LONDON, December 6.

PROGRESS OF THE MARCH OF HESSE, COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE DANISH AUXILIARY FORCES IN SWEDEN.

We are particularly happy in laying thus early before the public, the following official letter from his royal highness the prince of Hesse, to the minister of the war department at Copenhagen. It contains the whole progress of his operations, and is the only authentic document which has been yet published on the subject.

Although there are later advices from the army, this letter is not the less material, as it explains the instructions under which the prince of Hesse acted, and that his design was to attack the Swedes, at the bridge of Quistrom, provided they had offered to dis- pute his passage.

Head quarters, Tans, November 29.

THE body of auxiliary troops, assem- bled on the 23d of September, between Frederickstad and Frederick- shald, were divided into 2 columns, in approaching the Swedish frontiers; the first was composed of four squad- rons of dragoons, nine battalions of a company of rangers under the orders of generals During, Monzbach, Hesselberg, and colonel Stricker. The other column consisted of a body of chasseurs, commanded by lieutenant-colonel Winker, four squad- rons of dragoons and six battalions. The first column I entrusted to the care of count Schmettau,—the last I commanded myself.

On the 23d in the afternoon I repaired to Ide, by the way of Frederickshald, in company with his royal highness the prince of Denmark. The main army ar- rived there the following night, and the next day marched towards Orebakke: at midnight they embarked in 29 boats, and arrived at Krogstrand at six the next morning. I immediately took possession of all the heights and other advantageous posts, without meeting the least opposition. I determined the next morning to march towards Skee with four battalions, the dra- goons, and a company of rangers. I ordered colonel Stricker to follow me with three more battalions. I there understood that colonel Tranefeld (the Swedish commander) was in march with 400 men and four cannon;—that on the 22d they had passed through Stromstradt, and on the 24th arrived at Swinefund.— My debarkation at Krogstrand was the more unexpect- ed to the Swedes, as no military detachment had ever before passed the river there, on account of its danger, much less a whole body of an army.

My debarkation, however, at Krogstrand, reached the knowledge of colonel Tranefeld, as my march from thence was considerably impeded by hard rains, which prevented the coming up of the troops, so that colonel Tranefeld had time to retire in haste towards Strom- stradt, after destroying all the passages and bridges in his way. On hearing that he was posted before that place, near a bridge called Wetland, I repaired thither, and on my arrival, perceived a very extended line of troops, but only one deep, with artillery, and a large number of different carriages. The bridge was broken down and the river deep. However we advanced, and found another river with the bridge likewise broken down. We were busy in getting it together again, when an officer, accompanied with a drum, advanced towards me, and asked me in the name of colonel Tranefeld, what was the design of our army? I answered him, "that the manifesto (hereafter men- tioned) I had previously sent him, contained all I had to say."

In the mean time the bridge was repaired, and I passed it in defiles. I posted at about 1500 paces from the Swedish army, and covered the troops behind some eminences, placing myself on a battery, situated on a rock in a very advantageous position. Once more I was complimented by a message from colonel Trane- feld, delivered by an officer of artillery, requiring some explanation of my manifesto.

I immediately sent him for answer, that the king of Denmark was not at war with the king of Sweden; but that in virtue of his alliance with the empress of Russia, he found himself obliged to furnish her with a body of auxiliaries, and that I was under the necessity, though much against my will, to attack the Swedish troops wherever I found them; that nevertheless it de- pended on him to retire, that otherwise I should march without delay against him.

I thought, however, proper to give a formal expla- nation to colonel Tranefeld through one of my own officers, and I sent my aid-de-camp to him, who went with the Swedish officer. I then ordered some batta- lions to take possession of the rock, and formed the or- der of attack.

At the moment we were preparing to fire, our at- tack was impeded by a kind of whirlwind, attended by hail and rain, and so violent that I never was wit- nesses of the like before. All the arms were wetted, and the troops needed further time to make another disposition of attack. I profited of this interval to recon- noitre the right wing of the Swedish army posted along the river. At some distance on the banks of it, op- posite to me, I perceived a troop of rangers; an officer approached and cried out to me, Friend! I begged of him to hear me, and asked where colonel Tranefeld was, adding, "that I should receive much satisfaction on seeing him before we began."

The colonel came, and alighted from his horse, de- sired to know my final purposes. I refused him at once this request, on which he retired, and took the road in the night time from Quistrom to Uddewalla. In the morning I continued my march, and detached two battalions to the help of count Schmettau to repair the bridges which lay in his road. I ordered the bat- talion of Sudensfeld to take possession of Stromstradt and of the royal magazine there. The troops found in it 1700 tons of wheat and 1500 gallons of spirits. I established the hospital there.

The prince royal is with me, I design to march on to Quistrom, where I am told the Swedes are posted. The troops are in high spirits, notwithstanding the continual rains, and the fatigue of daily marches. I am myself with the advanced guard, nine miles from Stromstradt, and design to assemble the greater part of the army near Quistrom.

The count Schmettau is since arrived at Wetland, and colonel Stricker at Skee.

HESSE.

Manifesto of the prince of Hesse.

Charles landgrave and prince of Hesse, &c. &c. &c. field marshal and commander in chief of his Danish majesty's troops, makes known,

"That his majesty the king of Denmark being un- der engagements with Russia, and in order to fulfil the treaty with that power, on the requisition of the em- press, finds himself obliged to allot a part of his forces by sea and land to her service, as auxiliary troops against Sweden:—

"It is his majesty's supreme will that these auxilia- ry troops observe the strictest order and discipline, and that they commit no disorder whatever to any one who does not oppose them hostilely.—On the contrary, that the property of every Swedish subject should be rather protected and placed in safety; and in case that in de- fiance of every endeavour, any one dare thief, pil- lage or exercise any violence, he shall be punished with every rigour of the law; as it is his majesty's earnest de- sire to alleviate, as far as circumstances will permit, the burthen of the war, and to contribute at the same time to establish peace on a sure and lasting basis.

His majesty assures himself in consequence, that in consideration of this mode of proceeding, his troops will experience, in an equal degree, a fair treatment in Sweden, particularly that the inhabitants, whether burghers of town or inhabiting the open country, will not oppose them by open violence, or attack them hos- tility; in which case, all those found under arms con- trary to the custom of war, will draw on themselves infallibly the most rigorous treatment, and all the ru- inous consequences resulting from it."

NASSAU (N. Providence) February 14.

The sloop Elizabeth, from Exuma for New-York, was sunk on the evening of the 3d instant, in conse- quence of a stroke from a whale. The circumstances of this extraordinary accident, are thus related in the Protest:—"John Harvey, late mate of the sloop Elizabeth and Mary, whereof Daniel Smith was late master, and John Cork and Luke Dixon, late mari- ners on board the said vessel, being duly sworn on the holy Evangelists of Almighty God, severally make oath, that on the 1st day of January last past, they sailed in and with the said sloop from the Island of New-Provi- dence, bound for Exuma, where she loaded and took on board a cargo of salt, consisting of near four thou- sand bushels; that on or about the 13th of January aforesaid, having the aforesaid salt and some specie on board, to purchase a return cargo, they sailed in and with the said sloop from Exuma, bound for New-York, and on Tuesday the 3d of this instant, they went between Little Island and the east end of Eleuthera, and at sun-set the latter being nearest land, bore about N. W. by W. about five leagues distant; and the said deponents John Cork and Luke Dixon for themselves severally say, that about seven o'clock in the evening of the same day, being on the quarter-deck of the said vessel, (the said John Harvey being below) they disco- vered a very large whale on the starboard-beam spout- ing, which continued to approach the vessel till it ar- rived so close along side, that a negro man on board, one of the sailors, took up a billet of wood in order to strike and frighten it from the vessel; that before the negro could put his design in execution, the whale went down near the starboard-quarter, and rising struck the vessel under that quarter, hove her all a back in the wind, and went down again, and immediately after- wards coming up, made a most violent stroke with its tail, which however missed the vessel; but the said vessel received so much damage from the first stroke, was then sinking. And all the said deponents say, that upon the first shock of the stroke, the said John Harvey, the mate, with the master, came on deck, and finding the vessel going down, ordered the gripes of the boat to be immediately cut, but the vessel sink- ing from the boat, the top-calls got hold of it, and carried it down together with the deponent John Harvey, who soon rose again with it, the rest of the people in the mean time swimming about and support- ing themselves with such spars and lumber as came to hand; that the violence of the stroke of the whale had drove both pumps out of their places, and finding them floating, the deponents and the rest of the crew got them lashed across the gunwales of the boat, (which was full of water) with some fennett or small plate, that was luckily fastened round one of the said pumps, that the weather being moderate, and the wind at E. the deponents and the other persons who were on board, supported themselves on the said boat and pumps, and by the assistance of an oar, they kept the boat before the wind and sea, and at day light next morning, to wit, Wednesday the 4th instant, they saw land at about five miles distant. That the aforesaid Daniel Smith, the late master, and a negro man named Will Harvey, being exhausted and not able to support themselves on the boat or pumps, were drown- ed about one o'clock in the afternoon: And the de- ponents and the survivors of the crew, at about two o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, got to land in a very weak and exhausted condition, on the east end of Eleuthera, near a settlement called Palmetto Point; where they experienced the most hospitable treatment from the inhabitants. That the deponents got a pas- sage from thence, and arrived in the town of Nassau, yesterday the 9th inst. That the said cargo, specie, and every thing on board, were totally lost."

BENNINGTON, (Vermont) February 23.

We have the following ANECDOTE of an old gentleman, belonging to the state of Vermont, from a gentleman of undoubted veracity, in the city of New-York.

This aged gentleman from Vermont, being on his way to New-York, on business, put up at a tavern near Kings-Bridge; having rode the whole day in a storm, he desired his landlord to give him a room, fire, and provide him some refreshment, which was accord- ingly done; there soon after came in sixteen young gentlemen from New-York, and demanded of the landlord the best room in the house; to which, he re- plied it was engaged to a gentleman from Vermont, and he was unwilling to disoblige him—they then requested leave to speak with him, and proposed to hire him to quit the room; leave was given, and proposals made, and rejected; but the old man had the com- plaisance to offer to let them spend the evening with him—to which they replied they should raise the devil; well, says the good man, I will lay him for you—upon which the treaty closed. The young debauchees immediately ordered sixteen bottles of wine, drank them, and broke the bottles against the chimney- back;—the old gentleman (who partook with them) called in his bottle and broke it likewise:—The young fellows still determined to oblige the old man to quit his post and leave them masters of the ground, agreed that some one of the company should make pro- posals, and execute them himself first, and that if any person in the room refused to follow he should pay five pounds; to which all agreed:—The first was, to burn all their hats—the second, their coats—the third, their waistcoats—and fourth, their boots; which was accordingly executed by them, and the old man followed suit:—after which, he says, gentlemen, now it is my turn to make proposals—to which I demand your compliance under the same penalty as before; to which they readily consented:—The landlord was called, and a surgeon ordered with his instruments—when the old man proposed that every one of the company should have all the teeth in their heads extracted, set himself down accordingly, and ordered the surgeon to proceed; but to their astonishment, the old man had but one stump left to gratify their curiosity, which was however, sacrificed to execute the proposal; the young gentlemen soon discovered that they were out generalled; and rather than part with their teeth, settled a truce with the old hero, paid him five pounds each; paid the landlord his bill for the wine, &c. and had only the consolation to go home naked, and tell their friends, as the paddy told general Washington when he had made prisoners of five dragoons, that one old veteran rakes from Vermont, had surrounded them.

NEW-YORK, March 23.

Yesterday arrived here, the ship North-Carolina, captain Haddock, in 35 days from Lisbon, who in- forms, that the day before he sailed, a British packet had arrived at that port with the intelligence that the king of Great-Britain had somewhat recovered from his indisposition, so as to be able to go out; but that his intellects were so impaired as to make it necessary for his attendants to keep an observant eye on his con- duct; that the prince of Wales had been appointed sole regent; that Mr. Pitt had resigned in disgust; and that it was generally supposed Mr. Fox would be appointed in his room.

This will of course bring into a new administration the powerful interests of the following noble personages.

The dukes of Norfolk, of Bedford, of Northumberland, Devonshire, Portland, Grafton; and the lords Stormont, Montserrat, Sandwich, Huntingdon, and Rawdon, Grosvenor, Fitzwilliam, Abingdon, Guildford—and the following eloquent leaders in the house of commons: Sheridan, Burke, Jack Lee, Pulteney, Selwyn, Fitzpatrick, Courtenay, Francis (of East-India), the Luttrells, with the Londales, &c. &c.

The above intelligence was brought from England to Lisbon, about 48 hours previous to captain Had-dock's sailing.

We also have advice, by the same channel, of the long expected death of his majesty Charles the 3d, king of Spain, in his 74th year, of which he had reigned near thirty. The prince of Asturias, 'tis presumed will succeed to the crown, being heir apparent.

These important events occurring at a very critical and agitated crisis, threaten Europe with rather an extension than a subsiding of hostilities, amongst the great powers on that theatre.

It is expected that in a few days the members of the federal government will proceed to business, as there are almost a sufficient number now arrived in town to effect the much desired purpose.

PHILADELPHIA, March 23.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Marietta, (Mufkingun) dated January 26.

"The Indian treaty closed the 9th instant, and the greater part of the Indians have since returned to their towns, peaceably disposed, and pleased with their treatment while here.—They have all agreed to abide by the treaties that have been heretofore made between them and the United States, and have signed deeds which give to the United States a great part of the Western territory."

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Marietta, to his friend in Newbury-Port, January 17.

"So far as I am capable of forming an opinion of the soil and climate, at this season of the year, I think the country on this side the mountains far preferable to that on the eastern side; and I believe, in a century, it will be of as much consequence.

"We suffered exceedingly on our passage down the river from Pittsburgh, owing to the extreme coldness of the weather, and the great quantities of ice.—There is now about six inches deep of snow, and the weather in general cold, though we have now and then a spring-like day. We arrived at this city on the fifth instant, and attended the treaty with the Indians, and congratulate my countrymen on its being very favourably closed on the 12th when the treaties were exchanged. On this occasion, an elegant entertainment was provided, partly at the expence of the Ohio company. The Indian chiefs behaved with very great decorum, and an admirable harmony prevailed throughout the day.—After dinner, we were served with good wine,—and Cornplanter, one of the first chiefs of the Five Nations, and a very great warrior, took up his glass, and said, "I thank the Great Spirit for this opportunity of smoking the pipe of friendship and love.—May we plant our own vines—be the fathers of our own children, and maintain them."

The following is a copy of the invitation sent to the Indian chiefs:

To Messrs. Williams, Nicholson, and La Chapelle, Indian linguists at Fort Harmar.

"You are requested to inform the Wyandots, Delawares, Chippawas, Ottowas, Munnes, Pautauattimas, and Socks, with the Senecas, and such of the Five Nations as are present, that we are desirous of celebrating the good work, which the Great Spirit has permitted our father the governor, with our brother general Butler, and their sachems and chiefs to happily accomplish; for which purpose we will prepare an entertainment on Monday next at two o'clock; and our brothers, the sachems and chiefs, to whom we now send tokens, are requested to attend at that time; that we may in friendship, and as true brothers, eat and drink together, and smoke the pipe of everlasting peace, and evidence to the whole world how bright and strong is that chain which the Thirteen United States hold fast at one end, and the Wyandots, &c. at the other.—We are very sorry that we cannot entertain all our brethren, together with their wives and children; but as we have come into this country a very long way (some of us 40 or 50 days journey towards the rising sun) and could not bring much provision along with us, it is now out of our power. We trust the Great Spirit will permit us to plant and gather our corn, and increase our stores, and their children and children's children may be told, how much we shall all rejoice, to make glad their hearts when they come to see us."

From Persia the news-papers give us the following valuation of the booty which Thamas Kouli Kan brought away from the Mogul's country.

The elephants, camels, artillery, tents and ammunition, taken in the different actions are valued at 75,000,000 of livres; £. 375,000,000 were taken out of the imperial treasures; jewels and precious stones to the value of £. 200,000,000; the emperor's bed of state, £. 175,000,000; an imperial throne set with diamonds, £. 225,000,000; plate set with precious stones, £. 275,000,000; money and jewels taken from the wives and children of the emperor, £. 75,000,000. The plunder of the city of Dely, £. 250,000,000; contributions raised upon the inhabitants, £. 250, 000,000; from the great men of the empire, 250,000,000; from the two grand favourites of the emperor, £. 400,000,000; and, from the estates of the ministers and favourites of the Great Mogul, who were put to death at the desire of Thamas Kouli Kan, the whole amounting to £. 2775,000,000; more riches than the greatest part of this were brought from the city of Dely alone; people would with difficulty believe, what is above related, was it not that the riches of Indoffan were well known, and that its manufactures and produce, brought in every year vast sums, both from Asia and Europe, which scarce ever go out again. Thamas Kouli Kan has likewise imposed on the Great Mogul an annual tribute of £. 75,000,000 and has settled the annual expence of the court of that prince at £. 110,000,000.

The government of the empire of the Great Mogul, has been the occasion of this sudden revolution, such a one as no history can produce. The people groaned under the oppression of the grandees. The emperor, a prince of a weak mind, and wholly taken up in the pursuit of his pleasures, and left the care of the empire to two favourites, who aimed at nothing so much as the amassing of treasure. The dominions were naked of troops, because the general, whose business it was to have kept them on foot, appropriated the sums designed for that purpose to their own use. Some rebels of the neighbourhood of Malabar and Coromandel penetrated even into Indoffan, and the little resistance that they met with, discovered how easy it would be to invade this empire. While Thamas Kouli Kan extended his conquests with an army of 80,000 horse and 20,000 foot, well armed and disciplined, with 250 pieces of cannon, the Mogul was in a state of security at Dely, imagining he had done enough in gathering together an army of 200,000 horse and 500,000 foot, with 5000 armed elephants, and 8000 pieces of cannon, which was raised in a hurry, and all military stores wanting.

The battle of the 22d of February, 1739, which cost the lives of 100,000 men, and part of the emperor's family, at once determined the fate of that prince, and secured the empire to Thamas Kouli Kan, who restored it to the Mogul by treaty. During the continuance of Thamas Kouli Kan at Dely, he caused money to be coined there, with the following inscription—"Schack Nadir was born to be emperor of the whole world."

GEORGE-TOWN, March 19.

Copy of a letter from governor Sevier to the privy council of the new state of Franklin, dated at Buffalo-Creek, January 12, 1789.

"It is with the utmost pleasure I inform your honours, that the arms of Franklin gained a complete victory over the combined forces of the Creek and Cherokees, on the 10th instant; since my last I received information that the enemy were collecting in a considerable body, near Flint-Creek, within twenty-five miles of my head quarters, with an intention to attack me; to improve this favourable opportunity, I immediately marched my corps towards the spot, and arrived after enduring great hardships by the immense quantity of snow and the piercing cold. On the morning of the 10th instant, we were within a mile of the enemy; we soon discovered the situation of their encampment by the smoke of the fires, which we found extended along the foot of the Apalachian mountain. I called a council of war of all the officers, in which it was agreed to attack the enemy without loss of time, and in order to surround them, I ordered general M'Carter, with the bloody rangers and the tomahawk men, to take possession of the mountain, the only pass I knew that the Indians could retreat by; whilst I with the rest of the corps formed a line, nearly extending from the right to the left of their wings.

"The arrival of general M'Carter on the mountain, and the signal for the attack was to be announced by the discharge of a grasshopper, which was accordingly given and the attack began. Our artillery soon routed the Indians from their huts, and finding themselves pretty near surrounded on all sides, they only tried to save themselves by flight, from which they were prevented by our riflemen posted behind the trees; their case being thus desperate they made some resistance, and killed the people who were serving our artillery. Our ammunition being much damaged by the snow on our march, and the enemy's in good order, I found it necessary to abandon that mode of fight, and trust the event to the sword and tomahawk: accordingly gave orders to that purpose; colonel Loid, with 100 horsemen, charged the Indians with sword in hand, and the rest of the corps followed with their tomahawks. The battle soon became general, by general M'Carter coming down the mountain, to our assistance; death presented itself on all sides in shocking scenes, and in less than half an hour the enemy ceased making resistance and left us in possession of the bloody field. The loss the enemy sustained in this action, is very considerable; we have buried 145 of their dead, and by the blood we have traced for miles, all over the woods, it is supposed the greatest part of them retreated with wounds—our loss is very considerable, it consists of 5 dead, and 16 wounded, amongst the latter is the brave general M'Carter, who, whilst taking off the scalp of an Indian, was tomahawked by another, whom he afterwards killed with his own hand; I am in hopes this good and brave man will survive. I have marched the army back to my former cantonment, at Buffalo-Creek, where I must remain until I receive some supplies for the troops, which I hope will be sent soon—we suffer most for the want of whiskey.

"I have the honour to remain,

"Gentlemen, your very humble servant,

"JOHN SEVIER."

FOR SALE,

By the subscriber, appointed trustee by the honourable the chancery court of Maryland,

THAT well known ferry at Rock Hall, lately occupied by Mr. BASIL NOIEL. There is on the premises a good framed house, 36 feet square, four rooms on the lower floor, and three lodging rooms, with four fire places, with a passage through the house, and good dry cellar, with a partition therein; there is a good kitchen adjoining the dwelling house, by a very convenient summer room, that has two corner cupboards and seats around the same; the kitchen is lathed and plastered, with convenient rooms above stairs, finished for lodging waiters and gentlemen's servants.

There is a stable with a paved floor, and carriage house adjoining, a negro quarter, meat house, a good corn house, hen house, blacksmith's shop, and a convenient warehouse, at the landing, with a pailed in garden, and a young peach orchard. There is a good well of water in the yard, and a spring within thirty yards of the house.

There is belonging to the above property 150 acres of land, half of which is cleared and under good fences, divided in fields, and two lots of six or eight acres each, adapted to clover or timothy. From its public situation it is well known to possess every advantage that can be expected from keeping a tavern and ferry across the bay to Annapolis and Baltimore-town; it is remarkably healthy; the waters abound with good rock fish, perch, crabs, oysters, and in their season, a quantity of wild fowl. The sale to be made on the premises by public auction, the 12th day of May, if fair, if not the first fair day thereafter. For

The beautiful HORSE ROEBUCK,

WILL cover mares this season at the subscriber's plantation in Charles county, at the low price of five pounds currency per mare, and one dollar to the groom, but if the money is paid when the mare is taken away, three pounds, and one dollar to the groom, will be taken in lieu of the five pounds. It is useless to infer his pedigree as it is well known, but it may be seen at his stable. ROEBUCK's stock is remarkable, both for the turf and saddle; I believe equal to any in the state. Good pasturage is provided for mares that come a distance, at two and six-pence per week, and great care will be taken of them; but I will not be answerable for escapes or accidents. 8w
WILLIAM M. WILKINSON.

Charles county, March 26, 1789.

FRIENDSHIP,

A HANDSOME full bred horse, stands this season at the subscriber's plantation, in Prince-George's county, about seven miles from Bladensburg, and the same distance from Snowden's works, and will cover mares at six dollars each; he is a good forrel, full fifteen hands high, with length and bone in proportion, and is six years old; he was bred by William Mitchel, Esquire, of Virginia, and was got by Apollo, the property of Colonel Henry Lee, out of an imported full bred mare. Apollo was got by general Spotswood's noted Apollo. FRIENDSHIP has run two matches, and won both easy. Few horses in this state are equal to him in beauty and form. He covers at half price, owing to the scarcity of cash. 10/6
CHARLES DUVALL.

N. B. Thirty shillings will be received if the mare be paid by the first day of September next.
March 18, 1789. C. Duvall

CARELESS,

STANDS this season at Strawberry-Hill, and covers at three dollars a mare, and half a dollar to the groom, if the cash is sent with the mare, or at four dollars a mare, and half a dollar to the groom, on credit, or at two barrels of corn, and three shillings and nine-pence to the groom, provided the corn is delivered before the first day of June next, at Strawberry-Hill. Good pasturage for mares at three shillings and nine-pence per week, under a good fence, but will not be answerable for escapes or other accidents. 5w
RICHARD SPRIGG.

March 30, 1789.

CINCINNATUS,

WHO has so repeatedly and so successfully signalled himself on the turf, and who is perhaps the handsomest and best bred Arabian on the continent, will cover mares this season at the subscriber's plantation, about two miles from Upper-Marlborough, for three pounds current money each. Pasturage for two shillings and six-pence per week, but no indemnity for accidents or escapes. He was got by the Arabian, his dam by Figure, his grand-dam by Dove, his great-grand-dam by Othello, upon Selima. w4
JOHN SMITH BROOKES.

NORTHERN ECLIPSE,

WILL stand for mares this season at London-town, near Annapolis, at two guineas each mare, and a dollar to the groom, the money to be sent with the mares. Pasturage for mares at half a dollar per week, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. This horse is a chefnut, fifteen hands and an inch high, not handsome, but he has some of the best English running blood in his veins, with bone and action. 6w
JOHN CRAGGS.

NORTHERN ECLIPSE was got by O'Kelly's famous Eclipse, and out of Ameryllis. Ameryllis was got by Adolphus, son of Regulus, and out of Lodge's roan mare, which was got by Partner (the first and most famous stallion then in England) her dam by Baboon, which was got by Badger, her grand-dam by old Traveller, which was sire to the duke of Cleveland's Dainty Davy, which won successively five gold cups at Richmond, in Yorkshire, her great-grand-dam by Snake, then the most capital stallion of his day. This is a true pedigree, as witness my hand,
W. NEWBURN, the Breeder,
Cleveland, Yorkshire.

ON the application of the trustee of ALEXANDER OGG, the first day of October next is limited and appointed by the chancellor for the creditors of the said Alexander Ogg to bring in and declare their respective claims to the said trustee, that the same may be on that day liquidated and adjusted; due notice hereof to be published in Mr. Green's and Mr. Goddard's news-papers.

2 SAMUEL H. HOWARD,
Reg. Cur. Can.

Pursuant to the last will and testament of captain JOHN EDEN, late of Saint-Mary's county, deceased, will be SOLD, at PUBLIC SALE, on Wednesday the 15th of April next, at Chaptico, if fair, if not the next fair day, for ready MONEY or TOBACCO, the following property, belonging to the estate of the aforesaid deceased, viz.

FOUR NEGROES, consisting of a woman, a boy and two children; also a STILL, a DESK and BOOK-CASE, and a few BOOKS; likewise two TRACTS of LAND, lying in Saint-Mary's county, within two miles of Chaptico, one of which containing about 185 acres, and the other about 70 acres.

All those indebted to the late captain Eden, are requested to make immediate payment, and those having claims against the estate are once more desired to bring them in legally proved, to

MARGARET EDEN, Executrix.

CHARLES LLEWELIN, Executor.

N. B. The creditors of the late captain Eden are requested to meet at Chaptico, on the day of sale.

NOTICE.

THE creditors of the estate of PATRICK HANNAN, late of Fell's-Point, deceased, are requested to bring in their claims, properly attested, to the subscribers, on or before the first day of May next, when a legal distribution will be made at the house of Mr. FRANCIS SMITH in Gay-street, Baltimore; after which they will not deem themselves bound to receive or satisfy any further claims. 3w
ELIZABETH HANNAN, Executrix.
JOHN HANNAN, Executor.

Baltimore, February 23, 1789.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of Mr. JOHN JOHNSON, late of this city, deceased, are requested to bring them in properly authenticated, and those indebted to the estate are most earnestly called on to make immediate payment to the subscriber, that he may be quickly enabled to discharge the claims against the estate. The very great indulgence which the debtors generally have experienced from the deceased, will, I hope, induce many to pay the proper attention to this advertisement; those who neglect may depend that suits will be instantly instituted against them to November court, without respect to persons.

ROBERT JOHNSON, Administrator.

Annapolis, March 24, 1789.

RAN away from the subscriber, a young NEGRO MAN, called DAVY, on the 15th of March, 1789; his dress is an osnabrig shirt, and cotton waist-coat and breeches; it is probable he will change his dress as he has other cloaths; he is an artful, deceiving fellow, about 5 feet 3 or 4 inches high, and stole a large sum of money two or three days before he went off: it is thought he is gone off with his overseer, ROBERT JACKSON, who is gone away with Joshua Pearce's wife. Whoever takes up and secures the said negro, shall be entitled to EIGHT DOLLARS REWARD.
ELIZABETH RAWLINGS.

In COUNCIL, February 24, 1789.

WHEREAS, by a report made by the treasurer of the western shore to this board, it appears that several of the county clerks have neglected to make regular returns of ordinary and marriage licences, licences to retailers of spirituous liquors, licences to sell liquor at horse races, and hawker's and pedler's licences granted, and of fines and forfeitures, forfeited recognizances, and amerancements, accruing in their respective counties, and also that several of the sheriffs and other officers have neglected to make annual payment of the public money collected by them on the above-mentioned accounts, whereby the revenue of the state is greatly injured; notice is hereby given, that it is determined by this board to take effectual steps for compelling a compliance with the law in the before-mentioned respects, of which all persons concerned, as well on the eastern as the western shore, are desired to pay attention.

By order,

A SCHOOL.

THE subscriber respectfully informs the citizens of Annapolis, that he proposes opening a SCHOOL on Monday the 23d instant, at the house where Mr. WILLIAM DEBLOIS now lives, for the purpose of teaching reading, writing, arithmetic and surveying.

The subscriber has the happiness of informing the public, that he has taught school several years in Baltimore with (as he hopes) credit and success, of which (if required) certificates can be produced. As he is a native of Baltimore county, and personally known to several respectable citizens of Annapolis, every gentleman, so disposed, may readily inform him as to his moral character. He only thinks it necessary to add, that those who may honour him with the care of their children, may depend upon the greatest care and attention on his part for their improvement—hopes the success of his endeavours will merit the approbation of his patrons.

JOHN DEAVER.

March 19, 1789.

By virtue of a writ of venditioni exponas, to me directed from the general court, will be exposed to PUBLIC SALE, at the house of Mr. WILLIAM GOLDSMITH, in Annapolis, on Saturday the 11th of April next,

TWO valuable country-born NEGROES; taken as the property of JOHN ADDISON and wife, admrs. of Thomas Watkins, and sold for the use of John Hall. The sale to be at 11 o'clock, A. M. for ready cash only.

DAVID STEUART, late sheriff of Anne-Arundel county.

ROYAL GIFT,

And the

KNIGHT of MALTA,

Two valuable imported Jack-Asses,

WILL cover mares and jennies at Mount Vernon the ensuing spring for three guineas the season, and two shillings and six-pence to the groom, for his care of, and attention to, the females. The first is of the most valuable race in the kingdom of Spain; the other of the best breed in the island of Malta. ROYAL GIFT (now seven years old) has increased in size since he covered last season. The KNIGHT of MALTA will be five years old this spring, about fourteen hands high, most beautifully formed for an ass; and extremely light, active and sprightly; comparatively speaking, resembling a fine courier.

These two JACKS seem as if designed for different purposes, but equally valuable; the first, by his weight and great strength, to get mules for the slow and heavy draught; the other, by his activity and sprightliness for quicker movements. The value of mules, on account of their strength, longevity, hardiness and cheap keeping, is too well known to need description.

The money is to be paid before the mares or jennies are taken away, as no accounts will be kept. Good pasture, well enclosed, will be provided, at half a dollar per week, for the convenience of those who may incline to leave their mares or jennies, and every reasonable care will be taken of them, but they will not be insured against thefts, escapes or accidents.

COMMITTED to my custody as a runaway, the 6th inst. a NEGRO FELLOW, who calls himself CHARLES, and says he belongs to RICHARD MILLINGTON, of Talbot county, and has been run away about eighteen months; he is five feet nine inches and an half high, stout made and of a yellowish complexion. His master is desired to pay charges and take him away.

JOHN BROOKE, Sheriff.

A J A X,

IS of a beautiful nankeen colour, finely dappled, 4 years old, full fifteen hands two inches high, remarkable for a great share of bone and finew, will cover mares at the subscriber's plantation, within 5 miles of Alexandria ferry, and ten miles of Piscataway, at three pounds current money per mare, but if paid by the first of August forty shillings, and two shillings and six-pence to the groom, will be received in lieu of the three pounds. I will receive any kind of country produce in discount at the market prices, from all those who think proper to send mares.—Ajax was got by Mr. Richard Hall's noted horse Union, his dam is a fine mare, supposed to be full bred.

FRANCIS TOLSON.

March 20, 1789.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber intends to apply to Prince-George's county court for a commission to ascertain and mark the boundaries of a tract of land called LANDOVER, according to the ancient running, agreeable to a late act of assembly.

PASSED AT
NOVEMBER SESSION,

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

THE visitors and governors of St. John's College having, on the 10th of May, 1786, authorized Samuel Chase, Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, or any two of them, to appoint a person to collect the money, then or thereafter to be subscribed: we, the said Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, did accordingly, soon after, appoint Archibald Golder, of the city of Annapolis. Of this appointment the public was duly notified. The collector advertised times and places for his attendance in several counties. He attended agreeably to his notice, and moreover made personal application to many of the subscribers. But, although the stipulated periods of payment have long since elapsed, not more than 1500l. out of 11,024l. have been paid.

We have this day renewed our agreement with the collector. Subscribers who have not yet paid their first third, are requested, without delay, to pay the same, and such further part, as they shall think proper, to the said Archibald Golder, or to Benjamin Harwood, treasurer. They will be called on, within a reasonable time, to make the second and third payments, the last of which was due on the 1st of June, 1787.—All legal methods of compulsion would be as disagreeable to the visitors as disgraceful to subscribers. But it is the indispensable duty of trustees to adopt such modes of exacting payment, as shall be found necessary, or expedient.

The building of the college was projected, and begun on a plan, in some measure, proportioned to its nominal funds. For a considerable length of time, it has been suspended, for want of money.—The gentlemen who subscribed liberally, and paid with punctuality, had a right to expect, in the course of four years, that the work would be complete, and the seminary beginning to flourish. They cannot but remember the generous patriotic ardor, with which the institution was commenced. They have sustained an injury from all those whose neglect or failure has retarded its progress; and, for their satisfaction, as well as for other purposes, a list of subscribers names, with the sums subscribed, and the sums paid, will probably be published as soon as conveniently may be, after the 12th day of May next.

At a meeting of the visitors and governors, on the 5th of July, 1786, the second Tuesdays in February, May, August and November, were appointed for their quarterly meetings. A sufficient number hath not, since that period, been convened, although extraordinary meetings have been requested, by public advertisement and personal solicitation. As the repeated disappointments of those who have repaired to Annapolis, at their own expence, for the sole purpose of meeting the visitors, may perhaps, without some particular notice, prevent their attendance, at the next regular stated meeting, we take the liberty of most earnestly entreat every gentleman, who has accepted the trust of a visitor and governor of St. John's College, to attend on the second Tuesday of May next. As the general court will be held on that day, we presume no time more convenient can be mentioned.

It is perhaps proper to inform the public, that the number of visitors cannot exceed twenty-four, that not less than nine can form the corporation; that it has never exceeded eleven; that by death it is reduced to ten; that not less than seven have authority to act; and that only two, at this time, reside at Annapolis. It is almost needless to add, that matters of the greatest importance await their consideration. It is much to be wished, that the number were completed or increased. Whether this object may not be attained, provided nine shall be convened, will be debated at their next meeting; and we hope that, if any gentleman be disposed to resign, he will at least bestow his endeavours, that the body may be first enabled to supply his place.

Annapolis, April 19, 1788.

THE subscribers being very anxious that an immediate payment of what is due them be made, that they may be enabled to comply with their engagements; in order to facilitate the collection, have appointed Mr. JOHN WATKINS, to call upon those who have accounts with them, for the same, whose receipt shall be good; they beg that this notice be particularly attended to, as it is not in their power to give any further indulgence; those who incline to call and pay at Annapolis, will always find a person at their late store on the Dock, or at the treasury-office, ready to receive.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber's quarter in Loudon county, early in last month, a negro man named GEORGE, he is about 20 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, his nostrils are remarkably wide, he sometimes complains of a wart on the bottom of one of his feet, which makes him a little lame; he is a likely sensible fellow: He had on a green jacket and overalls, of snabrig shirt, an old hat, shoes and stockings, and took with him a Dutch blanket, a blue broad cloth coat and breeches, a blue jacket without sleeves, and sundry other cloaths.—He has been seen near this town since he ran away. Whoever will apprehend the aforesaid negro, and deliver him to the subscriber, or secure him in any goal, so that he may be got again, shall receive the above reward, and if taken out of this state and brought home, all charges paid.

To be LET for a term of years, on good security,

A MOST valuable and beautiful FARM, situate on the north side of Severn river, about six miles from Annapolis, with a parcel of choice SLAVES, STOCK and plantation UTENSILS.

Also a large commodious HOUSE and GARDEN, pleasantly situated, with a quantity of LAND within two miles of Annapolis.

Any person inclinable to lease either of the above farms may be informed of the terms by applying to Dr. WILLIAM MURRAY, in Annapolis, or Mr. PHILIP ROGERS, in Baltimore.

Nottingham, November 20, 1788.

For PRIVATE SALE,

SOME valuable LAND, lying in the Fork of Patuxent river, they are two tracts, called DUVALL'S RANGE and OVEN-WOOD THICKSETT, adjoining, containing about six hundred acres, more or less; part of the land is cleared, with dwelling houses, tobacco house and other houses, a good apple orchard, several acres of fine meadow land cleared and sowed, and much more that may be reclaimed; there is great plenty of wood and timber, a never failing stream, and a good mill seat. It will be sold at one, two and three years credit, and in parcels to suit the purchasers. Bond and approved security must be given, and the interest paid annually. Any person who inclines to purchase may view the premises and apply to

OBSERVING a number of debtors to the state, as well as other individuals, are often in want of some kind of certificates, and at a loss where to get them on proper terms for their money, and the holders of certificates when in want of cash for them, are likewise at a loss for a market, for want of some particular place to apply, where they could be on a certainty of getting an exchange on reasonable terms.

The subscriber being well acquainted with the different kind of certificates and their passing value, has induced him to offer his service to provide, and inform those that do or may want, that by lodging the needful he will supply them with certificates, or cash, at a short notice, on reasonable terms, on paying a moderate commission. There being a number, who have payments to make in certificates to the treasury, that live at a considerable distance, many of whom wish to make payments as they provide money for that purpose, are prevented for want of the certificates, and not being convenient to ride 50 or 100 miles to get them and make a small payment; those who are thus situated that wish to be provided with certificates, and have them placed to their credit, by forwarding the money at any time may depend on being furnished with certificates, and payment made to their orders, on as good terms as if they were present, by their

Annapolis, March 16, 1789.

On Monday the twentieth day of April next will be SOLD, at PUBLIC VENDUE, at the late dwelling of ZACHARIAH M'CAULEY, late of Anne-Arundel county, deceased,

A NEGRO BOY, some HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, HORSES, HOGS and CATTLE. All persons who have any claims against the deceased are requested to bring them in properly attested, and all those who are indebted to the said deceased are desired to make immediate payment to

ANNE M'CAULEY, who intermarried with WILLIAM BIRD, Administrator.

In COUNCIL, Annapolis, March 18, 1789.

WHEREAS, by an act passed at the last session of the general assembly, it is directed, that where executions shall issue to compel payment from any of the debtors of this state, the governor and council shall appoint a person or persons to attend the sale of the property taken in execution, and to purchase the same for the use of the state, if a sale cannot be otherwise made, so as to secure a reasonable price for the property so taken.

We have thought it proper to give public notice, that appointments will shortly be made for the purpose of carrying into effect the intention of the aforesaid act; and to prevent the delay that might arise from refusals of the trust, the board will receive written applications from persons of good character who may be disposed to serve the state in this capacity; an adequate compensation will be given, and security required for the faithful performance of the trust.

By order,

Annapolis, February 18, 1789.

For SALE,

A PLANTATION, on the north side of Severn river, containing about 400 acres, under good fencing, bounding on the river Severn, about five miles distant from Annapolis, with a very good framed dwelling house, with brick ends and cellar, and very convenient out houses thereon, an orchard of excellent young fruit trees.

A description of the soil, wood, timber and situation, are thought unnecessary, as no person would purchase who would not examine the premises. This property will be sold for any state or continental securities, good assigned bonds, or six years credit on bond with security, upon the regular payment of interest at five per cent. per annum. PROPOSALS,

For Printing by Subscription,

BY

ISAAC COLLINS,
IN TRENTON,
THE

HOLY BIBLE,

CONTAINING

The OLD and NEW TESTAMENT;
WITH THE

Apocrypha and Marginal Notes.

CONDITIONS:

I. This work, to be contained in one large volume, Quarto, of nine hundred and eighty-four pages, will be reprinted page for page with the Oxford edition, on a beautiful new type, and good paper. An index will be added; and also the Scripture measures, weights and coins.

II. The price to subscribers, for the volume, well bound, four Spanish dollars; one dollar to be paid at the time of subscribing, the remainder on delivery of the book.

III. The work to be put to press as soon as three thousand copies shall be subscribed for, and to be finished without delay.

The Editor has been encouraged, by a number of respectable characters, to offer the above proposals to the public, under a conviction that a handsome American edition of the Bible, in Quarto, will, at this time, be both seasonable and acceptable, as no part of the money will go out of the country.

This consideration, it is hoped, will be an inducement to subscribe, and of course promote the more frequent reading of this most invaluable book in private families. He therefore wishes to attract the attention, and obtain the countenance of people of all denominations; not doubting but that, in the execution of the work, he will be able to give ample satisfaction, both as to its accuracy and neatness.

Subscriptions will be received by Hugh Gaine and Edmund Prior, New-York; by Joseph Cruikshank and William Young, Philadelphia; by Townsend and Patton, Baltimore; and by the editor in Trenton. It is requested, that the leading characters of all the different denominations of Christians in the United States, who may feel disposed to promote this undertaking, will, as early as may be, grant their assistance in procuring subscriptions—and that the several printers of news-papers in the union will be pleased to insert the above proposals in their papers.

To all whom it may concern.

Mr. Isaac Collins has, for many years last past, been, and still is, printer to the state of New-Jersey: Having by this means had the more frequent opportunities to see his work, I have had abundant proof of the accuracy and correctness of his publications, as well as of his remarkable attention to business.

Extract of a letter from Poughkeepsie, March 9.

"The late surprising occurrence at Dr. Thorn's, in New-Hackinsack, will, I believe, in some degree, re-establish the opinion, that there has been, and still is, such a thing as wizards and witches, notwithstanding the idea has been long thrown aside by even the vulgar. You have doubtless heard the story of that unfortunate girl—the sad disaster which has befallen her excites the curiosity of every one, and numbers are constantly flocking to see her, from twenty miles round. Scarce a stage passes, without stopping at the doctor's, although he lives several miles from the main road. The neighbouring divines attend her constantly—they minate the most assential part of what occurs daily, and will, perhaps, commit it to the press. Many ways have been tried to relieve her from the agitated state in which she appears, but to no purpose; the knocking still continues, accompanied with a rambling noise, and moving of the furniture. It is supposed by some, that she is bewitched by a Hessian servant of the doctor's, whose conduct for some time past has been very singular; he was lately brought to an examination, on which occasion his behaviour greatly heightened the suspicion; since then his precipitate departure seems to confirm it."

PERIODICAL DUMBNESS.

(From a London paper.)

The son of an inn-keeper at Jesing, in the duchy of Wurttemberg, of a choleric constitution, and about 25 years of age, was taken so ill after supper, on Saint Stephen's day, now upwards of 15 years ago, that he could neither stand nor sit. He was also so sick at heart, that had he not been relieved by copious vomiting, he was often apprehensive of being suffocated. About an hour after he was better; but, during three whole months, he became much dejected and melancholy, and sometimes as if seized with fear. After the expiration of this term, he was suddenly struck dumb, without being able to pronounce the least word, or form the least sound, though he could speak very articulately before. At first, the loss of his speech and voice was instantaneous, but began to continue longer every day; so that, from the duration of some minutes it amounted to half an hour, two hours, three hours, and lastly to 23 hours, yet without order.

Such was his condition upwards of half a year. At last the return of his speech kept so constant and regular an order, that now, for 14 years together, he cannot speak but from noon, during the space of an entire hour, to the precise moment of one o'clock. Every time he loses his speech, he feels something rise from his stomach to his throat. He cannot be deceived by the transposition of hours, because he observes always and very exactly the term from twelve to one, though no bell rings nor clock strikes. Excepting this loss of speech, he makes no complaint of the disorder of any animal function. Both his internal and external senses are found; he hears always very exactly, and answers by gestures or writing to the questions proposed to him. He eats and drinks heartily, and is very handy and active in doing the business of the family. At his time of speaking his discourse is discreet and sensible, for a person of his education; and if desired to read, which he some times does of himself, he is sure to stop short always in silence the moment that one o'clock the afternoon locks up the power of his tongue.

There cannot be a more extraordinary case than this, nor one so much deserving the attention of the curious. How to account for it, must be extreme difficult. Perhaps something he eat at supper, when he was first taken ill, has ever since remained undigested in his stomach or intestines; and as he used to feel something rising from thence towards his throat, it probably caused the extinction of his voice, which he did not recover till it again subsided.

WINCHESTER, March 18.

WESTERN INTELLIGENCE.

Since our last several gentlemen have arrived in this town from Kentucky, by whom we have been informed, that a general and uninterrupted trade has taken place between the inhabitants of that country and those of the Spanish settlement at New-Orleans; several boats loaded with goods to a very considerable amount, having arrived before our informants came away; that in return they took large quantities of tobacco, beef, corn, &c. and that from every appearance this traffic was likely to be continued and carried on with the greatest alacrity, which cannot fail proving of the most infinite mutual advantage.

We were further informed, that most of the settlements in the quarter of Kentucky are now undisturbed by the savages, no hostilities having for some time past been committed by them except at the Little Miami, where, about five weeks since, a Shawanese chief called Black-Fish, and one of the Wyandot chiefs, with a number of warriors, took three white people who were out surveying, and brought them in, under guard, to the garrison station at the mouth of the Little Miami.—Their pretensions were to settle a treaty with the garrison, which our informants say was completed on good terms by captain Mac Geath and others. The Shawanese chief was so fond of captain Mac Geath, that he offered to take him through the Indian country. These chiefs and warriors afterwards had it in their power to destroy three crews and their effects, but they proved friendly, furnished them with provisions, and treated them kindly.

The Shawanese and Wyandots had several times before taken prisoners and brought them into the garrison, with professions of friendship; but it was suspected their only intentions were to make their observations and get liquors, but from the above pacific conduct the white inhabitants begin to put some confidence in them, and please themselves with the hope of enjoying a peaceable summer.

ANNAPOLIS, April 9.

The brig Mary and Anne, captain Ewer, is arrived in Patuxent from London; by her we have received prints to the 2d of February.

VIENNA, January 10.

The emperor, who is recovered from his indisposition, gave a grand entertainment upon occasion of the taking of Oczakow. Part of the ornament of the saloon, in which the entertainment was given, was a superb transparent portrait of the empress of Russia, crowned with laurels, under which his imperial majesty wrote the following line with his own hand:—Felici Amica Josephus II. in Olbia repugnata Memoriam.

It is certain that the taking of Oczakow was finishing the campaign in a most glorious manner, and does great honour to prince Potemkin. It is hoped that this success of the Russians will make the Turks a little more reasonable in their ideas, for hitherto they would not hear any talk of peace.

Jan. 13. On the 4th a courier was sent to Petersburg with congratulations to the empress of Russia upon the taking of Oczakow. The same courier was also the bearer of a plan of operations for the ensuing campaign, which will be entirely changed in consequence of the late success of the Russians. We are assured, that a courier was also sent to Madrid, to request the new king of Spain to interpose his mediation with the belligerent powers.

FROM THE VISTULA, January 3.

If we may credit accounts received by private letters, some Russian troops are assembling in the environs of Polosk, near the frontiers of Lithuania. General Elmpt is at Riga, and general Soltikow is going to Petersburg.

We have advices from Russia, that in consequence of some movements among the Swedish troops, general Mufchin Pufchin is going to quit Petersburg, and return to Finland as soon as possible.

UTRECHT, January 22.

By letters from Petersburg we learn, that all ranks of people are overjoyed at the success of prince Potemkin, in making himself master of Oczakow, which gives our troops the opportunity of doing what they please in the Crimea and Black Sea; but people, on the contrary, are not so well satisfied with the suspension of arms entered into between the imperialists and Turks.

From Stockholm we hear, that all the preparations making there seem to indicate the continuation of the war. The king has accepted the offer of the provinces of Wermeland, Nerike and Medelplad, to furnish 5000 volunteers, to serve at their own expence, and the command of this corps is given to general Armfeld, which will put him at the head of between 8000 and 9000 men, including the Dalecarlians, whom he commands at this time.

LONDON, February 1.

The dispatches from lord Torrington at Brussels are said to contain a narrative of the proceedings of the Brabantines, in consequence of the edict of the emperor, which has raised such commotions in Austrian Flanders as it will be very difficult indeed to settle, unless some very lenient measures are adopted.

Letters from Bengal dated in April, 1788, bring advices, that the governor-general had resolved not to continue the permission granted to individuals during the last season of sending home goods on freight in the company's chartered ships. This circumstance will probably take a great effect in raising the prices of Bengal goods, as a great proportion of the company's imports last year were shipped on the account of private individuals, which supply will in future be cut off by this resolution of the governor-general. Not above one third of the company's investment of Dacca goods came down to Calcutta last season in time to be shipped.

A letter from Hamburg, dated December 26, says, "It is said, and perhaps with some foundation, that the offensive and defensive alliance, frequently mentioned as nearly concluded, between England, Holland, Prussia and Sweden, is meant solely to re-establish tranquillity in Europe, and balance the power of the north."

The court of Lisbon have at length concluded their long depending treaty of commerce with the American states, by virtue of which the Portuguese are to take corn, &c. from the American vessels, for which the Americans are to receive the produce of Portugal in exchange; the Portuguese having restricted by a particular article of the treaty, the American vessels from carrying away any of the gold or silver current coin of the kingdom of Portugal, as gold and silver in bars, or in any other shape than that of plate in services, utensils, wearables and jewellery, &c. on pain of confiscation of the ships, cargo, &c. where such gold or silver may be discovered; as also the master and officers of the ships to be imprisoned in such cases, to answer before a tribunal at Lisbon or Oporto, the charges for any such breach of the treaty. Thus America is placed under greater restrictions than other nations. A plain proof of the Portuguese jealousy.

A letter from La Flotte, dated January 12, says, "On the 8th inst. an uncommon and disastrous event happened here at half past one at noon: the rigorous frost for some days preceding had frozen the sea quite to all the places of anchorage in this port; and a sudden breeze arising from the south, the whole sheet of ice extending three leagues, gave way all together, with a terrible crash, and carried away with it near 40 vessels, the whole of which lost their anchors and cables. Many are safe, but many are missing still.—The Cecily and Anne, from Corke to Bourdeaux, is saved; the Postillion, of Dunkirk, with herrings, is sunk, and a number of foreign vessels for Bourdeaux have anchored here, with more or less damage."

All the letters from the north agree, that the cold has been more severe this winter than at any one period since the year 1709. At Oczakow it was so intense, that one night in particular 40 foldiers were frozen to death in their entrenchments during the siege of that place.

In the winter of 1694, the neighbourhood of Penmorva, in Gales, was remarkable for an amazing and noxious phenomenon. A mephites, or pestilential va-four, resembling a weak blue flame, arose during a fortnight or three weeks out of a sandy, marshy track, called Morphe Buchan, and crossed over a channel of eight miles to Harlech. It set fire on that side to sixteen ricks of hay and two barns, one filled with hay the other with corn. It infected the grass in such a manner, that numbers of cattle, horses, sheep and goats, died. One character of a mephitic was wanting; for men went into the midst of it with impunity. It was easily dispelled; any great noise, such as the sounding of horns, the discharging of guns, or the like, at once repelled it. It moved only by night; and it appeared at times, but less frequently, the following summer, after which the phenomenon ceased.

It may probably arise, as the editor of Camden conjectures, from a local casualty, such as the fall of a flight of locusts in that spot, as really did in the sea near Aberdeen; which growing corrupt, might by the blowing of the wind a certain period from one point, direct the pest to a certain spot, while others less remote might, for the same reason, escape the dreadful effects.

Monflet gives an account of a plague in Lombardy in the year 591, which arose from the fall of a cloud of locusts, which corrupted the air to such a degree, that eighty thousand men and cattle perished.

A case not less important than curious has lately been agitated by the lawyers, at Berlin, on the question—Whether a Jew, who embraces the Christian religion, has thereby renounced the Jewish? It seems, that one Moses Isaac, a rich Jew of Berlin, left at his death a considerable sum of money to be divided among his children, with a proviso, that if any of them renounced the Jewish religion they should be excluded. Two of his daughters, who became profelytes to Christianity, brought an action before one of the courts of Berlin, and recovered by their judgment their respective dividends; as it was argued that Christianity, being only an improvement of Judaism, to embrace the former was not to renounce the latter. However, the cause being carried before a superior court, they reversed the decree; and the latter sentence was confirmed by the king, who is there the ne plus ultra in all cases of importance.

Feb. 2. A letter came from the queen yesterday to the prince of Wales, to say how much better his majesty was. That on Saturday evening her majesty and some of the young princesses were with him an hour and a half, when he shewed every sign of the most perfect recollection. Yesterday his majesty was out twice in Kew gardens.

Yesterday a new form of prayer, for the recovery of the king from his present indisposition, was read in all the churches and chapels of the kingdom, by order of the metropolitan.

Yesterday afternoon the queen had another interview with his majesty, in his apartments, where she remained the better part of two hours.

STATE PAPERS.

Authentic copy of her majesty's answer to the deputation from the two houses of parliament.

My lords and gentlemen,

My duty and gratitude to the king, and the sense I must ever entertain of my great obligations to this country, will certainly engage my most earnest attention to the anxious and momentous trust intended to be reposed in me by parliament. It will be a great consolation to me to receive the aid of a council, of which I shall stand so much in need, in the discharge of a duty wherein the happiness of my future life is indeed deeply interested, but which a higher object, the happiness of a great, loyal and affectionate people, renders still more important.

THE PRINCE OF WALES'S ANSWER.

My lords and gentlemen,

I THANK you for communicating to me the resolutions agreed to by the two houses, and I request you to assure them, in my name, that my duty to the king my father, and my anxious concern for the safety and interest of the people, which must be endangered by a longer suspension of the exercise of the royal authority, together with my respect for the united desires of the two houses, outweigh in my mind every other consideration, and will determine me to undertake the weighty and important trust proposed to me, in conformity to the resolutions now communicated to me.

I am sensible of the difficulties that must attend the execution of this trust, in the peculiar circumstances in which it is committed to my charge; of which, as I am acquainted with no former example, my hopes of a successful administration cannot be founded on any past experience. But confiding that the limitations on the exercise of the royal authority, deemed necessary for the present, have been approved by the two houses, only as a temporary measure, founded on the loyal hope, in which I ardently participate, that his majesty's disorder may not be of long duration; and trusting, in the mean while, that I shall receive a zealous and united support in the two houses, and in the nation, proportioned to the difficulty attending the discharge of my trust in this interval, I will entertain the pleasing hope, that my faithful endeavours to preserve the interests of the king, his crown and people, may be successful.

The following letter from Mr. John Rowe, of Exeter, the learned and celebrated mathematician, whose talents are highly esteemed and respected by the ingenious Doctor Price, cannot but be very satisfactory to the public, not only as to the honour, character and integrity, of the parties to whom it is addressed, but also upon the real, substantial merits of their undertakings.

Exeter, Jan. 29, 1789.
“Gentlemen,
“I received your letter, and also a bank-post bill, for my share of a prize of one thousand pounds, in the late Irish lottery.”

“I think I am in justice bound to say, that you have acted by me like gentlemen of the strictest honour. I have examined your plans with attention, and do not hesitate to pronounce them of very great advantage to the public, and, without any subterfuge, really and fairly corresponding, in every point of view, with your statement, professions and description.

“My name is well known in the mathematical world;—my opinion, without presumption, will have some little weight; and if it shall be thought by you, that to make use of my name, in any public manner, will be of service to you, you have my free consent to do it.

“I am, your humble servant,
JOHN ROWE.”

HOUSE OF LORDS. IMPORTANT DEBATE.

SATURDAY, January 31.

The lord chancellor being indisposed, earl Bathurst presided.

At four o'clock the house entered upon business; thanks were voted to the bishop of Lincoln for his sermon of yesterday.

EARL CAMDEN reported the answer of his royal highness the prince of Wales to the address of the two houses yesterday, praying him to undertake the regency under certain restrictions. The answer was to the following effect:

“The prince returned his thanks to the lords and commons for the communication of their resolutions; and notwithstanding the great difficulties incumbent upon the situation, he was induced for the honour of his sovereign, and the safety and welfare of his subjects, to take the government under his care during his majesty's illness. In the performance of this arduous task, his mind was much relieved, when he looked forward to the support which he should receive from the lords and commons, and from the known zeal and attachment of the British nation to the house of Brunswick. The situation was new and unprecedented; but, he observed, that the restrictions were evidently formed upon a well-grounded hope that his majesty's illness would be of short duration, an event which he, of all his majesty's subjects, most earnestly wished to see accomplished. Under these circumstances, he hoped to discharge the duties of his situation with honour to his sovereign, with satisfaction to himself, and with happiness to the nation.”

When the speech was finished, a murmur of applause ran through the house.

EARL WALDEGRAVE next reported her majesty's answer, which was briefly, “That her majesty would undertake the charge with zeal and alacrity. She was happy that the wisdom of parliament had assigned her a council for the better ordering and management of the trust. With their united efforts, she hoped to discharge her duty to her much honoured sovereign, with satisfaction to herself, and, what she valued beyond all other considerations, with honour to the British nation and people, from whom she had received such continued marks of loyalty and sincere affection.”

The answers being read by the clerk, were, upon the motion of lord Walsingham, ordered to be printed.

The house then went into a committee upon the state of the nation. Lord Walsingham in the chair.

EARL CAMDEN rose, and, after paying the honours due to the prince of Wales and the queen, for their most gracious answers, he opened the business of putting the intention of parliament into execution.—The result of his arguments were to prove the necessity of a bill, to be signed by commission, to invest the prince with the regency, and the queen with the trust of the king's person and estate.

LORD PORTCHESTER, in a very able speech, answered the noble earl. His lordship contended that the prince himself, now that he had acceded to the restrictions, ought to be called immediately into the duties of the executive branch of the government. He quoted the 16th of Edward II. and 23d of Henry VIII. in support of his opinion; and he was likewise very diffuse and pointed upon the precedent of the 1st Edward VI. when the duke of Gloucester was appointed regent.

A very long debate ensued. The commission which was formed to appoint commissioners for the purpose of opening the session of parliament, and passing the regency bill, was read. At the head of it stood the names of the prince of Wales, the dukes of York, Gloucester, and Cumberland, together with the archbishop of Canterbury, the lord chancellor, and all the great officers in the house of peers.

The DUKE OF YORK rose, and declared that he had never received the least intimation that his name was inserted in that instrument. He must beg to decline accepting of a trust which he could not but consider as highly dangerous to the constitution, and repugnant to the true interest of the people. He considered the whole proceedings to be unconstitutional; and he would, on no consideration, have his name handed down to posterity, as giving his consent to a measure which he considered as dishonourable to his sovereign and family, and highly injurious to the liberty of the subject. He could answer for his royal brother and the duke of Gloucester, that they were of the same opinion, and therefore he insisted that his name, and those of his noble relatives, might not be inserted. His royal highness spoke with great perspicuity and effect.

The DUKE OF CUMBERLAND rose, and insisted upon his name being likewise withdrawn.

A long and very interesting debate took place, in which earl Camden, lord Stormont, earl Fitzwilliam, lord Derby, and other lords, spoke.

LORD RADNOR at last moved, that the names of the prince and the three royal dukes, might be omitted, stating upon the record that it was at their own request.—After much altercation, this motion was put and carried.

The commission was then read through, and this extraordinary proposition is at the conclusion. After the usual words inserted in all parliamentary commissions, “BY HIS MAJESTY'S COMMAND,” instead of the usual words, “SIGNED WITH HIS OWN HAND,” are inserted, “BY ORDER OF THE TWO HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT.”

This gave rise to a further debate; which, however, at last subsided, and the commission, which is to take place on Tuesday next, with the archbishop and the lord chancellor at the head of it, passed the committee. Lord Walsingham left the chair, and reported progress. At eight o'clock the house adjourned to Monday.

Thus this great and important national business is at last drawing to a conclusion.

The PRINCE OF WALES is expected to appear in the house on Wednesday or Thursday se'nnight.

WILL stand this season at Mr. Carroll, of Carrollton's farm, near Annapolis, and will cover at the moderate price of twenty-five shillings, or two barrels of corn, if paid before the mare is taken away, otherwise thirty shillings payable by the first of December next, in corn at ten shillings per barrel.
PITTS was got by Chatham, his dam, three quarters blooded, by Figure; he is seven years old, a jet black, in high order, fifteen hands high, handsome, strong and active, equal to most horses to breed from.

The beautiful thorough bred HORSE
HYDER ALLY,
STANDS this season at Mount Arrerat, my dwelling plantation, six miles below Piscataway, and covers mares at three guineas the season, but in consequence of the scarcity of cash, two guineas will be taken in lieu thereof, if paid by the first of September next.

HYDER ALLY is a fine gray, beautifully dappled, seven years old this spring, full fifteen hands three inches and an half high, remarkably boney and active. His strong resemblance to his sire, whose colts having performed so capably on the turf, will be a considerable inducement to those who wish to breed fine horses; and the following pedigree (well authenticated) will prove him equal in blood to any horse on this continent:—

To those who are disposed to buy the LAND,
HOPKINS'S FANCY.

HAVING conveyances from Gerard Hopkins, Elichard Hopkins the second son, from Richard Dowell and his wife and daughter, from Hutton and wife, another daughter, of their parts of the said land; and having other claims against the said land, it is with concern that I see Richard Hopkins undertake to advertise to sell that land upon the 15th day of April, 1789, without my knowledge or consent. The embarassment upon it requiring the best counsel, I repeatedly proposed to Richard Hopkins and all concerned, to apply to the honourable the Chancellor—for his authority and direction, and I went and waited at Annapolis for that purpose a long time in vain: under these circumstances I think it fair to publish this caution.

It is my interest that the land shall be sold for the utmost price that can be obtained; and I earnestly desire that justice may be done to every one concerned, but I do not apprehend these good effects will arise under the management of Mr. Richard Hopkins, and I

VENETIAN,

WILL stand for MARES this season at FRAN- CIS TOLSON, Esquire's plantation, in Prince-George's county, 5 miles from the ferry opposite Alexandria, at five guineas each mare, and a dollar the groom, or three guineas each mare, and three and nine-pence to the groom, if paid by the first of August, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes.—
Good grass for mares at half a dollar per week. Vene- tian is a fine bay, fifteen hands and an half high, with length and bone in proportion; he was bred by Sir James Pennyman, bart. of Yorkshire, and got by Doge, his dam by Jennison Shaftoe Snap, sire of Goldfinder, Gnawpolt, Dasey and other good runners, his grand-dam by old Fox; Doge was got by Regulus, son of the Godolphin Arabian, his dam by Crab, his grand dam by Dyer's Dimple, which was got by Leed's Arabian. Venetian, at five years old, won the king's plate at Newcastle, and the fifty pounds for all ages, the same week, beating Mr. Fenwick's famous mare Spider Brusher, and several others, fifteen days after he won the king's plate at Carlisle, beating lord Surry's famous horse Bon-Mot, and run second to High Flyer at York.

N. B. The creditors of the late captain Eden are requested to meet at Chaptico, on the day of sale.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of Mr. JOHN JOHNSON, late of this city, deceased, are requested to bring them in properly authenticated, and those indebted to the estate are most earnestly called on to make immediate payment to the subscriber, that he may be quickly enabled to discharge the claims against the estate. The very great indulgence which the debtors generally have experienced from the deceased, will, I hope, induce many to pay the proper attention to this advertisement; those who neglect may depend that suits will be instantly instituted against them to November court, without respect to persons.

FOR SALE,

By the subscriber; appointed trustee by the honourable the chancery court of Maryland,
THAT well known ferry at Rock-Hall, lately occupied by Mr. BASIL NOIEL. There is on the premises a good framed house, 36 feet square, four rooms on the lower floor, and three lodging rooms, with four fire places, with a passage through the house, and good dry cellar, with a partition therein; there is a good kitchen adjoining the dwelling house, by a very convenient summer room, that has two corner cupboards and seats around the same: the kitchen is lathed and plastered, with convenient rooms above stairs, finished for lodging waiters and gentlemen's servants.

There is a stable with a paved floor, and carriage house adjoining, a negro quarter, meat house, a good corn house, hen house, blacksmith's shop, and a convenient warehouse, at the landing, with a pailed in garden, and a young peach orchard. There is a good well of water in the yard, and a spring within thirty yards of the house.

There is belonging to the above property 150 acres of land, half of which is cleared and under good fences, divided in fields, and two lots of six or eight acres each, adapted to clover or timothy. From its public situation it is well known to possess every advantage that can be expected from keeping a tavern and ferry across the bay to Annapolis and Baltimore-town; it is remarkably healthy; the waters abound with good rock fish, perch, crabs, oysters, and in their season, a quantity of wild fowl. The sale to be made on the premises by public auction, the 12th day of
May, if fair, if not the first fair day thereafter. 6w

NOVEMBER SESSION,
Seventeen Hundred and Eighty-Eight.
St. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

THE visitors and governors of St. John's College having, on the 10th of May, 1786, authorized Samuel Chafe, Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, or any two of them, to appoint a person to collect the money, then or thereafter to be subscribed: we, the said Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, did accordingly, soon after, appoint Archibald Golder, of the city of Annapolis. Of this appointment the public was duly notified. The collector advertised times and places for his attendance in several counties. He attended agreeably to his notice, and moreover made personal application to many of the subscribers. But, although the stipulated periods of payment have long since elapsed, not more than 1500l. out of 11,024l. have been paid.

We have this day renewed our agreement with the collector. Subscribers who have not yet paid their first third, are requested, without delay, to pay the same, and such further part, as they shall think proper, to the said Archibald Golder, or to Benjamin Harwood, treasurer. They will be called on, within a reasonable time, to make the second and third payments, the last of which was due on the 1st of June, 1787.—All legal methods of compulsion would be as disagreeable to the visitors as disgraceful to subscribers. But it is the indispensable duty of trustees to adopt such modes of exacting payment, as shall be found necessary, or expedient.

The building of the college was projected, and begun on a plan, in some measure, proportioned to its nominal funds. For a considerable length of time, it has been suspended, for want of money.—The gentlemen who subscribed liberally, and paid with punctuality, had a right to expect, in the course of four years, that the work would be complete, and the seminary beginning to flourish. They cannot but remember the generous patriotic ardor, with which the institution was commenced. They have sustained an injury from all those whose neglect or failure has retarded its progress; and, for their satisfaction, as well as for other purposes, a list of subscribers names, with the sums subscribed, and the sums paid, will probably be published as soon as conveniently may be, after the 12th day of May next.

At a meeting of the visitors and governors, on the 5th of July, 1786, the second Tuesdays in February, May, August and November, were appointed for their quarterly meetings. A sufficient number hath not, since that period, been convened, although extraordinary meetings have been requested, by public advertisement and personal solicitation. As the repeated disappointments of those who have repaired to Annapolis, at their own expence, for the sole purpose of meeting the visitors, may perhaps, without some particular notice, prevent their attendance, at the next regular stated meeting, we take the liberty of most earnestly entreating every gentleman, who has accepted the trust of a visitor and governor of St. John's College, to attend on the second Tuesday of May next. As the general court will be held on that day, we presume no time more convenient can be mentioned.

It is perhaps proper to inform the public, that the number of visitors cannot exceed twenty-four, that not less than nine can form the corporation; that it has never exceeded eleven; that by death it is reduced to ten; that not less than seven have authority to act; and that only two, at this time, reside at Annapolis. It is almost needless to add, that matters of the greatest importance await their consideration. It is much to be wished, that the number were completed or increased. Whether this object may not be attained, provided nine shall be convened, will be debated at their next meeting; and we hope that, if any gentleman be disposed to resign, he will at least bestow his endeavours, that the body may be first enabled to supply his place.

FOUR DOLLARS REWARD will be given for bringing her to Broad Creek, Kent-Island, or TWO DOLLARS if delivered at Annapolis, in care of Mr. John Sands, jun.

Annapolis, April 19, 1788.

THE subscribers being very anxious that an immediate payment of what is due them be made, that they may be enabled to comply with their engagements; in order to facilitate the collection, have appointed Mr. JOHN WATKINS, to call upon those who have accounts with them, for the same, whose receipt shall be good; they beg that this notice be particularly attended to, as it is not in their power to give any further indulgence; those who incline to call and pay at Annapolis, will always find a person at their late store on the Dock, or at the treasury-office, ready to receive.

THOMAS and BENJAMIN HARWOOD.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber's quarter in Loudon county, early in last month, a negro man named GEORGE, he is about 20 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, his nostrils are remarkably wide, he sometimes complains of a wart on the bottom of one of his feet, which makes him a little lame; he is a likely sensible fellow: He had on a green jacket and overalls, of nabrig shirt, an old hat, shoes and stockings, and took with him a Dutch blanket, a blue broad cloth coat and breeches, a blue jacket without sleeves, and sundry other cloaths.—He has been seen near this town since he ran away. Whoever will apprehend the aforesaid negro, and deliver him to the subscriber, or secure him in any goal, so that he may be got again, shall receive the above reward, and if taken out of this state and brought home, all charges paid.

OBSERVING a number of debtors to the state, as well as other individuals, are often in want of some kind of certificates, and at a loss where to get them on proper terms for their money, and the holders of certificates when in want of cash for them, are likewise at a loss for a market, for want of some particular place to apply, where they could be on a certainty of getting an exchange on reasonable terms.

The subscriber being well acquainted with the different kind of certificates and their passing value, has induced him to offer his service to provide, and inform those that do or may want, that by lodging the needful he will supply them with certificates, or cash, at a short notice, on reasonable terms, on paying a moderate commission. There being a number, who have payments to make in certificates to the treasury, that live at a considerable distance, many of whom wish to make payments as they provide money for that purpose, are prevented for want of the certificates, and not being convenient to ride 50 or 100 miles to get them and make a small payment; those who are thus situated that wish to be provided with certificates, and have them placed to their credit, by forwarding the money at any time may depend on being furnished with certificates, and payment made to their orders, on as good terms as if they were present, by their

In COUNCIL, Annapolis, March 18, 1789.

WHEREAS, by an act passed at the last session of the general assembly, it is directed, that where executions shall issue to compel payment from any of the debtors of this state, the governor and council shall appoint a person or persons to attend the sale of the property taken in execution, and to purchase the same for the use of the state, if a sale cannot be otherwise made, so as to secure a reasonable price for the property so taken,

We have thought it proper to give public notice, that appointments will shortly be made for the purpose of carrying into effect the intention of the aforesaid act; and to prevent the delay that might arise from refusals of the trust, the board will receive written applications from persons of good character who may be disposed to serve the state in this capacity; an adequate compensation will be given, and security required for the faithful performance of the trust.

PROPOSALS,

For Printing by Subscription,

BY
ISAAC COLLINS,
IN TRENTON,

HOLY BIBLE,

CONTAINING
The OLD and NEW TESTAMENT;
WITH THE

Apocrypha and Marginal Notes.

CONDITIONS:

I. This work, to be contained in one large volume, Quarto, of nine hundred and eighty-four pages, will be reprinted page for page with the Oxford edition, on a beautiful new type, and good paper. An index will be added; and also the Scripture measures, weights and coins.

II. The price to subscribers, for the volume, well bound, four Spanish dollars; one dollar to be paid at the time of subscribing, the remainder on delivery of the book.

III. The work to be put to press as soon as three thousand copies shall be subscribed for, and to be finished without delay.

The Editor has been encouraged, by a number of respectable characters, to offer the above proposals to the public, under a conviction that a handsome American edition of the Bible, in Quarto, will, at this time, be both seasonable and acceptable, as no part of the money will go out of the country.

This consideration, it is hoped, will be an inducement to subscribe, and of course promote the more frequent reading of this most invaluable book in private families. He therefore wishes to attract the attention, and obtain the countenance of people of all denominations; not doubting but that, in the execution of the work, he will be able to give ample satisfaction, both as to its accuracy and neatness.

Subscriptions will be received by Hugh Gainie and Edmund Prior, New-York; by Joseph Cruikshank and William Young, Philadelphia; by Townsend and Patton, Baltimore; and by the editor in Trenton.

It is requested, that the leading characters of all the different denominations of Christians in the United States, who may feel disposed to promote this undertaking, will, as early as may be, grant their assistance in procuring subscriptions—and that the several printers of news-papers in the union will be pleased to insert the above proposals in their papers.

To all whom it may concern.

Mr. Isaac Collins has, for many years last past, been, and still is, printer to the state of New-Jersey: Having by this means had the more frequent opportunities to see his work, I have had abundant proof of the accuracy and correctness of his publications, as well as of his remarkable attention to business.

W A R S A W, December 31.

A REPORT is circulated since morn- ing, that the emperor had accepted of the mediation of the court of Berlin towards bringing about a peace; nevertheless we learn, that the great- est preparations are making at Constantinople for another campaign, and that the Porte insists upon the repossession of the Crimea, at least that it shall be under the independent government of a prince of the Mahometan religion.

Jan. 14. Letters from Russia inform us, that every one is obliged to deliver up their plate to government, for which they receive bills in return. This plan is already begun to be put in execution at Riga. The Porte has lately sent the most peremptory orders to Bagdat, and the different bassas on the coast of Arabia, and Asiatic Turkey, to seize, either in port or at sea, all vessels navigating under Danish as well as imperial colours; to confiscate their cargoes, and send their crews (be they of what nation they will) into slavery, and to fit out what maritime force they can for that purpose.

V I E N N A, December 14.

An immense quantity of snow, such as the memory of man cannot parallel, at present distresses the inhabitants of this city and country, interrupts our posts and trade, threatens us with a dreadful famine, and particularly a scarcity of water. We cannot sufficiently, under these circumstances, applaud the care of his imperial majesty, who gave immediate orders to the police to clear the streets, at least so far as to render them passable. It is when suffering under such calamities that we hail our sovereign as the father of his people, and the refuge of the miserable. It may be readily supposed that in such a dismal season we are deprived of news.

Our most eminent physicians have given it as their opinion, that if his imperial majesty continues the same fatigue he underwent last campaign, he will bring on a dropy of the breast. His majesty therefore has resolved to try the baths at Pilsa some time about February next.

Jan. 9. They write from Semlin, that for the purpose of cutting off the communication with Prudor, our cordon is continued on the Turkish territories as far as one mile on the other side Old Gradisca; each post being occupied by a detachment of thirty men.

F R I E S L A N D, December 21.

The weather in this part of Holland is the most severe and intense ever known: travellers have been found frozen to death on horseback—cattle have died in great numbers, and those persons who have shut themselves up in their bake-houses have not escaped.—Such a season has not been known in our memory.

L O W E R - R H I N E, December 27.

Sad accounts are received from all parts of Germany concerning the sudden and severe frost. Many people and animals have been found frozen to death in the roads, which the great fall of snow has rendered impassable. This age affords no example of so severe a frost as there was in many places on the 17th instant; in the morning of that day Fahrenheit's thermometer, at Leipzig, was 27 degrees below 0, which is from five to seven degrees lower than it was in the famous winters of 1739 and 1740. In the south part of Germany the cold has not been so severe; the Rhine is froze over at Cologne, and in many places waggons and heavy carriages pass over it loaded.

P A R I S, November 13.

M. de Tilly, the page, is sent to prison, by an order from the marshals of France, for daring publicly to boast of his having fought a duel with his namesake. He is to remain in confinement for the space of six years and a day. The other Tilly is not dead, and it is thought he will recover of his dangerous wound.—He will be obliged, however, to remain where he is, in Austrian Flanders, or expose himself, if he comes, to be deprived of his liberty like his antagonist. Duels are no more permitted in France than in England, and the marshal's tribunal is as despotic and severe as any of the martial laws under the late king of Prussia.

L O N D O N, January 30.

Extract of a letter from Calix, January 3. "The last accounts from Barbary mention, that the dey of Algiers has declared war against Denmark; they likewise mention that the quarrel between the emperor of Morocco and the dey is made up; it seems the emperor was obliged to pay a large sum of money down, besides all the expences the dey was put on account of the rupture."

Extract of a letter from Alicans, December 29.

"Yesterday at four o'clock, P. M. anchored off here, two Algerine rovers of twenty guns each, full of men, in company with a stout ship a prize, supposed to be a Dane. The next morning two large ships appeared in the Offing, upon the sight of which they weighed and made all the sail they possibly could after them, and in two hours they were out of sight. The captain of a barque came in the next day, and says, the pirates passed him the evening before under a great press of sail in pursuit of their prey, and soon after heard a heavy cannonading, from which we imagine they came up with the chase."

Extract of a letter from Naples, December 30.

"The Algerines still infest our seas, and have lately made some valuable captures, amongst which, we are informed, is a French corvette, from Marseilles, to a market, 300 quintals burthen, with a rich cargo; likewise two ships loaded with corn, dried fish and oil, bound to Civita Vecchia; the two latter were taken by a corsair of 36 guns, in fight of one of the pope's men of war, and what is more remarkable, the infidels had the insolence to hoist a flag of defiance daring her to combat."

Feb. 1. Letters from France mention the continuance of the great scarcity of grain there. As a proof of it, the following bounties are to be allowed in the importation of the following articles, for four months from the 15th of February:—15 sols per quintal of wheat; 20 sols per quintal of flour, and 12 sols per quintal of rye. And, as a further encouragement, the tunnage duty of 12 sols per tun on the vessels in which grain is imported, is discontinued for the same time.

Feb. 2. The private account received yesterday in the afternoon, was more favourable than the report of the physicians; it gave an account that at eleven o'clock, the king, attended by Dr. Willis, walked arm in arm, for two hours, in the gardens; and that his majesty seemed quiet and composed on their return.

Feb. 4. On Saturday last the foreign ministers sent off dispatches to their respective courts, announcing his royal highness the prince of Wales having accepted the regency of the kingdom of Great-Britain, under the restrictions proposed by both houses of parliament, during the king's illness.

Feb. 5. It is with uncommon satisfaction we have observed, by the report of physicians for some days past, that his majesty's state of health becomes more and more favourable; and we hope soon to see that moment arrive when our beloved sovereign will be perfectly recovered.

In the new regency bill, a member is expected to move a clause, relative to the exclusion of the regent, should he offend against a particular act of parliament.

The duke of York is confidently talked of for commander in chief.

When a certain great personage was at first applied to, relative to the regency and guardianship of his majesty, she was pleased to express herself, in substance as follows:—"That she had never chosen to interfere in political affairs; that her gratitude for the reception and treatment she had always met with from this nation, had fixed her resolution never to hazard their good opinion by a conduct in which from her incompetency she was unable to hope for success." The noble and learned lord who communicated the subject to her, in order to know her pleasure, then desired her determination, in case her son should refuse it upon the terms and limitations intended to be offered him; and that if she should then decline, the care of his majesty would devolve upon others. Here her affection was no longer to be stifled, and she declared, "that in such case her regard to her king and husband would not suffer her to withdraw a moment from the great task that awaited her, in which she could only hope for the blessing of Providence to assist her."

It is not likely now that there will be much more debate, except on the question of limiting the regency—that is, on the motion of which Mr. Pulteney gave notice. The prince, by his answer, has pledged himself to accept of the regency under the restrictions proposed, and the whole may be finished we think early in the next week.

Feb. 6. On the 20th ult. the king of Sweden held a meeting with the magistrates and fifty ancient of the citizens at their town hall in Stockholm; in which they mutually agreed to defend each other against the attacks of the common enemy. It is 16 years since the above parties met each other, being at the time of the revolution in that country.

In consequence of the above the preparations for war have attained fresh vigour, and there does not seem any probability of a peace this spring. The emperor has ordered his field equipages to be ready by the middle of this month.

Feb. 7. Yesterday at four o'clock the queen was again introduced to his majesty, where she continued till a quarter before six o'clock.

By a gentleman who was permitted to be in Kew gardens on Friday last, when his majesty was taking an airing, we have the pleasure to hear, that though he appeared much thinner than he was three months ago, yet he looked very well, seemed in a good state, and walked firm. In the course of his walk, he every now and then stopped to talk with one of the pages or Dr.

Willis; and from a close observation on his manner seemed perfectly composed.

We hear that as soon as ever the warmth of the weather will permit, his majesty will be removed to Hastings, or some such retreat, for the further aid of sea-bathing; the queen, two of the princesses, and a suitable number of attendants, are to accompany him.—His physicians to be the two Drs. Willis. The inspecting physician Dr. Gibborne.

N E W - Y O R K, April 2.

Yesterday the honourable house of representatives of the United States made a quorum, when the honourable Frederick Augustus Muhlenberg, Esquire, of Pennsylvania, was chosen speaker, and John Beckley, Esquire, of Virginia, secretary.

The following letter of a late date is from a gentleman to his friend in America, who has sent to Europe some discoveries relative to the magnetic variation.

S I R,

IN answer to your letter I recollect that my friend forwarded your memorial to Lisbon: shortly after that he failed from hence for that city. He has not since acquainted me with the success your memorial met with there. However, as I expect him here in the course of next month, I flatter myself that he will be able to give you the pleasing account of your useful discovery meeting with the approbation of the learned society of that city.

I am, &c.

To Mr. JOHN CHURCHMAN.

Extract of a letter from Paris, December 14.

"A courier is this moment arrived at the house of the imperial minister, express from Vienna, with the news of his imperial majesty being arrived at his palace in that city from Hungary. His arrival was on the 4th instant, and the same day he gave audience, besides his own minister, to all the foreign ambassadors, envoys, &c. resident at Vienna, who came to congratulate him on his arrival. The courier goes forward directly to London with the packet for the count de Revreckey, his imperial majesty's envoy and minister plenipotentiary. Great preparations are now beginning to be made on Christmas day ensuing, which will be celebrated by a gala at court, and rejoicings on account of the sovereign's arrival, and the prospect they have at Vienna of a peace, although they still continue in Germany and Hungary to prosecute their preparations for another campaign after the severe weather."

The following is an extract from brigade orders, of the 22d March, 1789.

"His excellency general Washington, as president of the United States, may be expected in a few weeks, and as it is the duty, so the general is persuaded that it will be the inclination, of the brigade to receive him with every possible demonstration of military respect and honour. The legion, and perhaps the whole brigade, will be under arms upon that important occasion, and are to prepare accordingly.

"The honourable Mr. Adams, as vice-president of the United States, is also expected to arrive in town in a few days. He is to be received at King's-bridge by the horse, under the command of captain Stakes, who are hereby put under marching orders for that purpose."

Extract of a letter from Cadix, dated Dec. 31, 1788.

"The Portuguese fleet stationed at Gibraltar to protect their trade, having returned to Lisbon the beginning of this month to rest, gave an opportunity to the Algerine corsairs to come out of the Straits, which the Portuguese received immediate notice of, so that in the course of eight days they sent out a fresh fleet, which so closely pursued the pirates as to force one of them on shore on Cape-de-Gate, where she was entirely lost; the other put into Gibraltar, where she is blockaded up. We cannot find that in the course of the few days they cruised off St. Mary's, that they took any American vessels, nor do we think there is any thing to be dreaded from them hereafter, as the Portuguese squadron are not to quit this station this winter."

April 6. Yesterday arrived in town from Virginia, the honourable Richard Henry Lee, Esq; one of the senators of that state. By the arrival of Mr. Lee the senate now have a quorum. It is expected therefore the two houses will proceed to business this day.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Braintree, to his friend in Boston, dated March 24.

"It may not, perhaps, be unworthy a paragraph in your paper, that his excellency John Adams (the glory of our town, and I believe I may add, one of the ornaments of the age) has lately received an elegant suit of American broad cloth, manufactured at Hartford, in which he will make his appearance as vice-president of the United States."

P H I L A D E L P H I A, April 6.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in London to his friend in this city, dated February 4, 1789.

"Our beloved king has been insane ever since the 22d of October last, and is incapable of taking care of the government, which will be put (in part) into the hands of the prince of Wales, as regent, during the incapacity of his majesty: he has four or five physicians and three apothecaries, who constantly attend him; he is in badly health and it is hoped much better than at first, as he is sometimes sensible and has frequent lucid intervals. It is supposed the prince of Wales will go to the house of lords next week.—Soon after Mr. Pitt, and most of the cabinet ministers, will resign; when it is expected Messrs. Fox, Burke, Sheridan and Co. will take their places, against the consent of three fourths of the people."

Extract of a letter from Wyoming, dated March 27.

"Major John Jenkins, Solomon Earl, Baker, and William Ranfom, about the 10th instant, were surveying lands near the Lakes—on one morning about 2 o'clock, 4 Tutcarora Indians and a squaw made an attack upon them in their cabin—the Indians put the muzzles of their guns into the cabin, and each fired—Baker was killed and Earl badly wounded. This awoke major Jenkins and Ranfom—the Indians rushed in with the knife and tomahawk: but Jenkins, by an instantaneous effort of bravery, caught hold of an axe and knocked down two Indians—afterwards Ranfom assisted and they beat the Indians off, and took each of them guns, tomahawks, &c. Jenkins and his surviving companion lodged that night in said cabin with the dead and wounded—next day returned with Earl to Geneva, (the name of a town on the Lakes.) A scout was immediately sent after the said Indians—when the party arrived at the cabin they found the Indians had been back and taken off all their provisions, their object in this bloody attack. Four Indians are sent in quest of the villains, and have pledged their honour they will not return without their bodies or scalps—God preserve their honour."

Extract of a letter from Liverpool, dated January 4.

"The melancholy situation of the king, together with the minister's ambition in curbing the prince, as regent, and the almost sudden death of the speaker of the house of commons, are very affecting, and shew the uncertainty of happiness, and the enjoyment of this world. I returned from London only last night, and am sorry to say, the public have been and are deceived, with respect to the probability of his majesty's recovery: he is in a most unfortunate state, and his treatment kept secret."

RICHMOND, April 9.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman of veracity in Kentucky, to his correspondent in this city, dated March 9, 1789.

"Our politics seem confused since the arrival of the late act of assembly, for making further provision for erecting this district into an independent state; many think that this business has been unreasonably procrastinated by the state of Virginia, it being now upwards of four years since their first application, and that there are also some stipulations in the late act more rigorous than the first."

"I observed an extract of a letter published in some of your gazettes, said to be written by some person in this country to his friend in Richmond; as I believe it to be dictated by a disappointed man, it cannot be expected that he would stick closely to the truth. He grossly misrepresented facts, and illiberally reflected on characters much more worthy than himself or his correspondent, for no such violent measures as he urges, were publicly avowed; what may be the future conduct of our people on the late act for a separation, I know not, but I see a number who were willing to separate on constitutional terms, much displeas'd."

"The Spaniards at the mouth of the Mississippi, continue to be friendly, and I really believe would wish to detach us from the union. We meet with a ready sale for all our tobacco and provisions we have yet sent. A few weeks past about 300 hogheads of tobacco, besides provisions, &c. were sent off from this country for the New-Orleans, and I expect in a few weeks near as much more will be ready for that market. A few days past a vessel of 30 tons burthen arrived at the Falls, from New-Orleans, loaded with dry goods, grocery, and ironmongery; she had a long passage, being much retarded by the ice, but came very safe; thus you see we have a sufficient out-let, if not obstructed by some wretched political system."

On Saturday the 25th day of April, 1789, will be SOLD, at VENDUE, for ready money,

SUNDRY household FURNITURE, BOOKS and COMIC PRINTS, belonging to the subscriber. Notice of the hour will be given by the bell-man. Mr. Richmond takes this opportunity of requesting all persons possessed of books belonging to him, will please to send them to him before the day of sale.

C. RICHMOND.

RAN away, on Saturday the 11th instant, a MULLATTO MAN named FRANK, upwards of five feet high, well made, with gray eyes; he took with him two coats, one a coffee coloured Bath coating, turned up with red broad cloth, and a blue half-thick one, several ruffled shirts, and stocks of cambric, a couple pair of broad ribbed worsted hose, and a red surtout coat a good deal worn, with brass buttons, also a pair of leather bags; he rode off a small bay horse, with one hind foot white, and a long curly mane and short tail. Whoever secures the said fellow, so that I get him again, shall have TEN DOLLARS, and for the horse alone five dollars. The above mulatto went off with a negro man of Mr. Bennett Darnall's, and it is imagined have made for Baltimore-town.

RICHARD DARNALL.

April 12, 1789.

By virtue of a writ of execution, to me directed from the general court, will be exposed to PUBLIC SALE, on Tuesday the 5th day of May next, at Elk-Ridge Landing,

THAT commodious two-story brick HOUSE that is now occupied by captain EDWARD SPURRIER, with the lots, containing two acres, and all the improvements thereon; taken as the property of DENNIS GRIFFITH, surviving executor of JOSHUA GRIFFITH, and sold to satisfy a debt due JOHN HALL. The terms of sale will be made known on the day, by

DAVID STEUART, late sheriff of Anne-Arundel county.

The sale to begin at twelve o'clock.

On the 30th day of April, 1789, will be SOLD, at the late dwelling house of JOSEPH WATKINS, late of Anne-Arundel county, deceased,

A PARCEL of valuable NEGROES, consisting of men, women and children, some household FURNITURE, and STOCK of different kinds, belonging to the estate of the said Joseph Watkins. All those who have any claims against the said estate are desired to bring them in legally proved, and those who are indebted are desired to make immediate payment. The terms of sale will be made known on the day above mentioned.

ANNE WATKINS, Executrix.

Charles county, April 6, 1789.

ALL persons having any claims against the estate of JOHN EDEN, senior, Esquire, late of St. Mary's county, deceased, are hereby requested to exhibit the same, that they may be paid; suits will be commenced against all persons indebted to the estate whether on protested bills of exchange, bond, note, open account or otherwise, neglecting and withholding payment, after six weeks notice in the Baltimore and Annapolis papers.

WALTER STONE, A. m. r. de bonis non, of JOHN EDEN, senior, Esquire.

The imported HORSE CARDINAL PUFF,

STANDS this season at Samuel Harrison, junior's plantation, near Herring-Bay, and will cover at three pounds a mare, and five shillings the groom; he is full sixteen hands high, is a pure foal-getter, and his stock very large and handsome. Good pasturage at two shillings and six-pence per week, and proper care taken of the mares.

N. B. Six dollars sent with the mares or paid by the first day of September next, will be taken in lieu of the above three pounds.

April 8, 1789.

JOLLY ROGER,

WILL cover, from the 25th of April to the last of the season, at SQUIRREL NECK, on Rhode river, the feat of Mr. JAMES CARROLL, at two barrels of corn, to be brought with the mare, or three dollars cash. JOLLY ROGER is a fine shining black, full fifteen hands high, remarkably well and stout made, and is, perhaps, as good a draught horse as any in the state, his blood is between the DRAY and TOM; his dam was a TOM, and his sire the noted horse STIRLING, bred by H. D. GOUGH, Esquire. Mares from ten miles and upwards distant will be pastured gratis, but entirely at the risk of the several proprietors, as the owner of the horse will be answerable for no escapes or accidents.

SAMUEL PARROTT.

April 11, 1789.

RAN away on Saturday the 11th instant, a NEGRO MAN, named NEHEMIAH, a very black fellow, down look, battle hammed, under six feet high, a great drunkard, and plays on the violin tolerably well; it is uncertain what cloaths he took with him, only a great coat of Bath coating, and of a dark gray colour; he rode off a small bay horse, with a sprig-tail, with his two hind feet white up to the fetlock, and a star in his forehead. Whoever secures the said fellow, so that I get him again, shall be paid TEN DOLLARS, and for the horse only, five dollars. The above negro went off with a yellow man of Mr. Richard Darnall's, and it is suspected have made for Baltimore-town.

BENNETT DARNALL.

P. S. The above horse is low in flesh, caused by the disorder so very common last fall, and several places on his head, where the disorder broke, is very perceptible.

Annæ-Arundel county, March 13, 1789.

THE subscriber, in consequence of the generous encouragement he met with from several gentlemen, begs leave to inform the public, particularly those that wish to promote literature, that he proposes opening a SCHOOL on the first day of April next, in a commodious house, appropriated to that use by Mr. Henry Hall, near the Governor's-Bridge, in which will be taught the GREEK and LATIN LANGUAGES on the most modern and approved plan, now extant, at the rate of seven pounds per annum. His pupils will give specimens of their progress by two exhibitions annually. He flatters himself that by his assiduity and unremitting attention, he will merit and perpetuate the esteem of all his employers, &c.

HUGH MAGUIRE.

N. B. BOARDING may be procured here on good terms.

MINTY HANNAM.

WHEREAS the above named MINTY HANNAM, left England for America, in or about the year 1708, and was heard of as a Mr. CHRIS. TOPPER CARDIFF, in Great-Choptank river, Bollingbrook, Talbot county, Maryland, in the year 1771. If the said Minty Hannam be now living he may have of something to his advantage by applying to Mr. JAMES WILLIAMS, of Annapolis, or if any person can give an account of his death, so that it may be fully and clearly ascertained, they shall receive TEN GUINEAS REWARD by applying as above.

March 16, 1789.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber intends to apply to Prince-George's county court for a commission to ascertain and mark the boundaries of a tract of land called LANDOVER, according to the ancient running, agreeable to a late act of assembly.

JONATHAN SIMMONS.

FRIENDSHIP,

A HANDSOME full bred horse, stands this season at the subscriber's plantation, in Prince-George's county, about seven miles from Bladensburg, and the same distance from Snowden's works, and will cover mares at six dollars each; he is a good bred, full fifteen hands high, with length and bone in proportion, and is six years old; he was bred by William Mitchell, Esquire, of Virginia, and was got by Apollo, the property of colonel Henry Lee, out of an imported full bred mare. Apollo was got by general Spotswood's noted Apollo. FRIENDSHIP has run two matches, and won both easy. Few horses in this state are equal to him in beauty and form. He covers at half price, owing to the scarcity of cash.

CHARLES DUVALL.

N. B. Thirty-five shillings will be received if the money be paid by the first day of September next.

NORTHERN ECLIPSE,

WILL stand for mares this season at London-town, near Annapolis, at two guineas each mare, and a dollar to the groom, the money to be sent with the mares. Pasturage for mares at half a dollar per week, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. This horse is a cheinut, fifteen hands and an inch high, not handsome, but he has some of the best English running blood in his veins, with bone and action.

JOHN CRAGGS.

NORTHERN ECLIPSE was got by O'Kelly's famous Eclipse, and out of Ameryllis. Ameryllis was got by Adolphus, son of Regulus, and out of Lodge's roan mare, which was got by Partner (the first and most famous stallion then in England) her dam by Baboon, which was got by Badger, her grand-dam by old Traveller, which was sire to the duke of Cleveland's Dainty Davy, which won successively five gold cups at Richmond, in Yorkshire, her great-grand-dam by Snake; then the most capital stallion of his day. This is a true pedigree, as witness my hand,

W. NEWBURN, the Breeder, Cleveland, Yorkshire.

CINCINNATUS,

WHO has so repeatedly and so successfully signified himself on the turf, and who is perhaps the handsomest and best bred Arabian on the continent, will cover mares this season at the subscriber's plantation, about two miles from Upper-Mariborough, for three pounds current money each. Pasturage for two shillings and six-pence per week, but not indemnity for accidents or escapes. He was got by the Arabian, his dam by Figure, his grand-dam by Dove, his great-grand dam by Othello, upon Selima.

JOHN SMITH BROOKES.

To be LEASED,

SEVERAL LOTS of GROUND in this city, on the Church circle, and the streets called Tabernacle-street, opposite Mr. James Ringgold's, and Lawyer's-street, opposite Mr. John Callahan's. The terms may be known by applying to the subscriber.

Annapolis, October 1, 1788.

OBSERVING a number of debtors to the state, as well as other individuals, are often in want of some kind of certificates, and at a loss where to get them on proper terms for their money, and the holders of certificates when in want of cash for them, are likewise at a loss for a market, for want of some particular place to apply, where they could be on a certainty of getting an exchange on reasonable terms.

The subscriber being well acquainted with the different kind of certificates and their passing value, has induced him to offer his service to provide, and inform those that do or may want, that by lodging the needful he will supply them with certificates, or cash, at a short notice, on reasonable terms, on paying a moderate commission. There being a number, who have payments to make in certificates to the treasury, that live at a considerable distance, many of whom wish to make payments as they provide money for that purpose, are prevented for want of the certificates, and not being convenient to ride 50 or 100 miles to get them and make a small payment; those who are thus situated that wish to be provided with certificates, and have them placed to their credit, by forwarding the money at any time may depend on being furnished with certificates, and payment made to their orders, on as good terms as if they were present, by their

Humble servant, JAMES WILLIAMS.

NOTICE.

THE subscriber requests all persons indebted to the estate of HENRY MAY, late of Anne-Arundel county, deceased, upon bond, note or open account, to come in and pay their respective balances; also, that all persons having claims against said deceased, will bring them in legally attested, to

RICHARD BEARD, jun. Executor.

FOR SALE,

By the subscriber, appointed trustee by the honourable the chancery court of Maryland, THAT well known ferry at Rock Hall, lately occupied by Mr. BASIL NOIEL. There is on the premises a good framed house, 36 feet square, four rooms on the lower floor, and three lodging rooms, with four fire places, with a passage through the house, and good dry cellar, with a partition there-in; there is a good kitchen adjoining the dwelling house, by a very convenient summer room, that has two corner cupboards and seats around the same: the kitchen is lathed and plastered, with convenient rooms above stairs, finished for lodging waiters and gentlemen's servants.

There is a stable with a paved floor, and carriage house adjoining, a negro quarter, meat house, a good corn house, hen house, blacksmith's shop, and a convenient warehouse, at the landing, with a pailed in garden, and a young peach orchard. There is a good well of water in the yard, and a spring within thirty yards of the house.

There is belonging to the above property 150 acres of land, half of which is cleared and under good fences, divided in fields, and two lots of six or eight acres each, adapted to clover or timothy. From its public situation it is well known to possess every advantage that can be expected from keeping a tavern and ferry across the bay to Annapolis and Baltimore-town; it is remarkably healthy; the waters abound with good rock fish, perch, crabs, oysters, and in their season, a quantity of wild fowl. The sale to be made on the premises by public auction, the 12th day of May, if fair, if not the first fair day thereafter. 6w

JAMES RINGGOLD.

March 31, 1789. 3

ALL persons having claims against the estate of Mr. JOHN JOHNSON, late of this city, deceased, are requested to bring them in properly authenticated, and those indebted to the estate are most earnestly called on to make immediate payment to the subscriber, that he may be quickly enabled to discharge the claims against the estate. The very great indulgence which the debtors generally have experienced from the deceased, will, I hope, induce many to pay the proper attention to this advertisement; those who neglect may depend that suits will be instituted against them to November court, without respect to persons.

ROBERT JOHNSON, Administrator. Annapolis, March 24, 1789. 4

Pig-Point, March 21, 1789. Pursuant to the directions of the last will of PHILIP HOPKINS, late of Anne-Arundel county, will be SOLD, to the highest bidder, on the premises, on Wednesday the 15th of April.

THAT valuable TRACT of LAND called HOPKINS'S FANCY, containing about 200 acres, being situated within three miles of this place; whereon is a comfortable dwelling, tobacco-house and other out-houses, with an excellent apple orchard. Further particulars will be made known on the day of sale, by

RICHARD HOPKINS.

Charles county, March 30, 1789. COMMITTED to my custody as a runaway, the 26th instant, a NEGRO WOMAN, who calls herself SARAH, and says she belongs to BENJAMIN WALES, of Prince-George's county; she is five feet high, stout made, and of very dark complexion. Her master is desired to pay charges and take her away.

T. A. DYSON, Sheriff.

CARELESS,

STANDS this season at Strawberry-Hill, and covers at three dollars a mare, and half a dollar to the groom, if the cash is sent with the mare, or at four dollars a mare, and half a dollar to the groom, on credit, or at two barrels of corn, and three shillings and nine-pence to the groom, provided the corn is delivered before the first day of June next, at Strawberry-Hill. Good pasture for mares at three shillings and nine-pence per week, under a good fence, but will not be answerable for escapes or other accidents. 6w

NOTICE.

WE, the subscribers, appointed by the honourable the chancellor of this state, under and by virtue of an act of the general assembly, passed at the last session, to adjust the claims against ANTHONY STEWART, formerly residing in this city, but now in Nova-Scotia, and to make a dividend of the produce of his estate among his creditors, which was confiscated and fold for the payment of his debts, do hereby give notice, that we have given security for the due performance of the said trust, are ready to enter upon the execution thereof, and to receive the applications of all persons interested; and we do request all person or persons having in their possession any books or accounts of the said Anthony Stewart, to give information thereof as soon as possible. The creditors are requested to meet at Mr. MANN'S tavern, on Tuesday the 26th of May next, at 11 o'clock forenoon. 11

Mr. GARDETTE, DENTIST,

RESPECTFULLY informs the public, that it has been out of his power to go to Annapolis as he intended, but he will positively be THERE by the middle of May next.

N.B. Mr. GARDETTE'S DENTIFRICE, carefully put up in pewter pots, to whiten and preserve the teeth, fortify and harden the gums, may, in future, be had with directions at the post-office at Baltimore. Baltimore, April 5, 1789. 2

AS there was given to JOSEPH EXEL THOMAS, last fall, bonds by me for a particular purpose, and as they did not answer the purpose for which they were given, I take this method to forewarn any person or persons from receiving the bonds from the said Joseph Exel Thomas. w3

The beautiful thorough bred HORSE HYDER ALLY,

STANDS this season at Mount Ararat, my dwelling plantation, six miles below Piscataway, and covers mares at three guineas the season, but in consequence of the scarcity of cash, two guineas will be taken in lieu thereof, if paid by the first of September next.

HYDER ALLY is a fine gray, beautifully dappled, seven years old this spring, full fifteen hands three inches and an half high, remarkably boney and active. His strong resemblance to his sire, whose colts having performed so capially on the turf, will be a considerable inducement to those who wish to breed fine horses; and the following pedigree (well authenticated) will prove him equal in blood to any horse on this continent.

THOMAS MARSHALL. Prince-George's county, March 20, 1789. 3

A CAUTION,

HOPKINS'S FANCY.

THAT having received from Gerard H. pain, Elizabeth Hopkins, widow of the late Philip Hopkins, from the eldest son of Philip Hopkins, from Richard Hopkins the second son, from Richard Dowell and his wife and daughter, from Hutton and wife, another daughter, of their parts of the said land; and having other claims against the said land, it is with concern that I see Richard Hopkins undertake to advertise to sell the said land upon the 15th day of April, 1789, without my knowledge or consent. The embarrassment upon it requiring the best counsel, I repeatedly proposed to Richard Hopkins and all concerned, to apply to the honorable the chancellor for his authority and direction, and I went and waited at Annapolis for that purpose a long time in vain; under these circumstances I think it fair to publish this caution. It is my interest that the land shall be sold for the utmost price that can be obtained; and I earnestly desire that justice may be done to every one concerned, but I do not apprehend these good effects will arise under the management of Mr. Richard Hopkins, and I therefore object to his interfering in this manner.

STEPHEN WEST. 2

March 21, 1789.

WHEREAS it appears by lists returned to me by several deputies, that a number of persons in this county are in arrears for taxes for 1783, 1784 and 1785; and whereas the general assembly did, at the last session, pass an act authorizing the governor and council to appoint a person or persons to purchase property taken for debts due the state; this is to give notice to all persons that are indebted for taxes as above, that the subscriber shall give immediate directions to his deputies to call on them for their balances, and if they do not pay, to proceed immediately to execute for the same, as no longer indulgence can possibly be given by

RICHARD HARWOOD, jun. late collector of Anne-Arundel county. 3

PITT,

WILL stand this season at Mr. Carroll, of Carrollton's farm, near Annapolis, and will cover at the moderate price of twenty-five shillings, or two barrels of corn, if paid before the mare is taken away, otherwise thirty shillings payable by the first of December next, in corn at ten shillings per barrel.

PITT was got by Chatham, his dam, three quarters blooded, by Figure; he is seven years old, a jet black, in high order, fifteen hands high, handsome, strong and active, equal to most horses to breed from. 4w 2

HENRY JOHNSON.

DANCING-SCHOOL.

LOUIS ROUSSELL,

RESPECTFULLY informs the ladies and gentlemen of Annapolis, that he intends to open his SCHOOL on Friday the 17th of April, for the purpose of perfecting young ladies and gentlemen in the branches of that useful and becoming accomplishment; he will teach immediately the following dances—such as le-minuet audinaire, with par graue, la minuet de la cour, with the gavat allemande, perigourdine, horn-pipe, country dances, cotillons, with proper steps.—Those who please to honour him with their commands may depend he will exert his utmost endeavours to merit their approbation. The hours of attendance will be from ten to twelve in the morning, and from four to seven in the afternoon, on Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Roussel begs leave to assure the public, that attendance and assiduity may be relied on, and the greatest regard will be paid to decorum. N. B. He purposes to attend private families, and to pay the greatest attention to good order and regularity towards the pupils committed to his care. w3 Annapolis, March 16, 1789. 3X

VENETIAN,

WILL stand for MARES this season at FRANCIS TOLSON, Esquire's plantation, in Prince-George's county, 5 miles from the ferry opposite Alexandria, at five guineas each mare, and a dollar the groom, or three guineas each mare, and three and nine-pence to the groom, if paid by the first of August, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes.— Good grass for mares at half a dollar per week. Venetian is a fine bay, fifteen hands and an half high, with length and bone in proportion, he was bred by Sir James Pennycuik, bart. of Yorkshire, and got by Doge, his dam by Jennitot's Snap, sire of Godlander, Gnawpost, Daisy and other good runners, his grand-dam by old Fox; Doge was got by Regulus, son of the Godolphin Arabian, his dam by Crab, his grand dam by Dyer's Dimple, which was got by Leed's Arabian. Venetian, at five years old, won the king's plate at Newcastle, and the fifty pounds for all ages, the same week, beating Mr. Fenwick's famous mare Spider Brusher, and several others, fifteen days after he won the king's plate at Carlisle, beating lord Surry's famous horse Bon-Mot, and run second to High Flyer at York.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

THE visitors and governors of St. John's College having, on the 10th of May, 1786, authorized Samuel Chate, Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, or any two of them, to appoint a person to collect the money, then or thereafter to be subscribed: we, the said Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, did accordingly, soon after, appoint Archibald Golder, of the city of Annapolis. Of this appointment the public was duly notified. The collector advertised times and places for his attendance in several counties. He attended agreeably to his notice, and moreover made personal application to many of the subscribers. But, although the stipulated periods of payment have long since elapsed, not more than 1500l. out of 11,024l. have been paid.

We have this day renewed our agreement with the collector. Subscribers who have not yet paid their first third, are requested, without delay, to pay the same, and such further part, as they shall think proper, to the said Archibald Golder, or to Benjamin Harwood, treasurer. They will be called on, within a reasonable time, to make the second and third payments, the last of which was due on the 1st of June, 1787.—All legal methods of compulsion would be as disagreeable to the visitors as disgraceful to subscribers. But it is the indispensable duty of trustees to adopt such modes of exacting payment, as shall be found necessary, or expedient.

The building of the college was projected, and begun on a plan, in some measure, proportioned to its nominal funds. For a considerable length of time, it has been suspended, for want of money.—The gentlemen who subscribed liberally, and paid with punctuality, had a right to expect, in the course of four years, that the work would be complete, and the seminary beginning to flourish. They cannot but remember the generous patriotic ardor, with which the institution was commenced. They have sustained an injury from all those whose neglect or failure has retarded its progress; and, for their satisfaction, as well as for other purposes, a list of subscribers names, with the sums subscribed, and the sums paid, will probably be published as soon as conveniently may be, after the 12th day of May next.

At a meeting of the visitors and governors, on the 5th of July, 1786, the second Tuesdays in February, May, August and November, were appointed for their quarterly meetings. A sufficient number hath not, since that period, been convened, although extraordinary meetings have been requested, by public advertisement and personal solicitation. As the repeated disappointments of those who have repaired to Annapolis, at their own expence, for the sole purpose of meeting the visitors, may perhaps, without some particular notice, prevent their attendance, at the next regular stated meeting, we take the liberty of most earnestly entreating every gentleman, who has accepted the trust of a visitor and governor of St. John's College, to attend on the second Tuesday of May next. As the general court will be held on that day, we presume no time more convenient can be mentioned.

It is perhaps proper to inform the public, that the number of visitors cannot exceed twenty-four, that not less than nine can form the corporation; that it has never exceeded eleven; that by death it is reduced to ten; that not less than seven have authority to act; and that only two, at this time, reside at Annapolis. It is almost needless to add, that matters of the greatest importance await their consideration. It is much to be wished, that the number were completed or increased. Whether this object may not be attained, provided nine shall be convened, will be debated at their next meeting; and we hope that, if any gentleman be disposed to resign, he will at least bestow his endeavours, that the body may be first enabled to supply his place.

FROM Broad Creek, which it is supposed was carried off by the ice, the wind being then at north-east, on Monday morning, the 26th instant, a SCOW, nearly new, about twenty feet long, and eight or nine feet wide, her sides are green. From the wind being at north-east, it is imagined she drifted down towards Talley's or Thomas's Point. FOUR DOLLARS REWARD will be given for bringing her to Broad Creek, Kent-Island, or TWO DOLLARS if delivered at Annapolis, in care of Mr. John Sands, jun.

THE subscribers being very anxious that an immediate payment of what is due them be made, that they may be enabled to comply with their engagements; in order to facilitate the collection, have appointed Mr. JOHN WATKINS, to call upon those who have accounts with them, for the same, whose receipt shall be good; they beg that this notice be particularly attended to, as it is not in their power to give any further indulgence; those who incline to call and pay at Annapolis, will always find a person at their late store on the Dock, or at the printing-office, ready to receive.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber's quarter in Loudon county, early in last month, a negro man named GEORGE, he is about 20 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, his nostrils are remarkably wide, he sometimes complains of a wart on the bottom of one of his feet, which makes him a little lame; he is a likely sensible fellow: He had on a green jacket and overalls, of snabrig shirt, an old hat, shoes and stockings, and took with him a Dutch blanket, a blue broad cloth coat and breeches, a blue jacket without sleeves; and sundry other cloaths.—He has been seen near this town since he ran away. Whoever will apprehend the aforesaid negro, and deliver him to the subscriber, or secure him in any gaol, so that he may be got again, shall receive the above reward, and if taken out of this state and brought home, all charges paid.

PHILIP K. FENDALL

Alexandria, Sept. 30, 1788.

To be LET for a term of years, on good security,

A MOST valuable and beautiful FARM, situate on the north side of Severn river, about six miles from Annapolis, with a parcel of choice SLAVES, STOCK and plantation UTENSILS.

Also a large commodious HOUSE and GARDEN, pleasantly situated, with a quantity of LAND within two miles of Annapolis.

Any person inclinable to lease either of the above farms may be informed of the terms by applying to Dr. WILLIAM MURRAY, in Annapolis, or Mr. PHILIP ROGERS, in Baltimore.

RAN away from the subscriber, a young NEGRO MAN, called DAVY, on the 13th of March, 1789; his dress is an snabrig shirt, and cotton waistcoat and breeches; it is probable he will change his dress as he has other cloaths; he is an artful, deceiving fellow, about 5 feet 3 or 4 inches high, and stole a large sum of money two or three days before he went off: it is thought he is gone off with his overseer, ROBERT JACKSON, who is gone away with Joshua Pearce's wife. Whoever takes up and secures the said negro, shall be entitled to EIGHT DOLLARS REWARD.

The beautiful HORSE

R O E B U C K,

WILL cover mares this season at the subscriber's plantation in Charles county, at the low price of five pounds currency per mare, and one dollar to the groom, but if the money is paid when the mare is taken away, three pounds, and one dollar to the groom, will be taken in lieu of the five pounds. It is useless to insert his pedigree as it is well known, but it may be seen at his stable. ROEBUCK'S stock is remarkable, both for the turf and saddle, I believe equal to any in the state. Good pasturage is provided for mares that come a distance, at two and six-pence per week, and great care will be taken of them; but I will not be answerable for escapes or accidents. 8w.

In COUNCIL, Annapolis, March 18, 1789.

WHEREAS, by an act passed at the last session of the general assembly, it is directed, that where executions shall issue to compel payment from any of the debtors of this state, the governor and council shall appoint a person or persons to attend the sale of the property taken in execution, and to purchase the same for the use of the state, if a sale cannot be otherwise made, so as to secure a reasonable price for the property so taken.

We have thought it proper to give public notice, that appointments will shortly be made for the purpose of carrying into effect the intention of the aforesaid act; and to prevent the delay that might arise from refusal of the trust, the board will receive written applications from persons of good character who may be disposed to serve the state in this capacity; an adequate compensation will be given, and security required for the faithful performance of the trust.

By order,
T. JOHNSON, jun. cl.

Annapolis, February 18, 1789.

For SALE,

A PLANTATION, on the north side of Severn river, containing about 400 acres, under good fencing, bounding on the river Severn, about five miles distant from Annapolis, with a very good framed dwelling house, with brick ends and cellar, and very convenient out houses thereon, an orchard of excellent young fruit trees.

A description of the soil, wood, timber and situation, are thought unnecessary, as no person would purchase who would not examine the premises. This property will be sold for any state or continental securities, good assigned bonds, or six years credit on bond with security, upon the regular payment of interest at five per cent. per annum. BY

ISAAC COLLINS,

IN TRENTON,

H O L Y B I B L E,

CONTAINING

The OLD and NEW TESTAMENT;

WITH THE

Apocrypha and Marginal Notes.

CONDITIONS:

I. This work, to be contained in one large volume, Quarto, of nine hundred and eighty-four pages, will be reprinted page for page with the Oxford edition, on a beautiful new type, and good paper. An index will be added; and also the Scripture measures, weights and coins.

II. The price to subscribers, for the volume, well bound, four Spanish-dollars; one dollar to be paid at the time of subscribing, the remainder on delivery of the book.

III. The work to be put to press as soon as three thousand copies shall be subscribed for, and to be finished without delay.

The Editor has been encouraged, by a number of respectable characters, to offer the above proposals to the public, under a conviction that a handsome American edition of the Bible, in Quarto, will, at this time, be both seasonable and acceptable, as no part of the money will go out of the country.

This consideration, it is hoped, will be an inducement to subscribe, and of course promote the more frequent reading of this most invaluable book in private families. He therefore wishes to attract the attention, and obtain the countenance of people of all denominations; not doubting but that, in the execution of the work, he will be able to give ample satisfaction, both as to its accuracy and neatness.

Subscriptions will be received by Hugh Gaine and Edmund Prior, New-York; by Joseph Calkhank and William Young, Philadelphia; by Townsend and Patton, Baltimore; and by the editor in Trenton.

It is requested, that the leading characters of all the different denominations of Christians in the United States, who may feel disposed to promote this undertaking, will, as early as may be, grant their assistance in procuring subscriptions—and that the several printers of news-papers in the union will be pleased to insert the above proposals in their papers.

To all whom it may concern.

Mr. Isaac Collins has, for many years last past, been, and still is, printer to the state of New-Jersey: Having by this means had the more frequent opportunities to see his work, I have had abundant proof of the accuracy and correctness of his publications, as well as of his remarkable attention to business.

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 3.

THE king of France has given up, in favour of liberty, two of the most dangerous prerogatives of the crown; namely, lettres de cachet and the power of raising the revenue without the consent of the states. No lettres de cachet (or general warrants) are in future to be issued without special reasons, and these reasons are to be set forth in the warrant, and the legality to be ascertained and tried by judges.

LONDON, January 14.

The obsequies of the late Spanish monarch, Charles the third, as celebrated in the Spanish ambassador's chapel, in York-street, St. James's, on Wednesday last, exhibited the most awful and striking scene of serious solemnity we can recollect. The walls, from the ceiling to the ground, the pillars and the balustrade of the galleries, were hung with black. In the middle of the chapel was erected a pompous canopy of state, under which lay a bier, covered with black velvet. A crown, made after the form of that worn by the Spanish monarchs, was placed on a cushion at the foot of the bier; and at its head a large achievement or escutcheon, on which were painted the arms of Spain. A numerous variety of smaller escutcheons were hung around the chapel, blazoned with the arms of the different kingdoms and provinces to which Spain has laid claim since the foundation of that monarchy, and adorned with emblems allusive to the revolutions it underwent since its conquest by the Goths down to our days. The glittering escutcheons, interchangeably mixed with blazing wax tapers, darting their light on the sable hangings in a place from which, in open day, the rays of the sun were excluded, gave the chapel the appearance of a sumptuous mausoleum, where burning lamps surround the tombs of breathless monarchs, or rather of a starry firmament on a dark and serene night.

At twelve o'clock (when the office of the dead was concluded) high mass was celebrated with all the pomp and solemnity prescribed by the Romish ritual. The Spanish ambassador and foreign ministers, with a concourse of ladies and gentlemen of various religious descriptions, attracted by curiosity, heightened the lustre of the scene. The deep-toned organ mingling its sound with the melodious voices of a numerous and well-chosen choir, singing the solemn dirge in lucubrous accents suited to the occasion, the paraments of clergy, the fume of the incense ascending in odoriferous clouds, with the several other circumstances attending these solemn funeral rites, transported for a time, the living into the regions of the dead.

The singular event of having prayers offered up in the same chapel, in the space of a few weeks, for the recovery of one monarch, and the departed soul of another, should naturally remind us of the vanity of all human grandeur.

THE LORDS PROTEST ON THE REGENCY.

The order of the day being read, for taking into consideration the report from the committee of the whole house, appointed to take into consideration the state of the nation, and the resolutions of the commons relative to his majesty's indisposition, and the means of supplying the defect of the personal exercise of the royal authority arising therefrom, delivered at a conference on the 23d December ultimo, which were referred thereto; and the report of said resolutions being read by the clerk,

Moved, to agree with the commons on the said resolutions.

The question was put thereupon.

Resolved in the affirmative.

Dissentient,

1st. Because we adhere to the ancient principle recognised and declared by the act of the 13th of Charles II. that no act or ordinance with the force and virtue of a law can be made by either or both houses of parliament, without the king's assent, a principle standing as a bulwark to the people against the two houses, as the two houses are their security against the crown.

2dly. Because this principle is tacitly admitted by the third resolution, while it overthrows the practice by the simulate appearance of the royal assent under a commission to pass bills, a commission which would be inconsistent with the provisions of an act of the 33d Henry VIII. requiring that every commission shall be signed by his majesty's hand. In our present unhappy situation, that essential requisite being unattainable, we cannot condescend to give a sanction to a counterfeit representation of the royal signature, and we dare not assume a power to dispense with a law which makes that signature essential to the validity of a commission to pass bills.

3dly. Because we conceive that the unquestionable rights of the people so fallaciously represented as being upheld by these resolutions, are violently infringed by an unnecessary assumption on the part of the two houses of powers beyond those which the nation has assigned them. Invariable practices in all good times, and positive laws established by complete parliaments, truly and constitutionally representing the nation, have defined those powers. And we cannot but regard with the utmost apprehension any proposal to overstep those boundaries, when the consequence of such usurpation is so fatally marked in the history of our country.

4thly. Because it was confessed in the debate, that the powers of the commission were not to be considered solely to the act of appointing a regent; to what other purposes they may extend were not explained.— State necessity, the avowed ground of the measure may serve as the pretext to any diminution of the just prerogative of the crown, and of the liberties of the people, that best suits the designs of ambition. Fatal experience had shewn to our ancestors the boundless mischief of power thus usurped under plausible appearances: and it is particularly the duty of the house of peers to check the renewal of a practice to assume the name, without the substance of the royal authority, by which this house was once annihilated, the monarchy overthrown, and the liberties of the people subdued.

5thly. Because these dangerous and alarming consequences of the measure adopted would have been obviated by the amendment rejected. It proposed to substitute a measure conformable to the practice of our ancestors at the glorious era of the revolution. They seized not upon public necessity as a convenience for the usurpation of new powers, but proceeded in a plain and explicit form to the revival of the royal authority with full efficacy, before they entered upon the exercise of their legislative function. Pursuing a similar course, the amendment proposed the immediate nomination of the natural representative of the king, the heir apparent of the crown, to whom alone it was universally admitted the eyes and hearts of all men, during the present unhappy conjuncture, were turned: that with a perfect and efficient legislature, such future provisions might be enacted as the preservation of the full and undiminished authority of the crown and the liberties of the people may require.

SALEM, March 31.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman of distinction at Merritt, dated January 23:

"The surveys of the 8, 3 acre and city lots being completed, we concurred in an order to extend 4 town lines from the 7th to the 12th range, which is 24 miles west of the city. The first line passes over the river hills. The land, though hilly, is good, and interspersed with rich bottoms, but perhaps not of so great present utility as the lands further north. On this line was found excellent iron ore, which, being burnt and pulverised, nearly 7-8ths was attracted by the magnet. It appears to be in great plenty. The line commencing 6 miles north of the 7th range nearly terminates the river hills, and, after passing 4 miles west of the Mulkingum, exhibits a most beautiful and excellent champaign country, very fertile, and well watered."

"A meeting of the agents and proprietors of shares has been held, agreeably to the advertisements in the public papers last summer, for the purpose of granting a certain quantity of land for the encouragement of settlers who are non-proprietors; at which 957 shares were represented. It was voted to make grants of land, not exceeding 100 acres from each share in the funds; and a committee was appointed to reconnoitre the country, and affix the proper places for laying out donation lots. The conditions on which the lots are given, are—to build a house, at least 18 by 24 feet, with a cellar, and a brick or stone chimney—to clear 20 acres of the lot within three years—to set out 50 apple trees and 20 peach trees—and five years residence before the occupant is entitled to a deed. We have since ordered a division to the proprietors of 160 acres to each share, to be drawn on the second Wednesday in March, in the towns lately surveyed; and also ordered 200 donation lots to be laid out for the accommodation of non-proprietors, to be entered upon before the first day of October next. It will be necessary for those, who wish to avail themselves of these donation rights, to make immediate application, as they will all in a short time be taken up."

NEW-YORK, April 7.

Yesterday the honourable the congress of the United States, having a quorum of both houses, proceeded to business.

The senate having chosen his excellency John Langdon, Esquire, of New-Hampshire, president, for the purpose of opening and counting the votes for president and vice-president of the United States, agreeably to the constitution, the house of representatives attended in the senate chamber, when his excellency opened and examined the ballots of the electors of the respective states.

The illustrious GEORGE WASHINGTON, Esquire, was then announced president of the United States of America, and his excellency JOHN ADAMS, Esquire, vice-president.

April 9. Yesterday the honourable the senate of the congress of the United States appointed Samuel Anten Otis, Esq; (late member of congress from Massachusetts) to the honorary place of secretary to that honourable body.

James Mathers was also appointed door-keeper, and Cornelius Maxwell, messenger.

On Tuesday last the committee of both houses of the legislature of New-York (appointed for the purpose at the late session) began to canvass and estimate the votes for representatives from this state to the congress of the United States, at the secretary's office.—This committee, last evening, had finished counting the ballots from three districts.

By this estimation it appeared, that William Floyd, Esquire, had 894 votes, and was elected by the district composed of Long and Staten Islands.

That John Lawrence, Esquire, had 2251 votes in the city and county of New-York, and 291 in Westchester, and was elected by the district of New-York and the southern part of Westchester.

That Egbert Benson, Esquire, had 584 votes in the district of Dutchess county, and the northern part of Westchester, and was elected.

Theodoras Baily, Esquire, had 574 votes, as competitor to Mr. Benson.

The honourable John Lawrence yesterday took his seat in the house of representatives—and we are informed that Egbert Benson, Esquire, will take his seat in that honourable body this day.

Yesterday the doors of the house of representatives of the United States were thrown open, for the admission of the citizens.

We learn, that the navigation of the North river is no longer interrupted by the floating ice.

Many, says a correspondent, have fought, written and harranged, for the welfare and glory of the United States; yet it must be confessed that a true patriot is a character not easily to be found. As long as our country feels a single grievance, which prudence might soon banish, the triumph of policy must be acknowledged to be incomplete.—As an indulgence in a single vice must prevent a man from being deemed really virtuous, so ought a perseverance in a line of conduct, detrimental to national happiness, to preclude him from the name of a patriot. When we see a citizen, who has frequently exposed his life in the cause of freedom, dressed in the manufactures of foreign nations, have we not reason to suppose, that he either does not understand the welfare of his country or that he totally disregards it? After listening for hours to speeches, replete with all the graces of oratory, in which we are frequently reminded of our duty to our country, what must be our opinion of the orator, when we behold him contradicting his arguments by his practices? Almost every article which he wears is repugnant to his words; and we are induced to think that we are attending to the declamations of sophistry, instead of the maxims of patriotism. How glorious will be the triumph of free America, when we shall behold the guardians of the union apparelled in the produce and labour of their country! Eloquence will then be something more than sounds; wisdom will derive true honour from simplicity of dress; and every citizen, eager to emulate the bright example, will contribute his assistance towards the completion of American independence.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8.

His honour the chief justice of the state of New-York, attending for the purpose, administered to the speaker and members of the house, the oath required by the constitution.

This being done,

Mr. Parker (of Virginia) moved, that the house resolve itself into a committee of the whole, on the state of the union.

This motion was agreed to;—and

Mr. Page (of Virginia) was then called to the chair. Mr. Maddison (of Virginia) then rose, and made a few observations on the state of our finances.—the def-

passed at the last session of it is directed, that where el payment from any of the prior and council shall extend the sale of the property to purchase the same for the cannot be otherwise made, to prices for the property to iciencies of the federal treasury, and the necessity of immediately adopting some measures, on the subject of the national revenue. On this occasion, the first subject which presented itself was, the resources that might be drawn from a general system of impost on articles of importation.—This subject, however, might be considered in two points of light.—First, as it respected only the regulation of commerce.—Secondly, as to revenue. The second point, in his opinion, demanded more particularly the attention of the committee—and with this view he offered the following resolution:

Resolved, as the opinion of this committee, that the following duties ought to be levied on goods, wares, and merchandise, imported into the United States, viz.

On rum per gallon, ——— of a dollar

On all other spirituous liquors

On molasses

On Madeira wine

On all other wines

On common bohea teas, per lb.

On all other teas

On pepper

On brown sugars

On loaf sugars

On all other sugars

On cocoa and coffee

On all other articles ——— per cent. on their value at the time and place of importation.

That there ought, moreover, to be levied on all vessels in which goods, or wares and merchandise shall be imported, the duties following, viz.

On all vessels built within the United States, and belonging wholly to the citizens thereof, at the rate of ——— per ton.

On all vessels belonging wholly to the subjects of powers with whom the United States have formed treaties, or partly to the subjects of such powers, and partly to the citizens of the said states, at the rate of ——— per ton.

On all vessels belonging wholly or in part to the subjects of other powers, at the rate of ——— per ton.

Mr. Madison said, that in bringing forward this motion, he had availed himself of the propositions made by the late congress, in 1783—and had taken from the enumeration of articles, on which duties might be properly imposed. He would not, however, go deeply into the business at present, but having thrown out his ideas for the consideration of the committee, should submit the matter to their discretion.

Mr. Boudinot (of New-Jersey) expressed his approbation of the motion, urged the necessity of proceeding without delay in this important business; and moved that the blanks in the resolution be filled up with the same sums as expressed in the act of Congress of 1783. He moved for these sums he said, because at the time they were agitated, they appeared to be agreeable to the citizens of the United States. It was presumable therefore that they would give satisfaction now. Under this impression he grounded his motion.

Mr. White (of Virginia) wished that the motion brought forward should only be considered as the basis of a bill, in some future stage of which it would be proper to fill up the blanks. In the mean time it was probable gentlemen might possess themselves of more information on the subject.

Mr. Madison then observed, that as he did not suppose the committee to be prepared to proceed in the business, moved that they should rise, report progress, and sit leave to sit again.

This was agreed to, and the house adjourned.

WINCHESTER, April 15.

There are reports in town, that a speedy draught of the militia is to take place in this state, but for what purpose we are not able to learn—also, that his excellency the governor has issued a proclamation, prohibiting any person from leaving the state, without permission, under severe penalties.—To these we may add another report, viz. that the garrison of Quebec is reinforced with 6000, or upwards, fresh troops from Britain. We hope we shall be enabled in our next to certify the truth or falsity of these reports—at present we cannot vouch for their authenticity.

GEORGE-TOWN, April 16.

Extract of a letter from an American gentleman in New-Orleans, to his friend in this county, dated February 16, 1789.

“An unfortunate event has lately taken place in this part of the world, which probably may break the late established harmony between the Spaniards and our states. You have no doubt been informed of the port of New-Orleans being opened to our countrymen settled on the Western waters; in consequence of which the Mississippi has been covered with fleets of boats from Cumberland, Kentucky, &c. floating down great quantities of provision, flour, plank, &c. which, on account of the distressed situation the inhabitants were reduced to, by the late fire, has been disposed of to great advantage.

“The last transport (as we are informed here) arrived from the Cumberland settlements, at the Natches (a fort still in possession of the Spaniards on the Mississippi, within the limits of Georgia) about a week ago, owned by colonel Armstrong, consisting of six large boats, manned by 30 hands. The garrison standing in need of provisions, though not willing to pay the price which was demanded, the commandant refused to grant them the necessary passport (no American boat is permitted to go to New-Orleans without entering at the fort, and producing a passport) to proceed to New-Orleans.—Our people however disposed of their cargoes to some Americans settled at the Natches, and were on their return home, when the commandant of the fort sent an officer with 50 Spanish soldiers after them, to arrest colonel Armstrong, and bring him to the fort; the colonel refused to obey the order of the Spanish commandant; told the officer that, as an American, and within the lines of the territory of the United States, he was subject to no control of any power on the face of the earth, except to the laws of his own country; he begged the officer to desist from any act of violence, as such would be accompanied with the most serious and fatal consequences.

“The officer still persisting to execute his orders, and one of the Spanish soldiers imprudently presenting his musket at the colonel's breast, upon which the Americans took to their rifles, the Spaniards firing first. An engagement followed; and the 24 Cumberlanders made 50 Dons take to their heels, leaving five killed and twelve wounded on the field of battle; the officer being amongst the dead.

“This affair has made a great noise in this place, and exposes those few of our countrymen now residing here, to the malice of the Spaniards: they have given our countrymen the name of Blanca Savago (a white savage) owing to some of colonel Armstrong's men handling the tomahawk pretty freely in the late engagement.”

TO BE SOLD,

On Monday the fourth day of May next, at the dwelling house of the subscriber,

ALL that TRACT of LAND called EDWARD'S NECK, but better known by the name of FULLER'S or THOMAS'S-POINT; this tract lies within five miles of Annapolis, and contains, according to patent, one hundred acres; a description of the land is unnecessary, as those inclined to purchase can view it before the day of sale. The terms of sale are, one half of the purchase to be paid with interest on the fourth day of September next, the other half with interest on the first day of May, 1790. Bond with approved security to be given for the purchase money, and bond for conveying the land, when the whole of the money is paid.

THIS is to inform the public, that we, the subscribers, have commenced partnership, and intend to carry on the TAILOR'S BUSINESS, in the city of Annapolis, on Fleet-street, near Mr. Abialom Ridgely's store. All persons that will be pleased to favour us with their custom, may depend upon our dispatching their work with all convenient speed.

CLEMENT RICHARDS, JOHN WISHAM.

Montgomery county, April 15, 1789.

NOTICE is hereby given to the late officers and soldiers of the Maryland line, who have not received their land warrants, agreeable to the secretary at war's advertisement, that a number of officers have empowered the subscriber to receive their warrants, have them located, and see their lands surveyed, for which he is to receive one third of the warrants for his own use; he farther informs them that he is willing to undertake to negotiate this business for the whole of the late officers and soldiers on the above terms. Those gentlemen who approve of this plan, and wish me to do their business, will please to be speedy in forwarding their powers to general Williams, in Baltimore, captain Kilty, in Annapolis, major Hardman, in Frederick-town, captain Lingan, in George-town, or the subscriber, in Montgomery county, who intends to apply at the war office in about four or five weeks.

L. Denny LLOYD BEALL.

Charles county, April 14, 1789.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of a captain JOHN JORDAN, late of Charles county, deceased, are desired to bring the same in to the subscriber legally authenticated, and all persons indebted to said estate are desired to make immediate payment, to

JOHN THOMAS, Administrator.

Eight Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, living near the Head of South River, on Tuesday night 14th inst. a negro man named DAVID, about 38 years of age, five feet seven or eight inches high; he has a down look, and generally speaks slow; had on and took with him when he went away, a searought coat, white knapt cotton jacket and breeches, yarn stockings, old shoes, and two ofsnabrig shirs. From his connexion with a certain Nell Hazellep, living on South River, near the Land of Ease, I have every reason to believe she has induced him to take this trip, and think it probable he is now secreted by her. Whoever apprehends the said fellow, and secures him, so that I get him again, shall receive the above reward.

COMMITTED to my custody, as a runaway, the 15th inst. a negro man, by the name of ISAAC, who says he belongs to CLEMENT NORRIS, of St. Mary's county, within about two miles of Leonard-town; he is about five feet four or five inches high, dark complexion, has a scar on his upper lip, has with him a green short coat, a blue ditto and breeches, white linen shirt, shoes and stockings, and a round felt hat. His master is desired to pay charges and take him away.

BENJ. HOWARD, Sheriff of Anne-Arundel county.

ROMULUS,

A BRIGHT bay, nearly sixteen hands high, remarkably strong, handsome and active, will stand this season at Mount Stewart, near South river church, and cover mares at three pounds, and five shillings to the groom. ROMULUS was got by Sweeper, his dam by the imported Ranger, his grand-dam by Ariel, his great-grand-dam by Otello, out of an imported mare. Good pasturage will be provided for mares at 3/6 per week, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. WHEAT, CORN, OATS or TOBACCO, will be taken instead of the cash at the present market prices. 10/9/4

The imported HORSE ECLIPSE,

STANDS at Collington Meadows for this season, and will cover mares at 5l. per mare, and 7/6 cash to the groom. He is a fine chestnut sorrel, with large black spots all over him, a small blaze and one white foot, he is full fifteen hands two inches high, his stock is remarkably stout and beautiful, and his pedigree equal to any horse ever imported. Good pasturage for mares at 3/6 per week, but will not be answerable for any accidents or escapes.

THOMAS HARRISON.

N. B. Produce will be taken in payment at a price that may be agreed upon. 3X

March 5, 1789.

JOLLY ROGER,

WILL cover, from the 25th of April to the last of the season, at SQUIRREL NECK, on Rhode river, the seat of Mr. JAMES CARROLL, at two barrels of corn, to be brought with the mare, or three dollars cash. JOLLY ROGER is a fine shining black, full fifteen hands high, remarkably well and stout made, and is, perhaps, as good a draught horse as any in the state, his blood is between the DRAY and TOM; his dam was a TOM, and his sire the noted horse STIRLING, bred by H. D. GOUGH, Esquire. Mares from ten miles and upwards distant will be pastured gratis, but entirely at the risk of the several proprietors, as the owner of the horse will be answerable for no escapes or accidents.

By virtue of a writ of venditioni exponas, to me directed from the general court, will be exposed to PUBLIC SALE, on Tuesday the 5th day of May next, at Elk-Ridge Landing.

THAT commodious two story brick HOUSE that is now occupied by captain EDWARD SPURRIER, with the lots, containing two acres, and all the improvements thereon; taken as the property of DENNIS GRIFFITH, surviving executor of JOSHUA GRIFFITH, and sold to satisfy a debt due JOHN HALL. The terms of sale will be made known on the day, by

DAVID STEUART, late sheriff of Anne-Arundel county.

2 The sale to begin at twelve o'clock.

On the 30th day of April, 1789, will be SOLD, at the late dwelling house of JOSEPH WATKINS, late of Anne-Arundel county, deceased, A PARCEL of valuable NEGROES, consisting of men, women and children, some household FURNITURE, and STOCK of different kinds, belonging to the estate of the said Joseph Watkins. All those who have any claims against the said estate are desired to bring them in legally proved, and those who are indebted are desired to make immediate payment. The terms of sale will be made known on the day above mentioned.

w3 ANNE WATKINS, Executrix.

Charles county, April 6, 1789.

ALL persons having any claims against the estate of JOHN EDEN, senior, Esquire, late of St. Mary's county, deceased, are hereby requested to exhibit the same, that they may be paid; suits will be commenced against all persons indebted to the estate whether on protested bills of exchange, bond, note, open account or otherwise, neglecting and withholding payments after six weeks notice in the Baltimore and Annapolis papers.

April 12, 1789.

RAN away on Saturday the 11th instant, a NEGRO MAN, named NEHEMIAH, a very black fellow, down look, battle hammed, under six feet high, a great drunkard, and plays on the violin tolerably well; it is uncertain what cloaths he took with him, only a great coat of Bath coating, and of a dark gray colour; he rode off a small bay horse, with a sprig tail, with his two hind feet white up to the fetlock, and a star in his forehead. Whoever secures the said fellow, so that I get him again, shall be paid TEN DOLLARS, and for the horse only, five dollars. The above negro went off with a yellow man of Mr. Richard Darnall's, and it is suspected have made for Baltimore-town.

BENNETT DARNALL.

P. S. The above horse is low in 'heth, caused by the disorder so very common last fall, and several places on his head, where the disorder broke, is very perceptible.

March 21, 1789.

WHEREAS it appears by lists returned to me by several deputies, that a number of persons in this county are in arrears for taxes for 1783, 1784 and 1785; and whereas the general assembly did, at the last session, pass an act authorizing the governor and council to appoint a person or persons to purchase property taken for debts due the state; this is to give notice to all persons that are indebted for taxes as above, that the subscriber shall give immediate directions to his deputies to call on them for their balances, and if they do not pay, to proceed immediately to execute for the same, as no longer indulgence can possibly be given by w5 RICHARD HARWOOD, jun. late collector of Anne-Arundel county.

Annapolis, October 1, 1788.

OBSERVING a number of debtors to the state, as well as other individuals, are often in want of some kind of certificates, and at a loss where to get them on proper terms for their money, and the holders of certificates when in want of cash for them, are likewise at a loss for a market, for want of some particular place to apply, where they could be on a certainty of getting an exchange on reasonable terms.

The subscriber being well acquainted with the different kind of certificates and their passing value, has induced him to offer his service to provide, and inform those that do or may want, that by lodging the needful he will supply them with certificates, or cash, at a short notice, on reasonable terms, on paying a moderate commission. There being a number, who have payments to make in certificates to the treasury, that live at a considerable distance, many of whom wish to make payments as they provide money for that purpose, are prevented for want of the certificates, and not being convenient to ride 50 or 100 miles to get them and make a small payment; those who are thus situated that wish to be provided with certificates, and have them placed to their credit, by forwarding the money at any time may depend on being furnished with certificates, and payment made to their orders, on as good terms as if they were present, by their

FOR SALE,

By the subscriber, appointed trustee by the honourable the chancery court of Maryland,

THAT well known ferry at Rock Hall, lately occupied by Mr. BASIL NOEL. There is on the premises a good framed house, 35 feet square, four rooms on the lower floor, and three lodging rooms, with four fire places, with a passage through the house, and good dry cellar, with a partition therein; there is a good kitchen adjoining the dwelling house, by a very convenient summer room, that has two corner cupboards and seats around the same; the kitchen is lathed and plastered, with convenient rooms above stairs, finished for lodging waiters and gentlemen's servants.

There is a stable with a paved floor, and carriage house adjoining, a negro quarter, meat house, a good corn house, hen house, blacksmith's shop, and a convenient warehouse, at the landing, with a pailed in garden, and a young peach orchard. There is a good well of water in the yard, and a spring within thirty yards of the house.

There is belonging to the above property 150 acres of land, half of which is cleared and under good fences, divided in fields, and two lots of six or eight acres each, adapted to clover or timothy. From its public situation it is well known to possess every advantage that can be expected from keeping a tavern and ferry across the bay to Annapolis and Baltimore-town; it is remarkably healthy; the waters abound with good rock fish, perch, crabs, oysters, and in their season, a quantity of wild fowl. The sale to be made on the premises by public auction, the 12th day of May, if fair, if not the first fair day thereafter.

w6 JAMES RINGGOLD.

March 31, 1789. 4

ALL persons having claims against the estate of Mr. JOHN JOHNSON, late of this city, deceased, are requested to bring them in properly authenticated, and those indebted to the estate are most earnestly called on to make immediate payment to the subscriber, that he may be quickly enabled to discharge the claims against the estate. The very great indulgence which the debtors generally have experienced from the deceased, will, I hope, induce many to pay the proper attention to this advertisement; those who neglect may depend that suits will be instituted against them to November court, without respect to persons.

Mr. GARDETTE, DENTIST,

RESPECTFULLY informs the public, that it has been out of his power to go to Annapolis as he intended, but he will positively be THERE by the middle of May next.

N. B. Mr. GARDETTE'S DENTIFRICE, carefully put up in pewter pots, to whiten and preserve the teeth, fortify and harden the gums, may, in future, be had with directions at the post-office at Baltimore.

The beautiful thorough bred HORSE HYDER ALLY,

STANDS this season at Mount Ararat, my dwelling plantation, six miles below Piscataway, and covers mares at three guineas the season, but in consequence of the scarcity of cash, two guineas will be taken in lieu thereof, if paid by the first of September next.

HYDER ALLY is a fine gray, beautifully dappled, seven years old this spring, full fifteen hands three inches and an half high, remarkably bony and active. His strong resemblance to his sire, whose colts having performed so capitally on the turf, will be a considerable inducement to those who wish to breed fine horses; and the following pedigree (well authenticated) will prove him equal in blood to any horse on this continent:—

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

THE visitors and governors of St. John's College having, on the 10th of May, 1786, authorized Samuel Chase, Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, or any two of them, to appoint a person to collect the money, then or thereafter to be subscribed: we, the said Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, did accordingly, soon after, appoint Archibald Golder, of the city of Annapolis. Of this appointment the public was duly notified. The collector advertised times and places for his attendance in several counties. He attended agreeably to his notice, and moreover made personal application to many of the subscribers. But, although the stipulated periods of payment have long since elapsed, not more than 1500l. out of 11,024l. have been paid.

We have this day renewed our agreement with the collector. Subscribers who have not yet paid their first third, are requested, without delay, to pay the same, and such further part, as they shall think proper, to the said Archibald Golder, or to Benjamin Harwood, treasurer. They will be called on, within a reasonable time, to make the second and third payments, the last of which was due on the 1st of June, 1787.—All legal methods of compulsion would be as disagreeable to the visitors as disgraceful to subscribers. It is the indispensable duty of trustees to adopt such modes of exacting payment, as shall be found necessary, or expedient.

The building of the college was projected, and begun on a plan, in some measure, proportioned to its nominal funds. For a considerable length of time, it has been suspended, for want of money.—The gentlemen who subscribed liberally, and paid with punctuality, had a right to expect, in the course of four years, that the work would be complete, and the seminary beginning to flourish. They cannot but remember the generous patriotic ardor, with which the institution was commenced. They have sustained an injury from all those whose neglect or failure has retarded its progress; and, for their satisfaction, as well as for other purposes, a list of subscribers names, with the sums subscribed, and the sums paid, will probably be published as soon as conveniently may be, after the 12th day of May next.

At a meeting of the visitors and governors, on the 5th of July, 1786, the second Tuesdays in February, May, August and November, were appointed for their quarterly meetings. A sufficient number hath not, since that period, been convened, although extraordinary meetings have been requested, by public advertisement and personal solicitation. As the repeated disappointments of those who have repaired to Annapolis, at their own expence, for the sole purpose of meeting the visitors, may perhaps, without some particular notice, prevent their attendance, at the next regular stated meeting, we take the liberty of most earnestly entreating every gentleman, who has accepted the trust of a visitor and governor of St. John's College, to attend on the second Tuesday of May next. As the general court will be held on that day, we presume no time more convenient can be mentioned.

It is perhaps proper to inform the public, that the number of visitors cannot exceed twenty-four, that not less than nine can form the corporation; that it has never exceeded eleven; that by death it is reduced to ten; that not less than seven have authority to act; and that only two, at this time, reside at Annapolis. It is almost needless to add, that matters of the greatest importance await their consideration. It is much to be wished, that the number were completed or increased. Whether this object may not be attained, provided nine shall be convened, will be debated at their next meeting; and we hope that, if any gentleman be disposed to resign, he will at least bestow his endeavours, that the body may be first enabled to supply his place.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber's quarter in Loudon county, early in last month, a negro man named GEORGE, he is about 20 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, his nostrils are remarkably wide, he sometimes complains of a wart on the bottom of one of his feet, which makes him a little lame; he is a likely sensible fellow: He had on a green jacket and overalls, of nabrig shirt, an old hat, shoes and stockings, and took with him a Dutch blanket, a blue broad cloth coat and breeches, a blue jacket without sleeves, and sundry other cloaths.—He has been seen near this town since he ran away. Whoever will apprehend the aforesaid negro, and deliver him to the subscriber, or secure him in any gaol, so that he may be got again, shall receive the above reward, and if taken out of this state and brought home, all charges paid.

To be LET for a term of years, on good security,

A MOST valuable and beautiful FARM, situate on the north side of Severn river, about six miles from Annapolis, with a parcel of choice SLAVES, STOCK and plantation UTENSILS.

Also a large commodious HOUSE and GARDEN, pleasantly situated, with a quantity of LAND within two miles of Annapolis.

Any person inclinable to lease either of the above farms may be informed of the terms by applying to Dr. WILLIAM MURRAY, in Annapolis, or Mr. PHILIP ROGERS, in Baltimore. 17

RAN away from the subscriber, a young NEGRO MAN, called DAVY, on the 13th of March, 1789; his dress is an ofnabrig shirt, and cotton waistcoat and breeches; it is probable he will change his dress as he has other cloaths; he is an artful, deceiving fellow, about 5 feet 3 or 4 inches high, and stole a large sum of money two or three days before he went off: it is thought he is gone off with his overseer, ROBERT JACKSON, who is gone away with Joshua Pearce's wife. Whoever takes up and secures the said negro, shall be entitled to EIGHT DOLLARS REWARD.

ELIZABETH RAWLINGS.

The beautiful HORSE ROEBUCK,

WILL cover mares this season at the subscriber's plantation in Charles county, at the low price of five pounds currency per mare, and one dollar to the groom, but if the money is paid when the mare is taken away, three pounds, and one dollar to the groom, will be taken in lieu of the five pounds. It is useless to insert his pedigree as it is well known, but it may be seen at his stable. ROEBUCK'S stock is remarkable, both for the turf and saddle, I believe equal to any in the state. Good pasturage is provided for mares that come a distance, at two and six-pence per week, and great care will be taken of them; but I will not be answerable for escapes or accidents. 8v

PROPOSALS,

For Printing by Subscription,

BY
ISAAC COLLINS,
IN TRENTON,

LAW S HOLY BIBLE,

CONTAINING
The OLD and NEW TESTAMENT;
WITH THE
Apocrypha and Marginal Notes.

CONDITIONS:

I. This work, to be contained in one large volume, Quarto, of nine hundred and eighty-four pages, will be reprinted page for page with the Oxford edition, on a beautiful new type, and good paper. An index will be added; and also the Scripture measures, weights and coins.

II. The price to subscribers, for the volume, well bound, four Spanish dollars; one dollar to be paid at the time of subscribing, the remainder on delivery of the book.

III. The work to be put to press as soon as three thousand copies shall be subscribed for, and to be finished without delay.

The Editor has been encouraged, by a number of respectable characters, to offer the above proposals to the public, under a conviction that a handsome American edition of the Bible, in Quarto, will, at this time, be both seasonable and acceptable, as no part of the money will go out of the country.

This consideration, it is hoped, will be an inducement to subscribe, and of course promote the more frequent reading of this most invaluable book in private families. He therefore wishes to attract the attention, and obtain the countenance of people of all denominations; not doubting but that, in the execution of the work, he will be able to give ample satisfaction, both as to its accuracy and neatness.

Subscriptions will be received by Hugh Gaine and Edmund Prior, New-York; by Joseph Cruikshank and William Young, Philadelphia; by Townsend and Paton, Baltimore; and by the editor in Trenton.

It is requested, that the leading characters of all the different denominations of Christians in the United States, who may feel disposed to promote this undertaking, will, as early as may be, grant their assistance in procuring subscriptions—and that the several printers of news-papers in the union will be pleased to insert the above proposals in their papers.

To all whom it may concern.

Mr. Isaac Collins has, for many years last past, been, and still is, printer to the state of New-Jersey: Having by this means had the more frequent opportunities to see his work, I have had abundant proof of the accuracy and correctness of his publications, as well as of his remarkable attention to business.

FOR SALE,

A PLANTATION, on the north side of Severn river, containing about 400 acres, under good fencing, bounding on the river Severn, about five miles distant from Annapolis, with a very good framed dwelling house, with brick ends and cellar, and very convenient out houses thereon; an orchard of excellent young fruit trees.

A description of the soil, wood, timber and situation, are thought unnecessary, as no person would purchase who would not examine the premises. This property will be sold for any state or continental securities, good assigned bonds, or six years credit on bond with security, upon the regular payment of interest at five per cent. per annum. MARYLAND GAZETTE.

T H U R S D A Y, APRIL 30, 1789.

VIENNA, January 17.

We have not yet learnt what effect the capture of Oczakow has had on the minds of the divan; whether it is likely to dispose them towards a peace, or to render them more eager in the continuation of the war. Prince Potemkin, we hear, employs all the Turkish prisoners in repairing the fortifications, and rebuilding the houses; whence it seems probable, that the empress intends at all events to retain that place.

A person of some consequence arrived on Sunday from Berlin; he keeps most strictly incog. and puzzles the whole corps diplomatique to divine the nature of his embassy; as he has not even visited the Prussian envoy at this court. It is conjectured, however, that his mission respects the affairs of Poland, which are becoming more and more critical. It is now pretty certain, that a Prussian army will march in the spring to the frontiers of that republic.

Letters from Jassy of the 10th instant mention, that a detachment from the army, commanded by marshal Romanow, had succeeded in their attempt to dislodge a body of Turks, consisting of 900 men, from Ganguza, pursued them to Kainar, and having driven from thence 700 Tartars, proceeded to the attack of Salutzza, and obtained a complete victory. The enemy lost in these several actions 390 men killed, 77 prisoners, four pieces of artillery, and six colours; whilst the Russians had only one ensign and four men killed, and 24 wounded.

LONDON, January 31.

Extract of a letter from Paris, December 14.

M. de Suffren, who died on Tuesday last, was interred on the Thursday following in the Temple, being a knight of Malta. It is said his physician ordered him to be copiously bled five times in one day. He died, alas! under the murderous lancet, that daily opens to many a victim in France a passage to the other world.

Extract of a letter from Paris, December 17.

In the streets of Paris, a gentleman was attacked by three robbers, who, according to the custom of this country, began by attempting to assassinate him; a hackney-coachman driving by with an empty coach at the same time, and seeing what passed, cried out aloud as if he had a fare, "Gentlemen, alight with your swords, and rescue a gentleman, whom some villains are going to murder!" The assassins alarmed at this cry, immediately took to their heels; the coachman drove to the gentleman, took him in, and conducted him home. In recompence for his assistance, the gentleman gave the poor fellow two Louis d'ors on alighting, and bid the man come next day for a further reward. The poor fellow returned as he was ordered, and found a promise ready written, for a pension of 400 livres a year, which the gentleman gave him, saying, "Friend, you have saved my life, it is just that I should take care of you."

Feb. 17. The accounts of the amended state of the king's health are flattering to a degree. Some of the physicians, it is said, go so far as to declare, that were he a private individual, they should pronounce him perfectly recovered. We trust, therefore, that the united wishes of a loyal and affectionate people will soon be gratified with an assurance that his majesty is capable of conducting the government himself. At the same time that we ardently join in this wish, which we take to be, with very few exceptions indeed, the common feeling of the public in general, we cannot but applaud the prudence and precaution of those who do not wish to risk the disappointment and displeasure of the people, by too early a declaration of his majesty's complete recovery.

The report of the intention of proroguing parliament yesterday for a fortnight, it seems, by the event, was not true. Indeed, however speedily the king may amend, his perfect recovery will hardly happen so soon as to preclude all necessity of a regency.

Extract of a letter from Vienna, January 21.

The alliance between this court and that of Versailles, since the mediation relative to the Turkish war, seems to become stronger. Yesterday another courier arrived from Paris and one from Peterburgh.

It is reported here, that the empress of Russia was just putting the finishing stroke to a plan for a peace with the Porte, and going to send it to our court and that of Paris, when the news arrived of the taking of Oczakow, which occasioned an alteration of the plan, and the keeping of Oczakow was made a preliminary article.

The general talk here is of the preparations made by government to put the provinces bordering upon Poland into the best state of defence possible, upon the supposition of that kingdom becoming a theatre of as inveterate a war as that between the two empires and the Porte. However premature these conjectures may be, there seems but too much reason to fear they may prove in the end well-founded.

During the whole course of his majesty's melancholy indisposition, we trust, that we have fully approved our credit to our numerous readers and the public at large. We have ever been ready to communicate the pleasing intelligence of any actual amendment in the health of the sovereign, when we have been satisfied that the reports of such a probable chance were well founded. We do, therefore, cheerfully announce, that the existing symptoms undoubtedly warrant more particular hopes of a recovery than could have been reasonably entertained a week since: but upon some points, the disorder has continued invariably obstinate, and short paroxysms of violence have from time to time recurred. These appearances may lead to a total restoration of the royal understanding, or they may determine in fixed insanity on the particular points to which we allude. One plain fact is universally admitted, namely, that as yet there is no approach to convalescence; the absolute violence is less; the state of quiet, however, as upon the worst, as to the best effects. It is right to hope for the most favourable issue from the Divine favour, but interested purposes alone can dictate positive assertions of a subject, on which no human skill can yet pronounce with honest decision, and surely it is the basest traffic to take advantage of the terrible vicissitudes of such a disorder to carry on the abominable speculations of Change Alley.

DUBLIN, February 21.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

This day, at four o'clock, the lord chancellor, attended by several peers, and also by the speaker of the house of commons, and upwards of seventy members, went up with the following address to the castle, in order to be transmitted into Great-Britain.

TO HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS
GEORGE PRINCE OF WALES.

The humble address of the lords spiritual and temporal, and knights, citizens and burgesses, in parliament assembled.

"May it please your royal highness,

"We, his majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the lords spiritual and temporal, and the commons of Ireland in parliament assembled, beg leave to approach your royal highness with hearts full of the most loyal and affectionate attachment to the person and government of your royal father, to express the deepest and most grateful sense of the numerous blessings which we have enjoyed under that illustrious house, whose accession to the throne of these realms, has established civil and constitutional liberties upon a basis which we trust will never be shaken; and at the same time to condole with your royal highness upon the grievous malady with which it has pleased Heaven to afflict the best of sovereigns.

"We have, however, the consolation of reflecting, that this severe calamity hath not been visited upon us, until the virtues of your royal highness have been so matured, as to enable your highness to discharge the duties of an important trust, for the performance whereof, the eyes of all his majesty's subjects of both kingdoms are directed to your royal highness.

"We therefore beg leave humbly to request, that your royal highness will please to take upon you the government of this realm, during the continuance of his majesty's present indisposition, and no longer; and under the style and title of prince regent of Ireland, in the name and on the behalf of his majesty, to exercise and administer, according to the laws and constitution of this kingdom, all regal powers, jurisdictions and prerogatives, to the crown and government thereof belonging."

The lords being returned, and the lord chancellor having taken his seat on the woolpack, he informed the house that having waited upon his excellency the marquis of Buckingham with the address to his royal highness the prince of Wales, agreed to by both houses, his excellency declined to take charge of the same, and as answer delivered the following words from a written paper:—

"Under the impressions which I feel of my official duty, and of the oath I have taken as chief governor of Ireland, I am obliged to decline transmitting this address into Great-Britain; for I cannot consider myself warranted to lay before the prince of Wales an address, purporting to invest his royal highness with powers to take upon him the government of this realm before he shall be enabled by law so to do."

The duke of Leinster moved, that the house do adjourn till to-morrow, which was agreed to nem. con. and the house adjourned accordingly.

KINGSTON, January 16.

Extract of a letter from Goolzerburg, January 4, 1789, written by a gentleman in the service of the East-India company to his sister in this island.

"Positive intelligence has been received here, from a gentleman of respectability at Tanjore, that the sultan Tippoo Saib, after concluding a treaty with the Mah-rattas, and somenting divisions among their chiefs, to prevent the renewal of the confederacy against himself, returned to Seringapatam, and occupied himself entirely in completing his vast preparations for war. He has long been desirous of attacking the British, and only waits for a favourable opportunity of commencing hostilities. Directly as his son's marriage, now pending, shall be accomplished, he means to attack the kingdom of Travantore, for which he has made immense preparations; and if the ambassadors whom he has sent to the court of France should return with an answer agreeable to his wishes, he is also determined to enter the Carnatic immediately and attack Madras itself; after having supplied Pondicherry with all the stores and provisions it may require. Some short time ago Tippoo gave particular injunctions to all his auxiliaries to collect the balance due from the rvyotte to the cirar, and ordered all the arrears due to his army to be discharged. He has provided enormous quantities of military stores and provisions, at all the sea ports in his dominions, and to all the ports leading to the Carnatic, particularly at Bargalooze, Sovendroog and Hufour. He added thirty thousand bullocks to the compliment of his artillery, which are now in training. He has a body of five hundred camels each carrying a small piece of cannon upon his back, which are exercised every day, and the number is to be augmented to two thousand. In his stores are a lack of rochoar arrows, and workmen are continually employed in making more.—He is enlisting men in every part of his dominions, but receives only those of high cast and approved bravery. The following is a list of his army already in the field: Twenty-six thousand stable horses; fifty three thousand regular infantry; fifty thousand irregular ditto; matchlocks, &c. and thirty thousand Lascars and artificers. Reports similar to this account are every where flying about, and it is thought highly probable that after the Moonsoon, Tippoo will make some bold attempt. If he molests the Travancory king, it involves us of course, as the latter is included in the offensive and defensive treaty of alliance; and for many eminent services rendered the company, has a claim on their protection; which I believe has been notified to Tippoo, in due form by this government."

"To convince you that the above alarming news is well-founded, I hereby send you the substance of other intelligence, which has been received express from Madras."—General Sir Archibald Campbell, not having received any satisfactory answer respecting Tippoo's formidable armaments, has issued orders from the troops to be encamped immediately after the Moon-foon, and that ten thousand men be constantly in readiness, as a detachment, to watch the motions of Tippoo's army."

NEW-YORK, April 16.

The Algerines are said to be making preparations to render themselves very formidable against Spain in the ensuing spring; but a more powerful opponent is to be expected in his present majesty, than they experienced in the late king. The long mental imbecility of his late Spanish majesty communicated a dulness to the court, which operated as a check to the encouragement both of literature and the polite arts; the Spaniards are not destitute of genius, but they are negligent from want of excitement; the present sovereign, as a man of taste and a friend of literature, will do honour to the throne.

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.

A Mr. Edward Weymen, of Charleston, South-Carolina, has (by advertisement) noticed the directors or managers of glass-houses in the United States of America, that he is perfectly acquainted in the secret art and practice of plate glass grinding, rubbing, polishing, diamond-cutting, and silvering; and is provided with the completest apparatus (out of Europe) to carry on the above branches: All those who wish to encourage American manufactures, and choose to correspond on this subject, and also the casting of plate glass, may receive further information with regard to the manufacture, and the many advantages resulting therefrom, by applying to him, at No. 50, Church-street, Charleston.

The following maxims of the Chinese, deserve the attention and observation of the wisest states:—One of their emperors exhorting the people to industry, told them, "That if in any corner of the empire there was a man that did not labour, there must be another somewhere, who lived in misery and the want of the necessaries of life." The Chinese every where through that extensive empire, religiously observe this doctrine; for the prince who utters a maxim of wisdom to a people so ready to listen to reason, publishes a law.

Yesterday his excellency the president of the United States arrived in this city, about one o'clock, accompanied by the president of the state, the chief justice, the speaker of the assembly, the attorney-general, the honourable Mr. Read, and secretary Thomson, the two city troops of horse, the county troop, a detachment of artillery, a body of light infantry, and a numerous concourse of citizens on horseback and foot.

His excellency rode in front of the procession, on horseback, politely bowing to the spectators who filled the doors, windows and streets, which he passed. The bells were rung, and a feu-de-joy was fired as he moved down Market and Second streets, to the City-Tavern. The joy of our whole city upon this august spectacle, cannot easily be described. Every countenance seemed to say, Long, long live GEORGE WASHINGTON, THE FATHER OF THE PEOPLE! At 3 o'clock his excellency sat down to an elegant entertainment at the City-Tavern, prepared for him by the citizens of Philadelphia. His excellency having travelled with great expedition from Mount-Vernon, proposes to set off early this morning for New-York, where he will receive that power, which is infinitely preferable to an hereditary crown, inasmuch as it is conferred upon merit, by the unanimous and free suffrages of the representatives of near three millions of affectionate and grateful people.

WINCHESTER, April 15.

Wednesday last a person arrived in town from Kentucky, which he left the 23d ult. but gives us no material information, other than that several people have been killed by the Indians this spring, in the vicinity of Lexington; but, our informant observes, these are circumstances which so frequently occur, that they are but little noticed in that quarter, therefore, could not recollect particulars.

ANNAPOLIS, April 30.

A correspondent having favoured us with the copy of the address from the mayor, corporation and citizens, of Alexandria, to the president of the United States, and his excellency's answer, we present them to our readers.

To GEORGE WASHINGTON, Esquire,
PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, &c. &c.

AGAIN your country demands your care.—Obedient to its wishes, unmindful of your own ease, we see you again relinquishing the bliss of retirement; and this too, at a period of life, when nature itself seems to authorize a preference of repose!

Not to extol your glory as a soldier—Not to pour forth our gratitude for past services—Not to acknowledge the justice of the unexampled honour which has been conferred upon you, by the spontaneous and unanimous suffrage of three millions of freemen, in your election to the supreme magistracy—Not to admire the patriotism which directs your conduct, do your neighbours and friends now address you.—Themes less splendid, but more endearing, impress our minds.—The first and best of citizens must leave us! Our aged must lose their ornament! Our youth their model! Our agriculture its improver! Our commerce its friend! Our infant academy its patron! Our poor their benefactor! And the inferior navigation of the Patowmack, an event replete with the most extensive utility, already, by your unremitting exertions, brought into partial use—its infitutor and promoter!

Farewell!—Go, and make a grateful people happy; a people who will be doubly grateful when they contemplate this recent sacrifice for their interest.

To that Being, who maketh and unmaketh at his will, we commend you: and, after the accomplishment of the arduous business to which you are called, may He restore to us again the best of men, and the most beloved fellow-citizen.

In behalf of the people of Alexandria,
DENNIS RAMSAY, MAYOR.

April 16, 1789.

HIS EXCELLENCY'S ANSWER.
To the MAYOR, CORPORATION, and CITIZENS of ALEXANDRIA.

GENTLEMEN,

ALTHOUGH I ought not to conceal, yet I cannot describe, the painful emotions which I felt, in being called upon to determine whether I would accept, or refuse, the presidency of the United States.

The unanimity in the choice—the opinion of my friends communicated from different parts of Europe, as well as of America—the apparent wish of those who were not entirely satisfied with the constitution in its present form, and an ardent desire, on my own part, to be instrumental in conciliating the good will of my countrymen towards each other, have induced an acceptance. Those who know me best (and you, my fellow-citizens, are, from your situation, in that number) know better than any others, my love of retirement is so great, that no earthly consideration, short of a conviction of duty, could have prevailed upon me to depart from my resolution “never more to take any share in transactions of a public nature.”

For, at my age, and in my circumstances, what possible advantages could I propose to myself, from embarking again on the tempestuous and uncertain ocean of public life?

I do not feel myself under the necessity of making public declarations, in order to convince you, gentlemen, of my attachment to yourselves, and regard for your interests. The whole tenor of my life has been open to your inspection; and my past actions, rather than my present declarations, must be the pledge for my future conduct.

In the mean time, I thank you most sincerely for the expressions of kindness, contained in your valedictory address. It is true, just after having bade adieu to my domestic connexions, this tender proof of your friendship, is but too well calculated still further to awaken my sensibility, and increase my regret, at parting from the enjoyments of private life.

All that now remains for me is, to commit myself and you to the protection of that Beneficent Being, who on a former occasion, hath happily brought us together, after a long and distressing separation. Perhaps the same gracious PROVIDENCE will again indulge us with the same heart-felt felicity. But words, my fellow-citizens, fail me. Unutterable sensations must then be left to more expressive silence, while, from an aching heart, I bid you all, my affectionate friends, and kind neighbours, farewell!

April 20, 1789.

A CAUTION,
 To those who are disposed to buy the LAND, HOPKINS'S FANCY.

HAVING conveyances from Gerard Hopkins, Elizabeth Hopkins, widow of the late Philip Hopkins, from the eldest son of Philip Hopkins, from Richard Hopkins the second son, from Richard Dowell and his wife and daughter, from Hutton and wife, another daughter, of their parts of the said land; and having other claims against the said land, it is with concern that I see Richard Hopkins undertake to advertise to sell that land upon the 15th day of April, 1789, without my knowledge or consent. The embarrassment upon it requiring the best counsel, I repeatedly proposed to Richard Hopkins and all concerned, to apply to the honourable the chancellor for his authority and direction, and I went and waited at Annapolis for that purpose a long time in vain: under these circumstances I think it fair to publish this caution. It is my interest that the land shall be sold for the utmost price that can be obtained; and I earnestly desire that justice may be done to every one concerned, but I do not apprehend these good effects will arise under the management of Mr. Richard Hopkins, and I therefore object to his interfering in this manner.

FRIENDSHIP,
 A HANDSOME full bred horse, stands this season at the subscriber's plantation, in Prince-George's county, about seven miles from Bladensburg, and the same distance from Snowden's works, and will cover mares at six dollars each; he is a good sorrel, full fifteen hands high, with length and bone in proportion, and is six years old; he was bred by William Mitchel, Esquire, of Virginia, and was got by Apollo, the property of colonel Henry Lee, out of an imported full bred mare. Apollo was got by general Spotswood's noted stallion. FRIENDSHIP has run two matches, and won both easy. Few horses in this state are equal to him in beauty and form. He covers at half price, owing to the scarcity of cash.

CHARLES DUVAL.
 N. B. Thirty-five shillings will be received if the money be paid by the first day of September next.

The imported HORSE CARDINAL PUFF,
 STANDS this season at Samuel Harrison, junior's plantation, near Herring-Bay, and will cover at three pounds a mare, and five shillings the groom; he is full sixteen hands high, is a sure foal-getter, and his stock very large and handsome. Good pasturage at two shillings and six-pence per week, and proper care taken of the mares.

N. B. Six dollars sent with the mares or paid by the first day of September next, will be taken in lieu of the above three pounds.
 April 8, 1789. 2 3w

NORTHERN ECLIPSE,
 WILL stand for mares this season at London-town, near Annapolis, at two guineas each mare, and a dollar to the groom, the money to be sent with the mares. Pasturage for mares at half a dollar per week, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. This horse is a chestnut, fifteen hands and an inch high, not handsome, but he has some of the best English running blood in his veins, with bone and action.

JOHN CRAGGS.
 NORTHERN ECLIPSE was got by O'Kelly's famous Eclipse, and out of Ameryllis. Ameryllis was got by Adolphus, son of Regulus, and out of Lodge's roan mare, which was got by Partner (the first and most famous stallion then in England) her dam by Baboon, which was got by Badger, her grand-dam by old Traveller, which was sire to the duke of Cleveland's Dainty Davy, which won successively five gold cups at Richmond, in Yorkshire, her great-grand-dam by Snake, then the most capital stallion of his day. This is a true pedigree, as witness my hand,

W. NEWBURN, the Breeder, Cleveland, Yorkshire.

PITT,

WILL stand this season at Mr. Carroll, of Larrollton's farm, near Annapolis, and will cover at the moderate price of twenty-five shillings, or two barrels of corn, if paid before the mare is taken away, otherwise thirty shillings payable by the first of December next, in corn at ten shillings per barrel.

PITT was got by Chatham, his dam, three quarters blooded, by Figure; he is seven years old, a jet black, in high order, fifteen hands high, handsome, strong and active, equal to most horses to breed from.

HENRY JOHNSON.
 4w 3

VENETIAN,

WILL stand for MARES this season at FRANCIS TOLSON, Esquire's plantation, in Prince-George's county, 5 miles from the ferry opposite Alexandria, at five guineas each mare, and a dollar the groom, or three guineas each mare, and three and ninepence to the groom, if paid by the first of August, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. Good grafs for mares at half a dollar per week. Venetian is a fine bay, fifteen hands and an half high, with length and bone in proportion; he was bred by Sir James Pennyman, bart. of Yorkshire, and got by Doge, his dam by Jennison Shaftoe Snap, sire of Goldlander, Gnaupost, Dafey and other good runners, his grand-dam by old Fox; Doge was got by Regulus, son of the Godolphin Arabian, his dam by Crab, his grand dam by Dyer's Dimple, which was got by Leed's Arabian. Venetian, at five years old, won the king's plate at Newcastle, and the fifty pounds for all ages, the same week, beating Mr. Fenwick's famous mare Spider Brusher, and several others, fifteen days after he won the king's plate at Carlisle, beating Lord Surry's famous horse Bon-Mot, and run second to High Flyer at York.

Signed JOHN KIRKTON, Venetian's Jockey.

NOTICE.

WE, the subscribers, appointed by the honourable the chancellor of this state, under and by virtue of an act of the general assembly, passed at the last session, to adjust the claims against ANTHONY STEWART, formerly residing in this city, but now in Nova-Scotia, and to make a dividend of the produce of his estate among his creditors, which was confiscated and sold for the payment of his debts, do hereby give notice, that we have given security for the due performance of the said trust, are ready to enter upon the execution thereof, and to receive the applications of all persons interested; and we do request all person or persons having in their possession any books or accounts of the said Anthony Stewart, to give information thereof as soon as possible. The creditors are requested to meet at Mr. MANN'S tavern, on Tuesday the 26th of May next, at 11 o'clock forenoon.

R. DENNY,
 R. B. LATIMER, } Trustees.

FOR SALE,

By the subscriber, appointed trustee by the honourable the chancery court of Maryland,

THAT well known ferry at Rock Hall, lately occupied by Mr. BASIL NOIEL. There is on the premises a good framed house, 36 feet square, four rooms on the lower floor, and three lodging rooms, with four fire places, with a passage through the house, and good dry cellar, with a partition therein; there is a good kitchen adjoining the dwelling house, by a very convenient summer room, that has two corner cupboards and seats around the same: the kitchen is lathed and plastered, with convenient rooms above stairs, finished for lodging waiters and gentlemen's servants.

There is a stable with a paved floor, and carriage house adjoining, a negro quarter, meat house, a good corn house, hen house, blacksmith's shop, and a convenient warehouse, at the landing, with a paved in garden, and a young peach orchard. There is a good well of water in the yard, and a spring within thirty yards of the house.

There is belonging to the above property 150 acres of land, half of which is cleared and under good fences, divided in fields, and two lots of six or eight acres each, adapted to clover or timothy. From its public situation it is well known to possess every advantage that can be expected from keeping a tavern and ferry across the bay to Annapolis and Baltimore-town; it is remarkably healthy; the waters abound with good rock fish, perch, crabs, oysters, and in their season, a quantity of wild fowl. The sale to be made on the premises by public auction, the 12th day of May, if fair, if not the first fair day thereafter.

JAMES RINGGOLD.
 March 31, 1789. 5

To be LEASED,

SEVERAL LOTS of GROUND in this city, on the Church circle, and the streets called Tabernacle-street, opposite Mr. James Ringgold's, and Lawyer's-street, opposite Mr. John Callahan's. The terms may be known by applying to the subscriber.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

THE visitors and governors of St. John's College having, on the 10th of May, 1786, authorized Samuel Chase, Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, or any two of them, to appoint a person to collect the money, then or thereafter to be subscribed: we, the said Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, did accordingly, soon after, appoint Archibald Golder, of the city of Annapolis. Of this appointment the public was duly notified. The collector advertised times and places for his attendance in several counties. He attended agreeably to his notice, and moreover made personal application to many of the subscribers. But, although the stipulated periods of payment have long since elapsed, not more than 1500l. out of 11,024l. have been paid.

We have this day renewed our agreement with the collector. Subscribers who have not yet paid their first third, are requested, without delay, to pay the same, and such further part, as they shall think proper, to the said Archibald Golder, or to Benjamin Harwood, treasurer. They will be called on, within a reasonable time, to make the second and third payments, the last of which was due on the 1st of June, 1787.—All legal methods of compulsion would be as disagreeable to the visitors as disgraceful to subscribers. But it is the indispensable duty of trustees to adopt such modes of exacting payment, as shall be found necessary, or expedient.

The building of the college was projected, and begun on a plan, in some measure, proportioned to its nominal funds. For a considerable length of time, it has been suspended, for want of money.—The gentlemen who subscribed liberally, and paid with punctuality, had a right to expect, in the course of four years, that the work would be complete, and the seminary beginning to flourish. They cannot but remember the generous patriotic ardor, with which the institution was commenced. They have sustained an injury from all those whose neglect or failure has retarded its progress; and, for their satisfaction, as well as for other purposes, a list of subscribers names, with the sums subscribed, and the sums paid, will probably be published as soon as conveniently may be, after the 12th day of May next.

At a meeting of the visitors and governors, on the 5th of July, 1786, the second Tuesdays in February, May, August and November, were appointed for their quarterly meetings. A sufficient number hath not, since that period, been convened, although extraordinary meetings have been requested, by public advertisement and personal solicitation. As the repeated disappointments of those who have repaired to Annapolis, at their own expence, for the sole purpose of meeting the visitors, may perhaps, without some particular notice, prevent their attendance, at the next regular stated meeting, we take the liberty of most earnestly entreating every gentleman, who has accepted the trust of a visitor and governor of St. John's College, to attend on the second Tuesday of May next. As the general court will be held on that day, we presume no time more convenient can be mentioned.

It is perhaps proper to inform the public, that the number of visitors cannot exceed twenty-four, that not less than nine can form the corporation; that it has never exceeded eleven; that by death it is reduced to ten; that not less than seven have authority to set; and that only two, at this time, reside at Annapolis. It is almost needless to add, that matters of the greatest importance await their consideration. It is much to be wished, that the number were completed or increased. Whether this object may not be attained, provided nine shall be convened, will be debated at their next meeting; and we hope that, if any gentleman be disposed to resign, he will at least bestow his endeavours, that the body may be first enabled to supply his place.

NICHOLAS CARROLL,
ALEXANDER CONTEE HANSON.

Kent-Island, January 28, 1789.

LOST,

FROM Broad Creek, which it is supposed was carried off by the ice, the wind being then at north-east, on Monday morning, the 26th instant, a SCOW, nearly new, about twenty feet long, and eight or nine feet wide, her sides are gum. From the wind being at north-east, it is imagined she drifted down towards Talley's or Thomas's Point. FOUR DOLLARS REWARD will be given for bringing her to Broad Creek, Kent-Island, or TWO DOLLARS if delivered at Annapolis, in care of Mr. John Sands, jun.

JAMES O'BRYON.

Nottingham, November 20, 1788.

For PRIVATE SALE,

SOME valuable LAND, lying in the Fork of Patuxent river, they are two tracts, called DUVALL'S RANGE and OVEN-WOOD THICKSETT, adjoining, containing about six hundred acres, more or less; part of this land is cleared, with dwelling houses, tobacco house and other houses; a good apple orchard, several acres of fine meadow land cleared and sowed, and much more that may be reclaimed; there is great plenty of wood and timber, a never failing stream, and a good mill seat. It will be sold at one, two and three years credit, and in parcels to suit the purchasers. Bond and approved security must be given, and the interest paid annually. Any person who inclines to purchase may view the premises and apply to

THOMAS CONTEE.

OF THE
GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Annapolis, April 19, 1788.

THE subscribers being very anxious that an immediate payment of what is due them be made, that they may be enabled to comply with their engagements; in order to facilitate the collection, have appointed Mr. JOHN WATKINS, to call upon those who have accounts with them, for the same, whose receipt shall be good; they beg that this notice be particularly attended to, as it is not in their power to give any further indulgence; those who incline to call and pay at Annapolis, will always find a person at their late store on the Dock, or at the treasury-office, ready to receive.

THOMAS and BENJAMIN HARWOOD.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber's quarter in Loudon county, early in last month, a negro man named GEORGE, he is about 20 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, his nostrils are remarkably wide, he sometimes complains of a wart on the bottom of one of his feet, which makes him a little lame; he is a likely sensible fellow: He had on a green jacket and overalls, of snabrig shirt, an old hat, shoes and stockings, and took with him a Dutch blanket, a blue broad cloth coat and breeches, a blue jacket without sleeves, and sundry other cloaths.—He has been seen near this town since he ran away. Whoever will apprehend the aforesaid negro, and deliver him to the subscriber, or secure him in any goal, so that he may be got again, shall receive the above reward, and if taken out of this state and brought home, all charges paid.

Alexandria, Sept. 30, 1788.

To be LET for a term of years, on good security,

A MOST valuable and beautiful FARM, situate on the north side of Severn river, about six miles from Annapolis, with a parcel of choice SLAVES, STOCK and plantation UTENSILS.

Also a large commodious HOUSE and GARDEN, pleasantly situated, with a quantity of LAND within two miles of Annapolis.

Any person inclinable to lease either of the above farms may be informed of the terms by applying to Dr. WILLIAM MURRAY, in Annapolis, or Mr. PHILIP ROGERS, in Baltimore.

RAN away from the subscriber, a young NEGRO MAN, called DAVY, on the 13th of March, 1789; his dress is an snabrig shirt, and cotton waistcoat and breeches; it is probable he will change his dress as he has other cloaths; he is an artful, deceiving fellow, about 5 feet 3 or 4 inches high, and stole a large sum of money two or three days before he went off: it is thought he is gone off with his overseer, ROBERT JACKSON, who is gone away with Joshua Beare's wife. Whoever takes up and secures the said negro, shall be entitled to BIGHT DOLLARS REWARD.

ELIZABETH RAWLINGS.

The beautiful HORSE
ROEBUCK,

WILL cover mares this season at the subscriber's plantation in Charles county, at the low price of five pounds currency per mare, and one dollar to the groom, but if the money is paid when the mare is taken away, three pounds, and one dollar to the groom, will be taken in lieu of the five pounds. It is useless to infer his pedigree as it is well known, but it may be seen at his stable. ROEBUCK'S stock is remarkable, both for the turf and saddle, I believe equal to any in the state. Good pasturage is provided for mares that come a distance, at two and six-pence per week, and great care will be taken of them, but I will not be answerable for escapes or accidents. Sw

PROPOSALS,
For Printing by Subscription,

BY
ISAAC COLLINS,
IN TRENTON,

The OLD and NEW TESTAMENT,
WITH THE
Apocrypha and Marginal Notes.

CONDITIONS:

I. This work, to be contained in one large volume, Quarto, of nine hundred and eighty-four pages, will be reprinted page for page with the Oxford edition, on a beautiful new type, and good paper. An index will be added; and also the Scripture measures, weights and coins.

II. The price to subscribers, for the volume, well bound, four Spanish dollars; one dollar to be paid at the time of subscribing, the remainder on delivery of the book.

III. The work to be put to press as soon as three thousand copies shall be subscribed for, and to be finished without delay.

The Editor has been encouraged, by a number of respectable characters, to offer the above proposals to the public, under a conviction that a handsome American edition of the Bible, in Quarto, will, at this time, be both seasonable and acceptable, as no part of the money will go out of the country.

This consideration, it is hoped, will be an inducement to subscribe, and of course promote the more frequent reading of this most invaluable book in private families. He therefore wishes to attract the attention, and obtain the countenance of people of all denominations; not doubting but that, in the execution of the work, he will be able to give ample satisfaction, both as to its accuracy and neatness.

Subscriptions will be received by Hugh Gaine and Edmund Prior, New-York; by Joseph Cruikshank and William Young, Philadelphia; by Townsend and Paton, Baltimore; and by the editor in Trenton.

It is requested, that the leading characters of all the different denominations of Christians in the United States, who may feel disposed to promote this undertaking, will, as early as may be, grant their assistance in procuring subscriptions; and that the several printers of news-papers in the union will be pleased to insert the above proposals in their papers.

To all whom it may concern.

Mr. Isaac Collins has, for many years last past, been, and still is, printer to the state of New-Jersey: Having by this means had the more frequent opportunities to see his work, I have had abundant proof of the accuracy and correctness of his publications, as well as of his remarkable attention to business.

WIL. LIVINGSTON.

Trenton, 12th September, 1788.

For SALE,

A PLANTATION, on the north side of Severn river, containing about 400 acres, under good fencing, bounding on the river Severn, about five miles distant from Annapolis, with a very good framed dwelling house, with brick ends and cellar, and very convenient out houses thereon, an orchard of excellent young fruit trees.

A description of the soil, wood, timber and situations, are thought unnecessary, as no person would purchase who would not examine the premises. This property will be sold for any state or continental securities, good assigned bonds, or six years credit on bond with security, upon the regular payment of interest at six per cent. per annum. Apply to

JAMES RINGGOLD.

NOTICE.

THE subscriber requests all persons indebted to the estate of HENRY MAY, late of Anne-Arundel county, deceased, upon bond, note or open account, to come in and pay their respective balances; also, that all persons having claims against said deceased, will bring them in legally attested, to

RICHARD BEARD, jun. Executor.

March 20, 1789.

ON the application of the trustee of ALEXANDER OGG, the first day of October next is limited and appointed by the chancellor for the creditors of the said Alexander Ogg to bring in and declare their respective claims to the said trustee, that the same may be on that day liquidated and adjusted; due notice hereof to be published in Mr. Green's and Mr. Goddard's news-papers.
