

THE MARYLAND GAZETTE, [Numb. 704]

Containing the freshest Advices foreign and domestic.

THURSDAY, November 2, 1758.

W A G U S, Aug. 3.

On the 2d Instant the French were dislodged from Bruggen: Prince Ferdinand made a Feint immediately afterwards, as if he intended to attack the Enemy near Dulkan, who giving into the Snare, marched from Dalen to Gladbach, and Prince Ferdinand turned off immediately towards Aldenkirchen and Hoering. The 3d Instant his Serene Highness marched to Wachtendonck, where the French had a strong Post, which the hereditary Prince of Brunsvick, at the Head of the Grenadiers of the Army, attacked sword in Hand, and drove the French from thence by seven o'Clock in the Evening, with the Loss of only two Grenadiers.

The Army remained that Night near Wachtendonck, and the next Day, being the 4th Instant, Prince Ferdinand marched to Rhyenberg, by which the Rhine is again secured. Whilst this Operation was performing, Prince Ferdinand reinforced General Imhoff (who commands at Bonn) with more Troops which were in and about Cleve. This Step was extremely well timed; for on the 5th Day that he marched to Rhynberg, Lieutenant-General Chevert (who had fallen in his Attempt to surprise Duffeldorp) having been reinforced by Part of the Garrison of Wesel, marched towards Bonn, with 14 Battalions, 5 Squadrons and 12 Pieces of Cannon, in order to destroy the Bridge upon the Rhine, and in surprise General Imhoff. The latter was not only upon his Guard, but also ordered to meet the Enemy with his Battalions, and 12 Squadrons, came to Action with them, and after a smart Engagement, in which the Allied Troops behaved with their usual Spirit, he entirely routed Mr. de Chevert, took eleven of his twelve Pieces of Cannon, two or three Standards, and a great Number of Prisoners. The Remains of his Army fled precipitately towards Wesel. This Action is the more remarkable, as the Disproportion of Numbers was very great, and the General who commanded the French, passes for the Ablest, and the most Enterprising of their whole Army.

Advice is just received that Prince Ferdinand has since marched to Santeu, by which all our Communications are again opened, and that M. de Comades has been detached and frustrated in all he has endeavoured to do. We wait with Impatience for further Particulars from the Army, but have not the least Reason to doubt of the Truth of the above Accounts, which add likewise that the English Troops were to pass the Rhine at Roos on Sunday next the 13th Instant.

By the Account from Hild Castle, the Prince of Heinsburg, had reassembled most of his Forces that had been dispersed, and received great Assistance for his Cavalry, so that his Army is now reinforced at Embach with a few more Troops and Militia, so that his Force is more considerable than it was, and he is marched forward again towards the Rhine; about 1000 Men are come out of Heinsburg to join him, and the Countess has managed to have three new Companies, amounting to the heavy Battalions made upon them.

Monday, July 25. The Prince of Heinsburg had in all but 2000 Men, with whom he entered the Country on the Side of Sanderhausen, when the French came and attacked him on the 25th, with 24 Squadrons, 10 heavy Battalions, and eight Pieces of Cannon. You be resisted them 4 Times successively, but notwithstanding the inferiority of his own Regiment, that of Gleda, and that of Hohl, which being obliged to quit the Field of Battle, were the Enemy the Advantage of pushing the Troops to every Side with their superior Forces they might have done, but did not.

make his Retreat, till after a Thousand of his Men were slain, and a great Number wounded. The same Day (of the Battle which the French fought with the Loss of 2000 of their Troops) the Prince of Heinsburg retired with the Remainder of his Corps to Hamelen, where he arrived in good Order, without having been at all pursued in his Retreat. The above Defeat is imputed to the Militia of the Country, who are accused of not having sustained the regular Troops as they ought to have done.

Lipsied, July 29. The following are some Particulars of the Action between the Hessians and the Van Guard of Soubise's Army.

The Prince of Heinsburg passed the Fulda the 21st Instant, within a League of Cassel, and after breaking down the Bridge on which he crossed over, he took Post near the Village of Sanderhausen, in order to observe from thence the Motions of the French. The Corps under Filcher, being Part of their Van Guard, arrived the 22d on the Hills near Cassel, and the next Morning two Battalions of French entered the City. Towards Noon a Corps of about 5000 Foot traversed it hastily; and 2000 Heralds having forded the River Fulda, began soon after to skirmish with the Hessian Hunters, and followed them as far as the Hills of Sanderhausen. The Prince of Heinsburg, who was posted there with between 6 and 7000 Men, ordered the Hunters to be supported; and the Engagement began towards 3 o'Clock, the Fire was extremely brisk on both Sides, and lasted till Sunset; the Hessians finding themselves on the Point of being surrounded by the French Cavalry, retired upon a Retreat towards Langversingen, which they executed in very good Order. But, after this Action, too weak to make head a new against their Enemy's superior Forces, they marched to Hamelen, from whence it thought they will go and join the Army under Prince Ferdinand of Brunsvick.

LONDON, Aug. 3.

It is said his Majesty has sent Orders for every Man throughout the Electorate of Hesse, who is able to bear Arms, from 60 Years of Age down to 12, to be immediately armed and retrained, in order to prevent the French from again penetrating into that Electorate.

Letters from Cadix mention the sailing of 16 Spanish Men of War at the 16th ult. viz. 7 to meet the Fleet, 2 to cruise in the Mediterranean against the Algerines, and 5 in the Bay of Biscay, to protect their Trade.

Yesterday six Waggon loads with Arms and Ammunition were sent from the Prince to Deserthure for the Use of the Militia of that County. So that the Deserthure here have the Prospect of being fit in Arms to defend their County.

Aug. 28. Letters from Paris advise, that in a grand Council held at Versailles on the 26th inst. a Resolution was taken to push the War with the utmost Vigour, both by Land and Sea.

Last Wednesday arrived at Bristol the Hercules, Captain West, from Cadix, and brought in with her 2 Spanish Ships of 250 Tons, laden with 1200 Barrels of Flour, and other Provisions, bound from Bonaventure by Cadix.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, August 9. A Letter arrived in England, this Morning, Capt. Sear, from Cadix, he says at the Mouth of the River of Guadalquivir, he captured with the Assistance of several privateers of the same Name, a Spanish Ship, which was laden with 1000 Barrels of Flour, and other Provisions, and 2000 Men.

Several Letters, which came by the Dutch Mail advise, that on the 6th Instant there was an Engagement between 5000 Hanoverians and 2000 French, who were marching to the Bridge at Bonn, in order to intercept the English Forces; that the French were defeated, had 2000

Men killed, many taken Prisoners, and lost eleven Pieces of Cannon; but that the Communication is now open between the English Troops and Prince Ferdinand's Army. The English were within two Days March of joining him.

Whitehall, Aug. 15. A Messenger, who arrived here last Saturday, brought Letters from Prince Ferdinand of Brunsvick's Head-Quarters at Santeu, dated the 6th Instant; which fully confirm the above Account from the Hague of the Operations of his Highness's Army, and of the Action between General Imhoff and M. de Chevert.

Extract from the London Chronicle of June 24. Last Thursday Morning died at Coggeshall, in Essex, Mr. JOHN HANBURY, of our City, Merchant, not more eminent for his Diligence, Fidelity, and Success in Trade, than truly sensible for the unaffected Simplicity of his Manners, the Cheerfulness of his Conversation, and the Integrity of his Heart. In domestic Life, his Memory must be long revered, as a kind Master, a tender Parent, and a faithful Friend. In the busy World, he merited invariably that extensive Confidence reposed in him; and from the Great, the native Dignity of his Address (sincere, yet stable, plain, but not rude) frequently won that Attention to his Advice, or Solicitation, which artificial Politeness cringes for in vain. Deception, indeed, was not his Talent; for he lived and died in Honour to the Principles of his Education, to his Profession as a Merchant, and to his Species as a Man.

BOSTON, October 16.

Thursday last Capt. Cole arrived here in 7 Days from Louburg, and by a Gentleman who came Passenger, we have the following Intelligence, That Admiral Hardy and General Wolfe, were returned with the Men of War and Transports from the Expedition against Gaspoy, having destroyed all the Houses, (which were but few) Shallop Boats, &c. that they found there, and laid Waste all their Fish Fisheries, and every Thing else that could be of Service to the Enemy at that Settlement. They also found there about 25,000 Quarts of ready made Cod Fish, some of which they brought off with them, the rest they destroyed. That the Inhabitants were all retired up into the Country, having before received Intelligence of our Forces coming against them, but that 3 or 4 of them were taken Prisoners by our Rowing Parties which were sent out from thence; That after our Forces had destroyed the Settlement there, they returned on board the Transports, and with the Men of War proceeded above thirty Leagues up the River St. Lawrence, where they took two Sloops, one of which was laden with great Quantity of Provisions, Gun Powder, and some Hurr, the other Sloop was in Ballast; they informed, that 6 Sail of French Men of War of the Line, were at Quebec, and that they intended to sail from thence for France some Time in the Month of October; upon which Information Admiral Hardy returned with the whole Fleet to Louisburg: The Boreas Frigate and a Fireship, with all the Transports, came thro' the Gut of Canis, and arrived at Louisburg three Days before the Admiral:—That on Sunday the first of this Instant, the Admirals Boscawen and Hardy, with 8 Sail of the Line, sailed for England, but that they intended to cruize at the Entrance of St. Lawrence River, in hopes of meeting with the above French Fleet.—That Admiral Durell was left at Louisburg with 20 Sail of the Line, two of which are to winter there, and the Rest at Halifax.—And, That the City has been clean'd of all the Filth and Rubbish, and the Houses repairing with the greatest Dispatch; that the Garrison was very healthy, and were well supplied with Provisions of all Kinds.

Friday last Capt. Dewar arrived here, in about 9 Weeks from Cadiz; and informs, that the Spanish Flota was safe arrived there, immensely rich, to the Joy of all Nations; and that the Spanish Fleet was sailed, but supposed only to exercise the Seamen.

NEW-HAVEN, October 14.

Last Week came to Town Capt. Daniel Robbins, junr. of Weathersfield, late Master of the Brig Recovery, who informs, That on his Passage from St. Martins to Maryland, he on the 22d of July last in Lat. 26. N. Lon. 69, was taken by a French Letter of Marque Brig, the next Day Ransomed his Vessel for fifteen Hundred Pieces of Eight; after his Arrival at Maryland, he took in a Cargo, and sailed from Annapolis on the 11th of September for Madeira, on the 18th following, about 3 o'Clock in the Morning, he had a violent Gale of Wind at N. E. on which his Vessel soon sprung a Leak and sunk; the People betook themselves to their Boat, and three Days after they arrived at Cape Henlopen, without the Loss of a Life.

NEW-YORK, October 23.

Yesterday was feat in here by the Privateer Ship Oliver-Cromwell, Capt. Nicholl, a French Snow from Mississippi, bound to Cape-François, in Ballast: He took her the 23d of September; and two Days before, he fell in with, and took, the Letter of Marque Ship Jason, of 14 Six-pounders and 50 Men, Monnet Bertrand, Commander, from Quebec for Cape-François, after a smart Engagement of 4 Glasses, in which Capt. Nicholl had 4 Men killed, and 13 wounded, and was much disabled in his Masts, Yards and Rigging.

Before Capt. Bertrand fell in with Capt. Nicholl, he had taken the Snow Enterprize, Capt. Ogilvie, from this Port, for St. Kitts; a Sloop from Fyal, for Halifax, John Hathorn, Master, belonging to Salem; a Sloop from Jamaica for London, belonging to Bolton, but ransomed; and a Sloop from South-Carolina, for Barbados, Ebenezer Turrell Master. Captain Ogilvie came in the Snow, and the Ship Captain Nicholl intended to dispatch for this Port the 25th of September, so that he may be hourly expected.

Saturday Night last, his Majesty's 17th and 47th Regiments of Foot, arrived here from Albany. They both set sail Yesterday Evening; the former for Philadelphia, and the latter for New-Jersey.

The French, we are told, have many scouting Parties about Fort-Edward, Lake-George, Half-Way-Brook, and Fort-Miller. A Sergeant of the Rangers was scalped a few Days ago within two Miles of the Lake; and the twelfth Infant Regular was taken off from the Encampment at Fort-Edward. A Provincial was taken away about the same Time by two Indians; and after he had marched a Day with them, at Night he made his Escape, by cutting himself free from the Tree he was bound to.

WILLIAMSBURG, October 13.

THE SPEECH of the Honourable FRANCIS FAULSTICH, Esq. Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over the Colony and Dominion of Virginia, at the Close of the Session.

Gentlemen of the Council; Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Burgesses.

THE Provisions you have made for the Protection of the Frontiers, during this short Session, claim the Thanks of your Country; and the great Regard and Attention you have shewed to me, during the Course of it; demand my particular Acknowledgments.

That I may employ the Forces designed for your Defence in the most proper and efficacious Manner, I shall make it my Business, during the recess of the General Assembly, to get at the best Knowledge I am able to attain in relation to the Frontiers, and the proper Stations in which to place the Troops.

Gentlemen of the House of Burgesses.

The Caution you have taken in raising the Supplies, that the People may not be oppressed at this Time, is a fresh Instance of your Tenderness for your Country; and it shall be my Endeavour to follow so good an Example, by taking all possible Care that not one Penny be expended wantonly: And you may be assured, that I will take a proper Opportunity to write to the Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Forces, agreeably to the Address I received from you for that Purpose.

Gentlemen of the Council and of the House of Burgesses.

I hope we shall always meet in the same happy Disposition of Mind to do all in our Power to defend the People, and remove all Obstructions to the Trade of this Colony, by every Measure which will conduce thereto.

That you may have a proper Time for the Discharge of your private Functions, it is convenient you should be now prorogued, and you are accordingly prorogued to the Third Thursday in December next.

PHILADELPHIA, October 26.

On Thursday last Capt. William George arrived here in the Sloop Ruby, belonging to New-London, homeward bound from St. Martins with Salt, but taken on this Coast by the Prince Edward Frigate, of St. Maloes, Capt. Sebier du Chatelean, pierced for 26 Guns, but mounted only 26, a very large Ship, and sails well.

Capt. George was Master of the Recovery, Capt. Stephenson, bound to this Port from Londonderry, which Vessel was taken by the above Frigate on the 19th of May last, and ransomed, and he carried to Quebec as Ransomer, where he has been ever since.

This Gentleman informs us, that he left Quebec about 22 Days ago in said Frigate, in Company with six Ships of War of 64 Guns each, two other Frigates, a Privateer, and five Merchantmen; the Men of War designed home, but not half manned, and very sickly; the Merchantmen bound to the Cape: That the Prince Edward left the Fleet soon for the West-Indies, but took a Cruize on this Coast in his Way, when he made the following Vessels Prizes.

On the 10th of October he took Capt. Peter Dobson, in the Sloop Nancy, from New-York for St. Thomas's, in Ballast, and burnt her the next Day.

The 7th Captain Archibald Hamilton, in the Snow Dutchess of Douglass, for Maryland from Bolton, was taken, and burnt likewise.

The 6th Capt. John Lee, in the Brig Globe, of this Port, designed for Montserrat, was brought to, and sent to Canada.

The 5th he took Captain John Atkins, in the Ship Bevy, from Liverpool and Newbury for Virginia, with some bale Goods on board, and ordered her also to Canada.

On the 14th Capt. Benjamin Mosher, in the Sloop Ruby, from St. Maloes for New-London, laden with Salt, was taken likewise.

And the same Day he took Capt. Thomas Gordon Stull, in the Sloop Rebecca, from Cape-François for Rhode-Island, her Lading Rum and Melasses, and dispatched her to Canada also.

All the Prisoners were used in the most humane and gentle Manner by the French Captain, and were sent on in the Sloop (49 in Number) and had Plenty of every Thing to bring them up here.

Capt. George further advises, that they were in great Want of Provisions in Canada last Winter, each Man having only an Allowance of two Ounces of Bread for 24 Hours. That between Two and Three Thousand of the French Natives perished there, not being allowed what was common with the Inhabitants; but their Subsistence chiefly Horle-fish: That there seemed to be no great Plenty among them when he came away, though their Crops were tolerably good, but much neglected for want of Hands to get them in, all the Men fit to bear Arms being sent to the Frontiers; and that what Grain they had was collected into public Granaries, without any regard paid to the particular Owners of it, and given out in Proportion to every one, by Persons appointed for that Purpose: That they had received no Supply of Soldiers from France this Summer, excepting about 180, that were on board the Frigate that took him, and another Vessel: That there were above 300 in the two Ships; but they were seized with a malignant Fever on the Passage, which carried off the rest, and those that got in, were landed in a very sickly Condition: That on receiving the News of the Reduction of Cape-Breton they were much dispirited, and imagine, that if the War continues another Year, they will lose their whole Country, on which Account many of them were disposing of their Effects, and preparing to go home as soon as possible: That he had not heard of the Destruction of Frontenac (great Pains being taken to keep such Things from the Prisoners) but believes, from the Sincerity of their Contentances, that they had Notice thereof, and that they seemed to be prodigiously shocked with it: That he thinks there are about 300 English Prisoners at Quebec, and that there may be about the same Number at Montreal: And that he saw the worthy Colonel SCHUYLER there, who was in good Health, and from his benevolent Disposition, proved a great Blessing to many of his unhappy Countrymen, whose Wants were always supplied by him.

The Frigate had but about 100 Hands when she left Quebec, and not above 60 when the Prisoners parted with her, so that she would soon be obliged to leave the Coast.

Since our last we have had several Accounts of an Attack being made by the French on our advanced Post at Loyal Hanning, one of which is as follows:

Extract of a Letter from Rays-Town, October 16.

Yesterday the Troops fired on Account of our Success over the Enemy, who attacked our advanced Post at Loyal Hanning (the 14th Instant) their Number, by the Information of a Prisoner taken, said to be about 1100. The Engagement began at Eleven o'Clock, A. M. and lasted till Two. They renewed the Attack thrice, but our Troops stood their Ground, and behaved with the greatest Bravery and Firmness at their different Posts, repelling the Enemy each Time, notwithstanding which, they did not quit the Investment that Night, but continued firing random Shots during that Time. This has put our Troops in good Spirits. The Accounts are likewise imperfect, which obliged the General to send a distinct Order Yesterday to Loyal Hanning, to send a true Account of the Affair: By the General's Information, they only took one wounded Soldier, and says nothing of the Killed, tho' it is imagined to be very considerable, if they attacked in the open Manner it is reported they did. Colonel Bogues was at Stony-Creek, with 700 Men, and a Detachment of Artillery: He could get no farther on account of the Road, which indeed has impeded every Thing greatly. This Night of To-morrow a great Number of Waggons will be up with Provisions. List of the Killed, Wounded and Missing, in the Action.

Killed, Wounded, Missing.

Highlanders.
First Virginia Regiment,	6
North-Carolina Companies,	1
Maryland Companies,	6
First Pennsylvania Regiment,	12
Second Do.	1
Lower Country Companies,	1
Total,	37

Officers among the Killed and Wounded.

Of the Virginia Regiment, Lieutenant James Duncauba, wounded.

Of the Marylanders, Lieutenant Bradley and Matthews, killed; and Ralph Bell wounded.

Of the Artillery, Lieutenant Wright wounded slightly in the Head.

Twenty-nine of the Missing were upon Grain Carts when the Enemy attacked.

The following Extract of a Letter from Loyal Hanning, dated the 24th Instant, is not uninteresting.

We were attacked by 1200 French, and 400 Indians, commanded by M. de Vau, on Thursday, the 21th Current, at 11 A. M. with great Fury until 3 P. M. when I had the Pleasure of seeing Victory attend the British Arms. The Enemy attempted in the Night to march on a second Time; but, in Return for their most insupportable Indian Music, we gave them a Shower of Shots from our Mortars, which soon made them retreat. Our Loss on this Occasion is not so great, and 4 Officers, killed, wounded and missing. The French were employed all Night in carrying off their Dead and Wounded, and, I believe, carried off some of our Dead through Silence.

We hear a Private Ship is coming from the Bay of Biscay, Capt. Spring, of this Port: She is said to be an English Vessel, and came coming from Hispaniola.

Nothing more need be said for its Recommendation: And it is not doubted but the Tickets will soon be all sold, as near One Thousand of them are already engaged.

MARTLAND GAZETTE,

Containing the freshest Advices foreign and domestic.

THURSDAY, November 9, 1758.

From the LONDON GAZETTE EXTRAORDINARY, WHITEHALL, August 18.

On Wednesday last a Messenger arrived at the Earl of Holderness's Office, from the King's Army, under the Command of Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick, with Advice of its having repulsed the Ruins on the 10th Instant, and the following authentic Account of its Motions for some Time past.

FROM the Time that his Highness received the News of Prince Soubise's having entered the Country of Hesse Cassel with his Army, it appeared, either that the French Army under M. de Coetades must be reduced to the Necessity of calling Prince Soubise to their Assistance, or that his Highness would be obliged to retreat.

In the Hopes that Prince Henboug would have been able to stand his Ground for some Time at least in Hesse Cassel, Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick resolved to carry the Scene of Action to the Meuse, in order to draw the Enemy from the Rhine, and had formed a Plan which would have effectually answered the Purpose aforementioned, and been productive of the greatest Consequences for the public Service; and it was in Execution of this Plan that his Highness marched to Ruremonde towards the latter End of July. But the rain and heavy Rains, which had fallen in those Parts, had so broke the Roads, that his Progress was greatly retarded; and, in the mean Time, his Highness was informed of the Defeat of Prince Henboug's Corps near Cassel, whereby the Enemy opened to themselves the Possession of the Wester, in Case they pursued their Advantage, and consequently might act in Westphalia on any Side they pleased. In this Situation, his Highness had no other Option, but a Victory over the French, or to retreat the Rhine. In the first, he was reasonably disappointed, by the backwardness of the French to stand an Engagement; and as it was dangerous to remain long in a Position, where he had the French Army on one Wing, and on the other the Forces of Gueldre, (of which the Garrison had been considerably reinforced) as well as several other Posts within Reach of obstructing the Convoys and Subsistence of the Army; besides the Possibility of the English Troops from Embarrassing themselves from joining the Army, in Case Time should betide for Soubise to think of interrupting them; his Highness resolved to march back to the Rhine, which was accordingly executed with the greatest Secrecy.

By the Harriot Snow Packet-Boat, Capt. Bonnell, arrived at New-York the 20th ult. in 37 Days from Falkland, we have the following important Advices, viz.

From the LONDON GAZETTE, WHITEHALL, September 2.

THIS Morning a Messenger arrived at the Earl of Holderness's Office, with Letters from his Majesty's Minister Plenipotentiary at the Hague, dated last Thursday Morning; giving an Account, that the same Morning early, an Express arrived there from the King of Prussia's Army on the Frontiers of Poland, with authentic Advice, dated from the Field of Battle, that on the 25th inst. at Nine o'Clock in the Morning, his Prussian Majesty had attacked the Russian Army; and, after an Engagement which lasted till the Evening, had entirely defeated them: That 15,000 Russians had been left on the Field of Battle, and that their Military Chest, all their Artillery, and three Lieutenant Generals, had been taken: That the Prussians had lost about 2000 killed and wounded; and that the only General Officers on their Side, who had any Accidents, was Major General Rabien, who was slightly wounded. The King of Prussia had detached all his Cavalry in Pursuit of the Enemy.

A particular Relation of this important Event is hereby expected.

From the LONDON GAZETTE EXTRAORDINARY, WHITEHALL, September 4.

THE Day before Yesterday, a Messenger arrived at the Earl of Holderness's Office, with Letters from Mr. Mitchell, his Majesty's Minister to the King of Prussia, now at the Prussian Army on the Frontiers of Poland, of the 26th and 28th of August, confirming the Account of the Victory obtained by his Prussian Majesty over the Russian Army on the 25th inst; and with the following general Relation of that important Event:

"On the 22d, the King arrived at Frankfurt upon the Oder, by the Way of Ziegenhagen, with the Reinforcement which he brought from Silesia. In the two last Marches his Majesty was on the same Side of the River as the Russians; but they did nothing to interrupt his March.

"On the 23d in the Morning, the King went with his Hussars to Count Dohna's Camp, and was followed that Night by the Remainder of his Corps, so that the whole Army was assembled at Ghagus the 23d, at 7 o'Clock in the Morning; and the Junction being made, they marched on at ten o'Clock at Night.

"On the 24th his Majesty caused a Bridge to be thrown over the Oder, at Gatawiez; which was done with so much Dispatch, that the whole Army passed the River the same Day, and his Majesty took up his Quarters at Golschan.

"The 24th, the King led the Army, which was very much fatigued with the long and toilsome March it had made, till One o'Clock in the Afternoon; after which he marched to Dunitzel, where he encamped, and made his Dispositions for attacking the Enemy next Day.

"The 25th the Army marched in 4 Columns, 3 of Infantry and 1 of Cavalry, Lieutenant General Manteuffel, at the Head of 10 Battalions, forming the Van-Guard; and tho' they were obliged to cross the little River Mitzel, over one single Bridge, the whole arrived, in Presence of the Enemy, at 8 o'Clock in the Morning, and immediately formed in Order of Battle.

"The Action began at 9 o'Clock, near the Village of Zorndorn, and lasted till 7 o'Clock at Night. The Fire of the Artillery was terrible and uninterrupted till towards the End. The Russian Infantry made a great Resistance, so far as to render the Action, for some Time, doubtful, on our Left; where their Right Wing, endeavouring to improve their Advantage, Lieut. General Seidlitz hastened up thither, at the Head of his own Regiment of the Gardes du Corps, and the Grenadiers; and, after having routed the Russian Cavalry which covered it, he fell upon the Infantry, broke them, and recovered the Affair. The Russians, forced at last to quit the Field of Battle, formed themselves into a Square, in order to cover the remaining Part of their Baggage, and passed the Night in that Position. The King also remained that Night, upon the Field of Battle, with his whole Army, and took the necessary Measures to improve his Advantage.

"The 26th his Majesty advanced again towards the Enemy, and the Cannonading was renewed; but it did not last long, for the Enemy were forced to continue their Retreat, abandoning their Artillery, and a great Number of Colours, Standards, &c. The King did not give them Time to recover, but harried them on all Sides, during the whole Day; and the Slaughter was very great. For, however dull his Majesty was to prevent the Effusion of so much Blood, the Cruelty of all Sins committed by the Enemy, and the Sight of all the Villages round about, which the Russians had set Fire to, had irritated the Soldiers to such a Degree, that it was almost impossible to put a Stop to their Fury. However a Number of Prisoners have been taken; amongst whom are several General Officers, namely, Generals de Solihoff, de Chernichow, Manteuffel, Thiermatschen, Chayco, &c. General Bross, the second in Command, having refused Quarter, was killed by the Prussian Dragoons; and the Fate of his Highness's Prince Charles of Saxony is not known. According to the Enemy's own Confession several others of their Generals are killed.

"The King, being unwilling to require more from his Infantry, without giving them some Rest, made them encamp on the 26th in the Evening, and ordered his Cavalry and Hussars to continue to pursue and harass the Enemy; and on the 27th, his Majesty marched as far as Tamsel.

"General Forster is in the most critical Situation, being in Want of Provisions and Ammunition, and obliged to retreat before our victorious Army, the Van-Guard whereof, commanded by Prince Maurice d'Anhalt Dessau, gives him no Manner of Rest, so that it is impossible to say, how he will accomplish his Retreat.

"The Slaughter of the Enemy has been very great; and, if they had not fulfilled their Bravery, by horrid Excesses, we should, with the greater Pleasure, have done them the Justice, which is due to the Firmness and Courage of their Infantry.

"We have already taken their Military Chest, containing about nine hundred Thousand Rubles; (a Ruble is 4/6, the Whole amounts to 100,000l. Sterling) seventy-three Pieces of Cannon, and a great Number of Standards and Colours.

"We compute our Loss at about six Hundred killed, and not eleven Hundred wounded; among the first, are two of his Prussian Majesty's Aids de Camp. And we return Thanks to God, who has so visibly protected us on this important Occasion, in preserving his Majesty's precious Life, for which the whole Army have so often trembled.

"The further Detail of this great Event will be given as soon as possible, our Time being too much taken up at this juncture, to enter into more Particulars." [Thus far the Gazette Extraordinary.]

LONDON, September 2.

We have Advice by this Day's Mail from Genoa, that an Express passed through that City, dispatched by the Court of Madrid to that of Turin, with the News of the Death of the Queen of Spain. She was an Infanta of Portugal, was born the 4th of December 1711, and on the 10th of January 1729, espoused Ferdinand VI. the present King of Spain.

September 5. The King of Prussia, before he set out from Bohemia, wrote to his Ministers of State at Berlin, that he had heard they were packing up, in order to remove further from the Danger, which they apprehended threatened that City; that they need not be afraid, as he was in hopes, thro' the Assistance of Divine Providence, to strike such a Blow amongst his Enemies soon, as would relieve him, and surprise all Europe. The next News they heard from him, to their great Surprise, was, that he had transported an Army of 15,000 Men in Waggon, and behind the Cavalry, to Custrin, 50 German Miles, equal to 210 English Miles, in nine Days, and was going to engage the Russians.

The Express sent by the King of Prussia to Berlin, with an Account of his important Victory over the Russians, entered Berlin preceded by six Postillions.

Monf. de Coetades, Commander in Chief of the French Army in Germany, has detached 17 Battalions of Infantry to reinforce the Troops on their Coast.

We hear that his Grace the Duke of Marlborough, at the Head of the English Troops, attacked a Part of the Prince de Soubise's Army, and has taken and killed 1500 of them.

We hear that a Fleet of upwards of 30 Men of War will speedily be fitted out to sail up the Baltic, upon a secret Expedition.

The King of Prussia, after the Battle of Custrin, pursued the Russians with 80 Squadrons of Horse. Sept. 9. Some private Letters advise, that the Prussians pursued the Russians three Days after the Battle.

THE MARYLAND GAZETTE, [Numb. 706.]

Containing the freshest Advices foreign and domestic.

THURSDAY, November 16, 1758.

LONDON, August 26.

To the KING, and Excellent MAJESTY. The humble ADDRESS of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commoners, of the City of London, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious SOVEREIGN,

MIDST the joyful Acclamations of your faithful People, permit us, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commoners, of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, humbly to congratulate your Majesty on the Success of your Arms in the Conquest of the important Forts of Louisbourg, the Reduction of the Islands of Cape Breton and St. John's, and the Blockade given to a considerable Part of the French Navy.

An Event so truly glorious to your Majesty, so important to the Colonies, Trade and Navigation of Great-Britain, and so fatal to the Commercial Views and Naval Power of France; affords a reasonable Prospect of the Recovery of all our Rights and Possessions in America so unjustly invaded; and in a great Measure answers the Hopes we formed, when we beheld the French Power weakened on the Coast of Africa, their Ships destroyed in their Ports at Home, and the Terror thereby spread over all their Coasts.

May these valuable Acquisitions, so gloriously obtained, ever continue a Part of the British Empire, as an effectual Check to the Perfidy and Ambition of a Nation, whose repeated Salses and Usurpations oblig'd your Majesty to enter into this just and necessary War; And may their Influence of the Wisdom of your Majesty's Councils, of the Conduct and Resolution of your Commanders, and of the Intrepidity of your Fleet and Armies, convince the World of the Insuperable Strength and Resources of your Kingdoms, and dispose your Majesty's Enemies to yield to a safe and honorable Peace.

In all Events, we shall most cheerfully contribute, to the utmost of our Power, towards supporting your Majesty in the vigorous Prosecution of Measures so nobly designed and so wisely directed. And it shall be our most fervent Prayer, that your Majesty may long, very long, enjoy the Fruits of your autonomous Government, in Rewards of Loyalty and Affection from a grateful People, and that the Crown of these Realms may flourish, with equal Light, on the Heads of your august Descendants to lastly Posterity.

RECEIVE this dutiful and loyal Address as a fifth Mark of your constant Affection to me, and my Government; and I return you my hearty Thanks for it. The steady Affection of my People, united in a hearty Zeal for the Honour of my Crown, will, I doubt not, enable me to carry on with Vigour and Success, a War which was necessarily undertaken, to defend the Religion, Liberties, and valuable Possessions of my Kingdoms, from the unjust Attempts of my Enemies. The City of London may always depend on my Protection and Favour, and upon my constant Care for the Extension of their Trade and Navigation.

THE AMERICAN MAGAZINE for Sept. last. To the PROPRIETORS, GENTLEMEN.

Your Majesty, as a Tribute of not only public, but personal, Gratitude, which ought not to be confined to a Benefactor, but extended to his Posterity; for, please to know, that the Grandfather of the late Lord Howe, when in a high Employment in the Reign of Queen Anne, was a generous Patron to the Father of the Author of these Lines, by presenting to her Majesty a Memorial of his long Services in the Wars of Ireland, Spain and Flanders; and by further promoting his Progeny to an honourable Post in the Army, of which he would have been otherwise deprived by a Court-Interest in Favour of a younger and unexperienced Officer.

Kent in Maryland, August 14th, 1758.

EPITAPH on the late Lord HOWE.

PATRIOTS and Chief Britanni's mighty Dead, Whose Wildest Councils, and whose Valour bleed; With Gratitude, 'midst your radiant Host, Receive to Glory Howe's heroic Ghost! Who, self-invent, in Honour's Cause expir'd, By native Worth, and your Example, he'd, In foreign Fields, like a Midway young and brave, Doom'd to an early and untimely Grave, Death less calamitous'd by celestial Love, And, covering Earth, improv'd the Joys above. Impassive to low Pleasures' baneful Charms, True to his post, and true to his Arms, He saw, indignant, our weak Force advance, With tedious slowness, to Victory and France! A martial Spirit equal to his Cause, He fought, as Soldiers fought, in Menes's Days, His Country call'd—The noble Talents given, 'Twas his to exert—Success belong'd to Heaven! High was his Standard, and the crimson Stream, Pluck'd from his Breast, till he breath'd no more, 'Midst Piles of slaughter'd Foes—'French Slaves,' he cry'd, 'My Sworn will revenge'—then smil'd and dy'd! The celebrated Nephew of the Earl Leicester in the Netherlands, in the Reign of Queen Elizabeth.

BERLIN, September 2.

THE Fruits of the glorious Victory gained over the Russians on the 25th ult. appear every Day more considerable. The Number of Cannon taken already amounts to 103, and that of the Colours to 27. We have above 2000 Prisoners, and amongst them upwards of 80 Officers. 'Tis thought several more Generals are killed besides General Brown. Those who saw the Field of Battle, compute the Number of Russians left on it to be at least 20,000. 'Tis hoped the greatest Part of our Wounded will recover. The Day after the Battle, the Body of Russian Troops under the Generals Romanoff, and Stouel retired precipitately from Schweld, Konigsberg, and Stargard, to rejoin the grand Army. These two Generals, and Col. Chetsov, who commanded at Stargard, kept their Troops under his Discipline. This Testimony is due to them, and we render it with Pleasure, as they had nobly distinguished themselves from their Countrymen, who left such horrid Marks of their Inhumanity in the Neighbourhood of Cadix.

Toulon (Italy) July 26. The last Letters from Toulon confirm the Report of his Britannic Majesty's Ship the St. Albans, having carried into Gibraltar the Loire, a Frigate of 36 Guns, but pierced for 44, with two Polaccas loaded with Stores and Ammunition for Martinico.

Paris, August 18. The last Advices that came to us directly from the Royals, did not prepare us for the melancholy News we received almost immediately after by the Way of England. The Officer, who was the Bearer of these Advices, must have made a faithful Report of the State wherein he left Louisbourg the 15th of July. We have no room to doubt of it, and as the Gazette of France has published that the Beliegers were then distant from the Place about 400 Toises, we should believe that the thing was so. 'Tis true, these Advices also said that the Enemy's Batteries made very little Fire, and that there was no Part of the Town but lay exposed to it. But how often has it been seen by Experience, that a Place, tho' cannonaded and bombarded, is not yet reduced to the last Extremities! Of this Olympe and Castrin furnish recent Proofs. In short, we cannot account for the extraordinary Accident that must have obliged the Commandant of Louisbourg to surrender the Place so soon, and we also cannot conceive his Reasons for Capitulating on such mean and abject Conditions as those that have been made public in the London Papers, and in other foreign Gazettes.

Falaise, in Normandy, August 24. After the Departure of the English from Cherbourg, Marshal Luxembourg, who had taken the Command as Governor of the Province, march'd the Troops to St. Lo, that they might be ready to go either to the Right or Left, according to the Motions of the English Squadron. The Contributions were settled at 44,000 Livres for the Town of Cherbourg, and 15,000 for the two Manufactories established there. Half the Sum was paid in ready Money, and for the Security of the other half the Town has sent as Hostages the Sieurs Duval, Poffel, and Gaurin.

LONDON.

August 22. We hear that Orders are given by the Hon. Board of Navy to the Officers of his Majesty's Yard at Deptford, to measure a certain Number of Ships to be taken up to carry Forces to America with all Expedition.

Great Discontents appear in several Provinces in France, where the People complain that the War has not only ruined their Trade, and destroyed their Manufactures, but so entirely drained them of Money, that it is utterly out of their Power to raise any farther Supplies.

The Garland, a French Frigate of 22 Guns, from Brest, is taken by his Majesty's Ship Renown, Capt. Mackenzie, in Company with the Maidstone and Rochester, and brought into Portsmouth. She was dogging Commodore Howe's Squadron, and had been so several Days: She had 13 Men killed, out of 200 who were on board: She is said to be the best going Ship in France, on which she much depended. She engaged the Renown first; but a Chance Shot brought down her Main Top Mast, or she might probably have got off. She had been out of Brest but 7 Days. When the two Captains of the French Ship were brought on Shore at Portsmouth, the first Captain took up a News Paper, and the first Paragraph that saluted his Eyes was that of the Surrender of Louisbourg. He seem'd very much confus'd, not knowing any Thing of the Matter before: And with the French Shrug, muttered out, Oh! Sacre Dieu.

August 29. The French greatly censure the Governor of Charburg; for surrendering the Town without firing a Gun, and before the English Troops came within a League of it, or the Fleet within two Leagues of it. They say the English took all the Seamen they found in the Vessels in the Harbour on board the Fleet.

The French King hath appointed the Prince de Soubise Generalissimo of his Forces; the Marquis de Contades a Marshal of France; and Prince Xavierus, second Son to the King of Poland, a Lieutenant-General.

We are assur'd that Prince Edward, before he re-embark'd, gave 100l. to the Poor of Cherburg; and the General and the Commodore gave 25l. each.

The following is a Translation of a Paragraph in a Letter (found in a Dutch Ship brought into Portsmouth) dated at St. Pierre in Martinico the 15th of June, 1758. Address'd to a Merchant at Brussels.

Our Situation is more to be pitied than envied: This poor Country, which you once knew in a flourishing State, has been afflicted within three Years by two dreadful Hurricanes, which has for ever ruin'd one third of the Inhabitants; by a War, more dreadful than can be imagin'd; and to complicit our Misery; by a Drought, which continued from the Beginning of this Year, ruins all the Plantations, and affords a very melancholy Prospect for the ensuing Year. May God have Mercy upon us, and at least grant us a Peace; no matter on what Conditions!

According to the best Accounts there are now near 20,000 French Prisoners in the three Kingdoms, some of whom are on their Parole, others in Prison, and many Sick and Wounded in Hospitals; besides many more that are expected soon to arrive.

Lieutenant-General Imhoff's Account of the Action of the 5th of August, 1758, between the Detachment under his Command and M. de Chevert's, near Meff.

On the 4th of August, at six o'Clock in the Evening, I received Advice, from a good Hand, that the Enemy who were to pass the Lippe over three Bridges, would march that Night with much Artillery towards Rees, in order to possess themselves of that Place, and burn the Bridge. As he might go thither by turning my Camp, I took the Resolution to decamp with the four Battalions and four Squadrons under my Command, in order to cover Rees, and join the Battalions of Stoltzenberg and the Hereditary Prince of Hesse, that were marching under the Command of General Zaltrow from Spick, where they had passed the Rhine in Boats. Having perceived nothing of the Enemy, and believing that the Accounts I had received might be false, I resolved to return to my advantageous Post at Meer.

I set forward at six in the Morning, and after I had reached my old Camp, the Advance Guards were no sooner posted, but they found themselves engaged with the Enemy, who advanced towards me from Wesel, under the Command of Lieutenant-General de Chevert, and Messieurs de Voyer and de Chavigny, Major-Generals; with the whole Corps of Troops, which was designed to make the Siege of Dusseldorp. My Front was covered by Coppices and Ditches, with a rising Ground on my Right; from whence I could see the whole Force that was coming against me. Perceiving, then, that the Enemy was marching into this difficult Ground, I resolved to attack them as soon as they had entered it; I therefore ordered my Infantry to advance about 200 Paces from the first Hedges, and took the Regiment of Stoltzenberg from my Right, to post it in the Coppice, in order to fall upon the Enemy, whom I saw quite uncovered. I gave Orders to the other Regiments to march, with Drums beating, up to the Enemy, as soon as they should hear the Fire of the Regiment of Stoltzenberg, and to attack them with Bayonets. This being executed with the greatest Spirit, by the whole six Battalions, had so great an Effect, that after a Resistance of about half an Hour, the Enemy was put in Confusion, and fled towards Wesel, leaving on the Spot eleven Pieces of Cannon, with a great many Waggons and other Carriages with Ammunition.

The Loss on my Side consists of no more than 200 Men killed and wounded, that of the Enemy is not exactly known; we have taken 354 Prisoners, among whom are eleven Officers. General Zaltrow perfectly well seconded me in this Action; and all the Officers fought with the greatest Courage. The Names of these brave Regiments are, that of Stoltzenberg, Saxe-Gotha, Hereditary Prince of Hesse, and Imhoff of Brunswick, and the four Squadrons of Bulche's, which could not act in the Manner they wished, on Account of the Inclosures.

Extract from the Register of the Resolutions of the States-General of the United Provinces.

Veneris, 11 Die Augusti, 1758.

Mr. Pick de Zoelen, and other Deputies of their High Mightinesses for foreign Affairs, having pursuant to the Resolution of the 18th Instant conferred with Mr. Yorke, Minister Plenipotentiary of his Majesty the King of Great-Britain, they reported, That they had delivered to Mr. Yorke the Resolution taken by their High Mightinesses upon a Letter written to them by the Directors of the Amsterdam Company, concerning the hostile Treatment, and the Robberies (Bribe-taking) committed by the English Privateers in the Vessels and on the Subjects of their High Mightinesses in the West-Indies, and the iniquitous Proceedings of the Courts there relative to this Conduct; intreating him that he would be pleased to support and second, by his good Offices, the Contents of this Resolution:

That he, Mr. Yorke, had thereupon declared, That he saw with Uneasiness the continual Complaints which their High Mightinesses found themselves obliged to make in favour of their Subjects; and that the King his Master had Commanded him to make known wherever it should be proper, that his Majesty would most readily concur in every Method that should be proposed for giving Satisfaction to their High Mightinesses, with whom he had always studied to live in the most perfect Union. But that the King had, at the same Time, authorized him to declare, That his Majesty was determined not to suffer the Trade of the French Colonies in America to be carried on by the Subjects of other Powers, under the specious Pretence of Neutrality; or Words to be interpreted as a Licence to carry on a Trade with his Enemies, which, though not particularly specified in the Articles of Contraband, was nevertheless rendered such in all Respects, and in every Sense, by Circumstances. That they, the Gentlemen Deputies, would see, that the Orders he communicated to them, and which he had received from his Court a very few Days before, authorized him to represent to them, That as long as the licit Commerce of the Subjects of their High Mightinesses, to which his Majesty never intended to give the least Interruption, was confounded with that Commerce which his Majesty regarded as wholly illicit, all their Representations would be fruitless; the rather as the Method of proceeding in such Cases was settled by Treaty; and the Crown could not take Cognizance of Facts, the Examination of which belonged to the Ordinary Courts.

The said Report being taken into Consideration, Messieurs the Deputies of the Provinces of Holland and West Friesland, of Zealand, Utrecht, and Friesland, took a Copy of the said Report, and that they might communicate it to their Constituents. And moreover it was thought good to Order, that a Copy of the said Report should be delivered to Mr. Fagel, and other Deputies of their High Mightinesses for the Affairs of the Navy, that they might peruse and examine it, and afterwards report their Opinion thereupon to the Assembly of their High Mightinesses.

September 14. Private Letters from Germany advise, that the Remains of the Russian Army being surrounded, had offered to capitulate, upon Condition of being allowed to return home quietly, in Consideration of which they promised that they would not serve again for a certain Term against the King of Prussia, nor his Allies; but their Offers were rejected, and they have been told that they must surrender Prisoners of War. Which, we presume, must be their Fate, as they are too far from home to be succoured or supplied with Necessaries.

On all the Brass Cannon taken from the French at Cherburg, are these Mottos: Ultima ratio Regum; i. e. The ultimate Reason of Kings; and Pluribus nec impar; A Match for many. On the two Mortars, Non Jolis radiis, sed Jovis fulmina; not the Rays of the Sun, but Jupiter's Thunder.

We hear that an Express is arrived from the Duke of Marlborough, with Advice that his Grace being informed that a Party of French, to the Amount of 4000, were escorting a Quantity of Stores for the use of the French Army, his Grace detached a Party of English Troops after them, who came up with and defeated them, and took the whole Convoy, consisting of 230,000 Livres, 160 Oxen, 90 Horses laden with Provision, and 300 Sacks of Flour; also three Couriers with Letters of Importance from the French Court to M. de Contades, with 130 Soldiers, Prisoners.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, August 31.

A Royal Edict is just published for imposing an additional Tax on all Places and Employments, which, it is computed, will bring annually into the King's Coffers the Sum of 22 Millions. There is a Talk of augmenting the Octroys in the principal Cities and Towns of the Kingdom; and this Article will produce above twelve Millions; which joined to the considerable Sums the new Duty of ten Sols that is going to be laid upon every Pound of Tobacco will produce, it is thought might enable the Court to support the immense Expences occasioned by the present War. But, besides all this, it is said another Edict will soon appear for demanding a free Gift of every Town in the Kingdom.

The Nassau Man of War, lately arrived at Portsmouth from Africa, has brought home the French Gunner of Senegal, who, we hear, has made some very important Discoveries to the Government, touching the French Trade and Commerce on that Coast.

The last Accounts from the Prussian Army under the King's Command, mention seven Lieutenant-Generals Prisoners, viz. Czernichew, Solitsoff, and Radantky, all Russians born; Sudowitz, a Pole; Mantzschel, Sievers, and Trefenhausen, Livonians. Besides these, Lieutenant-General Rosovsky has been since added to the Number, and that of the common Prisoners is augmented to between two and three Thousand.

On the 29th of August General Ferrier sent a Trumpet to the Army of Count Dohna, with a List of sixteen General Officers that were missing, intreating him to send an Account how many of them were Prisoners.

The Prussian Major-General de Freideville, who was placed among the Dead in the List, having three great Cuts on his Head, gave Signs of Life, when he was carried to Cullin, and there are even some Hopes of his Recovery.

We hear the Government has contracted for three Thousand Chaldrons of Coals, to be forthwith sent to Louisburg.

We hear that a general Pension is settled by this Court on Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick, for the noble Exercise of his Abilities in Favour of the Protestant Religion and Liberties of Europe.

We hear that several arm'd Ships of War have agreed to fall in Queen of the Belles Privateer, which continues on the Irish Coast, and has lately taken above ten of our Ships homeward-bound.

Four Dutch Ships with French Effects on board are taken and brought into Portsmouth.

This day at Noon the Brass Cannon and Mortars taken at Cherburg were drawn from Hyde-park to the Tower, through a prodigious Crowd of Spectators.

Several Ton Weight of Bullets, and a large Quantity of Gunpowder, are ordered to be shipped with all Expedition for Cape-Breton.

Letters from the Hague mention, that an Express was arrived there, which gave an Account, That his Prussian Majesty's Troops pursued and overtook the Russians on the 29th inst; that they had entirely destroyed them, and taken 400 Waggons.

Some Letters from Hamburg say, that of the 70,000 Men the Russian Army consisted of, not above 6000 escaped, but were either killed, wounded, or taken Prisoners.

Whitehall, August 29. The King has been pleased to continue and appoint his Grace Charles, Duke of Marlborough, to be General over all and singular the Foot Forces employed, or to be employed in his Majesty's Service.

BOSTON, October 30.

Wednesday last Capt. Miller arrived here in 6 Days with Dispatches from our Forces at St. John's River in Nova-Scotia, by which we learn, the Brigadier General Monckton had almost finished a strong Fort, just above the Entrance of that River, on the same Spot where the French some Time ago erected a Fort, which they afterwards demolished. That the French and Indians continue to retire farther up, so our Rangers advance in their Scouting, in which they have discovered several of their Huts and Fields, &c. which they had destroyed. That a Number of Vessels lay ready to receive a Body of our Troops as far up the River as they possibly could, where, 'tis said, the French have a small Fort, and where they have got up two Vessels that were taken from the English some Time ago in the Bay of Fundy, and afterwards improved as Cruizers. That these Troops were to proceed as soon as Major Morris had joined them from Cape Sable; from which Place they had an Express the 17th Inst. with an Account, that Major Morris and Capt. Gorham, with a Number of our Forces had taken a French Place called Capois, with 70 Prisoners, and about 100 Head of Cattle; among the Prisoners was a French Priest, who has engaged, upon granting them Indemnity, to bring in 200 more to submit themselves; and it is said he is accordingly gone with a Party of our Troops with a Flag of Truce for that Purpose.

Wednesday last a Vessel arrived here in 12 Days from Louisburg, and by her we learn, That a Party which had been dispatched by General Wolfe from Gaspay, to make Discoveries by Land, was returned, having been 120 Miles along Shore of the River, to a Village called Moun-Louis, which they burnt and destroyed, though 20,000 Livres were offered for its Ransom, by the Commandant; who, with the Inhabitants there, and Places adjacent, they brought away Prisoners. We hear also, that Gen. Wolfe sailed for England with Admiral Boscawen.

24th of August last, that it drove on Shore about 12 Vessels at Barbados, several will be lost, 4 at Martinique, two of them Frigates, and 10 at Gua daloupe, most of the two last Places like to be lost; about 30 on Shore as in Kullana, of which three belonged to New-England, and foundered at their Anchors, and all the People lost, one of them was a new Snow.

This Morning his Excellency General Amherst embarked on board the Province Sloop of War, Capt. Saunders, bound for Halifax.
Extrait of a Letter from the Onida Carrying Place,
October 13, 1758.

The Grand Sachem of the Onida In dians was with us at the taking of Frontenac; he was one of the most Christian Indians I ever saw in my Life, constantly at Prayer, talking of Hea ven and a future State, and said, if we go on praying, the Land would be ours, and he would help us all that he could. Friday last he took his Leave of us, and said, if he heard of any Thing he would let us know it: At One o'Clock, he, with three others, bid us farewell, but before he got half a Mile from our Encampment, he was shot dead, one taken, and the other two got in:
The Captains almost went out, and found the poor King scalped, and brought him into the Fort, but could not come up with the Enemy: The Ge neral ordered a Coffin to be made for him, and gave his Wife white Linen to lay him out in; and on Saturday in the Afternoon he was decently bu ried in the North West Bastion, three Cannon fired over him, and the Indians performed their Cere monies by drinking of Wine; the Onidas are determined to have Satisfaction for so great a Loss:
The same Afternoon an Indian who belonged to Major Ingerfol, and who was taken at Lake George, 1757, came in, having made his Escape from the Party that killed the King; he says, he was carried to Canada, and has lived with the In dians ever since; that the Party consisted of 100, and only 5 Frenchmen: That they could have killed several white Men, but did not want to do it, as they had got the Person they wanted.

NEW-YORK, October 30.
Yesterday arrived here a large French Prize Ship, taken by Capt. Valentine, in a Privateer Snow of this Place: She was bound from Canada to the West-Indies; and loaded but indifferently. The same Day came in the French Prize Ship of Capt.
Nicholl, as mentioned in our last.—Capt. Devereux in the Privateer Ship St. George, on Tuesday last, returned here from a Cruise. She has taken and sent in here, the Ship Rising Sun, of Bourdeaux, mounting 14 six and four Pounders, with 50 Men, bound from Quebec to the Cape. He took her between Habella Bay and Monti Christo.

The St. George also re-took a Sloop between Monti Christo and the Cape. She was bound from South Carolina to Barbados, and on the 11th of September was taken by the French.

November 6. Since our last, a large French Prize Ship arrived here, called the Molly, bound from Quebec for the Cape; loaded with Fish, Oil, Flour, &c. She was taken off the Cape, the 19th of September last, by the Royal Heifer Privateer, of this Port.—She formerly belonged to the English, and was a Privateer called the Nancy, out of Guernsey, mounting 18 Nine-Pounders, and proved very successful out of that Place, hav ing taken, it is said, near one hundred French Vessels, before she was taken by the French, two of which Frigates carried her into Morlaix, from thence she was sent to Canada, and now had but two Guns mounted. Four English Prisoners were taken on board her, designed to be exchanged at St. Domingo.

Friday last was sent in here by the Privateer
George, Capt. Halsey; King George, Capt. Ley outr; and Abercrombie, Captain Valentine; a Schooner loaded with Sugar, which was taken the 16th of October coming out of a French Port on Hispaniola: She came in under the Command of Capt. John Halsey, who informs us, That a French
74 Gun Ship got into Port-au-Pais, in a flustered Condition, having lost about 100 Men, engaging two English Men of War; but got clear, by out ruling them; and that a Fleet of about 30 Sail was sent to push out of the Cape, under Conroy of two Divisions and a Snow of War.

PHILADELPHIA, November 9.
On Sunday last an Express arrived here from the Westward, by whom there is Advice that Ge neral Forbes left Bay-Town for Loyal Hanning on 17th ult. That the Killed, Wounded and Missing, on our Side, in the Attack on Loyal Hanning, amounted to 64; the Wounded chiefly by the French, and most of the Missing found dead;
the Loss of the French not exactly known, but thought to be very considerable, as one of our People, who lay on the Beach all Night scalped, and his Thigh broke, said, they were a long Time in carrying off their Dead and Wounded on our Horses: That our Ballocks were all level, but that we had a great many Horses: And that the French made three different Attacks, in as many different Places, and behaved with great Courage and Resolution; but were at once repulsed by our Troops, who defended the Place most gallantly.

LONDON, August 29.
A Draught is ordered to be made out of all the Regiments, so to be sent to America, in order to secure the Advantages already obtained in that Part of the World.
It is said an Abrogation is to be made of 25
Men to each Troop of Horse in the King's Service.
Also that an additional Duty will be laid upon all Goods imported from Holland.

August 31. We hear from Portsmouth, that the Prizes brought in there, taken by the Experiment Privateer, are valued at more than 50,000l. Sterling.

Letters from Menden mention there being only one Lieutenant and 40 Men left of the 3 Companies of Royal Deux-Ponts Grenadiers, who had so great a Share in the late bloody Action with the Hessians.

A Dutch Ship from St. Eustatia, with 600 Hogheads of Sugar, 1000 Bags of Coffee, some Indigo and Cotton, is brought into Portsmouth by the Beckford Privateer of London, Capt. Athy. She came out in Company with thirty Sail.

A Dutch Ship, laden with Ammunition, and a Ship under Spanish Colours from Dunkirk, with Cambricks, Lace, &c. are taken by the Favonrite Privateer, Captain Nation, and brought into Torbay.

Sept. 2. A Draught from the Train of Artillery, consisting of Engineers, Bombardiers and Marofles, will embark in a few Days for America, with some Troops going thither; Part of the former are to be garrisoned in the Island of Cape Breton.

Saturday a great Number of Beds and Bedding, together with a great Quantity of Provisions and Stores of all kinds, were shipped on board Transports in the River, bound for Louisburg.

The following is a Translation of a Letter written by his Majesty to his Highness Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick, on the Battle of Grolsch.

"The Success which the Almighty was pleased to grant to my Army, under your Highness's Command, on the 23d ult. gave me the highest Pleasure, especially receiving the Particulars of it by your Highness's Letter of the 24th, and verbally from my Adjutant-General Von Rheden. I cannot therefore omit my sincerest Acknowledgments to your Highness on this Occasion, as it is, under God, to your wise Measures and unparalleled Manœuvres, that this Victory is to be ascribed.
I want Words to express my Sense of the Service you have performed, and my Admiration of your extraordinary Abilities exerted for Me and the common Cause, with equal Zeal, Magnanimity, and Success.

"My Joy is greatly heightened to find that the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick had so great a Share in the Success of that glorious Day. Your Highness will inform that worthy Prince, that he had before my Esteem and Affection, and by this fresh Proof of his Activity, Valour, and good Conduct, he has now acquired my Admiration.

"I always had a good Opinion of the Troops in general under your Command, and particularly of my own: And I am now so confirmed in it by what your Highness writes to me, that I make not the least Doubt, that, under such a Leader, who has gained their entire Love and Confidence, they will at all Times cheerfully do their Duty, like brave and honest Men. I desire your Highness will make known to both Officers and Men, the Thoughts I entertain of them.

"What your Highness has pleased to mention of the Behaviour of Lieutenant-General Oberg, and Major-General Wangenheim, gives me great Satisfaction. I cannot conclude without acquainting your Highness, that in regard to the honourable Mention you make of Lieutenant-Colonel Schulenbourg, I have ordered him a Colonel's Commission.

"I remain with Truth, &c. &c.
"GEORGE REX."

A Number of small Men of War, we hear, are ordered to be got ready for the Sea, who are to be well-manned, in order to curb the French Privateers, who do much Mischief in our Channel, when Jack Night's helm gives them Courage.

Sept. 9. It is confidently reported that 10,000 Saxons have joined the French Army under the Prince de Soubise, and that they are made up of such as have, at several Times, deserted from the King of Prussia's Army, and made their Escape into Hungary and Austria; from whence, by long Marches, they at length joined the French.

Sept. 10. On Friday Morning marched in here from Chatham, 200 of the second Battalion of the Old 88th, commanded by General Elliot. They are to embark for North-America with the Rest of the dragooned Men the first Opportunity.

Sept. 11. Some People having conferred the Parade, with which the Trophies from Louisburg were carried to St. Paul's, as too pompous on such an Occasion; it may not be improper to observe,
That the French Court shewed a Precedent, by carrying the Trophies they brought from Minorca, with the like Ceremonies, through the principal Streets of Paris, and put them up in the Church of Notre Dame, the Cathedral of that City.

CHARLES-TOWN, South-Carolina, Oct. 15.
The Defence Privateer Ship, of Bristol, Capt.
Gordon, is arrived here. She came last from Cordova in Spain, where, on the 15th of August, she left La Magnifique, a French 74 Gun Ship, which had been chased into that Port 2 Months before in her Retreat to Louisburg. During her Chace she took the following Prizes, viz.

April 1. A Dutch French Ship of 600 Tons, laden with Bale Goods and 1500 Barrels of Flour, but had Papers and Clearances for Corcora. Her Papers were artfully concealed in a Deal Plank (scooped out for the Purpose) under the Captain's Bed in his State-Room. This the French Factor on board discovered.

April 17. The St. Paul, a Danish Dogger from Marcellis (or Havre de Grace, richly laden.

April 19. The Ship Pearl, Stephen Ancel Master, from Jamaica for London, which had been taken the 6th by a French Privateer of Granville;
the Privateer mounted 16 Guns, and had 180 Men; Ancel's Vessel but 12 Guns, half 6 and the other half 2 Pounders, and 30 Men, yet he fought the Privateer a whole Day before he surrendered.

April 28. Le St. Pierre, a large French Ship for Canada, from Dunkirk, with Provisions, 1000 Stand of Arms, and other warlike Stores.

June 3. A new Frigate, pierced for 24 Nine Pounders, built at Bayonne, and was under Spanish Colours; laden with Provisions; bound to Canada; and had the King of Spain's Protection on board.

July 7. La Marguerite, a French Brig, from Rochelle for Quebec, with Flour, and a large Quantity of Bale Goods; such as, Velvets, Embroidered Silks, Sattins, Millinery, &c.

B. O. S. T. O. N., November 6.
By the last Vessels from Halifax we are informed, that the Captain Man of War, Capt. Amherst, was arrived there; also another 64 Gun Ship from Louisburg, and the other Men of War expected to Winter at Halifax were to sail from Louisburg the 4th of this Month.—The above Vessels met with very heavy Gale of Wind last Thursday Night off Cape Sable; so did also a Sloop that was bound from Louisburg for Halifax, whereby her Sails were torn to Pieces, so that she lay at the Mercy of the Winds, which drove her so far to the Westward that she got in here Yesterday.

We hear Capt. Hallowell sails this Day for Halifax, in a Schooner hired by the Government, to carry Major-General Amherst his Majesty's Commission appointing him Commander in Chief of all his Majesty's Forces in North America.

By the Courier from Albany we learn, that the Provincial Forces were all disbanded, and that he met great Numbers of them on the Road, who went on their Return Home.

N. E. W. - Y. O. R. E., November 11.
The Schooner mentioned in the Philadelphia
Paper to be taken by the Prince Edward Frigate, Mont. Chamblin, is the Sloop, Capt. John Dewey, of and for South-Carolina from the West-Indies, which took Collier Flour and Rice, but not the Rum, it is said, Monsieur telling Boddley he had no Occasion for it, and returned his Vessel for 1600 Pieces.— This was the 1st Vessel taken by Chamblin, five of which he burnt. By all Accounts Monsieur was his Captain with great Skill, and if he intended to take a Vessel from the West-Indies he very policy, and with much Dexterity, tells the Captain, "Why did you not keep out of my Way; I want Provision Vessels; but I will not touch you, unless you make a Show of your Vessel and Cargo." He accordingly burnt five of the West-Indies Men, and those loaded with Provisions he either sent off for a French Port, or burnt the Hull after he put the Commodities on board his own Ship. Monsieur Chateaux may chance to be nabbed yet, altho' his Prince's Order is given out as a very tall sailing Vessel, the Hunter Snow of War, and Hunter Privateer, having sailed a Day or two ago in Quest of her.

Governor Lawrence of Halifax, in Nova Scotia, and Admiral Desell, who is to winter there with several of his Majesty's Ships of War, have given Assurance, that all Coasters and others trading thither with fresh Provisions, &c. shall not only be protected by the Admiral from being pressed, but shall receive all Manner of Countenance from both.

A Proclamation is also issued by the Governor of Halifax, importing, That as by the late Success of his Majesty's Arms in the Reduction of Cape Breton, and its Dependencies, as also by the Demolition and entire Destruction of Gaspay, Montpelier, and other French Settlements, situate on the Gulph of St. Lawrence, and on St. John's River, in the Bay of Fundy; the Enemy (who have formerly disturbed and harassed the Province of Nova-Scotia, and much obstructed its Progress) having been compelled to retire and take Refuge in Canada; and thereby left a favourable Opportunity for the peopling and cultivating, as well the Lands vacated by the French, as every other Part of that valuable Province.—He therefore declares, That he will be ready to receive any Proposals that may be hereafter made to him respectually settling the said vacated or other Lands in that Province; One Hundred Thousand Acres of which produce Wheat, Rye, Barley, Oats, Hemp, Flax, &c. which never need manuring, as no Part has failed of Crop, and Hundred Years Another Hundred Thousand Acres is cleared, and stocked with English Cattle, swine with Cattle, Gardens, &c. The Timber on the whole is Birch, Black Birch, Ash, Oak, Pine, Fir, &c. The Lands are so intermixed that every single Farmer may have a proportionable Quantity of these Land, Grass Land and Wood Land; and use all about about the Bay of Fundy, upon Rivers navigable for Ships of Burthen.

Just now arrived here Capt. Murray, is a Privateer from New-York, who, in his Way here, took two large Ships from Canada, bound to the Cape; one was captured, the other sent to Antigua.

A Letter from New-York, last Week, says,
October 23.
This Day his Excellency the Governour returned from the Treaty at Bafon, where he had been attending with the Governour of Pennsylvania, near three Weeks. They were present at the Treaty five Hundred Indians, about two Hundred of which were Chiefs and Warriors, and of the teen different Nations, namely, the Eight Confederate Nations, viz. The Mohawks, Onondagoes, Senecas, Oneidas, Cayugas, Tuscaroras, Nanticoques, and Conoys, now settled into one, and the Tusloes; and five Nations dependent on the Confederates, viz. the Delaware, Unami, Municks, Wapagos, and Mohicans. There were also present two Indian Messengers from the Indians settled on the Ohio, who brought a Medal in Writing signed by fifteen Chiefs of the On-dagoes, expressing their Desire to have Peace with the English, and their Intention to accede to the Treaty.

The Conference were carried on with great Harmony. The Indians solemnly promised to return all the English Prisoners.—A Medal was sent to the Ohio Indians, accompanied by an English Officer, a Chief of the Confederates, and several other Indians, informing them what had been done at this Treaty, and inviting them to accede thereto. And Peace was solemnly by a large Peace, which was followed by the two Governments to the Congress of the United States, and by the same means secured all the Indian Tribes in the Country on this Coast, but the Government of the United States, that had, or pretended to have any Claim of Land in the Possession of New Jersey, except Rights of private Rights, and Rights of some particular and acknowledged in the Provinces of several of the Chiefs of the Confederate Nations, who suffered the same, and were afterwards settled in the same Council: And the Government of the United States gave a large Bill to the Congress of the United States, to be perpetual, that the Province of New Jersey was now wholly discharged from all Indian Claims.

The following Privates are now at the Watering Place, viz. Ship sturdy Beggar, of 24 Guns, Robert Truitt, Commander, and will sail in three Days (with some Provisions for Monsieur Charbon) Ship General Johnson, of 16 Guns, Samuel Little, Commander, Brig Truitt, of 14 Guns, Christopher Miller, Commander, Brig Du Lobe, Stephen Skinner, Commander, of 14 Guns; Brig Charming Sally, Joseph Dwight, Commander, of 22 Guns.

PHILADELPHIA, November 16.
The last Accident we have of General Forbeck is, that on the 30th ult. he was at Stony Creek, on his Way to Loyal Hanning.

A Letter from Loyal Hanning, dated the 25th of October, mentions more of their Artillery being safe arrived there from Ray's Town, and that they expected to march for Fort Duquesne in a few Days.

Tuesday last Capt. Gibbon arrived here. He was Passenger to the Ship Kingston, Capt. Bendall, from Jamaica for this Port, and informs us, that said Vessel was taken the third Instance, by the French Private of the Cape, ransomed for Two Thousand Pounds Sterling, and soon after lost on Chinkiteague Shoals, but Part of the Cargo saved: That a Snow was lost near the same Place, believed to be Capt. Coody, from Boston for this Port: That Captain Bendall made the 17th Prize the Frenchman had taken on this Coast; and when he left the Frigate, a Sail bore in Sight, which, in all Probability, would soon be brought in, as the Ship sails very fast; and it was thought she would cruise on our Coast, till she got one or two Flour Vessels.

From Jamaica there is Advice, that Captain Walker, in a 20-Gun Ship, has taken and carried a Prize, the Frigate that had the bloody Engagement with the Britannia Privateer, Capt. M'Pherson, of this Place; two other French Ships, and a Dutchman, all richly laden from the Cape: That many other Prizes had also been sent in, among which several Doctmen, and all condemned: That the Capains Daille and Gardner, from the Cape, were arrived at about 10 o'clock: That Captain Daille, on his Passage, on the 7th of July, in a 22-Gun Ship, took a Sugar Vessel, but for want of Hands to man her, was obliged to let her go: That on the 13th, in the Night, between Hispanola and Nevis, he fell in with a very large French Ship, brought her in, and ordered the Captain on board, instructing to sink him, if he did not, which the dastardly Frenchman complied with, tho' he mounted 24 Guns, and had above 50 Hands; but Capt. Daille, after knowing his strength, very prudently sent the French Captain, with 12 of his Hands he had brought with him, to his Vessel again, and made all the Sail he could from her: And that off the East End of Jamaica he was chased by a French Privateer; but his making ready to receive her, the French Captain Daille had but 75 Hands on board, and mounted only six small Guns.

From Providence we learn, that the Recovery of that Port, has taken, and carried in, a French Privateer, of eight Guns; also a French Polacco, from Old France for the West-Indy, with a valuable Cargo on board. We have Advice from New York, that on the 20th instant two Families were attacked in Ulster County by the Indians, about twelve or fourteen from Hadson's River, and in a thick forest of the Country, when they murdered them, excepting one Person, who escaped.

THE [Numb. 708.]
MARYLAND GAZETTE,

Containing the freshest Advices foreign and domestic.

THURSDAY, November 30, 1758.

A SPEECH concerning the PRUSSIAN TREATY delivered in a certain POLITICAL ACADEMY by Mr. PITT.

THE Treaty now in Question is, perhaps, a Transaction of as interesting a Nature to the Interests of England, and the Liberties of Europe, as any that ever was brought into any Assembly.

Gentlemen, upon one Side of the Question, have said a great deal against what they call continental Connections, and others have supported them with equal Warmth. For my own Part, Sir, give me Leave to say, that I partly differ, and partly agree, with both; and let me say farther, that the Treaty before us seems to have hit the very Point in which the true Interest of Great-Britain ever lay; in which, Sir, it ever must lie while we are a Protestant, a free, and an independent People.

Could I conceive a continental Measure, Sir, so circumstanced as to be totally unconnected with our Interest, I am very sure my honourable Friend over the way could not oppose it with more Zeal, tho' perhaps he might oppose it with more Abilities, with more Efficacy, than I would. But Sir, I am afraid I may not have the same Notions of the Interest of Great-Britain, that some Gentlemen have.

In my Opinion, Sir, the Interest of England, in whatever Light we view it, comprehends the whole system of public Liberty in Europe. Whenever that, Sir, is affected, whenever that is shock'd, give me Leave to say, and I appeal to all Experience for the Truth of what I advance, the Interest of England is endangered. This, Sir, is a Maxim that has ever been laid down and invariably pursued by all the wise and public-spirited Princes and Ministers we have ever had, and I hope it never shall be given up under this Family.

The Increase or Diminution of our Exports and Imports, the Articles upon our Custom-House books, and the several Matters contained in the papers that now lie before us, are, all of them, points of the highest Consequence to the Interest, Sir, I may say to the Existence, of this Kingdom; for Gentlemen to confine all their Views, all their Care, all their Reasonings, to that Point, is like cleaning the Dial-Plate, and adjusting the Movement, of a Watch, without considering that the main Spring is ready to snap asunder. The preservation of the public Liberty of Europe, which can be effected only by the Preservation of the Protestant Religion, give me Leave to say, Sir, the main Spring of the Interests of Great-Britain, the Moment, Sir, we shall fold our Arms, sit mope by, and see that destroyed, that Moment to give the Ambition of France Leisure to look on, Leisure to cope with us, upon the very Point we now consider as our greatest, if not only Security, a dreadful Prospect, Sir, when we consider what has happened during the Course of a late and present War.

I am as far as any Gentleman in this House can be from justifying all the continental Connections we have run into for these 20 Years past. But, Sir, will any Man lay his Hand upon his Heart, and say, that if Great-Britain, during that Time, had been an unconcerned Spectator of the Troubles of Europe, that France would not, at this time, have been more than in a Condition to be disposed with her the Empire of the Seas, and with all the Ruin which the late War brought on her Marine, notwithstanding the numberless Orders her Trade has followed to this; notwithstanding all the provisional Checks her Arms have met in Germany, and the Money she has squandered on the Continent, you see what Efforts she even now makes at Sea; Efforts that will stagger future Times to believe, unless (which Heaven prevent) their future Successes shall render them credible.

I know not any one Point more generally agreed upon, amongst all who have Opportunities of being informed, than that the French Ships are in every Respect preferable to ours; than that their Metal is heavier, and that both their Officers and Men are at least as brave, and behave as well in Action, as ours; and I believe, Sir, we have but too good Reason to believe they will never be at a Loss for Materials to build a Navy, while they preserve their Superiority on the Continent. If, Sir, these Things are so (and who can dispute that they are not so?) what, in the Name of Heaven, can prevent France from having a Marine superior to ours, whenever she is at Freedom to bend her Power and employ her Subjects on that, and that alone?

The single Consideration therefore with me is, how far we are, humanly speaking, at present, from that fatal Period? This, Sir, I say, is the single Consideration that now influences me, and I can't help calling it a tremendous one to every true Englishman.

Public Liberty has, in the Person of his Prussian Majesty, a Champion on whom I cannot bestow a more just, and therefore a greater Escoumion, than to say, that he is worthy the Cause in which he fights, and the Cause is worthy of him. This, Sir, is saying more for him than we can say by giving him the Preference to all the Heroes of Antiquity. But, Sir, tho' the Person, the Cause, and the Arms of that great Prince, seems hitherto to have been the peculiar Care of Heaven, we are to remember that Success is attach'd to no Cause, and, even the Hero I am now speaking of, has had his Reverie of Fortune. I speak not this, Sir, as if we had any Reason to doubt his Virtue, his Courage, or his Wisdom, but I cannot go so far as to say that he is omniscient or omnipotent; that Victory will be always chain'd to his Chariot Wheels, and that Conjunctions cannot happen, in which the most consummate civil and military Virtues may be oppress'd by superior Power and Numbers.

An honourable Gentleman, whom I always hear with Pleasure, even when he speaks against my own Sentiments, has said, that Germany will be always able to secure her own Liberties, and he appeals to the Events of last Year as a Proof of his Observation. Sir, I am as sensible as any Gentleman can be of the Greatness and Glory of those Events. But have we not, almost in our own Memory, Examples where a continual Career of Victories over a reduced Enemy has, at last, taught that very Enemy to beat their Conquerors? Some of us may remember the Case of Charles, King of Sweden, who, by often beating the Muscovites with greater Odds of Numbers against him than the King of Prussia had to do with in the last Campaign, was at last ruined by the Skill and Knowledge of Discipline which his Enemies acquired by their Defeats. The Valour and good Discipline of the Austrian Troops were both felt and acknowledged in the last Campaign by his Prussian Majesty, who never showed himself a greater Man than he did in confessing his own Fallibility, and giving even his Enemies their due Praises. His gaining the Battle of Rosbach, next to his own matchless Conduct and Valour, was, humanly speaking, owing to the bad Policy of the Court of Vienna, who trusted the Contingent Troops of the Empire, under Prince Saxe-Hildburghausen, to co-operate with those of France; two Bodies of Men, Sir, that I will venture to say, would rather have cut one another's Throats, than those of the Prussian Army. The Stream of Success that afterwards attended his Arms, were great beyond any Parallel, at least in modern History. But had not his Reason been intoxicated with an Opinion of their own Power, had not Want, Sickness, and Desertion, weakened, and Pride, Rage, and Revenge blinded, the Austrians, his Laurels, tho' not less glorious, must have been left spreading than they are at present. I know, Sir, the Prussian Majesty threw himself a great General, by taking the Advantage of the Circumstances that either enslebled, discouraged, or divided the Enemy; but let me ask, Sir, what most have been the Consequence had no such Circumstances presented themselves?

In short, we are not to trust to such another Concurrence of Circumstances in our Favour; it would be tempting Providence to do it. It would be acting like the Fellow in the Fable, who prayed Jupiter to help his Cart Wheels out of the Slough, when he ought to have freed them by the vigorous Application of his own Strength and Shoulders.

I hope I may, without Offence, ask, Gentlemen, in what Condition must the Affairs of this Protestant Kingdom be, should our Enemies profit by Experience; should Ambition and Revenge reconcile the Powers that Ambition and Revenge have ever disunited? I cannot, Sir, without trembling, enter into the Idea. And give me Leave to ask farther, Sir, Where is the Improbability that they will not? Consider the Progress the French have made in their Marine ever since the Commencement of this War. Consider the Successes they have had in America, which was confessedly the primary Object of the War on both Sides, and is, in Fact, the grand Spring of all their Motions. Gentlemen, when they look upon this War in detached Operations, must always form a wrong Idea of the French Designs; and partial Views will ever produce partial Representations.

The French, Sir, consider Power as their Ultimate, and wherever this Power can be acquired it must equally answer their Purposes. They know that the Source of Power lies in Riches, and that the Source of the English Riches lies in America. They know that in Proportion as we are weakened there, in the same Proportion they are strengthened. And, Sir, any Man who considers their Conduct ever since their Differences with England broke out, will have no Difficulty in concluding, that however their Operations may be directed in Germany, the ultimate Object of them lies in America. Gentlemen have talked a great deal of Religion, and a Religious War, I am no Stranger to the Weaknesses of some Powers in that Respect, but I look upon Religion, Sir, to be only the Side Wind of Ambition amongst Princes. But supposing it, Sir, to be what we may call the cardinal Point of their political Compass; how is the Matter altered? The Tools of the Church of Rome are taught, that it is necessary to acquire Power in order to establish Religion, so that the Work of Ambition is always sure to go forward, whether Religion be their primary or secondary View.

Therefore, Sir, in the present Case, it does not signify a farthing whether the present is a War of Religion or of Ambition; we are sure that it is a War designed, on the Part of our Enemies, to strip us of our most valuable Properties. Their Religion teaches them, to do that, to begin there. They can succeed in no other Way; the Protestant Religion never did succeed any other Way but by strengthening themselves and weakening their Adversaries.

Gentlemen, I know, have said, that if the Views of the French are upon America, why ought we not to have America in our Eye likewise? I agree, Sir, that we ought; but then, Sir, I think we have our Eye upon America, when we fix it upon any Spot of the Globe, where the Power of France is to be pushed, or her Injustice chastised. If we can by supporting his Prussian Majesty, divert the French from pursuing those Schemes that will infallibly give them a Superiority by Sea; we provide, in the most effectual Manner, for our Settlements in America. Give me Leave therefore to say, that Gentlemen do not take a sufficiently comprehensive View of the French Politics, when they make a Distinction between Germany and America. For when they have nothing to fear from Germany,

...and then a Person that was with him... by which it was thought he had been in England.

HOR. SHARPE.

To His Excellency HORATIO SHARPE, Esq. Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over the Province of MARYLAND.

We shall take under our Consideration the General's Letter, and will Dispatch (which we hope will not be hindered by any unnecessary Objections) printed in such Circumstances, as may fully satisfy every Thing his Excellency can reasonably wish or expect from the Inhabitants of this Province.
