THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1792.

STOCKHOLM, March 20.
HE following account of the attempt to assassinate the king, in the night of the 16th of March, was read in the royal chancery and published by authority in the public papers of the eighteenth.

Last Friday the 16th of March, at three quarters past eleven o'clock at night, a short time after the king had entered the masked ball in the royal opera-house, an unknown mask forced his way through the crowd of masks which surrounded the king, and fired a pistol at him, the charge whereof entered a little above the left hip and touched the back bone.

Although so severely wounded, the king had yet strength enough to walk to the next closet, where he rested on a sofa, and conversed with some of the gentlemen of the court, as well as some of the principal officers of state, who had obtained leave to follow him, with the greatest cheerfulness until the surgeons arrived, when the wound was examined and the first dressing laid on.—His majesty was then carried to the palace, and at 4 o'clock in the morning he was bled.

Immediately after the shot was fired there were found in the opera-room two pistols, one of which the assassin had made use of; but the other was yet loaded with two buck-shot, a quantity of small shot and some points of cut nails.

The assassin, a discharged captain, John Jacob Akerstrom, was discovered the next day, the 17th of March about 10 o'clock in the forenoon and arrested.
He confessed his crime, and acknowledged that the pistol he fired had been loaded with two bullets, the one round, the other beat square, besides with twelve grain of shot and seven small nail points; that the other pistol had been loaded nearly in the same manner; and that he held besides a knife in the other hand, which he had bought but a week before, and intended it to be ground with an edge on each side.

Though the wound has not been fully cleared up of the many parts of the charge, the surgeons nevertheless have been able to assure the distressed royal family, as well as the astonished inhabitants of the capital, that the shot did not touch those parts whose violation might have produced more dangerous consequences for the life of the king.

His majesty is as well as his circumstances will permit, and has enjoyed now and then some rest in his bed.

His majesty not only sustained the examination of the wound, and other pains with that perfect firmity and strength of mind, which have distinguished so many accidents of the life of the king, but he likewise received the royal family, numbers of the court, officers of state, and foreign ministers at his bed-side. His majesty in the same manner himself regulated the royal regency, dictated their instructions, and signed both instruments with his own hand.

The examinations respecting this horrid deed, and all that has any connection therewith, continue in the forenoon and afternoon before the royal court of chancery, and the public will receive in this manner
a possible elucidation respecting an event, which concerns every faithful subject, and which,
at this important moment, never had been heard of in the kingdom of Sweden."

LONDON, April 3.
This morning, about one o'clock, a lieutenant of the Thames frigate, captain Truebridge, brought intelligence to the admiralty and India house, that that vessel had arrived at Portsmouth about one o'clock yesterday forenoon, with dispatches from commodore Cornwallis.

She left Tellicherry on the 28th of December, and the Cape of Good Hope on the 2d of February.—
She did not touch at St. Helena.

The intelligence brought by this vessel is as singular as unexpected, and may eventually be productive of very disagreeable consequences between this country and France.

She brings an account of the Phoenix frigate, captained by Sir Richard Strachan, having taken, on the 19th November last, after a well fought action, the Resolue, French frigate of 32 guns, and is come home for the instructions of government in this unexpected and extraordinary business.

The following account we have been favoured with from a gentleman of rank in the Thames frigate, which may be depended on as strictly authentic:

In August the commodore lying in Trincomalee, detached his majesty's ships, Thames and Vestal to the Malabar coast, and going shortly after to Madras, from the Minerva also, having received intelligence that some neutral ships, under Imperial and French colours, laden with ammunition and ordnance stores from Europe, were to arrive there for the use of the Sultan's army.

Orders were given to the separate commanders strictly to examine all vessels they might fall in with.
He followed himself with the Crown and Phoenix shortly after. Hitherto no ships that were described to him had been seen.

On the 23d of October, at six in the evening, the commodore being on a cruise to the northward, and the Phoenix and Atalanta in Tellicherry Roads, two French ships and a brig were discovered in the Offing.
It being the Atalanta's guard, she got under way to board them, and was followed by the Phoenix; but having little wind, they got into the Mallee Roads, a French port, and close to Tellicherry.

Captain Foot, of the Atalanta, sent a boat with an officer to them, but they refused to be examined, alleging, they were in their own port. Immediately on the boats return, hearing of their resistance, he sent an officer of marines, with a party, with orders to force the hatchways, and examine them; which being effected, they were found laden with merchandise only. This irregular proceeding was, however, hushed up by the commodore's arrival and interposition,
in captain Foot's behalf, with the governor.

Early in November, the Resolue French frigate, of 32 guns, arrived in Mallee Roads, and sailed on the 19th with two merchantmen, at two A. M. from the same port, which it is conjectured was a scheme to discover whether commodore Cornwallis would board
the merchantmen under his protection, an unlucky experiment in the event; for at five A. M. on seeing them in the Offing, he made signals to the Phoenix
and Perseverance to board them; they got under way,
and chased to the northward, as far as Mangalore,
before they came up with them.

When the Phoenix came within hail, she was asked what she wanted? Sir Richard Strachan answered, that he had orders to board the merchantmen in company with her, and would send an officer on board of him to explain the reason.

The first lieutenant, George Parker, went on board;
the French frigate then made a signal, which the merchantmen answered, and made sail; the Phoenix making fail also, to intercept them, leaving the cutter with Mr. Parker some distance a-stern, and firing at the ships on the larboard bow and beam, to bring them too.—The French frigate being on the starboard quarter of the Phoenix, fired two guns shotted to windward, which was thought to be at the boats: the Phoenix next hoisted out her jolly boat, and sent the third lieutenant, Mr. Burt, to board one of them, the Perseverance at the same time boarding the other.

At this time the Phoenix, in backing a-stern, to keep one of the merchantmen from making off, had her ensign staff carried away by her jibb-boom. The French frigate kept firing at the boats, and upon the Phoenix wearing to keep close to her, she fired a broadside into her and commenced the action.

The engagement lasted twenty-five minutes, and terminated by a happy manoeuvre of Sir Richard Strachan, who, on observing the Resolue crossing her haules, luffed up, went under her stern, and raked her with considerable damage.

The Resolue had 25 men killed and 40 wounded, several of whom are since dead, and the first captain dangerously wounded.

The Phoenix had six men killed and eleven wounded, among whom is lieutenant Finley, of the marines, since dead, and Mr. Wilmot, midshipman, wounded.

By the commodore's orders the French frigate was conducted into Mallee Roads and left there, her own officers and seamen refusing to do any thing with her, saying the Resolue struck, and was a prize to the Phoenix, and the commodore might dispose of her as he might think proper. The commodore answered them, that he must refer the determination of the affair to this nation, being of too much importance for him to settle.

Tippoo Sultan was come out of Seringapatam, and had entrenched himself strongly about ten miles from it—Lord Cornwallis and the grand army were advancing towards him, and it is probable their meeting has been decisive; his lordship being determined on an immediate attack, and his army in the highest spirits.

Yesterday some dispatches were received at the secretary of state's office, from Mr. Walpole, his majesty's envoy, at the court of Lisbon; they are dated the 24th of February, and contain an account that the queen of Portugal was much better, and that doctor Willis gave every hopes of her speedy recovery.

The Belmont Indianan is taken up for the exprespurpose of bringing home sugars from the East. She is to sail early in May for Calcutta;—and, what will appear very extraordinary, notwithstanding the assertions of the monopolists of this great town, that sugar is not to be procured in quantity in the East-Indies, it is well known that this ship is expected by the director to be ready to return, completely laden with that article, six weeks after her arrival; so that her return is expected early next spring.

The breach between the colony of the Cape of Good-Hope and the mother country, is become, we fear, too wide ever to be united. The recal of Mr.

Vangrave, the popular governor at the Cape, occasioned much discontent, and the departure of the greater part of the garrison to protect their Asiatic possessions, afforded more ample room for those who before had been sowing the seeds of dissension. The determination of the states to send commissioners, empowered to examine and punish the instigators of the disturbances;
being known at the Cape, those most guilty redoubled their activity, and the barghers at length unanimously agreed, that should the commissioners assume any arbitrary power to repel force by force, they also determined, that all taxes imposed by the mother country should be left to their own discretion for every pecuniary aid they may in future think proper to grant.

Col. Gordon, the vice-governor, has been obliged to retire to the castle, where he is putting it in a state of defence.

It having been humbly represented to the king, that on or about the 7th day of February last an anonymous threatening letter, of which the following is a copy, was received from the post-office in Manchester, in the county of Manchester, by Messrs. Robert and John Grimshaw, of Manchester aforesaid:

"SIRS,
"We have sworn together to destroy your factory if we dye for it and to have your lives for ruining our trade & if you go on you know the certainty which comes unknown to my companions."

That on the night of Thursday the 15th day of March, instant, the weaving factory of the said Robert and John Grimshaw, situated at Knot mill, in Manchester aforesaid, was destroyed by fire, and that there is reason to suspect that the said premises were wilfully and maliciously set on fire by some person or persons unknown.

His majesty's most gracious pardon, and a reward of two hundred guineas, are promised for discovering the offenders.

It having been humbly represented to the king, that on Saturday morning the 17th of March, instant, an anonymous threatening letter, of which the following is a copy, was received from the Manchester post-office by Francis Haywood, of Manchester, in the county of Manchester, cotton merchant.

STATE PAPER.
CONVENTION signed at Vienna the 18th of February, between his excellency the count Coloredo, commissioned for the purpose by his Imperial majesty, and the baron de Bischoffswerder, minister plenipo-tentiary of his majesty the king of Prussia.

1. IT is agreed that there shall subsist between his majesty the emperor, and his majesty the king of Prussia, a firm and lasting concert, as well in behalf of themselves as of their respective allies, for the purpose of taking suitable measures at all times, when occasion may require, to support the honour and dignity of crowns, against any attempts made by wicked persons in rebellion, whether they be their own subjects or those of their friends or allies, or of any prince or potentate whatever, in whose person the sovereign dignity may be exposed to insult.

2. The two high contracting parties guarantee to each other in their respective states, as well as to their different allies, the possession of all the rights, prerogatives and powers, which they enjoy in the said states, or which, by ancient laws and usages, are found to belong thereto, against any change or innovation whatsoever.

3. Their said majesties promise for themselves and their allies, not to take part in any rebellion or revolt which may break out in any neighbouring states, but on the contrary to use their utmost endeavours to suppress it, for which purpose they will not receive any subject of other states into their territories without the knowledge and approbation of the sovereign of those states; they will apprehend and deliver them up when required, and prevent, as much as in them lies, arms and ammunition from being exported out of their dominions, or from being sold in them to strangers.

4. The two high contracting parties agree to use their utmost endeavours to restore to the crown of France the ancient rights and prerogatives which justly

And be it enacted, That so much of the act to which this is a supplement which is inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same is hereby repealed.

PARIS, April 15.

Y letters from Hamburg and Stockholm, we learn, that the king of Sweden died of his wound on the 29th of March. The prince-royal has been proclaimed king—During the minority, the kingdom will be governed by the duke of Sudermania in the capacity of regent.

Letter of M. Gouviou, to the president of the national assembly.

Paris, 14th April, 1792.

Mr. President,

I HAVE the honour to enclose my resignation of deputy to the national assembly. Were I called upon to explain my motives, I should say, that it would be too painful to me to live any longer in a city where some magistrates of the people, rejoicing in the triumph of the murderers of my brother and of his fellow-soldiers, have humbled the national guards, who were stepping forward to support the execution of the law. Let me be placed with true friends to the constitution, and then it will be seen who defend it, we, or the factious.

I am, &c.

GOUVION.

This gentleman was colonel in the army of the United States during the late war.

The following letter is said to have been written by the Bretons, on their arrival at Coblenz, to M. Artois.

"Sir,
THE Bretons have the honour to pay their respects to you; they ask for bread, arms, and the road to Paris."

which M. d'Artois answered,
"I SHALL have, Gentlemen, the happiness of sending my own bread with you, of offering you my sword (if I have no other weapons) and of marching at your head."

The news of the death of the king of Sweden is confirmed in the most positive manner. This intelligence has influenced public credit; for no sooner did it reach Hamburg, but it produced a rise of the exchange with France. It is to be presumed that Sweden, in the embarrassments of a minority, will not attempt to join the league of princes to which Gustavus was so much attached, and that this event will slacken the ardour of the Crusaders against the liberties of France.

Such is the decrease in the consumption of the article of sugar, in this town and neighbourhood, that the whole quantity brought by the last four coasters from London amounts to no more than 86 cwt. and two quarters; when in the year 1791 each vessel has brought from 30 to 40 tons.

Extract of a letter from York, March 10.

A few days since, as some men were digging near the castle, they discovered two stone coffins, in one of which the following words were visible, "Robert Todence, on the other the word "Hall." This is supposed to have been used as a burial-place many hundred years ago; several other stones have been dug out, which attract the attention of the curious.—A Robert de Todence was the original founder of this castle early in the reign of William the Conqueror."

Extract of a letter from Frankfurt, February 26.

Independent of 6000 Croats, 18 battalions of Hungarian and German infantry, and some regiments of cavalry, are ready for marching; they are also preparing a unit of artillery. The regiments of Kiebec and Gammingeren, and the emperor's light-horse, are to repair to Upper Austria, where an army of from 30 to 40,000 men is assembling.

Prince de Waldeck is to command the Imperial troops on the Rhine; and the Russian troops, which are to march towards that place, are, we are assured, to be commanded by prince de Hohenloe, governor of Breslau.

M. d'Artois means to quit Coblenz; where he goes we know not; Monsieur will go to the castle of Guelich.

M. de Polignac has, it is said, obtained leave of the emperors of Russia to raise a corps of Russians, and send them towards the Rhine.

A number of cannons are arrived at Ehrenbreitstein, baled up like merchandise.

On the 21st, M. de Conde, with a numerous army, passed by Mayence in his way to Coblenz.

When Fitzwilliam, own brother to Rockingham, was told on Monday, the horse, of a sudden, started, and in spite of the utmost efforts of the groom, ran violently among the crowd. The horse made a violent plunge, and immediately kicked with both hind feet with great violence; the rear foot actually touched the duke of York's coat, which, if it had been two inches nearer, must have proved extremely dangerous, if not fatal. The duke, with a smile, observed, that "it was a narrow escape."

April 3. An artist of this country has succeeded in applying the steam engine to the business of coining. The difficulty of its construction, and its expensiveness, render it impossible that it should ever be employed by those who counterfeit coin. Its advantages over the common machines are various. It works much more quickly; it cuts out the blanks; it stamps the milling, the face, and the reverse of the piece, at once; the ground receives a fine polish from its pressure alone; all the pieces are exactly of the same diameter: it may be worked by boys, and its use requires little practice.

April 9. Tuesday evening an express arrived at the secretary of state's office, from Robert Liston, Esq; our envoy at the Swedish court, which brought the extraordinary intelligence, that on the 16th of March his majesty gave a grand masquerade, to which all persons of distinction were invited—and that, during the time of festivity, a gentleman of considerable rank fired a pistol at the king, and lodged five slugs in his groin and the bottom part of his belly.

The perpetrator of this horrid act was instantly seized; the account does not say whether or not he attempted to escape, but adds that he refused to assign any reason for what he had done.

The express was sent off a few hours after the event, at which time the king was alive, but it had been pronounced impossible for him to recover.

Information of so wonderful a circumstance instantly spread over Stockholm, for there were many hundred present when the fact was committed. All ranks were in the greatest consternation; some ascribing the assassination to French politics, and others to the malcontents of the diet, at the late proceedings and at the general conduct and designs of the king; but from good authority we can declare, that neither of these was the cause. The author of this remarkable event is a native of Sweden, and it is supposed he was stimulated to it by disappointment, having served long in the army without being rewarded so liberally as he conceived his merits deserved.

Gustavus III. king of Sweden, was born in 1746, and succeeded his father in 1780. He possessed abilities greatly superior to those of his predecessors, and had much more ambition; his understanding had been cultivated, he had an insinuating address, and a graceful and commanding elocution. He was at Paris when his father died, and soon after his arrival at Stockholm he swore to preserve the constitution as established in 1772, and not to introduce absolute sovereignty. He did every thing to gain the affections of the nobles and the people: He gave public audiences three times a week; and to have received an injury, was certain of procuring an introduction; he listened to the meanest of his subjects with affability, and entered into the minutest details that concerned them, by which means he made himself adored. But at the same time he was fomenting the differences between the states, and, by his emissaries, sowing discontent among the people, until, finding the business ripe, he in one hour made the whole senate prisoners, totally overturned the mode of government, rendering himself in fact, though not in appearance, one of the most absolute monarchs in Europe.

His death must give great joy to the friends of French liberty. The Swedish monarchs had long received pensions from France, and Gustavus of Holstein-Gottorp, was an enthusiast for the old government—inasmuch, that he was designed as the commander of the national assembly.

The king of Sweden married in 1776, Sophia Magdalena, princess royal of Denmark, by whom he had issue Gustavus Adolphus, born November 1, 1778.

The assassin of the king of Sweden had been doomed by his majesty to a long and tyrannical imprisonment for having thwarted his ambition in the late revolution and overthrow of the nobles.

April 10. A letter dated the 23d of March, from one of the members of the Swedish ministry, to a Danish gentleman now in London, was then thought to-day, and states, that the king was then thought to be much advanced in his recovery; that he had more appetite than the physician thought proper to gratify; he slept well, and was able to set up three or four hours at a time, conversing with his immediate friends.

The surgeons were also confirmed in their first opinion, that the wound had touched none of the nobler parts, from the circumstances of the functions of nature having been uninterrupted.

The disposition of the wound to suppurate was more certainly apparent; and, upon the whole, there was then no circumstance in his majesty's illness which threatens his life.

The letter adds, that the conspiracy was discovered to have been formed against more lives than that of the king, but mentions only the duke of Sudermania, as having been upon the list of proscribed nobility.

This intelligence, as it is later than that received by ministers, is probably the last upon the subject now in the kingdom.

When the packet, that carried Dr. Willis to Portugal, entered the Tagus, they were met by the royal barge with 120 oars, attended by two cutters, one of which inquired "if the great physician was on board," which being answered in the affirmative, the other cutter drew near the packet; and the prince and princess of Brazil appearing on the quarter-deck, the doctor was formerly announced by the captain; but declining to go on shore in state, was conducted to the duke of Northumberland's hotel, where he was met by Monsieur Pinto, the late ambassador to our court, and several other distinguished personages.

A congress is now spoken of to be held in the middle of July at one of the castles belonging to the elector of Mayence. How feeble and precarious a resource of this nature may be, must be seen at a glance. It is nevertheless a future contingency on which the French emigrants build their hopes.

LIVERPOOL, April 5.

On the sixth of January, as the Turkish grand sultan was at prayers in the mosque of Santa Sophia, a leaden ball of one pound and an half was thrown at him by an Arab, which narrowly missed him, but was aimed with so much violence as to break one of the balustrades upon which he was leaning. The man, as has uniformly been the case through Europe, for some time past, in respect to attacks upon sovereignty, was found to be an outrageous lunatic; but the habits of suspicion which distinguish the dark policy of the Turkish government, forbid every idea of mercy on this occasion. He is considered as a member of a conspiracy formed to produce a revolt, in the capital; and, that there may be no revolt, the grand sultan seems to wish, that there should be no people.

The police have orders, which they execute with very willing rigour, to seize and force from the metropolis all persons, whom they do not know and approve. Every day since that of the assault, hundreds of persons have been accordingly transported into Asia, at the will of the police officers; and the inhabitants live in a state of the utmost terror, being uncertain each night that they may be permitted to remain with their families till the morning.

Many persons of considerable property have been thus removed, and upon this occasion, the ordinary favour arising from religious distinctions has ceased, the Mahometans being treated with no less severity than Christians and Jews.

April 7. A Hampshire curate has offered to fight any man in England for fifty guineas. What occasion have we to fear the downfall of the church, when it can boast such formidable supporters? But we apprehend the gallant divine has more interest in view by his conduct; he knows a curate cannot thrive without the assistance of the rich and great, and the most effectual method of ingratiating himself into their favour, is by shewing himself a man of science, that is a pugilist. For agreeable to the polite taste of the times, a man may sooner box himself into favour, than preach himself in. What is a Watson, a Blair, or even a Curwen, compared with a Big Ben, a Johnson, or Mendoza?

A Shrewsbury print has made a severe attack on the conduct of colonel Tarleton, for boldly standing forward the champion of his constituents, and a friend to the commercial interests of his country. Nay, it has even gone far enough to consign the African trade to the same oblivion in which his military honours sleep.—So let it be! and it will never be forgot, while the names of England or America have being.

What a ludicrous appearance the French Jacobins must cut in their red caps, which they call caps of liberty. Instead of appearing like men restored from slavery to freedom; they must appear like malefactors prepared for the last ceremony preceding their execution.—We do not pretend to any skill in prophecy it is true, but certainly the appearance is rather ominous.

WINDSOR, (Vermont) May 15.

The wife of Mr. Nathan West, of Vershire, in this state, having occasion to go into a pasture near her house, in order to bring home her sheep, to secure them from the ravages of wild beasts, spied a large bear in full pursuit after one of the lambs of her flock. Upon which she immediately called to her favourite dog for assistance. The faithful animal, ever alert at the calls of his mistress, obeyed the command, and eagerly leaped off to secure from destruction the innocent bleating victim. He immediately engaged with the bear, and threw him upon the ground—in which situation he held him, until his mistress, with that degree of fortitude and resolution not peculiar to her sex, came up—when, grasping with one hand a leg of the bear, and with the other, a club, she made such application of the latter to his pate, as almost in-

“Our witer sons no doubt will think us so.”

PITTSBURGH, May 26.

Extract of a letter from en sign Murphy, of the state levies, dated Reed's station, May 22, 1792.

“This morning about sunrise Reed's block-house was attacked by the Indians, and one Casper Redick and a child of John Harbison's killed, and Harbison's wife and two children taken prisoners, and one of the levies wounded: This news I received about four o'clock, and immediately set off for this place, with eleven men; since my arrival here I am informed that John Currie's house is burnt and his cattle killed, and a Mr. Millen's house, up Puckety, was seen on fire. The number of Indians is said to be about forty.”

Two men, a friendly Indian and a white man, who came expris from Fort Franklin, and were on their return on Wednesday last, about twelve miles from this place, on the path leading to that garrison, discovered three Indians—they immediately returned to this place and gave information, when major Smith ordered out a party of forty soldiers, and a small party of volunteers from this town, went in pursuit of them. Neither of the parties had returned when this paper was put to press.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.

From the BOMBAY GAZETTE, November 16.

A curious ceremony, (but a very barbarous one) was observed in the Bhaou's camp, a few evenings ago. It was a woman burning herself with her deceased husband. Much ceremony indeed was not observed, as she was of the poorest sort: She came on horseback, attended by her relations and friends, to the spot where the pile was building; it was constructed of straw, dry cow dung, &c. and about a foot high, on which the corpse was laid, over which faggots of wood were placed, their ends meeting at top, formed a kind of hut.—After taking leave of her attendants, distributing beetle nut, and what little property she had, amongst them, she seated herself on one side of the deceased in the hut, and being furnished with a torch, fired the inflammatory articles below her.

It was evident no kind of compulsion had been made use of which indeed is strictly forbidden by the same law that renders the action meritorious. This victim to superstitious barbarism, was a good looking person, about 30 years of age. A pious resignation was pictured in her countenance, blended with an unaffected concern which so melancholy an occasion must necessarily excite. Still an emanation of joy beamed from her eye, strongly expressive of internal satisfaction: she seemed to anticipate with impatience the approaching awful moment, when she was to receive the reward of her fortitude and fidelity.

On the whole it was to an European, a shocking spectacle, leaving the mind in doubt whether most to admire the heroism of the widow, or to abhor the founders and encouragers of so abominable a practice.

An artist in this city, whose improvements and inventions in mechanics we have had several times occasion to mention, proposes coach springs upon a new construction, the advantages of which over common springs are many and important.

First. From their construction they are less liable to break, and should they give way the body of the carriage remains supported.

Second. The motion they give is more gentle, owing to their doubled sensibility.

Third. The carriage is not subject to that disagreeable pitching motion which is felt, especially in crossing gutters.

Fourth. The carriage is free from the motion produced in common carriages when one wheel takes the gutter before its fellow.

Fifth. The jerk occasioned by starting violently, or stopping suddenly, is in a great measure checked by this contrivance.

No experiment has been made to confirm the theory of this improvement; but from its construction the effects above stated must obviously be produced, and the simplicity of the contrivance would render it of general utility were its advantages once proved by a trial.

Extract of a letter from Pittsburg, dated May 26.

“On Tuesday morning a party of Indians, said to be about forty in number, attacked Reed's station, on the Allegany river, four miles below the Kiskeminitas. They killed one man and a child, wounded a soldier of McCully's corps, and took a woman and some children prisoners. This account came by express from en sign Murphy of that corps, who was stationed near the spot. A small party of Indians were seen the same day, within twelve miles of this town, on the Venango path, which were, no doubt, a look-out party, from those who did the mischief. Exclusive of a detachment of the regulars, consisting of thirty men, sent by major Smith at my request, there are several parties in pursuit of those Indians, both of militia and McCully's rangers: I hope to inform you of their success by next post.”

Extract of a letter from Madrid, dated March 1.

“The following are some of the particulars relative to the disgrace of count Florida Blanca. An officer of the guards, on the night of the 28th of February, waited on the count with an order on the part of the king, enjoined him to withdraw immediately from the capital to what part of the kingdom he thought proper. The minister returned for answer, that he should retire to his paternal mansion some leagues from Murcia. The same officer brought him a letter from the king, which he was not to open till he was at some distance from Aranjuez.—This disgrace, however, cannot be compared to that of the dukes de Lerma and Olivares, as M. de Florida Blanca is accused of no misdemeanor or treason, and his majesty has left him in possession of all his appointments and honorary titles, as a reward for his services.

“M. d'Aranda, who has succeeded him, has, notwithstanding his age, entered on the duties of his office with great spirit, and we hope he will terminate a number of affairs which have been for a long time in a state of stagnation. M. d'Aranda, immediately on entering on the administration of affairs, had a conference with M. Bourignon, at the expiration of which the latter left a courier to Paris.”

June 5. This day arrived the brig Nancy, captain Hathaway, from Havre-de-Grace. The captain left Havre the 21st of April, and informs, that the affairs of France were apparently in a good situation. Since the death of the emperor, assignats had appreciated—and though it was reported that the neighbouring princes held out threats, yet the people seemed to be united, and the national assembly were under no apprehensions, with regard to the complete establishment of their liberties.

June 6. A gentleman lately from the interior part of this state informs, that the country in general bears the most promising appearance of a plentiful harvest. The rye, especially between Lebanon and Lancaster, is an instance of extraordinary growth. Its height is so great as to give the oldest apple orchards the appearance of low shrubbery, by entirely concealing the trunk and lower branches of the tallest trees.—Some stalks of those rye fields actually measured seven feet nine inches. What encouragement must not such an instance of fertility hold out to the industrious husbandman. What a temptation to foreigners, from less favoured climes, to visit the GARDEN OF AMERICA.

The foregoing instance is sufficient to establish our character as an agricultural state; perhaps the following fact as strongly vindicates our claim of pre-eminence in the American republic, as patrons of the useful arts.

Mr. Richard Mason, of this city, has lately constructed a Fire Engine, for the Deligent Company, larger, more complete, and powerful, than any in the United States.

To give an idea of its power, it is sufficient to state, that in one minute and four seconds, it discharges two hundred and thirty-nine gallons. It throws water to the perpendicular height of one hundred and seventy feet, and higher than the four windows near the top of Christ church steeple. When played in an angle of 45°, it throws the water to the horizontal distance of one hundred and eighty feet.

From a late LONDON PAPER.

The following curious notice was lately fixed upon the door of Ludford church, in Hertfordshire, and read in church by the clerk, viz. “This is to give notice, that no person is to be buried in this church-yard, but what lives in this parish; and those who wish to be buried, are desired to apply to me Ephraim Grubb, parish clerk.”

June 7. An ingenious mechanic in England has invented a wooden Automaton, in the human figure. It is about five feet in height, walks about the room (by means of springs) and plays upon several musical instruments in the most natural manner imaginable.—It is said the artist is now engaged in putting together a figure to represent a singing clerk, which when finished, is to sing a number of psalm tunes, not exceeding twenty-four.

Letters from the Havana say, that general Bowles, continues under close confinement in the Moro castle, and is treated with all that rigour which the Spaniards have never failed manifesting towards any person that is found molesting the peace of their settlements in the new world. No foreigner, on any pretence whatever, is admitted to talk with him, nor is he suffered the use of pen, ink, paper, or any other means to correspond with his friends in other parts of the world.

The governor of the island of Cuba has issued a proclamation, dated April 20, ordering all foreign merchants then resident in that island, to depart from thence in forty days.—This order is supposed to have originated, with many others of a like cast, from the narrow and partial policy of the (now exiled) count Florida Blanca.—His ministry being now at an end, it is probable the condition of foreigners both in old Spain and her colonies will be much bettered.

WINCHESTER, May 28.

Our last accounts from the Territory of the United States south of the Ohio, are to the 13th instant—they state, that frequent depredations are still committed by the Indians in that quarter, but that some of them have paid for the scalp, four having been killed lately by a party of militia.—That the boundary line, agreed upon in the treaty which took place last summer, between the United States and the Cherokees, is now running—and that, when this necessary business is accomplished, every exertion will be used by governor Blount to protect the frontiers from any depredations a banditti of outcasts may meditate.

BALTIMORE, June 8.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Hagar's town, dated June 1.

“A young man of good report, from the waters of the Ohio, came to town this day, informs, that 700 riflemen crossed the Ohio at the mouth of Buffalo, above Wheeling, about ten days ago, to make a dash at the Indian settlements at and about Sandusky.

“I wish they may visit the grand council now holding at the rapids of the St. Lawrence. Good luck to them! a treaty at the proper place would do more for us than forty defeats!”

Inspection Houie for Tobacco.

THIS is to give public notice, that the inspection
 house for tobacco, at Beard's Point, on South river, in Anne Arundel county, is now in readiness to receive tobacco for inspection; and, from the large quantity of that article made in the neighbourhood of South river aforesaid, it is expected that a considerable number of hogheads will be brought to this house during the present summer for inspection, and, from its superior quality, it is presumed all persons wishing to become purchasers of tobacco may be well accommodated, and that upon good terms.
 It is thought unnecessary to expatiate on the many advantages of this warehouse, as it is so well known to be situated on a beautiful and navigable river, and not more than ten miles distant from the bay; it is also a well known fact, that the tobacco raised in that part of Anne Arundel county is precisely the same in quality as the tobacco heretofore inspected at Taylor's Landing on Patuxent, which has always been found to suit the European markets as well, if not better, than tobacco of the growth of any other part of Maryland.

WHEREAS the increase of people is a means to advance the wealth and strength of this state: And whereas many foreigners from the lenity of our government, the security afforded by our constitution and laws to civil liberty, the mildness of our climate, the fertility of our soil, and the advantages of our commerce, may be induced to come and settle in this state, they were made partakers of the advantages and privileges which the natural born subjects of this state do enjoy: It is therefore enacted, by the General Assembly of Maryland, That every person who shall hereafter come from any nation, kingdom or state, and before the governor and the council, or before the general court, or any one of the judges thereof, or before any county court of this state, repeat and subscribe a declaration of his belief in the Christian religion, and take, repeat and subscribe, the following oath, or affirmation, if a Quaker, Menonist or Dunker, to wit: "I, A. B. do swear, or affirm, that I will hereafter become a subject of the state of Maryland, and will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the said state, and that I do not hold myself bound to yield any allegiance or obedience to any king or prince, or any other state or government;" which said oath or affirmation, and subscription aforesaid, respectively, the governor and the council, the general court, or any one judge thereof, or any county court, are hereby empowered to administer and take, thereupon and thereafter, he deemed, adjudged and taken, to be a natural born subject of this state; and shall be thenceforth entitled to all the immunities, rights and privileges, of a natural born subject of this state; provided, that no person who shall become a natural born subject of this state, by virtue of this act, shall be appointed to any civil office, or eligible as governor, member of the council or general assembly, or as a delegate to congress, unless such person shall have resided within this state seven years previous to such election or appointment, and shall have the property and estate required by the constitution and form of government, to execute any of the said offices respectively.

And be it enacted, That the clerk of the council shall, before the session of every general court, return a list of the names of the persons who shall take and subscribe the said oath or affirmation, and make the said declaration respectively, before the governor and the council, and the time when taken and made, to the clerk of the general court, to be entered by him among the minutes of the said court; and any judge of the general court, administering and taking the said oath or affirmation, shall return, to the next general court, a list of the names of the persons who shall take and subscribe the said oath or affirmation, and make the said declaration respectively, before him, and the time when taken and made, to the clerk of the general court, to be entered by him among the minutes of the said court.

And be it enacted, That a certificate, by the clerk of the council, or by any judge of the general court, or by the clerk of the general or any county court, of any person's having taken and subscribed the said oath or affirmation, and having made and subscribed the said declaration; or a certificate, by the clerk of the general court, that it appears by the return of any judge of the said court, entered among the minutes, of any person's having taken and subscribed the said oath or affirmation, and having made and subscribed the said declaration, shall be deemed and taken to be a sufficient testimony and proof thereof, and of his being a natural born subject, and as such shall be allowed in every court of this state.

And, to encourage such foreigners to come and settle in this state, Be it enacted, That no tax shall be imposed on any such foreigner coming into this state and taking and subscribing the declaration and oath or affirmation aforesaid, or his property, for the term of two years after his arrival in this state.

And, to encourage such foreigners, tradesmen, artificers and manufacturers, to come and settle in this state, Be it enacted, That no tax shall be imposed on any such foreigner, being a tradesman, artificer or manufacturer, coming into this state, and taking and subscribing the declaration and oath or affirmation aforesaid, or his property, for the term of four years after his arrival in this state.

ETAT DE MARYLAND.

ARRET DE NATURALIZATION,

Passe dans la Séance de Novembre, 1779.

D'AUTANT que l'augmentation du peuple étend naturellement les richesses et la force de cet état: et d'autant que la moderation de notre gouvernement, la securité donné par notre constitution et les loix pour la liberté civile et religieuse, la douceur de notre climat, la fertilité de notre sol, et les avantages de notre commerce, peuvent exciter beaucoup d'étrangers à venir s'établir dans cet état, si on les feisoit participants des avantages et des privilèges dont nos sujets naturels jouissent;

C'est pourquoi l'Assemblée Générale de Maryland a passé un arret, Que toute personne qui viendra dorénavant dans cet état, de quelque nation, royaume, ou état, que ce soit, et qui répètera et signera, pardevant le Gouverneur et son conseil, ou pardevant la cour-générale, ou pardevant quelqu'un de ses juges, ou pardevant quelque cour de comté de cet état, une déclaration de sa croyance dans la religion chrétienne, et prendra, répètera et signera, le serment suivant (ou l'affirmation, s'il est quaker, menonist, ou dunker) savoir:—" J, A. B. jure, ou affirme, que je serai dorénavant fidel sujet de l'état de Maryland; et que " je ne me crois point obligé d'être soumis à l'obéissance d'aucun roi ou prince, ou d'aucun autre état ou gouvernement;" (lequel serment, ou affirmation, et signature susdit, sera administré et pris, respectivement, par le gouverneur et le conseil, ou par la cour-générale, ou par quelqu'un de ses juges, ou par quelque cour de comté, lesquels sont munis de ce pouvoir) sera, dorénavant, estimé et considéré comme sujet natif de cet état, et sera alors en droit de jouir de la liberté et des privilèges du dit état; pourvu, que personne de ceux qui en seront devenus sujets, en vertu de cet arret, ne soit élu pour servir dans aucun emploi civil, comme gouverneur, membre du conseil ou de l'assemblée-générale, ou délégué du congrès, qu'il n'ait fait sa résidence, dans cet état, sept ans préalables à cette élection ou appointment, et qu'il n'ait les biens et fonds requis par la constitution et la forme du gouvernement, pour exécuter aucune des dites charges.

Et qu'il soit ordonné, Que le greffier du conseil portera, à la séance de chaque cour-générale, une liste des noms des personnes qui auront pris et signés le dit serment ou affirmation, et fait la dite déclaration, respectivement, pardevant le gouverneur, et pardevant le conseil, avec le tems qu'ils l'auront pris et fait, pour être donné au greffier de la cour-générale, et pour être mis dans les mémoires de la dite cour: Et tout juge de la cour-générale, qui aura administré et pris le dit serment, ou affirmation, portera à la première cour-générale, une liste des noms des personnes qui auront pris et signés le dit serment, ou affirmation, et fait la dite déclaration, respectivement, devant lui, avec le tems qu'il l'auront pris et fait, au greffier de la cour-générale, pour être enrégistrée dans les mémoires de la dite cour.

Et qu'il soit ordonné, Que le greffier du conseil, ou quelque juge de la cour-générale, ou le greffier de la dite cour, ou celui de quelque cour de comté, donnera à toute personne, qui aura pris et signés le dit serment ou affirmation, et qui aura fait et signés la dite déclaration, un certificat, qu'il paroît, par la liste de quelque juge de la dite cour, enrégistrée dans les mémoires; que toute personne qui aura pris et signés le dit serment, ou l'affirmation, et aura fait et signés la dite déclaration, sera estimé dans toutes les cours de cet état, sujet naturel.

Et, pour encourager les étrangers à venir s'établir dans cet état, Qu'il soit ordonné, Que ceux qui y viendront, et qui prendront et signeront la déclaration, et le serment, ou affirmation susdits, seront exempts, avec leurs biens, de toute impôt, pendant deux ans après leur arrivée.

PARIS, April 21.

Extraits of a letter from Vienna, April 7.

THE assassination of the king of Sweden caused a great sensation here, and no doubt throughout Europe. This event, and its consequences, must cause a great alteration in the proceedings of different courts; and Sweden may be looked upon as snatched away from the grand confederacy against France, as she will find enough to do to quell the discontents which prevail within herself. What our court will resolve upon is not yet known: but it is generally believed that a week or two will shew the joint intentions of the houses of Austria and Prussia.

STATE OF MARYLAND.

ACT for NATURALIZATION, Passed July Session, 1779.

WHEREAS the increase of people is a means to advance the wealth and strength of this state: And whereas many foreigners from the lenity of our government, the security afforded by our constitution and laws to civil and religious liberty, the mildness of our climate, the fertility of our soil, and the advantages of our commerce, may be induced to come and settle in this state, if they were made partakers of the advantages and privileges which the natural born subjects of this state do enjoy:

Be it therefore enacted, by the General Assembly of Maryland, That every person who shall hereafter come into this state, from any nation, kingdom or state, and shall, before the governor and the council, or before the general court, or any one of the judges thereof, or before any county court of this state, repeat and subscribe a declaration of his belief in the Christian religion, and take, repeat and subscribe, the following oath, or affirmation, if a Quaker, Menonist or Dunker, to wit: "I, A. B. do swear, or affirm, that I will hereafter become a subject to the state of Maryland, and will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the said state, and that I do not hold myself bound to yield any allegiance or obedience to any king or prince, or any other state or government; and I will faithfully and lawfully support the constitution, respectively, the governor and the council, the general court, or any one judge thereof, or any county court, are hereby empowered to administer and take) shall, thereupon and thereafter, be deemed, adjudged and taken, to be a natural born subject of this state; and shall be thenceforth entitled to all the immunities, rights and privileges, of a natural born subject of this state; provided, that no person who shall become a natural born subject of this state, by virtue of this act, shall be appointed to any civil office, or be eligible as governor, member of the council or general assembly, or as a delegate to congress, unless such person shall have resided within this state seven years previous to such election or appointment, and shall have the property and estate required by the constitution and laws of government, to execute any of the said offices respectively.

And be it enacted, That the clerk of the council shall, before the session of every general court, return a list of the names of the persons who shall take and subscribe the said oath or affirmation, and make the said declaration respectively, before the governor and the council, and the time when taken and made; to the clerk of the general court, to be entered by him among the minutes of the said court; and any judge of the general court, administering and taking the said oath or affirmation, shall return, to the next general court, a list of the names of the persons who shall take and subscribe the said oath or affirmation, and make the said declaration respectively, before him, and the time when taken and made, to the clerk of the general court, to be entered by him among the minutes of the said court.

And be it enacted, That a certificate, by the clerk of the council, or by any judge of the general court, or by the clerk of the general or any county court, of any person having taken and subscribed the said oath or affirmation, and having made and subscribed the said declaration; or a certificate, by the clerk of the general court, that it appears by the return of any judge of the said court, entered among the minutes, of any person having taken and subscribed the said oath or affirmation, and having made and subscribed the said declaration, shall be deemed and taken to be a sufficient testimony and proof thereof, and of his being a natural born subject, and as such shall be allowed in every court of this state.

And to encourage such foreigners to come and settle in this state, Be it enacted, That no tax shall be imposed on any such foreigner coming into this state and taking and subscribing the declaration and oath or affirmation aforesaid, or his property, for the term of two years after his arrival in this state.

And to encourage such foreigners, tradesmen, artificers and manufacturers, to come and settle in this state, Be it enacted, That no tax shall be imposed on any such foreigner, being a tradesman, artificer or manufacturer, coming into this state, and taking and subscribing the declaration and oath or affirmation aforesaid, or his property, for the term of four years after his arrival in this state.

ETAT DE MARYLAND.

ARRET DE NATURALIZATION, Passé dans la Séance de Novembre, 1779.

D'AUTANT que l'augmentation du peuple étend naturellement les richesses et la force de cet état, et d'autant que la modération de notre gouvernement, la sécurité donné par notre constitution et les loix pour la liberté civile et religieuse, la douceur de notre climat, la fertilité de notre sol, et les avantages de notre commerce, peuvent exciter beaucoup d'étrangers à venir s'établir dans cet état, si on les faisoit participants des avantages et des privilèges dont nos sujets naturels jouissent;

C'est pourquoi l'Assemblée-Générale de Maryland a passé un arrêt, Que toute personne qui viendra dorénavant dans cet état, de quelque nation, royaume, ou état, que ce soit, et qui répètera et signera, pardevant le Gouverneur et son conseil, ou pardevant la cour-générale, ou pardevant quelqu'un de ses juges, ou pardevant quelque cour de comté de cet état, une déclaration de sa croyance dans la religion chrétienne, et prendra, répètera et signera, le serment suivant (ou l'affirmation, s'il est quaker, menonist, ou dunker) " Je, A. B. jure, ou affirme, que je serai dorénavant fidèle sujet de l'état de Maryland, et que je ne me crois point obligé d'être soumis à l'obéissance d'aucun roi ou prince, ou d'aucun autre état ou gouvernement;" (lequel serment, ou affirmation, et signature susdit, sera administré et pris, respectivement, par le gouverneur et le conseil, ou par la cour-générale, ou par quelqu'un de ses juges, ou par quelque cour de comté, lesquels sont munis de ce pouvoir) sera, dorénavant, élimé et considéré comme sujet natif de cet état, et sera alors en droit de jouir de la liberté et des privilèges du dit état; pourvu, que personne de ceux qui en seront devenus sujets, en vertu de cet arrêt, ne soit élu pour servir dans aucun emploi civil, comme gouverneur, membre du conseil ou de l'assemblée-générale, ou délégué du congrès, qu'il n'ait fait sa résidence, dans cet état, sept ans préalables à cette élection ou appointment, et qu'il n'ait les biens et fonds requis par la constitution et la forme du gouvernement, pour exécuter aucune des dites charges.

Et qu'il soit ordonné, Que le greffier du conseil portera, à la séance de chaque cour-générale, une liste des noms des personnes qui auront pris et signés le dit serment ou affirmation, et fait la dite déclaration, respectivement, pardevant le gouverneur, et pardevant le conseil, avec le tems qu'ils l'auront pris et fait, pour être donné au greffier de la cour-générale, et pour être mis dans les mémoires de la dite cour: Et tout juge de la cour-générale, qui aura administré et pris le dit serment, ou affirmation, portera à la première cour-générale, une liste des noms des personnes qui auront pris et signés le dit serment, ou affirmation, et fait la dite déclaration, respectivement, devant lui, avec le tems qu'il l'aura pris et fait, au greffier de la cour-générale, pour être enregistré dans les mémoires de la dite cour.

Et qu'il soit ordonné, Que le greffier du conseil, ou quelque juge de la cour-générale, ou le greffier de la dite cour, ou celui de quelque cour de comté, donnera à toute personne, qui aura fait et signés la dite serment ou affirmation, et qui aura fait et signés la dite déclaration, un certificat, qu'il parait, par la liste de déclaration, un certificat, qu'il parait, par la liste de quelque juge de la dite cour, enregistré dans les mémoires; que toute personne qui aura pris et signés le dit serment, ou l'affirmation, et aura fait et signés la dite déclaration, sera élimé dans toutes les cours de cet état, sujet naturel.

Et, pour encourager les étrangers à venir s'établir dans cet état, Qu'il soit ordonné, Que ceux qui y viendront, et qui prendront et signeront la déclaration, et le serment, ou affirmation susdits, seront exempts, avec leurs biens, de toute impôt, pendant deux ans après leur arrivée.

Et, afin d'encourager les gens de métiers, ou artisans, et les manufacturiers étrangers, à venir s'établir dans cet état, Qu'il ne sera imposé aucun impôt sur eux, ni sur leur biens, pendant le terme de quatre ans, à commencer du jour de leur arrivée dans cet état; pourvu, qu'ils prennent et signent la déclaration et le serment, ou l'affirmation, susdits.

H A G U E, April 15.

THERE is established at the Hague a private committee of French emigrants—it consists but of a small number. This committee is entrusted with the management of the interests of the exiled princes at the court of the Stadtholder.

A courier who arrived here yesterday morning from Treves, brought to the leading persons of this committee, intelligence of the most joyful nature, namely, that the king of Prussia and Francis I. had now settled, not only the number of troops which they were severally to furnish, but the plan of the campaign which they were to adopt against the French.

L O N D O N, April 24.

In the Star of yesterday we mentioned the war-like movements which were observable in different states of Europe.—The jarring interests and opposite views of the European potentates, have for some time indicated but too strongly that an appeal to arms could

...According to letters from Bourdeaux, three hundred
...thousand men have voluntarily enlisted in France,
...upon finding there was a deficiency of little more than ...30,000 in the line of the army. A million of men,
...if it is said, are preparing to follow their example, if ...found necessary. It is mentioned in London papers,
...that so dreadful has been the plague in Egypt that
...three hundred thousand houses have been depopulated,

...can manufacture pot-ash, in a cheaper, easier, and
...more expeditious manner, than hath hitherto been

...of this valuable improvement is said not to exceed five

...to secure the benefit of his industry and ingenuity.
...A CURIOUS FACT.
...At the first discovery of the northern continent of ...America few or no cod-fish were found to the south
...ward of the banks of Newfoundland and Sable island.
...About twenty-five or thirty years ago they were first ...discovered off Sandy-Hook in the vicinity of New ...York. It has been observed that ever since that time
...they have gradually become more and more plenty on
...the fishing grounds off the Never sink, in six, seven,
...and eight fathoms water, and perhaps equally so many ...miles farther eastward. The present season has at ...tended an abundance hitherto unknown in that part
...Within these few years they begin to be found off and
...about the Capes of Delaware-Bay, though in compar ...atively small quantities—and, it is said, two or three
...have been caught last year about Chingoteague shoals,
...in lat. 38, on the coast of Maryland. From these ...facts it would seem that the cod-fish is gradually pro
...gressing southward, and in time may, perhaps, be ...caught along the whole extent of coast belonging to ...the United States.—It is observed by coasting vessels,
...that mackerel are in the same manner advancing more
...to the southward than formerly.—We may conclude
...from hence, that the banks of Newfoundland are the ...original habitation of the cod fish, from whence on ...account of their prodigious increase, they are annually
...pushing out colonies in every direction, where sus
...tenance can possibly be found.

...McGillivray is finally reinstated in his nation—that
...Bowles went with a party of Indians against the ...Spanish settlements, and had robbed a store and com ...mitted other depredations—that the Spaniards had ...been seized, and taken him and his party prisoners—that ...Bowles was sent to the mines, and the Indians per

...to the career of Bowles induced the Creeks to implore
...the protection of general McGillivray, and to solicit
...his return to his country.

Inspection House for Tobacco.

THIS is to give public notice, that the inspection house for tobacco, at Beard's Point, on South river, in Anne-Arundel county, is now in readiness to receive tobacco for inspection; and, from the large quantity of that article made in the neighbourhood of South river aforesaid, it is expected that a considerable number of hogsheads will be brought to this house during the present summer for inspection, and, from its superior quality, it is presumed all persons wishing to become purchasers of tobacco may be well accommodated, and that upon good terms.

It is thought unnecessary to expatiate on the many advantages of this warehouse, as it is so well known to be situated on a beautiful and navigable river, and not more than ten miles distant from the bay; it is also a well known fact, that the tobacco raised in that part of Anne-Arundel county is precisely the same in quality as the tobacco heretofore inspected at Taylor's Landing on Patuxent, which has always been found to suit the European markets as well, if not better, than tobacco of the growth of any other part of Maryland.

Robert Peter, colonel William Deakins, Benjamin Stoddert, Thomas Beall of George, John Ubrakeld, and Samuel Davidson, Esquires, George Town. George Walker, Esquire, city of Washington. Wallace and Muir, and John Davidson, Esquires, Annapolis.

This scheme contains several very valuable lots of land contiguous to the city of Washington, whose increase in value will keep pace with the growth of the rising empire of the United States of America—Hence, therefore, without any further definition, it will be evident that for the small sum of one Guinea a valuable and beautiful country seat may be obtained in the vicinity of the capital of America; or a lot in a town now possessing an extensive commerce.

The subscriber proposes drawing this Lottery in George-Town, on the first Monday in May next, or sooner, if the tickets are all sold, which he flatters himself will be the case from his present prospects. Deeds, with a general warranty, will inmediately be given for the lots of land, and the money for the cash prizes will be paid on demand. Notice will be given of the drawing in the public papers, and a list of the fortunate numbers will be immediately published. The crop now on the lots is reserved to the subscriber. A plot of the lots may be seen at Mr. George Mann's.

TICKETS may be had of Messrs. Wallace and Muir, John Davidson, Esquires, and Mr. George Mann.
JOHN THOMAS BOUCHER.
On account of the severity of the winter the drawing of the above lottery is postponed to the first of August next.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber intends to apply to the next Frederick county court, after due notice hath been given, for a commission to mark and establish the bounds and lines of a tract of land lying in same county, called and known by the name of MIDDLE PLANTATION, from the beginning of same land, to a tract of land called the LAND OF VALLEYS inclusive, agreeable to the act of assembly in such case made and provided.
