DEMOCRATS ELECT A MAJORITY OF LOCAL TICKET IN WICOMICO COUNTY AT TUESDAY'S ELECTION

Col. Charles R. Disharoon Defeats Mr. Fred P. Adkins By The Closest Margin Ever Given Senatorial Candidate In This County.

ALAN F. BENJAMIN ELECTED A MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

ONE OF THE CLOSEST ELECTIONS EVER HELD SINCE THE ORGANIZATION OF THE COUNTY—ELMER C. WILLIAMS, INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE GETS 235 VOTES—DEMOCRATIC MAJORITIES IN COUNTY RANGE FROM 7 FOR SENATOR TO 478 FOR STATE'S ATTORNEY—GENERAL RITCHIE GETS A PLURALITY OF 265 IN COUNTY, BUT MAJOR BROOKE LEE ONLY GETS 66 OVER COL. AMOS W. W. WOODCOCK.

One of the hottest election contests waged in Wicomico county since the memorable fight of 20 years ago, came to an end Tuesday night when the windows shut down at the various voting precincts. The campaign started with a red hot primary contest between Elmer C. Williams and the Hon. Charles R. Disharoon early last summer and continued in violence until Mr. Disharoon won the Democratic nomination for Senator in a hard fought primary in which he defeated his opponent in a vote of about 1700 to 700 for Williams. After his defeat, Mr. Williams became an Independent candidate on the ticket at the General Election and this fact coupled with many local questions on the finances of the county which were hotly contested through the newspapers and by circulars, the campaign was finally worked up to a white heat and one of the largest votes cast in Wicomico County for many years was brought to the polls last Tuesday. The Democrats had suffered somewhat from their primary fight as several disappointments happened in the selection of their ticket, while on the other hand, the Republicans had practically no primary contest and their candidates were nominated by acclamation. The nomination of Mr. F. P. Adkins on the ticket for State Senator was a notice to the Democrats that the Republicans were out to win, and for a while, both parties were worried by the fact that there seemed to be a general apathy existing among the voters and very little attention was paid to campaign arguments on either side, but as the campaign continued, the partisan feeling grew to such an extent that for two weeks before last Tuesday, the county was literally overrun with political agitators on both sides and every candidate was out in the field making a house to house canvass and the voters were showing more interest than for many years past. However, notwithstanding the big vote cast all over the County, several districts were short of their usual vote when compared with their registration.

Election Day opened cloudy and with a light rain falling during the early hours of the morning. Notwithstanding this fact, the voting started in some of the districts at six o'clock A. M., and in big districts like Parsons, where there are somewhere in the neighborhood of 1300 registered voters, 500 votes had been cast by 11 o'clock in the morning, there being a continuous line from the time the polls opened until the noon hour. During the day, rain fell in torrents in some parts of the county, but this did not seem to dampen the ardor of the Democrats or the Republicans. Party workers were everywhere in evidence and both Democratic and Republican headquarters in Salisbury were kept busy all day answering calls on the telephone, sending out runners and giving the usual attention to details for the day's fight.

As usual, many stories were circulated from the outlying districts that both sides were using considerable money in trying to induce the voters to vote their respective tickets and in some districts, reports came in that the Republicans were hiring certain classes of Democrats to stay away from the polls and that Democrats were endeavoring to hire colored men to remain away from casting their vote, but as usual, these stories were all taken with a grain of salt as they are the usual outcry of the party workers on both sides, and a careful investigation failed to prove that there was much truth in many of these flying rumors. During the campaign, both political parties had been very active in clearing the registration books of the hundreds of names thereon which had no right to be on the books and this aided very materially in the election officials being able to get the vote in the box in such large quantities, as fewer names had to be scanned on the books of people who had not voted for several years.

The vote in Wicomico County for the local offices in some cases is too close for comfort. This is especially true of the vote for Senator, Mr. Disharoon defeating Mr. Fred P. Adkins by the small plurality of 7, which is the smallest majority ever received by a successful Democratic candidate for Senator since the organization of the County. This result was brought about by many conditions existing in the campaign. Mr. Adkins was strongly supported by his Party people and he also secured many Democratic votes, and the fact that there was a third candidate on the ticket for the Senate in the person of Elmer C. Williams who was running as an Independent had the effect of drawing from Mr. Disharoon some votes he would otherwise have secured. The real fight of the campaign was on the head of the ticket, and both organizations made a strenuous effort for the election of their respective candidate to the State Senate. Mr. Williams received 235 votes in the entire county, which was of course, a very poor showing as it was said he had about 250 or 260 names on his petition endorsing his candidacy as an Independent candidate. The close margin by which Mr. Disharoon was elected Senator kept the Democrats as well as the Republicans at fever heat all during Tuesday night and up to an early hour Wednesday morning the full returns not being tabulated in Salisbury at the headquarters until about 11 o'clock Wednesday.

There were several other rather close votes among the candidates for the various offices, and the old time Democratic majorities by which the county used to be carried were sadly missing in the result. The State ticket did fairly well receiving about a plurality over the Republican State ticket but there was a vast difference in the vote of many local candidates by vote received by the Democratic State candidates.

The tabulated statement published in this column shows the closeness by which the Election was carried in Wicomico County. According to these figures, the State ticket has a plurality of 265 for Ritchie but Major Brooke Lee only carried the county over Col. Amos W. W. Woodcock by 66 plurality. The Democratic State Ticket carried the following districts: Barren Creek, Quantico, Pittsburg, Parsons, Dennis, Nutters, Delmar, Camden and Hebron. The Republican State Ticket carried Tyaskin, Trappe, Salisbury, Sharptown, Nanticoke and Willards.

Mr. Charles R. Disharoon carried the following districts: Barren Creek, Quantico, Parsons, Dennis, Delmar, Camden and Hebron, while Mr. F. P. Adkins, his opponent for the State Senate was successful in carrying Tyaskin, Pittsburg, Trappe, Nutters, Salisbury, Sharptown, Nanticoke and Willards. The tabulated statement shows Mr. Disharoon's plurality over Mr. Adkins to be 7. The Republican Headquarters claims that the tabulated statement is not correct in one or two places and Mr. Disharoon will only have about 4 votes over Mr. Adkins when the final result is shown.

The Republicans were successful in electing one County Commissioner in the person of Mr. Alan F. Benjamin who defeated Mr. Theodore S. Hearn by a plurality of 56. Mr. Benjamin received a tremendous vote in Trappe District which gave him the lead in the fight. The highest man on the Democratic Legislative ticket was Mr. Hooper S. Miles who received 2463 votes in the county. Mr. Harry Dennis, candidate for County Treasurer received the largest vote of any of the local candidates getting 2767 or within two votes of Attorney-General Ritchie. The next highest man on the local ticket was Mr. Curtis W. Long, who received 2695 giving him a plurality of 478 votes over his opponent, Thomas H. Lewis, Jr.

Some of the extremely close calls which the Democratic local ticket had is shown by the fact that Nathaniel O. Austin defeated H. James Bounds, Republican, by a plurality of only 21 votes, while W. W. Larmore, Democratic candidate for Sheriff only had 54 plurality over his opponent George William Chatham. The election of Mr. Benjamin, Republican candidate for County Commissioner was distinctly a personal victory and gives the County Commissioners one Republican member, the same as it had for the past two years, Mr. Benjamin taking the place of Mr. F. P. Adkins who will retire in December.

About $2,000 damage was done by fire in an office and store room at the Eastern Shore Gas and Electric Light Company plant in North Laurel Tuesday night. The building was separate from the main plant and while covered with sheet iron the contents were completely destroyed. The Laurel fire department responded to the alarm. This was the first fire there since the installation of the new siren alarm and it could be heard for two miles or more.

LEARNING FACTS ABOUT THE GREAT EASTERN SHORE OF MARYLAND

Automobile Clubs Of New York And Philadelphia Getting Out Booklets On What We Have to Offer Here.

SAYS PENINSULA IS A LAND OF ROMANCE AND BEAUTY

TIME WILL SOON BE HERE WHEN A NEW YORKER CAN DRIVE FROM HIS OWN DOORSTEP TO CAPE CHARLES OVER THE MOST IMPROVED HIGHWAYS—INTERESTING TOWNS, COLONIAL SURROUNDINGS AND RARE OLD CHURCHES OF INTEREST TO TOURISTS.

The tourists of New York and Philadelphia are fast becoming acquainted with the splendid opportunities for seeing a new country by the reports which are weekly given out by the touring bureaus of these cities for the purpose of posting automobile tourists as to new routes and new countries in which they may find pleasure and profit by the use of their cars. The development of road building in Delaware during the past 12 months has added much to the importance of the automobile pike from Philadelphia to Norfolk which in a very few years will be an established fact and which will have the effect of drawing thousands of tourists to this section of Maryland who have never before visited the Eastern Shore.

When the good roads system of Delaware is completed, the State will have two highways from the Maryland to the Pennsylvania lines—one of them almost paralleling the Delaware Railroad from Delmar to Wilmington and the other the duPont Boulevard in the Eastern section of the Sussex and Kent counties. Both of these roads will connect up with the Maryland highways. One at Delmar and the other at or near Berlin, and the tourists will then have a straight get-away from the Delaware line to the Virginia line at Pocomoke City where within a short time he will be able to keep going on a first-class Virginia highway clear through to Cape Charles.

One of the officers of the Philadelphia Automobile Club in company with a well known New York automobilist passed through Salisbury a few days ago over this route, and was taking complete notes of every detail of the road, the hotel accommodation, the various towns and also making inquiries as to any historical old buildings which might be noted in the tourist book, as places of amusement and interest to the Northern and Eastern automobilist. These gentlemen were enthusiastic over the prospects of opening up this new territory to New York and Philadelphia motorists and said in speaking of the new route that in their opinion no section of the United States east of the Rockies afforded a better opportunity for pleasant automobiling than the Peninsula route. Commenting on the highways and the many interesting points along the route one of these gentlemen said: "You have everything on this Peninsula to induce the man from the big cities to visit your country and make frequent trips thru this territory. The climate is the most agreeable I have ever seen and you have so many lakes and rivers running in every direction which furnishes opportunity for gunning, fishing and trapping and also for house boating that I am surprised more of our people have not found out this territory before. Why, travelling through this country, I noticed strawberries growing in the fields at this season of the year, and your hotels while not strictly up to first-class, have many things on the table to tickle the palate of the city man, and when you think of the vast number of resorts such as Ocean City and other points along the Atlantic and the hundreds of other beautiful spots dotting the bays and rivers to which our improved highways connect, it is really a vacation spot where the average man living in New York, Philadelphia and Boston could pass a week or two in automobiling with probably more pleasure and at less cost than anywhere else in the United States. Your roads are simply marvelous and when within a short time it is possible for a gentleman to leave his own door in New York or Philadelphia and drive over macadam and concrete roads clear through to Cape Charles where he can take a steamer across the beautiful Chesapeake and wend his way home by another route, it is unfortunate that thousands of men and women who are able to automobile are entirely ignorant of what you have here to offer them.

"Another thing which the average city man and woman enjoys would be a ramble through the old antique and colonial houses which you find in so many of your smaller towns and the vast number of aged churches in which cluster so much of the romance and the history of the ante-bellum days. The Philadelphia Automobile Club proposes to let everyone of its members know of the splendid opportunity you have here for entertainment and the beautiful country and the healthful climate which is within their reach, and I venture the assertion that next year you will see more automobilists than you have ever seen before. In the meantime, you should get a few more up-to-date hotels in some of the smaller places so as to be able to give accommodation where ever it happens the automobilist wants to stop to spend the night."

GO FAR BACK IN HISTORY

English Towns That Have Been Established for Centuries and Almost Equally Old Families.

A story coming from the picturesque village of Lynton in Devonshire, England, of a resident of three score and ten who informed a visitor that his father was "upstairs putting grandfather to bed," recalls another interesting example of Devonian links with another century. The hamlet of Wreyland on the little stream known as the Wrey is composed of but six houses. Four of these come within the wide sweep of beautiful Devonshire landscape commanded by an eminence in the district. Each of the four was the name of a Saxon thane in the days of Edward the Confessor, and each was inscribed in the Domesday book of William I—the first Vluclei, now Woolley; the second, Polebroch, now Pullabrook; the third Haucomere, now Hawkesmere, and the fourth Erlauford, now Elstord. According to a book recently published by the owner of one of the houses it is not only the homesteads that possess so remarkable a tradition, since there are families in the hamlet of no less historic interest than the houses in which they dwell.

CYNICAL

"I know a woman who never talks about anybody else and who does not even listen to scandal when others give utterance of it."
"Poor thing! Was she always deaf and dumb?"

TREATING SEVERED NERVES.

When a limb is amputated special attention has to be paid to the nerves. For these, as Dr. Edred M. Corner pointed out in his recent Harvard lecture in London, have the peculiar power of regenerating. They will invade all contiguous structure, such as bones, vessels and muscles, in a wild growth between the cells.

The pain consequent on an amputation is due to the cutting of the nerves; it passes away in a few days. But if the wound be infected the infection spreads to the nerves and produces neuritis.

Doctor Corner said the divided nerves must be cut short, their mouths must be closed and infection must be avoided by abstaining from handling and manipulation.

PAINFUL EXPERIENCE.

"Here comes Glipping."
"I don't want to meet him."
"What's the matter?"
"Glipping persuaded me to try his recipe for putting a 'kick' in a bottle of grape juice. If there were such a thing as justice in this world he'd have to pay my doctor's bill."

A DRUG, INDEED.

"Whisky has become a drug in the market."
"True," answered Uncle Bill Batteltop. "Anything of the kind you get now not only tastes like drugs but costs more than the highest priced prescription."

UNAFRAID.

"Thank you very much, (respectfully)—but I am not a man of many words. I'm not a man of many words."

KEEN CHATTER.

"Why is it that you are on the bill-boards?"
"It was my fault."
"What was your fault?"
"I was too chatty."

APPRAISED.

"I don't like my dear, what do you think of the new neighbors?"
"Well, Oh, Jack, they take twice as big a piece of us as we do."
Boston Evening Transcript.

PROPAGANDA FROM THE AIR

Japanese Society Uses Planes to Scatter Leaflets Urging Improved Health Conditions.

The Japan Consumptive Prevention association, or the Nihon Yokokaku Yobo-kai, carried out an aerial propaganda last Sunday, and as Tokyo people were out in force seeing the sights, the printed matter whirling down from the sky was a startling method to awaken them to their social duties.

Thousands of folks out for a holiday in Hibiya park, sitting quietly on the benches admiring the many-hued azaleas and listening to the distant sound of the military band playing for the amusement of the Sunday crowds, suddenly saw something falling through the air, and watched the arrival of propaganda leaflets with open-mouthed astonishment.

One read as follows: "Consumption sputa are fireless explosives;" another, "Long nails are a den of the cursed disease." Still others read, "Where no sunlight enters the doctor enters," and "By watering lay the dust; by wind blow away the damp."—Far Eastern Bureau Bulletin.

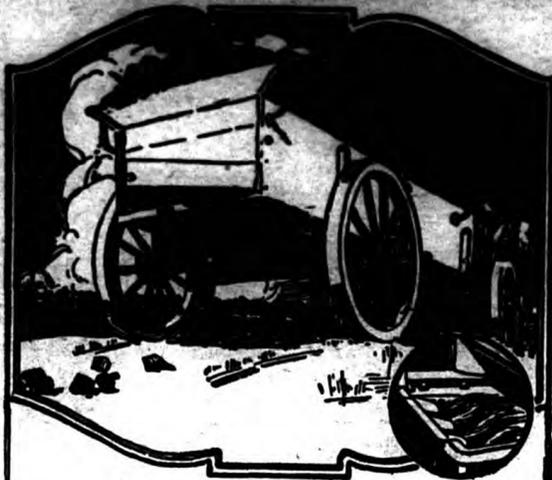

DEPICTED NATURE AS HARSH

English Philosopher's Theory Would Account for Devastating Wars and Pestilences.

The economic doctrine that the natural tendency of population is to increase faster than the means of subsistence was set forth in systematic form by an Englishman named Malthus. He crystallized the views of the ancient Greek philosophers, Plato and Aristotle, the English historian Hume, and the American politician Franklin, and presented them in systematic form with elaborate proofs derived from history.

Malthus was born on February 14, 1766, near Dorking, in Surrey, England, where his father owned a small estate. He distinguished himself at Cambridge university, and became a Church of England clergyman in his native county. In 1798 he brought out his "Essay on the Principles of Population," and some years later he was appointed professor of political economy and modern history in the East India company's college at Haileybury. He died at Bath on December 29, 1834.

A Juvenile Court for This County and Why

By JUDGE FRANK I. DUNCAN.

The demand for a Juvenile Court for Wicomico County is still a subject of much discussion among many of our citizens, and there is a belief that a community the size of Salisbury should certainly have a Juvenile Court to take care of Juvenile offenders. This subject is of so much interest to so many of our people, the editors of the News requested Judge Frank I. Duncan of Baltimore County who is an authority on the subject of Juvenile Courts to write us a paper on the subject which he has most graciously done. The first section of this article is published below and will be continued in the next issue of the News for completion. We feel sure it will be read with great interest by the thousands of readers of the News. Judge Duncan says:

At a public meeting held in Maryland in the summer of 1919, in the interest of social welfare, the writer was by resolution requested to prepare for publication a paper showing the importance of a Juvenile Court for Wicomico County as well as its object and scope.

And in responding to that request it will be our aim to do so plainly and concisely and illustrated by actual cases, so that the humblest citizen can fully understand it.

Justices of the Peace have Jurisdiction over Children—unless you Have A Juvenile Court.

Unless you have a Juvenile Court presided over by one of the Judges of your Court; Justices of the Peace have jurisdiction over your children and may commit them to the various reformatories of the State for children to be held under their rules and regulations until they reach 21 years of age—there are scores of children today held in Institutions and leading an unnatural existence who never should have been committed to them—because their cases and their surroundings were not properly considered.

There is no duty requiring more intelligent and conscientious consideration than in dealing with the individual case of a dependent or delinquent boy or girl; their whole future may depend upon the finding of the official who hears it.

Justices of the Peace are not trained in the law, and as a rule not familiar with the problems confronting them in dealing with the dependency or delinquency of a child.

Upon some complaint made to them of the trivial delinquency of a child they have frequently sent them to Institutions for children, there to remain under their rules until their majority.

Some time ago a Jewish boy 13 years of age confined in a boys' Reformatory was brought before the writer on a writ of Habeas Corpus—it was shown at the hearing that he had been sent there by a Justice of the Peace and had been there for three years for taking 20 cents worth of chewing gum from a broken slot machine on the street—it is needless to say he was released and sent to his home.

A man for such an offense would not have been given over 30 days in jail by any Judge and yet this boy, and because he was a boy, was sent to the Reformatory until he was 21 years old, in other words, was sentenced for 8 years—it is to prevent just such miscarriage of justice that the Juvenile Court is given exclusive jurisdiction in dealing with Juvenile offenders.

What is a Juvenile Court?

It is a branch of the Circuit Court sitting as a Court of Equity without a Jury having exclusive jurisdiction over boys under 20 years of age and girls under 18 years; it is presided over by one or more Judges of the Circuit Court especially designated for that duty. Its sessions should be held regularly, so that all interested in the welfare of a child—whether for its care or discipline should know when and where to go for assistance or advice. When such a Court is properly organized it will take but a short time for every child in the County to learn that there is a Court which is distinctly theirs, and if properly and intelligently conducted they will respect or fear it as the case may be.

The Organization of the Court.

The organization of the Juvenile Court is very simple and is free from the technicalities of the usual Court proceedings.

In addition to the Judge there is a clerk who is selected by the Judge from the deputies of the Clerk of the Circuit Court for the purpose, who does not receive any additional compensation; it is his duty to keep a correct record of every child brought within the jurisdiction of the Court.

Then there is a probation officer whose duty it is to investigate all complaints reported by any citizen concerning dependent, neglected or ir-origible children and if in her judgment they are well founded to report them to the Court for investigation; it is also her duty to watch over all cases of children released by the Court on parole and periodically report to the Court on their conduct.

Character of Juvenile Court Cases.

1. Dependent Children—such as where father and mother are dead; mother dead, and father unable to properly care for them; father dead, and mother unable to provide for them; Parents criminal or vicious, and unfit to care for them; crippled children whose parents are unable, or who refuse to procure surgical assistance; Feeble minded, deaf and dumb, tubercular, and blind children; illegitimate children, and foundlings.

2. Delinquent children—such as incorrigible; parents unable to control them.

Those who violate the criminal laws.

Those guilty of indecent, immoral or lascivious conduct.

Those who frequent gambling places.

Those who associate with thieves and vicious and depraved persons.

Truants.

The Procedure.

When a case of a dependent or delinquent child is reported to the Court by a responsible person—or where a delinquent child is under arrest for any violation of the law; the probation officer immediately investigates the case and if the complaint is well founded, it is reported to the Court, a summons is then issued to both father and mother if living, and the witnesses to appear in Court at a certain day and the Judge proceeds to hear all the parties to the case including the child, these hearing are free from technicalities and the strict rules of evidence are disregarded, this being a children's Court the proceedings are as informal as possible. (To Be Continued).

SMITH—WHITE.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding last Thursday, at night noon, when Miss Louise White became the bride of Dr. Chas. F. Smith.

The bride made a charming picture as she walked up the aisle leaning on the arm of her father Dr. E. Riall White, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, where awaited her the bridegroom, attended by his best man Dr. W. Hill of Baltimore.

The English marriage service with ring followed. The Rev. Herbert Cone officiated, in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives.

The bride was attractively gowned in blue traveling dress of Tricotine, with small hat of brocade blue and silver cloth and wore a corsage bouquet of orchids.

Dr. Smith, formerly of Chestertown, is a rising dentist having worked up a large practice since establishing offices here.

A reception was held at the bride's home immediately after the ceremony. The young couple left for a short tour on the 8.14 p. m. train, followed through the main streets by the gay company keeping up a constant din with their auto horns.

Visitors from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith of Chestertown, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Price, of Centerville, Mr. Jas. H. Willis, Messrs. Phillip and Edward Willis, of Oxford, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Froth Kent and Miss Kent, of Trappe, Md., Miss Ethel Macklin, of Wilmington, Miss Margaret Stein, Westminster, and Dr. W. Hall of Baltimore.

Burglary On Park Street.

Thieves entered the home of Mr. John W. Downing several nights ago while the family was temporarily away and succeeded in carrying off a large amount of various kinds of household goods and wearing apparel. Mr. Downing was having some repairs at the home at the time and he and his family were temporarily living with his father. The thieves entered the house from the cellar, cut a panel out of the cellar door and entering upstairs completely ransacked the house, taking away all the valuable silver, some dresses belonging to Mrs. Downing as well as a suit of clothes and other articles of Mr. Downing. They took all of the silver ornaments from the bureau and in fact carried away everything which could be moved without causing any disturbance. The thieves retreated from the house by way of the rear yard and up to date Mr. Downing has been unable to find any traces of the thieves or of the goods stolen.

GENERAL ELECTION THROUGHOUT THE VARIOUS STATES OF UNION

Five States Voted For Governors Tuesday Among Them Being Maryland.

OHIO TOOK FIRST VOTE ON PROHIBITION AMENDMENT

KENTUCKY ALSO VOTED ON THE PROHIBITION QUESTION AND SEVERAL OTHER STATES HAD AMENDMENTS OF VARIOUS KINDS TO SETTLE—OHIO RETURNS WILL BE EAGERLY SOUGHT FOR AS IT IS THE FIRST TEST OF POPULAR VOTE ON PROHIBITION.

Electors in five States went to the polls Tuesday to ballot for Governors. Election of lesser officials and decisions on constitutional question faced the voters of several other States.

Governors were elected in Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi and New Jersey. The elections in Ohio were watched with interest by "wet" and "dry" advocates there, for the first time in any State, a popular vote was taken on the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

The voters voted upon two referendums and two amendments—the former relating to legislative ratification of the Federal Prohibition amendment and the Prohibition Enforcement act passed by the last Legislature, and the latter to a definition of 2.76 as un-intoxicating liquor and repeal of that constitutional State-wide Prohibition.

Kentucky also voted on State-wide prohibition, and in common with Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Virginia elected members to both branches of the State legislature. The chief duty before New York was election of Assemblymen and Supreme Court Justices.

Constitutional questions confronted Illinois, Nebraska and Texas. Illinois and Nebraska elected delegates to constitutional conventions, while Texas passed on a call for a similar convention and six constitutional amendments. There were no elections in the Far West.

Hot Fight In President's State.

New Jersey presented what is perhaps the hottest, closest and most demagogic situation in the country. The Democrats, through the astuteness or otherwise of James R. Nugent, noted in New Jersey as a bitter foe of President Wilson, have tried to make prohibition the leading issue, although it is a hollow one and academic at that, now that the prohibition enforcement law has been enacted. The idea had taken a strong hold in the great industrial centers of the State and in its holiday resorts, all of which were practically normally Republican. Both parties were more or less split up over various issues, for not all of the Democrats were "wets" or favor the nullification program of the Democratic candidate. They were also split over the League of Nations.

RITCHIE LOOKS LIKE WINNER IN STATE BY ABOUT 1,000 PLURALITY

All State Candidates Said To Have Been Elected By A Safe Majority.

RETURNS UP TO 12 O'CLOCK NOON WEDNESDAY WERE NOT BY ANY MEANS COMPLETE BUT THE CHANCES WERE WITH THE DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET AND THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IS CLAIMED BY THE DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION AS BEING SAFELY WITH THEM.

The returns for the entire State were very slow in coming in and many estimates had to be made as to the majorities in the various counties as well as in Baltimore City. Wednesday morning the Baltimore Sun claimed the election of Albert C. Ritchie, Democratic Governor and the entire Democratic State ticket by a plurality of about 1,000 for the entire State but these figures of course were subject to change as many of the districts in remote parts of the State had not been heard from up to the time of making these figures. It seemed however almost certain that the Democrats have elected their State ticket by a small plurality.

The Legislature and Senate is being claimed by both parties, the Republican organization claiming to have a majority on joint ballot, while the Democratic headquarters send out reports that their side will have a good working majority in both branches. It will probably be late Thursday before actual figures can be given as to how the next General Assembly will stand and on this will depend also the control of the Board of Public Work and the patronage which is to be distributed during the next term of the Governor.

The reports published in the Baltimore papers up to the time of going to press indicated that many of the Democratic strongholds of the Eastern Shore had not come up to their usual big Democratic majorities and that the Republicans had made some gains in Western and Southern Maryland over their usual vote. If these reports prove to be true, it may be that the complexion of the next General Assembly is still in doubt although the Democrats persistently claim that they will have control and that the entire State Government will be in their hands for the next four years.

The result in Baltimore City was somewhat of a disappointment to the Democratic Organization as it was thought that General Ritchie would win in Baltimore by a much larger plurality than the figures are likely to show. Major Brooke Lee, running for Comptroller seems to have a larger plurality in Baltimore by several thousand than Mr. Ritchie. This is thought to have been brought about by the closer affiliation of the Mahon and Preston people to the Lee wing of the Democratic Party.

Up to the time of going to press the following results from the counties had been reported, giving majorities as shown For Albert C. Ritchie.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—Mrs. C. Clifton Hueso of Baltimore is the guest of Mrs. Beulah P. Smith.

—Mrs. John Bevan of Philadelphia is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. Lemuel Wyatt.

—Mr. Harvey Cahall, of Wilmington spent the week end with his brother Mr. Roland Cahall, Vine St., this city.

—Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gordy and Mrs. William Gordy, and little daughter left Tuesday for Baltimore where they will spend a few days.

—Miss Bessie M. Gordy of Girdle- tree, Md., spent the week end at the home of her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gordy, at Delmar, Del.

—Miss Evelyn Gordy of Cape Charles, Va., is the guest of her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gordy.

—Dr. and Mrs. Norman Glover of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Peter Causey of Virginia spent the week- end with friends in Salisbury.

—The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held Monday Nov. 10th, 3 p. m. in Elk's Hall. Important business.

—Mr. Willard E. Downham from Wilmington, Del. was the guest of Miss Mildred E. Parker for the week end.

—Mr. George W. Turner, who for many years lived in this city, but who has been living in Virginia for some time has moved back to Salisbury with his family and accepted a permanent position with Mr. James E. Ball in the barber business.

—Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Alice H. Wales, of this city, to Mr. E. Howard Scott, of Philadelphia, to be solemnized at the bride's home on South Division street at 1 o'clock, Saturday, November 8.

—The usual Hallowe'en street parade was omitted in Salisbury last week because of an order passed by the Mayor and Council forbidding masking on the streets. The thousands of people who usually gathered on Hallowe'en night to witness the fun failed to materialize because of the reports which were circulated that no parade would be held. The authorities thought that under the circumstances it would be best to prohibit mask parades on the streets of the city and the only celebration of the occasion was a big ball at the Armory which was attended by several hundred people without mask.

—The Methodists of Ocean City, who for years have been without a church building, are rejoicing in the preparations they are making for imposing services to be held Sunday, Nov. 9th, when the cornerstone of the new church will be laid. Gov. Townsend, of Delaware, Hon. L. Atwood Bennett, Senator Orlando Harrison, Rev. Dr. Vaughn S. Collins, Rev. Ernest Greenfield and other prominent ministers and laymen will be present. It is expected that many people from all parts of the state will attend this service, which marks the initial step in supplying the needs of the denomination at our popular resort.

Mrs. Wm. S. Tilghman.

—Mrs. Wm. S. Tilghman died at her home near East New Market, Tuesday night, Oct. 14th at 8.30, following a brief attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Tilghman was 61 years of age. She is survived by her husband and two children, one daughter, Mrs. Edith Reid of Federalburg, and one son, Mr. Irving Tilghman, who resided at home. Funeral services were held from her late home Thursday afternoon at half past two. Interment in East New Market Cemetery. Having lived in Salisbury the early part of her life, she afterwards moved with her husband to East New Market, near which place she lived about 34 years.

TWO NEW CONTRACTS FOR OUR SHIPYARD

Smith & Williams Company Start Work On Two Fine House-Boats.

TO COST AROUND $12,000 EACH FOR PHILA. PARTIES.

The Snellingburg Brothers Come To Salisbury To Have Handsome Yacht Houseboats Constructed For Use In Southern Waters.

The Smith & Williams shipyard of this city started work Monday morning on a contract for two handsome yacht houseboats for the Messrs. Snellingburg of Philadelphia. These boats are two-deckers about 40 feet long and will be among the handsomest house-boats ever constructed in this city. They will be used by the Snellingburg Brothers for touring Southern waters, and the contract calls for their completion and full equipment by March 1st, 1920.

These boats will be outfitted with the very handsomest upholstery, fine hardwood work, the very best plumbing and in fact, will be strictly up-to-date in every particular. They will be lighted with electricity and have proper steam heat. They are to be built to accommodate about 10 persons on each boat, and the cost is around $10,000 to $12,000 each. In speaking of these boats, Mr. Smith, manager of the Smith & Williams Company said that when completed, they would compare favorably with any house-boat which could be found in the Florida waters next spring. They were designed by J. N. Watts, Marine Architect of Philadelphia.

The yard is also engaged at present in the construction of a hundred foot barge which Mr. Smith is building on his own account but which he feels certain will be sold to New York parties during the coming week. Besides these contracts, several others are now being bid on with the expectation that all of them will be finally landed which will mean that the yard will have at least a year's work ahead of it without doubt. At present there are about 37 men at work in the yard but this force will be very largely increased during the next few weeks and Mr. Smith believes that his shipyard in this city will be one of the busiest places in Salisbury for the remainder of this year and far into the year of 1920.

The Eastern Shore Shipbuilding Corporation plant at Sharptown which was recently purchased by Mr. Smith at public sale for $31,000 has been formally turned over to the new owner and Mr. Smith in conversation with the News reporter said that he had no idea of wrecking this yard. Speaking of the enterprise he said: "I have no intention of wrecking this yard as it is one of the best for construction of wooden ships on the Coast. My purpose is to dispose of a lot of material and equipment which was never needed at the plant and to get it down to a strictly working basis and I have already had sufficient inquiries to cause me to believe that this yard can be run very profitably for several years to come in the construction of large wooden ships, barges and tug boats, and my purpose is to re-open this yard at the very earliest opportunity, certainly as soon as I have rearranged the layout to some extent so as to be able to turn out the work with less cost and more speedily. There is not a yard on the Atlantic Coast which is better equipped for this class of work than the yard at Sharptown. We have railroads within the yard and the very highest class of electrical machinery and appliances and the location is about as good as you could get. While it is somewhat removed from railroads, there are many advantages in the deep water we have, and the ample wharfage and after all, it costs but very little more to handle our heavy timbers by way of Seaford and the Nanticoke River than it costs at my plant in Salisbury. There is yet plenty of demand for shipbuilding yards and I believe will be for several years to come. Therefore, there will be no wrecking of this, but it will be put in first class condition so that we can accept contracts there for speedy completion and at prices which should land them without trouble.

The Ashbury Church.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Ashbury Church has arranged for the showing of the great patriotic picture, "The Service Star," at the Liberty Theatre on Thursday, November 13th. This picture comes highly recommended and is well worth seeing. A matinee showing of the picture at 3.30, admission 17 cents and 11 cents. In the evening at 8 o'clock the Rev. Joseph T. Henson, D.D., will lecture on "Ireland and the Irish," illustrated by about 50 colored views. Tickets 25 cents. The picture "The Service Star" will be shown at 6.45 and after the lecture.

TWO MORE COUNTIES WILL BE ORGANIZED

Talbot And Dorchester Y. M. C. A. Movement To Start With Dinner.

TWO EASTERN SHOREMEN WILL BE SECRETARIES.

Mr. Julian D. Carey, Formerly Of This City And M. W. Harris Of Centreville Will Have Charge Of Work In The Two Counties.

Two county dinners will be held Monday night, November 10th, one at Hotel Norris, Easton, and the other at Hotel Dixon, Cambridge, both at 8 o'clock, for Talbot and Dorchester counties respectively. These two dinners are the real beginning of County and Rural Y. M. C. A. Work in the two counties, in which the secretaries of the Eastern Shore District Committee have been working with the help of local men during the past seven weeks. They will be the opening for simultaneous campaigns to raise funds for a County Budget in each county and it is expected that the canvass in each county will end in one week with the full amount secured. $3500.00 is needed in each of the two counties the first year, a part of which is for traveling and after the first year the budgets will be approximately $4000.00 to $4500.00. This money is for the benefit of each county's own communities and their own boys and young men and therefore, there ought to be a hearty response. People will be asked to subscribe in all cases possible for a period of three (3) years with quarterly, semi-annual and annual payments if desired.

The funds will be handled and the work directed by County Committees. M. W. Harris of Centreville and a graduate of Dickinson College is the provisional County Secretary for Dorchester County. Julian D. Carey of Salisbury, who studied at St. John's College and has been engaged in recreational and social work in the Army Camps is the provisional County Secretary for Talbot County. It should be gratifying to every one, that two Eastern Shore young men are expected to be the first two County Secretaries.

President Samuel C. Mitchell of Delaware State College is the speaker for the Dorchester County dinner, at Hotel Dixon in Cambridge. Mr. Carlton Harrison of Baltimore is the speaker for Talbot County dinner, Hotel Norris, in Easton.

An attractive circular with 16 photographs has been issued to insure that every one will understand the program that will be carried on.

More Women Operators Needed For Work in City

Business Men Might Aid In Getting Our Shirt And Underwear Factories Help by Advertising.

In another section of this paper is an advertisement from the B. V. D. Company offering employment to 75 female operators at their factory in this city at the corner of William and Railroad Avenue. This concern which manufactures the well-known B. V. D. underwear has recently installed new machinery throughout the building and arranged for increasing their working force from 75 operators now employed to 150 provided the extra help can be secured.

This Company took over the business of the Luckett Company about a year ago and since that time have operated the factory here with great success. There are many small communities surrounding Salisbury where women operators could find steady employment in this city with the various shirt and underwear factories running here at extremely good wages and in most cases, they could retain their homes in the smaller communities where living is cheaper but could work in Salisbury where wages are higher. Our Business Men's Association could probably aid our various manufacturing concerns here which employ women help by doing a little advertising in these outside communities, giving the unemployed in these smaller towns the information about working conditions in Salisbury and some information regarding the wage scales here which they would be able to earn. With this help it might be possible to induce considerably more female help to come to Salisbury and there is a demand for it not only by this Company but by the other concerns employing women for manufacturing purposes. It is certainly a part of the work which the Business Men's Association should perform, as by aiding the securing of help to the manufacturing establishments of this city, we make it possible for these concerns to enlarge their scope of work and it also is an incentive in inducing other new enterprises to locate here.

GOV. HARRINGTON CALLS FOR RED CROSS MEMBERS

Issues Proclamation To People To Aid In Third Red Cross Roll Call.

TELLS WHY EVERYONE SHOULD SUPPORT ORGANIZATION.

A Direct Appeal From The Chief Executive Of The State Which Should Greatly Aid In Drive From Nov. 3rd to 11th For New Membership.

The Third Red Cross Honor Roll for membership is now on, and it is to be hoped that our people will give a liberal response to this great movement. It costs you only $1.00 per year to be a member of the Red Cross organization and you could not expend a dollar in any other way which would bring half as much relief to humanity as by joining the Red Cross. When one thinks that only about 11 per cent. of all the people in the Potomac Division which includes Maryland were members of the Red Cross organization it would appear as if there had been great neglect on our part in not lending our dollar and our aid to this great work. The Drive is now on and to show just how much importance and in what esteem it is held, Governor Harrington has issued the following proclamation to the people of Maryland which should be read by every citizen and acted upon affirmatively at once:

"The American Red Cross will conduct its Third Annual Roll Call for Red Cross members during the week from November 3rd to 11th and by request of the Potomac Division, I, Emerson C. Harrington, Governor of Maryland, call upon the people of this State to respond promptly and generously to the needs of this great organization.

"I urge all present Red Cross members in Maryland to renew their annual membership in the American Red Cross and thereby express their confidence in this work and endorse the continuing of its service to meet the needs of the State, the Nation and the world. In every county of Maryland there is a Red Cross Chapter, and I hope every chapter will use the present opportunity to support and strengthen its organization.

The demands on the Red Cross have not been decreased. It has many problems to face and to solve. Its matchless service during the war reached millions and not only helped the soldiers but entered their homes and cared for their loved ones. It was the brightest page in help, mercy and sympathy ever written in the sorrow and suffering of the world. The Red Cross does not forget either the men who served or their families, and your contributions to its labors and your support of its activities mean aid and kindness and brotherhood.

"The president of the American Red Cross is Woodrow Wilson, and the vice-president is William H. Taft and from them down the line are thousands of the most able and most representative Americans. There is not a finer, a nobler or a more useful organization. We should give it and its unselfish leaders and workers our best encouragement. Here in Maryland where the Red Cross is so competently managed we should show our substantial appreciation and join in its spirit of trying to make the world better and safer for mankind.

"Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Maryland, at the City of Annapolis, this 15th day of October, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Nineteen.

EMERSON C. HARRINGTON, By the Governor: GEORGE L. RADCLIFFE, Secretary of State.

IN MEMORIAM.

In fond and loving remembrance of Arthur Parsons who departed this life one year ago today, November 4, 1918, and his wife Elsie, April 8, 1918.

In the graveyard softly sleeping, Where the flowers gently wave, Lies the two we loved so dearly, In their lonely and silent grave.

Two dear ones from us have gone, Their voices we love are still; A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled.

And how hard we tried to save them, Prayers and tears were all in vain, Happy angels came and took them, From this world of toil and pain.

DEFINITE PLANS HAVE BEEN ADOPTED BY BOARD

Directors Of Peninsula General Hospital Decide To Make Appeal.

PLANS ALREADY ADOPTED FOR THE ENLARGEMENT.

Cost Is Estimated At $150,000 And The Public Will Be Asked To Raise This Sum Between Now And January 1st.

At a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Peninsula General Hospital held Thursday, October 23rd, it was definitely decided to go ahead with the proposition of enlarging the Hospital building and the Nurses Home connected therewith. The new plans will call for about 20 additional rooms to be located in a wing which will be added to the present building. Many of these rooms will be connected with private baths and two additional wards will be constructed in the new addition to take care of the overflow from the present building. There will also be a section of the new addition set aside for the purposes of a laboratory which will be properly equipped, an X-ray room and a new modern operating room. The third floor of the new addition will likely be turned into a maternity ward so as to accommodate the many requests which are made upon the institution for this class of work. The enlargement of the Nurses Home is absolutely necessary to take care of the larger number of nurses both graduate and pupils who are attending a training school at the Peninsula General Hospital. The new addition to the Nurses Home will be built at the South-west end of the present building so as to accommodate at least 30 nurses, with ample facilities in the way of class rooms for the training school.

Plans have been made by Mr. Sizoo of Baltimore and the directors have practically adopted the plans as set forth by him. It is estimated that the cost of the improvements will be in the neighborhood of $150,000, and the directors are determined to put it up to the citizens of Wicomico County to raise a large portion of the money. As has been said before, the community has been called upon to do but very little for the Hospital from a financial standpoint. The present building was given by the late William H. Jackson and the Nurses Home was constructed from funds saved from the annual appropriations by the directors with a little assistance from the State, and the Directors believe that there is sufficient interest among the whole citizenship of Wicomico County irrespective of color to raise this money necessary to put the Hospital in proper shape to take care of the largely increased demands which are now made upon it. Every fair-minded citizen will recognize that hundreds of lives have been saved not only to Wicomico county but to Somerset and Worcester counties as well by having this institution in our midst but for the past 18 months, the management has not been able to attend to more than half the people who have made application for treatment at the institution. And the waiting list is always large for those desiring to enter the Hospital in the private rooms as well as the wards for operations and medical attention, and this demand has grown to such an extent that the directors have come to the conclusion that unless the community will come to the rescue in helping to raise this money, it will be necessary for the management to greatly restrict the scope of work which the Hospital is attempting to do and simply settle down to a small Hospital from whose doors hundreds of applicants who are suffering must be turned away.

Between now and the first of January, a thorough organization will be completed for the purpose of going out among the people and soliciting subscriptions to carry out the plans adopted by the Directors for the enlargement of the two buildings, and it will be up to the men and women of Wicomico County to decide whether they want a Hospital here which has the capacity to take care of their sick at all times or whether they will ignore the appeal and thereby be forced to take their sick members to the larger cities where hospital treatment is only to be had at the most exorbitant prices and very often not at all, because of the crowded conditions of these institutions.

Many Families Are Short of Coal.

The big coal strike of the soft coal miners is now in full swing and the struggle between operators and miners looks like it might be of long duration. The manufacturing concerns of this city are fortunate enough to have a fair supply of soft coal on hand and as many of our mills and manufacturing plants use saw-dust as fuel, this community will not be affected as seriously by the coal strike as some other places on the Shore. Many families in Salisbury, however, are still short of fuel not having laid in their winter's supply of coal and unless conditions improve, if the weather should be excessively cold, this winter, there may be considerable suffering because of lack of fuel. Our coal dealers have done their utmost and have received a fair share of the coal supply, but many citizens will not provide against the future and because of this lack of interest, many coal bins in this city are still empty with little prospects of getting them filled as long as the present conditions in the coal trade prevail.

WILLARD STORAGE BATTERY

Uniformity

Uniformity is the secret of success of any good product.

It's the reason Willard Batteries with Threaded Rubber Insulation are making such a wonderful record of long life without repairs.

Ordinary materials used for insulation between battery plates are taken just as they come from nature and can't be made uniform by any process.

But Threaded Rubber Insulation is built up by a scientific manufacture. Every piece of it is like every other and almost invariably Threaded Rubber lasts as long as battery plates.

No wonder many of these batteries have given three and four years of uninterrupted good service.

WICOMICO HIGH SCHOOL.

Things Of Interest Happening Among Pupils Of This Institution.

OF INTEREST TO PUPILS AND PARENTS.

Many Happenings Among The Boys And Girls Of The Wicomico High School Which Appeals To The Interests Of The Entire Community.

(The editors of the Wicomico News have set aside this column for the use of the pupils and faculty of The Wicomico High School and the items published here will be checked by one or more of the scholars weekly.)

Once more our undefeated Soccer Team has vanquished their unfortunate opponents, this time to the tune of four to one and the victim was our old time enemy, Berlin.

The game was played at Berlin last Friday and was full of thrills throughout, and the best part of the game was the teamwork exhibited by our team. Each player acted like a cog in a machine, and the way the score rolled up is a sure sign that in the future our opponents haven't even a ghost's chance of winning.

For about five minutes the game was hotly contested in mid field until by pretty passing from Cooper to Bailey, the first goal of the game was made. From then until the end of the first half, goals were made by both Cooper and Reddish. But in the second half Berlin, who had previously defeated both Pocomoke and Snow Hill came back strong and scored by missing at the goal.

How her joy was short-lived for Cooper made another pretty goal from a different angle thereby completing the scoring for the day. Howard at goal and Purnell at full, both played a great game for Salisbury while Gunby starred for Berlin.

Last Friday the Junior Class was in charge of Assembly and they presented a program that was thoroughly enjoyed by all the many visitors present. It consisted of a cornet solo, by Wilson Cordrey, a comedy entitled, "The Quiet Family," and a few songs by the Girls Chorus. The program was concluded by the singing of their class song and by giving their class yell. The play was a scream, the characters couldn't have taken their parts better and the whole affair was well carried out.

Next Friday morning a lecture will be given by a prominent citizen and on the following Friday there will be no school owing to the meeting of the County Teacher's Association.

Today the Soccer boys journey to Pocomoke to defeat if possible the High School team there, and it is certainly gratifying to note that the students are backing the team up, several of them lending their cars to the team for transportation.

Vice-President
Thos. L. Marshall Visits This City

Accompanied By Mrs. Marshall And Mayor Broening—Entertained By Ex-Senator W. P. Jackson.

Salisbury had a real treat last Saturday night when Vice-President Marshall delivered an address at the First Regiment Armory for the benefit of the new Lodge of Moose just recently installed in this city. The Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall arrived in Salisbury on the afternoon train in company with Mayor William F. Broening of Baltimore City, and while here were guests of former United States Senator and Mrs. Wm. P. Jackson at their handsome home on Camden avenue.

The big meeting was held at the Armory and the tremendous auditorium was crowded for the occasion. The Vice-President made a very wonderful address which was very highly enjoyed by all those who were fortunate enough to gain admission to the building. After the meeting, Senator and Mrs. Jackson entertained a few friends at their home to meet the Vice-President and his wife and Mayor Broening. The distinguished party left on the midnight train for Philadelphia. This was the first occasion when a Vice-President has visited Salisbury, and naturally, our people were eager to hear the distinguished gentleman give his address on the benefits of the Loyal Order of Moose. The Vice-President spoke in a humorous manner of the trying duties of the Vice-President but did not touch on politics at all in his address. While no attempt was made to hold a public reception at the Armory, many of our citizens took the occasion to meet the Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall after the addresses were delivered, and altogether, his visit was a pleasant occasion not only for our people but to the visitors as well.

COUNTY NEWS

SHARPTOWN NEWS.

A terrific wind storm passed over portions of this town about 10 p. m. Saturday night completely demolishing the freight house of the Baltimore Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway and a large warehouse of the Marvill Package Company, containing the finished products of the factory which were badly damaged. The two buildings were blown to the ground and much damage was done to the freight in the B. C. & A. warehouse. The damage to the Marvill Package Company alone will be from three to five thousand dollars. Trees were blown up in the town and buildings injured by their fall, doors blown open, window panes broken, chimneys blown off and also the roofs of many buildings badly damaged. It occurred just as the B. C. & A. steamer Avalon was approaching the wharf. The agent Levin T. Cooper and several others were in the freight house, all except Mr. Cooper escaped with slight injuries. He, in making his escape from the building was struck by falling timbers and received a fracture of the skull and other severe injuries about the head and face. He is still in a critical condition and confined to his bed as a result of his accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Travers Moore of Wilmington, Del., were guests on Saturday and Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mooney.

Mr. W. Gorman Mann of this town has recently accepted the principalship of Eldorado School.

Rev. Ernest W. Simms is conducting revival services at Mt. Herman.

Miss Pauline Howard, a teacher in the Sharptown High School has been sick for several days. Miss Nellie Caulk is substituting.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Covington of White Haven are visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Willing.

Capt. and Mrs. Harvey Twilley are in New York.

Mrs. William Twilley of Laurel, Delaware, is visiting her aunt Miss Lavinia Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hastings of Newark, Del. are visiting her mother Mrs. Flora Collier.

Mr. J. P. Cooper met with the misfortune to get his hand badly cut while preparing kindling.

DELMAR NEWS.

Rowe-Stevens.

Mr. William G. Rowe of New York City and Miss Florence Stevens, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Stevens, were united in marriage on Thursday afternoon by the Rev. F. N. Faulkner, at her home, which was tastefully decorated in chrysanthemums and autumn leaves.

The bride was beautifully costumed in beige colored tulle-velvet and carried white chrysanthemums. She was attended by Miss Anne Anderson of Philadelphia, attired in blue pan-velvet; the groom's attendant was Mr. Alvin Morgan of Seaford. Mrs. Howard Morgan sang "O Promise Me." Mrs. J. F. Stevens rendered the wedding march.

Following the wedding ceremony a collation was served, after which the bridal pair left for a trip to Philadelphia, New York and Atlantic City.

The out of town guests were Mrs. H. Rowe, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Adams, Miss Margaret Morgan, of Seaford; Miss Arva Marvill, of Wilmington; Miss Charlotte Lynch, of Georgetown; Miss Evelyn Hastings, of Seaford; Mrs. E. P. Gordy, Miss Alice Otwell, Mrs. E. P. Gordy, Miss Florence Gordy, of Laurel; Miss Sarah Moore, Miss Frances Moore, Miss Mildred Truitt, of Salisbury; Miss Ethel Walls, of Newark, Md.; Mrs. Phil Tilghman, of Parsonsburg. The bride has been a popular member of the younger set in Delmar and will be greatly missed. They will be at home in New York after November 16th.

Melson-Short.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Short on Pine Street, Tuesday morning, Oct. 21st at 6 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Mattie Short was married to Mr. William Stevens Melson. The parlor was decorated with flowers and ferns. The wedding march was played by Geo. Short, a brother of the bride. Beneath a beautifully decorated arch the bridal couple were met by Rev. E. H. Jones, who performed the ceremony, after which they left on a wedding trip. On their return they will reside on Pine street. The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit with hat to match, and carried a bunch of roses.

A number of friends were present and included Mr. and Mrs. Will Short, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Perry, Mrs. Elijah Wootten, Mrs. Charles Pusey, Mrs. Burt Elliott, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Harry Dill, Mrs. Floyd Samis, Mrs. Walter Elliott, Mrs. Louis Culver, Mrs. Bessie Cherk, Emma Short, Blanche Wootten, Elizabeth Pusey, Mildred Pusey, Margaret Carman, George Short, Charles Short.

Salisbury District Epworth League Convention

Session Being Held At Fruitland This Week With About Sixty Delegates Present.

On Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week, the annual convention of the Salisbury District Epworth League is being held at St. John's M. E. Church, Fruitland. Delegates are present from the 49 churches of the district, about 60 being in attendance.

The sessions began yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon with the registration and assignment of delegates to homes where they will be entertained. Last night an illustrated lecture was given, followed by a reception by the Fruitland Epworth League to the visitors.

The program includes speeches by a number of ministers of wide reputation, among them Dr. Charles M. Boswell, of Philadelphia, and Dr. William H. Morgan, of New York, whose address on "The Supreme Equipment for Service," on Friday evening, will be the feature of the Convention. Dr. Morgan is pastor of the great Calvary M. E. Church in New York City, and the opportunity to hear so noted a speaker is one which the people of Salisbury as well as the people of Fruitland, cannot afford to miss. Other speakers at the Convention include Dr. Vaughn S. Collins, District Superintendent, Dr. Wilbur F. Corkran, and Revs. W. G. Harris, Leolan Jackson, J. L. Johnson, and V. E. Hills of the Wilmington conference. Prominent laymen, both men and women, are also to speak.

Rev. George E. Sterling, of Fairmount, is president of the District Epworth League. Rev. J. W. Wooten is pastor of the church, at Fruitland. The officers of the Fruitland Epworth League in charge of the arrangements for the Convention are Mrs. W. O. Daisey, president; Miss Stella McGraith, Mrs. J. W. Wooten, Mrs. J. D. Brown; and Miss Beatrice Bounds, Vice-Presidents; Miss Margaret Powell, Secretary; and Miss Maude Cahell, Treasurer.

SALISBURY DEFEATS DELMAR AT SOCCER ON TUESDAY

Exciting Game Between The Two High Schools, Salisbury Victors.

The "Midget" Soccer Team of the Wicomico High School, under the leadership of their manager George Reddish, motored to Delmar Tuesday and took the Delmar High School Soccer boys into camp, by defeating them with a score of five to nothing. Soccer having been recently introduced in the Delmar High School and notwithstanding the fact that the boys are rather new to the game, they made a fine showing. But the speed and teamwork of the "Midgets" so much over-shadowed their opponents that Salisbury's goal was never in danger.

Killam of Delmar played well for the D. H. S. Soccerites, while Brewington and R. Taylor seemed to be the whole show for Salisbury, each making several goals.

Salisbury's lineup was as follows: Reddish, cf; F. Brewington, linside; W. Waller, r. inside; R. Taylor, l. outside; L. Taylor, r. outside; A. Ward, goal; E. Purnell, rf; W. Phinns, lf; W. Chatham, rfb; S. Pusey, cfb; E. Brown, lfb.

Score Delmar 0; Salisbury 5. Referee—Morgan; Time 50 mins.

A Great Success.

Favored by good weather and by a very large crowd, the masked party and oyster supper held at the late Dr. Catlin's farm home was a pronounced success, for which our pastor and the people of this neighborhood are very much gratified. We hereby express our appreciation and extend our thanks to any and all that contributed in any way toward this success, including those editors who so kindly gave us advertising space. The net proceeds were $116.645 p. m. Preaching and Revival services at 7.30 p. m. The revival still continues with increased interest. Many have sought and found the Lord in the forgiveness of sins and many more are under deep conviction. At Stengel Church (Riverside) next Sunday will be held the Sunday School, 2 p. m. An old fashioned experience meeting will be held at 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Downham of Wilmington, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Parker last Sunday, Nov. 2.

COMMUNITY FAIR WILL OPEN NEXT MONDAY

Under Auspices of Wicomico County Pomona Grange At Armory.

WILL BE BIGGEST AFFAIR OF ITS KIND EVER HELD HERE.

The Premium Lists Embraces Every Kind Of Product Of The Farm, Household And School Work Performed By The Children.

Salisbury is to have a great exhibition beginning Monday. This will be the occasion of the Community Fair to be held under the auspices of Wicomico Pomona Grange. These exhibitions of the products of the farm and household have for several years past attracted much attention and year by year, the exhibits have increased and the interest of the whole people have been enlarged with the extension of the exhibit until the occasion has become one of our annual affairs which brings together thousands of farmers and city people from every section of Wicomico county.

For many years, the farmers took but little interest in occasions of this kind but during the war, the farmer came in to his own and it was mainly through the effort of the rural citizen that the United States was able to carry on the great World War with great success and the achievement of farming and farm products came into more prominence until today everybody take an interest in what the land is producing to a greater extent than ever before in the history of our country.

For more than six months, preparations have been going on to make this Community Fair the largest one of its kind ever held on the Eastern Shore. The premium lists were printed and distributed early in July so as to interest every farmer and every farmer's wife and all the farmer boys in making arrangements to have something on exhibition at the Armory during these three days. The Premium Lists offers prizes for Corn, Sweet Potatoes, White Potatoes, Apples, Pears, Vegetables, Grains, Peas, Beans, etc.; Hay, Nuts, Special Farm Products, Canned Vegetables, Canned Fruits, Preserved Fruits, Sweet Pickles, Jelly, Breads, Cakes, Pies, Soups, Fancy Work, Flowers, School Exhibits, including Cooking, Sewing, Art, Manual Training, Written Work, Agricultural Products, etc.

The Judges for the Fair are as follows: Miss Mabel E. Stephenson, District Home Demonstration Agent, College Park, Md., Miss Adice Jones, College Park, Md., Mrs. O. K. Walls, Home Demonstration Agent, Talbot County, Easton, Md., Mr. W. B. Pitts, Eastern Shore Produce Exchange of Virginia, Onley, Va., Mr. E. I. Oswald, Snow Hill, Md., Worcester Co., Mr. E. P. Walls, Easton, Maryland, Talbot county, and Mr. C. Z. Keller, Princess Anne, Md., Somerset county.

Under the rules of the Fair all exhibits must be in place by 5 o'clock Saturday of this week so that the Fair can open on Monday morning without delay. The Armory will be open from every morning until 12 o'clock each day of the Fair, and it is expected that more than a thousand exhibits will be on display during the three days' session. The entire building will be turned over for the use of the big Show, and the drill hall as well as the basement will contain exhibits of every kind of farm products produced in this section as well as the other displays which come under the rules of the Association. Every article, entered for competition, must have been grown on the exhibitor's premises or be the sole product of the exhibitor, otherwise, no premium will be awarded. The Committee reserves the right to forward all articles of merit to Baltimore for exhibition during Maryland Week.

For the purpose of aiding the paying of the big premium lists and the expense of the Fair, season tickets will be sold at 25 cents each; single admissions, 10 cents.

S. Y. M. A. TO HOLD GREAT RALLY FRIDAY NIGHT

Smoker With Excellent Program Will Take Place At The Building.

The Salisbury Young Men's Association will stage a Smoker on Friday evening, November 7, at 8 p. m. This smoker is given for the purpose of getting the membership together to plan the activities for the coming season, and at the same time to receive suggestions from members relative to new activities. As a beginning in this work, the Central Activities Committee recently sent out a questionnaire to all members, having for its purpose the tabulation of the members preferences in sports, games entertainments, etc. A large number of the cards were returned and gives the Central Committee much valuable information regarding the number of members interested in basketball, soccer, volley ball, gymnasium work and various forms of entertainment. This data will furnish a basis for future lines of work in the Association.

At the Smoker every member will be given the opportunity of taking the floor and making suggestions. It is essentially a membership gathering and all members are cordially invited to be present to see if they give approval to the plans being prepared. Several men who are especially good in various forms of athletics have volunteered their services and form a nucleus upon which the athletic and entertaining activities of the winter will be built up. A Glee Club is one amusement for which we prophecy a wonderful success. The gymnasium, basket ball, pool and other games should awaken a revival of interest in the work of the Association.

The entire membership from the boys over 12 up to the older members is being catered for, and the new schedule which will shortly be posted will show activities going on every hour of every evening during the week.

Mrs. Jackson's gift is a wonderful thing for the manhood of this city, and personally we should like to see the S. Y. M. A. have teams and clubs of all kinds that were champions in their respective fields. Salisbury has the finest kind of material to work on, requiring merely to be shaped up into a winning combination that would put Salisbury on the athletic map of the State.

SEVENTY YEARS OLD. DRIVES 22,000 MILES

Mrs. Wm. Upton On Cross Country Tour Makes Own Adjustments.

On her return trip, Mrs. William Upton, the 70 year old woman, who alone drove a Ford runabout from San Francisco to New York City, visited the Ford Motor Company's main office. She was introduced to the officials of the Company, was photographed, held in her hand a Ford check worth two figures of millions, recounted the experiences she had encountered on her trip, and before leaving made arrangements for securing a new Ford car immediately upon her return to her home in Bakerfield, California.

Mrs. Upton has already driven her present Ford more than 22,000 miles, is expected that more than a thousand exhibits will be on display during the three days' session. The entire building will be turned over for the use of the big Show, and the drill hall as well as the basement will contain exhibits of every kind of farm products produced in this section as well as the other displays which come under the rules of the Association. Every article, entered for competition, must have been grown on the exhibitor's premises or be the sole product of the exhibitor, otherwise, no premium will be awarded. The Committee reserves the right to forward all articles of merit to Baltimore for exhibition during Maryland Week.

CURRENT NEWS CAUGHT ON THE FLY BY OUR REPORTERS

Some Interesting Items Being Talked About By Our Citizens.

BRANCH OF NEW MOVEMENT EXPECTED TO OPEN HERE SOON—MAY USE FUEL OIL INSTEAD OF COAL—NEW IDEAS FOR THE CHURCHES—REORGANIZATION OF EXPRESS COMPANY HERE—A RUMOR WHICH WE HOPE IS TRUE AND WHICH WILL MEAN MUCH TO SEVERAL COMMUNITIES.

One of the new movements recently started in this country and which we understand is to have a branch in this city is known as The Fatherless Children of France movement. A drive is to be made through out the United States for the purpose of raising sums of money to take care of the thousands of little bright eyed French children whose fathers lie beneath the closely set wooden crosses which mark the fields and highways of France. There are 40,000 of these fatherless waifs in France and ten cents a day added to the sum allowed by the Republic of France prior to the armistice will take care of one of these little French orphans. The movement in this country is under the direction of Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, who is asking that the ladies of every community throughout the United States shall communicate with her in reference to arranging for some special program for the purpose of raising sums of money for this very worthy cause. Mrs. Brewster will be glad to mail a booklet of translated letters from little French children to any who will inclose to her, at Room 928, 419 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, a stamped self-addressed envelope of business size.

ches of the country, the following items of interest: St. John's Episcopal Mission of Charleston, S. C., has instituted death and sick benefits, and old age pensions for its parishioners. Premiums are one day's wage a month from each employed man and woman. Said to be the first "insurance church" in history of Christianity.

Reorganization of Express Company Here.

A complete re-organization of the Adams Express office in Salisbury has taken place. Not a single old employe is now on duty with the Salisbury outfit, as an entire new working force together with a new agent, cashier, drivers and helpers have been placed in charge in this city. This change has been brought about because of the unsatisfactory condition with which the express business in Salisbury has been handled for several years. The complaints from customers and the seemingly careless manner in which the business was transacted caused the managers to decide on an entirely new office force and many improvements in the service which will now be put into effect. The new agent in Salisbury is Mr. H. H. Matthews formerly route agent and agent at Crisfield. Miss Lillian Elliott has been made cashier, and several new drivers have been put on the wagons. Requisitions have been made for three new delivery wagons which will be horse drawn and a schedule will be made to cover the city both for delivery and calls for packages which will insure our people a return to the service they used to get several years ago before war conditions and other matters broke into the service of the Adams Express Company. One of the high officials who was in Salisbury a day or two ago called at the News office and assured the editors that there would be no reason for complaint in these columns in the future for any lack of service to the people of this community and that the American Railway Express service would be brought up to as high a standard as formerly and be maintained there.

May Use Fuel Oil Instead Of Coal.

We understand that the firm of Day & Zimmermann, operating engineers for the Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Company are investigating the proposition of substituting fuel oil in all their plants on the Shore instead of using coal as is done at the present time. For many years, the plant at Salisbury was run with shavings and sawdust from the big mills of the Jackson Bros. Co., and later on, the big plant at Laurel was operated with coal taken from the mines owned by the Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Co. in Pennsylvania, but recently, the question of fuel oil has become so important as to cause Day & Zimmermann to put their engineers on the proposition and if the scheme proves out satisfactory, the big plant at Laurel which is the main operating plant of the concern on the Peninsula will be changed so as to use oil burners beneath the boilers instead of coal as at the present time. This operation of Day and Zimmermann if successfully carried out, may prove a boon to many other large manufacturing concerns on the Shore and open the way for a larger use of fuel oil which is really more plentiful and less expensive at the present time than is soft coal. The saving in labor, in firing the boilers with oil is said to overcome any excess cost which the change from coal burning to oil burning furnaces incurs. In some parts of California, where oil is plentiful, private residences are now being heated by using oil under the ordinary cellar heater instead of burning coal as heretofore, and it is said that after you once get your furnace properly equipped, the cost is far less with fuel oil than with any other fuel which can be used.

New Ideas For The Churches.

Recently it was mentioned in these columns that the great Presbyterian Church is to institute a series of advertisements in every city throughout the United States for the purpose of drawing closer attention to religious matters and in bringing people generally to consider more about church going and church work than they have heretofore thought of it. The return of over 4,000,000 men from abroad, and in the cantonments where during the war they were especially looked after by chaplains, Y. M. C. A. workers and other Christian organizations, since returning home have found that they are less sought after by their home churches than they were while in the service of Uncle Sam and for this reason, thousands of these men are complaining that there is too little thought of their spiritual welfare by the churches at large. To show that new ideas are getting at work among the churches

A Rumor We Hope Is True.

It is understood that rumor has recently emanated from Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, to the effect that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is contemplating the electrifying of the B. & A. Railway lines from Salisbury to the Bay after the railroads are returned to their owners by the government. This rumor cannot yet be authenticated at present but the people of the Eastern Shore hope that there is some truth in the report. What it would mean to the peninsula to have the B. C. & A. Ry. line electrified and connect with a shorter route across the Bay thereby giving an opportunity for the running of at least half a dozen trains per day to Baltimore is almost beyond comprehension. It would simply mean that Baltimore City, which for many years has been practically cut off from a large part of the Eastern Shore because of its inaccessibility and the time it takes to get there by railroad would come into its own, and that the trade the merchants of Baltimore would gather in from the Shore would be sufficient to reimburse the city merchants for a very large sum of money which they might be willing to put into the enterprise to help it along. By shortening the route across the Bay, it would mean a saving of at least two hours in the trip from Salisbury to Baltimore, and what it would mean to Ocean City during the summer months is also beyond estimation. It is hoped that this rumor is not entirely false and that there may be some hopes in the future of getting an electric line across the Peninsula from Ocean to Bay.

On The Job

When you want to think hard and straight, the familiar feel of your favorite pipe and haze of good tobacco smoke seem to cut you off from the rest of the world and let your mind work the way it should. The pipe that never interrupts, nor takes your mind off your work is the

As you smoke your Wellington there's never a bubble nor a gurgle. The well catches all moisture and tobacco crumbs. The smoke comes up away from your tongue, through an opening in the fit. In the 12 months from October, 1918, the War Risk Insurance Bureau received and distributed 42,394,041 pieces of mail. At an average weight of three-quarters of an ounce these letters and packages would represent an aggregate of nearly 1000 tons in weight.

For a few days before and after the first of each month mail comes to the Bureau at the rate of about 140,000 pieces a day. This number decreases to 40,000 or 50,000 pieces during the remainder of the month. The mail section of the Bureau handles also from 75,000 to 100,000 pieces of out-bound mail and about 30,000 pieces of interdepartmental mail. Between December 1, 1918 and September 30, 1919, the Bureau received 4,503,465 discharge notices alone. In January this flood of discharge notices arose to 685,300.

Officials of the Bureau point out that when it is considered that thousands of the writers of these letters are careless in giving information; that the writing is often illegible; that addresses are either missing or insufficient, and that hardly any give the data needed to investigate their claims, there is little wonder that mistakes and complaints should result.

The mail section of the Bureau works 16 hours a day. One shift is busy from 9 in the morning until 5 in the afternoon. Another shift is on duty from 1 until 8 o'clock in the morning, handling directly from the postoffice all the mail directed to the Bureau. Except on Monday, when two days' mail has accumulated, every piece of mail received in the 24 hours preceding 3 o'clock has been placed in manila folders, the folders labeled and listed and sent to the various sections from which replies go back to the writers as soon as it is humanly possible to get them.

Nurses in American Army.

Approximately 22,000 nurses were enrolled in the Army Nurses Corps during the War, according to a recent report of officials of the Corps. Of these, 21,480 saw overseas service, 266 died, and 3 were wounded in action. All nurses of the American Expeditionary Forces were graduates, recruited largely through the department of nursing service of the American Red Cross.

Reclaiming Swamp Lands.

Drainage of wet lands in the southern states has been proceeding so rapidly, according to statements of the Department of Agriculture, that by 1920, approximately 7,000,000 acres of land will have been included in completed projects.

Agricultural Depart. Protects Oyster Eaters.

Steps to prevent the adulteration of oysters by the addition of water have been taken by the Department of Agriculture. Inspectors have been instructed to watch shipments of oysters coming within the jurisdiction of the food and drugs act in order that the practice of "soaking" may be stopped.

According to officials of the Department of Agriculture some dealers increase the weight of oysters by steeping them in fresh water containing much less salt than sea water contains. The oysters subjected to this process will absorb enough water to increase its weight and bulk from one fifth to one fourth.

War Department Would Cut Cost Of Army Ration.

Uncle Sam is finding himself confronted with the problem of meeting the high cost of living in provisioning

American soldiers and in preserving his reputation as having the "best fed soldiers in the world." The value of the ration (three meals a day) has risen from about 25 cents a day in 1916 to about 80 cents in 1919.

When the great national army was organized in 1917 the great influx of transport officers, cooks and mess sergeants made necessarily a considerable increase in the ration.

Millions Of Cattle In U. S.

There are now millions of cattle, swine and sheep more in the United States and Canada than there were before the great war, while nine of the principal countries of Western Europe have fewer of one or all of these several classes of live-stock than in 1914.

Figures compiled by the Department of Agriculture show that the United States has 67,866,000 cattle, 75,587,000 hogs, and 49,863,000 sheep. This represents an increase of 19.9 per cent in cattle, 28.3 per cent in swine, and 0.3 of one per cent in sheep compared with 1914.

More Funds for Vocational Education

An appropriation of $20,000,000 has been recommended by Secretary Glass to enable the Federal Board for Vocational Education to carry out the purposes of the vocational training act.

Saving In War Contracts.

Up to September 27, 1919, a total saving of $1,793,499,000 had been effected in the liquidation of 22,611 suspended contracts valued at $2,102,659,000.

SHARPTOWN NEWS.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season took place on Monday morning, October 27th, at six o'clock when Miss Ruth Gravenor, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Gravenor of Sharptown became the bride of Mr. Bright Zimmerman of Philadelphia.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Orris G. Robinson of Baltimore City, cousin of the bride, the wedding march being placed by Mrs. O. A. Zimmerman of Philadelphia, sister of the bride.

The bride was handsomely attired in a Navy blue traveling suit and wore a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. The decorations of the home were exquisitely beautiful.

Immediately after the ceremony which was witnessed by the family and a few friends, the happy couple motored to Seaford where they took the early train for New York and northern cities. They will reside in Philadelphia.

John S. Smith of Salisbury who recently purchased the shippard plant and equipment here put in a force of men this week to prepare the yards and wharves not being used by the present lessees, to get ready for shipbuilding work which will begin, if weather conditions are favorable, as soon as the present lessees have done the work on the schooner now being finished, which will be in early December. Mr. Smith will contract for work to keep the plant in full operation.

A tremendous sweet potato crop is being harvested and every hot house is filled to the limit.

Wm. R. Twilley near Laurel, Del., has purchased the handsome property on Main street from H. A. DeForest. Mr. Twilley will move here soon and Mr. DeForest will move to his farm at Riverton.

Mrs. O. A. Zimmerman and Mrs. Ida Sanders of Philadelphia were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Gravenor.

Rev. Orris G. Robinson of the Baltimore Conference preached in the M. E. Church on Sunday night.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. P. church held a very successful oyster supper in the basement of their church on Friday and Saturday nights.

Capt. Harvey E. Twilley is home from New York.

Capt. Samuel Steward of the steamer Cambridge, Capt. Oscar Smith, second mate, Garden Baker, quartermaster and Hugh Davis of Claiborne motored here Sunday and spent the day as guests of Capt. and Mrs. Oscar J. Smith.

THE WORD "FARM" IN THE NEXT CENSUS

Valuable Information To Land Owners In Making Census Returns.

MISUNDERSTANDINGS MAY BE AVERTED BY CARE.

First Bulletin To Be Issued By The Census Department Giving Information To Rural Land Owners And Asking For Their Co-operation.

Seems a foolish question to ask, doesn't it? Almost anyone can tell off-hand just what a farm is and knows one when he sees it.

But do you happen to know the interpretation Uncle Sam places on the word "farm" for census purposes? No? Then read how his Bureau of the Census defines the word:

"A farm for census purposes is all the land which is directly farmed by one person conducting agricultural operations, either by his own labor or with the assistance of members of his household or hired employees."

In further explanation of this definition the Census Bureau points out that the term "agricultural operations" is used as a general term referring to the work of growing crops, producing other agricultural products and raising domestic animals, poultry or bees.

From this definition it will be seen that a farm may consist of a single tract of land or of a number of separate and distinct tracts. And these several tracts may be held under different tenures as, for instance, when one tract is owned by the farmer and another is rented by him. Thus if a man who owns 100 acres rents an additional ten acres from some one else and operates both the 100 acres and the 10 acres, then his "farm" includes both tracts of land comprising 110 acres.

By the same token when a landowner has one or more tenants, renters, croppers or managers, each different tract of land operated by any such tenant, renter, cropper or manager is considered a separate and distinct farm by the Census Bureau. Or, to give an example, if a man owning 120 acres of land rents 40 acres to a tenant and farms the remaining 80 acres himself, his farm is the 80 acres which he operates, not the 120 acres which he owns, while the 40-acre tract which he rents to a tenant comprises a separate farm to be reported in the name of the tenant.

Another question to be determined is how important does an agricultural enterprise have to be in order to secure recognition in the census as a farm? A small vegetable garden or a chicken farm accommodating a few busy hens will not be allowed to qualify as a "farm" if the census no matter with what pardonable pride and satisfaction the proprietor may view his agricultural enterprise.

But if the garden or chicken yard expands until it covers not less than three acres of ground, or until it requires for its care the continuous services of at least one person, or yields products annually to the value of $250 or more, it comes within the census definition of a farm and will be recognized as such and counted.

The agriculture schedule contains many questions regarding farm values, expenses and live stock as well as the acreage and quantity of crops raised in the year 1919. Census Bureau officials are urging farmers everywhere to prepare for the census enumerator by looking over their books and records so that accurate answers may be furnished to questions.

In this connection the Bureau of the Census emphasizes the fact that that information furnished to census takers is absolutely confidential, made so by Act of Congress and that under no circumstances can any such information be used as a basis for taxation.

"Co-operation between farmers and the census officials next January is more necessary and vital than ever before," declares Director of the Census Sam. L. Rogers. "The world war and the part that the farmer played in it and will continue to play in the rehabilitation of Europe serve to make the agriculture section of the Fourteenth Decennial Census the most important in the Nation's history. Absolute accuracy and completeness in the census returns is the goal towards which every citizen should strive."

WOMAN DESPONDENT ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

By Taking Bichloride Tablets—Condition Was Very Serious.

Mrs. Garfield White, wife of Garfield White, of this city attempted suicide last week by swallowing a number of bichloride tablets. Mrs. White had spent the day with a girlhood friend of hers, Mrs. Cooper Disharoon, who lives on Main St. During the day it was noticed that she was not in a very happy frame of mind but seemed worried and despondent. After support she lay down on a couch and soon became deathly sick at her stomach. A physician was sent for who at once discovered that she had taken poison. She was hurried to the Hospital, where she remained in a critical condition, but at latest reports is on the road to recovery. Mrs. White, who was a Miss Lottie Taylor, daughter of Mr. Asbury Taylor, has been twice married. Her first husband being the late Mr. Jones Boudis. Some time after his death she married her present husband, Mr. Garfield White. There are two children, one a girl, by her first husband and a boy by the present marriage.

Our Public Utility

In last week's issue we endeavored to outline the status of a Public Utility and we will now try to see how we measure up to the requirements set forth.

OUR FUNCTION

Our Company is owned and operated by the Eastern Shore Gas and Electric Company. The consolidated Company serves directly twenty-one (21) cities and towns on the Eastern Shore, and also furnishes current companies serving ten (10) towns. It has established continuous service in all communities served; it has enlarged its plants; increased its line capacity and extended its service in many places. It has nearly doubled its number of customers in the last four years. Over 4000 horsepower in motors has been added to its system, providing the manufacturing interests on the Eastern Shore with adequate power facilities in the majority of cases at decreased costs over that which was possible with isolated plants.

OUR OPERATION

The Company has several plants. Its main plant at Laurel, Delaware, is equipped with new modern steam turbines and in every respect the plant is highly efficient and of the latest design. High voltage transmission lines now connect the principal communities served. The Company owns and operates its own coal mine. The Company has spent over half a million dollars to enlarge and increase its facilities, all with the view of furnishing the best possible service at the lowest cost.

The Company's organization is trained to give the best operating results, and in case of trouble or interruption they are organized to restore service in the shortest possible time. This training and development is brought about through regular study courses for the operating, accounting and commercial Departments, and through regular Welfare and Safety Work, all tending to provide the safest and best operating results.

OUR RATES

The Company has endeavored to put its rates or charges for service on the fairest and most equitable basis possible. During the past three years costs of operation have increased enormously—in fact, our costs have increased exactly as have the costs of each individual and each business concern. Coal has increased 150 per cent.; freight rates 35 per cent.; labor 75 per cent.; oil 100 per cent.; taxes 90 per cent.; cost of new capital 33 1-3 per cent.; copper 130 per cent.; poles 125 per cent.; steel products 100 per cent.; and similarly for practically all other items. Most businesses have passed the full increased cost of their operation on to their customers—we have only increased our charges an average of 25 per cent., assuming the balance of the increased expense ourselves. During the war period we deferred many items of ordinary maintenance, and reduced all operating expenses to the lowest possible minimum. Since the ending of hostilities it has however been necessary to do many things which were temporarily postponed during the war, which has resulted in an increased operating cost. In addition costs instead of decreasing have actually increased as everyone knows. We have assumed an increasing proportion of the burden of increased cost until the return on the Capital invested by the Company in rendering service is now less than 3 per cent. The Company has recently made a thorough study of its charges for service, and has come to the conclusion that a change from the present basis of a sliding scale charge per kilowatt hour to a so-called "Load Factor" basis was desirable. Under the load factor rate the charge to the customer is based on the hours use of the connected load—that is, the number of lights or horsepower of motors. New Tariffs have been prepared on this basis and filed with the Public Service Commission, and will become effective on the bills received the early part of December (which will be for the November period). These rates represent an average increase of approximately 10 per cent. A customer can, however, by increasing his usage of current secure a lower rate per kilowatt hour. The new rates represent the most modern and equitable basis of charging for electric service. There is a growing demand for electric service, and a constantly increasing use of same in order to effect labor saving, etc., and the new rates provide decreased rates for the increased consumption. Copies of the new schedule are being sent to each customer or can be secured at the Company's Office.

OUR SERVICE

Electricity is one of the greatest modern servants. Its use in the household, office and factory has wonderfully eliminated drudgery, increased production, and performed easily and cheaply many things formerly done by hand. We have at our display rooms a complete line of modern labor saving devices and offer our services in laying out factory installations. The present day increased efficiency of Mazda lamps, electric appliances, and electric motors has largely over-come increased charges per unit for current, so that Electric Service today is relatively the cheapest commodity that can be purchased.

The Maryland State Game & Fish Association last week purchased the Gwyn Brook Farm located on the Western Maryland Railroad where a fish and game propagation farm will be established.

E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden, said last week that the association in reality will own the property, and if at any time it will be decided to change the status of the farm from what it is intended—that of a reserve for the propagation of wild game—it will revert to the association.

Mr. LeCompte said it will not be used as a reserve, but as a place to grow wild game only and that none of the game raised there will be liberated on the grounds. It is the intention to raise game to stock all sections of the State, and large hatcheries will be installed for this purpose.
Six thousand ring-necked pheasants will be raised this season, together with all the quail and wild turkeys that can be hatched. It also is understood that Gwynn Brook stream will be dammed to form a lake on the farm which will be used as a freshwater fish hatchery and that it is probable even deer will be raised.

The open game seasons in Maryland are as follows:

Partridge, pheasant, woodcock, rabbit and wild turkey, November 10 to December 24, inclusive.

Ducks, geese, brant, jacksnipe and crow-bills, November 1 to January 31, inclusive.

Doves, September 1 to December
15, inclusive.

Squirrels, August 25 to October 1 and November 10 to December 24, inclusive.

Yellow-leg, black-breasted and golden plover, August 16 to November 30, inclusive.

Railbirds, September 1 to November 30, inclusive.

Reedbirds, September to October
30, inclusive.

Bag limits (per day) are: Partridges, 12; grouse, 2; English pheasants, 3; rail, 50; doves, 12; woodcock,
6; rabbits, 10; squirrels, 10; jacksnipe
10; ducks, geese and brant, 25; yellow-leg plover, 15; black-breasted plover, 5; crow-bills, 10. Per season:
wild turkeys, 4.

It is illegal to export any game, wild water fowl excepted, out of Maryland. Licensed sportsmen may carry out one day's bag limit. Shooting wild fowl from a power boat, shooting at night or on Sunday hunting while a tracking snow is on the ground, are prohibited.

All persons, excepting landowners, their tenants or children, while hunting on their own or leased land, must have a license to hunt. A non-resident of Maryland pays 10.25, the resident State-wide license is $5.10 and resident county license $1.10. A non-resident landowner of property in a county assessed at $500 or more pays $1.10. Guests of landowners must

Red Seal
"IT HAS THE SNAP"

is THE Beverage
You Want With Them

It takes the agreeable "bitter tang" and the "snap" of choice hops to make a palatable drink that goes well with oysters, clams, fish and other seafoods. And that's just why so many people like RED SEAL.

This rich, bubbling cereal beverage is so appetizing and wholesome because it contains the nutrition, the health and the flavor of carefully selected, high-grade cereals and hops, all blended and brewed by a process exclusively ours.

---drink a Cold Bottle with Your Meal This Evening

RED SEAL sharpens the appetite, aids the digestion of the solid foods and makes the whole meal taste better.
It's good for you—and every member of the family.
Red Seal is sold by the bottle or case wherever soft drinks are sold. Order a case sent home to-day.

FIELD DAY SALE AT JACKSON'S FARM

To Be Held Dec. 17th—Berkshire and Other Pure Bred Stock.

It is announced that a sale of Berkshire hogs, shoats, and some huffers and bulls will be held at the farm on December 17th. This is an opportunity of getting some of the best stock to be obtained in this section of the world.

Ex. Sen. Wm. P. Jackson and his manager Mr. Van Horn have spared no effort to get the very best strain of stock that could be bought, and they have on the stock farm, stock that will match up with the best in the country. It is certain that the sale will bring buyers from many points as the breed of stock carried on the farm is well known and has established a high reputation among stock men and breeders. The sale is a disposal sale of surplus stock, and in it will be found many fine specimens.

Cholera Outbreak in Several Places.

Hog Cholera is on the rampage in some parts of the Peninsula and many fine porkers are now dying of the disease. One farmer in lower Sussex County lost 40 fine hogs last week within 48 hours, in this dread disease, and many other outbreaks are reported in several of the counties north of us. At the present time, we have heard of but a few cases in Wicomico County but the farmers should by all means notify the proper authorities whenever there is an outbreak of cholera among their swine so as to help safeguard the other animals in the vicinity. Those who are in a position to judge say that the excessive hot weather of October has had much to do with the spread of the disease as the hogs are now in a fattening stage and the warm weather has been very much against good health prevailing among the hogs.

Ajax Tires Will Win For You

Dirt track champions of America—that's the title Ajax Tires have won for two years in succession. In 1918, drivers using Ajax Tires shattered 9 world's records and smashed 49 track records in races in all parts of the United States. The big reason why leading dirt track racers insist on Ajax Tires is that strong supporting shoulder of rubber which braces each side of the tread at its base—Ajax Shoulders of Strength. They give more tread on the road.

AJAX ROAD KING

Note the massive tread of the Ajax Road King. See the triangle bars. They hold the road in a firm, safe grip. Put Road Kings on your car and forget your tire worries.

ECHOES FROM THE PLAZA OF THE COUNTY COURT HOUSE SQUARE

What is Talked About Under The Trees On The Public Green Gossip From The Various Sections.

HAPPENINGS AMONG THE PEOPLE OF THE VARIOUS SECTIONS WHICH ARE OF INTEREST TO ALL THE CITIZENS—POLITICS A LEADING TOPIC THESE FALL DAYS AND MUCH DIFFERENCE OF OPINION FOUND TO EXIST WITH THE PEOPLE.

The people living in the various towns in Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester are much alarmed over the prospects of not being able to get sufficient poultry and other fowl as well as eggs during the coming winter. For several weeks, produce houses in the cities have had buyers travelling this section of the State visiting every farm house and buying up every chicken, turkey, eggs and other produce they could lay their hands on. While it is said that turkeys are more plentiful this season than for several years past, if they are bought up at the present rate for the next month, there will be very few Thanksgiving turkeys left for the people of this part of Maryland. These produce buyers are going to the limit not only in buying fowl such as chickens, turkeys, ducks, guineas and are even buying all the pigeons they can find and are not leaving an egg at the farmhouse where the farmer's wife will dispose of them. Much of this food product is being taken to the city and put in cold storage to be sold to the average citizen around Thanksgiving and Christmas time at rates which these food gatherers hope will be at least 50 to 100 per cent. higher than at the present time. Many of these food scalpers met disaster last Thanksgiving by having thousands of pounds of turkeys left on their hands when they tried to charge exorbitant prices for them and it is likely they may meet the same fate this year, at least the average countryman hopes so. The cold storage laws of this country certainly need to be re-enacted if the high cost of living is ever to be reduced.

that eggs will be more plentiful this year than they have for several years past. It is a case where nature generally controls the situation and always provides the proper remedy for things over which we have no control. Some may believe that this report is not true, but I will venture the assertion that if you will ask a dozen farmers' wives, the majority of them will tell you that their hen houses have more pullets to the numbers of chickens this year, than she has ever seen in her experience." This will be welcome news to town people who have to buy their high priced eggs and in many cases are unable to get them no matter what they are willing to pay.

Remember The Pine Bluff Sanatorium.

Within a few weeks, Thanksgiving Day will have arrived, and from the plenty which has been showered upon most of our people, each of us could afford to remember the Pine Bluff Sanatorium of this city with some gift of poultry, vegetables, eggs, milk and other things which the Superintendent can use in keeping his institution properly supplied and the patients taken care of. There has been too little support given this worthy charity by the people of Wicomico County of all colors. It is a work which should command more attention and more help from the average citizen. It is here that incipient cases of tuberculosis can be properly treated and in many cases the patients saved from becoming a permanent charge either on himself, his relatives or the public. Being located in an ideal spot, the Pine Bluff Sanatorium can take care of a number of tuberculosis cases and the food used for the treatment of these patients just at the present time is about the most expensive of all foods as it consists mostly of eggs, milk, cream and things of that kind which are both hard and expensive to obtain. It would be a fine thing if each community in Wicomico county would set aside a portion of their Thanksgiving offering for the Pine Bluff Sanatorium. It would make the hearts of the inmates glad and would show an interest in the Institution which would be helpful alike to patients, superintendent and community. This article is written without the knowledge of either the Superintendent or the Board of Managers, but we feel that this hint dropped to our people through this newspaper will have the effect of bringing the institution the closer attention which it deserves.

Looking For The Busiest Of All Seasons.

The merchants of Salisbury are looking forward to the busiest of all seasons they have ever experienced. The clothing, shoes, millinery and dress goods houses as well as the haberdashers and hatters have prepared probably the largest stocks of goods ever put on exhibition in this city and they expect to sell them even at the present extremely high prices faster than ever before. One well known Main street merchant said to the News man recently "I will wager that Salisbury has never had such an extensive line of retail goods in its stores in the whole history of the city and these goods have been purchased by the merchants at the highest average prices ever paid for merchandise. This is so with shoes, hats, clothing, underwear and in fact everything which enters into the clothing line for both men, women and children and yet, we can sell these goods easier at high prices than we used to sell better goods at less prices. The whole secret lies in the fact that the people have the money and they want to spend it and they are not pleased with common goods or goods of low prices. There are more ten and twelve dollar shoes sold in Salisbury today than ever before in our history and more $35 to $50 suits of clothes sold than I have ever known since I have been in business. In fact the average price for a good suit of clothes now is from $40 to $50 but we have no trouble to get the price. Our real trouble is to get the goods but our merchants have them and we expect the biggest trade ever known in this city during the present fall and winter."

Nature Always Provides The Way.

Conversing with a small party of farmers in front of the Court House last Saturday, the information was given by one of them that while it may seem a strange coincidence the fact is true however, that during the past summer more hens were hatched from the eggs set by the farmers than has ever before been known. One farmer speaking on this subject said: "You will remember two winters ago there was a restriction placed on the sale of laying hens and after the restrictions were off, the farmer unloaded all the chickens he could sell, on account of the high price of corn as well as the high price of fowl, and last year, it was discovered that we had a very great shortage of chickens and especially a shortage of hens for egg laying purposes, but this fall, the farmer finds that in his brood of chickens hatched during the summer, the ratio of hens to roosters is the largest we have ever noted and this fact should encourage the belief

The Installation of Moose Lodge In Salisbury.

As per schedule, Salisbury Lodge Loyal Order of Moose was instituted in this city Wednesday night of last week at the Red Men's Hall and the charter members of the organization comprised some of the most prominent and most influential citizens of Salisbury. Many prominent men like former U. S. Senator William P. Jackson, Congressman Jesse D. Price and some other well known political lights as well as Dr. Herson and some of our other leading church members were among those whose names are on the charter of the new Lodge and who were made officers of the organization. The Loyal Order of Moose has for its emblem a great benevolence in the vocational school the order maintains at Mooseheart, Illinois. On this great estate, there are several hundred children, the orphans of deceased Moose as well as many widows who find a comfortable home in this retreat where the children are trained in vocational work and fitted to occupy stations in almost every department of life. There is probably no order in the United States which does more real charity work than does the Loyal Order of Moose and for this reason a great many of the most prominent men in the United States are members of the Order. Aside from the charitable work, the Order is one which furthers social intercourse between men which is highly gratifying and only the very best order of citizenship is allowed admission to the Loyal Order of Moose. It is expected that Salisbury Lodge will be one of the big things in Moosedom in Maryland, and that within the next 12 months, the membership will probably reach into several hundreds.

FUR PRICES WILL BE HIGHEST IN HISTORY

Good Muskrat Skins Will Bring $2.00 During Present Season It Is Said.

HUNTERS SHOULD HELP PROTECT RAT FROM DESTRUCTION.

Muskrat Marshes Now Leased At Prices Above Those Paid For Good Farm Land—Game Wardens Now On Their Job.

Although the season will not open for sometime yet, trappers and hunters are getting ready throughout Wicomico County for a big season in muskratting along the rivers and marshes of the county. During the past five years, the price of muskrat skins has increased so rapidly as to make the industry one in which hundreds of people are now engaged where formerly only a few dozen citizens worked at the trap. The State has done much to protect this little fur-bearing animal from total destruction and the game wardens are now on the look out for infractions of the law and to further protect the animals from being killed and trapped before the season opens.

Last year, muskrat skins brought the highest price ever paid in the history of this section of the country, and the indications are that fur will be higher this season than last. The fur-bearing animals of the United States are growing less each year, and the muskrat hunters of Wicomico County ought to do their part towards the protection of these little rats which furnish them such a splendid revenue each year instead of endeavoring to kill them off by the thousand without any thought for the future.

Of all the fur which is used both in the trimming of garments and the making of fur coats, muffs and neck pieces, the muskrat skins after being properly treated by the manufacturer is considered the most valuable of any fur with the possible exception of the silver and black fox and the ermine, the Chinchilla and a few other very rare animals. There are thousands of acres of marsh land in Wicomico county along the Wicomico and Nanticoke rivers as well as bordering along the small ponds and lakes which are the natural homes of the muskrat, and the mild winter of last year and the very probable mild winter of this year resulted in far less destruction of the young rats than for several seasons past, thus making them more numerous than formerly, and if a little care is exercised in living up to the law, our supply of muskrat fur should increase in this locality rather than diminish. When a trapper can get as much as $1.50 to $2.00 for a good black muskrat skin, he should have some interest in protecting the little animals from unlawful extermination. Besides the fur, the muskrat meat is a delicacy which thousands of people consider as good as fried chicken, and the price of muskrat meat has very largely advanced during the past three years and the trapper gets an enormous revenue from this source, which in former years was so cheap as not to demand consideration.

Many of the owners of the big marshes in Wicomico County who do not participate in trapping themselves are renting their marshes out to hunters at prices ranging from $50.00 to $100.00 per acre for the season. This land was originally taken up by the owners at a cost not exceeding 50c an acre as it was State property and considered of little value in past years. Now these muskrat marshes are worth more in proportion than the finest farms in the county, and the revenue secured from them far out-reaches any crop per acre raised on the best farms in this section. It has all been brought about by the big advance in fur.

Next to the muskrat, the rabbit produces a fur which these days is considered most valuable and from which great revenue is received in States like California and other western sections. A well-known fur buyer who visits Wicomico county every Spring to buy muskrat and other fur tells a very interesting story of the rabbit industry of California and how the rabbit fur is used for. He said to the News man:

"California produces the finest fur-bearing rabbits in the world. Texas is a close second, Utah and Oklahoma are great producing States. But conditions in this State are not ideal. The rabbit thrives upon alfalfa hay and barley. All of these may be had in California 365 days in the year.

"Ever since America had succeeded England as the distributing point for all furs, hitherto shipped to France and England in raw pelts and returned in fine-well-dyed furs, rabbit breeders in California have entered actively into the industry, and it has become so widespread that it is not confined to farms and country places, but the raising of bunnies goes on with the city dweller as well.

The ermine rabbit, a close rival of the little white-furred weasel, has been gained by crossing the Russian white rabbit, which has the color, with the Himalaya rabbit, which has the soft under fur, and again with the Angora rabbit, which has the requisite length of coat.

"The ermine rabbit of California now supplies furs for women's coats. It formerly was obtained only from the white weasel, known commercially as ermine, and which had its habitat in Siberia. Other types are the New Zealand reds, which supply a fur nearly equal to that of the red fox. The black Flemish, whose fur makes a very good imitation of lynx, the French silver, with a coat approaching the much-coveted chinchilla, the rat of the Chilean mountains."

Only A Cold.

Are you ill, is often answered—"Oh! It's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start with a cold. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less the danger, and this remedy will help you to throw it off.—Advt. *

OPPORTUNITY FOR ADVANCEMENT CERTAIN IN THE NAVY

That is Why So Many Young Men Are Enlisting in The Service.

The Naval Recruiting Stations located in all the large cities are doing a flourishing business in enlisting young men for service. One of these stations is now open in Salisbury, and from the number of inquiries at the office it would appear that many young men are in the notion to enter the services of Uncle Sam. Speaking on the prospect for advancement in the Navy these days, one of the recruiting officers in this city said:

The opportunities for advancement from the enlisted ranks of the Navy to a commission are today unprecedented. The Navy must have officers and it must look to the enlisted man to supply this urgent demand. It merely depends upon the individual to see that the Navy selects him instead of the men at his side. And the best way to assure this being done is to set out with the avowed intention of winning a commission and never losing sight of the end in view for one moment of the daily routine. Keep in mind also that there are numerous other highly enviable berths on the way to Ensign's commission, one of which you will be sure to fill if chance fortune should not smile on your highest endeavors.

Do well the duty that lies nearest your hand, keep your eyes on the main chance, and don't think how hard a task is to do, but jump in and see how quickly you can put it behind you. Opportunity is sure to come to you at some period of your enlisted service—this is dead certain, let it find you fully prepared to make the most of it.

How This Tire Service Promotes Truck Economy

There are a lot of places where money can leak out if anything is wrong with your truck tires.

And the resulting losses are not only noted in too high tire-mile costs but, as well, in inflated mile-costs of operating and maintaining trucks and of carrying goods.

Some of your tires may be responsible for excessive truck repair bills or for too many break-ages of merchandise handled or they may be inadequate in size for your loads and wear out too fast. It is an important part of our service to recommend the right type and size of Goodyear Truck Tire—Solid, Cushion or Pneumatic—and to carry it for you in our stock.

If tires are applied without proper examination of wheel alignment, condition of springs and brake adjustment, undue tire wear may result from several causes.

When changing tires we inspect wheels for loose spokes or broken felloes, we inspect for broken spring leaves, and of course we inspect the brakes to be sure that they are equally adjusted.

And if tires are neglected after application, the injuries they receive on the road will frequently develop rapidly and cause their failure.

For instance, tread cuts should be filled up and side wall cuts taken care of to prevent water, oil and grit from getting in and causing rot and ultimate blowouts.

We watch customers' tires; report their condition; help conserve tire mileage.

SOME OBSERVATIONS OF THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Campaign Just Closed Was Run On Rather Unusual Lines.

OLD TIME METHODS HAVE BEEN PUT ASIDE FOR GOOD.

The 20th Century Idea Of Campaigning Is Principally Through Personal Contact And The Use Of Printers' Ink And Advertising.

The political campaign in Maryland which ended with the election last Tuesday was probably one of the most unique in the history of the State. From a local standpoint, this was certainly true. For the first time in 20 years, there were practically no political meetings held throughout the county as has always been the habit in former days by both parties. The campaigning this year was done on an entirely different basis, the county being districted by the two State Central Committees and house to house visits being substituted for the old time stump speaking campaigns of former years.

It was indeed a campaign of the 20th century type, and both parties went in for campaigns of education rather than in the old fashion way of arousing people to enthusiasm by the stump orator. Probably never in the history of Wicomico County was so much money spent by the Democrats and Republicans alike in newspaper and pamphlet advertising as was done this year. For several weeks, both the Wicomico News and the other papers in Salisbury have had pages after pages of political advertising in which platforms were thrown out to the public, attacks on the methods of the dominant party published and answers from the opposition, until the voters probably hardly knew where they stood or what all the trouble was about. Hundreds of dollars were spent for postage in sending out literature of every character and voters throughout the county were simply deluged through the mails with requests for support and pamphlets showing why both parties should receive the vote of the public. All this is the new way of doing things and many of the old timers shook their heads and said that things had come to a pretty pass when the old time oyster suppers, barbeques and district meetings were abandoned for all this printed stuff much of which was consigned to the waste baskets without ever being read. From the result of the vote, however, it would appear that this new method of campaigning had its effect because it brought out many people to the election this year who were marked on the book last year as being absent.

Things have changed since the big war and politics have changed as much as anything else. The old methods have been put aside and put aside for good and in the future, political campaigns will be run on a more enlightened scale and not so much dependence will be put in securing votes by purchase as before. Illiteracy which was so rampant throughout the Eastern Shore a few years ago is now gradually fading away and it is seldom you run across a man these days who is not able to vote the ballot no matter how complicated it might be. There was a day when the Wilson ballots and other tricks had its effect on the elections, but an enlightened citizenship has had much to do with the change. The old method of corraling men and buying them up on election day like a lot of cattle, has passed with the change that has come about in the feelings of the people and it is to be hoped that it has passed forever never to return. The new way of running campaigns as noted in the one just closed is the proper way. People are entitled to know how their officials keep their faith after election and there is no better way to enlighten the people than through the press and by the liberal use of printer's ink.

THE CLOSEST ELECTION EVER HELD IN STATE GIVES RITCHIE 198 PLURALITY

Election Contests In All The Counties Were By A Very Narrow Majority.

MR. DISHARON HAD ONLY 8 MAJORITY OVER MR. ADKINS WHILE MR. AUSTIN WON FOR THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES BY ONLY ONE VOTE—REPUBLICAN SUPERVISOR SIGNS RETURNS UNDER PROTEST—OFFICIAL COUNT MAKES CHANGES IN TOTAL FIGURES WHICH ARE GIVEN BELOW—HOW THE NEXT GENERAL ASSEMBLY WILL STAND AND THE PERSONNEL.

Last Thursday, was rather an exciting day in Wicomico County when the election returns were canvassed at the Court House in Salisbury. The closeness of the vote on several of the local candidates as well as the close vote for the Governorship throughout the State caused the Party leaders of both the Democratic and Republican parties to be on hand and to watch every tally on the return sheets in order to discover if possible, mistakes in favor of their respective candidates. There were considerable controversies over the returns of two or three districts in the county. In Quantico, the election officials had failed to tally the votes on the tally sheet, carrying out the totals instead, and the return board summoned these election officials to Salisbury to properly adjust the tally sheets for that district. In one or two places, some minor discrepancies were discovered. In Willard district, it was found that in telephoning the returns in on the night of the election, Mr. Nathaniel O. Austin, the Democratic candidate on the ticket for the House of Delegates had been given credit for 20 more votes than he actually had, and when the official count was made, he was elected over Mr. H. James Bounds, by only one vote. The final figures on the contest between Hon. Charles R. Disharoon, Democratic candidate for the Senate and Hon. F. P. Adkins, Republican candidate for the same office, disclosed the fact that Mr. Disharoon had a plurality of 8 over Mr. Adkins. Outside of these few mistakes, there seemed to be no irregularities of any moment, but there was considerable controversy as to signing up the Republican returns, the Republican Supervisor, Mr. Wm. M. Day, refusing to sign and demanding that he be allowed to resign his position and the Board to be reorganized, all of which Mr. F. Leonard Wailes, attorney for the Supervisors, refused to allow, and finally at a late hour Thursday night, the returns were signed up, Mr. Day signing under protest.

It was found in adding up the tally sheets that Attorney-General Ritchie was entitled to more votes in the county than had been accorded him, and the final result showed that Mr. Alan F. Benjamin had been elected County Commissioner over Mr. Theodore S. Hearn, Democrat. The official count shows the total for each candidate to be as follows.

The figures on the vote for Governor were so close that each Party was claiming the election of their candidate up until Friday morning when the final figures showed that General Ritchie had won the State by the small plurality of 198 over Mr. Nice. This was the smallest plurality by which a Governor was ever elected in Maryland, and the excitement was tense all over the State from the mountains to the sea until after the official count (Continued On Page Seven).

Capt. Moon Writes Mr. Johnson Of His Experiences

Graphic Description Of The Hardship Endured By Mrs. Moon, Himself And Crew Of The Barnstable.

The first direct information of the crew of the ill-fated ship Barnstable which was lost a few weeks ago, to reach Salisbury was received by A. Sidney Johnson Saturday afternoon. He received a letter from I. S. Moon, first mate on the Barnstable, giving a graphic description of the perilous voyage. Officer Moon stated that no 12 men ever went through more hardships and lived to tell the tale. The ship was simply beaten to pieces by gigantic waves, and the crew had to take to the lifeboats. They drifted helplessly for hours without food or drink, and when rescued were completely exhausted from hunger and exposure. Mrs. Moon was among the number of unfortunates, and according to Mr. Moon's statement, it was owing to her bravery and her faith in a guiding hand that gave them courage to keep up the fight until the last. Another example of the heroism of American womanhood.

The Moore & McCormack Co., of New York, owners of the ship, realizing that all was done that could be done by skillful seamanship to save the Barnstable, place no blame on Capt. Moon. He was given command of the steamship Lake Gretna, which is now loading general cargo in New York for Belfast and Dublin, Ireland. We wish Capt. Moon success in his new command, and hope his new ship will prove more staunch than the Barnstable. Capt. Moon wished to be remembered to the many friends in Salisbury, and always remembers with a great deal of pleasure the few months he spent in Salisbury.

TO REVIVE OLD TIME DANCES FRIDAY

The old time round and square dances are to be enjoyed again at the Salisbury Armory tomorrow night, and the public is invited to enjoy an evening's revival of the old day's enjoyments. Fiddlers and banjo players will furnish the music for the square dances and the Salisbury orchestra will officiate for the round dances. Admission will be $2.00 for dancers and 25 cents for spectators.

Salisbury Will Be Main Operating Plant for Shirt Co.

New York Concern Has Purchased The Business Of The W. F. Calloway Shirt Co. Will Enlarge.

Salisbury is to be made the central point for the operations of Liebovitz & Son, Inc., of New York, for the manufacture of percale and madras shirts on the peninsula. This firm has recently purchased the Calloway Shirt Co., which for so many years has been operated by Mr. W. F. Calloway and his son, Mr. Gordon Calloway. Mr. W. F. Calloway retires from business but Mr. Gordon Calloway remains as manager of the Salisbury plant.

The new concern has taken charge and will make big improvements in the plant here having electric lights, new machines and everything up to date, which will provide comfortable factory quarters for the operators. They are advertising in this issue of the News for 50 more shirt makers and offer special inducements to the women of Salisbury and the surrounding community.

From the plans laid out by this big concern which is rated at several million dollars, it is proposed to make Salisbury the central point for cutting and stitching and other factories will probably be operated in the surrounding towns through the main office here. This firm now operates more than 50 shirt factories in the United States and are much pleased with the possibility of getting plenty of operators in and around Salisbury and if their requirements are properly met here in the way of labor they are likely to build an additional factory or two in this locality. They say they expect to have a pay roll of more than $50,000 annually in this city, which will add greatly to the importance of Salisbury as a shirt manufacturing centre.

A MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Pope, were the recipients of a miscellaneous shower of kitchen utensils and linen last Wednesday evening. It was given by Mrs. George Conner. About nine o'clock a host of friends both of Mr. and Mrs. Pope, arrived, bringing linen and every thing needful for the culinary department. Some articles were accompanied by humorous verses, which when read, afforded great amusement to the company. There were about 50 or 60 present. After refreshments were served, by the hostess, the company departed, expressing their thanks for a delightful evening in this charming little home.

THE G. O. P. STATE LEADERS DESIRE RECOUNT OF VOTES

Galen L. Tait, Republican State Chairman, Alleges Many Nice Ballots Were Thrown Out And Not Counted Through Unfairness Of The Election Officials.

CALLS ON RITCHIE TO ACT FAIRLY.

Charging irregularities in the elections of November 4, which he declares are responsible for the apparent election of Albert C. Ritchie, Democratic candidate for governor over Harry W. Nice the Republican candidate, Galen L. Tait, Republican state chairman, has called upon Mr. Ritchie to submit to a recount of the votes.

Mr. Ritchie on the face of the returns seems to have been elected governor by a plurality of 165 votes in the entire state. Mr. Tait alleges that in many districts ballots were thrown out and not counted for various reasons. Some of these ballots he claims were illegally initiated by the election judges. Others he says were thrown out because they showed blemishes in the paper on which the ballots were printed, and still others were discarded because the crosses made in the boxes opposite the names of the candidates voted for, were not perfectly made by the voters.

Mr. Tait bases his desire for a recount on the ground that honest candidates should show a willingness to

ATTENDANCE VERY GOOD DESPITE THE RAIN.

Pomona Grange of County Is Responsible For Affair Which Proves Interesting To The People.

The Community Fair, given on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at the Armory, under the auspices of the Wicomico County Pomona Grange, was a success in spite of the fact that the rain on Tuesday prevented many people from attending. The attendance on Monday and yesterday however was good and those in charge of the affair are well pleased with the results.

The scope covered by the fair may be judged from the fact that there were approximately 250 exhibitors, representing all 15 of the county's election districts; and also from the fact that about $1,100 was awarded in premiums to the several hundred winners.

The judges, W. B. Pitts of Onley, Va., E. I. Oswald, county agent of Worcester, C. Z. Keller, county agent of Somerset, E. B. Walls, county agent of Talbot, Mrs. E. B. Walls, home demonstration agent in Talbot county, Miss Mabel Stevens, district home demonstration agent for the Eastern Shore and Miss Adice Jones, state leader of Girls' clubs, judged the exhibits on Monday night and the awards were made yesterday. The full list of the premium winners will be published in the News next week.

Among the most interesting of the exhibits at the Fair were two collections of household products, three of farm and garden seeds, four of grasses and hay, four of nuts, two of apples, three of small cakes and two of preserved and canned fruits. Besides these there were nearly 200 other smaller exhibits, each one of which was of great interest to those who visited the Armory while the Fair was under way.

The exhibits of the work of the children attending the county's small rural schools as well as those by the pupils of the larger schools attracted a considerable amount of favorable comment.

The Fair was in charge of the following departmental superintendents:—Household, Mrs. Grant Sexton; Schools, Miss Nettie Holloway; Fancy Work, Miss Clemmie Hearne; Agriculture, I. T. Wimbrow. In addition to these, Miss Olive Mitchell, home demonstration agent for Wicomico county and County Agent G. R. Cobb, acted efficiently as general assistant superintendents.

The officers of the committee of Pomona Grange, in charge of the arrangements for the Fair are Joseph A. Lowe, of Mardela Springs, chairman; W. Lee Allen, secretary and G. R. Cobb, county agent, assistant secretary.

CITY IS THREATENED WITH COAL SHORTAGE

United Charities Receives Many Calls For Help.

Mrs. Norman C. Stiles Is Now On Duty In S. B. L. & B. Building As Temporary Secretary.

Mrs. Norman C. Stiles has recently returned to this city from Wilmington where she was district secretary of the Associated Charities of that city, and is now serving as temporary secretary of the United Charities of Salisbury. Mr. Stiles served under the Stars and Stripes in France for about two years, returning to the United States about two months ago. It was while her husband was in France that Mrs. Stiles devoted her time and energies to the work of aiding the needy people of Wilmington.

The United Charities of Salisbury has a headquarters in the S. B. L. & B. building.

It is here that Mrs. Stiles will receive applications for help from people in need. Already she has a number of such applications which she is now investigating, and in cases where it is shown to her satisfaction that help is warranted, help will be given. From the Salisbury office, Mrs. Stiles will investigate needy cases in all parts of Wicomico county. At the present time her efforts are somewhat embarrassed by a lack of facilities for transportation to many of the isolated rural sections of the county from which calls for help are being received.

The funds with which the United Charities works in aiding needy families are made up through contributions to the organization; and such contributions are always welcomed and wisely used.

From time to time the nature of the cases aided by the United Charities will be described in the Wicomico News, and the needs of the organization for funds with which to carry on its work will also be told.

SALISBURY LODGE TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

Knights Of Pythias Plan A Brilliant Affair To Be Given For Charitable Benefit November 21.

Friday, November 21 has been set as the date, and the Arcade theater as the place for the entertainment to be given in this city under the auspices of Salisbury lodge No. 56, Knights of Pythias, for the benefit of its charity fund.

The affair promises to be one of great merit and those in charge of the program guarantee that an entertainment which can only be equalled in New York or Philadelphia will be the result of their efforts to make it a great success.

F. M. Sommerkamp, past grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Georgia, who has recently been transferred to this city by the Bell Telephone Co., and who is now living here with his family, will make an address. Mr. Sommerkamp has the reputation of being one of the most brilliant after dinner speakers in the southland.

His two daughters, the Misses Mary and Henrietta Sommerkamp, famous as terpsichorean artists, have consented to give a number of dances. These young ladies, during the war, appeared in various entertainments given for patriotic benefit and they are said to be equal to many of the noted professional dancers. In addition to these features there will be many others, each one of which in itself promises to be too good to be missed. The high quality of the entertainment to be given and the charitable cause for which it is to be given, should insure it the patronage of a great host of Salisbury's people.

STRIKING BUTCHERS CUT MEAT PRICES

Just to show that some of their employers have been profiteering, striking butchers in Chicago this week opened a big retail meat market from which they sold porterhouse steak at 18 cents a pound, veal chops at 16 cents a pound and hamburger steak priced at 10 cents. Other meats were sold at correspondingly low prices. Although the strikers cut the prevailing prices of meats from 30 to 75 per cent, they claim the cut prices net them a fair margin of profit.

The Dealers Claim They Can't Get Fuel For City's People.

MANY PEOPLE HAVE NO COAL

One Concern Has Orders For 100 Tons It Can't Fill And Has Stopped Booking Orders. City Officials Must Act Promptly.

With only about 40 per cent of the people of Salisbury supplied with coal, and the country in the clutches of a coal shortage, the situation in this city looks serious.

The Farmers & Planters Co., one of the largest coal dealers, has sold 3,500 tons of coal and has orders now for about 100 tons which it cannot possibly deliver. The same conditions seem to prevail with each one of the local dealers. The people of the city are trying to get a supply of coal which is apparently unobtainable and a long winter of suffering seems promised for those whose wants for fuel cannot be supplied.

It is probable that the mayor and council, together with the Business Men's association could obtain relief for the people of the city if they would make the effort; and it is to be hoped that the effort will soon be made.

There is no question but that if the matter were taken up with the United States Fuel administration, Salisbury's coal quota could be increased and enough fuel sent here to relieve the needs of the people.

At the present time the local dealers are able to obtain only pea coal. This is a grade much smaller than nut coal and can be used only in stoves and furnaces with very fine grates. The people of this section have not been in the habit of using this small coal and consequently are not equipped for its use; so that even though a supply of pea coal may be obtained its receipt here would not materially relieve a situation which now promises to prove serious before the end of the winter.

Now that the attention of the city authorities and of the Business Men's association has been called to this matter, it is hoped that they will immediately take steps to bring relief in the nature of a coal supply, before the really cold weather sets in. The relief can be had if it is sought in the right way by the right people.

LYCEUM COURSE HERE THIS WINTER

High School Faculty And Student Body Will Try To Raise Money.

In an effort to accumulate a fund of approximately $450 with which to pay for the recently purchased motion picture machine, the recently installed lockers in the boys' dressing rooms and the renovations made to the school library, the faculty and student body of the Salisbury High school has arranged for a lyceum course of five numbers to be given at the Arcade theatre in this city.

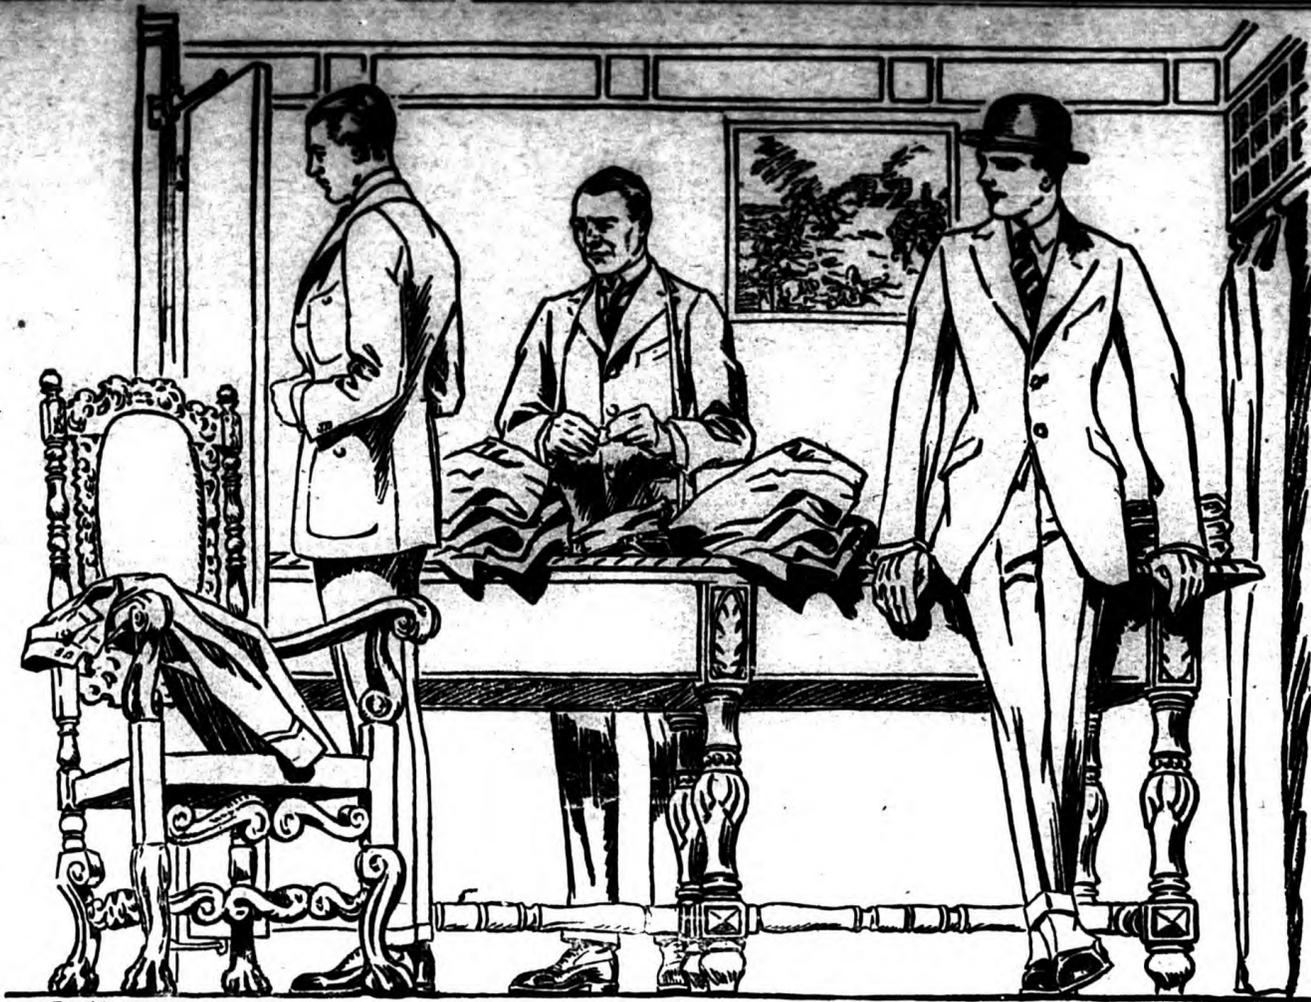

The first number of the series will be given on Monday night. It will present the University Four in a program of vocal and instrumental music which is bound to be interesting to its Salisbury audience.

The other four lyceum dates will be as follows. On January 27, Dr. William Balder, of Washington, in an address of exceedingly great merit. On March 16 the Clarence L. Burdgerfer Co., will give an evening of instrumental and vocal music and the program will be featured by an address given by Professor Burdgerfer who is ranked as an exceptionally fine orator. On March 30, the Lillian Johnson Co., will present a vaudeville sketch and a program of instrumental and vocal music, and on April 6, a company of returned soldiers will give an evening of war songs.

Tickets for the course are now on sale at the High school. Season tickets will be sold to adults at $2 and to children at $1 each.

W. B. & A. HAS BIG IMPROVEMENT PLAN

New Buildings In Balto. and Washington Including Hotel Planned.

The Washington, Baltimore & Annapolis Electric Railroad Company's tentative plans for extensive terminal improvements both in this city and Washington provide for the erection of a three to eight story structure at Eutaw, Lombard, Howard and Pratt Streets, Baltimore, and the building of a hotel and terminal at New York Ave., Eleventh and Twelfth Streets, Washington. Properties for both improvements have been purchased.

The plans are subject to change, although the projects as outlined have met with general favor on the part of both officials and stockholders of the Company. O. G. Simonson, architect, Maryland Casualty Tower, is preparing provisional studies covering the improvements contemplated for this city. A steel frame, brick and concrete structure is contemplated, and in case the larger, or eight story design is decided upon, floor space will be leased for offices and manufacturing purposes.

The present passenger terminal at Liberty and Marion streets is to be abandoned and upon completion of the new building which will be used as both a passenger and freight terminal and for general offices of the company and freight storage. The improvement will necessitate changes in track layout providing for track extension from the present trackage on the Lombard Street side of the new site into the new building.

The hotel and terminal plan for Washington will be of similar construction and eight to ten stories high. No architect has been selected as yet for the latter improvement. Money to finance the improvements was provided for at a special meeting of the stockholders of the company, October 15, when the issuance of $1,044,250 at 4 per cent. non-cumulative preferred stock was authorized. The stock is divided into 20,885 shares, par value $50 and is being sold to stockholders at $37.50 per share.

HOLLAND WILL NOT GIVE UP THE KAISER

Because the Netherlands have been for centuries an asylum for political refugees of all kinds it is unlikely that Holland will surrender the ex-Kaiser for extradition. A prominent Dutch official has given out the following statement on the subject: "Holland realizes the unpleasantness of the situation created by the fact that the former German ruler sought refuge here a year ago. But for us it is only a question of sticking to the principles which have guided us for centuries."

SCOTT—WAILES

A quiet, but very pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday last at high noon at the old Wailes homestead, when Mr. E. Howard Scott and Miss Alice H. Wailes, were joined in holy wedlock by the Rev. Robt. A. Boyle. The groom was attended by Dr. Benj. Dennis of Washington, D. C., as best man.

The bride wore a simple but beautiful dress of white georgette with bridal veil caught up with orange blossoms and pearls. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses, and was given away by her brother, Mr. F. Leonard Wailes. Miss Laura L. Wailes, sister of the bride acted as maid of honor, and wore a dress of white embroidered filet net with white hat of polka dot filet net, and carried roses and orchids.

Miss Cornelia Wailes, niece of the bride, was bride's maid and wore flesh georgette with a lovely hat of cream 'eghorn and net. She carried pink rosebuds and delphinium. The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums, with the exception of the dining room, where the decorations were pink roses.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor, where an aunt, Mrs. J. D. Hank, was married a half century ago.

It was also the occasion of the 60th wedding anniversary of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wailes.

There were over a hundred town guests present. Those from out of town were: Miss Sallie E. Sheridan, Dr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Rumsey, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Wailes, Baltimore, and Mr. and Mrs. Wailes Hank, of Norfolk, Va.

The bride is a member of a large and well known family and has a large circle of friends here. Mr. Scott's home is in Philadelphia, where he holds a position with the Pennsylvania R. R. Co.

They left on a wedding tour to Boston, after which they will reside in Philadelphia.

HORTICULTURE MEET IN CHESTERTOWN

Arrangements Are Now Being Made For Big Affair Scheduled For January 6-8, 1920.

The great horticultural event of the year for the people of the Delaware Chesapeake peninsula is the meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural society, and this annual event which will occur at Chestertown, Md., January 6, 7 and 8, 1920, promises to be as interesting and as profitable as any meeting in the past. A very instructive program has been prepared and while it is not quite completed, assurance is given of the attendance of some of the best speakers and practical men in this part of the country. Dr. Thos. J. Headles, entomologist, of New Jersey will be present and give the up-to-date methods of controlling insects that infest farm crops, especially the orchard.

B. W. Leach, of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology, will give in detail the results of work in Delaware during 1919 in preventing the injury of the so-called sawworm.

A half dozen or more of the best men of the Maryland Agricultural college have already agreed to be present. Dr. Bomberger will deliver a very interesting, popular lecture on "The Balance Wheel of the Social Order." Professor Cory will report on insects, Professor Shaw will give a discussion on orchard demonstration work in Maryland, Professor E. G. Aughter will talk on "Apple Pruning Experiments" and "Orchard Pollination Studies," and Professor E. Wellington will discuss tomato growing. Dr. Woods, president of the college, has promised to be present if possible.

Delaware college will be represented by Professor C. A. McCue, Dr. Thomas F. Manns, Professor LeCato and others.

B. W. Anson, Granogue, Del., will speak on "Better Home Grounds." G. Hale Harrison, Berlin, Md., has agreed to give a talk covering his experience in 1919 on fertilizing, pruning, spraying, picking, selling and consigning peaches. It goes without saying that the best practical men of the peninsula will be on hand with papers and will enter into the discussion and so give the results of their work during the year.

BEACOM BUSINESS COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Rachelle Johnson, of New Church, Va., has recently accepted a stenographic position in the Farmers & Merchants Bank at New Church, Va.

A number of graduates of the local college are now employed at Preston. This town is rapidly becoming a distributing point for the packers and canners of the Eastern Shore, as well as southern Delaware and Virginia and West Virginia. Among the graduates employed by the brokerage firms there, are Miss Hilda Wright, who is employed by A. W. Sisk & Sons; Miss Lucie Fitzpatrick by N. H. Fooks & Co.; and Darcy Bennett by the Eastern Shore Brokerage & Commission Co.

Miss F. Louise Corbin of Sanford, Va., and Walton B. Parks of Bloxom, Va. entered the college on November 3. There are annually a large number of students from the Eastern Shore of Virginia to enter the local college.

The night school is well attended and does a great deal of good for those who are employed by day.

The following young people have entered this month to begin studies that will fit them for business careers: Miss Ruth Rhodes, Rhoadsdale, Merrill McGrath, Fruitland, Clarence N. Nelson, Snow Hill, John H. Powell, Delmar, Luella Humphries, Salisbury.

STILL IN THE RING IS RECORD OF THE FORD

After 15 Years of Hard Usage, Model "F" Ford Shows Up Smiling.

In the salesroom of the Denk-Thompson Company, Ford dealer in Detroit, is Ford Touring car number 604 looking wonderfully youthful and sturdy despite its sixteen years of daily service. The car was accepted as $50.00 on the purchase of a new Ford. Apart from style the old timer is worth more than that—it "goes" and the motor is quite some years this side of being a pensioner, but vogue in motordom has changed since 1904.

Engines are no longer wound up from the side; steering wheels no longer stick straight up into the air; and then too, eight horse power and five gallon gas tanks aren't quite sufficient for the modern motorist. The faithful Ford has not outworn its usefulness—it has merely outlived itself. It is as though an old Indian Chief would sport himself adorned in ear-rings, feathers and moccasins among his college-bred, stylishly clad offspring, noblest among them but of a different age.

And so with this Model "F" Ford. What stories it might tell of following worn, rutted wagon roads, over strange country perhaps, running through creeks where bridges had not been built, making its owners happy. Detroit wasn't so much of a town 15 years ago. It was Henry Ford's second year manufacturing Fords in a factory; his company had just been organized.

It is not known who the original purchaser of this dependable old Ford was, or where he lived, whether in New York or California, Michigan or Florida. Six-O-Four may have traveled all of the States in the Union. But now it has returned to the place of its birth, there to enjoy a quiet respectable old age, while it keeps on running and running and running, and cheating the junk man.

THE NECESSITY FOR A MORE SIMPLE BALLOT IN MARYLAND.

The result of the last State election, brings vividly to the mind of the voters of both the old parties in this State that the time has arrived for the enactment of a more simple ballot for use by the people. The closeness by which the last election was decided, Mr. Ritchie winning by less than 200 plurality, in an election where more than 200,000 votes were cast, shows very conclusively that the people are not satisfied with such close margins in so an important event as the control of the State for the next four years. A close study of the registration figures of Wicomico County as compared with the number of votes cast or counted at the last election brings out the fact that there must have been several hundred ballots thrown out in this county in the count, and whether they were Democratic or Republican ballots has nothing to do with the case. What the people are now demanding is that when a voter goes to the trouble of casting his ballot this same ballot shall not be excluded from the count because of some technicality either in the marking or the folding. The intention of the ballot law is that every man shall have a fair opportunity to cast his ballot for his favorite candidates and that the ballot shall be fairly counted after it is so cast. With the present ballot in use in Maryland, where a voter is put to the necessity of making from 10 to 20 cross marks on the ballot in order to vote it, it is not surprising that so many errors slip in and that so many ballots are wasted in the count on the night of the election.

Prior to the special session of the Legislature of 1901, the people of Maryland had been accustomed to a ballot where the candidates for each political group were printed in separate columns and where one cross-mark at the top of the ballot was sufficient to vote a straight party ticket. This was changed because it was believed that emblem voting led to an unintelligent electorate, but it has been proven by experience that the majority of the voters who make mistakes in either voting for too many candidates or in otherwise spoiling their ballots is made principally by men of education and professional men who refuse to receive instruction as to the proper method of casting their ballot. For this reason, thousands of people all over Maryland have come to the conclusion that we should have a change in our ballot law and arrange the ballots in such order that if a Democrat or Republican desires to vote a straight party ticket, he could do so by making one cross-mark at the top of the group and thereby insure himself against mistakes and also insure that his ballot will be counted at the close of the election. A ballot of this kind would be as fair for one party as the other, and when it has been proven by figures that in a county like Wicomico where we have always had a perfectly legal ballot arranged strictly according to law, and yet the waste is so great that it is certainly time for some change so as to insure a more simple ballot which could be voted by citizens of all classes without fear of losing his right to have his ballot properly counted after it is cast.

It is therefore to be hoped that the leaders of both the old parties in Maryland will get together on some more simple ballot law to be passed at the coming session of the Legislature and forever remove the possibility of having elections in Maryland clouded with suspicion by the defeated party because of the knowledge that thousands upon thousands of ballots cast with the proper intention by the voters failed to be counted on election night because of small technicalities which were caused by the difficult problem of having to make so many cross-marks to properly declare the will of the voter.

HIGH COST OF LIVING.

Just so long as the working men and working women of the United States refuse to work, no matter what their reason may be, just so long will all the people of the country be afflicted with the high cost of living.

During the years of the recent war, every ounce of production in the United States was used. The closing of the war found the warehouses in this country, practically empty, and with this condition there was presented a need for continued vigor on the part of the producers, in order that the supply of the several commodities needed to maintain life and business might be supplied.

With every branch of industry in this country putting forth its utmost effort now, as during the war, the demand for supplies would soon be satisfied and a reserve supply of those commodities laid by.

Put American industry is not putting forth its utmost effort. The working men and working women in a great many branches of industry are on strike; with the result that the supply of commodities is not adequate to the demand, and the scarcity now prevailing is daily boosting wholesale and retail prices.

It is a fact that to go on strike, to refuse to work, is not the way to lower living costs. When every working man and working woman resumes his and her place in the factory, mine, mill, etc., and continues there, doing his and her duty faithfully for a period of a year or more, will all of the people of this country find the costs of living materially reduced.

Wages will have to be brought down to a normal level before there will be a real decrease in the costs of living. Every time wages are increased, the costs of the commodity produced by those wage earners is increased and with an increased cost of production, most of necessity come a corresponding increase in the cost of that commodity to the consumer.

It is a fact that living costs in this country today are exceedingly high; it is a fact too that wages are exceedingly high and that production is almost at a minimum while the demand is ever increasing; and it is a fact that until the laboring classes realize that with every dollar paid them in increased wages there comes a corresponding increase in every commodity they use until they barely resume their posts in the shop, factory, mine, mill, etc., and produce to their utmost limit, there will be no lowering of the costs of living. On the other hand if they persist in demanding fabulous wages paid them for short working hours and decreased production, there will be still further increases in the costs to the consumer of the necessities of life; and these increases affect not alone the laboring classes, but inflict themselves upon every resident of the country.

The solution of the problem of the high cost of living seems to be entirely up to the working man and the working woman, and with its solution will come peace and satisfaction to all the people of the country.

MACHINE SMASHED ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Saxon Car is Wrecked by Dodge Machine at Church and Isabella Streets. Traffic Laws Ignored.

One of the most recent automobile accidents in this city as the result of the lack of regard for the motor vehicle regulations, a lack which is daily practiced here, occurred on Saturday night when a Dodge and a Saxon machine met at the intersection of Church and Isabella streets, a meeting which resulted in the smashing of the entire front end of the Saxon machine. Luckily none of the passengers in either machine were injured.

This state has a code of regulations covering the operation, parking, etc., of motor driven vehicles; but these regulations are almost universally disregarded by people driving through Salisbury's streets.

The local police seem powerless to enforce the state regulations; at least the regulations are not enforced. The fact that under the state laws all fines imposed on persons found guilty of violating the auto-traffic laws revert to the state, is doubtless partly responsible for the fact that little or no heed is paid, apparently, by the local police to the violations; but whether or not the city is to profit financially from the punishment meted out to the violators of the state automobile laws, the lives and properties of the people of Salisbury are entitled to protection.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear son Private Paul Clifton Howard, who died at Camp Meade one year ago, November 16, 1918.

One year has passed, my heart is sore, As time rolls on I miss him more: I miss him, O God only knows, How I miss that dear boy that had to go.

If he only could come back And live with us again, No happier one on earth could be Than this old mother of his.

He's gone, yes gone, he will never return It almost breaks my heart to think, A boy that loved a home like him, Had to go away and die.

Many sad hours I have spent, How many more I do not know, When my time comes and I'm called to go, If I only can meet him, Clasp hand in hand.

By his broken-hearted MOTHER.
Gone in the best of his days, Bright in manhood's bloom, Gone from the hearts that loved him, To sleep in the silent tomb.

By his loving SISTER.

fice of that company. Mr. Matthews began his duties here yesterday afternoon.

—The final count in the recent election in Ohio shows that the State has voted wet by a plurality of more than 600. By this vote the people of Ohio have repudiated the nation wide Prohibition amendment and is the first state in the Union to so declare against the 18th Amendment. This was a close vote in more than 600,000 votes cast in the state.

—Tuesday last was a legal holiday with the banks in Salisbury, being Armistice day. The next holiday when the banks will be closed is Thanksgiving day which comes on the 27th of this month. With Election day recently passed, the banks of Maryland will have three holidays during the month of November which is rather unprecedented in the history of banking in this state.

—At the annual meeting of the Wi-comico County Teachers' association, the Court of Appeals, who was so ill during the campaign as to be forced to take treatment at the Hospital in Annapolis has returned to his home at Upper Marlboro where he is now convalescing from his attack. Mr.

Magruder desires the editors of the News to thank all his friends in this section who so loyally supported him for reelection and to say that he will always remember the good people of Wicomico for the splendid tribute they paid him in the flattering vote he received here.

—Tuesday last money reached the highest price recorded in the United States since the organization of the Federal banking system. In New York money sold as high as 25 percent. for the day, and reports are to the effect that money is expected to be extremely tight between now and the middle of December. Here in Salisbury, and in fact throughout Wi-comico county, our banks are fairly liberally supplied with cash. Last week, these institutions reached the high-water mark in their deposits. One of them showing over one and one-half million dollars for the day.

OFF COAL STRIKE

Agreement Is Reached After 18 Hour Conference Of The Union Leaders
On Tuesday In Indianapolis.

The strike of bituminous coal miners, which has continued since November 1, came to an end on Tuesday, when after an 18 hour conference, in Indianapolis, Ind., the union leaders decided to terminate the strike and order the men to resume operations in the mines.

The rescinding of the strike order will result in 400,000 men resuming work in the soft coal fields of the country, and relieve a situation, caused by a bituminous coal shortage, which was beginning to assume grave proportions.

Grace And Stengle M. E. Churches.

The revival services at Grace closed last Sunday night, resulting in over 30 conversions. Opportunity will be given to penitents to bow at the altar and confess Christ in the Brotherhood meetings held every Tuesday night.
Next Saturday night a social will be held in the social room of the Church by Mr. J. R. Heath's Bible class.

Revival services will begin at Sten-gle (Riverside) church next Sunday 7.30 p. m. Sunday school will be held 2 p. m. The preaching service at 3
p. m. All of the members and friends of the church are earnestly requested by the pastor and officials of Riverside to attend and work for the success of the meetings and for the upbuilding of God's work in this community.

The night of the 4th inst., a large number of the members and friends of Grace church visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Baker, residing on Baker street, to extend congratulations on their 50th wedding anniversary. Gifts of gold were presented, also a large wedding cake mounted with fifty golden candles.

NEW POSTMASTER ASSUMES HIS DUTIES

Last Saturday Earl B. Polk, Princess Anne's new postmaster, entered upon the duties of his office. This is not Mr. Polk's first experience in postoffice work, as he was deputy postmaster under his uncle, the late William C. Fontaine, in 1895. Mr.
Polk took the civil service examination for the office in April and was high man over four other competitors.

PRESIDENT IS NOW

YOUNG MEN'S SERVICE CLASS TO BANQUET

S. Y. M. A. Building Will Be Scene Of The Festivities Tomorrow Night.
Good Speakers Scheduled.

The Young Men's Service class better known as Miss Maria Ellegood's Sunday School class, will give a banquet tomorrow evening in the S. Y.
M. A. building in honor of the boys of this class and Asbury church, who were in the service of their country during the recent war.

Asbury church had 66 stars in her service flag and 56 of these represented boys from the Young Men's Service class, which speaks highly for the personnel of the class. Of the boys from Asbury church 63 returned, the three who did not return having been connected with this class.

A large number of these boys were in Company I and held their class organization together while at Camp McClellan, and overseas, keeping in constant touch with the class at home.
Miss Ellegood kept in communication with them even while they were on the battlefields of France and a letter from "Miss Maria" was always an event for the boys while over there, and was passed from man to man to be read. This continued interest displayed by their Sunday school teacher was an inspiration and they have shown their appreciation by entering heartily into the work of the class now that they have returned.

The banquet will be served under the direction of Mr. Leigh of the Central hotel and is expected to be quite an enjoyable affair. There will be toasts by Col. Woodcock, Dr. Herson and a number of the boys of the class, as well as singing of camp songs and other popular music.

At the annual election of officers held recently the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:
pres., Geo. P. Chandler, vice pres., Hollis J. Lowe, sec., M. W. Bounds, treas., Rollie D. Gillis, and with the return of the boys the class expects to accomplish big things for Asbury church.

WALLER—WEBB.

Miss Mae Belle Waller of this city and Eddie Webb of Willards, were quietly married on Friday evening, November 7th, 1919. The bride was attired in navy blue charmeuse with hat to match. Their home will be with the bride's parents in this city.

NEW TEA ROOM
NOW ON MAIN STREET

Group Of City's Young Women Provide A Long Felt Need—Open Rooms in Woodcock & Webb Bldg.

Was it Gilbert who sang about the famous London tearoom when the Duke of Kensington met his fate something like this:

Rhoda, Rhoda ran a pagoda,
Selling tea and syrup and soda, Buns and biscuits and bread and jam.

At the pretty pagoda Rhoda ran.
It is a canary colored pagoda where the tired and jaded may find new interest in life which Misses Rider, Nea-ly and Humphreys have started on the upper floor of the Woodcock & Webb building on Main street. Nothing of the kind has ever been attempted here before. It is primarily a tea room to be open in the afternoons, but probably light luncheons will be served also. The rooms are bright and cheerful. Brilliant yellow and jet black facings and real canaries singing in the windows. There are comfortable chairs and small tables and everything which makes a cup of tea in the afternoon the scorn of those who have never tried it. The tea room fills a real want. The young ladies are to be congratulated upon their foresight, courage and good taste. Success is surely in store for them.

ORPHANS' COURT NEWS.

The will of Dr. Clinton Brotemarkle, dated March 9, 1914 was admitted to probate in the Orphans' Court this week. The will appoints Laura J.
Brotemarkle, wife of the testator, as sole executrix. The estate as inventoried by Isaac S. Brewington and Charles J. Birkhead consists of personal property valued at $380.25. Mrs.
Brotemarkle qualified as executrix under a $2,000 bond furnished by Robert A. Brotemarkle and L. Atwood Bennett, her sureties.

The following bonds have been filed with the Orphans' Court and accepted
this week:

Elizabeth Dashiell administratrix of the estate of Jacob S. Morris, United States Fidelity & Guarantee Co., $2,000.

Mary E. Adkins administratrix of the estate of Merrill J. Adkins, $100.

Special Notice

To The People Of Salisbury And Vicinity Generally, And The Shirt Operators And Workers In Particular.

THE UNDERSIGNED have purchased the factory building and equipment of the CALLAWAY SHIRT COM-PANY, of SALISBURY, MARYLAND, and will assume charge of such factory on MONDAY, NOVEMBER TENTH.

Immediate improvements will be made to the building and equipment.

Electric light plant, etc. is being installed this week.
New Machines of the best types on the market have been ordered and will be installed upon receipt.

A line of high-grade percale and madras neckband shirts will be manufactured, and to obtain the output we desire FIFTY ADDITIONAL OPERATORS AT ONCE. We can use operators on all parts of neckband shirts, and call attention to the fact that just one grade of shirts will be made continuously, thus enabling our operators and employees generally to become efficient on one line. This will also enable our operators to earn better wages than it has heretofore been possible to earn in factories hereabouts.

Remember one line of work, no change, no extremes, no common shirts and no silk shirts—that one never gets through with, but a good line of percale and madras shirts, easy to handle, nice to work on, in a good light, airy, sanitary factory building.

Operators of experience are invited to call and interview the Manager Monday, November tenth, and learn all about our plans, and the opportunity you will have to obtain good positions and good wages.

A few learners will also be taken on. WE PAY WHILE TEACHING YOU TO SEW.

LINENS

We have established a linen business that can be depended upon.

People like good linens and that is why they always come here for them—for we have established a standard, and they know it and are never disappointed.

Then we have such assortments and qualities of these good linens—they know that they are not to be offered a jumble of "job linens"—as cheap linens are called in the low end trade.

In this showing of linens people will find grades that will be very much higher in a month or so, available now at the prices they had limited themselves to.

It is no wonder then that the linens are selling fast.

The following kinds are offered. Mercerized damask at 50c to $1.00 per yard.

Part linen or "Union" as it is sometimes termed, $1.25 to $2.00.

Pure linen at $2.25 to $4.50 per yard.

Start Your Christmas Shopping Early

Early in the day and early in the season is the slogan this year.

You are bound to get better service from shop-folks when they are not so tired and worn out.

Shopping in the morning means better attention from clerks that are fresh and attentive.

THE S. Y. M. A. READY FOR WINTER PROGRAM

Smoker On Friday Night Was A Great Success For All Concerned.

MR. CHARLES D. TODD NEW SECRETARY SPOKE.

Mr. L. W. Gunby, Chairman, Spoke Feelingly Of The Late Governor Jackson—Messrs. Cobb, Bannister, and Sommerkamp gave Short Talks.

On Friday evening, November 7th, about 150 members of the S. Y. M. A. attended the Smoker and learned of a definite program which has been arranged by the Secretary and Physical Director, Mr. Charles D. Todd. The meeting was full of pep from start to finish. We are convinced that the men of this community are aroused to what the facilities of the S. Y. M. A. afford for their mental, moral and physical benefit. Mr. Walter S. Sheppard, President of the Association, introduced Mr. L. W. Gunby as Chairman. Both Mr. Sheppard and Mr. Gunby stated in positive terms the advantages of an institution of this kind to any community. Mr. Gunby gave a very interesting talk. He pictured the opportunities of the young men of today as a result of the S. Y. M. A. existing as compared with the privileges afforded during his boyhood days. He felt that every resident of this community should be back of the S. Y. M. A. 100 per cent. and that they should never lessen in their appreciation of its value. The Chairman spoke in endearing terms in memory of the late Governor E. E. Jackson. From his personal knowledge of the man he knew positively that the building, now under the direction of the Salisbury Young Men's Association, was conceived in the mind of Mr. Jackson with only one motive in place at the disposal of the men of the community he loved, the facilities and environments to make them physically, mentally and morally fit.

Mr. Gunby concluded his remarks by stating that it was not only a privilege but an absolute duty of every person in this community to support the S. Y. M. A.; that it is up to everyone to recognize and know that the Association through its many activities would develop the very best that there was in its members.

Mr. W. S. Sheppard announced that Mr. L. J. Nash had resigned as secretary of the Association and he extended to him, on behalf of the Board of Trustees and the members of the Association, a most sincere wish for future success and happiness.

Mr. Charles D. Todd of Springfield, Mass., who has devoted practically all of his time to athletics and organization work, was then introduced. It will probably be of interest to know that Mr. Todd is a graduate of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College. This institution is known to us sufficiently to recognize that for a man to even enter this college he has got to have certain qualifications and to be a graduate simply means that the man must be efficient not only in the teaching of athletics and organization work, but he must be more or less of an expert himself in these lines. Mr. Todd made it very plain to the members of the Association that he was here for the purpose of making the S. Y. M. A. an institution such as everyone in the community would be proud of. He has the knowledge and the experience and is qualified to proceed with a very definite program without delay, but success could not be obtained unless the members of the Association and the people of the town in general, gave the Association the necessary support and participated in so far as they were able.

He proposes to train several teams in the various games, such as basketball, volley ball, indoor base ball and tennis, business men's gym classes, calisthenics, boxing, and bag punching classes, and practically everything known in athletics. Added to this a full program of dramatics and entertainment will be announced shortly. The first meeting for basket ball practice will take place on Monday evening, November 17, at 7 p. m. and Mr. Todd requests that every man who is interested in basket ball, regardless of what his age is, should be on hand to take part. Practice and all games will be staged in the Association building.

Mr. Todd returned to Springfield and will take on his college here not later than November 14th, and during this interval, Mr. Nash will continue in charge. Mr. Todd looks good to us; he has the know-how, the pep and personality and we predict a big success for the S. Y. M. A. under his management. To assist Mr. Todd the following members of the Association have volunteered their services. Mr. G. R. Cobb, Mr. J. W. Bannister, Mr. F. W. Sommerkamp, Mr. J. B. Kline and Mr. G. Wm. Phillips.

Mr. G. R. Cobb, who will assist Mr. Todd in outdoor activities and basketball, paid a high tribute to the college that Mr. Todd attended and assured the members of the Association that we had a man who was not only capable but who would put it up to each and every member of the Association to take part in the activities. Mr. Cobb will always be ready to do his utmost to assist the members of the Association, this means something—Mr. Cobb knows athletics and has taught athletics.

Mr. J. W. Bannister, who will assist Mr. Todd in gymnasium activities, said that the members of the Association and every person of this community must back up the work of the Association. We are all in need of systematic exercise and play, and the man who neglects his opportunity as afforded through the facilities of the Association, to keep himself physically fit is really not only doing himself an injustice but the community at large. One should realize that results will be gradual but sure. He laid emphasis on the fact that gym work should only be taken after a preliminary building up of the physique by other means. That a clean mind went with a clean body, and that athletics were a vital necessity for a sturdy manhood of this city. Mr. Bannister started his class on Monday evening, and in future will meet all those interested in gym work Tuesday evenings at 7.30 p. m. Other dates are being arranged.

Mr. F. W. Sommerkamp, who will assist Mr. Todd in the entertainment line, followed Mr. Bannister. His remarks were full of pep and jingle. Mr. Sommerkamp has had considerable experience in dramatics and entertainment and he told the members that he was ready to do anything in his power to organize and perform work of this character. Mr. Sommerkamp delivered his message in a way that satisfied everyone and intermingled his remarks with a good story and an apology for not having reached the garden spot of the world (Salisbury) sooner than he did. In his remarks Mr. Sommerkamp laid particular emphasis on the fact that an Association of this character was a blessing to a community, and was entitled to full support from everyone. Mr. Sommerkamp is connected with the plant department of the C. & P. Telephone Company.

Mr. G. Wm. Phillips, assisting Mr. Todd in pool, billiards, and tennis, discussed in a general way the educational as well as physical advantages of tennis, pool and billiards. He is ready to proceed at once with his organization and he wants every member of the Association to recognize and know, regardless of age, that all can play the game. To those who have not played the games, they may seem hard, however, we should always bear in mind the fact that what one does, others can do. To start things immediately, about 25 members signed up for a pool tournament, the date to be announced by Mr. Phillips in a few days. It is hoped that during this tournament considerable interest will be aroused.

A road race has been scheduled for Thanksgiving morning. The starting point will be the M. A. building at 9 a. m. Any one interested in entering this race is privileged to do so, the only preliminary being to sign an entry blank which can be obtained at the M. A. building at any time. Mr. Todd wishes to meet all those who care to enter for this race at the M. A. building on Monday evening, November 17th, at 8.15 p. m. At this time the route will be announced and all other information necessary, will be furnished. Anyone who cares to, has an opportunity to participate in this event, prizes will be offered. Mr. Todd is calling it the "First Annual Road Race."

When You Buy Poultry Feeds

Don't make a guess-work. You can eliminate the risk by our iron-clad guarantee. The money paid for Purina Chicken Chowder will be refunded if hens, when fed Purina Chicken Chowder with Purina Scratch Feed—the perfect balance for laying hens—as directed, do not lay more eggs than when fed with any other ration.

Most hens get too much grain, a large part of which goes into surplus yolks, which the hen absorbs. This makes the hen too fat and cuts down egg production. 100 lbs. of wheat, corn, oats and barley contain elements for 224 yolks, but only 154 whites. The feed of a laying hen should supply elements for both whites and yolks in equal quantity. Purina rations are rightly balanced. Based on Experiment Station tests, Purina Feeds contain the following:

Elements in	Tells	Writes
Purina Scratch Feed	247.49	142.11
Purina Chicken Chowder	152.65	227.25
Case Feed Purina	429.54	424.66

Note the larger number and almost equal proportion of whites and yolks in the Purina balanced ration. Purina feeds are scientifically mixed and insure results. In Checkerboard Bag.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS WITH RUSH

Licenses To The Number Of 143 Were Issued In County The First Two Days Of Season.

An idea of the intensity with which game is to be hunted in this county this year is indicated by the fact that on Monday and Tuesday 143 hunters' licenses were issued at the court house.

Of these, 111 were issued to residents of Salisbury, 22 to residents of other Maryland counties and 10 to residents of other states.

The resident licenses were issued upon the payment of $1.10 by each applicant, the state licenses upon the payment of $5 and the non-resident licenses upon the payment of $10 by each applicant.

The total receipts from all the licenses issued on Monday and Tuesday amounted to $332.10.

The hunting season opened on Monday, and it will be legal to hunt rabbits, partridges, pheasants and wild turkeys in this state until December 24.

WICOMICO POST A. L.

The Wicomico post of the American Legion wants all ex-service men to join the American Legion. It is the duty of every ex-service man in Wicomico to be a member of this post. Salisbury has the opportunity of having the largest post outside of Baltimore. The ex-service men should get together and make this post a success.

On Friday evening, November 14, Wicomico post will have a rally meeting at the Armory which all ex-service men are urged to attend. At this meeting plans will be formulated for making this post the best of its kind in the United States.

The purpose of the American Legion is to bind together in comradeship those who gave themselves to the service of their country in her time of need. These men traveled the same waters, the same battlefields, all imbued with the same desire, same ambition and same ideals. Let them now perpetuate these high American ideals for which American soldiery stood, by joining an organization that is 100 per cent. American and which has for its standards the same American ideals for which its members fought.

Salisbury H. S. Soccer Eleven Has Fine Record

Local Boys Promise To Win State Championship. Will Play Berlin Team On Friday, Nov. 21.

The soccer team of Salisbury's High school is making a wonderfully fine record this season. The eleven has played five and won five games and is well on the road toward winning the championship of the Eastern Shore.

By defeating the team of the Crisfield school, the Salisbury boys have eliminated Somerset county. Berlin's team which last Friday won the Worcester county championship will be Salisbury's victims again on November 21, and there will then remain only the winners of the county pennants in Cecil and Queen Anne's to be beaten.

After eliminating the champions of the several Eastern Shore counties, Salisbury will have a try at the champion eleven of the Western Shore for the state championship. This game will be played in Baltimore about the middle of December, and there is every indication, that the Salisbury boys will soon be the State's High school champion soccer eleven.

CRISFIELD HAS BAD FIRE MONDAY LAST

Blaze Starts In Main Street Tire Repairing Shop And Consumes Three Wooden Buildings.

A fire which started at 11.45 o'clock on Monday morning in the tire repairing establishment of E. W. Spencer on lower Main street in Crisfield, is said to have burned for nearly an hour before the firemen of the town responded to the fire call. The blaze consumed three wooden buildings and badly scorched several other structures.

According to reports the firemen were slow in answering the fire alarm because of an alleged dissatisfaction which has existed between them and the city officials since last summer when the town fathers refused to permit the fire fighters to bring their fire fighting apparatus to Salisbury and participate with it, in the parade which was a feature of the Firemen's convention here.

After they finally arrived on the scene of Monday's fire and had trained their streams on the blaze, the town's water supply gave out and there was another delay until arrangements could be made to pump sea water to the fire. The men did valiant work however and had the blaze under control within about an hour after their arrival on the scene.

COUNTY TEACHERS IN SESSION HERE

There Will Be No Sessions Of School In High School Tomorrow.

The Wicomico County Teacher's Association will meet in the Salisbury High School on Friday and Saturday of this week and there will be no school sessions on Friday on this account.

The Friday sessions will be open to all of the teachers of the county and it is expected that nearly all of the 140 teachers will be present. The Friday session will begin promptly at 9.30 o'clock a. m.

During the Saturday sessions Dr. Corey of the Maryland State College will give an illustrated lecture on the Natural Waterways of Maryland, and there will also be a discussion of the proposed revision of High School study and the organization of the Teachers' association for the following year. Dr. Samuel M. North, state supervisor of high schools, and W. H. Holloway, state supervisor of rural schools will attend both the Friday and Saturday sessions.

Professor R. Lee Clark, principal of the Salisbury High school is the president of the Wicomico County Teachers' association.

Also Authorizes Objections Against Light, Heat & Power Co.'s New Rates Before Pub. Ser. Com.

At the meeting of the City Council on Monday night, building permits were granted as follows:

To S. B. Shockley for the erection of a wooden barn and stable on West Isabella street; to G. E. Bounds for the addition of rooms to a dwelling on Locust street; to R. W. Jones for the construction of a wooden dwelling on Second street; to U. C. Wimbrow for the erection of a brick building to be used for mercantile purposes on West Church street.

The city engineer reported that a part of Washington street may be drained by the laying of 100 feet of 10 inch sewer pipe there. The report was accepted and Contractor Lee Johnson was instructed to proceed with the work according to the plans and specifications of the city engineer.

The city clerk was instructed to order three lights placed on Catherine street and one to be placed on East Main street extended. Each of the lights to be placed under the supervision of L. T. Parker.

A committee of two consisting of Councilmen E. J. C. Parsons and L. Thomas Parker, was appointed to look into the question of paving and grading on East Isabella street between Tilghman and Davis streets.

The city solicitor was instructed to appear before the Public Service commission and file an objection against the increase in the rates charged by the Salisbury Light, Heat & Power Co., and to ask that the people of Salisbury be given a hearing before the commission before being subjected to the increased rates.

The city solicitor was also instructed to prepare an ordinance providing for the curbing and guttering of Elizabeth street from Division to Church streets.

Mayor Jones appointed Charles Vincent a night policeman and the council confirmed the appointment.

The city clerk was authorized to order 14 car loads of oyster shells to be used on the city's streets, as soon as the shells can be procured.

FLAGS DEMOBILIZED AT ASBURY CHURCH

Flags "Demobilized" at Asbury. Dr. Herson preached last Sunday morning on the subject "Religion and Patriotism." The sermon was a ringing call for 100 per cent. Americanism—an urging of the church to take its place in the world as the militant kingdom of the Christ. The service flag, presented by Miss Ellegood's class, and the U. S. flag, presented by Senator Bennett, were taken from the platform of the church and the service flag is to be preserved in a glass case built for this purpose.

—Mrs. G. C. Bounds of Hebron entertained at dinner Sunday last in honor of the approaching marriage of Miss Lydia Grier of this city and Mr. Lay Phillips of Quantico.

WILL LEADERS OF BOTH PARTIES DEMAND CHANGE IN BALLOT LAW?

It Is Very Evident That A Majority Of Sentiment Is Now For A More Simple Ballot.

THE PRESENT FORM OF BALLOT IS OF NO ADVANTAGE TO EITHER PARTY AND ACTS AS A DETERRENT TO A LARGE NUMBER OF VOTERS WHO REFUSE TO BE INSTRUCTED AND WHO RESENT THE FACT THAT THEY ARE PUT TO EXTRAORDINARY TROUBLE IN CASTING THEIR VOTE—NEXT LEGISLATURE SHOULD MAKE CHANGE.

The result of the elections in Maryland last week and the closeness by which many of the most important contests were settled, brings vividly to the minds of every thinking Marylander the fact that some remedial legislation is needed in the matter of a simpler ballot by which the average citizen can cast his vote with the knowledge that it will be counted after he has performed this great civic duty. A glance at the tabulated statement of returns for Wicomico county shows conclusively that there were several hundred ballots spoiled or thrown out simply because the average citizen was unable or unwilling to go to the trouble to vote the entire ticket. When a contest for the Governorship of a great State like Maryland is settled by only a few hundred votes or less, the necessity for properly registering the will of the electorate becomes more apparent every year. If the same number of ballots were spoiled in all the counties of the State as were wasted in Wicomico County on the 4th of November, it is very evident that the will of the people was not registered properly in the result of the Election on that day.

A week or two ago, we published in the News a tabulated statement showing the number of registered voters in each precinct of the county and this table showed that we had on the registration books more than 7,000 voters of both parties white and colored. The largest number of votes counted on November 4th for both the State candidates of the two leading parties together with the votes cast for the Labor and Social candidates numbered all told 5,294. The average stay-at-home vote should never exceed 10 per cent. of the registered vote and if this had held true at the last election, there should have been somewhere in the neighborhood of 7,000 votes counted in Wicomico County provided every citizen who cast his ballot had been given the opportunity to cast it in a way in which it would have been counted.

Taking Wicomico County as a gauge for the rest of the State, we can say that here we have as fair a ballot as is printed in Maryland. There has never been any attempt on the part of either party here to put out a fake ballot or a complicated ballot for the sole purpose of confusing the voter, and if the electorate of any portion of Maryland could vote the ballot intelligibly, the voters of Wicomico county certainly have as fair a chance as is possible under the present Election Law. But what are the facts? At every election, the Party watchers discover several hundred votes either partially voted, badly folded or not voted at all, simply because the average citizen will not go to the trouble or take the time to properly inform himself as to the correct method of marking the ballot. The last ballot used in Wicomico County was 28 inches long, printed in two columns, and containing quite a number of folds. When opened up, it was nearly a yard long, and the average voter in hundreds of cases, simply did not have the industry or else was unwilling to make the effort to vote the ticket throughout, and as a consequence, many candidates on the ticket were skipped over entirely, simply because it was necessary to make a cross mark opposite every man's name whom the voter intends to vote for making it a long and tedious proposition and especially an obnoxious one to many people who are unused to using the pencil and whose idea of discrimination is not always clear. To think that in any community a voter should be put to the trouble of making 14 or 15 cross-marks on a ballot if he desires to vote a straight party ticket is really so absurd as to be almost laughable and yet this is the kind of a ballot we have had in Maryland since the special session of the Legislature in 1901 and what has been the consequence to the dominant party of the State—we mean by that the Democratic Party? It has simply meant that the Democratic majorities which prior to 1900, sometimes amounted to as much as 25,000 in Maryland has dropped year by year until the State has been put in the category of a close political State on which neither side can always safely calculate for victory.

Take it in the counties on the Eastern Shore. Only a few years ago, every county on the Shore with the possible exception of Kent, Somerset and Talbot, could safely be estimated to always give Democratic majorities ranging from 400 to 1,000 and Democratic strongholds like Queen Anne's, Worcester and Wicomico could always be looked to for Democratic pluralities exceeding 600 in each case. Now what are the majorities in these counties? They have dwindled and dwindled until they are almost nil and yet, if there are any Democratic spots in Maryland, these are the counties which should naturally be put in that category. What has been the reason for this great fall down in the Democratic vote? It is our belief that a large portion of it is due to the fact that the average Democratic voter will not take instruction in learning to vote the ballot and others are disgusted at the amount of trouble necessary to cast his straight party vote while on the other hand, the colored voter is always willing and anxious to learn and will take the time and trouble to work out the difficult problem and in 99 cases out of 100, he will vote as correct or more correct a ballot than the average white citizen. Therefore, the long and complicated ballot is not a menace to the Republican Party but it has proved the undoing of the Party which has been responsible for its origination and continued use.

In all fairness to the electorate of Maryland, the next session of the Legislature should change the ballot of this State and make it possible for the voter to make one cross-mark at the top of the ballot which would count for a straight party ticket if he so desired to vote. If to promote independent voting, it is thought best to have a square opposite the name of every candidate, the ballot can be so printed in party groups as to allow the voter the opportunity of splitting the ticket, but at the top of each group, there could be a square into which a cross-mark would mean a vote for the entire political group printed below which would give the voter an opportunity to do as he pleased about voting a straight party ticket or in putting the cross-mark opposite the names of those candidates in either group he wishes to vote for. There has been great objection made that emblem voting means a less intelligent electorate, but as a matter of fact, there are many opinions on this subject, and those who have spent more time around the election houses, and in assisting in watching the votes counted, are of the opinion that more mistakes in marking the present ballot are made by men of intelligence than by the average citizen who lacks college education or professional training.

This is not the first time that a Governor or State officers have been elected in Maryland by such close margins as to leave the impression in the minds of thousands of citizens that the successful candidate was not after all, the real choice of the majority of the people, and this kind of uncertainty is the thing which causes unrest and misunderstanding with the rank and file of the citizens. No State has the right to have a ballot which after being used by the electorate leaves an uncertain suggestion in the minds of the rank and file that after all, the votes of the people are not counted as they were intended to be cast. Nothing so breaks down the morale of a State and nothing so interferes with the peace and harmony of the people as uncertainty surrounding the results of their election, and the efforts which have been made in Maryland for nearly 20 years to make

After fully investigating a case of a dependent child and finding it to be destitute, homeless or abandoned; and finding if possible the religion of its parents—the Court will endeavor to find a private home for it where it will receive home training and secure an education; and in doing so will in each case select a home of the same faith as the parents.

If the child is afflicted or so young that it cannot be placed in a private home, the Court will commit it to a hospital or asylum for treatment or care, observing the same care as to its religious training.

In the case of delinquents (so called bad boys and girls, but in most cases unfortunate boys and girls and particularly if it is a first offense,) the Court in a majority of cases will have a heart to heart talk with the offender and upon securing a promise to do better and keep away from evil associates, will parole him with the express understanding that if he breaks his parole he will be sent to a reformatory. And he is then introduced to the probation officer and told that the Court will be guided by her reports on his conduct from time to time. It should be borne in mind that the Court retains jurisdiction of the child in every case, so that a change may be made at any time, when the best interest of the child requires it.

To show how the parole system works with Juvenile offenders. Out of upwards of 300 boys and girls paroled in the Juvenile Court of Baltimore County, not over 15 have violated their parole.

Reformatory Only When Necessary
A Judge will not send a Juvenile to a Reformatory unless it is necessary; sometimes a boy has become vicious in his conduct and is a menace to others while at large; sometimes he has been guilty of a succession of serious offenses. In such cases the discipline of a well organized Reformatory is absolutely necessary. They soon discover their mistake, and very often the worst offenders become the model boys and through application to their duties and exemplary conduct soon earn their release.

No Certain Sentence.
In dealing with delinquents the Court as a rule does not sentence them for specific terms, they are told when sentenced that the time they will be detained depends entirely upon themselves. If they conduct themselves properly and pass their examinations and show that they intend to lead better lives, the Court will be glad to parole them.

Probation Officer.
The Probation Officer is the right hand of the Court; unless she is conscientious, painstaking and thorough, the results will be unsatisfactory. It is her duty to make regular visits to the paroled delinquents, inquire of their conduct, see that their home environment is what it should be and to give advice and encouragement when necessary. She should make regular reports to the Court and be ready at any time to give information concerning any ward of the Court. She should see that no Juvenile is placed in jail awaiting trial if there is any possible way to avoid it, and there will usually be found a way.

Maryland Children's Aid Society.
The question may be asked, where is the Court to find homes for the dependent children? The answer is that we have in this State one of the best organized ones of its kind in the country, "The Maryland Children's Aid Society." It is organized in every county in the State and it will locate good homes for every child given in its charge. These homes are usually in the country and are well equipped. The Court never delays a moment in providing a good home for a child.

Expense of a Juvenile Court.
The expense of conducting and maintaining a Juvenile Court in your County will be very small. There are no witness fees; there is no compensation for Clerk of Court, and the only expense will be the salary of a probation officer and some fees to the Sheriff for summoning witnesses; indeed the entire cost of maintaining the Court should be very much less than the investigation of Juvenile cases by the Grand Jury and by Justices of the Peace.

Conclusion.
Every city of any importance in the country has a Juvenile Court; all up to date counties have them and statistics show their value. The boys who run wild today, who are without discipline at home; who run the streets at all hours of the night, who congregate in unruly gangs and commit acts of vandalism; who do petty thieving in their neighborhood; the rowdies; the bullies, in a few years will be the criminals who will give you serious trouble unless you check them in the beginning and this can only be done by an active, well organized Juvenile Court. A survey was made by eminent criminologists of the great State prisons of the country; burglars, murderers and other long-term prisoners were interviewed and they say that their course in crime began at from 12 to 16 years of age, and it was almost the unanimous opinion of these unfortunates that if they had been taken to a Juvenile Court at the time of their first offense and shown the error of their ways and been placed under the care of a conscientious probation officer, they might have been saved from a life of crime.

The Juvenile Court is not an experiment, it is as necessary as the church or the school and Wicomico County has shown its progressiveness in taking advantage of the Act of Assembly in establishing one and the writer is quite sure that when your organization becomes effective, conditions in your County will improve and that speedily, and then the wonder will be how you did so long without it.

NEW PRESIDENT ELECTED FOR CHES. & POTOMAC TEL. CO.

Assumes Charge Of The Management Of This Great Corporation.
At special meetings of the directors, held in Washington, Friday, Oct. 31st, Albert E. Berry, of Philadelphia, was elected president of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Companies. These companies constitute the Bell telephone system in the states of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, part of Ohio and the District of Columbia. Mr. Berry succeeds Frank H. Bethell, of New York, who has resigned to engage in other business.

ALBERT E. BERRY.

Mr. Berry was formerly a member of the local telephone company, having entered the service in 1900 at Washington, D. C. In 1908 he was transferred to Philadelphia and became division manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania at that point. The new executive head of the telephone company is well known in Washington where he was born in 1878. He is a son of the late Edgar P. Berry, who for more than 40 years was connected with the Farmers and Mechanics National Bank of Georgetown. He was educated in the public schools of Washington and the Corcoran Scientific School, and after graduating in law from Georgetown University he entered the office of A. A. Boehling, Esq.

CURRENT NEWS CAUGHT ON THE FLY BY OUR REPORTERS

SOME CORRECTIONS IN TABULATED STATEMENT—PLENTRY OF GOOD MATERIAL IN SENATE—NEW BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WILL SOON TAKE OFFICE—THANKSGIVING DAY PROCLAMATION ISSUED—HOW ABOUT THE POULTRY SHOW?

The trials and tribulations of a newspaper man on the Election night can hardly be understood by the average citizen. In the preparation of the tabulated statement of the fifteen districts of the county like Wicomico, information of which has to be gotten over the telephone, causes many errors to creep in the vote of many candidates which are not always thoroughly understood and in some cases causes hard thoughts against the poor old newspaper man in his effort to give the earliest election returns the next day in the worst rush which a newspaper office experiences during the whole year. This has always been true and always will be true no matter how much trouble the clerks in the newspaper office may take in trying to check up the thousands of figures in a tabulated statement. The statement published in the last issue of the News contained many errors of an unintentional nature, one of the most glaring of which was the tabulation of the vote of Thomas H. Lewis, Jr., for State's Attorney. In Salisbury district Mr. Lewis was only credited with receiving 34 votes, when as a matter of fact, he received 234, the typographical error of leaving a figure off in the column causing Mr. Lewis to have one of the smallest totals of any candidate when as a matter of fact, his vote was one of the largest. He received the total of 2394 votes in the 15 districts of the county while his opponent Mr. Long received 2695, showing Mr. Long's plurality over Mr. Lewis as being 301. We take pleasure in making this correction, not from any complaint from Mr. Lewis, but it was so glaring as to be misleading.

Plenty Of Good Material In Senate.
In organizing the next State Senate, the Democrats will not lack material for a presiding officer nor will the Republicans be at a loss to select a floor leader of experience and capacity. Among the old hold-over Senators are such men as Peter Campbell of Baltimore, Senator Harrison of Berlin, Omar Crothers, of Cecil County, as well as Norris and Frick of Baltimore City, all of whom would make capable presiding officers for this body. The Republicans have some splendid material as floor leaders for their side in the persons of George L. Bartlett of Talbot, Oliver C. Metzger of Prince George's and Senator Eppler of Allegany, as well as Senator Harvey J. Speicher of Garrett County, all of whom have had considerable experience as legislators and all of whom are thoroughly acquainted with the financial and business conditions of the State so as to fit them for active members of the leading committees. Taken as a whole, the new Senate of Maryland will rank fairly well with any previous sessions regarding members, and there is hardly a man in the body who has not had either experience in the Senate or in the House of Delegates, all of which should be worth something to Maryland in the matter of getting good legislation passed without delay and unnecessary expense. It is to be hoped, therefore, that the usual horde of office seekers for minor places in the General Assembly will not find such fat pickings as has been the occasion in many past years.

New Board of Commissioners Will Soon Take Office.

The Board of Election Supervisors of Wicomico County having filed with the Clerk of the Court certified lists showing the number of votes each candidate received at the election last week, these returns will be forwarded to the Secretary of State by the Clerk of the Court and the Governor will then be in readiness to issue the commissions to all the newly elected county officials sometime about the middle of December. As is generally the case, the new Board of County Commissioners of Wicomico County will organize before the first of January so as to be ready for business at the beginning of the year. Three Commissioners retire when the new commissions arrive. They are Messrs. Daniel J. Parsons, who has served for 8 years in the board, Marion N. Nelson, who has served for 8 years and for four years as President, and Mr. F. P. Adkins, the Republican member of the Board who has served two years. Their places will be assumed by Messrs. W. F. Inley, Webster L. English and Alan F. Benjamin, Mr. Benjamin being the Republican member of the Board. The old members remaining are Wm. C. Mitchell and Willie Gilliss, both of whom have had considerable experience in the Commissioners' office. Mr. Mitchell served for one term as President of the Board, he having been a member of eight years. The organization of the Board will of course be in the hands of the Democrats as they have a majority of the members and it will be their province to elect their own presiding officer. The new County Treasurer, Mr. Harry Dennis will take office about the same time the Commissioners go in, which will have the effect of putting three new men in the County Commissioners' office who have not had previous experience in the business. The clerical force in the County Treasurer's office is at the disposal of the County Treasurer, he having the right to name his assistant treasurer and the various clerks employed in his department. As yet, we have heard of no intention regarding the disposing of any of the clerical force. Two of the new Commissioners will be chosen for four years and one for two years, it being left in the hands of the Governor who draws for the long and short term at his office in Annapolis.

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation Issued By President Wilson.

President Wilson has issued his proclamation declaring Thursday, November 27th as Thanksgiving Day for the people of the United States. In his message, the President calls upon the people to offer thanks for the special benefit they have received in the way of prosperity and also from the fact that we approach this Thanksgiving Day with our country practically at peace with the rest of the world. There is no doubt that the farmers especially have much to be grateful for in the way of plentiful harvest and the people generally are in probably the most prosperous condition they have found themselves at any Thanksgiving time within the period of the present generation. As suggested in these columns recently, it is to be hoped that some of the charitable institutions of Salisbury will not be overlooked by our people on this Thanksgiving occasion and one of the institutions which should receive special attention from our people is the Pine Bluff Sanatorium where incipient tuberculosis cases are treated so successfully. We might also call our people's attention to the Peninsula General Hospital and the Home for the Aged where gifts could be sent which would be highly appreciated by the inmates of both institutions. In our plenty, do not let us forget such charities as these which have to depend very largely on the help will offering of our people for their

BRIGHTEN UP ELECTRICALLY

HAVE you ever really, seriously thought of the value of electric service in your own home? Consider not merely the added sales or rental value of your property, but also the convenience of having good light at the touch of a button—light that is modern and safe—economical light through the use of

MAZDA LAMPS

The constant improvement and development of Mazda Lamps has made possible more candle power of illumination for the same wattage consumption—or in other words, more light for the same cost.

And think, too, of the dozens of electrical devices then at your command to take the drudgery out of house-work; to make life more pleasant for every member of the family.

Is there any good reason why you should not have the comfort of an electric fan in summer, heating devices in winter, a vacuum cleaner, a toaster, an electric iron? They are inexpensive to buy and to operate. You spend their cost many times each year for less permanent, less needful things, simply because you cannot realize the worth of electric service in your home until you have actually tried it.

As for the wiring of your house—the cost is but a fraction of what it used to be a few years ago, because house-wiring has become a science—skilled men can do the job better and in half the time it used to take.

SOME OBSERVATIONS OF THE MAN ABOUT TOWN
The Community Fair At The Big Army is a Wonderful Show.
A SUGGESTION WHICH WOULD PROVE OF GREAT BENEFIT.
This Fair Might Be Ended In A Way Which Would Leave Its Impress On The People Of This Community To Greater Extent Than Formerly.

The Community Fair which has been going on in Salisbury this week is an annual occurrence which means much to the rural residents of the county. These fairs started a few years ago have been growing in favor and have been enlarged year by year to meet the requirements of the occasion. At first, they were on an extremely small scale and while they attracted considerable attention, they were not considered thoroughly representative of what the county could produce in the agricultural line until two years ago. The Fair last year was an exceptionally good one and under the directorship of Pomona Grange and the County Agent, Mr. G.
R. Cobb, far better preparations were made this year for holding the Fair than ever before with the result we have had a show at the Armory this week which would compare favorably with any of its kind ever held in the State.

These Fairs are of untold benefit to the farming communities as they are the medium through which each community has the opportunity to communicate with their neighbors and it brings about a friendly rivalry and a determination between one community to outstrip the other in the matter of farm products and household production. To the average town citizen who is not thoroughly acquainted with the variety of the fruits, vegetables, nuts, canned goods and other useful articles grown by the farmers of Wicomico, it is a surprise to attend one of these community fairs because the exhibits bring forth a collection of all these things which so far surpass the idea of the average citizen as to our farm capacity as to really be a revelation.

We venture the assertion that in some sections of the exhibit just closed, the display of nuts grown on the farms of Wicomico County was really a revelation to our town people as well as the larger number of varieties of different vegetables which are seldom seen in the markets of this city which are nevertheless grown very successfully by many truckers and farmers in various sections of the county. The exhibition of fruits this year was really a marvellous contribution to horticultural achievements of our people. Nowhere in the United States could finer apples be produced than were on exhibition at the Armory this week and many varieties of pears, peaches, grapes and other fruits really reminded one of the fruit growing belt of the West and Northwest rather than the sandy soil of Wicomico and the Eastern Shore.

We might go on and enumerate many other things of unusual merit shown among the hundreds of exhibits at this Fair but it is quite true to say that any visitor looking over the hundreds and hundreds of exhibits embracing everything grown, harvested, canned, or manufactured on the farm will agree that the Eastern Shore's reputation of being the garden spot of the world is certainly well proven by one of these community fairs such as we have had in Salisbury this week.
Nothing that would tickle the palate of the most pronounced epicure was missing from the collection, and some of the canned goods on exhibition by the wives of the farmers would certainly do credit to the finest preserving experts in the United States.

The Man About Town could not help but think when passing through the various aisles of the big Armory and noting the hundreds of delicious things exhibited on the various tables what a rare opportunity it would be for the country folk to remember the Peninsula General Hospital in this city in the way of donations of many of these articles of food which would never be missed from the big larders of the country people but which would prove a great boon to the Hospital management in helping to take care of the hundreds of patients sent there for treatment. It struck us that the managers of this Community Fair would be doing a splendid charity if they would solicit from the exhibitors many of these articles like preserved fruits and vegetables and make a big donation to the Peninsula General Hospital, the Home for the Aged and the Pine Bluff Sanatorium. It would be a fitting climax to this very successful community fair and would leave a splendid impression in the minds of all the people and we feel sure would also leave a spirit of real comfort in the hearts of those who make the donations. The managers of the Hospital as well as the other institutions spoken of above will remember with grateful hearts this kindness on the part of the rural residents of Wicomico County if this program should be carried out as suggested and we certainly hope that this little reminder from the Man About Town will have the effect of marking this Community Fair as one entirely different from any of the others we have ever held in Salisbury.

New School For Seaford.
A modern school building, costing $200,000, is to be built at Seaford. A.
R. Spaid, State Superintendent of Schools, assisted by the local school board, is looking for an available spot for the location of the building. The school commission is looking for a tract with not less than 10 acres in it. The building will be built the coming year. It is said that Pierre S. duPont will give $100,000 on the proposed school and the taxpayers will raise the other $100,000. A member of the school board said last week that it will be one of the most up-to-date school buildings in the State.

Wicomico High Puts Pocomoke High Out In Big Struggle

The Two Soccer Teams Of These Well Known Schools Have Desperate Battle At Pocomoke City.

Salisbury High School's soccer eleven went to Pocomoke on Wednesday afternoon of last week, to play the High school team of that place and was given the struggle of its season's record to date. Salisbury won however, by a two to one score.

Pocomoke, a team that is trying hard to clean up everything on the Shore in the soccer line played an excellent game; and its team is made up of good players with a few exceptions. Pocomoke was weak at the goal however, and Salisbury was permitted to score the winning tally of the contest through the looseness of the Pocomoke goal keeper's playing.

Both teams showed a snap and dash that is not found usually in High school teams. It was apparent from the start, that each team was in good form and that each was determined to win.

Both teams scored one goal in the first half; and it was well along toward the final whistle when Salisbury broke the tie and won the game. Both teams entered and played the game aggressively. Neither seemed to take the defensive role until Salisbury had scored its winning tally; then that team's players finding themselves ahead of their opponents and with only a few minutes more of play, guarded their territory closely, and succeeded in making futile every one of Pocomoke's efforts to again tie the score.

After the game both teams were the guests of the Pocomoke High school girls in the Domestic Science rooms of the Pocomoke school building, where they were served with hot cocoa.

Pocomoke is scheduled to play Salisbury in this city within the near future, when Salisbury hopes to win by a wider margin than it gained over its opponents on Wednesday.

WILL LEADERS OF BOTH PARTIES WANT CHANGE?

voting as hard as possible has not been a good thing for the State or for the people, and the sooner a change is made to simplify voting the sooner the people will be better satisfied and the sooner both political parties will find the rank and file of their people responding to the call of the State for men to better perform this great civic duty.

It is to be hoped, therefore, that the party leaders of both the leading parties in Maryland will lay aside some party prejudices and before the next session of the Legislature get together on a ballot law for Maryland which will give the voter an opportunity to register his will at the ballot box with as little difficulty as possible by re-enacting the present ballot law and so arranging it as to foster straight party voting by enabling the voter to make one mark at the top of his ballot instead of having to make a cross-mark opposite the name of every candidate he desires to vote for. If there ever was any advantage in this ballot law to the Democratic Party, it has long since ceased to exist, and the leaders of that party should be willing to aid in the passage of a simpler ballot law by which the people would be able without so much trouble and exertion to cast their vote for their particular party candidates.

FIRST YEAR'S WORK TO COST ABOUT $5,500

County And Rural Y. M. C. A. Work Will Cost Less In Future Years. Dorchester Campaign Held Up.

In a news article released to the papers of the Eastern Shore last week, it was stated that the first year's budget for county and rural Y. M. C. A. work was $3,500.00. This was an error in typewriting and should have been $5,500 required for the first year, and probably $4000.00 to $4500.00 thereafter. Office and traveling equipment make the larger figure the first year. The Talbot county campaign opened on Monday night, November 10th, with a dinner at the Hotel Norris. James C. Godwin of Easton is county chairman and Alfred B. Mason is county treasurer. Some very substantial men of Talbot are interested in this movement and success in raising the $5500.00 and likely an over-subscription is predicted.

The Dorchester county dinner and campaign were postponed to December 1st, for lack of sufficient time for preparation in several communities and also for the reason that secretaries were not available to assist during the present week.

BOY SCOUTS ENJOY HARE AND HOUNDS

Scoutmaster Takes Boys Of His Troop Out For Seven Mile Hike On Friday of Last Week.

On Friday evening at 7.30 Scoutmaster Hartley with Assistant Scoutmaster Kline took the Scout troop on a hare and hound chase. The Scoutmaster with Scout William Howard, the troop bugler, started about five minutes in the lead of Mr. Kline and the troop went out North Division street, passed the N. Y. P. & N. R. E. tracks to Truitt road. At that point the troop was only two blocks behind the hares but by the manipulation or rather the lack of manipulation of the bugle the hares gained considerable ground. However by the time the hounds reached East Church street, they were again very close to their goal. At Mt. Hermon road the hares by covering their tracks managed to increase their lead considerably.

After tracking the hares nearly to Schumaker's mill pond and back to the Mt. Hermon road again, the hares were surrounded in the midst of a large campfire where they were in the act of roasting corn and sweet potatoes. Here the boys rested and satisfied their appetites which were rather large by this time. After roll call to see that none of the hounds had become lost in the chase the Scouts came in East Church street singing and giving Scout cheers. The troop then marched down Main street where all enjoyed a plate of cream at White & Leonard's Drug store. Wilmer Gullette, former Scribe, nearly wore out his right arm in the process of serving.

The Troop was then marched back to the S. Y. M. A. and was dismissed in the midst of the Smoker given to the members of the S. Y. M. A. and amid loud applause. The chase lasted for two hours and covered at least seven miles. The Troop is increasing daily and before long it will be the banner Troop of the state. There will be many pleasant surprises for the Scouts this fall and winter and the boys who are going to join, should do so this month as there is a contest now on for three silver loving cups to be given to the winners of the contest. All prizes will be distributed at the first meeting night of the new year, Frank Greenhawk, scout executive of Delaware, will be present with one of his Eagle scouts from Wilmington.

Mr. Kline complimented the Scouts on their mannerly and orderly conduct and thought they were especially well drilled. The boys are very anxious to have Mr. Kline go with them on a Saturday hike and taste the kind of sweet potatoes his mother used to roast.

Every boy out next Friday evening at 7.30 sharp and be ready to pass their Tenderfoot and Second Class tests. A Semaphore drill and First Aid exhibition will be given and all Scouts must be on time.

WORDS FROM HOME

Statements That May Be Investigated Testimony of Salisbury Citizens.

When a Salisbury citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Salisbury resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had. Ask your neighbor!

W. A. Kennerly, prop. City Hand Laundry, E. Camden St., Salisbury, says: "I was troubled by lame back caused by stooping a great deal. The pains I had were sharp and severe and always caught me in the small of my back when I tried to straighten after bending over. The kidney secretions were scanty and highly colored and contained sediment. After I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at White & Leonard's Drug Store I was cured. There is nothing too good for me to say about Doan's Kidney Pills and I recommend them to every kidney sufferer."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kennerly had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Ajax Tires Will Win For You

Dirt track champions of America—that's the title Ajax Tires have won for two years in succession. In 1918, drivers using Ajax Tires shattered 9 world's records and smashed 40 track records in races in all parts of the United States. The big reason why leading dirt track racers insist on Ajax Tires is that strong supporting shoulder of rubber which braces each side of the tread at its base—Ajax Shoulders of Strength. They give more tread on the road.

SALARY LAW IS SAID TO BE VIOLATED

Superintendent M. Bates Stephens Takes This Up With School Board.

INCREASE WILL BE RECOMMENDED FOR TEACHERS.

Meeting To Be Held In Annapolis Next Month To Formulate New Wage Scale For Teachers In State Both White And Colored.

State Superintendent of Schools M. Bates Stephens has written school superintendents of seven counties, asking why they have violated the minimum salary law for teachers which was passed by the State Legislature in 1918. That law provided that while colored teachers could be paid between $30 and $40 a month, depending upon the grade of certificate, in no case should the teacher receive less than $250 for the minimum term of seven months.

The counties whose yearly average last year was less than $250 are as follows: Calvert, $204; Charles, $192; Dorchester, $230; Howard, $232; Kent, $229; St. Mary's, $206, and Somerset, $244. The excuse generally advanced by county superintendents for the lowered salaries is that they have had to employ so many substitutes that it has brought down the average. Superintendent Stephens has instructed the superintendents that if they again are forced to hire substitutes for small salaries, to pay their regular teachers enough to bring the salary average up to the limit prescribed by law.

There will be a conference of all county superintendents December 30 in Mr. Stephens' office to decide upon a definite sum to recommend to the Legislature for a teachers' minimum salary. It was decided during the summer to recommend to the Legislature that an increase be made.

In the white schools of the State, the average salary paid elementary teachers last year was $563. The highest individual county was Allegheny, with $781, while the lowest was Garrett, with $404. In the white high schools, the average for all teachers was $917. Baltimore county had the highest average with $1,104, while Cecil county was the lowest with $747. The average salary in the colored schools was $294. Baltimore county was highest with an average of $616, while Charles the lowest, with an average of $192.

How About The Poultry Show?

For several years, Salisbury had a very representative poultry show at the First Regiment Armory which had the effect of arousing renewed interest in the breeding of high poultry by the farmers and fanciers of Wicomico County, and it was hoped that these poultry shows would continue year by year until they had assumed a place beside some of the bigger shows of the State. Up to the present time, we have heard of no effort being made to give this show during 1919, and we consider this a great mistake on the part of our farmers and poultry fanciers and it may not yet be too late to get the matter started for sometime in December. Salisbury was the only town on the Eastern Shore to attempt to compete with the Western Shore cities in the matter of the poultry show and it is to be regretted if our efforts are to be allowed to fall into disuse. There are many reasons why a community in which there seems to be such a lively interest taken in the breeding of good cattle, sheep and hogs should continue a poultry show on the lines first started here several years ago. During the few years the Shows were in vogue it was said that more high-grade fowl were bred in Wicomico than had been done for 25 years previous, and if these shows are kept up for a few more years, it will be found that extra quality of high grade stocks will be thoroughly distributed in every section of the county. Let the promoters of the last poultry show get busy and give us a show during the coming winter which will outstrip any we have previously exhibited.

A Pig Bred To The Purple.

For the past year, there has been much rivalry between several of the well known hog breeders of Wicomico County as to who had the finest quality of stock, and some pigs have been sold by these breeders at prices ranging from $25.00 to $50.00 which was considered a very good price for a Wicomico County hog. The following little item clipped from the daily press might be of interest to the hog dealers of Wicomico in showing what a real prize hog is worth in this country. "Thirty thousand dollars was paid by a local breeder in Omaha, Nebr., for 'Desizer,' a yearling Poland China boar. This is said to be the record price for a single hog. When a few weeks old 'Desizer' was sold for $5000. Today's sale makes a profit of $25,000 for the original purchaser in less than a year."

MAIN STREET PROPERTY STILL CHANGING HANDS

The Sarbanes Company Buys The W. S. Bell Property On South Side.

PRICE IS SAID TO HAVE BEEN ABOUT $15,000.

Well Known Restauranters Will Remodel The Property Later On As A Hotel And Apartment House—Other Real Estate Transactions.

The changes in Main Street real estate goes merrily on and the prices remain at a high standard. The last transaction was the purchase of the William S. Bell property on the South side of Main Street by the Sarbanes Company of this city for the sum of $15,000. This transaction was made last Friday. The Sarbanes Company runs the well-known Candy Kitchen in the Graham Building almost opposite the purchase and we understand it is the intention of the concern which is a corporation, at some future date to reconstruct the building into a first-class restaurant and rooming apartment house.

This is one of the best known pieces of property on Main street, and had been in the family of the late Dr. L. S. Bell for many years. After the fire of 1886, when the original house was destroyed, the present building was constructed under the supervision of Dr. Bell and was one of the best-built houses on the street. It is three-story brick structure with basement and the lot runs through to Camden street, a distance of probably 150 to 200 feet. It was used for many years as the private residence of Dr. Bell and his family, but recently, the lower floor was remodeled as headquarters for the Western Union Telegraph Company and we understand this Company has several years lease on the property.

Since July 1st, this immediate block of brick buildings located on the south side of Main street and formerly belonging to the late Dr. F. M. Slemons, the late Thos. H. Williams and the late Dr. L. S. Bell, have all changed ownership, the entire block being sold to different concerns but, the aggregate sales amounting to about $45,000.

During the week just closed, several other real estate transactions of some moment transpired in and around Salisbury, some properties changing hands several times within a period of 10 days to two weeks, and each time the properties were sold at advanced prices.

As noted in these columns on several occasions, the demand for Salisbury real estate grows every day and there is really a contest on here as to who can beat the other fellow to it in buying a piece of property when once it is put on the market. Among the recent real estate sales on Main Street was the block of buildings at the head of Dock Street, which was purchased by the well-known jeweler, Wm. J. Collins, and Mr. Frank Chatham, both of whom are doing business in the building at the present time. We understand this purchase was made from the Hon. Wm. P. Jackson. This is also a three-story brick structure which was built after the fire of 1886.

The Sarbanes Company who purchased the Bell property are among our most progressive young business men. They came to Salisbury a few years ago and opened the Candy Kitchen on Main street, which at that time was only a confectionery business but later on they established their well known restaurant which is one of the most popular dining places of the city. They are much thought of by the business community and by the people of Salisbury and their success is a matter of congratulation and they have the best wishes of the entire community in their effort to give Salisbury good restaurant facilities and are classed among our coming young business men.

ARMISTICE DAY, NOV. 11 FOR ROUNDING UP WAR RECORDS

Gov. Harrington Urges Recording As Duty To State of Maryland.

Armistice Day is not to be allowed to pass without a determined effort to obtain the War Service Record of every Marylander who was in the service, for the State War History.

This work is in charge of the Maryland Council of Defense, Historical Division, 201 W Monument street, George L. Radcliffe, Secretary of State of Maryland, is chairman of the Historical Division, and Karl Singewald, Executive Secretary. In the counties, Historical Committees are conducting the campaign.

Approximately 60,000 Marylanders were in the service. Many thousands have sent in their War Service Records to the Historical Division, but there are thousands who have not yet done so. The work must proceed until the Records are complete, and Governor Harrington has issued the following appeal to those who have not yet responded:

"I cannot too strongly urge every Marylander who served in the War to fill out a War Service Record for the State. Some may not appreciate the importance of this now, but in the years to come these Records will be of incalculable value. If you fail to send in your Record, some day you or your family will regret that your Record is not included in the State War History.

"The State of Maryland asks this of you, and it is your privilege as well as your duty to comply. The State is proud of the splendid service of its sons and daughters, and is undertaking, by great effort and at considerable expense, to compile these Records. Do not hinder and delay this work. You incur absolutely no obligation by filling out one of these Records.

"I am confident that no Marylander will fail in this duty to his State."

Of Interest To Former Naval Men. Because of the desire of many previous service men of the Navy to reenlist provided they can get credit for continuous service, which carries with it extra pay, the Navy Department announced through the Navy Recruiting Station here that service in the Reserve Force will bridge the interval, while not in the regular Navy, and maintain service as continuous. The Recruiting Station was notified that "men who have enrolled in the Fleet Naval Reserve within four months of the date of their discharge from the Regular Naval Service, shall, upon reenlistment in the Regular Naval Service, within four months of the date of discharge from the Fleet Naval Reserve, be entitled to the same gratuity and additional pay as if they reenlisted in the Regular Naval Service within four months of discharge therefrom."

A Chance to Save On Truck Costs

We offer you the opportunity to buy and use your truck tires on a scientific, minimum-cost basis.

We sell and recommend Goodyear Solid Truck Tires, Goodyear Cushion Truck Tires and Goodyear Pneumatic Cord Truck Tires—because we believe they are very good tires and do wear a long time.

And we select for you the exact type and size which will do your work cheapest.

Then we apply your tires properly—and with speed, so your equipment is out of service for the shortest possible time. We have plenty of parking space, a big hydraulic press, a workshop and trained men who know how to apply tires correctly.

Afterward, we make sure with periodic recorded inspections, that the tires you buy from us are getting a chance to serve as they should serve.

By preventing injuries from developing into tire failures, we help your tires to deliver the last mile of wear and so save you the ultimate cent of cost.

Why not ask us to send a representative who will explain to you this chance to save?

Still another victory for the S. H. S. soccer team, Pocomoke being defeated by the score of two to one on her home grounds. Last Wednesday afternoon under the leadership of Captain Bailey and Prof. Parsons of the faculty our never defeated soccer eleven journeyed to Pocomoke for the fifth game played this fall, the result making the fifth victory of the season. Mears and Reddish played a game that seemed made to order for Salisbury while Fifer starred for Pocomoke. After the game hot chocolate and cakes were served the players by the Domestic Science department of the Pocomoke school and the spirit of real sportsmanship was everywhere shown by the Pocomoke students. The next game will be played here on November 21. Come out and root for your team.

Last Friday, Mr. Todd, the new physical director of the S. Y. M. A. accompanied by Mr. McGuirk, came over and was introduced to the boys. He was enthusiastically received and gave a short speech asking for co-operation and assuring the boys he would do his best in their interests. Mr. McGuirk also spoke for a few minutes on "Pep" which was thoroughly enjoyed by the student body. Tomorrow there will be no school owing to the session of the County Teacher's association.

Reports were distributed through the school today and although some are disappointed, nevertheless many are wearing that satisfied smile which comes only with a good report.

TROOP 2 HIKES TO JOHNSON'S POND

Boy Scouts Are Given Fire Building And Cooking Tests In The Woods On Saturday Afternoon.

Saturday afternoon the Scouts of Troop No. 2 took a dandy hike up along Johnson's mill pond. They left the S. Y. M. A. at two o'clock returning at six in the evening. During that time some of the boys passed their fire building and cooking tests being a part of the requirements to become a second class scout.

In order to pass the fire building test a scout must prove his ability to build a fire in the open, using not more than two matches and building his fire of material as found in the woods, such as grass, twigs, branches and other dead wood which may be lying around. No Scout is allowed to mark or cut down any live trees found growing in the woods under penalty of being dismissed from all Scout activities. He does not wantonly destroy property.

In passing his cooking test for a second class scout, he must cook a quarter of a pound of meat and roast two potatoes in a fire. The meat must be some kind such as bacon, half smoked, broiled steak or some other kind of meat that does not require any cooking utensils, using only such sticks to hold the meat as are found in the woods.

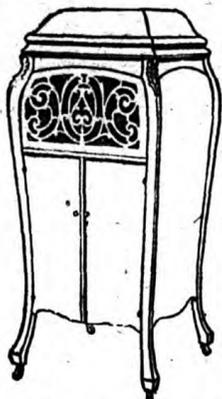

A half basket of sweet potatoes was found by the scoutmaster and each Scout was given a couple to roast and they sure did taste good. While on the hike the boys consumed two barrels of ginger snaps and every boy had plenty to eat before they left for home.

Each boy who passes these Saturday afternoon hikes is losing an afternoon of fun and wants to get busy and come along.

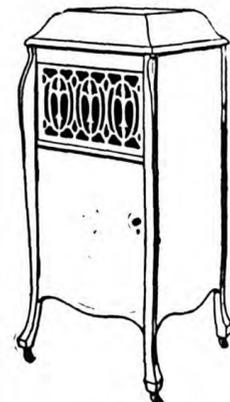

There is still room for four more boys in this Troop and after that will be required to wait until a new Troop is organized.

Everybody out next Saturday afternoon and bring your pal along and show him how the Scouts do things the Scout way.

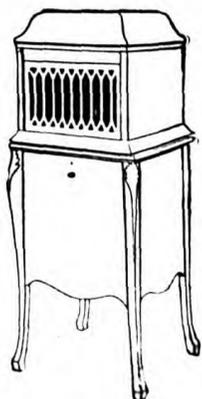

Upon their return the troop was marched to the S. Y. M. A. and dismissed. Before leaving they sang the Scout "Goodnight Song" and it sounded unusually good. Many favorable remarks were made by the pedestrians here and one man actually joined in the singing.

SADNESS REIGNS IN CITY BECAUSE OF DEATH OF AMERICAN SOLDIER

Shelby Shields, Co. I, U. S. A., Is Dead As Result Of A Wound He Received In Argonne Forest On October 14, 1918. Buried Tuesday.

GIVEN MILITARY FUNERAL.

There is sadness in the heart of a pretty little home at the corner of Walnut and Gay streets, there is sadness in the heart of every member of Co. I, there is sadness throughout the city, because of the death on Sunday morning of Shelby T. Shields, the 20 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Shields, at his home on Walnut and Gay streets.

Shelby Shields was a doughboy and saw service with Co. I of this city, in France. At 2 o'clock on the afternoon of October 14, 1918 he was wounded by a German machine gun bullet and after lying in a German prison camp for six weeks was finally returned to an American Red Cross hospital.

The bullet passed through one of the young man's lungs, and while he left the hospital apparently cured of his wound he failed to rally his usual strength. He returned to the United States on March 26, 1919, and became ill with pneumonia two weeks before his death. At the time he was stricken he was a student at the Pace and Pace and at the Georgetown universities in Washington. He was graduated at the Salisbury High school in 1916.

Death removed this young hero at noon on Sunday; and on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock he was buried from St. Francis' Roman Catholic church, with a military funeral given by his fellow members of Co. I, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Amos W. W. Woodcock. The pall bearers were those men who served in the same squad with young Shields, in France.

The deceased is survived by his parents, a brother, James F. Shields Jr., of New Mexico, and three sisters, the Misses Frances and Esther Shields and Mrs. Alex McCarthy, all of this city.

Col. Woodcock with whom Shields served in France said concerning this young man:

"He was as good a soldier as served the Stars and Stripes. He volunteered for service when but 18 years old and was efficient and loyal until he was sent home. We never had a better boy in the whole army than Shields. I remember him especially well because of his failure to complain of the hardships he was forced to endure and because of his ever readiness under all circumstances, to serve. In Shelby Shields the country has lost an excellent soldier and a good citizen."

According to Col. Woodcock, Shields received the wound which without doubt was the direct result of his death, in the Argonne forest.

"Shields was serving under Lieutenant Kinnear in the battalion of which I had command," said Col. Woodcock, "and it was a very bad day for all of us, that fateful October 14, 1918.

"Lieutenant Kinnear sent Shields to my headquarters with a message which he delivered. I sent him back to his company and it was while returning, that he received his wound. It was a very dark, foggy day in a very thickly wooded country. Shields seems to have lost his way and to have penetrated well beyond our very thin front line. It was beyond our line that he received his wound. That night we withdrew our line to the rear a distance of about 500 yards because a Virginia regiment which was to have come up to support us did not arrive. Not one of us knew what had happened to Shields; he was simply reported as 'missing in action.' We knew nothing of his whereabouts for some time, when we heard that he had been taken prisoner by the Germans. We can only assume that he was wounded by a machine gun bullet and was picked up by a German patrol and carried to a German hospital."

At the Shields home on Monday, his parents were unable to give any information concerning the action in which their son received his wound. They said that he was always reluctant to talk about the incident, and that he always said the Germans did as well for him as they could, in their military hospital.

It is a fact, though, as told by his parents, that the Germans failed to remove the bullet which wounded this brave American soldier, and that when he was finally removed to an American Red Cross hospital, his wound was greatly inflamed and the young man's condition very serious.

AMERICAN LEGION DANCE ON THURSDAY

Big Affair At The Armory on Thanksgiving Night Will Afford Entertainment For Old and Young.

Salisbury's customary Thanksgiving night dance will be given this year in the armory for the benefit of the American Legion. Through the kindness of Captain Colona the use of the armory is to be had for the occasion, rent free and the best available music has been engaged.

For those who do not dance, cards will be arranged for and it is hoped the people of Salisbury and vicinity will turn out in great numbers to enjoy a pleasant evening and to help along the local post of that great organization, the American Legion.

Tickets can be obtained at the stores of White and Leonard and of Dashiell Brothers.

The following well known Salisbury women have consented to act as the patronesses of the evening—Mesdames J. McF. Dick, G. H. Carpenter, H. S. Waller, R. D. Grier, A. D. Toadvin, E. S. Toadvin, S. A. Graham, A. J. Vanderbogart, M. A. Humphreys, John M. Toulson, J. Cleveland White, W. S. Gordy, Graham Gunby, J. A. Graham, Walter Sheppard, W. P. Jackson, Alan F. Benjamin, Harry Tull, S. King White, Misses Helen V. Wise, and Elizabeth Collier.

ENTERS THE NAVY AFTER THREE ATTEMPS

John W. Cavanaugh Finally Succeeds In Passing Navy Enlistment Examinations. Three Men Sailed.

John W. Cavanaugh, of Salisbury, has successfully passed the physical examination after three attempts. Last February Cavanaugh was examined by a travel recruiting party from Baltimore, but was five pounds underweight.

Cavanaugh's father wanted his son in the Navy, so he sent him to Baltimore in October to be examined along with 10 other Salisbury boys. Out of the 11 only one man failed to pass the examination, but Cavanaugh happened to be the unlucky man, for he could not pick out the different colors.

This week, Cavanaugh appeared at the Navy Recruiting station, 125 E. Baltimore street, for the third examination, and this time passed the examination successfully, and enlisted as fireman for machinist's mate.

The following young men from Salisbury also successfully passed the examination for entrance into the U. S. Navy this week: Charles Davis, Arthur Fitzgerald, Charles Matthews.

AMERICAN CIGAR CO'S SALISBURY FACTORY IS NOW IN OPERATION

Practically 50 Local Women Are Now At Work In City's Newest Industrial Enterprise. Operators Will Soon Be Earning Good Wages.

BRIGHT, CLEAN, SANITARY PLANT.

Salisbury's newest industrial enterprise, the Salisbury factory of the Seidenburg Co. branch of the American Cigar company, began operations on Wednesday morning of last week with approximately 50 employees, and on Tuesday of this week it was said at the factory, that the number of operators is being increased daily.

It is doubtful if there is in the city a more sanitary, better lighted, or cleaner place offering employment to women; and those employed at the plant now, seem cheerful and well contented.

As those learners already employed become proficient, new learners will be taken on, until there are employed in the Salisbury branch, approximately 200 people. When that time arrives, the American Cigar company will spend in Salisbury in pay rolls alone $2,000 or more weekly, according to the grade of cigars made here; and the grade of the product will depend largely upon the ability of the help.

At the present time the payroll is about $500 a week. No operator will ever earn less than $6.50 for her first week's effort and during her second third and fourth weeks of the learning period, she will be paid $7, $7.50,

ALL IS READY FOR K. O. P. ENTERTAINMENT

Program For Night Of November 21, Provides For Good Dancing, Music And Motion Pictures.

Great interest is being shown in the Knights of Pythias entertainment to be staged at the Arcade theatre, Friday evening, November 21. The program as shown below will prove exceedingly entertaining.

Several solo and duet fancy dances will be rendered by Misses Mary and Henrietta Sommerkamp. Their dancing has received the highest praise from the press of their former homes.

The Bayonet, the official newspaper publication of Camp Lee, Va., under date of March 21, 1919, in a laudatory article referring to "Till Say So," an elaborate musical revenue put on under the auspices and direction of the officers of Camp Lee at the Academy of Music at both Petersburg and Richmond, Va., and at the Liberty theatre at Camp Lee and Camp Eustis, thus referred to the dancing of the young lady whose picture appears elsewhere in this paper, "Miss Sommerkamp proved to be one of the evening's revelations in her wonderful dance interpretations. One is reminded ever so much of Anna Pavlova's much heralded "Swan Dance" when viewing Miss Sommerkamp in action."

The male chorus of the Salisbury Young Men's association will make its first public appearance and the singing of these young men will undoubtedly enthuse and delight the audience.

The vocal solo to be rendered by Mrs. Horace M. Clark will be a rare and delightful treat and is looked forward to with much pleasure.

William Wedelin will render a violin solo. His wonderful skill and technique will, as always, charm his hearers.

A Salisbury audience will again have the great pleasure, on this occasion, of hearing Percy Dashiell sing, as he has consented to render a solo Friday evening.

Charles M. Paul of Cambridge, will also render a delightful vocal solo. He has the reputation of being a splendid singer.

The Bethesda quartet, composed of William A. Sheppard, Fred P. Adkins, C. Edgar Laws and Harry C. Adkins, will sing. This splendid male quartet is recognized as an honor and a credit to Salisbury. A music loving public awaits this opportunity to again pay them tribute. William A. Sheppard will also sing a solo. To miss the pleasure of listening to this song will be a distinct loss.

There will be a humorous reading by Mr. F. M. Sommerkamp.

LOCAL BRANCH OF THE Y. W. C. A. MAY SOON BE ESTABLISHED HERE

City's Representative Women Discuss Plans For Providing Working Women And Girls With Attractive Living Conditions In This City On Tuesday.

TWO VISITING SECRETARIES HERE.

It is more than probable that within the near future, steps will be taken to establish and maintain in Salisbury, a branch of the Young Women's Christian association, an organization which in 13 different countries is doing for working women and girls what the Y. M. C. A. is doing for men and boys.

On Tuesday of this week Miss Helen Ross and Miss Gertrude Marvin, recently returned from France where they were secretaries of the Y. W. C. A., visited Salisbury and discussed the nature of the work being done in this country by the association, with a large committee of Salisbury's most representative women citizens.

THREE SOCCER GAMES HERE THIS WEEK

Pocomoke, Berlin and Delmar Eleven Are The Visitors. Series With Worcester Champs Next Week.

Salisbury and Pocomoke High schools met on the local soccer field yesterday afternoon, but the contest was not finished in time to give the results in this week's News. Delmar plays here today (Thursday) and Berlin, the champion team of Worcester county plays here tomorrow.

The first of a series of three games to decide the championship between Wicomico and Worcester counties will be played here next week, and the first of a series with Chesapeake City will be played during the following week.

The Wicomico News Publishing Co. Incorporated

Board of Directors Organized At A Meeting Held A Few Days Ago. Will Be Non-Partisan Paper.

The News Publishing Company which recently took over the business of the Brewington Bros. Co. of this city including The Wicomico News, was organized a few nights ago in this city. This new concern will control the policy of The Wicomico News and the business of the Brewington Bros. Company for the future. The new organization is composed of a company of the best known young business men of Salisbury, and it is proposed to make the News Publishing Company one of the largest enterprises of its kind in the State. As soon as the full plans of the new concern are developed, it will probably mean a removal of the plant of the News Company from its present location to a larger site somewhere on the street where added facilities can be arranged for to take care of the increasing business.

The following gentlemen were elected directors of the new concern: F. P. Adkins, President; E. Dale Adkins, Vice-President; Walter J. Brewington, Secretary; Miss A. V. Johnson, Treasurer; W. S. Gordy, Jr., Graham Gunby, A. F. Benjamin, H. W. Ruark, Augustus Toadvine, A. W. W. Woodcock, Dr. E. Riall White, R. Harry Phillips, Oscar L. Morris, E. D. Mitchell, and W. S. Sheppard.

The Executive Committee of the organization is as follows: F. P. Adkins, W. J. Brewington, W. S. Gordy, Jr., H. W. Ruark and A. W. W. Woodcock. Mr. E. T. Johnston has been secured to take charge of the editorial work of the paper and will give a part of his time each week until after January 1st, when he will probably take complete charge of the business. Mr. Johnston is an experienced newspaper man having had many years of newspaper work in Connecticut and during the past two or three years has been editor and proprietor of the Ledger-Enterprise of Pocomoke. He comes to Salisbury especially recommended and will no doubt make many improvements in the typographical errors of the paper and will keep it up to its usual high standard, editorially and otherwise.

As stated on several occasions, the Wicomico News will be published as a strictly independent newspaper, always alive to the best interests of Salisbury and will continue as its leading booster of the city as it has been all during the years the Brewington Company had charge of the business.

It is a fact that Salisbury already has five large manufacturing industries which employ girls and women, and that within the near future another large concern will employ about 200 female workers.

It is also a fact that a great number of these working women and girls are not residents of Salisbury, but are persons whose homes are in other places and who live in furnished rooms and boarding houses here.

Salisbury has no places of amusement or recreation especially adapted or designed for these women, and up to this time, so far as is known, no step has been taken toward supplying this ever growing need.

This city is fast becoming an industrial center and as such will continue more and more to give employment to women and girls. In order that the city may be in a position to furnish new industries with the help they will need from time to time, it will be necessary that it be placed in a position to offer to the people who will be employed here, attractions and facilities equal to those other large places with which it is fast becoming a real competitor.

The Y. W. C. A. in other industrial centers offers proper living quarters for employed women, clean and healthful recreations, night study courses, religious recreation and training in a din fact gives to its members a homelike existence in the midst of their industrial activities.

Some time ago the plan for the organization of a Salisbury branch of the Y. W. C. A. was discussed by a number of Salisbury's women with the result that Miss Louise Tilghman was appointed a committee to investigate local conditions and also to look into the adaptability of this city to Y. W. C. A. work. The result of Miss Tilghman's activities was the visit in this city on Tuesday of Miss Ross and Miss Marvin who met with a group of the city's leading women, and the great possibility of a woman's "Y" association being established here in the near future.

Committee Reports Unfavorably On Matter Of Paving East Elizabeth Street At Meeting Monday.

At the meeting of the City Council on Monday night, building permits were granted as follows:

To L. W. Gunby company for alterations to store on the west side of South Division street. To Morris Company for the construction of a loading dock on Mill street. To W. J. Fields for the construction of a garage on West Locust street. To the Wicomico Motor Car Co. for an addition to its building on Camden street.

The committee appointed at the previous meeting to inspect the condition of East Elizabeth street with the view of improving that street, reported unfavorably on the proposition and its report was accepted.

FIRE DESTROYS BUILDING, MONDAY

Fire practically destroyed the store and dwelling occupied by L. A. Hall at the intersection of Fooks and Locust streets at about 6.30 o'clock p. m. on Monday. The cause of the blaze is unknown. The firemen responded promptly to the call and succeeded in saving a part of the stock of merchandise. The loss is said to be estimated at about $4,000, partly covered by insurance.

MAYOR AND COUNCIL ORDERS INQUIRY INTO ELECTRIC SCHEDULE

City Solicitor Instructed To File Application For Hearing Before Public Service Commission.

NEW METHOD OF CALCULATION SOMEWHAT PUZZLING TO THE PUBLIC IS SAID TO BE NOW IN USE BY MOST ELECTRIC CONCERNS IN THE COUNTRY AND WILL PROBABLY BE THE STANDARD METHOD OF CHARGES FOR THE FUTURE.

At a meeting of the City Council last week, the City Solicitor was instructed to file with the Public Service Commission a petition for a hearing on the new rates put into effect by the Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Company for its Salisbury customers. These rates were effective November 1st, and while customers have not been able to tell what the effect on their monthly bills will be because the service has not been in effect a month, the Mayor and Council are taking the matter up so as to have it threshed out before the Public Service Commission within the time specified by law in which a complaint may be entered for increases in rates by the Public Service Commission. As this matter is likely to be a very live one in this community, we take this occasion to give to our readers a copy of a letter issued by the Company to its customers the latter part of October. The letter reads in part as follows:

The new schedules change the basis of charge for electric service from a straight sliding scale kilowatt hour rate to a rate based on "load factor." Under the new rates the charge per kilowatt hour is dependent upon the hours use of the connected load—that is, the period that the lights or motors are used during the month. The new rates represent an average increase of approximately ten per cent (10 per cent). A customer can, however, by increasing his usage of current, secure a lower rate per kilowatt hour.

The necessity for increased revenue is, we believe, readily seen when it is considered that during the past three years costs of operation have increased enormously—in fact, our costs of coal have increased 100 per cent, our oil 100 per cent, taxes 20 per cent, and our labor 100 per cent. These increases are in addition to the fact that our products 100 per cent and our overheads 25 per cent.

Most businesses have passed the full cost of their operation on to their customers; we have only increased our charges an average of 25 per cent, assuming the balance of the increased expense our customers bear.

Why, then, is the schedule of charges for electricity in this city based on an entirely different plan from the old straight meter rates, and may be somewhat puzzling to the uninitiated.

...by multiplying the number of rooms in the house by the number of kilowatt hours per room. Each room shall be at the rate specified for the first block.

"All current used each month in excess of the number of kilowatt hours in the first block and up to six kilowatt hours per room shall be computed at the rate specified for the second block.

"All current used each month in excess of six kilowatt hours per hour shall be computed at the rate specified for the third block.

"The number of rooms taken shall be the total number of rooms in the house, excluding only the cellar or basement, all halls in excess of one, porches, unfurnished attics, and unwired rooms.

"In no event will the number of kilowatt hours to be figured at the first rate be taken as less than ten (10).

"Minimum—A minimum monthly charge of One ($1.25) Dollar and Twenty-five Cents will be made for each and every meter installed upon the customer's premises.

"Example—Your bill under the new rates will be calculated as follows: Multiply the number of rooms in your home (excluding cellar, all halls in excess of one, porches, unfurnished attics and unwired hours) by three to determine the number of kilowatt hours in the first block. If your home contains six rooms, the first block is 18 or 18 kilowatt hours. The second block is also 18 kilowatt hours. The third block is all consumption in excess of the first and second blocks which in this case would be all over 36 kilowatt hours per month.

"If your consumption during the month is 45 K W H, your bill will be computed as follows:

First block 18 K W H @ 15c per K W H. $2.70; Second block, 18 K W H @ 12c per K W H. $2.16; Third block, 9 K W H @ 8c per K W H. 72c. Total 45 K W H. $5.58"

"Rate—Fifteen Cents per kilowatt hour for the first block.

Twelve Cents per kilowatt hour for the second block.

Eight Cents per kilowatt hour for the third block.

"Demand—The number of kilowatt hours in the first block shall be determined by multiplying the number of rooms in the house by the number of kilowatt hours per room. Each room shall be at the rate specified for the first block.

"All current used each month in excess of the number of kilowatt hours in the first block and up to six kilowatt hours per room shall be computed at the rate specified for the second block.

90 Coats $59.50 each Worth $69.50 to $85.00

Immense Purchase of Winter Coats

Just when nippy days are due and every one is in need of a new coat we made a phenomenal purchase of the most up to date coats obtainable. All are silk lined and a good many have fur collars. These coats were formerly sold from $69.50 to $85.00. None of these can be duplicated. One of our most prominent manufacturers had 90 coats left and we just took the lot, at a very special price. Remember this is not a reduction sale of coats from our stocks, but simply a lucky strike Mr. Benjamin made while in New York and we are going to give you the benefit of it. We are going to put this lot of Coats on Sale on Friday morning, November 21st at $59.50. While there are 90 of these coats, they will not last long at this price. Other coats, $18.00 to $150.00.

If its a suit you want instead of a coat, we can fit you.

During this sale of coats we are going to put on sale 22 suits that sold for $59.50, and $79.50 at $49.50.

These suits were just bought and are remnants of manufacturers stocks. None can be duplicated at anywhere near the price we are selling them for. They are all one of a kind, sizes 16, 18 and 20. Colors: tan, several shades of reindeer, brown and navy. Materials: Tricotine, Silvertone, Velour and Tinseltone, and the price $49.50. Worth from $59.50 to $69.50. Don't miss this opportunity.

Other suits $25.00 to $115.00.

Millinery Special

$10.95

Former Price $15.00.

We made a special buy of Hatters Plush hats in about six different shapes. These were sold earlier in the season for $15.00, but this special purchase will enable us to sell them for $10.95.

It is not very often that you strike an opportunity like this.

We have gotten in several new things in satin hats and the fur hats. They await your inspection.

New Dresses of Velvet, Velour, Tricotine and Silk.

If you intend getting a new dress for Thanksgiving you surely must see these new dresses. They are all new models just come in, and they are the latest New York manufacturers are showing. They are priced special for this week. Velvet dresses, $29.50 and $35.00. Worth $35.00 and $45.00. Velour dresses $29.50, $35.00, and $39.50.

Tricotine dresses, $29.50, $35.00, $42.50 and $49.50.

Serge dresses, $16.95 to $23.50.

Silk Dresses, $16.95 to $50.00. Worth $25.00 to $69.50.

Thanksgiving Linens Special

We can offer you some unusual values in table linens. Some of these goods were bought three years ago and they cannot be duplicated for anywhere near their price.

Table damask 50c to $1.75 yd.

Table linen, $1.95 to $5.00 yd.

Napkins, $1.25 to $14.00 dozen.

S. Y. M. ASSOCIATION SECRETARY RESIGNS

L. J. Nash Has Done Much To Make Success Of Salisbury's Most Popular Organization.

Mr. Nash was selected by the board of directors at the time the building was opened six months ago. Mr. Nash performed a wonderful work in building up the present organization and membership of the association. The association has today approximately 400, composed of both young and old, and it was only through the untiring efforts of our friend Nash, and when we say friend we mean that he was a friend of every true man who came in contact with him, especially the boys in this community who soon realized that Mr. Nash had their interests at heart, and that his first work was to give the boys a place and an opportunity to participate and enjoy what the building had to offer in the way of amusements and athletics. We understand that Mr. Nash has associated himself with a large corporation and will spend the winter months in Florida. It is indeed with sincere regret we learn of Mr. Nash's resignation and we hope that success and happiness will follow him in any work that he might take up or wherever he may be.

Mr. Nash has been succeeded by Charles D. Todd of Springfield, Mass. Mr. Todd has devoted many years to athletic and organization work. He is a graduate of the Y. M. C. A. college in Springfield and the Salisbury Association is indeed fortunate in obtaining the services of a man so well qualified for the local work.

Wicomico County Club of Maryland State College

What Our Boys Are Doing To Make This College A Real Maryland University.

The students of Maryland State College, whose homes are in Wicomico county, Maryland, met on the third floor of Morrill Hall, Maryland State College, October 20, 1919. They elected officers necessary for the maintenance of a club, and effected a working organization, that will begin at once, to show the people of Wicomico county, the need of such a formation. The purpose of such a club is to promote the interest of Maryland State college, by propaganda, through the medium of county newspapers, in the county of Wicomico.

The most urgent need of this college at present is the passing by the state legislature, of the appropriation bill presented by President Woods. The building program forms the most important provision of the budget, and provides for the filling of a number of long felt needs.

The people of Maryland must realize that Maryland State is a college run on a university basis and needs their co-operation and needs it greatly. In order to maintain the standard of a university certain material acquisitions are necessary for a college of its size. It wants a chance to make the best of the opportunities which confront it. Do the people of Maryland realize that we have more students than we have room for at the present time and expect many more in the coming year.

The only reward which she can give in return to the people of the country is a nobler, purer and more intelligent manhood and womanhood.

A WORK WHICH SHOULD RECEIVE THE SUPPORT OF OUR PEOPLE.

In making a contract with one of our leading physicians to administer Typhoid Fever serum to all the school children and citizens of Wicomico county free of charge, the County Commissioners are doing a piece of constructive work which should receive the commendation of the entire community. Unfortunately, Wicomico county has not had the very best reputation regarding Typhoid fever cases in the past, but a few months work of this character performed a few years ago through the Rockefeller Foundation did much to stamp out Typhoid fever in all sections of the county. That work was so effective as to lower the number of Typhoid cases in the past year in all the communities of the county to the smallest level ever known for the past 25 years. It is therefore, hoped that this second campaign will effectually stamp out Typhoid fever as a menace to the health of our citizenship and we believe this will be the case provided the people will enter into this work with the determination to see that the children as well as the grown-ups of every community takes the treatment. It has been arranged that the treatment shall be given at the schoolhouses in every school district and while the doctor is at these schoolhouses, the people of the neighborhood can also get the treatment free of charge.

The future health and prosperity of the large section of this county will depend on whether or not our people respond to the request of the County Commissioners that everybody aid in getting this work thoroughly done after it is started around January 1st, and if we all do our duty, we feel sure that next summer and fall will see Typhoid fever practically wiped out in Wicomico county.

A FIGHT IN COURT NOT ALWAYS ADVISABLE.

It seems rather unfortunate that the Mayor and Council should have ordered the City Solicitor to enter a protest with the Public Service Commission of Maryland regarding the new electric charges for this city without first going into the merits of the new schedule with the officials of the Electric company. A year or so ago, the Mayor and Council instituted proceedings before the Public Service Commission in an effort to keep the Salisbury Light, Heat & Power Company from making a minimum charge for electric service here and also asked for a review of their schedule rates which involved an Engineer's report on the capitalization of the Company and after a desperate fight before the Public Service Commission, the Company was sustained in every point and the city got no relief, but at the same time, it caused the Electric company an added expense of several thousand dollars in protecting their case before the Commission. At this hearing, it was definitely proven that the Salisbury Light, Heat and Power Company was doing business in Salisbury practically at a loss and the rates they filed at that time could have been made very much higher and sustained by the Public Service Commission had the Company desired to do so.

It is the general opinion that this case will turn out about like the one fought out sometime ago, and that the only result of the controversy will be an added expense to the Electric company in attorneys' fees and expenses which simply adds to the burden of the operators which must eventually be cared for in some way either by another raise of rates or a more liberal contract on the part of the city with the Company when the present city lighting contract expires. The fact is that no public service company in Maryland is able to get away with any excessive charges for public service so long as the Public Service Commission is in existence. To our minds, it is therefore, always best before rushing into a public hearing before the Public Service Commission for the city fathers to find out all the circumstances surrounding the necessity for higher rates for such public service as electricity, gas, telephone, water rents, etc. Every business man knows, as well as every private citizen that public service companies are at a decided disadvantage in every locality throughout the United States, laboring as they are under the existing circumstances. None of these companies have advanced their rates in the same proportion as other lines of business have been advanced notwithstanding the fact that everything which enters into the production of all these public necessities have increased in many cases much more than have the expenses in any other line of business. Simply because a corporation is furnishing public service to a community is no reason why it should not receive the same fair treatment as if private enterprises were being dealt with and while the interest of all communities should receive the protection of the municipal authorities at all times, there should also be a willingness on the part of public officials to give the companies a fair hearing and as fair treatment as other business enterprises in the same community receive.

It is conservatively estimated that the overhead charges of all public service corporations doing business in this community have increased as much as 200 to 300 per cent. during the past four years, and yet, none of these companies have advanced their rates with the single exception of the Telephone Company in any such appreciable way as their expenses have increased. Therefore, they are entitled to a fair hearing at home before they are put to the added expense of having to fight a long drawn case before the Public Service Commission of the State which costs the company thousands of dollars unnecessarily.

Every advance which has been made in the price of electricity and gas in this city has been accompanied by a fair statement to the public, showing just where the excessively high prices for raw materials, labor, etc., have caused the raise and as we said above, none of the new schedules for public service has in any manner kept pace with the added expense to the corporations in doing business under the existing circumstances. It would therefore, have seemed much fairer to all concerned, if before ordering the City Solicitor to docket this case before the Public Service Commission, the Mayor and Council had at least given the Company the opportunity of a hearing before them in which all the facts might have been laid before the City authorities so plainly and convincingly that it would not have been necessary to put the company to the added expense of defending itself before the Commission.

ELAM K. WOODOTH

Wants Your
HOLLY WREATHS AND MISTLETOE.
He wanted it last year, and got it, and it is a matter of record that he paid more money to the shippers than any other man in the business. The past 15 years he has been receiving Holly Wreaths, Box Holly and other greens from this section and invariably has paid the shippers more money than any other firm in the business.
If you want any information, ask him; he will tell you and tell you the truth. When he says "Don't ship any Greens before the 5th or 6th of December," he knows what he is talking about. The Railroad Company will not allow the goods to remain in the depot and as there is no trade for Greens before December 10th, why ship them until it is time for them to be sold.
Prices were high last year, but all indications point to higher prices this year, and Mr. Woodoth is the man to get the high prices for the shippers.
Quite a few jobbers will be around to see you and want to buy your Wreaths, or whatever you have to sell, but if you are wise you will stick to the Old Reliable Merchant who has always made good. When the time comes which is December 5th or 6th, start all your shipments to —N. H. Fooks of Preston, son of George Fooks of Salisbury came home to visit with his father on Sunday. Mr. Fooks made the 41 mile trip from Preston to this city in an aeroplane in 30 minutes. His pilot returned immediately in the plane, and Mr. Fooks returned in an automobile on Sunday night.

—A Post Office department representative is in the city looking into the proposed lease of suitable premises for post office purposes in Salisbury. Those interested should call on the postmaster for full particulars as to specifications, requirements, etc., or write George W. Lumpkin, Post Office Inspector, Hampton, Va., who will accept bids up to and including December 15th, 1919.

—Joshua Baker, and Miss Fanny Ruth Gordy, were quietly married early last Wednesday morning at the M. P. parsonage, by Rev. Richard L. Shipley in the presence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Stella Phillips of Delmar, and Joshua Holloway and Miss Lena Farlow of Salisbury. The young couple left after the ceremony for a wedding trip to northern cities.

—Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Willing, of Bivalve, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Susie Alberta, to R. Mark White. The wedding took place last Wednesday. Mr. White is treasurer for Somerset county and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. White, of Mount Vernon district. Mr. and Mrs. White who are on a wedding trip will reside in Princess Anne after December 1st.

—The Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Company has just closed a five-year contract for the lighting of the city of Cambridge, Maryland, with electricity. It is understood this new contract provides for considerable additional lighting in Cambridge and that the Mayor and Council of that city proposes to make Cambridge one of the best lighted cities on the Eastern Shore.

—The "Canary Garret" tea room operated in the Woodcock & Webb building by the Misses Rider, Nealy and Humphreys, was opened to the patronage of the public on Tuesday. The "Garret" is open every week day at the noon hour for the serving of tea, sandwiches, salads, etc., and it is quite probable that a little later, it will be kept open at least two evenings in each week.

—Reports from country districts are to the effect that turkeys are more plentiful this fall than for many years and already, farmers are soliciting orders for Thanksgiving deliveries to residents of this city. The prices for the birds have not yet been fixed but according to the prevailing prices on other fowl, turkeys should be much cheaper this fall than they were last year. Another reason for the fowl not selling so high is the fact that the Government will not be in the market for the hundreds of thousands of turkeys as they have been for the past three years.

HIGGINS—SMITH.

—Miss Alice Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Higgins of Poplar Hill avenue and Walnut street, and Major Clifford Smith of Allen were married on Tuesday night at 11 o'clock at the Higgins home by the Rev. R. A. Boyle of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Smith left on the midnight train for northern points where they will remain for a fortnight.

RED CROSS PLANS FOR BUSY WINTER

With The United Charities, It Will Work To Relieve Suffering Among Poor Of Wicomico County.

An idea of the volume of work to be done in this county this year by the Home Service department of the American Red Cross may be arrived at when it is stated that since November 6th, 17 calls for assistance have been filed with the United Charities of Salisbury, which is working in co-operation with the Home Service branch. The 17 poor families which have already asked for assistance, include 59 children, ranging from two to 14 years old.

Almost as rapidly as applications for help are filed they are being investigated by Mrs. Norman C. Stiles, who is in charge of the social service branch of the work, and help is given in cases where it is shown that help is really needed.

That the Red Cross workers of this city and county are planning really to be the "Greatest Mother in the World" is shown by the fact that Miss Margaret Laws, daughter of James H. Laws of the Wango section and granddaughter of Levi Laws of Camden avenue, this city, has been engaged as a community visiting nurse and that she is already ministering to the wants of the sick and the needy.

Miss Laws has but recently returned from France where as a Red Cross nurse, she gave excellent service to sick and wounded soldiers. She is a registered nurse, having graduated from the University of Maryland, Nurses' Training school.

Miss Laws will almost immediately begin a campaign of education along lines of personal hygiene and sanitary living, in the public schools of the county, and in cases where such instruction is needed she will visit in homes and instruct young mothers in the proper care and feeding of infants and young children.

In its campaign against tuberculosis Miss Walls, representing the local Red Cross, will be in close touch with the state's Health board from which she will receive every possible assistance.

While the war was being waged in Europe, the local Red Cross organization devoted its each and every effort to the care of American and allied fighting men; but now that the war is over, the energies of the organization are to be devoted to the welfare of the people of Wicomico county.

But, even while the organization was working for the boys "over there" there was a great deal of local work done as well. This is shown by the fact that within the last two or three years it sent 13 Wicomico county boys to the Maryland School for Boys at Rock Raven, and placed 56 orphan children in good Wicomico homes for the Maryland Children's Aid society. In addition, several feeble minded children were placed in the care of the Rosewood State Training school.

The organization has two standing committees at present. These are the Nursing committee of which Miss Helen Wise is the chairman, and the Social Service committee of which Miss Louise Tighman is the head. F. W. Webb is the chairman of the Home Service department of the local Red Cross organization.

TOYLAND

This Week

SECOND FLOOR

We have set aside our entire second floor (East building) for the display of toys—where Santa will hold supreme for the next few weeks.

This toy business has grown from a small venture several years ago, until now it is the largest toy business in this city.

TOYS OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS ARE SHOWN—SOME FOR THE FIRST TIME.

All manner of toys and gim-cracks are shown for the holidays—and many a child will be made happy at the sight of them.

We feel like we are doing the youngsters a good turn when we have enlarged so upon this toy business of ours—and they are welcome at all times, to visit this menagerie of good animals and all the fine things that are on display.

COME EARLY—COME OFTEN—BRING THE KIDDIES.

This invitation is extended to the grown-ups also. One can not but be a "Kid" again for a little while. It will do you good to see the excitement of the little tots and their exclamations of delight, when they gaze upon this wonderful array of toys.

INCLUDED IN THE DISPLAY ARE TOYS FOR TOTS OF ALL AGES, FROM THE INFANT TO THE LARGER CHILD.

TOYS PRICED FROM AS LOW AS 10c UP TO $25.00 and $30.00, INCLUDE Automobiles, Sleds, Express Wagons, Desks, Kiddie Cars, Rocking Horses, Games, Puzzles, Books, Iron Toys, China and Pewter Play Dishes, Stationary Engines, Lead Soldiers, Pianos, Drums, Horns, Trick Horses, Dolls and many, many others that are just as interesting.

SOME OBSERVATIONS OF THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Another Veteran Of Civil War Dies At Advanced Age Of 86 Years.

FEW OF OLD FIGHTING MEN OF NORTH ARE NOW LEFT HERE.

One By One, They Have Answered The Roll Call On The Other Shore.

Some Recollections Of Their Organization Of Years Ago.

There died in Salisbury last week another of the old war veterans in the person of Mr. John W. Windsor. Mr. Windsor had reached the advanced age of 86 years and was one of our oldest citizens. He had been a resident of Salisbury for many years and could recollect when the city was a very much smaller place than it is now. In fact, Mr. Windsor could well remember when it was a mere village numbering but a few hundred inhabitants and occupying but a small place in the commercial activity of this peninsula.

In the death of Mr. Windsor, the ranks of the remaining war veterans of this community is fast thinning out, and today, there are left only a mere handful of those men who fought with the Northern army against the Southland. Those who still remain among the old war veterans are all at very advanced ages and it will be but a comparatively short time when taps will be sounded and the last camp-fire will be extinguished with these veterans. Prior to the last big conflagration in this city in 1886, the John P. Owens camp, Grand Army veterans had a very flourishing encampment in a building that stood at the corner of Main and Division streets exactly on the spot where now the pretentious building of The Wicomico News stands. At that time the membership was large, and the post was in a flourishing condition. The fire destroyed the building in which the post was located and also all the effects and paraphernalia of the members causing a serious loss from which the post was a long time in recovering. Through the efforts of Mr. John P. Owens, who was then postmaster here, sufficient money was collected from the other Grand Army posts throughout the United States to secure eight men: five for the Medical corps and three for the Engineers.

quarters in the present Graham building, which was constructed shortly after the fire and for many years, these old veterans enjoyed their reunions and were especially active on Memorial day occasions, when every grave of Union veterans not only in Salisbury, but throughout Wicomico county were always remembered on Decoration day.

The post finally disintegrated because of the death of the members year by year until there were not sufficient number to fill the offices and keep the organization together, and for the past six or eight years, no ceremonies of any character have been held here on Decoration day presided over by the men of the Grand Army post. The death of Mr. Windsor last week removed one of the oldest remaining members, and but a few of his comrades are still on this side of the firing line.

The formation of the new Honor Roll in this city known as the American Legion will take the places of these old veterans in many a Memorial day's service to be held in the future, and it is noticeable that some of the leading spirits in the new organization are the sons and relatives of some of these old veterans who fought the battles of the Union back in the '60's but who have now answered the last roll call of the regiment.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL RECRUITING STATION

The local recruiting station has just received instructions that men with following qualifications will be enlisted for service with an Engineer company for use in railway operation and maintenance in France and Germany: Roundhouse foreman, dispatchers, locomotive engineers and firemen, conductors, brakemen, yardmasters, station agents, telegraph operators, machinists, boiler makers, blacksmiths, pipemen, pumpmen, towermen and switchmen. This is an excellent chance for men to see Germany and France and other parts of Europe while on leave over there.

The traveling recruiting party, which was with us for a few days last Sunday for Baltimore, via Dover and Wilmington. They met with very good success while enroute, having secured eight men: five for the Medical corps and three for the Engineers.

The following men were accepted at the Salisbury office last week: Clifton Gray for Infantry and Frank Cardwell for Coast Artillery.

E. S. SOCIETY ELECTS S. K. DENNIS ITS HEAD

U. S. District Attorney Is Now President Of Baltimore's Eastern Shore Society. Business Meeting Held.

United States District Attorney Samuel K. Dennis, of the Worcester County chapter of the Eastern Shore Society of Baltimore City, has been selected for president of the society and was elected at the annual business meeting yesterday. At a recent meeting of the board of governors, acting as a nominating committee, Mr. Dennis was selected as president to succeed W. Thomas Kemp, of the Talbot County chapter, and John H. K. Shannahan, also of the Talbot chapter, who has been secretary of the society since its formation, to succeed himself. The annual business meeting for the election of officers for 1920, receiving the annual reports and suggested changes in the constitution and by-laws will be held at the Hotel Renner.

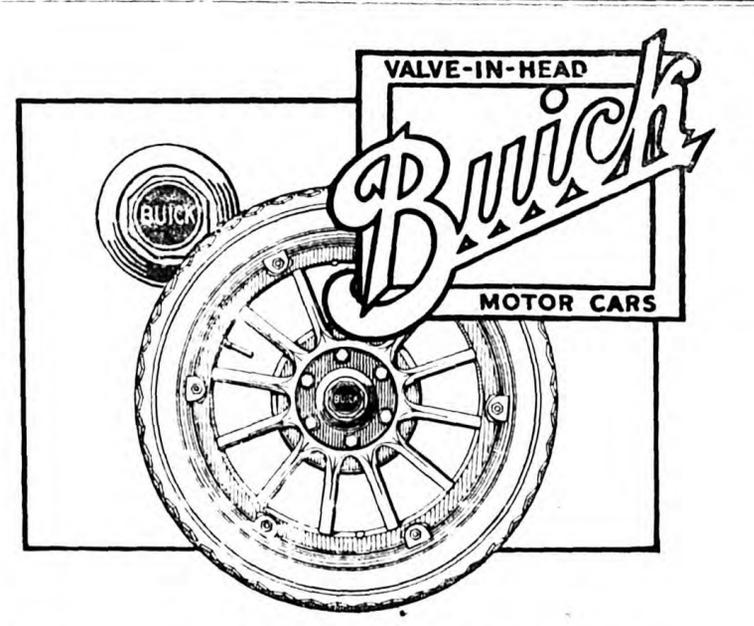

On Saturday Mr. Shannahan, who is chief of the order and shipping department of the Maryland plant of the Bethlehem Steel corporation will entertain the society at an oyster roast in the grove adjoining the plant at Sparrows Point, after being the guide of the members on a tour of inspection of the property.

Only A Cold.

Are you ill, is often answered—"Oh! It's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start with a cold. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears, take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less the danger, and this remedy will help you to throw it off.

ATTACKS, DEFENDS AND ATTACKS AGAIN

Local Engineer Disagrees With "Man About Town." But After All Seems In Accord With Him.

By Wm. W. Wilson, News Editor.

Another in a long line of the 24th ultimatum "Man About Town" concerning the proposed concrete mill dam at Tony Park and Allen casts serious reflections upon the engineering profession, that I cannot allow to pass unchallenged. In the first place, he advances the rather broad statement that old timber mill-dams of the type familiar to our grand-sires have proved far superior to our most modern achievements in concrete engineering, but that is a bit of persiflage scarcely worthy of refutation.

It is not my present intention to either defend or criticize the State Roads commission or the engineering talent responsible for the design and construction of these local dams; but I must admit that their ideas and methods, as indicated, are not in accord with the best modern engineering practice. In fact, the reputed failure of 35 bridges and dams in the state of Maryland during the summer of 1919 alone, should be evidence enough for any logical thinking man that the engineering staff of the State Roads commission is sadly in need of a house-cleaning.

Less of politics and a little more intelligence exhibited in the selection of municipal and state officials, supplemented by better salaries to engineering employees as a class, would attract thoroughly educated, practical thinking engineers of experience to these positions of trust. Recent college graduates and practical "rule of thumb" men (without the essential technical training) are the only two classes of engineers (?) who are ever attracted by the paltry eighteen hundred or two thousand a year salaries positions usually offered.

COUNTY HAS 32 CASES OF TYPHOID

Thirteen of These Have Been In Salisbury Since January 1. Scourge Can Easily Be Eliminated.

It should be of interest to the people of Wicomico county to know that up to the present time this year, 32 cases of typhoid fever have been reported. Of these cases, 13 were in the city limits of Salisbury. One is impressed by the fact that during the months July to October inclusive, 23 cases were reported. These are the months when flies are most prevalent and it is clearly indicated the part flies play in the transmission of the disease. Just so long as the people of Salisbury and of Wicomico county are content to allow thousands of open privies to exist with flies going from them to the food in the kitchens and dining-rooms typhoid fever and other forms of intestinal diseases are going to take a toll of lives and thousands of dollars each year.

The best way to cure this evil is to make every home and outhouse clean and sanitary; but the majority of the people seem averse to this. The next best thing is to inoculate the people against typhoid. For two years this work has been carried on in this county and many hundreds of school children and adults have received this valuable protection.

Last spring Dr. Truitt was authorized by the county commissioners and the State Department of Health to give free anti-typhoid inoculations to the school children in the county, but as the decision to do this was reached just before the closing of the schools no great headway was made. It has therefore been decided to continue this work this year and at an early date Dr. Truitt will visit every school again offering the anti typhoid inoculation to any and all who will accept. Parents are urged to avail themselves and their children of this opportunity and be protected against this easily preventable disease.

GRETA GREEN

PROBLEM SOLVED

(Communicated) The Presbytery of New Castle meeting at Dover on Monday showed its distinct disapproval of the conditions existing at Elkton generally known as the "Greta Green," by dissolving the pastoral relations between Rev. John MacEhnoyle, D. D., and the Elkton Presbyterian church.

This question has been agitating the Presbytery for over a year, at which time an investigating committee reported that a dissolution of pastoral relations was necessary. From this decision Dr. MacEhnoyle appealed to Synod and Synod sent the matter back to the Presbytery. This action of the Presbytery at Wicomico is a valuable asset by those who have been trying to get such regulation as would regulate or control to some extent conditions at Elkton.

E. Leonard Wailes, the member of Presbytery representing the local church, was warmly felicitated at the close of the meeting at Dover for the straight-forward, fair manner and high Christian spirit in which he conducted the case for the Presbytery.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN THANKSGIVING DAY

New Physical Director Of S. Y. M. A. Stages First Of Long Series Of Athletic Events. 50 Entrants.

The new secretary and physical director of the S. Y. M. A. has already fired the first shot of his athletic program that will be continued from now on.

Mr. Todd, who arrived on Saturday night, has in his hands approximately 60 entries for a four miles cross country race on Thanksgiving morning.

The participants range in age from 12 to 62 years, and the big list of entrants, which comprises the best athletes in Salisbury, should make this event one of the most interesting ever held in the city. Already the competition is very keen.

Everyone entered will have an equal opportunity to win, as all will be handicapped according to their ability. Mr. Todd has had years of experience along these lines, and incidentally all work pertaining to athletics, including track, baseball, football, basketball, soccer, wrestling, fencing, and rowing and all forms of gymnasium work. Representative teams are now being formed in some of the above named sports.

There will be 10 or more prizes and each prize will be worth striving for. In addition, any entrant completing the entire course will be credited with that distance and name published in this paper.

The Salisbury Young Men's association courteously extends an invitation to all Salisburyans to witness the start and finish of this spectacular race.

The starting gun to be fired at 9.00 a. m. Thanksgiving morning at Broad and Division streets.

CHURCH DOINGS OF CITY AND VICINITY

Division Street Baptist church:—Last Sunday Rev. E. L. Grose of Havre de Grace, began a series of special meetings. Mr. Grose is a young man full of enthusiasm and a passion for souls. He will preach on the following themes: Thursday, Nov. 20, "Where are the Dead?" Is there life beyond the grave? Are the dead conscious? Everyone is interested in these questions. Many false answers have been given. The Bible is clear in its answers. Come and hear this sermon and know the truth. Friday, Nov. 21st, "If Christ Should Come To Salisbury." A few facts concerning the condition of the city we love. Services Sunday at the usual hours. Thursday and Friday at 7.30.

Asbury Church:—The Rev. J. T. Herson, D. D., preaches at both services next Sunday, morning subject: "Earth's Sweetest Place." Evening subject, "Lessons Learned from the War."

Charity M. P. church, Rev. J. A. Wright, pastor:—The revival meetings are being continued with unabated success. The 13 conversions on Sunday make a total of 52 to date. Many persons are turned away at each service for want of room for their accommodation.

Providence M. P. church:—A series of revival meetings will begin on Sunday. The public is invited to attend.

Sunday, November 23rd: A Thanksgiving and Harvest home service will be held at Willards, Sunday, November 23, at 7.30. Singing appropriate for the occasion. Special address by the pastor.

Racing At The Fair Ground.

There will be an afternoon of racing at the Wicomico County Fair Grounds Thanksgiving day starting at one o'clock p. m. Three contests will be staged for the occasion. A free-for-all race, a 2.25 class and 2.30 class. Entries open to all comers. Admission 25 cents. The gate receipts to be apportioned among the contestants in the three races.

ANSWER

A critic told the Players club about Edgar Lee Masters, author of the "Spoon River Anthology."

"Masters and an English poet," he said, "were discussing their work."

"My dear Edgar," the Englishman drawled, "your poetry doesn't lack fire and sincerity, but it's rough. It's so sketchy. Why do you never finish?"

"Masters gave a loud, discordant laugh."

"My dear Alf," he said, "why do you ever begin?"

UNIVERSITY FOUR MAKE BIG HIT HERE

The First Number of Lyceum Course On Monday Night Attracts Big Audience A Rare Treat.

If every one of the remaining four lyceum numbers to be given here during the winter, are to be as good as the first number of the course which was given at the Arcade theater on Monday night, the people of Salisbury are going to experience a season of real musical treats.

The University Four entertained on Monday night, a good sized and highly appreciative audience. The Misses Alice MacKenzie soprano, Thelma Newell violinist, Edwina Doing cellist and Vere Cory pianist, the members of the Four, are musicians of exceptionally high qualifications and it did not take the audience long to ascertain that fact.

Miss McKenzie was particularly pleasing. She possesses a voice which is at once sweet, well controlled and of excellent volume. She made the hit of the evening in a series of cute little French melodies and her rendition of a French folk song called "Alonette" resulted in six enthusiastic curtain calls to each of which Miss McKenzie smilingly responded.

Miss Newell was another member of the company who soon became a favorite. Her violin selections were rendered in a masterful manner. It seemed that her instrument was simply filled with liquid tones, which under the touch of her bow flowed in streams of sweet melody throughout the big auditorium. Miss Newell was also encored several times and her each response seemed to rival her each previous performance.

Miss Doing, cellist, in the last half of the program played Saint Saeins' "Le Cygne" in such an effective manner as to cause the house to ring with the applause which greeted its rendition.

Miss and Vere Cory at the piano not only accompanied the other musicians, but herself played a number of selections which proved beyond doubt her ability as a concert pianist.

The lyceum course of five numbers has been scheduled for this city by the local High school heads. The course is to be given for the purpose of raising funds with which to defray the expense of a number of improvements recently installed at the High school building. Judging by Monday night's patronage, the entire course is to be a great success.

O. E. WELLER SAYS HE WILL BE CANDIDATE

Republican Leader Looks For Nomination As U. S. Senator. Candidacy May Be Opposed.

O. E. Weller, Baltimore city's most prominent Republican figure, and a candidate in 1916 for governor against Emerson Harrington, has announced that he will be a candidate at the Republican primaries in May for nomination as United States Senator.

It is expected in Republican circles that Mr. Weller's candidacy will be opposed by former Governor Phillip S. Goldsborough and by Gen. W. Bladen Lowndes, but it is not now expected that General Lowndes will actually make a fight against Mr. Weller. Baltimore politicians seem to agree that Mr. Goldsborough may make an active campaign in opposition to Mr. Weller, but are agreed that without the assistance of General Lowndes, his efforts will be seriously handicapped.

DOINGS AT THE WICOMICO HIGH SCHOOL

Things Of Interest Happening Among Pupils Of This Institution.

OF INTEREST TO PUPILS AND PARENTS.

Many Happenings Among The Boys And Girls Of The Wicomico High School Which Appeals To The Interests Of The Entire Community.

(The editors of the Wicomico News have set aside this column for the use of the pupils and faculty of the Wicomico High School and the items published here will be furnished by one or more of the scholars weekly.)

Tuesday afternoon, November 11, the school celebrated the signing of the armistice by having a few exercises in assembly during the last period. Hon. W. B. Miller made a patriotic address which was very enjoyable and also instructive. During his speech he laid special emphasis on the fact that our flag has never been defeated and also that it has never been unfurled in any war except in the cause of humanity. An up-to-date Pathe News was also shown the school by means of the newly installed motion picture machine.

The County Teachers' association meeting was highly successful, especially from an educational point of view. The features of the program, according to the masculine teachers present, was the luncheon prepared and served by the girls of the Senior class under the able direction of Miss Ruth Powell. The smooth manner in which it was served and the equally smooth manner in which it disappeared testified to the correctness of the above statement. Several illustrated lectures were given during the session which were very interesting.

Several members of last year's graduating class who have gone to college were home last week on a week-end vacation. They informed Mr. Clark, that the work in college is much easier than they expected, and the reason, as they think, was the thorough preparation they received in good old Wicomico High.

There are two Soccer games this week, one on Wednesday and one on Friday. They are with Berlin and Pocomoke, and we have defeated each once by close scores. Come out and root for your home team which has and never will be defeated.

Editorial Comments.

OUT WITH THE THUGS!

With the Reds, as they are commonly known, murdering American soldiers as they participate in peace parades, bombing the homes of good American citizens, circulating propaganda calculated to arouse the ignorant and the radical element to deeds of violence, with these red handed villains doing everything within their power to overthrow the government of the United States, there comes to the breast of every true American a feeling of revulsion and a desire for vengeance.

The practices of the anarchists, bolsheviks, and I. W. W. in the United States calls to mind a condition of affairs which existed in India a number of years ago when the British government found itself compelled to take drastic action in order to put down an unruly element known as Thugs; and the recollection of Britain's action suggests that similar action might well be taken by the United States government, that the lives, property, and peace of its loyal citizens may be protected.

India was over run with the members of an association called Thuggee. These men and women killed their fellow human beings just for the love of killing. All men were as fish to the net of the Thug. He played no favorites. It was his sworn duty to kill whenever opportunity presented itself, no matter who the victim might be.

It has been found impossible to compute the number of the victims of Thuggee during the long period of its operations. The ordinary legal processes were of no use; Thuggee would not be suppressed. Prosecution and execution of the Thug found guilty of murder only served to make of him a martyr and a hero in the eyes of his fellows, and instead of checking the activities of the association, served as a stimulant and incentive for further operations.

Thuggee was a well organized and strongly entrenched association. The ordinary processes of English law were not adequate to its extermination, so with that common sense which always has marked the British domination of the British colonies, the British authorities in India determined to use methods which were not of the ordinary cut and dried type.

It was decreed by those authorities that a mere membership in the organization of assassins was sufficient evidence of criminality. Hundreds of Thugs were taken, and their identity with Thuggee being established, they were immediately executed.

That was the end of Thuggee in India. According to reports carried in the New York papers, William McAdoe, chief magistrate of that city, is of the opinion that the Reds in this country should be exterminated just as the Thuggee was exterminated in India; and his opinion has met with favor among thousands of good American citizens.

Magistrate McAdoe says that since the Reds, or the communists, as they are sometimes called, are engaged in the pleasing pastime of engineering an attempt to overthrow the government of the United States, they are guilty of the highest crimes known to our laws, and he holds that every person who has membership in any of the several organizations which make up the Reds in America, should be treated as were the Thugs in India. He holds further, that these men and women by holding membership in any of those organizations have declared themselves as being opposed to the government and the laws of the United States, and that having made such declarations they are traitors to the country which shelters them.

There is but one punishment for traitors; and this is a punishment which should be meted out to all persons who belong to such organizations as have shown themselves and are showing themselves to be out of sympathy with the laws and the government of this republic.

THE PEACE OFFERING.

"The man who gets as much fun out of putting two dollars in the bank as he does out of spending it, is a real financier," said Elbert Hubbard, philosopher and sage.

At the present time the economic situation in the United States is a challenge to the best thought and action of every American citizen. Adverse possibilities are serious. Soaring prices, mental restlessness, the need for increased production and the abbreviated purchasing power of the dollar are sure indications of the seriousness of the problems now encountered.

The United States Loan organization, which is authorized by, and represents the United States Treasury Department, is certain that national thrift is the only practical remedy for these conditions.

Because this is its firm opinion, the United States Loan organization has inaugurated the Citizens' Thrift movement to enlist the active co-operation of influential men and women as leaders in promoting the practice of thrift, by the purchase of the newly issued $100 and $1,000 Treasury savings certificates.

Until November 27, the time will be utilized in focusing public attention on the necessity for thrift throughout the country.

This campaign has been very properly named, "America's Peace Offering"; and throughout this campaign the government is attempting to foster the war-taught practice of sensible and wise saving.

It seems to be a fact that there never was a time in the history of this nation when it was more necessary for the people of the United States to save.

A Good Cough Medicine for Children

Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Redon, Ga., phoned to J. M. Floyd, the merchant there, for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and said she had bought a bottle of it at his store recently and that it was doing her children so much good that she wanted to keep up the treatment. You will find nothing better for coughs and colds in children or for yourself. It keeps the cough loose, expectoration easy and soon frees the system from the cold.—Adv't.

—Surprise Council No. 109, Jr. O. U. A. M. held a raffle for a fine silk top quilt Wednesday night, which was won by William A. Higgins, E. Division street. The quilt is very handsome, having a design of an American flag in the center and at each corner the emblem of the order.

BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE.

Many prosperous citizens have lost their valued possessions overnight. Then they kicked themselves because an outlay of a few dollars on every thousand of valuation every few years would have left them protected and prosperous. Don't be foolhardy. Few things are as cheap as fire insurance in the beginning, and nothing may prove more costly in the end than its lack.

It's Pleasant to Shop in Baltimore's Best Store

No matter where you turn, you will find little conveniences that help to lessen the discomfort so often attached to shopping trips. For instance, by taking advantage of the following, you will save time and trouble.

A TRANSFER CARD is an easy and time-saving method of shopping. Ask any salesperson for one; its use will be explained to you.

PARCELS CHECKED, on the First Floor, rear, without charge. Close by is a Sub-Post-office, where all your mailing can be attended to without leaving the store.

THE REST ROOM, on the Fourth Floor, with its comfortable rockers, telephone booths and writing facilities, is also a convenient place in which to meet your friends.

THE TEA ROOM, on the Sixth Floor, is a delightful restaurant for shoppers. Good food, well prepared and daintily served, may be had at moderate prices.

Altogether, you will find this not only Baltimore's best shopping place, but one where conveniences for the customer have been carefully studied.

GAME SELLING AT EXCEEDINGLY HIGH PRICES—MANY NEWSPAPERS MUST GO OUT OF BUSINESS—GETTING READY FOR THE BIGGEST AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS—ATTRACTED HERE BY EXHIBITS AT COMMUNITY FAIR—TO PROPERLY LIGHT EAST MAIN STREET.

There has been so much said recently about the work of the Conservation Commission of Maryland especially that section dealing with the propagation of fish and game that one's attention is attracted to the fact that never in the history of this State have the prices for wild game been at such a high mark as at present. Last week, quail were sold on the streets of Salisbury at 40c each and rabbits brought from 50c to 65c in their skins. These prices prevailed notwithstanding the fact that the last Legislature in Maryland passed a bill prohibiting the sale of game killed in one county to the residents of any other section of the State and prohibiting even the sale of game to storekeepers for resale. It was thought by the passage of such a law, that game would be sold at a fairly low price but such does not seem to be the case. The idea of paying 40c and 50c for a small quail is about the most absurd proposition we ever heard of. They are actually worth about 15c at the most. The hunters say they are forced to charge these prices because they have to take out gunner's licenses, pay taxes on their hunting dogs, and ammunition is selling at prices ranging from 50 to 100 per cent. more than in former years, all of which may be true, but even then, the prices charged in the local market for birds and rabbits are without reason. It is hinted that there are still some storekeepers who make it a practice to buy up birds and ship them to the cities, and the game wardens should be on their jobs constantly to see that the law in this respect is properly obeyed.

Many Newspapers Must Go Out Of Business.

It is conceded by all authorities that if something is not done to further increase the supply of news print paper and to lower the price of same, that many country newspapers will have to discontinue business. The high cost of newspaper when it is obtainable, the exceedingly high wages now paid in most newspaper offices and the added expense of mailing and in fact, everything entering into the printing and publishing of a newspaper has so far outbalanced the advertising rate which most papers secure as to make it almost impossible for the average country newspaper to exist. A call from the leading publishers of the country for a meeting to be held at which it is proposed to increase advertising rates and to limit the number of pages which a newspaper shall print is probably the one thing which will aid in keeping alive many country newspapers which are now barely tottling on their feet because of the overhead expenses incident in their production. Newspaper advertising has never been fairly appreciated or fully paid for by the public, and subscription prices have always been entirely too low even in normal times, but since the war, they have been absurdly out of proportion to all other lines of business. The live newspaper is the greatest asset a community can have and its support is a matter in which every business man should be interested. A community cannot progress without its live newspapers, and the people cannot be kept informed or satisfied with their living conditions unless they have the right kind of town papers which disseminate the news broadcast as it happens, so in this critical time of the newspapers existence, every community should be interested in seeing that everything is done to help the newspaper keep on its feet and keep abreast with the march of progress.

Getting Ready For The Biggest Automobile Business.

All signs point to the fact that the coming spring and summer will see the greatest automobile business which has ever been transacted in this city. The six or seven dealers who handle the various grades of cars are now receiving a fair proportion of their shipments for the first time in many months and during December and January, their stocks of cars will be greatly augmented. Extra accommodations are being made for the storing of these cars so that every available vehicle allotted to the different salesmen of this city will be taken. It is expected that when the automobile season opens in full blast shortly after January 1st, that Salisbury will be better provided with all classes of cars than it has been since the beginning of the war in 1914; and that the biggest wholesale and retail business ever transacted in the automobile line will be pulled off in this city during the next 12 months. The various factories have not been able for several years to keep up with their orders notwithstanding the fact that the demand for all grades of cars seems to be growing every season, and it is estimated that it will probably take several million cars for the next two years to finally meet the demand which will be made upon all the manufacturing establishments. We can say with all truthfulness that the dealers in Salisbury will be ready for this great business and will probably be better equipped to make deliveries than any other city south of Wilmington on the peninsula. Every kind of car of standard grade are sold in this city and we have several of the largest distributing concerns in Maryland located right here with plenty of warehouse room to take care of all the demands that will be made upon them by customers.

Attracted Here By Exhibits At Community Fair.

It happened that while the three days' Community Fair was on at the Armory last week, three strange farmers from Indiana happened in Salisbury on a tour of inspection of the Eastern Shore. They took in this show in all its details, and to say that they were astounded at the variety of farm products shown and the fine class of the exhibition will be putting it but too mildly. The fact is that these three farmers who had been used to farming in the Middle West on lands which cost from $600 to $1,000 an acre could hardly believe that the fine products shown at the Fair were grown in the soil of Wicomico county, where land can be bought at from $40 to $200 per acre, the product of which far outstripped the high-priced land on which these three Indiana farmers lived. They were not casual observers, but in fact were experts in all lines of agriculture and they made a thorough study of all these exhibits making inquiry as to the amount of production, the kind of soil on which they were raised and in fact, everything connected with the farming life of this community, with the result that they all three were immediately interested in purchasing farms in this locality and have gone back home with the intention of selling their high-priced land in the west and moving their families in Wicomico county as the place of their future abode. One of them said to the News man: "Why don't you people advertise what you have down in this county? There is not one man in a thousand outside your state that knows you can do these kind of things down here, for if they did, your land would be selling for four to five hundred per cent. more than you are now getting for it."

To Properly Light East Main Street.

It is understood that the Mayor and Council have ordered several new cluster lights to be erected on East Main street from Division to the Railroad bridge and that it is the intention of making this street a parking place for cars after some improvements have been made to the roadway and that then an ordinance will be passed removing all standing cars from Main, Dock and Division streets for the future. We certainly hope this report is a true one as the News has been fighting more than a year to get the Council to do this very thing so as to relieve the awful congestion on Main street and a portion of Division and Dock streets. While the ordinance is being passed, it should certainly provide for Main and East Camden street to be one-way thoroughfares and make it a penalty for an automobile to stand parked on either of these streets at any time during the day or night. East Main street from Division to the Railroad bridge will hold several hundred cars and there are side streets running into this property which might also be used for parking purposes until the section is more thickly built up and there is no reason why any car owner should object to driving his car that far to Main street to do his parking. Unless the Council does something immediately to relieve the congestion far from Main street to do his parking business will be so jammed as to make it impossible to get through these thoroughfares at all.

ANNOUNCING A Unique and Advanced Plan of Service

Through a combination of Good Commercial Business and Good Banking Business, a plan has been made effective whereby those who desire it may purchase on easy payment Terms any Electrical Appliance or any House Wiring Job, the selling price of which is $50.00 or more. The appliances will include:

SEWING MACHINES,
WASHING MACHINES, MOTORS, ETC.

VACUUM CLEANERS,
ELECTRIC RANGES,
FIXTURES, ETC.

Through an agreement with the Morris Plan Bank of Baltimore, we are enabled to sell to persons desiring Easy Payment Terms as stated above. The Bank pays us at once, the total amount of the purchase. The purchaser pays the bank direct or pays the Bank through us.

Here is how the plan works—you select the appliance or fixture. We make complete arrangements with the Bank; you make a small initial payment to the Bank on your purchase and the balance in regular monthly payments. On our recommendation the customary fee for investigation will not be charged by the Bank.

Do not confuse the plan with the ordinary so-called installment systems, where the cost of carrying the accounts is included in the price of the goods, unperceived by the customer, and which are attractively featured to promote extravagance. We intend our plan to render a distinct service to our patrons, and upon this understanding the accommodation is offered.

The Morris Plan insurance automatically covers all purchases of $50.00 and upwards. The purchaser has issued to him, free of charge, an insurance policy covering the amount of purchase. In case of destruction by fire before payments are completed, the goods become the absolute property of the Purchaser without any further charges and without any "Red Tape."

Ask us to explain all the details of the plan.

At Your Service Always

CAMELS supply cigarette contentment beyond anything you ever experienced! You never tasted such full-bodied mellow-mildness; such refreshing, appetizing flavor and coolness. The more Camels you smoke the greater becomes your delight—Camels are such a cigarette revelation!

Everything about Camels you find so fascinating is due to their quality—to the expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos.

You'll say Camels are in a class by themselves—they seem made to meet your own personal taste in so many ways! Freedom from any unpleasant cigarette after-taste or unpleasant cigarette odor makes Camels particularly desirable to the most fastidious smokers. And, you smoke Camels as liberally as meets your own wishes, for they never tire your taste! You are always keen for the cigarette satisfaction that makes Camels so attractive. Smokers realize that the value is in the cigarettes and do not expect premiums or coupons!

Compare Camels with any cigarette in the world at any price!

Camels are sold everywhere in essentially sealed packages of 20 cigarettes or ten packages of 100 cigarettes in a glassine-paper covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

PLAN NOW TO BRIDGE CHINCOTEAGUE BAY

Promoters Would Connect Island With Mainland At Horntown and Build Stone Road To Lecato.

A plan to connect Chincoteague Island with the mainland of the eastern shore peninsula of Virginia and Maryland has been devised and a stock corporation, to be capitalized at $100,000, is now being formed to finance and carry out the plan.

The idea is to build a bridge from the center of Chincoteague village across Chincoteague bay to a point less than a half mile from the village of Horntown, and to connect Horn-town with Lecato Station, Va., by a concrete road.

Lecato has been chosen as the northern terminus of the proposed stone road, because it is the nearest railroad station to Horntown, and because it is situated but a very short distance from the end of the Maryland-Virginia state line.

Chincoteague village, it is claimed, is the most thriving community on the eastern shore of Virginia. It has a population of more than 5,000 people. The chief industry of its people is fishing, and all of the product of the fishing nets now has to be carried by boat to the mainland at Horntown and then hauled by team or truck to Lecato Station for shipment to northern points.

The advocates of the bridge plan and its promoters assert that by connecting the island with the mainland, every one of Maryland's and Virginia's eastern shore towns and cities would be benefitted, through it having been made possible for the people of the island to reach those places for the purpose of transacting business.

It is claimed that there are now about 40 automobiles owned by the people of Chincoteague, though they are unable to drive their cars except about their island roads. The bridge promoters assert that with a bridge connection once established between the island and the mainland, many more automobiles would be purchased and operated by the islanders, and that these would be used very largely in carrying people to the larger communities of the eastern shore for their business transactions.

It is understood that all of the $100-000 capitalization has been pledged with the exception of about $15,000 and an effort is being made to raise this amount among the people of the eastern shore of Maryland business communities.

SHARPTOWN NEWS.

The real estate market has been very active here of late and the prices are within the reach of all. The De-Forest property, one of the finest and best equipped residences in town was recently sold to William Twilley near Laurel who will soon move here.

The James property on Water street, large and commodious, equipped with modern improvements, and near the business centre of town has recently been purchased by Dr. L. L.
Gordy who will occupy it as a residence. Near this on the same street is located the bungalow owned and built by Thomas H. Harper which was sold a few days ago to Prof. Edwin K.
McIntosh who will occupy it. Mr.
Harper a few days ago purchased the Drennen property of Mrs. E. A. Brody adjoining his former property.

B. P. Cravenor has purchased the club house and large lot and garage, a part of the Eastern Shore Shipbuilding property located on Little Water street. Another residence near this, on same street, has been purchased by George C. Bounds of Hebron. P.
T. White has recently sold six acres of fine land adjoining the town on the south side and located on the State road, to Dr. O. A. Zimmerman of Philadelphia.

N. W. Owens has sold a large farm near town just over the Delaware line to A. W. Marine. Mr. Marine will move on the farm soon and George Bradley of town will occupy the farm vacated by Mr. Marine. It is also reported that Harry Fletcher has sold his farm on the State road two miles south of the town to J. A. Jones of Salisbury.

Henry W. Elzey, formerly of this town but for many years a resident of Camden, N. J., has purchased the Owens property on Water street of Wade H. Gordy and moved there a few days ago. Mr. Walters has also purchased of Mr. Gordy the Freeny property on Church street, near the Pythian Hall.

Lannie W. Phillips has purchased of the Elzey heirs property on Main street near the residence of Cant. Wm.
H. Elzey and has greatly improved it by adding a large new building and rebuilding the old property. He will occupy it soon. His brother, A. J. Phillips has purchased the lot adjoining and will improve it with a large new residence at an early date.

W. H. Seabrook of Hebron has leased O. N. Bennett's shirt factory, installing new machines and is now running the plant with a number of operators and turning out quite a lot of work. Topis & Co. of Wilmington, Del., are running the other plant and giving employment to a number of hands.

The Marvill Package Company will at once rebuild the freight house of the B. C. & A. Ry. Co. at steamboat wharf and also the large warehouse near, both of which were completely demolished by the cyclone that swept up the river doing so much damage in and near town on the night of November 1st. The new buildings will be much larger than the old ones and the freight house will have a large drive-way under roof and other conveniences.

The launching ways are being put under the large new schooner at the shipyard preparatory to launching.
The masts are to be put in and much other work done before the launching, but if possible they are hoping to put her in water about Thanksgiving or a few days thereafter as possible. As soon as this schooner is finished John S. Smith of Salisbury who recently purchased the plant will put a force of men at work to prepare the wharf and yards for the construction of new boats and the repairing of old ones.
Mr. Smith has the longest and best wharf property on the Nanticoke and the long wharf property below the State road and extending to the Mar-vill Package Company's plant on the south will be so arranged as to be accessible for public traffic where shipping commodities can be placed for shipment by sail vessel or by steamer and where cargoes of any character may be discharged. This property can be made easily accessible from Main street of the town on the south and from the State road on the north.

The hog cholera has about subsided here after killing more than $3,000 worth of as fine hogs as were ever grown in this section. Quite a number were inoculated, but not until the disease got well under way and it spread so rapidly that hogs were sick before a veterinary could reach them. Many killed large porkers and some saved the meat while others lost it owing to the very warm weather then prevailing. Some of the large hogs were sick three or four weeks and while hope of recovery was sometimes entertained none seemed to have recovered. Those inoculated have so far escaped the disease and are well and hearty.

Twenty ship carpenters were laid off on Saturday owing to the fact that only one large schooner is being finished here and the work has narrowed down until there is no room for a full force. Work under the new management will be resumed the first of the year on a much larger scale.

The High school including the pupils and faculty gave Miss Maryon Farrer, the domestic science teacher, a birthday party at the residence of Capt. and Mrs. E. G. Bennett Thursday night. A large number were there and a very pleasant evening was spent. After the social features were about over ice-cream and cake were served. Miss Farrer is from Mansfield, Pa. but will long remember her birthday in Sharptown as being one of the most pleasant events of her life.

Mrs. Wm. M. Cooper and her brother M. H. Bennett of Camden, N. J., are spending a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bennett. Mrs. Bennett is very seriously ill and her condition is little improved.
Added to her very serious condition she sustained a fall a few days ago from which she has not yet fully recovered.

Samuel J. Covington, formerly of Sharptown but for several years a resident of Camden, is here on a hunting trip and has succeeded in capturing quite a number of the cotton tails.
Mr. and Mrs. Vernon J. Twilley and son Morris of Camden are the guests of his brother, Charles R. Twilley.

John Walker of Wilmington was called home last week on account of the serious illness of his mother, Mrs.
John C. Walker.

Miss Mary E. Russell is home from Wilmington, Del.

Rev. George L. Hardesty of Seaford, filled the pulpit in the M. E. church on Sunday morning owing to the absence of the pastor, Rev. John W.
Prettyman called to Rock Hall, a former charge, to assist in the re-opening of a church. He also preached at Mt. Herman Sunday afternoon and in the M. P. church at night. Joint revival services began here on Sunday night in the Methodist Protestant church and after a week's service in that church the services will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church.

Good Intent Lodge, I. O. O. F. will pay the lodge at Mardela Springs a fraternal visit tomorrow night.
After having conducted revival services at Mt. Herman church for two weeks Rev. E. W. Simms the pastor closed on Friday night.

Rev. Irving S. Owens is conducting revival services at Riverton.
Miss Maggie Twilley, formerly of this town but recently residing in Norfolk, Va., and Harrison Holland of Norfolk, were married on Saturday morning by Rev. Mr. Mason and are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs.
C. E. Twilley.

Ajax Tires Will Win For You

Dirt track champions of America—that's the title Ajax Tires have won for two years in succession. In 1918, drivers using Ajax Tires shattered 9 world records and smashed 49 track records in races in all parts of the United States.

The big reason why leading dirt track racers insist on Ajax Tires is that strong supporting shoulder of rubber which braces each side of the tread at its base—Ajax Shoulders of Strength. They give more tread on the road.

BAPTIST 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN WILL RAISE BIG SUM FOR RETIRED MINISTERS.

CARE FOR THE WIDOWS, TOO

Total of $5,000,000 included On Program For This Purpose—Insurance Feature Also Included.

REV. J. M. RUSSELL
Typical Retired Minister.

While the salaries paid the ministers of Baptist, as well as other churches in the South, has been far too small in the past to enable them to lay aside a competency for old age, a long step in remedying this situation is promised in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, which proposes to raise $5,000,000 for the relief of aged ministers during the next five years, and then bring this sum up to $5,000,000 during the two years immediately following the campaign.

Looking to the adequate care of hundreds of aged Baptist ministers and ministers' widows in the ranks of the Southern Baptist Convention who are now in need of financial assistance this body, at a recent session, authorized the creation of the Relief and Annuity Board at Dallas, Texas, with Dr. William Lunsford as corresponding secretary.

Heretofore the average annual salary of Baptist ministers in the South has been less than $500, meaning that a large number of preachers received considerably less than that sum, making it necessary that they engage in other occupations during the week in order to support themselves and their families, and rendering it practically impossible for them to lay aside any money as a support for their old age.

The establishment of the Relief and Annuity Board and the decision to raise $5,000,000 during the next seven years for the relief of the aged ministers already in need of assistance and the more adequate care of the men who hereafter give their lives to the Christian ministry without an opportunity to save up a competency to tide them through sickness or care for them in their declining days, has met with a cordial reception at the hands of Southern Baptists, and it is believed the provision of better treatment for the ministers in their retirement will not only tend to cause young men to look with greater favor upon the ministry as a life work, but will bring the members of local congregations generally to see the need of paying pastors more adequate salaries before these pastors become old and helpless.

By the addition of an annuity feature it is possible for retired ministers to receive an annuity of $500 after they have reached the age of 63, and provided they have been in the ministry for thirty years. If they have served less than 30 years the annuity is reduced by a certain proportion. To participate in this annuity a minister must make monthly, quarterly, or annual payments sufficient to bring in an income of $100 per year when invested, on the principle of regular life insurance, while this is supplemented by $400 provided by the denomination. A minister's participation in the annuity fund is in addition to his claims upon the relief fund.

If the minister is disabled at any time after joining the annuity fund, he will receive a certain annuity throughout the period of disability. If he dies his widow will receive an annuity of 60 per cent of what would have gone to her husband as long as she lives, and should the widow die her annuity will be divided among minor children until they become self supporting, marry or reach the age of 21.

The board has received an endowment of $300,000 from the Baptist Sunday School Board at Nashville not included in the 75 Million Campaign, and this sum will be divided equally between the relief and annuity departments. This enables the board to begin work immediately and assistance is already being given to 285 aged ministers and ministers' widows.

ASK POLICE TO WATCH FOR THIS BOND THIEF

Leo Julofsky Of New York Took French Leave Of His Employers With $119,000 In Bonds.

The police of Salisbury have been asked by the Police department of New York to be on the look out for Leo Julofsky who calls himself Leon Jules, who is wanted in New York for the theft of $119,000 in 4-1-4 per cent Liberty Bonds of the third issue. A reward of $10,000 is offered for the recovery of the bonds.

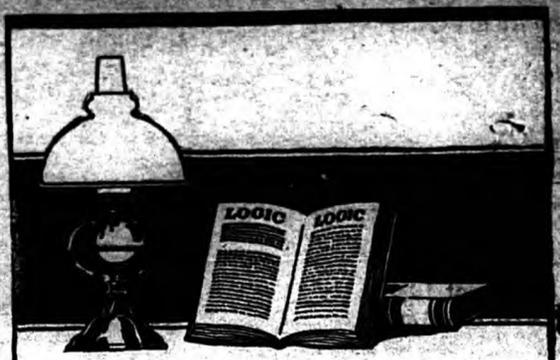

Julofsky was employed as a messenger by E. D. Levinson & Co., of 52 Broadway, New York. On September 19 he disappeared with the following bonds: 24 $1,000 bonds, No. 386,514 to 386,537 inclusive; one $1,000 bond, No. 933,696; 20 $1,000 bonds, No. 979,401 to 979,420; 11 $1,000 bonds, No. 1,562,374 to 1,562,384; 76 $1,000 bonds, No. 1,562,474 to 1,562,549.

Should trace of any one of these stolen bonds be found in Salisbury, the local police or any one of the city officials should be immediately notified.

NEEDED.

The teacher in a little rural Hoosier school had a great amount of trouble with the older boys fighting at recess time. She appealed to the county superintendent for aid in stopping it and he, being an advocate of supervised play, told her to play with the children at recess periods. She followed his suggestion for several recesses—with the result that the fighting was forgotten in the playing. Then came one recess at which she was busy coaching a backward pupil. The recess was about half over when a youngster about seven years old rushed into the room. "Can't you come out here and start something?" he asked.

HAD CHRONIC BRONCHITIS FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS NOW WELL AND HAPPY

THE EXPERIENCE OF MR. E. J. TOWERS, 1235 East street, LaCroce, Wisconsin, is chiefly remarkable on account of the length of time he was afflicted.

He writes: "I have been suffering with chronic bronchitis for twenty-six years and every winter I would catch cold and become so hoarse I could not speak for six or eight weeks. I could get only temporary relief.

This winter I was taken with it and was in awful shape. A fellow workman advised me to take PE-RU-NA. By the time I had used three-fourths of a bottle, the hoarseness was gone, also that tired feeling. I am on my second bottle. Hereafter PE-RU-NA will be constantly in my house. It is the best medicine ever put up for the purpose."

For any disease due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions, PE-RU-NA is equally dependable. Coughs, colds, catarrh of the head, stomach trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins, flatulence, belching gas, indigestion, start of the large and small intestines, are some of the troubles for which PE-RU-NA is especially recommended.

PE-RU-NA can be purchased anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

HERE'S A "BUDDIE" WHO FOUND HIS "UNCLE"

True Story Of What Uncle Sam Is Doing For His Service Men.

THERE NEVER WAS SUCH A CHANCE OFFERED BEFORE.

First-class Vocational Training, Ample Pay And Seeing The World All At The Same Time For New Recruits Now Going Into The Navy.

Neither of the young fellows wore overcoats. One was in a dingy old khaki uniform with a couple of gold chevrons and a red one. The other wore a bronze star in the buttonhole of his cheap badly fitting coat. He was headed toward the railway station carrying a suit-case which he shifted from hand to hand in an effort to keep one hand, at least in his pocket. He had almost collided with the other lad, evidently a buddie, as he rounded a windy corner.

"Where going with all the baggage?" asked the one in uniform. "Must have found a job. All I can say is that if you did you're lucky. I haven't."

"Lucky? Me?" beamed the traveler. "Well, I hope to tell you I'm lucky. I connected with an uncle of mine that's going to look after me, so I'm through drilling the streets looking for a job that doesn't exist."

"I thought you told me that you didn't have any folks."

"This is an uncle that I'd sort of forgotten about—kind of an adopted uncle, you might say. Everything is going to be jake for me from now on. He's going to send me to California. I'm on my way to get my ticket now. Here's the dope. First, I'm to get a complete outfit of new duds, then he's going to send me to California to school this winter. I think I'll take up electricity like I've always wanted to, or else steam engineering.

"College, is it?"

"No, not exactly. You see it's better. It's a big school with a couple of thousand boys maybe. Teach everything, every trade under the sun, with some military drill and outdoor life, swimming and all that, to build you up and keep you fit, and in that wonderful California climate that they're always raving about. No freezing in New York for me this winter."

"What else?" questioned the ex-soldier eagerly.

"Well when I get through school in the spring I go to work for my uncle. I've agreed to stick with him for two years. I can stay longer—for life if I want to, I suppose—but we've agreed to try things for two years. He is going to pay my expenses, board, lodging and all that and pay me quite a bit besides. And he will look after me if I get sick—pay the doctor's bill and all that you know. We've figured up and if I lose my head and salt a reasonable amount of my money, I will have close to seven hundred dollars when that two years is up—a pretty good slice of that first thousand that Andrew Carnegie always said was the hardest to get. That will be enough to start me up in business with if I decide that I want to pull my freight and go it on my own hook when the two years is up. Or, if I decide to stick my pay will be advancing all along and I can plant it and begin clipping coupons. And the life out there on the Pacific, sailing the briny, seeing Frisco and Hong Kong and Portland and the beach at Waikiki, looks good to little Willie."

"Oh, he's in the shipping business, is he?"

"Well, not exactly, but sort of. He owns and operates a flock of ships, though."

"Well, you're in soft, is all I can say. I sure wish you luck. I guess I'll have to be drilling along. I've got to land a job; there's no rich uncle hiding behind my family tree. You're certainly the luckiest bird I know, and I envy you, I'll tell you."

"Let me fix it up and have him take you so we can go out together? I can, I'm pretty sure. He isn't doing this for me just because it's just me; he's done it for any number of fellows. Want me to?"

"Do you suppose you could? I'd sure jump at the chance; anyone would. California, that school, free eats, seven hundred dollars clear and a year and a half cruising from day-break to election! Oh boy, would I?"

"Let's go, then. You chum, haven't you tumbled yet? I've enlisted in my Uncle Sam's Navy, and I'm going to the training school in California and then to the Pacific fleet. And it's all true; the electrical part and the seven hundred. The Recruiting Officer at Baltimore and I figured it all out. It's my best bet, anyway you figure it. If I get out at the end of the cruise I've got a trade and enough to start in business with. If I stick I still have the money to invest. I'm going up in rate all along and earning more every year and every time I ship over. I'm going places and seeing things that the average man never knows about except from books. Besides, I am somebody. I'm working for the biggest and best boss on earth—my Uncle Samuel. And if you aren't a lot bigger fool than I think you are coming over to the recruiting office with me, sign up and we're on our way.

There is a recruiting party in Salisbury now, located at the Armory, which will be glad to give any information regarding Uncle Sam's Navy.

They will be more than glad to tell you all that they can about the pay and also the 52 trades that can be learned in the service of your Uncle.

FAMOUS SPORT WRITER NEGOTIATES DELUGE

Ford Never Falts As It Sails Over Water Soaked Roads On High.

Will Gahagan, the famous sport writer—who is also a "walking encyclopedia" of information on titled horses and their doings for the last couple of centuries—recently rode from Randall to Cleveland in a—but here's his story as it appeared in "The Horseman" for August:

"In company with Xen Scott, turf writer on the 'Plain Dealer,' and a couple of other scribes, I made the trip to the city in "Scotty's" machine. Said machine is manufactured in Detroit by a gentleman by the name of Ford. Now, they make all sorts of fun of that Ford machine, but after that trip from Randall to Cleveland the other day, I'm convinced that the Ford cars are not only fast but that they have staying qualities as well. They should have been used in getting the soldiers across the ocean."

"In the low spots where the water has stopped many of the high priced 'loats,' the little Ford didn't even hesitate. One of the most amusing sights of the trip—I believe that it was the only one—was watching a gentleman astride the hool of a big machine which was standing in about two feet of water. He was attempting to crank the machine and yet keep out of the water. Now that was a hard job. Every time he gave the crank a twist, his arm went into the water, right up to the elbow. The good man was reciting the Lord's Prayer, as we passed. At least we surmised that he was, from a few words that he uttered as our good little craft pulled for the shore."

Like "Pop" Gears who added a Ford Runabout to his string of thoroughbreds, Mr. Gahagan has discovered that as a "mud horse" he couldn't get away from the Ford.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST TYPHOID FEVER

County Commissioners Determined To Drive Out This Terrible Pest.

CONTRACT WITH DR. C. R. TRUITT TO DO THE WORK.

Every Child In The County Can Get Inoculated At The Schoolhouses Beginning About January 1st Free Of Charge.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners held a few days ago, the question of a thorough inoculation against Typhoid fever throughout the schools of Wicomico county was taken up and a contract was made with Dr. Charles R. Truitt to undertake this work for the entire county. Under this contract, Dr. Truitt will make three visits to every schoolhouse in the county for the purpose of inoculating every child attending school and the Commissioners have also arranged with Dr. Truitt that when he is in the neighborhood other children who are not attending school or persons who desire to take the Typhoid fever serum can get the treatments free of charge.

Under the arrangement, the State of Maryland furnishes the virus and the County Commissioners propose to pay the bill for the services of Dr. Truitt, having made a contract to cover the entire work. This will include both white and colored children, and Dr. Truitt expects to start work somewhere around the first day of January and complete the task as rapidly as possible. These inoculations are made on three different occasions with about a week intervening between the doses.

This is the kind of constructive work which any community should be proud of and every help should be given the County Commissioners in their effort to stamp out Typhoid fever in Wicomico county. Two or three years ago, a great deal of this work was undertaken through the Rockefeller Foundation appropriation, aided by the County Commissioners and the effectiveness of the work has shown for itself. Prior to that time, typhoid fever was rampant throughout Wicomico county and in fact, at one time we had the highest death rate from typhoid fever of any county in Maryland and more cases recorded in proportion to our population than almost any other section of the country, but after the campaign of inoculation two years ago, the percentage of typhoid cases fell in this community to really below normal, and it is hoped that after the present campaign is over, we will be able to stamp it out almost altogether.

Unfortunately, there are some objections among the rural residents to inoculation against typhoid fever, and for this reason, some parents object to their children being inoculated. This is a serious mistake as there is not one mishap in a thousand treatments and since the return of our soldier boys from the war and camps where every man was forced to take the typhoid fever serum and know the value of the treatment, much of the opposition has disappeared, and it is now hoped that our people generally will enter into this campaign and see that every child, white and colored, throughout Wicomico county gets this treatment when the campaign is started. Ordinarily, the treatment of serum for typhoid fever costs on an average about $3.00 to $5.00 but as the state is furnishing the virus, the Commissioners were able to make a very liberal contract with Dr. Truitt and the small amount of money which will be expended for this campaign will be the most effective money which the Commissioners could spend in the effort to maintain the healthfulness of the county which is after all, the biggest asset which a community could have. We also understand that Dr. Truitt will administer the serum to any citizen or child of Wicomico county whom he happens to miss while going around the schools if they will present themselves at his office on East Church street any time during his office hours. We want to congratulate the County Commissioners on taking up this work as we believe it is an advanced step which will bring the most surprising results for the good of the people of the entire county, and it is to be hoped that all our people will enter into the spirit of the campaign and see that every child gets this treatment while it is being given free of charge by the Commissioners.

Constipation.

Most laxatives and cathartics afford only temporary relief and should be used only for that purpose. CITY AND COUNTY ARE ORGANIZED TO AID DESTITUTE MILLIONS Appeals Of Thousands Of Starving Children Are Heard And Answered Here. Salisbury's Best Known Business Men Get Behind Movement To Raise $8,300 For Sufferers, In Wicomico County.

CAMPAIGN IS NOW ON.

"Thousands and thousands of children, old men and women without clothing, warmth or food, racked by typhus, and other diseases. Wanderers by the thousands trying to return to their homes from which they were driven by Russians or Germans. Starving and dying women and children deliciously crying for bread. Huddled together, men and women, all too weak to stand up or move about. And those faces, emaciated, thin, burning eyes, listless, unable to appreciate anything said to them, only begging for a piece of bread.

"It was a purgatory which I saw, but a purgatory of human creation for living people."

CONDITIONS ARE HORRIBLE.

The above is quoted from a letter written by Major H. I. Davis, Red Cross Commissioner to Poland, to his wife in this country. The letter gives but a brief review of the conditions among the Jewish people in eastern Europe, for Major Davis writes in the same letter, "the conditions are too awful for me to tell you in detail."

It is to relieve these conditions among the Jews in Europe that the people of the United States are campaigning to raise $35,000,000; and every cent of that amount will be needed.

Wicomico county has been called upon to raise $8,300 of the total sum and organization which is now working toward the completion of the county's quota is at work. This sum must be raised before December 8.

This organization is made up as follows: W. B. Miller, honorary chairman; H. W. Ruark, chairman; W. S. Gordy Jr., treasurer; S. S. Feldman, secretary and H. W. Carty, publicity director. An executive committee including the following well known business men was also appointed: L. W. Gunby, T. L. Ruark, Dr. Samuel Graham, Col. C. R. Disharoon, L. Atwood Bennett, M. V. Brewington, Herbert Rife, Augustus Toadvine, Walter Powell, C. W. Bennett, I. L. Benjamin, Dr. E. Riall White, J. E. Shockley, G. Hooper Miles, A. E. Williams, G. W. Phillips, Marvin C. Evans, A. M. Walls, J. James Scott, W. U. Polk, C. M. Paynter, J. Raymond Fields, Graham Gunby, S. King White, W. S. Sheppard, Fred P. Adkins, William M. Cooper, G. E. McGuirk, Mark Cooper, F. W. Woodcock, R. H. Phillips, and I. L. Price.

The campaign in the state is to raise a million dollars for the Jewish War Relief fund, and that the work is being handled by the greatest man in the state regardless of race or religion is shown by the personnel of the state committee:

Gardinal Gibbons, Bishop John G. Murray, Dr. William H. Welch, A. Ray Katz, Sylvan Hayes Lauchheimer, Waldo Newcomer, W. H. Hayward, Dr. Frank J. Goodnow, Francis E. Waters, Nathan Schloss, Alexander Blumberg, Gen. Lawrason Riggs, Blanchard Randall, Robert D. Hopkins, Benjamin Strouse, Eugene Levering, Abraham Eisenberg, Ephraim Rosenfeld, John M. Hood, Jr., James H. Preston, Robert Garrett, Judge Morris A. Soper, Edwin G. Baetjer, Max Grief and Julian Stein.

For the first time in the history of their race, the Jews are asking help for their people from those who are not of their own blood.

They are doing it because 6,000,000 Jews in eastern and central Europe, are actually in need of food at this moment. They have nothing to look to, to keep them from immediate starvation. The conditions which have left them starving and dependent on their own making. War, made, and devastated the countries in which they have dwelt for centuries, and tore down their homes, and drove many of them to foreign lands, is alone to blame for their predicament. The problem of 6,000,000 starving men, women and little children is now the problem of all humanity.

The Jews are asking help from the whole United States because there are 75,000 homeless orphans and hundreds of thousands of other hungry children in eastern and central Europe. In Poland alone 800,000 youngsters will die if the help of the United States is not forthcoming. Ev-

AUTOMOBILE THIEVES ARE UNDER ARREST

Earl McAllister, A Man Named Clark Of Baltimore, Are In Custody And A Third Arrest Is Expected.

Earl McAllister of this city, and a man named Clarke of Baltimore are under arrest, charged with the theft early on Sunday morning, of a new Haines touring car from the garage of U. C. Wimbrow in this city.

The machine was found in Chester, Pa., standing along the curb, two blocks from the railroad station, on Tuesday morning.

McAllister was placed under arrest when he returned to Salisbury from Chester on Monday, and was held under $5,000 bail for a hearing at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon before City Magistrate Turner.

Clarke was arrested in Penns Grove, N. J. on Tuesday morning, when he was found in the house of a Salisbury woman, said to be visiting her sister in that place.

There were three men implicated in the theft of the machine but up to Wednesday at noon, only two arrests had been made, and information as to the name of the third man was not available.

The arrest of McAllister and Clarke was made possible by Ralph McAllister of this city, brother of Earle McAllister, who informed Mr. Wimbrow that his brother had a hand in the theft, and who offered to go with Mr. Wimbrow in his efforts to trace the stolen machine. It is said that Ralph McAllister gave information against his brother, because the latter stole Ralph's new suit of clothes and new shoes to wear while travelling in the stolen car. Ralph McAllister was with Mr. Wimbrow when Clarke was located and arrested in Penns Grove, Clarke, it is said has made a complete confession of his part in the theft of the car and has named Earl McAllister and another man as his accomplices. Clarke, who is married and has a little child is said to live in Baltimore. He has until very recently represented the American Tobacco Company, as a travelling salesman in this section.

Early on Monday morning, almost as soon as the theft of the car was discovered, Mr. Wimbrow suspected that Ralph McAllister might be able to tell something of its disappearance. He went to the man's home, roused him from his bed, and learned that Ralph believed his brother Earle to be implicated in the theft. Ralph offered to lead Mr. Wimbrow to the machine and the thieves, and together the two drove to Wilmington where the first trace of the stolen machine was picked up. After that it was easy with the aid of Ralph McAllister to follow Earl and Clarke through their usual haunts and to finally place Clarke under arrest.

The machine when located, carried New Jersey license tags, and about $45 of his equipment had been stripped from it and disposed of.

The maximum penalty for theft of this character is 15 years imprisonment; and the minimum is one year in jail.

SHOREMAN'S GARAGE TO OPEN DECEMBER 1

A. W. Fooks Has Established What Is Believed To Be Best Equipped Garage On The Peninsula.

Salisbury is to have a new garage—one of the biggest and best equipped garages on the Eastern Shore peninsula. This newest of the city's enterprises located at Division street and Circle avenue, will be opened on December 1 and will be owned and operated by A. W. Fooks, son of Alfred Fooks of this city.

The plant will be equipped in the most modern style with wash stands, steam heat, etc., and will have storage capacity for more than 80 cars. The best available mechanics will be employed to render service to motorists, and the rates charged for work done will not be excessive.

The new garage will be known as the Shoreman's Garage, and Mr. Fooks is anxious to meet all his friends there on December 1. In addition to the usual garage service, he will carry for sale a full line of accessories which will be handsomely and attractively displayed.

MARRIED.

William L. Beloit of Keller, Va., and Miss Blanche V. Phillips of Wachapreague, Va., were married on Monday at Grace church parsonage by the Rev. William P. Taylor.

DEATH SUMMONS LONG TIME RESIDENT

Samuel H. Carey, 77, Dies at Salisbury Hospital On Tuesday. Was One Of City's Business Pioneers.

Samuel H. Carey, 77 years old, a native of Nutter's district and a resident of Salisbury since June, 1864, died at 2.30 o'clock on Tuesday morning at the Peninsula General hospital from illness caused by his advanced years.

In the death of Mr. Carey, Salisbury has lost one of its pioneer business men, and one of its sterling citizens. For many years until about two decades ago, when he retired from active business life, Mr. Carey was identified with the largest of Salisbury's merchandising enterprises.

In June 1864 Mr. Carey came to Salisbury and entered the store of William Birkhead as clerk. He remained with Mr. Birkhead until the latter's death and in 1881 became a member of the firm of Birkhead, Laws & Carey. This business was continued until 1886 until the great Salisbury fire, after which the firm of Birkhead and Carey was formed. This concern immediately erected the buildings on Main street now occupied by J. E. Shockley & Co., and by the Peninsula hotel.

The Birkhead & Carey firm continued in the merchandising business until 1901 when Mr. Carey sold his interests to C. J. Birkhead and J. E. Shockley, forming the firm of Birkhead & Shockley the immediate predecessors of the present J. E. Shockley Co.

Mr. Carey, despite the fact that he was retired from active business, retained his interests in some of Salisbury's most valuable real estate, these interests including the Shockley store property and the Peninsula hotel site and building.

The deceased was a member of St. Peter's Episcopal church and one of the members of the board of directors of the Peninsula General hospital. He has made his home at the Peninsula hotel since the building was erected, and lived there until about two weeks ago when his failing health made it advisable that he be removed to the hospital for treatment.

Samuel H. Carey, (Dr. Carey as he was called by his friends), was one of Salisbury's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens. He came to this city to live when it was but a straggling village and he watched it grow from the rural community of his youth to the bustling city of today. That he was an advocate of the progress of the place is well indicated by the fact that away back in 1886 he was a party to the erection of two buildings, which today are among the centers of the city's business industries.

Funeral services were conducted at St. Peter's church this afternoon, Thursday, at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. Cone, rector of the church.

The deceased is survived by a brother, Elijah P. Carey, and by one sister, Mrs. Gertie McGrath of this city and by a number of nieces and nephews.

All Lodges Of District 23 Will Have Thanksgiving And Centennial Rally In Salisbury, December 2.

Lodges of Odd Fellows in District No. 23, which comprises, Crisfield Lodge, Appollo Lodge of Pocomoke City, Good Intent Lodge of Bivalve, Rescue Lodge of Galestown, Newton Lodge of Salisbury and Good Will Lodge of Mardela, will hold a thanksgiving and centennial rally in Salisbury on December 2. Grand Master John B. Spence has issued the following letter to the various lodges in the district which will participate in the rally:

"A thanksgiving and centennial rally has been arranged for the lodges of District No. 23 at Salisbury, December 2, at 7.30 P. M. Every member of our Order should be thankful for the many blessings that have come to us as people of our great American republic. Our hearts should be glad that we have enlisted in the cause of Odd Fellowship, whose aim is to fraternize the world, and whose success in 100 years has proved it to be one of the greatest elements for good."

HOPE IS BROUGHT TO HEART OF WIDOWED MOTHER OF FIVE

Local Red Cross Ministers To The Needs Of Struggling Mother And Her Children. Social Worker Finds Family In Almost Destitute Circumstances, And Immediate Relief Is Given.

MOTHER KNOWS THANKSGIVING JOYS.

There is one family living in the vicinity of Salisbury, in Wicomico county, which owing to the ministrations of that Greatest Mother, the American Red Cross, has real cause of thanksgiving today.

This family consists of a woman, mother and widow, and her five small children. The eldest of the little folks is 12 years old and the youngest a mere baby of three summers. The father of this family was called to the Great Beyond two years ago; and since that time the widowed mother has been striving, without help to keep her family together.

CRITERION SINGERS ARE COMING AGAIN

Young Men's Club Of M. P. Church Arranges For Visit Of Famous Quartet Here December 5.

The Criterion quartet of New York, that organization of male singers which made such a favorable impression in this city last winter, is to be heard in Salisbury again on the evening of December 5, at the Arcade theater.

This quartet sings, during the summer season, at Ocean Grove, N. J., and many Salisbury people have heard them at that resort. Then too, their voices are reproduced on some of the standard phonograph records, so that their music is not at all unfamiliar in this section.

The Criterion singers are to be brought to Salisbury by the Young Men's club of the M. P. church and the members of that organization expect that one of the season's best musical entertainments will be the result of their visit.

Wicomico Motor Car Company Is Incorporated

Will Have Capital Stock Of $35,000 With Headquarters On East Camden Street.

Attorney Hooper S. Miles has just completed incorporating a new automobile company for Salisbury which will be known as the Wicomico Motor Car Company. The capital stock of the new organization is placed at $35,000, with the following officers: President and General Manager, Benjamin O. Hill; Vice-President, Wm. H. J. White; Secretary and Treasurer, William B. Lowe; Asst. Secretary and Treasurer, Edgar W. Hastings; Asst. General Manager, Leroy W. Wimbrow.

This company has recently taken over the garage on East Camden street formerly operated by the Salisbury Buick company, being the property that company purchased from George C. Hill. Work is now progressing on important improvements in the building in the way of a new front and up-to-date show room. The concern will handle several cars among which will be the Chevrolet. The promoters of this new enterprise are all experienced automobile men and the new concern will no doubt add to the automobile service of Salisbury very materially.

WORCESTER COUNTY HAS POST OF A. L.

Col. A. W. W. Woodcock And Corps Of Wicomico's Service Men Aid Worcester To Organize.

On Monday night Colonel A. W. W. Woodcock and a number of the members of Wicomico post, American Legion went to Snow Hill and helped to organize a post in Worcester county, to be known as Worcester post.

The new post was organized with a charter membership of 45, and there are indications that a campaign for members now to be waged, will result in at least 100 of Worcester's returned service men joining the organization.

—Miss Marie T. Heckroth and father, Miss Custer, Miss Pennel and Miss Kibble of Salisbury, spent Sunday afternoon and evening with Mrs. Annie A. Brownington of Shad Point.

RED CROSS TAKES HAND.

Word of the almost destitute condition of this family reached the ears of Mrs. Norman C. Stiles, social worker for the Red Cross and the United Charities, a few days ago, and she made an investigation.

She found these five fatherless children and their mother living in a hovel, not far from Salisbury. They occupied but two rooms of the place because these were the only two rooms fit for human habitation. She found the children dirty and unkempt, scantily clothed, without fuel and with practically no food.

She learned that the mother works in a Salisbury factory. That she is forced to leave her home and children at 6.30 o'clock every morning in order to reach her work at the appointed hour. The mother earns from $12 to $15 a week. With this amount of money she is unable to properly support her children. She owes grocery and meat bills and the merchants refuse to sell to her now, unless she pays cash.

While the mother is absent during her working hours, the little maid of 12 acts as the mother of her three sisters and one baby brother. The children attend school, those of school age, when the weather is sufficiently clement to permit them to wear their scanty cotton apparel. On such occasions, neighbors care for the very small children of the family.

The mother reaches her home after her day's work at about 7 o'clock. Then, after the preparation of the scanty meal, she must wash and iron and mend and patch. Her life is a daily grind of drudgery; and she saw no hope, no bright rays of light until her home was visited by the social worker of the Red Cross.

Now that this great institution has taken her case in charge, immediate relief has been given. Arrangements have been made to move the family to Salisbury, so that the mother may not be compelled to leave her home so early in the morning and that she may reach it earlier in the evening after her day of factory work. Arrangements have been made also, that the children may have proper care during her absence from the home. Proper clothing for the little tots will be supplied within the week and a supply of wholesome food will be forthcoming. Just how the Red Cross will be able to follow up its good work of ministering to the needs of this family, has not been decided; but it is an assured fact that help will be given in this as in all similar worthy cases.

So with the dawning of Thanksgiving day this morning, there dawned in the heart of this worthy mother a ray of hope that the black clouds of poverty may be dispelled and that she and her children may be given the advantages which by the death of their husband and father two years ago, they were deprived and which she of her own efforts has been unable to supply.

This is the kind of work the Red Cross and the United Charities will do in Wicomico county this winter. It is a work which is well worth the support and the co-operation of all the people.

TWO CARS COLLIDE ONE IS WRECKED

The machine driven by J. L. Doherty, travelling representative of the King Produce Co., of Baltimore, was run into by another automobile near Hurlock on Monday night, while Mr. Doherty was coming to this city. His car was badly wrecked and Mr. Doherty sustained a slight injury to one of his hands.

Hospitals, Mountain Schools, Good Will Centers and Church Building Funds Maintained by Them in Addition to Regular Gifts.

MISS KATHLEEN MALLORY
Corresponding Secretary, W. M. U., Baltimore.

Evidencing the larger sphere which women have come to occupy in church life, as well as other activities, when the Baptist 75 Million Campaign was decided upon at the meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlanta last May, the women, through their regular organization, the Woman's Missionary Union, at once agreed to be responsible for one-fifth of the sum sought, or $15,000,000. This means that the Baptist women of the South will raise for missions of all kinds, Christian education and benevolences, the sum of $3,000,000 a year for the next five years, in addition to their contributions to local enterprises and special work.

Through the channels of the Woman's Missionary Union, with headquarters at Baltimore, Md., the Baptist women of the South have since their organization contributed more than $7,000,000 in cash to various denominational purposes. With the addition of food and clothing for the needy, and other benevolent work, the total of their contributions to the cause of the world's suffering is estimated to be $10,000,000.

"LIFE SAVING CREWS"

WILL FIGHT DISEASE

Red Cross Christmas Seals With Finance Campaign To Save Lives Sacrificed To Tuberculosis.

Buy Seals—And Save Lives.

big Red Cross Christmas Seal campaign.

It is to be the biggest drive of its kind that the state has ever seen. It will differ from many money campaigns waged in recent months in that practically all of the money subscribed will be expended in the communities in which the funds are raised. And the money is to be expended in that greatest of all causes—the saving of human lives and the promotion of health and happiness. Incidentally and indirectly, it is to be a drive to help reduce the highest cost of living since it aims at protecting the health of the producer—and everybody admits that one of the most potent causes of the present high prices is the deficit in the amount of production of every-day necessities.

All the funds derived through the sale of seals is used in the fight against tuberculosis and is expended in various ways—educational work, nursing and medical service, sanatorium care for the tuberculous and in other ways suggested by the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association.

In addition to the seals which sell for a penny a-piece, Red Cross seal campaigners this year will have for sale Health Bonds ranging in denominations from $5 to $500 which will be offered to purchasers who would like to contribute more to the tuberculosis campaign than the price of the number of seals they would be able actually to use.

Maryland is one of the states that will have to put up a strong fight to keep pace with other states in anti-tuberculosis work. In the state 2914 persons died of tuberculosis last year—the death rate for Maryland being nearly 44 per cent greater than that for the nation as a whole. This is not a record to be proud of and every effort will be made to provide the nurses, sanatoria, clinics and medical service, as well as the educational work needed to cure and prevent the disease. The little Red Cross Christmas Seals will finance this work.

Here are the numbers of people who died needlessly from the disease in the counties of Maryland last year: Allegany, 58; Anne Arundel, 96; Baltimore, 572 (only 233 of these being actual residents of the county); Calvert, 22; Caroline, 42; Carroll, 45; Cecil, 26; Charles, 78; Dorchester, 65; Frederick, 143; Garrett, 9; Harford, 10; Howard, 10; Kent, 10; Montgomery, 10; Prince Georges, 10; St. Marys, 10; Talbot, 10; Washington, 10; Wicomico, 10; Worcester, 10.

The campaign for the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals is being conducted by the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association. The campaign is being conducted in every county of Maryland. The campaign is being conducted in every county of Maryland.

Wants Your HOLLY WREATHS AND MISTLETOE.

He wanted it last year, and got it, and it is a matter of record that he paid more money to the shippers than any other man in the business. The past 15 years he has been receiving Holly Wreaths, Box Hogs and other greens from this section and invariably has paid the shippers more money than any other firm in the business.

If you want any information, ask him; he will tell you and let you the truth. When he says "Don't slip any Greens before the 15th of December," he knows what he is talking about. The National Company will not allow the goods to remain in the depot and slip away no trade for Greens before December 10th, why slip them until it is time for them to be sold.

Prices were high last year, but all indications point to a decrease this year, and Mr. Woodoth is the man to get the large prices for the shippers.

Quite a few jobbers will be around to see you and want to buy your Wreaths, or whatever you have to sell, but if you are wise, don't ask to the Old Reliable Merchant who has always made the most of the time comes which is December 10th, the last day for you to get the goods.

OUR SOLDIER BOYS HAVE ROYAL BANQUET

Members Of Young Men's Service Class Of Asbury M. E. Church Attend Function With Friends.

The banquet given by Miss Ellegood's class, the Young Men's Service class of Asbury M. E. church in honor of the 66 young men of the church and class who took part in the world war was a great success.

Sixty of the class were present, many of them bringing ladies, 105 being at the banquet. Mr. Leigh of the Central hotel furnished the supper.

At 8 p. m., after the invocation by Hon. Jas. E. Ellegood, and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, all were seated at the long tables which were decorated with chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. Orchestra music was kept up during the banquet with the singing of camp songs between courses.

The following menu was served: Celery, mixed pickles, Chincoteague oysters (half shell), fried spring chicken, sugar cured ham, hashed brown potatoes, green peas, lettuce and tomato salad, hot rolls and butter, brick ice cream, cakes, hot coffee, nuts, mints.

George Chandler, the class president made an excellent toast-master as he presented the toast scheme—"Some O. K's" in the following program:

Toast—"Our Kolonel," Rev. J. T. Herson, D. D., Lt. James S. Russell.

Solo—"When Johnny Comes Marching Home," Hollis Lowe.

Toast—"Our Komrades," Col. A. W. W. Woodcock.

Solo—"It's Good to be Back," Sgt. Walter Tilghman.

Toast—"Our Klass," Edgar Phillips.

Class Hymn, "True-hearted, Whole-Hearted."

Toast—"Our Kirk," Floyd Woodcock.

Singing—"The Little Church in the Woodland."

Toast—"Our Kommission," Preston Burbage.

Solo—"In Happy Moments," Sgt. Percy Dashiell.

Singing—"Ould Lang Syne."

Accompanist—Everett Williams.

The distinguished guests of the evening were the soldier boys of whom the class is justly proud. All honor was given them in song and toast.

WINTER BRINGS WOE TO JEWISH CHILDREN

Wretched Jews In Central Europe Must Have Warm Clothes.

More than a million Jewish children throughout Eastern Europe are looking forward with dread to the coming of winter, according to reports received by the American Jewish Relief Committee from relief workers abroad.

Children do not ordinarily look forward even a few weeks, but hardships have taught these little ones a sad maturity, the investigators say. At eight or ten years old, their wisened faces are those of premature age. Their congregation, when they talk at all, which is not often, is like that of grown-ups, having to do solely with their chances of getting food, and their fear of the suffering entailed by severe weather. They almost never cry, for they have learned already that it does no good.

While youngsters in other lands are getting ready for the joys of sledding, skating and snow-balling, these Jewish children shiver at the very thought of winter with a dread that is based upon their vivid memory of the suffering of last year. Wrapped in rags that are worn to a kind of pulp after four or five years of constant wear, with strips of cloth around their feet, or pieces of bark tied to their poles, to serve as shoes, they are almost without any protection against the cold. Yet thousands of them, who are without any other home, are sleeping on the ground in Poland and Palestine, and Persia.

It was told that it was no uncommon thing to come upon a dead child in the snow in Palestine. Miss Rose Klomberg, a nurse in Palestine by the Red Cross organization of America, said this her return.

These people must be relieved. Only from America can such relief come, and come in sufficient quantity to make the slight improvement on conditions in Central Europe. And America must give. Maryland will be given her opportunity during the campaign of the American Jewish War Relief Committee the week of November 23.

THOUSANDS OF JEWISH CHILDREN GO BAREFOOT

With shoes all but an unknown luxury, thousands of children in Poland are forced to go barefooted the year around, according to reports of American Jewish relief workers. This picture was taken in the late winter with the thermometer not far above freezing.

JEWISH HOSPITALS HELPLESS.

Those In War Areas Lack Equipment And Supplies.

Hospitals without doctors, medicines or linen, major operations performed without anesthetics, patients lying at the point of death without fuel to keep them warm and a great lack of food and bandages, were the outstanding horrors in Dr. Haim I. Davis' description of the medical situation among the Jews of Poland when he spoke before a meeting of prominent men called together by Felix M. Warburg to discuss Jewish relief abroad. Dr. Davis, a well-known psychiatrist of Chicago, was a major in the American Red Cross during the war and is thoroughly familiar with Polish conditions.

"In Poland there are no hospitals or medical facilities according to our understanding of the terms," said Dr. Davis. "There is a great lack of clothing, fuel, medicines, disinfectants and ven doctors in Poland. A large percentage of the doctors have been killed in the war and the medical schools have been virtually closed for several years. As a result medical attention is extremely scarce. The Jewish hospitals, once plentiful and up to date, are in a terrible state of demoralization."

"I have seen major operations performed without anesthetics. In addition to the suffering that it entails, the work of a surgeon, without surgical training, is not to be regarded as an essential. The patient is supposed to be under the knife."

FORMER PRESIDENT IS BURIED TUESDAY

Mrs. Olivia Brohawn Hears Reaper's Call At Gaffney, S. C., And Is Brought Home To Rest.

The news of the death of Mrs. Olivia Brohawn of Baltimore, formerly of Salisbury, reached this city on Monday morning.

Mrs. Brohawn died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mollie Garrett, in Gaffney, S. C. The deceased was 82 years of age and prior to her death had made her home with her daughter, Miss Gussie Brohawn, in Baltimore. Her remains were brought to Salisbury on Tuesday and interred in Parsons cemetery. The burial service was conducted by Dr. Joseph T. Herson and the pall bearers were: William P. Ward, C. J. Birekhead, Samuel P. Woodcock, H. S. Todd, W. E. Dorman, J. R. Laws and H. W. Carty.

Mrs. Brohawn was a splendid woman of strong Christian character and a life long member of the Methodist Episcopal church. She was the wife of the late John Brohawn who conducted a dry goods store in this city until the year 1879 and was one of the prominent business men in this section.

The deceased is survived by the following children: Miss Gussie Brohawn of Baltimore, who was a former school teacher in this county; Mrs. Howard H. Kroh of Baltimore; Mrs. Mollie Garrett and Mrs. Floyd Baker of Gaffney, S. C. The deceased had many friends in this community who extend their sympathy to the children in the hour of their bereavement.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

THE WICOMICO NEWS

SALISBURY, MD.

Published Every Thursday at Salisbury, Wicomico County, Maryland by THE NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1919.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

There is perhaps no more joyous season in the entire secular year than the Thanksgiving time.

It is the season when we can sit back, relax as it were, after a spring, summer and fall of hard work and count up our profits. It is the season which heralds the advance of winter with its jolly Yuletide.

But best of all, it is the season of gratitude—the season when we turn our faces toward God and express to him our thanks for the benefits which we have received at his hands—for no matter how great our own efforts, success could not have attended us, except by His will and through His graciousness.

The American people have much this year to be grateful for. The nation was never so prosperous as it is today. Its working men are employed at good wages and their employers are receiving good prices and good profits from their products; the farmers have had unprecedented crops at abnormally high prices.

The prospects for continued prosperity are bright. It is true that the war cast a cloud over us for a time, but our valiant soldiers and sailors soon dispelled the gloom of war and brought bright victory to alight upon our banners.

The Thanksgiving season this year should be a thanksgiving indeed. There is no room and no occasion for sad thoughts this year. There is room only for gladness and joy; and there is no better way of expressing that gladness and that joy than by thanking God for the benefits we have received.

Today, Thursday, has been set apart for that purpose. Let us all, as a community do our duty as Christians!

THE CRIES OF THE LITTLE CHILDREN.

A man never feels so well pleased with himself, as when he has made some little sacrifice for the benefit of some other person or persons. It is one of the joys of giving, this sensation of self gratification.

This is the Thanksgiving season. The United States is experiencing one of the most prosperous eras in its history. Its storehouses are well filled, its people well supplied with money, and everyone is happy and contented.

But across the seas, while we Americans are rolling in our war-created wealth and enjoying our high salaries, there are six millions of our fellow human beings starving. Men, women and little children are crying aloud for bread and clothing. Hundreds of them are dying every day for the want of food and shelter.

Those people are the Jews of Poland and of eastern Europe.

Among the most highly respected and the most thoroughly progressive people of these United States, are its hundreds of thousands of Jewish citizens—people of the same blood as flows in the veins of those starving millions across the deep waters.

These thousands of American Jews are deeply and sincerely patriotic. They love this, their promised land. Their very religion teaches them to love the country which shelters them, and which they rightly and justly call home.

During the war but recently ended, they gave of their money and they gave as freely of their sons in the cause of humanity and liberty. The fields of Flanders and the Argonne forest lands have been sprinkled with the life blood of many an American Jew.

And now, with millions of their kinsmen in Europe starving, freezing, crying aloud for bread and clothing and homes, these good American citizens, the Jewish people of the United States, are asking for funds with which to aid that starving host.

Will the people of America, will the people of Salisbury and of Wicomico respond?

They will!

They will not forget how the American Jew has used his money for the promotion of industry in this country. They will not forget how he has contributed lavishly of his funds that America might win the war against the hosts of tyranny and autocracy. They will not forget those Jews who under the banner of the Stars and Stripes fought, bled and died that America and her allies in the war, might win. They will not forget those sorrowing Jewish homes in this country which so willingly and so proudly gave of their sons to fight and defeat the enemies of their home land. They will not forget the anxious moments, the sleepless nights spent by the mothers of those American-Jewish heroes who went across the seas to fight and die for liberty.

Will the people of Wicomico respond to the call of the needy Jews across the water?

They will; and their response will be generous.

Wicomico will have no trouble in raising its quota of $8,300 of the million dollars to be raised in this state for the benefit of the starving kinsmen of America's Jewish residents.

The people of this city, this county, this state, this nation will hear and heed the call of those little children, those broken-hearted mothers and fathers.

The American people will do their part again as they have done it before; and in the doing of their part, they will experience once again that sensation which comes with the doing of every good deed—a self gratification which is but a glimpse of Heaven.

The Thanksgiving season is here. America has much to be thankful for; but it can be thankful for nothing so much as for the great prosperity which has come to the nation and its people—a prosperity which makes it possible for every man, woman and child in these United States to help their less fortunate Jewish brothers and sisters in Europe who now beg and plead for America's aid.

THE MECCA FOR XMAS SHOPPERS.

Salisbury, because of its excellent retail stores, their big stocks and courteous treatment is a real Mecca for Christmas shoppers this season.

Even though the Thanksgiving season has not yet fully passed, the spice of Christmas is already in the air, and people are already hustling and bustling about their holiday purchases.

Salisbury's shopping centers are offering what appear to be unusual opportunities for purchasing holiday merchandise, and the people of the entire peninsula realizing this are early embracing those opportunities.

Salisbury buyers are urged to do as much of their buying as possible in the forenoon, so that the local sales forces may have a better opportunity to serve that great host of shoppers who are coming daily to this city for their holiday purchases.

BIG POULTRY SHOW IN BALTIMORE

December 2 to 6 Are The Dates For Great Exhibition In Fifth Regt. Armory. 4,000 Entries.

The poultry and pigeon show, with fowls, rabbits, and other pet and utility stock included, to be held at the Fifth Regiment armory, December 2 to 6th, is expected to be the finest show of its kind ever held in Baltimore and in some respects greater than that at the Madison Square Gardens in New York. The heartiest kind of co-operation has been given by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and other departments of the government. Aside from many entertainment features the show is distinctly educational and on that account there will be no war tax on tickets. From 600 to 700 prizes will be offered and these prospects of reward have helped to bring out the 4,000 entries.

The effort will be made to impress the visitors at the show with the urgent importance of raising more poultry and producing more eggs. The need for greater production from this state has been so clearly recognized that Maryland's Agricultural college and the U. S. government will try to make this the beginning of a new era in poultry raising in this state.

Every important variety of poultry is represented by birds worthy of the valuable prizes offered. Those entered in many classes have already won blue ribbons and hold high honors.

The American Barded Plymouth Rock club will hold its next annual meeting with the show. This fact has drawn the largest entry in the barred rock class that has ever been made in Baltimore.

White Wyandottes are also a large class. Rhode Island Reds are strongly represented in numbers and quality. There are many breeders of Reds in Maryland and they will find fanciers of other states, strong competitors. There are good entries in nearly all the breeds of poultry, geese, ducks, and turkeys.

The attractive bantam family is great in number and quality. In this class are many Maryland breeders among them some ladies and boys that have entered specimens which have already won blue ribbons and honors.

The entries of pigeons makes a new record. Nearly 2000 specimens of high quality of 40 varieties are in the lists. Baltimore was once credited with being the banner city for pigeon fanciers. Perhaps history will repeat itself. A dozen or more states are included among the entries. George O. Brown is president of the association, Joseph W. Shirley, vice-president, J. W. Harvey, treasurer, and Fred H. Thayer, secretary.

THE ADVANTAGE.

"Some of the German aristocrats seem to object to a saddler as the head of the government."

"A saddler ought to be able better than most men to work well in harness."

NO SACRIFICE FOR STYLE.

"What a pity this hasn't been a hot summer."

"Why so?"

"It is very hard on the girls who have been wearing their summer furs."

CRITICISM.

"That fellow isn't worth his salt."

"I wouldn't say that exactly, but I will say that he surely isn't worth the price of beefsteak and potatoes nowadays."

Proceeds Of Annual Sale To Be Used To Fight Great White Plague In Wicomico County.

During the year in which the United States was actively engaged in the world war 67,882 Americans, soldiers, sailors and marines were killed, or died from other causes.

In this same period 150,000 American men, women and children were killed here at home by most deadly of all plagues, tuberculosis. Sixty-eight persons out of this number were given by Wicomico county.

Tuberculosis is a preventable disease and a curable disease if taken in its early stages.

In this community a fight should be made for its prevention and cure. Wicomico county now has a nurse, under the Red Cross, who will be of great assistance in the work of prevention by helping to educate groups as to their danger and how to avert it.

Community work is absolutely necessary to continued progress in the campaign against tuberculosis. The National Tuberculosis association is co-operating in the work which this county and every other community is trying to do for its people.

This organization is financed mainly through the sale of Red Cross seals. The work is well under way and is sure to succeed if the individuals in each community will do their share.

The Red Cross Christmas seals may be obtained at the newsstands and drug stores in Salisbury.

TWO RESIDENCE PROPERTIES ARE SOLD

S. Franklin Woodcock has sold the handsome property on Camden avenue, formerly belonging to Mrs. Libby Phillips, to Woodland Richardson, manager of the Mitchell & Goslee Hardware Co., who will occupy same.

Mr. Woodcock also sold Mr. Richardson's property located on Light street, to William Bradshaw of Smith's Island.

PICTURE FOR BENEFIT OF GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Mabel Normand will appear in "The Jinx," a great circus picture at the Arcade theater tomorrow night. The picture performance is to be given for the benefit of the Salisbury grammar school and a full house is expected.

PRETTY WEDDING IN NORFOLK VA.

Levin Claude Bailey of Salisbury and Miss Irma Aurelia Porter are Wed Thursday, November 20.

Epworth Methodist church, in Norfolk, Va., was the scene of a large assemblage of guests on Thursday night to witness the marriage of Miss Irma Aurelia Porter to Levin Claude Bailey, of Salisbury, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock by Rev. Samuel T. Senter, pastor of the church.

The altar was decorated with palms, white chrysanthemums and cathedral candles. Preceding the ceremony an elaborate musical program was rendered by J. J. Miller, and the wedding marches were sung by the boy choir of Christ Episcopal church.

Just before the bridal party entered the church Mrs. E. Homer White sang "O Promise Me."

The bride entered the church with her father, John Buxton Porter, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a gown of bridal satin embroidered with pearls and made with a court train. Her veil of tulle was arranged with a wreath of pearls and orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and snap-dragons.

Mrs. Charles Lunsford, Jr., of Petersburg, the bride's matron of honor, wore a gown of white satin combined with tulle and a hat of white tulle. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

The bride's cousin, Miss Ruth Price, of Salisbury, was the maid of honor. She wore a frock of pink moonlong satin with a picture hat of pink tulle, and her flowers were pink chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Misses Clara Helen Porter and Helen Brent, of Portsmouth, cousins of the bride; Mattie Bailey, of Salisbury, the bridegroom's sister; Anna Bronaugh Jones and Kathryn Burke.

They wore frocks of white georgette crepe made with wide girdles of pink taffeta and picture hats of pink tulle. They carried arm bouquets of chrysanthemums to correspond with their costumes.

Little Miss Lella White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Homer White, of Salisbury was the flower girl. She wore a lingerie frock of white batiste trimmed with lace and pink ribbon, and she carried a French basket of pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom had as his best man Richard H. Hodgson, of Salisbury, and the ushers were S. Franklyn Woodcock, of Salisbury; Virgil D. Proctor, Clarence Lance, W. R. Butcher, Frank Amis Lusch and Henry A. Hornthal, of Georgetown university.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Buxton Porter, and a grand-daughter of the late naval constructor, John L. Porter, who designed and constructed the ironclad Merrimac of Confederate fame.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bailey, of Salisbury. He has recently returned from overseas, where he served during the war as a captain in the United States army.

Following the marriage there was a reception at which were present only the families, out-of-town guests and the bridal party.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Bailey left for a wedding trip south, and on their return they will reside at 105 Walnut street, Salisbury, where the bridegroom is practicing law.

The out-of-town guests included: Judge and Mrs. Joseph L. Bailey, ex-Congressman Jesse D. Price, Mrs. Price and Miss Ruth Price, Richard H. Hodgson, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. E. Homer White, little Miss Lella White, and Miss Mattie Bailey, of Salisbury; Mrs. Charles E. Hughes, of Asheville, N. C.; Miss Reamey Hamlin, of Danville; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McNeil, of Savannah, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lunsford, of Petersburg, and S. Franklyn Woodcock, of Salisbury.

BRIDAL PARTY IS ENTERTAINED

S. F. Woodcock and R. H. Hodgson of Salisbury Head Brilliant Affair in Norfolk, Va., Thursday.

S. Franklyn Woodcock and Richard H. Hodgson, of this city, entertained Wednesday evening at a dinner given at the Monticello hotel in Norfolk, Va., following the rehearsal for the marriage of Miss Irma Aurelia Porter to Mr. Levin Claude Bailey, of Salisbury, which took place Thursday evening.

Covers were laid for 16 and the guests present, who included the members of the bridal party, were in addition to the bride and bridegroom: Mrs. Charles Lunsford, of Petersburg; Mrs. E. Homer White, Misses Mattie Bailey, Lella White and Ruth Price, of Salisbury; Anne Bronaugh Jones, Kathryn Burke, Clara Helen Porter, Helen Brent, Clarence Lance, Virgil D. Proctor, W. R. Butcher, Jr., Frank Amis Dusch and Henry A. Hornthal, of Georgetown university.

CITY ORGANIZED TO AID DESTITUTE MILLIONS

ery orphanage is full, and thousands of children are sleeping in the streets, and living on the scraps they get by begging—barefooted little bundles of rags, shivering and sobbing in the wind, who have forgotten the very taste of white bread and milk. Thousands of them cannot walk or stand, long-continued hunger has left them to weak. In Poland alone American Jewish Relief agencies fed 375,000 of these youngsters during the month of July, sent 27,000 of them to fresh air homes in the country, and gave hundreds of thousands of others milk at the milk stations. But it has not yet sufficient funds to care for them all. Twenty-five cents will buy for one of these youngsters more food than he has had at any one time for five years. Two hundred dollars will feed and clothe and house a lad or lassie for a whole year. The Jews of this country do not believe that the people of the United States will allow race or creed to weigh in the balance against the suffering of little children.

They are asking help from others for the Jews because the Jews have given help to others freely. In every campaign for relief funds for those of other nationalities, in every patriotic drive, the Jews have done their full share. In the United States they gave more than 200,000 young men to the Army, Navy and Marines during the recent war, a greater percentage than was contributed by any other element of the population. They did this freely and gladly, as they now urge others to give help to their people.

The people of Salisbury and throughout the county have been stirred to their deepest depths by the revelation of the astounding conditions among their Jewish brethren in Europe and the committee charged with the task of raising Wicomico's share of the amount to be contributed by the people of the entire nation, are meeting with encouragement and real help.

Levin Powell and Miss Maud Cathell of Fruitland were married Tuesday morning at 6.30 o'clock. They are spending their honeymoon in northern cities.

The ingenuity and the capacity of the toymakers has been taxed to the limit to satisfy juvenile America.

Here are to be found representatives of almost everything in Toydom from froggies to doggies—elephants large and elephants small, dollies short and dollies tall, engines that toot and guns that shoot, clowns that act like a funny loon and cows that may have jumped over the moon.

You will laugh and laugh and never pause, for this is the place of Santa Claus.

COME AND BRING THE CHILDREN.

One little doll or one little toy makes the whole world joyful for the little ones on Christmas morning.

OUR TOYLAND is a DELIGHTFUL PLACE to add to their pleasure of anticipation.

Gifts of Good Gloves

If you are going to give gloves (and there is no article more in demand for Christmas gifts) give good gloves.

We have, by long advance placing of orders, succeeded in gathering such a collection of good gloves, that all of our customers may select from with a full measure of satisfaction.

You are sure to find the glove here that will suit for that gift and of course the size, if it is not right can be adjusted after the gift is made—after Christmas.

The Spirit of Thanksgiving

(By E. Francis Ruark, Salisbury, R. F. D. 4).

"Mother, what does the 'Spirit of Thanksgiving' mean?" asked little Teddy Moore as he climbed up to his mother's lap. Mrs. Moore was hot and flushed from long bending over the stove, doing her Thanksgiving cooking, and had just dropped into the chair for a moment's rest.

"Why, dear, it means you should divide with others the blessings you have received during the year, and for which you should give thanks," Mrs. Moore explained. "Why do you ask?"

"Well," Teddy answered, "I heard some people talking 'bout it, and I a'rst sister what it meant, an' she told me it meant to git out'er her way, an' stay away, an' then I a'rst-bru-ver, an' he was busy and told me it meant to stop worryin' him with questions, an' skiddoo to the house. So I a'rst you."

Mrs. Moore smiled and said, "No Teddy, it means just what I told you it did." But with his last words Teddy had slipped out of her lap, and gone into the kitchen, so her remark went unheeded.

Mrs. Moore sat there a minute longer, and then hearing her son's voice as if in earnest admonition, arose and went into the adjoining room, where, through the open door she saw her son seated beside the kitchen table. A saucer of milk was before him, and an old grey cat was being held by the neck, while Teddy addressed him as follows: "You old, sneaking, greedy thing, I'll teach you to slap my poor 'tittle kitty clear 'cross the room, jus' 'cause the poor thing wanted some milk! I'll skin you alive! Ain't you never heard of the 'spirit of Thanksgiving'?" You must 'vide w'ay others!"

At the close of this lengthy harangue, Teddy put the cat down with a parting shake, which sent it yowling through the open door, and went to console his kitten, which sat huddling in the corner, mewing dimly, and which Mrs. Moore had not at first seen.

"Why, Teddy," she remonstrated, "You shouldn't treat the poor cat so. You'll hurt him."

"That's jus' what I want to do," Teddy replied, "The idee! slappin' my poor 'tittle kitty like that! Is my poor 'tittle Tom hurt?" he questioned the kitten, which had now quite overed his hurt, and was singing very contentedly. Mrs. Moore now said she must be getting to work, and taking Teddy with her went out into the barnyard. They remained there getting vegetables and meats ready to cook, for perhaps a half hour, Teddy talking incessantly all the while. Mrs. Moore plucked the turkey and other fowl, while Teddy helped prepare the vegetables. He went to the pumpkin patch for a pumpkin, and while there, saw a frog which he conceived a sudden liking for. His mother had gone into the house when she sent Teddy after the pumpkin, and he forgot all about the passing of time in his mad chase after the frog, until he saw Mrs. Moore come out of the porch, and gaze off at him. He turned and walked back to the pumpkin patch with downcast eyes, and flaming cheeks. His mother had told him to hurry, as she wanted the pumpkin to make pies with. He supposed he would get a scolding. Oh! well, he should worry; and he nicked the pumpkin up, and started across the field towards the house.

As he drew near the house, breathing heavily, for the pumpkin was a load for such a little boy, he saw to his amazement that instead of the stern look he expected to see on his mother's face, there was a broad smile.

"Hurry, sonny," she called to him as he came closer, and he dropped the pumpkin by the porch steps, and went to where his mother was standing, by the kitchen door.

Mrs. Moore turned and pointed to the kitchen table.

There at it's foot stood the old grey cat and Teddy's kitten, drinking milk out of the same saucer, as amiably as though they had always been the best of friends.

"There, Teddy, you have at least shown one creature what the 'Spirit of Thanksgiving' means," said Mrs. Moore with an amused laugh.

BOND HOUSE TO HAVE HEADQUARTERS HERE

Well-Known Firm Of Dollings Company To Be Represented Here By Trio Of Hustlers.

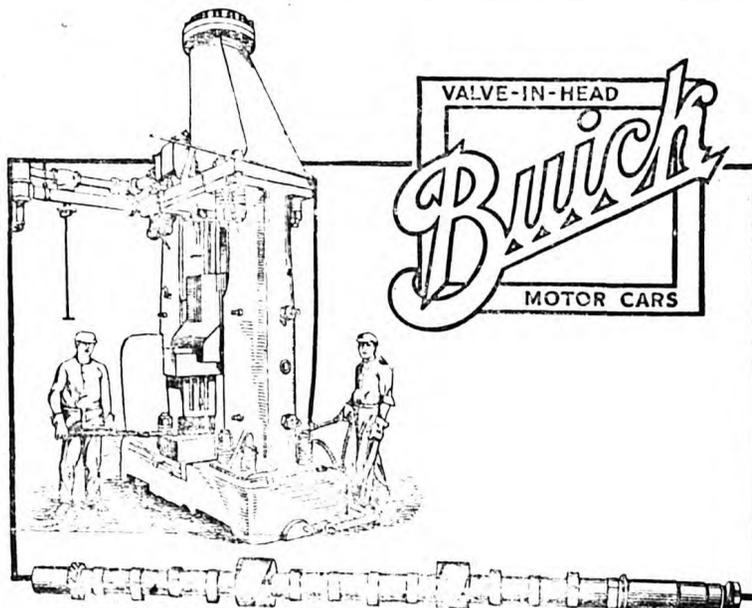

Another piece of this issue will be found a large advertisement of R. L. Dollings Company announcing the fact that the following gentlemen will represent the above firm in this city in the handling of their securities: Messrs. Chester C. Holloway of Worcester county, I. Linwood Price, Jr., and Arthur P. Atkinson. These gentlemen will have headquarters here and will have the territory of Wilcomico, Somerset and Worcester for the securities of Dollings Company. This well known banking house is said to have a clientele of more than 30,000 customers is rated as a $3,000,000 concern and advertises the fact that of all their big list of customers, not one has ever lost a dollar of interest or principal in the investment placed by this firm.

It is understood that Mr. Holloway has recently purchased property in this city at the corner of Smith and North Boulevard and that he will make some improvements in the residence and make it his future home.

The presence of such a banking concern in Salisbury will afford an opportunity to the people for the investment of surplus funds in many well known securities which the firm of R. L. Dollings Company advertise as returning at least seven per cent. on the investment, and it is believed that this new organization of young and energetic business men will be able to work up a very large business throughout the territory and that Salisbury will benefit by being the headquarters for the new enterprise. It is not known at present where the offices of the new business will be located.

BRIDGE PARTY A MOST ENJOYABLE SOCIAL EVENT

Mrs. W. U. Polk was the charming hostess at a delightful auction bridge party given at her home on North Division street in Salisbury on Friday afternoon. The house was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and five tables were arranged for the 20 guests present. Two prizes were presented. The first was won by Miss Alice Young of Pocomoke and the second by Mrs. Holmes of Chicago. After cards refreshments were served.

WHERE DOES THE "BOOZE" COME FROM?

Intoxication Seems to Have Been On Increase Here Last 30 Days.

IS IT BEING BROUGHT HERE BY BOATS ON RIVER?

Reports Say That The Department Of Justice Has Been Notified To Send Experts Here On The Job—Some Developments Looked For Soon.

A very serious question is being asked by the city fathers: "Where does the booze come from?" The answer to this question seems to be hard to puzzle out. That booze is coming in in fairly large quantities, no one will deny and during the past three weeks there have been more drinks peddled on the streets of Salisbury than in any other city in the State. It is reported that some of the present supplies of booze in Salisbury is being handled out. It is to be hoped that the authorities will finally find on the river and we will have a clean-up here which will have the effect of stopping the illicit sale of whiskey for all time to come.

suitcases, and peddled out after it reaches this city. There are several well-known former boot-leggers who have been under surveillance for the past two weeks by Department of Justice officials but up to the present time, they have been too slick to get caught but it is almost certain if the practice of bring booze into this city is continued, they will finally fall into the hands of the proper authorities. A certain "joint" in the lower section of the city has also been under observation for the past two weeks as it was reported that it was from this source that some of the present supplies of booze in Salisbury is being handled out. It is to be hoped that the authorities will finally find on the river and we will have a clean-up here which will have the effect of stopping the illicit sale of whiskey for all time to come.

THREE FIRES IN WEEK THE RECORD HERE

Alarm Sounded Monday, Wednesday And Friday Nights Of Last Week In Two Sections Of City.

Three alarms of fire was the record of the department in this city for last week. Monday night, the storehouse of L. A. Hall was destroyed with most of its contents and on Wednesday night, an alarm was turned in for a fire in southeast Salisbury, at the house occupied by William Brewington, painter. The rear portion of the building was totally destroyed but the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before the building was a total loss. Friday night, an alarm was turned in for a fire on Camden avenue in a building occupied by Jesse Goehrie as a residence. The department responded promptly and the blaze was soon extinguished without serious damage.

This is the season of the year when fires are more frequently occasioned by the putting in operation of cellar heaters and stoves, and it is a good time to call the attention of the people to the importance of having their heating apparatus and stove-pipe thoroughly examined so as to prevent unnecessary fires during the winter. The department is on the alert for any such fires and will respond promptly to any alarm.

Miss Mary Anne Roberts, formerly of Wicomico county, surprised her nephew Maurice Phillips, upon his arrival in New York to visit Dr. W. T. Truitt by taking him to the ball given in honor of the Prince of Wales, by Mr. and Mrs. Rodman Wannamaker, last Friday evening, November 21.

THOUGHT PILLS WERE GAVEY

German Youths Had Something to Learn Concerning the Effect of Cocaine.

Under British administration in occupied Germany a great deal of responsibility falls on the German master. When his authority breaks down or when there are breaches of his regulations, a military court tries the cases and imposes fines of various amounts. There are a good many cases of theft and of food pilfering.

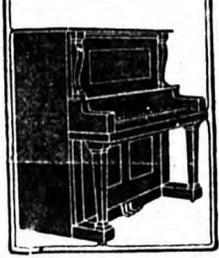

One amusing case of theft in which the punishment fitted the crime came under my notice, says Bishop Probstman in the Cornhill Magazine. A sapper complained to his commanding officer that a parcel of his that had lately arrived from England had been opened, and that some cakes and a bottle of sugarcated cascara pills had been removed.

The owner of the billet, a stout laborer, was promptly interrogated. He denied with tears all knowledge of the theft. His wife, also in tears, claimed her innocence. The five children howled out their innocence. All matter associated with the theft. Then an old man, a neighbor, stepped forward and said: "When I had heard of this, I went to the market and bought a few thought pills. I had eaten the pills, and I had been in the market when the parcel was opened. I had seen the parcel and I had seen all the things that were in it. I had seen the cakes and the pills. I had seen everything."

JUST AN ORDINARY

"What I had seen was one big parcel, and I had seen everything." "You had seen everything, didn't you?" "I had seen everything, didn't you?" "I had seen everything, didn't you?" "I had seen everything, didn't you?"

RUSSIA AS SEEN BY WICOMICO OFFICER

A Request From Lieut. Brady Dayton For Copies Of The Wicomico News In Far-off Russia.

SAYS CONDITIONS ARE CRITICAL IN CAUCASUS MOUNTAINS.

Is Forced To Send Turkish And Armenian Money To The News Editor Because Of Lack Of United States Funds In The Bolshevik Country.

The following very interesting letter was received by the editors of the News from Lieut. Brady Dayton, a former Wicomico county man who enlisted for service at the beginning of the war and was given a commission in the United States navy. Dayton had formerly been an enlisted man in the navy but had served out his term and had returned to his home in Bivalve where he was appointed postmaster and for sometime operated the bus line from Bivalve to Salisbury and attended to his duties as postmaster at the former place. When the war broke out, he saw his opportunity and was one of the first men to enlist in the Naval Reserve and very quickly received a commission because of his former experience in the service. Brady has occupied some very important positions in the service and is now stationed in far-away Russia, and from that point writes the following letter to the editors of the News with whom he is personally well acquainted.

U.S.S. Cole, (155) Destroyer. Batoum, Russia, On the Black Sea.

The Editor of The News: Please find enclosed one dollar and fifty cents, ($1.50) for one year's subscription to the News.

You may date my subscription back for two months and send me the old copies if you have any.

I have been in Southern Russia and Turkish Armenia since last of July and a copy of the News will be very much appreciated.

I have only one dollar of United States money, so am sending the fifty cents in Russian and Turkish.

The value of a ruble today is about two-thirds of a cent. After I have finished with your papers I will pass them on to the Bolsheviks and let them see a paper from a real Democracy, (Maryland).

It looks as though conditions out here this winter are going to be very critical, for in some parts of Russia sugar is selling for one hundred rubles per pound.

Unless good American food is sent out here in large quantities all thru the winter there will be thousands of deaths from starvation in the Caucasus Mountains. We have at present aboard the Cole four boys and two girls whom we are feeding who are all alone in the world and whose relatives have all been killed, and there are thousands of others out here who are in the same condition.

Most all of the old Russian nobility are refugees now in ports on the Black Sea and have nothing left from the old life but a few jewels and costly furs which they are selling from time to time to get food.

The docks here in Batoum, Russia, are piled high with American food which is being distributed to Armenians and if the supply is kept up many lives will be saved.

About a month ago I ran across a fine ship loaded with relief food and flying the American flag in Samsun, Armenia, and on going aboard her found that her captain was from Wicomico county (Capt. John Mumford) formerly of Bivalve, Maryland, also ran across another Marylander doing relief work up on the Caspian Sea. Wherever things are happening Marylanders are always to be found.

Last week I was in Novorassisk, Russia, one of General Denekins ports of supply; talked with several men from the front who are fighting in the volunteer army and even though they are being a great many men the Bolsheviks are being slowly driven from Southern Russia.

If the Volunteer Army can get supplies and clothing this winter spring will see the last of the Red Army.

There are four fast American destroyers based on Constantinople that make regular trips between Salonica in Macedonia, Turkish Armenia and Russian ports on the Black Sea bringing out refugees and carrying relief workers from port to port.

To see an American destroyer steaming through the Dardanelles at a speed of 35 knots; big cargo steamers at anchor in Constantinople, and a little house high up in the Caucasus; all flying the American flag and American girls distributing food to the hungry, makes one feel that America has come to feel what a wonderful country she is and has set out to make the world think the same.

In remitting the $1.50, which is the foreign subscription price to The Wicomico News, Lieut. Brady has stated in his letter, sent United States money and the rest was made up of Russian Bolshevik and Armenian notes, which are really a curiosity. One of them is a Georgian 10-ruble note originally worth $5.50, but at the present time is valued at 7 cents. This shows the rapidity with which the Bolshevik has destroyed not only Russia but its currency as well. Lieut. Brady has written across the face of this paper money the present value and its former worth, which makes a very interesting story.

K. OF P. PROGRAM A BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Each One Of Friday Night's 17 Entertainment Numbers Wins Well Merited Applause.

Nearly two hours of unadulterated enjoyment were afforded all of those many people of Salisbury and vicinity who attended the Entertainment DeLuxe given under the auspices of Salisbury lodge No. 56, Knights of Pythias on Friday night at the Arcade theater.

While every one of the program's 17 numbers merited the enthusiastic applause which greeted it, the high lights of the evening were the dances presented by the Misses Mary and Henrietta Sommerkamp. These young ladies, as dancers, rank with the professionals of the day, and to Salisbury's corps of entertainers they are an acquisition of great value. Each one of their solo and duet numbers was endorsed, and each one of their five different costumes was greatly admired.

The Bryan Song Birds, little Billie and Helen Bryan, aged four and three years respectively, furnished another of the red letter events of the evening. These little folks simply captivated the big house, with their sweet childish mannerisms, their dainty costumes, and their excellent voices. The little Song Birds furnished an eveningful of entertainment, by themselves.

But though this is the fact, there were many other numbers each one of which, of its own merits won sincere appreciation and applause.

F. M. Sommerkamp in a humorous reading dispelled whatever doubts his audience might have had to his right to the title of "The Orator of the Southland," and in an all too brief number gave to the program a tinge of the spice of real humor, a seasoning it would have lacked but for his very successful effort. In a more serious vein, Mr. Sommerkamp told of the kindness of the Salisbury press in aiding the cause in which the evening's program was given, and bespoke for the local K. of P. lodge, its gratitude for the assistance given by the newspapers of Salisbury.

The program of the evening was presented without hitch or falter and every number was well and deeply appreciated.

The program in full was as follows: Pine Organ Prelude, Billy Heaton; accompanists, Misses Emma M. Faulkner, Jean Dashiell and Nellie Sheppard, George R. Cobb. Duet dance, La Mancha, Misses Mary Sommerkamp, Henrietta Sommerkamp; song, There is a Land Beyond the Rainbow, Male chorus of Salisbury Young Men's association; Vocal solo, A May Morning, Mrs. Horace M. Clark; Solo dance, The Swallow, Miss Henrietta Sommerkamp; Vocal solo, A Sentinel Am I, Charles M. Paul; Duet dance, A Soldier's Dream, Misses Mary Sommerkamp, Henrietta Sommerkamp; Duet, The Bryan Song Birds, Billie Bryan, Helen Bryan; Violin solo, Andante, Ch de Beriot, William Welelin; Vocal solo, Anchored, Percy Dashiell; Solo dance, The Glow Worm, Miss Mary Sommerkamp; Vocal solo, Give a Man a Horse he Can Ride, William A. Sheppard; Solo dance, Valse Petite (Toe), Miss Henrietta Sommerkamp; Humorous reading, F. M. Sommerkamp; Duet dance, Verona minuet, Misses Mary Sommerkamp, Henrietta Sommerkamp.

FIRE DESTROYS POCOMOKE HOUSE

Frame Building In Business Section Of City Threatens Many Small Wooden Structures Tuesday.

Fire destroyed the home of James B. Townsend on Clarke avenue in Pocomoke early on Tuesday morning. The blaze is supposed to have been caused by a defective flue. The loss to the property is estimated at $4,500. The Townsend home is located in a section of Pocomoke which is thickly settled with small wooden business buildings, and it was feared for a time that this entire section of the city would be wiped out.

MISS KATIE KELLY RETURNS

—Mrs. Catherine Kelly has returned to her home in Chance after a visit here with her daughter, Mrs. Leva Bennett.

SALISBURY TO GET LARGE PAINT FACTORY

Two Locations now Under Advise ment And Selection Will Be Made Within The Next Two Weeks.

Salisbury is to have a large paint factory. The first intimation of this new addition to our manufacturing concerns was published in the News the latter part of October just after the demonstration on East Main street of the fire-resisting qualities of the Gibraltar Paint. At that time, Mr. Theron A. Gould, head of the Gibraltar Paint & Varnish Company was in Salisbury and was so much impressed with the city that he took up with some of our business men the formation of a company to establish a paint manufacturing concern in the city, which received their hearty endorsement at once. Returning to his home at Franklin, Mass., Mr. Gould went more thoroughly into the question and on his return here last week, he definitely decided to proceed with the enterprise at this point.

It is the intention of Mr. Gould to interest some of our merchants in the enterprise simply to give it a local cast, but there is plenty of money behind the concern and in conversation with the News reporter last Thursday, Mr. Gould said that he had definitely decided to go ahead with the proposition but that he had not yet finally determined whether he would erect a building for the purpose or would rebuild a structure here which has been offered him. At any rate Salisbury is to have a paint manufacturing concern which will grow to a very large business in a very short time. It is proposed to manufacture the Gibraltar Fire-resisting paints and varnishes, fire-proofing and water proofing, and in fact, all the products which are now manufactured by the parent concern at Franklin.

Mr. Gould is intensely interested in Salisbury as a growing community and says he believes it is destined to be a very large city in the future. He recognizes the importance of Salisbury as a distributing point for any kind of commodity used in the daily life of the people of the peninsula, and says that here he can establish a paint factory and distribution station by which he can reach a very large area of territory at a very much cheaper overhead than he can by manufacturing these goods at Franklin, and it is believed that after Mr. Gould gets his new establishments thoroughly going, that he will enlarge it year by year as the necessity requires until finally, Salisbury is likely to have one of the big paint manufacturing concerns of the country.

As this is an entirely new enterprise and one never before attempted in this city, it will add very largely to our commercial importance and our business men will no doubt hail with delight the coming of Mr. Gould with his new business and our Business Men's association will do everything in its power to aid him in getting the kind of labor he needs and in helping to effect the proper transportation rates, territory and everything else entering into the success of the enterprise.

Mr. Gould will return to Salisbury within the next few weeks preparing to go ahead with his project, and in the meantime, the whole scheme is being worked out on a comprehensive basis for the establishment of the business here.

TICKETS AVAILABLE FOR FRIDAY'S LECTURE

If any member of the Business Men's association has failed to receive a card for the N. C. R. lecture on Friday night they can obtain same by calling on I. L. Benjamin or Augustus Toadvine.

IN MEMORIAM

SMITH—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear son, Alfred M. Smith, who departed this life one year ago, November 28, 1918.

One long year, Mother's been weeping For the sudden loss of my dear boy; But I feel the time will soon come When sorrow will turn to joy.

When the heavenly gates are open, and the hinges turn for me; There will be a happy meeting, For my dear son and me.

When our sorrows will be over, God will turn it into joy; For he knows my heart's been broken Since I lost my darling boy.

By his heart-broken MOTHER. Nov. 27-11. pd.

Editorial Comments of Live Local Subjects

GENERAL RITCHIE WILL HAVE HIS CHANCE.

Probably no man has been elected Governor of Maryland on either the Democratic or Republican tickets in the past 25 years who has had a better opportunity to demonstrate his determination to carry out his party platform to a finality than has General Albert C. Ritchie, the new Governor-elect. No campaign in Maryland during these years was fought out on a more strenuous or determined line of action by both the old parties. The issues were very stirred up and much stress was laid upon what the future held out for the taxpayer and the people generally as the result of this election. Among the things which were brought noticeably to the front was the Merit System of which the platforms of both parties had considerable to say and of which the candidates themselves dwelt upon to some length during the campaign. There is little doubt that the closeness by which General Ritchie was elected was due in a large measure to the fact that the voters were more discriminating in their attitude towards candidates at the last election than for many years past, and this fact will put it up squarely to Mr. Ritchie to live up to his obligations as set forth in his Party platform and to give Maryland a real Merit System in the transaction of the public business in this State during his four years of Governorship.

That General Ritchie will have to tackle a herculean task, no one for a moment doubts. For almost a generation, certain well-known names have been connected with office holding among the Democrats of the State in an almost unbroken continuity, and as everybody knows when these office holders once get their teeth firmly fixed in the public maul, they are extremely hard to dislodge, but if General Ritchie proposes to give Maryland a real Merit System it will be necessary for him to start in and dislodge several hundred office holders in this State whose names have almost become household words because of the length of service at the public crib. Unless General Ritchie has the courage to first dislodge this horde of office holders whose chief pursuit is the drawing of their monthly salaries, with very little service to the people of the State, it will be impossible for him to establish a Merit System which has any merit in it as far as the people are concerned. Hence, the almost giant task which General Ritchie will have to tackle at the beginning of his administration.

There are certain counties in Maryland, especially on the Eastern Shore in which State positions,—good fat jobs—have been handed out to a certain coterie of office holders for so many years as to give these worthy gentlemen an almost recognized ownership over these offices and yet, no one will dare for a moment to express the opinion that these same gentlemen would in any manner fit in with a true Merit System for Maryland. Their long tenure of office has made them dictatorial and a bull terrier will be as easy to shake off as will the grip of this class of office holders on the offices they have occupied for so many years. And yet, if General Ritchie proposes to live up to his campaign promises, one of his first duties will be to have a house-cleaning, and if he does this as he should, the counties of Queen Anne, Kent, Dorchester, Caroline and Worcester will be strewn with the carcasses of de-throned politicians; and whether or not General Ritchie will be able to withstand the howl which will go up from these worthy statesmen and their friends is a question too hard for us to answer.

There is little doubt that if General Ritchie is determined to give Maryland the kind of an administration which the people desire that it will be necessary to abolish about 40 per cent. of all the offices now in effect in this State, disband half the special commissions created during the past three or four Legislatures, and combine many of the worthless jobs into one real department which could probably be administered by at least 50 per cent. less men on the payroll, and if in his first message to the Legislature, General Ritchie comes out squarely for such a movement in the interest of the taxpayers and follows it up by the appointment of men of real merit to hold office under the Merit System, then he will have lived up to his opportunity and the people of Maryland will feel that a new day is dawning for those who have to delve into their pockets to pay the taxes for the expenses of the State.

The closeness by which the Democratic Party in Maryland elected its State ticket and secured control of the Legislature in the recent election, is conclusive proof that the Party in the next 12 months will be on trial before the people and unless there is a decided change from the old system, the important election of next year at which not only Presidential electors must be chosen but members of Congress both for the Upper and Lower House selected, the result may prove very disastrous to the Democratic machine. There was a time when people forgot campaign promises as soon as the election was over, but times have changed, and voters are now blessed with better recollections and the Party which gains the victory on pledges and after the election forgets them, is the party which receives punishment at the hands of the electorate at the very first opportunity. There is no doubt that at the present time, the people are in the saddle, and will demand of their representatives which they elected to the State Government living fairly and squarely up to all the pledges made the people during the campaign. General Ritchie has his opportunity, but it remains to be seen whether or not he will grasp it. He certainly will not if he allows the old regime to have his ear in the appointments which he will be called upon to make. His only chance will be to take the reins in his own hands, clear away from former bosses, and give Maryland a real Merit System in the selection of the men to whom he will entrust the keeping of faith with the people.

FIRST ESTIMATE OF THE COST OF WAR

Figures Show The Staggering Sum of One Hundred & Eighty-six Billions.

U. S. SOLDIERS "CAPITALIZED VALUE" $4,720.

The Number Of Known Dead Is Placed At 9,998,771 And The Presumed Dead Is Estimated At 2,991,800—Both Estimates Considered Small.

The first comprehensive report on the "Direct and Indirect Costs of the War" has just been made by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. After taking each of the countries separately, those on both sides and then summarizing the total direct and total indirect costs, the report gives the direct cost $186,000,000,000,000, and states that the indirect costs "have amounted to almost as much more."

The capitalized value of soldier human life which is given among the "indirect costs" is placed at $33,551,276,250. The property losses are divided as follows:—

On land, $29,960,000,000; to shipping and cargo, $6,800,000,000. Loss of production is an indirect cost of the war which has meant to the nations $45,000,000,000. War relief added $1,000,000,000. The loss to neutrals through the indirect cost to them is placed at $1,750,000,000. The total indirect cost to all nations, those engaged in the war and the neutrals, is $151,612,542,500.

The report in estimating the "capitalized value of human life" fixes the worth of the individual at figures running from $2020 in Bulgaria, Turkey, Greece, Japan, Rumania, Serbia and several other countries up to $4720 for the United States, where the economic worth of the soldier to the nation, is placed at the highest.

In addition to the $33,551,000,000 given as the economic worth of those who lost their lives or were injured in actual warfare, an equal amount is allowed for civilian losses.

The number of known dead is placed at 9,998,771, and the presumed dead is estimated at 2,991,800.

ARE HEALTH AGENTS

Man Was Originated in This Country in 1908 by Miss Emily P. Bissell, of Wilmington, Del.

FIRST SALE YIELDED $3,000

National Tuberculosis Association, Which Sponsors Sale, Will Place 650,000,000 Seals on Sale to Finance the Fight Against Tuberculosis.

The Red Cross Seal—as millions of Americans know it to day, is an agent of happiness and health. It was originated in 1907 by Miss Emily P. Bissell, of Wilmington, Delaware, who learned through Jacob Illis of somewhat similar seals that were sold in Norway for the purpose of raising funds with which to fight tuberculosis.

Miss Bissell persuaded the American Red Cross to take up the idea with the result that seals were sold in a limited number of communities in 1908. The sale yielded a revenue of approximately $3,000. The Red Cross then decided to issue the seals each year and to turn the proceeds over to the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated societies for the purpose of financing the campaign against tuberculosis. The number of seals sold in America increased by leaps and bounds until in 1917 the total reached 180,000,000.

This year the seals are again on sale beginning December 1. More than half a billion seals have been printed for distribution to state and local agents. In addition to the seals "Health Bonds" in denominations ranging from $5.00 to $100.00 are to be sold in lieu of seals to large contributors, who do not send out a sufficient quantity of mail in December to make use of all the seals they would like to purchase. The combined quotas of all the state organizations call for more than $6,500,000 to carry out the intensive educational campaign being conducted by the National Tuberculosis Association and its 1,000 affiliated societies.

The intensive sale of these seals represents a practical demonstration of every lesson that has been learned regarding scientific distribution. Experts of the highest standing in sales management have co-operated to the extent of assuring those interested that every resident of the United States will have an opportunity to buy Red Cross Christmas Seals.

The work of these organizations, financed chiefly by the Red Cross Christmas Seal sale.

The untaught consumptive—one who does not know the rules of health, is an indefatigable spreader of the disease. Wherever he goes, he leaves behind him a trail of the deadly germs.

The National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated bodies have entered upon an intensive nationwide educational campaign. The campaign will be localized and within a short time there will be ample work for many thousands of volunteers.

The National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated bodies are financed largely by the annual sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals. To make possible the carrying out of this campaign, more than 650,000,000 seals will be offered for sale during the holidays. State and local tuberculosis associations have at hand valuable local data regarding the disease and actual conditions in the communities where they are located. The officers of these bodies eagerly welcome inquiries.

WORKERS NEEDED TO FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE

National Tuberculosis Association, Which Sponsors Red Cross Seal Sale, Is Conducting Intensive Educational Campaign.

A call for volunteers to fight under the standard of the National Tuberculosis Association and its 1000 affiliated bodies throughout the country against tuberculosis—humanity's most vicious foe—has been sounded.

A recent health survey, made by the experts of the National Tuberculosis Association, brought to light some startling statistics with regard to the prevalence of the disease. The findings of this survey have revealed a national menace, which must be eradicated. The figures show that each year 100,000 persons die of the disease and that there are approximately 2,000,000 cases of tuberculosis in the United States today.

The double barred Red Cross is seventeen years old this month. In October, 1902, the International Anti-Tuberculosis Association, then meeting in Berlin, adopted the cross as the emblem of the world-wide fight against tuberculosis. It was proposed by Dr. G. Scorsion, of Paris. It is a combination of the Croix de Lorraine and the cross of the Greek Catholic church. Both crosses are symbolic of clarity and help to humanity. Their combined features were selected and adopted as the symbol of the hope of civilization. Four years later, in 1906 the double barred Red Cross was carried into this country. It was in 1906 the National Tuberculosis Association was formed, and for the three intervening years the cross has been carried over the United States by the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated bodies, which now number one thousand.

When You Buy Poultry Feeds

Don't make it guess-work. You can eliminate the risk by our iron-clad guarantee. The money paid for Purina Chicken Chowder will be refunded if hens, when fed Purina Chicken Chowder with Purina Scratch Feed—the perfect balance for laying hens—as directed, do not lay more eggs than when fed with any other ration.

Most hens get too much grain, a large part of which goes into surplus yolks, which the hen absorbs. This makes the hen too fat and cuts down egg production. 100 lbs. of wheat, corn, oats and barley contain elements for 224 yolks, but only 154 whites. The feed of a laying hen should supply elements for both whites and yolks in equal quantity. Purina rations are rightly balanced. Based on Experiment Station tests, Purina Feeds contain the following:

Elements for Yolks	Whites
Purina Scratch Feed 247.49	142.11
Purina Chicken Chowder 192.05	232.25
Cor. Feed Ratio 429.54	424.66

Note the larger number and almost equal proportion of whites and yolks in the Purina balanced ration. Purina feeds are scientifically mixed and insure results. In Checkerboard Bag.

CURRENT NEWS CAUGHT ON THE FLY BY OUR REPORTERS

DENNIS AND JACKSON SEEM TO HAVE CINCH ON STATE TREASURERSHIP—GOVERNMENT SHOULD ACT QUICKLY TO CO-OPERATE WITH NEWSPAPERS—SENDS HOME HIS AMPUTATED LEG—POWDERED EGGS ARE REPLACING FRESH HEN FRUIT IN THIS COUNTRY.

It begins to look as if former State Treasurer John M. Dennis and present State Treasurer Wm. P. Jackson has a cinch on this office in Maryland. Mr. Dennis was chosen State Treasurer a few years ago under the Democratic administration and when the Republicans carried the State two years ago, former U. S. Senator Wm. P. Jackson was elected Treasurer, and now that the Democrats again have the Legislature, Mr. Dennis is back for re-election with every possibility of being chosen. These two well-known financiers while opposing each other politically are the best of friends socially, and are just at present having a contest as to the merits of their blooded cattle which is attracting attention not only in Maryland but throughout the country. A few weeks ago, the News had an article on a famous cow on the Homestead Dairy Farms of Senator Jackson and intimated that in a contest now going on, this cow of Senator Jackson would likely be the prize winner for Maryland and this comment seemed to disturb the Hon. John M. very much but reports received within the last few days from the Homestead Dairy Farms are to the effect that if Senator Jackson's famous Holstein holds out for a few more days, the predictions of the News that the animal would be the prize winner for Maryland is destined to be true. We understand that this famous cow in making a contest for the quantity of butter fat and milk produced each day in a year's trial, will show the cow has produced for every day a trifle in excess of three pounds of butter fat. It is not believed that former State Treasurer Dennis has anything on his famous farm which will outstrip this record, and while Mr. Dennis is likely to get Senator Jackson's scalp sometime in January, as far as the State Treasurership is concerned, he is likely to be disappointed in seeing Senator Jackson walk off with the blue ribbon in the contest for the best cow.

There Should Be Some Reciprocity.

During the strenuous times of the last four years in the United States, the newspapers of the country and especially the county newspapers have probably contributed as much to the success of the war and to the re-establishment of peace and prosperity than any other force at work during the same period. The sale of the Liberty Bonds, the War Savings Stamps, and the success of all the charitable movements which so contributed to the success of the war could not possibly have been put over had it not been for the power of the press, and even the most remote newspapers have contributed hundreds of columns of free advertising matter to the Government and is still contributing without fee or reward and will no doubt be called upon to continue this service for many years to come. And yet, notwithstanding this fact, the Government has done its level best to put thousands of small newspapers out of business by the enactment of postal laws and regulations in Congress and the fact that while other enterprises furnishing raw material during the war for many lines of business were put on a minimum charge for their product, most manufacturers of newspapers were allowed to run wild and charge exorbitant prices for their product which they are still doing and yet the Government failed to come to the relief of the newspapers. The Zone postal rates also contributed very largely to putting many small publications out of business and now, the newspapers are facing a bill offered in Congress to increase the second-class postage rates to as much as four cents per pound, which if passed, would mean death and destruction to at least 50 per cent. of the small publications throughout the United States.

If A Corpse Cost $5.00. How Much For A Leg?

One of the queerest pieces of freight ever transported on a steam boat was brought to Mt. Vernon, Somerset county, on one of its latest trips, by the steamer Virginia. It was the amputated leg of a man who formerly lived at Mt. Vernon, who had the misfortune of getting his leg cut off in an automobile accident in Baltimore. Being desirous of having his limb buried near his old home, he had the amputated limb properly boxed up and carried to the steamboat wharf to be shipped by freight to the destination. The purser was asked what the charge was on a corpse, and being told that the usual charge was $5.00, the relative of the injured man whose leg was being shipped objected, it is said to paying the full price of a corpse, as only the limb was being shipped and as no tariff sheets of any railroad or steamboat company had ever contemplated the shipping by freight of a portion of the human body, the purser was at a loss to know how to figure what proportion of the $5.00 should be paid on the dismembered limb. The leg was buried at Mt. Vernon after due ceremonies at the grave. This was probably one of the queerest shipments ever made over that steamboat line and the incident caused considerable comment among the passengers on the trip.

U. S. Cautions Against Eating Spoiled Foods.

Warnings and information that are intended to safeguard the public against the deadly bacillus botulinus—an organism that causes decay of meats, vegetables and fruits, and frequently brings death to consumers of such food—have been issued by the Department of Agriculture. It was the presence of this organism in canned olives and not the fault of the preservative process, the Department says, that caused the death of five persons in Detroit recently. The Department cautions against the preservation of any fruit, vegetable or meat that is not strictly fresh, and no food of any kind showing the least sign of decomposition should be even tasted. To break this rule of safety is to risk death, the Department says. There should be no attempt to salvage food that has spoiled. It should be destroyed. Cooking is said by the Department to be the best precaution when food is suspected. If the temperature of the jar, top and contents is raised to the boiling point—about 212 degrees, Fahrenheit—the toxin will be destroyed.

Powdered Eggs Being Used In Large Quantities.

The average man or woman living in the country where fresh eggs are always obtainable, have no idea of the large quantities of powdered eggs which are used by the city folks of the United States, and only recently, when the Government took occasion to stop the importation of these powdered eggs from China into this country was the fact so definitely known as to the quantity of these dried substitutes used by our people. Large quantities of powdered eggs are imported from China by American bakers. These include powdered white of eggs, powdered yolks and powdered whole eggs. These preparations are made by drying and powdering eggs as taken from the shells. In this form, eggs will keep for a long time, can be shipped economically and, when properly prepared from fresh eggs, can be used instead of "new" eggs in baking. Examination of egg powders imported from China showed that they contained zinc in quantities from a mere trace to a considerable content. Accordingly, many shipments were excluded from entry into this country. Investigation disclosed that the zinc in the egg powders was the result of the process of manufacture, in which zinc-lined trays or zinc belts were used in drying them.

Following the refusal of the American authorities to admit the egg powders in which zinc was found, Chinese manufacturers changed their processes to conform to American requirements. It is expected that they will soon be able to supply the demands for these products used in growing volume by bakers.

Airplane, Using Alcohol, Flies 129 Miles An Hour.

The Aerial Mail service of the Post Office Department reports a non-stop flight by an airplane carrying mail from Cleveland to Jersey City, a distance of 415 miles, using alcohol as fuel. The distance was covered in 3 hours and 25 minutes, the rate of speed being 129.6 miles per hour. The first 215 miles from Cleveland to Bellefonte, was made in 1 hour and 40 minutes. This flight was at the rate of 129 miles per hour. The purpose of the test was to determine how much more mileage it was possible to get out of alcohol as compared with high test gasoline. The results obtained are in keeping with the two months' flying on this synthetic fuel between New York and Washington. This was the longest non-stop flight ever made with an aeroplane carrying mail. The longest non-stop flights in the mail service heretofore have been the daily flights between Cleveland and Chicago, a distance of 225 miles. Paul J. Oakes, a regular air-mail pilot on the Cleveland-Chicago run, was the aviator in this record flight. The plane was a De Havilland-4, rebuilt by the Post Office Department and equipped with a Liberty 400-horsepower engine.

The Morris Plan

Something entirely new in this Community—yet it is in successful operation in more than one hundred cities throughout the United States.

The Morris Plan gives every one a chance to purchase electrical appliances and house wiring work on easy payments—different from the ordinary installment plans, in that no excessive amounts are added for carrying your account, and besides, your article is insured against loss by fire until final payment is made.

Here is an example of how the Morris Plan works. Suppose you desire an electric appliance, or wish a wiring job done costing, say $81.00; all that is necessary is $9.00 in cash upon making the purchase. The payments of $6.00 per month are extended over a year, which makes the article within easy reach of every one.

Call and let us explain what a valuable business proposition this is to you.

NEW NAVAL STATION AT ALEXANDRIA, VA.

That Will Cost A Million And A Half And Will Be Used For Manufacture Of Torpedoes.

The U. S. navy department is just about completing a naval station at Alexandria, Va., seven miles south of Washington on the Potomac river, for making torpedoes. The station is located just east of the old Carlyle house, where in 1765 was held the council between General Braddock, commander of the English forces in America and the governors of the five colonies, when plans for the concerted action against the French and Indian allies were discussed. Out of this meeting grew the determination to tax the colonies resulting in the War of the Revolution, 23 years later.

The station has two buildings of reinforced concrete. One building is used for a storehouse, office and power plant. The other building, is used as a machine shop. The station when completed will cost $1,500,000 and will employ 1,500 people. Captain William S. Miller, U. S. N., Naval Inspector of Ordnance, reported for duty the latter part of August, 1918 and has been in charge of the station ever since.

When the station is in full operation it will be possible to turn out eight torpedoes a day. The torpedoes are 21 inches in diameter, 22 feet in length, and are made up of 3,000 different parts. They require mechanics of the highest order to put the parts together, as some of the pieces which help to make up a torpedo are even smaller than some of the parts used in making a watch. The torpedoes are assembled and built at the station, and the explosives are placed in them after they have been accepted by the government and have left the station. In the machine shop there are 24 of the largest lathes in operation for boring and turning out flasks, which contain the compressed air used to propel the torpedoes. Each lathe is about 38 feet long, has a swing of about 24 inches and weighs about 12 1/2 tons. There are other lathes used in the machine shop from this size down to the smallest lathe used by jewelers in precision work.

Some of the parts used in the construction of these torpedoes are obtained from the Naval torpedo station at Newport and from the Washington navy yard, and assembled at the station to be made into torpedoes. The torpedoes, after they are completed, are taken to the station's range which is located down the Potomac river about 100 miles, near Pines Point and tested. The range is ten miles long and has two old type coast torpedo boats attached to it, together with a number of gasoline launches, which are used in testing the torpedoes. There are 150 men employed on the range. After the torpedoes are tested in the shop and on the range and accepted by the government they are then ready to be turned over to the destroyers.

The station has a wharf 310 feet long, 25 feet wide, with 15 feet of water at mean low water, where the destroyers can come along side and have the torpedoes delivered to them. There are also on this wharf two hand cranes for lifting the torpedoes from the station to destroyers. At the present time there are only about 100 men working at the station but the force will be increased at a rate of about 50 a month until the necessary number of employees is obtained.

RECRUITING OFFICER CONGRATULATES CITY

Says Salisbury Is Only Place in State Where 100 Per Cent. Of Recruits Have Passed Examinations.

The following letter written under date of November 17 to The News is self explanatory, and should be highly gratifying to every man and woman in Salisbury.

Dear Sirs:— Some time ago I wrote you a letter, saying that 11 men came up from Salisbury, of which number ten passed for the navy. That was an exceptionally high record and shows that the standard for the Salisbury boys is very high.

Today, four more Salisbury boys came in to enlist in the navy, one of whom was John W. Cavanaugh, who was the one who failed when the 11 came up some time ago. Therefore, Salisbury's records stand 14 applicants and 14 passed—a 100 per cent record. This is the best record for any town in Maryland, and it is the usual thing to have about 50 per cent. physical rejections.

I want to congratulate Salisbury upon this showing, and I wish that you would please give publicity to the fact that 14 out of 14 Salisbury boys successfully passed the rigid physical examination, and are now in the navy.

The results obtained in Salisbury have been so encouraging, that we intend in the next few weeks to open up a sub-station there, and to send two good men down there to work for us. We expect to supply good positions for young men from the Eastern Shore who are impressed and wish to make good.

To give one example of what we have to offer, John J. Gray, on recruiting duty here and who was lately in your city, will retire at the age of 34, in about three months, with a pension of over $80.00 per month. This means that if Gray lives to be 64 years of age he will have drawn $28,800.00 from the government, in addition to his regular pay while in the navy. This sounds too good to be true, but it is only one of the many cases where navy men retire at the end of 16, 20, or more years, with a substantial pension.

Very truly yours,
 P. V. H. WEEMS,
 Lt. Comdr., U. S. Navy,
 Maryland Recruiting Officer.

BACKING UP PROOF.

The Kind That Salisbury People Cannot Deny.

Many of our earnest Salisbury men or women have publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills.
Week after week, month after month you've read their statements. Would these Salisbury people recommend any medicine if it were not good?

Would they confirm and repeat their statements after years had passed? Local proof is good evidence. Testimony confirmed years after is better evidence.

The following Salisbury woman's statement leaves no room for doubt. It must convince every kidney sufferer who reads it.
If your back aches—if your kidneys are weak, profit by the experience of Mrs. Samuel E. Brittingham, 308 Elizabeth st. She says: "I was annoyed off and on for over a year by a sharp pain over my back and it always became worse when I caught cold or did much stooping. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mrs. Brittingham said: "I have had no further trouble from my kidneys since using Doan's Kidney Pills."

American Supply Trucks Come in When War Machines Drive Out.

Close on the heels of the Polish troops that recently captured the city of Minsk from the Bolsheviks after a long siege, went a record-making American motor truck corps with a big supply of American milk and American crackers for the thousands of children suffering from hunger and disease as a result of the fighting.

That expedition furnished a rare example of efficient relief work. Details concerning it, conveyed in reports received by the American Jewish Relief Committee, a constituent of the Joint Distribution Committee, show that the trucks had been waiting, loaded and ready, days before the fall of the city.

Dr. Boris D. Bogen, in charge of relief in Poland for the Distribution Committee, learned that in Minsk a large number of Jewish children, as well as other little folk, had been reduced to the verge of starvation by the investment of the city, and the generally deplorable conditions caused by the war; and he acted promptly. Day after day the trucks were kept in readiness for a dash into the place, and within five hours after the Polish Army had been victorious, distributing stations had been established and were in full operation.

American milk and American crackers were given out freely to all the needy little ones of Minsk. Conditions there were found to be terrible.

How quickly the starving, terror-stricken people sensed the difference between the military motor car of the invader and the food-laden automobile of the relief unit has been graphically described in reports which have reached the American Jewish Relief Committee.

During the five miserable years of war the hum of an approaching car meant but one thing—an armored car bearing troops or machine guns. In course of time the relief cars of the Joint Distribution Committee rolled into the battered villages, but it was a long time before the terrorized natives, hidden in their hovels, could be coaxed into the open. On many occasions it was necessary for the relief workers to sound whistles and horns to attract attention. After a while however, the people learned to understand the difference, and frequently the news that unit was passing through the country sped ahead from town to town. Then the greetings were pathetic. Often the miserable villagers wept aloud as the cars drew near.

The unkempt children of Lodz particularly touched the sympathies of the whole staff. For a time there was trouble in convincing the children that they were to be fed and not harmed. Finally won over, they ate ravenously. Then a woman worker handed to each child a cake of soap. Their astonishment would have been laughable were it not so tragic. Hunger and ignorance of what they had been given led the little folk promptly to try to eat it. They supposed the soap was food.

In the bakery windows were a few loaves of bread, and the hungry Jewish children, who live on a cup of soup a day from the American Jewish Relief Station, tantalize themselves with the sight of this food which they cannot get. They press against the windows, an uncanny crew, with old faces and unchildish eyes. The sight of the bread fascinates them. The warm fragrance of the bake-shop is wafted out to them when the door is opened. Those in front lick the bakery windows as if they are tasting the bread within. No poet could ever put into words the wistfulness of those famished children.

Feeding these children will be accomplished by prompt subscriptions to the non-sectarian appeal for funds which is being made throughout Maryland during Thanksgiving Week.

'OL' CLOES'

The ol' clo'es man is a high financier in Eastern Europe, and in Siberia, where a pair of second-hand shoes sell for fifty dollars, and where the cast-off clothes of an American Red Cross worker were lately appraised as being worth more than a thousand dollars.

American Jewish relief agents are constantly coming across destitute Jews wrapped in rags that they have not had off them once, day or night, in the last five years. Getting fresh clothes to them is quite as important as giving them food, now that the typhus epidemic is carrying them off by hundreds. Typhus is a disease which flourishes inevitably among these people who have no change of clothing, and who lack even soap for bathing.

Julius Levy, of Baltimore, Chairman of Executive Committee.

NOTHING 'SCRAPPED' HERE

From Thread To Oil Drums, Everything Is Used Again.

Eastern Europe is one part of the world today that understands the meaning of conservation in the grim sense of the word. Not a particle is wasted of any of the relief supplies sent from America by the Joint Distribution Committee of American Funds for Jewish War Sufferers. Garbage cans and dumps are unknown, naturally, in a region where 6,000,000 Jews are at the point of starvation. Typical of the extreme thoroughness with which these people utilize everything today was the use recently made of shipment of flour sent to Eastern Europe by Jewish relief agencies.

The flour itself was used to feed destitute Jews at the soup kitchens. None of the white flour sent from America is made into bread as yet. It goes further stirred into the soup is used at the Jewish Relief Stations. In order to make sure that not one atom of the flour was going to waste, the seams were ripped from the sacks, which were then shaken over the soup receptacles. The next thing put to use was the cloth of the sacks themselves. There is practically no cotton or linen in Eastern Europe today, and every scrap of cloth is utilized.

The great lack of cotton goods is causing a terrible epidemic of skin diseases.

The cans in which oil is sent are turned to many uses, ranging from hot chocolate containers to sheet-iron stoves. Now that the epidemic of typhus is such a menace in Poland, where there are 100,000 cases, and throughout Eastern Europe, the old cans serve as portable bath tubs, and the American Jewish Relief workers and Red Cross nurses are striving to combat the dread disease with cleanliness.

Patterning on the block houses that children build, some of the destitute are trying to solve their housing problem for the winter with the packing boxes in which relief supplies have been sent to them.

These stricken people look to America to relieve their distress. Every state in the Union will be asked to hold a drive for funds for such relief. Maryland's campaign is taking place this week. Thanksgiving is surely a fitting season to help those who have not our abundant reasons for returning thanks.

FIGHT LIKE WOLVES.

Famished Children Try To Tear Food From Those Being Fed.

Like the wolves that prowl in their own native forests, the famished Jewish children of Poland, orphans of war, hunt in packs in city streets for chance scraps of food, and when found like wolves fight over crusts and crumbs. American Jewish relief agents whose work carries them into the terrible slums of the Polish cities, tell heart-rending tales of the attempts of these children to delay what seems to be inevitable death from hunger.

"I happened to visit an orphanage," says the report of one worker, "at a time when they were distributing food among the children. There had been nothing to eat at this home for a full day, and the inmates of the orphanage were weak from hunger and overcrowding. But even before the cart with the supplies arrived word spread among the starving street children that bread was to be distributed. What I saw stopped the blood in my veins. Hundreds of these homeless and famished urchins crowded the street. They collected on the steps and crept into the corridors of the buildings.

At the beginning they only looked on; then they began to beg, and finally one snatched at the crust that a ravenous child was eating. With a rush, all the street children were within the room, clawing at the food and fighting with their teeth and nails—not loudly, but with grim and silent determination. The teachers were forced to drive off the pack that their own orphans might not lose the last bit of their food. One needs a heart of steel to see such sights as this."

But there need be no such sights as these if America responds generously to an appeal for funds to relieve these people, which is now being made. Maryland's drive will begin November 22 and last a week.

SOME OBSERVATIONS OF THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

A Suggestion For The Establishment Of County Demonstration Farm.

ONE COULD BE OPERATED AT GREAT PROFIT IN THIS CO.

Would Be A Wonderful Help To The Farmers And Help Solve Many Questions Of Rural Life Which Are Now Perplexing.

In conversation with a number of farmers, the Man About Town was impressed with the ideas suggested by one of the number concerning the establishment of a demonstration farm in Wicomico county. For some time past, many of the citizens of the country have been of the opinion that the County Commissioners would do well to sell the County Almshouse farm and place the inmates in the State Sanatorium at Cambridge where they would be very much better taken care of and at far less expense to the taxpayers. In this connection, it was stated that the farmers of Wicomico county would be very much more benefitted if the County Commissioners would dispose of the County Almshouse farm and invest the proceeds in a farm near Salisbury and establish thereon a demonstration farm on modern ideas. Speaking of this proposition, the farmer in question said:

"Wicomico county is at present paying a part of the expenses at least of a County Agent and while his work is of great benefit to the rural communities, it is the belief of many that if the County Agent had his headquarters on a demonstration farm near this city, which would be easy of access to every section of the county that he could be of much more benefit to the rural communities inasmuch as he could demonstrate the raising of certain crops far better than he could explain to the farmers. Now to raise these crops on their own farm and at the same time, he could originate new methods and new crops for this section which certainly would be of great value to all those interested in agriculture.

"Many of us who have visited the demonstration farm of Sussex county located at Bacon know the value of this class of work. Some may object to the expense of such a farm, but as the salary of the County Agent has to be paid anyway, and the county could sell the Almshouse farm for more than it would be necessary to invest in a small demonstration farm, there is no reason why this movement should cost the county a single additional cent of expenditure, and certainly, the results if properly carried out would be of untold benefit to every farmer in Wicomico county who is thrifty and energetic enough to be willing to accept new ideas and to study new conditions. During the great war, it was thoroughly demonstrated in this country that the farmer is indeed the backbone of prosperity and millions of people throughout the United States who had a small touch of food shortage have changed their minds as to the importance of good farming in every section of the country. The war was won by the farmers and had it not been for their energetic compliance with the request of the Government for more food, there is little doubt that the war would have lasted much longer than it did. The cry is still on throughout the world for more food and it is the farmer who is looked to to produce this great necessity, therefore, every community should do its bit to aid the farmers in getting the most up-to-date methods and any public money spent in bringing about conditions which will guarantee more food at lower prices, is money far better expended than in most any other project the public can engage in.

"Every progressive county throughout the West has its demonstration farm presided over by a competent agricultural expert, who is capable of analyzing the soil, giving advice as to the best crops to grow and how to grow them and also in giving advice to the farmers as to where and how to buy their seed to the best advantage, and in a thousand other ways aiding in bringing the farms up to the highest possible standard. For this reason, larger crops are grown in those sections and because of the larger crops, the price of real estate is constantly advancing and in turn this brings back revenue to the counties in taxation and so the whole proposition works in a revolving wheel which produces good at every turn. It is certain that within a few years, this matter will be taken up seriously by every county in Maryland and we would like to see Wicomico in the front ranks in trying out this new idea which certainly would prove a success.

"We believe that our Pomona Grange could not take up a subject for discussion which would mean more for Wicomico county than this subject of the establishment of a County Demonstration Farm and we would like to see this very intelligent body of men and women take hold of this subject and put it through as they are capable of doing if they will take sufficient interest. County Agent Cobb could probably give some data on this subject which would be valuable in arriving at a conclusion but the idea of a Demonstration Farm is fast taking hold of the land owners and truckers of this county and something will surely come of the agitation within a very short time."

REV. REEVES RETURNS TO TRINITY CHURCH

The Following Assignments Show Where Former Pastors Of Trinity Are Stationed In Va. Conference.

In the assignment of ministers at the Virginia Conference which was held in Richmond, Rev. T. R. Reeves was returned to Trinity church in this city for another year. Rev. W. O. L. Hastings was assigned to St. Andrew's in South Salisbury. The assignment of pastors who formerly had served Trinity church in Salisbury were as follows:

Allen, F. R. Holland, supply; Conference secretary of missions, Salisbury, T. N. Potts; Presiding Elder Richmond district, R. H. Potts; Richmond Central church, G. W. Wray; Presiding Elder, Charlottesville district, R. F. Lipscomb; Professor at Dickinson University, James Cannon, 2nd; H. W. Davis, Norfolk, Va.; T. O. Edwards, Wheeling, Va.; W. H. Edwards, Presiding Elder of Portsmouth district; Missionary to Japan, Rev. J. C. C. Newton.

Rev. Dr. F. H. McSperry was chosen Presiding Elder for the Eastern Shore District. The report of the condition of the churches in the Eastern Shore district of the Virginia Conference were the most flattering made for many years, all the various churches showing great growth and much prosperity. The amount of money raised for all purposes amount of that of any previous year, and on the whole, the condition of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is of a most highly satisfactory character.

NEWS AT THE WICOMICO HIGH SCHOOL

OF INTEREST TO PUPILS AND PARENTS

Very Happenings Among The Boys And Girls Of The Wicomico High School Which Appeals To The Interests Of The Entire Community.

In addition to the Wicomico News here is this column for the use of the pupils and parents of the Wicomico High School and the items published here will be read by one or more of the students.

Two more games tucked away in the old W. E. S. kit bag, and with sandy scores too. The first sufferer was Pocomoke who on Wednesday of last week came here with high hopes of winning. The result was the decisive score of 5 to 0 in our favor, this making six straight games our soccer team has played and won. Cooper scored two of the five goals, Bailey, Reddish, and Moore each scoring one of the remainder.

The other victim of our prowess was Berlin who was put to sleep to the tune of four to nothing. Berlin who had previously defeated both Snow Hill and Pocomoke was champion of Worcester county, and as we had defeated Delmar easily we were the champions of Wicomico. Consequently the game was of great interest to both parties, and from the blow of the whistle announcing the start of the game until the finish, it was nip and tuck. At first it seemed as if the game would be a tie but after the first half our boys began to find their real stride, and by wonderful teamwork combined with fine head work, they scored four goals in succession.

The shutout however was made possible by the magnificent playing of Morgan and Reddish. They simply couldn't be downed and the poor ball was sadly deformed whenever it was kicked by the above named players. Bally and Cooper also played sterling soccer for Wicomico.

With this game a grand total of seven clean cut victories out of seven games has been amassed by our soccer team. This in itself shows what kind of goods your High school is putting out and it is certainly worth backing up. Your presence will help, come out.

Wicomico High school is now the undisputed soccer champion of the three lower Eastern Shore counties. The next game will be with the champion of the three upper Eastern Shore counties and the winner of that game will meet the Western Shore leader for the state championship.

The Sophomore class presented last Friday one of the best entertainments given so far in the Assembly. After a few introductory remarks by the president of the class, William Phoebus, a cornet solo by Handel Hopkins was given. Then came the play entitled the "Typewriter Lady", which was a comedy in one act. It showed in a ludicrous manner the different types of femininity that are adorning the desks of the average office of today. The characters took their parts finely and it was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Then after a violin solo by Ruth Truitt, the Sophomore Quintet made its first public appearance, and was thunderously received. It was composed of Stanley Bailey and William Phoebus, tenors; Henry Fulton Brewington, baritone; Clifford Dryden and Harris Riggin, basses. They appeared in the garb of a typical Southern serenading party and sang several popular songs. It is hoped they will sing again.
