ROSA MOORE, Postmaster.

SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1893.

There seems to be a decided sentiment among the leading party men of this county for an early convention.

The belief is that the democratic primaries will be held about the 24th of June, and the county convention, to nominate a county ticket, and name delegates to the State and Judicial conventions, as soon thereafter as practicable, probably the 27th of June.

It is generally conceded that the county will send delegates to the State convention favorable to the renomination of State Comptroller Smith.

So far local politics has been discussed very little. The only officers to be voted for are legislators, county commissioners, sheriff and county surveyor.

For these positions there are so far but few avowed candidates.

The Presbyterian General Assembly, sitting in Washington, D. C. Wednesday night sustained the charge of heresy made by the New York Presbytery against Dr. Briggs.

By a large majority the Assembly voted that Dr. Briggs' new position in orthodox and recently assumed attitude toward the doctrines of the Presbyterian church disqualified him as a member of her body.

It was not for his own sake that Dr. Briggs submitted to the indignities of a trial, but it was for the good of his church he sincerely believed.

He hoped to convince his brethren of what he called errors in the Presbyterian doctrine, but the majority would not be convinced and answered by charging him with heresy.

Dr. Briggs is dejected and sad, for all the love, faith and reverence he once possessed for his church he can no longer conscientiously cherish.

New religious thoughts and principles are taking the place of the old, and who shall be the judge as to which is right, Dr. Briggs or the body that convicted him of heresy.

"I believe that fifty years from now," said Frank G. Ellet, of Flint, Mich., "we will see that Dr. Briggs was sent from God to make the Church evangelical.

The reforms in all ages have antagonized the Church. I believe he is opening a door out of which may come a broad evangelical Presbyterian Church, which we have not now.

The Confederate President Jefferson Davis remains removed from New Orleans, and last Wednesday returned in Hollywood Cemetery, in the Confederate Capital. The New York Herald in describing the ceremony said:

"The services at the grave, while of the simplest nature, were impressive. While the family and the guard of honor were taking their places around the grave the Stenwall Brigade Band, of Staunton, played a funeral dirge arranged for this occasion, the Rev. William Mumford, formerly a Confederate colonel, read a few short selections, of Scripture and the Rev. Dr. Moses D. Topp, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, whose blockade running to England during the war to obtain Bibles for the Confederate soldiers forms an interesting chapter of Confederate history, with uplifted hand, offered prayer.

Woman Suffrage in Wyoming. Cheyenne Leader says: It would probably be perfectly true to say that the effect of female suffrage is negative rather than positive in most of its qualities, so far as this State is concerned.

Like everything else in human affairs, the realization never quite comes up to the anticipation. In some of the more sparsely settled sections it has worked unqualified good; in other quarters the good done has been more questionable.

Nobody seriously claims that it has worked all the benefits claimed for it by theoretical woman suffragists. If it did the millennium would be attained. It has had an effect something in influencing nominations, but mainly operates against men who are unkind to their families, though good invariably. As a rule, the women care little for practical politics, nor has it brought about any extraordinary moral reforms, principally because the women are seldom a unit upon any public question any more than the men are.

From Friend to Friend. Goes the story of the excellence of Hood's Sarsaparilla and what it has accomplished, and this is the strongest advertising which is done on behalf of this medicine. We endeavor to call attention to what Hood's Sarsaparilla is and what it will do, but it has done far more important and far more potent. Its unequalled record of cures is true to conviction those who have never tried Hood's Sarsaparilla that it is an excellent medicine.

Approves of the visit of the Spanish Infanta to this country, the following from the Annapolis Standard humorously describes the interest that is felt in Montana in the royal guest:

"Ever since the announcement of Prince Eoballe's proposed visit to Montana the set-tooled, elegant and erudite Helena Independent has been lowering the altitude of its vast, dipping into its copy of Cervantes and industriously brushing up the Spanish with a view not only of filling the Infanta with an adequate sense of the greatness and grandeur of Montana, its inexhaustible gold and silver and precious stones, its boundless harvests, its countless flocks and herds, its mighty and majestic mountains, its firmaments of forests, the solemn splendor of its scenery, and all that; but also, and more especially, of bringing her mind to a quick and mastering realization of the fact that here in the very heart of the far wild West is a city whose people she could meet in terms of social equality; that here in Helena, albeit a city dead in some respects and drooping in others, for all the world just like her own Madrid, she would find the politeness and polished amenities, the gracious gentilities—all the punctilious niceties of speech and action that she left behind her at her gay and glittering court that here, in short, she would have upon her a city of elegance and refinement, a people of culture, profoundly versed, among an illimitable wealth of other things, in Castilian lore and literature; up to Cervantes, Calderon, Don Quixote, Lope de Vega, Lopez de Ayala, and the rest of that noble, brilliant and fascinating outfit; singing her delicious Spanish love songs to mandolin accompaniments, and whenever occasion required, respectfully introducing the soft sweet language of the Hispania and yanking the very stuffing out of its magnificent vocabulary.

This being its purpose, its hope and its inspiration, the chivalric Independent fell down gasping at the door yesterday at the discovery that, owing to a monstrous and merciless bull on the part of the enrolling clerks of the legislature, the motto on the great seal of Montana is "Oro y Plata," which it freely translates into "Pray for silver," instead of the regulation thing "Oro y Plata." We cast aside the Independent's undignified and irrelevant suggestion that it may be well enough to let "oro" instead of "oro" stand for the theory that silver needs praying for. "Oro" may be very good Latin, but isn't good Spanish for "pray," and the Lord would never answer the prayers of a people who had the motto in such a slipshod shape as that.

What is to be done? Shall the Infanta be delicately notified that Montana is not quite ready to receive her, and shall the Governor call an extra session at once and have the error rectified? Assuredly, it will never do to let the Princess come within gunshot of the seal in its present condition. We agree with the Independent that only the purest Castilian must be used in the presentation of the Standard as itself a very large and excellent choice stock of the real unadulterated article, which has been saving up for the express purpose. Adverts errando. No one looks at the motto on the seal or on the motto on the seal, especially de negus. Oerdaed as yerdie. Mas vale saber que habere.

We defy the esteemed independent or any other competent critic to attack the motto of that Spanish. And three selections are only a sample of what we can do when we want to. There are plenty more where they come from, in the back part of the unabridged dictionary. And the independent editor, who so confidently wrote to Estaban Gonzalez in relation to the edit of Nante: "O Hutcho come off yo percho."

Judge Field May Retire. Washington, May 26.—There is a rumor or apparently authentic report to the effect that Justice Field and Harlan of the Supreme Court of the United States are going to resign. Justice Field is the senior member of the court, both in years and in length of service. He was born November 4, 1816, and is therefore nearly 77 years old. He was appointed to the bench by President Lincoln, in 1863. He is entitled to retire pay.

One of the reports in connection with his retirement, and which is to the effect that he will resign absolutely for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Stanford. Senator Stanford's term does not expire until 1897, but he is in bad health and not sure to serve his term out. In that case Judge Field might be able to return almost immediately to the Senate. It is said that should be his ambition he would have the support of the Senate, which means the powerful Southern Pacific Railroad influence.

It would be an odd proceeding for a Republican Senator to resign to make a place for a Democrat, but personal and business considerations might prevail to bring it about.

It is said that President Cleveland wanted him to retire during his former administration, but that he increased Judge Field so that he quarrelled with the President, refusing absolutely to give up his place on the bench either by retirement or resignation. It is alleged that this was the cause of the coolness which existed between the two during the latter part of Mr. Cleveland's first administration. During the early part of that administration Judge Field practically controlled the political appointments of the court.

At one time during President Harlan's administration Judge Field wanted to retire and so expressed himself. His party friends persuaded him to forego that desire for the good of the party. Should he retire now he would, of course be succeeded by a Democrat.

If he retires it is thought to be certain that Secretary Gresham will succeed him on the bench. A seat on the Supreme Bench has long been an ambition of Judge Gresham and this would give him an opportunity to gratify it. In the event of a vacancy in the office of Secretary of State it is thought it would be filled by the appointment of the Hon. Edmund J. Phelps, ex-Minister to England and at present one of the counsel of this country in the Bering sea controversy.

Judge Field was one of the California Argonauts. His career has been an eventful one, stormy at times, though running in peaceful channels for many years. His first office was that of alcalde of a mining camp in the exciting days of placer mining in the Golden State. The office was one combining the functions of Mayor and Justice of the Peace. He was appointed to the Supreme Bench by President Lincoln as a war Democrat, and largely for the political reason that it helped to save California to the Union, and largely for the judicial reason that he was versed in the civil law which is to the Latin countries south of us, where the common law is to us.

While Representative Brittan was absent last week from home some fellow took it into his head to help himself to some of Mr. Brittan's fine chickens, in the raising of which the Congressman is quite an expert. His colored man, Parrell Handy, however, was wakened, ran out with a gun and let go one barrel at the thief when he dropped the rooster, which he held in his hand, and jumping over a high fence, Parrell let go the other barrel at him but failed to bring him down, and he escaped.

John Jewett, a colored brakeman on the N. Y. P. & N. railroad, while attempting to board his train at Westover was caught between the depot platform and the moving train. Capt. Gaekins, of the Virginia State factory force, has withdrawn from Pocomoke sound and the crabbers have pursued their work there since un molested. Capt. Reed, of the Virginia police, however has fired several times in the Tangier sound. The crabs are worthless if they are not taken within six hours after they have shed their shell, and to hinder these crabbers in their work causes loss to them and no profit to Virginia.

In pursuance of a call by the town commissioners of Crisfield, a meeting was held Wednesday night to nominate candidates for the board. Sidney R. Bight and Webster Ewell were nominated. It is expected that the contest will be sharp as the belt is demanding a representative.

DORCHESTER COUNTY. The Editor of the Democrat and News who has just returned from the World's Fair says: "We have had a view of the fair and the West with its wide expanse of land, but in none of them did we see any that exceeds those of our best Eastern Shore counties, or of Frederick, in the Western part of the State. Where our friends in the West have the advantage of us in raising their crops with less expense, as they do not have to put on so much manure or fence so extensively."

CAROLINE COUNTY. Mr. John W. Knotts, Jr., a member of mercantile and fruit packing firm of Knotts & Thompson, Hillsborough, Caroline county, died Tuesday morning of typhoid fever, aged thirty-one years. He was a son of John W. Knotts, a wealthy farmer of Talbot county, and was four years ago married a daughter of the late Henry S. Fisher.

TALBOT. EASTON, May 30.—The State central committee for Talbot county met here today, and decided by a vote of 2 to 1 not to call the primaries till some time in July or August. This was contrary to Senator Gibson's wishes. This is favorable to the opposing faction, and it looks like Joseph B. Seth and J. Frank Turner would join forces and endeavor to capture the delegateship, and to nominate a Senator and a member of the House of Delegates.

Worcester. Rev. Wilmer Jorgace, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Berlin, Worcester county, is making great efforts to repair and improve the place of worship, in which he has been succeeded by Mr. E. S. Farbach, secretary of the board of trustees. Mr. L. S. Quillin and others.

Will Dick Meet Post's Fate Also? We regard the Hon. Hoke Smith as directly responsible for the failure of the Hon. Pod Dinkme to obtain the office for which his big Georgian heart has yearned for many months. Both of the Georgia Senators favored the appointment of the Hon. Pod Dinkme as United States Marshall for the Northern district of that state. The Hon. Hoke Smith favored the appointment of another candidate, and the contest was so vigorously waged on both sides that, justice to himself, Mr. Cleveland was obliged to select a third man for the post. The Hon. Hoke therefore gained victory; he merely pulled the Hon. Pod down. If the Hon. Hoke Smith had kept his paw off, or had united with the Senators in support of Pod, the Northern admirers of that distinguished statesman would have experienced this bitter disappointment.

The Hon. Dink Botz has been playing an astute but strictly honorable game. It is a still hunt with him. At the psychological moment, the Hon. Dink Botz will undoubtedly come to the front with a respectful claim for recognition; and the office for which he and his friends file their request will be an office suited to the eminent talents of the hohlogga statesman, and to the importance of his services to Mr. Cleveland and to the democratic party.

Now will the Hon. Hoke Smith retire? Will he adopt underhand means to thwart his services to Mr. Cleveland and to the legitimate ambition of his old collaborator and colleague in Georgia? It seems incredible, but we await events. Those whom the gods mean to destroy they first bring to ruin, and crass ingratitude is one of the most destructive forms of madness.—N. Y. Sun.

Good Family Medicines

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills. "I regard Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills as the very best family medicines, and we are never without them."

A Delicate Woman and began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla three years ago for that tired feeling. It built me up so quickly and so restfully that the difference between me and my former self is so great that I can hardly believe it. I feel like a new woman, and have always had great faith in it. I will try it for my own sake, and it does seem good to me to tell how highly I prize it. I feel like a new woman. Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills. Act Like a Charm. I take pleasure in recommending these medicines to my friends, but I believe it people who will keep Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills at hand as we do, much sickness and suffering would be prevented. A Terrible Habit. "We were once troubled with the thought while you walked along some street, and Charles told me that he thought you ought not to step on the cracks that separate the flagstones of the pavement or the boards of the walk? You have been doing it ever since you were a child. That is the meanest habit to form. Cigarette smoking is bad, and cigars are expensive and so bad also. Tobacco chewing is also a bad habit, and it is killing, but the crack dodging habit is the worst of all. If I could exchange my habit for anything that would be better when I walk along the streets for any one of those habits—providing I didn't possess all of them already—I would do it instantly."

"I will start out on a morning for a pleasant stroll, just to see the beauty of nature, and unconsciously I will begin to step over all cracks. Then I will accidentally step on one—and all my prospective pleasure is gone—simply disappearing as if by magic. I will begin to think that I am a crack dodger, and I have stopped on a crack. I have started for home of a nighttime fairly tired and conscious of doing wrong, and I am putting to enjoy a long, sound sleep. Again I fall into the desire to avoid stepping on a crack, and I am in the same predicament. If I succeed in avoiding all of them, I rest beautifully, but if not then I go home and have a restless, nervous sleep in which there is no satisfaction whatever. Of all the diabolical mental impressions that go to break up a man's happiness and peace of mind this one mental habit is the worst. It is the most commensurate that any evil genius could inflict on a man with."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Swedish Islanders and Their Ties. When a Kanaka feels a bit out of sorts he imagines that he has not been diligent enough in his devotions to some particular god. He immediately procures a bunch of straw and something in the nature of a comforting drink, and after a short prayer to his mountain or river deity he murmurs apologetically, "Here's your good or 'Heav'n's your drink' as the case may be. Then he devours the solid or liquid himself. If the Kanaka's sickness is increased, the real is apparent. If sickness still creeps over him, he turns to the Kahuna. One of the guild is immediately hunted up and approached with a bunch of straw and a pig. The Kanaka dilates upon his infirmities, and the Kahuna begins preparing to drive out the sickness or the evil spirit.

The patient is stripped and laid flat, and with a bunch of it leaves the Kahuna rubs him all over, murmuring meaningless words, and the patient's Kanaka gets well, the Kahuna's influence is increased. If the Kanaka dies, he was a doomed man anyhow, and the Kahuna did his best. The Kahuna, as patronized a Kahuna nowadays do it coverly, and the Kahuna keep under cover.—Honiolua Cor. Chicago Tribune.

An English Duke Receives a Tip. The English journals mention an amusing episode of a pilgrimage to Rome. Just after the last train which brought the pilgrims back to London had entered the city, the tiny middle-aged, bald-headed man, who was so difficultly trying to find a carriage with a middle-aged man, simply dressed, approached and offered his services. "Thinking she had to do with one of the employees, the good woman gave him her money, which she had intended to carry to the end of the station and then, halting a cab, placed the old lady and her impediments within, and giving the driver the address she had indicated, called to him to drive on. As the carriage was about to roll off the woman placed a few trumperies in the hand of the man who had rendered her the service.

He was simply the Duke of Norfolk. The duke pocketed the trumperies and the adventure very original. Moreover, it was the first time in his life that he had ever earned any money by his own labor.

English Common Law an Enemy of Women. That curious compilation of judicial and legislative wisdom, the English common law, comes down to us from the feudal days when those forming the militant half of the human race were to be properly the holders of all property, because they could defend their rights to it in battle, and therefore it discriminated in every possible way against the "distaff line." This has been the underlying impulse of every decision in just to vindicate the common law which made the father sole guardian of the children was a survival of the common law.—Boston Woman's Journal.

ELIUS E. JACKSON,
WILLIAM L. LAWE,
THOS. W. B. WHITE,
Democratic Central Committee for Wicomico County.

In this week's issue of the Advertiser will be found a call for the Democratic primaries to be held Saturday July 1st, and a county convention, the following Wednesday, July 5th. (Tuesday being the Fourth.)

One of the objects of that convention will be to nominate a county ticket. Who is to be nominated is a matter that concerns the people of the county?

The Advertiser favors a legislative ticket that can be depended upon to support an assessment bill with all the essential features of the Hayes bill of 1892. Every species of property in the State should be taxed, real and personal personal property should be reassessed at frequent intervals, as it is likely to disappear from the tax books in changing possession. Besides, it is continually being created. Stocks, bonds and other evidences of property are continually passing through the hands of capitalists. It is said by the tax dodgers that this class of property will not be taxed. We have failed so far to see why a four per cent bond should not be taxed as much as agricultural lands that do not pay three per cent.

The Advertiser not only wants the legislature to pass such a law, but sees the necessity of prompt action in the early part of the session, so that in case the governor sees fit to veto again such a measure, it may be passed over his head.

We need a substantial reform in our tax laws and a revision of our tax lists. The Advertiser, too, is in favor of free text books in our public schools, and liberal appropriations for the maintenance of schools, both by the state and the county. More than half the households of the county burdened with purchasing text books is heavier than the tax bill.

It is no excuse to say that the state furnishes the other facilities. It is a known fact that the school facilities now furnished cannot be enjoyed to their fullest extent for lack of text books. Aside from the burden upon parents of large families, to purchase text books, school work in this county is actually seriously hindered. The service cannot be efficient without free text books.

The Advertiser is therefore in favor of a bill providing for free text books, and the passage of it in the early days of the session that it may be passed over the governor's veto in case His Excellency sees fit to exercise that power as he did in 1892, even after the appropriation for the purpose had been made.

The Advertiser favors necessary state provision for the insane. The legislature of '92 passed an act providing for increasing the state's facilities, but the Governor took it upon himself to veto the bill. It has become an absolute necessity that some provision be made. It is the duty of the state to make these provisions and not require the counties separately to burden themselves, beyond measure, to suitably provide for their insane.

The insane should neither be put with criminals nor paupers, but should be put under medical treatment and cared for by trained nurses. They are patients whom God has left to our care. The state must do its duty towards these wards as it should towards any other.

It is no excuse to say, let the counties take care of their insane. For then, specialists in medicine and trained nurses would be out of the question.

Lastly, the Advertiser favors improving our public roads.

The Advertiser has no names to suggest, but will heartily support any party ticket made up of men pledged to these principles.

A SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS.
President Cleveland has expressed a determination to call a special session of congress, between the first and fifteenth of September, for the purpose of considering the financial condition of the country and the subject of tariff reform.

Upon the subject he has given out the following statement:
While there has been no mystery or secrecy in regard to my intention in this matter, I think it not amiss that our people should be informed authoritatively that the time is at hand when their representatives in Congress will be called upon to deal with the financial condition which is the only menace to the country's welfare and prosperity. It is well for the people to take up the subject of the financial condition of the country at this time, and to make their own conclusions as to the merits of a financial policy which obliges us to purchase idle silver bullion, with gold taken from our reserves. One does not need the eyes of a financier to see that this gold thus abstracted from the government's stock is eagerly seized by other nations for the purpose of strengthening their credit at our expense.

It does not need the aid of a statesman to detect the danger that awaits upon the continuance of this operation. Already the timidity of capital is painfully apparent, and none of us can fail to see that fear and apprehension in monetary circles will ultimately bring suffering to every humble home in our land.

"I think that between now and the meeting of congress much depends upon the action of those engaged in financial operations and business enterprises. Our vast national resources and credit are abundantly sufficient to justify them in the most faith and confidence. If, instead of being frightened they are conservative, and instead of gloomily anticipating impending disaster they contribute their share of hope and steady confidence, and at the same time protect their own interest. Things just now needed are coolness and calmness in financial circles and study and reflection among our people.

That was a ray report the Laurel (Del.) Times concerning the Philadelphia murder in Wicomico county last week. The tragedy, horrible in reality, was magnified to a degree that would curdle the blood of the murderer himself, should he be able to read it.

Such reckless and irresponsible matter is a discredit to a creditable and self-respecting journal. The wonder is that the Times does not employ truthful and painstaking representatives whose reports may be relied upon as being approximately correct.

Aside from the murder itself the Times report contained no particle of fact. Our great dailies cannot be too careful of the rectitude of their country representative. The standing of a city paper in a community is influenced in no small degree by the reputation of the local reporter.

John S. Wirt, State Senator from Cecil county, was defeated for re-nomination in the county convention, held at Elkton last Tuesday, by Mr. Charles Croker.

Mr. Wirt is a lawyer man, and built his political career upon the Rock of Reform, but it was as regular that he fell. The young democracy of Cecil were his constituents. In the legislature Mr. Wirt acted in opposition to some of the most important measures his following approved and recommended, and which he had been chosen to champion. His attitude toward the re-assessment bill is a case in point. His successor is a strong party man and has experience in the field of politics.

MARYLAND POLITICS.

Democratic Central Committee Will Meet In Baltimore June 21st.

The democratic State central Committee will be called to meet in Baltimore on Thursday, June 22. The meeting will be held at the Carrollton Hotel and notices to this effect will be sent out by Secretary Murray Vandiver. The committee will fix a day for holding the State convention for nominating a candidate for comptroller, which is the only State office to be filled at the coming election. It is expected that State convention will meet in September, when the present comptroller, Marion DeK. Smith will be nominated without opposition.

The State committee will also be called upon to fix the time and place for holding judicial conventions in several circuits. A chief and an associate judge are to be elected to fill the places now held by Judges Henry Page and Henry Lloyd. The fourth circuit chief judge is to be chosen to the place now held by Judge A. Hunter Boyd, who succeeded Judge Richard H. Alvey, resigned. In the fifth circuit Chief Judge Charles B. Roberts and Associate Judge James Howell now hold the places.

Literary Note.
Book News for June has for Philadelphia an added interest in the portrait of Dr. Horace Howard Furness, the detached frontispiece for this month. The New Variorum Shakespeare, edited by Dr. Furness, has made his name known in every land where Shakespeare is loved. In the sketch of the life-work of Dr. Furness we read of an intended honor to our countryman proposed by the Birthplace Trustees of Stratford-on-Avon, at their last annual meeting in May.

The usual news notes of the book world's doings are supplemented this month by a letter from "Ermon," Berlin, Germany. Mr. Dole's Boston Letter, Mr. Williams' gossip article on new books and authors, entertain and enlighten the reading people who know book news as their friends. The following is a list of this month's books given nearly twenty pages and includes a number of the newest French books to be had in this country. The books are all by authors whose new book illustrations, and by collation of poetry and newly published volumes of verse.

Collecting Chinese Coins.
"The earliest Chinese coins that I have heard of," said Consul Bedloe, "date from the dynasty which ruled from 305 to 207 B. C."

"From that time until today these useful little coins have been used by every monarch, no matter whether he was an emperor of the entire country or king of one of the petty principalities into which from time to time the Chinese empire was broken. They have been over 2,000 years in use, and are still in circulation in the various thrones, royal and imperial. In addition to these regular issues, such as they may be called, there have been special issues from time to time, and also special local issues. A wealthy mandarin in Canton is said to have the finest collection extant, comprising 20,000 specimens of different kinds."

The cost increases as you go backward in time. The last of the coins that we secured for their nominal face value. Those of the eighteenth and seventeenth centuries bring from 1 cent to 10 cents each. Those of the sixteenth century bring $100 each when in fine state of preservation. —Philadelphia Bulletin.

Artificial Maple Sugar.
Deceptions or extracts of the wood or bark of trees are frequently used for flavoring sirups or sugars. Different extracts differ in taste. One of the best is said, yields an extract that will impart the flavor of the maple, and Dilly's method of producing artificial maple sugar is as follows: Make an extract of hickory bark or wood by allowing water to percolate through the same. The bark or wood may be ground, or sawdust therefrom used. Hot water may be used, or the material boiled in water. The strength of the hickory extract. It is said the effect of the extract is to produce a flavor that renders the sirup indistinguishable from the natural maple sirup. The sirup is boiled down, a sugar resembling maple sugar in taste is produced. —London Public Opinion.

Shot Through the Air.
Trenton, June 6.—Prof. Charles Richmond of Springfield, Mass., made a fatal leap from a balloon yesterday afternoon when 1,000 feet above the earth. The force he invented refused to work and in 20 seconds he shot into a mud pond and passed from sight.

The wings comprised an arrangement not unlike the parachute excepting that instead of the umbrella-like covering there were but two sections of the covering, that worked on a hinge and were controlled by ropes from the aeronaut while sitting on the bar of the trapeze.

The aeronaut was extremely nervous during the preparation for the descent. The start had hardly been made when the trappings became entangled in an electric wire and it was several minutes before the balloon was released. This added much to the confusion of the balloonist. The balloon shot skyward at a rapid rate. The first intimation that the wrong of people below had anything being wrong was the great height to which the balloon arose.

A few rolls of the hot air bag indicated that the aeronaut was free, and the crowd cheered. The wings worked slowly, one fell limp, and then the other speed, and collapsed, and at once the man could be seen cutting through the air at a noticeable rate of speed. He plunged into the water, where his dead body was found an hour later.

State Central Committee.

The State Central Committee met at Carrollton hotel Baltimore last Thursday for the purpose of fixing dates for the State Convention...

The committee was called to order promptly at noon by Chairman Compton in the Baltimore street parlor of the Carrollton hotel...

Secretary Vandiver called the roll. All the counties and legislative districts were represented, and out of a membership of 78, 65 were present.

Col. Louis V. Bagshaw of Frederick moved that the State Convention be called to meet in Baltimore on Wednesday, September 27 at noon. The motion was adopted. The convention will nominate a candidate for comptroller, and select a new State Central committee.

The following discussion of the following dates were fixed for the other conventions: First Judicial Circuit—Ocean City, September 6.

Fourth Judicial Circuit—Hagerstown, September 7. Fifth Judicial Circuit—Westminster, August 10.

The committee then adjourned subject to the call of the chairman, and the members were entertained at luncheon by C. H. Harrison Compton.

Ex-Gov. Jackson, Senator Toadvin, and H. L. D. Stanford, Esq., attended the meeting.

OUR NEIGHBORS. FROM WOODBRIDGE. FOCOMOCKE CITY, Md., June 19.—Fred Eckert narrowly escaped killing his wife's mother, Mrs. J. W. Silvertown, last night, thinking she was a burglar. About 3 a.m., Mr. Eckert was awakened by a noise and by his wife calling to him that there was "some one in the house."

Mr. Silvertown was at length restored to consciousness. She is in critical condition, but will probably recover. A large piece of the scalp was cut off. Had the blow fallen on the top or side of the head she would have been instantly killed.

The Peninsula Ledger says: The volume of business of the Pocomoke City National Bank is increasing daily. The deposits at the present time are larger than ever before in the history of that institution, being in the neighborhood of $100,000.

The Messenger says: The jail is without a prisoner; the deputy sheriff has a prisoner, the deputy sheriff has a job digging post-holes; the constable retails peas; and the town hall engaged at the cross-cut saw.

FROM ROBERTS. From Crisfield Leader of June 17th, News has just reached here that the Faculty and Trustees of Dickinson College, of Carlisle, Pa., have conferred the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws upon Hon. Thos. S. Holston. The degree of LL. D. upon Mr. Holston is a fitting tribute to a life of industry and scholarship. Coming as it does it is particularly gratifying to one people while he is struggling so valiantly with the Common Wealth and Federal Courts for the ancient rights of his State in Pocomoke Sound, under the Compact of 1785. We are sure Mr. Holston's many friends will be gratified at this recognition of the manly abilities of one of our distinguished citizens. The way out of the difficulty has, however, been accidentally discovered and the raising of chickens, and of flowers goes on harmoniously and successfully.

FROM ROBERTS. The barn and stables of County Commissioner Thomas R. Hubbard, of the Neck district, Dorchester county, were burned on Friday. Several carriages, a reaping machine and other contents were destroyed. The way out of the difficulty has, however, been accidentally discovered and the raising of chickens, and of flowers goes on harmoniously and successfully.

FROM ROBERTS. An irrepressible conflict has been going on for several years in Eastern Kent, raising a mother and other contents of the former delirious in raising chickens, the daughter in cultivating flowers, and as the mother's poultry necessarily had the range of the daughter's flower yard, her horticulture has not hitherto been very successful. The way out of the difficulty has, however, been accidentally discovered and the raising of chickens, and of flowers goes on harmoniously and successfully.

FROM ROBERTS. The lady who loves chicken raising is an enthusiast in experimenting with rare breeds and developing new ones. Experiments in making a cross between the long-legged Brahmas and the short-legged Dorkings were begun two or three years ago and continued until this year when the product is a new breed of chickens, each of which has one long and one short leg. They get along all right, having, to be sure, a very limping gait, but when they undertake to scratch in the earth they fall down, and are entirely harmless when around flower beds.

FROM ROBERTS. Dr. W. J. Davis is a prominent physician in Des Moines, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May, while in Des Moines, on route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of cholera. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for the past seventeen years, and knowing its reliability, he procured a 25 cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet introduced to traveling often produce a diarrhoea. Every one should procure a bottle of this Remedy before leaving home. For sale by B. K. Truitt & Sons, Drugists.

FROM ROBERTS. Edwin Booth's will was filed in New York. After numerous bequests to relatives and friends the residue of his estate is left in trust for his daughter. The personal is valued at $400,000.

FROM ROBERTS. Senator Ireland Stanford of California, died at his home in San Francisco early Wednesday morning. He was a native of New York state and had amassed a handsome estate in the West.

FROM ROBERTS. A Small Doctor Bill. Fifty cents is a small doctor bill, but that is all it will cost you to cure any ordinary case of rheumatism. If you use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. The first application will quiet the pain. 50 cent bottles for sale by R. K. Truitt & Sons.

BeWARE OF Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury.

A mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it, through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is far too great to be trifled with. It is taken internally, acting directly upon blood and mucous surfaces of the system.

In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, acting directly upon blood and mucous surfaces of the system.

Act Like a Chaperon. I take pleasure in recommending these medicines to all my friends, for I believe if people would only keep Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills at hand as we do, much disease and suffering would be prevented. Mrs. L. TOWNE, Reading, Mass., Delaware.

Shawl of Fortune City's Best. The Duchess of Northumberland is the possessor of a shawl which was presented by King Charles X of France, and which cost half a million francs. It is manufactured from the fur of a species of marten and is so extremely fine and elastic that a single hair is scarcely perceptible to the naked eye. The spinning and weaving of this material and the production of a single shawl like the one referred to required a few thousand of cat skins and the labor of several years. The Duchess of Northumberland's shawl measures eight yards square but is so fine and elastic that it can, if necessary, be compressed into a large coffee cup.

She is raising a brood of young, which doubtless accounts for her boldness.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

The Methodist Protestant and Trinity M. E. Church, South, held special services in honor of the Young Union.

Sunday the 18th inst. was observed as Children's Day in the Methodist Protestant church of this city.

In the morning the pastor, Rev. W. H. Stone, delivered a sermon on foreign missions to an attentive audience. The evening service was exclusively devoted to the children.

At seven o'clock the church yard was filled with people anxiously waiting for the doors to open. Half hour later occupied, extra seating was brought in but not sufficient to meet the demand of the occasion. Promptly at 8 o'clock the singing indicated the time for opening the exercises had arrived.

A very sweet organ voluntary was rendered by Miss Edna Sheppard, who presided at the organ through the evening. Then followed responsive reading of Scripture, and the Lord's prayer in concert.

The recitations were delivered in highly commendable style by Willie Sheppard, Walter Sheppard, Virgil Gilbert, May Collins, Edna Windsor, Bessie Traylor, and Carl Brewington.

"The Nations Plea" formed a very interesting part of the evening's program. Messrs Elmo Malone, Cora Fooks, Bertha Sheppard, Sadie Malone, Cora Parker, and Georgia White represented in costumes China, Japan, India, Africa, Turkey and North America Indian. Each representative recited a paragraph in reference to the people represented, while all recited in concert "The Plea of the Nations in Darkness" for the light of the Gospel.

The church was beautifully decorated. Over the pulpit was an arch trimmed with evergreens bearing the motto "The World for Christ," in large scarlet letters. The recess was filled with choice plants, palms, ferns and hydrangea which formed an excellent background for the great profusion of beautifully tinted plants which filled the front of the platform. The marble pulpit, over which the recitations were read in graceful manner, blended appropriately with the bank of geranium and cut flowers at its base, brought out many expressions of admiration. The collection proved the appreciation of the audience. The success of the occasion should be credited largely to the untiring efforts of the pastor.

Mr. Hermon.

Sunday afternoon was children's occasion at Hermon M. P. Church. Our correspondent informs us that "the church was packed. Many who were not fortunate enough to get in the church contented themselves with such a view as might be gained at the windows. The program, which was the same as that rendered at M. P. Church in Salisbury, was pleasingly rendered. The collection amounted to $23.92."

Trinity Church.

Mr. James Cannon, Superintendent of the Sunday school, had pleasant and encouraging words for the children at the special Children's Day services last Sunday.

There were special services morning and evening. Rev. T. N. Potts, the pastor, addressed the congregation in the morning. The most interesting part was the evening service.

"Lights, Earthly and Heavenly" was a very pretty exercise performed by the children. "Bright Emblems" was another participated in by twenty scholars, who marched to the platform to the music of the organ, some bearing lanterns, some bearing signs, some carrying palms, some with gill nets, and some with wheels, while a group carried baskets filled with colored, glass representing jewels. Each child recited a verse or paragraph appropriate to the part he or she represented, using the emblem carried to illustrate the subject.

The infant class rendered very prettily a motion song entitled "Upward, Growing Upward," motioning with their tiny hands meanwhile. There were responsive readings led by the superintendent, a recitation by Miss Ruby Dorman, a solo by Miss Virgie Gohly, and numerous songs by the school.

The church was handsomely decorated with flowers and potted plants. In the rear of the platform stood a large arch, covered with evergreens, and on either side was a Pyramid of potted plants and blooming flowers. In front of the chancel rail were two large pyramids of beautiful cut flowers.

The exercises were among the most interesting of the Children's Day services held this year.

The collections for the day are to be devoted to the purchase of a new library for the Sunday school.

The Department. "War, Famine and Pestilence," Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" combined, with the republican party thrown in, never threatened the life and happiness of the American people as a mysterious epidemic now threatens the canine family of Salisbury. The mortality is appalling.

At eventide the lusty car goes out on a gay and festive sport to regale his vitals at the neighboring still-barrels. This nocturnal festival, so popular with his race, is accompanied with a continuous chorus delectable to the auditory senses of tired and restless humanity. The glorious June morning dawns upon a corpse, the contorted visage of which mutely proclaims the agony of the last moments of mortality.

Somebody's pup is no more! In some cases the doomed creature drags himself home after being seized by the malady and takes leave of the world on his master's threshold, but in many instances the final summons comes so quickly that poor doggie lies down and dies on the highway where our policeman finds all that remains of the late lamented (?). Some mourners six or eight bodies of those who were among the most lusty in the service of the night before, are found stiff and cold, "unkilled and unsmung." Many of those which have "gone before" are strangers in town, but all are not from the country. The gay and sportive "Jack Kennery," and the dignified and courtly "Watch Rider" are among the town gentry whose "toes turned to the daisies" a few nights ago, and two lads are left behind to "mourn their loss."

In spite of all the mystery (?) the community wears a complacent smile, and one dear brother has publicly said "let the good work go on."
