THE PEACH BROWNE.

To those contemplating a trip to the mountains in search of health and pleasure, Deer Park on the crest of the Allegheny Mountains, 3,000 feet above the sea level, offers such varied attractions as a delightful atmosphere during both day and night, pure water, smooth, winding roads through the mountains and valleys, and the most picturesque scenery in the Allegheny range. The hotel is equipped with all adjacent conducive to the entertainment, pleasure and comfort of its guests.

The surrounding grounds, as well as the hotel are lighted with electricity. Six miles distant on the same mountain summit is Oakland, the twin resort of Deer Park, and equally as well equipped for the entertainment and accommodation of its guests. Both resorts are upon the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, have the advantages of its splendid Vestibled Limited Express for the entertainment and accommodation of its guests.

Resolved, That a committee of five members be appointed by this meeting, whose duty shall be to collect and disseminate such information as will induce the public to visit all accessible points likely to become clamorous, collect information and make all proper arrangements for supplying such points by inducing agents to come here or to have the fruit shipped to them to be sold on commission or otherwise.

Resolved, That every fruit grower on the peninsula be earnestly requested to contribute one dollar for every thousand bushels of peaches he is raising for the purpose of carrying out these resolutions.

The following named gentlemen were elected to act as managers under the above resolutions: Col. Edward L. Martin, Seaford; Dr. Henry Ridgely and John Heibach, Dover; Col. Wilbur H. Burnite, Felton; and F. B. Cault, Sassafras.

The board of managers thus constituted met in Dover on the 17th inst., and organized by electing Col. E. L. Martin chairman, and Dr. Henry Ridgely treasurer. A. N. Brown, of Wyoming, was appointed secretary. In accepting the duties and responsibilities imposed upon them, the committee will give their best endeavors; but to accomplish the results desired, they should and must have the co-operation of all persons interested in the peach industry.

Resolved, That the best efforts be made to secure a supply of peaches for the market by purchasing direct from the grower. Where this is not desirable on the part of any dealer, he should be given the opportunity of reliable and responsible local dealers in the territory in which he is operating, through whom purchases may be made. To those preferring to consign their fruit to a list of reliable and responsible commission houses will be furnished, representing the entire peach consuming territory reached by Delaware and Maryland fruit; and effort will be made to secure the most favorable transportation facilities.

The benefit accruing to peach growers by these arrangements will be confined so far as possible to such persons who are contributors to this effort; but as our interests are identical, so should efforts be mutual, in order that benefits be distributed in the most equitable manner possible, being but one tenth of a cent per bushel tree when compared with the benefits that must accrue by a specific effort above indicated. It is hoped, therefore, that a hearty response will be given to this effort. Honorable and reliable gentlemen have been appointed at all shipping stations, who will canvass their respective territories, for the purpose of securing funds with which to enable the committee of managers to perform the work placed in their charge. Persons desiring further information can apply to members of the board or address the secretary.

Managing Committee of the peninsula Fruit Growers, Edward L. Martin, Seaford; Dr. Henry Ridgely, John Heibach, Dover; Wilbur H. Burnite, Felton; F. B. Cault, Sassafras, Md.; A. N. Brown, Secretary, Wyoming, Del.

The selection of Ex-Gov. Jackson, Senator Toadwin, Mr. Trull, clerk of the court and ex-Deputy W. L. Lewis to represent Wicomico county in the Judicial Convention which meets at Ocean City, Sept. 6th, to nominate a successor to Chief Judge Page and Associate Judge Lloyd, indicates that the county is to take a hand in the fight.

These men are known not only in the county and judicial district but throughout the State and the selection of them means that Wicomico county is to contest for the Chief Judgeship.

These men were elected by the convention for their prominence, and on account of their personal relations to Judge Holland.

The air has been filled with rumors of combinations and deals, now making him an "avored candidate," now denouncing the convention.

Through it all he has been silent, but the time has come when his friends of the county have taken charge of the matter and Judge Holland must yield to them.

The ADVERTISER has nothing to say of the candidacy of any one else, certainly nothing in disparagement.

Our position is, Wicomico will present the name of a thoroughly competent and experienced man, and asks the convention to favorably consider it.

Judge Holland's elevation to the Chief Judgeship, would be very gratifying to the people of Wicomico county.

The county ticket nominated by the convention seems to meet with very favorable comment.

The contest at the primaries Saturday preceding really shaped the ticket so completely that there was left but little for the convention to do.

There were fewer disappointments than usual among the unfortunate ones.

The Commissioner portion of the ticket is considered particularly strong.

What the Sherman Law Has Done.

According to a statement just prepared by the Treasury, as already mentioned in our Washington dispatches, the silver bought by the government under the Sherman law is worth fifty-five million dollars less than was paid for it.

In other words, the government has lost that enormous sum through its useless purchase.

That great loss is enough to damn the Sherman law, but it is insignificant compared with the widespread disaster brought upon the business and commercial interests of the country.

As the Herald has shown by actual figures the shrinkage of values on the New York Stock Exchange alone last year was several hundred million dollars and the depreciation in the value of wheat and corn two hundred and fifty millions, while the contraction of credits in all branches of finance, trade and industry has been simply incalculable.

No legislation ever passed by congress has proved so ruinous to the business interests of the country as the statute compelling the useless purchase and storage of silver. No law ever called for more prompt and unconditional repeal.

To Impeach Cleveland.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 4.—The people's party of Ohio met in convention here today and nominated this ticket:

For Governor, E. J. Bracken; Lieutenant-Governor, Milton D. Cooley; Attorney General, Col. J. H. Rhodes; Judge of Supreme Court, Capt. C. T. Clarke; dairy and food commissioner, Thomas N. Hickman; member of board of public works, Matthew Baber.

The platform is almost identical with that proposed by the Cuyahoga convention, and on national issues reaffirms the principles of the Omaha convention. It refers to the tariff issue as a sham, denounces both of the old parties for surrendering to the British bankers and Wall street agents, and demands municipal ownership of street railways, water and gas plants and all similar franchises.

Just before adjournment a delegate created a sensation by introducing a resolution calling upon Congress to impeach President Cleveland on the ground of high treason, in that he, as a representative of the British money power, is a traitor to the United States.

The resolution was received with wild cheers and adopted with unanimous consent.

What It Cost to Be a Prince.

There have been times when a court was splendid and nearly starving, and kings were magnificent who could have walked the position and felt the pangs of the Master of Ravenswood, but all that has passed away, probably forever. The prince of today who is to be magnificent at all, who is to be free in his movements, to take trains when he likes, to entertain like any other dignitary, to keep good horses and many of them, to show servants sufficient to secure that guests accustomed to luxury be not neglected, to travel when he pleases, to patronize art, to encourage charity, and to live when necessary among equal princes, as becomes the nation he represents, must pay away money at every turn and always be ready with more.

Everything costs from the special train which comes punctually and free from pressure to the rooms which loyal or hospitable crowding render exceptionally dear. It is all very well to speak of good management—and it is such that the prince of today must have, but no extent of good management will reduce the cost of any kind of magnificence or do away with the feeling of the innkeeper who charged a royal guest a franc apiece for eggs, not because eggs were scarce, but because the prince was heard of charged paid for an Indian Vicerey at a Paris hotel which would make Mr. Vanderbilt wince, and there is not an uneducated man in any land, who if a prince disputes his charges does not feel that the prince is a republican. Nor within limits is this feeling altogether unreasonable, for the demands of princes, which are usually only demands for freedom, upset the usual routine, just as the Queen's train through the Majestic has only a little extra security and some privacy, upon the routine traffic on the great railway by which she travels. Moreover, though extravagance is a vice, economy is often a fault, and one rather sympathetic with the king given by the noble who assisted Louis Philippe in his search after a lost sovereign by lighting bank note. State, in fact, in our day costs money, and it is as expensive to be a prince, if you live as a prince, as to be a spend thrift heir.—The Spectator.

Baltimore drawing.

The first six months of 1892 have been rapid progress in Baltimore. Not only have several important lines of cable and electric cars been opened to the public, but the city has enjoyed a building "boom" of no small proportions. The number of permits issued is greater than for the corresponding period last year, and the building law has made it necessary for builders to erect better houses. With the competition among rival real estate men has come an effort at beautifying the new structures, which is doing wonders for the good appearance of the city.

Property is also selling well and renting well, all things considered. In the more desirable places of residence tendency is upward. Rents are higher than they were a year ago, and property offered for sale is in closer relation to the commercial world is threatening and full of trouble.

The season at these popular resorts commences with the month of July. For full information as to hotel rates, rooms, etc., address George D. DeBible, Manager Deer Park, or Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland.

A Notable Gathering.

A letter from Westmoreland county, Va., says: "about the middle of this month there will be gathering of two old Virginia families in the state. The occasion will be the coming of the White and the Washingtons, the members of which will be Miss Agnes Witt, and Mr. George Washington, of Caroline county. The wedding will take place at the magnificent estate of the White family in Westmoreland county, and will be celebrated in St. Peter's Church, where Washington himself once worshipped. The gathering will be one of the most notable affairs of the summer."

The World's Record Broken.

KIRKWOOD, Del., July 4.—The world's records were broken on the Maple Valley Trotting Association's kite-shaped track at Kirkwood today. Saladin, owned and driven by Fred H. Johnson, of this city, paced a mile in 2:05 1/2, beating Mascot, owned by N. P. Taylor and driven by W. J. Andrews. Saladin's record was 2:09 1/2 and Mascot's 2:04, both made in exhibition races. The time of 2:05 1/2 made today beats the record for pacing a mile made by Guy in 1894. It comes close to breaking the 2:00 pace exhibition record of 2:05 1/2 made by Direct.

At the quarter pole Saladin led by four and a half lengths, but he broke and lost the race to Mascot. At the half-mile pole Mascot was two and a half lengths ahead. At the three-quarter pole, he recovered and won by five lengths. The first half mile was against the wind. The quarters were: 30 1/2, 1:24, 2:00 1/2.

He Never Dared to Call Agassiz.

The man who prides himself upon the fact that he is recovering from his baldness says: "Yes I used to be miserably timid for a fact. And I remember when I was trying to cut a good figure with the mother of a certain young lady with whom I was much taken, and was doing the extremely attractive by putting aside a portiere for her to pass through a doorway, a button on my coat caught in her hair and I lifted her fall from nearly off her head. My feelings while I was unfastening that button can never be described by me and my horrible nervousness seemed to prolong the operation into hours. You have heard of things that run into a drowning man's mind. Well, I think about the same number crowded into mine. I knew that from that moment I dared hope for nothing from that quarter and my expectations were blasted forever. I never dared call on the young woman again."—Chicago Journal.

A Young Judge.

Judge Lewis Shay, who has just been elected judge of the Municipal Court of Everett, Wash., is a Washington city resident, where he has for three years with the Metropolitan Insurance Company. He was born in March, 1870, in Allegheny county, Pa., the eldest son of A. K. Shay and Julia Lewis Shay. He graduated at the National Law School in this city in the class '91. He was admitted to the bar at Charlottesville, Va., and then went to the Pacific coast, settling in Everett, Wash., on Puget sound. At the election last November he was elected justice of the peace on the democratic ticket, and has now been elected judge of the police court by the Everett board of aldermen. His election is attributed to his popularity in both political parties.—Washington Star.

Adaptability of American Women.

Wherever we meet the American woman—and we meet her everywhere, in the ranks of the English peerage and of the highest European aristocracy, as well as in more modest conditions—we are struck with that marvelous adaptability in which wise men see the sign of the superiority of a race or of a species. It is revealed notably by that good humor with which she accepts the numerous petty annoyances that every change of medium implies, and which put the best characters on trial.

She submits to them without effort and criticizes them without bitterness. She is, further, prepared for them by her education and does not expect to find everything easy. Then the necessity of manual labor does not seem to her like a degrading condition; at most only one or two generations separate her from the time when her grandmother kneaded the family bread in the primitive settlements. These stories are familiar to her and the lessons deduced from them are not discouraging or humiliating, for she is the daughter of a race of emigrants who have become a great people through work, energy and determination.

She has in this at her command a whole treasury of traditions from which she can draw without effort. We might say, in listening to these stories, that we were hearing one of those grandes dames of the past century, emigrants and poor, telling with pride in their memoirs how, to supply their wants, they worked in London or in Germany, utilizing their accomplishments and their correct taste, and making trimmings and embroidering robes with their own aristocratic hands.—The Popular Science Monthly.

Deer Park and Oakland.

To those contemplating a trip to the mountains in search of health and pleasure, Deer Park, on the crest of the Allegheny mountains, 3,000 feet above the sea level, offers such varied attractions as a delightful atmosphere during both day and night, pure water, smooth, winding roads through the mountains and valleys, and the most picturesque scenery in the Allegheny range. The hotel is equipped with all adjuncts conducive to the entertainment, pleasure and comfort of its guests.

The surrounding grounds, as well as the hotel are lighted with electricity. Six miles distant on the same mountain summit is Oakland, the twin resort of Deer Park, and equally as well equipped for the entertainment and accommodation of its guests. Both hotels are upon the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, have the advantages of its splendid vestibule limited Express trains between the East and West, and are most desirable resting places for the World's Fair tourist. Season Excursion tickets, good for return passage until October 31st, will be placed on sale at greatly reduced rates at all principal ticket offices throughout the country. One way tickets reading from St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Columbus, Chicago, and any point on B. & O. system to Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, or New York, or vice versa, are good to stop at either Deer Park or Oakland, and the time limit will be extended by agents at either resort upon application.

The season at these popular resorts commences with the month of July. For full information as to hotel rates, rooms, etc., address George D. DeBible, Manager Deer Park, or Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland.

A Valuable World's Fair Book.

The passenger department of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company has prepared for general distribution a new and complete pamphlet descriptive of the scenic and other attractive features of that road from New York to Chicago. This book should prove invaluable to those visiting the World's Fair. Its artistic cover, illustrations and reading matter is fully up to the high standard which has been fixed by the B. & O. for publications of its character. The scenery en route, which has gained for the B. & O. the right to be called the "Scenic Route," the public buildings at Washington, old Harper's Ferry, Luray Caverns, and other attractive points are faithfully portrayed. The value of the publication is increased by descriptions and illustrations of the principal buildings at the World's Fair. This book can be procured free of charge upon personal application to the ticket agents, B. & O. R. R. Co. or you can have it mailed to you by sending your name and address with five cents in stamps to Chas. O. Small, general passenger agent, Baltimore, Md. World's Fair tourists should bear in mind that the B. & O. is selling tickets at very low rates good going via Washington and returning via Niagara Falls.

It is said that a company of Wisconsin capitalists, among whom is Captain Alexander McDougall, the inventor of the whaleback steamer, is engaged in building up a town on the west side of Galveston bay, about eight miles from Galveston, which is likely to prove a formidable rival for the commerce of that city. A contract has been let for the excavation of a channel 250 feet wide to deep water, substantial stone locks will be built and railroad lines will be constructed connecting with the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe and the International and Great Northern Railroad systems at Virginia Point, and also the Houston for the purpose of tapping roads centering there. Wharfrage will be free, and it is learned on good authority that when President H. C. Rouse, of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road, is in Galveston a short time ago he made an agreement with Captain McDougall that the new town should be in the southern terminal of the road system which he represents.

"LO, I CAN WAIT."

A Woman's figure on a ground of slight build with yellow hair that dimly suggests auburn, and eyes that are blue, and a nose that is straight and thin, and a mouth that is small and sweet, and a chin that is pointed and firm, and a neck that is slender and graceful, and a face that is fair and clear, and a hair that is soft and wavy, and a smile that is sweet and charming, and a voice that is soft and sweet, and a heart that is true and kind, and a soul that is pure and noble, and a life that is full and happy, and a death that is peaceful and glorious.

There were two men lowering a heavy beam into a cellar the other day, and one of them asked his comrade, "That's queer," said Perry Ingram, "and the first speaker took an extra hitch in the beam's covering, and he fell, and he was killed."

The Baltimore papers are now criticizing Maryland's display at the World's Fair, and with justice, if the impressions of individuals who have seen it are correct.

Princess Anne, Md., July 18.—At 10 o'clock today Dr. Geo. F. Jones, of the democratic state committee, called on the county convention of Somerset county to order in the courthouse at Princess Anne.

Dr. Wm. H. Gale was elected president of the convention.

On motion of Dr. R. Dennison Dashiell the following gentlemen were placed in nomination and unanimously elected to represent Somerset county in the judicial convention to be held at Ocean City on the 6th of September: E. G. Polk, W. S. McMaster, John S. Sudler and Henry Pace, Jr.

Resolutions were adopted instructing the delegates to vote for the nomination of Hon. Henry Pace for chief justice, and Hon. Henry Lloyd for associate judge, and that upon all questions that may arise in the convention the delegates from Somerset county are to vote as a unit as a majority may determine.

In case of absence of any of the delegates those remaining shall cast the entire vote of the county.

Want Lehigh to Realign. Gettysburg, July 16.—The regular business meeting of the Pennsylvania Department of the Grand Army of the Republic was held yesterday in Camp Rutherford B. Hayes at Gettysburg.

Resolutions were adopted deprecating any change in the topographical feature of the battle field, and calling upon the United States government to take possession of it and make a national park.

A resolution was also passed condemning in forcible terms the attitude of the Administration on the pension question and demanding that a halt be called upon the infamous and cowardly onslaught upon the surviving Union Soldiers, and insisting that Pension Commissioner Lochren, a gallant Union Soldier, tender his resignation rather than serve under Hoke Smith.

It is strange. The Balto. Sun says: Within the last few years Kansas has had to eat the bread of affliction and drink deeply of the bitter waters of adversity.

It has not only a government which has been busy killing enterprises and driving capital from the State, but it has had the usual number of cyclones, and now the western part of the State has been passing through a protracted drought, which has almost left the people without food.

Large numbers of people have been driven from the State, and those who remain are clamoring for a special session of the legislature to make stay laws and provide seed wheat for destitute farmers.

Why some gentlemen should prefer to live in Kansas to buying land in Maryland and Virginia and other parts of the south it is hard to tell.

Will Get What They Can. San Francisco, Cal., July 19.—A meeting of California silver men was held at the Palace Hotel, last night.

Many speeches were made and a free expression of opinion on the situation indulged in.

The general sentiment was that it is the most vital importance for congressmen of the Western States to work for favorable silver legislation of some kind for free coinage, if possible, but if not, then for whatever it is practicable to obtain.

The principal address was made by Congressman Francis Nowland of Nevada. A committee on resolutions was appointed to report at a mass meeting to be held next Saturday.

How's This? We offer one hundred dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

Wedding out the Lie.

Washington, July 19.—From the time Commissioner Lochren began the work of overhauling the pension list down to late there have been 3180 pensioners suspended, and it is estimated that at least 5000 more cases now await the action of the office.

The medical division of the office is referred to it more than 10,000 cases. Labor as they will the force in this division is not large enough to keep up with the work.

The method by which these cases are gotten at is as follows: The board of Review goes over the cases and such as they think should be re-examined are referred to the medical board, or rather a sub-board of the medical board.

Yesterday the pension agency here received orders to suspend more than 500 of the pensioners borne upon its rolls. Only about a dozen of these are residents of this district.

Not a doubt Maryland cases, but the pension rolls declines to give out the names. This order comprised a greater number of suspensions for the local agency than on any day since the work of revising the rolls began, except at the time of the unearthing of the Norfolk frauds.

New York, July 18.—Much curiosity has been shown in banking circles as to the cause of the Treasury officials voluntarily paying out gold in settlement of Clearing House balances and for government checks over the counters, when some form of currency would have been more desirable to the public.

Mr. Jordan refuses an explanation. It is said, however, by others that the government has been paying out gold because it is unable to build up a reserve in time it would be unable to supply the demands for currency that it expects may be made upon it in a short time for moving the crops.

The Cambridge Democrat says: Prof. Dividie of Washington, with four assistants, is engaged in a special work for the Bureau of Ethnology, for government, and is engaged in studying ancient Indian history and localizing Indian village sites and shell fields.

The gathering together of the products of inventive genius at the World's Fair will tend to quicken the spirit of invention. Research, while many new inventions may be suggested by what has already been accomplished.

Mr. Lucille Rodney is the little woman who is walking from Galveston to the World's Fair. She is only 22 years of age and rather pretty, as her picture in the St. Louis Republic shows, and is accompanied by her husband and a guard.

Deputy Collector of internal revenue for Delaware reports the prospects good for a very large yield of fruit brandy. There will be much more made this year than last. The fruit distilling season commences about July 15th and closes September 15th.

San Francisco, Cal., July 19.—A meeting of California silver men was held at the Palace Hotel, last night. Many speeches were made and a free expression of opinion on the situation indulged in.

Only Hail Lynched.

Norfolk, Va., July 17.—Isaac Jenkins, colored, who until last Saturday was a resident of Nansemond county, can perhaps explain the sensation of hanging better than any man in Virginia.

The last 48 hours have proved an eventful era in his life. A few days ago some one sent to the farm of Mr. John Cartwright at Cartwright's wharf, Nansemond river, and poisoned several of his animals. Suspicion rested on Jenkins who had a grudge against Mr. Cartwright and he was captured near Beacons, a station on the Atlantic & Danville railroad, 12 miles from Norfolk, Saturday afternoon, after a desperate resistance.

After his capture he admitted that he had set fire to the barn and poisoned the horses. He further said that he would not be satisfied until he had killed Mr. Cartwright. The citizens of that section, hearing of the desperate character of Jenkins, decided on summary punishment, and carried him a short distance in the woods and hanged him from a tree, saying his body hanging after firing half a dozen shots at it.

When some of the lynchers returned to the spot Sunday morning they found the body gone, but thought it had been removed by some of the man's friends. No more attention was paid to the matter until tonight, when a negro was arrested in this city as a suspicious character, and proved to be Jenkins. The man had on a pair of iron hand-cuffs, but had succeeded in filing the chain. He told a remarkable story of his experience while hanging from the limb of the tree. He said he was taken from the constable and hanged without a moment's warning, and that as he was losing consciousness he heard several pistol shots.

Against tailor cut dresses draped by women we enter no kind of caveat, yet it would seem in the highest degree desirable that the department of millinery should not be invaded by men. The advocates of female labor contend, it is true, that men suffer from incapacity to build bonnets. Commercially they may be practically "man milliners," but technically and artistically it is only a daughter's eye which can construct that airy, mysterious and altogether delightful structure, a first rate fashionable bonnet.

An optician has declared that if a female of fair capacity, good taste and approved skill as a needlewoman were looked up by herself in a top hat, wearing nothing on her work table but an onion, a tomato, some bits of colored paper, a few feathers and some red and white tape and green thread she would be able in the course of a few hours to construct a most elegant bonnet which, however coarse in texture it might appear to the eye, would photograph in a most picturesque and symmetrical aspect, whereas the skillful work of male artificers intrusted with a similar task would produce a caricature in the way of silk, velvet, straw, ruff feathers, beads, jet, spangles and artificial flowers, he would not succeed in producing anything but a rude, clumsy and ungainly simulacrum of a bonnet.

As a maker of hats, equality with it not superiority over the other sex may perhaps be claimed for the man. He invented the lady's hat, he adorned it, he feathered it, he plumed it, and he handed it over to Richard, Young, Galamborough and Reynolds to be perpetuated. A man of much talent and good sense in their deathless canvases. London Telegraph.

The sailors got sea-sick. Years ago, when the full rigged masted, the right line, the Hartford cut into Boston harbor and dropped anchor off the Charlestown navy yard one fine day. The Hartford was the only vessel in the harbor, and it was not more than a thirty minute's trip from our door step to his watery grave in the depth of the lake. His death was a peculiarly sad one, too, for it not only wiped out his name, but before he had reached manhood, but breaks the heart of the most devoted of mothers and drops a link from the chain of society that can never be welded again. I will leave to the poet the task of describing the singularity of the incident and my connection with the fatal craft. I first saw it on visiting my native home a little less than a year ago, after thirty years absence, and never made it the subject of my thoughts until I read of its destruction in this bustling city.

Sublimity in Pike's Peak. One of the sublimest objects in nature is occasionally seen by those who climb the tall and isolated peaks of the Rocky mountains in Colorado. The dryness of the air and the strong heat of the afternoon sun cause a rapid evaporation from the mountain sides, and moisture rising on the warmer air, condenses as it reaches the cooler, thinner atmosphere above, and is precipitated in the form of a looking down, seen clouds literally forming below him and growing thick and black every instant, so that as they reached his level they fell skyward and in huge masses of vapor that darken the view and bury him in ecstacy. Light comes occasionally from the clouds, and a mountain top is a particularly bad place to be in at such a time. The stone signal service station on Pike's peak has been nearly wrecked by lightning more than once.—New York Sun.

The Wall of Frozen Air. Near Dayton, O., there is a well locally known as a "well of frozen air." In drilling it a stratum of frozen clay and gravel was encountered at a depth of 55 feet. After passing through five feet of this numerous cavities were encountered from which cold air came with sharp gusts. The escape of the air from the well may be heard a distance of nearly 300 yards, and it is so frigid that it is not possible to stand near the well hand over the opening for more than a few minutes without having it frozen stiff. A bucketful of water set near the mouth of the well will freeze in a matter of one night's time. It is needless to add that work on the well was abandoned for the season.

When South Young Lincoln's Life. It was at Bowling Green, Ky., during the summer of 1871, Edwin Booth, the actor, was waiting for a train to go to a man unknown to the actor. Enraged in thought, this stranger left the platform to walk on the track, and noticing an approaching engine, one moment more and he would have been an indelible victim. Lincoln's life was saved by the actor's quick action. Edwin Booth seized this stranger and lifted him almost bodily upon the platform. So close came the engine that it struck the stranger's legs as they left the track. "Do you know who that man is?" asked Mr. Ford, the well known manager of the Baltimore, who witnessed the thrilling scene. "No," replied Booth. "Robert Lincoln, President Lincoln's son." This was the most surprising incident in Edwin Booth's life. Sensitivity to a common hair suffered untold tortures. It was the death of his brother, Edwin Booth, and the death of his brother, Edwin Booth, and the death of his brother, Edwin Booth.

Suggestions for Churches.

The best time your journey leaves you stranded in the great and delightful city of New Orleans is on the Sabbath day. If you should go to the Church of St. Andrew's, I can recommend it as having the slowest singing and the softest choir conditions with a preacher to match. In the city you will see the following "Suggestions to Worshippers."

Extend your legs as far under the pew as you can without sliding off the seat. Gracefully and politely cover your mouth with your hand while yawning during the service. If you are looking at you, cover the mouth with both hands, and at the close of the yawn bring your jaws together with a cheerful snap.

After looking at your watch always turn your head and gaze longingly and earnestly toward the door.

Do not move if a stranger, accompanied by his wife and daughter, attempts to enter your pew. Permit them to climb over your legs, no matter how much it may annoy you.

Do not annoy strangers who may enter the church by looking at them or even glancing in their direction. If they really want a seat, they will find one without the intrusive interference of other people.

At the close of service remark aloud, but to yourself, that you are hungry as a shark and set off home at a brisk trot. Robert J. Burdette in Sunday School Times.

French All-wool Challis, the billowy beauties, so soft, so light, so cool of a hot day, so warm of a chilly evening.

The pith and point of the storm serge thought is simply this:

An all-wool or worsted serge in navy blue or black, made of picked wool, put together right dyed with the very best and most lasting colors.

A shower don't hurt such a stuff, nor rumpling and crumpling.

Four widths, seven prices. 36-in. Storm Serge, 40c. 38-in. Storm Serge, 45c. 40-in. Storm Serge, 50c. 42-in. Storm Serge, $1.25, $1.50.

Not a pinch of profit does any one get on the linen towels, table cloths and napkins we show except the Belfast weavers and bleachers and ourselves.

Our importations are not regular, but large. Indeed we believe we take the entire production of certain well-known linen manufacturers.

If there is any better way for people to get all the advantages of trading we would like to find it out. Large dealing, steady dealing with the creators of fabrics, and with only the best makers, ought surely to put the right goods on our counters at the right prices.

We are confident that we retail steadily throughout the year linen goods at smaller advances over cost than the wholesalers get.

Every tried and true racket, and enough of each to let you pick one exactly to your hand.

But most buyers choose from Wanamaker's Specials. We count them just as good as any other rackets costing a third more.

Germano's Special, $4.50, with cork handle, $5.00. Germano's Standard, $3.00, with cork handle, $4.00. Belmont, $2.50, with cork handle, $3.00. Wisshickon, $2.50. Ardmore, $2.50, with cork handle, $3.00. Yonkers, $1.75, with cork handle, $2.00.

$150 Bicycles at 85! And the Atlanta, 1893 pattern at that! It was a worry to the hold-up-the-price people when we made the Atlanta $120; what will it be now that we can make the price $85?

Every Billiard ball stained with blood. The globe of ivory which is knocked about a table in game of billiards, cost of good quality, at least $10. This represents its cost in money. There is, however, a far more important and formidable element in the price which has to do with its value.

Elephants' tusks are brought down to the African coasts by caravans generally in charge of Arabs, which have been known to travel the distance in two months.

It is estimated that every large caravan bringing ivory to the coast has cost more than $800,000 lives through fatigue and hunger in the course of the expedition.

The hunting of the elephants and the capture of the ivory are very likely to have caused the death of 10 men altogether.

ANTICIPATION.

One time we stood upon the water's edge. That hour that the world can never steal. And there while summer blushed on field and bed.

And then, good heart, hadst kept thy love well.

Through my change that protest fervor.

But my station in the waves that swell.

What ship's masts have snatched the night.

That found thy heart in thine with mine.

Whose love is thine, as mine is thine.

From whom may pardon come if not from thee?

And yet I dare not ask so great a boon.

Whose life is wrecked like thine? And who hath warranty to sing so true a tune?

Yet cease those mournful sighs, as deep per- ever did for. Zeena have.

The future lies beyond, the recompense of time most for her who hath arrived.

One hope I have that absence cannot take. One thought I have that others spheres to wake.

THE TAILOR OF MANNHEIM.

He invented a Bullet Proof Coat, and Prestel Kings are at his feet.

Who could have dreamed before the other day that Mannheim had her pouch making tailor?

Who in Mannheim knew it? Mein Herr Dove—the miracle, as he is discovered to be—was known to his fellow citizens as a plain "schneider," of whom something might be made were it possible to multiply him by nine.

Elephants' tusks are brought down to the African coasts by caravans generally in charge of Arabs, which have been known to travel the distance in two months.

It is estimated that every large caravan bringing ivory to the coast has cost more than $800,000 lives through fatigue and hunger in the course of the expedition.

The hunting of the elephants and the capture of the ivory are very likely to have caused the death of 10 men altogether.

Does the Baltimore Sun think it is fooling anybody when it parades itself as a great moral reformer? Does it imagine that the people of the First Judicial Circuit don't know their own business, and need the Sun to do them right?

Does it know that Judge Holland's friends know that "would-be Senators and Governors" are as unselfish and disinterested in their motives as is the Sun ordinarily? Does it realize that Judge Holland's friends have placed him in the judicial content simply and solely to lift him to the higher plane of Chief Justice, and that they will keep him there till that purpose is accomplished or defeated, and that is all there is in it?

The School Board has acted wisely in deciding to erect in a central location one building for all the primary departments of Salisbury's school population. Thus the graded system, which cost much time and labor to organize and establish, is preserved and the school work of the city is concentrated, which means frequent intercourse among the forces of teachers and helpful interchange of ideas.

It is true that some influential patrons wanted the separate schools on the outskirts of the town, but we are confident that when they have maturely reflected upon the situation and taken into consideration the many advantages to be gained by the method adopted, and contrast that with the inevitable drawbacks that must attend the other, they will see the wisdom of the Board and approve it.

The one item of a school library is an irrefragable argument in favor of concentration. The educational interests of Salisbury are fast approaching that dignity when a library could be supported with ease, by public and private subscription, and with profit to the pupils and community.

With school houses scattered to the four corners of the city, a library of practical use is virtually out of the question. In the death of John Robinson Sharpston has lost its most prominent citizen. Mr. Robinson's life was full of interest, and it is regretted that it should have ended in such a manner.

The Immigration Question.

We take the following from the Balto. Sun. Mr. Eugene D. Tingle, Shelbyville, Mo., writes to The Sun as follows: "I have been reading with interest the immigration and colonization schemes indorsed by The Sun."

"It may be interesting to your readers to know that these schemes to develop the agricultural resources of Maryland are exciting a lively interest even as far West as Missouri, where people desire reliable information concerning the farm lands and the seaboard, where the market facilities are greater and where a milder and more salubrious climate may be enjoyed. It is unquestionably true that the rigors of Western winters and the exposures incident to them are inducing our farmers to seek this information."

"The writer spent some weeks on the Eastern Shore of Maryland during the past spring and was soon forcibly impressed with the opportunities presented to agriculturists, who knew how and who were inclined to work. We found apparently prosperous towns with a poorly cultivated country behind them, and the towns appearing to have been populated at the expense of the country. This is so much at variance with Western rules that we inquired the cause why young men would abandon the farm for the town, where the avenues for making a living were overcrowded? Strange that these young men could not see the advantages offered by these overcrowded towns for marketing the productions of the agriculturists. And we saw present the opening for the Western hustler, the German farmer would soon become a capitalist with such magnificent home market facilities. One of the greatest drawbacks to immigration in the older States is the fact that the owners of land are unwilling to take from a resident. In the west the rule which governs the sale of land, and that rule is based upon its estimated product per acre per annum."

"Maryland has great resources and if properly advertised and a judicious system pursued immigrants would doubt flock to her borders. We are confident that capitalists could realize handsomely on their investments and do the agricultural interests of the State an immense service if they would buy up large tracts of desirable land and offer them in small parcels on easy payments."

"Every citizen in the state should be interested and willing to prepare to extend to all inquirers the information they seek. This system has populated the great Western States, and the same era have been anticipated by circulars and other advertisements. Let the price of land be reasonable and uniform. We shall be proud of our native State's prosperity, knowing full well that her people are the old commonwealth will invite her friends to come and partake of the good things of 'My Maryland.'"

Condition of State Banks. Washington, July 24.—The abstract of the report of the condition of the national banks in Maryland, outside of Baltimore, at the close of business Wednesday, July 12, just compiled, shows them in splendid shape.

Their loans and discounts are $10,530,833, about the same as at the time of the May statement. The deposits show a slight falling off, about the same proportion as the Baltimore banks.

The State national banks have a surplus fund of $1,277,050 and undivided profits of $345,711.73. Their outstanding notes aggregate $1,200,000. While they have on hand $54,975 to secure all of which they have $1,008,500 United States bonds deposited in the treasury. Their specie aggregate $650,172.92, of which $200,000 is in gold and $450,172.92 in gold treasury certificates. Their reserve is 23.09 per cent. This is a very favorable showing, as they are required to hold only 15 per cent.

It saves the children. "My little boy was very bad off for two months with diarrhea. We used various medicines, also called in two doctors, but nothing did him any good until we used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, which gave immediate relief and soon cured him. I consider it the best medicine made and can conscientiously recommend it to all who have the diarrhea or colic medicine. J. E. Haver, Trenton, Tex. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by R. K. Truitt & Son, Druggists."

Wicomico Post-Offices. Mr. E. L. Austin has been appointed postmaster at Athle, this county, vice S. A. Calloway. Mrs. O. A. Roberts has been made post mistress at Capitolville, vice J. R. Lanford. Mr. J. W. Dashiell has been appointed post-master at Frontland vice A. J. Dalany. Mr. V. Frank Collier has been appointed post-master at Quantico vice Nathan Dashiell, and J. H. Goslee is post-master at Whayland vice Peter Bounds.

Summer Complaint. Last fall I was taken with a kind of summer complaint, accompanied with a wonderful diarrhea. Soon after my wife's state, who lives with me, was taken in the same way. We used almost everything without benefit. Then I said, let us try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, which we did, and that cured us right away. I think much of it, as it did for me what it was recommended to do. John Hertzler, Bethel, Berks Co., Pa. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by R. K. Truitt & Son.

Ocean City Regatta.

OCEAN CITY, July 25.—The day for the regatta was all that could be wished for. The wind blew a good ten knots, which sent the whitecaps of the ocean far up on the beach.

The course was laid out in the Shipuxent bay. It was from the railroad bridge to a stake boat eight miles down the bay and return. Long before the hour set for the start the people began to assemble, and by 2:30 o'clock the railroad pier was filled with people, while many of the ladies and gentlemen occupied boats from which they could see the race.

There were three events on the programme and each was hotly contested. There were no serious accidents and save the capsizing of the outfit Picnic floating marred the occasion. The races were for twenty feet for a premium of $50 to the winner.

The first boat crossed the line on the start at 2:30 o'clock and each of the eight boats entered started one minute later. As the boats caught the stiff breeze they shot on the course like things of life. Several of them carried so much sail that they had outrigger riders to keep the boats on their feet.

The second race was for a purse of $25. The start was made about three minutes later, and this race was, like the first, a light one, and was won by the Gladys, Capt. J. H. Snead.

For the third and last event there were but two entries, the "Willey" and the "Nancy Hank", the "Willey" won the race. There were several boats which started out, but turned back owing to slight accidents. The officers of the regatta were J. A. Hamilton, J. U. Dennis, B. G. Keene, Capt. J. J. Bunting, Dr. J. E. Thomas, Col. G. G. Gaither, Capt. G. W. Truitt, stakeholder, W. J. Warrington.

OUR NEIGHBORS. WORCESTER. Hon. George W. Furnell has recently purchased a blood-sucker. He is getting around him as nice a lot of animals as can be found on the Shore. The fact is, Worcester is coming right to the front in the matter of blooded horses and in a year or two we will probably be on a footing with Queen Anne's which now leads all other sections.—Messenger.

The Pocomoke Gasoline Boat Company has for past two months been engaged in building a boat to ply between this place and the Eastern Shore of Virginia, and in about two weeks she will make her trial trip. She is a side wheeler, with a draught of only 21 inches, is built to move smoothly over the mud at the mouth of the river. A 35 horse power gas engine will propel her, and she is expected to make 10 miles an hour. This is said to be the only gasoline in this mode ever built.

The section to which this boat will run, or at least part of it, has been entirely cut off from the outside world by reason of having heretofore had no railroad or steamboat communication.

LOCAL POINTS. TO THE LADIES. You want the files kept out of your house. Now is the time to get Richard L. Turner an order for screens. He has just finished some good contracts on Salisbury residences. A neat job quickly done. Don't wait till the files come.

LOCAL POINTS. A large quantity of old papers for sale at this office. Wait for the great Wholesale Slaughter Sale, "Brewington Block."

THE OYSTER CASE. In the case of State vs. William T. Tigner arrested by Capt. Turner for having oysters in his possession, who by his counsel Todvin & Bell asked for a jury at a preliminary hearing before Justice Trader on Thursday withdrew the demand for a jury, consented to trial and was found guilty and sentenced to jail for 30 days. Rider for State, Todvin & Bell for defendant. Mr. Rider says he intends to have arrested every person in charge of a boat having oysters in his possession for sale during the closed season. The mere declaration that he bought the oysters in Virginia will not prevent his arrest and trial.

Some birds will forsake their nests if so much as a finger is placed within, but others, suspicious that their secret has been discovered, seek to hide themselves more efficaciously by admirably ingenious plans. Among the thick fern growth of a bank a wood warbler had woven a nest. The bird evidently selected this bank because of the quantity of dead leaves scattered and heaped thereon, the lacy crispness of these corresponding nicely with the domed edifice, thereby rendering discovery almost impossible. But the fine quality of the ferns led to its detection.

A Fortieth Mass of shells. A lady who spends her summers at the seaside has collected about a bushel, more or less, of small, almost flat, thin, yellow shells, which abound at many points on the coast. With these she this year fashioned a portrait that is novel and pretty beyond description. Each shell is pierced with a hole, and then strung on a delicate wire so that the narrow end of one is next to the wide end of the other. A number of strings were made in this way long enough to reach from the floor to the curtain pole, where they were securely fastened to a string of beads, and the shells were slipped on the string. Through the fretwork above this curtain is draped a length of sea green India silk, falling half way to the floor on the right side. A less ambitious woman has made a curious scarf by sewing these shells in artistic confusion on either end of a length of pale green silk, putting here and there bits of golden green seaweed. A fringe is made for each end by stringing shells on green embroidery silk instead of wire.—New York Letter.

FOUR LADIES DROWNED.

A Sad Termination of a Picnic Party on the Wicomico.

OTHER DEATHS OF A WEEK.

Four cakes, each containing the lifeless form of a young girl!

Such was the spectacle witnessed last Wednesday afternoon at the Rockaway Methodist Episcopal church.

The circumstance which had occasioned so pathetic and unusual a scene occurred to four young ladies who were on their way to the Wicomico a few miles below Salisbury, Tuesday afternoon.

Misses Lela Johnson, Marian Smith, Maggie Taylor and Nellie Patrick were the victims. Miss Smith was an orphan.

Her parents were residents of Baltimore but she had been living with her married sister, Mrs. Johnson, in this county for about four years.

The other unfortunate were daughters respectively of Messrs. Jonathan Johnson, Sydney Taylor, and Albin Patrick, all highly respected farmers of Rockaway neighborhood, this county.

A number of the farmers of Rockaway neighborhood and their families went to Patrick's Landing Tuesday morning.

The ladies were on their way to the picnic. After supper had been dispatched amidst much good cheer the party broke up into small companies.

The young people sought amusement by scampering over the hills among the pines and cedars, while their sisters contented themselves with their pipes and a mild indulgence in the neighborhood gossip.

A young man named Williams and another whose name is Marshall, took Miss Johnson, Miss Taylor, Miss Smith and Miss Patrick out on a river in a skiff. The breeze was good and a sail was hoisted.

A law of wind caught into the sail and upset the boat. The four young ladies sank. Williams crawled up on the bottom of the boat and was rescued.

Marshall sank three times but managed to get near the shore where he was dragged from the water. When the picnickers became aware of the awful disaster they began to search for the bodies of the young ladies.

Long hours were used and the bodies were not recovered. It was feared they were found locked in each other's embrace.

The bodies of the hapless ones were lifted tenderly into vehicles, and sorrowing families returned to their respective homes with the bodies of their dead, who but a few short hours before had been living and well among the most blithe and gay. Here is a forcible illustration of the uncertainty of life.

Three of the four victims were buried side by side in the Rockaway church yard, Miss Taylor's remains were taken back from the church after the quadrangular, to her late home where they were deposited in the family burial grounds.

The last earthly rites over the bodies of the four deceased were conducted by Rev. M. Mitchell, their pastor, assisted by Rev. Chas. A. Hill and Dr. S. W. Beigart of Salisbury.

The Baltimore Sun of Thursday, in speaking of the funeral said:—Miss Marian Smith, who was drowned Tuesday at Patrick's Landing, was a native of Salisbury, with three other young ladies, formerly living with her sister in Baltimore, at 1507 Federal street. She was twenty-four years of age, and her friends believed she was fated to be drowned. When but three years old she fell into a well and received injuries which caused the loss of one eye. Three times afterward she fell into the river, twice to be rescued when nearly dead, and the third time to meet her death. The parents of Miss Smith are Mr. and Mrs. Winfield, who live at Chicago last month, since which time no news of him has been received by his relatives.

Mrs. Robinson. Mrs. Mary Robinson, wife of A. A. Robinson, Esq., of this county, died at her home near Delmar last Saturday night, of consumption of the bowels, aged 50 years. A husband and a brother, who were both in the army, were interred in Parsons cemetery Monday afternoon. Mrs. Robinson was much esteemed by her neighbors.

Mrs. Cantwell. Mrs. Eliza Cantwell, relict of the late Jas. Cantwell, died at the residence of Mr. Louis Jenkins, in Queen's district, last Tuesday night. She had been in feeble health for many months, but seemed no weaker than usual when the family retired at ten o'clock. Wednesday morning she was found dead. Mrs. Cantwell died about 70 years. Her husband was a native of this city, but now residing in Wilmington, and the mother of Mrs. Louis Jenkins.

Mrs. Dennis. The death of Mrs. Thos. H. Dennis at the residence, in this city, of her step-daughter, Mrs. Randolph Humphreys, last Saturday morning, was sad and pathetic.

Mrs. Deban. Mrs. Deban, with her five little children, was on her way from Cambridge, where her husband has been in the drug store for the last year—Mr. Morrisboro, N. C., to visit her mother. She was taken ill during her stop off in Salisbury and died of heart trouble.

Her remains were taken to North Carolina for burial Monday morning. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon by Rev. Wm. Manford at St. Peter's Church. Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Humphreys escorted the remains South.

Mr. John Robinson of E. died at his home in Sharpshoots at 3 o'clock Thursday morning, of neuralgia of the heart, aged about 70 years. His remains will be interred in the cemetery of the Sharpshoots Methodist Episcopal Church today.

For a half century Mr. Robinson has been one of the most conspicuous and interesting figures of his community. Born of poor and humble parents amid rustic environment, he began life at a decided disadvantage. But native ability and an untiring perseverance overcame the difficulties in the way and lifted him above his surroundings.

Mr. Robinson's genius was creative and experimental. Without capital and without assistance or encouragement he became an inventor, patentee, machinist and manufacturer. His operations were necessarily limited, until 1870 when he had reached, by slow and patient advances, that stage of success which justified him in beginning business on a more extended scale. It was then that he, with his brother as partner, commenced the manufacture of John Robinson & Brother, manufacturers. His native town then was a dreary little fishing hamlet on the east bank of the Nanticoke river, whose inhabitants eked out a small existence by taking fish from the stream for food and wood from the crickets for fuel. In a few years Robinson's factory was an institution of the town—its first one—employing at paying wages many men, women and children in making barrels, crates and boxes, and affording a ready market for the lumber of the farmers for miles around.

SALISBURY ADVERTISER.

ISSUED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.

An Old Time Schoolmaster.

An old time schoolmaster in Pennsylvania had been a carpenter in his youth with a taste for books, and had finally settled down as teacher of the village school.

He never punished boy or girl. He succeeded in keeping his pupils interested in their work. There was perfect order in his school and apparently no discipline. He was known to be an abolitionist who had frequently concealed runaway negroes in the garret of his school, sometimes by Woodford by village politicians as a fanatic, he was ordinarily laughed at as an eccentric schoolmaster.

But his boys never challenged his authority. They learned a little Latin and Greek and a good deal about duty, honor and justice.

The old man's eyes used to blaze beneath his wig when he spoke of the need of courageous, honest men in public life. Two of his boys never forgot his burning words. One was a general in the civil war and a political leader of commanding influence. The other was conspicuous for integrity at a period of low public morality.

Thackeray once said that it was better for a boy to have the middle place in the form and a good teacher than to be the top of the class and have a bad teacher. This is a truth that is not to be forgotten.

Ignorance About Beef. "The business of a retail butcher will make the biggest list of a man of anything on earth. Do you know that?" asked Thomas Tracy, the Union market butcher.

So Mr. Tracy explained his statement, saying: "Why you see, a retail butcher cannot carry a very large stock, but he must please all his customers. A man comes in and wants a steak fresh as possible, from beef not more than 24 hours killed."

"The butcher says all rights and cuts the steak from a 24-hour beef. Then a fellow comes along and wants a 36-hour steak. He gets one from the same beef, and so it goes, even down to the old Englishman who wants a steak from a week or two old that has become 'mellow.' This is a part of the trade that has been bruised in handling, or if it has not it is so crisp that all to bristle it a little."

"But do not these people catch on to the fact that they have been humbugged?" "Not a bit of it. Why, nine people out of ten don't know a raw steak from a piece of cork."—St. Louis Republic.

American's National Dish. Marion Harland once upon a time in the course of a foreign journey, was called to dilating upon the cosmopolitan taste of the American who would eat haggis in Scotland, roast beef in England, marmoset in his city, and mince in Italy and frogs' legs in France. "And what," said a famous traveler who overheard the monologue, "is the national dish of the United States?" "The national dish," she says, "is telling him you are going, they repeat this anecdote. 'I thought,' she says, 'of telling him you are going, they repeat that better in France than in America. I thought of mince pie, but that is English as well as Yankee. As I said, I replied, with an assumption of ease and pride that I was far from feeling, 'Baked beans and buckwheat cakes.' I was well aware that my interlocutor had experienced both those dishes, and I was not surprised that his sole comment should be, 'Fancy' in an involuntary tone of shocked surprise."—Philadelphia Press.

JOHN WANAMAKER. The Monkey's Thumb. Here is a little bit of natural history which must be remembered about monkeys. All the monkeys of the old world have some kind of a thumb. As Mr. George Mivart, a great zoologist writes, "Any old world monkey with a rudimentary thumb (that is, a thumb, even if imperfect) is superior in that respect to an American monkey." In fact the American monkey has no thumb at all. Sundry composite in a measure for this defect in our new world monkey by giving him a wonderful tail. This American monkey tail is prehensile. It answers almost the purpose of a fifth limb. A South American monkey gives him a single hitch around the limb of a tree, and there hangs quite comfortably, independent of hands or feet.—Harper's Young People.

A question frequently asked is in regard to the method of producing ailments containing iron balls. Previous to making a cast the maker of sledgeballs puts an iron ball inside a sand core, just the shape of the ball. This sand core, with the sledge ball inside, is placed in the mold of the outside and the melted metal poured in, which fills up the space between the core and mold. The hot metal burns the core so that it can be shaken out, leaving the ball with the shell. Ball valves, sledge balls, and many other articles are cast in the same manner.—Detroit Free Press.

JOHN WANAMAKER. The Monkey's Thumb. Here is a little bit of natural history which must be remembered about monkeys. All the monkeys of the old world have some kind of a thumb. As Mr. George Mivart, a great zoologist writes, "Any old world monkey with a rudimentary thumb (that is, a thumb, even if imperfect) is superior in that respect to an American monkey." In fact the American monkey has no thumb at all. Sundry composite in a measure for this defect in our new world monkey by giving him a wonderful tail. This American monkey tail is prehensile. It answers almost the purpose of a fifth limb. A South American monkey gives him a single hitch around the limb of a tree, and there hangs quite comfortably, independent of hands or feet.—Harper's Young People.

A question frequently asked is in regard to the method of producing ailments containing iron balls. Previous to making a cast the maker of sledgeballs puts an iron ball inside a sand core, just the shape of the ball. This sand core, with the sledge ball inside, is placed in the mold of the outside and the melted metal poured in, which fills up the space between the core and mold. The hot metal burns the core so that it can be shaken out, leaving the ball with the shell. Ball valves, sledge balls, and many other articles are cast in the same manner.—Detroit Free Press.
