PEACE OF MIND—By Cowper.

When all within is peace,
How nature seems to smile!

From morn to dewy eve,
With open hand she showers

It is content of heart
Gives nature-power to please

Can make a wistful sky
Seem bright as smiling May

The vast majestic globe,
So beautifully array'd

Is to a mourner's heart,
A dreary wild at best;

IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS.

Copy of a letter from Vice-Admiral Cochrane to Mr. Monroe.

B. M. Ship, the Tonant, in the Patuxent River, August 18, 1814.

Sir—Having been called upon by the Governor general of the Canadas to aid him in carrying into effect measures of retaliation against the inhabitants of the U. States, for the wanton destruction committed by their army in Upper Canada, it has become imperious my duty, conformably with the nature of the Governor general's application, to issue to the naval force under my command, an order to destroy and lay waste such towns and districts upon the coast as may be found assailable.

I had hoped that this contest would have terminated, without my being obliged to resort to severities which are contrary to the usage of civilized warfare, and as it has been with extreme reluctance and concern that I have found myself compelled to adopt this system of devastation, I shall be equally gratified, if the conduct of the executive of the U. S. will authorize my laying such proceedings, by making reparation to the suffering inhabitants of Upper Canada; thereby manifesting that if the destructive measures pursued by their army were ever sanctioned, they will no longer be permitted by the government.

I have the honour to be, Sir, With much consideration,

Your most obedient humble serv't.

(Signed) ALEX. COCHRANE,

Vice-Admiral and Commander in Chief of H. B. M's ships and vessels upon the North-American station.

The Hon. James Monroe, Secretary of State, &c. Washington.

Copy of a letter from Mr. Monroe to Sir Alexander Cochrane, Vice-Admiral, &c. &c.

Department of State, Sept. 6, 1814.

Sir—I have had the honour to receive your letter of the 18th of August, stating, that having been called on by the Governor general of the Canadas, to aid him in carrying into effect measures of retaliation against the inhabitants of the U. S. for the wanton destruction committed by their army in Upper Canada, it has become your duty, conformably with the nature of the Governor general's application, to issue to the naval force under your command, an order to destroy and lay waste such towns and districts upon the coast as may be found assailable.

It is seen with the greatest surprise, that this system of devastation which has been practised by the British forces, so manifestly contrary to the usage of civilized warfare, is placed by you on the ground of retaliation. No sooner were the U. S. compelled to resort to war against G. Britain, than they resolved to wage it in a manner most consonant to the principles of humanity, and to those friendly relations which it was desirable to preserve between the two nations, after the restoration of peace. They perceived, however, with the deepest regret, that a spirit alike just & humane, was neither cherished nor acted on by your government. Such an assertion would not be hazardous, if it was not supported by facts, the proof of which has perhaps already carried the same conviction to other nations that it has to the people of these states. Without dwelling on the deplorable cruelties committed by the savages in the British ranks and in British pay, on American prisoners at the river Raisin, which, to this day, have never been disavowed or atoned, I refer, as more immediately connected with the subject of your letter, to the wanton desolation that was committed at Havre-de-Grace, & at George-town, early in the spring of 1813. These villages were burnt and ravaged by the naval forces of G. B. to the ruin of their unarmed inhabitants, who saw with astonishment that they derived no protection to their property from the laws of war. During the same season, scenes of invasion and pillage, carried on under the same authority, were witnessed all along the waters of the Chesapeake, to an extent inflicting the most serious private distress, and under circumstances that justified the suspicion, that revenge and cupidity, rather than the manly motives that should dictate the hostility of a high-minded foe, led to their perpetration. The late destruction of the houses of the government in this city is another act which comes necessarily into view. In the wars of modern Europe, no examples of the kind, even among nations the most hostile to each other, can be traced. In the course of ten years past, the capitals of the principal powers of Europe have been conquered, and occupied alternately, by the victorious armies of each other, and no instance of such wanton and unjustifiable destruction has been seen.

We must go back to distant and barbarous ages to find a parallel for the acts of which I complain.

Although these acts of desolation invited, if they did not impose on the government the necessity of retaliation, yet in no instance has it been authorised. The burning of the village of Newark in Upper Canada, posterior to the early outrages above enumerated, was not executed on that principle. The village of Newark adjoined Fort George and its destruction was justified by the officer who ordered it, on the ground that it became necessary in the military operations there. The act, however, was disavowed by the government. The burning which took place at Long Point was unauthorised by the government, & the conduct of the officer subjected to the investigation of a military tribunal. For the burning at St. David's committed by stragglers, the officer who commanded in that quarter was dismissed without a trial, for not preventing it.

I am commanded by the president distinctly to state, that it as little comports with any orders which have been issued to the military and naval commanders of the U. S. as it does with the established and known humanity of the American nation, to pursue a system which it appears you have adopted. This government owes it to itself, to the principles which it has ever held sacred, to disavow, as justly chargeable to it, any such wanton, cruel, and unjustifiable warfare.

Whatever unauthorised irregularity may have been committed by any of its troops, it would have been ready, acting on these principles of sacred and eternal obligation, to disavow, and, as far as might be practicable, to repair. But in the plan of desolating warfare, which your letter so explicitly makes known, and which is attempted to be excused on a plea so utterly groundless, the president perceives a spirit of deep-rooted hostility, which, without the evidence of such facts, he could not have believed existed, or would have been carried to such an extremity.

For the reparation of injuries, of whatever nature they may be, not sanctioned by the law of nations, which the military or naval force of either power may have committed against the other, this government will always be ready to enter into reciprocal arrangements. It is presumed that your government will neither expect nor propose any that are not reciprocal.

Should your government adhere to a system of desolation, so contrary to the views and practice of the U. S. so revolting to humanity, and repugnant to the sentiment and usages of the civilized world, whilst it will be seen with the deepest regret, it must and will be met with a determination and constancy becoming a free people, contending in a just cause for their essential rights, and their dearest interests.

I have the honour to be, with great consideration, Sir, your most obedient humble servant.

(Signed) JAS. MONROE,

Vice-Admiral Sir Alex. Cochrane, Commander in Chief of His Majesty's ships and vessels, &c.

Very late and highly important NEWS FROM ENGLAND

We have conversed with several gentlemen from Halifax who left the 23d inst. from whom we learn the following: The July packet arrived at H the 21st from Falmouth, bringing dates to the 20th of July—contain very little respecting our and nothing favourable to peace, papers state that all the American missionaries except Mr. Gallatin have arrived at Ghent. Mr. G. was expected daily. The British commissioner not left England, and the packet a report that new ones had been ap ed.

The papers state that the arr France was very uneasy, and it tho't a war was not far distant bet that country and Austria. A great litary spirit still prevailed among French, who were collecting their ces, and it was thought Louis would forced into a war with Austria. French soldiers speak with enthus of their former successes, and con Austria the cause of their degra on. The allied sovereigns had left gland.

A London paper of July 15, contains a count of the capture of H. B. M. S. W. der capt. Manners, rating 18 guns,* an engagement of 25 minutes, by the sloop of-war Wasp, capt. Blakely, off Lands End, in lat 48, long 14, where Wasp had been cruising 14 days. The E deer was to windward, and ran down alongside, yard arm and yard arm, and menced the action; twice her crew headed capt. Manners attempted to board the W but was repulsed; in one of them capt was killed. Killed on board the Reind capt. Manners and 27 of his men; 60 w ed. The loss on board the Wasp was known. The Reindeer was in so shattered state, that she was downed the next day order of capt. Blakely. The wounded of Reindeer were put on board a neutral ve and sent into England, by whom this acc was received.

A letter received in town, dated Lond July 15th, states, that our commissioners w at Ghent, but that the British commissio had not left England, and expressed a do whether they would immediately, or not.

A master of a vessel now in this tow who was taken by the Reindeer, about 1 months since, informs, that she was a fine sloop of war as any in the British navy, of the first class, and mounted 21 guns, w 18 32 pounders, carronades, 2 long 9's and 11 pounder; and a large complement of m (as near as he could recollect about 200) w were all very much attached to their comma er. He also states, that capt. Manners was very brave and gentlemanly man, and frequently declared he would never be taken lye by any vessel near an equal force.

BOSTON, AUG. 31. In addition to the letter from which I have given an extract in our paper of yesterday, I have seen several of the same and earlier dates, which this evening I have not had time to notice in season for the Advertiser. Let ters late in June, say that Gallatin had set out for Ghent in good spirits, apparently e hibiting peace, and that the British commiss oners, Lord Gambier, Dr Adam, and M Colburn (under secretary) would follow t the time ours from the four corners of the world were assembled. Other letters from the same gentleman of a later date, viz July 1 say the British commissioners are not gone they know not when they will set out, and o adds, that the British government are occupie with more important business. Copy of a letter from Brig. General
Stricker to Maj. Gen. Smith, dated

Head Quarters, 3d Brigade,
Baltimore, Sept. 15, 1814.

Major Gen. S. Smith,

Sir—I have the honour to report to you, that in obedience to your orders, I marched from Baltimore on Sunday the 11th inst. with part of my brigade, as the advanced corps of the army under your command. My force consisted of 550 of the 5th regt. under Lt. Col. Sterrett, 620 of the 6th under Lt. Col. McDonald; 500 of the 27th under Lt. Col. Long; 450 of the 39th under Lt. Col. Fowler; 700 of the 51st under Lt. Col. Amey; 150 riflemen under Capt. Dyer; 140 cavalry under Lt. Col. Biays; and the Union Artillery of 75 men, with 6 4 pounders, under Capt. Montgomery, making an aggregate of 3185 effective men. I moved towards North Point by the main road, and at 8 o'clock p. m. reached the meeting-house near the head of Bear Creek, 7 miles from the city. Here the brigade halted, with the exception of the cavalry who were pushed forward to Gorsuch's farm, 3 miles in advance, & the riflemen who took post near the blacksmith's shop, two miles in advance of our encampment. At 7 o'clock on the morning of the 12th, I received information from the advanced videttes that the enemy were debarking troops from and under cover of their gun vessels which lay off the bluff of North Point within the mouth of the Patuxent river. I immediately ordered back my baggage under a strong guard, moved forward the 5th and 27th regts. and my artillery, to the head of Long-Log-Lane, (so called) resting the 5th with its right on the head of a branch of Bear creek, and its left on the main North Point road, while the 27th was posted on the other side of the road in line with the 5th, its left extended towards a branch of Back river. The artillery I posted directly at the head of the lane in the interval between the 5th and 27th. The 39th occupied a ground 300 yards in the rear of the 27th, and the 51st the same distance in the rear of the 5th, extending each parallel to the front line. The 6th regt. was thrown back to a position a short distance this side of Cook's tavern, and a half a mile in the rear of the 2d line. My orders were, that the 5th and 27th should receive the enemy, and if necessary fall back thro' the 51st and 39th, and form on the right of the 6th or reserve regt. The riflemen were ordered to the skirts of a thick low pine wood beyond the blacksmith shop, with a large sedgewood in front, that as the cavalry were still in advance who would inform of the enemy's approach, they might take advantage of the covering of the wood and annoy his advance. I soon learnt that the enemy's advance party was moving rapidly up the main road, and the cavalry continually announced their progress, I flattered myself with the hope that the riflemen would soon proclaim by a galling fire their still nearer approach. Imagine my chagrin when I perceived the whole rifle corps falling back upon my main position, having too credulously listened to the groundless information that the enemy were landing on Back river to cut them off. My hopes of early annoyance to the enemy being thus frustrated, I threw the riflemen on the right flank of my front line, thereby with the addition of a few cavalry very well secured that flank. My videttes soon brought information that the enemy in large force was enjoying himself at Gorsuch's farm, insulted at the idea of a small marauding party thus daringly provoking chastisement, several of my officers volunteered their corps to dislodge it. Capt. Levering's and Howard's companies from the 5th, about 150 in number, under Major Heath of that regt. capt. Aisquith's and a few other riflemen in all about 70; one 4 pounder and ten men under Lt. Stiles, and the cavalry, were immediately pushed forward to punish the insolence of the enemy's advance, or, if his main body appeared, to give evidence of my wish for a general engagement. The latter purpose was soon answered; this small volunteer corps had proceeded scarcely half a mile before the main body of the enemy shewed itself, which was immediately attacked. The infantry and riflemen maintained a fire of some minutes, and retired with some loss in killed and wounded; the cavalry and artillery owing to the disadvantageous grounds not being able to support them. In this skirmish Maj. Heath's horse was killed under him. At half past 2 o'clock the enemy commenced throwing rockets across my left flank, which seemed harmless, and had no other effect than to prepare my line for the sound of artillery, which was soon commenced by us on the enemy's right column then pushing across towards my left, and returned by their 6 pounders and a howitzer upon my left and centre. The cannonade was brisk for some minutes, when I ordered my fire to cease until the enemy should get within close range of canister; seeing that my left flank was the main object of the enemy, I bro't up the 39th into a line on the left of the 27th, and detached two pieces of artillery to the left of the 39th; still more securely to protect my flank, Col. Amey of the 51st was ordered to form his regiment at right angles with my line, resting his right near the left of the 39th. This order he badly executed created for a moment some confusion in that quarter, but was soon rectified by the efforts of my aid-de-camp and brigade majors, who corrected the error of Col. Amey, and posted the 51st in its ordered position. The enemy's right column displayed and advanced upon the 39th and 27th. The 51st, unmindful of my object to use its fire in protection of my left flank in case an attempt should be made to turn it, totally forgetful of the honour of the brigade, and regardless of its own reputation, delivered one random fire and retreated precipitately, and in such confusion, as to render every effort of mine to rally them ineffective. Some disorder was occasioned in the second battalion of the 39th by the flight of the 51st, and a few gave way. The fire now became general from left to right; my artillery in the centre poured forth an incessant volley of canister upon the enemy's left column, who were endeavouring to gain the cover of a small log-house, about 50 yds. in front of the 5th—which, however, precaution had been taken to fire, so soon as Capt. Sadler's Yagers from the 5th, who were originally posted therein, should be compelled to leave it. The enemy's line advanced about 10 minutes before 3 o'clock, with a severe fire, which was well returned by the artillery, the whole 27th the 5th except the three companies of Captains Levering, Howard and Sadlers, which were much exhausted by the advanced skirmish of the two former—and the ordered retreat of the latter to resume their positions in line; and from the first battalion of the 39th, who maintained its ground in despite of the disgraceful example set by the intended support on the left. The fire was incessant till about 15 minutes before 4 o'clock, when finding that my line now 1400 strong was insufficient to withstand the superior numbers of the enemy, and my left flank being exposed by the desertion of the 51st, I was constrained to order a movement back to the reserve regiment under Col. McDonald, which was well posted to receive the retired line, which mostly rallied well. On forming with the 6th, the fatigued state of the regiments and corps which had retired, and the probability that my right flank might be turned by a quick movement of the enemy in that direction, induced me, after proper deliberation, to fall back to Worthington's mill; which I was the more persuaded to, by my desire to have the 6th regt. whose officers and men were eager to share the dangers of their brother soldiers perfect & and in good order to receive the enemy on his nearer approach to the city. All retired as I could wish, and were ready to act as circumstances might require. In this situation you found the Brigade on the morning of the 13th, somewhat fatigued, but with increased confidence in ourselves, and renewing our preparation for the annoyance of the enemy alone, if deemed proper, or in conjunction with any other force.

I have thought it due to the merits of my brigade, to detail thus fully their whole movement, and I feel a pride in the belief that the stand made on Monday, in no small degree tended to check the temerity of a foe, daring to invade a country like ours, and designing the destruction of our city, in whose defence some of the best blood of the country has already been spilt, and for whose safety and protection the citizen soldiers of the 3d brigade are ready to suffer every privation, and meet every danger. Should report be true (and I doubt not the fact) that the enemy's commanding officer, Major Gen. Ross, was killed in this action, and that the enemy suffered in proportion to his superior numbers, I shall feel still more the valuable consequences of our fight.

The conduct of many company officers and privates was such as I calculated on—that of most of my field officers also merits my particular notice, Major R. K. Heath of the 5th, who led on the advanced party to bring on the action, behaved as became an officer; the facts of his first horse being killed

Whereas the Legislature of the State of Maryland passed a resolution at their May Session, one thousand eight hundred and thirteen, in the words follow-under him in the first skirmish, his second being badly wounded, and himself receiving a contusion in the head by a musket ball, in the general action, are ample proofs of his bravery and exposure in discharge of his duty. Lt. col. Sterett, and major Barry of the 5th, gained my highest approbation, and they unite with all in praise of captain Spangler and his company of volunteers from York, Pa. then attached to their command; also of adjutant Cheston, who is slightly wounded; Lt. col. Long of the 27th, and his field and company officers, did well; this whole regiment were unsurpassed in bravery, resolution and enthusiasm. My brigade has to bewail the loss of adj. James L. Donaldson, who fell in the hottest of the fight bravely discharging the duties of his commission. Lt. col. Fowler, and maj. Steiger of the 39th, did their duty in every respect, they speak highly of the volunteer companies of capt. Quantril from Hager's-town, & capt. Metzgar from Hanover, Pa. Capt. Quantril is wounded. Captain John Montgomery, commanding my artillery, gained for himself & his company lasting honour. Capt. Aisquith and his company of riflemen, merit my thanks. Ensign Wilmot, commanding the company of United Volunteers of the 5th, and many of his men, distinguished themselves. To brigade majors Calhoun and Frailey, I am under great obligations for the prompt and zealous performance of their duty. To my aid-de-camp, maj. Geo. P. Stevenson, too much praise cannot be given, his industry in every arrangement before the fight, and in animating the whole line was conspicuous; his zeal and courage are of the most ardent kind, the sprightliness of his manners in the most trying scenes had the happiest effect upon all to whom he had to communicate my orders; and the precision with which he delivered my commands, could be exceeded only by the coolness with which he always saw them executed—He was animated, brave and useful. Major Wm. B. Barney, and adjt. Lemuel Taylor, of the cavalry, who having no opportunity of distinction in their regiment owing to the grounds, did me great service, the former in aiding capt. Montgomery, the latter in conveying my orders through the whole. Mr. Robert Goodloe Harper deserves my thanks. He visited me just before the action; accompanied the advanced party, and aided me much throughout. The brave soldiers under my command have suffered many privations, and I recognize among our killed and wounded many valuable men; of which I will make a report in a few days. By His Excellency LEITCH WILDER, Esquire, Governor of Maryland, A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas by an inquisition held on the body of a certain negro man, a slave, the property of a certain John Cover, on the fifth of July last, it was found that the said negro came to do that justice to Lt. Col. Biays and his regiment of cavalry, which their constant zeal and willingness for service so fully merited. Lt. Col. Biays joined the advance party with major Heath, and on that, as well as on every other occasion, evinced, by the alacrity with which he executed my orders, that greater opportunities were only wanted to obtain more extensive services from his fine regiment of cavalry. I have the honour to be, your obedient servant, JOHN STRICKER, Brig. Gen. 3d Brigade, M. M. BOSTON, SEPT. 20.

THE EVENTS AT PLATTSBURGH.

Extracts from a letter to a gentleman in this town, dated Burlington, sept. 15. "Com. M-Donough is a religious man as well as a hero, and prayed with his brave men on the morning of the victory. He was asked how he escaped amid such carnage; and replied, pointing to Heaven, there was a power above which determines the fate of man.

"He had repeatedly to work his own guns when his men at them were shot, and three times he was driven across the deck by splinters, &c.

"The steward's wife of the British ship was on board, and unfortunately killed in the battle.

"It is said, but is, I think, an exaggeration, that M-Donough took more prisoners than he had men.

"At one time, during the battle, M-Donough had all his guns on one side but two dismounted, when he wore his ship. The enemy endeavouring to do the same, failed, and gave him an opportunity to rake him.

"Our superior gunnery is again proved, as the enemy had two to one of ours killed and wounded, and they had locks to their guns, which we had not.

"The galleys did but little, and the enemy's galleys, which were but distant spectators, pulled off when they saw their fleet was beaten.

"A rooster was on the shrouds of the Saratoga, and repeatedly crowed, which animated the sailors, as they considered it a good omen.

"The Saranac has been a fine place for our militia, for on the banks was nearly all the execution done. The enemy repeatedly attempted to ford it, but were repulsed every time but the last, when a few officers and men got over, but afterwards straggled into the woods and surrendered to our men. Sir George retreated without calling them in. Four lieutenants are here (Baker's) on parole. They speak in terms of admiration of the kindness of Macomb, but are very severe in their remarks upon their Sir George. They say had Wellington, or even Brisbane, (whom they term a fire-eater) commanded, they would have had Plattsburgh forts. They say they have beaten the cleverest soldiers in the world and have now been taken by a rabble.

"Their captain (Purchase) they say was killed by the militia, while holding up his white jacket as a flag.

"The Vermont militia are returning, but the N. Y. militia are still flocking into Plattsburgh, as there are but regulars enough to man the fort. Many deserters came into Plattsburgh yesterday, and many more are in the woods. Brooks has greatly distinguished himself at Plattsburgh."

Anne-Arundel County, sc. On application to me the subscriber, chief judge of the third judicial district, in the recess of Anne-Arundel county court, by petition, in writing, of Philip Clayton, of said county, praying the benefit of the act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, passed at November session, eighteen hundred and five, and of the several supplements thereto, on the terms mentioned in the said acts, a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors, on oath, as far as he can ascertain them, as directed by the said act, being annexed to his petition; and being satisfied that the said Philip Clayton has resided the two preceding years prior to his said application within the state of Maryland, and the said Philip Clayton, having stated in his petition, that he is in actual custody, and praying to be discharged therefrom; I do therefore order and adjudge that the said Philip Clayton be discharged from his confinement; and by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in the Maryland Gazette or Maryland Republican once a week, for three successive months, before the first Monday of February next, give notice to his creditors to appear before the said county court, to be held at the city of Annapolis, on the first Monday of February next, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to shew cause, if any they have, why the said Philip Clayton should not have the benefit of the said act, and the supplements, as prayed, JEREMIAH T. From the Federal Gazette.

CAPT. JOHN C. HERBERT,

The soldier and the patriot, yet a peace-man, and ever opposed to the war, is now a candidate for congress to represent Anne-Arundel and P. George's counties. For proof, read the following letter:

"I have every reason to be entirely satisfied with the vigilant and constant service of Capt. Herbert's troop of horse; and that they were unceasingly employed in the most useful and dangerous service of observing the enemy, immediately on his lines, as long as it was possible for the horses and men to sustain the fatigue."

LETTER FROM GEN. BROWN.

Extract of a letter from gen. Brown to gen. Gaines, dated Head Quarters, Fort Erie, Sept. 18, 1814.

"MY DEAR GENERAL, The sortie that I have been contemplating ever since my return to this place, was ordered yesterday. It succeeded. We carried the enemy's battery—destroyed his battering cannon, and blew up a strong new work which he had erected with a view of demolishing Fort Erie. He resisted manfully, but was promptly overpowered. His loss say 400 prisoners. His total loss cannot be less than 800 men. I have to lament the loss of many gallant officers. Our loss is not numerous, and our strength is but little impaired by this splendid achievement. General Ripley is severely wounded. Cols. Gibson and Wood killed, Col. Aspinwall has lost his arm, and major Trimble is, I fear, mortally wounded."

Land for Sale.

The undersigned is extremely anxious to sell the following tracts of land in Calvert county, Maryland. One tract of woodland, containing two hundred acres, and abounding in timber suitable for building houses, and vessels of every description, within about a mile and an half of Battle Creek, which empties itself into the River Patuxent, about twenty miles from its mouth; from which land there is a good road secured by law to the Creek, which is navigable to the very landing; there are a large tobacco house, two log dwelling houses, and several out houses on this land. Also another tract of land, containing upwards of three hundred acres, and bordering on the head waters of Battle Creek, which is navigable for batteaus and scows to the landing, and which abounds in Cypress and Chesnut timber, the former suitable for plank and shingles, being impervious to worms, which destroys every other kind of timber, while they leave the Cypress untouched; the latter suitable for fence rails. There are a grist and saw mills, a framed dwelling house, three log tenants houses, a black-smith's shop, a tobacco house, and several out houses, on the last mentioned land. Should these lands not be sold by next October court, they will then be offered at Public Sale. Persons disposed to buy may obtain great bargains by speedy applications.

20 Dollars Reward.

Ran away on the 2d of May, a Negro Man called Ned, who, with several others, added that of Jones, and brought suit in Anne-Arundel county, by John Golder, for their right to freedom; which suit, at the last term of the court, was dismissed for the want of proof. He is a straight likely black fellow, 22 years of age, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, and has under one of his eyes, a scar about an inch long and broad. No descriptive information can be given as to his cloaths; he went off with a straw hat, a country round-about striped jacket and trowsers, and good shoes and stockings. It is probable he may endeavour to get to Baltimore, or to the City of Washington.—I will pay a dollar a mile on the distance he may be taken, if committed to gaol, so that I get him again; fifteen dollars if taken at Annapolis and committed; ten dollars if taken in the neighbourhood, or twenty if taken in Calvert county.

I am informed that an old yellow woman resides in Calvert who calls herself Hannah Jones, and who my Negroes, who claimed their freedom, call aunt—she is wife to a miller, who attends or did attend a mill, once the property of a Mr. Smith, and purchased by Capt. David Carcaud.

PEACE OF MIND—By Cowper. When all within is peace, How nature seems to smile! Delights that never cease, The live-long day beguile.

TRUE POLITENESS. Politeness, comprehensively vied, certainly respects the motions of the mind, and sentiments of the heart, as we the air and gestures of the true politeness condemns what in our looks, words, actions, and even apparel, would give offence with whom we converse.

OBSERVATION. The mental and moral says a writer, needs scouring brightening: ignorance is the security of the mind, indolence of the faculties, and vice of the soul. To purify wear off these, would be to en the worth, dignity and of human nature.

COMPARISON. Agriculture may, with propriety be styled the nearest neighbour philosophy. Its principles Varro, are the same which makes to be the principles of nature—earth, water, air, and fire. It certainly comprehends more of philosophy, than any one science, art or science in the world.

APPLICATION. Those who apply themselves much to little things, commonly become incapable of great ones. Things are impracticable in themselves, and it is for want of application, rather than of means, men fail of success.

THE PLANTING OF THE VINE. When Noah planted the vine and retired, Satan approached and said, "I will nurture you, jug plant!" He quickly brought three animals; a Sheep, a Hog, and a Lion, and killed the other, near the vine. The virtue of the blood of these animals penetrated it, and it still maintains its growth. When a man drinks a goblet of wine, he is then able, gentle, and friendly, the nature of the Lamb. When he drinks two, he is a Lion, and "Who is like me?" He then drinks more, his senses forsake him, and at length he wallows in mire. Need it be said, that he resembles a Hog!

Postponement of Sale. By virtue of a decree of the court of Maryland, the subscriber will expose to public sale, on Monday the 12th day of September next, on the premises,

A tract of land called Wood Lot, containing 38 acres, lying in Prince-George's county; A House and Lot in Bladensburg; and a Lot of Ground in the City of Washington; late the property of Henry Bradford, deceased. Terms of sale, cash, to be paid on the day of sale, or on the ratification thereof by the chancellor. On payment of the purchase money the subscriber is authorized to convey.

To be Sold. At public sale, on Tuesday the 16th September next, at James Hunter's Tavern, in Annapolis, for cash, Five Negro Men and one Woman. The men are valuable plantation hands, and two of them good ostlers and waiters; the woman brought up to household work, and nursing children.
