FOREIGN

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

Translations from Bordeaux papers to Dec. 27, received by the editors of the New-York Gazette, per the sch. Maria Louisa, in 26 days from Bordeaux.

The Essex arrived at L'Orient the 5th ult. and the messenger by her reached Paris on the 12th; the president's proclamation had been published throughout the French empire, and had caused a great deal of joy amongst the French people; nothing had then transpired from the French government with regard to this mission; but the general opinion in Bordeaux was, that an arrangement was to be looked for between the two nations, in consequence of the taking off the non-intercourse.

M. L'Esclavier was coming out in the ship Commodore Rogers, for this port, as consul general to the United States.

We have it from good authority, that our government has received despatches from Mr. Pinkney, our minister at London, dated the 24th and 25th Nov. Mr. Pinkney conveys an assurance from Lord Wellesly, that the first business done after the appointment of a Regency, or after the recovery of the king, would be relative to the rescinding the orders in council.

LONDON, DEC. 10.

Yesterday despatches were received from Lord Wellington to Dec. 1, at which time no change had taken place between the two armies. Massena had fortified Santarem, and added new works. It is believed he waits for reinforcements. There has been some skirmishes in the environs of Baslen, but without any important result.

DEC. 11.

Bulletin of the king's health, Windsor, Dec. 11. The King has had a very good night, and his majesty is better than he was yesterday.

It is said, that if his Majesty's health shall not be sufficiently re-established to enable him to prorogue Parliament by commission on Thursday (13,) there will be on that day another adjournment to Monday next; after the physicians of his majesty shall have been examined before the privy council.

WINDSOR, DEC. 13.

"His majesty has slept little, and continues in the same state as yesterday." (Signed as usual)

DECEMBER 13.

An American vessel which has arrived at Portsmouth brings news from Lisbon more recent by three days than that received by the Jasper. We learn that there has been no important change in the positions of Massena's army. His rear guard has established itself behind the Zezere as far as Punhete. The head quarters of the English continue to be at Cartago.

It is almost certain that all the operations of the campaign are suspended for one or two months. Massena has taken without finding any obstacles, a position which Lord Wellington himself declared to be impregnable.

French account of the battle of Busaco.

We are enabled to lay before our readers Massena's account of the battle of the 27th Sept.

COIMBRA, Oct. 4.

"Monseigneur.—We set out on our march on the 16th inst. in order to enter Portugal, as I have already informed your highness. On the 5th day we arrived at Viseu, after passing through very bad roads. We were obliged to halt there for five days, in order to give time for the park of artillery and the baggage to come up, and he put in order, as I had the honour of acquainting you from Viseu.

"I left the latter place on the 24th. On the third day of my march I arrived in front of the position of Busaco, which was occupied by the allied English and Portuguese armies. I reconnoitred this position the next morning at day break. I directed an attack on the left by the second corps, and on the centre by the 6th; the eighth corps remained in reserves. The position is certainly the strongest in all Portugal. General Regnier, however, gained the top of the ridge, and was beginning to establish himself there, when general Hill, with a corps of 20,000 men, attacked in close columns the troops, who worn out with fatigue, were beginning to form on the ridge of the mountains, and drove them down. This retreat, supported by a good reserve, was executed in good order, and the second corps resumed its first position. In the centre were the divisions of Loison and Marchand. The first made an attack on the right of the road which leads to the convent of Busaco, and the other on the left. General Loison, being obliged to climb a very steep mountain to regain the great road, reached it after great exertions; but he had not sufficient time to form his columns, and to establish himself. The two English columns came up in close order, and protected by a numerous artillery, charged this division, and obliged it to retreat. General Marchand, who was to support this attack, took up a position to stop the enemy. The English did not dare to advance above 300 toises from their line of battle. The remainder of the day was spent in skirmishing.

"Having attentively reconnoitred this position, which Lord Wellington would not have ventured to occupy, if he had not, like me, considered it extremely strong, my plan was immediately decided on, and I endeavoured to obtain by my manoeuvres an advantage which would have cost too many brave men. I sent out reconnoitring parties of infantry and cavalry towards the right and left, to examine the country, and to keep the enemy in doubt as to the course of my movement.

"From the intelligence I received, I decided on turning the English army by my right. The position of the bridge of Murrella, which the enemy had fortified, and on which he could make a flank movement by the ridge of Penacoza, favoured his means of moving thither his whole force in less than two hours; while the road of Sardoal crossing the Col de Caranuela, brought me upon Boalvo in an open and fertile country.—This movement turned the left of the enemy and gave me the power of manoeuvring his flank. At six at night on the 28th I quit the position of Moira, and marched upon Boalvo. The eighth corps, which had not suffered formed the advance guard, the fifth corps the main body, and the second the rear guard. All my wounded followed on the carriages of the train, and beasts of burthen.

"The enemy, perceiving after midnight their manoeuvre on his left, placed a strong rear guard at Busaco, and marched in great disorder in several columns towards Coimbra, after having blown up all his ammunition, and burnt his magazines.

"On the 1st I arrived at Coimbra; the enemy had left all his cavalry, with some regiments of infantry, which we charged.—He retired from thence upon Cordeixa. On the 2d I sent my advance guard towards the village, and the enemy was again driven from it; it is now at Redinha. My cavalry commanded all the roads which fall into the great road of Lisbon, and general Montbron has marched upon Figuera.

"Lord Wellington with the allied army is retreating upon Lisbon. He gives out that it is his intention to dispute with us all the positions.

"I march in one body, and will do every endeavour to induce him to give battle; the only means of destroying him, or forcing him to re-embark. The allied army is estimated at from 60 to 70,000 men, including 25,000 British. The enemy burns and destroys every thing as he evacuates the country; he forces the inhabitants to abandon their houses. Coimbra, a town of 20,000 inhabitants, is deserted. We find no provisions; the army is subsisted on Indian corn, and the vegetables which we find remaining in the ground. Lord Wellington not daring to wait for us in the open country, endeavors to destroy every thing which might subsist our army. The inhabitants of the towns and villages are very miserable; they are compelled to serve on pain of death. In short no period of history furnishes an example of such barbarity.

"Our loss in killed and wounded amounts to 3000 men, including a great many officers; General Simon, of Loison's division, was dangerously wounded and left behind in the ranks of the enemy. General Graindorge is dead of his wounds. The generals of division Merle is wounded;—as are also the generals of Brigade, Foix and Maucunne; they will not be able to serve again for some time. The colonels of the 26th regiment of the line, of the 6th and 32d light infantry, are killed, and several others wounded. There are many vacancies of officers in the different corps which must be filled up.

"The Anglo-Portuguese army acknowledge to have lost 4000 men, one half of them English.

"I leave behind me my sick and wounded at Coimbra, where I am fortifying two convents; I can only leave a small number of troops to defend them. The best defence I can give them is to beat the English and force them to re-embark.

"Gen. Regnier deserves the highest praise; he has conducted himself like an able and experienced general. Gen. Loison maintained his reputation. In short, every officer & soldier has fought with bravery and enthusiasm. I will send you a statement of the rewards to be given to the brave army of Portugal, which is animated by the greatest devotion for the service of the emperor.

"I am, with the most respectful devotion, Monseigneur, &c. &c.

"MASSENA."

The American flag of true Catharine Ray, capt. Mafferton, at L'Orient for the U. States, had delayed her departure until the 13th February, at the request of several of her passengers.

DOMESTIC.

NEW-ORLEANS, DEC. 20.

We are happy to state, that every thing is tranquil at Baton Rouge. On the 10th inst. the U. S. troops under Colonel Covington, marched into the fort, and the Floridan troops marched out; their flag was lowered and the U. S. flag hoisted. The troops that marched out fired a salute, then stacked their arms on the esplanade in front of the fort, laid off their accoutrements, & were marched by their officers into the village and dismissed.

The members of the assembly and governor Skipwith, we are informed, expressed some doubts on the following words in the president's proclamation, "it will not cease to be a subject of fair and friendly negotiation;" lest they should by this friendly negotiation, be handed back as subjects of Spain, but on examining the proclamation more minutely, they found that the president pledges the U. S. that the people shall "be protected in the enjoyment of their liberty, property and religion." Hence it would appear, that when this friendly negotiation takes place, if the title is not fairly in the U. S. by the treaty of purchase of 1803, that a new treaty of purchase will be made on such terms as may be equitable and right. So the business rests, & the people are now perfectly satisfied.

NATCHEZ, DEC. 24.

Our informant says, that gov. Folche was anxious for the interference of the U. States, and willing that they should take the country; consequently, by this time, we suppose good order is established among all parties; the proclamation of the president having been forwarded by the members of the legislature to that part of the country.

All is harmony and quiet at Baton Rouge and the western part of Florida; the province attached to the Orleans Territory, and the government going into operation.

Lieut. Hukil, of the army, arrived this morning immediately from Baton Rouge; he brings information that news had reached that place of a general insurrection in Cuba; that gov. Claiborne had received a proclamation of the president of the U. States, pardoning all those American citizens of the province who were deserters from the army, and securing their return to civil life.

JOHN BREWER, clk.

To the Citizens of Annapolis, and its Vicinity.

THE Charitable Society of this place was established but a few months since, and thus far has answered, in a considerable degree, the benevolent purposes of its institution. It was to have been foreseen, however, that the regular funds would not be equal to all the objects contemplated in its formation, as it was not the design of its founders merely to afford occasional relief, without any endeavour to lessen the causes of indigence and distress. The rules of the society make it the duty of the board of managers to "encourage the poor to industry," and of this they have not been unmindful. Raw materials have been procured to be wrought up by the poor; and the board are happy to say there are many of them who are willing thus to be employed, and to earn by their own labour, the means of subsistence. But of the ability of the board of managers to aid them to the extent of their wishes, a correct estimate may be formed, when it is known that the number of the society is fifty-one, and besides the expenses necessarily incurred in the purchase of meal, tea, sugar & other articles for the sick and aged, shortly after the board of managers had entered upon their duties the single article of wood had cost them nearly two hundred dollars.

The sum now in hand, and with which, after procuring what is wanted for those disabled by age and infirmities from labouring for a livelihood, the raw materials directed by the rules of the society are to be obtained, is very inconsiderable, and without further aid the benefits of a society for the relief of the distressed will be lost.

The board of managers persuade themselves that there are many persons among those of the city, and its vicinity who have not yet subscribed, who are willing to become members, and from others who may not be able to contribute annually the sum required in order to be members, they calculate upon some aid.

In order to form a permanent society it was obviously proper, that the immediate, as well as annual subscription, should be fixed, and the same sum be required to be paid by each individual as a member; but in fixing this sum so low as that many would be able to subscribe, it necessarily happened that it was below the ability, and the board flatter themselves the disposition also, of many others to contribute.

The board of managers therefore respectfully ask of all such persons, an immediate attendance to the wants of the society. Any person may become a member by application to the treasurer, who is also appointed to receive pecuniary contributions to the society.

POET'S CORNER.

SELECTED.

The origin of the following beautiful piece by Burns is as follows: "Mary Campbell, a Highland Lassie, was a warm hearted, charming young creature, an ever blessed man with generous love. After a pretty long trial of the most ardent, reciprocal attachment, they met, by appointment, on the second Sunday of May, in a sequestered spot by the banks of Ayr, where they spent the day in taking a farewell, before they should embark for the western Highlands, to arrange matters among her friends for their projected change of life. At the close of Autumn she crossed the sea to meet him at Greenock; where she had scarcely landed before she was seized with a fever which hurried the dear child to the grave, before he could even hear of her illness." Mr Cromek has added the following interesting particulars:—"This adieu was performed with all those simple and affecting ceremonies which rustic sentiment has devised to prolong tender emotions, and to induce sweet. The lovers stood on each side of a small purling brook; they loved their hands in its limpid stream, and holding a Bible between them, pronounced their vows to be faithful to each other. They parted never to meet again! The announcement of Mary Campbell's death awakening in the sensitive mind of Burns the most lively emotion, he retired from his family, then residing on the farm of Ellisland, and wandered, solitary, on the banks of the Nith, and about the farm-yard, in the extremest agitation of mind, nearly the whole of the night. His agitation was so great that he threw himself from the side of a corn-stack, and there conceived his sublime and tender Elegy—his Address to "Mary in Heaven."

TO MARY IN HEAVEN.

THOU lingering star, with lessening ray,
That lovest to greet the early morn,
Again thou usher'st in the day
My Mary from my soul was torn.
O Mary! dear departed shade!
Where is thy place of blissful rest?
See'st thou thy lover lowly laid?
Hear'st thou the groans that rend his breast?
That sacred hour can I forget,
Can I forget the hallow'd grove,
Where by the winding Ayr we met,
To live one day of parting love?
Eternity will not efface
Thine image at our last embrace;
Thy image at our last embrace;
Ah! little thought we 'twas our last!
Ayr gushing kiss'd his pebbled shore,
O'erhung with wild woods, thickening green;
The fragrant birch, and hawthorn hoar,
Twin'd amorous round the raptur'd scene.
The flowers spring wanton to be prest,
The birds sang love on ev'ry spray,
Till too, too soon, the glowing west
Proclaim'd the speed of winged day.
Still o'er these scenes my memory wakes,
And fondly broods with miser care;
Time but the impression deeper makes,
As streams their channels deeper wear.
My Mary, dear departed shade!
Where is thy blissful place of rest?
See'st thou thy lover lowly laid?
Hear'st thou the groans that rend his breast?

Paul's Domestic Infallible Columbian Oil.

THE inventor of this highly esteemed medicine is a native of America, and the composition is the production of American soil, consequently it is in every state of the world domestic. It is not possessed with numerous train of poisonous foreign ingredients of persons from whom by the great distance that separates us 'tis impossible to obtain information, therefore the public has better security for their money as these cannot be the least shadow of deception to cover his medicine, for he simply appears before the community with his invention and an experimental detail of the various cases in which it really is so wonderfully efficacious, and in which he is supported by the following certificates of respectable characters, whose names are not only subscribed, but their persons may be also consulted, being residents within the circle of our own neighbourhood. The following are the complaints in which the Columbian Oil has been found to be efficacious and rarely ever fails of effecting a cure—viz. Rheumatism, Consumption, Pains in any parts of the body, but particularly in the back and breast, Colds and coughs, Toothach, Pleuritis, Cholice, Cramps, External and Internal Bruises, Sprains and Flesh Wounds, Scalds and Burns, Whooping Cough and Mumps, and Hyetery or Bloody-flux, Cramp and the summer complaint in children, and in a weak stomach that is caused by indigestion, a constant sinking and loss of appetite, it will act as a powerful brace to the relaxed fibre and restore it to its proper tone.

It seems also as if nature had ranked it the first of the class of all pedorals and expectorals for the relief of the breast and lungs, as it scarce ever fails of removing obstructions in either, particularly those who are troubled with Phullick or Asthmatic complaints, who in the act of walking fall, Rooping or lying down, are almost suffocated, half a tea spoonful of the Columbian Oil will render some relief instantaneous, and if continued agreeable to the directions in such cases, will prove a radical cure by producing the full power of inflation to the lungs and free expansion to the breast.

CERTIFICATES OF ITS EFFICACY.

No. 1. Sept. 1809.
I do certify, that I have been ailing nearly two years with a hectic cough and violent impression at the breast—I applied to the most eminent physicians and could get no relief from my low state of health, until I got Paul's Columbian oil, and found immediate relief. I take this method of informing the public of the efficacy of this valuable medicine, from the cures which I have experienced—I think it an incumbent duty to offer the same to the public.

ELISHA SOWARD.
Baltimore, No. 16, Water-street, sign of the plough.

No. 2. Sept. 1809.
SIR,
From the great benefit I received from your Columbian Oil, I am induced to state, I was taken with a violent sore throat, about the 26th of August, which continued till the first of the month, when I applied your oil externally, and washed the part affected with the oil diluted in the same quantity of molasses, which took away pieces of putrid flesh and healed my throat in about 48 hours.

N. B. I also certify, that I nursed my grandchild, an infant of 17 months old, which was taken about the first of August with fever and loss of appetite. We immediately applied for a physician who gave every attention for about 10 days but all to no effect; the child was given up by the physicians, and had every appearance of death, when I applied for Paul's Columbian Oil, and gave five drops morning and evening for five days, when the child began to recover, and is now in perfect health.

MARY UNDERWOOD
Baltimore, by Peters's Bridge.

No. 3. Sept. 6.
I hereby certify, that I had a cough and pain in my stomach for upwards of two years, when I was recommended to Paul's Columbian Oil. I procured one phial of that valuable medicine, which has restored me to a good state of health again.
THOMAS ELLIOTT.
On the Hook's-town road near the turnpike gate.

No. 4. Feb. 12, 1809.
I have great reason to be very thankful for being recommended to Paul's Columbian Oil. I had been afflicted with a violent pain in my back, that so I was not able to walk. I procured one phial of the oil, and I received immediate relief, & I have been very well ever since.

N. B. I had a violent toothach about two or three months ago, when I dropped a few drops of the above oil on some lint, and applied it to the tooth affected, and I received immediate relief.
ELEANOR ELLIOTT.

No. 5.
I comply with your request, of stating my opinion of Paul's Columbian Oil, being an effectual remedy for the tetter worm. I have been afflicted with the tetter in my hand for 12 years, and have made trial of many medicines which have been recommended, but all to no effect. Hearing of Paul's Columbian Oil, about the 15th of January last, proving an effectual cure for the ringworm and similar complaints, I immediately got a phial of your Oil, and applied it agreeably to the directions for about two months successively—when the tetter left me, and has not made its appearance since.

SUSANNA PURDEN.
N. B. My Susanna, a child aged twenty months, and six days, was taken about the middle of July last with a violent cough, which the neighbours said was the whooping cough; I gave her six drops of the Columbian Oil, which gave immediate relief, and proved an effectual cure.

A CARD.

I am much pleased to see it announced by the managers of St. Anne's Church Lottery, that from their rapid sale of tickets, the drawing will commence in the ensuing Spring.

The laudable view of this lottery ought certainly to be a sufficient inducement for every citizen to risk the price of at least one ticket. When it is considered that the hazard of even one chance will contribute to the convenience, elegance and preservation, of one of the noblest and largest buildings in the State, surely no friend to improvement, that can possibly spare the small sum of five dollars, ought to withhold his aid to expedite the drawing.

But as there are some whose sole object in adventuring is the hope of gain, it may be desirable for them, in considering the advantages held out in the scheme, to be early in selecting their tickets; for although the ostensibly highest prize in this lottery is but 3,000 dollars, I perceive by the scheme it is quite possible that one ticket, by first drawing a prize of twenty-five tickets, may afterwards draw the very handsome aggregate of 8,650 dollars, to its number.

The scarcity of cash in circulation is the general objection to the hasty sale of lottery tickets, but when the double prospect of success, and certain patronage to a laudable undertaking, is before our eyes, it is cheerfully hoped all who feel an interest for the church or a friendship for its improvement, will not dilly dally a few chances to promote the immediate drawing of the lottery.

UNITED STATES BANK.

In Senate, February 20.

The bill for renewing the Charter of the United States Bank under consideration.—Messrs. Brent, Pickering and Crawford, spoke in favour of the Bank. At a late hour the question on Mr. Anderson's motion to strike out the first section, which destroys the bill, was taken, and stood as follows: YEAS.

Messrs. Anderson, Campbell, Clay, Cotts, Franklin, Gaillard, Germain, Giles, Gregg, Lambert, Leib, Mathewson, Reed, Robinson, Smith, (of Md.) Whitelide, Worthington—17.

NAYS.

Messrs. Bayard, Bradley, Brent, Champin, Condit, Crawford, Dana, Gilman, Goodrich, Horley, Lloyd, Pickering, Pope, Smith, (N. Y.) Tait, Taylor, Turner—17.

The Vice President decided in favour of the Ayes; the bill is therefore lost, and the Bank is dead!

From a London Paper.

INUNDATION.

About one o'clock in the morning of the 20th ult. the Driggle Reservoir, at the top of Stanedge, in Marston, about 9 miles of Huddersfield, burst, & the water flowing in an adjoining valley. This reservoir, formed for the purpose of supplying the Huddersfield Canal, covered about 28 acres of land, & such was the destructive impetuosity of the flood, that it swept away a cottage occupied by Jas. Schoolfield, standing on the declivity of the hill, and his wife and four children perished in the flood. Rushing forward in its fatal course, the water advanced to the mill of Messrs. Harsfall, and so completely inundated the house of the miller, that he & his wife were floated out of their bed; he seized the stone work in the window and for some time held his wife in his embrace; but she was at length forced from him, and her lifeless body was taken up the next morning, at a place called the Paddock, two miles from Huddersfield; the husband however, kept his hold of the window till the water subsided, and by that means preserved his life. Besides these fatal accidents, in which 6 lives were lost, many others of less consequence occurred; the soil from the top to the bottom of the hill, and extending a considerable distance along the valley, is completely washed away, & the surface exhibits all the appearance of the bed of a river.

Some idea may be formed of the rapidity and force of this immense body of water, when it is stated that a stone, of an oblong form, weighing 15 tons, was carried from the summit of the hill, and lodged in the mill race of Messrs. Harsfall, a distance of two miles!

NEW-YORK, FEB. 16.

Extract of a letter from Philadelphia to a mercantile house in this city, dated February 13.

"A meeting of the stockholders of the U. States bank took place this morning, for the purpose of taking into consideration the steps necessary to be taken either in case of the renewal or non renewal of the charter of the U. States Bank.

The president stated that there was now little or no hope of a renewal, and of course the attention of the meeting must be turned to the taking of measures for bringing the concerns to a close.

Under the recommendation of some of our most eminent council, resolutions were adopted authorizing the presidents and directors to convey on the first of next month, to eleven trustees, all the property belonging to the institution, authorizing them to collect the property and pay the debts—to invest any money in public securities when it may not amount to sufficient to divide 10 per cent amongst the stockholders, they not obliged to make a division until fifteen months from the date of the trust. In the meanwhile to make application to congress and the state legislatures for a charter. Should they obtain one the consent of a majority of the stockholders to be obtained before it can be accepted. A meeting of the stockholders to take place every six months, and in case they think proper, to be at liberty to remove any or all of the trustees, appointing others in their places. The trustees are authorized to appoint agents, and it is understood that they are at liberty to accommodate such of their debtors as may stand in need.

IMPORTANT.

By the ship Dispatch, Murray, we have received New-Orleans papers to the 14th January which contain the following interesting intelligence:—

NEW-ORLEANS, JAN. 7.

Serious disturbances have finally broken out in the kingdom of Mexico. Three battles have been fought between the insurgents and the troops of the European Government: we learn that the last which has taken place on the 19th Oct. has been very dreadful and terminated to the advantage of the European party. A person named Hidalgo was at the head of the insurgents with Neustria Senora de la Guadalupe, and Colonel Eloy with a formidable artillery command. The regular troops of the European Government. The insurgents have stopped several carriages full of gold and silver wares which were being conducted to the mint.

JAN. 14.

We lay before our readers the following letter addressed by the brave and respectable Mr. Andry, father to his Excellency Gov. Claiborne.—It contains the most positive and latest intelligence from above.

To His Excellency Gov. Claiborne.

SIR, I have only time to inform you in the shortest way, of the unfortunate events which have lately happened, and of which I am one of the principal sufferers.—An attempt was made to assassinate me by the stroke of an axe, and my poor son has been ferociously murdered by a horde of brigands, who from my plantation to that of Mr. Fortier, have committed every kind of mischief and excesses, which can be expected from a gang of atrocious banditti of that nature. But at last notwithstanding all their nefarious deeds, their plot has been completely frustrated, and seeing that they were unable to perform it, they have come up to pursue their criminal course. With unremitting exertions and exhortations I have been able to collect a detachment of about 30 men, and although wounded, I have taken the command of my brave fellow planters.

We have been so happy as to meet the brigands who were in the neighbourhood of the plantation of Mr. Bernadi, colours displayed and full of arrogance. As soon as we perceived them we rushed upon their troops, of whom we made considerable slaughter. The spot was unfortunately unpropitious to cut off their retreat, so that many have been able to take to the woods, and the chief principally being on horseback, have made their escape with greater facility. I have immediately ordered several strong detachments to pursue them through the woods, and at every moment our men bring them in or kill them. I hope we are now free from any fear of this plot, because it does not appear to be general. But we must make a GREAT EXAMPLE. I think a detachment of regular troops would be very useful for the tranquillity of our coast, because I am obliged to order many detachment of militia to meet and destroy the remainder of those brigands. If we can take alive the chiefs, whom I perfectly know, I consider the affair as entirely finished. I have several other informations to give you, but for the present I am too harassed and pressed by sorrow; and I will very soon transmit you further communications.

Accept, Sir, the assurance of the profound respect, of your most devoted servant,

ANDRY.

German Coast, Jan. 11, 1811.

Extract of a letter from General Hampton to Governor Claiborne, bearing date the 12th January 1811, from the plantation of Mr. Desrehan.

"Having yesterday formed a junction with Major Milton's command, which has descended far beyond the commencement of this shocking insurrection, and having pulled him in this neighbourhood, to protect and give countenance to the various companies of the citizens, that are scouring the country in every direction, I shall permit the detachments that came with me from the city to return. But I have judged it expedient, to order a company of Light artillery and one of Dragoons to descend from Baton Rouge, and to touch at every settlement of consequence, and to crush any disturbances that may have taken place higher up.—The chiefs of the party are taken.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Andry, father to his Excellency Governor Claiborne, dated at the German Coast, the 11th of January, at 10 o'clock, P. M.

SIR, By this opportunity I have the honour to inform you that we continue to maintain ourselves and destroy the brigands.—The first chief of these banditti named Charles Deslonde has fallen into our hands, and several others who appeared to have commanded in second are now in my power. Our detachments find many runaways dead in the woods, and three or four of the ringleaders are only missing, but are perhaps expiring in some recess of the woods, or probably taken by our men.

Colonel J. Fortier, in his private name, and in that of all the inhabitants of the upper coast, begs leave to address to Gen. Hampton and the officers and regular troops under his command, as well as to the detachment his thankfulness, for the zeal and promptitude with which they have been protected. The respect for the persons & property, and the strict discipline of the troops, deserved the greatest encomium. The body of volunteers are also requested to take a merited share of praise, for their courage and patience, in suffering privations and unavoidable fatigues on such occasions; and although the invaluable service which they have rendered to the country, can be but feebly expressed, it will ever be engraved in the hearts of all the inhabitants and peculiarly in that of Colonel J. Fortier's.

We may now present our readers, with some positive details, relative to the military operations which have taken place in Mexico. They are extracted from the letter of an officer high in rank, who was in person at the last engagements. The following contains the substance of that letter, dated in Queretaro November 12th.

The spot where has been fought the principal battle, on the 29th of October, is named Aculco. Gen. Callejas headed the European army and the paron Alonzo Aldamo that of the insurgents, of about 25 to 30,000 men. The Indian army had selected their position upon the ridge of a hill, which was naturally fortified, and at first rendered useless the service of Cavalry. Having perceived the vanguard of the European army they attacked them by some discharge of artillery which reached no body. The Spanish Infantry supported by a well served Artillery climbed up the position of the insurgents, who after two hours combat, were completely defeated and pursued by the Cavalry, abandoning all their baggage and Artillery consisting of eight small guns and two pieces of heavy ordnance, which belonged to the regiment of La Villas. Their loss is reckoned at 6000 men in killed, wounded and prisoners, and the European army, if we attach credit to that letter, have only lost three or four men. The paron of Dolores and his generals have taken their refuge through the mountains where they are strenuously pursued. All the Indian boroughs have submitted themselves, and implored the clemency of the victorious party. The letter says farther that the paron who headed the insurgents does not know now how or where to conceal himself. They hope that good order will be soon restored in the revolted province.

Extract of a letter from a Merchant in Orleans, to his Correspondent in the date Jan. 15.

"With great pleasure I inform you of the insurrection among the blacks in the end. The ringleaders have all been taken and executed. Peace and order is restored.

From Bell's Weekly Messenger, of DORSET MATCH AGAINST TIME.

Yesterday, Milton, who recently was 300l. against 500l. that he would ride the end of Dover-street, Piccadilly (a distance of 90 miles) to this town in 5 completed his extraordinary undertaking three quarters of an hour within the allowed. He started from Dover-street at minutes past eight o'clock yesterday and arrived at the George and Angel at this place, at exactly seventeen minutes twelve. When it is considered that Milton weighs 14 stone, and that in consequence of his horses being misplaced he was obliged to ride one horse upwards of 13 miles this may perhaps be proclaimed one of the most wonderful feats ever recorded in the annals of horsemanship. One of the horses completely knocked up before he had gone miles. Mr. Milton, when he reached Dorset, appeared very little fatigued.

PUGILISTIC CHALLENGE

"TO MR. THOMAS CRIB, St. Martin's-street, Leicester square, December 21."

"SIR, My friends think that had the match on last Tuesday, the day upon which I intended with you, not been so untimely, I should have won the battle; I therefore challenge you to a second meeting, at some time within two months, for such time those gentlemen who place confidence in me may please to arrange.

"As it is possible this letter may meet public eye, I cannot omit the opportunity expressing a confident hope, that the chance of my being of a different colour than of a people among whom I have fought, will not in any way operate to my prejudice.

I am, Sir, your most obedient, Humble servant,

T. MOLINEAUX

Witness, J. Schofield.

Crib has accepted the challenge from Molineaux. The match was made up at the house of Mr. Gully, in Rupert-street, for 250 guineas stake, and a subscription party one hundred guineas for the winner. The battle is to be fought on the 24th of May. Fifty guineas of the stake are the actual property of Molineaux, whose friends came in ward with the remainder.

Three thousand of the French prisoners at the depots of Portsmouth, are to be removed to Scotland. These will then be nearly 16,000 at Portchester, and on board the prison ships in the harbour.

PORTLAND, FEB. 14.

On Sunday last arrived in town, Mr. Lemuel Blanchard a passenger in the schr. Harriet and Jane, Simon Coombs, master, from Eastport, for Boston, was cast away on Seaboard island, on the night of 27th ult. capt. crew and three passengers, a Mr. G. of Boston, Mr. Blanchard of Palsamaguet, and a negro servant of a gentleman who went to N. York by land, amounting to persons were obliged to sustain life, for days, upon a few herrings and biscuit, which floated on shore from their vessel, and all the water they could procure was from the top of the sea, frozen and separated from the salt. Mr. B. says the vessel struck about 12 o'clock, midnight, and the people remained lashed to the wreck, (the sea beating furiously upon them) until the tide permitted them to reach the shore of this desolate land. It is proper to notice that the above mentioned people are the same seen by Mr. Stover, on Tuesday 5th ult.

Capt. Stover made several ineffectual attempts to relieve them, which Mr. B. says he shall remember with gratitude. Nothing of consequence was saved from the wreck.

Obituary.

Departed this life, on Monday last, in this City, Mr. MILBOURN SIGELL, Printer, in the 41st year of his age, after a peculiarly lengthy and afflicting illness. The recollection of the virtues of this worthy man, serves, in some degree to mitigate the pain we feel in announcing his dissolution. Though his death was marked by adversity, and his sufferings were for many years tedious and oppressive, he submitted with pious resignation, to the dispensation of Heaven, and in the anguish of pain exclaimed with holy confidence, "A brief trial shall he not break, and smothering flames shall he not quench." Mr. Sigell was a strict member of the P. E. Church, and the fruits of his profession were seen in all his ways. He left no relative to mourn his loss; but by all who knew his generous soul his memory will be cherished, & his virtues long remembered.

What tho' no friends in sable weeds appear Grieve for an hour, perhaps, then mourn a year. And bear about the mockery of woe. To midnight dances and the public show: Yet shall thy grave with rising flowers be dressed, And the green turf lie lightly on thy breast.

PROPOSALS

BY JONAS GREEN & GEORGE SHAW, For Publishing, by Subscription, A MUCH ADMIRABLE WORK, ENTITLED,

AN ESTIMATE OF THE RELIGION OF THE FASHIONABLE WORLD.

THIS much admired tract is reputed to be the production of the celebrated Hannah Moore, of whose zeal for religion, and ability to explain and enforce its doctrines, her avowed works furnish an undeniable proof. It is not designed as an answer to the cavils and sneers of the infidel, but being addressed to those who profess to be, and may have persuaded themselves that they are, christians, displays with admirable beauty of language & force of argument the essential distinction between the mere profession and the systematic practice of christianity—between that system of mere moral duties, those "barren generalities," to which we are wont to pay our homage, and that comprehensive system of faith and doctrine which was revealed by the blessed Redeemer of man, and every part of which we, as his disciples, are equally bound to embrace and observe. This publication commences with a view of the present state of religion among a considerable part of the fashionable world, and contrasts the notions so prevalent in this "our day," with the opinions and practices of purer ages of christianity, when religion, such as is taught in the gospel, was the study, the delight and practice, of christians of every order of society; and when to expound its doctrines, to assert its truths, and to animate to its observance, was not deemed to be exclusively the business of the professed divine, but was the pleasing employment of the man of letters, the statesman, the civilian and the accomplished gentleman. It proceeds to unfold, as well the causes as the consequences of the present decline of vital religion, & the lamentable blindness and error of those who profess to be of the disciples of Jesus, and yet would be wise above what is written, of those who would make a religion for themselves and in so momentous a concern would set up a standard of right and wrong of their own formation, instead of accepting with humility that divine standard which has been set up for them. It teaches to avoid alike the dangerous extremes of too much reliance upon the forms and ordinances of religion, and an utter disregard of them, and will furnish us with an answer to those who would exalt morality at the expense of religion, and would make the whole substance of the latter to consist in a punctual discharge of our social obligations, and perhaps now and then, an ostentatious display of our liberality; it will not endure that a right faith will furnish an apology for a vicious life, nor admit that a christian life can grow upon a wrong faith. It declares that christianity must be embraced entirely if it be received at all, it must be taken without mutilation as a perfect scheme in the way in which God has been pleased to reveal it. There is no breaking this system into parts, of which we are at liberty to chide one and reject another. There is no separating the evidences from the doctrines—the doctrines from piety—the love of our neighbour from the love of God.

CONDITIONS

1. This work shall be printed in 1 vol. on a fine paper with good type—miniature edition.
 2. It shall be put to press as soon as practicable.

Paul's Domestic Infallible Columbian Oil.

THE inventor of this highly esteemed medicine is a native of America, and the composition is the production of American soil, consequently it is in every sense of the word domestic, it is not puffed up with a numerous train of pompous foreign certificates of persons from whom by the great distance that separates us 'tis impossible to obtain information, therefore the public has better security for their money as there cannot be the least shadow of deception to cover his medicine, for he simply appears before the community with his invention and an experimental detail of the various cases in which it really is so wonderfully efficacious, and in which he is supported by the following certificates of respectable characters, whose names are not only subscribed, but their persons may be also consulted, being residents within the circle of our own neighbourhood. The following are the complaints in which the Columbian Oil has been found so efficacious and rarely ever fails of effecting a cure—viz. Rheumatism, Consumption, Pains in any parts of the body, but particularly in the back and breast, Colds and coughs, Toothach, Pleurisy, Cholick, Cramps, External and Internal Bruises, Sprains and Flesh Wounds, Scalds and Burns, Whooping Cough and Mumps, and Dysentery or Bloody-Flux, Croup and the summer complaint in children, and in a weak stomach that is caused by indigestion, a constant sinking and loss of appetite, it will act as a powerful bracer to the relaxed fibre and restore it to its proper tone.

It seems also as if nature had ranked it the first of the class of all pectorals and expectorals for the relief of the breast and lungs, as it scarce ever fails of removing obstructions in either, particularly those who are troubled with Phthisick or Asthmatic complaints, who in the act of walking fall, swooning or lying down, are almost suffocated, half a tea spoonful of the Columbian Oil will render some relief instantaneously, and if continued agreeable to the directions in such cases, will prove a radical cure by producing the full power of inflation to the lungs and free expansion to the breast.

CERTIFICATES OF ITS EFFICACY.

No. 1. Sept. 1809.

I do certify, that I have been ailing nearly two years with a hectic cough and violent oppression at the breast—I applied to the most eminent physicians and could get no relief from my low state of health, until I got Paul's Columbian oil, and found immediate relief. I take this method of informing the public of the efficacy of this valuable medicine, from the cures which I have experienced—I think it an incumbent duty to offer the same to the public.

ELISHA SOWARD.

Baltimore, No. 16, Water-street, sign of the plough.

No. 2. Sept. 1809.

Sir, From the great benefit I received from your Columbian Oil, I am induced to state, I was taken with a violent sore throat, about the 26th of August, which continued till the first of the month, when I applied your oil externally, and washed the part affected with the oil diluted in the same quantity of molasses, which took away pieces of putrid flesh and healed my throat in about 48 hours.

N. B. I also certify, that I nursed my grandchild, an infant of 17 months old, which was taken about the first of August with low fevers and loss of appetite. We immediately applied for a physician who gave every attention for about 10 days but all to no effect; the child was given up by the physicians, and had every appearance of death, when I applied for Paul's Columbian Oil, and gave five drops morning and evening for five days, when the child began to recover, and is now in perfect health.

MARY UNDERWOOD.

Baltimore, by Peters's Bridge.

No. 3. Sept. 6.

I hereby certify, that I had a cough and pain in my stomach for upwards of two years, when I was recommended to Paul's Columbian Oil. I procured one phial of that valuable medicine, which has restored me to a good state of health again.

THOMAS ELLIOTT.

On the Hook's-town road near the turnpike gate.

No. 4. Feb. 12, 1809.

I have great reason to be very thankful for being recommended to Paul's Columbian Oil. I had been afflicted with a violent pain in my back, that so I was not able to walk. I procured one phial of the oil, and I received immediate relief, & I have been very well ever since.

N. B. I had a violent toothach about two or three months ago, when I dropped a few drops of the above oil on some lint, and applied it to the tooth affected, and I received immediate relief.

ELEANOR ELLIOTT.

No. 5.

Sir, I comply with your request, of stating my opinion of Paul's Columbian Oil, being an effectual remedy for the tetter worm. I have been afflicted with the tetter in my hand for 12 years, and have made trial of many medicines which have been recommended, but all to no effect. Hearing of Paul's Columbian Oil, about the 15th of January last, proving an effectual cure for the ringworm and similar complaints, I immediately got a phial of your Oil, and applied it agreeably to the directions for about two months successively—when the tetter left me, and has not made its appearance since.

SUSANNA PURDEN.

N. B. My Susanna, a child aged twenty months and six days, was taken about the middle of July last with a violent cough, which the neighbours said was the whooping cough; I gave her six drops of the Columbian Oil, which gave immediate relief, and proved an effectual cure.
