THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1808.

ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION

OF THE

UNION MANUFACTURING COMPANY OF MARYLAND.

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME, OR IN ANYWISE CONCERN.

BE IT KNOWN and made manifest, that we the subscribers, have formed a company or limited partnership, and do hereby associate and agree with each other, to conduct business in the manner herein after specified and defined, by and under the name and style of the President and Directors of the Union Manufacturing Company of Maryland, and we do hereby mutually covenant and agree, that the following are and shall be the fundamental articles of this our association and agreement with each other, by which we and all the persons who at any time hereafter may transact business with the said company, shall be bound and concluded.

ARTICLE I The object of this association is declared to be for establishing, carrying on and encouraging, manufactories of all the useful and necessary articles which have heretofore been imported from foreign countries; but the establishment of manufactories of cotton and wool, by means of the latest improved labour-saving machines, to be put in motion by water, is to be the chief and immediate object to which the attention and funds of this association are to be applied.

ARTICLE II The capital stock of the said company shall consist of one million of dollars, money of the United States, to consist of seventy thousand shares of fifty dollars each, one thousand of which shares shall be reserved until the Legislature may incorporate the company and may be subscribed for by the State, if it is first by the Legislature therefor; this reservation, however, shall not continue for more than two years from the first election of directors. One twentieth, or two dollars and fifty cents on each share, shall be paid to the commissioners at the time of subscribing, one twentieth, or two dollars and fifty cents more, to the directors, if chosen, and if not, to the present commissioners in Baltimore, in ten days thereafter, and one twentieth, or two dollars and fifty cents more, to be paid on each share to the directors in Baltimore, in one hundred and twenty days after the allotted time for subscribing, and the company to commence its operation when five thousand shares are subscribed for, and the remainder in such proportions, and at such times, as the directors may appoint, but no further payment shall be required, without first giving two months notice in at least three newspapers printed in the city of Baltimore, one in Frederick-town, one in Hagar's town, one in the city of Annapolis, and one in Easton. And the said stock shall be subscribed for under the direction of the commissioners herein after named, in manner following; that is to say, the subscription for the city and county of Baltimore shall be opened on the city of Baltimore on Monday the seventh day of March next, for ten thousand shares, under the direction of William Jameson, Richard Gilmer, Robert Nelson, Thomas L. Lee, James H. McCulloch, Thomas W. B. Lewis, Spidway Livingston, Wm. Jones, John G. Andrew, Thomas James, William John Sherrill, John Trimble, Gen. Wm. Starke, James Brown, P. Bennett, James Armstrong, Gen. Charles Raborg, Samuel Stewart, Thomas Craft, Joseph Townsend, E. Finley, Henry Shroeder and William Stewart, or any twelve of them. And on the same day, for four thousand and fifty shares, at Leonard's-town, for Saint Mary's county, under the direction of Henry Neale, Thomas Barber and Joseph Ford, or any two of them.

At Prince-Georges-town, for Calvert county, for three hundred shares, under the direction of Peter Emerfon, Michael Tansy and Joseph Ireland, or any two of them.

At Fort-Tabasco, for Charles county, for five hundred and forty shares, under the direction of John Edward Ford, William H. McPherson and John Barnes, or any two of them.

At Upper-Maryland, for Prince-Georges' county, for three hundred and fifty shares, under the direction of Richard Maslin, Francis Magruder and Leonard Covington, or any two of them.

At Annapolis, for Anne-Arundel county and the city of Annapolis, for five hundred shares, under the direction of John Johnson, John Muir and Jonathan Pinkney, or any two of them.

At Montgomery County, for Montgomery county, for three hundred and fifty shares, under the direction of Upton Pease, Thomas P. Wilson, Isaac Briggs, Caleb Bentley and James Lauchland, or a majority of them.

At Frederick-town, for Frederick county, for eight hundred shares, under the direction of Abraham Shriver, George Lacer and George Cresser, jun. or any two of them.

At Hagar's-town, for Washington county, for eight hundred shares, under the direction of Nathaniel Rochester, James Schenck, Wm. Heister, Frederick Dorsey and Henry Lewis, or a majority of them.

At Cumberland, for Solomons county, for three hundred and fifty shares, under the direction of George Hebb, George Hebb and Patrick Murchie, or any two of them.

At Beltsville, for Howard county, for six hundred shares, under the direction of John Moores, Henry Dorley and John C. Bond, or any two of them.

At Elston, for Cecil county, for six hundred shares, under the direction of James Seall, John S. Moffit and John J. Cox, or any two of them.

At Clifton, for Kent county, for four hundred shares, under the direction of Benjamin Chambers, James Hodges, jun. and Philip F. Ralim, or any two of them.

At Cambridge, for Dorchester county, for four hundred shares, under the direction of James Steel, Richard Goldborough and Samuel Brown, or any two of them.

At Prince-Georges, for Somerset county, for four hundred shares, under the direction of John Gale, L. D. Teakle and John H. Anderson, or any two of them.

At Snow Hill, for Worcester county, for five hundred and forty shares, under the direction of James B. Robins, John Williams and Ephraim King Wilton, or any two of them.

And the commissioners aforesaid shall open the subscription books at ten o'clock A. M. and they shall continue open until three o'clock P. M. and shall remain open between those hours for two days, unless sooner filled; and if it should so happen, that more than the stipulated number of shares should be subscribed on the first day, then the commissioners aforesaid are to apportion them among the subscribers, by deducting from the highest subscriptions, until they are reduced to a proper number, or if more persons subscribe than there are shares, then the commissioners are to call lots to decide to whom they shall belong; but if the shares should not be all subscribed, in two days, then the commissioners in the different counties, and the city of Annapolis, are to return the remainder, together with the books and what monies they may have received at the time of subscribing, unto the commissioners in Baltimore, within thirty days. And the commissioners will, on deciding to whom the shares may belong, issue receipts to the different stockholders for the monies received by them at the time of subscribing, and these receipts, with the original subscription, shall be deemed good evidence of the quantity of stock to which each subscriber shall be entitled in this company; but no person or persons, bodies corporate or otherwise, shall be permitted to subscribe, on the first day on which the books are opened, for more than twenty shares; and if the stock be not subscribed on the first day, the books are to remain open on the second day, and the commissioners may permit any person or persons, bodies corporate or otherwise, to subscribe for any number of shares, until the whole number is complete, and if the stock be not fully subscribed for on the second day, all the shares at that time unsubscribed for, shall be under the direction of the commissioners at Baltimore, or the directors when chosen, to be disposed of by them for the interest of the institution.

ARTICLE III The commissioners in Baltimore shall forthwith deposit, in one of the banks of the city, subject to the order of the president and directors of the company when chosen, all the money so received and retained, after deducting the expenses attendant on the subscription, and the previous meetings.

ARTICLE IV If any stockholder shall fail to pay his, her or their installments, to the amount of ten dollars on each share, at the time or times, and in manner herein before specified, such stockholder shall forfeit, to the use of the company all money paid antecedent to such failure or default; but no forfeiture shall take place after ten dollars on each share shall have been paid; but as it is requisite that means should be taken to secure the regular payment of after calls, therefore, if any stockholder shall fail to make regular payment of any installment or call after ten dollars have been paid, such stockholder shall not be entitled to any dividend until such installment or call shall be made good; and the dividend thereafter to be paid to such stockholder, (as well upon the money by him regularly paid, as upon the money paid after default,) shall be calculated only from the time when the last installment was made good.

ARTICLE V The first general meeting of the stockholders for the choice of directors shall be held at such time and place as shall be appointed and publicly notified by the commissioners in Baltimore for receiving subscriptions to the company's stock. And for ever thereafter there shall be a general meeting of the stockholders for the purpose aforesaid, on the first Monday in May, annually, at such place in Baltimore as the president and directors for the time being shall appoint.

ARTICLE VI At the said first general meeting, and at every annual general meeting to be held hereafter, as aforesaid, there shall be chosen by the stockholders, by ballot, twelve directors, to serve until successors to them be chosen.

ARTICLE VII In the choice of directors, and in all other cases, the number of votes to which each stockholder shall be entitled, shall be in proportion to the stock he may hold, as follows, viz: for one share and not exceeding two shares, one vote each; for every two shares above two and not exceeding ten, one vote; for every four shares above ten and not exceeding thirty, one vote; for every six shares above thirty and not exceeding fifty, one vote; for every eight shares over fifty and not exceeding one hundred, one vote; and for every ten shares above that number, one vote; but no person or persons, body politic or otherwise, shall be entitled to a greater number than fifty votes. No share or shares shall confer a right of suffrage which shall not have been held four calendar months previous to the day of election, except at the first election; all stockholders actually resident within the United States, and none other, may vote at elections by ballot, in person or by proxy, which in all elections after the first, is to be made in such form as the board of directors may appoint. None but stockholders, being citizens of the United States, and residing within the city of Baltimore or precincts thereof, shall be eligible as a director or president.

ARTICLE VIII The directors, immediately after their appointment, and so after every subsequent appointment as aforesaid, shall choose, from among the stockholders, by ballot, a president, to serve for one year from the time of his appointment, and until a new election of directors shall take place, and a successor to him shall be appointed; and the said president, and his successor for the time being, shall perform such duties, and receive such compensation for his services, as the directors shall from time to time appoint.

ARTICLE IX In case of the necessary absence of the president, he may, by writing under his hand, appoint one of the directors, who shall in all respects act for him during his absence, and in default of such appointment, the directors shall have power to appoint a president pro tempore who shall in all things act as president during the said absence.

ARTICLE X In case any director shall be chosen president, the remaining directors shall immediately choose by ballot, from among the stockholders, a person to supply his place, and whenever a vacancy shall happen in the office of director or president, by death, resignation, removal from the State, or by any other means, it shall immediately be filled by ballot, by the directors from among the stockholders till the next election in course.

ARTICLE XI The president and directors shall have power, 1st To purchase and hold in fee-simple or otherwise, lands and real estates, suitable for the erection of the necessary works, and for the accomplishment of their undertaking, as they shall judge proper.

2d To prepare or procure, adopt and execute, such plan or plans as they shall think most advantageous and effectual for establishing, carrying on and encouraging, manufactories of all the useful or necessary articles which have heretofore been imported from foreign countries, commencing first with manufactories of cotton and wool, by means of the latest improved labour-saving machines, to be put in motion by water.

3d To make all by-laws, rules and regulations, necessary for the well ordering and conducting of the business of the company, and such by laws, rules and regulations, to alter, change or annul, at their pleasure, but every such by-law, rule or regulation, may be altered or repealed by the stockholders, at a general meeting to be called for that purpose by any forty or more stockholders; provided that there be present at such general meeting, stockholders holding two thousand shares in the whole, or their proxies, and that eight weeks notice be given in three newspapers printed in the city of Baltimore, one in Frederick-town, one in Hagar's-town, one in the city of Annapolis, and one at Easton, of such meeting, and of the alteration or repeal intended to be proposed thereat.

4th To appoint and remove at their pleasure all clerks, superintendents, agents or other officers necessary for carrying on the business of the said company, and to fix and pay, out of the funds of the said company, the compensations of all such clerks, superintendents, agents or other officers.

5th To make such contracts for labour, materials, engines and machines, and all such purchases of lands, tenements or hereditaments, in fee simple or otherwise; and to contract for and obtain in behalf of the said company all such privileges, permissions, rights and advantages, of every kind and nature whatever, as they shall judge necessary for establishing, carrying on and encouraging manufactories, agreeably to the first article of this association, and all necessary conveyances and assurances of the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, privileges, permissions, rights and advantages, to take and receive in trust, for the said company, or otherwise, as they shall judge most proper; and all and any of the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, materials, engines, machines, privileges, permissions, rights and advantages, to sell again, let, hire, or otherwise dispose of, in whole or in part, for the benefit of the said company, in such manner and on such terms and conditions as they shall judge most proper, and all power and needful conveyances, assurances, contracts and deeds therefor, to make and execute.

6th To receive, use, dispose of and employ, for the purposes aforesaid, or any of them, all the capital stock, money, property and funds, of the said company, of every nature and kind whatever, now or at any time hereafter to be held or claimed, keeping and rendering to the stockholders, at each annual meeting for the choice of directors, a particular account of all stock, property, money and funds, to be received, expended and disposed of, in the course of the year then next preceding, and of all contracts, purchases, leases, sales and dispositions, to be made within the same period, which shall at all times be subject to the inspection of the stockholders.

7th To provide for, and pay out of the revenues and funds of the company, all such annual expenses as it may be necessary to incur, for keeping up, carrying on and encouraging, the said manufactories, or for promoting and carrying on in any manner the business of the company.

8th To bind by their contracts, deeds and writings, under the hand of the president and the seal of the company, all the property, estate, common stock, and joint funds, of the said company, but not the persons or separate property of themselves or any of the stockholders.

9th To establish rules and regulations for the transfer of the stock of the said company, and for the proof of property and ownership therein.

10th To call general meetings of the stockholders from time to time, and at such times and for such purposes, as they shall think proper, giving eight weeks notice in three newspapers or more in the city of Baltimore, one in Frederick-town, one in Hagar's-town, one in the city of Annapolis, and one in Easton, of the time, place and purpose of every such meeting respectively, provided that no such meeting shall be competent to the transaction of any business whatever unless there be present thereat the holders of two thousand shares at the least, or their proxies.

In CHANCERY, February 23, 1808.

Francis Cromwell and Cockey Pumphrey, vs.

William Ridgely, Rhody Ridgely, and Susanna Pumphrey.

THE object of the bill is to obtain a legal title to two tracts of land, called Milford and Tyler's Lot, situate in Anne-Arundel county, to the complainant Francis Cromwell. The bill states, that Mordecai Ridgely was seized in fee of the above land, and one William Pumphrey was seized in fee of a tract called Jacob's Fortum, situate in the same county; that they exchanged, and each obtained the possession of the land exchanged, the right of Mordecai Ridgely, by mesne transfers, came to one John Boone, who by a decree obtained the legal estate; it also states, that William Pumphrey devised the land he received in exchange to Susanna Pumphrey for life, remainder to Cockey Pumphrey in fee; it also states, Mordecai Ridgely died intestate, leaving William and Rhody Ridgely his heirs at law, the former of whom resides out of the state. It is thereupon, by William Kilty, chancellor, and by the authority of this court, on the motion of the complainants, ordered, that they cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Maryland Gazette at least three weeks before the 24th day of March next, to the intent that the absent defendant may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in court in person, or by a solicitor, on or before the 4th Monday in July next, to shew cause, if any there be, wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed.

PUBLIC FORCE.

THE bill for increasing the public force of the U. States to the war establishment, has passed the committee of the whole of the house of representatives, and the blanks filled up as follows:

Infantry	- 9 regts. of 1,000	9,000
Artillery	- 1 regt.	1,200
Cavalry	- 2 regts.	600
Riflemen	- 2 regts.	600
		12,000

A resolution for raising and organizing 24,000 volunteer troops was referred to a committee.

DISPATCHES.

The dispatches from Mr. Role for his government, reached New-York on the 23d ult: the Norton was to sail with them on the 24th. Messrs Nourie and Lewis were to sail in the Ofage about the same time, the one with dispatches to Mr. Pinkney, at London; the other, to gen. Armstrong, in France. It is supposed the Ofage will sail direct to L'Orient.

It is said that Mr. Pinkney, our minister extraordinary at St. James's, will be appointed minister plenipotentiary to reside at London, in room of Mr. Monroe. [Fed Gaz.]

The negotiation between our government and Mr. Role, stated in our last to be suspended, is, we understand resumed. [Wash. Fed.]

We are informed by a letter from London, that our minister, Mr. Pinkney, has expressed great dissatisfaction at the late orders in council, and that he intends to enter a formal remonstrance against them, unless they are repealed. [U. S. Gaz.]

Congress were yesterday engaged for several hours with closed doors, on a confidential message from the president, which is stated to be a remonstrance made by Mr. Pinkney to the British orders of council. [Colvin's Register.]

It is reported that D'Alvina, general of the French army, has lately arrived in this country, vested with a very important mission from his government to congress. [Mercantile Advertiser.]

EMBARGO IN FRANCE.

Captain Matlack of the ship Cincinnati, sailed from Amsterdam the 12th of January. He informs us, that an embargo was laid at Antwerp, and at all the ports of France. Mr. Bourne, the American consul, had sent a circular to the captains of American vessels at Amsterdam, informing them that he hourly expected an embargo would be laid at that place, and advised them to get off as fast as possible. Colonial and American produce was immensely high. Every thing was in great confusion.

Capt Matlack further informs, that 14 sail of American vessels had been captured and sent into Dunkirk.

We are informed, that on Sunday morning last, several houses were destroyed at Easton by fire.

Extract of a letter from a respectable house in London to their correspondent in Baltimore, dated December 23, 1807.

"It appears to be the most fortunate circumstance that could possibly have occurred for this country: the royal family and court of Portugal having removed to the Brazils, under the protection of this country, the demand for woollens within 6 days far exceeds that at the opening of the North American trade after the conclusion of peace. All our warehouses have been stripped within these few days: not only of cloths of all qualities, but of baize and fannels of every description. If you shut your ports, it will be no disappointment; for if they remain open, we believe few orders can be executed."

Accounts from Lisbon state, that the French general commanding in that city, had seized all the powder in that port, and was to pay the owners of it at the rate of twelve dollars per barrel.

By the ship Triton, capt. Appleton, from Madras, we have received a narrative of transactions at Madras, from the landing of a British force at that place on the 24th of Dec. to the 14th of January. The narrative states, that on the 8th of January, three lines of battle ships, three frigates, and fourteen transports with troops, sailed from that place, reported to be bound to the West-Indies, but not generally credited. An embargo was laid on the 25th December, and taken off the 6th of January.

From a late London paper.

The following remarks appear in the Monitor—"The English have strange ideas of the sovereignty of nations, if they think the Americans pusillanimous and impolitic enough to barter away their independence, and abandon their share of the commerce of the colonies to England. If they could adopt such a mode of conduct, renounce the sovereignty of their flag, and interdict themselves from a commerce with France, there is no doubt that tearing thus to pieces their first charter of independence, they would be at war with France and with all the continental powers."

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

PORTSMOUTH, January 1.
 Yesterday a passport arrived for general Miranda, and he let off for London last night.
January 4.
 Yesterday Sir J. Moore, and general Paget, and this morning gen. Oakes and Fraser, set off for London. The troops which came with them from Messina, were yesterday ordered to disembark here.
 Letters from England by this arrival seem to despair of any accommodation taking place with America. So strong was this impression that the Romp has come out without a single passenger, or packet of goods; and the American vessels generally in England, were preparing to sail in ballast. [Phil. Gaz.]

LONDON, December 28.
 The expedition under Sir Charles Cotton and gen. Spencer, sailed on Sunday from Portsmouth for the coast of Portugal.
 Private accounts from the Hague, of so late a date as Friday last, state the arrival of M. Talleyrand at that place; and that king Louis was about to set out for Paris. It is not improbable that Louis may be transported to Portugal, and that Holland will be incorporated with the French empire.

December 24.
Arrival of Admiral Murray from La Plata.
 In consequence of the late very unfavourable state of the weather, very serious apprehensions were generally entertained as to the safety of admiral Murray, and the transports under his convoy. It is with more than common satisfaction, therefore, that we have to announce the safe arrival of that gallant commander, with all the transports under his convoy, at Cork.
 The emigration of the Portuguese to Brazil has put England in a very different situation with respect to the Rio de La Plata; and if the new ministry should have the courage to attempt the recovery of Montevideo—an enterprise rashly commenced, but shamefully abandoned—they may renew it with double their former advantages. The capitulation of White-Locke (for such it was) is not, we hope, to be considered as final. The honour of the country will never be clear till La Plata is a British province.
December 31.
 Sir John Moore has arrived at Portsmouth in the Euryalus frigate. He is accompanied by about forty transports, which have brought home about 10,000 men from Sicily. If this be not preparatory to evacuation, we would wish to ask what it can mean? the ministerial advocates asserted, that the troops were merely exchanged,—the Maltese regiments sent to Sicily, whilst the Sicilian regiments were transferred to Malta. This, however, is now evidently false, as the Sicilian troops are now in England and the Maltese remain where they were.

A deputation of the American merchants, waited upon the chancellor of the exchequer on Saturday, for the purpose of obtaining information as to some points connected with the late order of council, and particularly to ascertain whether it was intended to impose any tax on articles of American produce, on board such American ships as should, pursuant to their orders, touch at British ports? the inquiry of the deputation was principally directed to the article of cotton, and the answer of Mr. Perceval was quite decisive, that Ministers do intend to propose a duty on that article. Upon asking, whether such American ships as should not, in consequence of the French decree, feel it safe to proceed to an enemy's port after having touched in this country, would be allowed a license to sail in any other direction? the answer was, that no license would be granted to any other than the port of such ships original destination.
January 1.
 Dispatches were yesterday received from lord Colingwood, at the date of which we understand he continued to blockade the French fleet in Toulon.
 Private letters from France, of a very recent date, were received yesterday. They mention an extraordinary movement of troops in every direction, the immediate object of which is not stated.
 The Gazette will shortly contain some instructions to our merchants respecting the mode to be pursued in the trade to be carried on between this country and the Brazils. Liberty is to be given to ship and export such articles of traffic as have been heretofore usually sent and admitted into the Portuguese markets, and a regular commercial treaty will be concluded with all convenient speed. Lord Strangford is making preparations for his departure, and many of our first Portuguese houses are already preparing to establish their firms in Brazil.
January 6.
 Yesterday government received advice that great dissensions prevailed at St. Petersburg on account of the unpopular rupture with England, and that Comte Czernicheff, at a special audience, had with his official director of the academy of sciences, requested permission to lay all his Russian honours at the emperor's feet.
 It was yesterday very currently reported in the city, that the communications received by the flags of truce from France, related exclusively to overtures of PEACE made by Buonaparte. It is also stated that the principal object of Talleyrand's journey to Holland is, that he may be the medium of the negotiation with our government.
 The force which sailed with Sir Samuel Hood and general Beresford, amounted to 3794 effective men, consisted of The 3d foot, or buffs. 1100 men.

The emperor of Austria is stated to have recalled his minister, count Stahrenberg from the court of London, at the instance of the French emperor. Count de Mier, a Polish nobleman and secretary of the Austrian legation at Paris was the bearer of the recall together with other important dispatches, the contents of which had not transpired at the sailing of the Romp, from England.
 The brig Clinton, captain Breath, arrived at New-York, in 40 days from London, brings London dates down to the 8th of January, two days later than by the Romp. From the New-York papers we are enabled to make the following summary.
 An important proposal has been made by general Miranda to the British ministry to assist him in revolutionizing South America. The force asked for is four ships of the line and 7000 men. The government to be a confederated republic with Miranda at its head, under the protection of England. It is also reported that the British cabinet are inclined to assist in its execution.
 On the 9th of Jan. an order of council was to be issued, declaring certain ports of Spain and Portugal in a state of blockade, until which licenses to merchants to trade to those countries have been withheld. By the granting of licenses it would appear that a smuggling trade is carried on with the continent under the sanction of the British government.
 Buonaparte arrived at Paris on the 25th of Dec. Previous to his departure from Milan he is said to have issued a decree uniting Etruria to the kingdom of Italy, and declaring Eugene Beauharnois his successor.
 The French emperor has succeeded in effecting an alliance of the strictest kind with Khan of Persia; and the English missionary on the same errand has had to make the best of his way home.

STATE OF PORTUGAL.

It would seem by the last foreign intelligence, that the kingdom of Portugal is to be the allotment of Louis Buonaparte, the king of Holland, who is to surrender that kingdom to the prince of Benevento, and to receive Portugal in exchange. This is by no means improbable. Portugal will be more easily governed than Holland. The king of Holland is the best of his family; he has a benevolence, and natural goodness, of which all the other members of the imperial house have totally divested themselves, if they ever possessed it. [London paper.]

We were last evening favoured with Antigua papers to Jan. 19—a paper of that date contains the embargo act. Admiral Cochrane was going off Martinique, from information that 4 French men of war had arrived there. Two frigates had gone to St. Domingo in pursuit of two French frigates from Martinique. [Boston paper.]

IMPERIAL PRIZE MEDAL.

The following intelligence contained in a letter from Paris to Dr. Mitchell, may be interesting to some of our citizens:
 "By order of the emperor, a prize of 12000 francs is offered on the dissertation on the angina membranosa, or croup, which lately carried off the heir apparent of the French throne. The nature of the disease must be explained, and also its development, its affinity with other diseases, mode of cure, and means of arresting its progress. Foreign physicians are invited to write, and memoirs on the subject will be received until the first of January, 1809."

The court of inquiry, in the case of gen. Wilkinson, has adjourned to 14th March next; subject, however to the call of the president.
 The duke of Manchester is appointed governor-general of Jamaica; and is coming out in the Guerrier, of 40 guns, capt. Sherer.
 MARRIED, on Sunday evening last, at Hackett's Point, by the Revd. Mr. HIGINBOTHAM, Mr. DAVID HANLON, of this city, to Miss HARRIET MOSS, daughter of Mr. JAMES MOSS, of that place.
 DIED, at Ipswich, England, in the month of October last, the Rev. Dr. WILLIAM GORDON, author of The History of the American Revolution.
 —, at Paris, on the 24th of December last, Madam LA FAYETTE.

will be held, at Coolidge's tavern, in the city of Annapolis, on Monday, the seventh day of March next, for the purpose of choosing, from amongst the stockholders in the Farmers Bank in Frederick county, nine directors to govern the Frederick-town branch
Bank; the directors so chosen to hold their seats until the general annual election on the first Monday of August, 1808.

All votes at elections must be by ballot, delivered in person, or by proxy.

At the same time and place, the stockholders will be called on to fix permanently the salary of the president of the Farmers Bank.

Each company of artillery to consist of one captain, one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, two cadets, four sergeants, four corporals, four musicians, eight artificers, and 58 privates.

Each company of cavalry to consist of one captain, one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, one ensign, four sergeants, four corporals, four musicians, one saddler, one farrier, and 38 privates.

The papers of last evening have published the following communication, which if true, is of importance. "It is expected that general D'Alvimar (gen. of the French army) has lately arrived in this country, vested with a very important mission from his government to congress, that officer endowed with great talents so well known throughout Europe by his voyages through Greece, Egypt and the Levant, was brought up with the emperor Napoleon, at the royal military school. He was during the last campaigns of St. Domingo first adjutant general to general Le Clerc, and has often been employed in the Spanish colonies of the continent, which he has almost all overruled, sometimes vested with the most difficult missions, in which he never failed to succeed." Monsieur D'Alvimar is in this city, but we have not cause to discredit the rumour, from information we have received on the subject, and other testimonies of its invalidity. [L'Oracle.]

A letter from Detroit, of the 18th Feb. states, that Col. Cloze, a British officer, has arrived at Malden, on English ferrets about 18 miles from Detroit) and a large council of Indians is shortly to be held. They are arriving daily; and I presume there are not less than fifteen hundred men, women and children, already collected at that place. [N. Y. Gaz.]

A meeting took place on Wednesday the 2d inst. between Mr. Gardener, of New-York and Mr. George W. Campbell, of Tennessee, in which Mr. Gardener was sound; but we are happy to say that the surgeons have ascertained it to be only a flesh wound, and not likely to be attended by any dangerous consequences. The gentlemen, we understand, both behaved with great bravery and coolness on the ground. [Nat. Int.]

REASON.

REASON, first of Heaven's blessing,
Given only to mankind:
Life would not be worth possessing,
Did not Reason rule the mind.
When we see capricious fortune
Striving all the rich to bless,
Reason tells us envy not them,
Riches are not happiness.
When in height of beauty blooming,
Clara exercises power;
Reason whispers in our hearing,
"Beauty is a fading flower."
When in pomp and pow'r parading,
President's and kings we see;
Reason tells us they are fading,
They must die as well as we.
When fell poverty invades us,
And our lot is slaves to be;
Reason tells us bear with patience;
Time will come and set us free.
When our passions drag us headlong,
Through ambition, avarice—where
Searching after bliss and pleasure,
Reason tells us 'tis not there.
Let pain and poverty attend us;
All our life in trouble spent;
Reason has a balm to send us;
And that balm is call'd Content.
When we're on our death-bed lying,
Full of anguish, full of pain,
Reason tells us be of comfort—
You shall surely live again.

against
Anne Pitcher, Samuel Church, and Hannah his wife,
Cornelius M'Carty, and Sarah his wife, George
Cromwell, and Mercy his wife, Thomas
Pitcher, and James Pitcher.

THE object of the complainant's bill is to obtain a decree for the partition of a tract of land, situate and lying in Anne-Arundel county, called Rich Land, containing three hundred acres, among the heirs of Thomas Pitcher, deceased. The bill states, that the said Thomas Pitcher hath departed this life intestate, leaving the aforesaid Anne, Hannah, Sarah, Mercy, Thomas, and James, his children and heirs at law; that James is a minor, and that Anne Pitcher, Samuel Church, and Hannah his wife, Cornelius M'Carty, and Sarah his wife, are absent from the state of Maryland, and gone to parts unknown to the complainants. It is thereupon, on the application of the complainants, adjudged and ordered, that they cause a copy of this order to be published three weeks successively in the Maryland Gazette before the 1st Monday of April next, to the end that the said defendants may be warned to appear in this court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the first Monday of August next, to shew cause, if any they have, why a decree should not pass as prayed.

WILLIAM WELLS. Calvert county, March 2, 1808.

Saint-John's College.

THE present situation of Saint-John's College is such, as to offer to the friends of science the pleasing prospect of its future respectability. The visitors and governors of this seminary have recently new modelled and placed it under the superintendence of the Rev. Bethel Judd, A. M. formerly of Yale College, in Connecticut, who is professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, and will reside in the College; there are also a Professor of Languages, and a teacher of the Grammar School. The building is large and commodious, situated in a retired part of Annapolis, the metropolis of Maryland, and one of the most pleasant and healthy cities in America. As the legislature and supreme courts hold their sessions at this place, it is the resort of people of the first respectability. The college possesses a philosophical apparatus surpassed by none in America. The price of tuition is fifteen pounds per annum. Students can be accommodated with board, including lodging, washing, and other conveniences, for fifty pounds per annum.

When we consider that Saint-John's College possesses so many advantages, without any of the disadvantages incident to commercial places, we trust that we have some reason to expect public patronage; but knowing that the only criterion of judging is "by the fruits produced," we invite an investigation of the rules and regulations, and of the improvement of the youth belonging to the college, for the farther satisfaction of those persons who may think it worthy of their attention.

The following regulations have been adopted:

There shall be four classes in the college, viz. the Noviciate, the Sophomore, Junior and Senior.

To the college shall be annexed a grammar school, in which shall be taught the various branches of English, and the Latin and Greek Languages, preparatory to an admission into the Noviciate class.

No student shall be admitted into the Noviciate class unless he can construe and parse Caesar's Gallic War, Sallust, Virgil, and the Greek Testament.

The Noviciate class shall study Horace, Cicero's Orations, Lucian, Homer, Arithmetic and Algebra; The Sophomore class shall study Juvenal, Xenophon, Demosthenes, Euclid, Surveying, Trigonometry and Navigation.

The Junior class shall study Tully's Offices, Epicurus, Logic, Astronomy, Fluxions, Conic Sections, Geography and Natural Philosophy.

The Senior class shall study Grotius de Veritate, Longinus, Blairs Lectures, Moral Philosophy, Locke on the Human Understanding and Vattel's Law of Nations.

It shall be the duty of the professor of languages to make the students in the college constantly review their prior classical studies at such periods as he may find most convenient.

All the students shall attend prayers both Morning and Evening.

All the classes shall recite at least three times each day.

A due proportion of time shall be devoted to composition and speaking.

A lecture, either moral or literary, shall be delivered by the principal, or one of the professors, on every fourth Saturday morning.

There shall be annually two public examinations and exhibitions, one at or about the time of commencement, which shall always be on the fourth Wednesday in July, the other on the fourth Wednesday in December.

Every student shall attend public worship at such place as his parents or guardian shall in writing direct, and if no such direction be given, he shall attend such place of worship as the principal may appoint.

No student shall be guilty of profane swearing, indecent conversation, gaming, drunkenness, frequenting taverns or houses of public entertainment, rude behaviour or any thing immoral.

No student shall purchase any thing on credit without permission of his parent or guardian, unless the principal shall think it necessary.

It shall be the duty of the principal to examine all compositions written, and all speeches intended to be delivered, and expunge every expression that might give just cause of offence to any party, religious or political.

It shall be the duty of the professors to set good examples to the students, to treat them with parental tenderness and affection, to pay strict attention to those committed to their care, particularly those from abroad, and to see that they have every accommodation necessary to their comfort and health.

If any student shall offend in any respect against the rules and regulations of this seminary, he may be punished by moderate correction, admonition, tasks, solitary confinement or expulsion, provided that no one shall be expelled without the consent of a board of visitors, and that no corporal punishment be inflicted upon any in the three higher classes.

If any student shall injure the college building or its appertences, he shall pay twice the expense of repairs.

There shall be two vacations in each year, one of two weeks, commencing on the twenty-fourth of December, the other from the fourth Wednesday of July to the second Monday of September.

The tuition money shall be paid by every student quarterly.

NICHOLAS CARROLL, President of the board of visitors and governors of Saint-John's College.

NEW MILITIA.

GENERAL SMITH, from the committee to whom was referred so much of the president's message (at the opening of the session) as relates to that subject, reported a bill for the formation of the militia into a special militia, which was read in the Senate on Monday last, and passed to a second reading. This bill provides, that every free able bodied white male citizen between 18 and 45, whose principle occupation has been or now is, on the high sea, or in the tide waters, shall be included in this class, and they are exempt from the duties of the land militia. These persons are to be enrolled in the respective towns and districts. Every enrolling officer or captain of a port, shall correct and renew his enrollment annually. This militia "shall be disciplined four days in the year," to the use of artillery, the manœuvring of gun boats, or such other armed vessels as may be at the ports or in the districts respectively. In case of insurrection or invasion by an attack from an enemy, all persons so enrolled in such district, as are then at hand, shall be called on to do duty with artillery, or on board of any vessel, as above, "for the special purpose of quelling the insurrection or repelling the attack." But any person so enrolled may employ a substitute. All persons so called into service shall receive the same pay, and be subject to the same laws, as persons in the navy of the U. States.

[Ed. Gaz.]

A reward of 500 dollars was offered by the governor of this state in October last for the apprehension of John Whirlow, who had been committed to gaol on Snow Hill on a charge of burglary, and suspicion of being the person who attempted the life of Judge Johns of Caroline county. We perceive the proclamation to be copied into the Charleston City Gazette, of February 20, with a note subjoined, that intelligence may be had of the villain above described, on application at the gaol in Charleston, S. C.

The electioneering campaign for presidential election has already commenced in North-Carolina. A Mr. Wm. Drew, of Halifax, has offered his services to the public to serve them in capacity of an elector for president and vice-president, declaring his intention of supporting George Clinton, Esq; for president and James Munroe, Esq; for vice-president. A Mr. John D. Powell, of the same county, offers likewise, declaring in favour of James Madison, Esq; for president and George Clinton, Esq; for vice-president.

Ship building progresses rapidly on our western waters.—On the 20th February, at Marietta, were launched, the elegant brig Rufus Putnam, burthen 15 tons; the beautiful ship Frances, 350 tons; and the fine ship Robert Hale, 294 tons. The execution of the workmanship is said to do great credit to the shipwrights of the west.

A letter was received from Mr. Erving, the American consul-general at Madrid, by our vice-consul at Seville, about the 13th January, advising the immediate departure of all American vessels. Provisions gathering in all parts of Spain, to relieve the suffering inhabitants of Portugal. General rejoicings were had on the 1st of January at St. Audoer, in consequence of the safe arrival of the combined fleets of France and Russia at a French port up the Straits.

The brig Joanna, Gardner bound to Baltimore, from Madeira, and last from Terceira, has arrived at New-York, short of provision.

The captain states, that British troops were expected at Terceira; that a British 74 had arrived from Lisbon, and a frigate from off Madeira, with dispatches to the governor-general. The 74 reported, that a most distressing famine existed in Lisbon, that Portuguese were allowed, on any pretext whatever, to leave the country, and that numbers of them enlisted into the French army for the sake of subsistence.

Three decrees of the French emperor dated at Milan, Dec. 20th, gives, the one to Eugene Beauharnais, in addition to his former titles and immunities, the title of "Prince of Venice;" the second, to the granddaughter of the empress, the princess Josephine, the title of "Princess of Bologna;" and the third to Mr. Melzi, the keeper of the seals of the kingdom of Italy, the title of "Duke of Lodi."

The emperor Napoleon has decreed, that there shall be no communication between the "Continental" and "Swedish," and that all letters destined for Sweden shall be seized.

[N. Y. paper.]

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

Arrived at Philadelphia, the brig Amazon, captain Ellis, from Falmouth, (Eng.) which place he left on the 17th of January, and brings London papers and Lloyd's lists to the 13th, which furnish the following articles. Capt. Ellis informs, that the British cruisers continued to carry in all American vessels bound to the continent;—among this number was the Montezuma of this port, bound to Amsterdam, sent into Guernsey. The spring vessels in England, bound for America, would all sail without freights. They had not heard of the embargo, though it will be perceived by an article below, that a non-intercourse act was confidently expected to proceed from this country, in retaliation of the British decrees.

LONDON, Jan. 12.

We have made some further extracts from the papers received by the Gottenburgh mails. Two Danish sail of the line, which after having effected their escape from Christianland, where they had been blockaded by capt. Stopford, took shelter in Fredericksward, arrived in Copenhagen roads in safety. They have again sailed for the Baltic, to intercept any British cruisers or merchant vessels which might be in that sea. It is much to be regretted that an English Squadron has not remained off Copenhagen. There was nothing to prevent it. The Baltic is still open, and it is not improbable may remain so during the winter. We hope that a force sufficient to hold these Danish ships in check will speedily be sent to that quarter.

The Danish government seems determined to render the intercourse between its territories and this country not only difficult but impossible. It has imposed some very severe restrictions upon correspondence. All letters either coming from or addressed to foreign places, are to be subject to inspection.

The prevailing opinion among the American merchants is, that the government of the United States, as soon as the orders in council reach that country, will prohibit all intercourse with England. The American minister, it is said, does not hesitate to give it as his opinion, that a war between the two countries cannot be avoided, if these orders are not revoked. Now as we have the official authority of one of his majesty's ministers, the chancellor of the exchequer, that all the provisions of these orders will be strictly and literally enforced, we must lay our account to a rupture with America. We have as yet, no intelligence from that country of the actual receipt of the orders in council.

We have learnt that a vessel has arrived at Bristol from N. York, after a quick passage. She is said to bring intelligence that letters of the 12th ult. had been received from Washington, announcing that congress had passed an act for rendering more efficient the non-importation act, which, as we have already stated, was to commence its operation on the 14th of the same month. The same letters state, that Mr. Munroe and Mr. Rofe had arrived, but had not reached the seat of government, consequently in passing the act, the American legislature could not have been influenced by any representations of our government.

In the course of the last interview which the American merchants had with lord Bathurst, one of the deputation took occasion to express a hope that the mission of Mr. Rofe would tend to remove the differences subsisting between the two countries, and to produce some modification of the orders of council. But in this hope the noble lord did not allow the deputation long to remain, for he immediately observed, that Mr. Rofe's mission related solely to the case of the Chesapeake, and that he had no authority to make any proposition or to enter into any discussion with regard to the orders of council.

January 11.

A vessel was yesterday in waiting at Dover to convey count Meir, the Austrian officer who brought the late dispatches from M. de Metternich, to Calais or Bologne. He was expected to leave town this morning.

Notwithstanding the intemperate language held by the Moniteur, persons nearly connected with government, affirm that a direct offer of negotiation from France has been made to ministers through the medium of the Austrian ambassador at Paris. To this, it is understood, our government has replied, that they were willing to open a negotiation as soon as an equitable basis should be agreed upon, and that they were desirous of knowing what basis the emperor of the French was inclined to propose. They at the same time premised, that the question of maritime right could not possibly be allowed to make part of the discussion.

Foreign Office, Jan. 8, 1808.

"The undersigned, his majesty's principal secretary of state for foreign affairs, has received his majesty's commands to acquaint Mr. Pinkney, that his majesty has judged it expedient to establish the most rigorous blockade at the entrance of the ports of Carthagena (Cadix) and St. Lucar, (and of all the intermediate ports, situated and lying between the said ports of Carthagena and St. Lucar,) Mr. Pinkney is therefore requested to apprise the American consuls, and merchants residing in England, that the entrance of all the ports above mentioned are and must be considered as in a state of blockade, and that from this time, all the measures authorized by the law of nations, and the respective treaties between his majesty and the different neutral powers, will be adopted and executed, with respect to the vessels attempting to violate the said blockade, after this notice.

"The undersigned requests Mr. Pinkney to accept the assurances of his high consideration.

A NEW COMET OR PLANET.

On Friday night the 29th instant, at 17 minutes past nine, while viewing the heavens, I observed in the Constellation of Andromeda, about one degree and thirty minutes below the star Ny, a star of a dim appearance and enveloped in a white vapour of an oval form, in length of about five minutes. From its size and unusual appearance, I immediately concluded it could not be a fixed star, and on looking to my globe, found no star near its situation. I then regarded it through a Doland's Glass, of the magnifying power of those generally used at sea, and perceived its size considerably increased, which confirmed me in my opinion of its being a satellite or COMET. I afterwards measured, by means of a good Halley's Octant, its distance from several stars, and on Saturday night, between six and seven, repeated the same observations in order to ascertain its change of place. These I here set down as follow:

	h.	m.
29th Jan. 9	30	P. M.
North Polar star,	43	13
Capella,	48	17
Alpha of Cassiopea,	15	5
Beta of Cassiopea,	18	50
Almaac of Andromeda,	15	9
30th Jan. 7	P. M.
North Polar star,	48	31
Capella,	48	45
Alpha of Cassiopea,	15	15
Beta of Cassiopea,	18	33
Almaac of Andromeda,	15	15

Believing this star to have been hitherto unobserved, I shall continue to make as frequent observations as the weather may permit on its place in the Heavens, which I shall take the liberty of communicating to the public through the medium of your paper, and to distinguish it from the Comet which disappeared some months since, shall call its name Napoleon.

Manchester Academy, Jan. 31, 1808.

New-York, March 10.

A gentleman who left London on the 14th of Jan. and arrived here on Tuesday in the brig Terror from St. Bartholomews, informs us, that according to the latest London papers, the Russian army were marched against Sweden; and that the inhabitants of Gottenburg, conceiving themselves to be unequal to its defence, were throwing down the walls, to prevent the horrors of a formal siege.

We have received a Gibraltar paper of the 16th of January, containing Buonaparte's decree of the 17th of December—and a Spanish decree, dated at Madrid on the 3d of January, adopting the same measures against England, together with the reasons therefor, which we shall give at full length to-morrow.

The same paper contains the following article:—
"By authentic accounts from Lisbon, we learn that the French flag has been hoisted on board all the Portuguese ships of war left in the Tagus by the prince regent; and that all the officers of the Portuguese navy, upwards of 200 in number, had been dismissed, without any compensation."

March 11.

We learn by the brig Hope, arrived last evening, that 20,000 French and Spanish troops were quartered in Lisbon; and that another French army of 10,000 men had entered Portugal. It is further stated, that there is no cordiality between the Portuguese and French—that when the French flag was hoisted the inhabitants revolted, and would have succeeded if they had had a brave commander. They were got under by superior force.

It is further added (and it came from one of the French officers) that during the march of the French army into Portugal, about 2000 of them died of starvation and fatigue, and that they subsisted two days upon acorns.

It appears by the arrival of a gentleman of information at Charleston from Europe, that a grand effort is about to be made for the procuring of a general peace. A general congress is proposed to be called to which the English are to be invited to send. The basis of the peace is to be a general acknowledgment of the liberty of the seas upon liberal principles. The British are to be allowed to retain their navy and their conquests. If they refuse, all the continental powers are to unite in their humiliation. A plan to this effect is said to have been submitted to Buonaparte. The army for its accomplishment is to consist of 300,000 men, divided into three grand divisions; two minor divisions called the right wing, under the command, one of the crown prince of Denmark; the other under prince Constantine, are to proceed from the Baltic; the grand army from France and Holland; and the left wing from Spain, Portugal and the Mediterranean ports. America is not to be required to join the contest, but to withhold from the British her wonted supplies. The naval force to consist of 200 sail of the line! 300 frigates and 4000 gun-boats, brigs, sloops of war, &c. &c. The expense to be defrayed by all the nations engaged in this gigantic enterprise for the restoration of a general peace. [American.]

Capt. Baker, who arrived at New-York, the 8th of March, in 12 days from St. Bartholomews, informs, that the Rochefort Squadron of 5 sail of the line, had slipped out, and were seen on the 5th of February, steering for the West-Indies—and that admiral Duckworth, with five sail of the line, who had failed in pursuit of them, arrived at St. Kitts on the 15th February, watered on the 20th, and failed on the 21st. It was said he intended to go first to St. Domingo, where he expected to find them.

Captain Avery, from Martinique, informs, that 2 French frigates arrived at Fort Royal on the 10th of Feb. from La Rochelle, where they landed 500 troops, and remained there until the 14th, during which time there was an embargo.

Captain Avery further informs, that the first January packet arrived at Dominice on the 3d of Feb. and brought orders to liberate all American vessels in that port. The news of the release of the American vessels was received at Martinique by a flag of truce.

Arrived, ship William, Frazier, 75 days from the Isle of Bourbon. Upwards of 25 sail of large English country ships had arrived at Port North-West, a few days previous to the sailing of the William, prizes to the French frigates Semillante and Piedmontese—they were chiefly laden with rice from Bengal.  against
Anne Pitcher, Samuel Church, and Hannah his wife,
Cornelius M'Carty, and Sarah his wife, George Cromwell, and Meicy his wife, Thomas Pitcher, and James Pitcher.

THE object of the complainant's bill is to obtain a decree for the partition of a tract of land, situate and lying in Anne-Arundel county, called Rich Land, containing three hundred acres, among the heirs of Thomas Pitcher, deceased. The bill states; that the said Thomas Pitcher hath departed this life intestate, leaving the aforesaid Anne, Hannah, Sarah, Meicy, Thomas, and James, his children and heirs at law; that James is a minor, and that Anne Pitcher, Samuel Church, and Hannah his wife, Cornelius M'Carty, and Sarah his wife, are absent from the state of Maryland, and gone to parts unknown to the complainants: It is thereupon, on the application of the complainants, adjudged and ordered, that they cause a copy of this order to be published three weeks successively in the Maryland Gazette before the 1st Monday of April next; to the end that the said defendants may be warned to appear in this court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the first Monday of August next, to shew cause, if any they have, why a decree should not pass as prayed.

Poet's Corner.
 SELECTED.
DRUNKENNESS CURED.

INSTANCE FIRST.
 A FARMER once, on English ground,
 Who, often, in his cups was found;
 At ale-house, on a certain day,
 Rememb'ring he had mown his hay,
 Beheld a thunder storm, on high,
 Threat'ning a torrent from the sky.
 Quick he return'd with deep concern,
 To save his fodder for the barn:
 Indeed so great had been his haste,
 He scarce had sipp'd a common taste.
 His little son, a lad of merit;
 Who oft had view'd him sleep'd in spirit,
 In great surprise, cri'd "Mamma see,
 A miracle, a prodigy;
 Papa's come home, with decent spunk,
 To save his HAY, AND IS NOT DRUNK!"
 The farmer felt the observation,
 And gain'd a thorough reformation.

INSTANCE SECOND.
 A planter in a southern state,
 (No matter on what day or date)
 Repeating oft the cheering drop,
 Had almost burnt his heart strings up.
 One night he thro' his parlour door,
 Could hear his kitchen in a roar;
 And having gratifi'd his ear,
 Resolv'd to see as well as hear;
 So thro' the key hole sought to know
 What pleas'd his laughing negroes so.
 CUFFY, he beheld, in mighty glee,
 In attitude of mimicry;
 Exposing every look and motion,
 Occasion'd by the pois'nous potion;
 Indeed 'twas clear the twany elf
 Acted as MASSA did himself.
 At which the grinning company
 Cri'd "MASSA's self the berry he."
 The planter saw its proper force,
 And grew a sober man of course.

CUPID'S TELEGRAPHE.
 AT a very considerable provincial town, we learn that a new system of signals has been introduced, which are rendered subservient to the affections of the heart and the obligations of parties: for example, if a gentleman wants a wife, he wears a ring or a diamond on the first finger of the left hand; if he is engaged, he wears it on the second finger; if married, on the third; and on the fourth, if he never intends to be married.—When a lady is not engaged, she wears a hoop or diamond on the first finger; if engaged, on the second finger; if married, on the third; and on the fourth if she intends to die a maiden. When a gentleman presents a flower, a fan, or a trinket, to a lady, with the left hand, it is an overture of regard; if she receives it with her left hand, it is an acceptance of his esteem; but with the right hand, it is a refusal of his offer—thus by a few simple tokens, explained by rule, the passion of love is expressed, and thro' the medium of "Cupid's Telegraphe," kindred hearts communicate information.

LAW OF THE UNION.

AN ACT

For procuring an additional number of arms, and for the purchase of saltpetre and sulphur. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That a sum of money not exceeding three hundred thousand dollars be, and the same is hereby appropriated, out of any monies in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of procuring by purchase, or causing to be manufactured within the United States, and under the direction of the president of the United States, an additional number of stands of arms, to be deposited in safe and suitable places. And for the purchase of saltpetre and sulphur, a sum not exceeding one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

[Approved and signed March 11, 1808.]

CONGRESS.

The following message was received from the president of the United States, on Thursday last, and referred to a committee of the whole on the state of the Union.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

I have heretofore communicated to congress the decrees of the government of France of November 21, 1806, and of Spain of February 19, 1807, with the orders of the British government of January and November 1807.

I now transmit a decree of the emperor of France of December 17, 1807, and a similar decree of the 3d of January, by his most catholic majesty. Although the decree of France has not been received by official communication, yet the different channels of promulgation through which the public are possessed of it, with the formal testimony furnished by the government of Spain in their decree leave us without a doubt that such an one has been issued. These decrees and orders taken together, want little of amounting to a declaration that every neutral vessel found on the high seas, whatsoever be her cargo, and whatsoever foreign port be that of her departure or destination, shall be deemed lawful prize: and they prove more and more the expediency of retaining our vessels, our seamen and property, within our own harbours, until the dangers to which they are exposed can be removed or lessened.

TH: JEFFERSON.

March 17, 1808.

Arrived at New-York, ship Amiable Matilda: Holland, 42 days from Gibraltar, with her outward cargo. She was bound to Barcelona.

About the 25th January the governor of Gibraltar had declined granting permission for vessels with colonial produce bound on the Mediterranean, to proceed on their voyage, although having stopped at Gibraltar in consequence of having been warned, or even to grant permission to those vessels to return to America without first going to England to pay a duty on their cargoes.—Frequent petitions had been made by the masters and supercargoes of the vessels then in Gibraltar for clearances, without effect; and it was generally feared that he would not clear any vessels with colonial produce for any other place except England, from whatever cause they might have touched at Gibraltar. Several were fortunate enough to get their clearances for America previous to the governor's coming to that determination.

Jan. 23, arrived in Gibraltar 24 large transports, full of troops, being part of 52 sail that left England with troops on a private expedition. Accounts were received in Gibraltar, that some of the other 38 sail had put back in distress; but it was much feared that part of them had been captured by a French Squadron of four sail of the line that had lately slipped out from Rochefort. In Gibraltar the object of the expedition is expected to be to take possession of Ceuta. From the 8th to the 27th January, the Spanish transports carried into Algiers 12 sail of American vessels, most of which were taken in under the French and Spanish decrees. None were condemned on the 28th that had been taken in on the new principle, but it was expected all would be indiscriminately; the batteries very frequently firing a salute on the arrival of a prize, which they seldom do except very sure of a good prize.

The marine militia bill reported some days ago in the Senate U. S. has been postponed till next December.

The duke of Manchester, the new governor of Jamaica, arrived at that island on the 12th of last month.

Arrived at Baltimore, ship Oriental, West, 35 days from the Straits of Gibraltar. The Oriental left Cape Henry, January 4, bound up the Mediterranean. On the 10th Feb. between Capes Spartel and Trafalgar, was boarded by the British ship Zealous, of 74 guns, capt. Pierrepont, who endorsed the register, warning him not to go into the Mediterranean, except to Gibraltar or Malta. Capt. P. offered to supply the Oriental with any thing she might be in need of.

The night before, he met Sir Richard Strachan, going into the Straits with seven sail of the line and two frigates in search of the Rochefort Squadron. The Oriental parted from the Zealous the morning of the 11th of Feb. the fleet off Cadiz then in sight, consisting of ten sail of the line under rear admiral Furvis, the French and Spanish fleet still in port amounting to 12 sail of the line. About ten days before she met the 74, was boarded by a French gun-brig under French colours, supposed to be a Guernsey privateer—they examined particularly to ascertain whether the ship's papers were endorsed or not, and finding they were not, suffered her to proceed, leaving the endorsement to the men of war, and to take them afterwards.

By the articles of capitulation of the island of Madeira, it is ceded to the English, to be restored to the prince regent of Portugal, his heirs, or successors, upon their restoration to its sovereignty and emancipation from French thralldom. Lieut. gen. W. C. Berresford is appointed lieut. of the island by the British king.

The brig Orlando, captain Beaty, from Lisbon, via Madeira, whose arrival we mentioned yesterday, has brought out dispatches from gen. Armstrongs, our minister at Paris, to the secretary of state. The passage of the brig from Lisbon to Madeira was performed in 14 days, and from Madeira home in 33.

Capt. Beaty informs of a decree of the French emperor, which he had seen and read in Lisbon, previous to his sailing, but had not procured a copy, in which "the house of Braganza is declared to be no more," and PORTUGAL declared to be a "province of France." [American.]

The French cruiser La Vengeance, sailed from Guadaloupe, armed with 18 guns, and a long 24 pounder, fell in with an English frigate, which sunk her with one broadside.

The commander of the Vengeance finding himself closely pursued by the English frigate, endeavoured to escape; and used the 24 pounder as a stern chase. The English captain continued the pursuit without firing a gun, until, coming to close quarters, the Frenchmen attempted to board, when a broadside was discharged which sent them all to the bottom. Of 180 men of which the crew was composed, not one was saved.

Capt. Reiner, of the Caroline frigate, in a letter to Sir Edward Pellew, dated Malacca roads, Feb. 25, 1807, states, that on the 27th of January, he captured, after a severe action, the Spanish ship St. Raphael (or Pallas,) a Spanish register ship belonging to the royal company of the Philippines, mounting 16 guns and 97 men, commanded by Don Juan Baptista Monteverde, having on board upwards of 500,000 Spanish dollars, and 1700 quintals of copper, besides a valuable cargo. She was from Lima bound to Manilla. She had 27 men killed and wounded before she struck.

The members of both branches of the legislature of Kentucky, have unanimously recommended James Madison as president of the U. States.

Extract of a letter from Barbadoes, dated the 20th February, received by the brig Adeline, Woodward, arrived at Alexandria.

"Martinique is closely blockaded by five sail of the line and three frigates, under admiral Cochrane. Admiral Duckworth joined him a few days ago, with 5 sail of the line and proceeded to St. Domingo, in pursuit of 6 sail of French ships of the line, from Rochefort or Brett.—If they should not find them at St. Domingo, they will steer for the United States.

"Flour continues at 20 dolls. but provisions will now fall, on account of the safe arrival of 80 sail of the Cork fleet, which came in last evening."

A few days since, (says a New-Orleans paper of the 15th ult.) a bill was introduced into the lower house of the legislature of this territory, the object of which is to prevent the sale of lands or tenements, goods or chattels, for any amount above 100 dollars, on writs of execution, during the continuance of the embargo. The bill was twice read and referred to a committee of the whole on Monday next.

A petition is now in circulation against the passage of the bill, and we understand has already obtained the signatures of a great proportion of the most respectable inhabitants of the city.

NEW-ORLEANS, Feb. 19.

Off the bar, H. B. M. sloop Solar, capt Clements, wants water—came to under American colours, but when he saw the pilots near, he hoisted the English flag—he wants a pilot to conduct him to the Lake Barrataria, there to get fresh provisions, after which he writes he will return the pilot, and sail for Jamaica—the sloop has sixteen guns only, but is full manned for twenty, and is pierced for that number.

WILMINGTON, (N. C.) March 1.

Captain Eldridge, of the schooner Betsey, who left Barbadoes Feb. 5th, informs, that an admiral of the blue had arrived there with 17 sail of the line for the purpose of attacking Martinico, which he immediately declared in a state of blockade, and had taken and sent to Barbadoes several vessels attempting to go in. Off St. Thomas capt. E. was boarded by a British sloop of war and treated politely, who informed that he was in pursuit of a French privateer; that there were four French and Spanish privateers in and about Sail Rock passage, taking all American vessels going to or coming from Porto Rico, and advised him to keep well to the windward side of the passage.

NORFOLK, March 14.

On Saturday evening a British fleet of five sail of the line and a frigate, anchored off our capes, consisting of the Royal George, of	100 guns.

Neptune,	98.
Temeraire,	98.
Dragon,	80.
Tonnant,	80.
Eurydice,	32.

Under the command of Sir John Thomas Duckworth, This fleet sailed from England on the 17th of Jan. His Britannic majesty's consul communicated to the editor of this paper the following circumstances: that this fleet sailed in pursuit of the Rochefort Squadron, which had escaped from that port, composed of the following ships—

Majestique,	120 guns
Lys,	74.
Ajax,	80.
Suffrein,	74.
Magnanime,	74.
Jemappe,	74.
Flora,	24.

Surveillant brig. Admiral Duckworth steered first for Madeira, near which island he spoke the British frigate Comus, capt. Percy, who informed him that he had been chased a few days before by a French line of battle ship and frigate, had nearly been captured. Admiral D. then proceeded to the West-Indies, from whence he came to our capes. The consul further informed us that Sir John Duckworth has forwarded to him a dispatch for Mr. Rose, at Washington, in which he states (we understand from the consul) that the appearance of his fleet so unexpectedly at this juncture, may excite some sensation in the American government, and requests that Mr. Rose would immediately communicate to our government the cause of his coming upon this coast.

These are all the particulars which we are informed of from an authentic source. Report says, and is proceeding from a British officer, that there are 3000 troops on board this fleet. Col. Hamilton was asked if there were any troops on board, he replied not to his knowledge. The number however far exceeds what could be carried in that number of ships.

The British ships were yesterday anchored to the southward of the capes.

The Rochefort fleet may probably pay a visit to the Brazils, where they might have effected something if the British admiral had not sent four sail of the line with the Portuguese fleet.

We understand that admiral Duckworth stated in a letter to col. Hamilton, that he should not remain more than forty-eight hours off our capes.

YORK, (Penn.) March 12.

On Thursday last a ball was extracted from the leg of JACOB BARNITZ, Esq; register and recorder of this county, which was received at the taking of Fort Washington in 1776.

The ball has lost but 6 grains of its original weight, an ounce, it is much flattened, and was so firmly wedged into the large bone below the knee, as to have rendered an extraction impracticable, before the part of the bone around it had become entirely carious and was ejected through a large incision on the top of the leg. The sufferings of the patient have been great ever since receiving the wound, and for some length of time almost insupportable.

The prospect is, however, at present much changed. And while his family and friends cherish the hope of seeing him freed from the long extended chain of woe, under which for 30 years he has languished; the public anticipate with pleasure the restoration of an useful officer, and patriot of SEVENTY-SIX.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, it has been represented to me, on oath, that a horrid murder has lately been committed in Cecil county, by a certain John McGuire, on a certain James Coyle, that said John McGuire is described to be about 5 feet 7 inches high, light complexion, dark hair, boyish countenance and cast down look, aged about twenty years, stout made, strong and active—had on when he escaped, an old short blue coat, lindsey trousers and swans-down vest His wrists considerably marked with the irons, and perhaps his legs also, and has lately broke gaol. And whereas it is the duty of the executive, in the execution of the laws, to endeavour to bring all malefactors to justice, I have therefore thought proper to issue this my proclamation, and do, by and with the advice and consent of the council, offer one hundred and fifty dollars reward, to any person or persons, who shall apprehend and bring to justice the said John McGuire.

Given in council, at the city of Annapolis, under the seal of the state of Maryland, this ninth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eight, and of the independence of the United States of America the thirty-second.

ROBERT WRIGHT,
By his excellency's command.
NINIAN PINKNEY,
Clerk of the council.

Ordered, that the foregoing proclamation be published twice in each week, for the space of four weeks, in the American and Federal Gazette, at Baltimore; the Maryland Gazette, at Annapolis; the National Intelligencer, the Republican Advocate, at Frederick-town; the Maryland Herald, at Hagar's-town; and in the Star at Easton.

APPOINTMENTS

By the Governor and Council of Maryland, March 1808.
John Roy, captain, Joseph Jemison, 1st lieutenant, Joseph Jeffries, 2d lieutenant, of an artillery company attached to 3d brigade, city of Baltimore
John Galloway, captain, Samuel Maynard, lieutenant of a company, 22d regiment, Anne-Arundel county.
William S. Green, ensign, of captain Lewis Davall's company, do. do.

At a meeting of the directors of the Frederick-town branch bank, at Frederick-town, on Tuesday, the 15th inst. JOHN TYLER was elected president, THOMAS SHAW cashier, and LEWIS GREEN, book-keeper.

Extract of a letter from Lancaster, dated March 17, 1808.

"It gives me sincere pleasure to tell you, that the bill for the improvement of the state, has at length made its way through both houses, after being very frequently in danger of being wholly defeated. It passed the senate to-day 16 to 9, and only waits the signature of the governor to become a law. The detail of the bill is as follows:

Harrisburg and Pittsburg, } Northern route.	100,000
Reading and Sunbury,	30,000
Susquehanna and Tyoga,	20,000
Susquehanna and Lehigh,	10,000
Wilkesbarre and Easton,	12,500
Lancaster and Middletown,	10,000
Susquehanna and York Borough,	5,000
Gap and Newport,	5,000

Dollars—192,500

Payable as a section or sections of the road are completed, in proportion to the extent of such section or sections."

The prison of Baltimore county was broke open on Monday evening the 14th inst. by the prisoners, by the invention of pewter keys, and forcing their way through the gaol and after a severe engagement, in which the turnkey and others were desperately wounded, the following persons made their escape: Thomas H. Judge, Daniel Doherty, William Robinson, James Swincher, Dick Bowler, a black man Will Bell, a mulatto, Paraway Johnson, black man, Caleb Doherty, a light coloured mulatto, Moses, a mulatto. Among the aforesaid, escaped at the same time a prisoner committed for felony, by the name of WILLIAM MORRIS.

A reward of two hundred dollars is offered for the apprehension of the above number of criminals, or twenty dollars for either, on application to the supervisor of the turnpike roads, or the sheriff of Baltimore county; and an additional one of 300 dollars for Thomas H. Judge, alias Thos. Jordan.

The noted Doherty, one of the prisoners who escaped from the prison was taken armed, on the Philadelphia road, by the supervisor, and brought back. Werckman who was stabbed by one of the convicts in his flight, has since died of his wounds. Greene, the turnkey, whose wounds were conceived to be mortal, is a little better.

The British packet failed this forenoon, with her decks literally crowded with sailors going to another country to seek employment.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

By late arrivals at New-York papers down to the 13th of Feb. have been received from Greenock—The news of the American Embargo was received in London the 23d Jan. As it was a measure anticipated, it caused but little sensation.

The Imperial parliament assembled on the 21st Jan. and the king's speech was delivered to both houses by a commission. Its length prevents its entire insertion this week—we have extracted from it the following paragraphs:

"MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

"It remains for us, according to his majesty's command, to state to you that the treaty of commerce and amity between his majesty and the United States of America which was concluded and signed by commissioners duly authorized for that purpose, on the 31st of December 1806, has not taken effect, in consequence of the refusal of the president of the United States to ratify that instrument.

"For an unauthorized act of force committed against an American ship of war, his majesty did not hesitate to offer immediate and spontaneous reparation. But an attempt has been made by the American government to connect with the question which has arisen out of this act, pretensions inconsistent with the maritime rights of Great-Britain: such pretensions his majesty is determined never to admit. His majesty, nevertheless, hopes, that the American government will be actuated by the same desire to preserve the relations of peace and friendship between the two countries which has ever influenced his majesty's conduct, and that any difficulties in the discussion now pending may be effectually removed.

"MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

"We are especially commanded to say to you, in the name of his majesty, that, if ever there was a just and national war, it is that which his majesty is now compelled to prosecute. This war is in its principal purely defensive. His majesty looks but to the attainment of a secure and honourable peace; but such a peace can only be negotiated upon a footing of perfect equality.

"The eyes of Europe and of the world are fixed upon the British parliament.

"If, as his majesty confidently trusts, you display in this crisis of the fate of the country the characteristic spirit of the British nation, and face unappalled the unnatural combination which is gathered around us, his majesty bids us to assure you of his firm persuasion, that, under the blessing of Divine Providence, the struggle will prove successful and glorious to Great-Britain."

LONDON, Jan. 16.

Thursday, the merchants in London interested in the American trade, sent a deputation to Mr. Perceval to know how far it would be prudent to send goods to America. Mr. Perceval of course was silent as far as respected offensive measures on the part of America, but expressed his willingness to grant licenses to vessels going from hence to America with British goods. In consequence of this assurance, several vessels will be immediately dispatched.

January 25.

Paris papers have arrived to the 21st inst. Buonaparte has issued another decree against our trade, by which any of the crew of a vessel entering a French port, who shall declare that the ship has come from Britain or her colonies, or countries occupied by British troops, or that it has been visited by any British vessel, shall receive a third part of the produce of the neat sale of the ship and cargo, if it is known that his declaration is exact. Any public functionary who shall be convicted of having favoured the contravention of the decrees of the 23d November and 17th December 1807, shall be punished as if guilty of high treason.

American cotton has advanced two half pence half penny per pound.

January 29.

The report that Spain had ceded the Floridas to France was prevalent in Holland. Intelligence to this effect was yesterday received by one of the first commercial houses in the city. The same rumour we find was in circulation in America several weeks ago.

The American committee met yesterday, and a long discussion arose upon the question, whether a memorial should be presented to ministers, relative to the present state of our relation with the United States. It was decided in the negative, by the casting vote of the chairman, Mr. Sanfom.

January 31.

It is now the opinion of the best informed men in the city, that the embargo laid upon the American shipping throughout the ports of the United States, is a measure altogether a la Buonaparte.

We shrewdly suspect that the first object of America is to get home as much of her shipping as possible before she takes a decisive part. She will then speak in a bolder tone, and if our information be true, that the system now acting upon, was recommended by the French government, and taken out by the Revenge, her voice will, no doubt, be raised against England.

A strong squadron we understand, will be sent upon the Baltic, so soon as the navigation of that sea is open, to anticipate the designs which Russia is supposed to entertain against the Swedish fleet.

Some French letters received on Thursday, state, that Spain had ceded the Floridas to France, and it is supposed, according to these letters, that the Rochefort squadron is gone to take possession of those settlements.

The Russian fleet in the Bagns is expected shortly to surrender.

HOUSE OF LORDS, February 4.

AMERICA—Lord Grenville observed, that he had read and heard with regret, that the president of the United States of America had refused to ratify the treaty concluded by the commissioners appointed by both countries, for the purpose of carrying that beneficial object into execution. He should regret a rupture with America the more, because it must necessarily give an increase to the French interest, which he had no doubt would soon lead to the overthrow of the constitution and independence of America. Be it, however, we arrived at the extremity of an open rupture with America, he hoped every exertion would be made to adjust our differences in a manner consistent with the honour, the dignity and independence of both nations.

Lord Hawkebury would content himself with stating, for the satisfaction of their lordships, that whenever the discussion should take place, it would appear that every thing had been done by his majesty's government to produce a reconciliation, consistent with the feelings and honour of both countries.

Lord Erskine wished to know whether the U. S. were made acquainted with our orders in council at the time they had ordered their embargo.

Lord Hawkebury replied they were not.

The fleet of transports with 5000 troops on board now at Portsmouth, under orders for North America, will be accompanied by five line of battle ships. The military force will be increased by a regiment of light dragoons, and three companies of artillery; the whole under the command of general Provoost. The officer who commands the naval part has not been mentioned. It is supposed to be destined for some ferret enterprise in the first instance. Col. Houghton, of the 8th, is appointed a brigadier general on the occasion.

It is rumoured, that a serious misunderstanding lately took place at St. Petersburg, between count Meerveld and general Savary. It originated in the former having expressed his high disapprobation of some language in the Monitor, reflecting on Austria. This language was defended by Savary; and the dispute ended in a challenge. The parties met, and Savary was killed by the first shot from the count.

February 10.

A letter is reported to have been received from Naples, which mentions an attempt to have been made upon the life of Joseph Buonaparte, as he was returning from his country seat to Naples. A party of men surrounded the carriage, and several shots were fired at him without effect. An action then took place between them and Joseph Buonaparte's guards, of which fifteen of the latter were killed. They succeeded, however, in rescuing him.

THE NEGOCIATION.

From the National Intelligencer of Monday last.

We understand that the negotiations between our government and Mr. Rofe, were on Friday last, brought to a close by the receipt of his final note. They are said to have been suspended on the preliminary requisition made by him that the president's proclamation should be rescinded.

It is said that the prince of Asturias is to be declared sovereign of both Spain and Portugal, his father abdicating the former kingdom. In return France is to have P. Rico and Cuba, and a free trade with South America. Other accounts mention that the queen of Etruria is to be put in possession of Portugal as guardian to her infant son.

Capt. Tobey, arrived at Charleston on the 2d inst. left at Cadiz, January 15, six French and 7 Spanish ships of the line; the French ships had dropped down below, and it was reported that their object was to prevent the Spanish ships from slipping out as the Portuguese had done. They were closely blockaded by 10 sail of the line under admiral Calder. It was daily expected that a body of French troops would arrive at Cadiz and Algeiras, for the purpose of attacking Gibraltar.

The following article has been introduced into several prints, apparently with a view of exciting national prejudices—we are inclined to doubt its authenticity, as later arrivals do not confirm this intelligence.

FROM HAVANNA, Jan. 14.
"The intendant of this city has issued an order, demanding that the merchants who hold American produce shall furnish for the use of government, 6744 barrels flour, 1027 barrels pork, 1251 barrels beef, 63,562 wt. of good beans, and 95,813 wt. of ordinary, 2296 jars of oil, and 81 barrels of vinegar; which, if not delivered in ten days, he will take measures for obtaining by force, for the use of his catholic majesty's troops." We have (says the Boston Centinel) the Havana Gazette, which contains this order.

Arrived at New-York, brig Thetis, Dolliver, 20 days from N. Orleans and 18 from the Balize. It was supposed that gen. Moreau would return from New-Orleans by land, as he sent his baggage by the Thetis. His visit to that quarter created great suspicion, occasioned by his intimacy with the Spanish officers.

Died, at Joppa, in Hartford county, on Monday the 7th inst. the venerable BENJAMIN RUMSEY, for many years one of the Judges of the High Court of Appeals in this state.

The celebrated American running horse OSCAR,

WILL stand the ensuing season at Christopher's, adjoining Belle-Air, the seat of Benjamin...
...dollars a mare, and half a dollar to the groom...
...may be discharged on the payment of fifteen...
...the money be sent with the mare, or paid...
...the end of the season, which will commence...
...the 15th of March, and terminate on the 20th of...
...Good palturage gratis during the season: all...
...left beyond its expiration will be charged two...
...dollars a week. The greatest care will be taken to...
...prevent accident or escape, but no responsibility for...
...her. Gentlemen wishing their mares to be fed...
...with grain must send the money with them for its...
...purchase. This celebrated horse will stand at the...
...reduced price, in consequence of the present...
...scarcity of money, and embarrassed state of the coun...
...occasioned by the embargo.

Oscar and his performances are so well known...
...throughout the state of Maryland, that it is scarcely...
...necessary to describe him, or enumerate them; but...
...the information of those who are unacquainted...
...with his immense powers, some of his races will be...
...given. He is now rising eight years old, fifteen...
...hands and three inches high, a beautiful bright bay, of...
...great bone and line, and his blood superior to any...
...bred in America, as will appear by the follow...
...ing pedigree.

He was got by the English horse Gabriel (fire of...
...Old-Boy and Harlequin); his dam was Vixen by...
...Old Medley; grandam col. Tayloe's Penelope, by Old...
...Medley; great grandam by Ranter; great great...
...grandam by Old Gift.

Gabriel (bred by lord Ossory) was got by Dorli...
...mont; his dam by the famous High-Flyer; grandam...
...out of Shepherd's Crab mare (the dam of...
...Haikstone, Iris, Sphinx, Plauet, and other good run...
...ners); her dam was Miss Meredith by Cade, out of...
...the little Hartley mare.

Medley was got by Gimcrack (Cripple, Godolphin...
...Arabian); his dam (full sister to the dam of Sir Pe...
...ter Teazle) was Aminda by Snap; grandam Miss...
...Cleveland by Regulus; great grandam Midge by...
...Ray Bolton; great great grandam by Bartley's Chil...
...dren; great great great grandam by Honeywood's...
...Arabian, out of the dam of the Two True Blues.

Thus it will be seen that Oscar derives his descent...
...from blood equal to any known horse in the world...
...It is a fact universally admitted, that Medley has...
...contributed more to the improvement of the breed of...
...horses in this country, than any other stallion that...
...has been brought into it; and to this day, with gen...
...erations of the turf, his valuable blood is so desirable...
...that a portion of it, however distant, is always...
...sought for.

Gabriel was a capital runner in England: in three...
...years he won fifteen races, out of which number four...
...were king's plates, proving himself a good horse for...
...short and long distances, as well as for high and low...
...heights.

It is also to be observed that Oscar is not himself...
...chance horse, his dam having produced but four...
...foals, three of which have been good runners, and...
...the fourth a promising colt, is yet to be trained.

PERFORMANCES.

At Annapolis, in the fall of 1804, at four years...
...old, Oscar won with ease, the three mile heats.

The next week after, over the Washington course...
...he won the city and town purse, two mile heats, beat...
...ing Mr. Tayloe's Clearmount, by Spread Eagle;...
...Mr. Lufborough's Napoleon, a capital horse, by...
...Punch; a bay gelding of Dr. Edelen's, and others.

On the 22d October, 1805, Oscar won the jockey...
...club purse at Annapolis, four mile heats, beating...
...general Ridgely's Lavinia, Mr. Duckett's Democrat...
...and Mr. Lloyd's Dolon. That day week he started...
...for the jockey club purse at the city of Washington...
...and was second horse, (being beaten by the Maid of...
...the Oaks, beating Mr. Allen's famous horse Sir-Sol...
...omon, Dr. Edelen's celebrated mare Floretta, Mr...
...Tayloe's noted horse Top Gallant, and several others.

The first heat of this race (and the course measures...
...a full mile,) was run in 8 minutes 2 seconds, the...
...second heat in 8 minutes 1 second; the two last miles...
...of the second heat were run in 3 minutes 40 seconds...
...Oscar was not in condition.

In the spring of 1806, Oscar won the jockey club...
...purse at Baltimore.

In the fall of 1806, Mr. Bond's horse First Consul...
...challenged the continent, and was taken up by Oscar...
...to run at Baltimore, on the 10th October, the four...
...mile heats, for two thousand dollars a side. Oscar...
...won in great style, running the second heat in 7 mi...
...nutes 40 seconds, which speed has never been equal...
...led except by Flying Cladders, who ran the Beacon...
...course at New-Market in the same time. Two weeks...
...after, Oscar again beat Consul at three heats, at the...
...city of Washington, for the jockey club purse, which...
...was won by Dr. Edelen's Floretta; Oscar being se...
...cond, beating, besides Consul, Mr. Tayloe's...
...Top Gallant, and Mr. Brown's Nancy, by Spread...
...Eagle.

The same fall Oscar travelled to Lancaster, in...

Anne Pitcher, Samuel Church, and Hannah his wife, Cornelius McCarty, and Sarah his wife, George Cromwell, and Mercy his wife, Thomas Pitcher, and James Pitcher.

THE object of the complainant's bill is to obtain a decree for the partition of a tract of land, situate and lying in Anne Arundel county, called Rich Land, containing three hundred acres, among the heirs of Thomas Pitcher, deceased. The bill states, that the said Thomas Pitcher hath departed this life intestate, leaving the aforesaid Anne, Hannah, Sarah, Mercy, Thomas, and James, his children and heirs at law; that James is a minor, and that Anne Pitcher, Samuel Church, and Hannah his wife; Cornelius McCarty, and Sarah his wife, are absent from the state of Maryland, and gone to parts unknown to the complainants. It is thereupon, on the application of the complainants, adjudged and ordered, that they cause a copy of this order to be published three weeks successively in the Maryland Gazette before the 1st Monday of April next, to the end that the said defendants may be warned to appear in this court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the first Monday of August next, to shew cause, if any they have, why a decree should not pass as prayed.

Maryland Gazette.

ANNAPOLIS, THURSDAY, March 31, 1868.

NEW-YORK, March 21.

LATE FROM ENGLAND.

YESTERDAY the ship Galedonia, captain Henderson, arrived at this port in 28 days from Liverpool; also the ship Robert Burns, capt. Waite, from the same place, in 28 days passage. The editors of the New-York Gazette have received London papers to the 17th of Feb. inclusive—7 days later than received. The papers are filled with important states in parliament relative to America, a sketch of which follows. It will be seen, that the king of Holland has shut his ports, and recommends the immediate fitting out of privateers.

The Decree of Louis, king of Holland, is dated Jan. 28, at Utrecht—It enacts, that all the ports in Holland shall be shut against all ships, whatever be their denomination, except to armed ships of his allies; ships of his allies or neutral powers who may enter his ports in distress, shall have no communication with the interior, shall be subjected to quarantine, and under the most severe superintendance, and shall be compelled to put to sea as soon as the weather permits.

The Globe of the 17th, announces the arrival of a body of Russian troops having marched to Sweden into the confederacy against England.

The Rochefort Squadron had been seen at sea, and captured and destroyed, to prevent information. The French official Journal contains the declaration of his Prussian majesty against England; in which he withdraws his minister from the British court, and announces all connexion with her until peace shall be restored between her and France.

A Russian Squadron of 15 ships have put into Tagus, badly manned and victualled.

Another grand dignitary of the French empire, under the title of governor gen. of the departments round the Alps, has been created. His residence is at Genoa.

In the house of commons, on the 15th Feb. on the second reading of the bill upon the orders of council, a call was made for papers relating to the negotiations with America, that the house might have time to consider them previous to the passage of the bill.

The chancellor of the exchequer, stated, that he felt great anxiety to have the bill read a second time, but the public might be apprised of the real nature of the intended measure. He said there had been an opinion expressed in the house, that the negotiation with America was naturally connected with the orders of council; but he was extremely desirous, if possible, to prevent any discussion as to that negotiation with America, and wished to have the second reading of the bill fixed for to-morrow.

Mr. Tierney thought there were various reasons for the reading should be postponed until the papers could be before the house. He said every neutral ship now arriving in this country was obliged to give bonds in a manner not sanctioned by parliament. Sir Arthur Pigot was of the same opinion—"not for the purpose he said of delaying the progress of the bill, but of getting possession of all necessary information before they discussed a bill so extremely novel, and so very important—it was a measure which went to produce a new code of maritime law—a new mode of legislation in this country, which affected the interest of all other nations."

Mr. Whitebread, on the same side, suggested the propriety of withdrawing the present bill, and of introducing a new one—He said "it was a question which materially involved the fate of this country as to a war with America—it was therefore indispensably necessary to be acquainted with all the papers before they entered upon such a momentous question, the more especially when he believed these orders were so little understood by those who issued them, that they were not able to answer the questions put to them by the merchants, who felt themselves interested in them."

The chancellor in reply said, that the papers wished for were voluminous, and could not probably be produced in time for Thursday's discussion.

Upon the question for discharging the order of the day, the house divided.—And for the second reading the next day, 118—for discharging it, 81—majority 37.

In the house of Lords, the same day, the orders of council being under consideration,

Lord Erskine observed, that he was amazed to hear noble lords talk of the necessity or policy of the measures under discussion—did they shelter themselves under the principle of retaliation? if so the house had long since been authorized that this measure of our government outstripped that of the enemy—it could not be defended on the principle of policy. The French decree, he said, as far as it affected America, had, he maintained, been satisfactorily cleared up to the minister then in France, and was deemed so even by the president of the U. States—hence he concluded, that America was no party in the decree of the French emperor. This he said was evident also from her subsequent conduct; when aware even of our orders in council here, she ordered a general embargo. Much had been said of the right of retaliation, on which these orders were founded; no body denied the right to resort to such a system, when the conduct of the belligerents justified its necessity—but even that law has its limitations, it should not overstep the nature of the evil which it went to redress; yet, in these orders, all limitation was lost sight of, and convenience alone regulated the extent—It would seem that if the French emperor declared the moon in a state of blockade, Great-Britain would have a meeting of the board of longitude, and our most celebrated astronomers, to retaiate by a prohibition on the satellites of Jupiter; when he commanded a cessation of the Lunar motion of her conjunctions and oppositions, they would react by a declaration that the whole planetary system should stop still—a loud laugh from the ministerial bench—he really conceived, notwithstanding the manner in which the comparison was received, that the cases were in a degree similar: in as much as he believed Buonaparte had as much efficacy over the moon as he had in his declaration of placing the British isles in a state of blockade.

Lord King observed, that there was no proof that America had acquiesced in the provisions of the French decree—she had disclaimed any disposition, and yet ministers had treated America with the same severity as if she had acquiesced.

Lord Grenville, in his speech, asked, was it not more natural to expect that ministers would defend their system of policy by a full discussion of its merits and necessity; that at last there would be an end to that eternal circle of arguing present questions from past transactions? With that feeling he entered on the discussion, believing in his soul, that on the Revocation or Non-Revocation of these orders depended the ultimate existence of the country. He continued in a most animated appeal to the house to interpose between the country and its destruction—to retreat quickly to the grave—He warned them against the renewal of a system of taxation, either directly or indirectly upon American trade; and conjured them to seize the opportunity afforded them, by the pre-eminence of France in this rivalry of injustice of erasing from the records of the country, and of obliterating from the minds of the people, the least intension of acting upon a system of policy rashly introduced, and wantonly pursued, calculated for no other purpose than to involve the nation in an unjust war.

The lord chancellor took a view of the various objections made to the orders of council, which he contended were not violations, either of the public law of nations or the municipal law of the country—they were founded, he said, on the most paramount of all rights—that of self preservation—he considered it inconsistent with his majesty's late ministers to raise objections against a system of conduct which they were the first to institute, and which every man must admit was called for by the violent and unjustifiable decree of the French government.

On the question that the papers furnished to the house on the subject of the regulations respecting the trade of neutrals with France, the house divided—contents—30—proxies 18—48—noncontents 61—proxies 45—106. Maj. 58.

BALTIMORE, March 24.

Extract of a letter received by a gentleman in this city, from his correspondent in Washington, dated March 21, 1868.

"Mr. Rose's mission is terminated without effect. He this day had his audience of leave with the president, and in a few days he will return to the Statura. The only object of his embassy was, as we are told, reparation for the attack of the Chesapeake; but as Mr. Rose was positively ordered to demand as a preliminary, the revocation of the proclamation, not a step has been taken in the negotiation, not an intimation has been given of the nature or extent of the atonement. This government when about entering into the negotiation with the best imaginable dispositions to accept any reasonable terms as satisfactory, was, it seems, abruptly stopped at the threshold, and told that an apology must first be made for an aggression to which his Britannic majesty's honour cannot submit, namely, the president's proclamation. But it is said, and among the best informed believed, that our government will not find it necessary to resort to war."

An English brig arrived in Hampton Roads last Thursday, with dispatches from England, which she put on board the Statura frigate, and sailed again in two hours.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 25.

On Tuesday the president laid before both houses of congress the following important message. The documents are so very voluminous that a considerable portion of them yet remain unread, although three entire days have been devoted to the perusal. A part of them, connected with the others, being confidential, the doors have been kept closed. To-morrow, it is supposed, the reading will be brought to a close. In the mean-time the senate have ordered 500 copies of the papers relative to the Chesapeake to be printed, and the house have directed 5,000 copies of all the papers to be published as read.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

At the opening of the present session, I informed the legislature, that the measures which had been taken with the government of Great-Britain, for the settlement of our neutral and national rights, and of the conditions of commercial intercourse with that nation, had resulted in articles of a treaty, which could not be acceded to on our part; that instructions had consequently been sent to our ministers there, to resume the negotiations, and to endeavour to obtain certain alterations, and that this was interrupted by the transaction which took place between the frigates Leopard and Chesapeake. The call on that government for reparation of this wrong produced, as congress has been already informed, the mission of a special minister to this country, and the occasion is now arrived, when the public interest permits and requires, that the whole of these proceedings should be made known to you.

I therefore now communicate the instructions given to our ministers resident at London, and his communications to that government, on the subject of the Chesapeake, with the correspondence which has taken place here between the secretary of state and Mr. Rose, the special minister charged with the adjustment of that difference; the instructions to our ministers for the formation of a treaty; their correspondence with the British commissioners, and with their own government on that subject; the treaty itself and written declaration of the British commissioners accompanying it; and the instructions given by us for resuming the negotiation, with the proceedings and correspondence subsequent thereto. To these I have added a letter lately addressed to the secretary of state from one of our late ministers, which, though not strictly written in an official character, I think it my duty to communicate, in order that his views of the proposed treaty and of its several articles, may be fairly presented and understood.

Although I have heretofore, and from time to time, made such communications to congress, as to keep them possessed of a general and just view of the proceedings and dispositions of the government of France towards this country, yet in our present critical situation, when we find that no conduct on our part, however impartial and friendly, has been sufficient to insure, from either belligerent, a just respect for our rights, I am desirous that nothing shall be omitted on my part, which may add to your information on this subject, or contribute to the correctness of the views which should be formed. The papers, which for these reasons I now lay before you, embrace all the communications, official or verbal, from the French government, respecting the general relations between the two countries, which have been transmitted through our minister there, or through any other accredited channel, since the last session of congress; to which time all information of the same kind had, from time to time, been given them. Some of these papers have already been transmitted to congress; but it is thought better to offer them again in order that the chain of communications, of which they make a part, may be presented unbroken.

When, on the 26th of February, I communicated to both houses the letter of gen. Armstrong to M. Champagny, I desired it might not be published, because of the tendency of that practice to restrain injuriously the freedom of our foreign correspondence. But perceiving that this caution, proceeding purely from a regard to the public good, has furnished occasion for disseminating unfounded suspicions and insinuations, I am induced to believe that the good which will now result from its publication, by confirming the confidence and union of our fellow-citizens, will more than countervail the ordinary objection to such publications. It is my wish therefore that it may be now published.

LATEST FROM FRANCE.

The following interesting intelligence, received at New-York, from France, shews the hostile spirit of despotism in all countries, to the existence of freedom. Buonaparte, madened with ambition and drunk with victory, has the vanity to imagine that he can compel the Americans to bend to the dispositions that his vain imagination can prompt him to pursue. Whatever our relations may be with England, our government will settle them on no other terms than on the broad basis of equity, unawed by the chicanery of the British diplomacy, or her colossal naval strength, nor will they be driven into hostile measures, inconsistent with our national honour and national interests, to subserve the mandates of the haughty conqueror of nations. Prudence and reason would have dictated to Buonaparte to leave the affairs of America to their proper channel, and his wishes might have been accomplished by the maddened phrenzy of the British court; but if his mandates are, in his opinion, to become the rule of conduct to the free citizens of America, he will find himself mistaken. He will find by experience that Americans are free, and will expire with their liberties and independence. [Edit. American.]

NEW-YORK, March 24.

Yesterday arrived in this port, the fast sailing ship Eliza, captain Skiddy, from Bourdeaux, and 29 days from the Cordevan.—She left Bourdeaux on the 15th ult. and brings Paris papers to the 10th—as usual they contain nothing new. The Paris Argus copies the account of the American embargo, from London papers, but without a single comment.

In the Eliza came passengers 20 American gentlemen, who left France in consequence of an apprehension of their being seized by order of the French government; as the opinion was that there would be an immediate war between the United States and France.

All the American vessels in France, that had been boarded by British cruisers, were under seizure; and the opinion was that the property would remain in the custody of the government till it was known whether we adjusted our differences with England, in which case it would be immediately condemned. One American vessel, on her passage from Amsterdam, had been sent into France, though in ballast, and seized.

Mr. Mansfield, one of the passengers in the Eliza, is the bearer of dispatches from Mr. Armstrong, our minister at Paris.

Application was made through the minister of marine to the emperor, respecting the construction which was to be put on the imperial decree of the 17th December, which rendered all vessels liable to condemnation that had on their passage been visited by British cruisers, and certain questions proposed. The answer to which was given in a letter from the minister of marine Decree, to the applicants, and was to this effect.

"That the decree of his majesty was liable to no construction different from its letter; that no one had a right to put any other construction thereon: that the decree was plain and simple; and must be severely, strictly and literally executed upon all objects which it embraced—that vessels subject thereto would be brought before the competent tribunals as soon as possible; and that the crews of such vessels as came under this decree would be permitted to live on board their respective ships at the expense of the ship and cargo until they were finally condemned, when they (the crew) would be delivered up to their respective consuls.

Letters to some of the applicants in Bourdeaux from the minister of marine, gave the emperor's answer in terms as abovementioned—copies of such letters might have been had, but was not thought of at the time the Eliza sailed.

March 25.

Arrived, the ship Frances Henrietta, Skinner, 120 days from Canton, with teas, silks, nankeens, china ware and cassia. Dec. 6, in the Straits of Buca, was boarded by an officer from the Bombay frigate; informed us that two French frigates and one privateer had taken a few weeks since in the bay of Bengal, 6 of the English E. I. company ships, outward bound, and eleven English country ships, and had sent them to the Isle of France.

The William and Jane, the arrival of which was announced in Friday's American, left Calcutta several days after the ship Bingham, arrived at Philadelphia. By her we learn that the disturbances which took place between the British and natives in India, were owing to some taxes laid on them by the company's government of Bengal, which they refused to pay—the troops engaged were sepoys with English officers. This affair made a very slight impression at Calcutta, and the embargo originated not from this affair as has been stated, but from the number of captures made by the French cruisers in the Indian seas.

A letter from Bourdeaux, received at New-York, says, "We are well assured, that a negotiation is on foot between England and France, and in corroboration, six blank passports have been sent to England, to be filled with the names of such characters as the British government may think proper."

The Roman Catholic clergy in Europe, in future, are to be admitted to partake of the nuptial rights; celibacy is no longer enjoined upon them.

The military court of inquiry in the case of gen. Wilkinson met again on Tuesday last, when the depositions of governor Wright and of James L. Donaldfon, Esq; were taken. [Nat. Int.]

The French ship Patriot, com. Khrom, arrived at the Isle of Aix, (a small island on the coast of France, 12 miles N. W. of Rochefort,) on the 10th of January; she left the Chesapeake bay on the 10th of December. Com. Khrom, 400 seagoes from London, from Ireland to New-York, capt. Anderson fails or melts, 11 days the sport of the waves, without bread only for 4 days, and without hopes of being preserved. The sea ran so high, that nothing but the utmost desire to save these unhappy men could have induced com. Khrom to have put out his boat. He happily succeeded in saving the lives of 43 men who were reduced to despair.

Three of the convicts, who made their escape from prison (the two Doherrys and Robeson) &c were retaken, were tried on Saturday last, found guilty of the preferred charges, and sentenced to be hung. [American.]

DIEN.—In England, lord Trafalgar, Esq; nephew of the late lord Nelson, and only male descendant of the present peer: it is probable the title and estates will descend to the eldest son of Mr. B. who married a sister of the deceased hero.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of a writ of fieri facias, to me directed, issued out of Anne-Arundel county court, will be exposed to public sale, on SATURDAY, the 9th of April, on the premises,
 ALL the right, title and interest, of SAMUEL ANDERSON to a tract or parcel of land called PROVIDENCE, situate in Anne-Arundel county. Seized and taken as the property of the said Samuel Anderson, at the suit of Ruth and Benjamin Gaither. Sale to commence at 3 o'clock, P. M. for cash.
 JOHN M'CENEY, Sheriff.
 March 31, 1808.

FOR SALE BY GIDEON WHITE, ANNAPOLIS, LEE'S GENUINE PATENT AND FAMILY MEDICINES. which are celebrated for the cure of most diseases to which the human body is liable, viz.

- Lee's worm-destroying lozenges.
- Lee's elixir.
- Lee's essence of mustard.
- Lee's grand restorative.
- Lee's antibilious pills.
- Lee's sovereign ointment for the itch.
- Lee's genuine eye water.
- Lee's corn plaister.
- Lee's antibilious pills.
- Lee's sovereign ointment for the itch.

Thousands of our fellow-citizens have received benefit from the above medicines which reduced to the last stage of disease, and many families of the first respectability have given public testimony of the astonishing cures performed with the above preparations.—The proprietors are well assured that a single trial of any article here enumerated, will convince the most prejudiced person of its utility.
 Pamphlets, containing cases of cures, &c. may be had gratis at the above place of sale, sufficient to confirm our assertion. Were we inclined to publish all the certificates which are in our possession, we might fill a folio volume; but we never mention the names of any persons but those who are well known to be citizens of strict veracity, and not then without their approbation.
 Those medicines have been made known for a number of years to the public, and nothing can speak more in their favour than the rapid sale—to detect counterfeits it is necessary to inform the public that they must be particular in applying as above, and observe that none can be genuine without the signature of Richard Lee & Son.
 N. B. Each and every medicine above enumerated have got their directions, describing their mode of use in the most perfect manner.
 March 31, 1808.

BENJAMIN SEWELL, BOOT and SHOE-MAKER.
 BEGS leave to inform his friends, and the public in general, that he has removed to Church-street, the next door below Jeremiah Hughes, and opposite William Caton's store, where he carries on the above business in all its various branches, in the neatest and most fashionable manner. He returns his most sincere thanks for the encouragement he has received, and hopes, by his strict attention to business, to merit a continuance of their favours.
 P. S. Mrs. Sewell carries on the millinery and mantua-making business.
 Annapolis, March 22, 1808.

IN CHANCERY, March 10, 1808.
 ORDERED, That the sale made by CHARLES DOVALL, trustee for the sale of the real estate of Barton Braslica, an insolvent debtor, as stated in his report, shall be ratified and confirmed, unless cause to the contrary be shewn before the first day of May next, provided a copy of this order be inserted three successive weeks in the Maryland Gazette before the 15th day of April next.
 The report states, that part of two tracts of land, called Hog's Harbour, 152 acres, and Freeland's Adventure, 75 acres, were sold for 443 dollars 17 cents.
 True copy.
 Test. NICHOLAS BREWER, Reg. Cur. Can.

NOTICE.

THE Commissioners of the Tax for Anne-Arundel county will meet at the city of Annapolis, on the fourth Monday of April next, to hear appeals, and make transfers of real and personal property, and will sit from day to day for twenty days thereafter.
 March 12, 1808.

State of Maryland, sc.
 Anne-Arundel county, orphans court, March 22, 1808.

ON application, by petition, of MARY ORME WOODWARD and THOMAS HODGES, administrators of HENRY WOODWARD, late of Anne-Arundel county, deceased, it is ordered, they give the notice required by law for creditors to exhibit their claims against the said deceased, and that the same be published once in each week, for the space of six successive weeks, in the Maryland Gazette, JOHN GASSAWAY, Reg. Wills, Anne-Arundel county.

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE,
 THAT the subscribers, of Anne-Arundel county, hath obtained from the orphans court of Anne-Arundel county, in Maryland, letters of administration on the personal estate of HENRY WOODWARD, late of Anne-Arundel county, deceased. All persons having claims against the said deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at or before the twenty-second day of September next; they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefit of the said estate. Given under our hands, this 22d day of March, 1808.
 MARY ORME WOODWARD, Administrator.
 THOMAS HODGES, Administrator.

In CHANCERY, March 18, 1808.
 John Johnson, vs.

John Fitzhugh and Lewis Neth.
 THE object of the bill is to obtain a decree to record two deeds, the one executed by Lewis Neth to John Fitzhugh, the other a mortgage, and from Fitzhugh to the complainant, for 1000 acres of land, part of a tract called Addition to Eden's Paradise Regained, situate in Allegany county, and also for a sale of the land, or a foreclosure of the mortgage. The bill states, the defendant was seized in fee of the tract, and for the purpose of dividing the same mutual deeds were executed, the one to Fitzhugh without any fraudulent intention, has not been recorded within the time prescribed by law. The bill also states, to secure a sum of money due from Fitzhugh to the complainant he mortgaged the same to him; no part of the mortgage money has been paid, and Fitzhugh has left the state, and is without the process of the court. It is thereupon, this 18th day of March, 1808, by William Kilty, chancellor, on the motion of the complainant, ordered, that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Maryland Gazette three successive weeks before the 15th day of April next, to the end that the defendant, Fitzhugh, may have notice of this bill, and of the subject and object thereof, and may be warned to appear in court, on or before the 15th day of August next, to shew cause, if any there be, wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed.

THE LITTLE CHIMNEY SWEEPER.

FOUNDED ON FACT.—BY MR. UPTON.
 'T WAS a keen frosty morn, and the snow heavy falling,
 When a child of misfortune was thus sadly calling,
 " Sweep, sweep—I am cold and the snow very deep,
 " O, pray take compassion on poor little sweep!
 " Sweep chimney, sweep."
 The tears down his cheeks in large drops were fast rolling,
 Unnotic'd, unprov'd, by those by him strolling;
 Who frequently warn'd him at distance to keep,
 While he cry'd—" take compassion on poor little sweep!
 " Sweep chimney, sweep."
 In vain he implor'd passing strangers for pity,
 They smil'd at his plaints, and they banter'd his ditty,
 Humanity's offspring as yet lay asleep,
 Nor heard the sad wailings of poor little sweep!
 " Sweep chimney, sweep."
 At the step of a door, half froze and dejected
 He sat down, and griev'd, to be shun'd and neglected;
 When a kind hearted damsel by chance saw him weep,
 And resolv'd to bestow, yes, the poor little sweep!
 " Sweep chimney, sweep."
 Unmindful of sneers, to a neighbour's she led him,
 Warm'd his limbs by the fire and tenderly fed him:
 And, oh, what delight did his fair maiden reap,
 When she found a lost brother, in poor little sweep!
 " Sweep chimney, sweep."
 With rapture she gaz'd on each black rooky feature,
 And hugg'd to her bosom the foul soiling creature;
 Who, sav'd by a sifter, no longer need creep,
 Thro' lanes, courts and alleys, a poor little sweep!
 " Sweep chimney, sweep."

 ROBERT ALLEIN.
 February 18, 1808.

Notice is hereby given,

THAT the subscriber intends to apply to the judges of Prince-George's county court, if in session, or to some one of the judges thereof, in the recess of the said court, after this notice hath been duly published for eight weeks successively, for the benefit of the act of insolvency of this state, and of the supplement thereto, on his complying with the provisions thereof.
 GEORGE W. WILLET.
 Prince-George's county, March 12, 1808.

BY HIS EXCELLENCY
ROBERT WRIGHT, ESQUIRE,

GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, it has been represented to me, on oath, that a horrid murder has lately been committed in Cecil county, by a certain John McGuire, on a certain James Coyle, that said John McGuire is described to be about 5 feet 7 inches high, light complexion, dark hair, boyish countenance and cast down look, aged about twenty years, stout made, strong and active—had on when he escaped, an old short blue coat, lindsey trousers and swan-down vest. His wrists considerably marked with the irons, and perhaps his legs also, and has lately broke gaol. And whereas it is the duty of the executive, in the execution of the laws, to endeavour to bring all malefactors to justice, I have therefore thought proper to issue this my proclamation, and do, by and with the advice and consent of the council, offer one hundred and fifty dollars reward, to any person or persons, who shall apprehend and bring to justice the said John McGuire.

Given in council, at the city of Annapolis, under the seal of the state of Maryland, this ninth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eight, and of the independence of the United States of America the thirty-second.

ROBERT WRIGHT.

By his excellency's command.

NENIAN PINKNEY,
Clerk of the council.

Ordered, that the foregoing proclamation be published twice in each week, for the space of four weeks, in the American and Federal Gazette, at Baltimore; the Maryland Gazette, at Annapolis; the National Intelligencer, the Republican Advocate, at Frederick-town; the Maryland Herald, at Hagar's-town; and in the Star at Easton.

Anne-Arundel county, January 20, 1808.

APPLICATION having been made to the subscriber, one of the associate judges of the third judicial district of Maryland, in the recess of Anne-Arundel county court, by the petition, in writing, of HENRY HODGES, of said county, praying for the benefit of the act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, on the terms mentioned in said act, a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors, on oath, as far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his said petition, and the subscriber being satisfied, by competent testimony, that the said Henry Hodges has resided the two preceding years within the state of Maryland, prior to the passage of said act, and the said Henry Hodges, at the time of presenting his said petition, having produced, in writing, the assent of so many of his creditors as have due to them the amount of two thirds of the debts due by him at the time of preferring his petition; it is ordered by the subscriber, that the said Henry Hodges, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in the Maryland Gazette, at Annapolis, and in some one of the news-papers in the city of Baltimore, weekly, for three months successively before the twenty-third day of April next, give notice to his creditors to appear before the judges of Anne-Arundel county court, at the court-house, in the city of Annapolis, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the twenty-third day of April next, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, on the said Henry Hodges's then and there taking the oath prescribed by the said act for delivering up his property.

RICHARD H. HARWOOD, One of the associate judges for the third judicial district of Maryland.

ROMULUS,

An elegant full blooded horse,

WILL stand to cover mares this season, commencing on the twentieth of April, and concluding the first of August, at the Black Horse tavern, on Mondays and Tuesdays; and Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, at Mr. Poulton's tavern, at the reduced price (owing to the embargo) of four dollars, and a bushel of oats each, to be brought with the mare, or five dollars to be paid by the first of October next.

Romulus is an elegant bright bay horse, full fifteen and an half hands high, in symmetry and elegance of carriage he is exceeded by no horse in the union.

Pedigree of Romulus.

Upper-Marlborough, February 20, 1808.

I do hereby certify, that I bought of Henry Rozier, Esq; a gray mare, now the property of John H. Hall, the dam of Romulus. Romulus was gotten by Romulus, that stood here as a full bred horse from Virginia. The gray mare above mentioned was gotten by the imported horse Venetian, out of an Arabian mare, thorough bred, as I was informed by Mr. Rozier.

W. B. BEANES.

JOHN H. HALL.

The above-mentioned horse Romulus will be five years old the fifteenth day of April, 1808, and was sold by me to John Smith, of Annapolis.

The celebrated horse called
BOASTER,

WILL stand the ensuing season at Zachariah Jacobs, Esq; quarter, between Waters's mill and the Methodist meeting-house, every Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, and at Mr. James Boone's every Monday and Tuesday. The conditions of the above horse's covering will be four dollars, and a bushel of oats. The season to commence on the 20th day of April, and end the first of August.

Pedigree of Boaster.

Boaster was raised by Mr. Richard Ward, in Albemarle county, in Virginia, was got by col. Barber's High Flyer, out of a Medley mare, called the Blooming Maid.

Boaster is an elegant, well proportioned, strong, dark bay horse, upwards of fifteen hands high.

The price of covering will be expected with each mare.

Given under my hand, this 15th day of March, 1808.

THOMAS WOODFIELD, Administrator.

Calvert County, to wit:

October term, 1807.

ON application of JAMES J. WILKINSON, of Calvert county, to the judges of the said county court, by petition, in writing, praying the benefit of the act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, passed at November session, eighteen hundred and five, on the terms mentioned in the said act, a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors, on oath, as far as he can ascertain them, as directed by the said act, being annexed to his petition, and the said county court being satisfied, by competent testimony, that the said James J. Wilkinson has resided the two preceding years prior to the passage of the said act within the state of Maryland. It is thereupon adjudged and ordered by the said court, that the said James J. Wilkinson give notice to his creditors of his intention to apply to the next county court, to be held at Prince Frederick-town, in said county, on the second Monday of May next, for a discharge from his debts, and to warn his said creditors to appear before the said judges on the day and at the place aforesaid, to shew cause, if any they have, why the said James J. Wilkinson should not be discharged agreeably to his said petition, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in the Maryland Gazette four successive weeks, and also by causing copies of said order to be set up at the court house, and church doors of said county, two months previous to the sitting of the said next county court.
