

MARYLANDER AND HERALD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF PRINCESS ANNE AND SOMERSET COUNTY

THE MARYLANDER. Established 1862
SOMERSET HERALD. 1868

SEVERAL PROPERTY TRANSFERS

Recorded In The Office Of The Circuit Court For Somerset County

Diana N. Jones from Thomas L. Barnes and others, 51.66 acres in West Princess Anne district; consideration $100 and other valuable considerations.

James C. Tyler from Mamie S. Tyler, 5 acres in St. Peter's district; consideration $200.

William H. Foxwell from Eugene Taylor and wife, 7½ acres in Mt. Vernon district; consideration $10 and other considerations.

Samuel E. Wright from Luther T. Miles and wife, land in Lawson's district; consideration $250.

Samuel R. Wright from Luther T. Miles and wife, land in Lawson's district; consideration $150.

John W. Maxx from Aden Davis and wife, land in Brinkley's district; consideration $700 and other considerations.

Stephen E. Mason and another from Maggie B. Marsh and husband, land in Mt. Vernon district; consideration $200.

Charles C. Gilder from Somerset The Company, land in West Princess Anne district; consideration $100.

Jessopine Jones from Hester Bloodsworth, land in Mt. Vernon district; consideration $100.

Maggie Jackson from H. Fillmore Lankford and others, land in West Princess Anne district; consideration $60.

Spraying Early Potatoes

Farmers will find that spraying early potatoes for blight in addition to the spraying for the control of bugs will be of value in increasing the yield of potatoes.

It has been shown in the potato growing sections of the country that potato plants which are given several applications of Bordeaux mixture will be healthier and produce a larger yield of potatoes than those plants which are only sprayed with a poison solution for the control of bugs.

Commercial Bordeaux mixture can be obtained and applied at one application with the poison. Several applications during the growing season with a good pressure sprayer will increase the yield of potatoes per acre.

Farmers interested in conducting demonstrations in spraying potatoes can arrange for a visit of the Extension Pathologist by writing to County Agent C. Z. Keller.

Collector Miles To Quit In July

It may be July 16th or 1st before he will be able, in justice to himself and the public service, to relinquish the office of Collector of Internal Revenue, according to a statement issued the first of last week by Collector Joshua W. Miles, of Princess Anne.

This is not due to a desire to hold the office any longer, he says, nor does it signify any special sacrifice in doing more than he should reasonably be expected to do, according to Mr. Miles, but is made imperative by the great volume of business pertaining to the last year which is still uncompleted and which must be settled by himself before he can be released from his bond. He said: "I want it made clear that it has always been my intention, and still is my intention, to resign the office of the collectorship as soon as I can possibly do so with due regard to the public service with which I am connected and to which I am obligated."

The "Old Maids' Club"

A comic entertainment, entitled "The Old Maids' Club," will be rendered at Grace Guild Hall, Mt. Vernon, Thursday evening, May 5th. Proceeds for the benefit of Grace Protestant Episcopal Church. "The Old Maids' Club" is a one-act comedy and will afford a good laugh. Those in the cast are:

Mrs. Myrtle Bloodsworth, Mrs. Margaret Hopkins, Mrs. Anita Jackson, Mrs. Nettie Magill, Mrs. Cecilia Costen, Mrs. Birdah McIntyre, Mrs. Elsie Sims, Misses Lois Jackson, Sophie Groskopf, Ruby Bound, Vesta Costen, Sarah Ronshaw, Gladys Lawson, Louise Hopkins, Lillian McIntyre, Isa McIntyre and Messrs. Joseph Botkins and John McIntyre.

There will be instrumental music, and Mr. Raleigh Douglass, of Bivalve, Md., will render several vocal selections.

School Roads Center With Hitchie

Plans for the rehabilitation of the State's school systems were discussed last Tuesday afternoon with Governor Ritchie by Superintendent of Schools A. S. Cook, and Assistant Superintendent George J. Ronya. The plans, as now proposed, will mean an additional appropriation by the State of about $1,250,000, the Governor said.

The plans are tentative and the Governor said that the conference did not develop any points other than those which have been already published.

Strawberries were on sale in the local stores last week and were readily disposed of at 25 cents a basket.

ARRESTED FOR STORE ROBBERIES

Five Young Men Of Crisfield Accused Of Burglary Now In Jail

The arrest of Wesley Cox, Carroll McCready, Elmer Hancock, Nicholas Wessels and Ira Roach, their ages ranging from 16 to 22 years, in Crisfield last Tuesday, was the result of robberies which occurred in that town on April 14th and 22nd.

Detectives Daugherty, of Baltimore, and Captain Williams, of the State police, were assigned to the case, and for a week had been in Crisfield rounding up the alleged thieves with the assistance of local chief of police Isaac Powell and sheriff Derrick Lawson. In the thefts, money was not the apparent object, but rather guns, ammunition, knives, cigar and watches. It was thought that a watch taken from the store of Bradshaw & Sned was furnished a clue for Detective Daugherty, which resulted in the arrest of the five who pleaded guilty when arraigned before Magistrate Fred Holland.

Cox and McCready in default of $2,400 and the other three were held in default of $1,200 bail at a hearing Tuesday before Magistrate Holland. All were held to await the action of the September term of court and were brought to Princess Anne and lodged in jail. Wade Cullen, proprietor of one of the stores robbed, estimates his loss to be $400; Bradshaw & Sned, $50, and other store owners small amounts.

Road Building Plan For 1921

The 1921 part of the two-year road-building program, as outlined last Tuesday by John N. Mackall, chairman of the State Roads Commission, calls for the construction of about 150 miles of highway, in links from one to five miles in length, well distributed over the various counties in the State. The program depends, to a certain extent, upon the passage of the Federal Aid bill. Even without Government aid, however, road-building work will be carried on in well-distributed links over the counties. This program was made up, subject to changes and alterations, after delegations from each of the counties had outlined their expectations.

Among the roads that are either under construction, ready for contract, or pending the outcome of Federal aid, as outlined by Mr. Mackall, are:

- Somerset county—One mile through Crisfield, under contract;
- One mile and a half on Pocomoke-Westover road, under contract;
- Four miles on Princess Anne-Deal's Island road, ready for contract;
- Wicomico county—Four miles on Quantico road, ready for contract;
- Two miles on Newhope-Powellsburg road, under contract;
- Worcester county—About four miles on Pocomoke-Stockton road, ready for contract with Federal aid;
- Two miles connecting Snow Hill-Stockton road, ready for contract;
- Four miles on Berlin-Delaware State line (Dupont road connection), under contract.

James Vance Brought Here For Burial

The remains of Mr. James M. Vance, who died at the Mary Washington Hospital, Fredericksburg, Va., were brought to Princess Anne last Friday afternoon and buried in Manokin Presbyterian Church cemetery. Mr. Vance was 72 years of age and died in the hospital of pneumonia, following a runaway accident in which he was seriously injured. He spent several weeks the past winter with his son, Mr. James R. Vance, who resides on part of "Brownstone" farm, near Princess Anne.

Mr. Vance resided near Fredericksburg and was engaged in farming. He was a member of the order of Knights of Pythias and the funeral service at the grave was conducted by the members of Shekinah Lodge, No. 35, of this town.

The Girl Who Didn't Go Wrong

Alone and friendless in a great city, no money, great ambition, youth, beauty, search for a choir position, ending up in the chorus. That's an old plot, you say. But listen—this girl did not go wrong! She had some narrow squeaks, however, for she was terribly innocent, and men loved her youthful sweetness. Don't miss Constance Binney in her great stage hit, "30 East." Coming to the Auditorium Monday night, May 9th. This is a 6-reel Realart picture and in the cast are Reginald Denny, Alison Skipworth, Lucia Moore, Blanche Frederick, Edith Gresham, Mildred Arden, Luis Alberni, Albert Carroll, Frank Alivorth.

This picture, as well as the 2-reel comedy, Al St John in "Fired Again," are for the benefit of the charity fund of Shekinah Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Princess Anne.

REPORT OF PRESBYTERY

Statistics Of The New Castle Presbytery Make A Good Showing

From the statistical report of the Presbytery of New Castle which recently convened in Manokin Presbyterian Church, we glean the following information:

During the past year churches in the Presbytery added 388 members to their rolls, 231 on confession of faith and 152 by certificate. Of this number 101 came from Sunday Schools and 41 from evangelistic services.

Thirteen churches report being without pastor for the whole year or part of the year, yet have held services almost every Sunday.

Three churches report no Sunday School; 18 churches report gain in Sunday school members of 471. Three churches report loss in membership of 110; which makes a net gain of 361 Sunday school members. Sixteen schools report 16 home departments, with a membership of 409. In the adult classes 531 men are enrolled.

Fifteen churches report young people's work, with eight Westminster Guilds, one Light Bearers Band, eight mission study classes, 10 senior societies and six junior societies. Forty-five Presbyterian young people are in other institutions and 18 in Presbyterian colleges and schools.

Eleven churches held evangelistic services during the year with 41 confessions of faith.

Twenty-three churches entered the New Era movement with good success. The church expenses are fully and promptly met; 3,533 persons contribute systematically to church support and 2,950 to benevolence. Five churches carry a mortgage indebtedness of $15,580. Five churches report having no manse.

Rev. J. W. Lacy, of Pocomoke City, and Joseph Brown Turner, of Port Deposit, and Elders F. Leonard Walles, of Salisbury, and William S. Prickett, of Wilmington, were elected commissioners to the General Assembly, and Revs. Thomas S. Armentrout, of Montchanin and David Reed, of White Clay Creek Church, and Elders W. O. Lankford, of Princess Anne, and R. H. Robertson, of Pocomoke City, were elected alternates.

He is survived by his son (Mr. Richard A. Cox, an attorney), one daughter (Miss Elsie Cox, a former school teacher of Somerset county), three brothers (Messrs. Lambert W. Cox, of Westover; Ernest Cox, of Upper Fairmount, and Elijah Cox, of Baltimore), five sisters (Mrs. Benjamin K. Green, Mrs. Robert J. Miles, of Fairmount; Mrs. George H. Chelton, of Lower Fairmount; Mrs. James Smith, of Savannah, Ga.), and a grandson (George Richard Cox).

Young Horse Injures Owner

On Monday of last week Mr. A. E. Tull, of Marion, was seriously injured. A young horse which he had recently purchased was being worked to a plow by the side of another horse in a field near the injured man's dwelling, when a chicken flew from the hedge which skirts one side of the field, frightening the young animal, causing it to rear and lunge. In its efforts to get loose it managed to get one of its feet outside the traces. Mr. Tull, seeing the predicament in which the plowman was placed, went to the animal's head to quiet it, while the hired man made an effort to put its foot back in the traces. In doing this the animal became frightened again and lunged ahead, knocking Mr. Tull down and trampling him, breaking several ribs, lacerating the muscles in his back and otherwise cutting and bruising him about the body and head. The unfortunate man was carried into the house and medical aid summoned. While Mr. Tull's injuries are extremely painful he is getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Great Council Red Men Meet

The first session of the eighty-sixth great council fire of the Great Council of Maryland, Improved Order of Red Men, was held last Wednesday afternoon at the Junior Order United American Mechanics Temple on North Paca street, Baltimore. Past officers and great chiefs to the number of 250 were in attendance at this meeting. The sessions closed Thursday with the election of officers for the ensuing year as follows:

The great prophet, W. P. Wachter, of Hagerstown; great aschmen, A. T. Abernathy, of Cherry Hill, Cecil county; great senior sagamore, Robert L. Rinker, of Baltimore; great junior sagamore, John W. Wood, of Odenton; great chief of records, Dr. James C. Littleton, of Baltimore, and great keeper of wampum, Francis C. Allard, also of Baltimore. The new officers were installed Thursday afternoon by James K. O'Connor, Mayor of Utica, New York.

Messrs. Ollie Pilchard and Burton Dryden represented Wa Wa Tribe, No. 121, of Princess Anne.

In the interest of a broader market for its notes and bonds, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company will make no charge at the present time for notes and bonds of one denomination given in exchange for those of other denominations as authorized in the indentures, or for registered bonds in exchange for coupon bonds or coupon bonds for registered bonds.

GEORGE A. COX FATAL INJURED

Struck By A Street Car In Baltimore And Dies In Hospital

The funeral of Mr. George Alfred Cox, who was struck and killed Sunday the 24th ult., by a street car in Baltimore, was held last Wednesday afternoon at his home, 2207 Chelsea-Terrace, Walbrook. His remains were brought to Fairmount, Somerset county, last Thursday and funeral services were held that afternoon, conducted by the Rev. Wilbur Corkran, of Crisfield.

Mr. Cox was on his way to church Sunday morning and alighting from one he crossed the track behind the car. Another car was crossing the street and Mr. Cox stepped directly in its path. He was thrown under the car and was saved from being crushed by the wheel guard. He was rushed to the Maryland General Hospital in an automobile and was found to have a fractured skull. He was operated on immediately but died at 12 o'clock Sunday afternoon without regaining consciousness.

Mr. Cox was born in Upper Fairmount, Somerset county, on November 15th, 1883. He was educated in Somerset county public schools and Fairmount Academy. After his graduation he engaged in the mercantile business and operated in real estate.

About six years ago Mr. Cox left Fairmount for Baltimore, where he engaged in the real estate business. His wife, who was Miss Susan E. Miles, a daughter of John Miles, of Somerset county, died about two years ago. In November, 1914, he became involved in trouble arising over the leasing by him of oyster beds in the Manokin river. At one time the fight between Mr. Cox and the oystermen of that vicinity became so bitter that Cox appealed to Governor Goldsborough for protection. He finally relinquished his claim to the beds and eventually sold most of his real estate in this county.

He is survived by his son (Mr. Richard A. Cox, an attorney), one daughter (Miss Elsie Cox, a former school teacher of Somerset county), three brothers (Messrs. Lambert W. Cox, of Westover; Ernest Cox, of Upper Fairmount, and Elijah Cox, of Baltimore), five sisters (Mrs. Benjamin K. Green, Mrs. Robert J. Miles, of Fairmount; Mrs. George H. Chelton, of Lower Fairmount; Mrs. James Smith, of Savannah, Ga.), and a grandson (George Richard Cox).

Large Enrollment In Boys' Club Work

A large number of boys of the county are enrolling in the various contests to be conducted in Boys' Club work this year.

Among the contests will be the growing of corn, potatoes and pigs. The pig contest will be of several phases—the pure-bred pig club work and the fat pig contest, in which a pig is taken at weaning age and fed for six months for the greatest gain.

A number of prizes have been offered for the boys who complete the work. Among the awards will be a free trip for the winners in the various contests to the University of Maryland for club week. Other awards will be $25 by the Maryland State Fair Association for the best registered pigs in the county, which are to be exhibited at the Timonium Fair. The Fair Association will pay the express on the pigs entered from this county.

The Wm. B. Tilghman Company, of Salisbury, offers a $100 scholarship for the boys and girls doing the best club work. The Tri-County Bankers' Association and the State Bankers' Association are also contributing to the support of club work.

All boys between the ages of 10 and 18 years, who live in rural sections of the county, should enroll in one or more phases of club work and unite with the boys of other counties of the State in promoting the Boys' Agricultural Clubs.

The thousand club boys of Maryland last year produced products having a value of over $125,000. Boys desiring to enroll in the club contests should write to County Agent C. Z. Keller.

Fall Fairs Will Cost More

Opening of the fall fairs of the clothing manufacturers of New York City last week have brought out new prices which probably require some explanation. These prices probably are higher than the retailers have expected to pay and the ultimate consumer probably is in for a similar surprise. Public announcements of the prices have not been made, but it is said that while the figures are considerably under those of last fall they are above those of this spring. The explanation is given that in an effort to meet price reduction demands qualities suffered somewhat this spring. The manufacturer feels it is sounder policy to go back on a quality basis even if the low price levels cannot be maintained.

Mr. J. Owen Knotts, a prominent attorney of Denton, Caroline county, Maryland, was a pleasant caller at this office last Saturday. Mr. Knotts is being urged as the Democratic nominee for State Senate from his county this year.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS WIN PRIZES

Contestants In Field Day Meet Are Awarded Badges, Buttons, Pins

Dr. William Burdick has furnished us a list of the pupils who won gold and bronze badges, silver pins and buttons at the recent Field Day meet held in Princess Anne.

The following girls won bronze badges: Mae Alder, Edwina Anderson, Lovelia Beahler, Marian Bell, Treasie Bond, Evelyn Bridell, Kathryn Brown, Rebeccia Dennis, Bessie East, Mabel Ford, Hattie Goodman, Evaline Griffin, Virginia Hancock, Dorothy Hayman, Mary Hayman, Hilda Hickey, Adele Horner, Mary Landry, Emily Lawson, Florence Layfield, Mabel Marshall, Irene Merrill, Mary Miles, Myrtle Nyquist, Caroline Pollitt, Clara Powell, Eve Revelle, Mildred Propt, Myrtle Stevens, Mildred Stevenson, Lola Taylor, Doris Tilghman, Irene Twigg, Ruth Tyler, Emma Venable, Elizabeth Ward, Louise Ward, Mabel Weller, Lillian Warwick, Thelma Warwick, Sallie Webster, Mattie Wheatley, Ruth Wilson, Catherine Wilson, Emma Wilson, Bessie Young.

Silver pins were won by Daisy Adams, Elizabeth Anderson, Mary Barnes, Elizabeth Bailey, Catherine Beauchamp, Nannie Bounds, Marie Carey, Nora Catin, Eurydice Crosley, Savilla Curtis, Sarah Elmore, Louise Fleming, Esther Ford, Nell Gibbons, Wilisie Griffin, Julia Hanley, Hilda Holden, Hope Holden, Agnes Jones, Marguerite Miles, Lydia Powell, Marian Propt, Doris Pusey, Christina Ruark, Elsie Saltz, Eloise Sexton, Ruth Sheriff, Mary Stevenson, Amanda Tyler, Bonnie Walker, Leon White.

Bronze badges were won by H. Bailey, M. Baltz, A. Barnes, R. Brougham, A. Brittingham, R. Bundick, T. Card, G. Cullen, C. Daugherty, F. Dryden, H. Dryden, D. Dunn, J. Ent, A. Fleming, G. Fitzgerald, P. Fitzgerald, D. Gordy, M. Hancock, J. Hankins, F. Hayman, S. Hayman, O. Howard, E. Johnson, H. Johnson, E. Jones, R. Jones, Jr., R. Keiser, A. Lankford, R. Mears, G. Mister, F. Mister, R. Powell, P. Renshaw, J. Robins, R. Peacock, J. Shrievs, A. Smith, J. Smith, K. Sterling, R. Sterling, T. Taylor, F. Todd, Jr., D. Tyler, F. Warren, T. Webster, M. White, W. White, J. Wilson, E. Wooster.

The silver buttons were won by R. Alder, H. Barnes, W. Barnes, A. Culver, W. Dixon, P. Hayman, W. Johnson, E. Pinto, J. Powell, P. Smith, N. Sterling, A. Stewart, E. Trader, M. Tawa, G. Walker, K. Waller, C. Ward, Jr.

COAL STRUCTURE BEING STUDIED

Bureau of Mines Conducting Microscopic Investigation at Pittsburgh Station.

OLD TESTS ARE UNRELIABLE

Reinhardt Thiessen, Research Chemist, Says Scientists of the Past Only Had a Vague Idea of the Composition of Coal.

Washington.—Conceptions of the origin, composition and general nature of coal held by scientists in the past are so different and contradictory that it is a difficult matter to determine the real extent of knowledge available or to rely on the literature, says Reinhardt Thiessen, research chemist of the Bureau of Mines. Scientists in general had only a vague idea of the composition of coal, the origin of its constituents, the transformation they have undergone, and the conditions they now are in.

The chemist did not have enough fundamental knowledge to attack its chemistry in the right directions. The fuel engineer, in turn, did not have a broad enough chemical basis for studies in combustion, distillation, cooking and other processes relating to the use of coal, hence the efficient utilization of coal in the industries has suffered from the lack of a proper knowledge of the nature of coal itself.

The Bureau of Mines, in order to clear up some of the confusion that exists and to get a more exact knowledge of the nature of coal in general, as well as to obtain certain fundamental facts, has been conducting at its Pittsburgh station a microscopic study of the structure of coal. One of the great hindrances to its study, from the time of the earliest investigators to the present, has been the difficulty in preparing thin sections for microscopic observation. Many attempts had been made to overcome this difficulty, and also to devise other means of study.

For a number of years the ash method was pursued, bits of coal being either totally or partly burned and the ash examined under the microscope. Later, maceration was tried with some success, but on the whole it failed to reveal the true nature of coal. More recently the method was tried of softening the coal with reagents and then cutting it into thin sections with a microtome. But this changes the coal too much to show its true appearance, besides the method is inexpedient.

Used Rock Method Study.

For the Bureau's work an adaptation of the method used successfully for years by petrologists in studying rocks and paleobotanists in studying plants was employed. A small rectangular piece of the coal to be examined was planed and polished on one surface, which was then cemented to a glass slide with a mixture of Canada balsam and marine pine. The piece was ground to a safe thickness on a lapidary's wheel and was finally ground to transparent thinness by hand on a fine hone. Examinations were then made through the microscope at magnifications ranging up to 2,000 diameters.

The Bureau says that even with the naked eye a bed of any bituminous coal is readily seen to be banded, and a chunk of coal is seen to be highly laminated and composed of layers varying greatly in thickness and in color, texture and fracture.

There are generally recognized and described two kinds of coal with respect to its texture; compact coal and mineral charcoal or mother-of-coal. In the compact coal, in general, two kinds of bands are recognized, apparently alternating and in sharp contrast. The one is of a bright jet-black, pitchy appearance and breaks with a conchoidal smooth, shiny fracture. The other is grayish black, of a dull appearance, and breaks irregularly. The former is generally called "bright coal" or "glanz coal" and the latter "dull coal" or "matt coal." The bright coal consists of lenticular masses greatly varying in thickness and breadth and entirely surrounded by or imbedded in the "dull coal."

From the study at high magnification it has been definitely shown that the "bright coal" represents constituents that at one time were pieces of wood, as of trunks, stems, branches and roots. They are called "anthraxylon." The "dull coal" is extensively sublimated into thinner sheets of "bright coal" and "dull coal." These thin sheets of "bright coal" also consist of definite components and are imbedded in a dull granular appearing matter. The "dull coal" may therefore conveniently be divided into two classes—the thin black shiny strips and the highly carbonized material, termed atritus, in which they are imbedded.

Derived From Plants.

It is conclusively shown that the thin strips of bright coal are also derived from woody parts of plants, and are anthraxylon, but represent thinner and smaller fragments than the thicker strips. There is no real distinction between the larger and the smaller or thinner anthraxylon constituents, there being a complete range in intermediate sizes, but the smaller are the more numerous. Some coals are largely made up of the thinner anthraxylon strips.

The atritus is composed of a number of groups or classes of constituents, most of which can be definitely identified and their origin determined.

These are the degradation products of cellulose (the essential constituent of cell walls), humic matter, spore exines, resins, remains of cuticles, highly carbonized material rodlets and some mineral matter. All are readily distinguishable in the photomicrographs.

Examination of a number of coals has shown that most of the coal is derived from the woody parts of plants, such as trunks, stems, branches and roots, including all the tissues that make up such parts. Some of this wood is represented by the larger anthraxylon, some by the smaller anthraxylon and some by the atritus.

The proportion represented in each of these varies in different coals and even at different levels in the same coal bed.

There is evidence that some of the cellulose matter is derived from the more delicate tissues, such as herbaceous plants, young or growing parts of plants, leaf tissues, etc.

The humic or decayed vegetable matter forms a considerable proportion of the atritus of all coals. It is derived from the cellulosic parts of plants, but includes, besides macerated, semi-decayed wood, some macerated gum, bark, pith, cortex and other more delicate parts. There is no sharp dividing line between the anthraxylon and the humic constituents.

Resins are found in all coals, but in greatly varying proportions, both in the anthraxylon and the atritus. When found in the anthraxylon, the resin is found in those tissues where it would be expected if the constituent were still a sound piece of wood. In the atritus the resins are easily distinguished from the other constituents.

Comparing Different Coals.

The exines or outer walls of spores are present in the atritus only and form an important part of all coals, but in greatly varying proportions. The spore exines are the most readily discernible constituents in all coals, and have definite characteristics.

Different genera and perhaps different species of exines differ in sculpturing, size, form and thickness of wall, and by means of these characters can readily be distinguished from one another.

The spore characters have been so well preserved in almost all coals that the spores of one kind of plants can be clearly distinguished from those of another kind. In some coal seams the larger bulk of the spore exines are of the same kind, in other seams two or three kinds may form the main bulk.

In comparing coals from different beds the predominating exines of one seam are easily seen to be different in some way from those of any other bed. Thus the coals of different beds, containing different spores, may readily be distinguished from one another.

Occasionally in a given coal seam a spore exine is found that differs from those of any other seam, but does not predominate. This spore exine may be a distinguishing characteristic of the coal seam in question, although not the predominant one. This fact promises to be of value in the stratigraphic correlation of coal seams. The Pittsburgh seam, for example, contains a small spore exine that is both predominant and characteristic and may thus be easily distinguished from any other.

All ordinary bituminous coals contain certain constituents that are more highly carbonized than the rest of the coal and stand out in sharp contrast to it on account of their opaqueness. In general there are two types of carbonaceous matter—one type shows definite plant structure and consists of the more highly carbonized parts of plant cells or bits of woody tissues or other plant tissues; the other shows no plant structure and is of indefinite origin.

Other constituents that are invariably present in all coals are the so-called rodlets or needles. Many are scattered helter-skelter through the atritus. Sometimes they are present in such large numbers that they form a considerable part of certain thin laminae. Many of the anthraxylon components, and conspicuously, many of the mineral charcoal constituents, inclose a smaller or larger number of rodlets that are evidently part of their structure.

Most of the tissues remaining in the coal with which rodlets are associated are recognized to be those of plants related to the Medullosae, well-known paleozoic plants allied to the cycads. From this it appears that some of the rodlets, if not all, are the semi-petrified contents of the mucilage canals of Medullosa-like plants. In the original plants these canals were elongated intercellular spaces containing gummy substances.

NOW HAS "FLYING WARSHIPS"

Great Britain Builds New Powerful Plane That Is at Home on Sea or in the Air.

London.—Details of an entirely new type of seaplane, two of which are under construction, and which can either fly or cruise as a warship, have been made public here.

They are larger and stronger than any seagoing aircraft yet constructed, and each will carry a crew of seven, with implants for five machine guns.

The vessels are being so constructed that, while being light, the hulls are sufficiently seaworthy to ride out the roughest waves, and will join in all navy maneuvers without a parent vessel, operating from a sea base just as the submarine does.

They have a range of 1,500 miles.

"Movie" Film Reveals Lost Daughter.

Pittsburgh.—The disappearance last August of a seventeen-year-old high school girl was partly solved when the mother, Mrs. J. A. Wattkins, reported to the police that she had just viewed a motion picture in which the missing girl played the part of a stenographer.

Walter—Was the dinner cooked to suit you, sir?

Diner—Yes, all but the bill. Just take that back and boil it down a little.

Needed Boiling Down,

ADJOURNED?

By ALICE BORDEN STEVENS

(© 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Dot and carry, dot and carry! Bob's crutch struck the stony ground and lifted, as in regular swing he skipped down the hill road in his own eccentric way, one shoulder lifted by the crutch, the other drooping with the bend of the well knee.

"Have a ride?" The sweet voice rang above the chug of the engine as the automobile came to a sudden stop. "Going to the village? I'll give you a lift." She spoke in a carefree, comical voice, as though every day she took in unknown cripples and landed them in unknown destinations.

"Sure!" he cried, deftly lifting himself through the door to the back seat of the touring car. Doris Berkeley didn't offer to help. She released the brakes and slid into the road again. "Where to, oh prince?"

"Golf links," he replied.

"Golf! All right; here goes." The road was winding, now through woods and now along cliffs dipping to the river. The car ran with an occasional catch. "Brake out of order? Can I help?" Bob Randall listened. "Knockin', isn't she? Oh, all right. I didn't mean to butt in; go on please."

Doris laughed. "I am sensitive about my driving, I suppose. I've had ill luck all day, now do you dare ride with me?"

"To the death," said Bob, more solemnly than he intended.

Inwardly he was swearing at his wooden leg and luck generally; but he did know the value of a brave front, and used it. With all the money in the world, had he a right to ask any woman to marry half a man? The dash and snap resolution that had made him a remarkable aviator gave him many a jolt as he limped through his days, by deciding on a future course sure to please his glorious spirit, only to find it impossible to his maimed body, however expert he might become in the use of makeshift limbs and tools. So, with his heart and soul insisting "Thou art the girl," his mind and will clamped down the lid of desire with the iron of fair play.

"There! It's jammed again! Oh, can you jump? You can't, of course!"

Doris tugged at the wheel in despair but it would not move.

"We're going over—I'm sorry—" and she held the wheel as the fence crashed with the impact.

The car pitched at right angles into the top of a tall sapling, and plowed, jerked, buzzed, down its bending length to the beach beneath, stopping with the front wheels in the water. The slide of 20 feet was, thus broken, not more exciting than a good loop-the-loop at the park, but the girl lost the grip of responsibility before there was time for fear, and the man cursed his impotency to help as a man who was not a wreck—a thing—an idiot—might help. To be strong—and useless!—what a pain!

All was still. Doris unfolded from the bottom of the car where the drop landed her, and peeped over the seat. "What? Aren't you dead? Thank heaven, though I've little right to even speak of heaven, after risking your life this way. How could I guess it would act so? It did it this morning, and landed me in the ditch, but the garage man said it was all right now."

"Turned it too hard, that's all."

Bob unscrambled the real and the artificial of his belongings and crept from the car. Holding by the back wheel, he handed her the crutch.

"Can you vault? If you can, you won't get wet. I don't know how we will get out of this." He looked up the sheer face of the cliff, "but first, let's get out of the machine, anyway. Sure, you're all right?"

"Why, they're alive!"

"Not after that fall!" The voices came incredulously from above their heads.

Leaning over the rail, two scared faces took account of conditions below. "Can you walk?"

"Sure!" called Bob, "if we had a chance." He looked up and down the rocky shore dubiously.

"How is the car?"

"It looks all right; wet, of course."

"Well, wait, and we'll get ropes and things from the garage."

When the climb was made with the aid of engines and pulleys and many strong arms and ingenious minds, two people rather shaken now that it was over, sat in the back seat, the girl smiling tremulously, but finding courage in the face of the man.

"Do you still want to go to the golf grounds?" she said.

"Well—under the circumstances—'Say,' broke in a gruff and practical voice, "that engine would go if it wasn't wet. As it is, we're going to tow you home; take the wheel, one of you!"

"Meeting adjourned," whispered Bob, as he helped Doris over to the driver's seat. "There's to be a happy ending, isn't there?"

She smiled and leaned a bit on his shoulder as she passed.

"Yes—adjourned," she said, and he braced his good foot against the iron rail, and dreamed strong dreams as they went on their way. Perhaps there was still in him, after all, a power to serve.

They have a range of 1,500 miles.

Write for a copy of our "Farmers' Handbook of Explosives," giving complete instructions and loading methods for ditching, stumping and tree-planting. Our dealer can supply you with DuPont Explosives and Blasting Accessories.

Bird Sanctuaries in Canada.

Bird sanctuaries are being created in suitable places throughout Canada to protect the breeding grounds of water-fowl and other important bird localities. The protection of water-fowl in the great plains is most important. The water-fowl need the protection because of the increase in agriculture and the drainage of many of their former nesting areas.

Verse Writing Taught in School.

In Chinese schools, just before the noonday recess, the teacher writes a sentiment, a proverb, or a proposition upon a slip of red paper and pastes it upon the door. Each boy as he goes out reads the lines, and in the afternoon gives to the teacher another line which will, with the first, make a couplet.

Then the Club Adjourned.

Some one told a good dog story and the inevitable better one followed. "We had a cat at home," related the quiet man in the corner, "which was fond of playing with the wife's ball of wool. One day the cat swallowed it, and some months later when kittens were born they were all wearing jumpers."

Soup Solo.

A little girl was annoyed by her sister's inhalation of her soup. She became restless and finally in spite of elders present at the table, she said: "I hear you enjoy your soup, Elsie."—Lawrence Telegram.

Twenty-third Day of October, 1921.

MATTHIAS MELSON, JR.
Administrator of Matthias Melson, deceased.
True Copy. Test:

LAFAYETTE RUARK,
Register of Wills
3-22

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters of administration on the estate of

MATTHIAS MELSON

late of Somerset county, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereof to the subscriber on or before the

Twenty-third Day of October, 1921,

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand this 15th day of March, 1921.

FLORENCE A. PHILLIPS,
Executor of William J. Phillips, deceased
True Copy. Test:

LAFAYETTE RUARK,
Register of Wills
3-22

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters of administration on the estate of

MARTHA A. MASON

late of Somerset county, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereof to the subscriber on or before the

Second Day of August, 1921,

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand this 25th day of February, 1921.

RALPH P. THOMPSON,
Executor of Martha A. Mason, dec'd.

True Copy. Test:

LAFAYETTE RUARK,
Register of Wills Son Co.
3-1

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters of administration on the estate of

THOMAS H. MARTER

late of Somerset county, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereof to the subscriber on or before the Twenty-first Day of October, 1921.

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand this 15th day of April, 1921.

JOHN W. ENN

MARYLANDER AND HERALD
Published Every Tuesday Morning
PRINCESS ANNE, MD.
Office, 87 Somerset Avenue, Local Phone No. 11.
Subscription Price $1.50 Per Annum
THEO. A. WALKER
Editor and Business Manager
All Communications Should be Addressed to the
Marylander and Herald
Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 8, 1921

Some people seem to think a divorce coupon ought to be attached to every marriage certificate.

It is hoped that President Harding's bull pup and airedale dog won't bark so loud as to wake up the government clerks.

Some folks swap husbands and wives so frequently that they must have got a trading stamp with their marriage license.

After tramping dirt into the house for a year many of the men of this town will kick on a day or two of house-cleaning.

A lot of people deny that they don't know all about Plymouth Rock as it's the place where the popular breed of hens originated.

The birds are promoting the home building movement anyway and none of them refuse to work because there are worms enough.

Some people in this vicinity may have wished they had gone to war when they heard that the Allies had taken over the German breweries.

The elation of the householder in being relieved from the care of ashes is turned to gloom by the perception that the lawn needs moving.

A growing realization reported among the young men of this town that the prettiest girls don't always make the prettiest tasting muffins.

Some people apparently think they can solve the industrial problem by calling strikes and throwing a lot more people out of employment.

No wonder it costs more for street cleaning as the women some years ago decided to give up sweeping the sidewalks with their long skirts.

Girls of the graduating classes don't worry much about the examinations, but it is taking great mental concentration to get their gowns right.

The man with the hoe is the subject of general commiseration, but when last seen he was riding up and down the field on the seat of a tractor.

The American people don't seem much inclined to beat their swords into plowshares, but a good many of them would like them made into golf irons.

The consumer wonders why they are arguing so long down at Washington about what kind of taxes to have, as whatever they decide on he has to pay it.

It used to be said that there is a family skeleton in some closet in everybody's house, but in these times a lot of people persist in keeping it on public view in the parlor.

Formerly wives were supposed to use the rolling pin as a weapon on their husbands. But in these days of bake shops and delicatessen stores a lot of the women either don't own a rolling pin or they couldn't find it in case of emergency.

SCHOOL ATHLETICS

Some people object to the amount of time and attention that school boys give to their athletic teams. Some promising athletes seem to give ten thoughts to baseball and football to every one they give to their studies. And sometimes they are the subjects of too much adulation. It may do harm to have successes come with so little effort.

On the other hand, the athletics work off a lot of surplus vitality that might make trouble in other ways. When the boys are pitching and batting base balls they are not getting tangled up with silly girls. Also they are not hanging around the curbstones spitting in the gutter. They are developing their physical condition learning how to play fair, to do team work and co-operate with others.

The worst fault of the athletic system is that it tends to concentrate attention on the few members of a team while the great majority of the students are left out. Usually they can't do much but sit on the bleachers and yell for the team. They need physical training more than anyone else, yet they get the least of it.

An effort should be made to see that every able bodied boy who wants to play games has a chance on some kind of a team. So if the system is to be conducted at all the boys should be divided into teams and entered in competition with each other. In that way many fellows of poor physical development who have not the special alertness required to play on a school's best team, could yet meet others of their own class and get a great deal of benefit. Also the girls whose parents desire them to have athletic training should have the same chance. It is hoped that every student in the schools of Somerset county will get some benefit from sports, and that none of those who want to participate will be forced merely to watch others.

GETTING BACK TO NORMALTY

Many people are impressed with the strangeness of the situation, that many are unemployed, yet the country is clamoring for construction of more houses, railroads and farms need more equipment and the world is full of work that needs to be done. What shall bring together the jobless men and the man's job?

The industry that gets back to pre-war prices first will recover full prosperity first. If any group of people would agree today to put up houses for pre-war prices they could get 100 times as much business as they could do. Idle men and idle capital should think about that.

ENCOURAGING THE LAW BREAKER

The recent "crime wave" is not merely the aftermath of war as many people say. The tendencies toward dishonesty and credulity that are so common in our life tend to encourage the more serious crimes.

The law breaker sees instances of business men who lie about goods, who steal from public funds through forms of graft and who charge exorbitantly for merchandise. He says to himself, why is it worse for me to hold up a man and take away $50 from him than for unscrupulous contractors to pay graft to corrupt politicians or for a profiteer to get 50 cents too much out of 100 different people and thus rob them of the same amount that I get by a much simpler process?

It is not easy to draw distinctions between different grades of dishonesty. They all shade into each other. Most profiteers sincerely think they are entitled to all they can get. Yet they may be robbing the public a hundred times more than the bandit with a gun.

Anyone who defrauds anybody else is creating an influence in favor of all kinds of crime. A man with a rough nature and an inability to think clearly jumps at the conclusion that fraudulent practices are universal. As he is not sharp enough to think out ways of stealing that will clear the law, he thinks that the only thing left is to commit some more brutal act, which he feels is no worse than other people are doing. His logic is faulty, but it has been encouraged by the acts of those who are more responsible for the moral effect of their conduct.

It is necessary to enforce the laws against crime and put the hold-up man in jail. But if society is going to discourage these violent acts it must also begin at the causes of them and punish acts of crookedness that help spread the spirit of crime.

Whooping Cough

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no panacea, codine or other opiate is given is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.

(Advertisement)

County Commissioners' NOTICE

The Commissioners for Somerset County hereby give notice that they will meet at their office in Princess Anne on Tuesdays.

May 3rd, 10th and 17th, 1920 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. for the purpose of making additions, alterations and abatements or transfers on the assessable property of the county.

These are the last sessions of the Board for making reductions and transfers during the year 1920, after which the books will close.

By order of the Board.

R. MARK WHITE, Clerk

4-28

Ratification Notice

In the matter of petition of W. J. Jones, James S. Rue, A. J. Ritzel and others for the appointment of Commissioners to lay out and locate a ditch for the purpose of draining certain swamp or low lands situated in Somerset County, Maryland, running from W. J. Jones' land to north branch of Ananias River.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of Benjamin J. Barnes, L. A. Chamberlain and Lafayette Ruark, commissioners heretofore appointed in the above case, and to correct any mistake or omission in the same, be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of George H. Massey, M. F. Carver and Walter Price, commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections to the report and return of said Board, to be held at least twenty days previous notice of the time and place of said hearing to be given by publication of this order in some newspaper published in Somerset County, Maryland, running through the lands of J. S. Gray, Theodore Swift and S. Gordon Massey to Marbury Cross Roads.

In the office of the County Commissioners for Somerset County, to wit: April 26th, 1921.

ORDERED: This 26th day of April, 1921, by the Board of Commissioners for Somerset County, Maryland, that the 24th day of May, 1921, the Board of Commissioners heretofore appointed to hear objections

MARYLANDER AND HERALD

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 3, 1921

Notes of Mortgages and Deeds will be published free—no additional cost to be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

BUSINESS POINTERS

Two (2) cents a line for the first insertion and (5) cents thereafter

For SALE—20 tons of Soy Bean Hay. W. P. TODD.

For SALE—Acetyline Gas Plant. Apply to W. P. TODD.

For SALE—Good Refrigerator, nearly new. At this office.

For SALE—Corn and Hay. FRANK M. CLINE, near Princess Anne.

For SALE—Hay, Fodder and Corn. W. E. WADDY, Princess Anne, Md.

For SALE—Good Pair of Mules. Get our prices on feeds. WESTOVER MILLS.

For SALE—Seed Oats, Red Clover Seed, Timothy Seed, etc. W. P. TODD.

For SALE—Early Cabbage Plants. M. F. HICKMAN, Princess Anne, Rt. 4.

TRUCK FOR HIRE—Call at office of Auto Sales Co., Princess Anne, for service.

For SALE—Hayman Potato Sprouts all ready to draw. G. L. HICKMAN, King's Creek, Md.

For SALE—Fresh Cow and Deering Binder, good as new. J. W. REVELL, Princess Anne.

We will have fresh killed veal every Friday and Saturday. CARRON & HANCOCK, Princess Anne.

FOUND—On Field Day a lady's fur necklace. Owner will receive information by calling at this office.

For SALE—Good Brood Mare; will foal soon; cheap to quick buyer. C. W. STRICKLAND, Westover, Md.

LOST—One 35x5 rim with U. S. Cord Tire. If found please return to C. C. WALLER, Princess Anne, Md.

For SALE—New Hay, clover and wheat mixed, ready for delivery this week. FRED R. NELSON, Westover, Md.

For SALE—Two-bottom, 12-inch, Oliver Automatic Tractor Plows. Will sell cheap if sold at once. H. H. HOLDEN.

For SALE—Tin-kage, Beef Scrap, Grit and all kinds of Chicken Feed, Roofing, etc. W. P. TODD.

For SERVICE—Registered Guernsey Bull, Rich Milk stock; also Registered Berkshire Boar. Fee $1.00 each. H. H. HOLDEN.

BRING YOUR SHOES to be repaired to F. D. Layfield. He will send them up to the Arcade Shoe Shop, Salisbury, three days a week.

WANTED TO BUY—Side-delivery rake and hay loader. Must be in good condition. EDWIN F. PAPENDICE, Eden, R. F. D., No. 2.

For SALE—Early Wilson and Yellow Mammoth Soy Beans. Write for sample and prices. Truck for hire; prices reasonable. W. T. HOLLAND, JR., Eden, Md., Route 2.

LOST—Eyeglasses. Left on seat of Chevrolet auto that parked in front of Lankford's Department Store last Tuesday afternoon. Finder kindly leave at Lankford's store for owner.

For SALE—A $5,000 note secured by mortgage on high grade Somerset county farm property can be bought to yield better than 8%. Address "Investment," care Marylander and Herald.

WANTED—LOW PRICE FARM LAND—I am looking for a farm costing between $2,500 and $4,500. Do not object to going some distance from town. Address CONFIDENTIAL, Box 226, Princess Anne.

GET BUSY, KEEP BUSY.—Is your job unsafe? Is it permanent? You want a life-long business? You can get into such a business, selling more than 137 Watkins products direct to farmers; if you own auto or team, or can get one; if you are under 50 and can give bond with personal sureties. We back you with big selling help; 52 years in business; 20,000,000 users of our products. Write for information where you can get territory. J. R. WATKINS CO., Dept. III, Winona, Minnesota.

Mr. E. I. Brown, of Annapolis, spent last week with friends in Princess Anne.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira P. Romberger and son, Ira, Jr., of Harrisburg, Pa., are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Vernon E. White.

Mr. W. Frank Dashiell, after a short visit to his father, Mr. S. Frank Dashiell, returned to Baltimore last Thursday night.

Col. Henry Page spent last Tuesday and Wednesday with his mother, Mrs. Henry Page. He returned Thursday to his present post, Fort Crook, Nebraska.

Miss Beatrice Tawes, daughter of Mr. Raymond R. Tawes, and Mr. Olin Ward, both of Crisfield, were married last week by the Rev. C. M. Elderdice.

Messrs. Thomas H. Bock, George W. Brown, John W. Morris and W. A. Brown left yesterday (Monday) morning on an automobile trip to Baltimore for a few days.

The Misses Sommerkamp will hold the closing exercises of their dancing class in folk and fancy dances Thursday, May 5th, at the Auditorium, at 4:15 in the afternoon. Admission, 25 cents.

Collector of Internal Revenue Joshua W. Miles, accompanied by Mrs. Miles, came to Princess Anne last Thursday night. Mr. Miles returned to Baltimore today (Tuesday) and Mrs. Miles will locate permanently in her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Lawton and daughter, Miss Martha Lawton, of Harrisburg, Pa., arrived in Princess Anne last Friday evening. While in town they will be guests at the homes of Mr. J. T. Taylor, Jr., and Mr. Vernon E. White.

"Tiger's Cub," that vivid story of Alaskan life from the pen of George Goodchild which created a furor on its publication as a novel, has been produced as a motion picture by William Fox and will be shown at the Auditorium tonight, Tuesday. The inimitable Pearl White is the star of this production.

Mrs. Cora Dayton, of Mt. Vernon, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Furman, at Chester, Pa.

Mrs. John Hopkins, of Salisbury, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Dashill, at Mt. Vernon.

Miss Nellie Ward, daughter of Mr. Henry Ward, and Mr. Elwood Parks, were married last week by the Rev. John L. Johnson, in Crisfield.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Speight and Mrs. T. L. Capps, of Norfolk Va., are visiting at the home of their uncle, Mr. E. Frank Jones, North Somerset avenue.

Miss Bebbie Stevenson and Miss Edna Mills have returned to their homes after spending a few days with their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. Mills, of near Salisbury. Public cordially invited.

Miss Mildred Holland has returned home after visiting her sister Elsie, who is attending Drexel College, Philadelphia. She also visited friends at Chester, Pa., Baltimore and Westminster.

On Friday night, May 13th, you will see at the Auditorium the new Charles Chaplin production that took a year to make—"The Kid." Six reels of joy! A laugh for every minute it took to make it.

Past Sachems James E. Dashill, Albert Mason, W. J. Thomas and J. Bernhard Thomas represented Mohegan Tribe, No. 88, of Mt. Vernon, at the Maryland Great Council of Red Men, held in Baltimore last week.

There will be a meeting of the Civic Club in the Court House last Saturday afternoon, May 4th, at 3 o'clock, at the home of the president, Mrs. G. W. Maslin. Discussion of the approaching "Clean-up Week," beginning May 9th, and other matters of interest will come up at this time. A full attendance is earnestly requested.

The petition of the Wicomico County Teachers' Association asking for an increase of $50 a year for each teacher, which has been under consideration by the County Commissioners, was declined by that body by a unanimous vote last Tuesday. The Commissioners expressed the opinion that business conditions would not warrant the increase at the present time.

The rangers of Easternho Forest No. 83, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, will give their third dance at the First Regiment Armory, Salisbury, on Tuesday, May 10th, at 8:30 p.m. The music will be furnished by the popular Jazz Orchestra of Newport News, Va. Don't miss this big opportunity of having a wonderful real jazz orchestra which gives you pep and puts some real snap in your step.

If you can think of anything that can be done to beautify or build up the town go to it. Keep your capital at home; patronize home industries; help your merchants so they can sell cheaper; always get your work done in your own town if possible; subscribe and pay for the home papers. If you follow these suggestions and your town does not improve and build up it will not be your fault. Try it.—Denton Journal.

"Crooked Streets," the new Ethel Clayton picture, coming to the Auditorium next Thursday night, is declared to be strikingly different in theme from any of the star's recent vehicles. The story, written by Samuel Merwin, is laid in Shanghai and is packed with the adventure and romance for which the "Paris of the East" is famed. Paul Powell directed and Jack Holt and Clyde Fillmore are included in the supporting cast.

A feature of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Maryland Bankers' Association, scheduled for May 18th and 19th, at the Hotel Traymore, Atlantic City, will be an address by William C. Redfield, former Secretary of Commerce. Mr. Redfield will speak on the morning of May 19th. His subject will be "Foreign Trade Relations." Other speakers on the program will be Judge Charles F. Moore, of New York, and Otto Wingo, of the House of Representatives.

The Shoreland Club was delightfully entertained last Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. Arthur Powell, at "Edge Hill." Those present were: Mrs. W. A. N. Bowland, Mrs. Frank M. Cline, Mrs. H. F. Lankford, Mrs. W. O. Lankford, Jr., Mrs. Early B. Polk, Mrs. H. C. Roberton, Mrs. J. G. Scott, Mrs. Charles Fitzgerald, Mrs. T. J. Smith, Mrs. J. T. Taylor, Jr., Mrs. J. D. Wallop, Mrs. R. P. Thompson, Mrs. S. H. Phillips and Miss Effie Handy, both of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Walter and Miss Powell were guests of the Club.

A family may patronize the mail order houses for years—may send them during that time hundreds of dollars—and at the same time they wouldn't accommodate this family for a two-cent stamp. This is the plain, unadulterated truth. If you think different try it out for yourself and see. These out-of-town houses do not know you—do not care to know you—are not interested in you in any way—only in the money you send them. Spend your money with your home merchant, who knows you, will trust you in time of need, who appreciates your worth, your business, be it ever so small, and your assistance in keeping money in Somerset county where it justly belongs.

Miss Lydia Melson and M. Dale Parks, both of Venton, were married at the M. E. parsonage on April 16th, by the Rev. W. F. Dawson.

Mr. Everett Cannon, who is attending Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cannon.

Last Saturday afternoon Miss Murry Gardner, of Venton, and Mr. William M. Lauchner, of Venita, Oklahoma, were married at Antioch Methodist Episcopal parsonage by the Rev. W. F. Dawson.

The Sunday School of Antioch M. E. Church will hold a social in their hall tomorrow (Wednesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. Ice cream, cake, pies, candy and fancy articles will be on sale. Proceeds for benefit of the Memorial Bridge. Public cordially invited.

April Weather Report

The weather report for the month of April as compiled by Mr. James R. Stewart, co-operative observer of Princess Anne, follows:

Maximum temperature, 84 degrees, on the 25th and 26th; minimum temperature, 28 degrees, on the 2nd and 11th; total precipitation, 3.82 inches; total snowfall, 3 inches. Clear days, 11; partly cloudy, 9; cloudy, 10. Killing frosts on the 2nd and 12th; thunderstorms on the 16th, 17th and 30th. The prevailing wind was southwest.

Strawberry Growers Meet

At a meeting of the strawberry growers in the Court House last Saturday afternoon it was decided that the County Agricultural Association should operate an auction block during the coming season for strawberries and other farm produce at the station in Princess Anne.

A committee was appointed by the president of the association to work out details of operating the auction block. The members of the committee are as follows: Strawberry growers, William T. Holland, B. C. Dryden; buyers, R. B. Bounds, Fred C. Culver. Association's purchasing committee, Albert Fitzgerald, W. A. Long, John B. Roberts, treasurer.

The association's representatives and the members of the growers and buyers committee will meet this (Tuesday) evening a 7:30 o'clock to discuss plans for operating the block.

The price for picking strawberries was set by the growers at 2 cents per quart.

The Sweet Uses Of Adversity

The business depression through which we are passing is teaching us some hard but most valuable lessons in the difficult art of getting along together, writes George E. Roberts in The Nation's Business. The progress of society is by hard work, intelligent planning, and thrift—thrift in saving out of to-day's production something that will help production tomorrow. If we could keep this idea of production always in mind, and recognize that the common welfare is advanced in this way and no other, we would avoid many mistakes.

Our chief troubles came through a want of common understanding of economic principles and of the real harmony of interests between all classes. Emerson said that the measure of civilization was found in "facility of association"—that is, in the ability of people to understand each other, get along together and work together for common ends.

When we think about it we will realize that it is not an easy matter for people to get along together harmoniously, trusting one another and composing their differences in good feeling.

This fundamental difficulty about getting along together needs to be always kept in mind in deliberating over our social troubles. Appreciation of it shows the problem in its true proportions and, at the same time, teaches us to be patient with it.

DARLIER FOUNTAIN PEN

DEON HONOR—BUILT FOR SERVICE

SAFETY SEALED IT CANNOT LEAK

No matter how it is carried in the pocket—upside down or sideways—ink cannot get out to stain hands or clothing. Each pen is sold you with a written guarantee which covers a one-year accident policy. Repair FREE.

Prices $2.50 to $5.00

Come in and let us fit your hand

JONES & COLBORN

DRUGGISTS

PRINCESS ANNE MARYLAND

Marriage Licenses

The following is a list of marriage licenses issued by the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Somerset County:

White—William M. Lauchner, 22, Venita, Oklahoma, and Murrell Gardner, 18, Venton, Md. Ryall Webster, 39, Deal's Island, and Elsie Curtis, 34, Venona, Levin C. Beauchamp, 31, Worcester county, and Edna E. Long, 27, Somerset county.

Evils Of Constipation

Perhaps the most serious of the diseases caused by constipation is appendicitis. If you would avoid this dangerous disease, keep your bowels regular. For this purpose Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent, easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.

(Advertisement)

PHILIP M. SMITH
Undertaker
and Embalmer
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND
Phone 42

DR. H. C. ROBERTSON
DENTIST

NITROUS OXIDE GAS WITH OXYGEN ADMINISTERED
Officer—Prince William Street.
Opposite Court House

Princess Anne, Maryland

Dr. R. O. HIGGINS
DENTIST

Successor to
Dr. E. W. SMITH
OFFICES 228 WEST MAIN STREET
SALISBURY MARYLAND
Gas Administered. Teeth Straightened
X-Rays Telephone 744

CHARLES BRAND
Phone No. 186

HOMER HUGHES
Phone No. 272

BRAND & HUGHES
Licensed Plumbers

POCOMOKE CITY, MARYLAND

Estimates Furnished

All Orders Given Prompt Attention

Satisfaction Guaranteed

LANKFORD'S DEPARTMENT STOREBed Sheets Sale

$1.25

Regular Bed Sheets

$1.10

While they last we will sell a lot of regular $1.65 value for the price of common seamed sheets. Save 50 cents if you get in early

W. O. LANKFORD & SON
EVERYTHING FOR THE HOME
PRINCESS ANNE MARYLAND

ATTRACTIONS
FOR THIS WEEK AT
THE AUDITORIUM
Motion Pictures

TUESDAY NIGHT

Peal White in "The Tiger's Cub," and a Rollin Comedy.

THURSDAY NIGHT

Ethel Clayton in "Crooked Streets"

SATURDAY NIGHT

8th Episode of the "King of the Circus," Sunshine Comedy, "Pretty Lady," and 2-Reel Western.

Admission, 22 cents

Children, 17 cents

Gallery, 17 cents

war tax included

Doors open 7:15; Pictures Start Promptly at 7:30; Second Picture at 9:00.

BIG CHIEF IS LEGION BOSS

Only Full-Fledged Indian at Head of an Ex-Service Men's Organization in America.

Maj. A. B. Welch of Mandan, N. D., is the only full-fledged Indian chief and commander of an American Legion post in America. He is wearing the official dress of a head chief of the Sioux, which he was authorized to assume when he was adopted by their great chief, John Grass, many years ago. He is now the duly elected chief of the Sioux, in addition to his duties as commander of the Gilbert S. Furtess post of the Legion at Mandan.

A veteran of the Spanish-American war and a participant in the Mexican border expedition, as well as an authority on customs, sports and ceremonies of the Indians, citizens of North Dakota were eager that Major Welch should lead a battalion of Indians to France. Major Welch volunteered to do so, but his offer was refused by the War department.

Nevertheless, a number of Indians were included in the detachment of men which Major Welch took to France in December, 1917. He served upon the staff of Gen. Hunter A. Liggett and on Armistice day was with the artillery of the Third division, south of Sedan. When he arrived in Germany he was named as officer in charge of civil affairs in the Coblenz area, which position he held until the divisions came back to the United States in September, 1919.

During the Philippine insurrection Major Welch was a participant in the

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

WOULD PROBE LEGION CLAIMS

International Association of Rotary Clubs, Shocked at Reports, Orders Nation-Wide Survey.

Aroused by charges of the American Legion that the government has failed in its duty toward disabled veterans of the World war, the board of directors of the International Association of Rotary Clubs has ordered a nation-wide survey of the situation "to prove whether American Legion reports are based on hysteria or upon actual facts."

The Rotary organization has endorsed the Legion's consolidation program for the relief of the disabled and will support the Legion's efforts to obtain its enactment into law, according to Chealey H. Perry of Chicago, secretary-general of the Rotary clubs' organizations.

"The 50,000 American business and professional men who form the 800 Rotary clubs of the United States, have started out to gather the actual facts in their respective communities with regard to the manner in which the United States government is handling the cases of disabled ex-service men." Mr. Perry stated in a letter to F. W. Galbraith, Jr., commander of the Legion.

The Rotarians have been shocked by the disclosures made by the American Legion regarding the circumstances surrounding the rehabilitation of Uncle Sam's disabled ex-service men. Each Rotary club is appointing a special committee to investigate conditions in its community and report to the club. Every club will then report to the headquarters office of Rotary in Chicago. The result will be that from 800 communities in every part of the United States will come evidence of business and professional men to prove to the American people whether or not the American Legion reports are based on hysteria or upon actual facts so revolting and heart-rending as to cause the whole American people to rise in their might and do justice to the men who sacrificed themselves for their country."

The Legion's national commander asserted that his organization will welcome the Rotary investigation.

"I hope its findings will be given the widest publicity," he said. "It will be found that the Legion has not overstated the case in any particular."

LEGION MAN IS LEGISLATOR

California Member of National Executive Committee Also Serves as Maker of Laws.

Although he was forty-one years old when the World war started, Charles H. Kendrick of San Francisco, Cal., member of the national executive committee of the American Legion, served with distinction in the army, and was cited by General Summerall, commander of the Fifth Army corps, "for display of exceptional devotion to duty while under bombardment by the enemy's guns" during the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

Mr. Kendrick was educated in the public schools of San Francisco and is engaged in the selling of real estate and development of agricultural lands.

Commissioned captain in the Remount service in August, 1917, Mr. Kendrick trained at Camp Dix, N. J., and was sent overseas in July, 1918, attached to the Twenty-sixth division as remount officer. He served with that division during the St. Mihiel drive, and at the opening of the Meuse-Argonne push was made remount officer of the Fifth Army corps. After the armistice he was promoted to major and discharged from service in February, 1919.

Mr. Kendrick's devotion to Legion affairs during the time he was a member of the state executive committee led to his selection as representative of California on the national body.

Press Women Are Interested.

The Women's Press club of New York city has become interested in American Legion welfare work and has adopted a ward at Fox Hills hospital, Staten Island, New York, containing 65 disabled veterans.

The club's committee visits the hospital twice a week supplying the men with articles of clothing, tobacco and reading matter. An idea sponsored by the club of providing "gardenettes" or window boxes for the various hospitals where ex-service men are being treated has become popular with relief organizations. The school children of Leonia, N. J., collected funds and bought a window box for the hospital.

Virginia Auxiliary Convention.

The first convention of the Women's Auxiliary of the Virginia Department of the American Legion will be held May 13 and 14.

Mere Words.

Not—Finks married because he was homesick.

Now—and now I suppose he is home again.

American Legion Weekly.

As a Modern Filipino Actually Looks

There are hundreds of thousands of this type of young men in the Philippines. They are to be the future rulers of the destinies of the islands.

The Filipino has been much misrepresented in the United States. This is largely because the Sunday supplements have made a specialty of portraying the semi-naked non-Christian hill tribes as "typical" Filipinos, which is far from the truth.

The total population of the Philippines is 10,350,640, of which 9,495,272 are Christians and civilized, and have been so for 300 years, possessing a culture and refinement that will compare favorably with that of other countries. The number of non-Christians is 855, 368, and only a small percentage of them are uncivilized. They are fast becoming educated, and will ultimately make good citizens.

Seventy per cent of the inhabitants of the Philippines over ten years of age, according to the last census, are literate. This is a higher percentage of literacy than that of any South American country, higher than that of Spain, and higher than that of any of the New Republics of Europe whose independence is being guaranteed by the Allies.

FOR STYLISH AND QUALITY PRINTING Bring your orders to the Marylander and Herald Office.

Sleepy Sickness.

Sleepy sickness is quite a different disease from the somewhat similarly named, but far more deadly, sleeping sickness, which is a tropical disease. Sleepy sickness was first noticed in England in 1818. There is little doubt that the cause of this mysterious complaint is a microbe. The microbes concentrate their attack on the brain, causing lethargy and facial paralysis, the patient lying for days in bed with motionless head and expressionless face, like a mask, reminding one of the effigy on a tomb. Doctors are not yet definitely agreed as to whether the hic-cough epidemic and the sleepy sickness are different diseases, or whether the one is merely a symptom of the other. Probably the latter view is the correct one, seeing that violent and prolonged hiccoughs were noticed in connection with the outbreak of sleepy sickness that ravaged Vienna in the early part of last year.

French Children Make Toys.

One of the most interesting toy manufacturers of France is not a factory at all, but a communal school in Paris, directed by an amateur designer, who during the war interested the children in the making of toys after his own designs, which were so original that there was an immediate demand for them. Furthermore, the children who were making the toys became so much interested in the work that a large sum was realized, part of which was turned into the treasury of the institution, but a part was spent in giving the workers some diversion. The business is to be continued on a larger scale than ever before.

Sun's Glow Changes in Shape.

The Gegenschein, the mysterious midnight glow in the sky opposite the sun, is not constant in form. Prof. E. E. Barnard finds that in early autumn it appears as a roundish diffused mass of noticeable light, sometimes 40 degrees or 50 degrees or even more in diameter. At no other point in its path is it so large. But in October it becomes smaller and elongated, a change believed to be due to the mingling of its light with that of an auroral band reaching it at this season of the year.

HE'S TYPICAL LEGION WORKER

Connecticut Man Is Chosen Department Adjutant for Period of Three Years.

Thomas J. Bannigan has received the unique distinction of being elected adjutant of the Connecticut department of the American Legion for a period of three years. He is also in charge of the service division at department headquarters.

Mr. Bannigan was born in Utica, N. Y. He received his education in schools of that city and in Georgetown Academy. He came to New Britain, Conn., 25 years ago and in 1911 moved to Hartford where he is engaged in the wholesale and retail cigar business.

During the war Mr. Bannigan served as a captain. Returning to Hartford at the end of the war, he gave his ef-orts to revitalizing his business. In February, 1919, when the city of Hartford needed a capable man to direct its Soldiers, Sailors and Marines' club, Mr. Bannigan was asked to take the job. Despite the call of his business, he abandoned it again, through patriotic motives, to supervise the club.

THOMAS J. BANNIGAN.

A record-maker in the formation and organization of Rau-Locke post No. 8, Mr. Bannigan soon became one of the most prominent Legionnaires in the state and was elected as the first state adjutant. Department headquarters had been without a permanent location, using a room in the Service club as quarters. Mr. Bannigan prevailed upon the city authorities to turn the building over to the Legion.

Mr. Bannigan is also a member of the national committee on war risk insurance and compensation and is chairman of the Hartford Elks' national soldiers' fund committee.

TO TURN HOSPITAL TO STATE

Texas Department of American Legion to Relinquish Control of Kerrville Institution.

The Texas department of the American Legion is completing arrangements to turn the Legion Memorial hospital at Kerrville over to the state, in order that the provisions of the bill appropriating $1,500,000 to expand the institution to a capacity of 600 tubercular patients, passed by the state legislature, may be carried out.

The Legion will maintain its hospital organization, which will co-operate with the state health officer, the superintendent of the state tuberculosi sanitarium and the chairman of the state board of control, the officers designated to supervise the expenditure of the appropriation.

Charles W. Scruggs, state adjutant of the Legion, has expressed the appreciation of the ex-service men as follows:

"The governor of the great State of Texas has met our expectations and I am firmly convinced has only consummated the sentiment of the people of Texas by signing the Legion Memorial hospital bill. The Legion is proud to share with the governor and with the legislature our inordinate pride in the consummation of this splendid endeavor and fulfillment of our fundamental duty to Texas' disabled ex-service men."

Kansas Passes Laws for Legion.

The voice of the ex-service men of Kansas, as represented by the American Legion, has been heard is manifested by the generous enactment of legislation beneficial to veterans of the World war. The legislature of that state has passed the following bills affecting ex-service men: An adjusted compensation bill, in the form of an enabling act; an act granting to all ex-service men of the World war the same rights, privileges and immunities granted to veterans of other wars; an appropriation of $1,000 a year for general expenses of state headquarters of the Legion; an act protecting the Legion and Auxiliary emblems from unauthorized use; exemption from taxation of all property held in the name of the Legion; an act placing under the care of Legion posts erring young boys paroled from industrial schools; and a boxing bill.

Eight Bars on Victory Medal.

George Leander, a member of Argonne Post of the American Legion at Des Moines, Iowa, has eight bars on his Victory medal.

Kill That Cold With

Neglected Colds are Dangerous
Take no chance. Keep this standard remedy handy for the first sneeze.
Breaks up a cold in 24 hours—Relieves
Grippe in 3 days—Excellent for Headache

Quinine in this form does not affect the head—Cascara is best Tonic
Laxative—No Opiate in Hill's.

ALL DRUGGISTS SELL IT

The Harry T. Phoebus Lumber Company

LUMBER FOR SALE

(ALL KINDS)

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

SEE US BEFORE BUYING

Phone No. 6 Oriole, Maryland

Buy Your School and Office Supplies at

The Big Stationery Store MEYER & THALHEIMER

10-12 N. Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.

DEPARTMENTS:

PRINTING and ENGRAVING,
OFFICE FURNITURE,
FILED DIVICES—Wood and Steel
SCHOOL FURNITURE and SUPPLIES
COMMERCIAL and SOCIAL STATIONERY,
BLANK BOOKS

Percheon Stallion

For Service

We will have our Percheon Stallion for service at the stables of Charles Hayman, Princess Anne, Thursday and Friday, April 28th and 29th.

Improve your horses through the use of a good sire.

J. J. RING, Westover, Md.

FRANK BRANFORD

Contractor and Builder

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Estimates Furnished

STRAWBERRY CHECKS
at $1.50 per M. Order now!

YOUNG WOMEN'S BOARDING HOMES

Chain of 29 Social Welfare Stations Provide Home Comforts for Employed Girls.

The Salvation Army has established a chain of 29 boarding homes throughout the country to provide the girls employed in mills, factories and department stores with good wholesome living conditions at small cost. All of the social amenities of the family are provided.

There are a great number of young women who are deprived of these pleasures for many causes. Eminent, respectable and self-supporting though they are, the average earnings in the positions which they occupy are not sufficient to meet their needs if the ordinary methods of living are followed.

With this need before them The Salvation Army met the problem by opening up comfortable and attractive boarding houses in the larger cities that have the home atmosphere introduced and maintained through the presence and supervision of the Salvation Army Matron, who is also a trained nurse and always the kind, loving friend to whom the girls may go with any problem at any time.

The facilities for music, and reading, the privilege of taking care of their own clothes in the laundry and the use of the electric iron to do their pressing, a sewing machine to facilitate their dressmaking and an attractive place where they may receive their young men and women friends, all combine to make these Homes popular and keep them filled to the limit of their capacity.

These are entirely self supporting, though the charge to the girls is far below what they would be required to pay in the average city boarding house.

The very splendid cheery Christian Home in Chicago accommodated 140 girls, at a charge of from $5.50 upward per week for steam heated, outside rooms, with hot and cold water, electric light, use of parlor, laundry and electrical irons and three good meals a day. These prices are about the same in all of the 29 other homes in the United States.

These establishments are simply furnished with an eye to practical comfort rather than showiness and the snowy linens, shining floors and wholesome meals together with the good cheer and safety with which the girls are surrounded, has made for them all a long list of waiting applicants.

In the cheeriest, sun parlor of one of these a brilliant literary woman, now hopelessly crippled through a railway accident, is passing serene and happy days, the pet of the household. Her paper looks out for her monthly rental and she is lavishing all of the love of a lone, friendless shut-in upon the matron and the girls of the Home who brighten her dreary life all they can.

SALVATION ARMY CHRISTMAS MERS.

Picture Christmas to children with NONE of the joys which the world at large is accustomed to associate with this holiday season.

Picture dismal, poverty stricken homes, cold, cheerless, desolate, no fire, little or no food, no toys, no trees, in short, none of the things that are the birthright of all children. It is to such as these The Salvation Army annually plays Santa Claus, in a constantly increasing volume of numbers, in all of the towns where the Salvation Army has corps.

So much a Yuletide institution has The Salvation Army Christmas Relief become, that in many cities the citizens begin to look and ask for Santa Claus Chimneys and Kettles to be set up on the corners when Christmas shopping starts in earnest.

This voluntary donation of the passerby is the only street solicitation made by the Army during the year, and the funds thus collected go into buying the food for family baskets and toys for the children.

If you ever packed one Thanksgiving or Christmas basket for a poor family, you can appreciate the spirit of love that superintends the packing of the thousands that go out from The Salvation Army each year to the needy.

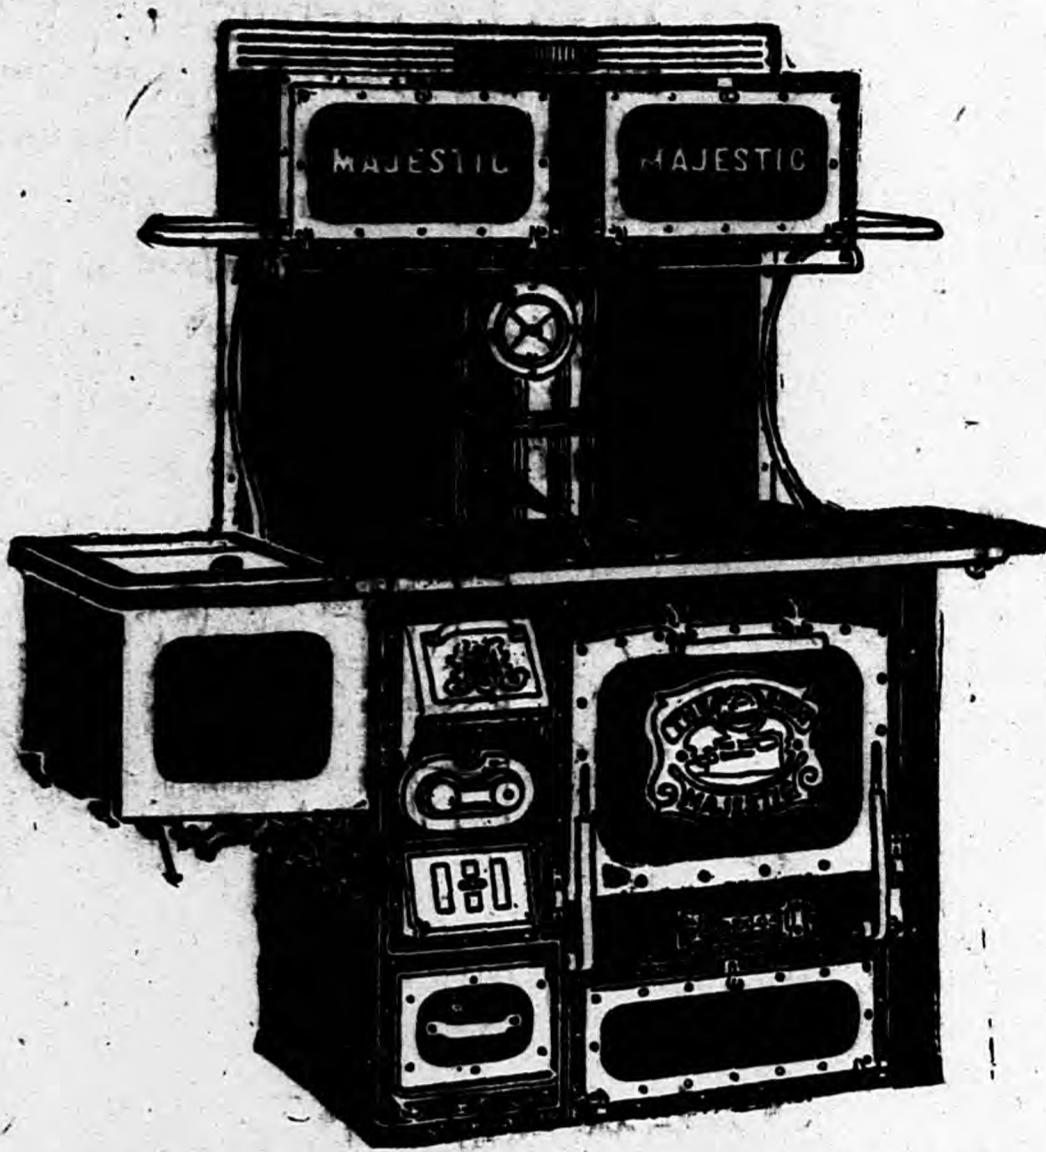

It is to the needy that they are sent, for when a name is sent in or a person applies for a Christmas basket, a Salvation Army worker pays a visit to that home and makes a report on the conditions, and upon that report rests the decision as to the sending of the basket.

Throughout the United States last year, 201,750 families received Christmas baskets, and 71,324 children's hearts were made glad with gifts or toys; while 16,466 received Thanksgiving baskets. In Maryland, last year 2,475 baskets were distributed and 2,300 children were given toys.

The baskets contain a bountiful meal for a family of five or six, and last year contained a baking chicken, celery, can tomatoes, corn meal, turnips, potatoes, onions, apples, coffee, sugar, bread and butter.

Heavy Ice.
By use of high pressure water has been converted into a new ice so dense and heavy that it sinks in water instead of floating.—The Argonaut.

25 percent Saved BY BUYING YOUR STOVES NOW

I have just received a carload of the Wilson Down Draft Airtight Heaters and a large assortment of

Cook Stoves and Ranges

These stoves were bought last January, since that time they have advanced 25 per cent. and we are giving our customers the advantage of this increase in price.

10 Per Cent Discount ON ALL ROBES, BLANKETS

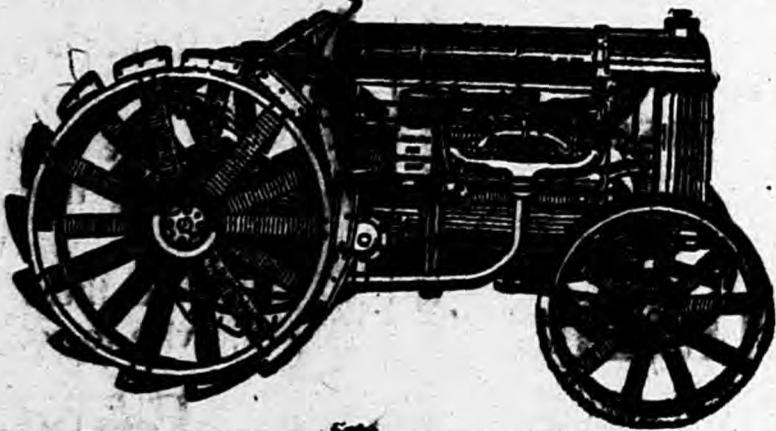

CARRIAGES, WAGONS, HARDWARE HARNESS

Ask your neighbor where to get a square deal and he will say TAYLOR'S HARDWARE STORE.

J. T. TAYLOR, Jr.
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Fordson

THE Ford Motor Company have just issued a book called "The Fordson at Work." This book is given free. Call in and get one. If you cannot call, write and we will mail you one without charge. It is not what the Ford Motor Company says about the Fordson Tractor, but what the army of users have to say. This book voices the hardest kind of practical experience. It shows in illustration the Fordson Tractor at actual work along some ninety different lines of activity. It will become a part of farm life; a beneficial part; a profitable part. Get order in for there's a rush coming.

WM. P. FITZGERALD
Authorized Dealer
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

WHEN in want of
STYLISH and QUALITY PRINTING
MARYLANDER AND HERLAD

Call or Phone

ASKS INDEPENDENCE WITH OR WITHOUT PROTECTION

Manila, P. I.—The people of the Philippines want independence in whatever form they can get it. Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, declared in an address before that

"Let the Americans in the Philippines and those in the United States know that the people of the Philippines covet their freedom, liberty and political emancipation so much that they will not hesitate to receive from the Congress of the United States complete and absolute independence without protection," Quezon said.

"If the United States, dictated by its own interests, decides to extend protection to the Philippines, well and good. We would accept that as a solution of our problems. If not, let us have absolute independence in whatever form we can get it."

President Quezon declared that if the question were put before the Filipinos for a vote, 98 per cent would favor absolute independence.

A TEST OF FAITH

(Chattanooga News.)

We have frequent occasion to protest against the efforts of Japan to impose her dominion upon unwilling peoples, yet we have thus far failed to exemplify the ideals which we recommend to Japan. If we should withdraw our sovereignty from the Philippines, in accordance with our repeated promises, we could the more consistently ask Japan to follow a similar course toward Shantung, Manchuria and Siberia. Our plea would have a great deal more force if we could make it with clean hands. To say that the Philippines are not ready for independence is merely to express an arbitrary, gratuitous opinion. It is perfectly easy to create conditions—in one's own mind—that no people ever could comply with. Our delay about respecting our own pledge is a reflection on our national good faith and a constant invitation to international complications in the far east.

INDEPENDENCE OF PHILIPPINES

(Atascadero (Cal.) News.)

The Philippines should be given absolute independence, which is their natural right, even if we are not yet aware that they have not yet reached the full stature of Americanism. We ourselves have not reached it so long as we insist upon governing other peoples against their will.

But that does not deter them in the least. They plank their money down and wait to see what happens, and they keep sharp eyes upon a man may have his winnings snatched, but a woman—never!

CROWD MONTE CARLO

Women Gamblers Outnumber Men at Famous Palace.

Many of Them Do Not Know When They Win or Lose, But That Does Not Deter Them.

London.—This is the women's year at the Monte Carlo casino, writes A. E. Manning Foster to the London Daily Mail. There have never before been so many women gamblers.

Just now English women predominate. There is a fair sprinkling of French, Italians and Spanish, and a few Russians. But it is essentially the season of English women.

Some of them, it is easy to see, have never been here before. They do not know their way about or understand the games.

But that does not deter them in the least. They plank their money down and wait to see what happens, and they keep sharp eyes upon a man may have his winnings snatched, but a woman—never!

There is novices' luck—who can doubt it?

These newcomers who win at the start are the stanchest and most regular attendants. They become bitten with the gambling fever and cannot miss a sitting.

Morning, noon and night they come to the rooms, drawn by an irresistible lure. For them the many other delights that are to be found in Monte Carlo and the neighborhood exist in vain.

Their lives are centered on the hectic pleasures of the tables. You can tell them at a glance. Their eyes are bright, their cheeks flushed and as the days go on a strained, anxious look comes into their faces and little hard lines develop at the corner of their mouths.

They have gambling fever badly. It must run its course. Most of them will get over it. A few will become chronic cases and will join that pathetic little band of women who cannot help it, women who must gamble as others must take drink or drugs.

Not that the majority of women who throng the rooms are of this kind. There are many sweet and lovely women who have their little flutters just for fun and as an occasional diversion.

The Tabernacle of the Great Outdoors

The Salvation Army is the most gigantic evangelistic movement for the common people in the world.

Recognizing neither creed, caste or color, it achieves where all other agencies fail.

With 18,000 officers in 70 countries and colonies, it preaches the gospel of love and redemption in 42 languages.

It has held 48,000 indoor meetings of which, in the United States, the attendance has been 5,949,454 and 34,000 street meetings with an attendance of 18,018,440 people.

Fully a third or 6,000,000 of this great army of the unchurched would never otherwise have heard a sermon.

In the United States alone, the Army has converted 32,738 converts as the result of the efforts of the Salvation Army workers in its 963 Corps.

In connection with its preaching has come the establishment of Relief Efforts and in the past year 10,375 families have been visited.

In order to facilitate its work, The Salvation Army issues 82 periodicals; its chief publication called the "War Cry," has a circulation of 6,171,940 in twelve months.

The Salvation Army conducts 58 hotels for men and two for women. In these establishments it has supplied 1,500,000 beds and 371,000 meals. In the year's span also 1,900 meetings have been conducted with an attendance of 32,170 people.

The Army reports 32,738 converts as the result of a year's work which means just that many less charges upon the public charity and that many more producers and good citizens.

The Salvation Army seeks those who will never seek the churches and they find them in the slums, paths and streets in all degrees of destitution and desperation and indifference. The voice of the Army speaker or singer is the "Voice crying in the Wilderness," the lonely wilderness of the city streets.

So also in the prisons and jails, the poorhouses, hospitals and army camps, the Gospel is carried in a spirit of fellowship and love that sooner or later rouses a spark of manhood in the lowest criminal.

Thus the Salvation Army supplements the work of the churches and indirectly recruits for them.

Always Possible to Go Wrong.
Every great truth which inspires us, has a reverse side which warns us. It is well to keep before our minds the possibilities of right development, but we must not forget that we can develop in either direction.—EXchange.

Cement and Concrete.
There is something of a confusion in the public mind about the terms cement and concrete. Cement is the dry, powdered stone, but when it is mixed with an aggregate of water, and gravel or sand, it becomes concrete.

FERTILIZERS

FEEDS

Our Feed Line
Is Complete

CALL ON US

Let us quote you

Princess Anne Milling Co.
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

FARMIXER

A Concrete Mixer Built Especially For The Farmer.

Large enough for any farm job. Make your concrete improvements yourself and save time and money on foundations, floors, walks, silos, water troughs, etc.

ON SKIDS For hand mixing, $59.50

ON TRUCK For hand mixing and ready for your own engine, $83.00

ON TRUCK With engine, $158.00

F. O. B. Baltimore.

Send cash with order and we prepay freight.

We build larger sizes for Builders and Contractors.

JOHN C. LOUIS,
221 S. EUTAW ST.
Baltimore, Md.

Flour Meal

FEEDS

Scratch and Chick Feeds

HAY

HAMPERS

Shingles

Lath

LUMBER

The Cohn & Bock Co.

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

SOMERSET COUNTY HAPPENINGS

News Items Gathered By Our Correspondents During The Week

Mt. Vernon

April 30—Mrs. James Bailey and little girl have returned home from Baltimore.

Mr. Dewey Harrington has returned home from a ten day's trip to Baltimore and Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bounds and little girl have moved home after spending the winter in Chester, Pa.

Mrs. J. C. Price and Brady Sims are home. They have been employed in Chester, Pa., for several months.

There will be evening prayer and sermon at Grace Protestant Episcopal Church next Sunday, May 8th, at 7:30 o'clock.

The B. C. & A. Railway Company is repairing the wharf here and expect to have it completed before the busy season opens.

Don't miss attending "The Old Maid's Club," at Grace Guild Hall, Thursday night. This is a one-act comedy and the proceeds are for church purposes. Admission 25 cents. If Thursday night is stormy come on Friday night.

Venton

April 30—Mr. Wm. Bloodsworth, who has been quite sick, is able to be out again.

Miss Julia Shores, of Deal's Island, spent the week-end with Miss Juanita Reese.

Mr. Isaac Tyler is spending some time with relatives in Venton and Chance.

Mrs. Matt. Nelson, Jr., and Mrs. Dale Parks spent Tuesday with Mrs. Martin Willing.

Miss Juanita Reese spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Reese.

The Ladies' Aid of Venton will render a drama at the Jr. O. U. A. M. Hall Friday evening, May 6th. Admission 25 cents.

Mr. Eddie Sims returned to his home in Baltimore Monday evening after spending some time with his family at the home of Mrs. Matt. Nelson, Sr.

Perrytown

April 30—Mr. Maurice Evans, U. S. Navy, visited his sister, Mrs. Ernest Howard.

Rev. Paul Walker conducted baptismal services at Whitesburg recently, at which time about twenty persons were baptised.

Mr. Harold Long, accompanied Rev. Paul Walker to Trappe, Md., last week, at which place they are conducting revival services.

Mr. Levin Beauchamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Beauchamp, of Whitesburg, and Miss Edna Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Artie Long, of this place, were quietly married at the Episcopal rectory in Princess Anne Saturday evening, April 23rd, by the Rev. Walter Archbold, D. D.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

What a Hoop of Happiness It Would Bring to Princess Anne Homes

Hard to do housework with and aching back.

Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains often come from weak kidneys.

Twould save much needless woe. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. Ask your neighbor!

Read what a Princess Anne citizen says:

Mrs. Victoria Sexton, Antioch avenue, says: "I was in a run down condition with kidney trouble. My back ached constantly and kept me feeling miserable. My housework tired me out and I became weak and languid. Doan's spells came over me and spots floated before my eyes. My feet and ankles were swollen at times and my kidneys never acted regularly. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended at times and I used them from Jones & Colborn's drug store. They helped me wonderfully by relieving all symptoms of kidney trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Sexton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

[Advertisement]

Percheon Stallion For Service

We will have our Percheon Stallion for service at the stables of Charles Hayman, Princess Anne, Thursday and Friday, April 28th and 29th.

Improve your horses through the use of a good sire.

J. J. RING, Westover, Md.

$3.50
ROUND TRIP
War Tax 8% add'l

Philadelphia $3. Wilmington $3.
Sunday, May 8
SPECIAL TRAIN

Leaves Princess Anne, 5:16 a. m.

Proportionate Fares from Principal Stations between Crisfield and Dover.
Returning, leaves Philadelphia 6:05 P. M.; Wilmington, 6:51 P. M.

Sale of Tickets Begins May 6

Pennsylvania System

Sunday Excursion

Philadelphia $3. Wilmington $3.
Sunday, May 8

SPECIAL TRAIN

Leaves Princess Anne, 5:16 a. m.

Proportionate Fares from Principal Stations between Crisfield and Dover.
Returning, leaves Philadelphia 6:05 P. M.; Wilmington, 6:51 P. M.

Sale of Tickets Begins May 6

Pennsylvania System

Selling the Goods.
Commercial Traveler—"My love for you, my dear Louis, exceeds anything that can be offered in that particular line!"—Strix, Stockholm.

Mahua Tree Produces Alcohol.
A new source of alcohol for commercial purposes has been found in the mahua tree, which flourishes in India.

Much Better.
Better to put your best foot forward than to depend on the left hind foot of a rabbit.—Boston Transcript.

Another Revision.
. When fashion enters the door, bills in the window.—Boston Transcript.

True Greatness.
True greatness is the struggle to be free.—Phillips Stewart.

Watch The Market By Telephone

Keep in touch with your market by long distance telephone.

Haul or ship your produce when the price is right. The extra return on a wagon load or truck full will repay, many times over, the small cost of a telephone call.

The up-to-date farmer finds out when to take his marketing to town. He makes his telephone a productive, paying part of his farm equipment.

Your telephone directory tells about the different kinds of long distance calls and how to make them.

Ask the operator the rate to any place.

H. W. CARTY,
District Manager,

The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company

Will Open Passenger Airship Line

Announcement was made in Washington last Thursday of plans to establish there the headquarters of an airship corporation, said to be the largest in the world, with a capital of $50,000,000.

According to a statement by C. A. Tinker, those materially interested in the corporation include Fred S. Hardisty, consulting engineer, of Washington; Edward Schildhauer, who designed much of the electrical equipment on the Panama canal; H. S. Jacoby, Henry Harrison Supplee and Lieut. Hanson E. Ely.

Plans for the first ship, as announced by Tinker, provide for a craft 752 feet long, 96 feet in diameter, with a gas capacity of 3,355,000 cubic feet and a speed of from 80 to 100 miles an hour with a cruising radius of 10,000 miles.

The new corporation proposes to open its first commercial passenger line between New York and Chicago, later extending the line to San Francisco.

FRANK BRANFORD
Contractor and Builder
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND
Estimates Furnished

NEW CRATE FOR Strawberry Growers

I am making a new and improved Crate—better ventilation, easier to pack in, reinforced bottom, lighter in weight—which is stronger made than those now in use and will cost you no more than the inferior crate made by others.

We Lead, Others Follow
S. S. BREWER
PRINCESS ANNE, MD. ROUTE 1

DELCO-LIGHT
The complete Electric Light and Power Plant

Endorsed by more than 70,000 satisfied users throughout the world

ERNEST M. HAYMAN
Hardware—Stoves—Ranges
Paints, Oils and Varnishes
Farm Implements, Building Materials
Heating and Plumbing
Princess Anne, Maryland

AENTS WANTED BLISS NATIVE HERBS is a remedy for the relief of Consumption, Indigestion, Biliousness, Rheumatism, Kidney Troubles. It is well-known everywhere. The remedies are sold at a price that allows agents to double their money. Write A. G. Bliss, 111 Main St., W. Princess Anne, Del., for Almanac, Cook Books, Health Books, which are furnished free of charge to agents. Mention this paper. [S-8]

STRAWBERRY CHECKS at $1.50 per M. Order now

KIRSCHBAUM CLOTHES · SPRING 1921

NEW CLOTHING PRICES

$25 to $45

In all the clothing world, we know of no house which has gone to such lengths to meet the public viewpoint as the Kirschbaum shops. Their whole Spring output of fine clothes is priced without profit—enabling us to offer values at $25 to $45, which we believe are without equal. To prove it—only compare!

Copyright, 1921,
A. B. Kirschbaum Company

John W. Norris & Sons, Inc.

PRINCESS ANNE

Scratching For a Living

Too many men scratch for a living—never getting beneath the surface—always missing the fertile ground below.

The man who sets aside a portion of his income regularly in tilling rich soil. He is hoeing a straight row towards contented years.

At Seedtime Prepare for Harvest

As you deal with Mother Nature she in turn will deal with you. The quality of Plant Food used and the cultivation given, determine what your Harvest will "B."

TILGHMAN'S
FERTILIZERS

Will supply the Plant Food Best suited to your crops.

To get what your crops need when you want it, phone

W. B. Tilghman Company

SALISBURY, MARYLAND
Phone No. 30

PEOPLES BANK OF SOMERSET COUNTY

PRINCESS ANNE, MD.

Sure We'll Help!

The farmer in Somerset county or in surrounding counties who does not know the Bank of Somerset as a bank which always helps the farmer, has only to ask some of his friends and neighbors what they know about us.

We have earned our reputation as "the bank that helps the farmer" and are proud of it.

If there is any way that we can be of service to you at this time, come in and see us.

BANK OF SOMERSET
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Capital and Surplus $ 240,000.00
Resources . . . 1,500,000.00

Strawberry Checks Printed at $1.50 per M

MARYLANDER AND HERALD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF PRINCESS ANNE AND SOMERSET COUNTY

THE MARYLANDER. Established 1882
SOMERSET HERALD. 1888

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND, MAY 10, 1921

Vol. XXIII No. 40

SEVERAL PROPERTY TRANSFERS

Recorded In The Office Of The Circuit Court For Somerset County
Helen Porter Richardson from Irwin E. Milbourne and wife, land in Crisfield; consideration $1000 and other valuable considerations.

Isaac E. Powell and wife from Alonso R. Hersey and wife, land in Crisfield; consideration $1,000.

W. Jerome Sterling from R. Mark White, treasurer, land on Smith's Island; consideration $7.88.

George I. Hallowell from William F. Burke and wife, land in Crisfield; consideration $2,000 and other valuable considerations.

Samuel R. Wright from Luther T. Miles and wife, land in Lawson's district; consideration $10 and other valuable considerations.

Samuel R. Wright from Guy Garrison and others, land in Lawson's district; consideration $10 and other valuable considerations.

Mary F. C. Ford from Wm. H. Adams, land in Fairmount district; consideration $5 and other considerations.

Alexander J. Gerald from David M. Nelson and wife, land in Crisfield; consideration $500.

Memorial Day Proclamation

The annual Memorial Day proclamation, setting aside May 30th as a holiday, was issued by President Harding last Tuesday. The text follows:

"Whereas, This nation has been conceived in prayer and devotion by men and women who were moved under God to found a nation where principles of right should form the lasting corner stone; and

"Whereas, These principles, purchased at the price of great sacrifice, have been fostered by a worthy posterity; and

"Whereas, The great war has lately laid its costly demands upon our lands; now;

"Therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim Monday, the 30th day of May, a day already freighted with sacred and stimulated memories, a day of public memorial. I invite my fellow citizens fittingly to pay homage on this day to a noble dead who sleep in homeland, beneath the sea or on foreign fields, so that we who survive might enjoy the blessing of peace and happiness and to the end that liberty and justice, without which no nation can exist, shall live forever."

Protestant Episcopal Convention

The Protestant Episcopal Convention of the Diocese of Easton convened in Berlin last Tuesday and continued until Thursday. Bishop Davenport presided and the convention is said to have been one of the most important in the history of the diocese from many standpoints.

A number of prominent clergymen discussed various phases of church work during the convention. Among them were the Rev. Charles E. McAllister, of Washington, D. C., and the Rev. Charles N. Lathrop, of New York. On Tuesday evening Dr. Charles N. Lathrop, of New York, and the Rev. E. L. Woodward, of Virginia, addressed the convention.

Bishop Davenport delivered the annual address on Tuesday and it showed the work in the diocese was in a flourishing condition.

Each church of the diocese was represented by the rector and at least one lay delegate, making quite a large body. St. Andrew's Church was represented by the Rev. Walter Archibald and Col. Henry J. Waters.

Postmaster Polk Encouraging Saving

Valuable work is being done by Mr. Earle B. Polk, postmaster of Princess Anne, in the movement to restore the cost of living to a normal basis by encouraging saving and checking extravagance and waste.

On behalf of the Government Savings Organization of this district he has recently distributed to the patrons of the Princess Anne postoffice 100 letters emphasizing the value of regular saving, and investment in government savings securities. He has also distributed the same number of leaflets describing these securities and showing how they increase in value from one month to the next.

The co-operation of the Princess Anne postmaster is in line with the attitude of other forward-looking postmasters in the Fifth Federal Reserve district, who by their loyalty and interest are materially advancing the savings movement and are lending no small aid to the restoration of more stable business conditions.

Love is a beautiful thing, and it makes the world go 'round and all sorts of things like that, but it positively will not be taken by the grocer and the banker.

URGED NOT TO PLANT TOMATOES

Farmers Asked to Leave "Canning House" Tomatoes Out of Crop
Mr. C. C. Gelder, president of the Somerset County Agricultural Association, has sent out the following letter to the farmers of Somerset county:

"I feel it my duty as the president of your association and as a tomato grower, to especially urge you to leave "canning-house" tomatoes out of your crop rotation for 1921.

"If the farmers will refuse to plant and the canners refuse to pack tomatoes, thereby allowing the canned goods market to clear up, we will approach 1922 with renewed confidence and again be in a position to grow this crop on a profitable basis.

"I understand that some of the canned goods brokers are sending out seed to the canners for distribution to the farmers. Do not plant the seed even if they make you a present of them. Stop and consider the broker's position. He wins no matter how much you lose, as he gets a commission on every can he handles regardless of the price to you or the canner.

"There has been a great deal said to show that the "middleman" has been the cause of small profits to farmers, and when they pursue methods which can serve their own selfish purposes, it is all the greater proof that they should be eliminated as far as it is practical to do so."

State Policemen Visit Shore

Looking spick and span in their khaki uniforms, 22 members of the new State police started Monday morning of last week on a tour of the Eastern Shore, where they were sworn in as deputy sheriffs of the different counties.

They left Easton Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock and arrived in Princess Anne about 10 o'clock and were sworn in as deputy sheriffs for Somerset county by the clerk of the Circuit Court.

Accompanied by their commander, Col. E. Austin Baughman, State Automobile Commissioner, they left here for Pocomoke City and thence to Snow Hill. From there to Salisbury, reaching that place about 3 o'clock. After being sworn in as deputy sheriffs they and their commander were tendered a reception and luncheon before they left for Cambridge where they arrived at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening.

A staff correspondent of the Baltimore Sun said: "Those who have seen the crew in action have something to look forward to. The reception on the Shore has been in the nature of an ovation. Running about 50 yards apart, the machines make a string about a mile long. They go like a green streak. There is about them an enchanting roar of engines and delicious reek of gasoline. They come by as regularly as clock-work, for they can ride, and they know how to keep an even line. They have laid the rural imagination by the ears. They move swiftly to strange places and are hence romantic. They are here now and gone in a moment, and are hence mysterious. They perform miracles of locomotion on their machines and hence they seem incredibly swift."

Special Movies May 16th

The very zenith of dramatic execution seems to have been reached in "The Sin That Was His," the new Selznick picture, featuring William Faversham, which will be the feature at the Auditorium next Monday night, May 16th.

The story upon which the picture was based was written by Frank Packard, author of "The Miracle Man," and it is a question if in this latter he has not eclipsed his former success. This picture tells a big, gripping story of a man against whom fate had set her mark, his fight to cling to the better things of life, misunderstandings that send him to the depths of despair and finally his rejuvenation through the mediums of a good man's faith and a pure woman's love.

This 5-reel photoplay will be followed by a 2-reel comedy, Charlie Chaplin, on "Easy Street."

These pictures are for the benefit of the charity fund of Shekinah Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Princess Anne, and seeing Charlie Chaplin on "Easy Street" is well worth the price of admission.

Auction Block In Operation

The Somerset County Agricultural Association has erected an auction block at the Princess Anne station for the marketing of the strawberry crop. The block will probably be used for vegetables and early potatoes. The committee appointed by the president of the association at the last meeting of growers met last Tuesday evening to consider details for operating the block.

Mr. John E. Holland was employed to operate the block during the strawberry season.

TO ROUND-UP DRAFT EVADERS

A List of 17,000 Names Being Prepared To Go To The Printer

With the first of the 17,000 names of draft evaders in the Third Army Corps Area, which embraces Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia, already in, Major Robert M. Perkins, assistant adjutant of the area, and a corps of assistants are going over the lists and sending them to the printer. Major Perkins expects the first few lists to be ready for newspaper publication soon after the middle of the month.

The plan of the War Department is to send from 10 to 20 lists, each list representing the delinquents from a single draft board, to headquarters of the area daily. These will go out to newspapers all over the area as fast as they are returned from the printer, or about the same rate as they come from Washington. On those lists thus far received the number of names has been from 4 to 20.

A reward of $50 will be paid by the Government for the apprehension and delivery at the nearest military post of any man whose name appears on the lists, expenses incurred being included in that sum. In no case will more be paid. It is expected that every citizen will be authorized to make such an arrest.

The commanding officer of the post will make an investigation of each case. According to present plans his findings will then be reviewed and the man either discharged as not guilty of draft evasion or brought to trial.

China's Appeal For Help

China's appeal for help is pathetic in the extreme because it comes with so little force. There on the other side of the Pacific are 5,000,000 helpless men, women and children who have nearly finished their course in this world. Famine and pestilence have already taken their tolls; and it is certain that the condition of misery in which these millions live is such as to doom many or most of them to tragic deaths, unless help comes. And they are so far away that America cannot comprehend their need. They are an alien race whose customs are so at variance with ours that the average man is perhaps excusable if he refrains from giving, because, as he has been told, the Chinese can live on practically nothing. It may be that they can, but they cannot live on absolutely nothing. It is to provide the almost incomprehensibly small minimum of food and clothing which will enable them to survive that the officials of the China famine fund are making this week a special period in which they ask that their appeals for help shall be answered.

Seven Nurses To Graduate

The commencement exercises of the Peninsula General Hospital Training School for Nurses will be held at 8 o'clock p. m., May 12th. The exercises will take place in the Young Men's Christian Association Building, Salisbury, and there will be seven graduates, six from this State and one from South Carolina, as follows:

Nora Lee Short, Mattie May Perdue, Velma Cathell Livingston, Ruth Adelaide Banks, Mary Amelia Disharoon, Mattie Mildred Smith, all of Maryland, and Ruth Parsons Anderson, of South Carolina.

Former United States Senator Jackson, president of the board of directors, will present the diplomas. The address to the graduates will be delivered by Bishop G. W. Davenport, of the Diocese of Easton, and prayer will be offered by Rev. R. L. Shiple, pastor of Bethesda Methodist Protestant Church.

Crisfield Taxpayers Win

The appeal of a number of Crisfield taxpayers to the State Tax Commission, seeking relief from the alleged excessive assessment made by the Mayor and Council for 1920 on the real and personal property has been dismissed by the Tax Commission, which ordered that a new assessment of real property be made for the levy of 1921. The appeal caused considerable interest throughout the State because of several legal points involved.

This order was made because of some inequalities existing in the assessment of real property as made in 1920. The assessment made last year about doubled the taxable basis, increasing it from $1,969,952.15 to approximately $4,000,000.

Card Party Wednesday Night

A card party for the benefit of the Princess Anne Public Library will be held at the Firemen's Hall tomorrow (Wednesday) evening, May the 11th, at 8 o'clock. Tables for bridge, five hundred, dominoes and other games will be arranged. Admission, 50 cents. Ice cream and cake will be served free.

"Clean-Up Day"

Wednesday, May 11th

By order of the Town Commissioners, May 11th has been appointed as "Clean-Up Day." All householders are called upon to clean up garrets, cellars, back yards and alleys and put the trash at curb. The Civic Club will furnish special carts to remove the refuse.

RYAN REQUESTED TO RESIGN

Collector Of Port The First Victim Of The G. O. P. Axe

Collector of Customs Wm. P. Ryan last Friday was requested formally by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

This action, taken without warning to the Collector, is believed to preface an early and complete sweep by the Republican administration of the major Federal offices in Baltimore.

No charges of any kind are made against Mr. Ryan, whose term does not expire until September, 1923.

Senator France assumed responsibility for the call for Mr. Ryan's resignation. He explained that he intended no reflection whatever on Collector Ryan, for whom, he said, he has the highest regard. His purpose was to save Charles H. Holtzman, of Cumberland, selected for Collector of Customs by the Republican Patronage Board, the necessity of waiting the two remaining years of Mr. Ryan's term before getting the office. Mr. Holtzman, the Senator said, is his friend.

Senator France acted through the White House. He called on Harding some days ago, and explained that he was anxious for Mr. Holtzman to get the collectorship without delay. The President told him he would put it through, and apparently the order was started promptly on its way through the regular channels, and met with no opposition from the new heads in the Treasury.

The other members of the Maryland delegation, whether they would have been pleased or displeased, seem to have been in ignorance of what was happening.

Hammond Sues For $5,000

Mr. George W. Hammond, of Nuttall's district, filed a suit Monday of last week in the Circuit Court for Wicomico county against Frank Tsovine, of the same district, "for that the said defendant on or about the 16th day of March, 1921, in Wicomico county, Maryland, assaulted the plaintiff and then and there beat, bruised, wounded and otherwise ill-treated him, to the great loss and damage of the plaintiff. And the plaintiff claims therefore the sum of $5,000 damages."

When it is discovered that Charlie is not the Kid's father, the authorities seek to separate them, but the Tramp has spent his life evading authority and does it again. The Woman discovers that the Kid is her abandoned baby and the picture draws to a happy close.

U. S. Accepts Allied Invitation

The Administration has decided to accept the invitation to send an unofficial representative to the Supreme Council and the Council of Ambassadors in Europe.

The decision was reached after President Harding and his Cabinet had devoted virtually all of last Friday's regular meeting to discussion of the subject. A note informing the Allied Powers of the acceptance will go forward shortly.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

The decision carries with it also a determination to have the United States represented on the reparations commission in connection with the German war indemnity.

Roland W. Boyden, now serving as American commissioner at Paris, will be the American on the reparations commission.

TAKES UP SCHOOL GARDENS

POLISH CHILDREN ENLISTED IN THE GARDEN ARMY BY THE JUNIOR RED CROSS OF AMERICA.

Washington.—Modeled along the lines of America's school garden army, is the force of Polish children formed by the Junior Red Cross of America when that organization was called upon to carry relief and cheer to the children of Kosciusko's land. With the first warm spring days thousands of youngsters in Poland will gather up their rakes, rakes and spades and advance upon vacant lots, determined to convert them into vegetable and flower gardens, just as will young America.

Of the many things which the Junior Red Cross introduced to the children of Poland, community gardens made the strongest appeal. It not only gave the children a chance to take up gardening, but also provided healthful recreation for thousands of stunted, undernourished little bodies fighting an unequal battle with disease in the crowd-

The End of a Useful Day.

ED CAPITAL OF POLAND, WARSAW. In addition it has already helped to the wolf of starvation away from many a home.

The children enlisted in the garden army in Warsaw raise potatoes, beets, carrots, cabbage, parsnips and beans. Their fall crop in 1920 comprised 98 tons.

The success of the Warsaw gardens last year was so pronounced that they will be extended to other centers this spring. To stimulate interest in the garden, they are operated on the competitive basis as in America.

CADORNA EXPLAINS DISASTER

Former Italian Commander in Chief Says Orders at Caporetto Were Disobeyed.

Rome, Italy.—The book of Lieut. Gen. Count Cadorna, former commander in chief of the Italian army, which is entitled "The War on the Italian Front," has just appeared. It is a history of Italy's preparations for the war and the development of the plans until after the Caporetto disaster.

General Cadorna says that when the European conflict broke the Italian army was inadequately equipped, both as to quality and quantity of men and material. He says that from June, 1915, he had recommended unity of the plans until after the Caporetto disaster.

General Cadorna attributes the Caporetto disaster, when the Austrians pushed back the Italians from the Isonzo front, chiefly to the fact that his orders to place all the artillery on the defense were disobeyed. If the artillery had been withdrawn on the offensive, General Cadorna says, the disaster would have been prevented, or limited. But, General Capello, he declares, did not entirely withdraw the guns, because he planned a counter-offensive, which Cadorna disapproved. He also says the withdrawal from the Piave was accomplished by the Italians themselves, the allies giving them only moral support.

DRANK 54,150 GLASSES OF ROOT BEER IN ONE YEAR

Because he scheduled $541.50 in war tax on root beer during 1920, a Lithuanian coal miner of Springfield, Ill., was asked by John Pickering, collector of internal revenue, to look over his income tax again. After deducting his union dues, donations to churches and charities and war tax on theater tickets this man still had $1,541.50 for which to account. His root beer thirst cut his income to $1,000, he said.

To satisfy his cravings, according to his figures, the miner had to drink 148 glasses of root beer a day, or 54,150 glasses in a year.

TAX FOR BACHELORS OVER THIRTY. Erfurt, Germany.—In the matter of taxation the town of Eisfeld, Thuringia, is doing pioneer work by imposing on bachelors of more than thirty years a special tax amounting to 50 per cent of the municipal income tax.

BURE SHEEP SKIN COSTS. Washington.—The United States public health service has just bought 2,000 sheepskin coats for the tuberculosis patients in its hospitals, so that they may be able to sit out in the air and sun this winter. It's fresh and clean.

BETTY

By RUBY H. MARTYN.

(© 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Betty Allen's red hair flamed loose in the sunshine as she ran up the trim gravel path with the letter clutched in one hand and the soft parcel tucked carelessly under her blue gingham sleeve. Back in the kitchen she tossed the parcel on the chair and hurried to turn the ham in the smoking spider. The letter she tore open and read in the fragrant haze of the cooking dinner.

"Very nice about wanting me to come and send a present to wear," she paraphrased at the end.

Her brother Bob mumbled something into the hand towel he was using on his suds-flecked face. Bob understood that the letter was from a cousin, Jane Dow Winslow, whom Betty had discovered in Don's home city. Don had worked on a local road survey for a month, that was long enough for him to discover Betty, and now Betty was going to visit this cousin Jane, whom the Allens had never seen, and run the gauntlet of Don's family under her wing.

"I suppose city people expect a country girl to have dowdy duds," flared Betty, as she flipped the ham again. "Just guess they don't need to send me clothes, if we are poor."

"Find out what's come before you fly clear of the handle," suggested Bob.

Betty snipped the parcel string with the lampwick scissors, which happened to be handiest. The stiff paper and soft, white inner wrappings fell from the folds of silken stuff that billowed out over her firm, brown hands.

"Red!" gasped Betty, flushing hotly. Bob gazed with manly admiration at the crepe de chine that glowed and gleamed in his sister's hands. He had never imagined that stuff for clothes could be quite so alluringly beautiful. "It's a peach of a color," he said.

"It'll make me look like a perfect fright! You never heard of a red dress on a red-haired girl, and I might just as well give up the whole trip as wear this color a single time. And it's real crepe de chine that I've always dreamed I might have a dress of if fairy dreams could come true!" wailed Betty.

"Then why in tunket didn't they send a black piece of goods?" temporized Bob.

"I hate black," flashed Betty. "I hate the everlasting colors red hair has to wear, and if you know how I want to get into the glarriest red that other girls can, you'd wonder I don't use hair dye."

"Send the goods back. Tell the Jane we can get up clothes enough for you," said Bob.

"I'd go in my old silk if this wasn't red. I don't know just what to think, Bob. Either cousin Jane is an awful cat, or she wants to see her present come flying back, and I declare if she is going to see that!"

There was a wry smile on Betty's piquant face as she put the smooth folds of the silken stuff on a parlor chair. She was determined to run the gauntlet of cousin Jane and the Winslow family with her head in the air. Betty was flying the colors of her love for Don as she made drastic plans for that crepe de chine.

She reached the city some weeks later in the dusk of a feathered snow. Her new shoes slid awkwardly on the soft rugs that lay on cousin Jane's polished floors. There were strange hands to take off her wraps; and up in her own room Betty peered with some alarm at the cavernous closets and tiled bath and cheval mirrors and shaded lights.

Could Betty have guessed it, Cousin Jane in her own luxurious room was even more uncomfortable.

"The child has red hair!" she wailed. "I knew Don raved about red, but I never guessed he liked it."

Cousin Jane's husband grinned.

"I wonder if her temper matches," he ventured.

"I wonder what she thought of that red stuff. The Allens always did have sense enough to know when they are insulted. But if Betty shows herself to Don Winslow in that shade of red he'll blink."

Cousin Jane snapped the clasp of her bracelet. She crossed the hall and knocked at Betty's door. When there was no answer she pushed open the door. A plain brush lay on the dressing table; Betty's shoes stood with heels against the wall, but Betty herself was not there.

Don's voice was what Cousin Jane heard as she went down the wide staircase, and a slender, radiant Betty in shimmering black smiled shyly from the deep chair Don had drawn to the open fire.

At midnight Betty knelt by Cousin Jane, too happy for many words.

"Don's determined to keep loving me, and his people were dear. And when I'm so happy I don't want to be going a bit under false colors. Dear Cousin Jane, I dyed your beautiful red present until it was black as a hat. And I made it into this dress because I wanted Don to keep loving me."

"You are a dear, loyal diplomat," smiled Cousin Jane.

Betty jumped to her feet.

"Trust a red-haired girl!" she said, gayly.

LAMP FOR EVERY INHABITANT. The production of electric lamps in the United States now approximates 100,000,000 annually, or about one for every inhabitant of the country.

NEEDS TOO MUCH EXERTION

Writer Refuses to Go Too Deeply Into What Might Be Called "I and Me" Problem.

The line, "Look what I done for you and him and me," is good American, but better American, I believe, would be, "Look what I done for him and you and I." This, however, writes Ring Lardner in the Bookman, brings up a subject to which one ought to be able to devote a whole volume, but one ain't goin' to. One is only goin' to state that mysterious rules govern the cases of personal pronouns in our language and one hasn't had time to solve the mysteries even since prohibition.

We say, "He come up to me in the club," but we also say, "He come up to Charley and I in the club," or even "He come up to I and Charley in the club." Charley's presence in the club seems, for "some reason or another," to alter my case. The other night I was reading a play script by one of this country's foremost dramatists; and recurring in it was the stage direction, "A look passes between he and So-and-So." But this playwright wouldn't think of saying or writing, "She passed he a look."

My theory on this particular point is that when the common American citizen, whom we will call Joe, was in his last year in school (the sixth grade), the teacher asked him how many boys there were in his family. He replied, "Just Frank and me." "Just Frank and I," corrected the teacher. And the correction got Joe balled up.

Cloth upholstery.

Cloth upholstery may be best cleaned by beating curtains and backs lightly with a stick or carpet beater, after which the accumulated dust is whisked off with a brush. Grease or oil may be removed by an application of lukewarm water and mild soap, applied with a woolen cloth. There are a number of woolen cleaners which will work very well on cloth upholstery, but gasoline and benzine have a tendency to spread instead of to remove dirt.

An Open Door

Have you ever been in an office when somebody called the manager or proprietor by long distance telephone?

Did you notice how he let other matters wait while he answered the call?

There are no closed doors to the long distance telephone call. It goes straight to the man you want—gets his full attention—gets the answer for you.

Use long distance service to transact your out-of-town business. It's quick, convenient, complete and economical.

See telephone directory for description of the different classes of long distance calls.

Ask the operator the rate to any place.

H. W. CARTY,

District Manager,

The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company

LAMP FOR EVERY INHABITANT.

The production of electric lamps in the United States now approximates 100,000,000 annually, or about one for every inhabitant of the country.

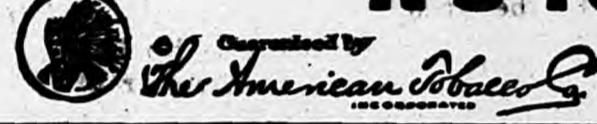

In a new size package

LUCKY STRIKE

10 cigarettes for 10 cts

Handy and convenient; try them. Dealers now carry both sizes: 10 for 10 cts; 20 for 20 cts.

It's Toasted

Don't Neglect Your Stock

Try LeGears

STOCK FOOD AND HOG TONIC

With our Guarantee

Eastman Kodaks and Films

Conklin Fountain Pens

Guth's Chocolates

Soda Water, Cigars, Drugs, Toilet Articles

T. J. Smith & Co.

Everybody's Druggists

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

LET US DEVELOP YOUR FILMS

We have just received a beautiful variety of DAHLIA BULBS

PRICES CHEAP

Percheon Stallion For Service

We will have our Percheon Stallion for service at the stables of Charles Hayman, Princess Anne, Thursday and Friday, April 23rd and 24th.

Improve your horses through the use of a good sire.

J. J. RING, Westover, Md.

STRAWBERRY CHECKS

at $1.50 per M. Order now

NY-12

Every Acre Reclaimed is a permanent investment paying profits every year

IT costs something in both time and money to clear cut-over land, but you only spend it one year—once for each acre. One fair crop will pay for the work and usually show a profit besides. Then, free from stumps, that land will pay profits every single year. Results in this state have shown conclusively that is ideal for this work—quick, effective, economical. Therefore it is used by a majority of farmers.

DU PONT

RED CROSS EXTRA DYNAMITE

Clear more land in 1921

1920 was one of the biggest land-clearing years this state has ever known. The farmers all over this district are planning for even greater accomplishments in 1921. Join the movement and reap the benefits.

See our local dealer regarding Du Pont Explosives for spring delivery. Write for "Farmers' Handbook of Explosives." It's valuable—and free.

F.G. THOMAS, Salisbury, Maryland

E. I. DU PONT DE NEMOURS & CO., Inc., NEW YORK

ALTAR USED BY COLUMBUS

Relic Intimately Associated With Great Discoverer Has Recently Been Brought to America.

Angel Curras of Coruña, Spain, and Gonzales Blanco, noted Spanish artist, have brought to Brooklyn the original small altar presented to Christopher Columbus by Queen Isabella and used by Columbus on his first voyage of discovery on the flagship Santa Maria. The antique was obtained by Curras after several years of endeavor, and is to be delivered to Pernas, Collado & Co., an exporting firm. The authenticity of this altar and a number of other antiques which Curras brought is certified to by affidavits made before Ralph C. Busser, American consul at Coruña.

The altar was originally a gift from Queen Isabella to Christopher Columbus, according to the account given by Mr. Curras, and, besides eight carvings in bone depicting scenes in the life of Christ, contains also small portraits in carved bone of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella. The small shrine is about sixteen inches high and fourteen inches wide, and the hinged cover, in two pieces, folds over the top, making a compact cabinet. Each of the doors has a hanging iron knob used to unfold the shrine. According to the documents in Mr. Curras' possession, this shrine is one of a collection of twenty antiques he is bringing to this country. On inspection by customs officials, the shrine was ordered sent to the appraisers' stores, that a valuation might be put on it.

SEEMINGLY 'TWAS EVER THUS

Example of Eternal Triangle Will Soon Be Presented to Another Judge and Jury.

Not so very long ago there lived together in Indianapolis a certain man and woman. They were well past middle age, and their children were reared and gone. One evening the man of the family nervously marked the passing of time. Sad suspicion gripped the heart of the woman. The husband explained that he would have to be away from home that evening—on business. The wife explained that she did not wish to stay at home alone, and would go to a neighbor's home. She left the house first. But she did not go to the neighbor's home. Instead she slipped into the rear seat of the curtained darkness of her husband's automobile, and covered herself with a robe. After a while he came out of the house and drove away. He drove to another house in the city and drew up in front. He left the car and entered the house. The wife also left the car and took a position in the shadows nearby. After a few minutes' wait the man came out of the house with another woman on his arm. The eternal triangle was completed, and the same old thing happened. Now they are getting ready to tell it to the judge.

New Smoke-Burning Device. A new water-cooled baffle-plate device for installation in the firebox of a conventional up-draft furnace has the effect of converting it into one having some of the characteristics of the down-draft type. It is described in Popular Mechanics. Its construction is simple, consisting of two hollow steel compartments of different heights, arranged crosswise of the firebox, at a point somewhat to the rear of the center, with the higher one at the back, thus dividing the firebox into two distinct combustion zones. As the two chambers are separated by a few inches and the higher one reaches to the boiler by the crownsheet, the gases and smoke liberated by the forward portion of the fire are forced to pass over the top of the low forward section, down between the latter and the rear section, under the latter, and over the hottest part of the fire, where they are consumed.

FIGURING U.S.C.'S INCOME TAX

Directions That May, or May Not, Be Helpful in Making Out a Correct Return.

In the direction of helpfulness the Whistead Saturday Night suggests that if your income is $2,400 a year and you have a diamond ring and an automobile and are married to a blonde girl twenty-six years old, you take the amount of your income, add your personal property, subtract your street number, multiply by your height and your wife's height and divide by your telephone number.

You will then carry your minus, separated from your plus, to schedule G, on the tenth line of which you will subtract the multiple, which you put on line X, schedule K, entering in column A.

If you have a child in the family subtract $200 from your income, add the amount of your personal property, multiply by your waist measure, subtract the size of your collar, add the child's age, multiply by the amount you have given the church, during the year and divide by the number of your automobile license tag.

If there are two children you deduct $400 from your income, add the weight and age of the second child, divide by the date of your birth, multiply by the size of your hat and subtract the weight of your mother-in-law.

The result of the above computation should be carried to line VIII, schedule I, after deducting from the total of G, P, and A, and adding F, O and L, carrying it to column D, which will cover all taxation except the normal and surtax.

NO RAINBOW AFTER DELUGE

Johns Hopkins University Professor Explains How the Historic Misunderstanding Came About.

The rainbow after the deluge, described in the book of Genesis 9:13, was not a rainbow after all, but a collection of great fly-brushes of the ancient oriental gods, declares Prof. Paul Haupt of Johns Hopkins university. Announcement of his discovery was made by Doctor Haupt at Goucher college, at a session of the American Oriental society, which held its one hundred and thirty-third conclave in Baltimore.

The mistake in Genesis, said Professor Haupt, probably is due to a misunderstanding of a character on one of the old cuneiform tablets. The word is "bow," which could very easily be mistaken for "fly brush," he said. These huge feather brushes were in vogue among the old rulers in Assyria and Egypt, and were regarded as ancient symbols of sovereignty in the Orient.

According to Doctor Haupt, the ancients naturally gave their gods credit for having fly-brushes, and, in fact, in line 104 of the flood tablet the word "fly brush" appears as big as life.

The passage says that "When Istar sees the gods gather around the offering like a swarm of flies (because they had been no offerings during the flood), she is so incensed that she takes the great fly-brushes of her father, Anu (king of the gods), to drive away the gods."

Britons Have New Telephone.

A new telephonic device already in actual use in England is the laryngophone, a transmitter in which a disk is placed against the throat of the speaker and the sound is transmitted by the vibration of the vocal chords, says a London dispatch to the New York Tribune. It is suitable for use in noisy factories and workrooms where the ordinary telephone mouthpiece transmitter would pick up the other sounds in the room and so prevent conversation.

In appearance the laryngophone resembles the ordinary telephone except that there is a smooth rounded rubber disk instead of a mouthpiece. The receiver is the same and the messages are received in the ordinary speaking voice.

Land for Canadian Soldiers.

The forest reserves held by the Canadian federal government and all situated in the West, comprise an area of approximately 27,500,000 acres, and consist of tracts of land unsuitable for agriculture which have been set apart permanently for forest production. At the request of the soldier settlement board areas totalling about 480,000 acres were withdrawn from the reserves in order to be made available for soldier settlement. For the most part these areas consist of small tracts of a few hundred acres, withdrawn from a number of different reserves. Only in the cases of the Riding mountain and Porcupine reserves were the areas larger, about 220,000 acres being withdrawn from the former and about 240,000 acres from the latter.

Dress and Insurance Rates.

Swiss women who wear short skirts and low-necked gowns will have to pay higher rates of life insurance than those who do not. The Swiss insurance companies have announced that in fixing the premiums on policies of women's lives they will take into consideration the women's wearing apparel. The shorter the skirt or lower the decollete, the higher the insurance rate will be.

The Swiss companies justify this action on the ground of a great increase of illness and disease among their women clients which they claim is due to the wearing of short skirts and low-necked dresses.

NO CHANCE FOR COLLECTORS

Steins Now Valuable Only as Mementoes Are Kept Securely Chained to the Wall.

Beer steins, wine glasses and bar towels are rapidly joining the dust-covered and mildewed relics of the days that preceded January 16, 1920, when the prohibition law went into effect.

As the saloons become scarcer, bar-room paraphernalia, from a relic collector's viewpoint, become more valuable. One restaurant in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn is taking no chances on losing its mementoes of the past days. The stained glass windows of the old saloon remain, but the bar has been removed to make way for the tables of the new restaurant. In the redecorated establishment a shelf runs entirely around the room. All along the shelf are exquisite old German beer steins, relics of former days and more valuable now as mementoes. Passing through the handle of each Stein is a chain, which is nailed to the wall. Unscrupulous souvenir hounds, waiting until the waiter's back is turned, find their designs foiled. What the old bar has left of the old regime it purposed to keep.—New York Sun.

Single and Wedded "Brides." The married and unmarried women in Colombia are distinguished by the way in which they wear flowers in their hair, the senoras wearing them on the right side and the señoritas on the left.

Jud Living in Hope. Jud Tunkin says he's lookin' forward to something original and novel in a parade whose importance won't be estimated by the number of hours it takes to pass a given point.

On Fertile Soil. How a thing grows in the human memory, in the human imagination, when love, worship and all that lies in the human heart is there to encourage it—Carlyle.

Cardinal Principle of Conversation. You become a good conversationalist the moment you halt your own tale of woe and start listening closely to the other fellow's.—St. Joseph Gazette.

SQUEEZED TO DEATH

When the body begins to stiffen and movement becomes painful it is usually an indication that the kidneys are out of order. Keep these organs healthy by taking

GOLD MEDAL NANLEMOR CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles. Famous since 1865. Take regularly and keep in good health. In three sizes, all druggists. Guaranteed as represented. Look for the green Gold Medal on every box and capsule no imitation.

"BULL" DURHAM

tobacco makes 50 good cigarettes for 10c

See American Tobacco Co.

Valuable Jack Pine.

There are many qualities of the Jack Pine which recommend it for a continuous forest crop. It is extremely hardy and grows on the poorest soils. It reproduces better than any other conifer in eastern Canada as is evidenced by the way it replaces other woods following cutting or fire. It grows rapidly and under natural conditions will attain pulpwood size in a shorter time than spruce or balsam.—Montreal Family Herald.

Great Minds Linked With Geneva. Geneva and its lake early became the mecca of leaders in science and literature. Voltaire, Mme. de Staél, Georges Sand, Dumas, Daudet and Byron, Gibbon, Dickens, Ruskin, Frances Havergal, Simeoni, De Saussure, Amiel—a veritable parade of illustrious poets, novelists, essayists, philosophers and scientists—have linked their names forever with that fair city and its environs.

Nash Value Standards Maintained in the New Nash Four-Cylinder Car

Standards of quality which have always made Nash products leaders in value in their respective fields have been maintained in the new, powerful Nash Four now ready for local buyers.

A special Nash spring construction, combined with perfect balance, roominess of body, depth of seats, and thickness of upholstery, gives this lightweight, quality automobile riding comfort found ordinarily only in cars of much longer wheel-base.

NASH SIX PRICES
5-passenger touring car	$1695	7-passenger touring car	$1875
2-passenger roadster	1695	4-passenger coupe	2650
4-passenger sport model	1850	5-passenger sedan	2695
f. o. b. Kenosha

NASH FOUR PRICES
5-passenger touring car	$1395	3-passenger coupe	$1985
2-passenger roadster	1395	5-passenger sedan	2185
f. o. b. Milwaukee

All Nash models, both open and closed, have cord tires as standard equipment

L. W. GUNBY CO.
SALISBURY, MARYLAND

N-A-S-H
FO-U-R

THE NASH
FOUD

MEXICO HAS DIAMOND FIELD

Precious Stones Said to Exist in Quantities That Will Make Their Mining Profitable.

Encouragement will be offered by the Mexican government for the development of the diamond field in the state of Guerro by private capital, it is authoritatively announced. The existence of diamonds in a mountainous district of that southern state has long been known, but the remoteness of the locality and the difficulty of getting in and out of the district have heretofore prevented anything being done toward mining the gems.

It was more than fifty years ago that the discovery of diamonds there was made by an officer of the Mexican army. A collection of the diamonds was taken to the City of Mexico and after being cut they found their way into the channels of commerce. Efforts to relocate the diamond field proved futile and it was not until many years later that a mining prospector came upon the formation in which the diamonds were found. He collected a large number of them in the rough and took them back to the capital, where they were placed on exhibition. Nothing was done, however, toward the development of the field.

Not long ago the department of commerce and industry of the Mexican government sent an expedition in charge of Antonio Lopez, an engineer, to the locality. Mr. Lopez reported that his research had been entirely successful. Among the diamonds he brought back with him was one of enormous size in the rough which he turned over to the department of commerce and industry. He made a report to the effect that diamonds in large quantities are to be found and that the mining can be done at comparatively little cost.

THROUGH WITH TIGHT SHOES

Experience That Young Woman Had Recently Is Sufficient to Last Her a Lifetime.

A young woman was taken to one of the downtown restaurants for dinner. She wished to make a good impression, so she stopped at the shoe-shining establishment to have her shoes polished, which shoes, by the way, were a little too small and pinched considerably.

They pinched even worse after they were seated at the table, and the young woman decided to do a very daring thing. So, carefully, she managed to slip her hand down to her foot, loosen the shoe and slip it off her foot. Just as that performance was ended the waiter arrived with the dinner and she straightened up to get ready for it. She reached for her napkin and horrors! The inside of her hand was as black as could be. The shoe polish had not yet dried. Worse and worse! Her friend noticed her hand.

There was nothing to do but explain the situation, which she did in a very amusing way. But she vowed firmly that she will never again wear tight shoes when going out to dinner.—Indianapolis News.

Beards and Politics

It is surely more than a coincidence that whiskered statesmen hold high positions in many lands, writes a correspondent. Simultaneously with the appointment of Charles Evans Hughes as secretary of state in the U. S. A., comes the news of the appointment of Sir Joseph Cook as high commissioner for Australia, in London. Sir Joseph's beard is the pride of the antipodes. Again in South Africa, the electorate rejected General Hertzog who has nothing but a mustache, for the bearded Smut. And Lenin imperturbably holds his own, with a beard, while the smooth-shaven Kerensky is not merely out, but outside. Venizelos, they say, was never so popular as since his withdrawal, and the Italian press insists that when he makes a move Constantine is doomed. His is the finest beard in Europe, as Mr. Shaw will admit.—Montreal Herald.

Letting the Lawyer Work a Little. Erastus, a negro, being charged with burglary, told his defender that he had only one conviction against him—disorderly conduct. On cross examination by the district attorney, after giving a plausible explanation, he was asked about his court record:

"Disorderly conduct, suh," he said smilngly.

"Sure that was all?"

The defendant paused to consider.

"Have you all found out anything else?" he inquired.

"Elmira reformatory for burglary in 1911 and twice to Sing Sing for the same crime," replied the D. A.

"Right, suh. I just thought I'd let you all find that out for yourself," said Erastus. He was convicted.—From the Annual Report of the Legal Aid Society.

Good Logic.

Terre Haute boy scouts have recently organized a sea scout troop. Several of the new members were waiting for their leader the other day, but still he didn't come. Finally one of them was sent out to find traces of him. He journeyed a block and then saw him in earnest conversation with a girl.

Now, he didn't want to expose the official—he also felt that he must be truthful, since he was a scout. So he used strategy when he came back. "Yes, I saw him," he said, "and we'd better wait here, for he was doing some official business. He was interviewing a candidate for the position of first mate."—Indianapolis News.

HIS FIRST CLIENT

By LILLIAN P. LEONARD.

(© 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Cheero, old dear!"

"Whereya get that stuff, 'cheero'?"

"Cheer up! Look at the sun shining and—"

"Little birdies singing 'tweet, tweet, I suppose!'" growled Ross in a tone of utter disgust. Bringing his feet down from the window sill with a bang and rising with a huge yawn he stretched his already long arms to their utmost.

As he stood in this position he looked like some colossal figure suppling the cosmic powers, his mouth wide in invocation. So thought the apparition as she opened the door and stood hesitating on the threshold. Ross, crimson, brought himself into shape, while the man opposite slid the cuspidor under the desk with his foot.

For the girl in the doorway was the first human being, other than themselves, who had opened that door; that door lettered with ornate gilt lettering:

Ross Adams

Henry Demson

Real Estate, Mortgages, Justice of the Peace / Notary Public

WALK IN.

The girl stepped into the room and took the chair proffered by the momentarily flustered Ross, while Henry evaporated toward a door marked "private" in severely plain, black letters.

The usual light remarks had been made, and Ross, taking a gasping flier into his first taste of business, asked:

"There is some matter I could assist you in, Miss?"

"I came to see a justice of the peace," replied the girl, blushing vividly.

"Well, I am Ross Adams, justice of the peace."

The girl looked at the floor, bit her lip and stammered:

"You marry people?"

He took a grip on himself and answered airily:

"Oh, yes, to be sure, when everything appears all right and parties have the license."

"How many people have you married, Mr. Adams?"

"Why, er—er—hundreds—of course I never kept count."

"Oh, I am so sorry; I wanted to be the first. Will you marry me?"

"Yes, indeed. I shall be delighted," smiled Ross.

At this moment the door swung open and two men, heavily bearded, stalked into the room, and in military precision took a stand on each side of Ross, while in duet they chanted:

"We are witnesses to your promise to marry this young lady!

With a swift back-action swat, Ross

MARYLANDER AND HERALD

Published Every Tuesday Morning

PRINCESS ANNE, MD.

Office, 57 Somerton Avenue, Local Phone No. 31.
Subscription Price $1.50 Per Annum

THEO. A. WALKER
Editor and Business Manager

All Communications Should be Addressed to the
Marylander and Herald

Foreign Advertising Representative:

THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 10, 1921

What this country needs is more spades and hoes and fewer can-openers.

The slow-pay people are entirely satisfied that what this country needs is more credit facilities.

In view of the startling drop in price of beef the cattle dealers are said to show a cowed expression.

Army and navy officers who are looking for promotion are not generally supposed to favor disarmament plans.

It is believed that the Germans will favor peace as long as the French maintain a strong military force on the Rhine.

People who ask why the government bureaus are all tied up with red tape may be informed that it is done to string the public.

No delegations of office seekers are so far reported to have informed the plans for reforming the federal budget of expenditures.

President Harding has got so "hot up" that he has removed his vest, but it is not yet reported that he has shed his collar and suspenders.

When people worked ten hours a day they had time to cultivate a back yard garden, but they could not possibly do it on the eight hour basis.

The daylight savers have not yet attempted to make Sunday come a day earlier each week by marking out a date on the old Farmer's Almanac.

A club for poets is to be established at New York. It will no doubt be carefully marked so that no one will mistake it for a home for the mildly insane.

It seems queer that a lot of these people who are able to save billions in managing the railroads and the industries are still working for such low pay themselves.

Having taken all the profit out of railroad stocks by restrictive legislation many people blame investors for not putting money enough into the roads so they can buy needed equipment.

The intense longing manifested by the country cousins during the theatrical season to renew the ties of kinship with their city relatives is being superseded by the fervent desire of the city folks to visit their country relatives during the fresh vegetable period.

In former days the colonists had underground passages out of their houses so they could elude the wild Indians. In these times the cabinet members at Washington should have similar means of egress from their dwellings so they could elude the office seekers.

POORLY ADJUSTED INDUSTRY
Some of our business methods seem absolutely stupid. Here are about 100,000 miners now out of employment, because there is little demand at this time for bituminous coal. They must be paid wages high enough when the mines run so they can afford to loaf through the spring. And then people kick on the price of coal.

Also next winter when everybody begins to "holler" for coal and demand that it be delivered all at once, there will probably be a shortage and some factories will shut down. President Harding suggests that a lower freight rate be made on coal to encourage purchase in the spring. Coal should be sold for a considerably lower figure at that time. With these adjustments and a public willingness to co-operate by buying early, coal could be mined for less expense and there would be no more shortages.

THE SPRING BONFIRE

The burning pile of dead grass and litter in the back yard has long been the means by which orderly householders eliminate a vast amount of unsightly rubbish. People with refined senses claim that the smell is disagreeable. But it lasts only a few minutes. If refuse is allowed to lie around it will offend the sight of the neighborhood all summer.

The spring bonfire is a pleasant and cheerful sight. The children come running from all the nearby houses and they feel as if the householder was celebrating for their special benefit.

Only remember that many destructive fires are started from burning grass. A little puff of wind on a breezy day sends sparks into dangerous places and may cause a tragic loss. Also look out for the children. The clothing of the little girls seem precisely adapted to catch a tongue of flame as they hopefully bend over the pretty fire.

Don't forget to burn the oily rags. Many mysterious fires start spontaneously in the chimney box where they have been stored out of sight.

THE PROBLEM OF PROFITS

Many people feel that the great profits made by many corporations constitute a tremendous evil and that some means must be found for distributing these gains more fairly among the people. Even during the recent depressed times many of the big concerns were making from 10 to 15 per cent, and during recent years a lot of them have netted a good deal more than that.

The question of what to do with these accumulations of wealth sometimes seems almost insoluble. It is many sided. If you lay a heavy tax on such gains people will take the money out of business and put it into tax exempt securities and labor will not be employed.

If you should fix prices so that profits would not exceed a given amount, you would discourage many enterprises and slow up business. Furthermore the bulk of these profits are not used on personal extravagance. They are invested in new enterprises, in financing factories and farms and constructing water power and buying production equipment and so on in a thousand ways that make business better and production more efficient. Profits reinvested that way benefit all of the people.

If more of these profits were distributed among the people and if the people thus benefiting would save a big share of these funds and invest them in sound enterprises to develop the country, everyone would be better off, the country would become more productive and the mass of people would have better living conditions. But the wild wave of extravagance prevailing during the years 1919-20 proved that a great many people did not make wise use of their money when they got it.

However, the corporations should reflect that public sentiment is strongly against exorbitant profits. Concerns that are making these great gains are likely to attract competition and they get the public ill will. If they would cut their prices they would stand far better with the people.

Emphasis on That.
Moralist—"The outsider who buys stocks is a gambler, pure and simple." Ticker—"Especially simple."

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION

The annual examination for Teachers' Certificates will be held in the High School building in Princess Anne on Thursday and Friday

June 2 and 3, 1921

Beginning at 8:45 A. M. Each Day

All applicants for first certificates should take these examinations. Examinations will also be given to those teachers who desire by this means to raise the grade of their certificate from first to first and from third to second grade. Opportunity will be afforded for members of the State Teachers' Reading Circle Course, through examination based on the books listed for the present year.

A. S. COOK,
State Superintendent

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE DEALS ISLAND BANK

at Deals Island, in the State of Maryland at the close of business April 28th, 1921.

RESOURCES

Loans and Discounts	$ 67,157.00
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured	70.74
Stocks, Bonds, Securities, etc.	39,200.00
Banking House	3,400.00
Mortgages and Judgments of record	13,300.19
Checks and other cash items	578.11
Due from approved reserve agents	19,875.34
viz: U. S. Currency and National Bank Notes	$ 7,706.00
Gold Coin	220.00
Minor Coin	1,384.03
Total	$152,967.05

LIABILITIES

Capital Stock paid in	$10,000.00
Surplus Fund	4,000.00
Unpaid Dividends, less expenses, Interest and Taxes paid	1,672.28
Due to National, State and Private Banks and Bankers and Trust Companies, other than reserve	2,423.31
Deposits (demand)
Subject to check	53,671.82
Certified Checks	31.00
Cashier's Checks outstanding	205.60
Deposits (time)	55,908.48
Savings and Special	80,947.03
Total	$152,967.05

State of Maryland, County of Somerset, SS.

I, Arthur Andrews, Cashier of the above-named institution, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 4th day of May, 1921.

SAMUEL H. SUDLER, Notary Public.

Correct Attest:

W. B. SPIVA
JOSHUA W. MILES
H. FILLMORE LANKFORD

Directors

5-10

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE BANK OF SOMERSET

at Princess Anne, in the State of Maryland at the close of business April 28th, 1921.

RESOURCES

Loans and Discounts	$371,331.99
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured	535.20
Stocks, Bonds, Securities, etc.	271,354.57
Banking House	23,200.00
Mortgages and Judgments of record	253,998.66
Due from National, State and Private Banks and Bankers and Trust Companies, other than reserve
Deposits (demand)
Subject to check	809,237.81
Cashier's Checks outstanding	685.53
Deposits (time)	2,149.24
Savings and Special	650,071.87
Minor and Disb. discounted	63,540.00
Bills Payable	12,000.00
Total	$1,500,775.85

State of Maryland, County of Somerset, SS.

I, William B. Spiva, Cashier of the above-named institution do solemnly swear that the statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of May, 1921.

JAMES E. WHITE, Notary Public.

Correct Attest:

JOHN B. FLEMING
CHAS. W. WAINWRIGHT
B. J. BARNES

Directors

5-10

THE PROBLEM OF PROFITS

Mars As King Of The May

What's wrong with the world industrially and economically? The answer of the dispassionate observer, if there is such a person, is that the world's trouble is mainly due to the prevailing disposition of many millions of men to fight rather than work. There never was a time when there was more work to be done than at present, and there has rarely if ever, been a time when there was a more widespread disinclination to perform the work at hand. In Great Britain millions of people and millions of money are affected by this spirit of industrial belligerency; in Russia, many other millions are kept from full productivity by the spirit of social and political warfare represented in the Bolshevik policy; other parts of Europe which might be willing to work are held in check by the current tendency to bathe over the fine points of theory rather than co-operate in the vital processes of production; and in the United States, whose well-being and prosperity are essential to all the rest, it is estimated that the beginning of May finds from 2,000,000 to 5,000,000 persons idle. That is to say, a larger number of men and women are fighting each other industrially and are fighting against the welfare of the country than were fighting in France against German despotism in 1918.

The question of what to do with these accumulations of wealth sometimes seems almost insoluble. It is many sided. If you lay a heavy tax on such gains people will take the money out of business and put it into tax exempt securities and labor will not be employed.

If you should fix prices so that profits were not exceeded a given amount, you would discourage many enterprises and slow up business. Furthermore the bulk of these profits are not used on personal extravagance. They are invested in new enterprises, in financing factories and farms and constructing water power and buying production equipment and so on in a thousand ways that make business better and production more efficient. Profits reinvested that way benefit all of the people.

If more of these profits were distributed among the people and if the people thus benefiting would save a big share of these funds and invest them in sound enterprises to develop the country, everyone would be better off, the country would become more productive and the mass of people would have better living conditions. But the wild wave of extravagance prevailing during the years 1919-20 proved that a great many people did not make wise use of their money when they got it.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle of endless dispute. The cause is to be found in the dominating impulse to contend rather than to compromise. The germ of battle seems in the blood of the period. There is a stronger desire to fight than to work. Hence the queen and the king of May in 1921 are the strike and the strikebreaker. Millions for loss and wastage but not one cent for operation. No wonder the League of Nations was hooted out of court. War still delights us more than peace. —Baltimore Sun.

The question of where the blame lies simply carries us around a vicious circle

MARYLANDER AND HERALD

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 10, 1921

Notice of Births, Deaths and Deaths will be published at five cents per line, and for at the rate of $5 five cents per line.

INFORMATION POINTERS
Ten (10) cents a line for the first insertion and (5) cents thereafter.

FOR SALE—20 tons of Soy Bean Hay. W. P. TODD.

FOR SALE—Acetylene Gas Plant. Apply to W. P. TODD.

FOR SALE—Good Refrigerator, nearly new. Apply at this office.

FOR SALE—Corn and Hay. FRANK M. CLINE, near Princess Anne.

FOR SALE—Hay, Fodder and Corn. W. E. WADDY, Princess Anne, Md.

FOR SALE—Good Pair of Mules. Get our prices on feeds. WESTOVER MILLS.

FOR SALE—Seed Oats, Red Clover Seed, Timothy Seed, etc. W. P. TODD.

TRUCK FOR HIRE—Call at office of Auto Sales Co., Princess Anne, for service.

We will have fresh killed veal every Friday and Saturday. CARRON & HANCOCK, Princess Anne.

FOR SALE—Good Brood Mare; will foal soon; cheap to quick buyer. C. W. STRICKLER, Westover, Md.

FOR SALE—New Hay, clover and wheat mixed, ready for delivery this week. FRED R. NELSON, Westover, Md.

FOR SALE—Two-bottom, 12-inch, Oliver Automatic Tractor Plows. Will sell cheap if sold at once. H. B. HOLDEN.

FOR SALE—Tankage, Beef Scrap, Grit and all kinds of Chicken Feed, Roofing, etc. W. P. TODD.

FOR SERVICE—Registered Guernsey Bull, Rich Milk stock; also Registered Berkshire Boar. Fee $1.00 each. H. B. HOLDEN.

BRING YOUR SHOES to be repaired to F. D. Layfield. He will send them up to the Arcade Shoe Shop, Salisbury, three days a week.

WANTED TO BUY—Side-delivery rake and hay loader. Must be in good condition. EDWIN F. PAPENDICK, Eden, R. F. D., No. 2.

FOR SALE—Early Wilson and Yellow Mammoth Soy Beans. Write for sample and prices. Truck for hire; prices reasonable. W. T. HOLLAND, JR., Eden, Md. Route 2.

FOR SALE—A $5,000 note secured by mortgage on high grade Somerset county farm property can be bought to yield better than 5%. Address "Investment," care Marylander and Herald.

WANTED—LOW PRICE FARM LAND—I am looking for a farm costing between $2,500 and $4,500. Do not object to going some distance from town. Address CONFIDENTIAL, Box 226, Princess Anne.

This is to inform the public that I have appointed Mr. W. A. Brown as salesman for the Ford Products, to handle their products anywhere in the U. S. A. under Authorized Dealer WM. P. FITZGERALD, Princess Anne, Md.

GET BUSY, KEEP BUSY.—Is your job unsafe? Is it permanent? You want a life-long business? You can get into such a business, selling more than 137 Watkins products direct to farmers if you are under 50 and can give bond with personal sureties. We back you with big selling help: 52 years in business; 20,000,000 users of our products. Write for information where you can get territory. J. R. WATKINS CO., Dept. 112, Winona, Minnesota.

Miss Maggie Clark, of Pocomoke City, is visiting Miss Amanda Lankford.

Mr. Omar J. Crosswell returned home last Wednesday from a short trip to Philadelphia, Pa.

The Shoreland Club will meet with Mrs. Joseph G. Scott Thursday afternoon, May 12th, at 3:30 o'clock.

Until further notice the barber shop of Princess Anne will be closed every evening at 8 o'clock except Saturday.

Miss Nell Dashill, who has been visiting her sister, Miss Emily I. Dashill, at Martinsville, Va., and friends in Washington, D. C., returned home last Tuesday night.

The public schools of Somerset county will close May 31st. Uniform examinations will be held May 25th, 26th, 27th and 30th, thus leaving Tuesday, May 31st, for closing exercises.

Mr. Frank M. Cline has returned from attending the grand council session of the Royal Arcanum in Baltimore. Mr. Cline was Grand Regent of this State for three terms and a member of the supreme council for six years.

Last Sunday was observed as Mother's Day when honor was paid to all mothers of the land. Special services were held in many churches. In accordance with the usual custom many persons wore a white flower in honor of their mother.

At the candy sale held by the Sunday School of Antioch M. E. Church last Wednesday night $30 was realized towards the fund for the memorial tablets to be placed on the new bridge over the Manokin river. The Epworth League of Antioch M. E. Church has also raised $37.23 to be used for the same purpose.

The features at the Auditorium this week are: Monday night, "The Girl Who Didn't Go Wrong," for benefit of charity fund of Knights of Pythias Lodge. Tuesday night, "Lady Rose's Daughter," starring the imitable Elsie Ferguson. It is a picturization of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's famous novel of the same name. The theme is a vital one and the story one of absorbing interest. Thursday night, Charles Ray in a brand new country boy picture, "A Village Sleuth." All about an amateur Sherlock Holmes, a chorus girl, "Ivy," and a real live mystery, "Murder." Charles Chaplin in "The Kid." Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 and at 8:30 in the evening.

Mr. Bruce W. Dryden, of Norfolk, Va., was a visitor to our town on Sunday last.

Miss Marie Pusey, of Cape Charles, Va., spent the week end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Brown.

Mrs. John W. Duncan and son, William, of Onancock, Va., are guests of Mrs. Emma Lankford, on South Somerset avenue.

The Guild of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church will hold an auction sale on Saturday evening, May 14th, at Mr. Charles Branford's store, Upper Fairmount.

Mr. F. D. Layfield has improved the appearance of his store by having placed therein a Thomas Iceeles Fountain. He has also received new mahogany tables for his ice cream and dining parlors.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira P. Romberger and son and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lawton and daughter, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. White, returned to their homes in Harrisburg, Pa., last Tuesday.

Mr. Joseph M. Newman died at the home of his nephew, Mr. Richard Fitzgerald, at early hour last Sunday morning, aged 84 years. His remains were taken to Baltimore for burial. Mr. Newman has resided with his nephew for the past 20 years.

While in Berlin last week attending the Episcopal Convention the Rev. Dr. Archbold was the guest of Dr. Vosburg. Col. Henry J. Waters was the guest of Dr. Z. P. Henry, and Mr. Cassius M. Dashill was a guest at the home of Miss E. Purnell.

Wilson & Co., contractors, of Mississippi, were awarded the contract for the erection of the new Baptist Church at Crisfield. Work will be started immediately. The building planned there will be one of the finest and most commodious churches on the Eastern Shore, it is said.

Chief Judge Frank Lowe, of the Orphans' Court for Talbot county, had an exhibition in Easton last Thursday, a strawberry plant, known as the Tennessee Prolific, which he grew on his farm. It had over 50 berries, some of them ripe and others just turning. He took the plant back home to replant.

By order of A. S. Cook, State Superintendent of Schools, the annual examinations for teachers' certificates will be held in the High School building in Princess Anne on Thursday and Friday, June 2nd and 3rd. The examinations will be held under the supervision of Mr. W. H. Dashill.

A combined meeting of the Del-Mar-Via Press Association and the Maryland Press Association will be held at Salisbury on Monday and Tuesday, May 23d and 24th. The Salisbury members, upon whose invitation the combined meeting has been arranged, are planning the program. Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, and Governor William D. Denny, of Delaware, have accepted invitations to be present.

The Board of Education for Wicomico County was reorganized last Tuesday and unanimously re-elected its present officials—L. W. Gunby, president; James M. Bennett, county superintendent; Charles Tilghman, attendance officer; C. Nettie Holloway, supervisor of rural schools; L. Cora Gillis, helping teacher; Margaret Holloway, clerk to the Board. Mr. Gunby's re-election marks his fifth term as Board president.

Chairman Mackall, of the State Roads Commission, is preparing to chart the entire State road system, indicating the spots where the chief danger to travelers exists, and he expects to eliminate these perils. Many curves can be made far less likely to be the scene of accident than at present; banks can be cut down, giving the travelers a better view. Some of the important work of taking out the danger spots will be begun this year.

Nearly two million children in the states comprising the Atlantic Division are enrolled in the Junior Red Cross, according to figures compiled at division headquarters. New York leads with 865,639, followed by Pennsylvania with 637,754, figures for the remaining states in the division being as follows: Maryland, 109,047; New Jersey, 188,549; Delaware, 33,663; Connecticut, 64,192. The total for the entire division is 1,898,844, which figure is probably not surpassed anywhere in the country.

Wednesday has been designated by the Civic Club, Mrs. George W. Maslin, president, as, "Clean-up Day." Do we want this town on the map as one of the clean towns of the United States, or do we not? It means something for a town to be known as clean, live, progressive. Such towns belong to the select circle. They are the towns where the death rate is low, and loss of wages from sickness is at a minimum. This affects everybody. It is not a question of beauty alone, though that is big enough all by itself to make us get busy, but it is a question of health, of economy, of steady work, of increased output, of more money in the banks, of the safety of property from fire and depreciation, and of a reputation which we need not be ashamed of. Let's all get together and put our town on the map by each and every one cleaning up their premises.

Mr. J. Rufus Dashill came back from Baltimore last Tuesday. He reports that his wife, who underwent an operation at the Woman's Hospital, has improved and that she will be able to return home next Saturday.

Messrs. C. B. Hoyt and G. J. MacKenzie, of Cleveland, are spending the week at "Great Shores Lodge" on the Wicomico river. Mr. Hoyt has recently purchased this property and expects to spend most of the summer there.

Bishop G. W. Davenport announced at the convention held in Berlin last week that the dioceses of Delaware and Easton will join in conducting a summer school at Ocean City from June 20th to 26th for the instruction of clergy and laymen and particularly for teachers, and urged each parish to send at least two teachers to the school. He also urged a summer campaign camp for boys and a summer camp for girls of the diocese.

A wireless message received in Crisfield last Thursday by Mr. A. W. Woodward, announced that his son, Dr. John C. Woodward, would arrive in New York last Friday, accompanied by his wife and two children. Doctor Woodward is a Captain in the Medical Corps of the United States Army and has been in Europe for more than three years, a part of which time he has been located at Coblenz-on-the-Rhine, in charge of the Base Hospital. His arrival at Crisfield is expected soon.

While in Berlin last week attending the Episcopal Convention the Rev. Dr. Archbold was the guest of Dr. Vosburg. Col. Henry J. Waters was the guest of Dr. Z. P. Henry, and Mr. Cassius M. Dashill was a guest at the home of Miss E. Purnell.

Wilson & Co., contractors, of Mississippi, were awarded the contract for the erection of the new Baptist Church at Crisfield. Work will be started immediately. The building planned there will be one of the finest and most commodious churches on the Eastern Shore, it is said.

Chief Judge Frank Lowe, of the Orphans' Court for Talbot county, had an exhibition in Easton last Thursday, a strawberry plant, known as the Tennessee Prolific, which he grew on his farm. It had over 50 berries, some of them ripe and others just turning. He took the plant back home to replant.

By order of A. S. Cook, State Superintendent of Schools, the annual examinations for teachers' certificates will be held in the High School building in Princess Anne on Thursday and Friday, June 2nd and 3rd. The examinations will be held under the supervision of Mr. W. H. Dashill.

A combined meeting of the Del-Mar-Via Press Association and the Maryland Press Association will be held at Salisbury on Monday and Tuesday, May 23d and 24th. The Salisbury members, upon whose invitation the combined meeting has been arranged, are planning the program. Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, and Governor William D. Denny, of Delaware, have accepted invitations to be present.

The above speakers will entertain the congregation three minutes each, except the pastor, he is allowed five or more. Mr. Vernie Jones will speak on the subject "The Relation of the Church to the Community." After that those present will partake in the evening's festivities. All are invited. Do not forget the date, Monday, May 16th.

PHILIP M. SMITH
Undertaker
and Embalmer
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND
Phone 42

FRANK BRANFORD
Contractor and Builder
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND
Estimates Furnished

A GENTS WANTED: BLISS NATIVE HERBS is a remedy for the relief of Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness, Rheumatism, Kidney Troubles. It is well-known everywhere. The remedies are sold at a price that allows agents to sell at a profit. Address: The American Medical Co., Washington, D. C., for Almanacs, Cook Books, Health Books, which are furnished free of charge to agents. Mention this paper. [S-8]

NEW CRATE FOR
Strawberry Growers
I am making a new and improved Crate—better ventilation, easier to pack in—reinforced bottom, lighter in weight—which is stronger made than those now in use and will cost you no more than the inferior crate made by others.

We Lead, Others Follow

S. S. BREWER
PRINCESS ANNE, MD. ROUTE 1

ATTRACTIONS
FOR THIS WEEK AT THE AUDITORIUM

Motion Pictures

TUESDAY NIGHT
Elsie Ferguson in "Lady Rose's Daughter" and a Rollin Comedy.

THURSDAY NIGHT
Charles Ray in "The Village Sleuth"

FRIDAY NIGHT
Charlie Chaplin in "The Kid"

SATURDAY NIGHT
8th Episode of the "King of the Circus," Fatty Arbuckle in "A Country Hero" and 2-Reel Western

Admission, 22 cents
Children, 17 cents—war tax included

Gallery, 17 cents

Doors open 7:15; Pictures Start Promptly at 7:30; Second Picture at 9:00.

Come in and let us fit your hand

Prices $2.50 to $5.00

JONES & COLBORN

DRUGGISTS

PRINCESS ANNE MARYLAND

Tibetan Remedies

A Tibetan remedy for pains due to severe cold is the eye of a sheep mixed with fat and rubbed on the affected part. Centipede-skin plasters and dressings of fried mutton fat with charred onions are also used by the mountaineers in Tibet for the same purpose.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Advertisements of Old

Advertisements were in vogue in ancient Egypt, Greece and Rome. On the walls of Pompeii have been found announcements of gladiatorial shows, with rough pictures of favorite gladiators, etc., anticipations of the modern poster.

What She Wanted.

At the post office a little girl deposited a dime in front of the clerk and said: "Please, I forgot the name of the stamp mamma told me to get, but it's the kind that makes a letter hurry up."—Boston Transcript.

Twine Made of Asbestos.

Twine for binding parts of apparatus exposed to fire or acid is now being made of asbestos.

Whooping Cough

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given it is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.

Advertisement.

DR. H. C. ROBERTSON

DENTIST

NITROUS OXIDE GAS WITH OXYGEN ADMINISTERED
Office: Prince William Street,
opposite Court House

Princess Anne, Maryland

DR. R. O. HIGGINS

DENTIST

Successor to
DR. E. W. SMITH
OFFICES 228 WEST MAIN STREET
SALISBURY MARYLAND

Gas Administered. Teeth Straightened
X-Rays Telephone 744

CHARLES BRAND

'Phone No. 186

HOMER HUGHES

'Phone No. 272

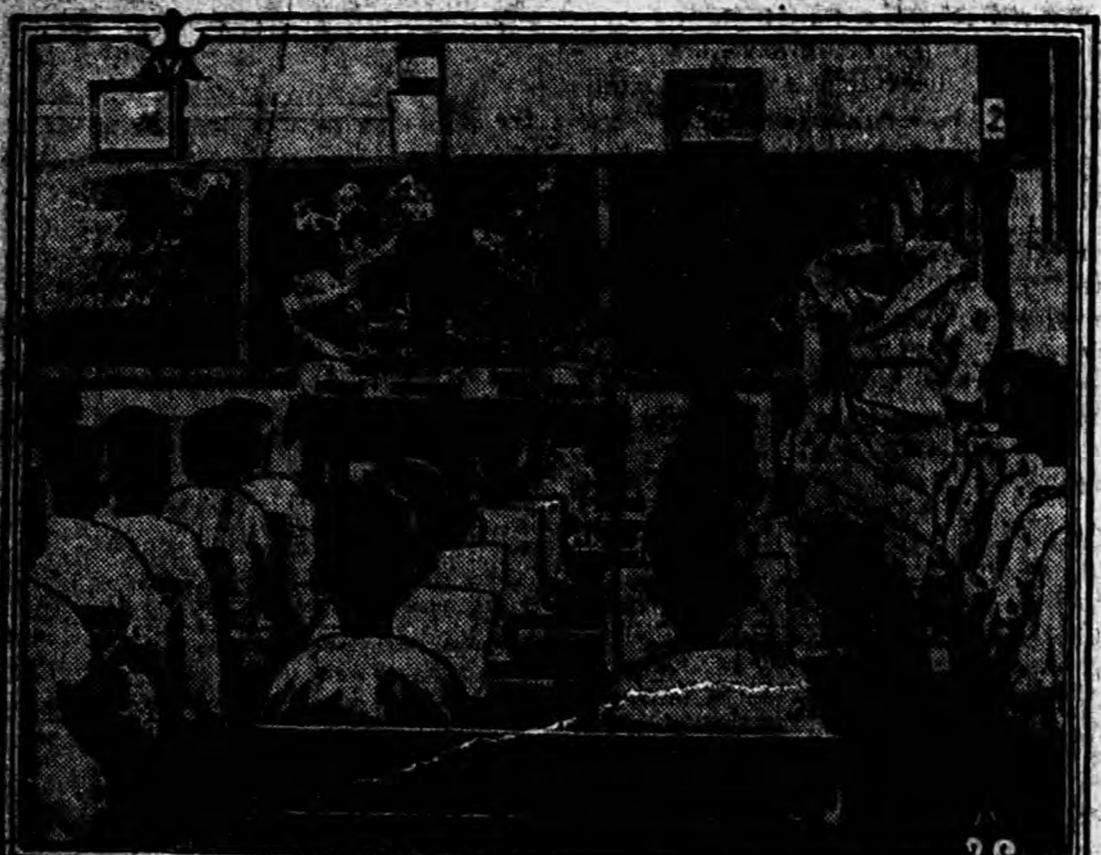

BRAND & HUGHES

Licensed Plumbers

POCOCOME CITY, MARYLAND

Estimates Furnished

Schools Are Making Filipinos An English Speaking Race

This is the type of schoolroom that is rapidly making an English speaking nation out of the 10,500,000 inhabitants of the Philippines.

If a teacher in a public school in the Philippines desires to punish a child, she doesn't have to apply the ruler. She simply sentences the offending pupil to remain away from school a few days.

This is the most severe punishment she can inflict, for Filipino children take an almost abnormal pleasure in going to school and acquiring an education. The all-Philippine legislature, in response to the popular demand for "schools, and still more schools," is constantly increasing its appropriations for education, but the schools can scarcely be constructed fast enough to care for the ever-increasing enrollment. The school enrollment is now 882,000 without any compulsory attendance laws. When Dewey sailed into Manila Bay there were 2,100 private schools in the islands. Today there are 6,500 schools and colleges, with 17,000 Filipino teachers and about 1,000 other teachers, 341 of whom are Americans.

The University of the Philippines is the center of learning of the entire Orient, and is the pride of the Filipino people. It has an enrollment of 3,500 students.

University of the Philippines which Has an Enrollment of 3,500 Students.

pupils," says Junius B. Wood, who was sent to the islands by the Chicago Daily News to investigate conditions there. "To attend school is a privilege to a Filipino child or young man, not an unwelcome duty. In the cities those who work days go to school at night.

"Today there is hardly a barrio where youngsters cannot be found who speak English. One-third of the house of representatives and eighteen of the twenty-four senators speak English. In the next election, in 1922, the young men of the new schools will be stepping into control, and the first great goal of the public school system will have been reached."

islands their independence before they have cause to rebel.

PRESS COMMENT ON PHILIPPINES

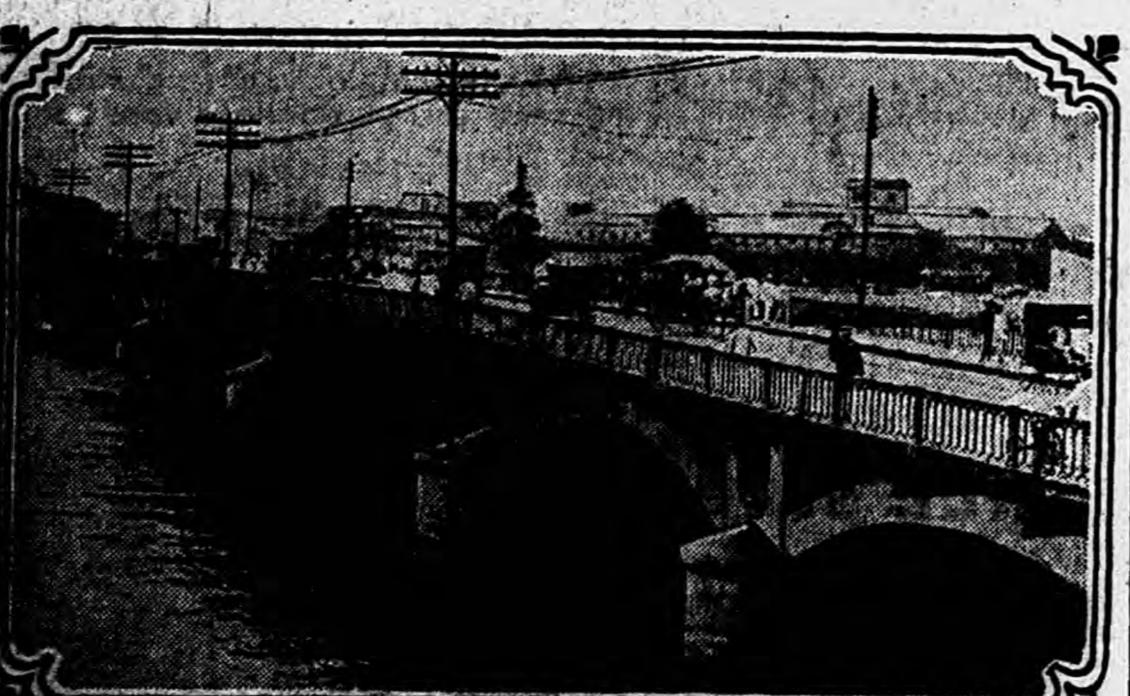

The Philippines!
(Shenandoah Ia.) Post.

Our idea of the Philippine question is to get out as quickly as possible and stay out. What do you say?

Our Little Brown Cousins
(Argus Rock Island, Ill.)

There is no mistaking that Filipinos want their independence. And it is just possible, as they insist, that they in the islands, better than we Americans over here, are the best judges of whether they are fitted for independence. The United States wants no outburst in the Philippines as England does in Ireland. The easiest way to head off a rebellion is to give the respect of the world.

A Passing Landmark of Old Manila

This is a photograph of the famous old Bridge of Spain, Manila. It is now a departed landmark of the Philippines, for its place has been taken by one of the finest bridges in the entire Orient, the new Jones bridge.

The Jones Bridge is named in honor of the late Congressman W. A. Jones of Virginia, author of the Jones law of 1916 which promised the Philippines independence upon the establishment of a stable government.

The old Bridge of Spain is called "the mother of Manila's bridges." The original bridge was built of pontoons sometime between the years 1580 and 1600, being known as the Bridge of Boats. The stone bridge shown above was built about 1600. It was twice damaged by earthquakes, and was once nearly demolished by a flood.

SATISFIED WITH THE TEST

After Somewhat Belated Proof of the Purity of the Liquor, Brothers Slept in Peace.

"Testing" corn liquor is one of the most frequent preliminaries to conviviality these days, it is rumored, alleged, indicated and otherwise noise abroad. Lightin' that burns with a white flame is supposed to be dangerous, to contain wood alcohol, and to otherwise be undesirable; while that burns blue is supposed to be the honest effort of a master-maker of spirits. Sometimes, however, zeal for drink overcomes caution, even of this uncertain sort, with the result that the following occurred a few nights ago.

Two young brothers in mild iniquity secured themselves a pint. They, being fairly law-abiding in other respects, went to their room to drink it. They drank it, at least, most of it, and became somewhat affected by its presence with them. They undressed, turned out the light and retired. After about 20 minutes one aroused himself and called to the other.

"Say, wake up, we didn't test that liquor!"

"Well, must do it," was the drawry reply, "but we don't drink it 'bout testin' it."

They arose, turned on the light, found the drop or two of liquor left in the flask, poured it on a hand-mirror, touched a match to it with due solemnity and care, saw the blue flame and returned to their beds all satisfied.—Atlanta Constitution.

HE GOT THE "BUG LETTER"

Discovery That Made the Victim Madder Than Before He Sent in Original "Kick."

There is probably no easier way to get a laugh out of an average American audience than to mention an Englishman's sense of humor, and to read what an American may have to say about the British humor may be exasperating as an Englishman, but the reverse is not always true. An Englishman, J. C. Squire, for instance, may write about American jokes and not be the least bit irritating. In his "Life and Letters" Mr. Squire's chapter, "Goas and Humour," contains several fine American jokes, and among them is one that concerns a traveler on a sleeping car who had written a complaint to headquarters about the presence of vermin in his berth.

"He received back from the administrative head a letter of immense effusiveness. Never before had such a complaint been lodged against this scrupulously careful line, and the management would have suffered any loss rather than cause annoyance to so distinguished a citizen as, etc., etc. He was very delighted with this abject apology. But as he was throwing away the envelope there fell out a slip of paper which had, apparently, been inclosed by mistake. On it was a memorandum: 'Send this guy the bug letter.'

—Welcome Spring. Thank Providence for spring. The earth, and man himself, by sympathy with his birthplace, would be far other than we find them, if life toiled wearily onward without this periodical infusion of the primal spirit.—Hawthorne.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requiring constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for every case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists. 75c. Hall's Family Pill for constipation.

[Advertisement.]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS: This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court of Somerset County letters testamentary on the estate of

WILLIAM J. PHILLIPS,

late of Somerset county, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers therefor, to the subscriber on or before the Twenty-third day of September, 1921.

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefits of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

Given under my hand this 15th day of March, 1921.

FLORENCE A. PHILLIPS,

Executor of William J. Phillips, deceased

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK, Register of Wills.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS: This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters testamentary on the estate of

MARIE A. MASON

late of Somerset county, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers therefor, to the subscriber on or before the Second Day of August, 1921.

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

Given under my hand this 25th day of February, 1921.

RALPH P. THOMPSON,

Executor of Martha A. Mason, dec'd.

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK, Register of Wills Co.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS: This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters testamentary on the estate of

JAMES R. DODSON

late of Somerset county, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers therefor, to the subscriber on or before the Second Day of August, 1921.

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefits of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

Given under my hand this 25th day of February, 1921.

IDA DODSON

Administrator of James R. Dodson, deceased

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK, Register of Wills

[Advertisement.]

Kill That Cold With

HILL'S
CASCARA BROMIDE QUININE
FOR Colds, Coughs AND La Grippe

Neglected Colds are Dangerous

Take no chances. Keep this standard remedy handy for the first sneeze.

Breaks up a cold in 24 hours — Relieves

Grippe in 3 days — Excellent for Headache

Quinine in this form does not affect the head — Cascara is best Tonic

Laxative — No Opiate in Hill's.

ALL DRUGGISTS SELL IT

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

ONE OF LEGION'S FOUNDERS

Col. Milton Foreman's Connection Dates Back to the Original Paris Caucus.

Col. Milton J. Foreman, national executive committee man of the Illinois department of the American Legion, is a Chicago lawyer, who for many years has been active in public and military affairs. His connection with the Legion dates back to the original Paris caucus at which time the idea of forming a Legion was conceived. At that meeting he was named chairman of the temporary executive committee.

Returning to the United States, he was elected commander of the Illinois department. In 11 months the membership in Illinois increased from 19,000 to more than 65,000, and the number of posts from 220 to 682.

While serving with the First Illinois cavalry, in 1894, Mr. Foreman acquired an active interest in military affairs. He served with that organization during the Spanish-American war and rose to the rank of captain.

After the war Mr. Foreman began the practice of law in Chicago, and became major in the First cavalry. In 1914 he was promoted to lieutenant colonel, and two years later commissioned colonel of the regiment. He was in command of that organization during the border troubles.

With the outbreak of the World war, Colonel Foreman requested the transfer of his regiment to field artillery, which was effected in June, 1917. Colonel Foreman took the regiment to France in 1917 and commanded it throughout the war. He received three citations for gallantry and was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for achievements in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives.

While not in the military service, Mr. Foreman practiced law in Chicago and took an active interest in public affairs throughout the state. In 1899 he was elected to the Chicago city council and served six consecutive terms. He was chairman of the Chicago charter convention whose work has become a model for planners of new city charters.

HIKE TO NATIONAL CAPITAL

Plan Suggested by Kansas Committee man to Tell Lawmakers What Legion Men Need.

"Join the army and walk around the world!" Do you remember that slogan?

Doughboys whose weary feet ate up the kilometers on the other side and the miles on this side so paraphrased the advertising of the Recruiting service during the war. But walking won the war. "Let's keep it up," urges W. F. Kurtz, Kansas national executive committeeman of the American Legion. "Let's walk to Washington and tell them what the Legion wants for its disabled and for its whole membership."

According to Mr. Kurtz' plan, delegates from each state department of the Legion would hike overland to the nation's capitol, arranging their schedules so as to meet on the White House steps on the same day. However, he would permit representatives from the other side of the Rockies to ride the cushions across to this side.

Legion posts along the way would feed and shelter the hikers. "I'll lead the way, and outwalk anyone in the Legion," the Kansas pedestrian declares.

C. O. D.

An old darky visited doctor and received instructions as to what he should do. Shaking his head, he was about to leave the office, when the doctor called out:

"Hey, there, uncle, you forgot to pay me."

"Pay you fo' what?"

"For my advice."

"Nossuh, boss, Ise complunitat from all angles and decided not to take it,"—American Legion Weekly.

Second Hand.

"I want two sheets of fly paper," said the lady entering the corner general store.

The none-too-brilliant clerk extracted two sheets from the window.

"Ten cents," he said.

"How embarrassing! I've only a nickel with me."

"Aw, I s'pose you can have the two for five cents," he grumbled. "They're half full of flies already."—American Legion Weekly.

WE, THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES,—"

As decade after decade passes, we who live and prosper under the Constitution marvel more and more at the matchless wisdom, the almost prophetic vision of those early leaders of the nation who could devise a plan of government so perfect that it has endured basically unchanged for over a hundred and thirty years.

The story of the making of the Constitution and what it means to us is told in an absorbingly interesting manner in the latest of the Our Government stories now being issued by this Institution.

If you are not receiving these articles monthly come in and have your name put on our list.

PEOPLES BANK of SOMERSET COUNTY PRINCESS ANNE MARYLAND

150

THE AWAKENING

By GERTRUDE ALLEN.

(© 1921 by McClure's Newspaper Syndicate.)
Rosamond was in that delightful state which is neither sleeping nor walking, and was vaguely aware that it was morning, for the town was becoming vocal. A dim suspicion of dawn made the windows faintly visible, but it surely could not be time to get up.

A wave of thankfulness swept over her at the thought that she was safely in her own little white-and-pink bedroom, and then she slipped back into dreamland and found herself walking along a brookside, a little buff spaniel running in and out of the water beside her. A rainbow arched the brook and receded as she advanced. Suddenly she heard an ominous growl, which resolved itself into the rumble of a passing dray.

"Rainbow in the morning, sailors take warning," she repeated drowsily. She was back in dreamland, where a queer old woman sat rocking, singing in a raucous voice, "John Anderson, my Jo," and as she sang she changed into a lovely young girl with a spinning wheel, who seemed inclined to speak when Rosamond became aware that the hum of the wheel was really made by a street car two blocks off.

She stretched lazily and smiled a little, thinking sleepily of the small white-and-pink room—her very own room—the "apple blossom room"—so-called because when the house was built years and years before an apple tree stood in front of the east window of the room, and in its flowering season filled the little room with its fragrance. Ah, she could smell it now, though the apple tree had long since disappeared.

She began to realize that it was morning and time to wake up, and then dozed off once more. Now she was in a sleigh rapidly approaching a vertical precipice, but on the very edge, the catastrophe was averted by Ray Randall, who suddenly appeared from nowhere, remarking, "Dreams always go by contraries."

Now she was really awake, but lying with closed eyes, trying to induce another visit from Morphus. She was contentedly happy that she had firmly resisted all the pressure brought to bear upon her when she refused to marry Mr. Comstock, the aged millionaire.

At least he was aged according to her standards. She was nineteen and he was forty-four. To be sure, he was tall, erect, elegant and learned, but there were indications of a bald spot and he wore spectacles, the kind with big, round lenses, and he was not slim. She had always thought of him as one of her father's cronies, and the idea of marrying him made her shiver.

Once more she dozed, and this time was part of a confused dream of apple blossoms and music, and Ray Randall, and then she was suddenly wide awake, thinking of Ray.

Poor! To be sure he was young? Just twenty-four. Ambitious? Certainly; he already had plans about the United States senate. But she was willing to wait, willing to work, willing to efface herself, if only she might do it for Ray. In the meantime she had her own little white-and-pink room—her sanctum sanctorum—her haven in all times of stress.

Suddenly she opened her eyes and looked straight into the eyes of Mr. Burton Comstock. She was certainly in a white-and-pink room, a very large and luxurious room; a room decorated with apple blossoms, and Mr. Comstock carried a wonderful branch of them in his hand.

"My rose of the world," he said, "a penny for your dreams; they surely must have been pleasant ones."

"Yes, Burton, in a room like this, no other kind would be possible."

"And Rosamond," continued her husband, "didn't Ray Randall use to run around in your set? I see by the morning paper that he has won the election; and also his engagement to that rich widow, Mrs. Stevens. At one time I was almost jealous of him."

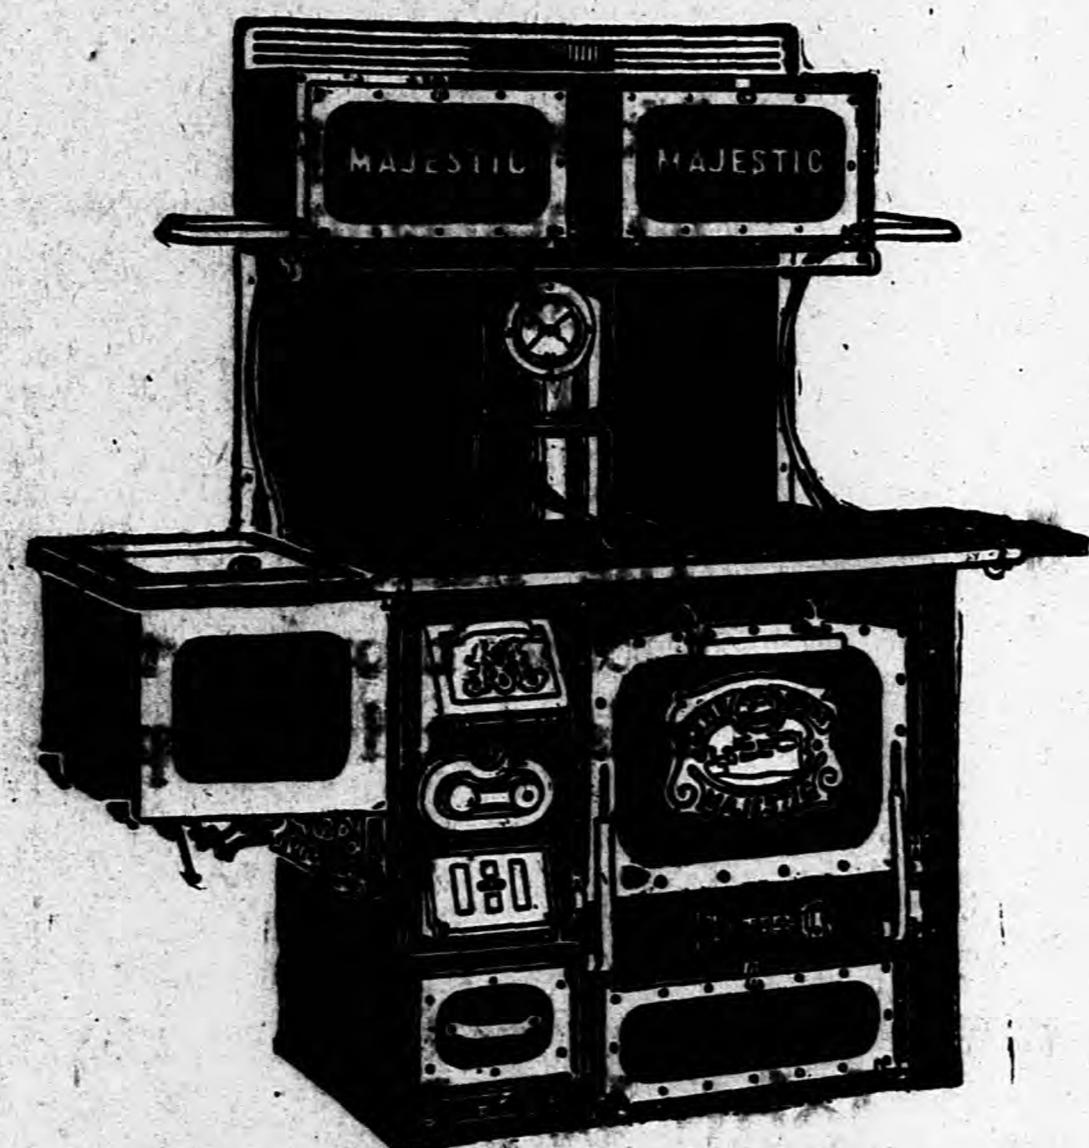

"And at one time," replied Rosamond, "I almost thought I did not even like you."

Burial Place of "Mother Goose." Near the center of the older part of Boston is a large graveyard in which are buried many notable persons of the colonial days. It is a very interesting place and the old gravestones have been well-cared for. One small stone marks the grave of "Mother Goose," to whom many thousands of children have been indebted for much innocent enjoyment.

Soldier Earned Furlough. Private James Cunningham won a 30-day furlough from Camp Dix, N. J., when he shinied up a 90-foot pole to replace a pulley that civilian workers said could not be replaced without lowering the pole. Maj. Gen. C. P. Summerall, commanding officer, was so pleased that he gave Cunningham a day's leave for every foot he shinied.

Depressing Introduction. The chairman of a club in an Indiana city was introducing the speaker of the evening. After announcing the name of the lecturer and her subject, the chairman in conclusion said: "Last year we went in debt on account of our lectures and so this year we decided that we would have no speakers."

25 percent Saved BY BUYING YOUR STOVES NOW

I have just received a carload of the Wilson Down Draft Airtight Heaters and a large assortment of

Cook Stoves and Ranges

These stoves were bought last January, since that time they have advanced 25 per cent. and we are giving our customers the advantage of this increase in price.

10 Per Cent Discount ON ALL ROBES, BLANKETS

CARRIAGES, WAGONS, HARDWARE HARNESS

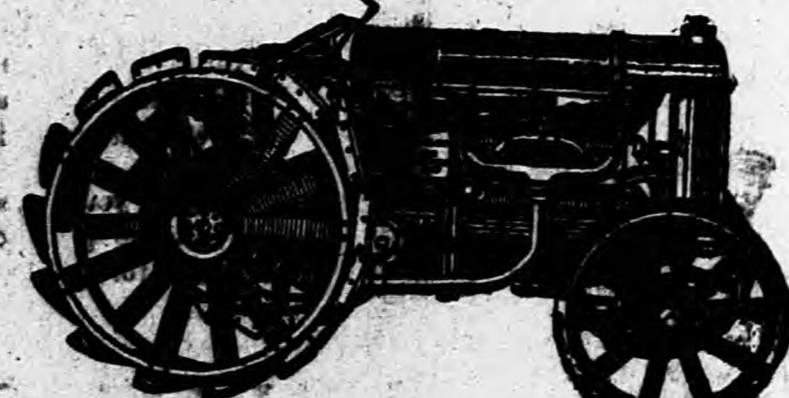

Ask your neighbor where to get a square deal and he will say TAYLOR'S HARDWARE STORE.

J. T. TAYLOR, Jr.

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Fordson

THE Ford Motor Company have just issued a book called "The Fordson at Work." This book is given free. Call in and get one. If you cannot call, write and we will mail you one without charge. It is not what the Ford Motor Company says about the Fordson Tractor, but what the army of users have to say. This book voices the hardest kind of practical experience. It shows in illustration the Fordson Tractor at actual work along some ninety different lines of activity. It will become a part of farm life; a beneficial part; a profitable part. Get order in for there's a rush coming.

WM. P. FITZGERALD
Authorized Dealer
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

WHEN in want of
STYLISH and QUALITY PRINTING
MARYLANDER AND HERLAD

AWAITING THE ELECTRIC CHAIR

Convicted upon circumstantial evidence, condemned boy of 21, is saved by a Woman Editor, through the Salvation Army.

FERTILIZERS

FEEDS

Our Feed Line
Is Complete

CALL ON US

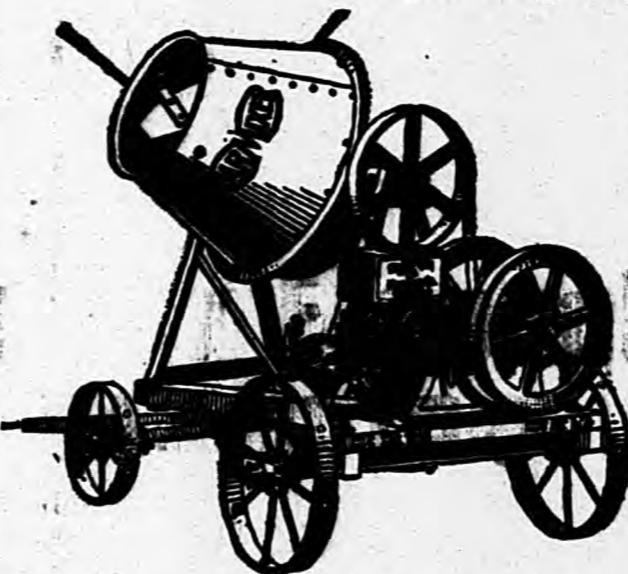

Let us quote you

Princess Anne Milling Co.
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

FARMIXER

Concrete Mixer Built Especially For The Farmer.

Large enough for any farm job. Make your concrete improvements yourself and save time and money on foundations, floors, walks, silos, water troughs, etc.

ON SKIDS
For hand mixing, $59.50

ON TRUCK
For hand mixing and ready for your own engine, $83.00

ON TRUCK
With engine, $158.00

F. O. B. Baltimore.

Send cash with order and we prepay freight.

We build larger sizes for Builders and Contractors.

JOHN C. LOUIS,
221 S. EUTAW ST.
Baltimore, Md.

The AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

GIRL GETS SERVICE MEDAL

Emblem Presented to New York High School Miss in Recognition of Patriotic Work.

As a tribute to her patriotic services during the World war, Miss Pauline Henkel, a fourteen-year-old New York high school girl, was presented with a patriotic service gold medal by F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, in behalf of S. Rankin Drew post. The presentation ceremonies took place in front of the Fifth Avenue public library in New York city.

The guard of honor for Miss Henkel, who is known as the "Little Colonel," was composed of members of the marine corps under command of Lieutenants Miller and Gumpertz and Sergeant Janssen, congressional medal of honor men.

Although she was only ten years old at the start of the World war, the Little Colonel sold $3,330,250 worth of Liberty bonds, more than any other minor in the country, and also was recognized as one of the most effective patriotic speakers and war workers in America.

With the return of the American soldiers to their native land, Miss Henkel is still devoting herself to their welfare, as attested by the following quotation from her speech of acceptance:

"The happiest moment of my life will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner befitting the sacrifices they have made. The cause of the disabled

will be when it is a fact that the wounded, disabled and unemployed of our boys have been taken care of in a manner

Relic of Glacial Age.

Devil's Pulpit, located about two miles east of Batavia, N. Y., is a relic of the glacial age. It is a huge mass of rock shaped like an hour glass, and is one of the most peculiar and striking natural formations in the whole state. The base is fully 30 feet across. It slopes upward to a narrow rock, corresponding to the neck through which the sands of an hour glass sift, and then broadens out to form what looks like the upper chamber of the glass. It is composed of limestone and stands 20 feet in height. The nearest bedrock like it is five miles away to the north, and geologists believe this means that the rock was torn loose from its original mother vein and dragged those five miles by the big glacier that swept down from the polar regions ages ago. Natural erosion did the carving that gives it the hour-glass contour.

New Timekeeper Clock.

Boiling eggs, developing photographs, or any other operation that requires short but accurate account of time, may be allowed to proceed without attention through the use of a novel clock, described in Popular Mechanics. The four-inch dial is at the top, and in the lower part of the case is a vertical scale, reading up to 90 minutes in one-minute divisions, and carrying a small slide that is set by hand. At the end of the period set, a four-inch gong on the back rings until it is shut off. Though a valuable addition to the home kitchen, the new time-keeping clock is intended especially as a labor-saving accessory for hotel and restaurant kitchens, photo galleries, laboratories and other places where the measurement of minutes is needed.

Snapping Movie Picture.

Usually 150,000 to 200,000 feet are run through the cameras to get a six-reel, or 6,000-foot motion picture. The director stations three, four or five cameras to take the same scene. He has one camera close beside the struggling villain and hero, another grinding from an elevation still another at this angle, one more at that angle. When all of these negatives are developed, parts of each enter into the composition of the completed reel.

Impossible.

"These short skirts—"
"Yes."
"I should think a girl's ankles would get cold."
"How can her ankles get cold when she has a fur necklace?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Knock at the Door to Get Out.
Greek and Roman doors invariably open outwards. A person passing out of a house is, therefore, obliged to knock on the door before opening it to avoid a collision with a passerby.

Filling Cracks With Paper.

Roll white paper in water five hours, then pour off the water and pound the pulp into a mortar; pass it through a sieve and mix with some gum water or isinglass glue.

Wonderful Transformation.

Figures from Maine show that capital of $8,000,000 is invested in the business of transforming the raw herring into the baked sardine.—Boston Transcript.

Needn't Worry About That.

A western man advertising for a wife says he wants a woman with ideas. He'll get that no matter what woman he marries.—Boston Transcript.

It's an Fickle as a Woman.

How can we expect the forecast of officials to tell what the weather will do when the weather itself does not know?—Boston Herald.

And There You Have It.

Elizabeth, when asked the ages of her two brothers, answered, "I am bigger than the littlest one and littler than the biggest one."

A Creature to Be Pitied.

It is the coward who fawns upon those above him. It is the coward who is insolent whenever he dares be so.—Junius.

Buy Your Own Laces.

Adv.—Sample Shoes to Be Given Away. No strings to this offer.—Boston Transcript.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

What a Heap of Happiness It Would Bring to Princess Anne Homes!

Hard to do housework with and aching back.

Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains often come from weak kidneys.

Would save much needless woe. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. Ask your neighbor!

Read what a Princess Anne citizen says:

Mrs. Victoria Sexton, Antioch avenue, says: "I was in a run down condition with kidney trouble. My back ached constantly and kept me feeling miserable. My housework tired me out and I became weak and languid. Dizzy spells came over me and spots floated before my eyes. My feet and ankles were swollen at times and my kidneys never acted regularly. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended at times and I used them from Jones & Colborn's drug store. They helped me wonderfully by relieving all symptoms of kidney trouble."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Sexton uses. Foster-Millburn Co., Mifflin, Butler, Pa.

(Advertisement)

Scriptures in a Nutshell.

Peter Balles, a scholar of Queen Elizabeth's time, lives in the Harleian Manuscripts at Oxford for having written the Bible in so small a hand that it was enclosed in a walnut. "The nut holdeth the book; there are as many leaves in his little book as in the great Bible, and he hath written as much on one of his little leaves as on a great leaf of the Bible."

Bears Are Doglike.

Bears seem to have been derived from some extinct dog-like ancestor; though fossil remains of bears have been discovered that belong to the typical bear family, says the American Forestry Magazine. The well-known extinct Cave bear of Europe belongs in the last-named group, and was a species of immense bulk.

And Commercial Lines.

Most of the wrinkles in a business man's face are trademarks.—Sioux City Journal.

Chamberlain's Tablets Are Mild And Gentle In Effect

The laxative effect of Chamberlain's Tablets is so mild and gentle that you can hardly realize that it has been produced by a medicine.

(Advertisement)

But It's Not Mahogany.

The Spanish or cigar box cedar, known locally as cedar, is not a coniferous wood but belongs to the mahogany family, says the American Forestry Magazine. In fact it finds its way into the market as mahogany and may not be readily distinguished from that wood except by its odor.

Crackless Porcelain.

Porcelain cracks because the glaze with which it is coated expands at a different rate from the clay of which it is composed. A manufacturer in Europe is now making a glaze that has the same coefficient of expansion as porcelain.

Lumbago

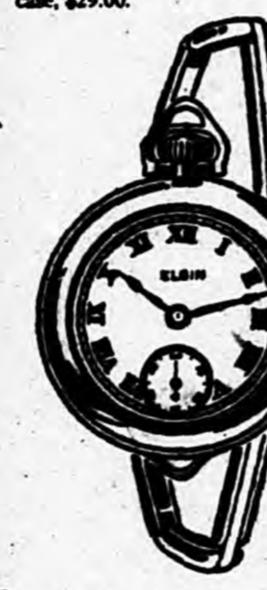

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dunn, Brockport, N.Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."

(Advertisement)

GRADUATION GIFTS

For The Sweet Girl Graduate there is no more appreciated gift than a dainty wrist watch—for the boy, no finer remembrance than an accurate, manly timepiece.

No. G-S 22. Ladies' brass bracelet, dainty wrist watch. Elgin movement in 20-year guaranteed case. Plain finish. Price, $28.00; Same as above except handsomely engraved case, $29.00.

Our Catalog 21 offers a solution to your every gift problem. No matter what the occasion may be, or how much you intend to invest—you will find a suitable variety of gift suggestions.

Catalog mailed upon request.

Paul-Gale-Greenwood Company

Largest Jewelers South

NORFOLK, VIRGINIA

B. C. DRYDEN AUCTIONEER
PRINCESS ANNE, MD., ROUT 4.

When you need my services give me a call
Prices Reasonable. Somerset people know I always give satisfaction.

John W. Norris & Sons, Inc.

PRINCESS ANNE

Laws Made For You

Banking laws for this State are especially designed to fit the needs of its citizens.

Funds are safeguarded absolutely and banks are enabled to offer every known banking service.

This bank is directly under State banking laws—laws made for you.

PEOPLES BANK of SOMERSET COUNTY
PRINCESS ANNE, MD.

How Fine They Sound

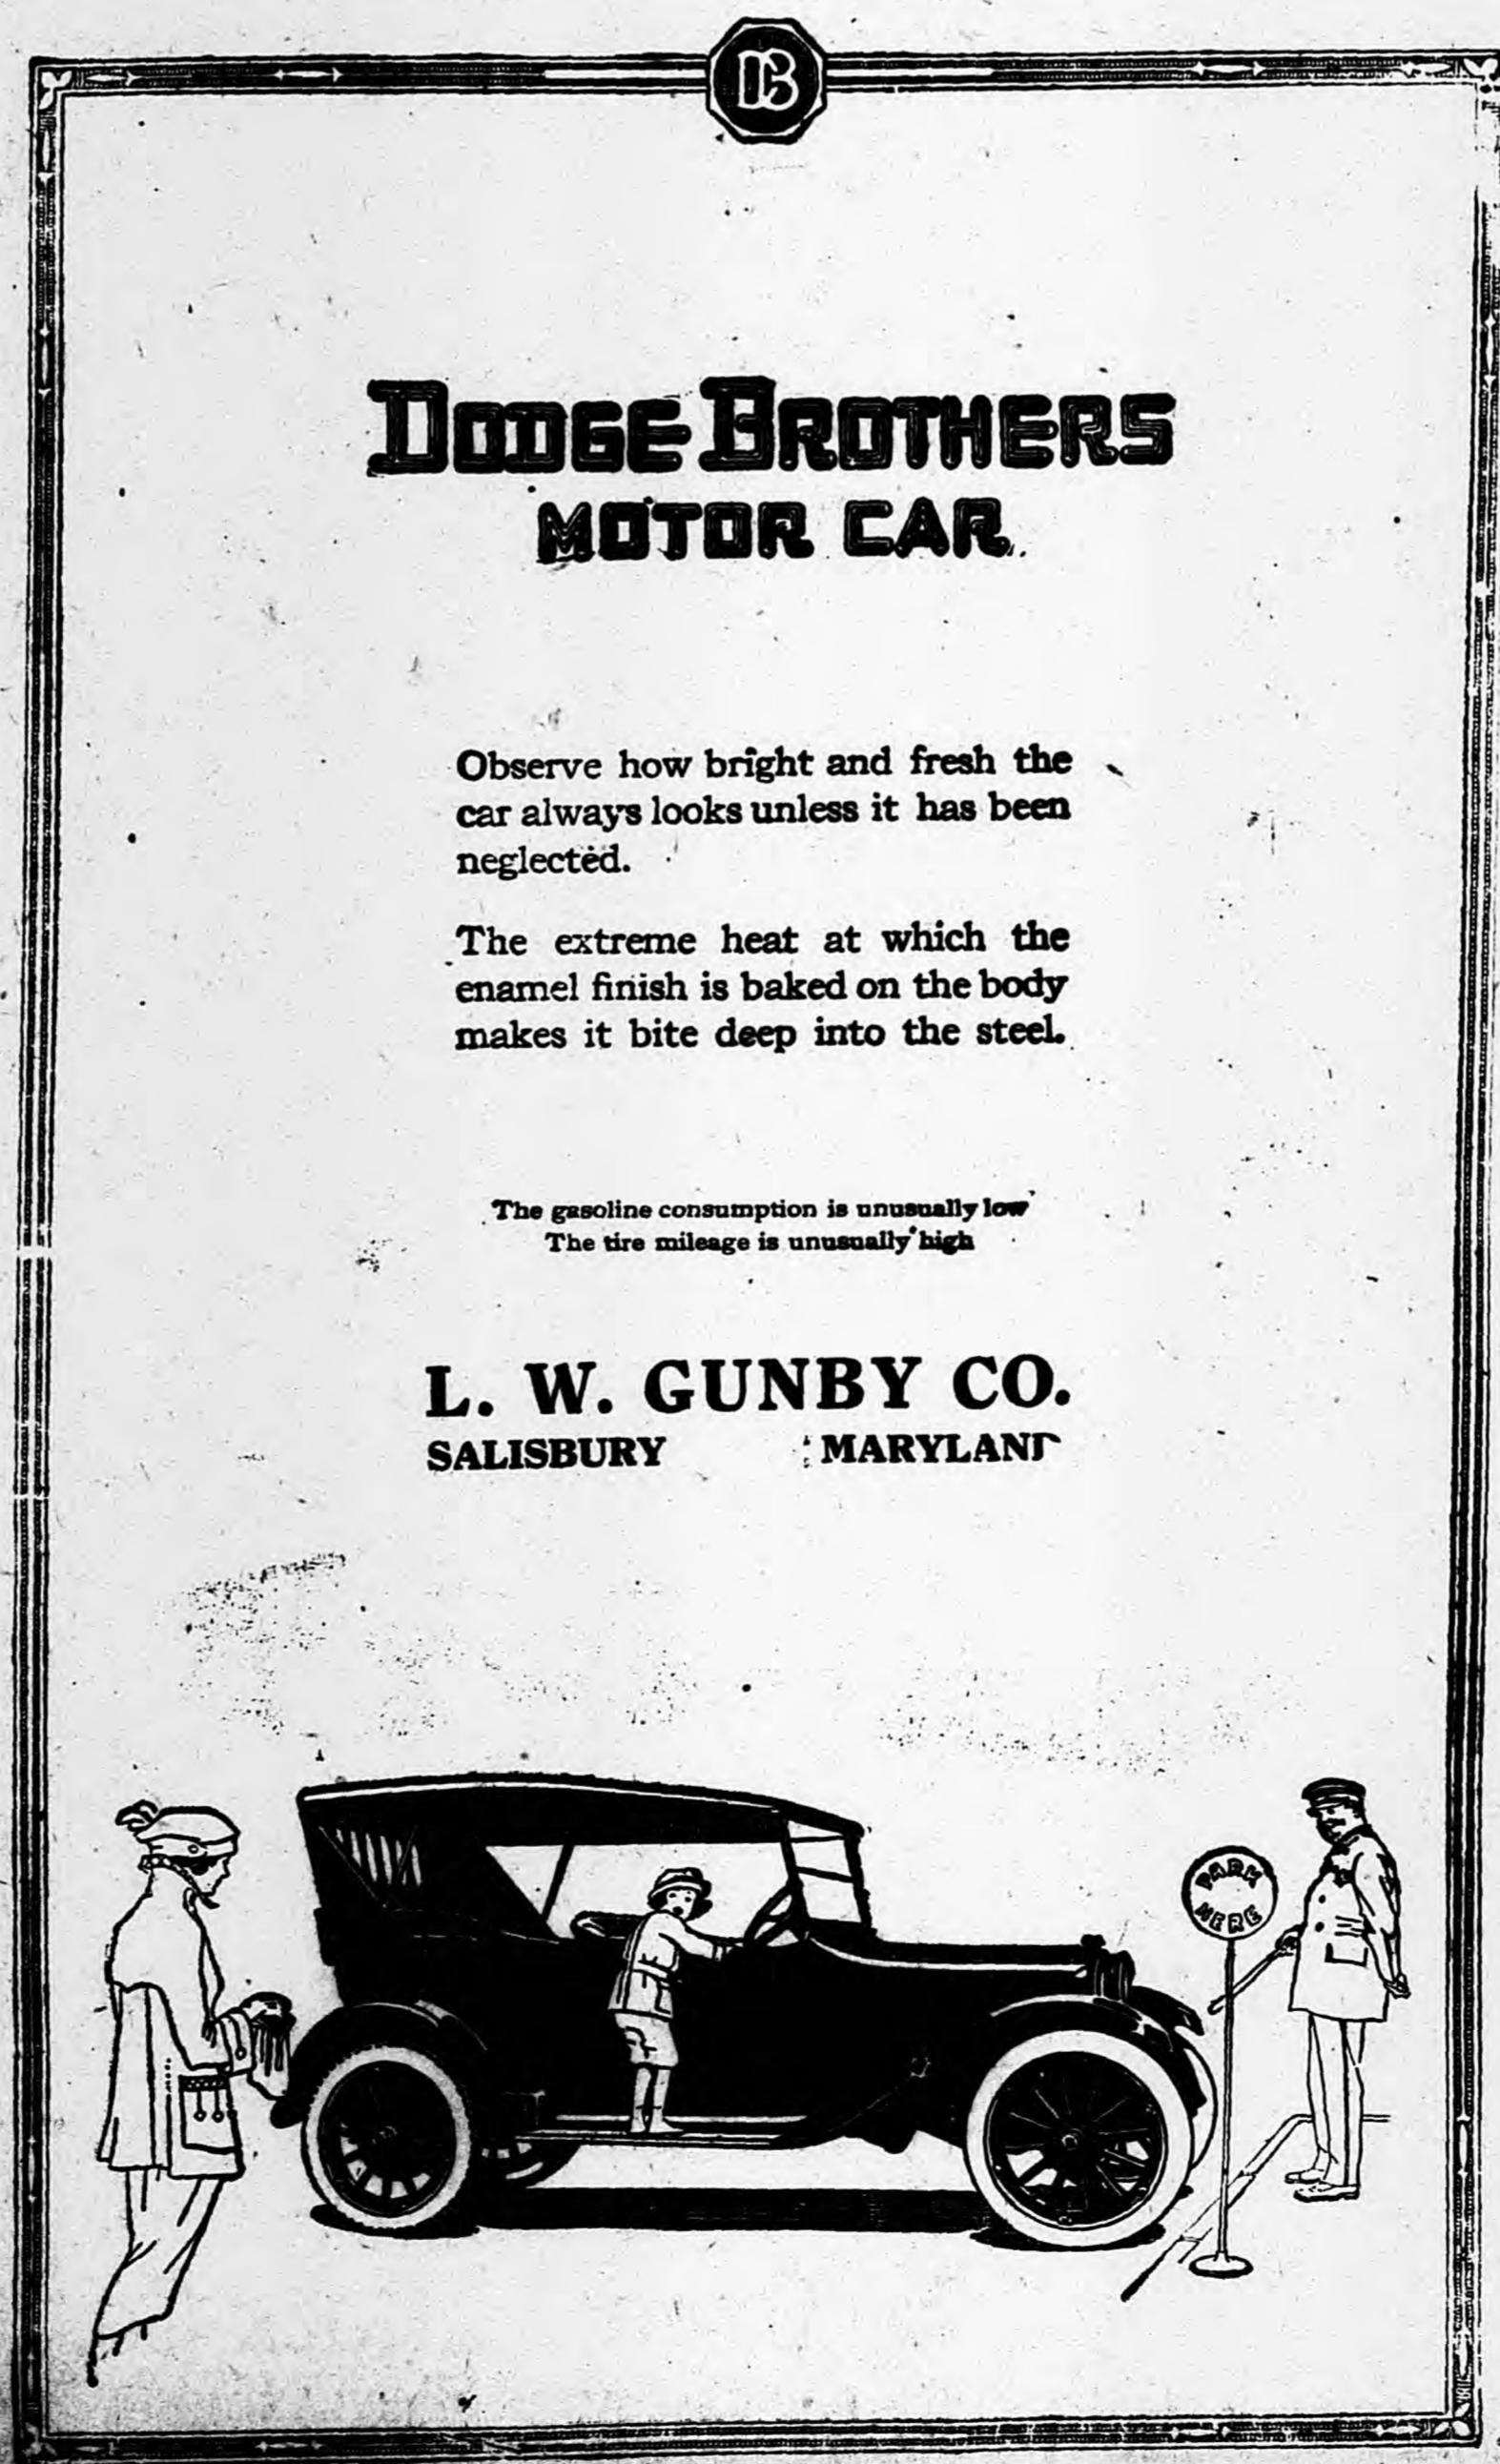

Those stories of that new investment proposition with its big and quick returns—how fine they sound when first told.

But there's more to an investment than the mere telling about it and promises of unusual dividends. The wise investor demands more than promises.

Before you invest, INVESTIGATE. Our officers are always glad to talk over investments with you. What information we have is yours for the asking always.

BANK OF SOMERSET
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Capital and Surplus $ 240,000.00
Resources . . . 1,500,000.00

Strawberry Checks Printed at $1.50 per M

MARYLANDER AND HERALD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF PRINCESS ANNE AND SOMERSET COUNTY

THE MARYLANDER, ESTABLISHED 1882
SOMERSET HERALD, 1882

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND, MAY 17, 1921

Vol. XXIII No. 41

SEVERAL PROPERTY TRANSFERS

Recorded In The Office Of The Circuit Court For Somerset County
Alonzo E. Tull from Lambert Cane and others, land in Brinkley's district; consideration $100 and other valuable considerations.

George C. Coulbourne from Thomas P. Coulbourne and others, land in Crisfield district; consideration $100 and other valuable considerations.

Charles Clinton Sterling and wife from John H. Lawson and wife, land in Asbury district; consideration $100 and other considerations.

Walter E. Ward from James B. Tawes and wife, land in Lawson's district; consideration $225.50.

Vernon C. Ward from James B. Tawes and wife, land in Lawson's district; consideration $225.50.

Murray E. Ward from James B. Tawes and wife, land in Lawson's district; consideration $65.

Charles W. Howeth from John Gandy and wife, land in Crisfield district; consideration $300.

Sidonius F. Corbin from Asbury M. Evans and others, land in Smith's Island district; consideration $750.

George Mason from Geo. H. Myers, trustee, land in Asbury district; consideration $455.

Home Team Puts Up Good Fight

Last Wednesday afternoon the Washington All Stars, of Princess Anne, were defeated by the Wicomico High School team by a score of 7 to 8. The game was played in the enemy's territory, at Gordy's Park, Salisbury. Although the day was cloudy and quite cool a large number of spectators were present to witness the game, which was called at 3:30 o'clock with W. Barnes performing the twirling duties, while R. Jones was at the receiving end. G. Walker bugged first, A. Culver second, R. Flaming third, and H. Barnes clutched shortstop. W. Dixon, K. Waller and W. Richards performed the skyscraping duties in the outfield.

At the end of the fourth inning the score was 4 to 6 in favor of Salisbury. In the sixth inning Jopes and Waller crossed home plate by Culver's two-base hit. In the seventh H. Barnes made a heavy hit, but the ball was caught by Salisbury's centre-fielder. Likewise in the seventh, Buck Barnes singled and was safe on first; but Buck didn't seem satisfied, so made a flying leap for second, sliding 15 feet, where he died. In the ninth things looked dark for the Stars. Toby, Salisbury's pitcher, threw wild, which resulted in another run, forcing in Buck Barnes. The game closed when, with three men on bases, Happy Barnes slugged the ball to centre-field, where it was caught. Walker, Star first baseman, performed a wonderful pick-up. The fielders did exceedingly well. This was the last game of the season for the Stars.

Mr. Smith Retired From Service

Mr. P. Mark Smith of Princess Anne, who has served the Postoffice Department in the postoffice here for nearly 15 years as clerk and assistant postmaster, was retired from the service under an order issued by former Postmaster General Burleson, that all employees of the postal service in Mr. Smith's class be retired at the age of 65 years. Mr. Smith was 65 years old on Saturday last. The patrons of the office and his fellow employees, as well as the present postmaster, express regret at the severance of their relations with Mr. Smith in his official capacity.

It is regretted that a man of Mr. Smith's ability should have to retire from work simply because he has attained a certain age. Nevertheless he has earned a right to a good vacation by his long and continuous service. His friends wish him well in any new undertaking.

Tentative State Program For Schools

State School Superintendent A. S. Cook has sent out copies of "A Tentative State Program" for the Public Elementary and High Schools of Maryland, the purpose of which is to secure public approval of a plan for competent, well-trained teachers in every public school position in the State. Copies of the program will be sent to each teacher. Additional copies will be on distribution at the office of the County Board of Education and those interested are invited to call and get one.

Association Receives Fertilizer

The Somerset County Agricultural Association received several car shipments of corn fertilizer last week for Princess Anne and Marion members of the association. The association is now making an effort to dispose of the excess seed crop of the members. Farmers desiring soybean seed should get in touch with the secretary, C. Z. Miller,

LARGER CROP OF WHEAT AND RYE

Yield Of Wheat Is Estimated By U. S. Experts At 629,287,000 Bushels

This year's winter wheat and rye crops will be larger than last year, while the hay crop will be about the same as a year ago, the Department of Agriculture's May forecast issued last week indicates.

Winter wheat acreage showed much less than average abandonment as a result of favorable weather during the winter and a crop of 629,287,000 bushels, or 8,000,000 bushels more than forecast a month ago, is estimated on the acreage figures of the May 1 census.

Kansas reported an abandonment of eight per cent, which was the heaviest of the important producing States, and her crop this year promises to be about 8,000,000 bushels less than last year. Abandonment in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Nebraska ranged from two to three per cent.

The crop in Ohio is forecast at 13,000,000 bushels more than last year, while in Indiana, Illinois and Missouri it will be about 10,000,000 bushels more than the 1920 crop. Nebraska's crop will be about 1,500,000 bushels smaller, and Oklahoma's about 10,000,000 bushels less than last year.

The rye crop this year is forecast at 72,077,000 bushels, based on the condition of the crop May 1, which was 92.5 per cent. of normal. The forecast a month ago was 66,386,000 bushels, based on the condition of the crop April 1, which was 90.2 per cent. of a normal. The crop last year was 69,318,000 bushels and the condition on May 1 was 85.1, while the 1919 crop was 88,909,000 bushels and the May 1 ten-year average condition is 89.9 per cent. of a normal.

Auditorium Photo Plays This Week

William Farnum does some fine acting in "The Scuttlers," the William Fox production to be shown at the Auditorium tonight, Tuesday. His position is a difficult one from the start. He is a detective, trying to gather scuttling evidence against the captain of the ship on which he is a sailor. He falls in love with the captain's daughter—played by Miss Jackie Saunders. The pulling of love against duty gives him the opportunity to show varied emotions, and at this work William Farnum excels.

"Do fathers of pretty daughters instinctively take a dislike to handsome young men? Generally it works out that way, in real life, doesn't it? It's the case in "What's Your Hurry?" Wallace Reid's latest picture, which will be the feature attraction at the Auditorium Thursday night. According to the story, Wallie is in love with Virginia, daughter of old Pat MacMurran, millionaire manufacturer of the Pakro truck. Wallie is, as you know, handsome and in the picture, a racing driver. Pat is against him on both counts. It is not until the star carries the Pakro truck triumphantly to the rescue when an irrigation dam is broken and threatens disaster that MacMurran is ready to welcome him as a son-in-law.

Chautauqua Officers And Guarantors

At a recent meeting of the guarantors of the Princess Anne Chautauqua the following officers were elected: Mr. William P. Todd, president; Miss Elizabeth M. Cahill, secretary; Mr. W. Stewart Fitzgerald, treasurer. The committee on advertising—Messrs. George W. Colborn, Jr. and W. Stewart Fitzgerald. The committee on entertainment—Miss Mildred Powell and Mrs. L. Creston Beauchamp. The guarantors for the season of 1921 are as follows:

A. B. Fitzgerald	F. R. Nelson
E. H. Cohn	J. A. Dixon
N. G. Gibson	B. H. Dryden
W. Stewart Fitzgerald	C. B. Ames
H. P. Johnson	H. E. Twining
H. W. Robertson	T. B. Jackson
W. B. McDorman	T. B. Wallop
J. Fred Schwartz	R. Mark White
G. S. Dryden	M. F. Hickman
W. E. Sterling	P. F. McLean
Frank Bryant	James H. Rue
Clarence R. Lane	J. H. Cooper
J. S. Dennis	Edwin D. Harrington
E. H. Miller	Walker J. D. Wallop
B. C. Drury	Miss Mildred Powell
Z. W. Townsend	Miss Elizabeth M. Cahill
Z. H. Ford	Miss A. Hyland

Thomas Pratt Pusey Dead

Mr. Thomas Pratt Pusey, a well-known and highly respected farmer, died at his home, about 4 miles east of Princess Anne, at an early hour last Friday morning, aged 75 years. Mr. Pusey had been in poor health for some time. His death was caused by Bright's disease. He is survived by his wife, who was, before her marriage, Miss Eugene McAllan.

Funeral services were held in Friendship Methodist Protestant Church last Sunday morning, conducted by the Rev. Mr. George, of Laurel, Del., a former pastor of the church. Interment was in the church cemetery.

The agitators are not much interested in normally as it would throw them out of a job.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

The List From Somerset Schools Number Fifty-Three This Year

The last week of this month commencement exercises will be held and the usual preparations are being made in all the high schools to have the program up to the usual standard. The prospective graduates in the different schools follow:

Washington High School—Academic—Daisy Priscilla Adams, Mary Priscilla Atkinson, Elizabeth Priscilla Bayley, Nannie Frances Bounds, Charlotte Newmann Fitzgerald, Julia Harrington Hanley, Gladys Virginia Kelly, Marian Siemon Lankford, Linda Lore Pollitt, Lydia Christine Ruark, William Marshall Scott, Charles Teasle Smith. General—Sarah Hannah Anderson, Margaret Fairfax Dashiel.

Crisfield High School—Academic—

Edward Benson Dennis, Cassie Anne Dize, John Eugene Gardner, Wilfred Everett Froehlich, George Millard Hines, James Reginald Joynes, Agnes Jones, Edward Everett Lawson, Edwin Ralph Long, May Susan Meara, Sallie Elizabeth Moore, Laura Elizabeth Miles, Helen Porter Richardson, Leota Caroline Sterling, Gladys Melba Stevenson, Mary Elizabeth Stevenson, Edwin Warfield Sterling, Commercial—Julia Anna Adams, Ruby Madeline Bedsworth, Vera May Dize, Hildred Eva Dize, Gladys Keen Horner, Edward Cline Lankford, William Edward Muir, George Holton, Quinn, Lee Roy Riggan, May Alma Somers, Maurice Jerome Sterling, Pauline Julia Sterling, May Elizabeth Sterling, Martha Virginia Tawes, India Frances Ward.

Marion High School—Eula Louise Miles, Elizabeth Pearl Green, Harding Parker Tull.

Deal's Island High School—William Benjamin Hudgins, Stanley Russell Bonnar, Ruth Alice Tyler, Tressie Juanita Bond.

The commencement exercises of Washington High School will be held

Monday, May 30th; Crisfield, Tuesday,

May 31st; Deal's Island, Friday, May

27th, and Marion, date not set.

Weekly Crop Report

Section Director James H. Spencer

last Tuesday issued this synopsis of weather and crop conditions in Maryland and Delaware for the week ending

Tuesday:

"Rainfall was normal or above normal, in most sections. The rainy week benefited growing crops, but cold, wet weather at the close retarded farming operations. Vegetation and farm work, however, continue ahead of normal.

"Most corn ground is prepared in the section and corn planting has begun generally, though at this date not a large percentage of the seed is in the ground.

"Wheat appears to be least promising on the Eastern Shore, where the greatest injury resulted from the March and April freezes. Rye is heading nicely.

"Early potatoes, peas, truck crops, gardens, etc., are doing nicely. A fair crop of strawberries is ripening in southern counties, and picking has begun in some localities, especially on the southern Eastern Shore."

Weller Gets Committee Appointment

Senator Weller has been appointed one of the members of a joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives to investigate and report to Congress on the subject of establishing a system of short time rural credits in the United States and to recommend to Congress such legislation as may be deemed practicable and desirable. This joint committee has been created by an Act of Congress. It consists of members of the Banking and Currency and Agricultural Committees of the House and of the Senate. Senator Weller is one of the three members selected from the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, the chairman of which committee, Senator McLean, of Connecticut, will be chairman of the joint committee.

This joint committee is authorized to have hearings and take such measures as it may deem necessary in recommending legislation on this subject.

Card Party Renfied $50

A community card party was held at the Firemen's Hall last Wednesday night for the benefit of the Princess Anne Public Library and about $50 was realized.

The hall was tastefully decorated and those present spent an enjoyable evening, some playing "500," some bridge and others played rook and dominoes. Twelve tables were filled.

The ladies had worked hard to make the party a success, and it was hoped that great interest would be displayed.

While their efforts were not as successful as they had hoped, yet the affair could not be called a failure.

The Prohibition agents are getting after the hooch makers and peddlers pretty strongly, but it begins to look as if every time they catch one law breaker, two more start up.

Women who paint should never shed tears.

WILLIAM B. SPIVA DAMAGE SUIT

Case Dismissed At Centreville—Suit Again Instituted In Somerset

The case of Mary L. Tarr, formerly of Queen Anne's county, against Wm. B. Spiva, of Princess Anne, for $25,000 damages, was dismissed by the plaintiff in the Circuit Court for Queen Anne's county when the case was called Monday afternoon of last week. Wm. J. Rickard, attorney for the plaintiff, filed a written motion to dismiss the case without assigning any reason for such action.

The suit was brought against Mr. Spiva in the Circuit Court for Somerset county and was ready for trial here at the April term of court. The plaintiff then filed a suggestion of removal and at the request of Mr. Spiva the case was sent to Queen Anne's county for trial. By agreement it was set down for trial on Monday of last week and Mr. Spiva and his witnesses were at Centreville that day.

The suit grew out of the automobile accident just above Wye Mills, in Queen Anne's county, on August 2nd last. There was a collision between the car driven by Mr. Spiva and another car driven by a man named Kemp in which Mrs. Tarr was riding. As a result of the accident Mrs. Spiva was instantly killed and Mr. Spiva very seriously injured. It is understood that the plaintiff in the damage suit suffered only a slight injury to one hand.

The general opinion has been from the beginning that there was absolutely no foundation for the suit against Mr. Spiva. It is known that Mr. Spiva was very careful in the operation of his automobile and an examination of the road where the accident occurred shows very clearly that Mr. Spiva was not in any way responsible for the accident.

A great deal of indignation has existed all over the Eastern Shore over the bringing of the suit and the sentiment was aptly expressed in Centreville Monday of last week by a gentleman who remarked that the case "was quashed by public opinion."

The plaintiff was represented also by Lewis & Knotts, of Denton, and Edwin Brown, of Centreville, and the defendant by Miles & Myers, of Princess Anne, Thomas J. Keating and J. H. C. Legg, of Centreville.

After the case was dismissed in Centreville Monday of last week, suit was again instituted against Mr. Spiva by Mary L. Tarr, just week in the court here, but it is generally believed that the plaintiff does not intend to try the case.

Bus Propositions Urged

The Public Service Commission is preparing to take up the matter of Eastern Shore bus transportation, which has been pending for some time. The commission has three propositions to consider. One of them is the position of the Tidewater Transportation Company of Southern Maryland in reference to the route from Elkhorn to Salisbury and branch lines.

The second involves the application filed by Assistant Attorney-General Amos W. W. Woodcock as counsel for a Salisbury concern for operation of a bus line in the lower part of the Eastern Shore, with Salisbury as a terminal, and the third involves the request of the Gladding Express Company to extend its freight line operations on the Shore.

As the matter stands, the Salisbury concern, backed by a wealthy Philadelphia, with 11 big passenger vehicles ready for operation, is demanding early attention. Mr. Woodcock was in conference with Joseph L. Wickes, traffic expert of the commission, several days ago and requested that action be taken in the matter as early as possible. This concern expects to operate from Salisbury to Ocean City, Salisbury to Princess Anne and possibly other routes in that section.

MORE LIGHT ON BOLSHEVIST RULE

Russian Farmers Resent Food Requisitions and Often Kill Those Seeking It.

HATER AGAINST AMERICA

Russian Government Does Not Take Kindly to Visitors and Traveling Has Been Made Difficult—Americans Popular in Siberia.

New York.—A better economic system must be evolved by the soviet government or it must surely give way in a very short time, according to Harold V. Fay of Auburn, N. Y., who has just returned from a year's absence in China, Russia and other points in the Far East. At the beginning of the war Mr. Fay was in China, and when the American forces went to Siberia he resigned his position in the University of Nanking and joined, remaining with them until they returned home, when he went to Russia as a correspondent.

"The soviets are pretty solid politically, but economically extremely unsound," said Mr. Fay. "They may have to give way to a firmer form of government, and one wherein property rights must have some say. The people in the cities are the most unfortunate, for they are so underfed. The government sends out expeditions to requisition food from the farms, but the peasants do not take kindly to the appropriation of their products, and are heartily opposed to the soviets, although they will be slow to take any action."

Real Property Taken.

"Sometimes the peasants ambush these expeditions and kill them, but these cases have not been very numerous. All real property has been taken from those who owned the land. It is not likely that they will ever be able to recover any of it, but all this propaganda by those who have come out of Russia and have lost their estates will be of little avail, in my belief, for it is extremely unlikely that Russia will return to the old form of government.

"There are very few Americans in Russia now. The government does not take kindly to visitors, and traveling has been made very difficult. They do not like to have travelers come through from Siberia, and no one is allowed to enter from the southern countries of Asia. Another newspaper man and myself were the only two Americans coming through from Siberia, and when we arrived in Moscow the authorities did not seem to like it, but finally they sent us through to Finland, and in this way we came out of the country.

"In Siberia Americans are very popular, as America has done a great deal for Siberia in sending clothing and other aid to the people, and also because the United States government did not recognize Kolchak. But the Russian people in the more western areas are very bitter toward us, as they feel that we offer greater resistance than any other country, and they say that we are the last stronghold of capitalism. Their ideas are that communism is bound to prevail all over the world, and that they will win out.

Issue Ration Cards.

"Rations are served to every one in Russia, but there is really great order there. A traveler gets one pound of black bread a day and one-half pound of sausage and some salt, sugar and tea, but the residents only get one pound of black bread and no sausage. They give you ration cards for which you can draw from the government stores, but only one meal a day. You must buy the rest from whatever sources you may be able to find. There are government restaurants and there are also some public markets in Moscow, but the government means to eventually control all food products and dispense with the public markets; they would do that now, but they find it difficult to prevent those that are open.

"There is no gasoline to run the trucks and automobiles, but they use as a substitute a spirit made from potatoes. This is also drunk quite generally as stimulant. It is poorly made alcohol and not so good as the vodka that they used to have in former times, but it is consumed in great quantities. Prohibition prevails, though, all over Russia and it seems to be a good thing.

"The American dollar is now worth from 2,000 to 3,000 rubles, but the money has to be exchanged secretly. While I was in Moscow I heard that Emma Goldman and Berkman had been sent out to one of the Russian provinces to collect data on some pretext or another, as they were very unwelcome to the Bolsheviks. The government was greatly annoyed that the United States should send anarchists to Russia, as they do not recognize them there. The soviet form is not anarchistic."

Little Girl Makes Record.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Yvonne Weber, twelve years of age, has established a record in the public schools here. She was graduated from public school as class valedictorian recently. She speaks four languages and teaches musical culture and dancing in the music school class.

A Cheerful Note.
"All things are full of iniquity and vice; more crime is committed than can be remedied by restraint. We struggle in a huge contest of criminality. Daily the passion for sin is greater. The shame in committing it is less." . . . This is not the outcry of one who looks with alarm upon the orgies of the profiteers, the operations of the auto bandits, the greed of landlords, and the pernicious activities of the grafters, gamblers, market manipulators and crooked politicians. It is the philosopher Seneca's description of conditions in Rome 2,000 years ago.

Lalla Rookh.

The story of Lalla Rookh in short is this: She was the supposed daughter of Aurungzebe, emperor of Delhi. She was betrothed to Aliris, sultan of Lesser Bucharia. On her journey from Delhi to Cashmere she was entertained by Feramor, a young Persian poet, with whom she fell in love, and unbound was her delight when she discovered that the young poet was the sultan to whom she was betrothed. The story is beautifully told by the Irish poet, Tom Moore. The title of the poem is "Lalla Rookh."

Tree as Nursemaid.

"The larch or tamarack, is the best 'nurse,' said the forester, who was busy planting a double line of little larches on the edge of a new plantation. He explained that the strong, quick-growing larch was the best tree to protect others from frost and drought. 'And if you are planting a beech hedge,' he added, 'it will pay you to plant white-thorn on the windward side, for the white-thorn will protect the beech and can be cut back later when it has served its purpose.'

Tiles of Pearl.

Mother-of-pearl tiles, for bathrooms or other decorative use, are the new invention of Albert and Caesar Vuillermet, of Philadelphia. The shells of pearly mussels are crushed to powder and mixed with just enough cement to render the material plastic. It is then molded into tiles or slabs, and the surface is ground and polished for a pretty finish.

Brings Far Friends Near

What difference does distance make when you have a telephone?

It matters not that a dear friend is in the next county—or even in the next state.

The telephone makes any distance talking distance.

Keep the ties of friendship close. Use the long distance telephone service.

The rates are very reasonable.

Why not take a telephone trip tonight—after 8:30 P. M.—when the station-to-station rates are reduced about one-half?

Ask your operator the rate to any place.

H. W. CARTY;

District Manager,

The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company

BRITAIN FREE FROM WOLVES

Country More Fortunate in That Respect Than Are Other Lands in Europe.

We in the British Isles appear to have got rid of the wolf plague. In England, in the early Fifteenth century, the beast ceased to be a danger that had to be reckoned with. It remained longer in Scotland, where the very last wolf ever heard of in the roaming state is said to have been slain by Sir Ewen Cameron of Lochiel during the reign of Charles II—an incident that appears to have been looked upon as distinctly worthy of notice.

The complete and final elimination of the bane is no doubt owing to the fact that, as lupus was steadily being hunted down in the land, our insular position precluded all possibility of fresh immigration. In France the case was different. There was nothing to prevent the migrating wolf from reaching the country from the wildernesses of Central Europe—even from Russia and still more distant Siberia, the classic home of the race.

Many are the legends, to some extent based on fact, of vast armies of wolves traveling—even as the invading Goths and Vandals—from their hungry deserts to the richer lands of the West, to be stopped only by the Atlantic. At any rate, to this day the black wolf crosses the Pyrenees, and the brown wolf the Alps, to reinforce fraternally the ranks of the much-harried gray wolf of France. And the day seems still far distant when the curse will be finally extinguished—Egerton Castle in the Youth's Companion.

Right View of Life.

It is time to get over the idea that we have to be comfortable because we were brought up that way, while others were predestined to misery and are so hardened to their condition that we needn't bother. One effect of travel—if the traveler is impressionable, and some travelers are not—is to show us that no country has a monopoly of certain homely virtues that take root and flourish in the bleakest, as in the richest soil. Nor is any other country particularly interested in our introspective studies of how good we are and our ingrowing imagination of our greatness. boastfulness is a posture as unlovely for the millions as it is for one. Let us give credit to others for possessing some of the qualities we admire so much in ourselves.—Examiner.

In a new size package

10 for 10 cts

MANY smokers prefer it. They'll find that this compact package of ten Lucky Strike Cigarettes will just suit them.

Try them—dealers now carry both sizes: 10 for 10 cts; 20 for 20 cts.

2 American Weeks

It's Toasted

Buy Your School and Office Supplies at

The Big Stationery Store MEYER & THALHEIMER

10-12 N. Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.

DEPARTMENTS:

PRINTING and ENGRAVING,
OFFICE FURNITURE,
FILING DEVICES—Wood and Steel
SCHOOL FURNITURE and SUPPLIES
COMMERCIAL and SOCIAL STATIONERY,
BLANK BOOKS

CUPID LURES PHONE GIRLS
Tokyo's Notedly Poor Service Becomes Worse as Operators Rush Into Wedlock.

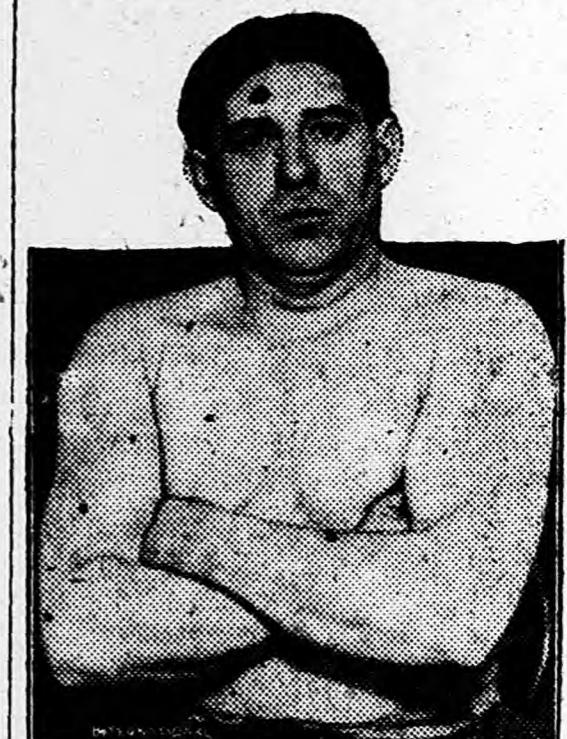

Tokyo—Japan's telephone system, which is not considered good, has, to the dismay of the telephone authorities, been suddenly disturbed by the marriage of a large number of telephone girls in the Tokyo exchange.

The cause of the sudden weddings really springs from the old Japanese tradition and is a result of giving to each year the name of some animal or bird.

The year 1920 was known as the year of the monkey, and the monkey year is proverbially regarded by the Japanese as being distinctly unlucky for marriages.

Now, the following year is the happy and glorious year of the birds. For this is the Japanese word "tori," which also means "to take" or "to gather in." Hence, the telephone girls of Tokyo, like many other of the land, are gathering to themselves husbands.

IN NEED OF NEW BLOOD?

Possessing marvelous health and strength Harry Goodheart, professional blood donor, is registered, subject to call at any moment, at four Brooklyn hospitals. Almost seventy quarts of his blood, approximately ten times as much as the human body contains, has been used in sixty transfusions during the past two years. During that time Mr. Goodheart earned close to $20,000.

PLAN TO EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Interchange of Scholarships Between Mexico and the United States Practically Arranged For.

Mexico City—Completion of plans for an interchange of scholarships between Mexican and American universities was announced here at a luncheon to St. Louis excursionists, by the American Chamber of Commerce.

The Mexican government will pay the expenses of 20 American students in Mexico, with 2,000 pesos (about $1,000) annually.

Students will be chosen preferably from the teaching corps of large American colleges.

In return, it was announced, 150 Mexicans will be sent to the United States, where they will be given free tuition in as many colleges.

The scholarships will be administered by a legally constituted corporation which will not be affected by changes in the administration of either country. Presidents Harding and Obregon favor the plan.

Maniac Dies in Well of Boiling Water. Beatrice, Neb.—Jumping into a cistern used as an exhaust for pipes from the boiler house, Peter Truelson, forty-seven years old, an inmate of the institution for feeble-minded, was submerged in the boiling water and was scalded to death.

It's an Ill Wind, Etc. Athens, O.—Bootleggers are doing Athens a good turn. In the first three months of 1920 the city police collected only $75 in fines, but during the first three months of 1921 bootleggers paid into the city coffers $2,500.

DITCHES DUG Straight, Clean-cut and Cheaper than YOU can Dig by Hand

WITH.

DU PONT

NITROGLYCERIN DYNAMITE

DRAIN your land! Make the swamps and wet spots on your property produce crops—water often covers the richest portion of your land.

Ditching with Du Pont Dynamite is the modern way, for it is efficient, simple, economical and does away almost entirely with hand labor.

If your project warrants, we will send an expert to demonstrate. Our dealer will supply you with Du Pont Explosives and Blasting Accessories.

The Farmers' Handbook of Explosives tells you how to use dynamite for stump and boulder blasting, ditching, tree-planting and other farm work. Write for a copy TODAY.

F. G. THOMAS, Salisbury, Md.

E. I. DU PONT DE NEMOURS & CO., Inc.

Equitable Bldg.,
NEW YORK

E. I. DU PONT DE NEMOURS & CO., Inc., Equitable Bldg., NEW YORK

REARS 25 ON. LABORER'S WAGE

Progeny of St. Louis Man Range in Ages From 40 Down to Seven Years.

TILLS HOW HE MANAGED IT

Hard Work and Industry the Secret—
Never a Brighter, Merrier, Rosier,
Healthier Lot of Children
Graze'd a Board.

St. Louis.—Parents who find the rearing of even an average family a problem these days, behold Frederick Walkenhorst, who is the father of twenty-five children, and tells how he managed to bring them up on a laborer's daily wage.

The house in which he lives is one index to his methods. It is a cottage of perhaps five rooms. Back of the house is a barn and in the barnyard a cow and a flock of chickens.

There is a best room furnished neatly but scantily; the superfluities consisting mostly of homemade handicraft, sheet covers and their tidiest of white linen crochet. The visitor is permitted to tarry here for a moment, but almost immediately is invited into the kitchen beyond, where three daughters busily scrubbing floors or preparing the midday meal cannot spare time to sit idle as they talk. Indeed, one is told that father will be in presently for his dinner, but he won't have time to talk, either, for several jobs of plowing are waiting for him in the afternoon.

Daughter Runs House.

Hilda, the oldest daughter at home, apparently has been in authority since the death of the second Mrs. Walkenhorst, five years ago. The first wife, the mother of 14 children, died when her last child was five days old. The second wife, a widow with one child, whom this stepfather also reared, became the mother of 11 Walkenhorsts.

There are now 12 children at home, besides a small son of Hilda's.

There are not enough chairs anywhere visible to seat all the family at table at once. But chairs are to be classified as luxuries that may be dispensed with, one observes later when six bright, rosy-cheeked, blonde youngsters come trooping in from school and take places, standing, all attention, with spoons poised, ready to begin on the soup almost before Hilda has measured it into their plates.

The ages of the Walkenhorst progeny range from forty down to seven years. Besides the 12 children now at home, five have died at various ages and the others, being older, have married and gone to homes of their own. There are eight grandchildren. Three of those who reside under the parental roof are working in factories in the town.

"How have I managed to take care of 25 children?" Frederick Walkenhorst echoed after my question, after he had fed his horses out in the barn and stood rolling up his sleeves at the kitchen sink. "By working hard every day." The hands he spread to view were testimony more eloquent even than the vigorous, clear ring of his voice, and his knitted coat, wet with perspiration, was further evidence of his hearty industry.

No Signs of Worry.

He is a tall, spare man, remarkably erect for his sixty years, fair and ruddy, and the lines on his face are not those of worry but of good humor. If his children take after him, dentist bills need not be one of the family problems. His teeth are strong and white. His eyes, he says, are failing. One doctor assures him nothing can be done for them, so he thinks any further expenditure on them is useless.

Never a brighter, merrier, rosier, healthier looking lot of children ever gathered about a millionaire's board than those 12. Their heavy shoes made a lot of noise on the bare floors, but otherwise in an orderly line about the table, speechless in the presence of the strange visitor, their silent but radiant smiles reflected their father's pride in them.

Somewhere recently the writer came upon statistics to the effect that at the age of sixty-five no less than 54 per cent of parents in this country are dependent upon their children for charity. Walkenhorst's next remark revealed another remarkable contrast in his attitude toward parenthood. He had spoken of his dimming eyes.

"I figure at the rate they are going my eyes are good for about five years more," he said. "I expect to work every day until I am blind. By that time Helen, the baby, will be old enough to do something for herself. Then I shall be through."

New England Conscience in South. Somerset, Ky.—The drug firm of Williams & Son has received a letter from an unknown woman who writes: "I am very nervous. I have had a lot of trouble lately. Inclosed find $2 to pay for several valentines which I took 14 years ago, when a girl of fourteen."

Boys No Longer Boys.

Morgantown, W. Va.—Dr. A. M. Rose of the department of zoology of West Virginia says the American boy of today is "different." In spite of the fact that it was liberally advertised that the department would pay 25 cents for each rat brought in, only one boy was on the job.

Mouth Curves.
Study the sweep of a bow held in place by a cord. It adheres to the rule, "Curves are the lines of beauty." The curve, wherever found on the human body, is soft and tender. It seems to be the blending of countless curves. So it is with the mouth. I once heard the mouth of a cruel, gossipy woman described as being "like a slit in a stone wall." I thought the phrase a very apt one.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Chief Executive's Simple Title.
The address of the President is simply "The President of the United States." There was debate over the title in the first congress. Some members proposed that he be addressed as "His Excellency," and others argued for "His Highness," but a committee reported that "it is not proper to annex any style or title other than that expressed in the Constitution."

"Fit for the Gods."
Fragrant woods have always been held in highest esteem among primitive people and were considered especially pleasing to the gods, says the American Forestry Magazine. Accordingly, they have figured prominently in their religious ceremonies and burial rites. Sandalwood is of the first rank.

No Red Tape.
"One thing I particularly admire about the law of gravitation," said Sir Isaac Newton as he rubbed his head when the apple hit him, "is the simplicity and accuracy of the methods for its enforcement."

Tiny Infants Become Robust.
Parents whose children are abnormally small at birth can take heart, for recent figures show that tiny infants frequently grow up quite robust and of normal proportions.

Solved!
That indefinable something which we call charm is what enables a girl to violate the traffic rules day after day with absolute impunity.—Ohio State Journal.

Mummy Cloth's Durability.
The extraordinary durability of the ancient mummy cloth is believed to be due to the fact that it was finished with vegetable blue derived from the African locust-bean tree.

SLOW DEATH

Aches, pains, nervousness, difficulty in urinating, often mean serious disorders. The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder, and uric acid troubles

GOLD MEDAL HARLEM OIL CAPSULES

Bring quick relief and often ward off deadly disease. Known as the national remedy of Holland for more than 200 years. All druggists, in three sizes. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation.

Do you know you can roll 50 good cigarettes for 10cts from one bag of

No 'Trouble—it's a Pleasure.
A woman can put so much meaning into a look that one wonders why she even takes the trouble to say anything.—Boston Transcript.

Not Their Fault, Either.
Widows, says secretary of a widows and widowers' social club, are lonelier than widowers. Yes—but not long.—San Diego (Cal.) Sun.

There's Various Kinds of Killings.
Cosmetics, says the medical examiner, never killed anybody. And still many a girl has painted, as she dressed to kill.—Portland (Ore.) News.

Favored College Men.
A professor says the best jobs are held by college graduates. Especially graduates of the electoral college.

Oh, Those Wavy Eyes!
From a story: "She was a beautiful girl with wavy brown hair and eyes."—Boston Transcript.

Rare Beauty Adds to the Great Value of the Nash Six

Comparison from the standpoint of sheer good looks, to say nothing of its power, performance and endurance, brings immediately the acknowledgment that the Nash Six, touring car with Perfected Valve-in-Head Motor is the leading value in its field.

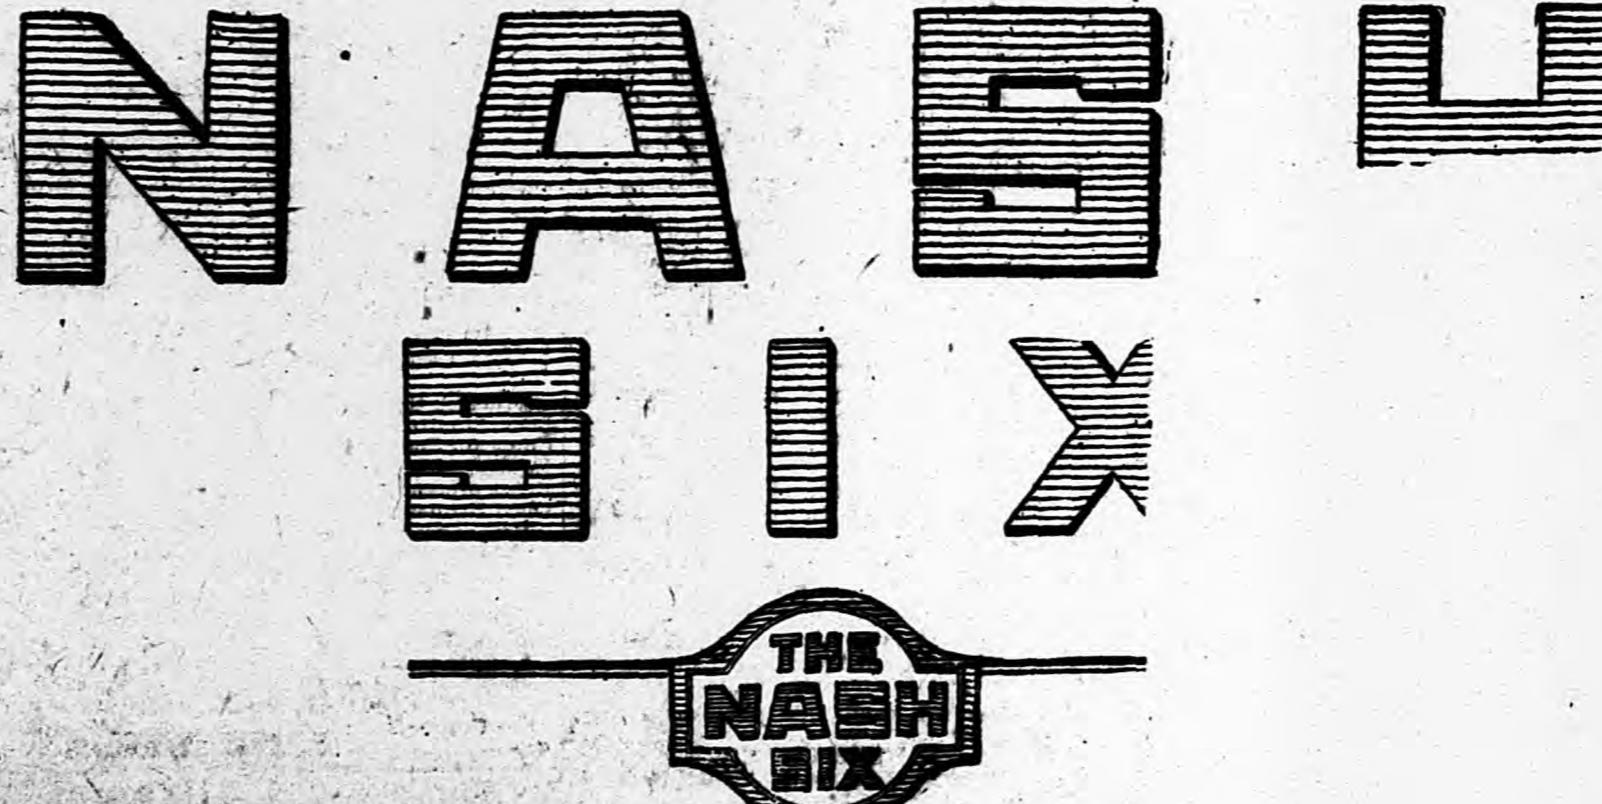

This handsome automobile with its pleasing proportions of graceful line and sweeping curve, its long double-cowled body, richly finished in deep, glossy blue with nickel trimmings and cream wheels, is approached in beauty only by cars selling for many dollars higher than the Nash price.

NASH SIX PRICES
5-passenger touring car	$1650	7-passenger touring car	$1675
2-passenger roadster	1395	4-passenger coupe	1500
4-passenger sport model	1650	5-passenger sedan	1895
c. o. b. Kenosha	1650

NASH FOUR PRICES
5-passenger touring car	$1395	3-passenger coupe	$1985
2-passenger roadster	1395	5-passenger sedan	2185
c. o. b. Milwaukee	1650

All Nash models, both open and closed, have cord tires as standard equipment

L.W. GUNBY CO.
SALISBURY, MARYLAND

patches, always the lady, almost the grande dame, always the kindly human soul, eager to help all she can if by chance she find a place for helping. They belong, those two, to the soul-aristocracy, which alone is real. Maybe they loved the better, drew the closer, for the hard life, I do not know—but surely they were happy, in spite of their grim housemates.

"By and by came the third season. Mamelle told me the story—Mamelle, who exhaled the aroma of old Paris here amid the tumult of big New York. We were but part of the picture in a gathering of celebrities—the most celebrated, of course, set in the forefront of battle, high on a rostrum for all to see and hear. Never mind what for—our talk didn't in the least interrupt anything. We were rather far back, and in a sort of eddy, that saved us from crowding yet gave us a clear view.

"Eook! O, the good fellow, bon! bon!" Mamelle ejaculated as a fine, straight figure, not overly tall but crowned with a face that was like a benediction, came clearer into view. "He is good! So good! Also he is great. But his wife is greater. She made him—he will tell you so if you give him the chance. He had not need to tell me. You see, I saw the making. In Paris—the two of them were there—in a house away from all the world—except the people thick about who did not count. They paid 300 francs yearly for the small place—tiny is no name for it—but it sheltered love and art and happiness—and a real lionheart. A woman heart at that. Madame, you see yonder," nodding toward a majestic yet appealing figure beside the man. "When they married in America he was all business—at the office all day—he people called him rising—she was happy though they had not much money—but after a little she saw he was not.

"What is it?" she asked him. He told her—he wanted to paint. Then do it!" she said. "There is the night school. You can at least try it! But after a month he says: 'It is not enough. I must have the day also.' Then take it!" she said. "We shall manage—somehow."

"He obeyed—quit his work—painted, painted. On, very bad things, no doubt—but somehow he could not

"By and by they kept to the small house—only making it fresh and fine within and without. 'This is how we give thanks for its shelter,' madame said. She made me sometimes come and stay with them—cooking potatoes for the unchallenged—but she did not raise them herself. She forgot nobody, slighted nobody—read now and then to the blind man, and once at least took out the wheezy dog. And the poor—I cannot tell you all she did for them—because she herself would never tell any of it.

"M'sieur says rightly God gave him a helpmeet—that without her he would have been less than nothing. I do not know—having no husband nor wife. But it seems to me it was the pulling together that brought these two into the land of heart's desire."

POLISHING THEIR OWN SHOES

Ex-Service Man Tells Bootblack Why
So Many Army Men Now Take Care of Footgear.

"Gee whiz! You was a soldier, wasn't you?" asked Jimmie, the bootblack, as he got out his round box of paste and the necessary brushes and cloths. "I knew that by the button you're wearin' there. But, say mister, there's sometus I would like to know from one of you fellers.

"Shoot ahead," said the ex-service man, leaning against the park railing in City Hall place.

"Why," began Jimmie, applying the polish, "why ain't our business as good as it was before the war? No, it ain't, mister. These young fellers who came back don't get as many shines of us as they used to. It seems to be a kinda dress occashun with 'em."

"Well, I'll tell you, Jimmie," the veteran said. "We had to shine our own in the army. When most of us got back the habit was with us, so we bought us a little box of polish and a brush. We're feelin' natural by doing them ourselves. Sorry to hurt your business, Jimmie."—New York Times.

Their Strong Point.
"Great governor!" ejaculated a hypercritical guest. "I never witnessed such a riot as your volunteer fire department stages when there is an alarm. While the fire bell is ringing they run about like wild men and yell as if being tortured. They are lucky if they do not upset the hose reel in getting it out of the shed. When they finally arrive at the fire they do little but get in each other's way, howl like dervishes, and smash things with axes until the conflagration burns itself out."

"I presume so," replied the landlord of the tavern at Wayoverbehind. "But look at their sincerity, mister! They couldn't be any more deeply interested if 'twas their own homes that were bein' holocausted."—Kansas City Star.

An Even Break.
"How are you getting along, old top, in your courtship with old man Brown's daughter?"

"Fair enough."

"Hasn't he kicked on you burning up his coal and gas all winter?"

"How could he so long as he burned up my cigars?"

MARYLANDER AND HERALD

Published Every Tuesday Morning
PRINCESS ANNE, MD.

Office, 207 Somerset Avenue, Local Phone No. 11.
Subscription Price $1.50 Per Annum
THEO. A. WALKER
Editor and Business Manager
All Communications Should be Addressed to the
Marylander and Herald
Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 17, 1921

The high kickers have joined the uplift movement so far as their toes are concerned.

Formerly the girls used to don aprons when they want to work, but now they dress themselves in party gowns.

The girls who win the beauty contests do not probably get married any quicker than those who can make edible muffins.

The college girls don't like to be called "co-eds," but you can tell them most anything if you invite them out to ice cream.

There seems to be an epidemic of bigamy among the men, but most husbands find that one wife keeps their time fully occupied.

The many active college girls who play base ball will not probably sit in the parlor doing embroidery work until the right man comes.

The poet sings about "footsteps on the sands of time," but the gardener is more concerned about the footprints in his newly planted potatoes.

There are a lot of people who think it is better to work for $10 a day and have nothing to do than to work for $5 and keep busy all the time.

Some fellows who were afraid to go to war and take chances of being in the casualty list are now going to see their names published in the slacker lists.

It is denied that the old-fashioned schools didn't teach the children any hand work as the boys always learned to carve the desks with their jackknives.

While it is a fine thing for the children to practice drawing, they need not feel that it is necessary to ornament the new wall paper with their charming designs.

The next time Germany wants a place in the sun she will probably think twice about invading some other country and destroying 319,000 houses and 21,000 factories as a means of getting it.

CARD PLAYING FOR MONEY

Many men can't see a bit of harm in playing cards for small sums of money. Without stopping to analyze the principles of this petty gambling it might be well to remind young men of the way business circles look at such practices. A young man was making out an application for employment in a big corporation the other day and among the questions asked was this: "Have you ever played cards for money?"

That concern probably did not care for fellows who had indulged in that practice. Others feel the same way. Young men who are solicited to join these small games of chance might well ask themselves if a practice is worth while that prejudices a clean business record and at best can do nothing for their advancement.

QUICK THINKERS

A college student who came home the other day to see the "folks," seemed to be in a rather discouraged frame of mind because he could not get his lessons more quickly. His friends could get a lesson in half the time he could. If they read it over once they could go into the class room and put over a good line of talk about it, while he had to go over the text again and again.

The boy wanted to know how he was going to compete in business with fellows who were so much brighter than he was and his future prospects appeared dark to him.

A professor at Columbia University has devised a system to test the mental abilities of college students. Under this standard this boy might not stand very high. This system does not reveal knowledge and understanding so much as quick wit. Recently this professor gave this test to a group of 50 of the leading business men in an Eastern city. The results were amazing. Not one of those successful business men was up to the average of the young students that enter Columbia.

Is this new generation so much brighter than the old one that these young fellows will soon distance all the old timers? If so there will be a tremendous business revolution before long.

People may overestimate the value of quick thinking. The father of the boy first referred to told his son that successful business men are not necessarily very quick thinkers. Rather they are sure thinkers. They analyze a situation thoroughly and patiently, study it with judgment and experience and when they decide, their decision is usually correct. In the long run these qualities count more than mere quickness. The fellow who thinks too speedily gets in the habit of slighting his work and depending more on alertness than on the roughness. So let not the slow and plodding boys be discouraged as the terrible many times overtakes the fast.

Percheon Stallion
For Service
We will have our Percheon Stallion for service at the stables of Charles Hayman, Princess Anne, Thursday and
Friday, every week.
Improve your horses through the use of a good sire.
J. J. RING, Westover, Md.

ROAD FOUNDATIONS

It is pathetic to see how much good money has been wasted in unscientific highway and sidewalk building at a time when the people are in such need of better facilities. Many cities have spent money lavishly on cement sidewalks and have seen these walks crumble because a proper foundation was not laid.

Enormous sums were wasted when cement roads were first constructed from failure to secure the right subgrade. Millions are being wasted in some places in providing a thicker road surface than is necessary and in others on roads that are bound to go to pieces under modern traffic. The federal bureau of roads is urging all road builders to have soils thoroughly tested for study of their bearing power so that the road men shall know just how much traffic a foundation can hold up.

One woman went insane as the result of worrying over income tax returns, but perhaps she was no more out of her head than some of the congressmen who passed it.

MR. HARDING A NEWSBOY

In a letter to the reunion of the Boston Newsboys' Union, President Harding refers to himself as a "newsboy and newspaper man" all his life. It is a very interesting thing how many successful men have had as boys this experience of delivering newspapers and selling them on the streets.

A good newsboy develops many qualities supremely useful in after life. He must be regular, trustworthy, cheerful and hopeful. The boy who sells papers with a merry ring in his voice sells three times as many as the dull and sleepy kid who offers his papers in a quivering voice.

This training has given multitudes of boys their first responsibility and has developed their faith in their own powers of achievement. Any parents might well be glad to have their youngsters get the benefit of this experience.

Children Encouraged To Save

Endorsement of the nation-wide plan to instruct children in sound business principles by incorporating the study of thrift and savings into the public school curriculum was voted at the national congress of the Mothers and Parent-Teachers Association recently in session at Washington, D. C. The association further recommended that preparation for teaching the thrift principles of efficiency, self-control and self-reliance, wise spending and safe investment be given teachers in normal schools and teachers' institutes, and that the school thrift bank idea be encouraged.

Evils Of Constipation

Perhaps the most serious of the diseases caused by constipation is appendicitis. If you would avoid this dangerous disease, keep your bowels regular. For this purpose Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent, easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.

[Advertisement]

County Commissioners' NOTICE

The Commissioners for Somerset County hereby give notice that they will meet at their office in Princess Anne on Tuesdays.

May 3rd, 10th and 17th, 1921 between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.

for the purpose of making additions, alterations and abatements or transfers on the assessable property of the county.

These are the last sessions of the Board for making reductions or transfers during the year 1920, after which the books are closed.

By order of the Board:

R. MARK WHITE, Clerk

4-26

SEALED PROPOSALS FOR building one section of State Highway, as follows: Somerset County, Contract No. S-10A—One section of State Highway from N. Y. P. & N. E. R. to Pocomoke River, a distance of 6.0 miles (Contractor), will be made by the State Roads Commission at the offices, 801 Garrett Building, Baltimore, Maryland, until 12 M. on the 17th day of May, 1921, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

Bids must be made upon the blank proposal form which, with specifications and plans will be furnished by the Commission upon application and cash payment of $1.00, as hereinafter no charges will be made.

No bids will be received unless accompanied by a certified check for the sum of Five Hundred ($500) Dollars, payable to the State Roads Commission.

The successful bidder will be required to give bond, and comply with the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland, respecting contracts.

The Commission reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

By order of the State Roads Commission this 3rd day of May, 1921.

L. H. STEWART, J. N. MACKALL,
Secretary, Chairman

5-10

SHERIFF'S SALE
OF VALUABLE

Real Estate

By virtue of two writs of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court for Somerset County and to me directed, I, the undersigned Sheriff, to sell the lands of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and the other at the suit of Stanley Fousey, treasurer of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and both of said writs against the goods and chattles, lands and tenements of Emma Bolyard, widow, deceased, and wife of John Bolyard, deceased all the right, title, interest and claim of said defendant, Emma Bolyard, in and to all that tract or parcel of land situated, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from the town of Princess Anne to the lands of Walter Swift, Edward Powell and Charles Harmon, and being the same land which was conveyed unto the said Emma Bolyard by S. W. Piper and wife by deed dated the 2nd day of June, 1911, and recorded among the records of said Somerset County, in Liber S. F. D. No. 50, page 328, etc.

60 ACRES

And I hereby give notice that on Tuesday, May 31, '21

AT THE HOUR OF 2 O'CLOCK P. M.

in front of the Court House door, in Princess Anne, Maryland, I will sell the above described property to the highest bidder, for Cash, to satisfy said writs, costs and charges.

DERRICK K. LAWSON,
Sheriff of Somerset County

5-10

NOTICE

Of Review of Real Property

for Assessment by Mayor

and Council of Crisfield.

By virtue of an order passed on the 2nd day of May, 1921, by the State Tax Commission of Maryland, Public Notice is given to all individual, firm and corporation owning real property assessable and taxable within the corporate limits of the town of Crisfield, in Somerset County, that the inspection of the Mayor and Council of Crisfield to review for assessment all such real property assessed to the owners thereof for the levy of 1921 for town purposes. Due notice of any change proposed to be made by the Mayor and Council of Crisfield in the assessment of any property will be given to the property owner with notices given on a day for an opportunity to be heard, if desired, after which the Mayor and Council will take action according to their best judgment and information in the premises.

MAYOR AND COUNCIL OF CRISFIELD

5-17

Percheon Stallion

For Service

We will have our Percheon Stallion
for service at the stables of Charles Hayman, Princess Anne, Thursday and
Friday, every week.

Improve your horses through the use of a good sire.

J. J. RING, Westover, Md.

Two Quit State Boards

Two resignations were received by Governor Ritchie last week, one that of former Gov. Phillips Lee Goldsborough from the board of Springfield State Hospital and the other that of Dr. Henry M. Hurd from the State Lunacy Commission.

Mr. Goldsborough said that press of personal business necessitated his resignation, and Dr. Hurd declared that need for a complete rest from all duties led to his. The Governor has accepted both, but probably will not name successors for several weeks.

NOTICE

To the Tax Payers of Somerset County

I will be at WESTOVER, at Long Brothers store, on Thursday morning, May 19th, and at CRISPFIELD at Bradshaw-Snead's Co. store on Friday morning, May 20th, 1921, for the purpose of receiving applications for State and County Taxes.

R. MARK WHITE Treasurer.

Application For Oyster Grounds

W. J. BLAKE, Baltimore
About 30 Acres

Located in Pocomoke Sound, Somerset County, between "Kits" Creek east natural on the north and Williams' Point, adjacent to Blake and Lankford's oyster ground on the north and Trevetowd's on the south, as shown on Published Chart
No. 10, and state map by the U. S. Geodetic Survey.

Protests must be filed with the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Somerset County on or before the 30th day of June, 1921.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION OF MARYLAND.

5-3

Trustee's Sale OF VALUABLE

Real Estate

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court for Somerset County, Maryland, in Equity, passed in cause No. 10, between Miller, F. Long, Plaintiff and Waters, Administrators of David F. Long, decedent and defendants, and Priscilla Beauchamp and others are defendants, the undersigned Trustee will sell at Public Auction, at the Court House door, in Princess Anne, Maryland, on Tuesday, the 7th Day of June

1921, at or about the hour of 2 o'clock P. M.

all that lot or parcel of land lying and being situated in Revell's Neck, in Westover Election district, in Somerset County, Maryland, containing of land, more or less, and on the south side of the county road leading from Westover to Revell's Neck, and of which Theodore F. Long died seized and possessed, and where the late James L. Morris formerly resided. The property is improved by Dwelling House and Outbuildings and is well adapted to trapping purposes.

15 ACRES

TERMS OF SALE.—As prescribed by the decree, one-third cash on day of sale and the balance in two equal installments of six and twelve months from day of sale, to be secured by bond of purchaser, or cash, or by cash, or by cash and bearing interest, or all cash, at the option of the purchaser or purchasers. Title papers at pur-chaser's expense.

HENRY J. WATERS, Trustee

5-17

STATE OF MARYLAND

STATE ROADS COMMISSION

Notice to Contractors

SEALED PROPOSALS FOR building one section of State Highway, as follows: Somerset County, Contract No. S-10A—One section of State Highway from N. Y. P. & N. E. R. to Pocomoke River, a distance of 6.0 miles (Contractor), will be made by the State Roads Commission at the offices, 801 Garrett Building, Baltimore, Maryland, until 12 M. on the 17th day of May, 1921, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

Bids must be made upon the blank proposal form which, with specifications and plans will be furnished by the Commission upon application and cash payment of $1.00, as hereinafter no charges will be made.

No bids will be received unless accompanied by a certified check for the sum of Five Hundred ($500) Dollars, payable to the State Roads Commission.

The successful bidder will be required to give bond, and comply with the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland, respecting contracts.

The Commission reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

By order of the State Roads Commission this 3rd day of May, 1921.

L. H. STEWART, J. N. MACKALL,
Secretary, Chairman

5-10

SHERIFF'S SALE
OF VALUABLE

Real Estate

By virtue of two writs of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court for Somerset County and to me directed,

I, the undersigned Sheriff, to sell the lands of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and the other at the suit of Stanley Fousey, treasurer of Deep Branch

Tax Ditch, and both of said writs against the goods and chattles, lands and tenements of Emma Bolyard,

</div

MARYLANDER AND HERALD

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 17, 1921

Notice of Marriage and Deaths will be published free—but subscribers must pay for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

BUSINESS POINTERS

Two (20) cents a line for the first insertion and 10 cents thereafter.

FOR SALE—Good Refrigerator, nearly new. Apply at this office.

FOR SALE—Corn and Hay. FRANK M. CLINE, near Princess Anne.

FOR SALE—Hay, Fodder and Corn. W. E. WADDY, Princess Anne, Md.

FOR SALE—Good Pair of Mules. Get our prices on feeds. WESTOVER MILLS.

FOR SALE—Seed Oats, Red Clover Seed, Timothy Seed, etc. W. P. TODD.

TRUCK FOR HIRE—Call at office of Auto Sales Co., Princess Anne, for service.

We will have fresh killed veal every Friday and Saturday. CARRON & HANCOCK, Princess Anne.

FOR SALE—Tallowe, Beef Scrap, Grit and all kinds of Chicken Feed, Roofing, etc. W. P. TODD.

FOR SALE—300 bushels of corn. Apply at "Bountiful Ridge Farm," formerly "Willie Woolford Farm." G. W. KEMP.

FOR SERVICE—Registered Guernsey Bull, Rich Milk stock; also Registered Berkshire Boar. Fee $1.00 each. H. H. HOLDEN.

BRING YOUR SHOES to be repaired to F. D. Layfield. He will send them up to the Arcade Shoe Shop, Salisbury, three days a week.

WANTED TO BUY—Side-delivery rake and hay loader. Must be in good condition. EDWIN F. PAPENDICK, Eden, R. F. D., No. 2.

FOR SALE—Early Wilson Soy Beans. Write for sample and price. Track for hire; prices reasonable. W. T. HOLLAND, Jr., Eden, Md. [Route 2.]

FOR SALE—A $5,000 note secured by mortgage on high grade Somerset county farm property can be bought to yield better than 8%. Address "Investment," care Marylander and Herald.

WANTED—Low Price Farm Land—I am looking for a farm costing between $2,500 and $4,500. Do not object to going some distance from town. Address CONFIDENTIAL, Box 226, Princess Anne.

This is to inform the public that I have appointed Mr. W. A. Brown as salesman for the Ford Products, to handle their products anywhere in the U. S. A. under Authorized Dealer Wm. P. FITZGERALD, Princess Anne, Md.

GET BUSY, KEEP BUSY.—Is your job unsafe? Is it permanent? You want a life-long business? You can get into such a business, selling more than 137 Watkins products direct to farmers if you own auto or team, or can get one; if you are under 50° and can give bond with personal securities. We back you with big selling help: 52 years in business; 20,000,000 users of our products. Write for information where you can get territory. J. R. WATKINS CO., Dept. 112, Winona, Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dennis announce the marriage of their daughter, Louise, to Mr. Albert E. Heckman, of Baltimore.

Mr. J. Roland Dashiel, of near Mt. Vernon, has returned from Chester, Pa., where he was employed the past winter.

The Parent-Teachers' Association will meet in the Court House tomorrow (Wednesday) night at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

A man likes to think that he is master of his own home, and a wise wife allows him to think it, but she and the neighbors know who is.

Mrs. S. Frank Dashiel, who has been spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Royce, at Auburnville, Mass., returned home last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. H. L. Brittingham, of Washington, D. C., spent last Wednesday in Princess Anne. Mr. Brittingham was formerly postmaster in this town and his many friends were pleased to meet him.

Bishop George W. Davenport preached in St. Andrew's Church, Princess Anne, last Sunday morning at 11 o'clock; All Saint's, Monie, in the afternoon and Grace Church, Mt. Vernon, that night.

The ladies of Marumsco, Rehoboth and Sheltown will hold an ice cream social and parcel post sale at Carver Bros. cannery factory on Tuesday evening, May 24th. There will also be a candy table and fancy booth. Proceeds for the benefit of the Memorial Bridge.

Mrs. George W. Colborn, Jr., and Philip M. Smith returned from an automobile trip to Baltimore last Wednesday night. They went as representatives of Manokin Lodge to attend a semi-annual meeting of the State Grand Lodge of Masons which met in that city last week.

Miss Irene W. Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Taylor, Jr., entertained at her home, "East Glenn," last Friday afternoon in honor of her friend, Miss Martha Lawton, of Harrisburg, Pa. Those present were: Mrs. H. S. Phillips, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. John W. Duncan, of Onancock, Va.; Mrs. Robert F. Duer, Mrs. W. A. N. Bowland, Mrs. C. C. Gelder, Mrs. Richard Dale, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald Coe, Mrs. C. Z. Keller, Mrs. H. C. Robertson, Mrs. W. O. Lankford, Jr., Mrs. L. Creston Beauchamp, Mrs. H. H. Dashiel, Mrs. J. D. Wallop, Mrs. Harry C. Dashiel, Mrs. Franklin P. Waller, Mrs. Omar J. Croswell, Mrs. Vernon E. White, Mrs. Gordon Tull, Mrs. Walter Archbold, Mrs. J. D. Wallop, Jr., Mrs. Morris H. Adams, Dr. Catherine Lankford and Misses Berenice M. Thompson, Amanda Franklin, Nell Dashiel, Anita Rivers and Jane D. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson C. Young, of Snow Hill, spent the week-end with relatives in Princess Anne.

Mrs. William Robbins, of Cambridge, is a guest of the family of Mr. Charles H. Hayman, on Prince William street.

Mrs. O. J. Carey, who has been in Baltimore for the past four weeks under treatment by a specialist, returned to her home in Princess Anne Thursday night.

Mrs. Stanley J. Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Speights, who has been visiting at the home of her parents, returned Friday to her home in Chicago, Illinois.

Dr. J. T. Heron, pastor of Ashbury M. E. Church, Salisbury, attended the reception at Antioch Methodist Episcopal Church last (Monday) night and made an address.

Last Wednesday was designated as "Clean-up Day" by the Town Commissioners and the Civic Club, and as the day was unfavorable we suggest that another date be set as there is plenty of cleaning up that should be done yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Anderson motored to Baltimore last Wednesday to attend the graduating exercises of the Church Home Training School for Nurses. Their daughter, Miss Elsie R. Anderson, was one of the 24 girls who received diplomas.

The Broad Creek Construction Company, of Elkton, commenced work the first of last week on the section of road within the town limits of Princess Anne. The link when completed will unite the state road system both north and south of this town.

The Domestic Science and Manual Training Departments of the Washington High School will have an exhibit Tuesday and Wednesday, May 24th and 25th, from 2 to 4:30 p. m. Patrons and all persons interested in school work are cordially invited.

A message received last Sunday by Mr. Theodore B. Reid, of Venton, announced that the body of his son, T. B. Reid, who was killed in France, would arrive in New York next Friday. Later his remains will be brought home for burial in Manokin Presbyterian Church cemetery, Princess Anne.

Miss Emily R. Waters, who left Princess Anne the first of last week to visit her sister, Mrs. W. C. Hart, in Baltimore, was taken with a severe cold and conveyed to Mercy Hospital in that city last Friday. Col. Henry J. Waters, her brother, was advised Sunday that her condition was serious, as it was thought that pneumonia had developed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Gelder, Dr. and Mrs. Henry M. Landford, Messrs. Joshua W. Miles, Wm. B. Spiva, S. Frank Dashiel, John B. Roberts, E. Herrman Cohn, George H. Myers, Harry C. Dashiel, C. C. Waller, L. Shanley Ford, Wm. T. Holland, C. Z. Keller and B. H. Sterling motored to Centreville Monday of last week to attend the trial of the Spiva-Tarr damage suit in Queen Anne's county court.

The amount asked for text books in the Wicomico school budget was $2425, and the Commissioners granted the sum of $1575. The Board of Education asked for the free book fund the actual cost of the books, so if the amount approved is to stand, many of the children attending the public schools next year will not have free books, as provided for by the State. Some parents will be compelled to buy text books for their children, according to the Salisbury News.

Bishop George W. Davenport has named Col. Henry J. Waters, of Princess Anne, chancellor of the Diocese of Easton; Messrs. William G. Kirkin, of Snow Hill, and H. L. Constable, of Elkton, a committee to confer with the dioceses of Maryland and Washington in the matter of having the Vestry act amended so as to permit women to vote for vestrymen and delegates to the convention. This already has been agreed to by the Diocese of Washington and the Eastern diocese is asked to co-operate.

The Shoreland Club was delightfully entertained last Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Joseph G. Scott. Those present were: Mrs. W. A. N. Bowland, Mrs. Frank M. Cline, Mrs. Wm. H. Dashiel, Mrs. John E. Holland, Mrs. H. Fillmore Lankford, Mrs. W. O. Lankford, Jr., Mrs. G. W. Maslin, Mrs. Estie B. Polk, Mrs. J. A. Powell, Mrs. H. C. Robertson, Mrs. J. T. Taylor, Mrs. R. P. Thompson, Mrs. John W. Duncan, of Onancock, Va., and Miss Amanda Lankford were guests of the club.

Heavy Rainfall in State

The rainstorm last week will go down in the weather records as one of the heaviest that has ever fallen in the month of May, and as a result every stream in the State was swollen and some damage has resulted.

In the 24 hours of Friday exactly 2.14 inches of rain fell. This figure has been exceeded but twice in May, the first occasion being in 1893, when 2.30 inches fell in 24 hours, while the second was in 1909, when 2.17 inches fell.

The storm has brought the total so far this month up to 8.94 inches, or about a half an inch more than the normal for May. This will place the month on record as one of the wettest Mays, for only three times in 24 years has a May had a total of four or more inches of rain.

Favor-Divorce Law Change

Important changes in marriage and divorce laws were urged recently at the State convention of the League of Women Voters in session in Baltimore. A committee report recommending a change in the divorce law to prevent the parties to a divorce remarrying for at least one year after the decree is given was accepted unanimously by the convention. The same report included a recommendation that the State require health certificates before the issuance of marriage licenses.

The recommendation that women be appointed to governing boards of all charitable and penal institutions and that women physicians be appointed to all local and State health boards was another advanced step for Maryland women that was accepted unanimously by the State delegates.

With the cordial co-operation of the Extension Service of the Maryland College of Agriculture, the Weather Bureau is making the daily weather forecasts available for the use of farmers in many counties. The forecast is telegraphed to county agricultural agents. Farmers and others may obtain it over the telephone between 10:30 a. m. and 5 p. m. This forecast is the latest available, and is based on observations taken at 8 a. m. This service has already been inaugurated in Baltimore, Cecil, Dorchester, Garrett, Prince George's, Talbot and Wicomico counties, and will soon start in several additional counties.

New Parish Created At Ocean City

At the diocesan convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, which met at Berlin recently, a new parish was organized, which is to be known as Ocean City Parish, and which will take in the work at Ocean City.

St. Paul By-the-Sea, Ocean City, has long been a mission under the control of Worcester Parish, St. Paul's at Berlin being the parish church. Three years ago permission was granted by the convention for the church at Ocean City to be handled as an independent congregation, and to have its own rector. Since then St. Paul's By-the-Sea has not only been able to pay a regular minister, but has made improvements to the church and rectory costing more than $3,000.

It is a rare thing for either of the dioceses of Maryland to create a new parish, and this has not been done in the diocese of Easton in many years.

Of Interest To Liberty Bond Holders

Interest amounting to more than $1,000,000 was payable May 15th to holders of Liberty Bonds of the second issue bought through Maryland banks and trust companies. The total amount of bonds of this issue subscribed in this State was $52,990,000, there being over 143,645 subscriptions.

The four per cent. bonds of the First and Second Liberty Loans which were issued in temporary form have no coupons attached for interest payable after December 15th, 1919, for the first loan and November 15th, 1919, for the second loan. Therefore, holders of these bonds are urged to present them to their local banks which will forward them to the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond for conversion into permanent four and one-quarter per cent. bonds with coupons attached covering interest from the above dates to the maturity of the bonds.

Lying—Ancient vs. Modern.—This story is vouched for as true. A Sunday school teacher asked a small girl the other day why Ananias was so severely punished. The little one thought a minute, then answered: "Please, teacher, they weren't so used to lying in those days."—London Morning Post.

DR. R. O. HIGGINS
DENTIST
Successor to
DR. E. W. SMITH
OFFICES 228 WEST MAIN STREET
SALISBURY MARYLAND

Gas Administered. Teeth Straightened
X-Rays. Telephone 744

CHARLES BRAND Phone No. 186 HOMER HUGHES Phone No. 272

BRAND & HUGHES
Licensed Plumbers

POCOKE CITY, MARYLAND Estimates Furnished

All Orders Given Prompt Attention Satisfaction Guaranteed

JONES & COLBORN DRUGGISTS

PRINCESS ANNE MARYLAND

JOHN H. HARRIS DRUGGISTS

PRINCESS ANNE MARYLAND

</div

The American Legion

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

POOR LEAD TO OBTAIN SPLIT

Attempt to Arouse Indignation Over "Horror on the Rhine" Proves Dismal Failure.

"The Germanophile attempt to arouse American indignation over 'the horror on the Rhine' and thereby to lead to split, spiritual rather than diplomatic, between America and her recent allies has failed of its purpose in precisely the same way that German propaganda in this country failed in every one of the years between 1914 and 1918," says an editorial in the American Legion Weekly.

"The truth is merely that the Germans do not know how to go about it. 'Kultur' obviously does not include any knowledge of the fine art of getting something over, a fact amply attested by the reflex action which has accompanied the present attempt. The Von Mach style of persuasiveness is no more subtle than the efforts of a St. Bernard puppy to stand up on a hardwood floor. It is flattery that Von Mach type of 'boiling from within' to call it insidious. Insidious it is, however, in its intent if not in its application."

"Dr. Von Mach has proved himself a poor servant of his country, whether he regards his country as America or Germany. He is a poor American for having tried to win America over to the point of view of the unrepentant nation to defeat whose government 100,000 Americans gave their lives for attempting to resurrect a hyphen that was theoretically buried just three years ago. He is a poor German because his clumsiness has served only to arouse America to the fact that she is still at war with Germany."

POST WINS ON GOLDEN CALF

Two-Headed Animal Aids in Raising Organization's Funds From $100 to $1,500.

The Golden Calf of the Twentieth century has been discovered by the American Legion post at Fredericksburg, Va., which owes an increase in its working capital from $100 to $1,500 to a two-headed juvenile cow, in full title to which the post invested its scant $100 last fall.

Having induced a Westmoreland county farmer to part with the freak animal for this sum, a special levy of various small amounts was made upon the treasury to buy nourishment for the calf. Then came the Virginia state fair in Richmond and the calf was in full bloom, eating both his heads off and waxing fat withal.

The Fredericksburg post put him on exhibit, charging a suitable fee. When the fair was over and the dust had settled, the post treasury contained $1,500—the accrued earnings of the calf—and all this for doing nothing but standing still and being inspected.

Two-Headed Calf That Put Virginia Post on Road to Wealth.

It was recently that the representative of a large circus made his offer of $150 for the animal and it was accepted. There is a rumor that the excitement of travel and late hours have affected the calf's health and that he is a poor insurance risk. However, as the old Romans had it, caveat emptor.

The post plans to reinvest the $1,500 as soon as some other such good security as the calf is found.

Legion Men Among the Miners.
The activity of the American Legion in the mining districts of southeast Kansas is another pertinent proof that the misunderstanding between labor bodies and the ex-service men's organization has been dissipated. At Scammon, Kan., the climax of the eight-hour day celebration of the miners in District 14, was reached in a hall at the Legion hall, under the auspices of Francis Ellison Post. Another instance is the almost unprecedented growth of Clarence Smith Post No. 222 at Weller. From a membership of 31 ex-service men in 1920, a total of 112 has been enrolled in 1921.

VERDICT BY JUDGE LYNCH

Just Where That Famous Jurist First Held Court Has Long Been Matter of Dispute.

"Lynch law" is purely an Americanism. Its origin is somewhat in doubt. No such law is on the statute books, and the application of the expression today refers to outlaw or mob law which circumvents the written law, or inflicts a swift punishment before the legal authorities have had a chance to take action.

Magnificently speaking, such an act is called "a verdict by Judge Lynch." According to one authority, one Charles Lynch, a patriot of Virginia, conspired with Robert Adams and Thomas Callaway, to deal out relentlessly and unhesitatingly punishment to all law breakers and Tories during the days of our Revolution.

However, this origin is disputed. Some say that there was a small body of water known as "Lynch creek" in North Carolina during the same period in our history, and that on its shores a court-martial was held over the lifeless body of a Tory who had been hanged to prevent his rescue. Naturally, the verdict was death by hanging, and the judge did not have to bother about the execution of the sentence—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Chapman & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for claim certificate.

F. J. CHAPMAN & CO., Toledo, Ohio.
Sold by Druggists, etc.
Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

[Advertisement.]

Efficient Spending.

The measure of real necessity is surprisingly small. When one finds the medium ground between prodigality and stinginess he will realize that he can live there, even though his income may be moderate. Greater moderation in many things would leave us a healthier and happier race, to say nothing of what it would do for our bank accounts. Certainly, before buying a thing one should honestly ask himself whether he needs it. He should, likewise, give himself an honest answer.

The second principle of efficient spending is that when one has honestly decided that he needs a thing he should buy the best he can get. If one buys at all, it pays to search the market for an article of high quality. Moreover, he is very apt not to find an article of high grade unless he does search the market rather carelessly.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court of Somerset County letters testamentary on the estate of

WILLIAM J. PHILLIPS.

late of Somerset County, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased, are hereby required to exhibit the same with vouchers thereof to the subscriber on or before the Twenty-third day of September, 1921; or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefits of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand this 15th day of March 1921.

FLORENCE A. PHILLIPS,
Executive of William J. Phillips, deceased
True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK,
Register of Wills.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters of administration on the estate of

JAMES R. DODSON.

late of Somerset County, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same with vouchers thereof to the subscriber on or before the Second Day of August, 1921; or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefits of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand this 25th day of February, 1921.

IDA DODSON,
Administrator of James R. Dodson, deceased
True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK,
Register of Wills.

3-1

Kill That Cold With

HILL'S
CASCARA BROMIDE QUININE
FOR Colds, Coughs AND La Grippe

Neglected Colds are Dangerous

Take no chances. Keep this standard remedy handy for the first sneeze.

Breaks up a cold in 24 hours—Relieves Grippe in 3 days—Excellent for Headache Quinine in this form does not affect the head—Cascara is best Tonic Laxative—No Opium in Hill's.

ALL DRUGGISTS SELL IT

THE LEGION BODY OF FRANCE

Ex-Patriated Former Service Men Remain Abroad and Serve in Important Capacity.

When the last of the American expeditionary forces left France, a considerable number of ex-service men remained in that country as representatives of American firms and in various other positions. Among this group was Col. Francis E. Drake, commander of the department of France, American Legion.

The expatriated former service men found that there were mutual ties binding them together and the result was the formation of the Legion's department of France.

Among the achievements of this detached body of Legionnaires are: The direction of the decoration of graves of American soldiers on the battlefields and in the cemeteries of France on Memorial day; aid to stranded veterans in France; the raising of a fund to defend the American sergeants who attempted to capture Bergdorff, the arch slacker, on German soil and cooperation with the French government in furthering memorial plans of the American Legion.

Colonel Drake has returned to France after a visit to America, during which he effected arrangements for the decoration of all soldiers' graves on Memorial day, 1921.

The Legion commander attracted national attention when his investigation of the alleged "Rhine Horror" showed that there was no ground for the assertion of pro-Germans that French negro troops are participating in outrages upon German women in the Rhenish provinces.

CONVENTIONS OF 1921 OPEN

Program of Department Gatherings of Ex-Service Men's Organizations Inaugurated in Alaska.

When delegates from far-away posts of the American Legion in Alaska met at Valdez on April 12, the program of department conventions of the ex-service men's organization for 1921 was inaugurated.

Departments which have announced the place and date of their 1921 conventions are: Alabama, Florence, June 10 and 11; Arizona, Prescott, August 8; Florida, Orlando, May 16 and 17; Iowa, Spirit Lake, September 1, 2 and 3; Kansas, Hutchinson, August 22, 23 and 24; Kentucky, Lexington, September 2 and 3; Maryland, Ocean City, September 12 and 13; Michigan, Kalamazoo, September 6 and 7; Minnesota, Winona, August 1, 2 and 3; Montana, Lewistown, June 27 and 28; Nebraska, Fremont, September 29, 30 and October 1; New Mexico, Silver City, September 22, 23 and 24; New York, Jamestown, September 30 and October 1; Oregon, Eugene, July 1 and 2; South Dakota, Rapid City, August 23 to 26; Tennessee, Chattanooga, July 8 and 9; Utah, Provo, June 10 and 11; Virginia, Norfolk, September 1, 2 and 3; Washington, Hoquiam, July 14, 15 and 16; Wisconsin, Eau Claire, June 28, 29 and 30.

Other departments which have announced conventions, with the exact date as yet undecided, are: Colorado, Glenwood Springs, October; Louisiana, Bogalusa, early September; Nevada, Gardnerville, July; New Hampshire, Weirs, last week in August; New Jersey, Asbury Park, September; Oklahoma, Enid, last week in September or first week in October; Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, between September 15 and 30.

AMERICANISM BILLS GET O. K.

Three Measures Written by the American Legion Become Laws in Oklahoma, June 25.

Three Americanism bills written by the American Legion and introduced in the Oklahoma state legislature at the request of that organization, have been passed by the state lawmaking body, signed by Governor Robertson and will become laws on June 25.

House bill No. 383 provides that the American flag shall be displayed at all times in every school room in the state—public, private and denominational—and that pupils shall be taught proper respect and reverence for it by the state school superintendent. A penalty is provided for violation.

American history and civil government are made compulsory subjects for study in all schools of the state under house bill No. 384.

High schools, colleges, universities and normal schools must require at least one full year's work in American history and civics of each student graduated.

In the future, each teacher who is granted a certificate to teach in Oklahoma must subscribe to an oath of allegiance to the constitution of the United States and of the state of Oklahoma under the terms of house bill No. 389. Teachers found guilty of public statements against the flag or country shall have their certificates revoked.

The bills have been widely praised in the Oklahoma press and have been made a part of the national Americanism program of the American Legion.

The Harry T. Phoebus Lumber Company

LUMBER FOR SALE

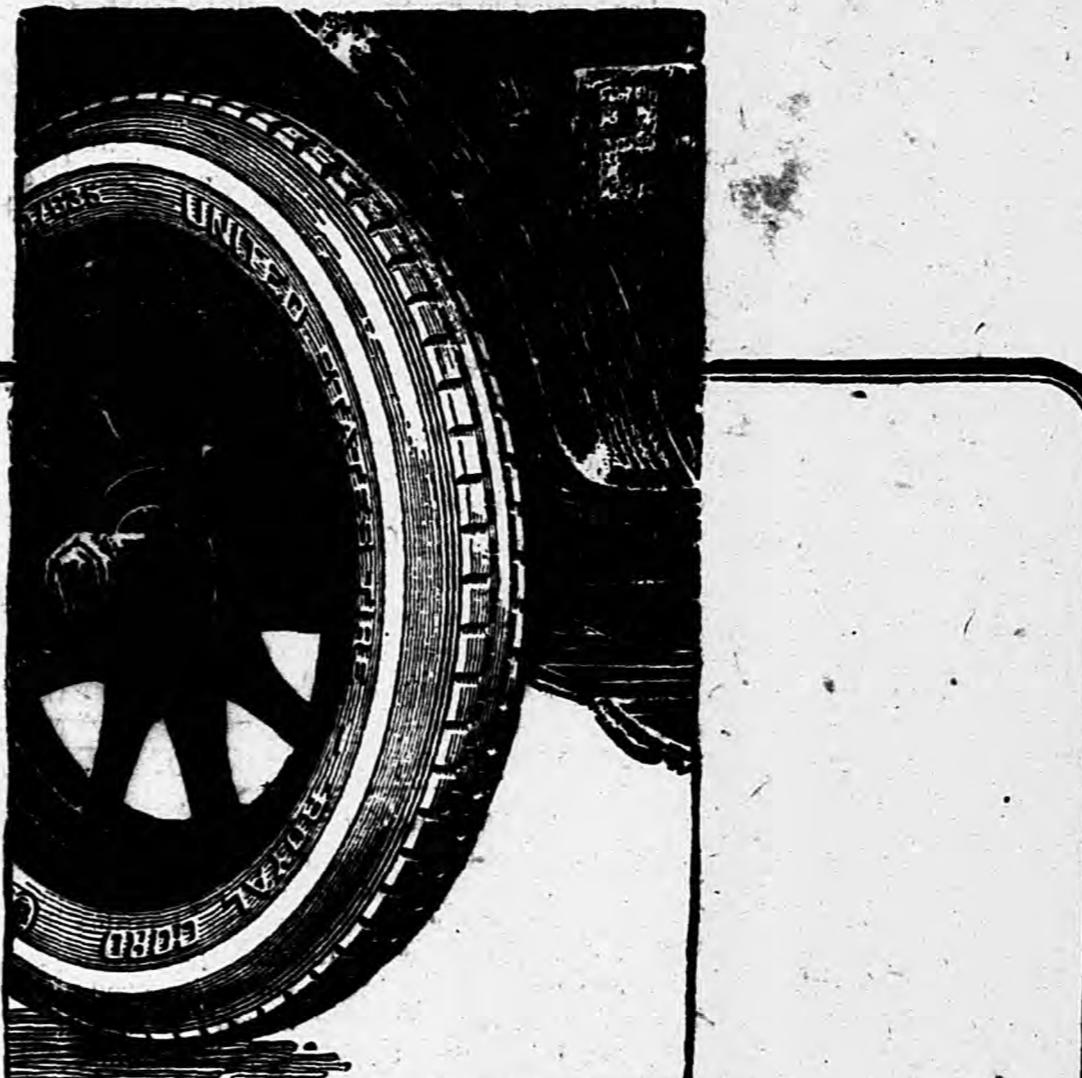

(ALL KINDS)

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

SEE US BEFORE BUYING

Phone No. 6 Oriole, Maryland

FOR STYLISH AND QUALITY PRINTING Bring your orders to the Marylander and Herald Office.

How you can measure tire value in 1921 —

"Any U. S. Tire is a universal full-money's worth."

Often it's surprising the number of different tire views that come out in a chance talk at the curb or in the leisure of a friend's garage.

Almost every day you come across the man human enough to believe he can outguess the cut-price tag on "job-lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks."

His opposite is the hardpan car owner who sticks year in and year out to a standard brand as the only rational economy.

* * *

Many will remember the scarcity of U. S. Tires last year.

A hardship at the time, but a benefit now. There are no U. S. Tires to be worked off—no accumulations—no forced selling of any U. S. brand—no shipping of tires from one part of the country to another to "find a market."

* * *

There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches. Each one gets its share of U. S. Tires. There is a broad, constant, even distribution of U. S. Tires always going on from these Branches to the dealer.

Buy a U. S. Tire anywhere—in a community of 500 people or even less—and you get a fresh, live tire of current production—with all the original service and mileage the factory put into it.

The owner of a medium or light-weight car stands on equal ground with every other car owner.

Any United States Tire is a universal full money's worth—backed up with a leadership policy of equal quality, buying convenience and price for everybody.

"The different tire views that come out in a chance talk."

United States Tires

United States Rubber Company

AUTO SALES COMPANY, Princess Anne, Maryland
W. P. FITZGERALD, Princess Anne, Maryland

MISSIONARY ON THE WING

Great Compositions That Seem to Have Been Awaiting the Moment of Their Birth.

Charles Kingsley returned home one night rather dejected because a sermon he had preached that day in London had proved a little too "socialistic" for the incumbent. Instead of going to bed he paced back and forth in front of the fire, and his wife, knowing he was composing, left him, and retired. In the morning he recited to her that moving lyric:

"Three fathers went sailing out into the west,
Out into the west as the sun went down."

There is a tablet in the porch of Wrexham church to the memory of Bishop Heber, which records that the most popular of all missionary hymns was composed in the town. Reginald Heber, who was then vicar of Hodnet, happened to be staying at the vicarage with his father-in-law, Dr. Shipton, dean of St. Asaph's, who was to preach a missionary sermon on the Sunday.

Heber and other friends were assembled in the library on the Saturday, when the dean asked his son-in-law if he could write something for the service next morning. Heber retired to the farther end of the room for the purpose, and at the end of 15 minutes he read the first three of the four verses of which the famous hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," consists.

His hearers were delighted, but Heber said the sense was not complete, and devoted another five minutes to the fourth stanza.

CAN NOT HIDE WEAKNESSES

Philadelphia Writer Draws a Moral From the Life and Works of Two Men

There were two men.

One, in order to hide his faults from the eyes of the public, surrounded himself with many friends, better than himself.

The other man had a single friend, as sterling in character, sympathies and perceptions as himself.

In the first case the man fooled the public, which seemed to see him through his friends.

In the second case, however, the man and his friend were misunderstood and neglected by the public.

The first man, during life, was praised and flattered, for being very wealthy, he could very easily purchase empty words, but not loved or respected.

The second man, after death, was at last understood, respected, honored and loved, but to no avail; for he could not be brought back from the grave.

It was a case of the same old story—an unjust, blind world.

Moral—A man will not hide one's weaknesses.—Charles Fingerman, in the Philadelphia Record.

Thoroughbreds and Jackasses. The Baldwin locomotive works got an order for a monster locomotive. It was shipped in fifteen days.

"How did you do it?" one of the officials was asked.

"Organization," he responded. "Organization is the art of getting men to respond like thoroughbreds. When you cluck to a thoroughbred he gives you all the speed and strength of heart and sinew he has in him. When you cluck to a jackass he kicks."

Here is an illustration worth while, which surely applies to men as well as lower animals.

A wonderful thing is the ability to respond with complete efficiency whenever called upon.

And a more wonderful thing is to be able to get other men to respond that way when you call upon them. That is what the great men of industry—as well as of war—have been able to accomplish.—Gulf Coast Lumberman.

Practical Bible Warning.

"There are extraordinary sarcasms in coincidences," says Alexander Black, author of "The Seventh Angel" and "The Great Desire." "One night a thief made off with my overcoat from a restaurant in which one is admonished to be alert. Moreover, I had never been robbed of anything in my life. I had had no admonitory experience. Naturally the incident made a rather profound impression. The weather deepened that impression."

"That same night I happened to open my Bible to find the location of the verse from which I took the title of 'The Seventh Angel.' And in the verse immediately preceding I read these startling words: 'Blessed is he that watcheth and keepeth his garments.'

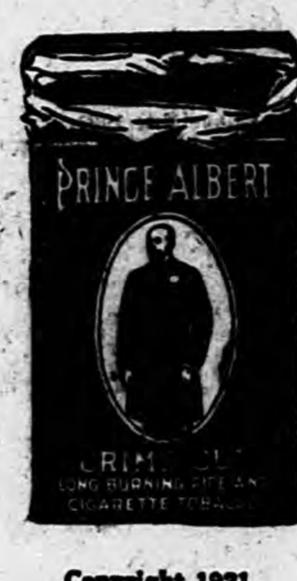

Monroe Was Jefferson's Secretary.

Although James Monroe, who was to become one of our most famous Presidents, played his part in the Revolutionary war with gallantry, and was wounded at the battle of Trenton, it was after that wound had forced his retirement to private life that he got his real start on the path that was to carry him to fame. Upon receiving his wound the young man, who had previously been promoted to a captaincy by Gen. Washington, returned to his home in Virginia and took up the study of law. He entered the office of Thomas Jefferson, who was then governor of Virginia. Jefferson had a large library, and inspired Monroe with a desire for study. The two formed a great attachment, and Monroe made the young man his secretary.

You'll enjoy the sport of rolling 'em with P. A.!

Prince Albert is sold in fancy red boxes, tidy red tins, hand-some pouches and half-pouches, the humidores and in other forms, crystal glass, leather or with sponge moisture top.

Copyright 1921
by R. J. Reynolds
Tobacco Co.
Winston-Salem,
N.C.

FIRST thing you do next — go get some makin's papers and some Prince Albert tobacco and puff away on a home made cigarette that will hit on all your smoke cylinders!

No use sitting-by and saying maybe you'll cash this hunch tomorrow. Do it while the going's good, for man-o'-man, you can't figure out what you're passing by! Such flavor, such coolness, such more-ish-ness—well, the only way to get the words emphatic enough is to go to it and know yourself!

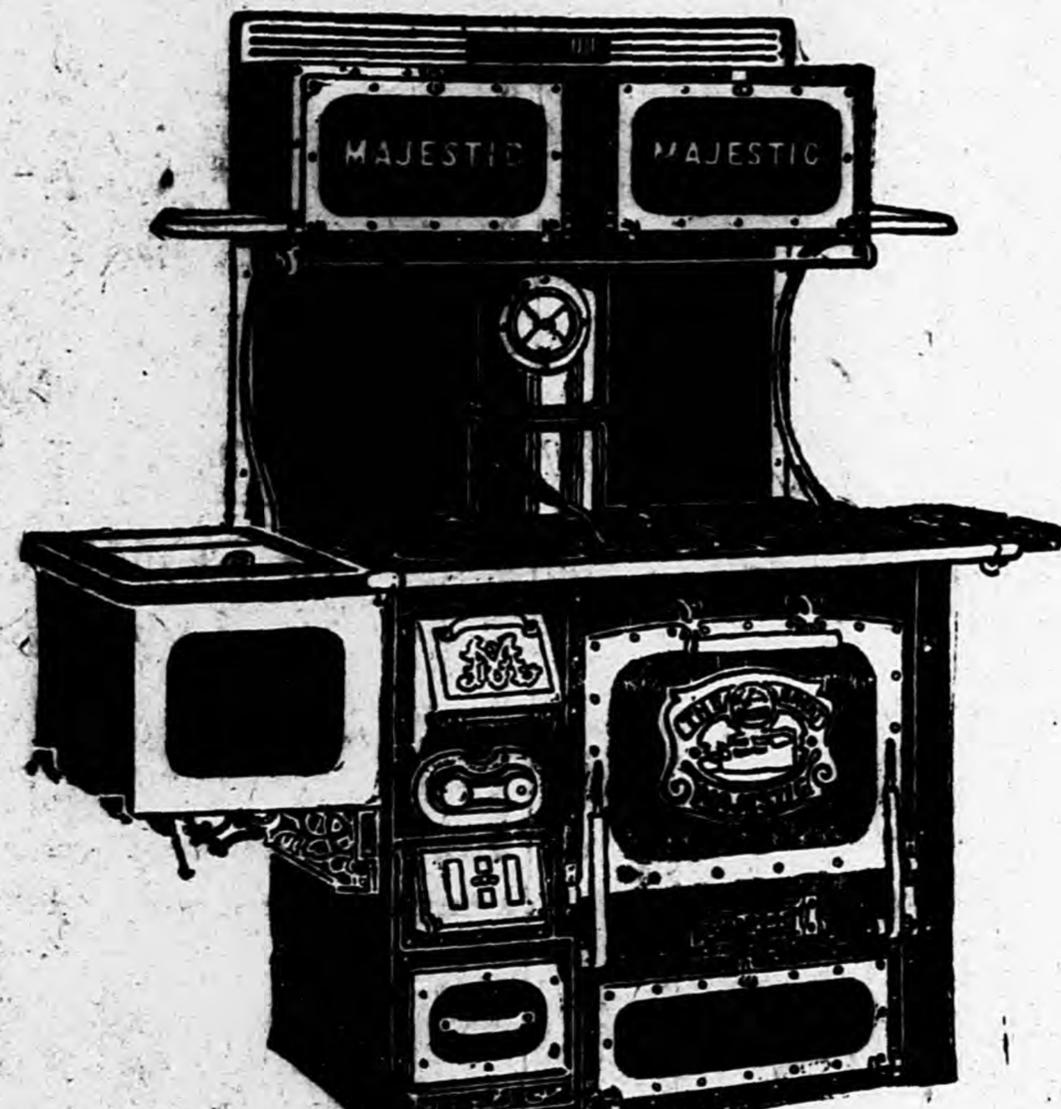

And, besides Prince Albert's delightful flavor, there's its freedom from bite and parch which is cut out by our exclusive patented process! Certainly—you smoke P. A. from sun up till you slip between the sheets without a comeback.

Prince Albert is the tobacco that revolutionized pipe smoking. If you never could smoke a pipe—forget it! You can—AND YOU WILL—if you use Prince Albert for packing! It's a smoke revelation in a jimmy pipe or a cigarette!

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

25 percent Saved
BY BUYING YOUR STOVES NOW

I have just received a carload of the Wilson Down Draft Airtight Heaters and a large assortment of

Cook Stoves and Ranges

These stoves were bought last January, since that time they have advanced 25 per cent. and we are giving our customers the advantage of this increase in price.

10 Per Cent Discount
ON ALL ROBES, BLANKETS

CARRIAGES, WAGONS,
HARDWARE
HARNESS

Ask your neighbor where to get a square deal and he will say TAYLOR'S HARDWARE STORE.

J. T. TAYLOR, Jr.

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Don't Neglect Your Stock

Try LeGears

STOCK FOOD
and HOG TONIC

With our Guarantee

Eastman Kodaks and Films

Conklin Fountain Pens
Guth's Chocolates

Soda Water, Cigars,
Drugs, Toilet Articles

T. J. Smith & Co.

Everybody's Druggists

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

LET US DEVELOP YOUR FILMS

We have just received a beautiful variety of
DAHLIA BULBS
PRICES CHEAP

FRANK BRANFORD
Contractor and Builder
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Estimates Furnished

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters of administration on the estate of

MATTHIAS MELSON

late of Somersett county, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereof to the subscriber on or before the

Twenty-third Day of September, 1921,

or on the day otherwise by law excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons indebted to said deceased are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand this 18th day of March, 1921.

MATTHIAS MELSON, JR.,
Administrator of Matthias Melson, deceased.

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARE,
3-22 Registered of Wills

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters of administration on the estate of

THOMAS H. MARTER,

late of Somersett county, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber on or before the

Twentieth Day of October, 1921,

or on the day otherwise by law excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons indebted to said deceased are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand this 15th day of April, 1921.

JOHN W. ENNIS,
Administrator of Thomas H. Marter, deceased.

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARE,
4-19 Registered of Wills

AGENTS WANTED: BLISS NATIVE
HERBS is a remedy for the relief of Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness, Rheumatism,
Kidney Troubles. It is well-known everywhere.
The remedies are sold at a price that allows agents to double their money. Address: American Bliss
Medical Co., Washington, D. C. for Almanac,
Cook Books, Health Books, which are furnished free of charge to agents. Mention this paper. [3-8]

FERTILIZERS

As distributors for the famous Double "A" brands of Fertilizers, and maintaining a warehouse to accommodate you in any quantity, we are in a position to supply you at the right price. You want to know what you are getting and with whom you are dealing, and especially is it so this year.

Princess Anne Milling Co.
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

The Cohn & Bock Co.

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Flour Meal

FEEDS

Scratch and Chick Feeds

HAY

HAMPERS

Shingles

Lath

LUMBER

The Cohn & Bock Co.
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

MAN HE. WAS LOOKING FOR Old Goldstein Bigpurse Had Good Job for Burglar Who Had Been Boyhood Chum.

"Who's there?"
This snappy question shot forth from the lips of Goldstein Bigpurse, owner of one of the finest offices near the Mansion house.

"Only me," came the answer, and the burglar turned his lantern upon himself at once and on each side of him to show that he was telling the truth.

"You?" cried the multi-millionaire.
"You? Why, so it is! You—Bill Bluffem, my school chum, my faithful companion in all schoolboy pranks. Great Scott! And fallen to such depths!"

"Well!" exclaimed Burglar Bill.
"If it ain't Goldie, me old pal! I know all about you. You're president of one of the largest financial skinflinties in this country, and I ain't nothin' but a common, ordinary burglar. Boo-hoo! If you let me go this wunst, I promise never to let you catch me again! Will ya?"

"Ha ha!" laughed the financier.
"Let you go? Well, I should say not. No! Never! For I'm going to make you a partner in the skinflint. For years I have been looking for a man with the proper training."

So saying, the two pals embraced each other fondly.—Houston Post.

SNAGS IN LIFE'S CURRENT

Are Something That Is the Part of Wisdom for All of Us to Avoid.

A young woman in a rage with her fiance for some apparently inexplicable oversight, exclaimed: "I never can forgive him—he never!" Her grandmother, sitting near, looked up from her knitting. "I felt the same way one day nearly 50 years ago," she said quietly. "Today I cannot recall what it was I could not forgive, but the emptiness of life that resulted is still in my mind. Don't get hung up on a snag in the stream, my dear. Snags alone are not so dangerous—it's the debris that clings to them that makes the trouble. Pull yourself loose and go on."

In our judgment we must first get rid of the eternal self; we must learn to look at the fault wholly in its relation to the person to whom it belongs, not in its relation to ourselves. None of us is created perfect, and few—if any—attain perfection. The most we can attain is a perfect understanding of this fact, and a self-control that will enable us to pull loose from the snag and go on with the main stream of the life which in other respects is in harmony with ours; not stay hung up, emphasizing the snag and giving it more weight than the stream itself. To be able to ignore is often the most saving of grace.—Anne Shannon Monroe in Good Housekeeping.

Nation Without Language.

One of the strangest things to be found among the nations of the world is the fact that Switzerland has no language of its own. The official languages of Switzerland are French, Italian and German, all three being recognized as the "mother tongue" of the majority of the inhabitants.

A majority of the people speak German, while the others use French and Italian, varying as a rule, according to the proximity of the people to each country whose tongue they speak.

Public documents and notices are printed in both the French and German languages.

In the Swiss national parliament the members make their speeches either in French or German, the members being as familiar with one language as the other.

Statements from the President of Switzerland are furnished to the newspapers in both languages.

Panama Springs Geographic Joke.
Panama perpetrates one of the greatest of geographic jokes on those who visit it. It convincingly makes east west. From Panama City the sun rises out of the Pacific, which to most American minds is the proper place only for setting suns. And he who sails through the canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific travels not from east to west, as he naturally expects to do, but from west to east, or, more accurately, from northwest to southeast. One gets the impression, as one writer has phrased it, that, "there is something crooked about this." The crookedness is found to be in the isthmus, which runs predominantly east and west, instead of north and south, and in addition makes a double curve like the letter S, so that at one place the Atlantic waters are actually west of those of the Pacific.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

Reason for Sunday.

How did Sunday become the first day of the week instead of the seventh? The Sabbath of the Jews was the seventh day of the week, the day of cessation from work among all Hebrews, following six days of labor and closing the week. Sunday was the first day of the week celebrated in memory of the resurrection of Christ. It is therefore also known as the Lord's day. In the Bible (in Acts XX, 7) we are told that the disciples in Troas met weekly on the first day of the week for exhortation and the breaking of bread. Justin Martyr said that Christians gathered then because it was the first day on which God made the world and because Jesus Christ on the same day arose from the dead.

SOMERSET COUNTY HAPPENINGS

News Items Gathered By Our Correspondents During The Week

Mt. Vernon

May 14—Mr. Millard Bounds spent the week end at his home.

Miss Vesta Costen spent the week end in Salisbury.

Mr. Frank Barbon spent a few days in Baltimore last week.

Mr. James Bailey returned home after a few days in Baltimore.

Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Adams and daughter, Anne, of Upper Fairmount, were the guests of Mrs. Margaret Hopkins and Miss Ruby Bounds Thursday and Friday.

"The Old Maids' Club" will be repeated at Grace Guild Hall Mt. Vernon, Tuesday evening, May 17th. Owing to the disagreeable weather Mr. Raleigh Douglas could not be present at the previous performance, but will be here Tuesday night to entertain the audience with his comic songs. There will also be other vocal and instrumental music. Admission 25 cents. Proceeds to benefit Grace P. E. Church.

Perryhawkin

May 14—Mr. E. L. Anderson, of Chester, Pa., is spending some time in the community.

Mr. Harold Long returned home Wednesday after spending about two weeks at Trappe, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Dryden returned home Saturday evening of last week after visiting relatives in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Dykes spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. H. W. Hickman, at Pocomoke City.

Mr. F. W. Marriner and family were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. Marriner's brother, Mr. William Marriner, near New Church, Va.

Mrs. Noah Gibbons was called to the home of her parents, near Snow Hill, Wednesday because of the serious illness of her father, Mr. William Parsons.

Funeral services of Mr. George Carter, about 80 years of age, who died at the home of his son, Mr. Cleveland Carter, at Pocomoke City, last Tuesday, were held in Emmanuel M. E. Church, conducted by Rev. Mr. Smith. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Appeal For Near East Relief

"Make It a Bundle Week" is coming. It will begin June 1st. During that week, everyone in this county is appealed to by the Near East Relief, to bring all the clothing they possibly can spare, and shoes, to centers that will be announced later.

Clothing, almost unlimited, and shoes, are needed at once by thousands upon thousands of men, women and children in the Caucasus. The appeal, by the Near East Relief, is made to help the Armenians, Syrians and Assyrians, but there are people of many nationalities in dire straits. Many of them are almost naked, many in the mountainous regions, are barefooted in the snow; these include little children, wearing rags that fail to protect their frail little bodies.

This appeal will find the householders at their spring cleaning. They are asked, as they go over the clothing, preparatory to packing it for the summer, to see what they can spare for these people who are appealing to the Near East Relief and they are asked to give every garment that they possibly can. The merchants who are going over their stocks are asked to give what they can of shapely goods and of shoes; they will find many things that will be wearable and all of them can be used in the Levant.

The clothing and the shoes donated will be sent to New York, through Maryland headquarters, 14 W. Franklin street, Baltimore, and from New York will be shipped overseas to those who so eagerly await its coming.

Sarcastic Eclipse.

"You say this embezzler was humiliated when forced to appear in court."

"Tea."

"That seems to indicate that he has a conscience."

"Not at all. After having spent years building up a local reputation as a 'shabby dresser,' he had to appear in a suit that needed pressing."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

But It's the Fashion.

Wifey—Aren't you positively ashamed that your wife and daughter are all out at the elbows?

Hub—Nope. But I'm ashamed that they are all out at the knees.—American Legion Weekly.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

What a Heap of Happiness It Would Bring to Princess Anne Homes

Hard to do housework with aching back.

Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains often come from weak kidneys."

It would save much needless woe.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. Ask your neighbor!

Read what a Princess Anne citizen says:

Mrs. Victoria Sexton, Antioch avenue, says: "I was in a run down condition with kidney trouble. My back ached constantly and kept me feeling miserable. My housework tired me out and I became weak and languid. Dizzy spells came over me and spots floated before my eyes. My feet and ankles were swollen at times and my kidneys never acted regularly. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended at times and I used them from Jones & Colborn's drug store. They helped me wonderfully by relieving all symptoms of kidney trouble."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simper a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—see your doctor. Sexton Laboratories, Williams Co., Mfgs., Butler, Pa.

Old and New.

All that is old is not therefore necessarily excellent; all that is new is not despotic on that account alone. Let what is really meritorious be pronounced so by the candid judge after due investigation; blockheads alone are influenced by the opinion of others.—Hindu Drama.

Appeared in Church In Calico. In 1873, as a protest against extravagance in dress, the women members of the First Baptist church of Nashville, Tenn., agreed to dispense with all finery on Sundays, and to appear at church in plain calico dresses.

Time and the Man. A French statistician concludes that at the age of fifty the average man has slept 8,000 days, worked 6,500, walked 800, amused himself 4,000, spent 1,500 eating and been ill only about 500 days, or about 3 per cent of the time.

Chamberlain's Tablets Are Mild And Gentle in Effect

The laxative effect of Chamberlain's Tablets is so mild and gentle that you can hardly realize that it has been produced by a medicine.

[Advertisement]

And Less for That.

A man doesn't have to have much in his upper story to be valuable these days. It depends on what kind of cellar he has.—Santa Rosa (Cal.) Republican.

Leave It to State Legislators. Man was some millions of years reaching his present stage of development; but Be It Enacted may speed him up.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Hanging Pictures.

A picture should be hung in a room so that its center comes just on a level with a person of average height.

Lumbago

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dunn, Brockport, N.Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."

[Advertisement]

KIRSCHBAUM CLOTHES · SPRING 1921

WHAT A SUIT OWES YOU

It owes you that well-set-up, smartly-styled look. It owes you long wear. It owes you complete satisfaction and a full return for your money. Why take a chance of not getting these things when in Kirschbaum Clothes you are sure of them—or else of having your money paid back. Prices are twenty-five to forty-five dollars.

A. B. Kirschbaum Company

John W. Norris & Sons, Inc.

PRINCESS ANNE

B. C. DRYDEN

AUCTIONEER.

PRINCESS ANNE, MD., ROUT 4.

When you need my services give me a call Prices Reasonable. Somerset people know I always give satisfaction.

The Old Dollar Is Coming Back

Reports from various parts of the country indicate that the dollar is staging a come-back, with a promise of gradual return to its old-time purchasing power.

This is welcome news for all of us who have been wrestling with the cost-of-living problem.

It is welcome news also for the many people in this community who are saving wisely against the time when the dollar will buy a full dollar's worth again.

"Keep on Saving," is our advice. The old dollar is coming back.

PEOPLES BANK of SOMERSET COUNTY

PRINCESS ANNE, MD.

Where Your Money Is Safe

It is never safe at home about the house.

It certainly isn't safe in a speculative investment, for you can never be sure of even seeing it again to say nothing of interest returns.

The safest place for your money is here in this bank, where you can enjoy the conveniences of a checking account and have a surplus earning interest. Our resources of over $1,500,000.00 are back of every dollar on deposit.

BANK OF SOMERSET PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Capital and Surplus $ 240,000.00
Resources . . . 1,500,000.00

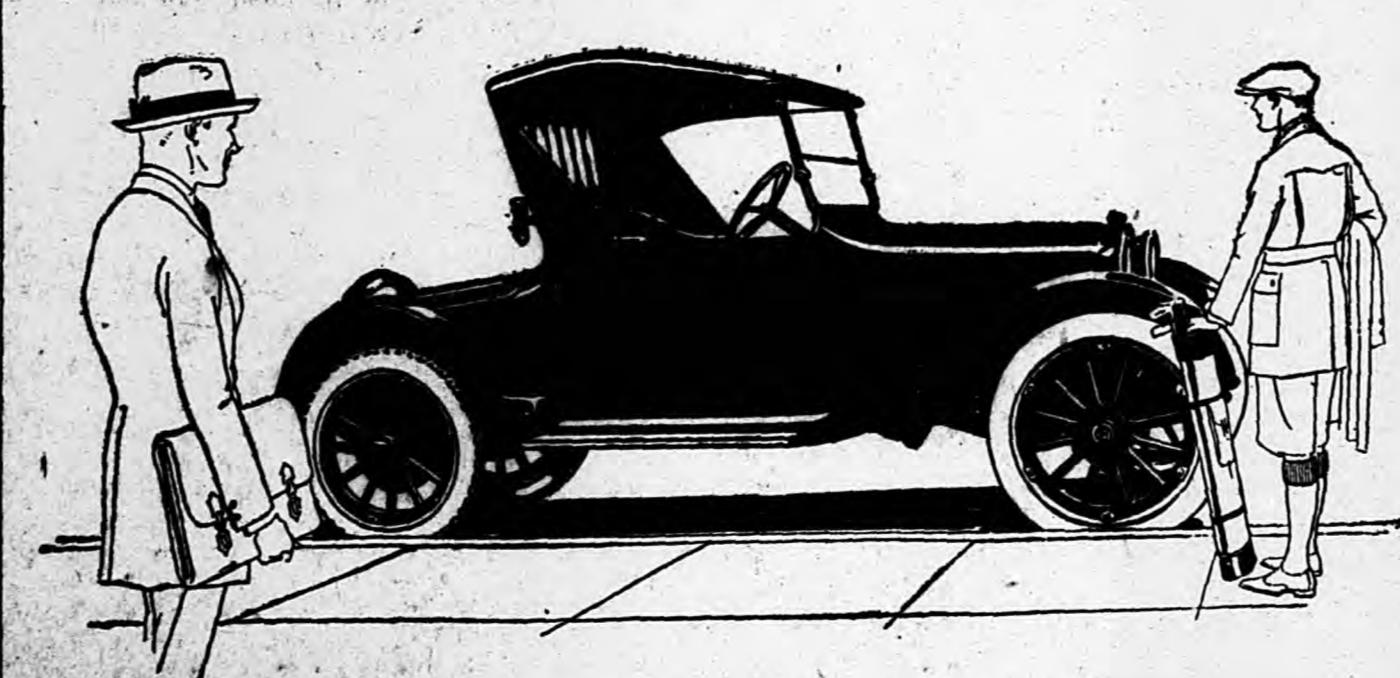

DODGE BROTHERS ROADSTER

Change of ownership to another car is almost unknown.

The rule everywhere is long continued use, re-sale at a high second hand figure, and the purchase of another Dodge Brothers car.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low
The tire mileage is unusually high

L. W. GUNBY CO.
SALISBURY MARYLAND

Strawberry Checks Printed at $1.50 per M

MARYLANDER AND HERALD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF PRINCESS ANNE AND SOMERSET COUNTY

THE MARYLANDER. Established 1863
SOMERSET HERALD. 1888

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND, MAY 24, 1921

Vol. XXIII No. 42

SEVERAL PROPERTY TRANSFERS

Recorded In The Office Of The Circuit Court For Somerset County

Vincent Bonomo from Algie Ross Ward and wife, land in Crisfield; consideration $550.

Vincent Bonomo from John Bettis and wife, land in Crisfield; consideration $300.

Horace W. Phoebe from Harry T. Phoebe and wife, land in Dames Quarter district; consideration $300.

Isaac Frederick Phoebe from Harry T. Phoebe and wife, land in Dames Quarter district; consideration $300.

H. Talman Dashiel from George H. Myers, trustee, 4 acres in Mt. Vernon district; consideration $355.

Robert F. Duer and others from H. Talman Dashiel, 4 acres in Mt. Vernon district; consideration $355.

George B. Mason from Alfred J. Wood and wife, land in Mt. Vernon district; consideration $100 and other valuable considerations.

TOWN LEAGUE VICTORS 6 TO 1

Last Friday afternoon Bescom Business College, of Salisbury, played a game of base ball with the Princess Anne League team on the Washington High School diamond, at Princess Anne, which resulted in defeat for Salisbury by a score of 6 to 1.

The weather was warm, but nevertheless several visitors and town people witnessed the game, which opened with the League pitcher, Ringgold, performing the hurling duties, while A. Jones was at the receiving end. E. Pusey bugged 1st base, M. Holden 2nd, P. Dryden 3rd, while Lewers clutched shortstop. J. Holloway, B. Holland and Babe Wilson performed the skyscraping duties in the outfield. R. Wilson and Harts, substitutes, were tied to the bench.

The record hits were: Holden 2, Holloway 1, Dryden 2, Ringgold 4, Holland 3, Pusey 2, Babe Wilson 4. Lewers 1, Jones 2. The runs brought in by Ringgold 2, Holland 2, Pusey 1, Wilson 1, Ringgold pitched a wicked game, punching 20 out of 34. Dennis, the enemy's pitcher, punched 10 out of 28.

The leaguers played a hot game, especially the infielders, but much honor is due, however, to the grim outfielders. This was the third game these teams have played, the Princess Anne League winning two out of the three.

Seniors Entertained By Juniors

Last Friday evening the junior class of Washington High School entertained the seniors. Three rooms of the school building were tastefully decorated with the colors of both classes. Roses and magnolias were abundant everywhere, producing a beautiful effect.

One room was used for cards, games and various contests. Dancing was, however, the chief feature of the evening. Music was furnished by a Salisbury orchestra. The program was varied, even to the extent of one square set. Delectable refreshments were served during intermission, after which the dancers returned to "the light fantastic toe" with added zest and joy. The hands of the clock seemed to fly with the music and the hour to leave came all too soon.

Everybody present reported a glorious time. To the "faithful few" of the junior class is due much credit for the enjoyable evening's entertainment.

Public Library Meeting

A meeting in the interest of the Princess Anne Public Library was held at the home of Mrs. Earle B. Polk Monday afternoon of last week. The following were elected lady managers for a year: Mrs. Earle B. Polk, president; Mrs. Roger Woolford, Mrs. Robert F. Duer, Mrs. Henry J. Waters, Mrs. J. T. Taylor, Mrs. E. D. Young, Mrs. T. J. Smith, Mrs. H. Fillmore Lankford, Mrs. J. D. Wallop, Mrs. Wm. H. Dashiel, Mrs. John E. Holland, Mrs. C. E. Barnet and Miss Elinor McAllen.

The library has been presented with a splendid reference book—"The Century Dictionary"—in ten volumes by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barnett. Mrs. Henry J. Waters has also presented to the library 58 works of fiction.

Any other donations of up-to-date books will be gratefully received. Books for boys and girls particularly desired.

Registered Duroc Pigs

A number of the boys who are members of the Boys' Registered Pig Club of the county will have some nice Duroc pigs for sale. These pigs are from spring litters and are about weaning age. The price of these pigs range from $7.50 to $12.50 which will include registration papers.

Farmers who are interested in obtaining good stock of hogs should contact the boys of the county and buy registered pigs.

NAVAL TRY-OUTS NEXT MONTH

Airplane Against Battleship—Use of Poison Gas In Warfare At Sea

Experiments that are expected to have a great effect on future warfare at sea are to be conducted by the United States Navy, off the Atlantic coast, in the last week of June.

One thing to be tested is the effectiveness of airplanes and airships in dropping bombs on ships of war. Some naval men are skeptical about the ability of men on airplanes, going at least 45 miles an hour, to make hits enough in that way to be a very great danger. The airmen generally think they can do it. Real bombs will not be used unless upon some condemned vessel. It is known well enough what the bombs will do to a warship if they fall upon it.

Another thing to be tested is the effect of a poison gas attack made from airplanes. Our Government, at the close of the war, was said to have the secret of a terrible kind of poison gas which would soon have annihilated Germany had that country not surrendered when it did. This gas is not to be used in the experiments; it is too deadly. Tear-gas will be substituted, and all the crew must wear gas-masks and keep in protected places.

Upon the result of these experiments it is thought future naval changes may depend. The present ventilating system, instead of being a protection would be a deadly danger, drawing the poison fumes into every part of the ship.

Mrs. Henrietta Spiva Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Henrietta Margaret Spiva died suddenly at her home on South Somerset Avenue Monday evening of last week of paralysis. She had been in failing health for some time, but had not been confined to her room, always being able to attend to her household duties. On Monday evening, about 5:30 o'clock, when her husband returned from work, he found her sitting in a rocking chair unconscious and when his efforts to arouse her failed, he notified the neighbors who hurried to the home and carried the stricken woman to her room, where she regained consciousness for a brief period, after which she suddenly expired.

Mrs. Spiva was born near Oak Hall, Accomac county, Virginia, April 30th, 1844, and was a daughter of the late Joseph Feddeeman and Elisabeth Mathews Feddeeman. On October 16th, 1872, she married Mr. Absalom Spiva, after which she resided in Pocomoke City until 1876, when she moved with her husband to Princess Anne, where she has since made her home. For more than 40 years she had been a member of Antioch Methodist Episcopal Church, taking an active interest in its affairs and always lending a helping hand to its advancement.

Besides her husband, the deceased is survived by two children (Mr. William B. Spiva, cashier of the Bank of Somerset, of Princess Anne, and Mrs. Bessie Hendrie, of Chester, Pa.) and one sister (Miss Addie Feddeeman, of Salisbire). Funeral services were held at her late home last Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. W. F. Dawson, pastor of Antioch Methodist Episcopal Church. Interment was in the M. E. Church cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. S. Frank Dashiel, Charles C. Golder, George W. Brown, W. O. Lankford, E. Herriman Cohn and Frank C. Jones.

Senior Class Night

Next Friday night, May 27th, the senior class of Washington High School will present at the Auditorium "Mr. Bob," a two-act comedy and other class night features.

The cast of characters follow: Philip Royston, Charles Smith; Robert Brown, clerk of Benson and Benet, Howeth Barnes; Jenkins, Miss Rebecca's butler, Weldon Barnes; Rebecca Luke, a maiden lady, Nannie Bounds; Katherine Rogers, her niece; Hannah Anderson; Marion Bryant, Katherine's friend, Christina Ruark; Patty, Miss Rebecca's maid, Margaret Dashiel.

Admission 35 cents, reserved seats 50 cents.

Rummage Sale Next Saturday

The semi-annual rummage sale for the benefit of the Woman's Parish Aid of St. Andrew's Church will be held on the lawn of Mrs. J. T. Taylor next Saturday, May 28th. Generous contributions are solicited of clothing, shoes, household utensils and furniture. By notifying members of this organization all donations will be called for. There will be a first-class vacuum cleaner for sale, carpets and many other articles of interest to buyers.

A lot of people fall short of success because they waste too much energy fighting for their rights in small matters.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

School Building Contract Awarded—Treasurer and Clerk Re-Elected

The Board of Education met on Tuesday last with the following members present: Dr. George C. Coulbourne, E. B. Lankford, Wm. E. Dougherty, Chas. W. Long, Thomas P. Bradshaw and Wm. L. Jones.

The board reorganized by re-electing Dr. George C. Coulbourne president and E. B. Lankford, vice-president. Wm. H. Dashiel was re-elected secretary, treasurer and county superintendent, and Mrs. Addie Bond Dashiel, clerk to the board. The superintendent stated that he would name other school officials at the June meeting. The appointment of trustees was deferred until the next meeting, owing to the press of business at this session.

Bids for building the school house at Mt. Vernon were received as follows: Roger B. White (concrete), $11,205; Frank Bradford, $9,550; Frank Bradford (wood, laths, etc.) $8,950; J. Roland Dashiel, $8,600; Harry Mulder, $8,960; Leonard Shriever, $8,950; Hastings & Parsons Co., $14,525.52. The contract was awarded to J. Roland Dashiel. Messrs. Long and Lankford were appointed a building committee.

The annual school budget was presented by the county superintendent. It was approved and signed by the president and secretary and ordered to be presented to the county commissioners today, Tuesday. The amount estimated to be required for the support of the public schools during the year 1921-22 was $142,348, of which the amount of $57,228 is expected to be received from the State and other sources, leaving the sum of $86,120 to be asked from the county.

The members of the board inspected the Stanford building on Prince William street and decided that it ought to be rearranged so as to have larger rooms and to be better fitted for public school purposes, the expense to correspond to the amount named for that purpose in the budget.

Auditorium Attractions This Week

Dorothy Dalton makes an appealing figure as the young wife in the picturization of Sir James M. Barrie's popular play, "Half an Hour." This picture will be shown at the Auditorium Tuesday night.

They are Senators Culberson, of Texas; Williams, of Mississippi; Swanson, of Virginia, and Trammell, of Florida.

There are others who ought to be succeeded by Democrats; unless the Republican sweep of last fall remains at high tide. They are McKellar, of Tennessee; Pittman, of Nevada; Abram, of Arizona; Jones, of New Mexico; Reed, of Missouri, and possibly Pomerene, of Ohio, and Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

Reed, Pomerene and Hitchcock have revealed distinct personal strength, in past campaigns.

Gerry, of Rhode Island; Kendrick, of Wyoming; King, of Utah; Myers, of Montana, and Wolcott, of Delaware, probably will be succeeded by Republicans, unless the Democrats are in luck.

They are Senators Culberson, of

Texas; Williams, of Mississippi; Swanson, of Virginia, and Trammell, of Florida.

There are others who ought to be succeeded by Democrats; unless the Republican sweep of last fall remains at high tide. They are McKellar, of Tennessee; Pittman, of Nevada; Abram, of Arizona; Jones, of New Mexico; Reed, of Missouri, and possibly Pomerene, of Ohio, and Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

Reed, Pomerene and Hitchcock have revealed distinct personal strength, in past campaigns.

Gerry, of Rhode Island; Kendrick, of

Wyoming; King, of Utah; Myers, of

Montana, and Wolcott, of Delaware,

probably will be succeeded by Republicans, unless the Democrats are in luck and still others from States that were put in the doubtful column by the results in last November's election. In fact, of the 16 Democrats going out, only four are certain, as politics goes, to be succeeded by Democrats.

They are Senators Culberson, of

Texas; Williams, of Mississippi; Swanson, of Virginia, and Trammell, of Florida.

There are others who ought to be succeeded by Democrats; unless the Republican sweep of last fall remains at high tide. They are McKellar, of Tennessee; Pittman, of Nevada; Abram, of Arizona; Jones, of New Mexico; Reed, of Missouri, and possibly Pomerene, of Ohio, and Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

Reed, Pomerene and Hitchcock have revealed distinct personal strength, in past campaigns.

Gerry, of Rhode Island; Kendrick, of

Wyoming; King, of Utah; Myers, of

Montana, and Wolcott, of Delaware,

probably will be succeeded by Republicans, unless the Democrats are in luck

and still others from States that were put in the doubtful column by the results in last November's election. In fact, of the 16 Democrats going out, only four are certain, as politics goes, to be succeeded by Democrats.

They are Senators Culberson, of

Texas; Williams, of Mississippi; Swanson, of Virginia, and Trammell, of Florida.

There are others who ought to be succeeded by Democrats; unless the Republican sweep of last fall remains at high tide. They are McKellar, of Tennessee; Pittman, of Nevada; Abram, of Arizona; Jones, of New Mexico; Reed, of Missouri, and possibly Pomerene, of Ohio, and Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

Reed, Pomerene and Hitchcock have revealed distinct personal strength, in past campaigns.

Gerry, of Rhode Island; Kendrick, of

Wyoming; King, of Utah; Myers, of

Montana, and Wolcott, of Delaware,

probably will be succeeded by Republicans, unless the Democrats are in luck

and still others from States that were put in the doubtful column by the results in last November's election. In fact, of the 16 Democrats going out, only four are certain, as politics goes, to be succeeded by Democrats.

They are Senators Culberson, of

Texas; Williams, of Mississippi; Swanson, of Virginia, and Trammell, of Florida.

There are others who ought to be succeeded by Democrats; unless the Republican sweep of last fall remains at high tide. They are McKellar, of Tennessee; Pittman, of Nevada; Abram, of Arizona; Jones, of New Mexico; Reed, of Missouri, and possibly Pomerene, of Ohio, and Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

Reed, Pomerene and Hitchcock have revealed distinct personal strength, in past campaigns.

Gerry, of Rhode Island; Kendrick, of

Wyoming; King, of Utah; Myers, of

Montana, and Wolcott, of Delaware,

probably will be succeeded by Republicans, unless the Democrats are in luck

and still others from States that were put in the doubtful column by the results in last November's election. In fact, of the 16 Democrats going out, only four are certain, as politics goes, to be succeeded by Democrats.

They are Senators Culberson, of

Texas; Williams, of Mississippi; Swanson, of Virginia, and Trammell, of Florida.

There are others who ought to be succeeded by Democrats; unless the Republican sweep of last fall remains at high tide. They are McKellar, of Tennessee; Pittman, of Nevada; Abram, of Arizona; Jones, of New Mexico; Reed, of Missouri, and possibly Pomerene, of Ohio, and Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

Reed, Pomerene and Hitchcock have revealed distinct personal strength, in past campaigns.

Gerry, of Rhode Island; Kendrick, of

Wyoming; King, of Utah; Myers, of

Montana, and Wolcott, of Delaware,

probably will be succeeded by Republicans, unless the Democrats are in luck

and still others from States that were put in the doubtful column by the results in last November's election. In fact, of the 16 Democrats going out, only four are certain, as politics goes, to be succeeded by Democrats.

They are Senators Culberson, of

Texas; Williams, of Mississippi; Swanson, of Virginia, and Trammell, of Florida.

There are others who ought to be succeeded by Democrats; unless the Republican sweep of last fall remains at high tide. They are McKellar, of Tennessee; Pittman, of Nevada; Abram, of Arizona; Jones, of New Mexico; Reed, of Missouri, and possibly Pomerene, of Ohio, and Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

Reed, Pomerene and Hitchcock have revealed distinct personal strength, in past campaigns.

Gerry, of Rhode Island; Kendrick, of

Wyoming; King, of Utah; Myers, of

Montana, and Wolcott, of Delaware,

probably will be succeeded by Republicans, unless the Democrats are in luck and still others from States that were put in the doubtful column by the results in last November's election. In fact, of the 16 Democrats going out, only four are certain, as politics goes, to be succeeded by Democrats.

CENSUS AGAIN IN 1925 LIKELY

Figures of 1920 Count Will Be Almost Worthless in Two Years.

ARE NOT A TRUE RECORD

Abnormal Conditions in After War Period Caused Anomalies—Government and Business Depend Much on Statistics.

Washington, D. C.—With the population of the country counted noise for noise and the census of 1920 virtually completed it looks as though congress would have to dig down into the pockets of the treasury for $20,000,000 more to repeat the operation in 1925. It took $28,500,000 to take the fourteenth decennial census, the census that started three years ago, the totals of which are now being compiled.

The fifteenth census will probably have to drop the term decennial, for it now appears that it will have to be started within the next year or two if the country is to have any reliable statistics, and if this is the case it will be the first break in the long line of "stock takings" Uncle Sam has indulged in every ten years since 1790.

The truth about the 1920 census is that for this year, last year and next year its figures are invaluable, but for the remaining eight years intervening between this and the next census, experts declare, its figures will be worth little more than their own historical and intrinsic phenomenal value. That is to say, they cannot be used for the year to year computations that the government and the industries of the country are accustomed to making.

The fourteenth decennial census was taken on the regular periodic occasion set aside since 1790 for taking the national census. In 1820 that proved for the first time to be an unfortunate and not propitious occasion. Of course it was the war that was to blame. For the six years previous to 1920 immigration had not only been restricted because of the war in Europe, but an unusual number of our recent immigrants returned to their native homes and armies to take part in the war.

Upward Swing in All Lines.

Added to this, industrial conditions early became upset in this country. Our munitions and industrial plants took on gigantic and actually grotesque capacities and they were flooded abnormally with labor. Even the per capita wealth of the country swung well over toward the golden era during this period.

The contrast of unemployment, diminishing wealth of the mass of the people, shutdown of mills and the towering flood of immigration witnessed during the last six months is the best example of how useless the figures taken in 1920 will be a year or two from now. Yet even this condition will not be permanent. In a year or two the country hopes to be back to its normal stride.

The figures of the last few years will furnish a splendid concrete example for the future of what to expect in times of great social upheavals, such as the World war, but statistics that are to serve the country as a normal guide for its legislative and business activities in times of peace must be taken in the normal days of peace.

The great bulk of the present census has been completed. The census bureau has already published the total population of the United States, there being 106,708,771 souls accounted for throughout the United States. This represents an increase of 13,736,505 inhabitants, or 14.9 per cent increase of population since 1910. It has even moved the imaginary point representing the "center of population" from Bloomington, Ind., to a point 9.8 miles west and about one-fifth of a mile north, where it is now fixed in the little town of Spencer, Ind.

Little Work Yet to Be Done.

All that remains to be done is the computation of the statistics in hand for various special data, the totalling of data by states and minor subdivisions and the publication of the census abstract and finally the census report for 1920. This will complete the "job" and will probably be done by the end of the year. Then it is probable that instead of settling down to its minor interdecennial census, it will be instructed by congress to get itself ready for three years more of national "stocktaking."

More than 100,000 persons were employed in taking the present census. In all, congress appropriated $28,500,000 for the three years of work. The period covered in taking the census was from July 1, 1919, to June 30, 1921.

In 1918 and 1919, when congress was appealed to for funds for the work the members were warned that the results would probably be unsatisfactory and that another census might be necessary almost immediately. So important was the census considered, however, that congress decided to take it at the regular time set aside for it and then, if necessary, take a following census.

Importance of the Census.

Unless one studies the reports of the census figures he does not realize how important it is for Uncle Sam to want aces first of all for reasons of government and, secondly, for the harmonizing of our industrial and social life. The census, of course, gives fairly accurate figures of actual and potential wealth throughout the country, which is invaluable for tax purposes.

Consider the plight the staff of the army would have been in during the war, as well as the rest of the country, if it could not estimate either the source of human or material supplies. All the statistics of the government of labor, and of business; all figures used by insurance companies, banking and agricultural statistics would be vague guesses without the comprehensive and approximately accurate ten-year tally made by the government as a basis from which to compute.

When the government started compiling census figures in 1790 the work of enumerating the populace was intrusted to 17 United States marshals, and the actual enumeration was done by 650 marshals' assistants. The figures compiled were sent to the President, who turned them over to the secretary of state. In turn they were transmitted to the printer and printed in an octavo volume of 56 pages. There is a striking contrast between the first census report in a book of 56 pages 8 by 5 inches in size and the hundred or more volumes in quartos (12 by 9 inches) of approximately 40,000 pages published as a result of the 1920 census.

The first census taking was fraught with hardships, the enumerators making journeys over unimproved roads in stages and on horseback. In fact, some smaller communities were considered too isolated to visit. Among these were Detroit, and Vincennes, Ind. Western New York was a wilderness at that time, Elmira and Binghamton being only detached hamlets.

The chief data taken for the first census related to the heads of families and other data were considered as related to these family heads. Philadelphia was the capital at the time. This census showed the great metropolis of New York with a population in those days of 33,000 inhabitants. Even then it was the largest city in the United States. But the state of New York ranked a poor fourth in population in comparison with Virginia, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

U. S. Had 3,893,635, in 1790.

The total population of the United States in 1790 was registered as 3,893,635 persons. For 1920 the census figures show a total population of 106,708,771, or a percentage increase in 130 years of 3,500 per cent. To expect the same relative increase in the next 130 years would give us a population in the year 2050 of something in excess of three and a half billions.

But getting down to earth, it is rather easy to calculate from past history what the population mark will be in normal or similar conditions in ten, twenty or thirty years. The big difficulty is that the last decade has been too abnormal to use it as a basis for calculation.

In 1900 our population was 75,994,675. In 1910 it jumped 15,977,661, or 21 per cent, over this figure to 91,972,266, and in 1920 it had jumped 18,736,505 more, or 14.9 per cent to a total of more than 100,000,000. Among other things the period from 1900 to 1919 was a good one for immigration. The 1910 to 1920 decade was decidedly otherwise, and its percentage increase was the lowest in history.

The coming decade, from now until 1930, is expected to be an unusual immigration period. With our natives increasing by births in addition to prospective immigration, if congress puts no bar in the way, the increase in the next decade should approach between 20 and 25 per cent of our present, and a total of 130,000,000 people in 1960 is not considered by statisticians of the census bureau to be too wide.

From the growth of the country in the last hundred years it is easy to appreciate the growth in the size of the job undertaken each ten years by the census bureau. Gradually the work of enumerating the population and the facts concerning them has been reduced to mechanical processes.

From the days of horseback travel in 1790 the census taking has gone through an evolution in respect to size, methods and matter. At first only individuals were counted and later information concerning the family was gathered. It was not until 1850 that information concerning agriculture, industry, religion, literacy, schooling, occupations, quarries and mines and the like were noted.

The census of 1850 was called the "modern census" for a number of years following. In 1870 machine tabulation was introduced and later came the more rapid electrical machine tabulation. By 1890 150 supervisors and 31,882 enumerators were engaged in taking the census. Today there are almost three times that number of enumerators.

In addition, the census bureau takes various special censuses, such as a census of the fisheries, central electric stations, schooling, religion and has even got down to taking a census of drainage conditions in agricultural areas. To do this work it employs many special agents skilled in that line of work.

The most modern feature of the census is its card indexing and tabulating work. The census bureau has designed its own tabulating card. This card registers the section of the country in which a person lives, whether a male or female, age, nativity, occupation, whether employed or unemployed, what language he speaks, whether a naturalized citizen by birth or alien and similar data respecting his parents.

The cost of taking the census in 1920 amounted only to about 21 cents per capita for all the people in the United States.

Babylonian Division of Time.

The Babylonians gave us an hour with 60 minutes. They divided the sun's path into 24 parasangs, a measure equal to about four and a half miles, or the distance a Babylonian soldier could hike in an hour with full pack. The astronomers of that day somehow worked out that the sun made the same progress. They divided the sun's whole course into 24 parasangs, or 360 degrees, each parasang, or hour, being divided into 60 minutes, and then, having fallen on evil days, they handed the system down to the Greeks, who passed it on.

Decisive Battles of the World.

Sir Edward Creasy wrote a work on the 15 decisive battles of the world which he gives as follows: (1) Marathon, B. C. 490; (2) Syracuse, B. C. 413; (3) Arbela, B. C. 331; (4) Mecynus, B. C. 207; (5) Arminius A. D. 9; (6) Chalons, A. D. 451; (7) Tours, A. D. 732; (8) Hastings, A. D. 1066; (9) Orleans, A. D. 1429; (10) The Armada, A. D. 1588; (11) Blenheim, A. D. 1704; (12) Pultown, A. D. 1709; (13) Saratoga, A. D. 1777; (14) Valmy, A. D. 1792; (15) Waterloo, A. D. 1815.

For Food and Beauty.

Plant parsley seed in one of your house gardens. It will make an attractive plant for the house and when grown can be used for the table.

Lines to Be Remembered.

Why don't you show us a statesman who can rise to the emergency and then cave in the emergency's head?—Artemus Ward.

Light-Fingered Ghost.

"I can swear that a ghost was there! Before the seance I had a pocketbook, and now I have none!"—Simplicissimus (Munich).

Technical.

The dramatic triangle, Robert, is caused by people not being on the square.—Boston Transcript.

Mean!

A woman's head was put on the dollar because money talks.—Greenville (S. C.) Piedmont.

Must Not Read Speech.

The rule in the British house of commons is that speeches cannot be read. However, "copious notes" are allowed, and sometimes they become so "copious" as practically to amount to a complete address. If the member who attempts to read a speech is "young," that is, is new to the house, and especially if he is making his first effort, the house is usually indulgent, permitting him to go on, provided he somewhat conceals the fact that he is reading by keeping his manuscript on his desk and not making a display of it. Such breach of the rule is winked at. The rule, however, is no read speeches.

Alone in the Jungle.

Mrs. Clementi, an English woman who has achieved a reputation as a traveler and explorer says: "To be alone even for a minute in the jungle is alarming, for such is the profound silence all around that one has a terrifying sense of being infinitely watched by unseen things." Of the forest noises one of the most uncanny is the howling of baboons. "When they are close at hand, the whole air is alive with the din, so that you cannot tell from which direction it proceeds. Every nerve in your body tingles, and there is a curious fascination in the great volume of sound."

Fertilizers

As distributors for the famous Double "A" brands of Fertilizers, and maintaining a warehouse to accommodate you in any quantity, we are in a position to supply you at the right price. You want to know what you are getting and with whom you are dealing, and especially is it so this year.

FEEDS

Our Feed Line Is Complete

CALL ON US

Let us quote you

Princess Anne Milling Co.
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Talk With Your Friends Tonight

Take advantage of the low evening and night rates for long distance telephone calls and talk with your friends in other towns.

After 8.30 P. M. and until midnight the station-to-station day rates are reduced nearly one-half. From midnight to 4.30 A. M. the rate is only about one-fourth the day rate.

The minimum reduced rate is 25 cents and reduced rates apply only on station-to-station calls.

In your telephone directory there is a full explanation of the different kinds of long distance calls and how to make them. Read it.

H. W. CARTY,
District Manager,

The Chesapeake &
Potomac Telephone Company

Old Glory is now on the Seven Seas

Ship and Sail under the Stars and Stripes to all parts of the world

You can now travel, or ship your goods, to any part of the world on American owned and American operated ships, flying the American Flag. American ships are modern, scientifically designed and constructed, new ships built for satisfactory service.

American ships will carry you in comfort to South America, England, Europe, the Mediterranean and the Far East. And the further from home you go, the more of a thrill you'll have to see the Stars and Stripes floating above your head.

President Harding says: "We know full well we cannot sell where we do not buy and we cannot sell successfully where we do not carry."

Operators of Passenger Services

Admiral Line
17 State St., New York, N. Y.
Seattle to Yokohama, Kobe, Hongkong, Shanghai, Singapore, and occasionally to Manila and Hawaii.

Matson Navigation Co.
26 State St., Baltimore, Md.
Baltimore to Manzan, Panama Canal, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Hawaii.

Monsoon Steam Ship Line
82 Beaver St., New York
New York to Rio de Janeiro, Montevideo, and Buenos Aires.

New York and Porto Rico S. S. Co.
11 Broadway, New York, N. Y.
New York to Porto Rico.

Ward Line
(New York and Cuba, Mall S. S., 45 Broadway, Wall St., New York, N. Y.)
New York to Havana and Spanish ports—Vigo, La Coruna, Santander, Gijon, Bilbao.

Free Use of Shipping Board Films

Use of Shipping Board motion picture films of four reels free on request of any master, postmaster, porter or organization. An interesting educational picture of ships and the sea. Write for information to Bureau of Information, Room 911, 1819 K Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

For Sale
Steel and Wood Ships and Wood Hulls and Ocean Going Tugs (To American Citizens Only)
Steel steamers are both oil and coal burners.

Further information may be obtained by writing to the Ships Sales Division, 1819 K Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

For sailings of freight ships to all parts of the world, write Division of Operations, Traffic Department, U.S. Shipping Board, Emergency Fleet Corp., Washington, D. C.

LUCKY STRIKE cigarette

It's toasted

The American Tobacco Co.

STRAWBERRY CHECKS at $1.50 per M. Order now

CONVERTED BY VISIT TO RUSSIA

Former Champion of Bolshevik Theory of Government Returns Completely Disillusioned.

GOLDMAN WOULD COME BACK

Says She'll Be Good Little Girl If She Can Only Return—Rubin Narrowly Escapes With His Life—Living Conditions Horrible.

Milwaukee.—Jacob H. Rubin of this city, who recently returned from a visit to Russia, says conditions in that country are appalling under Bolshevik rule. Mr. Rubin has for a number of years been a prominent socialist and went to Russia convinced that the Bolsheviks had set up an ideal state there.

"Conditions in Russia today are almost indescribable," he said. "People in this country are made to understand that Lenin and Trotsky are democratic to the extreme and every one loves them. The truth is that the government over there at present is no different from the one under the czar and Rasputin. Just as the peasants feared the tyrannical Romanoff before his overthrow, they fear the Soviet leaders now."

"There are nine anti-Bolsheviks to every adherent to Sovietism in Russia today, even in such cities as Moscow and Petrograd where the Bolsheviks are considered powerful. But the peasants had to submit when the government was under the seal of the eagle and they are afraid to do anything different while it is under the red seal. Uprising Called Futility.

"We read recently of an uprising against the government in Kronstadt. Nothing came of it because the Soviet officials there are too powerful. Likewise there could be no successful counter-revolution in Petrograd or Moscow. The only places where they might meet with a little success are Odessa, Kiev and Charkoff, which have not yet been made Soviet strongholds."

Mr. Rubin told of meeting Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman in Moscow, where they are working for the government compiling data on the industrial movement since the present government has been established. They are both very much dissatisfied with their lot and Miss Goldman had complained to the interviewer frequently that she was sorry she left America, he said.

"But you have free speech now and should be satisfied," Mr. Rubin said he told her.

"Forget it," was her reply. "In the course of her conversation with him, she said:

"Mr. Rubin, if you use your influence in getting me back to America I promise I'll be a good little girl." Emma is only one out of many who has seen the mistake in Bolshevism, said the former socialist.

Every one in Russia is eyed with suspicion by every one else. Even Americans in Moscow refuse to talk openly to other supposed Americans for fear they might be spies, Mr. Rubin said. And he was no different from the others. When it became known he had a brother who is an officer in the American Federation of Labor and a daughter who had been active in collecting money for the various drives in this country during the war, he was looked upon by every one with suspicion. But when they learned that he had sent a letter to a St. Louis newspaper saying that he was disappointed with practical socialism, their suspicion became greater and he was thought to be a spy.

Surrounded by Spies.

"I knew I would be shot if I let them know what I thought of them," he said, "so I decided to be careful with whom I spoke. One day a man who said his name was Williams came to me and declared he, too, was an American and occupied the room next to mine. When he began denouncing Lenin's government and praised America I realized he was a spy, so I praised Russia and complained of conditions in America. I thought I had convinced him, but apparently I hadn't."

Regularly every week Mr. Rubin's room was entered either while he was out during the day, or at night while he was asleep, and the raider's searched for papers which they thought he might have in his possession. He was put in prison three times while he was in Moscow, he declared, but was never kept longer than one night.

In Odessa, however, Rubin did not fare as well, for he was forced to spend seven weeks in a jail at the orders of General Denikine, who accused him of being a spy for the Bolsheviks. He was arrested on Oct. 14, 1919—just a few days after he landed and was sentenced to be shot on Jan.

WILL UTILIZE RIVER POWER

French Government Prepares Plan for Development of Immense Electrical Power.

Paris.—Plans now in course of preparation by the French government contemplate the development of a yearly average of 4,000,000 horsepower by 1934 through the utilization of the rivers of the country for the manufacture of electricity.

The creation of energy for the electrification of the railways and the big industries of France has received tremendous impetus since the armistice. Reports just completed show that within the last three years 450,000,000 francs have been invested in 40 power plants throughout France by French investors.

The recent visit of President Millerand to the valley of the Rhone re-awakened interest in the famous Rhone water-power project, plans for which have been completed and now are before the senate for ratification. The chamber of deputies approved the scheme in October, 1919.

The Rhone project, as it is known in Europe, is one of the most comprehensive water-power developments ever conceived and involves the expenditure of 3,000,000,000 francs. No fewer than 20 lesser projects have been launched in France, but the Rhone is further advanced than the others.

It has been estimated that the Rhone project, together with the other big projects, would effect an annual saving of 5,000,000 tons of coal, thus diverting this to other purposes and materially reducing the importation of coal by France.

FIRE ENDANGERS RELICS

Many of the most valued historical possessions in the country, relating mostly to the revolutionary period, were threatened with destruction in a fire which recently did considerable damage to the Old State House in Boston. Several priceless paintings and relics were irreparably damaged by fire and water, but the bulk of the historic exhibits were not damaged. The picture shows the broken windows in the cupola of the building.

LONDON IS HIT BY NERVES

War Strain Has Wrecked the Health of Thousands of People, Say the Doctors.

London.—The trials of war and worries of peace have played havoc with the nerves of thousands of persons who never knew they possessed any until 1914, say physicians.

Men who went through the war now talk about their nerves as their great-grandfathers used to talk about their gout, and women who have struggled for the last few years to make a treasury note go as far as a sovereign need to, now talk about their nerves instead of about their servants.

They have given up servants and suffer from nerves instead.

Both agoraphobia and claustrophobia, widely prevalent in England, are forms of nerves—not so common as the snappy temper form of nerves, but more common than they used to be.

Agoraphobia is the fear of open spaces and claustrophobia the fear of confined places.

MOVING SIDEWALK FOR PARIS

City Government Considering Plans to Relieve Congestion on Principal Boulevards.

Paris.—A moving sidewalk to relieve congestion is being considered by the city of Paris.

The chances for adoption may not be great, but the idea is being seriously discussed, for Parisians have pleasant memories of the aerial sidewalk that was a feature of the 1900 World's exhibition here.

The proposal is to build such a rolling sidewalk under the principal boulevards, from the Madeleine to the Palais de la République. A pedestrian would avoid dangerous, delaying crossings and not be impeded by cross and counter currents of traffic.

Yield Valuable Oil.

An oil obtained from stumps of red pine trees has been found to be valuable for recovering silver from pulverized ore by the flotation process.

The Weight of a Signature.

As a part of the equipment of a mint, scales are made so fine that they will show the difference in weight between two absolutely identical pieces of paper, one of which contains a signature and the other does not.

Luckily, the weight a man carries in this world does not depend on the weight of his signature, or such balances would have a boom.

Alchemy.

In the little town of Beulah, New Mexico, where it is a rare occurrence to see a white woman, two men, Stone and Wood, were standing on the sidewalk, when a well-dressed young lady came tripping down the street. Wood turned to Stone, and Stone turned to Wood, and as she passed they both turned to rubber.—Science and Invention.

Poetic Precision.

From a Literary Article—"The true poet will avoid such rhymes as 'spot' and 'yacht,' which, though perfect to the ear, are cacophonous to the ear." And also, we suppose, such combinations as 'dough' and 'cough,' which, though perfect to the eye, are unsightly to the ear.—Boston Transcript.

Woof!

A Kansas observer discovers that homes are broken up because lazy wives feed their husbands on canned food. But what of the homes in which the products of the cannery preserve happiness by making it unnecessary for husbands to eat what their wives have cooked?..

Cream Lore.
To dream of sunrise, good news. To see it set, disagreeable news. The sun obscured by clouds or a eclipse is a good omen to those who are in trouble. To dream you are sunburned you will hear good news. To see the rays of the sun around your head, glory and infinite honor. To see a sunbeam penetrating to your bed, fevers to dread. Its rays to enter the chamber and illuminate it, gain, profit, honor, prosperity. To a married man this dream assures birth of a son, who will shine by his virtues. To enter a house illuminated by sun-shine, acquisition of wealth. Sun up on the house, danger of fire.

Why Soap Cleans.

Our bearers discovered that ashes, mixed with water, give a smooth, slippery feeling and also that the mixture has cleaning power. The reason is that the ash is rich in soda or potash, both of which are good for washing, but to use them alone is hurtful to fabrics; so we combine them with fats and make a soap, but it is the alkalies (soda and potash) that cut into the dirt and grease and make it easy for the water to rinse them away.

Thrifty Dame.

I once belonged to a club of ladies who served supper one night a month and each member was to furnish something. It was the custom for each one to take home the remainder of what they contributed (if there ever was any left). The woman I have in mind always brought butter which she had frozen in perfectly round balls. It was therefore next to impossible to take any butter, for it was too hard to cut and simply rolled all over the table, so she always returned with all her butter.—Exchange.

DON'T DESPAIR

If you are troubled with pains or aches; feel tired; have headache, indigestion, insomnia; painful passage of urine, you will find relief in

GOLD MEDAL NATIONAL REMEDY CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles and National Remedy of Holland since 1890. Three sizes, all druggists. Guaranteed. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and except no imitation.

50 good cigarettes for 10¢ from one sack of

GENUINE BULL DURHAM TOBACCO

La American Blend

Further Directions Needed.

The grammar school principal went from room to room explaining what to do in case of fire. The pupils listened with respectful attention until he came to his final instruction. "Above all things," he said, "if your clothing catches fire, remain cool."—The Christian Register (Boston).

Kerguelen Most Isolated Island.

The claim to being the most completely isolated island on the map is being urged in favor of the island of Kerguelen, in the southern Indian ocean, it being more than 3,000 miles from any other body of land of any size.

Where Duelists Are Barred.

A curious old form of oath, which bars those who have fought duels from holding office in the county or state, is still administered in Texas. The man elected has to swear he has never had any part in a duel.

Witty Smile.

The last speaker of a long program at a recent banquet said: "My speech will be like modern style in woman's dress—long enough to cover the subject and short enough to be interesting."

The National Sport.

Golf, we read, has not been taken up seriously by the people in Switzerland. The fact is they are too busy chasing cuckoos into cuckoo clocks.—Punch, London.

TEXAS RANGERS REAL FIGHTERS

Most Picturesque Body of Fighting Men the World Has Ever Known.

FOUGHT TWO WARS AT ONCE

Organization Dates Back to Time When the Lone Star State Was a Separate Republic—Self-Reliant, Resourceful and Brave.

Dallas.—Texas is the only state which has the distinction, not to say privilege, of working out its own institutions before becoming a member of the Union, writes W. P. Urub of the history department of the University of Texas in the Dallas News. This fact has given Texans a singular feeling of independence and has enshrined the state's institutions with a peculiar interest for those within and many without her borders. Her flag, her presidents, her foreign ambassadors, her army and navy, all have come in for a share of the song and story, the history and tradition of the Lone Star republic.

Of all her institutions, however, Texas has none which has attracted more attention at home and abroad than that organization of fighting men known as Texas Rangers.

Just what is the Texas Ranger? The question can be answered best by finding out what he has been, discovering his origin, tracing his development and examining his duties. The exact date of the origin of the Rangers is lost in the obscurity of early Texas history. Stephen F. Austin mentioned them in his letters of 1823, nearly a century ago; Bancroft ascribed their beginning to 1838, but in this he was clearly wrong, for the Rangers had not only come into existence but had acquired a legal status before that time.

Rangers Date Back to 1835.

When Texas revolted, in 1835, a general council met, and as a part of its work, authorized the first Ranger force. This organization was to consist of three companies of 25 men each, one to range east of the Trinity, one between the Trinity and Brazos and the third between the Brazos and the Colorado. The men were to serve solely as protection against the Indians, the remuneration being $1.25 a day.

Thus was the Texas Ranger force created in the midst of revolution, and from that day to this it has existed almost constantly in some form, though under varying titles.

The first settlers from the United States were introduced into Texas by Stephen F. Austin during the latter part of 1821, now just one century ago. Why did the Mexican government permit an alien race to come in? There are several reasons well known to the historian, and it is said that one of them was the desire to place some strong arm between the timorous Mexicans, like those of San Antonio, and the wild Indians. The Comanche's horse might become too hard to hold. Quien sabe? However this may be, an examination of the land grants made to Americans will show that their holdings tend to form a tier lying roughly between the timber belt and the prairie region. In short, the Americans from the United States were to serve as a buffer between the wild tribes and the interior settlements, and on them was to devolve the task of conquest at which both Spain and Mexico had failed.

Did Valiant Service.

In 1845 Texas joined the Union. The Mexican war followed immediately, during which the Rangers performed such valiant service as scouts and guerrilla fighters with the armies of Taylor and Scott that they were heralded as heroes throughout the nation.

In 1874 the Rangers were reorganized, six companies of 75 men each. But an important change was made in their status and duties. They were to protect the frontier and fight Indians as before, but, in addition, they were given the power of peace officers. On the northern border they fought Lone Wolf, Little Bull and other Comanche warriors; on the southwest they guarded the Texas side of the Rio Grande against Cortina and his band of cattle thieves; in the interior they pursued and killed Sam Bass, broke up the Sutton-Taylor feud and drove the road agents under cover.

When not more actively engaged, they guarded prisoners, protected courts and dispersed lynching parties. The Rangers were busy men in those days! In their double capacity of soldiers and peace officers they presented a novel experiment in government, and one which did not escape criticism. In fact, all the criticism that has ever been brought against the Texas Rangers has been brought against them in their capacity as peace officers. Be that as it may, during the ten years following this reorganization the Rangers pushed the Indians to the very limits of Texas, and at the same time rendered the interior a safe and decent place to live in. The success of their work was due largely to the high personal courage and indomitable spirit of the officers and men.

Devising a Fighting Force.

What sort of fighting force would Texas devise to meet this unhappy situation? Had the state been populous and wealthy, as she is today, the answer would have been simple. In those days her population was less than that of Dallas, and her promise to pay was worth about 10 cents on the dollar. Hard money was a negligible quantity. These things made a standing army impossible. Whatever fighting force was provided must be small and inexpensive in order to be maintained at all. It must rise in time of need and disperse when the danger had passed. Such are the circumstances of our early history out of which evolved this peculiar fighting force.

These early Rangers were semi-military in character, varied in formation and organization, ununiformed and undrilled, and irregular in operations. They were, in a sense, indigenes to Texas, having sprung from the soil made fertile by the blood of their kinsmen, and they soon became the frontier fighting force par excellence of the world. They were the forerunners of such organizations as the Northwest Mounted Police of Canada, the Cape of South Africa and the Pennsylvania State, though unlike any of them. They were the Anglo-American solution of the problem of the frontier. The true character of the Rangers becomes clear only in the light of that knowledge which comes from an acquaintance with the nature and disposition of their foes, the Mexicans on the one hand and the Indians on the other.

From long experience with the Mexicans the Texans had come to distrust every word and deed of the race. They doubted their honor, feared their mercy and despised their valor—lessons dearly learned at the Alamo, Goliad and San Jacinto. From the Indians, whose position on the West had already been indicated, they also took hard lessons. The Comanche warrior was a terrible foe, courageous, cunning and cruel, an adept in all the practices and subterfuges of partisan warfare, and in order to meet him the Ranger had to adopt his tactics. For example, the Comanches always came suddenly, mounted on the fleet prairie mustangs, which they managed with consummate skill, and which bore them away with the speed of the wind.

Faced Torture and Death.
Again, the Comanches never permitted themselves to be made captive and to become their prisoner meant torture and death. Here were the ready-made rules by which the Rangers had to fight. They were of necessity superb horsemen, using their legs mostly for mounting and sticking. They were sure marksmen, showing great preference for the revolving six-shooter. They were versed in woodcraft and possessed an uncanny sense of direction, and they knew the lore of the forest as well as that of the plain. Col. John S. Ford, himself a Ranger, soldier and newspaper man, summed up their qualities in these words:

"The Texas Ranger can ride like a Mexican, trail like an Indian, shoot like a Tennesseean and fight like a very devil." Above all, these frontiersmen were the embodiment of individualism. It was their outstanding trait, their chief characteristic. They were self-reliant and resourceful, frequently extricating themselves from difficulties, not by fighting but by quick thinking. Only one thing in warfare they had forgotten in their long struggle with a dual foe, and that was to surrender. They gave quarter—sometimes—but never asked and never expected it.

Their leaders were natural leaders, men who possessed in a high degree the qualities they admired in others and found essential to themselves. A few of these men were John C. Hays, Ben McCulloch, John S. Ford and the two Rosses. The ranks were filled with those courageous ones who loved action and adventure better than ease and gain.

Mexico Unable to Close the Door.

Once the door of Texas was open the Americans pushed in with that mighty surge which carried the Anglo-American civilization from the Atlantic to the Pacific during the first half of the last century. Mexico, becoming alarmed, undertook to close the door, but it was too late. The Texans—for such the immigrants had become—not only stood off the Indians, but turned on the Mexicans and wrested from them Texan independence in 1836, just 15 years after they had entered the state.

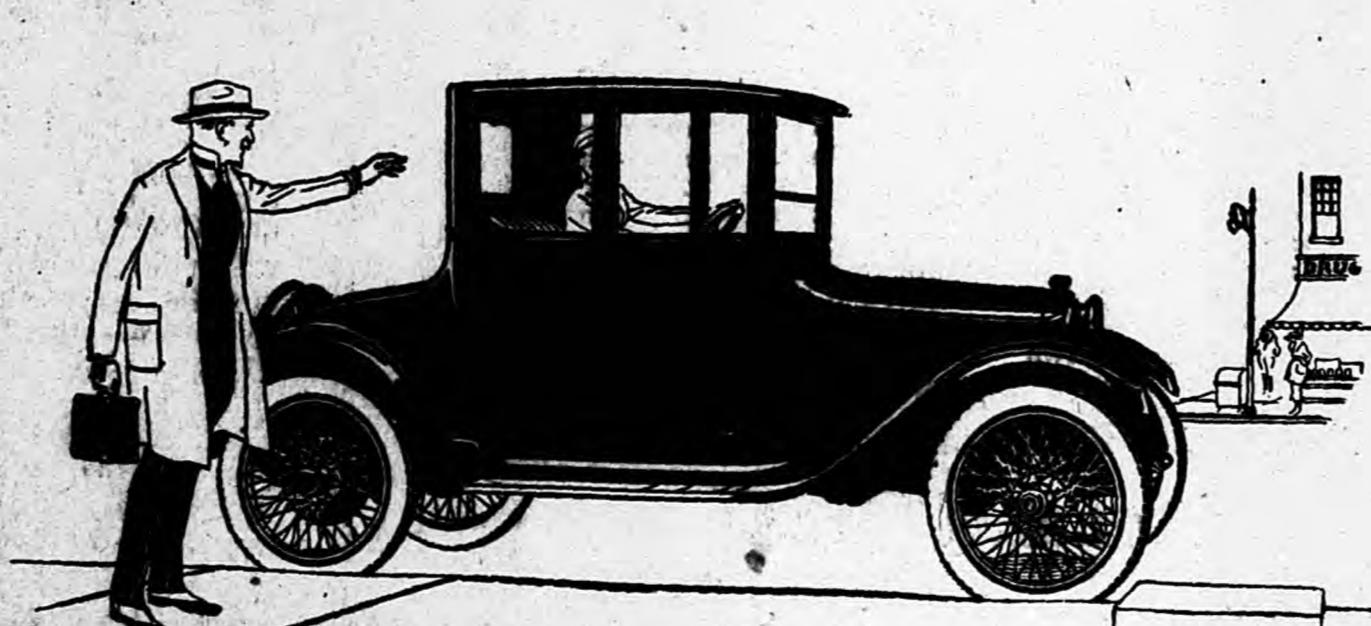

This done, however, they found themselves in a most precarious situation. They were caught, as it were, between the jaws of a great yise. One frontier—the Indian—extended along the edge of the great prairie from the Rio Grande to the Red river, a distance of 500 miles; the other—the Mexican—stretched from some point on the Rio Grande to the mouth of that stream, an approximate distance of 300 miles. The actual southern boundary of the settlements at the time of the republic really corresponded with the Nueces.

It should also be observed that for every mile that the Indian frontier was pushed back, the Mexican line was lengthened by just so much until the two attained a combined length of more than 1,000 miles! Surely no state was ever more desperately situated than the young republic. Sometimes she was at peace with one enemy and sometimes with the other; but again she fought them both. War was the rule, the commonplace of daily life, and death was the price of defeat, for the enemies of Texas knew no mercy.

Devising a Fighting Force.
What sort of fighting force would Texas devise to meet this unhappy situation? Had the state been populous and wealthy, as she is today, the answer would have been simple. In

DODGE BROTHERS COUPE

L. W. GUNBY CO. SALISBURY MARYLAND

MARYLANDER AND HERALD
TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 24, 1921

Notice of Marriage and Deaths will be published free—but obituaries must be paid for at the rate of 50 cents per line.

BURNING POINTERS
Ten (10) cents a line for the first insertion and (5) cents thereafter

FOR SALE—Corn and Hay. FRANK M. CLINE, near Princess Anne.

FOR SALE—Hay, Fodder and Corn. W. E. WADDY, Princess Anne, Md.

FOR SALE—Good Pair of Mules. Get one price or feeds. WESTOVER MILLS.

FOR SALE—Seed Oats, Red Clover Seed, Timothy Seed, etc. W. P. TODD.

TRUCK FOR HIRE—Call at office of Auto Sales Co., Princess Anne, for service.

FOR SALE—Black Wilson Soybeans, $3.00 per bushel. BENSON BROS., Princess Anne, Route 4.

We will have fresh killed veal every Friday and Saturday. CARRON & HANCOCK, Princess Anne.

FOR SALE—Binder Twine, Soybeans, Cowspeas, etc. W. P. TODD.

FOR SALE—Big Stem Jersey Potato Sprouts, $2 per thousand. BRITTINGHAM BROS., Westover, Rt. 2.

FOR SALE—Tankage, Beef Scrap, Grit and all kinds of Chicken Feed, Roofing, etc. W. P. TODD.

FOR SALE—200 bushels of corn. Apply at "Bountiful Ridge Farm," formerly "Willie Woolford Farm." G. W. KIMMIE.

FOR SERVICE—Registered Guernsey Bull, Rich Milk stock; also Registered Berkshire Boar. Fee $1.00 each. H. H. HOLDEN.

BRING YOUR SHOES to be repaired to E. D. Layfield. He will send them up to the Arcade Shoe Shop, Salisbury, three days a week.

NOTICE—All clocks and watches now in Anderson's jewelry store must be removed within 30 days or they will be sold to pay charges.

FOR SALE—Early Wilson Soy Beans. Write for sample and price. Truck for hire; prices reasonable. W. T. HOLAND, JR., Eden, Md., Route 2.

FOR SALE—A $5,000 note secured by mortgage on high grade Somerset county farm property can be bought to yield better than 8%. Address "Investment," care Marylander and Herald.

Join the Maryland Tire & Accessories Exchange and buy all your tires and accessories at wholesale price. MARYLAND TIRE & ACCESSORIES EXCHANGE, Facility Building, Baltimore, Md.

WANTED—LOW PRICES FARM LAND—I am looking for a farm costing between $2,500 and $4,500. Do not object to going some distance from town. Address CONFIDENTIAL, Box 226, Princess Anne.

WANTED—Live energetic man to represent old established life insurance company. Must own car and live within 10 miles of Westover. Salary and commission. Address J. N. NEWSHAW, Supt., 15 South St., Baltimore, Md.

This is to inform the public that I have appointed Mr. W. A. Brown as salesman for the Ford Products, to handle their products anywhere in the U. S. A. under Authorized Dealer W. P. FITZGERALD, Princess Anne, Md.

GET BUSY, KEEP BUSY.—Is your job unsafe? Is it permanent? You want a life-long business? You can get into such a business, selling more than 137 Watkins products direct to farmers if you own auto or team; you can get one; if you are under 50 and can give bond with personal sureties. We back you with big selling help; 32 years in business; 20,000,000 users of our products. Write for information where you can get territory. J. R. WATKINS CO., Dept. 112, Winona, Minnesota.

Mr. Joseph J. Goodman returned home Friday morning from a trip to New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

The Shoreland Club will be entertained by Mrs. T. J. Smith at her home on Main street Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Young spent the week end in Snow Hill, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson C. Young.

Miss Nellie Jones, of New York City, is spending three weeks in Princess Anne with her mother, Mrs. Ellen Jones.

Mrs. James B. Hendrie, of Chester, Pa., is spending some time with her father, Mr. Absalom Spiva, on south Somerset avenue.

Straw hats blossomed out in this town last week like roses in June. But the wearers were not at ease, by any means, although the "official" straw hat season has arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. James U. Dennis and little daughter, after spending the week-end at the home of Mrs. Henry Page, returned to Baltimore last Tuesday afternoon.

The regular monthly meeting of the Civic Club will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the president, Mrs. George W. Maslin. As this is the last meeting until the fall, a full attendance is desired.

Poppies, the chosen flower of the American Legion, will be sold in all parts of the country, to be worn on Memorial Day, May 30th. They are artificial, made by women mostly of the devastated regions in France and Belgium.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Howard Gray, of Jersey City, N. J., are guests at the home of Mr. George W. Brown. Mr. Gray was a former pastor of Antioch M. E. Church and he and Mrs. Gray have many friends in this town who are pleased to see them.

Messrs. Omar J. Crosswell, cashier of the Peoples Bank, Mrs. Crosswell, and Samuel H. Sudler, assistant cashier of the Bank of Somerset, Mrs. Samuel H. Sudler and Mrs. Clark, attended the Maryland Bankers' Association convention at Atlantic City, N. J., last week. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tull and State's Attorney L. Creton Beauchamp also attended the convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewin E. Layfield motored down from Wilmington, Del., last Saturday and spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Layfield.

The Radcliffe Chautauqua will be at Upper Fairmount May 28th, 29th and 30th. This chautauqua is not, as is commonly supposed, a money making concern, but is a national institution, with a purpose and a policy for community and nation building. It is the duty of citizens in that neighborhood to get behind the chautauqua and make it a success in every sense of the word.

Prices Decline 43 1-2 Per Cent.

Wholesale prices for April showed a decline of 5 per cent. from March and 42 per cent. from April, 1920, in figures made public last Tuesday by the Department of Labor, a decline of 43 per cent. shown from the high peak prices of last May.

Farm products showed the largest decrease in April, with a drop of .8 per cent. Food articles decreased 6 per cent., clothing a little over 3 per cent., fuel and lighting materials 32 per cent., and building materials 24 per cent. Metals showed a decline of only about three-fourths per cent., chemicals and drugs dropped 14 per cent. and miscellaneous commodities, including cottonseed meal and oil, lubricating oil, jute, rubber, newsprint and wrapping paper, soap, tobacco and wood pulp, showed a decline of 72 per cent.

Hilda Heath Hurt in Auto Crash

Six persons were hurt, none seriously, on Sunday afternoon, the 15th instant, when a car owned and driven by Capt. R. Wirt Robertson, of Salisbury, collided with one driven by Walter Parker, on the River road near that city.

In the car with Captain Robertson were four children, three of whom were slightly injured, while the fourth, Hilda Heath, daughter of Mr. O. C. Heath, formerly of Princess Anne, but now of Salisbury, was badly cut about the face and was taken to the Peninsula General Hospital. Parker received a deep gash in his arm and Captain Robertson was considerably bruised up. Both cars were badly damaged.

A Book of Great Interest

The Maryland Manual for 1921 has been published and a complimentary copy has reached the desk of the Marylander and Herald. The present edition comprises a complete revision of former Manuals and also contains many new features and information not previously listed.

Among the new features is an article on the history, organization and educational opportunities offered by the University of Maryland, which, under the Act of 1920, was made up of the consolidation of the Maryland Agricultural College and the University of Maryland. The Manual also contains an article on the membership, purpose and work being done by the Maryland War Records Commission; the official record of the Maryland men in the World War, the number in each branch of the service, the number in the National Guard and selective service units, where trained, time of going overseas, service in France, return to the United States, where demobilized, casualties, a list of those who received congressional medals, distinguished service crosses and distinguished service medals, and a list of battle flags of Maryland now at the State House, including the colors carried by Maryland forces in the World War. Population of Maryland by counties, districts, incorporated towns and cities is also given, as are the personnel and duties of new officers, boards and commissions authorized by the General Assembly of 1920.

DR. H. C. ROBERTSON
DENTIST

NITROUS OXIDE GAS WITH OXYGEN ADMINISTERED

Office—Prince William Street,
opposite Court House

Princess Anne, Maryland

Successor to
Dr. E. W. SMITH

OFFICES 228 WEST MAIN STREET
SALISBURY MARYLAND

X-Rays Administered. Teeth Straightened

Telephone 744

5-17

MAJOR AND COUNCIL OF CRISFIELD

6-10

A. S. COOK.
State Superintendent

Wicomico Athletic Meet

More than 200 pupils of Wicomico county's public schools competed in Salisbury last Thursday in the seventh annual track and field meet held under the auspices of the Public Athletic League. The number of entrants for this year's event was the largest in the history of athletics in the county schools. Approximately 300 girls also contested in the dodge ball, end ball and volleyball games. The day's program started at 10 a.m. with an old-fashioned spelling bee held in the main exhibition hall at the Fair Grounds, and at 10:30 the dodge ball and similar games were run off.

The track and field events started at 1:30 p.m., and occupied the whole afternoon's time.

6,750 Pheasant Eggs Distributed

The State Game Department has distributed up to May 14th 8750 Chinese ring-necked pheasant eggs to persons who made application for same during the early fall of 1920, out of an order placed with brokers for 8270, the balance of which will be delivered this month. When eggs are shipped by the brokers to persons designated by that department, a pamphlet entitled "Pheasant Culture," issued by this department is forwarded them, which contains instructions as to the hatching and rearing of the young birds, and if persons receiving the eggs will follow instructions contained therein we are sure, within a few years, the Chinese ring-necked pheasant will be permanently established in the cover of our State. After this species of game has been established the sportsmen will fully realize they are a very excellent game bird.

Farm products showed the largest decrease in April, with a drop of .8 per cent. Food articles decreased 6 per cent., clothing a little over 3 per cent., fuel and lighting materials 32 per cent., and building materials 24 per cent. Metals showed a decline of only about three-fourths per cent., chemicals and drugs dropped 14 per cent. and miscellaneous commodities, including cottonseed meal and oil, lubricating oil, jute, rubber, newsprint and wrapping paper, soap, tobacco and wood pulp, showed a decline of 72 per cent.

Hilda Heath Hurt in Auto Crash

Six persons were hurt, none seriously, on Sunday afternoon, the 15th instant, when a car owned and driven by Capt. R. Wirt Robertson, of Salisbury, collided with one driven by Walter Parker, on the River road near that city.

In the car with Captain Robertson were four children, three of whom were slightly injured, while the fourth, Hilda Heath, daughter of Mr. O. C. Heath, formerly of Princess Anne, but now of Salisbury, was badly cut about the face and was taken to the Peninsula General Hospital. Parker received a deep gash in his arm and Captain Robertson was considerably bruised up. Both cars were badly damaged.

A Book of Great Interest

The Maryland Manual for 1921 has been published and a complimentary copy has reached the desk of the Marylander and Herald.

The present edition comprises a complete revision of former Manuals and also contains many new features and information not previously listed.

Among the new features is an article on the history, organization and educational opportunities offered by the University of Maryland, which, under the Act of 1920, was made up of the consolidation of the Maryland Agricultural College and the University of Maryland.

The Manual also contains an article on the membership, purpose and work being done by the Maryland War Records Commission; the official record of the Maryland men in the World War, the number in each branch of the service, the number in the National Guard and selective service units, where trained, time of going overseas, service in France, return to the United States, where demobilized, casualties, a list of those who received congressional medals, distinguished service crosses and distinguished service medals, and a list of battle flags of Maryland now at the State House, including the colors carried by Maryland forces in the World War. Population of Maryland by counties, districts, incorporated towns and cities is also given, as are the personnel and duties of new officers, boards and commissions authorized by the General Assembly of 1920.

FRANK BRANFORD
Contractor and Builder
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Estimates Furnished

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION

The annual examination for Teachers' Certificates will be held in the High School building in Princess Anne on Thursday and Friday

June 2 and 3, 1921
Beginning at 8:45 A. M. Each Day

All applicants for first certificates should take this examination. Examinations will also be given for second certificates, with a view to raise the grade of their certificates from second to first and from third to second grade. Opportunity will be afforded for members of the State Teachers' Reading Circle Course, through examination based on the books listed for the present year.

A. S. COOK.
State Superintendent

NOTICE

Of Review of Real Property
for Assessment by Mayor
and Council of Crisfield.

By virtue of an order passed on the 2nd day of May, 1921, by the State Tax Commission of Maryland, Public Notice is hereby given to every individual owner of real property assessable and taxable within the corporate limits of the town of Crisfield, in Somerset county, that it is the intention of the Mayor and Council of Crisfield to review for assessment and adjustment the tax bills for the year 1921, for town purposes. Due notice of any change proposed to be made by the Mayor and Council in any present existing assessment will be given to the owner of record, and the same will be given on a day for an opportunity to be heard, if desired, after which the Mayor and Council will take action according to their best judgment and information in the premises.

5-17

MAJOR AND COUNCIL OF CRISFIELD

6-10

A. S. COOK.
State Superintendent

Order of Publication

Etta M. Mallett vs. William L. Mallett.

No. 3468 Chancery. In the Circuit Court for Somerset County.

The object of this suit is to procure a divorce a vinculo matrimonii of the plaintiff from the defendant.

The full bill alleges that the plaintiff and defendant were married on the second day of February, nineteen hundred and fifteen, and that they lived together until the month of July, nineteen hundred and twenty-one, when the plaintiff, in the conduct of the marriage, became dissatisfied with the defendant, who was then, and still is, a habitual drunkard and a scoundrel, and that she subsequently left him, and the plaintiff, in consequence of the above abandonment, has been uninterested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff and defendant beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, that she has, during the past three years, been separated from him, and that she has not been interested in him for three years, and is, and has been, a deliberate and final, and the separation of the plaintiff

The Young Man in the Little Red Room

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

© 1931, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Molly Blair came home from the office that night and found her aunt lying on the couch in the basement dining room groaning with rheumatism.

"I'm sorry, dear," said Mrs. Hayes, feebly, "but you will have to get supper tonight—and there's the poor blind boy up in the little red room. I don't believe he's had a bit to eat today."

"Oh, dear," sighed Molly; "I'm so sorry, auntie—there, you must not worry a bit now. Close your eyes and take forty winks—then you shall have bread and butter, too, and a cup of my own tea." The girl put away her outdoor garments and hid her pretty dress under a great apron that was vastly becoming. She went into the kitchen, raked the fire, put the kettle on to boil and pushed the pot of soup over the coals. Then she climbed over the stairs of the gloomy old house like a swallow, lighting the gas in bathrooms, halls and landings so that the rooms might find their way in. Most of the roomers took their meals at the boarding house next door, but since young Harvey had come home one night half blinded by a chemical experiment in the factory where he was employed Mrs. Hayes had served his meals to him in his darkened room and she never breathed to a soul that the young fellow was in arrears for room and food. There was something mysterious about Ronald Harvey and the good woman held her counsel and gave him motherly care until this day when stricken by her old enemy, rheumatism.

When Molly had taken a bowl of steaming soup and tea and toast up to the darkened red room on the third floor and had placed the tray on the table near the door and backed silently out, she brought her own supper to her aunt's couch and they ate supper together.

"The doctor says—" hesitated Mrs. Hayes between sips of tea, "that I'll teach her the value of method and she applied this knowledge to her work in the house and never had the rooms been so well cared for. Three times a day she carried meals up to the young man in the red room, until he asked if he might not be piloted down to the lower floor.

"I want to eat with real folks once more," he said in his pleasant whimsical way.

"You will save me miles of running up and down," laughed Molly, who wished he would remove his bandage so that she could see if his eyes were as good as his firm mouth and chin. She liked his voice and his smile seemed dimly in the darkened room, and when he came into the upper hall and she saw the brown of his skin and the muscular frame she felt a queer little thrill. He rested a hand on her shoulder and she thrilled once more. He towered above her now, for she was tiny, and he laughed teasingly at her flight when he stumbled.

Sometimes Molly read to him from dry chemical books, or articles in some scientific magazine, and once when she fell asleep over a lengthy description of a new process he leaned over and groped for her hand, but his fingers only touched her soft brown hair.

"Describe her, Mrs. Hayes," he whispered to the other invalid, who could now sit in a chair and knit.

Mrs. Hayes responded with twinkling eyes. "She's little, like a kitten, her hair is soft and brown and her eyes are blue and she has a real pink and white skin, too."

Molly's perfect lips quivered and then little crinkles came about her eyes.

"And she smiles in her sleep when people talk about her!" she interrupted wickedly.

"Oh, Molly!" chided her aunt.

"Ah, Molly Hayes!" muttered Ronald Harvey, turning quite white.

Mrs. Hayes hobbled away, for the atmosphere was highly charged with unsaid things. Her swift backward glance was a "Bless-you-my-child."

"What is the matter?" asked Molly bravely.

Ronald smiled. "Love," he said tersely.

"Oh!" Molly shivered, and it was a pity he could not see her face.

"I'm in love—with you—and some day—I'm going to marry you, if you don't mind. I'll be all right in another week, and there'll be plenty of money when I get back to the works again. You don't say a word, Molly, is there anybody else?"

"No—no," she said softly.

He was holding her hands tightly. "We'll have a little home somewhere. Auntie and you and I—you won't mind!"

Molly's head drooped toward his. "I don't mind," she breathed gently.

Mrs. Hayes peered at them. "Romance begins at home," she nodded approvingly as she tiptoed away.

AGE OF MAMMALS IS ENDING

Destruction Has Progressed Rapidly Since Introduction of Guns and Steel Traps.

The beginning of the age of man, some half-million years ago, roughly estimated as the close of the age of mammals, marks in reality but the beginning of the close of the age of mammals. The extinction of the most superb mammals that the earth has ever produced, during the early stages of human evolution, progressed from natural causes due directly or indirectly to the Glacial epoch. With the introduction of firearms the destruction has proceeded with increasing rapidity, and today it is going on by the use of guns and steel traps, at a more rapid rate than ever.

By the middle of this century man will be alone amid the ruins of the mammalian world he has destroyed, the period of the age of mammals will have entirely closed, and the age of man will have reached a numerical climax, from which some statisticians believe it will probably recede, because we are approaching the point of the overpopulation of the earth in three of the five great continents—Henry Fairfield Osborn in Natural History (Journal of the American Museum of N. H.)

Plausibility.
Colonel George Harvey said at a dinner in New York, apropos of high retail prices:

"A guest in a Florida hotel complained to the manager:

"Your restaurant is conducted in a very rotten way. At lunch today I found a hair in the ice cream, a hair in the honey, and a hair in the apple sauce."

"Well, you see," the manager explained, "the hair in the ice cream came from the shaving of the ice. The hair in the honey came from the comb. But I can't for the life of me understand about the hair in the apple sauce, for I bought those apples myself, and they were all Baldwin."

The Finishing Touch.
Jean, colored cook at a certain country club, makes hash that has no equal. The fame of the dish is great, but the secret of its excellence eluded everyone until one day a member of the club complimented Jean on her skill.

"How do you do it?" he asked. "I never get hash like yours anywhere else."

Jean's black face glowed with pleasure at the compliment. "Beef is nothing," she replied. "Potatoes is nothing, peppah's nothin' onions is nothing; but when ab' th'wes myself into de hash—that's what makes it what it is!"

"You're Companion."

POLISH WOMEN FOUGHT WELL

Famous "Brigade of Death" Gave Good Account of Itself on Fields of Battle.

The occasion of the demobilization of the women's brigade in the Polish army, which consisted of 8,000 fighters, has led to the consideration of its actual services during the World War. The commander of this "death" organization expressed some doubts about her sex proving of much value on the firing line, but upon what her conclusion was founded is not indicated. The records of the brigade show that 50 woman fighters deserted to get married. It may be on this score that the commander feels that their efficiency is dubious.

Waiving this one drawback, however, the discipline and fearlessness of these women who had prepared themselves for active fighting are rather significant.

In temerity and intrepidity they probably could not be outclassed or perhaps equaled by the women of any other country. The actual casualties of the brigade were not more than 100, but even this number indicates that its members faced considerable danger and the possibility of death. To be able to meet an emergency, to be equipped and drilled for combat, and to be prepared to die on the battlefield may not be what should be expected of women, nor ways in which they can best serve, but the brigade has shown its mettle.

Knickerbocker Press.

WORLD NOT YET FILLED UP

There Are Many Places Where the Lover of Solitude Can Find What He Is Looking For.

Crowded as the world seems to be getting, Robinson Crusoe could find a haven today, and he would not have to resort to the polar regions, either. Numerous islands still dot the seas where a visitor would find no living soul, and there are others where the inhabitants are living in almost primitive simplicity, says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Nor is it necessary for you to choose a plot of land belonging to any other than the United States. There is Baker's Island, 8,725 miles out from San Francisco, as well as many other such isolated dots in the Pacific, where there will be no chance of getting even a faithful Friday to share your lot. Vessels used to haul guano from the island, but today the deposits are practically worked out. If you feel that you must have your wife somewhere in the offing you can send her on to Howland Island, 25 miles to the westward, an equally deserted spot, and row over to see her when you get bored with you free-dom.

Progress on Isle of Man.

On the quaint and picturesque Isle of Man, made famous by Hall Caine's fiction, an ancient pump of the chain-bucket variety, built into a masonry submount on the face of a rock cliff, lifts its endless load of water some eighty feet from the pool below, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. For many years a big steam engine of obsolete form, slow and extravagant of fuel, attended to the duty of turning the chain shaft. But now the old boiler and cylinder are gone, and in their place a modern wind motor has been installed, its slim, efficient steel form rising from the cliff top in striking yet not inharmonious contrast with the primitive ruggedness that marks the earlier work of man and nature. The whirling 26-foot wheel of the new motive power now is drawing up 14,300 gallons of water an hour, as an average figure, and it is significant of the value of modern methods that the saving of fuel, no longer needed for a hungry boiler, soon paid the cost of the mill.

By the middle of this century man will be alone amid the ruins of the mammalian world he has destroyed, the period of the age of mammals will have entirely closed, and the age of man will have reached a numerical climax, from which some statisticians believe it will probably recede, because we are approaching the point of the overpopulation of the earth in three of the five great continents—Henry Fairfield Osborn in Natural History (Journal of the American Museum of N. H.)

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court of Somerset County letters testifying to the estate of

WILLIAM J. PHILLIPS,

late of Somerset county, deceased. All persons having claim against him, are hereby warned to exhibit the same with vouchers thereto before the subscriber on or before the

Twenty-third day of September, 1921,

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefits of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

Given under my hand this 15th day of March 1921.

FLORENCE A. PHILLIPS,
Executor of William J. Phillips, deceased
True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK,
Register of Wills

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters of administration of the estate of

JAMES R. DODSON,

late of Somerset county, deceased. All persons having claim against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same with vouchers thereto or to the subscriber on or before the Second Day of August, 1921.

IDA DODSON,
Administrator of James R. Dodson, deceased
True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK,
Register of Wills

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters of administration of the estate of

JAMES R. DODSON,

late of Somerset county, deceased. All persons having claim against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same with vouchers thereto or to the subscriber on or before the Second Day of August, 1921.

IDA DODSON,
Administrator of James R. Dodson, deceased
True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK,
Register of Wills

Projected Aerial Newspaper.

The last word in journalism is the Aerial Mail, a daily newspaper, which is edited, printed and published from an airplane in flight. The Daily Mail, which is sponsoring it, says it will contain the latest British and continental news, political, financial and general, received both at the moment the airplane "takes off" and while it is flying, the news being sent by wireless. A special printing plant has been installed and newspapers will be distributed by means of parachutes dropping the editions into the towns the airplane flies over.

Chief Suffragette.

A friend who had known Thomas Riley Marshall for a great many years saw him after the cares of office had been removed from his shoulders, just as he was about to board a Washington street car. He stopped and asked him:

"Tell me, Mr. Marshall, what can be done to make the office of vice president a great office?"

"I'll tell you in one minute, and I won't even have to miss this car," said Mr. Marshall. "There isn't anything you can do. The vice president will always be chambermaid to the king."

Something Just as Good.

"Have you 'Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea'?"

"No, ma'am," said the fidgety clerk, "but I own forty acres under water that was sold to me as good farming land."

Too Industrious.

"Who is the mysterious stranger?"

"Some kind of investigator."

"Working for the government?"

"I doubt it. He keeps pretty busy."

A Tonic For Women

"I was hardly able to drag, I was so weakened," writes Mrs. W. F. Ray, of Easley, S. C. "The doctor treated me for about two months, still I didn't get any better. I had a large family and felt I surely must do something to enable me to take care of my little ones. I had heard of

Chief Suffragette.

A friend who had known Thomas Riley Marshall for a great many years saw him after the cares of office had been removed from his shoulders, just as he was about to board a Washington street car. He stopped and asked him:

"Tell me, Mr. Marshall, what can be done to make the office of vice president a great office?"

"I'll tell you in one minute, and I won't even have to miss this car," said Mr. Marshall. "There isn't anything you can do. The vice president will always be chambermaid to the king."

Something Just as Good.

"Have you 'Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea'?"

"No, ma'am," said the fidgety clerk, "but I own forty acres under water that was sold to me as good farming land."

Too Industrious.

"Who is the mysterious stranger?"

"Some kind of investigator."

"Working for the government?"

"I doubt it. He keeps pretty busy."

AN ALL-AROUND LEGION MAN

Michigan's New Appointed Head of National Service Division Is Equipped With Information.

A sailor, a traffic cop, a first sergeant, and a patient in army hospitals for almost two years, Albert E. Haan of Michigan, newly appointed head of the American Legion's national service division, is well equipped to minister to the needs of ex-servicemen.

Mr. Haan gained the rank of captain on the battlefield and was severely wounded in action at Juvigny, France, while serving with the Thirty-second division. In Walter Reed hospital, Washington, for more than a year, he found out what the government intended to do for the wounded by studying plans and legislation concerning the subject. Discharged from the hospital last fall, he was made a special representative of the bureau of war risk insurance.

In army and navy camps he was instrumental, through the American Legion, in causing the reinstatement or conversion of $5,000,000 in war risk insurance. In Michigan last November, as field representative of the war risk bureau, he directed a cleanup of hospital, insurance and compensation claims that placed the state ahead of all others in welfare accomplishments. During the campaign he investigated the condition of ex-service men in the state prison at Jackson and the insane asylum in Kalamazoo. He worked with the Legion's welfare department to cause the parole of 150 men last year to the Legion. He obtained $300,000 in funds raised during the war and used it in settling claims, relief of the disabled and their dependents and in untangling insurance difficulties and remedying hospital conditions.

Mr. Haan is twenty-eight years old. Coming out of high school, he entered the United States navy as an apprentice seaman. He served four years on the U. S. S. Idaho and was discharged as a quartermaster, second class. He then became a motor and traffic policeman in Grand Rapids, Mich. In 1916, he went to the Mexican border as a first sergeant in the Michigan infantry. Before he entered the lines in France, he was assistant provost marshal at St. Nazaire, as a first lieutenant. Before the battle in which he was wounded, he had served in three offensives.

BOOKS FOR DISABLED HEROES

Congress Appropriates $100,000 for Reading Material for Soldiers Confined to Hospitals.

Disabled heroes of the World war are not to be without good books to read while they are fighting to regain health in the hospitals of this country. Congress has appropriated in the civil sundry bill the sum of $100,000 for the purchase of books, with the result that each of the 23,000 disabled veterans will soon have three or four new books to read.

The American Library Association, which still has charge of the libraries in the larger hospitals, has been embarrassed by a shortage of funds, and up to this time posts of the American Legion have taken over the duty of supplying books to the disabled in hundreds of the smaller hospitals. The appropriation by congress does not mean that either the services of the American Library Association or the American Legion in this respect are to be dispensed with, but that they are to be greatly augmented and reinforced.

CREED OF THE DISABLED MAN

Afflicted Fellows of Washington, D. C., Poet, Look on Brighter Side of Things.

Disabled veterans of the World war, nearly all of them overseas veterans and members of

The AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service)

POST GETS ARTISTIC RANGE

Chicago Organization Acquires Use of Famous World's Fair Field Museum Building.

The American Legion will soon have the use of a building known to millions in America as the embodiment of beauty in art and architecture, the old Fine Arts building of the 1893 World's Fair. The crack of army rifles will be heard in the famous structure, for it has been turned over to the Hyde Park post, No. 34, of the Legion in Chicago, as an indoor rifle range.

The large edifice, known as the old Field museum after the World's fair, was opened with the completion of the new Field museum. Various organizations of Chicago immediately besieged the park commissioners for permission to use the building, but the Legion post's request alone was granted.

Legionnaires now have a rifle range de luxe, one that will tend to erase the veteran's memories of sweltering days, shivering days and cold, moist days spent in trying to locate the bullseye on the army's outdoor firing points. The building is so large that a 200-yard range was established without difficulty, along with the shorter distances.

GETS MONEY FOR W. A. A. L.

Hungry Rooster Proves Gold Mine for Woman's Organization in Kansas.

How many grains of corn will a terribly hungry rooster eat after he has gobbled his meal for five hours? The Plymouth Rock in the photograph tucked away 283 grains in record time and made $22 for the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion in Cimarron, Kan.

The bird was placed in a show window on the main street in the Kansas town. For five hours he scratched and crowed for provender, which was not forthcoming. Then 1,000 grains of tempting yellow corn were spread before him. Guesses as to how many grains of corn it would take to assuage his hunger were sold at ten cents each. In three hours Mr. Rock had guzzled 283 kernels of Kansas corn and retired for the night. Then he was sold twice, given back to the women, and was finally auctioned off. In all, he netted $22, a fraction more than $1.15 for every grain of corn he ate.

Mrs. Leah L. Klein, Cimarron, Kan., and the Hungry Rooster.

Mrs. Leah L. Klein, national executive committeewoman from the Kansas department of the Auxiliary, handled the contest. One of the most active workers for the Auxiliary in her state, Mrs. Klein was educated in Wellesley college and in the New England Conservatory of Music. Her husband, who was a captain in the medical corps, was gassed in the Argonne-Meuse offensive.

THE AMERICAN LEGION GIRL

Miss Margaret Sousa, Daughter of Famous Bandmaster, Acquires New Title.

Miss Margaret Sousa, daughter of John Philip Sousa, famous band director, has acquired a new title. She is known as the "American Legion Girl" because of her starring in a Legion motion picture, "Lest We Forget," a film depicting the struggles of disabled veterans to obtain justice and unemployment conditions among those who escaped injury in the World war.

Reporting to Davy Jones. Sam, on board the transport, had just been issued his first pair of bobby-malls.

"One thing, maw," he ruminated. "If I falls overboard, sh certainly will go down at 'emuh." — American Legion Weekly.

I'd walk a mile for a Camel

The pleasure is worth it. There's no substitute for Camel quality and that mild, fragrant Camel blend.

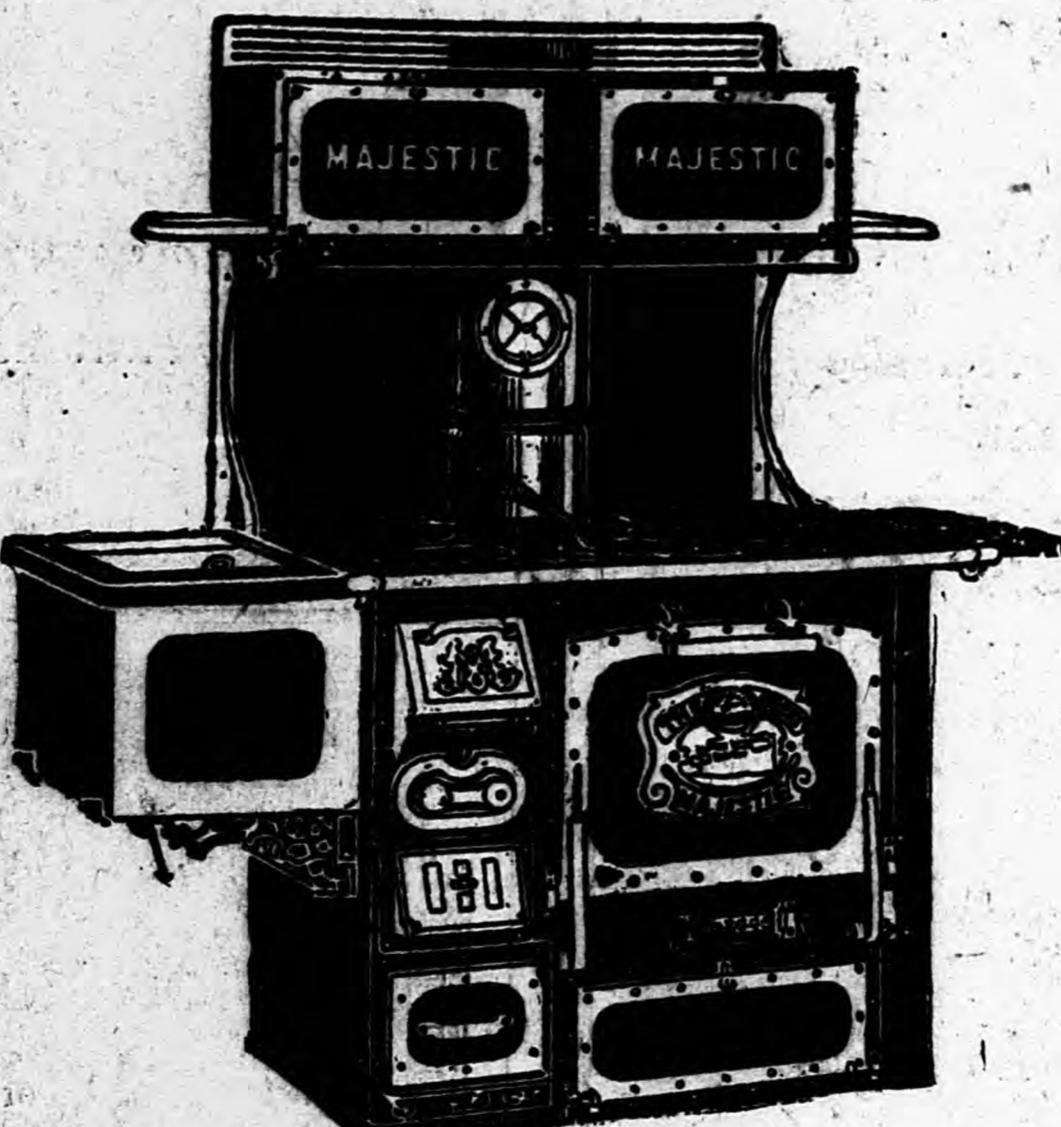

The fellow who smokes Camels, wants Camels. That's because Camels have a smoothness, a fragrance and a mildness you can't get in another cigarette.

Don't let anyone tell you that any other cigarette at any price is so good as Camels.

Let your own taste be the judge. Try Camels for yourself. A few smooth, refreshing puffs and you'd walk a mile for a Camel, too.

Camel

25 percent Saved
BY BUYING YOUR STOVES NOW

These stoves were bought last January, since that time they have advanced 25 per cent. and we are giving our customers the advantage of this increase in price.

10 Per Cent Discount
ON ALL ROBES, BLANKETS

CARRIAGES, WAGONS,
HARDWARE
HARNESS

Ask your neighbor where to get a square deal and he will say TAYLOR'S HARDWARE STORE.

J. T. TAYLOR, Jr.
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

R. J. REYNOLDS Tobacco Co.
Winston-Salem, N. C.

Don't Neglect Your Stock

Try LeGears

STOCK FOOD and HOG TONIC

With our Guarantee

Eastman Kodaks and Films

Conkin Fountain Pens

Guth's Chocolates

Soda Water, Cigars,
Drugs, Toilet Articles

T. J. Smith & Co.

Everybody's Druggists

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

LET US DEVELOP YOUR FILMS

We have just received a beautiful variety of

DAHLIA BULBS

PRICES CHEAP

FRANK BRANFORD
Contractor and Builder

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Estimates Furnished

NOTICE TO CREDITORS. — This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters of administration on the estate of

MATTHIAS MELSON

late of Somerset County, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers therefor

to the subscriber or before the

Twenty-third Day of September, 1921,

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefits of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

Given under my hand this 15th day of March, 1921.

MATTHIAS MELSON, JR.

Administrator of Matthias Melson, deceased.

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK,

Register of Wills

4-19

NOTICE TO CREDITORS. — This is to give notice

that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters of administration on the estate of

THOMAS H. MARSTER,

late of Somerset County, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers therefor

to the subscriber or before the

Twentieth Day of October, 1921,

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefits of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

Given under my hand this 13th day of April, 1921.

JOHN W. ENNIS,

Administrator of Thomas H. Marster, deceased.

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK,

Register of Wills

4-19

Buy Your School and Office Supplies at
The Big Stationery Store
MEYER & THALHEIMER

10-12 N. Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.

DEPARTMENTS:

PRINTING and ENGRAVING,
OFFICE FURNITURE,
FILING DEVICES—Wood and Steel
SCHOOL FURNITURE and SUPPLIES
COMMERCIAL and SOCIAL STATIONERY,
BLANK BOOKS

The Cohn & Bock Co.

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Flour Meal

FEEDS

Scratch and Chick Feeds

HAY

HAMPERS

Shingles

Lath

LUMBER

The Cohn & Bock Co.

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

LEGION ROLLERS UNDER THEM

Ex-Service Men Promptly Halt Exploitation of Pro-German Troublemakers.

In response to the warning issued by their national commander, F. W. Galbraith, Jr., American Legion members in many parts of the country have been active in fighting against efforts of pro-Germans and other hyphenated persons to drive a wedge between America and her allies in the World war.

Twenty-five thousand patriotic citizens of New York attended the "All American Meeting for God and Country," which was held in Madison Square Garden under the auspices of the Legion, as a protest against a previous pro-German meeting, said to be for the purpose of creating sentiment against the alleged "Horrors on the Rhine."

When word was received in Philadelphia that Dr. Edmund von Mach, notorious German propagandist, was planning to hold a meeting in that city, Legion members and other patriotic citizens opposed the proposition and succeeded in blocking the scheme.

Similar action was taken by the Legion and various societies in Indianapolis. Among the organizations co-operating with the Legion was the national executive committee of the American Gymnastic union, composed of a large membership of citizens of German extraction, which insisted upon unhyphenated citizenship and scored Von Mach and George Sylvester Vlereck. On the same day the Indianapolis board of public works announced it would not permit the use of its large convention hall for the proposed Von Mach meeting.

Learning that Louisville was on the proposed itinerary of Doctor Von Mach, the Kentucky department of the Legion instructed posts to use "every lawful means practicable to stop the threatened invasion of Boche propagandists." The Kentucky Legion's bulletin also warned against the activities of Vlereck.

Legion posts have also opposed the hyphenates in Chicago, Cleveland, Omaha, Cincinnati and Milwaukee.

THREE VOICES AT ONE TIME

Minneapolis Legion Man Can Sing Tenor, Bass and Baritone Parts Simultaneously.

Wonder voices have been heralded the world over, at least since the inception of the press agent. But it was left for Joe Kaufman, a former army sergeant and an American Legion member in Minneapolis, Minn., to sing the first male trio simultaneously, carrying the parts alone with the same harmony and control of three singers.

Kaufman is a government music student. The secret of Kaufman's unusual accomplishment has baffled voice experts as well as himself. Several years ago he discovered his ability to produce overtones which gave the sound of more than one part. He entered the MacPhail school at Minneapolis as a government student and, as his voice strengthened and became clearer, he developed the curious trio.

The only case remotely similar to that of Kaufman, according to his instructor in the government school, is that of a woman singer in whose voice could be distinguished one separate overtone, over which she had practically no control. The former soldier in some way has separated and controlled tenor, bass and baritone parts simultaneously.

LEGION MAN BUSY WITH B'S

Buckeye Boy Bends, Bows and Borows Bad and Beautiful Bonus Boosting Babble.

"Apt alliteration's artful aid" was not neglected when an Akron (O.) member of the American Legion spun the following bonus yarn:

"Burt began to bitterly berate the 'bull' about the bonus bill, bewailing the benighted bigotry of the belligerent birds, badly blocking the bonus by bombastic blusterings and brabble, and branding the busted bucks who bore the brunt of the battle as badgers and booty-burglars of billions in bonds, believed by big, bald business brow-beaters to belong buried in banks.

"Before our bewildered Burt boarded a boat to become a battle-scarred vet beyond the borders of our bright, beautiful, big country, he became a benedict; and, back from the battles, busted and barren of bullion, our benighted boy hero became beautifully bored because big bulbous bunco men breathlessly built a bunch of back-hand lies to bribe him by a bunk promise of a bonus.

"But Burt isn't badly brow-beaten by the bedraggled babble of a bonus. Blythe, buoyant and bubbling, bidding his time, Burt, the benedict and battle buddy, and Beulah, his bride, believe the bully and bumptious idea that a benevolent bunch of birds will be brought to believe that big battles beat the Boche and busted bucks need bread; and before beancup belated years pass a bonus bill to bring the bacon back to our buddy, Burt.

SOMERSET COUNTY HAPPENINGS

News Items Gathered By Our Correspondents During The Week

St. Peter's

May 21—Miss Edna Shelton returned to Baltimore Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Barnette and Miss May Cannon visited friends in Salisbury this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Laird, of Baltimore, are visitors of Mr. and Mrs. William Hopkins.

Mrs. W. T. Shores, of Dames Quarter, visited her mother, Mrs. J. McDaniel, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hampden Dashiel, of Princess Anne, are week-end guests of Mrs. Charlotte Noble.

Mr. Wright McDorman visited at the home of his cousin, Mr. James Noble, a few days this week.

Mrs. Emily Hopkins, who spent the winter months in Baltimore, is now at her home near Monie.

Mr. Lawrence Shores returned to Baltimore last Monday after visiting his parents for a week.

Mr. James Lawson, who has a government position in Baltimore, is spending a few days with his family.

Mr. W. T. Bozman left for Baltimore last night to visit his daughter, Mrs. Milton Horner, who is seriously ill at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beauchamp, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Harry T. Phoebe, returned to Baltimore Friday.

Mr. Weldon McDaniel, after spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McDaniel, returned to Baltimore Friday.

Mrs. G. L. Hardesty, Mr. William Hardesty, Supt. Ernest Hardesty, Mrs. William Hall and children, all of Seaford, Del., visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Horner last Sunday.

Venton

May 21—Mr. Earl Kelley left for Defiance, Ohio, last Monday.

Mr. Elwood Fleming, of Chester, Pa., spent the week end with friends at Venton.

Mr. Leslie Shockley and daughter, of Exmore, Va., motored to Venton Sunday last.

Miss Matilda Nelson has returned home after a two-weeks' visit in Dames Quarter.

Miss Juanita Reese has returned to school at Pocomoke City after an illness of three days.

Mrs. C. J. Fisch, of Birmingham, Ala., is visiting her sister, Mrs. August Kohlheim. Mrs. Fisch expects to make her home in the future in Baltimore.

Upper Fairmount

May 21—Miss Ruth Davy is on the sick list.

Miss Leila Ballard, of Princess Anne, is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Harry Gilbert and son, of Newark, N. J., are guests of Mrs. Wm. T. Suder.

Mr. Yount and Miss Maude Yount, of Washington, D. C., are visitor at the home of Mr. Albert Suder.

Mrs. John Stanford, Mrs. Dr. Scott Willcock and Miss Jane Bowes, of Baltimore, motored here Wednesday and were the guests of Miss Sallie Looserman, at Tudor Hall, over Thursday.

Chief Justice Edward D. White Dead

Edward D. White, Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, died at 2 o'clock last Thursday morning at a hospital in Washington, D. C., where he submitted to an operation the Friday previous. He was seventy-six years old.

The Chief Justice had been unconscious since late Tuesday afternoon, when acute dilation of the heart occurred. Up to that time the attending physicians had hoped for a rapid recovery after the operation for bladder trouble.

At his bedside when death came were the wife of the Chief Justice and his two nieces, Miss Ann Montgomery and Miss Mary Lee Brouard and Father Creedon.

The funeral was characterized by the simplicity which distinguished the late Chief Justice. From the family residence on Rhode Island avenue an unostentatious cortège followed the body Saturday morning to Saint Matthew's Church, where solemn high requiem mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock by the Rt. Rev. Thomas S. Lee, the pastor. Every phase of government and every degree of public life were represented among those who gathered to do Chief Justice White a last honor.

Remember to look at the pink label on your paper and see if you owe us $1.50.

IN A BAD WAY

Many a Princess Anne Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information

If your back gives out; Becomes lame, weak or aching; If urinary troubles set in, Perhaps your kidneys are "in a bad way."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Local evidence proves their merit.

Mrs. C. A. Young, Beachwood street, Princess Anne, says: "I was in a bad way from a lameness in my back and a run down condition of my kidneys. My hands and ankles swelled and I had plenty of water beneath my eyes. I was subject at times with sharp pains cut me in the small of my back. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills through a friend and after using one box I was rid of the trouble. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone who is troubled with backache or kidney trouble." (Statement given July 24th, 1916.)

On January 5th, 1921, Mrs. Young said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has been lasting me. I cannot recommend Doan's too highly."

Price, 50¢ at all dealers. Don't buy a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Young uses. Miller Co., Mfgs., Butcher St., N. Y.

April Fool's Day

April Fool's day has long been known as the time to play jokes on one's neighbor. Just how long the custom has prevailed is not known. Some say that it started back in the beginning of time when Noah sent the dove out of the ark before the flood had abated. The date of this is supposed to correspond with our first day of April. And, inasmuch as the bird went out upon an ineffectual mission, the custom gradually grew of sending one's friends on bootless errands.

Smart Dog

Speaking of dogs, the writer also owned a wonderfully intelligent dog, a retriever from land and water. The special occurrence worthy of mention was the dog's effort to retrieve a half dollar thrown into a stream. After several vain attempts to recover the coin, the best the dog could do was to bring out half a dozen catfish and 15 cents in change.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Chamberlain's Tablets Are Mild And Gentle In Effect

The laxative effect of Chamberlain's Tablets is so mild and gentle that you can hardly realize that it has been produced by a medicine.

[Advertisement]

Care of Phone

Once every so often give the telephone a thorough washing in alcohol. Take off the mouthpiece and pour alcohol through the little holes into a saucer. Wash the receiver with a cloth wet with alcohol. Do not wipe the parts dry, but let the alcohol evaporate. Alcohol is one of the most effective antiseptics known.

Cancel Our Tickets, Too.

A scientist states that if we were to visit the moon we should be either scorched during the day or frozen to death at night. That settles it. We shall not visit the moon.—London Punch.

Lumbago

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dann, Brockport, N. Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."

[Advertisement]

There Probably Has Never Been a Shoe Sale Like This—

So all-including in its scope—so decisive in its reductions—occurring so early in the season; but we are turning a backward season into a real money-saving occasion for you by offering

100 Pairs Ladies' Black and Brown Oxfords

At the very SPECIAL PRICE
$3.85 THE PAIR

John W. Morris & Sons, Inc.
SHOES Princess Anne, Md. SHOES

20%

Price Reduction on Goodrich Tires

The decisive reduction of twenty per cent on the prices of Goodrich Tires and Tubes which took effect May 2nd, received the complete endorsement of tire users and dealers throughout the country. It was accepted at its full face value as a helpful, economic move in tune with the spirit of the times. The reduction applies to

Goodrich Silvertown Cords Goodrich Fabric Tires Goodrich Red and Gray Tubes

Goodrich Tires have earned their reputation by sheer quality of construction and complete dependability of service. Every improvement in making, with many exclusive betterments is in the Goodrich tires you buy today.

Your dealer will supply your needs and give you the benefit of these new reduced prices on your purchases

The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company
AKRON, OHIO

KIRSCHBAUM CLOTHES • SPRING 1921

OUR MONEY-BACK PLEDGE

Does the suit look right—and keep on looking right? Does it wear as a good suit should? Does it give you a fair money's worth? Judge a Kirschbaum suit by those standards. With just reasonable care it will fulfill them. Either that, or your money back—cheerfully!

Spring prices on Kirschbaum Clothes are $25 to $45.

John W. Norris & Sons, Inc.

PRINCESS ANNE

B. C. DRYDEN

AUCTIONEER

PRINCESS ANNE, MD., ROUT 4.

When you need my services give me a call
Prices Reasonable. Somerset people know I always give satisfaction.

A Day of Memory

Once each year in the midst of our endeavors, we pause to honor those who, in times of strife, offered the Supreme Gift.

With the passing of the years Memorial Day acquires a new and deeper significance for one by one our veterans are finding that permanent peace which comes in the evening of life.

It is to their memory and to the memory of the younger men who—also fighting for principle—gave their lives, that this day is dedicated

PEOPLES BANK of SOMERSET COUNTY

PRINCESS ANNE, MD.

HATS OFF, AMERICA

In tribute to its war heroes, the Nation sets aside the 30th of May each year for the purpose of paying homage to their memory.

The great World War added many names to our already long list of soldier and sailor dead and contributed a deeper significance to our solemn celebration of the day.

Hats off, America, the heads bowed to the heroes who have fought and died that we might enjoy the rewards of their splendid sacrifice.

This bank will be closed all day on Monday, May the 30th.

BANK OF SOMERSET
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Capital and Surplus $ 240,000.00

Resources 1,500,000.00

Strawberry Checks Printed at $1.50 per M

MARYLANDER AND HERALD

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF PRINCESS ANNE AND SOMERSET COUNTY

THE MARYLANDER. Established 1863
SOMERSET HERALD. 1882

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND, MAY 31, 1921

Vol. XXIII No. 43

GRADUATES HOLD EXERCISES.

Prominent Speakers Address The Pupils At Commencements

The commencement exercises of the Crisfield High School will be held this (Tuesday) evening at the Lyric Theatre. There will be a graduating class of thirty-two members, which is one of the largest in the history of the school.

The Hodson Old Home Prize will be divided this year among E. Benson Dennis, Jr., J. Eugene Gardner and Reginald J. Joyner, each receiving one of the keys. The prize is given each year to that member of the graduating class, or other scholar, best in history or composition, or both, and it is impossible to decide which of the above mentioned scholar is best in the required subjects.

The speaker of the evening will be Dr. Bromley Smith, head of the department of rhetoric and public speaking at Bucknell University. Miss Alma M. Somers has also been selected to deliver an address on this occasion.

The commencement exercises of the Deal's Island High School were held in St. John's Methodist Episcopal Church last Friday night. The graduates were: Trema Juanita Bond, Stanley Russell Bozman, William Benjamin Hudgins, Ruth Alice Tyler.

The program was as follows: "My Country 'Tis of Thee," by school; invocation, Rev. G. H. Thomas; Spring Song, by school; salutatory, Ruth Tyler; "Is Labor a Blessing?" William Hudgins; solo, John Horner; "Immigration," Russell Bozman; valedictory, Trema Bond; solo, Sadie Webster; "State Program for Education," Samuel M. North, supervisor of high schools; address to graduates, Hon. Joshua W. Miles; Flower Song, by school; presentation of diplomas, S. M. North; presentation of seventh grade certificates, Wm. H. Dashiel; presentation of first prizes, T. P. Bradshaw; presentation of second prizes, H. C. Webster; "Star Spangled Banner," by school.

The faculty of the school is as follows: Misses M. Elizabeth Anderson, principal; Addie W. Bradshaw, Sadie C. Webster, L. Elizabeth Brown.

Graduating exercises of Princess Anne Academy—an institution for the higher education of colored youth—were held in the Metropolitan M. E. Church last Thursday afternoon. The graduates were: Beulah Myrtle Davis, Viola Helena Coulbourne, Sallie Sabra Byrd, Quincy Washington Waters, Benjamin Franklin Waters, Helen Viola Tilghman, Gladys Catherine Milbourne, Viola Carolyn Curtis, Edith Rebecca Gates, Estella Gertrude Brewington, Mable Elvira Gale, Lydia Mae Camper, Evelyn Jones.

Preparing List Of Service Men

The Broad Creek Construction Company, who are engaged in building a mile of road running through Main street in Princess Anne, expects to have the work completed in 90 days. In connection with the building of the roadway a concrete bridge will be built over the Manokin river, which will be known as the Somerset County Memorial Bridge. This bridge will have a driveway of 24 feet with a walkway of 9 feet on each side. The drive will be separated from the walk by four columns, and the plan is to place on the columns 16 bronze tablets bearing the names of all men from Somerset county who were in any branch of service during the war. A committee, of which Judge Robert F. Duer is chairman, is engaged in preparing a list of all service men from the county.

Peninsula Bakers Organize

Bakers representing nearly every section of the Eastern Shore met in Salisbury and organized The Peninsula Bakers' Association, it being the primary object of the new association to help improve conditions surrounding the baking industry on the Shore.

G. William Phillips of the Salisbury Baking Company was elected president of the organization; Joseph Schaefer of Cape Charles, Va., vice-president; R. Clinton Phillips of Cambridge, secretary, and A. L. Hudson of Georgetown, Del., treasurer. In addition to these officers, who also are members of the executive committee, the following were elected to serve on that committee: J. M. Tawes, Crisfield; James B. Hurlock, Hurlock, and Mr. Pettyjohn, Milford.

Miss Anna Davis Dead

Miss Anna McGee Davis died suddenly last Friday night of heart failure at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George W. Jarman, on Wicomico Creek, near Princess Anne, aged 69 years.

Miss Davis was a native of Mississippi, but in recent years had made her home with her niece, Mrs. Jarman, near Princess Anne. Her remains were sent to the home of her son, Holly Springs, Mississippi, for burial.

WAR HEROES BROUGHT HOME

Bodies Of Privates Dryden And Reid Now Rest In Somerset Soil

The body of Private Orville G. Dryden, of Company I, (Salisbury) 115th Infantry, which arrived at Hoboken, N. Y., last week, reached Princess Anne on Tuesday evening and services were held at Antioch Methodist Episcopal Church, Princess Anne, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. F. Dawson. The body was in charge of a military guard. Burial was at the Dryden burial lot at Immanuel Methodist Episcopal Church near Princess Anne.

At the grave the services were in charge of Company I, of Salisbury, about thirty members of which attended the funeral of their former comrade. Private Dryden was born near Princess Anne. He trained at Anniston, Ala., and Sadie Estelle Dryden, two sisters, Enole May and Evelyn J. Dryden and two half sisters, Thelma B. and Aline Dryden.

Young Dryden enlisted in Company I in May, 1917, almost as soon as war was declared. He trained at Anniston, Ala., and was sent overseas in the early part of the summer of 1918. He was killed in action in France on August 31, 1918, while engaged in a raid on the German trenches at a point known as Petit Post I, at (Centre Resistance) Gildwillen. The undertaking was especially hazardous and volunteers had been called for the service. About 100 men of Cos. I, K, L and M volunteered to make the raid, the object of which was to capture German prisoners. The party was in command of Major Brooke Lee. The raid started about 2 a. m. The enemy located the raiding party and opened fire upon them with machine guns, Dryden among others losing his life.

The body of Theodore B. Reid, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Reid, of Venton, after its arrival in New York, was brought to Princess Anne last Friday night and taken in charge by a local undertaker. Funeral services were held in Manokin Presbyterian Church last Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p.m., conducted by the Rev. W. L. Freund. The deceased was buried with military honors, members of Stanley Cochrane Post, No. 16, American Legion, of Crisfield, acting as military escort at the burial, which was in the Manokin Presbyterian Church cemetery.

Private Reid was born on a farm west of Princess Anne September 13th, 1894. He enlisted May 16th, 1918, and was sent to Pittsburgh State College for nine weeks. He was a member of the Sixth French Motor Battery. He sailed for France on July 27th, 1918, and died October 7th, 1918, of pneumonia at Valdebon, Douglas county, France.

Private Reid was an engineer by occupation. He was 24 years old and received his early education at the Washington High School, Princess Anne. He was a member of Highland Lodge, No. 5, Order of Odd Fellows, of Baltimore, and Carrieville Council, No. 188, Junior Order United American Mechanics, of Venton, Md.

Keeping Posted About Somerset

Last week we received a letter from Mr. C. M. Murray, of Norfolk, Va., with check for the Marylander and Herald, paying his subscription to March 28th, 1923. The letter follows:

Enclosed find check for $3.00 for two years' subscription to your paper; also wish to say that I am always glad to receive this little paper, being a former resident of Mt. Vernon, Md. It always give me great pleasure to hear from my home town and to know what is going on in old Somerset. I have been down here for twelve years, but have always had this paper to cheer me up when I would get homesick.

County Fair Coming

Do not miss Maurice Tourneau's picturization of "The County Fair" when it comes to the Auditorium next Thursday night. It's the big screen version of Neil Burgess' famous play which took the country by storm some seasons back. The picturization is bigger and finer than the original story and it is a sure fire winner both for its fine rural types, its quaint humor and the fun and excitement of a county fair ending with the greatest horse that was ever staged for a screen production. For this picture the price is 25 cents, children and gallery 20 cents, war tax included.

Mr. Samuel McMaster, of Pocomoke City, was a visitor to Princess Anne last Tuesday and while here was a pleasant caller at this office. Sam has something interesting to tell us whenever he stops in and he is always welcome.

WOMEN'S NAMES ON BALLOTS

Important Ruling Given By Attorney General Armstrong

Women who aspire to membership in the General Assembly of Maryland—House or Senate—may breathe easier. Attorney General Armstrong has ruled that Boards of Election Supervisors must put their names on the primary ballots.

Mr. Armstrong rendered his decision at the request of Clarence H. Roberts, attorney to the Supervisors of Election of Prince George's county. The ruling concludes:

"In my opinion, therefore, it will be the duty of the respective Boards of Supervisors to place upon the primary ballots the names of any women who may file certificates in accordance with the provisions of Section 184 (Article 35, Code of Public General Laws) for nomination as candidates for membership in the House of Delegates or Senate of this State."

Mr. Armstrong cites the decision (October, 1909) of Judge Stockbridge at Towson, will be so swamped with students this summer and through the next school year that emergency measures had to be adopted last Wednesday at the annual meeting of the State Board of Education to provide sleeping quarters for the students.

More than 350 students are expected to attend the summer school, and nearly 400 are expected for next fall. The registration last year was only about 240, so this means almost doubling the attendance. For the summer school 265 students will be placed in the dormitory, which was designed for 180 persons, and two large halls on the second floor of the administration building will be converted into temporary dormitories.

"With regard, therefore, to applications of women seeking nominations as candidates for membership in either the House of Delegates or the Senate, neither the Supervisors of Elections (irrespective of Section 184 of Article 38) nor the courts would be at liberty, under the provision of the Constitution just quoted, to pass on their qualifications, the respective houses of the General Assembly being the sole judges of that question.

"A final decision by a board of Supervisors of Elections or by a court that women are not entitled to a place on the primary ballot as candidates for the House of Delegates or the Senate would deprive those bodies of their constitutional right to pass on the qualifications of such women for membership therein."

Reunion Of Second Division In June

Three years from the day on which the Second Division wrested the role of the offensive from the German High Command, and threw its olive drab line across the Paris-Metz highway, men from all the units who won glory in the Chateau Thierry sector and barred the road to Paris, will meet in a three days' reunion at the present home of the Second Division, Camp Travis, Texas, on the outskirts of hospitable San Antonio, on June 6th to 8th inclusive.

Major General James G. Harbord, recently appointed Assistant Chief of Staff to Pershing, has made elaborate plans for the veterans of the old Indian Head outfit.

On June 6th the assignment to billets will begin the reunion. The present Second will pass in review before the veterans and a theatrical program will complete the day. On the 7th all branches of the troops will stage a re-enactment of the fight for Blanc Mont Ridge which the Second, with Gouraud's poliis, carried in October and freed the German pressure on Rheims. Besides the artillery, aeroplanes, balloons, gas and flame throwers, machine guns and pyrotechnics, even the humble cootie is advertised to play its role. At noon a grand barbecue will be served on the shores of Salado Creek and an old-fashioned Texan Rodeo and field events will follow. A boxing carnival will end the day's festivities. The final day, the 8th, will begin with memorial services for the 5600 dead of the Second Division.

C. & P. Telephone Co. Improving Lines

Action of great interest to rural Maryland was taken at the meeting of the executive committee of the board of directors of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company on May 25th, when directions were given for improving the condition of many of the overloaded rural telephone lines throughout the State.

The project includes the stringing of more than 250 miles of wire in Cecil, Harford, Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Carroll, Howard and Calvert counties, and part of Frederick county in addition to a large area near and around Salisbury on the Eastern Shore.

After surveying the situation carefully the C. & P. Telephone Company experts decided that the relief on the rural lines to be handled in the present job should be on the basis of a maximum of ten stations of rural lines under five miles in length and twelve stations of rural lines exceeding five miles. The work of relief on lines is to proceed at once and will be completed by September 1st.

Look At The Date On Pink Label

The little pink label on your paper does more than bring this paper to you faithfully week after week, giving you the news of your friends, your county, of your State. It tells you at a glance just how many more weeks will elapse before your subscription expires. Look at the label today and see if you are in arrears and renew your subscription. By doing this you will render a great service to the Marylander and Herald and at the same time will assure yourself of the satisfaction of receiving the paper promptly and without interruption. If the label shows that your subscription is out or in arrears, mail a money order or check for $1.50, as all subscriptions must be paid in advance.

New Position For E. Clark Fontaine

The Maryland State Normal School, at Towson, will be so swamped with students this summer and through the next school year that emergency measures had to be adopted last Wednesday at the annual meeting of the State Board of Education to provide sleeping quarters for the students.

More than 350 students are expected to attend the summer school, and nearly 400 are expected for next fall. The registration last year was only about 240, so this means almost doubling the attendance. For the summer school 265 students will be placed in the dormitory, which was designed for 180 persons, and two large halls on the second floor of the administration building will be converted into temporary dormitories.

E. Clarke Fontaine, principal of the Allegany County High School, at Cumberland, was made district supervisor of high schools for the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland, at a salary of $3,600 a year. It is a new position, all the high schools in the State previously having been under supervision of Samuel M. North, who now will have charge of Central and Western Maryland. The State was divided because there are now 126 high schools in the State, 41 new ones being created this year.

Another appointment was that of Miss Bessie C. Stern as statistician in the bureau of educational measurements, at a salary of $3,000 a year, thus completing the personnel of this bureau, with the exception, possibly, of a stenographer.

Rev. E. H. Vandyke Dead

While accompanying the body of his father, who dropped dead at Westminster Saturday, the 21st instant, to the grave, the Rev. E. H. Vandyke, aged 55 years, last Tuesday afternoon dropped dead while seated on the deck of the steamer Westmoreland. Mr. Vandyke was pastor of the Methodist Church at Westminster.

His father, Ephriam R. Vandyke, dropped dead on the streets at Westminster the Saturday previous and the body was being taken to Centreville for interment that afternoon.

The son had just had dinner on the boat when he went on deck and sat down. His wife coming out on deck presently noted a peculiarity in his posture and called to him. Just as she called, he crumpled up and fell to the deck, dead.

When the Westmoreland reached Centreville the body of the father was removed to the cemetery, where funeral services and interment were held, while the body of the son was removed to the home of his brother-in-law, Charles H. Burgess. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Vandyke was a Methodist missionary to Japan for 28 years. Beside his wife he is survived by two sisters (Mrs. Thomas R. Woodford, of Kentucky, and Mrs. P. A. Lanest, of Baltimore) and one brother (H. E. Vandyke, of Philadelphia).

Certificates Of Merit Given

Eleven certificates of merit have been given by the University of Maryland to the following Somerset county club girls: Misses Catherine Beauchamp and Fannie Ford, of Fairmount; Bessie Gavit and Audrey Cox, of Westover; Ruth Willis, Bessie East, Myrtle East and Elizabeth Scott, of Quinton; Caroline Pollitt and Mary Hayman, of Loretto, and Thressa Horner, of Oriole.

These young ladies completed the prescribed course, which consisted of raising poultry and gardens and keeping record books of same; canning fruits and vegetables; doing a certain amount of sewing, and writing a history of the year's work. The club girls are now engaged in writing articles about club work for a paper which is to be published and called the Four H Quarterly—the four h's meaning head, hand, heart and health.

CYCLONE WORKS HAVOC IN STATE

Houses, Farms, Crops, And Trees Suffer Severe Damage

Hailstones as big as eggs and walnuts fell in many parts of Washington and Frederick counties Monday afternoon of last week and wrought inestimable damage to houses, farm buildings, crops and trees and caused injuries to many persons and animals and killed three cows. Automobile tops were perforated with great holes and windshields were shattered, according to reports from the surrounding country. Heavy rains and high winds accompanied the showers and added to the damage.

A cyclone struck Washington county, doing considerable damage along the Western pike, several miles west from Hagerstown. The path of the storm was only a few hundred yards wide. A green-hued, funnel-shaped cloud swept in from the southwest and uprooted large fruit and forest trees and scattered fences. Large hailstones fell.

At Keedysville, Sharpsburg and vicinity hail as large as walnuts fell, doing considerable damage to the crops. The Baltimore and Ohio station at Augusta was unroofed, as were a number of barns and outbuildings. The historic Dunkard church, on Antietam battlefield, used during the Civil War as a hospital, was destroyed. After being unroofed the stone walls crumbled and all that is left of the structure is a mass of ruins. The church at Bakersville was unroofed and badly wrecked. Around Brownsville and Yarrowsburg field and garden crops were almost totally ruined. Wheat was cut down to the ground and trees stripped of their fruit by hail and wind. Several of the country roads were completely obstructed by uprooted trees. Wire communication in many parts of the county was destroyed.

At Harper's Ferry the hailstones were as large as hen eggs. Windows were smashed and rubberoid roofs were broken by the impact, and trees were stripped of leaves and branches.

Hail and wind swept Queen Anne's county along a path from Bridgetown to Roe to Price to Church Hill, causing thousands of dollars damage. Stones weighing four to eight ounces fell in thick array, knocking several people unconscious, smashing the tops and windshields of automobiles, cutting fruit and branches from the trees and stripping the ground of smaller trees, grass, wheat, berries and garden products. Hundreds of panes of glass were broken, nearly every home in the line of the storm being damaged. Shingles were stripped from the roofs of the houses. One automobile had 26 holes in the top, each one as large as a man's fist.

A most destructive wind and hail storm struck Federalsburg, Caroline county, about 4 o'clock and played havoc. The path of the storm was about three miles wide and in some sections of the district strawberry, pea, and other crops were destroyed. The loss to the farmers will amount to thousands of dollars. Hail as large as hen eggs covered the ground.

Kent county had its share of the terrible hail storm and gale which ravaged the Eastern Shore. The storm came from the north at 4 p. m., striking Betterton and breaking 1000 window lights. It destroyed the wheat crops in its path and arriving at Still Pond, played havoc with window lights, gardens and vegetation in general. The storm struck within a mile of Chestertown covering a width of three miles from the bay to the Chester river, inflicting a loss of many thousands of dollars.

Senator France Sails For Russia

United States Senator Joseph I. France, of Maryland, sailed from New York on the steamship Aquitania last Tuesday to spend several weeks in Russia. He announced that representatives of the Soviet government will meet him in London and escort him into Russia either through Riga or Libau.

During his visit, Senator France said, he expects to interview various Bolshevik leaders, including Lenin and Trotzky, and to obtain an understanding of conditions in Soviet Russia. He plans to pass at least six weeks in Moscow, the seat of the Soviet government.

Senator France said that he hoped to bring about a series of conferences which would improve relations between the Soviet government and the American government.

The Senator declared that better relations with Russia was a matter of practical politics.

"We did not approve the regime of the late Czar," he added, "and we do not need to School Principal's Trailing Arbutus

By LAURA REID MONT. GOMERY.

(© 1911 by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Something kinda nice about him," ruminated the blonde at the telegraph office in the Sixty-third street station.

"We went to school together," said Edith stiffly. She felt that Emma had fallen into the acquaintanceship very easily and she didn't quite like it.

There were few travelers that morning and Edith did not sell very many magazines. After she had counted and arranged her stock of brightly colored wares she had nothing to do but think.

Emma was knitting a softly tinted couch cover, for she was to be married in a few months, and Edith felt that it was scarcely decorous for the pretty, rather bold blonde to chat so vivaciously with her customers. The man who had bought his morning paper at the newsstand and then nodded a pleasant good-morning at the telegraph booth was called the professor.

Edith, lost in a brown study, reviewed the years that had passed since they had gone to school in the village thirty miles up the line. She, also, had planned to teach, but for several reasons she had decided that the years of preparation were too costly, and she had remained a clerk.

Edith, on the contrary, had gone steadily ahead, and he was now principal in the grammar school in their home town, but, as there was no library there, and he was constantly studying, he found that he could not keep abreast of his subjects there, and he boarded in Chicago and went back and forth to school every day. He often stopped to talk with the little dark-eyed woman who had charge of the magazines, and sometimes made an additional purchase after buying his paper.

Edith sometimes wondered if his life was as drab as hers. Always reticent, he had grown silent as the years passed and his hair was touched with silver at the temples. This she secretly admired, and even the rubbers which afforded much amusement to the frivolous Emma failed to be funny in her loyal eyes.

Evenings Edith usually spent in her back room at the boarding house, for there were many things to be done to keep her wardrobe in its usual ex-wave of color swept across Edith's face.

Late that evening she walked home rather wearily. Two of the younger girl boarders were already through dinner and were sitting on the front steps waiting for their friends to come to take them out for the evening. The fresh young faces under the carefully waved hair and the pretty slim feet in their high-heeled pumps made Edith feel rather elderly, for she saved part of her salary each week toward a little home in the future.

"I am raising the board a dollar a week," announced her landlady, as she gave Edith her pudding. "The cost of food is soaring and so greatly that I may have to raise again before long, too," she added as the girl's eyes gazed back at her in dismay.

Edith had just removed her flowers, intending to put them in her tooth brush mug to keep fresh for the next day, when there was a tap on her door.

"A man to see you, Miss Jones. Land's sake, you never had a man call on you before, but then I suppose he's an insurance agent." Mrs. Miller's sharp eyes dwelt upon the tired face before her as she speculated. "He wouldn't give his name."

"Thank you, Mrs. Miller." Edith's tone was colorless, but once again the thrill of spring seized her.

From the house next door came a languorous love song, the rather dingy lace curtains stirred in a breeze straight from the lake laden with a spicy sweetness that even the flight across the city had not lessened. From the tiny flowers in the common china mug nodded a call of the woods—of glossy green leaves against the lingering patches of snow in cool hollows.

She rearranged her hair slowly, dallying with the pleasure of anticipation. It might be most any one waiting in that stiff, garishly furnished front parlor with its heavy odors of long-eaten meals—with the grim atmosphere of loveless lives that had tarried for a brief stay and then fitted to, perhaps, a worse environment. It probably was an insurance agent, as Mrs. Miller had unkindly surmised, but if so he could wait.

Edith smiled back at her shadowy reflection in the pale mirror. She would pretend that she was dressing for an escort—one who would bring a beribboned box of candy and who would masterfully assist her down the steps as she had seen the trim-belted young fellows do when they went laughingly down with the girls who now waited on the steps.

Tucking the flowers back in their silken nest, she turned slowly away and went sedately downstairs. No one must guess at the joyous riot of spring that had suddenly pervaded her drab evening. She was a young woman going down to her company in the front parlor and the gay smile still lingered on her face, lending a new expression to the rosy mouth as she entered the door and looked at her caller.

"Hello, Edith! Thought maybe you'd go to the movies with me tonight."

There was a tiny gasp at the incredible words flung upon the ears under the soft loops of black hair. Ed was smiling back at her under the crude light of the yellow gas whose globe had long since been broken.

"I wanted to tell you my good news," he began as they went out into the shadowy street and joined the procession of young people who lolled dreamily in the sweet dusk of the spring night. "The township high school is finished now and I'm to be the principal at an (he paused and looked down meaningfully into her face) adequate salary."

"Adequate?" murmured the girl, for his salary as principal of the grammar school had seemed almost opulent to her.

"Yes, at last, adequate," he said, with a lilt of joy breaking through the grave notes of his deep voice. "I shall have enough to keep up a really good little home, and I want to know if you will come!"

The fragrance of the first spring flowers drifted up and Edith knew at last why she had resented the calm appropriation of Emma. She had not known she cared for Ed in that way. But the gold and pink of other spring days that had begun so happily and ended in the fatigue of a hard day among the garish colors of railway literature were as nothing to the present.

She lifted her head and listened, for he had gone on talking excitedly, his reticence of the past forgotten.

"I couldn't speak sooner, for the life was too hard, but now, Edith, I thought of the new, soft, green bungalow on the street south of the high school. We are going to have a library in it, and think of the pleasure of choosing the books."

"And we'll always have a bowl of arbutus in the spring," murmured the girl, feeling glad she had divided her cluster with Emma. After all, the years were filled with joy.

The Natural End.

The "actors" whom Willie knows most about are those who do lofty feats in the circus and vaudeville. He has a proper appreciation of the danger of their calling and the means adopted for their safety. Recently he heard his father, while reading a book on theatricals, mention the name of Sir Henry Irving.

"Who is Sir Henry Irving, father?" asked the boy.

"He was a great actor," said the father.

"What show is he with?"

"He isn't with any show now. He's laid off."

"What happened? Did he miss the cut?"—Harper.

The Spring Straw Hat.
All winter long man wears a hat that is easy and comfortable, a friendly, slouchy, well-worn sort of thing that he can pull down over his ears when the wind blows or throw into the air at a football game. It's just the sort of clothing a man ought to wear, not tyrannical but companionable. And then along comes spring. In the spring, say the poets, the spirit of man breaks its bonds. A fellow feels restless and indomitable, fit for anything and free as the wind. He brooks no restraint, not he. He looks upon his good old cap or hat and decides he ought to buy another. And he does. He goes and gets himself a straw hat—a stiff, uncomfortable, unreliable sort of thing that is faithful to every passing breeze. A man can't roll it up and put it in his pocket; he can't throw it into the air; he can't pull it down over his ears; he can't do anything with it except wear it daintily and carefully, until the time comes to smash it in the autumn and go back to the old cloth hat. And that's the best proof of the madness of spring—not love, not blooming flowers, but the new straw hat that leaves a red mark on a fellow's forehead.—San Francisco Call.

Diagnostics.

A party of soldiers stopped some laborers to search their dinner pails for hidden arms.

All at once a soldier gave a cry and hurried across to the officer in charge, holding at arm's length a hard, heavy mass.

After due examination the officer pronounced it a suspicious metal which would endanger public safety.

They worked in a single spot, where they were target for every German submarine anywhere around. They showed a heroism beyond praise.

In June of 1917 the salvagers recovered four good-sized steamers in ten days that had been sunk in the English channel. They salvaged Beattie's flagship and the Britannia and the Asturias; the submarine K-18 after its crew had been submerged two and a half days; the wrecks off Ostend and Zeebrugge.

The salvaging boats had at one and the same time to act as machine shop, power house, pumping station and tug.

They worked in a single spot, where they were target for every German submarine anywhere around. They showed a heroism beyond praise.

When you need my services give me a call.

Prices Reasonable. Somerset people know I always give satisfaction.

SALVAGERS DID GOOD WORK

Recovering Disabled Ships During the World War Was Matter of Highest Heroism.

Landlubbers link salvaging ships and cargoes to easy deals in treasure trove, but the skippers of the salvaging ships would tell them that salvage is sweaty and poorly paid exertion. They do not regard themselves as adventurers of romance. They are divers of seagoing ambulances. They are marine surgeons, who operate on sick or disabled craft, says the Spokane Spokesman Review.

Salvaging before the war was a matter-of-fact trade, but during the war it became a business fraught with extraordinary dangers. The maritime belligerents had to save every damaged or sunken ship that they could, and the salvager was almost as indispensable to winning the war as was the man-o'-war.

At the Dardanelles five vessels were sunk near shore, and yet all were salvaged expeditiously, by the Liverpool tramps.

In June of 1917 the salvagers recovered four good-sized steamers in ten days that had been sunk in the English channel. They salvaged Beattie's flagship and the Britannia and the Asturias; the submarine K-18 after its crew had been submerged two and a half days; the wrecks off Ostend and Zeebrugge.

The salvaging boats had at one and the same time to act as machine shop, power house, pumping station and tug.

They worked in a single spot, where they were target for every German submarine anywhere around. They showed a heroism beyond praise.

In a new size package

Ten for 10 cents. Handy size. Dealers carry both. 10 for 10c; 20 for 20c. It's toasted.

La Americano

B. C. DRYDEN AUCTIONEER

PRINCESS ANNE, MD., ROUT 4.

When you need my services give me a call. Prices Reasonable. Somerset people know I always give satisfaction.

STRAWBERRY CHECKS at $1.50 per M. Order now

RAILWAY INQUIRY IN WASHINGTON

Excessive Labor Costs and Working Conditions Chief Causes of Trouble.

NO CONTROL OVER EXPENSE

Prices and Wages Fixed by Government Leave Little Scope for Management.

Washington, D. C.—In testifying before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce in the general investigation into the railroad situation, witnesses for the railroads contended that:

(1) The costs of operation are abnormal, owing chiefly to wage scales established by the government which exceed wages paid for similar work in other industries, and to wasteful labor costs, often for work not done, enforced upon the railroads by the so-called "National Agreements."

(2) That 97½ cents out of every dollar of operating expenses in 1920 were at prices fixed directly by the government, or by general market conditions, and over which the railroad managements had no control.

(3) That the general business depression was not due to the high freight rates but to the lack of buying both here and abroad.

One of the most striking facts brought out in the testimony presented by the first witness, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific, was the following, in explanation of the chief reason for the increase in operating expenses since 1916:

"The labor bill of the carriers in 1916 (which was before the Adamson law took effect) stood at $1,468,576,394. In 1920 it was $3,698,216,351, an increase of $2,229,830,957.

The increase by years since 1916 has been as follows:

Increase in 1917.....$270,905,748
Increase in 1918.....$74,331,209
Increase in 1919.....$229,315,081
Increase in 1920.....$85,067,919

or an aggregate increase since 1916 of.....$2,229,836,057

Exhibits were placed before the committee showing that for the railroads of the whole country, increased expenses in 1920 over 1919 were as follows:

Actual expenses for 1920,$6,163,138,341

Actual expenses for 1919,$4,667,774,131

Inc. for 1920 over 1919,$1,495,364,210

Mr. Kruttschnitt, in showing how little control the railroads had over necessary expenditures, said:

"Sixty-four cents out of every dollar of operating expenses were, in 1920, paid out to labor, and the wages of labor are fixed by the government.

"Fifteen cents out of every dollar of operating expenses was paid for materials and supplies at prices fixed by the government.

"Three and one-half cents out of every dollar was paid for other expenses incurred by the government in the first two months of 1920.

"A total, therefore, of 82½ cents out of every dollar of operating expenses for 1920 was paid out at prices directly fixed by the government.

"The remainder, up to 97½ cents, was for materials and supplies, purchased at prices fixed by general market conditions and beyond the power of the railroads to control."

To illustrate how labor costs were inflated by the "National Agreements" entered into during federal control, fixing rules and working conditions, the following examples were cited:

1. The Pere Marquette Railway was compelled to pay $9,900 a week to four employees because their titles under these agreements were changed by a decision of the Director General, while the nature of their duties and the volume of their work remained the same.

2. A car repairer on the Virginian Railway was paid $1,000 for work he never did. He was laid off with other employees because there was no work for him to do. When he was re-employed under his "seniority rights" to and overtime, he received back pay and overtime.

The Shop Crafts Agreement provided that when employees are required to check in and out on their own time they will be paid for one hour extra at the close of each week, no matter how few hours they may have worked. The first six months of 1920 cost the railroads $6,500,000, or at rate of $18,000 a year.

On the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, blackeworkers decreased 41.4 per cent and airbrake repairers 33.4 per cent in efficiency under a guarantee of a fixed minimum rate per hour.

On the Union Pacific Railroad in its wheel shop at Omaha, Nebr., the time required for the same work was increased 32 per cent and the output was down 24 per cent, and in a coach-cleaning yard at Denver, the time required was increased 38.8 per cent and the output decreased 23 per cent.

Southern Pacific, whose sole duty was to keep watch on stationary engines and to start engine in case anything went wrong, were reclassified by Director General as "firemen workers," one man on the Salt Lake division being given back pay of $2,331, another $2,331, another $2,009, another $2,003, and six others amounts varying from $1,111 to $1,111.

Under the present classification rules of the shop crafts, in order to change a nozzle tip in the front end of a locomotive it is necessary to call a boiler maker and his helper to open the door because that is boiler maker's work; to call a fitter and his helper to remove the blown pipe, because that is pipeman's work; and call a machinist and his helper to replace the tip, because that is machinist's work; and for the same force to be employed for putting the new tip.

Questioned by Senator Polk Dexter, Mr. Kruttschnitt stated that these instances might be increased indefinitely and were characteristic on railroads of the country, as a result of the "Agreements" left over from federal control.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

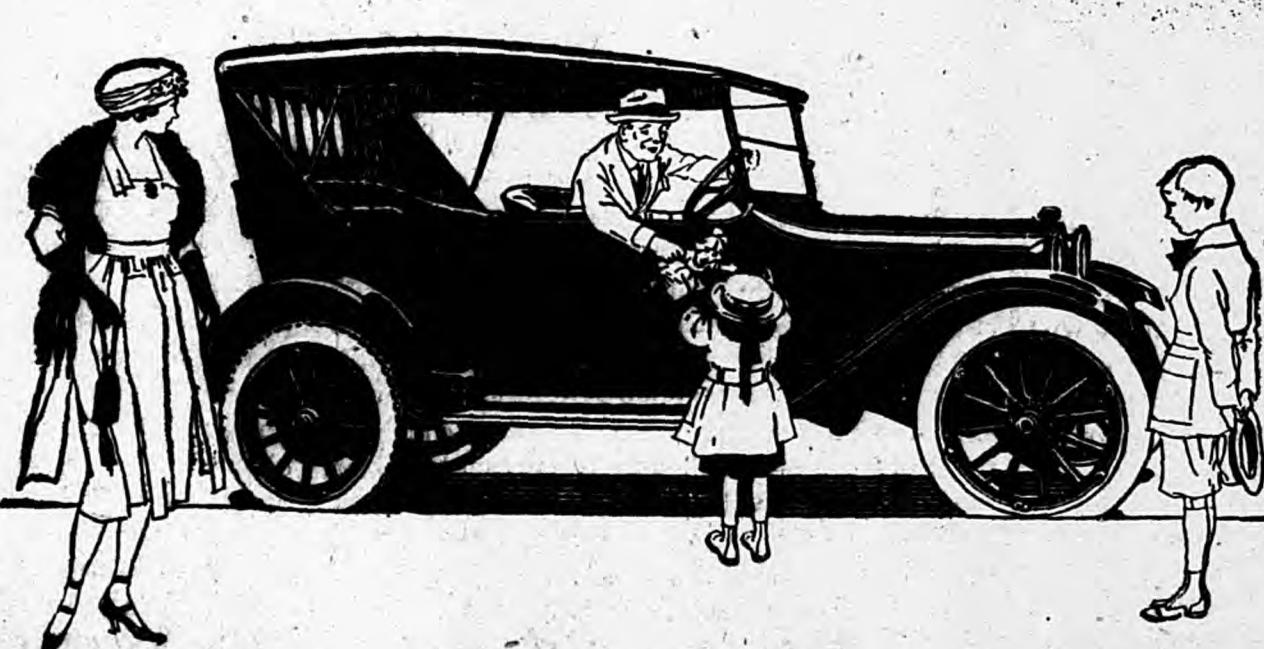

People rarely ask questions now about the mechanical construction of the car.

Performance, materials, and construction are taken for granted.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low.

The tire mileage is unusually high.

L. W. GUNBY CO.
SALISBURY MARYLAND

SEARCH FOR MUSICAL THIEF

Peculiar and Clever Crook Is Just Now Keeping the Attention of London Police.

Detectives are searching for an accomplished thief who plays the piano and sings for his victim before going away with the valuables.

Although known to the police, he has been "operating" in St. John's Wood, London, for more than a month and his two latest coups have been carried out within a few minutes' walk of each other.

He returned a fortnight ago to a house in St. George's terrace, Primrose Hill, where he had taken apartments, while the other boarders were at dinner. Inquiries resulted in the discovery that the lodger had gone with jewelry including four gold rings set with diamonds, worth $2,000.

A woman in King Henry's road, London, is the latest victim. On Monday the man rang up and in a short time arrived in a taxicab. He stated that he would fetch his luggage later.

Insisting in paying in advance he made out a check for a week's board and made himself agreeable by his musical accomplishments, but a prolonged absence in the bathroom excited suspicion, and it was found that a trunk had been forced and $1,000 worth of jewelry stolen. A finely-cased gold watch, valued at $500, was among the articles stolen, and the check was dishonored.—From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.

QUIT TELLING FUNNY STORIES

Why Congressman Kelly Sacrificed Humor on the Altar of Serious Statesmanship.

Patrick Kelly, a representative in congress from Michigan, says that he used to tell many stories in going about in his political campaign. The audience always liked them and went away pleased. Telling them looked like good politics.

Years later Kelly would meet a man and he would say:

"I have met you before. I remember very well a certain story you told."

Then he would repeat the anecdote. Kelly would ask him what else he remembered that had been said, and he would be unable to remember a thing. The congressman began to wonder if the telling of stories prevented more serious matters from finding lodgement in the hearer's mind.

He became fearful. He was not sure, but he decided to lay off the funny story. So was the possibility of a multitude of good laughs sacrificed at the altar of serious statesmanship.—New York Sun.

One Way to Attract Customers.
In a small New England town I met a druggist who makes a specialty of selling postage stamps. He says that to retail 2-cent stamps for 2 cents each is the most profitable line in his store. These sales would be extremely unprofitable, if he handled stamps grudgingly or grudgingly, saying by his manner: "What you mean by both asking me to sell you postage stamps?"

But he has signs in his window telling that he has plenty of stamps, and makes a special effort to be more pleasant and accommodating and gracious about a stamp sale than at any other time. He has attracted thousands of permanent customers in that way. "A new customer is worth many dollars a year," he observes, "whether the thing that first brought him in is postage stamps, cigars or whatnot. So having enticed him in, why should I do anything to make him sorry he came?"—Fred Kelly in The Nation's Business.

No Use For Ailing Wife.
The New York Medical Journal says:

"Dr. Lichtwardt, a medical missionary, tells that many of the Persian and women are obliged to steal away, during their husband's absence, to see a doctor."

"Honorable Sir," says the introductory note, "please see me at once that I may return home before my husband, else I will beat me severely."

"We should not think neurotics abound, for the husband often says to the doctor:

"Well, let her die, for even if she gets well I'll divorce her and get a new wife. I don't want a weak one in my house."

Morris Chair Fire-Escape.
A morris chair fire-escape, which is described in Popular Mechanics Magazine, comprises a comfortable piece of furniture and ready means of safety in case of fire. By extending two brackets, attached to the back of the chair out of a window and stringing a rope wound on a spool under the chair seat, over a pulley mounted on a rod between the two bracket ends, a quick descent to the ground is accomplished. A brake, controlled by the fire victim, regulates the speed of the descent.

Fondness for Animals.
"Hiram," said Mrs. Cornelia, "the new hired man says he's fond of horses. Only he didn't care about 'em unless they was on the race track."

High, But We Must Have 'em.
"Kiddie—I don't suppose you'd take my weight in gold for your baby, would you?"

"Kiddie—no, I should hardly like to part with you."

SURVIVED STORM AT SAMOA

Major General Lejeune One of the American Sailors Who Came Safely Through Hurricane.

Secretary Edwin Denby of the navy is a fan of the history of that branch of the service and never misses an opportunity to expatiate on its glories.

He was speaking at a Navy league dinner not long ago and vividly described the events as they occurred when, in 1889, a hurricane caught three of our ships, three German ships and one flying the British flag in the harbor at Apia, Samoa, and sank them all except the Britisher, which managed to get to sea.

He told how the American ships were battered to pieces on the rocks, how the Vandalia sank and her crew rode out the storm in the rigging which still protruded from the water.

Three seats down the table from Mr. Denby sat Major General John A. Lejeune, commandant of marines. The secretary of the navy did not know at the time that Gen. Lejeune, then a naval cadet, was one of the lads who hung on to the rigging of the Vandalia through the duration of the storm.

Good Friday.
Has been observed since the earliest days of Christianity in memory of the crucifixion of Christ, which event is said to have occurred Friday, April 15, 29 A. D., or April 3, 33, A. D. The expression "Good (probably God's) Friday" is said to be peculiar to the Church of England. It is observed the Friday before Easter.

Remove Blood Stains.
To remove blood stains from cloth saturate with kerosene and, after it dries, wash in warm water. A paste made of common laundry starch and water will remove blood stains without a trace. If not entirely removed by the first application repeat once or twice.

Calgary's Name.
The city of Calgary, Alberta, received its name in 1876 from Col. Macleod, then in command of the royal northwest mounted police at that point. He named it after his old home, Calgary, a small estate on the Isle of Mull, Scotland.

Derivation of Word "Gipsey."
The name "Gipsey" is probably derived from "Gothian," by which term the gipsies were known in the English statutes.

GOLD MEDAL HAMILTON
GRANULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles and National Remedy of Holland since 1895. Three sizes, all druggists. Guaranteed. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and except no imitation.

DON'T DESPAIR

If you are troubled with pains or aches; feel tired; have headache, indigestion, insomnia; painful passage of urine, you will find relief in

GOLD MEDAL HAMILTON
GRANULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles and National Remedy of Holland since 1895. Three sizes, all druggists. Guaranteed. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and except no imitation.

Dream Lore.

To see a white swan is a good omen and denotes riches and a pleasant journey. A black one foretells loss, quarrels, and is ominous to the sick.

Feebleman Never Lacks Victims.

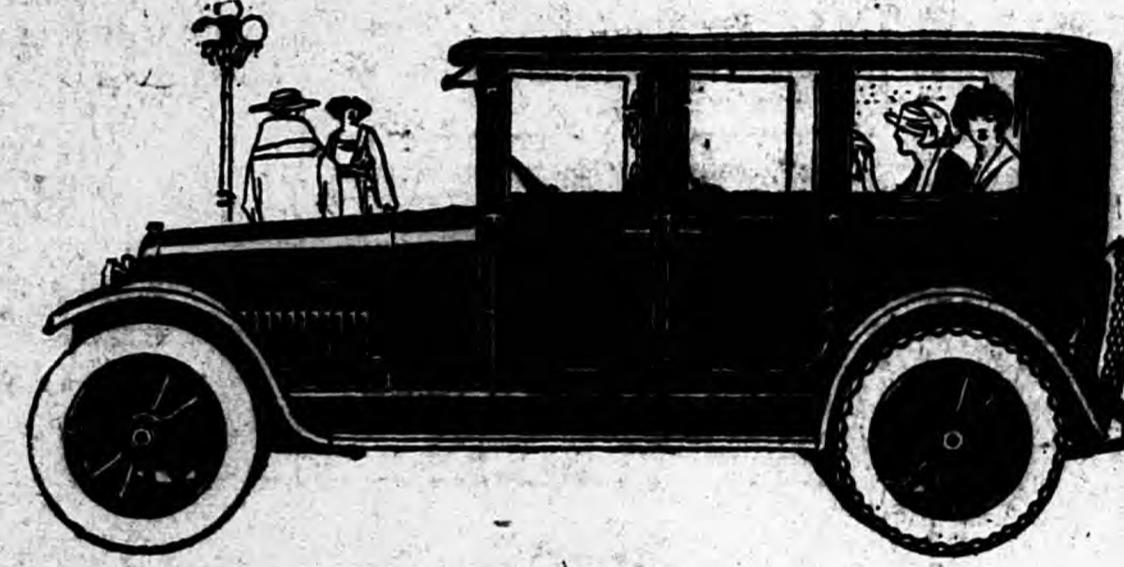

The old-fashioned man who sought the gas leak with a candle now has a rival in the girl who stands near an open fire while cleaning her gloves with gasoline.

A Skeptic.

One reason why we don't accept the theory of gravitation is because when the bottom drops out we hit the ceiling.

Movie Paradox.

A paradox of the picture theater is the fact that single folks won't take single seats, but married folks will!—Film Fun.

The Nash Six Sedan Is an Exceptional Value as Shown by Comparison With Others

Values of beauty, luxury of appointment, great power and road endurance possessed by the Nash Six Sedan with Perfected Valve-in-Head Motor are obtainable in no other closed car within from $300 to $600 of the Nash price.

This great value is immediately apparent in the handsome appearance of its long, graceful, highly polished body of rich and permanent blue, its frosted silver trimmings, the thickness of its upholstery covered with beautiful brown velour, and in its every detail of fitting and coach work.

NASH SIX PRICES

5-passenger touring car	$1295	7-passenger touring car	$1875
2-passenger roadster	1695	4-passenger coupe	2650
4-passenger sport model	1850	7-passenger sedan	2895
f. o. b. Kenosha

NASH FOUR PRICES

5-passenger touring car	$1295	3-passenger coupe	$1985
2-passenger roadster	1395	5-passenger sedan	2185
f. o. b. Milwaukee

All Nash models, both open and closed, have cord tires as standard equipment.

L. W. GUNBY CO.
SALISBURY, MARYLAND

WILL BUILD "SHIPS" HERE

Italian Government Will Lend Engineers to U. S. for Dirigible Construction.

Rome.—The United States has asked the Italian government to lend to America the services of an engineer skilled in the construction of semirigid dirigible airships and several other men to aid in the building in the United States of craft like the Roma, the big dirigible purchased from Italy.

The Italian government has granted the request, and the Italian engineer, Celestino Uselli, designer of the Roma, will supply plans and instructions for the proposed American craft.

It is understood that the Americans have intimated that they would be glad to have the services of Sig. Nobili, the builder of the Roma, and also her Italian crew, to aid in airship building. It is stated that the American airships of the same kind as the Roma are to be five meters shorter than the Italian vessel bought by America, so that they can be sheltered in the American hangars.

MILAN'S OLDEST MAN

Count Giuseppe Guiseppe, born March 23, 1818, has the distinction of being the oldest native born in the city of Milan, Italy. Count Giuseppe has been in the Italian diplomatic service for more than fifty years. He was the first ambassador to the Austrian court after the first war between Italy and Austria. The photograph was taken recently on his 103rd birthday. Congratulated by hosts of friends on his good health the count declared, "Life is so beautiful that I feel I would like to live eternally."

FINDS HILL OF MAPLE SUGAR

Huge Deposit Discovered in Ohio by Scientist Has Qualities of Maple Molasses.

Chillicothe, O.—There was no need for Ross county to suffer during the sugar famine, for there's a hill of the stuff in the vicinity of Chimney Rock. It was discovered by Clinton F. Houser, head of the chemistry and physics department of the Chillicothe high school. Near Chimney Rock is an elevation composed of sandstone silicates and covered with shale. Between the layers is a hard layer of stone of peculiar characteristics. An analysis of this shows a solution having the qualities of maple molasses. Presence of the sandstone in the deposit indicates that at one time the hill marked a spot on a shore line and it is thought that the maple sugar rocks may be the result of a gum-like deposit washed up by the waves. The sugar hill is now 175 feet high.

GOES TO PRISON UNESCORTED

Minnesota Man Has to Put Up Argument to Get Admitted to State Institution.

Stillwater, Minn.—Upsetting precedents in Minnesota and nearly refused admittance to the state penitentiary here, Clarence Hines, twenty-three, an automobile mechanic of Canby, Minn., convicted of manslaughter, surrendered to Warden J. J. Sullivan after traveling unescorted from Canby to this city.

Hines' conviction last September followed death of a woman run down by his automobile.

When Hines arrived at the prison Warden Sullivan at first was reluctant to admit him. He communicated with Lyon county authorities and was assured that Hines had made the trip from Canby alone.

Returns After Years.

Allentown, Pa.—Thought dead for many years, Peter Smith, who, as a boy, ran away from his home in this city 15 years ago and was not heard from since, surprised his relatives by appearing at the home of his brother, Theodore Smith, one night recently. He explained that he had been West the greater part of the time, but had gone to France early in the war and fought through the entire conflict. The family had no fatted calf to kill, but Smith's first meal at home was an elaborate chicken dinner, which was attended by all his relatives.

350 Norwegian Ships Idle.
Christiania.—Three hundred and fifty Norwegian ships totaling 850,000 tons, are laid up in home and foreign harbors, according to the Norwegian Shipping association.

Kills Mountain Goat, Finds Ore Under Body

Stewart, B. C.—A mountain goat recently was responsible for the discovery of what is believed to be one of the valuable mines of British Columbia.

Years ago float ore was found in the mountain range south of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway ten miles from Stewart. It was so rich that its discovery created a sensation and prospectors flocked to the region and spent months in fruitless efforts to locate the vein.

Recently a man hunting mountain goats high above the timber line had trailed an animal for miles when it suddenly came out on a glacier and stood in full view against the sky on a pinnacle of ice. His rifle cracked and the goat fell dead down a steep precipice and rolled several hundred feet. Its body fetched up near the foot of the glacier and when the hunter reached it he found it had dislodged a massive rock beneath which the long searched-for vein lay exposed.

BEDRIDDEN BOY A PRODIGY

Delivered Speech to 10,000 Persons at Dedication Exercises When Not Yet Four Years Old.

Phoenix, Ariz.—John Huston, fourteen years old, and bedridden, has been pronounced by high medical authorities as possessing the most remarkable mentality they have known in any child.

At the age of three years and seven months John delivered an address at the dedication exercises of the Coliseum at Dallas, Tex., reciting 51 verses on the war of 1776. His oration was distinctly heard by the 10,000 persons in the audience.

In the Grand Army of the Republic John ranks as brigadier general, an honor bestowed by that organization. In his mother's home he has installed a powerful wireless apparatus. He supervised all of this work. Some of its parts are of his own manufacture. A United States government license posted recognizes John as an amateur wireless telegrapher.

BEST NATIONAL ESSAY

Miss Katherine Butterfield, seventeen-year-old high school girl of Weiser, Idaho, who won the Firestone scholarship for the best essay in the national contest in which 250,000 high school students in all parts of the country participated. The scholarship is a four-year university course valued at $5,000.

FAKE FIRE ALARM PENALTIES

Texas Judge Makes Two Boys Do Some Writing in Punishment for Prank.

Houston, Tex.—Judge Chester H. Bryan evolved a new kind of penalty for two boys, fifteen and fourteen years old, who were found guilty of turning in false fire alarms. The older boy took the blame, but his pal was held as an accomplice.

The penalty for the older boy is to write 1,000 times the following paragraph:

"I promise never again to turn in a fake fire alarm. I now understand that it costs the city a considerable sum every time the fire department answers a false alarm and that some person may be seriously injured by the fire apparatus."

The younger lad must write the following 500 times:

"I will not again knowingly be a party to criminal act, nor will I endeavor to intimidate a witness in a case."

Two younger boys testified at the hearing and stated that the "accomplice" had threatened to punch their faces if they told.

Death Stops Grave Digging.
Hazelton, Pa.—Death from a paralytic stroke the other day prevented Frank M. Martell, seventy-four years of age, from completing the digging of his own grave. He often expressed fear that he would not live much longer and two days before he died he began digging his grave in the Precious Blood cemetery.

MARYLANDER AND HERALD

Published Every Tuesday Morning
PRINCESS ANNE, MD.

One, MD Second Avenue. Local Phone No. 11.
Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year

THEO. A. WALTERS
Editor and Business Manager.

All Communications Should be Addressed to the
Marylander and Herald

Foreign Advertising Representative
THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 31, 1921

A good many people try to win friends for their cause by doing their best to ruin the country.

Formerly the popular business motto was "do it now." At present it seems to be "do them now."

The girls ask what they shall do to prevent blushing. One good way would be to wear more clothes.

There is a demand for teeth in the anti-trust law. The present set has not accomplished much but to chew the rag.

The question is frequently asked why girls leave home. One frequent reason is that the boys have ceased to call on them.

The people who think the church is a failure are frequently the same ones who try to hire a $10,000 minister for $2,000.

Sounds like jazz music proceeding from the kitchen may simply mean that some one has dropped a tray full of dishes.

The people who say "wait till the clouds roll by" usually keep on waiting until some one else climbs up and pushes them away.

Not merely does the Lord temper the wind to the shorn lamb, but He has sent an extra supply of rain since prohibition went into effect.

A bureau of information is to be established for visitors to Washington. Office seekers should be supplied with the time tables of trains running back home.

While the college students usually plant a tree before graduating, the amount of forest thus produced has not done anything to keep down the price of paper pulp.

When a man begins to economize on his advertising he can usually economize on his sales force also. He is not likely to have so many customers, consequently he need not hire so many clerks.

The president is frequently asked to press a button to start something going. The public would approve if he presses the back trouser buttons of a lot of those office seekers to start them going down the White House steps.

The world has hated the hypocrisy of the priest and the levite who would not cross the street to succor the man who fell among thieves, but they have allowed 1,000,000 Armenians to be massacred with the same outrages still going on and have done nothing but talk.

President Harding has signed the immigration bill, and it becomes a law. It limits the number of immigrants coming here in one year to 8 per cent. of those of the same nationality already here. That is, if there are 1,000,000 here of any nationality, only 80,000 more can come in the next twelve months.

DRESS AND MORALS

The Literary Digest asks if "the old-fashioned girl, with all she stands for in sweetness, modesty and innocence, is in danger of being extinct." A good many people seem to think that present styles of dress, manners of dancing, etc., indicate considerable moral deterioration.

Women have from time immemorial suffered a physical handicap as the custom of wearing long and entangling skirts. Anyone who ever saw them trying to play base ball or other attractive games know that. It does not seem probable in these days when they demand equal privileges that they will indefinitely submit to this handicap.

It is a fair surmise that in due time they will discard skirts for athletic games and many kinds of work where freedom of dress is needed. It would create a tremendous commotion among the sidewalk lounge element if women wore in all active pursuits a costume about like the riding breeches now used by society girls. But in a short time people would get used to it and wonder why they never did so before. It would promote the health of the female sex and its effects on morals would be nil.

The tendency of dancing to degenerate into a kind of sickly hugging match, in which vigorous and healthful exercise turns into enervating sex enjoyment is nothing new. Mothers who have sense have always maintained an oversight over the dances that their daughters attend and have warned them against men who show this exaggerated sex feeling.

The world is undoubtedly full of temptation in these times and a great number of people have loose morals and it has always been so. Sensible young people are brought up to understand that these low standards destroy family happiness and wreck lives of promise. If this kind of instruction is being given in the homes as it should be, the temptation to give in at the first time will cause more falls than in any

THE JUDICIAL TEMPER

The death of Chief Justice White is a great loss, since he was such a splendid personification of what may be called the judicial temper. Men of this fair minded type are needed as judges more than ever in these times of economic controversy so that all of the people shall have confidence in the fairness of the courts.

Not every good lawyer makes a good judge. Many successful attorneys are combative and loyal men who contend very effectively for their clients, yet who have prejudices that unfit them for service on the bench. The good judge needs to be free from the biases that sway the feelings of most people and he needs to realize that most disputed questions have two sides.

A man of Justice White's type is never satisfied until he has considered sympathetically the arguments offered from all points of view.

A GOOD ARBITRATION PLAN

In attempting to settle labor troubles by arbitration the matter is often referred to a board consisting of one man selected by each party and a third chosen by the first two. In such cases the third man is apt to have to make the decision since the other two can very rarely agree. Too much responsibility is placed on one man so that the verdict often is not satisfactory.

In an arrangement worked out by the Rochester, New York, shoe trades such a board is to be constituted of one man appointed by each party, with three neutral arbitrators. Three heads are better than one and such a board seems more likely to render wise and just decisions.

Now if such a board could be permanent, so as to become intimately familiar with the problems to be handled, it seems an ideal method of settling these wasteful disputes. Such a system for adjusting labor difficulties might well be recommended to the industries of Maryland.

Chamberlain's Tablets Are Mild And Gentle in Effect

The laxative effect of Chamberlain's Tablets is so mild and gentle that you can hardly realize that it has been produced by a medicine.

County Commissioners' NOTICE

Notice is hereby given to all persons having accounts against Somerset County to file the same at the commissioners' office on or before

TUESDAY, June 14, 1921, so the said accounts may be provided for in the 1921 levy. All accounts must be properly itemized, dated and protated.

By order of the Board,

R. MARK WHITE, Clerk

ATTORNEY'S SALE OF VALUABLE Building Lots

By virtue of authority contained in a power of attorney executed to me by Joshua W. Miles and wife, and Courtney F. Miles and wife, I will sell at public auction in front of the postoffice at Marion, Maryland, on Saturday, June 4th, 1921, beginning at the hour of 2:30 o'clock p.m.

4 Unimproved Building Lots

each containing about TWO ACRES, lying and binding on the northwest side of the road or street known as Marion Church Street, from Marion Church to the village of Marion to the land of John C. Horsey and others, between Marion M. P. Church lot and the old Heptachord Hall lot, each of said lots having a front on Church Street of about 100 feet and a depth of about 469 feet, extending from the said Church Street to the land of S. Frank Miles, the first of said lots adjoining the land of Thomas W. Long on the eastward.

Each lot to contain One-half cash on day of sale, balance within one year from said date; or all cash at the option of the purchaser, credit portion, if any, to be secured by the bond of the purchaser with the satisfaction of the undersigned attorney, and to bear interest at 6% per annum.

GEORGE H. MYERS, Attorney.

5-31

ATTORNEY'S SALE OF VALUABLE Building Lots

By virtue of authority contained in a power of attorney executed to me by Joshua W. Miles and wife, and Courtney F. Miles and wife, I will sell at public auction in front of the postoffice at Marion, Maryland, on Saturday, June 4th, 1921, beginning at the hour of 2:30 o'clock p.m.

4 Unimproved Building Lots

each containing about TWO ACRES, lying and binding on the northwest side of the road or street known as Marion Church Street, from Marion Church to the village of Marion to the land of John C. Horsey and others, between Marion M. P. Church lot and the old Heptachord Hall lot, each of said lots having a front on Church Street of about 100 feet and a depth of about 469 feet, extending from the said Church Street to the land of S. Frank Miles, the first of said lots adjoining the land of Thomas W. Long on the eastward.

Each lot to contain One-half cash on day of sale, balance within one year from said date; or all cash at the option of the purchaser, credit portion, if any, to be secured by the bond of the purchaser with the satisfaction of the undersigned attorney, and to bear interest at 6% per annum.

GEORGE H. MYERS, Attorney.

5-31

SIX GILLETTE BLADES WITH HOLDERS

$1.25

PREPAID

In An Attractive Case

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded

This offer for a limited time only

Remit by money order or cash—(no stamps)

Frad Razor Co.

1475 Broadway

New York City

EVILS OF CONSTIPATION

Perhaps the most serious of the diseases caused by constipation is appendicitis. If you would avoid this dangerous disease, keep your bowels regular. For this purpose Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent, easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.

(Advertisement)

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION

The annual examination for Teachers' Certificates will be held in the High School building in Princess Anne on Thursday and Friday

JUNE 2 AND 3, 1921

Beginning at 8:45 A.M. Each Day

All applicants for first certificates should take these examinations. Examinations will also be given to those teachers who desire by this means to qualify for second certificates from first to third and from third to second grade. Opportunity will be afforded for members of the State Teachers' Reading Circle Course, through examination based on the books listed for the present year.

A. S. COOK,
State Superintendent

Sheriff's Sale OF VALUABLE Garage Accessories

By virtue of a writ of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court for Somerset County, and to me directed, at the suit of Gordon Tull against Ira A. Hall and wife, Ira A. Hall, located at Westover, Maryland, and have taken in charge, levied upon, seized and taken into execution all the garage, stock, outfit and accessories of the said Ira A. Hall, contained in and about his garage, situated on the corner of State Street, Westover, Md., large Gasoline Engine, Dynamo, Belts, Bulbs and Wires, and in general a full stock of Automobile Accessories and Parts now in said garage.

I hereby give notice that on Thursday, June 2nd, 1921

at or about the hour of 3:30 p.m. on the said garage premises at Westover, Maryland, I will sell at Public Auction for cash, all the above enumerated stock of Automobile Accessories and other goods in said garage to satisfy the said writs, costs and charges.

DERRICK K. LAWSON
Sheriff of Somerset County

SHERIFF'S SALE OF VALUABLE Real Estate

By virtue of two writs of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court for Somerset County and to me directed, at the suit of J. G. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, against the estate of the late Stanley Fiser, treasurer of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward Powell and Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing in front of the Court House door, in Princess Anne, Maryland, in which the above described property is to be sold by the said Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward Powell and Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing in front of the Court House door, in Princess Anne, Maryland, in which the above described property is to be sold by the said Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward Powell and Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward Powell and Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward Powell and Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward Powell and Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward Powell and Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward Powell and Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward Powell and Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward Powell and Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward Powell and Charles E. Fifer, trustee, of Deep Branch Tax Ditch, and others, in the suit of the said defendant, Emma Bolayard, to and all right title, interest and claim in and to all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in East Princess Anne Election District, Somerset County, Maryland, containing

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

60 ACRES

more or less, lying and binding on the county road leading from Fruiland to Friendship, adjoining the lands of Walter Scott, Edward

BALTIMORE'S NICKEL NURSERY

By E. M. Colman

"Keep my babe? Yes? No?"
"Yes, we will keep your baby."
Daily, excepting Sunday this eager question is breathlessly hurled at the matron of the Salvation Army's Slum Settlement and Day Nursery down at the South Anne street, and daily comes back the comforting assurance that sends the worried working mother rushing off to shop, or factory with her little one out of her arms and out of harm's way for the day.

Now the demand for admission for their children has become so great that many times daily must the refusal be given as the Board of Health has set a limit on the children admitted, though Captain Prendeville and his assistants would cheerfully take every little toddler brought to them if they had the room, beds and the equipment to care for them. Now twenty-five is all that can be accommodated.

These infants and toddlers are washed, fed, amused and put into snowy beds for their naps and the charge is five cents a day and no war tax.

Nothing in the world today is so cheap, and yet so freighted with value as this Salvation Army Service to helpless children.

Picture these little people of from six months to eight years as they are hopped bundle fashion through the little side gate of the Settlement House before 7 o'clock each morning as their mother hastily answers the whistle call to the factory or packing house.

Dirty, smelly, cross and hungry, frequently swarming with vermin, these small American born Poles, Russians and Italians are anything but attractive samples of humanity. Unwelcome, torn and anemic bits of human atom, most of them born out of wedlock, they are pitifully pathetic.

On arrival, they are tagged, and their clothing removed either to be hung to air or washed. Sometimes a little one is brought to the Nursery whose clothing has not been removed in months and where parents follow the custom of sewing them into their trappings in early fall and of which they are not divested until the next summer.

Often the first bath they have ever had they get at the Nursery, for Captain Prendeville puts cleanliness where a long line of New England ancestry has emphasized it—next to Godliness—and for her to do for them—they must be clean! She will do the cleaning thoroughly too. After the first shock, the children enjoy the novel sensation.

Fresh apron dresses are put upon them and here too, the great mother love, that is the guiding principle in this branch of the work is shown for no two aprons are made alike. Far from the institutional idea, this—but close to the childish heart, for the little garments all have pockets.

THE STORY WE DID NOT WRITE

The city editor of a paper in a nearby city had long sought to get some human interest stories from the Salvation Army Rescue Home. He had done repeatedly to try to coax out a real "sob story" from its matron, and though the young reporter knew that she would not divulge any names or facts upon which he could pin a good feature or news story he resolved to try once more.

After a pleasant little talk that yielded no more grit for his mill than had been the case in previous visits, he took his departure.

Just as he stepped down from the porch, a woman's hat blew over the high lattice gate that concealed the side entrance to the yard. He quickly stooped to rescue the hat and looked up as the gate opened into the face of his own sister. His surprise gave place to horror as he observed her condition—and for a moment he was dumb before the appearance of his baby sister, at this of all places and in this light.

She broke down and told him of her treachery and desertion by her fiancee—her boyhood chum whom she whole heartedly had loved and trusted.

Reeling her disgrace, she had left the home town and come to this city to live. Work had failed—money given her earlier than let her parents expect had been lost as she sat on the Promptly at eleven chairs that fit are put up to charming little tables, and small Polish and Russian get the daily lesson in unselfishness and table manners.

To some, a tablecloth, napkin and regular tableware, too, are novelties not understood at all but endured, and rather enjoyed when delicious cocoa, bread and butter, vegetable or bean soup is the return for using them. No one dish is served two days in succession.

In good weather the children are turned loose in the big sunshiny back yard where the tormenting neighborhood hoodlums cannot molest them, or they romp at will in the cheerful nursery, with its abundant fresh air and sunshine, and when sleepy they are tucked away in snowy cribs—likewise, in many instances, the first introduction to a clean and individual bed.

Loving care has covered the entire sweep of floors with linoleum, that baby fingers of many of these unwanted, neglected, children may be protected from splinters.

In mid afternoon comes another red letter hour, when bread and jam is served in between wonderful sessions with handy teddy bears, hobby horses, kiddie cars, velocipedes, Noah's Arks, and noble colonies of dollsies, and camps of soldiers.

Every night when the mothers come for them, they are turned over to her dressed in their own clothes, fresh and clean, after a perfect day where they had nothing but love and kindness, and where two square meals came by grace just at the right time.

In the midst of this baby paradise, secured for a nickel—and given without the nickel when it is not forthcoming—it is difficult to believe that children so young as these could be so steeped in vice and so cognizant of the horrible moral conditions in which they live.

In baby chatter, they prattle of a multiplicity of fathers, vice, profanity and obscenity, before they can do more than lisp the words.

Four generations of Poles are represented in the nursery attendance, the great grandmother, forty years in America, proudly boasts of her loyalty to her own land and Tongue by refusing to learn our language. Though she has worked all these years in a Baltimore Packing House her English is limited to counting up to ten and one expression "Go to" which she uses frequently and impartially.

Thanks to the Salvation Army Nursery's Americanization System of instruction through games, marches and songs, none of her descendants will boast of anything but good United States.

The half-day school children love the Nursery too. They spend every afternoon that they can there, and tell their woes and joys to the Captain.

bench with the little bottle of poison clenched in her hand, the gentle faced Salvation Army Matron of the Rescue Home had passed her, and then came back to sit and talk with her. After coaxing out the story the officer made her throw away the poison and brought her here to stay.

She pleaded with her brother to keep her secret, threatening to kill herself if he failed her, making him agree to let the family believe her still safe and hard at work.

The reporter—had his story—but it never saw print. The sequel—too—never saw print, for a determined young man some days later—appeared with a shame faced man and a wedding was consummated—true there was none of the usual joy and festivity but that girl was spared facing the world and her family, with a nameless child.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S CONTRIBUTION

With his recent contribution of $5,000 to the Home Service Fund the President wrote: "No man is ever 'out' unless he himself confesses that he is. No organization among us has done more to prove this, or has proven it in more cases, than the Salvation Army."—Warren G. Harding, President.

LEAF FROM LANDLADY'S BOOK

Drummer Devised Shrewd Scheme for Putting End to Series of Petty Extortions.

"Like cures like," said Speaker Gillett, apropos of certain extortions. "Abuse may cure abuse, too."

"I once knew a drummer for a chemical firm. This drummer would visit Pottsville four or five times a year. He would arrive late in the evening at the Pottsville hotel and depart after lunch the next day. He didn't stop a full day, you see; he got no dinner; nevertheless he was always charged a full day's board.

"The extortion got on his nerves at last; so one afternoon when his bill was brought him, he took out his pad and drew up an account against the landlady for a carboy of sulphuric acid.

"Take this to Mrs. Tompkins," he said to the waiter, "and ask her if she would mind settling up at once."

"In a few minutes Mrs. Tompkins herself appeared.

"'Why,' she said to the drummer, 'I never bought any sulphuric acid from you in my life. This bill is a mistake.'

"Neither have I ever eaten any of your dinners, madam," said the drummer, "but you charge me for them every time I come to Pottsville."

"After that the Pottsville hotel never charged the drummer for things he hadn't had."

The Catch.

A New England spinster was much enamored of a neighboring farmer, but the affection was not returned. One day, starting on one of his weekly visits to town, the maiden came rushing out, crying:

"Yoo-hoo, Mr. Simpkins, do you mind taking me with you?"

The farmer considered warily and finally allowed her to climb in.

In vain the lady tried every topic of conversation without eliciting response and finally in desperation fell back on the passing bits of scenery. Going by the minister's house, she cried: "Oh, Mr. Simpkins, what a beautiful hitching post Pastor Watson has."

"Gol durn," cried the other cracking his whip. "I knowed there was a hitch in it somewhere. Dobbin, giddap. Ma'am, that's fer horses only!"—American Legion Weekly.

One Thing After Another.

It is many years since man was to be cured of all his ills by the removal of a largely superfluous appendix. When the magic of that operation began to pall pyorrhea became the chief criminal and the substitution of "dentures" for the unruly teeth of nature the elixir of life. But man's health was still indifferent, and the discovery of the "dead tooth" in all its peril promised a pathway to centenarian vigor. Passing by monkey glands, we now come to the nerve centers of the spine as the seat of all trouble and to a delicate combination of osteopathy and massage as the infallible recipe for perfect health.—London Express.

Another Victory for Machinery.

From Lyons, France, comes the report that a machine has been developed for making raised embroidery in gold and silver. It is stated that the stitch is a copy of an ancient form of embroidery and gives an impression of handwork, and is also the first machine that has been successful in using the metallic thread. It is stated that the machine is the result of seven years of study, and that the results are very satisfactory.—Scientific American.

Permanent Color Improvement.
"Your face is no longer flushed with drink."

"No," replied Uncle Bill Bottletop. "When they proclaimed prohibition I turned pale and never got over it."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Cascara Bitter Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Cascara Medicine fails to cure. Send for circular. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, etc. Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

[Advertisement.]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court of Somerset County letters testamente.

WILLIAM J. PHILLIPS,

late of Somerset County, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereto, to the subscriber on or before the Twenty-third day of September, 1921; or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefits of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand this 15th day of March, 1921.

FLORENCE A. PHILLIPS, Executrix of William J. Phillips, deceased

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARE, Register of Wills.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court of Somerset County letters testamente.

JAMES R. DODSON,

late of Somerset County, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereto, to the subscriber on or before the

Second Day of August, 1921

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefits of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand this 25th day of February, 1921.

IDA DODSON, Administratrix of James R. Dodson, deceased

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARE, Register of Wills.

THINNEST IN WINTER.

Most people think that in the summer, when they perspire freely, they lose far more weight than in the winter, when they wrap themselves up in order to keep warm. But the reverse is the case. From September to March the human frame undergoes a gradual wasting process, because there is a greater call on the reserves of fat to maintain the heat of the body. With the commencement of April flesh begins to form again, and continues to do so until the end of August, when the accumulation of fat has to be shared out in the shape of heat.

Considered Holy Spot.

The biggest bathing parade in the world takes place at Allahabad, India, according to a writer in the London Daily Mail. Here in Allahabad nearly a million people have bathed, he says. And it is not even as if some cooling sea waves attract this multitude. The nearest sea is nearly a thousand miles away to the east. Allahabad's attraction is due to the fact that here the two holy rivers of India meet. This is the sacred spot where Mother Ganges meets her chief tributary, the holy Junna.

America's Gift to the World.

The cocoa bean is one of America's gifts to the world. The world's consumption of chocolate is increasing constantly, and the plantations of tropical America are being enlarged to supply the demand. The tree was cultivated in Mexico and Peru centuries before the arrival of Columbus. Chocolate was first made in the United States in 1765, and has been used constantly ever since, with the demand constantly increasing.

WEAK, NERVOUS, ALL RUN-DOWN

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. I saw after taking some Cardui . . . that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person.

"Later I suffered from weakness and back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me . . . My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they obtained relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere. E. 82

NEW COMMANDER

MAJOR HENRY D. BALE
Assigned To Baltimore In Charge Of The Chesapeake Division Of The Salvation Army.

Major Henry Davey Bale, new divisional commander of the Chesapeake Division of the Salvation Army, who has recently come from Minneapolis, has had an extensive career in Salvation Army work, which really dates back to his birth as his parents were both Salvation Army officers.

He began his commissioned service in England, where he served eight appointments. Afterwards received and served nine appointments in Canada covering a period of eighteen years.

Since being transferred to the United States, Major Bale served in Chicago prior to being stationed in Minneapolis, where he made an enviable record in bringing his territory into considerable prominence. Commissions were showered upon him and promotion to commandantship of the Chesapeake Division with headquarters in Baltimore followed. Major Bale hopes to make the Chesapeake Division the banner division of the East and since his arrival all the evangelistic work has received a decided impetus.

BOY BANDS

What live boy does not sometime crave to play in a band?—try out his ability on cornet, flute or drums. Many a man is now in Salvation Army ranks because when he was a boy bored, restless, street gamin, some big hearted Salvation Army Officer sensed the cry of a soul for music and coaxed him into the hall, first to hear the other fellows play and later invited him to try to make a noise himself. No normal boy could resist the chance, because in his innermost heart he is certain that he could play just as well as any fellow in the bunch if he had half a chance to try.

The Army gives them not only half a chance but a whole chance over and over again until before they hardly realize it they are able to play and play well. The regular practice keeps them off the streets, away from gambling dens, out of craps shooting and fighting and surrounds them over those periods at least with uplifting influence. By and by they get into the uniform, and though other interests beckon, the bands hold them when every other appeal fails and many of them not only cling to this Association as Soldiers, but eventually become Salvation Army Officers. This is another splendid type of preventative work which reaches and appeals to boys from ten to fifteen, many of whom actually beg for the privilege of joining.

In Baltimore, Captain Albert Turington, skilled band leader, who has recently been transferred from the South, is already finding his corps hall a magnet to the boys of the neighborhood eager to join his band which is already about twenty-five in number. Instruments and uniforms are provided for these players and along with the playing, they are also encouraged to sing, for the Army believes in music and plenty of it.

On its Roster at the present time in the United States there are 9,422 bandmen and something like 25,000 songsters.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS MISSING

An English sailor settled in Australia and after his wife died, leaving a boy and girl of ten and twelve years of age, he concluded to leave them and come to America.

Sometime afterward he met and married a woman who imposed the condition that he never communicate with his children or his first wife's people. He kept that promise for thirty-five years but after her death he began to long for his boy and girl and started inquiries to find them.

At the same time, these two in Australia began inquiries for the father so long lost to them in America.

Advertisements inserted by both parent and children in the War Cry—he in America—and their in Australia—were brought into communication, and a happy old man embarked for the voyage that promised reunion.

Nearly two thousand inquiries found issue in the "War Cry" last year. Nearly 800 missing friends were located by this means.

Australia Rich in Forests. Australia has hundreds of thousands of acres of virgin forests.

FOR STYLISH AND QUALITY PRINTING Bring your orders to the Marylander and Herald Office.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.

MEANS VICTORY FOR LEGION

Report of Dawes Committee Embodies Principal Features of Organization's Relief Plan.

All investigation speed records at the national capitol were broken by President Harding's special commission to frame a comprehensive program for the relief of disabled veterans, which was headed by Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes of Chicago.

He jammed through, in less than two days, an inquiry into treatment of disabled soldiers, recommendations that mean adequate hospital treatment to 10,000 wounded veterans now in poorhouses, asylums, insufficiently equipped hospitals or in no institution at all, as well as payment for disability to thousands of veterans not in hospitals.

The report of the Dawes committee is considered as a great victory for the American Legion program for disabled soldier relief. Its recommendations embody the principal features of the Legion plan.

They are:

1. Appointment of one official to have charge of all disabled soldiers' relief and benefits. There now are three departments.

2. Decentralization of administration so officials with delegated authority may act without red tape.

3. Appropriation of whatever additional money is necessary for new hospitals.

Other members of the committee were: F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion; Franklin D'Oliver, past national commander of the American Legion; Thomas W. Miller of Delaware; Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the Navy; Mrs. Douglas Robinson of New York, a sister of former President Roosevelt; John L. Lewis of Indianapolis, president of the United Mine Workers of America; Mrs. Henry Ross of Pittsburgh; Milton J. Foreman of Chicago; Henry S. Berry of Hendersonville, Tenn., and T. V. O'Connor of Buffalo, head of the longshoremen's union.

BUCK PRIVATE TO COMMANDER

C. L. Dawson, North Dakota Legion Man, Rises From Lowest to Highest Rank.

From the lowest rank in the military service to the highest grade conferred by the ex-service men of his state is the record jump made by C. L. Dawson of Beach, N. D., recently appointed national field representative of the American Legion.

From buck private to department commander of the American Legion in North Dakota tells the story of Mr. Dawson's rise. Although well past middle age, he enlisted as a private in the Cavalry corps soon after war was declared. After fifteen months at Fort Omaha, he was discharged with the rank of private first class. He was chief clerk of the North Dakota legislature during its last session.

As department commander and national executive committeeman, Mr. Dawson was largely responsible in building up a strong organization of the Legion in North Dakota. He is a graduate of the University of North Dakota and before entering the service was state's attorney at Golden Valley, N. D.

IDEALS OF AMERICAN LEGION

Stand of Bill Dowling Post of Chadron, Neb., Has Brought Much Favorable Comment.

The ideals of the American Legion are explained in a published announcement of Bill Dowling Post of Chadron, Neb., which has drawn much favorable comment from Legion posts in the Middle West. The announcement reads:

"To the public—No, we are not organized to 'run the country' or to 'rob the government.' Read the preamble to our constitution."

"To politicians—We stand for 'politics, not politics.'

"To capital—Some of us are capitalists; all of us are laborers."

"To labor—Read what Samuel Gompers has to say in regard to labor and the Legion."

"To all ex-service men—Let's stick together. We started it over there; let's finish it in the American Legion."

"To all Americans—Look out for the American Legion!"

A pipe won't burn your tongue if you smoke P.A.!

Get that pipe-party-bee buzzing in your smoke-section! Know for a fact what a joyous Jimmy pipe can and will do for your peace and content! Just check up the men in all walks of life you meet daily who certainly get top sport out of their pipes—all aglow with fragrant, delightful, friendly Prince Albert!

And, you can wager your week's wad that Prince Albert's quality and flavor and coolness—and its freedom from bite and parch (cut out by our exclusive patented process)—will ring up records in your little old smokemeter the likes of which you never before could believe possible!

You don't get tired of a pipe when it's packed with Prince Albert! Paste that in your hat!

And, just between ourselves! Ever dip into the sport of rolling 'em? Get some Prince Albert and the makin's papers—quick—and cash in on a cigarette that will prove a revelation!

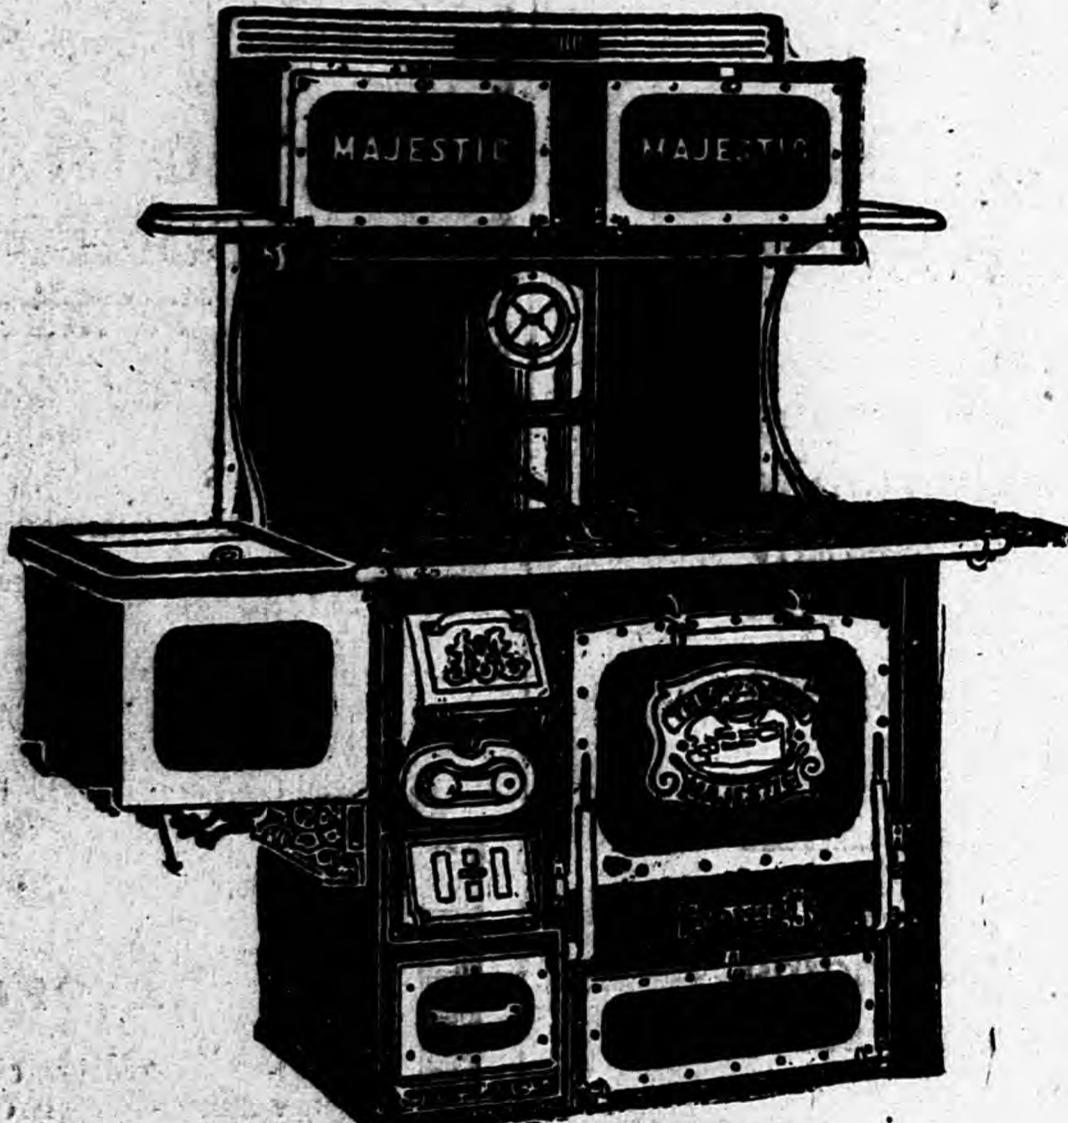

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

WHEN in want of
STYLISH and QUALITY PRINTING
MARYLANDER AND HERLAD

Call or Phone

25 percent Saved BY BUYING YOUR STOVES NOW

These stoves were bought last January, since that time they have advanced 25 per cent. and we are giving our customers the advantage of this increase in price.

10 Per Cent Discount ON ALL ROBES, BLANKETS

CARRIAGES, WAGONS,
HARDWARE
HARNESS

Ask your neighbor where to get a square deal and he will say TAYLOR'S HARDWARE STORE.

J. T. TAYLOR, Jr.
PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Don't Neglect Your Stock

Try LeGears

STOCK FOOD

and HOG TONIC

With our Guarantee

Eastman Kodaks and Films

Conklin Fountain Pens

Guth's Chocolates

Soda Water, Cigars,

Drugs, Toilet Articles

T. J. Smith & Co.

Everybody's Druggists

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

LET US DEVELOP YOUR

FILMS

We have just received a beautiful variety of

DAHLIA BULBS

PRICES CHEAP!

FRANK BRANFORD

Contractor and Builder

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Estimates Furnished

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset county letters of administration on the estate of

MATTHIAS MELSON

late of Somerset county, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber on or before

Twenty-third Day of September, 1921.

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

Given under my hand this 16th day of March, 1921.

MATTHIAS MELSON, JR., Administrator of Matthias Melson, deceased.

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK, Register of Wills

3-22

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court for Somerset County letters of administration on the estate of

THOMAS H. MARTER,

late of Somerset county, deceased. All persons having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber on or before the

Twenty-sixth Day of October, 1921.

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

Given under my hand this 13th day of April, 1920.

JOHN W. ENNIS, Administrator of Thomas H. Marter, deceased.

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK, Register of Wills

4-19

AGENTS WANTED: BLISS NATIVE
HERBS is a remedy for the relief of Constipation, Indigestion, Ulcers, Rheumatism,
Kidney Troubles. It is well-known everywhere.
The remedies are sold at a price that allows agents to double their money. Write Alonso O. Bliss
Medical Co., Washington, D. C., for Almanac, Cook Books, Health Foods, which furnish free of charge to agents. Mention this paper. (3-3)

Twenty-sixth Day of October, 1921.

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

Given under my hand this 13th day of April, 1920.

JOHN W. ENNIS, Administrator of Thomas H. Marter, deceased.

True Copy. Test: LAFAYETTE RUARK, Register of Wills

4-19

Buy Your School and
Office Supplies at

The Big Stationery Store MEYER & THALHEIMER

10-12 N. Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.

DEPARTMENTS:

PRINTING and ENGRAVING,
OFFICE FURNITURE,
FILING DEVICES—Wood and Steel
SCHOOL FURNITURE and SUPPLIES
COMMERCIAL and SOCIAL STATIONERY,
BLANK BOOKS

The Cohn & Bock Co.

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Flour Meal

FEEDS

Scratch and Chick Feeds

HAY

HAMPERS

Shingles

Lath

LUMBER

The Cohn & Bock Co.

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

HOW LEGION MEN GET LAND

Applicants for Homestead Entries Should First Make Personal Inspection of District.

In response to many inquiries from ex-service men in the Middle West regarding government land grants, Irvin I. Femrite, secretary of Argonne post of the American Legion in Des Moines, Ia., has made an investigation of the situation.

"Persons desiring to make homestead entries," said Mr. Femrite, "should first fully inform themselves as to the character and quality of lands they desire to enter and should in no case apply to enter until they have examined each legal subdivision for which they make application. Satisfactory information concerning the lands may be obtained from a personal visit to the district in which one wishes to take out land.

"Each applicant is required to swear that he is well acquainted with the character of the land described in his application and the only way that he can assure himself that prior settlers have no claim is to make a personal inspection of same.

"An ex-service man is required to establish residence on the land involved after his entry is allowed, unless an extension of time is granted on account of sickness, climatic reasons or similar excuses. Credit is given for service in the Army, Navy or Marines, providing the applicant has had eighteen months of service. If such is the case, the applicant is required to live on the land only seven months. If he obtains so much credit for military service that there is required only one year's residence, he must prove only such amount of cultivation as will prove his good faith as a homestead claimant. If his credit for service requires more than one year's residence, he must show cultivation to the extent of one-sixteenth of the area of the land beginning with the second year. Regardless of credit for service, all applicants must prove that there is a habitable house on the land.

"There is only one portion of the country where land may be obtained without the requirement of a homestead. At Sentinel, Ariz., there are 10,000 acres open, for which no homestead is required, but which necessitates the payment of seventy-five dollars for three hundred and twenty acres and an expenditure of one dollar per acre for improvement. This is arid land which may be used for cotton raising if irrigated. When irrigated, it sells for from two to three hundred dollars an acre. It is estimated that the cost of irrigation on three hundred and twenty acres is about $10,000.

"Approximately 132,000,000 acres of land are open, including every state west of the Mississippi river except Iowa and Texas. The first thing to do is to decide on the state. Then get the location of the land offices in that state. All blank forms of affidavits and other papers may be obtained for the district office in which the land lies.

"Taking out a homestead is not a speculative proposition. If the applicant can afford to establish himself for the period required under the homestead laws, taking advantage of the credit allowed him for service in the World War, he will be well repaid after a few years."

BACK TO NATURE FOR HEALTH

Ex-Service Man is Attending College in Bathing Suit and Living in Pup Tent.

Attending college in a bathing suit and living in a "pup tent" on his alma mater's campus, H. B. Parker, of Boston, Mass., is gaining in a hard fight for life and an education.

Mr. Parker, formerly a student at Boston university, had to leave the colder climate because of the impaired condition of his lungs following service in the army during the World War.

H. B. Parker and His Pup Tent.

Realizing his condition, he sought schooling in a warmer zone and took to the open. Through an arrangement with Dr. W. S. Currell, of the University of South Carolina, he pitched his tent on the university campus. With a mosquito bar and a folding cot to furnish his habitation, he is pursuing his studies and is steadily progressing on the road to recovery.

Before leaving Boston, Mr. Parker was appointed by the American Legion to investigate conditions at state institutions in behalf of the Legion's department of vocational training. He urges all men afflicted as himself to seek the open and to find health in the "back to nature" plan.

Mr. Vernon Items

May 28—Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Mason and baby, of Baltimore, are visiting relatives here.

Mr. Harry Dashiel spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Dashiel.

Miss Edna Webster, who has been in Baltimore for several weeks, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood and little son, who have lived here for the past year, have sold their property and returned to North Dakota where they formerly resided.

Mr. J. L. Kirwin left for Baltimore Wednesday on the steamer Virginia.

Mrs. H. A. Barnes, who was operated on at the Salisbury hospital two weeks ago, is much improved and expects to return home soon.

A few friends were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Costen Wednesday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Costen, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Costen, Mr. and Mrs. Brady Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Magill, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntyre, Mrs. Annie Barlow, Mrs. Margaret L. Hopkins, Misses Ruby Bounds, Vesta Costen, Sarah Renshaw, Cecilia Waller, Sophie Groskopf, Messrs. J. C. Price, W. E. J. Bonds, Joseph Bonds, Frank Barlow, Dudley Costen and Edwin Renshaw.

The Dusty Bible

The following article by Dr. G. M. Fisher, of Alaska, West Virginia, was recently published in the Baltimore American and we reproduce it by request:

In a recent motion picture seen at Cumberland occurred a trivial incident, the significance of which is quickly grasped by every one in the audience. The villain of the play reaches into his pocket for a Bible. Before opening it he blows the dust from its edges. A mere gesture, but it is one of the best touches in the play.

The audience understands and smiles appreciation. The incident holds the mirror up to a familiar thing in many homes—the dusty Bible. Lying unused on many shelves it offers in vain its wisdom, its consolation and its romances, while the unsated hearts of the owners seek in vain for new thrills in the best sellers.

Who knows a sweeter story than the Book of Ruth? And tragedy more sublime than the story of the Crucifixion? And philosophy more wholesome than that of Ecclesiastes, or of the Proverbs? Or poetry finer than the Song of Solomon?

The Bible has the wonderful quality of being always new, presenting unexplored depths of light at every reading. It is like one of those wonderful old attics of our childhood days where at every visit we would discover, hidden away, something we had missed on our last visit.

"An active mind," said President John Quincy Adams, "cannot peruse a single chapter and lay the book aside to think and take it up again tomorrow without finding in it advice for our own conduct which we may turn to useful account in the progress of our daily pilgrimage on earth."

If the people of Princess Anne would spend a little less money on pop the thrifty movement would show more pep.

"IN A BAD WAY"

Many a Princess Anne Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information

If your back gives out; becomes lame, weak or aching; if urinary troubles set in. Perhaps your kidneys are "in a bad way."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Local evidence proves their merit.

Mrs. C. A. Young, Beachwood street, Princess Anne, says: "I was in a bad way from a lameness in my back and a run down condition of my kidneys. My hands and ankles swelled and I had puffy sacs of water beneath my eyes. I was subject at times with dizzy spells when I stooped and sharp pains cut me in the small of my back. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills through a friend and after using one box I was rid of the trouble. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone who is troubled with backache or kidney trouble." (Statement given July 24th, 1916.)

On January 5th, 1921, Mrs. Young said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has been a lasting one. I cannot recommend Doan's too highly."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Young had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

[Advertisement]

Application For Oyster Grounds

W. J. BLAKE, Baltimore Maryland
About 30 Acres

Located in Pocomoke Sound, Somerset county, between "Kitts" Creek east natural oyster bar and Williams' Point, adjacent to Blake and Lehigh's oyster ground on the north. Trevemore's oysters are raised there. Published Chart No. 1000 and staked out by the applicant.

Protests must be filed with the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Somerset county on or before the 20th day of June, 1921.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION OF MARYLAND.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—This is to give notice that the subscriber has obtained from the Oyster Commission for Somerset county letters testifying to the contents of this application.

ANNIE MAGILL SMITH

State of Maryland, county, deceased. All persons named in this application and deceased, are hereby required to exhibit the same, with vouchers thereto, to the subscriber on or before the 20th Day of November, 1921.

or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all rights against said deceased, are hereby required to make immediate payment, when due, to the subscriber on the 20th day of May,

E. HERMAN COHN

Manager of Arctic Marine Hotel, New York City, New York.

Samuel Corbin, Assistant Forester

Samuel Corbin, of Philadelphia, has been appointed assistant forester in the Maryland State Board of Forestry, as a result of a competitive examination held some time ago by the State Employment Commission.

Mr. Corbin comes to Maryland with a record of excellent training and experience and is in every way well qualified for the technical work he will be called upon to perform. He received his undergraduate training at the Pennsylvania State College, having graduated in 1917. For two years he was employed as Forest Assistant in the United States Forest Service, making timber surveys and forest maps in the Appalachian mountains from Virginia to Alabama.

In the fall of 1919 Mr. Corbin resigned from the Forest Service in order to take a year's graduate work in forestry at Yale Forest School, from which he was graduated in June, 1920, with the degree of Master of Forestry.

A Toothy Exchange.
"Will do your dental work in exchange for young pullets," advertises a dentist.

Highway to Peace.

Let's take hold of hands now, and promise each other that, come what may, we will never have the blues, nor abuse the man who does not see things just as we do. Right here is the highway to a peace of mind that nothing can take away from us.—Farm Life.

Watching the Boss.

Employer—"Young man, it will pay you to keep your eyes open while you are in this office." Office Boy—"Yes, sir; that's just what your wife told me when she came in this morning, and saw what a pretty stenographer you had."—Boston Transcript.

Lumbago

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dann, Brockport, N. Y. writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."

[Advertisement.]

There Probably Has Never Been a Shoe Sale Like This—

So all-including in its scope—so decisive in its reductions—occurring so early in the season; but we are turning a backward season into a real money-saving occasion for you by offering

100 Pairs Ladies' Black and Brown Oxfords

At the very SPECIAL PRICE
$3.85 THE PAIR

John W. Morris & Sons, Inc.
SHOES Princess Anne, Md. SHOES

KIRSCHBAUM CLOTHES · SPRING 1921

WHAT'S IT WORTH TO YOU?

What's good style worth? What's good tailoring and fine fabric quality worth? What's it worth to you to know that your satisfaction is guaranteed—doubly guaranteed by the Kirschbaum shops and by us. All these things and all that they are worth, you may be sure of in Kirschbaum Clothes. Prices—twenty-five to forty-five dollars.

Copyright, 1921, A. B. Kirschbaum Company

John W. Norris & Sons, Inc.

PRINCESS ANNE

CHARLES BRAND
Phone No. 186
HOMER HUGHES
Phone No. 272
BRAND & HUGHES
Licensed Plumbers
POCOMOKE CITY, MARYLAND
Estimates Furnished
All Orders Given Prompt Attention
Satisfaction Guaranteed

The finest Tire for Small Cars

Goodrich 30x3½

Anti-Skid Safety Tread
at the 20% Price Reduction

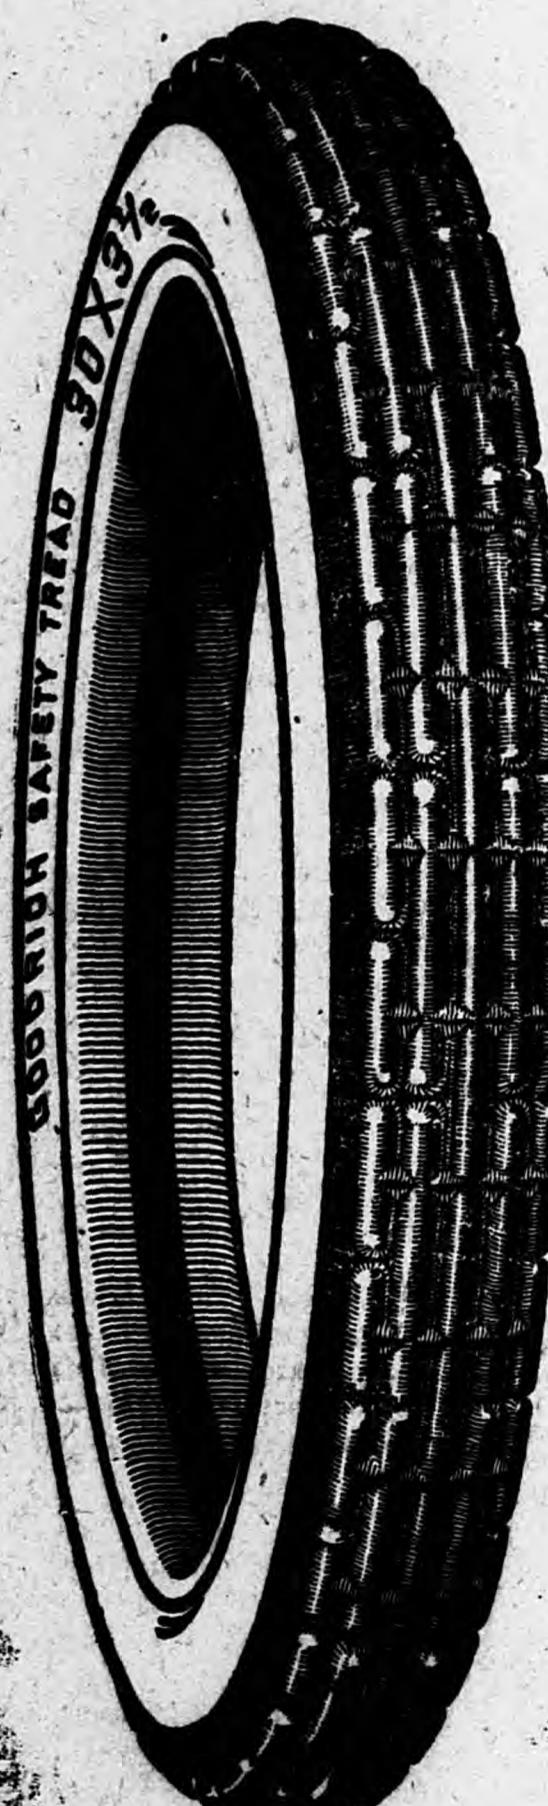

Here is a 30x3½ tire, with snappy black tread and creamy white sides—clean, trim, splendidly finished—generously large and full in size, with the Goodrich anti-skid safety tread.

This tire will give you much longer mileage, the greatest of durability, the utmost riding comfort and the fullest satisfaction.

Like all other Goodrich tires the "30x3½" is made only in one quality. It is so thoroughly and unusually good that its makers frankly declare it the best tire ever made for small cars.

THE B. F. GOODRICH RUBBER COMPANY
Akron, Ohio

Dealers everywhere are selling Goodrich Silver Cord, Goodrich Fabric Tires and Goodrich Red or Gray Tubes—all one quality—at the 20% reduction in prices which Goodrich made effective May 2nd, 1921.

Goodrich 30x3½
anti-skid safety tread fabric tire now available at the 20% Price Reduction which went into effect May 2nd

Easy Street's a Long Way From Spendthrift Alley

Progress is determined only by thrift and industry. People who regularly set aside a portion of their incomes find the avenue of success easy going.

This institution is here to aid you in your onward steps.

PEOPLES BANK of SOMERSET COUNTY PRINCESS ANNE, MD.

"Frozen Credit"

When money circulates freely good times are the rule. Frozen credit—money tied up in unsalable goods and book accounts—is an important factor in the cause of business depression.

If you buy goods on credit, settle your accounts promptly at the end of each month. Pay your bills promptly so that your creditors can pay theirs.

Help keep credit fluid and money circulating. Prosperity will result. You'll profit by it.

BANK OF SOMERSET PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Capital and Surplus $ 240,000.00

Resources . . . 1,500,000.00

Strawberry Checks Printed at $1.50 per M