

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 1788.

V I E N N A, November 3.

BY the emperor's order all the women and children are removed from Semlin; and from numerous circumstances, we are convinced that his imperial majesty is inflexibly determined vigorously to prosecute the war against the Turks.

P A R I S, December 16.

All the French merchants and manufacturers complain of the fatal effects of the commercial treaty with England, whereby our trade is totally ruined, while that of Britain is in a flourishing condition. It is impossible that peace can be of a long continuance from an infinity of reasons.

The commercial treaty has reduced great numbers of artificers to the most extreme distress. Four hundred of these unhappy people have applied to the hall of Rouen, soliciting employment, and the means of present subsistence. The complaints of these miserable sufferers have alarmed the whole; they have received all the assistance that could be afforded them, but still they greedily suffer.

U T R E C H T, December 23.

We are informed, that there are persons here, who, by their attachment to the pernicious system of the patriots, as they call themselves, are at this moment employed in furnishing money to several bankrupts of this city to pay their expenses to Brussels, on condition of their enlisting. If it is ascertained, under whom these persons are to serve, it may be asserted, with a degree of certainty, that they will be enrolled by the famous de Gage, who, it is said, will take upon himself the title of king of those patriots, and make war against the republic as soon as he has assembled forces sufficient, in order, if possible, to put himself in the place of the prince of Orange. It is however to be hoped, that our captain general, having notice of this project, will put himself in a proper state of defence, and that our sovereign will be able to crush the viper in the egg.

L O N D O N, December 4.

An accommodation had been talked of between Russia and the Porte, but we are now sorry to find that no such event is likely to take place. The resentment of the grand signior has taken too deep a root, and the implacable hatred which he bears towards the Czarina cannot be appeased by the mediation of the French, who are held in much dislike, and in some suspicion, by the grand vizier. His minister has the absolute control of his matter, and at present directs all the operations of that extensive empire.

Extract of a letter from Paris, December 10.

A report is circulated, and gains ground, of a neutrality having been entered into between France, Spain, the Emperor and Russia, to oblige England to recede from her late treaty with Prussia and Holland. How far such a circumstance is probable, I shall not pretend to determine; but certain it is, that several persons, supposed to be well acquainted with the measures of the court, have sanctioned the idea. One consequence, which perhaps is all that was intended from it, has already taken place; the attention of the multitude, is diverted from internal politics, and the current of dislike directed for the moment.

Jan. 2. It is said in the letters from abroad, that the king of Naples has granted the Russians permission to rent his ports. If this is true, we shall soon see what Spain will say to it. The republic of Genoa is very much embarrassed what part to take, relative to the port of Spezia, which Russia has demanded to enter. If the senate refuse, they will bring on the enmity of Austria and Russia, and if they grant it, the other powers who are at present interested in the commerce of places where Russia is excluded, will show their indignation.

Extract of a letter from John Baker, to Dr. Hawes, dated Salisbury Square, December 31.

I enjoy inexpressible satisfaction in having it in my power to address you a second time on a subject, which will prove truly pleasing; as every additional instance of resuscitation is a further confirmation of the real importance of the humane society, not only as tending to the happiness of individuals, but likewise to national prosperity.

W. H. Smith, a very fine child, aged four years, son of Mr. Smith, Elliot's-row, St. George's-fields, was missing last Saturday morning; he had been at play with a companion in the garden about ten o'clock; at the bottom runs a stream of water; but as the gate which leads to it was supposed to be fastened, the place that should have been first searched was not thought of. It was near eleven when it fortunately struck a neighbour, that the child might be drowned; the ice had been broken about a foot round for taking up water; a gentleman humanely jumped into the stream in vain; then two men, who happened to be near the spot, were called and went in, when the foremost of them struck something with his foot, which proved to be the child under the ice, at least eight yards from the opening. I am inclined to think, that a very considerable time must have elapsed from the accident to the period that the child was discovered and taken by the persons employed. The body was universally and perfectly cold; the face swollen and livid; and the various means of recovery were employed for a quarter of an hour, without the smallest signs of returning life; the boy now gave a deep sigh; and then for near a quarter of an hour relapsed into the arms of apparent death; when several sighs were evident to the by-standers. A lady whose benevolence of mind has afforded frequent proofs of her sympathy for the distressed of others, was by the alarm and distress of the family led to the house of mourning, and seized the opportunity of a carriage for my attendance, knowing of my being lately appointed one of the medical assistants. I arrived about twelve; the appearances at this time were very alarming, viz. the pupils were much dilated, the countenance bloated, and the lips particularly black, nor was the smallest pulse to be perceived in either wrist, &c. After pursuing, for a considerable time, the judicious plan recommended by the humane society, the under jaw became convulsed, and soon afterwards universal spasms; a languid and irregular pulsation followed. The alarming symptoms above mentioned repeatedly returned; but by an earnest perseverance in our various modes of treatment, favourable circumstances were renewed; so that about two o'clock (four hours since the accident) I had both the happiness to take leave of my little patient (and its joyful and grateful parents) with a good pulse, natural warmth and a disposition to sleep, with a pleasing prospect of recovery; and an ingenious medical gentleman attended the family, I did not further interfere, having, to the best of my abilities, acted as a medical assistant of your invaluable institution.

Letters are said to have been received from Vienna and Berlin, which equally declare that the court of Versailles has renounced being guarantee for Silesia, and that the emperor is at liberty to resume his hereditary claim whenever he pleases, without being molested by France; and as there is a confirmed reciprocal animosity between the courts of Berlin and Vienna, which extends even to the meanest of their respective subjects, it is probable that Prussia will soon be called to fields less verdant, and scenes less tranquil than what Holland represented.

Jan. 3. Letters from the Continent speak with confidence, that there subsists a perfect good understanding between the courts of Prussia and Germany. The former is said to have interfered amicably in the Austrian disputes.

Extract of a letter from Mogador, December 12. The English consul having agreed with the emperor, and fixed a plan for the future ransom of all the christian slaves, the subjects of his Britannic majesty, an annual change will take place, and the first is to be February next, when several English, Scotch and Irish, long immured in Barbary, will be restored to their country and families. The French have a similar treaty in agitation. We are ignorant of the terms of the ransom.

P I T T S B U R G H, February 2.

By a gentleman who arrived here on Wednesday last from Sadsuky, we are informed, that the Indians are determined to oppose the settlement of the country west of the Ohio. This gentleman further informs us, that their attendance on the treaty to be held next spring will in great measure depend upon the persons sent to invite them, as without the greatest attention paid them, their principal chiefs will not attend.

Feb. 9. The messengers appointed to invite the different tribes of Indians to the treaty that is to be held in May next, will set out from this place in a few days for that purpose.

P H I L A D E L P H I A, February 16.

An Irish paper has the following paragraph: "The button manufacturers of this metropolis, it is reported, intend next session of Parliament to apply for a prohibition to be laid on the wear of any other than metal buttons. Their reason for this application, it seems is, cloth buttons having become the fashion, by which they have nearly lost all business. They think, that as a law for this purpose exists in England, it is but fair the same should take place here. But it is to be presumed, that an Irish legislature will never listen to such a proposal. For what would be its tendency? a protection to the manufacturers of Birmingham, Sheffield, &c. say it would be enforcing a consumption of foreign fabrics, by law—a thing unprecedented in the annals of any commercial country in the universe! If such a law exists in Britain, it is for the protection of her own manufacturers—and before even the colour of propriety could be advanced for its adoption here, the importation of British should be prohibited."

The foregoing account of the attention of the Irish to appearances of innovation upon the manufactures, ought to awaken the citizens of America to a sense of her situation. This simple article, we are told, drains this state of £. 16,000 per annum!—an article too, we are informed, that is out of fashion in England. Why then are we so lost to taste, and the true interest of our country? The encouraging those expensive manufactures in Europe, may be a virtue there, but a vice in America. We all acknowledge that the means by which we were enabled to obtain the manufactures of Britain, have lessened exceedingly; and that the excessive imports have brought on the present scarcity of cash and consequent distress. Why then continue such a ruinous traffic? There are many other equally unnecessary and expensive articles, which we unthinkingly import, and which must prove, if continued in, to be injurious to individuals, and, perhaps, ruinous to the country at large.

Let us remember, that unless we supply our wants by our own agriculture and manufactures, we must continue to be a distressed people.

Feb. 25. A Charleston (South Carolina) paper of the 7th instant, has the following paragraph:—"By a gentleman from St. Mary's, we are informed, that on the 6th of December last, a party of Indians came down on the main, (Georgia) in the county of Camden, and carried off two women, three children, and a negro man. A party from Cumberland Island went in pursuit of them, but before they could arrive, the savages had made off."

"On the 17th of January, an alarm was given at the Island, of a party having come down at the same place, and that they had murdered a Mr. Taylor and Mr. Fordyce, and carried off about 20 head of cattle."

Feb. 28. Congress on the 19th instant, appointed Mr. John Cleave Symmes one of the judges for the western territory, in the room of the honourable John Armstrong, jun. resigned.

Extract of a letter from London, dated December 29. At length it has been mutually agreed between this country and France, to appoint commissioners on each side, with full powers to see that condition of the convention, which stipulates for the reciprocal reduction of the navies, be carried completely into effect.

Mons. Bougainville is appointed, on the part of France, to undertake the execution of this employment in England, and Mr. Rogers, late secretary to lord Kepple, goes on the same duty on the part of Great-Britain, to France: this determination on each side to see a rigid accomplishment of the terms and spirit of the late agreement, is a much firmer ground for the most rational expectations of mutual forbearance, and lasting peace, than could be deduced from any professions, however ardent and flattering."

JOHN ADDISON.

VENETIAN,
WILL stand for mares this season, at Mrs. Diney's plantation near South-river church, at three guineas each mare, and a dollar to the groom.

VENETIAN is a fine bay, fifteen hands one inch high, with length and bone in proportion. He was bred by Sir James Pennyman, bart. of Yorkshire, and got by Duke, his dam by Jennison shattoe snap, sire to Goldfinder, Gnawpolt, Daley and other good runners, his grand-dam by old Fox. Duke was bred by captain Wentworth, and got by Regulus, son of the Godolphin Arabian, his dam by Crab, his grand-dam by Dycar's Dimple, which was got by Leed's Arabian, his dam by old Shanker, a son of the Darcy Yellow Turk-out of a daughter of Dodsworth Leed's Arabian, was the sire of Leed's, also Bakto, Old Fox, and the grand-dam of Chiders. It is unnecessary to garratinate any thing in favour of the figure of this horse or performance, every gentleman that has seen him, thinks him the handsomest ever imported into this state. He covers two guineas lower than he ought, owing to the scarcity of cash. Grads for mares at half a dollar per week, but will not be answerable for escapes or accidents; no mares will be served, without the money is sent with them.

JOHN CRAGGS.

ROYAL GIFT, and the KNIGHT of MALTA,

Two valuable imported jack-asses, WILL cover mares and jennies at Mount Vernon the ensuing spring, for (on account of the scarcity of cash) three guineas the season, and two shillings and six-pence to the groom, for his care of the mares.

The first is of the most valuable race in the Kingdom of Spain—the other is of the best breed in the Island of Malta.

ROYAL GIFT (now 6 years old) has increased in size since he covered last season, and was a young and hardy mare to which he went, milled.

THE KNIGHT of MALTA will be four years old this spring, about fourteen hands high, most beautifully formed for an ass, and extremely light, active and sprightly; comparatively speaking resembling a fine courser.

These two jacks seem as if designed for different purposes, but equally valuable; the first, by his weight and great strength, to get mules for slow and heavy draught; the other, by his activity and sprightliness for quicker movements. The value of mules on account of their longevity, strength, hardiness and cheap keeping, is too well-known to need description.

MAGNOLIO,

STANDS at the same place for two guineas the season, and two shillings and six-pence to the groom. The money, in both cases, to be paid before the jennies or mares are taken away, as no accounts will be kept.

Good pasture, well enclosed, will be provided for half a dollar per week, for the convenience of those who incline to leave their mares or jennies, and reasonable care will be taken of them, but they will not be insured against thefts, escapes, or accidents.

JOHN FAIRFAX, Overseer.

The imported Horse ECLIPSE,

STANDS this season at Collington Middlesex and will cover at two guineas and a half cash, seven shillings and six-pence to the groom. The gentlemen who have had mares to Eclipse, may be them covered (on their own accounts) for two guineas and five shillings to the groom. Eclipse will cover shillings cheaper than any imported horse, that is equal to him. He is in high order and health; his pedigree may be seen where he stands.

THOMAS HARRISON, groom.

GODOLPHIN,

A high bred five years old HORSE, STANDS at the same place, and will cover mares at the low rate of one guinea cash, and five shillings to the groom, he is a fine bay, nearly 16 hands high, he is bred from the best mares and sires that have been imported. Pasturage three shillings and six-pence per week.

THOMAS HARRISON, groom.

Port-Tobacco, November 3, 1780.

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, MARCH 20, 1788.

VIENNA, October 13.

It is at present reported that the Russians have surprised the fortress of Oczakow, and made themselves masters of it, after losing 800 men.

The Turks are within six miles of it. In the Ukraine they have taken a transitory waggon of salt, carried off the young and killed the rest.

From Constantinople, that the 24th of the month was a joyful day to the Porte and the inhabitants of that place. In the morning, they saw the entrance of the canal, a ship of the line with the colours, which the Turks easily took, it being entirely dismantled, and all the crew, consisting of 1000 men, were made prisoners of war. The ship immediately underwent a sort of interrogation, which they related the misfortune which happened to them. It seems this vessel, which was the admiral's ship, of 80 guns, made part of the Squadron which sailed from the Crimea in the Black Sea, and attacked the Ottoman fleet in the night of the 23d inst. the Russian fleet met with a terrible tempest, which dispersed them towards the Asiatic coast, and destroyed 1000 guns, and most of the crew were drowned. The admiral's ship was obliged to give itself to the mercy of the waves, which had drove it as far as the canal, notwithstanding all the efforts of the crew to escape that danger; it had already passed the guns of some forts and batteries, when the admiral at break of day, perceived the bad situation he was in; seeing it was impossible to escape the ship by turning back, he resolved to set fire to, and blow himself up with his people; this he did, the crew opposed by force, resolved to submit to the Turks, who were running in to seize the ship. By good luck a little before the tempest, the Russian admiral left his ship on board a frigate, that he might the better recover the enemy, so that he was not among the prisoners, who, they say, were treated with great civility.

This misfortune is a fresh proof, that as long as the Ottomans have no port on the Asiatic coasts, their fleet on the Black Sea will be of no use to them. As to the rest, this piece of good fortune has done the Turks for the mischief done likewise by the Ottoman fleet from Oczakow, of 1000 guns, and two ships of the line have been much damaged that they could not proceed.

Regarding the joy the Ottoman minister has for the misfortune which had happened to the Russian Squadron, he has testified no less inquietude for his own fleet, which failed some days before the Red Sea.

LONDON, December 30.

Extract of a letter from Naples, December 1.

Some nights ago, a considerable part of the top of the tremendous Mount Vesuvius was fairly swallowed in the mouth of the volcano; and to-day, the eruption was as well as terror, we beheld immense quantities of smoke, blended with a pale electrical flame, issuing with an incredible noise, and violence, to the summit of the Mount.

During the whole of this stupendous phenomenon, the sky seemed to blaze with myriads of fire; and long will it be before our apprehensions subside about the effects in all probability expected from this uncommon eruption.

Some days ago a man went into an inn at Alton, and called for a pint of beer; some dispute arose between him and Mr. C. the landlord, they went to blows, and the landlord proving the weaker, the other resolved to revenge, and having uttered 40 oaths sworn by Mr. C. in the course of the quarrel, he summoned him before the reverend Mr. St. John, a justice of the peace for the parish; this worthy magistrate being determined to punish such offenders of the laws of God and man to their full extent, asked Mr. C. "If he swore like a gentleman, or a poor man?"

He answered, "Like a gentleman, your honour." "Then you shall pay like a gentleman," said the magistrate, and instantly insisted on £10, and five shillings for every oath.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Madras, to his friend in Scotland.

All is quietness in this peninsula, so far as we are concerned; should Tippoo Saib become more serious in his hostility against any of the Mahratta states, I venture to predict, that we will not interfere in the quarrel, so long as the French remain spectators; nor is there room to dread that Tippoo can ever cover these numerous states, even disunited as they often prove. I can assure you of one fact, that all through this presidency, granaries are established, and nearly filled with one year's provisions for the whole inhabitants of the Carnatic. The last season favoured this great plan of our governor Sir Archibald Campbell; it is already well digested. The old grain is to be annually sold out, (unless a scarcity happens, which those granaries are intended to prevent the bad effects of) and replaced by fresh grain, without creating any new expence to the company, the nabob and rajah having become parties to this scheme. The present season promises success to it.

"This, and many such salutary measures, with an arsenal and magazine well stored, our troops well paid and appointed, the company's bonds reduced here from the discount of 40 to 20 per cent. and the nabob and rajah's regular payments of their khists and debts, will, in all probability, overawe the turbulent spirit of our faithless cruel neighbour, however much disposed to disturb us.—There is every prospect that our worthy governor general will exert the great powers he is deservedly vested with, usefully to the East-India company, and for the interest of the nation at large.—The late act of parliament meets with the approbation of all ranks here, a few interested individuals excepted."

CARLISLE, February 27.

By late accounts from the west we learn, that the superintendent of Indian affairs has sent messengers to invite the chiefs of the Indian nations in the northern district to a general treaty, proposed to be held in May next, on the Muckingum river, by the superintendent and the governor of the western territory, in order to settle all matters of uneasiness between the United States and the Indian nations; and it is hoped, as the meeting was first proposed by the Indians, and agreed to by congress, matters may be accommodated and the peace of the frontiers secured, an event much to be wished, as new settlements cannot with safety be made under the present dissatisfied state of the Indians,—whose minds have been kept uneasy and inflamed by the emissaries of a certain neighbouring power.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.

The following account of the reception of his most christian majesty's plenipotentiary is copied from a New-York paper of Thursday last:—

TUESDAY, February 26, 1788.

CONGRESS assembled—Present, New-Hampshire, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and South-Carolina; and from Connecticut, Mr. Wadsworth, and from North Carolina, Mr. White.

According to order, the minister plenipotentiary from his most christian majesty was introduced to a public audience, when he delivered a letter of credence from his most christian majesty, of which the following is a translation:

Very dear great Friends and Allies,

PARTICULAR reasons, relative to the good of our service, have determined us to appoint a successor to the chevalier de la Luzerne, our minister plenipotentiary with you. We have chosen the count de Moustier to take his place, in the same quality. The marks of zeal which he has hitherto given us, persuade us, that on this new occasion, he will conduct himself in such a manner as to render himself agreeable to you, and more and more worthy of our goodwill. We pray you to give full faith to whatever he may say to you on our part; particularly when he shall assure you of the sincerity of our wishes for your prosperity, as well as of the constant affection and friendship which we bear to the United States in general, and to each of them in particular. We pray God, that he will have you, very dear great friends and allies, in his holy keeping.—Written at Versailles, the 30th September, 1787.

Your good friend and ally,
(Signed) LOUIS.
Count de MONTMORIN.

To the United States of North America.

After which he addressed congress in a speech, of which the following is a translation:

Gentlemen of the Congress,

THE relations of friendship and affection which subsist between the king my master and the United States, have been established on a basis which cannot but daily acquire a new degree of solidity. It is satisfactory to be mutually convinced that an alliance formed for obtaining a glorious peace, after efforts directed by the greatest wisdom, and sustained with admirable constancy, must always be conformable to the common interests; and that it is a fruitful source of infinite advantages to both nations, whose mutual confidence and intercourse will increase in proportion as they become better known to each other.

The king, who was the first to connect himself with the United States as a sovereign power to second their efforts and favour their interests, has never ceased, since that memorable period, to turn his attention to the means of proving to them his affection. This sentiment directs the vows which his majesty forms for their prosperity. Their success will always interest him sensibly; and there is reason to hope for it, from the wisdom of the measures which they will adopt.

To this solemn assurance of interest and attachment on the part of the king, to the unanimous sentiment of the nation, and to the fervent wishes of a great number of my countrymen, who have had the advantage to be associated in the military toils and success of the United States, permit me to add those which I in particular entertain for the growth and glory of those states. I at length enjoy the satisfaction of having it in my power here to testify the profound veneration with which I have been constantly penetrated, for a people who have been able to fix, from their birth, the attention of the most considerable powers in Europe, and whose courage and patriotism have alighted all nations.—My happiness will be complete, gentlemen, if I could succeed, by my zeal and most constant care, to merit your esteem, your confidence, and your approbation.

The task which I have to accomplish, appears to me to be the more difficult, as in succeeding a minister who held the place near you, gentlemen, with which I am now honoured, I am far from enjoying the advantages which he derived from his talents, his knowledge, and those circumstances which placed him in the most intimate relations to you. I will endeavour to resemble him, at least by the greatest attention to promote and give success to whatever may contribute to the satisfaction, the glory, and the prosperity of the United States.

To which the PRESIDENT made the following REPLY:

SIR,

IT will always give us pleasure to acknowledge the friendship and important good offices which we have experienced from his most christian majesty, and your generous nation; and we flatter ourselves, that the same principles of magnanimity and regard to mutual convenience, which dictated the connexions between us, will continue to operate, and to render them still more extensive in their benefits to the two countries.

We consider the alliance as involving engagements, highly interesting to both parties; and we are persuaded that they will be observed with entire and mutual good faith.

We are happy in being so explicitly assured of the continuance of his majesty's friendship and attachment, and in this opportunity of expressing the high sense we entertain of their sincerity and value. It is with real satisfaction, Sir, that we receive you as his minister plenipotentiary; especially as your character gives us reason to expect, that the harmony and interest of both nations, will not be less promoted by your talents, candour and liberality, than they were by those which distinguished your predecessor, and recommended him to our esteem and regard.

The foreign ministers, consuls, &c. and a large number of the most respectable characters of the city, attended at the hall on this occasion, and an elegant entertainment was given by the honourable the president of congress.

The following copy of a letter from the chevalier de la Luzerne, was lately read in the general assembly of this state:

SIR, Paris.

I have received the act of the assembly of Pennsylvania, and the letter you have honoured me with, from which I learn that that state has condescended to give my name to one of its newly erected counties. It is impossible for me to explain the grateful sense I have of this distinguished favour. Having the advantage of a long residence in Pennsylvania, I have been witness to all the acts of patriotism and valour performed in that state, and which have so much contributed to the American independence.

I have had the further advantage of a personal knowledge of the different members of your government, and the opportunity of judging with what wisdom, prudence and firmness, they have succeeded in establishing one of the best governments in the world.

Lastly, Sir, my long residence, my inclination, and the honour just conferred on me, are the ties which bind me inviolably to the State of Pennsylvania.

Be pleased, Sir, to assure the illustrious body you preside over, of my veneration and respect; and permit me to renew the assurances of the attachment with which I have the honour to be, Sir, your most Obedient humble servant,

The hon. the speaker of the general assembly of Pennsylvania.

Annapolis, March 18, 1788.

THE public is informed that, agreeable to a late act of assembly, an inspection house is now built in this city, near the water and convenient to a good wharf, the prizes are under cover, a good inspector appointed, and is now ready to receive tobacco from any part of the state. It is well known that Annapolis is the most convenient port in the state for bay crabs, and it will be very convenient for those on the bay and rivers on the eastern as well as the western shore, to bring their tobacco to this warehouse for inspection, where it will be well taken care of, ready for a good market, and easily conveyed to any part of the state, to shipping.

THE citizens of Annapolis are respectfully informed, that the subscriber has established a packet to ply between said place and Baltimore-town. The packet will leave Baltimore on Mondays and Thursdays, precisely at 10 o'clock, A. M. and will set out on her return from Annapolis, on Tuesdays and Fridays, exactly at 11 o'clock, A. M.—The accommodations for passengers on board this packet, it is presumed, are such as will meet with their full approbation, and nothing will be left unattempted, to render their situation agreeable and convenient—for which purpose, he has laid in an assortment of the best of liquors, and will always have refreshments on board at a moderate price.—All goods or articles sent on board, will be entered in a book to be kept for that purpose, and the greatest care taken in delivering them to the persons consigned.—A bag for the reception of letters will be left at Mr. George Mann's, in Annapolis, and all letters will be immediately dispatched agreeable to their address, on the arrival of the packet at Baltimore.—The utmost attention will be paid to the time of departure at the several periods above mentioned, and no consideration will induce the subscriber to deviate from his purpose in this particular.—Every endeavour of his will be exerted to please, and every favour from the public, will be most gratefully acknowledged, by their obedient and humble servant,

ANNAPOLIS and BALTIMORE STAGE.

THE subscriber begs leave to inform the public, and his friends in particular, that his STAGE sets out from Mr. Phillips's tavern in Baltimore, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, at six o'clock, and from his house in Annapolis, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, at the same hour, and arrives in each place to early dinner; passengers to pay ten shillings each: And as he has provided good horses, and able drivers, he hopes to merit the favour of the public.

2 SAMUEL OSGOOD, WATER LIVINGSTON.

New-York, February 12, 1788.
Forty Silver Dollars, or Five Half Joes Reward,
FOR apprehending one of the most unprincipled fellows in the state of Maryland, a dark mulatto slave named DICK, who absconded yesterday evening; he is about five feet eight inches high, well made and active, is about 28 years of age, has a scar by the right eye, which is very obvious upon examination; had with him an old turn'd cloth coat, jacket and breeches, yarn stockings, osabrig shirt and trousers, a felt hat, a pair of shoes and steel buckles, with a few other clothes, but if possible by any stroke of villainy to acquire more, I make no doubt he will effect it.— If caught great care ought to be taken to secure him properly, as he is master of such art-tricks that there is few people on whom he would not impose; he ran away about three months ago, and was brought from Red Stone, but I conjecture that he will now make to the eastern shore, or to the Delaware state, or Pennsylvania, or endeavour to get on board some vessel. I will give the above reward to any person who will put him in Baltimore gaol, so that I get him again, or in addition thereto all reasonable travelling charges when delivered to me in the upper part of Anne-Arundel county and state of Maryland.

WILL stand for mares this season, at Mrs. Diney's plantation near South-river church, at three guineas each mare, and a dollar to the groom.

VENETIAN is a fine bay, fifteen hands one inch high, with length and bone in proportion. He was bred by Sir James Pennington, bart. of Yorkshire, and got by Doge, his dam by Jennison Shaloe Snap, sire to Goldfinder, Gnapwort, Dasey and other good runners, his grand-dam by old Fox. Doge was bred by captain Wentworth, and got by Regulus, son of the Godolphin Arabian, his dam by Crab, his grand-dam by Dycar's Dimple, which was got by Leed's Arabian, his dam by old Shanker, a son of the Darcy Yellow Turk, but of a daughter of Dodsforth Leed's Arabian, was the sire of Leed's, also Balto, Old Fox, and the grand-dam of Childers. It is unnecessary to garconate any thing in favour of the figure of this horse or performance, every gentleman that has seen him, thinks him the handsomest ever imported into this state. He covers two guineas lower than he ought, owing to the scarcity of cash. Grads for mares at half a dollar per week, but will not be answerable for escapes or accidents; no mares will be served, without the money is sent with them.

2 JOHN CRAGGS.

Annapolis, February 25, 1788.

THE subscriber having empowered Richard Sprigg, jun. to receive the debts and settle the accounts of the late Doctor John Sprigg, all persons indebted are requested to make speedy payment to him, at Mrs. F. Bryce's, Annapolis; it will be rendered convenient to those residing in Prince-George's county, by his attending at Upper-Marlborough, at the April court next.

3 RICHARD SPRIGG, administrator.

Mount Vernon, March 6, 1788.
ROYAL GIFT
and the
KNIGHT of MALTA

Two valuable imported jock-asses,

WILL cover mares and jennies at Mount Vernon the ensuing spring, for (on account of the scarcity of cash) three guineas the season, and six shillings and six pence to the groom, for his care and attention to the females.

The first is of the most valuable race in the kingdom of Spain—the other is of the best breed in the island of Malta.

ROYAL GIFT (now 6 years old) has increased in size since he covered last season, and did a journey and hardly a mare to which he went, missed.

The KNIGHT of MALTA is will be four years old this spring, about fourteen hands high, most beautifully formed for an ass, and extremely light, active and sprightly; comparatively speaking retaining a fine countenance.

These two jock-asses as if designed for different purposes, but equally valuable; the first, by his weight and great strength, to get mules for slow and draught; the other, by his activity and sprightliness, for quicker movements. The value of mules on account of their longevity, strength, hardiness and cheap keeping, is too well known to need description.

MAGNOLIO,

STANDS at the same place for two guineas the season, and two shillings and six pence to the groom. The money, in both cases, to be paid before the mares or mares are taken away, as no accounts will be kept.

Good pasture, well enclosed, will be provided half a dollar per week, for the convenience of those who incline to leave their mares or jennies, and very reasonable care will be taken of them, but they will not be insured against thefts, escapes, or accidents.

2 JOHN FAIRFAX, Overseer.

Prince-George's county, March 9, 1788.

The imported Horse
ECLIPSE,

STANDS this season at Collington Meadows, and will cover at two guineas and a half, and seven shillings and six pence to the groom. The gentlemen who have had mares to Eclipse, may have them covered (on their own accounts) for two guineas and five shillings to the groom. Eclipse will cover at a shilling cheaper than any imported horse, that is equal to him. He is a high bred and healthy, his pedigree may be seen where he stands.

2 THOMAS HARRISON, groom.

GODOLPHIN,

A high bred five years old HORSE, STANDS at the same place, and will cover mares at the low rate of one guinea each, and six shillings to the groom, he is a fine bay, nearly fifteen hands high, he is bred from the best mares and sires that have been imported. Pasture, three shillings and six pence per week.

2 THOMAS HARRISON, groom.

N. B. Either of both of these horses are for sale.

2 JOHN ADDISON.

Port- Tobacco, November 23, 1787.

TWENTY DOLLARS REWARD

RAN away a few weeks ago, a negro man named BOB, about six feet high, a dark complexion, with a blacksmith, and is also a rough carpenter; his clothes are unknown, as he took with him a variety when he speaks it is in a loud voice and very coarse; he has a scar in the palm of his right hand. He has in his possession a written permission, signed by Wm. Pyle, his former master, to hire himself wherever he chose, and with this and a forged pass it is likely he will endeavour to make his escape; he was seen at Annapolis during the last races, and went towards Baltimore. Whoever will secure the said negro Bob, so that we get him again, shall receive the above reward, an application to major John Swin of Baltimore, Esq. or to Major John Couden, Esq. of Annapolis, or the subscriber, J. H. STONE, and CO.

N. B. All masters of vessels are warned not to take him on board their vessels.

Newport, Charles county, January 23, 1788.

To be RENTED, or LEASED,

THE store houses belonging to the subscriber, situated as above, and within a small distance of a capital tobacco warehouse; this stand is adapted either for a dry or wet store, or both; the houses are under rent until the first day of April next, but I believe immediate possession may be easily obtained. For terms, &c. apply to 5 JOHN FARNHAM.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber intends to petition the general assembly at their next session, for a law empowering the justices of Prince-George's county court to levy a sum of money yearly for the maintenance of her ion Ball-kiah, who is in the lane.

V I E N N A, December 7.

COURIERS are perpetually passing between this capital and Paris. By the last of these, the marquis de Noailles received orders to repair to Berlin on a commission of very particular consequence to both the court of Berlin and court of Versailles. The particulars of the negotiation alluded have not yet transpired; but our most intelligent politicians are of opinion that the marquis, before he returns, will proceed to Versailles, in order to obtain fresh instructions relative to the proposed accommodation between Russia and the Porte, and to inform the French ministry, visa voce, what his idea is of the present disposition of the emperor; who certainly, notwithstanding all his warlike preparations, wishes for peace with the Turks, if it be, as reported, that, on being told by the marquis de Noailles of the late convention between England and France, he said, "With all my heart would I form a similar convention with the Turks, were the empress, whom I should wish to see pre-eminently appealed, included in it;—as for my own part, I should have no objection to a reconciliation with the Porte."

L O N D O N, December 22.

Extract of a letter from Barcelona, November 9.

"Yesterday anchored here the Mullapha, an Albatross rover of 32 guns, in a very shattered condition, having her fore-mast shot away, and a great part of her rigging cut to pieces, in an engagement the day before with two of the Pope's frigates, which she beat off, after a bloody conflict of four hours, wherein great numbers were killed and wounded on both sides.—The pirates at one time were expected to strike their flag, or to have sunk, as they were between two fires, and remained in that situation upwards of forty minutes, having one ship on their starboard and the other on their larboard side; but they bore the fire with inflexible resolution, making prodigious shouts, and firing incessantly every part of their ship in a furious and desperate manner, as well from the cannon as their small arms, which latter did great mischief amongst the crew. They also made several attempts to board, but were repulsed with great slaughter; the captain of the pirate, and all his officers, were killed in the heat of the action, except the boatswain, who then bore the command, and shared the same fate, and on—Notwithstanding the loss of such determined leaders, the remaining infidels fought with equal valor as before, and obliged their opponents to retreat.—The captain of a corvette, who had seen great part of the action, says, one of the ships sunk towards the evening, and that her people were taken by the other, which seemed to be in a disabled state."

Dec. 28. At the time of signing the declaration of counter-declaration with France, this nation was considered as being perfectly restored to tranquillity, with the prospect of a continuance of peace;—but it is now said, that such hopes are likely to prove phantoms of political delusion, since it is rumored, there is at this moment on the point of completion, a quadruple confederacy formed, between the courts of Versailles, Vienna, Petersburg and Madrid, which portends nothing less than a general war, unless the consummate wisdom of his majesty's present ministers can happily avert so dreadful calamity.

Mr. Eden's new carriage for the court of Madrid very superb;—the body is formed of variegated perpendicular stripes of purple and gold;—a decoration of flowers is in the centre;—the border is rich in its effect; robes painted after nature on a gold ground.—The harness consists of red morocco and silver;—and every part is strikingly handsome.

Extract of a letter from Constantinople, November 25.

"A spirit of universal discontent actuates at this moment all the movements of the Janissaries; who, not satisfied before with respect to the smallest of their pay, now complain loudly of the irregular manner in which they receive it. Mutiny and the voice of murmur prevail also among all the other Ottoman troops, particularly since the affair of Kinburn. From these untoward circumstances, such a ferment has been excited in this capital, that nothing less than a revolt might be expected, were the grand vizier to join the army before it has subsided. He evidently knows better; and accordingly his departure put off die in diem."

Our readers will recollect a paragraph in a former paper, giving an account of a shark taken in the river Thames, near Poplar, by some fishermen, in the body of which was found a watch; the maker's name and number of the watch being Henry Watson, London, No. 1369, hath been the means of our obtaining the following additional account of this remarkable circumstance:—Mr. Henry Watson, the watchmaker, lives in Shore-ditch, who sold the watch two years ago, to a Mr. Ephraim Thompson, of Whitechapel, as a present for his son on going out on his first voyage, on board the ship Polly, captain Vane, master, bound to Coast and Bay; about three leagues off Falmouth, by a sudden heel of the vessel, during the time of a squall, Master Thompson fell over board, and was seen no more. The news of his being drowned soon after came to the knowledge of his friends, and no more was expected to be heard of him—but from the above circumstances, it is proved, somewhat similar to the fate of Jonas in the belly of a whale, young Thompson's coffin was a living shark, though he was not so fortunate as Jonas to escape. Mr. Ephraim Thompson has purchased the shark, which he calls his son's executor—and the watch, &c. which he considers as his last legacy.

B I R M I N G H A M, December 10.

On Friday last, by virtue of a judge's warrant, lord George Gordon was apprehended in this town, for contempt of the court of kings bench, in not appearing upon the prosecution last Hilary term, for publishing a libel, of which he was found guilty. Lord George was conveyed before Joseph Carles, Esq; who directed him to be conducted to town, attended by an officer from Bow-street, and the keeper of the prison there.—It was in the month of August last that lord George came to this town, and he has ever since lodged at the house of a Jewess, in Dudley-street, to whom he was unknown when he first arrived. When the officers waited upon him he did not deny himself, but told them he was a Jew, and whatever might happen should continue on; and when he learnt that it was ordered he should be in London on Saturday evening, he expressed much concern thereat, as it would oblige him to travel on the Sabbath day of the religion he had embraced.—Lord George, we understand, first became a Jew while he was in Holland, and ever since he has resided in this place has been a very strict and rigid observer of every rite, ceremony, and custom of the Jews, except that of attending the Synagogue; where he feared to appear lest he should be discovered. His beard he had suffered to grow to a considerable length, which together with his dress, contributed so much to disguise him, that he frequently went out in the day time, though most of his hours were spent in his lodging room, in reading, writing, and learning the Hebrew language.

B O S T O N, March 5.

A gentleman in this town has received a letter from Charles Logie, Esq; his Britannic majesty's consul at Algiers, dated November 4, 1787, of which the following is the substance:—After giving an account of his being obliged to confine himself to his own house above a year, on account of the plague, he observes, that notwithstanding the unhappy situation of the unhappy American captives are in, by being obliged to mix and work with the natives, of whom upwards of 300 have died of a day, yet only three out of twenty-two have been carried off by that distemper.—He mentions the death of captain Coffin, a brother of captain Shubael Coffin, after a lingering illness, on the 2d November, and that he had afforded him every assistance in his power, as well as to the captains of ships, and the American people in general there; and this, he says, not merely from the common motives of humanity, but from gratitude, he bearing in mind the many civilities he met with in Boston, from a number of its respectable inhabitants, upwards of 20 years ago. Mr. Logie likewise says, that the cause of humanity would be greatly promoted by a subscription for the relief of the unfortunate American sufferers now in servitude there.

March 8. The general assembly of the state of Rhode-Island, the 1st instant, passed an act, "for submitting the consideration of the proposed federal constitution to the freemen of that state"—who are to meet in their respective towns, in town conventions, on the fourth Monday of March, (the 24th instant) when, after discussing it, they are to give their assent, or disapprobation of it, by yeas and nays; which are to be sealed up by the town clerk, and forwarded to the general assembly, at their meeting on the 1st Monday in March.—Provision was some time since made for the distribution of the constitution.

We are happy in being able to assure the public, that the above paragraph is authentic—and that the legislatures of all the states have now referred the proposed constitution to the consideration of the people; and that the mode adopted in Rhode-Island is, as we are assured, most likely to insure the ratification of the constitution there. When we consider that this system has been readily adopted in six states—unanimously or by respectable majorities—and been rejected by none, we have abundant reason to hope, that the time is not far distant, when the citizens of America, represented by one general and permanent government, will rise to that dignity and importance among the nations of the world, as they are entitled to from their native genius—their extent of country—and from their being a free, united and virtuous people.

P H I L A D E L P H I A, March 20.

Extract of a letter from Wilmington, North-Carolina, February 2.

"I am just arrived at this place, on my return to the northward, having spent more than a year past in travelling through those parts of the United States bounding on the Ohio and Mississippi. The situation and soil of those territories in general are extremely flattering, but the immense population that has already taken place in these parts, has really astonished me: the face of these countries is every day visibly improving; forests as old as the creation are hourly falling before the ax of the hardy emigrant from the old states; elegant farms in abundance are already settled along the banks of some of the deepest and most beautiful rivers that America can boast of; and, in short, every circumstance seems to point out that country as the future seat of a great and powerful empire of confederated republics; the people are universally well disposed towards the states on the Atlantic; and even those that have been born there, mention them as the parent country, with a degree of fondness that I could not well account for; they cannot hear, with patience, of the Spaniards claiming or demanding an exclusive right to the navigation of the Mississippi—and any man that should attempt to recommend a cession of that nature upon any consideration whatever, would, if amongst them, be made to repent dearly for his temerity. What is of very great consequence too, is, that these countries abound with lead mines as well as saltpetre; and I speak within bounds when I say, there is timber in sufficient quantities to build a thousand navies, without going a mile from the banks of the rivers. It must give pain to a reflective mind, when it considers that such oceans of blood have been repeatedly spilt in Europe, often for the sake of some miserable and insignificant spot of territory, when such a noble and extensive region as that of which I am speaking, has been so long neglected, as it hardly worth the attention of a civilized race of men. God grant that we may speedily establish a free and energetic government upon the broad basis of republican equality, which may take the western territories under its wing, and assist them in repelling any insults that may be offered by the jealous and avaricious devotees on the other side of the Mississippi; or those insolent intruders, who, contrary to the faith of treaties, still possess our posts to the northward."

Captain Bunker, in the brig Sally, on his passage from St. Martin's to Philadelphia, the 18th of March, in lat. 33. 40, long. 64. 20, fell in with the ship Cincinnati, captain Charles Collins, from Morlaix, bound to Virginia, 42 days out, who on the 19th of February, in long. 62, fell in with the Friendship, Cludes Basse, master, from Marieles, bound to Baltimore, out four months, in great distress, without provision of any kind; lost his rudder; both fore and main-masts disabled; the weather being so bad that captain Collins could give them no assistance until the 21st; then it was with great difficulty he took all the people out, 15 in number, who added to captain Collins's ship's company consuming his provision so fast, that he was at a short allowance. Captain Bunker took four of the Friendship's men on board, which was all the assistance that he was able to give, and kept company with him until the 5th, when the wind still continuing to the westward, and blowing very hard, captain Collins bore away for the West-Indies, ship in a leaky condition.

C H A R L E S T O N, January 31.

Major Butler stated yesterday to the house of representatives, that he had just received a letter from Georgia from a member of the legislature at Augusta, mentioning that they had sent several dispatches to congress, earnestly requesting assistance against the Indians, but received for answer, that there not being a sufficient number of members to constitute a congress, and therefore no relief could be sent—that Georgia could not raise any men, which had given additional spirits to the Indians, who were preparing for war in greater force than before.

In justification of the attempt, to undertake so arduous, so necessary, and expensive a publication, the Author can only assure a generous and spirited public, whose indulgence he has already experienced, that he is totally detached from every occupation which could impede his progress in completing this great work with care and precision.

Independent of that assistance necessarily derived from a profusion of materials on this subject, it is his intention, as well as duty, to collect information from the minutiae of learning and men of letters, wherever dispersed in the respective states.

CONTENTS.

The history of South-America. The history of North-America. The history of every state in the union, from personal observation, and such documents, journals, and records as may appear conducive to complete an historical treatise of future importance.

This part of the history will necessarily assume a biographical form; as the life, death, and misfortunes of illustrious characters concerned in the memorable contest for American independence will be delineated—without prejudice, from authorities whom posterity will, at his hour of calmness and candour, would not easily suspect of partiality or misrepresentation.

CONDITIONS.

1. That this history shall consist of four volumes, each containing 400 pages, printed on fine paper, Octavo, and a new letter.—Price 5 dollars.

2. That the three volumes shall be delivered to the subscribers in the year 1788, and the first as soon as possible, for which they are to pay 4 dollars, principally on the delivery of the work.

3. These volumes will contain, exclusive of maps, a variety of elegant engravings, taken from the Abbe Saviro Clavigero's new history of Mexico.

4. The fourth volume will then go to press, and be delivered on the payment of one dollar. This is to contain a map of the western territory.

5. As the actions and events of wars within the United States in this century; but—particularly the great scenes of the late revolution, may amplify materials to exceed the limits above described, gentlemen, disposed to continue subscribers in supporting the continuance of this history, are to pay considerably less than the price stipulated for the first four volumes.

These volumes are to be printed by Messrs. Pritchard and Hall, in Philadelphia.

The whole of this history will be collected, digested and compiled by JOHN O'CONNOR, Esq; a barrister at law in the kingdom of Ireland, and now a traveller in America.

Those gentlemen who have had mares to conceive, may have them covered (on their own accounts) for two guineas, and five shillings to the groom. Eclipse will cover ten shillings cheaper than any imported horse, that is equal to him. He is in high order and health; his pedigree may be seen where he stands.

Forty Silver Dollars, or Five Half Joes Reward,

FOR apprehending one of the most unprincipled fellows in the state of Maryland, a dark muscraive named DICK, who absconded yesterday evening; he is about five feet eight inches high, well made and active, is about 28 years of age, has a scar by the right eye, which is very obvious upon examination; had with him an old turn'd cloth coat, jacket and breeches, yarn stockings, of nabrig shirt and trousers, a felt hat, a pair of shoes and steel buckles, with a few other clothes, but if possible by any stroke of villainy to acquire more, I make no doubt he will effect it. If caught great care ought to be taken to secure him properly, as he is master of such arts that there is few people on whom he would not impose; he ran away about three months ago, and was brought from Red Stone, but I conjecture that he will now make to the eastern shore, or to the Delaware state, or Pennsylvania, or endeavour to get on board some vessel. I will give the above reward to any person who will put him in Baltimore gaol, so that I get him again, or in addition thereto an reasonable travelling charges when delivered to me in the upper part of Anne-Arundel county and state of Maryland.

He covers two guineas lower than he ought, owing to the scarcity of cash. Grads for mares at half a dollar per week, but will not be answerable for escapes or accidents; no mares will be served, without the money is sent with them.
