Breach of Contract Is Alleged

R. Harry Phillips Brings Suit Against Shoreman Hotel Corporation.

ASKS FOR $16,000 AS SETTLEMENT

Hotel Directors Claim That They Merely Took An Option On Hotel Property And Have Paid Mr. Phillips The Sum Of $750.00 As Option.

Suit was filed last Friday in the Circuit Court for Wicomico County by R. Harry Phillips, proprietor of the Peninsula hotel, against the Shoreman Hotel corporation for specific performance of an alleged contract for the sale of the furniture of the Peninsula hotel to the new hotel corporation at $16,000.00.

Mr. Phillips has retained Woodcock & Webb as his attorneys, while Hooper S. Miles and Thos. H. Lewis, Jr., have been retained by the hotel corporation.

Mr. Phillips alleges that he executed a contract of sale with the Shoreman hotel company, whereby the hotel company agreed to purchase the furniture, fixtures and good will of the Peninsula hotel for the sum of $16,000. The time for settlement having expired, according to Mr. Phillips' statement, suit was docketed in the Circuit Court as stated above.

The Shoreman company claims that it did not effect a purchase of the property of Mr. Phillips, but merely took an option on it and that $750.00 option was paid Mr. Phillips.

This suit will likely prove a very interesting one, as some fine law points are involved. The suit will eventually come up before Judges Pattison, Bailey and Duer sitting as a Court of Chancery.

CANDIDATES VISIT THIS CITY LAST WEEK

Senator John Walter Smith And T. Alan Goldsborough Mingle With Voters At Fair.

Thursday and Friday were political days at the Salisbury Fair. Friday United States Senator John Walter Smith, candidate for re-election, was a visitor. Thursday T. Alan Goldsborough, of Denton, candidate for Congress from the First district, was here.

The weather both days was ideal, and both candidates met thousands of voters. Senator Smith was a spectator at the races.

Piloting both candidates around and introducing them to the voters were former Representative Jesse D. Price, Senator C. R. Disharoon, Hooper Miles, S. King White, Wade H. Medaworth and many others.

Senator Smith again visited this city on Monday between trains. He is in the best of health and expects to make a vigorous campaign throughout the state.

Senator Smith stated that although he had been unfavorable to Woman's Suffrage in the past because he believed the majority did not want it, nevertheless now that the 19th amendment is established that everything should be done to acquit the women with politics in order that they may vote intelligently and independently. He believes that giving the right of suffrage to the women can result very advantageously to the county.

F. expects to have a large number of members present to hear the public announcement of bids on the proposed new home, and at that time the lodge will take final action looking to the speedy building of the new Odd Fellow home in this city. Several other matters of importance will be disposed of at this session, and it is the wish of the officers to make this action as unanimous as possible by a good attendance of the membership.

NEWS WINS HONORS

The WICOMICO NEWS was one of the newspapers to win an honorable mention in the nation-wide Page One contest conducted during July by the American Printer, a newspaper and printing trade journal.

In its issue of August 20, the American Printer reproduced the page of the WICOMICO NEWS which won honorable mention from unprejudiced and highly competent judges.

The WICOMICO NEWS was the only Maryland newspaper to win such high distinction.

S. Y. M. A. TO CLOSE FOR SEVERAL MONTHS

Final Decision As To Fate of Local Building Rests on Public of Salisbury.

For some reason or other the efforts which the board of directors of the Salisbury Young Men's association have been making to have the Young Men's Christian association take over the building at the corner of Broad and North Division streets in this city have been temporarily suspended and for several months at least it seems that the spacious three story brick building must stand useless. Walter Sheppard, chairman of the board, stated to a NEWS reporter this week that he hoped definite plans for the transfer of the building would crystallize in the Fall but was not at all certain of the date. He added that the outcome of the negotiations depended largely upon public sentiment and that the directors would do all in their power to have the building reopened as soon as conditions warrant them in doing so.

Mr. Sheppard stated that to reopen the building would mean that the people of Salisbury and vicinity would have to subscribe at least $4,000 yearly to keep the finances of the association in a sound condition as the annual expense would amount to $11,000 and the income of the building from all sources including membership dues, room rents, receipts from the use of pool tables, locker rents, etc., would not exceed $7,000. During the last year the association went $1,000 in debt with a total expense account of $11,000 while observing strict economy. It is expected that to keep the building open and things moving in full swing for a year in the future would require a larger sum than that.

Mr. Sheppard announced that until the public showed enough interest to back the institution financially and give it their sincere moral support that the board of directors would not assume the responsibility of opening it again. The Y. M. C. A. has also refused to take over the building, it is understood, without the people's support financially.

From these decisions it can be readily seen that Salisbury will permanently lose the only modern building in the city available as a place where her younger male generation may go to enjoy clean sport and pleasure unless something is done by the citizens of this city. The building was open for one year before it was forced to close its doors but in that time it showed that if the proper spirit is shown by those who should become its active members a place of great benefit to this city can be established.

BAND FUND IS SLOWLY GROWING

With two more contributors to the Band fund this week a total of six donations have been received by the treasurer of the Band. More funds are necessary to enable the Band to continue its weekly concerts at Central park. All sums should be sent either to the Wicomico News or to the treasurer of the I. O. O. F. Band. This week's contributors are: the Salisbury Baking Co., and the R. K. Truitt Insurance Agency.

Seventeen Thousand People Attend The Fair Here Thursday

Big Exhibit Shown Throughout The Week To Thousands Of People. It Was The Biggest and Best Fair Ever Held on Eastern Shore. Horses Make Good Time in Spite of Heavy Track. Midway and Exhibits Never Better.

STREETS CROWDED WITH TRAFFIC

In all the eleven years that the Salisbury Fair has been a factor in the making of this city, never but once before has it been continued longer than the scheduled four days. This year the Fair was to have been continued in full swing throughout Saturday, he fifth day. But even this action by the Fair management was doomed to failure, for it rained all hat day.

The Fair management decided to continue the exhibition a day longer than the original schedule because of the wonderful demand for its attractions made on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and because so many people were deprived of enjoying its pleasures on Tuesday when the weather was decidedly bad.

But the heavy rain of Saturday again interfered with the plans of the management, and the people were disappointed in their expectations of another "big" day at the Fair.

Seventeen thousand people passed through the Fair ground's gates on Thursday. This is a record for Salisbury and for the entire Eastern Shore. The streets of the city were crowded with traffic of all kinds all day on Thursday. Due to the excellent work of the local police, however, there were no accidents.

At the Fair grounds, much too small to accommodate such a crowd, the midway, grand stand, quarter stretch and the exhibition halls were so filled with people as to make it almost impossible to find standing or seating accommodations.

It was a big crowd, well entertained and well pleased. Never before in the eleven years history of the Fair association have the exhibits been so extensive or so comprehensive.

Of the 33 exhibits, the most striking were those of the Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Co., the E. S. Adkins & Co., Kaustine Sales & Service Co., the J. E. Shockley Co., Milford Music & Furniture Co., D. W. Perdue Auto Co., L. W. Gunby Co., A. Brewington, Delmar, and Miss Margaret Laws, public health nurse.

Other exhibitors were: Wicomico News, News Publishing Co., Hold Fast Paints, by Captain L. P. Coulbourne; Miss Olive Mitchell, county demonstrator; Tomato Growers association; T. J. Truitt, Baltimore Sun, Baltimore News, Dale & Butler, of Whaleyville, Thrift Jar Co., of Baltimore, Hill's Service Station, Lloyd Richardson, Linwood Morris, the Gordy Paige Co., Dorman & Smyth Hardware Co., Farmers & Planters Co., P. E. Cochran, of Easton; Wicomico Motor Car Co., East Main Street Garage, S. J. Clarke, Moline universal tractors; Standard Oil Co., Genco Heating System, Cleveland cars and tractors, and the Riverside Motor Co.

There were approximately 650 exhibits in the household department, 275 in the needlework division, 325 in the agricultural section, 125 in the floral department and several hundred entries in the live stock division. In the Educational building were hundreds of articles made by the school children of this county consisting of the work done by the Arts department, domestic science, commercial and manual training sections. Thousands of people visited this building and were loud in their praise of the work exhibited.

Because of the heavy rains preceding the Fair and continuing until Wednesday, the race course was heavy and as a result the horses entered were prevented from making their usual fast time.

Bad weather conditions and a muddy track prevented all races carded for Tuesday. On Wednesday the track was in a somewhat better condition making it possible to run off two running and one harness events. These were won as follows:

First race—Five furlongs, with six entries, was won by Mary Magenter to the time of 1:03 2-5; Kitty Johnson finished second, Silver Sari third, Rosemary fourth, Blondell fifth, and Hot Foot sixth. Ahara from the stables of J. Copland led in the second running race over a course of six furlongs coming under the wire after 1:26 had elapsed. Democracy was second, Silék 2nd, third, Director James fourth, Florsain fifth, and Running Lad sixth. The harness race for a purse of $350, 2:16 trot, was won in straight heats by Native Judge, to the times of 2:44, 2:41 and 2:37 1/2. Silkobell came second in each of the three heats while Nora Setzer brought up the rear.

On Thursday three harness races and three running races were carded and finished. Dick March captured the 2:30 pace, purse $300, in four heats being headed in the second mile by Gladys H., who ran third in the first heat, second in the third heat, and third in the last run. King Abbe and Genev exchanged places for the two rear positions. Time—2:21 1/4, 2:22 1/4, 2:22 1/4 and 2:26 1/4. The second race, the 2:23 trot for a purse of $350 went to Wilbur, the Great, in four heats. Signola captured the first mile and was second in the three other trials.

Ladie Penn won the third place each time and Royal Boy secured fourth in the four heats. Time—2:28 1/4, 2:22 1/4, 2:22 1/4 and 2:22 1/4. The last harness race was the Wicomico county special for a purse of $150, which was garnered by Mark A in straight heats. Edith Prince was second in the first heat, Sarah Mack came next to the leader in the third heat, while Somerset Boy hugged the pacesetter in the third stanza.

Of the three running races the Salisbury handicap aroused the most interest. Incinerator, owned by the Wispers, won first money, doing the five furlongs in 1:03. Kitty Johnson crossed the line second, Blondell third, Mary Magenter fourth and Silver Sand fifth. Early Morn won the second running event in the time of 1:04. Hot Foot came third, second, Democracy third, Silék 2nd fourth and Ahara fifth. The concluding event for five furlongs was captured by Florsain, owned by F. S. Darby, Director James came second, Rosemary in third position, Running Lad fourth and Jolly Token was distanced.

Friday's racing card consisting of five harness events and two running races was the largest ever carried off on the local grounds at one time, the two extra races being occasioned by the rains not enabling Thursday's to be finished.

The 2:18 for a purse of $350 was won by Bell Woodford in four heats, Joe Alliewood owned by Sweeney of Baltimore coming under the wire first in the third heat. Goldie Burk captured third money. Time: 2:19 1/4, 2:19 1/4, 2:16 1/4 and 2:20 1/4. The 2:20 trot for $350 was won by Ruth Palmer in straight heats. Lord Gale received two seconds and one third in the race while Beulah M. came in third.

Elworthy led the field in the 2:22 pace for a purse of $350, taking four heats to decide the race. Happy J. was the leader in the third mile. Onworthy was the tallender. Time: 2:22 1/4, 2:20 1/4, 2:19 1/4 and 2:19 1/4. Three heats decided the 2:14 pace in favor of Frances who had no trouble in either mile. Tokie Patch made three seconds. Time: 2:17 1/4, 2:16 1/4 and 2:15 1/4.

The Free For All with four contenders was decidedly the best harness race of the Fair besides making the best time. It went four heats resulting in a tie between Miss Marquie and the Pointer Queen. The final heat was carded for Saturday but rain prevented the Free For All from being settled. The times for the four heats are: 2:14 1/4, 2:15 1/4, 2:13 1/4 and 2:15 1/4.

The two running races also were run in better time than in any previous race during the Fair. The first which was won by Hot Foot was covered in 1:02 1/4. Kitty Johnson finished second in this event, with Director James, third. The last running race

NO CREDENTIALS TRAPS SOLICITOR

Alleged Ex-Service Man Soliciting Salisbury Advertising Selected By Secretary Freeman.

A moment's precaution is worth many hours of regret; yet right here in Salisbury there are still many business men and women who fail to take advantage of one of their greatest sources of protection, the Chamber of Commerce. This fact was evidenced last week when a solicitor from a Baltimore house appeared in town and attempted to sell advertising space in a small booklet at the rate of one hundred dollars a page. Even under the most favorable circumstances, it is highly probable that the advertising thus bought would not get into the hands of more than three or four hundred persons; and its results would, at that, have been almost negligible.

This solicitor came to Salisbury wearing in the lapel of his coat the button of the American Legion; using this and a trumped up story about former service as an entering wedge, he attempted to sell the merchants on their patriotism. He did not get far, however, for one of the first men interviewed was a member of the Chamber of Commerce and asked to see the visitor's credentials. The solicitor had none and was directed to the office of Secretary Freeman. There it was ascertained that the visitor was not a member of the American Legion, that he never had been in the service, and that his proposition was purely one of personal gain.

By its method of investigating the standing of all solicitors who come into the city to work, the Chamber has already, no doubt, saved Salisbury many hundreds of dollars. It can save them many more hundreds if the wholehearted co-operation of every citizen in town is given freely.

In the past week, six solicitors or groups of solicitors have been investigated by the Secretary of the Chamber. Of these six, only one was found fully worthy of confidence and was given credentials. The others left town, and left in town many dollars that they might otherwise have taken with them.

In line with these investigations, attention is directed by the Chamber to the offerings of certain stocks on the local market. One organization is offering a more or less attractive proposition to the farmers, but those who are being urged to buy should bear in mind that fifty-one per cent of the common stock, that is the voting stock, is retained by the promoters. While the Chamber feels that this proposition may be all right, on the face of it it seems unwise to buy stock in any concern in which those who furnish the cash do not reserve the right to control it. Investigate before you buy.

The Secretary of the Chamber urges all business houses to insist that unknown solicitors apply to the Chamber for investigation and credentials before attempting to work in the city. Every citizen who has at heart the interests of Salisbury should gladly co-operate with him to prevent the city from becoming a mecca for irresponsible solicitors.

Hospital Campaign Organizes

Drive To Start About Middle of October. $200,000 Needed.

F. P. ADKINS CHOSEN CHAIRMAN OF DRIVE

First Meeting At Chamber Of Commerce Rooms On Monday Augurs Well For Success Of Campaign. All Officers Elected. Armory To Be Headquarters.

In number and calibre of men present, as well as the fine interest and ready response for service, the first meeting called by the Board of Directors in the interest of the campaign to enlarge the Peninsula General hospital on Monday night in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, augurs well for the success of the movement.

Many of the prominent business men present are: L. W. Gunby, Graham Gunby, F. P. Adkins, W. B. Miller, Dr. S. A. Graham, F. L. Wallis, A. M. Walls, I. L. Benjamin, S. S. Feldman, E. D. Mitchell, Travers Ruark, Harry Ruark, W. S. Gordy, Jr., M. A. Humphreys, Ralph Grier, L. A. Bennett, Ernest C. Turner, A. F. Benjamin, L. Thomas Parker, Walter S. Sheppard and Senator Chas. R. Disharoon sent letters explaining that absence from the city prevented their being present, and expressing their readiness to co-operate.

Walter B. Miller, who has been identified with the hospital as a director from its very beginning, opened the meeting with a statement of the hospital's history and service. He spoke of its typical character as representative of one of the finest forms of common service which marks the progressive modern community, and the acute need for larger facilities. COLONEL WOODCOCK ACCEPTS APPOINTMENT

Well-Known Salisbury Lawyer Now Assistant Attorney-General. First On Eastern Shore.

Colonel Woodcock has within the past few days accepted the appointment as assistant Attorney-General of Maryland. This is the first time so far as is known that the Eastern Shore has ever been recognized by such an appointment. This office was tendered him last December, it has been learned, but was refused because it seemed that the duties of the office would interfere too seriously with his private practice in Salisbury as a member of the firm of Woodcock and Webb.

Attorney General Armstrong, however, was anxious to have an assistant more closely in touch with county problems and particularly those of the Eastern Shore than Baltimore lawyers usually are. He, therefore, again tendered the appointment to Colonel Woodcock with the understanding that the latter would be in Baltimore only for conference and would perform the duties of his office mainly in Salisbury. It is believed that Colonel Woodcock will be assigned as special counsel to the Conservation Commission which is concerned largely with the oyster and kindred industries.

The News congratulates Attorney General Armstrong on this appointment. He has taken the proper view of his office and adopted the proper plan to keep it thoroughly in harmony with the entire state.

He has very correctly recognized Salisbury as the metropolis of the Eastern Shore and the logical place for an appointment of this character. Colonel Woodcock is one of the directors and counsel for the NEWS. It therefore goes without saying that THE NEWS believes the appointment all right.

BOARD OF LADY MANAGERS TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Lady Managers of the Peninsula General hospital, will take place at 10:30 o'clock on Thursday morning in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. A full attendance is desired.

SALISBURY, MARYLAND

COUNTY NEWS

MARDELA SPRINGS.

The continued wet weather is very trying on the farmers and truckers in this community. The crab grass has gotten quite a growth and it will be hard to kill. There is great disappointment over the tomato crop. Fifteen cents per basket is all that is given for them. Should the truckers drop out for one season and not raise any tomatoes, this would give the canners a chance to dispose of the pack they now have on hand and the market would then right itself. It is to the interest of grower and packer to work together. The worst sufferers are the renters who give a part of their crop in pay for the farm worked. The tomatoes which rot on the land will to that extent benefit the owner of the land, but the poor renter gets nothing for his work.

BRIEF HAPPENINGS IN WORCESTER CO.

School work in Worcester County will open with a five days' Institute for the teachers beginning next Monday. This will be the first Institute held in the county for several years. A very able corps of instructors has been secured by the Board of Education and the teachers will be greatly benefited by the advice and inspiration these people will bring to them as well as by the exchange of educational ideas of their own.

The population of Worcester county has increased 468 in the last ten years according to the latest announcement of the Fourteenth Census by the Department of Commerce at Washington. This is an increase of only 2.1 per cent as compared with an increase of 976 or 4.6 per cent for the previous decade. Berlin, Girdletree, Ocean City and Pocomoke made gains, while the population of Snow Hill and Bishopville decreased. The largest gain was made by Ocean City which jumped from 476 to 711 or an increase of 49 per cent. Girdletree was a close second with a gain of 47 per cent. Berlin and Pocomoke made gains of less than four per cent. Snow Hill's loss was 9.8 per cent and that of Bishopville 6.1 per cent.

The large three-mast schooner, Lillian E. Kerr, which has been in course of construction at Tull's ship yard, Pocomoke city, for some months past, was launched on Saturday afternoon. The schooner is 176 feet over all in length, with a beam of 35 feet and one inch, and a depth of hold of 14 feet and 3 inches. She was built for the lumber trade. Her master is Capt. G. W. Waldemar, of Boston, Mass. The managing owner is W. N. Hunter, of Mobile, Ala.

Miss Marie Tilghman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Tilghman, of near Snow Hill, and Albert Stage, son of County Commissioner Robert N. Stage, Esq. were quietly married on Thursday night, and have gone on a wedding trip.

OYSTER SEASON OPENED YESTERDAY

Crop Expected To Be One Of The Biggest Ever Harvested In State.

The oyster season in Maryland opened yesterday and in preparation for the event the State Conservation commission had sent out instructions to its deputy commanders to survey the beds of the Chesapeake. Reports that have already come in indicate that the season will be very successful barring unforeseen events. The beds of the Choptank river, one of the best oyster sections of the state, are in splendid condition.

Reports from the Miles river and Eastern bay sections are to the effect that oysters are more plentiful than ever.

The oyster bottoms in Wicomico and Somerset counties are said to be covered with oysters of fine quality, and our planters and tongs are looking for a prosperous season.

Despite the ice blockade of January and February, last year was one of the most successful in the history of the state, and from the reports so far received this year should be better. Last winter 4,743,900 bushels of oysters were dredged and tonged from the beds of the Chesapeake and its tributaries. The year before that the yield from the beds was 3,774,300 bushels, and in 1918-1919, 2,500,000 bushels. There has been, therefore, a steady increase, and the peak will be reached this year, in the opinion of commission members.

Samuel A. Harper, of Talbot, chief clerk of the commission, has sent out instructions to inspectors all over the state to investigate conditions and prepare data for the use of the oyster men. A source that has been but slightly touched, it is expected, will be the upper bay this year.

A great many boats of the oyster fleet are now engaged in transporting produce, wheat, and fertilizer, and will remain in this business until late in October. However, several thousand bushels should be on the market a few days after the season opens on September 1.

One way to relieve habitual constipation is to take regularly a mild laxative. Doan's Regulets are recommended for this purpose. 30c a box at all drug stores.—Adv.

At a meeting of the vestry of Somerset Parish, held Monday night, a call was extended to the Rev. Walter Archbold, D. D., to become rector of the parish. Mr. Archbold has accepted the call and he and his family are expected to arrive in Princess Anne the latter part of next month. Dr. Archbold comes from Lakefield, Ontario, Canada. Dr. Archbold was born and received his early education in England. As a young man he went to Canada and graduated in theology at Trinity University, Toronto. He was ordained in the priesthood at St. Alban's Cathedral, Toronto, in 1901. He became assistant rector at St. Paul's, Flatbush, Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1906, and while there was also chaplain at the Metropolitan hospital and workhouse at Blackwell's Island. In 1909 he was appointed vicar of Hastings-upon-Hudson, New York diocese. In 1916 he became assistant rector of Worcester parish, with his residence at Ocean City, Md., where he laid the foundation for St. Paul's-by-the-Sea. In 1919 he was chosen dean of Trinity Cathedral, Easton, but was unable to accept the call at that time.

NEW NASH TOUR CREATES INTEREST

New Model of Popular Car Will probably Be Shown in Salisbury in a Few Days.

"With the approach of the time set for appearance on the market of the new Nash Four," said Graham Gunby last week, "unusual interest is being evinced in the perfected valve-in-head motor with which this car will be equipped. Indications are that the new four-cylinder Nash model will be in production in the early fall. It is expected that a sample car may be shipped to us next month.

"The valve-in-head motor of the Nash Four is identical in design to that of the Nash Six except that it has two less cylinders," continued Mr. Gunby. "It is pointed out that the perfected valve-in-head motor differs somewhat from the ordinary, overhead valve construction. The rocker arms, for instance, are inclosed, thus providing practically automatic lubrication. The splash and oil fumes serve to keep the rocker arms lubricated.

"The crankshaft of the Nash Four is inherently counter-balanced and is unusually heavy to reduce vibration, while the pistons are light and perfectly balanced. The crankshaft bearings are of brass-backed Babbitt."

TOMATO CROP RUINED.

The rains that have prevailed throughout the lower Delaware section almost uninterruptedly for the past fortnight have seriously damaged the late white potato crop, which had given all signs of being equal to the record early crop. Unless a clear spell of dry weather comes soon, most of the potatoes will rot under ground before they are developed enough to dig.

Most disfiguring skin eruptions, scrofula, pimples, rashes, etc., are due to impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters as a cleansing blood tonic, is well recommended. $1.25 at all stores.—Advt.

Ushering in the first New Fall Fashions

Now comes the turning point in the showing of fashions. Summer here today will be gone tomorrow. Everywhere women not only recognize but feel the need for new clothing. We, therefore, take pleasure in presenting all that is most becoming and authoritative in the new fashions. All the industry and prosperity of this year are reflected in the beautiful elaborations and tastefulness of design, the choicest fabrics and the most skillful workmanship. Not only service but beauty have been combined in these wonderful new creations.

Blue Tricotine Suits for Autumn Days.

Again this season blue tricotine is being launched as the fabric de luxe for the fall tailor—a tribute to the ever increasing popularity of this fabric—and a well deserved popularity—resting on many virtues. Of the many fabrics which present themselves none is so well adapted to the pliant lines of the well made tailor. These suits are particularly good for wear with furs—and since they are interlined will afford sufficient warmth throughout the season. Then too we have the suits made of softer materials, such as Chiffon Broadcloth, Duvet De Laine, Peach Bloom and Velour. They range in price from.....$35.00 to $125.00

New Autumn Coats For Service and Smartness

Perhaps one of the most serviceable garments in the winter wardrobe is the coat. One may change one's frock several times during the day, but often times one's wrap is the same from morning till evening. Moreover, a coat that starts the season may easily be worn through the coldest winter days clear to the spring. We have, therefore, specialized our coats for service. Every coat we present fulfills a distinct need, from the short jaunty coat for skating and sport wear to the wrappy looking coat for every festivity. They are priced.....$25.00 to $125.00

Silk Afternoon Gowns

With the coming of fall days many social activities which were suspended during the summer have been resumed. There is the theatre, teas and club meetings all of which call for the informal afternoon gown. To meet the prosperity and industry of these colorful days, designers have been unusually lavish in their creations. For the most part the new silhouette is straight and slender, particularly adapted to the style of the American women, with the variations along these lines altogether without end. The materials are those best adapted to the season. Lustrous satin, and softly clinging georgettes. Many handsomely embroidered and beaded. Priced.....$25.00 to $85.00

The First Hats of Autumn

Here are hats which are representative of millinery fashions in advance of the mode, which are away from the ordinary in conception and are so diversified that they will satisfy the taste of all women. Moreover, they have been priced conspicuously low considering their fine materials and trimmings. There are many tailored hats, dress hats of velvet for afternoon and evening wear and jaunty little models for in between times becomingly trimmed with ostrich. Priced.....$5.00 to $12.50

Tricotine and Serge Dresses moderately priced at

THE FAIR.

Fair Week, the greatest four days in the history of Salisbury, annually, is a thing of the past. Not for another year will there be such an event in this city.

Opening on Tuesday amid a downpour of rain, which was only another of a long series of similar downpours which had preceded it every day for a fortnight, the prospects for a successful Fair were not especially bright. Wednesday dawned with lowering clouds and low temperature. Pale watery sunshine treated the crowds assembled at the fair grounds to a promise of better weather, but even that promise was not to be immediately fulfilled, for it rained again during the mid-day.

Thursday was the big day, and the weather man got round to that point where he withheld his deluges of rain, permitted little patches of blue to be seen between the gray clouds, and altogether did all in his power to entice the wary crowds to Salisbury—and the crowds came. Thick and fast they came, afoot, in automobiles, in carry-alls, carriages and in mule drawn carts. They came by train and they came by boat. Every road led to Salisbury on Thursday; and the day was one of the biggest in the history of the Salisbury Fair association. It was estimated that 6,000 people smiled at the threats of rain on Wednesday and assembled at the Fair grounds. It is a fact that many thousands more were in the crowds that enjoyed the Fair on Thursday.

Traffic was never thicker on the streets of Salisbury than it was on Thursday. Main street, Division street, Dock street and Camden street were filled all day long with arriving and departing vehicle loads of Fair visitors. The hotels were surcharged with guests. The restaurants could not accommodate the crowds demanding food.

Stores in the center of the city were filled from opening to closing hours with customers who, attending the Fair, stole away a few minutes to shop in the business center. Ice cream stores and soda fountains never did a bigger business than on Thursday, and though the patronage at these places was full and complete, the pink lemonade man at the Fair grounds got his full share too.

The Salisbury Fair has long been known as the best on the Eastern Shore. It exceeded all of its previous successes this year in spite of a bad get-away caused by bad weather conditions.

The management of the Fair is to be congratulated upon its success. The business men of the city who co-operated in making it a success, are to be commended for their co-operation.

Each man or woman who helped the Salisbury Fair to be a success this year, did something for the city itself. They helped to favorably advertise their city. In doing this, they acted as good citizens who are interested in the success, the progress and the growth of that place they call home.

The Salisbury Fair, each year, is one of the city's best and most favorable advertising mediums. This year it was better than ever. It reached more people. It pleased more people. And when it did these, it helped the city beyond measure.

Whether or not the Fair was a success financially, with those responsible for its management, is not yet known; it is to be hoped that it was. It would seem that it must have been—and yet, even though it was not a success directly, in shillings and pence, it brought much additional money into the city which was put in circulation here among all the people and all the people received a share of the benefit.

Every effort should be made to encourage the Salisbury Fair association each year to make the bazaar bigger and better—because the bigger and the better it is, the more it benefits the city, and the more it benefits the city, the greater the benefit to each individual business man, professional man, tradesman, property owner, and each taxpayer.

Let the Salisbury Fair go on year after year, and with the arrival of each annual Fair Week, let each Fair be bigger and brighter and better than its predecessor. Friday, closing day, was another big success—but Thursday was the big day—and in the words of the slang artist, it was a hum-dinger.

BOYS.

Is enough attention paid to the boys of our city? Are we doing all in our power to make of them good, loyal and true citizens?

Are we doing all we can to keep them at home where their earnings may be spent and enjoyed by them in Salisbury and where the money they spend will be a benefit to the entire community?

These are a few questions the thinking men and women of the city should ask themselves.

It is a fact, we all know it, that the great majority of our boys after leaving school, also leave the city. They go to bigger places where there are greater opportunities for profitable employment and where life is not so hum-drum.

Usually the boy who remains at home is the plodder, the fellow who never gets very far in life. The bright, snappy, energetic boy leaves for brighter, snappier and more energetic communities.

And who can blame him? His very youthfulness calls for and craves for action.

Salisbury like many other fast growing cities, has been so busy attending to its financial and its industrial growth that it has forgotten the all essential problem of keeping its home boys well employed and well satisfied. The boys are being allowed to drift away. They get their education at the expense of the county and then take the knowledge they have accumulated here to some other place where they use it to the profit of that place and themselves.

Salisbury today has few if any well governed well conducted, well supervised places of recreation for its boys. A short time ago the S. Y. M. A. was born. Its purpose was to fill, in a measure, the city's need of organized and supervised entertainment for its boys and young men. The thing went along merrily for awhile. It was a new broom and it swept clean. Then after two years, the broom began to wear; the novelty of the thing began to rub off; those men and women who should have felt the responsibility of its maintenance, lost interest—and the S. Y. M. A. died.

Frequently there is heard the complaint that Salisbury boys do not stay at home—that they go to other places to work and to live—and it is true; they do.

Who can blame them? The bigger cities make a point of keeping the boys of their home places entertained, amused and employed. The same effort which results in keeping their home boys satisfied acts also as a lure to the boys of the smaller places.

Salisbury is one of those smaller places. Its boys are hearing the call of the bigger cities every day—and almost every day, it loses a youth who in a short time would be a useful and creditable citizen.

Can Salisbury afford this loss? The question can best be answered by those who really have the interest of Salisbury at heart. Unless Salisbury can keep its own sons satisfied and willing to remain at home, it cannot expect sons of other places to come here and be satisfied. The city will never grow, as it should grow, until some real effort is put forth to keep the home boys at home.

This is a matter which is deserving of attention—one that demands attention, if the city is to continue to grow. There is more to a city than its financial and its industrial side. The care of its boys is a matter which should have attention at least equal to that given the other problems.

FARMERS HARD HIT.

There does not seem to be any let up in the discouraging conditions surrounding the farmers. Rain, rain, comes every day and crops cannot be gathered and are rotting in the fields.

In our immediate section there is being experienced a severe loss and with the sweet potato crop about the only hope ahead practically every farmer is feeling the effect of the conditions.

We should be proud to note that the majority of our farmers are facing the outlook with every ray of optimism that they can muster. The farmer has suffered in the last few years from almost every disadvantage. The labor question has been a sore puzzle and a serious handicap and the tremendous advance in the price of material of every nature used in food production has been a problem to meet, but the farmers have held nobly up their task and have not given up their fight for their own living and to produce the food that others require.

This season will without question be one of the most severe on farmers in recent years. Those who have been cornered and are caught in a jam should be given aid. We find the farm is becoming less attractive every year and unless there is the proper aid for the men in need at this time a serious condition may develop. The condition should be taken up by our government at Washington and we trust that this will be one of the first acts of the next body in power. It is vital and calls for action without delay. The farmer needs help and unless he obtains it and obtains it under generous terms our entire nation will suffer.

MAKING SALESMEN WAIT.

Keeping salesmen waiting seems to be the most entertaining indoor sport indulged in by some purchasing agents, buyers and managers. It is rather poor sport in one way, because it robs the salesman of his most valuable asset, time. It does not, necessarily, impress upon the salesman the fact that the executive must be a very busy man, a very important man, in the organization that employs him, because the salesman has been hearing the scenes and knows that very often the man who is keeping him waiting is doing nothing more weighty than smoking a cigar or talking.

A spirit of fairplay would urge the buyer to see his caller as soon as he can, conveniently, listen to his story, if it is interesting, and make his decision quickly, if it is possible. Dilly-dallying gets him nothing and often loses him little legitimate advantages that the salesman would be glad to pass along if the buyer showed more of the co-operative spirit.

Of course the sad feature of this "let-him-wait" attitude is that the buyer is paying for the salesman's time and doesn't realize it, because the cost of selling the goods is tacked on the price just as much as the production cost. In the interest of better business, of more business-like business, and in reduced cost of doing business all around, it should occur to those who keep salesmen waiting that some of the H. C. could be knocked out of L. if they made it more convenient for salesmen to see them and to present their propositions.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE A FACT.

With Woman Suffrage an accomplished fact we face a very serious responsibility to educate our women in political methods, which will be for their guidance, and enable them to so shape their efforts as to accomplish practical results, for themselves, for their part and for the general welfare of the people. Along this line an editorial from the New York Times is interesting reading and it is reproduced as a practical suggestion as well as a fair presentation of some of the adverse conditions which will have to be solved. The Times says:

"With ratification of the Suffrage Amendment now virtually assured, the country will begin to ask: What next is to be done? One answer is suggested by the historic remark of Robert Lowe, when male suffrage was greatly extended in England fifty years ago. He had fought the bill with a series of powerful and brilliant speeches, but when defeat came to him he accepted it with good grace. The new voters had come, and the only question was what to do with them. Lowe said: 'We must now educate our rulers.'"

SALISBURY AUTO CO. CHANGES OWNERSHIP

Mr. James Gordy Buys Salisbury Auto Tire Repair Co. From U. C. Wimbrow.

The Salisbury Auto Tire Repair Co. owned and managed for seven years by U. C. Wimbrow changed hands on Monday of this week and is now owned by N. James Gordy who will manage the repair shop himself with the same force of assistants who worked under Mr. Wimbrow. The price paid by Mr. Gordy was $1400. The transfer was settled on Tuesday, August 24, but possession was not given until Monday.

Mr. Gordy has been the head man in Mr. Wimbrow's vulcanizing plant since the plant started seven years ago and knows the business from top to bottom. Preston Shockley will be Mr. Gordy's assistant in the plant.

The Salisbury Auto Tire Repair Co. will continue to be the name of the vulcanizing station. Retreading will be the only other work done by the plant.

This company is the oldest vulcanizing plant on the Eastern Shore and is probably the largest. There are six different molds for vulcanizing among the equipment and Mr. Gordy promises immediate service to all his customers.

Mr. Wimbrow has given up the vulcanizing business to enter the automobile field. He has accepted the agency for the Chandler and Cleveland cars in the territory of Wicomico and Worcester counties and will continue to carry a complete line of accessories together with the United States, Firestone, and other standard makes of tires.

The new brick building on West Church street, in front of the plant of the Salisbury Auto Tire Repair Co. owned by Mr. Wimbrow, is nearly finished and he will make his new headquarters there. An automobile showroom is being constructed where he will have a display of both makes of cars which he will sell.

School Children Will Again Form Thrift Clubs Upon Opening Of Schools This Week.

Plans have been made to continue the work through the coming school year.

More than eleven thousand savings clubs have been formed in the school rooms of the fifth federal reserve district since the beginning of the work in 1918, and through these clubs, the records show, many youngsters who never saved a penny in their lives have acquired the saving habit and have developed a lively interest in making money of their own.

Members of savings societies pledge themselves to earn and save money regularly, no matter how small the amounts, and to invest part of their savings in Thrift Stamps.

FAMILY HAS NARROW ESCAPE AT OAK GROVE

Lightning Invades Home of Farmer, But Fails to Injure Any Member of the Family.

During a severe electric storm early Wednesday the home of Edward Willin, a farmer living near Oak Grove, was struck by lightning and badly damaged, the family escaping with much difficulty. The bolt of lightning entered the north side of the home and came out on the south side.

At the time of the storm, Willin and his family, consisting of a wife and small child, were asleep. The parents were awakened by the cries of the child. When they awoke the bed in which they were sleeping was covered with plastering which had fallen from the ceiling, caused by the bolt passing through the room.

They seized their clothes and child and ran out into the blinding storm expecting every minute to see their home burst into flames, but it did not.

After the storm had passed over they entered their home and found that the bolt had passed through every room, doing damage in each one.

FISHING SEASON POOR

Reports from the Lewes fisheries companies show an unsuccessful season to date compared with last year. Approximately 25,000,000 fish have been caught, against 40,000,000 this time last year. The month of August is considered the height of the season in which to make large hauls, as with the approach of cooler weather schools of fish begin to travel south, when work ceases here and is taken up around North Carolina waters.

SQUIRREL SEASON OPENS NOVEMBER 10

State Game Department Makes This Announcement For the Benefit of Sportsmen of the Entire State.

Prior to the session of the general assembly of Maryland for 1920, the open season of squirrels in seven counties of this state was November 10. This caused a sentiment to change the season to November 10, state-wide, as 16 counties had heretofore opened the squirrel season August 25, and closed October 1 and opened again November 10 until December 24. Complaints of numerous mother and young squirrels being killed brought this legislation about, and the members of the general assembly passed and had a law enacted which is state-wide and applies to all counties, opening the season on squirrels November 10 (and in fact all other upland game and closing January 1, which extends the season on this species of game seven days.

It is believed the sportsmen of this state will comply with this new law, and not embarrass this game department in prosecuting them, otherwise it will be compelled to issue orders to arrest and prosecute all persons who do not comply with this law.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE OF CHILD

Physicians declare that the sight of 4-year-old Helen Coffin will be saved despite the fact that a bullet lodged in the roof of her mouth after passing through the nerves of the eye. The shooting was done when the little girl, whose home is in Philadelphia, was shot in the shop operated by her grandfather, John Coffin, at Frankford, Del., by her small cousins, who found what they thought was an empty revolver. The bullet struck the child in the nose near one corner of the eye, following one of the bones and lodging in the roof of the mouth.

"Mrs. Keach Tells How She Got To Know Rat-Snap"

"I have always feared rats. Lately noticed many on my farm. A neighbor said he just got rid of droves with RAT-SNAP. This started me thinking. Tried RAT-SNAP myself. It killed 17 and scared the rest away." RAT-SNAP comes in three sizes, 35c, 65c, and $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by DORMAN & SMYTH HDW. CO.—Adv.

FARMERS QUIT THE LAND FOR BUSINESS

Eastern Shore Agriculturists Are Selling Out, Because of Recent Profits and Their More Recent Losses.

That farmers in unusually large numbers are selling out in Talbot and other Eastern Shore counties is being noted. Most of the peninsula papers are crowded with sales of personal property, most especially so in Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot. In Talbot, the Star-Democrat has already advertised since July 1 31 different personal property sales. Four new ones appeared last week and the Star-Democrat has reservations for the next nine weeks for 14 more.

The tendency seems to be to sell out and engage in some other livelihood. Certainly the proverbial farmer's luck has pursued them the past two years. Many farmers still have their wheat in the fields, eight and nine weeks after threshing, and those who have threshed and shipped have received very poor prices.

The tomato outlook and the very poor corn prospects will be further incentives to sell out.

DELAWARE SCHOOLS TO OPEN

The Delaware schools will open the new session on Tuesday, September 7th. The teachers for this term are, Mr. Chapman, principal, Miss Ruth Jones, Miss Helen Rathburn, A. G. Tappert, Miss Margaret F. Hastings, Miss Addie Cooper, Miss Elsie Hughes and Miss Edna Cooper.

A Grateful Letter.

It is in trying conditions like that related below by Mrs. Geo. L. North of Naples, N. Y. that proves the worth of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. "Two years ago last summer" she says, "our little boy had dysentery. At that time we were living in the country eight miles from a doctor. Our son was taken ill suddenly and was about the sickest child I ever saw. He was in terrible pain all the time and passed from one convulsion into another. I sent my husband for the doctor and after he was gone thought of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the cupboard. I gave him some of it and he began to improve at once. By the time the doctor arrived he was out of danger."—Adv.

MARGARET MOORE DIES IN HOSPITAL

Was Patient at Peninsula General Hospital Here For 14 Weeks Before Removal to Quaker City.

The news of the death on Thursday of Miss Margaret Moore, daughter of Isaac N. Moore, of Seaford, in the Samaritan hospital, Philadelphia, was received with much sadness. She was 16 years of age and had been a patient in hospitals since last February. She was first brought to the hospital at Salisbury, where she remained for 14 weeks. After being taken home from Salisbury she was taken to the hospital where she died. During her stay in the hospital at Salisbury her mother died. This was kept a secret from her for some time because of her serious condition. Miss Moore was a junior in the Seaford High school at the time she became ill and would have graduated in 1921.

SHARP, STABBING PAINS.

Often Tell of Weak Kidneys. A Salisbury Resident Shows You What To Do.

The sharp twinge of pain in the small of the back that strikes you after any sudden twist or awkward motion, may tell of weak kidneys. And there are often disturbances of the urine—too frequent urination, scalding or burning pain during passage, discolored urine and sediment.

Doan's Kidney Pills are prepared especially for weakened kidneys, kidney backache and urinary disorders—have proven their merit in thousands of cases. Doan's are endorsed throughout the civilized world—are recommended by Salisbury residents. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. Ralph Duffy, 517 S. Division St., Salisbury, says: "A few years ago I was in a bad way from kidney complaint. My back ached and pained and when I stooped it felt as if I had been stabbed in the back with a knife. At times, everything became black before my eyes and I could see little fire spots. One day I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and got some at the Collier Drug Co. I used two or three boxes and was cured. I can say nothing too good for Doan's." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Duffy had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Successful Drying Plants Prove of Great Value in Various Parts of Country.

PLANS FOR ERECTING PLANT

Number of Farmers Can Club Together and Build Device at Comparatively Small Expense—Save Women Much Work.

Fruit and vegetables wait for no man when they reach their prime and this time is usually just when the farmer's wife is busiest and the days are hottest. Nowadays, help is very difficult to obtain in the country, yet the family's supply of fruit and vegetables for winter must be saved when they are in season. In many neighborhoods the community drier for preserving surplus fruits and vegetables has proved a godsend to the women living near it.

The time to build a drying plant is in the spring before the rush of summer's work sets in. If a number of farmers club together to erect such a drier the expense to each family is small. Where only a few families wish to use a co-operative plant a small but satisfactory drier may be season. Wet weather has no effect on this type of drier.

The house is 6 by 12 feet. The uprights in front are 6 feet 8 inches. The uprights in back are 6 feet 2 inches to give roof 6 inches fall for watershed. Doors are fastened to 2 by 4-inch uprights in front. Doors are 2 feet 8 inches by 6 feet 8 inches. The furnace is 15 by 15 inches by 4 feet, covered with two sheets (24-gauge) black sheet iron 2 inches apart—air space to prevent fire. The radiation is secured by ordinary stove pipe attached to furnace.

The house is heated after the plan of a tobacco barn—a small furnace of rock or brick is built at one end and a stovepipe carries the radiation to the opposite end of the house and back, with an elevation of 2 feet above the furnace. This stovepipe may extend outside of the house a sufficient space to escape the eaves and an elbow and three or four joints may act as a chimney; or, if a chimney is preferred, it may be built at a cost of $4 or $5 additional.

 There are three lattice partitions in the house, making four sections 82 inches wide for drying trays; 12 inches above the sill place across a piece 2 by 4 inches on which the center uprights 2 by 4 inches and the back uprights 2 by 4 inches rest. (Put uprights between the 2-inch way.) The tray bearers, 1 by 3-inch strips, are fastened to the uprights. The space between the tray bearers is filled with 2-inch strips to act as guides for the trays and to force the draft to circulate between the trays. If these spaces are left open it will act as a

NATIVES FRIGHTENED AT SIGHT OF AUTO

Automobile Seen For First Time in Mexican Town in 1920 Causes Panic Among the People.

"We drove into the outskirts of town about 5.30. Natives who had never seen an automobile came to the doors of their huts, took one look, and at once disappeared."

Contrary to the natural supposition, the foregoing paragraph is not an extract from a diary compiled by some explorer of 20 or 30 years ago, when four-wheeled vehicles were first beginning to be propelled by engine power. It is a paragraph from a letter written in the year 1920, concerning an incident that occurred in 1920, on the North American continent. It continues:

"As we drove down the main street of the town, curiosity overcoming the fear, children in increasing numbers ran along beside us, cheering and clapping their hands."

To be more specific, it is part of an account of the arrival of the first automobile in the town of Tantoyuca, state of Vera Cruz, Mexico. The car was driven by Frank B. Van Horn, chief geologist for the Cia. del Agui, S. A. of Tampico, Tama, Mexico. He was accompanied by two other geologists, G. H. Shelton and Richard Bryant. The trip was made in a Dodge touring car.

Tantoyuca is a little city about 75 miles from the gulf coast and 60 miles from a railroad. It is in a rather mountainous country, with steep hills in many instances covered with large boulders, making the roads almost impassable except for pack animals.

"Up to the time of our trip," Mr. Van Horn says, in his letter, "no attempt had ever been made to get an automobile into this territory, but we had gone to within 12 miles of Tantoyuca with our car and believed we could, with very little road work, go the rest of the way. On March 23, we left Tampico and drove 70 miles to Comales, where we passed the night. The next day we encountered real difficulties, having to use an axe, pick and shovel and even a block and tackle in getting across canyons and holes. Wherever it was at all possible for a car to get a footing we went along without trouble. In one place it was necessary for the car to pull up a rough slope of 40 degrees, which it did easily."

Many similar experiences preceded the triumphant entry into the isolated town, which took place the second day of the trip, at 7.30. Mr. Van Horn's account of the celebration which followed the first timid reception by the natives is especially interesting.

"We drove to the hotel, a large, typically Mexican house, with high ceilinged rooms, and a large patio filled with flowers and shrubbery," he writes. "Dona Feliciano S. Vinda de Herrera stood in the doorway and welcomed us in great delight. She said she was proud indeed at having the people who brought the first automobile into Tantoyuca to stop at her house, and proved it right royally in kindly attentions showered upon us."

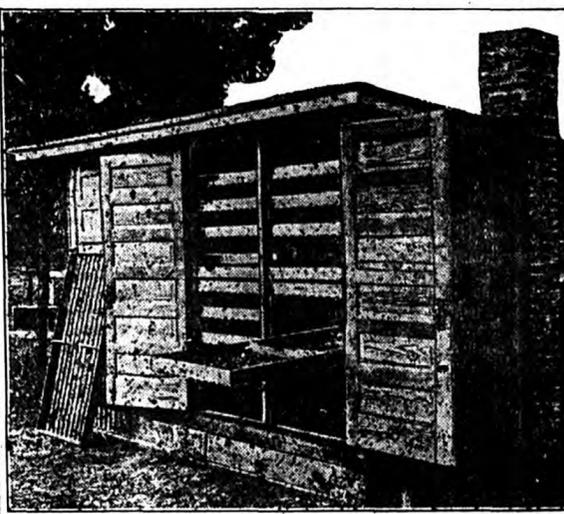

"After refreshing ourselves, we returned to the car, and, in relays, took for a ride about the city all the children who were not afraid to trust themselves to our care. We did not confine ourselves to the children entirely, but in the course of the evening took various prominent citizens for a short ride. I believe we derived more pleasure in their happy comments than did they in their first automobile ride. No fear of collisions in Tantoyuca, where not even cars are driven. The only vehicle ever in town was a buggy brought in, knocked down, on backs of mules, and it has long since given up its struggle. So we could drive with no fear where turning signals had no meaning."

"We retired about 10.30 in good beds, and slept the sleep of the weary. In the morning we again took children for drives, and took all that cared to try until one o'clock, when Dona Feliciano called us to dinner. And such a dinner—soup, beef, chicken, fruit, frijoles, not forgetting wine, and coffee, with an orchestra playing Mexican airs while we ate."

"After dinner we took the orchestra in the car, insisting that they play during the entire ride about the town. They enjoyed it immensely and fulfilled their part of the bargain."

"When we returned to the hotel the little girls whom we had taken for rides had come in with armfuls of flowers which they presented to us, and as we prepared to start, on our return trip they hung garlands of roses on the car."

"The city officials called on us, enjoyed a ride about town, and had a notary public take a record of the names of our party, make of car, license number, etc., and inscribed it in the historical record of the city. We began our return trip at 3 p. m., reaching Comales at 6.30. I should also add that Dona Feliciano would not accept one cent in payment for our expenses in her hotel on this trip, insisting that it was 'her party.'"

Several Farmers Might Co-operate in Erecting Drier of This Type.

Bezazian Hero of New Orleans Opera Fire

Famous Baritone Disinherited for Art's Sake

In the recent fire which destroyed the New Orleans Grand Opera House, one of the heroes was Torquemada Bezazian, who will appear with the International Artists on the coming Chautauqua program.

Living near the building he was awakened by commotion, and together with the tenor, Periera, they rushed to the burning theatre, pushed their way inside hoping to get to the rooms where their costumes were kept. Defeated in their purpose by the flames they broke into the orchestra room and saved a number of valuable instruments and scores. By the time they were able to get outside the building they were nearly overcome by smoke. Bezazian's entire wardrobe was destroyed.

Bezazian is a native of France, and is a graduate of the University at Nancy, where he studied engineering. At the same time he took a course in classics at the conservatory of Nancy, where he also received a diploma. Discovering that he possessed a voice, he chose an artistic career for which he was promptly disinherited by his people, a wealthy and prominent family. Then followed devoted wanderings, and Bezazian came to the United States. During the early part of the war he was invited to sing at a Red Cross meeting in Columbus, Ohio. He chose to sing "The Marseillaise," and on that occasion, says the Columbus Ohio Press Journal, "two hundred white-headed American, hard-headed business men, for the most part, had to wipe their eyes when Bezazian threw out the tremendous phrase of the great battle cry with his big baritone voice." Any way, inspired by Bezazian's song, these unemotional business men went down into their pockets to the extent of $60,000 for the Red Cross at that time.

With M. Bezazian will be Mme. Alberta Carina, famous coloratura soprano of the San Francisco Opera Company, Madjon Jordan, exceptional Turkish and Edna Jones, pianist. Misses Jordan and Jones have a distinguished standing among the musicians who appear on the Lyceum and Chautauqua platforms.

Following their musical prowl, Edward Amherst Ott will give his stirring lecture, "Victory," in which he asks the question, "Re-construction or Real-construction?"

 Tenderfoot—"Just what I said, I shoo him."

Flying Parson To Speak Here

Witness of Transcontinental Aero Race

Lieutenant Belvin W. Maynard, better known as "The Flying Parson," because he entered the aviation service from the ministry at his country's call, is naturally famous because of his winning the Transcontinental Aero Race, conducted last October.

At the invitation of the Swarthmore Chautauqua, Lieut. Maynard upon his discharge in April, 1920, from his military service, has turned his attention to the lecture platform where he will have ample opportunity to continue his patriotic labors under the title, "Motor Troubles of Society." This intrepid aviator, who knows so well how to overcome aeroplane motor troubles, will discuss our national and social problems from a new viewpoint. Lieut. Maynard is the red-blooded type of man whose varied experiences and training fit him for a practical and helpful discussion of this subject.

His physical fitness and mental alertness led the flying parson to take chances that most aviators shun, although he instantly enters a modest disclaimer when faced with the tribulations of the ribbon-like highways in going from control to control. Lieut. Maynard took the cross-country test, flying entirely by compass. He set his faith upon his star and sheared off the miles. On the trip from San Francisco he had occasion to take a long chance. Leaving Chicago, his course led him straight across Lake Michigan, and he followed his needle without hesitation. More cautious competitors circled the water and lost valuable time. His charge across the lake was one way of showing confidence in himself.

The real conditioning he believes in brought him earlier fame than his victory in the great Durby. Months ago he took to the air, bent on record-making. Three hundred and eighteen loops in 67 minutes did the trick—an average of better than a loop every fifteen seconds, continued for over an hour! It is a mark which has repelled assault after assault by other army aviators. Maynard came out of the test tired, of course, but far from exhausted.

This clear-headed person, undimmed and unheated, comes on the closing night of Chautauqua to tell us how our problems look from the far heights to which he has been accustomed.

Chronic Catarrh.

Our manner of living makes us very susceptible to colds and a succession of colds causes chronic catarrh a loathsome disease with which it is estimated that 95 per cent of our adult population are afflicted. If you would avoid colds or having contracted a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is highly recommended as a cure for colds and can be depended upon.

TOUGH MEAT CAN BE MADE QUITE TENDER

Long Cooking at a Low Temperature is Necessary.

Many Ways of Preparing in Water Without Allowing it to Reach Boiling Point—Possibilities of Double Boiler.

Tough pieces of meat are as nutritious as the more tender cuts and can be made quite as appetizing, but require long cooking at a low temperature. There are many ways of cooking meat in water without allowing it to reach the boiling point, culinary experts in the United States department of agriculture affirm. With the ordinary kitchen range this is accomplished by searing the meat until brown, to develop the flavor, then cooking on the cooler part of the stove rather than on the hottest part, directly over the fire.

REMOVE STAINS FROM WOOL

Generally More Difficult Than Treating Cotton or Linen—Avoid Use of Chemicals.

In general it is more difficult to remove stains from wool and silk than from cotton or linen. In removing stains from materials made from two or more kinds of fibers, such as silk and cotton mixtures, the possible effects of the stain removers upon all of the fibers should be considered says United States department of agriculture. No chemical should be used which would injure the most delicate of the fibers present.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Paper shelled almonds have usually larger kernels.

White fur can be cleaned by brushing with cornmeal.

Handsome curtains can be made only of good material.

Old quilts can be washed and saved for lining new ones.

Orange will peel easily if allowed to stand in hot water for five minutes.

Soak handkerchiefs in a pall of salt and water before putting them into the ordinary wash water.

Get rid of tufted and cushioned furniture as soon as possible. Dust is the greatest friend of disease, and much dust lingers in upholstered furniture.

If you have overalted the soup throw in a few slices of raw potato. This will absorb the excess salt. Remove the potatoes before serving the soup.

CITY FATHERS HOLD PERMITS

Busy Session On Monday As Council Carries Over Two Permits.

Two temporarily rejected permits, one approved permit, and other important business is the result of the City Council meeting on Monday night when the city fathers were in continuous session from 7.30 to 9.35 o'clock.

The first business before the council was to hear a delegation headed by Wood Richardson asking for a sewer on Light street. Mr. Richardson stated that the property-owners on Light street would furnish the money to install the sewer if the council was not able to do so at present.

E. Dale Adkins appeared before the Council with an application of the B. S. Adkins & Co. to build a saw mill on Baltimore avenue. Although Mr. Adkins stated that the mill would be run if possible by electricity which would prevent smoke, nevertheless the Council held over the permit until the next meeting in order to test the sentiment of the property-holders nearest the proposed mill.

W. M. Cooper and V. F. Allen representing the Farmers & Plasterers Co., appeared before the Council with an application to build a fireproof, $20,000 building on Hill street adjoining the F. A. Grier & Sons Co. property, to be used as a mixing and storage plant. The Council held over the permit until the next meeting.

The application to build a warehouse on the south side of William street to cost $125.00 was approved by the Council. Charles Givens signed the application.

Because of an extended list of serious objections to the plans owned by Wood Richardson being moved to the front of his Camden avenue property Mr. Richardson was instructed by the Council to move the structure from the property.

P. W. Scott, representing the Kamtine Sales & Service Co., appeared before the Council asking for their moral support in his work throughout the county in trying to educate the people to modern sanitation. The Council unanimously approved Mr. Scott's proposition and offered their assistance in every way possible.

WICOMICO WILL HAVE 5000 WOMEN VOTERS

They Are Advised To Register As Early As Possible To Relieve Pressure on Election Machinery.

The fact that several thousand women will have to qualify to vote next November is giving the boards of election supervisors of this state no little concern. It is a big job to register several thousand new names, but Wicomico's Board of Election Supervisors are on the job and will have everything in readiness when the registration days roll round. It may be necessary to add new sheets to the registration books so as to accommodate the names of the women voters.

There will be but two days to register the women voters—September 28th and October 5th. There will be another sitting of the registrars on October 12th, but only for the purpose of revising the lists. No new names will be added on October 12th.

President Wm. E. Sheppard of the Board of Election Supervisors says every facility will be given the women to register, and he thinks the big task can be accomplished in the two days.

Anticipating the ratification, the supervisors have examined the present registration books and believe that there is space enough to permit the registering of all women who ask for registration. The only additional expense, so far in sight, will be extra ballot boxes and the publication of an exceptionally heavy registration.

Later it may be found necessary to increase the number of polling places, but this will not be attempted this year. The presumption is that about 5,000 women will be added to the books this year in Wicomico county.

It cannot be too strongly impressed upon the new voters that it will be very unwise to delay in the duty of getting their names on the registry books. As it is, with the electorate of the state suddenly increased by several hundred thousand—the actual figures are somewhere between 300,000 and 600,000—the officials who have charge of this work will be swamped, and the machinery of registration and election will be severely taxed by the extra strain.

Women should therefore make it their business to register as early as they possibly can. This means not only on an early date, but also early in the day. The early forenoon is obviously the best time for women to appear before their boards, because the majority of new men voters are not able to register until after working hours.

The location of the registration offices for each precinct will be announced by the Board of Supervisors of Elections in the newspapers about September 10 or 11.

There is likely to be some embarrassment among the women voters in stating their ages. The women generally are asking the question, "Will I have to state my exact age when registering, or will it be sufficient to say that I am of legal age, that is, over 21?"

There seems to be some difference of opinion on this question. In Kansas a woman is not required to give her exact age, but the Maryland law seems to be a trifle ambiguous. When the oath is administered the law says that the applicant must "swear or affirm that you will fully and truly answer all such questions as shall be put to you touching your place of residence, name, place of birth, etc." In other words, nothing is said as to the date of birth. Farther down, however, the statement appears, "The name and age of every applicant shall be entered in such registry book." This latter may be regarded as merely directory—that is, as an instruction for the registration officials, and not as part of the body of the law itself, in which case the Kansas custom could also be carried out here.

However, it may take a ruling on the part of the attorney general to definitely settle this moot point of law.

Hospital Campaign

which make an addition to the hospital imperative. Mr. Miller made an earnest plea for the co-operation necessary to make this campaign a success.

The campaign manager, C. G. Fencil, stated briefly the plan of organization, which involves a large citizens' committee composed of people representative of all interests and sections of the campaign area, which is co-extensive with the field it serves, including Wicomico and Worcester counties and part of Somerset; Accomac county, Va., and part of Sussex county, Del., to sponsor the campaign.

There will also be an executive or business committee of possibly 10 to 15 which will give active supervision to the campaign plans, and numerous sub-committees each charged with responsibility for a definite phase of the drive. The entire organization finds its consummation in the teams of men and women to be enlisted to do the canvassing. Each team includes a captain and five workers. The organization of the team is based upon the work to be done, which assumes that one person in each four of the population is able to give, and should be seen by the canvassers.

On that basis Wicomico county, with over 28,000 population, contains 7,000 men and women to be seen, and will require about 25 teams of men and as many of women to call on such prospects during the week or ten days of the actual drive which will be launched about the middle of October.

Nominations for membership on the citizens' campaign committee were made as follows; in addition to those present: Wm. F. Calloway, Jas. G. Brittingham, Henry Chatham, Ernest Lucas, Augustus Tordvin, W. P. Jackson, P. A. Grier, Jr., Wm. B. Tilghman, J. V. Bailey, Judge Joe L. Bailey, W. A. Koserly, Father W. S. Following the statements by Mr. Miller and the campaign manager, the following were elected as permanent officers for the campaign: Chairman, F. P. Adkins; Vice-chairman, L. W. Gunby; Secretary, A. M. Walls; Treasurer, Graham Gunby. Chairman Adkins was empowered to proceed at once with the appointment of Chairmen of the necessary sub-committees, with the exception of the Executive Committee, which is to be selected at the next meeting. On motion it was agreed to meet at the Armory on Monday evening, September 6th, at 8 o'clock, and the presence of all who have been nominated for the Citizens' Campaign Committee is earnestly requested.

The Armory was selected as permanent headquarters for the drive and campaign manager Fencil with his assistants will be there daily after the opening of the campaign from 8.30 o'clock until five in the afternoon.

of the Fair was done in 1.01 4-5 with Blondell showing the way. Ahara finished next, then Incinerator, and Mary Magantor was fourth.

The midway, which was furnished by the Ben Krause Shows of Washington, was unusually good this year, consisting of nine shows and four riding devices. The feature of the midway this year was furnished by Dare Devil Egbert who electrified his spectators who attended the motordrome. Riding with his arms outstretched, folded, and other careless positions were included in his performance while riding at right angles with, and on a perpendicular wall. The monkey speedway also attracted large crowds.

Although for the last few years there has been an airplane to give flights over the grounds, 1920 is the first year that one of the aviators has attempted to land by means of a parachute or has stood on the upper wing of the machine while it was flying at full speed. H. D. Cruikshank, of Danville, Va., did both of these stunts this year successfully. Lieutenant Collins flew his plane through the figure eight, nose spins, tail dives, twelve successful loop the loops, which is the largest number the two have ever made at one time, and other breath-taking stunts. The acrobatic performance by the Balton troupe on the stand was also worthy of comment.

An unusual event this year was the jumping of a 15 feet hurdle by an Overland car owned and sold by the D. W. Purdue Auto Co. of this city. Twice each day of the Fair did the driver perform this stunt and was warmly applauded by the stands.

WICOMICO WARDEN APPOINTED AGAIN

Wade H. Bedsworth Re-appointed As Deputy Game Warden. New Deputy Commander From Wicomico.

The State Conservation commission on Friday announced the appointment of deputy game wardens and also deputy oyster commanders.

Two changes were noted among the deputy commanders of the State fisheries fleet.

The new list of deputies raises the number to 19, one more than held similar positions last year. Carroll county, which heretofore had no deputy, was recognized by the appointment of Herman M. Dinast, of Westminster. Thomas I. Weems, appointed for Calvert county, took the place of Arthur D. Bateman, of Charles, leaving the latter county without representation.

Wade H. Bedsworth, of Wicomico county, one of the most efficient and active deputy game wardens last year was reappointed.

Ernest A. Taylor, of Bivalve, was appointed deputy-commander of the local oyster police boat. Both appointees are very capable men and will prove to be efficient officials.

BUICK AND FORD HOLD UP TRAFFIC

Because a 1915 model of the two-passenger Buick variety and a 1919 Ford touring car special became inseparable in front of the public library about 6 o'clock on Monday evening just before the long stream of automobiles returning to the business district of the city from the S.Y.M.A. park from a baseball game, traffic was blocked both ways for several minutes. The Ford was stationary but the Buick roadster somehow became entangled in the rear wheel of the Ford and all efforts of two men were unavailing to separate them for a few minutes. At least 20 cars were held up by the jam and each kept up a steady blowing of their horn until the street was re-opened for traffic. No reason could be given for the mix-up by the driver of the Buick.

LIBERTY BONDS TO BE EXCHANGED NOW

Holders of Liberty Bonds from which all the coupons have been clipped are requested to take the securities immediately to their banks here which will transmit them to the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond where they will be exchanged for bonds having coupons covering all interest payments for the rest of the life of the bonds. Moreover, whenever Liberty Bonds paying 4 per cent interest are sent in, new bonds paying 4 1/2 per cent interest will be issued. In this federal reserve district many Liberty Bonds were bought when when issued carried only six interest coupons. These are known as "temporary" bonds. Their coupons have fallen due. The government now wishes to issue "permanent" bonds in their place.

NEWS BOOTH A FAIR ATTRACTION

Many People Accept Its Hospitality. Many New Subscribers Signed and The News Family Is Increased.

One of the most attractive booths at the Salisbury Fair grounds last week was that of The Wicomico News, which was in charge of Miss Annie V. Johnson, Walter J. Brewington and Calvert L. Estill with their several assistants.

Not alone was the booth attractive, but it was a business producer for THE NEWS. During the week a great number of new subscribers to the paper were signed up at the booth and an even greater number of old subscribers renewed their subscriptions.

Handsome and useful souvenir novelties, each one a product of THE NEWS printing department, were given away until the unprecedented demand completely exhausted the supply. Many people tired and jaded with the excitement of the Fair, found THE NEWS booth a haven of retreat and many took advantage of the wide open hospitality offered there.

There was no other local paper which had a booth at the fair. This is significant of the progressive policies of THE NEWS and its constant effort to help in every way, to favorably and widely advertise Salisbury, its home city.

Wage Increase Distributed To Railroad Employees

Virtually All Workers Receive Back Pay From May 1st. Increase Of 21 Per Cent.

$63,550.00 Paid Here Last Saturday

Railway Labor Board's Decision To Increase Pay Made After Big Unions Threaten To Strike. Pennsylvania System Distributes Approximately $23,000,000. Employees Laid Off Since May 1st Receive Share.

The railroad employees were given the back-pay, which the United States Railway Labor board awarded them in their decision of July 20th, on Saturday. About $63,550.00 was distributed to the men here.

In the middle of July, the Railway Labor board finally came to a decision about the wage rate increase, which the 16 big railroad unions had asked for several months previous. This decision granted the men an average increase of 21 per cent., and was made retroactive to May 1st. The pay distributed Saturday was the added payments for the three months, May, June, and July. The new rate was started on August 1st. The amount distributed by the Pennsylvania System was approximately $23,000,000.

The back pay comes to virtually all classes of workers, including passenger, freight and yard engineers, firemen and conductors, yard workers, switchmen, switch tenders, flagmen, brakemen, baggage men, machinists, clerks and marine employees.

It was stated that the employees who have been laid off by the railroad since May 1st are receiving a share of the back pay based on the length of time they remained in the service after the decision was given.

FARMER HANGED HIMSELF IN LOFT OF BARN

After telling his wife that he was going to the barn for a few minutes, Sunday afternoon, Harry R. Bennett left the house, went up into the hay loft, and fastening the rope of a hay-fork about his neck, jumped from the loft ladder and hanged himself. Domestic troubles are assigned as the cause of his act. Mr. Bennett was married about a year ago and resided on the Middleton farm, about a mile from Milford on the Shawnee road.

Delaware Woman Suffragists Split

Republican And Democrat Suffragists Split When It Comes To Question Of Party.

The members of the executive committee of the Delaware State Equal Suffrage association meeting at Rehoboth, on Saturday, split according to party affiliations. Before the parting came, the entire committee passed resolutions against a separate women's party but advised independence of voters and a demand for clean elections.

The Republican members held a caucus later in a separate room and excluded the Democrats. The Democrats have not held a meeting but are expected to later.

The newly organized League of Women Voters will do nothing more than look after the instructing of women how to vote and help in registration matters.

The Republican committee decided against holding county conventions to select members of the state committee and appointed a member from each county to make the selections. The following women were named: Mrs. William du Pont, New Castle; Mrs. Philip Burnet, Jr., Kent County; and Mrs. Robert G. Houston, Sussex County.

Breaks Rib on His Bank Roll

Delmar Merchant Strikes Rib On Roll Of Long Green, Broken As Result.

James T. Wilson was the victim of a strange accident last Wednesday. Mr. Wilson was sitting on his store step, which, being low, threw his knees up near his chin. He had a small roll of money in his pants pocket. Someone came along and made a playful pass at him, and in ducking, he pushed the roll of money against his lower rib so hard that he broke it.

MRS. H. E. LECATES IMPROVED RETURNS SOON TO DELMAR

A recent letter from Dr. H. E. Lecates, who is in New York city, states that Mrs. Lecates' health is very much improved, and that they will return to Delmar in the near future.

Mrs. Lecates was compelled to leave Delmar last winter on account of her health. Later in the winter, as soon as he could get his affairs in shape to leave, Dr. Lecates joined her. Their many friends in Delmar will be glad to see them return. It is supposed that they will return to their home on the corner of Grove and North Second streets.

DELAWARE STATE FAIR OPENS SEPT. 6

Management Promises Biggest Event in History of Fairdom. Will Continue Five Days from Labor Day.

In addition to the regular exhibits that this year are much greater in number and more diversified than on any previous year, the Delaware State fair which opens at Elsmore, on Labor day, September 6, and continues for five days, will provide some of the best horse and automobile racing, vaudeville, fireworks and the largest midway in the history of the Fair association.

Because of the large number of entries, the judging of horses in the Horse show will very likely begin at 10.30 o'clock each morning, so that there will be something going on practically from then until the same hour in the evening.

Every afternoon and evening there will be horse racing. Harness events in the afternoon and running races in the evening. Some of the speediest specimens of horseflesh that are following the fairs and track events, are entered in the lists and seven states have sent representatives to compete for prizes.

On Labor day there is a big double bill in the afternoon, there being thrilling automobile races as well as the harness events. Roy Freck, who has successfully directed the auto contests at the fair for several years, has lined up some dardevil drivers who do not hesitate to take a chance if there is the least opportunity of winning a race.

During the time the races are in progress both afternoon and evening, a vaudeville program of a dozen numbers will be given opposite the grandstand. The program embraces some of the most skillful and humorous of acrobatic performers, as well as expert high tight wire walkers.

Every evening at the close of the running races there will be a display of fireworks fully up to the standards of other years, and which feature has proven a source of much interest to those who visit the fair after supper.

The midway—the chief source of pleasure for many seeking amusement, will be there with all the old and many new tricks and diversions to entertain. There are two score of ways in which a visitor can be entertained and special plans have been made for the entertainment of the children.

Two Freights Bound In Opposite Directions Derailed By Broken Axle.

Train Service Tied Up In Both Directions

No One Hurt But Tracks Are Littered With All Sorts Of Material, Mail Train Held Up Till Afternoon, Twenty Cars Derailed; Several Damaged Beyond Repair.

Two long freight trains were completely wrecked on the Delaware division near Wyoming station early Monday morning when the axle of one wheel on a freight car in a train of nearly twenty cars proceeding north broke causing the entire train to be derailed and causing a southbound freight passing at the same time also to be derailed. None of either crew was hurt. The engines remained on the track.

Although neither train was traveling at a high rate of speed about twenty cars were forced off their track and train service was completely blocked in either direction. The northbound freight was much more damaged than the southbound.

The northbound train was laden with produce, lumber and other raw products for the city, while the one going in the opposite direction carried barrels of tar, galvanized fencing wire and other materials. The tracks were littered with all these materials, the complete length of the trains.

Train service was held up both ways until late in the morning when wrecking crews reached the scene of the accident. No trains reached this town until early in the afternoon, the southbound express reaching here about 3 o'clock.

The Delmar Road

The recent copious rains together with the continuous heavy traffic has again put the road between here and Salisbury on the blink.

It is an injustice to those compelled to use this road that it was not rebuilt two or three years ago. When the present shell road was first constructed, it was a good job, and it did make a good highway for several years, but for the last three years it has been practically worn out. The last two springs it has been made fairly good by plowing and scraping, but those winters it was awfully bad. It now bids fair to be almost impassable this winter.

It is not likely that there is another town on the Eastern Shore of Maryland of equal size and importance as Delmar, which is not served by a first class State Highway. We people of Delmar feel that we have just as much right to and use for a good road as any other town in the state. This seven-mile stretch of rotten road is all that stands between us and the full benefit of the many miles of fine highways in Maryland.

As an economic proposition, it would appear to be even more to the interest of Salisbury to have a good road here than it is to Delmar. There is probably a daily average of more traffic over this road than over any other one leading into Salisbury. Being a center of distribution, it is indeed strange that the business men of the city tolerate such a road connecting them with the most thickly populated district, which lies within twenty miles of them.

There are several wholesale houses in Salisbury whose salesmen are compelled to travel this road two or three times per week. Much of the goods they sell is carried over the road in trucks. It probably costs from twenty-five to fifty per cent more to run an automobile over such a road than it would to run it over a good one.

Hardly a day passes which does not see several automobiles going over this road, carrying people from here or farther north into Salisbury to trade. The bad condition of the road will almost surely stop all of them sooner or later. How about the many dealers here and points north of here who depend on Salisbury for lots of things, which they use in their business. One of them finds he is out of something he needs. "That's all right," he'll say. "I can slide down to Salisbury and get that in no time." Now when they start to do that, they will think of the rotten road lying between them and that town, and they will put their customer or job off, and order what they want from some other place.

It is surely a misery to be compelled to ride over this road in the average automobile. If some of those politicians, who live in Salisbury, were compelled to travel it awhile in one of those average automobiles, that is, in an automobile that has been run long enough to have from thirty-five to fifty-seven loose bolts and joints in the running-gear, and had to experience that uncertain sensation of wondering whether the car were going to fall into pieces when it started shimmying over one of those rough places, it is likely we would have a new road within a year.

There have been one or two attempts by the people of our town to get a new road through, but they have so far proved fruitless. Of course, the Maryland authorities intend to build one some time, but we need it now, and it cannot be started any too soon.

JUNIOR RED CROSS WORKING AT HOME

Production of Sound American Citizenship the First Aim, Says Dr. Farrand.

On the badge of every member of the Junior Red Cross are the words "I Serve." That with the spirit of the school children's branch of the American Red Cross and its efforts to bring happiness to children throughout the world.

Realizing that the time never was so propitious as right now for teaching the highest ideals of citizenship, the entire present program of the Junior Red Cross has been framed under the very inclusive phrase, "Training for Citizenship Through Service" for others. Since the Junior Red Cross is the agency through which the American Red Cross reaches the schoolboys and the schoolgirls, all its activities are designed to co-ordinate with the regular school program, and without creating new courses or increasing the number of studies to lend its aid in vitalizing the work of the schools.

"The thing that is needed," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, Chairman of the American Red Cross Central Committee, "is not a perpetuation of the Junior Red Cross, but the training and breeding of sound American citizenship inspired by the true, fundamental ideals of sound democracy. One of the great conceptions in making the Red Cross a contributor to better citizenship in our American democracy is the realization that after all the sole hope of any nation is with the children of the country."

The plan of organization of the Junior Red Cross makes the school—public, parochial and private—the unit, not the individual pupils. Mutual service, helpful community work such as clean-up campaigns, care of the sick, promotion of health regulations, participation in civic and patriotic movements—all these creative agencies designed to translate into life and action the regular school program are parts of the machinery which the Junior Red Cross places at the disposal of the school authorities.

Graded study courses giving practical methods of civic training, supplemented by pamphlets and helpful suggestions, are supplied to the local schools by the Junior Red Cross. An elaborate plan for promoting an interchange of correspondence between children in different sections of the United States as well as with children in foreign lands is being devised and will take a prominent place in the established classroom program.

In promoting the general cause of child welfare, Red Cross courses in home hygiene and care of the sick, first aid, and first aid may be established in all Junior Red Cross Auxiliaries.

The ideals and the objective of the Junior Red Cross are embodied in the pledge of service which the pupil takes when he dons the membership roll and pins on his coat the Junior's badge. The pledge which binds together service and citizenship reads:

"We will seek in all ways to live up to the ideals of the Junior Red Cross and devote ourselves to its service."

"We will strive never to bring discredit to this, our country, by any unworthy act."

"We will reverence and obey our country's laws and do our best to inspire a like reverence and obedience in those about us."

At the foundation of this school program of the Junior Red Cross is a great love for America's children.

JUNIOR RED CROSS ACTIVE IN EUROPE

Garden seeds for Polish orphans, milk for anaemic Greek babies, carpenters' tools for Czech-Slovakian cripples—these are only a few of the gifts that young Americans are sending to the war-crushed children of the Old World.

Through the Junior Red Cross the boys and girls of the United States are giving a fresh start in life to little war orphans scattered all over Europe. They have set up orphan's homes in France, school colonies in Belgium and Montenegro, had day schools in Albania.

They are sending dozens of young Slovians, Montenegrins, and Albanians to American colleges in Constantinople and Beirut, and maintaining more than a hundred orphan's of French soldiers at colleges and trade schools. In orphanages and farm schools up and down the peninsula of Italy there are nearly 500 wards of American Juniors.

Last winter a thousand French children from the inadequate shelters of the devastated regions were sent by the Junior Red Cross to spend the cold months in warmer parts of France. At the same time five thousand little Poles were having a hot lunch every day at Junior Red Cross school canteens.

RED CROSS RELIEF IN CENTRAL EUROPE

But for timely assistance of the American Red Cross during the last year, a large proportion of the 20,000,000 population of the Balkan States might have starved or perished from disease or exposure. Six million dollars worth of food, clothing and medical supplies have been sent to the Balkans—Roumania, Bulgaria, Albania, Montenegro, Serbia, Bosnia and Greece—since the beginning of Red Cross relief operations in Central Europe, while millions of dollars worth of food alone has been sent to the needy in these states.

The money expended by the Red Cross in this stricken portion of Europe has been used to set up hospitals, orphanages, dispensaries, mobile medical units and to help in the general reconstruction of devastated areas. American tractors and other farming implements have been sent to the agricultural regions where aid has been given in plowing the land.

How Women Are Often Cheated Out Of Their Best Years

Physician Explains How Many Women Undermine Their Health and Wreck Their Happiness by Letting the Iron in Their Blood Run Low Tells How Organic Iron, Like Nuxated Iron, Helps Strengthen The Nerves, Put Roses In The Cheeks and New Vigor and Health In The Veins Of Pale, Careworn Women.

Lack of iron robs the blood of its power to make firm and healthy tissue, brain, and muscle out of the food we eat and the oxygen we breathe, and turns a woman with rosy cheeks, sparkling health and boundless energy into one who is pale, run-down, tired and listless. Her thin, watery blood, lacking strength-giving iron, under-nourishes her body and brain and robs her of her natural energy and cheerfulness. She loses interest in life and cannot enter into the normal healthy pleasures of those about her. She is literally cheating herself out of the best years of her life, when she might, in most cases, quickly regain her strength and vitality by feeding her blood with organic iron—Nuxated Iron.

Where Are My Best Years Going?

The alarming deficiency of iron in the blood of so many women of today has been explained by a number of doctors as being due to the absorption of heavy and stale modern foods, as well as worry and over-work, and our refined, unwholesome diet. These all tend to drain the natural iron from the blood faster than the body can replace it without assistance. Under these conditions we should feed the blood with organic iron, and Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly of Jackson Hospital (Cochran Dept.), New York, and Westchester County Hospital, explains below why organic iron, like Nuxated Iron, is indispensable to nervous and run-down women to make them stronger, healthier, and happier.

"Every woman has the right to years of vigor and health. But many a woman cheats herself of her best years by allowing lack of iron in her blood to undermine her health. To me the saddest feature of modern life is the number of sottish, careworn women who might so easily regain happiness and health. Doctors' offices are filled with women who are constantly tired, pale, sickly, uninterested in life. I am convinced that many frequent instances where it gave renewed strength and energy, increased power of endurance, steady nerves, and the rosy bloom of health in about ten days or two weeks."

SOME OBSERVATIONS OF THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Observes Methods of Directing Traffic Employed in Salisbury and Makes Some Comments.

Far be it from me, just an ordinary civilian, to attempt to say what a traffic policeman should do, or how he should transact his duties—but I can't help feeling that the traffic policemen of Salisbury must wear out a great many pairs of shoes and must be terribly tired when they go to their homes after directing (?) traffic in Salisbury all day long.

I stood at one of the city's chief street intersections a half hour last Saturday night and watched the workings of the traffic policeman stationed there.

He certainly acted in polite French-dancing-master style. Its true he didn't direct a great deal of traffic, but he did accompany it, both pedestrian and vehicular, wherever it seemed to want to go.

Traffic travelling in one direction wasn't held at a standstill until traffic moving in another direction had passed, though this seems to be the method generally applied in cities where traffic regulating is 99 percent good. No vehicles were halted at the street corner, so long as I was stationed there, to allow pedestrians to pass. It seemed to me that traffic, no matter whether it was vehicular or pedestrian was allowed to take its chance and get out as best it could—although he said for the traffic policeman that he accompanied as much of the traffic as he possibly could across the intersection.

Now it is just possible that by accompanying the traffic, the policeman indicated the direction in which he desired it to move. Maybe the traffic understood. The Man About Town didn't understand. Of course he doesn't know anything about traffic regulation. He has only watched the greatest traffic officers of the day direct and regulate traffic at the busiest street corners in the world—and he is frank to admit that the method practiced by the Salisbury traffic man is not the kind used by those traffic officers of the bigger cities. But then, the Man About Town is just a civilian, maybe a feeble minded civilian at that.

On other occasions the Man About Town has watched other local traffic officers in operation—and he is now using the word operation advisedly.

Never has he seen more Chesterfieldian manners displayed than when these same local officers how to traffic, by their bows, indicating that the traffic may move.

No funeral director was ever more sombre of countenance, no church usher was ever more considerate of the feelings of the ushered, no department store floor walker with his little black bow tie and his professional grin was ever more suave.

This isn't a criticism of the manner of directing traffic employed in Salisbury, neither is the Man About Town inclined to commend that method, as he has said before he is but a civilian who knows nothing of such matters, having but watched the really scientific methods employed by traffic police in the greatest cities of the world.

The business of directing traffic is a serious and a responsible business. It is more important than seeing that the people being directed are pleased. It means the saving of lives and limbs and must, if this is to be done, be handled not in a manner so suave as to make the traffic think the traffic officer is officiating at a pink tea party, but with the hand of dignified authority. The traffic officer is a power unto himself. He it is who may say, "STOP" or "GO" as the occasion requires, and say it in such a way as to let the people know he has said it and means what he has said.

It isn't directing traffic to allow automobiles to pass over a street intersection in the center of the city without lights, especially when the sun has set and the street lights are shedding their radiance over the thoroughfares.

It isn't directing traffic to walk with the traffic, but rather to stand still and let the traffic stop when it sees the traffic officer raise his hand or blow his whistle as a signal to stop.

From the observations of the Man About Town last Saturday night he would say that these are not the methods employed in Salisbury—but in all fairness to everybody concerned, let it be understood that the Man About Town is not commending or condemning the methods used here, since not using an experienced traffic officer, he knows nothing of the science of traffic regulation.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

ONE WHO SEES AND TELLS WHAT HE SEES

According to statistics just published, out of 37,583 marriages celebrated in Chicago last year there were over 5,000 divorces. This is an increase of 20 per cent since 1911. At this rate of increase not many years would pass before the number of divorces would equal the number of weddings. Out of 3,577 suits for divorce in 1914, only 70 owned their homes, and in 2,171 cases there were no children. These figures surely give us pause. Is the apartment habit inimical to true home life? Increasing childlessness and a tendency toward indulgence and fast living make a dark outlook for our American homes.

According to a statement in the New York Times—usually a reliable paper—a marriage ceremony was performed on Friday, the 13th, near Port Jervis, N. Y. The clergyman and the couple to be married stood on a rock at a point where three states—New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey met. According to the correspondent, the clergyman held in one hand a rabbit's foot to ward off evil results from the ceremony being carried out on Friday, the 13th. One may hope this last statement arose from the heated imagination of the correspondent in the summer weather. For the credit of the ministry, one would not like to think any clergyman could stoop to such childish superstition.

Celebrations of the coming of the Pilgrims to America 300 years ago are already being carried out, not only in the states but also in Europe. A Dutch committee has arranged for celebrations this month and in September at Leyden, Amsterdam, Rotterdam, The Hague and elsewhere. A few days ago a great gathering at Southampton, England, commemorated the sailing of the Speedwell, which brought back from Holland the little band of Englishmen who had so long lived in exile at Leyden and who afterward sailed West. Later other ceremonies will mark the departure of the Pilgrims for America.

For several months the Public Service commission of this state has been patiently engaged in giving a hearing to the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone company concerning an increase rate asked for service. In its decision given out Wednesday night there has been a complete readjustment of the rate schedule, and rates fixed that will enable the company to earn 5.30 per cent annually on its investment in the state. It was the schedule of rates for Maryland outside of Baltimore city that the greatest changes were made. The commission was of the opinion that the business men in the counties who are larger users of the telephone, should be put on a measured service basis, as are the business men of Baltimore, and Commissioner Legg was strongly of the opinion that every business and professional phone in the state ought to be on measured service as the only means of requiring large users to pay their proper proportion of the cost of telephone service, and prevent a part of the cost saddled upon the smaller user.

The county business or professional man may still have unlimited service if he desires it or he may go on the measured rate. If he takes the measured rate he will get his telephone at $3.50 a month and will be allowed 50 local calls a month, with additional local call five cents each. Or he can commute his local calls to toll calls within his county limits on a basis of the value of each local call being five cents. If he elects to take the unlimited service he pays for it at the rate of $5 a month for the Class 1 exchange, which have more than 4,000 stations, down to $2.75 for the Class 7 exchange with fewer than 100 stations, but his calls can only be used on his local exchange.

The state has been divided into seven classes. In the first the exchanges having 4,000 stations or more, the second class has between 2,000 and 4,000 stations, the third class has between 1,000 and 2,000 stations, the fourth class between 500 and 1,000, the fifth between 250 and 500, the sixth between 100 and 250, and the seventh fewer than 100 stations.

The residence rates in these classes range from $3.75 to $2 for individual lines, from $2.50 down to $1.25 for party line service and from $2.50 down to $1 for rural or farmers' lines. The rural rate has been reduced in classes 6 and 7, it remains the same as it now is in classes 4 and 5 and there has been a slight increase over the recent rate in classes 1, 2 and 3. Class 7 has had the charges reduced all along the line.

The commission orders that the rates it has established shall go into effect on September 1st next, and shall remain in effect until December 31st, 1921, limiting them especially to a period of 16 months, the continuance of the rates being contingent upon a decided improvement in the service the company is rendering its subscribers. It sharply condemns the service rendered in the past.

The Economy of Using Goodyear Small Car Tires

So-called bargain tires, made up for sensational sales and offered at ridiculously low prices, do not attract careful buyers.

They are far more concerned with what they get than with what they pay because they know that in the end it is performance and not price that delivers actual tire economy.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30 x 3-, 30 x 3 1/2- and 31 x 4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they deliver exceptional mileage at exceedingly low cost.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

30 x 1 1/2 Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread..... $23.50
30 x 1 1/2 Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread..... $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? $4.50 30 x 3 1/2 size in waterproof bag.....

KHIVA BECOMES A REPUBLIC

Famous Khanate of Central Asia Has Definitely Rejected the Chains of Despotism.

So Khiva, the khanate in Central Asia through which Col. Fred Burnaby once rode on horseback to the capital, has declared itself an independent republic! That prodigious English soldier and traveler who won military glory fighting outside the endangered square at Abu Klea, in the Sudan, would smile hugely, no doubt, were he able to read the news. For the semi-barbaric city of Khiva as he found it on that famous ride in the seventies, or rather as the Russians found it just two or three years before, to be exact, was filled with slaves captured from the Persians by Turkoman raiders. Its whitewashed houses, scattered amid the elms and poplars, produced a welcome effect, however, after the countless miles of arid steppes which had to be negotiated before it could be reached. Its citizens were those weirdly named "cosmins" of the Turks, the Uzbeqs, Kirghiz, Sarts, Tajiks and the Kara-Kalpuks, or Black Bonnets of the Turk tribe whom the caliph would fain gather into the family fold. The khanate is but the relic of the once great kingdom of Chorasmin, over which King Darius ruled by means of his satraps.—Christian Science Monitor.

PLAN SCHOOL ON SHIPBOARD

Socialistic Council of Bradford, England, is Considering the Adoption of Remarkable Scheme.

When it became necessary to erect a new secondary school in Bradford, the rich wool textile center of England, the usual estimates were asked for, and reported, in the total sum of $500,000.

Socialists, who have a considerable majority on the Bradford education committee, at once decided to break free from tradition, and adopted the idea of buying a suitable seagoing ship for that amount, one big enough for a couple of hundred children. Those children will be sent to sea for a six-months or 12-months period, if a subsequent suggestion is adopted. It is still to be settled whether the ship schoolhouse will remain moored in Bradford canal docks, only going to sea as a freighter during vacation periods, or whether it would not be in the interests of a general education to let the scholars see glimpses of foreign ports, learning their languages among natives, the ship at the same time being loaded with cargoes that would pay full maintenance expenses, probably even of the boarding of the children.

Auto Worked Change.

He used to be a pretty easy-going fellow before he bought his machine. Some days his name would decorate the spare board at the car barn and some days it wouldn't, for he and work were not firm friends. But now how different. He contracted the automobile fever. The machine was the result. Now, buying an auto is easy. But keeping it running and taking your get out is another thing. That requires some of the real.

He has developed into a terrible shark. His face is now a familiar feature on the North Eastern line and if there are any spare trips laying around loose he is right up to the window leaning on both elbows.

We should have made an exception as to Sunday. Ah, that is the day he shines. The little machine rolls merrily along.

"It's worth it at that, to be a millionaire one day a week," he remarked as he unlubed his pretty form after 11 hours' labor the other night on a North Eastern back. —Brooklyn Enterprise.

Nut Butter Is Wholesome.

Cocoa butter, as nut butter is called in England, was not accepted with enthusiasm by the British public when natural butter became scarce during the war, so the food committee of the Royal society made some elaborate tests of its effects on human beings. The New York Medical Journal summarizes the results, which show that slightly less of the fat of cocoa butter than of that of real butter is utilized by the body; it causes no digestive troubles; when consumed in large quantities it has a slightly laxative effect, and in general it is a safe and wholesome food.

Bugs That Birds Eat.

According to a paper on behalf of bird protection published by the State Horticultural society of Kansas the bird population of that state is 250,000,000, which every year eat enough insects to fill 480 trains of 50 box cars each—24,000 cars of a minimum weight of 24,000 pounds to the car. These insect trains would be long enough to reach from Oklahoma to Nebraska. Reduced to pounds, their figures are that the birds of Kansas every year eat 575,000,000 pounds of insects. It is hard to conceive the dollars and cents value of the insect-eating birds to the Kansas farmer.

Things We Forget.

Falls here, we have developed an awkward habit of leaving their legs behind in street cars. According to the last annual report of lost property the general manager of the street railways says three additional finds found their way into the list, which also includes six pens, masks, sixty Bibles and prayer books and cash to the value of $11,925.—Liverpool (Eng.) Times.

MARYLAND WOMEN

BARRED FROM POLLS

Declaration of Residence Law Enacted in 1902 Will Militate Against Many Women Voters in 1920.

Women residents of Maryland who have come to this state since 1902 and who were of voting age at the time of their arrival here will be barred from participation in the presidential election, which the suffrage amendment has given thousands of their voting sisters.

This is the informal opinion of Attorney General Alexander Armstrong who brands the 1902 registration law as an "obsolete and absurd measure" that should be repealed and one that he condemned bitterly in his political campaign last fall. This law requires a man coming into the state to declare his intention of becoming a voter one year before he becomes legally entitled to vote.

Mr. Armstrong declared Thursday while discussing the law that he saw no reason why women would not have to stand on the same footing with men in reference to this law. This measure will bar thousands of women who have come here with their families to make the state their permanent home.

In reference to the state law, Attorney General Armstrong is of the opinion that the 1902 measure which requires voters to declare state citizenship intentions a year before voting is almost too obvious to require an opinion. In fact, the law was brought very forcibly before him in his own department, for while discussing the matter he found out that the wife of his assistant, Allan H. Fisher, would be barred from voting. Mr. Fisher's wife is a New York woman. They were married in 1919.

BOAT LINES RAISE

THEIR RATES TOO

The increase in passenger and freight rates recently granted to the railroads by the Interstate Commerce commission, which became effective August 26th, was also put into effect on that date by the steamboat lines of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway company and the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway company, according to an announcement made Thursday by R. H. Soulsby, general passenger and freight agent of these lines. The new rates for the boat lines are the same as those pertaining to the rail service. An advance of 20 per cent in passenger rates and 40 per cent in freight rates.

BUICK

POWER, sturdiness and dependability have been qualities of Buick Valve-in-Head Motor Cars from the time that the name Buick first became linked with the automobile industry. Today, in equal measure as in the past, the Buick Motor Company is dedicated to a continuance of the policy that has caused the Buick car to occupy the position it holds in the public mind.

To all that the name Buick has meant in twenty years of automobile history, the new Nineteen Twenty One Buick brings that grace of movement, that refinement of every line and feature, that sheer beauty of design which inspire a pride of ownership in a fine motor car.

The new Buick line comprises seven models, one for every possible demand. Each has the famed Buick Valve-in-Head Motor, as rugged and powerful as ever, yet refined into a mechanism of unusual quietness.

The improved radiator, hood and cowl lines give a finished touch of trimness to the body, yet without any sacrifice of Buick individuality.

A more resilient spring suspension gives these new Buick models a riding comfort as delightful as their exterior appearance is pleasing.

Each of the seven models has its own value particularly adapted to a distinct class of service. All possess those inherent Buick qualities that assure the owner the uninterrupted use of his investment.

INJURED BY ROAD MACHINE

Edgar Hill, who was seriously injured about two weeks ago by a rejected about a flat car attached to a trolley engine used by the Sussex Construction Co. in building the new state road between Laurel and Millsboro, was taken to the hospital at Salisbury Sunday. His kneecap was broken and the leg severely cut and it is now feared the limb will have to be amputated.

HOG CHOLERA PLAYING HAVOC

Unless there is a check on hog cholera in lower Delaware, which is rapidly spreading to all sections of eastern Sussex, hundreds of porkers are going to be infected. The ravages of the disease, however, will not be as great as last year, because of the fact that many farmers have had their hogs vaccinated.

LOWER DELAWARE NEWS IN BRIEF

Delaware peach growers are hoping for dry weather so that the late yellow peaches known as Albertas, will not be as badly affected by the rain as the white early peaches, or Belles, have been. The growers have been compelled to pack the fruit while wet, which causes the appearance of black specks on the surface of the peach and greatly reduces its selling qualities. The lack of sunshine also prevents a good coloring.

Fire, which threatened to destroy the business portion of Ellendale, broke out in the tenant house of Harry Jester, occupied by John Hastings, Thursday morning, and before the blaze could be subdued destroyed the building. Prompt action on the part of the men of the town, headed by Recorder David H. Reed, who resides there, saved the postoffice, garage and residence of John B. Ennis, the flour mill and large barn of Mr. Jester. For a time the town's 600 inhabitants were thrown into great excitement, but hard work by bucket brigades prevented the flames from spreading to the adjoining buildings.

Dr. H. R. Burton, president of Lower Board of Health, says that practically all danger of smallpox infection in this community has passed. Professionally he also said that his patient, Elmer Outten, of Dover, and the quarantined members of the Outten family, were all getting along well.

Cider mills in lower Delaware are being kept busy making the surplus of apples into "juice." Ready sales can be found for all of the cider manufactured at 50 cents the gallon, and the demand is exceeding the supply. According to a ruling of the prohibition officials, cider may be sold if it contains less than one-half of one per cent alcohol. No questions are asked what is to be done with the "juice" after the makers sell it.

During a severe electric storm, which swept the lower portion of Delaware, Thursday afternoon, a bolt of lightning struck the barn of Greensbury Mumford, between Millsboro and Oak Orchard, and killed two mules, a horse and cow. Little damage was done to the building. Damage to Greensboro and Baltimore districts in Sussex county were almost undated. Water about two feet deep stood in most of the fields in Baltimore district, while the roads were covered. All ditches and small streams were taxed to capacity, and are unable to carry off the large volume of water.

William J. Allen has sold his 100-acre farm, located near Seaford, to Ewell O'Bier, the consideration being $8,000. Harry F. Griffith has purchased E. J. Winder's two building lots in North Seaford and will move the residence which he recently bought to the lots.

Four miles of new concrete road was opened for traffic last week west of Georgetown on the Georgetown-Laurel road. There are now no detours between Georgetown and Laurel.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bennum, of Georgetown, had two daughters born to them Sunday, one born at ten minutes before midnight and the other five minutes afterward, giving them different days for their birthdays, although they are twins.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ryan, of New York, who are in Seaford visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. Scott Pursue, accompanied by two Seaford fishermen, made a record catch, landing 20 bass and five large perch. The bass averaged from two to five pounds each. Mr. Ryan says he has spent much time fishing in different parts of the country, but always looks forward with the greatest of pleasure to his trips to Seaford waters to engage in bass fishing.

Charles Elliott, of Seaford, accompanied by a friend, had a narrow escape from drowning early Thursday. They were on their way home at Seaford and ran into a washout near Middleford. The front end of his car was hanging over the river at Middleford, but the rear end did not slide over. Due, Mr. Elliott thinks, to some heavy ice cream freezers in the back of the car. Mr. Elliott and his friend managed to climb out of the machine and with assistance pulled it to a place of safety.

BREACH OF SABBATH CAUSES COMMENT

It is evident that the authorities of the Delaware side of the town do not live near the business district. If any of them do, they must not have a very high opinion of their duty to allow the ones running this tent show to disturb the Sabbath by raising their tent Sunday evening.

AUTOMOBILES NOW HAUL TROLLEY CARS

The photograph shows an automobile put to a new use in the city of Apeldoorn, Holland. The car has been converted into a "locomotive" for the purpose of hauling one, two, or more trolleys through the city's avenues. The trolleys were previously horse-drawn, and many of the townfolk preferred walking to riding. Today the teams are well filled during business hours.

VIBRATION IS QUITE INJURIOUS

Small Iron Bracket Should Be Installed to Prevent Flange From Breaking.

In fitting a new carburetor be sure that there is no looseness to cause vibration, because if there is a broken flange will be the inevitable result. If vibration is present a small iron bracket should be installed from a nut on the engine frame to the instrument to steady it, also taking the strain off the intake pipe.

A car should always be started in low gear. Open the throttle a little and pick up to five or six miles an hour.

A good grease, mixed in the right proportion with selected flake graphite, forms the best lubricant for bearings.

Many car owners are finding that oil cups may be substituted for the grease cups commonly used in many locations on the chassis, with eminently satisfactory results.

LOCK YOUR AUTO FOR PROTECTION

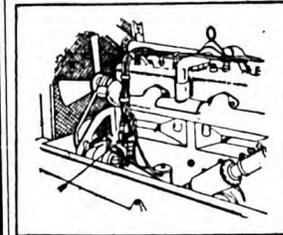

Carelessness on the Part of Owners is Direct Cause of Cars Being Stolen.

Others Leave Machines Standing at Curb With Everything in Starting Position—Several Ways of Guarding Against Theft.

A great many cars are stolen due to the carelessness of the owners. Some owners will leave a car standing for several minutes unwatched and with the motor running. A passing thief can jump in and be far away before the owner can begin pursuit. Other owners leave cars standing at the curb with everything in starting position.

Care Provided With Keys. All cars are provided with keys to be removed from the ignition system which will prevent the motor from being started unless a similar key is used or the ignition wires are tampered with. But such duplicate keys can be easily obtained.

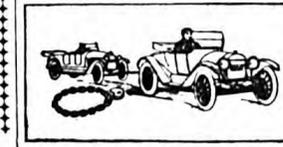

Removing the Rotor From the Distributor Box Disconnects the Ignition System.

In some of the modern types of motors, with the popular distributor system of ignition, the removal of the rotor from the box will usually prove effective. The possible thief might not have a similar one in his pocket; in fact, he would be very unlikely to have. This part is shown by the arrow in the first illustration.

Thieves Work Together. Two enterprising thieves working together sometimes tow a car away as shown in the second sketch. A heavy chain with a large brass lock (iron is too easily cracked) is good protection against such efforts. Chain the front wheel to the axle or fender brace.

The type of car which uses coils in the ignition can be pretty well protected by the removal of two or more coil units. A coil usually weighs a couple of pounds and it is not likely that the enterprising crook would have over five or six of these concealed about his person.—W. V. Reina in Farm and Home.

DON'T TRY THIS TRICK.

Another has been added to the time-tried methods of self-extinction—one where the simple minded individual blew out the gas and the other where the curious party looked down the barrel of a shotgun to see if it was loaded.

The third method is where the forgetful or ignorant motor car owner goes into his garage, carefully shuts the door, closes the windows, and then starts his engine. As a method of suicide, it is perfect, being quick, painless and effective.

This would be a good subject for a striking poster to be tacked up in the garage as a constant reminder to the owner. Probably most motorists know the danger now, but some do not, and the others may forget. One lapse of memory is sufficient.

Man Who Does Much Work at Home Can Arrange Two-Shelf Receptacle for Articles.

A useful tool box for the man who does much work about his garage may be made by constructing a two-shelf box, each shelf being V-shaped, so that the tools will not roll off. The shelves should be six or eight inches apart, so that free access is permitted.

A LOYAL GUARDIAN

By EVELYN LEE

Life seemed good all afternoon to Egbert Marston, with the stable of the morning over—stately trees to be under, soft turf to repose on. The last load of hay was in left or stork. Marston busily stretched himself and rest seemed sweet. Then he arose and advanced toward the broad open doorway of the barn, attracted by the flutter of a dress and the echo of alluring laughing tones.

There hung near an unused stall, a double yoke. Robert Burton had fashioned it himself nearly half a century previous, but ocean had given place to less chimney and slow going stock, and the old yoke remained in view as reminder and relic. Madge Burton ran toward it and poked her sunny face and head through it.

"Too!" she cried out, playfully to her adopted father, who was filling a measure with corn for the chickens.

"You need a mate to make the picture complete," declared Burton. "Reckon I'll have to find you one," and the girl flushed, embarrassed as Egbert came nearer.

"A yoke fellow?" he ralled. "Who wouldn't be glad to the task," he was going to say, for they all worked on the farm, Madge as well as the rest, and he supplemented the word "privilege," and then added, with an admiring glance at Madge, "and honor."

Robert Burton left the twain to themselves with a chuckle as a sudden idea flashed into his mind. "I wonder now," he soliloquized, "if I needn't worry any more about Madge being left alone in the world after I am gone?"

Meantime the couple he discussed came out into the yard, strolled in a desultory way and carried on a casual conversation under some restraint. That flash of admiration from Egbert's eyes as she made a pretty picture framed by the yoke had instantaneously enlightened Madge. The responsive glow in her face had, too, enlightened him. Egbert did not keep up his strain of gentle boistering, however.

It was just a month later that Robert Burton died. He had adopted Madge, a little girl, when his wife died, and an own daughter could not have been more loving, grateful and loyal. She had indeed been to him a helpful, cheerful "yoke fellow." To her work had become pleasure and she never shirked the severest toil.

It was the dead man's lawyer who unfolded the contents of a will recently made by the decedent. It was brief, simple and plain. Jointly all that Burton had to leave was to be inherited by Madge and Egbert, provided they married. Otherwise the main part of it was to go to charity.

"He would have it thus, Madge," spoke Egbert. "Am I to go away, or are we to be the yoke fellows your father hoped we would be?"

Madge said "Stay," and there was fluttering joy in her tones as she did so. They had a quiet wedding, settled down readily and naturally into the new life, and happiness seemed assured.

At the end of a month Madge began to change. It puzzled and then grieved Egbert to note that her entire character seemed to undergo a development that he could not analyze. She was as kindly as ever and as to work bore more than her full share of it. She did not encourage the visits of neighbors, especially of her own sex. She rid the house of liquor, of which Mr. Burton had always carried a stock for harvest use and sickness. Egbert never went to town but she begged to go with him. She became economical to the point of penuriousness, and on an occasion when she and her husband visited the circus, in a sudden and almost frenzied manner hurried Egbert away from a stand where games of chance were going on.

Egbert Marston felt an invisible, but oppressive yoke restraining all the free and varied workings of his mind. He could not account for Madge's ever present watchfulness and her attempts to shut him out from the most ordinary independence of action.

One day Madge had gone over to nurse a sick neighbor for the afternoon and Egbert, ransacking the room for a razor he had mislaid, chanced to open the drawer of a desk that had always been Madge's own property. He did not locate the sought-for article, but chanced to come across some loose papers which he discerned at a glance had belonged to Mr. Burton.

One showed a crumpled soliloquy condition, as if it had been read a great many times. It was in Mr. Burton's own handwriting and it told of an investigation he had made. Its subject was a person he had thought of employing, but the reports he had received made out the applicant as a drinker, a gambler and undesirable generally.

"Eve solved it!" almost shouted Egbert in a report of elation and astonishment and so satisfied was he that he had discovered a clue to Madge's strange mood that he at once went over to the neighbor's house.

"M. Marston," he said, "I have just read a paper to me which told me that you had a man in your employ, years before I found the happiness of my life in nesting you."

The Giants may win the flag in the National League, as some of the New York critics predict, but they will have a long way to travel.

Ward continues to play a brilliant game at third base and in stinging the ball hard. Most of the hits make their way to the outfield.

Every once in a while John McGraw springs a player who is the real goods. Looks as if he has outgrown another worth-while star in Knickerbocker.

Walter Spinkwood, a youthful bowler, has been named over to Terra House by the High. Mosca thinks enough of him to keep a string attached.

St. Joseph's new first baseman Gnoth, comes from the Chicago Cubs. His experience has been in independent baseball around Chicago.

Billy Webb, shortstop, secured from the Pirates for the Akron club, is coming through as one of the International League's leading sluggers.

Jack Letchey, president of the Western association, who lives in Tulsa, was given the honor of pitching the first ball in the opener at Tulsa.

Mike Kelley seems to have dug up a good one in Johnny Overlock, the Chicago semi-pro, whose debut was a four-hit shutout against Kansas City.

Several candidates tried for the third base position on the Browns, but the start of the season showed old reliable Jimmy Austin again on the job.

The Kansas City club has signed a pitcher named Wilfred De Tonnacourt, who is just out of the army and before going into service played semi-pro ball.

Sammy Hale, Texas league recruit, is showing so well with the Tigers that Jennings intends to give him a full opportunity to make good. He is an infielder, and prefers to play at the hot corner.

SIX ROUNDS, HE SAYS

"George Carpenter may be able to last six rounds with Jack Dempsey, but he has no chance to win," Johnny Griffiths, Akron welterweight, said after his return from an invasion of Europe. In five fights, Griffiths won three by knockouts, one by a decision and one draw.

NEARLY 27,000,000 WOMEN VOTERS ESTIMATE FOR ELECTION 1920.

Estimates for 1920 on the basis of the 1910 census, shows more than 26,000,000 women of voting age in the United States, almost 3,000,000 fewer than the number of men.

The figures for Maryland show that the men and women of voting age are pretty evenly divided—there being 405,200 females and 403,908 males.

The figures for little Delaware show the sexes to be divided in about the same proportion—there being 64,286 females and 67,887 males.

EXTRAVAGANCE IN SHOES.

New York city is nothing if not unique. It holds first place in prodigal expenditures, but it remains for the metropolis to set the fastest pace in extravagant expenditures for shoes. A writer asserts that many New York women pay more than $10,000 a year for shoes alone, according to a woman who conducts a shoe shop in upper Fifth avenue and caters to the well-to-do. She says that a woman of fashion must have four or five changes of shoes each day and that none of the footwear she sells costs less than $50 a pair, while much of it costs more than $150 a pair.

That this enormous sum is spent on shoes alone will be a revelation to many, especially to those who have been complaining about having to pay $10 for shoes that used to cost $5. But the thing that interests the public most is the fact that the once lowly shoemaking trade has been raised to the level of an art.

The woman shoe dealer explains that a picture is first drawn of the feet of the customer, then a wooden model is made. After that comes a canvas model, which is fitted and perfected on the "subject." Every pair of shoes is made to order and must fit just so before the customer is allowed to keep them.

With the shoe studio to set the pace, it is no wonder that the women of this city dread the revelations of the short skirt less than their sisters anywhere else.

FOUR BILLIONS FOR AMUSEMENTS.

Nothing indicates the vast sums of money Americans are spending for pleasure, or non-essentials, as the announcement that New York city is to have eight more theatres at a cost of $25,000,000. With 500 theatres already open in that city, and a total of 650 in the metropolitan district, one would have thought the needs of the 6,000,000 people there were already met and anticipated for years to come. With the abundance of money to distribute for amusements shrewd dramatic managers estimate that eight more, erected at an average cost of $3,000,000, can be filled and made a yield profit of 20 per cent on the investment. These figures represent a gross ticket sale from the houses in a year or so almost equal to their original cost, for attractions and upkeep, advertising, etc., will cost three times as much as the estimated profit can be.

It would be interesting to know how much the earnings of the 650 play-houses have been in the last year, but this can only be approximated by considering the luxury tax on tickets at 10 per cent. In the height of last season the tax reached almost $1,500,000 a month, representing $15,000,000 a month for more than nine months or about $150,000,000 spent for amusements in New York during the season. Inasmuch as New York represents not more than a twentieth of the country, it may be seen that in the theatres alone the nation spends more than $300,000,000 a year. In addition, there are, of course, operas and other musical affairs, circuses, fairs, races, football games, outdoor sports of various kinds, with baseball leading all the latter group.

The movie films have spread into every town and cross roads village, and in these later days everybody almost is a contributor to the more than $4,000,000,000 Americans are paying for diversions every year.

IS THERE A HOLE IN YOUR ARMOR?

From a western town comes the word that a manufacturer who had insured his factory for $10,000, when he had occasion to make a claim against the insurance company, learned that it was invalidated by some condition on the premises that the policy forbade. This isn't so rare a condition as some would think. Possibly there is something in your place that would make the collection of insurance impossible. Better read your policy carefully and then look out for the "thou shalt nots."

Death Prevents His Presence Here

On account of mother's death, am very sorry it will be impossible for me to be present at your dinner. Wish you good luck.
BARNEY OLDFIELD.

The above telegram was received on Wednesday of Fair Week by John S. Caffee, the representative of the Oldfield Tire Co., in Maryland and Delaware. Oldfield, the world's most daring and most successful racing driver, was to have been the guest of honor at a dinner given by the Oldfield Tire Co., to the local automobile and accessory dealers at the Peninsula hotel on Thursday night.

Oldfield was also to have given an exhibition of his dare devil style of driving at the Salisbury Fair grounds on Thursday afternoon.

Genuine disappointment was felt here at the inability of the famous driver to make an appearance; but the sorrow felt on learning the cause of his absence was just as sincere as the disappointment was keen.

CELLARS FLOODED IN MANY PARTS OF CITY

In Many Instances Water Raised From Five to Seven Inches. Big Losses.

The excessive rainfall of the past two weeks has caused the flooding of cellars in many parts of this city, resulting in considerable loss. The basements on Main street seem to have suffered the most of any in the city, in some instances the water rising to a depth of five to seven inches, in several cases resulting in losses to goods stored therein. The plumbers are overworked trying to clear the cellars of the water. The opinion of the plumbers is that the present city sewers are now insufficient to carry off the great volume of surface water in addition to the sewerage from the houses. This causes a backing-up of water in the sewers, thereby flooding many basements in all parts of the city.

MONUMENT TO THE LATE BISHOP ADAMS OF EASTON

A committee composed of Judge Adkins, Dudley G. Roe and S. E. Shannahan has been named to raise the necessary funds to erect a monument at the grave of the late Bishop Adams. The committee has begun work, and is asking the various parishes of the diocese for $1,000 for this purpose. There will doubtless be a very generous response from the Episcopalians of Easton Diocese, and elsewhere, for this most worthy object. Bishop Adams was one of the most beloved bishops of Easton Diocese and his memory will be kept green by the erection of an imposing monument over his last resting place.

CANNERIES ARE DOING WITHOUT CITY LABOR

Only home labor is being used in the few local canneries which began the packing of tomatoes last week. Usually a large number of Bohemians and Poles—men, women and children—are brought here from Baltimore to work in the canneries and "camp out" in the sheds and groves attached to canneries. From other points of the peninsula the same condition is reported. Many of the canneries remain closed, and those that are running will have small packs, and did not send to the city this year for labor.

ANALYSIS:
 Ca. O. 60%
 Mg. O. 1%

Messrs. Tilghman Lime & Supply Co.,
 Fruitland, Md.
 Gentlemen:—
 Regarding the soil testing campaign for acidity, or in other words whether lime was needed or not, I find the following results:
 Of the 81 samples that this office has tested to date, 77 farms needed lime.
 To date, the Maryland Agricultural College has tested 1,100 samples of soil, and found that 74% needed lime, and practically all of the samples showing no acidity came from fields that have been limed during the past two or three years.
 I believe that the proper use of lime will correct many of our ills. Very truly yours,
 (Signed) G. R. COBB,
 County Agent Wicomico County.

The quantities of lime which are ordinarily applied to land—per acre—in the various forms, are as follows:
 Hydrated Shell Lime 1,000 lbs.
 Hydrated Stone Lime 1,500 lbs.
 Raw Shell Lime 2,000 lbs.

SALISBURY WINS FROM CAMBRIDGE

Duffy and Ruark, Opposing Moundsmen, Fight Battle of Wits Supported by Tight Team Work.

Salisbury defeated Cambridge here on Thursday in a very well played game, 3 to 2. At no part of the game did either team have the final score on ice.

A capacity crowd greeted Duffy as he wound up to deliver the first pitched ball of the fracas. The diamond was in good shape considering the heavy rains which have made the infield soft and soggy. Ruark and Swingler were in the points for the Chesapeake team while "Red" Wright donned the mask for Salisbury, to receive "Duff's" offerings.

In the second inning the home team made the first score of the game on two errors, one of which allowed Duffy to reach second and the other made by Robinson on a long hoister by Wolf enabled Nag to pull up at the home station with the first tally of the contest. In the visitor's half of the third paragraph McAllister came through with the first safety made by either side but he was stranded at first when Duffy tightened up and retired the remaining hitters in order.

The fourth session produced two hits for Cambridge. Swingler was out, second to first, and Ruark lifted one to Porter at short. But Flowers pushed a screaming single to the left field caretaker. E. Ruark followed with a scratch safety through first but Robinson whiffed, ending the inning. The Wicomico boys went down in order in their turn. McNiff ballooned to the right garden. Duffy poked what had the earmarks of a sure double on the sides but Ruark killed it with a pretty running catch. A strikeout by Wolf closed the hostilities until the ump called "batter up" with the enemy at the plate.

Two strikeouts and a fly composed the sum total of the Dorchester county players' efforts for the fifth. Henry and McAllister went down by the first named route and Ruark skyrocketed to right. For Salisbury, Turner made the first hit of the home boys and continued to the halfway station on a sacrifice by Morris. R. Henry, the keystone guardian for the visitors, then made a nice catch of Loomis' liner. Porter, however, delivered in the pinch with a double that scorched the atmosphere. Hoffman coaxed Ruark for free transportation to first but Wright hit to the hot corner, forcing Porter.

In the sixth, R. Henry went down third to first, but Swingler received a life by virtue of four wide ones. Ruark then upset the coffee by lining to Porter who caught Swingler cold off the first sack.

In the home half of the sixth, Salisbury's concluding tally was the result of an error by Robinson in the left pasture when he dropped McNiff's scumner from the game, the dominant third sacker going to second on the play. The home team's lucky port-sner then sewed up the explanation of the national pasture when he walloped a two bagger over the right field wall. McNiff bent the rubber disk for the third run. Wolf couldn't connect with the opposing hurler's heaves and retired on strikes. Turner sacrificed Duffy to third and another tally nearly came across the plate when Morris sent a hard one to deep center which Ruark captured on a dead run.

Two singles, a double and a stolen base accounted for Cambridge's two runs in the lucky seventh after Flowers had led off the session's batting order with a strikeout. Ruark produced the double and scored when Robinson placed a grounder along the first base line. While R. Henry was being beguiled by Duffy's shants, into returning to the bench, Robinson pilfered the first Cambridge base and when McAllister bounced a bingle between first and second, Robinson brought the final score of the game across the pan. The last part of the seventh produced a bingle to the right field custodian from the club of Loomis. Porter laid down a perfect bunt which advanced Loomis to the middle way bag. Hoffman took three smacks at the air and Wright popped to the backstop.

Hoffman gathered in R. Henry's offering, who led off the eighth and another aerial chance was taken advantage of by Morris who retired Swingler by the catch. Ruark punched one through second for one base but Duffy unlocked his bag of puzzles and fanned Flowers for the third out.

The home team's last time in the dugout resulted in two free tickets and a hit. McNiff first faced the sister county's hurler and persuaded Ruark to hand him the equivalent of a safety. His labors were, however, in vain as he died stealing. Duffy bumped the horsehide to a safe landing in the right section and went to second on a fielder's choice which resulted in Wolf being out at the initial sack. Turner then drew four wide ones but was forced at second on a grounder by Morris.

In the final episode the visitors made a strong effort to knot the score. Ruark was safe on a hairline decision and his successor as the swainsmith thumped one safely to the pitcher. Henry, next up, then dreamed of home to the tune of three strikes. The second out was made when Wright caught Robinson napping off first. McAllister broke up the story by grounding to Duffy, who threw him out easily at first.

Final score, Salisbury, 3; Cambridge, 2.

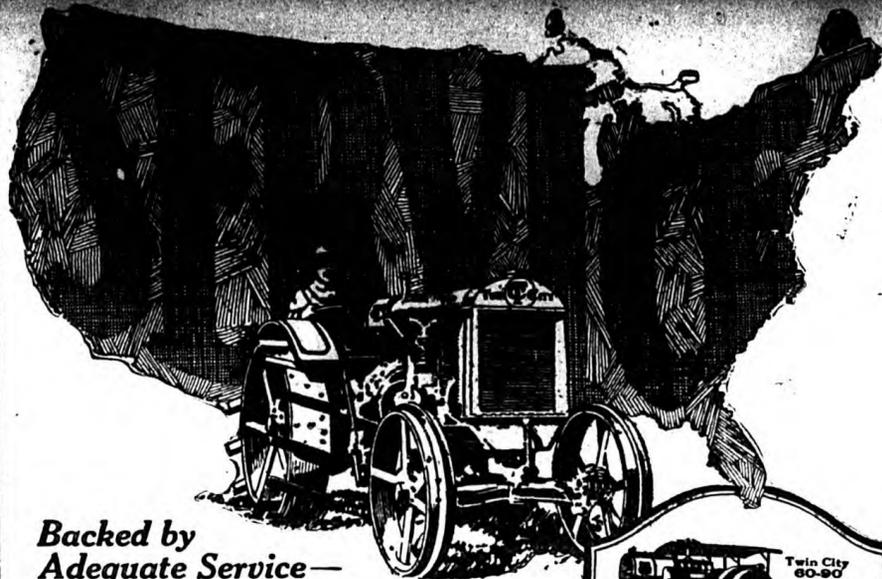

THAT CLARA SCHOOL AGAIN

August 26th, 1920.

To the Editor:

In your issue of August 12th we read an account of the hearing before the Board of Education of the Clara and White Haven school situation. Now I beg to say that this is written in neither the spirit of criticism or correction but only in friendliness and supplication. Now in the first place, we wonder who writes or authorizes these publications, for they always refer to the nine grades as taught at White Haven, when it was clearly shown at the hearing that only eight grades are taught; also Superintendent Bennett produced figures showing that Clara enrollment was about 25 or 30, but does that look like we were dangerously near falling below the necessary average? The enrollment in 1918, when the consolidation plan first started, would have been 30 or 31. But why all this? Simply that folks unacquainted with the situation may think us a bunch of non-progressive citizens. Now, we do not, and never have, opposed a graded school system or consolidation; for it remains a fact that at the very first hearing granted us by the board in 1918, we begged them to leave us a primary school in each of the two districts, and transport the higher grades of both Clara and White Haven to Nanticoke High school where we would have the greater advantage of, not only the eight grade, but up to and including the eleventh. But it could not be seen that way. The one-grade game outweighing all argument, and for two years the wagon has carried the 11 pupils, at most. And even yet were not convinced that the trouble and sacrifice necessitated by starting our tots of six and having them transported to another school district until they obtained the eighth grade is compensated by so slight a gain. One can but recall the remark of one of Wicomico's prominent men that there had been more quibbling for the least gain over the Clara and White Haven situation than had ever come under his observation. What resident from this portion of the county can travel the road to Nanticoke and pass that beautiful High school building with its modern sanitation and equipment without a feeling of elation and triumph? There it stands with its vast sum of cost already expended, manned by an excellent corps of teachers, headed by a principal against whom someone will raise their voice except in praise and commendation; and yet we are told that this noble structure and the cause it represents is in grave danger of going backward. Now, gentlemen of the Board of Education, if I may make so bold as to borrow Leonard Wallis' expression, "We implore, shall we rescind from the progress we have made while we are begging for the advantages that will not only mean a great advance for us, but also sustenance for Nanticoke?" It has been tested and proven that the road is not an insurmountable obstacle, and should they become so, when the 18 or 19 pupils from the private school are added to the 11 already carried by the wagon. Commissioner Miller assures they will see that they are made right. And if one wagon will not carry the children they will put on two. Bravo! If such a spirit could be backed by a fight equal to the one that has been waged to save the eighth grade at White Haven, connection with the Nanticoke might even now be an achievement instead of awaiting future development. The lesser number in the higher grades would help reduce the transportation problem. Comparing the difference with the gain of the two propositions, it looks as if we were content to pick up a handful when we might have gathered an armful. We are cognizant that there is a general awakening all over the state, and Maryland, my Maryland is no longer content to remain far down the ranks of education as compared with our sister states. And there is a general upward movement or drive on for higher education. Now, I am sure that Wicomico, who is always among the first to nolly go over the top and "then some" in each and every drive for Liberty loans, W. S. S. and Relief funds, will not lag behind in the cause of education. I admit I have experienced moments when I felt that I would rather have peace than anything in the world, but moments pass both good and bad, and if the cause is sufficient to warrant a fight, then I say FIGHT, but fight for something.

Very respectfully,
A SUBSCRIBER.

THE NAVY IS THE SCHOOL OF NATION

The naval expansion since 1917 has created numerous splendid opportunities for the personnel, and many young Americans are taking advantage of the increased pay, education and travel that the navy now offers.

At the present time there are 20,000 pupils learning the rudiments of naval profession and 11,314 students in 30 various navy trade schools, studying a variety of courses, exceeding and educational institution in the world. These schools are the sources of the navy's skilled men, who make the navy what it is—the most efficiently organized body of men in the world.

Only a few years ago, before a young man could enter a trade school, he had to have some knowledge of the particular trade he desired. All this is changed. High school boys and college men can choose any trade school by signifying their desire. For men of less schooling there are different occupational schools like blacksmiths, molders, patternmakers, bakers, cooks and many others. Length of courses vary from 12 to 36 weeks, under the instruction of navy's efficient instructors. The U. S. navy with the present progress, in 1925 will be the most powerful navy in the world, for by that time there will be 16 first class capitol ships, mounting 16 inch guns, in addition to the 11 battleships mounting 14 inch guns.

The destroyer force is already the largest and most powerful in the world, consisting of over 300 of the fastest destroyers, with speed ranging from 41 to 44 miles per hour. For these reasons it is easily seen why the U. S. navy is called the "Greatest School on Earth."

Belgian Veterans Band On Tour

Composer of "Birth of a Nation" Music Is Director

Marital music by veteran soldiers! One's blood fairly tingles in anticipation. Some way the martial spirit is infused thru and sways an audience as little else does.

Marital music by a Belgian Veterans' Band! One thinks of heroic Belgium blocking Germany's road to the sudden victory she had planned; of Belgium holding vast armies at bay while the allies could leap to arms; of Belgium ravaged, burned, devastated, suffering as few nations have suffered; of the soul of Belgium too honorable to yield, willing to endure martyrdom rather than compromise with militarism and oppression. And in the martial music of this band there is that uncomparable, uncomprehensible soul of Belgium surging in heroic devotion, crashing in sublime protest, sobbing in heart-breaking pathos, and at last singing its psalm of triumph.

Emile Mischez, the talented director, is, like most of his men, a veteran of the Royal Belgian Army, of one of whose bands he was a member. He has more than sixty meritorious musical compositions to his credit, a few of which will be played at Chautauqua. American audiences will be interested in the fact that he composed the distinctive and remarkably effective musical accompaniment for the famous "Birth of a Nation" movie film.

Directed by this musical genius, the Belgian Veterans' Band will render not only the greatest musical offering of the week, but also the most elaborate musical treat ever presented to Chautauqua patrons. The program will not be devoted entirely, nor perhaps principally to martial music, but will include selections of all kinds ranging from the popular to the classic. There will be numerous special features, including a cornet solo by M. Mischez, horn duets, quartets, and sextets, beside the great arias sung by Miss Florence Withrow, the American soprano whom M. Mischez has selected and coached especially for this tour.

The Third Day is Band Day—Belgian Veterans' Band Day. Don't forget it.

The cannery of H. P. Cannon & Son of Bridgeville, will use glass jars this year in canning tomatoes, due to the shortage of tin containers.

TALL CEDARS AGAIN MAKE NEW RECORD

Easternsho' Forest Initiates 211
Candidates At Ocean City
Thursday.

BIG CLASS BREAKS COUNTRY'S RECORD

Approximately 600 Tall Cedars Take Part In Second Ceremonial Of Easternsho Forest Held In Windsor Theater. Special Trains Convey Cedars To And From Ocean City. Fine Masonic Emblems Awarded. Supreme Preceptor Present.

Another record was broken in the history of Masonry on Thursday when the Easternsho Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon with headquarters in this city journeyed to Ocean City to conduct the second ceremonial in the history of the forest and initiated a class of 211 candidates, the largest class believed to have been carried through at one time in the history of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon. Altogether there were approximately 600 cedars and candidates attending the ceremonial.

The Cedars left Salisbury at 5.30 p. m. by a special train for the seashore and en route to Ocean City the accident resulting in the sad death of Clarence Parker occurred near Whaleyville which alone marred the pleasure of the forest during the evening.

At Union station, Ocean City a parade was formed led by Grand Tall Cedars Herbert Raffe of Easternsho forest, Grier of Evergreen forest, Milford, Del., and Morgan of Brandywine forest, Wilmington. The Salisbury band separated the leaders and the Evergreen forest who were followed by Easternsho forest. The candidates brought up the rear.

At 8 o'clock supper was served all present with B. J. Hayman, proprietor of the Central hotel as caller. At 8.30 the band marched to the Atlantic hotel where it gave a concert to the members' wives and all who wished to enjoy the music while the cedars conducted the ceremonial.

Supreme Preceptor Rev. Dr. Gas-sener of Easton, Md. had charge of the ceremony during the earlier part of the evening but later gave way to Grand Tall Cedars Raffe who presented the four captains of the membership teams with beautiful Masonic emblems for their services. Although the green cedars captured by J. K. Vanant and Frank Uman won the national reg was so small that the best of the cedars led by H. L. Farnell and Milton Cleary were also given a reward. Tall cedar C. E. Adams was also given a beautiful beaded stock pin because of his work done in establishing a forest in Salisbury. The return to this city was started at 11.30 o'clock also by a special train.

The Easternsho forest has had only two meetings both of which have been ceremonials and on both occasions have records for the United States been broken. The first meeting, July 17, held at the Salisbury Army organized the forest here with an original membership of 183, the largest membership that has ever started a forest in the United States. The Cedars meet monthly and the October meeting will take place in the Armory. Ladies night is the program.

Mother And Son Killed By Train

Struck By A Train Between Rhodese-dale And Reid's Grove. Mother Killed Instantly.

A dispatch from Cambridge on August 28th relates the following sad story:

Mrs. Lelia Evans and her 7-year old son were killed yesterday afternoon by a Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic railroad train between Rhodese-dale and Reid's Grove, Dorchester county.

Mrs. Evans and her son were walking down the road, the boy in the lead. He had started to cross the railroad track when his mother heard a whistle. She seized the child and ran across the track safely. Then, greatly excited, she started back across the track. She just reached the rails when the engine struck her. She died instantly, and the boy in a short time.

OCEAN CITY SEASON IS DRAWING TO A CLOSE

The 1920 season at Ocean City is fast drawing to a close and in a week or ten days things will shut down for the approaching fall and winter. From what we have been able to learn the season has been one of great benefit to the town. Thousands of persons have been entertained there and all of the hotels and other enterprises have done good business. Some claim that the prices charged were a little steep and this may have detracted somewhat from the business of the season, but however that may be the 1920 season will go down in history as one of the best the town has ever experienced.

Health Exhibit Is Attracting Attention

Display At Powell's Department Store By Board Of Health And Red Cross.

There will be a series of Health Exhibits conducted by the Wicomico Chapter of the American Red Cross in conjunction with the State Board of Health, the first of which is being shown in the window of R. E. Powell & Co.'s department store, Main street. This exhibit is interesting and instructive and deals with many phases of preventive medicine and hygienic living.

This exhibition in connection with the fine posters and the articles displayed by R. E. Powell & Co. during this time is a splendid opportunity for everyone in the county to inform himself on health topics and to more fully appreciate what the government and the Red Cross are doing to protect all the citizens of the United States.

HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN IS WELL UNDER WAY

Accomac, Somerset, Worcester And Sussex Counties To Be Asked To Help In Great Work.

The second meeting of the citizens campaign committee, Monday night at the Armory, resulted in the adoption of a plan to raise $100,000 for the construction of a new hospital at Salisbury. The committee, headed by Dr. E. Adams, is making a canvass of prominent citizens for the campaign organization, and of whom have already secured subscriptions. Committee: W. B. Miller.

Teams Committee for Salisbury and Wicomico County: W. S. Goss, Jr., Estimating Committee: Harry S. Ruark.

Committee on Church Cooperation: Dr. Herbert D. Cone.

Press Publicity: Clarence W. Miles.

Display Publicity: Oscar L. Morris.

Auto Service: Ralph H. Grier.

Dinners and Luncheons: Miss Irma Graham.

Plans were formulated looking to enlistment of strong committees to organize workers for Sussex, Worcester, Somerset and Accomac counties, the general plan being to enlist local leaders throughout the entire area served by the Hospital to assume responsibility for their communities, each of which will be assigned a definite quota to raise.

The Publicity Committees plan to make use of the teachers and pupils of the public schools in getting information concerning the campaign into the homes throughout these counties.

Assurance of co-operation have been received from the County Superintendents of Wicomico, Sussex, Worcester and Somerset, all of whom will furnish Campaign Headquarters complete list of the teachers of the respective counties with their addresses. The children of the schools will not be asked to act as solicitors, but it is the plan to send to each teacher by weekly bulletins relative to the campaign in sufficient quantity to distribute to the pupils to take to the homes of each school district. Attractive and catchy posters will also be supplied to be on exhibition in each school room for several weeks in advance of the campaign.

PERMIT GRANTED TO FARMERS & PLANTERS CO

Will Now Erect A Large Warehouse On The G. E. Mitchell Lot On Mill Street.

The City Council Monday evening settled the long-drawn-out controversy over the granting of a permit to the Farmers & Planters Company to erect a fertilizer factory in this city, by granting a permit to the company to erect the plant on the G. E. Mitchell property on Mill street. The action of the Council was, however, not unanimous, Councilmen Messick, Bennett, Smith and Serman voting for the granting of the permit and Councilman Hitch voting against it.

There were no objections to granting the building permit from property-holders in the neighborhood. On the contrary, a joint agreement was presented to the Council from the board of directors of the Home for the Aged and the board of directors of the Farmers & Planters Co. stipulating that the Council should be the final arbitrators in case the warehouse should be deemed a nuisance at any time in the future. This agreement, filed with the Council, specifies that before the Farmers & Planters Co. can make any change in materials for mixing fertilizers, by which the odor would be more offensive to the residents of the Home, the matter must be submitted to the board of directors of the Home; in case the two boards cannot agree the Council will decide the matter as to the offensiveness of the plant and can order its discontinuance. This joint agreement, signed by the two boards, was filed with the Council, and made a part of the proceedings.

Thus has ended, for the present, at least, the most bitter fight ever waged in Salisbury against the locating of a manufacturing plant in or near a residential section. The fight started when the Farmers & Planters Co. filed an application to erect its plant on Mill street at the foot of West Chestnut street. This application was opposed by every resident of Park street and other sections of Newtown; counsel was retained and the fight carried to the Council, which finally rejected the application.

The fight next figured in the last city election, a majority of the Councilmen opposing the permit winning out. Now that the controversy is settled, apparently to the satisfaction of both sides, it is hoped there will be no occasion for any further trouble along this line.

SEVENTH STRAIGHT SALISBURY VICTORY

Salisbury won its seventh straight victory on Friday when it journeyed to Cambridge and defeated the Dorchester team easily, 8 to 1. Duffy let down the home team with five hits. Fifteen safeties were nicked off the delivery of Clayton, star pitcher of the Western Maryland college team who manned the box for Cambridge. Hoffman of Salisbury was the star sticksman of the day having a double, a sacrifice, and a triple to his credit. The last wallop coming when the bases were full in the seventh inning, clearing the paths.

WETPQUIN APPLES CHAMPIONS SO FAR

It seems that no matter how large a specimen may be of its variety there is always another larger one after that it is. This fact was evidenced on Thursday when J. C. Mitchell of Wetpquin brought in the 3-LWS office three beautifully shaped and colored apples which weighed two pounds and 12 ounces, beating the record of three apples grown by John A. S. Hearn of White Haven by six ounces. Mr. Mitchell did not know the name of the variety of the apple.

Public Schools Open; Increased Attendance

Enrollment In Salisbury First Day In The Elementary Grades Totals 1121 And Will Likely Go To 1200. High School Enrolls 431 And Likely To Reach 475 Or More.

Hundreds of children wended their way to the public schools of Wicomico county last Thursday morning and reports received at the office of the Board of Education Friday show a large increase in attendance. This is occasioned by the fact that many canning houses are not in operation in this county this fall, thus releasing hundreds of children who formerly worked in the tomato packing houses, to attend the opening session.

County Superintendent Bennett had all the teachers of the county in session at the Wicomico High school on Wednesday and a general discussion of school problems was had. Supt. Bennett appealed to the teaching force for hearty co-operation, to the end that better work may be accomplished this year than in former years. There was a cheerful response from the teachers to the appeal by the Superintendent, and the teachers left for their various schools in a frame of mind which augurs well for a successful year's work along educational

TAX RATE FOR 1920 LIKELY TO BE RAISED

City Council Considering The Matter Of Raising More Revenue. Raise To Be Five Cents.

The City Council Monday evening considered several important matters passing on building permits which had been held up from the previous meeting, granting two or three permits for minor improvements, etc.

The application of E. S. Adkins & Co. to erect a saw mill at their plant in this city, was granted, there having been no objections to its erection filed by nearby property owners.

The Council also granted the application of the Farmers & Planters Co. to erect a fertilizer warehouse on the Mitchell property, located on Mill street. There were no objections filed by property owners in the vicinity.

The offer of Wood Richardson and other property owners on Light street to construct a sewer on Light street, at a cost of about $500.00, to be taken over by the Council at some future time, was accepted. Work will be commenced soon.

The question of the tax rate for 1920 was considered by the Council. It seemed to be the unanimous opinion that, owing to increased expenses of conducting the municipality, the tax rate would have to be raised. The present tax rate is 50 cents for general purposes and 10 cents for sinking fund, a total tax rate of 60 cents. The new rate will likely be 55 cents for general purposes and 10 cents for the sinking fund, a total of 65 cents. This is the maximum rate allowed by the City charter.

SEVENTH STRAIGHT SALISBURY VICTORY

Salisbury won its seventh straight victory on Friday when it journeyed to Cambridge and defeated the Dorchester team easily, 8 to 1. Duffy let down the home team with five hits. Fifteen safeties were nicked off the delivery of Clayton, star pitcher of the Western Maryland college team who manned the box for Cambridge. Hoffman of Salisbury was the star sticksman of the day having a double, a sacrifice, and a triple to his credit. The last wallop coming when the bases were full in the seventh inning, clearing the paths.

WETPQUIN APPLES CHAMPIONS SO FAR

It seems that no matter how large a specimen may be of its variety there is always another larger one after that it is. This fact was evidenced on Thursday when J. C. Mitchell of Wetpquin brought in the 3-LWS office three beautifully shaped and colored apples which weighed two pounds and 12 ounces, beating the record of three apples grown by John A. S. Hearn of White Haven by six ounces. Mr. Mitchell did not know the name of the variety of the apple.

SALISBURY UNUSUALLY HEALTHY IN AUGUST

VALUABLE CITY REALTY TO BE DISPOSED OF

One of the most important real estate transactions now in prospect in Salisbury is the announced sale of the holdings of Bethesda Methodist Protestant Church on Broad and Chestnut streets. The church has three splendid pieces of property purchased for a new building some time ago. A change of plans and the securing of the location on the corner of William and North Division streets places the lots on Broad street on the market. The lots will be sold by public auction on the premises on Saturday, September 25th. Full announcements of the sale will appear in subsequent issues of the NEWS.

The Band Concerts Will Be Continued

Time Will Be Extended To Close Of September. People Urged To Make Contributions To Band.

The weekly band concerts will be continued during the month of September, according to the secretary of the band, who talked this week with a News reporter. The musicians feel that they are filling a real need in Salisbury with their concerts; and this is the consensus of opinion of those lovers of music who go each Friday night to hear them play. Although the concerts are, and will continue to be, free; contributions are requested and needed. To date they have been coming in rather slowly, possibly not so much because the work of the band is unappreciated as because people have not given real thought to the necessity for contributing to what is a worthy Salisbury organization. Leave your donation at The News office.

SALISBURY HAS LEGION CANDIDATE

Colonel A. W. W. Woodcock, Wicomico Post's Choice For State Commander Of American Legion.

The Eastern Shore is to have a candidate in the race for the post of state commander of the American Legion. This fact was assured on Tuesday when the executive committee of the local post met and decided to place the name of Colonel A. W. Woodcock before the state convention in Cumberland when that body convenes next week.

Plans for an active, aggressive campaign were mapped out and, it is said, are already well under way. The local post will do its utmost to advance the cause of its candidate, and the campaign committee is very sanguine as to the result. The city of Baltimore is offering two candidates, and the counties are basing their hope of winning on a split in the Baltimore representation.

"We feel sure," said one of the committee to a News reporter, "that the entire Eastern Shore will line up behind Colonel Woodcock in order to bring home the honor of having the state commandery go to a resident of the Eastern Shore. And we believe the posts elsewhere in the state will be with us because they will want the counties to be represented in that office. The first state commander was a Baltimore man, and it is logical that the second should be a legionnaire from out of the city."

The delegation is ready to put Colonel Woodcock's name before the convention and to fight for the candidate until he wins. The convention will also be invited to hold its next annual gathering at Ocean City under the auspices of Wicomico Post and the posts of the Eastern Shore.

The delegates for the Cumberland convention are A. T. Grier, Paul C. Phillips, and Glenn Cordrey. They will probably leave Salisbury on Sunday afternoon, as the Legion convenes at nine o'clock on Monday morning.

Col. Wm. B. Tighman is making extensive improvements to his residence on Camden Ave., which he expects to complete in time to occupy by January 1st. Several changes are being made to the interior, new porches and a sun parlor are being erected, and a heating plant installed in the basement.

Is The Pleasing Announcement Of Several Of Our Leading Physicians.

LOWEST DEATH RATE FOR MONTH OF AUGUST

Only Four Cases Of Typhoid Fever Treated In The Hospital This Year. These Were From Points Outside Of Wicomico County. Lowest Death Rate Ever Known In Salisbury Last Month. Typhoid Serum More Widely Used Nowadays.

Unusual health conditions prevail in Salisbury at this time is the pleasing announcement from several of our physicians. Few cases of sickness of any kind are reported. Especially is this true of typhoid fever cases. This disease has for several years been very prevalent in Salisbury and throughout Wicomico county during the months of August and September, many times taxing the capacity of the Peninsula General Hospital. Many of these fever cases were brought to our hospital from the adjoining counties and many from points in Wicomico outside of Salisbury.

One of our leading physicians stated to a News reporter this week that so far this year but four typhoid fever cases have been treated at the Peninsula General Hospital and all four were brought to the hospital from adjoining counties.

"These conditions are unusual," remarked the physician, "and may be accounted for by the use of serum on the public school children during the past two or three years."

The physician so speaking expressed the opinion that we would not soon have any more epidemics of typhoid fever such as we formerly had, due to the inoculation with serum.

The physician also stated that the month of August showed the lowest death rate in Salisbury for any August for many years.

These reports are, to our mind, especially valuable to this community, as the good health conditions are the best asset this section can have.

FORMER SALISBURIAN DIES IN PHILADELPHIA

News was received here Monday of the death of W. A. King, eldest son of Mr. C. A. Covington, High street. Mr. King was born in Salisbury, but has lived in Philadelphia for the past several years. He spent the Fourth of July here with relatives and apparently was enjoying good health, but was stricken with paralysis shortly after his return home. Besides his mother, he is survived by two sons, Louis and William; one daughter, Mrs. Charles Bowers; three brothers, Charlie, Hubert and Oscar, all of Philadelphia, and two sisters, Mrs. Benjamin Lancaster of Philadelphia and Mrs. John T. Ellis of Salisbury. Mr. King had many warm friends in Salisbury who will regret to hear of his death.

Knights of Pythias Hold Golden Jubilee

Celebration In The Armory Friday Was A Big Success—Banquet Enjoyed By 225 Members.

The subordinate lodges, Knights of Pythias, of the Eastern Shore of Maryland met at the Armory here last Friday in celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the instituting of the order in the state. The afternoon session opened at 3 o'clock and, after a hearty welcome was extended to the visiting lodges, a class of candidates were initiated in the first rank and following that there were interesting talks by the officers of the Grand Lodge and the session closed at 5.30 to enable preparations for the banquet in the evening.

At 8.20 the doors of the Armory were thrown open and the 225 banqueters took their seat. There were many prominent Marylanders in attendance. The program consisted of singing, dancing, recitations, flute-solo and speeches. The main speeches were made by Hon. L. Atwood Bennett, of this city and Dr. Herbert C. Blake, an eminent physician of Baltimore.

Extra Session Has Been Called By Governor Ritchie

Will Assemble At Annapolis On September 20th To Pass Legislation Needed To Insure The Full Registration Of Women Voters. The Session Expected To Last But Two Or Three Days. Cost Will Be Comparatively Small.

In response to a unanimous demand from the leaders of the two old parties in Maryland, and with a desire to provide every means possible for the registration of the thousands of women voters of Maryland and thus qualify them to vote next November, Governor Ritchie has called an extra session of the Legislature to convene at Annapolis on Monday, September 20th, to enact legislation providing additional registration and election facilities to handle women's votes.

In a statement setting forth the necessity for an extra session, the Governor included a careful calculation as to the number of women who could be registered if there were only the two days in the counties now provided, and the number who would be deprived of opportunity to register.

Upon the assumption that as many women are entitled to register in the counties as there are men voters, the Governor found that 60,521 would not have opportunity to register in a two-days' sitting. The Governor also stated that there was grave doubt whether, with the present machinery, the total vote could be cast on election day.

Under the present election laws there are but two registration days of 11 hours each, or 22 hours in all. If one woman were registered every five minutes, then the total number registered in each voting precinct in the two days would be 264.

There are several voting precincts in Wicomico county which have from 450 to 700 registered voters, and one, Parsons District, has 1178 registered voters, so allowing for a full registration of the women voters it will require at least five days to complete the work, instead of two days, as at present. These same conditions exist all over the state.

In announcing his call Governor Ritchie stated that his influence would be used to prevent consideration of any legislation not fairly related to the subject of the call, "no matter from what party it may emanate." The Governor is hopeful that, with the backing of public opinion, he may be able to hold the sessions of the Legislature to the main business, and, as he intends to have necessary legislation prepared in advance, he thinks the Legislature may not need to sit more than three or four days.

Some people have objected to the extra session on the ground of the cost. But the cost of the war session of 1917, running over 16 days, was only $19,800. There is no sound reason why an extra session now should last more than a very few days, so that the cost should be considerably less.

Referring to his call of the extra session Governor Ritchie says: "It is inherently right that the women of Maryland should be given a full and fair opportunity to register, and there is only one way to give it to them. I am unwilling to deprive them of that right merely because of the possibility that unrelated, partisan or political issues may be raised. It is infinitely better to run the chances of those issues, and, if they come, meet them as they should be met, rather than, for fear of them, fail to take the steps necessary to assure women the exercise of the rights which now are theirs."

Republican Leaders Favor Ratification

Conference Decides To Foster Action On Suffrage At The Special Session.

Republican leaders of the state met in Baltimore Thursday to decide on plans to be pursued at the coming extra session of the General Assembly, which Governor Ritchie has called to convene on September 20th.

The party leaders unanimously favored ratification of the Federal Suffrage Amendment at the extra session. In addition to such ratification the leaders adopted resolutions favoring:

Repeal of the Declaration of Intention act as to both men and women.

Repeal of the Affidavit of Removal act.

Provision for additional days of registration.

"Simplification" of the ballot.

Passage of such other legislation as may be necessary for the full enjoyment of women of their political and legal rights.

Increase of polling facilities and improvement of voting conditions to prevent overcrowding, school houses and other public buildings to be used where possible.

To the end that the women might be given recognition at once in party affairs the resolutions recommended to the chairman of the State Central Committee the appointment of a woman vice-chairman and a woman vice-secretary. It was further recommended that the Republican committee in each county and in Baltimore city appoint a woman vice-chairman and a woman vice-secretary, and that committees of women be organized in the counties and the city.

The Rockaway Base Ball team played our team here on Wednesday, September 1st, and defeated us by a score of 9 to 0. By taking the field in the last inning we had a game of our own. At the time Rockaway had two men on base and they seemed in sight for our team to win. It was then that a fielder from the visiting team made a play that was a real gem. He caught the ball in the pocket and was able to throw it to the pitcher in time to get the out. The game was a tie.

Eastern Shore Electric Service ANNOUNCEMENT. Owing to the abnormal increase in operating expenses during the past few months, we are forced to announce that beginning with the September bills, there will be an increase of 15 per cent. in the rates for Electric Service. We believe that everyone is more or less familiar with the shortage of coal carrying equipment and the difficulty of obtaining fuel, but we doubt if it is generally realized that since April 1st of this year, the price of coal has increased from $3.50 per ton to anywhere from $8.50 to $13.00 per net ton. This price represents the cost of coal at the mines, and does not include the freight, war tax and unloading costs. This enormous increase in coal costs will amount to approximately $70,000.00 per year. In addition, the freight rate of $3.50 per ton has recently been advanced 40%, making the new freight rate about $5.00 per ton. This latter increase alone amounts to approximately $20,000.00 per annum. In addition to the difficulty of securing funds with which to pay for fuel at the enormously increased price, there is the difficulty of obtaining coal on account of the severe shortage existing. In July, the Company operated at a deficit, the cost of coal amounting to over $13.00 per ton, which is nearly double the cost of March. All the costs have been increasing, but the enormous increase in coal cost, and the advance of 10% in freight rates, now makes it necessary for the Company to secure increased revenue in order to continue its operation. We regret as much as anyone the present high prices and the necessity for this increase, and we take this opportunity to state to our customers that it is our desire to place at their disposal the highest grade of Electric Service at the lowest possible price. The increase in rates for Electric Service has been small in proportion to the increased cost of fuel and other items of expense. As a public utility, we recognize our obligation to our customers, and we wish to assure you that our rates will be reduced as soon as a reduction in the cost of the present abnormal costs. THE NEWS' CHOICE FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR.

The NEWS is described as an Independent paper, referring of course to things political. Independent, however, was never intended to be synonymous with neutral.

The coming election is vastly important. Problems of staggering weight, national and international, confront us. Loaded down with debt, oppressed with the outrageous cost of necessities, restless, forgetful a little perhaps of the God of its Fathers, forgetful certainly of those ancient virtues,—thrift and industry,—possessing no longer the cordial friendship of a single nation in the world, our Country is in dire need that those who are to guide its course in the next four years be selected with the best judgment we have.

A President and Vice-President, one-third of the Senate, all of the House of Representatives, will be selected in November. We assert that it is no part of our scheme of government that a majority of Congress and the Executive be of the same political faith. That is the English plan. It is not the American. Our Senators are intended to bring into the government the views of their own people. We may, therefore, vote for a President of one political party and a Senator from another without being inconsistent.

A President represents certain great principles. We are as much concerned with his party platform as with his own personality. The most of us can not hope to know him intimately. We must be content to vote for him largely upon what we know he stands for. But our Senator is our own Ambassador to Washington. It is possible for us to know him. We expect him to know us. As to him, we may say that we are more concerned with him personally and his personal platform than with his party's platform.

With these thoughts in mind it is easy to conclude that the NEWS advises its readers to retain Senator John Walter Smith in Washington. He is an Eastern Shoreman. That consideration will always count with the NEWS with its proper pride in this "right little, tight little" peninsula. Ancient law and custom gives the Shore one of the two senators. He knows the State and our people. They know him. Through his long public service he has never missed an opportunity to serve any of us, regardless of party, when we have called upon him. His long service in the Senate makes him a more useful senator than the most brilliant newcomer could be. Seniority, experience and service count in the Senate as they count no place else in the world.

To those of our readers who prefer Harding to Cox, we say that Senator Smith will never prove an obstructionist, but will support a Republican president as loyally, if not as enthusiastically, as he would a Democrat. To those who prefer Cox, it is easier for them to vote for Smith.

He is an old and tried official. He has served his State and people well. In the golden age of his statesmanship, when his fine mind is broadened by wide experience, let us keep him in the Senate.

RE-OPENING OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The public schools of Wicomico county reopened for the Fall Term Thursday with an enrollment somewhat above normal and with excellent prospects for a successful year's work.

Since the close of the schools for the summer vacation the Board of Education has been planning for the year's work ahead; meetings have been held as often as twice each week to discuss problems of school administration and to perfect plans for even better work than was accomplished last year. The results of the Board's deliberations are seen in the improvement of several school buildings in various sections and the furnishing of others with more sanitary and more comfortable equipment. All that was desired along these lines could not be accomplished by the Board because of the lack of funds, but we are safe in saying that the schools are in better condition at this time, taken as a whole, than they have been for several years.

This result was made possible by the broad-minded views of the County Commissioners in furnishing the funds necessary to do the work. We know that much larger appropriations would have been made by the County Commissioners had the county finances permitted it, for the two boards are working in complete harmony, having in view the betterment of the educational facilities of this county. Both boards have set a high mark to be reached along educational lines and we are sure that next year the County Commissioners will be in a position to make more liberal appropriations than they were able to do this year, although the school budget approved by the County Commissioners this year is the highest in the history of the county.

Extraordinary effort has been made by the Board of Education and Superintendent to raise the standard of the public schools of our county a level higher than that of any other school authorities that may be called upon. Efforts will be reflected in the good results of the coming year's work.

The News is gratified at being able to report the progress that is being made for the betterment of our public schools and promises its full support, as in the past, to those who are managing the school affairs of our county, believing that the better we educate the boys and girls of Wicomico county the better equipped will they be to take their places in the business affairs of life.

With such an auspicious opening of our schools may we not look for an advance along all educational lines this year?

So we appeal to the parents of the children to see to it that the children attend regularly, and that the parents accord to the teaching force every consideration possible, so that we can all work together for the betterment of our educational institutions.

ARE WE TO HAVE A MUD-SLINGING CAMPAIGN?

Evidences are multiplying daily that the campaign to be waged this fall between the Democratic and Republican parties is drifting into one of mud-slinging and vituperation.

Gov. Cox, the democratic candidate for president, makes bold to charge the Republicans with raising a slush fund of millions with which to debauch the electorate and purchase the presidency.

This charge by the Democratic nominee is met with a counter charge by Senator Harding, the Republican presidential nominee, that the Democratic candidate is being supported by the "wet" element with a large corruption fund.

Of course there is a general denial from each side of the charges, and it will be almost impossible for each side to prove its allegations, so numerous are the ways of covering up campaign secrets.

So it seems a useless waste of time and energy for the candidates of the two old parties to be continually making charges against one another which cannot be proven.

Would it not be far better to confine the discussions during this campaign to the living, vital issues which are paramount?

Would not a return to the old-time manner of waging a political campaign be welcomed by the voters—a campaign in which the dominant principles of the two old parties are placed before the voters and discussed with intelligence and vigor?

The average intelligent voter is interested in knowing what each of the two old parties stands for—how the election of either will affect the great business interests of the country—bringing good or hard times, and they will listen to and read with interest the discussions along these lines. More votes, we believe, will be made in an intelligent and dispassionate discussion of the cardinal principles of the two old parties than in personal abuse and mud-slinging.

So let's have a clean presidential campaign, trusting to the intelligent electorate of this country to settle the question as to who will be president for four years.

There will be more intelligent voting this year than ever before because the women will have a share in it. They will be more interested in hearing the vital issues discussed than in reading the charges which are being made daily in the public press.

LET THE EXTRA SESSION BE SHORT.

We believe that Governor Ritchie has pursued the right course in calling an extra session of the Legislature for the specific purpose of amending the election laws so as to extend the time of registration, in order that the thousands of women of the state may be qualified to cast their first vote next November.

Apparently there was very general sentiment among the leaders of the two old parties in favor of calling the extra session. But there should be an insistent demand from these same leaders, as well as from the present Administration, that the session be as brief as possible, so that the expense may be kept down to the lowest possible sum.

There is no necessity for a lengthy session; three or four days should be sufficient to amend the registration laws and to provide for ample time in which to qualify the women voters and to provide all additional machinery for the casting of the large vote expected next fall.

Legislation looking to these ends should be prepared at once for presentation to the General Assembly and it should be passed in the least possible time and at the least possible expense to the taxpayers.

Both parties will be held equally responsible for the prolongation of the session beyond the time necessary to provide for the registration of the women voters.

IS THERE A "BACK TO THE FARM" MOVEMENT UNDER WAY?

A very significant thing happened in Wilmington last week which would indicate that there is a "back-to-the-farm" movement under way.

Hon. Josiah Marvel, one of Wilmington's leading lawyers, and a man well-known to many Salisburyans, advertised in one of the Wilmington dailies for a farmer. To his surprise 127 men, all of whom said they had jobs in Wilmington, applied for the place.

Mr. Marvel and his supervisor interviewed the applicant, the unexpected large number causing a scene that a movie maker would have delighted to catch and reproduce. Many said that prior to the war they had worked in agriculture and that they wanted to get back to it, that they had had enough of city life.

They admitted that they were not in the city, that they did not know where they could expect to get a job, but that they were willing to offer "that" if they could get back to the farm.

It is not surprising that there should be a "back-to-the-farm" movement, for the war has done much to broaden the minds of our people, and to show them that there is a life outside of the city.

SAVE CITY'S PRIDE BY REORGANIZING CO.

Strenuous Efforts Being Made To Reorganize Old Company I. Advantages Offered Men Who Join.

That it is up to the pride of the young men of Salisbury and the pride of their fathers and mothers, whether or not Salisbury is to retain its prominence in the military organization of the state, is the feeling gaining strength every day among the citizens of the town.

This was amply borne out at a meeting held jointly by a committee of the local Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club, and by a well-attended smoker held in the Armory Tuesday to further stimulate interest looking to the reorganization of Company "I" of the First Infantry, Maryland National Guard. These two bodies, representing the leading citizenry of Salisbury and vicinity, places themselves on record as heartily endorsing the campaign now under way, and call upon every citizen of Salisbury and vicinity to actively assist in enlisting men in Company "I" to bring it up to its required quota by the end of next week.

Plans are being worked out for a big community gathering in the Armory next week when at that time military officials of the state will be present, and in the evening a dance will be held and a general invitation is issued to every citizen.

Many questions are being asked regarding the changes in the New National Guard regulations, in comparison to the old method. The following are some of the reasons why the New National Guard will be worth while to join:

1. Age, 18 to 45.
2. Height, 5 feet 4 inches and over; physical qualifications same as for the Regular Army.

3. Period of enlistment, one year for all ex-service men, three years for all other men.
4. Drills, forty-eight drills a year are held, or practically one each week of one and one-half hours duration.

5. Camp, 15 days in camp each year during the summer months.
6. Pay, one thirtieth of the monthly pay of the Regular Army; for each drill attended, (old bill required 60 per cent. of the company to attend, but under the new bill, each man is paid regardless of how many attend drills) the man alone must attend drill to get paid. For each drill the pay is as follows: Private $1.16; corporal $1.23; sergeant, $1.50; first sergeant $1.75; transportation allowed to and from drill of all men who enlist from out of the city of Salisbury. Full pay plus state bonus for summer camp, or when on state duty. Full federal pay when on active federal duty. Additional pay for expert riflemen, sharpshooters, and re-enlistment. Decorations to those entitled to wear them, campaign bars, war service chevrons, or wound chevrons.

7. Clothing and equipment, complete initial outfit is issued each recruit the same as for the Regular Army. The company is equipped with the latest arms, which includes the new Springfield rifle, model 1903; Browning automatic rifle, model 1918. In fact the same equipment as issued troops overseas.

8. Discharge, the Governor of Maryland has the power to discharge in urgent cases on account of health, business or removal from city.

10. Promotion, vacancies are filled in the commissioned and non-commissioned personnel by men qualified.

11. West Point. After enlistment in the National Guard men can take the examination for entrance as cadets.

12. Social affairs, such as smokers, banquets, dances and athletic events are encouraged and arranged for when desired.

The above advantages offered the new members of the National Guard should be especially attractive. Beside this there is the training under men who have seen real battle service and know the game.

IMPORTANT HELP IN RECRUITING CO. "I"

An important meeting of members of the Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce was held at the Armory Tuesday afternoon to boost the work of recruiting Co. I. This committee of twelve decided to appoint five persons each, or all persons, to work for the recruiting of one member each for Co. I. It was also decided to name a Big Brother League of business men to help the work of recruiting, financially and otherwise. It was announced at the meeting Tuesday that good talk had already been started in the Armory for Co. I, and that looking ahead would be put in operation very soon. These things will not prove attractive to the members of the Company.

FAST GAME THRILLS FANS HERE SATURDAY

Harrington Defeated By Salisbury 1 To 0, Lone Tally Coming in Ninth, Fielding Sensational.

Before a crowd that taxed the capacity of Gordy's park Salisbury defeated Harrington in a game full of thrills 1 to 0 on Saturday.

Archibald and Davis essayed to stop the Delaware hitters for the home team, while Leagger and Willis made up the Harrington battery. Both pitchers twirled air tight ball and received almost perfect support, only one error being made on either side and that on a difficult chance. With the exception of the ninth inning when Salisbury scored the lone run of the game only two runners reached third base.

The first session brought forth the initial safety of the pastime when Leagger singled cleanly through second base. Salisbury made a strong effort to score when Duffy who reached first by being hit by the pitcher stole second. Davis then drew four wide ones and both runners advanced on a passed ball. Usilton however grounded to second who threw him out at first closing the opening.

The second session with Harrington in the dugout was remarkable only for the fact that Archibald pitched only three balls during the paragraph, sensational running catches being made by Porter and Duffy, the latter making two, all hard hit balls.

In the fifth the second man to arrive at the hot corner sack appeared in the person of Bounds playing second for Wicomico. He thumped the first ball pitched through the pitcher and stole easily continuing to third when the man with the sack threw the ball to the center field caretaker. Johnson popped to the third base ending the convulsion.

In the eighth, Pussey, first base guardian for Harrington, handled perfectly a smoking grounder from Bounds' war club.

The ninth put the end in a perfect day. Duffy, first at the plate, looked longingly at a grooved ball and whaled it to the right garden. The horsehide hit the right field wall a foot below the top depriving "Duff" of a sure homer. As it was he received only a two-bagger, but ran on to third when Davis sacrificed. Usilton then showed his mettle and came through in a real pitch with a scorching send to the right pasture while Duffy rounded home with the decisive run.

FEDERALSBURG IS BEATEN THURSDAY

Gordy, Twirling For Salisbury Bests Hummer In Pitching Duel; Score 5 To 4.

In a game that abounded with super fielding stunts Salisbury defeated Federalburg by the narrow margin of one run on Thursday when Gordy bested Hummer in a pitching duel. Score 5 to 4.

Federalburg applied the kalsomine brush to Salisbury in the first game played between these two teams a few weeks ago, but with this defeat the series stands even. The deciding game will probably be played in the near future.

In the initial session two runs were garnered by Federalburg when errors by the home team let easy outs go by and again in the tenth Porter, who incidentally had an off day making three misplays in the course of the game, allowed an easy roller to go through his legs with a double play in sight and when the outfielder snuffed the ball the runners moved up another peg making the third and second sacks. The next mitter smacked the horsehide for a fly and two runs tumbled over the fence. W. Bounds added two more, with more runs in the way home with a fine safety in the right garden.

Salisbury first threatened to score in the sixth inning when Johnston defending the hot corner for the home team, bumped a two-ply wallop off Hummer's delivery and would have brought in the Wicomico boys' first tally had not Duffy's terrific wallop been safely gathered in by the center field caretaker, after he had run to the fence and speared the horsehide with his gloved hand. Donoho made the catch which was the best catch seen this season on the local back lot. The center fielder was rewarded for his fine work by an outburst of applause.

In the seventh some hits mixed with lucky safeties combined to give Salisbury four runs knotting the score and bringing the fans to their noses yelling. Upton, first baseman for Salisbury, started the fireworks with a scorching single to left. Loomis thumped one sharply to the short stop who nibbled slowly allowing both runners to reach safety. Gordy came through in the pinch with a clean bangle through the third sacker scoring both runners and pulling up at the half-way station himself. Bounds smacked the sphere to the Federal first base guardian who was in such a hurry to nab Gordy at third that he neglected to step on the bag putting Bounds out. Hillis however heaved the pellet so far from the third sack that Goslin, defending the hot corner for Federalburg never touched the pill and Gordy brought in the third run for Salisbury, while Bounds went to third himself. Porter, the next swatsmith, popped to Hummer and the renowned hurler from Caroline missed the offering cleanly, permitting Bounds to cross with the tying marker. Duffy went down on strikes, ending the paragraph.

In the final session Federalburg worked hard to break the deadlock. Noble, pinchhitting for Motz after Goslin had been retired on a grounder to short, reached first on a hot one to the home first sacker. Jones bounced one to third and was safe while Noble ran down to the keystone bag. Both runners moved up a notch on an out but Gordy showed Lynch, the next wielder of the willow something that he had not glimpsed before and the first second baseman whiffed in cold blood stranding runners on third and second.

The last time at bat for the Salisburyans brought forth real baseball and excitement ran high as Johnston stretched a single into a hit good for two sacks by good base running. Duffy who had struck out twice during the afternoon debate then sent the fans home with a lusty double, easily scoring Johnston, breaking the tie, winning the game, redeeming himself, ending Hummer's toils, and keeping Salisbury's record of not being defeated in the last six games still good.

FOR THE BEST TOWN, ARE YOU HELPING IT?

Chautauqua Helps to Make The Town Better. Splendid Entertainment Coming.

Are you, as an individual, an asset or a liability to your town? Are you helping make the town, or are you just hoping the town will make you? What are you doing to make your town the best town in which to live, to do business and to bring up children?

Are you allowing your town to grow anyway it may, or are you helping direct its growth? Do you just complain because things are not what they ought to be in your town, or do you give time and energy to make the proper influences prevail?

Fair business methods, not business methods that get the money and meet the requirements of the law, but golden rule business methods, methods you would be proud of for your children to follow. Homes where simple living prevails, where sincerity and thoughtfulness, and the bridle-tongue, and honest manliness are achieved. Schools where every child receives the best education for democracy. Churches where men are concerned little about a heaven after death, but are much concerned about making earth a heaven.

Chautauqua can take the place of no one of these, but Chautauqua supplements them all. You can well afford to spend time making your Chautauqua bring its inspiration to every family in your community. Stimulating lectures. The best popular music. Clean entertainment.

Your annual opportunity is here; the opportunity for your family and your neighbors. Tell them what is coming. Be familiar with this program. Talk it.

You are working for yourself when you are working for your town. You are working for your town when you are working for your Chautauqua.

THE VOGUE SHOP SERVICE MEANS PROPER CLEANING

The clothing problem means a lot of worry these days. People have less money to spend for clothes and they get less clothes for their money. Three years ago you could buy three suits for what you now pay for one. Yet, listen! how seldom is it that you actually wear out your old clothes? Do you call a garment worn out when it begins to look shabby because it's faded or soiled? If you could put the original color back into the fabric or take out the soil marks you would have several years more good use of the article. That's just what the VOGUE SHOP is doing. Helping you to fight the H. C. L. by making your old clothes look like new. Proper cleaning of wearing apparel at regular intervals is the most intelligent economy one can practice. Remember our work is cleaning, pressing, and dyeing and we can give you the very best service obtainable in these lines. We have special machinery to take care of your Palm Beach and Cool Cloth suits. Look through your summer wardrobe and call 1124. We will be glad to help and serve you.

What Is Life Insurance?

Life Insurance Is, In Reality, No More Nor Less Than:

1. A home for the family.
2. An education for the children.
3. A comfortable and carefree old age.
4. A stabilizer of business.
5. A savings fund that can be drawn on in case of emergency.

Picture a community where every family owned its own home and every child got an education—where every old person was financially independent and every business was on a sound and stable basis—and finally where everyone had a nest egg laid aside for emergencies, and you will have an idea of the kind of a community we are trying to make of Wicomico County.

LEATHERBURY CANNERY WRECKED BY FIRE

Blaze Started About Eight O'Clock Saturday Night. Costly Machinery Completely Destroyed.

For the third time in about a year the vast Leatherbury cannery plant on Pittwater Street, this city, last Saturday night, during several thousand dollars' damage.

The blaze was discovered in the boiler room and it is supposed was caused by the seawater fuel catching fire. In a short time the entire plant was ablaze, giving the fire department a very hot fight to save the storage house and pack of canned goods adjoining, which was finally accomplished.

The portion of the factory containing the valuable machinery was completely gutted and the machinery practically ruined.

Stored above the machinery were several carloads of empty cans, valued it is said, at about $15,000 to $18,000, which were totally destroyed. The owner's pack of tomatoes, stored in the warehouse near the factory, was saved.

Capt. Leatherbury is unable to give at this time, even an approximate loss he has sustained, but it is conservatively estimated at from $25,000 to $30,000. The amount of insurance is also uncertain at this time, as it is placed mostly in the General Mutual Co. of Chicago, but Capt. Leatherbury is hopeful of being fairly well protected.

The fire Saturday night came at a very inopportune time, as Capt. Leatherbury was preparing to engage very extensively in the canning of sweet potatoes and had large contracts with the farmers for potatoes. Thus a large market for sweets will be lost to our farmers.

Within the past year two other fires have visited the Leatherbury cannery, the first being the burning of a large bunk house for employes, and the second being the destruction of a portion of the storage warehouse.

How the last fire originated is a mystery. The watchman says that extraordinary care was taken to clean up the plant last Saturday afternoon and it was in splendid condition when the factory shut down in the afternoon.

Young Man Shoots Himself Thursday

Charles Wyatt, Aged 18, A Former Resident Of Salisbury, Was Buried Here Sunday.

Charles Wyatt, aged 18, formerly of this city, more recently of St. Michaels, shot himself in the right temple in his room in his father's hotel at St. Michaels about 6 o'clock Thursday night. It is not known whether the death was accidental or premeditated. None of the boy's relatives could give any reason why Charles should have taken his own life.

Wyatt was born in Berlin, Md., his parents removed to this city just after his birth and lived on North Division Street beyond the cemetery. Two years ago the family moved to St. Michaels where the father, Mr. Wyatt, had conducted a hotel. Charles attended the high school here for two years. He was a member of the Ashby M. E. church, where in this city.

The body was brought to this city on Sunday and buried in Parsons cemetery about 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. J. T. Heron performed the ceremony.

Charles is survived by his parents and four sisters. His only brother, Floyd, was fatally stricken with the influenza in this city a few years ago.

A PLEASANT OUTING OF ELECTRIC LIGHT EMPLOYEES

Nearly one hundred employes in the various offices of the Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Company enjoyed a pleasant outing Monday at Cedar Grove, a beautiful resort on the Choptank River, near Cambridge. The employes left the home office in Salisbury, in automobiles, carrying lunch baskets and refreshments of various kinds. The day was delightfully spent in bathing, fishing and other amusements.

MAN FOUND DEAD ON THE BEACH

Charles Crooke, of 270 W. Fayette Street, Baltimore, was found dead on the beach just below Ocean City Wednesday evening. He was seen stretched out on the sand about 1 o'clock in the afternoon and was supposed to have been resting there. When he did not return to his boarding place for supper Joseph Elliott went to see what was the matter, and he found Mr. Crooke dead. Dr. Townsend pronounced his death the result of heart trouble.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT AT RAILROAD CROSSING

Automobile Driven By Clarence Parker Struck By Train At Whaleyville. Occupant Killed.

Mr. Clarence Parker, president of the Turner Bros. Co., in this city, was instantly killed and the Ford sedan which he was driving was completely demolished when the special train bearing the Tall Cedars of this city to Ocean City struck him at a crossing near Whaleyville about 6 o'clock on Thursday afternoon.

An account of the accident as given by the engineer and eye witnesses shows that Mr. Parker was proceeding at a moderate rate of speed toward Whaleyville apparently not expecting a train. The crossing at Whaleyville is hidden by the station and one coming toward the town cannot see whether a train is approaching or not until almost on the track. When Mr. Parker was about ten feet away from the track he saw the special coming about 20 yards away and undoubtedly gave the car more gas attempting to cross the track instead of putting on the brakes. It is said by eye witnesses that should Mr. Parker have kept the car running at the same rate of speed he would have easily passed the tracks before the train passed over them. As it was when Mr. Parker increased the speed, the Ford stalled on the middle of the track. Mr. Parker attempted to jump out and had opened the door of the car to do so when the special hit him. The train was not stopped for nearly a 100 yards and when persons reached the remains of the car and the body of Mr. Parker was dead, presumably from a broken neck. It is said that not a single spoke of the car was left whole and that a toilet basket would have held what formerly was the automobile.

The engineer of the special, upon the emergency brake at once as he saw the car on the tracks but as the train was traveling at a 30 mile an hour speed it was impossible to stop the heavy cars in time. He was completely exasperated from blame. Mr. Parker was 42 years old and was born on a farm near Salisbury. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Parker. He was a member of Ashby M. E. church. His wife and two children, Irene and Marion, survive. Miss Irene Parker was a graduate of the Wisconsin High school last year.

AUTOMOBILE WRECKED BY EXPRESS TRAIN

Three Have Narrow Escape From Death In Crash At Cold Spring Lane Crossing.

Col. Charles T. LeViness, Jr., who resides a portion of each year in Salisbury, had a narrow escape from death last Wednesday when his automobile was struck by a fast express train on the Maryland and Pennsylvania Railroad at the crossing at Cold Spring Lane.

Col. LeViness, accompanied by two gentlemen friends, was motoring to the Baltimore Country Club. According to Col. LeViness they did not hear the engine and were unaware that a train was coming until they were half way across the track. The engine crashed into the rear of the automobile, hurling it to one side of the track.

One of the occupants of the car was thrown from the car, falling between the track and the station platform. He threw himself to one side in time to avoid being ground under the engine's wheels. The other two men were also thrown from the car, which was demolished. All three escaped with slight injuries. Col. LeViness sustained a deep gash on the leg.

Serious Accident At Oyster Shell Point

Rattle Dazzle Collapsed With Number of Persons On It—Several Seriously Injured.

The Cambridge News contains the following account of an accident in which several Wicomico Countians figured:

"On Tuesday afternoon, while a portion of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Hebron, was being held at Oyster Shell Point, and the children were enjoying themselves on a rattle dangle, the machine collapsed with about 70 on it. They were all thrown to the ground and scores of them seriously hurt, while others escaped with slight cuts and bruises.

"The most seriously injured were Miss Bessie Byrn, aged 15 years; Miss Florence Davis and Fannie Wayland, aged 9 years, all of Hebron, Md. These young ladies are now at the Cambridge Maryland Hospital. "It is difficult to say at this time just how seriously these young ladies are injured."

COMMUNITY DANCE FOR SALISBURY

The dance will be the largest of the kind ever given in this city. Friday night September 13th, at the Artway building, the regular and community dances will be given in honor of Mrs. J. B. Byrn, the wife of the late J. B. Byrn, who died last week.

Mrs. Byrn was a native of Salisbury, Md. She was born in this city and was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Hebron. She was a devoted wife and mother and was well known in this city. Her death was a great loss to her family and to the community. The dance will be a purely community affair, with good music and refreshments. For the sake of getting Salisbury where we definitely belong, in respect to the National Grand, everyone in the county is invited, and will be welcomed at this dance.

FEDERAL FUNDS FOR ROAD CONSTRUCTION

Delaware Shares To The Extent Of $160,000 For 1920 Work.

PREPARATIONS MADE TO USE FULL AMOUNT

$40,668 Was Available For Road Construction In 1916, But Was Not All Used On Account Of The Great War. Will Use All This Year.

Approximately $160,000.00 of Federal funds became available on July 1, 1920, for road building in Delaware. Under the Federal Aid act, $40,668.70 was made available for this purpose in Delaware, for 1916, but was not all used on account of the war. $122,006.11 is the regular 1920 allotment.

Under the law the states are required to enter into formal agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture to set aside a sum equal to that advanced by the Federal Government to be used before July 1, 1922.

The hundred million dollars appropriated by Congress for Federal aid to roadbuilding in the states is apportioned among the states in proportion to their population, area and mileage of post roads. Federal sums that are not matched by equal sums from the states before July 1, 1922, are to be reapportioned among the states.

Delmar Locals

Miss Olive Brown of Baltimore is visiting her cousin, Miss Jean Brown.

Miss Jean W. Brown has returned from several days of visiting friends and relatives in Wilmington, Baltimore and Love Point, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon A. Bailey of Linkwood, Md., announce the birth of a daughter, Ruth Anne, on September 2nd.

Several of Delmar's prominent citizens were seen at the Laurel-Seaford Baseball game at Laurel on Friday. Among them were Mr. Grit Hancock and Mr. Bug Ellegood.

A recent news item states that Delaware is the driest state in the east (speaking of precipitation, not rain). This might have been so before earlier time, and might be so again afterwards, but it sure doesn't apply to this part of Delaware now.

Harry Connelly, while driving his Ford from Laurel to Delmar last Saturday night, had a collision with another car, said to have been from Seaford. Mr. Connelly's car was so badly damaged that he had to send into Laurel for someone to bring his party to Delmar. Mr. Connelly is from Chester, Pa., and has been visiting relatives here for several days. W. W. Whyland and family have just returned from a week's motor trip to Wilmington, Philadelphia, Glendolen, and Valley Forge. They spent the time traveling and visiting friends and relatives.

SECOND THEFT OF AUTO FROM LAUREL RESIDENT

A large touring car owned by Charles L. Wright, of Laurel, was stolen Sunday night at Ocean City, and no trace of it has been found, although a friend thought he saw the car go through Laurel Sunday evening, with four young men in it. This car was stolen last winter while Mr. Wright and his family were in Philadelphia, but after several days' search, was located by the Philadelphia police, and returned to Mr. Wright.

The official board of Milton M. E. church has increased the salary of Rev. H. E. Reed from $1,200 to $1,500 per annum.

LOWER DELAWARE NEWS IN BRIEF

Work on the People's National bank, Delaware avenue and Market street, Laurel, has been resumed and masons and bricklayers are erecting the side walls and constructing the massive reinforced concrete vaults.

Hundreds of bushels of apples, poor in quality as the result of the heavy rains of the past month, are rotting on the ground on many farms in this section. Some farmers, however, are utilizing them for making apple cider.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Edward Culver and daughter, Elizabeth Culver, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Hitchens and daughter, Catherine Hitchens, motored to Ocean Grove, N. J., where they will spend ten days.

Glen Cordrey, of Laurel, was severely burned about the face when gas from a storage battery exploded as he was filling it with water. The gas was ignited by a lighted cigarette he was holding in his hand. The burns are not serious.

The Laurel Board of Education has announced the appointment of the following officials for the election to be held Saturday, September 11, to vote on a bond issue of $55,000, for new school: Inspector, William E. Valliant; judges, Curtis E. Davis and Charles B. Wooten; tellers, J. Harold Edie and Leighton C. Fowler.

Claude Hitchens, aged about 18 years, was painfully injured when a cow which he was driving to pasture ran away with him. The chain with which he had been leading the animal became wrapped around his right wrist and almost cut his hand off. He was dragged about 200 yards, receiving numerous bruises.

The marriage has been announced of Miss Beulah H. Carey and Milton T. Owens at the home of the bride's parents, near here, by Rev. F. Allan Parsons, rector of St. Philip's P. E. church of Laurel, Tuesday, August 17. They are making their home in Ocean View, Va., where Mr. Owens is employed.

Mrs. Martha Taylor, wife of Columbus Taylor, of Blades, is in a serious condition and her recovery is doubtful, as a result of blood poisoning which developed from a mosquito bite. A few days ago she was bitten by a (Continued on Page Twelve.)

CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETY ORGANIZED IN DELMAR

Prominent Citizens Interested In The Movement—Eight Thousand Dollars Capital Will Be Raised.

The preliminary meeting of Delmar's Co-operative Society was held at the Elcora Theatre on Friday evening. The meeting was addressed by Mr. C. H. Weaver, a representative of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers, who was sent here by the Co-operative League of America, to help the local organizers of the co-operative store. Officers and directors were elected and committees appointed.

To some of those who were present at the meeting, Mr. Weaver's address was a disappointment. They went there expecting to hear a discussion of economics in general and of the co-operative idea in particular. They were treated, however, to a speech on socialism, something which, fortunately, is seldom heard in this vicinity. Mr. Weaver did, at the end of his speech, explain the working principles of co-operation.

After Mr. Weaver was through talking, a temporary chairman and secretary were selected, and the co-operative society was organized, the following officers being elected: J. F. Thornton, president; S. J. Lewis, vice-president; Mrs. J. M. Cleary, secretary; C. H. Cordrey, treasurer.

The directors elected were as follows: Mrs. J. F. Long, Mrs. Annie Tomlinson, Mrs. Stella Powell, H. M. Waller, C. H. Matthews, A. C. Dunn, J. K. Shinn, E. J. Chapman, and L. W. Lowe.

The following were named as committees: Solicitors (To sell stock) Mrs. Dr. Riggins, Mrs. H. T. Melson, Mrs. Stella Powell, Mrs. H. C. Kirk, Mrs. F. A. Barr, and Mrs. S. J. Lewis. Auditing committee: J. M. Cleary, M. M. Pote, and H. C. Kirk. Educational committee: Mrs. Dr. Riggins, Mrs. H. M. Waller, and Rev. E. H. Jones.

Every member of the society participating in the profits, must have at least two paid-up shares of stock. This is called "working stock." The stock is to sell at $10 per share, and any person may own up to 1000 shares. On all invested, after the first two shares, a legal rate of interest will be paid.

It is proposed to sell goods at the prevailing market price, that is, not to try to undersell any one. At the end of each quarter the net profits will be distributed among the participating members, that is, the members who held two shares or more of stock. This will be distributed to each member in proportion to his purchases during the quarter.

The net profits will include all of the gross profit remaining after the overhead, or operating expenses are deducted, plus a five per cent. educational fund and a five per cent. contingent fund. The purpose of the educational fund is to enable the so-

SCHOOL DAYS ARE HERE

School time is now at hand, and the children have their year of school work before them. They should receive every possible aid and encouragement from their parents and all others, who can help them.

The education and training of the children constitutes the most important part of the foundation work of the next generation; of the future men and women of the nation. Illiteracy and ignorance would be a positive menace to our nation if allowed to grow at all, but, fortunately, there is little chance for that in any part of the country, now. The better our average citizen is educated, the stronger will be our civilization and institutions.

Sometimes there seems to be reason to wonder if every effort is being put forth to properly educate the children. At times it would appear to the interested on-looker as though some parents do not take an active and intelligent interest in this subject. It looks as though some of them leave the question of going to school entirely up to the child, and everyone knows that no boy, who is a regular fellow, likes to go to school. It ought not to be necessary to drive the child to school, though. His interest should be aroused enough so that only thirty per cent, say, of driving should be necessary.

The parents should also, individually and collectively, take an active interest in the details of the schooling. They should try to ascertain if the child is being properly taught, although our teachers are usually very competent. If the teacher and child are not congenial, the parent should try to find out why. The Parent-Teachers Associations are for the purpose of bringing the parents and teachers into closer contact, but it is felt that some of the parents are not generally interested enough.

The school systems in both states are very good now. The new high school, which was put into use late last year in Maryland, together with the old building, which has just been repaired, give them plenty of room with plenty of equipment.

The new school code in Delaware is intended to give the Delaware folks a good school system also. It is undoubtedly a great improvement over the old haphazard, loose-connected system, which was used before. There is little doubt, except with a few old fogies, that the new code will give us one of the best school systems in the country after it gets to working properly. This will probably take another year or so.

A good many children go to each of our schools, who have to take their lunch with them. Now and then strange tales are heard as to what some of them have to eat. Close attention should be paid to the children's diet at all times, and more especially when they are going to school. Their bodies should be properly nourished for mental reasons, as well as physical.

The physical and moral value of our future generation would probably be enhanced if these youngsters could be kept off the streets at night and given something wholesome to do.

DELAWARE CROPS ARE LARGEST IN HISTORY

Rains Have Had Some Effect On Planting of Late Crops.

According to statements by Professor Wesley Webb, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, and Dean C. A. McCue, of Delaware college, the crops in Delaware this year will surpass in quantity any previous crops ever raised in the state.

Professor Webb said it might not be of any advantage to the farmers because of the rule of supply on demand. He pointed out the fact that heavy markets already have resulted in considerable rotting, which drives the income from crops below the cost of production.

Dean McCue spoke of the same matter, but said the increase of supply over demand would have a great tendency to cause farmers to discontinue planting so heavily to eliminate making farming unprofitable. Corn is estimated to be "the best crop in ten years" and "the best prospects for corn that Delaware has ever had." Rain has little effect on it thus far and little has been blown down.

The estimated yield of wheat is 17 bushels per acre against a ten year average of less than 16 bushels. Some are of the opinion even the estimate of the bushels is low.

Recent rains had some effect on preventing farmers from putting in alfalfa and fall wheat but there is still time in which these crops can be put in the ground.

HOG CHOLERA SPREADING IN LOWER SUSSEX

Hog cholera is on the increase throughout lower Delaware and is spreading rapidly. Areas of infection exist in the vicinity of Georgetown, Lewes, Bridgeville and other sections. In Kent county the disease had broken out near Felton, Dover and Smyrna while in New Castle county it is reported around Middletown. The Federal government and the Delaware State Live Stock Sanitary Board are preparing to lend assistance in stamping out the disease.

DEATH FOLLOWED AN OPERATION

Miss Ada Tyson, a well known resident of Seaford, died suddenly at her home, Wednesday, following an operation which was performed on Sunday. Miss Tyson was a native of Kent county, Md., but had resided in Seaford for the past 30 years.

It is thought that the cause of the death was a matter of business which might interest her or its members.

One of the stores in the Veasey Building is being sought, and it is thought that the store will be in operation within a month. At least $8,000 dollars capital is wanted to start.

SUSSEX WOMEN ASKED TO ASSIST HOSPITAL

PROMINENT CITIZEN IN SERIOUS CONDITION

John M. C. Moore, one of the most prominent men in Broad Creek hundred, is in a serious condition at his home in Bethel from dislocated kidneys. He was assisting William J. Bailey in sawing several cords of wood, Tuesday, and they were compelled to move their machine a few feet. Mr. Moore picked up the pole to help, and instantly fell unconscious. His companions thought he was dead for about 20 minutes, after which he began to show signs of life. His son, Garfield Moore, was sent for and took him home in an automobile, the patient suffering intensely during the journey. Mr. Moore is about 70 years of age and his condition is considered critical.

Salisbury Wins In Hard Struggle

Rally In The Seventh Too Much For Laurel Here On Wednesday. Disputes Mar Battle.

Playing an up-hill game until the seventh inning when a rally that produced four runs took place Salisbury defeated Laurel here on Wednesday by the score of 6 to 5.

Duffy toed the slab for the home aggregation until the fifth inning when he forsook the mound after ten hits had been bounced off his offerings. Gordy replaced him and held the visitors safe until the close of the game.

Until the seventh Laurel was leading Salisbury with the comfortable score of 5 to 2 but an avalanche of hits mixed with a walk and an error proved to be the Delaware players' undoing. Numerous disputes interrupted the game.

RATHBURN-WAINWRIGHT WEDDING A SURPRISE

Teacher In Delmar School Marries A Former Delmar Man. Will Continue Teaching.

Miss Helen P. Rathburn, of Newton Center, Mass., and Mr. J. Ross Wainwright, formerly of Delmar, were quietly married in Wilmington on Tuesday, August 31st, at 8:30 p. m. by Rev. George Williams.

Miss Rathburn taught domestic science and home economics at the Delmar (Delaware) school last year. She and Mr. Wainwright became engaged in the spring, and intended to get married next June. On her way to Delmar to resume her work teaching, Miss Rathburn stopped off at Wilmington to visit Mr. Wainwright's sister. While there, she and Mr. Wainwright took a sudden notion to be married, and not put it off any longer. So she became Mrs. Wainwright.

Mrs. Wainwright will teach for awhile, but has not yet decided how long. Mr. Wainwright has gone to Michigan where he will be in charge of the business of the Fruit Growers Express on one division of the Pere Marquette Railroad. After six weeks of preparation at Seaford, he will undoubtedly have charge of some very important work for the F. G. E.

LAUREL WEDDING ON WEDNESDAY EVENING

Laurel, Sept. 4.—Miss Louise M. Culver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Culver of near Seaford, and Everett E. Wiley, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Benjamin Wiley of this town, were married, Wednesday evening at 9:30 o'clock, by Rev. Frank F. Carpenter, pastor of St. John's M. E. church of Seaford. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage. After visiting Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley will be at home in Laurel where the groom is employed.

Clarence Brown and Mrs. Louise Jackson were married at the M. P. Parsonage by the Rev. E. H. Jones on Wednesday, September 1st, at 8 a. m. They afterwards left on a trip to Atlantic City and other points. Both Mr. Brown and Mrs. Jackson have for some time made their homes in Delmar, he being an engineer on the N. Y. & N. and she having kept a millinery store here for several years.

Contributions Of Fancy Work, Canned Fruits And Vegetables Are Requested.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASE HOSPITAL IS NEEDED

Mrs. Robin Has Been Spending The Summer At Work For This Very Worthy Object—Now Seeks Contributions For Bazaar.

Women of Sussex county, knowing that Wilmington needs badly a hospital for contagious diseases, are being asked by Mrs. Albert Robin, who has been spending the summer at Rehoboth, to contribute fancy work, canned fruit and vegetables, etc., to the bazaar that will be given during the week of September 20 on the McKay property in Wilmington. Mrs. Robin is chairman for the bazaar. The hospital is to be located on the McKay property.

Miss Anna Sewick, Red Cross nurse for Sussex, has asked a number of women to give articles themselves and ask ten other women to do the same, they in turn to ask ten others and it is hoped, in this way, many fine articles will be contributed by Sussex to the bazaar.

Mrs. Robin explains, in asking for the interest of the women of Sussex that if Wilmington is kept healthy through a hospital to segregate contagious diseases, it must prove of benefit to the rest of the state for no state can be healthier than its large centers of population where there is bound to be the most disease that is carried from there to other parts of the state.

Besides the fancy articles and canned goods, contributions of good books or collections of books will be gladly accepted if sent in care of the superintendent of the Physicians and Surgeons hospital at Wilmington.

There are to be many fine entertainments during the bazaar and the chairman hopes that many women from Sussex county will be able to attend at some time during the week.

SUPERINTENDENT WAS ASKED TO RESIGN

At a meeting, Monday, of the trustees of Sussex county almshouse, Superintendent John M. Pettijohn, who for the past three years has been in charge of the institution, was asked to tender his resignation, because of some disagreements, and George Melson was chosen in his place. Mr. Melson is a well-known farmer, residing near Georgetown, and formerly was engaged in the mercantile business in that town. Three years ago he was an applicant for the place, but Mr. Pettijohn secured the appointment.

PROGRESS OF ROAD BUILDING IN SUSSEX

It is of interest to most people of this part of Delaware to know how the state is getting along with its program of road building in this part of Sussex county. The new concrete road, being constructed from Georgetown to Laurel, is finished and open for four miles west of the former place. From Bridgeville to Seaford the concrete road is finished, and can be used without any detours. From Seaford to Laurel, the road is closed from Broad Creek to Zion Church. Detour signs direct the traveler how to get around this, however. The road is finished and open from Zion Church to Seaford.

GEORGETOWN-COKESBURY ROAD WORK STARTED

Construction work on the Georgetown-Cokesbury road was started this week by Elder & Co., of Wilmington, who a few weeks ago completed the four-mile stretch on the Georgetown-Laurel road. Work on the contract has been held up for some time because of a lack of materials, but now that materials are coming it is expected to rush the work to completion. Contract for this piece of road was awarded to the contractor about a year ago, but since that time nothing has been done except the grading work. The route at times has been almost impassable for the residents in the western section of the county, who were forced to go to Georgetown on business.

NEWS OF THE PEOPLE OF SOMERSET COUNTY

The members of the County Agricultural association are making plans to hold an all-day Farmers' meeting near Princess Anne the latter part of September. Prominent state and national speakers will be present and a good program is assured. A tractor demonstration will be held in plowing and preparing a seed bed. It is expected that there will be ten of the leading tractors in operation, which will give the merit of the various makes of tractors. There will also be an inspection trip to a nearby pine woods, conducted by a representative of the State Board of Forestry who will explain the proper handling of wood lots. This trip should be of interest to farmers, as timber is one of the county's most valuable products.

J. E. Bowland, of Somerset county, has been named principal of Tri-County High school, at Centerville. He succeeds Mrs. Mary Cooper, who, at her own request, was made first assistant.

A case of more than ordinary interest to the residents of Crisfield community was heard before the Circuit Court in Princess Anne on Thursday last, when Mrs. Hattie Marshall, of Lawsonia, through Col. Harry J. Waters, her attorney, filed a caveat to the sale of real estate of the late William Tyler, which was recently sold by George H. Myers, trustee, at the suit of George Mason. The suit grew out of a claim against the estate in favor of Mr. Mason. The caveat claimed that the price received for the property at the sale was insufficient and far less than the property was worth, and the court upheld the contention and ordered the property re-advertised and re-sold.

Main street, in Crisfield, and connecting links on Somerset avenue and Chesapeake avenue to the state road, will be paved under a plan which has been successfully worked out between the State Roads commission and the Mayor and Council of Crisfield. The street will be built under the supervision of the State Roads commission and will be of concrete, 15 feet wide. Under the agreement with the commission, the state will pay two-thirds of the cost of building the street, and abutting property owners on the two sides of the street will pay the remaining one-third.

A party of 18 members of the Business Men's Fishing club, of Wilmington, who annually spend a week on the waters between Crisfield and Cape Henry on the schooner Bill Nye, Capt. Benjamin F. McCready, have returned. Near the mouth of the Little Annessex river one of the party caught a pilot fish, which is very rare, and the first specimen ever seen by several of the other fishermen here. It was about 14 inches long, with its mouth on its back.

SOME OBSERVATIONS OF THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The Man About Town was discussing with a group of people from lower Sussex county a few days ago, the longevity of people from the two sections. The group was seated on the benches in a shady spot on the court house lawn. After the names of many old citizens of Wicomico and Sussex counties had been recounted, one of the visitors from Sussex remarked:

"One of the most remarkable women in lower Delaware is Mrs. Letitia G. Wiltbank, who will observe her 93rd anniversary Saturday in Georgetown, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David E. Johnson. Until a few weeks ago until she became indisposed, each Sunday when weather conditions were favorable she walked unattended to Wesley Methodist church, a distance of several blocks, and her mind is so clear that she has always been able to memorize the pastor's text. She has been a member of church for about 80 years and takes delight in going to any church to hear preaching. She is able to repeat lengthy poems learned in school 80 years ago, and her recollection of past events is in most instances clear.

"Mrs. Wiltbank is able to say something that possibly no other woman in the state of Delaware can say, that she never ate an egg in her life. She has had but little sickness during her long and active life, and has always had a good appetite, being able to eat almost anything placed before her, except eggs, which she refuses to eat. During her childhood and young womanhood there were but few contacts with the luxuries for the elite and too expensive for the "ordinary" class of people. She never took to the idea of wearing corsets at any time during her life. She attributes her long life to plenty of fresh air, wholesome food, exercise and refraining from exposure and the fashions and frills of these days, such as wearing low neck dresses, corsets, and being thinly clad.

Hundreds of residents of the Eastern Shore of Virginia attended the big Salisbury Fair last week, and, without exception, they report very prosperous times in their sections. The white potato crop, especially, has been a source of great wealth this season. One well known visitor remarked to The Man About Town "Our banks are bulging out with money made from potatoes; our people are buying automobiles as never before, and are enjoying their money. Just look at the crowds today (Thursday) in the grand stand and on the quarter stretch watching the races; there are hundreds also in automobiles, and I tell you that thousands of dollars will be left in Salisbury by our people this week.

"Speaking of money-making crops grown in the two Eastern States of Virginia counties," remarked the visitor, "for the first seven months of 1920, the agricultural products of Northampton county annually marketed are valued according to expert opinion at $8,200,000.00. A county, mark you, of 212 square miles, or 135,680 acres, without a city within its borders, or a town exceeding four thousand souls, producing and selling the world $8,000,000.00 worth of the necessities of life; maintaining no less than ten banks with total deposits, according to the latest published statements of $5,215,000.00 and lands—bald farm lands, not lots—selling as high as $500.00 and better per acre; that's a part of Northampton's roll of achievement.

"These statements showing near five and a quarter millions on deposit only disclosed the status of the banks at the close of business, on June 30th; a few days later, and they would have proved all the more astonishing, in that they would have shown roundly about $6,000,000.00. For example, The Farmers & Merchants, published a statement of $2,112,000.00; this splendid institution carried deposits only a few days later amounting to $3,000,000.00.

"You will observe that I am a resident of Northampton county and a booster of that county wherever I go. But there are several hundred visitors here today from Accomac county who can give you as glowing reports from their county—as of the sales of hundreds of thousands of barrels of white potatoes which were shipped all over the United States, of the great sweet potato crop just beginning to move, which will bring hundreds of thousands of dollars to this favored section. Accomac's banks, too, have millions on deposit.

"We are enjoying the Salisbury Fair this year, as we always do." With these remarks the visitor drove off in his car. Come again, stranger! Salisbury welcomes the good people of the two Virginia counties!

Mrs. Florence Shipley, who died at Seaford, Del., a few days ago, was born in the old Patty Cannon house at Reliance. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Minos Wilson, occupied the house 52 years ago, her father being a merchant. She was born in the Maryland side of the house. This historic structure, which stands on the Maryland-Delaware line, was the headquarters early in the last century of "Patty Cannon's gang," which kidnapped free negroes in Delaware and sold them as slaves in the Far South. A charge of murder was made against Patty when the skeleton of a traveler who had been murdered in the house was unearthed on the farm in Delaware. Patty evaded the Delaware authorities by retiring to the Maryland end of her home, known as "Joe Johnson's Tavern." Joe being her son-in-law, and the active leader of the band of desperadoes ruled by the notorious woman, Thomas Holliday Hicks, a constable of Dorchester, later Governor of Maryland, arrested her and she was locked up in the Georgetown jail, where she committed suicide. Her skull was years afterward secured by the phrenologist Fowler and became an object of curiosity in a New York museum. Patty Cannon and her deeds figure in George Alfred Townsend's novel of the Peninsula, "The Entailed Hat." Thousands of people have during the past few years visited the old Patty Cannon home and have rehearsed to them the stories of this bloodthirsty old woman whose career was so vividly portrayed in Townsend's novel. To this day people are reading "The Entailed Hat."

There is considerable speculation as to the effect of the right of women who have been enfranchised in Maryland and Delaware holding public office and serving as jurors.

That the right to vote brings new duties as well as new privileges the women of Maryland and Delaware will soon learn when they are called upon to serve as jurors. The ratification of the suffrage amendment, however, did not give this right to women of all the states. In Maryland, according to the opinion of State's Attorney Leach additional legislation will be necessary before they can qualify for jury service. The one obstacle that stands in the way in Maryland is the word male in the qualifications of the juror in the Code of Public General Laws.

In Delaware section 4252 of the Revised Code qualifies the women to serve when it provides: "That all persons qualified to vote at the general election shall be liable to serve as jurors."

This provision apparently makes them eligible to serve on all the juries. There is however one way that they could be kept off the grand and petit juries. The law provides that the jury commissioners shall get the names of ten sober and judicious persons who are qualified for jurors from each district and that the names of the jurors shall be selected from these numbers. If the names of no women eligibles were placed in these boxes the women could be deprived of serving on either of those juries.

A peculiar fact was brought to light when the qualifications of the jury commissioners were investigated. This section only provides that the two commissioners, from each county must be of opposite political parties and says nothing of the voting or tax qualifications. This would have given the women the right to act as commissioners before the passing of the suffrage amendment.

Paul A. Lowerree, of this city, who was re-commissioned a lieutenant in the Naval Flying corps last month, has received orders to report to Washington by October 15.

Prior to the entrance of the United States in the late war Lieutenant Lowerree for nearly a year saw active service with the famous Lafayette Escadrille in France and during that time was officially credited with having brought down 17 German and Austrian planes.

On April 25, 1917, he was transferred to the American forces and was detailed as an instructor at Pensacola, Fla., where in September, 1919, he was seriously injured in a fall of over 800 feet.

Lieutenant Lowerree will in all probability be sent to San Diego, Calif., where he will assist in the experimental department of aeronautics, testing new planes, etc.

Black-Draught Is The Best Medicine This Lady Ever Used. Says It Is Only Medicine She Gives Her Children.

Cherry Village, Ark.—In telling of her experiences with Theodor's Black-Draught, Mrs. Lottie Ellis, R. F. D. No. 1, this place, said: "I used Black-Draught as a laxative, also for headache, torpid liver and indigestion. It is the best liver medicine I have ever used and is the only medicine I give my children. 'I feel like it has saved me a lot in doctors' bills, for when the children complain of feeling bad or have a cold, I just give them a good dose of Black-Draught and they soon get all right. It certainly cleans the liver and cleans up the skin, and they are soon out, well again. I wouldn't be without it for anything.'"

Seventy years of successful use has made Theodor's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member of every family, needs, at times, the benefit that Black-Draught gives in helping to cleanse the system and to prevent or relieve the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, and a lazy liver.

To keep well, your stomach, liver and bowels must be in good working order. To help keep them that way, take occasional doses of Theodor's Black-Draught. Thousands of homes are never without it.

On account of the rain, "Big Thursday" at Slaughter Beach had to be postponed two weeks ago, and on Saturday last, which had been selected as "Big Saturday," the annual picnic looked forward to by all the colored people of the section, rain fell in such torrents that the causeway was impassable and the celebration had to be postponed.

Elderberries are plentiful in lower Delaware and within the past few days farmers have been busy gathering them for the purpose of making "light" wine. The juice from the berries, when put through the proper process, is said to make a very palatable drink, which, if made properly, will produce a satisfactory "kick."

The Harrington authorities are so wrought up over the matter that they have sent to Norfolk for bloodhounds to use in trailing the robbers.

Mary Pickford's Greatest Play

"Roberta" M. Sweeney's Form

This comedy-drama of American rural life is dear to every American in whom the spirit of childhood lives. Nearly everyone has read the story. The story is so full of life and interest that it is a pleasure to read it. The story is so full of life and interest that it is a pleasure to read it.

For this reason it will be welcome news that the coming "Chautauques" will present this play in the "Chautauque style." Special concert will be arranged and an excellent banding of all parts is assured. It is known that this play will be given by "The Chautauque Players." Playing leading parts will be your friends of last year, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hogan. Mr. Hogan will be recalled as the "Little" in the play "Polly of the Circus," and his wife as "Mandy" in the same play. The entire cast has been chosen and released by Miss Elizabeth O'Brien, instructor of Public Speaking at Swarthmore College, and herself an old friend of Chautauque audiences who she was playing leading roles in "The Man from Home" and "The Fortune Hunter."

Keep the fifth night—"Roberta" night—in view as you can't afford to miss. The Swarthmore Chautauques have especially pleased to present this comedy-drama. This is the first year it has been available outside the big metropolitan centers, where it has enjoyed immense popularity. Incidentally they are paying the largest royalty for this play that they have ever paid.

TOMATO INDUSTRY HIT BY COMPETITION

Western Growers Can Raise and Market Product More Cheaply, Says Professor Temple.

The tomato packing industry of Maryland, and especially the tomato grower, is facing a serious situation as the result of competition in the Middle and Far West, according to the results of an investigation made by Prof. C. E. Temple, of Maryland University, College Park, who has just returned from a tour of the Eastern Shore.

Western growers can produce and market tomatoes for 25 cents a basket, while Maryland growers cannot afford to sell the vegetable for less than 40 or 50 cents. The reason for this, Professor Temple said, was the greater richness of soil in the west, as compared with the east, and the fact that diseases which afflict the plant in the east have not appeared to any great extent in the west as yet. This results in greatly superior yield per acre. For instance, twice as many tomatoes have been grown on the average acre in California as on a Maryland acre, Professor Temple said.

In 1918, when Maryland produced a record crop of tomatoes, totaling 407,882 tons, the yield per acre was but 4.6; in California, where the total production was 286,578, the total yield per acre was 5.4 tons, and in Indiana, with 196,808 tons, the yield per acre was 3.7 tons.

Compared with figures for 1916, the foregoing is significant. The average yield per acre for that year in California was 9.4; in Colorado, 9.8; in Indiana, 4.9, and in Maryland, 4.2 tons.

While the yield in the Western states has decreased considerably in the three years from 1916 to and including 1919, Maryland's yield has increased a trifle.

The fertilizer cost is the biggest item in growing tomatoes, Professor Temple declared. In the west it has not been found necessary to use any considerable quantity of it. The fertilizer cost in Maryland is from five to 10 cents per basket of tomatoes, he said.

Another factor in the yield is lack of disease in the west when compared with that in the east. The loss in Maryland from disease in 1919 was 37 per cent, in California, in the same year, 13 per cent. In the west, where tomatoes have been grown on a large scale for but a few years, the disease germs have not become imbedded in the soil as they have in the east. The two principal diseases, Professor Temple said, were wilt and leaf blight.

To overcome the wilt, a tomato with greater stamina than the ordinary plant has been produced by the University of Maryland Experimental Station. The tomatoes are called the Stone and the Greater Baltimore.

The more malignant disease of the two seems to be the blight, which can be corrected by spraying, Professor Temple said. Where spraying is done the production is increased 26 per cent, he said.

SIDE LIGHTS ON ELGIN RACE.

Only once in the Elgin road race did the hard luck jinx, that has turned victory into defeat for Ralph De Palma for the many months, threaten the popular Italian driver.

On the 20th lap, after having broken all previous records for one circuit of the eight mile course by seven seconds, De Palma's speeding Ballot left the ground on "Airplane Hill" and swerved off the road.

Spectators expected to see the car, traveling at an 80 mile clip, crash into the fence, but by a splendid exhibition of driving De Palma brought the car back on the road safely with but five seconds loss of time.

Joe Thomas gave a fine exhibition of pluck when he started the Elgin race in the Revere after having wrecked the car in a bad spill on Hairpin Turn a few days before. Despite lacerations and severe shock, Thomas gamely drove the Revere for several laps, but found the effort too great and was relieved by Tom Alley.

Alley pushed the Revere hard and gave a sensational exhibition of driving on the right-angle turn nearest the grandstand, passing De Palma by taking the corner at terrific speed. His skill brought no advantage, for on the back stretch the smiling Italian "stepped on" his speedy Ballot and passed the Revere as if it had been anchored.

Doan's Kidney Pills are prepared especially for weakened kidneys, kidney backache and urinary disorders—have proven their merit in thousands of cases. Doan's are endorsed throughout the civilized world—are recommended by Salisbury residents. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. Ralph Duffy, 517 S. Division St., Salisbury, says: "A few years ago I was in a bad way from kidney complaint. My back ached and pained and when I stooped it felt as if I had been stabbed in the back with a knife. At times, everything became black before my eyes and I could see little fiery spots. One day I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and got some of the Collier Drug Co. I used two or three boxes and was cured. I can say nothing too good for Doan's."

STATE OFFICER HEADS CO. I DRIVE

Captain H. L. Hagan To Have Sole Charge of Enlistment Campaign. Salisbury Behind.

Captain Harry L. Hagan, state recruiting officer for the Maryland National Guard, has arrived in Salisbury to take charge of the recruiting campaign which is to be conducted here in the interest of Company I. He expects to remain in this city until Company I has secured enough men to be mustered into the state guard.

Company I has at present 23 members, William Morgan making the 23rd, when his application was accepted last week.

Captain Hagan has in his possession 300 photographs of the 115th infantry in action. These pictures are to be placed on display in Toulson's window sometime in the near future. He will also give a public demonstration of the Browning light rifle at an early date.

Although Salisbury will be among the tailenders in getting mustered into state service, the new company still has a chance to be the first mustered into federal service, as an intensive drive will soon be started to put Company I over with the necessary quota of recruits.

RALPH DE PALMA WINS ELGIN RACE

Daring Driver Does 79.5 Miles An Hour, And Breaks Two Records.

"Smiling" Ralph De Palma dodged his hard luck jinx for the first time this season and won the 250-mile Elgin road race by hurling his speedy Ballot across the finish in three hours nine minutes and fifty-four seconds—an average of 79.5 miles per hour. Over 70,000 racing fans cheered him to victory.

De Palma made a non-stop run on Goodyear cords, leading Milton over the finish by one minute and seven seconds. Vainly did Jimmy Murphy send his Duesenberg after his flying team-mate Milton, but only managed to get the checkered flag one minute and 47 seconds behind the "Speed King" and 12 seconds ahead of Ralph Mulford's Monroe. Eddie O'Donnell took fifth place. Murphy's and O'Donnell's Goodyear-equipped Duesenbergs also went the entire race without a stop.

By his sensational feat, the popular driver broke all lap and track records, lowering by seven seconds the lap record made by the late Spencer Wishart in 1918 and averaging four miles more an hour than G.H. Anderson in his Stutz in 1915. De Palma broke Wishart's lap record of 6 minutes, 18 seconds, four times, making 6:13 on the 8th lap and 6:11 on the 19th, 29th and 30th. Victory in the race added 500 points to the 105 De Palma had already scored in this season's races and puts the daring Italian in position to become the premier driver of 1920 should he win at Uniontown, Pa., on Labor Day.

The standing of drivers in the Automobile Association of America championship for 1920 is as follows, counting points made at Elgin: Gaston Chevrolet 1015, Tommy Milton 930, Jimmy Murphy 805, Ralph De Palma 606, and Ralph Mulford 350. A win at Uniontown will allow Milton, De Palma or Murphy to become 1920 champion.

The Elgin race was probably the most remarkable road race ever held in any country in the history of automobile racing. Every car that started also finished, not a stop was made by any car for oil, gasoline or tires, and but one forced stop was made in the entire race. On the second lap Gaston Chevrolet's Monroe came to the pits because of a clogged gasoline line, which took so much time to clear that the Indianapolis winner was placed last, outside the jeeps.

The Elgin race has a deeper significance when its bearing on the development of automobile engines is considered. The 181 cubic inch piston displacement engine, with but six cubic inches more displacement than a Ford, not only broke all track and lap records set for the course by motors of 45 cubic inches displacement, but also went through the 250 mile road without a single on-the-adjustment.

MANY RECRUITS FOR THE MARINES

Recruiting for the Marine Corps is rapidly increasing and is expected to reach the highest point for the month before the war 800 men a month was considered a fair average for the smallest of the three branches of the service, and the present indications are that August figures will easily double that number.

The Marine Corps is now recruited to about 60 per cent of its authorized strength of 27,400, and at the present rate of progress will reach the maximum within a few months. While the passing of the pay and bonus bills have had a stimulating effect on enlistments, recruiting officers believe that the educational advantages now offered to Marines are leading large numbers to enlist.

PREPARATIONS MADE TO REGISTER WOMEN

Election Board At Meeting Tuesday Map Out Plans For Coming Registration.

The Board of Election Supervisors met on Wednesday evening of last week to discuss preparations for the large increase in the Wicomico vote, due to the passage of the suffrage amendment. The board will have to appoint the judges and clerks of election and prepare also for the coming registration. F. Leonard Walles, counsel for the Supervisors was present and gave his opinion on the unusual legal questions which will come up this year.

It was the opinion of Mr. Walles, as well as the board's, that it would be necessary to increase the number of registration places in several districts in order to allow the registration of the thousands of women voters within the two days prescribed by law.

The Supervisors adjourned to meet tonight to discuss further the plans for registering this new vote and also appoint the full list of registration judges.

SEPTEMBER TERM COURT CONVENED ON MONDAY

Docket Discloses But Few Cases To Be Tried At This Term.

FEW REMOVED CASES FROM OTHER COUNTIES

Benjamin S. Pusey, a prominent farmer, chosen Foreman Of The Grand Jury. Little Criminal Business Likely To Come Before The Grand Jury.

The September Term of the Circuit Court for Wicomico county convened Monday morning at ten o'clock, with Judges Bailey and Duer presiding.

Call of the docket disclosed the following number of cases: Appearance, 32; Civil Appeals, 18; Criminal Appeals, 5; Trial, 18; Miscellaneous, 2; Criminal Appearance, 3. This is one of the smallest dockets, it is said, for a Jury Term ever known in Wicomico county and indicates that the September Term will be very short.

The Grand Jurors drawn to investigate criminal conditions in the county, is composed of the following gentlemen:

- Benj. S. Pusey, (Foreman)
- Thos. R. Bounds,
- Jos. W. Hastings,
- Jos. B. Leonard,
- Norman E. Smith,
- Elijah L. O. Riley,
- Benj. W. B. Adkins,
- J. Murray Dennis,
- Ernest F. Hearn,
- Samuel T. Cooper,
- Gelston Daugherty,
- Ernest F. Griffith,
- George B. Barker,
- John W. Massey,
- Isaac T. Phillips,
- Edward M. White,
- Wm. F. Messick,
- David J. Ward,
- Thomas J. Rounds,
- John B. Shockley,
- Paul R. Riley,
- James S. Pruitt,
- Olin B. Humphreys.

The jury repaired to its room and began its investigations, but there seems to be very little to do, as the criminal record is far from being so bad in Wicomico as it was in former years. There are but two prisoners in the Wicomico jail at the present time, one a negro man from outside the state, who is accused of attempted rape on a colored girl near Upper Ferry, and a white man charged with larceny. So unless some crimes, yet undiscovered, are found out, there will not be much for the jury to do.

Just before the noon recess three bright young men, having passed the examination before the State Board, were sworn in as members of the Wicomico County Bar, as follows: Rex A. Taylor and Seth P. Taylor, of Wicomico, and John S. Whaley, of Worcester. The Taylor brothers are sons of Mr. J. Taylor, of near Salisbury, and they have formed a partnership for the practice of their profession, with offices in Salisbury. At present Rex is employed in the Internal Revenue office under Collector Miles, and will not be able to locate permanently. (Continued on Page Eight).

MRS. JAMES H. FOOKS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Former Resident Of Wicomico County
Passes Away At Scranton Hospital After Short Illness.

Mr. James H. Fooks, aged 49 years, familiarly known as "Harry," died last Wednesday at the State Hospital, Scranton, Pa., following a brief illness.

Mr. Fooks was a son of Samuel Fooks, of Nutter's District, Wicomico county, and resided in Salisbury for several years. When a young man he moved to Philadelphia where he resided for many years. He was very well known in that city. In November, 1918, he moved to Scranton to take up the position of outside superintendent for Kolb's Bakery, by which firm he had been employed for over 20 years. He is survived by his wife and three daughters, Bernice, Anita and Irene.

Funeral services were held at his late home in Scranton, Saturday. The body was taken to Philadelphia for interment.

FORMER SALISBURIAN
PASSES AWAY IN NORFOLK

A telegram received in Salisbury Tuesday announced the death in Norfolk, Va., of Mr. George H. Leigh, until recently a well-known hotel proprietor in this city. Mr. Leigh had been in failing health for several months, and was unable to stomach food. Mr. Leigh came to Salisbury about ten years ago, and leased the Hotel Central on East Church street, which he conducted very successfully until a few months ago, when he disposed of his interests to Mr. B. J. Hayman and left for his old home in Norfolk. Mr. Leigh was about 50 years of age and was very popular with the travelling public. He is survived by one son, who resides in Norfolk.

PLANNING FOR THE FEMALE REGISTRATION

Prominent Republicans Met Saturday
To Formulate Plans. Will Endeavor To Register Vote.

At the call of the State Central Committee, a number of prominent leaders in the Republican party met Saturday at the Armory to discuss ways and means of having the women voters of the county register in time to vote this fall.

Mrs. Clarkson, of the National Committee, made a short informal talk on the problems of registration; and, to some extent, outlined the methods of organization. The women will decide upon their own organization, but it is said that they will probably have an advisory committee from among the men. It is expected that another meeting will be held in the near future at which most of the prominent women of the county will be present, and at which time the organization will be effected.

At this next meeting, which will also be at the call of the State Central Committee, it is reported that the newly enfranchised voters will be given instructions as to how to cast their ballots. Regular booths, it is said, with instruction booths, will be prepared, so that the women can go through the whole process from registration to the actual voting.

Among the men present were Senator Wm. P. Jackson, E. Dale Adkins, Allen F. Benjamin, A. W. W. Woodcock, Wm. M. Day, James G. Bounds, D. H. Foskey, N. J. Parsons, John Harrington, Roy Wilson, James E. Wilson, and L. P. Coulbourn.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD BIG MASS-MEETING

Senator John Walter Smith Will Be One Of The Star Speakers At Arcade Meeting.

The Democrats of Wicomico have staged a big mass-meeting at the Arcade Theatre on Tuesday evening. The speakers announced are United States Senator John Walter Smith, ex-Congressman J. Harry Covington, and Hon. Alan Goldsborough, nominee for Congress from the First District. This meeting is particularly designed to interest the ladies and ample seats will be reserved for them. Special attention will be paid by the speakers to the importance of the registration of the women and the fact that they will be instructed how to vote at the coming election.

It is the desire of the Democratic State Central Committee, which is arranging the meeting, that the ladies embrace to the fullest extent the opportunity of participating in this political gathering and thus inform themselves upon questions with which they will have to deal in the future.

NEW HEAD CHOSEN FOR THE SANATORIUM

Dr. A. B. Burris Succeeds Dr. G. W. Todd, Resigned. The Institution Will Be Thoroughly Overhauled.

The commission in charge of the Pine Bluff Sanatorium, have named a new head, Dr. A. B. Burris, to succeed Dr. George W. Todd, who has resigned after serving as head for about ten years.

The Sanatorium is situated along a branch of the Wicomico river, about one mile from this city, and was built by Dr. Todd for private use for the treatment of tubercular cases and was operated this way until 1912. Then the State of Maryland, through the help of many leading citizens of Wicomico, headed by Senator Jesse D. Price, took the institution over. A commission was named, with Dr. Martindale as the first President of the institution, of which he remained until his death.

The commission at the present time consists of James E. Ellegood, president; W. M. Cooper, secretary and treasurer; J. D. Price, Dr. J. McFadden Dick, Judge Jos. L. Bailey, Ex-senator L. Atwood Bennett, all of this city, and L. C. Quinn, Crisfield; Oscar Collier, Easton, and Senator John Walter Smith, Snow Hill.

Dr. Burris, the new head, is a very competent man for this position. Although he will still remain in practice he will devote most of his time to his new duties. He is a graduate of Hahnemann, Philadelphia, and also of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Baltimore. Dr. Burris says that the institution will be thoroughly overhauled and put in first-class condition, so that it can be worked to its full capacity of 24 patients.

THE REV. DAVENPORT CONSECRATED BISHOP

Became Head Of The Diocese Of Easton Yesterday. Ceremony In Trinity Cathedral.

The Rev. Dr. George William Davenport, recently elected Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Easton, was consecrated in Trinity Cathedral Easton September 15. Prominent churchmen from all over the diocese were in attendance, besides a number of personal friends of the new bishop from New York and New England. The chief consecrator was the presiding bishop of the church, Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle, of Missouri.

Admission to the cathedral was by ticket only, in order that every parish in the diocese might have representation. The members of Trinity Church and Trinity Cathedral entertained the visiting bishop and the clergy of the diocese while in Easton. Immediately following the consecration a luncheon was served to the bishops, clergy and friends of the new prelate.

Armory Will Be Closed Unless Co. "I" Is Recruited

General Public Seems Not To Realize Seriousness Of Situation. Armory Means Much In Economic Life Of City. Older Business Men Apply For Enlistment. Former Service Men Take Active Part In Drive For Recruits.

Much surprise is manifested in certain circles of the city that the young men of Salisbury who have never had any military training are taking no interest in the recruitment of Company "I" of the National Guard. Without doubt, the organization has much to offer them that they could obtain in no other way, and it is anything but a matter for pride that they should regard with apathy the efforts of the older citizens not only to bring the local company to full strength for Federalization, but to offer themselves as recruits in order to accomplish that end.

Captain Hagan this week has had applications from a number of prominent citizens of the city to allow them to enlist. While the high motive of patriotism behind such an application must make the blood of true blue Americans run hot with pride and appreciation; it must be admitted that the active membership in the company should be composed of the young men of the county who have not the responsibility of providing for dependents. And it is essentially the young men that must be counted on in times of emergency.

Aside from the mere recruiting of the company to mustering strength, the eligible men of this county should bear in mind that the Armory means much to Wicomico; and that without a company of the National Guard here, that Armory will, perhaps, be closed. The State cannot be expected to maintain for the use of the public this splendid community center, intended of course primarily for military purposes, unless that same public renders to the State some returns in the form of organizing and supporting a local company of the National Guard.

This is a serious aspect of the matter which the public probably has not considered. But what would Salisbury be without the Armory? It has been the one building in the city adapted to the entertainment of companies; to the gathering of political committees; to the headquarters for campaigns like the present hospital drive; to the needs of the young people in giving dances, and to the older organizations, in holding banquets. It is the one place in which can be held successfully the great automobile show which has brought Salisbury into the lime-light. No other place is suitable for the holding of the Community Fair.

Where can the great Society of Agriculture Convention, that will bring thousands of people here from all over the state, be held if the Armory should be closed because Wicomico failed in its duty to the State and the Nation in organizing Company "I"? The former service men, men who are already well trained and equipped to serve their country, men who have already done their bit in preserving the national honor, are the ones who are taking the most active interest in the movement for the local company. But they feel, too, that it is the younger men, the untrained men, who should form the active membership of the company.

The older business men, realizing that such an organization is in reality insurance for the city, the State, and the Nation, have thrown themselves energetically into the work of recruiting and are accomplishing results. But the great work of putting Company "I" in its rightful place, the place it has always held at the head of military units in the state, must come from the citizens of the county. The military authorities urge every man, woman, and child of this county to do everything possible to recruit Company "I" to full strength within the next few days. You are requested to do your bit for the sake of Salisbury, Maryland, the Nation.

COMPANY "I" WILL BE FULLY RE-ORGANIZED

ODD FELLOWS TO HOLD
IMPORTANT MEETING

Next Tuesday night at 7.30, Newton Lodge, No. 56, I. O. O. F. will hold an important meeting in its lodge room, at which time the representatives of the other seven lodges of the district will be present to discuss the annual rally, to be held later on in the fall. Captain Hagan, recruiting officer of the National Guard temporarily located here, will give an address on Odd Fellowship, telling its early history, and some curious facts connected with the order, which he discovered in the Odd Fellow headquarters in England. Refreshments are being arranged for by a competent committee. Winter opening hour now prevails, 7.30 p. m. Tuesday night.

Commissioners Catch City Fathers Napping

Load Frame Voting House Of Salisbury District On Barge And Tow It To Place In Fire Zone.

The County Commissioners caught the City Council napping last week when they loaded the voting house in Salisbury district on a barge, towed it down the river, and placed it on the lot at the foot of Main street that has recently been purchased by the county.

The house now stands in the fire zone, a zone in which it is not permitted to erect buildings composed of anything but brick or stone. As it was not necessary to use the city streets in moving the building, the Council was not asked for a permit and did not know of the change of location until the voting house had reached its present resting place.

Since the house was built elsewhere and simply placed in position on the Main street site, the municipal authorities are in a quandary as to whether or not the ordinance has been violated. It is expected, however, that the Commissioners and the Council will be able to reach an amicable agreement as to the removal of the building in the near future; because a frame house in that section will, no doubt, increase the fire hazard.

Brittingham-Stanford Wedding Solemnized

Daughter Of The Late Judge Stanford Becomes The Bride Of Lieut. Francis Brittingham.

A wedding of much interest to Somerset and Wicomico countians was solemnized Thursday night at the bride's home, 221 W. Lanvale St., Baltimore, when Miss Marian Waller Stanford, daughter of Mrs. Henry I. D. Stanford and the late Judge Stanford, became the bride of Lieut. James Francis Brittingham, of the Twelfth Field Artillery, Camp Travis, San Antonio, Tex.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Wm. J. Waller. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William G. Venable, of Mt. Calvary Protestant Episcopal church. The maid of honor was Miss Eleanor Moore Stanford, a cousin of the bride, and Shirley Lawrence Brittingham, a brother of the groom, was the best man. The matrons of honor were Mrs. Harrison Schuyler Roler, of Boston, and Mrs. E. Lawrence Brittingham. The bridesmaids were Misses Martha Waller Stanford, the bride's sister, and Shirley Dashiell, of Cambridge, Md. The ushers were Stewart Fitzgerald, Henry L. B. Stanford, a brother of the bride; John Perry and Thomas S. Winder. The ribbon bearers were Miss Virginia Bowland and Miss Mary E. Wilson.

The bride wore a white satin bridal gown and a lace veil, the veil being a family heirloom which the bride's great-great-aunt wore at her wedding. She carried white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Brittingham left for the north on their honeymoon trip. On their return they will reside in Baltimore.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN OCEAN CITY WOMAN

Was Member Of The Tilghman Family. Identified With The Growth Of Ocean City.

Mrs. Richard T. Shreve, one of the best known women of Ocean City, died at that resort Wednesday night. She was a daughter of General Trench Tilghman, of Talbot county; widow of Thomas Jefferson Shreve and a sister of Col. Oswald Tilghman of Easton, Md. She leaves one son, Oswald Shreve, of Baltimore, and several grandchildren. Funeral services were held at Ocean City Friday and her remains were taken to Baltimore for burial.

Mrs. Shreve built the Plimpton Hotel about 25 years ago and it was conducted by her as Ocean City's most fashionable hotel. Mrs. Shreve had long been identified with the interests of Maryland's seaside resort.

Efforts Being Made To Recruit
Full Company To Be Realized.

23 MEN HAVE SIGNED. GREAT INTEREST SHOWN

Big Community Meeting Will Be Held
Friday Evening In Armory. Chaplain Reynolds Will Make Address. Motion Pictures To Illustrate The Address.

The ambition of those who have set out to reorganize Company "I" seems about to be realized. Indications are that the local company as the Salisbury unit of the Federalized National Guard will be recruited to full strength by the end of the week. So far, 23 men have signed up; the total necessary for Federalization is 60; and from all reports the other 37 recruits needed will be brought in shortly. The twenty-three men who have enrolled are taking great pride in the recruitment of the company which they believe will bring Salisbury to the forefront as one of the best military units in the state.

On Tuesday night last week more than a hundred men met at the Armory and enjoyed an evening of music, fun, and smokes. Six men enlisted during the evening. This meeting was repeated on Tuesday of this week with unusual success.

On Friday a big community meeting will be held. This will be the biggest of its kind ever held in Salisbury, and every citizen of the county is urged to attend. Frederick C. Reynolds, the "fighting chaplain" of the 115th Infantry, the man who looked after the welfare of the lads in the old outfit, will be present. At 7.45 p. m. he will tell the history of the regiment in the World War, showing on the screen pictures of the great struggle. Such a rare treat will undoubtedly pack the Armory to capacity.

Captain Hagan also hopes to be able to have Brig.-General Milton A. Reckord present at the mass meeting. General Reckord is on general staff duty at the national capital, but he will be here if he can possibly arrange it.

After the community meeting Friday night, there will be a genuine community dance. All the old and new dances will have a place on the program. The visitors to the Armory are especially requested to stay for this part of the evening's entertainment.

On Friday afternoon at four o'clock Chaplain Reynolds will be given a reception in the Armory by the clergy of the city. He is particularly eager to meet the mothers and fathers of the boys who served with him in the 115th, and of course the boys themselves.

The entertainment committee wants to make public the fact that there will be absolutely no admission charges for the meeting, the lecture, or the dance; and to request those who have the interests of Salisbury at heart to be present.

MARDELA SCHOOL SEEKS TENTH GRADE

Has The Requisite Number Of Pupils.
State Board Of Education Asked To Approve It.

For several years the patrons of Mardela school have been clamoring for the tenth grade in their school, but the Board of Education could not recommend the addition of this grade because of the lack of sufficient pupils in the eighth and ninth grades to comply with the requirements of the State Board.

This fall, however, the school has an enrollment of 38 in the eighth and ninth grades and can now get the number required for the tenth grade. So the request has been made to the State Board to approve the adding of the additional grade.

Should the State Board approve the request, Supt. Bennett will proceed at once to install the tenth grade. We are glad to note the renewed interest in the Mardela school by the patrons of Mardela and vicinity. There is ample room in the Mardela school building to accommodate the increased attendance.

COL. WOODCOCK ELECTED VICE-STATE COMMANDER

Wicomico Post and the other posts on the Eastern Shore will be hosts to the American Legion at their next annual convention, according to a special dispatch received Tuesday by THE NEWS. The convention will be entertained at Ocean City. Charles F. Macklin, of Baltimore, was elected State Commander by a majority of 14; and Colonel A. W. W. Woodcock, of Salisbury, was elected vice-State Commander by a majority of 30. The race between Macklin and Woodcock grew close as Barrett's backers from Baltimore lost supporters. It is probable that the Baltimore delegation threw all its influence into retaining a Baltimore man for the post.

GREENSBORO SHUT OUT BY SALISBURY TEAM

The Winning Streak Of The Home Team Unbroken. The Score Was Five To Nothing.

"Bush" Wright secured for Salisbury its ninth win in a row on Wednesday and incidentally pitched one of the best games of ball in his life when he smothered the fast Greensboro nine 5 to 0 at Gordy Park. Horsey, formerly of the Blue Ridge league, twirled for Greensboro and managed to scatter the hits of the home team with the exception of the sixth and eighth innings when two and three runs respectively were planked over the rubber.

In the sixth Duffy broke the scoreless tie with a timely bingle to center with runners on second and third, sending them both home easily. In the eighth Hoffman, running for Porter scored from the keystone station on a grass cutter to the right garden manufactured by Johnson. Duffy promptly sacrificed Johnson. The next swat Smith, Davis, also pumped one to the right pasture for a hefty bingle while Johnson burned the paths for home. Usilton then banged the cork-centered contrivance for a double which had the spheroid been one foot higher a homer would have been the result. Hoffman substituting for Davis on the paths brought home the concluding tally of the pastime on the hit. The line-up:

SALISBURY-WHITE HAVEN GAME.

Before a very large crowd, who attended the ball game on Saturday, Salisbury played an exhibition game worthy of a professional team, and came through on the long end of a 1-0 game. From start to finish the game had the spectators' interest aroused. The decision of the game being in a balance, but in every pinch Salisbury tightened and played air-tight ball overcoming every momentary advantage their opponents had gained. In the third inning Salisbury scored its orphan run by Hoffman reaching first by error of third baseman, then Wright sacrificed and Hoffman made second. Then the run was brought in by Porter who binged to the infield but the ball was returned too late to catch the man at the plate.

Ringgold pitched a good game for the opposing team and he seemed to have plenty of stuff on the ball, and had them guessing until the third inning, then Salisbury was able to connect with the ball. Bush had the advantage over Ringgold, but it was a pitchers' battle worth seeing as Bush was more steady in the pinches, but they were matched up very evenly. Hoffman pulled a pretty fly down off the fence in the eighth inning, this with the pitching of Bush and the fielding of Porter at short were among the features of the game.

HAGERSTOWN TEAM COMING.

Next Thursday Salisbury will play Hagerstown, the champions of the Blue Ridge League. Mike Mowery has a powerful combination which has been at the top of the league all season. Mowery himself playing at third is an ex-big leaguer and three of his players have been purchased by three big league teams. Salisbury will give them a stiff battle for their money, even if we don't beat them.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers, rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Fine for cuts, burns, bruises. Should be kept in every house. 30c and 60c.—Advt.

What Is Life Insurance?

Life Insurance Is, In Reality, No More Nor Less Than:

1. A home for the family.
2. An education for the children.
3. A comfortable and carefree old age.
4. A stabilizer of business.
5. A savings fund that can be drawn on in case of emergency.

Picture a community where every family owned its own home and every child got an education—where every old person was financially independent and every business was on a sound and stable basis—and finally where everyone had a nest egg laid aside for emergencies, and you will have an idea of the kind of a community we are trying to make of Wicomico County.

HARDING FOR PRESIDENT.

THE NEWS is for Harding and Coolidge. It advises its readers to vote for them. These are the reasons why it, as an Independent paper, free from party bias, will lend its influence to them rather than to Cox and Roosevelt.

The party platforms are not essentially different except on the issue of the League of Nations. THE NEWS prefers the Republican position on that issue to the Wilsonian idea which the Democratic platform seems to champion. THE NEWS is not in favor of this Nation's standing aloof from its duties and obligations to the other Nations of the world.

As between the candidates themselves, THE NEWS frankly likes Harding better. He inspires confidence. THE NEWS likes his modest attitude—that he will not disdain the counsel of other men, but will seek the best the Nation affords in the conduct of his great office. He speaks and acts as a statesman.

Cox, on the other hand, is the politician type. In the days when the Lusitania was sunk, when German plotters were seeking to destroy the freedom of choice of this Nation, he did not hesitate to bid for the German vote by condoning the acts of their Government.

On one day he seeks and announces that he has the cordial support and approval of the President, and, on the next day, his manager, anxious to attract the anti-Wilson vote, cries that it is not so. He is the candidate of Tammany Hall, Tom Taggart and the brewers.

Instead of discussing the issues of the campaign—the pressing problems of our people—he shouts that the Republicans have raised or are about to raise a fund of $15,000,000.00 with which to buy the votes of those who presumably would vote for him if let alone.

There is a ring of insincerity about his methods and utterances that does not please or carry conviction. He is too able a man to believe seriously that any group of men would or could buy the presidency from the American people. He knows equally well the terrific cost of an absolutely legitimate campaign. The postage on a single letter from him to the voters would cost not less than six hundred thousand dollars.

But perhaps of more vital importance to the people is whether they wish to continue and approve the personal government of Wilson with all its ghastly failures or whether they wish to restore truly representative government with a president acting with the advice of the ablest cabinet that can be found and each of the two branches of Congress functioning as they were intended. On that issue there can be but one answer even for the Democrat who believes in Democracy of Jefferson and Jackson and Cleveland. And the answer is a vote against Cox.

DEPENDS UPON THE WOMEN.

The woman voter is going to play a very important part in the future elections in this country, and for this reason there should be a very general registration of the female voters, especially among the better classes.

We know there will be much hesitancy among hundreds of thousands of our best women to plunging into the political game, but having been enfranchised women must take their rightful stand in trying to purify our political conditions.

The strongest of all arguments advanced in favor of Woman's Suffrage during the years that the battle for suffrage has been in progress, has been the one pertaining to the elevation of the electorate through the purifying influences of the woman voter. The final success of the suffrage fight can be attributed more to the virtue of this argument than to any other cause.

But there can be no elevation of the electorate of the state, if the best women of the state fail to register and participate in the election. The partial participation of the newly enfranchised voters will go far toward lowering the standard of the electorate instead of elevating it, which is the best of all reasons why every woman and particularly our highest type of womanhood, should accept the ballot and use it for the greatest good.

BACK TO THE SCHOOL.

There is something inspiring in the sight of 20,000,000 children turning out as one body to take up the work of the new school year. It is a pretty picture, with the youngsters well scrubbed, rigged up in their new suits and shoes. A lot of them protest about being sent back to work but you couldn't keep them away if you tried.

It is a remarkable thing when you can get 20,000,000 human beings to do the same thing at one time. In most respects people are very individual and have different ideas about conduct and living. America is a "go as you please place." There is little conformity to any one idea of life.

But in the one matter of education it has sunk deep into popular consciousness that the children must have it. Even the most ignorant family wants its children to learn. Where the mass of the people so thoroughly appreciate the value of schooling, all the children ought to have it in liberal measure.

The millions of taxpayers throughout this country do not object to going down into their pockets to furnish the money for the support of the public schools.

This demand is increasing year by year in order to meet the requirements for better school buildings, better furnished school buildings, and more sanitary surroundings.

And the bills which the taxpayers will be asked to foot for educational purposes are likely to increase each year, so as to provide adequate educational facilities for the constantly growing number of school children.

But there must be no let up in the education of our boys and girls, however costly, for the better we educate our children the better will they be prepared to cope with the business and industrial problems of this great nation.

REPUBLICANS SWEEP MAINE.

Maine, at the State election last Tuesday, spoke in thundering tones for the Republican ticket. The majority piled up was between 60,000 and 70,000, the largest in the history of the State. In addition to the overwhelming election of the candidate for Governor, the Republicans elected their candidates for Congress in all the four districts, by large majorities.

The women played an important part in the election, availing themselves of their first opportunity to vote in a state election, and the figures showed that a large majority of them voted the Republican ticket.

Maine has pointed the way and the Republican leaders are jubilant, for they size up the Maine result as an indication of as far-reaching results in the November election for president all over the country.

Senator Harding says the Maine result "assures national Republican victory" in November.

AN URGENT APPEAL TO RAILROAD SHIPPERS

Salisbury Business Men Urged To Make Better Use Of Existing Railroad Equipment.

An urgent appeal to the manufacturers and business men of Salisbury to join in a national movement to make better use of existing railroad equipment as a means of providing improved transportation service was made by the Railroad Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States (today through the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce.

The National Chamber's committee points out that the equivalent of more than half a million cars can be added to the car supply by closer cooperation on the part of all interests concerned with transportation.

"Freight traffic has increased so rapidly in the United States during the past few years that it has completely outgrown the carrying capacity of the railroads," says the Committee. "As a result, it is now necessary for the roads to devise a practical plan for increasing their transportation service. This can only be done by making extensive additions of new facilities and equipment, including freight cars, locomotives, yard and track terminals or by making greater use of existing facilities and equipment.

"The railroads cannot carry out the plan first suggested because under present conditions they are unable to obtain a sufficient amount of new capital; nor would it be possible for them to provide new facilities in time to relieve the present emergency even if the capital were available. They must, therefore, rely on making a maximum use of existing facilities and equipment, with the co-operation of all of the other interests concerned—the shippers of freight, receivers of freight and railroad employees.

"You, as shippers and receivers of freight can take a very important part in this movement. You can add 150,000 freight cars to the available car supply by loading your cars more heavily and loading and unloading them promptly. If the railroads were obliged to buy 50,000 new cars at the present price of about $3,000 per car, it would cost them $1,500,000,000 and would cost the public at least 6 per cent of that amount in the form of increased freight rates.

"The average freight car spends its time as follows: 37 per cent of the time in the hands of the shipper or receiver; 43 per cent moving from the point of loading or unloading to the terminal where it is put into a train or onto a transfer track; 11 per cent in a train moving from one terminal to another; 7 per cent waiting up for repairs. You, as shippers and receivers of freight, can effect a substantial reduction in the 37 per cent.

up for repairs. You, as shippers and receivers of freight, can effect a substantial reduction in the 37 per cent; and the railroads can effect an equally substantial reduction in the 43 per cent.

"You can load and unload your cars promptly if you will. As a rule the railroads allow you 18 hours' free time to load your cars and 48 hours to unload them before making any charge for demurrage. If you will use only one-half of this time, thus releasing your cars in one day instead of two, and in addition will order according to your loading capacity; restrict your car order to today's program, avoid the duplication of car orders, and avoid the use of cars for storage purposes, you should be able to reduce the time that the average freight car spends in your hands from 37 per cent to 22 per cent of its total time, and thus add 360,000 cars to the available car supply.

"The average freight car makes 20 round trips each year. By reducing time needed for each trip 15 per cent you will enable the car to make 23 round trips each year. This is equivalent to adding 15 per cent of 2,400,000 or 360,000 cars to the available car supply.

"The average capacity of the freight cars of the country is 41.6 tons. Some commodities, including coal, steel, ore, sand and gravel, can be loaded 10 per cent beyond the marked capacity of the car. Others, including the bulk commodities of various kinds occupy a great deal of space without adding proportionately to the tonnage carried by the railroads. In loading commodities belonging to either of these classes you should disregard the prescribed minimum carload provisions for your commodity, and, if possible, load your cars to their maximum capacity.

"In 1919 the average load per loaded car of all commodities on all the railroads of the country as a whole was 27.8 tons—only 67 per cent of capacity. The railroads have now undertaken to attain an average of 30 tons per car. If you will co-operate with them and add an average of 2.2 tons to each carload, you will add nearly 8 per cent of 2,400,000 cars, or 175,000 cars to the available car supply.

"The Association of Railway Executives is presenting 95 per cent of the railroad mileage of the country has unanimously adopted a program for speeding up car movement and increasing car efficiency in which they undertake, with the co-operation of the public to increase the country as a whole. An average daily minimum movement of freight cars of not less than 100,000 per day. An average number of bad order cars of a maximum of 4 per cent of total cars. An early and substantial reduction in the number of locomotives now unfit for service. More effective efforts to bring about the return of cars to the owner roads.

"You can help to reduce the present excessive number of bad order cars. The last monthly report submitted by the Association shows 7.4 per cent bad order cars in the United States as against 5.7 per cent at the beginning of federal control, an increase of 50,000 cars unfit for use and actually out of service. It should ordinarily be possible to keep the number of bad order cars below 4 per cent of the total number owned and if that condition could be brought about today, it would result in immediately making effective on the railroads as a whole in the United States more than 2,000 cars that are now out of service because unfit to run.

"You can help the railroads to reduce the number of bad order cars by loading your cars carefully so as to avoid the injuries to the car that frequently result from the shifting of freight in transit."

Eastern Shore Electric Service

ANNOUNCEMENT

Owing to the abnormal increase in operating expenses during the past few months, we are forced to announce that beginning with the September bills, there will be an increase of 15 per cent. in the rates for Electric Service.

We believe that everyone is more or less familiar with the shortage of coal carrying equipment and the difficulty of obtaining fuel, but we doubt if it is generally realized that since April 1st of this year, the price of coal has increased from $3.50 per ton to anywhere from $8.50 to $13.00 per ton. This price represents the cost of coal at the mines, and does not include the freight, war tax and unloading costs. This enormous increase in coal costs will amount to approximately $70,000.00 per year. In addition, the freight rate of $2.50 per ton has recently been advanced 40%, making the new freight rate about $5.00 per ton. This latter increase alone amounts to approximately $20,000.00 per annum. In addition to the difficulty of securing funds with which to pay for fuel at the enormously increased price, there is the severe shortage existing on account of the difficulty of obtaining coal on account of the severe shortage existing. In July, the Company operated at a deficit, the cost of coal amounting to over $13.00 per ton, which is nearly double the cost in March. All the costs have been increasing, but the enormous increase in coal cost, and the advance of 40% in freight rates, now makes it necessary for the Company to secure increased revenue in order to continue its operation.

We regret as much as anyone the present high prices and the necessity to state to our customers that it is our desire to place at their disposal the highest grade of Electric Service at the lowest possible price. The increase in rates for Electric Service has been small in proportion to the increased cost of fuel and other items of expense.

As a public utility, we recognize our obligation to our customers, and we wish to assure you that our rates will be reduced as soon as a reduction can be secured in the present abnormal costs.

HIGH SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

This Space will be used weekly to inform the public of the activities of the Wicomico High School. One or more of the students will be the writers of the articles.

The first week of real activity at school was over Friday, after classes had been held every day including Friday of the previous week and students had succeeded in buckling down to the year's work. An increase of over 50 students has occurred but despite over-crowded conditions Professor Clarke has apportioned the classes evenly in respect to number and with the addition of another teacher to the faculty the students are receiving even better instruction than they enjoyed last year.

Although in past years extra-class activities have not been started until after October 1, this year two important activities have already begun operations and arrangements have been made to complete the organization of the rest within the coming week. The Choral Club under the guidance of Miss Alice Killiam, a member of the faculty met for the first time this year on Wednesday and on Friday the 1920 soccer candidates met and mapped out plans for the approaching season. The Choral club meeting was attended by at least 200 students of which only 60 can become members. Meetings will be held weekly from now on in the Assembly. The Soccer aspirants had their consultation on Friday and captain William Cooper together with Mr. Clarke decided to order all candidates to report at Gordy Park as soon as arrangements can be completed to use the park after the ball season is over. Enough of last year's team have returned to the school to promise a fine eleven for the coming year.

This week the Wicomico Glee club is to be organized and Fulton Brewington is taking the names of all who wish to become members. The high school orchestra which so deservingly won fame last year as a part of the school has already been started and under the leadership of Miss Vaughan Jacobs it rendered four selections to the school last Friday in the Assembly. A new feature of this year's work will be the formation of a "Boys' chorus" of eight voices. It will present numbers at several of the morning exercises. A call for all those who are interested in debating will be issued soon and it is expected to have two societies for debating purposes this year.

A Freshman reception took place on Friday afternoon on the school lawn to the 180 new members of the student body in order that the pupils would have an opportunity to become acquainted with those of their own time in the history of the school that grade. This is believed to be the first such affair has taken place and again shows the progressiveness of the local high school in that it takes enough interest in its new students to care for their pleasure as well as for their minds during high school days. After an hour spent in games and songs ice cream was served each Freshman and a party which must have given much pleasure to the guests as well as the hosts came to an end.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE RESUMES ITS MEETINGS

Summer Recess Over And Various Committees Have Again Buckled Down To Hard Work.

The Chamber of Commerce, after its summer recess, met in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms, Thursday evening, September 16. The meeting was unusually well attended, every chair being filled. President F. P. Adkins presided and called the meeting to order at 8:15 o'clock. The minutes of the last meeting were approved and the Chair called for the reports of committees.

Mr. H. W. Carty, Chairman of the Committee on Publicity, reported that he had sent out 5,000 full page posters all over the State advertising the great Agricultural Convention to be held here November 9, 10, and 11. The extent of the newspaper publicity was also made public, though the Chamber seemed of the opinion that the public had not been made sufficiently acquainted with the magnitude of the coming convention.

Since this convention will bring thousands of visitors to Salisbury from all over the State, the Chamber is anxious that the citizens of Salisbury and the county be brought to a realization of the need for co-operation on their part. Such a gathering as this will be the biggest thing of its kind the city has ever attempted, and the local business men feel that it is Salisbury's great opportunity to come into prominence as a "convention city."

The Transportation Committee, under the direction and guidance of Mr. T. L. Ruark, is waging a good fight to obtain better local express accommodations. The treatment many shippers have received at the hands of the express company has caused a great deal of bitterness and many complaints. The committee is also endeavoring to have unfair freight rates to and from the city adjusted.

Reporting for Mr. I. L. Benjamin, Chairman of the Merchants Committee, Secretary Freeman stated that a big advertising program has been about completed to convince the people of the peninsula that Salisbury is the shopping center of the Eastern Shore. No details of the plan were made public.

An interesting report was rendered by Chairman Oscar L. Morris of the Manufacturers Committee, in regard to the possibilities of a corn husking machine recently invented and at present in use not far from Salisbury. The Chamber, in considering his report, decided that the matter was not one which it should take up officially.

Numerous reports from other committees were heard, all dealing with the program for the Agricultural Convention. Meeting places, rooms for the lecturers, decorations, and entertainment have all been roughly planned; but the finished program will not be made public until later this fall. As soon as the routine business was concluded, Mr. Adkins introduced Captain Harry L. Hagan, State recruiting officer for the National Guard. Captain Hagan outlined the intense need for the recruiting of Company "I" within the next few days and urged every member of the Chamber of Commerce to unite with him in the effort to bring the local organization to full strength. His stirring appeal was warmly received by the Chamber and it was resolved that the members would co-operate with Captain Hagan to their full ability.

September Term Convened Monday

ly in Salisbury until the close of the present year. In the meantime Seth will be in charge of the firm's offices. Mr. Whaley has formed a partnership with Mr. John W. Staton for the practice of law with offices at Snow Hill, where Mr. Staton has practiced for many years. Mr. Whaley is Mr. Staton's nephew.

These three young men recently completed the law course at the University of Maryland. They passed the State Bar Examinations several weeks ago and were admitted to practice in the Maryland Court of Appeals last week, which carries with it the right to practice in any of the Courts of the State.

The convening of the September Term of Court is usually prolific of political talk, and this year is no exception. The large crowds on the Court House green were busy discussing this fall's election, and some names were mentioned for candidates for local offices.

The Grand Jury completed its deliberations Wednesday afternoon and adjourned.

LEADING BUSINESS MAN ENLISTS IN COMPANY I

Pointing the way to the young men of Salisbury, Oscar L. Morris, secretary and treasurer of the William B. Tilghman Company, enlisted Tuesday night in Company "I" of the First Infantry. He was sworn in by Captain Russell immediately after the big smoker at the Armory. His enlistment has caused quite a stir among the thinking people of the city, who cannot understand why the older business men, with their already great responsibilities, should have to shoulder the additional responsibility of forming the active membership of the Guard. If anything more is needed to bring the young men of the county to a full realization of the duty they owe their country and the State, the enlistment of Mr. Morris should be that thing. He has done a great, patriotic act. He has led the way. Without doubt, the young men of the city will follow.

CHARITABLE WORK OF HOSPITAL IS LARGE

Cost Last Month About $500, Which Is Less Than The Average Expenditure of Institution.

The Peninsula General Hospital takes rank among the pioneer institutions of its kind in the State, says Dr. J. McFadden Dick. At the time of its opening, in 1897, there were only two other hospitals in Maryland outside of Baltimore.

Perhaps the public does not realize, the extent of the territory served by the local institution, nor the great service rendered those unable to defray their own expenses. Superintendent Miss Helen V. Wise in making her report to the Board of Directors last Friday, stated that charitable service for the hospital last month cost about $500, which is less than the average expenditure.

Many people, no doubt, believe that when they pay their expenses at the hospital, they cannot be classed as recipients of charity. This is not, however, true in an exact sense. The money paid by the patients goes to pay only the operating expenses; it provides no funds for building or equipment.

The question of cost to the patient is a non-essential. When the hospital is needed, if that need cannot be filled, the ability to pay is of small consequence. It is for this reason that the campaign for a new building is now on. The present building cannot possibly serve adequately the needs of the people.

The several campaign committees report progress. Large street signs and window cards are to decorate the streets in the near future, and envelope inserts will shortly be furnished to the various business houses in the city for use with their mailing lists.

The preliminary plans for the organization of Accomac, Worcester, Sussex, and Somerset counties have been made. At the conference last Friday, Worcester was represented by Mrs. John W. Ennis, Pocomoke City; John W. Staton, Snow Hill; and Calvin Taylor, Berlin. Somerset county was represented by Judge Robert B. Duer, of Princess Anne.

Fatal Shooting Of Child Near Siloam

An Old Gun Found In The Barn Was The Cause Of The Distressing Accident.

Imogene, the little four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac J. White, met with a fatal accident last Monday morning, at the home of her parents near Siloam. She was accidentally shot by little Lawrence Bostic, age nine, whom Mr. and Mrs. White had given a home. The gun had been placed in an obscure corner in the barn, where the little boy accidentally found it while playing. No one witnessed the sad tragedy. The mother upon hearing the report of the gun, rushed to the barn where she had been playing. She died almost instantly, the fatal shot having entered the intestines. The funeral was held Sunday morning in the Siloam M. E. church, the Rev. Van Blunk officiating.

THE SALISBURY ELKS DEFEAT CRISFIELD ELKS

The Salisbury Elks defeated the Crisfield Elks, with the score 21 to 4 in a game of ball, given for the benefit of the Crisfield Elks' new home, Wednesday. There were overthrows in the first inning which permitted the visiting team to score. Three runs of the four of the home team were scored in the first inning. Then Salisbury tightened up and from then on played air-tight ball. Every one hit on the Salisbury team and Crisfield was soon outclassed. After the ball game a new Ford sedan was raffled off and was won by the handy man around the Elks Home, George Burkett (col.) by two chances given him by four Elks. That night the visiting team was given a banquet and came home not only with the laurels of the game, but with a happy man with his Fort. Line up of the Visiting team was: Ellegood, c. The Salisbury-Delmar Road Controversy

Plain Statement From Mr. J. T. Baden, Roads Engineer, To The News.

ADMITS THE ROAD IS IN BAD CONDITION

Roads Commission Refuses To Use State-Aid Money A Second Time On This Road—County Commissioners Again Balked In Attempting Further Improvements On Road.

Regarding the present very bad condition of the Salisbury-Delmar road, which is causing much controversy, Roads Engineer Baden sent to The News this week an article showing the status of this road and the prospects of its improvement. He prefaces his remarks with the following note:

The Wisconsin News, in your issue of the 2nd inst., Delmar Section, carried an article headed "The Delmar Road"—a complaint as to its present condition and a demand that steps be taken for its immediate betterment. In the interest of a better understanding generally as concerns this road I am submitting the attached article for your use and would be glad to have you publish same wholly or in part in The News, not in the nature of a controversy, but more as an explanation. It is admitted that this road is in a most unsatisfactory condition and that its early betterment is much to be desired, but there are factors entering into the situation that greatly complicate matters and make any material betterment of conditions at an early date most improbable.

Very truly yours,
J. T. BADEN,
Roads Engineer.

The Delmar road is more nearly an interstate than a county road, connecting as it does the Delaware system and the Maryland road center at Salisbury, the largest and most important population center of the Delmar-Via peninsula south of Wilmington. Curiously enough, when the Maryland road system was planned, this road was to have been included. But the State's assistance in the project was under the State Aid law; plans and specifications were prepared by the State's highway department and the construction carried out under the supervision of the same; also the construction costs were shared between the State and the county. For macadam purposes, it was deemed to utilize later shell, a mistake now easily seen but which was not so apparent at that time. Since construction and to including the present year the State has been helping maintain this section of road; this year we received $250,000 per mile but recently the maintenance costs on the State roads proper have increased so greatly that there is small chance of any help from this source from now on. Since construction the county has tried to maintain this road but each year it becomes more clear that shell is entirely unsuited to the traffic demands; it is no longer economical to use shells for repairs and it is extremely doubtful if further plowing, shaping, etc., is not money wasted. The simple fact is the road is gone, worn out, and the only remedy is the re-construction of the entire road.

The State Roads Commission is authorized to take over as a part of its system roads constructed under the State Aid law; but also the Commission has the power to decide when a road is in condition to be so taken over and, in order to protect the State's interests, the Commission has ruled that shell macadam can not be taken over by the State for a number of years unless it is "spurred" with stone. In the case of the Delmar road this means re-building. Under the old State Aid law (which has, to all intents, become non-operative since the passage of the new road legislation this year) the Commission refused to use State Aid money a second time on the same piece of roadway; here again the county authorities have been balked in attempting further improvement of this road.

In view of the foregoing it is apparent that help must be sought thru the recently-enacted road law or the work of rebuilding this road is entirely on the county. Now this is a main line traffic road and demands a heavy and enduring type of construction; money expended for any other sort of highway building would be, at the least, unwise. The paving material should be the equivalent of concrete and at present prices would probably cost at least $50,000 per mile or just about the county road levy for the year 1920-1921. Hence, it is perfectly clear that it is out of the question to consider rebuilding now by the county alone. There is one other source to consider—funds from Federal, State, and county as provided by the last session of the legislature; the total amount available is from $120,000 to $125,000 per year. In determining where this money shall be expended the county authorities are expected to make recommendations, etc., but the final authority rests with the State Roads Commission. Considering the importance of this road it is likely that the Commission would approve of the expenditure of such funds here—but this money has already been disposed for the present as the Commission has approved the

AN AGED LADY DIED FROM MOSQUITO BITE

Mrs. Martha Taylor, wife of Columbus Taylor of Blades, died Tuesday, aged 60 years. About three weeks ago Mrs. Taylor was bitten on the leg by a mosquito. Very little attention was paid to the bite, but in a few days the place became swollen and caused much trouble. The wound continued to grow worse until blood poisoning developed and she suffered greatly for several days before she died. Her leg became so big from the bite that it burst before death came.

Thrilling Experience Of Crew Of Barge

Laurel Captain Reports Exciting Time After His Barge Struck A Sunken Yacht In The Ocean.

Captain Charles W. Thompson, master of the barge Stetson, which passed up the Nantuxco River with a cargo for Seaford, reports having a thrilling experience recently when he and his crew had to fight desperately to keep their boat from sinking when it struck a submerged wreck of Montauk Point. When the Stetson, which was loaded with coal, ran on the sunken craft, a large hole was torn thru the bottom of the barge. The doctor was a smart craft with brass trimmings and ample in size for a pleasure boat. Yet no report of any such boat having been wrecked or sunk had been heard.

The crew of the Stetson got the pumps working to prevent the barge sinking. At one time when it seemed as if the boat would surely sink, the deck being nearly awash, and 11 feet of water in the hold. The tug Mrs. which had the coal barges in tow, succeeded in beaching the Stetson in shallow water at Newport News, Va., when the tide was in. The next morning a working company put a force of men on the job with two wrecking pumps. When the boat's hold had been cleared of water, a diver found that a large hole had been punched in the bottom near the stern, through both keel and planks. Captain Thompson had his family on board the barge when she struck the submerged wreck.

LOWER DELAWARE NEWS IN BRIEF

The sweet potato crop promises to be the largest in the history of Sussex. There is a large acreage out and the weather conditions have been almost perfect for sweet potatoes.

The Sussex Gas Company has announced that beginning September 1 they increase the price per 1000 feet for gas from $2.25 to $2.70. The company furnishes Seaford, Blades, Bridgeville and Laurel with gas.

Elmer Joseph, employed in Day's mill, at Seaford, was badly injured, when his hand was caught in the roll of a machine he was operating. All his fingers were severely lacerated and his hand crushed.

William Kirby Rodney, who has served as town clerk under Laurel's last five mayors, is in a critical condition from paralysis. He was found lying on his office floor early yesterday morning by Justice James Tull, whose office is near.

Reports from the bay shores are to the effect that there will be an abundance of wild ducks and marsh hens, and sportsmen are anticipating one of the best seasons for many years. Muskrats are said to be plentiful, also, and trappers are looking for a profitable season.

Mary Louise Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Morgan of Blades, was severely injured when she was thrown from a small wagon in which she was riding. Her arm was broken and she was otherwise shaken up and bruised.

Mrs. Lillie Fleetwood, wife of Wallace Fleetwood, proprietor of a garage at Blades, was severely injured, when she accidentally ran a crochet needle through her hand. While doing some crochet work she got up and started for the door to admit a neighbor and struck a rocking chair, jabbing the large needle clear through her hand.

proposed use of it on the completion of the Powellville-Willards roads and the extension of the Salisbury-Nantuxco road.

"So, as regards the Delmar road, the situation is unfortunate; there is a very important section of interstate highway that is worn out and there are no funds available at the present for rebuilding. Maintenance of the present road is bound to be most unsatisfactory as it is only to be expected that the old shell will become worse with time despite our efforts to keep it in passably good shape. Just now it is difficult to see how any decided improvement can be made while on the other hand it seems likely that the Delmar road will steadily continue to go to pieces unless funds are found sufficient for its re-construction."

PREPARATIONS FOR SWEET POTATO CROP

Several Large Potato Storage Houses Have Been Erected This Year In This Section.

Extensive preparations have been under way all summer by many individuals and groups in this section of the country to handle the large sweet-potato crop this fall. Everyone who was at all concerned in the sweet potato crop of last year made fairly good money out of it. During the past summer several large potato houses have been erected, in which it is proposed to store the potato crop until the market shall be most favorable for a clean up.

A good many of the men, whose business it is to make a careful study of this proposition each year, predict that "sweet" are not going to be worth as much as they have been for the last two or three years. It is recalled that the four main crops of this season have been almost total failures, as far as the financial part of them are concerned. Cucumbers, cantaloupes, watermelons and watermelons have all caused many farmers and growers to have poignant feelings of regret. There are some, though, who say that there ought to be one winner during the year.

It is reported that only twenty-five or thirty cents per basket is being offered in several of our neighboring communities. The farmers around here, however, insist that they should have fifty cents, run of patch, and it is feared that they will be sorely disappointed. They feel that the brokers should aid them in every way possible. If they could get a fair return on their potato crop, it would aid them greatly in discounting the losses on their other crops, and would be a great benefit to this part of the country, generally.

Delmar Women In Hospital Movement

A Chain Of 110 Organized To Help In Bazaar Activities For Hospital In Wilmington.

Through the efforts of Mrs. S. M. Ellis a chain of one hundred and ten ladies has been organized in Delmar to help in the bazaar activities which the ladies auxiliary of the Physicians and Surgeons Hospital, of Wilmington, are having for the benefit of the contagious disease section, during the week of September 20th.

On account of this movement, of which Mrs. Albert Robin, of Wilmington, is at the head, was given in last week's issue of this paper. All the women of Sussex county are being asked to give articles, which will be sold at this bazaar, held in Wilmington. Any contributions, such as fancy articles, canned goods, or good books, will be gladly received.

This is obviously a very worthy cause, and it is hoped that these Delmar women will succeed in making a good showing for the town.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Benson have returned home from a visit to relatives in Wilmington, and Modena, Pa.

CLAYTON TEAM VISIT DELMAR ON TUESDAY

Two Games Played, The Scores Being 1 To 1 For First Game And 9 To 6 For Clayton In The Second.

Delmar had another brief attack of baseball fever last week, which lasted two days. The suffering on the second day, however, was so acute that it is thought the game is dead for the balance of this season.

The Clayton team arrived in town on Tuesday to play two games with the local team. The first game was played that afternoon and the other one the next afternoon.

For the first game, Delmar had a crack infield. Moseley, Joyner, and Tilghman, all of Cape Charles, played first, second and third, respectively, and Lowden played short. Olyphant of Laurel pitched a crack-a-jack game. Hantwer's pitching for Clayton, was clouded for several good hits, and several times local players succeeded in reaching third, but they couldn't get the rest of the circuit. The game ended with the score one to one, and the fans left the grounds feeling that they had seen a fairly good game of ball.

The second game was a different story. The infield was not near so good as the one we had the day before, and Jarvis, who twirled, lacked quite a bit of pitching as good a game as did Olyphant. "Sweet", who had hurt his finger in the first game, played in left field in the second, and pulled a line drive out of the sky. Leave it to "Sweet". Hoffmeister surprised everyone by getting two hits, even if our famous umpire did rob him of one. The final score was 9 to 0 in favor of Clayton. By the end of the seventh inning everyone had become so tired with the umpire's decisions and with the way the game was going, that there was hardly a spectator left when the game was finished.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Green and Mr. and Mrs. Will Holland have returned from a few days' visit to Philadelphia, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Delmar, Delaware, school will hold a meeting at the school house this (Thursday) evening. It is urged that all who are interested be present.

Miss Elizabeth and Ada Elliott have returned from a visit to their uncle at Mount in Philadelphia. They were accompanied home by their cousin Miss Dorothy Green.

Mrs. S. E. Downway returned home Monday, September 6, from the northern cities where she has been to purchase her fall line of Hats, Millinery and Notions.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Green Baker and daughter Elsie Mae, and her friend Miss Edna Ames of Cape Charles, a few visitors recently of Mrs. S. E. Downway.

Rev. Howard Parry, student at the Crozer Theological Seminary, will supply the pulpit of the Missionary Baptist Church for an indefinite period.

W. G. Cooper, former pastor of the Missionary Baptist Church, has lately secured a position with the B. & O. Railroad in Wilmington, and will move his family up there in the near future.

Due to the carnival which was here all of last week, there were probably more people in Delmar during the week than has been seen for some time. On Saturday evening there were undoubtedly more automobiles here than ever before.

The opening of the Hearn's mill cut-off on the Seaford-Bridgeville state highway, adds another fine stretch of concrete road to the state highway system. The new road saves about one-quarter of a mile between the two towns.

Mr. George H. Otwell announces in this issue of THE NEWS his candidacy for representative for the Fifth District of Sussex county in the primaries soon to be held. Mr. Otwell appeals to his Democratic friends for their hearty support in the primaries.

FARMERS ARE PLOWING TOMATO CROP UNDER

Hundreds of acres of tomatoes in Seaford are being plowed under by the growers because of the low prices tomatoes are bringing. The wet weather has had a tendency to rot tomatoes rapidly, and it is no uncommon sight now to see farmers plowing large fields of tomatoes under. The two canneries at Seaford, Greenbaum Bros. and E. C. Ross, are not putting up tomatoes, and Greenbaum Bros. have a separate plant running on tomato pulp.

Unfair Means Of Obtaining Freight Cars By Shippers Discourteased.

WILL DISCHARGE ANY EMPLOYES CONCERNED

Many Shippers Said To Be Implicated In Bribing Employes Of Railroads To Secure More Than Their Allowment Of Freight Cars. Solemn Warning Announced By Railroad Officials.

The management of the Pennsylvania System has undertaken an aggressive campaign to break up the wrongful practice, which has unfortunately been indulged in by some shippers, of paying bribes or giving inducements to railroad employes for the purpose of obtaining more than their prorata allotment of freight cars. In some instances the suggestion has originated with the shipper, while in others the employes themselves have so far disregarded their obligations as to solicit bribes. "Wagon mines" in the bituminous coal regions of Pennsylvania have furnished a majority of the cases hitherto uncovered, but the regrettable practice has also extended in some measure to other lines of production. In all instances where guilt has been proved, the railroad employes implicated have been at once dismissed from the service.

In one of the most recent cases, the Superintendent of a coal company's store in Western Pennsylvania was found to have corrupted the railroad company's car distributor in his district and to have entered into collusion with him to purchase the output of a "wagon mine" at low prices, in consideration of furnishing a full car supply. Upon unquestionable proof of the facts, the car distributor was at once discharged. Similar action has been taken in a number of other cases and redoubled precautions will be taken in the future to wipe out entirely a practice which is grossly unfair to the general shipping public, demoralizing to the employes, and directly in violation of the spirit of the laws forbidding discrimination in the utilization of railroad facilities.

The operating and traffic officers throughout the Pennsylvania System have been thoroughly informed regarding the situation and have been instructed to ask the cooperation of shippers in all parts of the Pennsylvania System territory for the purpose of arousing public sentiment against attempts of any kind to corrupt railroad employes in the performance of their duty, or countenance those willing to be corrupted. The railroad officers have been particularly instructed to call shippers' attention to the fact that obtaining cars by means of bribes does not in any way increase the total car supply but merely works injustice to those who observe the letter and the spirit of the law. Shippers are also urged to report to the railroad company, without delay, any case of employes indicating willingness to accept pay for unfair car distribution. It is anticipated that such action by the management will have the effect of bringing the unfair practice into such public disrepute as to render its continuance impossible.

MAMMOTH APPLE ON EXHIBITION

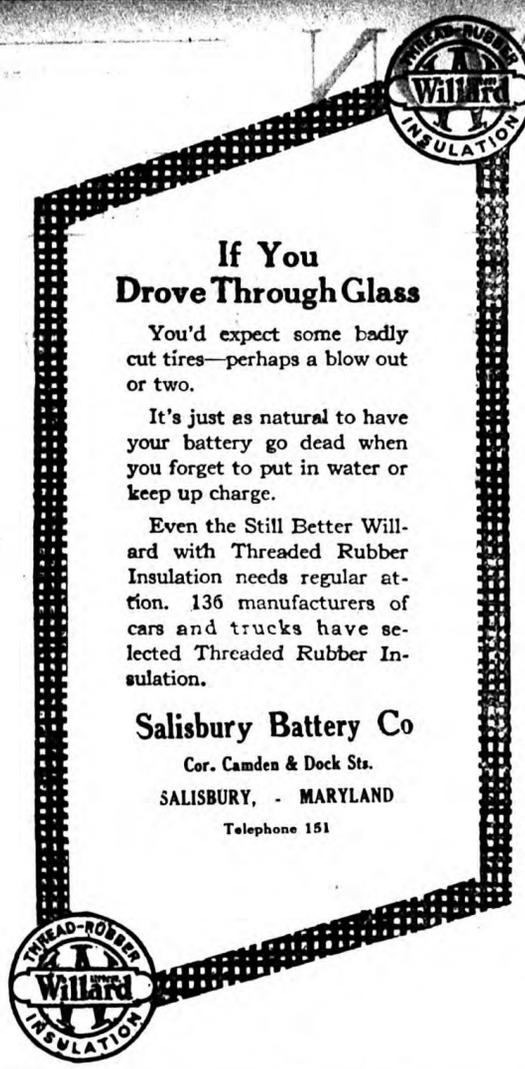

In the front window of Hearn & Company's store on Railroad Avenue may be seen an exceptionally large apple, which was grown by J. G. Ward a farmer living near Delmar. This apple weighs one pound and two ounces, and measures thirteen and one quarter inches in circumference. It is of the "Summer Queen" variety.

Martin Deputy, aged 65 years, died at his home near Milford on Thursday night. Funeral services were held at his late home, Sunday afternoon, in charge of Rev. Charles E. Dryden, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant Church, Milford, of which the deceased was a member and interment was made in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery.

NOTICE TO DEMOCRATS.

At the earnest solicitation of friends I have decided to become a candidate for the Nomination of Representative for the Fifth District. In doing this I want it distinctly understood I am not doing so to antagonize any person or persons nor in opposition to the good people of Delmar. East Little Creek since the hundred was divided never having had a representative feels that we should have. However, if I am nominated and elected I will be the representative of the whole district, Delmar as well as East and West Little Creek. Nor will I be the representative of any set of men or faction. "Everything that is best for Little Creek Hundred" is my platform.

As it is impossible for men to see personally all the Democratic voters before the Primaries, I adopt this method of soliciting your vote. Respectfully,
GEORGE H. OTWELL.

MORE RECOGNITION FOR THE FARMERS

Senator Harding Outlines His Policies To Crowd At Minnesota State Fair.

Speaking to thousands of farmers at the Minnesota State Fair at St. Paul, Thursday, the Republican presidential nominee, outlined an agricultural program designed to keep the nation self-sustaining and to improve the condition of the farmer. In specific terms the candidate set forth his policy as contemplating the following steps:

Larger representation for farmers in governmental affairs, particularly with regard to trade and finance.

Establishment of a system of co-operative associations for marketing farm products.

A scientific study of the world market for farm products with a view to stabilization of prices.

Curtailement of unnecessary price fixing and of "ill-considered efforts arbitrarily to reduce farm product prices."

Administration of the farm loan act so as to decrease tenancy, promote diversified farming and provide long term credits.

Restoration of railway facilities to a state of highest efficiency.

Revision of the tariff to protect American agriculture from unfair competition.

Both reclamation and intensive farming, the nominee said, would have their places in a development of the nation's agricultural resources. He stressed the need for diversified crops and also declared it essential that there be a normal balance between grain and livestock production.

Price control might be necessary and wise in time of national crises, the senator said, but prices in the long run must rest rather on natural law than on arbitrary enactment.

Middle Age at 35 or 60?

Physician Explains Why Lack Of Iron In the Blood Saps the Strength and Vitality and Often Makes Men and Women Look and Feel Old Before Their Time.

By Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author
Signs of old age are plainly to be seen in many men and women who ought still to be enjoying the rugged health and activity of the early prime of life. Yet often the real cause of this decline is nothing more than lack of iron in the blood and it is surprising how quickly these conditions are frequently corrected once the right kind of iron is supplied.
I am constantly coming across cases in my practice where people not yet 40 show much of the nervousness, lack of energy and general run-down condition which might possibly be expected to come twenty years later in life while others at 60 may still be strong in feeling, mentally alert with steady nerves and glowing bodies.
Whether we have health and long life is often a question which each one must determine for himself. Signs of old age are largely due to a deposit of waste matter in the blood vessels and cells of the body. Without plenty of strength-giving iron from the blood is utterly lacking in the power to overcome this slow poisoning process and keep the body strong and healthy. To make up for this deficiency I usually prescribe organic iron like Nuxated Iron which by enriching the blood and creating thousands of new red blood cells helps renew the wasted tissues and build strength and energy to withstand the ravages of time. I know of no more simple means by which a person can find out if the blood needs iron than by making the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength and see how much you have gained. Nuxated Iron will increase the strength, power and endurance of delicate, nervous run-down people in two weeks' time in many instances. You can procure Nuxated Iron from your druggist on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or your money will be returned.

SOME OBSERVATIONS OF THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The superstitions of the colored people of this Peninsula has long been a subject of comment. Many interesting stories have been written about them. Among the latest stories comes from a near-by county:

For the past few weeks the people of Trappe District, Talbot county, have been greatly excited over the dreams of an old colored woman, by the name of Nancy Williams, who resides in the locality of Bruceville, she having dreamed three nights in succession that a pot of money, consisting of gold and silver, had been buried on the farm of Capt. Samuel J. Merrick. The old negress, in telling her story, said that in her dream on her last night it appeared that the spirit said to her that the owner of the farm during the Civil War, when the soldiers were in camp in Talbot county, became alarmed and feared that they would rob him, so he gathered all his gold and silver in the house, together with all his money and, securing a large box, which he covered with sheetiron and putting hinges and a lock on same, dug a deep hole on the division line of his farm, now the property of Capt. Samuel J. Merrick, and the farm now owned by Richard Saulsbury. The box, it was said, was buried near a small poplar tree which stood on the division line and which has now grown to be a very large tree.

This news spread among the people like wild fire and several hunting parties have been known to have gone there with shovels and spades and dug in different places in hopes of finding the hidden treasure, as everybody in and around Bruceville has the utmost confidence and belief that Aunt Nancy had the dreams and that the money is buried somewhere on one or the other of those farms.

James Craft, a farmer living in the neighborhood, in company with David Cohen of Easton, were out buying cattle last week and they drove up to Richard Saulsbury's house to buy his cattle. While in conversation with Mr. Saulsbury the hiding of this box and old Aunt Nancy's dream were brought up. Mr. Saulsbury replied that he had heard about it and of her dreams about where it was buried, but had paid no attention to it until a few nights ago. He said that on several occasions recently he had noticed from his home men walking about at the end of one of his fields near the woods at night, with lanterns in their hands, but paid no attention to it, as he thought that they were out there coon hunting and had the lights with them to see where they were going. But a few nights ago his dogs, which he had tied up to their boxes, kicked up a terrible howl and two of them broke loose from their chains and started across the field in full run, barking as if something was going on out of the ordinary. This was going on 11 and 12 o'clock, and he thought thieves were around after his poultry, so he got out of bed, put on his clothes and went out to investigate. The moon and stars were shining brightly, and he looked all around his barn and chicken house, and saw that nothing was wrong. He then happened to glance in the direction which the dogs had gone and to his surprise, he saw four men with shovels digging in close proximity to a large poplar tree that stood on the dividing line of his farm and Captain Merrick's farm. He started across the field toward them, when one of the men saw him coming and all four swung their shovels and a bag across their backs and ran for the county road and jumped into an automobile and made off. Mr. Saulsbury said he could not recognize them, but was sure they were white men and that one of them walked with crutches.

Messrs. Craft and Cohen said they went out in the field and took a look at the hole the men had dug, and said it was deep enough and large enough around to hide a Ford car in. The affair is creating quite a little excitement and much interest among the people of Trappe and vicinity.

MAN ABOUT TOWN.

BRIEF HAPPENINGS IN DORCHESTER CO.

Mrs. Claude Harding, of Bulah, near Hurlock, was seriously injured in an automobile accident Sunday night. Russell Hallowell and Fred Hubbard, of Federalsburg, in a car, met the car of Claude Harding in which were Mr. and Mrs. Harding and three children. The drivers saw each other and turned out. Harding turned in too quickly, it is said, and caught the Hallowell car near the front wheel. The Harding car turned turtle, imprisoning Mrs. Harding. It was some time before the car was lifted off her body. She was taken home. Her son, Claude Harding, Jr. was badly hurt. The others received no injury.

Liswood Howeth, of Hurlock, was set upon and badly injured, it is alleged, by two foreign laborers at the canning plant of J. B. Andrews & Co. Friday night. Howeth, who is also employed at the plant, had an argument with the two men earlier in the day. They threatened him, it is said, and told him they would get even after dark. Howeth was found unconscious about 6 o'clock and remained in that condition for more than an hour. Dr. G. Roger Meyer, who examined him, found that he had been hit on the head with a blunt instrument of some kind. Sheriff Mobery arrested James Wallace, who is alleged to be one of the assailants. Wallace was given a hearing before Magistrate Hastings and released on bail to appear for another hearing Friday afternoon. The other man, whose name no one seems to know, has not yet been apprehended.

A meeting of the Woman Suffrage League of Dorchester county was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Josiah L. Kerr, county chairman in Cambridge, at which several men belonging to both political parties were present. Former Governor Harrington outlined the steps, which, he said, he thought will be taken to make possible the registration of women throughout the state. There was a general discussion of the steps necessary to interest the great body of women in active participation in public affairs, and it was decided to begin an active campaign looking to that end in which local and visiting speakers, news articles and meetings will be employed.

The descendants of the late Tighman Hackett and Caroline Adams, who were married in 1843, held their family reunion on Shiloh Camp Ground Labor Day. Tighman Hackett, of Federalsburg, was host. Ninety-seven members of the family were present. Each year this family assembles at some convenient place. Last year the reunion was held on the grounds of Hurlock High school. Next year it will again be held at Shiloh, at which time the heirs of the late Mimos Hackett will be host.

The association formed to secure the registration of the women of Dorchester county has elected Miss Margaret E. Matthews secretary; Misses Ruth Phillips and Nannie Shackelford, assistant secretaries, and Mrs. John G. Mills, treasurer. Committees appointed are: On speakers, Mrs. James B. Noble, Mrs. Ivy L. Phillips, and Miss Margaret Small and Bessie Bradshaw; publicity, Mrs. E. A. Jones, Mrs. James C. Leonard, Mrs. Russell P. Smith and Miss Elizabeth Mundy.

Mrs. Eva Quantock, widow of W. D. Quantock and Samuel Barnes were married Friday at the Baptist church Cambridge, by the Rev. James MacLeod. The altar was decorated with flowers. Mrs. James M. Robertson played the wedding music. The bridegroom, who is a veteran of the Civil War, is the stepfather of the bride's late husband.

State Deputy William S. Aumen directed the initiation of candidates for the order of Knights of Columbus at the Cambridge Armory Sunday, where about a hundred were made members of Joan of Arc Council.

George Adams, 60 years old, died at the Marine Hospital, Cambridge, as a result of injuries sustained Saturday evening when he was struck by an automobile. The car, which was driven by Thomas T. Turpin, of Kingston, was running very slowly when Mr. Adams, it is said, stepped in the street directly in front of it. Turpin who is an inspector for the National Cannery Association, took Mr. Adams to the hospital. A widow and three children survive.

PENINSULA SHIPMENTS ON DELAWARE ROAD

Falling Off In Nearly All Kinds of Fruits As Compared With Last Year.

There have been shipped 5,332,879 quarts of berries over the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania Railroad this season, as compared with 4,711,553 quarts last year. Hardly one-tenth as many apples have been shipped within the last few days as were consigned at this time last year. A total of 625,020 baskets have been shipped over the line, as compared with 498,919 last season at this time of the year. On last Wednesday the consignments of peaches reached 1379 baskets as compared with six baskets for the corresponding week last year. Tomato growers have only shipped 6880 baskets this year, while at this time last season the shipments reached 24,443 baskets. Potato shipments this year have reached 278,489 barrels, as compared with 189,081 barrels for the corresponding period last year. The shipment of pears has fallen short thus far, only 4022 baskets passing over the lines for the New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chester and Wilmington markets as compared with 6536 last season. Only 28 car loads of watermelons have been shipped, while at this time last year 225 carloads had been consigned.

A Grateful Letter.

It is in trying conditions like that related below by Mrs. Geo. L. North of Naples, N. Y. that proves the worth of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. "Two years ago last summer" she says, "our little boy had dysentery. At that time we were living in the country eight miles from a doctor. Our son was taken ill suddenly and was about the sickest child I ever saw. He was in terrible pain all the time and passed from one convulsion into another. I sent my husband for the doctor and after he was gone thought of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the cupboard. I gave him some of it and he began to improve at once. By the time the doctor arrived he was out of danger."—Advt.

CARDUI

"I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Troublesome Cellar Leak Repaired

New Automatic Syphon Device Has At Last Been Secured.

THE CHURCH BUILDING ENDANGERED AT TIMES

Had To Be Blocked Up To Prevent Church From Slipping Into The Hole. Trouble Is Now Believed To Be Remedied, After Many Efforts.

A new automatic syphoning device has been secured by the trustees of the M. E. Church to take the water from under the bottom of the church cellar.

Every since the cellar was started last summer, it has been a source of quite a bit of worry and trouble to those who had charge of its installation. While the cellar was being dug a year ago last August, the heavy rains caused the side-walls to cave in, and the church, which had been blocked up on these sides, nearly slipped into the hole several times.

After the concrete work had been completed, it was found that the heavy clay, which surrounds the cellar on bottom and sides, held the surface water until enough pressure was created to cause the floor to buckle. This caused the cellar to leak a little, but not very much.

After several experiments, it was found by pumping the water from a well, which was sunk along the outer wall of the cellar to a depth greater than the bottom of it, that the water pressure under the floor was released, allowing the floor to go back into place. Since then the committee has been trying to devise some plan to get rid of this water without having to keep a man there pumping all the time.

First a well was driven into the bottom of the dug well, the idea being that the water would run down it through the clay bed. It was successful for a short time, but soon stopped up. Then the first well was pulled up, and a larger one put down in its place. The same thing happened, however.

Last week this automatic syphoning device was procured and installed, and has since been doing the work very satisfactorily. It is an ordinary syphon, the power being furnished by the town water pressure. In the syphon is an automatic valve, which is operated by a copper float. When the water raises to a certain height, the buoyancy of the float opens the valve. In about three minutes, the water is lowered about 12 or 15 inches, and the weight of the float closes the valve.

It is expected that this device will correct the trouble so that the cellar can be fixed up. If it does, the church will have a fine place in which to hold oyster suppers, socials and the like.

Lower Delaware

News In Brief

The Keiffer pear season opened on Thursday when brokers commenced to ship them in carload lots. The price started off at 35 cents per five-eighths basket, in comparison with $1 last year's opening. The pears this year are being shipped to far western points and are put in refrigerator cars and iced before starting. The outlook is for a big crop.

What is considered one of the most phenomenal yields of white potatoes in lower Delaware for several years, when the quantity planted is taken into consideration, has resulted through the efforts of Mrs. William E. Hall of Broadkin district. From five potatoes of the Irish Cobbler variety, planted last April, Mrs. Hall a few days since harvested 2 1/2 five-eighths baskets of marketable tubers.

One of the largest land sales ever known in Laurel was consummated last Saturday when the real estate of the late John R. Wilson was sold at public auction by the Sussex Trust Company, trustees of the estate. The estate consisted of 257 acres, 160 of which was well set in pine and oak timber and was situated on the road between Laurel and Georgetown, about five miles from Laurel. Houston-White Company, of Millsboro, were the purchasers and the purchase price was $34,550.

Wednesday night a dance was held on the smooth surface of the duPont Boulevard at a point about three miles below Milford, in honor of Miss Mary Holzmueller, who left the next day for a visit to Columbia, S. C. Several automobiles loaded with young folks, arrived at Lincoln Lake, which bounds the Boulevard on both sides at a certain point, about 9 o'clock. The cars were parked along the side of the road in such a way that their headlights could be played over a considerable stretch of the road. The light thus made, with the aid of the full moon, furnished all the illumination that was needed. A victrola, which had been brought along in one of the cars, completed the arrangements for the full enjoyment of the evening.

Fighting for his life against an unknown creature of the sea, Ira Wilgus of the Indian River Lifesaving Station, managed to escape only by the use of his pocket knife, and believes that it was an octopus that nearly drowned him. Wilgus was wading in the Indian river inlet in search of clams when suddenly something grabbed him with what he described as "a thousand arms," dragging him into the water. Struggling as best he could, he found himself being slowly dragged into the ocean. Remembering his pocket knife, he pulled it out and, slashing right and left, finally escaped from the tentacles which had enveloped him. After staggering to the beach, he lay there for some time before he could make his way to the station, where he declares he is sure that an octopus had him in its grasp.

Family Fight Over Estate Of $225,000

Compromise On Executor. Pending Determination Of Will Contest In The Circuit Court.

An important will contest, involving an estate of more than two hundred thousand dollars, will come up before the Dorchester County circuit court soon.

Under the will of the late John N. Wright, a farmer residing near Seaford, and who owned several farms in Delaware and Maryland, and who recently died at the age of 92 years, his daughter, Miss May Wright, who had kept house for him for many years since the death of his wife, was named executrix. The other children employed T. Allen Goldsborough of Denton, Md., to represent them in contesting the will, alleging that owing to the infirmities of mind and body, Mr. Wright had been unduly influenced in making his will. Mr. Goldsborough associated with him in the State's Attorney E. Stengle M. ne, of Cambridge, and a protest was filed with the Orphans' Court of Dorchester county against the issuing of letters on the estate to Miss Wright, pending a trial of a suit which has been brought to upset the will.

Miss Wright was represented by Fletcher & Jones and Harrington, Harrington & Wallace, of Cambridge, and the case came up before Judge Griffith in the Orphans' Court. During the recess for lunch the attorneys and their clients reached an agreement which was later ratified by the court whereby Attorney Frederick H. Fletcher, of counsel for Miss Wright, and T. Allen Goldsborough of counsel for the contestants, should serve as administrators pending the trial of the will case, which will likely come up at the November term of the Circuit Court.

Chronic Catarrh.

Our manner of living makes us very susceptible to colds and a succession of colds causes chronic catarrh a loathsome disease with which it is estimated that 95 per cent of our adult population are afflicted. If you would avoid colds or having contracted a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is highly recommended as a cure for colds and can be depended upon.—Advt.

THE VOGUE SHOP SERVICE MEANS PROPER CLEANING

The clothing problem means a lot of worry these days. People have less money to spend for clothes and they get less clothes for their money. Three years ago you could buy three suits for what you now pay for one. Yet, Listen! how seldom is it that you actually wear out your old clothes? Do you call a garment worn out when it begins to look shabby because it's faded or soiled? If you could put the original color back into the fabric or take out the soil marks you would have several years more good use of the article. That's just what the VOGUE SHOP is doing. Helping you to fight the H. C. L. by making your old clothes look like new. Proper cleaning of wearing apparel at regular intervals is the most intelligent economy one can practice. Remember our work is cleaning, pressing, and dyeing and we can give you the very best service obtainable in these lines. We have special machinery to take care of your Palm Beach and Cool Cloth suits. Look through your summer wardrobe and call 1124. We will be glad to help and serve you.

Timely Editorial Correspondence

True to its avowed policy of supporting for public office only those men it deems best fitted to serve the interest of the people and state, and ready at all times, even to the sacrifice of material gain, to advocate only those men and measures by whom and in which the moral issues involved are given first consideration in arriving at conclusions, THE NEWS in its last issue, definitely announced its support of the Hon. John Walter Smith, in his candidacy to succeed himself as United States Senator from Maryland.

In taking this course, The News is rightfully fulfilling its duty and obligations to its patrons and subscribers, as an avowed independent newspaper having in view the maintenance and upbuilding of but one political policy—that of securing the greatest amount of good to the greatest number of people.

There are many reasons why THE NEWS as an independent paper should support Senator Smith, yet the moral issue involved had a preponderating influence in its deliberations relative to the position it should assume in this campaign.

No matter what other sections of the state may say, what they may do, or what they imagine to be the best for their people, this portion of the state, comprised in the nine counties of the Eastern Shore, is definitely committed to a policy opposed to the open saloon, and is irrevocably against any legislation, or even agitation that has for its object the bringing of the licensed saloon with its attendant and contributory evils again in our social or business life.

The people of the Eastern Shore know the manifold benefits that were gained in driving the licensed saloon from our midst, and forever freeing our social, moral and economic life from its blighting influence.

Those who have given this matter serious thought, know that nine out of every ten who are advocating the legalizing again of the manufacture and sale of light wine and beer, are really in favor of licensing the saloon as an agency for its sale and distribution. They likewise know this is one step towards arming the opponents of prohibition with a formidable weapon with which to batter down that citadel of strength and sober-living embodied in the salutary legislation which after long and strenuous warfare, has at last culminated in National Prohibition.

We have seen this community under both the wet and dry dispensations, and since the change from the former to the latter, covering a period of at least 15 years, we have never seen the day we wanted to reverse the decision of the people who voted to bring this change about, despite the fact that conditions have not always been ideal, nor all that was hoped for by those who believe that a sober citizenry is to be preferred to one that is debauched.

We are also well aware that there are many good citizens living among us, who sincerely believe that in some of its provisions the so-called Volstead Act is too drastic, and that the people are absolutely opposed to its enforcement. In support of this argument, they call our attention to the vote recorded in the recent democratic primaries for an avowed wet candidate, as against that cast for one avowedly dry. But there were many reasons outside of the wet and dry question which had their bearing and influenced the voters at that time, which is not our purpose to discuss now, as this was a strictly Party affair, and one which, as an independent paper we are not concerned with. However, we will say in passing, that we believe the many were misled and matters misrepesented, and that a proper campaign of enlightenment and education was not conducted at that time.

We can conceive of no one of rational mind, who would argue against our many statutes which regulate our relations towards others in the community in which we live. It would be just as logical for one to argue that the physical law of breathing to sustain life could be suspended without danger to our continued existence, as it is to argue that there is no need for the regulation of our lives, morally and socially, by statutory control.

As to those who want to make cider for vinegar and other light wines for home consumption and entertainment, we would say that under the latest ruling of those to whom has been entrusted the enforcement of the provisions embraced in the Volstead Act, there is nothing to prevent them from doing so, provided they confine themselves strictly to decency and home consumption.

Now we ask where is the great bug-a-boo and objection to this much maligned Volstead Law? It has been clearly shown that all our normal needs have been wisely provided for under its provisions, and where is the man who can not live clean and comfortable under its "drastic provisions." We are addressing ourselves only to normal minded, normal living, clean christian thinking people of all classes, for they are the ones on whom the foundation stone of good and orderly government must always be based.

Let us take our stand in line with those who believe that the making of sane, sober and good men is more to be desired than the making of much money. And in the coming campaign we ask all those who are opposed to the rehabilitation of the licensed saloon in this country of ours, accompanied as it surely will be by its manifold menaces, a menace to our firesides, our homes and habits, a sinister but sagacious worker of iniquity in all its many phases, to come forward and express themselves by pledging themselves to give aid and comfort to the ex-saloon keepers. And when the proper time comes to cast your votes full and freely for one who has promised to maintain the decency of sober American manhood,—the Hon. John Walter Smith.

FORMAL CALL ISSUED FOR SPECIAL SESSION

Governor Sets 8.30 P. M. September 20 As Time For Legislators To Assemble.

Governor Ritchie has issued the formal call for the extra session of the Legislature, which is to meet on Monday, September 20, to provide additional machinery for the coming registration and election, made necessary by the ratification of the Suffrage amendment. The call sets 8.30 p. m. as the hour for convening the session.

After stating the proclamation of the Nineteenth amendment by the Secretary of State, and the consequent fact that women may vote, the Governor's proclamation reads as follows:

Whereas it is manifest that the existing registration and election laws of Maryland do not provide adequate facilities for the registration and voting of the female population of the state, particularly in view of the limited number of registration days fixed by law for the months of September and October, in the year 1920, and of the election to be held in the month of November and for the foregoing reasons an occasion exists which requires a special or extraordinary session of the General Assembly of Maryland.

Now, therefore, I Albert C. Ritchie, Governor of Maryland, by virtue of the authority conferred and duly imposed upon me by the Constitution, do hereby call a special or extraordinary session of the General Assembly of Maryland to consider and act upon measures necessary to afford the female population of the state opportunity to register and vote in all elections held hereafter under the laws of the state, said session to begin at 8.30 o'clock p. m. on the 20th day of September, in the year of our Lord 1920, in the city of Annapolis.

It is understood that President William J. Norris, of the Senate, and Speaker Millard F. Tydings, of the House, will be continued in their offices without the formality of election. There is some question among lawyers as to whether the presiding officers in regular sessions hold over in extra sessions, but no disposition to raise an issue is apparent.

Such of the other officials and clerks of the regular session as will be needed will be employed, it is probable, without contests.

Production at this time means ample prosperity and employment for our labor all the time.

We must increase legitimate business and farm production by every means in our power.

From the standpoint of patriotism alone we solicit inquiries for funds which look to such increase in production.

A Few Facts

Messrs. Tilghman Lime & Supply Co., Fruitland, Md.

Gentlemen:— Regarding the soil testing campaign for acidity, or in other words whether lime was needed or not, I find the following results: Of the 81 samples that this office has tested to date, 77 farms needed lime.

To date, the Maryland Agricultural College has tested 1,100 samples of soil, and found that 74% needed lime, and practically all of the samples showing no acidity came from fields that have been limed during the past two or three years.

I believe that the proper use of lime will correct many of our ills. Very truly yours,

Business Meeting Wednesday Afternoon Followed By Banquet At The Peninsula Hotel.

The Jackson and Gutman Co., of this city, shirt manufacturers, held their first annual "get-together" business meeting Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was held in the factory of the company, followed at night by a Banquet at the Peninsula Hotel. The entire sales force of the Co. which covers the whole of the United States, was present. Those present were Mr. Julius Gutman, Vice-President of the Co.; Mr. A. H. Silverman, Gen. Mgr.; Mr. Herbert Rife, Asst. Gen. Mgr.; Mr. Thos. Howard, plant foreman; Mr. Wilbur Smith, laundry foreman; Mr. J. C. Mellott, office mgr., and Mr. Amos W. W. Woodcock, and Mr. Wm. S. Gordy, Jr.

The sales force for the company are the following: Mr. Sydney Gottlieb, Chicago, Ill.; Mr. W. H. Comb, Denver, Col.; Mr. Martin Weil, San Francisco, Cal.; Mr. F. D. Wilborn, Richmond, Va.; Mr. O. C. Miss Jane Parsons Is Nearing Century Mark Celebrated Her Ninety-Second Anniversary In Salisbury Last Saturday. Remembered by Friends.

It falls to the lot of but few people to attain unto the age of 92 years, but such a distinction fell to the lot of Miss Jane Parsons, a life-long resident of this city, who celebrated the event last Saturday at the home of her niece, Miss Annie Toadvine, on Water street.

During the day the aged woman received hearty congratulations from a host of friends who called at the house and the occasion was brightened by many flowers presented by long-time friends.

Miss Parsons was born on Main street, in a house which formerly stood where the Western Union Telegraph Co. now stands. She has witnessed the growth of Salisbury from a struggling village of a few hundred to the present bustling city of several thousand inhabitants. She has witnessed the destruction of the town by fire twice—in August 1860 and in October 1886—and has watched the work of rejuvenation with ever-increasing pride as the town was rebuilt each time on a larger scale. She frequently refers to the stirring scenes of those times.

Miss Parsons is still possessed of keen mental faculties. She reads, many times without the aid of glasses the Bible and the daily and weekly papers, keeping posted on the current events of the day. She finds great pleasure in sitting at the front window of her room and watching the steady stream of people passing to and from the court house, and recalls the names of many of the prominent people of Salisbury as they pass by.

Miss Parsons often refers to many of her former friends who have passed to the "Great Beyond," and now that she is nearing the century mark, realizes that she must soon pass to that great silent majority.

THE NEWS extends felicitations to the aged lady and hopes she may reach the century mark with eyes undimmed and her mental faculties unimpaired.

Chronic Catarrh.

Our manner of living makes us very susceptible to colds and a succession of colds causes chronic catarrh a loathsome disease with which it is estimated that 95 per cent of our adult population are afflicted. If you would avoid colds or having contracted a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is highly recommended as a cure for colds and can be depended upon.—Advt. *

He Celebrates His Ninetieth Birthday

In The Best Of Health Mr. Edwin J. Townsend Approaches The Century Mark.

Mr. Edwin J. Townsend, the oldest resident of Pocomoke City, celebrated his 90th anniversary on September 13.

Notwithstanding his advanced age he seems to be in perfect health and walks about as nimble as a man of less than 50 summers. He is seen on the streets daily and converses on the issues of the day with as much interest as the youngest men of this generation.

His good wife, who is less than seven months his junior, is also enjoying good health for one of her years. They were married in 1851 and a few weeks ago celebrated their 69th anniversary.

If you take a course at Beacom's, Beacom graduates are sure of employment and sure of advancement. They are making good in all parts of the world.

A considerable number of Salisbury business men and women are graduates of Beacom's Salisbury School. They are also to be found in splendid positions in other cities. One young woman is in New York with a big corporation receiving the highest salary paid their women employees, and they employ thousands of them. Another young woman who received a salary of $9 a week when she finished her course at Beacom's is now getting a salary of $200 a month. A young man graduate is in South America with a big copper company at a handsome salary. Another young man is now a stockholder and official of a large manufacturing company with whom he started at a salary of less than $10 a week, upon completing his course at Beacom's. These are just a few of the many splendid records made by graduates of Beacom's Salisbury School. All of our graduates are now starting at double $9 or $10 a week, but the important factor is that they are so trained that they are capable of and secure rapid advancement.

What we have done for hundreds of others we can do for you. Give us the chance. Send for catalog.

What Is Life Insurance?

Life Insurance Is, In Reality, No More Nor Less Than:

1. A home for the family.
2. An education for the children.
3. A comfortable and carefree old age.
4. A stabilizer of business.
5. A savings fund that can be drawn on in case of emergency.

Picture a community where every family owned its own home and every child got an education—where every old person was financially independent and every business was on a sound and stable basis—and finally where everyone had a nest egg laid aside for emergencies, and you will have an idea of the kind of a community we are trying to make of Wicomico County.

WHY THE NEWS IS SUPPORTING JOHN WALTER SMITH.

There is nothing inconsistent in the attitude of The Wicomico News in supporting heartily the re-election of Hon. John Walter Smith to the United States Senate, and at the same time advocating the election of Senator Harding, the Republican nominee for President, however much an esteemed contemporary of this city may differ with us.

In taking the course we have, we have been guided solely, as an Independent newspaper, by a desire to support the men whom we believe to be the best fitted to serve the people in their several capacities, and we shall not swerve from this course.

We stated in our issue of two weeks ago that we would support the Democratic nominee for Senator—Hon. John Walter Smith—and gave what we believed to be excellent reasons for supporting him in opposition to the Republican nominee, Mr. Weller. Now may we enlarge upon these convictions:

Senator Smith richly deserves a re-election at the hands of the people of Maryland as a reward for his long and valuable services to the State. He began his career in public life half a century ago, and from that up to the present time, his record has been one of honor to himself and distinction and helpfulness to the people of Maryland, without regard to partisanship or faction. Whatever differences of opinion there may be regarding the senior Senator, there can be no difference in regard to the great benefits that have inured to the public generally from what he has done. He was for several years one of the leading members of the State Senate, and while there his vote and voice were always on the side of economy and honesty in public expenditures. As Governor, while some have found fault with him for his rigid adherence to his party and its organization, no one ever questioned the honesty and integrity of his motives in all that he did in both his public and private capacity, and his word was his bond, not only as a citizen and business man, but also as the Chief Executive of the State. Unlike many of his predecessors and some of his successors, he kept his pre-election promises, some times to his own personal and political detriment. And his private life has been without suspicion or stain. He took up and carried successfully thru the movement to provide free books for the public school children. He planned and carried to a success the great Sanatorium at Sabillsville, perhaps his greatest work and his wise direction is still guiding that marvelous institution of charitable work, where hundreds of sufferers have been cured or cared for, who would otherwise have perished from neglect and ignorance. And the list of the other great and beneficial works which he originated and executed for the State should be well known to all, and should be remembered by the voters when they cast their ballots on November second.

With such a record in public life, covering a period of half a century, THE NEWS could not oppose the re-election of Senator Smith and be true to its avowed policy of supporting the best men for public office, irrespective of their political creed. The reasons enumerated above should be sufficient to convince fair-minded men of all parties that THE NEWS is, and will continue to be, an Independent newspaper and will fearlessly support or oppose the various candidates for public office.

LEAGUES OF NATIONS.

The President says that he is for a League of Nations as the Treaty of Versailles describes it. Governor Cox apparently stands with him. Senator Harding and the Republicans are not for that League but for another.

Here is one real difference between the two Leagues. The League of the President and of Cox leaves it doubtful whether the United States would be bound to go to war at the command of the Rulers of their League. The League as conceived by Harding and the Republicans removes the doubt and leaves it entirely to the Congress of the United States to say, just as before, when we shall go to war. The President and Cox say that it is implied in their League that Congress could alone send us into war. Harding and the Republicans say why not make perfectly clear so important a matter.

Another difference between the two Leagues—really the same expressed in other words—is this. The League of the President and of Cox puts it in the hands of the Rulers of their League to determine what the obligations of the United States are. But the League of Harding and of the Republicans leaves it in the hands of the people of the United States, speaking through their Congress, to say what our obligations are.

To illustrate the difference between the two Leagues. The Russians invaded Poland a month ago. Under the League of the President and of Cox, the rulers of their League might have ordered us to send an army to fight the Russians. Under the League, as conceived by Harding and the Republicans, the rulers of such a League could not. They could have laid the facts before us and we, the sovereign people, would have decided what was the right thing for us to do.

The difference is whether a group of diplomats in Geneva shall decide what is right for us to do, or whether we—a hundred millions of us,—a sovereign people, shall decide.

Can there be any doubt which of the two Leagues—that of the President and Cox or that conceived by Harding and the Republicans—is better for America and the World?

SENATOR JOHN WALTER SMITH, OUR NEIGHBOR.

Senator Smith needs no introduction to the people of Wicomico County, because he has for so many years been associated so intimately with our people in a business and social way that we feel he is one of us, and we know that our interests are his interests.

We recall his zeal in aiding the late Governor Jackson and Congressman William H. Jackson and others to get the first appropriation from the Maryland Legislature for our Hospital, and we likewise recall more recent instances of his unflinching friendship in all matters before the State Legislature and Congress of benefit to us. He has lent a willing and sympathetic ear to every call of distress from our people regardless of politics during the war, and he was of help and comfort to many. The fact that Salisbury takes her rightful place among modern cities of her size in having an appropriation from Congress for a public building is due to the work and influence of Senator Smith. In the improvement of our roads and water ways, for instance, as well as in the extrication of our canners from virtual ruin when menaced by the action of the Government during the war in taking a large part of the pack at prices away below cost, he has made our cause his cause. He always goes at the business in hand with force and sincerity.

Senator Smith has acquired a tremendous influence in the Senate, an influence that no one else can hope to acquire in years. We do not want to throw away that advantage by letting him be defeated. For every man from Wicomico County (and indeed from the State) who has a just cause may rest assured in the knowledge that Senator Smith's great influence and energy is at our command and at our service. It is useful and pleasant also to know that without introduction or credentials we can always be certain of a cordial welcome from a man who is accessible to all; and that in our dealings with the Government and the myriad complications that often ensue, too frequently trying and vexatious as they are, that as near as is humanly possible we will get a fair deal and the best sort of help if we ask the good offices of our neighbor, Senator Smith.

THE GREAT WALL OF CHINA.

For hundreds of years the great wall of China effectually shut out the stimulating influences of progressive civilization, leaving the country it confined in a state of smug stagnation. So long as the tides of trade continued to beat upon the great wall, China slept. Once the barrier was broken, however, and the currents of commerce were diverted, China awoke to a new and richer existence socially, politically, and economically. The connection between the great wall of China and Salisbury may seem remote; yet it isn't. The Delmar-Salisbury road today forms a barrier to trade from the north almost as impassable as that stone defence around the Mongolians. This fact is impressed painfully on those unfortunate enough to be compelled to use the road. The running time to Delmar is nearly doubled; the trip is one of continuous, body-wracking bumps; and the damage to a car resulting from each journey can hardly be estimated. In another month or two it will indeed be a difficult task to make the trip between the two largest centers in the county.

The hope for immediate relief seems small. A year ago, foreseeing the needs of the county in this particular, THE NEWS waged a stubborn fight to have a concrete road constructed between Salisbury and Delmar. But the authorities decreed otherwise. The result is that today, Salisbury is losing hundreds of dollars that might be coming into the city. The people of Delmar, of Laurel, and of other points in lower Delaware are buying elsewhere; whereas a good road would have brought them here.

County Roads Engineer Baden, in the last issue of THE NEWS told the people why the road has not been built, and why it cannot be built for some time to come. It is, of course, understood that the local authorities, while realizing the great urgency of action, are helpless. But surely some way can be found out of the difficulty. Let the people determine to act; to solve the problem; to convert the highway between Salisbury and Delmar from a stone wall into a stone road.

THE SPIRIT OF AUTUMN.

Spring is the season of budding hopes and glowing promise, autumn the time of substantial achievement. The farmer and gardner rejoices in generous rewards of his toil. Nature celebrates by her most glowing colors. Mankind enjoys the luscious products which the bounty of the Creator provided.

Some imaginative people seem to feel the melancholy of falling leaves and decay of vegetation. But more hopeful natures think of crackling fires and bins full of fruits and vegetables. Also the return of cool weather brings a tonic into the air. Where you idled away the soft days of April with the languor of spring fever, September spurs you on with her energy and tells you to go out into the world and do something worth while.

China imports half of its automobiles from the United States.

Since 1900 the use of news print in the United States has increased three-fold.

Three-fourths of the foreign-born population of the United States live in the cities.

A Senior in Kentucky University has invented an electrically illuminated walking can. Now it only remains for someone to invent an umbrella equipped with a burglar alarm.

Certain-teed Roofing
Costs Less to Lay
You will appreciate the low cost and convenience of laying Certain-teed Roofing. Skilled labor is not required to lay it properly. You save much of the expense of hiring trained workmen and avoid delays because of a scarcity of such men. But this is only one of the Certain-teed economies. It also costs less to buy and less to maintain than any other type of good roofing. In addition, Certain-teed roofing is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof. It is guaranteed for five, ten or fifteen years, according to weight. Experience proves that it usually outlasts its guarantee by years of satisfactory service. See your dealer about Certain-teed Roofing. If he can't fill your entire order from stock, he can get what you want quickly from a nearby Certain-teed distributor's dealer.

HIGH SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

This Space will be used weekly to inform the public of the activities of the Wicomico High School. One or more of the students will be the writers of the articles.

(Reported for The News).

Friday marked the closing of the second week of school. All minor details were straightened out and the students began work in earnest. Much credit should be given to Professor Clarke and the faculty for the wonderful way in which they started the regular school work so quickly. The unit system is in effect this year as usual, 16 units being the requirement for graduation.

Beginning with Tuesday of this week, every class in the school will organize. On Tuesday the Senior class will meet and elect their class officers and advisor. The 4B Senior class which would have graduated in February has decided to wait until June. They have therefore joined with the class of 1921 to form one compact class which we venture to say will be one of the largest classes that has ever graduated from the Wicomico High school, and with the cooperation of the faculty the class of '21 is going to make a place for itself in the history of its alma mater.

The Choral club held its regular meeting on Wednesday and under the leadership of Miss Killiam continued to make rapid progress.

At the regular Friday morning Assembly the school was visited by Chaplain F. C. Reynolds, a member of the old 115th Regiment. Mr. Reynolds did wonderful work during the war and his address on the opportunities of today were received with much enthusiasm. Captain Hagan and Mr. Arthur E. Williams also gave short addresses.

The dinner hour was cut short last week to allow the pupils to be out in time for the afternoon session of the Chautauqua.

On Saturday afternoon, the biggest game of the season will be staged at Gordy Park when the Eastern Shore All Stars meet the regular Salisbury team. The batteries have not yet been announced, but the game will be fast and furious from the beginning. Both the games are benefits in favor of the Peninsula General Hospital Campaign for $200,000, and it is expected that large crowds will be in attendance both days.

PARIS

Inspires the World's Fashions

We are about to introduce the fashions of the new season, and a gala occasion as it will be, it should be approached with the fact clear in mind, that through it all is the new authoritative note of the original Paris ideas via New York's select artists and interpreters of the styles.

The occasion will clearly, cleverly and completely illustrate the Autumn and Winter styles, for there are many.

It will demonstrate that the ardent seeker for individuality may attain it to a particularly satisfying degree. It will deal with the subject of fashion in its entirety, disclosing the new modes in Suits, Coats, Wraps, Frocks, Millinery, Furs, Blouses, Neckwear, Gloves, Hosiery and the numerous smart ideas numbered among the essentials for this fashionable wardrobe for the season now commencing.

It will be a premier exposition, most carefully planned, picturesque, enchanting and easy-to-understand lesson in the varying lines on which Paris-New York fashions are developed.

As such it will receive the close attention of every one who appreciates the great importance of informing oneself correctly about the incoming styles.

You are cordially invited.

The Big and Busy Store

Four Splendid Business Building Lots

At the Southern Gateway (Corner of E. Camden and Dock Streets) in the busy city of Salisbury, Maryland

At Auction On the FRIDAY, OCT. 8th, at 10.30 a.m. On Easy Premises Terms

Size, Location and Advantages of these Valuable Business Sites

Three of these lots front 18 feet each on Dock Street (the same size of the adjoining lot on which there is a large brick store building) and extend back a depth of nearly 79 feet to an alley in the rear of them.

The lot adjoining the brick building mentioned, will be sold with the privilege of using the "party wall" of this building, a big economical advantage in that it will save one wall in the construction of a building on this vacant lot. The fourth lot is a large one, and a most valuable corner, being at the intersection of East Camden and Dock Streets, it has a frontage of 28 feet on Dock Street with a good width in the rear, but not quite so wide as the front. Being on the corner it has special advantages for large display windows fronting each of these important thoroughfares.

The geographical location of this property makes it decidedly the most valuable unimproved Business Property in Salisbury. There are practically no other prominent vacant business sites in the city. The cramped, crowded and congested condition of the business area of Salisbury has almost reached an acute stage. That business area must expand every one in the busy city knows, where will it go? is the question everybody is asking. The great volume of trade now knocking at the doors of Salisbury must be taken care of. Expansion is necessary to do so, and unless this trade can be properly taken care of it means serious detriment to the growth and prosperity of the city. We wish to put the location of this splendid property squarely up to any business, seeking a new location or engaging in a new enterprise. This property is at the intersection of two of Salisbury's most important streets—Dock and East Camden—It also faces the bridge leading from Camden Avenue to the Business Center of the City. Camden Avenue is the Great Thoroughfare leading into Salisbury from the extensive and prosperous country south of the city and a tremendous amount of highly desirable trade comes in to Salisbury over this highway, a large amount of it from as far down as the rich potato producing counties of Virginia. Being at the Gateway of this—Camden Avenue Bridge (the main Southern entrance to the city) this property commands the First and Last chance at every customer entering town from this direction. The merchant who is so happily situated as to be able to take advantage of these chances, if he is a live wide-awake up-to-date business man, will leave but small chance for any competitor.

Another advantage in the location of this property—it is at the right spot to control the valuable small boat and vessel trade coming up the Wicomico at all seasons of the year, especially in the winter when the country roads are hard to travel. The landing for these small boats is right at the door of this property. It is also opposite the property soon to be occupied by one of the high class auto factories as a distributing point. This means that people of means who are seeking to purchase these high class cars will be brought in close contact with the owners of stores on this property we sell, and trade of this class brought right to the door without effort is a valuable asset. This property also adjoins the big shirt manufacturing plant whose employees must pass by it several times daily. These employees are well paid and good spenders. Attractive stores with goods well displayed can command a profitable business from this source. The proximity of this property to the steamer landing is also an item for both the merchant wholesale or retail and the manufacturer to consider.

These facts we present as our claim that

An Appeal To Railroad Workers For Co-Operation

General Notice To The Employees Of The Pennsylvania Railroad System.

PRESIDENT REA SAYS BETTER SERVICE NEEDED

The Public, He Says, Expects Better Service Than Road Has Been Able To Render The Last Two Or Three Years. Must Restore Old Standards Of Road.

Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad system, has issued a general notice to all the supervisory and working forces of the system, in which he said:

"To All Officers and Employees: The present month, marking as it does the complete restoration of the railroads to their own management, brings us face to face with problems which are without doubt the most important in the history of this railroad system. Our reputation and standing as individuals and as an organization, are staked upon our ability to solve these problems successfully.

"We are entrusted with the task of maintaining and operating efficiently and economically the largest traffic-carrying railroad system in this country, and one which, owing to its situation with respect to our indispensable industries and mines, and our greatest centers of population, is in a peculiar sense vital to the life of the nation. Every man and woman in the service of this railroad has a distinct, individual share of this great responsibility, which cannot by any possibility be honorably evaded or shifted to the shoulders of another.

"The public regulative authorities have awarded our employees a further increase in wages and to the railroad itself, an advance in freight and passenger rates. The public, desiring to have prosperous railroads, capable of rendering the highest class of service, has quite generally approved the rate advances. There can be little doubt, also, that the public feels that the employees of this and all other railroads in the country, have been treated, in the matter of wages, with justice.

"It is perfectly natural, under these conditions, for the public, which pays our wages, to expect a fair return, both in the form of much better transportation service than we have been able to render in the last two or three years, and in a full measure of courteous consideration on the part of every individual officer and employee towards the patrons whom we serve, such as will restore the Pennsylvania Railroad standards, of which we were once so justly proud.

"If all of us honestly strive to achieve the purposes as outlined, we shall perpetuate the old and honorable traditions of our railroad as a leader in service and courtesy, and in so doing I am sure we will derive a lasting satisfaction from our work such as could be gained in no other way."

Fooks was going west on State street when he ran into the pole, and before he could get stopped, was into the hedge. He backed out from the hedge, and started ahead again, but before he could get straightened out, he went back into the hedge.

Landis Wilson, on going into the rear room of Whayland's Drug Store, where he works, on Saturday afternoon, tripped on a piece of glass. The glass cut through his shoe, and cut his foot so badly that Dr. Ellergood had to take three stitches in it. During the operation, it was noticed that Landis has his smile. He found it again, however, immediately afterward.

Walter Calloway was more or less seriously hurt Wednesday in a game of ball, though he was not a participant in the pleasure of it. Some of the school boys were playing ball near the store, where Walter works, and he was struck on the ankle by a pitched ball. A ligament was so badly bruised that he was compelled to be absent from work for several days.

SUSSEX DEMOCRATS PLEASED AT RESULTS

Earnestly Desired Nomination of Andrew J. Lynch As Democratic Candidate For Governor.

Lower Delaware Democrats are jubilant over the selection of Andrew J. Lynch of this city, as nominee for governor by the Democratic State Convention. From all sections of Sussex, his home county, politicians and party voters were anxious to know the results, and they hailed the result with joyous acclaim.

Born on a farm, near Georgetown, on September 30, 1868, Andrew J. Lynch at the age of 16 acquired sufficient education to qualify him to teach in the rural schools of Sussex county. After serving in this capacity for a few years he became principal of the Newark (Del.) public schools and later prepared for college at the Wilmington Conference Academy, now known as Wesley College Institute, Dover, from which he entered Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., later completing his studies at the Dickinson Law School in 1893. Since that time he has been practicing law in Georgetown, being one of Lower Delaware's most successful lawyers.

On two occasions he was his county's choice for the Congressional nomination, but each time was defeated for it. Four years ago he was in the race for United States Senator and during the balloting in the convention tied the vote with Hon. Joshua O. Wolcott, who on later balloting was nominated and subsequently elected.

Mr. Lynch has taken an active part in politics since a young man, and on two or three occasions has served his party as county chairman, which position he now holds. He is part owner of Sussex Journal of Georgetown, and at the present time is editor-in-chief. During the war he took an active part in all of the loan drives and assisted the questionnaire board for the county. He is a prominent member of Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church, Georgetown.

Display Of Gifts For Hospital Bazaar

Delmar Women Contribute Fancy Work Valued at More Than One Hundred Dollars.

The chain of 110 women, organized to help in the bazaar activities, which the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Physicians and Surgeons Hospital, of Wilmington, are having for the benefit of the contagious disease section during this week, secured an unexpected amount of fine donations. Mrs. S. M. Ellis was at the head of this movement here, and the gifts were displayed at her home Friday. They consisted mostly of fine needle-work, and it was estimated that the total value would exceed $100. All the articles were packed up Saturday, and sent to Wilmington, where they will be placed on sale at the bazaar.

THE DELAWARE SCHOOL CODE AND POLITICS.

The Delaware School Code has, since its inception in 1919, been the cause of much heated argument and hard feeling towards those who are responsible for it. The Code was passed at the last session of the legislature, its purpose being to standardize and generally improve the educational system of the State. Good results have already appeared in many places, but there is still much bitterness against it.

The old school system of the State was so loose jointed, especially in the relation of the different schools to each other, as to be practically no system at all. Each school-district had a school-board of its own, and the board had almost entire control of the school. The different schools were coordinated to a certain extent by a county superintendent.

Under the present code, all the schools of the State are organized into a system, at the head of which is the State Board of Education. Subordinate to this, and in direct control of all the schools of that county is the County Board of Education. The working representative of this board is the county superintendent, whose duty is to see that the teachers are capable, that the equipment is sufficient, and that the standard course of study is adhered to by each school.

Every boy or girl in the State, no matter what race or how far from a school he or she may live, is entitled to an education, including a four year high-school course. If the child be in the sixth grade, or lower, and lives over two miles from a school, the Board is directed to see that it gets to the school, even if its transportation has to be paid. If it is in a grade above the sixth, the distance limit is three miles instead of two. Each child sixteen years old, or under, unless it shall have finished the work of the eighth grade, is compelled to attend school at least one hundred days of the year. If it does not do so, the parent or guardian is subject to fine.

From this it should be obvious to all that the standard of education for the average citizen of the State should be considerably raised. And it needs to be raised to the highest practicable plane. Education of all the citizens is the foundation of a government such as ours. The greater the number of our individual minds, who can be trained to think for themselves, the better and cleaner will be our government.

Those living in the rural sections have been the chief complainants against the School Code. One of their reasons for being so bitter against it is financial. The Code allows of no discrimination between rural and town tax rates. As a result, the farmer's school taxes have been considerably increased. Many of them think this would be bearable, if their schools were any better. This appears to be a reasonable criticism, and it is true that a great many of the schools have not been materially improved.

The most genuine defect, therefore, which can be found in the Code, is one of administration rather than of basic principle. The Code may need to be amended in several places, but the principle of it is right. Any movement to return to the old system of public-school administration should meet with a prompt and decisive defeat. Our government would be much better if politicians would cease to work upon the petty prejudices of the people, and try to instruct them in the main principles, for which they stand, instead.

HARD CIDER TRAFFIC.

Some recent happenings bring more forcibly to our attention the hard-cider traffic which a few farmers carry on during the summer. The only good which comes of this business, goes to those who run it, and it is the cause of quite a little harm. It is against the law, and should be stopped.

WORK PROGRESSING ON MAMMOTH SHELL PLANT

New Plant To Be One Of The Largest Industries On The Eastern Shore.

Work on the new plant of the Potomac Poultry Food Company in Crisfield is going ahead rapidly by the Spencer Construction Co., of Baltimore, which secured the contract to erect the plant.

The building will be 125 by 144 feet in size, one story, with a lean-to 20 by 30 feet, and a concrete silo 50 feet high. Also a crane run-way 350 feet in length, a modern office building and reinforced concrete loading platforms covered by umbrella sheds.

The waterfront section of the property is undergoing transformation, the improvement including considerable dredging in order to deepen the water at the docks of the company. A wooden bulkhead for a slip 35 feet wide and 115 feet long, covering three sides of the property, is being built.

The new plant will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000. The plant will manufacture chick feed and agricultural lime from oyster shells, and the capacity will be so large that it is estimated that it will require 3,000,000 bushels of shells annually.

Delaware Women Urged To Register

Largely Attended Meeting Held Wednesday Evening. Committees Appointed To Canvass Town.

A meeting of the women of Delmar, Delaware, and vicinity, was held at the School-house on Wednesday evening for the purpose of urging the women to vote. The meeting was addressed by several prominent women. A committee was named, and each of them given a section of the town to solicit.

The soliciting was done during the next two days, an effort being made to reach every woman in the town, and requesting her to register on Saturday. The results were evidenced Saturday by the continual stream of women, going to the registering place. There were 155 women registered during the day. The next registration day in Maryland will be Tuesday, Sept. 28th, and it is hoped that the Maryland women will at least duplicate the enthusiasm shown by their sisters of Delaware.

AMERICAN STORES OCCUPY NEW HOME

The American Stores Company have occupied the store recently vacated by Hearn and Company. The store has been refitted according to their standards, and the new stock of goods is in place. They will open for business on Friday.

Concrete Gutter Will Probably Be Constructed

KITCHEN SHOWER FOR M. E. CHURCH

A kitchen shower will be given the Ladies Aid of the M. E. church in the basement of the church on Friday evening, September 24th. The purpose of the shower is to get enough kitchen utensils and table furnishings to furnish the basement. Everyone is invited to come, and bring something.

Lower Delaware News In Brief

Canneries at Rehoboth Beach were so glutted with tomatoes Wednesday that they would make no offers, and many farmers were compelled to turn back to their farms.

Jumping from an automobile to recover his hat, George Smith, a Georgetown salesman, was injured as he was thrown on the duPont Boulevard.

The season for canning tomatoes has practically come to a close and was not a very successful one, from either the canners' or the farmers' point of view.

Thieves entered the oyster packing house of J. B. Robinson & Co., Seaford and stole a barrel of vinegar. It is thought the thieves were fooled in this robbery, thinking they were getting a barrel of wine instead of vinegar.

The directors of the Milton branch of the Delaware Trust Co. have purchased a lot in the heart of the business section. Work will begin at once on the erection of a modern bank building and its completion is expected before January 1.

While alone in a room Wednesday night at a place of the Laurel Canning Company, Morris Jones, colored, an employe, was shot in the hip by someone who had hoisted a window in the room and used a shot gun.

At a meeting of the directors of the Laurel branch of the Delaware Trust Company, held this week, Glenn M. Hagan, was chosen manager in place of Martin Lee, resigned. Three young men caught robbing stores in lower Delaware received heavy sentences from Judge Conrad, at Georgetown when they pleaded guilty. Alton Hudson was given three years in the workhouse and Wesley Simpler and Howard Workman two years and six months each.

What is thought to be the record corn stalk of the state as to height is growing in a field on the farm of Charles H. Lafferty, Pender, bounded about two miles from Newark. This stalk, which has been accurately measured by Mr. Lafferty and his farmer, Mr. McCarns, was found to be 14 feet and 7 inches in height.

The old concrete bridge erected by the Levy Court several years ago at Tub Mill, was blown out with dynamite, this week, by the contractor on the new du Pont Road at that point. The old bridge would not stand the amount of traffic, that is expected to pass over that point when the new road is completed, and the new bridge will be constructed at once.

Wednesday morning about 3 o'clock thieves broke into the railroad station at Blackbird, but after prying open the money drawer secured only a small amount of change. They then entered the house of F. L. Smith, station agent, by way of a window. There they took a wallet from Mr. Smith's coat pocket. It contained about $100 in cash, some small checks and a fifty-dollar Liberty Bond, fourth issue.

Surfacing of roads throughout the state is threatened with a complete cessation unless the State Highway department is able to obtain prompt deliveries of surfacing materials. Chief Engineer Charles M. Upham is trying to obtain shipments by water routes, the difficulty in obtaining materials by rail having already compelled the Department to stop work.

Charles W. Conaway, formerly a Seaford merchant, believes an attempt was made on his life, Saturday night, by someone entering his home and boring a hole just below his gas meter, so gas could escape. Fortunately Conaway did not sleep at home that night, and when he entered his residence next morning, he found the place filled with gas. An investigation proved that the hole through which the gas came was freshly made.

About a year ago, William Farrow, a farmer near Felton, lost his pocket-book which contained about eighty dollars, and despite a close search it could not be found. Wednesday last, while plowing a field of wheat, he turned up the lost pocket-book which was in good condition. The paper money was in bad shape, but has been sent to Washington for redemption.

The farmer in some sections are facing another serious problem, that of the army worm, which is making depredations on fields of clover, buckwheat and other crops that are standing. On a farm near Ross' Point, owned by Samuel Hill, whole patches of clover have been destroyed and Mr. Hill reckons his loss over $500 at present with no relief in sight.

Square Bounded By Railroad Avenue, Grace and State Streets Improved.

MAYOR ADVOCATES NEEDED IMPROVEMENT

Gutter So Located Would Help Greatly In Carrying Off Surface Water That Floods Streets. Council Would Bear Half Expense And Property-Owners Half. Cost About $400.

The end of the State Road at State street is being rebuilt, so as to better stand the heavy traffic which goes over it, and to enable motorists in turning on or off the road to do so with greater ease.

The road originally ran up to the concrete sidewalk crossing on State street, that is, the crossing formed the end of the road. The sides of the road were not built up past the crossing, and anyone turning onto the road from State street had to make a sharp turn, or run off the road. The crossing has been broken up, and the road will be ended with a deep concrete curb, and aprons will be put on both sides of the road for a distance of fifteen or twenty feet.

Mayor Thorington is contemplating the construction of a concrete gutter around the square bounded by Grove, Railroad Avenue and State Streets. There is quite a bit of water carried along the gutters of these streets into the drain on Railroad avenue, and very often this drain is stopped up so that that portion of the street is flooded. Mayor Thorington thinks that such a gutter as he proposes would help to obviate this difficulty.

It is his idea that the gutter should be started at the property of F. G. Elliott Hardware Company on Grove Street, running west to Railroad avenue. Probably one would be needed on each side of this street. On State street, the gutter would start at the Post Office and run to Railroad avenue. From these gutters another one would lead the water along Railroad avenue to the drain in front of the store of S. N. Culver.

The Mayor estimates that this work would cost about four hundred dollars. Of this sum the town council would put up half, and the property holders would put up the other half.

$175,000 Is Realized From Applegarth Sale

Disposal Of Property At Cambridge Began Tuesday And Lasted Three Days.

The sale of the real estate and personal property of former State Senator William F. Applegarth of Dorchester, was completed Thursday, when an auction of his livestock and other personal property kept on his farms took place at Golden Hill. The sales Thursday totaled $8,000. The proceeds of the sales during the three days that they were in progress reached a grand total between $175,000 and $200,000.

Several farms and tracts of timber were disposed of, as well as valuable real estate in Cambridge. A large amount of bank stocks was also sold, bringing high prices. Forty-one shares of stock of the Farmers and Merchants' National Bank for $7,132; 20 shares Eastern Shore Trust Company, $4,320; 20 shares Cambridge Ice Company, $1,060; 75 shares Dorchester Water Company, $1,037.

If you have been discharged from the service on or after April 7, 1917, and are suffering from a disability incident to your service, you should apply to either the local Red Cross chapter of your county, or to Dr. DeAlton B. Potter, Salisbury, Maryland, who is a local representative of the government for Wicomico county, where full information will be given as to the method of procedure to follow in obtaining examination, necessary treatment, no matter what the condition you are suffering from may be, and a monthly compensation, which is elastic, depending upon the extent of your disability and number of dependents.

ROBERT H. GORDY ABLE TO LEAVE THE HOSPITAL

Robert H. Gordy, who was seriously injured on July 15 at the ice plant of Gordy & Son, Seaford, by being caught in the belt of a large shaft, and was taken to the Peninsula Hospital, Salisbury, where it was found necessary to amputate one of his legs at the knee, returned home Thursday afternoon. Mayor John R. Eskridge went for Mr. Gordy in his automobile. As soon as the wound heals he will have an artificial leg made. He is now at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Gentry.

THE MAN-ABOUT-TOWN.

Scraps He Picks Up Here, There And Everywhere.

A strange story was told The Man About Town by residents of Cambridge who were in Salisbury. The story goes that the electric current was cut off from Cambridge for two hours Wednesday afternoon to the mystification of the local officials of the power company as well as the public. It was found that Rev. John B. Peters, of Grace Southern Methodist Church, had run into an electric pole near East New Market when a bee caused him to lose control of his automobile.

This cheering information comes from Washington: "There have been no indications of a return of last year's influenza epidemic this winter, the Public Health Service announced this week. Each year it was said, between November and May, a number of cases are reported; but experts of the service do not expect the disease to be as widespread or as virulent this year as in 1919."

Resident Associate Judge Henry C. Conrad, of Sussex county, made an historical address Wednesday at Beth Methodist Episcopal Church, between Seaford and Federalsburg, the occasion being the reunion of the Davis, Kinder and Noble families at the church. The reunions are held every five years and attract many people, as the families are numerous in Sussex county and on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. In his remarks Judge Conrad touched upon the history of the church, which originally was known as Brown's Chapel, and is located about two miles from Federalsburg. Locally, the church is oftentimes called the Davis, Kinder and Noble Church. It is one of the ancient landmarks of Sussex county.

Uncle Sam is slow in some things, but when it comes to a quick dispatch of the mails he is most always quite swift. But the following story from Western Maryland goes to show that occasionally delays are bound to happen. While tearing away a part of a building which has been a landmark in Belair for many years and in which building was located the postoffice some 15 years ago, workmen unearthed a number of undelivered letters. The letters bore dates of 1904 and 1905 and had evidently fallen between the weatherboarding when dropped into the office from the outside. Robert Hull, who recently bought the building, recognized the handwriting on at least two of the letters as being that of Miss Carrie Preston, an aged relative of Judge Walter W. Preston, who resides near Hickory, and delivered them to her.

The prospect of a business revival is receiving some consideration in financial quarters, apparently based in part upon reports of increasing success of the railroads in breaking up accumulations of freight. It is clear enough that when such a revival takes place it will be on a lower price basis than existed when reaction began in May. Bradstreet's index number of commodity prices on September 1 shows an average decline of 15 per cent. from the level of August 1 and of 13.9 per cent. from the "peak" of February 1. There is something encouraging even in these small declines in prices.

Sunday movies have been a feature of Leonardtown life for a long time, and the La Plata Theater Company announces in the Times-Crescent that "it will exhibit sacred moving pictures" every Sunday afternoon at the Town Hall in the Charles county seat. "The purpose of the management is to exhibit on such an hour as will not conflict with the time on which any church service is being held and to place before the public a series of innocent and instructive entertainments on these occasions," says the notice.

The public schools of Sussex county are, like those in Wicomico county, crowded and in some cases overcrowded. In Laurel the schools opened with the largest enrollment in the history of the district. There were about 475 on roll at the white school, with 93 on the High School roll, and at the colored school it was necessary to rent a separate room to take care of the large number of pupils. In Milford there were enrolled 508 in the first eight grades, 126 in the High School and 150 in the colored school. In the third grade in the white school the enrollment was unexpectedly large. The grade has been placed on half-time. One-half the number attend in the morning and one-half in the afternoon.

The tremendous sum of $1,843,500, 000 was paid in this country and Canada on life insurance policies during 1919, and the War Risk Insurance Bureau cashed in almost half of this big aggregate. However, this sum does not signify that the death rate among the insured has been larger this year than before, for much money went to meet matured endowments and annuities. The figures are interesting as illustrating the immense growth of this form of financing in the last few years.

The growing order of tomatoes by the growers does not illustrate the class of the uncertainty of farming, though it is a fact that the price of the vegetable has advanced in the market. The price of the vegetable has advanced in the market. The price of the vegetable has advanced in the market.

Gilbert W. Larnan of Somerset county is a 100-year-old man. He lived at Lawsonia and until he was 70 the abundance of the vegetables sent stricken with paralysis, two years ago, was active and alert in mind and body. This seems to be the era of young old men. Every day we read of some one of more than 90 performing some service that would tax the strength or mind of many younger men. We frequently hear of men celebrating their 80th or 85th birthday and not a few newspapers note that some of their leaders have reached or passed the 90 mark. Whether people are living longer than formerly it is difficult to determine, but possibly they are, for no doubt we have been taught how to better conserve our health than we formerly knew.

TREASURY CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS

Attractive Rates of Interest Offered Investors Who Buy These Certificates. Consult Your Banks.

Nearly $640,000,000 of Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness mature September 15, as compared with the $400,000,000 (approximately) to be issued in the two series herein announced. This reinvestment demand should enable banks purchasing the current offerings to resell them rapidly to customers.

Moreover, these two new offerings afford opportunity to holders of Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness of Series T-10, maturing September 15 and bearing 4 1/2 per cent interest, and of Series G-1920, maturing October 15 and bearing 5 1/2 per cent interest, to reinvest these funds at higher rates. Such investors have the option therefore, of a six months 5 1/2 per cent security of twelve months' 6 per cent security.

The certificates of both series now offered are exempt from state and local taxes, except estate or inheritance taxes, from the normal Federal income tax and the corporation income tax, and are admissible assets for the purpose of calculating profits taxes. These certificates are acceptable in payment of Federal income and profits taxes payable at their respective maturities (March 15, 1921 and September 15, 1921), and the United States reserves no option to call them for redemption before maturity.

In fact it is the only price at which they can be sold because of their unusual value made possible by volume production of both passenger cars and trucks by one organization and under the direction of one group of executives.

This means an unusually low overhead cost per unit and the saving is passed on to the buyer immediately in the list price.

PRETTIEST TURF-RACING MACHINE

Once in a decade a horse is foaled that is destined to be superior to anything in horseflesh at that time. The one outstanding bright star in the thoroughbred fillet this year is the three-year-old champion, Man o' War, owned by Samuel D. Riddle. It was as a two-year-old last year that Man o' War demonstrated that he was the prettiest racing machine since the halcyon days of racing in New York when Sysonby and Oslin were turf idols. It is only a short time ago that this great horse shattered the time for the mile over a circular track, and it was the opinion of experts that had he been hard pressed he would have clipped some more fractions off the time. Where Man o' War gains a great amount of time which enables him to travel at such a terrific pace is at the getaway. He is always on his toes, and as a barrier is lifted, is away like a flash, sometimes making a leap of 20 feet at the first jump.

A Few Facts

Messrs. Tilghman Lime & Supply Co.,
Fruitland, Md.
Gentlemen:
Regarding the soil testing campaign for acidity, or in other words whether lime was needed or not, I find the following results:
Of the 81 samples that this office has tested to date, 77 farms needed lime.
To date, the Maryland Agricultural College has tested 1,100 samples of soil, and found that 74% needed lime, and practically all of the samples showing no acidity came from fields that have been limed during the past two or three years.
I believe that the proper use of lime will correct many of our ills.
Very truly yours,
(Signed) G. R. COBB,
County Agent Wicomico County.

The quantities of lime which are ordinarily applied to land—per acre—in the various forms, are as follows:
Hydrated Shell Lime 1,000 lbs.
Hydrated Stone Lime 1,500 lbs.
Raw Shell Lime 2,000 lbs.

Caveney Doesn't Care for Big League Sport

Major league glory has no charms for Jimmy Caveney of the San Francisco Seals. Detroit has an option on either him or Willie Kamm in exchange for Slim Love.

Jimmy says: "I had enough of Eastern baseball when I was with Springfield and Columbus. I know it is nice to be a big leaguer, particularly when you never have been up there, but you can tell the world that the Coast league is just to my liking."

KILBANE HANGING AROUND

Johnny Kilbane.

Johnny Kilbane is still hanging around and fighting an occasional leg but the just for the sake of keeping up appearances. Johnny is not the fighter of old, but manages to go along just well enough to keep anyone else from taking the feather-weight title away from him. Some day some youngster will come along and put Johnny on the shelf for good.

SPORTING NOTES

Two coaches may handle the American Olympic track and field team.

Harvard's eight-oared varsity crew will be entered in the Olympic regatta.

Eddie Meehan of Notre Dame is a likely candidate for the 800-meter honors at the Olympic games.

Toronto skating club will erect a club house. It will include an artificial ice rink for figure skating.

Tom Gibbons did not succeed in getting any matches in England. He has returned to his home in St. Paul.

An indoor golf game that has been invented includes a plush mat for a tee and a target-like pocket to catch the balls.

Jack Scholz of University of Missouri weighs 138 pounds. He will try for sprinting honors in American Olympic team.

Pittsburgh football eleven coached by Glenn Warner, won 31 games in succession from 1915 to 1919 before losing to Syracuse.

The champion's desire to fight often predominate more than that he wants to prove himself a fighting champion for he needs the cash.

A New York sporting man is out with an offer to bet $10,000 that if Dempsey ever fights Carpenter the match will not take place in the United States.

BASEBALL STORIES

Babe Ruth is twenty-six years old.

Fred Merkle is a pretty spry old bird.

Terry continues hitting the ball hard.

This is Hughie Jennings' fourteenth season as manager of the Detroit nine.

The Athletics are hanging around 275 per cent in spite of supreme court decisions.

The best three first basemen in the American league are the shortest three—Judge, Sister, McInnis.

Ty Cobb will play in 15 games on the Pacific coast after the close of the American league season.

The Western league is doing so well that it has been proposed that two weeks be added to the schedule.

Now that Johnny Rawlings has a chance to play regularly with the Phillies, he is showing what he can do.

Larry Doyle hasn't been spending his winters in Florida for nothing. He found Ponce de Leon's spring of youth.

The Giants asked for waivers on Sicking, the infielder, and the Reds refused to waive. So Sicking goes to Cincinnati.

Frank Walker of Rocky Mount is a big bug in a little puddle as a player in the Virginia league. He is hitting .401 for his home town team.

Doc Walsh is a pretty handy man for the Golden Gate outfit. He plays any position, infield or outfield, and can hit the apple in an emergency.

Every time Roger Bresnahan watches Sterling Silver Stryker of Toledo work he smiles. Stryker heaves a knuckle ball that is a real fooler.

The Senators are acquiring the title of the "wasters." The Griffins are taking big chances on the bases and not getting away any too well with it.

A couple of new pitchers are getting a trial with the Giants. They are Rube Chambers from Kalamazoo and a college lad named Grubbs from Kentucky.

Frank Ishell, bald-headed eagle, has turned in his suit at Wichita. He is going to look over the best of the bushers and the turnbacks of the major for talent.

Kid Skeley of Akron has sent out the S. O. S. for ball players. He has sent queries to Clarke Griffith, Connie Mack, Tris Speaker, George Gibson and other managers.

The St. Louis Cardinals picked a young catcher named John Ashworth, who comes from high school at Waltham, Mass. Watch the boy from Waltham. He may be a steamroller.

Norman A. Gillop, former Cleveland and New York American league pitcher, who joined the Salt Lake club of the Pacific coast league this season, has retired from baseball.

While Chattanooga is praising Dudley and New Orleans is boasting Sewell, Birmingham comes to bat with the declaration that "Cryde Barnhart is the best looking youngster in the Southern league.

NEW SCHEDULE OF TELEPHONE RATES

Increased Rates Became Effective On September First. How The Various Sections Are Affected.

Beginning last Wednesday subscribers to telephones in Wicomico county became subject to increased rates and the September bills will show the increase.

The Telephone Company, after being granted permission by the Public Service Commission, have announced that beginning with September 1, there will be increased charges for phone service in Salisbury, Delmar and Sharptown, the three main offices located in this county. The rates vary in the three towns according to the number of local subscribers in use through that particular central, that is Salisbury will have a greater increase than either Delmar or Sharptown, because there are several hundred phone users reached through the Salisbury central. The new monthly rates are as follows:

Salisbury Flat Rates.

Business	Individual	4-party	Rural
$4.25	$3.00	$2.75	$2.75
Residence	3.25	2.25	2.00
Extension station, business, $1.00;
extension station, residence, $1.00;
Service station subscribers who own their telephone sets, business stations, $91 2-3; residence stations, $66 2-3.
Service station subscribers who rent their telephone sets from the Telephone company, business stations, $1.16 2-3; residence stations, $91 2-3.

In addition to the above rates Salisbury has an individual line business and residence message rate class of service at $3.50 per month, additional local messages 5c each.

Delmar, Maryland, Flat Rates.

Business	Individual	4-Party	Rural
$3.00	$2.00	$1.75	$1.75
Residence	1.75	1.50	1.25
Extension station, business, $1.00;
extension station, residence, 50c.

Sharptown, Maryland, Flat Rates.

Business	Individual	4-Party	Rural
$2.75	$1.75	$1.50	$1.50
Residence	2.00	1.25	1.00
Extension station, business, $1.00;
extension station, residence, 50c.

The reduction in individual and party line monthly rates will affect Delmar and Sharptown more than the others. Also the reduction in toll rates from 15 cents to 14 cents in every case where the 15 cent charge formerly applied is an important item, since it means a saving of one cent telephone charge and 5 cents war tax, a total of 6 cents on toll charges to the subscriber.

Reduction In Individual And Party Lines.

City	Business
	Individual	4-party	Rural
Delmar	$0.60	$0.40	$0.65
Oriole	.25	.25	.50
Princess Anne	—	—	.25
Berlin	.85	.65	.90
Sharptown	.25	.25	.50
Ocean City	—	—	.50
City	Residence
	Individual	4-party	Rural
Delmar	$0.40	$0.30	$0.55
Princess Anne	—	—	.25
Berlin	.40	.30	.50
Sharptown	.40	.25	.50
Ocean City	—	—	.50

It will be noted that the two party lines, in effect in this city, have been abolished by the commission and the only party line shown in the four cities is the party line rates at the various offices.

FEDERATION OF LABOR MEET HERE IN APRIL

First Gathering Of Its Kind On Eastern Shore. Will Convene Next Spring. Gompers May Attend.

The officials of the American Federation of Labor, of Maryland and the District of Columbia, will meet in Salisbury next spring, according to Mr. E. J. Chapman, delegate at large for the district. Mr. Chapman has been instructed to select a place for the next gathering of officials, and spent Saturday here in conference with Mayor Kennerly.

The convention will bring about five thousand visitors to the city, as many of the delegates will be accompanied by their wives. It is expected that Samuel Gompers, President of the Federation, and other well known officials will be present.

The meetings, it is said, will be open to the public and the citizens of Salisbury will be invited to attend them. Plans for the program and the entertaining will be completed later. Mayor Kennerly has been invited to make the welcoming address and has consented to do so.

The previous meetings of this nature, with the exception of the last, have been held in Baltimore. The last convention was held in Hagerstown. It is due to the efforts of Mr. Chapman, an Eastern Shoreman, that the next gathering will take place here. The event will probably mean the bringing of several thousands of dollars into the community.

CALLS ORGANIZATION FARMERS' BIG PROBLEM

Dr. Symons Says It Will Transcend All Other Questions At Salisbury November 9.

The imperative need of strengthening the farm organizations in the state of Maryland will be emphasized at the annual meeting of the Maryland Agricultural Society in Salisbury, November 9 to 11, according to Dr. Thomas B. Symons, secretary of the organization and director of the University of Maryland Extension Service.

"The farmers of Maryland are beginning to realize that in order to keep pace with other sections of the country where co-operative marketing and buying is making rapid strides, the local, county and state organizations in Maryland must be strengthened," says Dr. Symons. "During the past year a noticeable trend toward co-operation has been manifested in the state. Many communities formerly lacking organizations of any kind have been welded together in farmers' clubs or associations. County federations have been formed, uniting local bodies in to stronger and more efficient units. It is safe to say that more farmers in Maryland are availing themselves of the advantage of co-operative buying and selling than ever before. Many local associations have their own sales managers, entrusted with the work of disposing of members' crops and with the purchase of such materials as fertilizer, binder twine, lime and seed.

"Much yet remains to be accomplished. Many communities still are unorganized and in numerous cases county organizations would prove advantageous. The recent action of the Maryland Agricultural Society in throwing its doors open to county federations was designed to encourage the formation of county units. Formerly the membership of the society was confined to state-wide organizations built upon the various lines of industry, such as the Dairyman's Association, the Tobacco Growers' Association, and the State Horticultural Society.

"These bodies are still represented in the Maryland Agricultural Society, but the membership is not confined to them alone. County federations are being admitted and as their number in the state increases are taking more important places in the deliberations of the society."

NEW BUICK MODELS WILL SOON BE SEEN

Pinnacle Of Buick Development Has Been Reached In The New Line For 1921.

"For twenty years the Buick Motor Company has adhered steadfastly to definite principles of motor car design and manufacture," says E. T. Strong, general Sales Manager Buick Motor Co. "The reward to owners and dealers as well as to the builder, for this unwavering fidelity to policy and concentration of energies has been seen year after year.

"And, the highest pinnacle in this long period of Buick development has been reached in the new line for 1921.

"There are seven models for the new season, including three open and four closed body types. While they have retained those qualities that have been adopted as standards of mechanical excellence for two decades, improvements have been added to increase either the convenience or the long life of the cars.

"The casual observer on the street or in the showroom will note that the most striking change is in the new lines of the body, top, radiator, hood and cowl, which blend into a harmonious whole of rare and graceful beauty. Yet, there is nothing spectacular or radical in the new lines and those familiar with Buick methods will understand that the outward appearance merely betokens the inner goodness of the new Buick."

"Some of the new models will be seen at the Buick show-rooms in Salisbury shortly and prospective purchasers will have an opportunity to view the beautiful lines of the new cars."

Sharptown Boy Killed By Truck

Syda Ellis Falls Under Wheel Of Big Motor-Truck. The Driver Exonerated.

Sharptown, Md., Sept. 18.—Syda Ellis, 6 years old, son of Mrs. Annie Ellis, died here Thursday as the result of injuries received in a motortruck accident.

The boy attempted to get hold of the body of a motortruck being driven up Main street by Hamp Owens, and in the effort fell in front of the rear wheel of the truck which passed over his body. Medical aid was at once given by Dr. L. L. Gordy, but the boy died in a few hours.

Mrs. Ellis' husband, Capt. Harry Ellis, two years ago was accidentally shot dead by a United States guard at Savannah, Ga.

About one year ago Mrs. Ellis' boy, younger than the one killed, was shot in the mouth by a playmate.

A coroner's jury exonerated the driver.

SALISBURY EVIDENCE FOR SALISBURY PEOPLE

The Statements of Salisbury Residents Are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers. Home testimony is real proof. Public statements of Salisbury people carry real weight.

What a friend or neighbor says compels respect.

The word of one whose home is far away invites your doubts.

Here's a Salisbury man's statement.

"And it's for Salisbury people's benefit.

Such evidence is convincing. That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills.

"Your neighbor!"

W. F. Bounds, mason, 110 William St., Salisbury, says: "I was troubled with a lame back and other signs of kidney complaint. The kidney secretions were scanty, too. When I bent over to put on my shoes, or did any other stooping, I found it hard to straighten up, because sharp pains caught me in the small of my back. I finally heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and bought a box at the Collier Drug Co. I have had no further kidney trouble since getting them and recommend them highly to anyone suffering as I was."

THE TELEPHONE GIRLS.

A voice o'er the phone
In softest tone
Is music sweet and rare,
As the telephone girls,
With a toss of their curls
Cause chamber-ays and there!

The way they pass
And their "thank you's"
In such a soft and sweet
And their pretty faces
Glimmer with the light
Of the bright moonlight!

Their heads in a whirl
O'er the telephone girl
With rosy cheeks aglow,
And tender smiling eyes
Their hearts are in a trice
As they ring in our ears
Of Maryland's sunny skies.

Our heads in a whirl
O'er the telephone girl
With rosy cheeks aglow,
And tender smiling eyes
Their hearts are in a trice
As they ring in our ears
We love 'em all the more.

A voice o'er the phone
In sweeter tone
Than minstrels on the street,
For the telephone girls
With tangled curls
Our hearts would skip a beat.

Little girls of the phones
With dulcet tones
And answers softly sweet
We'll say good bye,
But before we die
These girls we'd like to meet.

THE MINISTERS RETURN; CHURCH WORK RESUMED

The usual annual vacation season given the ministers of our town by their congregations has expired and with Sunday the regular services in all of the churches were resumed. New Year's Ocean City season is practically over and the other places of summer amusement closed down, it is to be hoped that the religious draft will be turned on at full force, and that the people generally will give a little of their time at last to the things that tend to their eternal welfare.

DEATH OF BIVALVE LADY AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Bivalve, wife of Hon. F. B. Bivalve, and one of the best known women of that section, died last week after an illness of two weeks. Although her death was looked upon as a surprise, it nevertheless caused a shock and was regretted by a large circle of friends. Deceased was about 55 years of age and is survived by her husband, one son, James B. Culver, and a daughter, Mrs. Ernest Larmore.

Robert W. Carman, known to be the oldest resident of Somerset county, having passed the century mark, died at his home in Lawsonia on Thursday last. He had been confined to his home from paralysis following a stroke which he suffered two years ago, but up to that time was remarkably active. Mr. Carman's oldest son, if he were still living, would be 81 years of age. It is understood that the elder Carman was 22 years old when the son was born, so it is generally accepted that he was 103 years of age at the time of his death.

After being thoroughly rebuilt and rearranged, the old Crisfield shipbuilding plant which was recently purchased by Mr. Wallace M. Quinn, is to resume operations for vessel repair work on Monday next. This plant, which was formerly located at the Marine Railway of Nelson & McCready, for many years popular with the boatmen of the Chesapeake and its tributaries, has been reorganized with a view to general repair work and has been set up to take its place again as one of the live industries of the county.

Having been freed from the injuries which he sustained in an automobile accident in Queen Anne county on August 1st, Mr. William B. Snyman, cashier of the Bank of Somerset, returned to his home in Princess Anne last Saturday. Mr. Snyman has been a patient at the D. H. Jones Hospital and his physical condition is reported to be such that he will be able to return to his home in the near future. He is expected to take up his abode in the near future in the bank.

"Time and again I have prescribed organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and surprised patients at the rapidity with which their weakness and general debility was replaced by a renewed feeling of strength and vitality," says Dr. H. The effects were apparent after a few days and within three weeks I had virtually revitalized my whole system and put me in superb physical condition."

REDUCE COST OF MANY GARMENTS

Bulletin Teaches Methods of Preserving Life of Various Pieces of Wearing Apparel.

CLEANLINESS IS AID

Eliminate Necessity of Spending Large Sums to Replace Wardrobe by Giving Immediate Attention to Rips and Tears.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Men as well as women can help reduce the high cost of clothing. A little care on the part of the wearer will do much to preserve clothing already on hand, and thus eliminate the necessity of spending large sums frequently to replenish the wardrobe. This is brought out in a recent publication of the United States department of agriculture, Farmers' Bulletin 1089, Selection and Care of Clothing.

Immediate attention to rips, sewing on loosened buttons and hooks, reworking worn buttonholes, and "preventive" darning are recommended as means of prolonging the life of a garment. The proper repair measure consists of reinforcing a worn place with rows of fine stitches or by laying a piece of cloth under it and darning it down with raveling of the material. The heels and toes of stockings and socks especially may be treated this way before a hole is entirely worn through. Shortening sleeves or trousers a little to do away with a worn edge, or putting new cuffs and collar or new trimming on a dress may often add months to the life of a garment.

To keep clothing looking "as good as new" as well as actually preserving and lengthening its life, it is necessary to keep it clean. Brushing with a stiff brush for woolen clothing and with a softer brush for velvet or silk is necessary to remove dust, and spots and stains should be carefully treated with cleaning preparations as soon as possible. In most cases this can be done at home, but it is more economical to have professional cleaners handle very delicate garments. Farmers' Bulletin 801 gives detailed information on the removal of stains from different kinds of textiles.

Pressing Preserves Garments.

Preserving the shape of a garment lengthens its service. Almost anyone can learn to press clothing neatly. Woolen clothing should be covered with a thoroughly dampened cloth and pressed with a moderately hot iron until nearly dry. If the cloth becomes absolutely dry, shine is likely to appear on the garment. Silk garments should be pressed very carefully; in fact, sometimes hanging a silk dress over a tub of steaming water will remove wrinkles without actual ironing. Washable white silk garments should be washed and rinsed in lukewarm water, wrapped in a towel, and pressed with a warm, not hot, iron. Handled in this way they will not turn yellow.

Shoes, more than many other articles of clothing, need to be thoroughly aired after wearing, to prevent perspiration from rotting the lining. Keeping shoes on shoe trees or stuffed with paper when not in use preserves their original shape, and is especially necessary if the shoes have become wet. Intense heat is likely to crack leather; therefore wet shoes should never be dried under the stove or on a register or radiator.

Cleaning Hats and Gloves.

A hat that is worn day after day needs special care to keep it looking neat. Careful brushing or, in the case of straw hats, wiping with a cloth in demerated alcohol will redden and freshen it. A new man's hat may postpone the necessity of buying a new hat for months. Trimmings on women's hats that become loosened by wind or wear should be sewed into place as follows: Thread a long needle with coarse thread or silk of an inconspicuous color. Draw the needle from the wrong side through the hat beside the loosened trimming, leaving 2 or 3 inches of thread on the wrong side; pass the needle up and down around the trimming and back to the wrong side of the hat; pull the thread through. Tie the two ends securely and cut them a quarter of an inch beyond the knot.

One method of cleaning kid gloves is to rub the soiled parts with cornmeal, moistened with enough gasoline to keep the meal from scratching the gloves, then dry thoroughly in the air. The bulletin mentioned treats also of ways of economizing in the selection of clothing, how to test textile goods, and gives other suggestions of value.

DO NOT THROW AWAY PARTLY STALE BREAD

Different Ways of Making It Quite Appetizing.

Good Plan to Cut Off What is Needed at Meal and Place Slices in Hot Oven—CROUTONS ARE MADE OF ODDS AND ENDS.

Toasting is the most common method for making stale or partly stale bread attractive, but it is by no means the only one. If partly stale bread is put into a very hot oven for a few minutes it grows softer, probably because the heat tends to drive the water from the crust back into the crumb, food specialists of the United States department of agriculture say. Such warmed-over bread is not as soft and springy as fresh, but most persons find it very appetizing. A good plan, therefore, when bread has lost its freshness, is to cut off what will be needed at a meal and place the slices in a hot oven for a few minutes just before serving. In this way bread can be used on the table which would ordinarily be considered too stale.

"Twice-baked bread," which is cut bread placed in the warming-oven or in a pan on the back of the stove and allowed to dry out slowly until it is slightly brown and crisp throughout, offers still another way of making stale bread attractive. If desired, this twice-baked bread may be crushed with a rolling-pin and used like the ready-to-eat breakfast cereals. In some localities this dish has long been known under the name of rusks.

The little fried cubes of bread called croutons, which are served with soup, may be made of odds and ends of bread. To save time, bread simply broken into small pieces may be fried either in deep fat or in a pan (sauteed) and used for the same purpose. Sometimes bread crumbs fried in a pan are used as a seasoning or sauce for meat. French cooks frequently put pieces of stale bread in soups just long enough before serving for them to soften; the well-known one, "croutin in the pot" (croute au pot), is simply a thin soup with bread in it.

There are many ways of using stale bread in cooking. Almost every good cookbook gives directions for preparing soft and dry crumbs for use in scalloped dishes, bread puddings, etc. The soft parts of bread may be used in place of flour or cornstarch for thickening soups, sauces, gravies, stewed tomatoes (either fresh or canned), etc. Bakers often use stale bread and dried, finely ground cake in place of part of the flour in making fancy breads, cakes and cookies. The housekeeper can often avoid waste by using them in this way in griddlecakes, cakes, cookies, etc.

MOPS FOR POLISHED FLOORS

One May Be Made of Old Stockings or Any Discarded Woolen or Flannel Material.

For oiled or polished floors an oiled mop mop is almost a necessity. Several makes can be found on the market, or one may be made of old stockings or any discarded woolen or flannel material. In a Farmers' Bulletin on "Farm Home Conveniences," obtainable free from the United States department of agriculture, the following directions for making such a mop are given:

The material is cut into 1-inch wide strips, which are sewed across the middle to a foundation of heavy cloth. This is fastened to an old broom handle or used in a clamp mop handle.

The mop, when finished, is dipped into a solution made of one-half cupful of melted paraffin and one cupful of kerosene, and then allowed to dry. To keep it moist it is rolled tightly and kept in a paper bag away from stoves or lamps.

CHEMICAL EFFECTS OF FOOD

It May Be Literally True That "One Man's Meat Is Another Man's Poison"—People Differ.

Different persons are differently constituted with respect to the chemical changes which their food undergoes and the effect produced, so that it may be literally true that "one man's meat is another man's poison." Every man must learn from his own experience what food agrees with him and what does not.—United States department of agriculture.

All Around the House

Keep large paper bag in the kitchen for rags.

Mincel walnuts may be added to salmon salad.

Cakes to be eaten while fresh require little fat.

Apricot tapicon can be made exactly as peach tapicon is.

Grated lemon peel adds a delicious flavor to baked apples.

A few bread crumbs added to scrambled eggs improve them.

Wet the top of ham with vinegar to keep from moulding.

33 CITIES HAVE 22,724,565 PEOPLE.

More than one-fifth of the population of the country is located in 33 leading cities, having 200,000 or more inhabitants. A table showing these cities in order of their rank for 1920, issued by the Census Bureau, places their combined population of 22,724,565, which is slightly more than one-fifth of the total population of the country, as estimated by Dr. Joseph A. Hill, chief statistician of the Bureau, at 105,000,000.

RAILROADS ON THEIR OWN RESOURCES.

Estimated to have cost the government $100,000,000 monthly for the last six months, the clause of the transportation act which guaranteed earnings to railroads of the country ceased to be effective at midnight Wednesday, and the roads again are on their own resources. Further loans from the government, however, will be available from the revolving fund created by the act.

Definite information as to the cost to the government of the earnings guarantee provision probably will not be known for several months, as the various railroads face a considerable task in balancing their books in order to give detailed operation figures. The Bureau of Railway Economics, however, has estimated that since the carriers were returned to their owners on March, their earnings have been $600,000,000 below their standard return.

BALTIMORE BIGGER THAN REST OF STATE.

For the first time in the history of Maryland, Baltimore has more people than the rest of the state. Figures just issued by the Census Bureau at Washington show that Maryland has 1,449,610, an increase of 154,264 over the figure of 1910, which makes its gain 11.9 per cent.

Baltimore's population announced on May 20 is 733,826. This, subtracted from the total of the state, leaves 715,984, which gives the city a majority of 18,042.

Only seven of the 23 counties of Maryland show an increase of population over the figures for 1910. They are Anne Arundel, Charles, Harford, Prince George's, Montgomery, Wicomico and Worcester.

Wicomico and Worcester are the only counties of the nine comprising the Eastern Shore section of the state that show a gain and the percentage of increase for those two counties is only 4.8 and 2.1, respectively.

Washington county in the Western section shows the largest gain of any county in the state. The percentage of increase for the decade being 20.3.

Baltimore county shows the largest percentage of decrease in population of any county in Maryland but that is easily understood in view of the fact that so many thousands of the inhabitants of the county were included within the limits of the city of Baltimore when the annexation law became effective.

GROWTH OF CITIES' POPULATION.

The growth of our country is emphasized in a recent census report which shows that there are now 67 cities with a population of more than 100,000 each, an increase of 7 in the last ten years. By the new count Kansas City, Mo., has moved up a notch from the twentieth to the nineteenth place, but its growth was smaller than during the preceding ten years. It is indicated by the recent announcements that the drift is to the second class cities instead of the biggest communities. The movement of the people almost everywhere is probably from the country to the towns and then to the larger cities, and eventually to the largest centres.

GLAD HAND EXTENDED TO WOMEN.

The meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee in Baltimore last week extended the glad hand to the women of the state. Several prominent ladies of the state were present.

It was the first time that women, as equals, have attended a political organization meeting in the state, and the men laid themselves out to make the historic occasion one of pleasant memories, and apparently succeeded.

The practical steps to give the women recognition in party affairs consisted of the unanimous election of Mrs. James T. Briscoe, of Hagerstown, as the woman member from Maryland of the national committee and the authorization of a campaign committee, in which women will be represented.

Governor Ritchie and Senator John Walter Smith made very felicitous speeches on the occasion. Senator Smith talked entirely to the women. He said that he had been opposed, as every one knew, to suffrage and that he had been opposed because he thought it was best for women to be kept out of politics. He had no apologies to make, he went on to say, for his past course, but now that suffrage has been granted he acquiesces, and he pled with the women to vote themselves and to see that all good women of the state vote, to the end that the greatest good, may be had from the new order. He told the women to remember that however good their intentions they cannot put them into effect at the polls unless they first register.

BRIEF HAPPENINGS IN WORCESTER CO.

Mrs. Mary A. Trader, a highly respected lady resident of Pocomoke City, died at the home of her husband William Trader, on Laurel street, on Tuesday. She was 69 years of age.

Mrs. Joseph Riggia died at her home near Whitesburg Monday of last week, after a lingering illness of several months, aged about 75 years. Funeral services were held in Olivet Christian Church Tuesday last.

Mrs. William Trader died at the home of her husband in Pocomoke on Tuesday. Mrs. Trader had reached her 69th year. She had been in feeble health for a number of years, but had been able to attend to her usual household duties until about four weeks ago, when she was stricken to the bed.

Mrs. Mary C. Ennis, of Berlin, widow of George Ennis, died last week. Mrs. Ennis had reached the advanced age of 89 years, and was remarkably active for her age until the past few months, helping about the household duties, and walking to church on Sunday.

Miss Marie Tugman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Tugman, of near Snow Hill, and Albert Staggs, son of R. N. Staggs, of Inhantown, were married at Pitts Creek Baptist church on Thursday evening, August 26th, by the Rev. James B. Peebles, pastor of Fairmount Park Baptist church, Norfolk, and a former pastor of the bride, the ring ceremony being used. Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present to witness the ceremony.

A copperhead snake, measuring three feet, was killed Saturday morning by Peter F. Watson, in the yard of his home in Box Iron. The copperhead had been seen on two successive days prior to its being killed, and on Friday a member of the family had struck at it with an axe inflicting a slight wound. Saturday morning the snake crawled out of a woodpile to sun itself, and was discovered by Mr. Watson, who shot it.

The first big catch of trout in the bay this season was made Monday by Messrs. George W. Vincent, Carson F. Chandler, and Frank H. Carmean, who pulled in thirty good sized trout. On Wednesday, Mr. Vincent and Mr. Carmean, accompanied by John W. Stalon and Dr. John L. Riley, returned to the charge, and again showed their skill with the hook and line. Twenty-one trout were caught, George and Frank each pulling in a four-pounder.

Mr. Henry J. Clayville, a native of Worcester County, and a former resident of Snow Hill, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Johnson, at Goldsboro, Caroline county, Monday. Mr. Clayville was 88 years of age. He conducted a shoe making and shoe repair shop in Snow Hill for many years. His remains were taken to Snow Hill Wednesday for interment in the M. E. cemetery.

The first ditch blowing demonstration in Worcester county was held on August 12 at Whaleyville and was witnessed by 330 farmers and taxpayers who were interested in the drainage proposition. As a result of the demonstration it was decided that only by the dynamite method would it be possible to open up the three miles of proposed tax ditch. A committee also was appointed to investigate the possibility of opening up sections of the Pocomoke river by the use of dynamite.

Willis Adkins, young son of Cephas Adkins, of Klej Grange, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a shot gun with which he and his brother, Clarence, were playing last Sunday. The boys were struggling for the possession of the gun, both having hold of it. It was pointed directly at the throat of Willis and when it was discharged the load nearly decapitated him leaving his head hanging by a thread of skin at the back of the neck. Mr. Adkins had forbidden his sons, Willis, about 11 years old and Clarence, about 13, to use the gun. Unknown to his father and to his brother Clarence, Willis went to the store Saturday and purchased a small quantity of powder and shot with which he loaded the gun, and when Clarence was struggling with him for possession of the gun Clarence did not know it was loaded. —Snow Hill Messenger.

The failure of the State Roads commission to complete two short sections of the Snow Hill-Pocomoke and the Snow Hill-Girdletree highway has been the direct cause of several accidents, more or less serious, during the rainy season just passed. The unfinished section of the Snow Hill-Pocomoke City road is one-eighth of a mile in length and its construction has been held up for some unknown cause for five years. During this time the Ocean City bridge has been built and the contract for the Main street bridge at Pocomoke City has been let and construction commenced. An automobilist who was approaching Snow Hill from Pocomoke City on a rainy night last week drove up on the one-eighth mile of dirt road and was thrown across the steering wheel of his automobile, and so badly injured that he lost control of his machine, which was fortunately stalled in the mud. After having surgical aid he sought legal advice before proceeding on his journey. Physicians' automobiles have been rendered unfit for service by deep ruts, and the occupants of farm wagons have been thrown from their vehicles. A farmer was thrown from his wagon and at the same time a pitchfork was jostled from the vehicle and in falling pierced the arm of the man.

Low-Cost Mileage—in Goodyear Tires for Small Cars

There is no economy in buying so-called bargains in tires offered at sensationally cheap prices when a well-made tire delivers mileage at a considerably lower rate of cost.

Add the time and trouble occasioned by frequent replacements and it is fully apparent why tire users, seeking real mileage economy, are not attracted to very cheaply priced tires.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30x3-, 30x3½- and 31x4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they are built to deliver exceptional mileage at low cost and consistently do so.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, Dort or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires—for true Goodyear mileage, value, economy.

ARMSTRONGS RULES IN WOMEN'S FAVOR

Attorney General Decides Declaration Of Intent Act Does Not Apply To Them.

SAME APPLIES FOR THE REMOVAL ACT

Governor Had Asked For Opinion From Attorney-General. Women Leaving The State Must Make Affidavit Of Removal In Order To Retain Privilege Of Voting.

The declaration of intent act of 1902 does not apply to woman voters, Attorney General Armstrong rules in a formal opinion to Governor Ritchie.

The affidavit of removal act is also inapplicable to women, the opinion states.

Last Friday Governor Ritchie wrote to the Attorney General asking for a ruling on these two measures, each of which affects a considerable number of women voters in the state. Whether the two measures, especially the former, apply to women voters has been the subject of much discussion.

Some time ago, in anticipation of a request for a ruling on the declaration of intent law, and after conference with his associates, Mr. Armstrong prepared a rough draft of his opinion on this measure. He had not, however, prepared an opinion on the construction of the affidavit of removal act, and it was the preparation of this portion of the opinion which occupied most of his time Friday.

In his opinion the Attorney General first considers the affidavit of removal act; then the declaration of intent law. His conclusions are as follows:

The Opinions.

(1) With reference to the affidavit of removal act:

(a) That any woman coming into the State prior to August 26, 1920 (the date of the proclaiming of the Nineteenth Amendment) and satisfying the Constitutional requirement of one year's residence herein, is entitled to be registered at this or any subsequent registration without reference to the continuity of said residence, subject to the next succeeding conclusion.

(b) That all women of the age of 21 years or over, leaving the State on or after August 26, 1920, and taking up a fixed abode without the state, must make the affidavit of removal and otherwise comply with the provisions of that act in order to retain the privilege of voting in Maryland.

(2) With reference to the declaration of intention law:

(a) That no woman coming into the State after March 29, 1902, and prior to August 26, 1920, is required to make a declaration of intention for the purpose of registration either this year or residence in the State, now established, continues unbroken.

(b) That all women of the age of 21 years or over coming into Maryland on and after August 26, 1920, must comply with the provisions of the law as fully as men are now required to observe the same.

Forecast For Corn Breaks All Records

Yield Estimated At More Than Three Billion Bushels, An Increase Of Six Million Bushels.

The greatest corn crop in the country's history is in prospect for this year's harvest. Forecast of production based on September 1 conditions was placed at 3,131,000,000 bushels Thursday by the Department of Agriculture. Such a yield would exceed by six million bushels the previous largest crop on record, which was in 1912.

Tobacco also is a record crop this year and will probably exceed the best previous production by 114,000,000 pounds. Forecast of production places this year's crop at 1,553,000,000 pounds.

August growing conditions proved highly beneficial to most of the country's important crops and as a result production forecasts generally were higher in the Government report than the forecasts of a month ago. Corn improved to the extent of 128,000,000 bushels; oats, 40,000,000 bushels; white potatoes, 11,000,000 bushels; sweet potatoes, 1,000,000 bushels; tobacco, 10,000,000 pounds and apples, 10,000,000 bushels. Spring wheat, however, suffered a loss of 25,000,000 bushels because of drought and flax lost 2,500,000 bushels from the same cause.

WILLIAM J. RICHARDSON DIED LAST FRIDAY

Mr. William J. Richardson died in the Peninsula General Hospital, Salisbury, early Friday morning of last week, aged 74 years. He had been in poor health for the past three years, but was taken much worse four weeks ago, when he was brought to the hospital, where an operation was performed. Mr. Richardson in early life was one of Worcester's large farmers. He is survived by his widow and seven children.

A Grateful Letter.

It is in trying conditions like that related below by Mrs. Geo. L. North of Naples, N. Y. that proves the worth of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. "Two years ago last summer" she says, "our little boy had dysentery. At that time we were living in the country eight miles from a doctor. Our son was taken ill suddenly and was about the sickest child I ever saw. He was in terrible pain all the time and passed from one convulsion into another. I sent my husband for the doctor and after he was gone thought of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the cupboard. I gave him some of it and he began to improve at once. By the time the doctor arrived he was out of danger."—Advt. *

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Theford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theford's Black-Draught Liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theford's. E. G.

NEW EASTON BISHOP DELIVERS FIRST SERMON

Prelate Thanks People For Reception. Says He Feels He Has Them Behind Him In Work of Church.

Bishop George W. Davenport preached at Trinity Cathedral, Easton, Sunday morning before a large congregation, every seat in the church being occupied. This was his first sermon since his consecration, and he took for his text the words, "Where There Is No Vision the People Perish," found in Proverbs, 29-18. The Bishop said that the lack of vision was the cause of the present unsettled condition of the world today, when nations are against nations and classes against classes. Christianity, in his opinion, said the Bishop, is more than simply going to church, it is life. Churchgoing is the means, as the celebration of the holy communion is a means of receiving the Christian life, he said. If the vision is lost, he said, the result of these means becomes null and void. He compared the life of the Christian with the life of the man who went across the sea to fight. He said the Christian life required more than the soldier life, and if we were true sons of God we would be ready to sacrifice everything. He acknowledged the reception accorded him by the people of the diocese. He said he felt he was backed by the people. He viewed his duties as great, but by the help of God and the members of the diocese he believes the kingdom of God can be brought to every part of the diocese, he said.

He said that according to some noted writers, Christianity had never been tried. He said he is in accord with their views and believes that it has never really been given a trial. He said it calls for service that is unselfish, and, if put to practice, anarchy would disappear. His closing request was for everyone to get a vision of the things that are worth while and eternal and which are more than ecclesiastical. The welfare of the nation and of society is at stake, for it is the selfish interests in the individual that makes for anarchy, he said.

Pretty Marriage At Allen Thursday Eve.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized last Thursday night, when Miss Augusta Papendick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Papendick, of Allen, became the bride of Mr. Augustus Narieneau, of Philadelphia.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. E. F. Papendick. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Shick, of New York. The best man was Mr. Charles Papendick, brother of the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss Marie Papendick, sister of the bride, Miss Clementina Press, Miss Martha Kruck, Misses Lida and Edith Eschbach. Salisbury Company Mustered Lieut.-Col. Amos W. Woodcock Has Charge of Ceremony Turning Unit Over.

RECRUITING TO BE PUSHED WITH VIGOR

Business Men Interest Themselves In Drive And Several Join Ranks As Example. Roster Now Has 28 Names. More To Come In A Few Days.

With a short and simple ceremony Company "I," First Infantry, Maryland National Guard, was mustered into state service by Lieutenant Colonel A. W. Woodcock Thursday night at the Armory. A small company of onlookers was present to witness the presentation of the local organization to the state. The names of 28 men were on the muster roll, not enough for Federalization, but enough to make Company "I" a unit in the National Guard.

Prior to muster, Captain Harry Hagan made a short talk to the recruits, urging them to make the best use of their wonderful opportunities and to keep up the drive for a full membership for the local company. Oscar L. Morris was appointed chairman of a committee to act for the company with committees of the citizen bodies as the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club. It was reported that about 50 business men of the city had signed up as big brothers and that they will do all in their power for the company.

Captain Russell stated that the pool tables will soon be in shape and that the chances for bowling alleys are excellent. He also urged that the men do everything possible to bring the new company up to the standard of the old. The newly-formed company was dismissed at 9:30 p. m. by its commanding officer to meet again next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Pocomoke Girl A September Bride

United In Marriage To Mr. Otho H. Pilchard, Of Girdletree On Thursday Evening.

A very quiet fall wedding took place on Thursday evening at 9:30 when Miss Dorothy Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Richards, of Pocomoke City, became the bride of Mr. Otho H. Pilchard, of Girdletree, Md.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride, by the Rev. E. L. Bunce, pastor of the M. P. church and was witnessed by relatives and a few intimate friends.

The bride was tastefully attired in a traveling suit of bedazzled tulle and carried a bouquet of lilacs of the valley and roses.

For some time she has held a responsible position with the T. F. Hargis firm of Pocomoke City.

The young couple left on the mid-night train for a brief honeymoon to Philadelphia and Atlantic City, and upon their return will make their home in Pocomoke.

Arrangements are under way relative to a special train to convey the Odd Fellows to and from the rally, the train to start from Delmar, from which pass a great number of Odd Fellows are expected to visit Crisfield.

Republicans Ahead In Registration In Balto.

For the first time since there have been the Democratic and Republican parties as opponents the Republicans show a greater registration in Baltimore than the Democrats. Formerly the Democrats had a bulge of about 40,000 on the Republicans in Baltimore, and when the final count is made this year may be slightly in the lead, but to date they are in the rear by about 3000.

Totals are as follows: Democrats, 40,427; Republicans, 43,017; Independents, 11,287.

SHOT IN CRAPS GAME SUNDAY IN JERSEY

Sydney Wright Alleged To Have Fired Shot Which May Prove Fatal. Both Parties Colored.

As the result of a dispute in a craps game in Jersey, Sunday afternoon, followed by a fight, later on, and assailed the Democratic administration for "unpreparedness for peace" in its policy toward American shipping and other factors of financial and industrial rehabilitation.

Senator Harding also replied to charges that the Republican platform and policies are "reactionary," declaring it was true that his party wanted a "react" from an era of executive usurpation and re-establish orderly, constitutional government under "forward-looking progressive" policies.

The crowd which greeted the Republican nominee was the largest that has assembled in Baltimore in a generation, and for whole-souled enthusiasm was never before equaled. It is estimated that between 15,000 and 20,000 persons were in the hall when the meeting began, and the crowd numbered nearer 20,000 than 15,000. A conservative estimate would put the number at about 18,000. It was the biggest thing of its sort that has been held in Baltimore since the Bryan open-air meetings in 1896.

One notable feature of the gathering was the presence of an unusual number of women. The women of Maryland, having just been given the vote, took advantage of the first notable meeting held in Baltimore in the campaign to hear what a Presidential candidate had to say on the issues now before the people, and Senator Harding had no more thoughtful and attentive listeners in the crowd than the women.

Hunter, Mistaken For Squirrel, Was Shot

John Hastings, a Young Farmer, Dangerously Wounded While Out Squirreling.

John Hastings, a young farmer of Broad Creek, was accidentally shot while out squirreling, Saturday, by Isaiah Mitchell, also a young farmer living near Woodland.

Hastings was stooping down by the side of a big hickory tree where he had previously seen squirrels and Mitchell, who did not know Hastings was in the woods, saw something wavering near the butt of the tree which he thought was a squirrel's tail. It proved to be the arm of Hastings fanning away mosquitoes. Mitchell blazed away, the whole load taking effect in Hastings' arm and leg, he being in a crouching position beside the tree.

Hastings was hurried to a physician and succeeded in removing part of the shot. While he is in a very precarious condition, it is said he will recover.

Record-Breaking Audience Hears Harding In Baltimore

Promises Protective Tariff and Adequate Merchant Marine Policy In Fifth Regiment Armory Address. Huge Auditorium Packed In Biggest Local Political Rally In Generation. Many Women In Audience Join In Rousing Welcome For Republican Candidate.

Before an audience of 18,000 people or more, which crowded the big Fifth Regiment Armory, in Baltimore, Monday night, Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for President, flayed the Wilson administration for its conduct of the war and the burdening of the nation with an enormous war debt.

In his speech Senator Harding promised merchant marine policy insuring accessibility to all the markets of the world, linked with a protective tariff system to foster production at home.

The Republican Presidential nominee praised the Merchant Marine bill enacted at the last session of Congress and assailed the Democratic administration for "unpreparedness for peace" in its policy toward American shipping and other factors of financial and industrial rehabilitation.

Senator Harding also replied to charges that the Republican platform and policies are "reactionary," declaring it was true that his party wanted a "react" from an era of executive usurpation and re-establish orderly, constitutional government under "forward-looking progressive" policies.

Sea Machine at Wachapreague, Va., on Eastern Shore, Falls From Height of 500 Feet.

During the flight of a seaplane at Wachapreague Sunday afternoon, William Bell, 30 years old, pilot, and Harry Boulter, son of Charles Boulter, of Wachapreague, passenger, were instantly killed when the machine became uncontrollable because of engine trouble and plunged to the earth from a height of 500 feet.

The bodies of both victims were buried in the earth of the swamp and had to be dug out. The tragedy was witnessed by a large number of spectators who had gathered to watch the seacraft being made by Bell, who was arriving passengers on pleasure trips along the Atlantic coast. The accident occurred while the plane was descending. Bell is the son of William P. B. Bell, druggist, of Accomac, Va. During the war he served as an instructor at the aviation field at San Antonio, Texas. He leaves a widow and one child. The seaplane was owned by Bell.

REGISTRATION TUESDAY IN CITY OF SALISBURY

The first day's registration in Wicomico County was quite heavy, especially among the women, who persisted in registering the first day, fearing that something might happen to prevent them from enrolling their names as voters at some future date.

The fact that the registration offices were not closed until 9 p. m. prevented a counting up of the names Tuesday night, and as the reports were not in by the time the NEWS went to press Wednesday, we are unable to print a full tabulated statement of the entire county in this issue, but will do so as soon as the figures are attainable.

We can, however, give the results of the first day's registration in the three districts comprising the city of Salisbury—Parsons, Camden, and Salisbury—and these show a total registration for the first day of 966, affiliated as follows: Democrats, 547; Republicans, 390; Declined, 29. The figures by districts are:

Districts	Dem.	Rep.	Dec.
Parsons	207	166	14
Camden	194	74	5
Salisbury	146	150	10
	547	390	29

Every Voter Now Should Affiliate

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS NEARLY COMPLETED

Addition of Two Rooms To East Salisbury School To Be Occupied This Morning.

The improvements which have been under way to the East Salisbury Primary school for several weeks have been so nearly completed that Superintendent Bennett will order the occupancy of the two room this (Thursday) morning.

Each room is 24x28 ft and will seat about 40 pupils each, or a total of 80 children. Ample cloak room space is provided in the new addition and the lighting is along scientific lines laid down by the State Board of Education.

The completion of these two rooms will remove a situation which has been worrying the school officials for a long time and that was the placing of about 80 pupils on half time. Now there will be ample room to accommodate all the pupils attending the East Salisbury school, and the work will proceed more smoothly than for some time.

The patrons of this school are greatly pleased to have these improvements made. They have assisted in every possible way to facilitate the work.

The improvements have cost in the neighborhood of $6,000.

William H. Cook Tenders Resignation

Cashier Of Laurel Bank Over Four Years And Has Made Many Customers.

After four years of faithful and efficient service, William H. Cook, cashier of the Laurel branch of the Delaware Trust Company, has tendered his resignation as cashier, effective November 1st, and will devote his entire time to his wholesale grocery business.

At the organization of the Laurel Savings Bank and Trust Company in March 1916, Mr. Cook assumed the office of cashier and remained with this company until the business was taken over by the Delaware Trust Company, at which time he was appointed cashier for the local branch and has remained in that position up to the present time. During his stay in this bank he has made many friends and customers for the institution.

A few years ago Mr. Cook established a wholesale grocery business on a small scale, which has made a wonderful growth, and has been brought up to such proportions that it will require his entire time to superintend this business.

Mr. Willard H. Ellis, who is now assistant cashier of this branch will be appointed to the vacancy caused by Mr. Cook's resignation, and Mr. Samuel Ralph will be appointed assistant cashier.

The Women Enroll As New Voters

Registration Offices Open With Throngs In Line Waiting To Be Served.

RAIN DID NOT KEEP THE FAIR SEX HOME

Women Were Quick To Learn The Ropes. Had Evidently Been Coached Before Entering the Registration Offices. Treated With Utmost Courtesy By Men.

For the first time Wicomico women flocked to the registration offices last Tuesday to enroll among the voters of the county.

The day opened dark, with every indication of rain, and before the offices were opened rain began to fall and continued with occasional intermissions all day.

But the dampness of the weather did not dampen the ardor of the women and they remained in line until registered. The women appeared to like the novelty of the thing and were in the best of humor and chatted pleasantly while awaiting their turn.

In the larger districts of the county—notably Parsons, Salisbury, Camden, Pittsburg, Delmar and Nanticoke, the first day's rush taxed the capacity of the registration force and in some districts the women were not all registered when the hour for closing arrived, 9 p. m.

In Parsons, Nanticoke and Tyaskin districts the colored women were much in evidence, outnumbering the white women in the early morning hours.

A NEWS reporter visited Parsons district about 11 a. m. and found the room crowded. By actual count there were 37 white women and 22 colored women waiting to be registered.

Reports from the two districts on the west side of the county—Nanticoke and Tyaskin—showed that the colored women greatly outnumbered the white women.

The collision occurred on the corner of Church and Division streets when the car and cart tried to pass between two cars that were parked on each side of the street. The driver of the car found that it was impossible and he put on his brakes which failed to hold, the car striking the cart. Although no one was hurt, the car was torn up badly, the cart escaping without a scratch. The radiator of the car was pushed back and punctured, which caused it to leak. The mudguard next to the cart was bent, and the lights were smashed. The drivers succeeded in separating the two vehicles and both proceeded on their journey.

WHY IS OCTOBER 8th. FAMOUS IN THE ECONOMIC ANNALS OF SALISBURY?

Because that is the date on which Benjamin's opened its doors to the Salisbury buying public. Just five years ago Benjamin's began its career as the home of fashions for the shopping center of the peninsula; as the exclusive shop where the discriminating woman who loves beauty and quality could find just the thing she wanted; as the store where courtesy and service are on a par with the quality and beauty of the goods displayed.

Five years have rolled away, but Benjamin's is the same attractively alluring shop, larger, more modern, giving better service, displaying more beautiful goods—but still maintaining its constant standards of quality, courtesy, service and distinctiveness.

And so it is that on our fifth birthday we bid you welcome to our wonderful anniversary sale, a sale the like of which you have never seen. We want you to realize how largely you have contributed to our success. To show our appreciation, we will offer for your benefit some fascinating specials which will be advertised in detail on this page in next week's issue. We thank you for your friendship through these five years, and assure you that we shall always do our utmost to retain it.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME Health Promotion

Health is at the foundation of human happiness. Through its Rural Service, Public Health Nursing Service and Health Center Service, the American Red Cross aims greatly to strengthen this foundation and to draw more closely than ever the neighborly ties that bind the American people together. Here is shown a Red Cross Public Health nurse attending a young mother with a brand new baby, seeing that both receive scientific care.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME Eastern Europe

Americans who contribute to the Red Cross would feel amply repaid for their generosity if they could see what it means to hundreds of thousands of war weary sufferers in the Balkans. Here is a widowed Roumanian mother with her five children just after a visit to a Red Cross relief station. All are barefoot and the boy at the left is wearing clothes made of scraps from the battlefield. They have just received winter clothing, food and condensed milk for the baby. Similar work is being done for Russian refugees driven from home.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME Junior Red Cross

SALISBURY BOYS HAD NARROW ESCAPE SUNDAY

Frank Parsons and Harlan Shipley narrowly escaped being drowned Sunday when their car backed off in the Nanticoke river, at Seaford. The car plunged down a hill about thirty feet and was damaged but slightly. The boys jumped from the descending car, thus escaping the water below. After obtaining a truck with a block and fall, the car was pulled out of the water, and the boys, not injured, but very much frightened, returned home.

BRIEF HAPPENINGS IN DORCHESTER CO.

What has become of the automobile of Raymond Neal, son of Mr. John H. Neal, of Airlys, is a question that is giving Sheriff Mowbray and the police officials quite a little trouble. The car was taken Saturday night from off the lot in front of the S. H. Mills & Co. garage and thus far no trace of it has been obtained.

The contract for the building of the state road to connect the end of the Mount Holly road with the end of the Church Creek road, which was let about the middle of August, calls for the completion of the job in about ten weeks after the work is started. The contract for this job, as well as the job at Hurlock, was let to the Peninsula Construction Co., of Bridgeville, Del. Work has already been started on the contract at Hurlock, which connects the Main street stretch with the Federalsburg road.

American Red Cross Announces Budget of $48,200,000 For Current Year.

NEW DISASTER RELIEF PLAN

Continuance of Heavy Work Abroad Deemed Necessary to Protect United States—$21,000,000 Less Than Last Year.

A program of relief and service to ward which appropriations of $48,200,000 have been made has been outlined for the American Red Cross for the fiscal year, July 1, 1920, to July 1, 1921, according to official announcement by national headquarters of the organization at Washington. The figures for 1920-21 are $21,000,000 below those of 1919-20, in which $69,400,000 was spent.

Important among the items of the budget for the present year is the appropriation of $31,500,000 for relief in foreign lands, which includes $11,000,000 in purchased supplies on hand and not distributed.

Must Protect United States.

This will enable the American Red Cross to continue its humanitarian effort to aid stricken peoples to re-establish themselves, to fight the disease epidemics which threaten many countries and to efface largely the remaining traces of the blight left by the World War. It is regarded as social as well as physical sanitation on a large scale that will have a direct bearing on future conditions in America.

Central Europe, the chief sufferer from the conflict, today is facing another winter of famine, pestilence and ruin. Typhus decreased much during the summer months where last winter it had its greatest stronghold, but physicians who investigated the situation at the behest of the League of Red Cross Societies have given their unqualified opinion that this coming winter will see a recurrence on an unprecedented scale. The Red Cross feels it must continue preventive measures abroad to keep this and other deadly maladies from the United States.

Millions for Work at Home.

When the disease was sweeping Central Europe last winter the American Red Cross, with the aid of the governments of afflicted nations, undertook the fight against it. Hospitals were established wherever possible and food and clothing were distributed to the unfortunates. The Red Cross, who by reason of their undernourishment were easy prey to the epidemics. Where disorganization contributed last year to the great inroads made by the disease, by virtue of its knowledge of the disease and the presence of well established hospital centers, the American Red Cross this year will undertake the work with a new confidence.

Including the total of $11,000,000 in supplies left from the last fiscal year, the $31,500,000 is $21,000,000 less than the expenditures for 1919-20.

Appropriations for domestic activities total $18,700,000.

The largest item of this "home" budget is $7,800,000 for civilian relief work. This includes service and assistance for families of soldiers, sailors and marines, and work incidental to disaster. Of the total appropriation for civilian relief, $5,000,000 is held in reserve for the carrying out of actual disaster relief.

Reduced Overhead Expense.

The Red Cross invariably is the first thought of a community visited by calamity. With this in mind, it was determined by the Executive Committee in preparing the budget of 1919-20 to have a fixed reserve fund from which to draw in these instances.

For assistance to soldiers, sailors and marines in hospitals and in camps this year $1,000,000 has been set aside. Four million two hundred thousand dollars has been appropriated for improvement of health and prevention of disease throughout the United States during the current twelve months. The Red Cross is co-operating fully with the United States Health Service in this work and through its Junior Red Cross is doing much to spread among children the principles of sanitation. An appropriation of $1,000,000 has been made for developing the peace time program of the Red Cross by service to its chapters in all regions.

The appropriation of $48,200,000 is exclusive of the local expenditures of the 3,000 or more chapters.

Administration expenses this year will be $1,800,000. Last year they were $2,500,000.

A Joyous Idealist

By ALVAH JORDAN GARTH

(© 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

"Look up," called John Lane cheerily. "You'll get over the eyecids in time if you don't take a gloat at the sunshine and the blue sky once in a while."

The life of the office brought his hand down on the broad, bent back of the bookkeeper with a brotherly slap, and then faced him all smiles and good nature.

"Don't be like a quadruped hunting for acorns and never looking up to see if it's an elm or an oak he's under," proceeded Lane.

The aged bookkeeper looked up with clearing face.

"Confidentially," observed the bookkeeper, sniffling now, "I wasn't mooning or blue, but I was trying to figure out how I was going to spare enough from monthly stipend to pay for a double cradle."

"You don't mean—" cried Lane boisterously.

"Twins, yes, I do," nodded the other animatedly. "Girls. Saturday night."

"Isn't it strange, now," exulted Lane. "Double cradles? Got a friend who has one, anxious to get rid of it."

The bookkeeper followed Lane as he moved away with a gleam of marked suspicion in his eye. Looking back for five years, he could recall many and many instances where this cover of happiness had sprung into the breach to face the needs and troubles of others. Always he seemed to be most provisionally equipped to act as almoner or practical adviser. When Ned Dobby, a clerk, had broken down in health and had to be sent to Colorado, Lane had lobbied up miraculously with a railroad ticket. "Stand in with the official, see?" he had intimated with an audacious smile.

Right now he lifted from his desk a bouquet done up in paper and with it advanced to the desk of Miss Ava Reade, the stenographer.

"For mother," he whispered rapidly. "Getting better and better every day. I hear."

"Yes, thanks to you," replied Miss Reade with humid eyes. "The operation you paid for has saved her life. I hope our constant prayers bring you blessings. And now you go and rob your garden."

"Nonsense! Ridiculous! Thousands left—one solid mass of bloom!"

As to those acres of flower bloom, as to the friends who had overcoats to give away in winter and double cradles and railroad tickets, this assuring romanticist glided over his lunghary friends and possessions too airily for the office force to explore the real facts. With his more artless beneficiaries Lane was rich, lived in a regal home probably with extensive grounds, seeing that a bouquet on every suitable occasion was readily forthcoming.

If pretty Ava Reade ever suspected that this great souled philanthropist was given to exaggeration, she adored him all the more for the sacrifice, the unselfish devotion to humanity that must be the sole mainspring of his generosity. She was the first to show solicitude when one day, word had come by phone that he was ill. By the end of the week it was said that he was under the care of a physician. Ava went to the cashier and asked for Mr. Lane's home address.

"Queer," remarked the cashier, looking over his books, "but Lane never gave us that. Never had occasion to ask him, for this is the first time he ever missed a day." Ava mentioned this to her mother. The old lady immediately went to a kitchen shelf where she kept odd pieces of string and waste paper.

"Yes, I saved it," she said, unfolding the paper that had surrounded the flowers Lane had sent. "I noticed his name written in pencil and a poster bearing the name of a laundry. Here it is."

It was late Saturday afternoon when Ava started out to visit the laundry. The people there gave her the address of Lane, and Ava looked surprised and almost dismayed. The fictions of her stomach and helpful friends were apparent as she located a poor tenement and was shown to a room one floor below the attic. From inside came a babel of juvenile glee.

Upon a couch in the stuffy, sparsely-furnished room lay Lane, pale and attenuated, but smiling bravely and encouraging half a dozen ragged, unkempt little ones to continue feasting upon ice cream and cakes set on a table. In one of the windows was a little rude box filled with growing flowers. This, then, was his royal abode that two by four window space, his "solid mass of bloom."

Ava glided to a corner of the hall and had a good cry. Then she hurried home. There her mother joined her with companion tears. Thence both departed in a hasty carriage an hour later, to remove John Lane from discomfort, and almost squalor, to their own neat, comfortable home.

And of the world, but couldn't help it," confessed Lane, and as always his wan face full of sunshine. "So many needed what I earned more than myself. And see the friends I've made. You two alone are enough to fill a life with joy. Don't you see, it's a thing worth caring for in life. It's not just my heart is full of it for all humanity."

"Particularly for you, Ava," he supplemented next day. "What say?"

What Ava said came to Ava's mother a loving and beloved son-in-law before the year was over.

HIGH SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

This space will be used weekly to inform the public of the activities of the Wicomico High School. One or more of the students will be the writers of the articles.

The Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes of the Wicomico High School, were organized last week. Considerable excitement was manifested throughout the school especially among the Seniors. The classes realized that they must have officers that could ably represent them and that were willing to work of the betterment of their respective classes. We feel that good selections were made, the following being a list of officers installed:

Senior Class—Fred McBrierty, president; William Cooper, vice-president; Calvin Hastings, secretary; Sue Wright, treasurer.

Junior Class—Bertha Adkins, president; Bruce Dickinson, vice-president; Stanley Bailey, secretary; Fulton Brewington, treasurer.

Sophomore Class—Lloyd Hopkins, president; William Chiswel, vice-president; Elizabeth Williamson, secretary; Mildred Brittingham, treasurer.

In electing these officers it can be said that none better could have been selected, for in the years they have been in the school their progressive-ness and determination show them worthy of the honor.

Friday's schedule was used Wednesday in order that the Lyceum Campaign could be launched before the end of the week. A committee of five were appointed to begin work immediately to subscribe for season tickets. This committee consists of Edward Adkins, chairman, Ruth Silverman, Lucille Gullette, Wilmer Davis and Fred McBrierty. The Co-operation of the people of Salisbury with this committee is very much desired. We feel you will enjoy the privilege of helping the school and in return a fine, carefully selected entertainment will be given you.

The News will publish before each attraction, the time and place where they will be held.

Car Crowded Off Road Hits Tel. Pole

Clarence And Andrew Phillips Have Bad Accident Near Byrd's Sliding Last Sunday Afternoon.

Clarence Phillips and brother, Andrew were severely injured Sunday when their car struck a telephone pole about one-half mile from Byrd's Switch. Andrew was driving the car at the time of the accident and in an attempt to pass another car was, it is alleged, crowded off the road by the other driver and hit the pole. The other driver did not stop to offer assistance, but kept on going and his identity was not found out. A car happened along about the time of the accident and the men were brought to the hospital. Clarence sustained injuries about the hands, while Andrew was severely cut about the face. Both suffered from loss of blood. Their car, which was an Overland, suffered the loss of a front wheel and was badly torn up.

SPECIAL SESSION ENDED.

The dispatch with which the special session of the Legislature transacted the business for which it was convened is to be commended and the leaders of the two old parties are sharing in the good words of praise coming from the people of the State, that the session was not prolonged, at great expense to the taxpayers.

The Legislature was called primarily for the purpose of enacting measures increasing the facilities for registering and voting in order to handle the women's votes, and this work was accomplished in a little more than 48 hours from the time of convening—a record which merits commendation.

The two bills favored by Governor Ritchie were passed. One provides two additional days of registration in both city and counties; adds to the election hours in both city and counties; provides that election supervisors in the city may provide for a polling place in each precinct having more than 800 registrants, and that election supervisors in the counties must do so, and permits the election supervisors in the counties, with consent of the county commissioners, to increase the pay of registration officials $2 a day.

The bills introduced by the Republicans—repealing the Declaration of Intention, the Affidavit of Removal, and the simplification of the ballot—were each defeated by a strict party vote. The resolution to ratify the Federal Suffrage amendment, favored by the Republican leaders, was also snowed under.

The cost of the extra session was about $15,000.

OUR SENATOR.

Come what may the voters of Maryland must elect either John Walter Smith or Ovington E. Weller to represent the State in the United States Senate for the term of six years beginning the fourth of March next. Which shall it be, the man who is a typical Marylander, with a life of service to all the people, identified intimately with its progress, responsive to its calls and opportunities, with a great record of constructive usefulness and an unsurpassed influence in national legislation, or a man who is untried in public affairs, whose value in legislative work is unknown, whose touch with the people of Maryland is slight and whose sole experience in office was a few years as head of the road building, a going operation fully organized, in which the real work was done by others?

Senator Smith's record is an open book full of results for the State and of kindly acts for Maryland men, women and children, irrespective of party or creed.

Mr. Weller's record is so bare that all the stress of his campaign is placed upon the few years of commonplace service as road chairman and Marylanders do not know him save as a Republican politician who engineered his own nomination for Senator and who has failed even to claim any special fitness for the office. In both performance and promise he is the most negligible candidate for high office that has appeared in Maryland politics.

Senator John Walter Smith was renominated by universal demand on his record as a public servant and thousands of Republicans will join the solid vote of his own party in reelecting him.

Mr. Weller nominated himself. Even the Republican newspapers held back. There was no call from the people. The able and outstanding Republicans of the State declined to enter a factional fight of their party which had been engendered largely by Mr. Weller, and thus he slyly managed events to his own nomination, a nomination that the Republicans themselves say is the low water mark in the history of their party in Maryland.

Not only is Senator Smith the far better man with a great record of service to all the people, but he is the real friend and servant of the people and knows how to meet their needs and do their work. For example, since the great war he has helped more than five thousand Marylanders and there has never been any question about politics or religion.

No man in Maryland's long life has a finer or larger credit of constructive achievement. He has done great things for the State and has done them well.

To him we owe free school books, a law that has saved money and trouble to every home in Maryland.

To him we owe the noble work of the State in building modern sanitariums for the free help and cure of those afflicted with tuberculosis. The sanitarium at Sabillasville is one of the best in the world and today nearly five hundred Marylanders are there for treatment. The sanitarium for the colored people will soon be built.

Senator Smith's interest in the education and health of the State has been unflagging. For a generation he has worked in cooperation with experts and scientists in the development of medicine and sanitation, so that today Maryland is famed everywhere for its leadership in the facilities that protect and promote health.

He was the main factor in securing Camp Meade and in moving the TNT danger from Baltimore and his other services during the war were of incalculable benefit to Maryland. While working all the time for the whole State his efforts for Baltimore were wonderfully fine. When the business bodies of any city of Maryland want aid or act they go to Senator Smith. Ask the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, the largest business organization in the South, about the co-operation it has always received from Senator Smith and the members will tell you how well he has served the business interests of the city of Baltimore and how zealously he has worked for everything that could increase the value of the port. He has played a great part in making Baltimore one of the great ports and manufacturing centers of America.

These are just a few of his many services. The big fact is that in Senator Smith Maryland has an asset in the United States Senate and in all national affairs that it would be pure folly to throw away by voting for a politician of no record or broad experience in public life.

Add to that the value of Senator Smith's close personal relation to the people of Maryland. He is the type of man who takes pride as well as pleasure in helping others. To a very unusual degree he is the Senator of every man, woman and child in Maryland. Not one of them ever asked a possible service that he did not readily grant.

John Walter Smith has been the Senator from Maryland in the finest, broadest, most useful sense and he should have the votes of all Marylanders who have the best interest of their State at heart. As his usefulness has gone beyond all party lines so his support should come from all parties.

TWO CANDIDATES.

There is a notable article in that eminently progressive and Presbyterian weekly, The Outlook, entitled "Harding and Cox as Newspaper Men." There is no way by which a truer estimate of these two men can be had than by comparing their aims and accomplishments as newspaper men.

Harding's paper is the "Marion Star." It is printed in a double story red brick building such as one will find in every town having a "Main Street." Its front page contains not a single heading wider than one column. It is said to be a sane, staid newspaper, with no higher ambition than to tell the truth and to report the news that is really worth while.

It is said that when Senator Harding returned to Marion just before the Chicago convention there was a small "local" to that effect in the "Star." The editor was reproved by Senator Harding for publishing news not worth while. That is a unique incident of political modesty.

The "Dayton Daily News" is the paper of Cox. Its home is an imposing structure of white marble and plate glass, like a post office in the golden age of the pork barrel. Across the entire front of the first page is spread, "Cox Charges Senators With Conspiracy." Just under that, with the same length, but slightly less height, appears, "Italy on Brink of Red Revolution." A two column headline just at the right is, "Governor Says Money Diggers Begin To Dodge" and just below this is announced, presumably as a quotation from the Governor, "Most Diabolical Conspiracy in the History of the World."

It is evident that the editor of the "Dayton News" is under no orders not to mention the name of the paper's owner, his deeds and sayings.

What more need we say. Bombast as against modesty, news displayed to startle as against news told to enlighten. And it was this same "Dayton News" that contained the apologies for the sinking of the Lusitania.

If any one is still not convinced or thinks that the papers may not correctly set forth the men who own them, let them read Harding's program for the farmers and then read Cox on the "Most Diabolical Conspiracy in the History of the World."

Both types of men have their place in the world. The News prefers the Harding type for President and the Cox type for the publishing of sensational newspapers.

THE OLD REGIME PASSES.

That day has passed in which the people preferred their political pellets prescribed for them by partisan papers. The intelligent electorate, growing ever more alert to its potential powers, is demanding intelligent, unbiased journalism. A jury must hear both sides of a case at trial in order to form a fair opinion; so must the voters of the nation be fully informed as to all the political parties, for only then can they cast an intelligent vote.

Long years ago the battle for democracy was fought and won. The pernicious doctrine of the divine right of kings gave place to the true doctrine that the voice of the people is the voice of God. Never will the American people permit a reversion to the old regime. To hold that a man is infallibly right because he is a Democrat or a Republican or a Socialist, and for no other reason, is to hold that the divine right of kings has given place to the divine right of party, and to deny that the people reign supreme. The sovereign will of America is the will of the people and it chooses independently men and principles, not party and political expedients.

The newspaper today that truly serves the people it represents is the one that fearlessly lays before the electorate all the facts at its command, leaving the people to form their own opinions based, not on biased political prejudice, but on facts. So it is that each year more of the great journals join the ranks of the independent, and support for public office those men whom, regardless of party affiliations, they deem best fitted to serve the nation. A leading Baltimore paper not long ago struck the keynote of the present journalistic tendency when it exclaimed editorially that it trusted it would never degenerate into a party organ.

The newspaper is a public enterprise more than a public utility. As such it owes its public duty to the truth, and the truth is not to be distorted to color the news, or to give a way as to mislead its readers, or to satisfy both itself and its reading public. To give half a truth is as bad as a deliberate falsehood. The atheist quotes truly the Bible is saying "There is no God," but he omits the vital part of the truth that "The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God."

IN MEMORIAM. In memory of my Mother, who died Friday, September 24th, 1920. You are dead to us dear Mother, But as a star unseen We feel that you are near us. Though death intrudes between, Had she asked us, well we know, And while aching hearts would say, Lord, we love her, let her stay, In peace she lived, in peace she died, Her life was asked, but God denied, The trial is hard the pain severe, To part with one we love so dear, But in our hearts she shall remain Until we meet in Heaven again, By her daughter, MRS. PLANNING TO HAVE CRACK MILITARY CO.

Expect To Have Company Participate In The Next Inaugural Parade. Four New Members Join.

The first regular meeting of Company "I," First Infantry, M. N. G., as a unit of the military establishment was held in the Armory Monday night at 8 o'clock. The recruits were drilled by former overseas veterans in foot movements and rudimentary principles. The men were interested in their work and it is expected that the company will be able to make a very creditable showing within two or three months. Every effort will be made to have a crack company in time to participate in the next inaugural parade.

Four new members were added to the organization, bringing its almost within the goal of federalization. The four most recent recruits are John L. Morris, Charles E. Tilghman, Edward Strman and John D. Lank. The total enrollment now is 43, and a number of other prospects will probably sign up shortly. Non-commissioned officers have not yet been appointed, but it is expected that Captain Russell will announce the berths within a few days.

WICOMICO FARMERS' ASSOCIATION FORMED

Will Be Operated Along The General Lines of a Produce Exchange. To Be Incorporated.

The farmers of Wicomico county met on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the call of County Agent George E. Cobb to form a co-operative organization for the marketing of farm products. The meeting was held at the Court House and was exceptionally well attended by interested agriculturists. The organization proposed shows a very aggressive policy of progress, and if carried out on the right line will undoubtedly mean much to the farmers of the Eastern Shore.

The Association, to be known as the Wicomico Farmers' Association, will be incorporated and operated along the general lines of a produce exchange. A competent man will be placed in charge of the work of the Association just as soon as enough stock has been subscribed and a large enough membership assured.

At the meeting Saturday the following directors were elected: E. E. Twilley, prominently connected with the Salisbury Realty Company and an eminent Democrat; W. C. Mitchell, president of the Board of County Commissioners and one of the most progressive farmers in this section; W. F. Allen, well known fruit grower and actively interested in establishing the produce auction block at Salisbury; D. J. Hastings, Charles E. Tilghman, T. Wakeman and County Agent Cobb.

When the main branch is established in Salisbury, meetings will be held in Delmar, Pittsville, Hebron and other surrounding towns in an endeavor to secure large representation in those localities. Every shipping point in the county will have a local branch if enough members can be secured to warrant it. The local organization will have a committee and one director who will attend to the affairs of the association in their particular section. The Association will buy the produce from the farmers and sell it direct to the city markets, eliminating the commission men who come into the local markets annually and practically control them. As the co-operative association will buy produce outright, the farmer's money will be guaranteed. Worry about the possible loss of cash through bad accounts will cease. A considerable amount of money has been lost through misplaced trust in certain buyers, and it will be the object of the association to see that this is made impossible. The proposed organization will be incorporated under the laws of the State of Maryland, and will guarantee the farmers against loss through bad credits.

Each local branch will have its own particular brands to market. If the products do not come up to a high standard, set by the association, the association will not market them. The farmer can in that case, of course, ship of his own accord. An inspector will be detailed at each branch and will label all products that pass the tests. Prices will be guaranteed, it is said, for all produce that comes up to the mark.

The farmers may rest assured that the auction block for the coming year will be operated. At present the officers and directors of the new association are getting things in shape to take care of the potato crop.

The next meeting of the association will be held at the Court House on Saturday, October 9th. The farmers have plenty of time to think over the advantages and disadvantages of membership in such a progressive co-operative organization as this before that meeting takes place. It is the hope and expectation that the proposal made by the leading farmers of the county will be universally accepted by the farmers of this section.

TWO OLD CHURCHES TO HOLD CELEBRATIONS

Rock Presbyterian in Cecil County Was Founded Before Revolution, in 1720.

Elaborate preparations are being made by the congregation of the Rock Presbyterian Church, six miles north of Elkton, for the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the church, which was in October, 1720. Arrangements have been made by the pastor, the Rev. William Davies, for the Presbytery of New Castle, composed of all the Presbyterian churches in Delaware and Eastern Shore of Maryland to take part in the exercises also.

During the celebration the New Castle Presbytery will meet in annual session in the church, and preparations are being made to entertain a large number of visiting clergymen and laymen at homes in Fair Hill, near which the church is located.

The original name of the place of worship was Elk River Church. The General Assembly of Maryland, by an act in 1800, made the title "The Rock Presbyterian Church in North Milford Hundred, Cecil county, State of Maryland."

The first church building was located at the Stone Graveyard, Lewisville, and may have been a small log house. The second building was erected by the New Side congregation, about 1741, at Sharp's Graveyard, near Fair Hill. The present building is of stone. The present church was rededicated on July 4, 1872.

Color Brilliance in The Autumn Millinery

The clever and trained use of color in millinery accomplishes amazingly smart effects as all followers of the mode know. So you will be interested to see how color brilliancy has been used in more or less restrained forms, on many of the new models just in from New York.

On occasion the color dominates the hat, as in some of the brilliant duvetyns and satins. Others are examples of the deft introduction of some novelty carefully selected from the scores of very original trimming ideas that have come over from France.

We are showing an extensive collection of brilliant millinery priced at $5.00 to $18.00.

Types of this mode, which undoubtedly dominate the fashion in coats for Autumn and Winter, are here in the newest New York interpretations.

The new coat styles featuring the rich plushes, velours and bolivias will form one of the most interesting exhibitions of the opening weeks of the season in the fashion section.

Coats are priced at $20.00 to $60.00.

Hunters Asked To Save Game

State Warden Gives Directions How Propagation and Conservation May Be Aided.

GOOD SHOOTING IS IN SIGHT, HE SAYS

According to Letter, Plentiful Supply Of Birds Will Be On Hand This Year. Land Owners Also Appealed To. Asks Them To Help Enforce The Game Laws.

State Game Warden LeCompte, in a letter to the sportsmen of the county, says:

"If game is plentiful in your locality, try and keep it so by insisting that all hunters observe thoroughly the game laws of the state. It is not too late now to save enough game this season to assure the sportsmen ample shooting for another season by observing the bag limit and by leaving brooders to propagate during the season of 1921.

"After a bevy of birds is shot down to four to six birds, they should be left alone during the remainder of the hunting season to propagate for the next season. Unless we have production during the brooding season we will not have good hunting during the open season, and to get production the sportsmen, landowners and others must unite and work in cooperation with this department to see that the birds in their locality get the proper amount of protection and food during the time they need it the most.

Reports from throughout the county are to the effect that game of all species is plentiful this season and the sportsmen should be afforded excellent hunting. This department has used every effort to increase the game supply in this state, and from reports our efforts have not been entirely in vain. However, to increase further the supply we must have the co-operation of the public in the enforcement of the game laws."

WARM WORDS FOR LOCAL TALL CEDARS

Editor Adams Of Monthly Tall Cedars, Makes Great Predictions For Local Forest.

When Mr. C. E. Adams, editor of The Monthly Tall Cedars, was approached relative to the local body of Tall Cedars, he had the following very complimentary words to say:

"It is unnecessary to here recount the healthy growth of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon since its inception as an organization some 25 years ago. On the other hand I feel that it is proper to set forth the fact that the local Forest, Eastern-sho, No. 13, has been a great promoter of sociability throughout its existence and has been the means of still further cementing the ties which bind Free Masons one to the other. This condition has been brought about because the Forest has been most fortunate in having as its directors, unselfish workers, who spared no personal effort to make for progress. At his writing I see no reason why the good work should not continue as the Forest is well provided with seasoned granddull timber in the persons of Herbert Rife, Herman L. Purnell, J. K. Valiant, and Fred A. Grier, all of whom have for years been noted for their consistent efforts to promote good fellowship in Masonic circles. With these live wires as leaders and with the clerical and financial departments in the competent hands of I. Lanwood Price, Jr., we feel that the future performances of Eastern-sho Forest are bound to eclipse those of the past."

ASBURY PRESENTED WITH BAPTISMAL FONT

With solemn and impressive services which were witnessed by a very large congregation, a beautiful marble baptismal font was unveiled in Asbury M. E. Church, last Sunday morning. The font was a loving gift from Mrs. Raymond K. Truitt in memory of her late husband, whose life was spent in this city, and who engaged the friendship and esteem of our people universally. The unveiling was done by the two sons of Mrs. Truitt, Ray and James. The gift was accepted by the pastor, Dr. Herson

SALISBURY GRANGE HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING

State Organizer Anthony Addressed The Grange Saturday Night. Spoke Of Its Good Points.

A special meeting of the Salisbury Grange was held last Saturday night to hear the state organizer and chairman James J. Anthony speak. The audience was unusually large and enthusiastic.

Mr. Anthony has been a member of the grange for nearly half a century and has studied conditions in prosperity and in adversity. He was, therefore, well qualified to speak of the service which the grange renders the farmer.

The grange is a non-political and non-sectarian organization of farmers. Agriculture is the only profession that entitles a person to membership. According to Mr. Anthony, the grange is second in importance only to the church and grange degree work strongly calls to mind the church.

Not only has the organization secured beneficial legislation for the farmers, but has done much to broaden the intellectual lives of the members and of the entire public. Recently the grange endeavored to have legislation put through that would make it necessary for commission agents of farm produce to give bond as a substantial guarantee, thus insuring to some degree the farmers against loss. At the same time an effort was made to have Sunday restrictions that are now openly violated, strictly enforced.

Concluding, Mr. Anthony, urged all members to consider their obligations to the grange which include attendance at meetings, even more than prompt settlement of dues. It is expected that the grange meetings will be well attended this winter.

LAUREL LOSES GOOD PRIMARY TEACHER

Miss Lida Lynch, who had been in charge of the primary department of Laurel public schools for the past 13 years, has come to Wilmington and is engaged in the same work in the schools of that city. Miss Lynch, who is considered by many to be the best primary teacher in the lower part of the state, having made that branch of the work a particular study, had made many friends here during her stay who considered that she was almost as much a part of the local schools as the buildings themselves and her loss is keenly felt.

PHONE COMPANY WILL MAKE BIG IMPROVEMENTS

$3,000,000 Program Scheduled For Maryland

Approximately $3,000,000 will be spent in the immediate future in extending telephone plant facilities and improving the service in Maryland. This announcement by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, following closely upon the establishment of new rates by the Public Service Commission, indicates clearly the steps the Company is taking to bring the service up to the highest standards of efficiency.

F. S. Whitman, division manager of the C. & P., said that the Company expects to spend $10,000,000 on improvements in the next three years. The new rates enable the Company to go ahead with a comprehensive program, he said, and projects totaling $3,000,000 have already been approved and operations started in many cases. A good deal now depends on the Company's ability to get the materials needed, but every possible effort is being made to secure them.

The construction schedule is a lengthy one. In Cumberland, the growing requirements of the city will be met by extensive additions to the underground and overhead cable systems. Cumberland's population has been jumping rapidly and it is expected to double within the next four years. To take care of the increased demand for telephone service, the Company's plant is now being enlarged by a pole line, 15,210 feet of overhead cable and approximately 7,900 feet of underground cable. Several other branch cable and pole lines will be needed later.

In Hagerstown, increased facilities will be provided by the installation of a new switchboard section and 500 additional subscriber lines, bringing the total number of lines which can be served up to 2,600. The present method of handling toll calls will be changed and improved, and audible ringing apparatus will be installed.

In Montgomery County, repairs will be made on the toll lines between Washington and Frederick, Gaithersburg and Damascus and Gaithersburg and Poolesville.

Some of the more important projects to be undertaken in and near Baltimore are building and equipping a new central office, equipping a school for student operators, new cables and extensions in various parts of the city and its suburbs, and the equipment of a new central office at St. Helena.

In addition to these, there are scores of operations to be undertaken in other parts of the State that are of lesser magnitude, but of first importance to the communities where the improvements will be made.

NEWS OF THE PEOPLE OF SOMERSET COUNTY

The army worm is causing considerable damage in several fields in the county. One field of 12 acres of rye has been destroyed by the insects during the last two weeks. The insects have also caused some damage to corn. Farmers should closely watch their fields, and at the first appearance of the insects the county agent should be notified and he will gladly assist in controlling them.

Following a largely attended meeting of taxpayers of Crisfield, held Tuesday night, injunction proceedings were filed in the Circuit Court of Somerset county on Wednesday, to halt the re-assessment of personal and real property in Crisfield which was authorized by the mayor and council last month and which has since been in progress. The petitioners are 22 taxpayers, who retained former Attorney General Isaac Lobe Straus and Gordon Tull to represent them in the case. The petition which was filed on Wednesday, alleges numerous irregularities in the manner in which the re-assessment has been conducted, and challenges the legality of the resolution ordering the assessment which was passed by the city council at its August meeting.

For the purpose of arranging for the introduction and passage of a bill in the extra session of the legislature, bonding Crisfield for $50,000, the mayor and council of Crisfield held a special meeting Wednesday evening. It was arranged that the bond bill, now being prepared by the mayor and council, should be introduced in the senate by Senator Robins, and in the house by Delegate Milbourne simultaneously. It is understood that the bill is to become effective immediately upon its passage, in order that the $50,000 provided by the bond issue may be secured by the mayor and council without delay.

The first annual field meeting of the Somerset County Agricultural association will be held Thursday, October 7th, on the farm of F. M. Cline, near Princess Anne, on the river road leading to Revell's Neck. A tractor demonstration will be held in the morning beginning at 10 o'clock. There will be an inspection trip to a nearby pine woods conducted by Assistant State Forester J. A. Cope. Mr. Cope will give a demonstration in the proper thinning of pine woods and the best methods of handling the farm wood lot will be explained. There will also be a talk by Dr. I. K. Atherton on the single and double treatment for the control of hog cholera.

BRIEF HAPPENINGS IN WORCESTER CO.

A stalk of corn measuring 12 feet from the ground to the top of the tassel was placed on exhibition by Mr. W. E. Timmons in front of the First National bank last Saturday. It had three well developed ears of corn, the lowest being so high on the stalk that it could not be reached from the ground. The stalk grew in the field of Mr. Timmons on his farm on the State road near Wesley.—Snow Hill Messenger.

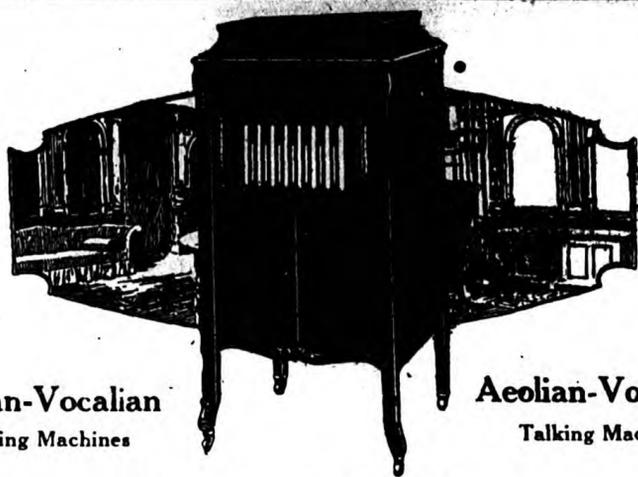

Mr. Thomas H. Griffin, a well-known resident of Girdletree, died last week. Mr. Griffin was born at Ocean City in 1842, but for 23 years has been a resident of Girdletree.

A large committee of citizens appeared before the county commissioners at their meeting on Tuesday and petitioned the commissioners to repair the road to Public Landing. Some of the petitioners wanted a concrete road, which would cost about $200,000, others desired a good dirt road. The majority seemed to be in favor of having the road properly drained this fall and graded in the spring.

At the meeting held on Saturday to discuss the holding of a Community Show it was unanimously decided that a show would be held at Snow Hill for this section of the county. About 30 men and women from Snow Hill and vicinity were present, and committees were appointed so that at least one representative should come from each locality, to arrange for all the details of the show. It is believed by those present that from all the good things grown in Worcester county a very creditable show can be given and it is the intention of the committees to make it the best ever held in the county.

Four Splendid Business Building Lots

At the Southern Gateway (Corner of E. Camden and Dock Streets) in the busy city of Salisbury, Maryland

At Auction On the Premises FRIDAY, OCT. 8th, at 10.30 a.m. On Easy Terms

Size, Location and Advantages of these Valuable Business Sites

Three of these lots front 18 feet each on Dock Street (the same size of the adjoining lot on which there is a large brick store building) and extend back a depth of nearly 79 feet to an alley in the rear of them.

The lot adjoining the brick building mentioned, will be sold with the privilege of using the "party wall" of this building, a big economical advantage in that it will save one wall in the construction of a building on this vacant lot. The fourth lot is a large one, and a most valuable corner, being at the intersection of East Camden and Dock Streets, it has a frontage of 28 feet on Dock Street with a good width in the rear, but not quite so wide as the front. Being on the corner it has special advantages for large display windows fronting each of these important thoroughfares.

The geographical location of this property makes it decidedly the most valuable unimproved Business Property in Salisbury. There are practically no other prominent vacant business sites in the city. The cramped, crowded and congested condition of the business area of Salisbury has almost reached an acute stage. That business area must expand every one in the busy city knows, where will it go? is the question everybody is asking. The great volume of trade now knocking at the doors of Salisbury must be taken care of. Expansion is necessary to do so, and unless this trade can be properly taken care of it means serious detriment to the growth and prosperity of the city. We wish to put the location of this splendid property squarely up to any business, seeking a new location or engaging in a new enterprise. This property is at the intersection of two of Salisbury's most important streets—Dock and East Camden—It also faces the bridge leading from Camden Avenue to the Business Center of the City. Camden Avenue is the Great Thorofare leading into Salisbury from the extensive and prosperous country south of the city and a tremendous amount of highly desirable trade comes in to Salisbury over this highway, a large amount of it from as far down as the rich potato producing counties of Virginia. Being at the Gateway of this—Camden Avenue Bridge (the main Southern entrance to the city) this property commands the First and Last chance at every customer entering town from this direction. The merchant who is so happily situated as to be able to take advantage of these chances, if he is a live wide-awake up-to-date business man, will leave but small chance for any competitor.

Another advantage in the location of this property—it is at the right spot to control the valuable small boat and vessel trade coming up the Wicomico at all seasons of the year, especially in the winter when the country roads are hard to travel. The landing for these small boats is right at the door of this property. It is also opposite the property soon to be occupied by one of the high class auto factories as a distributing point. This means that people of means who are seeking to purchase these high class cars will be brought in close contact with the owners of stores on this property we sell, and trade of this class brought right to the door without effort is a valuable asset. This property also adjoins the big shirt manufacturing plant whose employees must pass by it several times daily. These employees are well paid and good spenders. Attractive stores with goods well displayed can command a profitable business from this source. The proximity of this property to the steamer landing is also an item for both the merchant wholesale or retail and the manufacturer to consider.

"SALT-RISING" BREAD LIKE GRANDMOTHER'S

Favorite Where Difficult to Get Satisfactory Yeast.

Recipe Recommended by Home Economics Kitchen of Department of Agriculture—Fireless Cooker Maintains Temperature.

Self-rising bread, which is commonly called by the misleading name of "salt-rising bread," has been known in one form or another for generations. It has been a particular favorite when and where it was difficult to get satisfactory yeast. The following recipe is recommended by the home economics kitchen of the United States department of agriculture:

- 1 cup sweet milk
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 tablespoons white corn meal
- 1 tablespoon butter (if used)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Flour

Scald the milk. Allow it to cool until it is lukewarm, then add the salt, sugar and corn meal. Place in a fruit can or a heavy crock or pitcher and surround by water at about 120 to 140 degrees F. Water at this temperature is the hottest in which the hand can be held without inconvenience, and can be secured by mixing nearly equal parts of boiling water and tap water (unless the tap water is unusually warm). If placed in a fireless cooker a fairly even temperature can be maintained for several hours.

Allow the mixture to stand for six or seven hours, or overnight, until it shows signs of fermentation. If it has fermented sufficiently the gas can be heard as it escapes. This leaven contains enough liquid for one loaf. If more loaves are needed add one cup of water, one teaspoon of salt, one tablespoon of sugar and one tablespoon of butter for each additional loaf. Make a soft sponge by adding a cup of flour for each loaf to be made. Beat thoroughly and put the sponge in a convenient receptacle and surround by water again at the temperature of about 120 to 140 degrees F.

When the sponge is filled with tiny gas bubbles and has more than doubled in volume add more flour gradually until the dough is so stiff that it can be knelled without sticking to the hands or to the board. Knead ten or fifteen minutes, put at once into the pans, allow to rise until about two and one-half times its original bulk, and bake. Self-rising bread is never so light as the bread raised with yeast. A loaf made with one cup of liquid therefore will come out quite up to the top of a pan of standard size.

MIXED VEGETABLE CHOWDERS

Nourishing and Substantial Dish is Well Liked by Majority of Farm People.

A mixed vegetable chowder is a substantial dish and one well liked by the majority of people for luncheon or supper. The following recipe is one recommended by the home economics specialists of the United States department of agriculture:

- 1 tablespoonful fat
- 4 potatoes
- or a piece of salt pork
- 3 carrots
- 3 onions
- 1 level tablespoonful corn meal
- 1 pint canned tomato sauce
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoonful salt
- 2 cupful skim milk

Cut potatoes and carrots in small pieces, add enough water to cover, and cook for 20 minutes. Do not drain off the water. Brown the chopped onion in the fat for five minutes. Add this and the tomatoes to the vegetables. Heat to boiling, add two cupfuls of skim milk, and broken with flour. Celery tops or green peppers give a good flavor, too.

HEAT CORNMEAL AND WATER

Best Results Secured by Placing Them in Double Boiler and Not Stir the Mixture.

In experiments made in the home economics department of the United States department of agriculture it has been found that it is best for almost every purpose to put cornmeal and cold water together and then heat them over boiling water in a double boiler. Except when very finely ground meals are used it is unnecessary to stir the mixture at any time, not even when the meal and water are put together. The conclusion has been reached that in all cases the best results are obtained by heating the meal and liquid together without stirring.

ACTRESS CAPTIVATES MANY THEATRE-GOERS

Baby Vampire Wins Hearts Of Salisburyans In Excellent Screen Play. Full Houses.

Charming in every particular was the irresistible little comedienne, Viola Dana, in "Dangerous to Men," at the Arcade Theatre the first of the week. The house was packed for all performances, and chuckles of amusement, interspersed with genuine mirthful laughter, were heard from beginning to end of the play.

The story was built upon an age-old plot, but one told with such freshness, and photographed with such originality, that the hackneyed theme disappears in a swift current of mirth, pathos, and comedy. Eliza, a mischievous bit of jolly jazz, is placed in a co-educational college when her father starts on an exploring expedition with a close friend, young Sandy Verrall. On the trip, her father is killed, his last act being to leave young Eliza to the care of Verrall.

Eliza, now eighteen but as full of fun as ever, naturally supposes her guardian to be an old man; and her guardian adds to this supposition by writing to her as he would to a ten-year-old. Leaving school, the little orphan decides that she will be to her guardian, with whom she is going to live, just what he believes her to be. Thus it is that as an "ugly duckling" she enters the house of her adopted father.

Then the fun commences. Discovering with a shock that her guardian is a decidedly young and attractive man, the youthful co-ed has to carry out her role of a child of 12 with a vengeance. And Eliza, in the person of Miss Dana, does it! No tricks of childhood have been forgotten by the alluring little actress—and she has added many more that are not, perhaps, strictly juvenile.

Verrall is engaged to an actress, who, with a bachelor uncle and Eliza, succeed in stirring up a mass of complications. In the end, of course, the young guardian discovers the real age of his adopted daughter; and from the touching embrace of the final fade-out, it is to be presumed that "they lived happily ever after."

In "Dangerous to Men," Miss Dana has returned to the role in which she has won her widest popularity, that of a romping, vivacious, lovable girl in her teens. The star won her first fame in "The Poor Little Rich Girl" and later starred in the wonderful play "The Willow Tree," in which she scored unusual triumphs for her remarkable impersonation of a wistfully poetic little Japanese maiden. Her appearance in that production will be recalled with pleasure by all Salisburyans who saw her at the Arcade.

Playing opposite her this week was Milton Sills as Sandy Verrall. Mr. Sills' first screen triumph was as the leading man for Clara Kimball Young, she of the lustrous eyes. The rest of the cast was well selected; and the details of settings, legends, and heading illustrations, were of extraordinarily high quality.

NOTED ARTISTS CHARM A LARGE AUDIENCE

Large Crowd Hears Miss Lucey And Miss Powell At Arcade Theatre, Wednesday Evening.

One of the most unique and thoroughly pleasing recitals ever given in Salisbury was presented at the Arcade theatre last Wednesday evening by Miss Leola Lucey and Miss Virginia Powell. The recital was an artistic success in every respect and the Dashiell Music House is to be congratulated for securing these capable and charming artists for an appearance here.

When Miss Powell appeared on the stage and stated that Miss Lucey would sing in unison with her re-created voice and that the audience would not be able to tell the difference between re-created and living voice, many persons were skeptical. Attempt to match that glorious voice with a device of mere wood and metal! Impossible! The skeptics were soon convinced, however, for, in Miss Lucey's initial number on the program her lips ceased to move, but her song went on. Slowly it dawned on the mystified audience that Miss Lucey was no longer singing, though her voice came forth as clear and sweet as before. Again she sang, but the audience only knew it was the living Miss Lucey by the motion of her lips.

It seemed as if there were two artists on the stage—two singers, but only one voice. The tones emanating from the New Edison were identical with those of the living artist, and it was impossible to detect any difference. The instrument produced not an echo or copy, but the real thing—Miss Lucey's voice, untainted by any mechanical transformations—unspoiled by any metallic ring.

After the applause which followed this "miracle" exhibition, Miss Lucey and Miss Powell shared the stage with the New Edison. Only by watching them could one know when the living artists were being heard alone and when the music came in double measure. The re-creation was absolutely identical with the original in every particular.

Further numbers impressed the conviction of one's inability to distinguish between re-created art and its original.

Democratic Women Organize For Campaign Work Here

Executive Committee of Six Will Work in Conjunction With the State Central Committee. Sub-Committees Also Appointed To Look After Registration Work In the Rural Districts.

There was a largely attended and very enthusiastic meeting of the Democratic ladies of Salisbury last Thursday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a Women's Democratic Club to assist the Democratic State Central committee in the work of registering the women of the county. There is apparently much interest displayed by the ladies of Wicomico in the work of registration, as well as in the work of conducting the campaign, which will show good results in the coming election.

The Women Enroll As New Voters

The places of registration were found by the ladies to be in a very clean condition. The floors were swept and clean and the tables were furnished out of all former recognition. The men treated the women with the utmost courtesy and respect. Beau Brummell himself could have done no more. All hats were removed and cigarettes were thrown away. If any self-consciousness was displayed it was on the part of the men. The places of registration had taken on a new atmosphere; a new politeness was in the air, and a new modulation was in the voices of the officials as they put the questions to each would-be voter who stood in line.

Contrary to the expectations of many of the women, ages were demanded. The newly enfranchised voters answered without the slightest hesitation, although several displayed an entirely creditable optimism toward youthfulness. The ladies were self-contained. They showed no signs of nervousness. They answered the questions concisely and unhurriedly and behaved much after the manner of the more accustomed men. They would have made a good impression upon the most hardened anti-suffragist.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Basaway, of Shad Point, left Monday morning for Chisbury, Ind., where they expect to make their future home.

VETERAN COURT CRIER OF SUSSEX IS DEAD

Appointed Crier in 1861 and Never Missed a Session of Court. Was An Ardent Democrat.

David S. Purnell, believed to be the oldest crier in the United States, both in point of service and age, died at Georgetown, aged 83 years, 11 months and 19 days.

During his entire life he had lived within 200 feet of the spot where he was born. In the spring of 1861 he was appointed court crier for Sussex county and since that time he never missed a session of court. Chief Justice Gilpin and Associate Judges Houston and Wootton, all of whom are dead, appointed him. Mr. Purnell announced to the court the assassination of President Lincoln and the surrender of General Lee. Mr. Purnell in January, 1860, married a daughter of the late Kendall B. Wirt gate. Her death occurred about 10 years ago.

When courts were not in session, during the months of April and October, Mr. Purnell taught school in the rural sections. In politics he was an ardent Democrat, and in 1885 was appointed by President Cleveland Postmaster of Georgetown.

HEN, 25 YEARS OLD, IS STILL LAYING EGGS

Mrs. Flossie Leates, of Laurel, has a very remarkable hen which has raised the question of how long a chicken can live. Most poultrymen say that the average hen lives but little longer than eight or ten years, but Mrs. Leates' hen is known to have lived for a quarter of a century and is a very lively and capable rooster. The hen was given to Mrs. Leates, who lives near Trussum, a few miles east of Laurel, when it was a "biddy" and she was an infant. It has been cared for carefully all these years and has had its share of eggs and raised a fine brood of birds.

VEASEY DEFEATED IN DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

Mr. E. A. Veasey, of Delmar, was defeated in the Democratic county primaries last Saturday. Mr. Veasey was running for nomination for representative from the second representative district of the Fifth Election district of Delaware. His successful opponent was Mr. George Otwell, of Laurel. Mr. Otwell polled 251 votes and Mr. Veasey polled 95.

LARGEST CORN CROP IN HISTORY OF THE COUNTY

There is a prospect for the largest corn crop ever grown in Sussex county notwithstanding the fact that on Monday much of the corn was drowned out. The ears are larger than for many years and are filled from butt to point. Some yields may go as high as 75 bushels per acre on large tillages.

THE DELMAR COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION, Inc.

has for its object the bringing about of a fundamental economic change, a better kind of civilization, and its organization was approached by the members in that spirit.

It is not a competitive business, making money by selling commodities for profit. Its object is to render the necessities of life available to the members of the Society as economically as possible by means of the united funds and efforts of these members, through the method of purchasing, distributing and producing in common.

Membership fee is $1.00. Afterward, a member may subscribe to two or more shares of stock at $10.00 per share. The Association is incorporated in order to protect the interests of the members from liability.

The good this Association may do in Delmar is entirely dependent upon the number of subscribers. It is to be an association run by the stockholders and they alone.

Once the Association is going good we feel that all of our Delmar people will give it their entire approval. Business is to be done for CASH. Goods are sold at the current or reasonable market price, not at cost and not with the idea of cutting proper prices. If other prices are unreasonable they will of a necessity be automatically reduced or the person charging same will not be in a position to compete. Efficient book keeping and a counting, with regular reports to members is promised.

While the minimum stock required in order to participate in earnings is $20.00, yet no matter how poor a person may be, he or she will be allowed the Association has a plan whereby it is possible for a person to purchase stock on a very easy payment plan and even to be in a position to secure a return on their investment. We will endeavor to encourage the purchase of shares of five shares of stock, as a reason why it is possible for a person to take a share in the Association is limited only by his funds and members who are urged to subscribe to at least $5.00 worth of stock. This is no money, but a share of one Liberty Bond.

SUSSEX'S OLDEST WOMAN VOTER HAS REGISTERED

One of the oldest women in Delaware to avail herself of the privilege of registering in order that she may exercise the right of franchise in November is Mrs. Elizabeth B. Hart, of Georgetown, who, on February 7 of next year, will be 90 years old. Mrs. Hart is the mother of Robert T. Hart, editor of the Union Republican, and Miss Lizzie C. Hart, news editor of the Sussex Republican. Mrs. Hart proposes to cast her vote for Governor Cox for president and Andrew J. Lynch, the Democratic nominee, for governor of Delaware.

LITTLE RUTH HEARN BURIED ON SUNDAY

Ruth Evelyn Hearn, 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick H. Hearn, died at her home on Mill Street on Friday. She had been suffering from acute nephritis for two months or more. The funeral services were held at the house by Dr. Herson, of Salisbury, Sunday afternoon. The body was interred in the Hearn Homestead Burying Ground, which is on the farm of Mr. Hearn's father.

NEED ONLY FEW MORE TEACHERS IN SCHOOLS

The report that has been spread broadcast throughout Sussex county that more than 50 per cent of the schools in lower Delaware are without teachers, is most erroneous. The Sussex County Board of Education and Superintendent of Schools E. J. Hardesty have issued a statement to the effect that there are less than six schools, all in the rural sections, that are without teachers. These schools are so remote from the railroads that it is difficult to get teachers willing to go to them.

MRS. WALTER ARVEY DIED AT WILLARDS

Home of her daughter, at Willards, last week of Bright's disease. She was 71 years of age and was a daughter of the late Wilbur Davis, and wife of Powellville, whose Mrs. Arvey was born and spent her entire life, with the exception of the last two months, which she spent with her daughter, Mrs. George White, at Willards. She leaves to mourn her death her husband and four daughters as follows: Mrs. George White, of Willards; Mrs. William West, of Warrington; Mrs. Henry West, of Willamstown; and Mrs. Gordon Bowen, of Berlin, Md. Funeral services were held at Old St. John's Church, of which she was a member, on Tuesday at one o'clock. Interment was made in Mt. Zion M. P. Cemetery.

THE CITY OF CIVIC PRIDE (Louis Provence).

It isn't a large city as cities go, this little town of Ascatoolah, but it gives shelter and employment and entertainment to something like five thousand souls. It gives more; it gives homes. There is no "residential section" there with the palaces of the wealthy; nor can you find the hovels of the poor. From the neatly white-washed fence around the little yard of Aunt Dinah, the communi tiscrub woman, at the southern entrance of the town, to the vine covered stone wall that surrounds the acres of the "Big Man" of the city, every house spells home. Poverty is well nigh unknown, for there is work enough for all—and, what is more important, all work.

Fences and yards are neatly kept. Every summer evening you can see a husband home from work putting on a loose paling here, tightening the screws in a hinge there, stringing cords for the vines that clamber over the porch, or cutting the grass. The wife, meantime, potters industriously in her flower garden while the children romp everywhere.

On Sundays the churches are filled during the hours for service and the rest of the day is devoted to rest and old fashioned visiting. The Sabbath in Ascatoolah is observed as it was intended. Perhaps that is one reason why the city has always been so prosperous; has always numbered among its inhabitants so many happy men and women and children.

You may have gathered the idea that Ascatoolah is decidedly old fashioned. It is not. The streets are wide, shaded, well paved, well lighted, and are kept free from dirt and dust and rubbish. The sidewalks are level and substantial and are kept in a high state of repair. A little strip of carefully tended grass divides the sidewalks from the road, and adds to the charm of the city.

Parks in the more congested portions give a breath of fresh air and "greenness" to the office worker, and provide a grateful shelter for feathered visitors from early spring until late fall. Street cars and automobiles and even driving horses are in plentiful evidence. The town is excellently lighted and well policed. The municipal authorities work sympathetically with the people and try with their might to give the greatest service to the greatest number. Civic planning committees; juvenile courts; girls and boys clubs; a magnificent public library; good schools; and intensive community interest have brought the morale of Ascatoolah to a high point.

The chamber of commerce is interestingly represented by every business organization in the city and is able, therefore, to do big things in many lines. The merchants are progressive to a fault; the habit of profiteering has never been widespread against one. Few of them have lost money through bad debts. But it is the stranger, the predominant feature about Ascatoolah in the way in which it is advertised.

An Ascatoolah traveler is not a single opportunity to boost his city and hideous, not only in his conversation, not only in his business and personal letters, but in his regular newspaper advertisements. Needless to say that every business man in this little city is a firm believer in advertising and he is not averse to doing it in any way. Perhaps that is why Ascatoolah is so prominent in every larger city being not so far away, because, through the very faith of advertising, and in its application, that has made Ascatoolah what it is.

AUTOMOBILE THIEVES CAPTURED SUNDAY

Long Chase Made By Delmar Man, Whose Car Had Been Stolen.

WHITE MAN AND NEGRO OPERATING IN DELMAR

William Masterson, White, and Nimrod Westcott, Col. Broke Into Private Garage Of Mr. Nelson and Made Off With A Buick Car. They Are Now In Salisbury Jail.

Two city thieves broke into a private garage in Delmar Sunday morning about five o'clock and stole a five passenger car while the owner was at breakfast a few yards away. Hearing the motor running, the owner, a man named Nelson, went out to investigate and saw his car disappear in the direction of Salisbury.

Nelson then secured a car and started in pursuit of the thieves. He got as far as Salisbury where the car in which he was riding broke down. He notified the police, started cars off on all the roads leading from the city and then took up the pursuit again in a car driven by Josiah W. Adkins. By chance they took the Claiborne road. At Barren Creek Mill they learned a Buick car answering the description of the stolen car had passed with two men who had bought some gas. Adkins then put on speed and finally overtook the jacks about two miles beyond Preston, where they had stopped to repair a punctured tire.

Pulling up beside them in the road Nelson covered the two men, one of whom was colored, with a revolver, while Adkins stopped his car, got out, and disarmed the white man who had a gun in his hand. Neither of the two thieves showed fight. The colored man, who gave his name as Nimrod Westcott, appears to be about twenty four years of age. He stated that he was married and had two children. He first said that he was driving the car for the white man, William Masterson, to cause the latter did not know how, later he said he was broke, wanted to get home, and had taken the car to go to Philadelphia in the pretense of returning it later.

Masterson said that he just happened to be with the negro. When the two men were questioned by State's Attorney Long, each accused the other of having committed the theft. The white man had a well worn road map of Maryland in his pocket and about twenty dollars in cash. The negro had nothing but a metal stamping outfit for changing numbers. They threw away the Delaware tags on the Buick and substituted for them Penn. plates in dealer tags. The colored man also had a Pennsylvania chauffeur license.

The Pennsylvania tags when traced proved to have been issued to Farley Brothers, 1221 South 15th street, Philadelphia. The authorities at Salisbury endeavored to have the garage raided Sunday night.

Masterson and Westcott are at the present time in the county jail here where they were brought by Adkins and the owner of the car. They will be held for trial by the State of Maryland, though they may also be tried by Delaware and the Federal Government. Their enjoyment of stolen sweets was short; at 5:30 a. m. they had a Buick tearing car for which they had paid nothing; at noon they were in the county jail charged with what had come to be a very serious crime. Neither of the prisoners will talk.

PROMINENT FARMER DIES NEAR DELMAR

He was a member of a family whose forefathers were born raised in this neighborhood for several generations. He had been suffering from brain disease and kindred ailments for several months.

PECULIAR MOTOR ACCIDENT ON STATE STREET

While driving his Oldmobile roadster east on State Street on Tuesday evening, E. A. Robins had a peculiar accident. Seeing a team ahead of him, Mr. Robins pulled out to pass it. When he was passed, he did not pull his car back into the road, for some mysterious reason. The car cut across the pavement, straddling the corner of the house in front of Mr. Radl's property, and continued on a cross the yard of Mr. E. A. Scott's residence, pulling both front fenders and through the back underpinning of the latter's house. Mr. Robins locked the car out, straightened the front fenders out a bit, and continued on his way.

CIVILIZATION OR SICKNESS?

Our town councils are at odds over the remaining of the big ditch which crosses State Street at and runs alongside the property of E. T. Sirman. This ditch needs cleaning out for a distance of two or three hundred feet south of State Street, and the Maryland Town Council refuses to empower the Council of the Delaware Side to have it done. The only way they will allow the Delaware authorities to repair the ditch is to tile it for three hundred feet.

The cost of putting in this amount of tiling would be about $1000, or more, and the Delaware Council cannot get this amount of money at this time. Even if they could, they do not feel that the Delaware Tax Payers should bear the entire cost of this work, in view of the fact that quite a bit of surface water from the Maryland Side enters this ditch in Delaware. As the Maryland State Board of Health has directed the Maryland Town Council to do away with this nuisance, the latter has notified the property holders along the ditch either to tile or fill it in within a certain time, and, of course, they are going to fill it in.

This ditch drains the largest part of the surplus water from both sides of the town. If it were closed up at the point where it crosses into Maryland, the Delaware Side of the town would be flooded in winter, especially along the east end of Jewel Street.

A meeting of the two Town Councils, together with the local Board of Health and some of the prominent citizens, was called at the Town Hall for Friday evening. The meeting was attended by a few of the Delaware Council, a few of the Board of Health, and fewer of the citizens. The Maryland Council decided that the troubles of the Delaware part of the town were no concern of theirs, so were absent.

At the meeting the problem was discussed. It is thought that most of the objection to the ditch should be removed by obviating some of the sources of filth, which drain into it. Among these are overflow pipes from cess pools, location of privies on the ditches, and hog pens and the like near the ditches.

The only remedy for all these troubles is to put in sewage. The Maryland State Board of Health ordered the Maryland Town Council to do this some time ago, and advised the Delaware State Board to do the same for the Delaware Side of the Town. Unfortunately, the Maryland Council succeeded in convincing the Board of Health that the cost of sewage at this time would be prohibitive. The Delaware Side of the Town made every effort to do this work several days ago, but the people of Maryland refused to do it. Now the Delaware people are ready to go ahead with it, but want the Maryland people to first prove that they are ready to do something. The voters in Maryland should elect a Council who are in favor of this project, and who will cooperate with the Delaware Council, and endeavor to make the conditions in Delaware worse. Obviously, it is better to think of putting in sewage on one side of the town, and leaving the other as it is.

LOCAL DEALERS DO NOT LOOK FOR LOWER PRICES

At Least Not For Several Months. Are Protected From Loss If Prices Drop In Near Future

The automobile market will probably remain just as it is at present, judging from the interviews granted a News reporter by local dealers. The majority of dealers have a guarantee which will safeguard them against loss in case the various makes of cars take a drop in the local market.

The public has thought that in the recent cut in prices by the Ford company could be seen the beginning of the end of high prices. The opinion among many local dealers, however, seems to be that the Ford could take quite a drop before it reached its former basis; and they do not, therefore think it likely that the cost of other cars will be materially lower for the next six or eight months at least.

Since the automobile industry vitally affects most of the other great industries, such as steel, cotton, leather, hubber, and electrical equipment, it is hoped in some quarters that Mr. Ford has received advance notice of a decided lowering of cost in raw materials and that therefore the high cost of living would descend to lower levels. This remains to be seen, but the attitude of the buying public is one of the hopeful waiting.

ADDITIONS IMPROVE RESIDENTIAL SECTION

The two bungalows, which Mr. E. N. Holloway has been building on East Street, are nearly finished. They will be among the most up-to-date bungalows in the town. When finished they will have all the modern conveniences, including modern lighting and water equipment and heat.

That section of East street will be one of the most attractive in the town when it is opened. It is close to the center of the town, and at the same time far enough out to be free of the dirt and dust, which is a continual nuisance to those living closer to the railroad.

THIRTEENTH BABY BORN AND HE IS A BOUNCER

Thursday afternoon the stock visited the home of Isaac H. Baker, residing near Georgetown, and presented Mr. and Mrs. Baker with the thirteenth child which undoubtedly is one of the largest babies ever born in lower Delaware. When placed on the scales it tipped them at 18 pounds. Oldest residents in the section of Georgetown say they never heard of a new baby being so large. The mother is getting along nicely, and the father is receiving congratulations from people in all sections of the county.

Lower Delaware News In Brief

Lower Delaware was visited early Tuesday morning by the first frost of the season. It was so light, however, that little damage was done to vegetation.

Five thousand barrels of menhaden fish were landed Wednesday night at the plant of the Lewes Oil and Chemical Company, Lewes Beach. The haul is said to be one of the largest in the history of the fish oil business along the Atlantic coast.

At the special election held Saturday on the bond issue of $55,000 for the erection of a new school building for the white pupils the friends of Education won an overwhelming victory, 251 taxables voting for the bond issue, casting 6,510 votes while but nine voted in opposition.

Laurel is in the grip of an epidemic of colds afflicting young and old. No reason has been given for this outbreak and the physicians cannot explain it. One of them says the attacks seem to be more like light cases of "flu."

Charged with assault and battery, with intent to commit murder, on Bayard James, of Baltimore district, Riley Murray, of near Millville, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace E. W. Ryon, Georgetown, and held in $500 bond for the October term of court.

John Wesley White, negro wanted by the Media, Pa., authorities for murder, has been apprehended by the Sussex county authorities, on a description furnished them, and now is confined in the county jail at Georgetown awaiting removal by the Pennsylvania officials.

After being in session for five days, Chautauqua came to a close in Georgetown Wednesday night. A contract has been closed with the Swarthmore Chautauqua association for five days of entertainment next year, 100 guarantors having been secured.

The improved road building program for lower Delaware, which was launched several months ago and which has been held up for several weeks because of lack of materials, has again been resumed, construction work now going on the 11 contracts under way.

On Wednesday millions of sea trout swarmed the waters off Cape Henlopen and enormous catches were made. One boat with three men caught 250 fish in an hour and a half.

Some one has removed the metal marker from one of the trees planted on the grass plot near Silver Lake in honor of Lieutenant Richard S. Pruitt, one of the boys from Millford who died in the service of his country two years ago.

Prohibition has brought unexpected prosperity to the grape growers. Persons desiring to make home made wine and grape juice have been bidding for the Delaware crop, and the price has jumped from $60 a ton, the early season quotation, to the record price of $140 a ton net.

The late cabbage seems to be damaged greatly by the rains. Many farmers will lose their entire crop, as it is too early to put the cabbage in kilns. The shortage of barrels and kegs is of great disadvantage toward shipping the cabbage. Much of the crop of cabbage could be made into sauerkraut, but the shortage of barrels will prevent this.

Apples are plentiful in lower Delaware and are selling for 25 cents a basket. Many farmers are drying apples for winter use, as it is too early to bury or store them. The market for apples appears to be at a standstill, as they will not pay for picking and shipping. Vinegar is being made from the apples and stored in fogsheds. The farmers think they can find sale later in the season when the fruit may be in demand for evaporation and vinegar.

Complaints have reached Harry Short, of Seaford, sealer of weights and measures for Sussex county, that Maryland and Philadelphia bakery concerns are sending bread into some of the towns in lower Delaware which do not weigh one pound per loaf, as fixed by law in this state. Notice will be served on all merchants handling loaves which weigh less than one pound, and if they persist in selling them, arrests will follow, and a ban be placed on sales of the products of firms not living up to the requirements of the Delaware law.

Lower Delaware, noted for its fall and winter John Wesley revivals, in the rural sections, will be at the height of religious fervor in a few weeks. The first rural church to start evangelistic meetings will be Bethany, near Lewes Cross Roads, when the series open next Sunday night. The mourner's bench has long been one of the fixtures in rural churches in this section of the state, and as long as the spirit of Methodism prevails it will have its place in the churches and revivals will be conducted.

While crossing the du Pont Boulevard, near Millsboro, Wednesday, a car driven by William Parsons, of Wilmington, collided with a team driven by William Massey and almost demolished the vehicle in which Massey, his wife, two daughters and mother-in-law were riding. Blanche Massey sustained injuries to the back and the other daughter was injured about the hips. Mrs. Martha Timmons was severely injured about the shoulder and back, and Mr. Massey was injured about the head.

Harry G. Thaw, secretary of Milford Town Council, has compiled and issued a summary of the town finances as they were on the first of the month. This is the first statement of the kind issued for several years and shows the town finances to be in first class condition. Receipts for the year amounted to $20,355.88 from all sources, expenditures, $15,061.71; balance in treasury, September 1, $5,294.88. There are still $6,368.16 of uncollected taxes for this year, making a total of $11,662.33 of available money for 1920.

Negro "Doctor" Fined $100 And Cost

William Johnson, of Philadelphia, Tried on a Serious Charge and Convicted.

William Johnson, of Philadelphia, a colored "doctor" and vendor of patent medicines, who was quite active at the recent colored fair held in Salisbury, was convicted in the Circuit Court for Wicomico county last week on a serious charge preferred against him by an 11 year old colored girl of Salisbury.

The case attracted a great deal of attention and the court room was crowded during the trial.

The testimony of the witnesses was so very conflicting that the jury was out more than an hour before reaching a verdict of guilty. The court imposed a fine of $100 and costs on Johnson.

The case was hard fought by counsel and a number of tilts took place. Attorneys Miles, Wheaton and Miles defending the accused and State's Attorney Curtis W. Long prosecuting the case.

On Wednesday W. B. Miller and Fred P. Adkins, of the Campaign Committee, and C. G. Fenell, the campaign manager, spent the day in Delaware in the interest of the campaign organization in Sussex county, visiting Laurel and Seaford. THE VOGUE SHOP SERVICE MEANS PROPER CLEANING

The clothing problem means a lot of worry these days. People have less money to spend for clothes and they get less clothes for their money. Three years ago you could buy three suits for what you now pay for one. Yet, Listen! how seldom is it that you actually wear out your old clothes? Do you call a garment worn out when it begins to look shabby because it's faded or soiled? If you could put the original color back into the fabric or take out the soil marks you would have several years more good use of the article. That's just what the VOGUE SHOP is doing. Grand Jury Report
For September Term

Committees Inspect County Properties And Make Many Recommendations.

GOOD CORN CROP ON THE ALMS-HOUSE FARM

Jury Favors The Opening Of Juvenile Court To Deal With Criminal Cases Among The Young. Reiterates What Was Contained In Grand Jury Report Last Year.

The Grand Jury at the September Term made a very exhaustive examination of the county's property, with recommendations for improvements badly needed. The report also recommends strongly the opening up again of the Juvenile Court to deal with crime among the young. The report of the Grand Jury for September term, 1919, of which the late Senator M. V. Brewington was foreman, was incorporated in the September 1920 report and its recommendations were strongly endorsed. The full reports as filed with the Court are as follows:

Report Of Alms House.

The Grand Jury of Wicomico county, September term, 1920, appointed a committee of five to visit and investigate the Alms House property. Said committee consists of the following: B. W. B. Adkins, (Foreman), Edward M. White, George B. Parker, Joseph W. Hastings, and J. R. Truitt. Said committee thoroughly inspected the property and reports as follows:

We found the following inmates—Five white males, three white females, two colored males and one colored female. We found the beds and bedding in very bad condition, in both the white and colored apartments. The cook stove was in bad condition. There were eighteen window panes out in the building, and other repairs badly needed. We consider the building and bedding not fit for the purposes intended.

We found about 20 acres of very good corn growing; two hogs, eight sheats, two cows, one horse and six mules, all in good condition. The main dwelling house, barns and other out-buildings are in good condition.

We further report that out of the 11 inmates not more than one or two are capable of taking care of themselves, and really should be in some institution better fitted for their care and welfare.

Report On County Jail.

The Grand Jury of Wicomico county, September term, 1920, visited the County Jail in its entire body except the five members above named, who were on the Alms House Committee. Said committee reports as follows:

The Jail is very neatly kept, especially the parts that are in use. Said committee wishes to recommend the following repairs and improvements:

The plumbing system to be put in perfect condition by using sanitary closets, stopping leaky joints, etc. Also the stepping or stairway down to the basement to be repaired and made safe.

The same committee also inspected the Court House Building and found several improvements needed but due to the stringency of money no recommendations are offered.

We examined 25 witnesses and found eight true bills.

Urges Removal Of Inmates.

Upon the receipt of the reports of the two committees to the full body, we, the Grand Jurors of Wicomico County, recommend and sincerely insist upon the inmates of the Alms House being transferred to some institution or institutions better fitted for the purpose of caring for the same, as we think the condition at the Alms House is deplorable.

We also recommend that this property known as the "Alms House farm" be sold at some early date at auction sale for the high dollar, and the receipts be turned into the County Treasury and be disbursed by the Board of County Commissioners where it is most needed.

In making this recommendation we not only have the committee report of five, which were appointed from this body, but have in mind the very carefully prepared statement and recommendation made a year ago by the Grand Jurors of which the late Hon. Marion V. Brewington was Foreman. A copy of that recommendation is hereby made a part of our report:

Report on Almshouse Farm.

"After thorough investigation of the expenses attached to the maintenance of the Almshouse Farm, your committee begs leave to recommend to the Honorable Court the disposition by sale of the Almshouse Farm together with the dwellings, stock and farm machinery, after proper advertisement, to the highest bidder, and that the indigent poor of Wicomico county be provided homes in the State Institution at Cambridge, Maryland, where we believe they would be more comfortably taken care of at much less expense.

"We find on examination that the Almshouse Farm, together with the other property owned by the County, could reasonably be expected to bring at least $14,000.00 to $16,000.00 at public sale, which sum properly invested would bring to the County Treasury an annual income around $800.00. The cost of maintenance of the Almshouse Farm for the past 12 months reached the total of more than $3,000.00 for taking care of an average of ten inmates, making it cost the county about $300.00 per capita. As we understand that Dorchester and Worcester counties have closer their Almshouses and are maintaining their poor at the Cambridge institution at a cost not exceeding $125.00 per capita per annum, your Honorable Body can readily see that our present antiquated system of taking care of our poor is costing the taxpayers an excessive amount of money each year. In fact, the income from the sale of the Almshouse Farm and stock would almost take care of the inmates each year and save the County an additional expense of about $3,000.00 per annum in running the farm. We make this recommendation after going into the figures very thoroughly and believe your Honorable Body will agree with us that the recommendation is solely in the interest of good business and the saving of taxpayers." The above report was signed by every member of the Grand Jury.

Recommendations Endorsed.

The Grand Jury of Wicomico County, September term, visited the County Jail in a body and after thoroughly inspecting same, begs leave to offer the following recommendations:

"First: That the Jail Building is antiquated and out of date and is not a fit place for the confinement of prisoners either awaiting trial or serving sentence. The cells are unsanitary and miserably ventilated and at times when the building is full of prisoners as many as four prisoners have been known to be confined in one room, and the lack of space and ventilation is a menace to the health of the prisoners, and a progressive community like Wicomico County should not confine its unfortunates in a building as dilapidated as this one.

"Second: We recommend that this building be reconstructed at once and the cage system installed in all the cells, a proper sanitary system installed in the building with better ventilation, and that the entire building be turned over for the use of the prisoners and that a separate building be erected by the county adjoining the jail for the use of the Sheriff and his family. At the present time, the family of the Sheriff is forced to live on the lower floor of the jail and it is not a desirable or fit place for the family of the Sheriff to live in.

"These defects in the Jail building are so important that we believe the County Commissioners should without delay provide some means of rebuilding the structure or else demolish the present buildings and erect a new one. The condition of the building as far as the care of the Sheriff and his family, is unsatisfactory, but the few prisoners who are confined there say they are very well treated.

"We would also recommend that some additions be made at the Court House building so as to provide fire-proof vaults for the keeping of the records in the office of the County Commissioners and the Register of Wills. At present, the books, papers and other valuable public records belonging to these two departments of the County are without proper protection in case of fire, and a serious conflagration at the Court House building would mean a loss to the citizens of Wicomico which could never be replaced. We would, therefore, recommend the enlargement of the building so as to provide space for the two fire-proof vaults, at least one in the office of the County Commissioners and the other in the offices of the Register of Wills.

"After thoroughly examining the public buildings, we beg to say that they are kept in a very good condition and we note that they are in fine repair, well painted and taken care of.

"In the routine work of the Grand Jury, we have been impressed with the number of petty cases committed by juvenile offenders, the cost of the investigation by this body and the further cost of trying such cases before the Circuit Court involves in our minds, a heavy expense to the taxpayers which might be very greatly lessened, if we had a well organized Juvenile Court in this county to handle these cases and it is the belief of the members of this Grand Jury that the morale of the entire community could best be served by having these petty cases committed by juvenile offenders heard before a Juvenile judge. Besides the large expense incurred in handling these cases, it is also our belief that in many instances, young offenders could best be corrected outside the walls of penal institutions and that many useful citizens might be saved to the community by proper parole under the direction and authority of a Juvenile Judge.

"We, therefore, urgently recommend to this Honorable Court that regular sessions of a Juvenile Court be held in Wicomico County at stated periods and that the petty cases of young offenders should be carried before that body instead of consuming the time of the Grand Jury and the Circuit Court."

After Thorough Trial a Detroit, Mich., Man Endorses Pe-ru-na

The following letter written from Detroit, Michigan is no snap judgment expressed on the merits of Pe-ru-na, the well-known catarrh remedy, but rather a mature, sober opinion formed after a full year's trial.

This is the way Mr. Michael Fako of 908 East Palmer Avenue, in the Michigan Metropolitan, writes: "After using PE-RU-NA for about one year I will say I have found it a very good medicine for catarrh. It has helped me a great deal and I am very well satisfied. I have gained in weight, eat and sleep well, my bowels are regular and better color in my face."

"PE-RU-NA has done wonders and to me is worth its weight in gold. I shall continue to use PE-RU-NA as long as I live and recommend to my friends who are troubled with catarrh. Nothing can be more convincing than an endorsement of this nature from an actual user. There are many people in every community whose experience in using Pe-ru-na, has been identical with Mr. Fako's. It is the standby for coughs, colds, catarrh, stomach and bowel disorders and all catarrhal conditions. Put up in both tablet and liquid form. SOLD EVERYWHERE."

Salisbury Is Planning For Great Meeting

Maryland Agricultural Society To Hold Annual Meeting Here In November.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS ON THE PROGRAMME

E. T. Meredith, Secretary of Agriculture; J. R. Howard, President of The American Farm Bureau Federation, and Governor Ritchie Have Been Invited.

The city of Salisbury, where the annual meeting of the Maryland Agriculture Society is to be held from November 9 to 11, is on its toes for the most important agricultural convention in the state this year and is already bending every effort toward making the convention a success from every standpoint.

Big white posters, announcing the date of the meeting, have been sent broadcast throughout the state and hundreds of letters which are daily going out into the rural sections are being stamped with a timely reminder something like this: "Come to the Maryland Agricultural Society Convention at Salisbury, November 9 to 11."

Naturally the publicity committee is the first to get on the job and their drive for attendance will continue until the opening day of the meeting. In the meantime, however, other committees will be engaged in making the scores of necessary arrangements which are required for the entertainment of a convention of this size. One of the most important matters which has already been given careful consideration is the problem of housing the delegates. Work along this line has already resulted in securing ample accommodations for the visitors. Private homes in Salisbury and in the adjacent sections of Wicomico county will offer their hospitality in caring for the visitors in addition to the hotels and boarding houses.

The program which is being tentatively arranged is expected to be of more than usual interest. Such noted and able speakers as E. T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture, J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, are being invited and while it is yet too early to have an assurance of their presence, those in charge of the program will devote every effort to securing the best speakers possible.

C. M. Freeman, secretary of the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce, is taking the lead in pushing forward the preparations which the business men of the community have undertaken in connection with the convention. County Agent G. R. Cobb and representatives of the agricultural society, the county granges and other farm organizations are working equally hard on their end of the program.

The entire eastern shore is interested in making the convention a memorable occasion and it is anticipated that the entertainment committee has a few plans up its sleeve which will make those who fail to attend wish they had.

When the local Dodge Ball team went to Baltimore last fall, the Annapolis team won the decision and were qualified as state champions in Dodge ball. But a letter was received from Dr. Burdick last week stating that there had been a boy on the Annapolis team who was over 16 years old, which disqualified the whole team. This is very unfortunate for the Annapolis team, but there is much rejoicing throughout the High school team, for they expect medals soon, which will proclaim them State Champions.

Joe Vila, a New York baseball expert, says that if young Waite Hoyt takes good care of his right arm and continues to learn the weak points of American league batsmen he soon may be the greatest pitcher in baseball.

A Giant scout saw Hoyt warm up one afternoon and told McGraw, who asked the youngster to report at the Polo grounds.

SUPPLY VARIETY IN FAMILY DIET

Eggs Are More Plentiful and Comparatively Reasonable in Price.

SOME NEW BISHES OUTLINED

They Furnish as Many Possibilities for Delectable Food for Luncheon or Supper as They Do for the Morning Meal.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Now that eggs are a little more plentiful and comparatively reasonable in price they can provide a welcome variation in the family diet. In many families eggs are seldom served except at breakfast, but they furnish just as many possibilities for delectable dishes for luncheon or supper as they do for breakfast. They can well take the place of a meat dish, for, like most they furnish protein, fat, and mineral matter and the yolk is also a good source of vitamin. A few recipes for attractive dishes suitable to serve in place of meat for the mid-day or evening meal follow. These recipes were tested in the experimental kitchen of the United States department of agriculture.

Combinations of eggs with bread-crumbs, rice, or some starchy cereal to give body to the dish are always good.

Shirred Eggs With Rice.

Fill a baking dish half full of hot boiled rice. Break six eggs and carefully drop them in the rice, taking care not to break the yolks. Pour a cupful of cheese sauce over the eggs and rice and bake in a moderate oven until the whites of the eggs are set.

To make the cheese sauce: Melt one tablespoonful of butter and stir into it one tablespoonful of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, and an eighth of a teaspoonful of white pepper. Add one cupful of cold milk, and stir over the flame until thick and creamy. Add four tablespoonfuls of grated cheese and stir until melted.

Creole Eggs.

Hard-cook six eggs. Cook half cupful of washed rice in two quarts of boiling water containing one teaspoonful of salt.

Make a sauce in the following way: Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a skillet and add four tablespoonfuls of chopped onions. Cook until the onion is soft, but not brown. Add one and a half cupfuls of canned tomatoes and two finely-chopped green peppers, and half teaspoonful of salt. Cook for 15 minutes. Place a layer of boiled rice in a baking dish, cover with slices of hard-cooked eggs and cover the sliced eggs with creole sauce. Repeat until baking dish is full. Grate cheese over the top and bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven.

Eggs in Tomato Cups.

When fresh tomatoes are in season no more attractive way of serving eggs can be found than this.

Select the desired number of good-sized tomatoes, allowing one to each person. Cut off the blossom end, scoop out the seeds, and stand the tomatoes in a baking pan in the oven until they are partly cooked. Put a half teaspoonful of butter and a dusting of salt and pepper into the bottom of each and break in one egg. Place in the oven until the eggs are "set" to the desired hardness. Have ready a round of toasted bread well buttered, and place each tomato in the center of a round of toast. Serve hot.

Eggs Coddled in Tomato Sauce.

Make a tomato sauce by mashing two tablespoonfuls of butter and stirring into it three tablespoonfuls of flour, half teaspoonful of celery salt, quarter teaspoonful of pepper, and two teaspoonfuls of salt. Strain two cupfuls of tomato pulp and juice through a sieve and add to the butter and flour. Cook until thickened. Place one-half of the tomato sauce in a baking dish, break six eggs, one at a time, and carefully slide each egg into the sauce, taking care not to break the yolks. Cover with the remaining sauce, sprinkle with grated cheese, and bake in the oven until the egg is set. It is well to serve each egg on a round of toasted bread, or each may be baked in an individual muffin, if preferred.

Eggs Coddled in Tomato Sauce Are Very Good and So Are Eggs in Tomato Cups.

PROPER WAY TO MIX INEXPENSIVE CAKES

Plenty of Eggs and Butter Are Chief Requisites.

Specialists in Home Economics Kitchen Have Been Making Extensive Experiments—How Best Results Are Obtained.

If your experience has been that cheap cakes have a poor flavor and a coarse texture it is because you have not been putting them together in the right way. An inexpensive cake requires careful mixing. No difficulty should be experienced in compounding a cake which is excellent in texture and has a delicious flavor when plenty of eggs and butter are available. It is when it is necessary to economize in these expensive materials that the cook who is not skillful has her troubles.

Food specialists in the home economics kitchen of the United States department of agriculture have been making extensive investigations in cake baking especially in the baking of one-egg cakes. Their experiments with cheap cakes show that the best results are obtained when the batter is beaten very little after the baking powder is added and when the cake is baked in a very slow oven.

The recipe which was used in the experiments follows:

One Egg Cake

1 cup (125 grams) sifted flour
1/2 cup (125 grams) sugar
1/2 cup (125 grams) butter
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon (2.5 grams) baking powder
1/4 teaspoon (1.25 grams) salt
1/4 cup (62.5 grams) milk
1/4 cup (62.5 grams) water

all scatter the baking powder over the surface of the batter and fold it in lightly with six or eight motions of the spoon so as to get it thoroughly mixed with every part of the batter. Do not beat the batter after adding the baking powder but turn it at once into a cake pan and bake.

This cake may be baked as cup-cakes in muffin pans, or in layers, or in a loaf. If it is baked as a loaf of the size given above it should be put into a very slow oven, which is allowed to warm up gradually (250 to 275 degrees F. for one hour is suitable oven temperature). At the first trial one is more sure of success in baking the small cakes than the loaf.

The cake can be put together by other methods than the one described above. Any approved method may be selected, but the two points which give the most difficulty are the too vigorous beating of the batter after the baking powder has been added, and baking the loaf in too hot an oven.

If directions in the above recipe are carefully followed the resulting cake should be light, of even texture and uniform grain, tender and moist. It should not be coarse and muffled like in texture nor dry and compact.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

The following recipes can be made only of the best ingredients.

These recipes are given as a part of the information furnished to the public by the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Home Economics, Washington, D. C.

HOW EVERET SCOTT STOPS HOT ONES

This striking photograph shows how Everett Scott, shortstop for the Boston Red Sox, stops the hot ones that burn the ground. Scott holds the record for participation in consecutive baseball games. When he took the field against Cleveland recently, Scott extended to 579, the number of games in which he has played without interruption.

Several weeks ago Scott surpassed the modern record of 533 games held by Ludorus of the Philadelphia Nationals. Then baseball historians dug into the dusty archives of the sport to find that George Pinckney, shortstop of the Brooklyn club of 1885-90 had taken part in 578 games in six seasons without a break.

Scott, having played consistently since 1910, has made his record in five playing seasons, with no layoff in prospect.

Scott is a Bluffton (Ind.) boy, and he broke into baseball with the Kokomo club in the Northern league in 1909. He played in the O. P. and Central leagues and with the St. Paul American association club before becoming a regular with the Boston Red Sox in 1914.

A Few Facts

Messrs. Tilghman Lime & Supply Co.,
Fruitland, Md.
Gentlemen:

Regarding the soil testing campaign for acidity, or in other words whether lime was needed or not, I find the following results:

Of the 81 samples that this office has tested to date, 77 farms needed lime.

To date, the Maryland Agricultural College has tested 1,100 samples of soil, and found that 74% needed lime, and practically all of the samples showing no acidity came from fields that have been limed during the past two or three years.

I believe that the proper use of lime will correct many of our ills.

Very truly yours,

The qualities of lime which are ordinarily applied to land—per acre—in the various forms, are as follows:

Hydrated Shell Lime	1,000 lbs.
Hydrated Stone Lime	1,500 lbs.
Raw Shell Lime	2,000 lbs.

Bill Dahlen, a shortstop of the highest class in his day, is an employee at the Polo grounds. Dahlen was not only a crack shortstop and good batter, but full of quick answers. One day Billy Gilbert was slow getting to second base for a double play. "Where were you?" asked Dahlen of Gilbert on the latter's tardy arrival at the bag. "I'll tell you after the inning's over." "Don't tell me," Dahlen advised, "tell McGraw."

NOTES OF SPORT

New York, 100 years ago, had only two billiard rooms.

Harvard and Yale inaugurated their rowing races in 1852.

West Virginia university has made wrestling a minor sport.

Minnesota will erect a football stadium modeled after the Yale bowl.

Norman Ross is supreme in swimming races from 400 to 1,500 meters.

West Virginia university has nine athletic instructors for various squads.

Thanksgiving day will mark the start of 100 days' horse racing at Oriental park, Havana.

Extravagant claims as to Bob Martin's prowess as a haymaker puncher have aroused coast fans.

Chicago Public School Athletic league will follow the New York city plan. Chicago has 200 equipped playgrounds.

Frank Prisch was a cross-handed batter when he joined the Giants. He has changed now. There are no big league players who use this style of grip.

When Wheat, Myers and Griffiths don't hit the Flatbushers fare poorly so far as making runs are concerned. This trio is seldom handcuffed at the plate.

Carl Lundgren, one-time a beam-man with Johnny Evers, with the Cubs, holds a job with the Cards similar to the one Johnny has with the Giants.

With Chick Knapp joining Nashville there now are three sets of brothers in the Southern—Cotton and Chick Knapp, Andy and Charley High, and the Jonnard twins.

"Runs responsible for" recently compiled for National league pitchers do not indicate any less effectiveness on the part of pitchers who really know how to pitch.

AUCTION SALE

IN DELMAR

Of a Splendid Block of Brick Residences SEVEN OF THEM

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8th

AT 5.00 P. M.

All of that splendid block of brick dwellings located at the corner of Elizabeth Street and Railroad Avenue and fronting the latter

KNOWN AS "THE M. H. GERMAN BLOCK"
NOW OWNED BY MR. JAY WILLIAMS

This is the only block of brick residences in the growing town of Delmar. They are situated in the heart of this town and are especially well located and suited to the convenience of Railroad men as they are only a few hundred feet from the depot. We invite inspection. They are in excellent condition and are tenanted by first class renters.

THIS IS YOUR CHANCE TO OWN A BRICK HOME (The Home of Low Up-Keep) AT AUCTION VALUES ON EASY TERMS

It is also a splendid opportunity to buy as an investment. This desirable block has always rented readily and will always rent readily to the best class of tenants at profitable rates.

THE PROPERTY WILL BE OFFERED AS A WHOLE AND IN SEPARATE PARCELS

This will be done in order to give the investor an opportunity to own and control the whole block if desired; and to give individuals an equal opportunity to buy a single house for home purposes, the seven houses will be offered separately. Terms are attractive and given below.

Six of the houses have 6 rooms each, also 2 porches, pantry, 2 halls, bath room, city water and gas for lighting and cooking. The corner house is an exceptionally good building, of ten rooms, with bath, water, toilet and attic. It is one of the nicest houses in Delmar. This entire block has recently undergone considerable repairs, now has practically a new roof over it all, and is in good condition both on the inside as well as the outside.

THE TERMS OF THE SALE ARE EASY

On the property as a whole: $2,500.00 cash on day of sale; $2,500.00 January 1st, 1921. Balance on mortgage at 6 per cent, payable in 6 and 12 months. If the houses are sold separately, $400.00 cash on the corner house, $400.00 January 1st and the balance in 18 equal monthly instalments with interest. On the others, $300.00 cash; $300.00 January 1st and the remainder in 18 equal monthly instalments with interest. Possession January 1st, 1921, subject to the present tenants rights at that time. No interest and no taxes will be charged for the year 1920. The favorable terms offer any man an opportunity to purchase a good home on the monthly payment plan that is reasonable and within the reach of those who prefer to own a good home rather than to pay rent.

We cordially invite our friends to attend this big auction. If you want a nice home in this thrifty town of fine, prosperous people, you will never have a better chance to buy than here at this sale. We will have the "Merry Band" to play during the sale, so come and bring your family and friends.

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"The most cherished word in any language is Mother and the next is home."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"The man who can own a home and don't, is as blind as a hoot owl in the high noon sunshine."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"It is better to wear cotton jeans breeches and own your own home, than to wear a silk shirt, and pay rent to a Landlord."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"The laws of compensation are immutable, and that old man 'Pay Up' will make a wide difference in his final settlement with the fellow who buys an automobile on credit and the man who buys a home on the instalment plan. In a few years the one will own a pile of junk and a load full of remorse, and the other a clear deed to his home, and a heart full of happiness."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"The man who lives in a rented house, chases the shadow of a home, and the landlord gets the substance."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"That 'got' is a word with two widely different meanings. One of these mornings the renter will get a notice from his landlord which says, 'You're Got To Move,' and then he has troubles all his own. The provident fellow who buys a home receives a deed the same morning which says, 'You're Got a Home,' which brings happiness and contentment. Which of these 'Gots' will you choose, Mr. Man of Family? Eventually you have Got to choose one or the other."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"Own a palace for a home if you can, or a pine slab shanty if you have to, either is better than spending your lifetime paying rent to a landlord."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"Any house that is good enough to rent, is good enough to buy. All of these nice homes to be sold at this auction are rented to first class tenants, and they are homes nice enough for any one."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"Where there is a will there is a way, if any man wills to do so he can buy and own one of these neat brick homes."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"That at the present costs of labor, lumber and hardware it is wiser to buy a ready built house than to build one now."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"Brick residences cost less to paint, heat and keep in condition. It is economy to buy one of these neat brick homes."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"These properties should attract the investor; their fine location and excellent condition, and the fact that they are always occupied by good tenants makes them very attractive as an investment."

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"The sweetest song he ever listened to was, 'mid pleasures and palaces tho I may roam, be it ever so humble, there is no place like home!'"

"MR. DIXIE" SAYS—

"Be sure to attend this sale."

Scraps He Picks Up Here, There
And Everywhere.

During my visit to Ocean Grove in July about which I have written in two or three previous letters, I forgot to mention a few little things which might be of interest to some who have not visited that delightful religious resort. At one of the morning services there were a number of aged people who told of their ardent love for Ocean Grove, which had impelled them to come year after year to spend two to four weeks in the refined Christian atmosphere which permeated the Grove. One elderly woman, I recall, stated that she had visited the Grove each consecutive year for the last 50 years and her regret was that she would soon be "too old to spend the summer months at the dear old spot." Others told of yearly visits covering periods of 40, 30 and 20 years, but they "loved the old spot still." Many pleasing coincidences were related by the "old heads," a few of which Rev. Dr. Heisse tells in a recent issue of the Baltimore Methodist.

"There happened to be sitting next to this scribe upon the platform Rev. William Moses, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, Harrisburg, Pa. He is also editor of the Harrisburg district for the Methodist. The evening previous, upon the platform there sat near him one English in every appearance. At the close of the service Dr. Moses sought him out. "Were you not born in England?" "Yes." "Where?" "In Crook, Durham county." "What is your name?" "Richard H. Wilson, and I am now a Primitive Methodist preacher in Scranton, Pa." "Well, well," said the questioner. "I am William Moses, born also in Crook. We were boys together 50 years ago."

"Dr. Moses had just finished relating to us the experiencing to us the experiences of the previous evening when Rev. Dr. Joseph Dawson, pastor of Centre Street Methodist Episcopal church, Cumberland, Md., came upon the platform, taking his seat at our right. "Dr. Moses, we said, "this is Dr. Dawson, also a son of England. Tell him that interesting story." The story was told. Dr. Dawson was also born in Durham county, but in the city of Durham. Dr. Moses knew his cousin, Rev. Joseph Dawson, who wrote the life of Peter Mackenzie. And strange to relate, Peter Mackenzie was the pastor of Dr. Moses in Crook 50 years ago. These are coincidences pleasing and full of interest. They are set down here just to show how things happen."

New York wholesale poultry dealers are predicting sky-limit of prices for the Thanksgiving and Christmas. Never in the history of the trade were the freezers so bare of turkeys. The current price of good frozen stock, what little is left, is 65c, and by the time the new crop is ready there will probably be no frozen turkeys available and prices are likely to mount near the dollar-a-pound mark. This, of course, is good news to the farmers who raise turkeys, but is tough on the consumers. There seems to be quite large flocks of turkeys in Wicomico this fall. On a recent auto trip through several sections I observed many large flocks of the birds. The prospects are that the "turkey crop" will bring hundreds of dollars into Wicomico county this winter.

The coal situation in Salisbury is alarming, considering the near approach of cold weather. Few persons have been able to secure a ton of coal so far, the cry is "empty bins" from all over town. The coal dealers are trying hard to secure shipments, but are not guaranteeing early deliveries. It is hoped, however, that as the hard coal miners have again gone to work, there will be early shipments of coal to this section.

Politicians of both parties are scratching their heads in vain efforts to size up the political quality of the women voters. But aside from the colored women, who are, of course, confidently set down in the Republican column, they are "at sea." Many white women voters are non-communicative, and only the count of ballots will disclose how they vote.

Approximately 25 carloads of paper will be used to enable the 27,000,000 enfranchised women to mark ballots in the voting booth, says the American Forestry association.

If half that number of lead pencils were to be put in to meet the extra election day business, 13,500,000 pencils at a cost of five cents each would mean an additional expense of $675,000 for the election boards.

About 13,400 reams or about 804,000 pounds of paper will be penciled by the women, either with a cross at the top or by scratching the ticket. Careful estimates of the association show the paper will cost $60,000 and that the press run on the ballots will equal $20,000. The total cost, including cutting and wrapping at $5,000, will be $100,000.

This figure does not take into consideration the fact that tons of paper will be used up in registering the women in order that they may vote. The association has only made estimates on the presidential election and the average size of the ballot in such a case is 16 by 22 inches. The association says registration, which is done in books, will probably use up as much more paper.

What Is Life Insurance?

Life Insurance Is, in Reality, No More Nor Less Than:

1. A home for the family.
2. An education for the children.
3. A comfortable and carefree old age.
4. A stabilizer of business.
5. A savings fund that can be drawn on in case of emergency.

Picture a community where every family owned its own home and every child got an education—where every old person was financially independent and every business was on a sound and stable basis—and finally where every one had a nest egg laid aside for emergencies, and you will have an idea of the kind of a community we are trying to make of Wicomico County.
