TUESDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1837.

CONGRESS.—Yesterday was the day for the assembling of Congress. At 12 o'clock to-day, the message of the President will be delivered to both Branches, and we expect to be enabled to present it to such of our readers as desire it, before our regular day of publication.

CANADA appears to be on the eve of a civil revolution. Much excitement prevails in that country as will be seen by extracts in another column.

BANK CONVENTION.—There is but little known of the proceedings of the Bank Convention, which assembled in New York a few days since, for the purpose of making such arrangements as would lead to an early resumption of specie payment. The Convention sits with closed doors. The New York Commercial Advertiser says:

The delegates to the Bank Convention, of which the note of preparation has been heard for several weeks, assembled at 12 o'clock this day, in the chamber of the Board of Aldermen. There are, as it is understood, at least a hundred delegates present—but they will not hold a session until to-morrow. A more exclusive body has never met since the Hartford Convention. One would suppose they had brought all their specie along with them, and were afraid of being robbed.

Since the above was prepared, we have seen it stated, that the Convention came to no definite conclusion on the subject of resuming specie payments, but have determined to meet again in March next.

Our majorities have every where been reduced by the pestilential touch of Agrarian doctrines. Are not these things enough to alarm every democrat in the land, and to teach the Descriptive to surrender up their notions for the salvation of the party? To this query will respond the affirmative, and call upon him to slay the doctrine of the Agrarian school, as he would a destroying pestilence!!!—Frederick Times.

For the life of us we cannot imagine what our contemporary means by Agrarian doctrines. Has Mr. Van Buren ever supported or promulgated such a doctrine; or has Mr. Benton, the most ultra of all the advocates for a return in the currency, desired the establishment of any such pernicious doctrine, either by word or act. If a divorce of Bank and State be Agrarian then, we for one, are perfectly willing to be considered as friendly to such a doctrine. But it means, a total subversion of all right of property—an annihilation of credit, and a repeal of all corporate powers, then we as stoutly oppose it as our friend of the Times, and cast it from us like a "hathsome weed." But we consider the epithet totally gratuitous, and its application entirely out of place. No man of common sense, desires the establishment of any such doctrine; or if it there perchance, exist any that do, it is neither in the power of Mr. Van Buren or any of his friends, to put a stop to the freedom of speech or prevent a man, holding such views, from exercising the elective franchise.

Our contemporary, we think, is unnecessarily alarmed. Virtue and patriotism are yet alive in the hearts of the people, who we believe, will continue to sustain the Administration of their choice. They are now, as they were at Mr. Van Buren's election, equally opposed to a National Bank, and they have intelligence enough to know that to sustain the President is the surest way to defeat a Bank. Upon the downfall of Mr. Van Buren's administration must arise one that will not only create a Bank but revive the splendid notions of the old Hamiltonian School, and the people become oppressed with the worst of Aristocracy—the Aristocracy of wealth.

Recreation can avail us nothing; but discretion may do us much service. Therefore it belongs every true friend of Mr. Van Buren to act with decision, and remain unswayed and undismayed by the false clamor of the Whig journals; and to turn a deaf ear to the wailing appeals of timorous adherents.

ARKANSAS SENATOR.—Col. A. H. SEVIER, (V. B.) was re-elected by the Legislature of Arkansas on the 17th of a Senator in Congress from that state, without opposition.

GEORGIA SENATOR.—The Hon. WILLIAM LUMPKIN, (V. B.) was, on the 22d ult. elected by the Legislature of Georgia, United States Senator from that state, to supply the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. King. Judge Barrien was the opposing candidate.

MISSISSIPPI.—We have but few election returns from this State, but as far as they go they are highly favorable. McNutt, the democratic candidate for Governor, has probably been elected by a majority of about 3,000—Louisville Adv.

ARKANSAS.—The majority for Judge Yell, for Congress, exceeds 1200. Had a full vote been taken he would have beaten his opponent more than double that number.—Ibid.

great many planters are disposing of their cotton in this way.

Down with your colors, Democrats! The Whigs throughout the State have succeeded—(on getting whippers)—De Witt Post.

THE FARMER.—With no inheritance but health, with no riches but industry, and with no ambition but virtue, is the sole king among men, and the only man among kings.

FROM LOWER CANADA. The progress of revolution in this province seems to be still onward. It is the accounts to the loyal Montreal papers are to be relied on—and it is to be observed that they are not given positively, but only as rumors, and are probably much exaggerated—the leaders of the disaffected are preparing themselves for a serious trial of strength with the government.

The Montreal papers of Thursday contain a letter from the cashier of the People's Bank, and also a card and affidavit from five of the partners in that institution, contradicting the report of its bankruptcy, denying that the bank has ever supplied funds to the disaffected, and affirming that its notes have not been refused by any of the other banks, as stated in the Herald. Notice is also given that Mr. Brown, one of the most prominent agitators, has not been a director of the bank since the 1st of September.

The Courier states that in addition to the three corps of volunteers, authorized by the commander-in-chief, two others are to be raised and provided with arms, &c. as a city guard, for the protection of the city and its neighborhood.

The Courier also states, on the authority of passengers from Burlington, that Messrs. O. Perrault and R. Desrivieres had gone in the steamer to Champlain. The reported establishment of the Vindicator at Burlington, was news to the inhabitants of that place, who had heard nothing of it.

The Bangor Whig of Wednesday says, "it is rumored that an express has gone to Washington, for the purpose of obtaining permissiveness from our authorities to transport 10,000 British troops from Halifax and New Brunswick to Quebec and Montreal, through the state of Maine."

We learn from a source in which we have every confidence that a number of the most influential (French) Canadians, at the head of whom is the Hon. D. B. Viger, have issued an address to their countrymen, urging them in the strongest terms to preserve their loyalty, and sustain the government. It is reported moreover, that Mr. Papeau has written to Lord Gosford, denying all agency in the recent mutiny of the Lower Canada volunteers, and disavowing the least responsibility.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT.—CIVIL WAR IN CANADA. The ball of revolution in Canada is in motion. The following letter from our attentive correspondent at Burlington, Vt. with an accompanying extra, from the Free Press office, shows not only that a battle has been fought and lives lost, but that it was probably followed by another and more severe engagement. We have had little doubt that such would be the state of things sooner or later; but it has been precipitated, and we may look with great interest, not only for events in that quarter, but for sanguinary result.

Dear Sir.—I enclose you in haste an extra from one of our offices, on which you may rely as correct; and furthermore, it is expected that but few hours after, there must have taken an engagement at St. Charles, only six miles from St. Denis, between the Canadian volunteers from Papineau, amounting to near 3000, with 7 pieces of artillery, and a detachment of the 1st Regt. amounting to near 800, with 14 pieces of artillery. Papineau is in the old Fort, and is with him two of Napoleon's officers in command. He has also a battery for casting cannon. We are waiting the result anxiously. The father of Mr. T. S. Brown, one of the leaders of the French party, arrived here this morning and bring this intelligence.

FREE PRESS OFFICE, Burlington, Nov. 25, 1837.

CANADA.—Engagement between the Loyalists and Patriots—Sixteen killed & wounded. By the steamer Franklin, which arrived at 9 o'clock this morning, we learn that an engagement has taken place between 2000 British regulars and the Canadians at St. Denis, in which the latter were successful. The loyalists lost 16, killed and wounded, and two brass pieces. Captain Malcolm is reported as mortally wounded. The patriot loss was not known.

It appears that the patriots have made a stand at St. Charles, about 30 miles below Montreal, and are engaging an old French fort. Their number is stated at two thousand or more, well armed and furnished, and that they have eight brass pieces. On Wednesday a detachment of eight hundred regulars and three hundred volunteers left Montreal with the intention of breaking up this post. They landed on Thursday and had taken up their line of march for St. Charles. The advance guard consisting of 200 regulars, had proceeded as far as St. Denis, when they were attacked by the Canadian populace, and after a severe engagement driven back, with the loss above stated.

IMPORTANT FROM CANADA. TWO ENGAGEMENTS WITH THE ROYAL FORCES. By last night's mail we have further particulars from Canada. The latest news of the hour at which we received the news, confines us to the following extract:

Information confirmatory of these last accounts is also received by way of St. Albans, Vermont, as follows: From the Franklin Journal—Extra.

St. Albans, Vt. Tuesday Evening, November 25, 1837. Passengers in the Steamer who left Montreal on Monday, and arrived at Highgate this evening, report THAT THE PATRIOTS ARE GAINING AT ST. CHARLES. Frequent skirmishes have taken place, the results generally favorable to the Patriots.

Yesterday & to-day firing was heard in the direction of St. Charles. They contended the rumor so current for the last 24 hours, that the Royalists had taken St. Charles, routed the Patriots, killed 300, and taken General Brown prisoner. The greatest excitement prevails in the community. Amidst the multitude of rumors it is almost impossible to ascertain the exact truth. A day or two will probably furnish something decisive.

STILL LATER. Ten o'clock, P. M. We learn from a source we credit that on Saturday at 11 P. M. the British attacked the Patriots—there was hard fighting until 5 A. M.—for a while the Patriots were put to confusion.

A reinforcement of 1,800 Patriots came up, attacked the British in the rear and routed them. The Royalists had retreated to a wood & consisting in when the messenger left. The Royalists had burned the village of St. Charles. We look hourly for further intelligence. The result is doubtful. Great fears are entertained at Montreal of an invasion from Terrebonne where a large patriot force was collected. Almost all the regulars were at St. Charles. The Volunteers were barricading the streets of the city.

There are still later accounts somewhat contradictory, but the very latest, from the Journal of Commerce, says: The news to-day confirms the triumph of the revolutionists, in Canada. A statement in the Montreal Courier puts a different face on the matter, but the Courier is a Court paper, and as to the truth on Canada affairs, we expect to get it through Vermont.

FATAL RIOT IN ILLINOIS. From the Louisville Advertiser, November 13. Another outrage at Alton.—We understand a slip from the St. Louis Bulletin was received in this city yesterday, which stated that Mr. Lovejoy's new press had reached Alton; that its arrival was the signal for a renewed attack on the abolitionists, and a serious riot followed, in which Mr. Lovejoy was killed and several other persons wounded. It is said the abolitionists were forbidden, that the establishment of an insurrectionary press in Alton would not be permitted to—We shall, we suppose, obtain the particulars of the occurrence, in a few days.

From the Alton Telegraph, Nov. 8. LAMENTABLE OCCURRENCE. It is with the deepest regret that we stop the press in order to state that, at late hour last night, an attack was made by a large number of persons on the warehouse of Messrs. Girdley, Gilman & Co., for the purpose of destroying a press, intended for the revival of the Alton Observer, which, shocking to relate, resulted in the death of two individuals—the Rev. E. P. LOVEJOY, late editor of the Observer, and a man named—BISHOP. Seven others were wounded, two severely, and the others slightly. We can add no more at this time, than that the assassins succeeded in effecting their object.

United States Magazine

ON the 1st of July, 1837, will be published at Washington, District of Columbia, and delivered simultaneously in the principal cities of the United States, a new Monthly Magazine, under the above title, devoted to the principles of the Democratic party. It has long been apparent to many of the reflecting members of the Democratic party of the United States, that a periodical for the advocacy and diffusion of their political principles, similar to those in such active and powerful operation in England, is a desideratum, which it was very important to supply—a periodical which should unite with the attractions of sound and vigorous literature, a political character capable of giving efficient support to the doctrines and measures of that party, now maintained by a large majority of the people. A PLATE OF SUPERBLY COLOURED FASHIONS.

The subscriber endeavors by extraordinary exertions to show his gratitude for the many favors he has received from his kind friends, the public. When it is also mentioned that highly appreciated, will render the establishment and success of the proposed Magazine of very great importance.

In the nightly struggle of antagonist principles which is now going on in society, the Democratic Party of the United States stands committed to the world as the depository and exemplar of those cardinal doctrines of political faith which the cause of the People in every age and country is identified. Gladly from the want of a convenient means of concentrating the intellectual energies of its disciples, this party has hitherto been almost wholly unrepresented in the republic of letters, while the views and policy of its opposing creeds are daily advocated by the ablest and most commanding efforts of genius and learning.

PROSPERUS OF THE UNITED STATES MAGAZINE AND DEMOCRATIC REVIEW

ON the 1st of July,

THE PROSPECT.
It is not generally known that a victory is secured. We hesitate not to predict that the Republican cause in New York will have a victory. Nothing has occurred since the event for years to arouse and rally the democratic party. It is rising from its slumber, and a strong man after sleep. From Maine, Louisiana, from the Atlantic to the West, it is rising in its strength, like an ocean. Fresh and vigorous, it is now stirring the slumbering mind of the noble spirit which is stirring the public mind. The election which is now being held is a triumph of the noble spirit, which is stirring the public mind. The election which is now being held is a triumph of the noble spirit, which is stirring the public mind. The election which is now being held is a triumph of the noble spirit, which is stirring the public mind.

From the Washington Globe of the 4th inst.
The second session of the Twenty-fifth Congress commenced to-day. The attendance in both Houses was more numerous than had been anticipated. In the Senate, on motion of Mr. SPRUNGER, a message was transmitted to the House of Representatives, informing that they had the honor to receive from the President a committee of the House, to join with a committee of the Senate, to inquire into the President's conduct in relation to the late resignation of Mr. Cameron. A message was received from the House, informing the Senate that a quorum was present, and also of the appointment of a committee to wait on the President, and advise him that they were ready to receive such communications as he might deem proper to make. The ordinary resolutions in reference to applying Senators with newspapers was adopted, and the Senate adjourned.

The election which is now being held is a triumph of the noble spirit, which is stirring the public mind. PROSPECTUS

OF THE United States Magazine AND DEMOCRATIC REVIEW

ON the 1st of July, 1837, will be published at Washington, District of Columbia, and delivered simultaneously in the principal cities of the United States, a new Monthly Magazine, under the above title, devoted to the principles of the Democratic party.

It has long been apparent to many of the reflecting members of the Democratic party in the United States, that a periodical for the advocacy and diffusion of their political principles, similar to those in such active and influential operation in England, is a desideratum, which it was very important to supply.

A periodical which should unite with the attractions of sound and vigorous literature, a political character capable of giving efficient support to the doctrines and measures of that party, now maintained by the great majority of the people. Discussing the great questions of policy before the country, expounding and advocating the Democratic doctrine through the most able and powerful pen, and furnishing articles of greater length, more condensed, more elaborate research, and more elevated than is possible for the newspaper press, a Magazine of this character becomes an instrument of inappreciable value for the enlightenment and formation of public opinion, and for the support of the principles which it advocates. By these means, by thus explaining and defending the measures of the great Democratic party, and by always furnishing to the public a clear and powerful commentary upon those complex questions of policy, which so often distract, and upon which, so imperfectly understood, as they frequently are by friends, and misrepresented and distorted as they never fail to be by political opponents, it is of the utmost importance that the public should be fully and rightly informed, it is hoped that the periodical in question may be made to exert a beneficial, rational, and lasting influence on the public mind.

Other considerations, which cannot be too

highly appreciated, will render the establishment and success of the proposed Magazine of very great importance.

In the mighty struggle of antagonist principles which is now going on in society, the Democratic Party of the United States stands committed to the world as the depository and exemplar of those cardinal doctrines of political faith with which the cause of the People in every age and country is identified. Elected from the want of a convenient means of concentrating the intellectual energies of its disciples, this party has hitherto been almost wholly unrepresented in the republic of letters, while the views and policy of its opposing creeds are daily advocated by the ablest and most commanding efforts of genius and learning.

In the United States Magazine the attempt will be made to remove the reproach.

The present is the time peculiarly appropriate for the commencement of such an undertaking—the Democratic body of the Union, after a contest which tested to the utmost its stability and its principles, have succeeded in retaining possession of the executive administration of the country. In the consequent comparative repose of the People in every respect for organizing and calling to its aid a new and powerful ally of this character, interfering with none and co-operating with all.

Co-ordinate with this main design of the United States Magazine, no care or cost will be spared to render it, in a literary point of view, honorable to the country; and fit to cope in vigor of rivalry with its European competitors. Viewing the English language as the noble heritage and common birth-right of all who speak the tongue of Milton and Shakespeare, will be the uniform object of its conductors to present only the finest productions in the various branches of literature, that can be procured; and to diffuse the best of correct models of taste and worthy execution.

In this department the exclusiveness of party, which is inseparable from the political department of such a work, will have no place. Here we all stand on a neutral ground of equality and reciprocity, where those universal principles of taste to which we are all alike subject will alone be recognized as the common law. Our political principles cannot be compromised, but our common literature it will be our common pride to cherish and extend, with a liberality of feeling unbiased by partial or minor views.

As the United States Magazine is founded on the broadest basis which the means and influence of the Democratic party in the United States can present, it is intended to render it, in every respect a thoroughly NATIONAL WORK, not merely designed for ephemeral interest and attraction, but to continue of permanent historical value. With this view a considerable portion of each number will be appropriated to the following subjects, in addition to the general features referred to above.

A general summary of political and domestic intelligence, digested in the order of the States, comprising all the authentic important acts of the preceding month.

General literary intelligence, including the progress of the sciences, and notices of new publications, &c.

A condensed account of all new works of internal improvement, throughout the Union, presented by a general view of those who are engaged in the project.

Military and naval news, promotions, changes, movements, &c.

Foreign intelligence.

Biographical notices of distinguished persons.

At the close of each session of Congress an extra or enlarged number will be published, containing a general review and history of its proceedings, a condensed abstract of important official documents, and the Acts of the session.

Advantage will also be taken of the means concentrated in this establishment from all quarters of the Union, to collect and digest such extensive statistical observations on all the most important interests of the country as cannot fail to present very great value.

This portion of the work will be separately issued as to admit of binding by itself, and will be furnished with a copious index, so that the United States Magazine will also constitute a Complete Annual Register, on a scale unattempted before, and of very great importance to all classes, not only as affording a current and combined view, from month to month, of the subjects which will embrace both also for record and reference through future years; the value of which will increase with the duration of the work.

Although in its political character the United States Magazine addresses its claims to its party, it is other features referred to above—independently of the chief object of becoming acquainted with the doctrines in opposition thus advocated—will recommend it to liberal and candid support from all parties, and from the large class of no party.

To promote the popular objects in view, and relying upon the democratic party, as from others, the price of subscription is fixed at the low rate of FIVE DOLLARS per annum; while in mechanical arrangements, and in size, quantity of matter, &c., the United States Magazine will be placed on a par at least with the leading monthly publications of England. The whole will form three large octavo volumes each year.

The subscription will be in all cases payable in advance, or (for the first year only) six dollars on the delivery of the third number. The absolute necessity of this rule in such an establishment will be obvious to all.

In return for remittance of $50; eleven copies will be sent; for $100, twenty three copies. The certificate of a Postmaster of the remittance of a sum of money will be sufficient receipt, all dangers of the mail being the risk of the Postmasters.

All communications will be addressed, and sent to the undersigned, the Publishers, LANGTREE & OSULLIVAN, Washington, D. C. April, 1837.

MISCELLANEOUS.

EXECUTION OF A DESERTER.

By a late Officer in the United States Army.
In civilized countries, where war is reduced to a science and a profession, the strictest discipline, enforced by penalties of the greatest severity, is required as a substitute for the ferocious passions and the deadly hate which, in savage nations, are found competent to the work of destruction. The dire work of war cannot be accomplished, where men fight from merely professional motives, or in obedience to their rulers, without a system of the most rigorous compulsion. The weakness, the tender sensibilities, even many of the outward virtues, must be subjected to this system—individual volition must be suppressed—and the whole army made like so many machines, only as the will of some controlling agency shall direct. With the dreadful severities, not to say atrocities of this system, I believe the community at large are very little acquainted. Sometimes, indeed, the severely talk on the ill-effects of blood, or the horrors of carnage, and Andre, an Axtell, a Hayne, and then public sympathy and commiseration are excited, and the cruel severity of the laws of war deplored. But the fate of the poor private soldier, who is more generally the victim of such severity, is rarely known beyond the circle of his family, or his fellow soldiers—spectators or actors in the melancholy tragedy. Believing that a more general knowledge, among the citizens, of the scenes of the camp, & a more perfect acquaintance with the particulars which make up the compound of war, will have a tendency to diminish the war-like spirit, I shall relate a scene which occurred in the last war with England, and of which I was an eye witness.

In 1814, I was stationed with a detachment of United States troops at Greenbush, in the State of New York. One morning several prisoners, confined in the provost guard-house, were brought out to hear the sentences which a court martial had annexed to their delinquencies read on parade. Their appearances indicated that they had already been sufficiently hard. Some wore the marks of long confinement, and on all the severity of the prison house had stamped its impression. They looked dejected at this public exposure, and anxious to learn their fate. I had never seen the face of any of them before, and only knew that a single one of them had been adjudged to death. Soon, their names were called and their sentences announced. I detected by my own eyes and gestures, the miserable man, on whose sentence was a full man, in the bloom of youth and the fullness of health and vigor.

Prompted by feelings of sympathy, I called next morning to see him in his prison. There, chained by the leg to the beam of the ceiling, he was reading the Bible, trying to comfort himself, as he said, by the fatal decree, derived from him the circumstances of a wife and three children.

I never be critical upon the judge, who was the maxim of an old Irish poet, remarkable for his homages to the sex; the only way in which he could show a true gentleman's grace will attempt to look at the faults of a pretty woman in about his eyes.

I can't endure a tobacco chewer—said a deary, 'for you are walking with him on the side opposite the wind, the juice that he blows is blown right into your face.'

For that reason, said an old salt who was present, you ought to get the right side of him.

SONG.

Give me an eye, a swimming eye,
To meet my ardent glance—
A sunny eye to gaze upon,
When pleasure is in dance.

Give me an eye to mingle beams
When mirth and joy have bound me;
Give me an eye to mingle tears
When sorrow's clouds are round me.

Give me a cheek, a soft, soft cheek,
Warm rosy blushing cheek,
So bright, so pure, so angel like,
I were sinless to adore it.

Give me a cheek to press to mine
With that calm, holy feeling,
That fills the soul as music does,
When o'er the senses stealing.

Give me a lip, a sweet lip,
Sweet smiles around it wreathing—
A dewy lip, carnation like,
Of love and fondness breathing.

Give me a lip to kiss my cheek,
Or few or none care me—
A full red lip to dress upon,
A seraph lip to bless me.

Give me a hand, a snow white hand,
To tremble when I press it—
A fairy hand to hold in mine,
A little hand to bless it.

Give me a hand to kiss, and breathe
O'er my soul's devotion—
A hand to hold and press mine too,
With deep unfeigned emotion.

Give me a heart, a gentle heart,
With warm affection beating—
A heart to smile with me,
When I am sad and weeping.

THE PRICE OF LIBERTY

IMPERPETUAL VIOLENCE.

This field the whole force then at the cantonment, amounting to many hundred men, was drawn up in the form of hollow square, with the side beyond the grave vacant. The executioner, eight in number, had drawn by lot. No soldiers would volunteer for such a duty. Their muskets had been charged by the officers of the day—seven of them with ball, the eighth with powder alone. Thus prepared they are placed together, and each executioner takes his choice. Thus each may believe that he has the blank cartridge, and therefore has no hand in the death of a brother soldier—striking indeed one of the terrors of the service.

The coffin was placed parallel with the grave and about two feet distant. In the intervening space, the prisoner was directed to stand. He desired permission to say a word to his fellow soldiers, and thus standing between his coffin and his grave, warned them against desertion, continuing to speak until the officer on duty, with his watch in his hand, announced to him in a low voice: 'Two o'clock, your last moment is at hand, you must kneel upon your coffin.' This done, the officer drew down the white cap, so as to cover the eyes and most of the face of the prisoner—still continuing to speak in a low, sad, and agitated voice. The kneeling was the signal for the executioners to advance. They moved forward to avoid being distinguished by the prisoner, stood intermingled with the soldiers who formed the line. They now came forward marching abreast, and took their stand a little to the left, about two rods distant from their living mark. The officer raised his sword. At this signal, the executioners took aim. He then gave a blow on a drum which was at hand. The executioners all fired at the same instant. The miserable man, with a horrid scream, leaped from the earth, and fell between his coffin and his grave. The sergeant of the guard, a moment after, shot him through the head, with a musket reserved for this purpose in case the executioners should not prove instant death. The sergeant from motives of humanity held the muzzle of his musket near the head—so near that the cap took fire—and there the body lay upon the face—the head emitting the mingled fumes of burning cotton and burning hair. O war, dreadful even in thy tenderness—horrible even in thy compassion!

I was now desired to perform my part of the ceremony; and placing my hand where just before the pulse beat full, and the face warm, and finding no pulsation for the first time, I affirmed, that the whole line marched by the body, as it lay upon the earth, the head still smoking; that every man might have sworn for himself the fate of a deserter.

These are all that had been dreadful indeed, but scenes, as it became the pending spirit, to its dread account; but now the scene changes. The whole band struck up, and with unconquerable emotion, our national air (Yankee Doodle) and to its lively measures we were hurried back to our parade ground. Having been dismissed, the commander of the post sent a word to the officers to repair, and were treated to a glass of wine and water.

What this melancholy tragedy ended in what seemed little better than a farce—a fair specimen of the former of the dread severity—the latter of the moral sensibilities—which prevail in the camp. Do scenes such as this which I have described, enter the minds of those who have the chief agency in involving their respective countries in war? Do they ever fit across the imagination of the statesman while he is talking loudly of insults to his country's honor, or of the splendor of military glory, or of the necessity of warlike action? Who of the military statesman, who stands in the ardour of passion rises to his vision? Are they entertained in the conceptions of those who without examination, reject as idle dreams, all plans for the adjustment of international difficulties without resort to war and deride as visionary all specification for introducing the principles of a better morality into the code of international law? Do the great mass of men, ever eager at the voice of their leaders to cause the standard of war to be appeared know in reality what WAR is?—Advocate of Peace.

FROM THE N. Y. MIRROR.

THE CHANCES OF FORTUNE.

[The following tale illustrates one of the many instances of distress existing among the poor seamstresses of the city, and the lady who has communicated it for republication in the Mirror vouches for its authenticity.]
"Do you give out work here?"
"No, lady-like that involuntarily looked up from the purse I was about purchasing for my darling boy, a birthday gift from his papa."
"Do you give out work here?"
"Not to strangers, was the rude reply."
The stranger turned and walked away.
"That purse is very cheap, said I, taking up my parcel, as I left the shop, and followed the stranger lady."
Having Thompson's, she paused—went in—hesitated—then turned and came out. I now saw her face—it was very pale—her hair, black as night, was parted on her forehead—her eyes, too, were very black, and there was a wildness in them that made the shudder. She passed on up Broadway to Grand street, where she entered a miserable looking dwelling. I passed should I follow farther?—She was evidently suffering much—I was happy—blessed with health, and oh, how blessed in husband, children, friends! I knocked—the door was opened by a cross-looking woman—
"Is there a person living here who does plain sewing?" I inquired.
"I guess not, was the reply. There is a woman up stairs, who used to work, but she can't get no more to do—and I shall turn her out to-morrow."
"Let me go up," said I, passing the woman with a shudder, I ascended the stairs.
"You can keep on up to the garret," she teased after me—and so I did; and there I never dreamed—The lady had thrown off her hat—Her hair had fallen over her shoulders—she sobbed not—battered not—but seemed motionless, her face buried in the covering of the wretched, miserable bed whereon lay her husband. He was sleeping, I looked up in high pale forehead, around which clung tresses of damp, brown hair—it was white, and a pale hand clenched the bed-clothes—

SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

Naval service, including exploring expedition, gradual improvement, &c. 5,061,855 87

Public debt 22,019 25

See particulars in the document annexed.

The expenditures for the fourth quarter including those under the recent as well as former appropriations, are, on facts presented by the various Departments, estimated at 9,862,445 00

Making an aggregate for the year of 35,281,361 57

This computation would leave in the Treasury, on the first of January, 1838, a balance of 34,187,143 29

Before adverted to other topics it will be proper to explain what portion of this balance will not immediately be either available or applicable to public purposes.

The first three instalments, of deposits with the several States, which has recently been placed to the credit of the Treasurer for safe keeping, in conformity to the provisions of the act of 23d June, 1836, are included in it.

As the subsequent law of October 14th, 1837, prohibits the recall of those deposits till otherwise directed by Congress, their large amount will then be unavailable for any purpose of the General Government. It is $29,101,644 97.

All the funds in the Treasury, which in any former years, from the foundation of the Government have become unavailable, being chiefly such as are still due from insolvent banks, are likewise embraced in the balance above mentioned. Their amount is not far from $1,100,000.

Another portion consists of what is yet unpaid by the banking institutions, which during the last spring and summer, suspended specie payments, and thereby under the imperative provisions of the deposit act, were discontinued as public depositories. The amounts in their possession that have been or probably will under the act of 18th of October last, be postponed, and will remain unavailable, one-third till the next, one-third till January, 1839, and the residue till July 1839 are estimated at $3,500,000.

Another sum, not immediately applicable to general purposes, is that part of the amounts transferred to the mint, which being now in active employment for the objects specified in the act of June 23, 1836, and of January 18, 1837, cannot, without serious inconvenience and some delay be otherwise used. This sum is about $400,000.

If the aggregate of all these amounts, $33,101,644 97, be deducted from the balance of 34,187,143 29 above mentioned, the result will be $1,085,498 32 included in the balance of 1836, ought also to be deducted from the balance of 1837, as being now considered applicable to the special objects to which they were appropriated.

Previous to the consideration of other matters connected with the Finance, the undersigned would add, that the appropriations which will remain unexpended at the end of the year, are estimated at $14,503,483. These, with the exception hereafter mentioned, will be chargeable on that balance, and on the revenue subsequently received.

To prevent misapprehension on this point, it may be proper to observe, that this is the amount of those appropriations considered as unexpended, after deducting all the money which has been actually paid to the public claimants, and all the advances which, having been made to the various disbursing officers, are still in their hands for the purpose of being paid over to such claimants. It is supposed that $10,351,091 of the outstanding appropriations will be required to accomplish the objects contemplated by them.

Of the residue about $361,839 will go to the surplus fund; or in other words will not be used at all; and it is proposed to apply $3,782,561 in aid of the service of the ensuing year without reappropriation, explained in the estimates.

It is proper also to explain, that by the act of May 20, 1836, an amount sufficient to pay the principal of the debt due in Holland, in account of the District of Columbia, equal to $1,500,000, was appropriated, and is still outstanding. But this sum has not been included in the foregoing statement of outstanding appropriations, as the reimbursement of the loan cannot commence, under the stipulations upon which it was contracted, until 1841; and the amount required may be partly reimbursed by the sale of the canal stocks pledged for that purpose.

2. Of the Public Debt.

The payments on account of the funded and unfunded debt since the first December, 1836, have been as follows:

1st. On account of the principal of the funded debt $14,197 26

This leaves unclaimed and undischarged $327,737 91

Viz: principal $76,169 74

Interest, with dividends 251,668 17

The latter consisting of the amount while last December 1836, $250,416 00

Add excess of repayments since 1,152 17

2d. On the unfunded debt there has been paid, including $199 51 for interest on Treasury notes of 1815, the sum of $706 66

This leaves the amount of certificates and notes payable on presentation $36,935 40

Viz: certificates issued during the revolutionary war, and registered prior to 1796, $27,293 81

Treasury notes issued during the late war, 4,320 00

Certificates of Mississippi Stock 4,320 00

3. Estimate of the revenue and expenditures for the year 1838.

The receipts into the Treasury from the ordinary sources during 1838, may under the explanations and conditions hereafter mentioned, be estimated at $31,950,787

Viz. Customs, including about four millions, which is expected to be collected on postponed duties $17,500,000

Lands, including one and a half million of estimated sales under another re-emption law, if one passes, &c. of new tracts brought into market, 500,000

Second bonds of United States Bank with interest due September, 1838, 2,293,121

First instalment of the principal due from the former deposit banks in July 1839, estimated at 1,666,668

Interest on the same, with incidental and miscellaneous receipts 800,000

New issues of Treasury notes in 1838 5,700,000

These, and the estimated balance of $1,085,498, which will be in the Treasury on the first of January, 1838, available and applicable to public purposes, constitute an aggregate of $38,045,886

The expenditures for the year 1838, including the redemption of the Treasury notes, which may be paid in for public debt, or become reimbursable within that year, are estimated at $31,950,787

Thus the new appropriations called for are $22,249

Viz: Civil, foreign intercourse, and miscellaneous $3,173,886

Military service, etc. 11,664,812

Naval service, etc. 5,685,762

The permanent appropriations for the service of 1838, made by former acts, is 2,262,000

For the details of the revenue and permanent appropriations, reference may be had to the estimates.

Appropriations expected to be made by Congress beyond the estimates submitted are $1,000,000

These new and permanent appropriations amount to $32,765,240

The outstanding appropriations at the end of this year after deducting what will go to the surplus fund are computed at 14,141,478

All the appropriations in 1839, and in subsequent years, are estimated to be $31,950,787

It is supposed that the balance of $1,085,498, which will be in the Treasury on the first of January, 1838, available and applicable to public purposes on the 1st of December, 1838, is situated at $282.

As the fluctuating condition of our receipts and expenditures, may appear, beyond the close of the present session, that results are likely to happen essentially different from some of these calculations.

But it must at present be very questionable whether the receipts in 1838 will exceed expenditures, so as to produce any surplus which can be deposited with the States for keeping on the 1st of January, 1839, as required by the existing laws. On the contrary, a considerable departure from the estimate, either by increasing the appropriations, or reducing the receipts, or by extending in public debt a larger amount of Treasury notes, will necessarily create a deficiency. Little certainty, therefore, can be attained in any calculations on these points, till further facts develop concerning the revival of commerce, the probability of a speedy improvement in the currency, and the success in effecting, as far as is compatible with the public interests, that reduction in the appropriations which, in the present, as well as prospective state of the Treasury, it may be presumed, anxiously desired by all.

4. Exports and imports in 1837.

The value of the exports and imports during the year which ended on the 30th of September last, may be seen, accompanied by some interesting details, in the annexed table. The exports are ascertained and estimated to have been $116,906,060.

Of these about $95,153,199 were of domestic and $21,752,861 of foreign origin.

They show since the previous year, a diminution in the former of $11,735,451, and in the latter of only $23,499.

The decrease in the value of domestic exports has been occasioned chiefly by the great fall in the price of cotton during the last spring. They would otherwise have been very large. The exports of foreign merchandise have been prevented from falling much below their former amount by the commercial embarrassments of the times. These particularly in the last quarter, led to an export of foreign articles, unusual in proportion to the imports, for the double purpose of obtaining the drawback on many of them in specie, and of discharging the large debt due abroad.

The value of the imports for the same year was $740,852,900.

This is $49,127,565 less than the value of those during the previous year.

The imports during the last quarter ending September 30th, were only $22,829,811, or at the rate of but $91,318,444 a year.

Perhaps a strong illustration could not exist of the extravagant export trading during 1836, than the fact, now officially ascertained, that the imports, which in natural condition of business, should be less than those of 1837, were nearly fifty millions larger, and were about one hundred millions beyond the rate of imports during the last quarter.

The exports during that quarter were $19,169,034, being $13,605,840 of domestic origin. By this result it will be gratifying to see that the imports, though diminished, were not all needed for home consumption, and that a great proportion of them in former quarters

LATEST FROM UPPER CANADA. TORONTO RE-TAKEN BY THE LOYALISTS.—It appears that the immediate cause of the explosion in Upper Canada was an attempt on the part of the government to arrest Mr. McKenzie, one of the leaders of the Liberal or Radical party, on a charge of treason and sedition.

The Burlington Sentinel Extra of the 9th December, contains the proclamation of Lord Gosford authorizing the execution of Martial Law in the District of Montreal. The proclamation is dated on the 5th instant.

From the Buffalo Daily Journal Extra. 7 P. M. Friday, Dec. 8. We have been favoured with a copy of a letter, of the date of Dec. 7, from Toronto, which states that at the time of writing the letter (about noon) the government forces were engaged with the patriots, about two miles from the city of Toronto, from which place they had been driven.

The express who brought the letter, further states that he came out of the city with the troops, and that before he passed them three rounds had been fired upon the rebels.

From all information that we have gleaned we consider this movement of the reformers, not only ill advised, but also extremely ill managed.

We have also before us a proclamation by Sir F. B. Head, which is full of royal eulogiums and praise of the bravery, &c. of the royalist volunteers.

He also offers a reward of "1000 pounds to any one who will apprehend, and deliver up to justice WILLIAM LYON MACKENZIE, and 500 pounds to any one who will apprehend, and deliver up to justice, DAVID GIBSON, or SAMUEL LOVAT, or JESSE FLOYD, or SILAS FLETCHER, and the same reward and a free pardon will be given to any of their accomplices, who will render this public service, except he or they shall have committed, in his own person, the crime of Murder or Arson."

"And all but the leaders above named," continues this proclamation, "who have been reduced to join this unnatural rebellion, are hereby called to their duty by their Sovereign to obey the laws—and to live henceforward as loyal and faithful subjects—and they will find that their Queen and they are indulgent as to their past offences."

WHIG & ADVOCATE: EASTON, MD.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1837.

The Western Mail had not arrived at the time of our paper going to press last night, (at 10 o'clock,) which will account for any deficiency of matter that may occur in this day's publication.

We are indebted to the Hon. JOHN S. SPENCER for public documents, for which he will accept our thanks.

The Executive Council of Maryland, meets on Thursday next, the 21st instant.

We present to our readers to-day a portion of the Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall conclude it in our next. There are several important documents accompanying the President's Message, all of which we shall, with as little delay as possible, place before our readers.

THE LADY'S BOOK.—We acknowledge the receipt of the December No. of this interesting Magazine. It is embellished with a steel engraved portrait of D'Israeli, and an engraved title page. It contains many excellent original articles and fully sustains the high reputation which it has long enjoyed.

No little excitement was created in this town on Saturday last, by the arrival, on the evening before, of a suspicious individual from Baltimore. He represented himself as a "travelling preacher," and was hospitably received and entertained by one of our citizens, until he avowed himself an Abolitionist, when he was politely requested to depart.

Mr. Mackenzie, we now learn, commanded the reformers in person.

We have also before us a proclamation by Sir F. B. Head, which is full of royal eulogiums and praise of the bravery, &c. of the royalist volunteers.

He also offers a reward of "1000 pounds to any one who will apprehend, and deliver up to justice WILLIAM LYON MACKENZIE, and 500 pounds to any one who will apprehend, and deliver up to justice, DAVID GIBSON, or SAMUEL LOVAT, or JESSE FLOYD, or SILAS FLETCHER, and the same reward and a free pardon will be given to any of their accomplices, who will render this public service, except he or they shall have committed, in his own person, the crime of Murder or Arson."

Backing out movements in Virginia.—The Conservatives in old Albemarle County, have called a meeting among the sub-treasury scheme of Martin Van Buren.—Whig paper.

Mr. PRENTICE of the Louisville Journal declines according to the proposals of his friends at Washington—"the most enlightened and patriotic portion of the most enlightened body in the world" as he styles them,—to take charge of the new Whig paper about to be established at the seat of the General Government.

At the Presidency.—The Atlas calls THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES AN "INSOLENT TRADUCER—SORDID AND VENAL," and charges him with uttering "A BASE, DELIBERATE, AND CONSCIOUS FALSHOOD!"

THE U. S. BANK.—Our readers are already aware that the late Bank Convention held in the city of New York, done nothing towards bringing about a resumption of specie payments. Much has been attributed to the course of Mr. Biddle in this matter by his own party papers. And to show that he does not escape even at their hands, listen to the Albany Journal, a violent Whig paper.

On Foreign Relations.—Messrs. Rowan & Tallmadge, Clay, of Kentucky, Rives and King.

On Finance.—Messrs. Wright, Webster, Nicholas, Benton and Hubbard.

On Commerce.—Messrs. King, of Alabama, Davis, Brown, Hoagles, and Norvell.

On Indian Affairs.—Messrs. White, Sevier, Tipton, Linn, and Swift.

On the Executive.—Messrs. Rives, Southard, Tilden, Cutbert, and Williams.

On Agriculture.—Messrs. Smith of Connecticut, Spence, Linn, McKean, and Black.

PROSPECTUS
OF THE
United States' Magazine
AND DEMOCRATIC REVIEW
ON the 1st of July, 1837, will be published at Washington, District of Columbia, and delivered simultaneously in the principal cities of the United States, a new Monthly Magazine, under the above title, devoted to the principles of the Democratic party.
It has long been apparent to many of the reflecting members of the Democratic party of the United States, that a periodical for the advocacy and diffusion of their political principles, similar to those in such active and in-fluent operation in England, is a desideratum, which it was very important to supply
—a periodical which should unite with the attractions of sound and vigorous literature, a political character capable of giving efficient support to the doctrines and measures of that party, now maintained by a large majority of the people. Discussing the great questions of policy before the country, expounding and advocating the Democratic doctrine through the most able pens that that party can furnish,
in articles of greater length, more condensed force, more elaborate research, and more elevated than is possible for the newspaper press, a Magazine of this character becomes an instrument of inappreciable value
for the enlightenment and formation of public opinion, and for the support of the principles which it advocates. By these means, by thus explaining and defending the measures of the great Democratic party, and by always furnishing to the public a clear and powerful commentary upon those complex questions of policy and party which so often distract, and upon which, imperfectly understood as they are, are frequently by friends, and misrepresented,
and distorted as they never fail to be by political opponents, it is of the utmost importance that the public should be fully and rightly informed; it is hoped that the periodical in question may be made to exert a beneficial, rational, and lasting influence on the public mind.
Other considerations, which cannot be too

MRS. HALE AND MISS LESLIE.
The Lady's Book.

A COLOURED PLATE OF THE LATEST FASHIONS
IN EVERY NUMBER.
Important Announcement,
It was with sincere pleasure that the publisher mentioned last season, the arrangement by which
THE LADY'S BOOK
AND
LADIES AMERICAN MAGAZINE, WERE UNITED, AND TO BE EDITED BY MRS. SARAH J. HALE,
AND
MISS LESLIE,
It is with equal pleasure that he now informs the patrons of the work, that he has made an arrangement with MISS LESLIE,
Author of Pencil Sketches, Mrs. Washington Potts, &c., &c., who will be connected with the Lady's Book. Her powerful aid will commence with the January No. 1838. In addition to the above every number of the work next year will contain A PLATE OF SUPERBLY COLOURED FASHIONS.
The subscriber endeavors by extraordinary exertions to show his gratitude for the very many favours he has received from his kind friends, the public. From among the many female Writers of America perhaps no two Ladies could so well calculated to adorn a work like the Lady's Book. When it is also mentioned that
MRS. SIGOURNEY,
The Heroine of America,
AND
Grenville Mellen,
Are contributors to the poetical department, it will be useless to waste argument in endeavoring to show what is apparent that the Lady's Book will stand unrivalled among the periodicals of the country.
Each Number also contains two pages of FASHIONABLE MUSIC—in many cases original.

highly appreciated, will render the establishment and success of the proposed Magazine of very great importance.
In the mighty struggle of antagonistic principles which is now going on in society, the Democratic Party of the United States stands committed to the world as the depository and exemplar of those cardinal doctrines of political faith with which the cause of the People in every age and country is identified. Chiefly from the want of a convenient means of concentrating the intellectual energies of its disciples, this party has hitherto been almost wholly unrepresented in the republic of letters, while the views and policy of its opposing creeds are daily advocated by the ablest and most commanding efforts of genius and learning.
In the United States' Magazine the attempt will be made to remove the reproach.
The present is the time peculiarly appropriate for the commencement of such an undertaking—The Democratic body of the Union, after a contest which tested to the utmost its stability and its principles, have succeeded in retaining possession of the executive administration of the country. In the consequent comparative repose from political strife, the period is auspicious for organizing and calling to its aid a new and powerful ally of this character, interfering with none and co-operating with all.
Co-ordinate with this main design of the United States' Magazine, no care or cost will be spared to render it, in a literary point of view, honorable to the country; and fit to cope in vigor of rivalry with its European competitors. Young the English language, as the noble heritage and common birth-right of all who speak the tongue of Milton and Shakespeare, will be the uniform object of its conductors to present only the finest productions in the various branches of literature, that can be procured; and to diffuse the benefit of correct models of taste and worthy execution.
In this department the exclusiveness of party, which is inseparable from the political department of such a work, will have no place.
Here we stand on a neutral ground of equity and reciprocity, where those universal principles of taste to which we are all alike subject will alone be recognized as the common law. Our political principles cannot be compromised, but our common literature it will be our common pride to cherish and extend, with a liberality of feeling unbiassed by partial or minor views.
As the United States' Magazine is founded on the broadest basis which the means and influence of the Democratic party in the United States can present, it is intended to render it in every respect a thoroughly NATIONAL WORK, not merely designed for ephemeral interest and attraction, but to continue of permanent historical value. With this view a considerable portion of each number will be appropriated to the following subjects, in addition to the general features referred to a bove.
A general summary of political and domestic intelligence, digested in the order of the States, comprising all the authentic important acts of the preceding month.
General literary intelligence, domestic and foreign.
General scientific intelligence, including agriculture, improvements, a notice of all new patents.
An account of all new works published in the United States throughout the month.
Biographical notices of distinguished persons.
After the close of each session Congress an extra or enlarged number will be published, containing a general review and history of its proceedings, a condensed abstract of its principal official documents, and the acts of the session.
Advantage will also be taken of the means concentrated in this establishment from all quarters of the Union, to collect and digest such extensive statistical observations on all the most important interests of the country as cannot fail to prove of very great value.
This portion of the work will be separately paged so as to admit of binding by itself, and will be furnished with a copious index, so that the United States' Magazine will also constitute a Complete Annual Register, on a scale unattempted before, and of very great importance to all classes, not only as affording a current and continued view, from month to month, of the subjects which will embrace but also for record and reference through future years; the value of which will increase with the duration of the work.
Although in its political character the United States' Magazine addresses its claims to paparricularly the Democratic party, those who hope that its other features referred above—independently of the desirable object of becoming acquainted with the doctrines of its opponents thus advocated—will recommend it to liberal and candid support from all parties, and from the large class of no party.
To promote the popular objects in view, and relying upon the democratic party, as from others, the price of subscription is fixed at the low rate of FIVE DOLLARS per annum;
while in mechanical arrangements, and in size,
quantity of matter, &c., the United States Magazine will be placed on a par at least with the leading monthlies of England. The whole will form three large octavo volumes each year.
The subscription will be in all cases payable in advance, (for the first year only) six dollars on the delivery of the third number. The absolute necessity of this rule in such an establishment will be obvious to all.
In return for remittance of $50, eleven copies will be sent; for $100, twenty three copies. The certificate of a Postmaster of the remittance of a sum of money will be sufficient receipt, all dangers of the mail being a risk of the Publishers.
All communications will be addressed, post paid, to the undersigned, the Publishers,
L. A. LANGRISH & O'SULLIVAN.

PROSPECTUS
OF THE
United States' Magazine
AND DEMOCRATIC REVIEW
ON the 1st of July, 1837, will be published at Washington, District of Columbia,
and delivered simultaneously in the principal cities of the United States, a new Monthly Magazine, under the above title, devoted to
the principles of the Democratic party.
It has long been apparent to many of the
reflecting members of the Democratic party
of the United States, that a periodical for the
advocacy and diffusion of their political principles, similar to those in such active and in-fluent operation in England, is a desidera-
tum, which it was very important to supply
—a periodical which should unite with the attractions of sound and vigorous literature, a political character capable of giving efficient support to the doctrines and measures of that party, now maintained by a large majority of the people. Discussing the great questions of policy before the country, expounding and advocating the Democratic doctrine through the most able pens that that party can furnish,
in articles of greater length, more condensed
force, more elaborate research, and more
elevated than is possible for the newspaper press, a Magazine of this character becomes an instrument of inappreciable value
for the enlightenment and formation of public opinion, and for the support of the principles which it advocates. By these means, by thus explaining and defending the measures of the great Democratic party, and by always furnishing to the public a clear and powerful commentary upon those complex questions of policy and party which so often distract, and upon which, imperfectly understood as they
are, are frequently by friends, and misrepresented,
and distorted as they never fail to be by political opponents, it is of the utmost importance that the public should be fully and rightly informed; it is hoped that the periodical in question may be made to exert a beneficial, rational, and lasting influence on the public mind.

exertions to show his gratitude for the very
many favours he has received from his kind

MRS. SIGOURNEY,
The Heroine of America,

will be useless to waste argument in endeavor-

IMPORTANT FROM WASHINGTON

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN THE SLAVERY QUESTION—WITH DRAWAL OF SOUTHERN MEMBERS.

Our special correspondent, in a note inclosing the annexed notice of yesterday's proceedings in Congress, says:—"We are in the midst of a tremendous excitement on the Slavery Question."—Baltimore American.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Speaker made the fourth appointment of the Committee of Ways and Means this morning.—Mr. Pope of Ky. was selected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Everett.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS was then made the order of the day in the House, and the unfinished was well named the further consideration of the Petitions praying for the Abolition of Slavery in the District of Columbia. The merits of the whole Slave question were involved in the discussion, and the subject was one of unusual interest.

Mr. Slade has had the floor the most of the day, and coming from Vermont, where Abolition grows up spontaneously with children to manhood, you can imagine the character of his Petitions and his speech. To speak of it in a few words, it is the very essence of all that Thompson, Garrison, May & Co. have written and spoken on the exciting topic of Slavery.

In the very outset of his remarks he was interrupted by Mr. Wise of Virginia, for intimating that the motion to lay Abolition memorials upon the table was the result of a combination, &c. on the part of Southern members. Mr. Dawson, of Georgia, also called him to order for the same reference, and Mr. Slade satisfied them by disclaiming all personal feeling and all personal references to the charge.

Mr. Slade continued his remarks and the Southern members became more and more excited. The Speaker at length called him to order for swearing from the subject.

Mr. Legare, of South Carolina, got the floor, and asked permission to say a few words. He was under the influence of great feeling and excitement, and begged the member from Vermont not to proceed. Mr. L. as one of the most eloquent men in the House, was too much excited at the present moment to speak with any degree of coolness. With great ardor and justice he vindicated the South from the attack made by Mr. Slade, and said that the bones and fire-sides of the South—her dearest interests and her peace—her domestic happiness—all that she had and was identified with this question; and he therefore begged that the member from Vermont would desist.

Mr. Slade refused again and again to yield the floor, except when called to order by the members of the House. Mr. Dawson, of Georgia, twice asked permission to reply to some severe remarks made by Mr. S., but Mr. S. refused to yield the floor. His Mr. Legare, much excited, moved an adjourn-from its peculiar construction, adapted to horse power, by which 2 horses are capable of sawing one thousand feet (board measure) in 10 hours. This Mill is calculated to be placed in the midst of the timber, and when all of the timber shall have been consumed the Mill can be moved and placed in the midst of other timber, and in a few days be prepared for business again. The Mill has no crank, but is a simple Rotary Saw with but four Bits; these Bits are inserted in the plate and when one set of Bits shall wear out other new Bits are replaced, and any good Blacksmith can make and put in these Bits. The saw plate will last an age. The entire cost of the Mill including the Patent will not exceed $650. The Patent is now engaged in building a Mill at Tobacco Stick, Dorchester county, where he can be consulted until the 20th of January next, after which time he will return to his native State, (Georgia.)

PROSPECTUS OF THE United States Magazine AND DEMOCRATIC REVIEW

ON the 1st of July, 1837, will be published the first number of the United States Magazine and Democratic Review, and delivered simultaneously in the principal cities of the United States, a new Monthly Magazine, under the above title, devoted to the principles of the Democratic party.

It has long been apparent to many of the reflecting members of the Democratic party on the United States, that a periodical for the advocacy and diffusion of their political principles, similar to those in such active and influential operation in England, is a desideratum, which it was very important to supply.

A periodical which should unite with the attractions of sound and vigorous literature, a political character capable of giving efficient support to the doctrines and measures of that party, now maintained by a large majority of the people. Discussing the great questions of policy before the country, expounding and advocating the Democratic doctrine through the most able pens that the party can furnish, articles of greater length, more condensed, more elaborate research, and more elevated, than is possible for the newspaper press, a Magazine of this character becomes an instrument of inappreciable value for the enlightenment and formation of public opinion, and for the support of the principles which it advocates.

By these means, by thus explaining and defending the measures of the great Democratic party, and by always furnishing to the public clear and powerful commentary upon those complex questions of policy and party which so often distract, and upon which, imperfectly understood as they frequently are by friends, and misrepresented and distorted as they never fail to be by political opponents, it is of the utmost importance that the public should be fully and intelligently informed, it is hoped that the periodical in question may be made to exert a beneficial, rational, and lasting influence on the public mind.

Other considerations, which cannot be too highly appreciated, will render the establishment and success of the proposed Magazine of very great importance.

In the mighty struggle of antagonist principles which is now going on in society, the Democratic Party of the United States stands committed to the world as the depository and exemplar of those cardinal doctrines of political faith with which the cause of the People in every age and country is identified. Chiefly from the want of a convenient means of concentrating the intellectual energies of its disciples, this party has hitherto been almost wholly unrepresented in the republic of letters, while the views and policy of its opposing creeds are daily advocated by the ablest and most commanding efforts of genius and learning.

In the United States Magazine the attempt will be made to remove the reproach. The present is the time peculiarly appropriate for the commencement of such an undertaking—The Democratic body of the Union, after a contest which tested to the utmost its stability and its principles, have succeeded in retaining possession of the executive administration of the country. In the consequent comparative repose from political strife, the period is auspicious for organizing and cultivating a new and powerful ally of this character, interfering with none and co-operating with all.

Co-ordinate with this main design of the United States Magazine, no care or cost will be spared to render it, in a literary point of view, honorable to the country; and fit to cope in vigor of rivalry with its European competitors. Viewing the English language as the noble heritage and common birth-right of all who speak the tongue of Milton and Shakespeare, will be the uniform object of its conductors to present only the finest productions in the various branches of literature, that can be procured; and to diffuse the benefit of correct models of taste and worthy execution.

In this department the exclusiveness of party, which is inseparable from the political department of such a work, will have no place. Here we stand on a neutral ground of equity and reciprocity, where we are all alike subject to the same laws, and where no principle will be compromised, but our common literature will be for our common pride to cherish and extend, with a liberality of feeling unbiassed by partial or minor views.

As the United States Magazine is founded on the broadest basis which the means and influence of the Democratic party in the United States can present, it is intended to render it in every respect a thoroughly NATIONAL WORK, not merely designed for ephemeral interest and attraction, but to continue of permanent historical value. With this view, a considerable portion of each number will be appropriated to the following subjects, in addition to the general features referred to above.

A general summary of political and domestic intelligence, digested in the order of the states, comprising all the authentic important acts of the preceding month.

General literary intelligence; domestic and foreign intelligence.

General scientific intelligence, including agricultural improvements, a notice of all new patents, &c.

A condensed account of all new works of Internal Improvements throughout the Union, presented in a tabular form, and now in operation.

Military and naval news, promotions, changes, &c.

Foreign intelligence.

Biographical obituary notices of distinguished persons.

After the close of each session of Congress, an extra or an enlarged number will be published, containing a general review and summary of its proceedings, a condensed abstract of its important official documents, and the Acts of the session.

Advantage will also be taken of the means afforded in this establishment from all quarters of the Union, to collect and digest such extensive statistical observations on all the most important interests of the country as cannot fail to prove of very great value.

This portion of the work will be separately pagged so as to admit of binding by itself, and will be furnished with a copious index, so that the United States Magazine will also constitute a Complete Annual Register, on a scale unattempted before, and of very great importance to all classes, not only as affording a current and combined view, from month to month, of the subjects which will embrace both also for record and reference through the duration of the work.

Although in its political character the United States Magazine addresses its claims to party particularly the Democratic party, it is not intended that its other features referred to above—independently of the desirable object of becoming acquainted with the doctrines of its opponents—will recommend it to liberal and candid support from all parties, and from the large class of no party.

To promote the popular object in view, from others, the price of subscription is fixed at the low rate of FIVE DOLLARS per annum; while in mechanical arrangements, and in size of matter, &c., the United States Magazine will be placed on a par at least with the leading monthlies of England. The whole will form three large octavo volumes each year.

The subscription will be in all cases payable in advance, or (for the first year only) six dollars on the delivery of the third number. The absolute necessity of this rule in such an establishment will be obvious to all.

In return for remittance of $50, eleven copies will be sent; for $100, twenty three copies. The certificate of a Postmaster of the remittance of a sum of money will be sufficient receipt, all dangers of the mail being at the risk of the Publishers.

All communications will be addressed, post paid, to the undersigned, the Publishers, LANGTREE & O'SULLIVAN, Washington, D. C. April, 1837.

Brandreth's Vegetable Universal PILLS.

THE Subscriber has sold upwards of 1600 Boxes of the above named Pills, which fully substantiate what Dr. Brandreth has put forth in his advertisements. Within the last 6 months the sale of these Pills has increased very rapidly, and now my sales are about 200 Boxes per month. Hundreds of persons in this country can be referred to who have been cured by this Medicine when all others have failed.

SECURITY AGAINST COUNTERFEITS.—Dr. Brandreth has adopted the following plan to secure the GENUINE BRANDRETH PILLS to the public. Every authorized agent must have one of the following Certificates of Agency; and it will be seen that a person procuring a forged certificate, before any person saving the forger. No one will be liable with the forger. No one will be liable in a State Prison, for the sale of a box of counterfeit Brandreth Pills. As last I hope so.

(Copy of Certificate of Agency.) BRANDRETH'S VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL PILLS. Security against Counterfeits.

The within named, R. R. GREEN, Baltimore, is my appointed General Agent for the states of Maryland and Virginia, District of Columbia, in the United States of America, and this letter, which is signed by me, BENJAMIN BRANDRETH, in my hand writing, must also be signed by the named General Agent, whose name also appears in the principal papers of the United States. This caution has become absolutely necessary, to guard the public against the numerous counterfeits which are out of above popular medicines.

This letter will be renewed every two months. Therefore, should any alteration be made in the date, do not purchase, until you are satisfied.

Signed B. BRANDRETH, New York, January, 1837. R. R. GREEN, General Agent.

COUNTERFEIT BRANDRETH PILLS. CAUTION!—THE BUYER'S WARNING.

IF it be a duty incumbent on a physician who has been relieved by good medicine to publish his case for the benefit of mankind, how much more is it his BOUNDEN DUTY to give notice to the community when he has been injured by a DRUG lately called medicine, and which has been put into him under the name and well earned fame of genuine cathartics. Under these impressions the subscriber deems it his imperious duty to state the following facts.

Some few months since, while suffering under a severe disposition, I applied to the vice of my friends and made (what Brandreth's Universal Pills, although I could not believe in their efficacy, having been told of the usual remedies peculiar to complaint without avail. I accordingly applied to the office in Charles street, procured a box of the Genuine Pills, and printed directions with which it was furnished, and after the gratification to find after a few doses, the remedy under which I had been so long suffering, my system was gradually induced, and my system was relieved, that I have received a real benefit from the use of a single box of these Pills, than from any medicine that has ever been administered to me. I will therefore take the liberty to recommend them to my friends as a medicine which I believe to be perfectly harmless, and which may be taken at all times and under circumstances not only with perfect safety, but with beneficial results. For my own part, I shall use no other, so long as I possess a single person such ample testimony of their efficacy, and salutary properties under the name of the Pills, than from any source that has ever been made known to me. I will therefore take the liberty to recommend them to my friends as a medicine which I believe to be perfectly harmless, and which may be taken at all times and under circumstances not only with perfect safety, but with beneficial results. For my own part, I shall use no other, so long as I possess a single person such ample testimony of their efficacy, and salutary properties under the name of the Pills, than from any source that has ever been made known to me.
