ROBT. D. ELKHOOD, Postmaster.

SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1894.

FOR RENOMINATION.

Governor Brown has announced his candidacy for renomination.

To the Advertiser this looks like a bold move upon the political chess board.

It is safe to conclude that the Governor has not made this announcement without consulting his political friends, who are said to include Mr. John of Baltimore, Postmaster Warfield, Robin K. Cowan, District Attorney Marbury, and others who have control of affairs in the city and some of the counties.

It looks as if the fight will be particularly interesting to our present Senator, Mr. Gorman and Mr. Gibson. It looks as if there is more than ordinary significance in the fight which Mr. Brown's candidacy would bring.

It is rumored that Senator Smith of Worcester, will also be in the field for gubernatorial honors. If so, he will likely prove a formidable candidate on the Eastern Shore.

Senator Smith as president of the Maryland Senate of 1894 proved a man of very decided ability and both capable and worthy to fill the gubernatorial chair of the State. If, when the time comes, Mr. Smith should be in the field, Wicomico would look very favorably upon his candidacy.

About ten days ago Senator Gorman of this State left Washington for his home in Laurel, Prince George county, a sick man. It was then feared that his heart had been seriously impaired by over work. The latest reports now are that he is convalescent, and that he hopes to be in his seat in the Senate in a week, where the services of every democratic senator are greatly needed just at this time.

He seems to be suffering from nervous prostration, complicated with kidney trouble.

A Good, Active, Brains Man Wanted.

The number of probable candidates for congressional honors in this district will likely complicate matters somewhat and make the outcome of the convention a very great uncertainty. There is one thing rather assured, that is, that no candidate can insure the place to any extent.

Rev. P. M. What we want is a man, active, brains man, with clear cut democratic principles, who stands by his sentiments, no matter what forces may oppose.—Centerville Observer.

[Wicomico county has such a man provided he will consent to become a candidate.]

Julia Captured at Last.

The Baltimore Sun gives Miss Marlowe this send off.

"At last Julia Marlowe, the charming young actress who has so many friends and admirers in Baltimore and other parts of the country, admits the soft impeachment and acknowledges that she has fallen a victim to the tender passion she has so often simulated upon the stage.

Mr. Robert Taber, her former leading man, has captured her heart, and it is reported with her hand soon after the close of her theatrical season. May the gods give them joy, and may fair Julia's married life be as she likes it, a tender Midsummer Night's Dream, an example of All's Well that Ends Well, and not, as so often happens in the marriage of stage people, a case of Love's Labor Lost."

What We are Coming To.

The whole tendency of the industrial age is, of course, to render the manual contract of man with matter less and less frequent and more mechanical. Machinery is made to intervene whenever possible. When not, the functions of labor are divided and subdivided until each individual comes to perform a mere special fragment of work, a fragment so limited in scope, that it requires no constant repetition of the same few machinery movements, that all freedom of muscular action is shut out. The expensive actions, with a practical end in view, grow, in short, ever fewer. The expression of the civilized human body grows, then more and more concentric more and more static. The logical final of the industrial man would seem, as to the physique, to be entire atrophy of the powers of muscular expressiveness. One let no one object that the expensive actions without a practical end, without an end of immediate, positive commonplace utility—will save the situation and preserve some poses and motions of supreme beauty for the artist of the future. Physical culture for the sake of physical culture alone will not do that. Foot-ball avails not, nor all the scales of athletics. Not in the highest sense. The primary condition of true beauty is fitness; otherwise, concrete usefulness, roundly the Point of View," in the June Scribner.

County treasurer Jas. A. Waddell tendered his resignation to the Dorchester county commissioners last Tuesday, to take effect July 1st. Mr. Waddell will accept the position of teacher in the Dorchester National bank, made vacant by the resignation of W. C. Anderson, among the most prominent names mentioned as successor to Mr. Waddell are James Robinson, one of the school commissioners of Dorchester county, ex-Postmaster Wm. G. Johnson and Wm. Beckwith of East Newmarket. The appointment will likely be made at the next session of the county commissioners.

SOME POLITICAL POINTS.

Governor Brown Again in the Field.

He States Positively that He will be a Candidate for Re-Election.

The Baltimore Herald of Thursday says: Governor Brown is "in it." He himself is authority for the statement.

The question which the politicians have been asking one another ever since the adjournment of the legislature, "Will Frank Brown be a candidate to succeed himself?" is finally answered, and in the affirmative.

It is no more for us to wonder so frequently alluded to in these columns that Gov. Brown would again run for the democratic nomination for Chief Executive of Maryland was renewed down town and discussed with a deal of interest, especially among politicians, who had concluded that when His Excellency recently accepted the presidency of the Traction Company that he intended to gradually withdraw from politics and turn his attention entirely toward a business career.

This supposition made the rumor more interesting, and it was talked over and over with zest and not a little concern.

A Morning Herald reporter followed the Governor at the Hotel Bonnet and put the question squarely to him: "Is it true, Governor, that you will be a candidate for renomination next year?" "Yes," was the prompt reply, "it is, I have determined to ask for endorsement."

When did you decide to enter the field?" "Inside the last 24 hours, though my friends throughout Maryland have pressed me to come to this decision for some time, in fact, they did so several months ago. Now that I have decided I deem it proper that they should know the fact as well as that the party should know my position. Hence I have no hesitancy in admitting the truth of the report."

"On what grounds will you make your campaign?" inquired the reporter. "Will it be like your former canvass?" "I have not thought much of details," said the Governor, "but having concluded to be a candidate, I, of course, expect to invoke all possible influence to attain a majority in the Legislature. I have engaged in great degree by conditions arising at time goes on."

"What do Senator Gorman and Mr. Rain think of your determination to again be a candidate?" "I don't know," he has not conferred with any of the political leaders. In fact I did not tell anyone that I intended to do until to-day. Then, my mind being made up, I told friends whom I met of my decision."

"This was all the Governor had to say in regard to his candidacy. What he did say he uttered in his usual inoffensive manner. The contest for the Governorship does not begin until the summer of 1895."

A friend of Governor Brown, who was asked what effect he thought the presence of a street-railway company would have upon his campaign, said: "I am sure that Frank Brown would not allow himself to be handicapped in the least degree, having entered the race. If the Traction Company's presidency is an indication of his character, it is to be sure, he will throw it off, he will make the fight for the Governorship to win. And he is a strong candidate, too. I think he can safely count upon Baltimore's 21 votes in the state convention."

The term of the present Postmaster at Easton, Col. J. C. Mullikin, expired some time ago, but no successor has been named. The two leading candidates for the place are Mr. John Y. Todd, editor of the Eastern Democrat, and Capt. C. E. Leonard, editor of the Free Press and Business. Senator Gibson is said to have promised the place to Captain Leonard, but serious opposition to the appointment of the latter has arisen among the patrons of the office, and grave doubts are expressed as to whether the President will appoint him even at the request of the Senator. Mr. Todd's friends claim that he is entitled to the place because he has always consistently supported Mr. Gibson in the Democrat in all the bitter local fights which have taken place in Talbot county in recent years. In fact, the Democrat has been looked upon as the personal organ of the Senator in his county, and the friends of its editor claim that he is entitled to some reward for what he has done, and they ask that he be made Postmaster.

Mr. John G. Mills, editor of the Cambridge Democrat, will be made Postmaster at Cambridge on the expiration of the term of the present incumbent, Mr. J. H. C. Barrett, editor of the Era, the Republican organ of Dorchester county. Mr. Mills had the endorsement of the late Congressman Brattan, and is also endorsed by Senator Gibson.

Collector Shaw has appointed State Senator Jacob M. Newman of Frederick county cashier of customs to succeed Mr. Arthur Stahler of Montgomery county. Mr. Newman is a brother-in-law of Collector Shaw and will assume the duties of the office tomorrow.

Mr. Arthur Stahler of Montgomery county is expected to give bond to the Collector for $25,000, and his salary is $2,500 a year.

A Mean Story Contradicted.

An unpleasant story has been printed in newspapers in the various parts of the country to the effect that little Ruth Cleveland, who is now with her mother in Buffalo, visiting at the home of Mrs. Cleveland's mother, Mrs. Perrine, is deaf and dumb; whereas, that her mental powers are of a very low order. The story has been printed with much circumstantial detail, and prominence was given to it lately in a New York paper. It has become a matter of general gossip, says a special dispatch to the New York Tribune, that it warranted direct inquiry on the subject in order that it might be stopped if it were untrue. Mrs. Cleveland's stepfather, Mr. Perrine, then told the story, was naturally indignant by a story of this nature, and he immediately set to work to disprove it. He has not only done so, but he has also written a long and interesting article in the New York Tribune, in which he has shown that the story is not only untrue, but is also malicious and brutally false, rounding the most sensitive spot one could find in a mother's nature." The reporter who called at the Perrine home heard the victim of this cruel canard breathe to her nurse in a way that bore out Mr. Perrine's denial most effectively.

"Many of the citizens of Baltimore, Indiana are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This remedy has proven of so much value for colds, croup and whooping cough in children that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it. For sale by R. K. Truitt & Sons, drugists.

THE TREASURE KEY.

A Discovery That Opened the Riches of Eastern Literature.

It is not a fairy tale that I am going to tell you, though I do take you far away to the land of the lotus flower, the land of the obelisks and the Nile, but a story true in word and fact.

It is the story of a key, before which vast treasure houses, impenetrable for ages, opened their doors. And when the portals were thrown wide the searchers gazed upon vistas containing riches of which their wildest imaginations had never dreamed.

It is the story of a key of gold, though its value is more than its weight in gold, for it opens a metal, nor is it shaped like a key at all. And the wealth it unlocked was not for any man's fingers, but for all that desire to partake of it, for all posterity, for you and for me. I speak of the Rosetta stone, which is now in the British Museum.

Many ages ago Ptolemy Epiphanes, king of Egypt, paid the arrears of taxes and other obligations of the priesthood of Egypt, and in thanks and to show their respect for his consideration the priest-hood, at a synod held in Memphis, passed a decree commanding that the decree be cut into stone, as that was the mode of preserving a record of historical events. This happened about 195 years before the Christian era.

You must know that the Egyptians had a different mode of writing from ours. They used hieroglyphics or picture writing, and this mode of writing has been discovered to be the written interpretation of sounds.

A record of Epiphanes' deed might not be of Egyptian but of Greek and the Greek. This was done as a precaution, because, as the country had many dialects, a language once in use was likely to die out in time. So by making the trilingual copy of the event, each translation of the other, it was likely to be preserved.

Years passed, and the dust of ages buried from view the stone that was destined to be the key to the past. It was thrown a light upon the shadowy conceptions of modern thinkers regarding the past life and manners and customs of the Egyptians.

This is the origin of the Rosetta stone, but no one in the modern world knew of its existence until the first of Napoleon. He carried his conquering arms all over Europe, and not content with his victories there he invaded Egypt, where he fought the brilliant Egyptian campaign.

While stationed near Rosetta, in lower Egypt, some of the soldiers with the French engineer, M. Boscarrat, found, while excavating the site of an old block of stone of black basalt, about 3 1/2 feet in length and a little more than 2 1/2 feet in width. On it they saw strange and unintelligible writing and drawings. It was the Rosetta stone, so called from the name of the place where it was found, but they did not dream how precious their discovery would prove.

And it was not until about 15 years had passed that even one word was translated. Dr. Young in 1816 made out the word "Amun," and he was who discovered that the writing was phonetic and not ideographic, as had been supposed. But the key had not yet done its work. Like Aladdin and his lamp, the talisman had not yet been conquered.

Dr. Young, continuing his research, deciphered the word Benerice, among the pictorial writings of the frescos at Karnak. But it is to Champollion that most of the credit is due, for he continued the Rosetta stone unerringly, and finally his labors were crowned with victory. The translation of the Rosetta stone was completed—that is to say, so far as the stone itself is complete, for one part of it is broken off.

It was not an easy task to conquer, but one well worth the attempt, and honor will ever be done to the man that undertook and succeeded in opening up the broad field of the literature of the east, the field that glows with glorious deeds and achievements, and that for ages baffled the wisest.—Philadelphia Times.

Stage Drivers of Early Days.

Speaking of stage drivers reminds one of the glory of stages, which reached its crowning point when rival lines ran between New York and Philadelphia, New York and Baltimore, and New York and Washington. Six magnificent horses to each coach, the coaches the finest possible, the horses caparisoned with every ornament which could be added to enhance their beauty.

The driver, in a beak-in coat and cap, beak-in gaiters, was a little sovereign in his way. No matter what the grade was, no matter how steep the hill or how deep the snow, he carried things through on schedule time. He cared nothing for snowdrifts or high water, and his ruling idea was that he must make the station ahead of the opposition line.

In this work there were a dozen men, each with a personality of his own and all with a perfect art in their hands and their brains which made them sovereigns and kings of the road. They were not very much increased the time which some of them made. Each had his friends, his champions; each was greatest in his sphere among a certain crowd, but they were altogether great. The likes of them were never before and never will be again.—Salt Lake Tribune.

A Good Appetite.

Always accompanies good health, and an absence of appetite, is an indication of something wrong. The loss of a rational desire for food is soon followed by lack of strength, for when the supply of fuel is cut off the fire burns low. The system gets into a low state and is liable to severe attacks of disease. The universal testimony given by those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, as to its great merits in restoring and sharpening the appetite, in promoting healthy action of the digestive organs, and as a purifier of the blood, constitutes the strongest recommendation that can be urged for any medicine. Those who never used Hood's Sarsaparilla should surely do so this season.

Summer School.

For those wishing employment, the months of June and July are the most desirable of the whole year to enter Palm's Business College, 1708-10 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, as they will graduate in the Fall when business is at its best and situations the most plentiful. Palm's College gives a complete business education at the minimum of cost and time, and assists its graduates in securing positions. Handsome circulars can be had for the asking.

On Monday J. T. Shalleron, of Sassafras, Kent county, made the largest shipment of gooseberries ever sent to market by a grower in the Eastern Shore. He shipped fifty-five sugar barrels of 23 pounds each, aggregating 12,750 pounds of gooseberries. The berries sold in Baltimore at 4 cents per pound. He expects to get from a patch of six acres over 800 bushels.

I have two little grand children who are teaching this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children who are troubled with bowels. My wife, L. Damsman, has a son, Hickman C. Tenn. For sale by R. K. Truitt & Sons, Salisbury Md.

AN INSECT COMMUNITY.

The Wonderful Methods of Work and Government Employed by Wasps.

Wasps nest in mud, bitters, builders, carpenters and paper makers. They go abroad into the fields and gardens in search of provisions. With exemplary care they go to work when they get out the army side of your peaches and carry away meat from the lamb chops in your larder. Man, however, who robs the lady the gentle calf for the production of veal cutlets, usually speaks of the socialist locusts as robbers and depraved. But he forgets that the generous and public spirited wasp does not levy tribute on his apricots for itself alone. It is the commissary of the republic. Each worker hurries back to the nest the results of his fruit hunting, or his mardering expeditions and shares them among his fellow workers with that distributive justice which Aristotle preached and which nobody in our human communities practices. He carries out the principles of the Fabian society.

Every successful wasp, when he returns to the nest with a piece of prime beef, or a wingless fly, or a cup of sugar sent for the quality from the grocer's barrel, perches on the top of the dome among his assembled fellows. They bow to him and salute him with their equally among bees and paper makers. His two main doctrines are, "If any wasp will not work, neither shall I," and "Every wasp to labor according to his capacity and receive according to his needs in a free community."

Division of labor, I believe, goes a long way in the nest. Some of the workers seem to be specially employed as foragers and soldiers, others appear to be bold and cautious, while yet others are engaged as paper makers and masons. It is even said that these last work by definite shifts. I know not on what authority, but that there are a space of about a square inch allotted to them to fill with cells, on which no neighboring worker is permitted to encroach with impunity. But these are perhaps the fictions of imaginative observers. At any rate, the eight hours act is not yet in operation. Wasps work early and late in their own more motion.—Longman's Magazine.

Kossuth's English.

Kossuth had a remarkable mastery of English. This story shows how he strengthened his knowledge of our difficult tongue. Speaking at Concord, Mass., he said to the audience, "I am an Austrian exile renouncing your freedom of Hungary. The word escaped him. Stopping for a moment in the full light of his eyes, he asked a matter of fact American who sat near him, "What you say when man has his coat?" "Hole," was the reply. That word did not satisfy him, and he asked the question, "What is the word for a hole in a coat?" "Rent," with positive sympathy for the exile, and the steady answer of the sentence was complete. He learned the language after his arrest in 1837, when he was sentenced in 1838 to three years' imprisonment, a part of which he was cut off from all communication with his friends and was denied the use of pen and ink, and even of books. In the winter of 1839, he was taken to read, but as all political books were interdicted he selected an English grammar, Walker's Pronouncing Dictionary, and Shakespeare. Without knowing a single word he began to read "The Tempest." He was engaged for a fortnight in getting through the first page.—Chicago Herald.

Rossini and Millet.

Rossini and Millet were very unlike, as one may infer from their work. Rossini was essentially a landscape painter, and it was in the words that he found his favorite theme. The splendors of the setting sun or sheltered nooks in the woods were subjects he was fond of painting. Beautiful effects like these captured him, and naturally he sought to reproduce them. Like Aladdin and his lamp, the talisman had not yet been conquered.

Sometimes I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism, I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and customers to try the remedy and all speak highly of it. Simon Goldbaum, San Luis Rey, Cal. For sale by R. K. Truitt & Sons, drugists.

After Pneumonia.

Catarrh, Abscesses, and Dyspepsia.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Gave Robust Health and Strength.

Mr. Wm. W. Oles

is a well known citizen of N. J. He writes illustrating the good building up, blood purifying powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla after pneumonia.

"I am pleased to make a statement of my recovery after pneumonia. I am a blacksmith and contracted a severe cold which developed into pneumonia. Before I got over the illness, two large abscesses gathered on my lungs. Different medicines failed to do me any good. Catarrh and dyspepsia.

Made Me Very Weak

and lost flesh. I was advised to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before I had used a bottle I began to feel better. I continued and have taken five bottles and I feel as well as I ever did. Hood's Sarsaparilla made me perfectly well. I now have a good appetite and my bowels are regular.

SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1894.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

All democratic voters residing in Wicomico county are hereby notified that Primaries will be held at the different polling places in the several election districts of this county, on

SATURDAY, JUNE 23, 1894, at 1 o'clock, p. m. to elect three delegates from each district to attend a Democratic County Convention to be held at Salisbury, Md., on MONDAY, JUNE 25, 1894, at 10 o'clock, a. m. to elect four delegates to attend the First District Congressional Convention which will meet at Ocean City July 23rd, to nominate candidates for the unexpired term of the late Congressman Brattan, and to represent the First Congressional district in the 54th Congress.

Polls will be opened in the several districts at one o'clock, p. m. In case of a contest in any district the polls will be held open from 1 to 4 p. m.

ELIOT E. JACKSON, WILLIAM L. LAWS, THOMAS W. WHITE, Democratic Central Committee for Wicomico County.

Unusual attention has been accorded the annual turtle dinner at Quantico by the press of the state.

The Baltimore papers have contained interesting editorials on the beauties of this democratic love feast, and the rural press has almost without exception attempted something sage, historic or witty.

Next Wednesday is the day for this year's gathering, and Mr. Bailey of the Quantico hotel, is laying himself out for the occasion.

The primaries for the several districts of the county will be held at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 23d. A call will be found at the head of our editorial columns.

The county convention will follow on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, June 25th. The convention is for the purpose of selecting four delegates to the First District Congressional convention which will meet at Ocean City July 23rd, and having for its duty the selection of a candidate to fill the unexpired term of the late Congressman Brattan, and to nominate a candidate to represent the district in the 54th Congress.

Probably there never was a time when the interests of the people demanded a more strict, conscientious and upright performance of duty than at present.

All good, earnest and loyal democrats therefore should attend the primaries, and have a voice in the selection of delegates who are to name our future representatives.

A number of candidates for Congress have been mentioned—one or more for almost every county in the district in fact—among them able and honest men; but who will be the choice of the convention is as yet problematic. One thing is certain. And that thing is the very deep-seated determination of the party managers, so far as this county is concerned, at least, to act independent of certain influences in the State. We want nothing so badly as to place ourselves under bondage to a few self-styled leaders who aspire to dictate the action of men fully as capable and infinitely more in accord with the interests of the people.

Mr. H. M. Dashiell Collector.

President Cleveland has appointed Hampton H. Dashiell of Prince Anne, to be collector of the port at Crisfield, Md. Mr. Dashiell was recommended for the appointment by Senator Gibson and a large number of residents of Somerset county. His strongest opponent was Dr. R. W. Dashiell also of Somerset Anne, who had the endorsement of the late Representative Brattan, of all the Maryland delegates in the House and of residents of Somerset and adjoining counties. Messrs. S. B. Biggan, N. C. Sterling, E. P. Tyler and Capt. Gibson were also applicants. With the exception of Mr. Tyler they are all residents of Crisfield, the town commissioners of which urged the President to give the position to a resident of town. The salary of the position is about $2,000 per annum. One deputy at a salary of $800 per annum is provided. Mr. L. E. P. Dennis is the republican incumbent. Mr. Dashiell has been a resident of Prince Anne for many years and was formerly engaged in merchandising there. He was registrar of wills for Somerset county for two terms. Mr. Cassius M. Dashiell, a well known lawyer of Baltimore, is his son.

Mr. Harrison W. Vickers has given certain gentlemen in Kent no small degree of worry and vexation of spirit, because of his persistent refusal to make known his intentions relative to making a bid for the office of the county clerk in the congressional contest in the first district. Mr. Vickers refuses to put the minds of these gentlemen at rest by committing himself even by the slightest intimation of his intentions. Should Mr. Vickers ask the support of his county in the congressional contest, it is generally conceded that Kent will respond to his call, and that too, in spite of the quiet opposition which the old masters have been quietly formulating—Chesertown Transcript.

OCEAN CITY BELIEVED.

Both Parties of the First District Will Hold the Congressional Convention at that Place In July.

The Democratic State Central committee met in the Carrollton Hotel at noon last Wednesday with a full attendance from the counties and legislative districts of Baltimore city.

The committee was called to order in the main parlor of the Carrollton by Col. Louis Victor Baughman, who presided at the meeting.

Mr. W. Laird Henry, editor of the Cambridge Chronicle and member of the committee from Dorchester county, was unanimously elected secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. W. C. Hager.

The following dates and places were announced for the congressional conventions.

First District—Ocean City, July 26. Second District—Towson, October 2. Third District—Broadway Institute, October 3.

Fourth District—China Hall, West Baltimore street, October 2. Fifth District—Cantonville, September 5.

Sixth District—Hagerstown, September 2.

The committee then adjourned subject to the call of the chairman, and partook of a sumptuous lunch in the breakfast room of the Carrollton hotel.

Ex-Governor Jackson, Messrs. Jas. T. Truitt, T. W. H. White, Wm. S. Moore and Thos. Perry represented Wicomico county. Ex-Gov. Jackson, Capt. Wm. and Mr. Wm. Levi Laws compose the central committee for the county.

A republican convention met at Harris Academy Concert Hall, Baltimore, on Tuesday, to elect State officers and delegates to the State Convention.

League Clubs, which will meet in Duncannon, Md., on June 23. Capt. W. D. Burcher was elected a delegate at large; and C. W. Westcott a delegate from the first district.

The convention for the First District will be held at Ocean City, August, 29th, three days later than the Democratic convention. The central committee is composed of Levin A. Parsons, Elijah S. Adkins, Thomas J. Walker, Wm. H. Higgins, and Geo. R. Gaither.

Republican congressional candidates are not numerous except in the fifth and sixth districts. The republicans are they are confident of carrying these two districts, and as a consequence nearly every county in the district has a candidate for the nomination.

In the first district the names mentioned are Thos. S. Hodson, of Somerset; G. M. Ransom, of Caroline; Martin M. Higgins, of Talbot, and Chas. T. Westcott, of Kent.

Second district sentiment seems to have centered around State Senator Wm. B. Baker, of Harford and no other name is seriously considered.

The third district has as yet presented no candidate.

In the fourth district Geo. R. Gaither, Jr., J. Frank Supplies, ex-Congressman Stockbridge and City Councilman John R. Kalso all have friends who are urging their claims.

For the fifth district nomination St. Mary's will present State Senator Washington Wilkinson. Calvert will support State Senator Thos. Parson, Charles has ex-Congressman Sidney E. Mudd, while ex-Judge Frederick Stone is also mentioned. Prince George's offers ex-State Senator Coffin and F. Snowden Hill.

A Social Glimpse of Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone.

Four of the dinner guests were elegant toilettes of velvet, brocade, and satin, cut decollete, and resplendent with diamonds and other ornaments.

Their heavy robes trailed across the soft carpet and added to the richness of the drawing room. In the midst of all this splendor was a quaint figure of an old lady in a sober black gown and bonnet.

She looked as if she had stepped out of a Dickens novel, for her white attire especially the large bonnet coming over her ears, was old-fashioned. "Who is she?" "Why do she wear street costume at a dinner party?" And, "Oh, why the bonnet?" These were natural questions among the Americans, to be followed by greater surprise at the information that the old lady was none other than Mrs. Gladstone, mistress of Harward.

It seemed quite in harmony with her costume that Mrs. Gladstone should salute the dinner guests with a prim little courtesy. Hardly were the responses made when a group of men in evening dress appeared in the doorway. There were tall and distinguished men in the company, a diplomat, a multi-millionaire, a great politician, an indication of something wrong. The loss of a rational desire for food is soon followed by lack of strength, for when the supply of fuel is cut off the fire burns low. The system gets into a low state, and is liable to never get out of it.

It was difficult to realize that we were looking upon one of the greatest personages of the nineteenth century. At first glance Mr. Gladstone appeared like a man of about eighty three or eighty-four years of age, nervous, energetic, and courteous in the extreme.

But a closer observation enlarged the comprehension of his nature. His features are familiar though countless portraits and caricatures, but no print can give the fascination of those bright dark eyes, the brilliant intonation of that intellectual activity which has carried him into the ranks of the world's great men.

He has been a student of the law, and has given him capacity for the labor of a political career of over fifty years.

Imagined Pain.

"The pain experienced in a surgical operation is largely in the imagination of the patient," remarked Dr. W. C. Tombs of Kansas City, to a St. Louis Globe-Democrat man. "I once had occasion to perform an operation on a man where it became necessary for me to use the knife twice. After the first part of the operation was over the patient declared he could not stand any more, as the pain was more than he could bear. Convinced that the suffering was more imaginary than real, I resorted to this ruse. I called in my assistant and told him to tie a handkerchief over the man's eyes, which I said was saturated with a soothing lotion which would allay the pain. I then told my assistant to grasp the man's hands and hold them firmly. Then I called in the patient and said, 'I am here, and I am ready to act like a man.' I earnestly recommended it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of it and doing my house work."

Individual Commission Cures.

Scientists have for a long time been advocating and instructing the church that some reform was needed in the administration of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. They hold that there is danger in the use of a single communion cup passed from mouth to mouth through a congregation of varying heights.

There seems to be no doubt that there is danger in the method used, yet the reform suggested is not being so very freely adopted.

Fastidious persons have refused to drink from cups placed at public fountains and water coolers and have allowed their thirst to be quenched until they could find a cup less frequently used by all types of people. In refraining from the use of the latter they do a wise thing though the drinking from the same communion cup is nearly as dangerous.

There will not be so many at the communion table to touch the cup with their lips, but when it is first filled with the wine it is never rinsed or its rim wiped until empty. At a fountain every one uses a free supply of water washing the cup before drinking its contents.

The reform generally suggested is that of an individual cup for each communicant. The first impression would cause many to disapprove the method, as in large churches there would necessarily be so many cups as to cause considerable trouble, but with the innovation there would be many suggestions made on this subject that would make the handling of the cups very easy.

Individual communion cups were first adopted by a Baptist church, Rochester, N. Y. The method used with general approval among the members and a Presbyterian church in the same city followed the example. The matter created a great stir among religious circles and is strong in the local sentiment against the old method that it is predicted all the Protestant churches in that city will adopt individual cups.

Whiskers in Talbot.

George Gale has cut off his whiskers and Chief of Police Grace has shaved his mustache.

That is why the windstorm that visited Talbot last week seemed so sudden, and the very heavens wept copiously.

Everybody knew Mr. Gale's whiskers. They were the pride of the neighborhood. For twenty long years no scissor or razor had ever profaned them. Their luxuriant growth made the Southern States turn green with envy.

In winter Mr. Gale would tuck these whiskers down the inside of his shirt, and what a magnificent chest protector they made! Full thirty inches long and broad and thick in proportion, they were the very thing to prevent disease of the throat or lungs.

Or perchance the whiskers would be wrapped several times around his neck, thus admirably taking the place of a muffler.

What a comfort those whiskers were to Mr. Gale, and what great joy old Boreas found in plowing his way through them! But that is all over now, for last week Mr. Gale had a barber chop off twenty inches of his magnificent hirsute adornment, so that he has but ten inches of whiskers left.

And that is only half of the sorrowful tale. For forty years the upper lip of Chief of Police Grace knew not the acquaintance of a barber. Such a mustache could be found nowhere else. It was short, thick and like unto bristles, and it was the pride of the neighborhood.

But it too, has gone the way of Geo. Gale's whiskers. Mr. Grace has had his upper lip shaved bare.

And that is why we are going to have a warm summer—Eastern Ledger.

Should Sleep Well.

An amusing story comes from the far-off State of Washington, says the Wilmington Evening News. A lonely inhabitant of a small island found, last fall, a box afloat in the waters of the sound which contained about 200 pounds of what he took to be a fine grade of freeproof paint. The supposed paint was packed in small tin cans, bearing a false label, unrecognizable by the discoverer. As his domestic needed painting the islander was not long in utilizing his find. He took it home and gave his home a thorough painting, inside as well as out. Since then he has discovered that the supposed paint was opium which had been thrown overboard by smugglers and that its market value was in the neighborhood of $3,000. That islander has one of the most expensive painted houses in the United States, but he ought to be able to sleep soundly in it.

A Good Appetite.

Always accompanies good health, and a good appetite, is an indication of something wrong. The loss of a rational desire for food is soon followed by lack of strength, for when the supply of fuel is cut off the fire burns low. The system gets into a low state, and is liable to never get out of it.

It was difficult to realize that we were looking upon one of the greatest personages of the nineteenth century. At first glance Mr. Gladstone appeared like a man of about eighty three or eighty-four years of age, nervous, energetic, and courteous in the extreme.

But a closer observation enlarged the comprehension of his nature. His features are familiar though countless portraits and caricatures, but no print can give the fascination of those bright dark eyes, the brilliant intonation of that intellectual activity which has carried him into the ranks of the world's great men.

He has been a student of the law, and has given him capacity for the labor of a political career of over fifty years.

Imagined Pain.

"The pain experienced in a surgical operation is largely in the imagination of the patient," remarked Dr. W. C. Tombs of Kansas City, to a St. Louis Globe-Democrat man. "I once had occasion to perform an operation on a man where it became necessary for me to use the knife twice. After the first part of the operation was over the patient declared he could not stand any more, as the pain was more than he could bear. Convinced that the suffering was more imaginary than real, I resorted to this ruse. I called in my assistant and told him to tie a handkerchief over the man's eyes, which I said was saturated with a soothing lotion which would allay the pain. I then told my assistant to grasp the man's hands and hold them firmly. Then I called in the patient and said, 'I am here, and I am ready to act like a man.' I earnestly recommended it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of it and doing my house work."

Blood Poison.

After Approach of Death, New Life by Taking Hood's.

"For four years I was in intense suffering with an abscess on my thigh. It discharged freely and several times.

Pieces of Bone Came Out. Last February I had to take my bed for four weeks, and then I was to enter Hood's Hospital, where they said my trouble was chronic blood poisoning and gave me little hope. I returned home and continued taking Hood's. I have used six bottles and the abscess has entirely disappeared, and I have been in fine health ever since.

I know if I had not been for Hood's Hospital I should be in my grave. I have gained in weight from it a year ago to 120 pounds to-day.

Hood's Pills cure liver illia, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion.

Summer School.

For those wishing employment, the months of June and July are the most desirable of the whole year to enter Palm's Business College, 1708 10 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, as they will graduate in the Fall when business is at its best and situations the most plentiful.

Palm's College gives a complete business education at the minimum of cost and time, and assists its graduates in securing situations. Handsome circulars can be had for the asking.

"Many of the citizens of Hainesville, Indiana are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the merchant of the place. This Remedy has proven so much of value for colds, croup and whooping cough in children that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it. For sale by R. K. Truitt & Sons, drugists."

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

A camp-meeting will be held at Hebron, Quantico Circuit, commencing August 4th ending August 13th. Mr. Charles Boston, who is an employe in the factory of Mr. E. S. Aldkin, had two fingers cut off by a planer.

The Probation Club will meet in the quarters of the club this (Friday) evening. All members are requested to be present.

Mr. Harry Freeny, son of Elijah Freeny, Esq., of Delmar, is a member of the graduating class Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.

Mr. H. L. D. Stanford of the law firm of Graham & Stanford, was in St. Michaels, Talbot county, this week on professional business.

Mr. Geo. E. Bennett, son of W. W. Bennett, Esq., of Maryland Springs, is a member of the graduating class Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.

The Rev. Wm. Munford did not go to the Diocesan convention at Elkton. He was not at the consecration of Trinity Cathedral at Easton as announced in the Baltimore Sun.

There will be quarterly meeting in Quantico M. E. Church June 17th. Love feast at 9 a. m. Preaching at half past ten by the presiding elder, W. E. Corkran. Children's day services at 8 p. m.

Independence Day will be observed at Vienna, Dorchester county, this year. Rev. Thos. E. Martindale has promised to deliver an oration. Other prominent speakers will also speak. Fireworks will be a feature in the evening.

Mr. Joseph Cooper, of this city, was married last Tuesday afternoon in Baltimore to a Miss Howard of that city. The couple arrived here Wednesday morning, where they will reside. Mr. Cooper is an employe of Messrs. Birkhead & Carey.

The members and friends of the M. P. Church, Sharpstown, will hold a festival in that town in the afternoon and evening of Saturday (today), June 9th, for the interest of the church. All are invited who desire to come and spend a pleasant time.

Tomorrow will be Children's Day at Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, South. In the morning appropriate addresses will be made by the pastor and by Superintendent Cannon. In the evening the regular Children's Day exercises will be the feature.

Mr. George H. Wallis is one of the graduates this month at Princeton Theological Seminary. He ranks very high in his class and will enter the pastorate well equipped for work. Mr. E. L. Wallis, his father, will be present at the graduating exercises.

Mr. Charles E. Bennett has opened a retail grocery store on Church street, near the office of Dr. Naylor. His advertisement appears elsewhere in this issue of the Advertiser. The rapid settlement of that part of Salisbury makes that kind of merchandising profitable.

LEAGUE OF SALISBURY WHEELMEN.

An organization formed for the purpose of Fellowship and Union. A meeting of the Salisbury wheelmen was held at the engine room last Thursday night for the purpose of organizing a bicycle club.

The organization was effected with Mr. F. A. Grier, president; Mr. Wm. S. Gordy, Jr., vice-president; Mr. Winter News, secretary, and Mr. Ernest A. Heath, treasurer.

Thirty wheelmen were present and became members. The name selected for the club is "League of Salisbury Wheelmen." All wheelmen of the city who could not be present at the meeting may leave their names with the secretary for membership.

A committee was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws. Their report will be received at a meeting to be held at the engine room next Thursday evening at 7.30.

A club room will be secured very shortly for the accommodation of the league. The large and eligibly located second floor room in the Graham Building on Main street, will probably be selected, if it can be secured for that purpose.

There are now about one hundred riders in Salisbury, and the number is every day increasing. Among those who possess and ride wheels are Rev. Dr. Reigart, of Wicomico Presbyterian church; Rev. Chas. A. Hill, of Ashbury Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev. Louis R. Randall of the Methodist Protestant church. Some of our cyclists are quite expert, notably Messrs. Donald Graham, Clifford Dorman, Percy Brewington, Marion Humphreys, Carroll Brewington, James Malone, and Ferd. Uman.

It may be observed that the two newspapers of the city come in for a large share of distinction, as there are owned in the residences of several of the most prominent citizens, and among the owners are some of the most expert riders.

Last Sunday a party of wheelmen, consisting of Messrs. Percy Brewington, Arthur Kennerly, Winter Owens, Wm. White, Harry Connelly of Wilmington, Virginia, and had been engaged in Somers at berry picking.

All were drinking, and the attack upon Carver was made with beer bottles. Death resulted from a suffusion of blood on the brain caused by violence to the cranium.

Officers from Princess Anne were summoned, and ten of the gang were arrested and placed in Princess Anne jail. Late Thursday night a party of white men appeared at the jail in Princess Anne, and calling on the keeper, they informed him that they wished to deliver to him a prisoner. The jailer opened the prison door and was overcome with consternation to learn that he had been cleverly deceived. For the 'prisoner' was a party to the scheme to gain access to the cell of the murderer of Carver. Isaac Kemp, the evident ring leader of the murderers, and the man who slashed with a razor the body of Carver after he was dead according to the statement of his confederates, was chained to the floor. He at once became the target of the determined mob, and received several bullets in his body. Having killed the ring leader the friends of Carver quietly retired.

County Commissioners. At the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners last Tuesday Mr. Morris reported that he had examined the new road leading from Horse bridge, near Parsonsburg—built by John T. Hammond and Billy H. Holloway—and that said road was not built according to specifications. The road was not received.

Mr. Jas. T. Hopkins, constable in first district sent in his resignation, which was accepted by the board. The board agreed to allow Charles W. Tighman $1.00 for putting up a lantern at a washout on dam east of town limits.

The school board was before the commissioners with a request for an appropriation of $14,000 to meet the current expenses of the schools and to build the necessary school buildings.

Messrs. B. F. Mesick, W. H. H. Cooper and L. B. Price were appointed examiners on road petitioned for by Jesse Huffington and others in 7th district. Board adjourned to meet June 19th.

The City Council. At a meeting of the city council Monday night a license was granted Mr. F. C. Todd to erect a dwelling on his lot facing Park Ave.

The Jackson Brothers Company was granted permission to lay a drain pipe from its new factory in South Salisbury through Division street extending to the shore of Lake Humphreys. This will be for the purpose of carrying water from roofs of the large mills. Mr. W. H. Jackson was also before the council relative to making some arrangements with the city about having five plugs in South Salisbury. Several fire plugs will be placed in the vicinity of the new factory.

A committee was before the council to place before it the project of buying another fire engine for the city. The engineer talked of it the one owned by the Messrs Grier Bros. of this city and is a good engine. The Messrs. Grier offer to the city for $1,200, on easy payments.

Death of Mrs. Williams. Mr. Kate Q. Williams, widow of the late Emory L. Williams, died at eleven o'clock last Wednesday morning at her residence in Camden, aged fifty-one years. Funeral services were held at the Methodist Protestant church this (Friday) afternoon by Rev. Louis R. Randall of the Methodist Protestant church, assisted by Rev. Dr. S. W. Reigart, after which the remains were interred in Parsons cemetery beside those of her husband.

Mrs. Williams was the daughter of the late Dr. George S. D. Shipley. For many years she had been a devoted member of the Methodist Protestant church, in which faith she died. One son, Mr. George Selman Williams, of the Salisbury National Bank, survives her. Mrs. E. Stanley Todd is a niece of the deceased lady.

The annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Eastern, Bishop Adams presiding, met in Trinity Church Elkton last Tuesday and Wednesday and concluded its labors and adjourned Wednesday evening to meet next year at Berlin, Worcester county.

The report of a treasurer of the diocese mission showed the receipts were $1,143.33; expenditures, $1,235.37; balance on hand, $907.96.

It was resolved that the money collected by the Bishop, for his visitation should be at his disposal and used where he may think proper. Thomas Hoghlett, treasurer of the convention, submitted his annual report, showing the receipts were $1,300; disbursements, $1,240.95; balance on hand, $59.05.

The following standing committee men were elected: Reva. James A. Mitchell, Stephen C. Roberts, W. Y. Beaven, O. H. Murphy and A. A. Bate. Messrs H. H. Dashiell, E. L. F. Harcourt and Edward Lloyd were appointed trustees of the episcopal fund.

Rev. Giles B. Cooke, of Northeast, and Dr. Earle, of Easton, were elected members of the missionary council of the church. Reports of E. L. F. Harcourt, trustee, and Mr. Holliday, treasurer, showed the total amount of assets of the episcopal fund to be $41,732.34. The relief fund inventory and cash in hand amounts to $7,363.16.

Rev. Wm. Munford of St. Peter's church, in this city, was not present but the church was represented by Mr. Thos. Perry who was elected delegate at a church meeting previously held. Mr. H. L. D. Stanford was alternate.

To Tolchester Next Thursday. The first family excursion of the season to Tolchester will be given next Thursday via the Baltimore and Eastern Shore Railroad, connecting with the steamer Emma Giles at Claiborne. A special train will leave Salisbury at 6 o'clock a. m. and Easton at 7.42, stopping at all points on the route of the railroad. The fare for the round-trip from Salisbury will be $1.25 cents. This will afford the people an opportunity of spending a pleasant day at this popular resort. Many new features have been added this season to Tolchester's already numerous attractions, and it is more popular with excursionists than ever.

The Jobore Bungalow, a curiously built house, from the Prince of Maurit and the Java House, imported to the World's Fair by the Java Chicago Exposition Syndicate, at great expense, will prove very interesting to those who did not see them at the World's Fair. Other attractions are the Serpentine Railroad, the Parisian Carrousel with its big organ, and Capt. Webb's wonderful school of trained seals, otters and beavers.

We would suggest that Chief Grier at once call his men together and direct steps towards selecting suitable delegates to attend the convention at Hagerstown. The State recognizes the value of volunteer fire companies and the necessity of providing for their disabled firemen, and the will doubtless increase the appropriation for the current season of the year on the part of the Legislature, if the growth of the organization demands it.—Wicomico News.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

STRIKERS STRUCK.

Maryland Militia Ordered to Arms, and to the Scene of the Disturbance. Governor Brown Tuesday morning received telegrams from State's Attorney Sloan and Sheriff King, of Allegany county, asking that the militia be ordered out, as the trouble in the mining regions had assumed a phase beyond the control of the county authorities. The Governor at once ordered the Fourth and Fifth Regiments to assemble.

Early Tuesday morning the strikers about 500 in number made a descent upon the Hoffman mines, in the George Creek region, near Frostburg, and drove the men at work out. The workmen at first were disposed to offer resistance, but seeing that they were outnumbered they quietly withdrew. The mob then turned but refrained from attacking them, threatening, however, that if they returned to work while the strike continued they would fare badly.

The mob then marched to the other mines of the consolidated Allegany Company and made a demand upon the miners to quit work. The demand was promptly refused and the striker began preparations to enforce it.

Matters were assuming a serious nature when the militia boys arrived. The presence of the two regiments of the Maryland National Guards, numbering over a thousand men, has had a disquieting effect upon the strikers.

For the first time they fear the advent of new men to take their places in the mines. It is believed now that it is a question of only a little time before the second round will prevail and that the rush for work will begin.

The Maryland coal region lies in the valley of the Chesapeake and Allegheny extending from Frostburg some 12 or 14 miles in a southwest direction to the mouth of the creek at Westernport, on the Potomac river, opposite Piedmont. The valley thickly populated. In it are many towns, the largest being Westernport. Others are Pompey, Susah, Barton and Westernport.

The shape of the George's creek basin is compared to that of a canoe, the bow at Frostburg and the stern at Westernport. The western side is the Great Gorge mountain, and the mountain on the other side. Underlying the sides and bottom of the basin are various coal measures in layers like a jelly cake, and extending down hundreds of feet below the surface. The "Big Vein" comes nearest the surface. It underlies the bottom as well as the sides of the upper part of the basin, but lower down it has been washed out of the bottom and is only on the sides. The vein is 12 to 18 feet in thickness and furnishes what is known as George's Creek or Cumberland coal. This coal has the reputation of being the best-known steam coal. The lower and smaller veins are not worked, and probably will not be until the big vein is exhausted, as the quality is inferior and the mining would be much more expensive.

The present strike in the Cumberland coal region is the first one that has been inaugurated since March 8, 1886. The cause of the strike in 1886 was the reduction from 50 to 40 cents a ton, the same cause that inaugurated the present strike.

State Firemen's Association. A matter of importance has perhaps escaped the attention of the Salisbury Fire Department. It is the bill passed by the last session of the Legislature, authorizing the Maryland State Firemen's Association $1,000 for the year 1894 and a similar amount for the year 1895. The money is to be used in providing pecuniary assistance to the members of volunteer fire companies belonging to the State Firemen's Association, and their families, when the firemen are injured in the discharge of their duty as firemen.

The Association, was organized in Frederick last June and its annual convention will be held in Hagerstown this year on the 14th of June, at which meeting important changes will have to be made in the by-laws of the association in order to provide for a proper distribution of the benefit fund as required by the act of 1894, and to create a benefit system in the association. It is to be hoped that the volunteer companies throughout the state will become members of the Association.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

The wheat crop in Somerset is very promising, and will be harvested within ten days. In last Wednesday's town election for Gridfield, Messrs. L. E. P. Dennis and A. B. Crockett were elected commissioners.

Mr. Walter S. Turpin, son of ex-Senator Turpin of Queen Anne county, graduated at the Naval Academy at Annapolis on Monday.

The much-talked-of electric line which is to connect Martinsburg, Ashby and Appoahale with Gridfield is at last taking shape and a company is being formed. The road will pass through the Main street of Gridfield when completed.

Judge Henry Lloyd, who has been confined to his bed at his home in Cambridge for several weeks, will in a few days leave for the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, where he expects to spend the summer for the purpose of regaining his health.

Col. William Henry Legg, of Queen Anne county, was Friday appointed deputy collector of international revenue by Collector Vandiver, in place of George W. Carr, of Howard county. The salary of the position is $1,400 a year. Colonel Legg was deputy surveyor under Mr. Cleveland's first administration and has frequently been a member of the House of Delegates.

The Dorchester county commissioners have elected School Commissioner James M. Robertson, who was generally understood to be the choice of the board, to succeed Treasurer Waddell at a meeting last Tuesday. The friends of ex-Postmaster Wm. C. Johnson presented a petition largely signed by the representative men of his district for the appointment of Mr. Robertson as a resident of Vienna.

The committee appointed by the county commissioners of Somerset county on the new courthouse, consisting of Judge Page, Clerk of Court H. Filmore Langford and Mr. H. P. Dashiell, received on Saturday last the plans for the structure from Mr. Jackson G. Gott, architect, of Baltimore. The committee will examine and return the plans, recommending some changes, when the working plans will be made out by the architect and forwarded to the committee.

The Odd-Fellows Hall of Gridfield is rapidly nearing completion. When finished it will be a handsome structure. It is a frame building covered with iron layers pressed in the shape of bricks. It will contain besides two stores and lodgerooms a theatre with a seating capacity of from 1,200 to 1,500. The orchestra gallery will contain a piano, and the auditorium will be furnished with all the modern improvements. The stage will be fitted out with scenery. The Gridfield Odd-Fellows Lodge is one of the largest in the State. It numbers from 400 to 500 members.

Wanamaker's.

Fourth Annual Summer Sale OF Muslin Underwear.

June 1st is a great date in our business year. Two Women's Fairs for the sale of Women's Muslin Underwear occur each year as a part of our sales campaign.

Prices are lower than ever. Very large contracts made with the most extensive and enterprising manufacturers months ago enabled them to keep labor employed in the full season and secured cheaper rates.

In addition to the goods mentioned in details are large varieties of Two-piece Suits of Chintz, Calico, Lawn and Percale. Price range is from $1 to $3.

Spreads, Thimbles, Anchor Ropes and Hooks of course. Continental Bicycles, $70. Just as good reason to say $125 for the Continental as for any other bicycle that runs.

Gowns. More than a hundred distinct styles, including some of the daintiest conceits the markets of either hemisphere afford.

Corset Covers. Of perhaps two hundred styles. High necks, low necks, square necks, round necks; very low cut for evening dress, patterns for every Corset Cover use.

Drawers. Materials include Cambric, Muslin, Nainsook, Lawn, trimmed with laces or embroideries.

Chemises. Some strikingly beautiful effects in Lawn, handsomely trimmed with lace and ribbon. Trimmed Skirts of course. The other grades are as worthy accordingly.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria. A native of Hawaii, seeing a man riding a bicycle, said that it must be very nice to "walk sitting down."

What is CASTORIA? Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance.

Building Materials. Flooring, Shingles, Frames, Doors, Sash, Siding, Laths, Blinds.

5 DOLLARS PER DAY 20 Easily Made. We want many men, women, boys, and girls to work for a few hours daily, right in and around their own homes.

W. L. Douglas's $3 Shoe. Write for prices or call and see us. B. I. Gillis & Son, Dock St., Salisbury, Md.

And so on up to $20.

SALISBURY ADVERTISER.

ISSUED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING. THOMAS PERRY, PUBLISHER.

Neatly bound and a year's subscription for $1.00. The advertiser's monthly magazine for only 30 cents.

35 Complete Novels. The most popular of the Household Topics magazine referred to, is a high-class paper, replete with stories of love adventure travel and sport.

A New Convert Cloth Costume. The Longchamps. Of the Cloverdale brood. And first shown to-day.

Made from a very choice grade of all-wool Convert Cloth by the most experienced mill tailors.

Book News for June. Has a plate-paper portrait of Palmer Cox, the master of Browniedom, and even more than the usual array of timely description, current criticism and interesting miscellany.

The Lynwood, of Worsted Serge, is of the same family. $10 or $12 of value (as the market goes) for $6.

18c Challie at 2 1/2c. One of the creamiest lots of the season—creamy in color, in price, Half wool, but you'll hardly mistrust the cotton from the feel.

Swivel Silk Gingham. Are you thinking of a Swivel Silk Gingham Dress? Don't put the buying off too long if you care to get the choicest, the sixty-cent grade.

Vast as the aggregate of the two great lots was, the end of both is not far away.

Still a good assortment of pinks, blues, nile, butters, heliotropes and other favorite tints, with a variety of striped designs.

French Printed Linens. More than forty styles, including some of the very choicest of this season's output, drop to-day from 65c to 50 cents the yard!

No reason for it in the goods themselves—simply another evidence of the mastery of the market that has marked the calendar here for months past with red letter days.

Quaker City Sewing Machines. Maligned, abused, misrepresented—never by those that have bought and used them.

Two facts control. First—The Machines. They excel in all points that make a Sewing Machine desirable.

Second—You pay only for the Machine. The system that surrounds the Sewing Machine business with fictitious charges for commissions, store rent, canvassers wagons and other things that add 100 to 300 per cent to prices has no existence here.

That's the case in brief. Here are the prices:

No. 3, $18. No. 4, with four drawers, $20. No. 5, Same Machine, $24, with woodwork of superior finish.

No. 6, Six drawers, same attachments as No. 4, $25. Drop head, deck cabinet, $28.

Each Machine perfect and complete. Best woodwork, oak or walnut. Working parts exactly the same in every instance.

Muslin Underwear. It is evident beyond any doubt whatever that vast numbers await our periodical sale of Muslin Underwear. They are quickly and immediately responsive to our announcements and are now more so than ever before.

It is physically impossible to present everything provided for these great sales at one time, hence the Lawn Waists at 50c just told of to-day.

They are worth so nearly double that the statement to that effect would barely be an exaggeration.

Remember the Little French Store, all the Lingerie is from Paris. The only American made things are high-class Silk Skirts.

A careful examination made again proves the statement that many of these garments are sold at less than the cost of materials only.

White Lawn Shirt Waists. At 50c—Pine white Lawn Shirt Waists, ten plaits in back and ten in front, very large full sleeves with cuffs, pearl buttons.

At $1—White Lawn Shirt Waists, ten plaits in back and front, rolled cuffs, yoke with neat embroidery with very large full sleeves.

At $1.50—White Lawn Shirt Waists, ten plaits in back and front, very wide ruffle round neck, ruffled cuffs, yoke with neat embroidery with very large full sleeves.

No other publication in any language holds such an exact mirror up to books and bookish things.

Monthly, 50c; 50c a year. JOHN WANAMAKER.

DIET OF THE GREAT. Favorite Dishes of the World's Illustrious Generals, Philosophers and Poets.

"Man is what he eats," said Foronbach, the German philosopher, or as he expressed it in his native language, "Der Mensch ist was er isst," a play of words which is not without its deep meaning.

Man's food is never without influence on his temper, nor is the choice he makes in his meals without a certain reflection of his character. John the Baptist's eating locusts and wild honey was indicative of his wild and motley manners.

It has long been observed that the dwellings do not meet the necessities of the poorest class of laborers. The rents were too high for men who work in the streets, on the docks and in other kinds of unskilled labor.

Gloucester, Mass. The two rooms being on each side of the staircase and of the entrance, were two rooms. There are also several flats of three rooms each.

The tenement of one room is 14 by 13 feet. It is fitted with a bed chest, which is expected to answer the purpose of a second room, a scullery, a large press or cupboard, a commodious dresser and a kitchen range.

Such an apartment rents for $40 a month. The two-room flat has a small lobby fitted with a press, or closet. On one side of the lobby is the living room, which is completely furnished.

Charles the Great was a lover of venison. Henry IV. of France had a gluttonous appetite for oysters; Frederick the Great for polenta, a sort of Italian pudding; Emperor William I. of Germany for lobsters and cysters.

Napoleon was a passionate drinker of coffee, of which he took 20 to 25 cups daily. Aristotle, poets and philosophers evince a larger variety in the choice of their meals and beverages.

Goethe was very fond of champagne, Schiller of wine. Kleopatra indulged in truffle pastry, smoked salmon and peas. Lessing's favorite dish was lentil soup, a predilection which he shared with Kant, while Leibnitz delighted in apple cake.

Tasso was a lover of sweet things and heaped his salad with sugar. So did Moses Mendelssohn, who mourned the impossibility of sweetening sugar.

Byron took only one daily meal, consisting principally of old Chester chowder, pickles, red cabbage, wine or liquors. He used to drink great quantities of tea.

Bismarck in his younger days was very fond of hard boiled eggs and cognac, which he preferred to "pretzel and beer," a beverage which he considers the chief element of German politeness and lack of resolve and harmonious action.

William III. the present emperor of Germany, loves his wine and prefers the sparkling juice of the Rhine, which he is reported to have drunk in quantity. Champagne he avoided, but he had his heart set on a very good one.

He was once remarked, but probably because it is too French for him.—Baltimore Sun.

Brain Surgery. Saving part sections of the skull in order to give the brain room to develop symmetrical and healthy, is a rather dangerous operation, but it is one that has on several occasions been performed with perfect success.

Children apparently in a condition of hopeless idiocy have been treated upon this plan and are in prospect of developing the faculties usual in those of like age.

The removal of the bones which have become united by bony growth, and the clouded intellect may become clear and normal.

Attention has been called to cases in which calumli had formed, as was supposed, upon the silk ligatures used in internal operations. In one case an abdominal tumor was removed, and some years later there were calumli present in quantity that caused great distress.

It was thought that some irritating property was present in the silk, and that this acted as a nucleus around which the gritty particles gather.—New York Ledger.

Population of the Ocean. A striking proof of the vastness and variety of the population of the sea has been furnished by the results of explorations made by a committee of the zoological department of the British Museum in their expedition to the island of Man.

Out of 1,000 species of marine animals collected, 244 had never before been known in that region. Of these, 28 were previously unknown as inhabitants of British waters, and 17 were entirely new to science.

Indeed they were animals whose existence had never been suspected. If such discoveries toward a few weeks of searching in so remote a speck of the sea, how many wonders would be required to contain a list of the still undiscovered inhabitants of the great seas?—Youth's Companion.

An Effective Whistle. One of the popular English authors of the day was wholly incapacitated from work by a lady who lived next door and strangled through Handel's "Messiah."

His idea of the inviolability of an Englishman's house did not allow him to send in any message, and he was at his wife's end till he saw in a daily paper that steam whistles could be bought to suit kettle spots. He provided himself with one and put the kettle on the fire in the room nearest the singer.

As soon as the whistle began he went out. Of course the bottom came off the kettle, but it cost little to solder it again, and after two or three solderings the lady took the hint.—San Francisco Argonaut.

A Bottomless Lake in Sweden. In Thomas Nashe's "Terrors of the Night" published in 1594, he says that Lake Wener, Sweden, is bottomless. He also tells other peculiar things respecting it. "Over it no fowle flies but is frozen to death nor any man pass but is mummied like a statue of marble. Awe ye inhabitants around about it use themselves with ydicious roar of his waters when out of its midst as out of Mount Gilboa a sulphurous stinking smoke issues that will pay you ye who are contrary about it."—St. Louis Republic.

Let's Depravity. "Papa," cried Tommy Goodman, "who was Cain's wife?" "Carolus," said the Rev. Dr. Goodman after an unbroken pause of five minutes, "was my dear old mother."

When she became Cain, she died for Cain. When she had children, she gave them Cain. When she was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she clung to Castoria. When she became Mrs. she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

ARTISANS' HOMES.

HOW GLASGOW HAS IMPROVED SOME OF ITS POOR DISTRICTS.

The influence of Municipal Tenements in Brightening Human Life—Clean and Comfortable Dwellings Furnished to the Poor at Reasonable Rentals.

Municipalities are not necessarily wiser than other corporations. Glasgow has by no means solved the human problem. But she has made some notable experiments in the direction of brightening human life.

She has had the opportunity to make experiments in the most wretched of her districts. The experiments have succeeded, and private enterprise here, as elsewhere, has made similar experiments and with similar success.

The municipal tenements or artisans' dwellings, as they are variously called, consist of blocks of flats on either side of the Saltmarket. The buildings are four stories in height. The ground floors are occupied by shops. The houses are usually arranged so that on two floors there are three tenements, a tenement of two rooms being on each side of the staircase and of the entrance.

There are also several flats of three rooms each. The tenement of one room is 14 by 13 feet. It is fitted with a bed chest, which is expected to answer the purpose of a second room, a scullery, a large press or cupboard, a commodious dresser and a kitchen range.

ON THE BATTLEFIELD.

The sun rose over the field of wheat. The smiling flowers met the morning breeze. And there were crawling larks to sing. And by the brook were children at play. But the sun sank over a field of red. Leaving no whistling farmhouses there. Only the white smoke of the cannon. And blackness and ruin everywhere. And along the brook, in the end of gray. Were the silent forms of those and gray.

Wine in Bottles. The increase of the strength of wine by keeping depends upon whether it is kept in cork or bottle. If stored in cask, there is a constant increase of alcohol. The ancient knew that wine improved if kept in leather bottles, and the same result is obtained by keeping it in wooden vessels, for both leather and wood are more easily penetrated by water than by alcohol. Evaporation comes from both, but more freely from water, and the wine consequently becomes richer in alcohol. On the other hand, the opinion is held that wine which is stored in bottles and therefore becomes stronger is thoroughly false. Evaporation is very much hindered by the cork, even when this is not perfectly tight. The chemical alteration in their constituents, properties which render them more agreeable both to smell and taste.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Uniforms to Save the Enemy. According to the report prepared by the war department, red uniforms were first adapted by the Emperor Valerius Maximus in order that the Roman soldiers might not be frightened by the red coats of the British. To this day the children of England are told that this is the reason why French troops wear red uniforms, and French children are taught to look upon the red uniforms of the British. The legends of ancient Rome were the skins of bears on the field of Troy to make them look like the red uniforms of the British. Castoria. "Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children." Dr. C. Osmond, Lowell, Mass.

Castoria. "Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any preparation known to me." H. A. Adams, N. Y.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their lives, and, by forcing opium, mercury, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves." Red Men of Guinea.

There are still "red men" in Guinea, according to Mr. Smith Delcours's report—descendants of the inhabitants at the time of its discovery. They are apparently of three or more separate origins.

The oldest inhabitants are believed to be the Warraus, who lead a semi-civilized life, without agriculture and rather as fishers than as hunters. Whether they are of the same stock as the other tribes of the West Indies is not known. Of more certain origin are the second set, the Arackwas, who were driven southward from the West Indian islands. After them came a whole series of Carib tribes, who were also forced southward from the West Indies. Just before the advent of the Europeans the last of the Carib tribes made its appearance, and its people were known as the "True Caribs."

In life and surroundings there is no great difference between the various existing tribes. They live in small family groups, the mutual relations of the members being admirably regulated by a very few, but unwritten, codes. They pass perfectly simple lives, the happiness of which seems to be enhanced by the inevitable collisions with other tribes. A sufficiency of food is procured by hunting and fishing and a primitive kind of agriculture. Their houses, said Mr. Smith Delcours, are of the simple, but exactly what is required, and the furniture is usually a hammock. Clothing is "a question for the future."

Skins of Fruit.

The skins of fruit should never be eaten, not because they are not palatable or indigestible or are unhealthy in themselves, but on account of the danger arising from microbes which have penetrated through the covering of the fruit. Every body has noticed that at times a slight scratch will create a considerable sore on the human body. It is generally a result of the penetration of microbes into the blood, but a close microscopic examination will show that it is due to the presence of microbes thus introduced into the system. So with the skin of fruit, which is perfectly sound and healthy, but on the skin or covering may be microbes, which introduced into the human system, will breed disease. These germs are not uncommon; neither are they always present. It is possible to eat this covering of fruit and not get the disease, but such that it is best not to incur the risk.

Jack Tar's Scheme.

Many years ago an Englishman employed an honest tar who had quit the sea and had entered his service. The tar had entered his service that he found himself much annoyed by a dog who nightly invaded the garden. One morning the tar had left and made him captive. As soon as he had seized the animal, Jack Delcours took a spade, cut off the dog's head and buried it. Shortly after the owner entered the garden and inquired if the dog still annoyed the gardener. "He'll never trouble me again," replied Jack. "I caught him this morning, unshipped his rudder and set him off before the wind, and he will be the first to steer his way back."

Proof That Sparrows Can Count.

There is no doubt that birds can count. It is not a matter of opinion, as several years ago illustrating this fact several men not a little. A sparrow, with four of her young, was seen to enter a house under the veranda of a dwelling. One day the bird flew up to the nest with four living worms in her beak. She had returned with four out their heads with the customary noise and were each fed a worm. The sparrow then flew away, and after a time returned with another worm in her beak, which she disposed of as before. The bird kept this up for some time, during which I was an interested spectator.

Kept Her Word.

Two young ladies were walking in the woods one day, when they were accosted by an old and much shrewder grey, who asked them to show them the faces of their husbands. The faces of the men they so fondly hoped for they saw their own. "We can see nothing but our own faces," said one of the young ladies. "I'm glad to hear that," replied the old man, "for I have a fortune teller, but these will be your husband's faces when you are married."

The First European Almanac.

The first almanac printed in Europe, or in the world for that matter, was the "Kalendarium Normannicum," compiled by one Reimontanus and published at Buda, Hungary, in the year 1478. But one perfect copy is known to be in existence, and that is one in the British Museum.—St. Louis Republic.

"THE GAME WORE ON."

The Evening Word Ended to the Entire Satisfaction of the Banker.

The game wore on. The banker, who sat at the head of the table, was kept busy selling stacks of paper. The players, who were there but two men who seemed to be winning anything. The blue chips all across their way. It simply a case of ball-and-toss. If a man held four kings, one of this pair would bob up with four aces or astriginty-four of something of the kind and spoil all calculations. It was exasperating, but it couldn't be helped.

Meantime the two lucky players conversed cheerfully about their luck and what they intended to do with the money. "I shall," said one, "go down to a fur store and buy my wife that cape she has been wanting long. I know it's a rather late in the season, but it's an experience of a lifetime, and I don't think that it will spoil by the keeping."

"I'll," said the other, "take a package of mine and get a new spring suit. With the rest of it I intend to take a trip to New York. I haven't been down there in a long time, and I'm just about due for some fun."

The game continued to wear on, and the other players cursed their lack of luck. It came to midnight, and 1 o'clock and 2 o'clock, and the game was still in progress. The two men were still winning. The banker, who had been at the table all evening, was tired, and it was decided to quit. The table in front of the two lucky men was covered with "True Caribs."

THE MASTER PASSION.

Alleged to be the Mania for Getting Free Passes for the Play.

It was once present," said Clapham Dick, a former member of the board which originated the game. The subject was "What was the most absorbing and longest lived passion in the human breast?" "The love of a free pass," replied the speaker. "I thought they were not very common, but I have seen a man who had a free pass for the play, and he was a very happy man. He would go to the play every night, and he would go to the play every night, and he would go to the play every night."

Shakespeare's Cats.

Shakespeare makes frequent reference to cats in his plays. Lady Macbeth taunts her husband when he hangs back from the murder with "Letting I dare not wait upon I would." "What a cat's paw is to fish!"—but his unwillingness to wet his feet in catching them.

Falstaff seizes upon another feature of the animal's character, so detected by all waleful shippers in town. "Shallow!" Mercutio longs for a fry with Tylpatz, he accosts him: "Good king of cats, I should have thought but one of your nine lives." "I mean to make bold withal, and as you shall use me hereafter, try beat the rest of the eight," and thereupon reveals that also he "scratches."

A Remarkable Spring.

There is a natural gas spring in Idaho which one of the best in the world. It is about 100 miles from Boise City and is at the bottom of a canyon. The rock there seems to be of a porous nature, and there are innumerable small holes and fissures. These are lighted by tourists, who drop matches into them until a space of about an acre in extent is sending forth bright blue flames.—New York Post.

When There Were No Fishermen.

Lord Fountainhall, in 1674, says that there are no fishermen in Scotland, because there is no need for them. Happy are the people of that country, for their man should be his own plumb. No man should be allowed to marry till he has passed an examination in plain sailing. He should know what to do if the pipes are frozen or if the gas meter is broken. If you are practicing with a pistol, however, you should know what to do. Exhibit skill in the use of a rifle. This accident is, it should be admitted, less than a rotten food.—Saturday Review.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Ointment.

The healthfulness or the removal of corsets finally to be settled. They have been found on the remains of Egyptian princesses of the royal family. These corsets, however, it is interesting to note, are all dead. What were they used for? The dresses reformers appear to be justified in denouncing corsets.—Boston Transcript.

TALK OF THE TOUT.

PECULIAR EXPRESSIONS USED ON THE RACE TRACKS.

While specifying to the Uninitiated, They Are Easily Understood When Once Explained—Mostly of English Origin.

Race track phrases are intricate to the uninitiated. A Pitt Islander's love song are fast creeping into all walks of life, and the slang which makes up the vocabulary of the turfman is liable to be heard in the social small talk of the day, in the rigid business house and frequently in the club. Where some of the terms originated is a mystery, but the genuine "tout" speaks nothing else, and his jargon is once interesting and novel. Nearly all of the expressions, like the thieves' lingo, probably came from the English coast, and the English race going people are more familiar with the words of the stable boy or lower class than the American paragon. The English, however, have a running track has loaned some of its choice ones to the trotters, and the mixture at the tracks where the long tailed horse is the main attraction, and the jargon is a combination of later years.

The modern "tout," this genius being one who almost sleeps on tracks and who, when the race is over, is ready to remain outside in the brougham till the thing was over.

Had she received an invitation to an English wedding, she would have been a party of English ladies, among whom was the writer of the present article, her wish might have been gratified, as it is quite possible to attend such a function without ever catching a passing glimpse of the crimson feet of the husband elect.

The tout spends the hours of his bridal day in getting married to himself—that is, he visits the priest and the notary, takes out and signs his marriage certificate, attends a religious service at the mosque, partakes of a sumptuous breakfast with his friends, and as the ceremonies come a considerable portion of the day is spent in being surprised to hear that during the time he even goes on a wedding tour in London and on his own account.—London Graphic.

A Searching Examination.

A sailor who desired to re-enlist in the service of the navy for a cruise was rejected by the examining board for defective eyesight. He had made a good record in the military service, including the surgeons who had been compelled to make an unfavorable report of his case, interested themselves in his behalf, and had finally secured Washington and armed with the recommendations from the naval academy urged his claims before the surgeon general. "Do you mean to say that you are a sailor?" "That's what I am," replied the sailor. "You are a sailor?" "That's what I am," replied the sailor. "You are a sailor?" "That's what I am," replied the sailor.

Pickwick Revisited.

In a corner's report in London recently, the following conversation which took place as taken directly from Dickens, occurred:

"What's your name, sir?" inquired the judge.

"Sam Weller, my lord," replied the gentleman.

"Do you spell it with a V or a W?" inquired the judge.

"That depends upon the taste and fancy of the speller, my lord," replied Sam.

"I never had occasion to spell it, but I have seen it written in my life, and I spell it with a V."

Here a voice in the gallery exclaimed "He's got it right, too, Sam!" "Put it down as you see, my lord," replied Sam.

In dressing to have one's photograph taken it may be useful to know that dark brown, dark green, garnet and plain, did not suit. The color of the dress. Glossy silks of the same colors will take much brighter. Golden brown, dark grey, scarlet, cherry, orange, crimson, and blue are all suitable. Dark and pink, rich dark. All shades of blue and dark will take very light and should be avoided.—New York News.

Robert Louis Stevenson's Home.

"Valhalla," which is Sanson for "the house of our ancestors," was the name given to their beautiful home in Apia. Four miles from the beach and 600 feet above the sea level a clearing was made among the trees, and the house, a rambling two story structure, was erected. Roomy and comfortable porches extended both sides of the house, and from the upper, looking northward, can be seen the "fine waters" of the Pacific. At the back are the green slopes of the Apian mountains. There is no driveway to "Valhalla" from the town, the house being accessible only to foot passengers or to those mounted on the sure-footed native ponies.—Home Journal.

Florida in the Great of Lake States.

Florida is one of the greatest of lake states. If the number of its lakes and bays and estuaries it is to be classed as a lake state. It has a half score of conch-like lakes, including Oklawaha, with many more of small lakes and ponds scattered over an area 40 or 50 miles wide and several hundred miles long.—Chicago Herald.

NIGHTINGALES.

"Beautiful must be the mountains whence ye And bright in the fruitful valleys the streams I see."—Ye learn your song.

"Where those starry woe! Oh, might I Among the flowers which in that heavenly air Bloom the year long."

"Nay, barren are those mountains and spend the streams. Out of a voice of doves that hastes our dreams."

"A voice of the heart, forbidden hope profound, No dying bird nor long sigh can sound For all our art."

"Alone lonely in the raptured ear of men We pour our dark nocturnal secret, and then, As night is withdrawn."

From these sweet inspirations and bursts of melody, the following is a selection of the most memorable of the "Nightingales."

—Robert Bridges.

A Turkish Wedding.

An artistic mistress of the ceremonies, being congratulated on the success with which she had managed the details of a Turkish wedding, she said: "I am glad to hear that there had been one objection in one of the most higher and several lower schools of forestry which our various governments have established. The several states differ in those years which are indicated by odd numbers, and if you are doubtful of the truth of it, he will offer you figures to prove it. "Curley B," as Bookmaker Wood is best known, has a steadfast belief in "3," and after he has selected a horse to bet upon he will place an extra heavy bet on him if he discovers that he is numbered "3" on the programme.

In Germany the various governments own and manage, in a conservative spirit, about one-third of the forest areas, and they control the management of another sixth, which belongs to villages, cities and public institutions, in so far as these communities are obliged to employ expert foresters and must submit their working plans to the government for approval, thus preventing improvident and wasteful methods.

If there is one active principle that enters into gambling, it is superstition, and for almost every man that hurls the dice or the ball or the roulette wheel, or in any of the other multitudinous ways or places that one may lay bets on, there is a superstition, there is a superstition.

Jack McDonald, one of the best known bookmakers of America, believes that he is most successful in those years which are indicated by odd numbers, and if you are doubtful of the truth of it, he will offer you figures to prove it. "Curley B," as Bookmaker Wood is best known, has a steadfast belief in "3," and after he has selected a horse to bet upon he will place an extra heavy bet on him if he discovers that he is numbered "3" on the programme.

Several superstitious betting men at the Morris Park races a few years ago noticed the odd numbers in those years which are indicated by odd numbers, and if you are doubtful of the truth of it, he will offer you figures to prove it. CHILDREN'S DAY AGAIN.

The Little Ones of Wicomico Presbyterian Church and the Methodist Protestant Church have Special Services.

Last Sunday was Children's Day at Wicomico Presbyterian Church and the Methodist Protestant Church. The Presbyterian church was beautifully decorated with palms and flowers by florist Hillman.

In the morning the pastor, Dr. R. H. Hart, preached a sermon to the children from the text: Prov. 20, 11, "even a child is known by his doings."

In the evening the exercises were by the children, who marched into the church and took their places during the singing of a hymn by the choir. The children then rendered a program entitled "Dixie Builders," prepared by the Presbyterian Board, interspersed with music by the choir, which was reinforced for the occasion.

The principal feature of the occasion was the exercise by the primary class, entitled "Little Builders." The little builders, each of whom placed a stone in the wall reared against the deluge of sin were Mary Collier, Laura Wallis, Alice Hill, Mary Simpson, Rebecca Smith, Louise Veasey, Margaret Ellison, Ralph Grier, Helen Woolley, Louise Gubry, Harry Gurdy and Margaret Todd. Annie Toadvine sang very sweetly a solo, "In the Love," and Miss Simpson sang another, "The Little Builders," the whole class joining in the chorus.

"The Coral Builders" was nicely recited by May Hill. The greeting of Dr. Wenden was read by Miss Lizette Wallis. At the close of the exercises the pastor awarded beautiful prizes to all the children, and then read a letter from the Board of Christian Education, which was read by Mrs. M. E. Church, conducted by Rev. Mr. Mitchell. The interment was on the farm of the deceased's son near Parsonsburg. News.

—Ex-Governor Jackson returned to "The Oaks" last Wednesday night from Alabama where he had been to take a final look at his lumber interests before sailing with his family for New York next Tuesday for Europe. Messrs. W. H. Rider and John B. Rider will give these close personal attention to Ex-Governor's Washington business during the latter's three months' absence.

—Mr. Leonard Higgins suffers from a sprained ankle. The horse of Messrs. R. M. & W. T. Johnson was run over Wednesday night. Mr. Higgins ran out last Wednesday. Mr. Higgins was running a salesman, to intercept the store, where he was struck by the wheel of the wagon. Dr. Simpson dressed the injured member.

—Mr. C. Grover Dawe, of the Review of Reviews, who is making a tour of the entire Peninsula, says his coming in contact with all kinds of people and closely observing their mode of living and various occupations has convinced him that city life is a failure and that the Eastern Shoremen and Delawarans are the happiest people he ever met.

—The Baltimore & Eastern Shore Railroad company is making arrangements to handle "Red Men" extensively from all points on the B. & E. railroad to Baltimore, and will arrange to deliver it at elevators at same rates as other lines. Full information by making application to Agents at the different stations along the line or to the undersigned. "Red Men furnished free." A. J. Benjamin, Gen'l. Frt. Agent.

—The managers of Cambridge Driving Park are arranging a highly interesting card race for the 4th of July. Linkwood Chief and Ping will likely be matched against the champion, and will play in the 235 class. The 240 and 235 classes will have numerous entries. Mr. George Dove of this city popularly titled "Bodd Doble" by his friends, has received a letter from the Cambridge managers asking him to enter the Salisbury trotters.

—St. Peter's Church, Rev. Wm. Munford, rector, 5th Sunday Trinity tide, the festival of St. John the Baptist, Sunday school 9 a. m. Services at 10.30 a. m. and 8 p. m. Holy communion at the 10.30 services. Text of sermon for Sunday school, "The man of sin." The man of sin is not of them that have faith unto the saving of the soul. Heb. 10, 38, 39. What sort of faith is it that saves the soul.

A picnic will be held in Todvin's grove, just out of California on July 4th, afternoon and night under auspices of the Prohibition club of Salisbury. Eminent speakers will occupy the platform both afternoon and evening; music, vocal and instrumental will be provided. Refreshments for sale in the charge of a competent committee. Stages will be on hand to convey passengers to and from the grounds at reasonable rates.

Death of James L. Bedworth. Captain James L. Bedworth died last Tuesday morning at his home in York district. He had been in failing health for a number of years and his death was not unexpected. His remains were interred on the farm where he died, Wednesday afternoon. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Mr. Carroll of the Methodist church.

A very large number of friends and acquaintances followed the remains to the grave, among them being Messrs. James T. Trull, Isaac H. White, Elmer Bradley and Hon. E. Stanley Todd, of Salisbury, and Mr. L. J. Gale of Quantico. Capt. Bedworth was 65 years old. He was a native of this county and had been a democrat all his life. Among the public officials he had held, as delegate to the Maryland Legislature in 1873. That was his last public office. He was first elected to the office of independent member, and may run special trains, and advertise. A. J. Benjamin, Sup't. & G. P. A.

A badly lacerated hand was the unfortunate sequel to the explosion of a pop bottle which Mr. Morris Hitch was handling at Messrs. S. O. Johnson & Co's. The fragments of the glass tore the flesh and cut a long gash in the palm.

Messrs. L. B. Price, Jr., and W. J. Byrd, will start a grocery store on Main street about July 1st. They will use the east side of the building occupied by Messrs. Byrd & Price, the butchers. Mr. Humphreys is having the building painted and put in condition for their occupancy.

The Baltimore & Eastern Shore Railroad will sell special low rate excursion tickets from all points to Chabrone on the 4th of July, good for the day only, on regular trains, and may run special trains, and advertise. A. J. Benjamin, Sup't. & G. P. A.

COLORS PEOPLE OF SALISBURY DISTRICT.

Interesting Sketch of the Life and Customs of a Large Part of the Population of the South District.

Of the seven million colored population of the United States in 1891, 500,000 and twenty-five lived in Maryland, and of that number about 45 are qualified voters. They occupy a special portion of the district, and their residences are so near each other that, were it not for the small clusters of trees and shrubbery intervening and the meandering roads and paths forming the lanes and avenues to their habitations, the negro would impress the visitor as a separately settled town. The property is almost exclusively their own; there are but few renters. Many of them own horses and till their own land, some of them cultivate that of their white neighbors.

There is one store kept in a convenient place generally well supplied with such necessities as most the necessities of its patrons. Their industry and frugality are indeed commendable. Their surroundings are indicative of a higher state of culture than usually exists in the race.

The colored people were introduced into the district in the early part of the eighteenth century, first as slaves, the Indians from this section, the latter decreasing as the former increased. There are said to be but little sympathy between the races, and while some signs of the race exist, subsequently, in a few of the colored families, it was never a boasted heritage. The first of the colored race is claimed to have been brought here from the Bermudas and were very illiterate.

"Bob" Anthony was the first among them to own real estate; this, however, was not until about 1770. As soon as he got possession of it, he tendered it to the race for a burial ground, where they were given full and complete burial in characteristic burials and ceremonies. They soon began to buy small lots of land, which was then neither valuable or saleable. To own real estate seemed to be the height of their ambition.

Their religious services were held to disadvantage until about 1848, when they, by the assistance of their white neighbors, erected a church. This was the beginning of a new era in their moral and intellectual life. The most enlightened among them were held to educational value. Their moral and intellectual standard is good.

On Sunday last their second church was dedicated. A few years ago some difficulty occurred between certain leaders and the appointing powers in regard to Rev. Timothy B. Smith, who had become quite popular in the community. He however located and in due time sought and obtained admission into another conference, by which he was given work at home. He presented the tenets of his new cause and began preaching in his own home. He soon formed a society and gathered around him quite an influence. Last year he considered his strength, numerically and financially, sufficient to erect a church and the work was begun with results as above. This church is located near Sharptown and some distance from the center of the colored people. While the society is divided in its church relations there is no unpleasant division of sentiment. The church was dedicated by Bishop Alexander Walter of New York, at the head of M. E. Z. Church. A large number of white people were present and save nearly one third of the amount of money raised to liquidate the debt before the church could be dedicated. The colored society has a high appreciation of church privileges and their mode of worship in many respects is very much better than formerly; in fact there is a noticeable improvement almost on every side of their lives.

County Commissioners. The county commissioners were in session last Tuesday. John Reddick was granted a pension of $1.40 per month from July 1st, order to J. L. Langdale.

Mary Trader was granted pension of $1 per month from June 1st, order to B. L. Gillison.

News Hill Races. Last Tuesday the people of Snow Hill had a variety of amusements and the population of the surrounding country flocked there to see them. The sport began in the morning with a base-ball game between a local team and one from Cedarville. The result was a victory for the Snow Hill team by a score of 23 to 2. A trotting race followed for three-minute horses, which was won by John Morgan, belonging to William Pursell, of that place, time 2:41. Sweet Marie, a "wind-up" mare, driven by John Atwell, won easily in the 2:45 class, her time was 2:30. An exciting running race followed, which was won by Goldborough Colbourne on Kate S. A bicycle race ended the day's sports, and W. Boyd, of Snow Hill, was in this making the half mile in 1:22.

Quite a number of our local sportsmen drove over. Mr. J. Thos. Taylor, Jr.'s horse "Rocket," trained in the three-minute class, and many claim that he was entitled to the race. Mr. Seabree's pacer of Somerset showed grand speed, and was very much admired for her way of going.

—Following leads to Consumption. Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once.

Deaths Cannot be Cured. By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedial. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be got out and the tube restored to its normal condition, the hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give you One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Undelivered Letters. The following is a list of letters remaining in the Salisbury (Md.) Post-office Saturday, June 23, 1894. Mrs. Della Poul, Mr. Samuel Yeaman, Mr. J. G. Brown, Prof. Albro, Elias Anderson, etc. Persons calling for these letters will please say they are advertised. ROBT. D. ELLWOOD, Postmaster.

Sometime ago I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and customers to try the remedy and all speak highly of it. Simon Goldbaum, San Luis Rey, Cal. For sale by R. K. Truitt & Sons, druggists.

What is Eczema? It is an agony of agonies. A torture of tortures. It is an itching and burning of the skin almost beyond endurance. It is thousands of pin-headed vesicles filled with an acid fluid, ever forming, ever bursting, ever flowing upon the raw excoriated skin. No part of the human skin is exempt. It tortures, disfigures and humiliates more than all other skin diseases combined. Tender babies are among its most numerous victims. They are often born with it. Sleep and rest are out of the question. Most remedies and the best physicians generally fail, even to relieve. If CUTICURA did no more than cure Eczema, it would be entitled to the gratitude of mankind. It not only cures but it affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep, and points to a speedy cure. CUTICURA works wonders because it is the most wonderful skin cure of modern times.

Weak Lungs may be inherited; not Consumption. Thin, narrow-chested children are the ones to look out for. Everybody with a tendency toward Weak Lungs should take Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with hypophosphites of lime and soda. It builds up the system. Cures Coughs, Colds and Wasting Diseases. Physicians, the world over, endorse it. Hereditary Weakness and all Blood Diseases are cured by SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is a food rich in nourishment. Prepared by Scott & Bowne, N. Y. Druggists sell it.

A CAMP-MEETING, PICNIC or EXCURSION without Good Ice Cream and toothsome Cake and Confectionery is at best a sorry affair. With them and GOOD CIGARS for the men of the party, your outing is a great success. When arranging for anything of the kind call on or address R. Frank Williams for prices on these reasonable goods. He will please you and help you to put money in your pocket. R. FRANK WILLIAMS, Main Street, SALISBURY, MD.

Thoroughgood's Prices always attract buyers. Thoroughgood's goods always are as represented. This year Thoroughgood's prices are lower than ever, and quality of goods better. Step in and ask either of Thoroughgood's five salesmen to show you the best $3.50 suit made. They are in all respects equal to last year's $10.00 suits. Our $8, $9, $10, $11, $12.50, $15 suits are superior in quality to those sold for more money last spring. The very latest styles are at Thoroughgoods. They ARE FETCHING the trade in crowds. They are daily increasing this season than ever before. The low-price news spreads—one customer brings another. Suits at $1.50, $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4, $5, and from $5 upward 13 to 19 year sizes. Knee Pants and Shirt Waists, 25c up.

THE TRADE in Hats is increasing every day. Thoroughgood has more hats of all kinds than every hat store in Salisbury combined. You can buy a $1.00 Hat for 50c at Lacy Thoroughgood's, THE FAIR-DEALING CLOTHIER.

REGION OF WONDERS.

SOME OF THE NATURAL MARVELS TO BE SEEN IN OREGON.

Illustrations of Both the Dead and the Living Past—Prominent in Abundance of Something Strange to Come—in the Valley of Desolation.

Nowhere on the known globe is there another region of the same extent representing the varied and grand as well as the sublime and grand in nature as in a long and wide strip lying a considerable distance inland from the western coast of the United States.

There are no mountains in abundance of anything strange to come in the country of the Pacific Northwest, Oregon, Douglas and Yakima in Washington, but this is not fully emphasized until the Oregon country of Morrow, Gilliam, Grant and Lake has been considered.

In Oregon we are confronted with the still and silent Sagebrush desert, hemmed in by a wildly picturesque yet as bleak and lifeless as the plain.

ONLY ONE LOCKY.

A Millionaire Tells How He Lost $27 When a Boy and a Dog.

"What the locksmith thinks of me happened to you?" somebody asked of the millionaire.

"Do you mean about, unadmittedly lock, something that just happened without any seeking on your part?" replied the millionaire, throwing away a half smoked pipe and taking another out of his pocket.

"Well, you let it go that way." "I am generally accounted a very busy man," said the millionaire.

"I had just given a check to cash and a bill to pay, and saying the bill I had just $27 of my employer's money left."

INDIA'S SACRED MONKEY TEMPLE. An Edition Where Long Tailed Quadrupeds Live Free From Fear. Among the thousands of holy temples and shrines with which the Holy Hindoo Empire is endowed, visitors generally find the most temple dedicated to the worship of the goddess Durga one of the most interesting. It is known to Europeans as the monkey temple, because in and around its precincts hundreds of sacred monkeys roam about without interference.

DELEGATES TO OCEAN CITY.

Wisconsin Chosen Representatives to the Congressional Convention Which Meets at Ocean City July 29th.

The county convention, which met in the Court House last Monday morning, elected by acclamation Messrs. Jas. T. Trull, Levin J. Gale, Isaac H. White and King V. White delegates to the Congressional convention which meets at Ocean City July 29. Messrs. Trull, Humphreys, Thom, W. H. White, Isaac S. Bennett and Missus A. Davis were chosen alternates.

The convention was called to order by Ex-Governor Jackson, chairman of the executive committee.

The chair appointed Messrs. King V. White, Samuel J. Bounds and Wm. M. Cooper a committee on credentials. The committee found the following gentlemen entitled to seats in the convention. Baron Creek District—Isaac S. Bennett, Allison Elliott, S. J. Bonas.

Tranquill District—Thomas J. Turpin, James M. Jones, Henry F. Pollitt. Yankin District—Granville M. Catlin, Thomas S. Roberts, Wm. R. Phillips. Pittsburg District—Missus A. Davis, Benjamin D. Farlow, James H. Farlow.

Parsons District—Wm. L. Brewington, O'Leary, B. J. Jones, Wm. DeWitt, Deane's District—Lemuel B. Brittingham, King V. White, John L. Powell. Trappe District—Wm. S. Moore, Jno. W. Dashiell, T. W. H. White.

Nutter's District—Gillis Bussell, Joseph Hearn, James G. Johnson. Salisbury District—J. Cleveland White, Eliza E. Twilley, Whitefield S. Lowe. Sharpshoot District—Walter C. Mann, Albert W. Robinson, S. P. Twiford. Governor Jackson left the convention after calling it to order to make final arrangements to start for Europe at 2 o'clock that afternoon.

The county will have no candidates for congress, and adjourned without instructing its delegates to elect. It had passed a resolution wishing the chairman of the executive committee and his family a pleasant and successful trip across the ocean and a Godspeed home.

In opening the convention Governor Jackson paid a warm and eloquent tribute to the memory of the late Congressman Brattan, and declared that he had been one of the best and truest friends of Wisconsin county. He hoped that our loss was his greatest gain.

On the crest of the Alleghenies. To those contemplating a trip to the mountains in search of health and pleasure, Deer Park on the crest of the Alleghenies, 3,000 feet above the sea level offers such varied attractions as a delightful atmosphere during both day and night, pure water, smooth, winding roads through the mountains and valleys, and the most picturesque scenery in the Allegheny range.

The hotel is equipped with all adjuncts conducive to the entertainment, pleasure and comfort of its guests. The surrounding grounds as well as the hotel are lighted with electricity. Six miles distant on the same mountain and the crest of the Alleghenies, Deer Park, and equally as well equipped for the entertainment and accommodation of its patrons.

So I think we mothers might say to the girls, if it were at all supposable that any girl should ever ask the question of what are the best masculine qualities conducive to a wife's honor, I would answer briefly, as if the question made him "ired": "First, get a man," writes that most charming writer, Harry Markoe, in reply to the question, "What Constitutes a Good Husband?" in the July Ladies' Home Journal.

The climate of the Sierra, although not so very pleasant on account of the winds, is extremely salubrious, the heat never becoming enervating, as it does not exceed 90° F., while the nights are deliciously cool. Lung diseases are unknown, and the sanitary condition of the Sierra may be inferred from the reply of old American gold miners, who lives in the now almost abandoned mining place, Guadalupe, Calvo. When I asked him to give his experience as to the health of the people, he said: "Well, here in the mountains, it is distressingly healthy. Despite a complete defiance of every hygienic arrangement with the graveyard, a tannery, and the sewers at the river's edge, no diseases originate here—From 'Among the Tarahumars—The American Geographicalist' by Dr. Carl Lombardi, in the July Scribner.

It is a revival of the impulse that drove our European ancestors forth into the wilds of North America, or it is the inherent and restless love of change that is supposed to animate the modern American, which has impelled a body of young men of New York with a yearning for travel? Not to Europe and back again; also does not for an average once a year, and thinks no more of it than the quiet housekeeper thinks of her daily trip to market. She wants to really outside Captain Kidd or the Flying Dutchman, and sail away for a year and a day to the wildest sort of lands. Here is a pretty girl, with an indulgent widower father, sending around her P. O. cards for a trip to Iceland; a young married woman has carried a week beyond a jaunt across the steppes of Russia; while a very merry party literally sailed for Europe in the smartest old type of full-rigged ship, bound first to the Azores, thence to land at Lisbon, and thence a walking tour through Portugal. They don't intend to arrive in Paris until the autumn; and they will not go near London, which the very first day of their openly announces as thoroughly "done" and holding nothing more worthy her attention. SUMMER MILLINERY!

THE BRIGHTEST GEMS in the Milliner's Art sparkle from every corner of our establishment. We spared no pains this season to place before our customers the most select stock of Millinery ever seen in Salisbury.

How well we have succeeded we leave to the judgment of our customers. We are confident, however, that we can please the most fastidious this season. Our parlors in the rear of Birchhead & Carey's Dry Goods Store are handsomely fitted up for the comfort of our customers.

M. J. HITCH, SALISBURY, MD.

IS YOUR FLOOR COVERED? $5 is not much, and yet for that amount you can buy a roll of 25 yards of good quality Straw Matting; or, if you want finer, you can buy a roll of 25 yards of good quality Cotton

Cotton Dress Goods. It isn't by a happen-so that our sales of Cotton Dress Goods are so much greater this season than ever before.

They burn the bodies of their DEAD IN THE OPEN AIR. A Strange and Sensational Mode Which Has Been Practised in the State of Hindoo.

MENTAL IMAGES. A man conversing in earnest, says Emerson in his essay on "Nature," he watches his intellectual processes, will find that a material image, more or less luminous, arises in his mind.

CHEAPSIDE IS A STREET, and a busy one—the busiest, I dare say, of the whole world of streets. It is not long, it is not beautiful; it is not the resort of the fashionable; it is a business thoroughfare from first to last, and it has more of its character than any other street in the world.

THE GAME OF WHIST. American and English systems and the changes in the latter. There are two recognized systems, the English and the American. In English whist the game is five points and honors—each, being equal and known as the trump suit—counted. In American whist the game is still five points, but honors are not counted.

Only a Printer. Such was the moaning remark of a coffee trader in a circle of aristocracy—the coffee quality. Who was the Earl of Stanhope? He was only a printer.

Miscellaneous Cards. DON'T ACCEPT IMITATIONS. 99 1/2% PURE. THE PALACE STABLE. DO YOU EXPECT TO BECOME A MOTHER? "MOTHERS' FRIEND" MAKES CHILD BIRTH EASY.

Time Tables. NEW YORK, PHILA., & NORFOLK R. R. "CAPE CHARLES ROUTE." Time Table in Effect May 14, 1894.

Close by are the Brandenburgs in new printings—the queenliest Cotton ever shown; queenliest Cotton ever shown; combed yarn and most artistic pressing. One of the quickest 20c stuffs of last season, but now 12c.

Wool Crepes. Let the hot waves come, with a dress of the soft, airy, breeze-wool Wool Crepes you can be cooler than you suspect, and the stuffs are at less than import cost.

Black Grenadines. What wonder they are fitting out so fast. The grades are $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, as we would mark them. The price is 75 Cents.

Sheets and Pillow Cases. Ready to use, and with much of the old-time cost wiped away. No kick, kicking of the sewing machine, no wringing of the neck, no wringing of the neck.

Window Screens. Fly wit is up to almost anything. Fly-escapes. Screen. It gives the brightest fly-brain trying to see why he creeps up on the inside—steps out of doors without meaning to. But he goes just the same and he never gets back.
