Portals.

THE MORTGAGED FARM.

We are both grown aged together. And Jennie has left the old home, to walk by the side of another. Oh! callings are fond moaning joy! While John, who was faithful and loving, Has left us without his strong arm, And when we need their protection, They tell us to mortgage the farm.

I thought John would be our protector— He always was kind when a boy, And Betsy, my wife, true and loving, Oh! callings are fond moaning joy! But he was led off by companions, In ways that bring evil and harm, And when we need their protection, They tell us to mortgage the farm.

Last night, while in sleep, Lay dreaming Of Jennie and John who were both true, I was awakened in vapors, And I thought, "I shall never see my view! I know, my wife, we're aged and feeble, And I know that this life has no charm; But I have the best of my childhood, And I know that this life has no charm."

Now we are both grown aged and feeble, And I know that this life has no charm; But I have the best of my childhood, And I know that this life has no charm.

While we are so feeble and helpless, And when we need their protection, They tell us to mortgage the farm.

And I thought John would be our protector— He always was kind when a boy, And Betsy, my wife, true and loving, Oh! callings are fond moaning joy! But he was led off by companions, In ways that bring evil and harm, And when we need their protection, They tell us to mortgage the farm.

"QUITE UNACCOUNTABLE."

BY HELEN FOREST GRAVES.

"Yes, I remember her very well," said Miss Nemourville. "A black-eyed romp, chasing the wild horses all over the farm, and pitching hay upon the snow, exactly as if she were a boy. Our third cousin, wasn't she—or fourth, or some such far-away kin? But what of her?"

"What of her?" started old Colonel Nemourville. "Why, just this. Her folks are dead. And one of the officious Meadow Hill clergymen has written to us, asking us to adopt her. Just as if we hadn't enough to trouble us, with three daughters on hand already, and no earthly chance, that I can see, of her getting married!" (This last unromantic phrase accompanied by a gloomy contraction of the speaker's shaggy brows.)

"Without assuming the charge of her creation into the bargain! I adopt her, indeed! Why, what claim has she on us, I'd like to know? The impudence of some people!"

"You can't possibly think of such a thing!" said Mrs. Nemourville, with a smile, with a good deal of powder sifted skillfully over her features, and a lace cap patterned after the latest French modes in the "Broadway windows." "Our income scarcely meets our expenses as things are at present. The only consolation at the assurance of those people out there—"

The Nemourville family had always kindly remembered their relationship to Mrs. Vassal when the vertical sunbeams of July and August made life a burden to them, and their purse-strings, strained by the constant attempts to keep up a style far above their means, refused to admit of a trip to Newport, Saratoga, or the White Mountains.

Mrs. Vassal had welcomed them with the sweet graciousness of that hospitality which comes from the heart. Lizzie, the eldest child, and the youngest, Editha, Vera and Editha Nemourville, an elderly lady, were the clearest springs bubbled out, the fields where the ripening blackberries grew, and the dells where feathered sprays of maiden-hair could be gathered by the double handful, and no pains were spared to make things pleasant for the city cousins during their somewhat prolonged visits.

But all this conveniently effaced itself from their memory now.

Adopt Lizzie Vassal? Make themselves responsible for her board, and clothes, and lodging? Good heavens! What were people thinking of?

So Colonel Nemourville wrote back a polite declination, fairly glittering with its icy conventionalities.

Lizzie Vassal, sitting in her deep-black robes, heard the good clergyman's wife read it twice over before she fairly comprehended its meaning.

"Don't they want me to go, then?" she asked, lifting her heavy, black-fringed lids that were weighted down with tears. "I'm afraid they don't, dear," said the clergyman's wife.

Lizzie drew a deep sigh.

"Then I must try to find some way of earning my own living," said she. "You have all been so good to me, but it must come to an end sooner or later. Dear Mrs. Hall, won't you go and see the lady who wanted a nursery governess to travel with her little children to Scotland? I always liked children, and they fortunately don't require many accomplishments. I dread crossing the ocean a little, but I must try to leave off being a coward."

So the Nemourvilles heard nothing further of Lizzie Vassal.

But the girl herself did not forget all this. She might have been a little kind to "the best" of her kind to her.

The Nemourvilles meanwhile bravely kept up, although against wind and tide, the struggle for a satisfactory matrimonial settlement for Editha, Vera and Editha.

They gave three-week lectures, purple dinners and pink lunches; they sent out cards for soirees; went to all the charity-balls, kindness and chance-parties to which they could obtain an entree. They smiled, and simpered, and danced, and promenaded with Spartan endurance; and still they remained the Misses Nemourville.

But when the wares of society were rippled by rumors of the advent of a live English baronet, Editha, Vera and Editha became to hope anew.

Miss Clibbett, one of their particular friends, had been introduced to Sir Vere Kennett at a Delmonico ball, and she had promised to ask the Nemourville girls to a charade party where the English baronet was to be present.

"Lady Kennett!" repeated each one of the three to herself, with an exultant leap of the heart. "Oh, I'd wonder if he has an old castle with a drawbridge and a moat, and forty thousand dollars a year? And if he should take a fancy to me and marry me—stranger things have happened, and every one knows that Englishmen are special admirers of American types of beauty—should I be presented to the Princess of Wales?"

—Miss Nemourville ordered a new dress of white brocade. Vera ordered a black velvet dress to make over her cherry silk with a bonnet of black tulle and lace and a train a full quarter of a yard long. Editha, who honored the jargon, rode, tipped her one white muslin to pieces and remade it with purple and plaques of Spanish blonde and occasional knots of the palest blue ribbon.

But they were doomed to the saddest day of their lives.

Honeymooning on the Cars.

A newly married couple was en route to Washington by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. There are many tunnels on this road on the side of the Ohio river. All through Ohio the face of the young man wore occasional looks of pain, despite his great joy. He seemed to want something. Apparently he yearned.

Over in West Virginia the train entered a tunnel. Upon emerging into the light, the young man's face was set; he was a stolid expression. He was "thinking." At first he seemed perplexed, then interested, then triumphant. He had had a revelation. Then he smiled with a firm, manly continuous smile, and his eyes peered ahead for the first sign of a yawning cavern in the mountain side.

The bride was happy and demure.

"Which—shadow—riddle—darkness! The veil is drawn. It is another tunnel. Light again, and the young man looks happier than ever. The bride's cheek disappears a gentle blush—a modest, experienced blush, discoverable only to the initiated and envious. No perplexity, no anxiety now. The revelation has been tested and found a success.

There are many tunnels, but not enough. If the whole line were a tunnel, the bride and groom would not care how slow the train proceeded.

The man who has not lived to bless the builder of tunnels, does not know what happiness is. He is but little above the brute who never troubled the Creator for passing clouds over the moon on prayer-meeting night.

But our bridegroom was not one of those parties. He appreciated all the blessings which man and nature had bestowed upon him. He did not miss a tunnel.

But all things have an end. Daylight always comes to the newly married. Strawberries and cream must be paid for at the cashier's desk. Within the blissful cucumber bed lies a microscope. Our young husband goes for a drink of water. While on his errand his eager eye catches the signs of another tunnel.

Of course he fears his bride will be so afraid if left alone in the darkness, and he hastens to her side. Quick moves his feet, but faster moves the train. Darkness gathers while he is yet half a dozen seats away. But the brave man does not falter. He gropes along, he reaches the seat, (or thinks he does), and slides into it. Deep are the shadows, and loud hums the train. A scream, long and vigorous—a sound of wailing—a thump or two—and the bright light of a May day breaks out upon the scene. The young husband frantically endeavors to disengage himself from the grasp of an angry colored woman sitting in the seat just behind his bride. He is half length success, and retires silently to his seat, wiping his mouth, and occasionally spitting upon the floor, as if he had bitten through a worm in a fig.

His bride comes and goes, but their shadows are scarcely deeper than those upon the face of the young honeymooner.

"I would die for you," she said, as she slung fondly around his neck. "Would you, darling?" he replied, clasping her lightly, and then he added, under breath: "I wish you would die for me." It would probably save damage in a breach-of-promise suit.

"Oh, George, how exceedingly still, clear and beautiful is the night!" she whispered, leaning her face against his temple against his cool collar; "how soothing, how restful." "Yes," he replied, toying with her chestnut aurore hair; "what a night again."

THE COLORED VOTER.

Three significant conventions of colored men were held last week. One in Lynchburg, Va., one in Nashville, Tenn., and the third in New York City. At all three of these conventions the prevailing sentiment of the leading men present was, that the time has arrived when the colored man should assert his political independence, and should no longer be the slave of the white man.

The Longfellow Statue Association of Portland, Me., has contracted with Frank, Jim Simmons, sculptor, for a bronze statue of Longfellow, to be erected in one of the public squares of that city. The statue will be of heroic size and cost $30,000.

It is stated that Mr. Wm. T. Blackwell has built in Durham, N. C., during last and this year 50 buildings. He makes it a rule to sell any of these buildings at prime cost, and six per cent. interest on the investment, to parties wishing to become citizens of Durham.

THE NEWS IN GENERAL.

Events Transpiring in Various Parts of this Country. Bolled Down.

Ex-Gov. Thomas Talbot, of Massachusetts, died at Lowell Tuesday.

Ex-Congressman Dornheimer predicts the election of Gov. Hill in New York by a big majority.

The government has ordered the gold bullion stored in the mint in Philadelphia to be converted into coin. There are about 40 tons of gold in the vaults.

The prairie fires in McPherson county, Dakota, burned over an area of 100 square miles, making hundreds of families destitute. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

The report of Land Commissioner Sparks is expected to show that railroad corporations have acquired large tracts of Western lands by means of false surveys.

Rev. J. L. M. Curry, the distinguished Baptist minister of Richmond, Va., has been appointed minister to Spain. Col. Chas. A. Zollinger pension agent for Indiana.

The Democratic State convention of Massachusetts met at Worcester Wednesday and nominated Frederick O. Prince, of Boston, for Governor, and other State officers.

The National Cotton Exchange crop report says that although September has not been altogether favorable to the crop, the yield promises to be much larger than last season.

Snow fell at various points in Michigan, and the thermometer was below the freezing point Sunday night. In Iowa there have been heavy frosts, and in Alabama light frost.

The St. Louis street-car men, with the exception of those on one line, struck Tuesday afternoon for twelve hours work a day, and $2 per day for conductors and $1.75 for drivers.

In the circuit court at Independence Mo., on Saturday, Miss Edith Vernon was awarded $13,000 in a suit for breach of promise against David Hughes, of Kansas City. She sued for $35,000.

The government cruiser Chicago, the latest vessel ever built at Roch's shipyard, Chester, is said to have settled on her way to such an extent that workmen have had to shore her up to prevent accident.

The Independent Republicans in Philadelphia opposed to the election of Col. M. S. Quay, Republican candidate for state treasurer, will hold a public meeting in a short time to organize for an aggressive campaign.

The body of a man who committed suicide in a hotel in Hoboken on Friday night after registering as "George Edmunds, Philadelphia," was identified as that of William H. Davenport of New York, a designer for Tiffany & Co.

Henry Sharp, Chas. Gulden, Thos. F. Hanna and Frank Morris were sentenced in the United States District Court at Trenton, N. J., Tuesday afternoon, for three and a half and one year, respectively, for making counterfeit coin.

The Longfellow Statue Association of Portland, Me., has contracted with Frank, Jim Simmons, sculptor, for a bronze statue of Longfellow, to be erected in one of the public squares of that city. The statue will be of heroic size and cost $30,000.

John A. Lowell & Co., engravers, of Boston, have failed. John A. Lowell, when seen yesterday, could give no estimate of the liability. He said the cause of the failure was the great expense the firm had incurred in turning out work of such high order, in Warren, Hertford county, N. Y., the purchase of many works of art to assist in the production of engravings.

Archdeacon Farrar preached Sunday morning in St. Paul's Church, Baltimore, to a congregation which packed the building to its utmost capacity long before the services began. In the evening the archdeacon preached in St. Peter's to an audience numbering 3,000. His discourses were taken from gospel parables, and were entirely devoid of what is usually termed sensationalism.

Mr. Henry L. Nelson, the able Washington correspondent to the Boston Post (Dem.), has been appointed editor of that paper. This is a triumph for the Cleveland Democrats in the Board of Directors, the vote was very close. The Boston Post, a conservative reform paper, has for some years been in charge of the Boston Traveller was a candidate for the position. It is now rumored that he will go on the Boston Globe.

A Finland Bath House.

In crossing the country I noticed that near every farm or settlement there was a small log hut with openings all darkened by smoke, and on asking what it was always received an answer that it was the sauna. The sauna is, in fact, the common bath-house of the farm, and sometimes of the neighborhood. Every Saturday the sauna is used by the whole family, the servants of the farm and any guest that may be desirous of participating.

A huge fire broke out on the fourth of the month, and when the bricks or stones are red-hot cold water is poured on them, which soon fills the room with steam. When all is ready the bathers gather, of both sexes and all ages, simply in the state in which we are told our first progenitors departed themselves, and this even if the mercury is frozen to a lump in the bulb. When the room is full fresh water is poured on the stones, and the bathers begin to belabor each other with birch twigs, an operation which has about the same effect as rubbing down the nude form by a hard brush and a powerful hostler would have. When the bath is over and a profuse perspiration has been caused by the whipping and the steam, the whole company adjourn to the snow outside, in which another bath takes place. This over, the bathers adjourn to various directions in the same clothing they came. I had many opportunities of witnessing this spectacle, and a lengthy journey into the heart of Finland.

Deceptive Frauds.

As soon as it became apparent that Horace King, the young publisher, of Morriss square at Cambridge, Mass., had met an unexpected success with his book called "Students' Songs"—his sales already reaching nearly a thousand copies—several publishers brought out collections of so-called student or college songs. Some of them are legitimate competitors; but some appear so similar in shape, in title, in design or general make up, as to tempt a casual buyer who may be intending to get a copy of the original "Students' Songs," which was edited by Wm. H. Hills, of the Harvard class of 1880, and published by Moses King of the Harvard class of 1881, the names of both appearing on the title page of the genuine collection only. The success of this collection is due chiefly to the freshness of its sixty copyrighted tunes and peculiar phrases which, within the past few years, have arisen and become generally popular among the students of all American colleges. The low price, twenty-five cents—and the attractive appearance, also, have had their influence in making "Students' Songs" the most successful book of its class ever published in this country.

The Evening Post.

The New York Evening Post offers its semi-weekly edition to new readers for the last three months of this year for 25 cents. Its make up includes, beside the news of the half-week, the leading editorials of the daily edition, foreign and domestic correspondence, personal, political and religious notes, book reviews, musical and dramatic criticism, farm, household, and fashion hints, selections from the best current foreign literature, etc. Owing to its thoroughly independent attitude, upon all political questions, the views of the Evening Post are more eagerly sought and more widely copied than those of almost any other newspaper in the country. This was the case in the last presidential campaign, when, for reasons which it gave in advance of the nomination, it found itself unable to support the Republican candidate. This has been the case also since the election, for the paper has again demonstrated its independence by promptly denouncing all departures of the new Administration from the reform pledges upon which it was instrumental, with power.

A Washington special says: President Cleveland had a long, private interview with the Attorney-General this afternoon after the cabinet meeting. What took place at that interview is unknown, but it is a fact that the President was very much annoyed at the developments in the telephone case, and it is the decided opinion that the Attorney-General should get rid of all connection with the Pan Electric Company if he expects to remain in the cabinet. It is very certain that a sharp issue has been made by the President over this matter. The Attorney-General is thoroughly liked by the President. Their relations have always been pleasant. To-day's meeting is the first discussion they have had about matters purely personal. It is probable that General Garland will at once take occasion to get rid of the stock.

A mass meeting of Prohibitionists was held in New York on Saturday night, at which speeches were made by the Rev. Deems and W. Jennings Demorest, the Prohibition candidate for lieutenant-governor. The latter referred to Mr. Davenport, the Republican candidate for governor, as one of the largest wholesale liquor dealers in the country, and as interested in three liquor saloons in New York City.

The Massachusetts Republican State Convention, which meets next Wednesday, will make no mistake," says the Boston Transcript (Rep.), "if it commends, in place of discriminating eulogy, President Cleveland's last deliverance on civil-service reform. From no higher standpoint than policy such commendation would be advisable.

The Memphis (Tenn.) Appeal (Dem.), one of the most liberal and progressive Southern newspapers, says: "The Union has never been so strong as now, and there is more national brotherhood, more peace and harmony between the sections, and more respect for the rights of the individual, than has been since the days when the Abolitionists were rotten-egged in Boston."

TO HOUSEKEEPERS.

There are good reasons why we are now selling so many Carpets. Some of them are: BECAUSE our stock is the largest. BECAUSE our prices are too low for the qualities offered—BECAUSE our goods are fresh arriving daily from our mills; are of the newest patterns and latest colorings—BECAUSE, although manufacturers, we retail; and it is in our power to offer greater inducements in prices—BECAUSE we always have something to show in the way of Special Bargains, we mean Real Bargains—BECAUSE our salesmen are polite and attentive, and do not misrepresent.

Now we claim these great advantages as our own, personal and exclusive property. We urge and invite every retail carpet buyer to call, purchase and receive the benefit thereof. J. & J. DOBSON, MANUFACTURERS, 809 Chestnut St., 811 PHILADELPHIA.

STOVE TALK!!

Having perfected arrangements by which we can be supplied promptly with what SPEAR STOVES AND HEATERS.

we may need, and owing to the low price of iron and labor—buying them in quantities for cash, at much lower prices than we formerly paid, we are in the position to compete with any dealer on the Shore. We are not Agents and pay no fancy Agents' prices, but by buying in the open market, for net cash, we always get and will always cheerfully duplicate any other dealer's figures—if not shade them a little. What reputation the Spear stove has in this vicinity we, or our predecessors, made for it—and we propose furnishing it to all customers who desire it. A few years ago we regarded the Spear as the best stove on the market, but in this age of progress and competition it has stood still, and to-day there are several manufacturers who make goods of self-evident superiority in make, finish, utility, and last but not least, CHEAPNESS.

We need call your attention only to our new acquisition, "THE ALWAY."

This stove is anti-clinker—very economical in fuel, finely finished throughout, and we stake our reputation on it being equal to, if not superior to any other parlor stove in the market. Call and see both, and then judge for yourself.

Rev. J. T. Boston will preach tomorrow (Sunday) morning at 10.30 o'clock in the school house at Allen.

A slight rain fell last Tuesday, and cooler weather has followed. Fires and outbreaks have not been uncommon.

Mr. A. J. Benjamin, who left here several months ago to live in Georgetown, Del., has moved his family back to Salisbury.

Mr. James Kennerly left at our office last week a sweet potato weighing 4 lbs. and 2 ozs. It was raised on his lot near town.

There will be a meeting of the School Board next Thursday, when some provision will be made for a school house at White Haven.

The races advertised for the 22d are giving promise of success. Several good horses have been entered, and there will be some good trotting.

Mr. Geo. M. Moore and wife returned home last Wednesday. Mr. Moore expects to sell off his furniture next Wednesday, and leave Salisbury.

Hon. Wm. Daniel, the ex-Vice-Presidential candidate, addressed a gathering of people in the Court House last Tuesday afternoon, on the Prohibition party.

The cranberry bogs have presented a more lively appearance for some days past than usual. The fruit is ripe and is now being gathered by a swarm of pickers.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

It Meets Wednesday and Nominates a Part of a Ticket.

The adjourned meeting of the County Prohibition Convention met in the Court House in Salisbury last Wednesday. Rev. W. Daniel, chairman of the preceding Convention, called the members to order, and E. S. D. Insley made an opening prayer.

On motion, W. Daniel, who was present, then addressed the Convention. He claimed that the past century has developed the idea that total abstinence is the only safe rule, and prohibition is the only proper thing for the State.

On motion, the members of the convention were constituted an executive committee for their respective districts to get out the republican vote, and that they have power to add other members to the committee.

On motion, the State Central Committee was empowered to call any vacancies that may occur on the ticket.

SOMERSET COUNTY.

Maryland Oystermen Driven from the Grounds by Virginia Police.

Mr. Stephen D. Coulbourn, of Baltimore, who generally spends the winter at the Washington Hotel here, arrived on last Thursday morning and was identified in his old quarters. His health is more robust than usually.—Princess Anne Herald.

There are now ten prisoners in the jail of Somerset County, including Capt. John Williams, the murderer of Otto Meyer. In other prisoners are all colored; two of them are charged with rape, and the balance are charged with petty larcenies.—Princess Anne Herald.

The barn and stables of Captain John E. Muir, of Fairmont, were destroyed by fire on Wednesday evening last, about 8 o'clock. A valuable cow and calf perished in the flames. The property was valued at $100.—Princess Anne Herald.

The Crisfield Leader of Saturday says that some days ago a number of Maryland oystermen were taking oysters in Pocomoke Sound, on the Virginia side of the Black-Jack line. Capt. Gaston, of the Virginia police force, appeared upon the scene and attempted to arrest two of the number, but they were lucky enough to elude his grasp.

The Town of Vienna—Cambridge's New Academy Completed.

The new Academy on Mill street, is one of the handsomest buildings to be found on the Eastern Shore. Its large hall and recitation rooms are models of beauty and are finished in a manner that does great credit to the carpenter who built it.—Cambridge Era.

Blind Tom at Eastville—Large Yield of Sweet Potatoes.

The Democrats of this precinct held a meeting at the Town Hall Wednesday night to reorganize the Osnbeck Democratic Club.—Osnbeck Republican.

Blind Tom gave one of his entertainments in the Court House at Eastville Saturday night last. The house was packed with people, and everybody was delighted.—Eastville Herald.

The people on the Eastern Shore of Virginia are complaining of a want of proper mail facilities. The matter has not been satisfactorily adjusted since the building of the new railroad.

Mr. Edward B. Doughty, Superintendent at the Poor House, has dug out one acre of land 100 barrels of sweet potatoes. He has been feeding thirty people from this patch since August, and now has in this land several barrels left. Can Accomack or any other place beat this?—Eastville Herald.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

A Full Ticket Nominated with the Exception of Clerk of the Court.

Pursuant to adjournment, the Republican County Convention met in the Court House last Tuesday at 2 o'clock, p. m. In the absence of the chairman of the previous convention, A. W. Goole, the convention was called to order by C. O. Conway, of Traskin, who was elected chairman. W. C. Bradley took the position as secretary.

A motion was made by General J. W. Wilson and Mr. J. P. Granger, of the House of Delegates, to have a letter to the county central committee stating that for reasons best known to himself, he declines the nomination. It is said that the vacancy has been tendered to Sheriff Thomas A. Malvin, but Sheriff Malvin, it is thought, will decline it.

There will be a Sunday school celebration next Wednesday by the Methodist Protestants of Traskin. Mr. Jay Williams received an invitation from John A. Insley to address the children, and the invitation has been accepted.

A Brakeman Killed on the Railroad—The E. & O. Extension.

The Baltimore city democratic Majority convention, which met Thursday, nominated James Hodges, of Hodges Bros., as Mayor. Latrobe has withdrawn from the canvass.

Col. J. W. Bryant, of Caroline, says that he and the democratic or republican parties are to be trusted in that county on the bribery question, and has succeeded in bringing out a straight anti-bribery ticket.

Robert Bennett's new Baltimore hotel, Saratoga and Liberty streets, was opened Monday last. The building is one of the most beautiful in the city.

Dr. Richard McSherry, a prominent physician of Baltimore, and one of the professors at the University of Maryland, died at his home, Wednesday morning, in the 88th year of his age.

Track-laying on the Philadelphia extension of the R. & O. is progressing. The construction corps passed the Little Gun powder river Friday last week, and have been in Harford this week. The track

A Collision Between Freight Trains—Barrage of the Army Worm.

The mail route from Willey, Md., to Gumboro, Del., has been increased from three to six times a week.

The army worm is causing a great destruction of property in this county. One farmer not far from Georgetown says he is compelled to haul his fodder home every evening to keep it from being destroyed by them.—Georgetown Democrat.

The estate of the late Jacob Kinder, at Seaford, was sold by the executor, six fallows: 55 shares of stock of the first Bank of Seaford at $100.63 each; 30 shares of the Denton (Md.) National Bank at $102.18, a $300 Caroline county (Md.) 6 per cent. bonds at $504.91 each; 3 shares Bridgeville Cemetery stock at $33 each, and 3 shares of the stock of the Wilmington Conference Academy at ten cents a share.—Deer Delawarean.

A collision between two freight trains occurred near Middletown on Tuesday morning, when an engine and four cars were derailed and the train was injured.

The Delaware and Potomac Railroad was ordered to run on the side track at Armstrong's and leave some cars at the phosphate factory. Instead of doing this, however, it remained on the main track, and another freight train coming along in a few minutes, struck the heavy fog, the engine crashed into that of the Delmar train, injuring the fireman, W. C. Barkus, severely, and cutting off one heel of head brakeman Levi McKay and otherwise injuring him.

Another brakeman jumped from the cars and sustained injuries which will probably prove fatal. Train Dispatcher Mackey led a very remarkable escape.

AGRICULTURAL.

Notes for the Farmer.

Will mowing be becoming quite a nuisance in many parts of the country and it will soon be necessary to prevent its spread by legislative interference, as is done with thistles.

The small potatoes found in digging the early crop, if boiled and mixed with a little meal, makes excellent food for growing pigs, keeping them thriving until the time comes for heavier feeding and fattening.

It is urged that "the farmer who feels sheep should be prepared to give some kind of green food to these animals during the fattening process, as it will make them more capable of assimilating their food and of taking on flesh more rapidly. Besides this, the meat of animals fed on succulent food is more juicy and tender and more palatable.

"Since it has," says the Boston American Cultivator, "been proved by experiments that a good growing crop keeps the soil in a better condition than when nothing is grown upon it, the practice of summer fallowing is likely to be much less frequent in the future than in the past. One great advantage of proper summer fallowing is the killing of weeds.

Dishes look pretty on a farm, but they are not a welcome sight to the owner, who knows that when once these weeds have gained a foothold they will let nothing else grow. But a farmer at Huron, N. Y., has made a very handsome thing out of the daisies that had given his meadows a bad name by shipping them to the city, where they happen to be popular.

The small streams which often flow through farms are almost invaluable sources of fertility, if the mud which accumulates in them every year is cleaned out and spread upon the land. All the best farmers also with the fine mould of cultivated fields, and a lodgment in the beds of these streams. Several loads of manure as valuable as that made in stables may thus be secured every year.

Some varieties of not very common grasses are rendered almost worthless to many farmers from lack of knowledge as to when to cut them. Orchard grass and meadow fescue need to be cut very early, or they will become woody and unpalatable. There would be better demand for these grasses if their peculiarities were better understood. In their season they are palatable and nutritious.

It is said that an application of ice water is a sure remedy for the cabbage worm. Many country farmers, however, have no ice houses, hence the remedy to them is a very inconvenient. Let such as cannot get ice for a solution of salt water, using a tablespoonful of salt to one gallon of water. There is something about saltwater that seems to be very distasteful to all kinds of worms.

Major E. B. Hill, Culpeper, Va., who has handled Powell's Fertilizers for several years says: "I enclose you a few certificates you can mention Mr. P. Ayler, a good farmer, who recommends the Powell Fertilizers. I could send you more if necessary, but the Powell's brands are so well and favorably known in this section no advertising is required." Address Brown Chemical Co., manufacturers, Baltimore, Md. Horse Venables Agent, B. C. Springs.

An intelligent farmer, who has watched the spread of yellow among his peach trees, advances the theory that this is often brought by bees passing from one tree to another when in bloom. It is a fact that bees are more subject to yellow than those in bearing. In seasons when frost destroys peach buds there is less spread of yellow, though this may be due to the greater vigor of trees that are not bearing a crop of fruit.

Rant growing potatoes are not much troubled by the potato beetle, so long as there are small weakly ones growing beside them. It is not to be inferred from this that the rank growth of potatoes is desirable for the larva. The truth is that a heavy mass of leaves is the best protection for the plant. The day that eggs laid on these leaves will often hatch. The small plants dry out quickly and the potato beetle, especially in moist, cool times, feeds on them to deposit its eggs.

So fast as a crop of wheat is sown it should be rolled down or compacted with the smoothing harrow, which is equally effective in breaking the lumps. Unless this is done promptly the lumps will become so hard that it will require a heavy rain to soften them and even then when the dragged down lumps will be dry and unfit for a seed bed. The cultivator should be used whenever weeds appear, and it will work more effectively when the surface has been first leveled.

A Western farmer manages the Canada thistle in this way: He keeps about two hundred sheep, and whenever he discovers a patch of thistles he lets the sheep there, putting a small handful of salt in each pile at the root. Besides the salt in the salt, which tends to destroy them, the thistles are eaten by the sheep close to the ground, and after one or two saltings the grass among the thistles, as well as everything else that grows from view has been eaten so that each thistle is easy to be seen and receiving handful of salt. After this treatment it is seldom that any thistles are seen the second year.

Strawberry plants should be watched now. Turn the runners into the row, do not let the rows get too wide. Such varieties as Jubilee Violette should be kept in very narrow rows, not more than eight or twelve inches apart, and the plants should be set in rows, not in hills. The plants should be set in rows, not in hills. The plants should be set in rows, not in hills.

One of the characteristics of improved farming is the general tendency to sow more kinds of grass seed than the traditional clover and timothy. The best way to make two blades of grass grow where but one grew before is to sow a mixture of grasses. The best way to make two blades of grass grow where but one grew before is to sow a mixture of grasses.

When the soil is very dry, it is better to sow a mixture of grasses than to sow a single kind. The best way to make two blades of grass grow where but one grew before is to sow a mixture of grasses.

DANGERS FROM WHICH ENGINEERS SAVE THE PUBLIC AND THEMSELVES.

The Railway Review.

One who is accustomed to railway traveling can scarcely realize how much he is dependent for safety upon the engineer. Added to the responsibility of their station, engineers are also in constant danger of accidents caused by the tricks of jealous rivals.

This rivalry, it is said, sometimes prompts to the doing of utterly mean tricks. A Nickel Plate engineer after his very first trip was laid off because he had "cut out" all the bearings of his engine. He was reinstated, however, after he proved that some rival had filled his oiling can with emery. Another new engineer was suspended for burning out the flues of his boiler. Through grief at the loss of his position he died, and then a conscience-stricken rival confessed that he had put oil in the tank so that it foamed and showed water at the top gauge, when in reality there was scarcely a quart in the boiler!

These intense jealousies, together with the terrible anxiety incident to their work, and statistics tell us that though Locomotive Engineers may look strong and vigorous, they are not at all a healthy class. Chief Engineer A. S. Hampton, Indianapolis, Ind., (Dir. 143) was one of those apparently hearty men, but he says: "The anxiety, strain and jolting come near finishing me." His sufferings localized in catarrh of the bladder, but he used Warner's safe cure faithfully for twenty weeks and now exclaims, "I am a well man."

T. S. Ingraham, of Cleveland, Ohio, assistant Chief engineer, and other prominent members are also emphatic in their praise. The Locomotive Engineers' Brotherhood has 17,000 members and 340 divisions. Its headquarters is in Cleveland, Ohio, where Chief Engineer Arthur for twenty years has exercised almost dictatorial sway. It was organized in August, 1868, by the employees of the Michigan Central. It has given nearly two million dollars to the widows and orphans of deceased members.

For the information of all persons concerned, the following act of the Legislature, passed March 24th, 1885, is published:

CHAPTER 19.
AN ACT prohibiting the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors in the several counties of the State on the day of election.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That it shall not be lawful for the keeper of any hotel, tavern, store, drinking establishment, or any other place where liquors are sold, or for any other person or persons, directly or indirectly, to sell, barter, give or dispose of any spirituous or fermented liquors, ale or beer, or any intoxicating drink of any kind, on the day of election hereinafter to be held, in the several counties of the State.

"If any person violating the provisions of this Act shall be liable to indictment by the several counties of the State, and the person so indicted shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars for each and every offense, and the other half of the fine shall be paid to the County Commissioners for the use of the public roads."

As the third of November approaches, every one interested in good government has an increasing interest in the results of the election.

The certain extent the results will be an endorsement of a rebuke to the present administration.

Have the democrats fulfilled their promises thus far? and has the prediction that once potent, but now cadaverous, party come true? Has President Cleveland given all that he promised? The party at large stands ready to answer; an answer of which the democratic party has no fear.

He is gradually but surely working the needed reforms. Out of a republican administration tottering with its weight of corruption and extravagance, President Cleveland and his confidants have constructed an executive administration upon economical and business-like principles.

The prediction that the colored man back into slavery, have gone to prove the incapacity of their supporters, but their insincerity. It was the success of the republican party and not the welfare of the country, that these men had at heart.

In view of these things, it behooves every democrat to go to the polls on the third day of next November and cast his vote, thus showing his appreciation of President Cleveland's efforts.

Do not wait until you are hunted up, and reminded twenty times that it is your duty, then wait for some one to provide you a way to ride out to the voting place; but show enough interest in the matter to go unaided. The party has decided to make no canvass in this county, but trusts that every democrat will be sufficiently interested in the administration's endorsement to go to the polls and deposit his vote to sustain that government which has been so satisfactorily administered for the last nine months.

You occasionally hear people boast that they never read advertisements, and they seem to think they display thereby a wisdom superior to that of their fellow mortals. It might be well for people to reflect on the causes and objects of advertising, and they may then discover that their wisdom is not of such a superior order as they have supposed.

Most of the best readers of the Advertiser are engaged in the struggle of "making a living." They nearly all depend on the public for support, and generally have something which they want the public to buy.

In order to let the public know this, an advertisement is put in the paper, informing them of certain articles that are bought, and giving any other information the advertiser may think necessary.

Advertising is, therefore, of importance to the seller. On the other hand the buyer, which class includes every person who is in need of either the necessities or luxuries of life, and has the money to purchase them, are all interested in getting the best goods for the smallest outlay of cash.

If the buyer is intelligent, he picks up his paper and finds out what his neighbors have to sell, and what price they ask. Farms are offered for rent; second-hand articles are offered for sale; tenants desire houses and a thousand opportunities are given for business transactions, all of which are missed by the man who does not read the advertisements.

Whenever the time shall come to any man when he neither has anything to sell nor anything to buy, he may afford to pass over the advertisements, but just so long as he desires to keep posted in what the business world is doing, he looks carefully at what the business world is saying to the public through the advertising columns of the newspapers.

Starting Experience. Next to scarlet fever, there is no disease among children more dreaded by parents than whooping cough. It is liable to come at all seasons of the year; it exhausts the strength of the little ones, and physicians are often unable to check it. Mr. F. W. Harbaugh, of the City of Baltimore, Md., had six of his children, aged from six to thirteen years, prostrated with this malady at one and the same time.

A complete cure was, however, effected by Dr. Star Cough Cure, and Mr. Harbaugh writes that the cough, which generally lasts one week or two, and which he is confident that it would have disappeared sooner if he had been aware of the existence of such an invaluable remedy.

At Utica, N. Y., Monday, Dr. Richter, of Middleville, who killed Professor Smith, of Fairfield Academy, was convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to imprisonment for life.

Mary Dimes, who helped her mother to kill, cut and boil her father, in Warren, pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree and received a similar sentence.

Sylvester Johnson, a distiller of New Haven, Ky., had just received $40,000 in cash from the sale of his distillery in that State. He had previously given large sums to the same charities.

AN ELEPHANT'S RAGE.

Robert White Killed by Empress in Philadelphia—Her Former Victims.

O'Brien's big performing elephant, Empress, added a third victim to her long list Sunday by attacking and almost instantly killing Robert A. White, a watchman, employed at the winter quarters of Pottersville at the corner of Lehigh and Edgemont streets.

As in all most every other instance where she has injured people, the attack was made without provocation or warning.

White was in the elephant building, which is detached from the quarters of the other animals, in company with a man named Allen and a song and dance artist who has been connected with O'Brien's circus during the past season.

When they entered the building Empress trumpeted loudly and moved restlessly about in her stall.

As she had received her quota of hay White knew that she could not be angry, and for a time was at a loss to account for her unreasoning. He then jumped to the conclusion that she was thirsty and told his companions that he intended giving her a drink.

They knew her ugly disposition and tried to dissuade him from releasing the big brute, but he professedly he could manage her and entered the stall.

WHITE'S HORRIBLE DEATH. She stood perfectly passive while he unloosed the heavy chain that secured her foreleg to a stake driven in the ground.

She obviously backed out of the stall and started towards the water trough, at the other end of the building.

She had not gone half a dozen paces, however, before she gave vent to a threatening snarl, and raising her trunk in the air filled White to the ground with a blow.

She then struck him another blow as he lay prostrate, and then rearing on her hind legs brought one of her front feet down on White's chest with the full force of her ponderous weight.

She then passed for a moment apparently to see whether her victim would offer any resistance, and when he moaned feebly she let down her immense head and with her remaining tusk literally disemboweled him.

In the meantime White's companions, who had been routed to the ground with her for an instant after the attack began, hurried from the building and gave the alarm.

THE BRUTE SUBDUED. There were very few of the employes about, but those who were within call quickly assembled and held a hurried consultation at the door of the elephant house.

In the brief moment that they stood there every man realized that he was afraid to encounter the savage monster, especially at the moment when she obtained such an easy victory over one man and felt her strength and power.

They could hear her trumpeting and then Daniel Taylor, an attaché of the circus, picked up a spear and dashed into the elephant house and plunged it into the brute's leg.

She stopped thrusting at the prostrate man with her trunk but only to turn and head to look at her assailant.

Taylor followed up his attack by plunging his spear into Empress's side repeatedly and shouting at her.

She turned towards him and made a movement as though she intended transferring her attentions to him.

Taylor never was far from a moment, but continued prodding the brute with his spear and shouting at her in a tone of authority.

Empress hesitated for a moment and then doggedly turned and walked to her stall, where she was quickly secured.

WHITE TERRIBLY MANGLED. White's body was horribly crushed and mangled, although the face was not disfigured. It lay in a pool of blood in the center of the building.

He was unconscious but still alive and was placed in an ambulance of the Episcopal Hospital.

He died before reaching the institution and his body was taken to his home, at 908 North Tenth street.

He was between fifty and sixty years old and leaves a wife and several children.

Aside from being head watchman he was also in charge of the painting department. It is declared that he had no business to go near the elephant and had been warned, in common with every other employe, to keep beyond her reach, as it was known that she was dangerous.

THE MURDERER'S BEASTLY HISTORY. Empress has been traveling with O'Brien's Circus during the past season. The circus has been showing in different sections of Philadelphia during the past month and a half.

The last performance was given at Sargeant and Cedar on Saturday night, after which the elephants were immediately sent to their winter quarters at Lehigh avenue and Edgemont street.

It is said that Empress has killed two or three people and injured and maimed a dozen or more.

Her last escapade in this city was on the morning of August 31, when the show was exhibiting at Broad and Dickinson streets.

At that time a young man named John Kimberline, who was employed with the show as a cook, stole into the elephant tent where Empress was lying down apparently asleep.

Near her was a pile of hay, which constituted her allowance for the night.

KIMBERLINE ATTRACTED AN ARMFUL AND spreading it under the lion's cage made a bed for himself and went to sleep. His actions were evidently watched by Empress who, after Kimberline had gone to sleep, drew out the stake to which she was chained, picked him up with her trunk and hurled him across the tent.

The young man was seriously injured, but subsequently recovered. Three months before this occurrence Empress attacked an old employe of the circus, named John London, and injured him so severely that one side of his body is partially paralyzed for life.

Another employe had been attacked by the brute shortly before and severely injured. Several years ago she hurled a female performer across the tent and seriously hurt her.

Soon after Empress came under the control of her present trainer, Mr. Colley, she took him unawares one day and, forcing him against a cage, thrust her tusk almost completely through his body and fractured three ribs.

She was severely punished for this and has since been completely under his control. She is very intelligent and performs some remarkable tricks with her trainer in the ring.

It is thought now that it will be necessary to have her shot.—Phila. Times.

What's the Use. Thousands of people, especially women, are suffering from debility when they might as well be healthy and strong.

There is one of the troubles which is often caused by the liver. People often let it run, run, run, until they go down, down, down, and find themselves in an almost hopeless condition of decay.

What's the use. Help up that ailing liver with a few doses of "Aronian's." Then see how soon the symptoms of languor and lassitude give way to health and vigor. Price 50 and 75 cts. Sold by Dr. Collier and country dealers.

Rear Admiral Davis, under date of Yokohama, September 15th, reports that five deaths from cholera had occurred on the United States steamer Osipka.

The victims were Edward Herbert, mariner; John McCreary, seaman; H. E. Shaw, sergeant of marines; Alonzo H. Lane, seaman; and Thomas Cassidy, ship carpenter.

No other deaths had occurred, though some of the crew were sick, but at that date all were doing well and expected to recover.

THE NEWS IN GENERAL.

Events Transpiring in Various Parts of this Country, Botted Down.

We understand that seal-skin coats are going out of style, and in consequence, seals are increasing among the fair sex.

How fortunate there is such a remedy as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup!

The barques George and Susan and Mabel, of New Bedford, Mass., were lost in the Arctic ocean on August 1st.

The George and Susan was valued at $30,000, the Mabel at $35,000.

A prairie fire near Valley City, Minn., on Saturday night, destroyed a granary and a large quantity of grain.

The wife and child of Seth Stanley were fatally burned in trying to reach a fire brake.

John M. Carroll, treasurer of Staunton, Va., disappeared three weeks ago.

He was last heard from in Richmond, but as no trace of his whereabouts can be found it is feared he has been foully dealt with.

The First Hebrew Christian Church in America was dedicated in New York Sunday.

The services were conducted by Bishops Harris and Nicholson and the Rev. Jacob Freshman, the Rev. Drs. Crosby, Sabine, Vincent and Day.

A large congregation attended.

One of the most melancholy spectacles in the world is a human being strangled and broken down by the use of ardent spirits.

But the dilapidation may be repaired, the human ruin strengthened and restored to perfect soundness by a course of that most powerful of all vegetable invigorants, Dr. Walker's Yewer Bitters.

An explosion of natural gas, caused by a leakage in the pipes, occurred at the New York Fair on account of the rain the night in a pit at Gottfry's & Clark's paper factory at Tarrytown, Pa., and George Heeden, William Garlick and Samuel Thompson were killed.

As this gas is odorless a leak is not easily detected.

The artificial culture of oysters has proved successful at the hatching station of the New York Fish Commission, at Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island.

Spawns and milt taken from living oysters in July were hatched in pans and afterwards placed in tanks and a pond supplied with the tide.

The young oysters thus produced are now as large as a dime.

The election in Ohio last Tuesday passed off quietly, and on account of the rain the vote was rather light.

Foraker, the republican candidate for governor, apparently has about 15,000 majority.

The prohibition vote was 30,000 and the greenback vote about 2,000.

The legislature is probably republican on joint ballot, but later returns may change this result.

Next Monday, Texas, last Friday night, an unknown mob took Benjamin Little, colored, from his cabin on a plantation and hanged him.

Little was accused with another negro of a petty theft, and had been released on bail.

It is understood that he was not lynched for the theft, but standing a respectable family of Mount Pleasant.

Jay Gould, upon arriving in St. Louis on Saturday, was served by a deputy sheriff with papers in a damage suit for $150,000, brought against him by John M. Woodward for breach of contract.

Mr. Gould having, as alleged, failed to keep his promise to Woodward to furnish that gentleman with money for the location and building of a line of road from Pacific, a suburb, to St. Louis.

Cardinal McCloskey Dead. New York, Oct. 10.—Cardinal McCloskey died at 12:30 o'clock, a. m. He died peacefully and surrounded by relatives and clergyman.

The right of succession of Cardinal Archbishop Corrigan extends only to the archbishopric and not to the cardinalate.

Cardinal McCloskey was born at Brooklyn, N. B., March 20th, 1810.

He received his early classical training in New York, and graduated at St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md., with a degree in theology in the Catholic seminary connected with the same institution; was ordained a priest in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, Jan. 9th, 1834; spent two years attending lectures in Rome and another in France, and became on his return assistant pastor, and then soon afterwards pastor of Joseph's Church, New York.

On the death of Archbishop Hughes he was appointed his successor, May 6th, 1864, and took possession Aug. 21st. On March 15th, 1875, Dr. McCloskey was raised to the dignity of a cardinal priest by Pius IX., the title assigned him being that of St. Maria sopra Minerva.

He died in the consistory held March 28th, 1878, Leo XIII., the present Pontiff, conferred the red hat upon him.

He was very active in promoting the interests of the church throughout the sea, having established protectorates for destitute children, a foundling asylum, an institute for deaf and dumb girls, a home for aged women, a German hospital, an asylum for poor old men, and another for poor old women.

Many new churches have also been built, and others are in process of erection. He introduced into the diocese several religious orders, which had previously existed in houses there.

Among these were the Capuchins, the Franciscans, the Dominicans, the Sisters of the Poor of St. Francis, the Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis, and the Little Sisters of the Poor.

Foreign Notes of Interest. BELGRADE, Oct. 12.—The war fever runs high throughout Serbia and active preparations are going on to enforce Serbia's demand for an extension of territory.

English, French and Austrian firms have been tendered contracts by the Government to supply complete outfits for 35,000 troops, and all the contracts have been allotted; also one for 85,000 horses.

The League Bank war loan has been raised to $5,000,000.

BUSSETT, Oct. 12.—Mr. Gladstone has written to M. Emile Louis Victor Lavieze, the well known writer on political economy, as follows: "I favor the Bulgarian union, but trust its territory will not exceed its present limit because of fear of disastrous competition between the great powers themselves, and also the Hellenic and Slavonic races, for an extension of territory. I express myself on the question with reserve because my mind is perplexed by the many difficulties surrounding it. I see that Bulgarian union, excellent in itself, may prove immeasurable evil."

TO HOUSEKEEPERS

There are good reasons why we are now selling so many Carpets. Some of them are:

BECAUSE our stock is the largest.

BECAUSE our prices are too low for the qualities offered.

BECAUSE our goods are fresh arriving daily from our mills; are of the newest patterns and latest colorings.

BECAUSE, although manufacturers, we retail; and it is our power to offer greater inducements in prices.

BECAUSE we always have something to show in the way of Special Bargains, we mean Real Bargains.

BECAUSE our salesmen are polite and attentive, and do not misrepresent.

Now we claim these great advantages as our own, personal and exclusive property. We urge and invite every retail carpet buyer to call, purchase and receive the benefit therefrom.

J. & J. DOBSON, MANUFACTURERS, 809 Chestnut St., 811 PHILADELPHIA.

STOVE TALK!!

Having perfected arrangements by which we can be supplied promptly with what we may need, and owing to the low price of iron and labor—buying them in quantities for cash, at much lower prices than we formerly paid, we are in the position to compete with any dealer on the Shore.

We are not Agents and pay no fancy Agents' prices, but by buying in the open market, for net cash, we always get and will always cheerfully duplicate any other dealer's figures—if not shade them a little.

What reputation the Spear stove has in this vicinity we, or our predecessors, made for it—and we propose furnishing it to all customers who desire it.

A few years ago we regarded the Spear as the best stove on the market, but in this age of progress and competition it has stood still, and to-day there are several manufacturers who make goods of self-evident superiority in make, finish, utility, and last but not least, CHEAPNESS.

We need call your attention only to our new acquisition, "THE ALWAY."

This stove is anti-clinker—with Smith's Duplex Grate, very economical in fuel, finely finished throughout, and we stake our reputation on it being equal to, if not superior to any other parlor stove in the market.

Call and see both, and then judge for yourself.

Toadvine & Dorman, 42 & 44 Main St., Salisbury, Md.

THE EVENING STAR is the name of a Democratic paper to be issued in Baltimore. The first number will appear October 1st. Those copies will be sent to any one sending their address to: SEAB PUBLISHING COMPANY, No. 19 North St., Baltimore, Md.

FERTILIZERS. We again Offer to the Farmers and Truckers of Wisconsin and Adjoining Counties

OUR MIXTURES B. & C. For Wheat and Clover, and the Permanent Improvement of the soil.

We expect to make the manufacture and sale of Fertilizers a permanent branch of our business, and we are aware that upon its merits and actual results it will stand as well, therefore we think it is to our interest to make the very best fertilizer for the least possible money.

We use nothing but the very highest grade materials, and compound them under our own supervision, and believe we make the best and cheapest fertilizers on the market.

The increased demand and the general satisfaction they have given, is a satisfactory evidence of their superiority. We could furnish hundreds of testimonials from prominent and practical farmers, but prefer to refer to any one of a thousand persons who have used it. It is not only active, but a permanent improver of the soil.

We shall keep pure animal dissolved bone, high grade S. C. Rock, Kautie, dried blood, Sol. Ammonia, Nitrate Soda, Muriate and Sulphate of Potash.

Prices—B. $30. on time; Cash, $27.50. C. $25. " " " $22.50.

MARYLAND NEWS.

A Large Fire at Station on Friday—More Casualties to Deputies.

The social event of the season in Milford was the marriage, on Wednesday, of Miss Mary, daughter of R. H. Gilman, senior editor of the Milford Chronicle, to Arthur B. Williams, of New York.

There is quite a lively action in sales of Sussex real estate just now. Fruit growers of upper Kent and New Castle counties see that Sussex and lower Kent will soon be the great peach growing belt of the Peninsula and are preparing for profits by buying land here.

A meeting of a number of prominent citizens was held at the office of George W. Ingram on Thursday, when the Delaware Telephone Company was formed with a capital stock of $250,000.

The Citizens of Secretary Want a Post-Office—Improvements in Cambridge.

An attendance of 830 pupils at the opening of the public schools last Monday is a favorable showing. We hope the schools throughout the county will be able to report increased interest and numbers.

Wm. H. Vallant who removed here a short time ago from Caroline county, and bought a building lot on Choptank avenue, and commenced building himself a dwelling, died suddenly Wednesday morning of congestive chill.

The citizens of the village of Secretary are making every effort to obtain a postoffice. A petition has been circulated and received many signatures.

It is currently rumored that a movement is on foot looking to the erection of a large hotel on Judge Travers' vacant lot adjoining the Chesapeake Hotel.

OF INTEREST TO READERS. For good flour, etc., go to Evans' Dock St.

Finest Hams and Dried Beef, sliced or chipped, can always be obtained by calling on S. T. Evans, Dock St.

WANTED.—Natural Peach Seed. Send price desired and quantity on hand to John P. Polk, Wilmington, Del.

400 bushels of refuse Pork Salt for fertilizing and compost. 25 cts. per bushel, including sacks. Humphreys & Tighman.

NOTICE.—The Rocking Carding Machine is now in complete order to card wool and make good rolls. Satisfaction guaranteed. H. W. Anderson.

Old Apple Brandy.—I have twelve barrels of last year's Brandy which I will sell in quantities to suit purchasers. James E. Hearn, Whitesville, Del.

FOR SALE.—Farm of 70 acres on Middle Neck road, 1/4 north of Cemetery, one-half mile from town. The building is in good condition. Fine truck and dairy farm. G. H. Todd, v. n.

About last February I lost a broken overcoat with velvet collar, any one knowing anything of its whereabouts will confer a favor by communicating the same to me, and oblige Wm. B. Tighman.

A cargo of Green Fish Scrap for sale next week—as this is the last that can be procured, parties wishing any should apply at once. Orders may be left at Whittington's Shoe Store, Main street. G. S. Williams.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.—I hereby give notice to all taxpayers in Dennis and Pittsburg districts to pay their taxes on or before the 1st day of December. Otherwise I shall proceed to collect by advertising and selling. L. B. Brittingham.

FOR SALE CHEAP.—My Farm in Wicomico District, known as the "Huffington Farm." The land is well adapted to growing cereals, grass, fruits, etc. Four acres in Slips are pulled up his rakes and threw the shells by his boat, he was surprised to find that the shells were nearly covered with young oysters. We understand that the owner expects to take from the same lot, in about two years from now, 2000 to 3000 bushels of marketable oysters.—Crisfield Leader.

DELAWARE ITEMS. A Telephone Company Organized—And Real Estate Sales.

The steamer Tangier, with 1,000 barrels of potatoes and 15,000 gallons of grain, ran aground on a bar at the mouth of Onancock creek Thursday afternoon and remained there till yesterday morning, when she was hauled off by the Maggie and proceeded on her way to Baltimore.—Onancock Virginian.

Mr. Harvey Bunting, who resides near Jenkins' Bridge, while on his way from home to the house of a neighbor, on Thursday, September 24th, was shot at twice by some one in ambush. The person who attempted to commit the crime is unknown, but a deputy is suspected and a warrant for his arrest has been issued.

William Bayfield who was tried in Accomack last week for killing John Young was convicted of involuntary manslaughter and fined one hundred dollars. Samuel T. Taylor was the same week for shooting to kill Bayfield. The jury was unable to agree upon a verdict and one for five years in the penitentiary.—Exeter Herald.

Last Saturday morning William Parker, the colored peddler who carried the Onancock post office and the Eastern Shore steamboat, fell from a loaded wagon, which ran over one of his legs, inflicting serious but not fatal injuries. The wagon was loaded with barrels of flour, and, to say no more, was broken.—Onancock Virginian.

AGRICULTURAL.

Notes for the Farmer. The practice of buying cattle in the fall and fattening them on the farm is found to be not only very profitable, but that much of the grain which would otherwise have to be marketed, is thus kept on the farm and returned to the land in the shape of manure, thereby yielding a double profit.

As a rule the application of liquid manure does not pay its extra expense. There is too large a bulk for the fertilizing material used on soil. If we apply manure in winter or early spring, snow and rain will dissolve it and give all the good effects of a more expensive application of liquid manure later in the season.

Meadows should never be too closely pastured, especially in the fall. If the ground is anywise soft, not only does the tramping of animals injure them, but much of the grass is liable to be pulled up by the roots. Besides, meadows, like small grain, when pastured closely in the fall are injured by the froreings and thawings of winter, having no aftermath to protect them against such.

Early spring litters are the best to choose from. They have their first summer's growth on grass, with water-grain fertilizer may be given them, for their highest physical development. If we keep until they are nine months old, they should then be bred, and will then have their first litters at thirteen months old, at the very time, too, when the young grass is in its best condition for both sow and pig.

On many farms weeds not known before follow the appearance of the traveling threshing machine. The seeds which are grown on one farm are thus spread over the entire neighborhood. It is well to get into the manure pile, and are thus carried to places where they are not looked for and get a headway which years of hard labor will not entirely reverse. Careful farmers should look to this, and have the threshing machine well cleaned when coming from farms known to be foul.

J. C. Parran, Green Spring, W. Va., says he has been using Powell's Prepared Chemical and other fertilizers manufactured by the Brown Chemical Co., for several years, and is sure they are all that is claimed for them. Would recommend them to all who want reliable fertilizers. Powell's Prepared Chemical cost only $6.00 per barrel, a sufficient quantity to make one-half ton of complete fertilizer. Brown Chemical Co., manufacturers, Baltimore, Md. Home Vases, Sales, agent, Barren Creek Springs, Md.

Experiments made at the college farm in New Hampshire showed that the use of more milk than did bran when fed to cows, the change in the butter product, too, was remarkable, being 17.7 per cent. in favor of the milk. The butter-producing capacity of the milk. Whether this was a chance result or is due to well-defined causes it is not our purpose to discuss, although it may well be observed that the experiments were made in the latter part of the summer, when the grass was a little browned, and not at a season of the year when cows need a carbonaceous food to keep up the animal heat.

The breeders of high-bred swine are greatly annoyed by the presence of lice. At this season of the year they are often assailed by the sudden appearance of the vermin on pigs that have been under the best of care. Grease is the common remedy, but as the dust settles on the skin and gives a most unattractive appearance, I sought a remedy free from this objection. I have for some years used carbolic acid and buttermilk, and found it efficient, cleanly and rather beneficial to the hair and skin. A teaspoonful of either crude or crystal carbolic acid, thoroughly stirred and then sprinkled upon the swine from a sprinkling-pot or with a whisk broom, will destroy the vermin as completely as grease, coal oil or turpentine water, with none of their bad effects. Pure coal oil should never be used, as it often causes scabs and peeling of the skin.

A lady correspondent writes The American Farmer: In all the articles I have seen on feeding fowls, I have never read of any one feeding them on walnut kernels. It is a splendid food, and all you have to do to break them into four pieces and let the fowls pick the kernels out. Ducks can only get the loose kernels, but other fowls will pick the hulls clean and scratch them about to find more. I have my fowls so if they hear me strike with a hammer, they run to get the walnuts. They will leave other food to get the walnuts. I also beat up soft coal and mix it with meal and feed the fowls. It keeps them healthy and I find they lay better. I have gathered up a bushel or fifteen bushels of walnuts from two trees, and to break up half a bushel every day for the fowls saves one feed of other food, and I do that only when very cold; then I give them a good feed of corn before they go to roost.

A correspondent of the Farmers' Home Journal says that a fertilizer fully equal to the best superphosphates can be made by mixing equal parts of raw ground bone, the unslacked wood ashes. "Last spring," says he, "I purchased a ton of bone dust, costing $39.50. I then purchased fifty bushels of ashes, costing me five cents a bushel. I spread the two on the lawn, and after thoroughly mixing I depended on the same with water. After which I placed the same in barrels. In a few days it commenced to heat and get quite warm. In about three weeks it cooled off, and was ready for use. I applied to various crops, and it proved superior to its results to any manure I ever used, including a ton of superphosphate, costing me $50. My two tons cost me $39, while a single ton of superphosphate cost me $50, making a difference in favor of my composition of a little over $30 a ton."

Where brush-hops or other refuse are burned in spring, the crops grown over these places are usually very vigorous. The fertilizer is probably in part due to other causes. The intense heat partially breaks the surface-soil, and this disintegrates it sufficiently to make its mineral fertility available. In some parts of England it is used for the purpose of burning up the refuse for wheat. The practice is, of course, wasteful of ammonia; but burned soil is generally richer in mineral plant-food than that not so treated. It was to be noted in the days when summer fallowing for wheat was common that fields broken up in a very dry time and lying exposed to the scorching sun produce better wheat than after a cooler, moister summer. Probably this was due to the fact that the soil was partly burned, and its mineral fertility liberated. We get phosphates and potash now more cheaply than by this method when we buy commercial fertilizers. In fact, as the mineral manure have come in, the practice of summer fallowing for wheat has gone into disuse. -American Cultivator.

TWO NOTED MINSTRELS.

WHO HAVE WON FORTUNES AND WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT STAGE LIFE.

From Stage Whispers.

"Billy" Emerson has recently made a phenomenal success in Australia, and is rich. Emerson was born at Belfast in 1846. He began his career with Joe Sweeney's minstrels in Washington in 1867. Later on he jumped into prominence in connection with Newcomb's minstrels with whom he visited Germany. He visited Australia in 1874 and on his return to America joined Haverley's minstrels in San Francisco at $500 a week and expenses. With this troupe he played before her majesty, the queen, the Prince of Wales, and royalty generally. After this trip he leased the Standard Theatre, San Francisco, where for two years he had the largest business ever known to minstrelsy. In April last he went to Australia again, where he has 'beaten the record.'

"Billy" is a very handsome fellow, an excellent singer; dances gracefully, and is a true humorist. "Yes, sir, I have traveled all over the world, have met all sorts of people, come in contact with all sorts of customs, and had all sorts of experiences. One must have a constitution like a locomotive to stand it." "Yes, I know I seem to bear it like a major and I do, but I tell you candidly that with the perpetual change of diet, water and climate, if I had not maintained my vigor with regular use of Warner's safe cure I should have gone under long ago."

George H. Primrose, whose name is known in every amusement circle in America, is even more emphatic. If possible, than "Billy" Emerson, in commendation of the same article to sporting and traveling men generally, among whom it is a great favorite. Emerson has grown rich on the boards and so has Primrose, because they have not squandered the public's "favors."

Consumption Cured.—An old physician retired from practice, having had the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this receipt, in German French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. Noyes, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y.

A singular fence was observed by a party driving through a town in Sagadahoc county a short time ago. This fence divided the walking leading to the front door of a neat house. The fence ran plump up to the floor over the steps. "The man who built that fence owns half of the house and a woman owns the other half," said a friend. "He wished to buy her half and she would not sell it. He had about it and has not got the property in two as literally as he has. He has extended the fence idea by building a wall in the front entry, which cuts his half from the woman's half." -Lewiston Journal.

Health to its Owner. To do what we expect of the stomach it must be in good order to receive and dispose of the food we put into it. Health of the stomach is wealth to its owner. An unhealthy stomach is a frightful evil. Happily it is an evil which can be rectified. Take the trouble in time, and the "Argemanna." This remedy will leave a clean stomach, and make the organ capable of receiving the best of food. Price 25 cents. Sold by Dr. Collier and Country Dealers.

The "Big Woods" of Minnesota will describe the name, for they cover 3000 square miles, or 3,200,000 acres of surface. These woods contain only hard wood growths, including white and black oak, maple, hickory, basswood, elm, birch, gum, tamarack, and enough other varieties to make an aggregate of over fifty different kinds. The hard-wood tract extends in a belt across the middle of the state, and surrounding its northeastern corner is an immense pine region covering 21,000 square miles, or 18,440,000 acres.

The Great Chill Cure. P. W. Donaway & Brother, Whiteville, Md., sell Smith's Chill Syrup. W. S. Hitchens, Delmar, Del., sells Smith's Chill Syrup. I. S. Bennett, Riverton, Md., sells Smith's Chill Syrup. Laws & Hamblin, Wango, Md., sell Smith's Chill Syrup. Bowen & Bro., Newark, Maryland, sell Smith's Chill Syrup.

In the northern part of Nebraska an Irish colony, called Jackson, has been settled for twenty-nine years, six of the colonists of which are worth from $40,000 to $60,000 each. They were very poor when they arrived there, and were so discouraged by the desolate appearance of the prairie and the loneliness and desolation, which affected the Irish so much, that if they had the money they would have left. Fortunately they had not. They had come up by steamers from the southern states, where they had been digging ditches.

Buckley's Arnica Salve. The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Piles, Corns, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Sore, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Dr. Levin D. Collier.

A Missouri paper thus delicately touches the point of composition: "When you lay by some like a ray of sunshine to gladden the editor's household, it is a mute but eloquent appeal to his delinquent subscribers to gather immediately at the printing office and pay away lack up to the present and a whole year in advance as a contribution to the important event. It is a boy, strong and hearty, with a voice keyed like a fog horn, to be heard."

The soldiers' monument at Atlanta is to have statues of Grant, Lee, Johnston and Sherman around the base of the column. The monument will be two soldiers, the blue and the gray, clasping hands, and above the globe that covers the summit will be the Goddess of Liberty. The structure will be 180 feet in height and will cost $100,000.

Richard Wagner's representatives, says the London Times, have positively refused to allow "Parsifal" to be performed in America on any terms whatever except as an oratorio, as it was given in London last winter.

When Billy was sick, we gave him CATARRH. When she was a child, she used CATARRH. When she became Mrs. she used CATARRH. When she had children, she gave them CATARRH.

The majority contest in Baltimore continues to grow in bitterness as the Democratic success, which seemed for a time doubtful, is now almost assured.

At a democratic mass-meeting and barbecue held in Easton last Tuesday, Gen. Bradley T. Johnson, who was invited to deliver an address at the instance of Mr. Tamm, the nominee for Governor, made a tirade on the Democratic managers, especially Senator Gorman.

A bitter fight is now going on in Worcester county between the regular democratic nominees and the fusionists. The latter is headed by I. T. Matthews, independent candidate for clerk of the court.

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record Friday published its quarterly review of the industrial growth of the south. It figures show that the amount of capital invested in the south during the past year is estimated at $100,000,000.

Since last October I have suffered from acute inflammation in my nose and head-ache in the night having to get up and inhale salt and water for relief.

THE WORST CASE OF PNEUMONIA can be cured by continued application of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Race Prejudices.

In the North American Review for November, Gail Hamilton dwells on the subject of "Race Prejudices," a subject of never-fading interest to Americans—particularly to Americans of the Southern States.

While a number of girls were going home from school at Oakdale, Pa., on Wednesday afternoon they were met by three boys—two white and one colored—aged about 18 years, who attacked them with revolvers.

Secretary Whitney has bought a country estate near Washington. It lies five miles from the Capital, and consists of about a hundred acres of meadow and woodland.

President Cleveland's Close Watch. Mr. Cleveland apparently believes that the business of a President is to supervise the administration of the Federal Government, and not to "run" State elections.

THE NEWS IN GENERAL.

Events Transpiring in Various Parts of this Country, Noted Below.

The Rev. John Rankin, whom many persons will remember as one of the original abolition leaders, is, almost four years old and resides at Ironton, Ohio.

A baby was born in a hospital at Marshalltown, Iowa, a short time ago, but very where can be seen babies borne to the cemetery because mothers cruelly neglect to procure Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, a sure cure for croup, colds and coughs.

Mr. John Boyle O'Reilly says that the poem written by Miss Louisa L. Quincy for the Grant Memorial exercises at Tremont Temple, Boston, is the "grandest production since Tennyson's ode on the death of the Duke of Wellington."

Four more of the gang of counterfeiters who have been operating for a long time in northwestern Pennsylvania have been captured and taken to Pittsburgh.

There is no part of life's titanic where the enemy can make a lodgment that the "Vinegar Bitter" will not reach him, and put to flight his "Jugosity of Blood" in the parent disease; the liver, the stomach, the lungs, the nerves, every vital organ is affected primarily from this cause, and in this direction the Vinegar Bitter acts with magical influence.

Notwithstanding the denial of Charles H. Colman of Boston, that the position of chairman of the Civil Service Commission has been offered him, the reports that have connected him with the position have emanated from reliable sources, and the belief is quite general that his appointment will be announced when Mr. Estlin's resignation takes effect.

TO HOUSEKEEPERS.

There are good reasons why we are now selling so many Carpets. Some of them are: BECAUSE our stock is the largest.

BECAUSE our prices are the lowest for the qualities offered—BECAUSE our goods are fresh arriving daily from our mills; are of the newest patterns and latest colorings.

BECAUSE, although manufacturers, we retail; and it is in our power to offer greater inducements in prices—BECAUSE we always have something to show in the way of Special Bargains; we mean Real Bargains—BECAUSE our salesmen are polite and attentive, and do not misrepresent.

Now we claim these great advantages as our own, personal and exclusive property. We urge and invite every retail carpet buyer to call, purchase and receive the benefit therefrom.

AGRICULTURE

Notes for the Farmer.

If your poultry is in good condition sell it now. Don't allow squabs intended for Winter to get sharply frosted.

Cornstalks broken fine and salted will keep the stock quiet between meals on the cold winter days.

Red clover and orchard grass have again proved the most useful forage plants on the Kansas College Farm.

Well hoes in the yard, on account of slops, pig stys and compost heaps near them, often become death holes to the family.

Somebody claims that the number of eggs consumed in the State of Massachusetts allows only one egg per week to each inhabitant.

Poultry should be killed just as soon as it is fat, for the reason that there is no oil in keeping it longer, and that every day it is kept after that brings a dead loss.

Mr. Christopher Shearer, of Ducktown, Pa., has produced a new peach, which he names the Globe. It is a large, handsome and luscious fruit, and Mr. Shearer has a right to be proud of it.

A good full breakfast, hot and fresh, will be quite as well appreciated in the well-to-do as in the poor.

Bull's head and neck of potatoes, made into two parts of a mixture of bran and shorts, a tablespoonful of salt, hot water enough to mix into a stiff mass, and you have a breakfast for your forty fowls.

Miss Ormerod says grow onions alongside of peas and they will not be troubled with maggots.

Mr. Edwards uses tea water with the same good results. Give them both when practicable, and be doubly sure of the union crop.

F. Houghton, of Corning, Tehama county Cal., will soon have probably the largest poultry farm in the world.

Now is the time to troubleshoot. Where have you failed and why? The remedy may be a little drain or increase in live stock.

Put some coppers in the whitewash for the poultry-house and stable walls, also the barn walls, and you will not be troubled with vermin.

Livestock feeders means liberal profits; fowls scarcely fed pay scanty profit; neglect means loss of what you give them.

The man who soils his cows does not complain of shortness in the flow of milk, and the summer insects may be kept from troubling the life out of his animals.

There is much in the hardness of fruits. This hardness is a thing of slow growth.

Whitewash the walls thoroughly before you put the fowls into the new houses.

An acre of old forest is better than two in a climatic point of view.

As we drink the water from a filthy barnyard pool so do we allow a cow to drink it and then use her milk.

G. W. Scott, Esq., of Arendville, Pa., says he used about 300 lbs. to the acre of compost made with Powell's Prepared Chemicals.

It should make Gladstone feel happy to be assured by a missionary that in the event of the Gibraltar fight of Indians can be depended on to fight for the mother country.

An Indian boy on Major Ellis's plantation, near the boundary line of Yano and Sumner Counties, Miss., being missed, the Major started with some friends to search for him.

When only one cow, we give her CASTORIA. When she has two, we give her CASTORIA. When she has three, we give her CASTORIA. When she has four, we give her CASTORIA. When she has five, we give her CASTORIA.

The Increase of Insanity.

Boston supports 800 insane, says Mr. T. B. Sanborn, not 75 of whom will recover! This is frightful! Insanity has increased 40 per cent in a decade and most of the cases are incurable.

Most brain troubles begin in the stomach; then if the blood is filled with uric acid, caused by failure of kidney action, and the consequent destruction of the blood life—albumen—you have the fuel and the flame and a brain in full blaze when one raves, or in slow combustion, as in milder forms of insanity.

Nothing is so pitiable as a mind diseased. Most brain troubles begin in the stomach; then if the blood is filled with uric acid, caused by failure of kidney action, and the consequent destruction of the blood life—albumen—you have the fuel and the flame and a brain in full blaze when one raves, or in slow combustion, as in milder forms of insanity.

It is indeed a terrible thing to lose one's mind, but it is a more terrible thing to suffer such a condition when it can be so easily prevented.

Henry Gallman owns a mill, and a man named Pruit attends to it. Pruit owns a large cat, as soon as the mill is stopped by shutting down the gate, will immediately run down behind the mill and get on a log just over the abutment over which the water is flowing.

There is a cat in the mill, and it is a very curious thing to see a cat in a mill. It is a very curious thing to see a cat in a mill.

Consumption Cured.—An old physician retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men.

Change to all who desire it, this receipt, in full, with one to three parts seaweed, and as much water as is needed. The mass is pressed into blocks, which are dried and burned for two days. They can cut into shape by circular saws. It is incombustible, resists acids and the influence of the atmosphere.

Terrestrial lumber is made of one part pure clay, with one to three parts seaweed, and as much water as is needed. The mass is pressed into blocks, which are dried and burned for two days.

HIGH GRADE BONE FERTILIZERS. We take pleasure in again calling the attention of farmers to our High Grade Fertilizers. It being eight years ago this spring since they were first offered to consumers under their present form, and from that time until now there has been an increasing demand for them, which is a fair testimony to their value.

Dr. J. A. Wright, who has been practicing medicine in Sharpton, has moved to the farm of his father-in-law near Barron Creek. He expects to still practice medicine.

The holes in Main and Division Streets have been filled with shells this week. The work was not done before it was needed and other streets in town need attention quite as much.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Kittredge, of Colorado Springs, who have been visiting Mrs. Col. Graham, left for their homes last Tuesday. Mrs. Graham accompanied them as far as Chicago.

Mr. Randolph Humphreys is having his new house, about two miles from this town, papered and the work being done by men from the establishment of Ball & Co., Wilmington, Del.

St. Joe, the trotting horse formerly owned by Mr. E. I. White, of this town, died suddenly in Wilmington the other night. At the time of his death he was owned by Mr. Mike Devine.

Mr. Douglas Wallop, pursuer on the Kent, has rented the house on High street, lately occupied by W. A. Trader, and will hereafter occupy it with his sisters. Mr. Trader has gone to the Brevington house on Camden Ave.

Messrs. Wm. H. Stevens & Co., of Seaford, Del., have erected the Maryland Steam-Cooking Co's new oyster house at Boating Point, and will begin operations soon. As we stated in our last issue, this seems to be an advantageous spot for the business.

Mr. Edward Kane, of Baltimore, who has been engaged in putting up pipes in the kindling mill, had his hand cut Tuesday by the sharp blades of an exhaust fan. The wound was dressed by Dr. S. P. Dennis, and is not considered dangerous.

Capt. John W. Wingate, of the oyster police force, arrested last Tuesday Capt. Wesley Thomas and Capt. Wm. C. Wilcox, of Somerset county, for dredging in Wilcox's waters. Capt. Wingate says he anticipates considerable trouble this year with the Somerset oystermen.

Citizens of the Town feeling an interest in improving the Salisbury Public Cemetery are requested to contribute to a fund being raised for that purpose, and may leave their contributions on or before Nov. 9th, with Rufus K. Truitt, Treasurer of the board or with E. L. Wallis, Secretary.

Our enterprising barber, Mr. James Ball, adds the third chair to his shop today. He has secured an additional help the services of an experienced Philadelphia barber. He is now prepared to shave three men every ten minutes. We challenge the Shore for a neater and better equipped shop than Mr. Ball's.

Mr. Wm. Fell, of Georgetown, Del., took charge of the Peninsula House last Wednesday morning. Mr. Fell has the reputation of being a first-class hotel keeper, and he will doubtless maintain the popularity of this hotel. Mr. Gus Parker, the former proprietor, expects to make Pocomoke City his home in the future.

Letters calling for the above letters will please pay attention to the following:

Mr. Avery last Thursday refused to accept my offer to sell my horse and buggy. As someone people have been blowing on Avery's mare, I state that I am not only willing but anxious to match my mare with his for any amount from $300 to $1000 a side. Let's have some trotting or less talk. I. H. Warr.

The annual meeting of the Association of Public School Commissioners will be held at the State Normal School on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 24th and 25th. The Association will be called to order at 10 o'clock Tuesday. Between the hours of nine and twelve, members and their friends are invited to visit the several classrooms and witness the ordinary exercises of the school.

The Orphans' Court met Tuesday last. Present, G. A. Bonds, Chief Judge, Robt. Walter and H. R. Beam, Associates, and E. L. Wallis, Register. The proceedings of last court and interim were read and disposed of as follows:

Evans, e. o. r. Order to sell and notice to creditors granted. Claims filed, orders entered against several parties. Rest of proceedings as a. o. r. Distribution of J. R. Downing made, e. o. r. Adjudged to Nov. 10.

The county commissioners met Tuesday last; present, full board and D. J. Holloway, clerk. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Report of examiners on road in 4th district, from Bridle's Cave to Wm. Adkins, was ratified, and commissioner Truitt was authorized to sell contract for building some on Saturday, Nov. 7th, at 3 p. m. Treasurer was authorized to pay A. F. Owens $25 on salary as keeper of Alms House on third quarter of 1888. Also to pay George D. Freely $38.50 for fertilizer used on the Alms House farm. Also to pay R. K. Truitt & Sons $10.40 for chandler for court house. Wm. Jones was appointed judge of election in 8th district, vice Josephus Hayman, disqualified. T. W. Pusey, collector of taxes for 7th district for 1888, filed an account of $180.00 which was allowed. Date of the Alms House to be prepared till Nov. 11. Adjudged to meet Nov. 10.

Adams-Dorman. The marriage of Miss Fannie Dorman and Mr. Isaac S. Adams took place in St. Peter's P. E. Church, Salisbury, last Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, to three o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Bowne, Rector. When the bridal party arrived at the church, Miss Jean Fulton began playing the Bridal Chorus, by Corwen, and the four sisters, Messrs. W. B. Miller, M. Lee Toadvine, A. P. Whittington, and J. C. Birkhead, led the party to the altar. The bridesmaid, Martha Hearn, of Philadelphia and Mr. L. Ernest Williams, bridesmaid and groomsmen, and then came the bride, leaning upon the arm of her brother, Mr. L. W. Dorman, of the hardware firm of Toadvine & Dorman. They were met at the altar by the groom, who had a ring on his finger. The couple were married with the full English ceremony, including a blessing on the ring by the Rector. After the ceremony, Mr. Bowne presented to the bride the prayer-book from which the rite had been read. The church was full of the friends of the contracting pair, in spite of the fact which fell all the afternoon. Immediately after they were made man and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Adams took the train for a tour north. When they return home, they will board at Mr. Tracy's.

A Model Newspaper Office. While in Philadelphia last week, a representative of the Advertiser paid a visit to the offices of the Record, of that city, and through the courtesy of the managing editor, was shown how a great daily is published. The Record offices are said to be the most complete and conveniently arranged newspaper offices in the country. Nothing is lacking to make the labors of those connected with the paper as pleasant as possible, and to secure a harmonious working of all the different departments. The building, which is a handsome one, is lighted by electricity, and pneumatic tubes convey anything that comes from one part of the building to another. Four large Hoe perfecting presses are used in printing the paper, each of which prints about 30,000 papers an hour, and turns them out, all neatly folded. The Record has always been a paper of the people, and vigorously opposes anything that savors of monopoly or injustice. One of its greatest works is its fight last winter against the combination of coal dealers, in which it came out with flying colors and succeeded in reducing the price of coal to the poor man by about a dollar a ton. Among the typewriters, we noticed one of the best, and as expert at the business as her male companions.

Good Racing on Wednesday. A large crowd was present at the fair grounds last Wednesday to witness the two races advertised for that day. Those who expected to see some good trotting were not disappointed, but there was some disappointment expressed that the judges did not announce the time in which any of the heats were trotted. In this respect we think they made a mistake. The pretty trotting of Mr. Syd. Wilson's Lulu and of the Virginia horse entered by Geo. W. Leonard of the Virginia horse, was much admired and commented upon by the spectators. In the first race, J. W. Spurry, the driver of Froy, entered a protest against Wild Deer. It was claimed that he had a record of 2:38 made on the Maryland track.

Capt. Stephen Hopkins has been on the mail for Onancock put in a separate pouch on the cars and sent here over having to be overhauled at Tasey station. This will prevent much confusion and enable the mails to arrive here sooner every day.—Onancock Virginian.

Hon. Thomas Green has been on the Eastern Shore since Wednesday making effective speeches for the Democratic party. He is a tower of strength on the stump and his speeches cannot fail to instruct and arouse our people. He will speak at the Court House Monday, and in Onancock Monday night.—Onancock Virginian.

The light-house board has authorized from Congress to construct a new light-house in the Chesapeake bay, at a point near Cape Charles City, Virginia. On October 15th bids for furnishing the metal work for this light, which is to be known as the Plantation light-house, were opened in the Treasury Department, Washington. The Alton, Pa., rolling mill was the lowest bidder, to wit, $2,300, and will probably get the contract. The new light-house is to be built for the accommodation of steamers running between Norfolk and Cape Charles City.

Deaths from Somerset County. Rev. Mr. Colquhoun, of Ohio, has received a call from the vestrymen of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal Church, Princess Anne, to fill the place as Rector made vacant by the resignation of Dr. John O. Barton.—Onancock Virginian.

Wm. E. Blair, of Farmington District, has withdrawn as an ind. cand. candidate for the House of Delegates. Probably he concluded that his chances would be better two years hence. In a political point of view, he did not seem to have a chance. His independent candidacy placed him in a bad position in the eyes of the party, but had he remained in the field, he would have received votes from both parties.—Onancock Virginian.

Lemuel Verly, Esq., died on last Thursday morning from taking an overdose of medicine which had been given him by the Doctor. Enough medicine had been left to last, as prescribed, for a couple of days but he took it all in one dose. He was one of the best business men, it is asserted, who was ever trained in this town, but a thorough indifference in his cups at times, during which he would spend the money of the day, prevented him from acquiring a competence. At the time of his death he was proprietor of, and conducted the restaurant on Front street near the store of James Morris, Esq. He leaves a widow and two children, the issue of this, which was his second marriage. He leaves one son, in his majority, by his first marriage, Princess Anne Marylander.

Happening in Worcester County. The darkey from Nassawadox, who some weeks ago stole Mr. Gilpin Figg's horse and carriage, now lies in jail awaiting some one to go his bail for the action of the grand jury. We think his next ride will be furnished by the State.—Snow Hill Shield.

Mrs. Hales, wife of Mr. Matthew Hales, died at her residence near Snow Hill, on Wednesday night, October 21st, after a lingering illness of consumption. She leaves a son and a daughter, and a son-in-law. The remains were interred in the M. E. Cemetery on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. E. L. Eldridge, her pastor, assisted by Rev. Jas. R. Campbell, officiating.

The Sunday-school convention for this county, which began its session on Friday afternoon of last week and adjourned on last Sunday evening, was a decided success throughout. The exercises were of a very interesting character, and large audiences were in attendance at each session. The speeches by the various ministers was the chief feature of the convention and the audience seemed to enjoy them immensely.—Snow Hill Shield.

The proprietors of our race track talk of being a fence around it. We hope they will be able to raise the money for this purpose, because we see in it the beginning of an enterprise that ought to be conducted successfully in Pocomoke City—an agricultural fair. After the track is fenced in our business men may take a notion to form a stock company and erect exhibition buildings throughout. The exercises were of a very interesting character, and large audiences were in attendance at each session. Deaths Here and There in Delaware. Ex-Gov. Wm. H. Ross has advertised all his personal property and two farms near Seaford for sale on November 11th. It is said he intends removing from the State in a short time.—Delaware Democrat.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has put in a very fine restaurant at the station at Harrington. The restaurant is in that part of the building formerly occupied by the D. & P. Express, and is a fine and well-appointed structure.

Several of our citizens who own land along the new railroad line are preparing to plant a great deal of fruit this fall. Sixty thousand blackberry plants are to be set out on one tract, and thousands of strawberry plants and peach trees will follow.—Loyal Gazette.

The Methodist parsonage at Cambridge was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night about 12 o'clock. Nearly all the furniture was burned. The pastor, Rev. W. E. Corliss, lost his whole library, including his sermons. It is thought the fire originated in the cook house from a box of ashes.—Loyal Gazette.

John P. Gorman, a niece of ex-Gov. James P. Gorman, was united in matrimony to Mr. Thomas Gorman, a member of the Philadelphia firm of Carey, Gorman & Gorman. The ceremony took place in the City of Philadelphia on Tuesday morning at half past seven, Rev. John L. McKim of the City being officiating.—Johns River Journal.

Governor Stockley offers a reward of $500 for the capture of Charles Robinson, the colored ruffian who tried to commit an outrage, October 3, on a white woman living in the lower end of Blackbird hundred. Robinson is very black, is about 160 pounds, and is of medium size and height. It is said that he lived near Millington in Maryland, not long ago.—Onancock Virginian.
