LAST OF THE AZTECS. A Wonderful Pyramid is Found Covered with Fantastic Hieroglyphs—Thousands of Skulls Adorn Its Interior—A Correspondent's Wonderful Experiences.

A correspondent of the City of Mexico Two Republics states that he has discovered a peculiar people in the extreme southern portion of Mexico.

He says "I am at present, to the best of my judgment, about 100 miles south-east of the Panama route."

He became lost in the tropical forest, when, coming to a beaten path, he followed it until he found himself in a peopled town.

A SEA ADVENTURE. How a Fishing Boat was Blown from the Sea—A Story of Peril and Adventure.

Last Friday morning about 4 o'clock Keeper J. M. Hopkins, of the Cape Mable house of refuge, near here, discovered a small sloop riding at anchor about a mile off shore.

He signaled the boat, and presently three persons—two men and a boy—emerged from the cabin and entered a dingy sculler slowly toward the shore.

A heavy surf was on and it seemed impossible for the little boat to live in the breakers.

G. H. RIDER, Postmaster.

SATURDAY, DEC. 7, 1889.

Henry M. Stanley the African Explorer, who headed the Emin Pacha relief expedition in 1887, has accomplished the great task of bringing the Pacha once more in the borders of civilization, after two and a half years of uninterrupted toil, in journeying, marked by hardship, deprivation and danger.

President Harrison sent to Congress last Tuesday his Annual Message. The document is plain, simple, and business like, and like Jack Spratt's pig—"It isn't very little and it isn't very big."

The interest of the general government in the education of the people found an early expression, not only in the thoughtful and sometimes warring utterances of our ablest statesmen, but in liberal appropriations from the common resources for the support of education in the new States.

National aid to education has heretofore taken the form of land grants, and in that form the constitutional power of Congress to promote the education of the people is not seriously questioned.

Such aid should be, as it always has been suggested by some exceptional conditions. The sudden emancipation of the slaves of the South, the bestowal of the suffrage which soon followed, and the impairment of the ability of the States where these new citizens were chiefly found to adequately provide educational facilities presented not only exceptional but unexampled conditions.

But a great work remains to be done, and I think the general government should lend its aid. As the suggestion of a national grant in aid of education grows chiefly out of the condition of the emancipated slave and his descendants, the relief should, as far as possible, necessarily be applied upon some general lines, be applied to the need that suggested it.

It is essential, if much good is to be accomplished, that the sympathy and active interest of the people of the States should be enlisted, and that the methods adopted should be such as to stimulate and not to supplant local taxation for school purposes.

As one Congress cannot bind a succeeding one in such a case, and as the effort must in some degree be experimental, I recommend that any appropriation made for this purpose be so limited in annual amount and as to the time over which it is to extend as will, on the one hand give the local school authorities opportunity to make the best use of the first year's allowance, and on the other deliver them from the temptation to unduly postpone the assumption of the whole burden themselves.

He bewails the fate of the negro and asks Congress to act as his guardian. To educate him and see that he votes a Republican ticket.

Mahone Likes Cleveland.

General Mahone, after spending a week at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, left Wednesday for the South. "Mr. Cleveland," he said, in speaking about the future, "if he lives, will probably be the democratic candidate again in 1892. I regard him as even stronger than his party. I cannot help liking the fellow for his courage and honesty. The people admire those qualities wherever they find them. As to the republican nomination, it is a matter of course that the republican convention is harder to manage than a wild caucus and much more uncertain. From all I hear, Gen. Alger resembles Cleveland. I do not know him personally, but I have heard most favorably of him, and the reports I have received of him."—New York World.

Henry Waterston's Son Elopes.

Ewing Waterston, son of Henry Waterston, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and Miss Jennie Black, daughter of Dr. Thomas Black, of McKinneyville, eloped on Saturday, and were married at the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. Alexander Black, in Smithville, Tenn., about midnight. Ewing Waterston is well known in Louisville in railroad, society and newspaper circles. Young Waterston returned from a European tour a year or more ago, and became a traveling passenger agent for the Gould system. He has been living in the South for several months.

AN OYSTER VIEW.

What the Governor of Virginia Held to the Governor of Maryland.

Hon. Wm. Pinkey Whyte, who has examined all the papers, charts, correspondence, etc., bearing on the disputed oyster grounds off Hog Island Flats, and the boundary between the two states, by request of Governor Jackson, gives the following opinion.

"There can hardly be any doubt as to the true boundary line between the States at this late day. That matter was settled conclusively by the award agreed to by the States and sanctioned by Congress. The line was distinctly defined by the arbitrators in the chart, filed with and made part of the award. The only point open at the present juncture, viz: 'Is the Hog Island Flats, known as Mr. Lewis under the Virginia act of February, 1888, lie in the Potomac river, beyond the line marked by the arbitrators at the point indicated? And as I understand the fact of the award, it is in the affirmative."

"The legal position taken by you in your proclamation, which I have now examined at your request, is undoubtedly correct, but I am frank in saying that I should have withheld it until sufficient time was given to the Virginia Legislature to rectify the error into which it has fallen, in the supposition that their Commonwealth owned the soil in the Potomac river, which is covered by the grant to Mr. Lewis. He has, no doubt, expended considerable sums of money under the authority of Virginia, and until that State has had opportunity, after knowledge of its error, to indemnify him, it would seem not just to turn the dredgers of the two States upon the oyster which he has planted under his lease."

"I do not doubt that the Legislatures of the two States, both of which are about to meet, will take steps to settle the difficulty on honorable terms, and until the effort can be honestly made, it would be unjust to resort to any measures calculated to widen the breach. There are, of course, legal remedies to be resorted to, when amicable overtures are repelled. I take the liberty to suggest that your proclamation be temporarily withdrawn, in view of the friendly letter of the Governor of Virginia of November 29, 1889. The honor and dignity of the State can be best maintained by friendly negotiation, and, until that fails, no act of hostility against a sister Commonwealth is in my judgment, justifiable."

Governor Jackson, in his letter to the Sun from Salisbury: "I shall withdraw my proclamation temporarily, as suggested by the attorney-general."

The following telegram, which Governor Lee, of Virginia, sent from Richmond to Governor Jackson, shows how he feels about the dispute: "Come down and dine with me. An oyster shell will disappear while we talk the matter over—as the Governors of North and South Carolina used to do."

Mr. O. B. Finney of Oceanock, Accomac county, Va., said Monday that the statement of Lewis that Virginians, and particularly those interested in the oyster industry, are in sympathy with his industry. "The bill giving him alone the privilege of taking oysters from the Hog Island Flats," said Mr. Finney, "was rushed through the Virginia Legislature toward the close of the last session without being properly considered. Some members thought it was the Hog Island Flats, and some thought it was the oyster industry of Accomac and near Cobscook's Island. The bill was not properly considered at any time. There was no vote upon it and Governor Lee misunderstood it when he signed it. These Hog Island oyster flats are said to be the best in the Potomac, and to give them to one man is a direct violation of the agreement between Maryland and Virginia, which says the Potomac river is to be open to citizens of both States for fishing and oyster purposes. The people of the oyster counties of Virginia are up in arms about the matter."

A Scrap of Paper saves her life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a larger bottle, it helped her more, she bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing about 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial Bottle of this wonderful Discovery Free at Dr. White's Drugstore.

Married her Grand-Uncle.

A marriage having unusual features was celebrated at the home of the bride's father, on Friday night. The bride was Miss Annie Cronk, aged 24, daughter of Frank Cronk, a leading dry goods merchant. The groom was Valentine Pries, of Haron county, O., a grand-uncle of the bride, aged 65, who is president of a bank at Haron, owner of six vessels on Lake Erie, a tax collector in the Lake Superior Copper Company, president of the Cleveland Iron Ship Building Company, and also interested in other enterprises in the Forest City. His wealth is estimated at $1,500,000.

Cold Waves.

Are predicted with reliable accuracy, and people liable to the pains and aches of rheumatism dread every change to damp or stormy weather. Although the winter is not yet here, the remarkable cures it has effected show that it may be taken for this complaint with reasonable certainty of benefit. Its action in neutralizing the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of rheumatism, constitutes the secret of the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla. If you suffer from rheumatism, give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial; it will do you good. dec. 7-t.

To Take Care of the Marriage.

The Ladies' Hermitage Association of Nashville, Tenn., having procured a charter from the Legislature granting to it the dwelling and tomb of Andrew Jackson, together with a tract of twenty-five acres which surround it, proposes to repair the house, which is in an extreme state of dilapidation, and to lay out the grounds in the form of a memorial park. With this object in view the association has issued a public appeal for funds, which is endorsed by the Andrew Jackson League.

Another United States is reported to have been formed in Central America by a provisional union of Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Honduras, San Salvador and Guatemala. For ten years the ager federal republic will be simply an offensive and defensive alliance, but at the end of that time a constitution, not unlike that of the United States of North America, is to be adopted. Honduras, Guatemala and San Salvador are said to have already signed the treaty constituting the union, and the others will soon do so. The plan of Barrios will thus be consummated.

GENERAL NEWS.

Items Clipped from our Exchange from all Quarters of the Globe.

Natural gas will be tapped in Detroit in about a week. According to the Propaganda in Rome there are 218,000,000 Roman Catholics in the world.

An earthquake shock was felt at Alton Bay, Alton and Gullford, N. H., Tuesday morning. Prince Oscar Bernadotte, son of the King of Sweden, is to receive a medal for saving two men from drowning. A Connecticut hardware company that employs 500 skilled mechanics will remove its works to Fort Payne, Ala., at once.

Do you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or other humors, Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. 100 doses one dollar. The annual Convention of the Farmers and Laborers' Union began at St. Louis Tuesday. Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia were represented. Jack Dempsey and Billy McCarthy, of Australia, have agreed to fight for a purse of $1,800 and the world's middle-weight championship in January.

Mail advices from Para state that the coup d'etat in Brazil was carried into effect by the republican party of the country without enthusiasm or opposition. At the recent election in Beverly, Mass., one ballot was entirely blank, but on the back of it was written: "I want to vote the same as Maurice Heppner."

There is a woman near Astoria, Ore., has to hold up her hand and get permission from her husband before she can get out. She is going to school to him. The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in Switzerland has resolved to banish cats from the republic on the ground that they are killing off the birds. Fifteen of the Connecticut postmasters arrested for violating the postal laws by selling postage stamps on credit were Tuesday fined $50 and costs, amounting in all to $110.

According to a London daily there are about 2,500 building associations, with over 600,000 members, in the United Kingdom. Last year the receipts were upward of $100,000,000. The Herald, published at the City of Mexico, predicts that the Pan-American delegates will effect no good, as it appears that after a casual tour they are waiting their time in bickering over trifles. Municipal elections were held Tuesday in nineteen cities of Massachusetts. The license question apparently did not arouse as much interest as usual. The success of the Australian ballot system was still further demonstrated.

Eight cotton factories, 16 banks and various other enterprises have been started in South Carolina within the last few months. Corporations chartered between October, 1888 and October, 1889, number 82, with an aggregate capital of over $41,000,000. Eugene L. Jackson, agent of the Maryland Steamboat Company at Cambridge, who on November 12th received injuries from the premature discharge of a canon at Cambridge while celebrating recent democratic victories died Tuesday morning.

California wine exports this year are the largest on record. Shipments by sea and rail for the first ten months of this year are 6,734,574 gallons, valued at $2,750,000. This exceeds by a half million gallons the exports for the whole of last year. Chicago is talking of spending $15,000,000 in the next seven years in improving the city's water supply and drainage. Chicago never does things in a small way, and it would not be surprising if this talk should materialize in a great undertaking.

A young husband in Chicago has brought suit against two newspapers for publishing the fact that he applied for a marriage license and was married. He has engaged a lawyer, who holds that such things are not public news, and that the press has no business with them. J. B. Bennett, aged 64 years, one of the most widely known fire underwriters of the country, died Tuesday at Indiana, Ind. For twenty years he was manager of the Elma Insurance Company, at Cincinnati, and afterwards president of the Andes Insurance Company.

The town and city elections in Connecticut Tuesday were very close and exciting, the democrats succeeding in retaining control of the town and city governments by very small majorities. The voting system of balloting, which was tried for the first time, and seemed to answer the popular call for a secret system of voting. Secretary of State Lescar, of Missouri, has notified the Great Seal Company of St. Louis that unless within thirty days they withdraw from a combination or trust to fix and maintain prices he will revoke their charter. The company's attorneys say they will appeal the question to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Judge Wing spoke for the defense and Mr. Ingham for the State Tuesday in the trial of the five men in Chicago for the murder of Dr. P. H. Cronin. John Kunze, one of the prisoners, exclaimed, "God knows I am innocent," when Mr. Ingham was speaking. John P. Beag, another of the accused, has written to a friend in Boston that he is confident of acquittal. James Addison Reavis claims five million acres of public lands in Arizona, including the cities of Phoenix, Florence, Solomonsville and other towns, under a grant from the Viceroy of New Spain to Miguel Pootria in 1785. The tract valued at $35,000,000. Surveyor-General Johnson has transmitted to the general land office an adverse report on the claim. There is proof of forgery in the papers, he says. President Roberto Sacasa, of Nicaragua, has signed the treaty forming a union of the five republics of Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Honduras, San Salvador and Guatemala under the name of the United States of Central America. All have signed but Costa Rica, whose government waited only for the assent of Nicaragua. President Sacasa has expressed himself as favorable to the Nicaraguan canal, and the work is progressing satisfactorily. Late Sheriff, Wicomico County. SARK A. GRAHAM, Aty.

"The Clothing I buy from your firm gives me the best of service—much better than I get elsewhere."

are full of life and activity these December days. How could it be otherwise with Winter just before us, and such a superb stock of Winter Dress Goods—the products of two continents—displayed in apparently endless profusion on a thousand feet of counters?

The question is sometimes asked: Why carry so large a stock, representing almost everything that is produced abroad or at home? Would not a smaller line equally satisfy the demand, taking less room and leaving space for other lines of goods? Our answer is: Dress Goods with us are the great specialty of the business, and we prefer to have not alone a sufficient, but an overflowing stock, not being content simply to meet the demand but leading it.

Devoting ourselves not to general merchandise, but to the great Dry Goods business exclusively, we prefer in that special business to lead the country, developing our whole time and attention with all the facilities of our great organization, to the service of our patrons in this line. And with every added year as the business grows greater and has become of national repute, with orders coming to us from every State and Territory of the Union—notably from New York, Boston and other centres of commerce—we feel increasingly satisfied to continue and still further perfect the service to the great public, in the special but comprehensive lines which belong to the business of a well-ordered dry goods house.

We shall be pleased to furnish samples when desired, and assure our patrons that their orders will be given immediate and careful attention in our well-organized Mail Order Department.

Over Two Hundred Ladies Present at the Reception Given by Salisbury's Fair on Tuesday Night.

Over two hundred ladies and gentlemen gathered at the Bergen house on Main street last Tuesday night in response to the three hundred invitations which had been previously sent out. The occasion was the reception by the ladies of the city of their gentlemen friends and acquaintances, and the ladies did themselves justice in every particular.

At half past eight the guests began to arrive and were ushered into the building from the main street entrance by a colored attendant, and after visiting the cloak room where coats, wraps, etc., were deposited, the visitors passed into the library and were introduced by the reception committee. Mr. John B. Rider was master of ceremonies. The committee on reception were Mrs. John H. White, who wore black silk and lace, Mrs. Governor Jackson, Mrs. Emma Woodcock, white faille silk; Miss Sallie Woodcock, black lace, pink bodice; Miss Georgia Todd, cream and gauze. Standing in a semi-circle under the mellow tinted light of the chandelier, the receiving party presented a graceful picture in their lovely costumes.

All the rooms on the second floor of the building were utilized and the ladies had beautified them with evergreens and ferns. Two of the bed chambers were appropriated for cloak rooms, one for the ladies' wraps and the other for the gentlemen's coats and hats. Another room was fitted up with tables, chairs and sofas, where those who felt inclined indulged in various games. The double parlors were thrown into one, and here the crowd congregated while many gazed gracefully over the waxed floor, keeping time to the measure of waltz music emanating from a piano in the rear parlor fingered by a master from Wilmington.

At half past ten o'clock the supper room was opened and guests were invited to refreshments. The feasting lasted through a period of three hours. Such tempting viands as cold turkey, chicken salad, Smithfield ham, pickles, Maryland biscuits, hot coffee, chocolate, had been provided by the ladies to gratify the consuming appetites of their male friends. The apartment was ornamented with flowers, palms, and aquatic plants which gave the effect of a tropical island. The ladies, who assumed all the responsibilities of managing the affair, deserve much credit for their efforts met with unqualified success.

We would like to give the names of those present but the list would be too long. The clergy of the city and other distinguished citizens were among those who favored the occasion with their presence.

School Board Proceedings.

The School Board held its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday. Mr. Darby reported that he had visited the colored school at Nanticoke but did not find it in such condition as represented. He reported that he found the house in fair condition and ordered that repairs be made. He also reported that the principal to take a class from the assistant's room which would relieve that department. The following resolution was passed, relative to non-resident pupils:

Resolved, that children whose parents or guardians are residing out of the county, are considered non-resident pupils, although such pupils may be residing with relatives in the county and for an indefinite time, and as such must pay the regular tuition if they attend our schools.

The Treasurer was instructed to collect the regular tuition from all such pupils. Mr. Darby reported that he had inquired into the matter of furnishing pump for Spring Hill school and didn't think it necessary to have one settled there at present.

Messrs. Cannon and Perry reported that they had decided to have drive well settled at high school building instead of contracting with the Water Co.

Mr. Darby reported that he ordered built at the colored school, one Sharp-town wood house, to cost $4.

A resolution prevailed that the schools during the winter term give only 30 minutes at noon and close at 3:30 p. m. This order is optional with town schools but is impractical in some cases to comply.

Bill amounting to $196.34 were passed and ordered paid. Board adjourned to meet Thursday, Dec. 12th for the purpose of auditing teacher's accounts for the Fall Term.

Our Game Law.

We respectfully call attention to the following Act passed at the January Session of 1888, Chapter 149 entitled "An Act for the further protection of our partridges and quail in Worcester and Wicomico counties." That no person, corporation or company shall at any time kill or expose for sale, transport or have in possession, any partridge or quail after the same has been killed, for any purpose except for consumption at the place where killed, or in Worcester or Wicomico counties, nor kill, expose for sale or transport, or have in possession, any partridge or quail, or any of the above named game, with the intention of sending, or transporting, or having the same sent or transported beyond the limits of said counties, provided that nothing herein shall prevent the barter or sale of such game for home consumption only by residents of said counties within the limits of said counties.

The penalty for violation of this law is from $5 to $25 for each offence, to be paid to the informer upon conviction before a magistrate of the county. The law is being violated in this county and we would like to see it enforced.

A similar law exists in Delaware. Mr. E. J. Richardson of Laurel, was fined under it last Wednesday, $480.

Reversion Items.

Mr. Benjamin P. Gravener, who had a narrow escape from death last week by accidentally drugging himself with laudanum has entirely recovered from the effects of the dose, and will no doubt examine the contents of bottles in the future before drinking from them.

The mill of Taylor & Co., located on the wharf here, has been busy much of the autumn sawing white oak timber into cross-ties for the Baltimore and Eastern Shore railroad.

Our farmers are busy preparing their winter fuel from the adjacent forests, and making other preparations for the cold period.

The people of the Methodist Protestant church propose to hold a church social sometime during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Jackson Howard of B.C. Springs has just completed a handsome bible stand which he gave to the church. It was received with thanks by the committee.

—Mrs. J. Bergen, who is visiting friends in Baltimore, has recently been suffering from an attack of biliousness. She is now considerably improved and hopes soon to be able to return home.

There is but little of interest to chronicle from this place. Owing to the scarcity of corn which is our staple crop, most of our people have killed hogs much earlier this season than is the usual custom, the squeal of the porker has been a familiar sound for several weeks. Rev. W. H. Stone is holding a festival at New Hope, or rather (the people there are holding a festival) and he is assisting them. He will begin an extra meeting at Whaleyville next Sabbath. The members of the new M. E. Church here are still engaged in a powerful revival meeting which began October 8th and with the exception of two weeks has been in progress ever since. Over one hundred persons professed conversion since the meeting began, most of whom have joined some one of the different churches, either here or in the surrounding vicinity.

Mrs. Joshua J. Parsons was stricken with paralysis Oct. 18th last, has almost recovered.

—Look out for strangers in this county who are trying to play the confidence schemes on our citizens. They will take you in if you give them an opportunity.

Fever and acute, bilious fever, dyspepsia, affections of the liver and bowels readily yield to Laxador, after a few doses. Price 50 cents.

If your baby needs medicine buy a bottle of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. It contains nothing injurious, and helps the baby when teething.

Auntie Rustica, Jeems, and Tommy, Their Son.

AUNTIE: "Tommy, you little scamp, where have you been all this long week? Jeems and me has just been crazy 'bout We kinder spect you went off to that railroad and let them a keahrs run ober you. Besides, Jeems wanted the white mule to git in corn. Well, I hope you've got that hat and them ar fine clothes, and are now satisfied."

SON: "No, ma; I'm alive, and I found a man while I was gone, too, that's alive; and that's that fellow Thoroughgood in Salisbury we seen last Christmas. Talkin' about clothing! Why, that store of his looks like our old barn loft when there's two stacks of fodder in it—so full that there's hardly room enough for a hen's nest—crammed and jammed! Look at this suit!—this hat! The whole thing cost SEVEN DOLLARS!! What do you think of that? They charged me twelve dollars at other stores!"

JEEMS: "Well, Tommy, you caused us a heap of trouble this week. I thought you might be dead; besides, I needed the mule; but, old woman, it's all right; it must be that they've taken tariff profit and everything else off of clothing to sell it that cheap. Son, how did you remember the place?"

SON: "Well, I saw something in the county paper about the fair-dealing clothier, so I decided to go there. Pap, I bought you a gum coat and a regular storm overcoat. It looks like a bear skin, but it ain't. It's what ther call shaggar wool."

"I asked that feller Wailes if he didn't have clothing enough to last ten years, and he said, 'No, man; it will all be gone by Christmas.' Such stacks of hats, caps, men's and boy's clothing, collars, cuffs and underwear! Why, pap, I believe that it would pay us to sell our little white mule and buy a stock of clothing at this price and start a store out here at the end of the lane."

THE GOLD SEEKER.

Is it true? True it is, sir, just as true as that you're now seated at my feet. 'Tis true I am an old man to-day than I was when the sports boys round about used to call me the gold seeker. Yes, indeed, I do, and that's the name they gave me. Danyeen, the Gold Seeker.

But light your pipe and make yourself comfortable, and I'll try and make it all clear to you as best I can. At the time I'm going to speak about, I didn't stick to one callin' alone. I was what some call Jack-of-all-trades. Besides, a purty thatched roof, I held four acres as a high piece of land as could be found near the green banks of the Funcheon, and that's a source of great pride to me.

I was not only a farmer in a small way, but a hard workin' shoemaker to boot, and in my leisure moments when I wasn't out in the field, I would make it my business to go out on my four acres and cultivate the cabbage. And finer cabbage—though I say it myself—you wouldn't see in any other place. Although I was an industrious man, I had one strong weakness that stuck to me for a long while, though I got cured of it at last. That was, I had a long desire to dig for some of the treasures which were supposed to be buried in the earth near some of the old ruined castles, especially the big castle of Carrickbrack, at Fermoy, that stands not far from the brink of a high rock overlooking the Blackwater.

Many a time in my boyish days did I make up my mind to get a pickaxe and spade and climb the high rock from the river side, but something or other would hinder me, and I never did it. I don't attempt it for the world if you value your life.

But in spite of the warning I took courage and undertook the perilous exploit. And this is how it happened: One fine mornin' I made up my mind to go to the Fermoy market, and more than that, I planned to be a pattern day, when the boys and girls in their Sunday clothes, from the other side of the river, were sure to be there. So I harnessed Ned, the donkey, to the cart and set out with a load of beautiful cabbages to earn a honest penny in the market. I was driving at a spanking pace I got to Milkmarket lane, in Fermoy, in about an hour's time, and just as I drew up before the door of Carrickbrack castle, my horse shouldered me but my wild friend, Pat Howe, who was after returnin' that very mornin' from London.

The first words he said to me as soon as we exchanged greetings were: "Danyeen, avick, I had a mighty curious dream last night, and I'm sure it's about you. You're goin' to Carrickbrack castle."

"I've told me that for a fact," says I, "and I'm sure it's about you. You're goin' to Carrickbrack castle."

SLEEPING CAR PORTERS.

SOMETHING OF THIS WELL KNOWN STUDENT OF HUMAN NATURE.

Men He Has Received Tips from—Talmage as a Liberal and Sociable Passenger—Jay Gould Don't Give Up Freely—The Porters' Experiences of Europe.

A row of white metal buttons, a black or yellow face, a brightly lit, or, perchance there be few travelers abroad, the same buttons, the same face, but no sign of a human being. This has been described as the sleeping car porter of America. He isn't such a bad fellow, after all. He is a good judge of human nature, and when his almost unlimited experience in casual study of it is considered there can be no wonder that the sleeping car porter is a well known student of human nature.

When I would him what I wanted he lost no time in hunting up the necessary tools. In less than five minutes I had a spade and pickaxe, a stable lantern and a coil of rope. The reason I took the rope was because I had to climb a high rock, and the pickaxe, about thirty feet high, was to be used on a level with the castle grounds. Well, sir, back I went to the field with my mining tools under my arm, saying, "I'm off."

I got to the big rock overlooking the river. I then tied the implements to my belt, and I was off. I was in my hand and made my way up the best way I could. Some of the old holds were so slippery as glass, but I kept on, and in less than five minutes I was on top of the rock. I was then in a position to look down on the castle grounds, and I saw that by one false move I'd be smashed to atoms. When I landed safe at the top of the rock I pulled up the rope and uncoiled it, and I saw that it was all right. I then took the rock to the edge of the rock to the rock to the rock, and at all once my eye took in at a single glance the charms scene spread before me.

There was the beautiful summer moon dancing on the face of the Blackwater. I could also see her bright beams falling on the castle grounds, and I saw that by one false move I'd be smashed to atoms. When I landed safe at the top of the rock I pulled up the rope and uncoiled it, and I saw that it was all right. Mr. J. C. Jones, city marshal of Fulton, Ark., writes: "About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poison. The leading physicians of the city were called in, and they prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without finding me any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remedies, with the same unsuccessful result, but which brought on an attack of mercurial rheumatism that made my life one of untold agony. After suffering for four years, I gave up all former remedies and commenced taking Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). After taking several bottles, I was entirely cured and able to resume work. I consider Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) the greatest medicine for blood poisoning to-day on market."

A Prompt Cure—Two bottles of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) cured me of a breaking out all over my body, caused by blood poisoning. Victor Stewart, 24 S. Royal Street, Mobile, Ala.

For thirty years I was afflicted with poison, from which I suffered untold agonies. I commenced taking S. S. S., and after using five bottles, I am entirely cured. William Schenk, Fishing, I. I.

I suffered for twenty years from blood poisoning. Three bottles of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) cured me entirely. Catherine Mosher, Minnola, L. I.

C. E. Silect, cashier of the sergeant-at-arms office of the last congress, is an embezzler in the amount of about $82,000, $72,000 of which is government money, with good security for the government, will not suffer so severely as individuals. The chief sufferer will be the sergeant-at-arms of the last house—J. P. Leedom—who loses $10,000, cash, and is held responsible for the shortage of Silect about the same amount, which may be recovered from his bondsmen. Silect is supposed to be in Canada. The announcement of the defalcation created a sensation in the house. Silect was well known to at least 100 of the old members.

Wanamaker's. Philadelphia, Monday, Dec. 9, 1889.

St. Nicholas, Santa Claus, Kris Kringle are scrambling all over the store! The second floor is theirs equally with the first floor and Basement. Special Fancy Goods on second floor, Market Street.

Two of Priestly's Blacks take a down dip toward your pocketbook. Heavy-weight Camel Hair from $1.50 to $1; Silk-warp Foule from $1.25 to 75c.

Plenty more black stuffs with the prices warped. Here are four qualities Granite Cloth just from the manufacturer:

75c black All-wool Diagonals and Serges go from 72c to 65c; black Whip-cord Diagonals from $1 to 75c. Small Armure Stripes from $1 to 75c.

Stacks of medium priced Dress Goods are going a plump third under the little-time-back price. Like, these:

The Holiday flutter in Handkerchiefs has begun. More counter room, thicker corners, richer stock. And yet hardly more than the skirmish line is in sight. Samples of everything, but the grand reserve is a couple of floors above pushing to take the place of every handful you buy.

There won't be a better time for choosing or more to attract. Judge by this—A Man's Plain White Handkerchief; Pure line of course. Right in every way—size, hem, hemstitching. Sold only by the dozen and half dozen box—$2.50 and $1.25. That's at the rate of 21 cents apiece! Put one alongside the best regular 50c Handkerchief you ever bought.

Fans. Old people look into the cases and sigh and think "the days when we were young." Younger people look and think. What an important thing in dress, in courtship, in diplomacy, is a fan. Eyes downcast and manner coy as she toys with the tips of the ostrich plumes in her fan. Was she ever so charming?

Here is a plain little Folding Fan, 25 cents; another, black satin, with black sticks, 50 cents; again, painted satin, 75 cents; painted white gaze, $1.50. Ostrich Feather Folding Fans, black with natural ivory sticks, and gray with silvered sticks, a bargain at $1.75; white ostrich with ivory handle, at $6.50, and so on upward through all sorts to the prizes from the Paris Exposition at $30, $75, $160, $175, and $285—rare works of art. The Fan Convention is here.

The greatest Blanket triumph yet! Six and one-third pounds (or more) of pure, fine fluffy wool, and the price FIVE DOLLARS the pair.

Nothing but Wool. Sometimes nearly seven pounds of it put together with thorough blanket skill. Generous in size (75x86 inches) scrimped in nothing.

QUEER TRADES IN PARIS. ODD CRAFTS THAT SURPRISE THE YANKEE GLOBE TROTTER.

Expensive Methods of Making the Old Gobble Look Young—One Woman Has Made a Fortune Out of Ants' Feet—Big Stories About Parisian Cats.

There are many queer trades in Paris. One of the oddest is that of "painter of turkeys' legs." This article is known only to the poultry dealing fraternity and is a highly useful member of the community.

For his artistic skill he enables the trader to paint on a bird of patriarchal age, with a certain vague romance as to the date of its decease, upon a misguided housewife, or even upon an experienced buyer, who has learned to judge a turkey after the manner of cookery book writers.

Turkeys when freshly killed have shiny black legs and claws, but as the day of their death becomes more or less a matter of ancient history their lower extremities assume a dirty, slaty gray color. Old turkeys, too, have long claws and horny looking feet, which the ingenious artist pares and varnishes.

The artist goes round to his customers three or four times a week, peddling his wares. He has a large stock of turkeys, with a certain vague romance as to the date of its decease, upon a misguided housewife, or even upon an experienced buyer, who has learned to judge a turkey after the manner of cookery book writers.

"Cat killers" are not numerous, but the few who monopolize the trade are a great deal of money out of it. They walk through Paris about midnight with a sack and a couple of terriers, and when they catch sight of a cat in the squares, the dogs, who seldom return to their masters without their prize. Their skins are sold to tanners and their flesh to the keepers of eating houses in the squares, where "rabbit stew" is a favorite dish.

But for roasted rabbit one likes to be satisfied with a rabbit's head, which is sold as a proof of the bona fide of the dish. This would puzzle an ordinary individual, but the "cat killer" is a genius and a Frenchman, and is not so easily duped.

He also deals in rabbit skins, and has an arrangement with the cooks in the neighborhood to let him have the heads at the same time as the skins of the rabbits for his penny or two. By this ingenious method he is enabled to send out to his customers two or three cats' bodies, minus the tails, with each rabbit's head, and one more dainty dish is added to the Parisian menu.

Miscellaneous Cards. Baby one Solid Rash.

Ugly, painful, blotched, malitious. No relief by day, no peace by night. Doctors and all tried in vain. Cuticura. Effect marvelous. Saved his life.

Cured by Cuticura. Our oldest child, now six years of age, when he was six months old was attacked with a violent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failed. He was called on by a physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread from the middle of the back down to the lower portion of the little fellow's person. From the middle of the back down to the knees, was a solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and itched. The child was in a state of misery. Finally, we were advised to use Cuticura. In three or four weeks a complete cure was effected. The child is now a healthy, robust, and happy little fellow. His mother's person is white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and today he is a healthy child perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having occurred since. Dr. J. C. Smith, A. U. S. at Law and ex-Prof. A. T. Y. Ashland, O.

Boy Covered with Scabs. My boy, aged nine years, has been troubled all his life with a very bad humer which appeared all over his body in small red blotches, which were very itchy. He was very nervous and was worse than ever, being covered with scabs from the middle of the back down to the feet. He was in a state of misery. Finally, we were advised to use Cuticura. In three or four weeks a complete cure was effected. The child is now a healthy, robust, and happy little fellow. His mother's person is white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. Some time ago a gentleman visited a pen of tame ostriches in Africa. At his call two beautiful birds came up to him. Being desirous of testing their speed, he arranged with the keeper that they should run a race. So he cased the birds, and showed them a handful of figs, which they are very fond of. The ostriches were held while the visitor walked to a certain distance. At a signal they were set free and began to run for the figs.

Are predicted with reliable accuracy, and people liable to the pains and aches of rheumatism dread every change of damp or stormy weather. Although Hood's Sarsaparilla is not claimed to be a positive specific for rheumatism, the remarkable cures it has effected show that it may be taken for this complaint with reasonable certainty of benefit.

High Standard Clothing

The Clothing I buy from your firm gives me the best of service—much better than I get elsewhere.

Case and result always go together. No house in the business makes such search for absolutely reliable qualities. We know the Clothing we sell.

INDIVIDUALITY OF DESIGN AND EXECUTION is so plainly stamped on our styles that it doesn't require a critical eye to detect it. A man's individuality is as marked in the shears as in the pen.

AS TO VARIETY, you can find more novelties, rarer cloth patterns, later styles in make and trim, more ingenious blending of shade and color, and more fashionable designs in tailoring, than you can find in any other establishment in Salisbury—and, perhaps on the Peninsula.

AS TO PRICES, we would say that they are as low as can be found, considering quality, etc. It will pay you to call and see us.

These officers will be installed at the next regular meeting, Monday evening, January 6th.

The Shakespeare Club met last Monday night at the residence of Mrs. Sarah Cannon. Mrs. E. Stanley Toadvine, Mr. G. Selman Williams and the Misses Fuller, contributed some fine music. The reading of Richard III was finished. Several new members were elected to the club. The next meeting will be held at the residence of Dr. John S. Fulton on Poplar Hill avenue the first Monday night in January, 1890. An interesting and literary programme will be prepared. The play selected for the next reading is Julius Caesar.

Four Ducking Season. The ducking season on the Chesapeake is the worst ever known and fishermen will have to be satisfied with a few dollars' worth of fish. The ducks they want to pay double the ordinary prices which these birds usually bring. New York buyers are taking all the ducks that can be supplied at Havre de Grace, and not half the orders from Baltimore and Washington can be filled. The canvas-backs are unacceptably scarce, and the red-heads are bringing canvas-back prices. The approach of Christmas always doubles the demand, and this year they are heavier than ever, and a very clever trick has been played with considerable success and profit. Ducks from Carrick Sound, N. C., and other big ducking waters down the coast have been quickly shipped to Havre de Grace and sold to eager New Yorkers as the real Chesapeake bird. In this way the southerners get several prices for their ducks, since if they shipped them to New York direct they would bring just about one-third of that which is paid for them in Havre de Grace. Baltimore buyers have become suspicious, and the canvas-back duck has been taken from the bills of care of the leading hotels and restaurants. Many of the old duckers who have made a living in this way have abandoned their old calling this season and sought other employment.

Reception at Oehm's Acme Hall. A reception to the public was given last Wednesday night at Oehm's Acme Hall between 8 and 10 o'clock, during which an exhibition was made of the special Holiday goods as well as a general display of the store's stock.

Mr. Bennett was authorized to contract for putting wharf logs along the river shore in 1st district near Riverton to prevent washing out of county road.

Accounts of Geo. D. Inley and Stephen A. Calloway for goods furnished pensioners, $8 in each case, allowed and order given on collectors.

Mr. Robinson reported that he had sold the old barge at Sharptown ferry for $2.10.

Robt. Hitch was appointed janitor of Court House.

Adjournd till Dec. 31 1889.

Signs of Christmas are beginning to be noticed more and more every day. One of our young men has started an enterprise which is new to this place, that is the shipping of evergreens to the cities, he is shipping considerable quantities of holly, cedar, etc., every day, sometimes in car loads, and sometimes in smaller lots.

Benjamin Frederick Dennis, was married to Miss Minerva Curtis, at 21-1/2 o'clock, evening at the M. E. Church in this place. A large crowd was in attendance, the ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Bowman, and the calisthumpians brought out their horns, bells, mill saws, etc., and gave the happy pair a serenade at the residence of the bridegroom.

Mr. Charles J. Moore and Miss Sallie McGee were married at King's M. E. church on Tuesday 17th inst by Rev. C. S. Baker.

Mr. Isaac Watson and Mrs. Elizabeth C. Watson were married by Rev. G. R. McCready at the M. E. church on Wednesday evening.

The Christmas entertainment at the M. E. church will be given on the evening of Dec. 25th. Doors open 6:30 p. m. Admission 25 cts.

"Merry Christmas Bells," will be rendered by the Baptist Sunday school on Thursday evening.

The meeting of Salisbury Division of the Sons of Temperance Monday evening, December 16th, the following officers were present: W. P. Wm. J. Johnson, W. A. Dr. Geo. W. Todd; Chap. James Elzey; R. S. Oliver; Hearse; A. R. S. Alex. Toadvine, Jr.; F. S. Capt. McKim Porter; Treas. Frank Kennerly; Com. Will Mitchell; A. Con. E. G. Hare; J. E. Edson; J. S. Severance; and J. Dawson. These officers will be installed at the next regular meeting, Monday evening, January 6th.

The Shakespeare Club met last Monday night at the residence of Mrs. Sarah Cannon. Mrs. E. Stanley Toadvine, Mr. G. Selman Williams and the Misses Fuller, contributed some fine music. The reading of Richard III was finished. Several new members were elected to the club. The next meeting will be held at the residence of Dr. John S. Fulton on Poplar Hill avenue the first Monday night in January, 1890. An interesting and literary programme will be prepared. The play selected for the next reading is Julius Caesar.

Four Ducking Season. The ducking season on the Chesapeake is the worst ever known and fishermen will have to be satisfied with a few dollars' worth of fish. The ducks they want to pay double the ordinary prices which these birds usually bring. New York buyers are taking all the ducks that can be supplied at Havre de Grace, and not half the orders from Baltimore and Washington can be filled. The canvas-backs are unacceptably scarce, and the red-heads are bringing canvas-back prices. The approach of Christmas always doubles the demand, and this year they are heavier than ever, and a very clever trick has been played with considerable success and profit. Ducks from Carrick Sound, N. C., and other big ducking waters down the coast have been quickly shipped to Havre de Grace and sold to eager New Yorkers as the real Chesapeake bird. In this way the southerners get several prices for their ducks, since if they shipped them to New York direct they would bring just about one-third of that which is paid for them in Havre de Grace. Baltimore buyers have become suspicious, and the canvas-back duck has been taken from the bills of care of the leading hotels and restaurants. Many of the old duckers who have made a living in this way have abandoned their old calling this season and sought other employment.

High Standard Clothing

The Clothing I buy from your firm gives me the best of service—much better than I get elsewhere.

Case and result always go together. No house in the business makes such search for absolutely reliable qualities. We know the Clothing we sell.

INDIVIDUALITY OF DESIGN AND EXECUTION is so plainly stamped on our styles that it doesn't require a critical eye to detect it. A man's individuality is as marked in the shears as in the pen.

AS TO VARIETY, you can find more novelties, rarer cloth patterns, later styles in make and trim, more ingenious blending of shade and color, and more fashionable designs in tailoring, than you can find in any other establishment in Salisbury—and, perhaps on the Peninsula.

AS TO PRICES, we would say that they are as low as can be found, considering quality, etc. It will pay you to call and see us.
