love of nature and gave it back to the world in his songs. Following the Redskins on the trail the scout learned in quieter moments the heart secret of the birds and flowers, the call of the wild wolf and the cry of the eagle.

He became the friend and comrade of many an officer of high rank, for the pen can open many a door closed to others, and his rank made no difference, where his genius appealed.

Thus on through a useful life he went his way, treasuring up a storehouse of experience; garnering pictures of life few have had the opportunity to see; catching the melodies of nature few have had the opportunity to hear; and out of the West he came with his raft of treasure to dispense its sunshine to the multitudes who have laughed and wept with him wherever he has appeared; for as a lecturer and entertainer he has excelled.

He will be heard at the Masonic Temple the evening of Oct. 24th, under the auspices of the Eastern Shore College Alumni, for the benefit of Library.

OYSTER PROPAGATION.

The Culture Of The Bivalve—Many Experiments Have Been Unsuccessful.

The propagation and the cultivation of oysters are practically two very different processes and the distinction between them should be constantly kept in mind while considering the methods of the oyster farmer. Oyster propagation is a simple and interesting operation in the laboratory, but it has not yet been carried on upon a scale sufficiently extensive to be of importance to the planter.

The minute eggs of the female oyster (each adult female produces from 10 to 60 millions of eggs annually) may be fertilized by the sperm of the male in a tumbler or dish of sea water at the proper temperature. Numerous conditions, some understood and some unknown, must be in proper adjustment in order to insure a continuance of life to the embryo oyster. There are questions of temperature, specific gravity, currents, food supply, depth etc., making such further study and experimentation necessary before artificial propagation can be made of value to the practical oyster planter.

The liberation of artificially fertilized oyster eggs in the water of the Bay has been suggested as a method of increasing the number of oyster spat in certain localities, but after repeated trials it has not proved successful. The operation is an expensive one from every standpoint. Fully one third of the eggs that can be taken at any one time from a spawning female oyster are unripe; are therefore incapable of fertilization and are lost. Moreover, in taking the eggs and sperms the adult oysters are killed and practice has shown that the young oysters that develop from eggs confined in hatching dishes or troughs all die before they attain the settling or attaching age, probably from lack of food. Young attached oysters have seldom been procured from eggs so kept. Doubtless if instead of keeping the eggs in hatching dishes for any considerable time after they have been fertilized, they should be put into the water near the place where it is desired to establish an oyster bed, they would pass through their development normally, provided they did not encounter adverse conditions. In order that the fry developing from the deposit eggs shall become attached in the desired localities, it is necessary that the tidal and river currents be such as to carry the free swimming oysters over the shells put out to catch them, at just the time when they are ready to settle and attach themselves. It is not possible, however, to calculate when the attaching stage will be reached and the chances are that none of any one lot will become fixed to cultch exposed to receive them.

On the other hand if the mother oysters are allowed to remain on the beds and spawn normally the least amount of loss of spawn takes place and there is the greatest possible chance of securing a part of the young oysters which develop from the spawn.—So many spawning oysters live together on a natural bar or planted ground that a failure of the ripe eggs given out by the female oysters to come into contact with the fertilizing sperms from the males is probably unusual. The spawning period of an individual oyster probably covers from six to ten weeks, the eggs and sperms being given out a few at a time as they ripen. In this way none are lost, every egg having a chance to develop. During the breeding or spawning season there is probably not a time when there is not present in the water in every locality near an oyster bed, a considerable number of oyster fry in all stages of development. To establish a new bed in such a locality it is only necessary to expose the proper cultch at the proper time in the proper way.

MAKE THIS ACCORDING TO THE DIRECTIONS.

Prepare This Simple Mixture At Home By Shaking Ingredients Well In A Bottle.

What will appear very interesting to many people here is the article taken from a New York daily paper, giving a simple prescription, as formulated by a noted authority, who claims that he has found a positive remedy to cure almost any case of backache or kidney or bladder derangement, in the following simple prescription, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well-known druggist here at home, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and could be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up if asked to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic affections with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those of our readers who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

Ministers To Leave Salisbury.

With the assembling of the Virginia Conference early next month, the terms of Rev. R. F. Gayle, Presiding Elder of Eastern Shore District, and Rev. Thos. N. Potts, D. D., pastor of Trinity Church, this city, will expire. Each will close a four-year term, and will be sent to other fields of labor. It is highly probable that Mr. Gayle will be transferred to another district to continue the work of Presiding Elder. As to Dr. Potts, he will no doubt be appointed to one of the well-known churches in the Conference in one of the large cities. The departure of both families from Salisbury will be regretted by large circles of friends and admirers.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Increasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

J. D. Coulbourn, farmer, living two miles out from Salisbury, Md., says: "My first attack of kidney complaint was in 1899. I was laid up three weeks at that time, I seemed to recover and was able to be around. I had two more attacks when it settled down to a regular daily backache and misery through my loins, limbs, joints and muscles. I do not think I was wholly free from pain one moment during that four years. It was as bad at night as during the day. I doctored, and I think used every known remedy for kidney trouble, at least everyone that I heard of. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I got them at White & Leonard's drug store. The first box gave me so much relief that I kept on taking them, using in all several boxes. They cured me and the cure was lasting one as not a vestige of the trouble has ever returned. I made a statement for publication in 1903 endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills, and it gives me great pleasure at this time, May 11, 1907, to reiterate all that I said in my former statement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Mrs. Annie M. Huston.

(Communicated) Mrs. Annie M. Huston, wife of Solomon T. Huston, one of the best known citizens of Salisbury, was born near White Haven, this county about sixty nine years ago. She came to Salisbury at an early age, and in 1857 was married to Solomon T. Huston. For fifty years and fourteen days this couple enjoyed the blessedness of matrimonial life. She was a most amiable character and to know her was to love and admire her. She was converted in 1862 and for 45 years was a faithful member of John Wesley M. E. Church of this city. She is survived by her husband, four daughters, a sister and two sons. Three of the daughters are married and the single one, Miss Mayme, is a teacher in the colored industrial and grammar school of this city. It was while on a visit to her youngest daughter, Mrs. F. H. Butler, wife of the Rev. F. H. Butler, of Montclair, N. J., that she was taken seriously sick the latter part of August and after a lingering illness of seven weeks departed this life Thursday Oct. 10th. The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker J. G. Keyler, of Montclair, and shipped to Salisbury Saturday where upon arrival were taken in charge by Undertaker Hill.

The funeral service was held at John Wesley Church Monday afternoon and was attended by a large concourse of people, many coming from a distance. The Rev. C. S. Sprigg pastor of the church conducted the service. The Rev. Dr. H. A. Monroe of Philadelphia delivered a very touching eulogy. Appropriate addresses were also made by Dr. P. O'Connell of Salisbury, Rev. C. S. Sprigg and Rev. J. E. A. Johns of Wilmington, Del.

The floral designs were many in number and were given by several of the leading families of the town.

CARD OF THANKS.

Death of William Harvey.

Mr. William Harvey, one of the oldest residents of Salisbury, died at his home on Delaware street, Friday afternoon, aged 87 years. His death was caused by general debility due to advanced age. Mr. Harvey was a veteran of the Civil War, having served in the Union army with an Eastern Shore Company. He was engaged in the last day's battle at Gettysburg. Deceased has been a consistent member of the M. E. Church for 65 years. He is survived by a widow and the following children: Mr. James Harvey, Miss Laura E. Harvey, Mrs. James Walston and Mrs. Eliza Twilley. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Dr. Martin Dale.

Car Load Of Fine Western Cattle.

Captain Isaac H. White arrived in Salisbury Tuesday with a carload of fine young short horn Western heifers and steers from Orange County, Va. These cattle are the finest ever brought to Salisbury. Captain White will sell them for butchering and feeding purposes, and it is a rare opportunity for our farmers to get some excellent stock to feed this winter.

Here is the opportunity to get the right stock here at home. The cattle can be seen at the yards of Messrs. Messick & White, on Lake street, just over the pivot bridge, and it would be worth the while of our farmers to inspect this stock. Captain White proposes to go into the cattle business on an extensive scale, and it will give our farmers an opportunity to get good stock at the right prices.

THE Salisbury Building & Loan and Banking ASSOCIATION

This Association has two separate and distinct departments: "The Building & Loan Department" and "The Banking Department."

The Building & Loan Department, with its paid-up capital stock of $14,500.00, makes loans secured by mortgages, to be paid back in weekly instalments of 30c, 40c, 50c, $1.00 or $2.00 per week, to suit borrower, and has been doing a popular and successful business since 1897.

The Banking Department was added in 1902 under authority granted by the General Assembly of Maryland of that year, to set apart $25,000.00 of the Association's capital stock for banking purposes. It receives money on deposits, makes loans on commercial paper, enters into such business transactions as conservative banks ordinarily do, and earnestly solicits the patronage of its friends and the general public. Political Discrimination.

This is an age, not only of the spectacular,—an age of marvelous inventions and wonderful progress, an age when one can comfortably recline in New York and have his photograph taken across the Continent, an age when passengers in mid-ocean, on luxuriously appointed floating palaces of modern times, can read at their breakfast table a daily paper filled with news gathered from the four quarters of the globe during the night by wireless telegraphy—but it is distinctly and peculiarly an age of independent thought and action along every line of human endeavor. No longer are ready digested mental food products thrust down the throats of the unwilling by professional dispensers of patented intellectual food stuffs. No longer are men allowing their intellectual powers and faculties to lie useless and dormant amid the stirring scenes and present possibilities of modern life, while the political thinker attempts to coddle them to sleep with the lullabies of fifty years ago.

Men are awakening to the possibilities that are within them, and the dangers which are confronting them, and are realizing as never before their responsibility, not only to society and government, but primarily to themselves, and when they are once permeated and imbued with the undeniable and immutable fact that they are responsible creatures, new ideas fix upon them, new visions confront them and new aspirations and ambitions actuate and control them. No longer are they ready and willing to allow some intellectual quack to dose them with bread pellets, when everything under Heaven they need is a breath of the air of freedom, and a view of the mountain top. What is needed in Wicomico is a cyclone or an earthquake, if you please—one of those mighty natural outbursts from which The News devoutly prayed to be delivered,—a breaking asunder of the ties of prejudice, of the bonds of partisanship and of the everlasting and eternal idea that men ought to vote the Democratic ticket because their old grand-fathers, wearing "old drab coats all buttoned down before," voted with clock-like regularity that self-same ticket from top to bottom, and would have been considered a traitor, an unpardonable heretic and eternally condemned if he scratched a single name from the undefiled column of that sacred paper.

The time has come, and rightly so, when the sovereign voters of the State of Maryland are voting not for traditions or parties as such, but are voting for men and live principles of the present time—for men who represent the best thought of the community, and are best suited and adapted to carry out the needs and requirements of the people along the line of public and civic duty.

We live in an age of discrimination—an age when men are reading for themselves, thinking for themselves, and above all, voting their own conscientious convictions after mature and deliberate judgment. If there is a certain man upon the Republican ticket better suited in general by training and environment to fill the duties of the particular office for which he has been nominated than his Democratic opponent, the time has come when there should be absolutely no hesitancy on the part of the voters of Wicomico county, regardless of party affiliations to vote for that particular candidate. The wholesale voting of straight tickets because one happens—though he knows not why—to be a Democrat or Republican, belongs to the musty past, and men—sovereign, and holding in their hands the inestimable right of American citizenship, are exercising their God-given privilege for the welfare of the State, the uplift of humanity and the betterment of mankind.

Voters, be men! Throw prejudice to the winds and vote for men and principles, regardless of tickets. Hew to the political line—let the chips fall where they may. Do not be swayed by such veritable tommyrot as The News has recently been printing about "getting into line." It might be imagined that it was driving—or attempting to drive—a lot of sheep. One could hardly conceive that such an appeal could be made to intelligent beings. Voters, put your honest sentiments into the ballot box and this year assert your manhood! There should be an honest and clean election and the best men, politically, morally, and SOCIALLY should this year be triumphant in the county, and will be if every voter performs his high civic duty faithfully and conscientiously.

Short Political Catechism.

Who gave the people of the State of Maryland the free school book system? The Republicans.

Who gave them a new assessment law after it had been denied them by successive Democratic administrations? The Republicans.

Who gave the State of Maryland one of the most honest, fair and just election laws ever placed upon the statute books of any State? The Republicans.

Who ripped that election law from the books and placed in its stead the disgraceful Wilson Chinese Puzzle? The Democrats.

Who gave the people that political specimen of modern politics known as John Walter Smith? The Democrats.

Who controlled the recent Democratic Convention? John Walter Smith.

Who will go to the Senate of the United States in case of Democratic success? John Walter Smith.

Who propose to give the people of Maryland an honest ballot law and clean administration after the election? The Republicans.

The Poe Memorial.

The Edgar Allen Poe Memorial Association, recently formed in Baltimore for the purpose of raising a memorial in that city to one of America's greatest poets, should appeal with special interest and peculiar force to all Marylanders, and the movement should have the hearty support and cooperation of all lovers of literature in this State.

Maryland has already been entirely too tardy in substantially acknowledging the genius of one of her most gifted sons, and offering her tribute to a poet whose fame has reached not only beyond the confines of our own State, but beyond the borders of our country as well. The people of Maryland in general will no doubt be glad to join in a movement of this character, and all who are interested in seeing a memorial erected which will be a credit not only to the city, but to the State as well should promptly communicate with one of the officers of the Association, of which Mrs. John C. Wrenshall, 1037 N. Calvert street, Baltimore, is President, and Mrs. George K. McGaw, 1012 St. Paul street, is Corresponding Secretary.

The centenary of Poe's birth occurs on the 19th of January, 1909, and it is earnestly hoped that the responses will be of such a nature that the memorial will be assured by that time.

Editorial Jottings.

Vote against trick ballots and for an honest election law.

Vote for continued prosperity, which is but another way of saying, "Vote the Republican ticket."

Mr. Gaither is putting up a splendid fight, and the independents are rapidly swinging into line for him.

A vote against the Democratic legislative candidates means a vote against John Walter Smith for the United States Senate.

The present Wilson Ballot Law is an absolute disgrace to the State and a fair specimen of Democratic measures. Wipe it from the Statute Books by voting the Republican ticket!

Senator Miller! It really begins to sound quite natural. Make it an actuality, and let Wicomico have a representative in the Senate of Maryland worthy of its best traditions, and a credit, politically and otherwise—to the people of this county and State as well.

Have you seen the circular letters the Democrats have been sending around the county from Baltimore headquarters and presumably printed in Wicomico. They are a "dead give away" and conclusively show that the Party realizes it is up against it in this county this Fall. And then they are "missing fire" on lots of their men. They thought they were Democrats. In fact they were once—but now—they hand the letters to the Republicans with assurances of support and laugh at the hugeness of the joke.

If you claim to be a Democrat, and want to keep your record clear don't fail to work for the election of every man nominated by the Democratic Convention.—Wicomico News.

Note that "every." Isn't that a gloriously high plane of political ethics? No independence—no discrimination—no possibility of voting in general the Democratic ticket and yet voting for certain men of your choice upon another. Vote like sheep and then your record will be "clear" and you can affiliate with "the boys."

It is currently reported that one of the candidates upon the Democratic ticket for one of the most important offices in the gift of the county is making illegal and unlawful overtures to certain voters in utter defiance of law and the solemn agreement which he recently signed. For the sake of the reputation of the gentleman in question, as well as the party, it is to be hoped it is untrue, and we give notice once more that that agreement was signed to be kept and enforced. Be a man! Do not play the baby act!! A voter-buyer is bad enough—but a detestable, despicable hypocrite is infinitely worse!!!

—Mrs. Charles Simms, a well known resident of this county, died at her home at Siloam after a lingering illness last Sunday.

—For the latest styles in shoes, all colors, call and see the swell line shown by E. Homer White Shoe Co., Main street, Salisbury, Md.

—The vacancy in the City Council caused by the resignation of Mr. E. E. Twilley has been filled by the election of Mr. Harry Dennis.

—A committee of young men have arranged for a dance to be given in the Masonic Temple next Tuesday evening. Music will be furnished by Swartwood's orchestra.

—The Mite Society of Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church will give a supper next Friday evening for the benefit of the church. It is expected that the supper will be given in the Masonic Temple.

—Mr. Marion Taylor, of Rockawalkin, is the champion wing shot of Wicomico county, so he says. A few days ago, according to his own statement, Mr. Taylor, killed 83 birds without missing a single shot.

—Elder H. C. Ker, of Middletown, N. Y., is expected to preach in the O. S. Baptist Meeting House, Salisbury, next Sunday morning. On Tuesday evening following Elder P. C. Lester, of Virginia, will preach.

—At a recent meeting of the City Council, the tax rate for the year 1907 was fixed at 40 cents, a reduction of 5 cents as compared with the rate last year. The assessable basis has been increased $120,000 over that of 1906.

—Mr. N. T. Fitch returned from Harrisburg, Pa., Monday, after an absence of several days. Mr. Fitch does not contemplate leaving Salisbury for several months, probably a year, and will continue the practice of law in the News Building.

—The fire which occurred shortly before noon yesterday was an out building at the home of Mr. Henry Waller, on Camden avenue. The blaze was extinguished, however, before the arrival of the fire department and no damage was done.

—The meetings at the Division Street Baptist Church closed this week. There have been five baptisms and others will doubtless follow as a direct result of the special effort. In November Mr. Handy will assist in the revival services to be held in Cambridge.

Sweet potatoes are in demand by the canning factories and thousands of baskets of this vegetable are being canned in this county daily. Notwithstanding this great demand, hundreds of barrels are being shipped each day to the markets in the Northern cities.

—The installation of the Bible School teachers at the Division Street Baptist Church will take place tomorrow. During the school session the scholars will be committed into the care of the teachers and a charge given to both teachers and scholars by the pastor.

—The Camden District Republican Club has secured quarters over the storeroom of Jessie E. Guthrie and will be open every evening until after the election. Special meetings will be held each Monday evening. All Republicans are invited to attend these meetings.

—Captain W. F. Veasey, having been granted a leave of absence for several weeks, the steamer Virginia is in charge of Captain Edward Johnson, with Mr. Harry Malone as first officer. Captain and Mrs. Veasey and daughter, Louise, are visiting their married daughters.

—Mr. William E. Hitch, aged 69 years, died at his home about five miles from Salisbury last Tuesday. The funeral services were conducted Wednesday at the Union Church by Rev. Mr. Elliott and the interment was made in the family burying-ground on the home place.

—Mr. L. P. Coulbourn has purchased of Marion A. Humphreys and William S. Gordy, Jr., a lot on Water street, upon which he is erecting a large frame building for the purpose of making soap and tallow from the fat and refuse of the butcher shops and other places. Later on Mr. Coulbourn will add a cold storage warehouse. Mr. Coulbourn has also purchased of Mr. Benjamin H. Parker the house and lot on South Division street, opposite the hospital, the consideration being $2,500.00. He will add a front porch to the building and make other improvements.

—Mr. T. L. Moore, who left here 30 years ago, is here this week visiting friends. He was raised in Quantico, being a son of the late George Moore. He attended Home Coming Week in Baltimore, meeting many old friends. Mr. Moore is now in the mercantile business at Lexington, N. C.

—Mr. A. C. Turpin, wife and child, of Buffalo, N. Y., paid a visit to his mother and sister in Salisbury a few days the past week. They were en route to the Jamestown Exposition. Mr. Turpin is Traveling Freight and Passenger Agent for the Canadian District for the Rock Island and Frisco Railroad systems.

—Owing to the failure of the cake-walkers to put in an appearance a large number of people were disappointed at the skating rink last Tuesday evening. Mr. Showell announces that the same prizes will be awarded for the highest scores in bowling and duck pins next week that were offered this week.

—The recital and entertainment, which was to have been given this week at Princess Anne by Miss Jessie Rae Taylor, has been postponed, owing to the fact that many of the most prominent people of Princess Anne are at present out of town. It is expected that the recital will be given at a later date.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumford, of this city, moved to Baltimore last Monday. Mr. Mumford has for the past two or three years been the day clerk at the Peninsula Hotel. This position has been filled by the promotion of Mr. Thurman Mitchell, night clerk. Mr. Harry Gordy has taken the position of night clerk.

—Services at the Division Street Baptist Church, Rev. Kingman A. Handy, pastor. Sunday, Bible School, 9:45; Worship and Preaching, 11:00; Mission Bible School corner Main street and Delaware avenue, 2:30; Young People's meeting, 7:00; Preaching, 7:30. Wednesday, People's Service of Prayer and Praise, 7:45.

—The charge of fifteen cents in excess of the regular fare in cases where passengers had not purchased tickets, on the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, has been discontinued and the old system of giving the ten-cent drawback has been re-established. The drawback, however, must be redeemed within thirty days from the time it is issued.

—Attention is called to the advertisement of the American Typewriter Company on page two of this issue of THE COURIER. A $50.00 writing machine for $39.00 should be sufficient inducement to cause the twelve machines offered at that price to be quickly disposed of. Mr. N. B. Rich, representing the company, may be seen at the Peninsula Hotel during next week and will gladly demonstrate the machine to all who are interested.

Personal.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith are spending the week in Baltimore.

—Mrs. A. T. Rider, of Trenton, N. J., is the guest of Mrs. E. E. Jackson.

Come Look At Thoroughgood's Fine Clothes.

You'll see the finest clothes ever shown in Salisbury or as fine as are shown anywhere on earth, not high priced because they're fine. We don't know what high priced means. This clothing store is a treat to people who know what fine suits and fine overcoats are; it is worth coming miles and miles to see them. You'll see clothing that nobody else has; you'll see styles that nobody else has. We do not ask you to grant or accept anything—just want enough of your time to show you these suits, and try on a few of them. We know of no way so convincing. We have several hundred overcoats—just received every one of them, cut in the very newest styles. It is not Thoroughgood's business, perhaps, to tell you what you want, but it is my business to help you find it. I have an overcoat for you and you'll get the cream of the cream here and you get it at a right price—quality against quality and price against price. I will save money for you or I'll give you your money back.

Miss Pearl Young is visiting friends in Baltimore. Mr. and Mrs. James R. Willing were in Salisbury Saturday. Master Austin Bradshaw took a trip to Salisbury last Thursday. Mrs. Missie Evans spent Monday with her sister, Mrs. John Collier. Miss Leslie White returned Thursday from a pleasant visit to friends in Allen. Miss Ada Travers and Levin Walter were guests of Miss Grace Messick Sunday. Miss May Larmore, of Tyaskin, spent a few days this week with Miss Bernice Walter. Miss Grace and Iris Messick and Emma Price were guests of Miss Lottie Robertson Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Claude R. Willing are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter. Mrs. F. E. Bloxton and daughters, Pauline and Frances, spent Saturday at White Haven. Mrs. George Webster spent several days in Salisbury last week visiting her father, Mr. Davis. Mrs. Rufus Dashiell and Miss Edith, of Green Hill, were guests of Mrs. J. R. Travers Thursday. Mrs. Lucy Bounds and little son Roger, of Allen, spent several days last week with Mrs. B. F. White. Mrs. John S. Elliott, Misses Mamie and Iris and Master Marion Elliott spent last Thursday in Salisbury. Misses Lena and Ethel Willing, and Misses Carrie and Sadie Turner left Wednesday for a ten day trip to Norfolk and the Jamestown Exposition. Mrs. Mary Messick and little Mary Travers of Tyaskin, Mrs. Margaret Travers, Mrs. J. R. Travers and daughter, Virginia, spent Friday with Mrs. A. F. Turner. Miss Nora Moore, of Nanticoke, and Mr. Rufus Anderson, of Bivalve, were quietly married last Wednesday evening at the M. P. Parsonage by Rev. Dorsey Blake.

Tyaskin.

Mr. James Culver left for the Jamestown Exposition Wednesday of this week. Several Tyaskin people went to Baltimore Sunday evening to attend the home-coming week. Mr. Frank Insley, of Philadelphia, was in Tyaskin attending the funeral of his brother, Mr. S. S. Insley. A very sad death occurred in this town Tuesday. Mr. Simeons Insley died of typhoid fever. We sympathize with his family. His remains were interred at Tyaskin cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Bloxton.

Bass Are Real Cuts.

It is related for a fact that the reason bass jump—and it is common practice of the fish—is because they wish to acquire grace and strength in testing their ability against that of fishermen. Several men who say they know what they are talking about point out that bass do most of their jumping during the spring and are especially active just before the open season begins. At this time they may be seen doing long distance jumps, somersaults and side stepping. One bass expert goes so far as to say that he spent an entire afternoon watching a three pound bass dragging a long willow sapling through the water and acting as if it were caught on a hook. Leaping into the air, it would turn in a half circle as if to disgorge the barb, and then it would swim backward in an endeavor to snap the barb. This fisherman asserts that what jumping the bass do during the summer is merely to keep in practice and not get stale.—Philadelphia North American. His Big Score. IN MEMORIAM.

Many Kind Words By Friends Of The Late Misses Leonora And Mary Frances Humphreys.

"Lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in their death, they were not divided." These beautiful words of Holy Writ that come to us "echoing through the corridors of Time," were not truer of those royal princes whose obituary they form, than they are today of these dead sisters, these friends of ours, whose loss we deplore. They have spent a long lifetime in the most intimate companionship, sharing each other's joys and sorrows, until one scarcely spoke of them separately, their names were almost always linked together. Their unvarying devotion to each other, their mutual dependence were beautiful and unusual.

While for ourselves as a Society, and as individuals, we are grieved, heavy-hearted, over this loss to us of their beautiful example, their benign influence, we rejoice to know that they were parted but a few days, Heaven's gate was scarcely closed between them, and now they are safe.

"Where all parting, pain, and care, and Death and Time shall disappear." Our Society will sadly miss them in our work, their influence, their encouragement were greatly helpful; our beloved President has been unable to attend our meetings for many months, but we know that her heartfelt wishes for our prosperity must win for us Divine, help and guidance.

These ladies have been members of the Missionary Society since its organization, Miss Leonora has been its only Secretary, Miss Frances its dearly beloved and revered President for many years.

In less than a year, we have sustained a loss of four of our oldest, most devoted members. Let us hope that losing these links, the shortened chain may draw us more closely together, and may those who succeed to these responsible offices, feel that they must give their best effort, their unflinching devotion to the work. May God give his needed help! A. N. B.

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Heavenly Father, "who doeth all things well," to remove from our midst our esteemed friends and sisters, Miss Mary Frances Humphreys and Miss Leonora Humphreys, faithful officers of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Wicomico Presbyterian Church, its president and secretary, and as members of this Society, realize that we have lost two honored and beloved co-workers and that their presence and faithful counsels will be sadly missed, be it,

Resolved, That we express our deep sorrow for the loss we have sustained personally, and as members of the Missionary Society, we also record our high appreciation of their worth, and consistent Christian character; of their faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices during the many years of love and service they gave to the Society, and to the Church so dear to their hearts.

Resolved, That as they lived lives of usefulness in the Church and the community, were ever ready to aid in works of charity and reform, did all in their power to extend the missionary cause at home and abroad, they have left us a rich legacy in the remembrance of their service, and an example of the fidelity to Christian principles.

Resolved, That our most sincere sympathy be extended to the bereaved members of the family and that we send a copy of these resolutions to the Humphreys' family and to the town papers for publication.

By Order of the Committee.

Miss Mary Frances Humphreys was one of the most beautiful ladies who was ever raised in Salisbury; that personal beauty as all other material things, gradually faded; not so the lovely noble character which adorned her whole life, and which was never tarnished by one unkind word or undeserved insinuation. Her character shone on and on, brighter and brighter through her long life, until it has bloomed out into perfection in her Heavenly Father's Kingdom, where she is enjoying a re-union with other blessed ones who have passed on before, and reaping the reward, promised to all who like her have kept the faith and lead such a consistent Christian life. She is wearing a crown sparkling with many stars, and is enjoying that well deserved praise of "Well done, good and faithful servant."

This tribute from an old friend.

Republican Candidates For County Commissioners.

BENJAMIN H. CORDREY

JOSEPH P. COOPER

WILLIAM G. DENNIS

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS ON THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

The Three Men Nominated Have The Ability To Successfully Fulfill The Responsible Duties Of This Very Important Office.

The candidates upon the Republican ticket for County Commissioners are men, each of whom has made a success in the management of his own business affairs and this success is a practical demonstration of the fact that they can, just as successfully, manage the affairs of the county. Each of these candidates has pledged himself to the county platform of the Republican party, and in this platform are planks which stand for a better public school system—a system by which the district schools will be kept open for the full term of nine months as required by law, and that the salaries of the teachers shall be, at least, increased to that which they formerly received.

These men have pledged themselves to build the roads which have been promised to the people of this county for year after year by the Democratic Commissioners. They have guaranteed to the people of Trappe district that at the earliest opportunity the long promised bridge across Tony Tank Creek will be built.

A brief sketch of the lives of the candidates follows:

Mr. Benjamin H. Cordrey, of near Salisbury, was born in Sussex county, Delaware, in 1846. When he was a young man his parents, Spencer M. and Patey H. Cordrey moved into this county and Mr. Cordrey has lived in this neighborhood ever since that time. He was educated in the public schools of Delaware and Maryland. His life has been spent on the farm. He has always shown an interest in county affairs and was chosen by the Republicans because of his recognized ability to fulfill the duties of the office.

Mr. Joseph P. Cooper, of Sharptown, is a native of that town. He is closely identified with the best interests of the town and is one of its most substantial citizens. He is broad and progressive in his business methods which are based upon the principles of justice and integrity. He has a fine business education and is eminently qualified, by attainment and experience, to fill the position of County Commissioner. He is not a politician and did not seek the nomination, but was solicited by his friends, by reason of his high social and business standing and not from political affiliations of or preference. He is a trained business man and has grown up in the business by which he has won the confidence and esteem of the people and upon these is based his nomination.

He is secretary and treasurer of the Sharptown Marine Railway Company, a member of the firm of S. J. Cooper & Co., managing owner of several large ocean schooners and connected with other business and social interests of the town. All these interests have prospered in his hand and he has shown much ability in all the business affairs in which he has been connected. He comes before the people with a splendid record and any voter who desires good business methods to govern the affairs of the county can make no mistake in voting for Joseph P. Cooper for County Commissioner.

Mr. William G. Dennis was born near Pittsville in the early sixties. His parents were Levin and Harriett Dennis. He attended the public schools and later began farming with his father. He has ever been a prosperous farmer and business man and has made a careful study of the financial problems in Wicomico county. Mr. Dennis is well known in the county and it is general belief that he will prove himself to be an exceptionally strong candidate.

AN HONEST ENDEAVOR TO PREVENT BRIBERY.

Representative Citizens Arrange For Big Public Meeting In The Court House Tuesday—Will Organize To Enforce Law.

The following call for a public meeting of all voters of Wicomico county, Maryland, irrespective of party affiliations was issued yesterday:

WHEREAS, the corrupt use of money has prevailed in political contests for several years past to such an extent as to bring reproach to the fair name of Wicomico County and to the Eastern Shore of Maryland; and

WHEREAS, agreements have been entered into by the State Central Committees of the Democratic and Republican parties in many of the counties of the Eastern Shore, pledging their respective parties to refrain from the corrupt use of money at the coming election; and

WHEREAS, the nominees of the Democratic and Republican parties of Wicomico county, together with the members of the State Central Committees of the said parties have entered into an agreement, pledging themselves personally, as well as all responsible persons of their respective parties to refrain from the corrupt use of money, or from giving or promising any thing of value to any person, before, at, or after the coming election to induce any person to vote for or to refrain from voting for any person at the coming election; and

WHEREAS, we, the undersigned voters of Wicomico County, irrespective of party affiliations, heartily endorse the movement to put a stop to corruption in elections as has heretofore existed.

Now, therefore, we, the undersigned voters of Wicomico County, Maryland, do hereby call upon all good citizens of the whole county, irrespective of party affiliations, to assemble at Salisbury, in the Court House, on Tuesday, Oct. 29th., at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of endorsing and ratifying the agreement entered into between the representatives of the said political parties, and of forming such organization as may seem most advantageous for the enforcement of the law against bribery and the promotion of good citizenship.

A Conundrum Answered.

Months ago a New York paper started a sensation by asking "What is a Democrat?" The answers came from all parts of the country, but none of them was accepted as final and conclusive. Now Mr. Bryan explains that "Nine-tenths of the Republicans are Democrats, but don't know it." Thus the answer to the conundrum is that a Democrat is simply a Republican. This is a remarkable shifting and Bryan is to be given the credit for originality. But where are the Democrats?

CAPTAIN JACK CRAWFORD AT THE MASONIC TEMPLE.

Only A Medium Sized Audience Took Advantage Of The Post-Scout's Entertainment—First Number Of Lecture Course.

Captain Jack Crawford, the Post Scout, met a very enthusiastic and appreciative audience at the Masonic Temple Thursday night, whom he entertained in his unique manner.

His rendering of original poems was certainly one of the best things that the people of Salisbury have ever heard. His short descriptions of his life in the West were intensely realistic, and his reminiscences of childhood were both pathetic and laughter-provoking. In imagination, those who heard him last night will hear him again as he described his experience at the telephone.

He has promised to return to our city, and it may be the pleasure of the town to hear him again during the season. His recital of "When a Bit of Sunshine Hits Ye" and "Whar the Hand o' God is Seen" are not likely to be soon forgotten.

Imagine if you can, one who has been trained in the Wild West, in the same picturesque costume worn on three fields of battle, reciting the poems given below, and you will have a little conception of the pleasure of those who heard him Thursday evening.

"When a bit of sunshine hits ye' after passin' of a cloud,

An' a fit of laughter gits ye' an' yer spine is feelin' proud,

Don't forget to up an' fling it at a soul that's feelin' blue

For the munit that ye sling it, it's a boomerang to you."

"Do I like the city, stranger? Tisn't likely that I would;

'Tisn't likely that a ranger from the border ever could

Git accustomed to the flurry, an' the loud unearthy noise

Everybody in a hurry, men an' wimmen, gals and boys,

All a rushin' like the nation 'mid the rumble an' the jar,

Jes' as if their souls' salvation 'pended on their gettin' thar."

Like it? No. I love to wander

'Mid the vales an' mountains green,

In the border land out yonder,

Whar the hand o' God is seen."

A New Modern Warehouse.

The recent installation of three conveying elevators at the new warehouse of B. L. Gillis & Son makes this building, perhaps, the best equipped storage on the Peninsula, south of Wilmington. There are two bucket conveyors for unloading grain, etc., that may be used either to unload from a wagon or car. These elevators can accomplish in one day, with two men, what it would ordinarily take four men two days to do. The package elevator is larger and is used for unloading cars. By its use two men can unload a car of sugar or flour in three hours and distribute it in the warehouse.

The mechanism was installed by Messrs. F. A. Grier & Son at a cost of nearly $1500.00. It is operated by a seven horse-power Pooos gasoline engine. One of these conveyors has also been installed in the warehouse of Turner Brothers Company.

McCLURE'S FOR NOVEMBER.

Political Conditions Which Every Citizen Should Know Fully Explained—A Feast of Fiction.

In their November issue the editors of McClure's have more than justified the recent raise in the price of the magazine.

George Kennan's article on criminal government should arouse the public conscience. It tells of conditions which every citizen of this democracy should know—how a gang of criminals in municipal control, fostered vice as a money-making scheme, debauching the social and business life of a great city, beginning with prominent and respectable citizens, from whom bribes were exacted, and ending with the street children who dropped a penny in the slot and saw indescribable, vicious pictures licensed by the "robber government."

The pique of curiosity of the unknown names is given in Harris Merton Lyon's "The Father," which is a forecast of great things in the future. Ada Melvin's "A Holiday" is one of those popular stories of the commonplace life of commonplace people, taken at flood tide.

Stemmons S. Inasley.

Stemmons S. Inasley, died at his home in Tyaskin, Sunday, October 13, 1907, of typhoid fever. Age 37 years. He leaves a widow and two children, parents, one brother and three sisters to mourn his loss.

Funeral services were conducted at Tyaskin M. E. Church, by Rev. F. R. Bloxton, and his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery adjoining, by the solemn rites of Redmanship, where his soul takes flight from the Hunting Grounds below to the Happy Hunting Grounds above.

On the regular sleep of the 14th sun, Travelling moon G. S. D. 416, the following resolutions of respect were adopted by Nanticoke Tribe No. 87, Improved Order of Red Men.

WHEREAS, on the 13th sun Travelling moon G. S. D. 416 (October 13, 1907) the Great Spirit saw fit to remove from our midst, to the Happy Hunting Grounds above, our beloved Brother Stemmons S. Inasley.

WHEREAS, while we bow to the wisdom of the Great Spirit in whom we trust, nothing doubting, knowing that he doeth all things well, yet we cannot but grieve and mourn the loss of the Brother we have lost.

WHEREAS, it is fitting that Nanticoke Tribe should express in some measure our feeling of loss, and bereavement, caused by the death of Brother Stemmons S. Inasley. Therefore be it,

Resolved, first, that Nanticoke Tribe No. 87 Improved Order of Red Men, in council assembled express its sorrow at his departure from the Hunting Grounds below to the Happy Hunting Grounds above.

Second, that to the bereaved family of the deceased, in this dark hour of trouble, we extend our deepest sympathy and ask the Great Spirit to protect and care for the widow and little ones in this their hour of trouble and bereavement.

Resolved, that the community, wherein he lived has lost a good citizen, the family a kind husband and father, and we as Red Men lament the loss of a Brother who upheld the interests of our Order and also its principles of Freedom, Friendship and Charity.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the widow, one to the minister and to two of the county papers for publication.

QUESTIONING CANDIDATES.

Maryland League Proposes To Publish Replies Of Candidates For Information Of Voters.

The Anti-Saloon League of Maryland proposes to allow every county in Maryland to become "dry," if its voters so desire. Ten counties are already free from saloons, and two others have saloons in only one place, while in many portions of still others no licenses may be issued.

The League proposes to have introduced in the next legislature a bill that will allow the remaining counties, or parts of same, to vote directly upon the question whether their saloons shall or shall not be closed, whenever 25 per cent of the voters shall petition for a vote. The League says that this is a right which belongs to the people and is not tasked as a favor, and that the people have a right to know whether the men who are seeking to go the legislature will support this kind of a proposition, and, with that in view, has sent a letter to every candidate for both Houses of the legislature, asking them the following questions:

- 1. Do you believe that the other counties or divisions of the same, and cities or portions of cities, should also be allowed to determine by vote whether their saloons shall be closed? 2. Will you support and vote for a measure which gives the people of these counties, or portions of same, and cities or parts of cities, the right to vote upon the question of closing saloons, and makes such vote effective and binding? The Superintendent of the League, Mr. William H. Anderson, has announced that when the replies are in, he will send to the newspapers of the state, to all the pastors of the state, and the members of various church committees, a bulletin showing the reply of each man; and if no reply has been received, that fact will be stated.

Executor's Sale OF VALUABLE Timber and Real Estate

To Close The Estate of the late Andrew J. Horsey, Deceased.

The following property belonging to the late Andrew J. Horsey, deceased, situated near Quantico, Wicomico County, Maryland, will be sold at the Court House in Salisbury,

Saturday, November 23, 1907 At 2 o'clock, P. M.

No. 1—All that tract of timber situated on the Southern side of "The Dennis Farm," estimated quantity of lumber 1,500,000 feet.

No. 2—All that tract of Lumber situated on the North side of "The Dennis Farm" on Peter's Creek, estimated to be 1,000,000 feet.

No. 3—All that tract of Timber, including the land, one hundred acres more or less, known as the "Hay Point" Tract, estimated quantity of lumber 1,200,000 feet.

No. 4—All that tract of land and Timber, containing ninety acres more or less, estimated quantity of Lumber 500,000 feet.

No. 5—All that Timber on the tract of land known as the "White" tract, above six inch stumpage, estimated quantity of Lumber 400,000 feet.

No. 6—All of that tract of land known as the "White Land" and partly underlying tract of Timber No. 5, reserving the right of the purchaser to remove said timber on or before the first day of December, 1910.

The "Dennis Farm" will be sold in three tracts.

No. 1—Being all that land lying on the North side of the County Road leading from Quantico to Wetpquin, containing 38 3/4 acres, more or less, and lying on Quantico Creek, with three sets of Farm Dwellings with Outbuildings in good repair. Reserving the Timber thereon and the right to remove it on or before the first day of December, 1910.

No. 2—Being all that tract of cleared land situated on the South side of said farm, lying between the road leading from Quantico to Wetpquin and the county road formerly called Gale's Lane and adjoining Tract No. 1 and the piece of Timber No. 2, excepting the piece of cleared land of twenty acres, more or less, lying on the East side of the piece of Timber or tract called No. 2, adjoining the Owens land, containing one hundred and forty acres, more or less, with Dwelling and Outbuildings.

No. 3—All that tract of land underlying that piece of Timber designated as Tract of Timber No. 2, and adjoining Tract No. 2 of cleared land; also the small piece of cleared land adjoining, reserving the timber thereon and the right to remove the same on or before December 1st, 1910, containing one hundred and fifty acres, more or less.

It is conceded that the "Dennis Farm" is one of the finest farms in the State of Maryland. Very productive for any kind of crops. In high state of cultivation and now yielding a handsome income.

TERMS OF SALE—For the Timber, one-half cash, balance secured subject to the approval of the Executor. For the Real Estate, one-fourth cash, balance to suit purchaser.

THOS. C. HORSEY, Executor.

THE Salisbury Building & Loan and Banking ASSOCIATION

This Association has two separate and distinct departments: "The Building & Loan Department" and "The Banking Department."

The Building & Loan Department, with its paid-up capital stock of $14,500.00, makes loans secured by mortgages, to be paid back in weekly installments of $30, $40, $50, $1.00 or $2.00 per week, to suit borrower; and has been doing a popular and successful business since 1907.

The Banking Department was added in 1902 under authority granted by the General Assembly of Maryland of that year, to set apart $25,000.00 of the Association's capital stock for banking purposes, receives money on deposits, makes loans on commercial paper, enters into such business transactions as conservative banks ordinarily do, and earnestly solicits the patronage of its friends and the general public. MAKE THIS ACCORDING TO THE DIRECTIONS.

Prepare This Simple Mixture At Home By Shaking Ingredients Well In A Bottle.

What will appear very interesting to many people here is the article taken from a New York daily paper, giving a simple prescription, as formulated by a noted authority, who claims that he has found a positive remedy to cure almost any case of backache or kidney or bladder derangement, in the following simple prescription, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well-known druggist here at home, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and could be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up if asked to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic afflictions with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those of our readers who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Increasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

J. D. Coulbourn, farmer, living two miles out from Salisbury, Md., says: "My first attack of kidney complaint was in 1899. I was laid up three weeks at that time. I seemed to recover and was able to be around. I had two more attacks when it settled down to a regular daily backache and misery through my loins, limbs, joints and muscles. I do not think I was wholly free from pain one moment during that four years. It was as bad at night as during the day. I doctored, and I think used every known remedy for kidney trouble, at least everyone that I heard of. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I got them at White & Leonard's drug store. The first box gave me so much relief that I kept on taking them, using in all several boxes. They cured me and the cure was a lasting one as not a vestige of the trouble has ever returned. I made a statement for publication in 1903 endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills, and it gives me great pleasure at this time, May 11, 1907, to reiterate all that I said in my former statement." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

QUINTET'S LONG WALK.

Baltimore Singers Will Travel 4,500 Miles on $3,000 Wager.

The Midnight Sun Quintet, composed of five young men who have started on a wager to walk from Baltimore to Seattle, Wash., arrived in Washington recently for a brief stay. The walkers left Baltimore penniless, one of the agreements in their wager being that they shall earn every cent they spend on the way by singing.

If the quintet reaches Seattle in fifteen months $3,000 will be the reward, says the Washington Post. One of the drawbacks in the journey across the continent is the fact that the singers are obliged to drag along a good sized push cart.

"We will take the southern route," said their leader, "so as to avoid the cold. We will strike out through West Virginia and Kentucky, down through Arkansas to Texas, through New Mexico and Arizona to southern California and thence up the coast to Seattle. We expect to arrive there before the opening of the Alaska, Yukon and Pacific fair."

By this route they will cover a distance of about 4,500 miles. This means that they must average about fifteen miles a day.

The quintet is composed of Hall A. Butler, manager; W. A. Saunders, musical director; W. B. Corbin, T. T. Hamilton and Clifford Gill.

Dear Sir: Such experiences as this are occurring all over the country.

Judge I. D. Fairchild owns two houses, exactly alike, in Lufkin, Texas. J. M. Torrence, painted both houses, one Devoe, 15 1/2 gallons; the other with another paint sold at same price: 25 gallons. That 25 gallon paint is weak and 15 per cent whiting; that's why it took 9 1/2 gallons more.

The Worth of His Money.

Not seldom in highland districts the attendance at church during unpropitious weather is but scanty. One minister, finding himself on a boisterous Sunday confronted with but one solitary auditor, who happened to be a gruff, outspoken character, took him into his confidence, with a view to propitiate him. "Will I go on with the sermon, John?" John answered gruffly, "Of course." Getting into the pulpit and leaning over it, he asked, "Will I give you the Gaelic sermon or the English one?" "Gie's bath, Ye're weel paid for 't," said John, more gruffly still.—Dundee Advertiser.

The Weak And Illogical Reply Of The Wicomico News.

The Wicomico News in an extended and labored editorial of September 25th answered, or attempted to answer, the eight reasons set forth in THE COURIER the week before why many Democrats of this county would this year vote the Republican ticket. We regret exceedingly that the editorial appeared during the first week of Court, at a period when our time was entirely occupied with legal work, and when it was utterly impossible to make any attempt whatever at answering it. Our friends of The News really struggled so exceedingly hard to convince the people of this county that there was absolutely nothing in a single one of the eight reasons which were given and the utter absurdity of some of the answers was so fearfully apparent, that we were exceptionally anxious to reply to the editorial in detail, but it has been impossible to do so up to this time.

In the first place, we hereby demand that The News produce a list of those Republicans to whom our reply of the challenges of The News of the week before was a "sore disappointment." True, we are perfectly willing to admit that we would be almost more than angelic if we were able to frame a reply for any party comprising thousands of people that would be entirely satisfactory to the whole number, and we would be ready to leave this troublesome world for more perfect and delightful fields of mental activity. But at the same time, it would be decidedly edifying and pleasantly reassuring to know the names of these dissatisfied Republicans, and we now promise our friends of The News that we will address to the gentlemen in question, an open letter giving them the free and unlimited use of our columns for the purpose of making an ample and extended reply for themselves to the challenges which they made. It would be only just to them and might enliven the campaign. Most of our Republican friends, for whose opinion we care, were very kind in the complimentary references to our editorial and we will be delighted to know those who differed with us. Now drop your inuendos and glittering generalities and GIVE US NAMES.

But let us look for a few moments at the answers which were made to the eight reasons which we assigned, and which our Brothers have technically called counts. Our friends must have had in mind an indictment, which is composed of counts—one of those legal documents drawn up by prosecuting attorneys upon the official action of grand juries against suspected people, which suspected persons are known as criminals, if the indictment is sustained and the party convicted. Good. The idea was a most excellent and appropriate one. We will adopt the designation. And now as to the first one.

COUNT No. 1—"The Republican ticket in general is, we believe, a strong one, and composed of representative men well fitted to discharge the duties of the office for which they have been nominated."

As this was not answered in any way, we will as to that take a de-creed pro confesso, and consider, as in law we have a right to consider, that they have admitted the allegations which we made and have no denial to enter. So much, therefore, for the first count of the indictment.

COUNT No. 2—"The Democratic party has shown a total lack of progressiveness along every line of public duty and has nothing to show for forty years' control of the county."

For nearly three-quarters of a column we were told by our brothers what had been actually accomplished in Wicomico from a public standpoint. "They have erected a Court House." True. Is there any other county in Maryland or in any other county throughout the United States which has not? The building of a Court House is as essential for a county as the installation of a printing press for a newspaper office, and we were attempting to use some little common sense as well as reasonable logic in our reply to the former challenges of The News.

"They have built nearly one hundred school houses," at perhaps an average cost of $200.00 or $300.00 for the ordinary specimens along the County Road. They may be sufficient, and we do not know that they are not, but we do know that they have very apparently no more than barely discharged their public duty along this line, and outside of those in Salisbury, are certainly neither from a monetary or architectural standpoint very unduring monuments to the efficiency of Democratic government. The only one which is specially creditable to the authorities is the new Wicomico High School building, and that is bonded for $20,000.00. "They have built roads." True. This is one of the principal functions of local government, and apart from the few shell roads in the vicinity of Salisbury, the roads in general which they have built are, as we have stated before, an absolute disgrace to the county. As to those immediately surrounding the City of Salisbury, they have not been constructed by the county, but by private individuals, to the cost of which the county has contributed about one-third ONLY. Hardly a very brilliant record along this, the most important line of public duty!

But we are informed that they have built up a system of public offices. In what respect is it different from any other system throughout the State, unless it be in the peculiarly close manner in which it is conducted, or in the brazenness by which, year after year the same old Court House clique controls it? We had always supposed that government carried with it the necessity of providing offices and public officials to carry forward the governmental work. Is Wicomico different in this system of local government from any one of the other twenty-two counties in Maryland? Has it built any better system of public offices? Has not the county a Senator, Members of the House, Clerk of the Court and all other local officials just as any other county, and do they not conform to the constitution of the State just as the others do? Then what is the meaning of this contemptible rubbish about the "best public system of public offices in the State"?

"Built ferries," has it? When rivers are to be crossed and the county has not sufficient funds with which to build bridges, they usually fall back on ferries, and this is about what has been done in this instance. There is not a ferry-boat, or scow, in the county that probably could not be rebuilt for $150.00 to $200.00, and as there are only four or five, the county has today something like the startling and enormous sum of $1000.00 invested. But wait! Somerset and Dorchester own about half of the all referred to, so that this heavy financial investment must be divided between all three. Wonderful showing! We could take an insignificant part of any one of the numerous defunct and worthless judgments against defaulting tax collectors and replace the whole lot.

We respectfully submit that there was absolutely nothing in any of the answers of The News to the statement that there was nothing to show for forty years' control of the county, and as to the tax rate, there were a number of counties last year with lower rates than Wicomico.

COUNT No. 3—"The local authorities failed to take advantage of the Schumaker Act and lost a golden opportunity for improving the roads of this county, a vital mistake in local government, which showed the utter disregard by the Democrats of the people's interests."

As events have since shown it is really fortunate that we were too busy at the time of the publication of the editorial referred to to make a reply, as a most comprehensive answer has since been framed by the County Commissioners themselves, and they have conclusively proven our contention. In last week's issue of our esteemed contemporary, in a front page article, the startling information was given to the public that the County Commissioners were now, now mark you,—in the midst of a heated campaign—were NOW going to take advantage of this self same Schumaker Act in building a road to Quantico,—this same law, if you please, about which only four short weeks ago, The News said: "The Commissioners do not believe in this extravagant policy." What pray tell has suddenly come over the dreams of Wicomico Democracy? The Wicomico News four weeks ago was either toying with facts loaded with dynamite and wilfully misleading in its answer to us, or the County Commissioners are now pursuing a reckless policy of utter extravagance.

If the Schumaker Act is a good thing NOW, on the very eve of the election, and worth taking advantage of, how is it that it was such a damnable affair only four weeks ago? The whole size of it is, the County Commissioners are in this matter, as in the river road project, playing politics and acting for political effect only. This has been their stock in trade for years, and during every campaign, with a flourish of trumpets many startling things are announced to take place which, however, never happen after the election. The County Commissioners failed along the line of good roads, one of the most important public duties which can devolve upon those officials, and their show of activity AT THIS TIME is an absolute confession of the charge which we made against them.

COUNT No. 4—"By the reduction of the salaries of the school teachers and by the closing of small district schools long before the end of the scholastic year, the party has shown itself out of sympathy with public education."

We imagine that our Brothers Brewington were the ones who patted themselves upon the back after they had written that wonderful and highly edifying paragraph in reply to the above charge—especially after they had made that master stroke in heavy black type, that as to the school teachers, the average salary is now $329.00 whereas it was $246.35 under the administration of Governor Lowndes. Have the Democrats so soon forgotten that Governor Lowndes took the helm of the state in 1895 when the national administration was under the control of President Cleveland, and at a time when there was widespread and universal depression throughout the entire country, owing to the disastrous national policies which had been inaugurated by the Democratic party. School conditions, however, changed rapidly for the better during Governor Lowndes' whole administration. The people of Maryland obtained what they had been longing for years, A FREE SCHOOL BOOK SYSTEM, provided for by the Republican party, and while the movement toward better school facilities inaugurated under that administration continued after the Democrats assumed control, the progress, as we shall show later, was not in proportion to that displayed when the Republicans were in charge of State affairs.

The average assessable basis during Governor Lowndes' administration was $598,225.936.00, while the average yearly revenue for school purposes was less than $700,000.00, ten and one-half cents on the hundred dollars a part of the time, and twelve and one-half on the hundred dollars during another portion of his administration, being allowed for the school system. Last year, the assessed values of Maryland were $715,338,656.00 and the total State revenues for school purposes 1,238,192.24. On this basis of increase, if the Democrats had shown the same interest in the school system as the Republicans did under their administration, the average yearly salary for school teachers would now be $422.28 instead of $329.00, and the schools could be continued for ten months if desired. How easy is it, therefore, to juggle with figures, if only half the truth is told!

But we are also informed that twelve years ago that there were only 83 teachers in the county and now there are 100. From the record of scholars it appears that 83 teachers were all that were then required to properly handle the number of scholars then attending the public schools, while the increase in the number of scholars now require 100. From this positively brilliant line of argument we presume that as the Democrats twelve years before that time only had about 70 teachers in the county, that they were fearfully and extremely derelict in their public duty because they THEN failed to provide 83 teachers when only 70 were required. A beautiful specimen of masterly logic on the part of our esteemed contemporary!

But apart from this, they never touched the essential charge in count four, in reply to our direct challenge. They HAVE CLOSED the small district schools long before the end of the scholastic year. They do not deny it, and their only reason is that the average attendance "fell below the legal requirement." Who made this required standard? The Wicomico School Commissioners themselves. And since when was the education of scholars in the rural districts less important to the parents and to the public, because there happened to be a fewer number in attendance? The people of this county are right in demanding that all children shall be treated fairly, and that the same advantages which are extended to one, shall be given to ALL.

COUNT No. 5—"Because the County Commissioners have constantly and persistently and wilfully refused to provide sufficient funds for school purposes."

The revenues of Wicomico county, we are told, will aggregate $67,000.00 and that about twenty-eight per cent. of this amount was levied for school purposes of the county. A plea of confession and avoidance. They do not deny that the County Superintendent and the School Board, of which our Brother H. L. Brewington is a member, repeatedly requested the County Commissioners for more funds on the ground that it was utterly impossible to properly provide for the education of the children with the funds now in their hands. They make no denial and their only attempt is to beg off the issue and dodge the responsibility.

We want, and on behalf of the public, demand, that sufficient funds be provided for ALL the schools—yes, white and colored,—and that they shall ALL be kept open the same length of time and that the teachers shall be paid a salary commensurate with the taxing, trying and technical duties which are imposed upon them. Either the County Superintendent and the School Board are not, even upon their own showing and for their own purposes, obtaining sufficient funds for the school system, or they made a WRONGFUL AND IMPROPER DEMAND upon the County Commissioners when they asked for the increase during the year which was denied them.

But let us see what some of the Republican counties do for the school system under their charge: Allegany gives twenty-eight and one-third per cent. of its total revenue for this purpose, Garrett over thirty-one per cent., and Washington more than forty-one per cent.; a most excellent showing in favor of Republican rule.

COUNT No. 6—"Because the dockets of Wicomico county are covered with suits against numerous tax collectors who refused to make settlement, and because it was necessary to bring these suits before proper adjustments could be made."

Of all the absurd arguments advanced by The News, the reply to this eighth reason is by far the most nonsensical. We are told that as a lawyer we ought to know that under the law it is necessary for Commissioners to enter up judgments against the tax collectors in arrears. It is not necessary to be a lawyer to have common sense enough to know that if the tax collectors had properly discharged their official duties the Commissioners would have had no standing in Court, and my brothers of The News, and particularly the Senator, who has been a law maker himself for eight years, knows there is no law on the Statute Books of the State of Maryland requiring the County Commissioners, or anybody else, to sue any person or a set of persons who has or have performed his or their duty under the law, and no judgment could be entered against any man FROM WHOM NOTHING WAS DUE. We repeat and emphasize the deplorable fact, that the dockets of Wicomico county are covered—and we can give names if desired—against defaulting tax collectors, with numerous judgments for thousands and thousands of dollars, every one of which is a standing and disgraceful monument to the inefficiency of the collectors and practically their malfeasance in office. More than that, the records of the County Commissioners show thousands and thousands of dollars charged off to "insolvencies" which is but another way of saying that the tax collectors have been given official credit for thousands of dollars which ought to have been collected, and for which they ought to have been sued and judgments obtained against them and their bondmen. In other words, the county itself has not only made no attempt to collect all of this money charged off in this way, but have given their official sanction to the abominable inefficiency of the collectors themselves. The lands against which these taxes were levied could have been sold for the taxes, if they had been proceeded against in the proper way during the time allowed by law, which is ample, and the County would never have lost a single cent. It is simply a case of gross inefficiency and non-performance of public duty, and if the money charged off in this way to "insolvencies" and represented by uncollected judgments against defaulting tax collectors had been regularly collected, we would today have a surplus in the treasury, and bonds to the extent of $20,000.00 would not now be outstanding against the county, on account of the Wicomico High School Building. And yet this count, the most serious one against the Democrats of Wicomico county, involving malfeasance in office, waste of public funds, gross incompetence and neglect of duty—a damnable record—is jauntily dismissed by The News with costs "to the plaintiff." We misjudge this year the temper of Wicomico voters if they are ready and willing to tolerate such utter flippancy on the part of The News in dealing with the most serious and dangerous issue which has been presented to the people of Wicomico for many years.

COUNT No. 7—"Because of the failure of the Board of County Commissioners to carry out the agreement made with the people along the line of the proposed Shad Point Road. Years ago the county officials made a solemn agreement that if the people interested would grade the road they would build the necessary bridge across the creek, which agreement has been openly and flagrantly violated, and the rights of these people totally disregarded and ignored."

"Another case," say our friends of The News, of "trying to fool the people." Hasn't that the ring of The News? For unadulterated brass and consummate effrontery the answer to this count is the most striking. Year after year this road has been promised to the people along the Wicomico River who are vitally and financially interested in the project. The citizens have long since performed their part of the agreement and have actually spent hundreds of dollars from their own private means for this improvement, and notwithstanding this fact the Commissioners have constantly and persistently refused to complete the road by building the neces-

Vessey and wife and daughter, Louise, Mr. and Mrs. R. McKenney Price, Miss Frances Price and Miss Margaret Disharoon, and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Williams and son, Everett.

—The Circuit Court convened Thursday to take up the trial of Edward Dashiell and Ernest Robbins, the two negroes who were held by the Grand Jury for the murder of Bruce Parnell. Owing to the absence of Judge Lloyd and the fact that the prisoners elected to be tried before the Court, rather than by jury, the case was postponed until November 26th. A few other cases were brought before the Court, after which the jury was discharged and the docket closed.

—The new gasoline boat "G. E. M." recently built by Mr. Thomas H. Mitchell, was launched yesterday morning in the Wicomico river. She is 45 feet long with a 7 foot beam and is equipped with a 35 horse power Trebert gasoline engine. It is calculated that the "G. E. M." will have a speed of about 15 miles per hour. This will make her the fastest boat on the river. She is handsomely finished, her roomy cabin being finished in mahogany, and presents the best appearance of any boat in the county.

—Mr. Ebenezer Carey died at his home in South Salisbury at 6 p. m. Monday, aged 62 years. The cause of his death was pneumonia. Deceased is survived by a widow and three children — Mrs. Daniel Dennis, of Nutters district, Mr. John W. Carey, of Philadelphia, Mr. Arley W. Carey and Mr. Willis Carey, of Salisbury. Deceased was for several years a well known farmer of Nutters district, but two years ago he sold his farm and moved to Salisbury. He was a brother of Mr. S. H. Carey, of Salisbury.

—The officials of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway, and the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway Companies made their annual tour of inspection of both systems Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The special train in which the officials traveled was in charge of Superintendent W. U. Polk, Division Passenger Agent I. E. Jones, and Train Dispatcher George Sharpley. It is said that a number of improvements were practically decided upon which are to be made during the coming year. Caterer R. Harry Phillips, of the Peninsula Hotel furnished the meals and several elaborate menus were served.

COUNTY.

White Haven.

Mrs. James Denson is on the sick list this week.

Mr. A. T. Dashiell spent Sunday in Salisbury.

Mrs. John Phillips and son, Stanley, left Monday for Jamestown.

Mr. W. W. Larmore made a flying trip to Baltimore this week.

Miss Annie White, of Deep Branch, is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. Travers this week.

Mrs. E. C. Robertson has just returned from the city with a full line of millinery.

Quite a number of our folks were in Baltimore last week for the Home-Coming.

Mr. S. F. Jackson, of Hebron, is spending a few days at the home of Mr. F. L. Denson.

Miss Mattie Jones, of Mt. Vernon, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Dashiell.

Miss Emma Travers and Mrs. Ira Dolbey are visiting friends and relatives in Salisbury.

Miss Hattie Dashiell and Etha Jones were the guests of Mrs. A. Covington Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. W. A. Anderson and Miss Lola Larmore are spending some time in Baltimore and Oxford.

Dr. William Catlin spent Thursday with his son, William, Jr., who is at tending St. John's College.

Mrs. W. K. Leatherbury and Mrs. John Messick are the guests of Mrs. J. E. Leatherbury at this writing.

Miss Pearl Catlin and Mr. Harry Bradshaw were the guests of Miss Hattie Dashiell Thursday evening.

Messrs. Grover Layfield, Oscar Ryall and Harvey Kenny were the guests of Mrs. A. Covington Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Leatherbury left yesterday for Baltimore where she will spend a week and return with a full line of Fall millinery.

Miss Lula Dolbey who is attending school in Salisbury, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dolbey of this town.

Protracted meetings, which have been in progress here for the past two weeks, proved to be quite a success due to the untiring efforts of the evangelist, Rev. Jao. Clark, of Delmar. Mr. Clark, through his amiability, has won many warm friends in this town.

Tyaskin.

Messrs. Larmore and Riall have opened a new oyster house here.

Mr. Lewis Fisher and Mrs. John Anderson are on the sick list this week.

Capt. Robert Fisher has arrived with 1000 bushels of sweet potatoes for the Tyaskin Packing Company.

The weather is getting cold and there is not much wood in the village. It can not be bought even at $5.00 per cord.

Bethard & Dashiell are improving their shirt factory by building it 12 feet larger for the purpose of installing more machines.

The Shellfish Commission is here surveying the Nanticoke river. The majority of the people think it is of no account, only for a political trick.

We had quite a little bit of fun here Wednesday in a horse race between the Denson boys. Mr. B. W. Denson with his horse Roy, and Eldridge Denson with his little gray mare. They both thought they could beat, but the gray come out head on account of Roy breaking. The road was too hard for them, they say.

Parsonsburg.

Photographers Hitchens and Parker, canvassed our town this week.

Mr. J. W. Wimbrow, of Denbigh, Va., returned home Saturday night.

The shirt factories here are taking a rest, not being able to get work.

The people here are almost through getting out potatoes, and putting in wheat.

If the many other writers are not too busy we will be glad to hear from the doings in their vicinity.

The Baptist Association at Forest Grove this week was attended largely by people from every direction.

Mr. J. K. Hayman, of Salisbury, was the guest of his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Hayman, on Main St. Sunday last.

The Parsonsburg Cornet Band will furnish music for political meetings on short notice. Ernest C. Arvey, Director.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Adkins and son Lester, and Miss Alice Parsons, spent this week at the Jamestown Exposition, Old Point, Norfolk, and other places. They report having a very pleasant trip.

In Memoriam.

"Suffer little children to come unto Me and forbid them not," said our Saviour, when he called little Julia Jeauette, the infant daughter of Willie and Julia Taylor, of Salisbury, Friday, October 18, 1907, aged one year and two months. All that human skill and tender nursing by loved ones was resorted to but the grim monster death could not be stayed.

She was indeed a sweet little child and bore her sufferings patiently and all seemed to have love for her as the flowery offerings bespoke. Her little casket was covered. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Williams, at Siloam Church, after which her little body was carried by four little boys to the grave and laid beside her little sister.

Dear mother and father, those little graves side by side note the resurrection of two precious lambs through the blood and amid our sorrows and bereavements we should stop and look upward and behold our babies, Julia and Lula, stand with outstretched hands waiting and beckoning us onward and upward to our living God. May we all meet there.

Hold her little hands together.
Close her bright and loving eyes.
See how like a broken lily,
Pale and beautiful she lies.
Heaven now retaineth one more treasure.

Faith alone her casket keeps,
And the snugglers love to linger.
Where our little darling Julia sleeps,
But those loving little words she spoke,
When she was sinking away to sleep,
She called mamma and papa, which she never spoke before,
It looks as though we ought to meet her where we have to part no more.
MAMMA AND PAPA.

The Jewel of Forgiveness.
Nothing is more moving to man than the spectacle of reconciliation. Our weaknesses are thus indemnified and are not too costly, being the price we pay for the hour of forgiveness, and the archangel who has never felt anger has reason to envy the man who subdues it. When thou forgivest, the man who has pierced thy heart stands to thee in the relation of the sea worm that perforates the shell of the mussel, which straightway closes the wound with a pearl.—Richter.

The Wicomico Transportation Co.

Papers incorporating the Wicomico Transportation Company were filed in the Clerk's office during the week. This company was recently organized and is composed of several Salisbury business men and a number of merchants in the smaller towns along the Wicomico river. A new gasoline boat, the James Denson, has been put into commission and in a few days regular trips will be made from Salisbury to points on the Wicomico and Nanticoke rivers each day. The James Denson is the largest craft of its kind plying the waters of this county and owing to the inability of the smaller boats to carry the freight that is daily shipped to these points in the lower end of the county, it is expected that the success of this new enterprise is guaranteed.

The incorporators of the company are Messrs. A. A. Gillis, Charles L. Dickerson, L. Morris Causey, B. Frank Kennerly and Louis W. Gauby. The directors for the first year are Messrs. James Denson, C. L. Dickerson, William W. Smith and George R. Ward.

The boat will be under command of Captain Morris Causey and Mr. Frank Dickerson has been engaged as engineer.

NEW FALL STYLES.

Brown the Most Popular Color—Coats Shorter, Vests Cut Higher.

The man in green is the most exclusive and conspicuous dresser of the season. His suit is of bottle green. He got the idea from Paris, and his distinction lies in the way he carries out his color scheme. His hat is a shade of green, his gloves and handkerchief a little lighter. He wears a light green shirt, with suspenders of the same color. His tie is distinctly darker, but still green. Even his underwear, it is said by Men's Wear, harmonizes with the shade of his suit.

Brown, while not so extreme, is the most popular color of the season. In some shades the demand has been so heavy that the stock of cloth is exhausted. Green tones with grays also are seen frequently, but there are few plaids. Blues, of course, are always correct. But, whatever the color of the suit, the accessories must match.

Coats for business wear are a little shorter than they were last year. The back slit is retained, but in some styles the curve at the waist has been eliminated. As a further contrast to the flaring skirt formerly in vogue, the chest is cut extremely full, and the sleeves are large at the top. The business cutaway is made with or without pockets. Gray mixtures are popular in the cutaway, and one style is made so that it looks like a sack from the front.

The vest is cut even with the coat lapels or a little higher sometimes if the material is fancy in texture or color. Vest pockets are made with flaps that button in some instances. The cuff is being left off the trousers.

There is less waist in the overcoats this year. They are made of the softer cloths, and full, rich colors are in evidence. Mufflers include the plaided silk, and the woolen muffler that clasps around the neck still will be the vogue.

A novel necktie is made of wood pulp. It looks like silk and promises to become popular. The neckwear makers are much interested. Autumn four-in-hands to be correct should be not more than two inches wide. They are seen in high colors. Bat wings come in solid colors two inches wide. Knitted scarfs are in fashion again as well as the cross stripes and the long bias.

Leather From Whale Skins.

Newfoundland fishermen connected with the whaling industry have been conducting a series of experiments in an attempt to make whale leather a commercial product and are said to be meeting with some success. The average whale hide covers a surface of about 1,500 square feet, a square foot of the hide weighing from two to five ounces and being valued as high as 50 cents. The leather is exceedingly tough and is said to possess great wearing qualities, thereby being peculiarly adapted to the covering of furniture, carriage tops and seats and to automobile purposes. It is also said that the leather can be used for boots and shoes. Leather made from the intestines of the whale resembles kid and is extremely thin and tough.

The New Europa.

The giant Hamburg-American line steamer which is to be built in Belfast will be named the Europa. She will be of 48,000 tons compared with the Lusitania's 32,500.
