PROPOSALS

BY JAMES DECK & GEORGE SHAW,
For Publishing, by Subscription,
A MUCH ADMIR'D WORK, ENTITLED,
AN ESTIMATE

THE RELIGION OF THE FASHION- ABLE WORLD.

THIS much admired tract is reputed to be the production of the celebrated Hannah Moore, of Wales, and is a work of great merit, and ability to explain and illustrate the doctrines, her avowed works furnish an admirable proof. It is not designed as an answer to the cavils and fancies of the infidel, but being addressed to those who profess to be, and may have falsely themselves that they are, christians, distinguishes the essential distinction between the mere profession and the systematic practice of christianity—between that system of mere moral duties,
the "barren generalities," to which we are not wont to pay our homage, and that comprehensive system of faith and doctrine which was revealed
in the blessed Redeemer of man, and every part of which we, as his disciples, are equally bound to obey and observe. This publication commences with a view of the present state of religion among the fashionable part of the fashionable world, and contrasts the notions so prevalent in this "our
age," with the opinions and practices of purer
ages of christianity, when religion, such as it is
ought to be, was the study, the delight, the practice, of christians of every order of society, and when to expound its doctrines, to af-
firm its truths, and to animate to its observance,
was not deemed to be exclusively the business
of the professed divine, but was the pleasing employment of the man of letters, the statesman,
the civilian and the accomplished gentleman. It seems to unfold, as well the causes as the consequences of the present decline of vital religion, &
the lamentable blindness and error of those who pretend to be of the disciples of Jesus, and yet
would be wise above what is written, of those who would make a religion for themselves and
its momentous concern would set up a standard of right and wrong of their own formation,
instead of accepting with humility that divine
standard which has been set up for them. It teaches
to avoid alike the dangerous extremes of too much
dependence upon the forms and ordinances of religion, and an utter disregard of them, and will survive as with an answer to those who would exalt
modesty at the expense of religion, and would confess the whole substance of the latter to consist
in the formal discharge of our social obligations,
perhaps now and then, an ostentatious display
of our liberality; it will not endure that a right
will furnish an apology for a vicious life, nor
that a christian life can grow upon a wrong
basis. It declares that christianity must be embraced entirely if it be received at all, it must be taken without mutilation as a perfect scheme in the way in which God has been pleased to reveal
it. There is no breaking this system into parts,
which we are at liberty to chuse one and reject
another. There is no separating the evidences from the doctrines—the doctrines from the precepts—because from obedience—morality from piety—the love
of our neighbour from the love of God.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE

LONDON, JAN. 25.

Lords Grey and Grenville had an interview with the Prince of Wales on Monday, for the express purpose of receiving the commands of his royal highness relative to a new ministry. Lords Grey and Grenville will be first lords of the treasury & foreign secretary but which of these offices will be respectively filled is uncertain. Mr. Tierney will be chancellor of the Exchequer. These are all that are yet positively settled. Mr. Freeman will be one of the secretaries of the treasury. Lord Moria goes to Ireland as lord lieutenant but not as commander in chief. Mr. Sheridan is to be treasurer of the navy.

The following list is handed about but we cannot believe it is correct:

Earl Gray, first lord of the treasury. Mr. Tierney, chancellor of the exchequer. Lord Grenville, foreign secretary. Mr. Ponsonby, war sec. Earl Spencer home sec. Marquis of Lansdowne, lord of the admiralty. Lord Erskine, lord chancellor. Mr. Grenville, master general of the ordnance. Lord Fitzwilliam, president of the council. Lord Holland, lord of the privy seal.

The following has been handed about, as the intended ministry, under other circumstances:

First lord of the treasury, lord Holland. Mr. Whitbread chancellor of exchequer. Lord Yarmouth, for foreign secretary. Earl Moria, war secretary. Sir F. Burdett, home secretary. Sir P. Romilly, lord chancellor. The Duke of Clarence, first lord of the Admiralty. Mr. Sheridan, master of the ordnance. The Duke of Norfolk, president of the council. Marquis of Hertford, privy seal. The Duke of Kent, commander in chief.

JAN. 26.

The King's health goes on in a satisfactory manner.

The Regency Bill finally passed the House of Commons, the 23d, and was carried up to the House of Lords and read a first time. On the 24th it was read a second time in the house of lords, and committed for the next day.

The following is a letter from an American captain, whose vessel has been recently carried into France.

January 16.

"This morning I read a letter from Paris, stating, that all American vessels taken prior to the 1st of November, 1810, are condemned; and the court of prizes refuses to sanction compromises as formerly. The fate of my vessel will not be determined until after the 2d February, for which I am preparing."

The disturbances in Norway have been quieted.

Buonaparte, Dec. 29, issued a decree, providing for the manufacture of all tobacco & snuff, for the benefit of the government, forbidding the use of it to private individuals; and forbidding the importation of manufactured tobacco, even from Holland.

The holders of colonial produce in Prussian ports in the Baltic, being unable to pay the 40 per cent. duty to France, a sufficient quantity of produce has been seized and sent to Paris.

Fifteen American vessels had arrived at Bourdeaux from the United States, between November 1, and January 3, and are under provisional sequestration till February 2.

Accounts in England from America were to Dec. 22.

Many vessels were ready for sea, at Liverpool, Jan. 29, and would sail immediately.

GIBRALTAR, JAN. 19.

Letters from Cadiz state a reinforcement of 10,000 men to have lately arrived at Lisbon from England, and confirm the report of Soult's march for Extremadura with 24,000 men, 70 pieces of ordnance, &c. &c. so that there remain but 8 or 9,000 men before Cadiz and as many with Sebastiani in the kingdom of Grenada. Of gen. Ballesteros's operations, the same letters contain many and various accounts, namely, that he first obtained some advantages over the enemy; that on the next day, he was nearly overpowered by one of their divisions much stronger than his own, and scarcely saved from utter destruction by the timely arrival of gen. Mendizabal; and lastly, that a later date, he fell in with general Girard, and cut his troops in pieces. The French are also reported to have sustained losses in Utrera, Baza & the mountains of Malaga; all of which, however, yield in importance to that inflicted upon Soult by a body of patriots, who, having dispersed the escort which protected the baggage, carried part of it away, and by killing the horses or mules which drew or carried the remainder, have laid him under the necessity of either proceeding without his baggage, or of suspending his march until he has procured fresh means of conveyance.

YARRAQUONA, DEC. 4.

Among the intercepted letters, which gen. Mabi lately sent to the board of Cadiz, &

the latter published, we think the following one best entitled to the attention of the public, as the writer speaks his mind with unusual candour, and it is the production of a man evidently of no common information:

"It is not by such means that an exasperated and ferocious people can be conciliated. One half of the lands has not been sown this year, and I foresee, that the next it will be still worse. All the cattle for the plow has been consumed. Every thicket, every mountain conceals a gang of insurgents; and in every town or village that has not been deserted, we find as many enemies as there remain inhabitants. This conquest is, in such a state that we must let about it again—we must go to the root of the evil, and begin by restoring discipline to the army and repressing plunder. This evil is at the highest pitch; this thirst of gold proved the ruin of the invincible legions of Rome. Let the administration be renewed; let it be one; let not every division, every corps be a distinct army which exports on its own account; let persons and property, but above all, the public worship, be respected; let not churches be profaned; and lastly, let our motto be, parcere subjectis et debellare superbus. I am not sorry for it; whatever is doing and nothing come to the same. The loss of a city or fortress imports but little to this nation. Her strength, her resistance consists in her detestation of us; and shall I say so?—in the contempt with which our conduct inspires her. We are upon the frontiers of Portugal, opposite to the English, who are acquainted with our position, and who avail themselves of that knowledge the more to exasperate the natives.

"If I ever happen to enjoy tranquillity, I intend to write the history of the war in Spain, and I shall not be afraid of speaking the truth. I will begin with these words: Lorrenda narra, &c."

NEW-YORK, MARCH 27.

LATE FROM ENGLAND.

By the ship Francis from Greenock; Greenock papers to February 13, and London to the 9th inclusive.

It now appears that the Regency is settled, but owing to the possible recovery of the King of England, no change of ministry was expected at our last dates.

Very little notice of American affairs.

The Essex, American frigate, from Plymouth for Norfolk, sailed 29th Jan. but put back on account of head winds; and sailed again about the 5th of Feb. Mr. Pinkney does not return in her, as was expected, waiting probably, in expectation of a favorable change in our relations with the government. If the article from France in our last London papers be correct, which can hardly be believed, there is still a gleam of hope.

The war in Spain and Portugal was to be continued on the part of England with vigor. Troops were departing daily.

It was reported that the Toulon fleet sailed Dec. 6, but put back in consequence of a violent gale of wind.

LONDON, FEB. 2.

We are sorry to learn that desertion in Portugal is not confined to the French army. From our own out-posts it has been frequent, and not from our Brunswickes only. There can be no motive for this but the sake of being relieved from all military duty, the French regularly make them attendants on their sick, not choosing to trust them in the ranks. Deserters from the French come in daily; they say they have plenty of meat but are deficient in flour. Massena expects to be able to commence the hostile operations with 75,000 men by the first week in February. This was drawn from an intercepted dispatch found on an officer; but it might be meant for deception.

To-morrow another fleet is expected to set sail from Portsmouth, and one from Plymouth, carrying out further reinforcements for our army in Portugal.

FEBRUARY 6.

The Regency Bill, received yesterday the necessary assent, by Commission under the Great Seal, and the Prince Regent will this day be sworn into office.

The Prince Regent we understand, in a letter to Mr. Percival, gave his reasons for wishing to make no change in the ministry, from a hope that his majesty would soon be able to resume his functions.

Installation of the Regent.

Summons were issued on Tuesday to the members of the privy council indiscriminately, commanding their attendance at Carlton-house yesterday at two o'clock to hear the Regency Oath administered to the Prince.

Between one and two o'clock the members of the Privy Council proceeded to Carlton-house, in obedience to the summons. The magnificent state apartments had been previously prepared for the occasion. At the extremity of the largest apartment a canopy had been raised, under which the Prince Regent sat. The servants were in state liveries lining the hall and the passages. His Royal Highness was attended by the Princes, and by all the great officers of the household.

Pall Mall, and the adjoining streets and boulevards were crowded with spectators. About two o'clock the Prince entered the Grand Council Room, the members standing up to receive his royal highness—the Lord President being at the head of the Council table, the lord Chancellor on his right hand—the lord President, as we understand, upon his royal highness taking his seat, addressed him (shortly, stating, that by virtue of an act which had received the royal assent, the privy council were required and empowered to administer an oath to his royal highness, and enter the same in the books of the said Privy Council, before his royal highness should set or enter upon his said office as regent. That oath the Privy Council were now assembled to administer. His royal highness making his obeisance in sign of his readiness to take the oath, immediately advanced to the council table, and standing between the lord president and the lord chancellor, the following oath was administered:—

"I do solemnly promise and swear, that I will truly and faithfully execute the office of Regent of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, according to an act of parliament passed in the 51st year of his Majesty King George III. entitled, An act to provide for the care of his Majesty's Royal Person, and for the Administration of the Royal Authority, during the continuance of his Majesty's illness, and that I will administer according to law, the power of authority vested in me by virtue of the said act, and will in all things, to the utmost of my power and ability, consult and maintain the safety, honour and dignity of his Majesty, and the welfare of his people. So help me God."

His Royal Highness took the oath in a most impressive manner; the whole council standing. As soon as his Royal Highness had taken it, and thus been installed as regent, he returned to his seat, and in a short time the members separated.

FEB. 9.

The Regent yesterday held his second privy council.

The principal business that occupied the attention of the council was the picking of the sheriffs, and signing two proclamations, which will appear in the London Gazette of this evening, for the observance of two public fasts, in England on the 20th of March, and in Scotland on the 21st of the same month.

FRENCH DECREES.

A messenger from the American charge d'affaires at Paris arrived yesterday with despatches to Mr. Pinkney. They are said to relate to some farther arrangements of the French government respecting the commerce of the United States. If what has transpired of these be authentic, the former government has gone beyond the expectations of the American Executive. The Berlin and Milan decrees are stated to have ceased on the 2d inst.; all ships and cargoes belonging to the United States provisionally detained in the ports of France or her allies are to be restored, and American vessels freely admitted for the future into such ports. It will be recollected, that the 2d of Feb. was the period to which the final determination of the French government respecting the vessels under provisional seizure was deferred; and it is not impossible, though it is more than we expect that it may have been in favour of being restored.

The Prince Regent will give a grand dinner to a numerous party to-morrow.

The first act of the Regent is most honourable to the feelings of his private friendship, as well as to his discernment of military merit. As soon as he was sworn in, he sent for gen. Keppel, appointed him to be one of his Equerres, and gave him the 67th regt. of foot.

The Amelia frigate, on board of which gen. Hill is said to have taken passage from Lisbon, arrived at Falmouth on Tuesday.

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

ANNAPOLIS, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2.

From the American.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

From Buenos Ayres received at this office, BUENOS AYRES, NOV. 22, 1810. To the junta of these provinces.

It is now two o'clock in the morning, about half an hour ago, arrived Don Juan and Saravia, adjutants of the army, and captain Tolio, acquainting me from major general Balcarce, with the happy success of our arms in the attack made on our enemy in their retreat at Tupiza by the army, with a detachment of more than 1000 men under the command of Don Jose Cordoba with 4 pieces of artillery. They came on us yesterday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, our men received them with interposition. Our artillery was ably directed by Villa Nova and Giles who had just arrived with cannon, ammunition and money for our troops and three divisions. Our muskets poured in upon them, and our cavalry making a furious attack put to rout most fully all who were not extended on the spot. The enemy lost all their artillery, ammunition, on, ensigns, arms, mules, baggage, &c. &c. men are now pursuing the fugitives, taken gen. Cordoba, and it is probable Balcarce, now reinforced, will continue to pursue us far as Cataguita, attack the camp reserve, and open the road to Potofu. As I receive accounts sufficiently authentic, I shall forward them to your excellency. I have now in my possession a part of the spoils of the disarmed army of the rebels, we have lost but 1 killed and 6 wounded. I have sent circulars to the heads of the provinces, of our success, that they may celebrate the triumphs of their country, &c. God preserve you many years.

LATEST FROM LISBON.

We learn verbally, from a passenger in the Erie, that there was a battle fought on the 19th of February, near Badajoz, between the French under Mortier, who had 19,000 men, and the Spanish forces under Gen. Mendizabal, commander in chief who had from 8 to 9,000 men. The Spaniards were defeated with a considerable loss in killed and wounded and prisoners. Among the prisoners taken was Don Jon Verjin, 2d in command of the Spanish forces. It was reported in Lisbon on the 1st of March, that the French had taken Badajoz. Two fail of the line, part of Sir Joseph York's squadron, arrived at Lisbon on the 26th of Feb. with reinforcements for lord Wellington. The remainder of the squadron was expected to amount to upwards of 9,000 effective men. Massena had received a reinforcement and a large supply of provisions. The English were still fallen back to their line as late as the 1st of March. [N. Y. Evening Post.]

LISBON, FEB. 26.

A packet has arrived from England, and brings papers to the instant. their principal contents are as follows: The Grand Seignior has officially announced to his subjects the complete defeat of the Janissaries; & that negotiations for peace with the Russians were still going on. From Germany and France there was nothing new; it did not appear that any reinforcements were marching to Spain. His Britannic Majesty was much better, and his recovery was shortly expected. At Portsmouth, 3,000 men were embarked on 8 ships of the line for Portugal; and other reinforcements were on the eve of sailing from Cork and other places. The Regency Bill, after long discussion respecting its expediency was at length adopted, and it was expected that in the following week, his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales would meet the Parliament in the capacity of Prince Regent.

By extracts from Cadiz papers, published in the London Gazette, it appears on the 22d Jan. the French took Olivenza after a siege of 12 days. On the 26th they commenced the siege of Badajoz. The garrison was making a vigorous defence, and were still holding out on the 5th of Feb. the date of the last accounts. They had made four sorties, each of which the enemy had suffered great loss. On the 5th of Feb. gen. Mendizabal was marching to the relief of Badajoz. Olivenza is about 13 miles to the southward of Badajoz.

NEW-YORK, MARCH 23.

The ship Lucy Elizabeth, has this moment arrived in 33 days from Lisbon, which place she left 16th Feb. By her we have received Lisbon Gazettes to the 12th of Feb. but they contain nothing interesting. By the passengers we learn, that the two armies still remained in winter quarters, both strongly entrenched, and neither appearing willing to attack the other. General Juno has been shot in the face by one of the English platoon guard. The man had been arrested and it was expected would be executed, being contrary to the rules of war for the quest guard to fire on the enemy if they remain within their own lines. French had built an opera house with pomp and had sent cards of invitation to British officers, inviting them to pay the amusement, assuring them they should be held sacred; but the British had politely declined the invitation, some gentlemen also state, that Lord Byron had been received at Lisbon to the amount of Feb. Those papers gave information that the Prince of Wales had the regency—that the King had well as sign the official papers—enable the parliament to proceed to a change of ministry of course. The members in council were not revoked.

MORVOLA, MARCH 10.

We have received newspapers from the 10th inst.—The following is a list of the news they contain:

The Council of Regency has divided in six great military divisions, in which there is to be an army, whose chief is to be superior to all others in the boundaries of his district. The first comprehends the whole province of Valencia, the second comprises the provinces of Aragon & Valencia; that part of the kingdom lying between the Ebro and the department of Cuena as far as the department of Murcia, Granada, and Jaen; that part of Castille and La Mancha between Aranjuez and Andalusia; the third extends over the province of Andalusia in the Isle of Leon, Cadiz, &c. &c. the fourth comprises Extremadura, Cordova, &c. &c. that part of Castille to the left of Duero; in the sixth are included Asturias, Leon, and that part of Castille to the right of Duero.

Baron de E. Robes in Catalonia is to command a division of 3000 French, he will fall 1000 men in the action. The marshal M'Donald, has been recalled to that province, on account of having been unfortunate as his predecessor. It seems that he is to be succeeded by a man named Borghese, brother of Buonaparte. In Arragon General Campa repulsed general Dopicki causing the loss of nearly a thousand French men. Balfocourt was not so fortunate in his attempt to relieve Tortosa, he was surprised the French positions, two wings not having arrived as he intended, the latter was obliged to retreat with some loss.

The Cortes assembled at Cadiz, and a decree, in which they declared that they would not give up their majesty until they had secured the constitution, or until the influence of the French shall bear hereafter the detail of the Cortes, Dec. 28th.

His Excellency, his Majesty's secretary for the department of finances, has communicated to me, in a letter dated the following order:—

"The exportation of MERINO SHEEP to foreign countries, has always been prohibited; and although government has permitted the exportation of such sheep as had cogent reasons for being permitted to be exported, yet very small, and certain formalities of the same time required to prevent such which under colour of these regulations, might be committed.

The Council of Regency has been informed of the scandalous abuse, which has taken place in the exportation of sheep to foreign countries, the absolute disregard of the law in this subject; and it being of the importance to the welfare of the state, to stop to this disorder, and to prevent the injury of the royal treasury, his Majesty's command, that the authorities shall abstain in future from such licenses, and that the intendants under them, shall be particularly vigilant in the execution of the laws prohibiting the exportation of Merino Sheep, giving the most effect for its prevention, and those who contravene this order either by negligence, shall be immediately removed from their offices." You shall be responsible of this order of their execution, and you responsibility enforced with utmost rigour of the existing laws.

The president and directors of the Bank of Maryland have declared a dividend of 3 per cent. on the stock of the bank, for six months ending the 31st of December last, and the said dividend will be paid on or before the eighth of April, to stockholders on the western shore at the Bank at Annapolis, and to stockholders on the eastern shore at the Bank at Easton, upon application, or on the exhibition of a certificate, or by correct simple order. must guard to fire on the enemy so long as they remain within their own lines.—The French had built an opera house within their camp and had sent cards of invitation to the British officers, inviting them to partake of the amusement, assuring them their person should be held sacred; but the British officers had politely declined the invitation. The same gentlemen also state, that London papers had been received at Lisbon to the beginning of Feb. Those papers gave information that the Prince of Wales had declined the regency—that the King had so far recoiled as to sign the official papers necessary to enable the parliament to proceed to business, a change of ministry of course. The orders in council were not revoked.

We have received newspapers from Cadiz, to the 10th inst.—The following is the principal news they contain:
The Council of Regency has divided Spain into six great military divisions, in each of which there is to be an army, whose general chief is to be superior to all others within the boundaries of his district. The first district comprehends the whole province of Catalonia, the second comprises the provinces of Aragon & Valencia; that part of both Castiles lying between the Ebro and the Tagus, and the department of Cuenca as far as Aranjuez; the third extends over the provinces of Murcia, Granada, and Jaen, and all that part of Castille and La Mancha between Aranjuez and Andalusia; the fourth extends over the province of Andalusia, and the fifth comprises Extremadura, Cordova, & all that part of Castille to the left of the Duero; in the sixth are included Galicia, Asturias, Leon, and that part of Castille on the right of Duero.
Baron de E. Robes in Catalonia has cut a piece of division of 3000 French, he lost at least 1000 men in the action. The French Marshal M'Donald, has been recalled from that province, on account of having been as unfortunate as his predecessor Augereau; and it seems that he is to be succeeded in the command by place Borghese, brother-in-law of Buonaparte. The Cortes assembled at Cadiz, have passed a decree, in which they declare null and void any act or contract of his majesty Ferdinand VIII as long as he continues in captivity or under the influence of the tyrant.—We shall hear hereafter the detail of this news. Badajos, Dec. 28th, 1810.

His Excellency, his Majesty's secretary of state for the department of finances, has communicated to me, in a letter dated the 14th inst., the following order:—
The exportation of MEROINO SHEEP, to FOREIGN COUNTRIES, has always been prohibited; and although government has sometimes permitted the exportation of some, when it had cogent reasons for doing so, the numbers so permitted to be exported was always very small, and certain formalities were at the same time required to prevent the fraud which under colour of those permissions, might be committed.
The Council of Regency has been apprized of the scandalous abuse, which has lately taken place in the exportation of Merino Sheep to foreign countries, through the absolute disregard of the laws concerning the subject; and it being of the greatest importance to the welfare of the state to put an end to this disorder, introduced to the injury of the royal treasury, it is His Majesty's command, that all the authorities shall abstain in future from granting such licenses, and that the intendants, & others under them, shall be particular in enforcing the laws prohibiting the exportation of Merino Sheep, giving the most strict orders for its prevention, and those who shall contravene this order either by neglect or compliance, shall be immediately dismissed from their offices. You shall accordingly give notice of this order of their Highnesses, and under your responsibility enforce with the utmost rigour of the existing laws. (Signed) JUAN GARCIA MARTINEZ.

POET'S CORNER

SELECTED.

COMMENCEMENT OF SPRING. FROM the blue depths of western skies The Zephyr comes on gentle wing, And whispering as he onward flies, Proclaim the sweet approach of Spring. Ah! see, she comes in beauty drest, With buds and blossoms gaily crown'd, Wakes nature from her dreams of rest, And spreads enchantment all around. Season reviving to the heart, The powerful magic of thy smile To joy can lovelier warmth impart, And grief of half her pain beguile. In the young mind where fancy glows, When hope displays her lively store, Each leaf that spreads, each flower that blows, Inspires delight unfeigned before. Ah! though for me the charms of Spring No more awake the feeling wild, Those rapturous dreams they fled to bring, When life and all its prospects smiled. Yet still emotions mild and sweet Steal o'er my soothing and tranquil breast; Sad Memory's throbs forget to bear, And thought regretful links to rest.

THE GLEANER—NO. 1.

WE PROPOSE under this head to publish a weekly miscellany, composed principally of extracts from the best authors. Our contracted limits will necessarily render our extracts very concise, but we shall endeavour to select such comprehensive passages as may suggest topics for reflection, or incentives to research. The following passages are from Mrs. Welf's letters to a young lady, a very valuable work.

EXTRACTS.

"To these domestic duties and obligations, may be added what belongs to us in the aggregate, as the refiners of manners; and the conservators of morals; and in these cases every judicious statesman readily allows our relative importance. No nation has preserved its political independence for any long period after its women became dissipated and licentious. When the hallowed graces of the chaste matron have given place to the bold allurements of the courtesan, the rising generation always proclaims its base origin. Luxurious self-indulgence; frivolous or abandoned pursuits; indifference to every generous motive; mean attachment to intellect; disdain of lawful authority, yet credulous subservience to artful demagogues; the blended vices of the savage, the Sybarite and the slave, proclaim a people ripe for ruin and inviting the chains of a conqueror." "As far as the records of past ages permit us to judge, female depravity preceded the downfall of those mighty states of Greece & Italy which once gave law to the world. We have in spread testimony, that the licentiousness, pride, & extravagance of the "daughters of Sion," during the latter part of her first monarchy, accelerated the Divine Judgments, & unheathed the sword of the Babylonish destroyer."

"Where a woman, who is born to the possession of rank and affluence, properly appreciates those blessings, and instead of circumscribing them within the narrow sphere of self-enjoyment, endeavours to diffuse improvement and comfort wherever her influence extends; if through the conviction of being merely an agent, she lift her eyes to him who entrusted her with ample powers, she feels in the consciousness of well doing, and in the serene delight of reflected bliss the purest earthly gratification. Her heart frequently speaks to her in the inspired language of the royal Psalmist, "The lot is fallen unto me in a fair ground, yea I have a goodly heritage." On the other hand if she supposes herself to be some "mighty Leviathan," sent into the ocean of existence "to take her pasture therein," the chain which held her to society is broken, or at least held together by the fragile tie of interested dependence she did not participate in the griefs of others, her own sorrows therefore shall be all her own; she fought not to make her fellow creatures happy, they will not therefore rejoice in her prosperity."

"What a pity, that so much pains should be exerted for such a subordinate purpose; and in which since all those whom you seek to amaze are your competitors your chance of success is so very limited! For if your daughter after fourteen thousand hours spent in the acquisition of music prove at last but a second rate performer; if after all that the dancing master has done in screwing her shoulders and modelling her steps, her person be inelegant and her motions ungraceful; if no expense nor waste of time can prevent her drawings from being daubs, or bagatelles, for what have the hours of early life been sacrificed? Taste and ton have no degrees to allure their worshippers; nor can ardent devotion, here, claim that reward for its fidelity, to which it is not entitled by talent. All that can be done for the unsuccessful candidate for fashionable eclat is, to remove her to some narrower sphere. A second rate party or a summer bathing place is the only region which she can hope to illumine; while all who witnessed her former pretensions are tempted to exclaim, "Ill wend'd ambition, how much art thou thrunk." Might not prudence here suggest the expediency of applying to another master, who acts upon very different principles from the despot Vanity, by giving a certain retribution to the motives not the success of our actions? "No cold neglect the faithful heart repairs: "Whole headfall am felicitous his regard, "Each wish for merit, each attempt to please, "He views, and His benignant smiles reward."

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

BOSTON, MARCH 29. LATE NEWS.

Captain Harris, who arrived yesterday from Leith, favoured us with papers to Feb. 15, containing London News to the 12th. The Prince of Wales was established as Regent on the 6th, and communicated his Message to Parliament on the 12th. The speedy recovery of the King was confidently expected; and it was therefore determined to be inexpedient to make any change in the Ministry.

The Orders in Council had not been repealed; but fresh instructions had been given to the Courts not to condemn under them; and we learn verbally, that Mr. Pinkney, being about to embark for America, Lord Wellesley requested him to remain a few days longer, as he had an important note, to address to him.

The intelligence from Cadix and Lisbon, is not so late as we possess. It mentions, however, that Massena had been reinforced, and that the French had been successful in some small affairs in the North of Portugal.

Hostilities have been renewed between the Russians and the Turks.

Accounts in England from Hamburg were to Jan. 18, from Gottenburg to the 26th, and from Heligoland to Feb. 6.

Parliament was opened by commission from the Prince of Wales on the 12th of Feb. & the speech delivered by commissioners. His Royal Highness hopes that he shall be enabled to afford to Spain and Portugal a continuance of that support which their energy appears to deserve; he compliments Lord Wellington and his army; He remarks that the captures of Bourbon and Java, have still further lessened the enemy's colonies; He states that the revenue has been more productive than ever. With regard to America the speech states that H. R. H. will be very happy if he shall be able to bring the negotiation to a favourable conclusion, always regarding what is due to the rights and interests of His Majesty's dominions.

In the commons Mr. Milnes, who moved the address in answer to the speech, expressed his opinion, that the vacillating conduct of France towards America would tend to bring to a favourable conclusion the negotiation between that country and England.

The Regent in his speech says nothing respecting peace.

ORDERS IN COUNCIL.

The following favourable intelligence is contained in the London Courier (a ministerial paper) of the 2nd February.

"His Majesty's Advocate yesterday read in the Admiralty Court a letter which he had received from Lord Wellesley; desiring that all the proceedings against the American brig Fox, and other vessels similarly circumstanced might be stayed, until his Majesty's pleasure can be taken respecting them."

The failures in Paris, according to the late advices from the French coast, which also announces the embargo on all shipping in the ports of France, are taking place there daily without intermission. The merchants of the continent are equally embarrassed. [We see no further mention of the embargo in later papers.]

LONDON, FEB. 8.

On the 6th instant, the Prince of Wales was installed in the high office of Regent.

By the cartel arrived from France, an American messenger has come over with despatches to Mr. Pinkney, the contents of which have not yet transpired. It is stated, however, from very good authority, that they relate solely to some new arrangements of the French government, respecting American commerce, which is said to be a relaxation of the French system in its favour. It is further stated that the Berlin and Milan decrees, as far as they relate to America, are, from the 2d of February instant, finally to cease and terminate. Their all American ships and cargoes, provisionally detained in the ports of France or those of her dominions, are to be restored, and henceforward vessels from the United States are to be freely admitted.

Advices by the Anholt mail, state, that a demand of 2000 seamen for the French navy has been made from Sweden, but has been refused, as inconsistent with the laws of the kingdom. A similar requisition made from Danzig, will, no doubt, be more favourably listened to. It is still reported, that there are disturbances in Norway on account of the naval conscription. There is also a rumour of some differences between the courts of Sweden and Denmark and Russia.

By a decree of the minister of the interior dated January 27, 1811, the sixty printers, whose names are there subjoined, now in Paris, are the only ones that exercise that profession.

[* We believe there has been no account of the capture of Java. Probably it is an error of the press—and ought to have been I. of France.]

We are truly concerned to learn, that the spirit of disaffection in Ireland is displaying itself in a very alarming manner.

FEB. 10.

The King's mental faculties are so far restored, that he has had an interview with the Queen, and has been informed of the proceedings of parliament, and has approved of them.

FEB. 12.

Advices from St. Petersburg, to a late date state that an Ukase had been published by the Russian government, permitting the entrance of bona fide American vessels in the Russian ports, on the payment of certain duties, which are specified in the tariff annexed to the order.

It is stated in some letters from France that Buonaparte expressed his intention of behaving with the utmost liberality towards ships and property belonging to the U. States.

The inhabitants of the Valais, Switzerland, refused the execution of the order for annexing that territory to France; but were at length overpowered by French troops. Three hundred Swiss were killed and six hundred wounded.

Bulletins, Feb. 10, His Majesty continues to advance towards recovery.—Feb. 11, H. M. remains as well as for the last few days. Feb. 12, H. M. continues in a state of amendment.

EDINBURGH, FEB. 8.

It has now been officially announced, that his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales does not mean to make any change either in men or measures.

This resolution is understood to have been the result of an examination of the physicians by Mr. Adam, his Highness's Chancellor, who received from them a decided opinion that the king would, probably in no long period, become again completely competent to the discharge of his royal functions.

The committee of merchants trading to America, have, it is said, requested an interview of the Marquis Wellesley, in order to ascertain whether Mr. Pinkney had made any communication to his lordship of the tidings said to have recently come from France, and what are the precise intentions of our ministers, in relation to the continuance of the orders in council.

Messrs. Smith and Hingham, charged with despatches from Mr. Pinkney, the American minister in London; Mr. Forbes, who lately brought over despatches from France, embarked on Saturday afternoon, on board the Union Cartel, for Morlaix.

The John Johnson, from Baltimore to Tonningen, was lost off Harlingen 19th ult.

Capt. Newcomb was captured by a French gun-boat, 3 hours after leaving Cadiz, and 7 men on board and ordered the vessel for Rota, being unable to get her in, they consented to give her up upon capt. N's surrendering what money he had. They took 26 dollars, the long boat, compass, axe, trumpet, most of the running rigging, and robbed the capt. of most of his cloaths. The Sibiz was near when the Elizabeth was taken. About 3 hours after his release, capt. N's vessel was towed into Cadiz, by an English guard boat, and failed again Feb. 17.

COPENHAGEN, JAN. 3.

It is reported that some British emissaries, who came by the British packet boats, which regularly arrive in the bay of Fottenburch, have introduced themselves into Norway with the intention of obstructing the levy of seamen now going on there by order of our Court.

VIENNA, JAN. 12.

Our course of exchange is nearly the same to day that it was yesterday, which does not often happen. It was yesterday at 910; it is 912 to day. Our commercial houses maintain their credit. The house of Nathanael is the only one that has failed.

It is supposed that the French General Lauriston, who lately traversed the Illyrian provinces near the Turkish frontiers, is gone on a mission from his Government to the Russia head-quarters in Bulgaria.

The negotiations with Russia, and the conferences between Count Stakleberg and our ministers are the subject of general conversation, but we know nothing of what they relate to. It appears that our Government is desirous of the speedy termination of the war with Turkey, and that it has taken some steps in consequence.

JAN. 13.

Letters from Constantinople mention, that the head-quarters of the Grand Vizier, at Schumla, have been newly fortified under the direction of foreign engineers. His right wing extends to the coast of the Black Sea; his advance guard is at Boghirle.

Considerable entrenchments are forming to prevent the Russians from advancing beyond Ragard, where their advance guard is.—The greater part of their army in cantonments between Rudschuck, Nicopolis and Salibria. They have one corps at Felova, and a second at Talistepi.

LATEST NEWS.

On Saturday last arrived off Gloucester, the ship Sally Ann, capt. Glover, in 35 days from Liverpool. By capt. Glover we were yesterday favoured with his marine information, files of London papers to the 21st of Feb. inclusive, and Liverpool papers to the 21st.

The last bulletin of the king's illness (Feb. 21,) says "His majesty's progress confirms the expectation of his recovery."

The prince of Wales refrained from attending parliament personally on the late occasion, because the present ministers controuled him in the speech he wished to make.

The duke of Albuquerque, the Spanish patriot minister in England, died on the 18th of Feb. He died in a state of violent derangement produced by the misfortunes of his country, continually exclaiming "Moriar Napoleon."

The papers contain nothing new respecting the French decrees or British edicts.

There is some reason to suppose there was a general embargo in France from the beginning of Feb. to the 17th at least.

From the London Gazette of Feb. 16.

FOREIGN OFFICE, FEB. 15, 1811.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent has been pleased to appoint Augustus John Foster, Esq. to be his majesty's envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the U. S. of America.

[Mr. Foster, appointed minister to the U. S. is son of the dutchefs of Devonshire, and was secretary to the American legation.]

BRITISH HOUSE OF LORDS—FEB. 12.

AMERICA.

The Earl of Aberdeen said, that the fact that the discussions were now held between America and this country, and that his Royal Highness was anxious to bring our differences to an amicable adjustment, afforded ground to every well wisher to his country. At the same time he did entertain a confidence that every fair and proper arrangement would be made by his Royal Highness's ministers to unite the two countries in the bonds of reconciliation and friendship.—He could assure the Noble Marquis (Wellesley) now at the head of that department, if he could suppose that Noble Marquis attentive to any suggestion of his, that if he could effect an amicable adjustment of past differences, and a permanent treaty of future friendship with America, he would do an act which would redound to his honour more than the achievement of any conquest, and would rival any deed of heroism which we might expect from his brother on the banks of the Tagus.

Lord Elliott said with respect to the differences with America, he hoped for an adjustment, founded upon our maritime rights, & the honour of our country; and he thought those who now held the reins of government more entitled to praise for their conduct on this question, than those who preceded them in office.

Lord Grenville remarked, that it was with infinite satisfaction that he heard that now if not before, we were in a train of friendly negotiation with America, and that hopes of a happy agreement were entertained. The sentiment could be agreed more cordially with a Noble Earl (Aberdeen) than that in which he had so ably and eloquently expressed his conviction, that nothing could be so conducive to the interest and hon or of his country as an union of amity and harmony with the United States. He felt so sincerely rejoiced on this subject, that he must congratulate their Lordships and the country on the expectation that had been held out to them.

HOUSE OF COMMONS—FEB. 12.

Mr. Milnes.—He would now make an observation on the relations of this country with America. The two States in consequence of a similarity of interests, ought to be united; and he doubted not every mode consistent with the honour of the nation, would be essayed to restore harmony between them. But this he would say, that whether the Burning and Berlin decrees were rescinded by France, or were permitted to operate fully—still the feelings which her conduct must excite in America would be, that whatever her determination was, it did not arise from a principle of friendship; the calculation of France must betray doubt of her sincerity—and that doubt would awaken feelings of indignation in America, and would clearly inform her of the interested views by which France was actuated.

Mr. Wellesley, Jun.—With respect to the present state of the war, he would observe that in all the Acts and Decrees of the French emperor, he appeared now to be actuated by nothing but a desire of revenge. Nor could he, in reference to his Burning Decree, believe him so weak as to impoverish his own friends, for the mere purpose of destroying merchandise.—No, he went far beyond that—he wished to destroy the principle of Commerce altogether—that principle which had raised the towns of the Hanseatic league to rank among the Powers of Europe—and the absence of which had reduced them to districts. His great aim was to destroy the pre-eminence of England on the ocean—and until he were obliged to abandon the idea, it would be in vain to indulge the hope of a solid and permanent peace. He congratulated the House on the moderate tone which had been adopted in the negotiations with the United States of America, which he trusted would be attended with happy effect.

Mr. Ponsonby—Agreed, that there was disposition in Ministers to conciliate, as far as circumstances would permit, the United States of America.

LONDON, FEB. 16.

Letters from Germany of a late date, mention, that the constant refusal of the emperor of Austria to co-operate in the "continental system," has produced an evident coolness between the courts of Vienna and Paris.

FEB. 19.

The letters from Sweden by the Anholt mail, state that Russia, Denmark & Sweden are at length convinced of the ruinous tendency of the measures which they have been pursuing, and they only wait a favourable opportunity to restore commerce its usual channels.

Bernadotte is reported to have expressed himself so strongly in favour of a renewal of the commercial intercourse between Sweden and G. Britain, as to have gained the entire confidence of all those who are so deeply interested in the establishment of that connection.

The French minister Caulincourt has not been able to extort from the emperor Alexander his consent for acting up to the spirit and intention of the "Continental System." No British merchandise has been burned in Russia. The French minister was particularly anxious to have this insulting part of his master's system adopted, but all his solicitations to that effect failed. Indeed the Russian Government is said to have manifested much firmness on this and other important points as to render it evident that Alexander only waits for some arrangement with the Porte to re-assume his independence. France was so fully aware of this disposition, that she was believed to be secretly encouraging the Porte to continue the war against Russia.

It is a positive fact, that a Russian general has been arrested and thrown into prison by his government, on the charge of having traitorously disclosed to Caulincourt the French minister, the strength, positions & resources of the Russian military forces.

FEB. 21.

A disposition is said to have been manifested by the northern powers, favourable to the interest of this country.

A decree from Copenhagen is in force, which states among other arrangements, that ships with English licenses, shall not, on account of being provided with such licenses, be liable to confiscation. In consequence of this edict, a great number of vessels, which were detained in the ports of that kingdom, will, it is understood, be immediately set at liberty.

We find in the Paris Moniteur, a decree for calling out eighty thousand of the conscripts for the present year. The first detachment are to march from their respective departments on the 10th of April.

MARYLAND,

Anne-Arundel county, SE.

ON application to me, the subscriber, in the recess of Anne-Arundel county court, in an associate Judge of the third Judicial district of Maryland, by petition, in writing, of Benjamin Reeder, of said county, praying the benefit of an act for the relief of insolvent debtors, passed at November Session eighteen hundred and five, and the several supplements thereto, on the terms mentioned in the said act, a schedule of his property and a list of his creditors, on oath, as far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his petition, and the said Benjamin Reeder having satisfied me, by competent testimony, that he has resided in the state of Maryland for the period of two years immediately preceding this his application, and the sheriff of Anne-Arundel county having certified that the said petitioner is in his custody for debt only, and the said Benjamin Reeder having given sufficient security for his personal appearance at Anne-Arundel county court to answer such allegations as may be made against him by his creditors, I therefore order and adjudge that the said Benjamin Reeder be discharged from his imprisonment; and that he be causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some public news-paper of the city of Annapolis once every week for three months successively before the third Monday in September next, give notice to his creditors to appear before Anne-Arundel county court at 10 o'clock A. M. of the third Monday in September next to show cause, if any they have, why the said Benjamin Reeder should not have the benefit of the said act and supplements as prayed.

Given under my hand this twenty-first day of March, 1811.

HENRY RIDGELY, Associate Judge third Judicial district.

MARYLAND GA.

ANNAPOLIS, WEDNESDAY

We understand (says the Messenger) that Mr. SMITH, a son of Secretary of State, a MONROE, esq. of the commonwealth, has been appointed by the United States to fill the

from a New-Orleans paper of Archibald McCloy, was in board a flat boat near the clock, and died this morning as he held who gave the following account:—that he received his death wound off the Levee at a distance of 50 yards from an unknown vessel, the testimony of John Williams, that the shot came from a privateer.

A quarrel took place yesterday at the market-house, between two men, one of which drew a pistol, and the other to the head of his feet. One of the men ordered the murderer to be executed in the following manner:—lay down beside the murderer, and beat his brains out with his bats.

MURDER.

Mr. Loudon, of Franklin, Tennessee, was unfortunately killed, in the early part of last week, by a party of Creek Indians, who had been sent to him by the liberality for two or three years, and it is supposed that the provocation on the part of the Indians were taken to bring to justice.

William Williams and Isaac attempted to cross the Niagara river, were unfortunately dashed down the rapids of Niagara.

METHODIST.

The Methodist annual conference of the Baltimore District (composed of Pennsylvania, the West Virginia, and the Northern) commenced their sitting on the 20th March and will continue to the 25th. Sixty Preachers, exhorters, attended this conference. Deacons were ordained, and preachers were received on the roll of Members during the session. The bounds of this conference to this statement is at the Conference to be held on the 21st of June, in all the societies, and an early infection.

BALTIMORE.

VERY LATE FROM

Arrived below last evening, in 29 days from London, an express vessel, which came up to town last night.

On the 22d February, an express vessel, consisting of about 100 men, the remainder of the British army, a small town of 2000 men, and the intendant of the French besieging army, which was supposed to be a considerable body, were sent to reinforce Soult, before Cadix. The English party was said to have made a successful attack on the 26th. It was reported that the Spaniards were also to march to Medina Sedonia to attack the French troops. Gen. Graham's expedition; the whole French army to Cadix was not more than 7 or 8,000 men, and the reinforcements were not more than 1000 men. It was said they would be obliged to give up the other, and to be forced to march to Cadix, and march to the Cortes, and they renounced for the first time in the history of the world.

The British force in Cadiz consisted of six line of battle ships, three bomb-ships, and a number of brigs of war and gun-boats, under the command of Rear Admiral Boscawen, which was supposed would be able to hold out in front while the French were in the rear. The British force in Cadiz was fitted up for the first time in the history of the world.

POET'S CORNER.

SELECTED.

CANZONET.

LADY, not for her we sigh,
Loving only fashion's dye,
And her charms to every eye

Revealing.

But we love the bashful maid,
In sweet modesty array'd,
And all her beauty 'neath its shade

Concealing.

Lady, when with graceful care,
You would deck your bosom fair,
Or your wanton flowing hair,

With roses;

Ah! you throw the flower away,
Which open glares upon the day;
The modest bud more charms to us,

Discloses.

SONNET TO A GOOSE.

IF thou didst feed on western plains of yore,
Or waddle wide, with flat and flabby feet,
Over some Cambrian mountain's plathy
moor;
Or find in farmer's yard a safe retreat
From gipley thieves, and foxes fly and
fleet;
If thy grey quills, by lawyer guided, trace
Deeds big with ruin to some parched race,
Or love-sick poet's sonnet, sad and sweet,
Wailing the rigour of some lady-fair;
Or of the drudge of house-maid's daily toil,
Cobwebs and dust thy pinions white befoil,
Departed goose! I neither know nor care
But this I know, that thou wast very fine,
Seafon'd with sage, and onions, and Port-
wine.

THE GLEANER.

'HOURS have wings, and fly up to the author of time, and carry news of our usage.
All our prayers cannot entreat one of them
either to return or slacken its pace. The mis-spense of every minute is a new record a gainst us in heaven. Sure, if we thought
thus, we would diminish them with better report, and not suffer them either to go away
empty, or laden with dangerous intelligence.
How happy is it that every hour should convey up, not only the message, but the fruits
of good, and stay with the Ancient of Days
to speak for us before his glorious throne.

This most solemn and serious exhortation
must awaken, within the breasts of the most
unconcerned, reflections of a serious nature:
It shews us in the beautiful simplicity of ancient language, the value of every hour, day,
minute; that we are accountable to the Al-
mighty for the use or abuse of every moment
of our lives. Let us then endeavour to pass
the time present in such a manner, that we may look back on it with satisfaction, when
it becomes the past, and at the end of each day be able to say, 'Behold a day past, but not lost; then we may look forward with hope to that good day, when at the dread Tribunal, we are to deliver up an account of all things committed to our care, when we may say, "O Lord, of the hours thou hast
granted unto me, have I lost none."

To thee, O youth, is my exhortation
chiefly addressed; thine is the season when
the plant of truth most flourishes, which if cultivated by a parent's or guardian's fostering hand, produces fruit an hundred fold.
In the cheerful morn of life, when innocence
attends thy footsteps, when the cheerful tem-
per, the open countenance, the unembarrassed
air, announce the sincerity of a heart incorrupted by the world, open to the voice of
council and moulded into form like yielding
wax; then is the time when friendly counsel
should be poured in.

"The dreadful vice of gaming must be
here mentioned, as the most certain corroder
of the temper, as well as the destroyer of every beauty, delicacy or grace, that is usually ascribed to women. Let us imagine the contracted heart of a miser, joined to the countenance of a fury; let us unite inordinate covetousness, with rage, envy, terror &
despair; behold dependence and imbecility on the one hand, on the other impending ruin and infamy, from which the wretched victim has no resource but death. And can it be wondered at, that the who has dared to sport with
the reputation and fortune of her family,
should stake the interests of that hereafter,
of which perhaps she has heard little, and
meditated less, as madly as she has risked
those temporal enjoyments to which her cov-etous and selfish heart was attached with such destructive idolatry? A female gamester
like a female devil, sins against all those
moral restraints which general opinion, education, and custom, had placed around her sex,
as well as against the natural feelings of her heart. Instead of delicacy, timidity and generosity, she becomes confident, bold and mean; avarice and chicanery usurp the place of liberality and ingenuousness. Peace will never more enter into her bosom; and if placid-
ity dwell upon her lips, it will be but the

meretricious smile of dissimulation, "the
painted sepulchre," that covers the most hu-
miating vestige of degraded mortality."
[Mrs. West.]

"I must exclude from the pale of true Christianity, (that is, from the number of sincere servants of the blessed Jesus) all who live in the habitual practice of what they know to be vice; but they who divide their time between singing and forrowing, who
promise with the impassioned and confident
Peter, and like him offend and weep, exhibit,
though not so glorious, yet as strong a proof
of the power of religion on a weak but sincere mind, as the dying Stephen did when he prayed to his Lord in glory, amid his mortal
agonies. Though the certainty of another world has not eradicated the bosom infirmity,
it makes "the strong man tremble," and
compels the rebel inclinations to fall prostrate
for pardon before the throne of mercy; by whom, we trust, though they may be corrected as offenders, they will not be sentenced
as apostates."
[Ibid.]

"But indifference is the more prevailing
characteristic of this age; and it is so very prevalent among the higher circles, that seriousness and devotion are constantly confounded with sectarian enthusiasm. The duty of worshipping the God of our fathers is made
to depend upon convenience, upon fashion,
upon a warm chapel, or upon an agreeable
preacher. From the lives of these nominal Christians, or from the repulsive manners of those who "make broad their phylacteries,
and enlarge the hem of their garments," the
well bred deist, and mere moral man of the world, affect to form their notion of the influence of religion upon the heart and mind.
Alas! that the many thousands, who in this island have "never bowed the knee to Baal,"
nor omitted that "worship in spirit & truth"
which our Creator prescribes, would sometimes emerge from their beloved retirement,
and shew an admiring world, "Virtue in her own shape how lovely."
[Ibid.]

he thinks it sufficient to promise that their

PAUL'S DOMESTIC INFALLIBLE
COLUMBIAN OIL.

THE inventor of this highly esteemed medicine
is a native of America, and the composition
is the production of American soil, consequently it is in every sense of the word domestic, it is not pulled up with a numerous train of pompous
foreign certificates of persons from whom by the great distance that separates us 'tis impossible to obtain information, therefore the public has better security for their money as there cannot be
the least shadow of deception to cover his medicine, for he simply appears before the community
with his invention and an experimental detail of the various cases in which it really is so wonderfully efficacious, and in which he is supported by the following certificates of respectable characters,
whose names are not only subscribed, but their
persons may be also consulted, being residents within the circle of our own neighbourhood. The following are the complaints in which the Columbian
Oil has been found so efficacious and rarely ever
fails of effecting a cure, viz: Rheumatism,
Consumption, Pains in any parts of the body,
but particularly in the back and breast, Colds and Coughs, Toothach, Pleurisy, Cholick, Cramps,
External and Internal Bruises, Sprains and Flesh
Wounds, Scalds and Burns, Whooping Cough &
Mumps, and Dysentary or Bloody Flux, Croup
and the summer complaint in children, and in a weak stomach that is caused by indigestion, a constant sinking and loss of appetite, it will act
as a powerful bracer to the relaxed fibre and restore
it to its proper tone.

It seems also as if nature had ranked it the first of the class of all pectorals and expectorals for the relief of the breast and lungs, as it scarce ever
fails of removing obstructions in either, particularly those who are troubled with 'tithisick or Athmatic complaints, who in the act of walking
fast, stooping or lying down, are almost suffocated, half a teaspoonful of the Columbian Oil will render some relief instantaneously and if continued agreeable to the directions in such cases, will prove a radical cure by producing the full power
of inflation to the lungs and free expansion to the breast.

CERTIFICATES OF ITS EFFICACY.

No. 1. Sept. 1809.
I do certify, that I have been ailing nearly two years with a hectic cough and violent impression
at the breast—I applied to the most eminent physicians and could get no relief from my low state
of health, until I got Paul's Columbian Oil, and found immediate relief. I take this method of informing the public of the efficacy of this valuable medicine, from the cures which I have experienced
—I think it an incumbent duty to offer the same
to the public.
ELISHA SOWARD.
Baltimore No. 16, Water-street, sign of the plough.

No. 2. Sept. 1809.
From the great benefit I received from your Columbian Oil, I am induced to state, I was taken with a violent sore throat, about the 26th of August, which continued till the first of the month,
when I applied your oil externally, and washed
the part affected with the oil diluted in the same quantity of molasses, which took away pieces of putrid flesh and healed my throat in about 48
hours.

N. B. I also certify, that I nursed my grandchild, and infant of 17 months old which was taken about the first of August with slow fevers and loss of appetite. We immediately applied for a physician, who gave every attention for about 20
days but all to no effect; the child was given up
by the physicians, and had every appearance of
death, when I applied for Paul's Columbian Oil,
and gave five drops morning and evening, for five
days, when the child began to recover, and is now
in perfect health.

MARY UNDERWOOD.
Baltimore, by Peter's Bridge.

No. 3. Sept. 6
I hereby certify, that I had a cough and pain in my stomach for upwards of two years, when I was recommended to Paul's Columbian Oil. I procured one phial of that valuable medicine, which
has restored me to a good state of health again.
THOMAS ELIOTT.
On the Hook's-town road near the turnpike gate.

No. 4. Feb. 12, 1809.
I have great reason to be very thankful for being recommended to Paul's Columbian Oil I had been afflicted with a violent pain in my back, so that I was not able to walk. I procured one phial of the oil, and I received immediate relief, & I have been very well ever since.

N. B. I had a violent toothach about two or three months ago, when I dropped a few drops of the above oil on some lint, and applied it to

I comply with your request of stating my opinion of Paul's Columbian Oil, being an effectual remedy for the tetter worm. I have been afflicted with the tetter in my hand for 12 years, and have made trial of many medicines which have been recommended, but all to no effect. Hearing of Paul's Columbian Oil, about the 15th of January
last, proving an effectual cure for the ringworm
and similar complaints. I immediately got a phial
of your Oil, and applied it agreeably to the directions for about two months successively—when
the tetter left me, and has not made its appearance
since.

and proved an effectual cure.

Lord Wellington was well spoken of by all persons at Lisbon, except those in the French interest, and of that number a great majority of the lower class of Portuguese undoubtedly are. A merchant of Lisbon had received a letter from Badajoz, dated 24th February, giving a particular account of the defeat (by the French besieging that place) of the Spaniards that were under the command of the late General Romana—they had crossed the Tagus for the purpose of endeavouring to relieve Badajoz, and encamped, carelessly, not far from it. The French attacked them in the night, when the guards were small and remiss, and killed 1500, took 3500 prisoners, and totally dispersed the rest. [This corps was 7000 Spaniards and Portuguese.] It stated that the Spaniards, although surprised, fought well, but that a Portuguese regiment, except 80 men deserted their colours and fled.

DECREE.
Of the general and extraordinary Cortes, issued in the Royal Island of Leon, Jan. 1, 1811.
The general and extraordinary Cortes, in conformity to their decree of the 24th of September last, in which they declared the renunciations made at Bayonne, by Don FERDINAND the VIIIth, the legitimate king of Spain and the Indies, to be null and totally void, not only from his deprivation of the crown, but also, and principally, from their being destitute of the most essential and indispensable requisite the consent of the nation—Resolve, that they will not acknowledge, but on the contrary shall and do consider as null and of no value or effect, every act treaty, covenant, or transaction of whatever kind or nature, which may have been or may be executed or entered into by the king, during the continuance of his present state of oppression and destitute of liberty, whether the same may have been executed in the country of the enemy, or even in Spain, if at such time his royal person is surrounded by the arms, or under the influence, directly or indirectly, of the usurper of his crown; since the nation will never consider him free, nor will they pay him obedience, until he is among his faithful subjects in the bosom of the National Congress, which exists at present, or may in future exist, or of the government formed by the Cortes.—They likewise—Resolve that every violation of this decree, shall be considered by the nation, as an act of hostility against the country, the violator being responsible to the utmost rigour of the laws. The Cortes, finally, Resolve, that the generous nation which they represent will never, for a moment, lay down their arms; listen to any proposition of accommodation, or compromise, of whatever nature, unless preceded by the total evacuation of Spain and Portugal by the troops which invaded it so unjustly; the Cortes together with the nation being determined to maintain the contest, without intermission, until they shall have secured the holy religion of their ancestors, the liberty of their beloved monarch, and the absolute independence and integrity of the monarchy. This shall be understood by the Council of Regency, and in order that it may be known and rigidly observed throughout the Spanish dominions, they shall cause it to be printed, published and circulated.

THE TEAR.

The Idea from the German. HOW still was the moment, how sweet was the scene! The breeze scarcely ruffling the leaf or the grove. And the spirit of freshness that breath'd on the green. Seem'd to cool with his breath to a holiness love. I met the dear maid by the moonlighted bow'r; And held her reign'd to the throbs of my heart. While I swore by the bill and the heavily blue. That my heart without her would be hopeless, unblest. I spoke of the bliss that belong'd to the few Whom love had united with feelings the same; And I ask'd, with the fervour of anxiousness true, If affection with Laura was only a name. I felt the fine tremor her bosom that shook, As passion in murmurs reply'd from her soul; And I knew that the maid was sincere, in a look; When a tear on her cheek from her melting eye stole. Blest drop! of more worth than the gift of the mine. That instant reflected in thee was display'd The chaste queen of night who acknowledg'd the sign. And smil'd on the tear of the fond loving maid. I gasp'd, and my eyes seem'd to have but one ray There center'd; (Earth, Heav'n had vanish'd from them.) And I saw that the tear that was fading away, With the image of purity stamp'd on the gem G. THE GLEANER.

The foundations on which christianity is built, and its superiority to mere moral obligations, should be understood by every christian; but to separate faith from morals is the work of an enemy. It is only "through faith, working by love," that we are made meet for the inheritance of the saints in light. The degree of our respective duties, of knowing and acting, depends upon our opportunity of exerting either faculty. Those whose limited understandings, or humble stations, prevent them from acquiring much information, may be truly sincere in the practice of christian virtue; but where abilities are granted, and leisure allowed, a more ample stock of christian knowledge is indispensable; and for this reason, because such persons are more exposed to those temptations from which it is the best human preservative. The readers whom I particularly address require this salutary aid. General opinion (except in those points where it is partially misled by fashion) prescribes those outward decora of conduct which are necessary to make a name in the world; but those who are thus circumstanced require to be taught, that, unless they found this decorum on inward purity of heart, and a desire of obeying their Maker, bearing the name of Christ will not determine them truly to belong to the fold of which he is the appointed Shepherd. [Mrs. West.]

Were the christian duty of self-examination rigorously performed, I am persuaded the world would exhibit a very different appearance, both with respect to sin, and to its constant associate, sorrow. Enfeebled virtue would recover its stability; nay the seducer himself would pause in his guilty career and perceive "consideration come like an angel to whip the offending Adam out of him," and shew him the little value of what he seeks to purchase at the risk of eternal perdition. Nor are the uses of reflection, meditation confined to our moral conduct, though their exercise is here most important. It is by these means that the difficulties of science are conquered, and the refinements of taste acquired. The skilful artist is formed by this self-communion; and the plans of the statesman and the warrior are thus ripened into perfection. Even that which is known by the name of pleasure is truly more enjoyed by retrospection in the silence of your apartment, than when the gaudy scene actually passed your staring eyes, and the confused buzz of found agitated your auricular organs. Such an act of the memory may be compared to the animal faculty of rumination; we at first swallow pleasure in the gross, & are too anxious to devour much, to discriminate its constituent parts; but when remasticated, we duly appreciate its pungency. A load of unrefined pleasure (suffer me to continue the allusion) palls the fatigued appetite; a small quantity, taken after proper intervals, exhilarates the spirits, and infuses alacrity into every part. This is especially true of the pleasures which arise from conversation. Refined wit and brilliant sense communicate an inward degree of satisfaction every time we recall them to our remembrance. Genius, whether we seek her in the walks of the imitative arts, or in the "nobler growth of thought," does not immediately pour her full radiance on our eyes; we must contemplate her splendour before we can appreciate its degree of brightness. Even elegance and beauty, when they belong to the higher degrees of excellence, solicit minute attention, and refuse to unveil their coy graces to the careless gaze of the hurried beholder. [Ibid.]

INFORMS his friends and the public generally, that he has again taken the UNION TAVERN, at Annapolis, which he has occupied for the last year. To his old customers he thinks it sufficient to promise that their future accommodations shall be equal to what they have heretofore received; and as promises have become more fallacious than the due performance of them, he is unwilling to make many, and will therefore only say that nothing on his part shall be wanting to gratify those who may choose to favour him with their custom. He cannot omit this opportunity of tendering his sincere thanks to those who have favoured him with their custom since his commencement in this line of business, and willing to appeal to them for his unremitting exertions to please, he feels confident that he shall receive a continuance of their patronage. PAUL'S DOMESTIC INFALLIBLE COLUMBIAN OIL.

THE inventor of this highly esteemed medicine is a native of America, and the composition is the production of American soil, consequently it is in every sense of the word domestic, it is not pulled up with a numerous train of pompous foreign certificates, persons from whom by the great distance that separates us 'tis impossible to obtain information, therefore the public has better security for their money as there cannot be the least shadow of deception to cover his medicine, for he simply appears before the community with his invention and an experimental detail of the various cases in which it really is so wonderfully efficacious, and in which he is supported by the following certificates of respectable characters, whose names are not only subscribed, but their persons may be also consulted, being residents within the circle of our own neighbourhood. The following are the complaints in which the Columbian Oil has been found so efficacious and rarely ever fails of effecting a cure, viz: Rheumatism, Consumption, Pains in any parts of the body, but particularly in the back and breast, Colds and Coughs, Toothach, Pleurisies, Cholick, Cramps, External and Internal Bruises, Sprains and Flesh Wounds, Scalds and Burns, Whooping Cough & Mumps, and Dysentary or Bloody Flux, Croup and the summer complaint in children, and in a weak stomach that is caused by indigestion, a constant sinking and loss of appetite, it will act as a powerful bracer to the relaxed fibre and restore it to its proper tone. It seems also as if nature had ranked it first of the class of all pectorals and expectorals for the relief of the breast and lungs, as it scarce ever fails of removing obstructions in either, particularly those who are troubled with Phthisick or Asthmatic complaints, who in the act of walking fast, stooping or lying down, are almost suffocated, half a teaspoonful of the Columbian Oil will render some relief instantaneously, and if continued agreeable to the directions in such cases, will prove a radical cure by producing the full power of inflation to the lungs and free expansion to the breast.

CERTIFICATES OF ITS EFFICACY. No. 1. Sept. 1809. I do certify, that I have been ailing nearly two years with a hectic cough and violent impression at the breast—I applied to the most eminent physicians and could get no relief from my low state of health, until I got Paul's Columbian Oil, and found immediate relief. I take this method of informing the public of the efficacy of this valuable medicine: from the cures which I have experienced—I think it an incumbent duty to offer the same to the public. ELISHA SOWARD. Baltimore No. 16, Water-street, sign of the plough. No. 2. Sept. 1809. From the great benefit I received from your Columbian Oil, I am induced to state, I was taken with a violent sore throat, about the 26th of August, which continued till the first of the month, when I applied your oil externally, and washed the part affected with the oil diluted in the same quantity of molasses, which took away pieces of purrid flesh and healed my throat in about 48 hours. N. B. I also certify, that I nursed my grandchild, and infant of 17 months old which was taken about the first of August with slow fevers and loss of appetite. We immediately applied for a physician, who gave every attention for about 10 days but all to no effect; the child was given up by the physicians, and had every appearance of death, when I applied for Paul's Columbian Oil, and gave five drops morning and evening, for five days, when the child began to recover, and is now in perfect health. MARY UNDERWOOD. Baltimore, by Peter's Bridge.

No. 3. Sept. 6. I hereby certify, that I had a cough and pain in my stomach for upwards of two years, when I was recommended to Paul's Columbian Oil. I procured one phial of that valuable medicine, which has restored me to a good state of health again. THOMAS ELIOTT. On the Hook's-town road near the turnpike gate. No. 4. Feb 12, 1809. I have great reason to be very thankful for being recommended to Paul's Columbian Oil I had been afflicted with a violent pain in my back, so that I was not able to walk—I procured one phial of the oil, and I received immediate relief, & I have been very well ever since. N. B. I had a violent toothach about two or three months ago, when I dropped a few drops of the above oil on some lint, and applied it to the tooth affected, and I received immediate relief. ELEANOR ELIOTT. No. 5. I comply with your request of stating my opinion of Paul's Columbian Oil, being an effectual remedy for the tetter worm. I have been afflicted with the tetter in my hand for 12 years, and have made trial of many medicines which have been recommended, but all to no effect. Hearing of Paul's Columbian Oil, about the 15th of January last, proving an effectual cure for the ringworm and similar complaints, I immediately got a phial of your Oil, and applied it agreeably to the directions for about two months successively—when the tetter left me, and has not made its appearance since. SUSANNA PURDEN. N. B. My Susanna, a child aged 20 months & 6 days, was taken about the middle of July last, with a violent cough, which the neighbours said was the whooping cough; I gave her six drops of the Columbian Oil, which gave immediate relief, and proved an effectual cure. Saratoga street, Baltimore, Aug. 21, 1809. The above valuable Medicine for sale by JOHN CHILDS, At Mr. Neth's Store.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

NEW-YORK, APRIL 14.

By the Lydia, capt. Waite, the Editors of the New-York Gazette have received London and Liverpool papers to the 14th ult. They afford a few articles.

The British Packet Ann, for America, & eight other Packets for different ports, failed from Falmouth on the 9th ult.

Capt. Waite informs, that Mr. Foster, the new minister, was to sail from Portsmouth for New-York about the last of March. [From what we learn from the seat of government, we are inclined to believe his reception will be cordial, and that his propositions, if honourable, will be accepted.—As it is certain, a cure of the Carican disease has lately been effected at Washington by a skilful hand. [N. Y. Gazette.]

The Sea-Flower brig arrived at Plymouth on the 11th ult. from Lisbon, with despatches and letters from the British army as late as the 4th of March. No battle was expected to be fought before the middle of May.

Letters of the 4th, mention the total overthrow of the Spanish corps lately under the command of Romana, near Badajoz, attended with the fall of that place. They were surprised by Soult, and cut to pieces. The commander in chief, Carrarera, and gen. Mendizabel, escaped by flight.

LONDON, MARCH 12.

The hon. Augustus Foster, is preparing to set off as minister plenipotentiary, in the room of Mr. Jackson, lately returned from America. It is said he will be the bearer of very conciliatory proposals.

Under the present critical state of affairs with America, it is said, all governors and other civil and military officers are about to be ordered to repair, without loss of time, to their respective stations. The number now at home exceeds all former precedents. It is said Sir George Prevost, is to succeed Sir James Craig in the important command of Canada—this will occasion further changes.

Lt. gen. Maitland, gov. of Grenada, goes to Sicily, and maj. gen. Hissop is also spoken of for the same station. The important command of Halifax, will be filled up by a military officer.

His majesty continues the same as he has been for several days.

A letter from a British officer in Portugal gives the following explanation of a late mission from Massena to lord Wellington: "The French commander, intending to fire a feu de joie on receiving intelligence of the birth of the imperial issue of the marriage of Napoleon and Maria Louisa, sent to acquaint lord Wellington, "in order," as the French officer said, "that lord Wellington should not be alarmed." Lord Wellington received the officer very politely, and sent back an assurance to marshal Massena, "that though no fire from the French lines could be expected, he was so much obliged by the politeness of his communication, that as it was probable the first intelligence of the event, upon which the feu de joie was to take place, would reach Portugal from England, he would not lose a moment in conveying it to the French camp.

The independent spirit manifested by some of the Northern powers, will be supported in the ensuing spring by a very considerable British fleet, which ministers have determined to send to the Baltic. The distinguished veteran Sir J. Saumarez, will take the command.

Letters from the coast of France to the date of Sunday last, declare, that notwithstanding the concession of our board in favour of the Friesland, Hanseatic, and other vessels, the EMBARGO had not been raised in the French ports. The exchange at Paris was 16 and a fraction, or equal to 30 per cent. below par.

Col. Campbell, one of Lord Wellington's aid-de-camps, set out on Thursday for Portugal. We understand that he is the bearer of the most satisfactory intelligence on the part of the British government, and their readiness to make every exertion and sacrifice to promote its success.

Mr. Henry Hope, who died last week has bequeathed property to the amount of upwards of a million sterling to his three nieces (the daughters of Mrs. Giddart, his sisters) Mrs. W. Hope, lady Poole, and Mrs. —, each 100,000l.; the three children of Mrs. W. Hope, 40,000l. each; to the four children of the other sisters, 160,000l.; and to Mr. W. Hope, his houses at Sheen and a verdill-square, with the sure collection of pictures, rich furniture, &c. estimated at 550,000l.—Total 1,160,000l.

The committee of Irish Catholics having terminated the necessary arrangements, for the presentation of their petition to both houses of Parliament, have adjourned to the third Tuesday in April.

Mr. Well's painting of the Miracles of our Saviour, has been purchased by the Subscribers to the British Institution, for 3000 guineas. The sum was raised by a subscription of 50 guineas each individual. The painting was originally destined for America.

The report of a proposal having been made by Buonaparte, to give to the U. S. 25 ships of the line and 10 frigates if they should go to war with this country is not very probable. There are two little difficulties in the way of Buonaparte's generosity; 1st the getting and manning of the ships; and the next, the conveying them to America.

The following is the first account we have had of the Pope, this long time. We find it in a London paper of Feb. 5:—

"We yesterday received Paris Journals to the 30th ult. The Pope has issued a bull, circulation of which has been prohibited by Buonaparte under the severest penalties.—The public however, are kept in the dark with respect to the particulars of the denunciation of his Holiness, but it seems to have given very great offence to Napoleon. Only the first and last words of the document, are stated, but by a subsequent article, it probably alludes to the appointment of a Bishop of Florence by Buonaparte which the Pope has refused to sanction.

SWEDEN.

By the returns made of the population of Stockholm for ten years, it appears that 212 men and 328 women were living aged from 100 to 105 years; 31 men and 36 women from 106 to 110; 22 men and 19 women, from 111 to 120; one man aged 122, and one woman 127 years.

MARCH 13.

The latest accounts from Turkey are Constantinople 2d January, and Smyrna the 20th Jan. Certain intelligence had arrived of Russia having granted permission to export corn from the Black Sea through the Bosphorus; and of the Porte having granted permission for the importation of colonial produce into the Black Sea. These friendly concessions were regarded indicative of the happiest results, & the most sanguine reports were circulated, such as the signing of an armistice, &c. No such event had taken place; but it was daily expected.

A morning paper says, it is wished by the physicians that his majesty should undergo the operation of couching, because the appearance of a crack on the film that obscures the visions, justifies the idea that the precise moment for the experiment is arrived.

The attack upon Carrarera is confirmed; but though he lost his artillery, he did not lose many men, and the troops that were dispersed were, as has always been the case in Spain, rejoining their columns very fast when the despatches came away.

Our army continues in the best state of health and spirits.

We are happy to announce, that the 1st of Sir J. Yorke's Squadron, the Dancemaster, arrived at Lisbon on the 20th ult. and the remainder of the Squadron were seen off the Rock of Lisbon by the Sea-Flower on the 4th inst.

A vessel arrived at Portsmouth yesterday from Malta and Gibraltar, in only eight days from the latter place. An officer came home in her with despatches, supposed to be of great importance, from Constantinople. Accounts were also received of gen. Graham having landed on the 21st ult. at Algiras. The object of this expedition is to oblige the enemy to raise the siege of Cadiz. While gen. Graham is attacking them on one side, the garrison of Cadiz is to attack them on the other side; and if the attack be simultaneous, and the Spanish garrison behave with vigour it is thought the expedition will be attended with complete success.

In the close of the debate in the commons last night upon the motion of the Exchequer's motion for the relief of America, by a loan of six millions, some statements made relative to America, which several of the morning papers have omitted altogether, or touched upon but slightly.

"The Chancellor of the Exchequer, in reply to Mr. Whitebread, said he would beg of that gentleman to be cautious of adopting it as a certainty, that the repeal of the orders in council was all the Americans wanted.

"Mr. Whitebread said that the right hon. gentleman had made some imprudent insinuations with regard to America, which he hoped would not shut gentlemen's minds to the case when it was brought before them; he hoped that if America did make any other demands than those which were generally understood, the rt. hon. gentleman would have no objection to accede to his motion for papers.

"The Chancellor of the Exchequer said that he would agree to his motion if he bro't it forward at a time when, consistently with the advantages of the country, they could be granted. He had no objection to repeat again what he thought improper or uncandid; "that gentlemen should not run away with the impression that the repeal of the orders in council was all that was required by America. He did not go on to say that there was no hope of accommodating these differences, for he had every reason to hope the contrary.

The letters from the north of Germany, by the Anholt mails, state that the rumours of a change of system among the powers in that part of the continent were again revived. So convinced, it seems, were the merchants of Dantzic of a rupture between France and Russia, and that the Prussian territory would be the theatre of the first military operations, that many of them were removing with their effects into the Russian capital.

His majesty walked again yesterday on Windsor Terrace, both before and after dinner, accompanied by gen. Manners. The physicians were in attendance.

The convoys for Lisbon and the Mediterranean, about 430 sail, so long detained by contrary winds, failed on Saturday from Falmouth, under convoy of the Franchise, Rifleman, &c.

Mr. Percival's plan for the relief of the commercial world, by a loan of six millions in exchequer bills, was discussed last night in the house of commons. A motion for an address to his majesty for that purpose, was carried without a division.

MARCH 14.

Every arrival from the North of Europe speaks of the probability of an immediate rupture between Russia and France. If we may believe the private letters from Hamburg of the 21st, which arrived by the Heligoland Mails this morning, a large body of French troops are actually arrived on the Prussian frontiers. The troops at Hamburg, and the neighbouring towns have suddenly received orders to march into the interior of Germany; they are destined to follow those already on the Prussian frontier. Meanwhile the Emperor Alexander aware of the designs of Buonaparte, is accelerating his negotiations with the Porte; and though the report of an armistice having been actually signed appears to be premature, yet the two Powers have lately agreed to some commercial regulations, indicative of an amicable disposition. France no doubt is using every effort to persuade the Porte to continue the contest.—But a wise policy will shew both Russia & Turkey the necessity not only of accommodating their differences, but of entering into a strict alliance. The following are the letters we have received from Hamburg and Heligoland:—

HAMBURG, MARCH 14.

The French troops in this vicinity have received orders to march for the interior of Germany, and a considerable corps, say 20 or 30,000, are already said to have arrived on the frontiers of Prussia. The Duke of Oldenberg (brother-in-law to Alexander) received a courier from St. Petersburg, in consequence of which he has quitted his territory. From these circumstances, it is confidently believed, that a war between Russia and France is unavoidable, in which it is probable some other Northern Powers will take a part.

MARCH 16.

We learn that Sir James Saumarez only waits the return of the Victory from Lisbon to proceed immediately to the Baltic with a powerful fleet under his orders. However, are likely to prevent his weeks to come. It is now said that Gottorp will sail with him.

PARIS, MARCH 16.

M. Labouchere, a merchant of Amsterdam, has obtained a passport to go to London on the business of his trade.—A report was circulated in consequence that proposals of peace were about to be made to England. We are authorized to contradict these rumours. There have been no communications between the two Governments, nor can there be any long as the present English administration exists, whose principles, those of perpetual war, are known to all Europe. The journey of M. Labouchere relates entirely to personal concerns; it can have no effect whatever upon our commercial affairs.

[Moniteur March 16.]

By another arrival at N. York, April 16.

LATEST FROM LONDON.

The ship Illinois, capt. Taylor, from Liverpool, arrived last evening in the quick passage of 23 days from Cork. By her the editors of the N. York Gazette have received Cork papers to the 21st ult. which contain London dates to the 17th, four days later than our previous advices. The most important news is, that there appears to be a prospect of a war between Russia and France.

We should not be surprised to hear, by the next short passage, (judging from what we have before us) that the French army has been ordered from Spain and Portugal, to climate more congenial to the health of the soldiery.

We find nothing of the sailing of the U. S. frigate Essex, or the frigate in which Mr. Foster was about embarking—nor any thing relative to the orders in council, which, no doubt will remain as at present, till some time after the arrival of Mr. Foster in this country, unless, (which is not probable) the French should do away their decrees.

Letters from Constantinople of the 10th January, state that the Pacha of Achikka had gained a victory over the Russians, who had lost four thousand dead on the field of battle.

A London paper of March 16, contains an article from Bourdeaux of March 6, containing advices of a number of letters among the Scotch and English houses in N. York and, after giving a number of names, adds that no French or American houses had received the least shock!

LONDON, MARCH 15.

It is said that there is little or no doubt of a war between Russia and France. To this is to be attributed Buonaparte's senate's resolution for calling out a fresh conscription of 120,000 men. Troops have for some time been filing off from the departments contiguous to the Rhine into Germany. The troops that were on the Elbe, and seemed to meditate an attack upon Holstein, have suddenly marched to the Prussian frontier, where a large force is already assembled. Caulaincourt is recalled, but not wishing to announce his intentions immediately, Buonaparte has appointed Lauriston to succeed him. Immediately after the appointment he sends Lauriston on another mission into Italy. Oldenberg whose sovereign (duke) is the brother-in-law of the emperor Alexander, has been seized by France, and is to follow the fate of Hamburg, Lubec, &c. a circumstance which cannot fail, and which no doubt is meant, to widen the breach between the two empires. The demand of the restoration of Finland to Sweden is done with the same view. It is said to be a war of Buonaparte's own feelings. This may surprise some who think he has work enough on his hands already in Spain and Portugal, and who imagined that Russia had conceived this to be a favourable opportunity for shaking off his baleful influence. But it will be recollected that he was equally at war with Spain, when he fought the battle of quarrel with Austria. He was aided by this very Russia whom he now mediates an attack upon! he will be satisfied by the emperor of Austria, Russia helped him to beat down!

cause of dispute is the kingdom of Poland. Buonaparte insists upon establishing that kingdom at the expense of the Polish territories of Russia. He accompanies that demand with the affronting seizure of the emperor Alexander's brother-in-law, and with requiring the restoration of Finland, which he had guaranteed to Russia. Drained by the war with Turkey, impoverished by the war with England, this, in the opinion of Buonaparte, may be the favourable moment for attacking Russia. As far as relates to us, the war will open the Baltic to us, and we shall of course send a powerful fleet to take advantage of any events that may occur. That there is any hope of connecting Sweden with Russia we do not believe. Spain and Portugal will be afforded another opportunity, another breathing time, of which, we trust, they will make use to organize, discipline and increase their armies. The war with Russia, should that event take place, will be turned to better account by the Patriots, we hope, than the war with Austria was.

MARCH 16.

Letters from Liverpool received this evening state, that a meeting has been called by the Mayor for this day, to consider of the propriety of applying to Government for an extension of the portion of the intended relief of Exchequer Bills, for the relief of the commercial interests of Liverpool.—The late letters add, "that holders of American produce, (under the idea that, as soon as the determination of our ministry is known to America, not to abandon the right of search and neither alter the present system of blockade, nor withdraw the Orders in Council until the French Decrees are virtually repealed, the intercourse will be suspended, and still stronger measures are not resorted to) are not anxious to push sales at the present rates expecting a considerable advance of price, should either of these events take place. Almost all descriptions of American produce already experienced a small advance of price."

Yesterday morning a communication was made by the Board of Trade to the Governor of the Russian Company, to the following effect:— "License will be granted to import goods from the Baltic on the subsequent conditions:— "The captain, the ship's name, and her burden must be inserted in the Licenses, as well as the landing port in the Baltic. The port be east of the Oder the ships are to sail with convoy from the same rendezvous as last year."

A letter from Memel, dated Feb. 27, in regard to trade, the Russian Government has rather become lenient and the feelings with Swedish and American papers have been declared free. Hemp has got up in expectation of orders from England. Should your government, however, refuse granting licenses for the importation of Russian articles, the consequence will prove very fatal to Russia, and might produce a change in the politics of that country in favour of England. The price of hemp in Riga is 21 silver roubles per 8 lb.—The Alberts are have been called in, and have been issued all over Russia.

Accounts from Vienna, state negotiations between France and Dalmatia, which it is said that a decree will soon be issued in which the Emperor Francis will take the title of King of Dalmatia, and the sovereignty of the kingdom will be conveyed to the Archduke

LIVERPOOL, MARCH 15. TOBACCO.

The stock of Tobacco on the 15th inst. at present is 14,791. Holders are more expecting in the uncertainty of American business is done in the article

Grain and Flour.—The demand from Spain and Portugal taken off parcels in bond has lessened the stock of Grain exports from thence, our market is steady, though dull. At present articles are of most value entered for export.

MARYLAND GAZETTE. ANNAPOLIS, WEDNESDAY,

BOSTON, MARCH 15.

A letter from an American officer, says, "the emperor of Spain, Spain or the north, to be a success. He says it must pass that he may be assured there is no officers he can trust to go to Naples will be seized."

LATEST FROM PORTUGAL. Capt. Foster, who arrived here from Lisbon, failed on the 15th inst. informs that on the 5th ult. he retreated from Santarem, (where he had been since Nov. 1807) near the river Mondego on the 10th ult. that lord Wellington, who is attacking the French, was at Santarem. On the 13th an official report from Lisbon that a Spanish and French army entered Seville, Spain.

The attack on Seville made by a part of the expedition was said to be destined against which is on the same river as the battle of Witsen ten days of capture of 10,000 additional British soldiers, and immediately joined by numbers of French prisoners to Lisbon daily.

A letter from Lisbon, says that 1,500 French prisoners were taken at Massena's retreat. The retreat of Massena created Lisbon of the speedy annihilation, and the confirmation of independence of Portugal. We were last night favoured with a letter from Lisbon, which contains a report on the retreat of the French from the different parts of the Peninsula, which had been frustrated.

The paper states, that it has been daily in the French camp, by deaths daily; that they are destitute of provisions, and are obliged to eat the cavalry that are left in Portugal, they have no service; that the loss of artillery and equipment had been estimated at Lisbon, 15 dollars; rice six dollars and wheat Southern corn 2 dollars and do. higher; beef 12 dollars.

VALLADOLID, FEB. 27. The Patriots in Old Castile, viz. Belleres & Kellermans here are also sickly, from the want of food in the hospital.

NORFOLK, MARCH 15. Last evening arrived the frigate, captain Robert Boscawen, which he left the frigate this arrival were received. We have long expected the arrival of the frigate, the pride of France, has been on his back upon an enemy's vessel, he would drive us away. We have only received the 15th, from which, we know only a short transit.

We understand that Mr. Boscawen's retreat from Santarem, he was pursued by the French army, who were exceeding in number, and Miranda de Orosa, and Miranda de Orosa, who were with him at Santarem. ### MARYLAND GAZETTE.

ANNAPOLIS, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 12.

BOSTON, APRIL 12.
A letter from an American at Paris January 26, says, "the emperor will not suffer
Spain or the north, to have any commerce. He says it must pass through France,
but he may be assured there is no fraud."
"Has he no officers he can trust?" "Those who go to Naples will be seized."
LATEST FROM PORTUGAL.
Capt. Foster, who arrived here last evening
from Lisbon, failed on the 15th of March,
and informs that on the 5th the French army
retreated from Santarem (where their headquarters have been since Nov.) and passed
the river Mondego on the 11th. He reported that Lord Wellington, following and reaching the French, was at Coimbra on the 13th. On the 13th an official account reached Lisbon that a Spanish and English force
had entered Seville, Spain.

The attack on Seville must have been made by a part of the expedition from Cadiz,
as was said to be destined against St. Lucar,
which is on the same river as the first city.
Within ten days of Capt. F's sailing, about 10,000 additional British troops arrived
Lisbon, and immediately joined the army.
Members of French prisoners were brought to Lisbon daily.
A letter from Lisbon, says, that
about 1,500 French prisoners just arrived at the retreat.
The retreat of Massena created Lisbon of the speedy annihilation of his army, and the confirmation of the liberty &
independence of Portugal.
We were last night favoured with a Lisbon
letter of March 14, inclosed to a gentleman
in this town; it contains a column of remarks on the retreat of the French, in which enumerated the different projects of Mas-
sena which had been frustrated by Lord Wellington.

The paper states, that it had been extremely sickly in the French camp, there being several deaths daily; that they had been nearly destitute of provisions, and had no little difficulty for the cavalry that of 14,000 horses
brought into Portugal, they had scarcely 5000
for service; that the loss to them of men
and equipage had been great.
Along at Lisbon, 15 dollars (no sale) and
rice six dollars and very fluctuating;
Southern corn 2 dollars; Connecticut
do. higher; beef 12 dollars.

VALLADOLID, FEB. 11.
The Patriots in Old Castile find business for themselves Bellieres & Kellerman. The French troops here are also sickly, from 12 to 15 die
daily in the hospital.

NORFOLK, APRIL 17.
Last evening arrived the fast sailing brig
Sloop, captain Roberts from Lisbon,
which place he left the sixteenth of March.
On this arrival were received the intelligence
which we have long expected. The invincible Massena, the spoiled child of fortune,
pride of France, has been compelled to turn his back upon an enemy that he so of-tensively vaunted, he would drive into the sea.
We have only received one Lisbon paper
of the 15th, from which, we are enabled to obtain only a short translation, which will now.

We understand that Massena commenced
his retreat from Santarem about the fourth of March, he was pursued by Lord Wellington, whose cavalry exceedingly harassed the rear of the French army, which halted between Pombal and Miranda de Corvo, about 30 miles from Santarem. On the 16th an account arrived at Lisbon of which the following is a translation, which we have been favoured
with by Captain Roberts. "The French have quitted their positions between Pombal
and Miranda de Corvo, and are in re-

"treat towards the frontiers. Lord Wellington drew up in line of battle on the French
"right wing; the French general fearing it
"would be turned, was compelled to make a "retreat."

Capt. Roberts has also favoured us with the transcript of another article of information received on the day of his departure,
which says, "Gen. Graham landed from Cadiz, with a body of British, Portuguese and Spanish troops, and has gained a victory near Chiclana, in which the French general Russin was killed. The battle is represented as being very obstinately contested, and in which
the allies lost between 1,000 and 1200 men,
in killed." The Portuguese are represented in high spirits, and feel the utmost confidence
in the allied armies, and calculate that the French will be driven out of Portugal before
the middle of April—Provisions from the very large number of arrivals had rather declined, but it was supposed the fall would be only temporary.

Translated from the Lisbon Gazette of the 15th of March.

It is reported that the French army has halted between Pombal and Miranda de Corvo
and its neighbourhood. Col. Trant occupied Coimbra and the right side of the Mondego.
Another body of militia was posted beyond Alva. We momentarily expect information of the utmost importance.

An expedition which had failed from Cadiz, had landed at Tarifa. Algeiras and Conill, had been reinforced by a body of British troops from Sicily. Letters from Algarbe advise, that the troops composing this expedition, had advanced and taken possession of Medina Sidonia, and were marching to Chi-clana to attack Victor's army. Others affirm that this allied army was marching towards Seville; we are in great anxiety to hear which of these places has been first attacked.

Gen. Ballasteros has taken Nieble, & was in the vicinity of Seville. Mortier, had detached general Gazaras, to watch the movements of Ballasteros, and to oppose his progress.

PHILADELPHIA, APRIL 16,

Yesterday morning the body of a man was found in South-street, near Fourth-street buried in the most shocking manner. It was at first thought that he was alive but a closer examination showed that the breath
had forever ceased to animate the body. It is supposed that his death was occasioned by
a blow from a brickbat which fractured his skull, part of which was taken from the wound! His name was Robert McCall, brother to Mr. Andrew McCall a respectable to-baccoist in Wilmington, Delaware.

The verdict of the inquest was wilful
murder by some person or persons unknown.

IMPORTANT.

Extract of a letter from a respectable gentleman at Fort Stoddard, to his friend in Baltimore, dated March 13, 1811.

"I wrote to you a short time since giving
you an account of our movement to this place; and inform you at this time, that there has been a report in circulation here
for several days, stating that a British fleet
had left the Havanna, destined for Pensacola
which report is confirmed by a gentleman
who arrived here this morning direct from Pensacola which place he left on the 6th
inst. and on whose veracity I am informed I can rely; stating that two brigades had arrived at Pensacola laden with arms and ammunition, which were landing; that the fleet
was lying at the Barracas, which is about 9
miles below; but does not know the number,
that there had been great rejoicings at Pensacola in consequence of the arrival of the fleet, and that preparations were making to give up the place to the British. There is another report that the Spaniards will not give up Mobile. It is a report of considerable importance, and if our government intends to take possession of it, now is the time as they have but few troops there."

We are authorized to state, that Mr. Pinkney would not sail from England before the first week in April. Mr. Foster was to sail for the United States about the same time—
so that their arrival may not be expected
before the first of May. [N. Y. Gaz.]

MR. WOOD.

We learn with very great regret that this gentleman, who has hitherto contributed so much to the public gratification is compelled
on account of ill health, to withdraw from
the stage, or at least, in future to perform
only such parts as require little or no exertion.
[U. S. Gaz.]
