Count Fritz Von Breidenbach and the Countess have returned to Salisbury. The Count and Countess are looking well.

A young teacher merchant in town would like to correspond with a lady with a view to matrimony. Address "Bachelor," ADVERTISER'S BOX.

The Legislature is being flooded with the usual run of fish petitions. Maryland will legislate a long time before she strikes a law that will suit everybody.

Married on the 19th inst., at the M. E. Parsonage, in Parsonsburg, by the Rev. A. Chandler, Mr. Geo. C. Parsons and Miss Annie E. Wells, all of this county.

We publish two obituary notices of the same person this week for reasons not necessary to explain. They will both be interesting to the general reader, while their solemn lesson will do no harm.

The dredging of the north branch of the river is completed, and now vessels of light draught can go to the Wisconsin Falls Mill and load. Heretofore the lumber had to be carried down in tubs to the vessels.

Mrs. M. A. Stewart, of Delaware, delivered a lecture in Salisbury on the 15th inst. Subject: "What our girls do?" The subject is one of great interest, and will doubtless attract a large audience.

YOU DO NOT want to be cheated in the purchase of an organ, deal with a reliable company. The Siron Organ Company, at Delmar, Delaware, are perfectly reliable, and sell none but the best instruments.

MR. W. M. C. KING, our enterprising young merchant, has gone away to crown his Queen, and the twin, after being made one flesh, will return to well among us. Now if the newsways are diligent in their business, they may expect to stand before Kings.

THE SAND BAR in our river, opposite the house, a short distance from the bridge, which has been a great impediment to navigation for some time, being removed by Capt. Geo. W. Parsons. Private parties are having work done.

THE LYCEUM met on Monday night and owing to the absence of two of the members the discussion was postponed, and made public to be held in Court House on Monday evening next, when the question given for last week will be debated.

A SERIES of revival meetings are in progress in the Methodist Episcopal church of this town, and the members are laboring earnestly and faithfully for the salvation of precious souls. We hope the meetings will be attended with abundant success.

ON SUNDAY NIGHT last a coal oil lamp exploded at the residence of Mr. Levin W. Dorman, on Division street, setting fire to the carpet, but was extinguished before it had gained much headway. The carpet and some Brussels rugs were considerably damaged, and Mr. Dorman and one of his hands slightly burned.

WE DESIRE to call the attention of our farmers to the advertisement of Messrs. Hubbard & Bro., in another column. Their super-phosphate is an excellent fertilizer, and is highly recommended by many of our best farmers who have used it. Those wishing to purchase can be supplied by applying to Mr. H. D. Spence, Agent, Salisbury, Md.

OUR PEOPLE were again startled by the alarm of fire at an early hour on last Tuesday evening, which proved to be at the residence of Mrs. Martha Dymock, on Church street. A coal oil lamp exploded, but was extinguished before much damage was done. Lamp explosions are becoming quite frequent, and persons cannot be too careful how they handle lamps.

SYDNEY SHORES, of Dame's Quarter, whose marriage to his step-daughter we noticed last week, has been arrested, and he is unable to give bail, having been held for the action of the grand jury. Mr. Bowen, the preacher who performed the ceremony was also arrested, but gave bail. The penalty for marrying a step-daughter in this State is $500, and the clergyman who unites them is liable to a fine of $100.

AT THE REGULAR MEETING of the Town Commissioners on Monday night last, twenty-five pounds of cotton waste and five gallons of extra-refined lard oil were voted for the steamer company, and the project of digging a well at the west end of the alley was favorably discussed. This will give the entire upper end of Camden protection, and the expense will not be more than $80. The department boys drop off their "regulations" and tender many thanks.

THE TAX-PATERS' CONVENTION will meet in the Court House on Tuesday next, at the hour of 2 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of considering the reforms recommended by the Governor in his late message to the Legislature. A full attendance is requested. JOSEPH BRANTLEY, President.

E. E. JACKSON & Co. have purchased several cars of trucks to be used for carrying timber to Suffolk, Va., and on Monday last, while they were being hoisted up the steep hills at that place, the block from aloft gave away, and in falling struck Capt. George Ingersoll a slight glancing blow on the head, injuring him quite seriously, though not fatally. Had the block fallen squarely on the top of his head it would undoubtedly have killed him.

DIED AT HIS RESIDENCE, near Pittsville, in this county, on Friday, 13th inst., Ephraim W. DENNIS, in the 70th year of his age. Mr. Dennis arose early on Friday morning, apparently well, and was sitting before the fire, when his wife, who was still in bed, observed him seeming to be in a slight struggle. Going to him immediately, found him speechless. She sent at once for a doctor and the neighbors, but before the physician arrived he was dead.

WE HAVE RECEIVED a copy of change of time-table of J. B. & B. F. and W. Railroads, which arrived too late for this week's issue. We learn from it that only two trips per week are now made by the Steamers of the Old Dominion Line, which run between Lewes and New York, as follows: Leave Lewes on Tuesdays and Fridays on arrival of train, and leave New York on Mondays and Thursdays at 2 o'clock. See corrected schedule next week.

Handy Winder, Mrs. Frank Wilson.

Persons calling for any of the above named letters will please say they are advertised. W. H. CATHILL, P. M.

A LETTER WILL BE GIVEN on the evening of the 24th inst., at the new Court House, in this town, by the Hon. Frederick Douglass, Marshall of the District of Columbia, for the benefit of the M. E. Church, Rev. George Washington pastor. Tickets will be sold from the 15th to the 23rd, inclusive, by the following named gentlemen: Mr. L. W. Gunby, Dr. L. D. Collier, Post Master, Messrs. James James, John R. Huston, John M. Leonard and Richard J. Parker. The Marshall will be under the care of Mr. Solomon T. Huston, from whose house he will be escorted by the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, to and from the Court House. Tickets of admission 50 cents. Doors open at 6 o'clock, commencing at 7.

JAMES JAMES, Chairman. STEPHEN PETER, Treas. SOLOMON T. HUSTON, Sect. Committee.

THE ALARM OF FIRE on last Monday afternoon was caused by the burning of a house in that section of the town known as "Pigeon Hill," belonging to Mr. Hugh Jackson, and occupied by Messrs. Joshua Turner and family and Wm. Hurt and family. The fire department were promptly on hand, but owing to the steep hills at this place, and the water being so shallow, it was not possible to get water, and in consequence the entire building was destroyed. Mr. Turner, a very worthy poor man, suffered considerably, having all his beds and his daughters' clothes burned. While he does not ask it, assistance would be accepted, and indeed would be an act of charity. Donations of food, money or clothes may be left at the office, and will be acknowledged in our local columns. The house is said to be insured in the Millville Company for $800.00, but we understand that the description of the policy does not cover the property destroyed.

WE HAVE BEEN REQUESTED to say, that to let chickens run at large in town is a great annoyance to the neighbors. It is just as well right to do so. Persons who desire to enjoy the luxury of raising chickens should bear in mind that they should not allow them to trespass upon the yards, gardens or patches belonging to their neighbors, and those who desire to enjoy the good opinion and friendship of their neighbors cannot do so if they let their chickens go upon their premises. So we hope that persons who intend to raise chickens this season will be considerate enough to provide safe quarters for them, where they can be safely kept. To a little plain in our remarks we will further say, that honesty demands that you should not let your poultry trespass upon the property of others. It is no worse for children to commit trespass than to let your chickens do so with your knowledge and consent. Or in other words, it would be no worse for you to do so yourselves than to let your children do so, with your consent and approbation. Then you should not trespass upon your neighbors' premises in any way.

URGENT NOTICE in the county papers, a meeting was held in the office of the School Commissioners of this county on Tuesday night last, to take into consideration the subject of establishing a National Bank in Salisbury. On motion, Col. S. A. Graham was called to the chair, and Hon. Thos. Humphreys, appointed Secretary. The object of the meeting was briefly stated by Mr. C. F. Holland, when on motion it was resolved that books should be opened for subscriptions to the capital stock, which can be no less than $50,000. It was also resolved that no one subscriber should take more than 20 shares, of $25.00 per share, making the limit to one person $50,000. The resolution empowered the Chairman to appoint a committee of five persons to open books to receive subscriptions to the capital stock. The Chair appointed C. F. Holland, L. Malone, Thos. Humphreys, Thos. B. Taylor and F. C. Todd, said committee with power to appoint sub-committees in Somerset, Worcester and Dorchester counties, who would act as empowered to open books in their respective counties for the purpose of getting subscriptions to the capital stock of said Bank. On motion the meeting adjourned, subject to the call of the committee.

Newspaper Laws. In response to request, we give the law as it stands, relating to newspapers and subscribers:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered to continue their subscription.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publishers may continue to send them until arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing publishers, and the papers sent to former direction, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take a newspaper from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. Any person receiving a newspaper and making use of it, whether he orders it or not, is held to be a subscriber.

7. If subscribers pay in advance, they are bound to give notice to publishers at the end of their time if they do not wish to continue the paper; otherwise, the publisher is authorized to send it on, and then subscribers will be responsible until express notice, with payment, of all arrears, is sent to the publisher.

Help for Ireland. Bishop Becker, of Wilmington, Delaware, makes the following earnest appeal for contributions to help the famine-stricken Ireland:

"It appears evident from unquestioned sources that great distress exists in several districts of Ireland, and that help is less to be expected from the English government than from the people of the United States, whether of their own race or allied to the sufferers by language, blood and religion."

When famine has hold of the needy, it is time to discuss the causes of such calamity, or why this fertile country should so frequently be forced to ask alms. Rather let us give our aid generously and speedily "to save who perish," and afterwards enlarge on the reasons of such destitution.

We order a general collection in all the churches of the Diocese of Wilmington, to be taken up on the first Sunday of Lent, (February 15th), or when two churches are attended by one clergyman, as soon after as possible, and the proceeds to be sent us for proper transmission and distribution. Untiring thou art, and considerate, a strict discipline in this Holy season of Lent. He that hath mercy on the poor, lendeth to the Lord; and He will repay him. Prov. xix, 17."

Rev. Father Lyons, pastor, of St. Mary's church, Salisbury, will be happy to receive, and to transmit to the Rt. Rev. Bishop, any donations which the charity disposed shall entrust to him.

Having connected himself with the Methodist church several years ago, he died a constant member of the same, and in conversation with one of his neighbors a few days before his death, he spoke beautifully concerning his soul, and said that he knew his name was registered in heaven.

We tender our warmest sympathies to the bereaved widow and fatherless children, and hope this dispensation may impress many with the command, "Ye therefore ready for the Son of man, cometh at an hour when ye think not."

There anchored safe, Thy weary soul has found - eternal rest; No stormy gale beat, or billows roared; Across thy peaceful breast. E. J. M.

Died, on Thursday morning, February 19th, 1880, after a long and painful illness, of consumption, HUNTER H. VINCENT, aged 17 years.

Although young, he met death calmly and with Christian resignation, and bore his sufferings with fortitude. He was perfectly willing to die, and his only regret was that he had to leave his mother and brothers. He exhorted them to meet him in that haven of blessed rest, where he is now forever free from sorrow and sufferings.

His remains were interred in the Presbyterian churchyard yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

In Salisbury, on the 14th inst., Miss M. VIRGINIA WHITE entered into Life Eternal, aged 24 years.

To die young is hard. To those there is a future. It may promise well; it may not. But to the old there is little hope, save "the rest" promised to those who fear God and keep his commandments. This is the end for which they may wait without fear and without trembling.

But to die in youth when the future promises much, when we have set our hearts on a task honorable, meritorious in itself, and calling for sacrifice on our part, tearing us away from cherished associations and from those we love, then, indeed, it seems hard, very hard. And such it must have been to her who sleeps in Christ, "life's fitful fever o'er." Any from home, she passed away leaving behind her a host of friends, who regret that a life so beautiful should have been so brief.

Mortuis nil nisi bonum. As a maxim handed down to us from classic days, and here it can be fitly applied, since it is believed that she left none behind her who would not testify to her many virtues.

As a Christian, she was decidedly wholesome, and devoted to her convictions of duty; as a communicant of the Episcopal church, she prized her heavenly wages, and was ever ready to labor to advance her interests; as a friend, she was faithful and true; as a teacher, she was popular and energetic, ever striving to advance those committed to her care.

In the "Order" to which she belonged she was a devoted member, and one of the most important officers, if not the most so, was given her at the beginning, and she continued to hold it until her death. It's broad and noble teaching of "faith, hope and charity" commended themselves to her reason and judgment, and in the Grange she found ample scope for the exercise of her many gifts of self-culture. To her noble catholic spirit, its educational tendencies, all were in harmony with the profession to which she had for years devoted herself. They were in consonance with the teachings of the church of which she was a member, and which had the sanction of a judgment at once exact and well trained. Nor were its teachings to her but mere words, like the precepts of the Bible, which entered into her every day life, and became as it were a part of herself.

Had the boon of longer life been given, under this influence her mind already bright, would have expanded rapidly, and she would have become intellectually stronger—a fairer ornament to society. As it is, those who knew her best and most intimately will probably think that Halcyon's words at the death of Drake constitute her best and most fitting eulogy, "none named her but to praise." A. A.

Died at his home in Pittsville district, on the 13th inst., EPHRAIM W. DENNIS, in the 70th year of his age.

He retired the night previous in good health, arose the next morning made out his will in his room, and breathed his last.

Death is appalling when it gradually apprises us of its approach, but when the summons comes without a moment's warning, the separation seems more solemn.

Having connected himself with the Methodist church several years ago, he died a constant member of the same, and in conversation with one of his neighbors a few days before his death, he spoke beautifully concerning his soul, and said that he knew his name was registered in heaven.

We tender our warmest sympathies to the bereaved widow and fatherless children, and hope this dispensation may impress many with the command, "Ye therefore ready for the Son of man, cometh at an hour when ye think not."

SEWING AND PLANTING.

What a host of pleasurable reflections are awakened in the minds of all by these two little words! What varied hopes and pleasures they suggest!

As a fruit-grower, too, he recognizes the spring as the season of joyful activity. He knows that if he would gather he must plant, and that previous to planting he must prepare the ground.

The planting of trees inspires stability of character and continuity of purpose. It teaches us not only to wait and wait, but to labor and to wait, and inculcates a hope and trust in the future.

There is much, too, in a tree to interest and instruct in connection with the tiny shoot, as it emerges from the parent seed, so frail and yet so delicate beautiful, expanding its opening foliage to drink in the morning dew or welcome the noonday heat.

MANURING LAWNS.

Every one nowadays recognizes the beauty of a trim, well-kept lawn, though it is comparatively but few years since the showy flower garden or the untidy door-yard gave way to the fresh and smooth expanse of green turf between our dwellings and the dust of the highway.

When she had been restored and the excitement had subsided, the father took the paper out behind the house, turned to the dreadful item, and read: "It is rumored that Beaconsfield will not accept the decoration of the garter."

The amount of the Savings Bank of Louisville, Ky., deficit is $67,000. Andrew Rhoher, aged seventy, and a stockholder, has been cashier for years.

AN OLD BONANZA.

They had a church fair down at Spansicht near San Francisco, which was held in a large grain warehouse just opposite the residence of a cross old bachelor, the richest man in the place.

"What do you people mean by this infernal racket?" roared the exasperated man. "Why—this—is a fair," said the lady who ran the grab-bag.

"The tickets are two bits," replied the lady, rather shortly. "Very well; now talk quick, for this is business. How much have you taken in so far?"

"Three nights." "Very well, that makes about $40—call it $50 round numbers. Send round tomorrow and I'll give you a check for that amount. Will make it $75 if you shut up shop in ten minutes," said the old objector to innocent amusement.

A DETROITER INTERVIEWED.

A Detroitier who was out in the country the other day to look after some poultry got stuck in a mud-hole, although having a light buggy and a strong horse. He got out on a rail of a fence and was trying to pry the vehicle out when along came a strapping young fellow, about twenty-six years of age. She halted, surveyed, the situation and said:

"You stand by the horse while I leave on the rail, and don't be afraid of getting mud on your hands and boots." Their united efforts released the vehicle and Detroitier returned thanks and asked her to get in and ride. She hesitated, looked up and down the road and finally said:

"Stranger! I'm blunt spoken. Who are you?" He gave his name and residence, and she continued. "I'm over twenty-five, worth $500 in cash, know all about house-work and this is my career."

"I'm already married!" he faltered. "Honest Injun?" "Yes." "Well, that settles me, and I won't ride. I'll cut across the field to old Spooner's. He's got four sons and a man and now I'll begin on the old fool, for I've slummed around this world just as long as I am going to—Good-bye, sir—no harm done."

SALISBURY, MD., SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 28, 1880.

THE MARYLAND ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE M. P. Church meets in Washington, D. C., on the 10th proximo.

CINCINNATI has carried the day, and the Democratic National Convention will meet in that city on June 22.

IN SEVERAL TOWNS on the Eastern Shore meetings are being held to raise funds for the relief of the starving Irish people. Salisbury should not be behind her sister towns in charitable deeds.

SOME GATHERING of statistics affirms that this country pays annually about $12,000,000 to ministers, $90,000,000 to lawyers and $120,000,000 for spirituous liquors; and a good many people will wonder how it is that we waste so much for religion.

THE DRIFT of Republican sentiment and Republican politicians of the stalwart order, is now to the nomination of Grant for President and Blaine for Vice President. Sherman is the administration candidate, and has a small following outside of the office-holders.

THE GREAT advance in the price of white paper is being felt by the big journals of the country. Such papers as the New York Herald and Chicago Times find themselves over one hundred thousand dollars per annum each on circulation. In consequence of this the Chicago Times has advanced its price of subscription to sixteen dollars, and it is quite likely that other papers will do the same.

IN SPITE of the announcement made some days ago that all danger of famine in Ireland was averted, the most discouraging reports continue to come to us from trustworthy persons in the Emerald Isle. In Donegal alone the number of the distressed is said to have increased to 66,000, and the increase in the county Mayo in two weeks is reported as being nearly 17,000. Competent observers declare that the worst is yet to come, and it is conceded on all hands that there should be no relaxation on this side of the water in the efforts to swell the Relief Fund to as large a sum as possible.

THE LOCAL PAPER is what gives strangers their knowledge of the character of the people of the country where the paper is published, and in proportion to the support given will the journal be conducted. The town that is not able, or refuses to support its local paper, lacks the enterprise that will bring prosperity to the country, and deserves to sink into decay. But the town that has a live, fearless and energetic newspaper—and there are many of them—sends the intelligence all over the land, and the people know that such towns are thriving and prosperous. The first duty of the citizen is to support his local journal for the sake of patronizing home industries, if for no other, but the return he will receive will far outmeasure all that it will cost him.

A FARMER who undertakes to farm without plows, harrows, spades, hoes, shovels, pitchforks, rakes, carts, harness, axes, brier hooks, scythes, etc., is not much of a farmer, nor will he succeed in accomplishing much. If he depends upon borrowing he will lose more time going after and returning them than they would cost him, if that time was properly occupied, while the chances are that he will not get them on those terms, inasmuch as the owners are apt to want them at the same time it would suit him to borrow. Now we say to the farmers who are destitute of these utensils, or get them as are indispensable, to such as at once, if it is possible to do so, in order that when you must plant you will have the means to do it with.

THE SUB-COMMITTEE on oyster legislation have completed the draft of a bill to be submitted to the full committee. It provides for the abolition of the State Board of fisheries and the clerk to the board, and vests the appointments heretofore under the control of that body in the Governor. Fines for violations of the law shall be reduced, the present law providing a fine of two hundred dollars or imprisonment in jail, while under the act shall be punished by a fine of from fifty to two hundred dollars, and imprisonment in the House of refuge instead of the jail. The owners of vessels shall be liable with the captains for violations of the oyster law. The section in regard to the salaries of the members of the Oyster Police Force is as follows, and will of itself save about eight thousand dollars: That the salary of the commanding officer in charge of the steamer shall be fifteen hundred dollars, and he shall have power to appoint one officer at the rate of seven hundred dollars; one engineer at eight hundred dollars; three seamen at twenty-five dollars a month; two steersmen at twenty-five dollars a month; one cook at twenty dollars a month. Each deputy commander shall receive a salary of nine hundred dollars, with power to appoint an officer at a salary of five hundred and fifty dollars, and three seamen at thirty dollars a month.

ALTHOUGH it costs us considerably more to publish the ADVERTISER now, than it did a few months ago, we will not increase the price of subscription, but would most earnestly ask our subscribers to pay up. This is a reasonable request.

Marshal Douglass' Lecture.

The Douglass lecture, as advertised in these columns, came off on Tuesday evening. The court room was pretty well filled on the side occupied by the colored people, while the other side contained some fifty or sixty white persons, and constituting what might be called the more intelligent portion of our male citizens. The lecturer commenced his lecture about 8 o'clock. Subject: "Self Made Men." He talked slow and distinct, and with a clear voice, fine articulation, evidencing that the ground over which he was travelling was a well-beaten path—having perhaps delivered the same lecture more than a hundred times. His points were well taken and appropriately applied, occasionally breaking out in strains of eloquent allusions to men and events. We heartily agree with most of his points taken, while we most emphatically disagree with him on one point upon which he dwelt with some degree of force and feeling. That was the justification of a feeling of animosity in the hearts of the negroes against their former owners for the barbarism and cruelties of slavery, for we here undertake to say, and challenge successful contradiction, that the four millions of slaves in the United States at the date of the emancipation proclamation were the most intelligent, most happy, most healthy and the best looking four millions of negroes under the canopy of heaven. At the time of the emancipation there were 481,115 free negroes in the United States, and about as many more in the British Empire, Mexico, France and Spain, making, with the West India Islands, about 1,500,000; all the rest were in Africa and Oceania. But out of the whole negro race, with all the advantages conferred upon them by the frictions of commerce, trade and intercourse with the world, no other 4,000,000 of negroes could be found on the earth equal in point of morals, intellect or general civilization to the 4,000,000 of emancipated negroes in America, and they owed it to the fact that their relation as chattels had compelled this improvement. Thus far we have spoken with the authority of history to back us. Now we will venture a prediction: Let the fate of events place all the colored people of the United States in the five cotton or Gulf States of the South, those who were once in bondage and those who were free before emancipation, making in all nearly 5,000,000, or about one-tenth of the population of the whole country, they would occupy a territory about equal to the six Eastern and four Middle States, with less than one-fourth as many people as are in those ten States, and leave them to themselves, not a single white man as a resident among them, give them their own form of government adopted by themselves, regulate their trade, commerce and all internal and external policy, and in less than sixty years they would relax into a state of barbarism if not into cannibalism. We have always held and believed that the two hundred years of African slavery did more for the future welfare of the negro than all the missionary labor, money and lives sacrificed for them, from the foundation of the world. We never were a slave owner, nor never desired to be; have been a disinterested looker on for half a century, have seen the negro in bondage, and have observed him in the free States. His condition to-day in Philadelphia and other Northern cities is more degraded than it ever was in Charleston, New Orleans or Richmond.

Another reason why Fred. should not charge upon the slave-holder is this: The people of the South were not the originators of slavery. It was the product of that "Yankee ingenuity" he so eloquently dwelt upon in his remarks upon progress. It is not necessary to elaborate upon this branch of the subject, as it is well understood by all who can read intelligently. The State of Georgia resisted the introduction of negro slavery, but the Yankees finally succeeded in opening the port of Savannah to the traffic. The first cargo of negroes landed in Savannah was carried there by a Boston ship, owned and manned by Yankees. So also were nine-tenths of all the negroes who were introduced into the various parts of the South sold by New England men, with the exception of those who were sold by their masters living in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania. So it will be seen that the man who raises, or captures and sells is not blamed by Fred; only those who buy, keep, feed, clothe and civilization.

With the exception of that branch of the subject his lecture was a good one, and well received by all persons present. That he is a fine orator no candid man will deny, but he has had rare opportunities—not surpassed by any man in the country—except early training.

NEWSPAPER PUBLICATIONS.—The recent rise in the price of white paper has led several Western newspapers to make a corresponding rise in price. The leading St. Louis dailies are now sold at one cent per copy higher than heretofore—that is, at five cents per copy. The Chicago Times has likewise increased to six cents per copy. Its subscription price per year, including the Sunday edition, is now $16. The Chicago Tribune continues to sell at the old price—five cents—but has dispensed with its supplements. The fact is that it is not only the increased price of white paper, but the augmentation of expense in every department that has made the publishing of a newspaper much more costly now than ever before.

ALTHOUGH it costs us considerably more to publish the ADVERTISER now, than it did a few months ago, we will not increase the price of subscription, but would most earnestly ask our subscribers to pay up. This is a reasonable request.

Maryland State Affairs.

LAST DAY OF THE BATTLE FOR OFFICE, FINAL BATCH OF APPOINTMENTS.

The last day of the struggle for office went off on Tuesday, and the executive was greater. The Governor was obliged to retreat to his consultation room, where he sent for those he desired to confer with as he took up serially the nominations which remained for him to make. He had disordered some of the chief of the general appointments the night before, which left the Baltimore city nominations to be finally decided to-day. Before he had breakfasted the Governor's audience rooms at the executive mansion were thronged. When he went to the State House there were other crowds awaiting his coming. The chief trouble was in regard to the registers of voters for Baltimore city. For these places he was disposed to concede in all cases to requests made by Delegates and Senators, and the pressure on this account was very great. For themselves the members of the Legislature, especially those from Baltimore city, seemed more determined in regard to the registers than any other class of appointments. The result, it is believed, has been a disappointment to very many.

The Senate met an hour earlier than the usual time and soon absorbed itself in the question of taxing mortgages. The House went on with the regular jog-trot routine of business, though the seats were rather thin. A ripple of interest was excited by the presentation of a memorial for the impeachment of Judge Peare, of Allegany. The Governor, however, besieged upstairs, could not find a moment to give to so important acts awaiting his signature. Among these may be mentioned the bill for settlement of the controversy between the State and the Northern Central Railway Company, which, on approval by the executive, remains to be ratified, on the 28th inst., by the stockholders' general meeting in Baltimore.

THE RELIGIOUS WORLD IN NEW YORK. THE TWENTY-SECOND, AND HOW IT PASSED IN GOTHAM. We give below a synopsis of what was said and done in New York pulpits: Washington declared, that national morality could not prevail in exclusion of religious principle, and the religious world is every year growing more and more into accord with his words. On Sunday, Dr. Flinnay contended the world's estimate of the Father of his Country, while Dr. Davis presented him as the monarch man, and contrasted false and true freedom. Dr. Fulton drew lessons from Washington's life and from third term movements, while Dr. Pullman confined himself more especially to the birthday anniversary of the great leader. The temperance question in its various aspects was discussed by Mr. Cross, Mr. Corey, Miss Wieland and others. The teachings of Swedenborg was reviewed by Mrs. Brigham and the evidences of an invisible world by Mr. Davis. Profitable investments was suggested to young men by Mr. McKelvey, and how they may triumph over difficulties by Mr. Blake. Deliverance from temptation was sought by Mr. Stroubridge, the guiding light was set up by Mr. Colcord, the true position of women, as taught in the Bible, was shown by Mr. Goss, and intellectual women, as represented by the Queen of Sheba was indorsed by Mr. Williams. The origin and influence of hymns was indited by Mr. Mement, the Spiritations of the Bible were gathered up by Mr. Moses Hull and godly and ungodly trifles were scourged by Mr. Cleaver. Many persons would like to know where happiness can be found, and Mr. Lloyd knows and made known the secret; the reasonable service of religion was pressed home upon his hearers by Mr. Martyn, the development of character and its progress was shown by Mr. R. B. Hull, and Christ among the philosophers was discussed by Dr. Newman.

Like our own town on that day, the people turned out en masse, to hear the word. In Salisbury on that day no less than ten houses of worship were thrown open for the reception of those who desired to hear the word. See report in another column.

If you are affected with that most worrying ailment, Dyspepsia, get a bottle of Laroque's Anti-Bilious Bitters. If you have frequent Headaches, they will relieve you. If you are troubled with Constipation, you will positively be cured. In any complaint of the Stomach or Liver they are unfailing. All druggists vouch for them. Price, 25c a package; $1 a bottle. W. E. Thornton, Mfr., Baltimore, Md.

A MEMORIAL from 99 citizens of Maryland and Virginia has been presented to Congress, asking an appropriation for the deepening of the channel from Chincoteague Island to Franklin City.

State and Peninsula Gleanings.

ITEMS GATHERED FROM THE ADVERTISER'S EXCHANGES.

A telegraph office has been open at Lincoln. Milford is going to organize a military company. A Talbot county man killed three eagles one day recently. A Milford calf, 18 months old, slaughtered 400 pounds of beef. The Chestertown papers say there is not a thimble house in that town. D. S. Thompson & Son, of Milford, have shipped this season 30,000 rabbit skins. Middletown claims to distribute the largest mail of any town on the Peninsula. Still Pond, a flourishing town in Kent county, is asking to be incorporated.—Population 800.

An ostensible prayer meeting, organized by the boys of Lewes, turned out to be a gambling club. The religious revival at Hillsborough, the greatest known for thirty years, has just closed, resulting in seventy conversions. A Lewes lady has called at the post office daily for the past thirteen years to inquire for a letter that has not yet arrived. George McCoy, a dissipated and discarded husband, attempted to kill his wife in Smyrna a few days ago, but was prevented. The mail bag from Lewes to Georgetown, one morning last week, did not contain a single letter or paper. This never occurred before. Dr. B. Brown Williams got some of the young men of Pocomoke City to throw their chairs for horses.

The revival meetings in the Methodist Episcopal Church, First District, Rev. N. M. Brown, pastor, formerly of this town, continue with unabated interest. The railroad between Easton and Oxford is being pressed toward completion very rapidly, and is expected to be in running order by the middle of March. Moses Milfin, for forty years a conspicuous colored character in and around Georgetown, fell into a ditch one day last week, while drunk, and was drowned. It is stated that a new pier will be built opposite the town of Lewes, after which a regular steamboat line will be established between that place and Philadelphia. Morrow, Brown & Co., oyster packers, of Seaford, recently tried the experiment of sending oysters to California. The freight on two gallons was fifteen dollars and fifteen cents. It is estimated that there are six hundred vessels engaged in dredging oysters on forbidden grounds in this State. The number of licenses issued thus far is three hundred and eighteen. The Crisfield Dramatic Society will play "Uncle Tom's Cabin" on the 11th, 12th and 13th of March. This promises to be one of the best entertainments ever given in that locality.

There is now living in Worcester county a man 82 years of age, whose children, sons-in-law, grand-children and great-grand-children number one hundred, of which seventy-six are now living. A telephone line runs from Tunis & Brother's mills to Easton, a distance of six miles. It crosses St. Michael's river, regular sub-marine insulated cable being used for that purpose. Mr. John T. Hand, editor of the Centreville Citizen, has received the appointment of weigher in the Baltimore custom house, at a salary of $1,200 a year, and is now in the discharge of his duties. The dancing mania has suddenly seized the young men of Cambridge. It is said some of them arose from their couches at midnight and perform their fantastic gyrations whilst wrapped in the embraces of Morpheus. Philadelphia "tea agents" induced a Cecil county man to smell a sample recently, after which he knew nothing until he awoke and found that all the money he had—five dollars—was gone, and the agents nowhere to be found. A move was made in the Senate last week looking to the establishment of a State grain elevator for the reception exclusively of Maryland grain. Petitions for such an elevator have been sent from all parts of the State since the meeting of the Legislature. On a flat in Chincoteague Bay, near Franklin, something like half a million wild geese roost every night. They go on the island about 7 or 8 o'clock in the evening, and remain until morning. During the night they make such a noise that the people on shore find it difficult to sleep. Dover has some bad boys. On Friday afternoon, the 26th inst., six of them formed themselves in line some distance below the depot, and as the 3 o'clock train passed threw a volley of stones at the car windows. Several of the windows were broken, and two passengers were badly cut by the stones and broken glass.

Two messengers say: "Within less than two miles of Snow Hill there are thousands of tons of rich iron ore, samples of which Mr. George S. Richardson has recently sent north for inspection. Who knows but that furnace fire may soon be started on old Furnace Hill? It strikes us that the present price of iron would fully justify it." Fanny Hamilton, an old colored woman, born on the Choptank river, near Greensboro, recently celebrated her one hundred birthday at the colored Bethel church in Wilmington. It is said she never took but one dose of medicine in her life, was never sick but once, and that she never used spectacles but once, and then laid aside and has not used since.

There was considerable excitement in the neighborhood of Woodside, Del., a few days ago, over the unearthing by some boys of a skeleton under a barn. Surmises of a murder began to be indulged in, when it was discovered that the skeleton was the mortal remains of a young clerk who died suddenly years ago while on a visit the farm, and was buried on a strip of land over which the barn was subsequently built.

SHERIFF'S SALE. BY VIRTUE of a writ of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court for Wicomico county, and to me directed, at the suit of Chesapeake Gas Company, of the State of Maryland, against the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of George E. R. J. Collier, Lewis M. Wilson and James M. Larmour, I have sold and do direct, I have sold, upon credit, and to be paid in full, to wit: George E. R. J. Collier, to wit: one and one-half acres of land, situate in the following property, to wit: ALL THE LANDS OF THE SAID GEORGE E. R. J. COLLIER, CONTAINING 0.4 ACRES OF LAND. MORE OR LESS, where the said George E. R. J. Collier now resides. Also Two Horses, One Colt, Two Cows and Four Beds. as the property of the said defendant. And I hereby give notice, that on Saturday, March 20th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M. at the Court House in Salisbury, I shall proceed to sell the said property so taken in execution for cash, to satisfy said writ and costs. J. H. TRADES, Feb. 25th, 1879, Late Sheriff.

H. D. SPENCE, General Agent for Lower Peninsula, SALISBURY, MD. February 23rd, 1880.

An Open Letter. It Speaks for Itself.

WEST TOWNSHIP, Vt. Mr. EDITOR: Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhalant-tubes" makers (mere dollar grabbers) would be glad if they could embosom a similar cure in the newspapers. For 23 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passage became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhalant-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would sniff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 108 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hurrying and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package, and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common-sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second, nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While rising the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. It my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

Consumption Cured. An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by one of the great medical authorities of the world a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested his wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing, with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. SIBBAND, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. Oct. 25, a. o. w.

A. M. PURDY, of Palmyra, N. Y., send postpaid and free to all applicants his valuable Catalogue of Fruits and Flowers, giving kinds, descriptions, mode of planting, &c. Every person who has a rod of garden or ground to plant, should have it. He also sends free a specimen copy of The Fruit Recorder and Cottage Gardener, a monthly at $1.00 per year, devoted to fruits and flowers. It speaks for itself, while 25 cents will give his little "Small Fruit Instructor"—a work pronounced by all who have seen it, the most concise and practical of any yet printed. Persons sending to him now will get the Catalogue, and the Fruit Recorder for 1880, and the Small Fruit Instructor, all postpaid, for only One Dollar. He accepts postage stamps for odd change.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you. Free of Charge. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. Joseph T. Inman, Station D, New York City. 124-11.
