CORNER-STONE OF M. E. CHURCH EDIFICE LAID

The Address Delivered By Rev. Dr. Martindale A Former Pastor

The corner stone of the new Antioch M. E. Church was laid last Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The regular service of the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church was used as follows:

The service was opened by the pastor, Rev. D. J. Givan. Dr. T. A. H. O'Brien, district superintendent, announced hymn 556 in the Methodist Hymnal, and then led the congregation in prayer. Psalm 132 was then read. 1 Cor., 3, 9-23, was then read and hymn 657 was announced. Dr. T. E. Martindale, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Salisbury, who was junior pastor of Antioch M. E. Church in 1866 with Rev. George A. Phoebus, pastor in charge, delivered the following most able address:

"Brother Pastor and Christian Friends: You have come to a most interesting and auspicious day in the history of this church. You are about to take a forward step in an enterprise which the good angels in the sky will look down upon with exceeding pleasure. It seems almost like a common-place for a speaker to extend the ordinary congratulatory. The occasion, the purpose and the sure presence of the great Head of the Church—all these consecrate the hour and hallow the ceremony as no poor and formal words could do.

"Long ago Joshua and the people of Israel set up certain stones in Gilgal, which they had brought out of the river Jordan. Joshua in explanation said to the heads of the tribes, in their day your children will pass by this spot and they will ask you what do you mean by these stones, and you will tell them what God Almighty did when he brought you through the turbid waters dry shod and put upon your feet the wings of conquest. These stones are to witness the miracle. Very fittingly you might ask today the very same question of this later Joshua, sitting here on the stone and his loyal people, what do you mean by this stone? and there are certain implications, which reasonably constitute the correct answer to that question. My address will attempt to show what these implications are.

"In the first place, this stone is set against its altars and foundations. Many tears shall be dried up here. Many mourners shall come and lay down their burdens. Many publicans shall smite their breasts and go down justified. Dear refuge of the just, guide of the straying, home of the Saints! Bunyon's white chamber of peace for the aged, who are waiting for the shadows to grow just a little longer. The True Church of the Living God. What can happen here no man can dare prophesy. Oh, beautiful house of God, with its roof future full of blessing and victories! Oh, builders, lay this stone true and plumb and square, call down upon it the smile of the God who lives, and who will help these people to bring their glorious purpose to fulfillment."

Unfortunately Dr. C. A. Hill and Dr. Stephenson could not be present. Mr. W. H. Dashiell, of the board of trustees, then read an historical account of Antioch Church and also a list of the various memorials placed in the corner stone, as follows:

The Holy Bible, presented by G. W. Brown.

The Methodist Hymnal, presented by the Young Men's Organized Bible Class of fifty members. Mrs. D. J. Givan is the teacher and Mr. Charles Young is the president.

Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, 1912, presented by Miss Margaret Pusey.

Official minutes of the Wilmington Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, presented by Dr. T. A. H. O'Brien, District Superintendent of Salisbury district.

The Methodist Year Book, presented by the pastor, Rev. D. J. Givan.

Periodicals—The Marylander and Herald, the Crisis News, The New York Christian Advocate, The Methodist Times, The Methodist, The Sunday School Journal.

A list of the contributors.

The metallic box into which the memorials were placed was made and presented by Mr. H. C. Waller, of Princess Anne.

Among these memorials was the following signed by eight of the nine trustees of the church, the pastor and the district superintendent:

"The Board of Trustees and Pastor of Antioch Methodist Episcopal Church wish to certify to the coming generations that the erection of this new church is largely due to the great liberality of our brother, Thomas H. Bock, President of the Board of Trustees. Brother Bock not only gave largely of his means, but also his advice, his counsel and his work. Therefore he was the leading spirit that made it possible to lay this corner stone for the foundation of a house to be built and consecrated to the service of Almighty God. With the high appreciation of the trustees, church and pastor, to Brother Bock for his beneficent gift, for his wise counsel, for his untiring Christian activity in this service of God to serve many; we as trustees and pastor invoke Heaven's blessings upon him and upon all who have contributed toward the success of this most needed and worthy enterprise."

The final service of laying the corner stone was performed by the pastor, (Continued on 5th page, third column) church to live and to be worthy to live; to furnish break-waters for men and break-waters for souls, and furnish munitions of rock for men to live in, and everlasting hills for men to build on. We do not expect the church to be jostled by the storms all about her. Let me tell you that pure and undefiled religion will last, because the Everlasting God is its structure. The stone that was cut out of the mountain will not crumble and will not turn to dust. It grew, it opened like a red rose until it filled the whole earth. The Pyramid last; Sinai is still there; Hermon has not vanished; the Mt. of Olives abides; the Rockies continue. So will the church of our Father and our church, while the breakers of sin and time dash vainly against the palisades of truth and of trust.

"There is a third implication connected with the service of this day. The block of stone is after all only a figure, a striking emblem of something else. What is the reality then of which this is the type? Turn to your Bibles and you see how they will spiritualize this entire occasion and all these factors that go to make it up. The Church of God is a living structure, a building of throbbing hearts and souls and characters. Men, women and children compacted into a holy temple of adoring and transfused personality. And what does this book propose to put under such a living church as a foundation? When we answer that question visions of glory begin to grow in our minds. This foundation put under the living church is a Christ Stone, the church's one foundation is Jesus Christ, Her Lord. It is a living stone. It is not a dead Christ in a crypt under the base of the temple, as we find in the city of Annapolis a dead hero under the altar of the Memorial Church there. Easter once broke over the crypt and our Christ is out and alive forevermore. There is a pulse in the stone about which I am speaking. It is a precious stone—not a common boulder of sand stone or granite. It is a crown jewel, a pearl of great price, the Kohinoor diamond set in the breast-plate of Jesus, the Crystal Christ.

"There is a final implication. What we are doing here today is but the beginning of things, certainly not the end. It is the first chapter in the book. What shall the future be? What shall happen here in years to come? Lift the veil and try to imagine. What miracles of salvation, what visions of God, what books of character? Surely will come against its altars and foundations. Many tears shall be dried up here. Many mourners shall come and lay down their burdens. Many publicans shall smite their breasts and go down justified. Dear refuge of the just, guide of the straying, home of the Saints! Bunyon's white chamber of peace for the aged, who are waiting for the shadows to grow just a little longer. The True Church of the Living God. What can happen here no man can dare prophesy. Oh, beautiful house of God, with its roof future full of blessing and victories! Oh, builders, lay this stone true and plumb and square, call down upon it the smile of the God who lives, and who will help these people to bring their glorious purpose to fulfillment."

DEMOCRATS GATHER IN BALTIMORE

Biggest Crowd At State Committee Meeting Seen For Years

Prominent party men from all sections of Maryland attended the meeting at the Hotel Rennett last Wednesday afternoon of the Democratic State Central Committee when the agreement entered into between Chairman Murray Vandiver and Chairman Galen L. Tait of the Republican State Central Committee, under which the State primaries will be held on September 14, was ratified.

The crowd was the largest that has attended a political gathering of the same nature in Baltimore for a long time. A short while before the meeting was called to order the lobby of the hotel was crowded almost to the limit of its capacity. It was the first opportunity most of the politicians have had for talking the situation over and they were making the most of it.

In addition to ratifying the date for the primaries, the committee adopted a resolution authorizing Chairman Vandiver to determine the time and place for holding the State convention and another providing that each county in the State and each legislative district in the city shall be entitled to elect as many delegates to the convention as it has representatives in the General Assembly.

Under the law, the State convention must meet at least five weeks prior to the general election to be held in November. Its duty will be to ratify the results of the primary and to adopt a party platform. It is customary to hold State conventions within a week or two weeks after the primaries, and General Vandiver is expected to follow this precedent when he decides when the next convention shall be held.

Both Senator Lee and Emerson Harrington, candidates for the nomination for Governor were of hand. Albert C. Ritchie, candidate on the Harrington ticket for the nomination for Attorney General was seen mingling with the crowd. So was William B. Conner, candidate of the Lee ticket for the nomination for State Treasurer.

Hugh A. McMillen, Mr. Conner's opponent, was not present. Senator John Walfer Smith also dropped in for a while. Like most of the others present, he seemed to be trying to get a line on the situation throughout the State.

After the meeting was over General Vandiver entertained those present at a luncheon served at the Rennett.

PROBLEM FOR A SOLOMON

Attorney Tull Files Petition To Condemn Oyster Lots

Attorney Gordon Tull, of Princess Anne, on the 18th and 17th of last month filed in the Circuit Court for Somerset County petitions to condemn the Shepherd Oyster Law, many of the lots heretofore leased, but which the preliminary proceedings already in the same court, have been found to be natural beds and there are more than 40 holders of embracing 2,700 or more acres, in county, and from the testimony of witnesses, chiefly oystermen, well situated with the areas in question, said that all of the lots referred to abundantly supplied and covered marketable oysters; it is estimated the value of oysters on the lots, declared to be natural rocks, is at $100 per acre, or in its entirety, aggregating $270,000, to which must be added the value of the lessees rights interests in the lots, which the next day will probably be called upon to contribute to these lessees in Somerset county alone, in order that when the oystermen may resort to leased lots, as well as to other bottoms, for a livelihood.

It is realized that there are other tidewater counties affected in a similar manner as is Somerset, it will be that in all probability it will require a legislative appropriation of as much as $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 before leased oyster bottoms which have been adjudicated as natural rocks, can be used to the use of the oystermen. Therefore, a live question with the oystermen is whether or not the legislature will ever consent to make compensation to the lessees, and thereby place a heavy burden on the taxpayers of the tidewater sections, as well as the oystermen themselves, especially in view of the fact that the oystermen from the first-named section are largely outnumbered those from other sections.

As a matter of fact, under the terms of the Shepherd Act, none of the rights, interests or property of these lessees shall be divested, and in such event, of course, none of these bottoms can be used by the oysterman and the law will prove of no benefit to them whatever.

Many who have thought of these features of the Shepherd act believe, and state as their opinion, that no such tax will be consented to, and that the oystermen are misled into believing they will get these lots for their use, when, as pointed out, it is certain that no one can say, with any assurance, that the oystermen will ever get the right to catch oysters on the bottoms in question, because no one can tell, in advance, that the legislature will ever make the large appropriation necessary to pay the lessees and thus open up the grounds for public use, and this is especially emphasized, in view of the fact pointed out by Comptroller Harrington, that the last legislature appropriated more than a million and a half dollars in excess of the revenue of the State, for the fiscal years of 1914 and 1915.

Another item of expense in connection with these condemnation proceedings, in which the taxpayers are interested, is that the law provides that in each of the 40 or more cases in this county a special session of court must be held, and 20 jurors selected by the judge to attend in each case, and this item will involve probably a tax upon the county, primarily, for the attendance of jurors and other officers of the court for a period of 40 days, at an estimated cost of $100 per day, or $4,000, at least, to cover the expenses of the trials, and this is regarded as a moderate estimate, because the law also provides that the panel shall be conveyed to the oyster lots or premises in order to ascertain the value of the property so to be condemned.

When your power passes, then the truth of Rosenthal's murder will become known. But not while your nominees remain District Attorneys and can hold the club over these persons. With the aid of judges who were misled into misconceiving the testimony offered on my trial, and into mistating it to the jury and on the appeal you have proved yourself able to destroy my life. But, believe me, I will surrender it without ransom. Not all the judges in this State, nor in this country, nor the Governor of this State, nor the District Attorney, nor all combined, can destroy permanently the character of an innocent man."

MAYOR PRESTON'S SPEECH IN PRINCESS ANNE

MR. SMITH HAS SHOCKING ACCIDENT

Has Left Arm Broken Off And Sustained Other Injuries

Last Saturday morning Mr. John Smith met with a shocking accident while at work in the Cohn & Bock Company's lumber mill at Princess Anne.

Mr. Smith had been engaged in cutting and relacing a belt, and while replacing it on the pulley, in some manner, his left arm was caught in the belting and broken entirely off about four inches below the shoulder. The bone was shattered and splintered. He was also cut over the left eye and on the left cheek and had his head bruised in several places. Mr. Smith does not know how the accident occurred, as he only recollects being struck on the head by the belt.

Mr. Smith was taken to the office of Dr. Charles W. Wainwright, who rendered surgical aid and accompanied him to the Peninsula General Hospital, at Salisbury, as fast as an automobile could be rushed. It was found that no amputation was necessary. The stump of the arm was dressed and the patient made as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. His physician says that his patient, with due care, will soon be out again.

Mr. Smith is an old and trusted employe in the mill, which only goes to show that accidents will occur when least expected. Mr. Smith is married and has one son, about 12 years old, and resides at "Somerset Heights."

Charles Becker Electrocuted

Former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, of New York, twice convicted for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was electrocuted at 5:47 o'clock last Friday morning.

His wife made a final appeal to Governor Whitman on Thursday night and counsel also attempted to secure a reprieve, but the Governor refused to intervene.

In a written appeal to the Governor, Becker urged the executive to "clear him of the stigma he said would be upon him by the Governor's recent statement. He again declared his innocence and bitterly scathed the Governor as follows:

"I am innocent as you of having murdered Herman Rosenthal, or of having counseled, procured or aided his murder, or having any knowledge of that dreadful crime."

"Mark well, sir, these words of mine. When your power passes, then the truth of Rosenthal's murder will become known. But not while your nominees remain District Attorneys and can hold the club over these persons. With the aid of judges who were misled into misconceiving the testimony offered on my trial, and into mistating it to the jury and on the appeal you have proved yourself able to destroy my life. Who Did "The Times" Counting?

The statement made in the last issue of The Crisis Times that there were "just 384 persons" present at the Lee meeting, recently held in this town, is only another instance of the unreliability of any statement published by that paper.

Mr. E. H. Dougherty, the owner of the Auditorium, makes the following statement in regard to the number present at the meeting:

"I have read the statement in The Times and it is a gross miscount. Knowing the seating capacity of the Auditorium, as I do, I can state that there were at least 600 present. I have conducted a store immediately under the Auditorium for the past twelve years and have witnessed every political meeting held in the building during that time. The Lee meeting was the largest political meeting held in the Auditorium during that period and I believe that the number of voters present was twice as large as I ever saw here. The meeting was attended almost entirely by men, as not more than 15 or 20 ladies and children were present."

Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, of Tennessee, are visiting Mrs. E. I. Brown.

Mrs. Lawson and daughter, Vivian, and Misses Annie and Ethel Melvin, of Hopewell, spent last week at the M. E. Parsonage. Mt. Vernon, as guests of Mrs. W. H. Revelle.

Sunday was the hottest day this summer, the thermometer registering 94 degrees in the shade. A thunder storm with a light rainfall cooled the atmosphere off about 7 o'clock and the night was more pleasant.

John Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church, of Mt. Vernon, will hold a supper, and festival in their hall and grove Wednesday, August 4th. All the delicacies of the season will be served. Come and get a good supper.

States His Reasons Why He Favors Blair Lee For Governor

The following is the speech delivered by Mayor James H. Preston on Saturday, July 24th, which we promised should be forthcoming in this issue:

"At the request of the leading Democrats of this county, I am here to state briefly the reasons why I am in favor of the nomination of Blair Lee by the Democratic party for the office of Governor of Maryland.

"It ought not to be necessary for a Democrat from Baltimore city to make any apology for expressing his choice between the candidates for the nomination for Governor of the State. The Democrats of Baltimore are as much interested in the welfare of the State as Democrats in any of the counties. A Democratic vote in Baltimore city counts as much toward the election of the Governor as a vote in any county of the State, and in recent elections, the Democratic majority in Baltimore city has been larger than that in all of the counties of the State put together.

"Under the principle of the Primary Election Law, which I heartily endorse, every Democrat has the right to have an equal voice in the selection of the nominee of his party. Under the County Unit System, a Democrat in Baltimore city does not, in fact, have an equal voice in the selection of the nominee for Governor. I am not in favor of the County Unit System. Blair Lee is in favor of the County Unit System, that question does not enter into this campaign. The city has nothing to hope from either, so far as any change is concerned that will affect the present County Unit System. Blair Lee has not changed his position, he has promised to change his position on that question, in order to gain favor with the Democrats of the city. Notwithstanding his position on that question, I and I believe a great majority of the Democrats of Baltimore city, are supporting Lee for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

"Baltimore city has not had a Governor of Maryland since Governor McLean, who was elected in 1833 and resigned to become minister to France in 1835. For thirty years, without a break, every Governor has come from one of the counties of the State. For thirty years the voters of Baltimore city have been confined, just as they are confined in this campaign, to a choice between Democrats, all of whom are from the counties. Until this campaign no one ever questioned the right of a Democrat in Baltimore city to express his choice between the different candidates from the counties; but this year, as soon as it became apparent that the Democrats of Baltimore preferred Lee, certain of the newspapers and politicians of the State took the position that we have not any right to have a preference between the two Democrats—one from Montgomery county and the other from Dorchester county.

"These politicians and newspapers supporting Mr. Harrington seemed to think that Baltimore city Democrats ought to sit still with their mouths shut and let the question of a nominee of the Democratic party for Governor of the State of Maryland be decided by the Democratic voters residing outside of Baltimore city. Just as soon as it became apparent that the Democrats of Baltimore preferred the candidate from Montgomery county to the candidate from Dorchester county, a cry was raised by certain persons and county newspapers that Blair Lee and myself had entered into some scheme for the domination of the counties by Baltimore city. This is the first time any such absurd contention was ever made.

"In the primaries in 1899, the Baltimore city Democrats favored a Democrat from Worcester county. He was nominated and elected. In 1903 the Democrats of Baltimore favored the nomination of a Democrat from Howard county. He was nominated and elected. In 1907 the Democrats of Baltimore city favored the nomination of a Democrat from Cecil county. He was nominated and elected.

"Everyone knows that there was no attempt by Baltimore city to dominate the counties following the election of Governor Smith, Governor Warfield or Governor Crothers. Every sensible man knows that it is not possible for Baltimore city to dominate the counties. Baltimore city has 24, out of 107 members of the House of Delegates. The counties have more than 3 to 1. In the Senate the city has 4 out of 28. The counties have just 6 to 1. No law can pass without it gets a majority of the votes in the House, where the counties have more than 3 to 1, and in the Senate where the counties have 6 to 1. This representation cannot be changed except by a constitutional convention, where the counties would have the same representation of members or by an amendment to the Constitution. An amendment to the Constitution must first be passed by a majority of the members of the lower House, where the counties have more than 3 to 1, and by a majority of the members of the Senate, where the counties have 6 to 1. The election of a Governor cannot change this situation. Nobody believes that the nomination and election of Lee will be followed by an attempt on the part of Baltimore city to dominate the counties. The politicians and newspapers that are making that statement don't believe it themselves. They are simply trying to get votes for Mr. Harrington by attempting to stir up prejudice in the counties against the city, and they are attempting to do this by trying to excite a fear of city domination, which they know is false and groundless. There is no real conflict between the city and counties. The Democrats in the city are the same kind of human

A Fortune Telling System

By F. A. MITCHEL

A table was between them. They had been playing euchre. She suggested a game of hearts.

"No, thanks," he said, "I am not so stupid as to play a game of hearts with a coquette. Your victims are already sufficiently numerous without adding so unworthily a person as myself."

"You know very well what I mean. You simply wish to say something smart."

She was shuffling the cards, but her mind was not on them. What her mind was on, or rather, what was on her mind, did not interest him. She was right in inferring that his remark was intended for something smart.

While she was listlessly shuffling the cards she leaned forward so that the perfume of a flower she wore in her corsage was perilously near his nose. Her red lips were still nearer his. She was looking down at the cards, but presently raised her eyes. They met his resting upon her admiringly, but she dropped them at once.

"Shall I tell your fortune?" she asked.

"Do."

She began to distribute the cards on the table in four piles. Whenever she put a card on the fourth pile she paused and studied it. He asked her what process she was using and she told him it was one she had learned from a fortune teller. A spider laying for a fly is not expected to speak the truth.

She put down four cards, then another four cards, the second fourth card being the knave of spades.

"That's you," she said.

"I'm no knave."

"But you're awfully smart. You scintillate with bright sayings."

He swallowed this little bit of preliminary bait, and it made him hungry for more.

Presently the ten of diamonds fell on the second pile of cards.

"That's a wealthy girl who is angling for you," said the fortune teller.

"What's her name?"

"I know her name, but I'm not going to tell you."

The two of spades fell in the first pile.

"A black dove indicates that she is crafty. Better look out for her. She will make you a lot of trouble."

The ten of hearts fell on the first pile.

"That's the girl who really loves you. She is true hearted, and if you return her love she will make you very happy."

"I don't quite understand this scheme under which you are working all this out," he said, with a puzzled expression. "I don't see why the ten spots are a couple of girls or why you infer those things, no matter what pile they fall on."

"Of course you don't. What kind of fortune would it be if you did?"

By this time she had dealt all the cards and, putting them together again, shuffled them and began anew, this time laying them in six rows, placing one card beneath another, so that all were exposed. The third card in the first column was the ten of diamonds, and the fourth card in the sixth column was the jack of clubs.

"Too bad!" exclaimed the fortune teller. "The expected has happened. The rich girl has thrown you over for a man who is brutal."

"That's the queerest fortune telling system to understand I ever came across," he said.

She continued to deal the cards very slowly. They were both watching them intently as they fell, gradually bending lower and lower over them. At last a rebellious strand of her hair grazed his forehead. A fine wire is sufficient to carry an electric current, and a few hairs may carry a love current. The ten of hearts fell at the bottom of the fifth column. She left her hand on it, and, putting his hand on it at the same time, he touched her. She did not withdraw hers, and he maintained his position.

"Don't go any further till you have explained to me why this card falling at the bottom of the fifth column means that the girl who loves me is—"

"Is what?"

"What you're going to say about her."

"What am I going to say about her?" This dialogue, spoken slowly and softly, is not especially brilliant, but it was quite sufficient to serve the purpose of these two—that is, keeping their hands in touch. She raised her lashes and looked into his eyes with something that might have been reproachful; it might have been inviting; it might have been anything he chose to infer it to be. Meanwhile the fragrance of the flower mingled with her breath, circled about his nose and permeated through it up into his brain.

It would be sacrilegious to follow further the blending of these two young hearts. Besides, it would be a repetition of what has occurred since Cupid first began his pranks. And yet the little reveal his an infinite variety of ways of practicing his profession, and nothing is achieved in life in so many different ways as the drawing together of a pair of lovers.

"I say, mummy," he said when their daughter was receiving attention from a desirable party, "you'd better teach her that fortune telling game you taught me."

"It is not necessary," replied the wife and mother, with dignity.

Trap For Quotation Experts.
If any one wants a catch question to spring on a gathering of self confessed literary sharps let him ask whence comes the quotation, "One touch of nature makes the whole world kin." This is one of the six best sellers in the world of quotations, yet not one person in a hundred knows where it comes from. It is comparatively easy to guess the author, but almost impossible to find a person who can name the work.

One could build any number of parlor games around "One touch of nature makes the whole world kin." Try it—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Be A Line.
A soldier on guard was questioned as to his knowledge of his duties. "You know your duty here, do you, sentinel?"
"Yes, sir."
"Well, now, suppose they should open on you with shells and musketry, what would you do?"
"Form a line, sir."
"What! One man form a line?"
"Yes, sir; form a bee line for camp, sir."—New York American.

An Epitaph.
In a rural cemetery in south Florida there is a tombstone upon which a widow has had inscribed these words: "Rest in peace—until we meet again."—Florida Times-Union.

Have Sharp Ears.
"Women are not good listeners."
"Evidently you've never had much experience with female help."—Boston Transcript.

30,000 VOICES
And Many Are The Voices Of Princess Anne People
Thirty thousand voices—What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Princess Anne people are in this chorus. Here's a Princess Anne case:
John W. Heath, farmer, R. F. D. No. 2, Princess Anne, says: "For more than a year I suffered from distressing attacks of backache and at times my back became so weak I could hardly work. The kidney secretions were also irregular in passage and there was sediment in them. Having heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box at Omar A. Jones' drug store and gave them a trial. They helped me at once and thus convinced me of their merit." (Statement given Oct. 14, 1907). Over four years later Mr. Heath said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me is still permanent."

CALLED THE GAME.
Two Foul Balls Shocked the Australian Sense of Propriety.
A game of baseball that was scheduled as a feature of the police and firemen's patriotic carnival at the agricultural show grounds came to an abrupt and dramatic conclusion almost before it was started. It was a match game, America versus Australia.

In America's second inning a player deflected a fast ball straight for the densest portion of the crowd, and a scream was heard. "The ambulance men rushed to the spot and found that a woman had been struck on the head by the ball, but was not seriously injured."

Without waiting to see if any damage had been done the players coolly procured another ball and continued the game just as if nothing out of the ordinary had happened. A few moments later this ball was also deflected to the upper story of the pavilion, striking a man on the shoulder.
At this Mr. Flowers, the minister for health, who was present, rushed out on to the ground and called out. "Stop this silly game!"
The players promptly obeyed his orders, and play ceased.—Sydney (Australia) Herald.

The City.
Cities are made, not born. No two cities are alike. The sum of one city is never equal to all the parts of another. Once a city, not always a city; sometimes only a dust heap. A city is made up of a part of the country filled with inhabitants. It consists of houses, streets and debts. No city is complete without a hospital and a franchise plant. The hospital is used to shelter its victims and to provide its surgeons with plenty of working material. The franchise plant enable it to support politicians. A city without politicians would be like a steam laundry without Ray steam.
Cities are an antidote for fama. Up to date, however, no cure has been found for the antidote.—Life.

The Stuart Penny.
A pamphlet published in 1877, entitled "The Worth of a Penny, or, a Caution to Keep Money, With the Causes of the Scarcity and Misery of the Want Thereof In These Hard and Merciless Times," contains a list of articles obtainable for a penny in the days of Charles II. These include "a dish of coffee to quicken your stomach and refresh your spirits," "a fair cucumber" and "portions of such commodities as nuts, vinegar, grapes, cake, onions and oatmeal." The catalogue of penny-worths obtainable at an apothecary's is a lengthy one and includes "lecture to make you sleep, mitochondria to make you sweat and aniseed, which may save your life in a fainting or swoon."—London Mirror.

MAYOR PRESTON'S SPEECH

In another column we give in full the speech delivered in Princess Anne on July 24th by Mayor James H. Preston, of Baltimore. It will be interesting for the Democrats of this county to read this speech, as in it the Mayor defines his position as a supporter of Hon. Blair Lee, who is contending for the gubernatorial nomination.

In his speech the Mayor did not refer to his manuscript, but spoke orally in a most entertaining way. It was not only entertaining, however, but also convincing as to why Mr. Lee should receive the support of Baltimore city.

Mayor Preston contends that in all his travels with Mr. Lee he finds him to be distinctly the man for the Governorship; that four years ago a great blunder was committed and that blunder, he claims, ought to be corrected now. Those who heard Mayor Preston will be glad to review his utterances and it is with great pleasure that we are able to reproduce them.

Governor Out of the Race

Governor Goldsborough last Wednesday night at Annapolis, in the following statement, eliminated himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor:

"Four years ago I was unanimously nominated for the office of governor of Maryland by the Republican party and subsequently elected.

"I again became a candidate for that office. A most painstaking survey of party conditions in the State clearly shows that there is no possible chance of securing such nomination by even a close approach to practical unanimity, and, therefore, I have determined not to contest for this honor in a bitter primary.

"I am most mindful and deeply appreciative of the public honors which have been bestowed upon me and I trust that my friends and public generally will believe that every public duty which I have been called upon to perform has been met with fidelity and with such measure of ability as I was capable of giving.

"Whatever political ambition I may have had has been satisfied through the loyal support of my party, my appreciation of which is beyond expression, and knowing that its unity and power will be impaired by a heated primary contest, I, therefore, am unwilling to take any step which may tend to injure its chances in the coming election."

The Revolver

As long as man continues to buy gold bricks of ingratiating strangers, to wager their savings on fake horse races in imitation poolrooms, to advance money for the recovery of the hidden treasures of prisoners in Spanish jails, to rock rowboats, to hunt for leaks in the gas system with lighted candles, and to swallow poison taken by mistake from the medicine closet in the dark, they may be expected to point supposedly empty revolvers at other people with fatal results. The New Jersey farmer who shot and killed a boy while showing him how an automatic pistol works "didn't know it was loaded." If this accident had happened in a community remote from civilization, where the illuminating rays of the daily newspaper are never shed, it might be explicable. The thousands of similar accidents chronicled in the press, however, should by this time have enforced the lesson upon all who can read that it is criminal folly to point a revolver, loaded or unloaded, at a human being, except when such an act is justifiable as a menace of death. —Philadelphia Record.

$100 Reward $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh, Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75 cents. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Auditor's Notice

William S. Bennett vs. Joseph P. Muir and Elwood Dowling, Receivers.

All persons interested in the proceeds of the sale of the property of Joseph P. Muir and William S. Bennett, partners, trading as Muir & Bennett, made and reported by George H. Myers, receiver, are hereby notified to file their claims with the vouchers thereof, duly authenticated according to law, with me on or before the third day of September 1915, as I shall on that day, at my office in Princess Anne, proceed to distribute the assets of said estate among the persons thereto entitled according to law.

E. D. McMASTER, Auditor.

Going Off At Half-Cock

When Colonel Roosevelt denounced the sinking of the American ship Leelanaw as a "damnable outrage," and wanted to know if his "pacific friends" would "wait a whole year to discuss it, and then do nothing," he was, it is charitable to assume, speaking according to his custom, without knowledge of or regard for the facts of the case under discussion.

According to apparently trustworthy advices, the Leelanaw was halted by a German submarine and boarded by a portion of her crew, whose legitimate object was to ascertain the nature of her cargo. The cargo proved to be flax, which is on the German contraband list, and its destination was an enemy port. The Germans thereupon ordered the Leelanaw's crew to take to the boats and sunk the ship.

This is hardly a "damnable outrage," though those of us who disagree with the Colonel will doubtless be denounced as milkops and mollycoddles. It appears at this writing that the German act was in contravention of an ancient treaty still in force, though in accord with the general principles of international law. In a similar case the German Government has agreed to make reparation. There is no reason to doubt that it will make the necessary amends in the Leelanaw case. There is nothing in the incident to get excited about; nothing to cause any leveled-headed man to lose his balance.

Our principal contention in our most acute discussion with Germany has been the practicability of exercising the right of visit and search, and of making provision for the safety of lives of non-combatants, before submarine attack on merchant vessels. The hold-up of the Leelanaw was conducted in accord with the principles of humanity, and no lives were lost. The property question involved may be debated without excessive heat. Roosevelt to the contrary notwithstanding. —Philadelphia Record.

Dependency Due To Indigestion

"About three months ago when I was suffering from indigestion which caused headache and dizzy spells and made me feel tired and despondent, I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Mrs. George Hon. Macedon, N. Y. "This medicine proved to be the very thing I needed, as one day's treatment relieved me greatly. I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they rid me of this trouble." Obtainable everywhere.

Political Announcement

To The Voters of Somerset County:
A communication, in the nature of a petition, has been addressed to me, signed by a large number of voters, including many of opposing political affiliation, requesting me to become a candidate for County Commissioner in the Democratic Primaries and expressing confidence in my ability and integrity to faithfully discharge the duties, if committed to me, with the sole purpose of advancing the material welfare and interests of our county. This evidence of the esteem and faith of those who signed this petition, including my neighbors and others who well know me, I regard most highly and, feeling as I do that every thoughtful citizen must view with hesitancy the assumption of so important duties connected with the office of County Commissioner, and in further view of the urgent and unsolicited request and tender of support presented to me by the signers of the petition, I have concluded, after due consideration and in response to their appeal, to announce my candidacy for the office named, and I will, at the proper time, submit the same in the Democratic Primaries. To those who have so generously endorsed me, and to all other voters of Somerset county, I give this assurance, that if nominated and elected, I shall, during the term of office, devote my best endeavors and efforts towards the uplifting of the county, and to promoting and maintaining the highest standards of efficiency and economy in the conduct of our county affairs, always considering the interests of the taxpayers and citizens, without partiality or prejudice towards any one, and especially endeavoring to cause every dollar of the taxpayers' money to be expended only for full value in return, and to be accounted for.

In conclusion, I think that I should frankly state that prior to my coming to Maryland I was an independent voter, but since my adoption of a permanent residence in Somerset county, and during the several years' residence here as a large taxpayer, engaged in farming and interested in promoting the general welfare of those with whom I have cast my future life and livelihood, I have affiliated with the Democratic Party without participating in factionalism, and, indeed, without any active part in politics whatever, exercising the right which I accord to every other voter, to cast his ballot for whom, in their own opinion, will best serve the public and the people's cause.

CHARLES C. GELDER.

Order Nisi

In the matter of the tax sale of real estate in Tangier Election District of Somerset county, assessed to Mary Barnes, made and reported by James E. Dashiell, Collector of State and County Taxes for the Second Collection District of Somerset county, for the year 1909. Henry C. Disharoon and Granville Webster, purchasers, ex parte.

In the Circuit Court for Somerset County, No. 2901, Chancery.
Whereas a certain James E. Dashiell, Collector of State and County Taxes for the Second Collection District of Somerset county, in the State of Maryland, for the year 1909, has reported to the Circuit Court for Somerset County, a sale made by him to Henry C. Disharoon and Granville Webster, of all that lot or parcel of land lying and being in Tangier Election District, of said county, in the State of Maryland, containing one-half acre of land, more or less, with the improvements thereon, adjoining the lands of Plummer Myster and Rufus Wright, conveyed to Mary Barnes by Thomas J. Jones, by deed dated the eighteenth day of May, 1871, and recorded in Liber L. W. No. 17, folio 108, etc., and assessed to Mary Barnes on the assessment books of said election district for the year 1909, and sold for the payment of taxes due and in arrears, together with all the proceedings had in relation thereto, and whereas upon examination it appears to the said Court that the said proceedings are regular, and that the provisions of the law in relation thereto have been complied with. Now it is therefore ordered, by the Circuit Court for Somerset County, in Equity, this 22nd day of July, in the year 1915, that notice be given by the publication of this order once a week for three successive weeks in the "Marylander and Herald," a weekly newspaper published in Somerset county, before the 25th day of August next, warning all persons interested in the said real estate to be and appear in this Court on or before the 31st day of August next, to show cause, if any they have, why said sale should not be ratified and confirmed. The report states the amount of sales to be $5.55.

Paint Better

Better isn't enough; paint best. A man bought "cheap" paint; saved 20c or 30c or 50c a gallon, didn't he? Yes, and bought 40 or 50 or 80 per cent more gallons; how much did he make on his paint? And he paid for painting those gallons—a fair day's work is a gallon—how much did he make on the labor part of his job? He lost a quarter or a third of his money. How long will it last? not his money, the paint? Perhaps half as long as Devco. How long will his money last if he buys other stuff as he bought that paint? Better buy the best paint; it makes the least bill and least-often. DEVOE

Rev. Dr. Martindale's Address

Rev. D. J. Givan. Dr. Martindale led in prayer and the congregation was dismissed with the benediction by Rev. T. A. H. O'Brien.

Prior to the final service the sum of $81 was collected from those present. The corner stone is a beautiful piece of marble with the name of the church and the date handsomely engraved upon it. The church building was inspected by those present at the corner stone laying. The work is well advanced now and begins to show some beautiful proportions with its white walls, massive windows and doorways.

A BILL IN THE BOX

Story of a Legislative Prank in the New York Assembly.

DILEMMA OF A TIMID MEMBER.

Though His Name Was Signed to the Measure He Was Not Its Author and When Ordered to Withdraw It What Little Courage He Had Failed Him.

There was a fake bill introduced in the assembly of New York state during the session of 1902 that really became a famous piece of legislation before it arrived at its formal final, although it has never until the present time been chronicled in print.

The act was placed in the assembly bill box by two jokers of the assembly. It was drawn up in the regular form, beginning with the necessary verbiage, "The people of the state of New York in senate and assembly represented," etc. The provisions of the first two or three sections were also very plausible, and, in fact, the entire measure was put together in such a way that only a technician in legislative matters could have discerned the joke.

The assembly bill box is a receptacle placed for the measures of the legislators who may wish to have them introduced at the next regular daily session subsequent to their deposit. The box is only used "between times," for when the assembly is in session the bill may be handed up to the clerk for reading. Bills are introduced in duplicate and must bear, of course, the introducer's name.

The jokers dropped the fake bill into the box on a Thursday night. They attached a member's name whose district was in the crowded east side section of New York. He was what was known as a machine man and had little initiative or individuality. He never waited over for Friday morning sessions, as they lasted but a few minutes, and it was easier to take the train to New York Thursday night, returning after recess the following Monday night.

The fake bill with the east side member's name was duly taken out of the box Friday morning and its title read. It was referred to its proper committee and ordered printed. Its purpose was made very plain. At every crossroad throughout the state of New York there must be placed at once by the state engineer and surveyor a signpost with a sign of exactly described dimensions, and lettering measured to a dot, directing travelers to the nearest place for entertainment of man and beast. The angles of the crossroads were specified in their exact degrees with respect to the proper placing of the sign.

No sooner was the title of the bill read than the afternoon newspaper representatives at Albany pricked up their ears. They were on the alert always for New York city legislation, but here was a bill making it mandatory to erect signposts throughout the state, and essentially of rural benefit. Yet a member from a congested New York district had introduced it. Something strange. They searched around for the alleged introducer. He was in New York. They took no chances, however, and telegraphed a column to their papers telling of the attempt to signpost the state by an east side legislator.

The morning papers took it up. Reporters hunted up the assemblyman at his home. He roared out his denial. But nobody believed him. He got a hurry telephone call from his district leader, to whom he swore he had introduced no such bill. He was ordered to ask for the privilege of the floor at Monday night's session and compel the withdrawal of the bill. He had stage fright over the idea. He was almost too bashful to raise his voice when voting at roll call. Meanwhile the news of the bill spread, and from all quarters of the city the luckless assemblymen received telephone messages asking to be "let in on the signpost graft."

The following Monday night the alleged introducer arrived in Albany almost in a state of collapse. All during the ensuing week he was ordered to demand the withdrawal of the bill, but would not rise in his seat and ask it. Finally a member in the secret told the facts to Speaker Nixon. The speaker called the assemblyman to his desk and questioned him. He was satisfied that the legislator was altogether too timid to introduce such a radical bill and exonerated him.

But the bill had been printed. When it was supposed that it had been killed in committee the first thing known was a request for a hearing on it by some good roads workers, who saw in it a blessing and who sent the alleged introducer a congratulatory letter for his public spirited act. The bill of course died in committee, but its memory clung to the east side legislator for many years.—New York Sun.

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. HUMAN CURIOSITY.

An Evil and a Good at Times, but, on the Whole, a Grand Quality.

Humanity has never been able to satisfy itself as to whether curiosity be a virtue or a vice. When inconvenient it is labeled as a vice; when it leads to discovery or adds to knowledge it is applauded as a virtue of the highest order. Certainly it is an instinct deeply ingrained in human nature. On it the whole of the progressive steps of childhood's career are based. The first intelligent expression of the infant is wonder; this quickly develops into active curiosity, until life becomes an enthralling and breathless voyage of discovery. Its possession is the great distinction between youth and the puritane of age. Youth is passed when the sensation of adventure is ended, when, instead of boundless expectation and of curiosity that penetrates into all the corners of existence, a man is content to take things as they are, when eagerness gives way to complacency and questioning to the cynicism of experience.

Human curiosity may be stifled, but mercifully it never can be killed. In its best form it raises man above the level of the rest of creation; it becomes the desire to know, to penetrate to the root of things, to ascend to the stars and wrest from them their secrets, to solve the problems of the past, the present and the future. At its worst it may be low and vulgar, unworthy prying into matters which concern us not, the desire to apprehend evil as well as good, a curiosity that is morbid and unwholesome; but, taking it all in all, it is an excellent stimulant to progress.—London Academy.

IMITATION DIAMONDS.

They Lose Their Sparkle When They Lose Their Sharp Edges.

Only the expert can tell an imitation diamond from a real stone when the imitation is new, but after the fake stone has been worn for a little time it soon loses its lustre. It is this which makes a real diamond valuable. No matter how long it is worn it will keep its sparkle almost as well as ever.

The real reason for this is the hardness of the diamond. It is not due to any special quality in the stone itself, except its transparency and its hardness.

The sparkle of a diamond depends on the sharpness of the edges and the points of its facets. When the light falls on one of these it is reflected to another facet, lying at a different angle and is refracted again, and so on, many times. Each time the light is reflected it gives a point of brilliance, and, in most instances, splits up the light so that the red and blue rays are seen.

The imitation stone, to begin with, seldom has as many facets as a diamond. But, even if it had, the sharpness of these edges would wear off. Even exposure to the air will wear away any substance that is not extremely hard. And just as soon as there is any dulling of the edges of a facet, so soon there is a dimming of the brilliance of the stone.—New York American.

Light Your House and Barns—Cook Your Meals With Home-Made Acetylene

And Make Your Acetylene With a Pilot Lighting Plant

Pilot plants make Acetylene automatically a little at a time as you use it in your gas cooking stove and in your lights distributed throughout your house, your barns and out-buildings. You simply fill the generator with the gas-producing stone "Union Carbide" and water about once a month.

Pilot plants are approved by The National Board of Fire Insurance Underwriters.

All told, over 250,000 country homes are using Acetylene made the Pilot way.

A complete Pilot plant, consisting of generator, pipes—hand-some light fixtures and gas cook stove, can be installed in any country home in a couple of days' time.

Such a plant is a permanent improvement and will furnish you with the cheapest, safest and most practical light and fuel now available for country home requirements.

Write for our illustrated catalogs and descriptive booklets giving all the facts.

PROCLAMATION

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of Maryland.

Whereas, at the January Session of the General Assembly of Maryland held in the year nineteen hundred and fourteen, Acts were passed, to wit: Chapter 350, proposing an amendment to Article 13, of the Declaration of Rights; Chapter 418, proposing a new Article to said Constitution to be known as Article XI-A, Chapter 453, proposing an additional section to Article 13 of said Constitution; and Chapter 673, proposing an additional Article to said Constitution to be known as Article XVI; which said Acts of the General Assembly are in words and figures following:

CAPTER 350.

An Act to amend Article XV of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and to provide for the submission of such amendment to the qualified voters of this State for their adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all the Members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following Article be and the same is hereby proposed in the place and stead of Article XV of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, as at present existing, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in place and stead of such Article.

Article XV. That the levying of taxes by the poll is grievous and oppressive and ought to be prohibited; that paupers ought not to be supported; that the General Assembly shall, by uniform rules, provide for separate assessment of land and classification and sub-classifications of improvements on land and personal property which it may deem proper; and all taxes thereafter provided to be levied by the State for the support of the general State Government, and by the counties and by the City of Baltimore for their respective purposes, shall be uniform as to land within the taxing district, and uniform within the class or sub-class of improvements on land and personal property which the respective taxing powers may have directed to be subjected to the tax levy; yet fines, duties or taxes may properly and justly be imposed, or laid with a political view for the good government and benefit of the community.

Section 2. And be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the following Article hereby proposed in place and stead of Article XV of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall be, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection. Pursuant to the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of this State, and that at said general election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each official ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor for the purpose of directing by Article XIV of the Constitution.

Approved, April 10th, 1914.

CHAPTER 418.

An Act to propose an amendment to the Constitution of this State by adding a new Article thereto to follow immediately after Article XI and to be known as Article XI-A, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all Members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following Article to follow immediately after Article XI and to be known as Article XI-A, shall be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, which Article, if adopted by the qualified voters of this State, as herein provided, shall become a part of the Constitution of this State.

ARTICLE XI-A. LOCAL LEGISLATION.

Section 1. On demand of the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore, or on petition bearing the signatures of not less than 20 per cent of the registered voters of said city or any county (provided, however, that in any case 10,000 signatures shall be sufficient to complete a petition), the Board of Election Supervisors of the city or county shall provide at the next general or Congressional election, occurring after such demand or the filing of such petition, for the election of a charter board of eleven registered voters of said city or five registered voters in any such counties. Nominations for members for said charter board may be made not less than forty days prior to said election by the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the County Commissioners of such county, or not less than twenty days prior to said election by petition bearing the signatures written in their own handwriting (and not by their mark) of not less than 5 per cent of the registered voters of the said City of Baltimore or said county; provided, that not less than one thousand signatures of registered voters shall be sufficient to complete any such nominating petition, and if not more than eleven registered voters of the City of Baltimore or not more than five registered voters in any such county are so nominated their names shall not be printed on the ballot, but said eleven registered voters in the City of Baltimore or five in such county shall constitute the charter board from and after the date of said election. At said election the ballot shall contain the names of said nominees in alphabetical order without any indication of the source of their nomination, and shall also be so arranged as to permit the voter to vote for or against the creation of said charter board, but the vote cast against said creation shall not be held to bar the voter from expressing his choice among the nominees for said board, and if the majority of the votes cast for and against the creation of said charter board shall be against said creation the election of the members of said charter board shall be void; but if such majority shall be in favor of the creation of said charter board, then and in that event the eleven nominees of the City of Baltimore or five nominees in the county receiving the largest number of votes shall constitute the charter board, and said charter board shall, within thirty days, shall prepare within six months from the date of said election a charter or form of government for said city or county, and present the same to the Mayor of Baltimore or President of the Board of County Commissioners of such county, who shall publish the same in at least two newspapers of general circulation published in said City of Baltimore or county within thirty days after it shall be reported to him. Such charter shall be submitted to the voters of said city or county at the next general or Congressional election after the report of said charter to said Mayor of Baltimore or President of the Board of County Commissioners; and if a majority of the votes cast for and against the adoption of said charter shall be in favor of such adoption, the charter shall, from and after the thirtieth day from the date of such election shall become the law of said city or county, subject only to the Constitution and Public General Laws of this State, and any Local Laws inconsistent with the provisions of said charter and former charter of said City of Baltimore or county shall be thereby repealed.

Section 2. The General Assembly at its first session after the adoption of this amendment shall, by Public General Law, provide for the grant of express powers for such county or counties as may thereafter form a charter under the provisions of this Article. Such express powers heretofore granted to the City of Baltimore, as set forth in Article 4, Section 6, Public Local Laws of Maryland, shall not be enlarged or extended by any and laws of this State to the provisions of this Article, but such powers may be extended, modified, amended or repealed by the General Assembly.

Section 3. Every charter so formed shall provide for an elective legislative body in which shall be vested the law-making power of said city or county. Such legislative body in the City of Baltimore shall be known as the City Council of the City of Baltimore, and in any county shall be known as the County Council of the county. The chief executive officer, if such charter shall provide for the election of such executive officer, or the presiding officer of said legislative body, if such charter shall not provide for the election of a chief executive officer, shall be known in the City of Baltimore as Mayor of Baltimore, and in any county as the President of the County Council of the county, and all references in the Constitution and laws of this State to the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or to the County Commissioners of the counties shall be construed to refer to the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore, and to the President and County Council herein provided for, whenever such construction would be reasonable. From and after the adoption of a charter by the City of Baltimore, or any county of this State, as hereinbefore provided, the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the County Council of said county shall have full power to enact local laws of said city or county, including the power to repeal or amend Local Laws of said city or county enacted by the General Assembly, upon all matters covered by the express powers granted as above provided; provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize or empower the County Council of any county in this State to enact laws or regulations for any incorporated town, village, or municipality in said county, on any matter covered by the powers granted to said town, village, or municipality by the Act incorporating it, or any subsequent Act or Acts amendatory thereof. Provided, however, that the charters for the various counties shall provide that the County Council of the counties shall not sit more than one month in each year for the purpose of enacting legislation for such counties during the month so designated for the purpose in the charter, and all laws and ordinances so enacted shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in at least one newspaper published in such counties, so that the taxpayers and citizens may have notice thereof. This provision shall not apply to Baltimore City. All such local laws enacted by the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the County Council of the counties, as hereinbefore provided, shall be subject to the same rules of interpretation as those now applicable to the Public Local Laws of this State, except that in case of any conflict between said Local Law and any Public General Law now or hereafter enacted, the Public General Law shall control.

Section 4. From and after the adoption of a charter under the provisions of this Article by the City of Baltimore or any county of this State, no Public General Law shall be enacted by the General Assembly for said city or county on any subject covered by the express powers granted as above provided. Any law so enacted shall apply to two or more of the geographical sub-divisions of this State shall not be deemed a Local Law, within the meaning of this Act. The term "geographical sub-division" herein used shall include the City of Baltimore or any county or any of the counties of this State.

Section 5. Amendments to any charter adopted by the City of Baltimore or by any county of this State under the provisions of this Article may be made by a resolution of the Mayor of Baltimore and the City Council of said City of Baltimore, or the Council of said city or county, or by a petition signed by not less than 20 per cent of the registered voters of said city or county, provided, however, that in any case 10,000 signatures shall be sufficient to complete a petition, and filed with the Mayor of Baltimore or the President of the County Council, and when so proposed shall be submitted to the voters of said city or county at the next general or Congressional election, occurring after such demand or the filing of such petition, for the election of a charter board of eleven registered voters of said city or five registered voters in any such counties. Nominations for members for said charter board may be made not less than forty days prior to said election by the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the County Commissioners of such county, or not less than twenty days prior to said election by petition bearing the signatures written in their own handwriting (and not by their mark) of not less than 5 per cent of the registered voters of the said City of Baltimore or said county; provided, that not less than one thousand signatures of registered voters shall be sufficient to complete any such nominating petition, and if not more than eleven registered voters of the City of Baltimore or not more than five registered voters in any such county are so nominated their names shall not be printed on the ballot, but said eleven registered voters in the City of Baltimore or five in such county shall constitute the charter board from and after the date of said election. At said election the ballot shall contain the names of said nominees in alphabetical order without any indication of the source of their nomination, and shall also be so arranged as to permit the voter to vote for or against the creation of said charter board, but the vote cast against said creation shall not be held to bar the voter from expressing his choice among the nominees for said board, and if the majority of the votes cast for and against the creation of said charter board shall be against said creation the election of the members of said charter board shall be void; but if such majority shall be in favor of the creation of said charter board, then and in that event the eleven nominees of the City of Baltimore or five nominees in the county receiving the largest number of votes shall constitute the charter board, and said charter board shall, within thirty days, shall prepare within six months from the date of said election a charter or form of government for said city or county, and present the same to the Mayor of Baltimore or President of the or more registered voters of the city or county in which said voters so signing are registered, and one affidavit may apply to or cover any number of signatures on such petition. The false signing of any name or the signing of any fictitious name to said petition shall be forgery, and the making of any false affidavit in connection with said petition shall be perjury.

Section 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforesaid Article hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution shall be at the next General Election for Members of the General Assembly held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters of this State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in place and stead of such Article.

Section 3. A petition may consist of several papers, but each paper shall contain the full text of the Act or part of Act petitioned upon; and there shall be attached to each such paper an affidavit of the person procuring the signatures thereon that of the said person's own personal knowledge every signature thereon is genuine and bona fide, and that the signers are registered voters of the State of Maryland, and of the City of Baltimore, or county, as the case may be, as set opposite their names, and no other verification shall be required.

Section 4. A petition may consist of several papers, but each paper shall contain the full text of the Act or part of Act petitioned upon; and there shall be attached to each such paper an affidavit of the person procuring the signatures thereon that of the said person's own personal knowledge every signature thereon is genuine and bona fide, and that the signers are registered voters of the State of Maryland, and of the City of Baltimore, or county, as the case may be, as set opposite their names, and no other verification shall be required.

Section 5 (a). The General Assembly shall provide for furnishing the voters of the State the text of all measures to be voted upon by the people; provided, that until otherwise provided by law no measure shall be published in the manner prescribed by Article XIV of the Constitution for the publication of proposed Constitutional Amendments.

Section 6. The power heretofore conferred upon the General Assembly to prescribe the number, compensation, power and duties of the County Commissioners in each county, and the power to make changes in Sections 1 to 6, inclusive, Article XI of this Constitution, which express powers granted as hereinbefore provided, are hereby transferred to the voters of each county and the voters of the City of Baltimore, respectively, provided that said powers so transferred shall be exercised only by the adoption or amendment of a charter as hereinbefore provided; and provided further, that this Article shall not be construed to authorize the exercise of any powers in excess of those conferred by the Legislature upon said counties or city as this Article sets forth.

Section 7. The word "Petition," as used in this Article, means one or more sheets written or printed, or partly written and partly printed; "Signature" means the signature of a registered voter written by himself in his own handwriting (and not by his mark), together with the ward or district and precinct in which he is registered. The authenticity of such signatures and the fact that the persons so signing are registered voters shall be evidenced by the affidavit of whom not more than half shall be residents of Baltimore City, or of any one county; provided that any public local law for any one county or the City of Baltimore shall be referred by the Secretary of State only to the people of said county or City of Baltimore, upon a referendum of 10 per cent of the qualified voters of said county or City of Baltimore, as the case may be, calculated upon the whole number of votes cast therein respectively for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election.

Section 8. No law or Constitutional Amendment, licensing, regulating, prohibiting, or submitting to local option, the manufacture or sale of malt or spirituous liquors, shall be referred or repealed under any Act of the provisions of this Article.

Section 9. And be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforesaid Article hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution shall be at the next General Election for Members of the General Assembly held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters of this State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in place and stead of such Article.

Section 10. The power heretofore conferred upon the General Assembly to prescribe the number, compensation, power and duties of the County Commissioners in each county, and the power to make changes in Sections 1 to 6, inclusive, Article XI of this Constitution, which express powers granted as hereinbefore provided, are hereby transferred to the voters of each county and the voters of the City of Baltimore, respectively, provided that said powers so transferred shall be exercised only by the adoption or amendment of a charter as hereinbefore provided; and provided further, that this Article shall not be construed to authorize the exercise of any powers in excess of those conferred by the Legislature upon said counties or city as this Article sets forth.

Section 11. The word "Petition," as used in this Article, means one or more sheets written or printed, or partly written and partly printed; "Signature" means the signature of a registered voter written by himself in his own handwriting (and not by his mark), together with the ward or district and precinct in which he is registered. The authenticity of such signatures and the fact that the persons so signing are registered voters shall be evidenced by the affidavit of whom not more than half shall be residents of Baltimore City, or of any one county; provided that any public local law for any one county or the City of Baltimore shall be referred by the Secretary of State only to the people of said county or City of Baltimore, upon a referendum of 10 per cent of the qualified voters of said county or City of Baltimore, as the case may be, calculated upon the whole number of votes cast therein respectively for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election.

Section 12. No law or Constitutional Amendment, licensing, regulating, prohibiting, or submitting to local option, the manufacture or sale of malt or spirituous liquors, shall be referred or repealed under any Act of the provisions of this Article.

Section 13. And be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforesaid Article hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution shall be at the next General Election for Members of the General Assembly held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters of this State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in place and stead of such Article.

Section 14. The power heretofore conferred upon the General Assembly to prescribe the number, compensation, power and duties of the County Commissioners in each county, and the power to make changes in Sections 1 to 6, inclusive, Article XI of this Constitution, which express powers granted as hereinbefore provided, are hereby transferred to the voters of each county and the voters of the City of Baltimore, respectively, provided that said powers so transferred shall be exercised only by the adoption or amendment of a charter as hereinbefore provided; and provided further, that this Article shall not be construed to authorize the exercise of any powers in excess of those conferred by the Legislature upon said counties or city as this Article sets forth.

Section 15. The word "Petition," as used in this Article, means one or more sheets written or printed, or partly written and partly printed; "Signature" means the signature of a registered voter written by himself in his own handwriting (and not by his mark), together with the ward or district and precinct in which he is registered. TO THE LEFT, GOOD TYPE OF CHICKEN FOR FATTENING FOR A BROILER; TO THE RIGHT, A POOR TYPE.

except those saved for breeding stock, should be sold as broilers, as they are not well adapted for market after passing beyond this size. White chickens make the most attractive and easily dressed broilers, as their pinfeathers are not so apparent when the chickens are prepared for market.

The cockers should be separated from the pullets as soon as the sex can be readily distinguished, the most promising chickens being saved for breeding stock. The sex is usually told by the development of the head points, tail and general male characteristics in the cockers, and this requires some skill and practice. The chickens selected as broilers may be forced more rapidly than those saved for breeding stock. Quick growth can be produced by dividing them into flocks of fifty or less and confining them to small pens for fourteen to eighteen days before they are marketed. Feed in the morning and at noon a wet mash of six pounds corn meal, four pounds low grade wheat flour and two pounds bran or middlings, mixed with skim milk or buttermilk to the consistency of oatmeal porridge. If no milk is available add one pound of beef scrap to the mash and give some green feed daily, using only enough water to make a crumbly mash. In addition to either of these mash feeds give all the cracked corn which the chickens will eat for the evening feed.

Higher prices are paid for the early broilers, those hatched in March and April, than for those hatched in the late spring and early summer. Pullets hatched early also make the best fall and winter layers and are the most profitable to raise. Broilers are marketed both alive and dressed. Considerable care should be used in both dressing and shipping broilers so that they will reach the market in a neat, attractive condition.

In finishing or fattening broilers just before marketing a great difference will be found in individuals with respect to their ability to put on flesh. Some chickens will respond only very slowly and very unprofitably to a fattening feed, while others will gain rapidly and return a good profit for the feed consumed. The good feeders will be the birds with short, stout, well curved beaks, broad heads, bright, clear eyes, deep, broad breasts and well spread legs and will, in general, give every indication of being vigorous and thrifty. The poor feeders will show opposite characteristics, notably long beaks and crow heads, dull eyes, narrow breasts and close set legs and also will show lack of vigor and thrift. The selection of only those chickens of the better feeding type for finishing will give greater average gains and profit and a more uniform, attractive lot of broilers, while the culling of the birds of poor type and their marketing with no attempt at fattening or finishing may often be desirable.

Now, therefore, I, PHILLIPS LEE GOLDBOROUGH, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1, of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, DO HEREBY ORDER AND DIRECT that a copy of each of said above recited Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1914, be published in at least two newspapers in such of the counties of this State and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which newspapers published in said City of Baltimore to be published in the German language, once a week for the first three months next preceding the election to be held in said State of Maryland on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, 1915, and at which election the said proposed amendments and additions to the Constitution of Maryland, shall be submitted, in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE.

Mayor James H. Preston's Speech

same interest in the Democratic party as the Democrats in the counties. In fact, we are all of one blood. The city is largely made up of young men and young women who have come up from the various counties of the State and have contributed their youth and talents to the building of a great city, which ought to be the pride of every man in the State of Maryland. We are all Marylanders first. City people and county people are bound together by ties of State pride, of business interests, of religion, of blood. Any man who will try to prejudice the city against the counties or the counties against the city, is an enemy of the State—no less an enemy of the counties than of the city.

"Every county in the State has a business interest in the great city of Baltimore, which furnishes the chief market for the products of the farm, the field and the mines and the fisheries of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries, and which also furnishes an opportunity for the ambitious boys and girls who are raised on farms to seek their fortunes in a great city. If we had no great city in Maryland, these young men and young women would not stay on the farm. They would go to Philadelphia, or New York or Chicago, or some other great city and would be lost to the State. Any State without a great city loses a great many of its young people of ambition, energy and good habits—young people who go to some city and contribute to its growth and greatness.

"Every mother and father in Maryland ought to be glad that we have in our own State a great city, which opens an opportunity for the boy or girl who prefers to try his or her fortune in the greater activity of the life of a big city, and ought to be also proud that all of the great cities Baltimore has justly the reputation of being the most religious and moral and having more of the atmosphere of home life, and, therefore, the safest of all the great cities to which a young man or young woman might go. In all the world there are only six cities which have a harbor with a thirty-five foot channel to the docks. Every man in Maryland ought to be proud of the fact that Baltimore is one of the six, and that the commerce of Baltimore is now second only to New York on the Atlantic sea-port.

"With the opening of the Panama Canal the commerce of our port is bound to grow greater, and the growth of the city of Baltimore and the growth of its commerce and trade bring a benefit to the State of Maryland which extends to every county in the State. There is no great state without a great city. Maryland is small in area compared with most of the states in the Union. The only way Maryland can hope to keep pace with the other states is by the growth and development of her seaport city. So when Baltimore city desires room in which to grow and develop, she is not desiring something that will injure the county, but something that will make the State greater and will benefit the people in every county in the State.

"One of the reasons why we prefer Blair Lee is because he has taken a plain and candid position in favor of giving to Baltimore city a reasonable extension of the present limits. It took some courage, as well as candor, to do this, because by doing so Lee lessened his chances of carrying Baltimore and Anne Arundel counties, but Lee's position on this question ought not to injure him in any other county in the State. Baltimore is not asking anything unreasonable with reference to the extension of her limits. She wants to have the thickly built-up section, which is really composed of people who have overflowed from Baltimore city, in order that she may have her proper standing among the great cities of the country and thus be better enabled to attract people and capital to the city. There is no reason why Baltimore county alone should benefit by the growth of Baltimore, but the overflow from Baltimore city ought to be included in the city so that the entire State may get the benefit of the city's growth. The city also wants to have her limits extended so as to take in the entire harbor, so that it can be developed for the benefit of the entire State as well as the city. The reasonable extension of the city limits will not injure either Baltimore county or Anne Arundel county except in their local pride. The small strip which we desire from Anne Arundel county will not materially affect her size or population. She will still be one of the largest counties in the State, and much larger than Somerset. If the city is given all that it asks from Baltimore county Baltimore county's representation in the Legislature will not be reduced, and in size Baltimore county will still be one of the largest counties in the State.

"If the city were given all that was proposed in the Borough Plan that was submitted to the last Legislature Baltimore county would still have an area of 500 square miles, or nearly 50 per cent. larger than Somerset county, and her population would still be the largest of any county in the State and she would continue to have the benefit of her proximity to Baltimore city. It would still be true, as it is now, that a great many of the men who make their fortunes in Baltimore city would live and pay taxes in Baltimore county, thus giving that county benefit which no other county in the State enjoys.

"Now, the question is, shall a mere local pride in Baltimore and Anne Arundel counties hamper the development of the great city of the State when the city could have ample room to grow and still leave these counties among the largest counties in the State and still leave them with the same representation which they now have in the Legislature? I feel confident that the fair-minded men in all the counties of the State will see that it is for the interest of the entire State to give Baltimore city the reasonable extension of her city limits which she is asking.

"Lee favors this, and in doing so he stands for the interest of the whole State, as well as of Baltimore city. Blair Lee, in his eight years in the Senate, in his campaign for Governor four years ago, in his two years in the United States Senate, and in the present campaign, has always stood for progressive democracy, for the rights of the people. He is identified with all of the progressive measures which this State has adopted.

"While I would not say an unkind word about Mr. Harrington, he is identified with the old school of politics, with the system which has been in con- sideration, with the same feelings, same aspirations, same love of Maryland and control of affairs at Annapolis for many years. I think the people want a change at Annapolis. Abuses have grown up. We have useless expense, unnecessary offices and commissions. These things have come with the old element in control. Mr. Harrington is identified with that element. Our tax rate has doubled in five years. I think we need a little new blood at Annapolis; a resolute progressive Governor. I believe Blair Lee will be such a Governor and that the entire State will benefit by the change to a more progressive conduct of the State's affairs.

"It seems to me also that the nomination of Lee would be best for the Democratic party. Lee and I have not entered into any alliance for the purpose of securing State leadership for him, or the United States Senatorship for me, but we are allied for the purpose of recognizing and giving vitality to the principle that State leadership belongs to the people of the State and leadership in the Democratic party belongs to the rank and file of the party. The time has passed for one man rule. Under the present election law, for which Lee is largely responsible, the Democratic votes rule the Democratic party. The city Democrats have acted in alliance with Senator Smith and his friends for many years, until they have seen the Democratic majority in his county grow less and less, and, four years ago, they saw a Republican elected Governor.

"I believe the city made a mistake in not supporting Lee then; that if the city votes had been thrown to Lee we would have had a splendid Democratic administration during the last four years and we would not have had a tax rate of 33 cents this year and 36 cents next year.

"Lee is entitled to the nomination because of the fight he made four years ago; his record plurality of 40,000 in the Senate election two years ago, and the fact that he polled 6,500 more votes than Harrington on the same ticket in the same election, seem to demonstrate that he would be the stronger candidate before the people in the general election."

TRI-COUNTY GRANGES TO MEET

Will Gather At Shiloh Camp Ground To-morrow.

A meeting of the Granges of Wicomico, Somerset and Dorchester counties has been arranged to take place at Shiloh Camp tomorrow, Wednesday, August 11th. This will be known as the Tri-County Grange meeting and a large attendance from the various Granges in the three counties is expected in Dorchester county at this date. The place of meeting—Shiloh Camp—is one of the best known camp grounds of Dorchester county.

An attractive and full program has been arranged for the day. The speakers scheduled for the meeting are as follows:

Oliver Wilson, National Master from Illinois; B. John Black, State Master, Roslyn, Md.; Reuben Brigham, State Lecturer, College Park; James T. Anthony, State Chaplain, Chestertown; Western Starr, Somerset county. These speakers are of State and National fame and will give the gathered granges an opportunity of hearing some of the foremost men in the great work the grange is doing in all sections of this country.

Church Built In A Day

A tabernacle 80 by 120 feet was erected at Cambridge, Md., Saturday by members and friends of the Baracca Class of Grace Southern Methodist Church.

The lumber had been assembled, but not a post had been driven in the ground until the 7 o'clock whistle blew Saturday morning. The volunteers, more than 100 in number, then sang the Doxology and set to work with a will, the consequence being the practical completion of the building in a day. The carpenters and others gave their time and labor. The tabernacle will seat 1500 persons and will be used during September and early October for services to be conducted by Rev. L. W. Hainer and the Berge sisters.

Mr. Miles Goes To Ocean City

Last Thursday morning Hon. Joshua W. Miles, who has been confined at his home by serious illness for four weeks past, by the advice of his physician, Dr. Charles T. Fisher, went to Ocean City, Md., where he hopes to regain his health. Superintendent C. I. Leiper, of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, sent his private car to convey Mr. Miles to the seashore. He was taken to the depot in his rolling chair and was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Miles, Dr. Fisher and a trained nurse. He arrived at Ocean City about one o'clock and was taken to the Atlantic Hotel, where he will remain for an indefinite time.

The Great Salisbury Fair

On our 8th page this week will be found the advertisement of the Great Salisbury Fair, to be held on August 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th. The management, as usual offers attractions of the same high-grade in character as has always been their policy.

Among the attractions will be the aeroplane driven by Captain Baldwin, Japanese acrobatic troupe; dazzling aerial acts by five men and two women, the usual racing program, and valuable prizes given to children.

This Fair promises to be a great event. So do not miss it this year. Read the advertisement for full particulars.

Mrs. Mary Moore Drowned

Mrs. Mary Moore, wife of Mr. Frank Moore, of Westover district, disappeared sometime during Monday night of last week from her home. When her husband found her missing Tuesday morning he instituted a search and her body was found that afternoon in Back Creek, near Westover.

Mrs. Moore had been in bad health for some time and it is supposed that melancholy caused her to end her life. Besides her husband and two children, she is survived by her father, Josiah Townsend, who lives near Princess Anne. A rolling stone gathers no moss; besides which it gravitates down hill.

FREDERICK NOEL DROWNS AT PICNIC

Rowboat Capsized In The Manokin River Last Tuesday Afternoon

Frederick Noel, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Noel, of Perry-hawkin neighborhood, about five miles from this town, was drowned last Tuesday afternoon in the Manokin river opposite the farm of Mr. H. J. Nelson.

Young Noel was attending the Sunday School picnic of Emmanuel Methodist Episcopal Church, which was given on the Nelson farm, and in the afternoon, it is said, he and a friend by the name of Growler, found an old rowboat partly filled with water and were endeavoring to clean it out, when Mr. William Holland came along and helped them get the water out. The boys insisted that Holland go with them for a row, which he did. When they reached the channel of the river the boat in some way was capsized. None of the party could swim and Holland succeeded in clinging to the boat and called for help. When help arrived Growler was rescued but Noel's body could not be located.

On account of the high tide the search was abandoned that evening. During the storm and high tide in the river Tuesday night the body was carried a considerable distance up stream and it was found on the opposite bank from which the drowning occurred, on Wednesday morning and sent to his home.

Funeral services were held Thursday in Perryhawkin Christian Church, conducted by Rev. J. W. West, and Rev. Mr. Leake. The pallbearers were: William Holland, Emerson Dykes, Clayton Marriner, Elwood Culver, William Bishop and Mr. Growler. Interment was in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Winter Legumes

Now is the time to get busy on winter legume work. The best seed should be purchased and the soil thoroughly prepared. Such crops as alfalfa, crimson clover and vetch should be planted at an early date.

There are numerous reasons why the acreage devoted to winter legumes which may be obtained between, say, November 15th and April 15th, is of importance to live stock farmers in a large part of the State, but of by far greater importance is the fact that the roots of the growing plants fill the soil, bind its surface particles and reduce leaching to a minimum. As fast as the plant food becomes soluble, the roots of the growing plants utilize it and prevent leaching by winter rains.

The fact that our open wet winters, when the lands are bare, is the largest single factor in the depletion of our soils should be continually stressed, but should also rejoice continually to know that we can utilize our winter growing season in many counties for the growing of such crops as clovers and vetches.

The winter legumes not only furnish some grazing, reduce washing and leaching to a minimum, but also transfer nitrogen from the air to the soil to be used by succeeding crops, fill the soil full of much needed humus and furnish large quantities of the most valuable feed. If we could only be made to realize the full value of winter legumes, few acres on the farms of this State would be bare this winter.—G. H. Alford, State Agent, College Park, Md.

Mrs. Harold Matthews Dead

Mrs. Rosetta Matthews, the young wife of Mr. Harold Matthews, died at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vane Matthews, at Pocomoke City, on Monday afternoon of last week from a hemorrhage of the lungs during an attack of typhoid fever. Mrs. Matthews had been ill for nine days, and her case was said to be a severe one from the beginning.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ennis, of Rehoboth, this county, and was 22 years of age. If she had lived until Wednesday she would have been married fourteen months.

Funeral services were held from the Rehoboth Baptist church on Wednesday afternoon, and were largely attended, attesting the popularity and esteem in which she was held. Interment was in the Baptist cemetery at Rehoboth.

Sheppard To Die August 27th

"Wish" Sheppard, the negro who was convicted of assaulting Miss Mildred Clark, at Federalburg, Caroline county, a few days ago, is to hang on August 27. Governor Goldsborough signed the death warrant at Annapolis last week, fixing the date on which the execution is to take place.

Card Of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Noel and family hereby express their thanks to their many friends for the sympathy and kindness shown them during the recent death of their son, Freddie.

ABUSE OF THE CRAB INDUSTRY

New Laws to Be Put Through Next Legislature—Heavy Losses.

The abuse of the crab industry is causing a loss of from $20,000 to $30,000 weekly, according to packers in Somerset county, Md., Accomac county, Va., and the Eastern and Western Shores of Virginia. Unless some legislation is taken at the next meeting of the General Assemblies of the two states, they state, the industry will be ruined.

The abuse is said to consist in the catching of young crabs from one to five inches in length, without giving them a chance to grow, shed out and become marketable as soft shell crabs. Another bad plan is the dredging of the female crabs in winter. Both of these abuses are said to benefit only a very few persons, while injuring thousands, and making the price of crabs high throughout the states.

The section affected includes Somerset county, Accomac county and the tributaries of the Eastern and Western Shores of Virginia. The packers claim that the crab-cooking plants do not discriminate at all when they catch crabs and anything that bites on the trot line is taken up and thrown into the barrels, regardless of size. The general practice heretofore has been to use only those crabs which were at least five inches long. These were called Jimmy-crabs. These were good for cooking purposes and contained a lot of meat, whereas there is little in the small crab. The abuse, which started among a few, has spread until a large number of the crab-cooking plants are now said to be doing it.

The hard-crab industry at its best benefits only a few, and the cooking of crabs in winter benefits approximately 25 persons, while hurting thousands more. Formerly the crabs which were caught were sold in quantity and brought 50 cents a hundred. These yielded a large amount of crab meat. Now the crabs are caught and thrown into a barrel and sold. They bring $1 to $1.25 a barrel, and the barrels are the 200 under the old practice. In order to do away with this the packers and catchers in Maryland will seek to put through measures at the next legislature to eliminate the practice of catching young crabs and prohibiting the dredging of female crabs in winter. Virginians, it is said, will also put through similar measures.

Maryland Roads Finest in Country

The Maryland road system embraces about 1,100 miles of model roads, constructed mostly of macadam and concrete. In some of the Southern Maryland counties there are a few stretches of well-constructed sand and gravel roads. The roads cost an average of something less than $10,000 a mile, the outlay of the entire system, outside of streets in Baltimore city and bridges, being estimated at approximately $10,000,000.

Experts who have visited Maryland in the last few months have stated that the Maryland roads system is equal to that of any State in the Union and far superior to most of them. And Maryland is generally far ahead of all other States in proportion to its size. The maintenance of the roads is excellent.

The scope of the roads system is known to all local motorists and to the public in general. It is worth while to point out for the benefit of those outside of Maryland that one can go over splendid roads from New York and other Northern points to most of the historic spots in this State.

For example, one may go from New York to Easton, which is among the oldest towns in the State and is located in the Talbot county river section, where many Northern and Western people have established country homes. The distance is 223.3 miles. Or one may go from New York through Baltimore to Washington, a distance of 247.9 miles; or to Emmitsburg, 277 miles, where there is a good road leading into Pennsylvania to Gettysburg, a few miles away.

Or, again, one may come to Baltimore from New York, a distance of 206.5 miles, and from Baltimore go over the old National pike practically to the point where it crosses the State line into Pennsylvania and makes for Pittsburgh and the West. The main artery of the State system from Baltimore to and through Western Maryland follows the old pike. The mountain scenery along this road is very beautiful.

Still again, one may go from New York to Washington and from there down through Southern Maryland to St. Mary's City, the ancient capital of the State, and on to the Confederate Monument, near Point Lookout. The monument marks the graves of about 4,000 Confederate soldiers who died there while in prison. The distance from New York to the Confederate Monument is 338 miles.

CANDIDATES MUST FILE CERTIFICATES

Twenty Days Prior To The Primary Election With Supervisors

Candidates will soon have to think of filing their papers with the Election Supervisors. Under the Primary Election Law all candidates must secure from the Supervisors of Elections a proper blank and fill out according to law. These certificates must be properly sworn to and filed with the Supervisors not less than twenty days before the day of the primaries. All offices which require more than three hundred dollars fee shall be $25, under that amount $10. Such offices as State Central Committee, delegates to the State Convention and precinct executives pay no fee as there is no remuneration attached to such offices. In this county the candidates for Senator, Register of Wills, House of Delegates and Sheriff, must post twenty-five dollars with his papers, the other offices such as County Commissioners and Judges of the Orphan Court, must pay ten dollars.

The primary ballots will be arranged alphabetically in groups the same as the official ballot, except there will be a party designation, because all the Democratic candidates are printed on the paper and the Republican candidates on blue paper. There is nothing special about the ballots. They can be distributed widely if desired. The official part of the primary election is the envelope into which the ballots are placed by the voter. The voter is supposed to go into the booth and place his ballot in the official envelope. The ballot will be printed so as to show the first and second choice for the State officers like Governor, Comptroller, Attorney-General. There is no first and second choice on the local ticket, the voter simply placing a cross mark opposite the name of the candidate for whom he wishes to vote.

The Corrupt Practices Act governs the Primary Election the same as the general election, and the same laws apply in soliciting votes within one hundred feet of the polls and all other things good for the primary elections. Candidates for the State Convention and for the Democratic State Central Committee must file their papers the same as other candidates. If there are not more candidates filed for these offices than the number to be selected then there is no reason to print the name of the candidate on the official ballot. This is also true of any other county office. If only one candidate files for Clerk for instance or for County Treasurer, or Sheriff, there will be no reason to print the names on the Primary Ballot. If it should so happen that only three candidates file for the House of Delegates, their names would not be printed on the ballot as they would be declared nominated by the Board of Supervisors.

Candidates for local offices should keep the date for filing the certificates in mind, and not lose their chance of entering the primaries on account of being too late under the law.

Candidates for local offices should keep the date for filing the certificates in mind, and not lose their chance of entering the primaries on account of being too late under the law.

St. Mary's County Goes Dry

St. Mary's, the oldest county in the State, and for many, many years the "wettest" in Southern Maryland, went "dry" last Tuesday by a majority of 553. The law making St. Mary's county dry will become effective May 1, 1916. Time is thus given in which saloonkeepers can dispose of their stock. There are fifty-five saloons in the county, which have yielded an annual revenue of between $3,000 and $4,000.

When St. Mary's saloons close in May, it will not be possible to buy a drink in Southern Maryland, if the law is enforced, between Annapolis and Point Lookout, except at Chesapeake Beach, whose charter carries with it the right to sell liquor. The next move of the Anti-Saloon League will be to abolish saloons in Chesapeake Beach by legislative enactment. The travelers from Point Lookout to Washington cannot quench their thirst until they reach Prince George's county, where the sale of liquor is permitted in a few districts. Charles county is dry.

The tourist who goes from the Pennsylvania line to Cape Charles now has to carry his "wet" rations with him, for there is not a licensed saloon on the Eastern Shore of Maryland and Virginia, nor in Kent and Sussex counties, Delaware. Harford is "dry" with the exception of Havre de Grace. There are "dry" spots in Baltimore county. All Carroll is "dry." Howard county is "dry," except Ellicott City. Montgomery is saloonless. Frederick county is partially "dry." Washington county is less so. Allegany is "wet." Garrett is "dry." Anne Arundel is "dry," except Annapolis and the territory near Baltimore.

No man is such a weakling that he can't carry his good opinion of himself.

THE TRI-COUNTY INSTITUTE

Will Be Held At Ocean City August 25th To September 2nd

Superintendents E. S. McMaster, W. J. Holloway and Wm. H. Dashiell, of Worcester, Wicomico and Somerset counties, have sent out a circular to the teachers of the public schools of their respective counties from which we glean the following information:

The eleventh annual Tri-County Institute will be held at Ocean City, Maryland, August 25th to September 2nd. The opening session on Wednesday afternoon, August 25th, will be at the new Public School Building at 3.30 o'clock, and will be devoted to organization, grouping, etc. This session will count as a full day and every teacher is expected to be present.

The regular Institute work will begin on Thursday morning and will continue through the week, Saturday included, from 9.30 a. m. to 12.30 p. m. The Institute will close on Thursday, September 2nd, at 12.30 p. m. Teachers will thus have two days to reach their homes and prepare for regular school work which will begin on Monday morning, September 6th.

Teachers will receive attendance certificates, which they are expected to fill accurately and fully and return to the several County Superintendents immediately after the close of the institute. It is the policy of the several School Boards to excuse from attendance those who produce certificates of attendance at some well recognized Summer School. If such certificate is not furnished, excuses for absence will not be entertained except by reason of illness and a physician's certificate must certify that fact.

The teachers will be divided into four groups, as follows:

Group A—Teachers of First and Second Grades of High and Graded Schools.

Group B—Teachers of Rural (one-room) Schools.

Group C—Teachers of Third to Seventh Grades of High and Graded Schools.

Group D—Teachers of High Schools and Principals of Graded Schools doing instruction.

Dr. Charles H. Keyes, President of Skidmore School of Arts, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.—Subject, "Hygiene."

Dr. Julius N. Winalow, Principal of Elizabeth Normal and Training School, Elizabeth, N. J.—Subject, "Aims and Methods of Education."

Dr. Forrest S. Lunt, Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York—Subject, "Reading."

Dr. Thomas D. Eason, State Normal School, Farmville, Va.—Subject, "Elementary and General Science."

Arrangements have also been made with Dr. Burdick, of the Public Athletic League, to have Mr. Clarke, of that League, to give lectures and demonstrations each afternoon, for a week, on the subject of "Public School Athletics." Notice of hours for lectures will be given at the Institute.

So far, the Superintendents of the three counties have not seen the way clear to recommend that one-fourth of the teachers shall attend Summer School; hence the Institute is repeated. We believe, however, that the date is not far distant when teachers will be expected to go to Summer School and the Institute will be omitted. It is gratifying to know that many teachers have attended Summer School during the past summer.

Maryland Will Send 500 Delegates

The Maryland suffragists have promised to send 500 women to Washington in December to take part in the "storming party" of 5,000 that will besiege the Capitol and make a demonstration before Congress in behalf of the federal amendment for woman suffrage. The Congressional Union in Washington is delighted with the aggressiveness and activity of the Maryland forces.

The Baltimore body has also promised a contribution of $2,000 to the treasury of the Congressional Union at Washington. Two of the Baltimore members Mrs. Edna S. Latimer and Mrs. Almira Sweeten, have been chosen to attend the Woman Voters' Convention in San Francisco.

Milbourne Gets Second Prize

The contest for the most popular conductor on the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk and the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railways, run by the Philadelphia Press, has been closed and the prizes awarded as follows:

First Prize, solid sterling silver standard Passenger Conductors' Lantern, H. M. Waller, 1,655,856 votes.

Second Prize, nickel standard Passenger Conductors' Lantern, Thomas H. Milbourne, 1,194,755 votes.

Third Prize, same as second, George W. Parker, 1,150,007 votes.

We could sometimes forgive a fool if it wasn't for the fact that he seems to be enjoying himself.

SENATOR LEE SPEAKS IN BALTIMORE

Denies Charge That He Is Seeking State Leadership

Senator Lee, his running mates and some of those who are helping to advance his cause had a busy time last Wednesday night jumping from one part of Baltimore City to another to address three meetings held at the Clinton Democratic Club, of the Seventeenth Ward, 797 George street; the Seventh Ward Democratic Club, 938 North Broadway, and at Solmsen's Hall, Whitelock street, between Callow and Park avenues. All three gatherings were well attended. At the Clinton Democratic Club there was an overflow crowd and some of the speakers were obliged to talk to those on the inside and those on the outside as well. In his speech at the Clinton Club Senator Lee said in part:

"Some of those supporting my opponent, who seem to think every man is always governed by a selfish motive, have been charging that my reason for becoming a candidate for Governor was to make myself State leader. My record is a complete answer to this charge. One of the things of which I am proud is the fight for the Primary Election law, which I began in 1906 and continued until we have a Primary Election law throughout the State which puts leadership where it belongs, in the rank and file of the party. Under the Primary Election law a rule of the party by one man or a little clique of men is a thing of the past. Now, no man can be a leader any longer than the majority of the Democratic voters choose to have him for a leader. Those who were opposed to the Primary Election law understood just as well as those of us who favored it that it would do away with one-man leadership, and they fought the law, and when they could not prevent the passage of the law they had their counties exempted from the law. Worcester county, the home of Senator Smith, was exempted from the law, and the Democratic voters in that county have never yet been permitted, in a legalized primary election, to say whom they prefer for their nominees or party committeemen.

"I believe in the rule of the people. I have stood for it for years, and I am not trying now to establish a one-man leadership for myself, but I elected Governor I do expect to introduce some new measures. I think the Smith system of managing the affairs of the State has not worked well and that the people need a change.

"I have been criticised by my opponents because of my refusal to enter into an agreement with my colleague, Senator Smith, for a division of the Federal offices in Maryland. Whether I was right about this or wrong depends, of course, upon one's point of view. Any one who looks upon the Federal positions in Maryland as the personal property of the two Senators from Maryland would naturally think that they ought to be divided equally between the two Senators, but I do not look upon public offices as the personal property or perquisite of anyone. Grover Cleveland said, and it was true Democratic doctrine, that 'a public office is a public trust.' Viewing the Federal positions in Maryland as public trusts to be administered by the men appointed to them for the benefit of the people, it did not seem to me proper to enter into an agreement with Senator Smith to divide these offices.

"Men have no right to divide something that does not belong to them. These positions did not belong to either of us. They belong to the people. They should be filled by men who should discharge the duties of these positions for the public good. The responsibility is placed by law upon the President to decide who is best qualified to discharge the public offices. The only thing that was proper, in my judgment, for a Senator to do was to recommend such men as in his judgment were best qualified to discharge the duties of the position, and at the same time in harmony with the progressive ideas of our great President.

Thomas J. Whaley Found Dead

Thomas J. Whaley, of Berlin, died suddenly of apoplexy last Friday morning while driving near Ironshire, Worcester county. His body was found near the roadside by a Mr. Griffin, who called John D. Henry, cashier of the Exchange and Savings Bank of Berlin, of which Mr. Whaley was a director. In the meanwhile his horse, with the empty buggy, returned home. Dr. Thomas Y. Franklin and H. F. Harmonson hurried to the place in an automobile, but life had been extinct some time.

The body was taken to Mr. Whaley's home. The dead man was one of the best known citizens of Worcester county, and until a few years ago, when he retired, was engaged in the builders supply manufacturing business in Berlin. He served several years as County Commissioner. He is survived by a widow, who was Miss E. Kate Funnell, and three children, E. Kate Funnell, a student at Tome Institute; Katherine and Ellen Whaley.

Mysterious Airship At Seaford

Astonishment and much curiosity was occasioned at Seaford, Del., last Friday by the sight of a flying machine, brilliantly lighted, going south, and only about 300 feet above the ground. The machine has not been reported from other towns in that section.

Company Formed To Buy Belgium

John Wanamaker has resigned as chairman of the Philadelphia Branch of the National Security League as a result of his proposal that the United States buy Belgium for $100,000,000 and end the European war by placing a prohibitive duty on American-made goods.

About the same time he has been offered the presidency of the World's Liquidating and Refunding Company, a huge insurance proposition which has just been organized in Bridgeport, Connecticut. David Beach, one of the promoters of the concern, wrote to Mr. Wanamaker asking him to head the company. When the executive and membership committees of the National Security League met last week Mr. Wanamaker read it to them, after tendering his resignation.

Mr. Beach said his company would be able to raise the necessary money to buy Belgium. In the letter was inclosed a printed bond. These range in denominations from $1,000 to $10,000 and are to carry interest at 4 1/2 per cent. This is how Mr. Beach explained:

"This company is in a position to furnish a $1,000 bond like the sample enclosed and make it a profitable investment for every one to join and take part in. We will form the financial peace club of the world. By the saving of 10 cents a day for 20 years the United States with its 100,000,000 people could in 20 years raise $110,000,000,000 and $100,000,000,000 could be handed to Belgium as you suggest. It would amount to little more than a postage stamp.

Mr. Wanamaker retains his membership in the National Security League.

30,000 VOICES

And Many Are The Voices Of Princess Anne People

Thirty thousand voices—What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Princess Anne people are in this chorus.

Here's a Princess Anne case: John W. Heath, farmer, R. F. D. No. 2, Princess Anne, says: "For more than a year I suffered from distressing attacks of backache and at times my back became so weak I could hardly work. The kidney secretions were also irregular in passage and there was sediment in them. Having heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box at Omar A. Jones' drug store and gave them a trial. They helped me at once and thus convinced me of their merit." (Statement given Oct. 14, 1907). Over four years later Mr. Heath said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me is still permanent."

AN ARAB LEGEND.

Story of the Covetous Man Who Went a Step Too Far.

The Arabs tell a story to show how a mean man's philosophy overshoots itself. Under the reign of the first caliph there was a merchant of Bagdad equally rich and avaricious.

One day he bargained with a porter to carry home for him a basket of porcelain vases for 10 paras. As they went along he said to the man: "My friend, you are young and I am old. You can still earn plenty. Strike a para from your hire." "Willingly," replied the porter. This request was repeated again and again, until, when they reached the house, the porter had only a single para to receive.

As they went upstairs the merchant said, "If you will resign the last para I will give you three pieces of advice." "Be so," said the porter. "Well, then," said the merchant, "if any one tells you it is better to be fasting than feasting do not believe him. If any one tells you it is better to be poor than rich do not believe him. If any one tells you it is better to walk than ride in your carriage do not believe him."

"My dear sir," replied the astonished porter, "I knew these things before. But if you will listen to me I will give you such advice as you never heard before." The merchant turned around, and the porter, throwing the basket down the staircase, said, "If any one tells you that one of your vases is unbroken do not believe him."

Seeing an Eclipse.

In December, 1870, a solar eclipse occurred, the partial phases of which M. Flammarion observed in Paris while the enemy's shells were dropping in the besieged city. The total phase of the eclipse was visible in North Africa, and Bismarck, being aware that before the war arrangements had been made for Professor Janssen to go to Africa to make scientific observations of totality on behalf of the Paris observatory, sent a message into the city offering the scientist a safe conduct.

This was politely refused by Professor Janssen, says the London Standard, but, nevertheless, he went to Africa to see the phenomenon, leaving Paris by way of the air in a balloon, thanks in large measure to the assistance of M. Flammarion in making the necessary arrangements for the aerial voyage.

Without Prejudice.

A party of young men and women, members of a sketching club, were motoring along a country road. Just within the fence on the left grew innumerable graceful stalks, each bearing globes of pale green that shaded into gray and purple.

"How enchanting!" exclaimed one young woman. "Do tell us," said another young woman, equally enthusiastic, to a gardener standing near, "what those beautiful things are." "Them? Them's onions gone to seed!"—New York Times.

In the matter of the tax sale of real estate in Tangier Election District of Somerset county, assessed to Mary Barnes, made and reported by James E. Dashiell, Collector of State and County Taxes for the Second Collection District of Somerset county, for the year 1908, Henry C. Disharoon and Granville Webster, purchasers, ex parte.

In the Circuit Court for Somerset County, No. 3021, Chancery.

Whereas a certain James E. Dashiell, Collector of State and County Taxes for the Second Collection District of Somerset county, in the State of Maryland, for the year 1908, has reported to the Circuit Court for Somerset county, a sale made by him to Henry C. Disharoon and Granville Webster, of all that lot or parcel of land lying and being in Tangier Election District, of said county, in the State of Maryland, containing one-half acre of land, more or less, with the improvements thereon, adjoining the lands of Plummer Minter and Rufus Wright, conveyed to Mary Barnes by 'Thos' J. Jones by deed dated the eighteenth day of May, 1877, and recorded in Liber L. W. No. 17, folio 105, etc., and assessed to Mary Barnes on the assessment books of said election district for the year 1908, and sold for the payment of taxes due and in arrears, together with all the proceedings had in relation thereto, and whereas upon examination it appears to the said Court that the said proceedings are regular, and that the provisions of the law in relation thereto have been complied with. Now it is therefore ordered, by the Circuit Court for Somerset County, in Equity, this 22nd day of July, in the year 1915, that notice be given by the publication of this order once a week for three successive weeks in the "Marylander and Herald," a weekly newspaper published in Somerset county, before the 25th day of August next, warning all persons interested in the said real estate to be and appear in this Court on or before the 31st day of August next, to show cause, if any they have, why said sale should not be ratified and confirmed. The report states the amount of sales to be $5.55. HENRY L. B. STANFORD, Judge. True Copy. Test: W. JEROME STERLING, Clerk.

POWER IN THE PEOPLE

Senator Blair Lee last week in Baltimore stated in a clear way his ideas of the people's right to control rather than an individual, or a series of individuals. Mr. Lee stated that it had been reported that he desired to be a State leader, and in reply to such a report, he claimed that such an idea was not only impracticable, but also impossible. He asserted that he had always been for a direct primary system that lodges all authority in the hands of the people. For such a system he had fought successfully, and that up to the present Worcester county, the home of Senator Smith, had been the only exception where the law had not been put into effect.

The drift of Senator Lee's statements was not against Comptroller Harrington, but rather against Mr. Harrington's ardent supporter from Worcester county. The people, Mr. Lee claimed, would no longer tolerate any individual as a sole party adviser. He did not claim such a position for himself and he did not intend to attempt such a policy.

Referring to appointments by the President, Mr. Lee also questioned the right of senators to divide them up. The same desire to serve the people should also impel the President in making his appointments, the idea being to have the best and most capable men, and that such should receive the Senators' indorsement.

Senator Lee, in these outspoken statements, is clever enough to appeal to the idea of popular power and there can be no doubt of his sincerity. He is equally sincere in his disposition not to accord to senators the right to divide up the confirmation of public offices or to concede to them the right of any equal distribution in the matter of confirmation. It is our belief that such doctrines as Senator Lee is preaching can not fail to carry due weight with the people to whom he is appealing. It is equally our belief that such doctrines will tend to increase rather than diminish the votes he expects at the primary election.

Fair Play By Uncle Sam

The suit of the New England railroads to recover additional compensation for the railway mail service they have rendered recites some facts which are beyond dispute as well as making some claims that may be open to argument.

The complaint which is made against the quadrennial system of weighing is just. The increase in the mails is comparatively steady and payment for the fourth year on the basis of the weight at the beginning of the period is obviously unjust. The dumping of the great parcel post business on the railroads with little or no extra compensation was not honest and was a discredit to the Government, whether or not the railroads were deserving of sympathy on any general basis.

If the postal service demands larger cars or more room in terminal buildings, or an increase in switching and yard service there should be an equitable adjustment of pay. The railroads are not in a position to bargain with the postoffice department. The task is assigned them as a public duty. The transaction is akin to the taking of property by the right of eminent domain and the Government of the United States must be fair and honest in its dealing with its citizens. - Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Great Nation For Seasoning

Salt consumed in the United States amounted to 9,998,520,560 pounds during 1914, an increase of 41,575,800 pounds over that consumed in 1913. The amount, announced last Thursday by the Geological Survey, would mean a per capita consumption of almost 100 pounds for the year. The per capita consumption of sugar during 1914 was 89.14 pounds. Salt production in the United States was 9,736,911,160 pounds, and imports were 261,609,320 pounds during 1914. That produced in this country was valued at $10,271,365. Production was greater than in 1913, keeping pace with the increase in population.

The Clerk Guaranteed It

"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?' and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, 'if this does not cure you, I will not charge you a cent for it.' So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured," writes J. H. Berry & Co., Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.

14,398,000 WAR LOSS

French Experts Put This As Grand Total Up to May 31st

The losses of Europe in the war up to May 31, as compiled by the French Ministry of War, are as follows:

	Killed	Wounded	Prisoners	Total
France	480,000	880,000	130,000	1,390,000
England	181,000	209,000	80,000	470,000
Belgium	49,000	49,000	15,000	113,000
Russia	1,250,000	1,633,000	850,000	3,733,000
Germany	1,530,000	1,880,000	480,000	4,090,000
Austria	1,610,000	1,865,000	910,000	4,385,000
Turkey	110,000	144,000	85,000	349,000
Totals	5,290,000	6,478,000	2,630,000	14,398,000

The computations, while probably not exact, may be considered the most complete record of losses so far put together. The losses of Serbia are not available, but as that country has suffered from plague in addition to war they must be large.

The largest total loss is charged to Austria-Hungary; the largest proportionate loss to Belgium. Enough persons have been killed to populate a country like Sweden.

Since May 31 there have been many violent battles to swell the totals given—the French offensive north of Arras, where 15,000 are said to have been slain, the Austro-Italian engagements, the great battle in Galicia and the German offensive in the Argonne.

The most astounding feature of this table is the ratio of killed to wounded. In previous modern wars the number of wounded has been to the number of dead as four or five to one. Here the two categories are much more nearly equal. Many of the wounded have joined their regiments, but many are crippled for life. The sick, who have been numerous in all the armies, are not listed here.

Ready For Arbitration

The government of Great Britain is firm in insisting upon its right to employ the means it has employed since the war began for the purpose of cutting off, as completely as possible, all trade of neutral countries with Germany and Austria-Hungary. It claims that in this attitude it is sustained by international law and the recognized rules of warfare. A willingness is expressed, however, to submit to international arbitration any cases in which the United States may be dissatisfied with the awards of British prize courts of damages on account of cargoes from neutral countries seized in transit.

This attitude is very similar to that assumed by our government during the Civil War, in respect of making effective the blockade of the Southern ports. It is the attitude generally assumed by countries engaged in war.

The subject, however, is one for peaceful consideration, not acrimonious controversy. We settled the Alabama claims, arising from our Civil War, in a peaceful manner, and no doubt can settle all similar cases. It is wrong like the destruction of the Lusitania that call for other forms of protest. - Wilmington Evening News.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh, Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. Flowers That Yield Soap.

English countryfolk on occasion still find substitutes for soap among the wild flowers of the hedgerow. The best of these is the soapwort, which contains a mucilaginous juice which lathers freely, but almost equally good for washing purposes are the corn cocks, the wild lychnis, the scarlet pimpernel, and the familiar clove. The fruit of the horse chestnut, also, has saponine qualities, and is largely used in place of soap in rural districts on the continent.

A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince The Most Skeptical Princess Anne Reader
The test of time is the test that counts. Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action. The following case is typical. Princess Anne residents should be convinced. The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete. Testimony like this cannot be ignored. Irving O. Dryden, R. F. D. mail carrier, Westover, says: "My kidneys acted irregularly and my back was weak and painful. I could not stoop for any length of time and was unable to remain in one position long without having dull pains across my back. As soon as I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills I found relief and I continued until I was cured." (Statement given May 30, 1909) over two years later Mr. Dryden said "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills and enjoy freedom from attacks of kidney complaint such as I formerly had."

Safety In Travel

Officials of the Southern Railroad are felicitating themselves on the fact that in the year just closed more than 16,500,000 passengers were transported over its lines with but a single fatality, and that would have been avoided if a passenger had not violated the company's rules by standing on a car platform. Not one passenger was killed in a train accident. Such a showing is the best possible proof of the high safety of American railroad travel. It is revealed in an even more impressive form by the record of the Pennsylvania Railroad, which in the past year carried 180,000,000 passengers without a fatal accident. There are a number of roads which can make an equally flawless showing. American railroads were never so safe for the passengers as they are today, notwithstanding the vast increase in the volume of travel.

Against this clean score must be placed the fatalities due to the recklessness of automobile drivers. On the Southern Railway alone 12 such persons met their deaths through their carelessness in attempting to use highway crossings simultaneously with trains, and in the North the annual toll of these victims is far greater. On the Long Island Railroad, where especial precautions have been taken to prevent such accidents, the reports show some eight or ten gates broken every week by foolish automobilists who insist upon dashing into them at high speed in the face of approaching trains. So far as this phase of automobile traveling is concerned, there can be no improvement over the old warning. When a grade crossing is approaching, "Stop, look and listen." If this rule had been followed there could have been no such tragedy as that which recently occurred on the Reading Railway near Harrisburg, when a family party of six, riding in an automobile, was dashed to death by a locomotive. The railroads have set an example which all travelers should seek to emulate. - Philadelphia Record.

War came, war saw, and war took Ivangorod the day after Warsaw. This might have been said by Frederick, the Austrian Archducal Julius Caesar.

To The Voters of Somerset County:
A communication, in the nature of a petition, has been addressed to me, signed by a large number of voters, including many of opposing political affiliation, requesting me to become a candidate for County Commissioner in the Democratic Primaries and expressing confidence in my ability and integrity to faithfully discharge the duties, if committed to me, with the sole purpose of advancing the material welfare and interests of our county. This evidence of the esteem and faith of those who signed this petition, including my neighbors and others who well know me, I regard most highly and, feeling as I do that every thoughtful citizen must view with hesitancy the assumption of the important duties connected with the office of County Commissioner, and in further view of the urgent and unsolicited request and tender of support presented to me by the signers of the petition, I have concluded, after due consideration and in response to their appeal, to announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner in the Democratic Primaries. To those who have so generously endorsed me, and to all other voters of Somerset county, I give this assurance, that if nominated and elected, I shall, during the term of office, devote my best endeavors and efforts towards the uplifting of the county, and to promoting and maintaining the highest standards of efficiency and economy in the conduct of our county affairs, always considering the interests of the taxpayers and citizens, without partiality or prejudice towards any one, and especially endeavoring to cause every dollar of the taxpayers' money to be expended only for full value in return, and to be accounted for.

In conclusion, I think that I should frankly state that prior to my coming to Maryland, and independent of the proper time, submit the same in the Democratic Primaries. To those who have so generously endorsed me, and to all other voters of Somerset county, I give this assurance, that if nominated and elected, I shall, during the term of office, devote my best endeavors and efforts towards the uplifting of the county, and to promoting and maintaining the highest standards of efficiency and economy in the conduct of our county affairs, always considering the interests of the taxpayers and citizens, without partiality or prejudice towards any one, and especially endeavoring to cause every dollar of the taxpayers' money to be expended only for full value in return, and to be accounted for.

By virtue of the power and authority vested in me as County Treasurer for Somerset County by the provisions of Chapter 10 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1910, I hereby give notice that on

The Republican State Central Committee for Worcester county passed resolutions unanimously indorsing the candidacy of O. E. Weller for Governor. C. O. Melvin, Thomas P. Wharton, Geo. W. Tritt and Edward S. Furubush were elected delegates to the State Convention.

Mrs. Samuel K. Dennis, wife of the United States District Attorney, who was stricken with appendicitis at Salt Lake City some weeks ago and was operated on there, has improved so much in health that she is expected to return to her home in Baltimore in about a week. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis were on their way to the Pacific Coast when her illness halted them.

Mr. C. Wesley Fontaine, who has been ill for several weeks past, was taken to the Peninsula General Hospital, at Salisbury, on Wednesday morning last, where he was operated upon for an affection of the liver. The surgeon found and removed a large number of gall stones. Mr. Fontaine stood the operation well and seemed to be getting along nicely. The reports yesterday (Monday) morning were far from encouraging. The operation was an absolute necessity, as his condition at home had become critical.

TERRIFIC STORM SWEEPS THE STATE

Much Damage Done By Wind And Rain In Many Sections

Reports from many sections of Maryland indicate that the rain and wind storm late last Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning was of wide scope, causing a great loss to growing crops and property.

In Somerset county, in some sections, the fields of corn were beaten to the ground, and what promised to be a splendid yield of fruit was blown from the trees, and all growing crops were badly damaged and the loss to the farmers will be large.

Damage amounting to several hundred thousand dollars was left in the wake of the storm when it passed over Baltimore city and its suburbs. In the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries were the wreckage of fine sloops, motorboats and schooners. Battered crafts were strung along the shores, washed up by the turbulent waters. Practically the entire yacht fleet of Baltimore was smashed to pieces. Out of 75 motorboats entered at the Maryland Motorboat Club, only 5 escaped unharmed. River resorts, private shores and other points along the river were also heavy sufferers. Entire piers were torn away, bath-houses blown to bits, and cottages laid in ruins.

At Annapolis houses were demolished or unroofed and trees were uprooted, the greatest damage being done in St. Anne's Cemetery and the streets immediately surrounding it. The cemetery was practically devastated. Huge trees were torn up by the roots, in some instances leaving open graves, and large monuments were overturned.

In Cumberland there was a cloudburst which laid things waste. Trees and telegraph poles were uprooted, windows of stores and houses smashed, and wreckage filled the streets.

In Harford county the rain and wind battered down the crops or tore them from the earth. What escaped the wind and rain was riddled by hail. A herd of 22 fine cattle is missing, and all are probably dead.

At Betterton the storm seems to have damaged whatever got in its path. The amusement houses and bathhouses at that resort were inundated, part of the boardwalk was torn away and sent floating off, boats were smashed and the lives of a number of persons placed in jeopardy.

In Dorchester county damage was done to the peach crop. Telephone lines were crippled and the Cambridge electric plant was forced to shut down temporarily by a tree falling on its feed lines. Steamers to and from Cambridge were delayed several hours. The tide Wednesday morning was one of the highest ever known.

Cecil county, Howard county and others tell of the havoc wrought and all reports agree that it was undoubtedly the worst storm that has visited the State in several decades.

Fish Poachers Menace

Charges that Virginia steamers in great numbers are poaching on Maryland fishing grounds in the lower Chesapeake and adjacent waters are made by Swebson Earle, hydrographic engineer of the Shellfish Commission. Most of the fish thus caught, he says, are carried back to Virginia for fertilizer.

The charges are backed up with evidence collected by Mr. Earle sufficient to substantiate his statement that the seafood industry of Maryland is being menaced to an alarming degree. He declares:

"On Monday, July 26, I witnessed, while passing down Chesapeake Bay, adjacent to Calvert county, 15 large steamers working within a radius of five miles and catching every school of fish that appeared near the water's surface.

"The previous week 46 steamers were counted working along the west side of Chesapeake Bay. The entrance to the Patuxent river is patrolled by these steamers—consequently one of the best fishing rivers of Maryland is becoming depleted of its best fish. Residents along the upper Patuxent are complaining that they can no longer catch rock or trout.

"In order for the food fish to reach Maryland waters at all they must run the gauntlet of hundreds of Virginia nets, and after reaching our waters to be captured and taken back for fertilizer is evidence of a sad piece of ignorant neglect on the part of Maryland, which threatens one of the State's leading resources.

"Refer to the fishing laws of Virginia and they will be observed to be carefully drawn and then enforced to protect that State's food fish."

Many of the Virginia boats operating in Maryland waters, he says, do so under Maryland licenses illegally procured.

NAVAL ENGINEERS

Obscure Heroes of the Warships
When a Battle Rages.

BOTTLED UP BELOW DECKS.

They Get None of the Glory and the Fine Thrill of Combat, but Just a Little Harder Work Than Usual. Perils of the Officers and Stokers.

There is a man in the navy who is too often forgotten, even by the authorities, when they are "dishing out" rewards and praise for successful operations at sea, and that man is the man who makes the wheels go round inside the ship.

If the wheels stop then the modern warship lies on the water like an armed tin can, waiting for some one to sail round it, plug it full of holes and sink it.

A fighting ship, to put up any sort of battle at all, must be able to get on with it at the rate of knots, as the sailors say when they mean at high speed, and the men who make that possible are the engineers and the stokers. The engineer officers are highly skilled scientists, with no use for the fear of death.

The stoker, far below the waterline, shovels coal, and he gathers there is a battle on, when there is, by the fact that he has to work twice as hard as he thought he could, and by the infernal racket made by the guns, and by the projectiles of the enemy, which have found a new home aboard the ship.

He has none of the glory and the fine thrill of battle—only an increase in his ordinary work.

He works by lamplight to keep steam up, and he knows there has been a victory when some one tells him, unless he happens to be working in his "spare" time at the ammunition hoists near the roaring guns.

Even now in many ships and once in all the engineer officers and their men are shut down in their working places, and they cannot get out, for it is necessary for them to be closed up. It is not, of course, necessary to keep them there to make them do their work, but because the ships' engines run under forced draft, and the only way to get that is to batten down the stokeholds.

They become, in fact, part of the pipe, if one can call it that, along which the air is pumped to the fires to make them burn more fiercely, just as one bucks up the kitchen range with the bellows. If the hatches leading to the upper decks were open the air would be pumped out through them and would not pass through the white hot furnaces.

If she is torpedoed and sinks suddenly down go the engineers and the stokers without the chance of swimming for it as the others have when the order "Each man for himself" is given by the executive officer in charge of the vessel.

In the case of the oil driven warships there is not, it need hardly be said, that added risk for the engine room staff. There is no need to shut them down, and, in case of sinking they have no further risk than that entailed by the time taken for the order to get down to them and for them to get up on deck. They are, however, the people most likely to go to fragments when a torpedo comes knocking on the ship's side, or, rather, down among her foundations.

And there are steam pipes filled with scalding and sudden death, flooding the engine room in an instant with biting, blinding, searing fog, somewhere above boiling point, for high pressure steam is hotter stuff than comes out of the spout of a kettle. A shell through the main steam pipes, and goodbye to those who are near the damage.

The engineer officer knows all this and often has seen some of the things that can happen taking place on a small but significant scale. While the gunners get the glory he watches the wheels go round, listens not to the scream of the shells or the hammer strokes of projectiles on armor plate, but to the telltale songs of the complex mechanisms over which he presides with the coolness of a naval officer, the skill of a man of science and the tenderness of a Red Cross nurse.

Every moment may be the last moment the life in his body has, but he must not think of that.

Down there in the bowels of the fighting ship he must keep his mind clear to think of a thousand details, and he must do it without any of the exhilaration that comes from watching the effect of the guns on the enemy's ships.

He never sees a shot go home; he never sees an enemy's flag pulled down in defeat.

He sees only his engines and the men tending them.

If all goes well and the enemy runs or strikes the engineer commander hears all about it at mess. If things go wrong he feels it quite unmistakably in his person.

Get one unlucky shot into the engine room and it is up to him, so long as volition is left to him, to put that thing right, and he must not draw fire until there is not another thing he can do first. In battle so long as there is a dog's chance to do so he must keep steam up, for steam is the breath of life to the ship, and he must take risks when he is making repairs that would give the landman spasms.—London Answers.

Charity begins at home, but don't let selfishness start there too.—Detroit Times Press.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-fool in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building- tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

British Julius Caesars.

Julius Caesar, who on one of the closing days of August in 55 B. C. landed on the Kentish coast, has had many British namesakes, including a great cricketer, but the best known is Julius Caesar, master of the rolls under James I., about whom Lord Clarendon in the first volume of his history tells the amusing story, "Remember Caesar." The unpopular Earl of Portland sat up all night in a barricaded house with his friends and retainers armed to the teeth because he found in his pocket a slip of paper bidding him "Remember Caesar," which really had reference not to the assassination of the Roman statesman, but to some preferment promised to a son of Sir Julius Caesar. The tomb of Sir Julius Caesar, with a quaint epitaph in legal phraseology, is among the many curious monuments of St. Helen's, Bishopsgate.—London Mail.

How Lee Stood On Oyster Legislation

Senator Lewis M. Milbourne, of Somerset county, one of the strongest friends the oystermen had in the last Legislature, in an open letter to the oystermen of Somerset county, speaking of Senator Blair Lee's stand on oyster legislation, says:

"Senator Lee became a figure in State politics when he was a candidate for Governor in 1911, at which election he received the generous support from the oystermen, and at the following sessions of the Legislature of 1912 he displayed the keenest interest in their cause. On many occasions he rendered valuable aid and support to those of us who were leading the fight against the Campbell-Price bill. One notable occasion was during the stubborn fight made on my amendment to that bill prohibiting the use of power boats to take plants from leased ground, when President Price left the presiding officer's chair and made a two-hour speech in favor of the use of power boats. Senator Lee made a very effective speech in favor of my amendment, and it was his influence and vote which made its adoption possible.

"Neither of the gubernatorial candidates was a member of the Legislature of 1914, but the Act of 1914 was passed by a Democratic Legislature and members of that body who were friends of Senator Lee supported it as earnestly and as effectively as did the friends of Mr. Harrington.

"No member of the Legislature of 1914 rendered more valuable service in securing the passage of the Shepherd bill than did the Hon. Andrew J. Cummings, of Montgomery county, the home of Senator Lee. No man in the General Assembly was closer to Senator Lee or more frequently in consultation with him during that session of the Legislature than Mr. Cummings, and it is fair to assume that the Montgomery legislator acted with Senator Lee's advice and approval.

"Anyhow, I personally know that Senator Lee regards the oyster question as settled and has no purpose to reopen it or to do anything as Governor detrimental to the interests of the oystermen."

PROCLAMATION

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of Maryland.

Whereas, at the January Session of the General Assembly of Maryland held in the year nineteen hundred and fourteen, Acts were passed, to wit: Chapter 303, proposing an amendment to Article 15, of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of Maryland; Chapter 416, proposing a new Article to said Constitution to be known as Article XX-A, Chapter 433, proposing an additional section to Article III of said Constitution and Chapter 673, proposing an additional Article to said Constitution to be known as Article XXVI, and the Acts of the General Assembly are in words and figures following:

CHAPTER 303.

An Act to amend Article XV of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland and to provide for the submission of such amendment to the qualified voters of this State for their adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the Members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following Article be added to the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, as at present existing, and any law or laws in conflict with the provisions of this Article shall be repealed:

Article XV. That the levying of taxes by the poll is grievous and oppressive and ought to be prohibited; that paupers ought not to be assessed for the support of the government; that the General Assembly shall, by uniform rules, provide for separate assessment of land and classification and sub-classification of improvements on land and personal property, as it may deem proper; and all taxes hereafter provided to be levied by the State for the support of the general State Government, and by the counties and by the City of Baltimore for their respective purposes shall be uniform as to land within the taxing district, and uniform within the class or sub-class of improvements on land and personal property which the respective taxing powers may be authorized to levy; yet fines, duties or taxes may properly and justly be imposed, or laid with a political view for the good government and benefit of the community.

Section 2. And be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the foregoing article hereby proposed, in lieu of the Article of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall be, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of this State, and that at said general election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each official ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the State for the purpose of ascertaining the result of the vote on said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution.

Approved, April 10th, 1914.

CHAPTER 416.

An Act to propose an amendment to the Constitution of this State by adding a new Article thereto to follow immediately after Article XI and to be known as Article XI-A, and to provide for the submission of such amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all the Members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following Article to follow immediately after Article XI and to be known as Article XI-A, and to provide for the submission of such amendment to the qualified voters of this State, as herein provided, shall be a part of the Constitution of this State.

ARTICLE XI-A. LOCAL LEGISLATION.

Section 1. On demand of the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore, or on petition being the signatures of not less than 20 per cent of the registered voters of said city or any county (provided, however, that in any case 10,000 signatures shall be sufficient to complete a petition) the Board of Election Supervisors of said city or county shall provide at the next general or Congressional election, occurring after such demand or the filing of such petition, for the submission of a charter board of eleven registered voters of said city or five registered voters in any such counties. Nominations for members for said charter board may be made not less than forty days before the election by the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the County Commissioners of such county, or not less than twenty days prior to said election by petition being the signatures, written in their own handwriting (and not by their mark) of not less than 5 per cent of the registered voters of the said City of Baltimore or said county; provided, that in any case two thousand signatures of registered voters shall be sufficient to complete any such nominating petition, and if not more than eleven registered voters in the City of Baltimore or not more than five registered voters in any such county are so nominated their names shall not be printed on the ballot, but said eleven registered voters in the City of Baltimore or five in such county shall constitute said charter board from and after the date of said election. At said election the ballot shall contain the names of said nominees in alphabetical order without any indication of the source of their nomination, and shall also be so arranged as to permit the voter to vote for or against the creation of said charter board, but the vote cast against said creation shall not be held to bar the voter from expressing his choice among the nominees for said board, and if the majority of the votes cast for and against the creation of said charter board shall be against said creation the election of the members of said charter board shall be void; but if such majority shall be in favor of the creation of said charter board, then and in that event the eleven nominees of the City of Baltimore or five nominees in the county receiving the largest number of votes shall constitute the charter board, and said charter board, or a majority thereof, shall prepare within six months from the date of said election a charter or form of government for said city or such county and present the same to the Mayor of Baltimore or President of the Board of County Commissioners of such county, who shall publish the same in at least two newspapers of general circulation published in said City of Baltimore or county within thirty days after it shall be reported to him. Such charter shall be submitted to the voters of said city or county at the next general or Congressional election after the report of said charter to said Mayor of Baltimore or President of the Board of County Commissioners; and if a majority of votes cast for and against the adoption of said charter shall be in favor of such adoption, the said charter from and after the thirtieth day from the date of such election shall become the law of said city or county, subject to the legal and qualified voters thereof, and any Public Local Laws inconsistent with the provisions of said charter shall be repealed; and if a majority of votes cast for and against the adoption of said charter shall be in favor of such adoption, the said charter from and after the thirtieth day from the date of such election shall become the law of said city or county, subject to the legal and qualified voters thereof, and any Public Local Laws inconsistent with the provisions of said charter shall be repealed; and if a majority of votes cast for and against the adoption of said charter shall be in favor of such adoption, the said charter from and after the thirtieth day from the date of such election shall become the law of said city or county, subject to the legal and qualified voters thereof, and any Public Local Laws inconsistent with the provisions of said charter shall be repealed.

Section 2. The General Assembly at its first session after the adoption of this amendment shall, by Public General Law, provide a grant of express powers for such county or counties as may thereafter form a charter under the provisions of this Article. Such express powers granted to the counties and the powers heretofore granted to the City of Baltimore, as set forth in Article 4, Section 6, Public Local Laws of Maryland shall not be enlarged or extended by any charter formed under the provisions of this Article, but such powers may be extended, modified, amended or repealed by the General Assembly.

Section 3. Every charter so formed shall provide for an elective legislative body to which shall be vested the law-making power of said city or county. Such legislative body in the City of Baltimore shall be known as the City Council of the City of Baltimore, and in any county shall be known as the County Council of the county. The chief executive officer, if such charter shall provide for the election of such executive officer or the presiding officer of said legislative body, if such charter shall not provide for the election of a chief executive officer, shall be known in the City of Baltimore as Mayor of Baltimore, and in any county as Mayor of the County Council of the county, and all references in the Constitution and laws of this State to the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or to the County Commissioners, of the counties shall be construed to refer to the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore and to the President and Council of the County Council of the county, whenever such construction would be reasonable. From and after the adoption of a charter by the City of Baltimore, or any county of this State, heretofore provided, the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the County Council of said county, subject to the Constitution and Public General Laws of this State, shall have full power to enact local laws of said city or county, including the power to repeal or amend Local Laws of said city or county enacted by the General Assembly, upon all matters covered by the express powers granted as above provided; provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize or empower the County Council of the county in this State to enact laws or regulations for any incorporated town, village, or municipality in said county, on any matter covered by the powers granted to said town, village, or municipality by the Act incorporating it, or any subsequent Act or Acts amendatory thereto. Provided, however, that the charters for the various counties shall provide that the County Council of the counties shall not at more than one month in each year for the purpose of enacting legislation for such counties during the month so designated for that purpose in the charter, and all laws and ordinances so enacted shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in at least one newspaper published in such counties, so that the taxpayers and citizens may have notice thereof. This provision shall not apply to Baltimore City. All such local laws enacted by the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the County Council of the county, as hereinbefore provided, shall be subject to the same rules of interpretation as those now applicable to the Public Local Laws of this State, except that in case of any conflict between said Local Law and any Public General Law now or hereafter enacted, the Public General Law shall control.

Section 4. From and after the adoption of a charter under the provisions of this Article by the City of Baltimore or any county of this State, no Public Local Law shall be enacted by the General Assembly for said city or county on any subject covered by the express powers granted as above provided. Any law so drawn as to apply to two or more of the geographical sub-divisions of this State shall not be deemed a Local Law, within the meaning of this Act. The term "geographical sub-division" herein used shall be taken to mean the City of Baltimore or any of the counties of this State.

Section 5. Amendments to any charter adopted by the City of Baltimore or by any county of this State under the provisions of this Article may be proposed by a resolution of the Mayor of Baltimore and the City Council of said City of Baltimore, or the Council of said county, or by a petition signed by not less than 20 per cent of the registered voters of said city or county, provided, however, that in any case 10,000 signatures shall be sufficient to complete a petition, and filed with the Mayor of Baltimore or the President of the County Council, and when so proposed shall be submitted to the voters of said city or county at the next general or Congressional election occurring after the passage of said resolution, or the filing of said petition, and if at said election the majority of the votes cast for and against said amendment shall be in favor thereof, said amendment shall be adopted and become a part of the charter of said city or county from and after the thirtieth day after said election. Said amendment shall be published by said Mayor of Baltimore or President of the County Council once a week for five successive weeks prior to said election in at least one newspaper published in said city or county.

Section 6. The power heretofore conferred upon the General Assembly to prescribe the number, compensation, powers and duties of the County Commissioners in each county, and the power to make changes in Sections 1 to 6, inclusive, Article XI of this Constitution, when expressly granted as hereinbefore provided, are hereby transferred to the voters of each county and the voters of the City of Baltimore, respectively, provided that said powers so transferred shall be exercised only by the adoption or amendment of a charter as hereinbefore provided; and provided further, that this Article shall not be construed to authorize the exercise of any powers in excess of those conferred by the Legislature upon said counties or city as this Article sets forth.

Section 7. The word "Petition," as used in this Article, means one or more sheets written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, or signatures of registered voters of a registered voter written by himself in his own handwriting (and not by his mark), together with the ward or district and precinct in which he is registered. The authenticity of such signatures and the fact that the persons so signing are registered voters shall be evidenced by the affidavit of one or more registered voters of the city or county in which said voters so signing are registered, and one affidavit may apply to or cover a number of signatures to such petition. The false signing of any name, or the signing of any fictitious name to said petition shall be forgery, and the making of any false affidavit in connection with said petition shall be perjury.

Section 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforesaid Article hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution shall be at the next General Election for Members of the General Assembly held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof, for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XVI of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election the vote of said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the State for the purpose of ascertaining the result of the vote on said proposed amendment as directed by the said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution.

Approved April 6th, 1914.

CHAPTER 433.

An Act to propose an amendment to Article III, of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, by adding a new Section, to be known as Section 60, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the Members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby adopted as an amendment to Article III, of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 59 and to be known as Section 60, and in any county as the voters thereof, as herein provided, said Section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

Section 60. The General Assembly of Maryland shall have the power to provide by suitable general enactment (a) for the suspension of sentence by the Court in the case of any offender in form of the indeterminate sentence in criminal cases, and (c) for the release upon parole in whatever manner the General Assembly may prescribe, of convicts imprisoned under sentence for crimes.

Section 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be at the next general election, to be held on Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of June, submitted to the legal and qualified voters of Maryland for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be written or printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the State for the purpose of ascertaining the result of the vote on said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Approved April 10th, 1914.

CHAPTER 673.

An Act to amend the Constitution of Maryland by adding thereto a new Article to be entitled, "Article XVII," and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the Members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new and additional Article, to be known as Article XVII, of the Constitution of this State, and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of Maryland, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, shall be a part of said Constitution, to be known and entitled as aforesaid.

ARTICLE XVII. THE REFERENDUM.

Section 1 (a). The people reserve to themselves power known as The Referendum, by petition to have submitted to the registered voters of the State, to approve or reject any bill, or any part or part of any Act of the General Assembly, if approved by the Governor, or if passed by the General Assembly over the veto of the Governor; (b). The provisions of this Article shall be self-executing; provided that additional legislation in furtherance thereof and not in conflict therewith may be enacted or by a petition signed by not less than 20 per cent of the registered voters of said city or county, provided, however, that in any case 10,000 signatures shall be sufficient to complete a petition, and filed with the Mayor of Baltimore or the President of the County Council, and when so proposed shall be submitted to the voters of said city or county at the next general or Congressional election occurring after the passage of said resolution, or the filing of said petition, and if at said election the majority of the votes cast for and against said amendment shall be in favor thereof, said amendment shall be adopted and become a part of the charter of said city or county from and after the thirtieth day after said election. Said amendment shall be published by said Mayor of Baltimore or President of the County Council once a week for five successive weeks prior to said election in at least one newspaper published in said city or county.

Section 2. No law enacted by the General Assembly shall take effect until the first day of June next after the session at which it may be passed, unless it contains a Section designating such law as an emergency law and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health or safety, and passed upon a ye and may vote supported by three-fifths of all the members of the General Assembly; provided, however, that said period of suspension may be extended as provided in Section 3 (b) hereof, if before said first day of June there shall have been filed with the Secretary of the State a petition to refer to a vote of the people any law or part of a law capable of referendum as in this Article provided, and the same shall be referred by the Secretary of State to such vote, and shall not become a law or take effect until thirty days after its approval by a majority of the electors voting thereon at the next ensuing election held throughout the State for Members of the House of Representatives of the United States. An emergency law shall remain in force notwithstanding such petition, but shall be repealed thirty days after having been rejected by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon; provided, however, that no measure or law for abolishing any office, or changing the salary, term or duty of any officer, or granting any franchise or special privilege, or creating any vested right or interest, shall be enacted as an emergency law. No law making any appropriation for maintaining the State Government, or for maintaining or aiding any public institution, not exceeding the next previous appropriation for the same purpose, shall be subject to rejection or repeal under this section. The increase in any such appropriation for maintaining or aiding any public institution shall only take effect as in the case of other laws, and such increase or any part thereof specified in the petition, may be referred to a vote of the people upon petition.

Section 3 (a). The referendum petition against any Act or part of an Act passed by the General Assembly, shall be sufficient if signed by ten thousand qualified voters of the State of Maryland, of whom not more than half shall be residents of Baltimore City, or of any one county; provided that any public local law for any one county or the City of Baltimore shall be referred by the Secretary of State only to the people of said county or City of Baltimore, upon a referendum petition of 10 per cent of the qualified voters of said county or City of Baltimore, as the case may be, calculated upon the whole number of votes cast therein respectively for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election.

(b) If more than one-half, but less than the full number of signatures required to complete any referendum petition against any law passed by the General Assembly, be filed with the Secretary of State before the first day of June, the time for the law to take effect, and for filing the remainder of signatures to complete the petition shall be extended to the thirtieth day of the same month with like effect.

Section 4. A petition may consist of several papers, but each paper shall contain the full title of the bill or part of Act petitioned upon; and there shall be attached to each such paper an affidavit of the person procuring the signatures thereon that of the said person's own personal knowledge, every signature thereon is genuine and bona fide, and that the signers are registered voters of the State of Maryland, and of the City of Baltimore, or county, as the case may be, as set opposite their names, and no other verification shall be required.

Section 5 (a). The General Assembly shall provide for furnishing the voters of the State the text of all measures to be voted upon by the people; provided, that until otherwise provided by law, the same shall be published in the manner prescribed by Article XIV of the Constitution for the publication of proposed Constitutional Amendments.

(b) All laws referred under the provisions of this Article shall be submitted separately on the ballots to the voters of the people, but if containing more than one measure, the same shall not be printed on the official ballot, but the Secretary of State shall prepare and submit a ballot title of each such measure in such form as to present the purpose of the measure clearly and intelligently. The ballot title may be distinct from the legislative title, but in any case the legislative title shall be sufficient. Upon each of the ballots following the ballot title or text, as the case may be, of each such measure, there shall be printed the words "For the referred law" and "Against the referred law," as the case may be. The votes cast for and against any such referred law shall be returned to the Governor in the manner prescribed with respect to proposed amendments to the Constitution under Article XIV of this Constitution, and the Governor shall proclaim the result of the election, and if it shall appear that the majority of the votes cast on any such measure were in favor thereof, the Governor shall by his proclamation declare the same having received a majority of the votes to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as a part of the laws of the State; to take effect thirty days after such election, and in like manner and with like effect the Governor shall proclaim the result of the local election as to any Public Local Law which shall have been submitted to the voters of any county or the City of Baltimore.

Section 6. No law or Constitutional Amendment, providing, regulating, prohibiting, or submitting to lot or sale, the manufacture or sale of malt or spirituous liquors, shall be referred or repealed under any Act of the provisions of this Article.

Section 7. And be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the foregoing Article hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, at the next General Election for Members of the General Assembly to be held in this State, shall be submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof, for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of this State, and that at such general election the vote upon said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as prescribed by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the State for the purpose of ascertaining the result of the vote on said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution.

Approved April 16th, 1914.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, PHILLIPS LEE GOLDSBOROUGH, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1, of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, DO HEREBY ORDER AND DIRECT, that a copy of each of said above recited Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1914, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which newspapers published in said city of Baltimore to be published in the German language, once a week for at least three months next preceding the election to be held in said State of Maryland on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, 1915, and at which election the said proposed amendments and additions to the Constitution of Maryland, shall be submitted, in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE, DONE at the City of Annapolis, on the 26th day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

Watching Royalty Eat.

The Saxony court appears to have been the last to preserve the custom of dining in public, initiated at Versailles under the ancient regime. Lady Clarendon notes in her journal on Oct. 1, 1844, when she and her husband were traveling through Germany: "We were invited to dine with the king and queen of Saxony at their villa, near Dresden. The dinner was handsome, and what I liked best was to observe that the galleries commanding a view of the table had people quite of a common order in them. I was told that any one who chose was freely admitted."—London Express.

EGGS FOR THE MARKET. Produce the infertile egg. Infertile eggs are produced by hens having no male birds with them. Removing the male bird has no influence on the number of eggs laid by the hens.

The hen's greatest profit producing period is the first and second years, and unless a hen is an exceptionally good breeder she should be disposed of at the end of her second laying season and before starting to molt.

Few eggs can be expected until the pullets are matured. If possible mark the pullets that lay in the fall and use them in the breeding pen for the following spring.

Soft shelled eggs are often caused by fowls being confined, becoming over-fat and from lack of mineral matter. Uniform products command the best prices. Pure bred fowls produce uniform products.

Begin marketing the cockerles as soon as they weigh one and one-half pounds or attain a marketable weight. Market white shelled and brown shelled eggs in separate packages. When selling eggs to the country merchant or cash buyer insist that the transaction be on a quality basis. Ship or deliver eggs twice or three times weekly. When taking eggs to market they should be protected from the sun's rays. Infertile eggs will withstand marketing conditions much better than fertile eggs.

CENSUS OF THE BLIND

Total Population Of Unfortunates In Country Is 57,272

Despite the spread of the movies and other ultra-novelties calculated to win the attention of the human eye, there has been a notable falling off in blindness throughout the United States during the past decade, and the State of Maryland is no exception to this statement.

The blind population of this country in 1910, according to an announcement made by the federal census last week was 57,272 in 1910, a decrease of 11 per cent. compared with the showing for the census of 1900, when the total number of blind was 64,763.

In Maryland, in 1910, there were 802 blind persons enumerated by Uncle Sam's census gatherers as compared with 983 in 1900.

There were 61 blind persons for every 100,000 included in the general population of Maryland in 1910, as compared with 82 blind persons in every 100,000 in 1900. The distribution of Maryland's blind between the sexes was 446 males and 356 females. There were 570 white blind and 232 colored blind in the state. The white blind numbered 324 males and 246 females.

The distribution of the blind by ages in Maryland was enumerated as follows: Under 1 year.. 2 45 to 49 years.. 48 1 to 4 years.. 8 50 to 54 years.. 58 5 to 9 years.. 29 55 to 59 years.. 60 10 to 14 years.. 47 60 to 64 years.. 54 15 to 19 years.. 46 65 to 69 years.. 58 20 to 24 years.. 27 70 to 74 years.. 66 25 to 29 years.. 27 75 to 79 years.. 69 30 to 34 years.. 29 80 to 84 years.. 38 35 to 39 years.. 42 85 yrs. and over.. 51 40 to 44 years.. 41 Age not reported 2

The geographical distribution of the blind also is of interest. For the censuses of both 1900 and 1910, New Mexico showed the highest ratio, followed by Nevada in 1910 and Vermont in 1900. For both years the lowest ratio shown for any geographical division is that for the Pacific division, the Middle Atlantic division ranking next. Of the individual states, North Dakota shows the lowest ratio for 1910. Wyoming ranking next, while for 1900 the lowest ratios are shown for Wyoming and Washington.

At each census the number of blind males has been considerably in excess of the number of blind females, the number of males per 100 females in the blind population in 1910 being 130.7.

Snow Storm Preceded Deluge

Immediately preceding the 40-mile gale which swept Lancaster city, Pa., and surrounding county, tearing down wires, uprooting trees, upsetting barns and destroying crops to the value of thousands of dollars early Wednesday morning, snow fell in that city for half an hour or more. The flurry was accompanied by a drop in temperature from 70 to 59 degrees.

Prizes For Fruits And Vegetables

The Executive Committee of the Peninsula Horticultural Society met in Easton, Maryland, recently to make preliminary arrangements for the meeting and big exhibition which will be held there next January.

The prizes offered will amount to about $2,000—$1,500 in the general classes and $500 to the exhibitors of fruit who have not been winning first premiums. This will be called the amateur class. There are five prizes for the general display amounting to $500; $375 for boxed apples; $100 for plates, and so on down through the list. More than $200 will be awarded for the vegetable exhibit.

This promises to be the largest and best exhibition of fruits and vegetables ever held on the Peninsula. Those who will compete should notify the secretary, Wesley Webb, Dover, Delaware, at an early date, in order that full preparations may be made for the exhibition. The premium list will be printed for distribution in a short time, and may be had upon application to the secretary.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

THE GREAT SALISBURY FAIR

SALISBURY, MARYLAND

Aug. 17, 18, 19 and 20

Again the season has come around when people from miles around gather by the thousand on the Old Fair Grounds at Salisbury, Maryland. As usual, the management offers attractions of the same high-grade in character as has always been their policy.

Watch The Aeroplane

The Aeroplane is no longer an experiment but has proven one of the great inventions of this progressive era. These "ships of the air" are flying over the battle fields of Europe, spying and destroying. Arrangements have been made for one to be on the grounds this year, performing various aerial stunts and giving our people an opportunity to see an actual flight of one of the best of these "modern wonders." The aeroplane will be driven by Captain Baldwin, well known as the King of the Air. His startling and daring feats in the air have thrilled and astonished spectators everywhere.

Japanese Acrobatic Troupe

Wonderful men from the Land of Sunshine will perform many difficult and interesting acts such as barrel kicking, rizzly work, etc. Japanese acrobats are said to be the best in the world; and the one on the Fair Grounds is the best of its class that could be secured. Come see these marvelous brown men perform.

Dazzling Aerial Acts

Five men and two women, known as the Ada's Troupe, will give wonderful and pretty aerial acts many feet in the air. Their teeth work is said to be the best in America. As proof of their ability, they were a leading feature at the New York Hippodrome. Everybody likes to see daring and good acrobatic work. This ought to please.

Racing

Whatever may come and whatever may go, the horse remains, as ever has been, the King of Sports. The usual racing program will be carried out at this year's Fair, and there is every reason to believe that the entries this year will be up to the usual standard. Those loving close and exciting races cannot afford to miss the Fair this year.

Motorcycle Races

Of all the Speed Kings, the motorcycle easily takes the lead. Going at a pace that makes the steadiest head swim, these riders swing around in record making time. It is unnecessary to call attention to the interest all take in seeing first-class men drive the motorcycles side by side. The Association has made special efforts to bring to the Fair the fastest riders that this country has. This year the entries for motorcycle races will be composed of men whose reputations are country wide. Speed can be expected of such a quality as will thrill even the hardest to move.

Valuable Prizes Given To Children

On Tuesday, The Children's Day at the Fair, the children visiting the Fair will have the opportunity of securing a valuable gift without cost. Coupons will be handed out at the gates of the Fair to all the children under the age of 20 years. These coupons are to be placed in a box, provided by the Association, with the name and address of the person depositing it plainly written thereon. From this box will be drawn coupons entitling the one whose name appears thereon to one of the following prizes:

Children 12 Years And Under

First Prize—To the boy or the girl whose name is first drawn from the box containing the coupons will be given a real Bicycle.

Second Prize—To the boy or girl whose name is second drawn from the box containing the coupons will be given a year's subscription to The Youth's Companion.

Children Between The Age of 12 And 20 Years
First—To the boy or young man whose name is first drawn from the box containing the coupons a genuine 17 Jewel Gold Watch will be given.

Second—To the young lady or Miss whose name is first drawn from the box will be given a ring with a real diamond set.

The watch will be on display in the window of G. M. Fisher, Jeweler, Salisbury, Md. The ring can be seen at the jewelry store of Harper & Taylor, Salisbury, Md. The bicycle will be displayed in the window of L. W. Gunby Company.

Come one, come all, don't miss the Fair this year. Everybody will be there; see your friends that you have not seen since last Fair.

FRUIT TREE BLIGHT IN SOMERSET

Mr. Hutchins Makes Investigations as to Cause and Result on Fruit

The recent appearance in this section of the state of an epidemic of what is known as the apple and pear tree blight has caused the farmers of Somerset much concern. The same disease among fruit trees has appeared in this section before, but to a much less damaging extent. It is also attacking many large shade trees, and the people are at a loss to know how to deal with it.

The executive committee of the Peninsula Horticultural Society communicated with the Federal Department of Agriculture, in Washington, asking an investigation of the epidemic, with the result that Lee M. Hutchins was sent here to make an investigation as to the cause of the blight and its result on the fruit crop. Mr. Hutchins has decided that the trouble has been caused by a peculiar weather condition, and has advised the farmers and others to carefully cut out all the blighted limbs, cutting at least 6 inches below the blighted part. He explained that not one blighted twig in a thousand will carry the germ through the winter, and said it is hardly likely that it will appear again next year, especially in the fruit trees.

With reference to the young trees that have become affected, Mr. Hutchins said they could be saved by cutting out all the blighted twigs during the winter and early spring. He said the yellow transparent and Jonathan trees are the most blighted, while the weinap, stayman, mammoth and black twig are comparatively resistant.

Home From 1000-Mile Motorcycle Trip

Messrs. Lora C. Pusey and Elmer M. Pusey returned to Princess Anne last week from a 1000-mile motorcycle tour through the Cumberland, Blue Ridge and Allegheny mountains. The cyclists spent some time in Baltimore, Washington, Frederick, Hagerstown, Waynesboro, Blue Ridge Summit, Cumberland, Oakland and Mountain Lake Park. On their homeward lap they spent several hours riding over the historic and now beautiful road which was the site of the battle of Gettysburg.

The route taken was one of scenic beauty and offered variety of country as they passed from the almost perfectly level roads of the Eastern Shore to the rolling hills of Frederick county and thence to the mountains of the northwestern part of Maryland.

These young men return with nothing but good words for the roads of their home State, which they found to be well constructed and wonderfully well kept throughout the route. They found completed stone road by the way of Baltimore, Washington, Frederick and Hagerstown and only a few hundred yards of rough road (now under construction) between Hagerstown and Cumberland.

Rules For High and Graded Schools

At the meeting of the Board of School Commissioners last Tuesday the following rules were adopted to apply to all Graded and High Schools of Somerset county:

No person shall be employed as a substitute teacher, unless such person is duly qualified, and has been placed on the substitute list by the said Board of County Commissioners.

No teacher shall leave school during school hours without first notifying the principal.

When a teacher must be absent from any cause whatever, the principal must be notified in advance.

A teachers' meeting shall be held at least once a week and all the teachers must attend.

The teachers shall invite the parents to meet with them at least once a month.

Hayward Killed By Train

Albert Hayward, colored, employed with a section gang of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, was found on the railroad near Loretto station early Monday morning of last week in an unconscious condition, with his legs and arms broken. He was taken to the Peninsula General Hospital, Salisbury, where he died from his injuries Tuesday morning. Hayward had been to Loretto on Sunday to see his wife, who is spending the summer there, and while returning to Princess Anne, riding a bicycle, he was struck by a train.

Returning, train will leave Ocean City at 5.30 p. m. Fare for the round trip from Princess Anne $1.00.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION

Session Will Be Called To Order On September 23rd

Democratic State Chairman Vandiver has announced that the State Convention of his party will be held in Baltimore on September 23.

All the arrangements have not been completed, but it is probable that the Convention will be called to order at noon at the Academy of Music, Baltimore.

When the State Central Committee met recently in Baltimore it approved September 14 as the date of the primary and authorized Mr. Vandiver to fix the day for the Convention and make the necessary plans.

At this State Convention will assemble the delegates chosen in the primary election, and they will cast their votes by counties and by city districts as instructed by the voters in the primary contest. The candidates receiving a majority of the votes of the 129 delegates will be declared the Democratic nominees for the offices of Governor of Maryland, State Comptroller and Attorney General. In the field are two opposing tickets—the Lee-Massey-Copper and the Harrington-Ritchie-Mullan.

In addition, however, the convention will construct the platform upon which the Democratic candidates will make their campaign not only for the state-wide offices, but for membership in the General Assembly, and here is where the differences are expected to develop.

Mayor Preston, who may be a delegate to the convention, proposes to insist that the platform include planks providing for the greater Baltimore, through annexation, and the right to develop the lower harbor, and also for additional home rule for the city through the control by the municipality of its boards and the appropriations to maintain important departments.

Democratic Candidates Announced

Last Saturday The Crisfield Times said: "After considerable endeavor upon the part of the hundreds of Democrats who are supporting the candidacy of...

...to have the very best timber within the county Democracy offer their services to the party, the authorized announcement is herewith made, of the following candidacies:

"For members of the Democratic State Central Committee for Somerset County—J. Bun Nelson, of Crisfield; Aden Davis, Jr., of Marion, and Dr. H. G. Alexander, of Deal's Island.

"For State Senator—Henry J. Waters, of Princess Anne.

"For members of the Legislature—L. Samuel Lawson, of Crisfield; Lambert W. Cox, of Westover, and Wm. J. Benton, of Deal's Island.

"For County Commissioner—Barney J. Shores, of Deal's Island.

"For States Attorney—Gordon Tull, of Princess Anne.

"For Sheriff—W. James Hurley, of Crisfield.

"For Register of Wills—Lester M. Phoebus, of Oriole.

"For Judges of the Orphans Court—Aurelius A. Long, of Marumso; Noah J. Brittingham, of Dublin, and S. F. Miles, of East Princess Anne District.

"For delegates to the State Convention—John W. Riggins, of Crisfield; W. T. G. Polk, of Princess Anne; John H. Parsons, of Lawson's district, and Fred Thornton, of Asbury."

Gave His Life For A Girl

Mr. Guy Baker, of Gumboro, Delaware, 20 years old, was drowned while bathing at Ocean City last Friday, and Miss Sallie Gonsky, of New York, had a narrow escape from the fate. Miss Gonsky ventured too far into the surf and her calls for assistance were answered by young Baker.

Although not knowing how to swim, he bravely tried to assist the girl, but got beyond his depth. Several persons on the boardwalk witnessed their struggles and Robert Ayers, of Philadelphia, and Herbert Wier, of Baltimore, were the first to reach Miss Gonsky and separated her from Baker and she reached shore in safety. Baker was carried from sight and, after trying for over an hour, the rescuers gave up hope of finding the boy.

Mrs. Virginia Webster Gets Divorce

Mrs. Mary Virginia Webster, of Elizabeth City, North Carolina, has been granted an absolute divorce, on statutory grounds, in the Circuit Court in Baltimore city, from Charles P. Webster, first officer of the steamer Pocomoke, of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company.

The couple were married on January 17th, 1912, at Pocomoke City, Md., and have two children aged two and three years. The custody of the children remains with their mother with alimony for the two children.

Mrs. Webster before her marriage was Miss Virginia Calloway, daughter of Mrs. Isaac Calloway, formerly of Princess Anne.

DUER AND MACKLIN ON STATE TICKET

Rivals For Republican Nomination For Comptroller

Gen. Charles F. Macklin, adjutant general of Maryland, last Friday filed with the Secretary of State, at Annapolis, his nomination certificate as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Comptroller.

Mr. Robert F. Duer, also a Republican, last Friday evening dispatched a special messenger with his certificate of nomination as a candidate for the same position, after having a conference with his Republican friends in Salisbury. Mr. Duer, consented to become a candidate at the earnest solicitation of former Senator William P. Jackson and other leaders in the movement for the nomination of Mr. Weller.

On the rival tickets, headed respectively by W. T. Warburton and O. E. Weller as candidates for Republican nomination for governor, there is only one vacancy, that for attorney general, on Mr. Warburton's ticket. A. A. Doub, of Cumberland, is Mr. Weller's running mate as a candidate for this nomination.

Mr. Duer is a lawyer, with an extensive practice, at Princess Anne. He is 44 years old and is a son of the late Edward F. Duer, who was a merchant in Princess Anne and at one time represented Somerset county in the House of Delegates and for many years was postmaster in this town.

During the administration of the late Governor Lloyd Lowndes Mr. Duer, the candidate for Comptroller, was superintendent of schools in Somerset county. During President Taft's administration he was postmaster at Princess Anne. Several years ago he was a candidate for state's attorney for Somerset county, but was defeated. He read law in the office of the late Congressman Robert F. Brattan, for whom he was named. He was a commissioner to the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco and visited the West last May in company with Gov. Goldsborough. Four brothers, E. P. Bruce, W. Howard and Col. Henry Lee Duer, reside in Baltimore.

Virginia Ross Duer, reside in Baltimore. Last fall Mr. Duer was the Republican candidate for Congress on the Eastern Shore. He came within a few hundred votes of being elected, though the Democrats have an affiliated majority of over 6,000 in this district. In Somerset county he received 2,248 votes and his Democratic opponent, Mr. Price, 1,269 votes.

Among those on board were: Misses Julia Ruby, Laura Bozman, Hilda Dryden, Thelma and Elsie Smith, and Messrs. James Hall, Harry Walker, Clarence Willing and Willie Horner.

11-Cent Postage Stamp Now

An 11-cent postage stamp will soon make its appearance. The new stamp was made necessary by parcel post.

In the first zones there are thousands of packages upon which the fee for postage and insurance amounts to 11 cents, and the Postoffice Department reached the conclusion that an 11-cent stamp would save time at the postage counters. The new stamp bears the head of Franklin in profile from Houdon's bust. It is the same shape and size of other stamps. Ordinary stamps now embrace denominations from 1 to 12 cents, together with 15 cents, 20 cents, 30 cents, 50 cents and $1.

CHARLES WESLEY FONTAINE DEAD

A Prominent Citizen and Once Newspaper Editor of Princess Anne

Mr. C. Wesley Fontaine, one of the foremost citizens of Princess Anne, died at the Peninsula General Hospital, at Salisbury, last Friday at noon. Mr. Fontaine was taken to Salisbury upon the advice of his physicians and an operation was performed one week ago last Wednesday. At first he seemed to improve but subsequently his condition became gradually worse. He had just passed his 73rd birthday.

Mr. Fontaine was a son of the late Charles E. Fontaine, of Fairmount. His early education was received at the public schools of his locality. In 1867 he concluded to take up printing as an occupation and came to Princess Anne to work upon The Somerset Herald.

He continued that work until after the Civil War when he purchased the paper from Mr. Thomas S. Hodson. His long career as a newspaper man is well known in this community. He was a careful writer and his paper grew in usefulness. In August, 1898, The Somerset Herald was consolidated with The Marylander, under the name of the Marylander and Herald and a partnership was formed with Wm. H. Dashiell, under the name of Fontaine & Dashiell, which continued until October 31, 1906, when he sold his interest in the paper to his partner and retired from business.

Mr. Fontaine held but one office in the county, namely that of Public School Commissioner, having been selected to fill out the unexpired term of the late John S. Sudler. He served several years as President of the Board and during of the work, resigned. Mr. Fontaine was also a director in the Bank of Somerset, of Princess Anne.

Mr. Fontaine married Miss Matilda F. Dashiell on September 2nd, 1892. Mrs. Fontaine died on November 30th, 1898.

Mr. Fontaine is survived by a sister, Mrs. A. E. Langdon, of Baltimore, and three brothers, Messrs. Joseph and Frederick Fontaine, of Dayton, Washington, and Charles Fontaine, of Newhope City.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Manokin Presbyterian Church, which he had attended since boyhood, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. F. Freund, and the interment was in the cemetery adjoining.

The pallbearers were his three nephews (Messrs. Charles and William Fontaine, of Jamestown; Clarke Fontaine, of Pocomoke City), and Messrs. George H. Myers, Herrman Cohn, and Dr. Charles W. Wainwright, of Princess Anne.

Price Opposes Vote For Women

Congressman Jesse D. Price, of the First district, will not receive a delegation from the Just Government League as requested by Mrs. Guion Miller. The suffragists wanted to interview Price August 21, but the Congressman wrote that he would be away at that time. In his letter he also said:

"The right to vote is not an inherent right and has never been so considered. In the wisdom of our fathers who framed the Constitution of the United States, this power was reserved by the Sovereign States, and in my opinion, is a power that should never be relinquished. Therefore, holding this view, I am not in favor of Congress dealing with the right of franchise in any manner whatsoever. To do so would be to invite national interference in purely State matters.

"I hold the view that each State in the Union is competent and better able to determine what part of its citizenship shall be permitted to exercise the right of suffrage than the national Government could possibly be.

"Personally, I do not believe that the acquisition of women to the ranks of the voter is good, either for the women or for the State."

William J. Staton Dead

Mr. William Jefferson Staton died last Tuesday night at his home in Salisbury, after a long illness, of Bright's disease.

Mr. Staton was a partner in the firm of the William B. Tilghman Company, fertilizer manufacturers; a director of the Salisbury National Bank; president of Turner Bros. Co., wholesale grocers; a stockholder in the Staton-Moore Co. canners; a director of the Bank of Fruitland, and connected with a number of smaller concerns. He leaves his widow, one daughter (Mrs. Virgil Adkins) one grandchild, three sisters (Mrs. L. W. Warren, of Berlin; Mrs. Everett Johnson and Mrs. Charles Jarman, of Newark) and one brother (Henry Staton, of Wilmington).

Funeral services were held at his late home on Camden avenue Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. The remains were interred in the old Tilghman burying-ground in Nutter's district, Wicomico county.

WHEN "JOSHUWAY" GETS HOME, BEWARE

Emerson "Spilled Beans" In Calling Miles Boss Of Somerset

Under the above caption the Baltimore News of Monday, Aug. 9th, says: "Comptroller Harrington appears to have stirred up a hornets' nest in Somerset by his references to local political conditions during his trip through that county. When Mr. Harrington made his visit to Somerset the county leader, Collector of Internal Revenue Joshua W. Miles, was dangerously ill at his home in Princess Anne. Mr. Miles has since been removed to Ocean City and is said to be rapidly improving in the invigorating sea air.

"The Miles people are bitterly resenting the matter and tenor of the speeches Mr. Harrington made in the county while their head was stretched upon a bed of sickness, and say that had Mr. Miles been physically able to take the platform he would have 'scorched' the Dorset visitor 'good and proper' before he could have got out of hearing. One thing that has bound the Somerset Democrats so closely to 'Joshuway' is that from the time he took a hand in politics he has been a fighter of parts. When he went to the Fifty-fourth Congress he made a national reputation as a fiery debater and for sticking to his political friends by rising, an unknown member, and giving a colleague who had sneered at young George McClellan of New York, a verbal castigation such as Washington had seldom heard—and Tammany to this day thinks Miles is wasted on Maryland.

"While the Collector is away from home his friends are 'keeping before the people' the Harrington episode. It appears that the Comptroller, in the language of the Crisfield News, 'undertook by cowardly innuendo and insinuation to belittle Hon. Joshua W. Miles, the chosen and beloved leader of Somerset's Democracy, styling him a 'boss,' and falsely attributed to him the same obnoxious traits and methods for which Mr. Harrington himself is conspicuously noted in his own county of Dorchester, and for which his chief supporter, John Walter Smith, the reputed State boss of long but fading standing has been chiefly noted throughout the entire State."

Mr. Miles, in good health and vocal vigor, is expected back in Somerset before September 14, to say something for himself on the matters brought forward by Mr. Harrington. That "say" is likely to be entertaining as well as emphatic.

On Wednesday we received from Baltimore the following communication from an Eastern Shoreman who now resides in that city, giving his opinion of the Harrington episode, which may be interesting to our readers at this time:

Being an Eastern Shoreman by birth and having spent most of my life there, I am surprised and very much hurt by statements in the papers that Mr. Harrington attacked the Hon. Joshua W. Miles in Somerset, the home county of Mr. Miles, while Mr. Miles was seriously ill, not even able to raise a hand in his own defense.

These reports are hard to believe of a candidate for Governor, who was born and raised in the part of our State so well known as a place of generosity and hospitality.

The truth or falsity of these statements and the manner and the circumstances of such attacks are well known to the people of Somerset county and if true the pride of Old Somerset will revolt in such a manner as to teach Mr. Harrington never again to attack another man when he is down.

The people of Maryland will never forget Mr. Miles in the 54th Congress, in each of which the whole State was proud to call him a Marylander.

May the people of Somerset never be misled by any man who is afraid to attack Mr. Miles when Mr. Miles is able to fight back. Ye sons of Somerset hold up the hands of Mr. Miles while he is sick and when he gets back one-half his strength and vigor he will then be perfectly able to take care of himself and your county in such a noble manner that all of you will be proud of him.

If Mr. Harrington has demonstrated in Somerset his real character, knowing that Mr. Miles was very ill, wouldn't you say that character be dangerous as Governor of Maryland?

LINDY'S FIRST RIDE IN A STEAM CAR

Famous Old Colored Cook Goes To Picnic At "Tony Tank"

The following account of "Aunt Lindy's First Ride in a Steam Car," is from the pen of Miss Emily R. Waters, of "Beechwood," and was published in the Baltimore Sunday American on August 8th:

Soon after the Emancipation and somewhere in the sixties, when the running of the steam car through the southern part of the Eastern Shore of Maryland was still in its infancy, an all-day excursion for colored people was advertised to run from "New Town" to the picnic grounds at "Tony Tank."

Aunt Lindy, a famous cook and old family servant, who had belonged to and still lived in the family of Colonel Jackson, on the old plantation, had never seen a steam engine. Her only idea of a trip was to go once a year (with the other servants) in a large hay-wagon to the camp-meeting, and there sing, pray and shout until dawn. When she heard of this wonderful excursion she decided at once that she would go, as she had heard of "der big iron hoss" and wanted to ride behind "him."

Accordingly, on the morning of the appointed day for the picnic, Aunt Lindy appeared at the station in a frock of flowered chintz, a quilted bonnet, with green ribbon strings tied under her chin. Her "garibaldi" (as she termed her green parasol) was tucked under one arm, and in her hand she carried a small basket of lunch.

Aunt Lindy's young mistis, Lucretia, had previously instructed her about buying her ticket and the care she should take of it. When she arrived at the station she went immediately to the agent, purchased her piece of paper (as she termed her ticket) poked it down into the depths of a long pocket, which was hidden in the folds of her chintz frock and then followed the crowd of friends who were quickly filling the cars. After entering the car Aunt Lindy looking around for a seat, saying as she did so, "I ain't gwine to take my seat on dem pin cushions to get pins stuck in me."

Being finally assured by her friends that the cushioned seats were harmless and were placed there for the comfort and convenience of the passengers, she took her seat and was just beginning to enjoy her ride when the conductor came into the car and shouted, "All tickets." Down went Aunt Lindy's hand into the deep pocket; out came the long pocket by the end. High up in the air she held it. So long was she in finding that ticket that the conductor had punched all the tickets and was ready to leave the car when she held it up to him to be punched, then placed it back in the northwest corner of her pocket and followed the quickly moving crowd out of the train to the picnic grounds. She had been carefully instructed by Miss Lucretia to take care of that ticket until the return trip at night, as the conductor would then punch it and keep it. All this Aunt Lindy remembered, and the pleasures of the day were somewhat marred by the careful and constant watch over that pocket and its contents. The greatest pleasure of the day was when on the return trip she saw the conductor punch and walk off with that treasured piece of paper.

After she returned home Miss Lucretia went out to the kitchen to give her a welcome and said: "Well, Lindy, I am glad to see you safe at home again. Did you have a nice picnic? and how did you enjoy your ride on the steam cars?"

"O, dear mistis, dere ain't much to tell 'bout dat picnic, but dat ride on dem steam cars was de greatest and de fastest ride I eber had in my life. Why, de seats in dat car was all velvet pin-cushions, only dere weren't no pins in dem, an' I jes' sat der an' was mos' rocked to sleep. Ef dat man wid de brass buttons on his coat an' de tooth puller in his hand had enter-gib me so much trouble 'bout dat piece ob paper him would had been a glorious day. I 'clare to de Lord, Miss Cretia, ef ebery word you tell me 'bout dat man didn't come true. He came in dat car rushin' so quick up to me for dat ticket an' I couldn't find it. I say to de pusson what set next to me, 'Heah, gal, hol' dish 'er garibaldi an' my lunch basket while I find dish er ticket, 'cause old Miss Tibby Green arter bin 'shamed ob herself to make me such a pocket.' Well, chile, I caught it by the northwales' corner an' I had dat pocket clean out by de een till I find dat ticket in de seam ob it, an' I say, 'Huh, man, take dis piece ob paper an' don't you let me see it no mo' 'cause Miss 'Cretia told me youse gwine to do all dis, an' youse done it.' I don't see no sense in payin' a man to rush fru dem steam cars like lightning wid er tooth-puller in his hand er punchin' holes in perfectly good pieces ob paper. Yes, chile, de black hoss a'orted an' 'tooted, and he tuck me dere all right, an' I had er mighty good time, but yer Aunt Lindy, don't want no mo' sussons soon."

Ruben's Old Dad

What Busted Him All to Squash

By M. QUAD
Copyright, 1915, by the McClure
Newspaper Syndicate.

I got out at a small railroad station in Tennessee, to find a crowd in front of a saloon, and as I began inquiring the cause of the excitement a young man of twenty turned and replied:

"Stranger, I can tell ye all about it. Do you want to see the corpse?"

"Is some one dead?"

"Dead as a coon track, and it's my own dad at that."

"Been a row here?"

"Not a bit of it. Dad jest made a fule of hisself. He's in that waitin' fur a cart to take hisself home to be laid out and buried."

"Never seed nuthin' to ekal it in all my bo'n days," said a man in the crowd.

"I was right yere or I wouldn't hev sniggered to it nohow," added a second.

"It was jest this way, stranger," continued the son as he picked a silver off a pine box and began to whistle at it with a spring back jackknife. "Dad and me comes down yere this mornin' to buy a mawl. Dad was powerful frisky all the way down, and he sez to me, sez he:

"Ruben, I kin outwalk, outrun, outshut, outthole and outkick anything on top of this yere airth's surface."

"I sees dad was purty chucky, and I sez to him, I sez:

"Dad, you's top of the heap round yere, and nobody kin deny it, but doan' you go and meet up with no fight in town. We's arter a mawl, we is, and we doan' want no fussin' nor nuthin'."

"And with that dad jumps for feet high, and cracks his heels together, and whoops out that he's bar traps, pizen, powder and catamount all boiled down into one, and that he's dangerous if anybody goes to pick up his hind foot."

"Yaas, and I hears him holler when he's a mile away," said one of the crowd.

"Of co'se you did," replied Ruben; "of co'se. Dad was powerful on hollerin'. He'd holler a bar out'n a tree half a mile away. When he got down yere that was a feller from Memphis with a patent liftin' masheen a-standin' in right yere. That's the pieces of it agin this fence, while the feller hisself is ten miles away and still runnin'."

"But 'twasn't his fault," protested a man on muleback.

"I ain't sayin' as 'twas," placidly answered Ruben. "I'm sayin' as dad got mixed up and made a fule of hisself. No sooner had he set eyes on the masheen than he cracks his heels together and crows like a rooster and sez to me, sez he:

"Ruben, I kin pull the hull state of Tennessee right up by the roots if I kin git a brace fur my feet."

"Yaas, I heard him say them remarks," put in one of the crowd.

"Of co'se he said 'em," continued Ruben; "of co'se. He spit on his hands, grabbed them 'ere handles and when he straightened up I jest felt the ground tremblin' all around."

"So'd I!" called seven or eight voices in chorus.

"Dad had one side of the hull country lifted up two foot high when there was a rip and a smash, them handles tore out, the masheen flew to pieces and the airth sunk back with a chug which made us dizzy."

"Then your father had broken a blood vessel or something of the sort?" I queried.

"Skeersly, stranger, skeersly. Dad wasn't no man to stop at one blood vessel. He jest busted hisself all to pieces and was a goner afore we could reach him. I might say he sort of run together and caked. He was six foot high when he grabbed them 'ere handles, and now you can't make him over four foot eight as he lays in that on a board. Jest pulled his knees up and his shoulders down, and I reckon on his pants would hold his galses up if that was any buttons on 'em. The man who owned the masheen wasn't to blame of co'se he wasn't—but when he seed the calamity he started fur Knoxville on the jump, and he was jumpin' when he turned the corner of the hill up thar. Dad's in yere, stranger. Come and take a look. Mighty good man he was."

"And you are waiting to take the body home?" I queried as a wagon drove up to the shed.

"That's it, stranger."

"It will be a sad sight for your mother to see the body come home."

"Toler'ly sad, toler'ly sad," replied the young man, "though she's been expectin' it for the last ten y'ars. I know about what she'll say. As the wagon drives up and she sees me she'll stand in the door and call out:

"Has it happened this time, Ruben?"

"Yep, maw."

"Smashed up or dead?"

"Dead as a dead rabbit."

"Tackle an elephant, did he?"

"Wurs'n that, maw."

"A hull circus?"

"And wurs'n than that. He tried to lift the hull airth on one of them masheens."

"Shoo! Shoo! And it busted him?"

"All to smash!"

"Doctor look at him?"

"Two of 'em, and both agreed that his princin' days was over."

"Waal, I knowed they'd be if he kept whoopin' it up, an' mebbe he's better off. At lest we'll allow that he is, and you cum in and out some wood and feed the haws and we'll git an early start to bury him in the mawin'."

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life.

If your work is tiring; if your nerves are excitable; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions.

It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength.

Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. No alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

WATERING THE LAWN.

A Task That, as a General Rule, Is Not Properly Performed.

There are probably more mistakes made in connection with the watering of the lawn than in any other phase of its management.

The practice of sprinkling, as it is almost universally followed, is fundamentally wrong—not that the sprinkler does not furnish enough water to the grass during the season, but that it does not furnish it in properly distributed quantities.

Sprinkling for a short period may appear to wet the sod thoroughly, but in reality the water does not penetrate much below the surface. This encourages the formation of surface roots and makes the grass less resistant to the severe conditions of weather and usage.

Except in rare cases the lawn should not be watered oftener than two or three times a week. A thorough soaking is necessary and should be given in the late afternoon or early morning. The ordinary type of revolving spray is quite satisfactory, but the amount of water applied by it is usually much less than appears.

The point to be borne in mind is that the ground should be thoroughly saturated at each application to at least three inches in depth—Kansas City Journal.

BATTLE SCARRED JUNE.

Summer's First Month Notable For Many Historic Conflicts.

The battle of Bunker Hill was fought on June 17, 1775, one of many memorable battles fought in the month of June.

Waterloo, the declaration of war between Great Britain and the United States in 1812, the Shannon-Chesapeake fight in that war, the battle of Naseby, the storming of the Mamelon redoubts by the French in the Crimean struggle, Marengo, Friedland, Raab, Koln, Plassey, the battle of Monmouth and the fight at Fort Moultrie all were in June.

Many of the most famous struggles of the war between the states took place in June. The Kearsarge sank the Alabama on June 19, 1864; Memphis fell on June 6, 1862; the seven days before Richmond began on June 23, 1862; the battle of Cold Harbor was fought from June 1 to 3, 1864; Winchester was fought on June 13-15, 1863; Lynchburg on June 17-18, 1864; Mechanicsville, on June 26, 1862; Gaines' Mill on the following day, and the siege of Petersburg lasted from June 15 to 30.

The massacre of Custer and his men by the Indians on the Little Big Horn, the greatest disaster that has befallen United States cavalry in decades, also took place in June—June 25, 1876, a date that always will be kept as a day of mourning by the Seventh cavalry, New York Herald.

The Turkish Empire.

The Turkish empire is composed of many mixed races. It includes Greeks, Slavs, Albanians, Armenians, Jews and Circassians.

There is no wisdom like frankness.—Beaconsfield.

A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince The Most Skeptical Princess Anne Reader

The test of time is the test that counts.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action.

The following case is typical. Princess Anne residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored. Irving O. Dryden, R. F. D. mail carrier, Westover, says: "My kidneys acted irregularly and my back was weak and painful. I could not stoop for any length of time and was unable to remain in one position long without having dull pains across my back. As soon as I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills I found relief and I continued until I was cured." (Statement given May 30, 1909) over two years later Mr. Dryden said "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills and enjoy freedom from attacks of kidney complaint such as I formerly had."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dryden had. Foster-Milburn Co., Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y.

Political Announcement

To The Voters of Somerset County:

A communication, in the nature of a petition, has been addressed to me, signed by a large number of voters, including many of opposing political affiliation, requesting me to become a candidate for County Commissioner in the Democratic Primaries and expressing confidence in my ability and integrity to faithfully discharge the duties, if committed to me, with the sole purpose of advancing the material welfare and interests of our county. This evidence of the esteem and faith of those who signed this petition, including my neighbors and others who well know me, I regard most highly and, feeling as I do that every thoughtful citizen must view with hesitancy the assumption of the important duties connected with the office of County Commissioner, and in further view of the urgent and unsolicited request and tender of support presented to me, by the signers of the petition, I have concluded, after due consideration and in response to their appeal, to announce my candidacy for the office named, and I will, at the proper time, submit the same in the Democratic Primaries. To those who have so generously endorsed me, and to all other voters of Somerset county, I give this assurance, that if nominated and elected, I shall, during the term of office, devote my best endeavors and efforts towards the uplifting of the county, and to promoting and maintaining the highest standards of efficiency and economy in the conduct of our county affairs, always considering the interests of the taxpayers and citizens, without partiality or prejudice towards any one, and especially endeavoring to cause every dollar of the taxpayers' money to be expended only for full value in return, and to be accounted for.

In conclusion, I think that I should frankly state that prior to my coming to Maryland I was an independent voter, but since my adoption of a permanent residence in Somerset County, and during the several years' residence here as a large taxpayer, engaged in farming and interested in promoting the general welfare of those with whom I have cast my future life and livelihood, I have affiliated with the Democratic Party without participating in factionalism, and, indeed, without any active part in politics whatever, exercising the right which I accord to every other voter, to cast his ballot for those who, in their own opinion, will best serve the public and the people's cause.

Mrs. Oliver T. Beauchamp and two of her children, Miss Mildred Beauchamp and Master Sidney Beauchamp, left on Wednesday afternoon last for a tour to the California Exposition. The excursion to the West is planned in accordance with one of Rochester's House Party Tours which left Washington on Thursday afternoon last via the C. & O. Railroad, and which will include many places of interest before their return about the middle of September. Mr. Gordon Tull also left on Thursday morning last to join the same tour at Washington.

The great Salisbury Fair opens to-day (Tuesday), and closes Friday, August 20th. The management have arranged for the greatest Fair in the history of the association, and if the weather is favorable there is no doubt that thousands of people will go to Salisbury on these four days. The racing program, which is one of the attractive features of agricultural fairs, has been looked after especially this year. Included in the list will be some of the fastest pacers and trotters that cover the Peninsula Circuit. It is expected that the track record will be broken this year.

Summer School Closes

The summer school of the Johns Hopkins University, which finished its work last Thursday, has been the most successful of all the summer schools at the university during the five years in which these classes have been conducted.

There were 428 students this year as compared with 287 last year, an increase of over 50 per cent. Graduate students worked in the school this year for the first time since the beginning of the summer session. Half the regular departments of the university were open for graduate work and there were 50 of these students. Candidates studied for the degrees of master of arts and doctor of philosophy, as well as for bachelor of arts. Credits won in the summer school will count for these degrees. Dr. Edward F. Buchner, who has been in charge of the summer schools since their establishment, is very much pleased with the manner in which this work has grown.

Is Sickness a Sin?

If not, it's wicked to neglect illness and means of relief. It's wicked to endure Liver Ills, Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, when one dose of Po-Do-Lax gives relief. Po-Do-Lax is Podophyllin (May Apple), without the gripe. It arouses the Liver, increases the flow of bile—Nature's antiseptic in the Bowels. Your Constipation and other ills disappear over night because Po-Do-Lax has helped Nature to remove the cause. Get a bottle from your Druggist to-day. Get rid of your Constipation overnight. THE GREAT SALISBURY FAIR

SALISBURY, MARYLAND

Aug. 17, 18, 19 and 20

Again the season has come around when people from miles around gather by the thousand on the Old Fair Grounds at Salisbury, Maryland. As usual, the management offers attractions of the same high-grade in character as has always been their policy.

Watch The Aeroplane

The Aeroplane is no longer an experiment but has proven one of the great inventions of this progressive era. These "ships of the air" are flying over the battle fields of Europe, spying and destroying. Arrangements have been made for one to be on the grounds this year, performing various aerial stunts and giving our people an opportunity to see an actual flight of one of the best of these "modern wonders." The aeroplane will be driven by Captain Baldwin, well known as the King of the Air. His startling and daring feats in the air have thrilled and astonished spectators everywhere.

Japanese Acrobatic Troupe

Wonderful men from the Land of Sunshine will perform many difficult and interesting acts such as barrel kicking, rizzly work, etc. Japanese acrobats are said to be the best in the world; and the one on the Fair Grounds is the best of its class that could be secured. Come see these marvelous brown men perform.

Dazzling Aerial Acts

Five men and two women, known as the Ada's Troupe, will give wonderful and pretty aerial acts many feet in the air. Their teeth-work is said to be the best in America. As proof of their ability, they were a leading feature at the New York Hippodrome. Everybody likes to see daring and good acrobatic work. This ought to please.

Racing

Whatever may come and whatever may go, the horse remains, as ever has been, the King of Sports. The usual racing program will be carried out at this year's Fair, and there is every reason to believe that the entries this year will be up to the usual standard. Those loving close and exciting races cannot afford to miss the Fair this year.

Motorcycle Races

Of all the Speed Kings, the motorcycle easily takes the lead. Going at a pace that makes the steadiest head swim, these riders swing around in record making time. It is unnecessary to call attention to the interest all take in seeing first-class men drive the motorcycles side by side. The Association has made special efforts to bring to the Fair the fastest riders that this country has. This year the entries for motorcycle races will be composed of men whose reputations are country wide. Speed can be expected of such a quality as will thrill even the hardest to move.

Valuable Prizes Given To Children

On Tuesday, The Children's Day at the Fair, the children visiting the Fair will have the opportunity of securing a valuable gift without cost. Coupons will be handed out at the gates of the Fair to all the children under the age of 20 years. These coupons are to be placed in a box, provided by the Association, with the name and address of the person depositing it plainly written thereon. From this box will be drawn coupons entitling the one whose name appears thereon to one of the following prizes:

Children 12 Years And Under

First Prize—To the boy or the girl whose name is first drawn from the box containing the coupons will be given a real Bicycle.

Second Prize—To the boy or girl whose name is second drawn from the box containing the coupons will be given a year's subscription to The Youth's Companion.

Children Between The Age of 12 And 20 Years

First—To the boy or young man whose name is first drawn from the box containing the coupons a genuine 17 Jewel Gold Watch will be given.

Second—To the young lady or Miss whose name is first drawn from the box will be given a ring with a real diamond set.

The watch will be on display in the window of G. M. Fisher, Jeweler, Salisbury, Md. The ring can be seen at the jewelry store of Harper & Taylor, Salisbury, Md. The bicycle will be displayed in the window of L. W. Gunby Company.

Come one, come all, don't miss the Fair this year. Everybody will be there; see your friends that you have not seen since last Fair.

POULTRY SHOULD BE FREED FROM MITES.

Owners of Farm Flocks Can Easily Rid Them of Mites By Simple Treatment.

ROY H. WAITE,
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

During the warm weather of summer, chicken mites thrive and multiply at an almost inconceivable rate. If you expect your hens to do well, you will have to see that they are kept free from these pests.

These mites hide under the roosts and in cracks and crevices near them. For this reason, it is always advisable to have the fixtures and inside of the house as smooth as possible. Often times poles with the natural bark left on are used as roosts, but the rough bark makes an ideal place for mites to hide and after the bark loosens, as it will with age, the mites find an almost ideal place to breed. If you use the poles, take off the bark and smooth them up. Dressed 2x4's with the two top edges rounded are very good for roosts.

Hens infested with mites do not do well and often times acquire a peculiar snifle, even in seasons when colds are not prevalent. Mites keep the hens agitated all the time they are on the roosts and do not allow them the rest they should have. The proper way to handle mites is to prevent their getting a start. If the roosts and especially the places where the roosts are joined to the house are painted with ordinary kerosene oil at least once a month, little trouble from mites will occur. When they once get a foothold, however, you will have your hands full. You can exterminate them with kerosene, but not at any application, unless you get it into every crack and crevice. It is best to put it on once or twice a week for a time and then when the mites are subdued not quite so often. Personally, I like to put it on with a paint brush. You will be able to locate the cracks containing mites by the tiny white specks near and in them.

EXPERIMENT STATION RECOMMENDS AMERICAN-GROWN ALFALFA SEED.

LARGE ACREAGE WILL BE PLANTED IN MANY COUNTIES.

Continued shortage of grass in many sections is forcing farmers to experiment on crops better adapted to the adverse weather conditions of recent years. There seems to be a decided inclination to increase the acreage of alfalfa. It is important, however, in seeding alfalfa that the grower should secure the best quality of seed. In regard to seeding alfalfa seed Prof. Nicholas Schmitz, of the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station, says: "Use American grown alfalfa seed. The question of what kind of alfalfa seed to use has become an important one of late years. Tests over the State have shown that ordinarily European seed is as good as the American grown seed in Maryland, but of late years much of the so-called European grown seed comes from Turkestan or other southern sections, and is not well suited to Maryland conditions. The best plan, therefore, is to buy American grown seed, even though it may be several cents higher in price than the so-called European seed."

LOSS OF SEED FROM LETTING CLOVER ROT IN THE FIELD SHOULD BE AVOIDED.

NICHOLAS SCHMITZ,
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

It is a common practice with some farmers in Maryland who grow clover seed to allow the clover to lie in the field in windrows or cocks for several weeks or even months after cutting before they stack it and draw it to the barn for threshing. The result of such exposure is that many seeds will germinate or become swollen so that even though subsequently dried they are of no value or at best of only very low vitality.

The clover should be allowed to become thoroughly ripe. If the seeds are not thoroughly dried in the head when cut, and a spell of wet weather follows many seeds may be destroyed. The best practice is to allow the clover to become as ripe as possible without loss from shattering; when the seed is harvested. Cut it in good dry weather and then cure it and protect from exposure to rains, the same as hay. If the huller can be procured at once hulling in the field is the most economical way. If necessary to delay the hulling, loss of seed will be avoided by storing the clover in the barn or well constructed stacks.

PROCLAMATION

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of Maryland.

Whereas, at the January Session of the General Assembly of Maryland held in the year nineteen hundred and fourteen, Acts were passed, to wit: Chapter 390, proposing an amendment to Article 15 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of Maryland; Chapter 416, proposing a new Article to said Constitution to be known as Article XI-A, Chapter 453, proposing an amendment to Article 14 of said Constitution and Chapter 673, proposing an additional Article to said Constitution to be known as Article XVI; which said Acts of the General Assembly are in words and figures following:

CAPTER 390.

An Act to amend Article XV of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and to provide for the submission of such amendment to the qualified voters of this State for their adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the Members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following Article be and the same is hereby proposed in the place and stead of Article XV of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, as at present existing, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in place and stead of said Article.

Article XV. That the levying of taxes by the poll is grievous and oppressive and ought to be prohibited; that paupers ought not to be assessed for the support of the government; that the General Assembly shall, by uniform rules, provide for separate assessment of land and classification and sub-classification of improvements on land and personal property, as it may deem proper; and all taxes thereafter provided to be levied by the State for the support of the general State Government, and by the counties and by the City of Baltimore for their respective purposes, shall be uniform as to land within the taxing district, and uniform within the class or sub-class of improvements on land and personal property which the respective taxing powers may have directed to be subjected to the tax levy; yet fines, duties or taxes may properly and justly be imposed, or laid with a political view for the good government and benefit of the community.

Section 2. And be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the foregoing Article hereby proposed in place and stead of Article XV of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall be, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection. In pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of this State, at said general election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each official ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution.

Approved, April 10th, 1914.

CHAPTER 416.

An Act to propose an amendment to the Constitution of the State by adding a new Article thereto to follow immediately after Article XI and to be known as Article XI-A, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all the Members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following Article to follow immediately after Article XI and to be known as Article XI-A, be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, which Article, if adopted by the qualified voters of this State, as herein provided, shall thereby by such adoption be and become a part of the Constitution of this State.

ARTICLE XI-A. LOCAL LEGISLATION.

Section 1. On demand of the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore, or on petition bearing the signatures of not less than 20 per cent of the registered voters of said city or any county (provided, however, that in any case 10,000 signatures shall be sufficient to complete a petition); the Board of Election Supervisors of said city or county shall provide at the next general election for the election of a charter board of eleven registered voters of said city or five registered voters in any such county. No nomination for said charter board may be made not less than forty days prior to said election by the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the County Commissioners of the County of Baltimore or the Council of said county, or by a petition signed by not less than 20 per cent of the registered voters of said city or county, provided, that when so proposed shall be submitted to the voters of said city or county at the next general or Congressional election occurring after the passage of said resolution, or the filing of said petition, and if at said election the majority of the votes cast for or against said amendment shall be in favor thereof, said amendment shall be adopted and become a part of the charter of said city or county from and after the thirtieth day after said election. If said amendment shall be published by said Mayor of Baltimore or President of the County Council one week for five successive weeks prior to said election in at least one newspaper published in said city or county.

Section 2. The power heretofore conferred upon the General Assembly to prescribe the number, compensation, powers and duties of the County Commissioners in each county, and the power to make changes in Sections 1 to 6, inclusive, of Article XI of the Constitution, when expressly granted as hereinbefore provided, are hereby transferred to the voters of each county and the voters of the City of Baltimore, respectively, provided that said powers so transferred shall be exercised only by the adoption or amendment of a charter as hereinbefore provided; and provided further, that this Article shall not be construed to authorize the exercise of any power in excess of those conferred by the Legislature upon said counties or city as this Article sets forth.

Section 3. The word "Petition," as used in this Article, means one or more sheets written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, "Signature" means the signature of a registered voter written by himself in his own hand writing (and not by his mark), together with the ward or district and precinct in which he is registered. The authenticity of such signatures and the fact that persons so signing are registered voters shall be evidenced by the affidavit of one

Board of County Commissioners of such county, who shall publish the same in at least two newspapers of general circulation published in said City of Baltimore or county within thirty days after it shall be reported to him. Such charter shall be submitted to the voters of said city or county at the next general or Congressional election after the adoption of said charter to said Mayor of Baltimore or President of the Board of County Commissioners; and if a majority of the votes cast for and against the adoption of said charter shall be in favor of such adoption, the said charter from and after the thirtieth day from the date of said election shall become the law of said city or county, subject only to the Constitution and Public General Laws of this State, and any Public Local Laws inconsistent with the provisions of said charter and former charter of said City of Baltimore or county shall be thereby repealed.

Section 2. The General Assembly at its first session after the adoption of this amendment shall, by Public Law, provide a grant of express powers for such county or counties as may thereafter form a charter under the provisions of this Article. Such express powers heretofore granted to the City of Baltimore, as set forth in Article 4, Section 6, Public Local Laws of Maryland, shall not be enlarged or extended by any other charter under the provisions of this Article, but such powers may be extended, modified, amended or repealed by the General Assembly.

Section 3. Every charter so formed shall provide for an elective legislative body in which shall be vested the law-making power of said city or county. Such legislative body in the City of Baltimore shall be known as the City Council of the City of Baltimore, and in any county shall be known as the County Council of the county. The chief executive officer, if such charter shall provide for the election of such executive officer, or the presiding officer of said legislative body, if such charter shall not provide for the election of a chief executive officer, shall be known in the City of Baltimore as Mayor, and in any county as the President of the County Council of the county, and all references in the Constitution and laws of this State to the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or to the County Commissioners of the counties shall be construed to refer to the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore and to the President and County Council herein provided for, whenever such construction would be reasonable. From and after the adoption of a charter by the City of Baltimore, or any county of this State, as hereinbefore provided, the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the County Council of said county, subject to the Constitution and Public General Laws of this State, shall have full power to enact local laws of said city or county, including the power to repeal or amend Local Laws of said city or county enacted by the General Assembly, upon all matters covered by the express powers granted as above provided; provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize or empower the County Council of any county in this State to enact laws or regulations for any incorporated town, village, or municipality in said county, on any matter covered by the power granted to said town, village, or municipality by the Act incorporating it, or any subsequent Act or Acts amendatory thereto. Provided, however, that the charters for the various counties shall provide that the County Council of the counties shall not sit more than one month in each year for the purpose of enacting legislation for such counties during the month so designated for that purpose in the charters, and all laws and ordinances so enacted shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in at least one newspaper published in such counties, so that the taxpayers and citizens may have notice thereof. This provision shall not apply to Baltimore City. All such local laws enacted by the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the Council of the counties, as hereinbefore provided, shall be subject to the same rule of interpretation as those now applicable to the Public Local Laws of this State, except that in case of any conflict between said Local Law and any Public General Law now or hereafter enacted, the Public General Law shall control.

Section 4. From and after the adoption of a charter under the provisions of this Article by the City of Baltimore or any county of this State, no Public Local Law shall be enacted by the General Assembly for said city or county on any subject covered by the express powers granted as above provided. Any law so drawn as to apply to two or more of the geographical sub-divisions of this State shall be deemed a Local Law, within the meaning of this Act. The term "geographical sub-division" herein used shall be taken to mean the City of Baltimore or any of the counties of this State.

Section 5. Amendments to any charter adopted by the City of Baltimore or by any county of this State under the provisions of this Article may be proposed by a resolution of the Mayor of Baltimore and the City Council of the City of Baltimore, or the Council of said county, or by a petition signed by not less than 20 per cent of the registered voters of said city or county, provided, that when so proposed shall be submitted to the voters of said city or county at the next general or Congressional election occurring after the passage of said resolution, or the filing of said petition, and if at said election the majority of the votes cast for or against said amendment shall be in favor thereof, said amendment shall be adopted and become a part of the charter of said city or county from and after the thirtieth day after said election. If said amendment shall be published by said Mayor of Baltimore or President of the County Council one week for five successive weeks prior to said election in at least one newspaper published in said city or county.

Section 6. The power heretofore conferred upon the General Assembly to prescribe the number, compensation, powers and duties of the County Commissioners in each county, and the power to make changes in Sections 1 to 6, inclusive, of Article XI of the Constitution, when expressly granted as hereinbefore provided, are hereby transferred to the voters of each county and the voters of the City of Baltimore, respectively, provided that said powers so transferred shall be exercised only by the adoption or amendment of a charter as hereinbefore provided; and provided further, that this Article shall not be construed to authorize the exercise of any power in excess of those conferred by the Legislature upon said counties or city as this Article sets forth.

Section 7. The word "Petition," as used in this Article, means one or more sheets written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, "Signature" means the signature of a registered voter written by himself in his own hand writing (and not by his mark), together with the ward or district and precinct in which he is registered. The authenticity of such signatures and the fact that persons so signing are registered voters shall be evidenced by the affidavit of one or more registered voters of the city or county in which said voters so signing are registered, and one affidavit may apply to or cover any number of signatures to such petition. The false signing of any name, or the signing of any fictitious name to said petition shall be forgery, and the making of any false affidavit in connection with said petition shall be perjury.

Section 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforesaid Article hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution shall be at the next General Election for Members of the General Assembly held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof, for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XVI of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment and Against the Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by the said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution.

Approved April 6th, 1914.

CHAPTER 453.

An Act to propose an amendment to Article III, of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and to provide for the submission of said Amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the Members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following New Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title, "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and to be known as Section 6; and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, said Section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

Section 6. The General Assembly of Maryland shall have the power to provide by suitable general enactment for the suspension of sentence by the Court in criminal cases; (b) for any form of the indeterminate sentence in criminal cases, and (c) for the release upon parole in whatever manner the Governor may prescribe by law, of convicts imprisoned under sentence for crimes.

Section 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the said foregoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution shall be at the next general election, to be held on Tuesday next after the first day of the month of June, submitted to the legal and qualified voters of Maryland for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Approved April 10th, 1914.

CHAPTER 673.

An Act to amend the Constitution of Maryland by adding thereto a new Article to be entitled, "Article XVI" providing for "The Referendum," and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the Members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new and additional Article, to be known as Article XVI, title, "The Referendum," be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of Maryland, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, it shall stand as part and as a new and additional Article of said Constitution, to be known and entitled as aforesaid.

ARTICLE XVI. THE REFERENDUM.

Section 1 (a). The people reserve to themselves, known as the Referendum, by petition to be submitted to the registered voters of the State, to approve or reject the polls, any Act, or part of any Act of the General Assembly, if approved by the Governor, or if approved by the General Assembly over the veto of the Governor:

(b) The provisions of this Article shall be self-executing; provided that additional legislation in furtherance thereof and not in conflict therewith may be enacted.

Section 2. No law enacted by the General Assembly shall take effect until the first day of the month of June, after the date at which it may be published, and which it may be published, shall contain a Section declaring such law an emergency law and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health or safety, or for the maintenance of the State for the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE.

DONE at the City of Annapolis, on this 20th day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

PHILLIPS LEE GOLDSBOROUGH,
By the Governor:
ROBERT F. GRAHAM,
Secretary of State.

Section 3 (a). The referendum petition against any Act or part of an Act passed by the General Assembly, and the fact that it is signed by ten thousand qualified voters of the State of Maryland, of whom not more than half shall be residents of Baltimore City, or of any one county; provided that any public local law for any one county or the City of Baltimore shall be referred by the Secretary of State only to the people of said county or City of Baltimore, upon a referendum petition of 10 per cent of the qualified voters of said county or City of Baltimore, as the case may be, calculated upon the whole number of votes cast therein respectively for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election.

(b) If more than one-half, but less than the full number of signatures required to complete any referendum petition against any law passed by the General Assembly, be filed with the Secretary of State before the first day of June, the time for the law to take effect, and for filing the remainder of signatures to complete the petition shall be extended to the thirtieth day of the same month with like effect.

Section 4. A petition may consist of several papers, but each paper shall contain the full text of the Act or part of Act petitioned upon; and these shall be attached to each of the papers an affidavit of the person procuring the signatures thereon that of the said person's own personal knowledge every signature is genuine and bona fide, and that the signers are registered voters of the State of Maryland, and of the City of Baltimore, or county, as the case may be, as set opposite their names, and under their verification shall be required.

Section 5 (a). The General Assembly shall provide for printing the voters of the State the text of all measures to be voted upon by the people; provided, that until otherwise provided by law the same shall be published in the manner prescribed by Article XIV of the Constitution for the publication of proposed Constitutional Amendments.

(b) All laws referred under the provisions of this Article shall be submitted separately on the ballots to the voters of the people, but if containing more than two hundred words, the full text shall not be printed on the official ballot, but the Secretary of State shall prepare a separate ballot for each measure in such form as to present the purpose of said measure concisely and intelligently. The ballot title may be distinct from the legislative title, but in such case the legislative title shall be sufficient. Upon each of the ballots, following the ballot title or text, as the case may be, of each such measure, there shall be printed the words "For the referred law" and "Against the referred law" as the case may be. The votes cast for and against any such referred law shall be returned to the Governor in the manner prescribed with respect to proposed amendments to the Constitution under Article XIV of this Constitution, and the Governor shall proclaim the result of the election, and, if it shall appear that the majority of the votes cast on any such measure were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation declare the same having received a majority of the votes to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as a part of the laws of the State, to take effect thirty days after such election, and in like manner and with like effect the Governor shall proclaim the result of the local election as to any Public Local Law which shall have been submitted to the voters of any county or the City of Baltimore.

Section 6. No law or Constitutional Amendment, licensing, regulating, prohibiting or restricting the manufacture or sale of malt or spirituous liquors, shall be referred or repealed under any Act of the provisions of this Article.

Section 7. And be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the foregoing Article hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State at the next General Election for Members of the General Assembly to be held in this State, shall be submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof, for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of this State, and that at such general election the vote upon said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as prescribed by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said amendment as directed by the said Article XIV of the Constitution.

Approved April 16th, 1914.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, PHILLIPS LEE GOLDSBOROUGH, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct, that a copy of each of said above recited Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1914, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which newspapers published in said City of Baltimore to be published in the German language, once a week for at least three months next preceding the election to be held in said State of Maryland on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, 1915, and at which election the said proposed amendments and additions to the Constitution of Maryland, shall be submitted, in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE.

DONE at the City of Annapolis, on this 20th day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

PHILLIPS LEE GOLDSBOROUGH,
By the Governor:
ROBERT F. GRAHAM,
Secretary of State.

Section 8. The power heretofore conferred upon the General Assembly to prescribe the number, compensation, powers and duties of the County Commissioners in each county, and the power to make changes in Sections 1 to 6, inclusive, of Article XI of the Constitution, when expressly granted as hereinbefore provided, are hereby transferred to the voters of each county and the voters of the City of Baltimore, respectively, provided that said powers so transferred shall be exercised only by the adoption or amendment of a charter as hereinbefore provided; and provided further, that this Article shall not be construed to authorize the exercise of any power in excess of those conferred by the Legislature upon said counties or city as this Article sets forth.

Section 9. The word "Petition," as used in this Article, means one or more sheets written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, "Signature" means the signature of a registered voter written by himself in his own hand writing (and not by his mark), together with the ward or district and precinct in which he is registered. The authenticity of such signatures and the fact that persons so signing are registered voters shall be evidenced by the affidavit of one

Persia's Great Poet.
Omar Khayyam was a Persian poet, astronomer and mathematician. He was born at Nishapur, in Khurasan. His scientific works, which were of high value in their day, have been eclipsed by the fame of "Rubaiyat," a collection of about 500 epigrams in praise of wine, love and pleasure and at the same time depressingly pessimistic. He died in Nishapur in 1123.

Sure Cure Always.

SPRAY POTATOES FOR THE LATE BLIGHT.

C. E. TEMPLE,
Maryland Agricultural College Extension Service.

This is the time of the year to keep on the watch for the late blight of potatoes. A great many growers make it a regular practice to spray their late potatoes four or five times with Bordeaux Mixture, but there are many who never spray. The first application should be made when the plants are about six inches high. This should be repeated about every ten days during the growing season.

The Fungus which causes the late blight attacks the margins of the leaves first, then it spreads rapidly over the leaves into the stem and then into the tubers. The diseased parts turn black and give off a characteristic odor. This disease spreads most rapidly during cool, wet weather. If this kind of weather prevails for several days in regions where the late blight is known to exist, an epidemic may result with total loss of the crop. It should be remembered in this connection, that the potatoes produced from diseased plants usually decay in storage.

SPRAYING INSURES GOOD CROPS.
Bordeaux Mixture is made as follows: Slake 4 pounds of good quicklime by adding just enough water to keep it from burning; it should be stirred continuously while slaking. Now add enough water to make about 20 gallons of the mixture. Then dissolve 4 pounds of blue-stone in a few gallons of water by suspending it in a sack near the surface of the water which should be contained in a wooden or earthen vessel. The blue-stone solution is placed in the spray tank and enough water is added to make about 25 gallons. After stirring the lime water thoroughly, add it to the blue-stone solution and add enough water to make 50 gallons; mix vigorously. The material should now be tested. This is done by placing a small quantity of it in a saucer or other shallow vessel and blowing one's breath over the surface for a minute or two. If a white, flaky substance appears on the surface of the mixture, it indicates that there is sufficient lime. On the other hand, if a piece of bright metal, such as knife blade, is placed in solution and it quickly takes on a bronze color, this indicates that free copper exists which may injure the foliage. In this case, add more limewater, stir and test until the free copper disappears. Both tests should always be applied.

Where spraying is done on a large scale, it is customary to make up a large quantity of stock solutions in separate containers. Enough water is used so that a gallon of the blue-stone; and likewise, one gallon of the lime mixture will contain one or two pounds of the lime. It is then an easy matter to prepare a tank of Bordeaux Mixture of any strength desired.
If a poison is needed for insect control any one of the following may be added in solution to either the lime water or the Bordeaux Mixture:
Arsenate of zinc paste.....2 lbs.
(or powder, 1 lb.)
Arsenate of lead paste.....3 lbs.
(or powder, 1 1/2 lbs.)
Paris Green.....1/2 lb.
The quantity here given in each case is for 50 gallons of the spray solution. The cost of spraying depends upon the quantity of chemicals purchased at a time and the conveniences for mixing and applying the spray material. Bordeaux alone should not cost more than 50 cents per barrel. With the present indications that potatoes will bring a fair price next spring, it would seem advisable to spray wherever the blight is known to exist.

HESSIAN FLY SHOULD BE EXTERMINATED.
Farmers must remember that the spring brood of the Hessian Fly spends its pupa, or "flax seed" stage, in wheat stubble during the summer. It is, therefore, very desirable, where possible, to plow under deeply all stubble fields before August 15th, also to destroy all volunteer wheat. This will prevent the emergence of the adult flies in September. It is not good farm practice to follow wheat a second year in the same field, although it is often done. Then it is common in this State that wheat stubble is seeded to timothy and clover, and, therefore, any kind of cultivation of these stubble fields is impractical. Under these conditions the farmer can only delay seeding his stubble in the fall until the flies have made their way from the stubble to the fields and died without being able to find young wheat on which to lay their eggs.—T. Mosquitoes Avoid Yellow

The yellow silk stockings of a society girl have led to an interesting scientific discovery. The young lady in question was invited to a house party with half a dozen belles at a country home near Atlanta, Ga., recently, where mosquitoes are prevalent. One evening they were so acutely active, making severe attacks on the silken-clad ankles, and nether limbs of all the girls but one "particular one." Nobody could understand why the mosquitoes had not bitten her.

Suddenly somebody observed that while all the other girls were wearing hosiery of black and white, this girl's stockings were a pronounced yellow shade. There was a physician in the party who knew that insects of various kinds had been found peculiarly susceptible to colors, and he went about making experiments with the result that he found that mosquitoes, at least those in that locality, will never alight on anything that is yellow in tone.

"Wear yellow," said the "Doc." "and you will escape mosquito bites."

Three Volcanos Active

Mt. Etna, Mt. Vesuvius and Mt. Stromboli have become active and advices from Naples, Italy, last Thursday say that clouds of steam and smoke are pouring from the craters and lava is issuing from new fissures. Much apprehension is being caused among the population of Messina, Naples and other cities near the smoking mountains.

The Clerk Guaranteed It

"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?' and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, 'if this does not cure you, I will not charge you a cent for it.' So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured," writes J. H. Berry & Co., Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.

Mother Has Earned this Comfort and Convenience

Gas Lighting and Cooking With Gas

These greatest of modern conveniences are today available for every home, no matter where it is located.

The modern farm home can have its own miniature gas plant—the PILOT Lighting Plant—which supplies genuine home-made Acetylene—a better light than the city home enjoys.

For Farm Homes

The mission of the PILOT is to bring a clear, clean, safe light to take place of the druggery, dirt and inconvenience of kerosene lamps. And quick, cool cooking service instead of the dirt, heat and labor of the old coal or wood stove.

- Soft, brilliant light always on tap in every room—
- Ornamental gas fixtures in brass or copper—
- A cool kitchen in the hot summer months—
- Protected barn lights permanently fastened to iron pipes—
- Automatic ignitors eliminating the use of matches—
- All these and more—costing no more than you are now paying for kerosene.

The World's Standard

These PILOT Lighting Plants are so compact and perfectly constructed that they can be placed right in a corner of the cellar or in an out-building—as you prefer.

Its record for safety, efficiency and satisfactory service surpasses that of any other lighting device in the world. So much so that the highest authorities in the Insurance world allow its installation in insured property without increase in insurance rates—

The United States Government uses the PILOT for lighting many of its Indian Schools and other public buildings—
More than 250,000 country homes—like yours—now light and cook our way with Acetylene.

Ask the "Mother" in Your House

Ask her how much this beautiful, clean, always-ready light and a real gas range will mean to her.

Ask yourself if she hasn't earned this comfort and convenience—a thousand times over.

Then write or phone me and let me come out and show you how little this entire improvement will cost. Do it today while you have it in mind.

HOGS INOCULATED FOR CHOLERA

So Far 832 Hogs Have Been Treated in Somerset County

County Demonstrator H. S. Lippincott had three demonstrations last Wednesday teaching farmers how to inoculate hogs with serum to prevent cholera which a few weeks ago threatened to take every hog from the county. The law of Maryland (being the only state in the United States with such a law) will not allow the County Demonstrator to inoculate hogs, nevertheless he can teach the farmer how to inoculate his own pigs and this is what Mr. Lippincott has been doing.

So far 832 hogs have been treated in Somerset county, saving the county $5,000 so far; besides this serum has been ordered to treat 600 more. By the last of the month by close co-operation the farmers of this county will have checked the most dreaded disease known to hogs.

Demonstrations were held Wednesday on the farms of Messrs. Howard Anderson, H. C. Wolley and at the County Poor Farm, in charge of Mr. George A. Bounds. During the three demonstrations 47 hogs were treated, while 27 interested farmers looked and listened.

If you have sick hogs in your neighborhood get in touch with Mr. Lippincott. Also be sure to bury all dead hogs three feet so dogs cannot get to them; still better burn, or after buried, put lime over dead hogs.

Fischer-Handy Wedding

Miss Frances Mae Handy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Handy, of Westover, and Mr. LeRoy Ferdinand Fischer, of Orangeburg, South Carolina, were married at the bride's home on Thursday at high noon by the Rev. George H. Newton, of Fruitland.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Edward Haws, Jr., of Orangeburg, S. C., followed by Master Milton Haws, bearing the ring. Mr. Erastus Edward Handy, of Wilmington, Del., acted as best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a traveling suit of blue and carried big roses. Mrs. Haws, dame of honor, wore black crepe meteor and carried pink chrysanthemums. The house was decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums and palms.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Fischer left for Baltimore, where a wedding breakfast was given them by Mrs. Herbert Chelton, of that city, Friday morning.

Mr. Fischer is connected with the Coca Cola Bottling Company, of St. Matthews, S. C., where Mr. and Mrs. Fischer will make their future home.

Democrats Announce Candidacies

The following Democrats, agreeably to the law in reference to primary elections, have filed their papers announcing their candidacies for various county offices:

State Senate—Charles A. Loockerman, of Crisfield.

House of Delegates—Denwood W. White, of Deal Island; Henry F. Barnes, of Westover; Gordon E. Milbourne, of Asbury.

State's Attorney—Stanley L. Cochran, of Crisfield.

County Commissioner—C. C. Gelder, of West Princess Anne.

Register of Wills—Michael A. Somers, of Lawson's.

Orphans' Court—George W. Simpkins, of Mt. Vernon; Ernest J. Pusey, of West Princess Anne; L. Edward Nelson, of Asbury.

Sheriff—B. Horace Ford, of Crisfield. State Central Committee—William E. Dougherty, of Crisfield; George W. Brown, of East Princess Anne; Harding P. T. Brinkley's.

"Penny" Must Give Up Steamers

As the result of the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Pennsylvania Railroad must surrender control of all its steamboat lines on the Eastern Shore except those running to Claiborn and Love Point, which the commission regard as ferries, connecting the old Eastern Shore Railroad to Ocean City and the old Queen Anne's Railroad to Rehoboth with Baltimore. The other lines on the Eastern Shore must all be divorced from railroad ownership. They are, Chester River, Wicomico River, Pocomoke River, Choptank River and Occobannock River.

Decision as to the lines operating to wharves on the Western Shore and to Virginia was held in abeyance.

A wreck occurred on the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad below Pocomoke City on Monday morning of last week, which caused the death of a colored man and injured several horses en route to the Wicomico Fair grounds. Trains north and south were delayed for several hours.

HURRICANE STRIKES SOUTHERN COAST

$60,000,000 Property Damaged and 100 Lives Lost In The Storm.

The West Indian hurricane which struck the coast late Monday of last week and continued until Wednesday morning attained a velocity of nearly 100 miles as its centre passed between Galveston and Houston, Texas, early Tuesday morning, swept the Gulf waters inland for more than 20 miles and practically wiped out several of the smaller cities along the shore. Miles of railroad and interurban tracks have been demolished and long lines of telegraph and telephone wires are down. It will be weeks before normal conditions are restored.

Galveston has survived the most severe storm in her history with a known loss of 39 lives and a property loss of about $15,000,000. This loss, however, is negligible when compared with the terrible hurricane that blew out of the West Indies and touched with death many towns and cities along the Gulf coast from Sabine Pass to Matagorda Bay.

Twenty persons were drowned at Virginia Point, in the collapse of the Causeway Hotel with 60 guests.

The hurricane cost the entire south $60,000,000, according to estimates based on reports from various sections of the devastated areas. The loss in damage to buildings is roughly estimated at $40,000,000, to cotton and other crops $20,000,000 and to oil fields $2,000,000. The known loss of life totals at least 100.

In Galveston the storm roared through the city for more than 24 hours, and to the strength of the great sea wall alone Galveston owes its salvation. Had it not been for this immense bulwark thousands of lives would have been lost. Not a business house or residence in the city escaped damage in some degree, and the property loss is enormous.

The Will Of C. Wesley Fontaine

The will of the late Charles Wesley Fontaine was probated last Tuesday.

June 10th, 1915. Mr. Fontaine's estate is estimated to contain about $65,000 worth of personality and about $5,000 worth of realty. His brother, Mr. Edgar Fontaine, of Pocomoke City, is named as executor of the will.

Among the items of the will is one which leaves to Miss Nannie C. Fontaine, Mr. Fontaine's cousin, the house and lot on Prince William street, where he had resided, during her life, and also the sum of $2,500, to be invested by the executor, to cover taxes, insurance, repairs, etc. on said property. Another item leaves to his cousin, Mrs. Laura Fitzgerald, the sum of $200 and his household furniture. His sister-in-law, Mrs. America Fontaine, widow of John H. Fontaine, also is to receive the sum of $200. His sister, Mrs. Annie E. Landon, is left a house and lot on Beckford avenue, now occupied by Mr. George Brewington. The remainder of his estate is to be sold and divided into five equal parts, one-fifth to go to the children of his brother, the late John H. Fontaine, and the remaining four-fifths to be divided among his brothers, Joseph A. Fontaine, Fred M. Fontaine and Edgar Fontaine, and his sister, Mrs. Annie E. Landon.

A Watermelon Party

A delightful watermelon party was given Thursday night by Miss Daisy White, of Deal's Island, in honor of her guests, Misses Cecel Cullen and Alice Wilson, of Crisfield.

Among those present were Misses Norma and Katie Bradshaw, May and Louise Thomas, Pauline and Agnes Webster, Geneva, Anna and Delma Horstman, Ruth and Naomi White, Myra Alexander, Mollie Vetra, Lela Windsor, and Messrs. Rodger and Benjie White, Norman and Eddie Shores, Edward and Earl Thomas, John, Harry and Edgie Wilson, Samuel and Lively Wallace, Noah and Roy Webster, Marion and Gordon Price, Edgar Moffett, Harry Anderson, Freddie Andrews and Thomas Daniel.

Games and music were indulged in until 10.30 when watermelon was served, after which there was a seed contest, Miss Mollie Vetra and Mr. Gordon Price winning the first prize and Edgar Shores and Edgar Moffett the booby prize. At a late hour all departed for their homes having spent a delightful evening.

$250,000 Fire At Atlantic City

One-quarter of a million dollars in property was devastated last Friday afternoon in one of the largest fires Atlantic City, N. J., has ever witnessed. An entire boardwalk block, North Carolina to Pennsylvania avenues, facing the Steeplechase Pier, was rased in the conflagration, which at one time threatened to take in squares of valuable structures.

STEAMER ARABIC SUNK

Bound From London To New York—Thirty-Two Lives Lost

The big White Star line steamer Arabic, formerly a favorite ship of the Liverpool-Boston service, but which on her present trip was on the way to New York, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine, at 9.15 o'clock Thursday morning southeast of Fastnet on the coast of Ireland.

The steamer, according to a statement of the White Star line, was attacked without warning and went down in 10 minutes. Of the 423 persons on board—181 passengers and 242 members of the crew—32 are missing and are believed to have perished. Most of those who have not been accounted for belong to the crew. Only six of the passengers are reported missing.

Whether any of those not accounted for are Americans has not yet been determined; but there were only 26 citizens of the United States on board, 22 being in the second cabin and four in the steerage. Sixteen of the Americans are known to have been saved. The Arabic carried no first-class passengers, having lately been turned into a two-class liner.

The torpedo that sunk the Arabic struck her on the starboard side, 100 feet from her stern. The vessel had left Liverpool Wednesday afternoon and taken a southerly course, well off the Irish coast, doubtless with a view of avoiding the submarines, which frequent the waters nearer the shore. When some 50 miles west of where the Lusitania was sunk in May the German under-water boat rose to the surface and launched a torpedo. The marksman-ship of the Germans, as in the case of the Lusitania, was deadly accurate and, like the Lusitania, the big liner quickly settled and shortly disappeared from view.

Ten lifeboats and a number of life rafts were quickly got over the side of the steamer, and into these a large number of the passengers and members of the crew scrambled. Many of the passengers, however, fell into the water, but they got up and were rescued.

Miss Duer's Engagement Announced

The engagement of Miss Virginia Rose Duer and Mr. R. A. McCormick was announced last week. The wedding will take place on September 8th, in Princess Anne, at the home of the prospective bride's brother, Mr. Robert F. Duer, and will be a quiet affair. Their home will be at Timonium, Baltimore county.

Miss Duer is well-known in social circles in Baltimore, Princess Anne and on the Eastern Shore, where she has many relatives and friends. Messrs. Edw. P., Howard, Bruce W. and Henry L. Duer, of Baltimore, are her brothers. Former judges J. Roman and N. Walter Dixon, of Denver, Colorado, and Mr. Thomas Dixon, of Princess Anne, are her half brothers. Mrs. Pitts, of Philadelphia, is a half-sister. Mr. McCormick is well known in Baltimore. He is vice-president of the McCormick Company and is chairman of the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco.

The marriage is the culmination of a romance growing out of the State's participation in the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco. Mr. McCormick was the chairman of the State's Commission. Miss Duer, with many other ladies of Maryland, was an applicant for the position of State hostess. The State's chairman and Miss Duer became firm friends, and this feeling matured until it culminated in the engagement just announced.

Tragic Death Of Mrs. Coursey

Mrs. Florence Covell Coursey, wife of Rev. Ralph T. Coursey, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and formerly of this county, ended her life at the Sheppard and Enoch Pratt Hospital, near Towson, Baltimore county, Monday, August 9th. According to a statement from the hospital authorities Mrs. Coursey was found dead by a nurse. She had knotted a bandage around her throat, tied the other end to the gas bracket and then thrown her weight upon the noose. This was Mrs. Coursey's second attempt at suicide, the first one having occurred last spring, when she jumped from a window from the second story of her home in Baltimore.

Mrs. Coursey was 54 years old and a daughter of the late T. J. Covell, for many years a conductor on the Pennsylvania Railroad's Eastern Shore branch. Besides her husband, who is one of the best known pastors of Wilmington Conference, she is survived by a son and daughter, Ralph T. Coursey, Jr., and Miss Rebecca Coursey.

Card Of Thanks

The family of Mr. John W. Morris take this opportunity of thanking their friends for the many acts of kindness shown them during the illness and after the death of Mrs. Morris.

RECLUSE FARMER KILLED BY ROBBERS

Samuel Chatham Found With Skull Crushed Near His Home

Samuel Chatham, 75 years old, a prosperous farmer who has lived the life of a recluse for several years, was found murdered at his home on the county road leading from Snow Hill to Princess Anne early Sunday morning, the 15th instant. When found by neighbors the body was lying in the kitchen door, the head and shoulders having fallen across the sill in the house. About 12 feet away in the yard was found his straw hat and it is supposed at this point is where he was first assaulted.

Chatham has lived the life of a hermit for a number of years and he was reputed to have amassed considerable money. Three years ago his home was entered and robbed of $3,000 in gold. The robbers were never captured, although clues led to one of the large Eastern cities, and for a time it was supposed an arrest would be made. Other facilities have been the Chatham hermitage. A sister, who was as much of a recluse as the murdered man, died from some strange cause. Her brother, upon returning home from a neighborhood store, found her unconscious, and as she never recovered, a mystery surrounds her death. Circumstances pointed at that time to robbery.

An investigation made by the jury of the county showed that the old man had a desperate encounter with the murderer. Blood stains were found on a corn crib, 10 yards from the house. More marks were on the side of the house seven yards from the door in which the body was found. The man's hat lay in the yard several yards from a heavy cudgel and a currant wood. The freshly cut wood was covered with blood and the handle bore bloody finger marks. Clotted blood on the large end of the handle were gray hairs from the man's head. A trail marked with blood led to the kitchen door in which the man's body lay. His left arm, which had apparently been raised to his head, was crushed at the elbow, and the right temple was cut and bruised and the left crushed in.

The body of the murdered man was taken to the home of his brother, Mr. Wesley Chatham, in Salisbury, and was buried from there Monday afternoon of last week.

Mrs. Clara Elizabeth Morris

After a prolonged illness, at her residence in this town on Wednesday morning of last week, the end of the earthly life of Mrs. Clara Elizabeth Morris was reached, at the age of 56 years.

"The Office for the Burial of the Dead" was said in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church on Friday afternoon by the Rev. Henry E. Spears, rector of Somerset Parish. The interment was in the cemetery of Manokin Presbyterian Church. The pallbearers were, Messrs. G. W. Brown, S. M. Pusey, H. J. Waters, E. O. Smith, Ernest Hayman and Dr. C. W. Wainwright.

Mrs. Morris was the beloved wife of Mr. John W. Morris, one of the leading merchants of this place. They were married in Eastville, Virginia, 33 years ago. To this union five children were born (Messrs. Charles B., Edwin, Earle and Misses Anna and Bertie Morris) all residents of Princess Anne except the eldest son, Charles B., who is located in San Francisco, Cal.

For fifteen years Mrs. Morris was virtually a shut-in, and so while hers was not a conspicuous life, it was something better, for she devoted herself so completely to those nearest to her that it was a life of unusual self-denial and self-sacrifice. Therefore, the writer feels it can be said of her, what the Divine Master said of the immortal woman of the Gospel, "She hath done what she could." In fact, her faithfulness, her patience, her trust were an inspiration and more than one thanks God for the example of such a life.

She was a kind neighbor, a loyal friend and a loving wife and mother. In her Christian faith she was unmovable, for she looked forward to "that city whose Builder and Maker is God."

Tri-County Grange Picnic

The tri-county picnic, comprising Somerset, Dorchester and Wicomico counties of the Maryland State Grange, was held on the Shiloh camp ground last Wednesday. The object of the picnic was to stimulate co-operation among the farmers. Speeches were made by prominent grangers, including Oliver Wilson, master of the National Grange; Maryland State Master Black, ex-Maryland State Secretary Anthony and West-ern Starr, of Somerset county. These sessions were held, during which crop reports and prospects were discussed, especially the effects of damage done by recent storms.

Time flies. Even love's young dream may die of old age.

PRESTON DENIES TALK OF DEAL

Sharp Retort To Declaration By Comptroller Harrington

Mayor Preston issued a statement last week in which he made it emphatic that there had been no "deal" to give Senator Lee, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, the 28 votes of the city in the convention at which the candidate will be nominated. It was charged in a speech last week by Comptroller Harrington that there had been such a "deal." In his statement the Mayor asked quite a pointed question as to the reason for Congressman Lewis espousing the cause of Harrington. The Mayor's statement follows:

No such "deal" was ever made. Mr. Harrington is injecting the language of the card table into what ought to be a dignified political discussion. If he means by a "deal" that I am in favor of Mr. Lee getting the 28 votes of Baltimore city, that I have said openly and am distinctly in favor of and hope and believe he will get. I am working for Baltimore's rights, which I feel sure we will not get from Mr. Harrington or Senator Smith, judging from their past performances.

I am not in the habit of making "deals." I let the people know where I stand, and I always try to stand for the public interest. The people who charge others with "deals" are usually those who are in the habit of operating that way themselves.

Talking about "deals," a great many people are inquiring how it is that Congressman Lewis, whose position in Congress is largely due to the financial and political support of Blair Lee, has now turned against Lee, who has been his benefactor, and is going all over the State with Harrington, Ritchie and McMullan, just as if there was some fourth office for which he was a candidate.

Is it possible that the idea in Mr. Harrington's mind that there must be some "deal" about the United States senatorship is prompted by what he knows of what has taken place between Senator Smith and Mr. Lewis?

There must be some reason for Mr. Lewis going all over the State campaigning with Mr. Harrington. He never did any such thing before.

The reason he gives that he is for Harrington, because Harrington wants to go from a lower to a higher office, and against Lee because he wants to go from a higher to a lower office, does not sound very plausible to me. In the first place, a great many people think the governorship is a higher office than United States senatorship. In the next place, if a man is willing to step out of a higher into a lower office it looks like he is prompted to serve his party or the people, and not by his personal interests alone.

Interesting Authoritative Figures

References to the vote-getting abilities of Lee and Harrington as shown in past elections in Maryland are favorite arguments of their respective county partisans. Lee's sweeping of the State in 1913 is put forward as good proof that he can carry Maryland with ease at the general election this fall. Some of his advocates claim that he had "40,000 majority" for the United States Senate, and the figures have been placed as high as 44,000. On the other hand the Harrington people point to his big "majorities" in 1911 and 1913 as demonstrating that he is "the best vote-getter in Maryland to redeem Maryland this fall from Republican rule," in the enthusiastic language of one of them, who declares that Harrington "four years ago carried the State by 9,000 majority when the head of the ticket went down to defeat, and carried it by the remarkable majority of 38,000 in 1913." As the authoritative figures may be of some interest, they are given from the records of the Secretary of State at Annapolis:

Lee's majority, 1913, 26,765.
Lee's plurality, 1913, 39,185.
Harrington's majority, 1911, 552.
Harrington's plurality, 1911, 7472.
Harrington's majority, 1913, 23,045.
Harrington's plurality, 1913, 37,152.

In 1911 the total vote for Gorman for Governor was 103,395, and for Harrington for Comptroller, 101,284.

The La Plata Times-Crescent compares Lee's plurality over "Tom" Parran in 1913, with Smith's over Carrington in 1914—when Baltimore city and Baltimore county gave Smith the election—and declares that only "Carrington's weakness in his own party is responsible for the election of Smith."

LEO M. FRANK HANGED FROM TREE

Dragged From Cot At Prison Farm And Stain By a Mob.

Leo M. Frank was lynched early last Tuesday morning after he had been kidnapped from the State Prison Farm at Milledgeville, Ga., and rushed in a speeding automobile almost to Marietta, Ga., where is buried the body of Mary Phagan, the girl whom Frank was convicted of killing in a pencil factory at Atlanta.

Frank's body was found hanging by the neck to a tree two miles from Marietta, on the Roswell road, at 8.30 o'clock Tuesday morning, hours after he had been carried away from the prison farm by a band that apparently had been carefully organized to overcome any resistance.

The lynching party that killed Frank went to Milledgeville Prison Farm in eight automobiles and disappeared as soon as they had secured possession of the man they sought. The lynchers scattered soon after Frank was hanged. Chronology of the Frank case follows:

April 26, 1913—Mary Phagan murdered in Atlanta pencil factory.

April 29—Frank arrested.

June 28—Frank indicted.

August 22—Trial begins.

August 26—Found guilty and sentenced to be hanged.

October 31—Motion for new trial denied.

February 17, 1914—Georgia Supreme Court denied new trial.

March 7—Frank again sentenced to death.

December 28—United States Supreme Court Justice Lamar granted new hearing on writ of error.

February 26, 1915—Supreme Court heard new arguments.

April 19—Supreme Court sustains conviction.

May 10—Frank, for third time, sentenced to be hanged.

June 21—Governor Slaton commuted sentence to life imprisonment.

July 17—Frank stabbed by fellow convict at Georgia State Prison Farm.

August 17—Taken from prison by armed men and lynched.

The lynchers' brutality in the treatment of their victim—a man but just recovering from a wound which all but cost him his life—has been described in his own description of the agony of the self-constituted executioners dragged him by his feet down the stone steps, from his hospital room to the death car awaiting him outside, and finally the collapse of his wife when told of her husband's fate, caused a feeling of pity and indignation and is an ineffaceable blot upon the fame of Georgia.

With no demonstration of any kind to mark the event, the body of Leo M. Frank, victim of a Georgia mob, arrived at the Pennsylvania Station in New York city last Thursday from Atlanta. In an automobile hearse, with an escort of two motorcycle policemen, the plain pine box containing the casket was whirled away to a Brooklyn undertaking establishment, while an automobile carried the almost prostrated wife of the slain man to the home of Frank's parents, at 152 Underhill avenue, Brooklyn. The body was later removed to the Frank home.

Thursday night, under cover of darkness, the body was removed to some place which the family refused to name, where the last rites of the Jewish Church were administered.

"Declined" Voters May Vote In Primary

Attorney-General Edgar Allan Poe has made public an opinion in which he held that persons now on the registration books as "declined" voters may affiliate with either of the parties and may vote in the primary to be held September 14th. He also held that young men coming of age after the primary and before the general election to be held November 2d may vote in the primary, if they possess the other legal requirements.

Mr. Poe's opinion that "declined" voters may affiliate and vote in the primary is based upon Section 160-E of Chapter 792 of the Acts of 1914, which says, in effect, that voters may state, at the primary, the party with which they desire to affiliate and, thereupon, shall have their names entered in the proper column and be permitted to vote in the primary then and thereafter. The exercise of this privilege is limited to "declined" voters by the section of the law forbidding any change in affiliation within six months prior to a primary election.

In Somerset county there are 236 registered who declined to affiliate with either party at the last registration and are therefore marked "Independent" or "Declined" on the registration books. The decision of the Attorney-General means that any man in Somerset county who is registered as an Independent or declined to affiliate at the general registration last fall, but whose tendencies are Democratic, may walk into the election house on the day of the primary election, express a wish to affiliate with the Democratic party and to participate in the Democratic primary election.

MR. BRUCE SPURNS GAUNTLET

Will Not Accept Carrington's Challenge to Debate On Senatorship

Mr. William Cabell Bruce, candidate for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Blair Lee, replies negatively to the challenge to a series of joint debates recently sent him by Mr. Edward C. Carrington, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination. Mr. Bruce, in part, said:

"I note that in your opinion the apathy of the voters is so profound that despite the vital relations which the office of Governor sustains to their welfare, Messrs. Harrington and Lee are compelled to 'industriously pack their meeting with their professional cohorts' for the purpose of imposing a deceptive impression of genuine popular enthusiasm upon the mass of the Democratic voters; but this, I am bound to suppose is one of those statements which are expected to pass muster with the partisan mass of politics rather than with the sober mass of history."

"Assuming, without admitting to be true, all that you say touching the indifference of the voters to the eloquence of party candidates as compared with their interest in the alluring moving-picture shows and the vivid columns of the press, I regret to say that I must decline your well-meant but (as I see it) ill-advised suggestion that we might help along the cause of popular education and at the same time counteract the effect of all rival attractions by mutually serving each other up at a series of public meetings to the adherents of our respective parties with the spicy comments that are rarely absent, it must be confessed, from the once flourishing, but now almost obsolete form of political disputation known as the 'joint discussion.'"

"I might or might not be able to successfully match in such a combat the humble Democratic donkey against the prowess of an opponent that united all the mobility of the Progressive Moose with the massive strength of the Republican elephant, but I quite agree with you in thinking that such a conflict would hardly lack a throng of excited and vociferous auditors. But would they really be edified? And would their mere number, or any degree of artificial notoriety that they might bring to us compensate us for the lack of that dignity and real illumination which belongs to more practical and responsible methods of public speech, even though brought to bear upon much smaller audiences?"

"I fear that you exaggerate the importance attaching to the fact that you are the only Republican in this State who has announced himself as a candidate for the Senate. To begin with, your announcement is little more than a week old, and, moreover, the primary election will not take place until May 1, 1916. That, during the course of this long interval, you will not be unopposed for the Republican nomination I cannot but think probable, even if for no better reason than because several prominent Republicans have been so kind as to inform me that, if you are nominated and I am nominated, too, they will vote for me."

"At any rate you certainly exaggerate the importance attaching to the fact that I am the only declared candidate for the Democratic nomination. I would like to think that all that I have got to do is to kill the time between the present hour and May 1, 1916, when this nomination will be handed over to me on a silver salver as a gracious free-will offering of a unanimous and admiring party. But I am laboring under no such infatuation. If I win it, as I shall certainly most strenuously strive to do, no matter who my antagonists or their supporters may be, it will be only by what Stonewall Jackson was in the habit of calling 'sheer and stark fighting.'"

"And if you and I are to be opposed by other candidates for the respective party nominations sought by us, can we not both employ our time much more profitably, not to say rationally, in facing these competitors than in mutually lavishing our rhetoric and reasoning upon a combatant who might never be nominated at all?"

Are We Missed?

It is said there is nobody, no matter how useful in this world, whose place cannot be filled, when death claims them and they pass out of this life.

Some of us think nobody can do our work, and our places cannot be filled, but let us die, and the world sees that there is another just as good as we, just as capable and we are not missed.

If we are missed, it is only for a little while, but are we missed at all? That is the question. The world is so busy with its own affairs that it must needs let the dead bury its dead.

As an illustration of the fact that we are not missed, this small city has had two mysterious deaths recently where the bodies have not been identified. One, a boy, lay in the undertaker's shop from Friday afternoon until Sunday evening before being identified, yet his home was within a stone's throw. He was not missed.

Another, the old man whose body was found floating in the Severn river, and up to Wednesday night had not been identified. He, too, was not missed.

Are any of us missed when we pass away? More or less paths surround the question, but are we?—Annapolis Capital.

Retold For Choir Singers.
One of the wealthy members of a fashionable church in Boston approached her pastor with the complaint that she was greatly disturbed by one of her neighbors.
"It's positively unbearable," said she. "That man in the pew in front of us destroys all my devotional and pious feelings when he attempts to sing. Couldn't you ask him to change his pew?"
The good pastor was sorely perplexed. After a few moments' reflection he said:
"Well, I naturally would feel a little delicacy on that score, more especially as I would have to give a reason. But I will tell you what I might do." Here the pastor's face became illuminated with a happy thought. "I might ask him to join the choir."—Harper's Magazine.

In the matter of the tax sale of real estate in Lawson's Election District of Somerset County, assessed to Ephraim Handy's heirs, made and reported by John E. Holland, County Treasurer for Somerset County, William J. Phillips, purchaser, ex parte.

No. 3028, Chancery. In the Circuit Court for Somerset County, in Equity.

Whereas a certain John E. Holland, County Treasurer for Somerset County, in the State of Maryland, has reported to the Circuit Court for Somerset County, in Equity, a sale made by him to William J. Phillips, of all that lot and parcel of land in Lawson's Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, being all that lot of land situated as aforesaid, containing one acre, more or less, with the improvements thereon, situated in Stumptown, on the N. Y. P. & N. E. R., adjoining the lands of James Johnson, Elisha Ward and Daniel Ward and assessed to the said Ephraim Handy's heirs on the assessment books for said election district for the said year 1915, and sold for the payment of taxes due and in arrears, together with all the proceedings in relation thereto; and whereas upon examination it appears to the said Court that the said proceedings are regular and that the provisions of law in relation thereto have been complied with.

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered this 10th day of August, in the year 1915, by the Circuit Court for Somerset County, in Equity, that notice be given by the publication of this order once a week for four successive weeks, in the "Marylander and Herald," a weekly newspaper published in Somerset County, before the 23rd day of September, 1915, warning all persons interested in the said real estate to be and appear in this Court on or before the 30th day of September, 1915, to show cause, if any they have, why said sale should not be ratified and confirmed.

The report states the amount of sales to be $2.50.

IODIDE OF NITROGEN.

An Explosive So Deadly That to Make it is Suicidal.

Explosives are solids which under certain conditions suddenly change into heated gas occupying many times the original space of the solids.

Ordinary gunpowder when fired turns into gas, of which the volume is 4,000 times as great as that of the powder. No wonder the bullet in front of it leaves the muzzle of the rifle in a hurry.

Today there are scores, even hundreds, of different sorts of explosives known to science. Some, such as lyddite, require a very considerable shock to explode them. Others, such as nitroglycerin, are fearfully dangerous to handle, for a few extra degrees of warmth or a very slight jar is sufficient to turn them instantly into gas.

Of the latter type there is nothing quite so unstable as iodide of nitrogen. It has to be made in alcohol. When allowed to dry it appears as a brown powder, and so unstable is this powder that a touch with a feather will set it off. The experiment has been tried of leaving a few grains upon a table mixed with a few grains of sugar. The first bluebottle that flew on the table and began to crawl among the grains caused an explosion.

The mere jarring of the air by a loud shout or a heavy footstep is sufficient to detonate iodide of nitrogen, and it need hardly be added that no one in his senses would attempt to make this terrible stuff. To do so in any quantity would be equivalent to committing suicide.—Pearson's Weekly.

When Death Is Nearest

According to facts compiled by scientists we are the closest to death at about 3 o'clock every morning. At that hour all night-sleeping humans and animals give little moans, awaken partially or wholly, and then either drop back into slumber or death. Physical giants among men and lions among animals have this experience, just as do the frailest babes or weakest kittens. Viewed from every point, this fact is remarkable. Why doesn't this period come at midnight, or 1 a. m., 2 a. m., or in the case of late sleepers, 7 or 8 o'clock a. m.?

It is at the hour of 3, however, that most active of the vital organs of night sleeping humans and animals come the nearest to stopping or running down. They come so near that if they came a breath—an atom—nearer it, they would stop. In welcoming the hour of sleep, you unconsciously welcome death's most advantageous time for conquering you. Every moment you are asleep your physical self is running unwatched by the engineer. The supply of coal (food) for the furnace is withheld. The steam (blood) in the pipes runs low. This neglect of the engine rooms continues until about 3 a. m., when the machinery all but stops.

In the healthy or fairly healthy body the coming of this moment produces a shock to the system, which causes you to unconsciously throw out your arms and legs, rub your nose violently, moan, take a deep breath and turn over. Your doing this practically saves your life, as it gives fresh impetus to the almost stopped action of the heart, which, in turn, restores the well-nigh stopped circulation all throughout your body.

The moan and deep breath quickened the action of the lungs and roused them to their usual rate of speed. The rest that the organs had received by being allowed to almost run down enables them, with the restarting administered by the three o'clock commotion, to successfully begin another day's run.

It is not known what causes the little shock that carries us successfully over the bridge of death, although there are many theories about it. But they are only theories. The percentage of deaths at this fateful moment exceeds that of any other moment in the twenty-four hours, and the death rate of aged people who die at 3 o'clock in the morning is appallingly in excess of the death rate for any other hour in the day. In case of sickness, the physician dreads the hour of 3 a. m. to arrive. It is the most momentous hour in our lives.—Delaware State News.

A WISE JUDGE

By OSCAR COX

When the war between the states ended and the colored man was endowed with citizenship a grave responsibility was placed upon him for which he wasn't prepared. In one of those regions where the negroes were very numerous and white men very few one of the former found himself in possession of a justice's court.

The makeup of this dispensary of justice was somewhat crude. A judge was found who had done the cleaning of the courthouse, a prosecuting attorney in one who had belonged to a lawyer, but for counsel no one could be obtained except a few dawkies who had been tried for various offenses and had by observing lawyers' methods picked up here and there bits of court routine.

Moses Doggett, late the property of Colonel Redfield Doggett, was the judge before whom a negro with no other name, so far as was known, than Pete was brought on a charge of having ill treated his wife, Susan. She as the principal witness was called to the stand.

"Tell the cou't wha' Pete gone done to you," said the judge.

"Pete he de mos' good fo' nuttin nigger in de state of Alabama. Now he got free he t'ink he hain't got nottin' to do but sit out in de sun an' sleep. I says to Pete, 'Git up an' go to wo'k. How yo' spec' dese chill'n gwine to git anyt'ing to eat ef yo' don't earn nottin'?' Pete he say: 'I hain't got no wo'k. Yo' go on wid de washin', an' I tak' it to do owner an' bring back de pay.' I jist pick up a rollin' pin, an' I split it on de skull."

"Yo' honah," said the defendant's counsel, "I thought it was Pete mistreated Susan, not Susan mistreated Pete."

"Yo', Pete," said the judge, "yo' take de stan' an' tell de cou't yo' side ob de question."

Pete obeyed the order and stood rolling his eyes about till admonished to speak in his defense of the charge made by his wife.

"Hain't got no wife? How dat?"

"Ma wife, Chloe, wha' I married fus' down in Louisiana, ar' I de only wife I got. When I was sold an' separated from her an' de chill'n ma heart was broke. De nex' year I married one ob de nigger women belongin' to ma new marster."

"Yo' didn't get no divo'ce from yo' fus' wife?" asked the defendant's counsel.

"I didn't get no divo'ce. I jest married ag'in. Two years arter dat ma marster lose a cotton crop an' we was all sold out, me an' ma wife, dem' sold to different marsters. Den I married anudder wife."

"An' yo' didn't get no divo'ce from de second wife?" asked Pete's counsel.

"No, sah. I didn't get no divo'ce from de second wife. I didn't keer fo' no divo'ce from none ob 'em. Ma heart was true to ma fus' wife, Chloe."

"How many wives have you got?" asked the prosecuting attorney, with a view to condensing this diffuse statement.

"I don't know. I had de bad luck to change marsters mighty often, an' every time I was sold I married a new wife."

"Is Susan de las'?"

"Sue, she de las'."

"Yo' honah," said defendant's counsel, "I ask fo' de discha'ge ob de prisoner on de groum' dat he couldn't mistreat de wife when he hain't married to de wife he mistreated."

"How many husbands have you had, Susan?" asked the judge.

"I got one in Mobile, anudder in New Orleans an' anudder somewha' in Souf Carolina."

"How do you know they are in those places?"

"I don't. I married 'em dar."

The judge looked up at the boards which constituted the ceiling in mute deliberation. He was a grave looking old ducky and in his heart aimed to be just. But the problem was how to be just legally. The two in this case seemed incompatible.

"De persecutin' attorney will sum up an' de counsel fo' de prisoner will sum up, den de cou't will gib her decision."

"I hain't got nuthin' to say," said the prosecutor, "cept dat Pete won't wo'k, an' his wife an' chill'n an' starvin'. De cou't oughter make him wo'k or go to jail."

"An' I ain't got nuthin' to say," said the prisoner's lawyer, "cept dat in de fus' place Sue an' Pete hain't married, Pete bein' true to Chloe, somewha' in de souf. In de secon' place, it wa'n't Pete dat mistreated Sue, but Sue mistreated Pete when she split de rollin' pin on his head."

The judge again looked at the boards above, rolled his eyes and finally gave his decision.

"De new law of marriage among us niggers since he mancipation proclamation an' different from de ole law. Under de new law Sue an' Pete's wife, an' his boum' to tak' keer ob her an' de chillun. De cou't derefo' decides dat Pete got to go to wo'k or go to jail."

"I 'peal de case," cried Pete's counsel.

"Yo' kin jist go on 'pealin' de case till kingdom come," said the judge. "Pete, yo' go to wo'k. Sue, ef he don't go to wo'k, yo' split anudder rollin' pin on his head."

"I hain't got no mo' rollin' pins, but I got some latrons."

"De cou't decides dat latrons an' as legitimate as rollin' pins. Ca' de nex' case."

EATING CROW

The Wilmington Every Evening, of Friday last, has the following editorial comment upon the primary campaign in Maryland:

Hotter and hotter grows the Democratic primary fight in Maryland, as the day of the primary election, early in September, draws nearer. There is a probability that many Democratic editors, after the primaries have decided the Democratic choice for governor between State Comptroller Harrington and Senator Lee, will find themselves obliged to eat liberal messes of "crow." For all will be expected to support the successful nominee, no matter how bitterly they may have denounced him throughout the primary campaign.

The Every Evening thus mentions only the Democratic side of the situation. The Republicans of Maryland also are having their own troubles and the fight is just as bitter. The Weller followers cut loose from Governor Goldsborough whilst the latter was in the West. The Goldsborough people are therefore Warburton followers and they have not begun to forgive the Weller-ites for their discourtesy to the Governor.

The great trouble about the primary election is the bitter spirit that is apt to be encouraged, to say nothing of the expense of the system. Things will be said about opposing candidates that should have been omitted. The real question to be decided is who will make the better nominees. Such a decision ought to be reached without discourtesies to anyone. It has been our endeavor to avoid statements that might be unfair to any party concerned.

The Maryland and Herald has been a Lee paper from the beginning of the campaign. We believe that Senator Lee will make one of the best Governors Maryland has ever had. We believe that every effort of his has been to build up his state. His legislative experience demonstrates this. The only thing upon which the Maryland and Herald differs with Senator Lee is that of the direct primary system. It has always been opposed to it. On the other hand, as Senator Lee says, a full opportunity is thus given for the people to see in advance the kind of men who are expecting the people's votes at the general election. There is something, it is true in such a statement and it is something that appeals to the people in general.

So far as "eating crow" is concerned we do not believe we will be forced to that diet. We believe that Senator Lee is going to win. We are pleased, however, to have conducted the ante-primary campaign in such a way as to make "crow" an agreeable edible rather than otherwise.

The War And Tariff Revision

Advocates of the high protective tariff system expect to open their active campaign for a return to that costly imposition through an unjust exercise of the government's taxing powers at the coming session of Congress. They base their campaign upon the presumption that after the war in Europe comes to an end this country will be so deluged by imports from abroad that heavy tariff duties will be absolutely necessary for the salvation of our manufacturing industries.

This timeworn argument is effectively refuted by the logic of experience. Our manufacturers have proved, time and again, that they had no need of high tariff protection, by sending their products abroad and underselling European manufacturers in European markets, at a profit. They will have even less need of tariff protection after the close of the war.

Any kind of tariff revision would be ineffective while this great struggle of European nations is in progress. No one can foretell what the conditions following its cessation will be, and if they should be such as to call for tariff revision, the work could then be performed with accurate knowledge of what was needed. But any kind of a pretext will answer the purposes of the protectionists.—Wilmington Every Evening.

The Clerk Guaranteed It

"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?' and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, 'if this does not cure you, I will not charge you a cent for it.' So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured." writes J. H. Berry & Co., Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.

Again The South Suffers

The lynching of Leo Frank at Atlanta, Ga., is a black spot upon the nation. It especially besmirches the escutcheon of the South, and is pure and simple, cold blooded, premeditated murder of a human being by an infuriated mob.

It is hoped that Georgia officials were not cognizant of the plans and there was no connivance on their part, but until this is proved, there will be doubt that the Governor, the Prison Commissioner and the custodians of the jail had not some connection with the crime that is a disgrace upon the State of Georgia, which has made the whole nation hang its head in shame.

The guilt or innocence of Leo Frank has nothing to do with the case, and cannot be considered at this time.

"That the state of Georgia," says the Baltimore Star, "has achieved the unenviable position of a commonwealth in which the constitutional rights of American citizens are abrogated at the will of the mob, without even the forms invented elsewhere for the frustration of legal processes. Its government, its people and its institutions rest today under the suspicion of being unworthy their place in the union of states. It has rendered itself comparable to lawless Mexico as a political entity in which any faction of the population may set itself above the law."

"From the first the Frank case has seemed to have been designed to exhibit the rottenness of Georgia's travesty upon free government under constitutional restrictions. Her apologists may demur as much as they will; the country knows that the menace of the mob, not the conscience of the jury, convicted the prisoner. The nation, almost with one voice, outside the borders of Georgia, acclaimed the manly course of former Governor Slaton. Its conviction that a despicable race hatred, founded in an abysmal ignorance and a gross superstition worthy of the 'voodoo' worshipping, 'blue-gum' negroes of the Southern turpentine camps, was chiefly responsible for the frenzied attitude of the lower class whites of Georgia against Frank, is abundantly confirmed by this lynching in defiance of the sacred rights of the individual under American law—a lynching which began when the man was howled to conviction before the Atlanta courthouse.

"Georgia has become the Russia of the United States. The guilt or innocence of the victim does not matter. He was, whether he killed Mary Phagan or not, the selected victim of a program relentless as any that has disgraced Kieff."

Lincoln Road Selected

The route of the Baltimore-Washington loop of the Lincoln Memorial Highway, which will connect New York and San Francisco in a coast-to-coast good roads system, was selected last Thursday by the Lincoln Memorial Highway Committees of Baltimore, Washington and Maryland at a joint meeting in the rooms of the Washington Chamber of Commerce.

The route is composed of completed sections of Maryland's State road system and is the shortest that could have been picked. The entire route in Maryland from the Delaware State line through Baltimore and Washington to the Pennsylvania State line is ready for travel and all that is necessary to complete it is to post the "markers," telling the traveler that he is on the Lincoln Highway.

After leaving Wilmington and crossing the State line into Maryland, the route runs to Elkton, to Havre de Grace, to Belair into Baltimore. Upon leaving Baltimore, the boulevard is followed to Washington. Out of Washington the old Union turnpike is taken to Norbeck, thence to Rockville, Gaithersburg, Ridgeville, Frederick, Emmitsburg, Thurmont on the Pennsylvania State line. From Thurmont to the Gettysburg Battle Field Park, where the main line is tapped, there is a gap of about five miles of incomplete road, which the Pennsylvania State authorities have promised to put into shape for the Lincoln Highway travel.

Modern Camp-Meeting

Making the moving picture a handmaid to religion is a departure taken by one of the oldest and most largely attended camp-meetings on the Maryland and Delaware peninsula. The preaching and praise services that for a hundred years have been the spiritual program at Methodist camps alternate this week at the Laurel-Bethel ground with Bible stories shown on the screen. In the days of oxcarts and candles religious interest was intense in the territory between the bays where Abury kept alive organized primitive Methodism in its darkest hours in America; and in these times of automobiles, of camp grounds lighted by electricity and of moving pictures the peninsula camp holds its own in the hearts of the people and in its religious worth and work.—The Baltimore News.

Political Announcements

To the Republican Voters of Somerset County:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the Republican nomination for State's Attorney of Somerset County subject to the Republican Primary Election, and solicit the support of the Republican voters.

L. CRESTON BEAUCHAMP.

To The Voters of Somerset County:

A communication, in the nature of a petition, has been addressed to me, signed by a large number of voters, including many of opposing political affiliation, requesting me to become a candidate for County Commissioner in the Democratic Primaries and expressly giving confidence in my ability and integrity to faithfully discharge the duties, if committed to me, with the sole purpose of advancing the material welfare and interests of our county. This evidence of the esteem and faith of those who signed this petition, including my neighbors and others who well know me, I regard most highly and, feeling as I do that every thoughtful citizen must view with hesitancy the assumption of the important duties connected with the office of County Commissioner, and in further view of the urgent and unsolicited request and tender of support presented to me by the signers of the petition, I have concluded, after due consideration and in response to their appeal, to announce my candidacy for the office named, and I will, at the proper time, submit the same in the Democratic Primaries. To those who have so generously endorsed me, and to all other voters of Somerset county, I give this assurance, that if nominated and elected, I shall, during the term of office, devote my best endeavors and efforts towards the uplifting of the county, and to promoting and maintaining the highest standards of efficiency and economy in the conduct of our county affairs, always considering the interests of the taxpayers and citizens, without partiality or prejudice towards any one, and especially endeavoring to cause every dollar of the taxpayers' money to be expended only for full value in return, and to be accounted for.

In conclusion, I think that I should frankly state that prior to my coming to Maryland I was an independent voter, but since my adoption of a permanent residence in Somerset County, and during the several years' residence here as a large taxpayer, engaged in farming and interested in promoting the general welfare of those with whom I have cast my future life and livelihood, I have affiliated with the Democratic Party without participating in factionalism, and indeed, without any active part in politics whatever, exercising the right which I accord to every other voter, to cast his ballot for those who, in their own opinion, will best serve the public and the people's cause.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Lankford and children left last Thursday for a week's sojourn at Ocean City, Md.

Mr. E. R. McDorman, of Baltimore, is visiting his brother-in-law, Mr. S. Frank Dashiell, on Main street.

Dr. C. W. Purnell, optometrist, will be at Omar A. Jones' drug store Monday afternoon, August 30th.

Judge Joseph B. Handy and his son, Frank, of New York, spent several days in Princess Anne last week at the home of his sister, Mrs. T. J. Smith, on Main street.

Misses Irene and Sarah Taylor entertained a number of their friends at cards last Friday morning in honor of their guest, Miss Margery Peddicord, of Baltimore.

The ladies of Salem Methodist Protestant Church will hold a supper and festival on their church lawn, near A tanokin, on the evening of Wednesday, August 25th.

Mr. A. D. Miles, of Belhaven, N. C., was a visitor to the Marylander and Herald office the early part of last week. Mr. Miles is a son of the late D. W. Miles, of Fairmount, Md.

Mrs. T. J. Smith and her two children left for Ocean City last Friday morning. They were accompanied by Mrs. Smith's brother, Judge Joseph B. Handy and his son, Frank.

Mrs. R. J. Harkins and son, Ralph, Jr., of Plainfield, N. J., have returned home after spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Rufus Powell, of near Princess Anne.

Mr. and Mrs. Grafton D. Ridout, of Annapolis, are visiting the home of the latter's brother, Mr. W. H. Dashiell, on Prince William street. Mr. Ridout is a candidate for the clerkship for Anne Arundel county on the Lee ticket.

Judge Handy was entertained last Tuesday afternoon by the Board of Police Commissioners of Wilmington, Del. When the commissioners were on their recent visit to New York Judge Handy entertained them, and the entertainment Tuesday was in return for his hospitality.

Mr. Lee Hickman and his son, Louis, of Philadelphia, spent last week with his cousin, Mr. M. F. Hickman, near Princess Anne. Mr. Hickman had not been in Princess Anne before for 14 years. He is a son of the late George Hickman, of Revell's Neck. The numerous changes in town greatly surprised him.

Granville Hayman, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hayman, of Princess Anne, was taken to the Peninsula General Hospital at Salisbury, last Friday morning where he was operated on for appendicitis. The boy was accompanied to the hospital by his father and other Dr. C. W. Wainwright. The operation was a success and there is every reason to believe that in a short time he will be up and about again.

Miss Bessie Spiva, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Spiva, and Mr. James B. Hendrie, of Princess Anne, were married at 12.30 o'clock Monday of last week in Pocomoke City. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hendrie left for New York, Newport, R. I., and Boston, Mass. Before returning to Princess Anne, where they will reside, on September 15th, they will visit Philadelphia, Washington, Richmond, Va., and other points in the South.

Emerson C. Harrington, candidate for Governor; Hon. Hugh A. McMullen, candidate for Comptroller, and Hon. Albert C. Ritchie, candidate for Attorney-General.

Mrs. J. Howard Gray improving

Mrs. J. Howard Gray, wife of the pastor of Silverbrook Methodist Episcopal Church, Wilmington, Del., who has been ill for several weeks, is showing slight improvement. Mrs. Gray had been in poor health for some time preceding a trip to Ocean Grove, where it was thought a change would be beneficial, but she was taken ill there and the services of a physician were required. A physician has been attending her twice daily for several days.—Wilmington Every Evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Gray are well-known in Princess Anne, having resided here for several years, when Mr. Gray was pastor of Antioch Methodist Episcopal Church.

Oysters Shucked by Patent Machine

Oyster packers from Seaford are much interested in a machine that opens oysters, and if upon trial it should prove to do what is claimed for it, a number will be installed in Seaford oyster houses.

Those who have seen the machine operated are very enthusiastic. It is claimed it will open from 25 to 30 oysters a minute, about three times the quantity now opened by hand in the same length of time. The process is said to be absolutely sanitary, as no hand touches the oyster, it being opened and deposited in a receptacle by the machine. Not a particle of shell or dirt is dropped with the meat of the oyster.

The machine occupies a space of 18x30 inches and can be operated by a child.

A Great Loss By Hog Cholera

Mr. John Page gives the following advice and suggestions about hog cholera, which is now becoming prevalent in this county:

The combined population of Deals Island, Rock Creek, St. Peter's and Mt. Vernon districts is something over four thousand on a guess. Assuming that there is one hog owned in this section for every two people, which is certainly putting it low enough, there are two thousand hogs in this area. The value of these animals are at least $10.00 each, and hog cholera has either killed or rendered practically the whole number. That is, we face a loss at the present time of at least $20,000 in a product which is the mainstay and reliance of a great many of our people, and worse yet, this disease is now spreading over an ever widening area, and will continue to do so until well along in November unless energetic steps are taken to stop it. Fortunately the door is open for relief from this dreadful scourge to all who will take the trouble to avail themselves of the remedy.

Mr. H. S. Lippincott, our county agent, is thoroughly familiar with the serum treatment, which is an absolutely certain means of preventing this disease, and every farmer who owns even a single hog within five miles of a case of cholera should apply to him for information, and act on it immediately.

The writer has given this advice and has almost begged a number of his neighbors to take action while there was yet time. While many did take the proper steps, many others said they would chance it, or would wait a while, and in nearly every case those who decided to wait have the disease in their herds, which is nearly certain to wipe them out, while on the other hand, all who have inoculated in time have escaped.

For generations thousands of people have been trying to find a cure, or a way to prevent this disease, and so far nothing has been found that will cure it. Many so called remedies are advertised to do so, but just the same nearly all hogs that take cholera have a way of dying, and the few that live very rarely ever are fit for anything. Not even the serum treatment will cure a hog that has once taken this disease. The only safeguard is to inoculate before the disease appears in the herd.

All hog owners who read this have a chance to protect their animals provided they do not already have it. This disease will spread for about two months and a half longer.

Do you want to save your hogs? If so, get hold of Mr. H. S. Lippincott.

Cheap Paint

There are 1000 "cheap" paints and a dozen really cheap ones. That double word "cheap" is the cause of wasting more money than good paint costs, two or three times over. Cheap paint is good paint; there is no other; no other is cheap. The two words sound alike but their meanings are opposite. "Cheap" costs double. Cheap is Devoe. DEVOE [Adver.] C. H. Hayman sells it.

Improving The State Forests

W. F. Besley, state forester, announced last week the intention of the State Board of Forestry to expand its co-operation with local timber owners in the improvement of forests and smaller woodlots in which negligent treatment has brought about deterioration.

Without competent outside assistance few landowners can carry through these improvements, and the State Forester has found in many cases where State aid has been rendered, entire success in making profitable forests has been achieved. Skill is necessary in laying out this work, for to those inexperienced in forestry the difference is not readily apparent between valuable trees which are still growing and those which already are mature. In advising a cutting for improvement or revenue this is considered by the forester, and such trees are marked for removal as will best guarantee a valuable and even-aged future forest. As this is done a complete estimate of the wood for sale is made. Some small owners of forest land prefer to work out their improvement work themselves, after it once has been laid out. For larger work this is not practicable, and it is here that the state forester's co-operation proves of value.

The forester's office has a thorough acquaintance with the local lumber trade, so that they are in a position to take up market studies and otherwise assist the timber owner in profitably disposing of the trees marked for removal on his place. This work is done at a very nominal cost, and instances are cited where it has netted several thousand dollars in cash to owners who have had their forest lands improved.

During the coming season the state forester at the Johns Hopkins University will be in a position to undertake more of this work, and it is hoped that it will be of great value to timber owners.

FALL SEEDING WILL IMPROVE HAY CROP.

Is Recommended To Farmers Desiring a Good Stand of Grass Next Year.

NICHOLAS SCHMITZ, Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

Owing to the dry spring and owing to the severe heaving and thawing late last winter and the dry season early in the spring, many farmers find that they have a very poor stand of both timothy and clover in their wheat stubble. The question in many cases is how to provide for a profitable hay crop next season. Under such conditions the best way to provide for a hay crop next spring is to plow the wheat stubble down and prepare a very firm, finely pulverized seedbed. This, of course, will involve extra labor but the increased yield and quality of hay next year will more than pay for the extra labor. A full crop will be ready for cutting next June or early July, which will be the same time as if the stand seeded in the wheat had been successful.

FALL SEEDING PAYS.

The best time of seeding in Western Maryland, except the mountainous sections, will be from August 1st to September 1st, the best time being between August 15th and September 1st. On the Eastern Shore and in Southern Maryland the seeding may be done between August 15th and October 1st, or perhaps even a little later in the extreme southern water-front portions. The most favorable time is from August 15th to September 25th.

Owing to the danger of winter-killing, clover should not be seeded in the mountainous section later than September 1st; in Western Maryland, not later than September 15th; and on the Eastern Shore and in Southern Maryland, not later than October 1st.

Timothy alone is seeded, 15 pounds or more per acre should be used. When sowing with redtop, 12 pounds of timothy and 3 or 4 pounds of redtop. When seeding with red clover, 10 pounds of timothy and 6 to 8 pounds of red clover is sufficient. If red clover has not been succeeding well, 4 to 6 pounds of alsike clover to the acre should be substituted for the red clover.

SEASONABLE HINTS FOR THE FLOWER GARDEN.

B. W. ANSPON, Maryland Agricultural College.

At this season of the year one finds many insects infesting the flower garden. The rose is frequently attacked by the rose slug, a small green worm which chews holes in the leaves. To control this pest spray the plants thoroughly with arsenate of lead at the rate of one ounce to two gallons of water.

Plant lice of various kinds are frequently found on a number of plants. These are sucking insects that infest the young shoots of many flowers. On nasturtiums and chrysanthemums they may be found on the young shoots. On these plants the black forms are found. On sweet peas and roses we find the green form. A red form is generally found on the golden glow. To control these insects spray the plants infested with a nicotine solution, of which there are many brands on the market. A very simple remedy that has given good results is a soap solution. This can be made by dissolving a quarter pound of laundry soap in a gallon of water. This solution can be used in connection with the nicotine extract, acting as a sticker for the latter.

Go over the flower borders and remove all faded flowers since these left to go to seed and will impair the flowering of the plants. Where one wishes to save the seed of certain plants select only the best flowers and allow them to go to seed. In cutting the blown flowers on roses cut the shoot back to within two to three buds or eyes from the main stalk.

Plants that have made a strong growth and need support should be staked. Sow seed of pansy now.

Many of the quick germinating hardy perennials may be sown now. Among these class are larkspur, columbine, hollyhock, sweet williams, foxglove, etc. These will make a good growth by fall so that they can be transplanted into the cold frame. The following year they will be ready to bloom.

Select a sheltered spot in the flower garden and thoroughly prepare it for the seed bed. Sow the seed in drills and when large enough transplant to the cold frame.

Write to the seedsmen now for their fall bulb catalogues. Select your bulbs and place order early for bulbs for fall planting.

The sensible thing for each farmer to do is to practice a rotation of crops, including leguminous crops, raise snails, horses, hogs, poultry and other live stock, and grow plenty of fruits and vegetables. Under these advanced methods the soil will rapidly increase in fertility, the money obtained for each crop will be kept at home, it will not be necessary to borrow money, or buy on credit, and we can then hold our wheat, potatoes, tobacco, corn and other crops until we are ready to sell.—H. H. Alford, Farmers' Educational Union, Wash.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer the tortures of lame muscles and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system. To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength. Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief. Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.

Deadly Plants.

Blue rockets show fear, and the deadly nightshade is full of hatred. Both of these are plants, but that does not prevent them from declaring merciless war on all animal life. The blue rocket perfume carries one of the deadliest of poisons. One-sixteenth of a grain shot from its poison pistol has proved fatal to a man.

"Give this plant the semimascular system possessed by the carnivorous plants and it would be more dangerous than the cholera," said Professor Henry G. Walters, head of the plant research bureau at Langhorne.

The professor, who maintains that plants have memories and are capable of love, believes also that there are plants which exercise all the emotions of emity.—New York Sun.

The Old Saltcellar.

During the latter part of the middle ages the saltcellar was the most conspicuous object on the table. It was always placed in the center of the long table at which the household gathered. My lord and lady, family and guests being at one end and the servants and retainers at the other, and in this way one's social position was at once apparent, the "gentle folk" sitting "above the salt" and the yeomanry below it. Among the wealthy the saltcellar was of gold or silver. Benvenuto Cellini chased some for Francis I, that were of the most exquisite workmanship, and at the Louvre may be seen several rich specimens of saltcellars in falience and the famous set made at Orion for Henry I.

Strenuous Bird Wooing.

The manner in which the peacock preens itself and displays its feathers when searching for a bride has often been commented upon. The strangest bird courtship, however, is that of the lesser birds of paradise, who hold dancing parties at which the male birds work themselves up to a state bordering on frenzy and attract the females by uttering loud, penetrating cries, hopping backward and forward wildly among the trees and displaying their feathers to the best advantage.

The crane is another bird which dances for his love and makes her many graceful bows, while manikins—birds largely found in South America—dance in pairs and sing at the same time. The male birds stand upon a twig about one and one-half feet from each other and literally jump in the air about two feet and land in the same spot on the twig with the regularity of clockwork, repeating a short melody as they do this, which presumably fascinates and captures the heart of the other sex.—London Tit-Bits.

Sugar and Salt.

Granulated sugar tastes sweet. Powder it in a mortar and it will taste less sweet. Owing to this fact it is hard to convince some people that powdered sugar is not adulterated, although this practice, easily detected, is practically unknown at present, writes George W. Rolfe in the Science Spectator. A quarter of a grain of quinine mixed into a pound of granulated sugar is said to make it taste sweeter. Common salt in small quantities will improve the sweetness of cake and other sweet foods, as all cooks know.

Raw sugars, even when they contain negligible quantities of the sweeter mother syrups, taste distinctly sweeter than granulated sugar, although their actual sugar content is less. This is due to the salts and extractive matter in the raw product, and it is why many cooks sigh for the old fashioned open kettle sugar and even prefer the refiners' imitation goods to granulated in making their apple pies.

A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince The Most Skeptical Princess Anne Reader

The test of time is the test that counts.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action. The following case is typical.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored. Irving O. Dryden, R. F. D. mail carrier, Westover, says: "My kidneys acted irregularly and my back was weak and painful. I could not stoop for any length of time and was unable to remain in one position long without having dull pains across my back. As soon as I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills I found relief and I continued until I was cured." (Statement given May 30, 1909) over two years later Mr. Dryden said "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills and enjoy freedom from attacks of kidney complaint such as I formerly had."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dryden had. Foster-Milburn Co., Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement)

Bolgiano's Red or Purple Top White Globe Turnip

Red or Purple Top White Globe Turnip.
The Handsomest and Most Profitable Turnip for Home or Market. It is a large, rapid growing sort, with globular-shaped roots. Flesh pure white. The skin is white and purple. On account of its shape it will outyield any other sort.
Bolgiano's New Improved Very Early Long-standing Rape
Beautifully curled and crimped sort; strong, vigorous habit, perfectly hearty, bright green color; very attractive in appearance; superior to all late sorts. Will stand longer without shooting to seed than any other variety.
Bolgiano's California Mammoth Red & Gold and juicy as an apple; pure white flesh and delicious flavor—a very choice variety. We never sent out a Winter Radish that gained so much popularity in so short a time. Sown any time after July 1st to the 1st of September, it will keep all Winter in prime condition; mild in flavor, brittle. Never gets woody as do most Winter varieties. Market gardeners have found it to be a splendid saler and have always made money with it.
Other Delicious Vegetables
Bolgiano's "Key Queen" Beans, Enormous Bush Lima, Emerald Isle Peas Lima, Deep Blood Red, New Beet, new "Square-Deal" Cabbage, "Sunbeam" Carrot, "New Century" Cauliflower, "Early Fortune" Cucumber, "Long-Loaf" Lettuce, "Wonder Worker" Cress, "Piquety Baltimore" Potatoes, New Improved Long-standing Spinach, American Purple-Top Rutabaga.
Bolgiano's Field Seeds for Summer Planting
Crimson Clover, Cow Peas, Dwarf Essex Rape, Red Clover, Hay Yarrow, Alfalfa, Sweet Clover, Sudan Grass, German Millet, all varieties domestic and imported Grasses.
Bolgiano's Summer and Fall Catalogues for Market Gardeners, Truckers, Farmers and Poultrymen. Now being mailed. Send for your copy today. If your local merchant cannot supply you with Bolgiano's "Big Crop" Seeds, send us a postal and we will tell you where you can secure them.

and justly be imposed, or laid, and political view for the good government and benefit of the community.

Section 2. And be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the foregoing Article hereby proposed in place and stead of Article XV of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall be, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection. Pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of this State, and that at said general election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each official ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor, and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution.

Approved, April 10th, 1914.

CHAPTER 41.

An Act to propose an amendment to the Constitution of this State by adding a new Article thereto to follow immediately after Article XI and to be known as Article XI-A, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all Members of each of the two Houses concurring), that the following Article to follow immediately after Article XI and to be known as Article XI-A, be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, which Article, if adopted by the qualified voters of this State, as herein provided, shall thereby by such adoption be and become a part of the Constitution of this State.

ARTICLE XI-A. LOCAL LEGISLATION.

Section 1. On demand of the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore, or on petition bearing the signatures of not less than 20 per cent of the registered voters of said city or any county (provided, however, that in any case 10,000 signatures shall be sufficient to complete a petition), the Board of Election Supervisors of said city or county shall provide at the next general or Congressional election occurring after such demand or the filing of such petition, for the election of a charter board of eleven registered voters of said city or five registered voters in any such county. Nominations for members for said charter board may be made not less than forty days prior to said election by the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the County Commissioners of such county, or by not less than twenty days prior to said election by petition bearing the signatures, writ in their own handwriting (and not by their mark) of not less than 5 per cent of the registered voters of the said City of Baltimore or said county; provided, that in any case two thousand signatures of registered voters shall be sufficient to complete any such nominating petition, and if not more than eleven registered voters of the City of Baltimore or not more than five registered voters in any such county are so nominated their names shall not be printed on the ballot, but said eleven registered voters in the City of Baltimore or five in such county shall constitute said charter board from and after the date of said election. At said election the ballot shall contain the names of said nominees in alphabetical order without any indication of the source of their nomination, and shall also be so arranged as to permit the voter to vote for or against the creation of said charter board, but the vote cast against said creation shall not be held to bar the voter from expressing his choice among the nominees for said board, and if the majority of the votes cast for and against the creation of said charter board shall be against said creation the election of the members of said charter board shall be void; but if such majority shall be in favor of the creation of said charter board, then and in that event the eleven members of the City of Baltimore or five members in the county receiving the largest number of votes shall constitute the charter board, and said charter board, or a majority thereof, shall prepare within six months from the date of said election a charter or form of government for said city or county and present the same to the Mayor of Baltimore or President of the County Council of said county, subject to the Constitution and Public General Laws of this State, shall have full power to enact local laws of said city or county, including the power to repeal or amend Local Laws of said city or county enacted by the General Assembly, upon all matters covered by the express powers granted as above provided; provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize or empower the County Council of any county in this State to enact laws or regulations for any incorporated town, village, or municipality in said county, on any matter covered by the powers granted to said town, village, or municipality by the Act incorporating it, or any subsequent Act or Acts amendatory thereto. Provided, however, that the charters for the various counties shall provide that the County Council of the counties shall not sit more than one month in each year for the purpose of enacting legislation for such counties during the month so designated for that purpose in the charter, and all laws and ordinances so enacted shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in at least one newspaper published in such counties, so that the taxpayers and citizens may have notice thereof. This provision shall not apply to Baltimore City. All such local laws enacted by the Mayor of Baltimore and City Council of the City of Baltimore or the County Council of the county, as herein provided, shall be subject to the same rules of interpretation as those now applicable to the Public Local Laws of this State, except that in case of any conflict between said Local Law and any Public General Law now or hereafter enacted, the Public General Law shall control.

Section 4. From and after the adoption of a charter under the provisions of this Article by the City of Baltimore or any county of this State, no Public Local Law shall be enacted by the General Assembly for said city or county on any subject covered by the express powers granted as above provided. Any law so drawn as to apply to two or more of the geographical sub-divisions of this State shall not be deemed a Local Law, within the meaning of this Act. The term "geographical sub-division" herein used shall be taken to mean the City of Baltimore or any of the counties of this State.

Section 5. Any Local Law adopted by the City of Baltimore or by any county of this State under the provisions of this Article may be proposed by a resolution of the Mayor of Baltimore or the City Council of said city or County of Baltimore, or the Council of said county, or by a petition signed by not less than 20 per cent of the registered voters of said city or county, provided, that in any case 10,000 signatures shall be sufficient to complete a petition, and filed with the Mayor of Baltimore or the President of the County Council, and when so proposed shall be submitted to the voters of said city or county at the next General or Congressional election occurring after the passage of said resolution, or the filing of said petition, and if at said election the majority of the votes cast for and against said amendment shall be in favor thereof, said amendment shall be adopted and become a part of the charter of said city or county from and after the thirtieth day after said election. Said amendment shall be published by said Mayor of Baltimore or President of the County Council once a week for five successive weeks prior to said election in at least one newspaper published in said city or county.

Section 7. The word "Petition," as used in this Article, means one or more sheets written or printed, or partly written and partly printed; "Signature" means the signature of a registered voter written by himself in his own handwriting (and not by his mark), together with the ward or district and precinct in which he is registered. The authenticity of such signatures and the fact that the persons so signing are registered voters shall be evidenced by the affidavit of the Section 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the said foregoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution shall be held on Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November, 1915, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of Maryland for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be written or printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election the returns shall be made to the Governor, or if the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Approved April 10th, 1914.

CHAPTER 57.

An Act to amend the Constitution of Maryland by adding thereto a new Article to be entitled "Article XVI" providing for "The Referendum," and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the Members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), that the following new and additional Article, to be known as Article XVI, title, "The Referendum," and to be known as Article XVI, be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of Maryland, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, it shall stand as part and as a new and additional Article of said Constitution, to be known and entitled as aforesaid.

ARTICLE XVI. THE REFERENDUM.

Section 1 (a). The people reserve to themselves the power known as The Referendum, by petition to have submitted to the registered voters of the State, to approve or reject at the polls, any Act, or part of any Act of the General Assembly, or any resolution of the Council of the City of Baltimore or by any county of this State under the provisions of this Article may be proposed by a resolution of the Mayor of Baltimore or the City Council of said city or County of Baltimore, or the Council of said county, or by a petition signed by not less than 20 per cent of the registered voters of said city or county, provided, that in any case 10,000 signatures shall be sufficient to complete a petition, and filed with the Mayor of Baltimore or the President of the County Council, and when so proposed shall be submitted to the voters of said city or county at the next General or Congressional election occurring after the passage of said resolution, or the filing of said petition, and if at said election the majority of the votes cast for and against said amendment shall be in favor thereof, said amendment shall be adopted and become a part of the charter of said city or county from and after the thirtieth day after said election. Said amendment shall be published by said Mayor of Baltimore or President of the County Council once a week for five successive weeks prior to said election in at least one newspaper published in said city or county.

Section 2. No law enacted by the General Assembly shall take effect until the first day of June next after the session at which it may be passed, unless it contain a Section declaring such law an emergency law and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health or safety, and passed upon a yeas and no vote supported by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses of the General Assembly; provided, however, that said period of suspension may be extended as provided in Section 3 (b) hereof if before said first day of June there shall have been filed with the Secretary of the State a petition to refer to a vote of the people any law or part of a law capable of referendum, and such increase of any part thereof specified in the petition, may be referred to a vote of the people upon petition.

Section 3 (a). The referendum petition against any Act or part of an Act passed by the General Assembly, shall be sufficient if signed by ten thousand qualified voters of the State of Maryland, of whom the legislative case the legislative all be sufficient. Upon each of the ballots, following the ballot title or text, as the case may be, of each such measure, there shall be printed the words "For the referred law" and "Against the referred law," as the case may be. The votes cast for and against any such referred law shall be returned to the Governor in the manner prescribed with respect to proposed amendments to the Constitution under Article XIV of this Constitution, and the Governor shall proclaim the result of the election, and, if it shall appear that the majority of the votes cast on any such measure were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall by his proclamation declare the same having received a majority of the votes to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as a part of the laws of the State, to take effect thirty days after such election, and in like manner and with like effect the Governor shall proclaim the result of the local election as to any Public Local Law which shall have been submitted to the voters of any county or the City of Baltimore.

Section 4. No law or Constitutional Amendment, licensing, regulating, prohibiting or submitting to local option, the manufacture or sale of malt or spirituous liquors, shall be referred or repealed under any Act of the provisions of this Article.

Section 5. And be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, that the foregoing Article hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, at the next General Election for Members of the General Assembly to be held in this State, shall be submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof, for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of this State, and that at such general election the vote upon said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as prescribed by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said amendment as directed by the said Article XIV of the Constitution.

Approved April 10th, 1914.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, PHILLIPS LEE GOLDSBOROUGH, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, DO HEREBY ORDER AND DIRECT, that a copy of each of said above recited laws, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said amendment as directed by the said Article XIV of the Constitution.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE, DONE at the City of Annapolis, on this 10th day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

Enough used so that a gallon of the blue and likewise, one gallon of the mixture will contain one or two pound of the lime. It is then an easy matter to prepare a tank of Bordeaux Mixture of any strength desired.

If a poison is needed for insect control, any one of the following may be added in solution to either the lime water or the Bordeaux Mixture:

Arsenate of zinc paste..... 2 lb.
(or powder, 1 lb.)
Arsenate of lead paste..... 3 lb.
(or powder, 1 1/2 lbs.)
or
Paris Green..... 1/2 lb.

The quantity here given in each case is for 50 gallons of the spray solution.

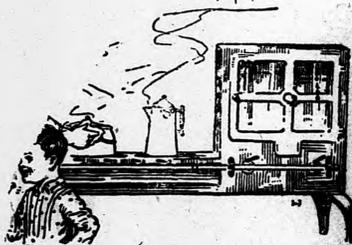

The cost of spraying depends upon the quantity of chemicals purchased at a time and the conveniences for mixing and applying the spray material. Bordeaux alone should not cost more than 50 cents per barrel. With the present indications that potatoes will bring a fair price next spring, it would seem advisable to spray wherever the blight is known to exist.

HESSIAN FLY SHOULD BE EXTERMINATED.

Farmers must remember that the spring brood of the Hessian Fly spends its pupa, or "flax seed" stage, in wheat stubble during the summer. It is, therefore, very desirable, where possible, to plow under deeply all stubble fields before August 15th, also to destroy all volunteer wheat. This will prevent the emergence of the adult flies in September. It is not good farm practice to follow wheat a second year in the same field, although it is often done. Then it is common in this State that wheat stubble is seeded to timothy and clover, and, therefore, any kind of cultivation of these stubble fields is impractical. Under these conditions the farmer can only delay seeding his stubble in the fall until the flies have made their way from the stubble to the fields and died without being able to find young wheat on which to lay their eggs.—T. Lighting and Cooking With Gas greatest of modern conveniences are today available home, no matter where it is located. A modern farm home can have its own miniature gas light—the PILOT Lighting Plant—which supplies genuine flame-made Acetylene—a better light than the city home enjoys.

For Farm Homes

- The mission of the PILOT is to bring a clear, clean, safe light to take place of the drudgery, dirt and inconvenience of kerosene lamps. And quick, cool cooking service instead of the dirt, heat and labor of the old coal or wood stove—
- Soft, brilliant light always on tap in every room—
- Ornamental gas fixtures in brass or copper—
- A cool kitchen in the hot summer months—
- Protected barn lights permanently fastened to iron pipes—
- Automatic ignitors eliminating the use of matches—
- All these and more—costing no more than you are now paying for kerosene.

The World's Standard

These PILOT Lighting Plants are so compact and perfectly constructed that they can be placed right in a corner of the cellar or in an out-building—as you prefer.

Its record for safety, efficiency and satisfactory service surpasses that of any other lighting device in the world. So much so that the highest authorities in the insurance world allow its installation in insured property without increase in insurance rates—

The United States Government uses the PILOT for lighting many of its Indian Schools and other public buildings—
More than 250,000 country homes—like yours—now light and cook our way with Acetylene.

Ask the "Mother" in Your House

Ask her how much this beautiful, clean, always-ready light and a real gas range will mean to her.

Ask yourself if she hasn't earned this comfort and convenience—thousand times over.

Then write or phone me and let me come out and show you how little this entire improvement will cost. Do it today while you have it in mind.

New Flour Mill In Operation

The Princess Anne Milling Company have completed their new flour, meal and feed plant, which is now in operation. Their new building is situated on the same site of their old planing and feed mill which was burned about sixteen months ago.

This new mill, which was built by the Wolf Company, of Chambersburg, Pa., we understand, is of the latest improved type of roller mill, and is said to be the most up-to-date mill on the peninsula. It is of seventy-five barrels capacity, together with corn meal attachment and mill for all kinds of feed.

They are now placing on the market their "Pamco" brand of flour.

Former Mayor Hayes Dead

Former Mayor Thomas Gordon Hayes of Baltimore, was stricken with heart failure on the streets of Oakland, Garrett county, Md., Friday afternoon and died soon afterward at Dr. Hinebaugh's Home Sanatorium there.

Mr. Hayes was born in Anne Arundel county, Md., January 6th, 1844, and was Mayor of Baltimore city 1899-1903.

Mr. Wm. J. Phillips has purchased from Mr. E. S. Pusey the old "Crockett building," on north Main street, and is now having it remodeled. When finished there will be large store-rooms on the first floor and the second floor will have six rooms, with bath and toilet. The hallway and entrance will be on Main street. The building will be lighted with electric lights.

Mr. W. T. Beloit, of Onancock, Va., as purchased of Mr. Wm. J. Scott, of Pocomoke City, the farm known as the Lawrence Farm, between Kingston and Rebooth. The farm contains some two hundred acres of which one hundred and twenty-five acres are under cultivation.

TO STOP SPREAD OF HOG CHOLERA

County Agent Lippincott Co-Operating With Farmers

To prevent the spread of hog cholera in Somerset county County Agent H. S. Lippincott has been working day and night. He has co-operated with the farmers, and during the past week 524 hogs were inoculated with serum. Just think what a great saving this is to Somerset county, and the farmers are to be congratulated for their co-operation with the county agent.

It has been reported to Mr. Lippincott that some parties were not burying their dead hogs. Now some of the farmers may not know their hogs are dying of cholera, but to be on the safe side Mr. Lippincott has had the county quarantined, and quotes here the law of Maryland as to dead animals and wishes to announce that the same will be enforced by Dr. L. Hickman, State veterinarian.

The law is, "That all hogs and other domestic animals dying of any contagious or infectious disease shall be buried at the depth of at least 3 feet, or be burned, at the discretion of the owner, and any person or persons permitting any dead hogs or any other domestic animals having died of any contagious or infectious disease to remain unburied upon his or their premises for the space of three hours prior to sunset of said day after he has discovered the same, shall be guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof before any justice of the peace, shall be fined not less than $10.00 for each offense, or imprisoned in the county jail for not less than ten days, or be both fined and imprisoned at the discretion of the justice."

The above law is in force and its observance is vital to the suppression of hog cholera in Maryland. All persons are warned to observe these laws for the protection of the health of farm animals, and to prevent the spread of disease.

Two Children Drowned in Pocomoke

Susan and Richard Leake, 9 and 12 years old, were drowned in the Pocomoke river, at Moore's Landing, near Snow Hill, late Tuesday afternoon. The Leake children had gone to Moore's Landing farm to visit the children of Charles Lewis. After playing around the yard for a while the children ran to the river bank and were amusing themselves when Richard stumbled and fell. His sister ran to his assistance. The other children stood by, too frightened to give any aid.

A few feet from where the children fell is one of the deep channels of the Pocomoke. In their struggles they dropped into the swift current and disappeared before the Lewis children, who by this time realized the danger, could summon assistance from their home. A flotilla of motor boats went from Snow Hill to assist in the recovery of the bodies. Work continued all night, but the effort was not rewarded until Wednesday afternoon, when the body of Richard was found. The body of the girl was found Wednesday evening nearly a mile from the scene of the accident. The children were buried in one grave, side by side, in Whatcoat M. E. Cemetery, Snow Hill, Thursday afternoon.

Red Men's Field Day

Thursday, September 2nd, will be Red Men's Day at Ocean City. An excursion will be run on that day from points on both the Eastern and Western Shores of Maryland and it is expected a large number of Red Men and their families will be in attendance.

This will be a big event as all the Great Chiefs will be there and degrees will be conferred by three of the best degree teams on the Eastern Shore.

If you are married take your family, if you are single take your best girl and enjoy the day at Ocean City.

Crisfield Wins Game

Mt. Vernon, the noted crackerjack ball players, went down to defeat on Wednesday when they crossed bats with Crisfield, the score being 11 to 4. Although the Mt. Vernon boys are some players they couldn't keep up with the twirling that Dykes put over on them. Ty Cobb had nothing on "A.B." in Wednesday's game.

The Crisfield boys report a delightful trip, having been treated to supper and entertained in the good old Eastern Shore style.—The Crisfield News.

Miss Helen Barnes and Miss Meta Sterling, of King's Creek, have entertained as guests for the past two weeks, Misses Mildred Wilson and Alice Read, of Forest Park, Baltimore; Thelma Nock, of Onley, Va.; Katie Bradshaw, of Deals Island; Ella Ames, of Cape Charles, Va., and Clara Armstrong, of Pocomoke City.

B. LOUIS LANKFORD PROMOTED

Chief Pay Clerk In The United States Navy With The Rank of Ensign

The last session of Congress enacted a law making the appointment of pay clerks in the United States Navy permanent, and creating the grade of Chief Pay Clerk.

After having passed the required physical, mental, moral and professional qualifications before a board of examiners, appointed by the Secretary of the Navy, Mr. B. Louis Lankford, formerly of Somerset county, but now residing in Philadelphia, has been appointed and commissioned a chief pay clerk in the United States Navy, with the rank of an ensign in the navy.

Mr. Lankford has been connected with the naval service for many years, having first been appointed to a clerkship at the Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., in 1889. In 1894 he became desirous of joining the navy proper and enlisted as a chief yeoman in the navy and was assigned with Paymaster H. A. Dent for duty on board the gunboat Castine. On this vessel he made a most interesting cruise through the Mediterranean, Suez Canal, the Red Sea, around Africa, then about the South American coast. In 1898 Mr. Lankford was appointed a paymaster's clerk for duty on board the U. S. S. Marblehead, with Paymaster Dent. Then, and until the enactment of the law above referred to, the appointment of a paymaster's clerk was for only a temporary period. In 1900 Mr. Lankford was appointed a paymaster's clerk on board the U. S. Battleship Kearsarge, and afterward transferred to the Massachusetts. In 1903 he was appointed for duty on board the U. S. S. New York, flagship of the Pacific Station. In 1905 he was appointed for duty on board the U. S. S. West Virginia, where he remained but a short while, having resigned to accept an appointment again with Paymaster Dent as pay clerk at the Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa. In 1907 he was appointed as paymaster's clerk on board the U. S. S. Albatross, and in 1908 he was appointed to the battleship fleet that cruised around the world.

In 1908 Mr. Lankford's father having died he resigned his position, left the Connecticut at San Diego, California, and came to Princess Anne to assist in the closing up of his father's estate. In 1909 he was again appointed a paymaster's clerk for duty at the Naval Training Station, Newport, R. I. In 1910 he was again appointed pay clerk at the Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa. In 1911 he was transferred to the accounting office at the same yard as chief clerk in that office. In 1912 he was appointed paymaster's clerk for duty at the United States Naval Home, Philadelphia, Pa., where he is still on duty.

South Does Not Approve Of Lynching

Last Thursday at the Annual Conference of Governors, in session in Boston, Mass., Cole L. Blease, ex-governor of South Carolina, was delivering an address on "The Duty and Responsibility of Chief Executives in Dealing With Prisoners," in which he asserted that the lynching of men in the South for certain crimes is a protection to civilization.

As soon as he concluded his speech Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland, took the floor and challenged his statement in a reply that was quite spirited and which was met with what appeared to be almost unanimous approval.

"I come from a state which is the gateway to the Southland," declared Governor Goldsborough. "I cannot sit silently here and permit to go unanswered a statement that when mob action is stopped, liberty is dead. The people of the South do not approve such a sentiment; it is un-American; it is irreligious; it is un-Christian."

At this point Governor Whitman of New York began to applaud and a wave of approval swept through both floor and galleries.

At its conclusion Governor Goldsborough said: "If capital punishment is wrong, how much more so is capital punishment at the hands of a mob."

G. A. Cox Heads "Volco" Company

Within the last few weeks there has sprung up in Baltimore a new concern which, in the short time that it has been in existence, has probably become better known than a like institution has in years. The concern is the Volco Corporation, manufacturers of "Volco," the latest addition to the ranks of soda water drinks.

Mr. George A. Cox, formerly of Fairmount, and well-known in Somerset county, is president of the company, with offices at 120 East Lexington street, Baltimore.

Mr. B. F. Wilson and family are spending a week with relatives and friends in Somerset county.

THE ADVANTAGES OF CAMP LIFE

The Purpose Of Coheco Camp Fire Girls Of Princess Anne

Historical sketch of the Camp Fire Girls by Miss Marie E. Colborn, guardian of Princess Anne Camp:

In the spring of 1911 a meeting was held to consider the advisability of forming an organization which should be for girls what the Boy Scouts were for boys. Among those active in this initial movement were, Mr. William Chauncey Langdon, Mrs. Charles E. Farnsworth, Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick, Prof. Mary Schenck Woolson, Dr. Anna Brown, Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton, Mr. Lee F. Hamner, Mr. James E. West, Mrs. Justus A. Grant and Miss Lina Beard.

Preliminary work was done during the Summer and Fall. During the following Winter a manual was prepared, funds were secured and an organization created and offices opened.

Among the many persons interested in this movement are Mrs. Russell Sage, Miss Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller and S. R. Guggenheim. The purpose of the Coheco Camp Fire Girls of Princess Anne shall be to perpetuate the ideal of the home under the best conditions of a social community through the organization of girls and to bring them into units, divided by age, into camp fires. This camp fire shall endeavor to devise and put in use ways of acquiring and creating standards of woman's work, and also shall endeavor in the formation of habits making for health and vigor—the outgrowth of habit and spirit.

Many persons are prejudiced against the Camp Fire Girls. They do not understand the purpose of the organization. What shall be done with these girls whose mothers are what you describe as not competent or suitable, but interested in helping their daughters? Unless a group can have the support of enough of the mothers of the girls, it should not be organized. We exist to help these girls, and we agree with the general findings of students of novelty that it is worth more to the family to develop, even in inadequate mothers' love, than it is to provide substitutes outside of the home. We believe that the mothers and the mother love is essential, and that is the foundation upon which we are organized.

Every girl likes to go camping, first of all, for the sake of a good time. If she has never been before, many of her friends have, and in listening to their tales and seeing their photographs, they are filled with envy and desire to emulate them. They also desire to wear the "baco hats," walk in the cool woodlands or sport in the water. But if she has been camping before she will know that in the pursuit of pleasure she also finds health. One girl who went camping last Summer weighing only 98 pounds, gained over 12 pounds in six weeks time, while the stout girl lost 11 pounds in the same time. Both of these girls know something of the physical benefits obtained by a vacation in the open air, and while finding it in camp they also had a good time without depleting their physical energy, which is more than can be said about many "good times" in the city or at the summer resorts. Their activities, unless they very foolishly overdo them, all go to build up strong and enduring tissues.

The parents of the girls of this town should actively co-operate in bringing the work about and carrying it on. The Camp Fire movement is open to all girls of suitable age who propose to carry forward that for which it is organized.

"Wish" Sheppard Hanged

Apparently without a tremor, and walking to his fate with steady step, Aloysius, alias "Wish" Sheppard, the negro who feloniously assaulted Miss Mildred Clarke, the 14-year-old daughter of Enoch Clarke, a farmer of near Federalburg, Md., on July 15th, paid the penalty of his crime at Denton, Md., Friday morning at 5.57 o'clock. Eighteen minutes later, he was declared dead by the examining physicians.

Within half an hour from the time Sheppard was declared dead his body was placed in an automobile and whisked away to Federalburg, his former home. The crowd, which had been orderly and quiet during the entire time, with the exception of an occasional remark that Sheppard was "getting what he deserved," quickly and quietly dispersed.

FOUR PRIMARY TICKETS IN SOMERSET

Those Who Have Filed Certificates With Supervisors of Election

Last Tuesday afternoon the Board of Election Supervisors arranged the form of the primary ballots to be used on September 14th. The list of certificates filed by the candidates is the largest for many years and constitutes two tickets in the field for the Democratic party and two local tickets for the Republican party—the Duer and Dryden factions. The State candidates are as follows:

Governor—Democratic, Blair Lee, Montgomery county, and Emerson C. Harrington, Dorchester county. Republican, O. E. Weller, Baltimore county, and William T. Warburton, Cecil county.

Attorney-General—Democratic, William Milnes Maloy and Albert C. Ritchie, both of Baltimore city. Republican, Albert A. Doub, Allegany county.

Comptroller—Democratic, William B. Copper, Kent county, and Hugh A. McMullen, Allegany county. Republican, Robert F. Duer, Somerset county, and Charles F. Mackin, Howard county.

The following is a list of county candidates who have entered the primary fight:

Death Fright In The Pulpit

Rev. Samuel Matthews, colored, a local preacher, of Pocomoke City, was frightened to death while preaching at a camp-meeting at Johnson's Neck, between Snow Hill and Pocomoke City, last Thursday. A crowd of colored men from Stockton went to the meeting, and the mixture of bad whiskey and bad blood resulted in a row, in which three men were shot, how badly is not known, as they were carried off by their friends.

The entire audience was excited when the shots were fired, and the minister was seen to throw his hands in his face, tremble for an instant and then fall forward. It was thought he was shot, but an investigation proved he was dead and that his death was caused by heart failure, superinduced by fright.

IN LEGISLATURE'S POWER TO ACT

Reforms Best Accomplished Without Commission Says Lee

If Senator Smith should succeed in capturing a majority of the Democratic convention for his candidate for governor, it might be a shrewd political move for the convention to appoint such a commission, although it would be a striking acknowledgement of the fact that the people have no confidence in a Smith candidate for governor and a Smith legislature doing anything effective toward abolishing useless offices, or in stopping other waste of public money.

Senator Blair Lee, candidate for Democratic nomination for governor, made this statement in a speech last Wednesday night in Beethoven Hall, Baltimore. He followed it up by making this bold declaration in reference to commissions and its shifting of responsibilities.

Every useless office abolished means a friend of Senator Smith turned away from the public crib. Every dollar of waste saved to the taxpayers means a dollar lost to his machine. Mr. Harrington understands this, and would like to relieve his embarrassment and side-track this important issue by the suggestion of a commission.

The important reforms in recent years, the primary election law, the public service commission act, the corrupt practices act, the employes' liability law, printing of bills, etc., and other reforms in legislative procedure, all have been accomplished without any commission. These reforms have been secured by the action of the State officers and the legislature elected by the people. Economic reform can be secured in the same way.

The suggestion of a commission is undemocratic. Every step away from the people means less responsiveness to the will of the people. The people want useless offices abolished and waste stopped. One way not to do it is to shift responsibility from the legislative and State officers elected by the people to a commission not elected by the people.

We have many commissions now. What the State needs is not more commissions, but action. Useless offices and waste in the State government is a condition which ought to be remedied and remedied promptly.

There is no difficulty in finding out how to stop waste and abolish useless offices. The difficulty heretofore has been to elect a governor and legislature that wanted to do it. The people know that Messrs. Copper, Maloy and myself and the candidates for the Senate and House of Delegates in sympathy with us want to stop waste, abolish useless offices and give the people an efficient businesslike administration. We are in earnest about this matter. We mean to do it. This is one reason why Democrats all over the State urged me to become a candidate for governor, and one of the strongest reasons why I am now making the race, and unless I very much mistake the sentiment of the Democrats throughout the State, they mean to send us to Annapolis to do this very work for them and we will do it.

Early in the campaign I declared in favor of saving the taxpayers money by the abolition of useless offices, consolidation of boards and application of business principles to the administration of the State government. Subsequently there was published a series of articles showing in part the waste of public money which had grown up under the old system at Annapolis. The people became aroused. The run to cover behind a proposed commission, to be appointed after the primaries by the Democratic State Convention, is characteristic of the system of which Mr. Harrington is a part.

Mr. Harrington has been State Comptroller of Maryland for the last four years, and as such has an official responsibility for these useless offices and waste. Under article 5, section 2 of the Constitution of Maryland, it was the duty of Mr. Harrington as comptroller to exercise "general superintendence of the fiscal affairs of the State . . . digest and prepare plans for the improvement and management of the revenue . . . prepare and report estimates of the revenues an expenditure of the State . . . decide on forms of keeping and stating accounts . . . and to make to the General Assembly full reports of all his proceedings and of the state of the Treasury Department within 10 days after the commencement of each session" . . .

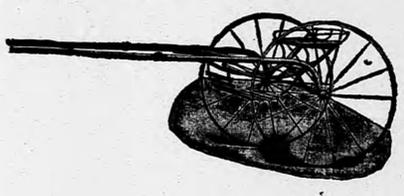

A proper report by the Comptroller "of the fiscal affairs of the State" as required by the constitution, would have drawn the attention of the legislature and the public to the useless offices and wastes, and even if the legislature had been inclined to shirk its duty the pressure of public opinion would have forced some measure of reform.

He scoffs and scorns who has never been at war with himself.

Expecting Another Drop.
Some time ago Mrs. Green called on her friend, Mrs. White, and, after clutching, kissing and saying how dreadfully delighted they were to see each other, they turned to the interesting topics of the day.
"By the way," said Mrs. Green after a time, "I haven't heard anything about Eva's divorce lately. I wonder what has become of it?"
"I heard a few days ago that she had dropped all proceedings," answered Mrs. White.
"Dropped all proceedings?" was the wondering rejoinder of Mrs. Green. "You don't really mean it?"
"Yes," returned Mrs. White. "Her husband has taken to aeroplaning, and she has decided to let the thing adjust itself."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Interesting Comparison.
"It beats all how luck does play favorites," remarked Farmer Courtness. "I jes' been to see Ezra Hankins."
"How's he gettin' along since he hurt his foot?"
"He's purty plum. The doctor charged him $100 for cuttin' his foot off. An' when the railroad cut off Uncle Jake's foot the company paid him $600 in cash. Maybe these great corporations ain't as graspin' as some people says."—Washington Star.

No. 3023, Chancery. In the Circuit Court for Somerset County, in Equity.
Whereas a certain John E. Holland, County Treasurer for Somerset county, in the State of Maryland, has reported to the Circuit Court for Somerset County, in Equity, a sale made by him to William J. Phillips, of all that lot and parcel of land in Lawson's Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, viz: Being all that lot of land situated as aforesaid, containing one acre of land, more or less, with the improvements thereon, situated in Stumpdown, on the N. Y. P. & N. R. R., adjoining the lands of James Johnson, Elmer and Daniel Ward and assessed to the said Ephraim Handy's heirs on the assessment books for said election district for the year 1915, and sold for the payment of taxes due and in arrears, together with all the proceedings in relation thereto; and whereas upon examination it appears to the said Court that the said proceedings are regular and that the provisions of law in relation thereto have been complied with.

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered this 10th day of August, in the year 1915, by the Circuit Court for Somerset County, in Equity, that notice be given by the publication of this order once a week for four successive weeks, in the "Marylander and Herald," a weekly newspaper published in Somerset County, before the 22nd day of September, in the year 1915, warning all persons interested in the said real estate to be and appear in this Court on or before the 30th day of September, 1915, to show cause, if any they have, why said sale should not be ratified and confirmed.

BRINGING UP CHILDREN.

There Are Some Curious Customs in This Queer World.
There has been much discussion over the proper bringing up of children, but ideas continue to differ. And the farther you get away from home the stranger the ideas seem.
The Filipino father cries out with proud delight as his three-year-old girl baby takes her puff at her first cigar.
Among the Seri Indians of the gulf of California the father is the last one expected to have any influence on the children. The mother rules the younger members of the family, and when she must enforce her authority by physical force she calls, not on the father, but on one of her brothers or some other male adult of her family. The father must never chastise his children.
A Navajo father administers punishment to his children very much as any other father does, but the Navajo boy has a means of protection denied to white boys. He has only to catch a rat by his own unaided efforts. From the moment he has accomplished this feat, no matter how young he may be, his father may not lay hands on him.
The children of the Point Barrow Eskimos have special training in politeness to foreigners. In conversing with strangers who make mistakes in the native dialect children must carefully note those mistakes and repeat them, even to imitating the wrong pronunciation of words. To speak correctly in such a case is likely to bring punishment from the parent of the child.—New York Sun.

The Fate of the Oneida.
One of the most extraordinary catastrophes that have befallen vessels of the United States destroyed the sloop of war Oneida in 1839. She was bound homeward with a jolly ship's company eager to see wives and sweethearts and native land once more, when not far out of port she was struck by the British steamer Bombay coming in. The stein of the Bombay cut off the stern of the Oneida. The ship was sinking rapidly, and guns of distress were immediately fired, but the Bombay steamed on her way and left the vessel to her doom. She went down, and all but one or two of her crew were drowned. The captain of the Bombay gave no other reason for his conduct than that he had Lady Byre, the wife of a distinguished British satrap, on board and did not wish to disturb her nerves with scenes of shipwreck. He was mobbed when he reached Yokohama, dismissed from the service, socially tabooed from that time on and died in disgrace a year or two later.

The Obstacles to Evil.
In the constitution of our nature a limit has been fixed to the triumph of evil. Falsity in theory is everywhere confronted by the facts which present themselves to every man's observation. A lie has no power to change the ordinances of God. Every day discloses its utter worthlessness until it fades away from our recollection and is numbered among the things that were. The indissoluble connection which our Creator has established between vice and misery tends also continually to arrest the progress of evil and to render odious whatever would render evil attractive.—Francis Wayland.

LAYING THE CLOTH.

Table Covers at One Time Were Arranged in Puffs and Folds.
In the twelfth century tablecloths were very large and were always laid on the table double. For a long time they were called "doublers" or that reason. The cloth was first placed so as to touch the floor on the side at which the guests sat; then all that remained was folded so that it just covered the table.
Charles V. had sixty-seven tablecloths, which were from fifteen to twenty yards long and two yards wide. He had one cloth thirty-two yards long, which had the arms of France embroidered on it in silk. All these were fringed.
In the sixteenth century "doublers" were replaced by two tablecloths, one of which was small and was laid just as we lay ours today. The other, which was put on over it, was large and of beautifully figured linen. It was skillfully folded in such a way that, as one chronicler tells it, "it resembled a winding river, gently ruffled by a little breeze, for among very many little folds were here and there great bubbles."
It must have required much art and care to make dishes, plates, saltcellars, sauce dishes and glasses stand steadily in the midst of this undulating sea and among those "bubbles" and puffy folds. However, the fashion had only a short existence, and toward the latter part of the century a single cloth laid flat and touching the floor on all sides of the table came into general use.

Frigger.
Frigga, from whom Friday is derived, was either a god or a goddess, according to time and country. As a man he was a great hunter and warrior, always represented with a drawn sword in one hand and a bow in the other. In the Scandinavian countries Frigger was called the "Veus of the North," and the sixth day of the week was consecrated to her worship.—London Mail.

A Shade of Doubt.
"What do you think of my graduation essay?" asked the young man.
"Fine!" replied his father. "Only I'm afraid a lot of people are going to be bashful about offering plain wages to a man whose intellect is so much above the average."—Washington Star.

For Nature Students.
The young author, reading a fake animal story to the attentive editor, said: "Whereupon the woodchuck laughed softly to himself."
"Ah," remarked the editor, "I suppose he indulged in a woodchuckle!"—Chicago News.

BRINGING UP CHILDREN.

There Are Some Curious Customs in This Queer World.
There has been much discussion over the proper bringing up of children, but ideas continue to differ. And the farther you get away from home the stranger the ideas seem.
The Filipino father cries out with proud delight as his three-year-old girl baby takes her puff at her first cigar.
Among the Seri Indians of the gulf of California the father is the last one expected to have any influence on the children. The mother rules the younger members of the family, and when she must enforce her authority by physical force she calls, not on the father, but on one of her brothers or some other male adult of her family. The father must never chastise his children.
A Navajo father administers punishment to his children very much as any other father does, but the Navajo boy has a means of protection denied to white boys. He has only to catch a rat by his own unaided efforts. From the moment he has accomplished this feat, no matter how young he may be, his father may not lay hands on him.
The children of the Point Barrow Eskimos have special training in politeness to foreigners. In conversing with strangers who make mistakes in the native dialect children must carefully note those mistakes and repeat them, even to imitating the wrong pronunciation of words. To speak correctly in such a case is likely to bring punishment from the parent of the child.—New York Sun.

The Fate of the Oneida.
One of the most extraordinary catastrophes that have befallen vessels of the United States destroyed the sloop of war Oneida in 1839. She was bound homeward with a jolly ship's company eager to see wives and sweethearts and native land once more, when not far out of port she was struck by the British steamer Bombay coming in. The stein of the Bombay cut off the stern of the Oneida. The ship was sinking rapidly, and guns of distress were immediately fired, but the Bombay steamed on her way and left the vessel to her doom. She went down, and all but one or two of her crew were drowned. The captain of the Bombay gave no other reason for his conduct than that he had Lady Byre, the wife of a distinguished British satrap, on board and did not wish to disturb her nerves with scenes of shipwreck. He was mobbed when he reached Yokohama, dismissed from the service, socially tabooed from that time on and died in disgrace a year or two later.

The Obstacles to Evil.
In the constitution of our nature a limit has been fixed to the triumph of evil. Falsity in theory is everywhere confronted by the facts which present themselves to every man's observation. A lie has no power to change the ordinances of God. Every day discloses its utter worthlessness until it fades away from our recollection and is numbered among the things that were. The indissoluble connection which our Creator has established between vice and misery tends also continually to arrest the progress of evil and to render odious whatever would render evil attractive.—Francis Wayland.

Wicks' Forecasts for September

A regular storm period is central on the 2nd, beginning the last two days of August, and extending to September 5th. The Moon is at last quarter, in apogee and at extreme north declination. The regular Vulcan period is intensified by the Mercury and Venus disturbances, with Earth's autumnal equinox advancing toward its center. After these early September storms, do not be surprised if very cool nights with frosts northward, attend the rising barometer and northerly winds that are sure to follow.

The first reactionary storm period is central on the 7th, 8th and 9th. The Venus period is central on the 7th, the Moon is in conjunction with Sun and Earth, and on the celestial equator on the 9th, Saturn and Mars are in close conjunction on the 10th, and Venus is at superior conjunction with Earth and Sun on the 12th. It must also be remembered that the Earth is passing its annual crisis of electrical and magnetic disturbances, from about the 5th to 15th.

The second regular storm period is central on the 14th, extending from the 12th to 17th, inclusive. This period is near the center of Earth's autumnal equinox, at the culminating stages of the Venus equinox, with Moon at first quarter on the 16th, in perigee at the center of the period on the 14th, and at extreme south declination on the 15th. Jupiter is in opposition with Earth and Sun on the 17th.

The third reactionary storm period is central on the 19th, 20th and 21st. The chances are very favorable for many intense disturbances on and touching Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the 19th, 20th and 21st. In fact the astronomic outlook at this time suggests the probability of continued storm conditions over the 22nd, and into the storm period immediately succeeding. The Moon being on the celestial equator on the 22nd, will greatly tend to prolong low barometer, high temperature, with vicious electrical and atmospheric storms.

The third regular storm period is central on the 25th, normally extending over the 23rd to 28th, inclusive.

A College for Teachers

Another step towards the creation of a teachers' college in Baltimore was taken in the recent creation of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education by the Johns Hopkins University. This marks a partial fulfillment of the hopes of the University which have been entertained for a number of years. As early as 1910 the University announced its desire of establishing a department for the higher training of teachers as an organic part of the University.

The curriculum leading to the new degree will be based on the college courses for teachers and the summer courses. The former, which was established in 1909, are conducted during the regular session in the afternoon and on Saturdays. The latter have been conducted since 1911. The new degree will be open to men and women on equal terms. The regulations concerning matriculation and the curriculum will be determined by a special advisory committee of the faculty. The title of Director of these courses has been assigned to Professor Edward F. Buchner, who organized and has conducted both of these branches of the University's activities.

Colored - William W. Harman, 22, and Annie Horsey, 21, both of Washington, Va.; James R. Pennick, 64, Crisfield, Md., and Lizzie Stockley, 55, Lawsonia, Md.; Thomas Johnson, 23, and Mazie Curtis, 20, both of Princess Anne; Louis Hayward, 21, and Caroline Stockley, 15, both of Somerset county, Maryland.

Good Paint

is cheap; and Devoe is not the only good paint; it is one of a dozen; and, very likely, the only one in your town - there are hundreds of middling and bad.

You can see what chance there is of another good one there; perhaps one in ten at the most.

Bad paint is dearest; mulling is dear; cost 2 or 3 times as much as the best.

No matter about the cost a gallon; that isn't it; the cost a square foot; the cost a job; better yet, the cost a year. There's a whole education in paint in this advertisement.

SENATOR LEE SCOFFS AT "DEAL"

Tells Wicomico Democrats He Will Not Appoint Preston To Senate

Senator Blair Lee, Mayor Preston, William Milnes Maloy, W. B. Copper, S. S. Field and Robert E. Lee, of Baltimore, were the speakers at the Democratic mass-meeting in Salisbury last Tuesday night under the auspices of the Blair Lee Campaign Committee. J. Cleveland White presided.

Senator Lee and his running mates closed with Tuesday night's meeting a two days' tour of Wicomico county, upon which they were piloted by M. V. Brewington. The candidates expressed themselves as gratified at the reception received.

Senator Lee spoke at length on the primary election law and its workings and took several flings at United States Senator John Walter Smith and his political methods. He denied in the presence of Mayor Preston, who was upon the stage during his speech, that he would appoint the Mayor to the United States Senate, and said there was no deal for the Mayor's support.

Mayor Preston said in part:

"The politicians and newspapers supporting Mr. Harrington seem to think that Baltimore city Democrats ought to sit still with their mouths shut and let the question of a nominee of the Democratic party be decided by the Democratic voters residing outside of Baltimore city. Just as soon as it became apparent that the Democrats of Baltimore preferred the candidate from Montgomery county to the candidate from Dorchester county a cry was raised by certain persons and county newspapers that Blair Lee and myself had entered into some scheme for the domination of the counties by Baltimore city."

"Everyone knows that there was no attempt by Baltimore city to dominate the counties following the election of Governor Smith, Governor Warfield or Governor Crothers. Every sensible man knows that it is not possible for Baltimore city to dominate the counties. Baltimore city has 24 out of 101 members of the House of Delegates. The Stunties have more than 8 to 1. In the Senate the city has 4 out of 28. The counties have just 6 to 1. No law can pass without it gets a majority of the votes in the house."

"The election of a Governor cannot change this situation. Nobody believes that the nomination and election of Lee will be followed by an attempt on the part of Baltimore city to dominate the counties. The politicians and newspapers that are making the statement don't believe it themselves. They are simply trying to get votes for Mr. Harrington by attempting to stir up prejudice in the counties against the city, and they are attempting to do this by trying to excite the fear of city domination, which they know is false and groundless."

"Certainly the wishes of Baltimore city ought to be of some moment and receive some consideration from our friends in the counties when we are voting for a man from the counties, who carried them four years ago, and who can surely carry Baltimore city in November for the Democratic party."

STATE-WIDE TAX ON FURNITURE

The Exemption of Household Furniture a Step in Right Direction

The following article is from Mr. Charles J. Ogie, of Baltimore, who contends that the exemption of household furniture is a step in the right direction and has the endorsement of all students of taxation:

"The newspapers in several of the counties of the State have denounced the action of the last legislature in making a State-wide tax exemption of household furniture to the extent of five hundred dollars. The burden of their argument seems to be that the taxable basis was materially lowered thereby and that a great number of people will now escape paying any taxes whatever. It is also reported that a number of local assessors have been trying to make up the deficiency by increasing assessments on live-stock and other personalty.

"Such an attitude is unfortunate and displays a surprising lack of knowledge of the true principles of taxation on the part of both editors and assessors. The fact that any considerable part of the counties' taxable basis was made up of items of this kind clearly indicates the need of a radical revision of assessments.

"Taxation is payment for public services. A citizen should pay for what he gets from society, or to be more specific, the property benefited should be the property taxed. It must be clear to any one who thinks at all on the subject that the value of those services is not in anywise related to the amount of furniture or other chattels that he has. Furniture is not benefited in any way by the building of good roads, for example, whereas the lands traversed by the good roads are very measurably benefited by them. At first glance it might be thought that the citizens should pay for the police and fire protection which the county extends to his furniture. But the real estate owner properly pays for the opportunity to avail himself of such services. As a bachelor pays the school tax the same as a man of family, the owner of vacant lands pays the fire and police tax, etc.

"All of these taxes are included in the rent which the users of land pay, whether for residence or other purposes. Every one occupies land in some manner, and the value of the location they occupy is the only exact meter of the services rendered by government, rising as those services are good, and falling in value as the community is neglected and becomes less desirable. No residents, therefore, can escape taxation, as the landowner, who, as Thomas G. Shearman pointed out, are the natural taxpayers of the State, collect it in their rent and turn it over to the authorities in their tax bills.

"Not only is it true that real estate does reflect the services of government while improvements and personal property do not, but the value of real estate is actually impaired by the taxation of other classes of property. To tax furniture and other labor products as well tends to check the production and sale of such articles which in turn checks the demand for land and depresses real estate values. On the other hand, the removal of such taxes tends to make real estate more valuable. Scientific taxation, therefore, would encourage the best and freest use of land by exempting all sorts of labor products, in fact everything else but real estate itself, from taxation, and levying for the costs of government upon the higher site values thereby created.

"The exemption of household furniture is a step in the right direction and has the endorsement of all students of taxation. What is needed to supply any deficiency is a more accurate assessment of real estate."

Man Killed By Boiler Explosion

One man was killed, a girl so badly injured that she probably will die, and a score of others were hurt when the boiler in Robert L. Simmons & Co.'s canning house at Andrews, in lower Dorchester county, exploded about 8 o'clock last Thursday morning. The dead and most seriously injured are: Dewey Robbins, decapitated by pieces of the boiler; Miss Isabel Robbins, his sister, critically scalded; Rufus Robbins, injured by steam and cut by metal; Alexander G. Robbins, Jr., 18 years old, leg broken and seriously scalded; Benjamin Robbins, 9 years old, seriously scalded; Edward Williams, cut by metal and scalded; Mrs. Thomas Spicer, colored, back broken; Eddie Spicer, her daughter, hurt by flying metal and scalded. Some 15 others received medical attention, among them being many who had scalp wounds as well as burns.

The immediate cause of the accident is unknown. It is said that the boiler was old and had been used for years, even though it is alleged to have been condemned two years ago. It had 85 pounds of steam a short time before the explosion and water was being put in when it exploded. The boiler was a complete wreck, as both ends were blown out, the sides ripped open and practically every tube blown away. The smoke stack of the cannery fell, damaging the roof, and the jar took plastering from houses more than 100 yards away. The plant was owned by Robert L. Simmons and former State Senator William F. Applegarth, of Dorchester county.
