THURSDAY, September 4, 1760.

PETERSBURG II, May 19.

MARSHAL Soltikoff has been detained here by Reasons which the Public know nothing of, but which will very soon cease, if it is true, as we are this Day assured, that he will infallibly be at the Head of his Troops by the 2d of June. The Courts of Vienna and France have been pressing us to begin our Operations, persuaded that no Time must be lost, if we would make an honourable Peace for the Defenders of the common Cause. Count Soltikoff will have this Campaign 173,517 Men under his Command, Forces surely sufficient to reduce the Prussians. Notwithstanding all the Reports about General Totleben, the Empress, knowing him to be a good Officer, has desired him to continue to command the Light Troops.

Leipsic, May 24. A great Quantity of old Linen has just been sent to the King of Prussia's Army, in order to make Lint, and all the young Surgeons here, are ordered to repair thither; all which denotes that his Majesty intends to give Battle to the Austrians before they can be supported by the Army of the Empire, which seems to be advancing that Way, though it will be very difficult for them to find Subsistence, especially for their Cavalry, every District having been already foraged.

Frankfort, June 1. Friday last 4000 Hanoverians came to Fulda to pillage that Town, but the Count de la Nonne obliged them to fall back to Schlitz, with the Loss of 20 killed, a great Number wounded, and 20 Prisoners. The French lost in all but nine private Men.

Naples, May 13. By Order of the King of Spain, we are embarking for Barcelona all the Balls in our Arsenal of a certain Bore, many small Pieces of Artillery, and other Implements of War.

Nuremberg, May 27. Our Advices from the Mayne are, that 20,000 French are marching towards the Bailiwick of Gemunden, in the Bishopric of Wurtzbourg, in order to prevent the Allies from advancing. As they carry no Provisions with them, they have demanded 2000 Quintals of Hay, 200 Bushels of Oats, with Wood and Straw in Proportion. This Quantity must be delivered daily, or the Country will be foraged.

Stockholm, May 23. A Detachment of Bombardiers, with a great Number of Horses, and a Quantity of Ammunition, have been embarked at Ytled.

Dulmen, May 30. M. de Sporcken, whose Head Quarters are here, commands a Corps of 30,000 Men. We have a very strong Garrison in Ham, about five Miles from hence: A Magazine is erecting at Dronsteinfurth; Munster furnishes the Forage: In a Word, we want neither Troops nor Provisions. Twenty thousand French are assembling in the Neighbourhood of Wesel.

Petersburgh, May 16. They are working briskly in the Ports of Cronstadt and Revel towards the Equipment of a Fleet which the Empress is resolved to have at Sea this Year; and which is to consist of at least 20 Ships of the Line, to be commanded by the brave Admiral Mischowkoff.

The King of Poland has sent the Collar of the Order of the White Eagle, enriched with Diamonds, worth upwards of 25,000 Rubles, to Count Soltikoff.

Settin, June 3. Several Inhabitants of this Province have been sent to Goal, being accused of holding Correspondence with the Russians, and favouring their late Incursions upon our Frontiers, from whence they have carried off near 4000 Head of horned Cattle.

Cleves, June 4. The Desertion of the French Troops in this Duchy is so great, that Picquet Guards are obliged to be posted at different Places, in order to put a Stop to it.

Stockholm, May 23. Between three and four hundred Recruits for our Army in Pomerania embarked this Morning at Delaroe.

Paderborn, June 3. The Prospect of our coming to a speedy and decisive Action with the French, seems at an End for the present, Marshal Broglio having withdrawn the greatest Part of his Army from Friedberg, where they were assembled, and cantoned them in the Wateraw. This obliged Prince Ferdinand to order our Troops, that were advanced beyond Fritztal towards Friedberg, to return to Fritztal, where the Allied Army now remains. In the mean Time, every Thing is preparing by the French for a general Encampment of their Army; but whether Marshal Broglio intends to entrench himself, and by that Means keep Prince Ferdinand from sending Reinforcements to the King of Prussia, or whether he intends to risk a Battle with his Serene Highness, is at present very uncertain. Should the French encamp at Gieslen, it is thought the Allied Army will march from Fritztal to Marpurg, whereby Prince Ferdinand will be so very near them, that the first Motion of either Army will doubtless bring on a Battle.

Hague, June 10. A Hanoverian Detachment, under the Command of M. Scheyter, lately crossed the Rhine, in order to surprize the French Garrison of Emmerick, in the County of Cleves; but the Commanding Officer getting Notice of their Design, took his Measures to prevent it, and hurried in the Hanoverians so close, that to escape the French, and get back to General Sporcken's Camp, they were forced to go into the Territory of the Quarter of Nimeguen, whither the French, out of Regard to the Republic's Territory, would not pursue them. The Commanding Officer of the Garrison sent Notice of the Affair to the French Resident at the Hague, who laid it before the Grefrier Fagel, and the President of the Week. These Gentlemen made Answer, that it had not yet come to the Knowledge of their High Mightinesses, Mean while M. de Zoelin, first Deputy of the Province of Gueldres, was ordered to enquire into it, and having made his Report on Tuesday, the Deputies of their High Mightinesses were ordered to confer with Baron Sporcken, the Hanoverian Resident, on this Violation of the Republic's Territories.

The City of Hamburg proposes to send Deputies here to solicit the good Offices and Intercession of their High Mightinesses towards appeasing the Displeasure of his most Christian Majesty, who has thought proper to prohibit the Trade of the Hamburgers with France. This Affair is of the utmost Consequence to the Merchants of Hamburg, who carry on all their Trade in the North by the Assistance of the Wines and Brandies they import from France; besides which, they enjoyed many great and peculiar Privileges by Virtue of their Treaty of Commerce with France.

This Stroke will be so terrible to them, that their Remittances from England to Germany will be but a poor Equivalent for their Loss. If the Court of France continues its Resentment, the Dunkirkers will, in two Years Time, run away with the richest Branch of the Hamburgers Trade.

As the Subjects of this Republic will likewise draw some Advantages from the Disgrace of the Hamburgers, it is doubted whether their High Mightinesses will concern themselves in this Affair.

Leghorn, May 23. The Genoese are making great Preparations: In the Words of a Letter just come to Hand, they are arming against the Rebels of Corsica with Rapidity, even with Fury; and it is not doubted, if the Success is answerable to the Dispositions, but Passi will be soon in Irons. A Subscription of 16,000,000 of Livres is opened for this Purpose at Genoa.

Rome, May 28. Things are coming to Extremities with the Genoese. We know that Venice, and some Princes of Italy, will be for Rome, but the Genoese will have some very powerful Courts on their Side.

Berlin, June 3. There is Advice from Silesia, that General Laudon, with 50,000 Men, is actually in the County of Glatz. The Austrian Prisoners at Magdeburg amount to 6500, including 7 Generals, 45 Field Officers, and 450 others.

June 6. Nothing of Consequence has passed between the Armies in Saxony and Silesia.

Nuremberg, June 3. A large Detachment of Prussian Infantry has entered the Town of Gutsa, and laid it under Contribution.

Pais, June 6. Orders are given to fit out a great Number of flat-bottomed Boats and Prames in different Ports. One of these Boats, in going round from Havre-de-Grace to Brest, stood the Attack of one of the Enemy's Frigates.

Madrid, May 27. There are at present in the Port of Cadix, ready to put to Sea on the shortest Notice, 48 Ships of the Line, 12 Frigates, and 15 Chelcats.

Wesel, June 4. Provision is making at this Place of all Implements for a Siege. There have been sent here from France, 36,000 Bombs, which are probably destined for Hamden and Lipstadt.

Ratisbon, June 12. Some Ministers have received Expresses with Advices, that France, Great-Britain, and Prussia, have concluded a separate Peace, and that M. Broglio received a Courier the 7th Instant, with Orders to suspend Hostilities.

LONDON, June 7.

They write from Naples of the 7th ult. that 3,000,000 Pieces of Eight have been again remitted from the King of Spain, to pay off the Debts of that Crown, and for other Purposes relative to that State.

June 10. The Empress of Russia being very pressing for the Arrears of her Subsidy from France, the Treasury have given her Bills of Exchange on Holland for 600,000 Rubles [4 s. 6 d. each.]

The Æolus Man of War, Captain Elliot, has taken from under the Guns of the Fort of Belleisle, a small French Vessel, and carried her into Admiral Boscawen's Fleet.

Two Thousand more Troops are on their March to embark forthwith to join the Allied Army.

We hear there will be a Bombardment on the Coast of Normandy under the Command of Rear-Admiral Rodney.

June 12. The Magistrates of Hamburg have received the important and disagreeable News, that the Court of France has declared the Treaty of Commerce with them null and void; and have given Permission to their Privateers to cruise upon their Trade.

His Majesty's Frigate, the Æolus, Captain Elliot, arrived in Quiberon Bay the 17th ult. and carried in with her a French Brigantine, laden with Stores for the Garrison of Belleisle. She attempted to run ashore under a Battery of great Strength; but the Æolus just got Time enough to cut her off, and after they had fired several Shot she struck. Our Frigate was exposed to a continual Fire of two Batteries, one consisting of 42 Pounders, and the other of 12; they also fired some Shells, but luckily did no Execution. The Æolus is gone Commodore, in Company with the Brilliant, on a Cruise along the Spanish Coast, in Quest of the Privateers hovering about there.

On the 19th ult. his Majesty's Ship Melampe chafed off Ushant, a French Snow, which they judged to be a Privateer, and pressed him so hard, that he overlet in a Squall of Wind, and went to the Bottom, about five Miles to Windward.

The Juno Frigate, on the 14th of April last, engaged a French Frigate of 26 Guns, off Bilbao, for one Glass, when the Frenchman struck, and the Juno carried her into Port Antonio.

June 17. It is pretty remarkable, that 43 of the Ships out of 200 taken by the Enemy since the 1st of March last, have been ransomed for between 14 and 15000 l. so that taking the Whole upon an Average (except the Thames, Capt. Saunders, and the Prince of Wales, Capt. Landfield, which two Ships are valued at 150,000 Pounds) the Whole of their Captures during that short Space of Time, including the above two Ships, amounts to between Two and Three Hundred Thousand Pounds.

Extract of a Letter from Parayle Monial, in Burgundy, in France, June 8.

"A young Nobleman, not quite 20 Years old (the Count de B—, Lieutenant of Cavalry) was attacked a few Days ago, by a mad Wolf of an extraordinary Size. (It is a pity his exact Size is not mentioned). The furious Animal first seized the Horse, and tore off such large Pieces of his Fleck, that Monsieur de B— was soon dismounted. Then the Wolf flew (or jump'd) at him, and would certainly have torn him in Pieces had he not had great Presence of Mind. With one Hand (his Right) he seized the Wolf's foaming Tongue, and with the other (his Left) held one of his Paws. (Nobly done). After struggling a while with the terrible Creature, the Tongue slip'd from him; (a terrible lapsus lingue) and his right Thumb was bitten off; (it is well it was no worse); upon which, notwithstanding the Pain he was in, he leaped upon the Wolf's Back, clapt his Knees close to his Flanks, (by this one would think he had leaped with his Face the wrong way) and called out for Help, to some armed Peasants who were passing by, but none of those Fellows (a Parcel of dastardly Rascals) dared to advance: Well then, said he, Fire, (spoke like an Officer), If you kill me, I forgive you. One of them fired, and three Bullets went thro' the brave Officer's Coat, (probably his Flaps under the Wolf's Belly), but neither he nor the Beast were wounded. Another, bolder than his Comrades, (a courageous Fellow this), seeing the Cavalier was interceded, and kept firm on the Wolf, came very near and let fly at him: The Animal, (that with four Legs, and a foaming Tongue) was mortally wounded by this Shot; and after a few more furious Struggles, expired. In this dreadful Conflict (dreadful indeed), beside losing his right Thumb, the young Count's left Hand (or perhaps Ruffie) was torn, and he got several Bites in his Legs and Thighs. When he arrived at Bon-la-Roi, where his Regiment lay, he was advised to go down, with all Speed, to the Sea, which he accordingly did." (And there we leave him).

June 20. A Sloop of War, with two Land Officers on board, we hear, is sailed from Plymouth, with Dispatches for General Murray at Quebec, and General Amherst, who, it is supposed, was not far from him.

They write from Barcelona, that the Victoire Privateer, Captain Arnoux, was off that Port with a Prize she had taken, of 20 Guns, and upwards of 60 Men, bound from America to the Straights, laden with Sugar, and was going with her to Marfeilles.

Extract of a Letter from Frankfurt, June 10.

The Report that was spread of a speedy Accommodation between France and England is entirely vanished. The French Ministry have wrote to Marshal Broglio, to be prepared against all Events; that, as the Supplies were raised, the King was determined to risk another Campaign. The French Troops are certainly in fine Order, especially the Infantry, and well supplied with every Thing. Most of the Regiments are more than complete; so that, notwithstanding the Void made by the Departure of the Wirtembergers, there is great Reason to hope for a glorious Campaign. Marshal Broglio having represented to the King the Inconveniency he was laid under by the unexpected Loss of those Troops, his Majesty hath assured him, that they shall soon be replaced, either by a Reinforcement of French, or by other foreign Mercenaries. His Majesty hath accordingly applied to the Court of Mannheim for a Body of their Forces; but they excuse themselves by alledging that this will probably be the last Campaign, and that it would be some Time before they could send to the Field a Body of Troops equal to the Wirtembergers.

Part of a Letter from Fort St. George, dated October 25, 1759.

"Our Reinforcements, though too late to enable us to destroy the French Fleet, may be useful at Bengal, as the Dutch begin to give themselves Airs there; on Account of some Hardships laid on their Trade, by the Nabob, in our Favour. They have sent six Ships and some Troops thither, from Batavia; and as the Nabob has refused them a Passage up the River, and seems resolved to revenge the Insult, I fear it must come to a Rupture. It is a most valuable Settlement to the Company, therefore I could wish Things remained quiet there."

The Earl of Holderness's East-India Ship, Captain Robert Brooke, is arrived at Portsmouth from the East-Indies, with Advice, that the Dutch, upon a Misunderstanding with the Nabob, having joined the French, with a Design to make an Attack upon Calcutta, and having effected a Landing, were attacked and defeated by the Nabob, in Conjunction with General Clive. At the same Time seven of their Ships that had brought Troops on this Occasion, were attacked, in Bengal Road, by the Company's Ships, three of which were taken, and three sunk.

CHARLES-TOWN (South-Carolina) August 9.
On Tuesday last the Lieutenant-Governor received an Answer from the Hon. Col. Montgomery, to the Letter desiring he would leave a Part of the Detachment of the King's Troops under his Command, for covering the Frontiers; wherein he acquaints his Honour, that he shall leave four Battalion Companies of the Royal Regiment for that Purpose, who will be under the Command of Major Frederick Hamilton. The Express met the Troops at Lyon's Creek, and the four Companies just mentioned were ordered to return to the Congarees, which they did on the 2d Instant. The rest of the Detachment are marching down in order to embark for New-York, the Transports being ready to receive them on board.

BOSTON, August 18.
Extract of a Letter from Crown-Point, July 19, 1760.
Next Week we expect to take our Departure from this Place, in order to attack the French, who have advanced Half-way between St. John's and Crown-Point, to the Number of 2600: They are determined to make the greatest Opposition possible against our Party which goes from the Lake, as they have two Row-gallies, each to carry six 24 Pounders, four 42 Pounders, and 16 Field Pieces of 6 Pounders, 100 Swivels, and 1000 Men, which will greatly retard our joining General Amherst, who goes by the Way of Oswego: The French will endeavour to defeat us, as they know that they will thereby cut off the Provisions which we are to carry to the General at Montreal: However, we shall go with 5000 Men from this Place, with a Brig, which will carry eighteen 9 Pounders, two Redcaus, 16 Guns each, 5 floating Batteries, well built, and doubt not but it will be sufficient to repel the Enemy's Force: They are very weak at St. John's; and above all, their Indians have left them, which will render our Conquest easy. We are all in high Spirits, and want nothing but to see the Flag of CHRISTIAN LIBERTY waving on the Bastion of Montreal. We are certain the Enemy have had no Reinforcement either of Men, Provisions or Ammunition this Spring, neither do they expect any: They are certainly in the greatest Dilemma, and have no way to flee for Safety, as General Murray comes up the River with the Troops from Quebec, General Amherst by the Way of Oswegatchie, Sir William Johnson, with his Indians, from Niagara, and Colonel Haviland from Crown-Point, by the Way of St. John's, and all to meet at Montreal. I hope by the 7th of August to drink a Health to King GEORGE in the Bunch of Grapes Tavern at the East Side of Montreal Town, and at the same Time see the French pledge me. We have here Claret (but not the Property of the French, as they have none) in Bumpers, and the sovereign Toast is, SUCCESS TO THE BRITISH ARMS, AND A FINAL CONQUEST OF CANADA.

Thursday last arrived here from Louisburg, in 14 Days, his Majesty's Ship Scarborough, Captain Stott, with Dispatches for his Excellency General Amherst, which were brought thither by a Man of War in a short Passage from England, who after delivering the Packets at Louisburg, immediately proceeded to Quebec. The Dispatches for the General were forwarded from hence by Express the same Day. It is said they contain Matters of Consequence, but as yet nothing has transpired.

Saturday last Captain Ripley arrived here in 13 Days from Louisburg, by him we learn that they were still at Work on the Mines, had completed three, and were about to charge them; that they had blown up the Fortifications at Black Rock, without the Walls; and that, by the Dispatches brought by the Express mentioned above, it was generally thought there was a Peace.

NEW-YORK, August 21.

By Letters from Crown-Point and Oswego we learn, that on the 7th Instant the first Division of our Army consisting of the Grenadiers and Light Infantry of all the Regulars, Colonel Gage's Regiment, two Companies of Rangers, and the 11 Battalion of the Royal Highlanders, under the Command of Colonel Haldiman, embarked at Oswego on board two Snows, the Mohawk and Onondaga, and with a fine Gale proceeded toward the Enemy. Every Thing is getting ready with the utmost Expedition for the Whole to proceed; the Artillery Boats are all loaded, have 12 Barrels of Pork, 2 of Flour, and 20 Men each; and we hear, are to take Post on one of the Islands between Frontenac and Toniatia. That on the 8th, Orders were given for one Regiment of Regulars and the four Connecticut Regiments to receive their Pattoes, in order for Embarkation that Morning. That on the 11th about Three o'Clock in the Morning, our Forces from Crown-Point all embarked on board 330 Boats, and sailed with a fair Wind toward Nut-Island, at the other End of the Lake (where two of our large Vessels were stationed) except about 2000, including Invalids, left at Crown-Point, to carry on the Works, &c. and the New-Hampshire Forces, who were just arrived, and were to embark on board Boats left for that Purpose.

Yesterday arrived a Snow, Captain Bogart, from Jamaica, by her we have the Jamaica Papers till the 19th of July, but and no News, except that the Rebel Negroes are almost entirely taken or destroyed; about 80 lately surrendered themselves, and the few that remain are almost starved to Death, and cannot long escape.

August 25, On Monday Afternoon arrived here, in six Weeks and three Days from Bristol, the Sampson, Capt. Greatrakes, of 22 Guns, and 67 Men. As she came up, his Majesty's Ship Winchester, Captain Hale, lying in the Bay, gave a Signal for her to bring to, and sent a Boat, with an Officer and 23 Men, to go on board her; but the Ship kept on her Way, without any Regard to the Signal, when the Man of War fired at her, and continued to fire successively several Shots, one of which struck her just below the fore Charn, and went through her; but none of her People received any Hurt. Mean Time the Man of War's Boat, being a-board of the Sampson, and at some Distance on one Side, hailed her, and advanced to board, but the Sampson's Men, having discharged the Captain and Mate, fired a Volley of Small Arms into the Boat, when the Officer ordered the Boat to be sunk, and did her Men, but to no Purpose, for they fired a second Time, killed three outright, and a fourth so wounded he did not survive. The Magistrate of this City, having received Information of the Affair, immediately issued Warrants to apprehend the People belonging to the Sampson; and when she was hauled into the Dock, the Slaves and Constables, who were upon the Watch, in order to execute the Warrants in the most effectual and peaceable Manner, laid till the Captain and Mate came on Shore, and then took them into Custody; but the rest of the Men on board, arming with Cutlasses and Fire Arms, would not suffer themselves to be taken, nor any Person to come on board. Their Resistance being noticed to Capt. Hale, he weighed Anchor, and brought the Winchester into the Harbour along Side the Sampson, whose People on the Appearance of the Man of War, got into such Boats as they could find, and dispersed different Ways, some to Long-Island, and some up the River, leaving none on board but one or two Men, and two or three Boys, who are supposed to have had no Concern in this tragical Affair. After Examination of Witnesses, the Captain and Mate were admitted to Bail.

PHILADELPHIA, August 28.

Extract of a Letter from Quebec, July 22, 1760.
"Yesterday we had Accounts from General Murray, The Porcupine Man of War, with about 20 Transports, had passed by Chambeau, and got safe over the Rapids, or Falls of Richlieu, about 16 or 18 Leagues from this Place; but, in passing by Chambeau, they were fired at by a two Gun Battery, when a Lieutenant, and three or four private Men were killed; the rest of the Fleet were waiting for a Wind to pass. They landed thrice on the South Shore, without any Opposition, but could not effect a Landing on the North Side. The Louisburg Garrison is expelled up every Day, the greatest Part of which will be sent up the River."

Another Letter from the same Place, dated the 26th of July, mentions, that the greatest Part of General Murray's Army had passed the Rapids; and that the Country People were coming in fast, and taking the Oaths of Allegiance to his Majesty.

Brigadier Gage, with the last of the Army, left Oswego the 11th Instant; as did Sir William Johnson, with 700 Indian Warriors, and more were expected to follow them.

Our Army from Crown-Point, were in Sight of the Isle Aux Noix the 14th Instant. One of the Boats over set in the Lake, by which nine Men were drowned.

A Letter from Tsalé, dated the 7th of last Month, says; A French Frigate of 28 Guns, and 180 Men, bound to Quebec with Stores, was lost on the Island of Flora, and all the Men drowned, except about 28. Another Vessel of the same Force and for the same Place, sailed with the above Frigate; French making no Doubt, according to the Account of the Peasants that were saved, of retaking Quebec.

On Monday last, at a Court of Oyer and Terminer, held at Chester, John Lewis was indicted for the Murder of his Wife, to which he pleaded Guilty, and received Sentence of Death.

ANNAPOLIS, September 4.

We have a very agreeable Report, just come to Town, that General Murray has lately been victorious against Two Battalions of French near Montreal; told with this Circumstance, that he first discovered an advanced Party of a Captain's Guard, which he surrounded and took, and by them got Intelligence of the Two Battalions, which he entirely defeated. A Gentleman in Philadelphia, in a late Letter to one here, says, "We have very good News from General Murray, of his Beating Two Battalions of French Regulars, at 12 Miles Distance from Montreal. Col. Haviland is said to be stopp'd by about 1500 French at the Island of Nutts near St. John's; tho' it is believed he will soon beat them from thence, and get to General Murray's Assistance, and General Amherst likewise; and that Montreal will in a short Time be given up." A Piece of News we shall much rejoice to give our Readers.

Monday last the Wind-Mill, built on Wind-mill-point, in this Town, began to Grind; and is reckoned to be the strongest and best built Mill in the Country. It is said, she will Grind, with a middling Wind, Twelve Bushels in an Hour.

Tuesday Evening last, Mr. REZIN HAMMOND, of this Place (Son of Major NATHAN HAMMOND) was Married to Miss REBECCA HAWKINS, of the North Side of Severn, a well-accomplish'd young Gentlewoman, with a pretty Fortune.

Last Week we gave a short Account of a Privateer, having lately been in our Bay, which, it seems, was Disbeliev'd by some Gentlemen; but since that we have had further Accounts of that Affair, which are as follows:

Williamsburg, August 22. On Thursday the 14th Instant the Schooner Industry, Capt. Indle, belonging to Liverpool, from the Coast of Guinea, with 212 Slaves on board, was chased into the Capes by a French Privateer Schooner; and a Squall unluckily coming a-Head, obliged Captain Indle to come to an Anchor about a Mile and an Half off Foxe George on Point-Comfort: That Day the Privateer had taken a Pilot, whom they by Threats and Promises obliged to conduct their Boat, manned and armed, on board the Industry, which they took and carried off; one Stanner, a Pilot, they killed; and the Pilot they brought with them was wounded. The said Privateer is from Cape Francois, mounts eight Carriage Guns, besides Swivels, and has 30 Hands on board, mostly Spaniards and Portuguese; the Captain's Name is Nicholas, a Maltese. Some Time before she took the following Vessels, viz: A Sloop, belonging to South-Carolina, off Cape Hatteras; a Sloop belonging to Philadelphia, one Dyer Master, bound to Charles-Town; and a Snow from James River, bound to Glasgow, Capt. Miller, which they ranfomed for 5750 Pieces of Eight. When the Guineyman was brought to the Privateer, the Captain gave the Pilot his Boat again, according to Promise, and Liberty to the Captains Indle and Dyer, with their People, to go ashore in her, who are since arrived; the French Captain told one of them, that if such a good Booty as the Guineyman had not fallen in his Way, he intended to have landed his Men and plundered Hampton.—Should this Privateer get away with her Prizes, it is reasonable to imagine she will shortly make her Appearance again on this Coast, with many more, whereby the Trade of this Colony must suffer prodigiously: What Pity is it that a Man of War was not stationed on the Coast, to protect our Trade, and secure us from such Insults!

The Gentlemen of Norfolk and Hampton, immediately upon Advice of the above, opened a Subscription, and fitted out with all Expedition the Brigantine Polly and Sally, Capt. Nelson, mounting ten Carriage Guns and ten Swivels, with 60 Seamen and 40 Volunteers on board, which we hear sailed Yesterday Morning in Quest of the Privateer; and should she be lucky enough to come across Monsieur, which it is hoped she will, there is but little Doubt of our soon having the Pleasure to hear of his being safely conveyed into Hampton Road.

New-York, August 25. Yesterday Captain Stag, in a Sloop, arrived here from Hampton, in Virginia, which he left last Monday, and reports, that on Thursday the 14th Instant, a French Privateer Schooner of 5 Guns and 70 Men, chased into James River, a Snow from Guinea with 200 Negroes on board, within two Miles of the Fort; but being checked by the Tide, a Pilot Boat that had been taken by the Schooner, boarded the Snow with 30 Hands, and carried her off; that the same Schooner a few Days before, had taken two Virginia Men outward bound, and killed one of the Pilots.

Philadelphia, August 28. On Monday last Captain Dyer, late of the Sloop Success, came to Town, from Virginia. He was bound to Charles-Town, in South-Carolina, from this Port; but was taken, on the 10th Instant, off Cape-Hatteras, by a Privateer Schooner, of 6 Carriage Guns, 14 Swivels, and 108 Men, from Cape-François, Charles Nicholas, of Malta, Commander, who left the Cape in Company with a Privateer Sloop, of 12 Guns, designed to cruise on this Coast. He took, besides Captain Dyer, the following Vessels, viz. In Hampton Road, a Schooner, belonging to Liverpool, from the Coast of Africa, with about 200 Negroes on board.—Within Cape-Henry, a Snow, bound to Air, in Scotland, with 300 Hogheads of Tobacco on board, which he ranfomed for 6000 Pieces of Eight. A Schooner from Turks-Island, for Salem in New-England, also ranfomed for 2600 Dollars.—A Sloop from Currituck, in North-Carolina for Virginia, likewise ranfomed for 1500 Dollars; and a small Sloop, from Virginia for Currituck. The Privateer went off the Coast the 13th Instant, when the Prisoners got a Boat to go ashore in. They then had heard nothing of the 12 Gun Sloop, said to have come out with the Schooner. The Crew of the Privateer, excepting a very few, all Spaniards; one of which, without any Provocation, stabbed the Pilot of the Guiney Schooner to the Heart, so that he died in a short Time.

Piscataway, August 29th, 1760.

To the PRINTER.

S I R,

THE Design of erecting a School at this Place having been approved of by several worthy Persons, to whom it has been communicated, and an Application to the Public for their kind Assistance in carrying it into Execution having been thought expedient, it is necessary that the Public should be particularly inform'd in the Scheme, to enable it to judge of it's Utility; and to give it this Information, hath fallen to my Share.

The little Town or Village of PISCATAWAY, in Prince-George's County, is situated on a dry healthy Soil, nigh the Banks of a River which may afford Plenty of Fish, as the adjacent Country will Plenty of other Provision whenever there shall be a Market for it. In and about this Place, within a convenient Distance, Forty Boys may be boarded in decent and reputable Families at the moderate Rate of Twelve or Fourteen Pounds Currency per Annum. An Acre of Land having been kindly given by a Gentleman who lives here for the Site of the School, it is computed that the Sum of £. 300 Currency will enable us to build a Brick House, commodious and large enough for our Purpose. Two Masters will be employed in this School; one, in teaching English, Writing, Arithmetic, and some of the most useful Branches of the Mathematics; the other, in teaching the learned Languages, Greek and Latin; and a Person qualified for the latter Office, will come recommended from a Gentleman of distinguished Learning in the University of Oxford, and Head of one of the Colleges there. The Latin Master will be a Clergyman of the Church of England, and will give me some Assistance in my stated Duty on Sundays, but on no other Occasions; for that he may have no Avocation from the Business of his School, I shall still continue to do the occasional Duty of my Parish, and answer all Calls as heretofore: Which Circumstances I mention to obviate an Objection which perhaps might in this Case be drawn from his Function;—an Objection not altogether groundless; for if I may be allowed to judge, from a pretty long Experience, he who has the Care of an extensive Parish in this Country, will not find much Leisure for other Employments. I likewise presume to hope, that the Circumstance of my own Children being of this School, as I intend they shall, and it's being immediately under my Eye and Inspection, will be no Disrecommendation of it to the Public.

The Want of the Means of giving even a tolerable Education to our Children, is a Circumstance attending our Situation in this Province, which every considerate Parent must, I suppose, sensibly feel and lament; and the Legislature, from certain unhappy Circumstances, which it would not become me to defeat upon, having not given all the Attention to this most important Point which might have been wished, it is hoped that private Persons will at least stand excused for attempting to remedy this Inconvenience so far as it is in their Power.—Where Education is not to be had at Home, Parents who can afford, and are willing to give it to their Children, must of Necessity look for it Abroad. But there are manifest Inconveniences attending this likewise. Not to mention the pecuniary Disadvantages, the having considerable Sum drawn from us by the neighbouring

Provinces for this increasing, unless of Learning and others which need not fail to occur to the convenience how Abroad, and contrary Practice, on as very material more properly, in hath, for certain his Wisdom and of Man a strong towards his nation quires to be cultivated most Care, as being to human Societies bit or Custom, that this natural Instinct and by residing in Years more expect them, and confessed and it's Usefulness I have met with Truth of this Objection so ingenious as to it to my no final the Case where I ed, and our Affair Channel in which I am much pleased Pliny to this Pur low-Citizens, in themselves in en which he contrib following Words nihil gratius patrie nascuntur, J amare, frequentat indeed, which and addressed to breathes through lence and true P racterizes the W recommend it to for the Benefit of Original, I submit having that of Sir, Your Provinces for this Purpose, and which will still be increasing, unless something be done for the Interest of Learning and Education amongst us; there are others which need not be mentioned, as they cannot fail to occur to any sensible Man.—One Inconvenience however of educating our Children Abroad, and consequently the Advantage of the contrary Practice, I must have Leave to insinuate as very material, and it is this.—Nature, or more properly, it's all-wise and all-good Author hath, for certain Ends and Purposes worthy of his Wisdom and Goodness, implanted in the Heart of Man a strong instinctive Propensity and Fondness towards his native Place; which good Policy requires to be cultivated and cherished with the utmost Care, as being of the utmost Use and Benefit to human Societies. But such is the Force of Habit or Custom, that it will in some Measure efface this natural Instinct and Propensity; strong as it is; and by residing in other Countries, in our younger Years more especially, we transfer Part of it to them, and consequently diminish it's Operation, and it's Usefulness, towards our native Country. I have met with those who have confessed the Truth of this Observation to me; and I must be so ingenuous as to own, that I have formerly felt it to my no small Disquietude; as will ever be the Case where Nature is thwarted and contradicted, and our Affections diverted from the proper Channel in which she hath ordain'd them to flow. I am much pleas'd with a Passage in the younger Pliny to this Purpose, in which, exhorting his Fellow-Citizens, the Inhabitants of Comum, to exert themselves in endowing a School there, towards which he contributed largely himself, he uses the following Words: Nihil honestius liberis vestris, nihil gratius patrie potestis. Educantur hic, qui hic nascuntur, statimque ab infantia natale solium amare, frequentare consuecant. The whole Epistle indeed, which is the 13th of the IVth Book, and addressed to the celebrated Historian Tacitus, breathes throughout that strong Spirit of Benevolence and true Patriotism, which marks and characterizes the Writings of this Author, and I would recommend it to the Perusal of your Readers: And for the Benefit of such of them as do not read the Original, I subjoin the following Translation, not having that of Lord Orrery, or any other. I am, Sir, Yours, &c. H. ADDISON.

C. PLINIUS to CORNELIUS TACITUS.

REJOICE to hear that you have return'd in good Health to Town, and the rather as you could not have done so more opportunely for me who have Occasion to consult you in an Affair which I have much at Heart. I shall remain here a few Days to finish a small Piece which I have in Hand, for I am afraid if I should throw it aside now that I have almost finish'd it, I should not resume it again without some Reluctance. In the mean Time, lest the Business I alluded to above should suffer any Delay, this Letter must prepare you for the Request I have to make to you when I shall have the Pleasure of seeing you. Take then first the Occasion of the Request, and then the Request itself. Having been lately at Comum, the Place of my Nativity, a Youth, the Son of one of my Fellow-Citizens, a Person of Condition, came to wait upon me. I asked him whether he applied himself to Study. He answer'd, that he did.—Where? said I.—At Milan.—And why not here?—Because, replied the Father, who had introduced his Son, and was present, we have no Masters.—And why have you none? For surely it would be vastly to the Benefit of you who are Parents (and luckily enough it happen'd that many such were present) that your Children should receive their Education here. For where can they be with so much Satisfaction to themselves as in their native Place, or with so much Security to their Morals as under the Eye of their Parents? Or with so little Expence as at Home? How easy a Matter then were it for you to raise by Contribution, a sufficient Sum to retain proper Masters; and this may be done, only by applying towards the Salaries of those Masters, the Sums which you now expend in sending your Children Abroad, where every Thing is to be bought at a dear Rate, and in their Journeys to and fro. And for your Encouragement, I, who have no Children of my own, am ready, from that Affection which I bear to our common Country, and which I would consider upon this Occasion as my Child or Parent, to contribute a Third Part of whatever Sum you shall judge necessary for this Use. Indeed, I should have been very ready to have supplied the Whole, were I not afraid that it would hence be liable to Abuse, as I have observed it frequently to happen, where Masters have a settled Stipend paid them by the Public. There is no other Method of obviating this Abuse, than by leaving the Right of electing them to the Parents, so that they themselves shall be interested in making a proper Choice. For they who might perhaps be negligent of the Interest of others, will not probably be so of their own; and in the present Instance, they will use their Endeavours that no Person but who is well qualified shall receive my Money, as he will at the same Time receive theirs likewise. Therefore agree and consult together, and exert yourselves the rather upon my Account, who don't care how large the Sum is which I shall contribute upon this Occasion. You can do nothing more beneficial to your Children, nothing more acceptable to your Country. Let those who receive their Birth, receive their Education likewise here, and from their earliest Infancy, let them learn, from Use and Habit, to love and esteem their native Place; and I heartily wish that you may make Choice of Persons so well qualified, that the neighbouring Provinces may seek their Education hence; and as your Children have hitherto resorted to other Places for that Purpose, so others in their Turn may resort thither.

Thus have I given you a full Detail of our Conversation upon this Subject, that you may know how much you will oblige me if you will undertake what I enjoin you;—and I do enjoin and request it of you with all the Urgency its Importance demands, that out of the Number of learned Men who resort to you thro' a just Admiration of your Genius, you would consider of Persons proper for this Office;—yet under this Restriction, that I am laid under no Obligation to any Individual, that he shall be employed. For I would leave all to the Parents; let them judge, let them chuse for themselves; I claim no other Share than the Trouble and the Expence. Therefore if you can meet with any who rely upon their own Merit, let them repair thither with an Assurance that that alone will recommend them. I bid you adieu.

TWENTY POUNDS REWARD.

Any Person, who may have the Opportunity of apprehending him, and the said Negroes, are desired to take very good Care of them, as he will perhaps make fair Promises, and thereby deceive them. I would likewise inform the Public, that the Debt for which the Execution arose, was, That the said Robert Caten took, some Time ago, a free born Mulatto Woman, and sold her for a Slave; which villainous Affair he was obliged to compound, by giving a Judgment Bond, upon which the above-mentioned Execution issued; therefore People may judge what Sort of a Person he is. RAN away on Sunday Morning the 10th of this Instant August, from the Subscriber, living in Queen-Anne's County in Maryland, a Convict Servant Man named Benjamin Williams, he came from the West of England, is a Taylor by Trade, and a tolerable Workman. He had on when he went away, and carried with him, a claret colour'd Coat trimmed with Metal Buttons, a Pair of pale colour'd Sagathy or Everlasting Breeches, also an old light colour'd cloth and claret colour'd Pair of Breeches, a Waistcoat of red flower'd Callico or Cotton, a Pair of Yarn and a Pair of Worsted Stockings, a Pair of good Shoes and Buckles, an old Hat, and an old white Linen Shirt. He wears his own black Hair, which is not very long, he has a thin Beard, is a small Matter above the common Size, has a very effeminate Voice, stoops a little in the Shoulders, and has a genteel Carriage. It is imagined he has a Receipt passed to one Thomas Holloway for some Money paid by said Holloway for his Liberty, and Passage in the same Ship that brought the above Benjamin Williams. It is suspected that a Mulatto Fellow (who is under Indenture to said Earle) named Isaac Bentley, alias Protus, is gone with him; he is a luffy ill looking Fellow, with sunken Eyes, and large black Eye-brows. He had on and carried with him, a brown Coat, lined with red, a short deep blue Duffel lapelled Jacket, a Pair of new Shoes, a Pair or Two of Petticoat Trowsers, and a Pair of light colour'd Drugget Breeches. IT being thought by many, that the late Earthquakes were at Tripoly in Barbary, we think proper to acquaint the Public, That this dreadful Calamity happened at Tripoly in Syria, in the Levant, subject to the Turk, and that it was felt all over Palestine or the Holy Land.—Tripoly, in the earliest Ages, called Phenicia, and was the greatest Maritime Port in the World, and the People of that Country the most famous for Arts and Manufactures, trading to all Places with their Shipping, and settling Colonies in several distant Parts of the East and West.—Among the many Cities, Towns, &c. that were reduced to a heap of Rubbish on this unhappy Occasion, was the ancient City of Bethulia, so famous in History for the Siege thereof in the Time of Judith and Holofernes, which it is said was upon a hilly Situation.

Extract of a Letter from an English Merchant at Tripoly, in Syria, dated January 2, 1760.

"This Town is in a manner deserted, where no longer ago than the 30th past some more Houses fell, occasioned by a Shock of an Earthquake at Ten that Night, equal to that of the 30th of October: Mine has received no farther Damage since the 25th of November, tho' I do not venture myself in it, being encamped under a Tent at our Marine, where I have just raised a Cottage of wild Canes, forming 2 Rooms: The one I sleep in, the other is my Parlour.—These Kind of Buildings, as despicable as they may appear, are at present honoured in giving Shelter to a Vizier-Pacha and his Haram (Seraglio) at the Metropolis of this Government. The Town of Baalbeck, and its famous Temple, are reduced to an Heap of Stones, and 'tis reported here, that every Body in it perished on the 25th of November, except the Emir and another Person. A River which furnished that Town with Water was dry for several Days."

Extract of a Letter from Aleppo, dated January 23, 1760.

"This Town, as its Buildings are the strongest in the Ottoman Empire, has suffered but very little, and we have felt but few Shocks since the 30th of December: But we hear To-day that two very severe Shocks were felt at Latichea (the ancient Laodicea) no longer ago than the 18th Instant. Damascus has suffered greatly: one Half at least of the City (they say) is demolished, and many Thousand Lives lost. Antioch is not in a much better Condition; many Houses were thrown down by the different Shocks; but that on the 23th of December, was attended with so violent a Storm of Rain, that the Torrents from the Mountains, under which this once famous City lies, overset or damaged the greatest Part of what remained standing. At Sidon 300 Houses are thrown down. At Acri and Latichea scarce one escaped unhurt."

Part of a Letter from Fort St. George, dated November 5.

"The late Engagement in the East-Indies is the bloodiest that has been fought this War. The French held a Council of War, whether or not they should sink the Zodiac of 74 Guns, being so terribly mauled, but it was determined to carry her to the Isle of France to be broke up." And concludes thus: "It is impossible to speak sufficiently in Praise of both Officers and Seamen of the whole Squadron. Their Ardour was above any Thing I ever met with; and the whole Mortification they suffered, was, by the French not staying to make the Battle decisive, which I flattered myself must have been in our Favour. History, I believe, cannot produce an Instance before, of two Squadrons fighting three pitched Battles, under the same Commanders, in 18 Months, and not lose a Ship on either Side: But let the Disadvantages we have always fought under be considered, when our Actions are the Object of your Thoughts or Conversations. I flatter myself we shall merit more the good Opinion of our good Friends at Home, than any Squadron of his Majesty's Navy this War. But, alas! I am too sensible, how very apt the World is to judge of great Mens Actions by their Success."

It being represented to Admiral Pocock, just before the late Sea Engagement in the East-Indies, that it would be prudent to decline engaging the French on Account of their Numbers; "That may be (said he) but I am so had an Arithmetician, as not to know the Difference between IX and XI; our Business is to fight;" and immediately gave Orders to engage.

Among the Prisoners brought home from Senegal, and set on Shore in France, was the late Governor of Gelam, which belongs to that Place. All the Buttons on his Cloaths, Buckles, &c. besides a large Snuff-box, of a Pound weight, were all solid Gold.

A few Days ago died in the Borough of Southwark, one John Lovel, for many Years a Journeyman Carpenter, who, by lending out small Sums to inferior Trades People, at an exorbitant Interest, and by the most penurious Way of living, amassed the Sum of 6000 l.

It is said, that a Jew, a Dealer in old Cloaths, who was buried Yesterday in Duke's Place, died worth upwards of 100,000 l.

ST. JAGO DE LA VEGA (in Jamaica) June 14. On Monday a Negro Fellow was banged on the Gallows, near this Town, for endeavouring to seduce several other Slaves into Rebellion.

June 21. By a Gentleman from Westmoreland, we are informed, that the Rebels have left that Parish, and were in Hanover a few Days ago, going, as was imagined, to St. James's. A considerable Number of them have been killed, their Leader sharing the same Fate about six Days since. Those left have neither Arms nor Ammunition.

June 28. By a Gentleman from Savanna-la-Mar, we have an Account, that the Rebels are reduced to a State of Disperation, being driven into a Precipice, almost surrounded by the Regulars and Militia, and had but seven Musters left. That Gadsby's Party was daily bringing in Numbers of them, and that the Whole of them must in a few Days come in, be reduced by Famine, or destroyed.

Three rebellious Negroes have been this Week executed near this Town: Two of them had endeavoured to foment an Insurrection in Louidas, but were happily discovered.

July 5. Last Saturday Capt. Webley, with a Detachment of the black Grenadier Company, marched to St. Thomas, in the Vale, to keep Things quiet there.

On Thursday a Detachment of the Horse Militia marched from Kingston for St. Thomas, in the East, to prevent Disturbances in those Parts.

Several Negroes belonging to Cocoa-Walk Plantation, in St. Dorothy's, have been found Guilty of Rebellion, four whereof have been this Week executed, and six ordered for Transportation.

Accounts from Westmoreland inform, that Numbers of the Rebels have been cut off since our last.

July 12. Advices received this Week from Westmoreland, convey the agreeable News of the Rebellion being almost entirely suppressed there, 80 of the Rebels have voluntarily surrendered themselves; and, in order to obtain their Pardon, brought in Prisoners, Wager, their Chief Commandant, and three others of their Seducers, the Ringleaders. The Remainder, a few desperate Villains excepted, are expected soon to come in, being quite tired out with Fatigue, Famine, and Dissention among themselves.

From St. Thomas's in the East we have Advice, that 19 Rebels have been executed there this Week, and that every Thing remains quiet in that Part.

July 19. Extract of a Letter from St. Thomas in the East.

"On Monday the 12th Instant, Captain Trevor and Captain Swingle, with the Morsons under their Command, fell in with Pompey, in the Woods near Berratt's Plantation: He endeavoured precipitately to make his Escape, but was shot dead by one of the Party, and his Head brought to Morant-Bay. This Fellow had great Influence over a Number of Negroes in Plantain Garden River."

CHARLES-TOWN (South-Carolina) August 13.

We learn from the Cherokee Country, that the People of the Lower Towns have carried the Small-pox into the Middle Settlement and Valley, where that Disease rages with great Violence, and that the People of the Upper Towns are in such Dread of the Infection, that they will not allow a single Person from the above named Places to come amongst them.

The French have stop all the English Vessels that were trading in the Mississippi.

On Sunday last arrived in Town the Honourable Colonel MONTGOMERY; and Monday Morning, the Grenadiers and Light Infantry of the Royal Scots, with all the Highlanders, came in, and immediately embarked on board the Transporte.

Major Hamilton, with the Troops under his Command, is at Congaree.

This Morning one of the Royals arrived Express from Major Hamilton at Congaree; by him there are Letters from Colonel Byrd, which were brought to Congaree by two Virginia Soldiers; they are dated only eleven Days ago, August 2d, at the Virginia Camp, and say, "Colonel Byrd was then about 300 Miles from Fort-Loudoun, with five Companies of the old Virginia Regiment, and seven Companies of new Levies, all excellent Woodsmen; heavy Rains on the Frontiers of Virginia, which had done great Damage, had retarded the March of those Troops, but Colonel Byrd expected to be at Fort-Loudoun with his Detachment by the Beginning of, or some Time in September."

We have heard of no Outrages committed by the Cherokees on this Side Fort Prince-George, since the Return of the Army from thence; nevertheless, our back Settlers are under such dreadful Apprehensions, that Numbers of them are travelling for Safety to the Northern Colonies with their Effects. The present seeming Inactivity of these Savages, is imputed, by some, to the Correction they have received from the King's Troops; and by others, to their dancing and physicking Days not being yet over, or their being gone towards Fort-Loudoun, or to oppose Colonel Byrd with their whole Force.

August 16. We hear from Shem-Town, Ashley-Ferry, that a Bill has been brought into the Commons House of Assembly there, and had two Readings, for forthwith raising a Regiment of 1000 Men, to act against the Cherokees; and that the Encouragement therein given to enlist, is greater than has been offered before in America; which, together with Compassion for the unfortunate People in Fort-Loudoun, and Self-preservation, we hope, will move more than a sufficient Number of good Men, to offer themselves in a few Weeks. The Bounty-money, we hear, will be 50 l. per Man, one Half to be paid at enlisting; the other in a Month, deducting, not exceeding 15 l. for Cloathing to be provided for them; the Pay to be 13d. Sterling per Day, and paid weekly, without any Deductions, and Provisions to be found them; besides which they will be entitled to 25 l. Bounty-Money for every Indian Man's Scalp they take, and the Property of every Indian they take, will be vetted as a Slave, in the particular Persons who take them.—Now seems the Time to humble the Cherokees effectually, while there is a Disunion among themselves,—while they are yet unprovided with Ammunition—and before they can get in and secure their Provisions, &c.

Letters from Fort-Loudoun, of the 27th of July, brought to Town this Morning, by an Express from Fort Prince-George, represent the then Situation of that Garrison as miserable beyond Description; and they complain, that it almost seems, as if it was abandoned and forsaken by God and Man. Their Sufferings are therein described most feelingly; and they seem without any Hopes of Relief. For some Time they subsisted on Horse-flesh; but that being discovered by the Indians, they now take Care that none of those Animals shall come in their Way. The Over-hills Towns were quite destitute of Corn, or it was secreted, and the last the Garrison got was procured at the Rate of sixteen Pounds per Bushel, and by almost stripping themselves (both Men and Women) to make one joint public Stock. The Fort was constantly surrounded, in such a Manner, that Nobody dared stir out of it, even for Water or Wood; and the Paths were every where so well guarded, that it was almost impossible for any one to escape from the Fort. The Garrison had made several ineffectual Attempts to bring about a Peace with the Indians; but the Headmen looked upon the Garrison as starving, and told them, they must by that Means soon be at their Mercy.

Two Half-breeds from the Middle-Settlements have brought Letters from Fort-Loudoun, repeating their melancholy Situation, which is aggravated by having no Hopes of Relief (as they had no Account of the Virginians) and the Passes being all more closely guarded than ever. The Little Carpenter still continues their Friends, but can contribute little to their Support.

Extract of a Letter from Ninety-Six, dated August 10, 1760.

"Last Night arrived here Francis Stockwell, with Express from Fort Prince-George, by which we learn, that the Indians of the Middle-Settlements and Lower-Towns say, that altho' they were not beaten by the white Warriors (particularly on the 27th June) as they pretend, they were still willing and desirous to treat of Peace, and have Traders return among them, provided the white People would not destroy their Corn and standing. After refusing to treat with Colonel Montgomery, in this insulting Strain as they talk. This is just telling us, we are glad to receive Terms from them; and I believe they are vain enough to imagine we are ready to catch at a Shadow to screen us, rather than attack them again; and that we will spare their Fields, and supply them with every Thing they want, rather than continue the War; and thus they may put themselves in a Condition to fall on us again to greater Advantage. They say, that the Cherokee Warriors in the Field on the 27th of June, were 630: That the Young-Warrior of Estatoowib, and the Tiftowib of Keowee, are both alive and well: And they speak of Capt. Williams, whom they killed, as a brave Man, and mistake him for Colonel Montgomery. Depend upon it, whatever Proposals now come from the Cherokees, they are made merely to gain Time, Ammunition, Provision and Strength. A Fort at Long-Camus would be of infinite Service, to prevent their future Incursions, for their Parties all come through there, and make it a kind of Rendezvous. This Fort is now in pretty good Order, with four Seivert Guns mounted, and well provided, so that we shall be able to make a good Stand, if they think proper to come this Way again."

B O S T O N, August 25.

Saturday Morning last a Sloop arrived here from Casco-Bay, in whom came Capt. Gardner, who arrived there the 16th Instant in a large Ship from Quebec, which he left the 29th of July; by him we have the following Advices, viz.

T H A T about a Fortnight before he sailed, General Murray with about 2500 Troops embarked on board a Number of Sloops, Schooners, &c. together with the Diana, Pezance and Porcupine Frigates, and sailed from Quebec the 14th of July, and the 22d an Express came to Quebec from them with the following Intelligence, viz. That on the 15th the Fleet anchored between Point Platon and De Chambeau; the 16th the Porcupine with the floating Batteries, and the greatest Part of the Fleet, went thro' the Rapids of Richlieu, without receiving any considerable Damage, though a Snow and Brig were forced on Shore, but got off again, but Lieut. Campbell of the Highlanders (the only one hurt) was killed by a Cannon Ball as they passed De Chambeau: The 17th in the Evening, Major Curry, with 200 Men and 70 Rangers, were ordered down the River to land on the South Shore opposite Jaques Quarters, from whence he was to detach a Captain and 200 Men with all the Rangers, to surprize a Guard at the Platon, about 5 Miles above where our Troops landed: They landed the same Night, and Capt. Leslie was detached for this Service at One o'Clock in the Morning, who marched his Party till near Day-light; but Monf. Hartell, who commanded the Enemy's Post, being apprized of their coming, gave the Alarm, and made a running Fire on our People, in order to escape; but they were so closely pursued, that we killed two on the Spot, and took two Prisoners, among the latter was Monf. Hartell, who was wounded in the Belly, and died that Morning.—The Troops, since the Guards were beat off, land daily, and the Inhabitants of the Parishes of St. Croix and Larbinere have come in with their Arms, and have taken the Oaths of Fidelity; and it is thought all the Inhabitants on the South Shore would also come in and lay down their hind Radebourg. The Prussian Camp is extraordinary silent. The King received the first Account of the Battle of Landshut from Daun's Army. This is a Blow from Providence which he was not prepared for; but he bears it with great Firmness. It remains to be seen, whether with all his Firmness he will find Resources to prevent or support the Consequences of such a great Reverse of Fortune.

Gorlitz, June 26. We are informed General Laudohn is sending all the Prussian Officers and Soldiers, Prisoners, into Bohemia, under a strong Guard. The Prussian Corps, before the Action of Landshut, consisted of 24,000 Men, 5000 of whom retreated to Schweidnitz and Neiss. The Austrian Army consisted of upwards of 30,000 Men, and, by their own Accounts, they lost above 4000.

LONDON, July 15.

Stupendous, July 1. By Authority. "General Fouquet being informed that Gen. Laudohn was marching to him, determined to defend the Intrenchments of Landshut to the last Extremity. However, to keep up the Communication with Schweidnitz, he detached Major General Zietzen with four Battalions and two Squadrons towards Frauenstein, and Major General Grant with some Horse to another Quarter, so that he had but a small Force left.

"On the 23d at Half an Hour after One in the Morning, Gen. Laudohn caused the Redoubts on the Hills of Murnberg, Benchberg, and Blasiortenberg to be attacked, which were carried after being bravely defended for two Hours by five Battalions; that of Mofel particularly did Wonders. General Fouquet, having thrown himself into the Redoubts that remain'd on the Hills Kitchberg, and Galgenberg, Laudohn summoned him twice to surrender, but he constantly refused; upon which he was attacked with great Fury. Our People fought like Lions; but at last General Fouquet, who received two Wounds, was forced to surrender. Nevertheless, Part of the Infantry and the greatest Part of the Horse forced their Way through, and had the good Luck to get safe to Breslau; and Major Gen. Zietzen threw himself with his Detachment into Schweidnitz without losing a single Man. The Austrians must have lost a great Number of Men, if it be true that Count Daun has since detached five Regiments of Foot and two of Horse towards the County of Glatz.

"Prince Henry's Head Quarters are still at Landberg on the Wartha, from whence he has detached some Troops towards Pomerania. Lieutenant-Colonel Loflow having fallen upon the Rear of General Tottleben, composed of Grenadiers and Cossaks, put 50 to the Sword and made 150 Prisoners; among whom are a Major and a Lieutenant. He also took a Number of Horses and Waggon with Meal."

General Fouquet received two Wounds, one a Shot through the Arm, the other a Cut in the Head: This last, it seems, has proved mortal; several Letters by this Day's Mails say that he breathed his last at Schatzlar in Bohemia.

Some Letters from Hamburg advise that the Garrison of Glatz is retired into the Citadel.

Extract of a Letter from Marbourg, June 30.

"His Serene Highness Prince Ferdinand left the Camp of Fritztal last Tuesday, and marched with his whole Force towards the French.

"After four Days March the Army reached Ziegenheim, and encamped on the Hills beyond that Town, where it still remains.

"The advanced Guard having almost reached Freyfa, met a Party of French Hussars, with whom they had a smart Skirmish, in which some few were killed and wounded on both Sides; and soon after the advanced Guard had a full View of great Part of the French Army, upon which they immediately retreated to their own Camp, without being pursued.

"Hereupon the whole Army was ordered under Arms, and continued so all Night; but the French did not come forward to attack them the next Morning, as was expected.

"The two Armies have ever since been encamped about eight English Miles asunder, and their respective advanced Guards are within six English Miles of each other.

"There have been already frequent Skirmishes between our Light Troops and the French Hussars, in which no great Advantages have hitherto been gained on either Side.

"As the first Motion of either Army will go near to bring on a Battle, we are daily in Expectation of hearing News from thence of the utmost Importance."

By a Letter from the Neighbourhood of the French Army in Germany, there is an Account that Baron Gratz, a Nobleman in those Parts, had at one Time quartered upon his Estate 700 Men, 30 Officers, and 60 Horses; and that if the War continues in the Empire, the Inhabitants will be entirely ruined.

Yesterday General Clive was introduced to his Majesty at Kensington, with Richard Clive, Esq; his Father, and met with a most gracious Reception.

Friday last was shipped for Carolina 6000 lb. Weight of Gunpowder, and a large Quantity of Shot and other Military Stores.

The same Day 10,000 Ounces of Gold were shipped for Holland.

August 14, 1760.

RAN away on Sunday Morning the 10th of this Instant August, from the Subscriber, living in Queen-Anne's County in Maryland, a Convict Servant Man named Benjamin Williams, he came from the West of England, is a Taylor by Trade, and a tolerable Workman. He had on when he went away, and carried with him, a claret colour'd Coat trimmed with Metal Buttons, a Pair of pale colour'd Sagathy or Everlasting Breeches, also an old light colour'd cloth and claret colour'd Pair of Breeches, a Waistcoat of red flower'd Callico or Cotton, a Pair of Yarn and a Pair of Worsted Stockings, a Pair of good Shoes and Buckles, an old Hat, and an old white Linen Shirt. He wears his own black Hair, which is not very long, he has a thin Beard, is a small Matter above the common Size, has a very effeminate Voice, stoops a little in the Shoulders, and has a genteel Carriage. It is imagined he has a Receipt passed to one Thomas Holloway for some Money paid by said Holloway for his Liberty, and Passage in the same Ship that brought the above Benjamin Williams. It is suspected that a Mulatto Fellow (who is under Indenture to said Earle) named Isaac Bentley, alias Protus, is gone with him; he is a lousy ill looking Fellow, with funken Eyes, and large black Eye-brows. He had on and carried with him, a brown Coat, lined with red, a short deep blue Duffel lapelled Jacket, a Pair of new Shoes, a Pair or Two of Petticoat Trowsers, and a Pair of light colour'd Drugget Breeches. He has been many Years in the Bay Business, is fond of strong Liquor, and when a little intoxicated, is very impertinent. They can both write, and probably may attempt forging a Pass. If they should be taken a considerable Distance from home, the Apprehender is desired to advertise it in the Maryland or Pennsylvania Gazette; and he shall be Rewarded with Forty Shillings for each, if taken in this Province; and Three Pounds for each, if taken out of this Province. RICHARD TILGHMAN EARLE.

Frederick-Town, August 19, 1760.

WHEREAS the Subscriber sign'd and seal'd a Bond, upwards of six Years ago, for Eighty Pounds, payable to Daniel Davis of Frederick-Town, Black-Smith; which Sum was to be paid to the said Davis on his making over, by a good firm Deed of Sale, 200 Acres of Land, with some Improvements thereon, to the Subscriber; but the said Davis not being able to make over the same, This is to forewarn all Persons from taking any Assignment of the said Bond, for as it is unjust that it should be paid, the Subscriber will not pay one Farthing of it. JOHN WIGHEL.

RAN away from the Subscriber, in Annapolis, a Convict Servant Woman named Frances Burrows, born in the West of England, about 5 Feet high, much pitted with the Small-Pox, and has a small Blemish in one of her Eyes. She had on, and took with her, an old black quilted Petticoat, a white Ditto bordered with Callico, a Chintz Bed-Gown, a Holland Shift, an old black Silk Hat, and several other Things. It is probable she will change her Cloaths and Name, and appear in Man's Apparel. Whoever takes up the said Servant Woman, and brings her home, or secures her so that she may be had again, shall have Forty Shillings Reward, paid by JOHN DUCKER.

Any Person that will apprehend him, and cause him to be conveyed to me, or to Mr. William Eaton in Dinwiddie County, shall receive Five Pounds Reward, if taken in this Government, if in any other, Ten Pounds, beside what the Law allows. And as it is supposed he will change his Name, and endeavour to escape out of the Country on board some Vessel, I would request all Masters to be careful not to receive him on board; and in Case he should offer to Ship himself or go Passenger on board any Vessel, that the Captain will cause him to be secured and sent before the next Justice of the Peace, and the Person performing such Service shall be rewarded in Manner aforementioned. Thomas Oxford, a Lad, about 5 Feet 4 or 5 Inches high, sandy Hair, white Eye-brows, and freckled Face. Had on a black Que Wig, pretty good Hat, Shoes and Stockings. GERMANY.

THE Gazettes of the 5th and 6th Instant, contain a very satisfactory Account of what has occurred, since our last, in the several Parts of this Empire; where numerous Armies, headed by able Chiefs, are putting every Method, every Art, in Practice to circumvent, attack and slaughter each other.

The Time seems approaching, when from all Quarters they may expect most important Intelligence, and we pray, sincerely, that it may favour the Cause of Justice and of Liberty, and thereby compel the Tyrants and Oppressors to sheathe the devouring Sword!

A Sloop belonging to the English Company, coming down Bengal River, was taken by seven Dutch Ships of War (six Transports and a Commodore) who had 1000 European Troops on board, and 600 others. These effected a Landing, but General Clive, having timely Notice of their Design, kept his Troops in Readiness, and as soon as they got on Shore, attacked them, killed 600, and made the rest Prisoners.

Notwithstanding which, we are informed, that the Affair is made up; the Governor of Batavia has solemnly declared he was the Aggressor, and has given a Draught on the States General for 120,000 l. to make good the Damages done our Shipping, &c.

July 1. We hear an Express is arrived from Major General Yorke, which brings Advice, that the States General had desired that it might be signified to his Majesty, that the Behaviour of the Governor of Batavia meets with their Disapprobation; and was absolutely without their Knowledge.

BOSTON, September 1.

The following is a true Account of the Misfortune which befel the Letter of Marque Brig Tyrel, Arthur Coghlan Commander, given by Mr. Thomas Purnell, Chief Mate of said Vessel, and the only Person that was spared out of all the Crew, which consisted of Seventeen.

THE 29th of June they sail'd from Sandy-Hook, and that Afternoon found the Vessel made a small Quantity of Water more than what she usually had, which caused a small Spell at the Pump every Half Hour, so that they thought there was not any Danger, until Wednesday the 2d of July, a little before eight o'Clock in the Forenoon: The Second Mate, who had then the Charge of the watch came and surprized Mr. Purnell as he was sleeping in the Cabin, by telling him the Vessel was sinking, &c.

Mr. Purnell and the Captain going instantly upon Deck, and looking down into the Steerage saw she was almost full: Some of the People informed Mr. Purnell they heard the Water run in, but before they had Time to examine the Leak, a Squall of Wind came on, which overfet her, the Boat being loose on the Chocks floated, tho' Bottom upwards, but two of the People jumping into the Water from off the Vessel's Side, righted her, and with a Bucket soon bail'd her, but the Vessel by this Time was all under Water as far as her fore Chains; so that from the Time the Second Mate acquainted Mr. Purnell of the Affair, till they were all obliged to get into the Boat, was but a few Minutes, having no Provisions, Instrument or Compa's of any Kind, and then by their reckoning were 157 Leagues S. E. by E. from the Place they took their Departure.

The first Night after they got into the Boat they had a great deal of Rain, with a heavy Gale at N. W. The next Morning it being calm, they made a Sail of Frocks and Trowlers, which did pretty well for nine Days; when the second Mate and Carpenter died. A few Hours after they saw a Sloop becalm'd, which greatly encourag'd them, and they immediately got out their Oars, and came up with her so fast, that in about three Hours they got within about Half a Mile of her; but at that Instant the Wind blew a small Breeze, and the Sloop made all the Sail she could and stood from them: After this the People died one or more every Day, 'till the 19th Day, when the Captain and a Boy dying left Mr. Purnell alone, who was taken up on the 23rd Day following, by John Caswell, Master of a fishing Schooner, having lived on no other Sufenance than the Barnacles he got from off the Bottom of the Boat, and the Rockweed he catch'd along-side.

NEW-HAVEN, August 16.

A few Days ago, a Child belonging to Mr. Moses Beecher of this Town, had a cutaneous Eruption, considerably resembling the Chicken-Pox; the Pustules became very protuberant, near as big as a Duck-shot, the Heads being dark colour'd, and the rest yellowish.

Upon opening some of the Pustules, there appeared to be a great Number of Animals in them, which were scarce discernable by the naked Eye, but seen to be Animals by their swift Motion in crawling. One of them was brought to the College, and being viewed in the Microscope, it appeared to be a perfect Tortoise, or Turtle, with upper and lower Shells, each divided into about ten Partitions, which were beautifully coloured, red, yellow, and white.

The Head, Tail, and Legs, appeared very distinct; but the Eyes did not grow in the Head, but as it were out of the Shoulders, and stood upon two Pillars, very much resembling those of a Lobster. The Eyes appeared like little Globes of Glass, were immoveable, and had no Eye-Lids: I judge that it was about a thousandth Part so big as a Loufe. Those Tortoises which cause the common Itch, are considerably in a different Shape.

THOMAS CLAP.

The 10th of May last as the Son of Thomas Ward, a Boy about 10 Years old, of the County of Bergen and Province of New-Jersey, stood on a Rock fishing for Trout, in Long Pond River, near Ringwood, a large Wild Cat, supposed to be on the Limb of some Tree near the River, jumped on his Head, and he being much frightened, fell into

The Lad then went home, and the Doctor being sent for, he had his Wounds dressed, which were all healed up in a few Weeks, and he seemed quite well, until the 20th of June in the Morning, when he was suddenly taken with Pains all over his Body, but complained most of the Places that had been bit, and was in such an Agony that Day and Night, that next Morning he ran to a Neighbour's House about 2 Miles Distance, and told them their House and Barn, the Road and himself were all on Fire. He was sent from thence home, and about Sun set, on the 21st of June, he died quite mad, being just six Weeks from the Time he was bit by the Cat. After his Decease, the Marks of the Wounds where he had been bit, turned very black.

NEW-PORT, August 26.

On Thursday the 23d Instant, were executed, agreeable to the Sentence of the Court of Commissioners, Samuel Parker and Benjamin Hawkins; the former about 28, and the latter somewhat above 22 Years of Age. They were permitted at their Request, to walk to the Place of Execution, about a Mile distance from the Prison, where they behaved with great Modesty, and died with a Fortitude which discovered an uncommon Resignation to Divine Providence, doubtless the happy Effects of the reasonable and constant Advice and Administration of the Clergy of the several Denominations, who agreeable to the Duties of their sacred Functions, very constantly attended them during their Confinement, and at the Article of Death, took Leave of them with their fervent Prayers, in Presence of Five or Six Thousand Spectators. Their Bodies were deposited at Goat Island, in the Bay Ground for Prizes, where on the 19th of July, in the Year 1729, Charles Harris, and 25 of his Crew, taken by the Gresham of 20 Guns, Peter Solgard, Commandant, and another Gang, about 22 Years ago, after suffering the just Demerits of their Crimes, were interr'd.

WILMINGTON, September 5.

The Privateer fitted out at Norfolk to go in Quest of Monsieur, is returned without Success.

The Wolfe, a small Privateer belonging to Norfolk, has brought in a Spanish Vessel laden with French Wines.

At a Court of Vice-Admiralty on Tuesday last, the Brig Cliff, a Flag of Truce belonging to Rhode-Island, from the Cape, was condemned as a legal Prize, but her Cargo acquitted.

NEW-YORK, September 4.

Tuesday last, Colonel Pictor, Aide-de-Camp to General Amherst, arrived in Town, in 16 Days from the Army, which he left the 26th ult. being sent Express with Dispatches for England; whereupon the Packet was immediately got ready, and the Mail closed Yesterday; the Vessel only waits for a Wind to proceed. We have been favoured with the following agreeable News, which may be depended on.

AMHERST, in the River St. Lawrence.

On the 10th of August the Army embarked at Oswego, and proceeded across the Lake into the River. The 16th in the Evening, the advanced Guard descried one of the Enemy's Vessels, but Night coming on, prevented her being attacked that Night. At Break of Day on the 17th, the was engaged by the Row Gallies, and by 7 o'Clock the French Vessel was called the Utawawa, mounting Ten 24 pounders, and 100 Men, commanded by Monsieur De la Riviere. We lost in the Engagement only one Man, and another wounded; the Enemy had 13 killed, and as many wounded. This Day the Army moved down to Oswegatchie, an Indian Settlement, with a Block-house Fort, but abandoned; the Enemy being reported to be strongly fortified on an Island between four and five Miles lower down the River. The Shores and Islands were reconnoitred the ensuing Night by the Engineers, and on the 18th, a Part of the Army passed down on each Side of the Island; they were opposed by a smart Cannonading; but the Island was completely invested that Day. The four following Days were employed in raising Batteries; which together with the Shipping continued firing on the Fort, from the 23d in the Morning, to the 28th in the Afternoon, when the French beat a Parley. The Terms offered by the General were, that the Garrison should be Prisoners of War, and every Thing in it delivered up; Ten Minutes were allowed them to consider whether or not they would accept of these Proposals. They thought best to accept of them; and His Majesty's Troops are now in Possession of Fort Levis, on the Isle Royale. Our Loss on this Occasion has been very inconsiderable; that of the Enemy (whose Garrison consisted of about 300 Men) about 12 killed, and 40 wounded. Monsieur Pouchot, the same Gentleman that was last Year taken at Niagara, commanded them.

September 8.

Extract of Letter from the Camp near Isle aux Noix, dated August 26, 1760.

Our Commandant has not, as yet, completed the Reduction of this Island, though our Batteries have continued passing upon the Enemy these three Days; but Yesterday, by the Conduct of our Friend Colonel Darby, he, with a Detachment of 1200 Companies of Grenadiers, two of Light Infantry, and Major Rogers with all his Rangers, took all the French Vessels, gave one, below the Island, and made the Commanders and the Sailors Captives in Number 30; and now I have the Pleasure to assure you they are manned with English Tars, 70 in Number, and the English Flag and Pendant is hoisted on the Main-top-mast Head of the largest Vessel (a Schooner) commanded by Captain Grant, who was the chief Commodore in our Fleet; the other Vessels taken, are a Sloop and a Row Galley, the latter mounting two Eighteen-pounders at the Head, another at the Stern, and full of Swives; the rows with 24 Oars. The Schooner and Sloop had only Four-pounders on board each of them, with a small Quantity of Ammunition; but those Deficiencies we shall soon make up. Colonel Darby still remains encamped below the Island, on the East Shore, and the Captive Vessels lay anchored near the West Shore, so that no Reinforcement can come from St. John's, whether Men or Provisions, to the Island; neither can the Enemy send any Boat from the Island to St. John's without passing the Vessels, Darby's Guard Boat, and his four Twelve-pounders, which he takes with him where ever he goes. In short he merits the greatest Honour by his Conduct Yesterday, and is esteemed in our Army of the greatest Consequence. The Boom which is carried from the Island to the West Shore, and from the Island to the East Shore, is so strong, we have not yet been able to cut it, to permit our Vessels lying above the Island to pass it; but we are preparing some Expedients to destroy their material Works; indeed the Enemy are extremely polite, seldom firing three Cannon Shot in the Day at us, though some of our Batteries are within Half Musket Shot of the Island, and some less.

The Deposition of the Prisoners taken Yesterday, is nearly as follows, for I had it from those who were present. They all agree with some Prisoners belonging to the Island (whom a Scout of our People took near Montreal a few Days ago, and brought into this Camp) with Regard to the Strength of the Garrison, which consists of 1000 Canadians, and near 600 regular Troops. Ammunition is very scarce, which Assertion we readily believe; Bread, they say, is plenty enough, but 4 Ounces of fresh Meat, without Salt, is the daily Allowance of a Soldier. They say that General Amherst is at the Gallo, and that the Garrison must shortly capitulate to him, and such News was sent to Montreal to Mr. Levy, not long ago. General Murray, they say, lies encamped at the Mouth of the River Sorrell, on an Island, which he obliged Monsieur Boulimaire to abandon, leaving his Equipage, &c. for Mr. Murray. They say the French are fortifying an Island opposite Montreal, where they intend to make a Stand. These Prisoners having been but 5 Days here, can give us no Account about the Boom, or what Methods we shall take to cut it away. They say the whole Garrison on the Island, lay upon their Arms every Night, behind their Breast Works, along Shore, upon the North End of the Island, below which Col. Darby is now encamped, the Vessels lying opposite to him. They say our Shot and Shells often take Place, and do great Execution among the Houses, Works, &c. tho' heretofore few Men have been killed or wounded, the whole almost having retired behind the Fortifications, and encamped on the North End of the East Shore, along which our Army lies encamped. They say the 5 Indians that were upon the Island, went away to St. John's, upon the first Shot from our Batteries, and it was those People who took the Provincial Scalp the other Morning; but as yet they have got no Prisoner from us; they all agree that the Country must capitulate, and the Natives do not care how soon. General Murray has disarmed those of them he came across, but permitted them to go and gather in their Harvest, which they say has turned out a very good one this Year, and sufficient to maintain the Country 12 Months; they are in great Hopes, if we do not land upon the Island, we shall not be able to take it, and their Orders run, TO STAND OUT TO THE LAST, for when we reduce the Fortification, the Entrance into the Country lies open; Nobody in Canada ever speaks of Wine, two Quarts (their common Measure) of Brandy, sells for 4 Guineas in Cash, no Paper Currency being esteemed of any Value. They say some Officers of Distinction were killed last Night, by a Shell, and that the whole Garrison are very much fatigued for want of Rest, no Place of Safety, except the Magazine for Powder, being on the Island. The Captain of the Schooner on being taken Prisoner by Col. Darby, wished him Joy of the Country, such Consequence did they esteem their Vessels of. This Morning a Reinforcement of Cannon was sent to Col. Darby, as also to complement the Vessels; what is to be done next, Time only can determine. Our Loss, during the Siege, as yet, is about 7 killed, and 30 wounded.

Thursday Morning last, Magnus Rugehor, Chief Mate of the Ship Alexander, of London, came to Town, from Sandy-Hook, where he left the said Ship, having been chased from the Capes of Virginia by four French Privateers. Saturday last the General Wall Packet, Capt. Lutwidge, failed from Sandy-Hook, with the Mail, for Falmouth.

PHILADELPHIA, September 11.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated July 11, 1760.

As yet we know nothing of Certainty concerning a Peace. It is only in general conjectured that the Want of Money with all the Powers at War, will compel them to it in the ensuing Winter. But even this Reason is not perhaps solid. For my own Part, I think that for a Half per Cent. more, the Money wanted here may be raised as readily for next Year, as it was for this. And perhaps the same may hold good with our Enemies.

The following is the Substance of a Letter from Crown-Point, dated September 1, 1760, viz.

That that Day the agreeable News arrived there, in a French Whaler-boat, manned by Rangers, of the French, having abandoned the Isle aux Noix, which they left in the Night of the 28th ult. and went to St. John's, leaving behind them about 200 Invalids, to keep the Place, who were made Prisoners by our People: That they found there 27 Pieces of Cannon, a large Quantity of Stores of all Sorts, and many Bullocks, but no Salt Provisions: That there were some of the Guns there, which we had at Oswego: That General Murray had invested Montreal, and General Amherst was within 20 Miles of it, when this Express came off; so that it was hoped we should soon hear of that Place being in the Hands of the English: That we had but nine Men killed at the Siege of the Isle aux Noix; the Number of the Wounded not ascertained: That a Schooner, taken from the French, was every Moment expected at Crown-Point: And that when the Express left the Island, our Light Infantry, &c. were in Pursuit of the Enemy, in Battue.

We learn from New-York, that the Master of a Vessel, arrived there from Georgia, reports that the Garrison of Fort-London had capitulated: That one Article of the Capitulation was, that the Garrison should be safely conducted to Fort-Prince-George, which was truly observed: And that there was a Likelihood of Peace with the Indians.

By Letters from Pittsburgh, of the 28th ult. we learn that all was well there: That the Posts of Presque-Isle and Penango were well secured, and well supplied: That the Indians were very fierce and heavy in their Friendships, going constantly with our Convoys, and daily delivering up Prisoners, or bringing in Letters.

On Sunday Night last a Fire broke out in a Stable in Third-Street, occasioned by a Person going in with a lighted Candle; as there was a good Deal of Hay in it, that and another Stable adjoining, were soon consumed; all an old wooden House; and the Roof and Windows of a Brick House were likewise destroyed; but as there was no Wind, and the Inhabitants, as usual, being very active, it was prevented from spreading further.

ANNAPOLIS, September 18.

The General Assembly of this Province is to meet here on Monday next.

At the Provincial Court held here last Week, William Rodwell, for Killing Jonas Dawson in a Fray, as formerly mentioned, was Tried, found Guilty of Manslaughter, and Burnt in the Hand with the Letter M. It appear'd on the Trial, that L. G. the Constable of the Hundred was at the Fray, who told them, Not to Swear; but they might Fight and be D-m'd: Had this conscientious Conservator of the Peace, but done his Duty, he might possibly have sav'd the Life of a good Subject, and prevented a poor Woman and five Children from suffering extreme Want.

At the same Court, John Harrison, alias Stewart, from Frederick County, was found Guilty of Horse-stealing, and sentenced, Death.

Saturday the Court adjourn'd to Wednesday the First Day of April next.

On the 8th of this Instant, Died in Cecil County, the Venerable and Reverend Mr. HUGH JONES, for a great Number of Years Rector of St. Stephen's Parish there, which he last July resign'd to his Nephew, the Reverend Mr. Wm. BARROLL.

On Sunday Captain John Crockett, in the Brigantine Success, arrived here from Barbados, having left that Island the 21st of August, under Convoy of the Ship Barbados, and her Tender, but the first Night after they sail'd, a brisk Gale sprung up, and the Tender suddenly disappear'd, and is suppos'd to have overset and sunk, as she was over-masted. She had 90 Men and 14 Guns.

Monday last as the Ship Betsy, Capt. Strachan, was going down South-River, she touch'd the Ground, and Five Hands in the Boat went to carry out an Anchor; but having put a Coil or two too much of the Cable in, at a few Yards Distance from the Ship, her Stern sunk, and she fell Bottom upwards upon the People, by which Accident Two of them, William Cunningham and one Johnson, a Foreigner, were unhappily Drown'd. Their Bodies are since taken up.

Last Week an unhappy Affair happen'd in Cecil County; Two Men, whose Names were Casson and Dixon, pretended to enlist George Lashly, in order to frighten him, and he being but very weak in his Intellects, was much affrighted, and ran from them, and at length run into Susquehanna River beyond his Depth, and was swimming about, when Dixon slung in a Stone which struck him on the Side of the Head, and he sunk and was Drown'd. Casson is absconded, but Dixon is in Prison. Lashly had a Wife, and seven Children, the eldest not eleven Years old.

The Ship Alexander, from New-York, which Place she left last Thursday, (the same Ship which is mentioned under the New-York Head in this Paper, to be beat back to Sandy-Hook) is just arrived in Patuxent, and a Gentleman from thence writes as follows:

That she brings the agreeable CONFIRMED NEWS, of Generals AMHERST and MURRAY'S having Beat the French near Montreal, AND IN POSSESSION OF IT."

THURSDAY, September 25, 1760.

From the LONDON GAZETTE.
MAGDEBURGH, July 8.

ACCORDING to the last Letters from Saxony, his Majesty began his March on the second Instant at Two o'Clock in the Morning, with the greatest Part of his Army, directing it through Lusata, towards Silesia. The King took the Rout of Camenz, and on his Way cleared several small Bodies of Austrians. A Body of his Army is left in the Camp at Meissen, under the Command of General Hullen. Marshal Daun followed his Majesty with his whole Army, on the 3d, at Six in the Evening, taking his Rout by Bautzen. According to the last Letters received from Breslau, which are dated the 2d Instant, General Laudon continued in his Camp at Freyberg, without having attempted any Thing since the Affair of the 23d of June. No Conjectures can yet be formed of his farther Designs.

The King's Troops have entirely driven the Russians out of Pomerania; and in the Pursuit, have taken 120 Prisoners, amongst whom are two Officers. The main Body of the Russian Army continues to assemble at Posen.

Prince Ferdinand's Head-Quarters at Saxe-Hausen, July 31. The French Army, under the Command of Marshal Bellois, quitted their Camp at Neustadt, the 8th Instant, at Night, and marched towards Franckenberg; some Time after which we received Advice, that M. de St. Germain was in Motion, and directed his March towards Brilon and Corbach. Our Army began its March likewise on the 8th, at 3 o'Clock in the Afternoon, and arrived in the Morning of the 9th upon the Heights of Braunau, not far from Wildungen. The advanced Corps, under the Command of the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick, was sent forwards from thence as far as Saxe-Hausen, after having been reinforced with some Battalions and Squadrons, under Major General Griffin. The Army resumed its March on the 10th, at 2 o'Clock in the Morning; and the same Morning the Hereditary Prince advanced from Saxe-Hausen towards Corbach, where he found the Enemy already formed; but, judging them to be not yet very numerous, and their whole Force against him not to exceed 10,000 Foot, and 17 Squadrons, he formed a Design of driving that Corps back; and thus an Engagement was brought on, and became extremely hot about 2 o'Clock in the Afternoon. The Enemy being continually reinforced with fresh Troops, and having the Superiority of Numbers, and a large Artillery, the Prince found it not possible to dislodge them from their Post; and as there was no Necessity of maintaining that which he himself occupied (our main Army being arrived at Saxe-Hausen) and it not being practicable for them to come up in Time to sustain the Hereditary Prince in his Post; Orders were sent him by Prince Ferdinand to rejoin the Army, Part of which was then formed. Accordingly the Hereditary Prince made his Dispositions for a Retreat, which was attended with a like Confusion among some of our Battalions and Squadrons. The Enemy observing this, pressed very briskly upon our Troops, both with their Artillery, and a large Body of Cavalry. Our Battalions would have suffered considerably hereby, had it not been for the Bravery of the Hereditary Prince, who putting himself at the Head of one of Bland's Squadrons, and of Howard's Regiment of Dragoons, charged the Enemy so furiously, as to enable our Infantry to make a safe Retreat. Fifteen Pieces of Cannon, however, fell into the Hands of the Enemy, which could not be carried off, for want of the Horses that were killed in the Action.

Our Loss in Men, Killed, Wounded, and Prisoners, may amount to 500. General Count Kilmarsack distinguished himself greatly in this Affair, as well as Major General Griffin, with the two British Battalions of Brudenell and Carr; and particularly one Squadron of Dragoons; and the Troops in general showed great Good will and Alacrity. The Hereditary Prince was wounded in the Shoulder, but not dangerously; and it is hoped will appear again in a few Days. We are encamped upon the Heights of Saxe-Hausen, as the French are upon those of Corbach.

Gen. Spörcke is expected to join us soon. [End of the Gazette.]
Frankfort, July 3. The Capitulation of the Castle of Dyllenburgh will speedily follow that of Marburgh. The Bombs have already done Mischief in the Castle. After its Surrender, the Corps under the Count de St. Germain is to advance and press upon the Enemy's Right Wing. It seems the Marshal Duke is not for a Battle, unless it be a decisive one. Prince Ferdinand has Orders from the King of Great-Britain to give or receive Battle.

Marburgh, July 11. The Marquis du Chatelet arrived this Morning, and informs us, that Yesterday five Brigades, three of which were from the Grand Army, and two belonged to the Count de St. Germain's Corps, attacked near Corbach the Right Wing of Prince Ferdinand, and overthrew it. The Number of Killed and Prisoners is great. Prince Ferdinand and the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick were in Person there. Their Serene Highnesses have left 20 Pieces of their Cannon, and other Trophies. The Marquis passed through this Place without stopping. The Marshal Duke sends him to Court with the News.

Frankfort, July 14. The Brigades employed in the Affair of the 10th Instant are those of Navarre, la Tour-Daupin, Couronne, Castella, and Royal-Suedois. The Regiment of Navarre carried a Battery of twelve Pieces Sword in Hand. The Enemy had 3000 Men killed, and about 1100 are made Prisoners, Half of whom are wounded. Our Loss amounts to 700 Men. The Ground was furiously disputed. The Hereditary Prince of Brunswick is wounded. The Count d'Autichamp, Nephew of the Marshal Duke, is gone to Vienna with the News.

Hanover, July 7. In General Luckner's Expedition to Fritzar, our Troops made Prisoners two Captains, two other Officers, and 52 Soldiers; and cut in Pieces a greater Number. The Enemy's Detachment consisted of 1500 Horses, who were marching through the Country of Waldeck, in order to fall upon the Rear of our Army, and carry off Part of the Baggage and Bakery.

LONDON, July 5.
Yesterday came on at Guildhall a Cause wherein two Tradesmen of this City were Plaintiffs, and an eminent Under-writer, Defendant: The Action was brought for Non-payment of the Loss on a Vessel from Hull; but it being proved that the said Loss was known in Town previous to making the Insurance, a Verdict was given for the Defendant.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, July 3. One o'Clock Afternoon.

"Last Night about a Quarter after Twelve o'Clock, a most dreadful Fire broke out in his Majesty's Dock-Yard, at the End of the new Rope-House, and immediately communicated itself to the adjacent Buildings, so that in Four Hours the whole Range of Rope-Houses were on Fire, and burnt down full of Tar, Oil, Hemp, and Cables, all which burnt with incredible Fury. The Dockmen and every Body assisted, and Detachments from the Regiment of Cornwallis, Invalids, and the Artillery, attended. The Commissioner Hughes's House stands to the North-East, and the Wind blowing from that Quarter, it has escaped the Flames, but the Rope-Houses and Wash-Houses adjoining, were torn down. A large Breach was made in this Rope-House, which is a Quarter of a Mile in length, by which the Fire, if it reaches so far, will be kept. The House-Carpenter's Shop was much threatened, and the Houses of the Clerk of the Rope-Yard, the Surgeon, and the Boatwain of the Yard, were in Danger, as was a great Quantity of Timber, and a whole Range of Mast-Houses. However, the Progress seems stopped, tho' it now still burns with great Fury, and will for a Week at least, as there are now Thousands of Barrels of Tar and Oil under the Fire not caught, and which must inevitably feed the Flames; and if the Wind should vary, God knows yet where it may end. The Damage done must amount to 3 or 400,000 l. besides the great Injury to the Public in the Disappointment of the Use of such a Quantity of Naval Stores. No exact Account can be obtained of the Loss of People killed on this Occasion; we know at present but of 1000 killed, and eight or nine wounded. It is generally supposed that it must have been set on Fire by Lightning, as it lightened much at the very Instant it began, with Thunder and great Showers. There is no room to think that it could be done maliciously, because the Wind was not favourable for such a Scheme, and it could not be carelessly done, as no Body was at Work; the whole Building was carefully locked up, and only the Watchmen in their Boxes in the Yard at the Time of the Accident."

Another Account says, the new Store-House with upwards of 1000 Tons of Hemp, the Sail Loft, and Store of new Sails, Half the long Spinning-House, two Thirds of the Rope-House, with the old Hemp-House, and about 1500 Barrels of Tar in the Store-House under it, together with about 500 Tons of old Rope, and a large Quantity of other Stores, are entirely consumed.

Part of a Letter from Hamburg, June 24.
"We have certain Advice, that the King of Denmark hath been asked by England, as well as by France, to interpose his good Offices, in Concert with the King of Spain and the States-General, to accelerate the Restoration of a general Peace; but the last Letters from Copenhagen assure us, that the King hath excused himself from meddling in it, and professes to adhere strictly to his Neutrality; but that, nevertheless, if the King of Prussia should receive such a severe Blow that he could scarce stand under it, the Troops in Holstein, which already amounted to 26,000 Men, would be augmented to 30,000, and march to the Assistance of that Prince, whom his Danish Majesty would not willingly see entirely crushed by his powerful Enemies."

July 17. Letters from Hamburg advise, that the Russians are marching fast to Silesia. A Body of between 14 and 15,000 have already passed Posen, and after encamping two or three Days between Schuetz and Bromberg, have advanced in three Columns to Nackell, on the River Netz, General Czernicheff, who leads the second Division of the Russian Army, is arrived at Posen, where the Russians have a large Magazine.

Tuesday Mr. Excoellency Governor Pownall, on his Arrival from America, waited on his Majesty at Kensington, and was most graciously received.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, July 1.
"Since the Arrival of the Dispatches from the Count de Fuentes, the Council have been busied about the Instructions to be given to the Count d'Affry, for his Conduct when he resumes the Thread of his Conferences and Negotiations with General Yorke. The Court flattered themselves, that if the King of Spain's Mediation should not be accepted by England, his Catholic Majesty would openly declare in our Favour; but the last D. patches from the Marquis d'Olun, our Ambassador at Madrid, inform us, that it is impossible to move his Catholic Majesty, whilst Mr. Wall continues in Credit; that this Minister, instead of setting his Master against Great-Britain, though her Conquests in America and her powerful Marine might justly give Umbrage to Spain, is even endeavouring to strengthen, by a new Treaty of Commerce, the Friendship between Spain and England; that in a Conference which he had, on this Subject, with Mr. Wall, that Minister told him, That the Catholic King sincerely wished to see a speedy End put to the Broils that prevail in almost all the four Quarters of the World; that he would willingly interest himself in restoring a general Peace, but principally in accommodating the Differences between France and England, being persuaded that if this could be effected by his good Offices, the other Powers at War would immediately put a Stop to the Effusion of human Blood; But that his Majesty loved Peace and Quiet, and would concern himself in the Affairs of his own Kingdom only, and the Prosperity of his Subjects; and therefore would scrupulously adhere to his Neutrality, and not take Part in a War that no Ways concerned him, unless some unforeseen Case should happen."

We hear that General Clive is about purchasing the late Lord Baltimore's Estate at Epfom, and that he will soon be created a Baronet.

July 19. It is said that Orders have been sent for our Troops to attempt Pondicherry at all Events. Yesterday several Bales of Cloathing, besides a considerable Quantity of military Stores, were shipped at Tower Wharf, for his Majesty's Forces in North-America.

July 21. Late on Saturday Night last an Express arrived at the Secretary of State's Office from Col. Yorke, dated Hague the 17th of July, which brings an Account of a sharp Engagement which happened between the advanced Guard of the Allied Army under the Command of the Prince of Brunswick, and a large Body of French; but the young Prince not being timely supported, was obliged to retire to the main Body, with the Loss of about 500 Men and 15 Pieces of Cannon. The British Troops on this Occasion behaved with uncommon Bravery. The Loss of the French is said to be very considerable.

The late great Demand for Woolen Cloth has occasioned such a Scarcity, as to prevent the Contractors for the Army procuring a Sufficiency for new cloathing the Guards, which will not now be completed before the Expiration of the present Month.

Extract of a Letter from Jersey, July 15.
"We are at present under some Apprehensions from France, which I believe are too well founded; the French have a Camp at Cartaret, the nearest Town to us (about 18 Miles) of about 8000 Men, and this Morning I saw a Fleet of seven Sail, and a great Number of Boats; they appeared standing right in, at about five Leagues Distance; this Evening the French-Fleet went into Cartaret."

At length the Austrians have published an Account of their Loss in the desperate Affair of Landshut, whereby it appears that they had only 18 Officers, 749 Men, including Serjeants, and 96 Horses, killed: Their wounded amounted to 31 Officers, 2006 Men, including Serjeants, and 26 Horses; and 358 Men were maiming, but the latter had since returned to their Regiments. But we presume General Laudon will not affirm upon his Honour, that this Account is true; for if they lost no more, how should he stand in Need of a Reinforcement after his Victory? And why did he not improve his Advantage, by reducing Glaz, or some other Towns. The Truth is, they bought their Advantage so dear that they will be loth to fight the Prussians again with the same Odds in their Favour, and will never attempt to do it with even Numbers.

The Society for the Encouragement of Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce, among the many Advantages for which their Country stands indebted to them, are aiming at one of great Consequence in the commercial World. They propose to offer considerable Premiums for planting and raising CINNAMON TREES, in his Majesty's Territories in the West-Indies; this valuable Tree being found (from undoubted Authority) in the Island of Guadeloupe, every Way equal in Goodness to that of Ceylon. This agreeable Aromatic is the Bark of a Tree growing in the Island of Ceylon, Java, Malabar, &c. in the East-Indies. The Cinnamon Tree grows in Woods, like other Trees; it never rises high; the Leaves resemble those of the Laurel, both as to Substance and Colour, yielding a bitterish Aromatic Oil, reputed excellent in Head-ach; &c. The Flowers when they begin to open are as red as Scarlet; and if rubbed between the Hands, they yield an Odour more like that of Cloves than of Cinnamon. The Fruit resembles an Acorn or Olive, and has neither the Taste nor Smell of the Bark. When boiled in Water, it yields an Oil, which, as it cools and hardens, becomes as white and firm as Tallow, and is called by the Dutch, Cinnamon Wax. Its Smell is extremely agreeable, and they make Candies of it, which (according to some) are allowed to be burnt only in the Palace. It is also used in Physic, as a Balsamic and Healer; but the chief Virtue of the Cinnamon Tree is in its Bark, which, when fresh taken from the Tree, is flat, and has little Taste, Smell, or Colour. Its Humidity exhaled, it acquires the Properties it is so famed for, and smells, as it dries, in Form of a Stick or Candy, as we see it when imported here. All the Cinnamon imported in Europe comes from the Dutch, who have got the whole Branch of this Commerce into their Hands, by buying Masters of Ceylon, and destroying all the other Cinnamon Trees, and the Kingdom of Ceylon.

July 27. The last Advice from Constantinople, which were dated the 4th ult. reports, that the Plague then made such a Devastation and Ravage at Smyrna, that all Communication was cut off from thence, and that the most Part of the principal Inhabitants were retired into the Country.

It is said that His Royal Highness the Duke of York, will continue at Southampton till the Fleet is ready for Sir Edward Hawke to sail, and that then his Royal Highness will go on board, and sail on some Expedition.

We hear that it is imputed to General Imhoff's quitting his Post to early, that the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick was lately in so much Danger of either being killed or taken, for which Imhoff is displaced from having the Command of a Regiment of Guards, which Prince Ferdinand now has given to Lieutenant General Count Kilmantsegge.

July 26. We hear that Lord Albemarle's, and Sir Robert Keith's Dragoons, are ordered to embark forthwith for Germany.

As are also Lord Vere Beauclerk's, Lord Frederick Cavendish's, and Lord Robert Manners's Regiments of Foot; together with the second Battalion of each of the three Regiments of Foot Guards, and about 700 Volunteers out of the other Battalions.

There is also a large Train of Artillery ordered to be shipped for the Use of the Allied Army; and 'tis thought that the whole will join Prince Ferdinand in about three Weeks. Extract of a Letter from a French Officer of Distinction at Corbach, to his Friend at the Hague, dated July 12.

Marshal Broglie having been informed that Prince Ferdinand had quitted his Camp near Ziegenheim, last Tuesday in the Afternoon, and was retreating towards Wildungen with his whole Army, immediately ordered his Forces to get ready to march; and that same Evening our whole Army was put in Motion.

As it was imagined that the Allies might attempt to get possession of an advantageous Post upon the Hills near Corbach; to prevent which, Marshal Broglie ordered our advanced Guard to push forwards for that Place, and made himself a forced March, in order to be at Hand to sustain them.

Our advanced Guard was no sooner arrived upon those Hills, and had formed themselves, than they were attacked by the advanced Guard of the Allied Army, commanded by the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick.

The Affair was very obstinate and bloody for some Time; at length the Enemy was put in Confusion, and their Troops would certainly have been entirely cut to Pieces, or taken Prisoners, had not the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick himself, by as bold an Attempt as ever was performed by Man, put himself at the Head of a small Party of Horse; and, by a most vigorous Effort, gave them Time to collect themselves together, and make a Retreat.

The Loss sustained by each Party is variously reported; but, by a moderate Computation, it is imagined the Allies had not less than 11 or 1200 Men killed and taken Prisoners.

A Squadron of Bland's Horse, at the Head of which the Prince of Brunswick placed himself, is said to be all cut to Pieces, except ten Men, and the Prince himself is wounded in the Shoulder; but the Surgeons say that his Wound is not deep, and that he will be able to resume his Command in a Week or ten Days.

This happy Beginning gives our Men great Spirits; and the latter, as we took all the Enemy's Cannon, with the Loss only of about 900 or 1000 Men, including a Regiment of French Horse, who had the Misfortune to be surrounded, and were all cut to Pieces, not a Horse or Man escaped.

'Tis thought he will soon move towards the Enemy, who do not as yet seem inclined to come to a Battle: They were now encamped at Sachsenhausen, about 14 English Miles from our Army.

Letters from Bremen, of the 12th Instant, say, that just this Day they had Advice, that fresh Transports, with more than 1000 Men, were arrived in the Weser.

Sir Edward Hawke will hoist his Flag at Portsmouth in a few Days. 'Tis said that he is going to the West-Indies, with a powerful Fleet.

The Ordnance and Stores, with Engineers, Labourers, &c. for fortifying the Irish Coast, are fallen down the River.

On Monday Orders were given to the Regiment belonging to the Honourable Colonel Bowden, and six others, to hold themselves in Readiness, on 48 Hours Notice, to embark for Germany.

Admiralty-Office, July 4. Yesterday, between Twelve and One in the Morning, a Fire broke out in the Rope-House belonging to His Majesty's Dock-Yard at Portsmouth, which, notwithstanding all possible Assistance from the People of the Yard, the Officers and Men belonging to His Majesty's Ships in the Harbour, and at Spithhead, the Marines at Quarters, and the Soldiers from the Town and Barracks, who all exerted themselves with remarkable Zeal, could not be got under till past Two in the Afternoon, having consumed the said Rope-House, with the Spinning-House, Hemp-House, and one of the Store-Houses, with several Stores.

The Fire began in the Upper Part of the Hatchellers Loft, and was so instantaneous, that the Flame was discovered as soon as the Smoke through the Tiling.

The Night had been excessively tempestuous, with great Flashes of Lightning, one of which, at Eleven o'Clock, had almost blinded the Watchman at his Post, and another, about ten Minutes before the Flame appeared, had passed him like a Ball of Fire, in a Line of Direction towards the Place where the Fire broke out.

Plymouth, July 18. The Royal William and Eolus have taken and sent in here the Black Prince, of and from the River Villaine, with Provisions, bound to Bayonne. A Fisherman that was taken and came on her; reports, that there are now in the Villaine four Ships of the Line, and three Frigates; one of the Ships of the Line is overset, but the others are all manied, have all their Guns in, and are ready for Sea, only wait for a Push; they are ordered for Rochefort.

The Frenchman farther reports, that there are now at Brest 12 Ships of the Line; one of which is the Royal Louis, of 110 Guns, lately launched; and that there are now, in the different Ports of France, 30 Sail of the Line and 6 Frigates.

NEW-YORK, September 11.
Our Advices from the Army by last Night's Post from Albany, are as follows, viz.

That on the 23d of August, at Three P. M. the Drums of the Army were ordered to beat, and the Music to play; upon which the Batteries were opened, and 4 large Mortars, two of 24, and two of 10 Inches Diameter, began to play; also a Battery of six 24 Pounders, another of three long Twelves, and three Royal Hawitzers, and a distinct little Battery of seven Royals. From thence we kept a brisk Fire upon the Enemy all that Night.

On the 25th, at Five in the Morning, Colonel Darby's Command, consisting of Grenadiers, Light Infantry, and Rangers, advanced about a Mile, along the East Side of the Island, opposite to their Grand Diable, with two 12 Pounders, and two Royal Hawitzers. No sooner had Col. Darby got his Guns near enough, and began to play, then Monsieur split his Cable, and the Wind drove him ashore. The Captain and one Man were killed, 13 made Prisoners, and 15 swam to the Island. Soon after, Colonel Darby moved his Men and Artillery, to a Point, opposite to their fine Schooner, and after a hot Fire for 20 Minutes, she struck. Boats were immediately sent on board, which brought off the Commodore and 20 Prisoners. We also took a small Sloop. The Enemy opened a ten Gun Battery against us, upon a very advantageous Place, and plied us very warmly; we turned all our Guns against it, and dismounted many of theirs; which they replaced.

On the 28th at Night, the Enemy abandoned the Island, and got off. They left on the Island, 50 Pieces of Cannon, and several Mortars, all mounted, 1000 round Shot, 100 Shells, 100 Barrels of Powder, 50 ditto Pork, 50 live Cattle; an Officer and 60 Men, as a Guard to the Sick and Wounded, and a Commissary to deliver us the Ammunition, Stores, Baggage, &c. The Killed and Wounded of the Enemy are about 150; our Loss was very inconsiderable. The Island was very strong both by Art and Nature; Our own People were surprized that the Enemy abandoned it. The Reason the French Officer gave for their going off was, that Vaudreulle had sent positive Orders to Bouganville, to bring his Troops to Montreal. Our Light Troops pursued the Enemy, overtook and attacked their Rear, killed some, and took some Prisoners. That our Troops proceeding to St. John's, found it abandoned and burnt, and that the French burnt every Place in their Way, on their Retreat. Our Light Troops continued the Pursuit to a Place called La Prairie, on the Banks of St. Lawrence, opposite to Montreal, where the Enemy threw themselves into an Entrenchment that was prepared for them.

On the 29th, Major Rogers took a Grenadier of Berry's Regiment, at St. John's, who says, the French were gathering all their Troops together at Montreal, to make a Capitulation, that General Murray had landed on the Island of Montreal, at Point aux Tremble, and that Col. Haviland and his Troops were the 30th between St. John's and La Prairie.

September 15. Our Accounts from Albany, of the 11th Instant, are, that Col. Haviland joined General Murray on the 4th of September; and that it is said that Bourlamaqui commands an Army of 6000 Men on the Island of Montreal. That Levy commands the grand Army of 9000 Men, to oppose General Amherst; that he is strongly entrenched, and that General Amherst will find it a difficult Matter to pass him, unless he forces his Entrenchments.

Extract of a Letter from Louisbourg, August 22.
Five Mines were sprung last Sabbath, and had a good Effect: The Report was nothing to what we expected from Ten Thousand lb. Weight of Powder; but the Appearance was, as I conceive, like a Vulcan emitting Earth, Smoke and Stones. We have had an epidemic Cold in the Garrison, but are better.

Since our last large French Prize Ship arrived here, taken by an Antigua Privateer, called the Little Bob: She was bound from Bourdeaux to Cape-François, mounts 12 Carriage Guns, and loaded with Wine, &c. She was met with just going into the Cape, by the Privateer, who decoyed her off, and took her.

His Majesty's Ship the Mercury, Captain Faulkner arrived here last Thursday from England, with 12,000 l. Sterling on board.

About 10 Days ago, the Schooner Elizabeth, Capt. Evans, bound in here from the West-Indies, was brought to off the Capes of Virginia, by a Privateer of 12 Guns, who said they were English, but before they could board her, a Squall came on which separated them, and Captain Evans made the best of his Way for this Place, where he arrived on Friday last.

'Tis said in England, that the French intend to attack the Island of Jersey.

PHILADELPHIA, September 18.
By Letters from Isle aux Noix, of the 24th and 26th of August, we have Advice, that an Express had arrived there from General Murray, by whom he wrote that he had with him 6500 Men, including the two Regiments from Louisbourg, and two complete Battalions that had joined him from England. And a Letter of a later Date mentions, that General Murray's Guns were heard at Isle aux Noix the 28th ult.—No Account from General Amherst's Army since the 26th of last Month.—It is said, that before M. Bouganville left Isle aux Noix, 700 Canadians had been ordered to reinforce him, but absolutely refused to go.

ANNAPOLIS, September 25.

We have this Minute received a Postscript to a New-York Gazette, dated September 17, wherein are several Letters giving a particular Account of the Surrender of MONTREAL, without Firing a Gun, on the 8th Instant. The Particulars we must defer to our next: And heartily congratulate our Readers on this GREAT EVENT, which they may depend is a certain Truth. The French Regulars are to be Transported to France, and such of the Inhabitants as chuse to take the Oath of Allegiance are to be permitted to stay in the Country. The Earl of Leicester Packet Boat is haul'd off into the Stream, and lies ready to proceed Home with the agreeable News, at a Moment's Warning. Dispatches from his Excellency General Amherst, being hourly expected for that Purpose.

Sunday and Monday last, the Honourable the Speaker, and some of the other Members, of the Lower House of Assembly, came to Town; but, many of the rest of the Members of that House, having sent Letters advising of their own or their Families Indispositions, and Four of the Gentlemen Dead since last Session, there is not yet [Thursday Noon] a sufficient Number in Town, to compose a House. Special Messengers, we hear, are sent for some others of the Members.

Sunday last Died, at his Seat near Talbot Court House, after a very long and lingering Indisposition, the Honourable WILLIAM GOLDBOROUGH, Esq; one of his Lordship's Council, and Judge of the Court of Vice-Admiralty, in this Province: A Gentleman of a very fair Character.

The Harriot Packet, Captain Braily, arrived at New-York the 11th Instant, in 6 Weeks and 4 Days from Falmouth.

From a Virginia Gazette of the 19th Instant, which accidentally came to our Hands, we have taken the following melancholy Account of the Perfidy of the Cherokees:

WILLIAMSBURG, September 19.

On Tuesday last an Express arrived in Town with Letters to his Honour the Governor from Colonel Byrd, containing a Copy of the following Letter from Captain Demere to the Governor of South-Carolina, the Resolution of the Officers of the Garrison of Fort Loudoun, and the Capitulation thereof:

FORT LOUDOUN, August 8, 1760.

SIR,
THIS goes by Express, to acquaint you that we have agreed upon the inclosed Articles of Capitulation with the Great Warrior, and Headmen of the Nation; which, considering the great Distress we were in, I hope you will approve of. Nothing but the Inclination these Indians have for a Peace could have saved us, for we would have been obliged to abandon the Fort this Day, happen what would; and few of us would ever have reached Carolina. To-morrow Morning we set out, and we flatter ourselves the Indians mean us no Harm. We shall make all the Dispatch that our starved Condition will admit of.

The Indians expect, that, immediately upon our Arrival at Keowee, the Prisoners confined there will be released, all Thoughts of farther Hostilities laid aside, and an Accommodation heartily set about; that a firm Peace and well-regulated Trade may be established, which they say will last forever. We can discover nothing in their present Behaviour that contradicts this, and hope at least that nothing will be undertaken which may endanger us upon the March. I am, SIR,

Your most obedient and most humble Servant
PAUL DEMERE.

FORT LOUDOUN, August 6, 1760.

THE Officers being assembled by Capt. Paul Demere, to concert proper Measures to be pursued, in the present Distress of the Garrison, it being represented that our Provisions are entirely exhausted; that we have subsisted upon Horse-Flesh, and such Supply of Hogs and Beans as the Indian Women brought us by Stealth, without any Bread Kind, since the 7th of July; by which Means our Men are greatly weakened, and must, in a short Time, become incapable of doing Duty; that the Enemy blockade us Night and Day, that for two Nights past considerable Parties have deserted, and some Men have already thrown themselves upon the Mercy of the Enemy: That the Garrison in general threaten to abandon us, and betake themselves to the Woods: That we have no Reason to hope for seasonable Relief, having had no Intelligence from any British Settlement since the 4th Day of June: We are, therefore, unanimously of Opinion that it is impracticable to maintain the Fort any longer; and that such Terms as can be procured from the Indians, consistent with Honour, be immediately accepted of, and the Fort abandoned: That Captain Stuart go to Chotee, to treat with the Warriors and Headmen, and to procure the best Terms he can.

Signed by all the OFFICERS.

On the 7th of August Capt. John Stuart set out for Chotee, accompanied by Lieutenant James Adamson, and some Indians, where the following Terms were stipulated:

ARTICLES of CAPITULATION agreed upon, and assented to, by Capt. PAUL DEMERE, commanding his Majesty's Forces at Fort Loudoun, and the Headmen and Warriors of the Over Hill Cherokee Towns.

I. THAT the Garrison of Fort Loudoun march out with their Arms and Drums, each Soldier having as much Powder and Ball as their Officers shall judge necessary for their March, and what Baggage he may choose to carry.

II. That the Garrison be permitted to march for Virginia, or Fort Prince-George, as the Commanding Officer shall think proper, unmolested; and that a Number of Indians be appointed to escort them, and to hunt for Provisions on the March.

III. That such Soldiers as are lame, or by Sickness disabled from marching, be received into the Indian

Indian Towns, and then to be retu

IV. That the Indians, with as many Horses as they please, agree their March, agree for Payment.

V. That the Fort and spare Arms, be out any Fraud, on of the Troops.

CUNNI-CATOGUE,
OUCANNASTOTE.

Notwithstanding the Capitulation, the Garrison had not marched above Fifteen Miles from the Fort, when they were most treacherously surprized by a large Party of Indians, and all the Officers (except Capt. Stuart) killed, together with about Twenty-five of the Privates; the rest were made Prisoners, and dispersed through the Nation. The Little Carpenter gave every Thing he could command, to save Capt. Stuart; and, having left the Indians under Pretence of Hunting, has conducted him safe to Major Lewis, who was on Holston River, with an advanced Party of the Virginians. Capt. Stuart, a Doctor, and Capt. Stuart's Servant, are all that are yet come in; escorted by the Little Carpenter, his Brother, two young Fellows, with three Indian Women.
