THURSDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1792.

WARSAW, July 12.

There are in great spirits here at present, from a very confident rumour through the city, that affairs between this country and Russia are in a train of accommodation—and which is a matter that seems to be generally credited, as the superior order of citizens.

It is granted the rumour may have foundation, and country from a wide spreading scene of blood. What has given cause to this strong hope is, that has certainly had some late conferences de Bulgatow, the Russian minister. In consequence of which, it is said to have transpired, that he insists on a re-establishment of the old constitution. But, though this would never be consented to by the nation, without spilling first an ocean of blood, there are strong grounds to think the will recede from so harsh and extraordinary a demand, and admit of a final accommodation on terms, and consistent with that general faith, which undoubtedly pervades the kingdom, in favour of the present system of government.

COBLENTZ, July 30.

A Russian army, composed of 52,000 combatants, and on the plains near this town, received order at 6 o'clock this morning to begin their march towards Treves, on their way to the borders of France. At their head, and will remain with them the whole of this expedition.

By the prince de Coude, with the troops under his command, will leave the little town of Croux, the light horse and the corps of Gens d'Armes, cantoned near Nicwied, have also left this morning, and have taken the road to Treves, the general rendezvous of all the troops that under the orders of the king's brother.

LONDON, August 4.

Extract of a letter from Mayence, July 19. The following note was sent to the French on the 14th instant:

The undersigned has received orders from his highness, to notify the following to his excellency the minister plenipotentiary of France.

The arrival of the king of Hungary, and Bohemian supreme chief of the empire, the united march of his troops and of those of his majesty, towards the borders of the Rhine, considerable augmentations of the number of migrants in the electorate of Mayence and cent states, are facts which cannot have escaped knowledge and observation of the minister plenipotentiary, and who, in the present circumstances, is indifferent at it, as it is not in the power of his highness to guarantee him absolutely from which may possibly result therefrom.

The elector, jealous to observe every thing that is remarkable to the Droits de l'Empire, towards the power against whom no war has been declared on the part of the empire, wishes to draw the attention of the minister plenipotentiary of France to things leaving to his consideration if it be better to retire from this country in a which in respect to him, does not permit perfect safety, or the usual reception in this town to ministers who are appointed to reside

"The Baron D'ALBINE."

The two greatest prizes allotted by the national assembly of France to important discoveries in natural history, that of 1200 livres, has just been assigned Herchel, for his astronomical discoveries, academy of sciences at Paris.

Mr. Luckner is now upon the frontiers, but at here he has sworn upon his honour, that the and armies of France do not contain 40,000 men. He further advises coercive measures to the army; but those the assembly reject, and he and La Fayette of having betrayed the king, and sold themselves to the king. It is that through the failure of the executive, the armies are every where ill-supplied; for the south, of 7000 men, have only 1000 among them. The king has also named a ministry, all anti-Jacobins; and it is hourly expected some dreadful acts of desperation will be the discovery of the intrigues that have brought about this ministry.

Montequieu has resigned the command of the relation of several lighter skirmishes it is said, that on the 23th of July, the advanced guard of the camp of Mayide, composed of 6000 men, was attacked by a detachment of 10,000 Austrians. The fire was well supported, and the enemy retreating, left about 200 killed, and many taken prisoners, of which latter the number was not known when the accounts came away. The affair took place above Verton, at a little distance from Willancourt; and the French would have pursued their victory further, but for the treachery of two officers of hussars, who deserted to the enemy.

In one part of the field 60 French hussars fell in with a party of 200 hussars, of whom they killed 100, and put the rest to flight, with the loss of only 20 men. The Austrians lost a great part of their baggage in this affair.

Near Maryville there has been a skirmish, which was less fortunate for the French. An hundred men, during an incursion into the enemy's country, were attacked by an entire regiment of Austrians, and only fifty-eight escaped.

The circle of Franconia is said to have given the same answer as the court of Denmark to the solicitations of the allied courts. The directors have declared that they are not interested in the war against France.

The last accounts from Lisbon state the situation of the queen of Portugal to be such, at present, as does not give the skill and experience of doctor Willis.

By letters just received from Isle de Los, on the coast of Africa, dated the latter end of April last, there is an account that two British ships, and one American vessel, were cut off by the natives of Cape Mesurado, at noon the same day, in sight of a great number of other vessels in the same road, then sailing there.

Aug. 11. La Fayette is so much a favourite with his army, that no decree could displace him from his command. There can be little doubt but the Jacobins would be happy to see him dismissed. But the question is—are they attempt it?

General Burgoyne is said to have left five or six children, with their mother, wholly unprovided for. Out of respect to his memory, we are prompted to hope that the report is not true.

No true Englishman surely can read of the present proceedings in France, without a desire, prompted by sentiment and humanity, to rescue the king and queen of that devoted country from the perils which surround them.

The national assembly, while they complain of the desertions from their own army, are doing every thing in their power to entice their enemies to desert. There will be no time, however, for their decrees to take effect, as the duke of Brunwick will come upon them like a whirlwind.

That the present system of anarchy and brutality in France, will soon be annihilated, there is every reason to expect; but what is called a counter-revolution will be effected, we neither wish nor believe. What we understand by a counter-revolution, is the re-establishment of the old government, which, we think, will never be attempted. A system will probably be formed, founded upon principles similar to those of the British constitution.

M. Pétion is doubtless to be considered as the Oliver Cromwell of France. He commands the army to march in the night, with cannon muffled, towards the palace; and when detected, he puts the most convenient construction upon it, which nobody dare dispute.

The Marcellins, a banditti, from the southward, devoted to the Jacobins, have been moved by M. Pétion nearer the royal palace—for what end may be easily guessed.

PITTSBURG, September 15.

On the 4th inst. the Indians wounded a man by the name of Carpenter, as he was riding near Grave Creek, in Ohio county, and took him prisoner. Finding he could not escape he got off his horse and let him run; and the Indians finding they could not catch the horse, gave the man some salt, and ordered him to go and catch the horse, the man accordingly went, but watching his opportunity made his escape, and got safe into the settlement.

PHILADELPHIA, September 24.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at St. Vincent's, to his friend in this city, dated August 15.

"I have got perfectly tired of my situation in the army; and from what I can foresee, to-morrow, and that not very distant, a separation will take place between England and this country. The islands have universally taken strong resolutions against government, similar to those of America."

Extract of a letter from someone, dated August 17.

"There is nothing new with us in the political way. The Jacobins are at peace, though they will on no terms consent to the ranning of the lines agreeably to the treaty.

"We have several times been under apprehensions that they would do some mischief, but these apprehensions have in some measure subsided—the opinions as to the advantages of war are various, but all good men and the most respectable among us prefer peace with them. The Greeks who lie along our frontiers are very numerous and very powerful. I believe war with them would prove extremely pernicious."

ANNAPOLIS, October 4.

On Tuesday the 18th ult. the rev. Dr. CHAS. was consecrated bishop of this state, in New-York, by the right rev. Dr. SAMUEL PARSONS.

Allen Quyn and Gabriel Duval, Esquires, are elected delegates to represent this city in the ensuing general assembly.

To the CITIZENS of PRINCE-GEORGE'S and ANNE-ARUNDEL counties, and the city of ANNAPOLIS.

I FIND myself under the painful necessity of coming thus before you, to remove impressions attempted to be made to my prejudice, by a hand-bill just received, signed "William Campbell." When captain Campbell, at Prince-George's county courts, instead of substantiating his charges against colonel Mercer, found it expedient to go into a justification of his own conduct as agent for this state, and was compelled, by the marked disapprobation of the people, to withdraw his pretensions as a candidate for our district to congress, he pledged himself to bring forward his charges and proofs against colonel Mercer, from that time; he had before committed himself to a gentleman in Bladenburg, by promising to do the same thing, at least six weeks before the election, to give time for an answer. And now that the public mind has been long big with expectation, a plea comes forth, at the eye of the election, not to arraign the public conduct of colonel Mercer in congress, or the state legislature, but to impeach his veracity on two points, in one of which captain Campbell has thought proper to bring forward a charge against mine. In the mutilated flap of facts which this piece contains, a letter appears from Bushrod Washington, Esquire, in which he expresses his surprise, that I should have received "this information" from him. What information? Where is captain Campbell's letter to which this is an answer? And what does it state as coming from me on the information of Mr. Washington? The public are to judge why captain Campbell suppresses his own letter. But captain Campbell, in his eagerness to accuse colonel Mercer, forgets that it was first necessary to prove, that colonel Mercer had not that information through me, which he gave to Messieurs Harwood and Maturon; and I do assert, that at the moment in which he published his hand-bill to the world, captain Campbell knew that colonel Mercer had his information through me, and he knew also that there was a mistake in the business, not made by colonel Mercer, who only mentioned what he had heard, nor by myself but in part, all which will fully appear by the subjoined affidavit. Hurried on, by motives which I need not conjecture, to injure colonel Mercer, captain Campbell has not hesitated to expose my reputation to the censure of the world, when he himself knew me innocent; but perhaps he thinks me too obscure for him to wait a moment's thought on. Elevated by the smiles of fortune, he casts not a look behind. Had captain Campbell (so tremblingly alive to "the honour and dignity of our illustrious president," which need not the pony side of his attentions,) listened to the admonitions of candour in his own bosom, that part of his hand-bill which respects the president would have never seen the light. A public tavern talk, again repeated by me, not to influence the election, with no other mistake on my part than that of one nephew of the president for another, (because I knew that one, being connected by marriage with the family of David Crusford, Esquire, sometimes called Mashborough, where I had once the honour of being introduced to him by that gentleman,) with respect to the whole of which too captain Campbell likewise expressed himself perfectly satisfied so long ago as the sixth of September last, ought not would naturally conclude to have been buried in oblivion long since—but it was considered, that if it could be kept back until the morning of the election, when it would probably be too late to explain it, and then proclaimed to the people partially, and with all the exaggerations in which the law retains to party too frequently indulge themselves, it would have great weight among that class of people whom such men

S C H E M E OF A LOTTERY

For the purpose of disposing of valuable property in the district of COLUMBIA, consisting of three tracts or lots of LAND about one mile north of the city of WASHINGTON; and fourteen lots in the lower part of the town of GEORGE-TOWN, as follows:

LOT No. 1, contains 107 acres, on it are 18 acres of meadow-ground, and a promising young apple orchard containing 175 bearing trees of choice fruit. At the western extremity thereof is a delightful eminence that commands a view of the river Potomac and city of Washington. This lot contains about 16 acres of wood-land, lies upon a main road, and is not more than one mile from the city of Washington.

LOT No. 2, contains 84 acres, and bounds with the preceding lot; about 35 acres thereof are in wood, and about 17 acres in meadow-ground. This lot is bounded on the west by the meandering waters of the Pine-Branch. On this stream is a fall of 21 feet, and abounds with quarries of excellent building stone. On this lot are two beautiful situations for houses.

LOT No. 3, contains 39 acres, and bounds with lot No. 1. This lot contains 20 acres of wood, and is on it a beautiful eminence for a house as a country seat.

The fourteen lots in George-Town are at that end of the town which is contiguous to the city of Washington, and are all advantageous and beautiful situations.

Robert Ester, Colonel William Deakin, Benjamin Stoddert, Thomas Beall of George, John Theobald, and Samuel Davidson, Esquires, George-Town. George Walker, Esquire, city of Washington. Wallace and Muir, and John Davidson, Esquires, Annapolis.

This scheme contains several very valuable lots of land contiguous to the city of Washington, whose increase in value will keep pace with the growth of the rising empire of the United States of America—Hence, therefore, without any further definition, it will be evident that for the small sum of one Guinea a valuable and beautiful country seat may be obtained in the vicinity of the capital of America; or a lot in a town now possessing an extensive commerce.

The subscriber proposes drawing this Lottery in George-Town, on the first Monday in May next, or sooner, if the tickets are all sold, which he flatters himself will be the case from his present prospects. Deeds, with a general warranty, will immediately be given for the lots of land, and the money for the cash prizes will be paid on demand. Notice will be given of the drawing in the public papers, and a list of the fortunate numbers will be immediately published. The crop now on the lots is reserved to the subscriber. A plot of the lots may be seen at Mr. George Mann's.

TICKETS may be had of Messrs. Wallace and Muir, John Davidson, Esquires, and Mr. George Mann.

JOHN THOMAS BOUCHER.

Notice.

AS the subscriber cannot possibly know the fate of a number of his LOTTERY TICKETS now in Europe, for sale, before the last of September, he is under the necessity of extending the time of drawing his lottery to some time in November next.

BRUSSELS, July 12.

INCE the French have repossessed their old encampments, and have adopted their formidable plan of defence, nothing of a very important nature has passed between our troops and theirs. Frequent skirmishes are all that which every day become more bloody from rasing animosity of both parties. On the 8th, a body of Uhlans, in pursuing some French patriots, were attacked by a squadron of Quievrain, were attacked by a squadron of the engagement was desperate and bloody, Austrians were obliged to retire, with a very able loss, besides losing a number of prisoners. The French were likewise considerable.

exhibited a spectacle awful and horrid beyond description.—The mob in their fury seemed determined to destroy every vestige of royalty; the statues of all the kings were overthrown; not even excepted that of the great prince Henry IV. At the throwing down that of Louis XV. several people were killed, and others very much hurt. Every signboard, which had the king's head, was destroyed; and the section of Marcellus have resolved to petition the assembly, that the words, "The king," on the buttons of the national guards, be erased, to give place to those of "Liberty! Equality!"—During the general confusion, M. Petion's father, a venerable old man, was carried about in triumph by the citizens, who congratulated him on having given birth to him whom they styled their real friend.—The citizens killed at the castle, have been interred with military honours.—Paris was illuminated last night, and every thing remains quiet at present.

all Europe.—The Protestant powers play a principal part in the drama; and it is not to be supposed that they wish to restore a system which would naturally resent and punish the share which the Protestants certainly had in effecting the revolution. The subjects of all the combined powers have a great stake in the French funds, and consequently it is much against their interest to do any thing that may lead to a bankruptcy.

An Irish officer in India, writing to a friend, and praising the gallantry of lord Cornwallis, mentions, that in the last action with Tipoo he received two wounds—one in the hand and another in the cane.

Aug. 12. By the official dispatches received yesterday from the British minister, at the court of Lisbon, we learn, that the Portuguese have joined the league against France.

The same accounts mention, that every hope of the queen's convalescence was at an end; and that a place was preparing for her reception, where she is to be confined for life.

Major Lambro, the Russian pirate in the Mediterranean, has sent a manifesto from the Archipelago to the several ambassadors at Constantinople, complaining of the Russian general's having made peace with the Turks, without rewarding him for his services. He swears to continue hostilities against the Turks, but to respect all other European powers.

SUSPENSION of LOUIS XVI.

By an express received in town yesterday evening from Paris, we learn, that on Thursday the motion for the suspension of the king was discussed, and there appeared against the unhappy Louis a great majority.—It was then proposed, that he should be prosecuted as a traitor to the state. A long and warm debate, or rather contention, ensued; after which, it was determined, that this proposition, with the motion for his suspension, should be reserved until the following day, for final decision, when it was expected he would be formally suspended, and the exercise of the executive power invested in the hands of commissioners.

This may be considered as a prelude to greater enormities.—The royal family, stripped of their guards, must fall an easy sacrifice to the cursed fury of the Jacobins—and France, to atone the mighty guilt, deluged in blood.

Lord Hood's fleet is ordered into port—it is conjectured the appearance of this squadron in the Channel had occasioned jealousies both at the courts of Paris and Petersburg, for whose satisfaction its dismantlement is determined.

It was currently reported on Friday in the city, that the would-be regicide Petion had been seized by a number of indignant citizens and hanged at a lamp-iron; but we are sorry to find, upon inquiry, that his execution is deferred until the duke of Brunswick's arrival. The report added, that the Jacobin traitors were dispersing, and this we have the happiness to announce, is actually the case.

Petion, and the Jacobins at his tail, begin to tremble at the consequences of royal profanation, and the last sanguinary expressions of the Parisian assassin, were merely the effects of despair. The seditious recreant and regicide, dare not remain in Paris an hour after the approach of the Imperial and royal armies.

Aug. 14. A letter received from Dover this morning mentions, that since Saturday last upwards of 200 persons have landed there from France, and that every packet brings a great number of persons, all giving most melancholy accounts of the situation in which they left their unfortunate country.

Aug. 18. The duke of Dorset, accompanied by a French ecclesiastic of distinction, who arrived at Nerot's hotel on Sunday last, had yesterday a long conference with the minister, at his house in Downing-street, respecting the situation of affairs in France, since passing the decree of the national assembly for suspending the king.—Mr. Pitt's advice hitherto, has been to remain a spectator only of the French disputes, and in this, no doubt, he has met the concurrence of the sovereign and the nation; but since the dethronement of the king has taken place, a change of measures, it is probable, will, sooner or later, be the consequence.

At Boulogne, a man has been seized with a letter upon him, said to be written by the king of the French to the Austrian army. This, if true, will seal the destruction of the sovereign in the present temper of the people.

By letters from Coblenz we learn, with every appearance of truth, that the duke of Brunswick had fixed on the 16th, (Thursday last) for his march; on which day he was to begin the campaign; he was to move in three columns; and himself with a chosen band to push with all possible expedition for Paris.

LONDON, August 10.

The French national assembly, by the latest accounts, appear to be much less favourably disposed towards the petition of M. Petion, for the disposition of the king, than was at first imagined. Many of those who till lately have been most violent Jacobins, declaim against this petition, as unconstitutional and detestable.

Criminal justice is now conducted in Paris, pretty nearly on the same plan as in London. The fourth session of their criminal tribunal: ended on July 29, in which six prisoners were condemned to capital punishment, thirty-two to imprisonment for different periods, and thirty-three acquitted.

Among the curiosities going to China with the splendid embassy, is a silver swan, so light in its construction, and chased in such a manner, as to appear at a very small distance perfectly natural. The head and the wings also seem to have a natural motion.

Extract of a letter, dated Coblenz, July 18.

From Frankfurt we have just received advices, stating, that a plot of the deepest dye had been laid to assassinate the new sovereign, and to re-act the dreadful tragedy lately performed at Stockholm.

So secretly were the various machinations carried on, that the dreadful plot was upon the point of being put into execution, when one of the conspirators, struck with remorse and horror at the bloody deed, suddenly repaired to a magistrate, and revealed the treason, pleaded his contrition, and surrendered all that could be apprehended of his accomplices; relating, at the same time, who were the principals, and who the agents were for accomplishing the tremendous villainy.

On taking these depositions, the magistrate immediately repaired to the duke of Brunswick, who, in conjunction with the elector, issued orders for arresting comte de Wittgenstein, commander of a regiment in the service of the French princes, and cousin of the Prussian general of that name; likewise Messieurs Lequin, La Ceste, De-Pimodan, and Mr. Vinezac, a major of the national guard at Paris, resident near Coblenz."

It was yesterday circulated, with an air of authority, that the duke of Brunswick marched on the 4th instant. It was also reported, on what ground we know not, that it was not yet determined whether or not he would march at all. Were there any thing like union and co-operation between the king and the national assembly, general Dillon's account of the Austrian troops on the Flanders frontier, would render the latter report highly probable.

The recent misunderstanding between Russia and the Porte has not arisen from the intrigues either of the French or Poles, but from a difference respecting the appointment of an archbishop of Jassy. The Hospodar refused to ratify the choice of the Russians, after the departure of their army; a courier has been dispatched to Constantinople to take the sense of the Divan on the subject, and in the mean time all the metropolitan, throughout the province of Moldavia, are suspended.

Spain appears firm in her neutrality with respect to French affairs. As a proof of this, part of the line of troops formed towards the Pyrenees is withdrawn. One obvious reason for this moderation is the derangement of the finances, no minister having yet been found capable of bringing the receipt and expenditure to a level, and the usual temporary expedients for supplying the necessities or the extravagance of government having been attempted without success.

Whatever may be the success of the combination against France, it is not to be imagined, at least not on any principle of sound policy, that an attempt will be made to revive the old system of government, which, under Louis XIV. threatened the liberties of

The evacuation of Bavay, and raising the Malplacquet, were not effected without a violent action, which took place in the night. The Austrians had two captains of grenadiers, a Hungarian and two first lieutenants, in all 15 officers killed. The 1st at night, 32 waggons came into this city, laden with sick and wounded men; 20 more were expected this day. The French have recovered the whole province of Luxembourg, and all communication between the fortresses of that province and the Pais Bas. They have seized a quantity of powder and ammunition which they found in the castle of St. Hubert, at Ballogne, and at Allons.

an of accommodation, relative to the affairs of which is now on foot, and which appears to be conducted principally by the court of England, depends, for the present, the decision of the general, on the part to be taken by Holland in concert of powers.—Some hopes are entertained that an arrangement may be brought about, by a secret plan, as will satisfy all parties. The secret object of the mission of Messieurs Chauvignard and Perigord is principally to forward this plan, which is to be submitted to the conference of the emigrant princes at Coblenz, by Mr. de (son of lord Hawksbury), who has undertaken this journey for this particular object. The plan the basis of the present French constitution will be preserved, excepting as much as goes to the entire suppression of titles of nobility, who, it is thought, will have an establishment, by means of a chamber, or of hereditary peers, as in England. By this means tranquillity is expected to be restored in France; for the emigrant princes will be without further aid or assistance if they reject the plan, or insist on a restoration of exclusive privileges; and the court of France, and many of the people, have, it is believed, agreed to the plan to the violent republicans, some of their measures expected to be brought over to the measure of a bone thrown to them to pick. It is even said that the English government, on presenting these overtures, will declare itself against those who reject the conciliatory proposition; a circumstance which cannot fail to have great weight with the interested.

the many other insulting and indecent offers to the king, the community have demanded, the day of the celebration of the birth of Louis XVI. should be set aside, and no longer be observed as a festival.—The assembly have decreed, that the edict on that subject should be annulled. The passions of men begin to subside, we are to collect more accurately the particulars of the tumult. To procure arms the populace broke the gates of the Arsenal, and several of the cannons near the Thuilleries were set on fire.—The furniture in the palace, were destroyed; but those who attempted to carry away any privately, were punished with instant death. The citizens, by way of triumph, carried the cloths of the Swiss on the points of their bayonets. Amidst these scenes of horror, the women no signs of that sensibility natural to their sex, any of them mixed boldly among the mob. At eight o'clock the light of the flames, the appearance of night, and the sight of many dead bodies, especially those of the Swiss exposed quite naked,

The following is said to be the distribution of the forces now going to attack France, and the plan of their operations:—The army in the Brisgaw, of 40,000 men, is to penetrate into, and over-run Alsace. The second army, likewise of 40,000 men, is to enter Lorraine, and take Metz.—The third, of 30,000, marching through Brabant, is to invade French Flanders:—And the fourth, which is the strongest, consisting of 60,000, is to open its way into Champaign, and march directly to Paris.

Aug. 21. The British cabinet, it is rumoured, on Friday night last, came to the determination of recalling Earl Gower, Mr. Lindsay, and all the members of our embassy at the French court.

Colonel Oswald, an able engineer of America, is the proprietor of a patriotic news-paper in Philadelphia; he has been some time in London, and is going to make a campaign against the Austrians and Prussians, under La Fayette, with whom he has successfully fought many a day in the cause of the Rights of Man.

PHILADELPHIA, October 3.

The ship New-York, captain Smith, arrived at New-York on Saturday last, in thirty days from Plymouth. The following is an abstract of important intelligence received by the above vessel:

The question on M. de la Fayette is decided by the national assembly—the committee reported that he had been guilty of high treason, &c.—at the close of the debate on this report, there appeared 224 members of the assembly in favour of accepting it, and 400 against it. On leaving the hall, the majority were grossly insulted by a great mob, among which were a number of fish women.—Accounts were received in London the 14th August, that the king of the French had been before the assembly, and was deposed.—The Swiss guards cut to pieces, and that the queen and dauphin had thrown themselves on the mercy of the national assembly.—This happened on the 10th August.

The statues of all the kings were thrown down, and every vestige of royalty destroyed. The king is sent to the hotel of justice—he is furnished with a guard under the orders of the mayor of Paris—who with the commandant of the national guard are answerable for his safety; he is allowed 500,000 livres for his expences, until the meeting of a national convention.

“The national assembly declares that the king is suspended; and that both himself and his family remain as hostages; and that the assembly proceed to replace them; that the civil list cease to take place.

“GENSONNE, president.”

An important decree has passed the national assembly—“That as the patriot of to-day may be a traitor to-morrow, ALL OFFICERS SHALL BE CHOSEN BY THE SOLDIERS.”

The fifteen southern departments of France have offered from 400,000 to 30,000 livres for the heads of the emperor, king of Prussia, &c. &c. and it is said the emperor and king of Prussia have offered a million for that of M. Peiton, mayor of Paris. M. Clermont de Tonnerre, and a number of other persons of distinction were killed in the commotion on the 10th August. The Swiss guards consisted of 700 men, after having killed about 1000 of the mob, which amounted to 100,000—12 pieces of cannon loaded with grape shot being brought to bear on the guards, they were soon mowed down.

The decree of the national assembly to allure the Austrians to desert, has had such an effect, that 700, it is said deserted in one night—Paris was again in tranquillity at the date of the last accounts—Marshal Luckner had surrounded and taken 500 Austrians, with 220 horses and six cannon.

The new constitution of Poland is revoked; this measure was recommended by the king as the only alternative to prevent the further effusion of blood, and the dismemberment of the kingdom.

A cessation of hostilities has taken place between the Russians and Poles, and on the 29th July the treaty was to be ratified.

M. de la Fayette, speaking of the Jacobin club, in his letter to the national assembly, says—“Can you dissemble that a faction, and, to avoid vague denominations, that the Jacobin faction has occasioned all the disorders.—It is to that faction that I loudly impute them.

“It is there that, in public sittings, love of the laws is denominated aristocracy, and their infraction, patriotism.”

“There the assassins of Desilles receive triumphs—the crimes of Jaurdan find panegyrits—there also the recital of the assassination that stained the city of Metz, excited internal acclamations of joy.”

On Tuesday last the jockey club purse of forty guineas, was run for over the course near this city, and won by Mr. Tayloe's sorrel horse Nontoaka.

Yesterday the jockey club purse of twenty guineas, was run for over the same course, and won by Mr. Tayloe's bay colt Seringapatam.

The following gentlemen are recommended to the voters of Maryland as electors of president and vice-president:

His excellency Thomas Sim Lee, Esq; Alexander C. Hanson, Esquire.
Charles St. Mary's, and Calvert counties, J. H. Stone, Esquire.

Anne-Arundel and Prince-George's, John Hall, Esquire.

Montgomery, and that part of Frederick attached thereto, Benjamin Stoddert, Esquire.

Washington, Allegany, and that part of Frederick attached thereto, Philip Thomas, Esquire.

Baltimore-town and county, J. E. Howard, Esquire.

Harford, Cecil and Kent, Peregrine Lethbrury, Esquire.

Caroline, Talbot and Queen-Anne's, Edward Lloyd, Esquire.

Dorchester, Somerset and Worcester, John Done, Esquire.

This arrangement will give an elector for each of the districts within this State, and governor Lee and Mr. Hanson are such characters as it is expected all Maryland will willingly combine to elect.

A recent ANECDOTE.

Part of the Old American Company have, for two months past, played at the theatre in Lancaster, and it is but justice to Miss Smith's performance, to mention the following humorous anecdote—

The character of Jane Shore, in the tragedy of that name, was played by Miss Smith—An honest countryman, who by no means wants either sense or understanding, but who had never before seen a play performed, was very attentive in the gallery; and when Miss Smith appeared in the latter end of the tragedy, his feelings were so worked upon, that he shed tears, gave a loud sigh, and was making his way down as fast as he could. Upon being asked what ailed him, he replied, “Let me alone, I am going to buy some cakes for that lady—Isn't it a pity that that woman should die with hunger? Let me go; I will indeed; I care not for the king's commands, or any body's.” Had this honest soul not been prevented, he actually would have appeared on the stage, and added a new, but superfluous, character to the dramatis personæ of Jane Shore.

LOT No. 1. contains 107 acres, on 13 acres of meadow-ground, and a promising young apple orchard containing 175 bearing trees of choice fruit. At the western extremities thereof is a delightful eminence that commands a view of the river Patowmack and city of Washington. This lot contains about 15 acres of wood-land, lies upon a main road, and is not more than one mile from the city of Washington.

LOT No. 2. contains 84 acres, and bounds with the preceding lot; about 35 acres thereof are in wood, and about 17 acres in meadow-ground. This lot is bounded on the west by the meandering waters of the Piny-Branch. On this stream is a fall of 21 feet, and abounds with quarries of excellent building stone. On this lot are two beautiful situations for houses.

LOT No. 3. contains 39 acres, and bounds with lot No. 1. This lot contains 20 acres of wood, and has on it a beautiful eminence for a house as a country seat.

The fourteen lots in George-Town are at that end of the town which is contiguous to the city of Washington, and are all advantageous and beautiful situations.

Robert Peter, colonel William Deakin, Benjamin Stodert, Thomas Beall of George, John Threlkeld, and Samuel Davidson, Esquires, George-Town. George Walker, Esquire, city of Washington. Wallace and Muir, and John Davidson, Esquires, Annapolis.

This scheme contains several very valuable lots of land contiguous to the city of Washington, whose increase in value will keep pace with the growth of the rising empire of the United States of America—Hence, therefore, without any further definition, it will be evident that for the small sum of one Guinea a valuable and beautiful country seat may be obtained in the vicinity of the capital of America; or a lot in a town now possessing an extensive commerce.

The subscriber proposes drawing this Lottery in George-Town, on the first Monday in May next, or sooner, if the tickets are all sold, which he flatters himself will be the case from his present prospects. Deeds, with a general warranty, will immediately be given for the lots of land, and the money for the cash prizes will be paid on demand. Notice will be given of the drawing in the public papers, and a list of the fortunate numbers will be immediately published. The crop now on the lots is reserved to the subscriber. A plot of the lots may be seen at Mr. George Mann's. TICKETS may be had of Messrs. Wallace and Muir, John Davidson, Esquires, and Mr. George Mann.

JOHN THOMAS BOUCHER.

20 Notice.

AS the subscriber cannot possibly know the fate of a number of his LOTTERY TICKETS now in Europe, for sale, before the last of September, he is under the necessity of extending the time of drawing his lottery to some time in November next.

As the above property is low, and the furniture at cash prices, and there being but little more than two and a quarter blanks to a prize, it is hoped the public will see the advantage in purchasing tickets. The lottery will be drawn some time in September next, or sooner if the tickets are sold, of which public notice will be given. Proper managers will be appointed previous to the drawing.

Tickets may be had of Messrs. George Mann, John Randall, William Goldsmith, Richard Mackabin, and at the Printing-Office.

Eight Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, on the 12th inst. a negro man named WILL, about 23 years of age, five feet nine or ten inches high; had on, when he went away, a round felt hat, osnabrig shirt and trousers, and a coarse cloth over jacket, short and round, he had other cloaths with him, which cannot well be described, he is likely, of a very dark complexion, full faced, and has a remarkable fine set of teeth, he is slow of speech, and rather awkward in his manners, is a tolerable good blacksmith, but has never worked as foreman of a shop; he was formerly the property of Henry May, late of this county, blacksmith. This fellow was taken out of gaol at Alexandria, Virginia, about eight days ago, but has since made his escape; when he was apprehended he had a forged pass in his possession, and it is expected he may have procured another. Whoever takes up the said negro and brings him to me, or secures him in any gaol so that I get him again, shall receive the above reward.

RICHARD BEARD.

N. B. It is probable this fellow may endeavour to pass for a free man, as there are many free blacks passing about the country; when he went to Alexandria his intention was to have made his escape by water, I therefore forewarn all masters of vessels, and others, from harbouring or concealing him at their peril, if they should they may expect to be dealt with agreeably to law.

P A R I S, August 11.

SEVERAL causes have concurred towards the dethroning of Louis XVI. and completely estranging the affections of the nation from the monarch. Time, that sooner or later unfolds every thing, will probably discover that the king has acted completely the political hypocrite. There is no doubt but himself, the queen, and some others of the royal family, had contrived to hold steady correspondence with the combined enemies of France, and the national spirit was in consequence roused to dethrone him, and endeavour to unite upon some solid plan of resistance to the combined despotic forces, before it became too late. The main charge against the king was, that he had interested himself in preventing supplies being sent to the army, by which means he expected they would fall an easy prey to the invaders, who were to replace him on the throne.

Aug. 12.—In the engagement on Friday between the populace and the guards, there remains no doubt but the Swiss fired first, but not until they were pressed upon in the most violent manner, and their guns miserably turned round, and planted against the palace. M. d'Affry gave the order to fire. The federates of Paris and Marseilles rushed forward, and in a few minutes there was a dreadful slaughter. The Swiss retreated to the palace, and kept a most fatal fire from the windows. The dead lay in heaps. The quays were full of people armed and unarmed, and directing their fire deliberately into this multitude—the massacre was dreadful. It did not, however, intimidate the assailants. Seven pieces of cannon were played on the batteries and the Louvre. They made breaches in the old walls in a short time; but their impetuosity from the place de Caroufal was irresistible. They broke in, and in a few minutes the multitude filled the palace; every Swiss that came in their way perished; numbers found temporary safety in the cellars and streets, and were with difficulty saved from the rage of the people. I can give no perfect account of the mad. From the number yet unburied, or thrown in the Seine, or burnt; for a fire was made in the place de Caroufal, in which the furniture, the tapestry, &c. of the palace was consumed, and into which, the wantonness of cruelty, many bodies (such as they knew to be gentlemen) were thrown; I suppose there were not fewer than 2500—some carry the number much higher—and others diminish it to a very small number indeed—but this will by and by be ascertained. The names I have heard are those of M. d'Affry, the abbe Bouillon, Carle, Mandat, &c.—the palace is completely dismantled. The day was excessively hot, and they regaled themselves on the king's wine: they brought it out in immense quantities; and it was not uncommon to see men and women, after their own draught, put the bottles to the mouth of the dead lying in mangled heaps, with the spirit of furious sport which they have all along exhibited, crying, "Here, take your last drink!—Drink the nation!"—The horrors of the day cannot be described to you in adequate language, for the beginning of our career in July, 1789, was exceeded.

M. Maudart, the commander of the national guard, was arrested going down the stair-case of the Hotel de Ville. He was seized by the people, beheaded, and his head fixed upon a pole and carried through the streets. In about an hour from the commencement of the attack on the palace, not one Swiss was left. Ninety who survived their colonel, and gen. d'Affry, defended quarters, but they were conducted to the place de Greve, and there put to death. About three hundred Marseillais have fallen, and near a thousand citizens, among which were several women and children, whom curiosity had led towards the scene of blood.

All the Swiss, above 500, were put to death, and the people carried the remnants of their cloaths on the ends of their pikes in triumph. The pavilions of the place, near the place de Caroufal, were afterwards set fire, as well as the Swiss barracks. The maids of honour of the palace were conducted to the Section; the rest of the persons on duty were put to death. The wine cellars were alone plundered. The jewels, plate, &c. were brought to the assembly, and deposited in safety.

The attack at the palace began before ten o'clock—Marseilles officer appeared at the principal door of the palace, and demanded entrance for himself and his banditti from a Swiss officer who commanded there. The Swiss replied, that his orders would not permit him to comply. The Marseilles officer instantly applied a pistol to his breast, and shot him through the heart.

M. Sully, the queen's secretary, is likewise among those whose heads were cut off in the palace. Many of the women belonging to the palace, and some others, met an equally unfortunate fate. They fled for safety, and had reached the bridge.—

Knowing that their lives were in danger, if they were taken, about twenty threw themselves over the battlements into the water, and were drowned.

The king and queen behaved themselves with great fortitude. The king's countenance throughout shewed signs of the most perfect composure. The queen looked with an air of magnanimity and disdain on her enemies.

It is said that the king is to have a public trial on the 28th of this month, August.

The new ministers, as appointed by the assembly, are—

- M. Danton, minister of justice.
- M. Le Brun, minister for foreign affairs.
- M. Roland, minister of the interior.
- M. Servan, minister of war.
- M. Monge, minister of marine.
- M. Clavierre, minister of contributions.

The king, queen and family, bore their condition with great equanimity. The president's room was assigned for them, and there they have remained ever since. The palace Bourbon is converted into a prison for the Swiss, and for all the persons whom they choose to apprehend upon suspicion. The Feuillant and some other journals are stopped, and by opening letters they have gained a pretty general knowledge of their enemies, and they are searching them in numbers; what they really propose to themselves, whether they have any prospect of standing their ground, and trying a republic, or whether the handful of leaders mean to fly as soon as the foreign army or the French army makes its approach, for either will be equally fatal to them, I know not.

This dreadful scene, however it may close upon the fate of France, or upon the fortune of liberty, ought to be a lesson to every government that true wisdom consists in fair dealing; and that to cajole, to trick, and to play the hypocrite with a whole people, is as weak as it is wicked; I say this, because I am persuaded, that the want of candour, more than treason in the court, has brought upon them this catastrophe. They wished an increase of power, which in due time the nation would have given them, but too eager, they tried to accomplish it by secret and dishonest means.

WAR WITH RUSSIA.

M. Le Brun, secretary for foreign affairs, notified the assembly, that the empress of Russia had declared war against France; the Imperial Catharine, from the most remote corner of the north, ordered Frenchmen to reinstate Louis XVI. in all his royal prerogatives—M. Genet, the French ambassador, had been expelled Russia.—Referred to the Diplomatic committee.

Louis XVI. is now in the Temple; he was transferred there last Tuesday.—M. Petion was in the same carriage with the king and his family—Louis XVI. seemed afraid: the crowd on the Place Vendome hindered his coach from proceeding; and it stopped exactly opposite to the demolished statue of Louis XIV. The fall of that magnificent idol must have awoke strange reflections in his swollen breast, all inimical to the vanity of terrestrial affairs.—O Louis! how easy might it have been for you to have avoided such humiliation.

We hear that general La Fayette was on the 12th informed of the events of the 10th. It is said he did not credit the report, and that he added these words—"Let what may be said, my army will obey me."

D O V E R, September 26.

The following letter, from a private soldier in captain Cais's company, 2d United States regiment, to his friend in Durham, being of a late date may contain something new.

MARIETTA, July 25, 1792.

"I am now living in the village of Marietta, and am in perfect health, and hope this may find you well also. I would inform you, that the Indians are very troublesome in these parts; they are daily killing or taking some of our people. The week before last there was a party of our men consisting of a serjeant, corporal, and sixteen men, out reaping, about a mile from Fort Jefferson, when on a sudden they were saluted with a volley of shot which laid fourteen of our men dead on the spot, and two escaped, the party of Indians were supposed to be about eighty. General Wayne is now at Pittsburg, and we expect to be called away daily, or at least as soon as he reaches this place; and then we do suppose that we shall have another spirit with them. We are now very well off, and receive the best of provisions, cloathing and money every three months—besides that, the pleasure of hunting and sporting upon the beautiful banks of the pleasant Ohio. I would not really exchange places with the best men of you, not for the world, for I never lived better and more at my ease since I was born, than I do now, and nothing wanting, but the presence of my old friends, to complete the happiness of."

"Your most obedient, P. C."

NEW-YORK, October 4.

The Stockbridge paper of September 25, says.—A gentleman in the Genesee country, writes to his friend in this town, in a letter dated the 10th instant, as follows—"We have news from Niagara, that general Wayne has had an engagement with the Indians, and gained a complete victory, having destroyed 1300 of the savages—he took no prisoners. This is report, but we are in hopes that the intelligence is well founded." [We join our hopes with the letter writer, but hardly dare indulge the belief that time will authenticate the report.]

The governor of Bermuda has issued a proclamation allowing the importation into the Somers's islands, in any foreign vessels, from any foreign ports whatever, of salted provisions, live stock, Indian corn, rice, flour, &c. until the first November next.

It is said, that a great scarcity of provisions, grain, &c. has been experienced at Bermuda.

PHILADELPHIA, October 8.

By accounts from France, per the Patsy Rutledge, captain M'Pherson, so late as the 26th of August last, which is eleven days later than the news per the New-York, captain Smith, we hear the king was still safe in the Temple; and had not been tried. The duke of Brunswick was marching towards Paris, and had threatened to put every person to the sword there in case of opposition. The marquis de la Fayette, with eight of his principal officers, had all been taken prisoners by the Austrian peasants, as he and those eight officers were reconnoitring the Austrian lines, and the marquis is now lodged in the castle of Antwerp.—This account comes from a respectable merchant at Ostend; it was however the general opinion that the marquis and eight brave officers well armed, would never suffer themselves to be taken by countrymen, unless they had premeditated the business themselves.—This gave rise to strong suspicions, that the marquis and those officers, seeing that their lives were in hourly danger in France, had fallen upon this mode of deserting over to the Austrians—but in opposition to this, it was said, that as the marquis and his party whilst reconnoitring, had not worn their uniforms, but were taken in disguise, this will furnish the duke of Brunswick with an excuse for treating them as spies, and consequently the marquis will lose his life.

Under these ideas it cannot be presumed that he would leave his own army, although his life might have been there endangered, to risk a worse fate from the hands of the Austrians—at all events it was the generally received opinion, that he had been taken with his own consent. And until we hear further accounts, we must remain in this state of suspense, respecting French politics. The people at Ostend are of opinion that the duke of Brunswick is able to march through all France without meeting much opposition. This, however, is easier to speak, than it may be found in acting.

Oct. 10. The intelligence which was inserted in our paper of Monday, respecting the capture of the marquis de la Fayette by some Austrian peasants, although it is conveyed in the most dissident language, seems to leave room for an idea that that gallant, patriotic soldier had premeditated the transaction. To credit this, however, would be to suspect the marquis of an ungentleman-like action, of which he is incapable. The only just surmise that ought to be entertained of the business is, that he and the small party who were arrested with him had really intended an escape from France. They had stood firm to the constitution until they beheld it infringed by the suspension of the executive head. Their commissions of consequence were out of force, as having been signed by the king. They had little prospect of saving their own lives by remaining in France, and therefore resolved to quit a country which it seemed impossible to them could be saved from impending desolation. But in the execution of their design, they were accidentally arrested and lodged in the castle at Antwerp. This is the whole of the matter, nor can any other colouring be put over it, unless by misjudging or malicious politicians. La Fayette has been deceived by both parties. He wished to support the king constitutionally, but the king and his private friends have deceived La Fayette by their intrigues; and thus he has been cruelly handled on all sides. May the hand of Providence secure his life and fame from every danger!

General Putnam, (says a letter from an officer at Marietta) having despaired of a treaty with the Miamies, has gone to the Wabash, with a view of detaching some of the tribes from the general combination; but, I am sorry to add, with little prospect of success.

A French gentleman, recently from the Wabash, informs, that the Indians are employed in removing their families beyond the waters of the Mississippi, in order that the warriors upon their return, may be less incumbered for battle. We have also a report in circulation, that a party lately pushed into the French settlement of Gallipolis, and killed and scalped two or three persons. Such is the aspect of Indian affairs at this period.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Cape-François, to his friend in this city, dated September 18.

"At last the forces under the command of general Desparbes, arrived yesterday. They consist of 6400 men, of whom 4000 are national guards. The new civil commission arrives with them. The general appears ready to dispense with ceremony and etiquette, and is anxious only for the safety of the remains of the unfortunate colony.

"The civil commissioners are busy in preparing proclamations previous to exerting the strong arm of power.

"It was full time that this succour should arrive, the unhappy province of Cayes is nearly ruined, and by the manoeuvres of an infernal cabal the slaves of the parish of Gros Morne were driven to follow the example of the rebels in the northern part.

"The timely and courageous exertions of the inhabitants of Borgne, aided by colour citizens, have dispersed some bands and destroyed 3 or 400 insurgents, besides capturing 100, fifty of whom have been executed; the remainder are kept for examination, to endeavour at discovering the movers of the insurrection."

WINCHESTER, October 8.

Two traders of this town, who have stores in the territory of the United States south of the river Ohio, last week received letters from their agents there, from which we have taken the following extracts:

KNOXVILLE, September 12, 1792.

"I am sorry to inform you of our present alarming situation—the five Chickamauga towns, as well as the Creeks, have declared war against the United States, and the celebrated John Watts has marched at the head of 500 warriors, with the intent of committing depredations on some part of the frontiers—Many imagine they are destined against this place, others Cumberland—Unaneketi is in the number. Last night a sentry, at a station not more than nine miles from hence, was fired at. The people on Nine-Mile, which I left yesterday, are preparing to erect fortifications, as they are all on the frontiers of this country. We have nothing but musterings and expresses, and war-talks frequently.—I was fortunately in Chora at the critical period of their declaring war; and discovered the result of their councils, role all night, express, to give governor Blount the information. The governor immediately called the people of the country out for the defence of the frontiers. I must conclude, my friend, with a hope that congress will relieve our helpless state, in doing which no time is to be lost."

FRENCH BROAD, September 19, 1792.

"I have been informed that there are 600 Indians out against this part of the country—likewise, that they have killed two men, brothers, of the name of Gillespy, who lived on Holstein, below Knoxville, and that Knoxville is evacuated."

BALTIMORE, October 11.

From a late LONDON PAPER.

CAUTION TO MARINERS.

The commissioners of his majesty's customs, in Scotland, received a letter on Thursday last, from Mr. John Campbell, commander of the Prince of Wales cutter, in the service of the customs, stationed in the Western Islands of Scotland, of which the following is a copy, viz.

"I beg leave to report to your honours, that there is a sunk rock lying very near in the Fair-Way, going into the entrance of the harbour of Loch-Aylort, in Muidart.

"On the 25th of June last, I went to it in a boat at low water. Upon some part of it there were seven feet, and upon the shoalest part one and one half water, but depth of water sufficient all round it—bears from Illangour nearly N. W. per compass, distance half a mile, or thereabout. As it is a very dangerous rock to those who may have occasion to frequent said Loch, and it not being laid down in Mr. McKenzie's charts, I think it my duty to acquaint your honours of the same.

(Signed) "JOHN CAMPBELL."

RAYNER TAYLOR,

RESPECTFULLY begs leave to return thanks to the gentlemen of the vestry of St. Anne's, Annapolis, for the favour they have conferred on him, by appointing him their Organist, and hopes to merit their approbation, and that of every person who may contribute towards the supporting him in that office, by his attention to the duty of the church. He likewise begs leave to inform those ladies and gentlemen, who may chuse to take instructions in music, that he will be ready to receive the honour of their commands, before the expiration of the ensuing month.

ANNAPOLIS, October 18th, 1792.

Fencing Academy.

JOHN B. LEMAIRE,

PUPIL of the ROYAL ACADEMY, from PARIS,

PRESENTS his compliments to the gentlemen of Annapolis, informs them, he will open a Fencing School in this city the beginning of November next. Mr. LEMAIRE hopes that his strict attention will procure him the approbation of his employers; that beautiful accomplishment, gives a vigour and easy motion to every limb, and throws the frame into the most graceful attitude.

Those gentlemen who may please to encourage his Academy, will call at the Printing-office, or at Mr. Mann's, for the number of pupils they intend to put under his tuition.

Annapolis, October 12th, 1792.

RAN AWAY on the 2d of this instant, a negro lad named ISAAC, about nineteen years of age, five feet five or six inches high, dark complexion, and stammers very much in his speech if he is spoke to very sharp by any body; if he has any marks I know them not. Any person securing the above fellow in any goal, so that I get him, shall receive THREE POUNDS, and all reasonable charges paid by

NICHOLAS WATKINS, of Stephen.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of ANNER WILKINS, late of the city of Annapolis, deceased, are requested to bring them in legally proved, and all those indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

H. and R. DAVIDGE, Adm'rs.

James Robardet,

RETURNS his most grateful sense of gratitude to those ladies and gentlemen who have patronised his SCHOOL, during the last summer. He respectfully informs the citizens of Annapolis and adjacent, that he intends to return agreeable to his employers, by their particular request, to open his school again about the month of April next. He feels happy in having received so much politeness from the most respectable characters of this city.

Annapolis, the 13th October, 1792.

I WILL give a REWARD of TWELVE DOLLARS, for apprehending and delivering to me, or confining in any goal, TOM, a mulatto, about twenty-seven years of age, about the middle stature, by trade a carpenter, very fond of his hair-wool, and generally has it queued and tied with eel skin.

PEE, a dark mulatto, under the middle stature, thick and well set; these fellows, on pretence of petitioning for freedom in the general court, have eloped several times, and PEE in August last was taken up on South-river near the ferry and brought home, dressed, having several changes, cannot be described, they call themselves SHORTER, but probably may take the name of BUTLER. The above reward will be paid for both, or SIX DOLLARS for either; as they have made an acquaintance about South-river and in the neighbourhood of Annapolis, it is presumable they lurk thereabouts.

THE subscriber being unable to discharge his debts intends to petition the general assembly,
at their next session, for an act of insolvency.

WILLIAM KEENE, junr
Dorchester county, September 12, 1792.

Upper-Marlborough, Sept. 25, 1792.
COMMITTED to my custody as a runaway, a
mulatto lad, about 20 years of age, by the name
TOM, who says he belongs to Daniel McCarty, of Stafford county, Virginia; he is five feet four inches
a half high; had on and with him the following articles of cloathing, viz. one blue cloth overcoat, and ditto overalls, three osnabrig shirts, two ditto trousers, two osnabrig jackets, and an old hat bound with linen. The owner is desired to bring him away by the 8th day of November, or he will be sold for his fees and other charges, by WILLIAM D. BEALL, Sheriff of Prince-George's county.

of all the merchants on Patuxent.

No. 1, contains all woodland, Bennet's creek running through it, and lies within thirty miles of the federal city, fully worth the estimated amount. 2 to 7 contains very valuable land lying near the town of Lower-Marlborough, where wood commands 20s. per cord, the cartage to the water little more than half a mile from the extent of the land, and each lot to have the privilege of a cart way to the water. Deeds, with general warranties, to be made for the land. Plots of the land may be seen with each of the managers. The cash prizes to be paid on demand; the snuff warranted
genuine and good, and to be delivered at Lower-Marlborough. Crop or transfer notes for tobacco, on Patuxent, will be taken in payment at the market prices. Ten per cent. deduction to be made to those who pay the cash before the day of drawing. The lottery is purposed to be drawn on the third Tuesday
in June next, if the tickets are all sold, at Lower-Marlborough. Notice will be given of the time, and a list of the fortunate numbers published immediately after drawing. Country produce will be taken at the market-price, if delivered at the subscriber's mill within one month of drawing the lottery.

For the purpose of disposing of valuable property in the district of COLUMBIA, consisting of three tracts or lots of LAND about one mile north of the city of WASHINGTON; and fourteen lots in the lower part of the town of GEORGE-TOWN, as follows:

LOT No. 1, contains 107 acres, on it are 18 acres
of meadow-ground, and a promising young apple orchard containing 175 bearing trees of choice fruit. At the western extremities thereof is a delightful eminence that commands a view of the river Patowmack and city of Washington. This lot contains about 16 acres of wood-land, lies upon a main road,
and is not more than one mile from the city of Washington.

LOT No. 2, contains 84 acres, and bounds with the preceding lot; about 35 acres thereof are in wood, and about 17 acres in meadow-ground. This lot is bounded on the west by the meandering waters of the Piny-Branch. On this stream is a fall of 21 feet, and abounds with quarries of excellent building stone.
On this lot are two beautiful situations for houses.

LOT No. 3, contains 39 acres, and bounds with lot No. 1. This lot contains 20 acres of wood, and has on it a beautiful eminence for a house as a country seat.

The fourteen lots in George-Town are at that end of the town which is contiguous to the city of Washington, and are all advantageous and beautiful situations.

Robert Peter, colonel William Deakins, Benjamin Stoddert, Thomas Beall of George, John Threlkeld, and Samuel Davidson, Esquires, George-Town. George Walker, Esquire, city of Washington. Wallace and Muir, and John Davidson, Esquires, Annapolis.

This scheme contains several very valuable lots of land contiguous to the city of Washington, whose increase in value will keep pace with the growth of the rising empire of the United States of America—Hence,
therefore, without any further definition, it will be evident that for the small sum of one Guinea a valuable and beautiful country seat may be obtained in the vicinity of the capital of America; or a lot in a town
now possessing an extensive commerce.

The subscriber proposes drawing this Lottery in George-Town, on the first Monday in May next, or sooner, if the tickets are all sold, which he flatters himself will be the case from his present prospects.
Deeds, with a general warranty, will immediately be given for the lots of land, and the money for the cash prizes will be paid on demand. Notice will be given of the drawing in the public papers, and a list of the fortunate numbers will be immediately published.
The crop now on the lots is reserved to the subscriber.
A plot of the lots may be seen at Mr. George Mann's.
TICKETS may be had of Messrs. Wallace and Muir, John Davidson, Esquires, and Mr. George
Mann.

29 JOHN THOMAS BOUCHER.
Notice.

AS the subscriber cannot possibly know the fate of a number of his LOTTERY TICKETS now in Europe, for sale, before the last of September, he is under the necessity of extending the time of drawing his lottery to some time in November next.

THREE POUNDS REWARD.

RAN away the first instant, from the subscriber,
living near Annapolis, a NEGRO MAN, named TOM, about 21 years of age, five feet two or three inches high, a likely well made fellow; had on when he went away, a pair of nanken breeches, old woollen jacket, country linen shirt, and old felt hat; it is supposed he will make towards the Manor, on West river, as his father lives there, with Mr. Benjamin Owens. Whoever takes up and secures the said fellow, so that his master gets him again, shall receive twenty shillings reward, if taken above ten miles from home thirty shillings, and if out of the state the above reward, including what the law allows, paid by
JOHN WORTHINGTON.

CAME to the subscriber's plantation, near the Fork-bridge in Anne-Arundel county, in November last, a small red and white BULL yearling, marked with a swallow fork in the right ear. The owner is desired to prove his property, pay the charges, and take him away.

or three persons. Such is the aspect of Indian affairs at this period.

Extra of a letter from a gentleman in Cap-François, to his friend in this city, dated September 18.

"At last the forces under the command of general Desparies, arrived yesterday. They consist of 6400 men, of whom 4000 are national guards. The new civil commission arrives with them. The general appears ready to dispense with ceremony and etiquette, and is anxious only for the safety of the remains of the unfortunate colony.

"The civil commissioners are busy in preparing proclamations previous to exerting the strong arm of power.

"It was full time that this succour should arrive, the unhappy province of Cayes is nearly ruined, and by the manoeuvres of an infernal cabal the slaves of the parish of Gros Morne were driven to follow the example of the rebels in the northern part.

"The timely and courageous exertions of the inhabitants of Borgne, aided by colour citizens, have dispersed some bands and destroyed 3 or 400 insurgents, besides capturing 100, fifty of whom have been executed; the remainder are kept for examination, to endeavour at discovering the movers of the insurrection."

WINCHESTER, October 8.

Two traders of this town, who have stores in the territory of the United States south of the river Ohio, last week received letters from their agents there, from which we have taken the following extracts:

KNOXVILLE, September 12, 1792.

"I am sorry to inform you of our present alarming situation—the five Chickamauga towns, as well as the Creeks, have declared war against the United States, and the celebrated John Watts has marched at the head of 500 warriors, with the intent of committing depredations on some part of the frontier—Many imagine they are destined against this place, others Cumberland—Unaneketi is in the number. Last night a sentry, at a station not more than nine miles from hence, was fired at. The people on Nine-Mile, which I left yesterday, are preparing to erect fortifications, as they are all on the frontiers of this country. We have nothing but multerings and expresses, and war-talks frequently.—I was fortunately in Chora at the critical period of their declaring war; and discovered the result of their councils, role all night, express, to give governor Blount the information. The governor immediately called the people of the country out for the defence of the frontiers. I must conclude, my friend, with a hope that congress will relieve our helpless state, in doing which no time is to be lost."

FRENCH BROAD, September 19, 1792.

"I have been informed that there are 600 Indians out against this part of the country—likewise, that they have killed two men, brothers, of the name of Gillespy, who lived on Holstein, below Knoxville, and that Knoxville is evacuated."

BALTIMORE, October 11.

From a late LONDON PAPER.

CAUTION TO MARINERS.

The commissioners of his majesty's customs, in Scotland, received a letter on Thursday last, from Mr. John Campbell, commander of the Prince of Wales cutter, in the service of the customs, stationed in the Western Islands of Scotland, of which the following is a copy, viz.

"I beg leave to report to your honours, that there is a sunk rock lying very near in the Fair-Way, going into the entrance of the harbour of Loch-Aylort, in Muidart.

"On the 25th of June last, I went to it in a boat at low water. Upon some part of it there were seven feet, and upon the shoalest part one and one half water, but depth of water sufficient all round it—bears from Illangour nearly N. W. per compass, distance half a mile, or thereabout. As it is a very dangerous rock to those who may have occasion to frequent said Loch, and it not being laid down in Mr. McKenzie's charts, I think it my duty to acquaint your honours of the same.

(Signed) "JOHN CAMPBELL."

ANNAPOLIS, October 13.

On Thursday last, the subscription purse of forty guineas was run for over the course near this city, and won by Mr. Gibson's black horse Partner.

To be SOLD at Port-Tobacco, by PUBLIC SALE, on the tenth day of NOVEMBER next,

A TRACT of LAND called COOL SPRINGS, lying within five miles of Port Tobacco in Charles county, containing by patent 510 acres. Application may be made to Mr. Notley Maddox, living on the land, who will show it, or to

ALEXANDER HAMILTON, Piscataway, October 16th, 1792.

RAYNER TAYLOR,

RESPECTFULLY begs leave to return thanks to the gentlemen of the vestry of St. Anne's, Annapolis, for the favour they have conferred on him, by appointing him their Organist, and hopes to merit their approbation, and that of every person who may contribute towards the supporting him in that office, by his attention to the duty of the church. He likewise begs leave to inform those ladies and gentlemen, who may chuse to take instructions in music, that he will be ready to receive the honour of their commands, before the expiration of the ensuing month.

ANNAPOLIS, October 18th, 1792.

Fencing Academy.

JOHN B. LEMAIRE,

PUPIL of the ROYAL ACADEMY, from PARIS,

PRESENTS his compliments to the gentlemen of Annapolis, informs them, he will open a Fencing School in this city the beginning of November next. Mr. LEMAIRE hopes that his strict attention will procure him the approbation of his employers; that beautiful accomplishment, gives a vigour and easy motion to every limb, and throws the frame into the most graceful attitude.

Those gentlemen who may please to encourage his Academy, will call at the Printing-office, or at Mr. Mann's, for the number of pupils they intend to put under his tuition.

Annapolis, October 12th, 1792.

RAN AWAY on the 2d of this instant, a negro lad named ISAAC, about nineteen years of age, five feet five or six inches high, dark complexion, and stammers very much in his speech if he is spoke to very sharp by any body; if he has any marks I know them not. Any person securing the above fellow in any goal, so that I get him, shall receive THREE POUNDS, and all reasonable charges paid by

NICHOLAS WATKINS, of Stephen.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of ORNER WILKINS, late of the city of Annapolis, deceased, are requested to bring them in legally proved, and all those indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

H. and R. DAVIDGE, Adm'rs.

James Robardet,

RETURNS his most grateful sense of gratitude to those ladies and gentlemen who have patronised his School, during the last summer. He respectfully informs the citizens of Annapolis and adjacent, that he intends to return agreeable to his employers, by their particular request, to open his school again about the month of April next. He feels happy in having received so much politeness from the most respectable characters of this city.

Annapolis, the 13th October, 1792.

I WILL give a REWARD of TWELVE DOLLARS, for apprehending and delivering to me, or confining in any goal, TOM, a mulatto, about twenty-seven years of age, about the middle stature, by trade a carpenter, very fond of his hair-wool, and generally has it queued and tied with red hair.

PBE, a dark mulatto, under the middle stature, thick and well set; these fellows, on pretence of petitioning for freedom in the general court, have cloped several times, and PER in August last was taken on South-river near the ferry and brought home, dressed, having several changes, cannot be described, they call themselves SHOOTER, but probably may take the name of BUTLER. The above reward will be paid for both, or SIX DOLLARS for either; as they have made an acquaintance about South-river and in the neighbourhood of Annapolis, it is presumable they lurk thereabouts.

HENRY ROZER,

Notley Hall, Prince-George's county, October 16th, 1792.

NOTICE.

THE creditors of the estate of JOSEPH HILL, junior, late of Anne-Arundel county, are requested to bring in their claims legally authenticated in order to receive their dividends of the said estate.

Virginia, Richmond, Sept. 26, 1792.
 REQUEST of Mr. PARKER FOWLER, of Maryland, to inform me in what part of that state he resides, and what estate is in his hands belonging to his nephew, Joseph Fowler, whose mother married her Delain, and removed to this state, and brought with them. Joseph Fowler died in the American war in 1777, and left me his widow and three children; they are now alive. In case of the death of Parker Fowler, I will be much obliged to his executors or administrators, or any other person who will be so kind to give me the above information as speedily as possible through this channel, and I will cheerfully defray the cost.
 ANNE FOWLER.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscribers intend petitioning the general assembly of Maryland, at their next sitting, to pass a law to make valid will, purporting to be the last will and testament of THOMAS SEMMES, now a lunatic, but who was in possession of his reason at the time he executed said will, and for dividing the property, real and personal, here stated, after making such provision for life for said Thomas Semmes, as the wisdom of the assemshall deem expedient.
 James Semmes,
 Joseph Milbourne Semmes,
 Ignatius Semmes,
 Aquilla Scott,
 Anne Semmes,
 Mary Semmes,
 Catharine Semmes,
 Elizabeth Semmes.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber intends to prefer a petition to the next general assembly of Maryland, to confirm his title to certain lands in Anne-Arundel county, willed to by his late father James Sanders.
 ROBERT SANDERS.

THE subscriber being unable to discharge his
 debts intends to petition the general assembly,
 at their next session, for an act of insolvency.
 WILLIAM KEENE, junr

Upper-Marlborough, Sept. 25, 1792.
 COMMITTED to my custody as a runaway, a
 mulatto lad, about 20 years of age, by the name
 TOM, who says he belongs to Daniel M'Carty, of Fairfax county, Virginia; he is five feet four inches
 a half high; had on and with him the following articles of cloathing, viz. one blue cloth overcoat, and ditto overalls, three osnabrig shirts, two ditto trousers, two osnabrig jackets, and an old hat bound with linen. The owner is desired to send him away by the 8th day of November, or he will be sold for his fees and other charges, by WILLIAM D. BEALL, Sheriff of Prince-George's county.

 Nottingham; Truman Compton, Magruder; John Forbes, Benedict; James Somerville, Thomas Harwood, junior,
 Joseph Wilkinson, William Grabame, Peter Emmerfon,
 Charles Williamson, John Chesley, Thomas Parran, Henry Hunt, Calvert county; of whom tickets may be had, and of all the merchants on Patuxent.

No. 1, contains all woodland, Bennet's creek running through it, and lies within thirty miles of the federal city, fully worth the estimated amount. 2 to 7 contains very valuable land lying near the town of Lower-Marlborough, where wood commands 20s. per cord, the cartage to the water little more than half a mile from the extent of the land, and each lot to have the privilege of a cart way to the water. Deeds, with general warranties, to be made for the land. Plots of the land may be seen with each of the managers. The cash prizes to be paid on demand; the snuff warranted
 genuine and good, and to be delivered at Lower-Marlborough. Crop or transfer notes for tobacco, on Patuxent, will be taken in payment at the market prices. Ten per cent. deduction to be made to those who pay the cash before the day of drawing. The lottery is purposed to be drawn on the third Tuesday
 in June next, if the tickets are all sold, at Lower-Marlborough. Notice will be given of the time, and a list of the fortunate numbers published immediately
 after drawing. Country produce will be taken at the market price, if delivered at the subscriber's mill with-
 in one month of drawing the lottery.

 new building.

WHERE he carries on the BOOT and SHOE-MAKING BUSINESS, in all its various branches, in the neatest and most fashionable manner, and on the lowest terms; having procured himself a number of the best workmen, he is enabled to carry on his business in the most extensive manner: and he can, with pleasure, inform his friends and customers,
 that he can serve them upon the most advantageous terms, and on the shortest notice, as he is and will be always supplied with the very best materials, and is determined to carry on his business with the greatest punctuality and dispatch. Gentlemen wishing to purchase negro shoes, may be supplied on the shortest notice with any quantity of the best quality, and at the most reduced prices. He also carries on the Tanning and Currying Business
 in all its various branches, in the neatest and best manner, where the best prices are given for raw and dried HIDES, and all orders for leather thankfully received and faithfully executed. He returns his sincere and grateful thanks to his friends and customers for the great encouragement he has experienced in those two branches since his commencement, and hopes, by an unremitting attention, to merit a continuance of their favours.

S C H E M E
 OF A LOTTERY

For the purpose of disposing of valuable property in the district of COLUMBIA, consisting of three tracts or lots of LAND about one mile north of the city of WASHINGTON; and fourteen lots in the lower part of the town of GEORGE-TOWN, as
 follows:

LOT No. 1, contains 107 acres, on it are 18 acres
 of meadow-ground, and a promising young apple orchard containing 175 bearing trees of choice
 fruit. At the western extremities thereof is a delightful eminence that commands a view of the river Patowmack and city of Washington. This lot contains about 16 acres of wood-land, lies upon a main road,
 and is not more than one mile from the city of Washington.

LOT No. 2, contains 84 acres, and bounds with
 the preceding lot; about 35 acres thereof are in wood,
 and about 17 acres in meadow-ground. This lot is bounded on the west by the meandering waters of the Piny-Branch. On this stream is a fall of 21 feet, and abounds with quarries of excellent building stone.
 On this lot are two beautiful situations for houses.

LOT No. 3, contains 39 acres, and bounds with lot No. 2. This lot contains 20 acres of wood, and has on it a beautiful eminence for a house as a country
 seat.

The fourteen lots in George-Town are at that end of the town which is contiguous to the city of Washington, and are all advantageous and beautiful situations.

M A N A G E R S.
 Robert Peter, colonel William Deakins, Benjamin Stod-
 dert, Thomas Beall of George, John Threlkeld, and Samuel Davidson, Esquires, George-Town. George Walker, Esquire, city of Washington. Wallace and Muir, and John Davidson, Esquires, Annapolis.

This scheme contains several very valuable lots of land contiguous to the city of Washington, whose increase in value will keep pace with the growth of the rising empire of the United States of America—Hence,
 therefore, without any further definition, it will be evident that for the small sum of one Guinea a valuable and beautiful country seat may be obtained in the vicinity of the capital of America; or a lot in a town
 now possessing an extensive commerce.

The subscriber proposes drawing this Lottery in George-Town, on the first Monday in May next, or sooner, if the tickets are all sold, which he flatters
 himself will be the case from his present prospects.
 Deeds, with a general warranty, will immediately be given for the lots of land, and the money for the cash prizes will be paid on demand. Notice will be given of the drawing in the public papers, and a list of the fortunate numbers will be immediately published.
 The crop now on the lots is reserved to the subscriber.
 A plot of the lots may be seen at Mr. George Mann's.
 TICKETS may be had of Messrs. Wallace and Muir, John Davidson, Esquires, and Mr. George
 Mann.
 JOHN THOMAS BOUCHER.

29 Notice.
 AS the subscriber cannot possibly know the fate of a number of his LOTTERY TICKETS now
 in Europe, for sale, before the last of September, he is under the necessity of extending the time of drawing his lottery to some time in November next.
 J. T. BOUCHER.

THREE POUNDS REWARD.
RAN away the first instant, from the subscriber,
 living near Annapolis, a NEGRO MAN, named
 TOM, about 21 years of age, five feet two or three inches high, a likely well made fellow; had on when he went away, a pair of nankeen breeches, old woollen jacket, country linen shirt, and old felt hat; it is supposed he will make towards the Manor, on West river, as his father lives there, with Mr. Benjamin Owens. Whoever takes up and secures the said fellow, so that his master gets him again, shall receive twenty shillings reward, if taken above ten miles from home thirty shillings, and if out of the state the above reward, including what the law allows, paid by
 JOHN WORTHINGTON.
 October 9, 1792. 2

CAME to the subscriber's plantation, near the Fork-bridge in Anne-Arundel county, in November last, a small red and white BULL yearling,
 marked with a swallow fork in the right ear. The owner is desired to prove his property, pay the charges, and take him away.
 FRANCIS WHITE.

TWENTY valuable NEGROES, consisting of MEN, WOMEN and CHILDREN, among them are a valuable blacksmith, a young woman who is a good cook, and the others, which are grown, are good plantation labourers. This property will be sold on a credit of two and three years, the purchasers to give bonds with approved security, the interest to be paid annually.

HANNAH WEST, Executrix of STEPHEN WEST, deceased. Woodyard, August 28, 1792.

An industrious Mechanic, capable of teaching PSALMODY in its different parts, who is willing to act as clerk and sexton to a PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH, and can come well recommended, will be informed of an eligible situation, by making himself known to the Printers of this Gazette.

Cambridge, September 10, 1792. NOTICE is hereby given, that a petition will be presented to the general assembly, at the next session, to make the road leading from EASTON to ANNE ARUNDEL a public road down to the water, and to condemn a piece of land at the said ferry for the purpose of a ferry house.

THE subscriber hereby gives notice, that he intends to prefer a petition to the general assembly at their next session, praying that an act may pass, to authorize her to sell and dispose of, in behalf of her children, the land on which she now lives, which land was devised to her said children, by her late deceased husband, John Wallace. JUDITH WALLACE. Charles county, September 15th, 1792.

NOTICE is hereby given, THAT the subscriber intends to petition the general assembly, at their next session, for an act to release him from debts, which he is unable to pay. WILLIAM STEPHEN COMPTON. Washington county, September 25, 1792.

Notice is hereby given, THAT the subscriber intends to make application to the next session of assembly for an act of insolvency to release him from debts which he is unable to pay. JOSEPH WOOD. Maryland, Frederick county, Frederick-Town Gaol, Aug. 29, 1792.

Anne-Arundel county, September 16, 1792. THE subscriber having conveyed all his property to trustees, for the benefit of his creditors, and still finding that there is reason to apprehend that the whole will be insufficient to pay all claims against him, is constrained to give this public notice to his creditors, that he intends to prefer a petition to the general assembly, at their next session, for an act of insolvency in his favour. W. WORTHINGTON.

NOTICE, THAT I intend to prefer a petition to the next general assembly of Maryland to release me from my embarrassments, being unable to pay my just debts. GIDEON CLARK. George-Town, Kent county, Aug. 26, 1792.

I DO hereby, in obedience to the directions of the court, give notice, that a representation of the ruinous situation of the public gaol of Kent county will be laid before the next general assembly, to the end, that a law may be passed, should the same be thought necessary, for erecting a new one at the expence of said county. By order of the court, BEN. CHAMBERS, clk. Kent county, July 29, 1792.

To be HIRED, An excellent Woman Cook, SHE is honest and industrious, and well qualified, from constant and considerable employment in her line of business, to manage the affairs of a kitchen. She has one female child, who must be taken with her. Inquire of THE PRINTERS. September 6, 1792.

THE subscriber intends petitioning the next general assembly of this state, to be released from his confinement in gaol. GEORGE ROBERTSON. Somerset county, Maryland, September 16th, 1792.

NOTICE is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that I intend to petition the next general assembly of this state, to confirm my right to part of a tract of land, late the property of JOHN and MARGARET SMITH, which was conveyed to me by JAMES SCOTT, lying in this county, and is part of a tract of land called New MONSTER. JAMES COCHRAN. Cecil county, State of Maryland, September 7, 1792.

Maryland, Frederick county, Frederick-town gaol, August 29, 1792. NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber intends to make application to the next session of assembly for an act of insolvency to release him from debts which he is unable to pay. GEORGE ADAMS.

St. Mary's county, September 10, 1792: WHEREAS a certain Elizabeth Jenifer purchased a tract of land, lying in St. Mary's county, called Papaw Fields, of the commissioners of confiscated property, and the subscriber afterwards intermarried with the said Elizabeth, and at her particular desire and consent he exchanged the aforesaid land with a certain Thomas Smoot, for which he give his bond for the conveyance of the same, and before the matter was settled the said Elizabeth died, which put it out of his power to comply with his agreement; This is therefore to give notice, that the subscriber intends to petition the next general assembly of Maryland for an act to authorize and empower him to convey the same agreeable to the tenor of his bond. W. B. SMOOT.

I INTEND to prefer a petition to the general assembly of Maryland, at their next session, to compensate me for the real property of James Jamison, which was confiscated and sold. JOHN ROBERTSON, August 28, 1792.

To the Public. NOTICE is hereby given, that application will be made to the general assembly of Maryland at its next session, for an act to appropriate the free school land of Anne-Arundel county to the purpose of teaching reading, writing and arithmetic, to poor orphans, and other children of the said county, whose nearest relations are incapable of affording them the benefit of such an education. It is proposed, that the said land be sold; and the money arising from the sale be added to the money already raised by voluntary contribution, and by the late orphan school lottery, and that the whole be vested in trustees for carrying into effect the benevolent design, for which the said lottery was instituted. No. 2312 of the Maryland Gazette, published May 5, 1791. Annapolis, July 9, 1792.

Calvert county, September 16, 1792. THE subscriber being unable to pay his debts gives notice, that he intends petitioning the general assembly of this state, at their next meeting, to pass an act of insolvency in his favour. GAVIN HAMILTON SMITH. Charles county, September 4, 1792. NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber intends to petition the general assembly of Maryland, at their next session, for an act to discharge him from debts which he is unable to pay. EDWARD W. BOSWELL.

T H U R S D A Y, O C T O B E R 25, 1792.

AMSTERDAM, August 17.
 HE recent events in France have thrown all the men of discretion in the United Provinces into confusion. At Amsterdam and Rotterdam it is much feared that several private fortunes are totally sacrificed, and that the public will gradually find herself more and more unable to fulfil her pecuniary engagements with foreigners. As yet, however, the funds have not suffered.

M. de Maulde, minister of France, having wished to depart on the 16th of August for his ordinary, with a grand pensioner, was induced to shut up his doors, his being signified that he was no longer recognised as a minister, since the suspension of the king of France. It is thought that the same conduct will be followed by all the other powers, and that that king will thus have no minister acknowledged on any side.

It is further said, that the ship-builders in Holland have prepared in all haste all the vessels of war, as a question, whether a fleet shall put to sea, and as the English minister is frequently seen in conference with the state members of the republic, it is concluded that Great-Britain will likewise take a part in the attack of France for the establishment of the throne.

As to the armies of Prussia and Austria, their generals become very uneasy on the subject of desertion. They fear that a great part of the soldiers will join the French, when the action shall be about to commence. It is certain, that if the armies of Prussia and Austria experience great desertions, it will not be possible for the sovereigns to form others.

The court of Orange is always at Breda.—The king's princesses employ their time in the entertainments of the theatre; but their mother, the consort of the stadtholder, holds an active correspondence with the principal cabinets of Europe. The court will remain in the Hague on the 27th of August.

ALGIERS.

The conditions prescribed by the dey, and accepted by Mr. Schultebrand, the Swedish consul, are as follows:

1. To pay immediately to the dey the sum of fifty thousand Algerine sequins, and proportional sums to the rest of the officers of state.
2. Sweden engages to furnish the dey with 24 pieces of cannon, 24 pounders.
3. Sweden engages to pay annually the sum of 10,000 sequins in money, or the value in ammunition, to be determined by the choice of the dey.
4. If the regency of Algiers should be in want of vessels, Sweden undertakes to procure. The price freight to be regulated by the dey.
5. Every two years the consul shall distribute among the court a present of diamonds, watches, gold stuffs, woollen clothes, instead of the money which was formerly distributed at the same period.

The Metropolitan church of Vienna, a venerable Gothic structure, has been for many years surrounded with unsightly buildings, old shops and warehouses, which were built up against it. These are all now to be pulled down, and the church stands in the centre of a handsome and well-paved square, which forms a new establishment to the city.

P A R I S, August 16.

M. Charles Lameth, who is arrested at Banantine, Normandy, his brother Alexander Barnave, and all the ministers of the 1st of November, were impeached the night in the assembly. By the acquittal of the 1st of November, are meant du Port, du Tertre, Danton, Montmorin, &c.

The king has already spent in advance two years of the civil list. Bankers lent him the money on the security of the public grant.

It appears that the court party were aware of the signs intended to be executed by the Jacobin faction the night between the 9th and 10th, and were counterplotting to defeat their designs.

The queen and prince-royal accompanied the king in the review of the troops on the morning of the 10th. M. de Viombull, it was proved, was at the head of the plot. He had assured himself of 100 chosen men, who could each answer for five, who could each answer for ten. M. Duchatelet (not Schiller) was appointed commandant, and they named men who were to serve under him, M. Puysegur, the old marshal de Mailly, M. M. de Poix, d'Affry, and son, Melfort, d'Olsonville, Tourzel, Champagny, Clermont Tonnerre, Pont l'Abbe, d'Aermigney, de Brige, Fleurieu, Salvere, Karlen Dupont, &c. They were all ordered to be in the Thuilleries on the evening of the 9th, and a counterplot was given to the leaders.

The following order was given by Rhuiliers to the national Gens d'Armes in the Thuilleries, on the morning of 10th.

"The colonel of the 29th division of the Gens d'Armes, will attack the column (of the citizens) in the rear. He will divide them in all possible directions—and then charge them. The first common shot will be fired in the Thuilleries. The battalion of the Natoire will join the attack. The colonel of the 29th division will concert measures with the commandant of that battalion."

L O N D O N, August 21.

It is now pretty certain that the result of the council on Friday night was to take no part in the national disputes of France, unless it was resolved by the legislature in that kingdom to take away the life of the king of France, in which case, it is understood, that both Holland and England would be ready to declare against the revolution.

So much business have ministers at present upon their hands, that only three messengers are now in waiting out of thirty-four; the others being out upon journeys.

By the mails arrived yesterday morning, we have a confirmation of the reports of the differences still subsisting between the Austrians and the Turks, on account of the delay of the demarcation upon the frontiers. A Turkish commissary, who had been charged to effect an interview with some of the principals concerned, has not been able to fulfil the object of his commission, owing to the untractableness of the inhabitants of Glauclava; or, according to their authorities, upon some obscurities in the treaty of Sistove. The Pacha of this province, it is said, will be changed, and an army sent to force the Bosniaques to second the efforts of the Turkish commissary.

Aug. 23. It is mentioned in an article from Warsaw, that the Polish troops have refused to submit to the Russians; and that on hearing this intelligence the king went to the house of M. Bulgakow, to inculcate his wish that the Russians might contrive to avoid them; when M. de Bulgakow is said to have answered in the following terms: "The soldiers of my sovereign are not to be diverted from their determined course, and death will be the consequence to every one who shall dare to oppose them."

The accounts received from Coblenz by our ministers are, that the Prussians and Austrians were drawn up on the parade on the 16th instant, and that the king of Prussia himself gave the word—"to the right, march—to Paris."

The regent of Sweden is on the point of convoking the states-general of that kingdom, to decide on the three following questions: What reply is to be made to Russia, in consequence of her requisition of 16,000 men, conformable to the treaty of alliance? In what way shall the debts of the late king be paid? And what sentence shall be passed on the state prisoners? Copy of a letter circulating in the camp of La Fayette the Ex-General, as he is termed in Paris, which, though not signed by him, is universally understood to have his sanction.

"Soldier-Citizens,

"It is not to be dissembled, that the constitution, which you have sworn to maintain, is no more. The Marceillois and a troop of factious insurgents, have besieged the palace of the Thuilleries. The national guards and the Swiss guards have made a vigorous resistance, but wanting ammunition, they were obliged to surrender.

"M. d'Affry, his Aides-de-Camp, and his whole family have been massacred.

"The king, the queen, and the royal family, took refuge in the national assembly; the insurgents followed them, and forced them to decree the suspension of the king, which was done to save his life.

"Citizens, you have no longer representatives; the national assembly is in slavery; your armies are without commanders.

"Petion reigns; the savage Danton and his satellites are masters; therefore, soldiers, choose whether you will re-establish the heir to the crown on the throne, as you will have Petion for king."

K I N G S T O N, (Jamaica) September 1.

A letter from Corke, dated July 7, mentions, that the Spaniards and French had bought up every good barrel of beef and pork, "which they could lay their hands on;" and that in consequence, there was very little of either article then on sale.

S A L E M, October 9.

Last Thursday's Chronicle mentions, that captain Brookhouse was spoke with on Grand Bank, from Havre-de-Grace bound to Salem—that he sailed on the 4th of September, at which time the report was, that the brave Fayette had gone to England with his family. This news, we fear, is too good to be true.

P H I L A D E L P H I A, October 14.

We are authorized to assure the public, that the following is the purport of the information received from governor Blount.

On the 11th of September last, he states that the Cherokees of the five lower towns on the Tennessee, headed by John Watts, had declared war against the United States and that the warriors, according to various information, amounting from three to six hundred, including about one hundred banditti Creeks, had set out upon some expedition against the frontiers, probably against the Cumberland settlement.

That in consequence of this alarming intelligence, he had ordered one regiment of the militia of Washington district into actual service, and that he had also dispatched an express to Miro district, on Cumberland river, with orders to brigadier-general Robertson, to put his brigade into the best possible state of defence.

That the Cherokees had never complained to him of a single infraction of the treaty of Holstein, nor did he know of one committed by any citizen of the United States.

But on the 15th of September, he writes that he had received letters from Esquaka, otherwise the Bloody Fellow and the Glass, dated on the 10th of September at the Look-out-mountain-town, informing that they with the assistance of John Watts and other head men, had prevailed with the party that were collected for war to disperse and go peaceably to their hunting. That upon receiving this agreeable information, he had been induced to discharge the regiment of Knox, and to dispatch an express to general Robertson, of Miro district, with orders to discharge such of his brigade, as might be in service under the orders of the 11th instant.

MELANCHOLY INTELLIGENCE IF TRUE.

A merchant of this city, has received from his correspondent in Charleston (by the Georgia packet just arrived here,) a letter dated the 5th instant, which mentions that a vessel from France, arrived at Savannah, brings news to the first of September—that the queen of France had been murdered—that the king and the marquis de la Fayette were missing—that 5000 of the people of Paris had been put to death (by what party the correspondent takes no notice) and that the duke of Brunswick and his army, were within thirty miles of Paris.

Extract of a letter from Charleston, dated 3d instant.

"A brig arrived from London, in thirty-eight days, at Savannah, does not confirm the assassination of the queen of France, nor of the king of France being missing, but mentions a late riot in Paris, in which 5000 lives were lost."

C H A R L E S T O N, September 28.

Letters from Georgia represent the peace between the United States and the Creek Indians to be upon a very precarious footing. "It is apprehended the Spaniards have been but too successful in sowing prejudices to the disadvantage of the United States, and it is even said that general McGillivray has been incessantly assailed from that, and perhaps another quarter, to break with us. Should the strength of the Creeks be joined to the general Indian league that seems to be forming against us, from an apprehension that their country is in danger, the consequences may prove seriously distressing to the whole frontier; and it may be found, perhaps too late, that regular armies are by no means calculated to repress Indian aggressions."

Sept. 29. Within a few days past, two expresses have arrived here from general Pickens and colonel Anderson, with dispatches for his excellency the governor. They contain the alarming accounts, that a general Creek war may be expected shortly to take place; and that the four lower Cherokee towns are hostilely disposed, and will act in concert with the Creeks. A body of the Cherokees, Creeks, and Shawanese, in all about 500 men, are now out, and it is supposed will fall upon the settlements at Cumberland or Holstein. Colonel Anderson has erected four block-houses on the frontiers; and we are informed, that the governor has sent forward a large supply of arms and ammunition, with orders to the commanding officer in Ninety-Six district to have the militia put in a state of preparation for active duty, and to raise and equip a troop of horse for each of the regiments.

Oct. 2. Yesterday several letters were received in town from the western frontier of Georgia, which inform, that the Indians are perpetually committing petty depredations in that part of the country; and that a formidable invasion is hourly expected.

Captain Roberts has advanced about eighty miles from the Rock-Landing to a situation between the territories of the Creeks and Cherokees, where he is busily employed in erecting block-houses. Some Indians having lately stolen ten horses from the inhabitants on the Georgia side of the Oconee, captain Roberts ordered a detachment of his troops in pursuit of them; they came up with the Indians, and had a small engagement with them, in which one of the soldiers was wounded.

We are informed from good authority, that his excellency the governor will review the Charleston regiment of military, and the battalion of artillery; on Extract of a letter from a gentleman in the Creek Nation, to his friend in this city, dated 16th September, 1792.

"The superintendent of Indian affairs, Mr. Seagrave, has given many presents to the Indians, at the Rock-Landing, and the next treaty is to be held at St. Mary's, in November. The Spaniards have several emissaries in the nation, and an officer has lately made his appearance among the Cussetas; they endeavour all they can to stop the Indians going to run the lines, and it is feared by the well wishers of the states, their ends will be answered, unless Mr. Seagrave comes up, and has an explanation with him, and gives a talk to the Indians, or at least some persons are at this critical juncture authorized to do, who are qualified for the business. Mr. Timothy Barnard's whole time is almost taken up in endeavouring to persuade the Indians of the advantages they may expect by treating with the Americans; and this man, though so well calculated for the purpose, is without power or pay from congress; he is a man of universal good character, has great influence among them, and has lived thirty years in the nation."

HALIFAX, (N. C.) September 12.

Extract of a letter from the territory of the United States, South of Ohio, of a late date.

"The Cherokee and Creek Indians have been continually through the whole summer committing hostilities and depredations on the settlements of Cumberland—a white woman and three children were purchased in the month of July, by a trader in the Creek nation, for 1400lb. of deer-skins, and brought to Knoxville. She had been taken from a station near Bledsoe's Lick, on Cumberland, where four white men were killed, and several persons taken prisoners, who may not all be fortunate enough to be ransomed from torture and Indian barbarity. Several persons were killed and wounded in the months of June and July, and a great number of horses taken off from the very vicinity of Nashville."

A very remarkable meteor was observed in the county of Rockingham and the neighbouring counties, in the night of the 11th of last month—its diameter appeared to be as large as that of the moon when full, and shed a much brighter light for about the space of a minute, when it burst into several pieces, with an explosion very like heavy thunder. It appeared to pass rather descending, in a course from N. W. to S. E. Several persons who were in their beds, and did not observe the light, mistook the noise and shaking of the houses for an earthquake, as there was not a single cloud to be seen.

ANNAPOLIS, October 25.

Henry Hollingsworth, Edward Oldham, Thomas M. Forman and Patrick Ewing, Esquires, are elected delegates to represent Cecil county in the ensuing general assembly.

"Quis desiderio fit pudor aut modus,
"Tam cari capitis?"—Hor.

"Departed this life, at his house, Milton-hill, in Charles county, on the 28th of September, 1792, aged about 39, after a very short illness, WILLIAM COURTS, Esquire, a gentleman whose heart was enriched with all the amiable qualities of a christian character. He was a man of good natural abilities, and sound judgment. In private life, unaffected in his manners, of noble sincerity of heart, and endeared to his friends by every social quality. He was modest, candid, unassuming, and agreeable in his company and conversation. In his friendship, sincere, ready and zealous; and his benevolence and piety exceeded by few; with the hand of charity ever ready to do good, and to distribute to the poor and needy. A loving and affectionate husband—fond parent, and kind master—to his relatives also he was observed to be kind and affectionate. An amiable wife and three children are left to deplore his loss—by them and the neighbourhood—the goodness of his heart—his integrity, with his many virtues, will render his loss most truly and extensively lamented.—We should incessantly reflect, that our present state is a state of trial—that we are pilgrims and probationers of a day, and must necessarily, in a short time, remove our tent from this world, and we know not the hour when the grim monarch may knock for us.

"As those we love decay, we die in part;
String after string is sever'd from the heart;
Till loosen'd life, at last but breathing clay,
Without one pang is glad to fall away.
Unhappy he who latest feels the blow,
Whose eyes have wept o'er ev'ry friend laid low,
Dragg'd ling'ring on from partial death to death,
Till, dying, all he can resign is—breath."

Somerset county, October 19, 1792.

HAVING been informed that my name is mentioned in a ticket for electors of the President and Vice-President of the United States, which is circulating on the western shore, I take this opportunity of returning my warmest acknowledgments to those gentlemen whose partiality to me has honoured me with this nomination; but, at the same time, it is necessary for me to inform the public, that the routine of official duty in which I am engaged, and which will not close until after the commencement of winter, will necessarily preclude me from serving in such an appointment—I must therefore request, that the name of some other gentleman may be inserted in the ticket instead of mine.

JOHN DONE.

•• We are authorized to say, that LEVIN WINDER, Esquire, will serve as an elector of the President and Vice-President of the United States, if elected.

BOSTON, October 13.

LATEST NEWS DIRECT FROM FRANCE.
[Until a late hour yesterday we despaired of having it in our power to communicate to the public any later intelligence from France, than that heretofore announced—But through the polite attention of an obliging correspondent, we have been favoured with accounts from France to the 27th August, which were received by the brig Benjamin, captain Brookhouse, which arrived at Salem—The most material article of which is extracted from a letter of an American gentleman now in France, viz.]

HAVRE, August 25, 1792.

"I arrived here from Paris last evening—where I have witnessed the most dreadful scenes of tumult, outrage and civil war. [The writer here details the events of the 10th August, and those which followed, to the imprisonment of the French king—of whom he writes:] "The king is now a prisoner; he is to be tried, and if found guilty they mean to unking him, and let him go where he pleases—If not, they will allow him a pension to live on, like any private man.

"The marquis La Fayette, with about 300 of his principal officers, have made their escape by the following stratagem:—As soon as the marquis heard that the king was dethroned, and that commissaries were on their way to the army, he sent some of his officers to Sedan, to detain them—he then proposed to the army, that Paris was in a distressed situation—and wished to know if they would march to its relief; which they refused. He then sent to the officers at Sedan, to send on persons to personate the commissaries, with a story fabricated for the purpose to the army—and while these pretended commissaries were negotiating matters with the army, the marquis and his friends made their escape."

[The Paris papers announce the desertion of M. La Fayette and his officers, but no other event of consequence.]

We will just add, in the language of the Paris editor, that the assembly, being furnished with evidence of the conduct of the scoundrel La Fayette, Mr. La Fayette moved, that he be held up as the object of indignation to all Frenchmen, and that his name should excite horror and contempt in the hearts of all good men. And Mr. Merlin moved, that to eternize the crimes of this imitator of Cromwell, his house should be destroyed, and on the spot a column be erected, on which his crimes should be engraven, and thereby be transmitted with exertions to posterity.—We have not learnt that the decrees pass.

NEW-YORK, October 18.

KING OF FRANCE BEHEADED.

By captain Aigre who arrived at Kennebeck, in thirty days from Liverpool, we are informed, that accounts had been received from France, just prior to his sailing, that the king of the French was beheaded.

The following gentlemen are recommended to the voters of Maryland as electors of president and vice-president:

His excellency Thomas Sim Lee, Esq; Alexander C. Hanson, Esquire.
Charles, St. Mary's, and Calvert counties, J. H. Stone, Esquire.
Anne-Arundel and Prince-George's, John Hall, Esquire.

Montgomery, and that part of Frederick attached thereto, Benjamin Stoddert, Esquire.

Washington, Allegany, and that part of Frederick attached thereto, Philip Thomas, Esquire.

Baltimore-town and county, J. E. Howard, Esquire.

Harford, Cecil and Kent, Peregrine Lethbury, Esquire.

Caroline, Talbot and Queen-Anne's, Edward Lloyd, Esquire.

Dorchester, Somerset and Worcester, Levin Winder, Esquire.

This arrangement will give an elector for each of the districts within this state, and governor Lee and Mr. Hanson are such characters as it is expected all Maryland will willingly combine to elect.

CONTINENTAL.

•• THE Editors are authorized to say, that John Roulby Plater will serve as an elector of the president and vice-president of the United States, if honoured by the suffrages of Maryland.

Fencing Academy.

JOHN B. LEMAIRE,

PUPIL of the ROYAL ACADEMY, from PARIS,

PRESENTS his compliments to the gentlemen of Annapolis, informs them, he will open a Fencing
Academy in this city the beginning of November next.
Mr. LEMAIRE hopes that his strict attention will procure him the approbation of his employers; that his successful accomplishment, gives a vigour and easy motion to every limb, and throws the frame into the most graceful attitude.

Those gentlemen who may please to encourage his Academy, will call at the Printing-office, or at Mr.
Mann's, for the number of pupils they intend to put under his tuition.

Annapolis, October 12th, 1792.

RAYNER TAYLOR,

RESPECTFULLY begs leave to return thanks to the gentlemen of the vestry of St. Anne's, Annapolis, for the favour they have conferred on him, by appointing him their Organist, and hopes to merit their approbation, and that of every person who may contribute towards the supporting him in that office, by his attention to the duty of the church. He likewise begs leave to inform those ladies and gentlemen, who may chuse to take instructions in music, that he will be ready to receive the honour of their commands, before the expiration of the ensuing month.
ANNAPOLIS, October 18th, 1792.

James Robardet,

RETURNS his most grateful sense of gratitude to those ladies and gentlemen who have patronised his SCHOOL, during the last summer. He respectfully informs the citizens of Annapolis and adjacent, that he intends to return agreeable to his employers, by their particular request, to open his school again about the month of April next. He feels happy in having received so much politeness from the most respectable characters of this city.

Annapolis, the 13th October, 1792.

No. 1, contains all woodland, Benner's creek running through it, and lies within thirty miles of the federal city, fully worth the estimated amount. 2 to 7 contains very valuable land lying near the town of Lower-Marlborough, where wood commands 20s. per cord, the cartage to the water little more than half a mile from the extent of the land, and each lot to have the privilege of a cart way to the water. Deeds, with general warranties, to be made for the land. Plots of the land may be seen with each of the managers. The cash prizes to be paid on demand; the snuff warranted
genuine and good, and to be delivered at Lower-Marlborough. Crop or transfer notes for tobacco, on Patuxent, will be taken in payment at the market prices. Ten per cent. deduction to be made to those who pay the cash before the day of drawing. The lottery is purposed to be drawn on the third Tuesday
in June next, if the tickets are all sold, at Lower-Marlborough. Notice will be given of the time, and a list of the fortunate numbers published immediately
after drawing. Country produce will be taken at the market price, if delivered at the subscriber's mill within one month of drawing the lottery.

JOHN HYDE,

In Conduit-Street, opposite Mr. GEORGE MANN'S
new building,

WHERE he carries on the BOOT and SHOE-MAKING BUSINESS, in all its various
branches, in the neatest and most fashionable manner,
and on the lowest terms; having procured himself a number of the best workmen, he is enabled to carry on his business in the most extensive manner: and he can, with pleasure, inform his friends and customers,
that he can serve them upon the most advantageous
terms, and on the shortest notice, as he is and will be always supplied with the very best materials, and is determined to carry on his business with the greatest punctuality and dispatch. Gentlemen wishing to purchase negro shoes, may be supplied on the shortest notice with any quantity of the best quality, and at the most reduced prices. He also carries on the

Tanning and Currying Business

in all its various branches, in the neatest and best manner, where the best prices are given for raw and dried HIDES, and all orders for leather thankfully received and faithfully executed. He returns his sincere and grateful thanks to his friends and customers for the great encouragement he has experienced in those two branches since his commencement, and hopes, by an unremitting attention, to merit a continuance of their favours.

Annapolis, August 1, 1792.

ALL persons indebted by bond, note or book debt, to the house of TRECOTNICK, TWAITES and WHEELWRIGHT, of London, and the house of Mes-sieurs CRACROFT and HODGKIN, of Maryland, are desired to make immediate payment to Jesse Dewees, whose receipt shall be a sufficient voucher for any such payments, or to the subscriber.

WILLIAM COOKE.

Annapolis, October 5th, 1792.

A Scheme of a Lottery,

For the purpose of disposing of the following property belonging to the subscriber, in the city of Annapolis, viz.

A WELL finished two story framed HOUSE, in School-street, 36 feet by 20 feet 10 inches, the lot 50 feet front, and valued at £.650, this is the highest prize. The next is a house and store, on Church-street, now in the possession of Mr. Joseph Burnetson, 46 feet front, valued at £.450.

ARCHIBALD CHISHOLM.

- 1 Prize of a house and lot on School-street, in fee simple £.650

346 Prizes, 1974
782 Blanks,

1128 Tickets at 35s. 1974

As the above property is low, and the furniture at cash prices, and there being but little more than two and a quarter blanks to a prize, it is hoped the public will see the advantage in purchasing tickets. The lottery will be drawn some time in September next, or sooner if the tickets are sold, of which public notice will be given. Proper managers will be appointed previous to the drawing.

Tickets may be had of Messrs George Mann, John Randall, William Goldsmith, Richard Mackubin, and at the Printing-Office.

Eight Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, on the 12th inst. a negro man named WILL, about 23 years of age, five feet nine or ten inches high; had on, when he went away, a round felt hat, of nabrig shirt and trousers, and a coarse cloth over jacket, short and round, he had other cloaths with him, which cannot well be described, he is likely, of a very dark complexion, full faced, and has a remarkable fine set of teeth, he is slow of speech, and rather awkward in his manners, is a tolerable good blacksmith, but has never worked as foreman of a shop; he was formerly the property of Henry May, late of this county, blacksmith. This fellow was taken out of gaol at Alexandria, in Virginia, about eight days ago, but has since made his escape; when he was apprehended he had a forged pass in his possession, and it is expected he may have procured another. Whoever takes up the said negro and brings him to me, or secures him in any gaol so that I get him again, shall receive the above reward.

RICHARD BEARD.

N. B. It is probable this fellow may endeavour to pass for a free man, as there are many free blacks passing about the country; when he went to Alexandria his intention was to have made his escape by water, I therefore forewarn all masters of vessels, and others, from harbouring or concealing him at their peril, if they should they may expect to be dealt with agreeably to law.

Anne-Arundel county, June 20, 1792.

A List of Letters

Remaining in the Post-Office, Allen's-Fresh, which, if not taken up before the first of January next, will be returned to the General Post-Office as dead Letters:—

JOHN C. JONES, Cedar Point, (4). free: James Cotrell, near Allen's Fresh, Peter Cartwright, Robert Slye, Messieurs Douglas and Sims, William Scott, Benjamin Reeder, Benjamin Marshall, paid, Newport; Edward Mead, John Gibson, Charles county.

THOMAS A. DYSON, D. P. M. Allen's Fresh, October 30, 1792.

Cambridge, September 10, 1792.
NOTICE is hereby given, that a petition will be presented to the general assembly, at the next session, to make the road leading from EASTON to AKERS'S FERRY a public road down to the water, and to condemn a piece of land at the said ferry for the purpose of a ferry house.

THE subscriber hereby gives notice, that she intends to prefer a petition to the general assembly at their next session, praying that an act may pass, to authorize her to sell and dispose of, in behalf of her children, the land on which she now lives, which land was devised to her said children, by her late deceased husband, John Wallace.

JUDITH WALLACE.

Charles county, September 15th, 1792.

THAT the subscriber intends to petition the general assembly, at their next session, for an act to release him from debts, which he is unable to pay.

WILLIAM STEPHEN COMPTON.

Washington county, September 25, 1792.

Notice is hereby given,

THAT the subscriber intends to make application to the next session of assembly for an act of insolvency to release him from debts which he is unable to pay.

JOSEPH WOOD.

Maryland, Frederick county, Frederick-Town Gaol, Aug. 29, 1792.

THE subscriber having conveyed all his property to trustees, for the benefit of his creditors, and still finding that there is reason to apprehend that the whole will be insufficient to pay all claims against him, is constrained to give this public notice to his creditors, that he intends to prefer a petition to the general assembly, at their next session, for an act of insolvency in his favour.

W. WORTHINGTON.

NOTICE,

THAT I intend to prefer a petition to the next general assembly of Maryland to release me from my embarrassments, being unable to pay my just debts.

GIDEON CLARK.

George-Town, Kent county, Aug. 26, 1792.

I DO hereby, in obedience to the directions of the court, give notice, that a representation of the ruinous situation of the public gaol of Kent county will be laid before the next general assembly, to the end, that a law may be passed, should the same be thought necessary, for erecting a new one at the expence of said county. By order of the court,

BEN. CHAMBERS, clk.

Kent county, July 29, 1792.

To be HIRED,

An excellent Woman Cook,

SHE is honest and industrious, and well qualified, from constant and considerable employment in her line of business, to manage the affairs of a kitchen.—She has one female child, who must be taken with her. Inquire of THE PRINTERS.

THE subscriber intends petitioning the next general assembly of this state, to be released from his confinement in gaol.

GEORGE ROBERTSON.

Somerset county, Maryland, September 16th, 1792.

NOTICE is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that I intend to petition the next general assembly of this state, to confirm my right to part of a tract of land, late the property of JOHN and MARGARET SMITH, which was conveyed to me by JAMES SCOTT, lying in this county, and is part of a tract of land called NEW MONSTER.

JAMES COCHRAN.

Cecil county, State of Maryland, September 7, 1792.

GEORGE ADAMS.

St. Mary's county, September 10, 1792.

WHEREAS a certain Elizabeth Jenifer purchased a tract of land, lying in St. Mary's county, called Papaw Fields, of the commissioners of confiscated property, and the subscriber afterwards intermarried with the said Elizabeth, and at her particular desire and consent he exchanged the aforesaid land with a certain Thomas Smoot, for which he gave his bond for the conveyance of the same, and before the matter was settled the said Elizabeth died, which put it out of his power to comply with his agreement.—This is therefore to give notice, that the subscriber intends to petition the next general assembly of Maryland for an act to authorize and empower him to convey the same agreeable to the tenor of his bond.

W. B. SMOOT.

Caroline county, September 3, 1792.
NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber intends to prefer a petition to the next general assembly of the state of Maryland, to obtain an act to confirm his title to a tract of land, lying and being in Talbot county, called THE ADDITION, which is claimed by him in virtue of a contract for the purchase thereof, by JAMES DICKINSON, deceased, the attorney in fact of the late ANTHONY RICHARDSON, a British subject, to the father of the late ANDREW MARSH.

PETER EDMONDSON.

To be SOLD, at PUBLIC SALE, in Upper Marlborough, on Thursday the eighth day of November next, if fair, if not the first fair day.

TWENTY valuable NEGROES, consisting of MEN, WOMEN and CHILDREN, some of them are a valuable blacksmith, a young woman is a good cook, and the others, which are grown, are good plantation labourers. This property will fold on a credit of two and three years, the purchaser to give bonds with approved security, the interest to be paid annually.

HANNAH WEST, Executrix of the Estate of STEPHEN WEST, deceased.

Woodyard, August 28, 1792.

AN industrious Mechanic, capable of teaching PSALMODY in its different parts, who is willing to act as clerk and sexton to a Protestant Episcopal Church, and can come well recommended, will be informed of an eligible situation, by making himself known to the Printers of this County.

INTEND to prefer a petition to the general assembly of Maryland, at their next session, to confirm me for the real property of James J. which was confiscated and sold.

JOHN ROBERTSON.

August 28, 1792.

THE subscriber being unable to pay his debts gives notice, that he intends petitioning the general assembly of this state, at their next meeting, to pass an act of insolvency in his favour.

GAVIN HAMILTON SMITH.

Charles county, September 4, 1792.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber intends to petition the general assembly of Maryland, at their next session, for an act to discharge him from debts which he is unable to pay.

EDWARD W. BOSWELL.

ON the second Wednesday in November next an election will be held, in the city of Annapolis, for ten electors for the purpose of choosing a president and vice-president of the United States.

WILLIAM GOLDSMITH, Sheriff of Anne-Arundel county.

NOTICE is hereby given, that a petition will be preferred to the general assembly at their next session, for an act to repeal an act for the preservation of the breed fish.

ED. and M. HALL.

THE partnership of EDWARD and MORRIS CAI HALL, being mutually dissolved, the partners necessarily call for a final close of the business that they may make good their engagements.—Therefore immediate payment from those indebted to the firm is humbly requested—pray attend.

ED. and M. HALL.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber intends to make application to the next general assembly for an act of insolvency, to release him from debts which he is unable to pay.

THOMAS SCHLEY.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber intends to prefer a petition to the next general assembly of Maryland, to confirm his title to tracts of land, in Anne-Arundel county, which he claims by his late father James Sanders.

ROBERT SANDERS.

THE subscriber being unable to discharge his debts intends to petition the general assembly at their next session, for an act of insolvency.
