

ALL NEWS LETTERS TO "THE ADVERTISER."

Hands of every member of the board who selfishly seeks its own ends...

But when he says he is "one who really believes we are in great danger of losing both the governor and the control of the legislature," he makes what is a temporary annoyance appear to be an organic weakness.

The leaders will never allow their personal ends to blind them to an immediate party danger.

They know that their own plans must be based upon democratic supremacy.

These quarrels are a source of apprehension, but any disaster to the democratic party of the state will be postponed a year or two.

As this paper has said before, if these personal contests are carried, in all their bitterness, to the polls, there might be a danger serious enough for precaution.

We do not think the representatives of the factions are either so impulsive or so foolish.

We think the "danger" is greatly magnified. To us it appears to be only the struggle that usually precedes a nominating convention.

There are no vital differences of policy, there is no dissatisfaction with the management of the state affairs, because each of the three leaders has had a considerable share in that management.

If the leaders were suicidal enough to precipitate a struggle after the regular democratic convention, where will they find a following?

The people all over the state are expressing a decided disgust with these bickering and no voice worth listening to is raised in the personal support of any.

Does this look like disorganization? It has the appearance of unusual health to us. The state democratic convention will be less under the control of individuals than is usual in any part of the Union, in any party.

The democrats of the state will make the nominations and Messrs. Gorman and Hamilton will have to officiate at St. Paul.

The best way, (at St. Paul) after it is done to find out how A. M. and G. H. will do.

Thos. G. Hays, of Kingston, was in town Thursday, planting beds of roses at Wm. H. Jackson's residence.

The republicans are not as strong as they were last year. In the legislature of '82 there was a little tidal wave which will hardly be repeated.

The Senate will be close but there will be a strong democratic majority in the House.

Every thing points that way. The republicans are disorganized. The best ones are not interested in their party and would be sorry to have it succeed at this time.

The only important gains they have made are in Southern Maryland, and these will be offset by losses elsewhere.

As for the independents they are confined to a few soreheads and a few republicans. They have no organization and not a tin whistle for a bugle of array.

As one of Disraeli's characters says, a party must have a cry. The independents have no cry and nothing to cry about.

The counties everywhere have thrown off any slight allegiance they may have had to the personal fortunes of this or that chief and their swords are their own.

There is an honest and resolute purpose to have a fair convention and to nominate the best candidates without regard to the class.

The advertising season is opening, and the enterprising agents who want space at top of column, next to reading matter and a column of reading notices all at half rates, are sending their propositions along lively.

It does Uncle Sam good in extending the sale of postage stamps.

The ingenuous prophets may draw down their faces but they cannot make us believe the democratic party is in danger, when every decent republican in Maryland is ashamed to own himself as a part of Creswell's band.

It is pleasant to know a real democratic party can succeed in the city of Baltimore. The Day preaches the Simon-pure article. Its rapidly increasing circulation is proof of its merit.

The democrats who try to be reformers by publishing melancholy forebodings are not doing their party much good.

The Marylander gives its editorial space this week to a letter from Levin L. Waters on the political situation.

It might have done better. These croakings are neither well founded nor wise.

With all proper respect for our contemporary and for its correspondent, who, we believe, has some local reputation in Somerset, we think the remedy he proposes is impracticable.

It sounds like the effusion of a beginner in politics. He recommends that Senator Gorman resign the chairmanship of the State Committee, Gov. Hamilton's friends cease pressing him for a renomination and Mayor Whyte abstain from packing the organization with his friends.

This is hard on Senator Gorman. He is invited to confess judgment and acknowledge that he is a culprit.

The others are only required to make promises to vague to be binding. It is whiggish doctrine to intimate that the people are too weak to attend to their own political affairs.

The true statement of the remedy, as we have frequently said, is for the people to quietly go on with their organization, without reference to these quarrels.

If they desire to depose Mr. Gorman and the others, they are the persons and theirs is the power to carry their wishes into execution.

Mr. Gorman will, of course, remain in his position until he is succeeded by the man selected in the ordinary way.

Gov. Hamilton's friends will persevere in their efforts now as before, if they see a ghost of a chance.

Mayor Whyte will use the same means to retain ascendancy he always has.

We do not know that he has ever "packed" any organization, but if he has, it is very innocent to expect him to refrain now.

Mr. Gorman's retirement would not bind him, either, to give up his personal ambitions.

Suppose these gentlemen complied with Mr. Waters's wishes. We presume according to his theory, the people's uneasiness is then to be allayed and everything to go along without interference.

What a glorious chance that would be for the politicians. They would then have the game in their own hands.

These promises would be forgotten and they would manage the conventions in high glee.

No, the uneasiness ought rather to be kept alive. Let every politician in the state do his worst.

He will anyhow. Then let the power of an awakened people fall with unbroken force upon them.

There will be no need afterward of promises. Every unfaithful servant will get his final discharge.

The responsibility, according to democratic belief, is always with the people. No politician is greatly to blame for following his business.

If the people are willing to let their party go to pieces because of dissensions, they have a right to do so and they ought not to complain.

But we believe they are aroused and mean to stand by the party and to clear it of incumbents.

The Centreville Observer takes hold of the political difficulty thus: "Col. Richard C. Holliday, of Talbot county, has written a letter to the press in which he recommends a reorganization of the Democratic party as a cure for the discontent now said to be existing in the ranks.

Col. Holliday's advice is always good, and in this case it might be practical and the cure effected if the remedy should be applied.

To our minds, however, a much shorter road points to the remedy. Reorganization is at this time unnecessary, from the fact that the organization is already effected, and the party is in good running order.

What the party wants is attendance at the primary meetings, the election of men to the nominating convention who are unpledged, and who are men of such high character and integrity that when they get into convention they can be relied upon to nominate the men who will best promote the interests of the party, and who will not grovel in the dust of single servility to the interests and whims of men who want place and power.

That is where the remedy lies, and the people are the doctors, having the remedy in their hands. If they fail to apply it, they have no right to find fault with the men who succeed to place and run the party in their absence."

Peter Cooper died of pneumonia at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. Mr. Cooper was 92 years old at the time of his death.

He only celebrated his 92d birthday on February 12, when there was quite a social gathering at his house. He was lying for some time with a slight cold, and on Sunday he was compelled to remain in his bed.

His family physician, Dr. J. J. Hull, was at once summoned, and on his arrival discovered that his patient was suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Cooper's death was a great drawback to his recovery. About 2 o'clock he called his son, Ex-Mayor Cooper, and Mrs. Abram S. Hewitt, his daughter, and her family to his bedside, saying to them that he knew he had not long to live and that they must become reconciled to this fact.

His death occurred exactly at 3 a. m. and he remained conscious up to the time of his demise and made several remarks in regard to family affairs.

Mr. Cooper was born in New York on February 12, 1791, and lived a full life of honors from his early boyhood.

The present Star route trial has passed the eighteenth week, with Mr. Dorsey on the witness stand under cross-examination. The former trial extended over fifteen weeks, or nearly four months.

The Conspiracy.

How Kellogg Saved the Republican Party.

The New York Sun is moved by Kellogg's admission to publish the following article:

William P. Kellogg takes his recent indictment as a personal persecution and as an act of base ingratitude on the part of the Administration.

He claims that he "saved the Republican party in 1876" by issuing certificates as Governor of Louisiana for eight electors, all of whom had been defeated by large majorities.

In an interview on this subject, reported in the Boston Herald, Kellogg asserts that Chandler telegraphed him that unless Louisiana could be held all was lost.

Thereupon he exerted his official power to prevent the impending catastrophe, and with success.

This confession reveals only a part of the conspiracy by which the Presidency was stolen outright in 1876.

That conspiracy was hatched by the present Secretary of the Navy, who sent out the first false telegram, in the name of Zach Chandler, claiming 185 votes for Hayes.

This was after Tilden's election had been proclaimed to the world, and after Hayes, in a public speech at Columbus, had admitted his own defeat.

The conspirators drafted the presence of Mr. Tilden in the White House. It was sure the result in an exposure of the corruption in the departments.

They had possession of the Government, and were determined to keep it, even to the extent of provoking civil war.

The scheme of sending visiting statesmen, as they were called, to Louisiana, South Carolina, and Florida was invented as a convenient cover for the inept designs of the conspirators.

That plan insured a divided report, by which doubt might be raised in the public mind and the partisan spirit enlisted on the Republican side.

Behind the authors and managers of this foul work stood Grant's Administration, threatening to meet reonstrance with force, and menacing the people's representatives with arrest and imprisonment for defending an honest election.

Gen. Sherman summoned picked troops to Washington from frontier posts two thousand miles distant; and the capital was garrisoned as if in preparation against a foreign enemy.

John Sherman, Garfield, Stanley Matthews, and other Republican chiefs went to Louisiana to organize the fraud for stealing that State, which had given Tilden a fair, clear and positive majority of about eight thousand votes.

Their acts have become a part of the political history of the times, and are familiar to the country.

Despite the rank perjury, the forgeries, the frauds, and the destruction of returns, Wells, Anderson, and their associates in the Returning Board found the task of overcoming the large and lawful majority for Tilden difficult and dangerous.

They determined to seize the opportunity for a great speculation, and to sell the vote of the State to the highest bidder.

An overture to that effect was made to Don Cameron, the Secretary of War, with a modest demand for a million of dollars.

He declined the offer. Mr. Hewitt, then Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, was next approached by an agent of Wells with a more moderate offer, but he refused absolutely to entertain the proposition, upon any terms whatsoever.

After long and unsuccessful huckstering, the time drew near for final action. On the eve of the return, Wells proposed to Duncan F. Kenner, recently a member of the Tariff Commission, to give Tilden the vote that belonged to him for two hundred thousand dollars down.

That attempted negotiation failed, and Kellogg, as Governor, certified eight Republican electors from Louisiana, a majority of whom had been beaten by one of thousands.

The act of March 1, 1876, provides that "The electors shall make and sign three certificates of all the votes given by them, each of which shall contain two distinct lists, one of the votes for President and the other of the votes for Vice-President, and shall annex to each of the certificates one of the lists of the electors which shall have been furnished to them by direction of the Executive of the State."

The electors shall seal up the certificates so made by them, and certify upon each that the lists of all the votes given for such State for President, and of all the votes given for Vice-President, are contained therein."

These certificates are disposed of as follows: One set is given in charge to a special messenger—who in this case was Anderson of the Returning Board—to be delivered to the President of the Senate, before the first Wednesday in January then next ensuing; the second set, with the contents superscribed on the envelope, is addressed to the President of the Senate by mail; and the third set is delivered to the Judge of the district in which the electors shall assemble.

The same act declares that Congress shall be in session on the second Wednesday in February succeeding every meeting of the electors, and that the certificates, or so many of them as have been received, shall then be opened, and the votes counted.

It is thus seen that the certificates are sealed when delivered to the President of the Senate before the first Wednesday in January, and they cannot be legally opened before the second Wednesday in February.

Thomas W. Ferry at that time was President pro tempore of the Senate. Anderson delivered the Louisiana certificates to him. Externally they were correct in form. But it was soon discovered that a serious error, invalidating the certificates, had been committed. That error could not have been detected without breaking the seal, violating the law, and perpetrating a felony.

The certificate was in the possession of Ferry officially as the custodian nominated for that object by the law. The limit of time was near beyond which the certificates could not be received in Washington. Anderson hastened back to New Orleans to get a new certificate. Three of the bogus electors could not be reached. Their names were forged to the substituted paper, as was proved before the Potter committee, and John Sherman gave them offices subsequently to shut their mouths. Kellogg's private secretary was charged with complicity in getting up the forged certificate. Kellogg himself doubtless knows who is responsible for that crime.

Kellogg's claim that he "saved the Republican party in 1876" is true.

Democratic victories in the municipal elections are good omens for 1884.

Hands are asking $30 a month and board to haul seines at the river fisheries. The commission men have made their appearance. It is a sure sign of spring.

Over fifty conveyances of real estate were recorded in the clerk's office during March. Mr. Kennerly says he has been so bothered and abused that he is not anxious for a reelection.

The difficulty of getting something to eat at this season makes every house-keeper long for a market house. Hales and boxes attest the large amounts of new goods the merchants are receiving for the spring trade.

The warm rain yesterday is the best indication of opening spring we have yet had—except the commission men. The second of the young people's post-Lenten events was a carnival party at Miss Emma Powell's, Thursday evening.

Mr. Fred Smith, in Frankford, entertained his friends Thursday evening. Music and dancing were the principal amusements. Owing to circumstances over which the doctor has no control, there will be no service in Spring Hill Parish on Sunday next, April 8th. F. B. Adkins, Rector.

Mr. Charles Wallis showed us some strawberries Tuesday, grown in the open field, which were as large as peas. He said the patch showed quite a number of blossoms. Thos. G. Harold, of Kingston, was in town Thursday, planting beds of roses at Wm. H. Jackson's residence. He will put out two large coleus beds there in a few weeks. Balliff Kennedy had the gutters cleaned Thursday and yesterday's rains tumbled down the streets in merry streams. One or two had places are still left for the new officials. The shelled streets level a scraper. The dust is very troublesome after a day or two of dry weather. The shells soon get ground on top to a powder. A scraper would keep the surface always a hard bed.

Music was furnished by Miss Ella Robinson. The ceremony, was performed by Rev. J. L. Straughn.

The town election Monday was very quiet. There was no opposition to the regular ticket and it was voted by practically every one who exercised the right of suffrage. Messrs. James A. Venables and James White were judges and W. H. Warren, clerk. 137 votes were cast. W. B. Tilghman received 133, Dr. S. M. Longacre 134, A. N. Benjamin 122. Of the scattering, J. Holland had 5, E. S. Toadvin, C. F. Holland, Stephen Peters, Richard Jones and Perry W. Parker, each one.

Willie Wilson, of Green Hill, seeing a hawk alight among a flock of geese, last Friday, started, without any weapons, to capture it. Just as he arrived at the scene of the contest between the geese and hawk, the hawk endeavored to make its escape, but Willie seized it and succeeded in capturing it. It killed four goslings before it attempted to leave the flock. As it was apparently an old bird, he was talking of rewarding the young gentlemen for his bravery, and hence we see that audaces fortuna juvat.

The case of Cannon vs. Travers went to the jury at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. The jury stood out all night and at ten o'clock Saturday morning the foreman reported that there was no chance of an agreement and Judge Wilson discharged them. The suit will probably be renewed and another trial come off in the fall. The jury is understood to be eight for plaintiff and four for defendant. The railroad cases were tried Friday afternoon. The E. S. Company was found guilty of obstructing road and fined. The W. P. Company were found not guilty.

Postmaster Owens is about to introduce another improvement in the shape of a series of lock boxes. These he will place on the side opposite the general delivery department, making both sides of the room correspond. The lock boxes are in the office before were not enough for the demand. The new ones are an ornament to the office, being finished in walnut and with glass enough in the doors to make examination easy without opening the boxes. He will charge twenty-five cents a quarter for box and key for the key which will be returned on delivering up the key.

He Objects to Borrowing. Thinks Every Man's Property is his Own and Nobody's Else. The young gentleman who comes for copy, waited one day lately, while the editor with bent brows was concocting a muddy editorial. When a pause came in the writing, he said: "Mr. Editor, don't you think there's too much borrowing done?" The editor said he couldn't assent altogether as he had to depend on a friend for a five sometimes, himself. Regardless of his feelings the moralist proceeded: "It seems to me some people have a way of looking on a friend's property as their own. They will borrow anything, even to his coat. They are too stingy or too shiftless to buy or hire things. I have seen a man's horse ruined by such unwelcome friends, his books lost or destroyed, his clothes out of shape and his pockets empty. A man has no right to ask a favor he cannot return. There ought to be no borrowing at all, unless among very intimate friends who exchange favors of that sort on equal terms. When a man or woman owns anything, it is presumed it is for his or her own use. Sometimes it amounts to a considerable tax on one's resources to fill the demands of mere acquaintances, aside from the inconvenience of having articles out of the way when wanted. A man who owns a good gun feels a cold chill down his back when somebody takes it off 'borrowed.' He knows the chances are three to one that it will be out of order when returned. It is the same way with a book, a carriage, a plow, a saddle and almost everything else of value. The rights of property are not respected. The friendship of many of these borrowers is very dearly purchased. They get more and more exacting and after a while will actually get offended if they don't receive everything they ask for, even if the owner wants to use it himself."

What the Newspapers Have to Say on Various Subjects.

D. W. McVey, of Rising Sun, shot on Thursday a hawk measuring 47 inches from tip to tip of wings, and 20 inches from peak to end of tail.

The Rev. E. L. Hofferker who was transferred to Indiana from the conference at Cambridge, is stationed at Washington, Davies county.

The Rev. Dr. G. A. Phelan, whom the Methodist Conference at its late meeting placed on the supernumerary list, has vacated the St. Georges parsonage. He will go to Brooklyn.

W. S. Goslin of Caroline county, challenges the farmers of the whole county on the yield of corn of a four-acre patch. He makes no conditions as to soil, cultivation or fertilizers, but the winner is to have both crops.

Two cans of gunpowder and one of gun cotton, mysteriously exploded in George W. Bonnum's store at Georgetown last Wednesday, doing no particular damage beyond alarming several persons who were in the store at the time.

It is rumored, that the residents of a certain locality, just outside of the limits of the town of Rising Sun, are talking of founding a new town, and giving it the name of Florence. Ground has already been broken for the erection of several new buildings.

We see in the Philadelphia papers that Delaware will produce a big crop of peaches this season. This piece of news will much please our fruit growers. They are always a bit uneasy about the peach crop until they see in the Philadelphia papers that it is safe.—Middleton Transcript.

R. Hyson, attorney for the owners, has sold the farm named "Round Top," on Chester river, on the Queen Anne's side above Chestertown, to Dr. S. E. Ford of the Chester-river Steamboat Company, at private sale, for $44,450. The tract contains 1,018 acres, about 300 acres of which are in peach trees.

John Gale, a popular mule dealer of Queen Anne's and Talbot counties, recently failed. His friends raised a fund and purchased his seven mules to start him in business again. The mules all sickened and died, having been poisoned by some enemy, and to crown his misfortunes Mr. Gale contracted the small-pox.

The American Farmer for April 1st terms with samples for Spring work and valuable information on all farm topics—reports from experienced agricultural clubs, and contributions from practical men, making up a seasonable bill of fare, which will be relished by every intelligent farmer who wants to keep up with the best methods in their business.

The live-stock, dairy, poultry and garden departments are interesting and full of matter. No farmer but will find it to his advantage to read regularly this old-established farm mentor, which is published on the 1st and 15th of every month by Saml. Sands & Son, Baltimore at $1.50 a year, 10¢ to clubs of five or over.

Mr. D. S. Wroten has had constructed an incubator which works admirably. He uses only lamp gas for heating, keeping the temperature at 100 degrees. The eggs are in drawers which can be moved out when it is advisable to cool the eggs. The incubator contains about sixteen dozen eggs. Thirty six bright little chicks, a week old, are now running about, the results of the incubator.

Res Buildings Going up and Prospects for a Prosperous Year.

Mr. Editor:—We recognize the fact that your space is too valuable to admit lengthy prolix articles to your columns, but presume that a few lines occasionally from our village would not be wholly insipid and devoid of interest to some of your numerous readers.

In a change of hands the "Dashiell Lot," and proposes to purchase a handsome dwelling thereon. Mrs. Hester Twilley has purchased the "Porter Lot" and we anticipate improvements there. Mr. B. F. Messick has transplanted the dwelling he now occupies to his lot on the opposite side of the street, preparatory to the erection of a fine edifice upon the old site. We venture to predict for our village vicinity a prosperous year.

At last the penetrating rays of ruddy Phoebus break through the dense, dim clouds of stern, rigid, frigid old winter and dispel the gloom that has hung so long like a dark canopy in our sky. We rejoice in the gladsome light and hail with exquisite pleasure the return of balmy spring. The warbling birds in the leafless tree, the discordant croak of the timid frog proclaim the departure of winter. Let us hope that the last struggle is over and that winter will not linger to nip the buds of May.

Fare thee well, stern winter. The parting gives no path. Why thy cloak about thee. And cross the smiling main. We would not keep thee longer—Hold thy frosty breath; Thy parting kiss is chilling; 'Tis like the kiss of death.

Go, thou rough old fellow, Begone! I way I away! Go breathe upon the poplars. And we will welcome May. Come thou delightful maid! Let see the blushing face. Old winter has departed. We court thy warm embrace. We will welcome thee again With laughter and good cheer. Do we catch the sweet perfume As it's wafted on the air?

Ab do we see thee now? Come sprinkle us with flowers. How redolent thou art! Oh! let them come in showers. The scene was quite amusing. King winter with a frown. Mr. Gurdy has considerable experience on the Lella and is acquainted with the duties of the position.

—Capt. John E. Graham was in town Tuesday. His visit is a little earlier than usual, owing to a circular of the Treasury Department requiring all special government taxes to be paid during the month of April. The rebate allowed on tobacco on the first of May applies only to those whose taxes are paid. Consequently the department desires all to be settled this month, to avoid trouble.

—For some time past the School Board has been troubled with requests of parents living in California to allow their children to attend the schools in town. The board is therefore considering the advisability of abolishing the California schools and concentrating all the funds in the district schools in town. No doubt they would be glad to hear from persons interested so they may be able to know the preference of a majority of the parents.

—Miss Koons of Philadelphia, and Dr. Charles Long, of Wilkesbarre, have been visiting Mrs. Isaac Ulman for several days. They left for the North Tuesday morning. Monday evening a large company of ladies and gentlemen were invited to meet them and partake of the well known generous hospitality of Mrs. Ulman. The guests were invited to supper at 10 o'clock, to which they marched to music. After supper, Prof. Taylor was ready for the dancers, and the light fantastic was tipped until the small hours. Some of the married folks took their leave earlier, but not enough left to interfere with the pleasure of the young people. It was one of the pleasantest entertainments of the season.

—John B. Taylor, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Sharpshooters, died of paralysis, at his home near Riverton Wednesday morning. He was attacked with the disease last Saturday. He had attained a great age and always had the deepest respect and friendship of the people of the county.

—The sale of the personal property of the late Benjamin Elliott, Wednesday, was largely attended. Prices ruled very good. Several young hogs brought 125 cents a pound and one sow and eight small pigs ran up to $35.50.

—The internal revenue collector frightened some of the young business men this week, by stepping in and overhauling the cigar boxes. They were not sure whether he was a drummer looking for old debts or a snake.

—A wharf has been fitted up at Henry J. Dashiell's farm where Louis Dashiell resides. The Columbia will stop there for freight and passengers.

—The Shakespearean meeting Mrs. Fish's next Monday. Home and Juliet will be begun if Henry VI is finished in time.

—Mrs. Fields, wife of Thomas Fields, died at her home in Camden, of pneumonia, this week.

—Mrs. Mary Thomas, of Wilmington, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Mary Nichols.

What the Newspapers Have to Say on Various Subjects.

—Erasmus D. Wolfe of Philadelphia, a prominent Methodist, is dead. He was a native of Wales.

—J. J. Edmondson, near College Green, Cecil county, has a tall eight-day clock manufactured by "Wilson," in 1745. It is still a good timekeeper.

—A telephone line between Preston, Caroline county, and Easton, Talbot county, is talked of, and Federalburg would like to be in the same circuit.

—"The Plains," a tract of land owned by the late Mrs. Bourne, near Greensborough, Caroline county, and containing about 1,800 acres of excellent land, is to be sold at public sale at an early day. The buildings on this estate are said to have cost $75,000.

—Among the effects of the late Mrs. Ann M. Turner, who recently died in Queen Anne's county, was found the inaugural address of President Harrison printed on silk in large type and beautifully bordered. The size of the silk sheet is 18 by 24 inches. It was printed by J. Murphy, 146 Market street, Baltimore, in 1840.

—The family of Edward L. Garrison, of Chesapeake City, has been greatly afflicted with pneumonia for the last two weeks. An aged aunt of Mrs. Garrison died about two weeks ago. Mrs. Garrison died Sunday, and a cousin of hers from Delaware, who came to nurse her, died on Wednesday, and Mr. Garrison died on Thursday afternoon.

—A very amusing spectacle was witnessed at the Denton court house on Thursday last, when James Breeding a prisoner escaped from the grasp of the Sheriff, made his way through the crowd and sprang out the court house door and struck a lively gait across the court yard and down the street to the nearest woods, with the Sheriff, deputies and a crowd following. The excitement of the chase emptied the packed court room of its audience, and was several hours before the wheels of justice moved on. The prisoner, whose trial was then in progress, was captured about a mile from the town.

"Ma, don't you remember that one day, a few years ago, you swooned?" "Yes, my dear, I have a faint recollection of it."

"Who is the most finished orator?" asks a correspondent. Well, Demosthenes has been finished about as long as any of them.

A much abused editor wrote to a brother journalist calling him an ass, and thoughtlessly signed himself, "Yours, fraternally."

"Clara asks: 'What disease is most frequently transmitted by kissing?'" A wise editor replies: "Palpitation of the heart, we believe."

"Don't wear dingy or faded things when the ten-cent Diamond Dye will make them good as new. They are perfect and cost but 10c."

"He a doctor?" said Joe Capp, speaking with a large contempt of a medical practitioner in his neighborhood. "I don't believe he, but could cure a ham."

A Chicago doctor advertises: "Don't mistake drowsy for consumption." "That's right. This constant mistaking delirium tremens for malaria is bad enough."

Countryfolk (to his son, at a concert during the performance of a duet): "D'ye see, Tom, now it's getting late they're singing two at a time so as to get done sooner."

It is not a little curious that when a young man is best on seeing the world he labors under the hallucination that he can see it better after dark than during the day time.

A bonanza mine of health is to be found in Dr. J. Pierce's "Favorite Remedy for the Merits of which as a Permanent Cure of all weakness and kindred affections thousands testify."

When a man begins to go down hill, he finds everything greased for the occasion, says a philosopher, who might have said that, when he tries to climb up, he finds everything greased for the occasion, too.

"There's a good deal of sickness around," said Mrs. McGill to a reporter, "some have the influenza, and others the tepid ammonia. I have noticed that these sickly winters are alices unhealthful."

If you experience bad taste in mouth, salivaceous or yellow color of skin, feel stupid and drowsy, appetite unsteady, frequent headache, diarrhoea, you are "bilious," and nothing will arouse your liver to action and strengthen up your system equal to Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." By druggists.

A correspondent from the far away State of Colorado, writes: "An old Indian at this agency remarked when he tasted New Life, the Great Cough Remedy, for the first time 'Ugh! big medicine!' After it had cured him of asthma he said: 'Ugh! hear much big medicine!' This is the general verdict. Its action in throat and lung troubles, is little short of marvelous.

Bay City, Mich., Feb. 3, 1880. I think it my duty to send you a recommendation for the benefit of any person wishing to know whether Hop Bitters are good or not. I know they are good for general debility and indigestion; strengthen the nervous system and make new life. I recommend my patients to use them, Dr. A. Pratt.

A traveler in the Holy Land noticed a woman, heavily laden with domestic animals, toiling up a high hill, while her husband, selfish, proud, lazy and useless as an American Indian, rode by her side on a donkey comparatively free from burden. The traveler stepped up, moved by pity for the poor woman, and asked the man why he didn't relieve her and put some of the implements on his donkey's back. "The man could not inform him that he didn't have to pay anything for a wife, while a donkey cost him 20 francs.

Remember This: If you are sick Hop Bitters will surely aid Nature in making you well when all else fails.

If you are constive or dyspeptic, or are suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the stomach or bowels, it is your own fault if you remain ill, for Hop Bitters are a sovereign remedy in all such complaints.

If you are wasting away with any form of Kidney disease, stop tempting Death this moment, and turn for a cure to Hop Bitters.

If you are sick with that terrible disease Nervousness, you will find "Balm in Gilead" in the use of Hop Bitters.

If you are a frequentur, or a resident of a miasmatic district, have your system against the scourge of all countries—malaria, epidemic, bilious, and intermittent fevers—by the use of Hop Bitters.

If you have rough, pimply, or scaly skin, bad breath, pains and aches, and feel miserable generally, Hop Bitters will give you fair, rich blood, and sweetest breath, health, and comfort.

In short they cure all Diseases of the stomach, bowels, blood, liver, nerves, kidneys, Bright's Disease. $3.00 will pay for a case that will not cure or help.

Notes for the Farmers.

Few keeping in mind the best employments for children. There are very few young persons, indeed, without a fondness for the occupation, and it affords them excellent lessons in industry.

In feeding sweet milk to pigs, trials made by the Wisconsin experimental farm showed that on an average four pounds of corn meal were equal to twenty pounds of sweet milk, if fed separately.

The Department of Agriculture estimates that the stock of corn on land March 1st was about 680,000,000 bushels, or thirty-six per cent. of last year's crop. The proportion of wheat on hand is twenty-eight per cent. of the crop, or about 140,000,000 bushels.

Maine has forty-nine cheese factories, with an average of 107 cows to each, 60 being the lowest and 800 the highest number. The total product of all these factories during the last year was 639,854 pounds of cheese, the average price received being twelve and a-half cents per pound.

In many instances too much "fussiness" or attention to setlers is the only reason eggs hatch badly. Frequently, however, quite a large percentage of the eggs are unfertile from various reasons.

After the hen has been sitting on eggs for five days the eggs should be examined at night by a lamp or lantern, and all that are yet clear should be removed, as they would not hatch, and therefore are only in the way in the nest.

The best use to make of coal ashes is to put them into your walks in gardens and about the premises, in the carriage drive, and as a mixer with heavy soils. They will keep down weeds and grass, and the growth of weeds and grass, and always afford dry avenues. In five minutes after a rain, during eight months of the year, they contain no moisture and are never soft; in a word, are the best substance for this purpose we know of.

Hence it is quite the use which they can be applied, and it is really an important one. Clean, dry walks about the premises cannot be too highly estimated.

The farmer is getting the advantage of the inventive faculty of the present age. Steam thrashing machines are slowly but surely displacing the old method of thrashing by horse power. It takes more help to keep the machine running up than it did by horse power, but they are much steadier motion is given, and the much dreaded "thrashing days" are shortened by one-half, which is a great boon to the farmer and his wife. There is only one team needed, and that the thrashing men furnish themselves, and use it for hatching water in the steam engine.

Where the thrashing grain has to be taken any distance, of course teams have to be used for hauling it away.

Tomatoes do best on light, warm, not over rich soil, and succeed depends upon securing a rapid, vigorous, unchecked growth during the early part of the season. Sow in hotbeds during March, or from six to eight weeks before they can be set out of doors; when the plants have four leaves, transplant into shallow boxes, sitting them four or five inches apart give plenty of air, and endeavor to secure a vigorous but steady and healthy growth, so that at the time of setting in the open ground they will be strong and stocky, about as broad as high. A slight check will do the plants small will materially diminish their productiveness. Set out of doors as soon as danger from severe frosts is over, but before doing so, harden off the plants by gradually exposing them to the night air and the withdrawal of water or until the wood becomes hard and the leaves thick and of a dark green color. Transplant carefully and cultivate well as long as the vines will permit. The fruit is improved in quality if the vines are tied to a trellis or to stakes.

Dr. Sturtevant has made some interesting experiments with the potato at New York Experiment Station, which show that deep-cut and single eyes produce the most and the best marketable potatoes, while single eyes cut shallow were inferior. From a dissection of the potato the Doctor finds it put together something like the cone of a pine tree, the buds or eyes of the potato being connected by a sort of umbilical cord with the center of the tuber at which point is the core or central stem. These internal stems or veins may be plainly seen in the raw potato by cutting in thin slices from stem to seed end, and holding up to the strong light of a lamp. The appearance will be something like the trunk of an external stem, the internal stems are burst by cooking, these veins probably disappear or are less visible. The new theory advanced by Dr. Sturtevant is that the potato should be so cut as to keep the connection between the eye and the center of the tuber, the experiments for the past season showed that an eye cut shallow in every case gave a smaller yield than when it was cut long or deep, so as to reach the center of the potato.

In successful floriculture the first requisite is reliable seeds. No pains or expense should be spared in securing the best. The seeds of some of the species are very small and delicate, and, from many causes, are liable to fail, particularly when sown in the open ground. If sown too early, the earth lacks the warmth necessary to insure germination; if covered too deeply, the delicate sprouts cannot force their way through; if heavy rains ensue, the seeds may be entirely washed away, or the soil beaten down and crushed over, or perhaps left in such a wet condition as to cause the seeds to decay. Again, the sowing may be done in an irregular manner, and, if the seeds have become at all swollen, they are liable to become dry in such a case they are utterly ruined. The middle of May is early enough, in this latitude, to sow most of the species in the open ground, but some sowing is a great mistake. The small and delicate seeds must be covered very lightly with earth; the finest of them had better be sown without any covering beyond the simple pressure of a smooth board; the larger and more hardy seeds may be planted deeper, and some suits may be sown earlier. A rather light, sandy loam, flowers; and in such soils seeds generally germinate well. Some flowers thrive best in a rather shady situation and in rather heavy clay soils (the pansy is a notable example), while other species do best upon light, poor soils, and exposed to the full rays of the sun. This is particularly true of the portulaca; a partial shading is necessary to protect those delicate seedlings that come from very small seeds.

MRS. J. BERGEN'S,

Leading Fashionable Millinery Emporium

Under the Morris Opera House,

SALISBURY, MD.

Opposite Philadelphia, Pa. Penn Harrow Manufacturing Co. Camden, New Jersey

Light Draft Combination Penn Harrow.

Best in the World. Strongest and most durable. Gives the greatest work with least wear. Another great advantage of the Penn Harrow is that it can be so easily changed into five different harrows, a Corn, a Mowing, a Plowing, a Cultivating, and a Complete Sled for each Harrow, without adding an extra piece or bolt. Thus the farm has all the Harrows in the one required on hand, and they are adapted to any soil.

Penn Harrow is made of the Best White Oak, with Best Teak, Well Painted and every way first-class. Formerly a Harrow was the most unhandy implement on the farm, but our improvements it is the most convenient, and a great saving of time and labor, look to your interest and buy the Penn Harrow. Manufactured only by the Penn Harrow Manufacturing Co. Camden, New Jersey

Town and County.

Mrs. E. L. Williams has been suffering with diphtheria this week, but is much better.

A pair of fish fell overboard at the bridge yesterday. A funny neighbor says it was a shad accident.

The mail via Crisfield has not appeared for three mornings in succession within the past week.

Mr. George Waller has made some improvements at Poplar Hill and made the house look fresh and bright.

Capt. T. W. H. White and J. W. McGrath brought down a lot of mules from Philadelphia a few days ago.

Rev. Alexander Sinclair and Mrs. Sinclair have been in Middleton, Del., during the week, attending Presbytery.

Balliff Taylor desires to notify those interested that the law in regard to fast driving will be strictly enforced by him.

Samuel S. Smyth, Esq., is paying a visit to his father, Rev. J. J. Smyth, in Pennsylvania. He will be absent a week or two.

Mr. W. W. Seabrook and A. H. Pendock took a fine brown trotter, seven years old and with a 2.30 gate to Baltimore, Wednesday.

A ten-year-old boy in this place says his wish-boys come as they pleased when they are ten years old. Many other boys agree with him.

Shad brought 60 cents a pair Thursday morning. The east winds of the week have kept the fish back and both shad and herring are scarce.

Dr. C. W. Chancellor, of the State Board of Health, was in town Wednesday, looking at the jail. As there were no inmates, the inspection was not difficult.

On and after Tuesday, 24th inst., the Salisbury Circulating Library will be open from 5 to 6 o'clock P. M. every Tuesday and Friday, D. J. Holloway, Librarian.

A train containing some P. W. & B. officials came down Thursday night at ten o'clock, and went by on their return in about twenty minutes. It was a mysterious sort of visit.

Mamie Truder, after a winter of rest, is again in town. She is looking well and will prove the fastest stepper on the streets, if the balliff don't look after her too carefully.

Thomas Hiltchell died at his residence in Culberton Tuesday night, aged 70 years. He was a carpenter and builder and it was his business for many years. He was an upright and respected citizen.

Mr. W. W. Seabrook, the commander of the Salisbury Post-Office, is in town here, on business. He is the only one of the kind in the county. Only one other in the county has been appointed for positions on the effects.

It has been reported that outwardly T. Craig is not present, but in fact he is in town, and will preach at the usual hour, to-morrow, Sunday, at 10 o'clock, at which time it will be announced whether there will be preaching or not.

The pleasure boats are being painted and redressed. Mr. Charles Waller has rigged up the boat of the "Lady of the Lake" and will steer that way. Mr. Johnson's "Lillie" is also in order and waiting for pleasant weather.

The work of surveying the river, preparatory to further improvements, was begun this week by Mr. John L. Seager, of the U. S. Corps of Engineers. He is assisted by W. Byrd Parsons, who has received an appointment in the service.

Many gentlemen are expressing a desire for good horse ball race here. One gentleman always had a weakness for the movements on the diamond and will give it a good support. There is a chance to win the Peninsula championship again.

There will be Morning Prayer and celebration of the Holy Communion in St. Paul's Church, Spring Hill, on Sunday morning next. Evening Prayer in St. Philip's church, Quantico, in the afternoon. P. B. Adkins, Rector of Spring Hill Parish.

Herman Fletcher, grandson of H. H. Fletcher (colored) of Laurel, Del., was stolen from the depot at Seaford, Monday, and taken to Bridgeville. He was recovered and brought back to Laurel, Tuesday. Our correspondent assigns no cause for the theft and no further particulars.

The ex-Balliff, James W. Kennerly, seems content in his relief from the many and often difficult duties of his former office. Mr. Kennerly was Balliff for four consecutive years, and during his long term met with approbation for the manner his duties were discharged. He proved himself to be at all times a courteous and faithful officer.

Emor Humphreys, who has been in Cambridge some time, died there Thursday. We learn pneumonia was the illness that proved fatal. He was son of the late Fountain Humphreys and in business here a number of years. He was about thirty-five years of age. The body was brought here yesterday on the 1.30 train.

The spring term of the county public schools closes May 11th. This date will therefore end the school year. The school board is making out reports to fill out all blanks under the heading of "teacher's attendance in days." The secretary desires them to state the actual number of days taught, adding two holidays and the time lost, if any, making fifty-three days in all.

The County Commissioners will be in session on the 1st and 16th days of May, for the purpose of making changes and adjustments in the assessable property of the county. All persons wanting any changes made will please make application on or before the 15th, as there will be no changes made in the assessments after that date. By order of the Board, Daniel J. Holloway, Clerk.

Killed Instantly.

By the Train on Which his Son was a Passenger.

A terrible accident occurred about a half mile from Salisbury Monday in which a well known citizen of the town met a sudden death.

Mr. William Waller went out on a lot which is situated along the railroad and which belongs to him, in company with Mr. Henry J. Brewington. After giving some instructions, to his hand, he started for home, being as the hand, a colored boy, stated, in a hurry. Mr. Brewington saw him walking toward the track and intended joining him so they could go to town in company. The first train going at a high rate of speed came in sight and was about two hundred yards off when Mr. Brewington saw Mr. Waller last. The latter was then about twelve steps from the track. Mr. Brewington stopped to throw up some poles, not thinking that Mr. Waller would attempt to go on the track until the train passed. He heard the whistle and looking up, saw Mr. Henry J. Dashiell running toward the place and calling out that a man was run over. Mr. Waller had stepped on the track, being near the left side of the track, and with his back to the train. When the whistle blew he turned toward the right to look and then to the left, apparently to get off. But by that time the engine was upon him. He was knocked to the left of the track and the train passed over him and started on over him. The train was stopped as soon as possible and Clarence C. Waller, freight superintendent of the E. S. R. R., who happened to be on board, came out to find the unfortunate victim was his father. Life was entirely extinct. The left thigh was broken and there was a large laceration on the left side of the forehead where the skull was crushed. The body was taken on the train to the depot and there kept until a coroner's inquest was summoned by Justice W. H. Warren. The jury consisted of I. S. Adams, Foreman, J. T. Truitt, Dr. H. L. Todd, Jas. A. Venables, J. T. Parsons, Robert Disharoon, Henry S. Brewington, Wm. L. Brewington, Saml. H. Fooks, Capt. Thos. Goslee, Levin K. Derrman, George C. Hill. After fully examining the engineer and fireman, Mr. Brewington, Mr. Dashiell and the colored boy, the jury returned a verdict that the deceased accidentally came to his death by means of a train on the Eastern Shore railroad and that the employees on the train were not culpable. The testimony was not contradictory, and was about as given above. After the inquest, the body was washed and prepared for burial and taken to the family. Mr. Waller was sixty-two years of age, last August. He was born in this county, near Spring Hill, and came to Salisbury under Pierce's administration, carried on the furniture business for a time, was a partner of John White as the firm of White and Waller at the store now kept by S. E. McCallister, was railroad agent at the depot for a considerable period and held the position of president of the Somerset and Worcester Savings Bank during the war. Of late years he has been engaged in the trucking business, selling groceries. He was a prominent member of the P. E. Church, taking a warm interest in its welfare and was for many years one of the Vestry of St. Peter's. He was also a zealous Mason.

It is stated that the deceased was insured in the Ocean Mutual, on two policies for $400 and in a Marine Insurance Society, the Ben-Hur, for $1000.00. The remains were interred in the Parsons Cemetery Wednesday afternoon. Funeral services were held in St. Peter's Church at 3 o'clock. Rev. T. Beche Adkins conducted the services. The friends and acquaintances of the deceased and sympathy were very numerous and a long line of carriages followed the hearse to the grave. Flowers in beautiful designs covered the casket. Miss Nettie O. Crane and Mrs. Emily Dashiell came from Baltimore Wednesday morning to attend the funeral and other friends and relatives from a distance were present.

At a special meeting of the Vestry of St. Peter's church, Salisbury Parish, Maryland, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, God in His wise providence has taken from among us our brother, William Waller, for thirty years a devoted Vestryman of this Parish, we desire to record the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in his death the Parish has lost a firm friend who was ever mindful of its best interest, the church an earnest and devoted communicant, one who was foremost in every good work, and whose kindness and benevolence will always be held in grateful remembrance.

Resolved, That while we deplore our own bereavement, we desire to extend our sympathies to the family, and to be good men, and our sympathies, trusting that He who has taken away will replace with the riches of His grace and be their comforter and Guide.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the records, a copy sent to the family of the deceased, and also to the Salisbury Advertiser for publication.

Grand Circus Royal.

Big Circus—Immense Tents—Exhibits—A Good Show.

This establishment, which pitched its big tent on the lot adjoining the Vandalla freight depot, yesterday, opened its canvas doors to a tremendous business. At night the canvas was not large enough to hold the great crowd that thronged the place. The tent was pitched on the space between the seats and the ring was literally packed, and even standing room was at a premium. The performance evidently gave great satisfaction. There will be two performances to-day, admission and evening, and those desiring seats should go early. The price of admission is as usual—Ladies, 25 cents; Men, 50 cents.

—Dr. H. L. Todd and Rev. A. Sinclair arrived home Thursday afternoon from Presbytery. Dr. Todd reports a debate upon the subject of the oldest church. Judge Wilson contended that Snow Hill is entitled to the honor of having Rev. Francis McKemie's first church and the "Pocomske" oldest claimed for his place. There is no doubt that the first Presbyterian church in this country was located by McKemie somewhere in this section. Rockwalking church has been in existence a long time, but probably was not the first. McKemie is said to have landed on the Pocomske and Babochoke, Pocomske City and Snow Hill are all anxious to be known as the choice of this modern Homer.

From the Tuesday Edition.

The New Hall—Railroad Accident—Crisfield Fire.

—During the thunder storm of Thursday evening last, the house on the farm formerly occupied by Capt. Wm. M. Ruark, a few miles from Salisbury, was struck by lightning. It struck the eastern end of the porch, tearing away one of the posts and doing considerable damage. Two men were in the house at the time, and the shock stunned them both for a while, but they soon recovered.

—The new board of Town Commissioners had their first regular meeting last night. The most important matter was the selection of a new balliff for the coming year. The choice fell upon Prof. Matthias Taylor, who held the office before for several years. A. G. Toadvine was elected president of the board, A. J. Benjamin clerk, H. S. Brewington treasurer and Col. S. A. Graham counsel.

—A fire, which consumed the lower portion of Crisfield, originated in a tenement house owned by John Stedling, and about half past one o'clock Saturday morning, and in a short time, before much aid could be rendered, the flames extended to several adjoining tenement houses on the northern side of Goodsell's alley. The sleeping inmates of the dwelling were quickly alarmed and promptly removed to places of safety, but their household goods were pretty much all consumed. The total loss is perhaps not less than $60,000.

—An accident happened at the depot Saturday morning that caused delay to trains. A car on the side track, being loaded with lumber by L. E. Williams & Co., was struck by another car coming on the siding, the force of which completely lifted the house from the trucks, throwing it on the main track, and smashing it considerably. The force also threw both trucks from the track. Trains going North or South were compelled to use the Wicomico & Pocomoke track to pass the wreck. Train Master Stratman, with wrecking apparatus, came up and cleaned the track Monday.

—Our Riverton correspondent sends us the following story which we print but with misgivings. It is so often the case that people get "mad," we wonder long before treading on possible corns with persons:

A very sad disappointment has recently befallen a young man near Riverton. About two years ago he began to pay his addresses to a young lady; and as she so cheerfully reciprocated, he soon flattered himself with the idea that he was the man. Having confessed to her his wonderful love for her, and having received like confessions from her, he contracted to ask her to become his wife, which she readily agreed to do. After much parleying and disagreeing about the time of marriage, he gave the matter over to her, feeling willing to yield to any condition that she might agree upon. She fixed the time of matrimony April the 10th, and made all necessary preparation for the occasion; and he, treating her appearances rather than her word, did likewise. On Sunday evening previous to the time appointed for consummation, she was in bed, and he, in the flush of his passion, took his wife to church, and on the way she told him that she had changed, and he need not make any further arrangements for their marriage. She gave him no reason for such a sudden change of mind, only she had recently considered the pleasures of single life, and the probable displeasures of married life, and thought the former presented the greater inducements. He bowed with resignation to her decree, took her to her home, and bade her adieu! The most embarrassing ordeal that he had to pass through was countermanding the invitations of his guests.

The following is a list of letters remaining in the Salisbury Post-Office, Thursday, April 19th:

Emily F. Adams, Alice E. Adams, Mrs. John E. Disharoon, Leween Drenies, Mary C. Morris, Mary E. Shockey, Wm. B. Hinton, P. T. Hickman, V. S. Hinton, Marie W. Kibbia, D. E. Matthews, G. W. Miles, W. S. Miles, Alex. McK Cameron, Chas. H. Peters, John P. Smallin, Wimbro, Ward & Co., Frank Williams.

Persons calling for them will please say they are advertised. J. P. Owens.

—There is a good story told of Jim Robbins that will let repeating. Jim is colored gentleman rather fond of rum. One night while about half shot, a gentleman was buttering him and asked how many days there were in a week. Jim couldn't remember, but as the gentleman went home he rose to the occasion. Going close to his questioner he said "Boss, a white man told me that and made me promise not to say anything about it." The house came down.

—The greatest business improvement of the week is that of Birkhead, Laws and Carey. They have added a story to the back of their building, having now three floors the size of the ground floor. The addition is 42 feet by 28. A new stairway is also added, making a decidedly ornamental appearance as well as a convenience. It is a wide, double stairway with heavy walnut posts.

—Salisbury is developing more rapidly than any town in Maryland. Every season sees additions to her trade. Active competition has brought about a system of low prices and has forced our merchants to display more and more varied and richer lines of goods. The opening of J. Bergen's spring stock Tuesday and throwing it on the main track, and smashing it considerably. The force also threw both trucks from the track. Trains going North or South were compelled to use the Wicomico & Pocomoke track to pass the wreck. Train Master Stratman, with wrecking apparatus, came up and cleaned the track Monday.

—Mrs. Bergen has her millinery department arranged in tempting style, displaying many beauties in hats, bonnets and laces. Everything seems to be bright and new. The windows are dressed with much care. The merchants from sister towns would turn green with envy if they could compare this large, airy and perfectly arranged store with their places.

Parson Whangoodle Baxter noticed at the last prayer meeting in the Austin Blue Light Tabernacle, that Gabe Baxter, who was kneeling in the aisle like the rollers of a patent clothes wringer as he read his Bible, actually had the book upside down.

"Why, Gabe, you are reading de sacred book upside down. How am dat possible?"

"Dat so for a fac', Parson. You see Parson, dis heah Bible b'longs to my wife, and I don't know how to handle his, wid. Ef I jess had my own Bible heah wid me, dat I has done got de hang ob, I neber would hab made dat mistake."

Hop Bitters are the Best Prudent as Bitters Ever Made.

They are compounded from Hops, Malt, Buchu, Mandrake and Dandelion, the oldest, best, and most valuable medicines in the world and contain all the best and most cumulative properties of all other remedies, being the greatest Blood Purifier, Liver Regulator, and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth. No disease or ill health can persist long exist where these Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.

They give new life and vigor to the aged and infirm. To all whose operations cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Appetizer, Tonic and mild Stimulant, Hop Bitters are invaluable, being highly curative, tonic and stimulating, without intoxicating.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, what the disease, or ailment is, use Hop Bitters. Don't wait until you are sick, but if you only feel bad or miserable, use Hop Bitters at once. It may save your life. Hundreds have been saved by so doing. $500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help.

Do not suffer or let your friends suffer, but use and urge them to use Hop Bitters.

Remember, Hop Bitters is not vile, drugged, drunken nostrum, but the Finest and Best Medicine ever made; the "Harold's Friend and Hope," and no person or family should be without them. Try the Bitters to-day. Aug 22-80

Notes for the Farmer.

The potato thrives best on land abounding in vegetable mould sufficient to give the soil a dark color. Such a soil will become warmed very early in the season, and preserve the proper degree of moisture and coolness at the important period of enlargement of the tuber.

Any cause that interferes with the condition of the cow after calving may produce milk fever. Exposure, too much exercise or nervous excitement are sufficient to bring on an attack, and a recovery is rare. It is the "ounce of prevention" that is worth the pound of cure. This is the case of the cow. Keep the animal quiet for a week before and after calving, and nurse her well.

Corn which is killed will blow down more readily than that which has level culture. This can be accounted for by the fact that corn roots run very near the surface, and when bills are made they are confined to the small space covered by the hill, while in level culture the roots run from one row to the other, thus enabling the corn to stand stronger in nature intended, and in no way liable to be blown down except by winds of unusual violence.

Nothing is more generally useful on a farm than a sweep or tread horse power. It can with proper machinery be applied to many purposes, sawing wood, cutting feed in winter, and grinding grain for stock. A good horse-power will thus save each year many times the interest on its cost, and with proper care will last many years. A small steam engine will answer the same purpose, but most farmers have horses that must be fed whether they work or not.

The water which can be gathered from the roofs or barns and sheds needed to shelter stock will be carefully saved, and sufficient for the stock through the year. To accomplish this the cistern should be a large one to hold the surplus of a wet season till a time of scarcity. With a basement barn the cistern should be in the corner where the bank of earth against the wall is deepest, to prevent freezing. Then with a faucet in the lower part of the cistern a continuous small stream can be kept running, adapting the flow to the number of animals, so that the tub shall never be empty and never over-filled run over. This plan is a great convenience in winter and more than repays the expense by saving manure, besides the greater thrift of the stock.

Study not how far plants will endure poor cultivation, but how far it will pay to carry high culture and fertilization—there is a limit in this direction. Every man's farm, every man's circumstances and peculiar location must become a personal problem which no book, no journal, no counselor can solve so well as the owner, yet much help and many valuable suggestions can often be given by persons of less capacity or less experience. We never talk with a man of common sense without carrying away some thought, experience or suggestion has aided us in future work. The man who is all-sufficient in himself, who cares nothing for the ideas of others, and believes his methods cannot be improved, is painfully and disastrously deluded.

President J. M. Smith of the Wisconsin Horticultural Society says:—Please give me a little space to again urge upon your farmer readers the great value of the compost heap. I do not urge it as a theory, but as the result of many years of actual experience. I have tried it in a moderate way, one and another of the commercial fertilizers, and while I have no complaint to make as to their value, it seems to me that our farmers, as a rule, can do better. I commenced hauling for my compost heaps last spring, throwing into them all the coarse refuse, whether it was coarse manure, street sweepings, fish refuse, pig manure, weeds from the garden, potato peels, peavines, in fact, anything and everything that I supposed would be of value. At times, when they seemed to be getting too hot, I had water thrown upon them in sufficient quantity to cool, but not to drain from them. During the fall they were worked over. They have been heating a very little all winter, about sufficient to keep them from freezing. We are now working the largest one over again, after which it will be ready for use. I am aware that it may be urged against this, that it will cost time and money; yes, my farmer friends, it does; and so do all the good things that I know of in this world. I cannot tell what the two heaps have cost me, as they have been gathered at such times as we could spare men and teams from our work. I am now paying twenty-five cents per cord for manure, and will have, after this is done, not less than 176 and perhaps 200 cords, and in splendid condition for immediate use. As near as I can judge, the cost will be from $300 to $400. How about their value for the coming season's crop?

I shall also have an immense amount of good stable and barnyard manure, much more in bulk than these heaps, and I believe that no man values them higher than myself, but when and where I want my land to give me the largest possible crop, and thus the greatest value, there goes in my compost manure. Why? Simply because many years' experience tells me that crops will start up more vigorously, and grow up more rapidly with this manure than with an equal amount of the best stable manure. It is reasonable that this should be the case, as it is more nearly ready for plant food than any coarse or unprepared manure could be. I cannot give your readers the actual value of these heaps, but if any man should come to-day and say: "I will deposit $1,000 to your credit in the bank if you will allow me to haul away your compost heaps," I should answer: "My friend, I have lately been purchasing some property, and my bank account is unusually low, but I do not need money bad enough to make such a sacrifice as that would be to obtain it." I have never used these manures upon any crops where they did not all the same story. I will not pretend that the mingling of the different materials makes each and every one of them more valuable than they otherwise would be. It is possible that if each was taken in its crude state and plowed under, its value to the land might be as great as when in its present condition. But it should be years instead of a few weeks or months in getting my returns. Merchants think "small profits and quick returns" best in the long run. With me this plan of fertilizing has never failed to give quick returns and large profits, or at least large crops.

A Common-Sense Remedy.

SALICYLICA.

No More Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

Immediate Relief Warranted.
Permanent Cure Guaranteed.

Five years established and never known to fail in a single case, acute or chronic. Resistant to all prominent physicians and druggists for the standing of Salicylica.

SECRET!

The only Dissolver of the Poisonous Uric Acid which exists in the blood of Rheumatism and Gouty Patients.

SALICYLICA is known as a common-sense remedy, because it strikes directly at the root of Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia, while so many so-called specific and supposed "remedies" only treat locally the effects.

It has been conceived by eminent scientists that outward applications, such as rubbing with olive-oil, turpentine, salicylic acid, and soothing lotions will not eradicate these diseases which are the result of uric acid poisoning of the blood with Uric Acid.

SALICYLICA works with marvelous effect on this acid, and so removes the disorder. It is most effective in all cases of Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia, and is the highest Medical Authority of Paris reports 95 per cent. cures in 10 days.

REMEMBER that Salicylica is a certain almost certain, permanent and reliable. Guaranteed or money refunded. Thousands of testimonials are on hand. It is a Box of Boxes for 25¢ sent free by mail on receipt of 25¢ in stamps or cash. Do not be misled by cheap imitations or substitutes, or something represented as just as good. Salicylica is the genuine with the name of Washburn & Co. on each box. Beware of cheap imitations which purport to be Salicylica, but are not. Take no other or send to Washburn & Co., Proprietors, 237 Broadway, Cor. Reade St. New York.

A Lover's Catechism.

A young man of this city who possesses a large share of presumption, has been paying close attention to a very pretty girl, who has given him no evidence of her feelings concerning him until very recently. The denouement was brought about in this way: He had decided to make her a formal offer of his hand and heart—all he was worth—and then he hoped to be indulged in some lower-like demonstrations, which would be determined to exert their authority and stop the run. The head of the column was bent out on the prairie, and circled round and round until the cattle became tied up in a huge ball and could not move at all.

In this way they were obliged to stand until morning, the horses riding round and round them, and keeping them completely tied up. At daylight these were allowed to "open out." First the outer edge scattered, then layer after layer, until the huge pile of beef was a herd grazing as quietly as if nothing had happened.

Could't Believe It.

A citizen of Detroit who had been to Lansing on business, was returning the other day, when an old farmer, going east with his wife, took the next seat back and opened a conversation, which lasted almost to the city. Then he happened to mention something about Europe which the farmer doubted, and the citizen proceeded to explain.

"But I have been there and know." "What! You bin to Yurup?" "Yes." "Bin in England and France?" "I have." "Bin to Rome and seen the ruins?" "Yes." "Bin right in Paris?" "I was there two months." "By cracker, Maria! said the old man as he turned to his wife, 'here's a feller who's bin all over Yurup and rides with us hull day before he lets on a word! Why, the Bixbys don't go no farther than Boston, and the first night they got home they kept the hull town up till 2 o'clock in the morning to talk about pavements and picture' halls and opera houses and street cars and door bells which would ring by pressing on a button! Wall, wall! Bin to Yurup and not bragging over it!"

Call the Next Case, Sir.

Forty years ago Eaton was a fast talker. Gambling of all kinds, cock-fighting and horse racing was the rule as in the exception now. Why, sir, at one term of the court—1845 or 1846—the grand jury returned one true bill against forty persons. John W. Ashburn, solicitor-general and a number of prominent lawyers included, in one batch for gambling. It was in this case that it is said Judge Cone made himself famous. When the case was reached all of the defendants arose pleaded guilty. Judge Cone fined each of them $10 and costs and lectured them severely upon the uselessness and immorality of such habits and the vicious example which they were setting for the youth of the country; then commanding the defendants to take their seats, with a solemn face, but a merry twinkle in his eye, he turned to the clerk and said: "Now, Mr. Clerk, enter after these cases, 'State of Georgia vs. Judge Cone; gambling—special information by his honor—pleaded guilty, and fined him $100 and costs.' Call the next case, sir."

ADDRESS ALL LETTERS TO "THE ADVERTISER,"
SATURDAY, APR. 29, 1883.

Mr. Painter, general manager of the new railroad proposed to run from Delmar to Cherrystone, sends us the following note:

Editor Salisbury Advertiser:—My attention has been called to an article in your paper copied from the Baltimore American which purports to be an interview with me. When this article was published I was in Florida. Hearing of it on my return I at once notified the Baltimore American it was a fraud. I would like you to deny these statements. They were not made by me and some of them are false especially the one saying we would use the Eastern Shore Railroad as we intend building a short line from Delmar to Pocomoke.

W.M. PAINTER,
Vice-President and General Manager
New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk R. R. Company.

We make the requested denial by publishing the note and the more readily because we should have known better in the first place, than to copy an article from the Baltimore American. Its interviewers never see the subjects of their sketches. Probably there is no person utterly unreliable in his serious statements as the American. This is only a sample of the system pursued regularly by its staff. Interviews, pretended knowledge of other people's affairs, have again and again been published which were from beginning to end absolute fabrications. The interests of the railroad are not affected by this misstatement of facts, but it must be annoying to the gentlemen interested as it is a vulgar perversion of the means adopted by journals to make their columns interesting.

The Heptaphos.

The recent meeting at Woodberry, Proceedings of the Conclave.

We clip the following from the Gloucester Democrat, published at Woodberry, New Jersey:

Tuesday last April 17th, was characterized by an unusual gathering in our quiet little city. The event was the assembling of the supreme body of the Improved Order Heptaphos in our midst, representing many of the States of the Union; an organization instituted for the purpose of promoting co-operative life insurance. Their day session held in Old Fellows Hall was devoted to the transaction of the business of the order. In the evening they were treated to a grand welcome by the citizens, and after the banquet members of the order in Woodberry Hall, at which meeting Hon. Joseph Yerkes of Wrentham was chosen President. The stage was decorated with flowers, sweet music was discoursed by the Woodberry Military Band. A brief and befitting welcome address was delivered by Pastor I. Judson Pierson of the Baptist church, and responded to by Supreme Archon Edward F. James of Wilmington, Del. in an able manner. The "Echo Glee Club," accompanied by Miss Brewer as pianist, sang "Moonlight on the Lake," after which a fraternal greeting was extended by Chas. W. Storer, in a few well chosen remarks, and responded to by Ernest T. F. Rider of Salisbury, Md., who gave to the audience an eloquent dissertation in reference to the objects of the order, when the Glee Club sang the "Soldiers Farewell." Immediately following were several short speeches by John W. Newlin of Millville, N. J., John W. Crowell of Baltimore and Gen. Foster of Norfolk, Va.

Wednesday evening at ten o'clock, the doors to the audience room in Woodberry Hall were thrown open, and the banquet which had been spread for the guests of Provident and Wrentham Conclaves, O. H. was ready. The tables four in number, and the entire length of the Hall were quickly surrounded by over 300 guests. When all were seated, Rev. G. M. Bond of the P. E. church invoked the Divine blessing, after which nimble waiters supplied the wants from the abundance provided. At 11 o'clock, the "Press" by J. W. Newlin of the Millville Republicans, the speech making was contained by other gentlemen. At 12:30 the banquet closed and the guests departed to dream of lobster salad and the Improved Order Heptaphos.

On Thursday evening a dramatic entertainment was given to the Order in the Opera House. The members of the Supreme Conclave, from other States expressed themselves as being most favorably impressed with Woodberry and its many advantages, and most agreeably surprised at the absence of South Jersey, for famed medicinal music.

The discussions and debates during the session of the Convention, in which Newlin, Rider, Singlet, of Baltimore county, Given, of Philadelphia, Dr. McClure, of New York, Foster, Livermore, of Woodberry, Dr. Quinn of Pocomoke, Rev. Gibson, of Delaware and Dr. Ogilvie of Wilmington participated, showed a high order of talent and culture, much more so than is usually the case, in similar orders.

The Convention adjourned Thursday evening to meet in Portsmouth, Va., April 17th, 1883.

The highest office in the gift of the Order in this country was conferred on a citizen of Maryland, Thomas F. J. Biefer of Salisbury, who was unanimously elected Supreme Archon for the ensuing term.

An old butcher way out in Missouri, With neuterage, he suffered late fury, St. Jacobs Oil banished—
The pain which all vanished—
And prevented a coroner's jury, A cranky old man named Blake, Says St. Jacobs Oil "takes the cake," He gave it one test, And says it is the best, Sure in the world for headache.

Circus Men Attacked.

Several Men Severely Wounded at Dover in a Riot.

Every Evening has the following account of the Dover riot:
Dover was thrown into greater excitement on Saturday night than was ever witnessed here before, even by our oldest citizens. The cause of the excitement was a riot between the young men of the town and the employees of O'Brien's circus. From that I can learn traces of some character had been expected all day and when the firing began, about midnight, but little surprise was manifested. At different times during the day two or three skirmishes took place, but they were quelled by our officers before any blood was shed.

The origin of the riot is not definitely known. Some give one cause and some another. It is thought, however, that the firing was out of a fight which occurred in the early evening at the depot, between Frank Pyle, a young man of the town, and two or three showmen. Pyle was beaten rather severely, and his friends determined to seek revenge. It is also said that O'Brien remarked that he could take a few more whips over our heads. This declaration, which was made at night, added another spark to the fire.

There is a certain class of young men here who take great delight in raising disturbances with every show that comes to town without any provocation whatever. While the evening performance was going on the managers got wind that their ropes were about to be cut. They went for the officers, saying just in time to prevent any damage being done. The parties on the street to-day seem to be divided as to whom to attach the blame. The general expression, so far as I have been able to learn, put it upon the showmen.

Chief of Police Hutchins, who witnessed the shooting, said between 11 and 12 o'clock p. m. two or three of the managers came to the depot and asked if any of the other officers would not accompany the wagons to the depot, as they feared trouble. In case of trouble, he said, four of the employees, with pistols in their pockets and clubs in their hands, walked alongside each wagon, two on a side. Everything went along quietly until nearly opposite the Byard House when a pistol was fired.

That shot was the signal for more, and in a second the firing was general. The employees, he said, shot in the air, thinking the boys were firing blank cartridges, but when they saw their drivers fall, pierced with bullets and their horses bleeding, they took to their heels and made their escape. In the midst of the firing Chief Hutchins said he saw a driver fall from his wagon shot in the right eye. He pulled him more dead than alive to the side of the street, and to save himself had to get behind a box. He afterwards saw the wounded man, who asked him to take his name and address, but he did not, and he said he would not, therefore, tell me his name, but his address he remembered to be Philadelphia. He also saw another man, who was proprietor of the side show, shot in both eyes. The doctors thought they might save one of them. He represented himself to be a peaceable man, and he said he would say nothing to any one. His face and body were literally full of shot. Another was shot between the eyes.

An eye-witness to the riot says that the trouble between the Dyer boys and the circus men commenced about 9 o'clock in the morning over some disputable matter that the circus men had taken to the outskirts of the town. The Dover men succeeded in capturing the women and brought them back to town and then the trouble which terminated at midnight in such disastrous results commenced. About 9:30 in the morning 19 or 20 circus men armed with clubs and revolvers ran through the main streets chasing citizens into their houses and warning them not to show their faces again on the street. At the same time Mike Riley and a man named Pyle, who were watching the unloading of the menagerie, were knocked down and badly beaten. This of course only added fuel to the flame and small fights between the two parties and the circus men occurred at short intervals, brick-bats being freely used.

An Every Evening special says that Frank Pyle, Daniel Tomlinson, Charles Farris and Edward Ferris have been held at Dover to await the action of the grand jury for participation in the attack on O'Brien's circus troupe on Saturday night. Dr. Bishop has returned from Cambridge to which place he had gone with the wounded circus men. He reports that with proper care all those there will recover. Charles W. Henderson, an attaché of the circus, who was shot in the head during the riot, and who was taken to Philadelphia, is reported as somewhat improved to-day, as some speaking was contained by other gentlemen. At 12:30 the banquet closed and the guests departed to dream of lobster salad and the Improved Order Heptaphos.

On Thursday evening a dramatic entertainment was given to the Order in the Opera House. The members of the Supreme Conclave, from other States expressed themselves as being most favorably impressed with Woodberry and its many advantages, and most agreeably surprised at the absence of South Jersey, for famed medicinal music.

The discussions and debates during the session of the Convention, in which Newlin, Rider, Singlet, of Baltimore county, Given, of Philadelphia, Dr. McClure, of New York, Foster, Livermore, of Woodberry, Dr. Quinn of Pocomoke, Rev. Gibson, of Delaware and Dr. Ogilvie of Wilmington participated, showed a high order of talent and culture, much more so than is usually the case, in similar orders.

The Convention adjourned Thursday evening to meet in Portsmouth, Va., April 17th, 1883.

The highest office in the gift of the Order in this country was conferred on a citizen of Maryland, Thomas F. J. Biefer of Salisbury, who was unanimously elected Supreme Archon for the ensuing term.

Terrible Tornadoes.

Several States Visited by a Fearful Cyclone—Loss of Life.

A frightful cyclone passed over Western Mississippi, and over the town of Hesperia, one mile above, at about 4 P. M., Monday. The wind for the past three days had been blowing a gale, and the lowering clouds indicated a storm. Its approach was heralded by deep rumbling sounds, the windows in the dwellings shaking with violence, and many anticipated an earthquake. The thunder roared and the lightning flashed with alarming vividness. Fences were torn down, and trees which had stood the storms of years were uprooted and cast 100 yards away. East of the railroad in Wesson the damage was slight, but in the western portion of the town the destruction was awful in its character.

As soon as the storm had somewhat abated the church bells were heard ringing, and people were seen running toward West Wesson, the rain in the meantime pouring in torrents. Reaching Peach Orchard street, an indescribable scene was witnessed. This street is lined with a large number of houses, in which the operatives of the Mississippi Mills are domiciled, and here the greatest destruction occurred. Drivings were torn to pieces, and a pine forest just beyond the limits of the town was blown out of existence. The work of removing the dead and extricating the wounded from the ruins was soon begun. Calvin Reed, who lived in the neighborhood, died of excitement. The number of killed is estimated at twelve. Two or three children are missing, and 150 or 200 dwellings have been blown down. The escapes from some of the dwellings were miraculous. The number of people with broken limbs is estimated at seventy-five.

Dead bodies lay out in the violent rain for more than an hour after the cyclone. The dead are now all laid out, and coffins are being made for their reception. Among the killed in Wesson are Mrs. Causy and her two children, and several children of J. E. Gibson, one of whom was found crushed under a chimney. Two bodies found were so mangled as to be unrecognizable. A little boy was found in the woods, several hundred yards away, unhurt. The dead will be buried to-morrow.

Beauregard, which is only a mile above lay in the direct path of the cyclone. The scene there is appalling, and the town may be said to no longer exist. It is in ruins, a mass of ruins, with only a few houses standing. Utterly destroyed are all the stores of Thompson & Co., and M. Daniel & Co., the largest in the place, were swept away and the timbers scattered for miles around. Even out in the country for two miles and a half dwellings were blown away. The railroad depot was carried away, and not a sign of it remains.

On the Matchee and Columbus Railroad, the town of Tillman was destroyed, and several were killed and wounded. On the Vicksburg and Meridian Railroad the town of Lawrence suffered terribly. The reports from other places and from the country show that the storm was widespread and very destructive. Telegraph lines were blown down for miles.

A tornado passed up the Maple River Valley Iowa, early Monday evening, following closely along the spur of the Chicago and North-western. East, which strikes off west of the High School, the Danbury Catholic church was wrecked, three houses were blown down, and other minor damages were inflicted. No lives were lost so far as known.

A special from Dunlap, Harrison county Iowa, says that a terrible tornado passed near that place on Monday night, carrying away farm houses and barns, and killing a great quantity of stock. Trees were torn out by the roots and outbuildings carried away. Some loss of life is reported. The track of the tornado was northward through Monona and Woodbury counties.

A Denver despatch says that a storm in the mountains continues unabated. All trains are delayed. Every available snow plough is in service in the hope of preventing a blockade.

Specials Monday report the passage of a cyclone through the lower part of Georgia with destructive results, also very general wind and rain, rains all over the State. The lightning was continuous, and kept the night lit up that one could read by the light. Fences and dams were washed away, entailing great loss, and many houses were blown down. A despatch from Albany reports eight persons killed and about twenty-five injured, and many despatches report two persons killed.

If disease has entered the system the only way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood. To this end, as is acknowledged by all medical men, nothing is better adapted than iron. The fault hitherto has been that iron could not be so prepared as to be absolutely harmless to the teeth. This difficulty has been overcome by the Iron Compound of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which is so well adapted to the system, and is so easily taken, that it is probable they will lose their eyesight.

—What it did for an Old Lady. Constance Tomlinson, N. Y., Dec. 28, 1878. Gents—A number of people had been using your Pills here, and with marked effect. In one case, a lady of over seventy years, had been sick for years, and for many years had not been able to get around half the time. About six months ago she got so feeble she was helpless. Her old remedies, or physicians, being of no avail, I sent to Depot forty-five miles away, and got a bottle of Hop Bitters. It improved her so she was able to dress herself, walk about the house. When she had taken the second bottle she was able to take care of her own room and walk out of her neighborhood, and has improved all the time since. My wife and children, also, have derived great benefit from their use. W. B. Hathaway, Agt. U. S. Ex. Co.

—It is stated in Paris that the object of the alliance between Germany, Austria and Italy is to secure the isolation of France, in order to effect a simultaneous disarmament, which Prince Bismarck intends to propose at a European congress.

—Mr. D. B. Chesney, of Perryman's Hartford Co., Md., used Twelve Yona Diamond State Super-Phosphate on Sugar Corn last year—this year he has ordered twenty tons. He believes it to be the best.

State and Peninsula.

What the Newspapers Have to Say on Various Subjects.

—Harry D. Cranor of Caroline county, owns some fine Jersey stock. He has just refused $500 for Kenturth, No. 8, 691, a bull 10 months old, the son of Tressilian, owned by Valancey E. Fuller of Hamilton, Ontario.

—A specific for change of Life. We are in receipt of a letter from J. T. Hamby, Esq., of Floral, Ark., in which the writer says: Samaritan Nervine cures female decline, and during the change of life it is a specific. Suggestive facts, truly. $1.50.

—Just at this time Misses Anna and Lizzie Handy, of Annapolis, and Master Willie Wilson, of Baltimore city, little lassie and laddie friends of Mrs. Irving's are guests at the Judge's and cards are out for a grand party this evening, at the Irving house, which is the honored of Princess Anna's whisks and lassies are invited. Were Dore living and desiring to sketch "aesthetic pandemonium," could he get a glimpse of those parlors to-night, he would have his conception reduced to reality.—Marylander.

—Superintendent I. N. Mills stated to an Every Evening representative that the feasibility of running a fast express train on the Delaware railroad was now under consideration, but no definite action had been taken with reference to the matter. He thought the railroad officials had a tendency toward granting the Peninsula people better accommodations for reaching Philadelphia and if the feeders or branches of the Delaware railroad would run connecting trains with the Pennsylvania Railroad, it probably be put on sometime in May.

—There is considerable excitement in the lower part of Dorchester county over a brutal assault committed on Mrs. Clara Simmons, who lives on Hooper's Island. George Lake, colored, has been arrested, charged with the outrage, and lodged in the jail. The woman was alone in the house with her young baby at the time, her husband being at church. She recognized Lake, and he, fearing that his victim would bring him to punishment for his act, attempted to murder her. He beat her brutally about the head, breaking her collar-bone and other bones, and she was left in a condition that she is slowly recovering, but is still in a critical condition. Her husband and several of the county officers succeeded in capturing Lake, and it was with difficulty he was taken away from the island without being lynched.

So far as this [Taboo] county is concerned let us see how Col. Ditty's statement compare with the past and the present. We have it from the lips of a gentleman who was at one time a liquor dealer in Eastern, that he has retained as much as two barrels in one day over his county. This, too, when there were numbers of dealers in the town, to say nothing of the hotels, where large quantities were also sold. Now who believes there have been two barrels sold here in the last thirty days? The local opinion has been in existence? We also have it from the lips of a gentleman who kept one of the hotels here when the sale of liquor was licensed, that in one day he sold over his bar $310 worth of drinks, and in 21 days his sales amounted to nearly $2,000. These figures are not the result of a guesswork, but can be substantiated at any time, and should put to rest the assertions that are so often heard, that "there is as much whisky drunk here as there ever was." Collector Ditty is doing the temperance cause a gross injustice and casting a slur on the county, when we are told that liquor is sold here.

Light Draft Combination Penn Harrow. Best in the World. It stretches across the field, and gives the ground a firm surface. It has two harrows in passing over it, and therefore will do double the work of any other harrow and save the farmer half his labor. Another great advantage the Penn Harrow has over any other, it can be so easily changed into Five Different Harrows, a Corn Marker and a Complete Sled for each Harrow, without adding an extra piece or bolt. Thus the farmer has all the Harrows in the one required on his place, and they are adapted to any soil. Penn Harrow is made of the Best White Oak, with Steel Teeth, Well Painted and in every way first-class. Formerly a Harrow was the most valuable implement on the farm, with our improvements it is the most valuable, and a great saving of time and labor, look to your interest and buy the Penn Harrow. Manufactured only by the Penn Harrow Manufacturing Co. Opposite Philadelphia, Pa. Camden, New Jersey.

Dr. G. W. Truitt is now driving a sorrel Vermont colt that promises to be an extra driver. He is perfectly green, but shows a good turn of speed, is remarkably quiet and gentle and is not bad looking. It continues to improve as he has, it will take several hundred to buy him.

Roland Wright, a young man of Sharptown, employed at the factory of John Robinson & Bro., met with a painful accident on Tuesday last, by getting his hand entangled in a circular saw. The hand was mangled so badly, that three of his fingers were amputated. Dr. J. A. Wright was called and performed the operation. The patient, we learn, is improving rapidly.

The Attorneys signed a petition last week for the appointment of T. F. J. Rider as commissioner in chancery. About the time they were sending it off, Mr. Rider's appointment came. It had been made by the Court without consulting the bar. The lawyers do not object to the appointment, as it is a position of little importance, and they had already consented to recommend Mr. Rider, but they feel that the Court, scarcely showed the proper consideration for their wishes.

Our Laurel correspondent writes as follows: Laurel incorporation Bill has passed. The Commissioners of the town were appointed by the Legislature and met for the first time on Monday night last. It seems that the Bill has undergone so much change since it was sent to the Legislature that its originators do not own it in its present form. The men that most bitterly opposed it at first are now leading in the work. In fact, the Commissioners of the town are composed (excepting 1 or 2) of men that did not sign the petition. It is the hope of the town that they (the commissioners of the town) may serve them well, although they have the ill feelings of many. T.

Died in Cambridge April 20th 1888, Emory F. Humphreys son of Fountain B. Humphreys of typhoid pneumonia aged 86 years. His remains were brought to Salisbury the same day. Sunday morning a very impressive funeral sermon was preached by Rev. F. H. Mullineux in the M. P. Church from Job 14:10. "I would not live always." Quite a number of his friends followed him to his last resting place in Parsons Cemetery. He was a young man of amiable disposition and the prop of his aged Mother. He had made a great many friends in Cambridge where he had been living for the past twelve or fifteen years ago he joined the M. P. Church in Cambridge and his pastor gave him a very encouraging report of his zeal and fervidness as a follower of the lamb in the Sabbath School and the Church. Not only was his time given but his means also. He was a great worker in Gods Vineyard. He was sick for two weeks away from his widowed Mother, but his last hours was brightened by many sympathizing friends and a brothers care. When questioned if he feared death, he said I do not. He then asked for his mother and his greatest regret in dying was for her. Just before his spirit took its happy flight he was heard to exclaim "My will will be done by my Saviour." What a glorious testimony to leave to the bereaved family. Look up weeping widows. Let thy sad heart stop its pining. Thy soul is in heaven. One more link is broken that held you to the earth one more the draws you nearer God. FRIEND.

In Memoriam.

The Life and Character of the Late William Walker.

In the death of Mr. William Walker, Salisbury has lost an excellent citizen, the people have lost a good man, the church of God has lost a faithful Christian.

Mr. Walker was born in Spring Hill Parish in the year eighteen hundred and twenty one and was baptised in the same Parish. He was confirmed in St. Paul's church, Spring Hill, June 7th 1847. He subsequently moved to Salisbury, where he lived until his death, embracing a period of more than thirty years. He was a kind and loving husband and father, and has left his impress on those who bear his name.

As a citizen he was always active, yet unobtrusive. He was a kind friend. The writer only knew Mr. Walker a year, but in that time he saw much in him to admire and esteem.

Mr. Walker was a gentleman of no ordinary intellect and culture. There was scarcely a subject upon which he was not well versed. It was a pleasure and a benefit to any young student to have an hour with him in social and intellectual conversation. With all his store of knowledge, Mr. Walker was modest and unassuming. Like all educated men he believed others knew something, and he was ever ready to glean information whence he could, and impart it to others when desired.

There are many others who have had a life long acquaintance with him, who are better able to write the eulogium which his life as a man and a citizen deserves.

I cannot refrain from saying a few words in regard to his religious life. Mr. Walker was an earnest, conscientious, faithful Christian. In saying this, I do not mean he had no faults. He did have his weaknesses, and so does every man. Mr. Walker was a man who was more ready to confess his faults than he was to boast of his virtues. He was earnest and conscientious in the discharge of his duties. About thirty years ago he was elected a vestryman of Spring Hill Parish, and there are still some of that vestry and church who can bear record of his usefulness.

When Salisbury withdrew from the above named Parish, he was elected one of the vestry of the new Parish, which position he worthily filled, until within a short time of his death. If there ever was a man who knew and carried out the proper relations between priest and vestryman, William Walker was that man.

He knew that in affairs spiritual, the Bishop and Priest were responsible to no Layman, and because they derived their spiritual authority from God and not man, he would not—he dared not—infringe upon the episcopal and sacerdotal prerogative.

But as a vestryman and deriving authority from the congregation to look after things temporal, so man can say he was unfaithful to his trust.

As superintendent of St. Peter's Sunday School, he was a faithful worker. Go when we might to the school, he was at his post, unless sickness prevented.

In his private life he was an earnest and devout churchman. There was nothing on earth so dear to him as his church. He was a thorough believer in the great Catholic movement, and did all that any layman can do towards furthering the import of that Great Holy Priestly Prayer. "Neither pray I for those alone who shall believe on me through my word, but that they all may be one, as thou Father art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us, that the world may believe that thou hast sent me."

Would to God that the Holy Catholic church had many more faithful heads of families like William Walker. He did all he could during his life to teach his children Herast and eternal principles. And those teachings were not in vain. For when his form lay cold in death, all his family knelt around him, and received the Holy Eucharist, testifying their belief in the Holy Catholic Church, the communion of Saints, "living and dead."

On Wednesday April 18th his body was borne to the church he loved, where his last rites were performed. Thence we bore him to his last resting place on earth, and after committing his body to the ground he was laid to rest in the beautiful cemetery where he lies sweetly sung. "I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, write. From henceforth blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, even so saith the spirit; for they rest from their labours." May he rest in peace. A.

Telephone Improvements—John W. Turpin—New Steamboat Wharves.

Col. Ensign of the Maryland Steamboat Company was in town Friday last. The Company will construct new piers at Collins' and the Princess Anne wharves.

The wires of the telephone lines are being taken down. They are to be replaced with new galvanized wire. There are now several telephones and several new subscribers are expected to put them in.

An examination of the shoes upon the remains of the late William Walker showed one of the soles had been wrenched by some means. It is supposed it caught between the ties and was the cause of his not getting off the track earlier.

Rev. G. V. Board has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist Church of Cambridge, and will remove to Florida for the benefit of his health. Mr. Board was the pastor of the Missionary Baptist Church in this town before going to Cambridge.

Recent visitors to the penitentiary report that John Wesley Turpin is apparently in remarkable good health, but that his mind is slightly affected. Contalinal brooding on his condition has made him morbid and when the subject of his trial or the tragedy that led to it is mentioned, the blood mounts to his face and his conversation is unsettled.

From New York with a beautiful line of new jewelry. A. L. Blumenthal is on his spring trip to New York and will be home in a few days with the handsome selection of gold and silverware he can find for his customers. With until he returns and call in.

All persons seeking first-class straw berry crates and baskets, both of one and two tiers, will do well to call on T. H. Williams before purchasing elsewhere.

Several Items of News—He Writes Only for Fun and Wants no Critics.

Mr. Editor:—He that fights and runs away shall live to fight another day. Since I surrendered to my friend "Justice" I have been rusticated from the defeat—I will now make another attempt to correspond with you and I only write for fun and improvement, hoping to offend no one.

Rev. C. M. Thompson, pastor of the M. P. church, preached his first sermon here on Sunday the 8th. It was a discourse well studied and many points suited the occasion exactly. On the account of the inclemency of the weather he did not arrive here to preach for us Sunday evening last.

A gentleman from Crisfield, by the name of Hastings, is expected to arrive here Saturday next. He purposes to engage in the salt making business. He has rented the mill loft formerly occupied by Geo. Lord.

The new steamer which has been heretofore spoken of in the "Advertiser" will be launched Wednesday next. She will be ready in about three weeks to go on her route. She is a handsome little steamer, and will no doubt meet with the great success which she justly deserves.

Mr. A. H. Bradley, is adding a large building to his cannery establishment near Riverton. He intends putting in a large engine which will add much to his capacity, and give employment to a greater number of hands.

The funeral of the late John B. Taylor, of Riverton, took place here in the M. E. church a few days ago—in the presence of a large assembly of people, thus attesting his many friends. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Eaton, of Rummus—who preached a sermon, which was very impressive. The remains were then laid to rest in the cemetery adjoining the church. The writer thought everything connected with the burial was very appropriate.

Mr. J. R. Twilley, has the finest lot of peas in town, and should nothing occur to impede their growth, he will have the first shipment from our wharf. Mr. Twilley is also paying much attention to the cultivation of peas, and his intention is to place them all in the patent hive arrangement, which has been recently introduced. He has the largest number of peas in the district.

Mr. John H. Caulks, of our town, sold his property—situated on the corner of Water and Ferry streets, a few days since—to Capt. W. J. Wood, for $1150, as we have been informed. T.

Sharptown, April 23rd, 1888.

The cold snap of Tuesday and Wednesday nights killed a good many peach buds, but probably not enough to seriously injure the crop prospects. The news from Delaware is that little damage has been done. In this county the peach crop is not so important an interest as it is up the shore, and a failure is probably more beneficial than injurious, as the melons and huckleberries pay better than some growers here think the crop the crop is badly damaged. The blossoms were fully out and even where the buds are not killed, the vitality will be weakened and a heavy "June fall" will follow. This is the view they take against the prevailing opinion.

Crates and Baskets.

We offer a large stock of each season to the trade and Fruit Growers. Our Crates are lighter, stronger and better ironed than ever before. Our Baskets are neat, well made and constructed so they will not Bruise or "Bleed" the berries. They can also be used for huckleberries. Orders by mail will receive prompt and careful attention. Write for prices. G. H. TOADVINE, (Successor to H. Humphreys), Salisbury, Md.
